Lump Contract Awarded To Victoria Firm

The Seury County Commissioners Court Monday afternoon awarded a lump contract including all the paving needed in the county at this time to Brannan Construction Company of Victoria, Brannan was the low bidder for the project with $67,741.22.

The court opened bids on the projects singly and as a lump contract. The projects include paving 25 miles of road in Precinct No. 1, 10 miles in Precinct No. 2, 12 miles in Precinct No. 4, the north and south runway at Winslow Airport and the prepping and base for four miles in Precinct No. 1.

The county judge was authorized to enter into an agreement with Mid-American Pipeline Company to allow their pipeline to cross certain (about 15) county roads subject to the inspection and approval by the commissioner of the precinct involved as to the depth and width of excavation in each case at the time of construction.

In other business the court voted to allow the county surveyor $50 per month for office space, to accept the bid of Sawyer Construction Co. bid on relaying the pipe for the Hermleigh water works under the widened U. S. Highway 84, subject to approval of the pipe used and the work completed, and voted to advertise for bids on a picnic pavilion with two tables that will accommodate 40 people in Towle Park.

Beatnik Pickets Parade At Arena

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Delegates to the Democratic convention didn't have to go to Hollywood. Hollywood came to them. Outside the Sports Arena Monday, there paraded five outlandish costumed people—obviously supposed to be beatniks. They carried signs exhorting: "Win with Matthew Harrison Brady of Wapping Water, Neb."

By an astonishing coincidence, Matthew Harrison Brady is the name of a character in a forthcoming motion picture.

Johnson Challenges Kennedy To Debate

By JOHN CHADWICK
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Lyndon Johnson, trying to stave off Sen. John Kennedy's high-balling bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, challenged him today to a face-to-face debate of the issues.

Seizing on a request from Kennedy for a chance to appear before the Texas delegation, Johnson proposed that the two argue the issues before a joint session of the Texas and Massachusetts delegations.

Johnson told a news conference he was sure Kennedy could find the time "if his work is done."

This was an obvious gibe at Kennedy's claim that he already is assured of enough votes to capture the nomination on the first or second ballot.

Kennedy was at a breakfast meeting of North and South Carolina convention delegates when Johnson made public his challenge. Kennedy declined to say at once whether he would accept. Johnson said he received a telegram from Kennedy Monday saying he would appreciate an opportunity to meet with the Texas delegation.

Kennedy's telegram said he was "most grateful for the support and friendship of my Southern friends in 1960" when he was backed by Johnson, unsuccessfully, for the vice presidential nomination.

Johnson fired back with his challenge-to-debate telegram saying he was happy to know Kennedy was grateful for the support of his Southern friends at the 1960 convention.

"It is interesting to know that you need them now," Johnson's wire added.

Johnson went on to suggest that the Texas and Massachusetts delegations have a joint session and that he and Kennedy debate the major issues before the press, radio, and television.

In reply to questions, Johnson said there has been no material change in the relative delegate strength of himself and Kennedy since the delegates gathered here for their convention.

The Texas said he still thinks he will have between 500 and 600 ballots on the first ballot, with 761 needed to nominate.

Kennedy, 16 inquiries by reporters, said:

"This is the first I've heard of it. I want to read what this is all about and I'll have something to say later."

Race Issue Brews

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Despite stiff Dixie opposition, the Democratic convention is expected to adopt tonight a platform containing the party's strongest stand yet on civil rights.

Delegates from nine Southern states filed a vehement protest that will be read to the convention, saying the civil rights declarations transgress state rights guarantees of the constitution.

"We do not propose to be bound by them and respectfully request that this statement of repudiation be entered upon the minutes of the convention," said the joint statement presented by Charles Bloch, Macon, Ga.

But Bloch rejected any idea the Georgia delegation would walk out in protest, although he said "I can't answer for" other Southern states.

Action Taken To Complete Junior High

The school board last night heard a report on the condition and progress of the new Lamar Junior High School. They further engaged a different firm to complete the building in the next 30 days.

The board expressed dissatisfaction with the overall project with its delays and handling. One board member stated that someone was at fault in the handling of the project and that if it was the board they would have to clamp down on their policies.

A great deal of painting and re-painting plus repairs for the leaks in the roof is to be done before the building will be complete.

The board also discussed the low standards of English in the Snyder schools and instructed Superintendent T. E. McCollum to investigate and give the board a report on the situation.

