Tom Berry, 85, Prominent Farmer, Dies

Tom Berry, prominent farmer living one mile east of Wellington, died in Collingsworth General Hospital Monday afternoon, May 10, one day after he was admitted for treatment.

He was 85 years of age and still took an active part in his farming operations.

Mr. Berry had lived in Collingsworth County since 1907. For a number of years, he and his family lived in the Rolla-Swearingen area, then moved to his farm near town more than 25 years ago.

Those familiar with his farming operations considered him one of the outstanding farmers of the area. This included the care he gave his land, as well as the ways in which he kept abreast of advances in agriculture.

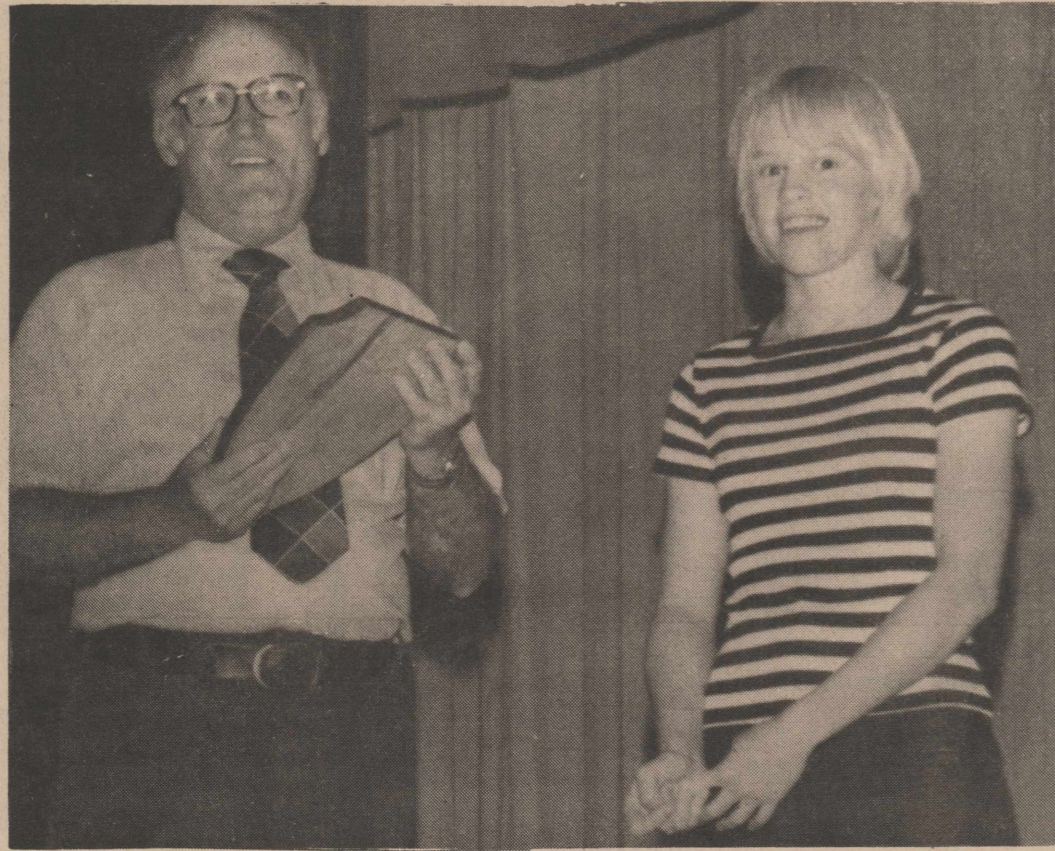

Likewise, he was a community leader over a long period of time—a leadership he exercised quietly and always in the interest of those around him.

Thomas Benton Berry was born August 12, 1900, near Durant, Oklahoma, then in the Indian Territory. He was the son of W.T. and Sallie Eliza Berry, both born in Alabama. Mr. Berry lived at Sulphur, Okla. before coming here.

He was married to Miss Rebecca Trew August 12, 1915, in Wellington.

Mr. Berry was a member of First Baptist Church.

Funeral services were conducted at First Baptist Church Wednesday, May 12. —See #2, page 2A

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP AWARD

Kloette Camp, state UIL typing champion, has presented her trophy to Wellington High School, where it will be exhibited permanently. Receiving it for the school is Melvin Cardwell, high school principal.

Kloette Camp Wins UIL Typing Championship

The new UIL typing champion of Texas is Kloette Camp, a sophomore in Wellington High School.

She won the University Interscholastic League honor in competition with 11 other student typists from throughout the state late last week. In so far as can be determined, she is the first WHS student to win a state championship in literary events.

At the same time, Debbie Stallings placed six in the UIL shorthand contest, also competing with 11 other students. Tuesday afternoon, Kloette presented the handsome championship plaque to the high school during a student assembly. It will be placed permanently in the school trophy case. Receiving the plaque on behalf of the high school was Melvin Cardwell, principal.

In a brief acceptance speech, he commended both Kloette and her instructor, Mrs. Raymond Hodges.

"It's the greatest thrill in a teacher's life," Mrs. Hodges told The Wellington Leader. "It is the result of a lot of hard work, and Kloette has worked hard for this."

The blond haired sophomore had a score of 162.59, the highest by far of any student using a manual typewriter, including participants from Class B, Class A and Class AA. Those in Class 3-A and 4-A use electric typewriters. Next highest

Lyman Daniel Named President Of Kiwanis Club

Lyman Daniel was elected Friday, May 7, to head the Wellington Kiwanis during the year beginning in October. He will succeed Jake Leach at that time.

Don Reeves was elected first vice-president, and Millard Brown, Sr., one of the veteran members of the club, was chosen second vice-president.

Two officers were re-elected, Johnny Brown, secretary, and Jack Kennedy, treasurer.

Seven directors were named, Sam Adams, Garner Altom, John Coleman, Jimmie Kelso, Henry Wells, Charles Finley and Mack Saied, Jr.

Moisture Conditions Good as Planting Season Opens in Area

Collingsworth County is in good shape from the standpoint of sufficient moisture for the beginning of the planting season. Likewise, spring rains have meant the difference between harvesting a light wheat crop and cutting nothing at all.

Extension Agent Don Reeves, after surveying much of the county, estimates that unless there are high winds in the days ahead, there is enough ground moisture to take the county through the planting season. This is without any additional rain. "I don't know of any part of the county that does not have enough moisture," he said.

Although rains have been general, they have varied widely in amount. Wellington has measured about 3.25 in the Weather Bureau rain gauge since March 9. Other parts of the county have had considerably more.

For instance, while Wellington did not have enough to register Tuesday afternoon, Cross Roads had one-half inch and reports from the Quail area told of approximately an inch of rainfall.

By late this week or early next week, quite a few growers will begin planting cotton, and it will be only a matter of days until much of the crop is in the ground. A small acreage has already been planted, but many farmers prefer to wait until the soil temperature is above 65 degrees.

In all places checked over the county, the moisture has met.

The wheat crop, although it will be below average, could turn out to be much better than anyone thought it ever could. The comeback was remarkable after the first rains.

"There are some good patches over the county, but it varies widely from community to community," Mr. Reeves reported, then he ventured this optimistic prediction:

"Our dryland wheat is as good as any dry land wheat in the Panhandle and better than most."

"We have some wheat that looks away better than I ever thought it would, but you never know how heads will fill out on the tail end of the season."

Because the government farm program does not require a report on the wheat planted, there is no way of knowing this county's acreage, but it is estimated as being several times more than the approximately 25,000 acre allotment. Some of this, however, has been abandoned and some of it was grazed out before the rain began.

Quail Seniors, 8th Grade Will Graduate Tuesday

Six seniors will be graduated from Quail High School in the commencement Tuesday, May 18, at 8:15 p.m.

