Hired Hand

He Taught Us Meaning Of Courage

By Glenn Shelton

"Wild Bill" Owens, he of the stout heart and tortured limbs, is dead, his twisted body free of pain for the first time in 63 years. Yesterday in Fort Worth, the shriveled body was laid to rest, but the indomitable spirit of this little "newsboy" will live on to rebuke contemporaries who weep and whine out of self-pity for their own tribulations. Here was a man born to pain and adversity, but who insisted resolutely upon making his own way through his vale of tears. His friends were of the elite, but Bill asked nothing of them but that they buy a newspaper from him. Staunchly he forged his own way when he easily could have surrendered his wild and independent spirit to a home for the crippled, and live off of others.

SHELTON

★ ★ ★

"Wild Bill" was not a pleasant sight as he limped along, bent almost double, his voice more of a screech than anything else. There might even have been those who recoiled from him. But if his body was a gnarled scrub oak, his spirit was a tall pine. We should have a forest of 'em.

★ ★ ★

Ordinarily, a mere newsboy would die and go unescorted and unremembered to his grave. But pallbearers for "Wild Bill" were important civic leaders, men who could appreciate fortitude and independence, and these men will not soon forget one who was the very embodiment of courage and self reliance.

★ ★ ★

If "Wild Bill" accomplished little during his sojourn on this earth, he at least made fullest use of his talents. You might ask yourself what you would have done had you inherited his body. And then ask yourself what he might have done had he been blessed with yours.

★ ★ ★

It is ironic that a "Wild Bill" Owens must come along to lend courage to his better endowed, but faint hearted, fellow mortals. But, having known Bill, can't we all accept better our own meager trials? Can't we realize just how blessed we are?

OFF ON A TANGENT—Mrs. Hubert Leslie, Red Cross technician in charge of the blood bank, last Wednesday morning lost a black and red plaid bag from her car on the Jacksboro Highway, about five miles out. The bag, containing many of her clothes, fell out when the trunk opened.

HER NAME AND ADDRESS WERE NOT IN THE BAG. WILL WHOEVER FOUND IT RETURN IT TO MRS. LESLIE AT 2127 AVE. K. OR TO ME HERE AT THE NEWSPAPER? APPRECIATE IT.

THE MAILBAG—From MUNDAY: "You write on such remarkable and interesting subjects. The one on the tour through Oklahoma to see the dogwood blossoms interested me and some of my friends. If we were to go by car on a similar tour, what route would we travel from Wichita Falls or Munday?" COMMENT: TRAVEL FROM WICHITA FALLS THROUGH WAURIKA TO ARDMORE AND THEN NORTHEASTWARD BY ANY ROUTE. Goldwater Wins Illinois Primary CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona won the Illinois presidential preference test Tuesday, but Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine received a sizable share of the votes.

Charles H. Percy, board chairman of the Bell & Howell Co., making his first bid for public office, took the Republican nomination for governor by defeating State Treasurer William J. Scott.

Scott, 37, conceded he had lost to Percy, 44, who thus took a step toward control of the GOP in the state.

Only the names of Goldwater and Mrs. Smith were printed on the Republican ballot. Write-in tallies came in from others from areas scattered across the state, including Cook County.

Returns from 5,113 of the state's 10,256 precincts, the bulk of them from Cook County, gave Goldwater 179,660; Sen. Smith 76,559; Henry Cabot Lodge 6,709; Richard M. Nixon 3,470; Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York 190; Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania 115; and Gov. George Romney of Michigan 29.

Through the evening Goldwater's share of the Republican preference vote hovered around 67 per cent and Mrs. Smith's around 29 per cent.

Returns from 5,110 precincts gave Percy 227,266 and Scott 128,254.

Percy picked up about 64 per cent of the total vote cast in his race against Scott.

Goldwater had been tagged in advance as the winner in Illinois. The big question was how much strength he would demonstrate.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower, running against two opponents, compiled 95 per cent of the GOP preference tally in the 1956 primary. Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, competing against two entrants on the ballot and three of the write-in variety, picked up 74 per cent in 1952.

No names were printed in the presidential preference section of the Democratic ballots.

Antitrust Suit Names Humble

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department filed an antitrust suit Tuesday night aimed at blocking the $329 million purchase by Humble Oil Co. of the western operations of Tidewater Oil Co.

The acquisition, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said, would eliminate actual and potential competition in the sale of gasoline and other petroleum products in violation of the Clayton Antitrust Act.

The suit filed in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles named as defendants: Tidewater, with headquarters in Los Angeles; Humble, with headquarters in Houston, Tex.; and Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, parent of Humble.

The complaint asked for a preliminary injunction, pending a trial, to declare unlawful an acquisition agreement reached last Nov. 22 between Humble and Tidewater. Kennedy said the acquisition is scheduled to take place April 30.

The Justice Department also asked that Humble be ordered to divest itself of the Monterrey Oil Co. This was described as a substantial producer of crude oil and natural gas in California which Humble acquired in February 1961.

Lad, 8, Is Drowned In Boys' Club Pool

By DAN COLEMAN

An accidentally unlocked door and a child's curiosity cost a young life Tuesday afternoon when Ben Holder, 8, was drowned and a companion narrowly missed death in the Boys' Club swimming pool.

A door to the swimming pool had been left unlocked following practice by a high school swimming team and several children, new to the Boys' Club and its waterfront rules, entered the unattended pool. Young Holder, son of Nina Darby of the Bungalow Tourist Courts, drowned within two minutes after he jumped into the shallow water and paddled to the sloping diving area.

Gregory Dale Dickey, 12, son of Mrs. Lucile Foster Dickey, now living at the Fowler Home, who also was in the pool, tried to save the drowning child and was also almost claimed by death.

Neither boy could swim. Neither was supposed to be in the pool. Both had joined the Boys' Club only Monday. They didn't know the pool rules, which would have been explained at their first swimming class at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Young Dickey was hanging just underneath the water when locker boy Tony Kowalick pulled him from the depths. Young Holder was dead on arrival at Wichita General Hospital. The Dickey youth was hospitalized there for observation.

Graham Ball, executive director of Wichita Falls' Boys' Clubs, in a press conference shortly after the incident, said, "This is the first fatal accident in our 13 years of operation here in teaching thousands of youngsters to swim."

"We feel it was an error attributable to no one We take a risk, as does everyone, in every program we pursue. An unforeseeable and unavoidable accident is the only verdict we can disclose. We have in the past

Oldest House Member Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Thomas J. O'Brien of Illinois, the oldest House member and a quiet, behind-the-scenes power for many years, died Tuesday at Bethesda Naval Hospital. He would have been 86 on April 30.

O'Brien suffered a stroke in August 1962 but had recovered enough to win a new term and return to his duties. He went back to the hospital last June and remained there.

His wife and brother-in-law, John Kaufer, were with him when he died.

O'Brien's power stemmed from his position as third-ranking Democrat on the House Ways and Means Committee and from his position as dean of the Illinois Democratic delegation. Usually he could be counted on to line up behind him all the votes of the delegation.

Unusual Statement On Strength Issued

WASHINGTON AP — The Defense Department said Tuesday that U.S. military superiority over the Soviet Union has been increasing, "and we intend that it shall continue to increase."

The Pentagon issued an unusual statement on relative U.S.-Soviet missile and bomber power after publication of testimony in which Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay contended the Soviet Union has narrowed the gap of U.S. military superiority.

Without mentioning LeMay, the statement said, "Questions have been raised regarding the magnitude of our superiority and whether it is continuing to grow.

"The fact is it has been increasing and we intend that it shall continue to increase."

A spokesman, asked whether LeMay's testimony prompted the statement, told reporters it was in reply to a number of recent criticisms of U.S. defense policies, including those by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The essence of the Pentagon statement was that U.S. strength in long-range missiles, missile-firing submarines and bombers has grown in relation to Soviet strength since the Kennedy administration took office in January 1961.

The statement contained information that normally is denied to reporters on grounds it is secret. Asked why it was released now, a spokesman said, "These decisions are made in government from time to time."

The Defense Department said the United States has 540 strategic bombers, maintained constantly on alert, in contrast to 270 Soviet heavy and medium bombers that could strike at the United States and return.

Of this Soviet total, the penagon said, 150 are medium bombers, "the targets for which would be limited to Alaska and the northwest areas of the United States."

It said that the U.S. Air Force has, on launchers, about 750 intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The Soviets, it said, have less than one-fourth of that number in operation.

"We have 192 Polaris missiles deployed," the Defense Department said. "The Soviets have substantially fewer submarine-launched ballistic missiles in operation.

Rocket Mishap Burns Eleven; 2 Near Death

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —A 5-foot-tall rocket stage with a space payload attached ignited Tuesday and sprayed blazing fuel over an assembly and checkout building. Eleven engineers and technicians were burned, three critically.

Two men were reported close to death, with burns over 100 and 83 per cent of their bodies.

The Air Force said the fiery accident was the first involving a rocket motor in 14 years of operation and more than 1,400 missile launchings at Cape Kennedy. The only previous serious accident was the 1960 launch stand explosion of a flare package on a Titan 1 missile which killed one man and injured nine.

An Orbiting Solar Observatory had just been joined with the solid fuel third stage of a Delta rocket and engineers were preparing to enclose it in a protective plastic shroud. Suddenly, the 515-pound engine flashed to life and lifted off an alignment table.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said there was no immediate word on how high or far the 18-inch-diameter rocket traveled in the 30-by-100-foot room in which 11 men were working. A statement said the 440-pound payload was flung loose and was damaged extensively.

The interior of the building also was burned by the exhaust from the 3,000-pound-thrust engine. A door was ripped off the building, but NASA reported there was no explosion.

Dispute May Spread Fighting On Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—U.N. Officers sought feverishly Tuesday night to settle a Greek-Turkish dispute over a strategic hill in northern Cyprus that could spread fighting throughout the troubled island.

Turkey's regulars based on Cyprus came under fire for the first time, meanwhile, and a Turkish battle fleet sailed from Iskendrun on a maneuver like those that raised invasion alarms last winter.

The explosive situation in northern Cyprus built up after Turkish Cypriots moved onto a 300-foot hill overlooking the twin village of Upper and Lower Dhikomo.

Awaiting Orders

An estimated battalion of Greek Cypriot national guardsmen awaited orders in a town a mile away on whether to attack the position.

U.N. officers tried to talk the Turks into turning the hill over to U.N. peace-keeping forces. The Turks said the hill is vital for the defense of the Kyrenia Pass and the Kyrenia Road a couple of miles to the west, and refused to budge.

A Greek officer said the hill had no strategic importance to the Greeks but that they must have it to protect a Greek quarry and farm because the surrounding area largely depends on those enterprises.

Fighting Would Spread

"We can easily take that hill," the Greek said, "but we don't want to fight for it if it could be the beginning of something much more serious. The fighting would spread to the Kyrenia Pass and south along the Kyrenia Road to Nicosia and all over Cyprus."

British U.N. officers expressed doubt that the Greeks could capture the hill easily. The Turks have automatic weapons, mortars and at least one bazooka.

An encampment of Turkish regulars at Ortakoy, north of Nicosia, was sprayed by one burst of machine gun fire, a U.N. Command spokesman said.

Jack Cox Eyes Senate Victory

By JACK COATS

Jack Cox, Houston businessman and candidate for the U.S. Senate, subject to the Republican primary, Tuesday night told supporters here that he would win the GOP nomination with an estimated 250,000 to 300,000 votes and would defeat incumbent Sen. Ralph Yarborough in November.

"This is a crucial and critical election year. I am confident of victory, but it won't be an easy campaign. We need to unseat the extreme left winger who now is our senior senator from Texas. His defeat will not only be a victory for the Republican Party, but also a victory in the battle for constitutional freedom," Cox said.

The former Republican gubernatorial candidate said he and his wife were determined not to re-enter politics, but that he was convinced he needed to enter the senatorial race because his candidacy was necessary to beat Ralph Yarborough.

Speaking on the fact he had waged two unsuccessful races, Cox pointed out that Sen. John Tower of Wichita Falls won his seat in the Senate following five races for various offices.

All Counties Visited

"And where would this country have been if Abraham Lincoln had resigned from politics after his second race?" Cox asked.

"How many people or candidates have been to all 254 counties in Texas? My wife and I have," he continued.

He appealed for all conservatives to vote in the Republican

Rachel Carson, Author, Dies

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) —Rachel Carson, 56, author of the controversial book "Silent Spring," died Tuesday of cancer.

Her book, a best seller, set up a nationwide controversy over the extent of danger from pesticides.

Miss Carson was a biologist who became a best-selling writer with "The Sea Around Us" in 1951, and four years later made the best-seller lists again with "The Edge of the Sea."

Her first success led to reprinting of an earlier work, "Under the Sea Wind," which also became a best seller.

