THIRD VICTIM OF SHOOTING NEAR DEATH HERE

Foreign Relations Committee Challenges Hoover's Right To Withhold Papers

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

"Marriage licenses sold here" reads a sign on the highway just east of Grandfield, Okla. Grandfield is not a county seat but through some kind of an arrangement marriage licenses are issued there and Texas couples impatient of the three days notice and medical examination law do not have to drive all the way to Frederick to obtain marriage licenses.

Since the Texas law requiring notice and medical examination for the male applicant became effective marriage licenses sales have fallen off in the Texas border counties and greatly increased in the Oklahoma counties bordering Texas. But even so Talker would rather see the Texas law strengthened than repealed. Our hope is that in time Oklahoma will adopt a license law similar to that of Texas.

From the darkness of the past survives the belief that woman is the property and servant of man; that she must obey him and be dependent upon him. Man in his egotism asserts his rigths under this belief and woman submits. But let the servitude become unendurable to the woman and let man's wounded egotism become inflamed with liquor and we have the setting and circumstances for tragedy. Such a tragedy was enacted in Wichita Falls yesterday and was climaxed with three killings by a maddened and drink crazed man.

Man asserts domination and woman possession. In these are seeds of most of our tragedies. Maybe the day will come when we will give to life and to individuals the dignity belonging to them and rid ourselves of the thought of domination and possession and leave to every soul the freedom which God must have intended. Yes, maybe the day will come, but the way will be marked with many a tragedy such as shocked Wichita Falls Tuesday.

Wichita Falls will be host this week to the state Christian Endeavor convention. The convention is expected to bring nearly a thousand delegates to the city. They will came from all sections of the state. These delegates will, for the most part be young people. The Christian Endeavor movement swept the country more than 40 years ago. It has now settled down to a conservative organization. As the name implies the organization is made up of those who associate themselves in an edeavor to lead a Christian life.

Next Sunday is Fathers' day. Talker agrees with George J. Hecht, editor of The Parents' Magazine, that Fathers' day ought to be combined with Mothers' day. "There is splendid opportunity here," declares Mr. Hecht, "to drive home the fact that parenthood is the greatest profession in the world. Combine Mothers' and Fathers' day, call it Parents' day and concentrate on programs that will emphasize the importance of education for parenthood, on better health protection for children and on adequate care of American women in childbirth. These, in my opinion, are the important matters to put before the American public on a day that would be called 'Parents' day.' It flowers, neckties, cigars and telegrams serve to popularize the day they will serve a purpose, but certainly the American public should not allow commercial interests to give a ludicrous slant to an attempt to express what good parenthood means not only to the individuals concerned but to a nation."

And besides Talker almost knows that Papa needs that association with Mamma to have anybody pay him any mind.

Commercialization of almost everything seems inevitable in these days. We even commercialize sentiment as can be seen from sales of special articles for such days as Mothers' day and Fathers' day. We would like to see some institution, some sentiment or even some thought that would be entirely free

TREATY FACTS DEMANDED IN PROPOSED BILL

Senators Order Drawing of Resolution Setting Out Authority

IMPEACHMENT HINTED

Borah Says Citation of President Too Slow For Present Case

BY KENNETH CLARK

WASHINGTON, June 10. (US)—President Hoover's withholding of secret documents relating to the London naval treaty was challenged today by the senate foreign relations committee.

Standing on the constitutional prerogatives of the senate as a part of the treaty-making power, the committee ordered drafted a resolution asserting its full right sto all the papers affecting the London negotiations.

The resolution, introduced by Senator Black, Democrat of Alabama, was referred to a subcommittee for redrafting. It will be voted on Thursday by the committee. If passed, it will be sent to President Hoover for his consideration.

Faced with the president's refusal, the committee took this course to affirm the senate's rights.

Impeachment "Too Slow"

Chairman Borah explained that the majority of members agreed the president had the power to withhold the documents and added: "There is no remedy except impeachment and that's too slow."

The resolution lays down the general policy that the committee has a right to any papers that throw light on the treaty.

Chairman Borah and Senators Black and Moses, Republican of New Hampshire, were named as the subcommittee to recast the resolution.

A corollary move of treaty foes to defer action on the pact until President Hoover poduces the secret documents was discussed in committee but held in abeyance pending disposition of the Black resolution.

Reed Opposed

Only one voice, that of Senator Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania, a delegate, was raised against the reference of the resolution to the subcommittee.

Treaty foes were jubilant over the turn of events. They interpreted the committee's action as indicating an increase in the opposition to the treaty.

Claims that the senate will not remain in special session to act finally on the treaty were being freely made in the senate. There is to be a break for home by senators when the regular session adjourns.

Texas Club Women Hear Annual Reports

HARLINGEN, Texas, June 10. (AP)—Reports of work during the last year by various committees occupied the second day's program today of the state convention of the Texas federation of business and professional women's clubs. More than 300 delegates journeyed by automobile through a heavy rain to Val Varde, 30 miles away, for the annual emblem breakfast. Faye Gordon of Amarillo, state emblem chairman, presided at the breakfast.

California Bandit Pair Sent Back to San Jose

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP) — Governor Dan Moody today honored extradition papers from the governor of California seeking the return to San Jose, Calif., of Carl Reese and Clarence Stafford, bandits, under arrest in Waco. Two San Jose officers left here immediately for Waco to return the prisoners. They were said by the officers to have been implicated in 20 holdups in the region of San Jose, Los Angeles and San Diego.

GEORGETOWN, Texas, June 10. (AP)—D. W. Wilcox, of Georgetown, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, today aided in conferring the honorary degree of doctor of laws on R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican national committeeman for Texas, who received the degree from Southwestern university of Georgetown, his alma mater.

Valley Delegates Lead Christian Endeavorers To Wichita Convention

The vanguard of the more than 1,000 guests expected here for the 41st annual convention of Christian Endeavor societies of Texas had arrived in Wichita Falls early Tuesday night for the opening of the convention Wednesday morning at the First Presbyterian church. The Wichita Valley district was particularly well represented in the group of early delegates, although each in-coming bus and train during the night added its quota to the growing list of delegates. Registration will officially open at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

New Secretary Coming

The registration booth will be in charge of Miss Cora Lee Morrow, convention registration chairman, where guests will present their registration certificates and receive their identification badges and programs for the convention. Mrs. R. P. Willis will assign the visitors to their homes as they register. Lester Prothro, chairman of the transportation committee, has announced that transportation will be furnished the guests from the trains to the church and on to their lodging. Each delegate will be furnished a bed and breakfast.

C. C. Hamilton of Boston, Mass., international secretary and business manager of the International Society of Christian Endeavors, is expected to arrive Wednesday when he will have charge of all conferences on "Loyalty to Church and Denomination." Harrold F. Lovitt, past field secretary for the state of Kansas, is also expected to arrive Wednesday. Mr. Lovitt will assume his new duties as field secretary for Texas during this convention.

Convention Committee

The convention committee which will be at the service of the visiting delegates follows: General chairman, Jack B. Dale; vice chairman, Mrs. G. Sherrill Ballew; secretary, Aurie Belle Yeager; treasurer, Lowell Nichols; registration chairman, Miss Cora Lee Morrow, substituting for Miss Joyce Samuels; publicity chairman, Patrick Henry Jr.; chairman homes committee, Mrs. R. G. O. P. TO PLAN COUNTY TICKET

County Executive Committee to Meet Thursday

Democratic nominees of Wichita county may face a complete Republican ticket for county offices in the general election, it was learned Tuesday when O. R. Hartt, chairman of the Republican county executive committee, issued a call for a meeting of the committee and all interested Republicans.

The meeting will be held at the Wichita county courthouse Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock, and will be for the purpose of deciding if a complete ticket will be offered and for the selection of candidates, Mr. Hartt said. The Republican leader would not say if a complete ticket would be offered, but pointed out that a partial ticket had been placed in the field four years ago. Enthusiasm and interest in Republican activities is far greater at present than at that time, he declared.

The Republican primary will be held on the same date as the Democratic, according to law. Thirty voting places were provided in the primary four years ago, and this number will be increased this year, Mr. Hartt said. The meeting Thursday night will be open to all Republicans, as well as members of the executive committee.

With the call for the meeting Thursday, Mr. Hartt announced the names of 41 precinct chairmen who will serve the party during the coming campaigns. Four chairmen

CHICAGO HURLS ALL RESOURCES INTO MANHUNT

Gangland's Assassination of Reporter Rouses Bitter Drive

SLAYER IDENTIFIED

Newspapers See Killing as 'Blundering' Move to Stifle Press

CHICAGO, June 10. (UP)—Another determined anti-crime drive swung into full action in Chicago tonight to capture the left-handed, silk-gloved gangster who assassinated a star reporter of the Chicago Tribune.

Almost the whole police department was concentrated on the hunt for the slayer of Alfred Lingle, the police reporter whose chief assignment was the investigation of underworld murders.

Rewards totaling $40,000 were posted by the Tribune, the Evening Post and the Press club for the assassin who tossed the only clues, a left-hand silk glove and a stubby pistol, on the sidewalk after he had sent two bullets into Lingle's body in the subway leading to the loop station of a suburban railroad.

Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, said he was positive he knew the identity of the slayer, a professional killer known in gangland haunts for his left-handed prowess with revolvers, machine guns and bombs. Roche said the murderer undoubtedly used the glove to prevent finger prints on the gun.

No slaying here since the St. Valentine's day massacre of seven gangsters in 1929 brought such pressure to bear upon the police department as did Lingle's killing.

Newspapers were almost unanimous in characterizing the murder as a gangland attempt to stifle the press.

Authorities Scored

"The murder . . . has all the appearances of an attempt of the gangsters to terrorize the newspapers," said the Post. "The fratricidal warfare, which has reached of late such bloody extremes among the gangsters, is a shameful display of the inability of authority to govern our lawless underworld, but when they turn to attack men engaged in the performance of duties vital to the public welfare . . . the situation demands more than ordinary measures.

"If, as we suspect, this is indeed an underworld attack upon the press, it may well prove to be the biggest tactical blunder which gangland has made."

Shakeup Planned

Police Commissioner William E. Russell, close personal friend of Lingle announced an immediate shakeup of the force "to find a more effective way of fighting crime."

The "secret six," millionaire members of the Association of Commerce organized to fight crime, turned over all of its investigators to the department to help unravel the mystery.

A coroner's jury convened, heard testimony of a few witnesses who saw the assasination, and then adjourned to give authorities time to round up more suspects.

Speakeasies Close

Denizens of the underworld hurriedly closed scores of speakeasies, gambling houses and kindred enterprises. It virtually was impossible tonight to buy a drink of liquor across a bar or even to place a bet on a horse with a bookmaker.

The veiled movements of Lingle in his daily dealings with the high and the low of the city, the millionaires and the hoodlums, the police and the gangsters, made numerous the plausible theories as to why he was killed.

Some said he had refused to intercede with police friends for the promoters of a gambling establishment, others held that his investigation of the robbery several years ago of Arthur H. Cutten, millionaire grain dealer, might have led to his death. Lingle aided Cutten in tracing down the robbers until nearly all of them were placed in prison.

Other theorists held that Lingle had learned of a certain gangster coup and that he was silenced by death so there would no possible chance of his information appearing in print. Lingle's close friendship with "Scarface Al" Capone also was believed by many investigators to have had something to do with the crime.

Oklahoma Deputy Sheriff Shot To Death In Raid On Man's Home At Roosevelt

Special to The Record News

HOBART, Okla., June 10.—W. H. Humble, 45, deputy sheriff at Hobart, was shot to death about 7:30 Tuesday night as he attempted to make a liquor raid on a home at Roosevelt, 16 miles south of Hobart.

A posse of more than 100 men scoured the creek bottoms and fields near Roosevelt all night Tuesday searching for the slayer, who fled on foot after the shooting. Officers believed he would be captured before morning. The county officers did not postpone the beginning of the search lonf enough to file murder charges Tuesday night, but announced that the complaint would be sworn out Wednesday morning.

Details of the shooting were not known in Hobart. Mr. Humble, who has been a member of the sheriff's force for the past 12 months, went alone to Roosevelt and was shot down within the home.

Sheriff Sam Standefer later announced that the shooting took place in the home of Sam Allen at Roosevelt. The sheriff said that he did not know whether the officer had a warrant to conduct a raid.

Death Claims Mrs. B. T. Burgess; Frank Humphrey Dies at Hospital

Wichita Woman Prominent In Church and Club Work For 22 Years

Mrs. B. T. Burgess, 52, a pioneer resident of Wichita Falls, died in a local hospital about 5:20 o'clock Tuesday afternoon following an illness which necessitated a major operation. The body was taken in charge by the Hines mortuary. Arrangements for funeral services will not be made until word has been received from a sister of the dead woman in Long Beach, Calif.

Mrs. Burgess with her husband, B. T. Burgess, owner of the jewelry store here bearing his name, came to Wichita Falls in 1908. Their home was at 1011 Fourteenth street at the time of her death. The couple were married in 1902 at Fort Worth, moving later to Houston, where they remained until they came to this city.

Mrs. Burgess was active in business life here, having been closely associated with her husband in the conduct of his business. She was also active in church work as a member of the First Baptist church, having been a member of the choir

Printing Firm Head Known To Scores as Player Of Bagpipe

Frank Humphrey, 41, 2201 Brown street, a native of England and a resident of Wichita Falls for the past eight years, died in a local hospital about 8:20 o'clock Tuesday night following a brief illness. The body was taken in charge by the Merkle Undertaking company. Funeral services and interment will be in Wichita Falls but definite arrangements had not been made Tuesday night.

Mr. Humphrey came to America from London about eight years ago and came directly to Wichita Falls after landing in this country. His family accompanied him from England. Shortly after arriving in this city he found employment with The Times Publishing company, later becoming superintendent of the Martin Printing company, a position he held for several years. About three years ago, when the Martin company went out of business, Mr. Huhphrey organized the printing company which bears his name. He was president and general manager of that concern up until the time of his death.

Besides his widow, he is survived by two sons, Reginald, 14, and Bennie, 4; and a daughter, Olive, 17. He has several brothers and sisters living in England but no other immediate relatives in this country. Connected with him in the printing business was S. J. Waghorne, a brother-in-law. Another brother-in-law, H. W. Cleaver, is an accountant for the Panhandle Refining company here.

Mr. Humphrey fought in the world war as a soldier in the British army. After coming to America, however, he became a member of the American Legion and was

WOMAN GIVEN LITTLE CHANCE TO RECOVER

Slayer Kills Wife, Wounds Her Sister, and Ends His Own Life

COUPLE ESTRANGED

Joe Dyer Shoots Self as Officers Close in After Tragedy

Mrs. Dena Childress, 34, was in an extremely critical condition at the Wichita General hospital Tuesday night with gunshot wounds which physicians believe will prove fatal, following a shooting at her home, 111 Oriole street, Tuesday morning in which Mrs. Maudie Dyer, 42, her sister, was instantly killed.

Within a few minutes after the shooting at the home, Joe Dyer, 48, estranged husband of the slain woman, was found in a dying condition on the sloping bank of an irrigation canal near the scene of the first shooting. A bullet fired from a .38 caliber pistol found near the body had entered near the left ear and lodged in the brain, according to the report of undertakers. Powder burns on the head indicated the shot was fired within a few inches of the temple. Mr. Dyer died shortly before 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, about two hours after the shooting.

Cousin Tells Story

Reconstructing the events preceding and during the tragedy, city and county officers learned from John Prince, a cousin of the two women who was confined to his bed with double pneumonia in a room adjoining that in which the first shots were fired, that Dyer entered the house and strode through Prince's room without uttering a word. Dr. M. A. Beckman, county physician, who was attending Prince at the house, said he was just leaving as Dyer entered and that he had gone but a few steps when the shots were fired. He immediately notified officers.

Prince reported Dyer went directly into the rear room which the two women occupied and the shots were fired instantly. He said he heard about six shots. Dyer left the house by a rear door. Witnesses told officers a few moments later that Dyer anounced as he left the house that he was going in search of Joe Booth, a brother-in-law, and the officers at once began a search for Dyer to prevent further shootings.

Dyer walked away from the house toward an irrigation canal, made a wide circle and was sighted by officers about a quarter mile from the house, walking back in the direction of the place where the two women had been shot. Dick

King Carol Reorganizes Army While Casting About for Prime Minister

BUCHAREST, Rumania, June 10. (AP)—Reorganization of the army today was accomplished by King Carol II, as the first important step in a program of stabilization of the affairs of Rumania.

