Texas G.O.P. Is Expected To Nominate Bullington As Republican Color Bearer

Lone Star State Republicans Gather for Pre-Primary Conference to Discuss Chances in Election.

FORT WORTH, May 21.—(AP)—The forces of Texas republicanism were assembled here today to plan the fight against the ancient fortress of the democratic party in Texas and to crush incipient revolt within the party.

A meeting of the executive committee, at which Eugene Nolte of Seguin, chairman, presided, selected a temporary organization for the statewide informal convention tomorrow and discussed the state of the party from many angles.

The temporary organization consists of Charles P. Napier, of San Antonio, chairman; Leonard Withington of Fort Worth, secretary and parliamentarian, and Charles Beck of Hillsboro, sergeant-at-arms.

Leaders agreed that the forces set afoot today will be used not only to conduct the state campaign, but also to strive for eventual supremacy in the fight for party control and federal patronage which already has begun.

The shadow of the Harry Wurzbach fight fell across the deliberations several times and elicited warm rebuke from several speakers. Beneath the placid surface of primary details and exhortations for teamwork, were the emotions stirred by the attack made on the state organization by the republican congressman from the 14th district and it was not denied that this fight was inspired by desires to control the party machinery.

This situation also was admitted by R. B. Creager of Brownsville, national committeeman, who with Mr. Nolte has been the chief target for Wurzbach's charge that the party machinery was being used solely to control patronage.

There was no discussion within the meeting on candidates, but in conversations outside, the names of the three men were prominently mentioned to bear the gubernatorial standard. They

'JIM' ASSAILED BY DAN MOODY

Candidate Blames Bond Values on Fear of Calling Solons

MADISONVILLE, Texas, May 21. (A. P.)—The Ferguson refusal to call a special session of the legislature to protect the credit of Texas was forced as an issue in the governorship race here Friday by Dan Moody, opponent of Mrs. Ferguson. "Jim Ferguson puts his own political fortunes above the welfare of the state and I predict he will not permit his wife to convene the legislature to take all kinds of Texas bonds off the bargain counter, at least until after the primaries are over," Moody declared before an audience estimated at more than 4,000 people Friday afternoon.

It was his first of two speeches here Friday. Moody also delivered the commencement address for Madisonville high school Friday night. W. H. Smith introduced Mr. Moody for the school address and also for the campaign speech.

"Jim Ferguson knows if the legislature were to meet now it would investigate the action of the Ferguson administration," Moody asserted in his political address. 'He doesn't think the Ferguson candidacy would have a chance in the world if the legislature were turned on the affairs of the past 12 months. No, there will be no session before September first and the cost of a session would be infinitesimal compared with what the taxpayers of Texas are having to pay because all their bonds have been threatened on the bargain counter.

"It's the same thing as their paying this money to help out the Fergusons' political cause which has been put above the welfare of the state. I favor an immediate session and if the Fergusons had the welfare of Texas at heart instead of office holding they would convene it, investigation or no investigation."

G. C. Owen, Confederate veteran, walked 11 miles from Mecca to hear the candidate. Moody called for everybody satisfied with road maintenance to hold up their hands. No hands showed. "I even see the contractor himself and he does not seem to be satisfied," Moody said. Two ministers were among the dozen men seated on the platform.

WHITTEMORE'S FUTURE UP TO DISTRICT JUDGE

"Candy Kid" Bandit Found Guilty of Murdering Policeman

TURNS ON PROSECUTOR

Wife Faints as Jury Reads Verdict, Omitting Life Sentence

BALTIMORE, May 21.—(AP)—Richard Reese Whittemore was found guilty of murder in the first degree late today by a jury that deliberated one hour and five minutes. The penalty, death by hanging or life imprisonment, rests with Criminal Court Judge Eugene O' Dunne.

The "candy kid" turned suddenly savage as he heard his life turned over to the discretion of Judge O'Dunne. As he was led from the room he spat viciously in the face of State's Attorney Herbert R. O'Connor. O'Connor is only two years older than the convicted slayer.

Mrs. Margaret Whittemore fainted when the jury foreman, J. H. Bauer, pronounced the verdict without adding the words "without capital punishment," which would definitely have saved her husband from the ropes. Earlier she had for the first time broken into tears as O'Connor demanded her man's life.

Judge O'Dunne announced he would impose sentence next week. Edgar Allen Poe, Whittemore's counsel did not immediately indicate whether he would appeal.

Survey Shows Swan Never Quits Mate

WASHINGTON, May 21.—According to the biological survey of the department of agriculture, there is no such thing as divorce in the swan family. Once the swan mates, it is for life.

The department suggests that a pair of swans make an interesting attraction for a private lake or pond.

"Swans are slow to mate," it was asserted, "but they remain mated, permanently." This fact is cited to guide persons in purchases.

Western Customs Result in Death Of Humble Citizen

HOUSTON, May 21.—(AP)—Western customs established in cattle days rose to the fore again in Harris county late Friday and left in their wake the dead body of "Slim" Fields, 45, killed near Humble.

Ed B. Tyson, about 30, is in Harris county jail charged with murder as a result of a pistol battle between the two near Humble, when they met and shot it out.

CITY OF PARIS RUNS FRIED FISH SHOPS

Paris, May 21.—Municipal peripatetic fried fish stalls were introduced some time ago into Paris with the object of providing cheap food ready cooked in the poorer districts. At first they did not appear to have much success, but they have now been overhauled and are again to take up their stations in various parts of the capital.

There has even been a ministerial inauguration. Especially in the busy hours of midday it is expected that the municipal stalls will prove to be a boon. At any rate the experiment will be continued until March next year, and it will then be decided whether the support has been sufficient to justify the continuance of this unusual enterprise.

POOLROOM WORKER DIES WEALTHY MAN

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 21.—For years as he earned a meager existence as a poolroom attendant here, Sylvester, "Dick" Shay, for nearly 50 years a resident of Vancouver, dreamed of the day when fortune would come to him through a family estate in England.

Lee's Legions, Flags Unfurled Pass In Review

Thinning Line of Gray, Falteringly, Marches In Parade

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 21.—(AP)—With battle flags unfurled once more the legions that followed Lee and Jackson moved in review here today before an admiring populace in their annual reunion parade.

It was a notable spectacle in many respects. The thinning line of gray embraced just a few more than 3,000 men, the smallest roll call since the sixties. The depleted army was said by its chieftains to have been accorded "the greatest reception since the war."

For several hours Confederate veterans, their sons, daughters, grand children wended their way along the line of march while one of the biggest crowds in the history of Birmingham looked on.

Young women dressed in costumes in vogue in the sixties, furnished an atmosphere of other days.

TEXAS TO GET FUTURES MART

Dallas Exchange Considers Change In Cotton Trading

DALLAS, May 21.—(AP)—Plans for making Dallas the first cotton future trading center of Texas, and the fourth in the United States, were discussed here today by directors of the Dallas Cotton exchange.

A committee of four was charged to inquire thoroughly into the feasibility of the proposal.

Dallas long has been one of the principal spot cotton markets of the south, but never has been a market for futures trading. The only cotton futures markets in the United States now are at New York, Chicago, and New Orleans.

Proponents of the Dallas plan say its operation will not contravene in any way the state law against so-called "bucketshops," as actually delivery is contemplated if such a market is established here.

Discussing the proposal at today's meeting, Louis M. Bourne, president of the Dallas Cotton Exchange said:

"If southern delivery against future contracts in the New York and New Orleans future markets is adopted there is no good reason why the Dallas market should not organize a futures exchange for the southwest.

CROWD SEES STONE CRUSH WORKMAN

CHICAGO, May 21.—A crowd of several hundred persons, watching Walter Crate, electrical contractor, elevate a sign to the top of the Walsh building in Joliet, saw him killed when a stone, 2x3 feet, was loosened from the coping of the building and fell on him, killing him instantly.

When a Wichitan Hunted For Oil Under the North Star's Glitter

These Women Know What They Want In Washington—And They Get It

The ridgepole of Santa Claus' castle etched an icy shadow less than five years ago that guided a Wichita Falls man and a party of hardy explorers in long weeks of weary exploration for oil deposits in the Arctic.

The shadow of the Norge and of Byrd's big monoplane threw a fleeting cloud over ice locked waters that Harry Campbell, local geologist, trod with weary feet back in 1921. Point Barrow, Wainright and other names synonomous with the domain of the polar bear and northern light were explored — perhaps with too much detail for his own comfort, by Campbell.

What he found there; the details of his arduous journey; his discovery of oil seepages under the glint of the north star; forced marches to stake claims before a rival party of explorers reached the field—all this and more has been related by Campbell in an absorbing story told to the Record News.

Fully illustrated with pictures he took on the ground.

They know what they want and they know how to get it!

They work with a night-stick or a lip-stick—it's all the same. Their methods have been adjusted to the modern, mechanical, moving-picture, radio, salesmanship age. They constitute one of the smoothest running, most perfectly oiled, swiftest, most nearly silent machines ever put in operation in the national capitol for the purpose of making congressmen see the handwriting on the wall, and fall over themselves to read it right.

Who are they? They're the woman wire pullers on the job in Washington. They have a remarkable organization that thinks congressional dignity is a new tint in face powders.

You'll howl in glee at the revelations; you'll see how they do it, and still you'll wonder about it, Oliver P. Newman, former president of the board of commissioners of the District of Columbia, has written a series of articles that have a punch, a laugh and a thrill.

W. F. GRADUATES GET DIPLOMAS AT EXERCISES

High School And Junior College Students Are Praised

GRIEDER TALKS

Tell Potential Leaders What They Should do to Help Country

Another milestone in the life of young Wichita Falls was passed Friday night when diplomas were delivered to 131 students of the Wichita Falls high school and 42 graduates of the Wichita Falls Junior college, a presentation symbolical of their successful travesement of the rocky road of early education. All Wichita Falls was represented at the college auditorium and listened attentively to the program of the evening.

Rev. Daniel E. Grieder of the First Presbyterian church gave the commencement address when he talked on "The Symphony of Life."

Three things he urged the high school and college graduates to do as they leave the halls of the institution; think for themselves, be intellectually honest: and be harmonious within themselves.

Be Honest.

"Be intellectually honest and have less intellectual hypocrisy. I believe the young people of today are crying out for that thing. You are more intent on getting the truth than the young people of any other age," he declared.

Rev. Grieder told the graduating classes he believed that more unhappiness in the work was caused by the exalted ideal of what the world owes them than from any other cause.

"The world owes you nothing except a chance. Be socially conscientious," he told the seniors. "Ours is the heritage of all the world's sacrifices, and it behooves you and me and college and high school graduates to be socially conscientious and receive what is our heritage: but also to return to the world a part of that which the world has given us."

In conclusion he urged the young people to be spiritually awake and not to be lost entirely to materialism but to learn that the real meaning of life is found in spiritual realities.

Miss Alvis Honored.

At the opening of the commencement exercises, Miss Winnifred Alvis, director of the high school orchestra, was called to the platform for the number not announced on the program. On behalf of the orchestra, she was presented with a pearl handled baton, presented by James Giddings, member of the orchestra. The overture, "William Tell," was played.

Rev. W. H. Townsend, pastor of the Lamar Avenue Baptist church, said the invocation. The diplomas to the high school students were presented by Judge W. B. Chauncey, president of the board of education.

Judge Chauncey made a brief address in which he expressed appreciation of the board for the splendid work done by the officers and teachers for the year of school, which has been the best in the history of the public school system, he thought, opinion of the board.

The college diplomas were presented by Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of city schools and president of the college. He announced that in addition to diplomas from the institution, those who had taken certain required courses in education would be granted certificates to teach school, two years for high school teaching and for four years in the elementary schools.

Presentation of the Talbert medal to the winner of the extemporaneous speaking prize among high school students was made by J. Wilkie Talbert, donor, to Oscar Powers.

Frank Haley presented the Haley medal to William Atkinson for the winner of the extemporaneous speaking prize among college students.

Medal Presented.

J. T. Camp, representative of the Lions club, presented to Miss Isla Cothran the Lions club medal for being the best individual debater in the college.

S. H. Rider, dean of the college, awarded the scholarships to the honor students of the high school, Miss Evelyn Hardeman, who had the highest scholastic average among the girls, and Oscar Powers among the boys.

He read a list of the students who have a clear attendance record. Two were outstanding, and he called attention to the fact that Evelyn Hardeman and Hazel Dell Herring had been neither tardy nor absent during the past seven years of school.

The benediction was said by Rev. Grieder.

Braves Mexican Edict

MISS LIBBIE COOK

PROVO, Utah, May 21.—In spite of the war Mexico is waging against the churches, Miss Libbie Cook, who has won the distinction of being the most popular girl at the Brigham Young university here, has accepted a position as instructor at the Juarez academy in Mexico, a school supported by the "Mormon" church.

Mexico's threat does not frighten this fair "Mormon" miss from Utah. She will teach physical education and dramatic art.

Miss Cook came to Brigham Young university from Paris, Idaho, four years ago, and due to her cheerful manner and her helpful spirit she soon won the hearts of the students with whom she came in contact. Last year she was elected vice president of the Associated Women. She will be graduated in June with a bachelor's degree.

She has had a thorough training in all of the subjects which she will attempt to teach in Mexico.

Earl Promised 'Em a 'Wow' 'And It Didn't Disappoint, 'According to Some Who Saw

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Testimony that Joyce Hawley, a show girl, actually was in a bath tub from which men drank champagne at a party given by Earl Carroll, theatrical producers, was recorded in his trial for perjury today. Arthur F. Irwin, a reported for the Daily Mirror, gave this testimony after introductory testimony yesterday.

Carroll is charged with having denied that liquor was served in his testimony before a grand jury which investigated the "the bath tub party" given on the stage of his theatre.

Irwin said he took two drinks of champagne from the tub before Miss Hawley entered it. In his testimony yesterday he named several prominent persons among the guests and at adjournment of court for the day had just testified that he saw some one in the tub.

He said on the stand today that Carroll himself invited the guests to line up and have Miss Hawley serve them drinks from the tub in which she was sitting.

Phillip A Payne, managing editor of the Daily Mirror, testified Carroll told him the tub was filled with wine.

