SLATED FOR AUG. 29-30-31

Plans Underway for 21st Annual Rodeo

Plans were well underway this week for Colorado City's 21st Annual Frontier Round-Up Rodeo to be held Aug. 29-30-31.

The annual rodeo, which will be sponsored by the Colorado City Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be produced by Bob Estes of Baird, outstanding Texas rodeo producer.

Estes will offer a total of $1125 in prizes, he said Saturday.

Bill Quimby and H. B. Slaughter, co-chairmen of the Jaycee rodeo parade committee have announced that letters have been set to bands, sheriff's posses, etc. from all over West Texas.

So far, two bands have definitely agreed to appear in the parade, Quimby said Saturday.

Events in which prize money will be offered will be bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, bull riding and bull dogging, Estes said.

Jaycee committees are now at work on all phases of promoting the rodeo, including publicity, concessions, tickets and parking.

Rodeo Association plans to clean up the grounds for the rodeo.

Estes is one of the nation's outstanding rodeo producers. He produced the 1954 rodeo here with an outstanding field of rough stock and rugged cowboys.

Early this year, Estes produced the first American rodeo ever held in Mexico City.

Local Jaycees and the Rodeo Association have asked the cooperation of all Mitchell County citizens in making the 21st annual rodeo here a success.

School board set the date this week after final study of the budget that lists $591,754 in expenditures for the schools.

The budget, which will require a $1.35 tax rate on the $100 assessed property valuation, is $52,114 higher than the $539,640 budget set up for the 1956-57 school year.

At the same time income for the school district is estimated at $592,014 for the ensuing year, compared to $550,597 during the last year.

Major expense items in the 1957-58 budget include: $29,418 for administration, up from last year's $21,378; $345,416 for white instruction, up from $314,857; $34,680 for Negro instruction, up from $31,549; $46,200 for other school services, up from $40,000 last year; $36,000 for plant operation, up from $34,500; $7,900 for plant maintenance, down from $8,900; $6,800 for other fixed

Chain Fence To Enclose Grid Field

A chain link fence will keep spectators off the playing field during future football games at Colorado High's Wolf Stadium.

A $1,615 contract for constructing the fence was let this week to Hurricane Fence Company in Abilene.

The fence will be constructed as an oval around the football playing field, just inside the track that separates the field from the bleachers.

Twelve-foot gates at each the north and south ends, plus three foot gates at mid-field on the east and west sides will allow entrance on and off the field.

The fence has been contemplated for several months by the school board. Construction will be rushed for completion before opening of the Colorado High football season.

Three new resignations have been reported in the public school teaching staff. Mrs. Emily Pace has resigned and moved to Abilene. Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Prather notified Supt. Frank Wilson Saturday they were resigning to move to New Mexico.

RODEO GROUNDS MUST GO

Council Votes for Modern Cemetery

The need for a new cemetery in Colorado City will set off a chain reaction here within the next two years as a result of action taken last Monday night by city council.

Acting on a suggestion from City Manager Rollin K. Snethen that the city expand existing cemetery facilities, the council voted to start plans on a modern, perpetual-care cemetery to be built on the site of the present Rodeo Grounds.

The grounds, with their stands, arena, etc., and the County Livestock Barns will have to clear out of the area by Oct. 1, 1959, the council decided.

A motion that the city notify the Rodeo and Livestock Associations that they would have to move by that date was passed unanimously by council members.

Snethen said he thought the cemetery would pay for itself through the sale of lots, in line with prices used by other cemeteries around the country.

Plans call for a modern cemetery, which will be landscaped as a whole, rather than in individual lots. Only certain types of shrubs will be allowed, Snethen said, and no monuments will be used which rise above ground level.

The summer of 1959 will be the earliest possible date that actual work could start in spite of the council's immediate action, Snethen said.

Snethen also suggested paving Seventh St. through the cemetery and running water lines through the 26-acre tract for easy watering and maintenance.

The city manager said that the old cemetery is a permanent maintenance problem and that it is impossible to make it look really good, although it has been greatly improved recently.

Mayor Trevor Crawford said he believed that this was a good time for action on the cemetery, since the stands at the Rodea Grounds are in a bad state of repair.

No plans had been made by Rodeo Association or Livestock officials this week for a new site for Rodeo Grounds and Livestock Barns.

WARNING SYSTEM APPROVED

Two CC Committees Meet For Business

In two separate Chamber of Commerce meetings this week, the chamber's agriculture committee made plans for a tour of the Agriculture Experiment Station at Spur and the merchants committee settled several issues affecting local business, including a warning system.

The agriculture committee will sponsor the trip to Spur for 30 farmers and interested businessmen on Tuesday, Aug. 27, according to Elmer Martin, agriculture committee chairman.

Persons going on the tour will see exhibits at the Spur station in the morning and afternoon and will lunch with members of the Spur Chamber of Commerce, Martin said Saturday.

Twelve reservations have already been received for the trip. The group will leave by chartered bus early on the morning of Aug. 27, Martin said.

Cost for the trip will be between $4 and $5.

Also meeting this week, the Chamber of Commerce merchants committee approved a telephone warning system for all merchants.

