Defense Lines Of Dardanelles Gain Strength

Carrier To Leave Today With Load Of Army Planes

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The United States moved speedily today to shore up air and sea defenses of the Dardanelles now guarded by 700,000 Turkish troops.

Carrying a cargo of former U. S. Air Force planes, the escort carrier Rendova was due to sail today from San Francisco for Istanbul.

Is First Of Three

The Navy announced late yesterday that this is the first of three shipments of plane which will be delivered under the Greek-Turkish military aid program. Two other escort carriers will make the ferrying trips from Norfolk in May and June.

The announcement did not say how many planes will be transported. The 12,000-ton escort carriers normally carry up to 90 Navy folding wing planes, but probably not more than 30 or 40 Army planes could be handled.

The carriers will make a ten-day stay in Yesilkoy, an outer port for Istanbul, the Navy said.

Meanwhile four late-model submarines are preparing to leave New London, Conn., for an unnamed Turkish port.

The subs, also transferred under the military aid program, will be manned by American crews for the delivery voyage. Turkish seamen trained in this country will be aboard the undersea craft.

An American military mission of about 260 men already is in Turkey giving instruction in use of military equipment furnished by the United States. The mission includes some 100 ground force officers and men, 100 from the Air Force, about 40 from the Navy and 20 experts on road construction.

Started In February

A smaller mission assigned to Greece is helping direct government forces in military operations against the Communist-led guerrillas.

Maj. Gen. Horace L. McBride, head of the Turkish mission disclosed recently that the "big shipment" of military supplies started in February. He did not say what types of equipment were being delivered, by the Army said last month they included about 100 light tanks. About 60 M-24 tanks armed with 77-mm guns, along with some 105-mm guns, trucks and ammunition were in one shipment on March 17.

In recent weeks American officials have expressed fear that Russia will step up its drive to gain control of the strategic Dardanelles. There were similar fears last year. They prompted President Truman to ask Congress then for the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program.

The program is due to be expanded with $275,000,000 in new military aid.

Senate-House Experts Speed Final Version

Compromise To Be Drafted; Details Only Differences

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Senator and House members working out a compromise foreign aid bill agreed today to strike Spain from the list of nations eligible to share in the aid.

They acted within less than an hour after the White House announced that President Truman is "utterly opposed" to this provision.

The House put this "welcome Franco" provision into its bill. The Senate had rejected the idea.

Decision Is Announced

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) announced the compromise committee's decision to drop Spain. The committee is made up of five senators and five House members.

Decisions of the committee are subject to ratification by the Senate and House.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross had announced Mr. Truman's views while the congressional group was meeting.

House passage of its $6,205,000,000 measure by better than a four-to-one margin handed the job to the compromisers last night.

The goal is to get a bill to President Truman before the week runs out. Both Senate and House will have to vote first on the compromise.

Differences Over Details

What the experts agree to will be the final terms of a program to use America's billions and military knowledge to help Europe and China hold the line against Communism.

On that broad purpose there is no disagreement between the Senate and House. Differences are over details.

What the House approved by a 329-to-74 ballot was a wrap-up bill to provide assistance for Europe, Greece, Turkey and China. Leaders had set April 1 as a deadline and barely squeezed the measure under the wire.

Passed Three Bills

The Senate previously had passed three separate bills, one for Europe, one for China and a third for Greece and Turkey.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the Senate foreign relations committee already has agreed to

$3 Billion Top Set On Extra Defenses

Truman Basing Plans On Assumption That War Will Not Break Out In Near Future

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1—President Truman advised Congress today that an additional $3,000,000,000 will be asked for national defense.

Mr. Truman made this known in a letter to House Speaker Martin (Mass.)

In the letter, the President also asked that the Treasury department be authorized immediately to contract for $375,000,000 to build up stocks of strategic and critical materials.

The President said the request for the extra $3,000,000,000 for defense will be sent to Congress shortly. It will be on top of the $11,000,000,000 already requested for national defense for the 12 months beginning next July 1.

Before Mr. Truman's letter, a ranking official told reporters the President had put a top limit of around $3,000,000,000 on the extra money the armed forces would ask right now for preparedness.

This man, who asked not to be identified by name, said the President based his decision to halve the military's own request on the assumption that war is not inevitable and in any event will not break out soon.

He said the President told the chiefs of the armed forces in laying down the top figure that he wants "a peace program, not a war program."

Earlier, White House officials had forecast a top of about $4,000,000,000. The possibility remains that items not of a direct military nature may be added.

One such proposal is the building of new merchant vessels which could be converted into troopships. But even if a ship program is

Americans To Use Planes In Berlin Sector

Train Travel Is Blocked By Red Inspection Order

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, April 1.—The U. S military government stopped its train service between Berlin and the American zone today because of suddenly imposed Russian traffic restrictions, and protested strongly to the Russians.

The Americans resorted to expanded air travel.

Britain and France joined in protesting the Russian order, effective last midnight, that all motor and rail passengers and freight entering the Soviet zone undergo Russian inspection at border control points. Four British and American trains were halted by Russians this morning.

Surrender Of Sovereignty

Allied authorities said the Russian action in effect, was a demand that the three western powers surrender sovereignty on their trains and submit to a squeeze on their position in Berlin.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the U. S. military governor, said for the time being all U. S. military train travel to and from Berlin is cancelled. He said special flights from Frankfort, U. S. zone headquarters, to the U. S. controlled templehof airport in Berlin will serve as a temporary stop-gap.

Clay said the Russian stoppage of train traffic could not be broken immediately without force. Berlin is an island of four-power control deep in the Soviet zone. It is more than 100 miles by rail or road from the nearest border point in the British zone, and farther from the American and French zones.

Discussions Are Asked

The British asked the Russians for immediate discussions. If the issue leads to a meeting of the four military governors, it will be the first session since the breakdown of four-power administration caused by the Russians' walkout on the March 20 meeting of the control council.

The Russian order seemed directed principally at freight. In their checks of motor transport, passenger automobiles were passed perfunctorily, but truck cargoes were inspected closely.

This recalled the recent Communist propaganda line in Germany that great quantities of machines and equipment were being spirited out of the Soviet sector into the other sectors of the city

General Strike Threat Voiced

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP) — Union threats of "a general strike in Wall Street" raised a new issue today in the four-day old strike of 1,100 workers at the stock and curb exchanges.

First hint of this development came late yesterday when AFL seamen's unions threw picket lines around two financial district office buildings.

In unison they shouted: "General strike in Wall street." Leaflets were distributed saying: "Brokerage employes in this building be ready for a general strike of all Wall street and the entire financial district."

Pickets Maintained

Throughout the day, eight picket lines were maintained at entrances to the stock exchange, where AFL United Financial Employes workers are striking. One line marched before the curb exchange.

Police packed themselves closely around the three principal lines at the main stock exchange entrance. There was no violence, but pickets shouted invective at brokers, non-strikers and others who crossed their lines.

After the market closed at 3 p. m., yesterday the Seafarers International Union and the Sailors Union of the Pacific placed seven picket lines around 70 Pine street and 61 Broadway. The two unions are picketing in sympathy with the UFE. There was no immediate explanation for the action.

Greater Oil Production Asked; Rationing System Is Studied

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1. — The government appealed today for greater petroleum production.

Secretary of the Interior Krug asked the cooperation of governors of major producing states to bring about maximum output.

He stressed, however, that sound conservative practices should not be ignored.

Needs for the armed forces, motor and tractor fuel this summer, and heating and industrial fuel oil next winter require additional production, Krug said.

Appeal To Governors

His appeal went to the governors of Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

It was made public as oil industry leaders met to decide wheather to set up a voluntary gasoline rationing system to cope with an expected shortage this summer.

A 33-member petroleum industry advisory committee, holding its first meeting with Secretary of the Interior Krug, was expected to offer plans to keep vital services fueled with gasoline and oil during the next 12 months.

The session was arranged under

Wintry Winds And Sweltering Heat Felt

Texas Weather Just Full Of Tricks On April Fool's Day

(By The Associated Press)

Texas weather was full of tricks this April Fools' day.

Temperatures were as far apart as the two poles.

In the Panhandle wintry winds held forth, sending temperatures down to 20 degrees at Amarillo and Pampa.

Lubbock, just getting its face wiped free of Tuesday's dust, shivered in 22 degrees.

It was two degrees below freezing at El Paso, which had six types of weather yesterday . . . sun, dust, snow, sleet, hail and 56 miles-an-hour wind.

On the other hand, lower down the Rio Grande, towns basked in warm sun. One of them, Laredo, was the hottest spot in the nation yesterday, sweltering in 93-degree weather. Brownsville was the warmest spot this morning, reporting 64 degrees.

Hail also pelted a one-mile strip near Kenedy in South Texas last night. It was described as one of the heaviest hail storms in that section in years. Stones up to a half inch in diameter fell for ten minutes. Little property damage was reported, but the flax crop may have suffered heavily.

Skies generally were clear today. An exception was in the area south of Dallas and along the upper coast. Scattered showers fell in the Austin and Big Spring sections yesterday.

Fair and continued cold was forecast for West Texas tonight. Friday will be warmer. For East Texas it will be fair and cool, with fresh northerly winds on the coast.

Laugh Champ Believes That World Is Just Aching For Real Loud Guffaws

(By The United Press)

PAWTUCKET, R. I., April 1.—National Laugh week starts today and the loudest laughing man in the world thinks it's the time to plug for peace with a quip.

"This old world is hurting for some real loud guffaws and I aim to provide some," Sam Hyder, a 57-year-old Pawtucket mill worker who once was arrested for laughing too loud, said.

Rollickin' Sam is the nation's undisputed belly-laugh baron and no one has questioned his claim to the world title. Loud laughing always fascinated him and he's worked on his technique till now windows rattle when he cuts loose.

"Haven't been doing much public laughing since last May when they hauled me in court and fined me $4.60 for letting a good heehaw in the business district," he confided.

"But I'm in trim. I'm in trim. I'm in trim. I'm fit to bust with th laughs I've got stored up. Way I figure it is if a few of us start going maybe other folks will start laughing and—who knows—maybe the whole world will take it up. I'm doing my part starting today.

Gov. Earl Long Is Visitor In Lubbock

A stir of excitement was created in a cafe on College avenue this morning when it was learned Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana was there.

EARL LONG

His identity was learned after postcards bearing Governor Long's picture were given to a waitress by members of the party, which included three men in addition to the governor.

The party had come here from El Paso and decided while eating breakfast in the cafe to go to Big Spring from here. They wanted to "see the country," conversation indicated, it was said at the cafe.

The governor was dressed in a suede jacket, checked shirt, big hat and slacks. A member of the party was dressed as a cowboy and cafe workers were told that he was owner of a steamship line. He was addressed as "Captain."

ACTION IS CALLED "MISGUIDED"

Concern Is Felt Over Negro Attitude On Draft And UMT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1—Senator Morse (R-Ore) voiced deep concern today over a threat by two negro leaders to call millions of their race to a sit-down strike against UMT and the draft.

Their purpose, the negroes said, is to force an end to segregation and racial discrimination by the armed forces.

The threat came from A. Philip Randolph, president of the AFL Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, and Grant Reynolds, New York state commissioner of correction. Both are officers of the "committee against Jim Crow in military service and training."

State-Aid Grants To Be Given Sooner

Banks Advised Not To Hold Teachers Responsible For Check Deficiencies

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 1—Texas bankers today were advised not to require rural aid school teachers to assume personal responsibility for deficiency salary checks.

The advice was contained in a letter mailed out by V. A. Kirkland of Houston, president of the Texas Bankers association, to member bankers.

Kirkland's letter was made public by Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

Kirkland's recommendation was based on action taken earlier today by the joint legislative committee on rural aid.

The committee requested the state superintendent of public instruction to pay 50 per cent of 1948 state-aid grants to equalization school districts the first week in September. These funds usually do not become available until November.

Dr. L. A. Woods agreed to this suggestion, designed to encourage bankers to make loans to school districts at the present time.

Rural aid school districts are more than two million dollars short of funds for the current school year, or an average of $150 per teacher, legislative account-

Building Total Exceeds 1947

New construction in Lubbock during the first quarter this year exceeded that for the same period last year by $12,449 despite a record-breaking building permit total during March, 1947, City Building Inspector Lloyd Ross reported this morning.

The $3,127,137 authorized during the first three months this year exceeds the amount for any first quarter in Lubbock history, he said. It compares with $3,114,688 last year.

Record Set For Homes

Construction this year includes record smashing figures for residence building. Authorized were 323 dwellings costing $1,855,267, nearly double the previous records of 164 residences costing $928,981 during the first quarter last year.

More than half the new construction authorized to April 1, 1947, was accounted for by three permits—two for junior high school buildings costing $613,342 each and one for the new Texas Technological college stadium costing $363,000.

With these, the March, 1947, building permit total reached $2,254,513 to set a record for the month. The total for January, last year, was $405,915 and for February, $454,260.

Totals By Months

Totals by months this year are: January, $719,792; February, $1,259,097, and March, $1,148,248.

Residence building records by months during the first quarters of this year and last follow:

Youth Is Held For Burglary

Police said this morning they had cooperated with Moore's Bonded patrol to "clear" one burglary, reported Jan. 21 by Hall Produce company at 1212 Ave. A, but they and the sheriff's department were investigating two other similar cases.

Seventeen-year-old James R. Turner was charged with the Hall burglary, and gave a voluntary statement to police, it was announced by Capt. Pat Davidson of the police detective bureau. Forty-six dollars in "chance" was taken in the burglary. None of the money had been announced recovered.

On March 29, the place was burglarized again. A compass was taken. It had been recovered, officials said.

Turner asked bail in the justice court of C. E. Lynn, who bound him over to await grand jury action under bond of $1,000.

O. E. Johnson, of route 3 Levelland, informed the sheriff's department his residence had been burglarized and that a vacuum sweeper had been taken.

Police were informed that a residence nearing completion at 2623 Thirty-seventh had been broken and entered and that white paint had been poured over hardwood floors and windows, and that kerosene had been emptied on the kitchen flooring.

Patrolmen Pete Hubbard and George Hall questioned three boys, 13, 12 and 11 in connection with the case. The two older boys admitted smearing the floors, the patrolmen said, and the three admitted the recent unauthorized taking of a hatchet, claw hammer, two bikes, screwdrivers, a wheelbarrow wheel, perhaps other property, the investigators said.

Juvenile officials will continue investigation of the case, it was indicated.

The sheriff's department said that Harold Peinkert, 20, of Levelland, had posted $1,500 bond set Wednesday by D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, in binding him over to grand jury action on a charge of forgery.

Clothing valued at $165 was reported stolen from the apartment of Farrel Reeder, of 1902 Seventh. The articles consisted of a tuxedo, a blue-gray suit, a shirt and pair of shoes.

E. S. Blair, of 2411 North Third, reported theft of a red and white bike valued at $32.50.

adopted, the official said, it will not be near the $1,500,000,000-size mentioned in some preparedness discussions.

The official said the President took the position that:

1. The new program—stressing an increase in trained men through the draft and universal military training—would help assure peace by showing Russia that the United States is capable of acting to stop Communist aggression.

2. It also would be within the spending limits that Mr. Truman thinks the nation can bear without the threat of sharp inflation and full-scale wartime curbs — rationing, price ceilings and manpower controls.

The official said the president is determined to dovetail the preparedness program and foreign aid spending into other government operations in such a way as to hold the inflationary impact to a minimum.

The activities of the agencies working on the various programs will be centralized directly under the President to keep the flow of extra billions from creating an unnecessary strain, this official said.

The official who told of the new $3,000,000,000 military figure said it was accepted by Secretary of Defense Forrestal at a White House conference last week attended by the Army-Navy-Air Force chiefs of staff.

Before that, he said, the armed forces' chiefs had said they would need at least $6,000,000,000 to reach the minimum strength needed at the outset of a war.

ant Preston Hutchinson said today.

Gov. Jester has promised he will ask the next legislature to make an emergency appropriation to cover this shortage as well as one anticipated in the next school year.

Jester said the letter being sent by Kirkland states in part:

"I am advised that on Sept. 1, 1948, there will be mailed to the depository banks of each equalization school district a warrant in substantially the amount needed to solve the current problem. In light of this information and the assurance that the money will be available to the school districts on Sept. 1, I see no necessary to require the teachers to assume personal responsibility for the obligations mentioned in my previous letter."

Kirkland previously had advised bankers to make teachers personally responsible as endorsers of deficiency checks. The bankers have been reluctant to make loans which would be backed only by the good faith of the legislature to pass an emergency appropriation.

War Assets Clamps Freeze On Surplus

DALLAS, April 1 (AP)—Acting on orders from Washington, the War Assets administration in Dallas today clamped a freeze order on the disposition of war surplus properties at numerous military installations in the Southwest.

Simultaneously, the WAA announced it had launched a survey of "dozens of inactive military installations" in the Southwest to determine up-to-the-minute facts on the disposal of goods.

An explanation of micro-waves and their application to the field of communications, was outlined in story, chart and demonstration before the Kiwanis club luncheon today at Hotel Lubbock, by George Hutson, of the information department of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company. The program had been presented for the Rotary club Wednesday.

Two numbers were given by the Westernaires, local barbershop quartet affiliated with the SPEBSQSA, in conjunction with announcement by Harry Delaney of the Parade of Quartets and Harmony show to be held here April 10. In the quartet were Bob Dennis, Bob Hufstedler, Jack Hall, and Bob Roberson. The parade, which will bring noted quartets from many parts of the nation, is to be held at the high school auditorium.

terms of the Republican anti-inflation act passed late last year.

An Interior department spokesman said the group would consider voluntary "regulations" to guarantee fuel for these and other essential uses:

Gasoline this summer—farm vehicles, planting and harvesting equipment; doctors' cars, ambulances, police and fire vehicles.

Fuel oil next winter—factories producing essential goods; hospitals and schools; homes where there are small children or aged or ailing persons.

Government officials have said the gasoline shortage is expected to be felt most keenly during the late summer harvests. A fuel oil shortage next winter may be even more critical than the one last winter, they contend.