The young king, who last week astonished the world by turning swiftly from the affairs of the heart to those of state, today appointed Prince Nikolaus general inspector of the water and land air forces, and Generals Averescu and Pressan field marshals.

The newly elevated king spent virtually his whole day receiving members of the officers' corps of all branches of the service, who swore allegiance, and with matters bearing directly upon the formation of a new government.

Urgency of the latter problem was made evident by the profound thought Carol is giving selection of a premier. The king hoped to have his government completed by tomorrow. This seemed, tonight, to be doubtful. His every effort was bent toward obtaining a government that would be looked upon

Newcastle Shallow Well, Drilled In Four Days, Makes 1,680 Barrels

Flowing 1680 barrels of oil in a 24-hour period from the sand at 690-708 feet, the Dr. Riggs No. 7 Larimore well located in the west half of the southwest quarter of section 2247, T. E. & L. survey, north of the town of Newcastle in Young county, was completed late Monday.

This well, which has created considerable interest on account of its performance from this remarkable shallow pay, is easily the county's premier shallow producer, and second in its output to the Nash & Windfohr producer in the Graham area.

A remarkable fact in connection with the drilling of this well was that it required only four days for completion.

This is the third completion to be made by the Dr. Riggs interests on this lease. Nos. 5 and 6 Larimore being completed the past two days, each averaging between 800 and 1,000 barrels per day on the 690-foot horizon.

An extension 600 feet north was

Old Timers of Texas Ranges To Form Organization June 26

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, June 10.—One of the features of the Texas Cowboy reunion to be staged in this city, June 26, 27 and 28, will be a round-up and get-together of the pioneer cattlemen of the state.

A permanent organization of the old-timers will be formed to hold annual meetings in Stamford. Only those who saw actual service in the saddle and on the ranges of the region prior to 1895 will be eligible for membership in the organization.

It is the plan of Col. R. L. Penick, chairman of the arrangements for the entertainment and reception of the early day cowboys, and his committee, composed of R. E. McDonald, John Selman, W. P. McDonald and D. T. Perkins to keep alive the history, traditions and associations that were formed during the early days of civilization in this area through having annual meetings of the pioneer cattlemen.

In addition to the active committee, Colonel Penick and officials of the reunion association have selected an honorary committee made up of 50 pioneer cowbows who will assist in the program and the formation of the old-timers' orzanization. These members of the committee are Sam Morrow, Tucumcari, N. M.; Ben Reynolds, Throckmorton; Frank Rhodes, Thornton; Bill Howsley, Throckmorton; Wilson Connell, Fort Worth; Billy Moore, Wichita Falls; Gene Mayfield, Aspermont; Dock Ellis, Throckmorton; Cap Newman, Sweetwater; Frank Alexander, Haskell; Baylor Crawford, Abilene; Jeff Patterson, Peacock; Emmett Roberts; Nugent; Joe Dickenson, Seymour; Vick Colbert, Stamford; Henry Hadderton, Roby; Billy McClaran, Paducah; George Boles, Lubbock; Prinkle Moore, Hamlin; Bud Matthews, Albany; Finn Reynolds, Albany; Ben Cullum, Stamford; Dan Stephens, Hamlin; Trav House, Benjamin; Wiley Hale, Sagerton; Tom Ballard, Haskell; Bill Hutson, Haskell; Henry Green, Albany; Starks Darity, Anson; Rose Shook, Haskell; Tom Adams, Benjamin; Bud Arnett, Guthrie; Sam Graves, Guthrie; Press Goen, Dickens; Jim Moody, Truscott; John Bryan, Abilene; Joe Mathis, Peacock; Bob Goodwin, Anson; Bud Jones, Lubbock; Will Barron, Rotan; Pete Dennis, Jayton; George Barr, Cisco; Joe Erickson, Spur; E. P. Wilson, Munday; Edgar Boaz, Anson; Jake Raines, Spur; Bill Huett, Spur; Jim Keller, Spur.

The program of the three-day affair will include, in addition to the get-together of the old-timers, other interesting features. On each afternoon, a western cowboy rodeo will be staged and an old-fashioned dance will be given each evening.

All early day citizens of West Texas will be given special invitations to attend the affair and the directors of the offering say that people of all ages and classes will find a full program to interest and amuse them.

The rodeo will be held in a natural ampitheater a mile west of the business district of Stamford. Comfortable seats will be provided for several thousand and the arena and stock pens have been arranged so as to allow presentation of the contests and exhibitions in a quick and efficient manner.

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH

WASHINGTON, June 10. (INS)—Foreigners who formerly were heavy purhasers of American bonds and certain stocks for purely investment purchases have radically departed from this policy and during the last two years have traded on margin in speculative stocks in the amount of $3,257,000,000, according to an analysis by Iver C. Olsen, of the commerce department.

American retraders purchased $2,265,000,000 of the stocks bought for foreign accounts leaving a total of $993,000,00 still in the apparent possession of persons abroad, Olsen said today.

"Many foreigners leave their holdings of American securities in vaults in the United States, and it is impossible for the broker to determine whether the stocks are still in their possession or sold," Olsen explained.

"France and certain other countries impose heavy property and stap taxes on foreign securities—explaining, perhaps, why many foreigners desire to leave their American stocks in the United States."

Attempts have been made to ascertain the volume of American securities moving abroad to foreign accounts, but the complications and obstacles render even a round estimate difficult, according to Olsen. Foreigners were said to be continually in and out of the market and in the course of a fortnight may have seculated in radio, motors and industrials without involving the transfer of a single share abroad.

Olsen added:

"One concernt in New York stated it sold $10,000,000 of American stock to foreign customers last year, of which only $2,000,000 was actually transferred.

"The remainder was purchased on margin and disposed of before the end of the year. Two of the largest houses in New York annually trade in $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 worth of American stocks for foreign accounts, of which only about $2,000,000 worth is purchased outright, and transferred abroad for actual possession."

Musical Numbers On Vodvil Bill

A musical program of unusual interest is being planned for the next free vaudeville to be given at the Memorial auditorium Thursday evening at 8 o'clock under the direction of C. C. Bunnenberg, park superintendent.

The first number on the program will be a piano duet by Miss Herra Hill and Mrs. Beatrice Fleming and will be followed by a tap dance by Miss Evelyn Townsend accompanied at the piano by Miss Martha Weeks. One of the features will be two dances, "The Little Tin Soldier," and "The Doll From France" by Lenora Prine and Bobby Hugh Kilgore. The Lions club band under the direction of Leo Underwood will also give several numbers and other serections will be given over the new public address system.

Club Hears Talk on Utilities Advertising

Extensive advertising is regarded today by utilities corporations as the greatest marketing force at their disposal, according to a talk on "Utilities Advertising," given by P. M. Cordell Tuesday noon before members of the Ad club.

Large budgets have been set aside by all utilities concerns, Mr. Cordell said, to advertise service, courtesy, and goodwill as their principal assets. Four-fifths of such advertising funds will be devoted to the employment of newspaper space during the current year, it was estimated by the speaker.

Charles E. Spragins was in charge of Tuesday's program.

Special Songs to Honor Spudders at Luncheon

A specially prepared program will be given at the Kemp hotel at 12:10 o'clock Wednesday when members of the Optimists club will honor the Spudders. The Sawyer sisters who are visiting relatives here from Brownwood, with Miss Lorene Tucker will give several musical numbers of which two will be special baseball skits. Miss Tucker has composed a clever bit of poetry with which she will introduce each of the players. Larry Bettencourt will be presented with a bat as a token of the club's regard for his work so far this year. The program was arranged by Joe Bailey, chairman, Alvah Conner and Ira D. Brown.

Says BOBBY MORE:

"Hey, Mom, why can't we have it OFTENER?"

No wonder the More's are always crying for MORE. Bobby has the right idea: "Let's have Lehrack's oftener," cries he.

If you want your family to be healthier and happier serve Lehrack's ice cream at least twice a week. It's a pure wholesome food. It's a delicious dessert—and inexpensive. It pleases everybody—you never have to coax the children to make them eat it.

It's just rich sweet pasteurized cream . . . and pure cane sugar . . . and honest Nature-made flavorings—real fruit: vanilla and chocolate right from the bean. A real food. Good and good for you. Eat it oftener.

Ask your Bobby if he'd mind going to the store for some. . . . Look at him run!

Posses Beat Wilds For Alleged Killer

ALYURAS, Calif., June 10. (AP)—Posses searched in the mountain wilds of Modoc county today for Rodney Selby, 35, suspected bootlegger, accused of slaying Federal Prohibition Agent Albert L. Brown and wounding Agent Robert Davis when they sought to arrest him yesterday in his service station at Indian Springs, 32 miles west of here.

Selby, whom Davis named as the killer, fled after the shooting and was apparently hiding in the rugged, wooded country northeast of Indian Springs.

Davis said Selby fired without warning when he and Brown sought to arrest the service station owner on a charge of selling liquor.

Although weak from loss of blood, Davis lifted his brother agent into their car and drove here then collapsed. Brown had died en route.

Railroad Commission Hears Rate Claims

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—The railroad commission today, at its monthly docket hearing, conducted an investigation as to the reasonableness of and the necessity for equalization of interurban express freight rates with rates of the Texas and Pacific Motor Transport company and of class A motor trucks. The rates were considered as applied by the Electric Express and Baggage company and the Interurban Express and Baggage lines in North Texas.

Jury Debates Issues in Suit Over Alleged Oil Damage to Water Wells

The $2,500 damage suit brought against the Tidal Western Oil company by W. M. Dodson of Burkburnett on a claim growing out of the alleged contamination of water in wells on Mr. Dodson's land by waste materials from the Tidal Western refinery was given to a jury in the 89th district court Tuesday afternoon. No verdict had been returned when the jury was excused at 5 o'clock and Judge P. A. Martin ordered the deliberations continued Wednesday.

Mr. Dodson claims the water used by his family for domestic purposes has been rendered unfit by seepage from a creek through which the oil company allowed its waste oil to drain. Attorneys for the Tidal Western contended the water has been analyzed and shows no trace of oil or gasoline and is no more unfit for use than the water used here in Wichita Falls. They described the water here as "none too good for domestic purposes." The defense also contended Mr. Dodson had at one time asked the refinery to allow its waste oil to drain through the creek, in order that he might collect the oil on the surface of the water and, when enough of it had been retrieved, sell it for use. The suit, they said, was not filed until practically all waste materials had been stopped from coming down the creek, removing that source of revenue from Mr. Dodson.

Two Bank Bandits Sought in Louisiana

FRANKLINTON, La., June 10. (AP)—Hoping that escape might prove difficult because of the bandits' abandonment of their car, sheriff's deputies today continued their search for two young men, who, masked and wearing khaki, late Monday held up the bank at Angie, northeast of here, and escaped with $1,229.50.

Last night the bandits were thought to be cornered in a reforestation tract of the Great Southern Lumber company six miles from Bogalusa. A guard was set over the tract.

from commercialism. But with all commercialization of things we doubt whether it is bad, certinly not wholly bad. We just wouldn't get very far with a lot of movements without the aid of commercialism. We have got to acknowledge that. And so far making us ludicrous, why if we could just see ourselves with the right perspective we would laugh at ourselves most of the time. Bring on Fathers' Day with its socks and neckties and cigars and telegrams.

The Democratic state executive committee has certified the names of all applicants for places on the primary ballot without requiring any oath, test or declaration. The committee has opened the doors wide and it is expected that county committees will follow the state committee's example both as to candidates for the ballot and those who vote. Of course, the pledge to support the nominees of the primary must be printed on the ballots but apparently it will not mean anything to those who do not want to be bound by it.

Old ideals as to the sacredness of a pledge and obligation are abrigated and new practices some in. Maybe the new are better than the old but we doubt it. Anyway we must respect those Democrats who do not go into the primary because they cannot see things in that light, as we must also respect those who do go into the primary regarding the pledge as an obligation to vote for the nominees even if it "takes the hide off" to do so.

Population of Detroit Announced 1,564,397

DETROIT, June 10. (INS)—The 1930 population for Detroit numbers 1,564,397, according to announcement of the first complete census figures here this afternoon. The total represents an increase of 570,719 since 1920.

FAMILY DOCTOR LEARNED THIS ABOUT CONSTIPATION

Dr. Caldwell loved people. His years of practice convinced him many were ruining their health by careless selection of laxatives. He determined to write a harmless prescription which would get at the cause of constipation, and correct it.

Today, the prescription he wrote in 1885 is the world's most popular laxative! He prescribed a mixture of herbs and other pure ingredients now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, in thousands of cases where bad breath, coated tongue, gas, headaches, billousness and lack of appetite or energy showed the bowels of men, women and children were sluggish. It proved successful in even the most obstinate cases; old folks liked it for it never gripes; children liked its pleasant taste. All drug stores today have Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in bottles.—Adv.

Stuffed up inside?

Feen-a-mint is the answer. Cleansing action of smaller doses effective because you chew it. At your druggists—the safe and scientific laxative.

promised the field Monday when Simpson et al topped the sand at 686 feet in their No. 1 Larimore. The well is standing with a hole full of oil and will complete Tuesday.

Panhandle Refining company's No. 1 Larimore was given a 20-quart shot of nitro in the sand at 689-192 feet and is making 10 barrels per hour.

W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls has purchased a 40-acre lease on the Larimore land from W. M. Vandervert for $40,000, according to reports in Newcastle late Monday. The tract contains one producer and one drilling well.

Brazelton Brothers were reported selling 20 acres of their 40-acre J. F. Larimore lease to Wichita Falls interests for $50,000, reportedly $30,000 cash and $20,000 in oil.

With the potential production of the field already around 8,000 barrels daily and mounting steadily, operators are expecting Prairie Pipe Line company to begin prorating runs immediately. The Prairie is now taking 3500 barrels daily and many of the recently completed producers are shut down, the owners having no market for their oil.

favorably at home and abroad and would strengthen the political and financial status of Rumania.

Tactful approaches were made again today to Princess Helen, Carol's divorced wife, for a reconciliation which she was told was the dearest wish of the people now that her husband had been restored to his rightful position. It was evident that some slightly more friendly attitude on the part of Princess Helen would be necessary before announcement of a reconciliation could be made officially. In same quarters it was said that those who were intervening for the pair would not be content with a merely official reunion which would outwardly mend the affair for the sake of appearance, but would plead for whole forgiveness and good feeling.

It is generally presumed that Nikolaus Titulescu, the "mystery man" of Rumanian politics, who has held the balance of power among the various factions in Rumania since the end of the world war, had much to do with Carol's sudden decision to abandon the role of the prodigal.

Two Killed in Shooting Here

Morris and Charlie Gant, deputy sheriffs, were in the vicinity investigating another case when neighbors called them and informed them of the shooting. They joined in the search for Dyer and Mr. Morris reported he was walking along the irrigation canal a short distance behind Motorcycle Officer Earl Brooks when they first saw Dyer on the bank of the canal about 100 yards away.

Officers at Scene

The officers said that at that time police and members of the sheriff's department were on practically all sides of the man and were drawing about in a circle, with himself and Brooks nearest. Seeing the officers approaching, Dyer raised the gun to his head and fired, falling back up the slope of the canal. Morris and Brooks were the first to reach his side. They found the pistol lying between Dyer's outspread legs, with one cartridge fired and five others in the chamber, indicating the gun had been reloaded after the two women were shot.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Dyer had died shortly after being placed in an ambulance from the Merkle Undertaking company. One shot had entered the center of the top portion of her skull, one in the lower left breast which had gone through and emerged on the right side of the back, two in the hand and another had grazed her shoulder. Her body was taken in charge by the Merkle company. Her husband's body was also held at the Merkle parlors.

Mrs. Childress was shot through the head and the forearm. She was taken to the Wichita General hospital at once.

Officers reported Mr. and Mrs. yer had been separated for the past four months and that Mr. Dyer had been working on a pipe line crew near Abilene until recently. He was at one time superintendent of the brick plant here, having held that position for several years until a few years ago. They had lived here about 15 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyer are survived by two sons, Paul and Floyd Dyer, the former an employe in the pressroom of the Times Publishing company, at work Tuesday morning when he was informed of the tragedy.

No funeral arrangements had been made Tuesday night.

Seven Bodies Found After Car Takes Dive

PHILADELPHIA, June 10. (AP)—The bodies of seven persons who went to their death when their automobile plunged into the deep water of an abandoned quarry near Souderton, Pa., on Sunday, have been recovered.