"Don't go away, I'm going to pull a little wow of a stunt," Payne said Carroll told him as he was about to leave the theatre. "I'm going to have a girl take a bath in a tub of wine."

Payne said he asked Carroll if it would be all right to publish the story of the wine bath.

"Go as far as you like," Payne said Carroll told him.

Guests were sitting in orchestra seats, Payne said. The bath tub was in the center of the stage. A girl in negligee approached Carroll, who was standing by the tub, he said. Carroll removed from the shoulders of another girl a green cloak and placed it on the girl in negligee.

As Carroll held the green coat over her shoulders, Payne said, the fluffy negligee garments were seen to drop to the floor. With Carroll still holding the green coat, Payne said, the girl stepped into the tub and Carroll removed the cloak.

"The line forms to the right!" Payne said Carroll shouted, turning to the guests in the orchestra seats.

Guests formed in a line to the right of the tub, Payne said, and drank from glasses filled with the wine taken from the tub.

"Did you drink out of the tub?" Payne was asked.

"I did not."

"Was Mr. Carroll there at this time?"

"He was."

"How long was Miss Hawley in the tub?"

"Five or ten minutes."

Asked if he saw Miss Hawley leave the tub Payne replied in the negative. He said the tub was pushed off stage while Miss Hawley was in it.

Scientist Says Old Earth's Crust Is Growing Warmer

WAHINGTON, May 21.—The earth's crust is constantly getting hotter and in time it will completely liquify. It has happened many times before. At least that is what Professor John Joly of the University of Dublin told the Royal Astronomical society at London, says the Pathfinder. But the present generation need not worry. Professor Joly says it will take from 30,000,000 to 50,000,000 years for this metamorphosis of the earth to come about.

His theory is that the lower layer of the earth's crust, upon which the continents and oceans floors rest is continually becoming warmer from the heat of the interior. In millions of years the entire formation of the earth will be changed; it will crack and sink until about nine-tenths of its present area is submerged, beneath molten lava.

Tail Spin Starts Trouble Apparently For Student

DALLAS, May 21.—(AP)—Two men were killed when their airplane crashed to earth from 3,000 feet where it went into a tail spin here early tonight at Love flying field. The dead are C. E. Boxford of Dallas, and E. L. Burray, Madill, Okla.

The men went up at dusk and had been soaring over the field for only a few minutes when others nearby saw them fall in a tail spin. A few hundred feet down, a wing ripped off the plane and fell separately to earth.

Boxford was just learning to fly, it was said. Several other planes were in the air when the other fell.

Murray had taken Boxford up for a lesson. It was the judgement of mechanics that Boxford attempted to bring the machine out of the tail spin too quickly and the great pressure broke the struts of one wing.

Witnesses said Boxford leaped from the plane as it fell, but Murray remained in the cockpit.

Miriam to Speak In Auditorium As Labor Band Plan

SAN ANTONIO, May 21.—(AP) Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, will speak at the municipal auditorium next Thursday night, as originally announced by them from Austin.

The Union Labor band will play a concert prior to the addresses, according to F. E. Alsbury, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who is arranging the band concert and the political meeting.

In engaging the auditorium Albury said it was for the band concert, resulting in confusion when the Ferguson announcement was made in Austin. Jean Wildenstein, manager of the auditorium, said that the date announced by the Fergusons for their meeting had been taken by the band. Alsbury went to Wildenstein today and set everything right by announcing that the concert will be a party of the political meeting.

Oregon Balloting In Primary Vote

PORTLAND, Ore., May 21.—(AP) Oregon went to the polls today in a primary election in which a spectacular contest for the republican nomination for United States senator was one of the outstanding features. Eight candidates, one of them an avowed wet and the other dry, were the candidates.

SALMON PLANTING TRIED IN PACIFIC

VICTORIA, B. C., May 21.—A cross continent trip awaits millions of young Atlantic salmon which this summer will find themselves dumped unceremoniously into the Pacific ocean and given the option of sinking or swimming in its unfamiliar waters. This project is to be the Canadian government's supreme effort to establish Atlantic salmon on its western coast, which at present is occupied by swarms of another species of the same family of fish. Similar experiments although on a smaller scale, have been unsuccessful in the past as have also attempts to transport oysters and lobsters from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Government experts confess themselves unable to explain why the fish will not survive in the change in environment.

NATION THRIVES GARY DECLARES

Head of Steel Corporation Sees Era of Prosperity At Present

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Basic industrial conditions in this country at the present time, taking into account all that could be truthfully said for and against, are very much better than the average and on the whole about as good as they have ever been, perhaps better, Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, said today in addressing the members of the American Iron and Steel Institute. He is president of the institute.

"We are at peace with all the nations of the globe and this is likely to continue," he said. "Labor conditions are generally peaceful and quiet . . . Money is plentiful, the per capita circulation is very large, interest rates are low and every responsible, worthy applicant finds no difficulty in obtaining funds for legitimate purposes. The banks are strong and well managed, the bankers are fair and accommodating and have the full confidence of the general public.

"The people are at work: they are disposed to economize; they are, in the main, sober and law abiding, and not inclined towards extravagance, although there are some striking exceptions manifested in some localities. As a rule wages are fair and reasonable, although in certain lines outrageously high. The law of supply and demand sooner or later will bring these matters to a just and proper regulation."

While expressly stating that "there is no desire or intention to provoke discussion, must less controversy, nor to do more than to hint at the position and disposition of employers in this country," Mr. Gary reiterated his stand for the "open shop" which, he said, "permits a man to do work whenever and wherever he is disposed and can agree with his employer."

Proper Compensation.

"Employers insist," he added, "that labor should always receive proper and adequate compensation, depending upon the financial ability of the employer and that the employe should be humanely treated; that the welfare of the employe and his family should be of high and constant consideration by the employer; that his person, his health, his comfort, should be protected and safeguarded; that he should be considered an associate and not an inferior; that so far as practicable he should be given an opportunity to purchase an interest in the business he is connected with, having the same rights, advantages and responsibilities and standing on the same basis as all other stockholders; also that he should be subjected to the same restrictions concerning behavior.

"We do not believe that he should be entitled to a voice in the management of the employer's property or business unless he has a pecuniary interest and corresponding responsibilty. It would not be logical or right of one should clam and recieve without voluntary consent of the owner, the right to manage the property or business of the latter without liability or obligation for results—whether it be in the factory, the shop, the office or the dwelling."

Johnson of Dallas, Seaman Fisher, advertising manager of the Texas Light and Power company of Dallas; Dale Rogers of Houston and W. A. Garabrant of Beaumont. Out of this committee grew a large committee composed of John W. Carpenter, general manager of the Texas Light and Power company of Dallas; J. A. Kemp, capitalist, of Wichita Falls; W. W. Crowford of Waco; Gus F. Taylor of Tyler; Ben E. Keith of Fort Worth; Colonel Ernest Thompson of Amarillo; Eugene H. Blout of Mercedes; Porter A. Whaley, manager of the West Texas chamber of commerce of Samford; James P. Simpson, of Dallas; Will C. Hogg of Houston; E. L. Aschcroft of Sulphus Springs.

"The purpose of the movement is to tell the world about the advantages of Texas," says Mr. Hogg. The eyes of the country are on Texas and we believe this is the opportune moment to tell the people what we have here."

The advisory committee expects to enlist all the commercial bodies of the state in the campaign.

Texas Seed Expert Resigns Her Post

AUSTIN, May 21.—(AP)—Miss Mary E. Woodward, sed analyst of the Texas department of agriculture, has resigned effective June 1, to accept a position in the research department of the New York state experiment station, J. M. Delcurto, federal and state plant pathologist, announced today.

Miss Woodward has been with the Texas department since the seed laws were enacted six years ago, and through her work has saved the farmers and seed dealers of Texas millions of dollars, Delcurto said. She build up the seed laboratory department from a few samples a day to 4,000 a year. She is a graduate of the University of Illinois and is an expert on germination tests and classifications of seeds.

ELECTRA

MISS WOODS HOSTESS

Miss Dellia Mae Woods was the delightful hostess to a costume party at her home on east Harrison avenue Wednesday evening. Games and stunts were enjoyed, including a cracker eating contest in which Miss Norma Hart and Melvin Rogers were participants in the contest and they made a tie of eating the crackers being awarded a prize each. Other games as "the traveler," a relay race, a peanut race and the Chinese game were played. Mrs. J. H. Woods received the prize in a guessing contest. Miss Eloise Gafford read two selections and then a delicious plate luncheon with spring flowers as favors in keeping with the costumes of every nation was served in the dining room. After the luncheon, competent judges were chosen and the characters represented formed a line of march through the rooms to be judged. There were three who were selected as the most original with a final decision being given in favor of Miss Eloise Gafford who was dressed as an Indian princess, wearing the original Cherokee head gear, moccasins and beads. Dancing was enjoyed the latter part of the afternoon, by radio music.

Those present were Misses Alma Moore, Ruby Griffin, Norma Hart, Lucy Whitesides, Eloise Gafford, Mrs. J. T. Woods and the hostess. Messrs. Hugh Nesbit, Harry Norwood, Hillard White, Henry Edwards, Cecil Matherson, R. T. Mankins, Melvin Rogers, J. H. Woods and Jack Woods.

Mrs. C. E. McGlaughlin honored her daughter, Ruby's twelfth birthday at the family residence on east Cleveland avenue. The young guests arrived at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and remained until 10 o'clock in the evening playing games and dancing. A very interesting Charleston contest in which Marie Nelms was the winner for the girls and Earl Millhollon for the boys, was held. The honoree sang "Where Did Robinson Cruso Go With Friday on Saturday Night?" and a number of games were played. The young hostess received many lovely gifts. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and lemonade was served. Those present were Misses Oleta Jones, Lavena Chapman, Louise Nelms, Ione Gibbens, Jenice Johnson, Pauline Birdsong, Irene Cooper, Nellie Whisenant, Marie Nelms, Marie Simmons, Lillian Hipps and the honoree. Decorations of yard flowers, poppies, honey suckle, roses and larkspur were used. In the games Mrs. J. W. Gookin won the club prize and Mrs. R. G. PASS DIVIDEND

CHICAGO, May 21.—(AP)—Directors of Armour and company today omitted the quarterly dividend on class A stock, but declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 3-4 per cent on the preferred stock. Omission was attributed to losses in the early part of the present year and had been largely forecast in financial circles. The A stock had been on an 8 per cent annual basis since reorganization of the company two years ago.

State Condemns Big Seed Supply

AUSTIN, May 21.—(AP)—J. M. Delcurto, federal and state plant pathologist, announced today that 65 carloads of various kinds of seeds, valued at $97,500 have been withheld from the market because of fraudulent classifications. This will save the farmers more money than the legislature appropriates for the maintenance of the agriculture department, Delcurto said.

"If these defective seed had not been discovered by our inspectors, many farmers would have lost their crops as most of the seeds would not have germinated," Delcurto said. "Those that would have germinated would not produce good stands, and probably millions of dollars have been saved the farmers."

PATRICIAN DEFEATED BY A PLEBIAN

CAUTIOUS CALVIN COOLIDE was given another shock when he read the primary election returns from Pennsylvania. His friend, Senator George Wharton Pepper, went down in defeat. Senator Pepper had voted for the world court proposal. He had lined up for every administration measure. He hoped to be senator for another term of six years.

Andrew W. Mellon is the third richest man in America. He is the secretary of the treasury. He has been acclaimed by his admirers as the second Alexandra Hamilton in American history. President Coolidge maintained an attitude of icy silence throughout the campaign. He permitted Secretary Mellon to do the talking.

Secretary Mellon declared that a vote for Pepper was a vote for the Coolidge administration, and that all republicans were expected to do their duty on primary election day, defeat Governor Clifford S. Pinchot and send Congressman William S. Vare back to the garbage wagons of his father.

Secretary Mellon had behind him the Mellons and their millions of Pittsburgh; the manufacturers and their millions of Pennsylvania; the federal office holders and their retainers who vote as they are directed to vote. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are republican Gibraltars; they are the wettest spots on the map of Pennsylvania.

Vare hails from Philadelphia; Pepper is a native son of Philadelphia and the scion of one of the proundest and oldest families of the commonwealth. Gifford S. Pichot bears an honored name, he is a man of large fortune and a republican progressive in politics.

Pinchot made prohibition enforcement and the destruction of gang rule his slogan. He ran third in the primary election. Pepper declared for enforcement of the prohibition laws, and the support of the Coolidge administration and ran second; Vare, who came up from the ranks and whose wealth came from garbage and other municipal contracts, ran as a wet and won the republican nomination for United States senator.

It was a black eye, a body blow in a sense, for the Mellons and all their followers of high or low degree. It has been the proud boast of Pennsylvania republicans that they have ever represented in the senate by gentlemen of birth and breeding and wealth. Now a commoner fresh from the ranks of lowly commoners is their candidate for a seat in senate halls.

He is the son of a contractor, he was a contractor himself before he entered politics; he was the lieutenant of Boise Penrose; he has risen from an humble beginning to the boss-ship of the republicans of the third American city and has taken a senatorship prize away from the third richest man in America and the consolidated wealth of the multi-millionaires of Pennsylvania.

When Boise Penrose died, Andrew W. Mellon and John S. Grundy of Pittsburgh, the two leading pillars of finance and big business of Pennsylvania, became the inside bosses of the organization in the banner republican state, and placed in the senate James Wharton Pepper and David S. Reed, men of wealth and culture, lawyers of distinguished ability and who faithfully represent in the senate the vast interests of their state.

Now, Vare, who came up from the ranks, has displaced Pepper and is the undisputed boss of the great city of Philadelphia, and if he wins an election to the senate, will be in a position to give instead of take orders from the titans of finance and manufacturers, Mellon and Grundy.

He swept Philadelphia by 220,000 majority. He is a wet and demands the modification of the Volstead act. Instead of being a retainer or messenger in the republican palace of mammon, he is determined to be one of the lords of the house of mammon of big business and issue orders to his former masters.

He ran a candidate for governor, Edward S. Beidleman against John S. Fisher, named by Messrs. Mellon and Grundy, and the Vare candidate fell short of an election by a few thousand votes. In the wet city of Pittsburgh, where the Mellons are all powerful, the wets voted for Fisher and this saved the day for Fisher and saved the faces of the Mellons and Grundys.