Seven eighth grade students will share the graduation with the seniors, and together they form the Quail Bicentennial classes.

The graduation will be in the high school gymnasium.

First Baptist Church in Quail will be the setting Sunday, May 16, for the baccalaureate service, a worship service dedicated to the seniors, according to the Rev. Darrell Feemster, pastor.

Each senior will receive a Bible, and afterwards, a dinner will be served to the seniors and their families.

Rev. Feemster will preach the baccalaureate sermon and there will be special music. Sharon Childers will give the invocation and Johnny Needham the benediction.

Bill Wilson, high school principal, announced plans for the commencement. The highlight will come with the valedictory address by Gary Wischkaemper and the salutatory address by Tommy Caldwell.

Mrs. Monty Ferguson will play the processional and Dale Green, a senior will give the invocation.

Danny Wischkaemper,

younger brother of the high school valedictorian, will give the 8th grade salutatory address and Kristy Barton, the valedictory.

Speeches by Gary Wischkaemper and Caldwell will follow.

Duane Dodson will give the grade school awards and Clovis McCary will present the eighth grade.

Mrs. Dollie Mae Wilson will give the High School Awards —See #4, page 2A

Dog Vaccination Will Be May 22

City-wide vaccination of dogs and cats for rabies will be held Saturday, May 22, at the Wellington Veterinary Hospital, from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

Dogs will be tagged and registered with the city at that time, and afterwards, any dog or cat found to be untagged will be subject to pick-up.

The Collingsworth County 4-H Beef Club will assist Dr. Mark Fires, in writing out certificates and working with the animals, according to County Agent Don Reeves.

There will be a nominal charge for the vaccination and registration.

Tate to Speak at School Fund Hearing

Rudie Tate, a member of the Samnorwood School board, has been invited to speak before the House Committee on Alternate Means of Financing Public Schools on Thursday, May 13.

The hearing will be in Haskell and is one of several which the House committee will hold over the state on public school financing.

The committee is chaired by Rep. Tom Massey of San Angelo, from the 60th District.

Attending the hearing with Mr. Tate will be Rex Peeples, superintendent of Samnorwood Schools, and Jim Ray, president of the Samnorwood

School Board.

Mr. Tate is a charter member of the Texans for Equitable Taxation, which has headquarters in Austin, and which is working on the school taxation question.

Thomas Named to All-State Team

The Skyrocket's Edward Thomas has been named to the Class A all-state basketball team's third unit selected by the Texas Sports Writers

Association and announced Thursday, May 6.

Thomas, a 5-11 senior sparked the Skyrockets into the playoffs for two straight years.

A varsity player three years, Thomas was on the District 2-A basketball team two years, and was named All-American in basketball last year. This year he was also chosen on the All Regional team. He served as team captain two years.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Nash.

Three other Panhandle cagers were chosen for all-state teams.

Paducah's Danny Garrett was named to the first unit; Wayne Garrouette of Stratford and Brad Jones of Farwell were on the second team.

Three teams of five boys each are selected from the entire state by the Texas Sports Writers Association, explained Coach Robert Hicks.

"This is an honor for the town as well as for Edward as an individual. Representation on a team such as this helps the school and the community."

Coach Hicks said that Thomas has been contacted by two junior colleges, and that he is looking strongly at Odessa Junior College.

Court Hears Arguments in Andy Lowe Damage Suit

What could become a landmark decision in defining the responsibility of a college or university to its athletes was heard by the Texas Supreme Court in Austin, Wednesday, May 12.

Andy Lowe, a Skyrocket football star who went on to play for the Texas Tech Red Raiders, has on file a $1 million damage suit for knee injuries he alleges he suffered which he says have resulted in his left leg being partially paralyzed.

He is represented by Paul

Spillman of Spillman and Spillman. Associated with him is Bob Garner of Lubbock.

The action at Austin Wednesday will not set the amount of damages, if any, which Lowe would receive.

Instead, the question the Texas Supreme Court is asked to answer at this point is whether the operation of the athletic department at Texas Tech is a proprietary function or a government function," Mr. Spillman explained. If it is a proprietary function, government immunity from being sued does not apply. This suit and another similar to it on file against Texas Tech are called "unique in Texas Athletics."

Both pose the question: Does a youngster give up any legal rights for damage claims when he takes part in collegiate athletics for a state institution? Or is the State of Texas immune from any legal

Democrats Name Three For State Convention

Collingsworth County Democrats elected three delegates to state convention and passed four resolutions at the Collingsworth County convention Saturday, May 8.

Rex Peeples, Kirby Campbell and Mrs. John Coleman were elected as delegates to the state Democratic Party convention June 18 and 19 in Houston.

The convention passed four resolutions: 1) that daylight savings time be abolished; 2) that the exemption on estate taxes be raised to $200,000; 3) that a means of taxation other than ad valorem taxes be instituted to finance public schools; and 4) that a U.S. Post Office be maintained in any community which a public school operates.

The resolution on postal services was spurred by a report that the Postal Service is considering closing Samnorwood Post Office.

A resolution to abolish party primaries in Texas failed unanimously.

The convention recommended to the party's executive committee that there be only two boxes, one north and one south of Salt Fork, for voting in the Democratic primary run-off.

Alternates to the state convention are Henry Wells, Mrs. Edd Henard, Tom Cunningham, Mrs. B.M. Sims, Dennis Cudd and John Coleman.

SPORTS AWARD RECIPIENTS FOR 1975-76

These five young men were presented awards for outstanding achievement in athletics during the current school year. They were given at the All-Sports Banquet Friday evening, May 7. From left, Randall and Richard Sims shared jointly the Larry Wright Memorial Fighting Heart Award; Edward Thomas received the Basketball Award; Randall Maxwell was presented the Outstanding Football Lineman plaque; and George Brewer won the award as football's Outstanding Offensive Player.

Four Teams Play in Women's Softball

Summer athletics for women will center on slow-pitch softball, with four teams organized and a complete summer schedule worked out.

A year ago, Wellington had one team and Dodson one, and they played whenever they could.

Four Wellington business firms are sponsoring the teams, which will carry their names. These are Thomas Music Center, Robert Owens, Carroll's and H&H Construction, Vicki Black, president of the Women's Softball Association has announced.

The women's teams will play a double header each Wednesday night, at 7:00 and 8:30 p.m. They will play on alternate Sunday afternoons at 2:45 and 4:15 p.m.

"We sincerely appreciate the sponsors who are helping us in so many ways, Mrs. Black said. "We also invite the public to come out and watch and support our games. You will find women's softball is lots of fun."

Tricia Pounds is vice-president.

Each team has a captain, co-captain and one or more coaches.

Louise Powell is captain of Carroll's, while Joy Belew is co-captain and coaches are Jimmy Black; Kenneth Patterson, Mike Pounds and Alton Belew.

Captain of Owens is Jackie Nelson, with Nickie English as co-captain. Coaches are J.R. Nelson and Charles English.

Thomas Music Center has Bonnie Hall as captain and Jenny Glenn co-captain. Coaches are Ronny Glenn and Clint Gibson.

H&H Construction has Janet Lanier as captain and Freida Hartman co-captain.

action involving usch matters? Until now, the latter has been the case, Mr. Spillman pointed out.

The argument which Mr. Spillman and Mr. Garner made before the Texas Supreme Court Wednesday asks that the doctrine of governmental immunity—which has protected schools in the past from any athletic-oriented suits—should be abolished.

The Texas Supreme Court, which will probably take about a month to decide the issue once the arguments are heard, agreed to hear the case on appeal to determine whether it falls under the Texas Tort Claims Act, under which Lowe could sue Tech for no more than $100,000.