Working all night in a rain, divers from the Philadelphia navy yard, assisted by volunteer firemen, brought the last body to the surface today. It was that of Elmer Wisham, 45. The bodies of his mother and sister, his wife and 11-year-old son, his 3-year-old niece and Ralph Cupitt, driver of the car, were recovered earlier.

WINTER WHEAT 71.7 PER CENT

Yield of 532,469,000 Bushels Forecast

WASHINGTON, June 10. (UP)—A 1930 winter wheat crop of 532,469,000 bushels was estimated today by the agriculture department the basis of a condition of 71.7 per cent of normal on June 1.

The yield per acre of winter wheat was estimated at 13.8 bushels compared with 14.4 in 1929. The 1929 winter wheat crop was 578,000,000 bushels.

Condition of Durum wheat was given as 86 per cent and all spring wheat was reported 85.7 per cent of normal on June 1.

Production of rye was estimated at 46,723,000 bushels, indicated by a condition of 81.4 per cent of normal on June 1. The yield per acre of rye was forecast at 13.3 bushels. The 1929 rye crop was 40,600,000 bushels.

The report gave the condition of other crops as of June 1 as follows:

Oats, 83.2 per cent of normal; barley, 86.4 per cent; all tame hay, 77.6; pasture, 80.4; apples, 56.8; peaches, 47.1; and pears, 6.6.

Deaf Hear Again Through New Aid

Earpiece No Bigger Than Dime Wins Enthusiastic Following Ten-Day Free Trial Offer

After twenty-five years devoted exclusively to the manufacture of scientific hearing-aids, the Dictograph Products Co., Inc., Dept. 654M, 18 E. 11th Street, Kansas City, Mo., has just perfected a new model Acousticon that represents the greatest advance yet made in the recreation of hearing for the deaf. This latest Acousticon is featured by a tiny earpiece no bigger than a dime. Through this device, sounds are clearly and distinctly transmitted to subnormal ears with wonderful benefit to hearing and health alike. The makers offer an absolutely free trial for 10 days to any person who may be interested, and a letter will bring one of these remarkable aids to your home for a thorough and convincing test. Inspiring Program Closes Federated Mission Season

That the Wichita Day Nursery and the Wichita Nursery are two quite different associations was a point emphasized by Mrs. G. R. Ellis, president of Federated Missionary Societies, when a gentleman called on her recently to learn how to graft young pecan trees. Members of the Federated Missionary society who met at the day nursery Tuesday morning in the last board meeting until early autumn, realized as strongly as at any time during the life of the organization what the day nursery is accomplishing. The Christian fellowship demonstrated in the cooperation of Jewish, Catholic and Protestant denominations is inspirational in the highest sense. Mrs. Fred T. Datson, superintendent, followed her statistical report with a general story of the children.

In the first place, Mrs. Datson stated, she hoped the name "institution" would never be applied to them except when the state inspector made his rounds. As a little girl, she said, she had read stories of institutions where orphans had to go, and her heart had always ached over the unfortunate little boy or girl who did not have big blue eyes and curly hair so was not adopted at once. The day nursery is "home" where children will receive what children are entitled to.

Little stories of the children put them in a familiar light in the eyes of even casual visitors. They have reached the point now, Mrs. Datson says, where they can sit in groups and hold eager conversations without personal supervision. One story, telling of love for the nursery and for the superintendent, introduced two children who a year and a half ago were the worst in the institution.

A love for cleanliness has been inculcated into every little pupil who has remained any time in the nursery, and with cleanliness, a love for beauty. Touching stories emphasized these facts. Last year, a little girl was entered in the nursery who sat with her back turned to the teacher for more than a week. Seeing her in eager conversation with another child, recently, Mrs. Datson leaned over and asked the second child "What is it?" The little girl said, "She said she knew you first and I knew you first because I was here before you came." The other child looked up shyly and said, "I loved you first."

By love, the day nursery children are being guided. By all reports, they make the quietest and best pupils in church and school; they are taught rudiments of sewing and the small boys sweep, mop, help wash and dry dishes and clean and sprinkle the grounds. There is created in them the desire to do good work.

Reports Given

In the last month, attendance at the school has been slightly cut by measles. According to Mrs. Datson's report, 1,218 have attended; the largest day numbered 87 children and the smallest 31, with 45 the average. A total of 93 was enrolled.

Mrs. J. Lem Keevil reported on county farm services and special mention was given services held by the Lory Memorial Baptist church. The First Methodist church is to have charge of services there June 15; the First Baptist June 22, and the First Christian on June 29. Grace Methodist church volunteered to take June as courtesy month for the day nursery and the Catholic church in July.

Mrs. H. P. Ledford announced certain work necessary in the nursery and it was allowed from the budget. Mrs. Harry ten Brink volunteered to take Mrs. Ledford's work as house chairman during Mrs. Ledford's absence on her summer vacation. Mrs. Van Lesley spoke of the work of the children attending the summer Bible school at the First Christian church, and Mrs. Daisy Dean reported on extension work. Mrs. W. H. Downing reported on juvenile jail work. Mrs. Batey on story hour at the day nursery and Mrs. B. P. Williams was appointed to look after story hour at the colored day nursery during the summer months. Mrs. Harry Weeks, Mrs. S. E. Trevathan and Mrs. O. T. Alles made interesting reports for their offices, that of Mrs. Alles as treasurer being very encouraging.

Open Forum

At the conclusion of the reports and of the business meeting, Mrs. G. R. Ellis, president of the Federated Societies and presiding officer, asked the members to regard the meeting as an open forum and invited talks from each member.

Members of different churches spoke of the inspirational work of the federation and Mrs. J. A. Kemp made an uplifting talk on the history of the day nursery. The day when it opened on a hot June 15 was fresh in her memory. Lack of conveniences did nothing to dampen the ardor of the women gathered in the organization and Mrs. Kemp told of the manner in which everyone approached cooperated in furnishing the little house rented.

Just the day before the organization was perfected, Mrs. Zundelowitz called Mrs. Kemp to tell her of the death of the rabbi's wife and of the three motherless children they wished to take care of in the nursery for awhile. Mrs. Kemp referred also to Mrs. Walker, one of her close Catholic friends who made the motion dedicating the Federated Missionary socities to the work of the day nursery. Dr. Datson invited Mrs. Kemp to a meeting of the Kiwanis club when it was organized and in the very garage where the Whippet cars are now kept, Mrs. Kemp told her story of the work to the men organizing the club and enlisted the cooperation they have shown to this date. That the prayers of Dr. Datson and Mrs. Zundelowitz and the best wishes of Mrs. Walker were still with the work was beautifully emphasized. In the resume given by Mrs. Kemp, the women attending the meeting reached a close understanding of the spiritual side of the work, and no season has been closed with a deeper sense of real fellowship.

Mrs. Kemp and Mrs. Keevil dismissed with prayers the following members and visitors: Mesdames W. H. Downing, Harry Weeks, J. R. McKinney, W. W. Cook, L. E. Cowling, S. E. Trevathan, J. Lem Keevil, G. R. Ellis, J. G. Oakley, Carrie Wilcox, H. P. Ledford, J. A. Kemp, M. C. Batey, Daisy Dean, Van Lesley, Harry ten Brink, B. P. Williams, O. T. Alles, W. M. Cason, D. Green, Dick Carpenter, W. W. Swarts, Paul Green, B. L. Wilcox, L. H. Gilbreath and F. T. Datson.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

When we read recently of an eagle attacking an airplane, it had somehow a pathetic touch. The king of the air was, he thought, defending his own domain.

It gave us the same sort of twinge of sympathy we had as a child when we read of Indians fighting for the land where they were born and that had been theirs by native occupation for untold ages.

The perfection of that sympathy was marred a bit by a personal fear of Indians. Reading Leatherstocking Tales and hearing a hint of Indian troubles in the United States, made us dream sometime of losing our own long hair; at such a thought, we knew our industrious ancestors were in the right when they homesteaded lands.

The defense of a home or nest seems to have a bit of justice back of it. It is not the same as an invasion.

Quite another thing was the invasion of a bank in Quanah, Texas, by a moccasin. A bank is no place for any sort of serpent and a reptile is one thing few people sympathize with.

Going back to the subject of Indians, we have read somewhere recently that one need not be overcome with pity for that "vanishing race," as the census shows they are on the increase.

We saw charts prepared by a most intelligent member of the First Methodist Missionary society last week that were discouraging reports of birth rates. Relative statistics in city tenement districts and in those exclusive districts where cultured, educated and sometimes wealthy persons chose their homes were a sad outlook for the future.

Life has become so complex a thing and birth to most women is so dreaded an ordeal, that the white race of America must plant ideals deep in tenement children or expect government within our day by the biased masses.

It is probably the thought of Italy's future supremacy that makes Mr. Mussolini advocate so seriously a raised birthrate among his people.

Leonie Lebsche, a deceased French spinster, may have had the same idea when she left the income from her $6000 estate as a gift to young mothers who would promise to raise French families.

That estate will have to be handled by one who knows how to manipulate money before the income will rear more than one French child.

The largest birthrate we have heard of lately is Mexican. Senora Chavarria bore her husband (one husband), 37 children in 40 years, according to a current magazine. There were 18 pairs of twins in the 23 boys and 14 girls.

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Bailey and daughter, Mary Louise, and Mrs. C. E. Bailey and her son, James, of Wichita Falls will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Bailey of Cleburne and leave Wednesday for points in Mexico where they will spend their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pence of Bowling Green, Ky., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Davis at their home on Avenue J. Mr. and Mrs. Pence are en route to Denver, Colo., where they will spend the summer.

Members Sought For Boys' Swimming Team

Unusual interest is being shown in the "learn to swim campaign," according to C. C. Bunnenberg, park superintendent, who announced that 16 children are reporting at Westmoreland park each morning from 8 to 9 o'clock for their lessons and that eight women are receiving instruction from 5 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Plans are being made for the organization of a swimming team which will be composed of 24 boys. The team will compete in the state events to be held in San Antonio on Labor day. Only 12 have applied for membership on the team so far, it was announced and Coach Frank (Jack) Dempsey urges those interested in water activities to come out and get in training for the event.

The swimming lessons are being sponsored by the park department and are given free of charge. The only cost to the individual is the admission price to the pool. Instructors are Tom Beaty and Leonard Rice, life guards at the pool. Those interested in learning to swim are urged to get in touch with Mr. Bunnenberg or Otto Lazenbee at the park.

Pioneer Wichitans Hold Reunion on 55th Anniversary

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Deaton, 1811 Eleventh street, on the occasion of their 55th wedding anniversary, their children and grandchildren gathered informally at their home Monday evening. Open house has been the custom in the family on this date, but owing to Mr. Deaton's illness, a quiet family reunion marked the anniversary of the pioneer couple.

The guest book used on the occasion of the golden wedding anniversary five years ago was the register Monday evening and a delightful ice course was served to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brown, Lona, Jimmy and Dorothy Jo Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Deaton, Lillian, J. W., Jack and Lester, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Bachman and Juanita Bachman, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Deaton, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Deaton and Leon Deaton Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Deaton and Clifford Deaton Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Howard Malitz and Howard and Margaret Malitz of Dallas, Miss Ella Burman of Iowa Park, a guest of Miss Lillian Deaton.

Vacation Party At Country Club Honors Sub-Deb Set

June may be the month of weddings and grown-up social events may be important things, but when vacation begins, the very young society set take a strong place in the calendar. One of the prettiest parties of their season was the "vacation party" given at the Country club Monday afternoon by Margaret Louise Boller, the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Boller.

The long living room where games were played was filled with lovely spring flowers in glowing colors. "Touring," "Airplanes," and "Indoor croquet," were the vacation games featured and the high score prize, a box of beautiful sport handkerchiefs, went to Anna Catherine Howard. Juda Jane Norwood won low and received a tennis ball.

Juanita Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Harrison, who leaves Wednesday, June 11, to make her home in Longview, was presented with a pretty sport handkerchief and Gladys Stevenson, who with Margaret Louise Boller leaves on June 17 for a summer camp in Colorado, was presented with a pretty book, "My Camping Days." The two girls will join an exclusive party on this trip.

The long table arranged for the group in the dining room upstairs was a triumph of vacational decoration. Mountains were built and covered with miniature trees; grass grew down the center of the table and lakes of gleaming water held busy goldfish. The vivid green of plants made a pretty seasonal setting.

Miniature handbags served as place cards and were pretty favors for the guests. A delicious lunch was served to Mary Harrell, Katherine Biedenharn, Juda Jane Norwood, Olive Daugherty, Ruth Grisham, Gladys Stevenson, Margaret Sharp, Juanita Harrison, Geraldine Bennet, Mary Elizabeth Smith, Katherine Smith, Christine Burton, Mary Ann Walker, Ruth van Wormer, Pauline Jane Art, Myra Jane McMahon, Josephine Bell, Lucile Graham, Anna Catherine Howard, Charlotte Maer, Mildred Duck, Irma Cline, Constance Clark, Phoebe Lou Sehmann, Beatrice Hathorn, Pearl Louise Albritton, Mary Maples, Elizabeth Huff, Julia Mae Calvert and the hostess.

Heart Attack Fatal To Haskell Pioneer

HASKELL, Texas, June 10.—T. A. Williams, prominent pioneer citizen of Haskell county and for the past 15 years real estate and insurance man of Haskell, died suddenly at his home in Haskell Saturday night. The deceased had been in ill health for some months, physicians attributing it to heart trouble.

Mr. Williams had left a local barber shop and gone straight home and on going into the bath room, fell and was dead within a few seconds.

Mr. Williams was a member of the board of stewards of the Methodist church and one time superintendent of the Sunday school. He is survived by his wife, two brothers and eight children, Mrs. Charles Parsons, Wink, Texas; Miss Thelma Williams, Clyde, Oliver and James Williams, Fort Worth; Eugene and Homer of Dallas, and Robert of Breckenridge.

Funeral services were conducted by a former Haskell pastor, Rev. Ben Hardy, now of Hamlin, assisted by the Rev. G. Robert Forrester, pastor of the First Christian church of Haskell, at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The body was taken to Crawley on Monday morning for interment in the family burying ground near that city. Mr. Williams was 66 years old.

Enterprise Farmer Delivers First Wheat

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, June 10.—Ed Payton of the Enterprise community brought the first 1930 wheat to Electra last week. It tested 57 pounds to the bushel and was stored in the elevator. The field will possibly yield 20 bushels to the acre, according to the report. The first wheat this year was six days earlier than the first wheat in 1929, which was brought in from the Fowlkes community.

Proud Mother!

Jackie Tom, 4, of 1722 So. Olive St., San Antonio, is the picture of health. No wonder his mother says: "I'm proud as can be of my little boy. He's always bright, active, robust.

"I give California Fig Syrup a lot of credit for his wonderful condition. I have used it with him for every little upset or cold. It always has him back to normal in a few hours."

When a child shows, by bad breath, coated tongue, biliousness or feverishness, that the little bowels are clogged, you know the system needs a prompt cleansing.

California Fig Syrup does the work quickly and gently. In addition, it helps tone and strengthen weak bowels and stomach. So it gives lasting help.

The word California marks the genuine; the pure vegetable product loved by children and pronounced safe and effective by doctors.—Adv.

"It Controls the Nerves"

"I am a saleslady in a store. My nerves got the best of me and I never had good finger nails because I could not stop biting them off. My appetite was poor and I was always tired. One of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I know that it controls the nerves because I have no desire to bite my nails now, and they are long and well kept. My appetite is enormous and I feel like a new person. I have recommended your medicine to many girls with the same good results."—Ethel Fleetwood, 3023 Bandin Street, New Orleans, Louisiana.

DUNCAN HEARS FRANK BAILEY

Candidate for Governor Scores Graft

DUNCAN, Okla., June 10. (UP)—The largest crowd that has heard a political speech here in many years jammed into the Stephens county courthouse last night as Frank Bailey, Chickasha, delivered the opening speech of his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor. Visitors were here from three counties.

Without mentioning any names Judge Bailey brought a burst of applause from his audience with the remark "Power is power whether it is found in an army of Napoleon's or in the ruthless use of wealth."

"Any man who undertakes to buy public office stultifies Democracy and defeats the will of the public. I say with shame that there apparently is in our state a copy of the same methods of campaigning as in Pennsylvania," Bailey said.

His opponent, M. E. Trapp, was called by name when Judge Bailey said Trapp urged and signed house bill No. 4 "removing the right to control utilities in the community in which they operate thereby depriving them of the local right of self-government."

Judge Bailey referred to serial bond issues, vetoed by Trapp, and passed over his veto. Bailey said that one of the provisions saved a single unnamed Oklahoma county $2,000,000.