Boss Vare drove General Medley M. Butler out of Philadelphia. Boss Vare has humbled the pride and shattered the influence of the second Alexandra Hamilton and his cohorts in the second American state in point of population and wealth.

Now what will the voters of Pennsylvania do at the coming November election?

BE OF GOOD COURAGE

IT is impossible to go through this life without discouragements. Troubles of one kind or another will come and must be met manfully as possible. To train oneself to be calm and look disaster in the face, trying to see clearly a way out is a task for the man of highest courage.

"The higher type of man," says Confucious, "is calm and serene; the inferior man is constantly agitated and worried.

"The princely man never for a single instant quits the path of virtue; in times of storm and stress he remains in it as fast as ever."

One of our modern teachers, Minot O. Simons, quotes from the Old Testament: "As thy days, so shall thy strength be." "This," he says, "is a helpful conviction with which to face each day's experience. There are rallying points within us about which our powers may gather and prevent defeat.

"I have seen people discouraged even by the fear of failure. And because of that fear they failed, but a little courage would have prevented the failure.

"Why make a bad matter worse by letting go in discouragement. You have the power in you to be unbeaten. Turn on the power. Or better, order the flags out, set the band to playing, aud put on your white gloves as did the officers in a naval disaster when they knew the ship was doomed.

"You lose heart just at the point where courage would give you victory," he quotes. "Command your forces with a mighty will! Rouse a brave mind! The power is yours, take it. You should carry yourself in the face of all opposition as though everything were ephemeral but yourself.'"

And in case you have not read VanDyke's recipe for courage and happiness as set forth in his "Footpath to Peace," it is quoted here:

"To be glad of life because it gives you the chance to love and to work and to play and to look up at the stars; to be contented with your possessions, but not satisfied with yourself until you have made the best of them; to despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness, and to fear nothing except cowardice; to be governed by your admirations rather than by your disgusts; to covet nothing that is your neighbor's except his kindness of heart and gentleness of manner, to think seldom of your enemies, often of your friends and every day of Christ, and to spend as much time in God's out-of-doors—these are little as you can with body and with spirit guide posts on the footpath to peace."

CALL THE ROLL

ILLINOIS republicans repudiated Senator McKinley who voted for the world court proposal. Indiana republicans rewarded Senator Jim Watson, who voted for the United States to keep out of the world court.

Pennsylvania republicans defeated Senator George Wharton Pepper who switched between two guns and became an ardent supporter of the world court proposal after having been a most vehement antagonist of the league of nations and a world court as recommended by Warren G. Harding and backed to a finish by Calvin Coolidge.

Sen. James A. Reed of Missouri made speeches in Pennsylvania and appealed to the republicans to keep their Pepper at home. They kept him. Now what is going to happen to Senator A. B. Cummins in the corn state of Iowa, where Colonel Brookhart, the best rifle shot in America, and an opponent of the world court, are the contenders for a senatorial prize.

A UTOPIA IN FACT

If it were as hard to break any of the ten commandments as it is for a golfer to break a hundred this would be a far better world.

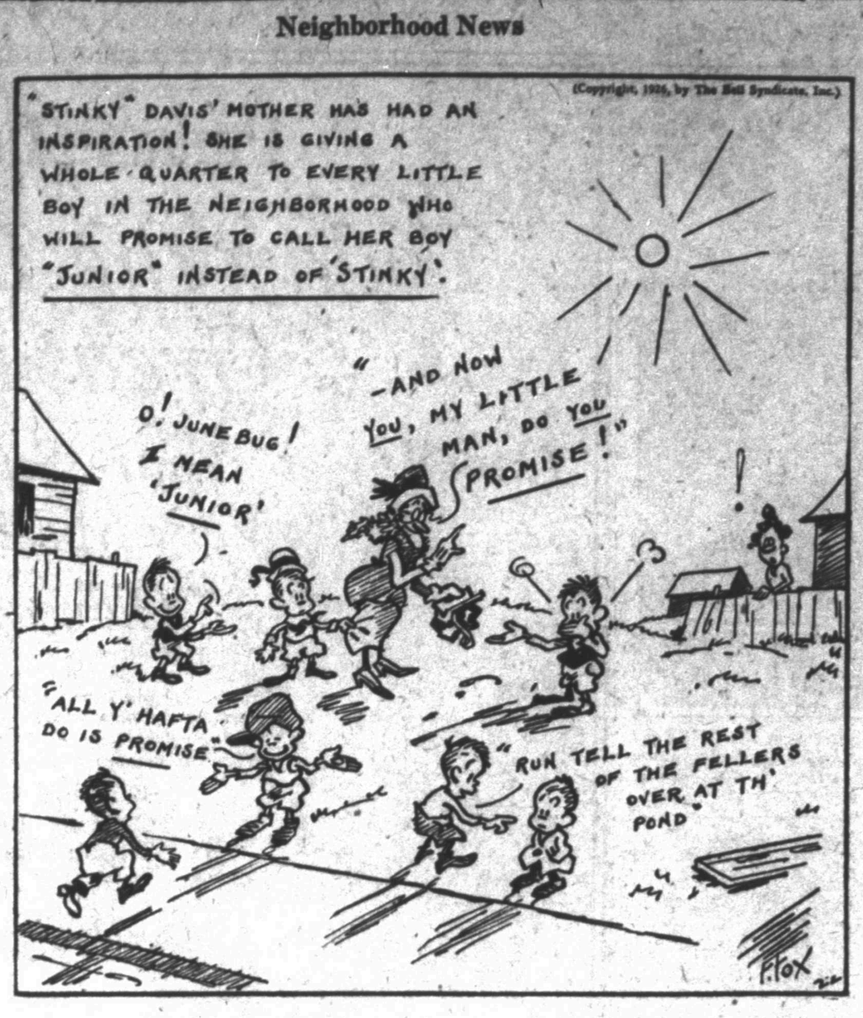

MASSACHUSETTS NEXT

MASSACHUSETTS next. In that state Senator William M. Butler, the friend of the president and the iceberg of American politics, will be pitted against David I. Walsh, democrat. Butler voted for the world court proposal. Now the Boarahs and the Reeds promise to invade the old bay state along in the fall and tell the voters to regulate Butler in his counting houses, his factories and his other industrial enterprises.

Questions From the World of Love Answered by a Noted Authority

THE "NICE" GIRL WHO SEEKS ADVICE ON HOW TO STEAL ANOTHER WOMAN'S HUSBAND:

Dear Miss Dix—I am a nice girl and people thing well of me. I spend all my time and money on dress. I am going around with a married man, who, while living with his wife, spends his week-ends with me, and gives me wonderful times. This man has a nice home and his wife is a nice girl but she is not pretty like I am. He gives her very little money and never takes her anywhere. And I buy him scarfs, shirts, handkerchiefs, so that she will see them, and it will hurt her. I have done everything I can think of to hurt her, and make her leave him.

People will criticise me if I go out with a married man living with his wife, and I don't want them to do that. So will you please tell me how I can separte them?

GERTIE-BELLE

ANSWER:

It appears to me, Gertie-Belle, that your technique as a home-wrecker is perfect. I don't see how Mrs. Machevelli herself could improve upon it.

Dolling yourself up, so that you enhance all of your good looks with pretty clothes, while the poor wife has to Skimp along on a shabby outfit. Pretending to be the wife's friend, while you insinuate things against her that poison her husband's mind. Making the husband spend all of his money on you so that he has none to spend at home. Flaunting the husband's infidelity in his wife's face, and parading the intimacy that permits you to give him presents of wearing apparel before her. Really, you don't seem to have missed a point.

And if all of that doesn't make the wife so green with jealousy and so disgusted with her poor, weak, makeshift of a husband, that she will leave him, I don't know what will. At any rate, you will have the consolation of having done your best to steal a woman's husband from her and break her heart and ruin her home.

Generally, when a girl starts out to get a married man, she begins by making him believe that his wife is too old for him. She tells him that, in some miraculous manner, he is still a boy, and that the years that have made his wife middle-aged have left him still a gay and carefree lad. The older a man is, and the paunchier and more bald-headed he is, the quicker he falls for this line, but I take it that in your case this easy approach is not available, as the wife appears to be young, also.

Then the love thief, who specializes in married men, convinces the man that his wife does not understand him, or appreciate him, and that she alone does.

But you appear to have worked this lead out for all it is worth, so really I haven't a suggestion to offer about how to expedite your work as a first aid to divorce.

But what are you going to do, Gertie-Belle, when you accomplish your fell plan? Do you think you are going to be happy when you have taken this woman's husband from her? Do you think you can build a house that will stand on the wreck of another woman's home? Do you think that a man who has been faithless to one wife will be faithful to another? Do you know that if you could take him away from his wife that some other woman will be able to take him away from you?

And don't call yourself a nice girl, Gertie-Belle. No other woman in the world is so despicable as the woman who deliberately sets herself to rob another woman of her husband. DOROTHY DIX.

DINNER STORIES

The pessimist quoted from his own experience at poker in illustration of the general cussedness of things:

"Frequent, I have sot in a poker game, and it sure is queer how many things will turn out. I've sot hour after hour in them games, without ever takin' a pot. Then, 'long about four o'clock in the morning, the luck'd turn—it'd take a turn for the worse."

The great pugilist was superstious and fond of lobster. When the waiter served one with a claw missing, he protested. The waiter explained that this lobster had been worsted in a fight with another in the kitchen. The great pugilist pushed back his plate.

"Carry him off," he commanded, "and bring me the winner."

Dinner was a little late. A guest asked the hostess to play something. Seating herself at the piano, the good woman executed a Chopin nocturne with precision. She finished, and there was still an interval of waiting to be bridged. In the silence she turned to an old gentleman on her right and said:

"Would you like a sonata before dinner?"

He gave a start of surprise and pleasure.

"Why, yes, thanks!" he said. "I had a couple on my way here, but I think I could stand another."

POEMS THAT LIVE

"The Path That Leads Nowhere," by Corinne Roosevelt Robinson

The author of this hauntingly beautiful poem is the sister of the late Theodore Roosevelt. She has found time, in the midst of a crowded life, to express herself lyrically—the Roosevelt energy again. I like many of her poems, but this best of all.

There's a path that leads to nowhere
In a meadow that I know,
Where an inland island rises
And the stream is still and slow;
There it wanders under willows,
And beneath the silver green
Of the birches' silent shadows
Where the early violets lean.

Other pathways lead to Somewhere,
But the one I love so well
Has no end and no beginning—
Just the beauty of the dell.
Just the wild flowers and the lilies
Yellow striped as adder's tongue,
Seem to satisfy my pathway
As it winds their scents among.

There I go to meet the Springtime,
When the meadow is aglow,
Marigolds amid the marshes—
And the stream is still and slow.
There I find my fair oasis,
And with carefree feet I tread
For the pathway leads to Nowhere,
And the blue is overhead!

All the ways that lead to Somewhere
Echo with the hurrying feet
Of the struggling and the striving,
And the way I find so sweet,
Bids me dream and bids me linger,
Joy and Beauty are its goal—
On the path that leads to Nowhere
I have sometimes found my soul!

Babe, Missing Five Days, Is Recovered

LOS ANGELES, May 21.—(AP) Barbara June Osbon, baby granddaughter of Mrs. Frances Altamarino of San Francisco, was on her way back to her home today after being mysteriously missing for five days. The tiny girl, who was sought by the entire police and fire departments in San Francisco and hundreds of citizens there and elsewhere, was found unharmed and well in a Los Angeles stage depot last night.

Police were at a loss to explain the kidnaping. Hints of family trouble, originating before the death of the mother of the girl, led to questioning of relatives, but no evidence could be obtained pointing to reasons for abduction.

Weevil Eradicating Device Successful

AUSTIN, May 21.—(AP)— The first test was made here Thursday of a device invented by R. E. McDonald, chief entomologist of the Texas department of agriculture to exterminate the pink boll weevil, a growing menace to cotton industry of the south and George B. Terrell, commissioner of agriculture, considers it was successful.

McDonald invented several years ago the first successful sterilizer to be used in the gins for the killing of the pest, and all gins operating in the infested area in west Texas are using it.

The new device, to be operaed either on sldigs or wheels is equipped with an asbestos surrounded oil tank which feed oil into blow torches. These torches head into a light furnace equipped with grates and covered with sheet iron. The grates sweep all the cotton stalks up and the fire ignite them, burning them on the grates and on the ground. A low flow is in the rear to permit a draft. The furnace is 20 inches, covering two rows and six feet long and can be pulled by one team.

Jury in Robbery Of Bank Disagrees

SAN ANTONIO, May 21.—(AP) The jury which has deliberated since Wednesday night the case of Earl Collins, on trial in thirty-seventh district court on a charge of participation in the robbery of the San Antonio National bank was discharged this morning by Special Judge O. M. Fitzhugh.

The count stood six to six, the foreman indicated in his report. He declered that it would be impossible to reach a verdict.

Collins was the second man to be tried in connection with the holdup, which took place during the noon hour, March 30, when four armed men, took $19,188 from the bank. Kenneth Smith was convicted and his punishment assessed at 20 years in the penitentiary. He has appealed.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

MOVED

We've moved six times, and every chair
Now has a dent or scratch somewhere,
Each table is a little weak,
The willow rocker has a squeak,
A handle of the chiffonier
Is—well, I know it isn't here.
Yes, every article is whacked,
Is bumped or battered, bent or cracked,
And that's a fact.

I feel myself run down at heel.
Just like the furniture must feel.
We've moved so much, and moved so fast,
I'm wobbly, like the tables are.
I don't feel certain any day
Just where I am, how long I'll stay.
Perhaps some fate before the dawn,
Before the very day is gone,
Will say, "Move on!"

And so I've figured heaven out,
I know what heaven's all about;
For heaven any place will prove
If from that place I need not move.
I'll gladly reach the final shore—
I'll know there aren't any more.
And then I'll sit and rock my chair
Ten million years, and will not care,
Just so I'm there.

What Do You Know About It?

DAILY SCIENCE SIX

1. Are there any helpful bacteria that dwell in man's body?
2. Are there any bacterial diseases of plants?
3. Are there any helpful bacteria living in the soil?
4. Are bacteria animals?
5. What is meant by non-filterable virus?
6. Why is sunshine healthy?