The system will be used to alert businessmen of hot check artists are shop lifters circulating in the area.

Co-sponsor for the warning system is the Retail Merchants Association, according to Glover Rader, chairman of the CC merchants committee.

Using the new system, every merchant in town can be contacted within 10 minutes after a hot check or shoplifter is spotted, Rader said.

Posters are being printed for merchants to outline the warning system.

The merchants committee also began the organization of the second annual Cash and Car Days.

Tentative starting date has been set for Oct. 1. The event will last through Christmas Eve.

Rader has been named Cash and Car chairman.

The committee also voted to recommend to merchants that summer closing hours be adopted by all stores on a year-round basis.

Rader said that a letter to this effect will be mailed to all merchants.

The proposed hours are from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. on weekdays and from 8:30 a. m. until 8 p. m. on Saturdays.

Committee members voted to have September's Dollar Day, which normally falls on the first Monday of the month, on the second Monday, since the first Monday is Labor Day.

OFFICIAL TELLS GROUP

Cosden 'Well Satisfied' With Progress at Col-Tex Refinery

R. L. Ttollett, chairman of the boards of Col-Tex Refinery here and of Cosden Petroleum Corporation Friday night declared that Cosden was "well-satisfied" with the progress made at the local refinery.

Tollett spoke before an estimated crowd of 600 Col-Tex employes, their families and officials of Cosden at the annual family barbecue held each year at the Col-Tex Club by the local refinery.

The Friday barbecue was the first to be held since Cosden acquired the Colorado City refinery last December.

"It is a rewarding experience to meet with the people here," Tollett told the large audience.

He said that Cosden intended to do "as much as we can" to assure the future economy of the Col-Tex Refinery.

"We haven't made all the progress toward modernization we had hoped to make, but some improvements have been made and have confirmed our belief that this plant can make a variety of products," Tollett said.

He concluded by saying, "With your support and continued loyal service, I hope we are together for a long, long while."

Following Tollett's talk, Dan Krausse, vice president of manufacturing for the two firms, spoke to the group briefly.

"It has been nice having an opportunity to meet some of you here this afternoon," Krausse said.

"When Cosden purchased this refinery," he added, "one of the main things they were interested in finding out about was this family barbecue.

"It sounded like a wonderful idea to me," Krausse said, "and I hope it continues."

He concluded by saying, "With your support and continued loyal service, I hope we are together for a long, long while."

The speakers were introduced by Charles Wakefield, plant supervisor at Col-Tex, and Trevor Crawford, Col-Tex resident engineer, acted as master of ceremonies.

NUMBER THREE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 5, 1957.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 3 proposing an amendment to the Constitution of Texas adding a section to be known as Section 49-c of Article III, providing for the issuance and sale of bonds of the State of Texas to create the Texas Water Development Fund to provide financial assistance to certain political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State of Texas in the conservation and development of the water resources of the State; providing for the payment of such bonds; creating an agency to administer said Fund and to perform other duties prescribed by law; limiting the period during which financial assistance may be granted, and providing for the calling of an election and the publication and issuance of the proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49-c, as follows:

"Section 49-c. There is hereby created as an agency of the State of Texas the Texas Water Development Board to exercise such powers as necessary under this provision together with such other duties and restrictions as may be prescribed by law. The qualifications, compensation, and number of members of said Board shall be determined by law. They shall be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate in the manner and for such terms as may be prescribed by law.

"The Texas Water Development Board shall have the authority to provide for, issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000). The Legislature of Texas, upon two-thirds (2/3) vote of the elected Members of each House, may authorize the Board to issue additional bonds in an amount not to exceeding One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000). The bonds authorized herein or permitted to be authorized by the Legislature shall be called 'Texas Water Development Bonds,' shall be executed in such form, denominations and upon such terms as may be prescribed by law, provided, however, that the bonds shall not bear more than four per cent (4%) interest per annum; they may be issued in such installments as the Board finds feasible and practical in accomplishing the purpose set forth herein.

"All moneys received from the sale of State bonds shall be deposited in a fund hereby created in the State Treasury to be known as the Texas Water Development Fund to be administered (without further appropriation) by the Texas Water Development Board in such manner as prescribed by law.

"Said fund shall be used only for the purpose of aiding or making funds available upon such terms and conditions as the Legislature may prescribe, to the various political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State of Texas including river authorities, conservation and reclamation districts and districts created or organized or authorized to be created or organized under Article XVI, Section 59 or Article III, Section 52, of this Constitution, interstate compact commissions to which the State of Texas is a party and municipal corporations, in the conservation and development of the water resources of this State, including the control, storing and preservation of its storm and flood waters and the waters of its rivers and streams, for all useful and lawful purposes by the acquisition, improvement, extension, or construction of dams, reservoirs and other water storage projects, including any system necessary for the transportation of water from storage to points of treatment and or distribution, including facilities for transporting water therefrom to wholesale purchasers, or for any one or more of such purposes or methods.

"Any or all financial assistance as provided herein shall be repaid with interest upon such terms, conditions and manner of repayment as may be provided by law.