Largest On Record

But James Brown, secretary of the National Petroleum Council, minimized the shortage possibilities. Gasoline stocks on March 20 were the largest on record, he told a reporter.

"Unless the military comes up with greatly increased demands, there should be no need to ration fuels," Brown said.

"There could be local difficulties for a few days at a time, particularly in the planting and harvest seasons. But there will be caused mainly by transportation problems rather than production."

Brown said civilian gasoline usage this year will run five to six per cent above 1947. But scheduled production boosts of about 200,000 barrels daily should cover that rise, he added.

Shouldn't Be Overtaxed

As for military buying, "it should not overtax the industry," the council official reported. Army, Navy and Air Force requirements for the year starting July 4 are figured now at 115,000,000 barrels of all petroleum products, or a gain of only 7,000,000 from the present year.

However Interior department officials say they are frankly concerned over the impact on oil and gas supplies if Congress approves a large-scale preparedness drive.

follow the House lead on a single bundle bill.

The basic parts of the House and Senate bills are pretty much alike.

Both provide for a $5,300,000,000 one-year European recovery program to help 16 nations get back on their feet.

Both have voted $275,000,000 in additional military aid for Greece and Turkey.

Both have voted for economic help for China, the House for $420,000,000 for 15 months, the Senate $363,000,000 for 12 months.

In addition, the House included $150,000,000 marked definitely for military aid for China. And the Senate approved an extra $100,000,000 that could be used for any purposes, including military.

Ad administrator of cabinet rank would run the European program. He would work closely with the Secretary of State. The President would referee diifferences.

The 16 European nations, who want Amrican help to become strong enough to stay outside Russia's iron curtain, would have to sign an agreement on terms with this country. Also they would have to agree to help each other.

Nations Are Listed

These 16 nations are Britain, France, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Portugal, Switzerland, Iceland, Greece, Turkey, Eire, Denmark and Austria.

But the door would stay open for Russia and her satellites to come into an economic recovery program if they, too, ever agree to cooperate on the right terms.

and zones of occupation. The western authorities say this claim is greatly exaggerated.

Planes To Be Used

Lt. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay's Air Force headquarters at Wiesbaden said it was hoped to put into operation all planes necessary to move the normal number of train passengers and keep the more than 10,000 Americans in Berlin supplied with food.

Royal Air Force headquarters in Hamburg said no plans were being made there to supply the British population of Berlin by air.

A British official in Hamburg noted that there has been a marked increase in the strength of Russian control forces facing the British zone in the past 48 hours. He said the flow of illegal refugees from the Russiar to the British zone was unusually small today, adding he did not think "many people care to cross the frontier under present circumstances."

Tighter In Austria

A similar situation appeared to be developing in Austria. A Vienna dispatch said Russian troops are reported tightening their restrictions on Americans entering the Russian zone en route to Vienna, which, like Berlin, is under four-power control. The report was attributed to travelers.

Clay conferred with his British counterpart, Lt. Gen. Sir Grian Robertson, on the Russian move, which was sprung on the western powers with less than 24 hours notice.

The position of the western powers was one of waiting for replies from the Russians to their protest notes. These notes, delivered last night, rejected the Russian measures as unacceptable and a violation of Allied agreements.

Latest Tension Issue

The issue was the latest to arise between Russia and the Western Allies in the four-power control of Germany.

(In Moscow, Yuri Korolkov wrote in the Communist newspaper Pravda, "the partition of Germany has become a completed fact." He said the control council "has factually ceased to exist as the supreme four-power authority for Germany.")

The Russians demanded yesterday that, starting at midnight, all passengers and freight entering their zone be subjected to inspection at the border control points.

British and American authorities ordered their train commanders not to yield to this demand. The result was that four passenger trains were stopped at Marienborn, Soviet check point some five miles east of the border with the British zone.

American Trains Return

Two American trains returned to Helmstedt to the west in the British zone. Clay said they would go on back to Frankfurt and the passengers would be brought to Berlin by air. Two British trains stayed at Marienborn. The British arranged to send a dining car from Hannover to feed the stranded passengers and crew.

American officials said the French have indicated they will stand with the U. S. and Britain in opposition to the Soviet restrictions.

The French permitted their incoming train from Paris to submit to Soviet border inspection today, but this was believed due to the fact orders had not yet gone out to train commanders to refuse Soviet attempts to come aboard.

The Russians this morning began to place restrictions on the transit of Allied personnel through their zone by automobile along the international highway. Only those Americans were let through who wore military uniforms.

It was indicated that if such incidents increased, formal protests would be made to the Russians.

for a limited draft revival and universal military training to back up this country's stop-Russia policy.

Morse told Randolph such a "civil disobedience" campaign would lead to charges of treason. But Randolph replied that he and other negroes "are willing to pay that price" in an effort to force the issue on civil rights.

"I don't think we can minimize the position Randolph took," Morse told newsmen. "He undoubtedly is an influential leader in his race.

Called Misguided

"It is a much misguided course of action. However, there is not ignoring the fact that minority groups in the United States, including negroes and other groups, feel grievously abused by our failure to put into practice the civil rights guarantees of the constitution."

Senator Baldwin (R-Conn) took a less serious view of the threat.

"I don't think Randolph and Reynolds speak for the negro race," he said. "We had other negro leaders who said they favor UMT and the draft."

Senator Gurney (R-SD) commented I didn't like what Randolph said. But he added he does not know how serious it might be.

Morse said he feels that Congress should make some definite progress in passing civil rights legislation. It was an anti-race discrimination message from President Truman earlier this year that caused southern Democrats to denounce the chief executive.

While questioning Randolph Morse asked whether he meant to say he will tell negroes "do not shoulder arms in protection of your country."

"That is correct," said Randolph. "I would be doing my country a great service. If it does not develop the Democratic processes at home, then it is not the type of country worth fighting for."

Baldwin remarked that one of the duties of a citizen is to bear arms against an enemy when called upon to do so.

But Randolph said negroes "never will" win civil rights until they take drastic steps. He said he has not found a single negro "who believes that negroes ought to fight in another war for Democracy in a Jim Crow army."

Sam made the city appreciate the value of a laugh when he was arrested that time. He didn't complain, but he vowed never to smile again. He clammed. He sat in the courtroom and stared out the window as though his heart was breaking.

Folks missed his guffaws. Mayor Ambrose McCoy and a group of businessmen trooped into the court and protested that Sam was a city trademark. Justice was blind, they said, but shouldn't be gagged.

Judge William M. Connell ordered Sam's fine refunded and immediately the biggest laugh ever laughed in Pawtucket thundered through the courtroom.

"Some sa that was the best one I ever let out," he said. "But believe me, I've got better ones coming."

Man Admits Perfect Murder, But Victim Very Much Alive

CHICAGO, April 1. (U.P.)—A 28-year-old man claimed today that he committed the "perfect murder" seven years ago but Houston, Tex., police said his "victim" was very much alive.

Harold Gudmanson told Chicago authorities that killed his sweetheart since childhood, Patricia Soule, 17, at Houston, when she refused to marry him.

Houston police, however, said they had found Miss Soule "definitely alive."

She Knew Him

Miss Soule told Houston officials that she had known Gudmanson some years ago. But, she said, that he either fabricated the story about killing her or else he was mistaken and had killed someone else.

Houston homicide detectives asked Chicago officers to hold Gudmanson until they could check whether he was connected with any unsolved murder cases there.

Chicago police said they would be only too glad to hold him. They had spent more than 15 hours listening to Gudmanson's "confession" after he telephoned from a flophouse in Chicago's skidrow and said he wanted to tell them about the "murder."

Should Write Fiction

"I still can't believe it isn't true," a detective said. "If it isn't, he's the fanciest liar I ever ran up against. The guy ought to be writing fiction."

Gudmanson's "confession" told a yarn about how he destroyed all clues and set up the "perfect crime" after "killing" Miss Soule in 1941.

Gudmanson claimed he had given Miss Soule a $60 engagement ring which she wore on a chain around her neck "because she was afraid the girls would tease her."

From then on, police said, his story became a literary gem.

"I loved her with all my heart," he said. "Then, one day in May of 1941, I rented a car from a friend of mine for $20 and went to Pat's house with a wedding license in my pocket.

Turned Him Down

"I asked Pat's mother if I could take Pat for a ride. We drove to a drive-in restaurant and had something to eat. Then I drove to a lonely spot near the restaurant to ask Pat to marry me.

"When I showed her the license, she turned me down. She said we were too young. I was terribly nervous. I wanted a cigaret but had no matches so I looked in the glove compartment.

"In there, I saw a .32 caliber Smith and Wesson revolver. That gave me an idea. I pulled the gun out and told Pat I would shoot her unless she promised to marry me.

Gudmanson said the girl refused again.

"I forced her out of the car," he said. "When we were about three feet from the car I shot her. The bullet hit in the upper part of the chest. She fell, wounded."

Wanted No Part

Gudmanson said he told the girl that he would take her to a hospital if she would marry him. She replied, he said, that she "wanted no part of me."

He said he shot her again, this time through the head, killing her instantly.

After that, he said, he sat for some time, figuring every detail of how to avoid trial for the murder. When his plan was complete, he went to work.

Leaving the girl's body, Gudmanson said he drove home and returned with a shovel, a knitting needle and a pair of forceps. He used the needle and forceps to remove the bullets from the girl's body and then buried her in a prairie near the mured site.

Bullets Were Smashed

He placed the bullets on a railroad track and watched a train smash them flat, he said. He disassembled the gun and scattered the parts over the country side.

Then he returned the car to its owner and went home.

He was the first suspect picked up by Houston police, he said, in their investigation of the girl's disappearance. He "beat the rap" by alibing that he had taken her to a movie and never saw her after he let her off near her home.

With no body or other clues, police were forced to release him.

"I hung around Houston for a year and worked up and down the Rio Grande valley," he said. "But my conscience began bothering me more and more. It almost drove me nuts."

Finally, he said, he married another Houston girl, hoping to find happiness that would let him forget the murder. They had two daughters, who now would be four and six years old.

Still his conscience goaded him. At last he left his family and went on the bum. He skidded lower and lower. Yesterday he decided to give himself up.

"It was that or suicide," he said. "I never meant to kill Pat. That only happened because I was so disappointed. It was afterwards that I figured all the angles to keep from being tried for it."

1,000 Laws Set Them Apart From Men

Women Seek Amendment Giving Them Equal Rights

By ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON.—Women, bless them, are on the march.

They want a new amendment to the constitution—and equal rights amendment. And since women are persistent creatures, they may get it.

This amendment would declare: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any states on account of sex."

1,000 Laws

Maybe you thought women had Equality now, or possibly even more so.

But there are 1,000 laws which set women apart from men.

Some states limit the hours, and the places, a woman can work. In some towns a woman can't teach school if she marries.

Many states have different ages at which a boy and a girl can marry. In New Hampshire, for instance, a girl may marry at 13, while husbands under 14 must be thrown back.

An amendment would wipe out all these differences.

Obviously not all women want to do this. They say these are protective laws, and that if the amendment were passed, women would lose more than they would gain.

Commission Wanted

These objectors would prefer to have a commission set up to look into the whole problem.

The National Woman's party doesn't agree with this at all. It says it has the support of women's organizations with a combined membership of 11,500,000.

Since 11,500,000 votes are no small item in an election year, the party thinks the amendment has a chance to pass Congress.

Two years ago the amendment got a majority vote in the senate, but lacked the two-thirds edge needed for proposed constitutional amendments.

Even if Congress approves, three-fourths of the states must say, "Me too," before it becomes legal.

Members of the National Women's party appeared before a House judiciary subcommittee recently, and I dropped around to hear the arguments.

Don't Want Protection

A little old woman, as perky as a Jenny Wren, was speaking.

"I had five children when my husband died," she was saying, "and the oldest child was seven. I have made my own way, as a ticket taker on a railroad.

"Let me tell you that we working women don't want any special privileges. We don't want any protection.

"We working women can take care of ourselves."

She sat down, two women rushed up and kissed her, and Miss Anita Pollitzer, national chairman of the party, obligingly scribbled the little old lady's name for me.

"Mrs. Mary Murphy of Brooklyn," wrote Miss Pollitzer, "fine woman."

Miss Pollitzer, who when she isn't out canvassing for women's rights is Mrs. E. C. Edson of New York, was the next speaker.

Equal Justice

"It's sad to think that I've spent 25 years working for this amendment. And yet you can go down the street and look at the Supreme court. There you can see the inscription, 'Equal justice under law.' That's all we're asking for, gentlemen. "Equal justice."

Miss Pollitzer told me later that many of the women in the room had fought for women's suffrage, too. She pointed out Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs. Theodore Forbes and Miss Gladys Houston Greiner of Baltimore, and Mrs. Betty Gram Swing of Westpoint, Conn.

Mrs. Swing went to jail for picketing the White House. "A horrible messy cell," she said. "It was so dirty I had to stand up all night."

Mrs. Forbes was arrested, too.

"We burned the President in effigy," she explained. "The effigy was just a little old thing, no bigger than a doll."

What president?

"President Wilson. I hated to do it. He was such a nice man."

And she smiled fondly at the memory.

PUBLIC PROPERTY

LONDON, April 1 (AP)—Britain's electric power industry became public property today. There was no fanfare.

Battle Flares In Holy Land

JERUSALEM, April 1. (AP)—Arabs battered the beleaguered Montefiore Ghetto of Jerusalem with mortars before dawn today.

Jews retaliated with prolonged sniper attacks on Silwan village on the slops of the Mount of Olives.

At sunrise, British troops moved in and quieted both sides. The extent of casualties is not known.

Jews said two Haganah men were killed in yesterday's food convoy battle west of Latrun and that many Arabs were slain in the fight.

That convoy now is at Rehovot, poised for another effort to run the tight Arab gauntlet to food-short Jerusalem.

Yesterday's attack on a train near Haifa, which a Jewish source said could be attributed to the Stern gang, was interpreted as Jewish retaliation for the recent heavy Arab attacks on convoys. A government announcement here said 40 were killed and 60 injured in the mine-blasted train. Haifa police said the toll was 24 Arabs killed and 64 injured.

Ironworkers Go Back To Work On Stadium

AUSTIN, April 1 (U.P.)—Ironworkers on the University of Texas memorial stadium enlargement project went back on the job today, halting their three-day walkout.

The 10 ironworkers, members of local 482, International Association of Ironworkers and Steel Shipbuilders, AFL, returned to the project pending settlement of negotiations.

They had walked out Monday in protest against the use by the R. P. Farnsworth company of Houston, general contractors for the enlargement, of non-union laborers in hoisting of non-steel building materials by power equipment.

Negotiations were to continue tomorrow, but L. A. Smith, business representative for the union, said if talks bog down "we'll probably go out again."

Woman Only Thought She Saw Burglars

MISSION, April 1. (U.P.) — She only "thought" she saw burglars, Mrs. Jim Parrish said today.

Burglars have visited her often, and she is tired of them.

Yesterday, when she thought she saw a couple of men about to break into her home, she grabbed a pistol and fired.

Then she rushed to telephone the sheriff's office in Edinburg to get the victims.

Four patrol cars were on the way immediately.

A few minutes later, patrolmen Ray Brooks reported the results of the trip on the police radio.

Mrs. Parrish only "thought" she saw the men, he said. She wasn't sure. And the officers found no footprints or evidence of burglars.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Man Who Proposed Two Years Ago Is Warding Off Marriage But Still Wooing The Girl

DEAR Mary Haworth: For two years I have been keeping steady company with Roger, who is 10 years my senior. Shortly after we met (I was then 22) he proposed marriage, but has managed to postpone it ever since.

We are both earning adequate salaries, and housing for us could be easily managed, so there is really no obstacle to marriage except his attitude.

He is a professional musician who works six nights a week and attends school during the day; so I try not to be too demanding and expect nothing in the way of entertainment. Therefore you can imagine how hurt I was to find he was entertaining another young lady on his night off!

HE'S IMPATIENT WITH HER TEARS

I SUPPOSE I have made my love for him so obvious and smothering that it was a relief to him to get away from me. But do you think he is sincere when he says he loves me and wants to marry me eventually; or to use his expression, when he "feels more at ease about it?"

I never question him about his first marriage and he never mentions it except when I am in tears about our situation, whereupon he comments that he "went through all that once before" and does not wish to repeat it.

Is there anything I can do to positively establish his faith in me and allay his fears of remarriage? Or am I being too impatient, childlike? I would greatly appreciate your help or any suggestions you have to offer.

Signed K. S.

PURPOSE CHANGED BY EASY SUCCESS

DEAR K. S.: This kind of relationship, all meek, tearful frustration and yearning anxiety for marriage on the girl's part, all selfish negligent evasion and double-talk about love and marriage on the man's part, usually means that an affair is sufficient for him, and that he is having it on his terms.

Thus while you make no mention of it, I infer that you are having an affair with Roger; and in so doing, have killed off his original impulse to marry you, which expired as the affair became routine.

In all probability you attracted him so much at first meeting that he felt he must have you at any cost, even marriage, if necessary; and so proposed, thus gaining your trust and making a conquest that after two years seems tedious to him in proportion as your doleful insistence on marriage mounts.

In his dealings with women, Roger has no heart; therefore no sympathy, no code of honor. This we see in his bored reaction to your tears and in his dry references to similar behavior in his wife — unfeeling ways of putting his ill-used portesting victims in wrong. Also we see it in his jaunty beauing of another girl on his night off, while you sit home, conditioned to expect no formal courting.

MAN IS AFRAID OF PERMANENCY

It isn't your clinging devotion that Roger is on the defensive against, although of course he would be more interested if you were less so. What he is fighting, actually, with you as he did with the girl he married, is the proposition of settling down to a permanent monogamous, really responsible love-relationship.

He doesn't want to feel "tied," as he reckons it; doesn't want to feel accountable to a wife either for her support or for his vagrant pursuit of others. He wants to feel free to indulge himself however he chooses; and doubtless he thinks it a workaday asset in his business to be a bachelor of sorts.

