CHARLES DE GAULLE

U.S. President, De Gaulle In NATO Clash

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a clear policy clash with French President Charles de Gaulle, President Johnson is sending a new ambassador to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council in Paris with instructions to strengthen and expand the political and nuclear roles of the Atlantic alliance.

"To do so is essential," Johnson told departing Ambassador Harland Cleveland. "If we are to reach a solid agreement with the Soviet Union that reflects the common interests of each of the allied nations in peace and security."

De GAULLE STAND
The President conferred with Cleveland Thursday. The White House made public Johnson's statement a few hours after De Gaulle had declared at a news conference in Paris that France intends to end at least by 1969 the "subordination" of French defense forces by NATO.

De Gaulle's words came as no surprise to U.S. officials. Authorities here and in other allied capitals have been conferring for several months on the possibility that De Gaulle, assuming he is re-elected in December, may pull France out of the Atlantic alliance when that becomes legally possible in 1969. The treaty was concluded in 1949 and contains a 20-year withdrawal clause.

Threat Fades Along Texas Coastal Area

By The Associated Press

People who dwell near the upper Texas coast heaved a giant collective sigh of relief today. Hurricane Betsy, after threatening for hours to hit their area dead center, switched course and struck inland across South-east Louisiana.

COOLER AIR
About all the mighty storm did to Texas was to let cooler air pour southward across the state.

Clouds overhung much of East Texas this morning. It was fair in other sections.

Weather Bureau advisories that Betsy probably would come ashore near the Texas-Louisiana line caused the evacuation of Sabine Pass and low areas from that point westward to Galveston. Schools were ordered to close today in Galveston and other precautions were taken. It was 4 p.m. Thursday before the Weather Bureau was able to say definitely that the storm would spare the state. It ordered hurricane warnings lowered on the Texas coast.

MILD WEATHER
Comparatively mild weather was promised northern areas of the state through Saturday, but it was expected to stay hot in the south.

Forecasts called for showers over about a third of Northeast Texas tonight but no moisture elsewhere.

RECORDS FALL AT HCJC

Thursday was a record-breaking day at Howard County Junior College, Dr. W. A. Hunt, president said this morning.

Enrollment climbed to 826, a record for one day; it climbed on to 962 last night, highest head count in the history of the school; and the number of full time students reached 566, 195 above last year, the previous record.

All dormitories are full and overflowing, Dr. Hunt said. At this rate, he said, the college should reach a total enrollment of 1,000 before registration is closed.

New Center Turned Over To City, County Officials

Keys to the new Dora Roberts Rehabilitation and Health Center were handed to city and county officials today.

In a brief and simple ceremony, Horace Garrett, chairman of the board for the Dora Roberts Foundation, which gave the building and site to the community, handed the keys to Mayor George Zachariah and County Judge Lee Porter. The city and county will be owners of the facility in behalf of the public.

BOARD MEMBERS

Flanking Garrett, grandson of Mrs. Dora Roberts who established the foundation, were Mrs. Garrett and G. H. Hayward, foundation board members. City and county commissioners were present as were representatives from the Howard County Rehabilitation Center and the City-County Health Center.

The transfer was formalized in the waiting room of the north wing, which will be the health center portion.

"I hope you are as thrilled as we are," said Garrett. "We have merely planted the seed here, and we hand them to your care in the hope they will bear fruit. We hope that this is the sort of facility you would want and will operate faithfully."

Judge Lee Porter termed it "a wonderful tribute to your grandmother and to you. You can be certain it will bless the community and the territory."

LONG DREAM
"This is the culmination of a long dream which I never expected to see fulfilled," observed Mayor Zachariah. "The city and county will try to operate it to the best ability, and I don't believe you will be disappointed."

Mrs. Garrett expressed pride in the result of the plans and construction, and hoped that "many children and people will benefit from this center."

"It is," said Hayward, "a wonderful building and will fill a great need."

County commissioners Joe Hayden, Simon Terrazas and L. J. Davidson were present as were W. L. Thompson, John

Hurricane Batters Orleans; Three Killed, Loss Mounts

Storm Toll Nine As Fury Wanes

High Water In Orleans

This is the scene in a residential area in the northwest section of New Orleans where flood waters reached up to auto windows as Hurricane Betsy swept through the city late Thursday night. Today the New Orleans scene was described as a "shambles." (AP WIREPHOTO)

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—This famous, old river city was battered to a windblown soggy junkyard after a final attack today by Hurricane Betsy.

Communications and power were left in a snarl by 115 mile-an-hour winds during the early morning hours. Three persons died during the storm, bringing Betsy's toll to nine after its 14-day, 2,500-mile voyage of destruction.

HEAVY DAMAGE

Heavy damage was also reported in Baton Rouge and the Mississippi Gulf Coast around Gulfport. Numerous phone failures slowed reports from the Bayou area. Downriver which were first hit by the storm's top 145 m.p.h. winds and suffered the most from its muddy, 6-foot tides.

Mayor Victor Schiro said he would ask that the city be declared a disaster area.

Residents were told to boil drinking water after power failure at the city purification plant. But the urgent warning was difficult to transmit in a city where 80 per cent of its power was out.

OFFSHORE RIGS

The communications breakdown also made it difficult to determine what damage had been done to Louisiana's billion-dollar offshore oil industry or the sugar crop, which was nearing harvest.

The New Orleans Public Service Corp. said the damage was the heaviest in recent history of this hurricane prone area.

Meanwhile, Betsy, the culprit, had passed over 150 miles inland where her winds faded to below hurricane strength. The storm still brought soaking rains, however, to a wide area of northern Louisiana and Mississippi.

Damage was heavy. Large sheets of twisted tin roofing lay in the city's streets. Shop windows were smashed and 650 national guardsmen were on duty to forestall looting.

GROTESQUE TWIST

Canal Street looked like the morning after Mardi Gras, only worse. Billboards had been blown from the tops of buildings. Street light stanchions were twisted grotesquely. Street lights had crashed to the street.

The hurricane tore five ocean going vessels adrift in the Mississippi. They smashed into each other, wharves and tug boats. Three were finally secured.

Two tugs with a total of 17 or 18 persons aboard radioed distress calls to the Coast Guard which called in extra helicopters and airplanes to aid in search and rescue.

MRS. IRENE DEMPSEY

Mrs. Dempsey Of Herald Staff Dies

Mrs. Irene Dempsey, 64, a life-long resident of Big Spring and for nearly a decade and a half a member of The Herald staff, died early today at the Medical Center Hospital in Odessa.

She had been critically ill for a week with uremia, and in falling health since last December.

Services will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church, and burial will be in the City Cemetery. The remains will lie in state at the River-Weich Funeral Home, and the casket will be closed an hour before services and will not be reopened.

Mrs. Dempsey lived at 705 Goliad, not far from the location where her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Frost, lived when she was born on Sept. 30, 1901.

Since childhood she was a member of the First Methodist Church, and was active in the Women's Society for Christian Service. She also was a tireless worker for the Rebekahs and was a charter member of (See DEMPSEY, Col. 4, P. 8-A)

India's Army Pulls Back As Pakistanis Shell City

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Defense Ministry conceded that India's army withdrew in the north today and that Pakistani artillery shells were falling on the Indian city of Ferozepore. Pakistan said a three-pronged advance on that front also threatened Amritsar, 50 miles north of Ferozepore. The fighting was on the Lahore front, where Indian troops crossed into Pakistan Monday. Ferozepore is 10 miles inside India. While Defense Minister Y.B. Chavan did not say whether the army withdrawal was into India, the shelling of the city suggested this.

A spokesman in Rawalpindi asserted Pakistani troops captured a number of Indian outposts around the border point of Wagah, 20 miles west of Amritsar. Radio Pakistan said heavy pressure was being exerted on Indian troops along the front after they were driven from Pakistan.

THANT FAILING
While the fighting boiled up 100 miles or so from Rawalpindi, U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant met in that Pakistani capital with Foreign Minister Z.A. Bhutto in an effort to obtain a cease-fire.

Indicating that Thant was getting nowhere, a qualified Pakistani source said the visit of Thant was "like a Boy Scout blowing his whistle — tweet, tweet — and telling us to be good. We have been good long enough and now we must fight."

Thant is expected to come to New Delhi Saturday for talks with Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri. He is likely to get little further on his peace mission in New Delhi because the Indians appear in no mood to compromise on the key issue dividing the two nations—Kashmir.

It was a Pakistani invasion of southwest Kashmir last week that touched off the current fighting. Both nations claim the Himalayan state which has been divided since 1949 by a U.N. cease-fire line.

Chavan's report of the withdrawal on the Lahore front was made to Parliament.

CRITICAL BATTLE

There had been complete silence on the progress of the battle in this area, considered crucial because both sides can bring their tanks into play on the dusty plains around Ferozepore.

The Indian government radio claimed successes on the other two fighting fronts. At the northern end of the ground war zone, in the Jammu-Kashmir sector, Indian forces captured five important posts and took 150 Pakistani prisoners, the Indian government radio reported.

The Indian broadcast said Indian units had "severely punished" Pakistani forces on the southern front, more than 200 miles east of Karachi, Pakistan's biggest city and major seaport. There was no indication whether the Indians had advanced in this area, however.

India claimed it had destroyed 114 Pakistani tanks in the fighting so far. The government radio said Indian units have "knocked out nearly one of the two Pakistani tank divisions."

KNOCKED OUT

Pakistan claimed a total of 35 Indian tanks knocked out, along with five ammunition vehicles and four Jeeps in the Stakot area of Kashmir.

SOS OUT FOR FUND

A last minute SOS was put out today for the high school Bible Class fund.

With time for the annual formal appeal drawing to a close this weekend, the fund needs approximately a thousand dollars. Many have indicated they plan to give, and some groups have actually raised funds but have not yet reported. Other Sunday school classes may want to make gifts Sunday.

Please mail or send your gift in this weekend if at all possible.

Capture Ends Murder Spree

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — "I guess I'm gonna burn."

Sheriff Cecil Richardson of Concho County said that was the reaction of Donald Boggs after he was charged with killing four men on a blood-stained trek through the West.

"If you don't burn me, Texas or Utah will," the sheriff quoted Boggs as saying Thursday. He said Boggs, 23, an ex-convict, admitted the killings.

Boggs, of Londonderry, Ohio, and his girl friend, Dixie Radcliff, 16, of Amesville, Ohio, were captured Thursday in Flagstaff after an alert service station attendant spotted the stolen car in which they were traveling.

The four dead men were Halvor Johnson, 28, of Newport, N.H.; his companion, Robert Willis, 23, also of Newport; Warren Lenker, 25, a student at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah, whose home was Elizabeth, Pa.; and H.B. Flory, 59, of San Antonio, Tex.

GRINS IN POSE
The bespectacled, crewcut Boggs grinned as he posed for photographers in the sheriff's office. At his arraignment in justice court, he waived a preliminary hearing and was held without bond.

Miss Radcliff was turned over to juvenile authorities. Newsmen who were allowed only a glimpse of the girl described her as "nearly incoherent."

A jail matron quoted Miss Radcliff as saying, "He (Boggs) said he'd never be taken alive."

But Richardson said Boggs offered no resistance when arrested by deputies in a Flagstaff pawn shop where he was trying to pawn a camera, radio and typewriter.

When asked for his identification, Richardson said, Boggs produced a gasoline credit card which bore Willis' name. The sheriff said Boggs and the girl had stayed in a Flagstaff motel Wednesday night and were driving a sedan registered to Lenker.

SPOTS CAR
John Harvey, a Flagstaff service station attendant, spotted the car Thursday shortly after investigators had left a description of it at the station.

Boggs was formally charged with the murder of Willis and Johnson, whose bodies were found Monday about seven miles from Ash Fork in north central Arizona.

Both men, their hands bound behind their backs, had been shot with a 22-caliber weapon.

The first indication that other killings were involved came Tuesday when Texas authorities notified Arizona officers of the slaying of Flory.

Flory, fatally beaten Sept. 3 near Luling, Tex., was thrown into the San Marcos River where he had been fishing. His pockets had been turned inside out and a 22-caliber pistol had been stolen from his pickup truck.

FIND TRUCK
Texas authorities charged Boggs with the murder after finding Flory's abandoned truck near Sayre, Okla.

Next came the discovery of the two bodies near Ash Fork by a group of picnickers. The victims' pockets also were turned inside out.

In Cedar City, Utah, Wednesday, police found a small foreign sedan registered in Johnson's name. Inside was the body of Lenker, his hands tied behind him and a 22-caliber bullet wound in the head. His pockets, too, had been pulled out.

Richardson said Boggs told him he met Lenker, apparently en route back to school after visiting in Lawndale, Calif., and killed him. Then he took Lenker's car, leaving Lenker propped upright in the foreign sedan "to make it look like he was sleeping."

TOOK $29
Richardson said Boggs gave no reason for killing the two New Hampshire men, only relating that he picked them up near Ash Fork Sunday, killed them Monday and took $29 from their pockets.

The sheriff said Boggs told police he and Miss Radcliff drove toward Las Vegas, Nev. At St. George, Utah, Richardson said, Boggs noticed the lights on the small car weren't working well and decided to get rid of the auto.

The sheriff said it was near

St. George that Boggs apparently met Lenker but he did not say how this came about.

Richardson said Boggs served a term in the Huntsville (Tex.) State Prison for grand theft. He was released April 12, 1962. Ohio authorities reportedly were seeking him as a parole violator.

There was virtually no information on Miss Radcliff or how the two met.

Parents Invited To Open House For Cub Scouts

Cub Scout parents' open house will be held at all schools in Howard County, except Forsan and Midway, at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Forsan and Midway school open houses will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night.

The open house activities will be held for explaining to parents and boys about the Cub Scout program. All boys who are eight, nine and 10 years old, are eligible to become Cub Scouts, Bill McRee, Scout executive, said.