"While any of the bonds authorized by this provision or while any of the bonds that may be authorized by the Legislature under this provision, or any interest on any of such bonds, is outstanding and unpaid, there is hereby appropriated out of the first moneys coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by this Constitution, an amount which is sufficient to pay the principal and interest on such Bonds that mature or become due during such fiscal year, less the amount in the sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year.

"The Legislature may provide for the investment of moneys available in the Texas Water Development Fund, and the interest and sinking funds established for the payment of bonds issued by the Texas Water Development Board. Income from such investment shall be used for the purposes prescribed by the Legislature. The Legislature may also make appropriations from the General Revenue Fund for paying administrative expenses of the Board.

"From the moneys received by the Texas Water Development Board as repayment of principal for financial assistance or as interest thereon, there shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the bonds authorized by this Section sufficient moneys to pay the interest and principal to become due during the ensuing year and sufficient to establish and maintain a reserve in said fund equal to the average annual principal and interest requirements on all outstanding bonds issued under this Section. If any year prior to December 31, 1982 moneys are received in excess of the foregoing requirements, then such excess shall be deposited to the Texas Water Development Fund, and may be used for administrative expenses of the Board and for the same purposes and upon the same terms and conditions prescribed for the proceeds derived from the sale of such State bonds. No grant of financial assistance shall be made under the provisions of this Section after December 31, 1982, and all moneys thereafter received as repayment of principal for financial assistance or as interest thereon shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the State bonds, except that such amount as may be required to meet the administrative expenses of the Board may be annually set aside, and provided, that after all State bonds have been fully paid with interest, or after there are on deposit in the interest and sinking fund sufficient moneys to pay all future maturities of principal and interest, additional moneys so received shall be deposited to the General Revenue Fund.

"All bonds issued hereunder shall after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory nature."

Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the 5th day of November, 1957, same being the first Tuesday after the 1st Monday in said November, 1957, at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon, the following words:

"FOR the amendment to the Constitution of Texas adding a new section to be known as Section 49-c of Article III, authorizing the issuance and sale of Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) in bonds by the State of Texas to create the Texas Water Development Fund to provide financial assistance to certain political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State of Texas in the conservation and development of the water resources of the State."

"AGAINST the amendment to the Constitution of Texas adding a new section to be known as Section 49-c of Article III, authorizing the issuance and sale of Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) in bonds by the State of Texas to create the Texas Water Development Fund to provide financial assistance to certain political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State of Texas in the conservation and development of the water resources of the State."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The expense of publication and election for such amendment shall be paid out of the proper appropriation made by law.

DOUBLE RING VOWS

Miss Edna Davis Becomes Bride Of Glen Linder in Sweetwater

MRS. GLEN LINDER,
. . . nee Edna Davis.

Miss Edna Davis of Sweetwater and Glen Linder of Loraine were married Saturday evening in the Fundamental Baptist Church in Sweetwater.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Davis of Sweetwater. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Linder of Loraine.

Rev. Bobby Rine, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Loraine, read the double ring vows at 8 p. m.

A cathedral candelabra centered the altar. Seven-branched candelabra, holding pale pink tapers, flanked each side of the center candelabra. Arrangements of pink and white gladioli and palm trees completed the altar decor.

The bride, who entered with her father, wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle. The elongated lace bodice was fashioned with a bateau neck line and fitted sleeves which tapered to points at her wrists. Tiny lace covered buttons fastened the sleeves and the back bodice. Lace panels accented the tulle skirt.

For the traditional something old, the bride wore her mother's wedding band. A gift from the groom served as something new. The Bible was borrowed from a friend.

Mrs. Jerry Teston of Sweetwater sang "Walk Hand in Hand", "Wither Thou Goest" and "God Bless This House". She was accompanied by Mrs. A. R. Miles of Loraine.

Judy Dennis was maid of honor. She wore a dress of pink cotton satin, accented by matching chiffon at the neckline and a full flared skirt. She carried a bouquet of orchid asters in clusters of orchid net and ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Linder of Loraine, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Claudia Davis, Miss Joy Landers and Miss Carol Finley of Sweetwater.

Their dresses, fashioned identical to that of the maid of honor's costume, were of orchid cotton satin and chiffon. They carried bouquets of pink asters in clusters of orchid net and ribbon.

Deborah Etz of Sweetwater, flower girl, was dressed similiar to the maid of honor. She carried a small white basket with orchid colored flowers.

Candles were lighted by James Linder of Loraine, brother of the groom, and Gloria Davis, the bride's sister, whose dress was styled like those of the brides maids.

Groomsmen were Tommy Williams of Loraine, cousin of the groom; Jimmy Hall of Loraine; Charles Davis of Sweetwater, brother of the bride; and Freddie Bowlin of Colorado City.

Williams and Hall also served as ushers.

Mrs. Linder, the bridegroom's mother, wore a navy dress with red accessories.

Both mothers wore corsages of Reception, honoring the wedding couple, was at the home of the bride's parents. Bridal table was centered with a miniature setting of a wedding party and the bridesmaids' bouquets.

Presiding at the serving table were Mrs. Orbie Ray Linder and Mrs. Freddie Bowlin of Colorado City and Mrs. T. R. Lee of Sweetwater. Registering guest was Mrs. Rae Furlow.