Answers to these questions in Monday's Record News.

MARVELOUS GERMS.

Bacteria are generally thought of with a shudder because they cause human disease and death. This is true of a few bacteria however, and life on this earth could not go on without bacteria, as they keep the fertility of the soil up, and aid us humans in digestion. In fact, it has been thought that bacteria, minute as they are, might have been the original life forms and even have drifted about from star to star, bringing life, for they can grow without sunlight, can endure intense heat and intense cold, both of which they might encounter in stellar space and can in some cases feed or subside on raw chemical elements, which no other living thing can, such as iron, sulphur and nitrogen; some can also live without air, and we know there is no air between the stars.

Now what do you know about that?

Answers to yesterday's questions:

1. Oxygen, due to its great weight is found chiefly near the earth; hence at great altitudes it is hard to breathe for lack of oxygen, and a sensation of stifling is produced in heart and lungs.
2. The earth's atmosphere is too rarified at ten miles to support human life long; at fifty miles it is practically non-existent, but probably faint traces of air might be found at a hundred miles.
3. Gravity is most active on the surface of the earth, less so at high altitudes.
4. Einstein believes that gravity as a notion of "pull" towards the earth is relative to the speed of our rotation; if the world spun round fifty times as fast everything would gravitate away from the earth; in other words we would fall up, not down.
5. No gravity would be felt by a body in the wider spaces between the stars.
6. The gravitation pull of the sun is great enough to keep the earth rotating around it, but the speed of our rotation is centrifugal from the sun, which keeps us from falling into the sun.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

BY MARY BLAKE
GERMINI

Today's planetary aspects are negative. They do not denote any encouragement nor, on the other hand, do they indicate failure or disappointment. It is not an auspicious occasion for the launching of any new enterprise, nor is it a good opportunity for carrying out any radical changes, neither is it advantageous for travel, either by land of sea. Under all conditions, it is advisable to attend only to routine duties, and to maintain poise and equilibrim. Do nothing out of the ordinary, so that nothing extraordinary will happen, as the extraordinary, although it may inure to your benefit, may also work to your disadvantage.

Children born today will pass through the period of infancy with little or no trouble. They will not be immune to sicknesses, but such ailments as they do have will readily yield to ordinary treatment and old fashioned remedies. They promise to attain physical normalcy, long before they reach maturity. Temperamentally, they will prove to be truthful, frank and clean cut. They will always be prepared to stand the consequences of anything that they have done, and will never bemoan their fate. They will be ambitious and, if allowed to pursue their own aims, will achieve considerable success.

If today is your birthday, your hesitation, your inability to reach a quick decision, has caused you, and will cause you, considerable disappointment. You depend too much on the opinions of others, and too little on your own decisions. In other words, you have little or no self assurance, and you must realize, by now, that if you do not believe in yourself, you cannot carry conviction to others. You have very striking personality, and your friends are legion. These are so loyal to you as you are to them.

In affairs of the heart, you are not sufficiently aggressive to win what you want. In love especially, be or she who hesitates is lost and while you are trying to make up your mind, someone else carries off the prize.

MY MAY FLOWERS
By Terence McGillfuddy.

The month of May finds me strangely stirred by the spirit of blooming flowers. I often think that Botany shall be my life work and that I'll really do something big in this field made famous by Luther Burbank.

Speaking of girls, the month of May has always seemed to bring me a new beautiful flower of womanhood. The first was Violet. Dear, penetrating Violet!

So cleverly could Violet
See through all that I'd say,
I gave her up! I would not wed
A living Violet ray!

Next year found me with Lily, statuesque Lily with the marble brow. She toiled not, but oh, how she could spin—when she got her hands on the steering wheel!

Dear Lily used to drive my car
At sixty down the line.
I gave her up. I always had
To pay her blooming fine!

The following May I met Rose. Rose kept the perfume manufacturers working double shifts. You know the old saying, "A rose by any other name would smell as sweet." Maybe it's so; I dunno.

My Rose used tons of scented soap,
And perfume by the quart.
I gave her up! I could not love
The dear girl as I ort!

Last May brought me Pansy. "Pansies for thoughts," is another old saying. For a while I thought a lot of Pansy till I got to thinking how her name would sound with mine. Pansy McGillicuddy! Can you imagine it? Anyway, I've met a girl named Daisy. The old song says "Daisies won't tell," and that's just what I'm looking for, a Daisy who won't tell!

LAKE WICHITA POOL TO OPEN

New And Improved Facilities Offered Saturday

The new swimming pool at Lake Wichita, which has been under various improvements amounting to around $20,000 during the last few months, will be opened for the summer bathing season Saturday afternoon with the formal opening in the evening, according to E. A. Lake, manager.

The new resort includes entirely new bath houses of the most modern type, complete shower and locker equipment together with all fan and drying facilities. The pool itself is 225x150 feet, several times larger than the old one which was badly damaged by fire some time ago. Attractive amusement features have been provided for the pleasure of the patrons. The largest and only one of its kind in the state in the way of coasting slides has been built, 45 feet high and some 100 feet in length.

Attractive Beach

An attractive beach dotted with California sun shades that lend color and an atmosphere of gaiety has been provided at the south end of the pool for would-be swimmers. Sand imported from Galveston has been used in this and the entire beach will accommodate around two hundred bathers.

In addition to the large pool there is a small sized kiddies' pool of shallow proportions to assure safety for the youngsters.

The lighting is unequaled by any pool in this part of the country, Mr. Lake says. Almost $1,000 being spent upon the lighting alone. Powerful search lights have been installed at either end and smaller lights illuminate the beach and around the sides. Lights have been strung across the water for the swimmers and the bath house is adequately lighted.

Water in the new pool will be changed daily, Mr. Lake announces. A 26-inch outlet will permit rapid draining and a 21-inch inlet will bring the water from eight feet under the surface of Lake Witchita, assuring mild temperature at all times. The flow in and out of the pool will be continuous. The capacity of the tank constitutes around 750,000 gallons.

Through the new management, early morning swimming parties may be arranged with every possible convenience together with two good roads, the Grant street road and the recently opened Holliday road which is paved past the Municipal golf club to the lake, and street car service, the traction company will run busses from the Kemp hotel every thirty minutes. This recent feature will be in effect Sunday evening.

Lake Has Experience

E. A. Lake has had wide experience in the management of swimming pools, athletic clubs and gymnasiums in several of the largest cities in the state. He has operated the hot wells resort at San Antonio, was physical culture director and graduate of the American School of Physical Culture which is under the head of Bernard McFadden, famous doctor and director of this science. Mr. Lake was manager an gymnastic instructor of the Austin Athletic club.

The Lake Wichita pool promises to be the cleanest pool of the many in the city an offers the best comforts to swimmers of Wichita Falls. Safety, convenience and pleasure will be found at the resort.

Reach Agreement In Road Bond Suit

HOUSTON, May 21.—(AP)—An agreement was reached by attorneys in the road bond case here today and Federal Judge Hutcheson then set June 21 as the date for the trial.

Three Texas counties, Dewitt, Lavaca and Fort Bend, are involved in the suit brought by Guy C. Dunn, Wichita, Kan., who owns nearly a half million dollars in road bonds of these counties. Mr. Dunn seeks the recovery of unspent bond funds following the action of the United States supreme court in declaring unconstitutional the Texas statute under which these counties created road districts.

These funds will be tied up by a "gentlemen's agreement" until June 21 with the exception of Fort Bend county. Judge Hutcheson released the officials of this county from the agreement to the extent of $14,000 to complete some emergency bridge work.

Hold Army Officers On Whiskey Charges

OMAHA, May 21.—(AP)—Two army captains were confined to quarters today as their superiors investigated their arrest by a federal prohibition agent at the gates of Fort Crook Thursday night.

They are Captains Bowman Allen and James W. Arnold of the Seventeenth infantry. Three pints of alleged liquor were taken from their car by the agent who said he had trailed them from Omaha where he saw them come from a house under suspicion as a liquor resort.

Colonel Tenney Rose, chief of staff of the Seventh corps area, said a report of the affair would be turned over to major general Benjamin Poore, on whose action the possibility of a court martial will rest.

TEXAS CHIROS LOSE APPEAL

Federal Court Tribune Rules Against Them In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, May 21.—(AP)—Appeal direct to the United States supreme court will be taken by attorneys for the chiropractors following the upholding of the constitutionality of the medical practice act in federal court here today. A special section in the federal code provides for such a step when constitutionality of a state statute is in question, District Attorney R. K. Hanger said tonight.

Hanger said that the state would fight any attempt to obtain a supercedas in the case. Today's decision by the triune court, composed of Federal Judges Foster of New Orleans, Atwell of Dallas, and Wilson of Fort Worth, opens the way for prosecution of chiropractors under the medical practice act, the temporary injunction granted by Judge Meek of Dallas being dissolved by the act.

The chiropractors were unsuccessful in their efforts to have themselves classified as masseurs, who the law exempts from the provision of the medical practice act, the court holding that chiropractors set themselves up as able to treat and cure disease.

The district attorney's office was represented at the hearing, held yesterday, by George Christian, assistant attorney general.

Decision on Special Session Is Deferred

AUSTIN, May 21.—(AP)—No statement on the calling of a special session of the legislature to validate district road bonds will be forthcoming from Governor Ferguson before next week, her husband and advisor, James E. Ferguson said today.

Monday Governor Ferguson was petitioned to issue immediately a proclamation convening the legislature in September, thus signifying intention of the state to validate bonds, jeopardized by the ruling of the United States supreme court in the Archer county case.

Autos Replacing Camels in Egypt Visitor Declares

FORT WORTH, May 21.—(AP) Automobiles are a more common means of locomotion in Egypt than camels, declares S. Wasily Girgis, 25, who arrived recently from Alexandria, Egypt, to study for a Bachelor of Theology degree at Southwestern Baptist Theology seminary here. Taking away a little more of the romance of the Nile valley, he declared that donkeys are really more common there than camels.

"Almost every farmer owns several donkeys. They are used for field work and the laborers ride them, as well," he said.

Girgis after a three-year course of study, plans to return and do missionary work, probably in Palestine, where he believes the field is even broader than in Egypt. He was converted 12 years ago from the Coptic faiths. He did not feel the call to faiths. He did not feel th call to preach until a short time ago, he said having first desired to go into business, preparing for a career by attending the American Commercial school at Alexandria.

Girgis speaks English fluently, as it is a required course in the Egyptian schools.

Blindfolded Man Is Shot to Death

CHICAGO, May 21.—(AP)—Blindfolded and with five bullet wounds in the back of the head, the body of Frank Cremaldi, 27, alleged bootlegger, was found beside his automobile in Franklin park today.

Lack of bullet holes or blood in the car led the police to believe he had been shot outside the car.

One of the telephone numbers found in the clothes of Cremaldi was preceded wth exchange "cherry." The same telphone exchange, which is in Minneapolis, was found with a number in the effects of Henry Drews, Minneapolis brewer, who was murdered in the outskirts of West Chicago two weeks ago and police are investigating the possibility of a connection between the killings.

FIELD WORK IS ON INCREASE IN NORTH TEXAS

Weeks Summary Shows All Other Midcontinent Fields On Decline

Oil operations in the Mid-Continent fields, including North Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, reached a total of 1,630 during the week just ended, according to the Oily Weekly.

Oklahoma led the other state fields with a total of 3,425 operations. North Texas followed with 1,227, while 568 operations were reported from Kansas fields. All state fields showed a slight decrease over the previous week except North Texas which increased its field work. The pick up in North Texas was insufficient, however, to prevent the total for the entire Mid-Continent falling below he figure for the previous week.

The West Texas wildcat district led other North Texas areas with a total of 480 operations, Wichita Falls followed with 299, while 279 operations were reported from the Panhandle.

are Walter P. Napier of San Antonio, Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls and T. P. Lee of Houston. These men were present and Mr. Lee and Mr. Bullington addressed the meeting. Mr. Bullington is vice-chairman of the state committee.

Eighteen members of the committee and eight proxies were present from the 31 members.

It was estimated that the first state wide primary would represent an expenditure of $50,00 in time and money. Most of this will consist in the labor of volunteer workers.

An Austin printing company offered to furnish printed primary supplies at the rate of $1.25 a precinct, and many of the committee members underwrote the cost of these supplies for their senatorial districts. There are more than 7,000 precincts in the state.

Must Hold Primary.

Leonard Withington, secretary of the committee and headquarters manager, warned the members that the life of the republican party hangs on the forthcoming primary.

"We must hold a primary or there will be no republican party in Texas," he said. "That is the democratic primary law. No candidate's name can go on the ballot under the label of the republican party unless he is nominated in a primary."

Mr. Conger said tomorrow's convention would be the fruition of a dream of five years which was "now working out into a wonderful reality." He referred to the all-year-around headquarters and the plan of financing two years in advance and contrasted this system with what he termed the former haphazard methods of rushing forth a temporary organization on the eve of an election.

He said that the work of converting a minority party into a majority, was an enormous task, and that no body in the party believed it could be accomplished over-night.

Hang Together.

Mrs. J. C. Griswold of San Antonio, national committeewoman, told the committeemen that the "must hang together or hang separately" and she advised them to let the women work side-by-side with them.

C. C. Littleton of Fort Worth said if he had his way he would eject from the 14th district the man now fighting the regular organization.

"That man owes his seat in congress to this organization. Any time a man gets bigger than his creator it's time to put a halter on him."

T. P. Lee referred to Congressman Wurzbach as "the man who plays into the hands of our enemies while they hold him in the utmost contempt and sneer at us."

SURE, THEY CAN

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Dr. W. J. Mayo's views on smoking as explained by his secretary in a letter to a correspondent: "Neither he nor any woman in his family smokes; he dislikes to see women smoke, but a woman has as much right to smoke as a man; smoking is a distinct detriment to many persons, but most men who smoke get much comfort from it without demonstrable harm."

CARDINAL HAS PLAN TO HELP DEPENDENTS

OTTAWA, May 21.—Inmates of penitentiaries in Canada probably will be put to work to help support dependents they have left in the outside world. A change in the penitentiaries act to establish this principle as foreshadowed in a resolution favoring its adoption in the house of commons with government support.