"The whole family participates in Cub Scouting," he said, "and the activities are slanted toward the home and neighborhood, and are built around the needs and interests of the boy. Since participation and cooperation of parents is necessary, all parents are invited to attend the open house at the school where the boy attends."

Bill Crocker, chairman of the Committee, is urging good attendances at all schools.

Young Farmers Set Meeting Saturday In Brownfield

More than 400 Area II Young Farmers and Young Homemakers will meet Saturday in Brownfield for the fourth annual convention and awards banquet.

Twenty-one local chapters, representing over 450 active members, have been organized in West Texas since 1961. These chapters are organized through local departments of Vocational Agriculture in high schools and in cooperation with the State Department of Education.

Hulan Harris of Big Spring is Area II Vocational Agriculture Supervisor, and coordinates the Area II Young Farmers program.

Active membership is limited to young men engaged in agriculture and less than 36 years of age with a desire to meet regularly and discuss ideas concerning scientific farming and agriculture. Meetings are conducted monthly and are coordinated through local high school Vocational Agriculture teachers.

Area officers are: president, Ray Herring, Fluvanna; vice president, Stanley White, Lamesa; secretary, Bill Gray, Welch; treasurer, Jim Johnson, Ysleta (El Paso), and reporter, R. L. Dulin, New Home.

Wilmer Smith, New Home, cotton producer and chairman of the Plains Cotton Growers Association, will discuss "The Future of Cotton." Other highlights will include presentation of awards to outstanding individuals and chapters who have made outstanding contributions to Young Farmer activities, agriculture and local communities.

Candidates for the area's most "Outstanding" Young Farmer include Jack Minter, O'Donnell; Ervin Baumann, Midland; Jimmy Williams, Tahoka; Kiefer Cauble, Roby; Robert Craig, Post; Ray Herring, Fluvanna; Weldon Mason, Brownfield; Gene Terry, Roby; and John Schwartz, Wall, Can-

Texans Among Viet Nam Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Texans are among 29 Viet Nam war dead listed for the week ending last Monday.

A weekly Pentagon summary boosted the total killed to 655.

The added names included 2nd Lt. George Gutierrez of Harlingen and 1st Lt. Carl Mangold of Castroville, both of the Army, and Marine Cpl. Ted Qualls of Dallas.

Red Chinese Hit Indians

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China protested today against what it claimed were "successive serious violations" of Communist China's territory and sovereignty by Indian troops.

China "demanded that India 'dismantle' all military structures 'built beyond or on the China-Sikkim border.'"

The Chinese also urged India to "withdraw" its armed forces and "stop all acts of aggression and provocation against China in the western, middle and eastern sectors of the Chinese-Indian border."

The note, issued by the Chinese Communist Foreign Ministry and sent to the Indian government, was broadcast by Peking's New China News Agency.

Gas Industry Eyes Bill Next Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress apparently will wind up this year's session without writing any major laws affecting the oil and gas industry.

But coming up in next year's session—the second of the 89th Congress—is a bill that could be of considerable consequence to the industry, especially the gas half of it.

The measure, sponsored by Sens. Frank Moss, D-Utah, Joseph Clark Jr., D-Pa., and Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., would create a new Cabinet department of natural resources.

A REVAMPING
It actually would be a revamped and more powerful Interior Department. One, for example, would be jurisdiction over the Federal Power Commission.

The Indian Affairs Bureau and the Office of Territories would be transferred to the Health, Education and Welfare Department. The Alaska Railroad would go to the Commerce Department.

In introducing the proposal, Moss told the Senate that Congress over the years had continued to divide up the responsibilities of government in regard to natural resources and that it is time to modernize organization and administration in this field.

"The portions of this bill that raise the most questions are those which place the Federal Power Commission and the Tennessee Valley Authority in the department of natural resources," Moss said.

"I recognize the difficulty of combining the functions of these agencies with that of an executive department. I know that there are reasons why they should be left out of such a consolidation.

GRANT LICENSES
"The Federal Power Commission exercises quasi-judicial functions concerning the granting of licenses for the construction of natural gas pipelines and hydroelectric dams. This it must continue to do. The independence of the commissioners to render decisions affecting consumer rates in the gas and electric power fields must remain unimpaired."

Moss said it may well be that Congress will determine that both the FPC and the TVA should remain independent agencies.

The bill's chances remain to be measured but it is apparent that there is strong support for the proposal. Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall is reported to be among its backers. He presumably would be in line to become the first secretary of natural resources if the reorganization should come while he is still in the Cabinet.

Washington spokesmen for the oil and gas industry are studying the proposal to determine what position their trade organizations should take with respect to it. Some voiced concern over the very point raised by Moss—the matter of placing the quasi-judicial FPC under a Cabinet member where it might encounter increased political pressures.

Bishops Reject Heresy Charges Against Pike

EAST GLACIER, Mont. (AP) — Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church have rejected heresy charges against Bishop James A. Pike of California.

In a side issue the Episcopal leaders refused Thursday to allow Bishop Pike to ordain a woman deacon. The bishop withdrew his plans for the ordination, which would have been the first in the 3 1/2-million-member church.

MORE CRITICISM—The Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, presiding bishop of the church, said Bishop Pike and others who agree with him probably would be subjected to more criticism.

"It's part of the hazard of the ministry," Bishop Hines said, "but you can't cry when someone takes pot shots at you." Bishop Hines said the achievements of this year's meeting "were not spectacular but they have been constructive."

"The controversy over Bishop Pike has drawn this house closer together in recognizing the individual bishop's freedom and responsibility."

BISHOP ELECTION
A church spokesman said the meetings were open except for the nomination and election of the Rev. William Davidson, Jamestown, N.D., as bishop of the missionary district of western Kansas.

Next year's meetings will be at Whit Sulphur Springs, W.Va., Oct. 30-Nov. 3.

Although Bishop Pike was not upheld in his proposal to elevate a woman to the office of deacon, he was happy with the resolution rejecting the heresy charges against him.

A Devotional For The Day

The ant... provideth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest. (Proverbs 6:6-8)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, grant us such understanding of Thy ways that with glad hearts we may accept and do the work Thou hast given us. May we know at the end of each day the joy of work well done. May we keep before us the example of Jesus Christ our Lord, who perfectly worked to make known Thy glory. In His name we pray. Amen.

Historic Treasure Saved

Texas from all parts of the state should appreciate Congress making the Alibates Flint Quarries in the Texas Panhandle a national monument.

This action will preserve for posterity one of this state's most invaluable archeological treasures. The Alibates mines were worked by ancient man in Texas as early as 12,000 years ago, and tools and weapons fashioned from their unusual flint have been found in many parts of the West, indicating extensive prehistoric trade.

The prehistoric story of man in Texas must be reconstructed from sparse and scattered clues, only a fraction of which have yet been discovered. The Alibates Flint Quarries can help fill that story in, but only if the site can be protected, as it now will be.

This latest addition to the growing number of national parks, historic sites and monuments in Texas will be educational and inspirational to residents of this state and also an added attraction for the Texas tourist trade, the economic benefits of which are statewide. The Alibates monument ranks in importance with the addition of Texas' highest mountain, Guadalupe Peak, to the national parks system.

You're On The Team, Too

The thump of the foot against the pigskin, the popping of leather as young gladiators of the gridiron collide, the lively tempo of bands and the cheers of fans will swell the early autumn air this evening as the new football season opens for Big Spring.

We hope the fans will turn out by the multiplied thousands to give our 1965 edition of the Steers and their coaches a great send off.

These boys are taught that they are not merely giving an account of themselves and an impression of the school, but they are representing the entire community when they take to the field.

That being the case, can the community do anything less than support the team that is carrying the community banner?

This should be a good season from the point of experienced material, and we know from previous years that the Steers can be counted upon to do their dead level best. It may help them to know that all fans are doing their best. That's the kind of team work that counts.

More Crime, Easier Punishment

WASHINGTON (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, probably knows more than anybody else what's causing crime to increase throughout the nation. He keeps in close touch with local officials and police in all areas, and certainly is able to form a judgment as to whether recent disturbances have been due primarily to "sociological" factors. Hence, his latest message—published in the September issue of the "FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin"—about hoodlums and riots is particularly significant.

MR. HOOVER does not accept the explanation—frequently offered even in the administration—that the disorders can be blamed on the failures of society. He says:

"It appears that the public is beginning to gag on the steady sociological diet of excusing the conduct of teenage hoodlums because 'society has failed them.' Resort communities racked by senseless riots and citizens who cannot venture from their homes without being assaulted and beaten are getting fed up with pampered and insolent youth gangs. . . .

tends to blame society for all the frustrations, woes, and inconveniences, real or imaginary, visited upon our young people.

"Teenagers and their parents have been subjected to a foolhardy theory which condones rebellious conduct against authority, law and order, or any regulatory measures which restrict their whims, wishes, desires, and activities. This astonishing belief has spread into the schoolroom, the living room, the courtroom and now into the streets of our nation in the form of wild, drunken brawls.

"NO DOUBT SOCIETY has failed our youth, but not in the way many seem to think. Rather, the dereliction has been in the failure to teach them the meaning of discipline, restraint, self-respect, and respect for law and order and the rights of others. Consequently, the lesson now is both painful and costly."

Most police officers are unhappy about the attitude of the courts in letting criminals go free. Indeed, FBI Director Hoover, in his message in the "Law Enforcement Bulletin," makes a comment on this point, too.

"SOME COURTS in the troubled areas are taking a more realistic approach in handling those involved in these outbreaks. New laws providing stiffer penalties are being enacted in a few places. We can only hope that authorities everywhere will follow this trend."

Billy Graham

How can I tell my boys the right way (as Christians) and be sure that they will do so? D.R.L.

Our obligation as parents is to "train up a child in the way he should go." Then the Bible says, "When he is old he will not depart from it." We cannot "make" them follow the Lord, but we can teach them by word and example that life's highest privilege is to follow Christ and live the Christian life.

You speak of "telling" your boys the right way. If that were all that is required then Christian parenthood would be simple indeed. But we are to live that what we do speaks louder than what we say. They listen, they watch, and they draw their conclusions about our sincerity. I would say that teaching and example are important, but that living Christ before our children is more vital than all the religious lectures we may give them.

If they see you on your knees they will believe in prayer. If they see you absorbed with the Bible, they will become convinced that there is something to your profession. "Be examples of the believers," and your children may well become believers also.

'IT'S THE NEW SENATE STYLE'

James Marlow McNamara's Victories Are Many

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert S. McNamara soon will establish a new track record as secretary of defense. Every sign points to his keeping up the pace.

On Oct. 2 McNamara will eclipse the previous mark of four years, eight months and twelve days set by the late Charles E. Wilson, who served in the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration.

Associates say McNamara has agreed to stay on as long as President Johnson wants him. Judging by the closeness of the two men — and the heavy reliance Johnson places on McNamara — that could be quite a while.

FOR THE first time, Congress has been handling McNamara somewhat roughly. It has impeded his plan to merge the Army Reserve into the National Guard, and it enacted a military pay raise much bigger than the defense secretary wanted.

But over-all, McNamara has many more victories than defeats to show for his bouts with Congress since 1961.

One recent McNamara victory came when Johnson vetoed a bill that would have restricted sharply the defense secretary's authority to shut down obsolete and unneeded military bases.

That veto underscored Johnson's backing for his secretary of defense — a backing which McNamara enjoyed under President John F. Kennedy as well. Unfailing presidential support has been a key factor in McNamara's strength in dealing with a restive congress.

EVEN McNAMARA'S severe critics on Capitol Hill and in the armed services acknowledge that he has been the most forceful and effective defense secretary of all the eight men who have sat in that chair since 1947.

He has enforced civilian control, reorganized and streamlined many of the duplicate functions of the gigantic defense establishment, revolutionized strategy and imposed an ordered and disciplined budgeting system never before known.

Johnson has been so impressed by McNamara's budgeting system that the President has directed all government agencies to follow the same approach.

To those who have watched McNamara over the past years, he has seemed to grow increasingly self-assured — and increasingly impatient with opposition.

How To Guess Person's Sex

NEW YORK (AP) — There has always been a difference between the sexes, and most people would like to see that difference continued.

But as we get deeper into the second half of the 20th century, it is becoming increasingly difficult for an innocent bystander to tell the sexes apart.

In looks, dress, conduct and conversation men and women are getting more and more alike. If things get worse before they get better — and they probably will — Congress may have to step in to reduce the confusion. It might, for example, pass a law requiring every human being to wear identifying "he" or "she" signs on their clothing, forehead and aft.

WHILE IT is no longer possible to be certain of another person's sex at first sight, there are some ways to make informed guesses.

Here are a few hints for the perplexed:

If it pays alimony it is 99 per cent likely to be male. If it spends alimony it is 99 per cent likely to be female.

If it says it knows its rights, it's a man. If it prefers to recite the wrongs done to it, it is a woman.

Does it have three credit cards in its wallet? Probably a man. Does it have six department store charge plates in its purse? Undoubtedly a woman.

DOES IT pretend to be afraid at the sight of a mouse? It's a lady. Does it generally act like a rat? It's a gentleman.

If it likes to recall every detail of its wedding, it's a wife. If it would rather forget the whole thing, it's a husband.

If it looks camouflaged blue over the eyelids, it may be a playgirl. If it looks honest blue under the eyes, it is probably a playboy.

If it says, "It's your duty to punish the children — after all, they are yours, too," it's a wife. But if it actually does go ahead and punish the children, it is probably still the wife.

If, when it combs its long hair, it hangs its head to one side as it looks in the mirror, it is a young girl. If, when it combs its long hair, it holds its head level as it stares in the mirror, it is a young male beatnik.