Bailey said he could see no reason for a bond issue to build roads in Oklahoma. The present highway commission built more roads for less cost than the Trapp commission, which left the department with a deficit of $4,000,000 Bailey said.

$10,000 Libel Suit Goes to Trial Here

A libel suit brought against the Axtel company by F. B. Griggs on a claim to $6,000 actual and $4,000 punitive damages growing out of alleged defamation of Mr. Griggs' reputation by the Axtel company was called to trial late Tuesday afternoon in the 89th district court. The jury had not been completed at the adjournment of court by Judge P. A. Martin.

Griggs claims he did business with the Axtel company as a plumber in 1928. When their connections were terminated, it is alleged, Mr. Griggs owed the company about $6,000, which he paid in full, receiving a receipt for the payment. He further alleges the company later reported him to a credit association in Dallas and had his name placed on a list showing he owed them $1,000 and was not a "good credit risk."

Burk Pastor Collects Bibles for Display

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, June 10.—The Rev. Glen R. Clark, pastor of the Central Christian church, has launched a movement for a unique Bible display to be exhibited in the windows of the Thomas store. The oldest, largest, smallest Bibles in various languages and several other Bibles of an outstanding nature are being contributed by various parts of the country. The display has created much interest to the public.

Haskell Pioneer Dies Suddenly in Sweetwater

Special to The Record News

HASKELL, Texas, June 10.—Mrs. M. J. Holland, resident of Haskell for many years, died very suddenly in Sweetwater Sunday morning at 3 o'clock, in the home of her son, Lee Holland, where she had been visiting for the past month. She had intended to start for her home in Haskell Sunday morning. Funeral services were held in Sweetwater Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Beautiful Tea Is Society Event Tuesday Afternoon

As a charming social function in which members of representative Wichita Falls families took part, nothing in June has been more beautiful than the afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. Adele K. Jarrell Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, honoring Mrs. F. H. W. Kenning, Mrs. Jarrell's mother and house guest.

Mrs. J. A. Kemp met guests at the door and introduced them to the house party which included the honoree and Mrs. Jarrell and Mesdames G. D. Anderson, W. M. Moore, A. R. Dillard, C. E. McCutchen, J. T. Montgomery, John Prewett, E. T. Duff, S. M. Gose, R. O. Harvey and Mrs. Kemp.

The table in the dining room made a lovely setting for a group of lovely girls. An Italian cutwork cloth was a pretty background for the yellow tapers in silver holders, and streamers from the chandelier reached the center silver basket filled with flowers in blue and yellow. Miss Margaret Smith, Mrs. J. Warner Zimmer, Misses Joline Wood, Martha Ellen Hines, Adele Jarrell and Willette Jarrell presided there. The other rooms in the pretty home were rosy with pink blossoms.

A delicious refreshment course, carrying out the vivid blue and yellow used in the dining room, was served to about 150 guests who called in the afternoon.

Wedding Unites Old Haskell Families

Special to The Record News

HASKELL, Texas, June 10.—Judge and Mrs. Bruce W. Bryant of Haskell, announce the marriage of their daughter, Brucile Bryant to Virgil Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Reynolds, also of Haskell. The wedding, connecting two old and prominent families of this section, took place in Durant, Okla., Feb. 23. The bride returned immediately after the ceremony to C. I. A. and completed her course, getting her degree in June.

She scored many honors during her four years in school at C. I. A. and was editor of the Dadalian this year. The groom returned to his Alma Mater, Baylor university where he was a leader among the students and football star,—having been elected captain of next year's team. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds will be in Haskell for the summer.

Services were attended by fellow officers of the school. The body was sent to the home of Major Thomas' mother, Mrs. H. T. Thomas of Baltimore. Capt. W. R. Kay accompanied the body as military escort.

Electra Host to Sunday Schools

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, June 10.—The Sunday school district convention of the Church of God was held at the local Church of God Sunday. Representatives from Burkburnett, Wichita Falls, Bowie, Rochester, and Electra were in attendance.

The Burkburnett church was in charge of the program during the morning and presented a play which centered around the life of Moses. Their program also consisted of readings, songs, instrumental music.

Electra was in charge of the program in the afternoon and presented a play portraying different episodes in the life of Abraham. The Electra group also gave readings, special songs and music.

Rev. C. C. Asher of Ranger, state overseer of the Sunday schools of the Church of God, made a talk and was in charge of the preaching services Sunday evening.

About 800 people attended the convention which is said to be one of the best ever held. Dinner was served on the ground at noon.

Harmon County Pioneer Dies in Home at Martin

Special to The Record News.

HOLLIS, Okla., June 10.—Mrs. John G. Bible, a pioneer settler of Southwest Oklahoma, died at the family home a few miles south of Martin Sunday. Mrs. Bible was born near Tyler, Texas, July 14, 1858. In early life she, with her widowed mother, moved to Central Texas, near Waco, where she grew to womanhood and was married to John G. Bible in 1879, settling soon thereafter near Whitney, Texas. In 1899 the family came to Greer county, homesteading the land on which she has since lived.

There were nine children born into the home. Six of them survive. The funeral was conducted at the family home Sunday evening. Elder Ed Elkins of McQueen, Okla., assisted by M. O. Daley of Hollis, officiated. Interment was in Old Bethel cemetery.

Methodists to Give Comedy at Electra

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, June 10.—"Are You a Mason?" is the title of a three-act comedy drama that will be presented Tuesday evening, June 24, at the Grand theater under the auspices of the Builders class of the First Methodist church. The class will be assisted by civic organizations and specialty numbers. Mrs. Earl Anderson is the director of the play.

What Motorists Should Know About Headache

Do you know how to get quick relief from "motorist's headache"? It's easy, with the right remedy.

That remedy is Capudine. It is liquid, and can be absorbed at once. That's why it relieves headaches, neuralgia, or periodic pain immediately. Solid medicines require several minutes before your system can absorb them.

When in pain park at a drug store and have the clerk serve you two teaspoonfuls of Capudine in water. You'll be delighted with the speedy relief.

Why not carry a bottle of Capudine always. Then no matter where you travel you can avoid suffering. All drug stores, in single doses, and 10c, 30c and 60c bottles.—Adv.

You feel safe in summer frocks with this sanitary protection

SOME women still think it's necessary to have certain dresses for certain days . . . particularly in summer. Kotex users could tell them how unnecessary all that is.

Kotex is made of Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding—which is 5 times lighter than cotton.

That means Kotex absorbs five times as much as an equal weight of cotton. It means your Kotex pad can be much lighter, less bulky, than other methods, for equal protection.

Kotex is always light, cool and delicate. The corners are carefully tapered, to fit snugly and without a bulge. Kotex deodorizes — and is disposed of just like tissue.

Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

KOTEX IS SOFT...
1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a lasting softness.
2—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.
3—Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly, by a special process.
4—Disposable, instantly, completely.

MYRLE NEELY RESIGNS POST

Chest Secretary Takes Place In Pennsylvania

Resignation of Miss Myrle Neeley, for the past three years executive secretary of the local community chest, was definitely announced in a telegram received Tuesday by Harry A. Gray Jr., president of the chest. The resignation is to be effective July 9.

Miss Neely will take over the assistant directorship of the community chest of Wilkesbarre, Pa., when her business matters have been completed here. She will return here the last of next week to finish her work and prepare the office for her successor.

An executive secretary will probably be chosen within the next few weeks, Mr. Gray said, since the 1930-31 campaign is to begin in September.

Pythian Lodge Holds Memorial Services

Joining the Pythian lodges all over the nation in memorial services this month, members of the Pioneer Lodge No. 49, Knights of Pythias, conducted special commemoration ceremonies here Tuesday night.

Rev. John Daniel Barron, associate pastor of the First Methodist church, gave the memorial address, taking as his theme "The Divine Element in Man." L. A. Freeman of Fort Worth, past grand chancellor of Texas, attended the meeting and addressed the membership, tracing the development of the order since its birth in 1864.

Physicians Hear Discussions of Professional Matters at Meeting

Discussions of several matters of patricular importance to physicians in their relations with the public were held Tuesday night at the regular monthly meeting of the Wichita County Medical society at the Wichita club, the last meeting until the second Tuesday in October. The members voted to adjourn during the summer months.

It was announced that the convention of the Northwest Texas society would be held here the second Tuesday in September, when members of the district society will be guests of the Wichita county organization.

Dallas Man Speaks

The first spaker on Tuesday night's program was Dr. Robert M. Bartlett of Dallas, who read a paper on "The Kidney in Hypertension and Arteriosclerosis." Dr. Bartlett stressed the value of making an accurate diagnosis of the conditions attendant upon a high blood pressure and the importance of recognizing the need of a system for a given amount of albumen in the absence of a grave Bright's disease.

Dr. Everett Jones of this city read a paper on "Fractures of the Transverse Processes of the Lumbar Vertebrae." He showed X-ray plates and gave histories of cases who had suffered such injuries, citing cases where the tips of the bones had failed to unite in childhood, which had been mistaken for fracture. Drs. Glover and Heyman in discussions added several reports to the list.

Paper on Goiter

Dr. E. O. Rushing of Dallas, formerly associated with Dr. Crile of Cleveland, read a paper on "Goiter." He showed plates illustrating the three types of goiter. The main part of his discussion was centered about the proper classification of goiter. Although three conditions are found in the thyroid gland, it was said, the symptoms and treatment of each are as different as any three conditions in any other part of the body. Dr. Rushing stressed the importance of early operations of tumors of the thyroid, due to the fact that a large per cent of the cases eventually result in cancer.

The program concluded with an address by Dr. Holman Taylor of Fort Worth, secretary of the Texas State Medical association. His remarks were directed principally at the medical practice bill, which provides that there shall be one standard by which the individual may obtain a license in the art of healing. The applicant, he said, must have an adequate knowledge of the basic sciences and must pass an examination proving his qualifications. The bill does not require him to follow any prescribed line of treatment of disease for it is not the intention of the state to go into the practice of medicine in its public health program, he said. The measure further provides, he stated, that the board of medical examiners shall be increased from six to 12, in order that two may go off the board each two years, being replaced by the incoming governor. It also provides that no one school shall have a majority on the board, thereby affording protection to every branch which seeks the right to practice the art of healing in the state, he said.

Dr. Taylor pointed out that up until the present time the burden of prosecution has rested upon the state, but with the new proposal it is intended that burden of proof shall be on the applicant instead of on the state. This bill has been unanimously endorsed by the Wichita County Medical society at a previous meeting.

House Ready to End Session Next Week

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP)—Speaker Longworth said today the house would be ready to adjourn by the end of next week. With the senate voting on the tariff today, the house has set aside Saturday for disposal of the measure. Speaker Longworth said "it all depends upon the senate."

up until the time that her failing health prevented further activities in that line. She was at one time president of the Athenians, a national historical study club which was first called the Beta Delphians and which disbanded in 1926. In her various activities, Mrs. Burgess formed numberless friends in this part of the state.

Her maiden name was Minnie Edith Curl. She was born and spent the early years of her life in Bloomfield, Iowa. Besides her husband, survivors include a sister, Mrs. E. Z. Morrow of Long Beach, Calif.; a half-sister, Mrs. John Mozingo of Carson, Iowa; and a half-brother, William M. Curl of Bloomfield. Her father died two years ago this month and her mother has been dead for several years.

Mrs. Burgess' grandfather was Capt. Van Benthysun, a native of Holland who fought with the union forces during the civil war and was also an officer in the war of 1812. The captain's son, Will Van Benthysun, uncle of the dead woman, was at one time the highest paid newspaper man in the world, having been a member of the staff of the New York Times. He died several years ago.

Rites Today for Mrs. Maggie Wheat

Funeral services for Mrs. Maggie Wheat, 57, of 302 Burnett street, whose death resulted from a heart attack Monday night shortly after seeing an automobile strike a woman in front of her home, will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the Lamar Avenue Baptist church with Rev. E. M. Agee officiating. Interment will be in Riverside cemetery under the direction of the Alberts Funeral home.

Mrs. Wheat, who had been ill for some time but who had been improving for the past few days, was sitting on the front porch of her home when an automobile ran up over the curb stones and struck Mrs. W. O. Terry, 208 Burnett street, who was walking on the sidewalk. Mrs. Wheat immediately became faint and died within a few minutes after an Alberts ambulance arrived to take the injured woman to the hospital. Mrs. Terry was reported resting well late Tuesday at the Wichita General hospital. She suffered only bruises and lacerations.

INCREASE STOCK

ELDORADO, Ark., June 10. (UP)—Stockholders of Lion Oil Refining company have voted to increase authorized capital stock to 1,000,000 shares from 30,000, it was announced today. Additional stock will be used in connection with an expansion and development program of valuable oil properties discovered recently by the company in Texas.

EDITOR TRACES WOMEN'S RISE

Power of Federated Club Told in Address

DENVER, June 10. (AP)—The American woman, long confined to the kitchen, is emerging from her era of ultra domesticity and is taking her rightful place among those who mould the thought of the country, Otto Wiese, youngest magazine editor in the United States, told the 20th Biennial convention of the General Federations of Women's Clubs, today. Mr. Wiese, 25, is editor of "McCall's magazine."

"The taste of women," he said, "has improved reading matter immeasurably within the last ten years. They are intelligently selecting their reading matter, both fiction and non-fiction, in the fields of science, politics, religion and just plain story telling.

Program Praised

Dr. George F. Reynolds, head of the department of English literature at the University of Colorado, pleaded for a better understanding of the work of club women throughout the United States.

"If you actually carried through the programs outlined," he said "the United States would witness a social, and possibly such an industrial revolution as would eclipse any in the history of the last few hundred years."

The almost 800 registered delegates balloted today for officers to captain the federation during the next two years, but their action was considered little more than a formality.

A tribute to the press was delivered by Mrs. Meade F. Griffin of Plainview, Texas, before the convention in her capacity as chairman of the rural press committee.

Tribute to Press

"Tribute," she said, "is paid the press gladly because without it no movement could be carried to its ultimate goal. We have found, always, that newspapers throughout the country are eager to help us with every piece of work we have sponsored. We must remember too, that we have a very real and serious obligation to the press, and that if we would have its invaluable cooperation, we must fulfill that obligation honestly and fairly."

The place of the woman's clubs in promoting fine arts, such as painting and etching, is being delineated in the exhibit by the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Texas Exhibit Seen

Under the management of Mrs. Alex Adams of San Antonio, chairman of the fine arts committee of the Texas federation, and Mrs. Howard Green of Long Branch, New Jersey, national chairman, the exhibit has been open to visitors thoughout the convention.

The Texas federation is seeking to encourage all state federations to arrange similar exhibits from their respective state artists, looking to a future interchange of exhibits among the states.

Among Texas artists whose work is exhibited are: Floyd Crews, El Paso; Mildred Flynn, Harlingen; Mrs. George Clark, Edinburg.

Mr. Humphrey took a prominent part in the programs of various organizations and groups here, even taking his bagpipe on various good will trips to other sections of the state.

A Boy's Luck-Money His Troubles Begin Modern Abduction Easier Than It Was

By EMILE GAUVREAU

A New York clerk invests $1 in the English Derby race, borrowing part of the money. He wins $149,262. Foolish people who read about it will envy him and try some gambling on their own account. But in the clerk's family a bitter fight has started between father and son over the fortune. They were happy until the money, unearned, came in. Now avarice, envy, resentment and rivalry that the possession of luck-money brings to the fore will begin operating. Money is a good servant, but a bad master.

The Christian Science Monitor exploits its efficiency as a medium of promoting trade, evidently believing that what is called religion, once inseparable with the state, is now becoming the inseparable ally of business. Nowadays a bishop can dabble in Wall street and nobody thinks much about it. The alliance with the god of lucre is becoming proper. "Nothing is good or bad but thinking makes it so."

Pacifists who were singing paeans of joy and exultation during the "naval disarmament" meeting will read with interest that work on the three 10,000-ton cruisers for the American navy has been resumed, after a temporary suspension by the president, pending the outcome of the naval conference. In the meantime the five-power parley resulted in a washout. Foolish optimists, who hoped for a forthright attitude on the part of the delegates, are entitled to enjoy their disappointment. Mr. Churchill, who has a choice selection of words, calls it "the supreme failure of all conferences."

Peace is possible only where there is a sincere desire for it. Europe does not desire it.

People interested in such things will read that the number of abductions by university students of fair-co-eds seems to be on the increase. The police are searching for a young man of Rutgers university who lured a 16-year-old Pelham High school girl all the way down to Daytona beach by way of a roadster, false checks and empty promises.