He doesn't love you. He enjoys your total allegiance when you don't nag him about his intentions. It salves his ego, gives him casual satisfaction; but there is nothing loyal or reliable in his attitude. Thus it makes sense to be vigorously impatient with his stalling. He is trifling with your hopes; and in self-defense, you ought to break with him entirely.

M. H.

GOP WORRIED ABOUT WITHDRAWAL

Republicans Want Truman Candidacy

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 1.—Some Republicans began worrying openly today about the possibility that the Democrats may talk President Truman into giving way to another presidential nominee.

An assertion by Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb), that balking Democrats are acting "like a pack of marauding jackals in attempting to tear down the candidacy of Harry S. Truman" was picked up quickly here by Warren Wright.

Wright, unofficial manager of a campaign aimed at landing the GOP presidential nomination for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, told a reported he would rather see the general run against President Truman than any other available Democrat. He said he had talked with Miller about this.

Wright was voicing a view that has been passed around quietly in the camps of other GOP hopefuls such as Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. They frankly think Mr. Truman will be easier to beat than some Democrat who could unify his party.

These Republicans privately figure, however, that the only way Mr. Truman can be removed from the race would be by his own consent.

As a matter of note, these Republicans talk of Secretary of State Marshall as about the only Democrat who could step so quickly into the nominee's shoes—this despite Marshall's vigorous rejection of previous political passes.

Minus any reliable crystal ball, Republican candidates kept on directing their fire at Mr. Truman.

Dewey, changing trains here today on an invasion of Wisconsin, was ready to let go with a roundhouse swing at the President's foreign policies in a Milwaukee speech tonight.

Stassen fired both barrels in Madison last night against the administration's tax program. He said that in time of peace no American ought to be made to pay more than half his income in taxes.

"Tut, tut," said the wife of Deputy Sheriff Thomas Smith, "this is April 1 and know it."

The caller pleaded. The wife doubted. Finally, against her better judgment, she notified her husband.

Smith found the bridge crowded with cars. Up in the girders was one old, feeble but very definite mountain lion. The 150-pound female had come down from the mountains in search of food.

Smith and a game warden shot her.

Testimony Is Begun In Crosbyton Trial

CROSBYTON, April 1 (Special) "Poss" Dillard, a cousin of the defendent, continued at midmorning to testify in the murder with malice trial of W. Fred Jones, 38, Floydada grocer.

Dillard, of near Floydada, was the only witness who had taken the stand since completion of the jury about 4 p. m. Wednesday. Called then, he was still on the stand at 6 p. m., when Judge Dan Blair of the 72nd district court of Crosby county adjourned court for the night. He resumed his evidence when court was convened at 9:15 o'clock this morning.

The trial is the second for Jones, who is accused of having slain H. C. Love, jr., 23, an employe of his store, in 1946. A death penalty was assessed in a trial at Plainview, but the court of criminal appeals reversed the conviction and remanded the case for a new trial. Venue was changed from Hale to Floyd county.

Efforts to get a jury for the trial were commenced Monday morning, when 146 members of a 200-man special venire that had been summoned appeared.

Representing the state are District Attorney Lloyd Croslin, Lubbock, of 72nd judicial district, District Attorney John Stapleton, Plainview, of 110th judicial district, and two special prosecutors, Mead Griffin, of Plainview, and Lloyd A. Wicks, of Ralls.

The defense is represented by E. T. 'Dusty' Miller and Col. E. A. Simpson, both of Amarillo.

The prosecution indicated in the questions asked in qualifying the jury that it would ask the death penalty in this trial. The defense indicated in its questions directed to prospective jurors that it would seek to establish temporary insanity on the part of the defendant at the time of the slaying due to rage and resentment in discovery the alleged relationship.

The jurors are Mc Aycock, of Lorenzo; Dan James, of Crosbyton; Fred Robertson, Crosbyton; Thomas Waller, Ralls; M. R. Givens, Crosbyton; L. F. Head, Lorenzo; M. M. Simmons, McAdoo; Curtis Brunson, Crosbyton; Thomas G. Hendrick; Lorenzo; Cliff Parrish, Ralls; Harl Cypert, Lorenzo, and J. P. Beck, of Ralls.

Two Of Gatesville Escapees Are Taken

GRABUR, April 1. (U.P.)—Peace officers searched the woods today for the third of a trio of boys who escaped Monday night from the Gatesville state training school.

The officers recaptured two of the boys late yesterday. They had escaped in a stolen truck. It was the discovery of the abandoned truck at noon yesterday that caused the highway patrolmen, Texas Rangers and Hood county officers to look for the youths in the Grabur area, about 70 miles north of Gatesville.

Sheriff George Grimes of Meridian said he wanted to question the pair about three Bosque county burglaries committed on the same night of their escape.

Turkish Woman To Be Speaker

Miss Ismet Sanli, young Turkish woman and recognized authority on conditions in her country and the Middle East, will address Lubbock Knife and Fork club at its dinner at 7 o'clock Friday night at Hilton hotel.

She has been a delegate to the the United Nations conference and the San Francisco conference. She also represented Turkey in the International Air conference in Chicago. For several years she has been a corresondent for outstanding Turkish newspapers.

She visited Turkey in the summer of 1947.

She received her early schooling in her native land and completed her preparatory work in France. Later she came to the United States to study at the University of California and at Columbia university, where she majored in political science.

At the San Francisco and United Nations conferences, she was the only woman member of the Turkish delegation.

Information received from Associated Clubs, with which the Knife and Fork club here is affiliated, states that her credo is, "No machinery for peace will work without popular good will behind it."

It was stated that in her speech she would give "a bird's eye view of the historical background and the progress Turkey has made She will explain the changes brought about by Kemal Ataturk when he overthrew the Ottoman empire in 1923 and initiated fundamental reforms in the social, political, judicial and economic life of Turkey."

The father of Miss Sanli as a newspaper publisher in Ismir, formerly Smyrna.

Mahon Announces For Re-Election

WASHINGTON, April 1 (Special)—Congressman George H. Mahon, Texas Democrat, announced here yesterday that he will be a candidate to succeed himself in the forthcoming primaries and the general election next November.

MAHON

Mahon, a high-ranking member of the House Appropriations committee, represents the 25-county 19th Texas district, including Lubbock.

He has been a member of the national House of Representatives since his first election in 1934.

The tall, soft-spoken Mahon, whose home is in Colorado City, currently is serving as chairman of the powerful Texas delegation in Congress.

He expects to return to his district prior to Texas' July Democratic primaries and contact voters if national and international conditions will permit.

"BENEFICIAL" CYCLONES

Cyclones are largely beneficial not destructive. The cyclone, not to be confused with the deadly tornado, is a broad, slowly rotating mass of air, covering hundreds of square miles, and the mother of our life-sustaining rains.

A process for converting paper mill wastes into a product useful industrially has been developed.

Kendrick Opposed To Special Session

BROWNFIELD, April 1 (Special)—Pointing up sharp differences, and voicing what he believes is the sentiment of "90 per cent of the voters of my district," R. M. Kendrick, Brownfield banker and Democratic state committeeman from the 30th Senatorial district, has advised state party leaders he is opposed to a special session of the legislature.

In a letter to R. W. Calvert, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, Kendrick minces no words in a sharp rejoiner to a proposed resolution to be submitted to Governor Jester.

"I wish to state," his letter points out, "that I am unalterably opposed to the governor, or any other authority, calling a special session of the legislature at this time.

"While many of the 'whereas's' are true and correct, I feel that our 'differences' can all be 'threshout and settled' in our own 'Democratic backyard' at the Brownwood convention in May, and I believe that I represent ninety per cent (90%) of the voters of my district in opposing any 'called session' of the legislature at this time."

Kendrick believes that such a session "would only serve to aggravate and widen differences," and "would cost our taxpayer a considerable little sum of money which I am confident could be used for much better purposes."

Jaycee Tournament Opens Here Tonight

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

End Joe Smith of Texas Tech showed Monday night that he had as much courage off the football field as he had on it. He was, as you've probably read on the news pages, almost the victim of a holdup man on the outskirts of Wichita Falls, along with two friends of his. Unfortunately for the attempted robber, Joe's two buddies were amateur boxers at Hardin college, while the Texas Tech football star is no mean slouch with his dukes.

W. D. Brannon, the 23-year-old rash enough to attempt the stick-up, came over to the car in which the three Electra men were sitting. Joe wasn't sure, in the dark, that the man carried a knife or a pistol. He ordered the three out of the car and demanded their money. Joe handed over six cents, all the change in his pocket, but didn't pass his wallet over. About that time Joe saw for sure that the man carried a knife.

Joe unleashed a sharp right jab, buckling the holdup man's knees, and then all three took part in pounding him unconscious. They loaded him into the car and headed for a police station. On the way, Brannon came to, played possum for a minute and then grabbed the steering wheel in an attempt to wreck the car. Joe hauled off and let him have another solid sock and, after all three had repeated their second overhaul job, Joe got into the back seat with Brannon. When they eventually arrived at the police station, Brannon still was out like a bad light.

Lubbock continues to have outstanding sportsmen visit the city. Yesterday was no exception when George H. Johnson, umpire supervisor of Region four of the National Association Umpire bureau stopped off for a visit. The visitor is no stranger to this community. He was a familiar figure when he used to bring the House of David basketball team here to play Texas Tech. That was during the 29-year stretch he spent as an umpire in the American Association, during which time he trained many of the arbiters later serving in the two Major Leagues.

The Umpire bureau is a new development this year and a better head for the vast Region four could not have been picked. Johnson is eager about his assignment, which will take him from the Evangeline League through the Southwest, out to the West Coast and North from there as far as the Western International League. He is on his way to Sacramento, Calif., where he will hold an umpire's clinic April 9 through 11. Then he returns to Dallas to hold a similar clinic there April 16-18. With Johnson assisting the umpires, the West Texas-New Mexico League and other loops are assured of better umpiring.

Jack Durham of the Abilene Reporter-News apparently doesn't hold the Hubber baseball team in much respect. Champions usually are considered at least a fair possibility to retain either their first place or first division status the following year. But Jack, in discussing the Blue Sox, reports that they will be giving four other teams a fight for that tough first division. From the gist of previous remarks, he was referring to Clovis, Amarillo, Albuquerque and Borger. The interesting thing about it is that this probably is one of the few occasions in which a championship team enters the pennant race as underdogs.

THE ROUNDUP: Lubbock bowlers, apparently certain to finish high in the state tourney, next will tackle the Amarillo Elks completion . . . The Masked Marvel last night had a strong resemblance to Bobby Burns. He even shot a quick glance at Wes Youngblood, when the latter called him by name . . . If any ball fans know of any apartments that Lubbock Hubber players could use, please call the Hubber office at 6752 immediately . . . Plez McNurlen of Lubbock caught a 11-2 pound pompano and a seven pound Drumfish off the South Pier at Port Aransas last week . . . New Mexico university will complete spring football practice with an intra-squad game April 10, with proceeds going to a chapel, not football . . . Yes, we know it's April Fool's Day, but we just can't be that mean and spin a falsehood here . . . And, this is no joke, the Giants and Indians play here eight days from today.

First bell of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce boxing tournament will ring at 8 o'clock tonight at Sled Allen's arena, with 12 bouts matching some of the highest-ranking leather-slingers of the Panhandle and South Plains featuring the opening card of the three night program.

A total of 41 fighters have already filed their entry blanks with Jaycee officials, with a 12-man team from Petersburg and a six-man squad from Portales, N. M., certain to arrive before the deadline at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

AAU Boxers Enter

The tourney was given a big boost late Wednesday when the Amarillo Amateur Athletic union boxing director told officials that several of the Panhandle sluggers who recently fought in the A.A.U. tourney at Kansas City recently would enter the Lubbock meet.

Other top-flight contestants in the open division will include Lubbock's Gene James and Texas Tech's Joaquin Bonilla in the heavyweight class; Tech's Frank Telles and Elmo Hall in the welterweight bracket; bantamweight Dwayne Driver of Idalou; and flyweights Skeeter Haggerton and Glenn Duckworth of Amarillo.

Telles, the Tech slugger with the atomic right, has improved rapidly since he took the runner-up spot in the district Golden Gloves tourney here and will be one of the featured boxers of the Jaycee meet.

High school title contenders will include Gene Briggs of Petersburg in the bantam class; James Forbes of Lubbock in the feather bracket; and Paul Hill of Tahoka, Lubbock district Golden Gloves high school middleweight champ.

Exhibition Slated

Bill Buck, one of the tournament directors, may fight an exhibition bout in the light-heavy class as a special feature, officials said. Buck won the Eighth fleet heavyweight title in 1945 and before the war was a prominent Lubbock Golden Gloves fighter.

Two special exhibition tussles are carded tonight, with six-year-old Johnny and Donnie Adams of Clovis, N. M., meeting in a "paperweight" clash at 7:30 o'clock and two Jaycee members, Glenn Woody and Gordon Sanders, tangling in a "grudge" fight in the fifth program bout.

Tickets On Sale

LaVern Roach of Plainview, youthful contender for the world's middleweight crown, will referee tonight's bouts.

Proceeds from the three night fight program will be used for civic projects, Jaycee officials emphasized, with the tuberculosis hospital and the negro nursery to receive most of the financial aid.

Tickets will be on sale at Wylie's drug until 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The entry list (does not include Petersburg team or Amarillo A.A.U. squad):

OPEN DIVISION

Two Giant Mainstays Slated For First Appearance Today

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 1. (AP)—Two mainstays of the New York Giant mound staff, southpaw Dave Koslo and relief pitcher Ken Trinkle, are slated for their first appearance of the season today.

Koslo and Trinkle, along with Ray Poat, have been selected by manager and Mel Ott to work three innings apiece against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

BANTA LOOKS GOOD

VERO BEACH, Fla., April 1. (AP) Jack Banta, hard-throwing rookie righthander of the Brooklyn Dodgers, has an excellent chance of sticking with the Brooks.

Banta, who led the International league in shutouts and strikeouts last year, blanked his former Montreal teammates without a hit for seven innings yesterday.

CLUBS MEET BROWNS

EL PASO, April 1. (AP) — Manager Charlie Grimm hoped to confine the Chicago Cubs' pitching duties to Don Carlsen and Bob Rush today as the Chicagoans opened a series with the St. Louis Browns. The big leaguers intended to stage the first game at Juarez, Mexico, across the river from here, but reserved the right to change their minds if the Juarez diamond was not what major leaguers have reason to expect.

CHISOX PLAY INDIANS

TUCSON, Ariz., April 1. (AP)—Bill Wight and Roman Brunswick were chosen to share the pitching chores for the Chicago White Sox today in the opener of a two-day series with the Cleveland Indians.

BUCKY HUNTS STARTER

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 1. (AP)—Manager Bucky Harris of the New York Yankees is looking for another starting pitcher now that Bill Bevens is on the shelf indefinitely.

Bevens' arm went sour against the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday.

TIGERS GET DAY OFF

NEW ORLEANS, April 1. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers took a day off today following their arrival here yesterday after breaking camp at Lakeland, Fla. The Bengals will play the New Orleans Pelicans here Friday night.

PITCHER GULPS ASPIRIN

TAMPA, Fla., April 1. (AP) — Walters, veteran Cincinnati righthander, believes aspirin may help him pitch winning ball this season.

Walters says he took five tablets yesterday and then pitched 30 minutes of batting practice without suffering "any pain at all" in the right flipper which usually pains after a few minutes of steady heaving.

Golf Tourney Set Saturday

Lubbock High school's Class AA Invitational golf tournament will get underway Saturday morning at Lubbock Country club, officials announced last night, with at least eight of the top schoolboy links teams of West Texas battling for championship honors.

Entries have been received from Amarillo, Plainview, Midland and Abilene, tourney sponsors reported, and Big Spring, Odessa and Pampa have notified officials that they will enter teams in the meet. Other invitations have been mailed to Borger, Lamesa and San Angelo, but they had not turned in their entry blanks late Wednesday.

Awards To Be Given

The strong Big Spring and Abilene golf teams will hold the favored positions in the 36-hole medal play, but the host Lubbock Westerners will have the "home grounds" advantage. Amarillo usually fields a strong team, but this year's squad from the Panhandle is still untested.

The team with the lowest composite medal score will be awarded a revolving trophy, officials said, with the individual champion and runner-up slated to receive permanent trophies.

Each school will be allowed to enter a maximum of six men, but four of the group must be designated as the official team entry before play is started.

Local Tea Named

Lubbock team sponsor Floyd Honey announced last night that Ross Mitchell, Billy Tatum, George Canon, Edward Beane, Clyde Mitchell and Jack Whitehead will be the Westerner entries in the tourney. All of the schoolboys have participated in meets this year and Mitchell, Tatum and Canon were contestants in links features last year. Herb Schroeder, Lubbock Country club pro, serves as coach for the Lubbock squad.

The tournament will get underway at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, officials said. An entry fee of one dollar per player will be charged.

Baylor Meets Rice In Baseball Opener

(By The United Press)

Baylor and Rice were scheduled to open the Southwest conference baseball play today with a circuit clash at Waco.

Three games are scheduled for tomorrow. Baylor and Rice will meet again in the last clash of a two-game series. Texas takes on Texas A. & M. at College Station. Southern Methodist hops to Fort Worth to open a two-game set with Texas Christian.

Texas reigns as favorite to repeat as champion. As the teams go to bat, Baylor is picked as runner-up. The Bears may not look their sharpest against the Owls, a second division choice.

Although Arkansas, the seventh conference member, is fielding a team this year, it is not taking part in the loop play.

Crisler Is Reported Quitting At Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 1. (AP)—A wave of speculation was sweeping the University of Michigan campus and the sports world alike today in the wake of a published statement that Athletic Director Fritz Crisler was planning to enter private industry.

The story, originating in the Detroit News yesterday, said the prominent Michigan football figure would take a "position in Chicago" in the next three months. It drew no denial from Crisler—only an repetitive "no comment."

With that some response, the handsome, 49-year-old coach of Michigan's greatest modern football team greeted every question concerning the possible change.