IF ONE says, "I had a hard day at the office," and the other says, "I had a worse one," there are four possibilities:

A. They are two working guys.

B. They are two working gals.

C. They are a guy and a gal.

D. They are a husband and wife who both share in the task of bringing home the family bacon. In this case, the one who kicks its shoes off first is the woman and the one who lies down on the sofa is the man.

Some Nervous People Can Solve Own Problems

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My 38-year-old daughter is not feeling well. She has a responsible position with a large concern but about a year ago there was a change in management and since then she has become increasingly nervous.

Our family doctor gave her a checkup and said it was just a case of nerves and she would have to conquer the problem herself. He suggested no medication except aspirin.

Yesterday morning at breakfast she rested her elbow on the table and her whole arm shook. I commented on it.

She tells me this condition improves as the day goes on.

Should she consult another doctor or visit one of the very good clinics in our vicinity? — MRS. M. N.

I've said quite a lot about mental health, because there is too little understanding of the problems involved. After all, look how long it took us to understand smallpox — and the value of vaccination. Or typhoid, and the need for pure water. And others.

In discussing mental health,

Don't confuse explainable nerves with unexplainable ones.

In your particular case, Mrs. M. N., you have a smart, not to say brilliant, daughter, with business worries on her mind. Let her worry, if she needs to. Tell her that if she gets depressed or fired or whatnot, she'll still find another job. What will be, will be. Don't try to turn her business problems into medical or psychiatric ones.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Around The Rim

Money Is Only Money

The late Dr. Albert Schweitzer was an example to the world that money isn't everything, though most of us who pay bills feel there should be more of it spread around.

Money, the concept, is merely a device introduced to make barter more convenient. It's quite hard to carry a herd of cattle around to trade on a hammer or on a pound of flour, and money avoids this.

MONEY HAS no intrinsic value. It is worth only what everybody agrees it's worth. Fifty cents will buy a paperback novel merely because the people who produce the book and the man with 50 cents come to an agreement that the book is a 50-center, though the two parties never meet.

Money is not like man, who has an individual, intrinsic value, inseparable from his existence. If man were to cease to exist, he would be irreplaceable. But if money — currency of all present forms — suddenly vanished, barter, or something — would replace it more or less efficiently.

THAT IS THE way it should be. Unfortunately, too many people believe money has not only intrinsic value, but equate the possession of money with magical power — power to give the holder character, personality, and value to the world.

No one would seriously argue that Ed Sullivan, who makes a lot of money, is of more value to mankind than Dr. Schweitzer was, and Dr. Schweitzer never thought about money, never made much.

BUT MANY OF us would believe that a man who gives much money to the church, drives an expensive car, owns a $40,000 home, and does not beat his wife (even when she deserves it), is automatically of more value to the community than another man who does not beat his wife, but does or has none of the other things and lives in a shack. We believe the rich man is "better" than the poor one simply because of the money that makes him that way.

WE DO NOT stop to consider that the poor man may have value simply because he is a man.

Our values are twisted. The rich man who does nothing gets in the newspapers as a "playboy" so that teenage girls and old ladies ooh and aah over pulp magazine reports of his licentious parties. The poor man who does nothing gets in the police report as a vagrant, and is jailed. In fact, they are both burnt. The difference in their treatment lies in money.

A rich man who wears a beard is "eccentric." A poor man with a beard may be a "beatnik." A rich dope addict is ignored. A poor one, who steals to support his sickness, is labeled a criminal by horrified society and sentenced to the pen.

A MAN WHO can throw a ball, or hit it with a stick, is paid hundreds of thousands of dollars for his physical achievement; the teacher who taught him to write his name gets small change. The teacher may not want a lot of money, however, for his value-system may not include money. He knows he is the more valuable of the two.

The most valuable members of our race have been short-changed for centuries, but they hardly ever gripe. People often say "Boy, I wouldn't do that for such a miserable salary."

THESE PEOPLE miss the point. The dedicated teacher or humanitarian is not dedicated to money, he is dedicated to his job.

Above the subsistence level, money should be considered as a pleasure, a pleasant thing, a piece of fluff, having no importance — not as a tin god who bestows on his owner such concepts as "importance," "substance," "character," or "value." These concepts are human and worthy while money is, after all, only money.

The Wobbly, Three-Legged Stool

WASHINGTON — In the waning years of the 1960's (wrote the historian) the American Republic was wobbling perilously on its three-legged stool. One leg (the executive) was stronger than ever, but another leg (the legislative) was weak and rickety, while the third leg (the judiciary) was rotten and weevil-eaten.

THE PRESIDENT was something out of Greek mythology. He was a Jupiter, straight from Mount Olympus, a personage of godlike force, boundless energy and infinite cunning, but with boisterous human propensities toward error, impatience and egotism.

He was, by far, the best qualified man in America to be its Jove, and he supplied the nation with something it hadn't had till now in the Stressful Sixties—a figure who stood as tall and as strong, as ready to hurl thunderbolts as any other leader in the world.

SUCH A MAN of strength was not out of place on the American domestic scene. He could not be held to blame for the imbalance of the tripod on which our government rests. Had the other two supporters been equally sturdy, we would have reached a Golden Age.

But the Supreme Court in those days had become a Lilliput of mean and narrow minds. It was a law court without the majesty of Law, a gaggle of judges without judicial experience and wisdom. The tired old New Deal ers and callow New Frontiersmen were headed by a Chief Justice who won his robes in a political raffle. The Supreme Court in 1954-65, circa, was a den of intrigue, a cell of meddlers in social experimentalism, a cult of mixe who nibbled holes in the Constitution.

THE CONGRESS in modern times was an institution which had stood up to its duty. It had passed Labor-Management and Internal Security statutes over Truman vetoes, and had rejected half-baked Kennedy programs. But it was simply overwhelmed by the powerfulness and cleverness of the new Jupiter. The Jovian thunderbolts of 1965 smashed the Southern Democratic-Conservative Republican coalition of which Jove himself was once a member, and the GOP minority was too reduced to do the work of effective opposition.

HOWEVER, (wrote the historian) the American Republic, although tottering, still contained the built-in remedies for adjustment. Rumbles of revolt were heard in the Senate which came within seven votes of racking-back the Supreme Court on the Dirksen Resolution. The American people were reconstructing a two-party system by electing Republicans to many offices in the South.

All was not lost (wrote the historian) as he turned this page of his account.

Money Market Johnsonized

Here's a strange, hard-to-analyze paradox: The price of money goes up and at the same time stays down. Commercial banks are running short of their basic raw material—money to lend. They reach for it by paying 4½ per cent to depositors. Yet, they can still borrow money for 4 per cent from the Federal Reserve System.

This is an oddity which isn't an oddity. It's politics. The money market has been Johnsonized. Wall Street is out of phase with Washington or vice versa.

THE SCHIZOID STATE of the money market was dramatized last week by the First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Co. The bank surprised the Philadelphia banking community by raising its interest rate on regular savings deposits from 3½ per cent to 4 per cent and offering 4½ per cent renewable five-year certificates of deposit (savings bonds) cashable at the end of 90 days. To meet the competition, savings banks promptly advanced their rates to 4½ per cent.

These First Pennys rates are neither new nor outstanding. Four per cent on time deposits has been available on the West Coast, in New York and in numerous cities in the Southwest and Midwest. A 4½ per cent rate on five-year certificates of deposit has been available in Atlanta, New York and the Southwest.

AS THE RESULT of this upward pricing of money, the Federal Reserve System's 4 per cent for "wholesale money" seems out of line with what is happening in the real marketplace, where lenders, borrowers and depositors meet. And, oddly, banks aren't grabbing this 4 per cent money as a bargain.

This double paradox is explained by the Johnsonization of the money market. In November, crisis engulfed the British pound. The Bank of England raised its discount rate from 5 per cent to 7 per cent. The Federal Reserve thereupon raised its rate—to protect the dollar—from 3½ per cent to 4 per cent. This was a normal reaction.

The "money market"—Wall Street —tried to follow. The Citizens & Southern National Bank of Atlanta and the First National Bank of Boston decided to take the lead. If the Federal Reserve's price for "wholesale money" went up one-half point, surely they could boost the "basic retail price"—the prime rate—to their customers from 4½ per cent to 4¾ per cent. This is the rate charged the best risks, the large corporations.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON remonstrated: It might "slow down our economic advance." The rise was rescinded. The rate stayed at 4½ per cent. Yet it, too, is a fiction.

Bankers have boosted the price of money to borrowers without raising the prime rate: They grant the prime rate to fewer borrowers; they ask borrowers to keep larger deposits on hand; they are more selective in their lending, thus reducing their risks while maintaining their price.

Thus, the two key money market rates aren't what they seem.

THIS EMPHASIZES the fictional character of the money market. What Mr. Johnson wants, Mr. Johnson gets — if only in appearance!

The money market is tight. Funds are scarce. But key interest rates make it look easy.

 South, the declarer at three no trump, concentrated his attention on the wrong suit and gave his opponents an opportunity to develop the setting tricks.

West opened the nine of hearts and was permitted to hold the first trick. He continued with the eight and South's queen of hearts won the next trick. Declarer crossed over to the king of spades in order to take the diamond finesse—losing to West's king. A heart was returned, dislodging the ace, South's remaining stopper.

Declarer could cash only eight tricks—three spades, two hearts and three diamonds. In order to score a ninth, he had to lead clubs. East promptly put up the ace and took the setting tricks in hearts.

South was overly concerned with the location of the king of diamonds. True, if East held this card, then declarer could rattle off nine tricks simply by taking the diamond finesse. However, if the king was offside, South could expect a heart return to clear that suit while the ace of clubs was still outstanding.

In other words, it did not matter much who had the king of diamonds, for East could never gain the lead with that card. If he had the ace of clubs, however, it was vital to attack that suit while declarer still retained his last heart stopper.

It is suggested that, after South crosses over to the dummy with the ace of spades, he defers the diamond finesse in favor of leading a small club. If East plays low, South puts up the queen. When this card holds, the North hand is reentered with another high spade and now the diamond finesse is tried. Even though it loses, declarer has his ninth trick—in the club suit.

Observe that East cannot gain by going up with the ace of clubs and, if it should develop that West has that card, South is still safe for, although West may be expected to clear the heart suit, East can never regain the lead.

FHA Foreclosure Rate High In State

By The Associated Press
 A city of 45,000 people could be housed in the Texas homes and apartment projects now in the hands of the Federal Housing Administration through foreclosures.

Adrian Henderson, district administrator at Fort Worth, said the FHA owned and was trying to sell 8,481 houses and 43 apartment projects which had 5,079 units as of the end of June in Texas.

"Texas and Florida have been the leading states in foreclosures in recent years," he said.

Henderson added that the reasons for this were varied. So high has the foreclosure rate been in Texas that about one-sixth of the 45,000 FHA repossessed houses in the United States are in the state.

The FHA operation in Texas divides the state into five districts of roughly equal area, with offices in Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and Lubbock.

Houses and apartments the FHA owned by foreclosures in each district June 30 were as follows:
 Fort Worth 2,723 houses and 18 apartments (2,526 units); Houston 1,813 and 17 (1,258 units); Lubbock 2,981 and 3 (106 units); Dallas 429 and 4 (825 units) and San Antonio 535 and 1 (64 units).

BETTER INDICATOR
 Henderson said houses were a better indicator than apartments in regard to the foreclosure picture.

The Lubbock district, with 2,981 foreclosed houses, was second in the United States in that category. Tampa, Fla., ranked first with 4,713. Fort Worth was third with its 2,723.

"The Lubbock and Fort Worth districts cover West Texas," Henderson said. "It's not surprising that these two districts should have the greatest number of foreclosures, in light of recent declines in the oil business and military activity there."

He added that there were indications of over-building in that portion of the state. Henderson said the over-all picture was improving, due to fewer foreclosures (better local market conditions) and a stepped up selling program on the part of the FHA.

"For example," he said, "we had 1,958 repossessed homes in metropolitan Fort Worth in June 1964. By June, 1965, the number was down to 862."

He listed the high mobility of the American people as another reason for the great number of foreclosures.

RATE SIMILAR
 A Veterans Administration spokesman said the foreclosure rate for that agency in Texas was about the same as for the FHA. He said that of more than 400,000 home loans guaranteed by the VA in Texas, fewer than 3,500 were in default.

them at the going market price." The FHA uses real estate brokers to sell its houses, paying them commissions of five per cent.

"We think the foreclosure situation in Texas is well under control now," Henderson said.

"It's now more or less obsolete. We do the best we can with trying to sell it, but there isn't much of a market, frankly. We try to rent the projects we can't sell," he said.

Most of the houses the FHA has are in the $8,000 or under price range.

"We fix these houses up, often paint them and make them as attractive as we can," Henderson said. "Then we try to sell

Billy Graham Has Operation

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham underwent corrective surgery for a prostate gland condition today.

Dr. Graham, 46, came through the "minor operation" in excellent condition and is resting comfortably, a Mayo Clinic spokesman said.

Aides said the evangelist was buoyed by a telephone call to his hospital room Wednesday night from President Johnson, who called from the White House.

Dr. Gershom J. Thompson Sr., the Mayo Clinic urology surgeon who headed up the team which operated on the evangelist, was the same doctor who removed a kidney stone from Johnson in a 1948 operation.

Dr. Graham will be hospitalized at least five days. He has canceled all speaking engagements for a month.

Farm Surplus Cost Declines

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that its holdings of farm surpluses on Aug. 27 was down $645 million in cost from a year earlier. The total investment was $4,166,836,000.

Most of the decline was in wheat, $414 million. This represented heavy sale of government stocks at a time when U.S. supplies were dropping to the lowest level in recent years under heavy export demands. The wheat investment was $1,090,095,000.