Time was when a cultured scamp, no matter how persuasive, had a hard time coaxing his dancing partner to cross the ferry with him into the subdued lights of Jersey City. Now there is the eloquence of the swift, shining, smooth-running motor to plead for him. And the mention of tropical Florida may easily become irresistible to the ears of the movie-nourished.

To put it mathematically, the likelihood and ease of seduction increases in direct ratio with the distance traveled. Knowing this, the rake feels secure when he tempts and then abandons his victim several hundred miles from the starting point. There is no walking back.

The remedy for this condition, perhaps, is to make the punishment twice as severe as it is—for both. In this single-standard age the girl should be prepared to shoulder her half of the burden of guilt.

WYOMING HAS TORNADO

The 1930 census gives Bloom Center 341 population, same as it had in 1920, so I guess all the boys that went to the big cities to "accept" remunerative an' important positions are back with us again. Grocer Wash Kite, who holds decisions over five different bandits 'll be a candidate fer constable on a withered ticket.

Premier Tardieu of France was elected to the Academy of Gastronomes, an exclusive society of good eaters, on passing the wine-tasting test. Some of that good red Italian wine, no doubt.

There's a law in Constantinople which makes it an offense to use the Arabic alphabet. Now they're talking Turkey.

Horse Races—and Laws

MENTION law enforcement, and the average man promptly concludes that you are going to talk about prohibition. If you go on to say that our pet weakness is to put laws on the statute books and then look the other way while they are being violated, he'll be sure of it.

But you could write a whole book on that subject and never once mention prohibition. We do a great deal of very befuddled thinking and acting in regard to law enforcement; there is, for instance, the matter of horse racing.

The following incident is typical. It happened in Ohio, but the public attitude that made it possible exists everywhere in the Union.

Just outside of Cleveland there is a large, well equipped track for horse racing.

Like all other large cities, Cleveland has a good many citizens who like to go to horse races.

Like all other racegoers, these fans like to bet on the races. No racetrack could survive if this wasn't the case. The "gate" never begins to pay expenses; it's the track's percentage from the betting machines that does the trick.

Now Ohio has a law forbidding gambling at racetracks. It's an air-tight, fool-proof law, not to be evaded by "contribution systems" and the like. Consequently, Cleveland doesn't get much racing.

This summer, however, a syndicate opened a 28-day racing meet at this Cleveland track.

The county sheriff, whose duty it was to enforce the law and close the track, promptly left town on an indefinite vacation. Cleveland can't find him.

The county prosecutor says he can't act until the sheriff acts, or refuses to act.

The governor of Ohio says the same thing.

Meanwhile, the sheriff stays missing, the races are being run, Cleveland fans are having their fun, bets are being placed and practically everybody seems to be quite happy about it.

That's a typical bit of Americanism—the entire performance.

One section of the citizenry thinks gambling is wrong and harmful, and has a law passed prohibiting it. Having done that, it's content.

Another section doesn't feel that way. So it goes ahead and gambles—on horses, in this instance—never dreaming of trying to amend the law so the business could be done legally.

Ohio probably would get quite excited if an effort were made to make racetrack gambling legal. But it never bats an eye when the law is openly violated and the public officials hide out or pass the buck. Everybody's satisfied. One element has the law, the other has the gambling. And there you are.

You could write quite a lot about sloppy enforcement, and never once mention prohibition.

The Gangs Break Loose

APPARENTLY that peace pact which the Chicago gangs fixed up a month or so ago didn't have enough teeth in it. Maybe it failed because underworld psychology isn't quite ready for a super-state yet, and maybe the boys just naturally didn't take it seriously; at any rate, the machine guns are swinging again, and the casualty list is resuming the proportions of the good old days.

So ends Chicago's breathing space, amid a clatter of fire-arms. Dead bodies are being found beside lonely roads once more, and firing squads are on the prowl again; the police are finding "known gangsters" immersed in their own gore, and this, that or the other gang is getting the credit, or otherwise, for this, that or the other murder.

All in all, the city at the foot of Lake Michigan seems to have slipped back to normal; and people who like to be driven to alarm by these violent outbursts on the part of our urban civilization have at hand the material for a new fit of the heebee-jeebies.

We're pretty well used to our big-city gangs now, and they don't worry or shock us as they used to; nevertheless, there's one bit of foggy thinking that these killings usually bring out, and we might as well take the time to get straight on it.

This particular bit of irrationality is a reflection that generally runs something like this: after all, it is only the gangsters that get killed. Each of these outbursts simply removes from circulation a citizen whom we can very well do without. Why get worried? Isn't it, in the long run, to society's interest to have these yeggs put one another out of the way?

On the surface, that looks reasonable But it isn't the whole story.

Every gangland killing simply entrenches the gangs more firmly in power. Every time one group of cut-throats machine guns a rival group, it merely convinces every member of the underworld that he and his kind are beyond the reach of organized society as represented by the police and the courts. Every underworld murder establishes the chiefs of gangland, more securely than before, as a law unto themselves.

For those reasons, it is impossible for society to derive any satisfaction out of this string of murders.

These killings are nothing but the gangsters' way of making sure that they can continue to prey on society unmolested. There is a new recruit to take the place of every hoodlum that gets bumped off. When we try to tell ourselves that we needn't be alarmed because one more beer-runner has been shot to death we are just kidding ourselves—in a very dangerous way.

Misplaced Confidence

SURELY, no one will be so hard hearted as to refuse sympathy to the Pennsylvania beer truck driver whose faith in human nature, or something, got him arrested in Bellwood, Pa., the other day.

This man parked his truck and wanted to take a nap. Spotting a casual passerby, he hailed him and said:

"I've got 20 cases of beer in that truck. You can help yourself if you watch it while I take a nap."

The stranger agreed and the truck driver went to sleep. When he awoke he was under arrest, his truck and beer were confiscated. The casual stranger had happened to be the local chief of police.

Discard

It seemed so strange to see you once again
And talk of silly things and take my leave.
Indifference was not so hard to feign,
For once, my heart was not upon my sleeve.

You dropped a hint about the newest lad,
You let me know that I was quite passe;
To tell the truth, my dear, I felt real glad
When you allowed me to pursue my way.

I drank my fill of you as you talked on,
It struck me that your dress was rather drab.
That little simper you rely upon
I fear would shortly turn me to a crab.

Oh, well, our whole affair was just a waste—
Thank God that time develops better taste!

Love Is a Terrible Thing

There probably isn't a more interesting cynic than Dorothy Parker, whose poems you've enjoyed. And she is the victim of most anecdotes dealing with sceptics. This one best describes her point of view. And her bitterness.

The so-called modern parents of a three-year-old girl decided to throw a cocktail party in the child's honor. The local literati, including Miss Parker, were invited. When the poet entered the apartment she played with the cute baby and helped the darling erect a tall building of blocks.

An hour or so later, when the cocktails aroused Miss Parker's cynicism, she went over to the child and with one kick shattered the tot's neatly fashioned tower.

"There, now, you happy little thing!" said Dot bitterly before she wept furiously, "that gives you a rough idea how the world goes!"

Hehehch

J. C. Flippen of the vaudeville bills was among those at the racetrack Saturday. He was groaning about his luck. "Yes, indeedy," he yes-indeeded, "I bet on a horse!"

"How did it finish?" he was asked.

"I don't know," he replied. "There's a reward for it."

Gag

Take it from Al Jolson: A 16-year-old flapper was held for murdering her lover. When the police notified her mother (who had been tilting with her husband for months), the mother nonchalantly ankled into his bedroom and sarcastically said: "Well, I have some good news for you about your precious daughter. She's murdered a man!"

"That's fine," was the old boy's retort between yawns. "The next thing you know—she'll be smoking cigarettes."

By Way of Report

Among other things we never knew till now is that there's a sacred Siamese pachyderm (ellyphahnt, as Chevalier would dialect it), in this country. They are usually called "white elephants."

This one is tagged Rosie, and the legend goes that Rosie won't permit you to remain on her back if you haven't led a moral life. She rocks them right off. Rosie's p'tickler like that. If half of the Rosies on B'way were only like her.

However, what we started out to report was that among others Rosie wouldn't take for a ride was Alexander Pantages, and look where he is.

Pardon Her Lorgnette

She was once a Ziegfeld girl and she married and divorced a musician in a well-known orchestra twice. Her name appeared among other news items here recently and she was irked, no end. In a Broadway night club the other sunup she was buried under a mess of orchids and resembled a well-kept grave, but she complained about her name appearing here anyway.

"Why do you write about me?" she cooed. "I've given up the stage and am no longer a part of Broadway. I'm on Park Ave. now and such things annoy me."

Reporters, she was told, never break the news until people make the news.

"Well," she replied, stiffly, "please don't mention me any more. The sort of people I mix with now might misunderstand."

The following night she was saturated with laughing soup at the Central Park Casino and she unfolded a mess of profanuage.

"Please," called out the same reporter from a nearby table, "try and remember that there are gentlemen present?"

Her escort apologized to his other guests for her and revived a favorite paraphase, to-wit: "You can take the girl out of the Follies, but you can't take the follies out of the girl."

Short Story

"She was a good girl," remarked Frances Williams, "and as good girls go—she went!"

Things That Tickle Me Pink

George Washington University has gone to great length to crow over its Glee Club's winning of the intercollegiate Glee Club Sing, which was held here last month.

But what the collitch will dislike very much is seeing this fact recorded in printer's ink. The university would not finance the glee boys for their trip to New York to compete. The club members, it appears, managed to scrape enough coin and contributed it, with the lads stinting themselves to make each coin count.

Then, to the joy of the student body, and the mortification of the administration, they won!

It's little things like that that make long paragraphs like these.

Show Business

It is a strange profession, show business. Take the case of the two girls who came from the Coast ten years ago and crashed the Broadway heavens with their song and dance act. The singer, however, wasn't as lucky as her dancing partner, who was deluged with show offers. She quit the partner to be a feature in a revue. Her success continued for a long while, but temperament and clashes with producers finally blew her down.

The singer-partner recently got a break and became a vaudeville headliner. The singer sent out a call to the casting agencies, asking for a dancer to fill in while she made wardrobe changes.

Her former partner was among those offered—salary no object!

"SHEILA"

Love and Mystery Humor and Tragedy

A Story of Wichita Falls
By GORDON TURNER

"Friends are friends and business is business," remarked Menton laconically.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Frank Sheridan, wealthy young lawyer, whose hobby is solving crime mysteries, is called in by his friend, Joseph Hedley, assistant prosecuting attorney, to find a burglar who has robbed a safe in the home of William Oliver Wilber. Hedley is engaged to marry Wilber's daughter, Sheila, whose cousin, Andrew Masters, is a frequent visitor at the Wilber home. A diary of Wilber's wife now dead, was stolen from the safe. The diary holds a secret of Sheila's birth. Sheridan inserts a $500 reward want ad in The Record News for its return. Wilber sees another Record News want ad, seeking the whereabouts of a girl secretly adopted 22 years earlier. He reveals to Sheridan that Sheila is being sought by her real mother, of whom Sheila knows nothing. And Masters wants to marry Edna Rogers, Sheila's chum, but is entangled in a love affair with Mercedes Riverton, a stenographer employed by his friend, Homer Menton, a criminal lawyer. Following an accidental encounter with Sheila, Mercedes tells her Andy has made her a proposal of marriage. Mercy accompanies Andy to his bachelor home after an auto ride. Andy succumbs to drink and is put to bed by Ike Sellers, his valet. Mercy, who has quarreled with her family, spends the night on a couch in the living room. Andy, sober, does not remember his proposal to Mercy and repudiates it. Mercy submits, temporarily, and Andy helps her find a one-room apartment on Eleventh street, where she tricks him by giving the janitor to understand she is Andy's wife.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIII

Under the will of Andy Masters' mother, Andy's uncle Sheila's father, had been his ghardian and trustee of the estate until Andy reached legal age. Wilbur had ruled the youth with an iron hand, putting him on a modest allowance and making him account for every expenditure. Andy, spoiled by his indulgent mother, chafed under these restrictions and resented hotly the unaccustomed discipline.

At boarding school and college, he always exceeded his allowance, and there were many painful interviews with his guardian when the bills came due. College did not hold Andy long. Studious application was foreign to his nature. The crash came in his sophomore year when continuous cutting of classes, combined with a riotous episode in the dormitories, led to notification that his presence at that seat of learning no longer was desired.

Following his dismissal, Andy had made his home with the Wilbers. Sheila mothered him and acted as a shield between him and her father whose patience had reached the breaking point. Wilber, at Sheila's instigation, made a place for Andy in his office, but Andy, knowing he soon would have the spending of an ample income, could see no virtue in work.

When his 21st birthday arrived and his property was transferred to him without restrictions, he cut loose. He took the Seymour road house, acquired Ike Sellers as a valet, and embarked upon what he called the "life of a gentleman." His conception of such a "life" was unhampered gratification of his desires. He ran with a group of new "friends" who had no hesitation in helping him spend his money. Soon he was exceeding his income and debts piled up.

Andy's income was derived from stocks and bonds and several parcels of real estate. The real estate, once had been valuable, but since its purchase during his father's lifetime, it had been engulfed in a tide of low-standard population. It had depreciated steadily, and rentals had decreased proportionately. This had cut more and more into Andy's income, and little by little, as his expenditures increased, he had dipped into his capital.

He visioned a new source of wealth in stock market speculation. He tried it, and for a time Lady Luck smiled upon him. Lately, however, luck had turned against him. He plunged deeper and deeper. His real estate was heavily mortgaged, and the best of his securities had been put up with his brokers to protect their loans on his margined speculations. And now a "bear" raid on the stock market had brought a crisis in Andy's financial affairs.

It was a blue Monday for Andy. Seated at a desk in the living room, he frowned as he consulted the stubs in his checkbood. He picked up an envelope, carring in the corner the business address of a brokerage firm, eyed it speculatively for a moment and then ripped it open with reluctant fingers. He spread the enclosure out before him.

"Ike," he said, "where in hell can I raise $2,000?"

"I don't know, I'm sure, sir," replied that factotum, "but that puts me in mind, sir, I'd like to have a little money. We owe over $200 to Mr. Schmelhorn, the bootlegger, and he says he won't deliver any more till he's paid and the landlord says he'll have to serve notice if he doesn't get a check this week. There are a lot of other little bills, sir, that ought to be paid. Some of them are getting a bit ugly."

"Et tu, Brute!" exclaimed Andy, spreading his hands hopelessly. "Here!" he drew a roll of currency from his pocket, stripped off several bills and tossed them to Ike, "bribe a few of them to lay low for a while. 'Phone for the car. I'm going out to see if I can't raise the wind. If I can't, Ikey, my love, you'll soon be out of a soft job."

A half hour later, when Andy walked into the outer office of Homer Menton's suite in the First National Bank Building, he was greeted effusively and affectionately by Mercy Riverton.

"How nice of you to come to see me," she cooed. "And, oh, Andy, that's a perfect duck of a room you found for me yesterday. After you left me, I took a taxi and went out home for my clothes. I didn't send because I didn't want to give my address. They made a lively scene and asked a lot of nasty questions, but they didn't get very far with that stuff. I quit 'em cold."

"Uh, huh," replied Andy absently. "Homer in?"

"Mr. Menton is engaged," said Mercy in her best office manner. "He's been shut up there for over an hour with one of his roughneck clients. What d'you want with Homer?"

"Business," he answered shortly.

"Well, it'll have to wait. Anyway, I want to talk to you. What d'you say if we have a housewarming party in the new apartment. I'll ask Homer and that manicurist he's been flirting with and the rest of our gang and we'll make whoopee. You can bring Ike over to help with the drinks. Let's make it Saturday night."

Before Andy could answer, the door of Menton's consultation room opened, and a shifty-eyed man of uncertain age limped through the outer office, throwing a sharp glance at Andy as he disappeared in the corridor. Andy stepped into Menton's room and closed the door.

"Homer," he said without greeting, "I need money, a whole wad of it, and you've got to get it for me."

"Where's the gun?" Menton asked from his seat at a desk, "all enterprising bandits pull a gat when they stage a holdup."

"Don't try to be funny! I mean it. I'm down to my last red, and Wilkins & Werman are yelping for more margin on a block of Rapahana Oil I was fool enough to buy."

"How much do you need?"

"Well, these damn brokers say they'll sell me out if I don't come across with $2,000, and I need about $1,000 more to clear up a lot of bills and keep going."