Coaching School's Faculty Selected

ABILENE, April 1 (AP)—Most of the faculty has been obtained for the 1948 Texas coaching school to be held here Aug. 2-6.

Matty Bell, coach of Southern Methodist university's undefeated Mustangs, and Bobby Dodd, coach of Orange Bowl champion Georgia Tech, were announced yesterday as head instructors in football. Bell and Dodd also will coach the all-tar high school football teams that appear in a game the night of Aug. 6.

Bully Gilstrap of the University of Texas coaching staff will assist Dodd. H. N. Russell and McAdoo Keaton of Bell's SMU staff will work with him coaching the all-stars.

Previously Clyde Littlefield, University of Texas coach, was named to instruct in track and Bobby Cannon, coach of Edinburg Junior college, to conduct baseball.

Basketball instructors are expected to be announced shortly.

Stewart To Defend Texas Golf Title

HOUSTON, April 1. (U.P.)—Earl Stewart of Dallas will defend his title when the Texas Golf association holds its annual meet at the River Oaks Country club April 28 to May 1.

The Dallas golfer won the event last year when he defeated Rufus King of Wichita Falls.

Bennie Lee Boynton of Dallas is president of the association.

U.S. Olympics Team Chosen

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 1—Fourteen basketball players, probably the greatest collection of amateur cagers in the world, were named today to the squad which will represent the United States in the coming Olympic games.

The Phillips Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., who defeated the University of Kentucky, 53-49, in the finals of the Olympic tryouts last night, landed five men on the squad, as did the defeated collegians.

From Phillips Team

Phillips players selected by the 13-man Olympic basketball committee are:

Bob Kurkland and Jesse Renick, both of whom played their college basketball at Oklahoma A. and M.; Gordon Carpenter and R. C. Pitts, both from the University of Arkansas, and Lew Beck, from Oregon State.

The Kentucky players selected, Alex Groza of Martins Ferry, Ohio, Wallace Jones of Harlan, Ky., Cliff Barker of Yorktown, Ind., Ken Rollins of Wickliffe, Ky., and Ralph Beard of Louisville.

Other places went to Don Barksdale of the Oakland Bittners, Vince Boryla of the Denver Nuggets, Jackie Robinson of Baylor and Ray Lumpp of New York university.

Alternates Chosen

Alternates include Gerald Tucker, Martin Nash and Ed Beisser of the Oilers; Joe Holland, Jim Line and Dale Barnstable of Kentucky; Ray Lipscomb and Jim Darden of the Denver Nuggets; Les O'Gara and Warren Taulbee of the Bittners, Jim Owens and Bill Johnson of Baylor and Adolph Schayes of NYU.

The Phillips cagers now reign as undisputed rulers of amateur basketball, having mounted the throne with unquestioned authority by their triumph over Kentucky.

Height and experience paid off for the national AAU champions as they turned back the NCAA titleholders in a rousing windup to the pre-Olympic dribble derby.

In surviving the Olympic trials, they bested a field that included both the eastern and western NCAA champions, the representatives of two big college tournaments and the national YMCA titlists, as well as the second and third best clubs in AAU circles.

U. S. Seen As Repeater

Any doubt that Uncle Sam will even be hard pressed to repeat as Olympic basketball champion this summer was put to rest last night. It was basketball at its best.

All-Amerira Ralph Beard, Kentucky's great little guard, did his utmost to pull his team through to victory, but couldn't quite make the grade. His 23 points on 11 field goals and a free throw stamped him as the best offensive man on the floor.

In the final analysis, however, it was seven-foot Bob Kurland, the Oiler center, who spelled the difference. Kurland controlled play off the backboards and found time to whip in nine baskets and two free throws to lead the winners with 20 points.

BOWLING SCORES

The sixth-place Grollman's keglers took three games from the league-leading Southwestern Public Service five in one of four Ladies Commercial league matches played last night at Lubbock Bowling Alley.

In other matches, Home Lumber Supply took three games from Glassman's, Hemphill-Wells lost two out of three games to Westerner Cafe, and Larrymore's Dance Studio won two out of three games against Hackel's.

High scores for the evening were made by: Katherine Fate, Southwestern Public Service, 153-394; Margie Buckner, Grollman's, 180-451; Erma Strickland, Glassman's, 133-386; Silver Behrens, Home Lumber Supply, 181-498; Billie Maslovar, Westerner Cafe, 180-514; Artie Galloway, Hemphill-Wells, 161-462; Gail Tyson, Hackel's, 179-452, and Billy Slover, Larrymore Dance Studio, 155-465.

The standings:

| Teams | Won | Lost |
|---|---|---|
| Southwestern Public Svc. | 47 | 31 |
| Westerner Cafe | 46 | 32 |
| Hemphill-Wells | 44 | 34 |
| Home Lumber Supply | 41 | 37 |
| Larrymore's Studio | 38 | 39 |
| Glassman's | 33 | 45 |
| Grollman's | 33 | 45 |
| Hackel's | 28 | 49 |

Public Links Golf Qualifying Is Set

HOUSTON, April 1. (U.P.)—The sectional qualifying round for the 1948 amateur public links golf championship will be held on the Hermann Park course in Houston June 28, it was announced today.

Contestants from the Houston area will shot 36 holes in medal play to qualify.

The national championship will be played over the North Fulton Park course in Atlanta, Ga., July 17 and 19-24.

Stiff Workout Set For Hubbers Today

DALLAS, April 1 (Special)—A stiff practice session yesterday was due to be duplicated here today under the watchful eyes of Manager Jackie Sullivan of the Lubbock Hubbers, as the current crop of Hubber candidates go through final paces before returning home.

Home will be Rosenthal Field, where the Hubbers will take their first workouts on Saturday, with a full squad on hand. Players from last year will join Pitcher Royce Mills in Lubbock today and Manager Sullivan will take his hired hands here back to Lubbock Friday.

The Hubber squad, riding the management's team bus, will leave this city about 8 a. m. Friday, arriving in the Hub City about 3 p. m. No practice is slated for the first day.

Sullivan Not Displeased

Despite the edict to have a rugged practice Wednesday and another today, Manager Sullivan wasn't displeased with what he saw in Waxahachie on Tuesday. The Hubbers, four in all, aided by a group of Odessa players, trounced the Buffalo B squad, 12-10. In doing so, they appeared to be the nucleus of a potent nine. The Hubbers will gain other players before Friday, so that starting position's still are wide open.

Despite that fact, Frank Boothe from the Kitty league has shown fine batting and fielding throughout the training grind and seems assured of an outfield berth. Sullivan probably will use him in rightfield, with Chick Fowler in center. Leftfield remains open.

Boothe has been hitting the ball hard and his two singles in four trips against Buffalo pitching were solid, clean base knocks. He also possesses a fine throwing arm and fits into Sullivan's plans.

Fowler, of course, was expected to bolster the offensive side and he immediately lived up to advance notices when he slammed out a four-run homer Tuesday. He also played flawlessly in the outfield and should be popular with Hubber fans.

Billy George "Cotton" Russell, the 18-year-old hurler from Fort Worth, also turned in a fine showing against Buffalo. Against the International league team's B squad, Russell allowed only three runs in three innings. Although this doesn't sound impressive, the youngster showed poise and control beyond his years and, when placed against the additional seven runs Buffalo garnered in the next four innings, gave him a good stint on the mound.

Catcher Newt Secrest picked up four for four, a feat not often done, although by no means a rarity. In spite of this stickwork, Sullivan felt that much remained to be accomplished with the rookie.

The Hubbers will be sent through another stiff workout Thursday and then will ride the Hubber bus back to Lubbock Friday, leaving here about 8 a. m. They will have their first practice at Rosenthal Field on Saturday and will play Pampa Sunday afternoon at 3.

Unpopular Decision Won By Grav. Marvel

Ace Freeman and Eddie Gideon tried hard last night at Sled Allen's arena to win two out of three falls from the Masked Marvel and Karl Gray in a tag team match, but apparently Gray "outsmarted" Freeman again.

For the Marvel and Gray won the first and third falls to remain the victors, even though the losers protested vehemently, and the fans agreed, that they had been robbed. In the deciding fall, some outside-the-ring help from Gray made it possible for the Marvel to pin Freeman, after the New York boy seemed to have the fall won.

In the other main event, Johnny Carlin dropped two straight falls to Walter Stratton in a match that was tiresome to watch. Referee Jimmy McEuin finally ended the first fall after 29 minutes of grunting and groaning by Stratton and Carlin, when he awarded Stratton the fall on disqualification of Carlin. Stratton then returned to flip Carlin to the mat in nine minutes with a full nelson.

The second fall of the second main event was the most entertaining of the night, with the Freeman-Gideon team winning in seven minutes. Freeman pinned the Marvel with an abdominal stretch to end that go.

In the first fall, Gray and the Marvel kept the referee's attention distracted and, during that period, the Marvel stomped and slammed Freeman into submission. The fall took 14 minutes, during which time both partners outside the ring frequently got into the match.

Tracksters Kept In Trim For Relays

Coach Marlin Hayhurst sent the Lubbock High Westerner cinder path squad through a lengthy calisthenics drill Wednesday afternoon in an effort to keep the team in condition for the Big Spring Relays Saturday, despite a cold north wind that kept the schoolboys indoors for the second day.

The squad was at near-full strength for the workout, but the Lubbock hopefuls have not been able to run outdoors all week and they will probably be unable to improve on performances chalked up last week.

A full-scale session is scheduled this afternoon at the Chapman field oval if weather permits, Hayhurst announced.

Southerners Capture AAU District Trophy

KANSAS CITY, April 1. (AP)—The southeastern AAU district today had a championship team trophy to show for its first try in a national boxing tournament.

The southerners last night captured the club banner in the national junior AAU boxing championships with a performance that won the admiration of the 2,500 fans who turned out for the show.

Edward Birdwell, 160-pounder from Nashville, Tenn., won the middleweigh honors in an old-time slugging bee with Earl Keel of Oklahoma City.

Keel, one of the pre-meet favorites to win a title and runnerup last year, was lucky to survive the first round, then won the sportsmanship award for his great comeback against the rugged Tennessee boy.

The apple-cart upsetter in the finals, however, was rought Curt Kennedy, a 20-year-old Wichita, Kansas, lad who serves as "bouncer" in his own night club.

The unheralded Wichita boy soundly beat favored Vince Donnelly, Minneapolis, Minn., high schooler, for the heavyweight championship.

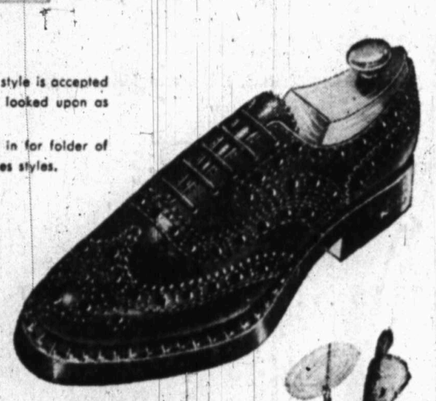

The other champions included:

118 pounds—Lou Palacio, Amarillo, Tex., outpointed Roland Conway, Dallas.

Cards Call Up Men, Dim Houston Hopes

By WERNER RENBERG
United Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, April 1.—The Houston Buffs may surprise a lot of people if they look as strong this summer as they did last year when they won the Texas league and the Dixie series.

The Bisons have been victims of a burglary wave.

Their parent St. Lauis Cardinals just up and snatched one good player after another from the 1947 team. The result is that Skipper Johnny Keane will have to juggle his men around quite a bit until he has an angle on each. Trying days are ahead.

It's not going to be easy to replace a couple of stand-out pitchers like Clarence Beers and Al Papai.

Big Part Of Club Success

Beers was voted the league's outstanding hurler last season. A great part of the Houston success can be pinned on his arm. He and Papai went up to the big show. And it's not expected that they'll be back soon.

Also gone is Billy Costa, the tiny shortstop who was sudden death for enemy batters.

Back will be a few hands. One of them is Hal Epps, Houston's leading hitter last season and the city's most popular player. Also back is Eddie Knoblauch. The two of them will handle center and left fields, respectively.

That leaves a big gap in right. It may be filled by Mike Conroy, the toast of the Buffs' training camp. Thus far he has been hitting about .700 against all kinds of pitching. He doesn't hit 'em over the fence, but he hits 'em far enough and hard enough to get on base. He has a .350 batting average for the three seasons he has been in organized baseball.

Infield Situation

Bill McCawley also is around for a crack at the right field spot. So much for the orchard.

The infield situation isn't as rosy. The only person sure of his pay check is Solly Hemus, who returned from last year's squad to hold down second base. Hemus isn't a power hitter but when combined with a shortstop like Costa, the defense around the second sack is airtight.

To take Costa's place, Keane may choose Bill Hardin, a right handed batter. He hit .275 with Richmond of the Piedmont league last year. While not as peppy as Costa, Hardin may turn into quite a ball player.

Bob Thompson, a guy regarded by the Cards as a definite major league prospect, is the leading candidate for third base. While some think he is not ready for class AA ball, he does have the best infield arm in the Buff camp. Another candidate for the job is Bert Bonomi, who socked out a .325 average for Fresno in 1947.

First base may go to Don Bollweg, who hits left but can connect much better with offerings from right-handers. Close is Jim Halkard, who came along slowly at bat when he was with Houston two years ago. He hit .325 at Allentown last year.

Jerry Burmeister is back to do the catching. His nearest threat is Walt Wrona. Neither is better than a fair batter.

Four of last year's pitchers are back—Jack Creel, Pete Mazar, Herb Moore and Charlie Sproull. Creel leads 'em all with a 14-10 record for 1947. A couple of promising rookies are Cloyd Boyer, sensational right-hander, and Ross Grimsley, good southpaw.

The Buffs may not be the team they were last year. But they may come close. Especially with the Cardinals sending down players. Houston will bear watching this summe rand might even wind up on top again.

O'Donnell Netsters Beat Lubbock High

Top honors in a dual tennis meet featuring Lubbock and O'Donnell High school netters Wednesday afternoon at the Dupre courts were won by the visitors, with victories in three of the four matches, but Marjorie Cone salvaged one triumph for the Westerners in the senior girls singles.

O'Donnell's Barbara Merrick was the victim of Marjorie Cone's win in two straight sets, 6-4 and 6-3.

Harrell Line of O'Donnell defeated James Burgess of Lubbock in the senior boys singles, 8-6, 6/3; and Patsy Edwards and Carolyn Middleton of O'Donnell gained the senio girls doubles crown with a 6-2, 2-6, 6-2 triumph over Betty Woods and Betty Rhodes.

Edward Gray and Raymond Hancock of O'Donnell copped the senior boys doubles title with a 6-3, 6-1 win over Jack McCabe and Bo English.

BOWLING TOURNEY SET

BORGER, April 1 (AP) — The fourth annual West Texas-New Mexico bowling tournament opens here April 24 and continues to May 9.

Talks Reopen On Roach Tilt

Bert Kahn, promoter of the proposed bout here this summer by LaVern Roach of Plainview, promising young middleweight boxer, received a letter yesterday from Chris Dundee, co-manager with Johnny Abood of the Texas fighter, re-opening negotiations for the bout.

In the course of the letter, Dundee told Kahn that he only booked Roach, that Abood was the manager and took care of the financial and business arrangements. Dundee said that he had talked the matter over with Abood carefuly and that both agreed to allow Roach to fight here.

Opponent And Terms

If an agreement can be reached on a suitable opponent and a guarantee, the Plainview middleweight will show his wares in Lubbock.

The New York managers of Roach requested a $5,000 guarantee and an option of 35 percent of the gate, after Kahn wrote them saying the original guarantee of $7,500 was too much. The first offer was made before Roach fought Marcel Cerdan of France felt that the $7,500 guarantee was too high.

Dundee and Abood said, in answering the letter, that they would be willing to come in for a lower figure, then named their price.

Kahn probably will counter with a lower figure and round trip expenses for two persons.

Kahn pointed out that every time Roach appeared on the local scene as a guest referee, or in other capacities, he was lowering his gate appeal. Despite that, South Plains fight fans want to see Roach in ring action and his guest appearances are minor detriments.

The popular Plainview pugilist is resting at home with his parents for a month and is expected to return to New York in April to resume training. Dundee said that he had had numerous offers to book oach, but would refrain from committing the fighter until he heard from Kahn.

Roach declared in Plainview Friday night that his next fight either would be in Madison Square Garden or in Lubbock, probably in June or July. The Texas boxer lost none of his popularity through his defeat by the No. 1 challenger to Middleweight Champion Rocky Graziano and is determined to continue his climb up the fistic ladder.

A new super aviation gasoline that surpasses the popular 100,-octane fuel has been announced.

Girls Basketball Fieldhouse Sought

HILLSBORO, April 1 (AP) — A fieldhouse that will handle 7,000 fans for the Texas high school girls basketball tournament is planned by State Director L. C. McKamie in 1949.

Doughty hall here, where the state tournament is held, can not hold half the fans who want to see the games.

McKamie will leave shortly for Washington to obtain a government fieldhouse. The structure will be moved to Hillsboro.

Increasing popularity of girls' basketball and the possibility of a national playoff in the near future prompted McKamie's decision to build a permanent home for the league and it sstate tourney.

Playoff Plans Started

The Iowa High school girls' athletic union already has started plans for a nation-wide playoff in 1949.

Organized in 1939 by McKamie and other school men with 50 charter members, the Texas league has grown to 287. Sixty-five other schools made application too late for 1948 membership. An additional hundred schools sponsored girls' basketball this year, but did not enter championship competition.

Director McKamie predicts the league will have 400 members in 1949.

The state director said the fieldhouse will be owned and operated by the league. Various events would be staged in the structure the year-around to pay maintenance costs.

Tech Trackmen Off For Austin

Three members of the Texas by Coach Maxey McKnight, were slated to leave this morning for Austin, where Friday they will take part in the Texas Relays.

The three trackmen, Charles Pinnell, Ed Clepper and Charley Reynolds, will take part in the special events division of the Relays, with the remainder of the six-man squad coming down Friday.