Before "Silent Spring" actually appeared in 1962, selections published in the New Yorker magazine led to heated rebuttals from the pesticide industry.

Miss Carson's concern over the dangers to humans and other animal life of indiscriminate use of pesticides grew originally out of information learned in her job as a biologist with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Wintering in Silver Spring and spending her summers in Maine, she spent five years studying the subject and collecting information by mail from all over the world.

Heavy Rains Soak Rio Grande Valley

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A general rain measuring up to 4.50 inches at Rangersville fell Tuesday in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

San Benito measured 2.33 inches, Raymondville 1.78, Mercedes 1.26, Brownsville 1.05, McAllen 1.03 and Weslaco 1.00.

A number of McAllen streets were flooded. Several other Valley towns reported flooding but no important damage was recorded.

A bright sun beaming through generally clear skies chased from Texas Tuesday the chill of the latest spring norther.

A few showers fell in extreme South Texas and along the immediate coast. But north of a line from Houston to Victoria to Laredo, there hardly was a cloud in the skies.

Realtors Hear Insurance Man

Speaker for the Wichita Falls Board of Realtors luncheon Tuesday was James Spradley, storm supervision manager for General Adjustment Bureau.

Spradley was accompanied to the luncheon, held at Wyatt's in Parker Square, by Raymond Jaseckas who is branch manager here for the General Adjustment Bureau.

Spradley explained what the General Adjustment Bureau is and problems of the organizations in Wichita Falls.

He said the bureau is owned by more than 300 capital stock insurance companies. General Adjustment Bureau (GAB) handles all types of insurance losses through more than 750 branch offices.

Spradley related the bureau's catastrope plan, explaining that a catastrophe within the meaning of the plan involves one loss of more than $1 million or 500 small losses to insurance firms.

Spradley described his firm's actions following the April 3 tornado which struck Wichita Falls.

Mrs. M. M. Wheeler, president, was in charge. Alyene Arnold was program chairman.

Originally from Paterson, N.J., Beun received his B.S. degree at the University of Arizona in 1958 and later obtained his M.S. degree from the same school. James Boren, special coordinator for the Alliance for Progress, commented: "This is not an adoption program in which a city or a state adopts a Latin American state or city. It is a partnership program that has as its base the direct assistance to help people help themselves."

Beun's visit will be one of the highlights of the celebration of Pan American Week in Wichita Falls.

Political Campaigning Is 'Old Hat' To Joyce Cox

By MARTHA B. STEIMEL

Mrs. Jack Cox thinks everyone should have the opportunity of hitting the campaign trail at least once in a lifetime.

"It's a real experience and I heartily recommend it for everyone," she said. Not necessarily as a candidate or a candidate's wife, however, she added.

Mrs. Cox and her husband, Republican candidate for United States senator, were in Wichita Falls Tuesday afternoon to see friends and to attend a meeting at their headquarters here Tuesday night.

Campaigning may be an old story for Joyce Cox — her husband was a candidate for governor in 1962 — but she finds it an exciting and interesting story just the same. For her, meeting people is constantly fascinating and she finds the travel stimulating. The Coxes left for Lubbock from Wichita Falls, for example, and have been away from their home in Houston almost six weeks.

Getting her hair done is the only real problem, Mrs. Cox says. She was lucky enough to be home last weekend after eight days away and was able to have a shampoo and set from her own hairdresser.

"If I'm away too long, I really start searching for someone to do my hair," she said.

Her campaign wardrobe leans heavily to bone shades which are becoming to her coloring—fair hair and hazel eyes with a direct, friendly expression. She finds suits most practical because she often must wear the same outfit from breakfast until late in the evening.

In Wichita Falls, she wore a rough, loosely woven natural raw silk suit with a bone silk shantung blouse and black patent accessories — a costume that was quite as appropriate for a tour of the new Times Square building as it was for a quiet dinner or a political meeting.

"We always have considered West Texas our real home. We lived for many years in Breckenridge," Mrs. Cox said. Their two children are away at school. Callan, 17, is a student at Hockaday in Dallas and their son, Jack Jr., 20, is at the University of Texas.

Haskell Holds Jaycee Meet

HASKELL, Tex. (Special) — Bill Tomlinson and Alfon Peiser were presented awards as outstanding Haskell Jaycees Tuesday night at an annual dinner in the American Legion Hall here. About 150 attended.

Tomlinson is secretary of the Jaycees and Peiser is secretary-elect.

Abe Turner, past president of the Jaycees and president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, cited the two as "exemplary men" for the organization while serving as officers and editing its publication.

New officers of the group are Jesse Priest, president; T. J. Ballard, second vice-president; Peiser and Tomlinson; and Don Muenzler, treasurer.

Bud Lane, retiring president, is the new inter-club director.

MU Represented At English Meeting

Miss Beryl Sullivan and Claire Galbraith, with the English department at Midwestern University, will attend a Texas Joint English Committee convention in Austin April 24 and 25 to make plans for fall English workshops.

On Friday, April 24, the group will meet from 7 to 10 p.m., Miss Sullivan said, and on Saturday, sessions will run from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Miss Sullivan is general chairman of District 7, Texas Joint English Committee.

Purpose of workshops is to correlate work of public schools with that of colleges and universities.

Army Band Performs Superbly In Concert

By PERICLES ALEXANDER
Amusements Editor

Doing credit to a native Texas family now living on Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington, D.C., the U.S. Army Field Band and its auxiliary vocal unit, the Soldiers Chorus, Tuesday night came through like Gangbusters in a concert at Memorial Auditorium, performing and singing a nifty special arrangement of "Deep in the Heart of Texas" with a fragrant musical wafting of "Yellow Rose of Texas."

The 100 - piece service band and singers also did credit musically to a variety of composers from Tchaikovsky and Carl Maria Von Weber to Cole Porter, Meredith Willson, and Willson's old bandleader, the March King himself, John Philip Sousa.

In the grand tradition of service bands, the Army Field Band was unerringly snappy and crisp in performance. What they did in the concert hall Tuesday night rivalled and sometimes surpassed the Boston "Pops" under benign Arthur Fiedler.

First Appearance

The band, making a first appearance in Wichita Falls before a minute audience of fewer than 400, laced its top - level concert performance with top musical talents and a giant assortment of what Wichita Falls Symphony Conductor Walter Charles calls "lollipops."

The U.S. Army Field Band's lollipops were "lollipips." Under the direction of Maj. Robert L. Bierly, it played a peppery "Tico Tico," highlighted by expert xylophone work at a pair of the instruments, an excitingly grandiose arrangement of the swirling Andalusian rhythms of "Temptation," and an ultra-ultra "Begin the Beguine."

Several soloists were heard from and so was the audience when it got off its hands to applaud the Soldiers Chorus workout on the familiar "76 Trombones" from Meredith Willson's "The Music Man."

Two Singers

Baritone Ted Rollo scored with "They Call the Wind Maria" from the Lerner and Loewe musical, "Paint Your Wagon," and encored with "Old Man River" from Jerome Kern's "Show Boat." Clarinet virtuoso Larry Skinner, backed by the band and a good arrangement, did an unforgettably dreamy, off - the-dance - floor version of "Don't Take Your Love From Me."

Still another singer, Jim Matthews, met favor with a Rodgers and Hammerstein tune, the haunting "Hello! Young Lovers" from "The King and I."

To be sure, there was march music, like "Stars and Stripes Forever" briskly played, but the band also had a way with the lovely waltz from Tchaikovsky's "Sleeping Beauty."

The disappointing attendance for the concert, a free affair sponsored by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, did not do credit to the crackerjack music - making service ensemble. It should have been heard by hundreds of Wichitans, but particularly by scores of student bandsmen in North Texas area high schools.

and will conitnue in the future to take every humanly possible precaution to safeguard the young lives and characters entrusted to us by strict rules and expert supervisors. Again I am deeply grieved."

Funeral arrangements at Owens & Brumley Funeral Home were incomplete Tuesday night for the 8-year-old student at San Jacinto School.

Born in Wichita Falls Dec. 23, 1955, he had lived here all his life. He lived at No. 30 Bungalow Courts.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Nina Lee Darby of Wichita Falls; his father, W. C. Holder of Wichita Falls; a brother, Charles Ray Campbell of Wichita Falls; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Holder and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Clark, all of Wichita Falls.

Acquittal Of Theft Won By Defendant

J. C. Jackson, indicted for felony theft, was acquitted Tuesday afternoon by a 30th District Court jury after a one-day trial.

Represented by attorney Bill Ballard, Jackson was accused of removing property from a Wichita Falls drive-in restaurant. He is about 60.

Earlier in the day, Carl Wilbur Olson of Quanah, Tex., was assessed a three-year probated sentence when he pleaded guilty to theft by false pretext before Judge Arthur Tipps.

Olson, 37, admitted taking more than $669 in jewelry from Zale's in Wichita Falls on false grounds.

Emergency Reports

Fire Calls

Damage estimated at $8,600 resulted when fire started in the Claypool Motor Courts at 5119 Jacksboro Highway at 1:14 p.m. Tuesday.

Four units from the Wichita Falls Fire Department arriving at the scene extinguished the fire by 1:36 p.m. Source was believed to have been an exploding water heater. No injuries were reported.

At 403 Wellington trash caught fire and entered an empty warehouse at 8:50 p.m. A hot heater motor ignited at 5003 Kingston and cuased about $40 damage in the home of T. J. Schwarzback at 6:30 p.m. At 1512 Victory a carport and wooden fence caught fire at the home of Perry Hill. Firemen answered the call at 10:45 a.m. Four minor grass fires were also attended Tuesday.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair and warmer weather is forecast for Wichita Falls Wednesday. Occasional rain is forecast for north Atlantic states and along the coast from the middle Atlantic states to northern Florida. A few scattered showers are expected in the north Pacific states and northern Rockies with some snow flurries in the higher elevations of that region. Generally fair weather is in prospect for the remainder of the country. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Primary, regardless of preferences in local races on the Democratic ticket.

"Fortunately, we have a two-party system in this state, and you are going to have to vote in the Republican Primary if you want your voice to be heard as a conservative," Cox continued.

"... We would have won last time if it hadn't been for the Cuban problem... Our party needs more incumbents... We need to make Tower our senior senator from Texas and not the junior senator.

"... We need the strongest ticket possible. I am no coat tail rider... I want to help the entire ticket. The Republican party needs the best gun, the best vote getter, and that's Jack Cox," he said.

Foreign Policy Hit

Cox said he was for "the retention of individual liberty as guaranteed in our constitution," and was convinced that the U.S. State Department was following a "make - believe" foreign policy.

"The Russian Bear will not go away. The Communists want world conquest... We have nothing to negotiate with Panama. We have a valid treaty... I would like to see our former position of leadership restored in the halls of world government," Cox said.

"The answer to poverty will come through people being free. This is the American way of life; this is the American way I know. Any other way is the road to destruction," he continued.

Cox said he was against the civil rights bill in toto, medicare and federal aid to education. He also blasted government intervention in the U.S. cattle industry.

"We must have an effective limit on foreign cattle imports. "Our ranchers have weathered many storms of a violent nature, but they can't weather the storms of government control," he concluded.

Cox and his wife arrived here about 3 p.m. Tuesday from Dallas. Following a tour of Times Square, new home of the Wichita Falls Record News and Times, they had dinner with friends and then attended a Cox rally at 7 p.m. at GOP headquarters at 703 Bluff.

They left Wichita Falls late Tuesday for Lubbock, where they will continue his campaign Wednesday.

Army Schools Said Available

U.S. Army Recruiter M.Sgt. Drue McBride said Tuesday army schools are available in every career area for high school graduates and those graduating from high school this spring.

McBride said a young man or woman now in school and expecting to graduate this year may be processed, given qualification and aptitude tests and choose a specific technical school before graduation.

On qualifying for the school of his choice, an applicant will receive a written guarantee of his assignment to that school. At no time is the applicant obligated to enlist.

Included in the more than 200 schools available for the high school graduate are microwave radio, tv, missiles, teletype and radar maintenance and repair schools.

Specialities such as medical technology, aircraft mechanics, clerical and administration work, photography, meteorology, and general missile operations as well as direct assignments to major commands, combat arms, security and intelligence groups, missile assignments to base of his choice, bands and direct assignments to specific countries are available.

YWCA Seeks Members; Offers Many Activities

A variety of activities, clubs and classes keyed to the day of a busy mother or working girl or a teen-ager in school make up the extensive program offered by the Wichita Falls YWCA.

Joining with other YWCA groups throughout the nation, the local YWCA is campaigning this week for new members, with a goal of 500 set, Mrs. Albert H. Owen, chairman, said.

The YWCA program encompasses events for women of all ages, and men may have associate membership. For the woman with small children who wants to attend the Young Mothers Club or some other function, a nursery is available during morning classes. The Young Mothers Club meets the third Friday of each month at 10 a.m.