The board accepted all resolutions submitted and approved a list of new teachers to be hired.

No Ticket Switch In Evidence Here

BOSTON (AP) — Republican candidates for state office got a shock Monday night at a meeting of the Greater Boston Young Republican Club.

Entering the hall they were greeted by a smiling young man who introduced himself as John Kennedy.

Kennedy is a committee chairman for the Republican group. As far as can be learned he is not related to Massachusetts Sen. John F. Kennedy, front runner for the Democratic presidential nomination.

City Council Okays Appeal On Injunction

The city council Monday night formally approved the appealing of the decision of the 132nd District Court last Friday refusing to grant the city an injunction against the construction of a building in the city limits without a permit.

In a prepared statement, Councilman Stanley Noah asked that the council instruct the city attorney to prepare an ordinance prohibiting the extension of services of this city outside the city limits, that in the ordinance a revision of prices for water and sewage be made to compensate for the expense of treating and amortizing the cost of these treating and disposal plants.

He added that, if this ordinance was written and passed by the council, he would be in favor of this city setting a policy of annexing any of the areas annexed under this council if a given percentage of the residents of the area so requested.

"Possibly we have been too hasty in making our sewage disposal plant and our water treatment facilities available to our adjoining neighbors before they become a part of the official family. I am for trying to get any part of our house in order and running the affairs of this city strictly on a business basis," Noah stated, adding that this meant confining the services of the city solely to the residents within the corporate limits of the City of Snyder.

The other members of the council agreed with Noah that the situation would have been better had the annexed areas not been extended the services of the city prior to annexation. They noted that any one having all the advantages of the city without paying the city taxes would object to having the burden of taxes put on them.

Russell Yorgason seconded the motion by Noah with the comment that no services should be extended without "justifiable differential in the cost of the services to make the load equal on the tax payers of this city and those getting city advantages outside the city limits."

The motion carried with all councilmen present voting for it. Bill Eiland was absent.

In regard to charges that the city annexed the area west of town over the protest petition of "80 to 90 percent" of the residents of that area, Councilman Rex Dunlap for a list of the residents and a list of the names signed on the protest petition. Fields asked that the minutes show had a survey was made of the area that found the following information to be correct:

There were 37 signatures on the petition representing 24 ownerships (counting husband and wife as one owner) with one signature from an individual not residing in that area; that there are 78 ownerships in the area, making the number protesting annexation 31 percent of the owners in that area instead of the per cent claimed.

In other business council approved the final estimate on the Thirtieth Street water and sewer when the contractor has presented a sworn certificate that all bills incurred by him were paid.

They also authorized the city secretary to negotiate with the Snyder National Bank in reference to the $23,000 borrowed by the city but not yet received for the purchase of the Dempster Dumpsters. An addition to the minutes of the meeting concerning the purchase of the Dempster Dumpsters stating that they were bought for the safety and protection of the city of Snyder was approved.

Several business building permits were approved for rezoning in the newly annexed areas: the Cogdell Clinic, Wilson Motors, the addition to the hospital, addition to Ballard Cafe, and the addition to the Everett Farm and Ranch Store.

George Poe of Hamlin met with the council to ask that the Planning and Zoning Commission proposed for the city and Wassen Warehouse be changed. The council set August 1 as the hearing of the first reading of the recommendations of the Commission.

The council further business agreed to pay the $2,000 for the reworking of a portion of West Thirtieth Street that was recommended by the Commissioners Court Monday morning. The council will pay the remaining $4,949.50, stated that Pinell Insurance Agency would participate in the city's insurance program starting next year, approved requesting the Mercantile National Bank of Dallas to invest $25,000.

additional funds from the water and sewer reserve fund in U.S. Treasury Bonds, and approved the Replat of Lots 3 to 14 inclusive of Block 2, Colonial Hill Addition to the city addition. The replat closes Thirtieth Street from Crockett Avenue to Denison Avenue.

The council also agreed to authorize the paying of $204 to Paul Carroll of Carroll Oxygen Co., the amount being the difference in 150 pound price for chlorine and the one ton price while waiting for the city scales to arrive. Carroll had been assured by an employee of the city in the absence of the city manager that the city would pay the difference, but the city manager could not okay the bill without council action.

Mum's The Word From Capitol Hill

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Officially-ordered United States silence prevailed today as President Eisenhower awaited a government report on the Soviet Union's assertion it had shot down an American plane.