The bride, a graduate of Newman High School in Sweetwater, is employed at Etz Studio and Camera Shop in Sweetwater. Mr. Linder was graduated from Loraine High School and is employed by the Texas State Highway Department.

HENRY DOSS

the 'seniors' at Col-Tex

20 YEARS SERVICE

This is the twentieth in a new series of special Col-Tex presentations recognizing long and valued service of those employees who have been associated with Col-Tex 25 years or longer. Col-Tex is proud of its workers who have contributed their efforts so many years for the company's success.

There's an employe organization at Col-Tex Refinery that provides both a savings and loan agency for Col-Tex families. And through the years its loans number in the thousands.

Long-time president of that organization, the Col-Tex Federal Credit Union, is a 51-year-old native of Colorado City, Henry Doss. He has been elected to the presidency for seven years.

Doss has 24 consecutive years of employment with Col-Tex, starting Aug. 1, 1933. But his affiliation with the refinery started even sooner and included an additional span of 18 months on part-time basis.

Oil industry attracted Doss after he attended the University of Texas. He worked for three years for Standard Oil in Pecos County, then returned to Colorado City to begin his 24-year span at Col-Tex.

For 15 years he was assigned to a cracking unit at the refinery. His experience included every job within the unit before moving to the position of head stillman. Ten years ago ill health necessitated his leaving shift work and he was assigned to the refinery warehouse, where he has been storekeeping ever since.

In 1936 Doss and Miss Myta Land, a native of Loraine, were married. Their daughter, Diane, 19, studied last year at Baylor University and plans this fall to enroll at Texas Tech.

Mrs. Doss, who operated a youth shop here for several years, is office secretary at First Baptist Church. Her husband is active there, too—having served as teacher or secretary for his church's Sunday School intermediates for more than a score of years.

There has been time for plenty of bass fishing also through the years. But a bone spur in the heel of his foot has temporarily sidelined the veteran Col-Tex employe from the rod and reel set.

MISS CAROL JEAN BOATRIGHT, plans September wedding.

Carol Jean Boatright To Wed R. E. George

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Carol Jean Boatright of Midland and Raymond Edward George of Oklahoma City, Okla., were announced recently by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Boatright of Midland, former Colorado City residents.

Wedding of the betrothed couple will take place Sept. 14 at 2 p. m. in the home of the bride-elect's parents.

Miss Boatright, a 1953 graduate of Colorado High School, is candidate for a bachelor of science degree in medical technology from Oklahoma University.

George received his degree in petroleum engineering from Pennsylvania State University. He is assistant division reservoir engineer with Phillips Petroleum Company in Oklahoma City.

Local Garden Club Hears Guilding Principles for Perennial Gardens

Mrs. J. T. Holley Wednesday afternoon was speaker for a regular monthly meeting of the Colorado City Garden Club in party room at Civic House.

Mrs. Holley spoke about guiding principles to a perennial garden.

She advised members to provide a background; give leading roles to iris, daisies, perennial phlox and hardy asters; proceed by plan only, emphasize and repeat accents, design wide borders, consider foliage as well as flower, arrange color in a front to rear wave and divide every three of four years. Keep borders neat and plant the best varieties obtainable.

Mrs. Holley explained that perennials have many values, but their landscape possibilities are often overlooked.

Prior to Mrs. Holley's talk, she introduced City Manager Rollin K. Snethen who expressed the city council's appreciation for the city beautification projects of the Garden Club.

He also asked for the club's suggestions and participation on a long range plan for park planting.

Mrs. L. W. Patterson showed projection slides taken during a recent visit to Bellingrath Gardens near Mobile, Ala.

Mrs. Patterson told the story of how the Bellingrath Gardens were transformed from a rustic riverside fishing camp by the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Bellingrath.

She explained that Bellingrath's belief in the importance of "the spiritual life as a fundamental part of the educational process" led him to establish the non-profit Bellingrath—Morse Foundation to administer the gardens.

Mrs. J. J. Taylor, club president, presided during the business session.

Mrs. John Brown was welcomed as a guest for the afternoon.

Club members present were Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Holley, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Will Berry, Mrs. Rollin K. Snethen, Mrs. Ruth Airhart, Mrs. L. L. Comer, Mrs. Maberry Willbanks, Mrs. Charles Wakefield, Mrs. Garland Green, Mrs. C. S. Martin.

Also, Mrs. R. B. Baker, Mrs. R. L. Jenkins, Mrs. G. D. Foster, Mrs. E. M. Owen, Mrs. S. A. Palmer and Mrs. Roy Davis Coles.

SYMBOL OF SAFETY

You never mistake the meaning of a Church spire.

Even to those who are cold to the ideals for which the Church stands, that finger of faith always points to something that is comforting, reassuring, safe.

The very presence of a Church, whether in a crowded city street or on a quiet country road, is a benediction to all, including those who are not conscious of worship.

Such an influence, with what it means to those who open their hearts to truth, is worthy of a second thought. It merits acceptance as a refuge. It commands confidence as a port in time of storm.