Young matrons who like to play bridge and canasta meet twice monthly. Cards are played the second Tuesday at 10 a.m. Husbands are invited to join them the third Tuesday each month at 6:30 p.m., and on the fourth Tuesday covered dish luncheons followed by programs of interest are held.

For those who like square dancing, the Y Promenaders, made up of dancers of all age groups, meet the second, fourth and fifth Wednesdays from 8 to 10:30 p.m. in Fillers Hall.

Teenage clubs encompass the following:

Live Y-ers: These are sub-teen clubs formed by fifth and sixth grade girls. Meetings are held twice a month and include discussions, songs, games and service projects.

Y-Teens: Girls in junior high are members of YWCA groups. They have service projects, programs, socials and discussions.

Y Bluebelles: High school girls from all four junior high schools are trained for volunteer service work at Colonial Manor, Wichita Falls State Hospital, Mental Health Association, Cottonwood Manor and the YWCA.

Adult classes range from judo to cooking and swimming. Teenage classes include square dancing, swimming, art, charm, driver's education, and how to lose weight.

"In addition to all these clubs and classes, we have special events from time to time," Mrs. Owen said. "Right now we are making tentative plans for a bus trip to the World's Fair. Definite dates have been set for trips to Six Flags Over Texas.

"I don't know of any other place in town in which a girl or a woman can get so much for a small membership fee," Mrs. Owen said.

Full information about the cost of joining the YWCA may be obtained from Mrs. Owen or any member of the board of directors, or by calling the YWCA office.

Oil Painting, Sewing Classes Set Wednesday

Oil painting requires an interest first, and talent second, says Mrs. Wanda Thompson, instructor in oil painting for the YWCA. A new course for adults in oil painting begins Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. at the YWCA, and those interested are invited to be present. Six lessons are scheduled by Mrs. Thompson.

Also beginning Wednesday at the YWCA is a new course in sewing, taught by Mrs. Gordon Sawdy. The class will be held from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m., and will cover ten lessons. Individual instruction is given on all skill levels, Mrs. Sawdy said.

Two other classes scheduled to begin this week at the YWCA are a "trim and swim" class from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday and a course in intermediate bridge, also to be offered Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Mrs. Tom Moran will help members fight the "battle of the bulge with proper exercise in the "trim and swim" class, and her class will be followed by a swim in the YWCA pool.

The intermediate bridge course will be for men and women interested in improving their game, Mrs. Milton Blackwell, instructor said.

Those who would like to enroll for one or all of these classes may do so by attending the first session, or by registering at the YWCA. Fees vary with the classes.

Rev. Daves To Give Talk For Writers

The field of religious writing will be surveyed for the Writers' Department Thursday by the Rev. Michael Daves, author of three books. He will talk on "Writing for the Religious Market" at 10 a.m.

During the year the Writers' Department has heard lectures on poetry, the classics, feature writing, and the personal experience story. Their final meeting of the year will be a retreat May 21.

The Rev. Daves, pastor of the Holliday Methodist Church, has written devotional talks for children; stories of famous hymns, and a book on early Christian symbols.

Mrs. Bailey Meissner, vice president, will introduce Daves. Hostesses will be Mmes. John H. Lynn, C. C. Parfet and J. R. Farabee. Mrs. Paul Myers, president, will be in charge of the meeting.

There Is No Special Diet For Every Single Disease

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What foods should be eaten by a person with high blood pressure?—E. E.

Your question, madam, is an example of a foolish circle. Not a vicious circle, but a foolish one that we have passed through.

In the last few decades we have come to understand the meaning of a "balanced diet" fairly well.

Good diet IS important. Make no mistake about that.

But some people have assumed that there must be a special diet for every disease. This isn't so.

Diet—beyond eating a normally healthful one—is rarely important in cases of high blood pressure, with two exceptions.

First, the overweight patient with high blood pressure should lose some pounds. Often as little as five or 10 lost pounds will make an appreciable difference. But there isn't any "list of foods" for reducing. Just eat less of everything, and avoid fats.

Second, some people with high blood pressure are getting too much salt. This can be from overuse at the table or in cooking, or eating salty foods (peanuts, potato chips, preserved meats, etc.). It can even be from taking bicarbonate of soda or fizzy pain-killers. This is sodium, however, and it "binds" or holds water in the body to an excessive degree, therefore aggravating high blood pressure.

"Salt-free diet" isn't a true term. It should be "low-salt diet" or "low-sodium diet," because nobody can get along without any sodium. There is "natural salt" in most of the foods we eat. So we are bound to get at least some traces.

If salt is reduced too drastically, the patient may suffer from weakness or nausea. This occurs more often in the summer when the body is losing salt through perspiration.

So if you are overweight, or if you are told to restrict salt, those are the ways in which diet will be important.

Count your calories the easy way! To receive a copy of my pamphlet, "The Calorie Chart," write Dr. Molner in care of the Wichita Falls Record News, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

"SO NERVOUS from Hot Flashes I BURST INTO TEARS"

Suffocating heat waves, nervous, clammy feelings, restless irritability—all are well known to women suffering the distress of functionally-caused change-of-life! If you are now going through the "change" here's wonderful news for you. In doctor's tests, Lydia E. Pinkham Tablets relieved such distress for woman after woman.

Act through sympathetic nervous system to relieve distress of "heat waves"!

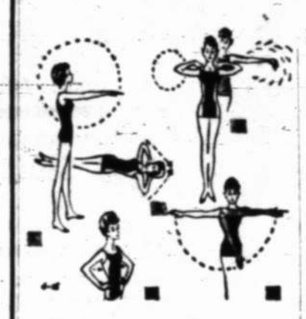
To Uncover Arms Start Exercising



By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Are your arms ready for summer sleeveless dresses? Be sure now that they do not detract from the youthful beauty of these dresses. And at the same time take care of any other arm problems you may have.

"Could you please let me know what kind of exercises there are to make arms slimmer?" writes one reader. It seems she is a perfect 34 blouse size, but always has to buy a size or two larger because her upper arms are rather heavy and she is unable to fit them into the sleeves.

For firm flesh, toned muscles and trim measurements stand with your feet slightly apart, stomach in, back flat, chest and head high and follow this exercise. Raise the arms out to your shoulder level, keeping the elbows rigid and the palms turned downward. Now, in great, wide, sweeping circles, swing the arms round and round, forward 20 times. Turn your palms up and swing again, first forward and then backward. Remember to bring your arms up close to the ears as you swing up, and always keep the elbows straight.

Next lie flat on your back, with your elbows bent, putting your finger tips to your shoulders. Rotate your elbows in a circular movement for 10 times.

Next, extend arms out at shoulder level as far as they can go. Then quickly and vigorously shake your arms, beginning right at the shoulder sockets.

Stand with your hands on hips. Push your elbows as far back as they will go, as if you were trying to get them to meet in back. While you're still standing, extend arms at shoulder level and bring them down in front of you; cross, and swirl them again to shoulder level. What you are trying to do is make them describe a large semi-circle in front of you.

Stick to these exercises and your arms will be ready for coming out into the open.

ANN LANDERS SAYS

Wife Really Carries Load In Making Marriage Work

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are both avid Landers fans. We frequently discuss your answers and agree that you make sense.

I feel, however (and so do many of my friends), that you are biased in favor of husbands. So often you take the position that the wife is at fault when the marriage fails.

Recently you told your readers that the smart wife who really wants her marriage to work makes her husband feel like "Her hero." Then you went on to suggest that she "build him up when he's down, make him feel important," and so on. I'd like to have a dime for every American male who wagged that column under his wife's nose.

Now, Ann Landers, will you give us wives a break and write a column on how a man can make his wife feel like his queen? Thank you. — THE DISSTAFF SIDE

Dear Distaff: While I am busy handing out hints on how to make a husband feel like a hero I would like to add this: Show me a successful marriage and I will show you a wife who is a heroine.

The notion that a marriage is 50-50 is a lot of eyewash. It's more like 70-30 with the burden on the little woman. The successful wife must be meek as a lamb and gutty as a bear—and smart enough to know what the occasion demands. She must be nurse, sweetheart, cook, housekeeper, financial wizard, wailing wall, companion, friend and confidant.

The hand that rocks the cradle also holds the fate of the marriage—and any husband who doesn't know it has rocks in his head.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm almost ashamed to write this letter because it seems like such a foolish thing to be discussing with a stranger, but honestly it has me worried sick.

I am 17 and going with a very nice fellow. One day I want to be married and have children, but I am scared to death of childbirth. I just don't think I could go through the pain and suffering. When I hear of a young mother who dies giving birth to a child I go into a cold sweat, whether I know her or not.

I've tried to trace this fear back to my childhood and all I can remember is a movie I once saw where a woman in labor was suffering something awful. I had nightmares for years after that but it was a long time ago.

Am I some kind of a nut? I have a feeling something is wrong with me. Please answer this letter.—AFRAID

Dear Afraid: You're not a nut. You are frightened because you are ignorant. Most women will tell you that childbirth is one of the most thrilling and fulfilling of human experiences.

Ask your family doctor for literature. Tell him how you feel and enlist his help in overcoming this fear by educating yourself.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a regular reader and I am very pleased with your sensible approach to tall girl—short boy, etc.

I am planning to be married in June. My fiance is the salt of the earth. I consider myself lucky to get him, even though he is five inches shorter than I am. He has a terrific sense of humor and just loves it when I call him "Big Daddy."

I plan to wear ballet slippers for the wedding ceremony and I want him to wear elevator shoes. He says he'll do it to please me but he sees no point in it. What do you say?—DIANE

Dear Diane: I know of no elevator shoes that will add five inches to any man's height. But if you want to go in for visual aids for the occasion—and if Big Daddy is agreeable—go ahead.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Go, go, go. Wonderful day when your sit-about turns scoot-about. But once your "fourwalker" starts creeping, there are pertinent things to do:

- Floors should be scanned for pins or any small objects baby might sight and swallow. Iron and toaster cords or drooping plants should not be left a-dangle.
- Stairs should be sealed off with a folding gate . . . baby confined to an area within your eye's reach.
- Overalls are in order to protect tender knees; soft-soled shoes to guard tender toes. Both should have plenty of wiggle-room so torso 'n' toes can move freely.

Fruit-ful ideas for scooters, lap-sitters or runabouts. Gerber Strained and Junior Fruits are great favorites with all-age babies. And for good reason. They're flash-cooked in a matter of seconds to preserve the true-to-nature colors and orchard-good flavors that make them so appetizing. Flash-cooking also preserves the utmost in the precious vitamins so important to your baby.

Newest Gerber Fruit delectables: Applesauce with Pineapple . . . Apricots with Tapioca. Both are brimming with the kind of sun-kissed flavor small "fruit fanciers" favor. Strained or junior.

Overall coverage. Corduroy overalls make good creeper outfits because the fabric is so wearable and washable. Upkeep notes: (1) After washing, if you brush corduroy while it's still slightly damp, nap will re-fluff nicely. (2) If you buy overalls with patch pockets, you can use pockets as patches when knees wear through.

Cooky zoo, that's nutritious, too. Gerber Animal-Shaped Cookies for toddlers are fun to munch; fine for teaching animal names; have nutritional benefits, too. (They have twice as much protein as most other cookies, plus B-vitamins in the icing.) What's more, they're crunchy-hard for good biting exercise . . . delightfully flavored for happy eating. POLLYS POINTERS

Control Your Teen-Agers!

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — I just love your column and have clipped many helpful hints. My favorite is the one for hanging a red rag on the back door to let the neighbor children know the baby is napping. However, I was flabbergasted to read the one where a reader advocated nailing floor lamps down to keep them from being knocked over by their children and then to see you calling teen-agers who did this "a bit thoughtless."

I know that American parents in general seem afraid to discipline their children but I certainly would feel that I had failed to teach my children the minimum of self-control if by the time they were teen-agers they had not learned how to move through a room without knocking over lamps and tables. There will never be any lamps nailed to the floor in this house.

Having gotten this off my chest, let me throw in a hint. My daughter, 2, has reached the age where she likes to help me sweep the floor or mop up water she has spilled over the edge of the bathtub. The mop is twice as long as she is and the handle end was always banging against the wall, windows and mirrors. As a safety measure, I bought some No. 19 rubber crutch tips and fitted them over the ends of my mop and broom handles.—GABRIELE

GABRIELE and others—Sometimes it is not your own children who play havoc with nice furnishings. Guests may cause the trouble. Do not be too emphatic about saying what you positively will not do. My experience has been that often such "chickens come home to roost." Perhaps it was a bit cowardly of me to say "a bit thoughtless" since I know how many parents do not believe in strick discipline and I was dodging their censuring remarks. I have been accused of being too severe in my ideas about what children should or should not do. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY—When making home moving pictures, use a blackboard for making titles such as "Lou's Sixth Birthday," "Vacation at Lake George," "Christmas 1963" and so on. You will always have dated pictures which makes them doubly interesting as the years roll by.—L. C.