The resolution, sponsored by Miss Agnes MacPhail, the only woman members of house, proposes that inmates of penitentiaries should be kept employed, a share of the proceeds of their labor to go to dependents or, if they have no dependents, to be held in trust for them until their release.

SUNKEN PIRATE SHIP YIELDS OLD AXE

BALTIMORE, May 21.—A curiously ornate and engraved axe, salvaged by oystermen from the sunken hulk of a seventeenth century pirate ship off Tangier Island, Chesapeake Bay, has been pronounced by executives of Peabody Institute of Peabody Institute here to be a remarkable specimen of medieval pole axe.

The sunken pirate hulk was a tradition among the colonists as early as 300 years ago. The generally accepted version was that the vessel had been chased into the bay by a British frigate in 1610, where it was sent to the bottom, perhaps after a hand-to-hand fight.

FEDERAL AGENT HELP OFFERED

Enforcement Men Authorized to Act As County Officers

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—Addition to the federal prohibition staff of state, county and municipal officers was made possible today under an executive order issued by President Coolidge.

This move, made at the request of Assistant Secretary Andrews, in charge of prohibition enforcement, is expected by him to augment the federal dry forces greatly.

Prohibition officials plan to place the local officers on the federal staff, perhaps as dollar a year men, since they would serve as federal officers in addition to their regular duties.

While local officers in most states and cities are already cooperating with federal government in the enforcement of prohibition, it was said at the treasury today's action will clothe them with full federal authority. It is believed by Mr. Andrews to be a big step forward in the dry work.

How soon Mr. Andrews will take advantage of his authority and the exact extent of the scope to which he will put it has not been decided.

The plan was first suggested by the California prohibition administrator, and it is expected to be put in practice in that area first.

Over 100 Links

in the Cities Service Organization help make your Monthly Dividends Safe

AS compared with an investment in a single company, consider your safe position when your money is invested in over 100 progressive companies linked together in a great organization—each company a complete unit which benefits through its union with all the others

When you become a partner in the Cities Service Organization by the purchase of Cities Service Preferred stock, all these companies are back of your investment—and the assets of the whole organization amount to over $550,000,000, containing values of over $2.50 for each $1 you invest in Preferred Stock.

The vast earning power of these united companies is the source of your monthly dividend checks. In 1925 the Cities Service organization earned $3.19 for each $1 needed to pay Preferred dividends.

"In union there is strength" means also that "In union there is safety."

How does the linking together of over 100 Cities Service subsidiary companies benefit you when you are a partner in the organization? First, it permits centralized management which results in economy of buying, economy of building, economy of operation—all of which help the organization to have more than enough earnings from which to pay your monthly dividends.

This linked-up organization also gives you wide diversity in one investment. If your money should be in just one company, you have only one place to look for the safety of your principal and dividends. If that one company gets in difficulties, your income and your money both might be gone. If, when you have your money in the Cities Service organization with "over 100 links", one of these companies should be literally wiped off the face of the earth over night, you would probably not notice any difference in the value of your investment, nor any shrinkage in your monthly income from it, because the steady earnings from all the other companies could easily close the gap.

Over 200,000 people have money invested in the Cities Service Organization

The securities of this great organization, which operates in 31 states, are owned by over 200,000 people. These security owners may be found in every state in the union. Many of them are customers of the company—people who use electric light, water, power, gas, heat, ice, gasoline and oils which the Cities Service subsidiary companies supply

People are satisfied to keep their money working year after year for the Cities Service Organization where it brings them monthly dividend checks.

We believe you will agree with these people that Cities Service Preferred Stock offers an investment opportunity seldom equalled. In order that you may fully realize this, you should know definitely that:

1—Your money invested in this security is unusually well protected—not only by ample assets, but by the fact that the Company is engaged in a business necessary to public welfare—a steadily growing business.

2—You get about 7% yield on your money—about $70 for each $1,000 you invest.

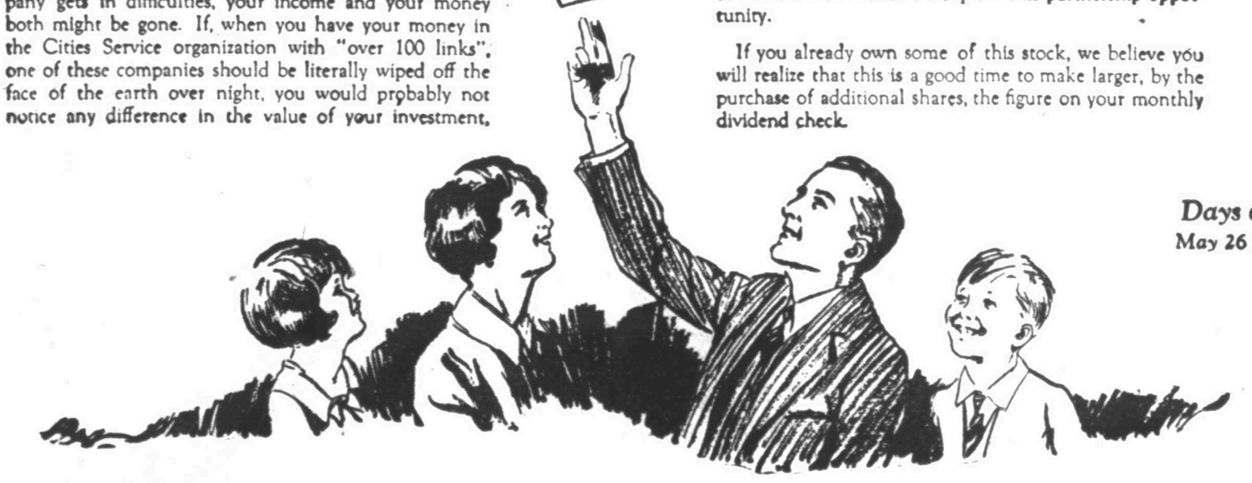

3—You get the returns on your money each month in dividend checks which are mailed to your home.

4—If you need your money, there is a ready market for your stock.

These are only a few of the main reasons why an investment in Cities Service Preferred is a good investment for you—or for anybody.

Because the officials of Cities Service Company believe in Customer Ownership, another offer of partnership is to be made to our customers and friends. In a few days the employees of our Company will start calling on our customers and friends to explain this partnership opportunity.

If you already own some of this stock, we believe you will realize that this is a good time to make larger, by the purchase of additional shares, the figure on your monthly dividend check.

Candy Sent Founder Of Angelus Temple Analyzed by Chemist

LOS ANGELES, May 21.—(AP) The result of a chemical analysis of candy from which Aimee Semple McPherson is said to have eaten shortly before she disappeared while surf bathing at Ocean Park Tuesday afternoon was awaited here today.

Acting upon the possibility that the sweets may have contained some harmful element which would have rendered the noted evangelist helpless in the water the police ordered the analysis late yesterday and were told that a report would be rendered today.

For the first time a person was located yesterday who said that she saw the evangelist swimming and heard a scream that must have been uttered by her.

Emily M. Finley, a member of Mrs. McPherson's congregation at Angelus Temple, said that while on Lick pier Tuesday she say a woman swimming out toward the end of the pier, splashing around in the water and apparently enjoying herself. Miss Finley remarked at the time to a friend that the swimmer must have nerve to be out so far alone.

After watching the woman swim even farther out Miss Finley and her companion took their eyes off her. Shortly later they heard a cry which they passed unnoticed at the time, thinking it came from children along the beach. When they looked toward the spot where they had seen the swimmer, she had disappeared.

Later they met Miss Emma Schaffer, Mrs. McPherson's secretary, on the beach and were told the evangelist had been drawned.

While the search for Mrs. McPherson's body continued Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of the church leader, took occasion to rap reports and rumors that have sprung up since the disappearence of her daughter.

Expressing a conviction that her daughter has been drowned Mrs. Kennedy branded reports of kidnappings, murder theories and other beliefs as purely imaginary.

She also denied that Angelus Temple was in financial difficulties or that Mrs. McPherson carried large sums of insurance.

HANGAR FIRED, YOUTH SAVING IT SLUGGED

LANCASTER, May 21.—Thieves apparently intent on ransacking or destroying an airplane hangar, attacked and bound John Huber, 18, left him lying within a few feet of a burning airplane wing.

The fire burned itself out and Huber regained his senses six hours later. Unable to free himself he rolled 100 yards down a road to the farmhouse of David Herr, and aroused members of the family who applied first aid.

Huber told Constable Doutrich he saw flames issuing from the airplane hangar owned by J. Harry Jones, a professional aviator. Huber said he used his overcoat to extinguish a burning set of wings when he was attacked from the rear. His assailant was reinforced by another person, who blackjacked him, then bound him.

POLAND QUIET AFTER REVOLT

Factions Deny Another Upheaval Is Planned In Warsaw

POSEN, May 21.—(AP)—Denial is made that a counter revolution against Marshal Pilsudski's regime in Warsaw is being planned, but the fact remains that the military garrison in Posen is being strengthened and that feverish preparations are being made by patriotic societies and veterans and students' organizations for any eventuality.

The controversy which has arisen in Poland over Pilsudski's coup d'etat by which he overthrew the government headed by President Wojciechowski has now taken on an international aspect in view of the fact that conferences are taking place between the French government and secret Polish agents sent to Paris. The secretary of President of the Senate Trompczynski has returned to Posen after a visit to Paris. He declined to make known the reason for the visit. M. Trompczynski was sent to Posen from Warsaw in an effort to placate the feeling of bitterness held by the five right parties against Pilsudski for having carried out his coup.

Members of the right parties continue to pour into Posen for conferences. Meanwhile the province of Posen is virtually a state within a state, running affairs without orders from the Warsaw government.

The nationalist group here desires that dictatorial powers be given General Hauser, commander of the garrison, and Count Bnimski, the provincial governor. M. Trompczynski declared, however, that for the present the normal functions of these men are sufficient.

The right parties in Poland are demanding that the session of the national assembly to elect a new president shall be held outside Warsaw, that the new president shall not be actively identified with politics and must have the confidence of the entire nation and that the new cabinet must not include revolutionaries like Pilsudski, but non-political personalities.

Geneva Conference Proposes Armament Parley Among Three

GENEVA, May 21—(AP)—A naval reduction conference by Great Britain, the United States and Japan seems among the possible eventualities of the gathering of representatives of the nations here.

The Japanese assert that they will advocate a three-power conference if France and Italy adhere to their reported decisions not to participate in a discussion of naval armaments except at a general disarmament conference. Japan, it is stated, has abandoned its previous position and is convinced that naval affairs can be handled separately.

A three-power conference, it is contended by the Japanese, would frame a supplementary Washington naval agreement to cover cruisers, submarines and seaplanes.

Acquittal Brings Slaying by Kin

BRADY, Texas, May 21.—(AP)—T. B. Milburn, 51-year-old Denton county farmer, is dead here today and a 27-year-old relative is in jail charged with the shooting.

The slaying followed Milburn's acquittal in a trial on an attack charge.

While Milburn stood on the front porch of his farm home yesterday the relative accused of the shooting, accompanied by a friend, drove up in a truck.

Two shots from a 38-caliber pistol were the greetings, from the visitors. Milburn fell mortally wounded. One bullet had struck in the chest ranging close to the heart, while the other missle lodged in the stomach.

The relative drove to Brady and surrendered to the sheriff.

Though there never was a chance for his recovery Milburn displayed remarkable stamina by retaining consciousness until his death early this morning. He made a statement to County Attorney A. R. Pool, who refused to make public Milburn's last words.

Funds have been donated for the school by members of each church in the city and a number of contributions have been received from Thrift, Cashion and other neighboring communities.

Classes in appreciation of music, harmony, and sight reading will be included in Professor Daniels' school.

'Good Bye, Girlie,' And Then Poison Gas Stills Tongue

STATE PRISON, CARSON CITY, Nev., May 21.—(AP)—Stanko Jukich, murderer of a 16-year-old girl, was executed this morning by lethal gas, the second time this form of capital punishment has been used since legalized in 1921. He entered the cell at 10:55, the gas was turned on a minute later and he was unconscious in half a minute, but his head was moving.

Jukich was pronounced dead two and a half minutes after the gas was turned on.

The guards escorted Jukich into the vault and strapped him to a wooden chair in the center of the room, directly facing one of the three windows. The door was made fast and a charge of hydrocyanic acid sprayed in from the rear part of the enclosure.

Jukich looked up and saw a woman newspaper correspondent peering in through the window. He smiled and said, "good bye, girlie."

They were his last words.

A hissing noise at his back announced entry of the gas and a startled look appeared in his eyes. As the first fumes floated around his head he took a deep breath and 10 seconds later sank into a coma.

Just a few seconds later he was totally unconscious. Two and one half minutes later physicians said that life was extinct. In that period his head nodded but four times.

Postmaster Sends Self by Air Mail

KANSAS CITY, May 21.—(AP)—William E. Morton, postmaster, will try out the air route to Dallas tomorrow. Having recently taken part in inaugurating the Chicago-Kansas City-Texas air mail service, Mr. Morton will leave by air for Dallas with a large badge on his coat lapel bearing the words: "Postage due, return in three days with care." The badge is a reminder from his assistants.

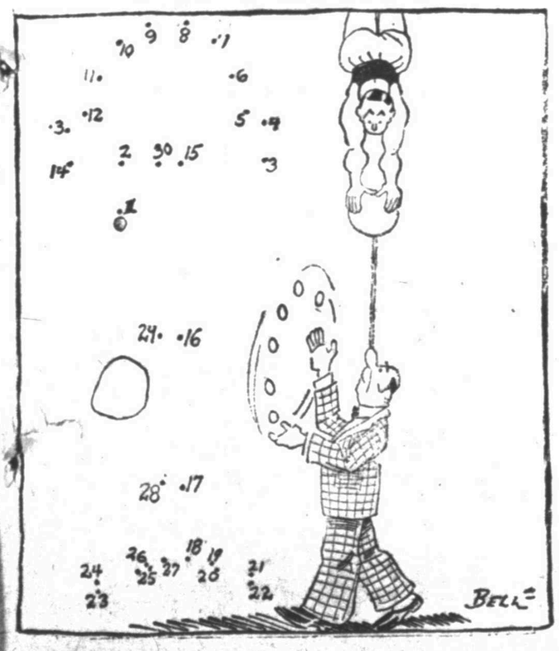

Mr. Morton will address the Texas Postmasters' league in session next week.