Assistant Attorney General Jack Sparks will argue for the state.

"This is an unusual case in that heretofore there has been no question at all," he has told UPI news service.

"An athlete can't recover damages against a high school or state university where he knowingly participates and is injured.

"If a player knowingly participated in the sport the school would not be liable unless there was some intentional act made to harm him," Mr. Sparks continued. The Wellington Leader was told that the pleadings in Lowe's case show that when he returned to the team following a knee operation, the trainer had been wrapping and bracing his knee until two days prior to the game, and on his instructions, he (Lowe) did not brace the knee and played without it.

Governmental immunity was originally incorporated by all the states as a holdover from English law. Now the courts in a few states, including New Mexico, have abrogated that doctrine. It has even been abrogated in England, from where it came.

Lowe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lowe of Wellington. He is presently on the coaching staff of the Hamlin Schools where he, his wife and small daughter live.

Rodney Porter is the coach.

Although the women's team are not part of the Wellington men's Slow Pitch Softball Association, the two work together. There is no charge for the women's games, there is a collection box at the entrance for donations. The money will go into the Wellington Softball Association. The men are loaning their balls, bats and bases. David Caison, president of the men's association, is umpire for the women's group.

Hunting Dates Announced for Coming Season

Hunting seasons for Texas were set in the April meeting of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission in Austin.

The Panhandle deer season will be November 20 to December 5, the commission announced.

The turkey season generally will be concurrent with the deer seasons.

After naming the quail season for areas farther south, the commission announced "most other areas of the state, November 13, 1976 to February 13, 1977." Collingsworth, however, is a regulatory county and the season may be different by a week or so.

The regular pheasant season in Panhandle counties is December 11 to 26. Prairie chickens may be hunted in some Panhandle counties October 16-17. In the past Collingsworth has been one of these.

Fishermen will be interested in the nine-inch minimum limit set on blue and channel catfish in the Possum Kingdom Regulatory District.

score was 148.

Her score was determined by the percentage of accuracy added to the words per minute she was able to write. Kloette wrote 66 words per minute with 97 per cent accuracy. She had only one error.

In competition, she types straight copy for five minutes, Mrs. Hodges said. Kloette is a first year typing student.

Kloette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Canip and lives northwest of Dodson. She has a younger brother, Jeffery.

She has other accomplishments. While in Junior High, she won the County Spelling Bee and competed in the regional bee at Amarillo. She is one of the top-scoring players on the Rockette Basketball Team.

In addition, she is an accomplished student pianist and is active in the Dodson church of the Nazarene.

Debbie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Stallings, also was competing in a field of twelve, Mrs. Hodges said.

In speaking of her sixth place win, Mrs. Hodges said, "It's quite an honor. It's really great." Debbie was competing with the 11 top shorthand students in Texas.

She took dictation at 100 words per minute and her accuracy was 96 per cent.

Two other Wellington High School students have competed in the field on the state level in recent years. Connie Lewis placed fourth in shorthand and sixth in typing while Jackie Gray was second in shorthand a few years ago, Mrs. Hodges said.

Farmers Warned of 2-4-D Herbicide Use

AUSTIN -- Agriculture Commissioner John C. White urges all Collingsworth County farmers who use 2,4-D and other hormone-type herbicides to be especially careful this spring and observe regulation for application of that material.

This county is one of 76 in the state which have elected to operate under the regulations administered by the Texas Department of Agriculture.

White reminded farmers that they must have a permit to use hormone-type herbicides on plots of ten acres or more. On smaller plots, the operator must notify the Texas Department of Agriculture of his intent, prior to spraying.

"These hormone-type herbicides are essential in production plans of some farmers, but they can be a serious problem to others if wise practices are not followed," White explained.

Herbicides can drift during application from the target area and will affect susceptible crops such as cotton and other broad-leaf plants. In addition, fruits, vegetables, and ornamentals can be damaged severely by herbicides.

Before applying them, the farmer should check the surrounding fields for susceptible crops, White advised.

He also suggested that a spray pressure of 20 to 30 pounds is best for applications of these herbicides.

"Proper pressure for ground rigs is one of the best ways to assure safety. Spraying is best done when winds are from 0-3 mph. and temperatures are less than 90 degrees F. When winds reach 10 mph. and temperatures exceed 90 degrees F., the

Appaloosa Show This Week End At Memphis

The Memphis Appaloosa Horse Show will be held Saturday, May 15, at the 4-H Club Arena two miles northeast of Memphis, starting at 10:00 a.m.

There is no entry deadline. Age groups, for both halter and performance classes, will range from colts and fillies foaled in 1976 to aged mares, geldings and stallions.

Trophies will go to all first place winners and to the grandchampions. Rosettes will be awarded second through sixth places. Dr. Mark Fires is a trophy donor.

Bob Danits of Abilene will be the judge.

All horses must be permanently or tentatively registered with the Appaloosa Horse Club, Moscow, Idaho. This show is approved by the Texas Appaloosa Horse Club and the Golden Spread Appaloosa Horse Club, Mrs. Widener said.

operations should be halted," White said.

"The best advice we can give anyone--farmers or home owners--is that in using any type of agricultural chemical, one should first read the label and follow the directions to the letter."

Copies of the Texas Herbicide Regulations may be obtained free of charge from the Texas Department of Agriculture.

EQUINE GASTROINTESTINAL PARASITES

The next two articles will discuss the internal parasites or worms in the horse. First we will discuss those of the stomach and small intestines then those of the large intestines followed by control techniques.

Bots (Gastrophilus) are the most familiar parasites to horse owners and are found in the stomach. The form causing the damage is the larval stage of the nifty which attaches to the stomach wall. The female nifty lays eggs on the legs, jaw or around the mouth. The horse licks the eggs, they hatch and burrow into the lining of the mouth. In the mouth they migrate through the tissues to the pharynx where they are swallowed and attached to the stomach wall. The bot stays attached to the stomach wall for 10-11 months and then passes out side and hatches to a mature nifty. The harm is done by the bot to the stomach lining by causing rough sore nodules and interrupting normal stomach activity. This irritation may be so pronounced at time that a bot colic can result.

Stomach worms or Trichostrongylus Axci is another parasite found in the stomach and is common to all domestic livestock and man. The eggs of this worm also are passed through the feces, hatch and are infective in the larva stage. Roundworm or Ascarids are the major parasite found in the small intestine. This is a big problem that affects nearly every foal due to contact with manure. The eggs are swallowed by the foal, hatch and travel to the liver. The larva migrates through the liver, damaging it, then is picked up by the blood and carried to the heart and lungs. In the lungs the larva rupture out of the blood vessels and into the lung tissue. They migrate up the trachea or windpipe and are reswallowed and go back to the small intestine. Foals may also be seen at this time to cough up the worms. These eggs are extremely resistant to weather changes and are generally in stalls and pastures to infect foals and young horses. Older horses develop an immunity to the parasite.

Grant Jolley Family Holds Annual Reunion at El Paso

(Compiled by family members)

Ernie and Nellie (Jolley) Robinson of El Paso, hosted the Grant Jolley Reunion, held in El Paso, April 30 to May 2.

Not a detail was spared by the whole Robinson family and it was red carpet all the way. Limousine service was provided to and from the airport and hotel. Advanced reservations were made at the "Truck Stop" restaurant for breakfasts with special waitresses Vivian and Lou who catered to every whim.

Poolside entertainment was provided Friday evening by wandering musicians and family talent. Emma (Winters) Jolley was asked to return for an audition at the El Paso Tumbleweed Recording Studio for her rendition of "Rosies Cantin'ie", but Donna Robinson was unable to do her belly dance due to a broken toe.