DEAR POLLY—Anyone finding it hard to swallow a pill should use a drinking straw. Have your drink ready with the straw in it. Place the pill on the middle of your tongue, drink through the straw and the pill will go down so fast you will wonder if you ever took it.—MRS. M. F.

A Return Address Should Be On Gift

By AMY VANDERBILT

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: Recently my husband died and I received flowers, letters and telegrams from all over the country. Many of the people who were kind enough to write me or send flowers had names that were completely unfamiliar to me (my husband was internationally known) and it was the work of months and took the kindness of many friends to help me track down from his office files and in other ways the addresses of these people so that their kindnesses could be acknowledged.

"In addition, when this tragedy struck, many kind neighbors as is the custom here dropped by at our house and left at the back door casseroles or other contributions of home-prepared foods so that our household would have as little to do in that regard as possible during the funeral period.

"Unfortunately, many of them left no cards and did not mark their casseroles (it would have been so simple to put tape on the bottom of each) and to this day I have been unable to acknowledge these kindnesses or return the casseroles. I know that people hesitate to ask for them back or, in effect, to ask me for some acknowledgement of their kindness and yet I am embarrassed.

"Here is my suggestion: When flowers are sent, it would be so easy for the senders to ask the florist to put a return address on the back of the card or to furnish the florist with a visiting card that carries the address (I know people are doing this more and more and I think it a splendid idea). Even on telegrams it is possible to tell the telegraph office to put a return address on the telegram.

"This makes the work of acknowledging these many expressions of sympathy so much easier for the family. I hope that you will put these suggestions in your book which I have found very valuable at this difficult time in our lives.—Mrs. R. L., Miami, Fla."

I can add nothing further except to say I heartily concur and I will indeed add these excellent suggestions to my book.

A variation of the ducking play is the lead of a low card from a high card combination. It is an underlead, but brings the same results as a duck.

North loses all interest in a slam contract the moment South rebids a mere one no-trump and North simply raises his partner to a no-trump game. The chances are that when North puts down the dummy, he will remark that he has seven tricks for his partner.

East's king of spades wins the first trick and a spade return knocks out dummy's ace. South is still in full control of the hand. If he starts to work on the diamond suit by leasing out the ace and king, there will be a slight pause for study when West is unkind enough to discard on the second diamond. It will not be a pleasant pause. If East and West only play normal defense, South will be held to eight tricks and North's seven tricks will have been reduced to four.

A careful rubber bridge player would do his studying before attacking the diamonds. He would see that five diamond tricks would be enough to give him game and rubber and he would have led a low diamond from dummy at trick three. With a 3-2 diamond break, his precaution would have cost an overtrick or two, but such precautions are well worth while in rubber bridge.

Character-Strengthening Guards Listed By Lecturer

By DAN COLEMAN

"A preconsidered and accepted vocation to subordination and an unswerving dedication to faithfulness and perseverence are the guardians of our inward character against insignificant deteriorants which weaken our will when we most need it for the always unexpected temptation," said Rev. A. P. Tremlett, at the sixth Perkins Lecture here Tuesday night.

Dr. Howard Hollowell, pastor of First Methodist Church, introduced Rev. Tremlett and his Tuesday night topic, "David and the Heights."

Rev. Tremlett related the story of how David soared to heights of popularity with King Saul and his countrymen after he killed Goliath, and that it was his popularity which led to his downfall.

Rev. Tremlett told of an acquaintance from London, a Mrs. Gordon, who founded the Gordon Boys Home and passed on to the congregation a tale she had told him long ago.

He related in his distinct English accent of when Mrs. Gordon had given birth to her first child, a son, her husband said to her as he saw his new son for the first time, "You've given me the thing I want most in this world. Now look at the baby and try now and always to imagine he actually belongs to another woman."

Advice Followed

Rev. Tremlett said Mrs. Gordon followed that advice and was proud that she and her daughter - in - law got along together splendidly. He noted that she achieved that only through her acceptance of second place and correlated it to Jonathan's acceptance of David as the probable next king, even though he was heir to the crown, and to John the Baptist's vocation to subordination to the Messiah. Each gloried in the heights attained by the other and accepted their greatness.

He noted that the people of importance in our lives are usually not widely recognized or publicized personalities but are our parents, a minister, teacher, a sufferer we've known or even a friend or child.

"The people we look back on with most gratitude are to the rest of the world insignificant," he said.

The vicar continued to denounce shortcuts and insignificant sins as minute forces which cause no outward change in us but deterioriate the conscience so that we may not be able to surmount that sudden unexpected temptation. He further lauded the faithful attendance of the strengthening of character and refusal to give in to tiny "shortcuts" through daily prayerful self examination.

Classic Example

Rev. Tremlett illustrated his statement, "God doesn't require success of us, he asks only that we persevere. We must keep grinding away and remain faithful."

He said that David's incident in the cave was a classic example of unexpected temptation and of returning good for evil. "At that moment he rose to great heights of character," Rev. Tremlett pointed out.

To emphasize his three main points of the talk, vocation to subordination, the unexpectedness of temptation, and the abstinence from "shortcuts," Rev. Tremlett concluded with, "David was never more truly great as a king and a man than when he came out of that cave. Somehow he had heard words not to be spoken for hundreds of years to come, "For I say, love your enemies and do good to those that hate you," and "Father forgive them for they know not what they do."

Sam Houston Principal Honored

R. Paul Goldstucker, principal of Sam Houston Elementary School for the past 12 years, was honored at 7 p.m. Tuesday when the school's P-TA officers, committee chairmen and room sponsors entertained the teachers with a banquet.

Goldstucker received his bachelor's degree in 1929 from the University of Cincinnati and a Masters Degree from the University of Texas in 1954. He taught history at Zundelowitz Junior High School before coming to Sam Houston as principal in 1952.

He is a past president of the City Teachers Association, was on the board of directors of the USO and is a member of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce.

A charter member of the Evening Lions Club, Goldstucker has served in every elective office of the organization, representing the club at four Lions International conventions. In 1960 he was named Lion of the Year.

Active in church work at the Congregation House of Jacob, Goldstucker is president of the congregation, past secretary of the temple and now is acting Rabbi and superintendent of the church school.

Following World War II when the Auxiliary Fire Department was organized, he was made assistant chief and still serves as a volunteer fireman.

Master of ceremonies for the Tuesday banquet was J. Howard Morgan, vice president of the First-Wichita National Bank. Glenn Shelton, a special guest, gave the invocation.

The program was provided by Alfred T. (Andy) Anderson, a teacher at Wichita Falls High School, who is a humorist and an accomplished pianist.

Mrs. Joseph Novak, retiring president of the P-TA, recognized teachers present and Mrs. Mack Colvard spoke on their behalf.

Mrs. Burt Slack, 1964-65 P-TA president, was introduced by Mrs. Novak.

Table decorations included baskets of pink roses, carnations, and snapdragons. Also featured were minature pink umbrellas. Mrs. Clayton Tompkins was chairman of the decorations committee and Mrs. Wayne Wood, was hospitality chairman.

MU Chamber Group Meets

Members of the Midwestern University development action group met in the chamber of commerce offices Tuesday to discuss a variety of projects ranging from athletics to landscaping around the new library.

P. S. Richards, chairman of the athletic sub-group, reported during the morning meeting that his group is entering into a two-fold project to bring basketball athletes to Midwestern.

The first part of the plan is to have the basketball coach "interview a player who would be a real asset to the team and if a summer job can be found for the boy and a permanent job for his wife, the possibilities of persuading him to attend MU are good."

It was also announced that 12 summer jobs are needed as of June 1 for other basketball players at Midwestern.

Richardson further cited the need of a scholarship push by saying currently only 18 athletic scholarships are offered.

Woody Featherston reported that the Midwestern student government association will sponsor a Parents Day May 8 in connection with city-campus activities.

It was decided to investigate the possibility of trees around the new library building and the soon-to-be completed science building.

Dr. D. L. Ligon reported that graduation is scheduled May 29 and that the new library will be dedicated on the same day.

Two Policemen Are Suspended

Two city police officers, Sgt. Bill Rinehart and Patrolman John Goodman, were temporarily suspended from the force Monday by Police Chief C. C. (Bud) Daniel for violating the state civil service code.

Rinehart and Goodman allegedly signed their names to a petition backing a candidate in the recent (April 7) municipal election.

Daniel said Rinehart had been with the Wichia Falls Police Department "about six or more years," and Goodman, who until a few months ago was a civilian patrolman for the Wichita Falls Country Club, earlier had been with the force about three years.

A section of the State Civil Service Act forbids political activity by a civil employe while in the service of the state or any municipality.

STRIPPER WELLS SAID IMPORTANT TO TEXAS

ODESSA, Tex. — Texas must not change its historic support of conservation practices that keep thousands of stripper or marginal wells alive, Railroad Commissioner Jim C. Langdon said here Tuesday night.

"A great deal of Texas' crude oil comes from so-called marginal or stripper wells — often in old fields where production peaks have long since been passed, but where considerable oil is still left in the ground," Langdon said.

"These wells are capable of yielding only a few barrels of oil a day, but it is oil that otherwise would be lost forever — at least in fields that do not lend themselves physically or economically to secondary recovery operations.

"The 'conservation theory' to which Texas is committed seeks the producing of every single barrel of oil in a field, down to the point of an uneconomic operation. Many operations in many areas of the state depend upon stripper wells for their income. Bank loans, royalty checks, many jobs, and a big slice of our proven reserves are wrapped up in marginal well operations."

For these reasons, Texas should not, "and in my opinion must not change its historic support of the 'conservation' approach," Langdon said.

Langdon pledged to his audience, members of the Odessa Desk and Derrick Club, that the Railroad Commission would continue to give stripper wells a fair opportunity to share the market with richer and stronger wells in keeping with its policy of preventing physical waste.

The Railroad Commissioner reiterated his stand against federal control of the oil industry, pointing out that critics who protested that Texas was not getting its fair share of the domestic market "come close to advocating federal control of oil production."

Active American Women

Spring is a fitting time to pay a tribute to the fair sex by passing on some remarks made a few weeks ago by Mrs. Katie Louchheim of the State Department.

As deputy assistant secretary for community advisory services, Mrs. Louchheim has been in a position to note the surprise of foreign visitors when they encounter the American woman in her natural habitat.

"Before they come to the United States," says Mrs. Louchheim, "they have a mental image of the American woman living in idleness, pushing buttons to activate her innumerable electric servants.

"Instead, they find her out ringing doorbells to raise money for the United Fund, the Heart Drive, the Lighthouse. She sits on the boards of community organizations. She carries trays in hospitals, exercises handicapped children in clinics . . .

"The community's welfare activities depend on her. It has been estimated that the hours of work freely given by our women volunteers would cost many millions of dollars if they had to be paid for. They are a priceless service to the community and to the nation."

Nor is woman's work limited to volunteer services. Mrs. Louchheim herself is an example of the many women in business, politics, government. Incidentally, the latter, she says, offers almost limitless opportunities to women.

In the State Department alone, 7 per cent of the 5,000 members of the Foreign Service are women. There are two women deputy assistant secretaries and three women in the important post of office director. Of only six career ambassadors, one is a woman.

In 1963, there were 29 counselors or first secretaries of embassies, 22 second secretaries and 60 third secretaries.

"American women," says Mrs. Louchheim, "are living and working all over the globe, as Foreign Service officers, as Peace Corps volunteers, as AID technical experts, as the wives of technical advisers or Foreign Service officers . . .

"For today's American woman, the community is not only her town, her city or even her nation. Her community is the world."

Hate Letters Hit Rocky

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — In California, hate literature aimed at Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York is beginning to turn up as he battles Sen. Barry Goldwater for the state's 86 convention votes.

Some of it was seen on the UCLA campus in Los Angeles on the occasion of the governor's recent visit there. The dominant theme, a favorite with extremist fringes, is that the liberal Rockefeller is linked with the Communists.

As the campaign waxes, California's many sizable pockets of right-wing extremism can be expected to feed the flow. The net effect will be to color even more darkly the already bitter conservative-liberal struggle for power within the state's GOP forces.

It was not realized at the time, but anti-Rockefeller hate literature was dumped into New Hampshire in the last 10 days or so of that campaign.

Reports from postmasters and others indicate that voters in Concord, Charlestown and Claremont in the Granite State were among the recipients. Especially ample distribution of this material was noted in Claremont.