CHAMBER THANKS OUSLEY

ELECTRA, May 21.—The board of directors of the Electra chamber of commerce and agriculture adopted a vote of thanks in appreciation of the valuable service rendered by Colonel Clarence Ousley, director of the Texas Safe Farming association, in addressing the meeting of farmers held at County Line school house Thursday evening, May 13. It is the opinion of those who have heard Col. Ousley that his plan carried out will do much to relieve the present financial distress among farmers of the country.

Spuds Forget Base Hits When They Quit Waco For Visit To Historic Alamo

Honus Mitzi's 'Tiny' Owens 'Downers' Brainard's Bruisers Almost to Death In Economic Offerings

BY BLONDY CROSS.

SAN ANTONIO, May 21.—The boys left their base hits in Waco when they departed for this tropical burg. Either that or Howard Owens, the monstrous sidearm and submarine ball flinger, who, because he isn't, has been misnonomered "Tiny" by his loving and otherwise team mates, is one of the Texas league most effective exponents of the "Downer." At any rate, Tiny, who has the proportion of an infant elephant is a hero in San Antonio tonight.

For Wichita Falls' hitherto deadly accurate sharpshooters failed to reckon the range of the huge underhand person's wide and sweeping "Downer" this afternoon in the series opener. Mitzi's marvelous Bears took the winning end of a 7-2 game.

Our ordinarily coyly clouting Spudders were merely coy today. They didn't do any clouting to speak of at Tiny's expense, spreading six safeties from the first inning through the last, and skipping several.

Lamb opened festivities with a single to port but got no further than third. Turgeon helped Lucy to second with a sacrifice bunt and he advanced another notch on Bodie's infield out. Then the skipper struck out soulfully. With one away in the second, Fitz lashed a loud liner to left center for two bases, but stagnated there on the mid-cushion while the Bruin inner works retired the next two hitsmen. Distel beat a boisterous bump down the right field foul mark in the seventh for three bases. The blow came after Fitz had sent Najo back to the center boards to snag a lusty larrup. The smash would have cleared any other center wall over the circuit. Query hoisted a long foul to Rabbit. George scored after the catch. Roberts and Lamb followed with singles.

Should Have Been Large

She would have been a large inning for the Spudders if Fitz had fortunately shoved his poke just a few feet further or turned it a bit to the left. The portsider's bust was the hardest hit ball of the contest. But with it two down and two on, Cowboy Cal Segrist enacted a startling stop of a stiff stab at third by Turgeon and ensuing throw to Gonzales, forcing Lamb, Bodie speared the top of the port barrier in the eighth for two bases and came home on infield putouts, staged on bounders bumped by Brainard and Washburn. That completed the Wichita Falls advance.

Victory neck ties donned by Brainard, Gardner and the writer failed to come through with a win although they jinxed Dallas and Waco the three other times they have been worn on this trip.

Everything went against Long Jim Roberts, the opening spinner. Its the first game the current season he has started and lost. A hard drive that took a dirty hop through Washburn in third gave Flash Kamper a two-bagger. Flash absconded with third and tabulated on a sacrifice laid down by Segrist. Three misplays afield, one of which Jim himself was guilty, combined with hits by Gonzales, Owens and Rabbit to send three runners across. Technically speaking, there should have been no score. Owens hit an easy roller, caught Wash near first and Pete heading for second. Just crossed the boys up.

Segrist Opens

Segrist opened the Bear fifth with a handle hit, an abbreviated pop to left that was "in there," speaking in players parlance. A walk to Wirts advanced Cal a notch. Jim tightened and struck out Orsatti, but Gonzales sneaked a one-base punch to right center for the score.

Morgan took to the mound in the seventh and was greeted by Wirts with a double to left center, but sharp throwing, Fitz to Distel to Brainard cut the runner down at third when he endeavored to gather in more territory than he rightfully deserved. Orsatti followed with a knock through the box. Gonzales flied to left. Orsatti followed with a knock through the box. Gonzales flied to left. Orsatti set out to filch the keystone and got away with the depredation, hoofing it on to third when Query's peg went into center field because the base had not been covered with sufficient alacrity. Gonzales walked and Owens slapped one back at Dick that caromed off the wet hand and splashed into left field. Orsatti, of course, checked in. Estell essayed the flinging duties in the eighth for our invaders, but was given poor support with a walk and pairs counted the Bears' seventh.

Manager Brainard has threatened for the past three days to send Carl Williams to the hillock, reversing his decision each time. The sturdy right-hander probably will see duty Saturday in the second and last game here for Wichita Falls this jaunt.

Stymie Defeats Cochran, Questing For State Title

Wichita Falls Golfer Falls Before Remarkable Shooting of Jacoby

HOUSTON, May 21.—(AP)—Two Houstonians, Willie Hunt and Ossie Carlton, foremr state champion, will compete in a 36-hole match here tomorrow over River Oaks Country club course with the Texas amateur title at stake.

Carlton, in gaining the finals at the Texas amateur golf association tournament, defeated Louis Jacoby of Dallas in the semi-finals, 2 and 1. Jacoby in the morning round eliminated Tommy Cochran, Wichita Falls, defending champion, when the latter failed to jump a stymie on the eighteenth green.

Willie Hunt defeated H. H. Wynne of Fort Worth who through a victory over Charlie Dexter of Dallas and Commodore Heard of Houston, had furnished the tournament's greatest upset 7 and 5. In the afternoon Hunt beat Fred Golding of River Oaks, four and two. Golding furnished the surprise of the morning when he drowned "Happy" Massingill of Fort Worth 3 and 2.

The finish of the Cochran-Jacoby match was the most sensational of the meet. After turning all square, Cochran worked out a two-hole lead.

Has Advantage

On the tenth hole Cochran had a one-hole advantage and he increased it to two on the twelfth when Jacoby was shy of the green on two and needed three more strokes to hole out.

On number 13 Jacoby started his comeback. A remarkable iron shot went dead to the pin and he holed a birdie three. On the next hole Cochran was over the green in three and held a six while Jacoby made a great spoon shot from the rough and got away with a par five and the hole. He then birdied the short number fifteen and went into the lead. However he lost the advantage on the sixteenth, but regained it on the seventeenth when Cochran missed a three-foot putt.

Coming to the eighteenth Cochran made a desperate attempt to halve the hole and carry the match into extra holes.

Both had driven well over the 235 yard mark and ochran played his second—a nice mashie shot—on the green, while Jacoby's second stuck in high grass on the far side of the green.

Lays Stymie

Jacoby's third was a poor shot, leaving him a fifteen foot putt. Cochran was but three feet away from the cup on his third. Jacoby's try for a four was off line, but he laid Cochran a dead stymie. After measuring up the shot Cochran pulled a pitch that landed over Jacoby's ball and bounced into the cup, but the bounce was too hard, and the ball jumped out and stuck on the very lip of the cup. Jacoby was down in five for a tie and the win.

Golding and Massingill played a see-saw match until the second nine where the local player slowly pulled away from his opponent and gained his winning margin.

Yanks Continue Winning Streak To Make It Ten

Set Record for Season In Consecutive Victories

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—The Yankees advanced their winning streak to ten straight, a record for the season, when they again subdued the Browns today, 7 to 2. Pennock, the league's leading pitcher, won his seventh victory in eight games. Ruth walked three times and hit a single in four times up. Score:

Sheely Hits 'Em

BOSTON, May 21.—(AP)—Sheely, Chicago first sacker continued his heavy sticking when he gathered three doubles and a homer in his first four times at bat in today's game with Boston. Despite this however his team mates were unable to stop a ninth inning rally by the Red Sox who scored in three runs to win 8 to 7. Sheely hammered out three doubles in as many times at bat yesterday and continued his extra base stride in today's game. Flagstead gathered in a fly in his fifth time at bat today to bring a close to his record. Score:

Uhle, who had relieved Buckeye in the eighth, also helped in his own victory with a single in the thirteenth that sent Myatt from first to third.

Refiners Snatch Game From Water Company Tossers

Failure to Snare Shoestring Drive, Gives Snipe Another Victory

Nichols' failure to make a shoestring catch of Speck Robert's line single to left in the seventh inning gave Snipe Connally a 5 to 2 win over Kiser and the Water company team.

The Americans broke off to a two-run lead and held this until the sixth inning when the Water team tied the count. In the seventh the Eagles smashed back against Kiser and drove in three runs to win the game.

Martindale led the hitting attack with a single, double and triple in four times at the bat. Curly Christian hit a home run and a double in four times up.

The American Refinery shifted its lineup greatly and the results showed. They brought together three of the last year men on the Burkburnett Elks that piled up a good record in Texas semi-pro ball. Pace, Roberts, and Farquahar were their double play combination and they saved trouble in the seventh inning with one of those fast double plays. All three of them played great ball in the infield and tackled everything that came their way.

Honduras Takes Up Seizure of Vessel

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—The case of the Honduran registered steamer Juliata, now held by the coast guard and which has aboard a considerable consignment of liquor, has been taken up with the Honduran legation here due to the suspicious circumstances surrounding the voyage of the vessel from Cuba to Honduras.

She vleared from a Cuban port recently with a "sea letter" from the Honduran consul in lieu of a regular clearance and was ostensibly bound for Puerto Cortez, Honduras, but was captured by the coast guard off Norfolk very far off its course.

Carpentier And Huffman Battle To Spirited Draw

Ten Rounds Marked by Fast And Hard Hitting By Both Pugs

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Georges Carpentier, soldier fighter from France and Eddie Huffman, blonde Californian fought a 10-round draw at Madison Square Garden tonight in a fight which bubbled with action from the start. The decision met with general approval from the 14,000 spectators.

The Frenchman appeared to have an edge during the opening rounds but he tired and Huffman came back strong in the ninth and tenth rounds to get an even break with lightning rapidity but the Frenchman took all he could send without going down. Huffman did his best work at close quarters.

ROUND ONE: Carpentier started the fight with a right to the head. Three jabbing lefts sent Huffman's head back and the Californian gained ground. A swinging right landed on Carpentier's face and he dropped to his knee but was up immediately. A lashing right to the jaw staggered Huffman. A left sent Huffman to the ropes. The Frenchman was out boxing his opponent. Carpentier spun Huffman around with a right as the bell rang.

ROUND TWO: They danced around cautiously neither willing to open up. Huffman staggered Carpentier with a clubbing right to the head. Two lefts and a right to the head forced Huffman to clinch. At close quarters they hammered away at the body. Carpentier walked into a straight left to the jaw but missed his right counter. The bell found them dancing.

ROUND THREE: An uppercut forced the Frenchman to clinch and both landed damaging blows to the body. A left jarred Huffman's head. Huffman staggered Georges with a left to the face but failed to follow up. Huffman drove a vicious right to the body and Carpentier doubled up. They lashed away openly with both hands. They were locked at the bell.

ROUND FOUR: The Frenchman leaped in but caught Huffman's right uppercut which almost lifted him off his feet. Huffman was warned for hitting on the break. A well timed left turned Huffman half around. He wavered but did not fall. Another right staggered him and he reeled to the ropes. The Frenchman leaped in, missed with his right and fell flat to the canvas just before the bell.

ROUND FIVE: They exchanged lefts to the head. Two solid rights to the head staggered Huffman. Another right landed flush to the Californian's jaw and he rushed in madly. The Californian had no defense for Carpentier's flashing right. Again the right landed to the head. Huffman caught Carpentier near the ropes and poured both hands to the head and body but the bell interrupted the skirmish.

ROUND SIX: Carpentier came up cautiously. Huffman tore in but the Frenchman pedalled away. Two rights to the body slowed Carpentier. Huffman came in openly and Carpentier planted a right to the face and westerner backed up. The Frenchman seemed to lose his snap as Huffman's punches landed more frequently. They were sparring at the bell.

ROUND SEVEN: They sparred for almost a minute without landing a blow. Two savage rights narrowly missed Huffman's head. The action slowed as Carpentier tired and Huffman refused to assume the aggressive. Huffman staggered Carpentier with a right to the head just as the bell rang but they continued to fight until the referee parted them. It was a tame round until the end.

ROUND EIGHT: The Frenchman stunned Huffman with three straight rights to the head. Huffman landed to the body. They exchanged lefts to the face. Carpentier brought blood to Huffman's mouth with a lightning left. Huffman sent Carpentier's head back with a left. They were in a clinch at the bell.

ROUND NINE: Huffman speeded up and drove Carpentier to the ropes with a right to the head and left to the body. A flashing right to the face caught Huffman coming in. Another right almost knocked him over but he clutched at Carpentier to save himself. Both landed to the head with terrific rights but they came back smiling. Huffman sent Carpentier half way across the ring with a right to the head. Another right to the head staggered Carpentier just before the bell.

ROUND TEN: Huffman poured both fists at Carpentier's body at close range. Huffman tore in, landing to the head and body without an exchange. They lashed at each other openly landing damaging blows with honors even. They both missed right leads. Huffman staggered Carpentier with a right uppercut. They were fighting frantically at the bell.

Steers Beat Buffs

HOUSTON, May 21.—(AP)—For seven inning here today Dallas was helpless before the low curves of Littlejohn, but in the last two innings the Steers turned loose its heavy artillery to win, 8 to 7. Ray Powell's muff with one out in the eighth gave the Steers their start in this big inning and proceeded to wipe out a six run lead of the Buffs. Bauman's double, Gross' single, Schang's error and Woeber's sacrifice fly gave the Steers the lead in the first half of the ninth after Penner's single and McCabe's triple had given the Buff's a one-point advantage in Houston's eighth.

Tink Riviere was hit vigorously in the earlier innings, but was steadier in the last four frames. Score:

Pratt Suspends Veteran Crumpler

WACO, May 21.—(AP)—Roy Crumpler, Waco's veteran left hander, has been suspended indefinitely by Manager Pratt. Suspension followed the pitching performance of Crumpler on Wednesday afternoon when in a relief role he allowed five hits in two-thirds of an inning. Manager Pratt cut him off the payroll until he could round into condition.