At President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters, press secretary James C. Hagerty also denied Russian claims that the plane was over Soviet territory when it was brought down July 1.

"The American plane was over international waters and at no time was over Soviet territory. Soviet territorial waters or Soviet air space," Hagerty said in a statement.

The shooting down of this plane as the Soviet government alleges can only have been a deliberate and reckless attempt to create an international incident."

Hagerty also said at efforts by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his government to liken the new plane episode to the U2 spy plane mission of last May.

"Any attempt to connect the flight of this aircraft with the U2 flight of May is completely without foundation and the Soviet authorities, including Mr. Khrushchev, know this."

Hagerty said the United States will make a formal reply later in the day in the official Soviet protest note delivered Monday to a U.S. Embassy official in Moscow. The press secretary said an American reply would be made public in Washington later today.

Earlier, officially-ordered silence prevailed as the President awaited a government report on the incident.

The order to all federal officials to keep mum was announced at the summer White House late Monday.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference there would be no public comment from anyone in the administration pending receipt of the report Eisenhower ordered.

The President sent word to the State and Defense Departments that he wants full information on the Moscow charges—and that no federal spokesman should comment while the charges are being studied.

This was in dramatic contrast with what happened two months ago in the U2 spy plane episode when the Soviet Union lured the U.S. government into a trap and touched off an international furor.

In that incident administration spokesmen at first said the U2 was on a reconnaissance mission and perhaps had strayed unintentionally off its course into Soviet territory.

Then the Soviet trap snapped. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev a couple of days later announced that the plane had been shot down in the Soviet Union and the pilot captured—and that he had confessed espionage.

Caught short, the United States then admitted the plane was spying but contended this was justified because Moscow had rejected the Eisenhower proposal for openness mutual aerial inspection of military establishments in the event of a case of bad handling that damaged American prestige. In this election year it is almost certain to be a political campaign issue.

al chairman, was first to the wire with "the whole world is watching us" and "peace is our business."

Butler also was the only speaker of the evening to excite applause with a promise of non-appearance in the future. He put the hand by saying, "This is the last time I shall address you as national chairman."

In his 34-year tenure, Butler has proved one of the most controversial party chairmen of the century, a fact referred to with something less than obliqueness. He said, "If the national committee has taken a stand on issues, it has not taken a stand of men."

He denied again Harry Truman's charge by insisting the convention has had "no rigging whatsoever."

Butler, once other honorees, he was the first speaker to mention Franklin D. Roosevelt, and he easily ran off with the Oscar for the best alliteration by blasting the enemy for "eight years of golfing and golfing."

The question of who on the platform showed up with the lowest cut dress remained a Hollywood "dustoff" between Shelley Winters and Janet Leigh. They were part of an all-star film chorus which was introduced to the convention and led the faithful in singing the national anthem.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California was the first to declare, "We are here to nominate the next president of the United States," a statement of hope likely to be repeated 86 times before the week is out.

The governor gave one of two welcoming speeches. The other was supplied by Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles, who appeared completely recovered from his last appearance before a national TV audience last fall. That was when he was almost blasted off the podium by a visiting politician named Nikita Khrushchev.

The Oscar for the most literal gestures of the evening went to out-contest to Frank Church, 35, youngest member of the United States Senate and convention keynote. In his blue suit and white shirt and carefully timed pauses and studied modulations and memorized speech, he reminded many of a promising prep school orator.

Throughout, Church was highly visual. One hand shot down for falling farm prices and one hand shot up for rising costs. Each point of a five-point indictment of the Republican was ticked off in the air, one finger at a time. When he pleaded for "a solemn reason" from the delegates, he pleaded with both arms up and out.

But Church's most effective gesture came when he said, "To sweeten private life, stores display a billion bottles of deodorant, yet a modest bill to reduce the stench from our polluted public rivers was vetoed."

For the first part of his sentence, Church crossed his arms over his chest and flapped his hands under his armpits.

Church completed the advanced officers course of the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College in Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, by extension in 1958. He has had four years active duty, two years as a reserve, and has been with the National Guard from 1947 until the present.

He was in command of the Snyder National Guard Unit in 1948 and 1949.