A typical exhibit: Soviet Premier Khrushchev extending both arms in a broad, smiling greeting to Rockefeller at a New York hotel on the occasion of the Russian's 1959 U.S. visit. The picture is captioned simply, "Rockefeller Meets Khrushchev."

In a series of crudely drawn sketches assailing the governor, one shows him sitting at a table with such celebrated dictators as Stalin, Hitler and Mussolini.

A single-page document titled "Nelson Rockefeller's Qualifications for the Presidency — of the U.S.S.R." calls him a "Dedicated trillionaire Red."

This sheet, written by one Emanuel M. Josephson, asserts that the Rockefeller family launched communism as a Russian movement in order to gain control of oil in Russia's Baku fields.

"The deal that they made with Stalin for that purpose in 1926 still rules the world," says the pamphlet's author.

The total catalog of sins assigned to Rockefeller in this indictment compares favorably with the volume of charges assessed against the Catholic church in the huge hate campaign directed at the late President Kennedy in 1960.

Finger any trouble anywhere on earth in this century and, in Josephson's view, you are pointing to a Rockefeller plot.

There appears no limit to the range of these materials. According to another hate piece, the governor eliminated the dating of milk containers in New York to "facilitate the sale of sour milk" and increase the profits of his "family's milk trust."

This same document attempts to cast doubt on the governor's sanity. Fastening on a quoted comment of the first Mrs. Rockefeller that "only Nelson thinks he knows" what a certain abstract painting of his really means, the pamphleteer writes:

"Rocky 'nuts,' says wife: Friends of (the first) Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller report that she says . . . that 'he does not know his own mind;' he thinks he sees things that no one else sees."

The assumption of responsible vofers and politicians is that when the stuff is this bad it falls of its own weight. But the unhappy evidence of past campaigns suggests that even some of the weirdest fancies often help to poison the political air seriously.

The danger now confronts the campaigners in the hard California struggle.

Inside Report

Scranton Is Available

By ROWLAND EVANS And ROBERT NOVAK

HARRISBURG, Pa. — When Gov. William Scranton heard that State Republican Chairman Craig Truax had ordered one million "Scranton for President" write-in stickers for the Presidential primary ballot, he decided that the moment of truth had arrived. With his own State Chairman feeding the Scranton-for-President fires, who would believe that Scranton was not angling for the Republican nomination?

Scranton brooded about the compromising position his friends seemed to be squeezing him into. He decided to knife the Scranton-for-President movement in the heart with a Sherman-like statement (if nominated, won't run; if elected, won't serve).

But finally, and inevitably, his aides talked him out of it by a dispassionate appeal to his sense of duty. No leader in a political party, particularly the floundering Republican party of 1964 can stick his head in the sand. A political party cannot function if its leaders play the ostrich and refuse to lead.

And so Scranton, on the evening before his press conference last week, decided to leave the door open a crack. The crack is precisely as narrow as the chance for a genuine convention draft.

Almost at once, certain predictable things began to happen. The chairman of the Scranton-for-President committee in one Eastern state took a sounding and discovered that about one-half of the Scranton - leaning delegates on his uncommitted delegation had had it.

"Since we can't tell them we're sure he'll run in the end," this disappointed Scrantonman said, "they're not going to sit out on the limb any longer."

It is too early to say how much of this leakage may take place, or whether it might even infect Pennsylvania itself. The Governor's past efforts to discourage his followers have kept the Scranton-for-President balloon close to the ground. There was not very much to leak anyway.

Nevertheless, it would be foolish to write off Scranton as the possible nominee, despite his all but total withdrawal. The reason is simple: there is no one in the Republican party as acceptable to all factions as Scranton in the event of a deadlock. And the new emphasis he has now put on his decision not to run may very well increase his acceptability to all the other possibilities.

Consider, for example, Henry Cabot Lodge. The sudden ground-swell for Ambassador Lodge seems real enough. But it is simply inconceivable that, if Sen. Barry Goldwater fails to win the nomination himself, Goldwater would use his enormous influence at the convention to promote Lodge. And Goldwater enthusiasts make no bones about their man's unfriendly feelings for Richard M. Nixon. That leaves Scranton.

Likewise, who will be Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's choice as the nominee if he himself can't win? Hardly Richard Nixon and certainly not Lodge. It should not be forgotten that Lodge's refusal to disavow his enthusiasts in New Hampshire, despite Rockefeller's urgent appeal, may well have cost Rockefeller victory in the New Hampshire primary. Rockefeller's logical second choice (after himself) would be Scranton.

Ohio Congressman Changes Over Years

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — When Michael J. Kirwan of Youngstown, Ohio, came to Congress 25 years ago, this column picked him as one of the fifteen most promising members of Congress. At that time he was.

But times change. And having given Mr. Kirwan a big boost with the voters in the past, it is only fair to report to those same voters regarding Kirwan's status today.

In my opinion he rates among those who should be scrutinized by any committee investigating influence - wielding or influence-peddling, such as that charged against Bobby Baker.

Mike Kirwan is a Democrat. In the current Democratic administration he exerts great power. But he was able to exert similar power in Republican administrations too. His power comes from three things:

1. The chairmanship of the Democratic Congressional Committee for re - electing members of the House.

2. The Chairmanship of the House Appropriations Sub-committee which votes the money for parks, power projects, public lands, waterways, rivers, harbors and all sorts of pork barrel public works.

3. A ruthless braggadocio who has Irish charm, Kirwan is bitter and vindictive against anyone who opposes him.

Mike was not always so. When he came to Congress on the wave of FDR's 1936 sweep, he proclaimed: "Roosevelt saved those big business guys from drowning. Now they are screaming because their top hats floated out on the tide."

And he fought for New Deal legislation right down the line. But as the years passed and Mike's power increased, the one-time crusading Democrat from Youngstown began to let power go to his head, until today he is the No. 1 Tyrant of the House.

When Rep. John Foley of Maryland, a fellow Democrat, pushed a bill to make the old Chesapeake and Ohio Canal a national park, Kirwan got furious. "We don't want any canal bills," he shouted.

When Foley pushed his bill anyway, Kirwan went into a tantrum, killed the bill on the House floor and then proceeded to cut off all re - election funds from his fellow Irishman, fellow Democrat. As chairman of the Congressional Committee for re-electing Democrats, Kirwan could do this.

Foley was defeated.

Today in contrast, Kirwan is pushing a bill to dig a new canal from Lake Erie near Ashtabula to the Ohio River near Pittsburg, a project which will cost hundreds of millions of dollars. Foley's bill was merely to make an old canal a national park. It would have cost nothing.

Hired Kirwan's Son

Kirwan's control over the appropriations for parks and waterways gives him power in all sorts of interesting places. When U.S. Steel wanted the federal government to dredge the Delaware River to a 40 foot depth at a cost of $91,738,000 so its ore boats could run up to Trenton Kirwan at first was vigorously opposed. He made many speeches against it. "We gave that steel plant $450,000,000 in tax amortization in order to build the plant," he told the House.

"One of their subsidiaries is building four steel boats in Japan with cheap labor. Each one of those boats will carry two trainloads of ore, eliminating a great many laboring men. It will be flying under a foreign flag with cheap labor.

"Those very boats built overseas will be going down the Delaware . . . The Army engineers testified that the only one company which will get 100 per cent profit out of this is the United States Steel Corporation. They will only ship 30,000,000 tons and it is costing as much money to construct that 30 to 40 miles of channel as to build the St. Lawrence Seaway.

"I am asking you to be true to our laboring men and to the men who crossed that river 180 years ago. They proved to the Congress that they were worthy. So let the Congress prove to the country that they are not going to give them that $100,000,000 to do something that is not worth it."

The House responded overwhelmingly to Kirwan's impassioned appeal. It voted down the channel for U.S. Steel. This was in late 1956. However, on June 1, 1957, young Mike Kirwan, son of the Congressman, went to work for U.S. Steel. Thirty days later, U.S. Steel got quiet approval for its 40-foot channel for the Delaware River.

Kirwan's Motives

No one ever quite understands the motives behind the congressman from Youngstown. Why, for instance, should he be so interested in helping real estate developers get prize land on the banks of the Potomac opposite Mount Vernon, the home of the father of the country, that he should block a drive in Congress to acquire this land as a public park.

Why should he push through Congress $10,000,000 for a Washington Fish aquarium when the District of Columbia was so hard up for school money that geography teachers had to buy their own globes?

Or why should he introduce a private bill to save gangster Frank Cammarata from being deported? FBI files show Cammarata to be a "killer, hold-up man and narcotics distributor." He did not come from Youngstown; yet the congressman from Youngstown introduced a private bill for him. Why?

Yet when anyone balks Kirwan as did Senators Wayne Morse and Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore., regarding his "Fish Motel," he immediately sliced three Oregon projects out of the Public Works Bill.

All this is why the congressman who started his career with such promise is now regarded as the meanest, most vengeful man in Washington.

Allen-Scott Report

Nuclear Carrier Pushed

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
And PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — New life is being pumped into the Navy's dormant proposal to make the next aircraft carrier a nuclear-powered ship.

Two powerful congressional committees and the chairman-to-be of a third are joining forces in a backstage drive in Congress and the administration to overturn Defense Secretary McNamara's decision to equip the next carrier with conventional power rather than atomic engines.

The legislators' first dramatic effort, designed to set off a chain reaction of support in Congress, will be a strong recommendation in the House Appropriations Committee's report on the $50 billion Defense Department budget that the next carrier be nuclear powered.

Prepared by Representative Daniel Flood, D-Pa., ranking member, this recommendation will call on the House Armed Services Committee to "authorize" construction of the nuclear carrier so the Appropriations Committee can legally vote the extra $126 million needed to begin the ship this year. Until this is done, the latter committee cannot appropriate the funds.

To bolster the recommendation, the Joint Atomic Committee will issue a study by the Atomic Energy Commission showing that CVA-67, a conventionally - powered carrier already authorized by Congress, can still be converted to nuclear power if Congress acts this year.

The construction contract for CVA-67, which has not yet been let by the Navy, is scheduled to be awarded around April 28 unless the legislators can force a delay.

Approaching Showdown

Members of the Joint Atomic Committee, which issued a stinging blast at McNamara's failure to make CVA-67 nuclear - powered, are privately urging President Johnson to intervene and delay the construction contract pending further action in Congress.

Representative Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., slated to become chairman of the Armed Services Committee when Representative Carl Vinson, D-Ga., retires at the end of this session, is throwing his full weight behind the Navy's proposal.

He has notified the White House and members of the Appropriations Committee that upon assuming chairmanship of the Armed Services Committee he will go all-out in supporting the change to nuclear power.

Rivers is now trying to convince Representative Vinson to "cap" his long and distinguished congressional career by "authorizing" the use of nuclear power in CVA-67.

"The Navy should never be made to sail second class," Rivers told the aging Vinson. "And, Admiral (Vinson's nickname), you are the one who should make sure that this never happens to the Navy before you leave Congress."

Full Speed Ahead

The reaction of President Johnson and Representative Vinson to the growing congressional support to make CVA-67 nuclear powered is still unknown, but in an election year anything can happen.

Even Defense Secretary McNamara, bitten by the vice presidential bug, might consider reversing his decision if the pressure continues to mount, according to one reliable Defense Department aide.

While none of the Flood group are counting on a change of heart by McNamara, they do hope to influence the President with the soundness of their arguments and the warning that the Republicans will inject the carrier issue into the coming campaign.

They are urging the President to adopt their slogan: "Full speed ahead with the nuclear carrier — damn the McNamaras."

Atomic Fallout

Chemical high explosives will be detonated at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada testing site in June to excavate a channel through hard rock as part of its Plowshare program of developing peaceful applications for nuclear explosives. Because of the test ban, no nuclear devices will be used. However, AEC scientists hope to obtain data which will be useful in conducting future nuclear excavation experiments. Five charges of chemical high explosives will be put in a row to determine if their joint explosions form a channel in rock as they do in soil. AEC scientists at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, Livermore, Calif., are in charge of the test . . . Records of the Joint Atomic Committee show that the AEC and Navy Department have spent more than $400 million in developing and improving nuclear reactors for surface ships . . . . In the past 10 years, AEC scientists have been able to reduce the cost of nuclear fuel by increasing the life of atomic cores by 300 per cent. During the same period, fuel oil for conventional - powered carriers has jumped by 50 per cent . . . The Navy now has operational one-atomic - powered carrier, the Enterprise, and two other surface ships, the cruiser Long Beach and destroyer leader Bainbridge. All three vessels are assigned to the Mediterranean. The Enterprise is now on station, and the other two ships are preparing to join it . . . Senators Henry Jackson, D-Wash., and Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., both members of the Armed Services Committee, are planning to lead the fight in the Senate to make the next aircraft carrier atomic-powered.

