Truckers arrested for hauling drugs

A Sugarland truck driver, his wife and their Jamaican passenger were arrested for possession of marijuana and cocaine on Christmas Day on Interstate 20 east of Colorado City.

Deputy Sheriff Mike Redwine stopped eastbound trucker Timothy Wayne Jenkins at 11:15 a.m. Friday near FM 1899 for speeding and then became suspicious because Jenkins' logbook was not up to date.

Deputy Redwine called for assistance from Sheriff Patrick Toombs and Department of Public Safety License and Weight Officer Donnie Gilbreath.

The officers obtained Jenkins' consent to search the truck and noticed two boxes that were different from the load of boxes of oranges and lemons.

Sheriff Toombs said the two strange boxes contained 164 pounds of marijuana and small small amounts of cocaine were found in plastic bags in the truck cab.

Jenkins, 36, his wife Barbara Jean, 33, and their passenger, Clayton Fidel Manning, 21, of Yorktown, Va., were taken into custody on one count each of possession of marijuana, a second-degree felony, and one count each of possession of cocaine, a fourth-degree felony.

They were incarcerated in Mitchell County Jail in lieu of bonds of $25,000 on each

TRASH BY THE TON is what city sanitation men Jay Moore, left, and Nino Lujan were dealing with Tuesday morning in a Seventh Street alleyway. The city was running two trash trucks instead of the usual one to pick up all the Christmas holiday-related trash, which was three times the normal amount.

Year 2000 raises many questions

The advent of 1999 brings the year 2000 "up close and personal," and there is a certain amount of anticipation and fear about the end of the millennium, local church ministers say.

The possible end of the world and the Second Coming of Jesus Christ is on many people's minds, as is the potential crisis associated with the "Y2K" computer crunch.

However, the ministers say Jesus is no more likely to return in 2000 than He is in any other year, and one cautions against panicking over Y2K, or "Year 2000," computer changeovers.

A millennium is 1,000 years, and the current one will not technically end until Jan. 1, 2001.

Millions of computer systems are being adapted for the rollover of the triple zeroes to avoid shutdowns of utilities, banking systems and other key elements of modern society.

COUNTDOWN TO THE MILLENNIUM

Many big organizations, like the Social Security Administration, are already announcing that their systems have been converted and there is nothing to worry about.

"A lot of people around the country see Y2K as a marker, a sign," said the Rev. Dewayne Renfro, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

"If the Christian community panics and makes a run on the banks and pulls their money out and that sort of thing, we could actually precipitate a millennial crisis.

"But we're not called on to panic. The Book of Revelation is a book of joy, a book of promise.

"Our faith carries us through and beyond these things because of who we are."

Like Kerry Cain of the Austin Street Church of Christ and Dr. Ted Spear of the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Renfro sees more social significance than theological concern in the turn of the century and the new millennium.

Rehab Center Telethon gains B&PW support

An afghan donated by the ladies' auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No., 9178 is among more than 175 items to be auctioned during the 29th Annual West Texas Rehabilitation Center Telethon on Saturday, Jan. 9, in Abilene.

The Colorado City afghan will be previewed along with other auction items from 6 to 7 p.m. that day on television stations in San Angelo and Abilene.

A toll-free bidding number will be shown.

The Business & Professional Women of Colorado City will take pledges from 7 to 10 p.m. at 728-5221 at City National Bank.

They invite Rehab Center supporters to come by the 228 Elm St. bank for coffee and soft drinks during the broadcast.

Club President Shirley Delaney said Tuesday that the group has already raised more money, $1,000, than it produced during last year's telethon because most Mitchell County supporters did not know there was a local effort and contacted the Rehab Center directly.

This is the B&PW's second year to take pledges here during the star-studded show.

"This is something that we really feel is worthwhile," Ms. Delaney said. "While we will have our major fundraiser that weekend, we still want to do this."

She referred to the club's annual operation of the concession stand at the Mitchell County 4-H and FFA Livestock Show on Jan. 7, 8 and 9 at the county ag barns on West Hwy. 80.

"The Rehab Center is for everybody," she said. "You don't have to be a certain doctor's patient or have a cer-

Hospital mammography unit recertification is pursued

Mitchell County Hospital Board members Tuesday night asked administrator Rick Rickard to pursue the re-certification of the hospital mammography unit.

In the 6 p.m. board meeting, Rickard outlined the decertification of the unit last summer by the American College of Radiology and said he has been in contact with a qualified woman who might be able to get it back into operation.

The new unit will need to run Monday through Friday, in contrast to the previous two-day-a-week arrangement, he said.

Rickard said the unit only tested 128 women in its last full year of operation but will need to perform 350 tests annually to break even.

But he said hospital physicians and county residents are strongly in favor of its reactivation.

Other business in the 70-minute meeting included a discussion of the hospital's hospice department for terminally ill patients who choose to be treated at home.

Rickard said the department served only nine patients in the past year and will lose $13,000 this month, but he said those services could be transferred to the Home Health Agency.

The matter was tabled until the board's Jan. 11 meeting.

Rickard reported that the County revises bank accounts

Mitchell County commissioners Monday approved a $1,450 quarterly increase in their support of the county appraisal district to help pay for the district's new computer mapping system.