Corn declined $334 million to a total of $574,848,000, also reflecting heavy sales after last year's reduced corn production. Cotton ranked first in total investment—$1,716,296,000 or 153,303,000 more than a year earlier. Stocks moved into government hands largely because of a decline in export sales.

Vacation Delays Start Of School

CUTTYHUNK, Mass. (AP)—The opening of school here has been delayed two weeks. The student body isn't back from vacation.

David Jenkins, 8, a fourth grader, and his brother, Billy, 7, third grader, are the only pupils in the one-room school on this small island off the Massachusetts coast.

Dominican Boots Out Embattled Coup Chief

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, the Dominican army's controversial militant anti-Communist, was booted out of his job and the country Thursday night.

Provisional President Hector Garcia-Godoy announced the retirement of the 42-year-old general who led the coup that ousted President Juan Bosch in 1963. Garcia-Godoy said Wessin had been appointed consul general in Miami, Fla.

LONG RESISTANCE
 There was no doubt, however, that the squat, beetle-browed general went involuntarily. For two years he had resisted removal. Two days ago he charged that U.S. Embassy officials had tried to bribe him into leaving the country. The embassy has not denied the charge.

Other Dominican military leaders and the chiefs of the Inter-American Peace Force went with heavily armed escorts to Wessin's modest bungalow home 15 miles east of Santo Domingo at dusk Thursday. After a 50-minute conference, the 5½-foot, 175-pound general emerged grim-faced and in crumpled fatigues, hatless and unarmed.

ESCORTED AWAY
 He was escorted to a waiting car filled with officers and in less than an hour was aboard a U.S. Air Force transport, reportedly bound for the Panama Canal Zone or Puerto Rico.

Wessin's ouster drew cheers in the rebel sector of Santo Domingo. His removal was a prime objective of the insurgents, who accused him of indiscriminate bombing of civilians at the outbreak of the revolution last April. Wessin denied the charge, saying only military targets were attacked.

Paycheck Sought After 28 Years
 MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Eldridge Moss dropped by City Hall recently and asked for the 90-cent paycheck the city has owed him for 28 years.

Moss said he worked one day for John Gaston Municipal Hospital in 1937 but never picked up his check. The comptroller's office verified the claim. The amount due Moss was based on his old $27 monthly salary. A City Commission resolution is needed to authorize the payment.

Fire Loss High At Port Arthur

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—A $300,000 fire in downtown Port Arthur razed a lumber yard and a big appliance store Thursday night.

Firemen came from Beaumont and a number of other places to help control the blaze after an hour's battle. The cause had not been determined.

Fire Chief Horace Hebert of Port Arthur said the loss would run half a million dollars and possibly more.

He reported the flames started in the Builders Lumber Co. and spread to the J. Imhoff & Sons Appliance Co.

Wind up to 20 miles per hour threatened to fan the blaze into other business places for a time as drums of paint and creosote blew up.

Possibility Of Red Chinese Major War Role Discounted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proclaiming a policy of neutrality in the India-Pakistan conflict, U.S. officials today discounted the possibility of a major Red Chinese involvement in the fighting.

They nevertheless watched closely the Communist country's mounting flow of invective toward India, which included Thursday an attempt to link the United States with what was called India's aggression against Pakistan.

China's Premier Chou En-lai accused India of "a massive armed attack on Pakistan," and said she "could not have made such a serious military adventure without the consent and support of the United States."

His speech marked the third straight day of Red Chinese denunciations of India.

A State Department press officer, Robert J. McCloskey, denied that the United States is favoring either side in the undeclared war over Kashmir.

Impartiality," he said, and spoke at another point of "our posture of neutrality in this."

McCloskey declined to say how much officials may be concerned about the possibility of a Red Chinese attack on India.

Other sources said they believe Peking is ready to wage a war of nerves along her Tibetan border with India — but to go no further.

Officials keeping a close watch on the situation do not believe the Chinese Communists are willing to go beyond minor border incidents, for to do so would involve the major investment in Chinese military manpower and equipment.

Mrs. Horner Dead At 85

Mrs. Susie Annie Horner of 1602 Tucson, 85, known to many of the families and nursery members of two churches as Granny, died at 7 p.m. Thursday in a hospital here after a long illness.

Mrs. Horner had served as nursery supervisor for 17 years at Wesley Methodist Church and at Kentwood Methodist until failing health last year precluded further service.

Although she and her late husband, J. F. Horner, who died in 1943, had only one child, Elsie, they actually reared several others.

Mrs. Horner was born May 4, 1880, in Independence County, Arkansas, and was married in Arkansas to J. F. Horner in 1902. They moved to Big Spring in November, 1923. She was a charter member of the Wesley Methodist congregation.

Services will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with the Rev. C. W. Farmer, who served here as pastor at Wesley and Kentwood, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Henry Salley, her present pastor, and the Rev. Jarrell Sharp, pastor of Wesley Church. Burial will be in the City Cemetery.

Surviving her are one daughter, Mrs. M. O. Hamby; a grandson, Raymond Hamby, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Dub Bryant. She also leaves four great-grandchildren, two great-granddaughters, and one great-grandson.

Palbearers will be Nile Bailey, W. D. Lovelace, Frank Arner, Charles Richards, Luther Coleman, Cliff Hale Jr., Richard Shields and Weldon Kooils.

Goat Finally Trucked Off

An oversized goat with a propensity to play—a bit roughly—gave Lou's Antique Shop operators and others, including Deputy Sam Roberts, a rough time Thursday afternoon.

The goat showed up on the grounds of the shop which is on the road east of town toward Sand Springs. He pushed the proprietress around and a passerby offered to help. The well-intentioned intervenor came off second best when the goat got into action. Roberts arrived, and after considerable struggle, lassoed the goat and tied him to a pole.

The owner was located and notified. He drove up in a pickup truck. When he dropped the end-gate, the goat, released from the pole, hopped into the truck without causing further trouble.

City Improving School Areas

City crews are blading off and generally cleaning up areas near several local schools, according to Larry Crow, city manager.

Approaches to the schools, such as on Johnson and Nolan, where crews bladed off an off-street walkway for school children attending Boydston School, and the area near Lakeview School, where crews are cleaning off refuse and clearing out brush, are receiving attention, Crow said.

Two city crews are cleaning northside alleys, he indicated, removing trash and weeds and leveling the surfaces. Most of the city's alleys are in good shape, Crow said, but most northside alleys are in poor shape, and it will take city workers some time to clean them.

Rev. Kennedy To Speak Here

The Rev. Thomas J. Kennedy, who is on furlough from his mission duties in Africa, will be the speaker for both Sunday services at the Stadium Baptist Church and for special services through Wednesday.

The Sunday worship will be at 11 a.m. and 7:15 p.m. and the services Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The Kennedys have been on the mission field about nine years and are living in Abilene while on furlough. Mrs. Kennedy is the sister of Mrs. Jesse Overton.

Mrs. Rhoads Wins Degree

Mrs. Joan L. Rhoads, 1615 Cardinal, recently received a bachelor's degree from Florida State University, through the Florida Institute for Continuing University Studies.

She had lacked but six hours of graduating when her husband, Lt. Frank D. Rhoads, student pilot at Webb AFB, went on active duty and was stationed in Big Spring. FSU normally requires the final 40 hours of study in residence, but waives the requirement under certain circumstances, granting degrees through correspondence courses.

Sent To School

Albert Renteria Jr., who has been in difficulty with the law on several occasions and who has been on a probation from juvenile court, was en route to the State Training School for Boys at Gatesville today. Judge Lee Porter ordered the youth's probation set aside and his commitment to the school.

Club Members To Match Wits And Riding Skill

Kiwanians and Jaycees match wits and riding skill with each other, and both against a herd of fractious donkeys here Saturday evening.

It's all for sweet charity, and maybe for the benefit of linament salesmen and hospitals.

At any rate, the two teams square off at 8 o'clock under the lights of the rodeo grounds in western Big Spring. Like the hucksters say, you can't tell the players from the donkeys, or perhaps that's from each other, without a program.

Line-ups were announced Friday, and they will hold firm, assuming that the Mexican border has been plugged tight to keep brave riders from going south.

Umpires, billed as the "Three Blind Mice," are Col. Gus Tauter, Robert W. Whipkey and Jay Banks.

Players (they can be distinguished because they will not be wearing oil bags) are:

Jaycees — Jim (Dock) Anderson, Jarrin's John Anderson, Chuck (Country) Butts, Marvelous Mike Chowins, Joe (Notes) Crump, Ted (Tailwister) Ferrell, Moody Melvin Fryar, Norman (Hot Shot) Gound, Hop Along Hank Hill, Bill (Dog) House, Richard (Available) Hughes, Jack (Annie) Orr, Bob (Baldy) Pusey, Doug (Tug) Warren and Jolly Walter Wheat.

Cheatin' Louis McKnight will be the manager.

Kiwanians — Don (Lover) Lovelady, Bill (Festus) Johnson, Byron (Parson) Orand, Harry (Hank) Thames, Walt (Fats) Davis, Eager Edges Phillips, Glenn (Chasin') Faison, Traveler Travis Walker, Siminzin Ed Carson, Ernest (Digger) Welch, Zack (Black Jack) Gray, Dave (Dapper Dan) Dorchester, Bervin Ervin Fisher, Wild Bill Jay, and Juggle Jim Thompson. Roscoe (Casey) Newell will be the manager.

All Recall Killer Storm

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — "There's no more fear left in these kids," said the pretty Red Cross volunteer. "They're getting used to it."

"Since Audrey —,"

Virtually every conversation in this hurricane haven includes that explanatory phrase.

Young and old, some smiling and some solemn, all remember Audrey, the killer storm of 1957. Thousands gambled then and hundreds died.

Never again.

From the coastal villages dotting southwestern Louisiana, hundreds of families swarmed into Lake Charles to escape the fury of Hurricane Betsy.

Although Betsy's primary thrust was far down the coast toward the east, wary residents in the low, easily flooded areas moved northward to refuge.

The exodus to Lake Charles has become almost a ritual.

"It's just their annual convention," announced Joan Goldman, an Auburn-haired Red Cross volunteer stationed at the Lake Charles High School.

"We've gotten to know most of them by their first names," added a coworker, Dorothy Bon-sack.

Shortly before midnight, 162 families had checked in at the high school, blankets and baby bottles in hands and recollections of Audrey in mind.

Most were residents of Cameron Parish, a prime shrimp center and a key location for offshore drilling operations near the Texas-Louisiana line.

Audrey claimed 500 lives in Cameron.

Mo-Pac Planning Heavy Purchases

ST. LOUIS—The Missouri Pacific System will order 2,500 new freight cars and 50 locomotives, and plans to rebuild another 1,820 freight cars at a total cost of more than $44,745,000, Downing B. Jenks, president, announced today.

This new and rebuilt equipment is part of the MoPac's 1966 improvement program directed at both expanding and modernizing the railroad's freight car and locomotive fleets, he said. Rebuilding of cars will be carried out mostly in the railroad's DeSoto, Mo., car shops.

Survivors are three sons, Antonio, Martin and Aniceto Fierro, all of Big Spring; three daughters, Mrs. Victoria Hernandez, Mrs. Estrella Gonzales and Mrs. Gloria Octorena, all of Big Spring; a brother, Julian Rios, Kerrville; 10 grandchildren, and 29 great-grandchildren.

Historical City 'In Shambles'

By MIKE COCHRAN
NEW ORLEANS La. (AP) — This historic city is in shambles from Hurricane Betsy. Trees snapped off like match sticks. Plate glass windows shattered on famed Canal Street. Flooding in some sections.

I drove down Canal Street, weaving between large tree limbs, twisted signs and broken glass before daylight and less than three hours after the full fury of Betsy struck New Orleans. Wind gusts still rocked the car.

All power in the city was out from the lakefront, which was ordered evacuated, to the heart of the city at Canal Street. The French Quarter—off one side of Canal—was dark.

Heavy tree limbs caved in car roofs along the residential sections of Canal. In the business district, at least nine window fronts were shattered.

Mrs. Kyle Dies In Rest Home

Mrs. Mary H. Kyle, 80, of 404 Lancaster, died at 9 a.m. today in a local rest home following a lengthy illness.

She was born Jan. 8, 1885 in Washington County, and was married to C. S. Kyle, Oct. 25, 1908 in Brownwood. The family moved to Big Spring in 1923. He was a retired Texas & Pacific Railway Co. machinist. Mrs. Kyle was a member of the Fourteenth and Main Streets Church of Christ.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ. Perry Cotham, minister, will officiate. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors are the husband, Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Douglas (Lena) Newman, Coahoma, Mrs. Lucille Tucker, Bowie; a son, Howard Kyle, Odessa; three sisters, Mrs. Vera Sullivan, Mrs. Bessie Allen, both of Big Spring, and Mrs. Roy Gower, Cleburne; six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will be D. S. Riley, Bruce Frazier, Leon Mencer, Gilbert Gibbs, J. C. McWhorter, T. C. McGinnis.

Mrs. Fierro Dies Thursday

Mrs. Francisca Rios Fierro, 75, of 1604 NW 5th, died at 6:25 p.m. Thursday in a local hospital after a lengthy illness.

She was born Oct. 4, 1889 in El Paso, and had been a resident of Howard County 70 years. She was preceded in death by her husband, Basilio Fierro, March 31, 1935. She was a member of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Funeral mass will be said at 10 a.m. Saturday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, with the Rev. J. P. Delaney, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Catholic section of Big Spring City Cemetery under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

The remains are in state at 904 N. Goliad.

Survivors are three sons, Antonio, Martin and Aniceto Fierro, all of Big Spring; three daughters, Mrs. Victoria Hernandez, Mrs. Estrella Gonzales and Mrs. Gloria Octorena, all of Big Spring; a brother, Julian Rios, Kerrville; 10 grandchildren, and 29 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Rios Transcript Sent To Court

Transcript in the appeal of Daniel Rios, convicted of murder without malice in the traffic death of Albert Grantham, is completed and will be dispatched to the court of criminal appeals. Rios was given a 5-year sentence after a jury had found him guilty last Aug. 24. The fatal mishap in which Grantham was killed occurred March 3.