Prayer For Today

Holy Father, we give Thee thanks that Thou has delivered us from the power of darkness and translated us into the kingdom of Thy dear Son. Grant, therefore, we pray Thee, that as by His death He has recalled us to life, He may raise us up in His love to joys eternal. Amen. — Lyndon B. Medicare Plan

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — I will go along with those opponents of government - sponsored hospital insurance for the aged who worry about the tendency of Big Brother in Washington to intrude in areas they believe are best handled by the individual citizen. This is the kind of thing a citizen should worry about every day, lest he wake up some morning and find he's suddenly become just a number.

But in the matter of medicare such thinking happens to be wrong. Leaving the problem up to the individual just won't solve it. The individual concerned — the man or woman over 65 — doesn't have the money to solve it.

By now it should be clear even to the more fat - headed spokesmen for the American Medical Association that something has to be done for those aged who can't pay for medical and hospital care. We can't just ignore them and hope they'll go away; already nearly 10 per cent of all Americans — about 18 million persons — are over 65.

Fairness The Key

In one way or another, the more prosperous Americans are going to continue to help older and poorer people to pay their medical bills. The question now is how this can be done efficiently and fairly — and with consideration for the dignity of the citizen.

It is not in the progressive tradition of the country to do it through welfare or assistance payment. Such a dole requires use of a means test by which an oldster is made to prove he's destitute. It also discriminates against those who have the money to pay their own way but who by so doing will exhaust their life savings and become a drain on their children. The man who has saved a small nest egg should not be forced to dissipate it by taking on an expense the law of economics says he should not.

Paid When Payable

Clearly, the answer is a contributory plan linked with the Social Security System such as is proposed in the King - Anderson bill now before Congress. The program would be financed through contributions by both employe and employer to the Social Security fund. The citizen therefore is enabled to pay for protection at a time when he can best afford it — while he is working — and benefits are paid on the same basis in every case.

Those who say such a plan is not needed just aren't facing the facts. Cold statistics show that one out of every six persons over 65 is hospitalized every year, that nine out of 10 are hospitalized at least once after age 65, that the cost of medical care has risen 65 per cent since 1948, that half of aged couples have total incomes of less than $2,600 a year.

Blue Cross Fails

Unfortunately, nonprofit hospitalization plans and commercial insurance programs haven't been able to meet this problem. Only half of the aged have some form of health insurance, but because of their low incomes they can't afford the plans that provide adequate benefits. The rest, presumably, are expected to creep off somewhere and die quietly.

Big Brother or no, the Social Security plan is the most authentically American way of handling the problem. It would help prevent poverty, instead of trying to deal with it after it occurs. And because the citizen would contribute to his protection, he would be entitled to benefits. This spells something rather wonderful, called democracy.

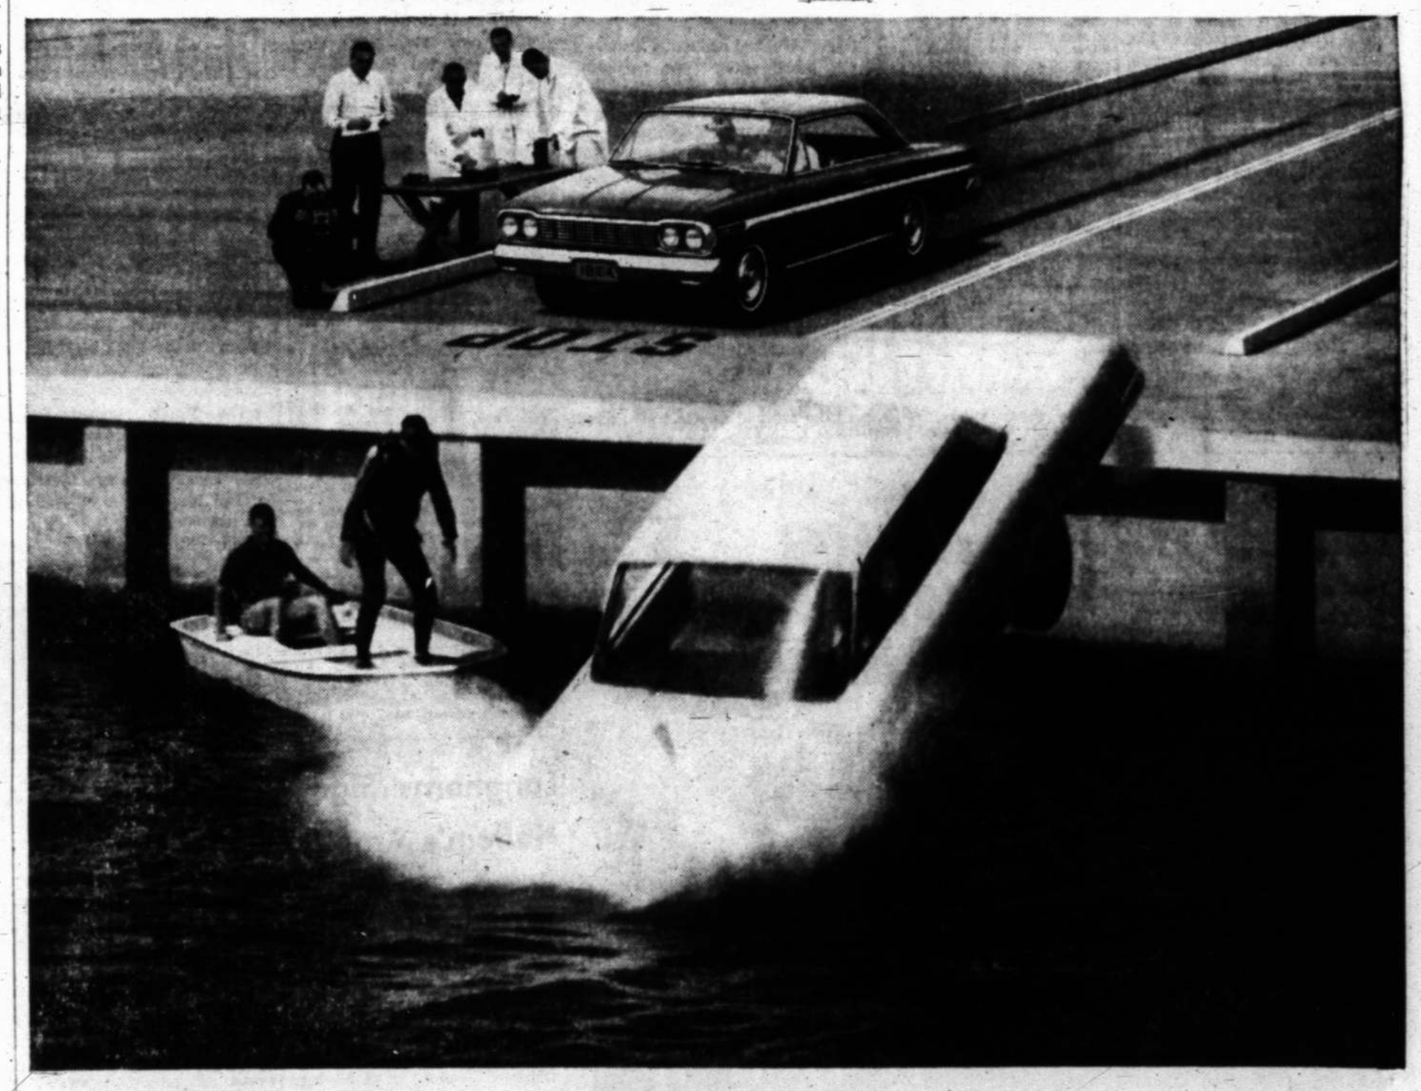
Ramblers stop when other cars can't



Every '64 Rambler has the priceless protection of Double-Safety Brakes

Here's a demonstration of the Double-Safety Brake System that's standard equipment in every Rambler and in only one other U.S.-built car.

First, a hydraulic brake line was deliberately damaged in a Rambler Classic and another make car. Then in climbed two professional drivers. Off they sped toward the end of a pier. On signal, both drivers hit the brakes—hard.

Helplessly, the one car—damage to its single line making the foot brakes inoperable—plunged into the water. Only the Rambler could stop.

It could, because every Rambler has separate hydraulic braking systems, front and rear. Even with one system out, the other still worked.

Every Rambler Doubly Protected

Standard in every Rambler since 1962, Double-Safety Brakes are one of many no-extra-cost extras in all models including the lowest-priced.

Someday, you may be able to get these doubly-safe brakes on any car. But wouldn't you rather have their protection now—in your next car?

Especially if that car also gives you Rambler's rock-solid Advanced Unit Construction. Especially if it offers Rambler's wide choice of seating options—including luxurious reclining buckets.

And especially since it wraps up all these things and more in the most beautiful Ramblers ever built—convertibles, sedans, hardtops, and wagons—Americans, Classics and Ambassadors.

Three Millionth Rambler Produced

These are the cars that deliver more usefulness to the user in so many ways. Result: the 3 millionth Rambler just rolled from the assembly line to help meet the big and growing demand.

Looking for a new car? It will pay you to see your Rambler dealer!

Only Rambler gives you all these Extra-Values
Double-Safety Brake System ■ Self-adjusting brakes ■ Advanced Unit Construction ■ Coil-spring seats, front and rear ■ Roof-Top Travel Rack on 5 of 6 Rambler wagons ■ Deep-Dip rustproofing ■ Full Ceramic-Armored exhaust system ■ Curved-glass side windows ■ Front seat belts ■ 33,000-mile or 3-year chassis lubrication ■ 4,000-mile engine-oil change ■ Cushioned Acoustical ceiling of molded fiber glass, on Classic and Ambassador, cuts road noise 30%... all at no extra cost!

Mays Collects Two Of Five In 8-4 Rout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five home runs, two by Willie Mays, blasted the San Francisco Giants to an 8-4 opening day victory over the Milwaukee Braves and their great left-hander Warren Spahn before a record throng of 42,894 in Candlestick Park Tuesday.

Orlando Cepeda, Tom Haller and rookie Jim Hart all contributed homers to the San Francisco power show that gave Juan Marichal the victor again over the 42-year-old Spahn.

Marichal 25-8 last season, was off to a shaky start, giving up four runs in the first three innings—two on a third inning double by Ed Bailey, the catcher the Giants dealt to the Braves last winter.

Hart, the Giants' new third baseman, opened the home run attack with a two-run shot in the second inning, overcoming a 1-0 Milwaukee lead. Then Mays belted a two-run clout over the left field fence in the third, squaring things at 4-4.

San Francisco went ahead to stay in less dramatic fashion in the sixth before the crowd, largest to watch a league game in Candlestick Park.

With one out, Cepeda singled to left. Hart flied out and Spahn uncorked a wild pitch while throwing to Haller. Cepeda raced to second and scored on Haller's single moments later.

When Mays crashed a solo homer 390 feet and over the right center field fence in the eighth, Spahn gave way to right-hander Hank Fischer.

Cepeda greeted him with a homer and Haller followed with another before the right-hander could retire the side.

Marichal overcame his unsteady start to go the route, allowing only seven hits while his mates collected 10 against the two Milwaukee hurlers.

Mays provided the Dominican right-hander a triumph over Spahn for the second straight time. The last time they dueled was on July 2, 1963, when the game went 16 innings before Willie homered for a 1-0 decision.

Regional Track Entrants Slate Special Meet

Wichita Falls will play host to many of the area's track qualifiers for the regional meets Friday in a practice session slated for Coyote track at 2:30 p.m., it was announced by Athletic Director Joe Golding.

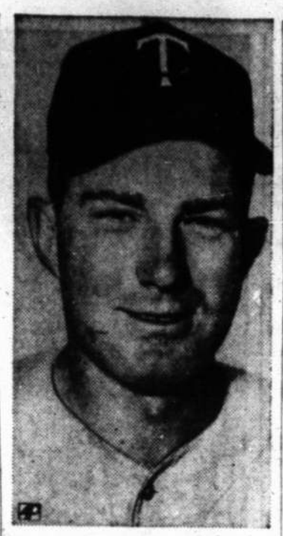
Golding explained the impromptu meet resulted from many calls from the area school seeking a track meet this weekend to let their regional qualifiers practice before next week's regional meet which will determine those who advance to state.

"We had so many inquiries," Golding said, "we decided to play host for a practice meet for regional qualifiers only."

Teams which will participate in the practice meet are: Haskell, Hamlin, Stamford, Seymour, Quanah, Vernon, Iowa Park, Nocona, Washington of Wichita Falls, Hirschi and Wichita Falls High School.

Many of the teams will have only three or four boys entered and others will bring more, depending on how many won regional berths.

The public is invited to attend the meet at Coyote track, directly behind the high school.



RICH ROLLINS

'FEELS YOUNGER'

Snider Sold To 'Frisco

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Mets sold veteran outfielder Duke Snider to the San Francisco Giants Tuesday for slightly more than the waiver price. The 37-year-old Duke immediately said he felt a couple of years younger.