Schiebel Is Promoted In Army Guard

William J. Schiebel, 3004 Avenue T, has recently been promoted to the rank of Lt. Colonel in the Texas Army National Guard, retroactive to April 22, 1960. He commands the First Reconnaissance Squadron, 124th Army, with headquarters in Odessa, Troop A in Pecos and Odessa, Troop B in Midland, and Troop C in Lamesa. He has held that post since September, 1959.

The squadron at present has 415 enlisted men, two warrant officers and 27 officers.

Mixon Making Bid In Couples Play

Upcoming challenger Mixon Tires and supply made the grade the past week in Couples League leading at the Snyder Lanes, pulling up even with Rainbow Market, which has been the dominant team over much of the season up until now.

It was a team effort all the way as Mixon's success in rolling the high team series of 1821 without any of its performers placing a losing team in the top three of the night. Robinson Plumbing placed second to Mixon with its 1798 while always-dangerous Rainbow was third with 1774.

In a hotly-contested battle for top honors, Team 4 came out on top in the high line category with

642. Rainbow huffed and puffed with its 640, thus falling three pins shy of blowing the five and ten down, while Team 8 nipped at their heels with a 635 total.

Rainbow's Jim Tatum reigned supreme on an individual basis, copping the top series of 576 and high line of 230. Junior King (Robinson) and Mitch Jackson (Mitch's) following in series with 525 and 518, respectively, and Roy Dunlap (Team 5) and King had lines of 125 and 120 to follow Tatum in that department.

Bessie Wilson of Team 8 was the high series recipient for the ladies, with a splattering of 440. Chick Robinson (Robinson) and John Richardson (Mixon) were in challenging positions with 438 and 433.

Rainbow's Betty Tatum rolled the high women's line of 758 and following her were Lucille Wilson (Jim's Welding) and Bessie Wilson, each of whom were only a single pin behind at 157.

Picking up splits for the night were the following bowlers: Rainbow-Betty Tatum 3-10, Gene Rogers 2-10; Robinson-Junior King 4-5, Margaret King 4-7-5; Team 8-Roy Brown 3-10, Bessie Wilson 5-10; Jimmie Welding-Lucille Wilson 5-7, Jim Wilson 4-7-9; McDonald Welding-Jerry Ansted 3-10; Team 9-George McCune 4-5; Mixon Tires-Martha Coffee 3-10; and Mitch's-Jerry Wooler 5-6-10.

Sox, Buffs Bumped In Teenage Play

The league leaders had another rough time of it last night in Teenage Loop play, as both were administered liftings.

In the Continental League headliner, the last-place Tigers surprised the Red Sox by winning out, 5-2, with Elbert McNeal on the chunking end of things for the victors. He spaced seven hits effectively in posting the triumph, and struck out a total of five.

Opposing moundman Jerry Fleming was the only Sox performer to take an appreciable liking to his offerings, doubling twice in as many trips to the plate.

Fleming was touched for six safeties, including two-baggers by Bobby Brown and Frank Moore. In addition, Stanley Kruse collected a pair of singles for the winning delegation, as did Joe Paty of the Sox.

Over in the Texas League, the Braves garnered only one hit off Adam Romero—a last inning single by Jimmy Wilson—but nevertheless won out by a score of 6-4.

The Buffs picked up just two base blows off Blake Roberts themselves, those being a line double to center by Romero and a single off the bat of Gale Potter.

The third frame told the story in the contest, as five bases on balls and a hit batsman allowed four Braves to score and thus go into a permanent lead at that point.

The line scores:

Red Sox	010,010 6-2
Tigers	001,211 X-5
Braves	004,110-6
Buffs	011,011-4

Indians Upset Yanks In FL

An old-fashioned pitchers duel highlighted the Farm League festivities of the evening past, as the league leading White Sox found themselves edged out by the Indians, 3-2.

A sixth-inning run scored by Ronnie St. John, who romped in as teammate Dale Blythe singled, made the difference and allowed reliever Kenny Schaefer to post the victory. He had come on in the stead of Joe Coplen in the fourth inning.

Coplen singled twice to pace the seven-hit Indian attack, while Kris Leighman of the Sox went three-for-four to be tops for his team. Gary Smith, who was the losing hurler, doubled in the third inning also.

The run production was a bit more lax in the nightcap, as the Athletics pounded out a 12-9 victory over the Yanks.

Randy Owens and Mark Gisttrap teamed up to hurl the victory for the A's, with Clay Landon, Mike Todd, and Wade McCarty alternately taking the hill for the losers.