Chief Appraiser Kaye Nell Cornutt attended the 9 a.m. meeting to say the increase was needed to fulfill a $15,000 contract with former Assistant Appraiser Linda McSpadden.

Ms. Cornutt said Ms. McSpadden has continued to work for the district from her home since moving to Greenwood, south of Midland, last summer.

The appraiser said Ms. McSpadden has agreed to complete the mapping project for $8.50 an hour.

County Auditor Susan Buckalew said the county paid $20,900 in quarterly payments to the appraisal district in 1998 and has budgeted $25,000 for 1999.

Pct. 4 Commissioner Bill Preston observed that most of the county's $5,800 annual increase for its part of the mapping contract has thereby already been provided for.

Ms. Cornutt said the Scurry County Appraisal District offered to do the same work for $100 a day.

The appraisal district is also supported by the county's three school districts and three cities and the county hospital district.

Other business in the 9 a.m. meeting, which only lasted 14 minutes, included a streamlining of the county banking system.

Pct. 3 Commissioner Wendy Inman was absent.

Ms. Buckalew said the county's computer software consultant, Net Data of Sulphur Springs, had recommended that its 15 accounts at City National Bank be trimmed to only two, one primary account and a payroll account.

She said the commissioners' road and bridge cash accounts will still be accessible, however.

The recommendation was approved.

Commissioner Preston, of Loraine, opened bids for a used diesel truck and then moved that the matter be tabled so that he and his employees may personally inspect the trucks.

Bids were reviewed from Carpenter's Truck Center in Abilene and Okahoma Kenworth Co. of Oklahoma City.

Carpenter's Truck Center has a 1993 Freightliner for $28,500, and Oklahoma Kenworth offered five Kenworths for prices varying from $24,900 for two 1992's to $39,500 for a 1995.

The bids were tabled until the commissioners court's Jan. 11 meeting.

Sheriff Patrick Toombs' request to hire a part-time jailer to replace one who recently resigned was approved.

Loraine man hurt in fall

Two people were injured, neither seriously, in a 5:52 p.m. Tuesday traffic accident in the 2100 block of Hickory Street.

Police said a northbound car driven by Penny Gonzales of Colorado City turned west toward the USA Burrito parking lot when it was in collision with a southbound pickup truck driven by 20-year-old Joe Ross Jameson of Snyder.

Ms. Gonzales' car then struck a car that was parked in front of the restaurant.

Both vehicles were heavily damaged, but Ms. Gonzales and young Jameson were both treated for relatively minor injuries at Mitchell County Hospital and released, doctors reported at 7:30 p.m.

A 32-year-old Loraine man suffered a broken foot in a 1:50 p.m. Tuesday fall from the Von Roeder Seed Farms building roof at 301 N. Taylor St. in Loraine.

Lupe Talamantes was taken by Mitchell County Ambulance Service to the county hospital in Colorado City, where his broken bone was set and he was listed in satisfactory condition Tuesday night.

Witnesses said Talamantes fell about 12 feet.

Colorado City police investigated a number of theft reports and a family violence case during the holiday week, including an 11:02 p.m. Christmas Eve call to the 116 E. Sixth St. home of Andrew Sosa.

Sgt. Richard DeLaCruz and a state highway patrolman took Sosa, 55, into custody on a family violence charge.

Officer Steve Evrard arrested 43-year-old Randy Deal of 740 15th St. on outstanding Department of Public Safety warrants at 9:26 p.m. Monday at East Second and Hickory Street.

City National Bank officer Tim Lelek told police at 11:38 a.m. Monday that a suspect had cashed a $3,500 check on an account that had been closed.

Police Chief Pat Taylor said a theft investigation was being conducted.

Rose Holguin of 1304 Austin St. said at 8:37 p.m. Monday that someone had taken an antique horse from a nativity scene in front of her house.

Mrs. Holguin said the walnut-colored rocking horse with a white mane and tail was in place when she went to Big Spring for two days and gone when she returned.

She said she will not press charges if the horse is returned.

tain kind of problem.

"It's for everyone who needs something that they have."

She said 123 Mitchell County citizens used the center during 1998.

The center counts on raising $1 million each year during the telethon for its operations in Abilene, San Angelo and Ozona.

This year, an entertainer who is considered one of the best of the young Nashville singers, Collin Raye, will headline the show.

The native Texan is known for the hit song "Little Rock" and other recordings.

Raye will be joined on stage by a sister act from Nashville, The Lynns, along with regulars Peter Marshall, Anacani, Bill and Susan Hayes, Arthur Duncan and Ana Alicia Garza, a 15-year-old San Angelo native who has entertained at a number of Rehab Center events in the past year.

Marshall is a game show host, and the Hayeses are soap opera stars with millions of fans.

Anacani, a singer, and Duncan, a tap dancer, were stars for many years on the Lawrence Welk Show.

Brad Maule, a Snyder native who portrays Dr. Anthony Jones on the daytime series "General Hospital," has also become a regular on the telethon and will return again this year.

Maule grew up on a Scurry County farm, and he shows his country roots as a left-handed singer-guitarist who writes his own material.

Maule has recorded several country music albums at studios in Clovis, N. M., with the late producer Norman Petty and Johnny Mulhair, who produced LeAnn Rimes' first nationally released album on Curb Records.