The Church deserves your support—your membership—because it affords real protection for the family whose welfare it is your duty to defend and whose proper upbringing is your solemn obligation.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BOLLWORM ACTIVITY UP

Local Rains Timely For Cotton in Area

(The following report was prepared especially for the Record by the extension service of Texas A&M College)

By WELTON H. JONES
District Extension Agent

Local rains during the past week were very timely for dry land cotton, particularly in the southwestern part of the area.

Conditions have been favorable for rapid growth of cotton in many irrigated fields. Such conditions have continued favorable to the activity of bollworms and leafworms.

Leafworms appeared in damaging infestations in an increasing number of fields. While control was more general in the southern part of the area damaging infestations were found in some fields throughout the area.

Bollworm activity increased during the past week. While only scattered fields of cotton had heavy infestations, the worms were found in light to medium infestations in some fields throughout the area. As with the leafworm, heaviest infestations were found in the southern part of the area.

Lygus bugs were present in light infestations in a majority of fields. No heavy populations were reported.

Cabbage loopers were found on cotton in most fields. While occasional localized ragging of leaves occurred, few fields have been treated for control of the insect.

Aphids appeared in greater numbers in many fields. Heaviest infestations were generally observed on cotton which had fairly recent applications of insecticides for control of other insects.

We strongly urge everyone to consult the Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects for recommended insecticides and dosages. Guides are available at county agent's offices.

The information contained in the Cotton Insect Situation release has been compiled from reports received for county agents, voc. agri. teachers, personnel of Texas A&M College System, branches of the U. S. Dept. of Agri., commercial cotton inspectors, chemical companies, and others.

EDUCATORS SAY

Proper Environment Needed by Students

The fall of 1957 is an important turning point in the lives of many American teen-agers.

Millions of these young adults will enter high school and face a whole new way of life. They will meet new teachers, classmates and courses.

If your teen-ager is in this group, you probably wonder what new problems he will face and what you can do to help him solve them.

Most educators and psychologists feel that one of the high school freshman's biggest problems is lack of privacy.

During his early teens, as parents know, the teen ager is extra-sensitive and a little moody. He wants a chance to think things out for himself. He wants to get away from other people at times and enjoy his own radio and TV selections. He wants a place to entertain his friends, to unleash his vivid imagination, even to do his home work. He wants privacy.

Your best solution to this problem is to give him some part of the home for his own personal use—a room of his own, if possible. If he has to share a room, let him know exactly which parts of the room and furniture are his. Let him be responsible for the care and cleaning of this section.

The experts also suggest you let him have a hand in decorating and furnishing his part of the room.

Furniture for a teen-ager's room can be very simple. Many teen-agers like to buy unpainted furniture and paint it themselves in their choice of colors. A divan type bed with a dark spread will give your teen-ager a place to lounge during the day. Help him select a desk or a sturdy table and chair of the proper height for his study area. A good desk lamp and a portable typewriter will improve his grades. For books and hobby collections, simple open bookshelves are the favorite.

Teen-agers have many new problems to face, many of which are unexpected and unpredictable. Most educators and psychologists feel that a good study area, properly furnished, with privacy and comfort can do a lot to help him.

SAFETY PATROLS will soon assume their stations at busy intersections 'round the nation as schools open. "Help your Safety Patrol Help You" is the theme for the new school year's program of safety training.

$400 Spent On Each Pupil In 1956-57

Public schools in the United States spent about $400 per pupil during 1956-57, U. S. Education Commissioner Lawrence G. Derthick points out in a new publication.

The summary report, "Progress of Public Education in the United States of America: 1956-57," was prepared for the Twentieth International Conference on Public Education in Geneva, Switzerland, last month.

Average annual salary of the instructional staff in public schools has risen from $3,010 in 1950 to $4,830 in 1957, an increase of 44 per cent, Derthick estimated.

Other facts reported were:

Private school enrollment has increased at about twice the rate of public school enrollment in recent years. About 4,850,000 pupils were enrolled in private elementary and secondary schools in 1956-57, more than 250,000 higher than the 1955-56 total.

More than 100 educational institutions are equipped to teach by closed-circuit television.

Schools are giving increased emphasis to international affairs.

Adult education was emphasized in three important phases — education for the aging, occupational retraining, and preparation for citizenship.

Copies of the report are available from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., at 45 cents each.

INCREASED ATTENDANCE

Growth of Schools Hikes Teacher Need

DID YOU KNOW:

That, based on the present status and expected growth of Texas Public Schools, we are faced with the following estimated need for teachers:

For increases in pupil attendance 3,000 to 3,500 each year; to replace teachers leaving jobs for retirement or for employment outside the teaching profession 7,000 each year; needed each year 10,000 to 10,500 new teachers; total needed by 1960—36,000 to 40,000 new teachers.

That the degree status of teachers now employed is: public school teachers with bachelor's degrees 70,000; non-degree teachers employed on emergency basis 2,000.

That the following increase in school attendance is anticipated: average daily attendance increase during last 7 years 424,640; expected ADA increase between now and 1960—374,000; estimated public school enrollment, 1955-56—1,760,800; estimated scholastics not attending public schools 92,692; Texas scholastic population (actual 1955-56 census) 1,853,492.