Saturday was spent at the Sunland Park Race Track where the 8th race was named in honor of the Grant Jolley family. A trophy was presented in the winner's circle, by Andy Jolley. More excitement came in the 12th race where three members of the family bet on Jolley Pappa and walked away with the purse, smiling.

The evening was topped off with special banquet facilities at the Juarez Roadway Inn. Dining and dancing was to the accompaniment of three orchestras. Highlights of the evening were the various dance contests. Winners were as follows: Jillerbug - Ernie and Nellie Robinson, The Bump - Carl and Lorine (Jolley) Van Ry, Fox Trot - Andy and Christine Jolley, Charleston - Jay and Emma Jolley, Waltz - Cathrine (Jolley) Dodson and Buzz Robinson, Mexican Shuffle - Kathy Sescil and Ron Crockett, "P" Polka - Bo Robinson and Anne Steele, The Hustle - Fay (Jolley) Mitchell and a friend. The Smoothest Couple - Jack and Jeynell Whitford.

Birthdays were celebrated for Carl Van Ry and Emma Jolley with a cake specially made by Ernie Robinson. A family portrait was made by photographer Buzz Robinson.

The only disappointment of the affair was that Wort (Grant Jr.) and Vivian Jolley of Auburn Calif., and Mattie Duff (Jolley) Yarbrough of Como could not attend due to illness; and Lillian (Jolley) Deger who had her luggage stolen from her car in Amarillo, before she boarded her flight.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Robinson of El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Jolley of Orelan, Calif., Mrs. Cathrine (Jolley) Dodson of Strathmore, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Andy Jolley of La Habra, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Van Ry of Anaheim, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Whitford of Okla. The Grant Jolley family lived in the Lutie community from about 1914 until 1950, when Mr. and Mrs. Jolley moved to Bellflower, Calif.

The reunion will be held at the same time, last of April and first of May, next year and again it will be at El Paso.

Carol Blain Receives WTSU Distinguished Service Award

Carol Blain—nationally recognized band director who speaks three languages and coaches winning tennis teams.

This began the introduction of the youngest of 10 women chosen to receive the Texas Panhandle Awards for Distinguished Service, presented recently by West Texas State University.

Her nomination came from the Wellington Federated Music Club, with Mrs. Charles Floyd, president. That this group should select her is something for which she is deeply appreciative.

At about the same time a radiant Carol Blain was accepting her award from Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, WTSU president, her girls tennis team was in Lubbock winning Regional UIL competition and qualifying to participate in the state meet.

About this time, also, her Memphis Cyclone Band was playing at the Bob Wills celebration in Turkey, under the baton of a student leader she has trained. The night before, she participated in the 25th anniversary celebration of the founding of Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary sorority for bandwomen, at Texas Tech.

Miss Blain thrives on such a hectic schedule. It adds a spice to her life she probably couldn't live without. She has known little else, in fact, since she began her teaching career as director of Wellington Bands in 1969. The next year she went to the Memphis Schools.

Her introduction to band music came when she played in That Skyrocket Band (she graduated from Wellington High School in 1964) and it progressed as she played in the Red Raider Band at Texas Tech, where she was working toward a degree in German.

Her accomplishments as a band director are impressive but much national recognition has come through her work with Tau Beta Sigma honorary sorority for bandwomen of which she is the immediate past national president.

Her tenure was notable for the number of new chapters she installed—and which has taken her to universities and colleges completely across the U.S. Some, in turn, have made her an honorary chapter member.

At the national convention in Houston in 1975, Miss Blain chaired meetings and was elected to the National Board of Trustees of Tau Beta Sigma, as well as appointed District VI counselor. She also directed the National Interscholastic Band, one of three women in the United States ever to do so.

Honors and accomplishments have stacked one on the other in recent years. She represented TBE on the 16 member North American Director's Coordinating Council in Chicago and was one of the first women to be made an honorary of Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary fraternity for bandmen. She also holds honorary membership in TBE at Psi Chapter, University of Arkansas, and Tau Chapter, University of Houston.

Her climb to the national presidency began with her election to the top office of

CAROL BLAIN WITH STUDENT DAVID PERRY

Beta Chapter at Texas Tech. She then became president of District VI, encompassing Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

She was elected to the National Council as national treasurer at Stillwater in 1969 and was elected first vice-president at the University of Michigan in 1971.

She became national president in 1973 at the University of Connecticut.

With founders Wava Turner and Ladine Housholder, past national president, she was made an honorary member of Beta Chapter at Tech.

She will become an honorary of Epsilon Tau chapter at Weber State, Ogden, Utah, a chapter she installed, in late May.

Sixty Riders In Motocross Event May 2

60 riders participated in the Big Bluff Motocross at Wellington Sunday, May 2. Jake Maxwell, track owner reported, as he announced winners.

Taking top honors in the Miniman event were Jerry Skinner of Pampa, first, Joe Reay of Lockney and Greg Singleton of Amarillo, third. Other winners were:

125 class: first, John Terry, Amarillo; second, Tom Johnson of Memphis; third, Barry Rayburn of Amarillo; fourth, John Perrin of Amarillo; and fifth, Ray Rippehoe of Pampa. 250 class: first, Eldon Barker of Borger; second, Randy Jenkins of Altus; third, Jim Bob Walsh of Amarillo; fourth, Robert Fennell of Borger; and fifth, Stan McVey of Altus.

Open class: first, Clyde Barker, Jr. of Stinnett; second, Byno Atkins of Amarillo; third, Robert Scott of Amarillo; fourth, Kurt Kelly of Pampa; and fifth, Ricky Lovelady of Amarillo.

Maxi-man: first, Robert Fennell of Borger and second, Roy Hays of Altus.

Miss Blain was asked to submit her biography to Who's Who Among World Musicians.

She is also a member of the American Association of University Women, MENC, Texas Bandmasters Association, Texas State Teachers Association, TMEA, and Women Band Directors National Association.

During this time, her Cyclone band has held up its end in winning honors in UIL competition and band festivals. Some honors have been to individuals and ensembles.

There have been so many honors in the field of band music, it is easy to overlook the fact that Carol Blain is a talented organist.

She has spent several summers traveling and working in Western Europe and followed this with short trips since she began teaching.

Although she coaches tennis, her own sport is one of the most strenuous of all—skiing, and there is seldom a holiday that she is not on the slopes at Red River, N.M., Purgatory Basin in southwest Colorado, or Snowbird in Utah.

This summer, as for several summers, she will be head counselor for girls at the Texas Tech Band Camp.

Carol is the daughter of Mrs. L.E. Ward. She has one sister, Mrs. Larry Oswald of Vernon. They attended the WTSU luncheon with her, as did Virginia Robey.

200-Mile Limit Affects Texas

AUSTIN-Foreign fishing fleets will have to be licensed to operate within 200 miles of the United States coast after March 1977 and then allowed to take only those species of fish determined to be excess to domestic fleets.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department coastal fisheries personnel are analyzing a measure signed in mid-April by President Ford that will extend fishery jurisdictional boundaries from the present 12-mile limit to 200 miles off the U.S. coast.

Mexican and Cuban fishing boats would be affected mostly in the Gulf Coast area.

In the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, trawler fleets from Japan, the Soviet Union and eastern European nations would be affected by the territorial extension.

Although the extension sprang from fears that foreign fleets were depleting traditional American fishing grounds, "this legislation would still permit foreign boats to fish inside the 200-mile limit," said Terry Leary, P&WD shellfish program director.

"The foreign fleets could still fish in the extended zone. The difference would be that they could do so only with a permit, and they could fish only for species determined as excess, said Leary.

"Real Winner" Defined For WHS Athletes

Wellington High School boy and girl athletes heard the definition of a "real winner" from a football coach who turns out that type of players, including some on NFL and AFL professional football teams. Their speaker was Ernest Hawkins, head football coach of East Texas State University, who came here to address the all-sports banquet Friday, May 7.