Pinnell will compete in the high hurdles, the high jump and the broad jump; Clepper will be in the high hurdles and pole vault; and Reynolds will run the century and quarter-mile.

Others Leave Friday

The ond section of Red Raider tracksters will go to Austin Friday, when George Philbrick accompanies Joe Wilson, Ernest Hawkins and Costin Bufkin. These three runners, joined by Reynolds, will make up the Tech mile relay entry.

Tex Tech netmen will not be idle this week, the tennis team driving Portales, N. M., Saturday morning for afternoon matches with the Eastern New Mexico college racquet wielders. The Raider net team already holds a 9-0 victory here over the New Mexico team.

Friday the golf team will leave for Abilene, where they will meet Hardin-Simmons university linksmen. Elmer McKinney will head the team making the trip, accompanied by Bill Teagan, Jerry Stoltz and Ted Forsythe of Lubbock.

Dewey Opens Fire On Truman In Effort To Grab Wisconsin Vote

RACINE, Wis., April 1 (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today characterized President Truman and Henry A. Wallace as sponsors of "bankrupt" programs for dealing with Russia and said a "courageous, informed leadership" could keep the United States out of war.

"The time has come to begin to wage peace with all the vigor, the imagination, the skill and energy with which we waged war," Dewey asserted in an address prepared for a luncheon meeting here.

"It is a tough job and a long job," he added; "but we can be sure of the outcome."

Starts Tour

The New York governor's Racine appearance launched him on a whirlwind two-day Wisconsin campaign for delegate support of his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

He is contesting next Tuesday's crucial primary election with Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Harold E. Stassen for the state's 27 delegates to the national convention.

Dewey advisors say the governor expects MacArthur, a "favorite son," to lead the field. They predict Dewey will obtain more delegates than Stassen, which is his avowed objective.

In Milwaukee tonight, over a nationwide radio hookup (NBC), Dewey will continue his attack on Truman and give his own detailed program for what he calls "a successful American foreign policy" to cope with the "growing danger" of "the Communist program of world conquest."

War Feared

In his Racine address, Dewey said:

"After almost three years of aimless drifting, complete incompetence and sudden reversals of policy, the present national administration has brought our country to a point where many of our people fear we are stumbling toward war.

"While Mr. Truman blusters, Mr. Wallace, the former Democratic vice-president of the United States and Secretary of Commerce under Mr. Truman, calls for a policy of appeasement.

"Above all the confusion one stark, tragic fact hangs like an enveloping shadow over all our nation: If Mr. Truman bungles us into an early war, even though we win it, everything we hold dear . . . might be lost in the process; if Mr. Wallace's policy of surrender and appeasement were followed, we should ultimately be enveloped and choked to death in a Communist world.

Can Preserve Freedom

"Those are the two programs offered to our people by the two wings of the Democratic party, and they are both absolutely bankrupt.

"I assert with complete confidence that with courageous, informed leadership and sound government our nation need not fear war, and we can preserve the institution of human freedom . . ."

The governor will speak tomorrow noon at a rally in Eau Claire after morning conferences there with various agricultural groups. Late tomorrow afternoon he will speak at Stevens Point and in the evening will deliver a major address at Appleton. He will take a sleeper to Chicago and fly back to Albany Saturday.

Dewey will invade Nebraska next week, probably on Thursday and Friday. The Cornhusker state will hold its presidential primary April 13.

Sailors Turn To In Field Day On Texas

HOUSTON, April 1 (AP)—Sailors aboard the battleship Texas turned to early today to make the mighty sea warrior shipshape for April 21 when she will be turned over to the state as a shrine.

The battleship was moored yesterday at the San Jacinto ordnance depot, after a painstaking nine-hour 30-mile trip from Bolivar roads in Galveston bay.

Nearby, work was in progress on the slip which will hold the Texas when she is finally presented to the state in special San Jacinto day ceremonies.

From now until then her crew of 73 will spend many an hour cleaning up the vessel for the ceremonies. The Texas completes 34 years of naval service.

When she passed the tall San Jacinto monument on the channel trip the Texas flag at the battlegrounds was dipped. The Lone Star flag flying from a signal halyard on the mainmast of the ship was dipped.

During 1947 American rubber companies used over 1,100,000 tons of synthetic and natural rubber.

It's Spring---Time To Buy Little Woman A Fur Coat---But Chinchillas Not Available

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Ah, Here it is spring; the cherry trees are in full bloom; and it's time to buy the helpmate a new fur coat —or so they say in the ads.

And in the F. C. department, here is some good advice. It comes from Elizabeth R. Hosterman of the testing and specification section of the Bureau of Standards.

So you want to be a big shot and buy the bride a chinchilla, the most expensive shoulder and bustle covering in the world? Well, don't do it. For several reasons:

Reasons Given

1) Such a coat would set you back between $35,000 and $80,000, depending on the length, quality of lining, etc.

2) There aren't any for sale, anyhow. As of now there are only about 25 in the whole world. Queen Elizabeth has one. So has Lily Pons. So also has Mary Pickford. And so have 23 or so other people. The stock of the chinchilla, worth about 50 cents a hair, is so low that breeders aren't killing any off for coats. The little animals, which look like a cross between a rabbit and a squirrel, are used only for breeding purposes.

3) People would look at you.

4) A Chinchilla doesn't wear so well.

For this shocking bit of information, Mrs. Hosterman quotes the trade journal of the National Retail Dry Goods council. Just to keep them from getting in trouble with the chinchilla people.

So help us and Mrs. Hosterman and the "Fur Digest," the costly chinchilla, in the matter of wearability, ranks alongside of the leopard, the alley cat, fox, rabbit, kidskin, some types of lamb, marmot, ocelot and hare.

(Mrs. H. and the dry goods people hasten to add, however, that the length of wear can be prolonged if you know how to take care of your furs. But that's a story for another day.)

If the little woman insists on huddling under furs, you'd be better off (if you want the coat to last) to look at the badger, bear, beaver, fitch, fisher, kolinsky (asiatic mink), Persia lamb 'with high luster and well developed curl," American mink, martin, otter, raccoon, Alaska sealskin, and skunk.

All of these experts made no excuses about putting the skunk ahead of the chinchilla.

Ermine Only "Fair"

Or, for that matter, why the lovely ermine comes in the "fair serviceability" class. But it does. Among others, including broadtail, koala, kreimmer, some types of marten and mink, nutria, opposum, pony, sable, squirrel and weasel.

And when poor mere man goes into buy his wife a coat, how is he going to be able to tell whether he's getting a patch job of real pelts that lived and died in the forest, instead of some rat that was trapped in the basement of an apartment house and dyed to look like mink?

Mrs. Hosterman, a kindly little woman who knows her business, says there are several simple rules.

"Generally speaking," she spoke, "good quality fur is lustrous and bright. It's uniform in color, depth and texture. It's soft and pliable on the leather side.

"Good skins are soft and supple, but firm and strong. Old skins are harsh and brittle. If the salesgirl will let you, open the lining and have a look at the skin. An honest furrier will let you.

"Poor fur is rare or uneven. There are matted areas. It is dull in color. It's sometimes stiff. It has split or brittle ends."

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach and the ever-changing blood" need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Coal Strike Forces Steel Mills To Bank Furnaces, Stop Work

PITTSBURGH, April 1 (AP) — The steel industry counted 38 blast furnaces banked today as the 18-day-old soft coal walkout bit deeper into national production. Another five will be closed within the next few days if the shutdown continues.

The 400,000 members of the United Mine Workers, idle to back up their demand for $100 monthly pensions, today celebrated John L. Lewis day—also known in some areas as Mitchell day, in honor of the sponsor of the eight-hour working day.

Meanwhile, throughout the country more than 30,000 other workers were idle in steel, railroading and other industries closely allied to coal.

Railroads Hit

Coal-carrying railroads were hard hit. The Chesapeake and Ohio had furloughed 13,400 employes and the Baltimore and Ohio an estimated 6,000.

Other railroads reported these workers laid off: The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 670; the Virginia, 900; the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific, 200; and other lines smaller numbers. The New York Central planned to lay off 725 at its East Buffalo yards and 800 at Cleveland by Saturday.

Birmingham, biggest industrial center of the south, reported steel production cut to approximately 68 percent of normal and about 3,000 workers were idled by the coal shortage.

Seven blast furnaces and six open hearths were closed in the area. The Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Co., rail mill at Ensley, employing 500, was shut. Fifty coke ovens were down at Republic Steel's Thomas works in Birmingham. The American Cast Iron Pipe Co., was operating only three days a week, because of a coal-induced pig iron shortage, affecting 1,200 to 1,300 not included in the 3,000 reported idle.

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. at Youngstown, Ohio, said it probably will bank another blast furnace today. This would cut the number of operating furnaces at all plants in Youngstown from a normal 25 to 17.

In West Virginia, the Fairmont and Morgantown coke works of Sharon Steel Co., said they plan to curtail operations soon due to lack of coal.

At Buffalo, the CIO - United Steelworkers reported the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp. was suspending operations, idling 1,500. Plant executives declined to comment.

The Hanna Furnace Corp said it will shut down one of its four blast furnaces at Buffalo in a few days but will assign the workers temporarily to other jobs.

The Bethlehem Steel Co., announced curtailments at two plants. At its Lackawanna, N. Y., mill, pig iron output was halved and eight of 28 open hearths were down. The Johnston, Pa., plant had 900 workers idle, three of seven furnaces closed, and steel ingot production cut to 65 percent.

SEEKS UNKNOWN MAN WHO RECOMMENDED RETONGA TO HER

MRS. MARIE FOLLETT

"Tried So Many Medicines I Was Skeptical and Disgusted," Says Mrs. Follett. "Then A Kind Old Gentleman Told Me What Retonga Had Done for Him and His Wife."

"I'd read about Retonga in the papers, but I had taken so many medicines and spent so much money on them that I was disgusted and skeptical of anything," states Mrs. Marie Follett, respected housewife of 1630 Cotner St., west Los Angeles, Calif.

"I felt so dragged out in the mornings, I couldn't get going until the afternoon," continues Mrs. Follett in talking of her case. "I didn't want anything to eat at all. I quit drinking coffee thinking that would help me sleep better, but it didn't. I was up all hours of the night. I felt on edge all the time. I would suffer from gas pains and bloating and I had to take strong physics often for elimination. I would feel so tired out during the day I would have to lie down and rest up just to keep going.

"I was in a drug store and saw this kind old gentleman buying Retonga for himself and his wife. He said that it had helped them in so many ways that it was hard to believe that one medicine could be so fine. So I bought a bottle and the relief that Retonga has given me is wonderful. I sleep fine now and feel grand. I keep on the go and don't seem tired at all. My acid indigestion has been relieved and I don't have to take harsh physics. The gas and bloating have been entirely relieved. I would like to meet that fellow again who put me on to Retonga because I want to thank him. I hope he sees my statement. I think Retonga is a Godsend and I want everybody to know about this grand medicine that has brought me such wonderful relief."

The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. Accept no substitute—insist on the original. You can get Retonga at all Mark Harsey Drug Stores and all other good drug stores. Adv.

Security Council Said Ready To Investigate Czechoslovak Coup

By LARRY HAUCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, April 1 (AP)—Despite vehement Russian opposition, the security council today appeared ready to order an investigation of Moscow's role in the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

A formal vote is due next week. Russia and the Soviet Ukraine have fought bitterly against an inquiry. The United States, Britain, France, China, Canada and Syria have formally backed the idea. Argentina, Belgium and Colombia have indicated support. Seven votes are needed.

The shape and form of the investigation remain undecided. One delegate said a major consideration is to find a proposal which can escape a Russia veto.

Possibilities Emerge

At the close of yesterday's blistering debate, these two possibilities emerged:

1. The council may name a subcommittee of perhaps three nations to hear witnesses and make a thorough investigation. Chile, the government which filed the case, says six government leaders who escaped from Czechoslovakia are ready to testify to Russia's part in last month's Communist grab.

Some experts on council procedure believe creation of a subcommittee would be outside the range of the big power veto, which applies only on matters of substance.

2. The council might send a United Nations commission, similar tothose now in Greece and Korea, to Czechoslovakia. This plan has two potential stumbling blocks — Russia probably would veto it and even if she didn't, Czechoslovakia might refuse to admit the U. N. commission. Soviet-instigated border blocks already have stopped the Balkan and Korean commissions.

Strong Speech

China came forward in the council yesterday with one of the strongest speeches ever made here by a Nanking delegate. Dr. T. F. Tsiang said the council—and the world—might as well face the crisis now rather than two, three or five years from now.

He said the council should invite President Eduard Benes to Lake Success to tell the story of the Communist grab of power Tsiang made no mention of an earlier French opinion that Benes is a prisoner of the Communists.

The Chinese delegate tied the Czech problem directly to the Chinese fight against Communism in Manchuria. He said both places are cradles of conflict and the world shivers whenever anything extraordinary happens in either locality.

BANKING INTERLUDE

DELHI, India. (AP)—A youth strolled into a bank here, walked down a line of clerks. He struck each smartly on the head with a handkerchief filled with rocks. "You've got all the money. I've got none," the boy told startled bankers who handed him over to the police.

WEDDING PLANNED—Julia Kenney, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. George C. Kenney, will marry Lt. Edward C. Hoagland, Jr., of Louisville, Ky. General Kenney commands the Air Force Strategic Air Command.

Mob-Damaged Home Emptied

COLUMBUS, O., April 1 (AP)—Communist Frank Hashmall has abandoned his mob-damaged home, but declares the party "will remain, continue to expand its activities," in Columbus.

The 28-year-old self-styled executive secretary of Franklin county Communists, sent his furniture into storage last night. (Neither he nor his wife supervised the movers.)

Statement Is Issued

Then he issued a statement, bitterly denouncing Tuesday night's storming of his home. A gang of 30 or 40 broke in when the Hashmalls were away and virtually wrecked the interior besides breaking most of the windows.

"For more than 20 years," the statement went on, "the Communist party has been an active organization in this community. Regardless of any threats of illegal deportation by the police and the equally guilty sheriff, the Communist party will remain, continue and expand its activities."

Hashmall's reference to deportation dealt with Sheriff Ralph Paul's suggestion that the New Yorker might be made to leave town as a menace to the community. Paul said last night he found no way to effect this.

Don't Need Them

Meanwhile, U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) and top Communist party officials had their say on the matter.

"They don't like Communists in Columbus," Bricker said in a Washington speech. "We don't need any Communists out in our state."

William Z. Foster, national Communist party chairman, and Eugene Dennis, general secretary, demanded in New York that Governor Thomas J. Herbert and Columbus Mayor James Rhodes take "immediate action to investigate and punish" those who stormed the Hashmall home.

Marked Increase In Military Enlistments Noted In City

All Services Reveal Boost

By OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

A marked increase in enlistments has occurred in Lubbock since President Truman's message to Congress describing the European situation as critical and asking a temporary draft law and universal military training, all of the recruiting offices here reported.

The Organized Surface division 8-87 of the Organized Naval Reserve has received approximately 30 per cent more enlistments since the president's address. The division, which had its first meeting for which men received pay July 28, 1947, now has 271 enlisted men. The division will be housed in the armory being constructed on Texas Technological college campus.

Some Have Resigned

On the other side of the picture, although the President's message has caused some to enlist, it also has caused some to resign from the reserve. Since the message, seven men have asked to resign from the naval reserve and that previously had not occurred in the organized division of the Organized Naval Reserve except in one case involving disability. One man gave as his reason that he wanted to finish college; and not risk possible interruption; another, that he wanted to join another branch of service.

Reservists must give 30 days' notice before discharges take effect.

Regular Navy enlistments also have increased. Seven enlisted last week, six the week before and nine so far this week. A total of 24 occurred during March, compared to eight in February.

Army enlistments have increased about 15 per cent since the President's message. The Air Force resumed enlistments last Friday and much interest also has been shown in that force.

Includes 26 Counties

The Lubbock district of the Organized Reserve of the Army in Texas has an officer strength of 464 and enlisted reserve strength of 1,325. The district includes 26 counties. Recently, the increase has been "very noticeable," according to information from the office of Maj. Huddleston Wright. More officers and enlisted men also have made application for short tours of active duty of 30, 60 or 90 days.

Marine enlistments have increased and the recruiting office personnel also has been asked numerous questions by persons wanting information on the state of world events.

The 132nd field artillery battalion of the National Guard is in its early stages, but has three batteries in Lubbock, one in Big Spring and one in Plainview. The

Four Sets Of Twins Prove To Be Confusing In School Room

PITTSBURGH, April 1. (AP)—Miss Mercedes Gleason, teacher of class 2-B at Beechwood school, calls the roll by eye instead of voice. There are four sets of twins in her class.

The identification problem has been eased somewhat by the mother of the seven-year-old Previtt twins. She pins gold initials on her children, a "J" for Janet, and an "L" for Linda.

Miss Gleason is pretty certain the dancing seven-year-old boy is Richard DeMarco. His brother Robert, a baseball fan, is usually spotted gazing wistfully out of the window. But the other twins are really a problem. Barbara and Brenda Cappy, 7, are identical even to a missing front tooth. Almost as hard to identify are Ronald and Robert Hodgson, 8, who are blond and blue-eyed.

The twins' teacher confesses that class life is "interesting but bewildering."

Most Folks Fall For "Jokes" Any Time, Con Man Reveals

CHICAGO, April 1 (U.P.)—People fall for practical jokes on April Fool's day because most of them are suckers any day in the year, the Yellow Kid said today.

The nation's most notorious swindler, who claims to have relieved his victims of more than $8,000,000, said that "just about every man and woman in the United States is waiting to be taken."

Joseph (Yellow Kid) Weil speaks with his own authority, having spent 40 years in the confidence game. Dressed impeccably, with a Homburg hat and yellow kid gloves, he duped bankers, industrialists, and business men with an endless series of get-rich-quick schemes.

"The bankers are the biggest suckers in the world," he said. "They're always looking for an easy dollar and I was always ready to give it to them.