Ms. Rimes has performed on the past telethons, as have country music stars Glen Campbell, Ray Price, Connie Smith, Janie Fricke, Mel Tillis, Lee Greenwood, Lee Roy Parnell, Reba McEntire and Sammi Smith.

The show will be shown on 13 television stations this year, including KLST-TV in San Angelo.

Originating from the Abilene Civic Center, it will also air on stations in Abilene, Big Spring, Lubbock, Amarillo, Midland-Odessa, Austin, Llano, Corpus Christi, Laredo, Del Rio and Lawton, Okla.

It will be broadcast nationally via satellite on Galaxy CF, Transponder 8.

American Airlines and West Texas Utilities are major underwriters for the production.

hospital paid $40,000 this year to compensate employees for unused sick leave, which has had a 240-day limit.

The board approved a new 320-day limit for which employees will not be compensated until they exceed it.

Rickard was directed to investigate bids to purchase a second ultrasound machine, which has become a high priority of the medical staff, he said.

Ultrasound machines take photographs and show live images of fetuses and internal organs.

Dr. Stan Kremsky, a Big Spring radiologist, was approved to join the hospital's medical staff and practice here part-time.

Scholarships were okayed for licensed vocational nurses Frankie Riney and Rachel Rangel of the Rural Health Clinic staff to study for the next 18 months to become registered nurses.

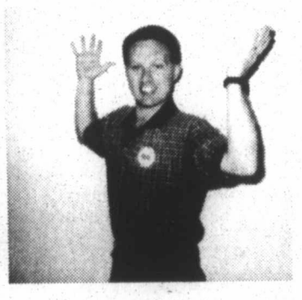

The hospital district will pay $95 per month each to help finance their studies and $2,000 each at the end of their curriculum.

Statewide sales increase

A fact of life in the ocean, that big fish eat little ones, appears to be true in Texas' economic ocean.

While the number of businesses fell in every category from the second quarter of 1997 to the second quarter of 1998, gross sales were up and in most instances showed impressive growth, according to a report by State Comptroller John Sharp.

It was true in Mitchell County, where the number of reporting outlets dropped from 210 to 195.

But the county's gross sales increased by 7.7 percent, from $14 million to $15.1 million, with $170,018 in use tax purchases and $7.3 million in transactions that were subject to state sales and use taxes.

Mitchell County's number of retail trade outlets fell from 129 to 122, but its gross retail sales expanded by a healthy 14.5 percent -- $9.8 million to $11.3 million.

It had $99,154 in use tax purchases and $5.8 million in retail sales that were subject to state sales and use taxes.

For all industries, Abilene's number of reporting outlets dropped from 3,104 to 2,989, Lubbock's from 6,384 to 5,945, Midland-Odessa's from 8,176 to 7,722 and San Angelo's from 2,710 to 2,657.

However, Abilene's gross sales increased by 4.5 percent, Lubbock's by 10.6 percent and San Angelo's by 10.7 percent.

Only Midland-Odessa reported a decrease in sales -- a minus-four percent.

Statewide by industries that are of interest in West Central Texas, agriculture and forestry was up by 7.6 percent, manufacturing by only 1.7 percent, building materials by eight percent and food stores by 4.6 percent.

Texas automotive sales increased by 4.7 percent, clothing by 10.1 percent, home furnishings by 14.8 percent, restaurants by 7.8 percent, drug stores by 10.4 percent and liquor stores by seven percent.

Of all the industries surveyed by the comptroller's office, only general merchandise reported a decline from one quarter to the next, a minus-6.9 percent.

The second quarter includes April, May and June.

Reporting outlets fell statewide from 11,149 to 10,755 in agriculture-forestry, 24,681 to 23,873 in manufacturing, 10,364 from 9,769 in building materials and 23,069 to 22,700 in food stores.

Automotive companies decreased from 17,268 to 16,493, clothing stores from 17,071 to 15,989, home furnishings outlets from 23,211 to 21,859, restaurants from 47,114 to 45,772, drug stores from 3,329 to 3,226 and liquor stores from 2,984 to 2,741.

Gross sales in all industries were up by 7.4 percent, from $163 billion to $175 billion.

God does not ignore transgressions

By Pastor Ron Garner

LORAINE -- What is the source of all the natural disasters these days?

There have been floods, tornadoes, droughts and famines in various nations and just recently a whole new phenomenon -- four hurricanes in the Caribbean at the same time.

Most would say "Mother Nature" is out of control, but there is no such thing as Mother Nature.

Those are words used by the ungodly and those who refuse to acknowledge God's sovereign authority as their Creator in and over the circumstances of their lives or the world they live in (Psalm 139:13-16, Deuteronomy 32:6, 15).

God loves his creations too much to let them get away with their wicked ignoring of his long-suffering patience with their idolatry (Psalm 2:1-5).

God speaks to us through Godly men, using the Bible as their source, and if we ignore and don't harken to His word, He then uses ever more drastic measures to get our attention.

If we ignore that and do not seek Him on His terms, then He engineers a personal or corporate disaster.

The Bible tells us it is God who controls nature and is the giver or withholder of rain or who brings drought and famines.

Your reply could be, "This is God's love?"

Emphatically, yes.

He loves his creations too much to let them get away with it!