His talk followed the presentation of four trophies for outstanding performance in athletics.

The Larry Wright Memorial Fighting Heart Award, presented for the third year, was shared by Richard Sims and Randall Sims.

George Brewer was cited as the outstanding offensive player on the Skyrocket football team. The outstanding lineman award went to Randall Maxwell.

Edward Thomas was picked to receive the award as outstanding player on the Skyrocket basketball team.

This year it was the decision of the Rockettes that any individual trophy be discontinued in the interest of team spirit.

A record crowd attended the banquet, and heard the Wellington Coaching Staff recount the remarkable athletic achievements of the various teams this year.

Coach Hawkins told his youthful audience that only 10 per cent of the players are real winners. Ten per cent are real losers, and in the center is the great mass he called "the shoulder shruggers." This applied to women as well as men, he pointed out.

That 10 per cent who make up the real winners go about with a vivid picture of what they want to accomplish, athletes were told. A real winner wins graciously and loses gracefully. When he loses, he will say, "We didn't practice to lose. We didn't plan to lose. We may have lost on the score board, but not in our hearts," the speaker said.

The real loser blames someone else for his loss, and the big group in the middle does not have the fighting desire to win, said the "winningest Coach ETSU has ever had."

Coach Hawkins named 11 personality traits applying to those with motivation and asked the Wellington athletes to rate themselves. They were:

—Drive: desire to win, set goals, respond to competition.

—Aggressiveness: enjoy confrontation.

—Determination: practice long and hard. "These are traits that make for real winners. Motivation is the most important thing you can teach young people to win in life," said the speaker.

—Guilt proneness: accept responsibility for your actions. Punish yourself for mistakes, he recommended.

—Enjoy the role of leader. Control your environment.

—Confidence: speak up for your beliefs.

—Emotional control: be realistic.

—Mental toughness. Take strong criticism without feeling hurt.

—Coachability.

—Conscientiousness.

—Trust. Accept people at face value. Do not be always doubting them.

Players were introduced by their coaches.

Mrs. Gary Brewer presented the cheerleaders, B Team cheerleaders, and those who will be added next year.

Ronnie Glenn introduced the girls and boys tennis teams.

Robert Hicks paid tribute to the Varsity basketball team and the junior varsity football team.

Of the Skyrocket football team, Head Coach James Williams said, "They're something to behold!" He praised the team effort and the town effort. "I'm proud to see

Earl O. Walker, Retired Trucker, Dies May Fifth

Earl O. Walker died at 4:00 a.m. Wednesday, May 5, in Thomas Nursing Center, where he had been a resident for a month. He would have been 65 years of age Friday. The family home is at 1402 Ennis.

A retired truck driver who also did custom hauling, Mr. Walker came here 7 years ago from Perryton. Some years ago, however, he and his wife also lived here, and still earlier at Silvertown.

He was born May 7, 1911, at Nacogdoches and on April 6, 1935, he was married to Mrs. Velma Goodson Bible at Childress.

Mr. Walker was a Baptist. Funeral services were conducted at Kelso Chapel Thursday at 2:00 p.m.

Officiating was the Rev. Elvis Pitts, pastor of Faith Baptist Church, and burial was in North Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Gus Allen, King Bowen, Tommy Thomas, Marvin Manuel, Alvis Derryberry, and Oliver Young.

Survivors are his widow; a stepson and stepdaughter, J.C. Bible of Clarksville, Ark., and Mrs. Mallie Brown of Ft. Worth.

won over Langford's Conoco 11-7 in the second game.

Dodson Co-Op and Owens Farm Supply were winners in the two Monday night games. The Co-Op defeated Davis Thriftway 16-13, while Owens won over Johnny Mote's Garage 15-14.

Mr. Caison urged all softball fans to come out and enjoy the action in the newly rebuilt stadium at Marian Airpark.

Outlook for Feedgrain Good in State, Nation

COLLEGE STATION--The feedgrain industry is alive and well in the United States and Texas. Prices are remaining stable, and exports are going strong.

That assessment comes from Roland Smith, grain marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"U.S. corn exports are keeping up with previous estimates, and sorghum exports are running ahead of last year's levels," says Smith. "Prices should not ease much, even with a large feedgrain crop this year, because of the strong export market."

According to April 1 acreage intentions, U.S. farmers plan to plant six per cent more acres of corn. Texas corn acreage should also make another increase. However, the planting intentions indicated a smaller sorghum crop.

"The decrease in sorghum acreage could be the result of pessimism from the earlier dry weather throughout the state," notes Smith. "However, recent rains may cause farmers to plant more than was indicated April 1."

Feedgrain planting is off to a good start in Texas and throughout the U.S.

More export markets, increased cattle feedlot placements, and an increase in hog numbers all have contributed to a fairly favorable feedgrain situation, points out the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Smith says cattle feedlot placements in the first quarter

Rep. Hightower Honored by Senior Citizens

(Washington, D.C.)--Congressman Jack Hightower was one of 41 Members of Congress, including five from Texas, who this week received the highest public service award presented by the National Alliance of Senior Citizens.

Hightower was inducted Wednesday into the organization's "Golden Age Hall of Fame" in ceremonies in the Longworth House Office Building. Other Texans inducted with him were Congressman George Mahon of Lubbock, Omar Burleson of Anson, Bob Krueger of New Braunfels and Dale Milford of Grand Prairie.

Curt Clinkscales, National Director of the Washington-based organization, said membership in the honorary group is earned by outstanding service to the senior community.

"The Golden Age Hall of Fame includes many leading Americans," Clinkscales said, "but it is a very select group. With the 41 new honorees, there are now only 148 members."

Dr. and Mrs. Joel Lowry, Landon and Melanie of Vernon visited his mother, Mrs. Jack Lowry, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rountree during the weekend.

Judy Jones of Lubbock was a weekend guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jones.

Mrs. Pat Rudy and David of Fort Worth visited Mrs. Beatrice Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Rudy last week.

TV Set Can Be Used As Home Tornado Radar

Although the human eye is still the best method for locating tornadoes, most homes are equipped with a built-in tornado radar: the home television set.

If properly tuned, it is believed that a television set will detect a twister within a 15-20 mile radius.

Known as the Weller Method, the phenomenon is named for the Iowa scientist (Newton Weller) who first perfected the procedure.

The method is not foolproof and therefore should not be the sole source of information during bad weather. The National Weather Service recommends that anyone who lives in an area for which a "tornado watch" or "tornado warning" has been issued should keep an ear on up-to-date weather bulletins broadcast over local radio and television stations.

Weather bulletins are based on information from both radar and the phalanx of trained spotters deployed around a community whenever dangerous weather threatens.

As a supplement to this kind of protection, anyone can apply the Weller Method by following a few simple instructions:

First, warm up your television set as if you were going to watch it. The contrast control should be tuned to the maximum position.

Turn to Channel 13 and adjust the brightness control until the screen is just on the threshold of black. Then turn to Channel 2 without making any new adjustments to the picture settings. The audio (sound) settings may be adjusted as desired. If Channel 2 is not an operating channel in your area, be sure to have a radio or second television tuned in for weather reports.

Monitor the screen as continuously as possible. Lightning will appear on the screen as horizontal flashes or streaks. On a color set the streaks will be in color.

A tornado within a 15-20 mile radius will cause the screen to glow brightly or cause the darkened picture to become visible and remain continuously visible.

Should this happen, it is important to take immediate safety precautions. Turn your television set off and open windows a crack to reduce the potential damage from pressure if a tornado passes nearby.

Take cover in a safe place, preferably near the center on the bottom floor of the building. A closet or small, windowless room offers best protection.