That the above increase in school attendance will result in the need for school buildings as follows:

Outlay required to house increase in enrollment indicated for 1960 $350 million; needed to modernize existing buildings and to replace obsolete, worn-out, and dangerous buildings $500 million.

That we have the following number of operating School Districts: districts operating in Texas in December, 1955-1,857; number of school board members managing these districts—11,190.

That the estimated cost of minimum Foundation School Program is: For current school year of 1955-56—$276 million; For 1959-60 school year $330 million.

This estimate is based on ADA increase only and does not take into account any revisions that may be made in the salary schedule or extent of services provided by law. Based on present laws, each 1,000 increase in ADA results in an annual increase in the Foundation program of approximately $181,000.

That the estimated amounts to be invested for Public Schools, 1955-56, are: For current operation $395 million; For capital outlay $70 million; For payment of interest and principal on bonded debt $35 million making a grand total of $500 million.

Of the above amount, approximately $235 million will be provided by the State.

18,000 Are Expected at UT This Fall

An enrollment of more than 18,000, approximately the same as last fall's, is expected at the University of Texas for the opening of the 1957-58 Long Session.

Registration will be conducted Sept. 17-20, and classes will begin Sept. 23. New students will arrive Sept. 15 for Sept. 16-17 orientation.

At the helm as new academic head of the Main University will be Dr. Harry H. Ransom, English professor and former College of Arts and Sciences dean. As vice-president and provost, he succeeds Dr. C. Paul Boner, renowned physicist who requested a reassignment of administrative duties and will return to the University's sponsored research area.

Dr. J. Alton Burdine, government professor, will become College of Arts and Sciences dean, and Dr. W. Gordon Whaley, botany professor, advances from associate dean to dean of the Graduate School. Dr. A. P. Brogan, Graduate School dean since 1935, has a special 1957-58 assignment to do research in philosophy and complete a book.

About a dozen new department chairmen also have been named.

All faculty members will return to their classrooms with higher salaries. Salary adjustments carry a $400 annual cost of living increase for all faculty members, establish new minimum levels of pay for the various faculty ranks, and provide merit increases for outstanding faculty members.

At the same time, new tuition rates established by the 55th Legislature will take effect. Texas residents will pay $50 per semester, rather than $25, and non-Texas residents will pay $200, an increase from $150 per semester.

An $850,000 ROTC building has just been completed, and more than $16,000,000 of other new construction is in progress or authorized. Principal source of building money is the Available University Fund, consisting chiefly of income from Permanent University Fund investments.

1,482 Foreign Students Go To Texas Schools

Texas ranked eighth in the states attracting the most foreign students to its schools during the academic year 1956-57, a recent study by the Institute of International Education revealed.

There were 1,482 foreign students enrolled in Texas schools, 574 of them choosing the University of Texas.

The report showed that the U. S. as a whole attracted more foreign students than ever before, with 40,666 students representing 136 countries flocking here for study. Of these, 31 per cent were from the Far East, indicating the struggle of Asian nations for a higher standard of living through better education. Neighboring Latin American countries sent 22.4 per cent.

Less than one-fourth as many American students traveled overseas for study. The report indicated that 9,887 U. S. students were enrolled in 387 institutions in 54 foreign countries during the past school year.

USE POSITIVE APPROACH

Schools Help Public in Fight Against Juvenile Delinquincy

By DR. RHEA H. WILLIAMS
State Athletic Director

There is a great deal written and discussed today relative to juvenile delinquency, and if one would believe the many newspaper stories, magazine articles, television shows, and public discussions on this matter, he could easily draw the conclusion that the majority of our youth are involved in acts of delinquency.

It is unfortunate, indeed, that many of our people take a negative approach to the problems of youth rather than the positive approach, which, while not ignoring the fact that there is delinquency, still, at the same time, stresses the positive and constructive aspects of the youth of our country.

Stress Positive

In reality, 97% of our boys and girls are never guilty of those things of which youth are in general so often accused. Unfortunately, the misconduct of the 3% is publicized by our press, radio and other media of communication to such an extent that the average layman draws the conclusion that juvenile delinquency is far worse than it actually is.

Unfortunately again, our press, radio and other media do not devote enough attention to the very fine conduct and the excellent work which the youth of today are performing in their daily lives. Students who go to Sunday School and church and who do outstanding work in their community and school are considered to be generally not newsworthy, but if one is involved in an act of misconduct it is immediately newsworthy and is given publicity.

The positive approach would give credit in recognition to our youth rather than presenting the very few cases of misconduct on such a large scale.

Greatest Natural Resource

The greatest natural resources in America today are our boys and girls. They are worth more than all the oil, cattle, timber, minerals, and any other natural resource that you might name. It, therefore, behooves us as educators to give at least as much emphasis and time in directing and working with our youth as we give in acquiring financial remuneration.

After all is said and done, unless we instill in our youth reverence for God, dignity of the individual, strength of character, integrity and educated citizenship, all of the money in the world will not save America from disaster.

Youth Program

The League offers one of the greatest youth training programs in the world for our boys and girls in Texas. One out of every two students in Texas public schools participate in some phase of the League program before they graduate from high school. Here is a great opportunity for boys and girls to engage in sound, educational activities which will train them in citizenship, leadership and responsibility.