Enrollment Hits 7,515

Enrollment in Big Spring schools climbed to 7,515 students this morning, according to figures released by principals to the administrative office. This is an increase of 31 over yesterday's total.

Changes in enrollment figures since yesterday's report shows: Airport up 8, College Heights off 2, Kentwood off 1, Marcy up 2, Park Hill up 1, Goliad up 1, Rannels up 1, Senior High up 11, special education up 7.

Supt. Sam Anderson said enrollment would continue to pick up during the next week if past experience is a criteria.

Total elementary enrollment now stands at 4,999; secondary at 3,283, and special education at 133.

Original Case Still In Court

Judge Ralph Caton pointed out that the original case brought by Tom Sneed, on behalf of Northside United, is still in court. It will remain on the court's docket until the defendant files a new pleading — which he must do by 5 p.m. today — or until some new development not now foreseen arises. Should Sneed fail to file a new pleading, the plaintiff will probably file a motion to dismiss which the court will grant. However, this will probably not be done until sometime next week or possibly even later.

Center To Study Radiation Damage

DALLAS—The United States Public Health Service has granted the Graduate Research Center of the Southwest $240,000 for a five-year program study of protection and recovery from ultraviolet damage in bacteria.

Specifically, the research is aimed at studies of cellular mechanisms for the repair of damage produced by far-ultraviolet radiation. Such radiation acts primarily on genetic material. These repair systems, therefore, operate chiefly on genetic damage.

Knowledge of how it does this will contribute to knowledge of the nature of genes, gene action, systems which Prof. John Jagger proposes to study repair ultraviolet and, therefore, genetic damage.

Man Injured In Car Crash

Four traffic accidents Thursday sent one man to a hospital, police said Friday.

Newton Clifton King, Ellis Homes, was taken to Howard County Hospital Foundation at noon Thursday after his car and one driven by Stephen Modrel Stinson, 2008 Merrily, collided at Thirteenth and Nolan. Both cars were heavily damaged, police said. King was kept in the hospital overnight for observation and released this morning, attendants said.

Julian B. Fisher, 1902 Morrison, who was pulling a trailer with his car, escaped injury when the trailer struck and damaged a street sign at FM 700 and US 87, officers said.

The parked car of Muriel Ethel Reid, 1609 Vines, was damaged on the rear bumper when it was struck by a car driven by Frances E. Walker, 1200 Dixie, at 702 Eleventh Place.

Lt. Claude Franklin Hough, Webb AFB, was uninjured when his car hit a post in front of an apartment house at 1426 E. 6th, police said.

Weather Forecast

Precipitation is forecast for the central and lower Mississippi Valley to the Appalachians and the Southeast, except Florida, Friday night. Rain will fall in the Tennessee Valley and northern portions of the Central Gulf survey. Contract depth is 1,650 feet.

Apache Oil Corp. No. 1 G. G. Wright, was flowing and testing. In five hours the well flowed 10 barrels of oil through a 6-64-in. choke from perforations at 9,058-60 feet. The formation was treated with an unspecified amount, after stimulating with 250 gallons of mud acid on the first try. Rotary rig has been moved off the location.

It is 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 31-33-3n, T&P survey, and is an extension to the one-well field and to the operator's No. 1 Adams, opener of the Brookings, Northeast in the Cisco.

Visitors Lose Family Dog

Anyone seen Ginger?
Ginger is the long-time family pet of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gool, 4317 Princeton, Midland. She came with the family for a Labor Day outing to Moss Creek Lake, but when it came time to go home, Ginger was nowhere to be found.

The family has been trying desperately since then to locate the 12-year-old dog. Ginger is described as being all brown, but with a lighter brown around the neck and face, and appears like a miniature collie. She had tags when last seen. She is a friendly dog, but might be frightened. The Gools would be deeply grateful to anyone who might know of her whereabouts. Those who could help are asked to call collect to OXford 4-8662 or MU 3-5618.

Landmarks of a Great People

This is one of the snapshots from my vacation trip. Friends ask why I made this the frontispiece in my album rather than that shot of the bald crest of Mt. Marcy — or the telescopic close-up of the Old Man of the Mountains.

Sure, I know this scene is commonplace. I saw a hundred villages with their white steeples peering above the trees and their comfortable old houses nestled around the church. And each one had a pond with pines and birches guarding its shore.

But this picture says more than all the others. It speaks not just of beauty and natural wonder . . . it tells of a good land populated by a great people. It reminds me of God . . . and of my neighbor. It whispers that all I cherish can endure for generations.

The landmarks of a great people proudly point to Faith. The Church belongs at the center of our life. But only you and I can keep it there!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BUZ SAWYER

ONE THING I FORGOT TO MENTION, CASEY. EACH CHARMING LADY WHO BUYS A PLUME FROM ME GETS A FREE LUNCHEON—IF SHE'LL ACCEPT.

I NEVER TURN DOWN A FREE MEAL.

RATHER NICE TO FIND AN AMERICAN PLAYBOY LIKE YOU IN PANAZUELA.

YOU'VE GOT ME WRONG. I PLAY—BUT I'M NOT A PLAYBOY.

IT'S TOO BAD, I'M CERTAIN MY FATHER WOULD HEARTILY DISAPPROVE OF AN AMERICAN EVEN AS A DATE... IN FACT, I THINK HE'S ALREADY PICKED A HUSBAND FOR ME.

SO SOON? WHEN YOU'VE JUST GOT BACK FROM COLLEGE? TOO BAD, IS RIGHT.

GASOLINE ALLEY

Clovia and the cake came down this walk, Dr. Fuddle!

Ah! Perceive, Skeezi! Birds! Perhaps our first clue!

Unmistakably dutch chocolate! At this point catastrophe befell the cake!

That's Nina's cake, all right, but how?

An accidental encounter with some person or object, unknown!

Not too unknown! Here's slim's lucky charm!

NANCY

I WISH I DIDN'T HAVE TO GO TO GERT'S PARTY—I DON'T LIKE HER

I'LL HAVE TO MAKE UP AN EXCUSE, BUT I HATE TO TELL A FIB

I'M AFRAID I COULDN'T GET THERE IN TIME, GERT

WHERE ARE YOU CALLING FROM?

EUROPE

L'L ABNER

STARBUCK ATEN-AGE GAL IN THE WORLD

—WHO WOULDN'T GIVE HER CONFUSED LIL LIFE, JUST TO GET NEAR ONE O' THEM, F?

—BUT AH HAS THE PRIVILEGE—

—O' ACKSHULLY TOUCHIN' ONE!!

BLONDIE

I'M HOME, DEAR—WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

I'M GOING OVER THE BUDGET AND WE'VE GOT TO CUT DOWN

WE'VE GOT TO PUT SOMETHING AWAY FOR A RAINY DAY

I'M SORRY, DEAR, BUT THERE WAS A THUNDERSTORM AT TUBSURY'S TODAY

ORPHAN ANNIE

REGARDLESS OF EVERYTHING ELSE, WE MUST GET TO THE BOTTOM OF THIS TRAGEDY! IF THE YOUNG BOY WAS A VICTIM OF ENTRENCHMENT I NEED NOT REWARD YOU OF THE PENALTY!

SECH AS SIX PEOPLE STILL BERY BLUM, INCLUDIN' TH' LITTLE LOWEZY' GRANDPARENTS AND 'SPECIALLY' YES HONOR?—PLUS A CONFESSED MURDERER REAL DEAD?

AR-RUMPH! WHEN I NEED YOUR COMMENT I'LL ASK FOR IT, FELLOW!

THERE'S NO SECRET, JUDGE WHIFLETREE! YOU COULD SEE THE GUM WAS OUT OF ORDER! 'BUGS' GRABBED IT BEFORE ANYONE COULD STOP HM!

HM-H! I AM AFRAID IT IS NOT AS SIMPLE AS THAT!

SNUFFY SMITH

WHAT ARE YOU SO TICKLED ABOUT, LEETLE JUGHAID?

TH' SCHOOL-M'ARM DIDN'T GIVE US NO HOMEWORK TODAY

GOODY!! THEN YE CAN CHOP ME SOME KINDLIN' WOOD

I THINK AUNT LOWEZY AN' TH' DADBURN SCHOOLM'ARM ARE IN CAHOOTS

KERRY DRAKE

THERE WERE 40 DIAMONDS IN THE LAST BAG, SGE, DRAKE?

WE'VE PROBABLY RECOVERED THEM ALL, SARANADE—BUT WE CAN'T BE SURE UNTIL THE STORE CHECKS THEM!

NO REPORT SO FAR THAT MADAM ADAM HAS BEEN STOPPED AT A ROADBLOCK! —SHE MUST STILL BE IN THIS AREA!

AND... ON A FARM NOT FAR AWAY

YEP! SURE! KOFF!

WHAT THE...? THIS THING IS RUNNING OUT OF GAS!

BETLE BAILEY

LOOK! SARGE IS OUT AGAIN! MUST BE TRYING TO SHARPEN UP HIS GAME!

AW, HE DOESN'T CARE ABOUT GOLF

HE'S TRYING TO SHARPEN UP HIS VOCABULARY!

PEANUTS

I'M GOING TO COLOR THE SKY BLUE AND THE GRASS GREEN

DON'T FORGET THAT "GRASS GREEN" IS AN ELUSIVE TERM... THE COLOR OF GRASS CAN BE CHANGED BY THE TURNING OF THE BLADES AS THEY ARE BLOWN BY THE WIND...

THE IDEAL LOCATION TO OBSERVE A "GRASS GREEN" WOULD BE IN A TEMPERATURE ZONE AT A PLACE NOT LOWER THAN 30 DEGREES LATITUDE AT A DISTANCE OF FROM ONE TO TEN YARDS DURING MIDDAY, AND...

DICK TRACY

JUST IN CASE YOU'VE WONDERED, TIME IS FAST RUNNING OUT FOR MATTY SQUARE.

NOW—YOU'RE REUNITED WITH YOUR KITTY. DO YOU FEEL BETTER?

YES.

AND YOU'LL BOTH GO TOGETHER. YOU'LL NEVER BE SEPARATED AGAIN.

THEY SAY A MAN WHO LOVES PETS CAN'T BE ALL BAD, BUT IN THIS CASE YOU'RE THE EXCEPTION YOU'RE ALL BAD.

MARY WORTH

THIS IS MISS JENNIFER CRANFORD, RUTH—WHO WILL ASSUME YOUR DUTIES TOMORROW.

MISS QUIRE IS DESERTING US FOR THE BLISS OF BECOMING A BRIDE, JENNIFER!

JUST 21 MORE HOURS, MR. PALMER!—AND I'M SO EXCITED I COULD FLY TO CANADA WITHOUT A PLANE!

WELL, I'LL LEAVE YOU TWO TOGETHER! —IF THIS BOARD HAS ANY UNUSUAL FEATURES, YOU MIGHT EXPLAIN THEM TO JENNIFER!

MISS QUIRE!—HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE TO LEARN ABOUT A SWITCHBOARD?—I NEVER TOUCHED ONE BEFORE IN MY LIFE!

REX MORGAN

WE'RE STAYING FOR DINNER! TELL JIMMY TO GET US A TABLE IN THE DINING ROOM, PLEASE!

YES, MR. WATSON!

JEFF I THINK PERHAPS IT'S A LITTLE LATER THAN I THOUGHT!

NONSENSE! YOU CAN TAKE ANOTHER HOUR TO DAY, CAN'T YOU?

I ALWAYS SAY... WHEN YOU TAKE A LITTLE NIGHT OFF ON THE TOWN, DO IT RIGHT—BECAUSE THE LITTLE WIFE WILL SCREAM ANYWAY!

POGO

OH, I AM OVERCOME— MAN, THE PROTEST JAZZ IS DEPLETING!

HOW COME YOU JOIN US FREEMEN WHAT'S ON POKET PUTY?

OH, YER POIN' A LAY-IN ON THE FIREHOUSE! GOODBY! THAT'S A CLASS JOB.

COOL, MAN! REMINDS ME OF NOOZLE PRINTEMPS WHO CHANGED HIMSELF TO THE BARBAGE DEPT IN JUNE— Y'KNOW THAT CAT WORKED HIS WAY UP TO THE SUPREME COURT BY AUGUST! A BIG CORROOR NESSER—WHAT 'TALENT!

HEY!

CLEAN IT UP AN' YOU CAN KEEP HALF OF WHAT YOU GET FOR IT.

GRANDMA

COME SEE, GRANDMA!

THERE IT IS AND I'LL BET IT SETS A RECORD...

... AS THE BIGGEST MUD PIE EVER MADE IN THIS NEIGHBORHOOD!

TERRY

SERGE!

TALK, YOU SPYING WITCH! WHO WAS WITH YOU? WHO HAD YOU?!

MUST I PERSUADE YOU FURTHER? I'LL BREAK EVERY BONE!

YOU SWINE!

SMITTY

THERE GO ALL IN PAPERS OFF THE DEPK AGAIN!

THAT BIRD IS A PEST, BUT I DON'T WANT TO OFFEND STENO BY SOUNDING OFF...

I CAN'T HURT HER FEELINGS BY MOWING, HER GET RID OF THAT SILLY CROW!

BUT IF HE HAPPENED TO FLY OUT AN OPEN WINDOW—HER!

MOON MULLINS

I HATE BEIN' WITHOUT WAGES WHILE TH' CAB'S STOLEN, MR. MULLINS...

AW—IT'S ONLY MONEY, JOKE...