"A farmer or small merchant is much tougher to fool. He is too cautious. He wants to check up and that's no good. The big business man or banker gets so greedy for a good deal he forgets about safeguards."

Weil, who lived royally on the proceeds of his profession and spent only four years in prison, never tried to fool a woman because "they are too suspicious and quick to run to the police when they find out they've been hooked."

"That's another good thing about the business man or banker,"

Two Brothers Are Reunited

DINGVILLE, Calif., April 1. (AP)—This little north central California town was all astir today about the reunion of Bill Hurley—known here as plain Billy Smith—with his famous brother, Maj. Gen. Patrick Hurley.

The two saw each other last night for the first time in 45 years. Patrick Hurley, former Secretary of War and onetime ambassador extraordinary to China, had believed his brother was killed in Mexico 37 years ago.

Telephones Brother

Finally, a few weeks ago, Bill Hurley, a farm laborer, telephoned his brother at the urging of friends.

They met in front of a general store.

"Hello, Bill, good to see you," said the general, shaking hands. There was a pause, then—"you're Bill, all right. There's no doubt about that."

The two climbed into a car and talked two and one-half hours. Then General Hurley drove to Sacramento to fly to Washington, D. C.

Bill, who had been content to let his family believe him dead, was dressed for the occasion in a suit instead of his customary blue jeans. He replied to his brother's greeting:

"Hi, there, Pat—nice of you to come."

Association Urges Lower Auto Taxes

DALLAS, April 1. (U.P.)—The Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas association urged today that while Congress slashes income taxes, something should be done to lower taxes a motorist must pay for his car.

The association said that the average Texan pays more taxes on his motor vehicle than to the federal government for income tax.

R. B. Anderson, association president, remarked that the average motorist pays $82 annually in state and federal gasoline taxes, state registration fees and federal automotive taxes.

"This is equivalent to the federal income tax paid by a Texan with exemptions for a wife and two children on $2,725 income," Anderson said, adding that a majority of Texas motorists are in income brackets below that figure.

"Congress is doing something about the income tax, which is too high for the average taxpayer, but so far there has been no relief in sight for the average taxpayer who also drives an automobile."

Mountain Crash Claims Three

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 1 (AP) Search crews, slogging through mud and dense woodlands, today converged on the wreckage of a twin-engine plane that crashed last night on snow-capped Moonhaw mountain, killing at least two persons.

The plane, believed to be an Air Force B-25 medium bomber, smashed into the mountainside shortly after 8 p. m. (EST) last night.

Two Bodies Seen

Early today, the Ulster county sheriff's office reported that six civilian searchers, who reached the isolated crash scene sveral hours after the accident, had discovered two bodies. They said a third body was believed to be inside the still-smouldering wreckage.

Positive ownership of the plane was not established immediately but Air Force officials at nearby Stewart field last night reported a B-25 bomber many hours overdue.

The overdue plane, enroute to the field on a routine training flight from Westover field, Mass., carried three men.

Mile-high Moonhaw mountain is about 25 miles west of here. A heavy rain impeded search operations as civilians, sheriffs' officers, state police and army units struggled toward the crash scene.

Witnesses said they saw the plane, flying low, hurdle into the mountainside and explode with a terrific roar. The burning craft sent flames hundreds of feet into the air, they said.

Two Changes Said Needed In Charter

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of four discussions of five proposed amendments to the Lubbock city charter which are to be submitted to election next Tuesday. The proposals are being discussed in the same order they appear on the printed ballot.)

* * *

By H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

Two proposed city charter amendments which should and apparently will have the support of most citizens in the city election next Tuesday are those which appear on the printed ballot under the headings of "Amendment No. 3" and "Amendment No. 4."

KIEFER

No. 3 amendment would relieve the mayor of the necessity of signing individual payroll checks of city employes.

No. 4 would eliminate the requirement that the city commission, in choosing a Lubbock city manager, would have to select someone who had resided in Texas at least one year immediately preceding his appointment.

The signing of city payroll checks is now one of the most exasperating and time-taking chores of the mayor—who, incidentally, receives $75 a month for his services. There are 400 to 450 such checks twice each month, and the task of signing them requires several hours.

Plan Is Explained

Under the system proposed in the amendment, the mayor simply would sign big sheets on which would be listed the names of city employes and their salaries. The sheets would be certified by the city auditor.

From those sheets, the individual checks would be prepared. They then would have to be signed by the mayor or the city manager and the city secretary.

Payrolls would be amply protected under the amendment. They would come under the scrutiny of the city auditor, the mayor, the city manager and the city secretary before checks were handed out.

The city commission learned from experience recently that it was under a serious handicap in trying to select a city manager because of the charter's present requirement of a year's residence in Texas. Several applicants had to be eliminated for that reason.

As it happened, the commission agreed unanimously on Marlin R. Smith, jr., a former city manager and a resident of Lubbock.

But if Smith had not been avail-

Strong Stand May Be Taken

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 1. (AP)—Anti-Communist feeling among the 21 Pan American conference nations seemed today to be developing into a demand for a firm stand against Russia.

Chile's foreign minister, Juvenal Hernandez, called for just that yesterday.

Hernandez said Chile has aligned herself with nations which defend Democracy and liberty.

No Time To Dally

"That should be the attitude of all the nations of America," he told delegates, who burst into applause.

He told them there is no time to dally:

"This is the time for decision. There is no place for a third position."

Hernandez, representing a country which recently severed its relation with Russia, spoke before the plenary session of the ninth Pan American conference. An important item on the agenda is development of an economic cooperation program among American nations.

World Is Divided

The Chilean foreign minister warned delegates the world has divided into two fronts:

One which seeks to impose a new political totalitarianism, and another which seeks to defend western culture by Democratic means.

Chile, he said, has taken its stand without equivocation.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall of the United States set the stage for the anti-Communist pressure at the conference opening Tuesday when he asked if the question of subversive activity could be put on the agenda.

Unanimous Assurance

He received unanimous assurance that it could.

Brazil, another South American country which has broken relations with Russia, approved Hernandez's stand.

Joao Neves Fontoura, Brazil's chief delegate, called the Chilean's speech "very profound."

Arturo Despradel of the Dominican republic said his country was in complete accord with Hernandez' position.

Chief delegates of several other countries declined to comment directly. They indicated that while they are prepared to subscribe to an anti-Communist resolution at the conference they might not favor as militant a stand as Chile suggested.

Murder Trial Moves Ahead

EDINBURG, April 1 (AP) — The murder trial of Tomas Rivera moved on today behind his testimony that law officers pushed his head into a pan of water while he was under questioning in the slaying of Amado Vera, jr., Starr county politico.

Vera was slain in front of his filling station March 17 a year ago. His wife testified on the opening day of the trial that her husband was killed by a group of men who drove away from them shooting, shouting and laughing.

Rivera and Rosalio Sanchez were charged jointly in Vera's death. Sanchez, held in jail here, will be tried separately.

Rivera's testimony yesterday that officers mistreated him was followed by the issuance of subpoenas for eleven peace officers, 10 from Willacy county and one from Harlingen.

The defendant said his hands were handcuffed behind his back and that he was forced to lie on the floor while four officers at Raymondville ni Willacy county pushed his face into the pan of water.

Texas Ranger Ernest Best, who headed the investigation into Vera's death, testified that Rivera was never taken to the Willacy county jail.

Rivera named Deputy Sheriff Leon McElroy and Deputy Constable Gikberto Tamez of Raymondville as two of the officers he said mistreated him. Called to the witness stand, both men denied the charge.

Friday Is Last Day For Absentee Votes

Friday will be the last day for casting absentee ballots in the city election of next Tuesday, city officials reminded today.

Ballots may be obtained from Miss Lavenia Williams, city secretary, on the second floor of the city hall from 8 a. m. until noon and from 1 until 5 p. m. Only 10 absentee votes have been cast, she reported.

The only contested race is between Mayor C. A. Bestwick, seeking a second term, and W. H. Rodgers, former city manager. E. K. Hufstedler, jr., and Clarence Whiteside are unopposed for the two city commission places to be filled. Five proposed city charter changes also are to be voted on.

HEAVY CASHING ABSORBED

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Stocks were fairly successful today in absorbing heavy profit cashing on the lengthy market recovery although many leaders faltered.

Activity was pronounced in the forenoon when casualties running to a point or so were well distributed. Bids appeared after midday and declines were shaded or converted into advances in numerous cases at the close.

For the full proceedings volume was in the neighborhood of 1,650,000 shares compared with 1,780,000 yesterday and was one of the year's best.

On the downside the greater part of the day were U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Firestone Tire, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, American Can, Johns-Manville, Owens-Illinois, Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line, Pacific Western Oil and Paramount Pictures.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil touched a high for the year. Superior Oil, the week's widest gainer, hardened. Ahead were Union Pacific, Great Northern Railway, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Sears Roebuck, Kennecott, Allied Chemical and Warner Bros.

Principle buying incentives again stemmed from the prospects of big government spending on rearmament and European relief in addition to hopes for tax reduction. A possible settlement of the coal mining walkout bolstered sentiment.

Bonds steadied. Commodities strengthened. Cotton, toward the finish, was up $1.15 to $2.05 a bale. At Chicago wheat ended up 3 to 3 ½ cents a bushel, corn 3 ¼ to 5 ½ and oats 1 ⅛ to 3 ¼.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Cotton futures were strong in active dealings today under the impetus of heavy trade buying associated with sales of cotton to China. Estimates on the extent of China's buying was raised to about 200,000 bales in anticipation of the foreign aid program. Some quarters predicting current sales to that country may reach or exceed 250,000 bales.

There was a good deal of stop-loss buying in evidence, with hedging and profit taking readily absorbed.

Traders noted that freezing temperatures reported in parts of Texas and unwanted rains in the Mississippi valley would further delay new crop preparations. ¼ ¼

Certificated cotton stocks increased 260 bales to a new high of 100,498 bales.

Highway 82 Widening Requested In Austin

A request of Crosby, Lubbock and Lynn counties for widening of 30 miles of U. S. highway 82 from Idalou to the Dickens county line was made before a highway commission public hearing this morning in Austin, The Associated Press reported.

"The project was taken under advisement," the press service continued.

The request was made by County Judges Emzy Pieratt of Crosbyton, Walter Davies of Lubbock and Tom Garrard of Tahoka, and by delegations they represent.

From Lubbock county, the following others were at the hearing: County Commissioners R. O. Short, Ben Mansker and Ottis Isom, and County Clerk Louie F. Moore, who is ex-officio secretary and clerk to the Lubbock county commissioners court.

Tonight Deadline On Auto Registrations

The deadline for registration of motor vehicles and trailers and trailer houses will be at midnight, and the office of J. B. Johnston, county tax assessor-collector, will be open until that time, it was announced this afternoon.

A total of 23,656 registration receipts had been issued, and crowds before the four clerks writing them were thinning, Johnston said.

He had not found it necessary today to operate two sub-stations, but was issuing receipts only from his courthouse office.

Long Fight For Marshall Plan Is No Guarantee It Will Work

BY JAMES MARLOW
Assodiated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 1—Now ake a cold look at the Marshall plan—the European Recovery plan called ERP.

The question is: Will it work? ERP, now approved by both houses of Congress, is supposed o do two things:

1. Help the western European countries get on their feet.

2. And, by doing that, stop Communism from gobbling them up.

The House okayed the plan last night, the Senate March 14. They differ on details but will work them out shortly. Then ERP starts.

Europe In Bad Shape

To get a cold look at what lies ahead, look back a minute.

The plan was first suggested about 10 months ago—June 5, 1947—by Secretary of State Marshall. Europe was in bad shape, going to get worse.

The worse it got—spreading hunger and discontent—the better the chance for the Communists to take over.

Marshall, simply, suggested this:

1. The European countries should work together to help themselves get on their feet.

2. They couldn't do it all by themselves. They'd need extra, outside help. But if they'd work together—

3. The United States would give the extra help needed, or most of it.

A lot of European countries jumped at the chance. That included Czechoslovakia. It said it wanted to join in.

Almost overnight, under pressure from Russia, Czechoslovakia reversed itself and said it wouldn't join in.

16 Join

Russia and the other European said they wanted nothing to do with ERP.

Finally 16 European countries —including Britain, France and Italy—got together to join in the Marshall plan.

But the Communist-dominated countries of Europe not only balked but said they'd do everything they could to wreck the plan.

Months passed as thousands of experts in those 16 countries and the United States tried to work out details of the plan.

In France and Italy huge strikes, inspired by the Communists within those countries, broke out and crippled those countries some more.

At last Congress began its new session in January and started to work on the plan as it was drawn up by the experts here and abroad.

Help To Start

There were long hearings, long arguments, many people talking for and against the plan before congressional committees.

Now, at last, both Houses after long debate have finally approved the plan although differing on some points.

Straightening out those differences will take more time, maybe a week or so. Then ERP will start pumping help into Europe.

But the Communists haven't been quiet for, in the meantime—

They took over Czechoslovakia a month ago, shocking this country and 16 western European countries taking part in ERP.

Something even more stunning may be in the making right now. That's in Italy. The Italians hold their deadly important national elections April 18.

Election Watched

If the Communists get control there—through the elections or later by force—the psychological effect on the rest of Europe will be profound.

This country has told the people of Italy they'll be shut off from ERP help if the Communists come to power there.

This may persuade a number of Italians to vote against the Communists April 18. Maybe. The elections will give an answer.

If Italy goes Communist, the Communists in France will feel their backbone strengthened and may grab for power.

If France should go Communist—even while ERP is piping in help—the rest of Europe would tremble.

So there's no guarantee the Marshall plan will be able to do what it sets out to do.

Church Rally Set

Dr. Charles A. Gaines, of Dallas, Gulf States district supervisor of Foursquare churches, will conduct a district missionary rally today and tonight at Foursquare chapel, Thirty-fourth and Ave. J, Rev. Floyd Dawson, pastor of First Foursquare church, has announced.

Dr. Gaines, who will be accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Claude Updike, missionaries from Los Angeles, will speak at both the 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. meetings, Rev. Dawso said. Rev. and Mrs. Updike plan to go to South America about September to do missionary work.

This district of the Foursquare church includes two churches in Lubbock, and one each in Amarillo, Plainview, Abernathy, Hale Center, Levelland, Littlefield and Brownfield, Rev. Dawson explained.

CRIME DOES NOT PAY—Philip Anderso., jr., 22, lies dying on a New York City street after he had been shot by Detective Cornelius O'Leary while trying a cleaning store holdup. The detective was wounded in the hand by his own gun while grappling with the robber. Anderson died on the way to a hospital.

OCEANIC SALTS

One cubic mile of the ocean contains enough magnesium salts to yield about 4,500,000 tons of magnesium, a metal that played an important part in the war, and one that will be used in much postwar construction.

Eisenhower Becomes Grandfather Of Boy

WEST POINT, N. Y., April 1 (U.P.)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was a grandfather today. An 8 pound, 15 - ounce son, Dwight David Eisenhower II, was born at the West Point station hospital yesterday to Capt. and Mrs. John D. Eisenhower.

Eaker Foresees War In Speech At Waco

WACO, April 1 (AP)—General Ira C. Eaker said at a Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet here last night that Russia represents "the most powerful enemy—the most cruel tyranny that ever cursed mankind—and is riding unchecked."

The former commander of the Eighth Air force said that the Soviet union may so trample small European nations that the United States will be forced to declare war.

Eaker called for a strong defense with a balanced Army, Navy and Air force. He said the next war would be a battle of guided missiles and airborne invasions.

The retired general predicted that by 1955 guided missiles would have ranges up to 2,000 miles and could carry an explosive load of more than ten tons of atomic materials.

Former General Is Claimed In Dallas

DALLAS, April 1. (AP)—Casper B. Rucker, who rose from a private to a brigadier general before retiring from the Army in 1946, died of a heart attack at his home here yesterday at the age of 61.

Upon his resignation from the Army he was named administrator of the War Assets administration's southwest zone, a position he held until Jan. 8, 1948 when he resigned because of poor health.

He was chief of staff of the Eighth Service command in World War II and held the position until is retirement from the Army after 34 years of service.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Pan-American Conference Gives Attention To Economic Affairs

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
Special Correspondent

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 1—The long-term outlook for security in Latin America is every bit as serious as that in Europe or Asia.

But there is this vital difference. Europeans are saying that dollars alone will not save Europe or China, and delegates to the Pan-American conference are saying that arms alone cannot save the western hemisphere.

What is needed, they say here, is an inter-American plan providing for hemispheric co-operation, not merely for the common defense but on the whole broad economic scale. And not for just a few years, but for many.

Collapse Within Feared

Of what lasting good is it, they ask, for the Americas to strengthen themselves against attack from without, only to collapse or be destroyed from within?

Almost without exception, delegates here express grave anxiety over the economic depression now prevailing in most of their countries. The dollar famine about which Europe complains so bitterly is equally serious down here. It is true the food situation is better. But inflation, high prices and traditionally low purchasing power for the masses makes for conditions almost as bad over here as over there.

Communist propaganda therefore falls on fertile ground. The sort of leftist civil war which today places Costa Rica's capital in the hands of Communists might easily spread to other countries. In fact fear is expressed here that it may.

Project Needed

So, however splendid the inter-American defense treaty signed at Rio last September is, it would not be worth much if the Red conspiracy takes serious hold. Here co-ordination of hemisphere defense alone, delegates feel, won't do the trick. Nor will a paper understanding calling for the study and control of subversive activities. There must be an inter-American project which will get at the roots of the trouble, namely the low living standards.

This will require improved agricultural and industrial methods throughout most of the Americas. Also, more and cheaper consumer goods better housing, water conservation, hydro-electric power, more and better roads to markets, irrigation and other public works.

Marshall Understands

Secretary of State George C. Marshall fully understands the broad nature of his mission to Bogota. He proved that by bringing along Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder, Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman, Chairman William M. Martin, jr., of the Export-Import bank and other economic and financial experts, as well as the usual diplomatic and political quota.