Many of our children, however, are not being given the opportunity to engage in League activities because there are not enough teachers in our schools interested enough to give leadership and direction which these students must have if they are to receive the maximum benefits from this program.

It is a well-known fact that children get into trouble when they do not have enough worthwhile activities to fill their leisure time. The League has a program which can fill this need for a large number of our Texas boys and girls, provided the school administration and the school faculty can see fit to give the necessary guidance and direction.

Living Examples

Perhaps one of the greatest influences that teachers, coaches and administrators can have on our boys and girls is to set an example in their daily living by which youth can be guided. It is very difficult for youth to exemplify desirable traits which we would like them to acquire when they are confronted constantly with the opposite example on the part of adults.

Coaches especially are key people in "teaching through example" as they are closer to the boys and girls and have a very intimate relationship. It is most essential, therefore, that coaches and teachers conduct their personal lives in such a way that they are a wholesome influence on the moral, religious, educational and citizenship standards of the boys and girls of their community.

Meet Challenge

This column would like to sincerely suggest that our school administrators, teachers and coaches use all of their influence to stress the positive and constructive contribution of our youth rather than the delinquency of a few.

OF NATION'S SCHOOLS

Citizens Groups to Work on Problems

One of our American institutions, popcorn, got started with the slogan, "The more you eat, the more you want."

Another of our American institutions, our schools, might well have the slogan, "The more you do, the more there is to do."

Citizens' committees — some 15,000 of them all over the country — are providing this "maxim daily. Eight years ago, there were a couple dozen committees working with their school boards and superintendents to see how citizens could help.

In those intervening years, citizens' committees that represent the whole community and are fact-finding not fault finding have helped pass bond issues, kept the public informed about their local schools' done building surveys, helped attract and keep the best teachers in their classrooms.

The more these committees do, the more there is for them to do.

For instance, when the building problem is temporarily licked, there's the problem of keeping the classrooms staffed. When one bond issue is passed, the community with a new-found interest in education takes more of a personal interest in what the new schools should accomplish.

In an age when school children have to learn more than any other generation, the problem becomes how to give those children a first-rate education.

Communities that have never called on the citizenry to help solve school problems are wasting good manpower. They ought to find out what others are doing elsewhere.

We have a booklet that shows what the school problems are and how the citizens can help solve them. The title of that booklet is also a challenge. It's called "Let's Get Our Schools Ready Now!"

FOR FALL WEAR

Black New Leader In Girls' Fashions

Color, or the lack of it, is the big news in girls' coats this year as black takes the fashion lead over the ever popular red and sailor blue.

Though most styles in black are being shown solid, one popular coat features a black and white nubb tweed combination fur. Tweeds will range from the long haired Shetland and Harris type to the bold herringbones and gregg families.

Unusual trims are big news in coats this year. Fur collars from mink to raccoon; brass buttons; wool braid or grosgrain binding; leather piping; saddle stitching; outsize patch pockets.

Following close behind in fabric and color will be gray darkening to charcoal; beiges shading from camel to winter white with flannel and broad cloth holding their own.

Leopard, seal and beaver are strong in better coats.

Softness keynotes the lines of the 1957 coat silhouette. Yokes and shoulders receive the easing treatment. A loosened variation of the classic fitted coat will be a strong model with the 7 to 14 girls.

Double breasted coats are on the increase. Car coats are prime favorites. And, there is talk of the return of the Chesterfield as the season progresses.

Traditional tweed looks "spanking new" in corduroy, cotton and blended fabrics. Tops for '57, tweeds appear as skirts, blouses, dresses, suits, and coats.

Featured colors in school skirts of tweed are basic gray and browns flecked with color, black and white herringbones, and bright colors touched with black.

Long-haired tweeds are the newest fabric version and going strong for coats.

Favored fabrics for sport coats are gray melton and black and white tweed. Pile-type linings in orlon or rayon find favor according to climate needs. Lining colors are frequently repeated in stitching on pockets or leather piping around pockets and collars.

Wide knit turtle neck and matching knit collar and cuffs in stripes are favorites as trim.

FLEXIBILITY, FREEDOM

Trend Change Seen In School's Design

During the next five or ten years school design can be expected to improve rapidly. Talented architects and informed educators are teaming up to assure more better-built schools and the public generally is beginning to support a climate conducive to imaginative school architecture.

As a result, school design will come to represent more accurately the particular educational objectives, site requirements and other specific conditions of particular communities.

Flexibility Keynoted

Uniformity will give way to individuality. Flexibility of teaching space will be emphasized as schools become regarded as "laboratories for learning" that can be altered readily to meet changing needs of the teachers.

Widely acclaimed by leading educators, the ne weampus-type school replaces the usual big, imposing building with a group of separate classroom units.

More Freedom

This open design eliminates the "cell-block" atmosphere of the conventional school, providing students with a feeling of light and air. Also, classroom buildings are isolated from noisy cafeteria, shop and gymnasium units, thus enhancing conditions for learing.

Greater Economy

The campus plan is more economical because classroom units are connected by inexpensive covered walks. This eliminates much of the cost of nonproductive corridor and foyer space and cuts costs of heating and maintenance.