"Just the opportunity to play with a contender again should add a couple of years to my career," he said. He estimated he could play at least two or three more years.

"You'd be surprised how much younger you feel when you're playing with a pennant contender."

Snider, a star of long standing with the Brooklyn and Los Angeles Dodgers, was purchased by the 10th place Mets a year ago. He hit .243 in 129 games, many as a pinch hitter, had 14 homers and drove in 45 runs.

Snider has a career total of 403 homers, fifth in National League history.

The Giants will use the Duke as a left-handed pinch hitter and as insurance for rookie Jay Alou in right field.

Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, called Snider and told him, "You're just what we need to win the pennant."

Snider said he would "do all I can to help win it."

He will report to the Giants for Wednesday night's game in Milwaukee.

George Weiss, president of the Mets, hoped to get a player for Snider, but said he couldn't get one so he sold Snider.

Twins Rally Nicks Tribe

CLEVELAND AP—Rich Rollins' two-run single in the sixth inning helped the Minnesota Twins come from behind and beat Cleveland 7-6 Tuesday in the season opener.

Outfielder Leon Wagner, obtained by the Indians from Los Angeles to add batting punch, drove in four Cleveland runs with a home run and a single as the Tribe went down to its fifth straight home-opener defeat.

Catcher Earl Battey homered over the left field fence in the fourth inning off starter Jim Grant after Jimmie Hall singled and Harmon Killebrew doubled to put the visitors ahead 3-2.

Hall's double off the left field corner fence in the fifth brought home Tony Oliva, who had singled, and Bob Allison, who walked and drove Grant from the mound.

Rollins' payoff hit, a single to left off Pedro Ramos, followed a pair of walks, both charged to reliever Jerry Walker.

The lead had changed twice before Rollins put the Twins ahead to stay.

Vic Davalillo's first - inning single scored Howser to get the Indians off to an early lead, to the delight of 25,617 paying customers. Howser got a double when Killebrew went back to slowly for his 360-foot drive that bounced off the left field fence.

Wagner's scorching single down the first base line in the third inning scored Davillo, who walked and stole second, but Battey's homer in the fourth erased the Cleveland lead.

Woodie Held smashed a 370-foot homer over the left field fence to lead off the bottom of the fourth, tieing the score at 3-3. When Grant and Howser followed with singles, Gerry Arrigo, a southpaw rookie, replaced starter Camilo Pascual and served up the three-run homer to Wagner.

The Twins got eight hits off four Indian pitchers Walker was the loser. The Indians battered four Twins hurlers for 10 hits, and reliver Jim Perry got Credit for the victory.

Hitting Tigers Blast Athletics

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers supported Phil Regan's five-hit pitching performance with some lusty hitting and defeated the Kansas City Athletics 7-3 in their American League baseball season opener Tuesday.

Regan needed help from Mickey Lolich and Dave Wickersham in the ninth, leaving the game with one out and two on base.

The Tigers reached Kansas City starter Orlando Pena for three triples, a double and a solo homer by Norm Cash and staked Regan to a 4-0 lead after five innings.

Billy Bruton's two-run home run in the seventh inning off Vern Handrahan, and two hits and a passed ball in the eighth capped the scoring for Detroit.

Jim Gentile, who had sent long flies to deep center in two previous appearances at the plate, spoiled Regan's shutout bid with a towering home run in the seventh inning.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Chicago Cubs cut loose against Roy Face for four runs in the 10th inning and beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-4 Tuesday in the season's opener at Forbes Field.

Face, the Pirates' relief ace, was tagged for four straight hits in the 10th and gave way to Tommy Sisk with none out.

Longhorns Sign Haltom's Arnold

AUSTIN (AP) — Billy Arnold, all-state basketball player from Fort Worth Haltom, and a teammate, Larry Lake, have signed letters of intent with the University of Texas, Coach Harold Bradley said Tuesday.

Arnold, 6-2, and Lake, 6-4, led Haltom City to a third-place finish in Class AAAA of the boys state schoolboy basketball tournament this year.

Arnold averaged 22.5 points a game. Lake had an average of 16 points per game.

Bradley said Arnold had been approached by about 40 colleges and universities with scholarship offers.

"Just about everybody thinks he's the top guard prospect in the state," Bradley said of Arnold.

Coyotes Explode On Rider

ONE DOUBLE COMING UP — Coyote batter Trent Capps found this pitch to his liking and belted a double to center field in the third inning of a game with Rider Tuesday. He later scored the sixth run for the Pack. On the mound for the Raiders is David Casey. Ready to receive, but thwarted in this attempt, is Carl Lane. The umpire is Earl Crawford. (Staff Photo)

By TED LEACH

The Coyotes unloaded their big timber here Tuesday afternoon, belted Rider for 13 hits and stopped a six-game losing streak with a 10-4 victory.

It was the first win for the Pack in its last non-conference outing. It was Rider's opening.

The Coyotes got four extra base hits and several times sent Raider outfielders near the wall to haul down long smashes as they dominated things pretty well. The only thing that kept it from being a perfect contest—as far as the winners were concerned — were five errors, three by shortstop Trent Capps.

Mickey Pemberton went the distance, scattered six hits and walked only one in picking up the victory. He has lost two. David Casey was tagged with the loss, although the Coyotes managed only four earned runs.

Scoring - wise, the contest was decided in the first two innings when the Coyotes struck for five runs.

Five hits, including John Runge's two - run double, got the show on the road and it was 3-0 before Casey could stem the tide. Al Syverson's double was the only hit for the Coyotes in the second, but they scored two with the aid of two errors and a fielder's choice.

Rider cut the lead by one on a nifty double steal with pitcher Casey taking second and batterymate Carl Lane coming home on the same play.

A double by Capps, a stolen base and an infield out gave the Pack a 6-1 lead in the top of the third. Rider got two in the home half of the stanza on a single by John Easterling and three Coyote errors, two by Capps.

The Coyotes added insurance runs in the sixth. A double by Jimmy Boyd produced one and Boyd pulled a double steal with Sonny McDougle to score the other.

Rider's final run was in the last of the sixth. Casey reached first on an infield single, was moved up a notch by Joe Ball's shot to center field and scored when Billy Watts beat out an infield grounder.

The Pack wrapped it up on a single by Mike McBride, a bunt single Mike Jenkins, an error on Wigington and a solid single by pinch hitter Clifford Brown.

Boyd was again the Coyote's big stick, producing three hits in five trips to the plate, including the third inning double. Brown and John Runge got two RBI's apiece. Ball was the only Raider with two safeties.

The Coyotes open District 4-AAAA action at Richland Hills Friday. Rider hosts Duncan at Spudder Park Thursday in its next outing.

Odds Against Charles Repeating At Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — History indicates lefty Bob Charles of New Zealand will have difficulty as the defending champion in the opening Thursday of the $50,000 Houston Golf Classic.

No champion has ever repeated in the 16-year history of the Classic and seven of the former defenders, including Arnold Palmer, have failed to make the 36 or 54-hole cuts.

Cary Middlecoff, the 1953 winner in a five-way playoff, was the runner-up to Dave Douglas in 1954 but no other defender has managed to finish higher than an eighth place tie.

Charles collected $10,000 one year ago and was the first left-hander ever to win a PGA sponsored tournament. His 67-66-66-69—268 set Classic records for 72 and 54 holes.

Charles, the British Open champion, will be testing a new course this year. His record 268 was carded at the 7,021-yard par 35-35—70 Memorial Municipal Course. The Classic, after 11 years at Memorial, has moved to the 7,223-yard par 35-36—71 Sharpstown Country Club course.

The New Zealand bank clerk probably will share the role as pre-tournament favorite with Jack Nicklaus and Dave Marr, who tied as runner-up to Palmer in Sunday's Masters finish.

Nicklaus, with a 72-hole 278, placed third in a three-way playoff with Bobby Nichols and Dan Sikes in the 1962 Classic. He finished fourth last year with a 273.

Marr, a Houston native who who is a bit familiar with the Sharpstown course, has played in eight Classics. Since finishing in 60th place as an amateur in 1952, Marr has finished in the money each year since 1957 but his $4,114.34 total winnings include nothing better than a fifth place tie in 1962.

Musick Mows Down Lawton

BURKBURNETT — Mike Musick hurled a three-hit shutout and Burkburnett found a weakness in Lawton's fielding to post a 4-0 victory over the Sooners here Tuesday.

It was the season opener for the Bulldogs, members of District 4-AAA. Burk plays at Wichita Falls Wednesday, meeting Hirschi in a 4 p.m. contest at Spudder Park.

The Bulldogs scored runs in the fourth and fifth to ice the win for Musick. All were unearned.

Joe Montgomery was safe on an error to lead off the fourth and moved to second when Richard Hammer was likewise given a free ticket to first via an error. Wally Robinson sacrificed the runners up a base and Montgomery scored when Lawton tried a pickoff at second base. The relay to the plate let Hammer go to third and Musick drove him in with a sacrifice fly.

With one out in the fifth, David Slater hit a fly to center that was dropped for a three-base error. Montgomery singled him home. Hammer hit into a force out at second, Robinson walked and Hammer scored when Lawton booted Owens' grounder in the infield.

That was all Musick needed. The crafty Bulldog ace allowed only three walks while striking out seven.

Soviet Cagers Begin Training

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet national basketball team began training Tuesday for three games against the U.S. AAU team starting April 21.

Alexandr Gomelsky, senior coach of the Soviet team, has brought 16 players to Moscow. After five days of training he will name 12 who will play for the USSR against the United States—and probably form the nucleus of the Russian Olympic basketball team.

Gomelsky believes the coming games will be helpful in guiding the training of the team for the Tokyo games. He expects the Olympics will bring a struggle between Russia and the United States for the gold medal.

Soviet trainers think such players as 7-foot-2 Janis Krumins, 6-7 Jak Lipso, 6-7 Gennady Volnov and guards Armenak Alachachan and Alexandr Travin can compete on even terms with the Americans. Krumins and Alachachin, both 33, are the veterans of the Russian team.

Jet-Sped Boat Rams In Shore

PARKER, Ariz. (AP)—A jet powered aluminum boat ran out of racing room on Lake Havasu while shooting an estimated 300 miles per hour Tuesday and ran ashore. The driver jumped into shallow water and was reported critically injured.

A spokesman for the Harvey Aluminum Co., here for tests of the "Hustler" aimed at breaking the world water speed record, gave this account:

Lee Taylor, 29, a veteran driver from Downey, Calif., was making by far his fastest run during two days of tests.

For reasons unknown, he got up to about 300 m.p.h. along the four-mile test run and failed to slow in time. When it became obvious he was going to roar onto the beach, he flipped off his cockpit canopy and jumped.

He landed in shallow water about 100 yards from shore and perhaps brushed against jagged underwater rocks as he splashed along. The boat hit the beach with its motor still going and scraped about 25 feet up a steep incline, damaging its bow and bottom.

An Army helicopter hovered overhead and a man jumped in to help Taylor. As the two were being hoisted, the helicopter crashed.

A party from shore rescued the two and Taylor was flown to Sunrise Hospital, Las Vegas, Nev.

Attendants said he suffered fractures of the skull, hip, ankle and hand and multiple contusions and abrasions.

Phils Tame Wild Mets

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies took advantage of a brief wild spell by left-hander Al Jackson and rode Roy Sievers' three-run homer in the first inning to a 5-3 National League opening game victory over the New York Mets Tuesday night.

After opening the game by striking out Tony Taylor, the Mets' pitcher lost his control and walked both John Callison and rookie Richie Allen. Sievers then smashed a home run into the left field seats and the Phillies were off to a 3-0 lead.

Jackson, a 13-game winner last year, gave up another run in the second when Clay Dalrymple singled, took second on a wild pitch and scored on Bobby Wine's long single to center.

Jackson then settled down, and after being clipped for a single by Allen to start the third, retired the next 16 batters.

The Mets took advantage of the slippery field in the fifth to score two runs. Both Dick Smith and Amado Samuel were credited with singles as Allen fell on the slippery turf on both plays. After Ron Hunt hit into a double play, a single by Frank Thomas and a walk to Jim Hickman loaded the bases and chased Philadelphia starter Dennis Bennett.

Catcher Bob Taylor singled to center off reliever Johnny Klippstein, scoring two runs and the Phillies led only 4-3. Joe Christopher had homered for the first run in the fourth.

Klippstein, however, checked New York on two hits the rest of the way, while the Phillies added their final run in the eighth on a single by Callison and Allen's double.

Koufax Blanks Cards On 6-Hits

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sandy Koufax, opening the new season as brilliantly as he finished the old one, pitched a six-hit shutout Tuesday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated St. Louis 4-0.