"Oh, I see, just a little matter of $3,000, and you want little Homer to give it to you! Do I look like the custodian of the U. S. mint?" His eyes narrowed. "What security have you got for a loan of that size?"

"Security! Hell's bells! If I had any loose collateral, I'd borrow from a bank or put it up with the

This bureau does not give advice, but it gives free information on any subject. Often, to be accurately informed is to be beyond the need of advice, and information is always valuable, whereas advice may not be. In using this service be sure to write clearly, state your inquiry briefly, and enclose two-cent stamp for reply postage. Address The Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q. Is the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City a Catholic or Episcopal church?—F. E. H.

A. This is an Episcopal cathedral which was planned and started through the efforts of Bishop Henry Codman Potter.

Q. When were monograms first used?—G. E. L.

A. The Greeks are supposed to have been the first to use monograms. They are found on old Greek coins and rings. The Romans, however, made the more personal application to family names.

Q. I see that a Mme. Naidu is associated with Mahatma Gandhi. How is her name pronounced?—W. W.

A. The name of the great poet and feminist of India is pronounced Ni doo, long i, accent on first syllable.

Q. What is the incident of Flora MacDonald and Prince Charlie of Scotland?—C. B. N.

A. Flora MacDonald was a Scottish woman of the MacDonald clan, born 1720, died 1790. Like others of her clan she was a supporter of Prince Charles. After the battle of Colloden, 1746, in which the Scottish troops were defeated, Charles was obliged to flee and took refuge at Benbecula where Flora lived. She disguised the prince as a maid servant to herself and traveled on horseback and passed through many dangers, finally reaching the Island of Skye in safety from which the prince made his escape. Flora was tried and imprisoned for assisting him in his escape, but was finally released in 1747. In 1750 she married Allen MacDonald, a kinsman and came to America, 1774. She died in 1790 and the Flora MacDonald college was organized as a memorial in 1896.

Q. What writer was known as the Dickens of France?—K. L.

A. Alphonse Daudet has been called that.

Q. What does the Dutch word Boer mean?—A. R. G.

A. It means farmer or husbandman.

Q.—In throwing a baseball can a pitcher curve it to the right or left as he chooses? O. H.

A.—It is possible to throw a ball so it will curve either to the right or the left. A curved ball is made by a certain cut which the player gives to the throw. Each pitcher has an individual way of curving his balls.

Q.—What makes children bowlegged? H. S. C.

A.—This condition is due to allowing a child to walk too early or to rickets, or rarely, to muscular contraction before the child is put on his feet.

Q.—Is Maxim Gorky a real name or a pen name? J. H. G.

A.—Gorky is a pen name. The writer's real name is Aleksey Maksimovich Peshkov.

Q.—When was Texas first known as a republic? L. K. R.

A.—Texas won her independence from Mexico and became known as the Republic of Texas in 1836. In the years immediately following there were repeated invasions and massacres by the Mexicans, who never abandoned their claims to the Texas territory. They advanced three times as far as San Antonio, but in each case were repelled. Statehood was offered to Texas, but the question of annexation brought up the difficulties of the slave question which became the national issue of the Polk campaign. However he won the presidency by favoring the annexation of Texas. Before he took the oath of office, congress passed a joint resolution again offering statehood to Texas, which she accepted, and the territory became a part of the United States in 1845.

Q.—What is a blind advertisement? L. D.

A.—In most cases this variety of advertisement discloses neither the name of the firm advertising nor much of the nature of its business.

Q.—What was the date of the Wars of the Roses? L. K.

A.—The Wars of the Roses extended from 1455 to 1485.

Q.—Does a halo around the sun forecast rain? H. T.

A.—Since halos occur in high thin clouds of small ice crystals, and since such clouds occur on the forward side of a widespread storm or cyclone, it follows that rain or snow usually occurs within a day or two after a halo is seen.

Q.—When did General Robert E. Lee resign from the United States army?—W. H. W.

A.—His letter of resignation is dated Arlington, April 20, 1861.

A First Aid Booklet for The First Aid Kit

Experience has taught the universal lesson that a first aid kit or box should be in every home and in the baggage of every party that is traveling. It may not be used for months, or for years, but when the emergency arises the need of it is not to be over-estimated.

Many people, however, would not know what to do with a first aid kit, if they had it. For this reason, perhaps the most valuable thing in a first aid kit is a copy of the First Aid booklet which The Record News information bureau, will send to any address for a nominal cost and handling charge of six cents. It tells what to do and how to do it in all cases of accident or sudden illness.

Be prepared against mishaps at home or on your vacation by securing a copy today.

SOIL EXPERTS' MEET SLATED

Agricultural Scientists to Gather in Stillwater

STILLWATER, Okla., June 10. (UP)—Scientists and agricultural specialists from Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Texas and New Mexico and Oklahoma will attend the second Southwest conference on soil fertility and soil moisture conservation at Oklahoma A. & M. college, June 19 and 20.

C. P. Blackwell, dean of the college's agricultural school, will be chairman of the conference.

Special consideration will be given to the prevention of soil erosion, checking run-off of surplus water and conserving fertility and moisture by encouraging growth of trees and other plants.

Representatives from colleges and experiment stations from six states will report on results obtained in their states. Specialists from the United States department of agriculture also will report.

Included in the speaker's list are: O. B. Martin, extension director, College Station, Texas, Blackwell; A. B. Conner, experiment station director, Texas A. & M. college; M. F. Miller, assistant dean of the school of agriculture, university of Missouri; Dean E. J. Kyle, Texas A. & M. college; Dean C. T. Dowell, Louisiana State university, and W. B. Mercier, extension director of Louisiana.

DINING-CAR CHEF DELIGHTS PATRONS WITH BERRY OMELET

Features This Colorful Dish on Both Breakfast and Luncheon Menus

A chef on one of the well-known western trains added a new note to his menus by offering a raspberry omelet. The fresh berries, sprinkled with powdered sugar, were placed on the surface of the omelet just before it was folded. Additional raspberries were also used as a garnish. The dish was most inviting and virtually a balanced meal in itself.

Strawberries, peaches, apricots, pineapple and stewed cranberries make equally delectable omelets. Fresh or canned fruit, or jelly may be used. When you use canned fruits, heat them before adding to the omelet. Then, when you turn the omelet on to the serving dish, sprinkle it, as well as the hot fruit garnish, with powdered sugar.

Fruit—fresh, canned or dried—belongs in the diet and plays an important part in promoting health. In making fruit pleasing to the taste, sugar should be added. Often fruit is rejected because it is too tart for the average taste.

Vegetables, as well as fruit, are made more appetizing by using sugar as a seasoning. A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is a good rule to follow. Cooks who season vegetables thus report an increased desire for these foods which are rich in vitamins, minerals and roughage. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.

Federalization of Dallas-El Paso Route Sought in Meeting Thursday

Special to The Record News.

LAMESA, Texas, June 10.—The program for the Dal-Paso Caverns Highway association convention at Carlsbad, N. M., has been announced this week by William A. Wilson, secretary of the body.

The meeting, which will begin promptly at 10 o'clock on June 12, will get uder way with the appointmen of committees by President O. P. Thrane of Snyder. Representatives of each county through which the highway passes will make a report on the progress of the route in their territory. These reports will be followed by an address by Judge Carl Rountree of Lamesa, representative to the state legislature from this district, on "The History and Progress of the Dal-Paso Caverns Highway."

R. A. Thompson, consulting engineer for the Dallas Chamber of Commerce highway department, will be the main speaker during the one-day meet, according to Wilson. His subject will be "Highway Construction."

Victor L. Minter, secretary of the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce, will discuss federalization of the highway, according to the program, followed by an address on financing the organization by President Thrane.

The meeting will close with reports on committees and election of new officers for the organization.

Letters of welcome to delegates have already been mailed during the last two weeks by officers and directors of the body and the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce officials.

According to letters to Wilson, Snyder and Breckenridge will send motorcades to the meeting.

She's Getting Thinner Every Day

Her Fat Is Melting Fast Away

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast. Cut out excessive eating—exercise regularly.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat." Don't miss a morning.

The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts is carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

Get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts at Allison Drug store or any drug store (lasts 4 weeks) with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

brokers. What I'm asking is a friendly loan. What's security between friends?"

"Friends are friends and business is business," remarked Menton laconically. "You didn't see an 'Associated Charities' sign on the door when you came in, did you? What if Rapahana Oil took another dive to the cellar—where'd I be?"

"Well, I've got a bunch of shares in the Wilber Electric company, Andy admitted. "They're not listed on the exchange and the brokers won't take them, but they're paying good dividends. I hate to put them up though, because I don't want Uncle Bill to get hep."

"Um, they might do," said Menton reflectively tapping the desk with the tip of a pencil. "Yes, I think they will do very well—under the circumstances," he added cryptically.

"You'll do it!" Andy exclaimed eagerly, rising quickly from his chair. "I'll run over to the City National and get the stock from my safe and deposit box."

"Sit down," ordered Menton, "let that wait a bit. I'll let you have the money on the stock, but I think I see a way to fix it so you won't lose the stock even if Rapahana Oil hits the bottom."

He reached into a desk drawer and drew out a small red-leather-back book and laid it on the desk beside a tiny newspaper clipping. He handed the clipping to Andy.

"Ever see that before?" he asked.

"Wh-y, yes," Andy answered, his eyes opening wide. "that's the ad Uncle Bill put in The Record News offering a reward for the recovery of some document stolen from his laboratory safe. Sheila told me about it; she thinks it has something to do with that fool invention the old man is fiddling with."

"Yes, that's the ad and here's the 'document.'" Menton patted the little red book. "It hasn't anything to do with any invention, but if we work it right, it will mean a fortune for both of us!"

Quick Pile Relief

No Salves or Cutting

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds, because it removes this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID tablets as sold by druggists everywhere, have such a wonderful record for quick and lasting relief, that Allison Drug store always sells them with guarantee of money-back if they do not end all Pile suffering.—Adv.

How To Reduce Varicose Veins

Rub Gently Upward and Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first-class drug store and apply it night and morning as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil is a harmless, yet most powerful germicide and two ounces last a very long time. Indeed, so powerful is Emerald Oil that old chronic sores and ulcers are often entirely healed and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Allison Drug store and all druggists tell lots of it.—Adv.

THE PIKE'S PEAK TEST PROVES

IF YOU'RE BOTHERED BY CARBON, CONOCO IS THE OIL FOR YOU!

Dear to the heart of every motorist is the way his car performs under heavy "pulls" .... and nothing contributes more to a sweet running motor than absence of carbon troubles. Now, at last, there is a motor oil which is truly outstanding in its extremely low carbon-forming tendencies. As indicated by the chemists' reports following the recent Pike's Peak Tests, CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil is that oil.

For after each trial run on each of the oils, motors were torn down, the condition of the motors inspected, and the carbon carefully scraped off and saved. Observations were made as to the hardness and tenacity with which the various carbon formations clung to the metal.

CONOCO'S superiority in this regard was proven, in that the carbon formed by Germ-Processed oil was noticeably less by volume and by weight.

You may say, "What do these tests mean to me? I never drive in the mountains."

Here is the answer. In the Pike's Peak tests, every conceivable operating condition was intensified. Because of constant climb, frequent gear-shifting, motor racing, rapid temperature changes, radical barometric fluctuations, and high-speed dashes on the valley roads, nearly every motoring experience was met.

The results of these Pike's Peak Tests, arrived at by the compilation of more than ten-thousand observations, surely appeal to your judgment of motor oil merit. Surely these become good and sufficient reasons why you should become a new user of CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil... at the Sign of the CONOCO Red Triangle.

Bronchitis

After having passed through the season when colds are plentiful, there is bound to be an increase in the number of those who are affected with bronchitis. With most people, this disease is not severe, but it is uncomfortable and prevents proper relaxation because of the coughing and raising of mucus.

Children and very old people are apt to suffer most. Chronic bronchitis is nearly always preceded by a cold or by an attack of acute bronchitis. The acute attacks are usually over within two weeks. However, the tendency is for chronic bronchitis to remain in a mild form.

The acute attack usually begins with a cold in the head. The irritation extends to the throat so that the patient is hoarse. There may be some fever and loss of appetite and pains in the muscles. The inflammation spreads from the larnyx down into the bronchi, which are the two large forked tubes conveying the air to the lungs. The case is true bronchitis when these large bronchial tubes have become inflamed and their mucus membrane becomes swollen, irritated and actively engaged in throwing off discharges of mucus and pus material.

The patient begins to recover when the cough loosens and brings up the mucus and muco-purulent material. Chronic bronchitis usually brings about a thickening of the bronchial tubes and is therefore more difficult to cure than the acute bronchitis, although both diseases will usually yield to very simple measures.

It is usually a good plan to begin the treatment with a two weeks' fast on orange juice, using a glassful of juice every two hours during the day, and one or two enemas daily. This assists in cleansing the blood stream so that less irritating material is discharged through the bronchial tubes. Other eliminative treatments, such as shower baths and skin friction rubs are helpful, and it is a good plan to use hot applications over the chest and back. The deep therapy lamp is very useful for this purpose, as it brings about a greater flow of blood through the lungs and bronchial tubes.

After the fast the diet must be very carefully regulated so that the amount of acid-forming foods is held to a minimum. The best results are achieved if the starches and sugars are used sparingly or not at all for a time. The foods which leave an alkaline ash should predominate in the after diet so that the alkalinity of the blood stream will be increased. By persisting on this diet for as long as necessary the patient may be sure of freeing himself from the excretion of catarrhal mucus through the bronchial tubes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mental Poisoning

Question—J. D. asks: "Is there such a thing as "mental poison"? There is an old saying that "Worry will kill." Will you explain the process from the brain to the nervous system?"

Answer—Distressing thoughts will no doubt create poisons in the body. This is probably because of the effect upon the ductless glands, which control so many of the bodily functions. It has been found difficult to extract and examine such poisons, but most physicians consider that they exist and that it is possible to produce these poisons by mental means.

Stimulating Foods

Question—J. G. F. asks: "Why is it that I do not feel strengthened or energized after a meal which does not contain starchy food? I am much underweight."

Answer—All carbohydrates including both sugars and starches may be said to be stimulating foods. When you first give up the use of such foods you may notice this lack of stimulation, but such apparent weakness will soon disappear if you will use a properly balanced diet containing sufficient proteins. Carnivorous animals seem to have plenty of energy and never use starches or sugars. It is possible for your weight to become normal without carbohydrates, but there may not be any serious objection to you using some if you will learn how to combine them properly with other foods.

Warts

Question—L. L. writes: "I would appreciate it very much if you would tell me how to get rid of warts on the hands."

Answer—Your druggist can give you some preparation by which you can apply to the warts, or you can have them removed by the electric needle.

Young Mother Denied Possession of Her Child

ST. LOUIS, June 10. (UP)—In the "interests of public policy," a juvenile court judge today denied a young mother the child she gave birth to three years ago and left in an orphanage.

Judge Harry Rosskopf had been forced to assume the Solomon-like role because of the court fight of Mrs. Beulah Gulley Scott to regain her 3-year-old son, Donald, adopted soon after birth by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stobaugh of Decatur, Ill.

The judge said "How can we be unmindful of the effect on hundreds of other adoptions of illegitimate children were they to be set aside.

Customs Agents Seize Shipment of Sardines

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—Customs today were in possession of 5,000 cases of Norwegian sardines, seized in a department of justice procedure against what the government charges is a conspiracy in restraint of trade among Norwegian packers.

The sardines were seized in the warehouse of Ohr. Bjelland & Co., Inc., importers, which is accused of being a party to an agreement entered into by packers of Norwegian sardines to fix prices and regulate the business in the United States.

Two Named in Liquor Conspiracy Charges

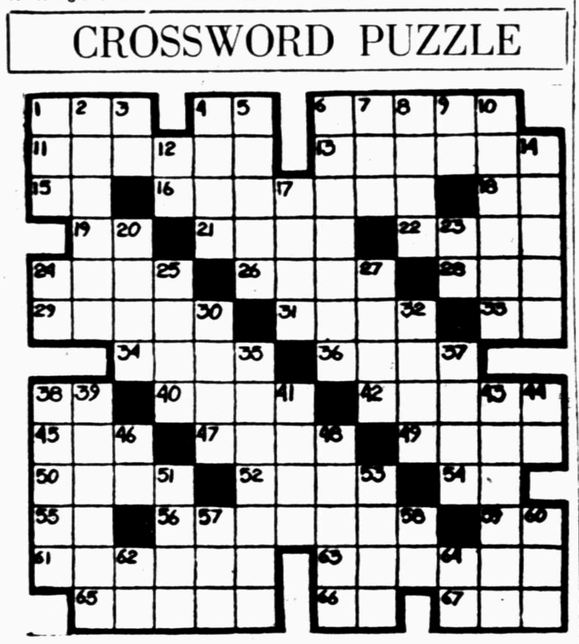

DALLAS, June 10. (AP)—The first of the promised conspiracy cases resulting from the wholesale raid conducted by federal officers here 10 days ago came to light today when it was announced that Vick Classi and Billie York had been arraigned on a charge of conspiracy.