PHONE

—ACME AUTO INSURANCE CALLING, MR. MULLINS— WE FIND THAT YOUR FIRE AND THEFT POLICY HAD— LAPSED...

4. COMPLETE COOKING INSTRUCTIONS, INCLUDING TEMPERATURES, TIMES AND SIZES OF DISHES WHERE BAKING IS REQUIRED.
5. FULL NAME — COMPLETE ADDRESS
6. TYPE OR PRINT YOUR RECIPE

Gen. Ascani To Speak To Grads

Maj. Gen. Fred J. Ascani, commander of Systems Engineering Group and deputy commander for Research and Technology at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, will speak at the Dining-in banquet at Webb Air Force Base's Officers Open Mess tonight, starting at 7 p.m.

MAJ. GEN. FRED J. ASCANI

The Dining-in will be the prelude to the graduation of 38 student-pilots of Class 66-B at the wing parade and review on Webb's flight line Saturday at 9 a.m.

Gen. Ascani has been at his dual posts at Wright-Patterson AFB since June of 1964. Prior to going to Ohio, he was appointed deputy commander and later program director for the B-70 System. In these roles he was responsible for the construction of experimental versions of the Mach 3 B-70 for the Air Force.

The general was born in Beloit, Wis., in 1917. In the late 30's he attended Beloit College, transferring to West Point after two years. He graduated from the academy in 1941, 34th in a class of 424.

He completed pilot training at Foster Field, Texas, in March of 1942 and went on to attend instructor and squadron commander courses at Columbus, Miss.

After duty tours in Washington and Florida, he was named squadron commander at MacDill Field, Fla. In 1944 he went with the 816th Bomb Squadron to Italy as commander. He returned in December, 1944. Assignments followed in Florida, Ohio and then in 1950, he became director of the Flight Test and Engineering Center at Edwards AFB, Calif.

While at Edwards, in January of 1951, he was promoted to colonel. There he won the Mackay Trophy for establishing a new 100-kilometer closed course speed record of 435 miles per hour in the F-86.

By The Associated Press
Violent thunderstorms, with strong winds, heavy rain and hail, swept wide areas in the Midwest. Most severe weather was along a cold front extending from Wisconsin to Kansas today.

A tornado struck a rural area near Abilene, Kan., as thunderstorms rumbled across areas from central Kansas through northwestern Missouri into south central Iowa. In Wisconsin a twister hit the Waukesha County area.

Heavy rain and strong winds lashed parts of northeastern Iowa and northern Illinois. About 2 1/2 inches of rain doused Dubuque, Iowa, in 90 minutes. The rainy weather appeared headed eastward to southwestern New York.

Cool air spread into the north central states and frost warnings were posted for parts of the Dakotas and northern Minnesota tonight.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 35 at Cut Bank, Mont., and Jamestown, N.D., to 87 at Blythe, Calif.

Mrs. Johnson Vacation Over
JACKSON HOLE, Wyo. (AP)—It's the end of a brief vacation amid the Teton Mountains for Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson today and farewell for now to a summer beau for her daughter, Lynda.

The President's wife and daughter fly back to Washington after three days in Grand Teton National Park.

Mrs. Johnson said she found her stay as a guest at the ranch of the Laurence Rockefeller's relaxing and "sheer joy."

Lynda, 21, said goodbye again to a new boyfriend, Brent Eastman, 25, Evanston, Wyo., a bronzed 6-foot-2 medical student who has been spending his past six summers here as a Snake River float trip guide.

They first met when Lynda visited the park on a Western trip in July. Eastman squirmed her around then as he has been doing the past three days.

Tax Collections By U.S. Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal tax men collected more money than ever in fiscal 1965—despite a drop of nearly 2 percent in personal income tax receipts due to reduced tax rates.

The White House announced Thursday that total collections for the bookkeeping year that ended June 30 were $114.4 billion, up $2.2 billion from the previous fiscal year.

Personal income taxes accounted for $53.7 billion, about $930 million less than was collected in fiscal year 1964. But the drop was offset by a $1.8 billion jump in corporation income taxes, which totaled $26.1 billion.

Other major tax collections included $14.8 billion in excise taxes, up $838 million; and $2.7 billion in estate and gift taxes, up $328 million. Interest and penalties accounted for other income.

The total reflects all money taken in by the government including various trust funds. Receipts credited to the administrative budget, which finances most federal government activities, totaled $93 billion, a figure previously announced.

Texas Smelter Strike Idles

EL PASO (AP)—Union officials are prepared to meet with management soon about the walkout at the American Smelting and Refining Co.

Alfredo Montoya, of the Mine, and Mill and Smelter Workers Union said a "speedy settlement" of the walkout will be in the best interest of worker, company and the community.

Some 800 workers walked out Thursday. The smelter halted operations.

Sophistication Ruled Out For Young Beauty

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Actress Joan Crawford, who made sophisticated glamor her trademark, doesn't look for it when judging Miss America contestants.

"I don't like sophistication in 18 and 19 year olds," said Miss Crawford in an interview between judging sessions at this year's contest.

"It's phony. There's a little thing called humility. You don't fool judges."

SWIM SUIT
The tallest girl in this year's contest, Kathy Blackie (Miss Nevada) won the swim-suit competition Thursday night during the second round of the pageant preliminaries.

"I like being tall," said Kathy, who is 5 feet, 10 1/2 inches. "There were problems when I was younger—the boys came up to my shoulder."

"But now there is no problem finding someone taller. We tall girls have lots of fun."

A BRUNETTE
Miss Blackie is a brown-eyed brunette who weighs 138 pounds and measures 36-24-36.

The other preliminary winner Thursday night was Miss South Carolina, Nancy Moore of Aiken, who did an original piano arrangement of the pageant's theme song, "There She Is, Miss America."

JOIN WINNERS
Miss Nevada and Miss South Carolina join Miss Indiana, Elaine Smith of Indianapolis, and Miss Mississippi, Patsy Puckett of Columbus, as preliminary competition winners.

Two more will be chosen tonight.

The three nights of competition, ending Saturday, are being held to select the successor to Vonda Kay Van Dyke of Phoenix, Ariz., and the $10,000 scholarship that goes with the title.

Defense Contracts To Small Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—Small business firms have received $5.305 billion in defense prime contract awards during fiscal 1965, a White House report says. This is $463 million more than the total for the previous year.

Paying Women Less Than Men Charged

ROGERS, Ark. (AP)—The Daisy Manufacturing Co., arms maker to American boys for more than half a century, is accused by the government of paying its women employees less than men.

The Labor Department has filed suit against Daisy in the first court test of the Fair Labor Standards Act requiring equal pay for women for work demanding similar skills.

COUNTER CLAIM
Daisy counters that the government has failed, in a series of meetings, to outline specifically where the firm is not meeting requirements of the act.

"We're as confused as anyone else, because no one knows," said Robert Bachman, director of industrial relations for Daisy. "They're taking a shotgun approach to this section."

Daisy, most widely known for its BB air rifles, describes itself as the "world's largest and oldest manufacturer of nonpowder guns and ammunition."

The suit charges specifically that Daisy has violated the act's equal pay provisions since June 14, 1964, by paying its women employees less than its men for doing work that requires equal skill, effort and responsibility and which is performed under similar working conditions.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Texas colleges received supplemental grants this fall for the college work-study program, under which the schools pay 10 per cent of students' salaries and the government pays 90 per cent.

The recipients are Cisco Junior College, $2,491 additional, total $15,881; Huston-Tillotson College, $5,094 additional, total $14,522; and West Texas State University, $10,560 additional, total $62,563.

Retarded Children Group To Meet Here Saturday

The fall West Texas regional meeting of the Texas Association for Retarded Children will be held in Goliad Junior High School here from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

H. Wade Whiteley of Midland, regional vice president, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting. Whiteley said retarded children councils from Abilene to El Paso will be represented along with special education teachers and other interested persons.

The program will include reports from the West Texas councils on their individual activities and workshops from which will come recommendations for action at the state TARC meeting later this year.

Some of those expected at the meeting are Mrs. Dora Huston of Austin, president of the TARC; David Sloan, executive director, and Mrs. E. E. Searcy of Fort Worth, representative of the National Association for Retarded Children.

C. G. Fairchild, assistant commissioner of education, for vocational rehabilitation and special education, of the Texas Education Agency, will be the featured speaker at noon. He has been associated with the agency for the past 27 years.

Before joining the staff of the agency, Fairchild was high school principal and coach at Simla, Colo., from 1924 to 1926. He then became secretary of the Omaha, Neb. YMCA from 1933 to 1938. He was employed as a Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor in the Fort Worth office until April of 1945, when he was transferred to Austin as assistant director of Vocational Rehabilitation, becoming state director in 1960. He became assistant commissioner of education Sept. 1, 1964.

Trails Blazed At Sea Floor

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—The aquanauts in Sealab 2 neared the end of their two-week excursion 205 feet beneath the sea by blazing underwater trails.

The trails—lines fixed to stakes driven into the ocean floor—extend up to 200 feet from the Sealab capsule and are designed to help the aquanauts get around easier in their underwater habitat.

Nine of the 10 aquanauts in the Navy's underwater living experiment are scheduled to come to the surface Sunday and are making preparations for the ascent.

Cmdr. Scott Carpenter, the former astronaut now an aquanaut, will stay down another 15 days.

Another team will go then go down to the Sealab to continue the scientific investigations started by the first group.

HERE IS THE 1965 EDITION OF THE BIG SPRING HIGH SCHOOL STEER FOOTBALL TEAM

Tornadoes, Steers Kick Lid Off Season

By TOMMY HART

The football season reaches a point of screaming hysteria along about 8 o'clock this evening in Memorial Stadium, at which time the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes cross swords with the Big Spring Steers.

There's nothing quite like the breathless atmosphere surrounding the opening game of a campaign. Hopes range high. No one has been beaten. The weather is still warm. Old grads are made to feel young again. The enthusiasm of youth is infective. The colors on the football commons and in the stands are a little prettier than they are at any other time of the year.

Lamesa is still smarting from a 29-0 licking handed them on their home grounds by Big Spring last year. The Tornadoes got off on the wrong foot last year and didn't score a point during the first five games. They don't intend to let the same thing happen this fall.

Hopes are soaring in the Big Spring camp that the Steers will be able to shoulder aside all other challengers in the 2-AAAA race but, to put it bluntly, the locals haven't looked good in workouts.

They still have problems which will have to be solved if they are to prosper in the autumnal madness. Their line is big and fairly mobile but, to date, hasn't given any indication it will play as a unit.

Coach Don Robbins is having to go with untried material (against varsity competition) at quarterback. Chances are Van Tom Whatley will get the regular job. He throws well. Gregg Pate is still offering a lot of resistance in the battle for the position and, no doubt, will play a lot.

The Longhorns were 7-3 last year and finished in second place in the 2-AAAA standings, only a half game removed from the top.

They have more seniors back than at any time in recent years — four ends, four tackles, five guards, two centers, two quarterbacks, six halfbacks and two fullbacks.

But the big questions remain — can they find replacements for quarterback Benny Kirkland, halfback Johnny Hughes and linebacker Don White? All were named to the all-district team last year. Gone, too, is another all-star selection, tackle Skipper Sabatino.

Lamesa has a young ball club, somewhat smaller than that which will be fielded by the Steers.

Within the last few days, Bob Wiggins has nailed down the quarterback's job for the Tornadoes. Johnny Gibson, a 175-pounder who was contending for the position, has been transferred to halfback in order to give the Tornadoes more authority at running the football.

One of the area's finest ball carriers may be the Lamesa fullback, Joe Harper, a 190-pounder.

The Tornadoes also boast stellar ends in Joe Demerson and Steve Wilkes, a scrappy guard in Steve Paxton (who backs the line on defense) and a tough tackle in Dale Slough, along with other talent.

A record turnout of fans may be in attendance, if advance sales are any indication of the crowd. The demand for ducats has been heavy, in Lamesa as well as here.

Stanton Buffs To Visit Big Lake For Encounter

STANTON—Coach Bill Milam takes his Stanton Buffaloes to Big Lake tonight for an 8 o'clock game with that city's team.

Although the Bisons were defeated by Roscoe, 12-0, in their opener last week, the Stanton club took heart from the 41-8 pasting handed Big Lake by Alpine.

Milam says his team did not capitalize on two scoring opportunities in the game against Roscoe. Once the Buffs were inside the Plovboy five, but fumbled the ball.

On another occasion, the Stanton club had a pass intercept-

Shorthorns Play Angelo Saturday

Big Spring High School's B team, composed almost exclusively of sophomores, open their football season at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in San Angelo, at which time they oppose San Angelo Central's JayCees.

All of the varsity coaches will probably be on hand to watch the Shorthorns in action, including head coach Don Robbins.

The Shorthorns scrimmaged Andrews recently, with promising results.

Dean Gilstrap and Bill Burchett will divide time at the quarterback's spot for the Dogies, who now number about 45 players.

Lancaster Will Miss Opener

ACKERLY—Oren Lancaster, star end of the Sands Mustangs, will miss tonight's opening game with Three-Way here because of a foot he injured in a scrimmage last week with Sterling City.

Lancaster is one of the favorite passing targets of quarterback Larry Oakes.

Jesse Cavazos will replace Lancaster in Sands' starting lineup.

Houston Cougars Set For Debut In Dome

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Football makes its debut in the $31.6 million Harris County Domes Stadium Saturday when Bluebonnet Bowl champion Tulsa takes on the University of Houston in a nationally televised contest.

Some 10,000 foul line box seats have been moved to convert the air conditioned stadium from a baseball field to a football field. The stadium is the home of the Houston Astro baseball team.

Other field preparations include taking off the pitchers mound, covering dugouts and installing goal posts.

The game is part of a light college football weekend schedule with only two other games involving major college teams in action, Montana at Utah and Hawaii at Utah State.