If you have a transistor radio, take it with you to the shelter area and continue to monitor weather broadcasts. During particularly bad storms, when the electric power is off, the transistor radio can be used to augment the television warning system.

To do this, set the radio alongside the TV and turn the radio knob to the lowest end of the dial (about 550 kilocycles). At this setting the radio will pick up storm signals, emitting intermittent static when lightning is near and continuous static when a tornado is moving toward the signal.

Advance warning, from whatever source, is of no use if it is ignored. Anytime a tornado watch is issued persons living in the watch area should take precautions to protect their lives and property.

Loose items in the yard should be tied down during severe weather to prevent wind damage. Cars should be moved inside the garage, if possible, to prevent damage from hail or wind-blown projectiles.

Nursing Service Unit Of TDHR Opens Here

An office for nursing services, a unit of the Texas Department of Health Resources, was announced for Wellington Thursday, May 6.

A number of services are available to the country through this office, said David Brown, health program specialist for Public Health Region 1, Canyon. Work is in the organizational stage, and the specific services will depend on the needs of the county and on the services already offered.

Mrs. Rita Anderson, R.N., with headquarters in Memphis, will staff the Wellington office one day each week or as needed. She accompanied Mr. Brown here Thursday to meet with County Judge Zook Thomas and other agencies offering health care delivery.

Mrs. Anderson will be in charge of the swine influenza inoculation program, part of the nation-wide effort to prevent a recurrence of the deadly flu strain which swept the world in 1918-19.

Senior citizens, those 65 years and older, and the

Quail Cemetery Association to Hold Work Day

Quail Cemetery Association will hold their annual work day Saturday, May 15, Marvin Blevins, president, said.

"Everyone is encouraged to come. Workers should bring hoes, shovels, and lawnmowers", Blevins said. "If you cannot work, the cemetery association would greatly appreciate your donation."

Donations may be mailed to Marvin Blevins or Delbert White at Quail or may be mailed or turned in to the Wellington State Bank.

chronically ill will receive swine flu inoculations first. These are expected to begin in the Panhandle in Mid-July and the exact date for Collingsworth County will be announced.

The remainder of the population will receive inoculations later. There will be no charge. This is a special program, and individuals will get their normal flu shots from their own doctors, Mr. Brown explained.

Dr. Carter Holcomb, county health officer, will be a key person backing the Texas Department of Health Resources in this program, according to Mr. Brown.

The Senior Citizens Organization of RSVP and Community Action have volunteered their help, and other volunteers will be needed.

Mrs. Anderson will coordinate other services here, all to be offered without cost to all individuals. "They pay their tax money and are entitled to the services," she said.

A graduate of Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing, she has been in an RN supervisory position since 1956 in Amarillo, and in Hall and Childress counties. She came to her present position from Childress Hospital, where she was director of nurses. She has had four years prior experience in the public health field.

Mr. Brown, with the Texas Department of Health Resources three years, is a graduate of Texas Tech University. His home town is Turkey.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Donald White and boys of Clarendon visited Mrs. J.D. Gibson over the weekend. They also visited Mrs. Marie Black and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hunter.

On Wall Street

by Bob Hill
Lentz, Newton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange

There is a generation that has never known a major recession, never known what it is to be laid off with no chance of being rehired or even getting a job in another city or industry, never known the hopeless feeling or worried concern over where the next grocery check is coming from. That generation grew up in the 1950's and 60's. It was a generation known for rebelliousness, restiveness, and sharply different values than their parents.

These workers were reared in a time of rising prosperity and their attitudes were developed in the dramatic social change years of the 60's. Workers who grew up in the depression years were willing to accept the job conditions, the authority of the foreman and the boring routine of the assembly-line, in exchange for a steady paycheck. The younger workers have challenged the authority of the bosses, demanded new freedoms at work and thoroughly confused management and older fellow workers.

But the 1974-75 recession has hit the younger workers the hardest as a group. They lacked seniority and were laid off. They lacked job training and were bumped out of work by the more skilled. They showed a streak of unwelcome independence and were pushed out into the ranks of the unemployed to compete with each new year's crop of high school graduates where an unemployment rate of 20% is routine. All of this has caused some change in attitudes.

It doesn't mean that they suddenly come to attention and say "Yes, sir" and "No, sir" and salute, but if they don't like the job, chances are they will stay and try to change it rather than head for new horizons.

What are the young workers seeking today? More satisfying jobs, greater participation in decisions affecting their lives (the Army found this true in Vietnam) and a greater independence in their lives. Putting it another way, less authority.

Is the change in attitude permanent? Yes, it is. There may be a softening in attitudes when jobs are hard to find, but the great shift in social values which involved civil rights and the political upheavals of the 60's, the anti-war protests, the environment and women's liberation, won't change.

Tornado Season Over Texas Through Spring

COLLEGE STATION--Hot, humid, windy weather can be a dangerous signal for Texas during the spring months.

Why? Because these weather conditions breed tornadoes, and Texas is the most tornado-prone state in the nation, says Dr. Gary Nelson, agricultural safety engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Texas has an average of 103 tornadoes a year, with most of them occurring in April and May when there are violent winds, severe thunderstorms, and masses of cool and warm air colliding with each other. Eight out of 10 tornadoes occur between noon and midnight, with more than 20 per cent in the two-hour span from 4 to 6 p.m.

Tornadoes, which take an average annual toll of 184 human lives in the U.S., usually travel southwest to northeast and stay on the ground about 10 minutes. Their forward speed is about 30 miles per hour, explains Nelson.

The National Weather Service issues a "tornado watch" when atmospheric conditions are favorable for the development of tornadoes. A "tornado warning" is issued when a tornado has actually been sighted or detected by radar.

Thomas Nursing Center News

Many residents of Thomas Nursing Center, Inc., had out-of-town visitors over the Mother's Day weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Wright of Amarillo visited with Mrs. Edna Maxwell.

Mrs. Vernon Peters of Vinson and Mrs. Dan Henard, Jr., were visitors with Mrs. Vera Talkington. She is Mrs. Peters' mother and came here recently from California to enter Thomas Nursing Center. Mrs. Talkington was a long-time Vinson resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Harris of Dallas visited Mrs. Gusta Harris.

Dr. and Mrs. Granvel Killian and children of Hollis were guests of his grandmother, Mrs. J.A. Killian.

Mrs. Bill Day of Commerce visited her mother, Mrs. Pearl Franks.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Crockett of McLean were here to see Mrs. Mattie Back.

Mrs. Callie George had as guests Mr. and Mrs. Doyce George and Mr. and Mrs. James Albright of Borger.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Graham of Olton visited his mother, Mrs. Mabel Graham.

Weekend visitors of Mrs. Bama McKay were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette McKay of Tuscon, Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Alexander visited with Zora Dial and took her out to lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. P.D. Dever of Plainview visited with Mrs. Clemmie Hudson.

Weekend guests of Mrs. Mary Plunkett were Frank Plunkett of Longbeach, Calif., James Plunkett of Oklahoma City, Okla., Julia Perry, Opal Plunkett and Mrs. Marilyn Jessie and children of

"If you hear of a tornado watch, stay tuned to a radio or television for weather reports," says the Texas A&M University System engineer. "If a tornado warning is issued, take cover in a basement, cellar or civil defense shelter and keep a battery-powered radio handy in case power lines are down."

The safest refuge, says Nelson, is a tornado shelter, underground excavation or reinforced concrete structure.

"If you don't have a basement, stay in the central part of the lowest level of the house or get in a closet or bathroom or under heavy furniture. Open a few windows but stay away from them," the engineer warns.

"If you're in an office or factory, stay in an inside hallway on the lowest floor or go to a designated shelter."