Classi was released under $2,500 bail and York was out on $2,000 bond. Their bonds exceeded the bonds set for the 32 others charged as a result of the drive. Classi and York were arrested yesterday.

Variations on a Mournful Ditty
Opus No. 1

I used to write this col. with speed
But now I peck and scold.
Like Mr. Roughly Speaking Gould,
I guess I'm getting old.

In other years I'd coin a pun
Or write a dab o' verse,
But now I honestly admit
My stuff gets worse and worse.

Great tears I spatter o'er this sheet
As I make this confession,
Because I want to be a scribe
In fact it's my obsession.

I think one reason for my flop
Is that my heart is colder.
After each date, in other years,
I found rouge on my shoulder.

But now, alas, I'm cleaned and pressed
And spick and span and dapper
Even after I've been to see
The most alluring flapper.

No more do I feel the aches and pains
That Cupid brings the young,
No more do I rant and wish to see
My rival quartered and hung.

No more do I weep for Genevieve
Nor for sweet Ella yearn,
Like Mr. Roughly Speaking Gould
I do not give a dern.

No more do I blink at my lady's glance
And forthwith write a sonnet.
Such things don't put me in a trance
Like once they did, doggone it.

And I simply cannot write a thing
About my lady's dimple.
I once could do it, yard by yard,
But now the thing's too simple.

And so I fear I'm playing out,
Such things just leave me cold.
Like Mr. Roughly Speaking Gould,
I guess I'm getting old.

Sports writers find it part of their job, of course, to moan for and laud their teams, and even go so far as to alibi for their clubs when other writers in the state attack what they think are poor policies of club management. For instance, sports writers all over the state condemned the Steers' efforts to get a winning team by firing Eddie Brown and some other players who in the eyes of all were just as good as could be found. But George White, the Dallas News sports scribe, rejoined by pointing out that in the first game between the Steers and the Buffs, which the Steers won, Brown, who had signed with the Buffs after his release, made a terrific boot in the outfield. That, said George, answered the attack of the sports scribes. That, said George, was why the Steers fired Brown.

The truth of the matter was that George profited by a slip of chance. Every outfielder now and then is bound to make an error. It just so happened that a few hours after Brown got his papers he made an error on the Houston team. But George made the most of that error. Brown is a peach of a hitter, one of the best in the league. It is our sincere hope now that he makes a star outfielder for the Buffs, just to get sweet revenge on the Dallas club.

A player yet scarcely known in Wichita Falls is Charlie Geygan, our Spudders' new utility infielder. There has been little said about him, and, indeed, so far there has been nothing much to say. He has not participated in a single game as yet, because he has not been needed. But he has worked out with the boys every day before the games, and he looks like a peach at second, third or short. He is all over the infield, and customers of the Williamsmen may rest assured that if ever one of our infield regulars is forced from the game, his place will be well handled by Charlie. Charlie is a chunky fellow, but plenty tall, and has lots of speed. His throw from third to first seems to require little effort. And he plays like a winning ball player. In fact, he fits right in with the winning atmosphere which has come to characterize our glorious quartet of shortfield artists, than whom there isn't any on the face of the earth better, and may they continue so, world without end, amen.

P. B. M. Goes in Lead With Win Over Macks

Staging a seven-run rally in the fourth inning off the slants of Rube Smith, the P. B. M. baseball team took over the undisputed leadership in the Merchants league Tuesday afternoon on Wilson field with a 12 to 5 victory over McClurkans. The game was a comedy of errors and base hits. No less than 14 errors were made during the contest. Keith, Thurman and Costley led the batting attack for the winners with two hits each, Keith getting both of his hits in the big fourth inning. Meyers stood alone in the hitting honors for the losers with two bingles and a walk, one bingle going for a triple. Keith received credit for the victory. Score:

LA BOULIE, France, June 6. (AP)—George Von Elm, of Detroit, former amateur golf champion of the United States and holder of many titles during his brilliant career, today added the French amateur crown to his collection. He defeated R. G. Morrison of England, nine up and eight to play in the 36-hole final.

SPUDDERS WIN SECOND, 4 TO 2

Vincent Checks Redskins After White Weakens

By FRED D. THOMPSON

The San Antonio Indians pounded base hits and extra base hits all over Athletic park Tuesday afternoon—in fact they banged out 16 well-swatted safe blows—but somehow they only scored two runs. Not that the Spudders did much better. The Williamsmen connected for only seven hits, and those were allowed by George Darrow at rare intervals. But luck was with the Spudders, and after they tied the score at two-all in the seventh inning, and after the ninth and the first half of the tenth had gone scoreless for both sides, Howard Fitzgerald sailed out to center for a double and Jack Kloza banged out a home run over the left field fence, scoring two runs and enabling the league-leading Spudders to finally defeat George Burns' Indians, 4 to 2.

The victory squared the series with the Indians, and the third and deciding game of the trio will be played today starting at 4 p. m.

Gain Whole Game

While the neck and neck chase was going on at the foot of Seventh street, the Fort Worth Cats were mauling the second-place Buffs in the Panther city, and the result of Houston's loss and the Spudders' victory was to put the latter six and one-half games in the lead, an increase of one full game over their standing of Monday.

It was Fred Vincent's ball game Tuesday afternoon. Lester White started, but the Tribesmen knocked his offerings high, wide and handsome for five innings and Vincent came to the box in the sixth with the score 2 to 1 in favor of the visitors. Fred pitched remarkable ball in the last five go-rounds, holding the Injuns scoreless and allowing but four hits. Two of these came in the tenth inning, when with one out Kott and Laveque got on base with singles. But then Vincent tightened up where most pitchers would have wobbled, and struck out the next two men up.

That was the decisive moment of the game. Fitzgerald then came to bat and got his double, his only hit of the game, and Kloza knocked the first ball pitched to him out of the park.

Others Scored Early

The Spudders got their earlier runs in the fifth and seventh. In the fifth Bettencourt reached first when Hamilton threw low to first. Crouch fouled out to the catcher. Euller singled to left, advancing Bettencourt to second. Bradbury, batting for White, singled to right, advancing Bettencourt to third and Euller to second. Levey flied out to left and Bettencourt scored after the catch. Storti grounded down the third base line and Euller was forced out, Kott unassisted, to close the inning.

In the seventh, Bettencourt walked. Crouch fanned. Euller walked and Bettencourt took second. Vincent singled to center, Bettencourt taking third and Euller second to load the bases. Darrow was having his nearest approach to "blowing up" and he walked Storti, forcing Bettencourt home. Fitzgerald grounded out to first unassisted to close the inning.

The Last Time

They tallied again in the fifth, in which Schinkel opened with a single to center. J. Moore singled to right and Schinkel went to third. Riley popped out to Levey. Dondero flied out to Kloza and Schinkel scored after the catch. Kott singled to right but Laveque grounded out, White to Burns, to close the period.

Dallas Vet Loses In Net Tourney

DALLAS, June 10. (AP)—James Challis, a determined San Antonio youth, supplied the only thing approaching an upset in the second round of the Dallas district tennis tournament when he eliminated Witcher Settle, Dallas veteran, 4-6, 9-7, 6-4.

The other 15 survivors of two days' play came through as advertised, including the favorite, Bruce Barnes of Texas university, and Jimmy Quick, Dallas, considered his most dangerous rival for state honors.

Challis' victory over Settle was doubly surprising in that the Alamo city youngster only a few hours before had been eliminated from the junior division by Jack Smith of Fort Worth in a hard fought three setter, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4. At one point in the Settle-Challis match the veteran Settle was within two points of victory.

Leslie Coleman of Houston, another ranking star, had a narrow escape against the same Jack Smith who trimmed Challis. Smith won the first set, 10-8, but Coleman called upon his superior experience to pull out a victory in the next two, 6-1, 6-3.

Ruth Taylor of Texas university, defending champion in the women's division, overwhelmed Betty Pace Meddis of San Antonio, 6-0, 6-0, in her opening match.

70,000 AWAIT CLANG OF BELL

Schmeling's Manager Has Yet to Get License

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 10.—The fistic king of the old world and the heavyweight monarch of the new—young and eager Max Schmeling and the older, more prosaic Jack Sharkey—sat down tonight to rest and worry off poundage until a crowd of 70,000 calls them into the Yankee stadium ring Thursday night to battle for the world's championship.

Tomorrow the gladiators and the hordes that surround all fistic headliners will move into town. Special trains from the Mid-west, North, South and East are bearing vociferous burdens into the fistic stockades. Hotels are filling and famous rendezvous of the town are playing to standing room.

Huge Gate Predicted

So vigorous has been the demand for tickets that predictions of a $750,000 gross gate were freely made and accepted today despite inclement weather. The weather forecasts indicate, however, that all will be bright and cheerful Thursday, the only day that really matters. The match seems to have caught the fancy of the faithful and the greatest outpouring since Jack Dempsey and Jack Sharkey battled before a $1,083,000 crowd here in 1927 is a surety. In case of rain the show will be put on Friday night.

Only one worry is left to the Schmeling camp. The New York state athletic commission has yet to grant Joe Jacobs, his manager, a license to second his man. The commission meets tomorrow for the last time before the fight and is expected to honor Jacobs with a temporary vise.

Schmeling's chances to win for Europe its first modern heavyweight championship are regarded with more and more favor though Sharkey rules the betting choice. The German is perfectly conditioned for a long, hard struggle. The only question regarding him seems to be his ability to take punishment. In winning five fights here, Max never has been called upon to fight his way out of a fog and on to victory.

The Teuton's style is prefectly designed to bother Sharkey. Rushing, punching warriors always have harassed the Boston sailor. He was knocked out by Jack Dempsey and was charged out of a title shot at Gene Tunney by Johnny Risko and Tom Heeney. Although Sharkey should hit him at will with his smart left hand, Schmeling has traveled far under the slogan originated by Napoleon and modernized by Knute Rockne—the best defense is a good offense.

Sharkey Is Favorite

Those who insist on following form are standing stronger than ever at Sharkey's shoulders. To them the erratic New Englander's crack left hand, experience, craft and all-around ability make him a 9 to 5 favorite, always with the proviso that he must fight his best and keep from "blowing up."

Some slight measure of approval was taken from Sailor Jack's prospects by a story circulated today that win, lose or draw, Sharkey is fighting his last battle. There seems to be some substance to the idea that Jack has gathered himself a fortune, is solidly set socially and financially in Boston, and wants only the heavyweight crown to add to these attainments.

If he gathers it in Thursday night, he probably will have reached his final goal. If he fails, and he has missed his great opportunity twice before, he no longer is young enough to start all over again.

MAX CLOSES HIS TRAINING PERIOD

ENDICOTT, N. Y., June 10. (AP)—In a four-round glove workout that bristled with fast fighting and hard hitting Max Schmeling today closed his training for his heavyweight fight with Jack Sharkey in the Yankee stadium ring Thursday night.

The German ripped and slashed at Charlie Berlanger, the Canadian lightheavy, for two rounds and finished with Lou Barba over a like number of rounds.

SHARKEY LEAVES FOR BATTLEFRONT

ORANGEBURG, N. Y. June 10. (AP)—Jack Sharkey completed his training today with an impressive workout that included three rounds of boxing, four of shadow fighting and calisthenics.

Immediately after his final workout, Sharkey left Orangeburg in company with his wife for New York. He may decide to pound the bags for two or three rounds in a New York gymnasium tomorrow.

PANTHERS BEAT BUFFS, 7 TO 6

Cats Score Six Times in First Two Rounds

FORT WORTH, June 10. (AP)—The Fort Worth Panthers, scoring six runs in the first two rounds off Ray Lingrel, defeated Houston Tuesday, 7 to 6, in the third game of the series.

McCabe started for Fort Worth and though well hit in spots, went all the way. Joe Brown replaced Lingrel and did a much better job of hurling than the Buff starter. Score:

Army Athletic Charges Denied

WASHINGTON, June 10. (UP)—Maj. Gen. Hugh A. Drum today handed Secretary of War Hurley a synopsis of his report on West Point athletic conditions which Hurley said so far had not shown anything wrong at the military academy.

"If we find anything that isn't right," Hurley said, "we will correct it, but so far we haven't found anything wrong."

The secretary challenged statements of Rep. Fish, Republican, N. Y., criticising athletic conditions at West Point.

"The statements appearing in the press and purporting to be quotations from Mr. Fish are untrue," Hurley said.

He read from a newspaper report in which Fish was alleged to have said that 50 per cent of the military academy athletes were former college players and that there were subsidies of some sort in connection with West Point football players. The story also said football stars came to the academy merely for athletics and were permitted to resign immediately after graduation.

Hurley said that of the 12 football players who last attained stardom at West Point only two resigned before a minimum of four years' service in the army.

Red Sox Take Poorly Played Contest, 12-6

DETROIT, June 10. (AP)—In one of the poorest exhibitions offered by either team this season, the Boston Red Sox defeated the Tigers 12 to 6, today to split the series. Detroit used four pitchers, none of them proving effective, and the rampant Red Sox slugged out 17 hits. Six of them, combined with a muffed fly, netted five runs in the third. Herring was chased in that inning with none out. Score:

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—Cotton showed indications of an improved technical position following recent declines, but moderate advances on covering met some further realizing or liquidation and the price movement was irregular within a range of 15 to 20 points.

After selling up to 15.17 early, July broke to 14.96 but recovered part of the decline, closing at 15.10. The new October contract after advancing from 13.77 to 13.95 closed at 13.88. The general market closed steady. Net 5 points higher to 8 points lower with July relatively firm.

Closing quotations showed recoveries of about 6 to 10 points from the lowest, with July selling 122 points over the new October compared with 118 at the close of the previous day.

Trading was moderately active but the buying was attributed largely to covering and general business was supposed to be restricted pending further developments in connection with the formation of the stabilizing corporation in Washington. Reports of a better tone in the stock market probably helped to steady cotton. Liverpool cables said there had been liquidation absorbed by trading calling at the decline in the market.

Exports today 6,132, making 6,544,956 so far this season. Port receipts 7,980. U. S. port stocks 1,712,160.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 10. (AP)—The cotton market was comparatively quiet today and rather erratic. Cables were lower than due on active positions and that coupled with continued good weather caused an early decline of 3 to 8 points.

The market then rallied 16 to 17 points mainly on covering but near mid-session eased off again 14 to 22 points due mainly to lack of support. The market ruled steady in the late trading and gradually recovered the earlier loss rallying 17 points on July and 8 to 11 points on new crop months. The general market closed steady at net advances of 1 to 9 points.

Liverpool came in 4 points worse than due to 12 better but first trades here showed no change to 3 points decline. Prices eased off in early trading mainly on good weather inland. July trading down to 14.70, down 3 points while October dropped to 13.81 and December to 13.93, down 7 to 8 points. This decline attracted covering and some trade buying and July rallied to 14.87 and October to 13.97, up 16 to 17 points.

Prices later eased off again owing to lack of sustained support. July dropping to 14.65, down 22 points from the earlier high. October eased to 13.81 and December to 13.93, down 14 to 16 points. There was a gradual recovery on shorts covering during the period after mid-session, most of the earlier loss being regained. July closed at 14.82, up 9 points net. October at 13.92, up 3 points net and December at 14.01, up 1 point net.

Whole List Rallies Sharply as Large Scale Buying Halts Decline

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, June 10. (US)—Large-scale buying came into the stock market today and brought about a brisk recovery in the entire list. Industrial and Public Utility shares enjoyed the sharpest rallies while railroad stocks improved fractionally. Buying was for the account of banking and investment trust interests as well as for short covering. The latter undoubtedly contributed to the rather sharp advances scored in the last hour, during which many stocks regained 10 points or more of their recent losses. Genuine investment demand, however, appeared for various leading issues as further setbacks were suffered in early dealings when many stocks sank to new lows. The bear element continued in the first few hours to hammer at the leaders in the hope of inducing additional liquidation but while succeeding to a degree they encountered strong resistance from banking sources. It was evident that sentiment in banking circles had been measurably improved by overnight developments. Shorts apparently quickly discerned the character of the buying, for heavy covering took place in virtually all of the most active shares. Dealings for the day were again relatively heavy, with over 4,765,000 shares changing hands.