There are too many backsliding Christians who are a disgrace to the name of Jesus Christ, most of them sitting in church pews on Sunday.

So God must bring personal disasters with the intent of driving them to their knees, for if we seek Him, He will allow us to find Him (Deuteronomy 4:29, Psalm 9:10).

Yet in the adversities of life, all too many shake their fists and ask, "God, why did you do this to me?"

It's not Mother Nature bringing all these natural disasters into our nation. It is an angry Father God who is about to bring on the most terrifying events that history has ever witnessed.

Paul the Apostle speaks about the period you and I live in, saying, "But know this, that in the last days perilous times will come" (2 Timothy, 3:1).

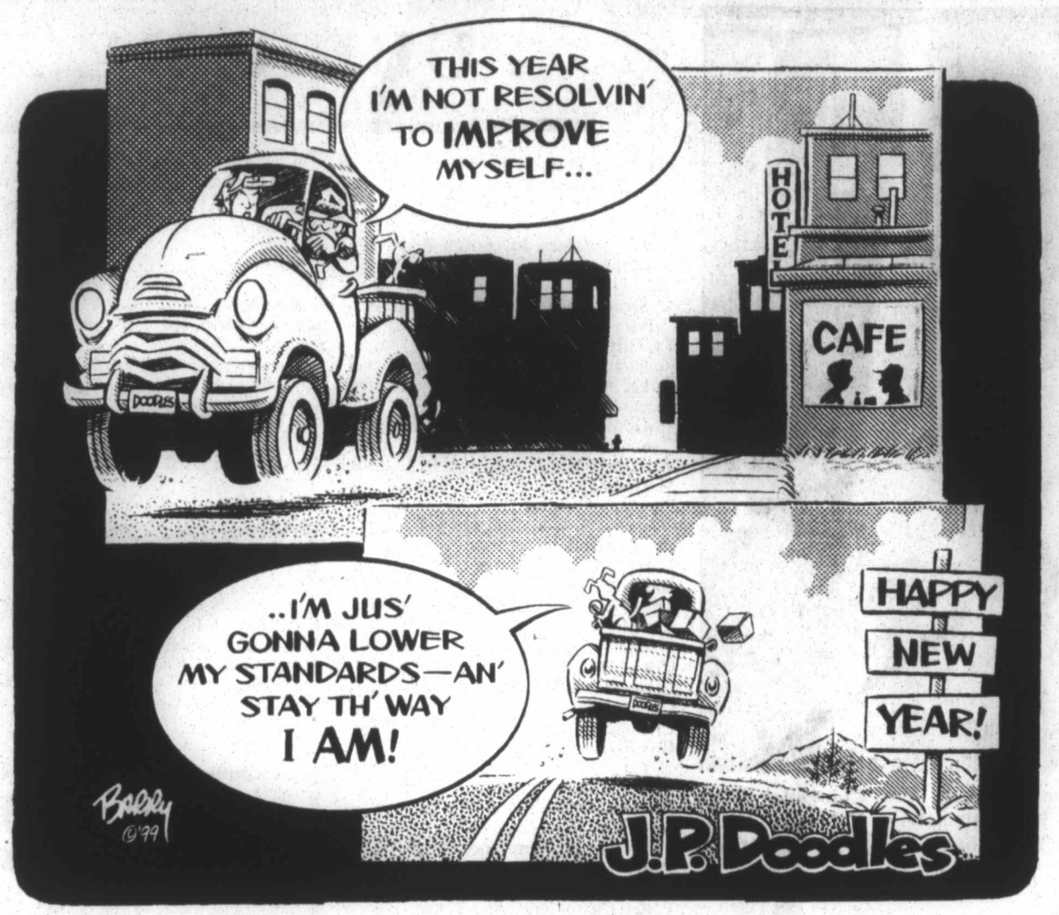

As a theologian who ministers to pastors of all denominations on all six continents, I can tell you that it's not only pastors but most of their followers who resist the truth today.

Most operate on a deceived, fleshly self-performance agenda rather than from a "Spirit of Christ" directed and controlled mind-set, thereby deceiving and misleading many people (Romans 8:14, Psalms 32:8, 73:24.

I don't know God as a God of anger or a God of get-even, for I come and seek Him and His mind in prayer and in the Bible, coming in thanks, praise, adoration, love and reverence.

I receive His strength, His power, His love and His directions, and He supplies my every need (Philippians 4:19).

Although Chapters 28-32 of Deuteronomy are under Old Testament Law and that law ended with Christ's death on Calvary's Cross, the applications of those chapters still apply for nations who have gone apostate -- and ours has!

Census counters fan out in Mitchell County, state

How many of us are there?

Mitchell Countians, Texans, Americans -- the question comes up every 10 years, and it is a lot harder to answer than it used to be.

The United States Bureau of the Census estimated in July 1996 that there were 8,594 people in the county, 19.1 million in the state and 265.3 million in the nation.

But those figures are by nature conservative, even in a small rural county like this one, because some people refuse to be counted and the one thing the government will not do is over-estimate the population.

Federal funding to schools and hospitals, political representation and a lot of other important things are based on it.

There is a joke about a Census taker who walked up to an old lady sitting on her porch and smoking a corncob pipe in the Ozarks and said, "Excuse me, I'm trying to find out how many people there are in the United States."