Houston has high hopes of improving on last year's 2-6-1 record. These hopes are based largely on its fancy running back, Warren McVea, who will make his first varsity appearance in the game.

McVea, one of the greatest broken field runners in Texas during his high school days at San Antonio, was sought by nearly every college in the nation. The speedy 5-9, 180-pounder scored 591 points during his high school career.

He also had a brilliant freshman year for the Cougars, averaging 9.2 yards per carry.

Tulsa, which compiled a 9-2 record last year, including a Bluebonnet Bowl victory over Mississippi, has lost its great passer, Jerry Rhone, through graduation. But Coach Glenn Dobbs has said this year's team might be just as good, or even better.

Dobbs has said the hurricane will "come out throwing" again. Billy Anderson, who completed 61 per cent of his passes in spring training, will probably start at quarterback.

Tulsa has its receiving ace, Howard Twilly. Its defense centers around 270-pound tackle, Willie Townes, who gave Mississippi fits in the Bluebonnet Bowl game.

The Domes Stadium will seat some 45,000 for the game and a near capacity crowd is expected for the 12:15 p.m. CST kickoff. It will be televised by NBC.

DUCAT SALES NOW 1,150

A total of 1,150 season tickets to home football games of the Big Spring Steers, more than 200 above the old record, have been sold through the School Business Office, Don Crockett announced this morning.

The old record was 946, established a year ago.

Single game tickets for the Steers' outing with Lamesa go off sale at the Business Office, 602 E. 13th Street, at 2 p.m., but will be available at the gates tonight.

A record opening night crowd looms for the contest. No one will be turned away, however. Memorial Stadium seats 10,000 and has never been sold out.

School officials are looking for a turnout of between 7,000 and 7,500.

Forsan, Dawson Tangle At 8:00

FORSAN — Forsan's youthful Buffaloes play host to Dawson in their opening eight-man football game of the season. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

On the 23-player Forsan roster, only two boys are seniors. Coach Oscar Boeker also has six juniors, seven sophomores and eight freshmen on his club.

In two second scrimmages against Flower Grove, the Buffs outscored the Dragons by a margin of seven touchdowns to four.

Last year, Dawson defeated the Bisons, 30-0, so the Forsan boys will be gunning for revenge.

Dawson has seven seniors in its lineup. Outstanding for the visitors is Jimmy Windford, a speed merchant who plays halfback. He weighs in at about 140. Dawson is coached by S. B. Liveley.

Probable starters for the Buffs include Ray McKinnon 135 and Doug Franklin 158, ends; Gary Irwin 205 and Tommy Girdner 141, guards; Jackie Shoultis 165, center; Jack Ellis 155, quarterback; Freddy Willis 155 and Larry Callahan 133 or Clayton McKinnon 152, halfbacks.

Franklin, Callahan, Willis and Ellis were regulars on offense last year while Shoultis and Ray

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Here's the way the weekend football games look to me: BIG SPRING 24 Lamesa 8. The Steer juggernaut may be a little slow to get started but the talent is there.

WICHITA FALLS 13 Abilene Cooper 8. Cooper will mature well under new coach Merrill Green but the Coyotes still appear to have too much talent.

SAN ANGELO 26 Beaumont South Park 13. The Greenies upset the Bobcats last year but Emory-Bellard's team won't be caught looking the other way this time.

MIDLAND HIGH 16 Ysleta High 0. This one could go the other way if the game were in the El Paso area but Harold King's boys will be ready to make a good impression before the home folks.

LUBBOCK HIGH 13 Midland Lee 7. Joe Newbill says his Lee boys are farther ahead in their workouts than he expected them to be but Lubbock appears to have too much talent and too much depth. Lee was hit harder than any other 2-AAAA team by graduation.

ODESSA HIGH 21 Amarillo High 13. The Sandies will be at home for this one but the Bronchos have pride going for them. Odessa was another team hit hard by graduation but coach Hank Watkins has a fine group of boys on hand again.

AMARILLO TASCOSA 28 Odessa Permian 16. This one will be in Odessa and Gene Mayfield, the Permian coach, should know as much about 3-AAAA football teams as anyone. Still, Tascosa is a perennial contender for the 3-AAAA championship and is hard to contain anywhere.

ABILENE HIGH 27 San Antonio Thomas Jefferson 7. The power in San Antonio seemed to have shifted from Jefferson to other schools. The Eagles are going to emerge as the surprise team in West Texas football, especially tough at rushing the ball.

SWEETWATER 16 Breckenridge 8. Judging from what I saw here in a scrimmage last week, the Mustangs are going to have too much line for the Buckies.

BORGER 30 Littlefield 16. Even with a new coach, the Borger team looks tougher. Littlefield must come back from a disastrous 1964 season.

ANDREWS 22 Snyder 8. Andrews had a great defense last year and is always the team to beat in its own league. The Snyder club was hit especially hard by graduation.

SANDS 16 Three-Way 6. BIG LAKE 24 Stanton 7. FORSAN 33 Dawson 20. GARDEN CITY 8 Flower Grove 6.

Barlanx Horse To Watch In Ruidoso's Feature

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M.—Sunland Park, chinchilla breeder, and Phillips "66" move into the limelight here Saturday when Ruidoso Downs presents the next-to-last day of another record-breaking summer racing season.

The tripleheader features, in order, will honor Phillips "66" dealers convening here from New Mexico and West Texas in the ninth race, the Empress Chinchilla breeders in the 10th race, and Sunland Park in the featured 11th race spot.

The Sunland Park purse, heralding the 83-day wintertime meeting at Ruidoso Downs' sister track (October 2-April 10) will bring together a small but select band of 3-year-old sprinters, headed by Ralph Fetter's and Roy Hatch's Barlanx, which led the field for almost six furlongs in the $15,000 Thoroughbred Derby here.

Barlanx figures to be more at home at the 6 1/2 furlong distance of the Sunland Park, but he'll still require his best running shoes to hold off such others as Myrtle Arnett's Ann's Noble, Frank Meyers' and J. S. Williams' Itsa Minute, Patricia and George Oliver's Quicketta, and John Adams' Big Rob.

Though only Ann's Noble and Barlanx have tasted victory at the meeting, the others have been knocking hard at the door

Marichal Gets 21st Victory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Juan Marichal, who got suspended and fined for hitting John Roseboro of Los Angeles on the head with a bat, returned to pitching here at the wrong time for the Houston Astros.

Marichal, making his first start here since Aug. 23—the day of the battle with Roseboro—shut out Houston 4-0 on four hits Thursday and it kept the San Francisco Giants on top of the National League.

Marichal was picking up his 21st victory and 10th shutout.

SANDY KOUFAX BECOMES NO-HIT CHAMPION
Hurls perfect game against Chicago Cubs Thursday night

Sandy Koufax Records Fourth No-Hit Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers pitched a perfect game Thursday night in a 1-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs and became the first pitcher in baseball history to pitch four no-hitters in his career.

Outpitching Bob Hendley in the brilliant battle between the two left-handers, Koufax marked off his fourth no-hitter in consecutive years and surpassed the record for multiple no-hitters held by Bob Feller, Denion (Cy) Young and Larry Corcoran.

ONLY ONE HIT
Hendley, who allowed only one hit, was reached for a run in the fifth inning when the Dodgers scored without a hit. Lou Johnson walked to open the inning, was sacrificed to second, stole third and raced home when catcher Chris Krug threw wild.

That was enough for the Dodgers, who remained one-half game back of first-place San Francisco in the tight National League pennant race.

In honoring Sunland Park, Ruidoso Downs recognizes its importance to Thoroughbred and Quarter Horse racing in New Mexico, what with the coming winter season hard by El Paso offering approximately $1 million in purses, including a $300,000 stakes program.

In the companion Empress Chinchilla Breeders' dash at 400 yards, there may be plenty of fly flying when such near-speedsters as Fly Away Fala, Rebel's Way, Cookie's Gay Way and Mr. Jet Deck get together.

The Phillips "66" sprint over six furlongs also will supply sufficient excitement when a field of seven others seeks to overhaul front-running Nyrom.

First post Saturday will again be 1 p.m., with the same starting time prevailing for Sunday's closing day program.

was the only modern besides Koufax to have as many as three no-hitters.

Koufax, bringing his record to 22-7, was overpowering with his assortment of fast balls and breaking stuff, striking out the last six batters he faced and seven of the last nine.

In the eighth he faced two of the Cubs' hardest-hitting players, third baseman Ron Santo and Ernie Banks. He struck out both, then ended the inning by fanning Byron Browne, rookie left fielder.

DOWN SWINGING
Koufax also went down swinging—and Koufax had his first perfect game.

He also closed in on another of baseball's most spectacular achievements, Feller's all-time streak record of 348 in one season. Koufax now is 16 shy of matching that feat.

BIG COMEBACK
Koufax, a 29-year-old fireballer whose career was a jeopardy three years ago because of a circulatory ailment in his pitching hand, achieved a baseball plateau no other hurler has reached as he set 27 Cubs down in order.

Koufax struck out 14, lifting his major league leading total to 207, as he posted the first perfect game in his sparkling 11-year career, the eighth in modern history and only the third in National League annals, following Jim Bunning's last year.

He also eclipsed all multiple no-hit hurlers. Feller, the long-time Cleveland ace, pitched no-hitters in 1490, 1946 and 1951 and against the New York Mets, June 21, last year. The only other perfect game in modern National League history was pitched by Harvey Haddix.

Haddix, pitching for Pittsburgh, pitched 12 innings of perfect ball against Milwaukee in 1959. Haddix, however, gave up a hit in the 13th and eventually was the loser.

Other perfect games have been pitched by Young in 1904, Adrian Joss of Cleveland in 1908, Ernie Shore of Boston in 1917, Charles Robertson of Chicago in 1922 and Don Larsen of the New York Yankees in 1956. Larsen pitched his perfect game in the World Series.

DRYSDALE MIGHT MOVE TO JAPAN
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The tumult over the perfect game pitched by Sandy Koufax obscured what must be a nagging question in the minds of Dodger brass:

Will Don Drysdale become the biggest right-hander in Japanese baseball?

The 6-foot-6, 215-pound pitcher verified Thursday that a Japanese club had offered him a "fabulous" offer for an unstated number of seasons in Japan — one Los Angeles paper said it was $500,000.

Cliff Drysdale Title Threat

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—A tall South African who gulps salt tablets and hits a backhand like a portside Mickey Mantle is the newest threat to Roy Emerson's title in the National Tennis Championships.

He is Cliff Drysdale and his credentials include an upset quarter-final victory Thursday over America's No. 1 Davis Cup ace, Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., who was seeded third.

Drysdale's 2-4, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 8-6 triumph helped strip the tournament to one lone American — Arthur Ashe, the 22-year-old Negro from Los Angeles, who played Emerson today — and raised the possibility of the second South African in history to gain the finals of this 84-year-old grass court event.

Eric Sturgess from South Africa went to the last round in 1948 when he lost to Pancho Gonzales.

Drysdale likes his chances since he is bracketed against Mexico's Rafael Osuna, the 1963 champion, to whom he's never lost.

Osuna qualified for the semifinals by beating the up-and-coming Charlie Pasarell of Puerto Rico, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3, 7-5. Pasarell was just a shadow of the player that had eliminated secondseeded Fred Stolle of Australia.

The rest of the men's field catches up today when Ashe played Emerson — "I think I can win," the skinny Californian said — and Antonio Palafox of Mexico faced Manuel Santana the Spaniard who crushed America's Davis Cup hopes.

Swim Clinic Set At Y

An all-day swimming clinic will be conducted at the YMCA Saturday, starting at 9 a.m. The clinic is open to all those who would like to become instructors but is especially aimed at volunteer officers in the 3561st Squadron at Webb AFB who will teach the Big Spring Aquatic Club members in the future.

L. Vibert Strock and Capt. Ferguson will be in charge of the officers.

Don Easterling, swimming coach at Arlington State College and formerly coach of the Panthers Boys Club in Fort Worth, will head the group of instructors. He has 13 years experience as a coach and is noted as a teacher in youth swimming programs around the state.

All high school have a special invitation to be on hand, Jim Gilbert of the Y stated.

Buddy Shanks PLAYERS OF WEEK

Shanks, Lepard
Are Honored

The Daily Herald is instituting its policy of naming outstanding players on area football teams and will award each athlete so honored with certificates suitable for framing.

Only two teams within the vicinity were active last Friday, so only four players were singled out. The teams which played opening games last weekend were Stanton and Coahoma.

STANTON
LINEMAN — Glenn Lawson, a sophomore guard, small but full of fight. Despite the defeat suffered by the Buffaloes at the hands of Roscoe, Lawson carried the fight to the enemy. Pound for pound, coach Bill Milam says there isn't a better player anywhere in West Texas.

BACK — Quarterback Buddy Shanks, all-district in 5-A last year and apparently better than ever this season. Roscoe beat Stanton, 12-0, but the Bufts, thanks to the throwing arm of Shanks, outdid the Plowboys on offense. The Bufts completed 16 of 31 passes thrown and made 24 first downs to 29 for Roscoe. Shanks is also a standout on defense for Stanton.

COAHOMA
LINEMAN — Center Lawrence Lepard, who roamed all over the field to blunt one Rankin drive after another as Coahoma raced to a 20-0 victory. Lepard was particularly poisonous to Rankin backs when the Red Devils had the ball deep in Coahoma territory.

BACK — Fullback Tony Butler gained the honor this week, mainly because his two touchdowns put the decision 'out of reach' for Coahoma. His blasting inside enabled the Bulldogs to open up their offense and set the stage for other Coahoma backs to go outside.

Buckpasser Is Set To Race
This Weekend

By The Associated Press
Buckpasser and Moccasin, leading candidates for 2-year-old titles, will be seen in action Saturday in the two richest stakes on the national horse racing program.