"Get out of mobile homes or old, poorly built buildings and stay away from any structures with free-span roofs such as gyms or auditoriums."

"If you're caught in open country when a tornado hits, head for a nearby building or lie flat in a ravine or ditch. Don't stay in a car unless you can drive away from the tornado at right angles to its path."

"If you sight a tornado, report it at once, but don't tie up the phone with unnecessary calls," advises Nelson.

When cleaning up debris from a tornado, wear gloves and thick soled shoes and watch for downed electrical wires and broken gas pipes. "Don't light matches or smoke in or near a building that has been hit by a tornado until you're sure there are no gas leaks," Nelson cautions.

Virtually every bank account (savings or checking) in the United States is insured against loss up to $40,000 for each account by an agency of the federal government. The agency is called the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, or FDIC.

Funds paid into the insurance pool to protect depositors' accounts do not come from taxpayers' pockets, however. The FDIC pool is financed by the banks themselves, who each year pay a certain percentage of funds into the FDIC.

The idea of banks pooling a portion of their funds is not new in this country. In 1819 the Suffolk Bank of Boston began redeeming the notes of other banks, so long as the bank issuing the notes had paid into a redemption fund (like the FDIC pool) established by the Suffolk bank.

The FDIC, which was created after the bank holiday in the early 1930s, also serves as a part of the bank regulatory process, along with the Federal Reserve System, the Comptroller of the Currency and State Banking Agencies.

Cinco de Mayo Important To Texas and Texans

Cinco de Mayo, that most important of holidays in Mexico and observed in many places in the Southwestern United States, was celebrated last week. Its significance to our neighbors on the south is similar to our own Fourth of July—a remembrance of the independence of a nation.

Cinco de Mayo is a gay occasion, marked in many places by fiestas and celebrations. Because there is no observance here, the day is likely to pass unnoticed by the Anglo population.

It is a day of more than usual significance to Texans, for it was once our holiday, too. Later on, the United States and Mexico went their separate ways. But now, in the mid-seventies, it is a good time to pay tribute to those of Mexican descent who are also good Texans and fine Americans.

One Texan in five bears a Spanish name. In the Wellington Schools, one child in four has a Spanish surname. They are to be found in Quail and Samnorwood in lesser numbers.

These Collingsworth citizens contribute heavily to the county's economy. They are in our work force, filling necessary though often unskilled jobs. It is to their credit and that of the Anglo community that some are rising to places of responsibility. They are valued customers of Wellington business firms and they pay their share of taxes.

Texans whose families came from Mexico form the largest of the 21 ethnic groups who make up the population of this state. At the time of Cinco de Mayo, it is well to remember their contributions.

We Failed Our Homework

We would like to point out that the average voter does not do his homework and maybe it is because the news media hasn't done its job properly to identify the candidates. The Don Yarborough of Houston who won the race for the Texas Supreme Court is not the Don Yarborough who ran twice for governor. Neither is he the Ralph Yarborough who served in the U.S. Senate from Texas. The Don Yarborough we elected is a fellow who is under grand jury investigation in his home city. We Texans marked his name because we seemed to remember that name of Yarborough while we didn't remember the name of his opponent, Judge Charles W. Barrow, a rather distinguished jurist who currently sits as Chief Justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

The main reason Jerry Sadler is in the runoff in the race for Railroad Commissioner is that his name is familiar and in a large field of candidates it so stood out like a neon sign. Sadler, the crude, snuff dipping perpetual office holder and politician, said publicly that he wasn't going to spend much money campaigning because he didn't need to. Said his name was well known and would get him elected. He may be right. His opponent is Jon Newton, a young Beeville attorney who made an excellent member of the state legislature.

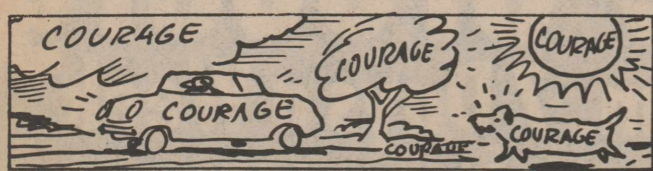

When Jerry Sadler first ran for office he won because everybody thought it was Harley Sadler, he of tent show fame. The present generation doesn't know Harley Sadler but for many years he provided clean family entertainment for every small Texas town with his tent show and Harley Sadler enjoyed a good reputation.

Water Planning

The recent short-term drought reemphasizes the need for giving water planning a high priority in Texas. If the present energy crisis does nothing else, it should alert us to the knowledge that water, like fuel, is a precious commodity that we must always have.

Courage comprises all things.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — A hot Railroad Commission runoff campaign between Jerry Sadler, 68, and State Rep. Jon Newton, 34, is under way.

Sadler, a pre-World War II Railroad Commissioner and former Land Commissioner, led the big May 1 Democratic primary field of candidates for the oil and gas regulatory agency.

Newton, a state lawmaker from Beeville, came in second and is rounding up endorsements from most of the other Democratic candidates.

Sadler, of Grapeland in East Texas, is zeroing in on Newton's campaign financing from oilmen. He says he will accept no oil money "above the filling station level."

Newton, who barely mentioned Sadler in the first primary campaign, is citing the former commissioner's record which includes a reprimand by the House of Representatives in 1969 and refusal to open some of his land office records to the press.

Another statewide runoff on the June ballot is for the Court of Criminal Appeals. Carl Dally of Houston and W.T. Phillips of Waco are the candidates for the judicial place.

Don Yarborough of Houston was a surprise winner of the May 1 State Supreme Court race over veteran Capt. of Civil Appeals Judge Charles Barrow of San Antonio. Some lawyers talked about chances of an independent candidate or write-in candidate against Yarborough, but it's too late for an independent to get on the ballot.

Recession Ending

Texas worst recession since the 1930's seems to be coming to an end, according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The rate of inflation has been reduced substantially, and business activity for the first quarter of 1976 was 14 per cent above the first quarter of the previous year and seven per cent above February level, the bureau reported.

About the same time, Secretary of State Mark White reported Texas led the Central U.S. in new businesses formed in January — with 1,709 new business corporations formed.

Liquor Sales O.K.

Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission offered guidelines as to how out-of-state-owned firms can continue to sell alcoholic beverages and stay within the law specifying ownership by Texans.

ABC set off a flurry of concern with an announcement it would enforce the in-state ownership law.

New guidelines tell how such chain operations as grocery stores and hotels can sell beer, wine or liquor at their premises by setting up a separate Texas firm to obtain the required state permit. The Texas entity would then lease space from the parent corporation. Joint cash registers could be used, with separate coding for the alcoholic beverage sales.

Courts Speak

Reversing earlier rulings, the State Supreme Court held Farmers Branch can collect property taxes on Panasonic television sets and Honda motorcycle parts warehoused within the city.

The Court of Criminal Appeals turned down a request for a new trial by a Nueces County man sentenced to from two to 10 years imprisonment for letting a baby starve.

A burglary case was remanded by the Court of Criminal Appeals to the trial court for a hearing to determine if an appeal waiver was made knowingly.

The Court of Criminal Appeals, in a rape case from Coryell County, directed a further hearing on competency to stand trial.

AG Opinions

Meetings of a municipal police officers association are not subject to the open meetings act, Atty. Gen. John Hill said in a new opinion.

Hill said internal deliberations of a city's collective bargaining team and its preliminary discussions with elected city officials are open to the public, but can be closed if counsel

SCHOOL PICNIC

Indian Creek School, north of Salt Fork on the old "Seale" section, took off on a spring day, circa 1905, to picnic on the bluffs near the creek. The photograph was taken with a "Kodak" that the school teacher, Miss Emma White (later Mrs. John Henard, Sr.), had bought by mail order from Sanger-Harris in Dallas. The camera is now on display at the Collingsworth County Museum.