"Well, don't ask me," she replied. "I don't know."

The fact is, nobody knows. The final reports mean, in effect, that there are at least that many, with the most cooperative areas deriving the most benefits.

Penny Gassiot of Colorado City was the crew leader of 10 to 16 "map spotters" who worked through October and November in Mitchell, Sterling and Glasscock counties.

Their job was the first phase of the 2000 Census, identifying all the houses, apartments, garage apartments and mobile homes where people are living, tabulating the addresses and obtaining at least one name for each residence where questionnaires can be sent beginning in April 2000.

Getting addresses in the rural areas was the first phase of the Census, and now the same work will start in the cities in January and the urban areas in July.

Three women who worked in Mitchell County have already been assigned to Dallas.

People who respond to the April 1, 2000, mailings will not hear from the Census Bureau again. An enumerator, or counter, will be assigned to visit those who do not.

"It's very important that we have a good count," Ms. Gassiot said. "It determines how many representatives we have, and we're losing numbers if people don't respond.

"The questionnaires ask how much money you make, and a lot of people don't want to answer it. It's just statistical information about how many people are at the poverty level.

"All our information is confidential," she said, explaining that only statistics, not the names connected to them, are reported. "We do not share information with anyone, not even another governmental agency.

"My feelings are that if you don't want to answer it, don't answer. But go ahead and send the mailing in."

The Census Bureau has been recruiting counters and conducting training sessions in Colorado City since early last summer.

Its most recent session was on Dec. 21 in the Charles C. Thompson Room next door to City National Bank downtown.

Census Bureau official Saul Rodriguez of El Paso said Monday that the agency will continue recruiting enumerators into February.

"They're in charge of verifying addresses and living quarters and the name of one adult for the main distribution of questionnaires," Rodriguez said in a telephone interview.

"This phase is starting right now."

Rodriguez may be reached at 915-534-6000.

Ms. Gassiot has been supervised by the El Paso office, but the cities' address verifications are being handled in this area by the bureau's Lubbock office.

It expects to document more than 120 million addresses nationwide.

Those !@#$%& Basketball Players

By Tumbleweed Smith

There are a few thousand people who have been directly affected by the professional basketball players' strike.

My son, for one.

He is into sports broadcasting. He is technical director and/or on-line editor for the television broadcasts of the Texas Rangers baseball team, the Stars hockey team and the Mavericks basketball team.

These days, he's not working the Mavericks broadcasts because there is a strike by National Basketball League players, so there are no professional basketball games being played right now.

My son is only one of many whose income has been diminished because of the strike. The peanut vendors. The beer salesmen. The people who sell hot dogs and cold drinks and jackets, caps, t-shirts and other NBA merchandise. The arena people, who are scrounging around trying to find events to fill their empty arena. The braodcasters, whose fall schedule has been totally put in disarray and whose revenues have dropped drastically. The advertisers, who had planned to unleash new campaigns during the playoff games. The people who take tickets, the security people, the people who print the programs. And on and on.

The fans are not really affected. Fans are crazy, anyway. They will pay a hundred dollars to go see a bunch of rich guys in shorts bounce a ball around. They really don't care or even consider that the players' main motivation is greed.

Athletes are gifted people who play. They don't work.

They can't seem to make it on 5 million dollars a year. They need 10 million.

There is an appeal being circulated by email asking people to adopt a pro basketball player for two thousand dollars a day. It says the amount could mean the player could trade in his year-old Lexus for a new Ferrari or enjoy a weekend in Rio. Donors will get a complete financial report on the player containing detailed information about his stocks, bonds and how he plans to use the five million dollars he receives upon retirement. Those wishing to adopt a player can dial 1-800-TOO MUCH.

Although the player won't know the name of the donor, he will be able to make collect calls to the donor's home via a special operator just in case additional funds are needed for unexpected expenses.

The appeal is facetious, but it puts the situation in perspective.

Sports are bigger and more popular than ever. The players are taking advantage of the situation in a big way. The meteoric rise of salaries of people who play on professional sports teams will continue until the fans get fed up and stop buying tickets.

Meanwhile, my son is looking into real estate.

Farmers' benefits are specified

SWEETWATER — U. S. Rep. Charles Stenholm of Abilene has reported that the federal government will pay $2.5 billion in crop loss claims and $200 million for livestock feed assistance in early 1999.

Attending a Monday, Dec. 21, agricultural information forum in Nolan County Coliseum, Rep. Stenholm told an estimated 60 farmers and ranchers that the money will be paid on a pro-rated basis.

For example, he said, if the claims total twice the available money, 50 percent of each claim will be paid.

Stenholm noted that a large percentage of the livestock assistance claims have already been filed at federal Farm Service Agency offices.

A spokeswoman at the Mitchell County FSA office said Tuesday that the deadline for filing livestock claims is Feb. 5 and about half of the expected total of 130 to 140 here have been filed.

The claims will be processed at FSA headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Crop loss claims will be filed in county FSA offices between Feb. 1 and March 12 in two categories — 1998 losses and multi-year losses.

The congressman said $1.5 billion has been appropriated to help cover 1988 crop losses and $875 million for multi-year losses.