Flexibility in tomorrow's schools will be built in, by using two types of partitioning materials to construct teaching spades.

One type will be precision engineered movable wall panels. These will be used for more conventional classroom situations to enclose the exact shape of space demanded by different teaching functions.

The second type of wall partitioning will be any suitable, inexpensive material that can be swiftly erected, dismounted and discarded after use—especially for a variety of special educational situations. Divider space between teaching areas will be utilized for storage and service areas.

Fluid Silhouette

The pleated skirt with comfortable over-blouse that frequently appears as a genuine sailor's middy are the standout features of the lines by Chanel's designing followers.

The waistless blouses more often drop to the hipline for an infinitely newer silhouette. The effect is a natural, easy flow, unmarked by fitted dents, from neckline to hemline.

Protect Books

School books and notebooks last longer when covered with clear or colorful plastic yard goods. A damp cloth will remove all the dirt.

Shine 'Em Up

Teach you child shoe care by encouraging him to polish them regularly and to alternate the wearing of two or more pairs of shoes.

For 'Little Women'

Watch Posture

When a child is taller than most of his friends, special care should be taken to see that he doesn't slouch. If posture correction is needed, help by pointing out attractive and successful tall persons.

Good Fit Vital To Children's Foot Health

The approach of the new school term means new teachers, new books, and most important, new shoes.

This season's line of school shoes indicate a much stronger emphasis on foot health combined with smart practical styling.

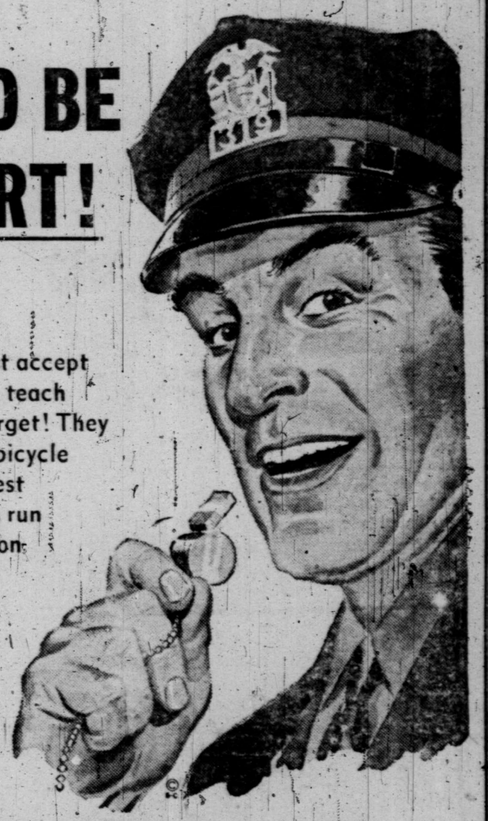

Foot specialists recommend shoes with leather soles as well as leather uppers because they have minute pores through which perspiration can evaporate, keeping feet warmer in a cold temperature, cooler when it's hot.

This is especially important for children, as going from heated classrooms to play in the out-of-doors will breed winter-long sniffles if circulation in feet and hands is poor. Another good point about leather is that it contains no allergizing substances.

For proper fitting, have the child stand on each foot bearing his or her full weight upon it. Feel to see that there is plenty of room for all the toes and at least three-quarters of an inch between the longest toes and the tip of the shoe. Also check the width at the widest part of the shoe.

Check frequently to see that the shoes still fit. There is no set rule, of course, but on the average, children need shoes every two months up to the age of ten, after that every two or three months.

CHILDREN SHOULD BE SEEN . . . NOT HURT!

Watch for our children when you drive . . . you must accept the responsibility for their safety! Even though we teach our children the ways of safety, they sometimes forget! They dart into the street to retrieve a ball or ride their bicycle without a thought of cars. When there's the slightest doubt about a child's intention to cross a street or run into it . . . hesitate or stop. Practice extreme caution near schools and on residential streets. We love our children . . . let them live!

● Be certain your car is mechanically safe: Your driving skill and attitude are helpful . . . but not enough if your brakes fail, your tail lights don't work, or your car stalls in heavy traffic. Have your car safety checked now!

● Be sure you are alert and your emotions under control: Driving safely requires your full attention. If you're emotionally upset, ask someone to take the wheel for you. That's the only safe thing to do.

● Practice courtesy at all times! Many of our traffic laws could be considered simply as common courtesy . . . yield the right of way, give adequate hand signals, watch for pedestrians and many others. Drive with courtesy and you'll automatically be a better driver.

● Understand and obey local traffic laws: Although the laws governing drivers are essentially the same everywhere, there are variations that cover existing conditions in each area. Whether you're a resident or a visitor, it's important to know and adhere to the local laws — for safety's sake.

● Adopt caution as your constant companion: There is no such thing as being too careful when you drive. Always exercise extreme care . . . don't be too sure the child on the sidewalk will not suddenly dart across the street. You may be obeying the laws, but someone else may be careless.

● Don't speed: One of the major causes of accidents today is speeding in excess of existing laws and road conditions. Speed limits, like all other laws or traffic, are to protect you! Be prepared when danger appears . . . take it easy!