In another new opinion, Hill said misdemeanor cases in Eastland County should be filed in county court only where there is reasonable chance the defendant will enter a guilty plea. Others should go to district court, Hill said.

Appointments

T.G. Ferguson will head the Department of Public Safety Diver and Vehicle Records division. Capt. Ralph R. Maddoux and Capt. William J. McLean were promoted to major in the DPS force and assigned to command Corpus Christi and Houston regions for the department.

John Davenport of Austin is new assistant administrator of Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

William C. Bednar Jr. will become legal counselor of Texas Education Agency June 1, succeeding Cester Ollison who is retiring.

James Crews, West Orange-Cove Independent School District, was honored last week as Texas Teacher of the Year.

Milt L. Fegenbush Jr. of Austin and Carmen Ramos of Laredo have joined the Texas Railroad Commission staff as an engineer and hearings examiner.

Short Snorts

Travis D. Shelton of Lubbock will be the new president-elect of the State Bar of Texas. John Mark McLaughlin of San Angelo is vice president. Fred Micks of Galveston won the junior bar presidency.

Gov. and Mrs. Dolph Briscoe will vacation in England May 25-June 5. They will fly to London on the supersonic jet Concorde.

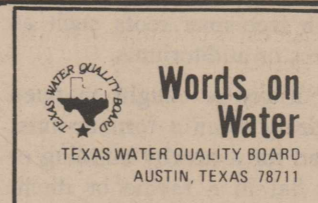

May 9-15 has been proclaimed small business week honoring firms which account for 55 per cent of total Texas sales and 44 per cent of manufacturing.

Gross sales taxes increased 20 per cent during the last quarter of 1975.

Gov. Briscoe told the Texas Criminal Justice Conference reducing crime is the biggest challenge of the generation.

Texas' public school breakfast program in 1,044 schools is the second largest in the nation. It has grown 59 per cent annually and will provide 28 million meals to pupils during 1976-77.

Cigarette tax revenue increased $563,256 — to $21.5 million — last month over April 1975.

ALL TO TAKE A RIVER'S PULSE

In Texas there are more than 3,500 rivers and streams with a combined length of about 80,000 miles. So think how busy the TWQB field people were back in 1967 when there were only 20 people to gather samples from those miles of water in order to determine whether a stream was sickly or in good health. That's the way it was for a while after the TWQB became a bona fide state agency.

But things improved as time went by. From the 65 sampling stations throughout the state in 1967, the number has grown to 650 and samples are taken on a regular basis to "feel the pulse" of the rivers which, incidentally, are in better health now than they were nine years ago.

Some tests can be performed in the field, such as rate of flow, dissolved oxygen, pH (for acidity or alkalinity), temperature, turbidity (signifying clarity of the water), chlorides and conductivity.

But there are some tests which require laboratory equipment in order to make the picture complete. So additional samples are taken and sent to authorized labs to provide still more scientific information regarding the health of Texas streams.

Water sampling is done on all 15 of the state's rivers and their tributaries every three months, except for the densely populated areas such as Houston, Dallas and San Antonio where sampling is done more frequently.

Then there are the 92 reservoirs in Texas whose health also must be guarded and where sampling is done by TWQB field personnel on a quarterly basis. The quality of the water in Texas reservoirs (nearly all of which are man-made) is considered very good.

In addition to the scientific factors (pH, oxygen, etc.), the biologists, chemists and other scientific types who do the water sampling, take note of the fish species in the streams, as well as plant and animal life growing along the river beds, to provide still another indication of the health of the water in which they're found.

When Bob Goforth completed his two-year-term on the City Council recently, he had not missed a single meeting. Once, trying to get back from Amarillo for a meeting, he was stopped by a patrolman for speeding. On the final night, however, when he would simply have turned over his office to a successor, his Cherokee Inn Restaurant dishwasher could not come to work and he had to pinch-hit.

The picture in last week's Wellington Leader of the old Wellington Hospital brought memories to Mrs. Jack Colson.

When Dr. E.W. Jones bought the hospital in 1924, Mrs. Colson's mother, Mrs. W.H. Moody, was the first person to have surgery in it.

In 1935, as Dr. Jones was completing the "new hospital", now the older part of Collingsworth General, Mrs. Moody had to have surgery again. She was the last person to be operated on in the old hospital. Dr. Jones said she could be the first patient in the new one, too.

But, according to Mrs. Colson, on the night before it was to open, Lee Roark had to have an emergency appendectomy, and thereby became the new hospital's first patient. Mrs. Moody was also the mother of Waymon Moody and C.L. Moody.

Those who went from Wellington to the West Texas State University Texas Panhandle Distinguished Service luncheon were delighted with the keynote address by Texas Representative Sarah Ragle Weddington, an Austin attorney.

The Methodists among them may have remembered the summer, many years ago, that their pastor, Dr. Edmund Kirby went away to study. His replacement was a youthful, red-haired, single Rev. Doyle Ragle.

When he was introduced at the luncheon as the father of the speaker, Rev. Ragle rose, distinguished in appearance, white-haired and no longer as slender as he once was.

The Fred Yarbroughs had their golden wedding celebration not long ago, and one guest made unusual effort to come. His cousin, Mrs. Joe Saddler of Houston was recovering from a broken hip. Determined not to miss the fun, she chartered a plane to bring her to Wellington.

And another profile in courage:

Mrs. Jane Allen of North Platt, Nebraska, is the mother of Stewart Allen, who was married to Kathy Cox this week end. She is also a victim of multiple sclerosis, which keeps her in a wheel chair. She, too, came to Wellington by plane, spent the night in Collingsworth General Hospital, and attended the wedding next day.

Tom Wilkins made available his new van so she could travel more easily.

Mrs. Allen said her friends at North Platt call her "Mrs. Ironsides," because, like the TV detective, she has her own especially equipped van with a hydraulic lift by which she can enter and leave more easily.

And speaking of Tom, he is the new owner of a CB radio. His moniker is "Colonel Corn". (This is telling nothing out of school. FCC casts a legal frown on secrecy in names on the airways).

"Why not General Corn?" he was asked. He thought a minute.

"Maybe I should have chosen 'General Dynamics,'" he decided. We would say that more nearly describes his dynamic character.

This was picked up from Jim Boswell's First Methodist Church bulletin and he got it from Howard Quiett, pastor at Quanah:

HOW TO GET THE PASTOR OF YOUR CHOICE

This chain letter is meant to bring you relief. Unlike most chain letters it does not cost money. Simply send a copy to six other churches who are tired of their pastor. Then bundle up your pastor and send him to the church at the top of the list. Add your name to the bottom of the list. In one

Foster Homes Sought For Disabled Adults

Foster homes are needed in Hemphill, Wheeler, Collingsworth and Gray counties to provide care for aged, blind, or other disabled adults who can no longer continue living in their homes, but are not medically eligible for nursing home care, according to David Bron of Amarillo, adult social services supervisor, Texas State Department of Public Welfare. The foster family home program is one of the adult programs provided by the department as an alternative to institutional care.

"We are seeking warm hearted people who have room in their homes for one to three aged or disabled people who are not related to them," Brown said. "The foster family must be willing to help provide opportunities for social, recreational and religious activities as appropriate. They would not need to provide health related services."

Upon notification, the social worker will interview prospective foster care providers and check to see that the home meets health and safety standards. They will also give ongoing consultation to approved providers on any problems that may arise, he said.

"We would help the persons seeking foster care and those wishing to give it to get acquainted before further arrangements are made," Brown stated. "This is, really, a family-sharing program where all concerned need to be congenial. We expect it to enrich the lives of all