Terrill Austin, the Athletic center fielder, came through to hit a double and two singles to top his nine's 10-hit onslaught.

The Yankees garnered only five hits, two of which were doubles by Tammy Hollis and Don Lee.

The line scores:

White Sox	011,000-2
Indians	002,001-3
Athletics	422 4-12
Yanks	111 4-9

NL Takes Initial All-Star Victory

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—National League Manager Walter Alston will go for an All-Star sweep Wednesday with Vern Law, another member of the Pittsburgh staff that led to the 5-3 first-game victory over the American League at Kansas City Monday in sweltering 100-degree heat.

Law threw seven pitches in stopping a ninth-inning threat and preserved the victory for teammate Bob Friend, who pitched one-hit ball for three shutout innings. It was the NL's 12th victory in 28 midsummer meetings with the AL and the second for Friend against one defeat.

Relief artist Elroy Face, third mound member of the Pirate All-Star cast, earlier had stopped another serious American League threat by getting Luis Aparicio to bounce into sixth-inning double play with the bases loaded.

The trio from the league-leading Pirates worked a combined 5 1-3 innings, allowing no runs and only one hit, a second-inning single by Baltimore's Ronnie Hansen off Friend.

American League Mgr. Al Lopez, who used six pitchers in a vain attempt to stop the National League power, indicated he would send southpaw Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees to the mound in the second game at Yankee Stadium. Left-handers generally are more effective at the Yankee park than at Kansas City, with its short left field fence that was cleared three times in the first game.

Ernie Banks, NL home run and RBI leader, slammed the first home run, off starter Bill Monbouquette of Boston, with a man on base in the first inning to feature a three-run attack that hung the defeat on the Red Sox' youthful right-hander.

Del Crandall, Milwaukee catcher, wallowed the other NL homer, a solo shot in the second inning. This too, was hit off Monbouquette, who was tagged for five hits and four runs before giving way to Baltimore's Chuck Estrada in the third.

Willie Mays, the great center fielder of the San Francisco Giants, got two of those hits, a first-inning triple and a second-inning single. He doubled later, off New York's Jim Coates, and came within several feet of becoming the first man in All-Star competition to hit for the cycle. His drive to right off Cleveland's Gary Ball in the sixth was snared by Harvey Kuenn of Cleveland with a leaping catch.

The National League collected 12 hits to the AL's six, all but one of them in the first five innings, when they scored all their runs for a 5-0 lead.

The American League used a record number of 25 players, but only six of them hit safely against the five NL pitchers. The big blow was an eighth-inning home run by Detroit's Al Kaline off Milwaukee right-hander Bob Buhl.

ALL-STAR LINEUP

Home runs—National, Banks (1-1), Crandall (2-0), American, Kaline (8-1).

Sluggests Are Predominant In LL Action

The hitters took over in the Little League last night, as the pitchers were forced to take a back seat to the sluggers.

The White Sox routed the Athletics by 14-4 in the American League contest of the night, with home runs by Sox Mack Galyean and Britt Paty sparking the action. Marvin Mayfield and Johnny Gausa doubled for the Sox, also, as that nine unloaded on Terry Holt and Robert Hobbs for a total of 14 hits.

A double by Hobbs and single by Ruben Fein were the only hits which the A's were able to muster off winning hurler Paty. Paty struck out nine Athletic batters in waiting to the victory.

Over in the National League, the Cubs assaulted Brave starter David Falls and reliever Tommy Sinclair for 10 hits in their 11-3 conquest of that team.

David Cadena hurled the victory for the Cubs, giving up seven hits and striking out eight.

In addition to his pitching chores, Cadena was also the big stickman for the Cubs, batting in five runs with a double and a homer.

Sinclair and Roy Taylor each slammed two-baggers to top the Brave effort for the night.

The line score:

Athletics	202 6-4
White Sox	733 1-14
Braves	002 100-3
Cubs	005 600-11

Trinity Slips Past First Methodist, 2-1

Trinity Methodist won a squeaker in last night's Church Softball League play, edging out First Methodist 2-1 and thus keeping their season record spotless with a 4-0 mark.

Loy Neepser was the winning pitcher once again, while Billy Hallmark was tagged with the loss.

Other action found Colonial Hill getting back on the win trail 15-11 at the expense Greenhill Baptist. Ronnie Winkles posted the victory for Colonial.