Frank Howard drove in two of the Dodger runs with a 420-foot homer and Ron Fairly and Jim Gilliam singled in one each.

Koufax, who had a 4-0 record against the Cardinals last season, didn't allow an extra-base hit and let St. Louis get only one runner to second base.

This was Sandy's 10th consecutive victory, counting two over the New York Yankees in the 1963 World Series, and his 20th in his last 22 decisions. He struck out five and walked none.

Columbia Sold, Trials Planned

NEW YORK (AP)—Columbia, the 12-meter yacht which successfully defended the America's Cup against the British Sceptre in 1958, has been sold to a West Coast syndicate headed by Thomas Patrick Dougan of Newport Beach, Calif. The new owners will race her in the June trials to pick a Cup defender against Britain this September.

Cornelius Shields, acting for the estate of his late uncle Paul Shields, announced the sale Tuesday for a price "under $200,000."

Shields said that under the provisions of the estate the Columbia had to be sold.

Columbia will be one of four yachts competing in the trials this year. The others are Nefertitti, the new Constellation, and another yacht being built by the Auora syndicate headed by Pierre S. duPont of Wilmington, Del.

Jr. MWs Set Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Dewey Fragette, New York boxing agent, said Tuesday that Charley Austin of Phoenix, Ariz., had agreed to box Sandro Mazzinghi the world junior middleweight champion, April 24 at Rome in a non-title match.

Graham Wins Opener By Blanking Bowie

GRAHAM, Tex. (Special) — Dewey Bruton pitched a two-hit shutout as the Graham Steers downed the Bowie Jackrabbits, 5-0 at Bowie, Tuesday, in a season opener for Graham.

The Steers scored three runs in the first and two runs in the third and collected six hits. John Matzinger led the Graham attack with one hit and two rbi's. Pipkin was the loser.

The two teams meet again Friday at Graham.

Sudden Death Goal Squares Hockey Playoff

TORONTO (AP)—Detroit Red Wings speedster Larry Jeffrey poked home a close-in shot at 7:51 of sudden death overtime Tuesday night for a 4-3 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs that evened the Stanley Cup hockey series at one game each.

The defending champion Leafs, trailing 3-1 after two periods, surged back in the third session to tie the game at 3-3 in regulation time.

The sudden death period was all Detroit's as Leaf goalie Johnny Bower chalked up seven saves before Jeffrey sent in the winner. Detroit's Terry Sawchuk had only one save during the sudden death, reflecting how completely Detroit's offense dominated play.

The playoff series moved to Detroit for the third and fourth games Thursday and Saturday.

The score did not indicate how Detroit dominated play most of the way, the Wings outskating and outshooting the champion Leafs. Bower had 45 saves while Sawchuk had only 26.

Liston To Receive Money From 'Uncle'

WASHINTON (AP) — The government has agreed to release about two-thirds of the $2.5 million it tied up from the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay heavyweight title fight.

A spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service said Tuesday night that after consultations with Liston it had decided that the government's tax interest would be adequately protected by a lien covering more than $800,000. The lien is against Liston and his wife, Geraldine.

Two liens against corporations which Liston has an interest in were released. The corporations are Intercontinental Promotions Inc., and Delaware Advertising and Management Agency Inc.

Fifty-Two Hopefuls In '500' Time Trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Nine more entries increased the field for the Memorial Day 500-mile auto race to 52 cars Tuesday, with the list to be closed Wednesday midnight. Time trials will cut the field to 33 starters.

Mickey Thompson of Long Beach, Calif. entered three rear-engine cars with Ford engines. Two others will carry the familiar white paint of A. E. Dean of Long Beach, Calif.

Other cars were entered by Ed Kostenuk of Indianapolis, formerly of Victoria, B. C.; Myron E. Osborn of Denver; C. O. Prather of Arcadia, Calif., and Ernest L. Ruiz of Modesto, Calif.

Duane Carter of Indianapolis, veteran of 11 Indianapolis races, and Masten Gregory, American Grand Prix driver living in Paris, were named to drive two of the Thompson cars. The third was assigned to rookie Dave MacDonald of Riverside, Calif.

Bill Cheesebourg of Tucson, Ariz. was named for his sixth 500 in the Osborn car, a rebuilt roadster. Chuck Hulse of Downey, Calif., veteran of two Indianapolis starts, was nominated for one of the Dean cars, a lightweight roadster.

Kostenuk named himself as driver and rookie Dee Jones of Phoenix, Ariz. was listed for the Ruiz car. No driver was named for the second Dean car, a new rear-engine creation, or for the Prather entry.

Stops One With Nose

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Coach Pirates suffered a fracture of the nose Tuesday in a pre-game batting drill before the season's opener against the Chicago Cubs.

Narron was struck by a ball off the bat of Gene Alley. He tumbled to the ground and was carried off the field on a stretcher. Narron required 20 stitches about his right eye.

Complete Listings Of Stocks On New York Exchange

Blue Chips Bolster Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective gains by blue chips boosted stock market averages Tuesday even though a few more issues declined than advanced on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was moderately active.

Woolworth rose 2½, American Telephone 1⅜, Standard Oil (New Jersey) 1 and Kennecott ¾, among pivotal issues.

In the irregular list, however, there were fractional losses for such stocks as Chrysler, U.S. Steel, American Smelting, du Pont, General Electric, Goodyear and others.

Rails, utilities, airlines, retails, drugs were higher. The trend was lower among chemicals, electronics, aerospace issues and steels. Most other groups were mixed.

The news background was not especially stimulating. Wall Street still labored under the unresolved railway labor crisis and the income tax deadline.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 1.64 to 822.95.

Of the 1,352 issues traded, losers outnumbered gainers by 544 to 528. New highs for the year totaled 78 and new lows 23.

Volume was 5.13 million shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .9 to a new high of 304.7, topping the previous record of 304.1 made April 6. The industrials rose .9, rails .6 and utilities .6.

Airlines, while generally higher, encountered some profit taking. Western Air Lines fell 2¼ and Delta ⅛. Northwest Airlines gained 1⅜ and Pan American (ex dividend) 1⅜.

Rails were helped by the start of earnings reports which showed gains, as expected. Milwaukee Road rose 2⅜, Rock Island 1¼ and Chicago & North Western 1. New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads gained ⅛ each.

Prices were irregularly lower on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.39 million shares.

Corporate bonds were irregularly lower with rails higher. U.S. Government bonds improved.

AUSTIN (AP)—Poultry: South Texas steady 14.00. East Texas steady, supplies ample, fair demand, slaughter 497,300. At farm 13.25-14.20.

Grains Post Good Gains

CHICAGO (AP) — Demand improved steadily for grain futures and nearly all contracts posted moderate to good gains most of the time on the Board of Trade.

In the early afternoon, soybeans held gains of more than a cent a bushel in spots and rye was up almost two cents. Other grains had moved up major fractions at best.

Brokers said there appeared to have been a little export demand for soybeans but that activity was principally speculative in other pits.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ¾ cent a bushel higher, May $2.08¼-08; soybeans ½ to 1¾ higher, May $2.58-58⅛; corn ⅛ to ⅜ higher, May $1.23; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, May 64⅛ cents; rye ½ to 1½ higher, May $1.31½.

FORT WORTH (AP)—Wheat 1 hard 2.54-2.64; corn 2 yellow 1.49¼-1.51¼; oats 2 white 86½-88½; 2 yellow milo 2.26-2.31.

Air Force Seeks Weather Officers

Expanding U.S. Air Force weather forecasting facilities throughout the free world has caused a shortage of college graduates with training in meteorology.

After completing officer training school and a 90-day orientation program at San Antonio, the newly commissioned officer is sent to weather school.

As he serves with one of the more than 400 weather stations in 27 foreign countries, the air force weather officer also has opportunities to continue his education at air force expense.

Time for a Checkup?

Who knows, maybe it is. After all, you get a checkup on everything else — your health, your kids, the car.

So why not your investments, too?

After all, times change — and so do security values. The stocks you bought five years ago may have been just fine for your purposes then — but what about now?

Maybe your objectives have changed.

Maybe other stocks offer far better opportunities.

Maybe there are definite weak spots here and there in your portfolio.

That's why we think every investor should get a good financial checkup from time to time . . . find out just what his investment program looks like to a practiced, impartial observer.

And if you'd like to know what we think of the stocks you own, we'll be happy to tell you.

Our Research Department will mail you an objective review of your present portfolio, give you all the facts they can about any particular stocks you may want to buy or sell, or suggest a complete investment program for any sum, any objective.

There's no charge for this service, either. Whether you're a customer or not.

If you'd like an investment checkup, just write us a letter outlining your own situation and objectives. You simply address—

Hollywood And Vine

By HEDDA HOPPER

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—The life story of General Douglas MacArthur will be filmed. The national magazine that bought his story also got the movie and television rights and chose Mitchell Hamilburg, Hollywood agent, to represent the magazine in the film sale.

Along with MacArthur's aide, Gen. Courtney Whitney and Edward K. Thompson of the magazine, Hamilburg spent an hour with the general in his Waldorf Tower apartment a week before he went to the hospital.

"It is an hour I shall never forget," Hamilburg said. "I saw the original manuscript — about four inches thick, written completely in longhand. Every line of it was penned by MacArthur. There was not a quiver in the penmanship and not a single comma had to be changed.

"MacArthur made several excellent suggestions about the filming of his life, but as we were leaving he said, 'Mr. Hamilburg, I wouldn't make this picture now. People will understand my manuscript and my life much better after I'm gone.' 'But I want you to see it, general,' I protested. He smiled, then added, 'It will have much greater value after I'm gone.'

"As the three of us went out the door, something hit us. His great intuition had been working again."

Ann Blyth In Dallas

Ann Blyth's friends want news of her, and I have it. She will play in "Sound of Music" on the stage five weeks during the summer. Her opening date in it is at the Dallas Summer Musicals for two weeks in June, then Indianapolis, Atlanta, and Highland Park, Ill.

She was wanted for more, but five weeks away from her family is long enough, Ann said.

"Three Coins in the Fountain," directed by Jean Negulesco, was ones of the most successful pictures of recent years. When I heard that Negulesco's next assignment, "The Pleasure Seekers," was a remake, I asked him about it.

"Not exactly," Negulesco answered. "Instead of Rome, this picture is set in Madrid. And instead of three girls and three men, I'm using four. Naturally the problems of American girls living in Madrid are similar to those in 'Three Coins,' but this is 1964, so we will have more difficulties."

The director has signed Ann-Margret, Carol Lynley, Pamela Tiffin, Gardner McKay and Andre Lawrence, a European actor.

He says his wife, Dusty, who is living in their Madrid apartment, is very happy in Spain.

"All American women are," he added. "Every time they take out a cigaret, seven guys break their necks to light it for them."

Nixes Broadway

Susan Oliver decided to skip Broadway for more pictures. I told her to get one with Cary Grant or Steve McQueen. She knows them both.

Before Steve married Neile Adams, he took Susan for a ride on his motorcycle in New York. They had 20 cents between them and wound up in Harlem out of gas. A dime bought more fuel, and they used the other dime to phone her father, who had just arrived in town from Tokyo.

This is a different story about a madam. Paramount Studios' is making Polly Adler's life, so now San Francisco's Sally Stanford is having her story put on film.—

Bruce Campbell bought the rights to "The Lady of the House," which will be published as a book this month, and intends to film the picture in its actual locale—the Bay City. He believes Shirley MacLaine would be the perfect madam.

Incidentally, Sally retired from her business 20 years ago, runs a mighty successful restaurant in Sausalito, and is running for councilwoman from her district.

Tickets Go On Sale For Talk By Tower

VERNON, Tex. (Special) — The Junior Chamber of Commerce has opened ticket sales for an April 20 address by U.S. Sen. John Tower of Wichita Falls before the national U.S. Highway 287 convention here.

After tentative confirmation earlier, subject to his schedule in the senate, Senator Tower wired local representatives of the U.S. 287 Association he would definitely be here as planned.

The public is invited because of general interest in the senator's speech. The public will join more than a hundred expected delegates to the highway convention.

The convention is scheduled at Wilbarger Memorial Auditorium April 19-21. J. Weldon Watson, Texas executive director of parks and wildlife, is scheduled to speak Monday noon and State Highway Commissioner Hal Woodward of Coleman will speak to the convention.

A caravan is planned to escort Senator Tower from Wichita Falls. He will spend the afternoon Monday in meetings with local Republican groups.

CHILLICOTHE, Tex. — The Red River regional Bloodmobile is scheduled to visit Chillicothe Thursday at the Lions Hall from noon to 6 p.m.

The visit will be the third of the Bloodmobile to Chillicothe and is sponsored by the Bluebonnet Study Club. S. M. Anderson, administrator of the Chillicothe Hospital, is chairman of the blood program here.