He also reported that the United States Department of Agriculture has allocated $40 million to reduce the cost of crop insurance "buy-ups."

He said that if a producer had paid $20,000 to cover up to 50 percent of his losses and wanted to increase that to 65 percent, under previous conditions the insurance would have cost $30,000.

The USDA appropriation has now reduced that expense by 25 percent, Stenholm said.

Bobby Lemons, vice president of City National Bank in Colorado City, Monday said he was disappointed that the crop loss payments probably will not be made until April.

"I felt like it would have served the farm community better if it was paid in a more timely manner," said Lemons, who attended the Sweetwater meeting.

"If I knew what the producer has got coming, I could go ahead and make a temporary loan now. They will have to wait till April to start next year's crop, and that's kind of hard to do."

Lemons noted that the crop loss and livestock feed relief legislation did not go through the House Agriculture Committee, which will be led by new Chairman Larry Combest of Lubbock and Stenholm as the ranking Democrat next year.

He said he is looking forward to an improved legislative program with those two West Texas congressmen.

He said attendance would have probably been greater at the forum if not for the bitterly cold weather that night.

It ran from 7 to 9 p.m.

MILLENNIUM

"I have seen this millennium stuff coming for the last 10 years, and now that it's here I think there is a lot of insecurity," he said. "I think that's based on where people are theologically and also socially.

"We have got such a rapidly changing society, maybe the fear and the perspective that goes with it has people grasping for something and wanting to hold onto something.

"I can't think of anything better to hold onto than the Word of God. We have to let God do God's thing in God's time and follow that lead."

Cain said he does not believe "there is any more significance in the year 2000 than there is in any other year in the history of the world.

"The Bible teaches that the return of Christ, which is what 2000 is usually connected with, is going to be at a time that is not known at all.

"First Thessalonians, Chapter Five, Verses One and Two say that Christ will return like a thief in the night, and a thief does not give signals for people to know when he's coming.

"He will come when it's least expected."

Cain was asked if there is any millennial significance in Second Peter, Chapter Three, Verse Eight, which says God considers 1,000 years to be like a day and a day to be like 1,000 years.

Some interpretations of the passage hold that it suggests the first and second millennia reflected the first two days after Jesus' crucifixion, and the third millennium is like the third day and this time, instead of the Resurrection, it will bring the Second Coming.

"All it means is that God is not bound by time at all and not that a day is literally 1,000 years," he said. "That would mean that every day you read about is 1,000 years.

"We need to be ready in 1999 and 2000 and every other year that we live on this earth."

Cain said only God knows when the world will end and not even Jesus Himself knows when He will return.

Dr. Spear said there has always been social interest in the millennia, but the end of this one should not occasion any religious expectations.

"Back in the year 1000, there was a great deal of interest and excitement and speculation," he said.

"Another factor is that our calendar is based on the birth of Jesus, and that has now been determined to be in the year 3 or 4 B. C. Actually, the 2,000-year point of His birth was in 1996 or '97, so we have already passed it

"The media and different influences try to make a great deal of it, but I don't know that there is a whole lot of theological signficance to it."

Dr. Spear said the verses in Second Peter "are simply to say that God's time frame is entirely different from the way we would think of time.

"If you're thinking about cataclysmic things like the end of the world or the Second Coming of Christ, that could happen at any time, whether it's 2000 or any other year."

New Year's Day rainy and cold

A Pacific cold front is approaching west central Texas and will bring cooler temperatures and a chance of rain on New Year's Day.

Weatherman Roger Backer of the National Weather Service in San Angelo said Tuesday afternoon that daytime high temperatures will be in the mid-60's and skies will be sunny Wednesday and Thursday.

Then the front will arrive Thursday night, driving overnight lows to near 30 degrees and holding daytime readings to around 60 on Friday and 40 to 45 on Saturday and Sunday.

Mostly light rain is expected as New Year's Day is observed on Friday.

No freezing rain is forecast.

"It looks like a cold weekend," Backer said. "The precipitation should end on Friday."

Classes resume

Fad diets discouraged

If you're going to make a New Year's resolution in 1999, how about one that says you're not going to buy any new fad-diet books to help you lose the extra pounds you put on during holiday excess?

Instead, resolve to take a "Back to Basics" approach to losing weight.

That's a resolution that's not only easy to keep, says Belinda Boshell, R.D., L.D., president of the 4,000-member Texas Dietetic Association, but also one that saves you money. The reason is that fad diets don't work.

"From Thanksgiving to New Year's Day we're deluged with a series of feasts, parties, snacks and other calorie-laden opportunities," Boshell said. "According to the Calorie Control Council, the average person puts on between 5 to 10 pounds."

Unfortunately, most Americans look for quick-fix answers once the holidays end. They seek out the latest diet that claims to produce rapid, short-term weight loss. Some may have temporary results, Boshell said, but none is the answer.

"At any one time, 50 million Americans are on some kind of weight loss," Boshell said. "But only 5 percent of those keep off any weight they may lose."

And even if fad diets did work there are other reasons to avoid them. Most fad diets promote fast, unhealthy weight loss (more than 2 pounds per week) which in the long run can work against your metabolism, making it easier to regain the weight. Another reason is tht these diets eliminate various foods. And since all foods are there for a reason - namely to provide us with nutrients - cutting out any food may cause dietary deficiencies that can affect daily performance and long-term health.