Most important buying came into the market on knowledge that various banking "situations" which had remained over from the panic have been virtually disposed of as threats to the market. It was learned that two particular situations which recently have figured much in the rumor-factory have, in the parlance of Wall street "been taken care of." This was the prime factor in the materially better sentiment evident in investment and speculative quarters which found especial reflection in strong support for Steel even though the stock reached a new low before rebounding sharply. This support fight appeared on Monday, as was disclosed here yesterday, and it extended into most of the other leading issues, such as American Can, United Corporation, Consolidated Gas, American Telephone and Telegraph, General Electric and others of similar merit.

Character of the support which developed was also noticeable in Electric Power and Light. The buying here was for the account of Electric Bond and Share interests, who regard Electric Power as the most favored issue in their portfolio. Consolidated Gas buying was attributed to United Corporation, which is anxious to enlarge its holdings of Gas. Specialties enjoyed the sharpest improvement, Case Threshing gaining 17 points, while Vanadium jumped 10, Houston Oil eight, Worthington Pump 12. The entire motion picture group, which had been a favorite sale for the bears, enjoyed brisk comeback, R. K. O. gaining 5, Warner 4, Fox 3, Paramount 3½, Loew 5. Heavy covering of short commitments took place in these stocks. Foster-Wheeler was an outstanding strong spot throughout the day, refusing to yield even a fraction at the height of selling and being in strong demand to close up seven points on the day. Banking buying again took place in the stock. Copper shares remained relatively firm and closed irregular, but the buying was reported for long-term accumulation which will not be disturbed by a further setback. The leading Rails failed to participate equally with the other groups in the improvement.

"Bad Bill" Danforth, supposedly the leader of the bear crowd which had been raiding the market, is understood to have assumed a friendly attitude toward the Oil stocks. Standard of New Jersey is his particular favorite and he is stated to have acquired a substantial block of the stock anticipating higher prices. Danforth, despite his reputation as an inveterate bear, often becomes the market sponsor for individual stocks. Earlier in the year he was largely responsible for the movements in Columbian Carbon and Worthington Pump. At the present time he is understood to have high regard for Corn Products Refining and Penick & Ford, the leading companies in the corn product industry.

Sentiment in banking circles was greatly relieved by the under-the-surface developments which have taken place the last day or two. The monthly Steel corporation report showing a further drop of 394,000 tons in unfilled orders had been more or less anticipated. Money continued freely supplied and indications were that the reparations financing, which has been a vital influence on market sentiment, would take place sooner than expected.

Commodity markets showed only moderate fluctuations and the foreign exchanges were firm.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, June 10. (AP)—Wheat sold lower on the cash grain market here today with the weight of new crop grain being felt both here and at the northern markets. Arrival of the first shipment at Kansas City was used as a hammer on the cash grain market. Demand was slow and despite a few sales the market was largely nominal at $1.08½@1.09½ for ordinary No. 1 hard milling delivered Texas common points.

Dealers are still urging delay in threshing wheat with the threat of heavy penalties on damp grain.

Good demand continued for sorghums and corn, oats and barley were fairly well taken.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 97@98c; No. 2 white $1.02@1.03; No. 2 yellow $1.00@1.01.

Oats—No. 2 red 53@54c.

Barley—No. 2 63@64c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $2.13@2.15; No. 2 kaffir $1.90@1.93.

Dealers also quoted as follows, basis delivered Texas group 1 points: No. 2 mixed corn 95@95½c; No. 2 white corn $1.00@1.01; No. 2 yellow corn 98@99c; No. 3 white oats 51@52c, to which add 1c for delivery group three.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 10. (AP)—Enlarged estimates of 1930 domestic winter wheat production, together with new wheat arriving at Kansas City, did much to pull wheat values down today. Unsettlement of the New York stock market counted further as a bearish influence, as did scantness of fresh export demand for wheat. Current advices said recent rains had increased the probable yield of new wheat in the Southwest as much as 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous ⅜@1⅛c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ¼@½c off, oats unchanged to 1c down, and provisions at 7@15c decline.

Contributing to the cautiousness shown today by purchasers of wheat was the fact a government crop report was due after the close, and that of late the figures from private crop experts and those from official sources have been less in accord than usual. The chief depressing influence during most of the day, however, was the temporary bearish action of the stock market, action which many wheat traders construed as largely the outcome of unpromising economic conditions. The result was to allow the wheat market at times to fall of its own weight, there being relatively little pressure to sell.

Something of a rally in wheat prices developed after early setbacks but general demand was indifferent, and such upturns as took place were ascribed to evening up accounts to prepare for any surprise in the government crop report. A little notice was taken though, of 8,224,000 bushels decrease which world stocks of wheat showed for the last week.

Corn and oats were swayed almost altogether by the action of wheat. Weather conditions over the corn belt were favorable for development of the new corn crop.

Provisions sympathized with downturns in the value of hogs.

Closing indemnities wheat July $1.04⅞, $1.07⅝@1.08; Sept. $1.07⅞@1.07⅞, $1.10⅛@1.10⅞. Dec. $1.12½@1.12⅝, $1.15⅛@1.15¼. Corn, July, 81½@82⅛c, Sept 81⅞@81⅝c, 82⅝@82⅞c. Dec. 75⅝@75½c, 76½c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, June 10. (US)—"Slightly bullish" was the verdict of traders on the government crop report inasmuch as it indicated a yield 12,000,000 bushels below the private estimates, although the figure was 7,000,000 bushes above a month ago. The total is 46,000,000 bushels less than harvested a year ago and 19,000,00 bushels below the five-year average.

Condition of spring wheat was also slightly bullish, being estimated at 85.7, compared with the average of 87.8 for the private estimates.

Most of the commission houses see little incentive toward aggressive activity in corn, feeling that the present situation indicates values holding to a narrow range for the near future.

Houses generally continue to advocate a trading attitude toward wheat, favoring purchases of the breaks for moderate turns.

No. 1 hard winter wheat F. O. B. gulf ports for nearby shipment is quoted at 5c over Chicago July and No. 2 hard up 3c over.

So far United States shipments of wheat have been only around 17,000,000 bushels less than a year ago, the big decline in North American clearances being due to the small shipment from Canada.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, June 10. (AP)—Cotton declined 1 to 3 points today. The market opened 5 to 8 points down on generally favorable weather over the belt, and unsatisfactory mill situations both in this country and abroad.

POOR SEASON HURTS COTTON

Farmers of Area Forced to Replant Crops

Farmers of Wichita county and surrounding counties are being compelled to replant a large portion of the acreage devoted to cotton for this year, according to information brought from rural districts.

This area presents the unusual condition of young cotton crops being exterminated both by lack of rain and a surplus of it, almost at the same time. Areas in which many fields of cotton had failed to obtain any considerable start because of insufficient moisture had others which had a good stand until struck recently by sudden torrential rains. Many hundreds of acres of cotton, well under way, were deluged by near-cloudbursts all the way from Wichita Falls to the West Texas plains, it was said.

The rain which fell Tuesday was admirably suited to the general needs of the farming district near this city, according to G. C. McGown, county farm demonstrator. It fell steadily, with almost no wind, and slowly enough to permit its absorption.

What's On The Air Today?

Wednesday night's broadcast from radio station KGKO will be featured by a 30-minute reproduction of "circus day" and a half-hour concert by the Bluebonnet quartet.

The circus day program, from 8:15 to 8:45 p. m., will feature the raucous tones of ballyhoo artists as well as the heavy brasses of many bands.

Solos by Mrs. W. L. Underwood, mezzo-soprano, will be included in the Bluebonnet's quartet program. She will sing one of her recent compositions, "If I Should Take From Out My Heart," the words for which were written by Rev. Patrick D. Moreland of Archer City, and "De Ole Ark's a-Moverin'," by David Guion of Dallas.

Zack Hurt, with song and guitar, will be heard from 7:45 to 8 o'clock Wednesday night.

The day's broadcast will be as follows:

7:30-8:30 a. m.—Lorene Tucker, piano; newscasting.
8:30-8:45 a. m.—Vocal program.
10:00-11:00 a. m.—Church of the air.

Negro 'Red' Convicted Of Hostility Charge

NEWARK, N. J., June 10. (AP)—Dozier W. Graham, a negro and Communist candidate for the United States senate, was convicted today of exhibiting hostility to the government.

Graham and seven others were arrested at local Communist headquarters last February on a charge of having shouted "fight the police" when officers broke up a Communist gathering.

Dominick Flainal, the first to be tried, was also convicted. He and Graham face a maximum of seven years imprisonment.

VET BILL FAVORED

WASHINGTON, June 10. (UP)—The house bill to liberalize compensation for disabled world war veterans was favorably reported today by the senate finance committee in a modified form.

Stroller Revue Opens New Bill Tonight

Entertainment announced for the latter half of the week, beginning Wednesday night, by the Stroller Revue at Lakeside park features a comedy farce entitled "Miss Two-Fifteen."

Providing the main portion of the open air show given twice each night in the big theater, "Miss Two-Fifteen," will depart from the revue type of performance with the use of a more coherent plot, building its situations largely upon raucous humor. The character setting will call for a suspicious wife, which means an errant husband; an alluring vampire, the not too scrupulous servant, and a chorus.

Musical extras will be furnished as usual by the Harmony Four male quartet with a new program of songs. Patronage of the numerous attractions at Lakeside park nightly by large crowds was reported by the management of the amusement center.

Lions Club Elects New Officers Today

Members of the Lions club will meet at the Kemp hotel Wednesday at noon when officers will be named from the following ballot: president, Frank Cripliver and Dr. W. P. Bolding; first vice president, Chester Baum and Dr. Gaines B. Hall; second vice president, Jim Lyle and L. V. Abernathy; third vice president, Paul Woodward and H. L. Ruehl; corresponding secretary, Cecil Metzger and L. O. Shudde; financial secretary, Walter Taylor; tail twister, D. B. Albritton and W. C. Krauss, and K. C. Spell, who withdrew from the financial secretary's race to enter the tail twister's race on an independent ticket; and lion tamer, Tom Vogue and Roy Mann.

Two directors will be named for two-year terms from the following: R. O. Kenley, Dr. W. B. Adams, Ralph Fidler, Dr. S. P. Crane, John P. Marrs and A. B. Maples.

After most of the town has seen heard and argued over Greta Garbo's performance in her first talkie, and after the picture is already gone, criticism is useless, from the standpoint of advising the public who choose their movies for themselves anyhow. But from the standpoint of comparing "Anna Christie" with past or future screen successes, it should be mentioned that the O'Neill play is reproduced faithfully and clearly enough to rank the screen version as approaching some of the best things done by Ruth Chatterton and George Arliss.

Not all the credit is due Greta Garbo, however, although her performance and voice are both creditable. The perfect characterization achieved by Marie Dressler and George Marion brings one of the most vivid waterfront picturizations possible, and the two veterans almost snitch the spotlight. Charles Bickford is a good Irishman, although handicapped by being featured with three of the screen's best and therefore suffering by comparison now and then.

The Garbo voice is a surprise in low, resonant quality, but not so unbelievable as the distinct, unaccented diction used. The fact that Mis Garbo gave up her career and went back to her native Sweden only a year ago because of the advent of the talkies indicates a remarkable bit of coaching in deaccenting her speech, and incidentally proves that both brains and beauty are given to some fortunate few persons.

A small group of Wichitans, selected as representative of various organizations and including nearly all the civic and business leaders of the city, were the guests of the Strand theater Monday night at a special pre-view of "Journey's End," scheduled to begin at the Strand next Friday for a week's run.

"Journey's End," written by R. C. Sherriff as an experiment in playwriting for amateur productions, was battered about in manuscript form in England for about 18 months before its record-breaking success on the stage on both sides of the Atlantic. Its conversion to the screen is a unique one, it is said, in that it violates all the rules of movie production, adhering strictly to the procedure followed in the stage presentation. Colin Clive, English actor who played in the original cast in London, is seen in the leading role in the screen version as well. The cast is entirely a masculine one.

'JOURNEY'S END' DRAWS PRAISE

Civic Leaders Here Guests At Strand Preview

By GORDON TURNER
The Record News Staff

Approximately 75 of Wichita Falls' leading ministers, lawyers, business men and their wives and friends were guests of the management of the Strand theater Monday night at a preview of the motion picture "Journey's End," a talking movie of the war, which is to be shown in this city beginning Friday.

The motion picture is based on the play by the same name which was written by R. C. Sherriff, an English officer in the World war. The play's striking portrayal of life in the trenches made it peculiarly adaptable to the screen, and the screen production has received the same praise that was accorded the stage play by critics of both England and America. The movie being regarded as one of the most dramatic to issue from the production houses of Hollywood, the management of the Strand extended the courtesy of the preview Monday night in order that Wichitans might be aware of the opening of the much-praised movie here Friday.

Opinions Given

The guests at the preview were asked for their written opinions of the show, and a glance at the manuscripts given A. M. Avery, manager of the Strand, spoke extremely well for the production.

The play, and hence the movie, is one of those remarkable productions in which the hero is hard to distinguish, each of two or three in the leading roles being a center of high interest. To judge from the title, Lieutenant Raleigh merits the distinction. The "journey" starts with the young soldier sliding through the communication trenches on his way to the front line. The journey ends with his death in a dugout on the battle-front. But between the two extremes comes the gist of the play. Here it is that Colin Clive, in the role of Captain Stanhope, captures the show. Stanhope is in love with the youthful Raleigh's sister, who is in England. Raleigh, by chance, is assigned to Captain Stanhope's company. It would seem the arrangement would please both. But the horrors of war had deranged Captain Stanhope's mind, and strong drink had proved his only escape from the sense of the nearness of death. Captain Stanhope feared news of his imagined degeneration would reach the girl he loved through Raleigh.

Original Cast

Around such a tense atmosphere the story is woven. It is not only a stark picture of what war can do to the physical man, but also a picture of the mental delusions that war causes. Captain Stanhope was obsessed with a feeling of inferiority, but the author of the play maneuvered these exhibitions of his supposed inferiority in such a way that through the whole story he cannot but be judged a most courageous soldier.

To tell more of the story would be an injustice, as those who have read the play would be bored, and those who have not would be cheated of the pleasure of seeing the thing for themselves. Suffice it to add that there are at least two other characters in the show who will be hard to forget, one of them, "Uncle" Osborn, the former schoolmaster who is second in command, who provides a strange philosophical atmosphere in the gruesome dugout; and the other, a rather stout Cockney gent who provides mirth and merriment through the play.

Persons who had read the book were impressed with the manner in which the movie has followed the original play. The plot, such as it is, is followed to a dot, they say, with the exception that a bit of action is interwoven therein. The main action added is a raid on the German trenches, which is described but not acted in the play. The raid, however, adds to the moving picture version a thrilling interlude.

The moving picture is acted by the original cast. Their English accent will prove hard to understand for the first few moments of the show, but as the thing goes on this difficulty wanes.

Irrigation Worker Takes 28-Pound Cat From Water Pipe

It doesn't even take a hook and line to get the big ones, if you know how it is done, says G. E. Gray, ditch rider for the irrigation district, who caught a 28-pound channel catfish in the outlet pipe at Lake Wichita Tuesday morning. Mr. Gray, who was investigating the cause for the decrease in the flow into the canal, reached into the outlet pipe and extracted the fish.

LADIES BAND PLANNED HERE

10 Signed Up for Musical Organization

Plans for the organization of a Wichita Falls Ladies band, and the enrollment of 10 members up to Monday, were announced by Paul Seeds, director of the Playground band which won class honors before the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Abilene recently.

Observation of the growth and development of the Fort Worth Ladies band, which was elected as official West Texas Chamber of Commerce band for the coming year, furnished the stimulus for inaugurating a similar organization here, according to Mr. Seeds. The Fort Worth group played in this city three years ago, before the annual convention of the West Texas chamber, having been organized but one year at that time. Winners in their one-year class, its members have continued successfully through subsequent contests to win major honors in the convention just recently closed.

Arrangements made by Mr. Seeds provide for one month of free lessons for ladies who buy instruments from the Wichita Music company, at which place enrollment for the new band is being made. Purchase of new instruments is not required for enrollment, however, it was pointed out. Ladies having instruments now, or securing them elsewhere, are invited to join the band now, Mr. Seeds said.