Mauch High In Praise Of Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Manager Gene Mauch of the Philadelphia Phillies today praised the front-running Pittsburgh Pirates for "giving more than themselves—the kind of thing that wins pennants."

"They play hard," Mauch said. "They're the pennant-hungriest club in the National League. They've got the arms and legs plus drive."

The Pirates, who have earned the reputation of never-say-die, Sunday marked up their 12th last-inning win of the year by scoring four runs in the ninth to defeat the Phillies 6-2. By winning, the Pirates maintained their five-game lead, biggest margin at All-Star game time since 1955.

Mauch singled out for praise outfielder Roberto Clemente and shortstop and team captain Dick Groat.

Palmer Sidesteps Detroit Tourney

COOPERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Golfing great Arnold Palmer said today he's skipping the Western Open tournament in Detroit beginning Thursday because he needs rest and practice with the larger American ball for the PGA tournament in Akron, Ohio, July 21.

"The Western is a good and big tournament, and I'd love to play in it," Palmer said. "But it almost would be ridiculous to try to play and do any good."

Palmer, U.S. Master and Open Golf champion who just missed a triple stunner when he lost the British Open last week by a single stroke, arrived in New York Monday night after a flight from Paris.

Then he flew to this tiny eastern Pennsylvania community where his wife and two daughters were awaiting him. They stayed overnight with Mrs. Palmer's mother, who lives here. Palmer said he, his wife, and children are driving today to their home in Latrobe in western Pennsylvania.

"Western Open officials are hopeful they can get you in the tournament," Palmer was told. "But when I got there yesterday morning," he explained, "the hotel reservation was canceled and I was informed that I couldn't play in the French Open because the entry list had closed 10 days ago. Why I received confirmation I just don't know. But anyhow I didn't waste any time getting back here."

Palmer said that after the PGA his plans still are a little uncertain. He said he definitely will play in some of the tournaments the rest of the year.

Wit And Hilarity Rampant As LA Convention Begins

By INEZ ROBB
LOS ANGELES — What transpires in the smoke-filled rooms of national political convention may be the essence of history, but what goes on in the adjacent corridors is strictly for laughs.

The corridors at the Democratic convention are filled with little groups laughing it up over jokes — on the other fellow's candidate. Nor is Richard Milhaus Nixon neglected.

The anti-Kennedy forces, who may be laughing out of the other side of their respective faces within the next 48 hours, are killing each other at the moment with the story that has a man stopping Jack Kennedy and saying, "I understand you were born in a log cabin."

"No, you have me confused with Abraham Lincoln," replies candidate Kennedy. "He was born in a log cabin. I was born in a manger."

Paired with this is the story that has Nixon in Los Angeles, probably shot down as a U-2 spy. While here, the Vice-President goes out to the community's most famous cemetery, Forest Lawn, to buy a lot.

The enthusiastic Forest Lawn salesman says, "Mr. Vice-President, we have just the thing for you. Look at this magnificent lot, close to all the access roads, shaded by giant weeping willows, decked with eternal flowers and covered with a velvet lawn!"

"Yes, but I really want a cheaper lot," Nixon insists. "What about that one way over there in the corner?"

"Yes, but I really want a cheaper lot," Nixon insists. "What about that one way over there in the corner?"

"Well, it's inexpensive, all right," the salesman admits. "But it isn't near the access roads, the lawn is scraggly, and there are no trees, or flowers."

"I don't think you understand," Nixon replies. "I'll only be here three days."

The anti-Lyndon Johnson factions who are confident there is no dish of crow in their future, buttonhole acquaintances to tell them of the psychiatrist who went to heaven when he presented his credentials to St. Peter, including his announcement that he was a psychiatrist in his earthly manifestation. St. Peter signs with relief and beams on the man.

"Come with me," says St. Peter. "We can surely use you. The Almighty thinks he's Lyndon Johnson."

Then there is the tale of the two delegates trying to figure out which candidate represents the best chance to win the election in November.

"What about Kennedy?" asks A.

"Forget him. He's out because of the religious question," says B.

"What about Symington, then?"

"Nope! A one-issue guy can't win."

"All right. There's Lyndon Johnson."

"Won't do. He's too far to the right."

"We've still got Stevenson."

"He's out. Too far to the left."

"What about Sen. Dick Russell?"