"For instance, we all need iron to stay healthy," Boshell said. "Although fruits and vegetables contain a lot of important nutrients, they are not typically rich sources of iron. For example, you'd have to eat 10 1/2 cups of raw broccoli or 21 cups of cooked corn to get the same amount of iron as in a 3-ounce serving of cooked sirloin steak. And combining vegetables with protein is a better, more balanced option."

Boshell said that the "Back to Basics" approach is based upon eating foods in moderate, balanced form. Here are the components of TDA's "Back to Basics" plan to get your physique where you want it after the holidays:

- Eat a variety of foods. Enjoy foods from all food groups.
- Choose the leanest cuts of meat. For example, lean cuts of beef can be found by looking for the work "round" or "loin" in the name.
- Cook it right. Use low-fat cooking methods such as roasting, broiling and grilling.
- Enjoy 5 a day. Eat at least five servings of fruits and vegetables daily.
- Get active. Work toward 30 minutes of moderate exercise mot days of the week.
- Plan your snacking. Bring healthy, low-fat snacks such as pretzels, yogurt, or fruit to work to eat at a specific time. Avoid the candy jar.

"For my own purposes, I've reduced these tips into my own ABC's about nutrition," Boshell said. "It helps me remember what is important. They are:

- All foods can fit. Just don't overdo the amounts.
- Balance a variety of foods with physical activity.
- Make conscious choices at mealtime and snacktime.

"Back to Basics is an ideal way to reach or maintain a healthy weight," Boshell said. "We know from years of experience that restrictive diets don't work. But with Back to Basics there's no extremes and it can fit into anyone's eating plan."

Chamber banquet nominations to be taken until Friday, Jan. 1

Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce officials were still waiting Monday for the first nomination for "Farm and Ranch Family of the Year," but they had received several for "Citizen of the Year."

A closely kept secret until the night of the awards, they are always the highlight of the annual Chamber Banquet, which will be at 7 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 6, at the Civic Center at 157 W. Second St.

Nominations will be taken through Friday at the chamber office next door to the Civic Center.

A nomination should be accompanied by a written description of why the individual or family should be recognized.

This is the 36th year that the Citizen of the Year and Farm and Ranch Family of the Year awards have been given.

Chamber spokeswoman Penny Wheeler announced that Thomas Scott of Colorado City, who travels throughout Texas and the Southwest giving motivational speeches, will be this year's featured speaker.

The banquet has been held annually since 1908.

Last year's Citizen of the Year was Bertie Kidd, who was honored for her work as a leader in the Christmas in April homes refurbishing project and numerous other philanthropic activities.

Ms. Kidd, a retired county veterans service officer, transports elderly and disabled people to physicians and on errands and helps them complete applications for assistance.

She even listens to ambulance and fire radio calls to find people who need help, said Wallace and Ware Units Warden Rodney Cooper in his presentation of the award.

She also secures releases for the demolition and recycling of abandoned buildings, having helped remove a number of them in Colorado City.

Two hundred people listened at last year's banquet as Carl and Sue Guelker were recognized for their activities in the Parent-Teacher Association at Kelley Elementary School, where their daughter attends the second grade, and in organizing the Mitchell County 4-H Club.

The Guelkers, who operate a farm and ranch near Cuthbert in the northwestern part of the county, have also been active in the Texas Farm Bureau's Young Farmers and Ranchers Program.

They were praised for their involvement in horse-related projects, the Future Farmers of America and the Mitchell County 4-H and FFA Livestock Show that is held here each January.

Guelker was a board member of the Texas Farm Bureau Association until being elected a county commissioner nine years ago.

charge.

Mrs. Jenkins was released after posting bond on Saturday, and the two men remained in jail on Monday.

The couple told the officers that they had begun traveling with Manning in California, where the load of fruit was picked up.

Sheriff Toombs said he had been in contact with the shipper of the fruit in California and the receiver in Philadelphia, Pa., and another truck was expected to arrive here to transfer the load.

He said Jenkins' truck, a 1994 Peterbilt with a refrigerated trailer, will be held here until it can be determined if the amount owed on it will make it feasible for the truck to be seized under state drug forfeiture laws and sold.

Greetings. We hope this is a continuing happy holiday season for you.

A brand spanking new year is here again, so, work hard to make it a good one. May the bird of paradise bring you and your loved ones everything you need this New Year and some of the things you wish for.

"I don't really know, but I think he died."

"Loraine Manor"

Residents at the Manor enjoyed a Christmas party on the 19th with famly, friends and staff.

"Christmas Fun Fare"

During the last days of Christmas in a large department store the frenzied clerk was making out what she hoped would be her last sales check for the day. As the customer gave her name and address, the clerk remarked, "It's a madhouse, isnt it?"

"No," the customer replied, "it's a private home!"

A young man from Utah sent his best girl this Christmas greeting. "You are a dear sweet girl, may God bless you and keep you. I wish I could afford to."

My Christmas gifts included a sampler stitched by my little niece. She had patiently cross-stitched this misquotation: "Let me live in a house by the side of a road and be friendly with men."