Pratt has announced the purchase of Outfielder West of the Little Rock club. West hits from the right side of the plate and is now batting .357 in the Southern Associaiton. West is to report immediately.

Pratt has turned down an offer of $1,500 for Shortstop Novak, obtained in the Cohen deal with the New York Giants. The offer was made by the Norfolk team of the Virginia League, where Novak has been playing. Novak is expected to reach Waco late Friday or early Saturday.

Stecher Successful In Defense of Crown; Lays Santel In 2 Out of 3

Ad Battles Gamely But Can't Stand Deadly Scissors of Heavyweight Champ

Joe Stecher, heavyweight champion of the wrestling world, defeated Ad Santel, light-heavyweight champion for the third time when they met Friday night under the direction of Promoter Alec Ross and battled for more than an hour for the belt. Joe's undefeatable body scissors was brought into full play in 37 miuntes and from the moment it locked around Santel, he was a goner. The second fall, however, found Ad Putting Joe out in 16 minutes with a tough short arm scissors, which Ad held for more than six consecutive minutes. The third fall, taken by Stecher came with the same wicked body scissors in a little less than 14 minutes. Ad attempted to struggle out of it, but when Stecher put the rock crusher around his middle he sank back. The match was preceded by a fine preliminary, Nick Velcoff, the Bulgarian lion taking Tommy Thompson of Chicago for a cleaning in one round which lasted 21 minutes. Three consecutive headlocks and a flying headlock put Thompson to the mat. Two classy little paper-weights, Stanley Price of Lawton and Ray Jeffries of Waco proved a surprisingly good curtain raiser.

A Red Letter Date

The Stecher-Santel go was undoubtedly a red letter date in Texas sporting history and drew delegations from Kansas City, Mo., Kansas, Oklahoma and many Lone Star points. It was science and skill, displayed by Santel against a specialty which has put some of the best of them to the mat. Santel, undoubtedly gave the best account of himself so far as wrestling tactics are concerned but he was no match for Joe's powerful nether limbs. The outcome was not surprising although there was little betting as to the winner.

Both men fought cautiously. Santel applied his deadly headlocks, toe holds and arm locks but the short arm hold was his best bet. Stecher seemed content to bide his time and wrap the mankillers around Ad's center when the opportunity presented itself. They started the play cautiously, milling around for several minutes, after which Joe tried for the scissors, but Ad checked him by drawing the Stecher foot over his head and reaching for a toe hold. Joe retaliated with a toe hold of his own but Ad broke that one. They jumped to their feet and soon Ad's overhead arm hold had Joe on the mat. Joe suffered for several seconds but had recourse to the ropes for his salvation.

Trys Arm Lock

Joe came back trying for an arm lock but Ad rocked him right and left. Joe gave that up and tried for a toe hold. Back on their feet Stecher maneuvered for a flying mare but Ad clapped the overhead arm hold on him again and pitched him to the mat where he held him for several seconds. Ad tried now for the double arm scissors but Joe crawled for the ropes.

Joe found himself in Ad's grip again and again he was flipped to the mat, this time with a toe hold. Joe reached for a toe himself but had to give it up under Ad's punishment. Stecher broke away and back again on his feet he was flipped to the floor with the overhead arm hold. Ad gave this up after a few seconds for a headlock in which he held Joe and punished him. Joe broke out but was lured back in again. A roll to the ropes saved Stecher.

Ad came back with another and Joe floundered around on the mat. He rallied enough to get Santel into a dangerous position or the scissors but Ad broke it and came out with a split on him. He couldn't hold it, however, but came back with a headlock, using the Lewis system of head-locking with the face up. This failed to jar the big boy. Ad came back with an armlock but there wasn't much power behind it. They milled around for several seconds, cautiously measuring one another. Ad made the first move with a headlock from which Joe escaped. Ad got another. Joe jumped for the body scissors and missed. Ad started now to work on the head but Stecher fought him off, protecting his ears with an arm. Joe attempted to flop Ad to the mat but the wily Ad wouldn't be flopped just then. Joe tried for the body scissors and failed when Ad slipped a split on him. Joe's eye caught the ropes again and he crawled for them. In the twinkle of an eye Stecher leaped into the air and pinioned Santel to the floor with the body scissors. It was all off with Ad and the first fall went to Stecher.

During the 16 minutes of the second fall Santel concentrated entirely upon the short arm hold and first held Stecher in it for nearly four minutes during which the big fellow pulled time and again for the ropes only to be jerked back. Santel's perspiration flowed freely and Joe's arm went white beneath the strain.

Starts With Headlock

Excitement ran high when the men came back into the ring for the third flop. Ad started out with a headlock. Joe tried right now to put the body scissors to him but Ad pulled his leg and flopped him like a pancake. Each grabbed for a toe and Ad held his the longer. Ad knew what he wanted, the short arm again and he played for it. He got it but Joe saw the ropes and pulled for them. Ad tried once more for the same thing but Joe slipped the body scissors over him. The fans cried, "it's all over," and it was.

Going back to the preliminary. Thompson gave an excellent account of himself under the gruelling punishment of the big Bulgarian lion, but Velcoff had 45 pounds on him. After 15 minutes this wore the Chicago boy down and it wasn't a hard thing for Velcoff to put him out with three consecutive headlocks and a flying headlock which came on top of them. Thompson at the beginning slipped a bad arm hold on Velcoff but the Bulgarian came out of it. Thompson got a short arm scissors and Velcoff retaliated with an overhead armhold. Thompson proved much quicker on his feet than the opponent. He got a headlock and a wristlock which looked bad for the moment. Each grabbed a toe hold but Velcoff knew when he had enough and dropped his. Velcoff slipped a reverse headlock but Tommy broke it and Velcoff returned with a split which wasn't very successful.

Called back to the center, Velcoff tried for a mare but Tommy got him with a body scissors. Tommy began to weaken now and Velcoff came in for his best work. Nick got a head scissors, a bad double toe hold and then went into the fatal headlocks. The match lasted just 21 minutes with Velcoff as fresh at the finish as he was at the start.

Velcoff meets Jim Londos next week in the match which was rained out on the last two occasions. Thompson has challenged Santel, who is nearer his own weight and the fans seemed favorable for a match.

BOSTON WOOL.

BOSTON, May 21.—(AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

Wool moves with extreme moderatin in the eastern seaboard market and not much faster in the west. Prices in both sections show little actual change, although it must be said that it is still a buyers' market. The trade, however, hopes that the policy of delayed buying on the part of the clothing manufacturers will presently give way to a higher volume of business in goods and with the mills lightly stocked with wool the reflection in the raw material would be rather speedy.

The English situation is still affected by the strike and mills have been forced to go on shorter time.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—The cotton market was very quiet today. Prices moved within a range of five or six points. October contracts, after selling off from 17.55 to 17.51 rallied to 17.57 and closed at 17.54, compared with 17.52 at the close yesterday. The general market closed steady, net two points higher to four points lower with December and later deliveries relatively easy.

The opening was steady at an advance of two points to a decline of four points. There was probably a little buying on relatively steady late cables from Liverpool and reports of a better inquiry for cotton goods in Manchester. Demand was readily supplied, and the market eased off a few points at mid-day on reports of beneficial rains in parts of the eastern belt.

The prospect for showers in the southwest was considered an unfavorable feature in the weather news, however, and prices steadied up again in the late trading. July sold off from 18.29 to 18.23, and rallied to 18.28 while December after easing off from 17.49 to 17.44 rallied to 17.48 and closed at 17.45.

Private cables attributed the early decline in Liverpool to hedging and continental selling, but said the market steadied later on trade calling.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, May 21.—(AP)—The cotton market today was very quiet with limited trading and narrow price fluctuations. It was purely a weather market and as weather conditions were rather uncertain there was litle ditsposition to trade. In the early trading the feeling was slightly easier on lower cables than due and on reported rains in the eastern belt where moisture is needed. Prices eased off three to eight points on this decline. Later prices were steadier owing to a forecast for increasing cloudiness and showers in the western belt and on the larger mill takings fo rthe week than looked for, a tosal of 253,000 bales. The rally carried prices up six to nine points. The close was at the highest for new crop months which showed net gains for the day of four points while the active old crop month of July showed a net loss of four points.

The opening was steady although Liverpool was lower than due, first trades showing no change to two points down. Prices gradually eased off during the first half of the morning, July dropping to 17.54, October to 17.05 and December 17.06, or three to eight points under the close of yesterday. These proved to b ethe lows for the day.

The market gradually became steadier partly on the better weekly statistics than expected but mainly on the forecast for increasing cloudiness and showers in the west. July traded up to 17.60 and October and December 17.14 or six to nine points above the early lows. The close was at or near the top.

Exports for the day totaled only 1,019 bales, for the week 118,436 bales.

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—The first sustained rally in stock prices in nearly a month took place today with buying orders spread over a fairly broad list. Short covering operations provided the backbone of the advance, but commission houses also reported a reawakening of public interest which has not as yet reached extensive proportions. Today's sales were 1,307,400 shares as compared with 1,299,700 yesterday and a daily average of less than 1,000,000 earlier in the month.

Traders were inclined to pay more attention to trade developments which in the main were favorable. Operators working for higher prices derived encouragement from the optimistic statements made by steel executives at the semi-annual meeting of the American Iron and Stel Institute from the favorable character of the first April railroad earnings statements to make their appearance and from the announcement of an increase in gasoline prices by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

The weekly mercantile reviews reported that the volume of business was well maintained, in view of the unseasonable weather. Buying for the fall continues, however, of a "hand to mouth" character, with a rather pronounced downward trend still noted in many commodity prices.

Active short covering in the motors and specialties which have been hammered of late by bear traders probably was stimulated by the panicky retreat of the shorts in Hudson Motors yesterday as a result of the confusio ncaused by publication between 63½ and 64¾ today, closing ⅝ net higher at 63⅞. Dodge Brothers common and preferred, General Motors, Jordan, Mack Trucks, Pierce Arrow common and preferred, and Willys Overland all sold 1 to 3 points higher.

Strong buying support again appeared in the oil group. Atlantic Refining was bid up 2½ points to a new hight at 125⅝ on a revival of rumors of its merger with Marland, but it lost most of the day's gain before the close. Associated Oil rallied 2½ points to 53, closing at the top and Pan-American B, Standard Oil of California and Union Oil of California each advanced about a point.

Sharp recoveries also took place in allied Chemical, American Can, the Commercial Solvents issues, Foundation company, General Electric, International Combustion Engineering, Mathieson Alkali, Montgomery Ward, Remington Typewriter, Texas Gulf Sulpher, U. S. Cast Iron pipe and United Drug, all up 2 to 7 points.

There were a few soft spots. Austin Nichols and Cuba Cane sugar preferred each fell over 2 points to new low records for the year. Armour issues closed fractionally higher, omission of the dividend on the "A" stock being announced after the market closed.

Railroad shares were strong in anticipation of additional favorable April earnings reports. Jersey Central jumped 10 points on a few sales, each of the "Soo" issues advanced about 5 points and New York Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, Southern Railway, Lackawanna, Delaware and Hudson and "Nickel Plate" were among the many issues to show net advances of a point or more.

Call money renewed at 3¾ per cent, but advanced to 4 and thence to 4½ by the calling of over $20,000,00 0tn bank loans.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Sharp rallies in French and Belgian francs to around the 3¼ cent level featured the irregular "foreign exchange market. Demand sterling was slightly easier, just under 4.86.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, May 21.—(AP)—In a nervous, rapidly fluctuating market today wheat finished irregular 1⅛c net lower to ⅝c advance. Heavy selling, which at one time caused a four-cent break in the price of May wheat suggested to some observers a move to check further shipments from other markets to Chicago in time for delivery on May contracts here. Corn closed ⅝c to 1 cent up, oats unchanged to ⅛@¼c higher and provisions unchanged to 10c down.

Commission house buying lifted corn and oats near the end of the day. Absence of any pressure to sell made the corn market quickly respond. A good deal of the buying of corn appeared to come from the east. Provisions went lower with hogs.

STOCK-A-DAY

Standard Oil of California is the largest producer in that state and has recently augmented its holdings and production capacity by consolidating with it the producing properties of the Pacific Oil company. This necessitated the incorporation of a new company Jan. 27, 1926, stock in which was distributed to Standard Oil of California and Pacific Oil shareholders in proportion to their old holdings.

Net profit for the year 1925 of the old Standard Oil company was $30,953,485 or 9.29 per cent on the combined issued capital and book surplus of Dec. 31, 1925. This was equivalent to $3.25 on the outstanding stock of that date as compared with $2.83 for 1924. During the year the company retired $2,500,000 in gold notes and had on hand Jan. 1, 1925 $44,000,000 in cash and securities.

Surplus increased $21,793,658. On Jan. 1, 1926 there were 9,516,434 shares of capital stock of the old company with a par value of $25 a share. Funded debt totaled $20,000,000.

Stock of the new company consists of 15,000,000 no par shares of common of which 12,602,434 will be issued. This stock was exchangeable share for share for stock of each of the two companies. Cash dividends have been paid regularly since 1911 on the old California stock, the rate from 1923 being 8 per cent. Crude oil production from the Standard wells in 1925 was 35,652,982 barrels and on Jan. 1, 1926 1100 barrels a day were shut in. On that date Pacific Oil was producing 58,700 barrels of oil daily and standard 24,138 barrels. Net earnings of Pacific Oil for 1925 were estimated at $12,800,000. The entire $20,000,000 bond issue of the consolidated company will be called for redemption Aug. 1, 1926

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Trade, crop and industrial reports are rather varied, in that retail trade and more especially crop reports are rather more favorable than at any previous time this spring whereas wholesale and jobbing trade are of a fill-in character, with future buying conservative in a high degree, while the industrial pace aside from building which notes the settlmnt of a number of strikes is rather slower, due to the further slight slowing down in iron and steel operations in automobile manufacturing, shoe output and textile production, particularly of cotton goods. Taken as a whole the situation is about fair with slight gains or decreases down from this time a year ago, when it will be recalled business was also receding.