"Man, a Southerner can't make it."

"Well," says A, "that leaves us with Adam Clayton Powell. What about him?"

"He won't do," says B, thoughtfully. "I don't think this country is ready yet for a Baptist preacher in the White House."

Even the grimmest moments are grist for the factional gag writers. In the hours before the convention opened, a poor man teetered precariously off the roof of the Biltmore Hotel, convention headquarters, in a thwarted suicide try. Within 30 minutes, Symington, Johnson and Stevenson adherents were circulating the same gag: that the depressed man, facing collapse of his life, ambition, was Jack Kennedy.

In the meantime, Kennedy supporters were putting out the same gag with a new twist. According to their version, the man on the roof was Lyndon Johnson.

'Double Revolution' To Get Underway

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
LOS ANGELES AP — The 1960 political conventions, although they figure to be the duller in years, are in a very real sense part of the birth pangs of a new and revolutionary era.

It will be a double revolution — in men and events.

1. Almost everywhere around the world before the end of the 1960s a new, younger generation of men will have become the new leaders, none of whom was a dominant figure only 15 years ago when World War II ended.

2. The struggle between the United States and communism has within the past few months entered a new, intense, and unpredictable phase which will require new American vision, efforts, methods and strategy.

The Democratic convention this week and the Republican convention later this month will blaze the way toward the new leadership when they pick their presidential candidates.

Almost certainly the Democrats will name Sen. John F. Kennedy, 43, while the Republicans will choose Vice President Richard M. Nixon, 47. Only 15 years ago neither of them held any public office nor was known.

The older generation of leaders — all of whom were dominant figures by the end of the war — is coming to an end, either through retirement or through the disability or death which is the product of old age.

President Eisenhower's term ends six months from now. Time eventually will force out such others as France's President Charles de Gaulle, West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Nationalist China's Chiang Kai-shek, Red China's Mao Tse-tung, India's Prime Minister Nehru, and even Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Mannequin Mania Madeap Boyle's Theme

By RAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Here are remarks from window shoppers that may be hard for department store dummies to keep their plaster faces straight:

"Any woman could look happy in a window if she didn't have to worry about who would wash it."

"Honey, if I thought it would really make you like me any better, I would buy you a thousand dresses like that—but, you know, with only three credit cards to his name a man can only afford so much."

"Oh, Marge, if only once he saw me dressed up like that! I know he'd call me again."

"Yes, Myrtle, I agree. The dress was made for you. And if you only had one thing more—the figure—it would probably fit you."

"I always like to see the families in store windows. They seem to be having more real fun than the families I know in real life."

"That's the way I'd like my wife to be—all dressed up, going nowhere, and with her mouth shut forever!"

"Really, Joe, I don't see why you fight so hard against wearing Bermuda shorts. All men have hairy legs. You see that dummy on the left wearing shorts? You've got better knees than he has — except, maybe, they're not so pink."

"When she phoned me she said it would be great if I met her at eight outside Macy's. But already it's half past. I wonder did she really say it would be fine if I met her at nine outside Gimbel's?"

"Sure it's nice to see you. But now that I see you, what in hell's been keeping you?"

"Oh, I think I'd be happy forever if I could wear a wedding dress like that—at least once."

"Well, Dr. Huebachtel, I'm probably here for the same reason you are. We psychiatrists get weary of listening all day to live women lying down on a couch complaining about nothing. It is a pleasure on the way home to pause outside a window and stare at dummy model women standing up and complaining about nothing. The total information is the same, but the change of posture is refreshing."

Rahm Admits Killing School Board Head

TYLER (AP)—Dr. C.C. Rahm, his voice choked with emotion, told a news conference Monday he fired the shot that killed Thurman Jackson during a fight at the Brownboro School Board meeting June 16, but said he had no malice toward Jackson.

Lee, Having Shed Hedy, Takes Tierney

ASPEN, Colo. (AP)—Howard Lee, 51, Houston oilman and former husband of Hedy Lamarr, honeymooned in the Colorado mountains today with his third wife, Gene Tierney, 38, former actress.

They were married Monday afternoon in the Community Church of Aspen by the Rev. Keith Merriam, Methodist pastor of the church.

Miss Tierney was given in marriage by Tony Delmas, manager of Lee's properties here including the Villa Del Marr, a motel and ski lodge. It was her second marriage.