Thank you so much for giving me your news this past year. Yes, people are interested in you and yours. This not only holds true for readers in the county but for out-of-town subscribers as well. May God bless you! Keep calling. Happy New Year! 737-2751

Bassham hits game winner

The Colorado City Wolves opened the Hawley tournament with an impressive 60-59 overtime win over the Anson Tigers.

Will Bassham led the Pack in scoring with 14 points, including a game-winning three-point shot in the last six seconds of overtime.

Bassham made six out of six freethrows to lead the Pack but Justin Matthews made a couple of crucial foul shots in OT to help seal the win.

"Justin Matthews hit two freethrows late (in overtime) that were big. He had been on the line before in our first ballgame against Ballinger and made two of three freethrows to send that one into overtime," said coach Barry Kimball.

"So Justin had been on the line before in a pressure situation and it payed off this time," added Kimball.

Matthews had ten points in the game, just behind Chase Phariss, who had 11 points and was five of eleven from the line.

Justin Hill had 12 points and went two for eight from the foul line.

Ian Bassham and Brett Hoyle both had five points and Ty Wood scored two in the win.

The lead changed hands in this game several times as the Wolves were down three points after the first period, but were up by two at the half.

After three periods of play, the Pack was down 42-40, but came back to force overtime as they tied the game at 54 in regulation.

The 4-4 Wolf Pack shot 19 of 36 from the charity stripe.

The Wolves play in the Championship round at 2:30 Tuesday and must get past a tough Merkel Badger basketball team to have a shot at winning the tournament.

Coach Kimball is focused on turning the boys' program at CHS around and the key-word is 'execute'.

"The one big thing we're trying to get done is for the boys to execute on both offense and defense, and to do that we are going to have to break some bad habits that they have developed," said Kimball.

"They are trying to learn to play the way I want them to play and that's what we're trying to get them to do... execute my system," said the first year CHS coach.

A graduate from Kermit High School, coach Kimball coached b-ball in Idalou for five years and Brownwood for a year before coming to CISD.

The Wolves were lined up to meet Kermit in Stanton at the Hooptown Classic, but coach K's clash with his alma mater never happened as the tournament was cancelled because of bad weather.

The 'forecast' for district play has Colorado City facing Seminole January 8 at the Pit.

The Indians, ranked in the top-ten in the state, bring two all-state players to town and hopefully, a 'cold front' will meet them between here and Snyder.

Seminole is probably the Wolves' toughest district foe, however Lamesa puts a pretty salty team on the floor as well.

"They (Lamesa) dropped down from 4A this year and went to the state tournament last year and they have lost some kids but they have a lot of tradition and some good guard play," said Kimball.

It is shaping up to be a battle in 3-3A, with C-City, Slaton, Brownfield and Denver City all wanting to get a piece of Seminole and Lamesa, not to mention each other.

District starts for Bulldogs

The Loraine Bulldogs boys' and girls' varsity basketball teams begin district play against Hermleigh next Tuesday.

The boys face a Cardinal team that hasn't hit full speed yet with an 0-9 record.

However, the Bulldogs have also started off slowly this season with only a 2-6 record.

The boys lost 66-42 to Klondike at the Klondike Cotton Classic December 28 and were scheduled to play Estacado's JV unit at 1:30 Tuesday.

The 'Dogs are getting some great experience in preparation for the district opener in Hermleigh.

The 4-4 Lady Bulldogs face the 8-4 Lady Cardinals and must stop Jennifer Roemisch, who averages 22 points a game for Hermleigh.

The ladies got clobbered by Klondike 60-30 in the tourney opener and are to play Morton at noon Tuesday.

Both teams hit the road to Hermleigh Tuesday, January 5 and the girls play at 6:30 followed by the boys' game at 8:00 pm.

Colorado City woman attends Dallas seminar

Retirement Planning and technology utilization were among the topics discussed by some of America's leading investment authorities at a training conference held recently in Dallas, Texas.

Nicole Smith of Colorado City was one of more than 1200 financial professionals attending "National '98: Investing in Your Future." The National conference is an annual event hosted by H.D. Vest Financial Services, one of the largest financial services firms in the United States.

During the four-day event, Smith and her peers were introduced to strategies and techniques for effectively utilizing the latest industry software to assist them in furthering value added client service. Advanced sessions focused on examining critical issues facing the financial professional: retirement planning and insurance needs analysis.

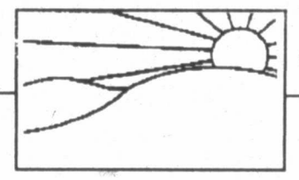

Keynote speakers at the conference included Ted Van Dyke, executive vice president and COO of the Milken Institute, a nonprofit economic policy institute, and Nick Murray, author of The Excellent Investment Advisor.

"The National conference is where H.D. Vest demonstrates on a large scale our commitment to continued education," says Herb D. Vest, chairman, CEO and president of H.D. Vest. "The marketplace demands financial advisors stay on top of information, trends and regulations. The best way to give our Registered Representatives an edge in this highly competitive industry is to give them a forum where they can increase their general and technical knowledge, while continually enhancing their ability to apply this information for their clients' benefit."

Headquartered in Irving, Texas, H.D. Vest provides financial services, including mutual funds and insurance to an estimated 1.8 million Americans and small businesses through its nationwide network of over 6,200 affiliates.