But dovetailing the three phases of the conference won't be easy. First comes hemisphere defense. The second is—to quote Secretary Marshall—"The prohibition of foreign-inspired subversive activities directed against the institutions and the peace and security of the American republics." Third is the economic, and of the three this will likely prove the hardest.

For it will require a lot of hard sense on the part of both the United State and Latin America—more indeed than either has shown in the past.

Kingsville Men Die In Plane Accident

KINGSVILLE, April 1 (AP)—J. R. McKenzie, 23, and Herbert E. Doerre, 21, both of Kingsville, were instantly killed near here yesterday when their plane crashed and burned in a plowed field.

Witnesses said the plane, a basic trainer, went into a slow roll shortly after the takeoff and suddenly plunged to earth.

20-30 Club Is Host For Ladies Night

Approximately 50 couples, including guests from Brownfield, Lamesa and Big Spring, attended the Lubbock 20-30 club's Ladies Night banquet and dance last night at Hotel Lubbock, a member of the club reported.

Prize-winners in the contests held during the fun program were Miss Sally Temple, Jim Williams, Mrs. Terry Waldron, jr., and Mrs. Raymond McIlroy.

Guests present, in addition to wives of club members, were Miss Sally Temple, Miss Gwynn Byers, Miss Margaret Haitt, Miss Jodie Turpin, Mr. and Mrs. Tarkington, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Vallas, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Baine, Mr and Mrs. J. L. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. V. F Hickman and Mr. and Mrs Nathan Edwards.

Raymond Mack, president of the club, presided and served as master of ceremonies during the program.

Levelland Firm Gets Area Road Contract

C. E. Blakeman Construction company of Levelland submitted the low bid of $96,039 yesterday for 16.18 miles of road maintenance and construction in Castro and Lamb counties, the Associated Press reported from Austin.

The Castro and Lamb county project calls for grading, structures, foundation course and base and asphalt surface from Hart to Olton and from Spring Lake school south to State Highway 70 on farm-to-market roads 168 and 302.

The bid of the Levelland construction company was included among low bids on 32 more highway maintenance and construction projects yesterday, bringing the total on low bids for Tuesday and Wednesday to $7,391,743, the Associated Press report said.

Farm Films To Be Shown At College

Two films of particular interest to persons engaged in farming will be shown at Tech agricultural auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock, it was announced last night by George Elliot, assistant Lubbock county agent.

The first motion picture will be devoted to the use of chemicals and equipment in the eradication of weeds. The second picture will demonstrate the use of machines on cotton crops from the planting stage to the milling of cotton fibers.

John Box, of the Lubbock experimental station, will discuss the subject of mechanical cotton harvesting.

Interested persons are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Democrats In Senate Talk Of Last Stand Against Tax Slash

By JAMES DANIEL
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Democrats in the Senate are talking of making one last stand in opposition to the $4.8 billion tax-reduction bill.

President Truman is expected to veto the tax cut within a few days. On the basis of the lineup when the bill passed, the Republicans can pick up more than enough Democratic votes in the House and Senate to override a veto.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.) said today he would take the floor to favor upholding the veto and devoting the $4.8 billion to debt reduction and meeting anticipated increased expenditures, including those for defense.

"At the rate the Republicans propose to pay it off, $2.5 billion a year, it would take 100 years to pay off our debt of $253 billion," he said.

"The Republican tax-reduction policy is a declaration by Congress that the people will have to contribute $5 billion a year for an indefinite period, just to pay the interest on the national debt.

"This is more than the cost of running Congress, the federal courts, the White House and the purely civilian expenses of government.

"If we don't make a real effort to pay off the debt now while we are prosperous, it will become the hook upon which the capitalistic system will be left to dry and blow away."

Comedy Stage Version

The bushy-browed Wyoming Democrat, who was much talked of as a Truman running mate before the President's prestige skidded, said the Republican leaders in Congress were coming to resemble the comedy stage version of a senator—"for every tax cut to reduce revenues, for every new appropriation to increase expenditures." He continued:

"Having announced by a record vote on Monday last week its purpose of cutting receipts by almost $5 billion, the Senate on Tuesday, without a record vote, authorized $275 million extra for Greece and Turkey—a necessary expenditure, but wholly out of harmony with the action to reduce the government's capacity to pay.

"Last Wednesday we took up federal aid to education, supported by the Republican leadership under Senator Taft. This is $295 million the first year, increasing afte rthat. The Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill is coming up —running to hundreds of millions of dollars.

"Universal training would cost 895 million the first year, increasing to $1½ billion.

Denounced By GOP

The President, who must cut his garment to fit the cloth, was planning to ask for funds to expand the Air Force. He was denounced by the same Republican senators who had voted to cut revenues, for not proposing more funds for this purpose."

Some of the other recent increased expenditures he intends to point out are these:

Further authorization under the Lanham housing act, $35 million; Mississippi flood control, $100 million; for federal loyalty probe, $11 million; interim aid to Europe, $597 million; increased allowances for veterans studying under the GI bill, $120 million; yearly rise in liability for veterans' pensions, $50 million (on top of present $2.1 billion.

"I have not mentioned aid to China, aid to Trieste, Latin-American military co-operation, far eastern reconstruction, or some other propects," Senator O'Mahoney said.

"All the way down the line, this Republican Congress is passing new bills every week increasing the expenditures of the federal government. And now we seek to reduce the receipts required to meet those expenditures."

Ross Ayers, who was an officer in the 131st field artillery and is commander of the 132nd battalion, said of the interest in the 132nd battalion, "Everyone is interested from the standpoint that they would like to see us have it, but they don't want to be a part." able, members of the commission agreed they were in doubt as to whether the best man for the job could have been found in Texas.

By eliminating the Texas residence requirement, the chances are increased of obtaining the best available man for the job when the city manager's position becomes vacant. The commissioners still can hire a Texan if they wish and one is available. But if a better man from another state is obtainable, the amendment would permit his employment.

Approval of both Amendments Nos. 3 and 4 seems the common sense thing to do next Tuesday.

According to the master swindler, Americans fall for just about anything.

"The more fantastic it is," he said, "the harder they fall. I always found that every man has a soft spot for something, gold mines or horses or jewels. I always cooked up a scheme to meet the order."

Well sighed.

"But I guess those days have gone," he said.

New Negotiations Ordered By Union

INDIANAPOLIS, April 1 (AP)—The International Typographical Union today ordered its striking locals to start new negotiations for contracts.

In a bulletin labeled "Instructions and Advice," ITU headquarters warned that strikers' benefits would be withdrawn from locals failing to comply.

The bulletin announced ITU will "fully comply" with an injunction granted the government in federal district court here last Saturday.

In that decree, Judge Luther M. Swygert forbade ITU officers to carry out the union's "conditions of employment" bargaining policy. Specifically, it prohibited discrimination against non-union printers.

The injunction, however, is temporary, hinging on the outcome of a current hearing before a National Labor Relations board examiner.

The ITU bulletin orders its striking locals to "notify their employers that they withdraw all previous offers and demands." These locals are instructed to negotiate new agreements consistent with terms of the decree."

Southwestern Wheat Farmers Keeping Fingers Crossed, But Have Doubts About Bumper Crop

KANSAS CITY, April 1. (AP)—Bread belt farmers and those on the Great Plains to the Southwest have their fingers crossed this spring as the new crop growing season begins.

Most wheat farmers feel there is little chance of another bumper crop like last year's.

For seven years now they have had bumper crops in the heard wheat country, the heart of which lies in Kansas, Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Optimism Seen

The weather and the law of averages are against a repeat performance. Yet there is a touch of optimism in the talk at the crossroads as the countryside begins to green up.

The corn outlook is better but Missouri is about the only state among those of the south central and southwestern group that can be considered much of a corn country.

Oats, like wheat, got caught by the weather. Wheat hit a dry spell shortly after planting time last fall and oats ran into a wet spring which kept farmers out of fields for the most part.

The farmer's lot has improved somewhat from the labor, storage and machinery standpoint — enough so that he probably can slip through the growing season and harvest without too much trouble.

Weather Changeable

The weather, always "X" in the farm equation, has had a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde effect on the crops in these parts. It even went so far as to affect the tomato and onion crops in Texas.

Early tomato plants in East Texas were wiped out by the early March freeze Rio Grande valley plants were retarded. The onion crop wasn't hit so hard. Texas is the biggest tomato shipping state in the nation and shares the onion producing honors with Colorado.

A dry fall got wheat off to a bad start. Swirling dust, fanned across the fields by autumn winds, revived talk of the old dust bowl days of the thirties. Winter stilled that talk by blanketing wheatlands with record snowfalls. But the harvest is bound to be late.

Now the wheat is greening up. It's spotty, thin in places and like velvet in others. The one thing wheat men fear now is weeds. With wheat coming out of winter retarded, the weeds may get the jump in the growing season.

Always Hopeful

But farmers always have been a hopeful lot—like C. A. Crumbaker, who farms some 1,000 acres along the Blue river in central Kansas.

"I have one plot of wheat that I was going to plow up for spring oats planting," he says, "but it has greened up so much in the last few days that I believe it will make a good crop."

Nowhere on the Plains is there anything approaching unanimity on the crop's chances.

Around Enid, milling and shipping center of northwestern Oklahoma's rich grainfields, farmers are saying the outlook is gloomy. Planting there was delayed four to eight weeks by last fall's drouth. At best they expect only a normal crop.

Time To Work

Leslie Smith, a farmer of the Enid neighborhood, says "it looks like the boom days are over and it is time to get down to work again."

Chester V. Johnson, a Texhoma editor of Oklahoma's Panhandle, is more optimistic. Hhis county, Texas, was Oklahoma's No. 1 wheat producer last year.

"Forty eight inches of winter snow," he said. "Have changed the dismal autumn wheat prospects in this section of Oklahoma Panhandle and the north part of the Texas Panhandle to a spring outlook that is excellent."

C. F. Augustine, who runs livestock yards at Texhoma and Lamar, Colo., agrees. Augustine is in touch with farmers and stockmen over much of northern Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico and Eastern Colorado.

"Much of the wheat that had a chance to come up last fall," he reports, "looks awfully nice now. Wheat acreage drilled later is just now coming up and doesn't look too promising. I would say that 50 to 60 per cent of the wheat acreage looks good and has a good chance."

Volunteer Stands

Farmers in the Texas Panhandle are depending a great deal on volunteer stands. A dry fall prevented planting in much of the Panhandle. Volunteer stands make good crop two or three times in 10 years.

The Texas Panhandle has plenty of moisture right now but the winter's harsh blizzards have left their mark. H. C. Winburn, Amarillo weatherman, says top soil is loose—and perfect for dust storms. He is hoping for a hard rain to rock the soil around the wheat roots.

On the Plains south of the Texas Panhandle, they are expecting a harvest about one-fourth as big as last year's. The fall drought is the answer there, too, for the poor prospects.

Perhaps the brightest winter wheat spot is Missouri. A third again as much wheat has been sown in this state as was last year. The fall was ideal for planting and the wheat was away to a good start. The greatest snowfall in years added moisture and a warm covering against the winter winds.

Prospects Good

Prospects for the 1948 corn crop in Missouri are most encouraging. That comes from Tom R. Douglas of the Missouri Department of Agriculture. He says richer fields on bottom land farms have been reserved this year for corn.

Oklahoma's corn crop likely will be a bit smaller but wet fields may lead farmers to put corn in instead of oats.

Soggy fields this spring have dealt oats a tough blow. Many of them have been so wet that farmers couldn't get oats in. Now it is too late in many cases.

There has been little pasturing of livestock on the wheat this spring because of its late start. Consequently most farmers are running low on feed.

New Mexico Doubtful

New Mexico farmers and ranchers aren't predicting record crops or herds. But they are not complaining about the weather. With few exceptions, they are pleased with the moisture left by a wet winter.

On the eastern side of the state, ranchers say range prospects are the best in several years. In the northern part, melting snows have left them "muddied in" but happy. Wheat acreage is smaller than last year but what came up looks healthy enough.

Lack of water and electric power has retarded Arizona agriculture. Cotton planting is about done there. It is about the same as last year when a crop valued at $43,000,000 was harvested. This is about one-fourth of the state's agriculture income.

The drought is expected to hit the cattle business hard in Arizona. Lack of moisture last year in southern Texas and Louisiana brought cattle from that section into the state. This year greatly restricted hay and alfalfa crops in Arizona is likely to cause the business of feeding cattle to drop off considerably.

Labor Easing

Throughout Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona the labor situation appears to be easing. Some farmers say the quality of help is poor; that they are getting the leftovers from industry. They all agree the labor is priced too high.

The farm machinery picture has improved but it still is acute.

Most of the farmers seem to think the present price level on farm products will hold. They have been given a jolt by the decline in grain and livestock prices last winter. Many of them still are holding wheat as a hedge against the possibility of a poor 1948 crop.

London Papers Give Banner Play To ERP

LONDON, April 1 (AP)—London morning newspapers gave banner line play today to House passage of the European Aid bill. Many of them were critical of the action to make Spain eligible for Marshall Plan aid.

The Daily Herald, organ of the ruling Labor party, was blunt in its comment on the amendment concerning Spain.

"There is no doubt that a majority of the 16 (Marshall Plan nations) are against the admission (of Spain)," it said. "The United States may or may not give assistance to Spain. And so far that is not decided. But Spain, under General Franco, cannot be brought into the cooperative organization. This is clear."

The Spanish amendment, approved by the House, must have Senate approval before it becomes part of the European Recovery program law.

Very Small Crowd At Tyler Wallace Club

TYLER, April 1 (AP)—A meeting was held here last night to organize a Wallace-for-President club.

Three people attended.

One was Ben F. Randolph, temporary chairman of the Wallace club; a reporter, and a passerby who dropped in "just to see what was going on."

Nearly two-thirds of Japan's merchant ships and one-third of her warships were sunk by U. S. submarines in World War II.

The site of Cheyenne, Wyo., was selected and named by Gen. Grenville M. Dodge, Civil War veteran, on July 4, 1867.

The robin appears in the spring as the temperature of the region warms up to a daily average of 35 degrees.

Take Off Ugly Fat With Grape Fruit Juice Recipe

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Pro-Margerine Congressmen See First Victory Over Dairy Bloc

By EARL RICHERT
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Congressmen seeking to remove the federal taxes on margarine today believed they were at long last on the threshold of their first victory over the powerful dairy bloc.

They have obtained 175 names—only 43 short of the 218 necessary—on a petition to force a margarine tax-repeal bill out of the dairy-controlled House agriculture committee to the House floor for a vote.

"We know we'll get the 218 names," said Rep. Robert J. Twyman (R., Ill.), a spokesman for the margarine forces. I think we'll get them by next week. We got 57 congressmen to sign within the past week and 19 yesterday.

Names Promised

Rep. Robert J. Corbett (R., Pa.), another pro-margarine congressman, said some 30 or 40 members had told him and his colleagues they would sign the petition if their names would put the petition across.

"I hope a lot of them don't wait to be 218th on the list," he said.

The campaign being waged by the pro-margarine congressmen has some of the aspects of a fraternity rush.

Composed of big city northern Republicans and southern Democrats, the margarine "rush-team" members individually corner other congressmen and ask them to sign the discharge petition at the speaker's desk.

One of the House members being subjected to pressure is minority leader Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.), former speaker of the House.

Mr. Rayburn says he never has signed a discharge petition. But he won't say flatly that he will not sign this one—he is for repeal of the margarine taxes.

Others May Follow

The pro-margarine forces think that if they can get Mr. Rayburn to sign a number of other Democrats will follow suit.

"If we can get the repeal bill on the House floor we'll pass it three to one," said Rep. Charles K. Fletcher (R. Calif.).

Some foes of the dairy lobby fear that at the last minute the House Republican leadership will put on pressure to keep Republican members from signing, on the ground that the margarine vs. butter issue should not be stirred up further during this election year.

Majority leader Charles Halleck (R., Ind.) said no party decision had been reached on the matter.

Pressure From Home

"That will be like a lot of other things," he said. "We take them as they come along."

Rep. Twyman was certain that a lot of congressmen had signed because of pressure from back home.

"I wish people would let their congressmen know how they feel," he said. "I'm getting 25 to 35 telegrams and letters a day from my Chicago district asking me to sign."

The federal government now levies a tax of 10 cents a pound on colored margarine and one-fourth cent a pound on uncolored, plus high license fees for margarine manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers.

SPY FOR AMERICANS—An American-directed spy ring of former German Army officers operating out of Western Germany, Austria and Sweden to learn secrets of the Soviet Zone in Germany has been uncovered by Russia, Moscow Radio said. The Russians identified Col. Gen. Franz Halder, above, former German Army Chief of Staff, as head of the spy ring.

Navy Approves Device Said 100 Times As Sensitive As Radar

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 1—A new type radio navigation and tracking device, said to be 100 times more sensitive than radio, has passed strict Navy tests and will be put into use, it was disclosed today.

The new device, or equipment, is known as Raydist, and was developed by the Hastings Instrument Co., of Hampden, Va. Company spokesmen described it as "one of the most significant developments in the field of radio navigation and tracking."

The equipment also can be used in oil prospecting, surveying and aerial photography.

Detects Small Motions

Unlike Radar—which was one of the top secrets of World War II—Raydist detects motions of less than one foot. Pulse radar type equipment normally does not detect motions of less than a 100 feet, Hastings scientists said.

They further said that Raydist has many advantages over other radio navigation and tracking systems in that it operates automatically, requires no highly-trained operators or technicians, and is not limited to line-of-flight operation. The latter is common to most radar pulse systems.

The equipment, its exact nature still secret, provides a permanent record of time and position. A visual indicator can be installed in a mobile unit, such as a boat, and thus allows the unit to follow a predetermined path.

Uses Are Cited

Such an advantage, Hastings scientists pointed out, makes Raydist important in the field of oil prospecting an airplane, for instance, flying over water in making tests for possible below surface oil fields could be picked up at the point where tests showed presence of oil. This would pinpoint the location.

In passing the Navy test, the system had to meet specifications that required it to track a moving ship and automatically to record at a shore station, as well as indicate on the ship, the motion of the ship at all times.