Buckpasser, who has carried the silks of Ogden Phipps to seven straight victories after losing his debut, goes in the seven-furlong Arlington-Washington Futurity at Arlington Park. Moccasin, a filly owned by A. B. Hancock, takes on others of her sex and age in the six-furlong Matron at Aqueduct.

Although the Futurity is listed as a $150,000-added event, it will be worth $335,475 if all 10 entries start, with $190,475 earmarked for the winner.

The Matron carries only a $50,000-added tab, but advance payments and starting fees will make it worth $105,600 on the basis of eight starters. The winner will bank about $66,000, a record for the stake.

The Futurity launches two rich days of racing at Arlington with $100,000-added American Derby slated Monday.

Buckpasser, a son of Tom Fool and Busanda and winner of $184,475, is the short priced favorite to take the measure of the nine other juveniles in the Futurity, the turf's richest race for thoroughbreds. In his last two outings, he posted impressive victories in the Hopeful at Saratoga and the Sapling at Monmouth Park.

Curtis Barrett Heads Officials

Curtis Barrett heads the crop of men who will officiate tonight's football game here between Lamesa and Big Spring. Here is a complete list of game officials for the home games of the Longhorns this fall:

- Sept. 19 — Lamesa — Curtis Barrett, James Tipton, Pete Cook, George Phillips
- Sept. 26 — Yoakum — Curtis Barrett, James Tipton, Jim Tolbert, Jim Scott
- Oct. 3 — Midland — Sherry Lawson, Granville Pierce, Dick Stevelli, John Hart
- Oct. 10 — Cooper — Ronnie McWilliams, C. B. Selden, Keith Long, Jimmie
- Nov. 12 — Odessa — Quinn Connetley, Clifford Jones, Harlan Smith, Curtis Barrett

Player Tabs Nicklaus
As Man To Lead Pack

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Open champion Gary Player, shaking his head in disbelief over the thought of someone pocketing $50,000 for winning a 36-hole playoff, picked Masters' champion Jack Nicklaus as the man to beat in the World Series of Golf.

Player, "Jack's the boy to beat on this course." Player said the massive 7,180-yard Firestone and Bellevere in St. Louis, where he captured the National Open, "are two of the toughest courses you can find. The course is in magnificent shape and it should be a good tournament."

Aside from Player and Nicklaus, PGA champion Daye Marr and British Open titlist Peter Thomson will be shooting for the total purse of $77,500 with second place worth $15,000, third place $7,500 and fourth place $5,000.

Wait And See About Us,
Robbins Tells Kiwanis

Don Robbins, head coach of Big Spring High School, was not too optimistic about the football outlook Thursday in a short talk to the Big Spring Kiwanians.

He said a lot of things on the team could be better and that a little time would have to elapse before a true evaluation of just how good or how bad the situation is possible.

Silver Edges
Coahoma's 8th

SILVER — Silver's ninth graders edged Coahoma's eighth grade football unit, 8-6, in a football game played here Thursday evening.

Halfback Dean Richters scored for Coahoma in the third period on a 30-yard end sweep, at the end of a 40-yard drive. The try for point failed, however.

On defense, outstanding players for Coahoma included middle linebacker Raymond Gonzales, corner linebackers Gaylan Harrison and Dean Richters, inside linebacker Ted Fowler and halfback Wiley Oliver.

Coahoma chugged to the Silver three-yard line in the final period but was stopped on downs at that point.

The Coahoma eighth graders play again Thursday in Elbow at which time they oppose Forsan junior high.

Wait And See About Us,
Robbins Tells Kiwanis

opening game of the season Friday night and urged all of the club members to be on hand to back the team.

"We need your help," he said. One problem, he said, is the construction program on the school campus and at the stadium.

Hog Back Not Badly Hurt

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Coach Frank Broyles was both glad and sad over the Arkansas Razorbacks Thursday.

X-rays provided the cheering word that quarterback Jon Brittenum suffered only a pulled groin muscle the day before — not a cracked bone, as was believed earlier.

By 20-8 Tab

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo Lake View suffered its second football defeat of the 1965 football season by dropping a 20-8 verdict to Brady here Thursday night.

when guard Bob Miller covered a Lake View fumble in the end zone. Donzelle Fielden went over for the two extra points on a run.

In the third round, Brady scored again on a 64-yard drive when halfback Pat Elliot raced across from six yards out.

Earlier the Chiefs had lost to Winters, 36-0.

The Bulldogs counted a touchdown in the opening period

Fire Marshal Urges Stove Safety Checks

People who turn on their furnaces at the first cold snap, without checking the devices first, are liable to see their homes burn down, or themselves die of suffocation or get blown up in a gas explosion, A. D. Meador, fire marshal, warned Friday.

"Another hazard is any open flame heater," he continued. "Burned in rooms without ventilation, the heaters contaminate the atmosphere and rob it of the needed oxygen content. This frequently results in death by asphyxiation. All ventilation ducts should be checked to make sure they lead to the outside, and are not wedged against wood work or other flammable materials."

"You'd be surprised at the number of calls the fire department gets just after the first cold spell each year," Meador said. "Most of them are caused because people don't bother to check their furnaces. These furnaces are machines, and they break down. People should check them now, not just wait until it gets cold and then turn on a possibly defective furnace."

Driver Backs Insurance Plan

Veterans Affairs administrator William J. Driver came out in support of a low cost, $10,000 life insurance protection program for armed forces personnel Thursday.

Mike Price To Attend LCC, Tech Is Full Up

Mike Price, 18, who won the Big Spring Aggie Club scholarship award last spring, leaves Saturday for Lubbock.

Coin Club Plans Show

Big Spring Coin Club will send a delegation to San Angelo Saturday to attend the coin club show there.

The Big Spring club will stage its fourth annual coin show here Oct. 23-24 at the Seftles Hotel.

The show will follow the general pattern of the earlier events except that trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place winners in each event and a special trophy will be awarded for the best of the show exhibit. Ribbons have been given for some of these events in the past.

A feature of the show will be the bourse at which dealers will offer rare coins for sale. W. E. Wozencraft will be in charge of the bourse at the show.

At a meeting of the club Thursday night, Dr. Bruce Johnson, Loraine, spoke on the recent show in Houston and commented on the high prices which were being paid for coins.

AUSTIN (AP) — The state's general revenue fund, which saw dark days in the 1950s, had a record $108,794,157 balance when the 1965 fiscal year closed Aug. 31.

This topped State Comptroller Robert Calvert's official prediction of $97,806,790 by more than $10 million. The 1964 fiscal year ended with a general fund balance of $73 million.

Two revenue bills passed by the 59th Legislature in May accounted for the difference between the advance estimate and the collected tax total.

TAX RAISED

One bill raised the cigarette tax from 8 cents to 11 cents a pack, effective July 1, bringing in an additional $5 million. The other tightened the inheritance tax laws to bring in $9 million more.

Calvert's franchise tax estimate was $3 million over collections.

Sales tax revenues were the brightest spot in the tax picture because consumers spent more than they were expected to, said Jim Wilson, Calvert's research director.

SALES YIELD

The sales yielded $221,987,958, compared with $204,736,161. State spending totaled $3,548,553,776 during the two-year 1964-65 fiscal period. From 1964 to 1965 spending increased 2.2 percent while revenue from all sources, including federal aid, rose 8.9 percent.

City Triumphs In Bout With Tree Huggers

CHICAGO (AP) — The battle was between the tree huggers and the city.

The city won, 100-0.

Conservationist Stuart Chase described the holding action on the lakefront Thursday.

"They started up their chain saws and, with blades whirring, charged at us and cut the tree off right on top of us. They tried to drop trees on people and waved whirling chain saws at everybody. If people had been chained to trees, they would have been cut in half."

HUG TREES

"People were hugging trees and standing next to trees, and they'd see how close they could cut. I swear, I thought they'd cut Bernie Baum's hand off."

Dr. Bernard Baum, 39, a sociologist, had sawdust in his hair as he talked to newsmen, his back pressed against a large tree.

"I wrapped my legs around one tree trunk a little while ago, but they cut it down anyway," Baum said.

"Don't you feel like a brute?" one tree fanatic asked a workman.

"How the hell did Lincoln ever build his log cabin?" the worker retorted.

HUNDRED FALL

One hundred trees fell as the city began widening and straightening South Shore Drive through three city parks — including the huge Jackson Park, site of the 1893 Columbian Exposition and hailed as one of the country's most beautiful urban parks.

The 75 or so stalwarts of the Burnham Association — named for Daniel Burnham, who was responsible for the design of Jackson Park — say the $6-million, high-speed, eight-lane divided road is no substitute for 800 trees and lost park space.

Judge Writing Book Of Ruby Trial Cross-Quizzed

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Judge Joe Brown, who says the book he is writing about the Jack Ruby trial is intended "to tell the truth and clear up distortions," faced cross-examination by Ruby's lawyers today.

They contend that Brown, by writing the book, had a financial interest in the trial. Therefore, the defense argues, he should be disqualified and Ruby's death sentence for murdering the assassin of President John F. Kennedy should be set aside.

The state maintains that no such prejudice existed, pointing out that Brown didn't decide to write the book until four months after the trial.

JUDGE WITHDREW

Brown withdrew from the case earlier this year. Dist. Judge Louis Holland of Montague was appointed to succeed him.

Brown testified Thursday that he decided to write the book "Ruby, Dallas, and the Law" 14 months ago "to tell the truth and clear up distortions."

He said he got in touch with Clint Murchison Jr. of Dallas, whose family owns a substantial part of the New York publishing firm of Holt, Rinehart & Winston, Inc.

Holt, Rinehart then signed a contract with Brown and gave him a $5,000 advance against expected royalties.

Brown and Dallas newspaper columnist Paul Crume testified that Crume was ghost writing the book. The jurist said he edited the copy written by Crume.

"The book is still in its rough-draft," Brown said, and not close to completion.

Brown said he and Crume went to La Jolla, Calif., to work on the book last fall. Further testimony brought out that expenses for that trip were billed to the Murchison enterprises in Dallas.

$5,000 PAY

Crume said he was to be paid $5,000 for writing the book and has received $1,000.

Technically, the current proceeding is a habeas corpus hearing, on the contention that Ruby is being held in jail illegally because the conviction was faulty.

If Holland should rule for the defense, Ruby would get a new trial.

The defense says Brown had a "pecuniary interest" in the case, because Brown made rulings designed to increase sales of the prospective book.

Ruby, present at the hearing, told reporters before court convened Thursday that "people in high places" were suppressing information about the assassination of Kennedy and his slayer, Lee Harvey Oswald. Ruby shot Oswald two days after the assassination.

Ruby's lawyers tried to stop him from talking to the press but he snapped at them: "Leave me alone—I know what I'm doing."

Baby Tribal Parent Choked Is Healthy

SEATTLE (AP) — Fifteen months ago, Jennie Blinco was born—and almost died—in a Venezuelan jungle. Her mother, a member of an Indian tribe which practices infanticide, choked her with a vine after giving birth.

Today, Jennie is the healthy, bright-eyed adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Blinco, New Tribes Missionaries who are visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. Ted J. Kuhn, Mrs. Blinco's parents.

FOUND IN JUNGLE

"Jennie was found in the jungle just outside the only Christian village in the Guaiaca tribe," Mrs. Blinco said. "The Guaiacas are one of the most primitive tribes on earth and they practice infanticide regularly."

"Jennie's mother was visiting a village near our base camp when Jennie came. She went off into the jungle in the middle of the night and bore her, then strangled her with a vine and left, thinking Jennie was dead. That afternoon, some of the village Indians heard a baby crying in the jungle."

WILL RETURN

Blinco, a native of Cumberland, England, said the child was "more dead than alive" when it was brought to them.

The Blincos plan to return to Venezuela early next year, taking Jennie along. New Tribes Missionaries, operating under an interdenominational Protestant missions board, work with primitive tribes.

Students Neat And Scrubbed

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP) — Teenagers have returned to junior and senior high school scrubbed and neat to comply with a ban on sandals, skirts above the knee, "wild hairdos" and general sloppiness.

Provincetown, on the tip of Cape Cod, attracts thousands of tourists each summer of all types including the beatniks, and beatnik dress and behavior was beginning to rub off on the hometown teenagers, school officials said.

Before school opened, they published a code of dress and behavior in a local newspaper. Today, School Supt. Arthur Malchman said, "The boys and girls really looked nice—there were even some sport coats and ties."

New York State Road Bonds Sold

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York State has sold $72 million in bonds to help finance highway construction, the first such in 6½ years.

Displays Set For Field Day

LUBBOCK — Displays made possible by three new greenhouses at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, north of here, may be the most popular attraction for area farmers at the annual field day at the center which starts at 1 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 21. The center is 7½ miles north on US 87.

Researchers at the center are planning to display and discuss a number of plants that each have some type of abnormality caused by such things as low fertility, chemicals, diseases and genetics. The scientists also plan to show lightning damaged cotton farms.

Most of the field day will be devoted to visits and discussions of field research conducted at the center, but Agronomist Levon Ray believes the opportunity to learn to identify various abnormalities in cotton plants may be an important educational opportunity of the event. Farmers have been confronted with a series of new problems in cotton. For instance, improper application of herbicides has affected many fields as has the increase in verticillium and fusarium wilt.

The scientists will also display cotton and grain sorghum showing deficiencies of both micro nutrients and major fertilizer elements.

Castro's Party Battling 'Bandits'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fidel Castro's Socialist Revolution party says it is granting party cards to a special militia known as the "fighters against bandits."

The Cuban radio said in a broadcast heard in Miami that the group freed the Escambray Mountains of "counter-revolutionary gangs." The area has been reported as the main center of anti-Castro activity.