Doctor and Woman Chiropractor Indicted in "Baby Farm" Probe

Three indictments have been returned at Peoria, Ill., against Dr. Harry H. Whitten and Bessie Atherton, the latter a chiropractor, in connection with the investigations by Peoria and Tazewell county authorities into the deaths of two infants "adopted" by Mrs. Alice Marie Cramer. That these two doctors were connected with the "baby farm" from which Mrs. Cramer obtained her "adopted" infants was revealed when Mrs. Cramer was questioned at the Pekin jail, where she is held. Dr. Whitten and Bessie Atherton deny any wrong doing in connection with the farm. The photo shows Dr. Atherton and the home in which some of the infants were found dead

Plan to Stabilize Norway's Currency

OSLO, May 21.—The professors of political economy in the University of Oslo have presented an address to the state authorities of the Norges Bank urging them at the earliest opportunity, say May 1 next, to resume the buying and selling of gold bullion at the rate of 3277 kroner per kilogram, which is the equivalent of 24 kroner to the pound sterling. (The existing gold parity is 18kr. 15090.) They express the opinion that the adoption of such a course will immediately secure firmly money volues, and give the banks full command over its national currency without in any way binding its future course of action.

ILLITERACY STILL PERSISTS IN FRANCE

PARIS, May 21.—In spite of compulsory universal instruction, a certain percentage of children escape from the net, and statistics which have been compiled show that, among the men who were called upon for army service last year, six out of every hundred were illiterate. By this is meant that they cannot even sign their names.

This is a strange fact, for in 1914 the percentage was 3.73 and in 1922, 3.51. In 1832, it is true the army contained over 51 per cent of illiterates and in 1862 31 per cent. Thanks to compulsory and free education, the percentage had fallen in 1892 to 8.55, and afterward was reduced by half.

Thus until recently there has been a regular improvement. It is regretable that one should have to record a retrogression, but it must unquestionably be attributed to the war, which deprived many French children of educational facilities.

His lordship fought his way through the flames and smoke and rescued the consecrated Host from the chapel and afterward directed the work of the volunteer fire brgade, who prevented the conflagration from spreading to other buildings.

Former Kaiser Is Happy In Adopted Homeland As He Cheerfully Chops Wood

DOORN, Holland, May 21.—(AP) While Emperor William of Germany ruled in imperial splendor at Potsdam the correspondent who writes this dispatch was from 1902 to 1911 chief of the Berlin bureau of the Associated Press. He was freqently in personal contact with the emperor. Since then he has been chief of the Paris bureau. He has now come to visit Doorn to observe how the one-time war lord is living the new life forced upon him by the fortune of war and how he appears after the passing of these 15 eventful years.

The kaiser, grown venerable! The gray bearded, white haired war lord would surely not be recognized in Berlin if he were to stroll through Unter Den Linden as he does today through the streets of Doorn. The rigid regimental face, greatly changed by the beard and by years, smiles benevolently, even patriarchically, upon the townspeople.

Everybody who lives here feels that he knows the former kaiser. He never misses a day, no matter what the weather, in walking through the main streets. The women and girls nod or curtsy; the men and boys lift their hat or caps. William always responds with a certain impressiveness by raising his own hat, often saying "good morning" in Dutch, his face beaming. The contrast with his automatic military salute of other days is surprising. Now he is civil. He wears a gray sack suit with an overcoat in darker gray soft hat creased in the middle cocked at a careless angle and dark purple tie and a turndown collar. For dinner he puts on the fatigue uniform of a German field marshal, but he never appears in uniform on foot outside the grounds.

Life Goes Well

He looks as though life goes well with him. He is straight and firm of step and talks animated with his companion. He almost always has a guest or guests stopping with him at Doorn house and if by chance none is with him in his walks he is attended by an adjutant. He does not leave his estate alone. There may be Dutch secret service agents around, but no one looking the part follows him. The general impression his passage through the town might give is that of a kindly landlord among his tenants.

Everything has been done to cultivate the good will of the town and neighborhood. All the supplies for the house of Doorn are bought in the town. A subscription for any good work can always be had from the former emperor. William himself and his wife bought almost the entire stocks of clothing and shoes for men, women and children flood sufferers a few weeks ago in Doorn stores.

William has become an asset of this pleasant town. The gossip that his consort, Hermine, is urging him to move elsewhere so that they may have a larger and more worldly life, rather distresses the burghers.

They do not wish to lose a resident who has put their town of 4,000 upon the international map as it were. They would miss him. Only one adverse comment is made by the townsmen to whom the correspondent has talked. "The kaiser pays no taxes," they say.

"Everybody else is taxed and taxed heavily, and why not the kaiser?"

The correspondent could not answer this, but it appears from inquiries that it is true William is not taxed. He was taxed during the first two years after he had bought property here; but some arrangement was made which it is said exempts him. The equality loving Dutch do not like that.

Up at 6 o'clock in the morning William begins his daily routine, begins with breakfast in his room and then private devotions. He begins his walk about 8 and at precisely 8:45 each morning he leads a religious service for all the members of the household. His wife, her two daughters and guest; his staff and secretaries and the servants, about 20 of them, assemble in the large entrance hall. William, who as king of Prussia, was the primate of the state Lutheran clergy, takes a text from the Bible and speaks upon it for a few minutes. He closes with the Lord's Prayer.

Sunday Service Longer

Sundays the service is at a later hour and longer. Pastor Herbst of the German Lutheran congregation at The Hague comes out on Sunday once a month and preaches. Another minister of the Moravian confesson also comes now and then from Zeist.

Week days after morning prayers William goes by auto to do his wood cutting exercise in a small forest near Maarn, where he crossed the frontier into Holland in November, 1918. He uses a curiously shaped wide bladed, knife-like axe and a hand saw. After lunch he takes a nap and then works with a secretary. He writes a good deal himself and will leave as a legacy to his family, perhaps to the world, an intimate account of what took place behind the screen during and at the close of the war. He has been described by guests as feeling deeply the constantly recurring assertion that he ran away when he had lost the war and abandoned his army and his people. He has explained to his visitors substantially this:

"Admiral Von Hintze, former foreign secretary, at the time of the revolutionary collapse urged upon William abdication and retirement from the country. The admiral implored this sacrifice on the ground that their country could obtain better terms of peace from the allies.

The kaiser as Von Hintze pointed out was regarded by Germany's enemies as responsible for the war. If he were to give up the throne and leave the country a great step would be taken towards satisfying the allies. The kaiser had much confidence in Von Hintze. His plea was supported by the chancellor, Prince Max of Baden, by Von Hindenburg, by Von Tirpitz and by Ludendorff. William had no one in his entourage to resist this view. He reluctantly agreed, but as he affirms for the sake of Germany alone. His explanation of his motives is being widely circulated in Germany.

Escape from boredom and contact with the world are constant studies of the members of William's little court. This consists at present of Admiral Van rebeur-Paschwitz, the marshal of the court; Major Mewes, adjutant of the emperor; Captain Ilsemann, aide de camp; Herr Nitz, confidential business secretary, and Dr. Heinemann, physician.

The guests coming and going almost daily are former officers in the army or navy, professors, noblemen of the ancient regime, members of the Hohenzollern family of which there are about 50 in good standing; clergymen and occasionally a business man or banker. There were 20 or 30 guests from Germany at Doorn over Easter. Those persons who make him laugh are the most welcome. It is considered quite a success to do so and a good many stories are told in the endeavor.

Dine at Neighbors

William and his wife with one or two members of the staff dine out with their neighbors. Following the royal custom they invite themselves and name the day. This part of the Netherlands is called the chateau country of Holland and covered with beautiful estates and country homes, owned by the burgomaster of Doorn and other prominent Hollanders.

J. B. Kane, minister of the interior, occasionally comes to see William as it is the interior department that has to do with foreign political refugees. The government keeps a major of gendarmes and three men on duty at Doorn house. They have their offices in a part of the rather large entrance lodge.

Besides, some of the elite of the secret service are employed guarding the imperial exile. All this is something of a bother to the government which, however, acts upon the traditional principle practiced for centuries of asylum and protection for all political refugees.

William and the members of his staff are extremely cautious about publicity while the controversy is going on in Germany respecting the confiscation of the royal properties. He receives now from the revenue of the sequest-rated estate by agreement with the Prussian government 600,000 marks a year ($144,000). Out of this he makes allowances to other members of the family. However, his wife is reputed to have a fortune derived from her family, the Schoenaich-Carolaths. There is talk also of certain sums deposited by the kaiser in the Bank of England that have not been confiscated and which he may receive.

COUNTRY BABIES GET ROUGH START

CHICAGO, May 21.—Farming communities still get their babies by Dr. Stork's R. F. D. system, direct to the home, notwithstanding the growing popularity of hospitals in more densely populated sections. This is shown in a survey being conducted by Mrs. Mary C. Puncke.

Seventy-one per cent of country babies are born at home. Doctors are in attendance at 75 per cent of these births, and midwives at 17 per cent, leaving 8 per cent to arrive without benefit of physician or nurse.

"Despite fresh air, sunshine and abundant milk, more country babies die than those of the crowded cities," Mrs. Puncke said.

Loves Foster Baby But Gives Her Wine

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—Moist-eyed and excited, Tony Lucino fought in juvenile court for the 3-year-old foundling to whom it was testified by Miss Mary Kelly, a worker for the St. Vincent's home, he had been in the habit of feeding wine.

At one stage of the procedure Tony pulled a roll of bills amounting to $470 from his pocket in an effort to convince the court of his sincerity.

Two years ago Tony and his wife, who also appeared in court, took the foundling from St. Vincent's Home, and since they have been paid $14 a month for the upkeep of the little blonde girl.

It looked as though the Lucinos would win until Miss Kelly testified that Tony had fed the child wine. Then the judge decided the case should be investigated.

"I'll reserve decision until I can find out more about this case," the judge said.

Attack on Farmer Is Laid to Magic

PARIS, May 21.—A belief in black magic led a farmer named Thomasson, living near Grenoble, to attack and nearly kill a neighbor for the unexplained death of a calf, a ewe and a goat. Thomasson had consulted a woman seer, who told him:

"Go back, lean over the pond beside your farm and you will see a face. It is the face of him who cast the evil spell over your livestock."

The farmer obeyed. But a neighbor, curious to see what Thomasson was looking at, looked over his shoulder. The neighbor's face was thus reflected in the water and Thomasson enraged, set upon the neighbor. Thomasson and the seer have been arrested.

SINKING ROAD BED PUZZLES OFFICIALS.

LURAY, Va. May 21.—How to combat the sinking of the earth, endangering the roadbed of the Norfolk and Western railway near Island Ford, 16 miles south of Shenandoah, this county, is a baffling and costly proposition.

Already a detour has been made by the railroad company, involving a cost of thousands of dollars. This however, will not be used until there is a continuance of the earth's sinking LIGHTS ARE PUT OUT BY SWALLOW'S PECK.

LONDON, Ont., May 21.—One swallow may not make a summer, but one swallow caused a short circuit which left a large section of London without electric power for several hours.

The bird took one peck at a 13,000-volt power line above the Horton sreet substation. After that it ceased to exist as a bird, but its charred skeleton adhered to the wire until repairmen removed it.

NEGRO DEATH IS MYSTERY

Officers Unable to Find Slayer of Negro Trusty

Efforts of city and district officials Friday to find the slayer of Charles Hudson, negro, who was shot and instantly killed early Thursday night, were of no avail and with an alibi apparently well established by the negro with whom the dead man was known to have had differences, it appeared that the case might go down as unsolved.

J. D. Mitchell, complainant in the aggravated assault case more than a week ago in which Hudson received a 60-day jail sentence, was arrested late Thursday night following the shooting, but upon investigation Friday the truth of his claim that at the time of the shooting he was visiting relatives on Huff avenue was well established. It was indicated Friday afternoon he would be released this morning. Hudson's wife was also being held at the county jail but it was stated there was no likelihood of charges being filed against her.

By her own story she was in bed at her home in the rear of 1104 Scott at the time of the shooting, awaiting the return of Hudson who had gone after food. This story is largely borne out by details in the finding of Hudson's body which, when located by police, was in the alleyway near the residence, with a gaping hole in the rear of the head. Three shots were fired, those who were near state, but no one that saw the shooting or can offer further explanation has been found.

Hudson, at the time of the shooting was a "trusty" at the county jail, where he was under a 60-day sentence for aggravated assault.

The Wichita Falls Bus company and the Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil company are named defendants, the plaintiff's petition alleging joint negligence which resulted in the accident. The oil field trucks were standing at the side of the road without lights after dark, the petition states, and the bus was traveling at a rate of speed in excess of 35 miles an hour.

As a result of the collision Mrs. Bryant received serious injuries, the petition alleges.

Opposition To Proposed Bond Issue Brings A Call For Delay In Vote

Concerted opposition to the $1,470,000 bond issue on which the city is to vote June 12 cropped out [illegible] noon at the chamber of commerce business council luncheon to such extent that a unanimous stand was taken to ask the city council to postpone the election. This may be permanent, although the resolution passed by the council and which now goes to the chamber of commerce directors as well as to the city commissioners, stated that the election ought to be delayed until such time as a more thorough study could be made and a better understanding reached as to the city's needs in the water department.

The resolution calling for the election delay was presented by Charles L. Francis and seconded by Walter Curlee. Mr. Francis in a short talk stated that he did not believe the city should rush headlong into a bond issue, the magnitude of the proposed one until it thoroughly understood what it was doing. This undertaking, he said, had evidently not been reached in view of the difference in opinion between various engineers who have made more or less thorough studies of the water situation.

That part of the bond issue relating to water improvements came in for a round of technical assault Friday noon at the hands of A. M. McPherson, consulting engineer, who presented part of a lengthy paper setting forth his views. It was given as an answer to a former report by Mayor R. E. Shepherd in which the city's stand was defended.

Mr. McPherson was of the opinion that for $200,000 all the improvements needed most could be made here; he declared that the proposal to move the pumping plant from its present location to Lake Wichita was scientifically wrong; he asserted Lake Wichita normally could supply plenty of soft water for city use if the irrigation drain was eliminated; he advocated a low pressure irrigation water system for the entire city to make Lake Kemp water available for this purpose and at a small figure.

His address was illustrated with the use of maps in which he sketched the points he made.

The full report of Mr McPherson, condensed somewhat but incorporating the salient features, will appear in Sunday's Record News.

He will take charge of the William-Mary June 1, it was said yesterday.