The specifications also required accuracy within a six square mile area. It was not designed to replace standard radar equipment.

Guadalupe Students Are Given TB Tests

About 25 students in Guadalupe school who recently showed positive reaction to tuberculosis tests administered by the visiting nurse of Lubbock County Tuberculosis association reported to the association office Wednesday for a screening process.

Out of the 25, five are to receive chest x-ray examinations to determine whether they have active tuberculosis.

A total of 35, including 10 who did not report Wednesday, showed positive reaction when Mrs. Roy Sanford, registered nurse of the association, administered patch tests about March 1 to those who had not been in school last fall when patch tests were given.

The screening process, which included taking of temperature, check of weight and examination of chest, was administered by Dr. M. M. Ewing and Dr. Ivan G. Mayfield. Mrs. Tom Cannon, registered nurse, assisted.

Hypnotist Gets Prison Term

MARTINEZ, Calif., April 1 (AP) For hypnotizing a young housewife, and committing an act of sex perversion, Donald E. Hickock, a Sunday school teacher and ex-convict, was on his way back to prison today. He will serve from five to fifteen years.

He was convicted yesterday and his motion for a new trial was denied. His exact sentence will be fixed by the adult authority.

The 38-year-old physio-therapist was convicted of committing the felony morals act in 1946 when Mrs. Dolores J. Ramey, his victim, was only 17 years old.

The young woman tesified that she was wide awake and knew what was going on but was helpless under Hickock's hypnotic spell. The said Hickock first hypnotized both her and Mrs. Evelyn Carpenter. He carried Mrs. Carpenter into another room and then came back, fixed his gaze upon her until she was in his power.

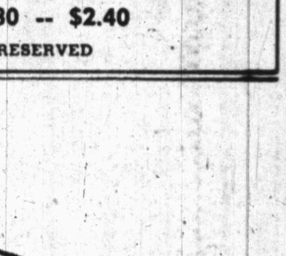

The state offered the testimony of Dr. Joseph Catton, psychiatrist, who said some persons when hypnotized could be induced to commit immoral and even criminal acts.

Hickock, who was an elder in a church, previously had been sentenced to two years in prison in a Los Angeles abortion, authorities said.

HONORED BY STATE

James Whitcomb Riley's birthday, Oct. 7, was declared an official holiday throughout his home state in 1915 in honor of "Indiana's most beloved citizen," according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

WE ARE indebted to science (ain't it wonderful) for the assurance that warts don't come from toad-frogs but, instead, are caused by a virus.

This means, in addition to other things, that ol' Doc Wampum's wart remover isn't any good, and never was.

It also means that you can't get rid of a wart by rubbing it daily for a time with a raw potato.

Instead, you gotta go to a doctor and have surgery.

Well, maybe so.

We don't know from nuthin' about viruses. Sometimes we doubt that the docs know anything about 'em, either, since they blame everything from a stubborn type of flu to meningitis on one virus or another.

But, anyway, we had a wart once and we had it taken off—before a large and admiring audience—by a "doctor" who was in our home town with a medicine show.

Furthermore, in addition to taking off the wart, the Doc gave us the rest of the bottle of his special wart remover—and 50 cents, to boot.

Our folks, who happened by during the performance, gave us something, too, when we returned home.

But the fact remains that the wart never came back. The only one we ever had, it was, too.

* * *

THIS is the Gospel truth if we 'ever told it. Virus, or no virus, we got rid of our wart in exactly this way:

It was in Lawrenceville, Ill., back in 1910.

A soft Spring evening was leading into dusk and the medicine show near Mr. Kellar's bank was in full sway.

The colored boy — standard medicine show equipment—dressed as a clown, was going through the crowd selling the "doctor's" special tonic at two-bits a throw. He'd run back every so often for a new supply, as he cried, "Sold out again,' doctuh! Sold out again!"

Later, the "doctor" went into his wart cure routine and asked for anbody with a wart to come forward. He'd remove it, he promised, and give the "patient" 50 cents for his trouble.

To make a long story short, we clambered up on the platform made from the rear end of the "doctor's" wagon.

The "doctor," resplendent in Prince Albert coat, high hat, windsor tie with diamond stickpin — and all the other professional habiliments of the day—greeted us kindly, if ponderously. We showed him the wart, on the underside of our left wrist.

The "doctor" kept up a snappy line of chatter—both sales talk and descriptive of the "operation." He first rubbed his wart remover on our wrist, briskly, with a rag. Then he fished out a knife and, as we noted the arrival of our parents enjoying an after-supper walk, he sliced the wart off.

Maybe it didn't hurt, because during the slicing we noticed our mother's horrified look and our father's evident displeasure!

THE trouble with that itinerant medicine man was that he didn't know about viruses. Neither did anybody else.

Maybe his "medicine" wasn't anything more but stunk-up water, colored and put up in a fancy bottle with the "doctor's" own label stuck on it. On the other hand, maybe it really was a concoction carefully made up to remove warts.

Anyhow, the wart was sliced off; the wrist didn't bleed; the wart never came back—and the 50 cents was much easier earned than similar weekly amounts we were getting for feeding and watering Charlie Cranmer's four horses—a chore which called for a round trip walk of a mile each day, not to mention the toting of water and handling of feed!

On second thought, maybe the best bet is that the "medicine" was largely water from the old Embarrass (pronounced 'Ambraw) river, which flowed nearby.

They had a saying around Lawrenceville and Bridgeport—and the old Hell's Half Acre oil field adjacent to both—that the Embarrass' muddy water had strange powers; that if a fellow ever drank of it, he'd always come back to the source.

That might be true. We have been back to look at the Embarrass a couple of times, driving hundreds of miles out of the way to do it.

E. J. Ford, who offices in the Myrick building, and W. O. Daniels, the furniture man, know a lot about the Embarrass, because they've swam in it and drunk out of it, too.

Ask them about the Embarrass. Five'll getcha 10 they'll say the old Embarrass,

BY DREW PEARSON: U. S. MAY SHIP HALF MILLION BUSHELS OF WHEAT TO EUROPE

Britain Informs U. S. That It Will Oppose Reds

WASHINGTON.—One all-important question debated by war chiefs during recent defense discussions was whether Great Britain would throw its weight with the U. S. A. in case of a Red Army sweep across Europe.

It is no secret that there has been strong sentiment in war-weary Britain for sitting out the next war. Five years of buzz-bombs and living in air-raid shelters has made a lot of Britishers feel that neutrality may be the best policy.

PEARSON

Incidentally this opinion is held by many Frenchmen, Belgians, Dutch and other continentals.

The answer to this question was all-important to U. S. defense planners. They had to figure out in advance whether the United States would be able to have air bases near the European continent. With the Red Army probably sweeping to the English channel in a few weeks in case of war, Britain and Spain would be the only potential bases usable by the United States.

However, definite word has now been given the United States by the British government that, if Russia attacks, Britain will fight. British bases will be available to American bombers.

More Wheat To Europe

The President's good cabinet committee is seriously considering a substantial increase in wheat allocations to Europe within the next three months, but the big question is: How to prevent greedy speculators from cashing in if prices climb as a result.

At a secret meeting last week, attended by representatives of the State, Agriculture and Commerce departments, it was decided that the goal of 450,000,000 bushels of wheat and flour for Europe in the fiscal year ending June 30 not only can be achieved, but probably boosted to 500,000,000 or more. Of course grains (corn, rye, oats, etc.), together with 70,000,000 bushels, this means the total European grain shipments before June 30 may exceed 570,000,000. This is 50,000,000 bushels more than the Agriculture department tentatively estimated would be available in its February report.

Agriculture spokesman cagily predicted during the meeting that the 1948 wheat crop might be the second largest in history, approximately 1,250,000,000 bushels. Last year's record crop was 1,365,000,000, while the greatest previous crop—1946—was 1,153,000,000 bushels.

One hitch in increasing European allocations in a stipulation in the interim aid act, passed during the special session of Congress last year, that the wheat carryover (for livestock feeding and emergency domestic use) shall not be less than 150,000,000 bushels when the current fiscal year ends June 30.

However, because of the expected bumper crop of winter and spring wheat, state and commerce department spokesmen argued that Congress could be persuaded to reduce the carryover. The carryover last year, when our corn crop was low and western European wheat production was negligible, was only 84,000,000 bushels. With crop prospects here and abroad much brighter this year, it was contended that the 150,000,000-bushel figure was ridiculously high.

THE MacArthur campaign in Wisconsin has several interesting aspects. One is the tremendous amount of money being spent on his behalf. The other is the men behind him — including America firster Phil La Follette and foxy Fred Zimmerman, both ex-governors of Wisconsin.

Zimmerman, an ex-Dewey backer, has been on more political bandwagons than almost any other politician in Wisconsin—most of them losers. This time he is all-out to pick a winner.

One of Foxy Fred's bandwagons was the America First committee. Another was the Ku Klux Klan. According to a sworn affidavit by William F. Wieseman, King Kleagle of the Wisconsin KKK, Zimmerman was an active Klansman. According to the Milwaukee Journal, Zimmerman "became a member of Milwaukee provisional Klan No. 1 in the summer of 1922 while he was a candidate for secretary of state. He was initiated at the Klan headquarters in the Alhambra building."

After being elected governor of Wisconsin in 1927, however, Zimmerman got into hot water over his Klan membership when he fired a Catholic state employee, Alex Cobban, and had to testify regarding the dismissal before a civil service hearing. At the hearing Zimmerman refused to answer a question regarding his Klan membership.

However, when court action was threatened to make him answer, Zimmerman, according to the Milwaukee Journal, met with John C. Kleist, a Klan leader, and Charles B. Lewis, imperial representative, who gave him special dispensation to withdraw from the Klan. He was then able to answer that he was not a member of the Klan.

Zimmerman is now one of MacArthur's chief campaigners.

With a definite American policy we'll be able to prepare for peace and war at the same time . . . Just as the sincerity rang in your wires and letters, I hope you will always hear the authentic note echoed in my news reports and comments. . . . As a matter of fact, under our system the government holds its powers in trust for the people. That's exactly the same way a reporter holds his typewriter or microphone. . . In the next year there are going to be many, many changes in the fundamental structure of our country. That always happens when there's pressure from outside. I believe the American Constitution can not only defend this country but preserve the balance of power withi. it . . .It seems to me that even as we prepare for war, we should strive for peace. And we should guard every inch of the way to be sure that we do not defeat a Communist Stalin by erecting an American fuehrer. . . . The fascists are crawling out of their holes in an effort to tell us they were right and that they are now our allies . . . # Fate Of Democratic Party May Be Decided With Senate Issue

WASHINGTON—A test is soon to come in the Senate that will have far-reaching political significance in this year of division. It may well determine whether the Democratic party is to remain an effective unit or whether it is to shatter into warring fragments.

CHILDS

The test will come over the issue of cloture. Will a sufficient number of northern Democrats join with Republicans to shut off Senate debate and thereby make it possible to adopt an anti-lynching or an anti-poll tax bill.

Under the rules of the Senate, two-thirds of those present and voting must vote in favor of cloture—a limitation on debate which would end a southern filibuster. Repeatedly, in the past, cloture has failed and the hated legislation has been drowned in talk.

There had been some expectation that this time enough Democrats, following the lead of President Truman's civil rights message, would go for cloture. But that was before the revolt within the Democratic party threatened a breakup beyond hope of repair.

Today northern Democrats are acutely aware of the emphasis that southern leaders will put on cloture. The southerners may take it as the final test of whether they remain within the framework of their party.

Senators To Hospital

This unhappy situation promises to produce acute political colic. On the day of the cloture vote, certain northern Democrats will discover that they must have a long neglected hospital checkup. They will not be present and voting when the roll is called.

This is the strategy of those who feel that in the present desperation there is only one course left—to save the remnants of the Democratic party. They would try to preserve the alliance between the northern and southern wings so that the present shattered forces may some day be reformed to fight another battle.

These are the same men who are talking of saving the party by side-tracking Mr. Truman. With cloture rejected, the southerners would fall in line behind a substitute ticket and the basic structure of the party would thereby be preserved.

Powerful forces see in the present southern revolt a heaven-sent opportunity to split the conservative southern wing from the northern wing, with its reliance on organized labor. To break up what is regarded as an unnatural alliance is the real goal.

In the South, these forces are concentrated in the most reactionary wing of big business. The Southern Industrial council of Nashville, Tenn., has sent out a flood of propaganda intended to fan the revolt.

The stake is, of course, the lower wage base in the South. By paying the negro less than the white worker, a reservoir of cheap labor helps to maintain the base. Anti-discrimination laws would end all that.

NOT much has been needed to touch off the southern revolt, according ot reports from that region. Feeling is deep and widespread.

What southerners took more or less quiescently from President Roosevelt, they would not hear of from Mr. Truman. In part, at least, this seems to come from a sense of betrayal by one who had represented himself as their ally. A promihent southern politician, in a letter to the President, put it this way:

"When I talked to you at the Democratic convention in Chicago in 1944, you said you were not in favor of this kind of enforced equalization. That is one of the reasons I worked in your behalf for the vice presidential nomination."

All this adds up to the likelihood that no civil rights legislation will be passed at this session. While the Republicans may shed crocodile tears at that outcome, they will not be too distressed.

LOCUSTS LOSE OUT

NAIROBI (AP) — A campaign planned on a military scale is believed to have exterminated locusts in the Middle East, Arabia, Egypt, Ethiopia and British East Africa in the past six years. It cost $20,000,000. A skeleton organization to meet any future return of the pests is being maintained.

She sets no time limit on her telephone conversations. Instead of conscientiously limiting her telephone chats to five minutes, she often yat-a-tas for 30 or 40 minutes at a stretch.

MILLETT

If someone on her line tries to use the telephone, she is so annoyed that she is determined to talk as long as she pleases, instead of bringing her own conversation to a close with "I believe someone else wants the line."

She lets her children carry on long conversations with their teen-age pals, instead of setting a time limit on how long they can hold onto a telephone.

NO INTERVALS

IF she has four or five calls to make, it never occurs to her that she should spread them out so that there are intervals in between her calls when someone else can use the line.

The trouble is, most line hogs don't realize they are line hogs. Bad phone habits are so easy to slip into that they creep up unawares, and, presto, another line hog is born.

If you have had much experience with being on a party line, you are pretty sure to know all about the line hog.

But there's nothing you can do about her.

Except one thing. You can examine your own telephone habits to make sure that the line hog on your party line isn't you.

ANY person with a cold should be required to wear a mask of such design that he couldn't talk through it, thus preventing him from infecting or boring others.

Faith beholds a feeble light
Up the blackness streaking;
Knowing God's own time is best,
In a patient hope I rest

"Try And Stop Me"

H. G. WELLS spoke in Boston one evening, and later attended a reception at the home of the mayor. When he left, he took the mayor's hat by mistake, and didn't discover his error until he reached Buffalo. He toyed with the idea of returning the hat, but after admiring himself in the mirror, decided to send the following note:

"Dear Mr. Mayor:

"I'm afraid I've got your hat. I like it so much that I propose to keep it. I shall long remember you, your madeira, and your fine, hospitable city.

"I take off your hat to you, sir. Sincerely, H. G. Wells."

THE new parson called on old Mr. Courtney, who greeted him warmly and said, "My wife was almost run down by a truck yesterday, but she saw it in the nick of time. An act of providence, wasn't it?" "I don't know," said the new parson cautiously, "You must remember that I haven't met Mrs. Courtney yet."

UNCLE SAM AT BOGOTA

Few nations ever have entered an international gathering faced with a more difficult problem than that confronting the United States in the Pan-American conference now in session in Bogota, Columbia.

Even before the conference convened, spokesmen for most of the participating nations made clear that they were expecting the United States to set up an aid plan for Latin-America. They want something similar to the Marshall plan for Europe. It will border upon the impossible to divert them from that purpose.

No matter what their justified needs may or may not be, they are going to be looking for handouts and they are going to be indignant if they don't get them. The present prospects are that it may be far more difficult to obtain public support in the United States for an aid plan for Latin-America, which suffered no war damage, than it has been for the relief plan for Europe.

Perhaps Uncle Sam's diplomats may find some solution to the problem without pledging bigger handouts than the American people will approve. But they are not to be envied in their task.

The lighthouse established during Washington's administration at Portland, Maine, in 1791, still guards the rugged Maine coast.

Natives of India cleaned their teeth as far back as 1700 B. C. They used twigs for this purpose.

"Down With Russia!" Is Cry During Henry Wallace Speech

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—An estimated 500 demonstrators, shouting "Down With Russia! Down With Communism!" booed Henry A. Wallace last night as the third party presidential candidate carried his campaign into Brooklyn.

Bearing U. S. flags and the banners of several veterans organizations, the demonstrators marched in an endless column around a school in Brooklyn's Red Hook section wher the former vice-president spoke. They continued their shouts and boos during Wallace's speech, the first of two he made before Italian-American rallies in diferent sections of Brooklyn.

Wallace Unruffled

The third party leader, outwardly unruffled by the demonstration, said in his address that U. S. foreign policy is "breeding civil war for Italy."

Wallace contended that President Truman's administration was aligned on the side of "huge monopolies" in Italy. He charged that the United States policy was blocking Italian "reform" and asserted that if this country continues to "cater to the interests of American and Italian monopolies Italy will choose Communism or go Fascist under the pressure of unresolved problems."

Uses Side Door

There was no demonstration during Wallace's second speech.

Wallace entered and left the Red Hook school house through a side door. A heavy police guard escorted him through the lines of the marchers who chanted:

"You can have him—we don't want him—he's too red for us."

The demonstrators could be heard inside the building during Wallace's talk.

Tenant Asks For Increase In Rent

LONDON, April 1 (AP)—The judge said it was "absolutely unprecedented."

Miriam Honour, who rents a furnished bed-sitting room from Mrs. V. Irving, went to court to ask that her rent be increased from $4.50 to $5.50 a week. She said it was because "of kindness shown me in difficult times in terms of cash."

A. Morris, the tribunal chairchairman, gulped and raised the rent.