Lee's daughter, Donna, said the couple will divide their time between homes in Aspen, Houston and Green's Farm, Conn., where Miss Tierney's family lives.

Lee's divorce from Miss Lamarr became final last April.

Dors Indignant At RKO's Defamation

LOS ANGELES (AP)—British actress Diana Dors has settled her $1,275,000 suit against RKO Pictures Inc. for $200,000, court aides reported.

Miss Dors, 28, filed the suit in February of last year, claiming the studio had agreed to pay her $200,000 upon cancelling two movies in which she was to star. She said the studio not only refused to pay but also defamed her.

Miss Dors, now appearing in a Las Vegas nightclub, said RKO accused her of becoming "an object of disgrace."

The compromise was revealed when the case was removed from superior court calendar.

Earlier, Tessmer asked Judge V.M. Johnston of Athens to free Rahm on bond pending his trial. Johnston set a hearing on the habeas corpus petition for 9 a.m. Friday.

Rahm, former mayor of Brownboro, was secretary of the school board which earlier this year fired Homer Bass, longtime superintendent of schools.

He said he had been threatened prior to the June 16 meeting but did not name the persons he said made the threats. He said he was scared and for that reason carried a .45 caliber pistol to the meeting.

Rahm said the crowd attending the board meeting began to get out of hand after I.B. Long, board president, offered to read criticism of the school by an evaluating team of the Texas Education Agency.

He said he reminded Long the board had agreed to adjourn at 8 p.m. and that when Long adjourned the meeting, he (Rahm) asked a deputy sheriff "get us out of here." He said the deputy replied he was trying to do so. He continued:

"I put my papers under my arm and tried to leave."

"I was hit on the head and fell to the floor. My glasses were knocked off. They began kicking me."

Semi-Invalid Saves Drowning Youth

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Linda Burr, 12, a semi-invalid, took up swimming three years ago as therapy.

Sunday night, she pulled a drowning boy, twice her weight, from the swimming pool at an apartment project.

Linda dove into the pool and groped about until she found Jim Byrne, 15, and pulled him to the surface.

She suffered from rheumatic fever. Since taking up swimming she has shown no evidence of the resulting heart trouble.

British Wary In Face Of Soviet Accusations

By DENNIS NEED
LONDON (AP)—Demands mounted in Britain today for firm assurance that Washington is consulting fully with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government of the activities of American planes flying from British bases.

That was the first reaction to the Soviet claim to have shot down another U.S. reconnaissance plane in craft over Soviet territory.

The missing RB47 took off from the U.S. air force base at Brize Norton, England, and many Britons want to know whether its flight was first sanctioned by Macmillan.

In a note to Macmillan's government, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev accused Britain of being a "direct participant" in aggressive American acts and with assuming heavy responsibility for the possible consequences.

Macmillan faces a barrage of questions on this and a U. incident in the House of Commons today. When questioned previously on the May Day shooting down over the Soviet Union of the American U2 plane, the Prime Minister contended there could be no public discussion of intelligence activities.

The Conservative Daily Mail in a front-page editorial today conceded that such secrecy was necessary but said that "to disclose whether or not Britain is consulted before any American flight which may involve her in a grave international incident is a different matter."

Which Lies You Tryin' To Detect?

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (A)—A He detector test Monday cleared a 16-year-old boy of suspicion in a burglary. But then he admitted taking part in more than a dozen other burglaries in the past year.

Police would not release the youth's name because he is a juvenile.

"There is reason to believe," said the Mail, "that she is not always consulted. It is said that the agreement which allows our government to veto operational flights by U.S. aircraft does not cover reconnaissance flights."

Britain, said the Laborite Daily Herald, "must know what goes on at the American bases in Britain."

"We must know that (British) control is absolute," the Herald continued. "We must make sure that spy flights cannot take place without the knowledge of our Prime Minister."

The U.S. Air Force said originally that the plane was checking magnetic fields off the coasts of Norway and the Soviet Union to get information for more accurate maps. The Liberal News Chronicle and the Conservative Telegraph said there was no reason to believe the Soviet charge that the RB47 was spying.

But the Chronicle pointed out that, with the U2 incident in the background, many persons would be suspicious.

"The Americans would do well to make extreme discretion the guiding principle for the activities of their aircraft" based in their Allies' territory," the Chronicle went on. "The harm that can be done to Allied relations by the distrust these incidents cause is serious."
