Around Town

All indications point to one of Hereford's largest Dollar Days on Monday. A little cooperation on the weather is the only thing that is needed, since the merchants are providing some super specials for the day.

But, after Monday, you merchants are going to have to be on your toes to sell anything. We believe that all next week is going to be devoted strictly to cussing and discussing the merits of the many political candidates. If the past week is any indication, it's a good thing the primary has been moved up from July to May. It is going to get plenty hot in most of the races without relying on the weather.

4 Persons Die In Wreck After Visiting Here

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Sisk and two of their three daughters, all of Salinas, Calif., were killed in a two-car accident near Gallup, N. M., last Saturday, April 23. The family was returning to their home from a visit with Mrs. Sisk's sister, Mrs. Milton Newman of Hereford, when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Newman, who lives at 324 Ave. D, was notified of the accident Thursday afternoon this week. The other daughter sustained injuries and was reported in serious condition at a hospital in Gallup Thursday.

The family was acquainted with several residents in Hereford and Dawn as they have made several visits to this area. A few hours before the accident, the family had just left Hereford after a two-day visit with Mrs. Newman. All persons in the other car were killed in the highway collision, but cause of the accident is not known.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Monday in Salinas. Mrs. Newman left for Salinas Thursday evening.

Reavley Blasts Public Power, Waggoner Carr

Attorney's Talk Tops Co-op Meet

Tom Reavley, former Secretary of State for Texas and now an attorney for the Texas Electric Cooperatives, unleashed blasts at public service power companies and Texas House Speaker Waggoner Carr during the major address of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative meeting Thursday.

A lighter side of the 22nd annual meeting saw Georgene Hughes of Dimmitt win the "Miss Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op" beauty crown.

More than 1100 persons attended the noon barbecue, while smaller crowds attended the West Texas Rural Telephone Co-op meeting in the morning and the Electric Cooperative business session after lunch.

Reavley pulled no punches during his 30-minute speech on legislative affairs relating to the 75 electric cooperatives in Texas.

"An effort is being made to remove electric cooperatives from areas which have become profitable to service electrical. And this is being done today in Austin through legislative channels," Reavley charged.

A double barrel blast was fired by Reavley at public power companies, which he accused of refusing years ago to aid in rural area electrification and of now trying to eliminate competition through legislative maneuvering.

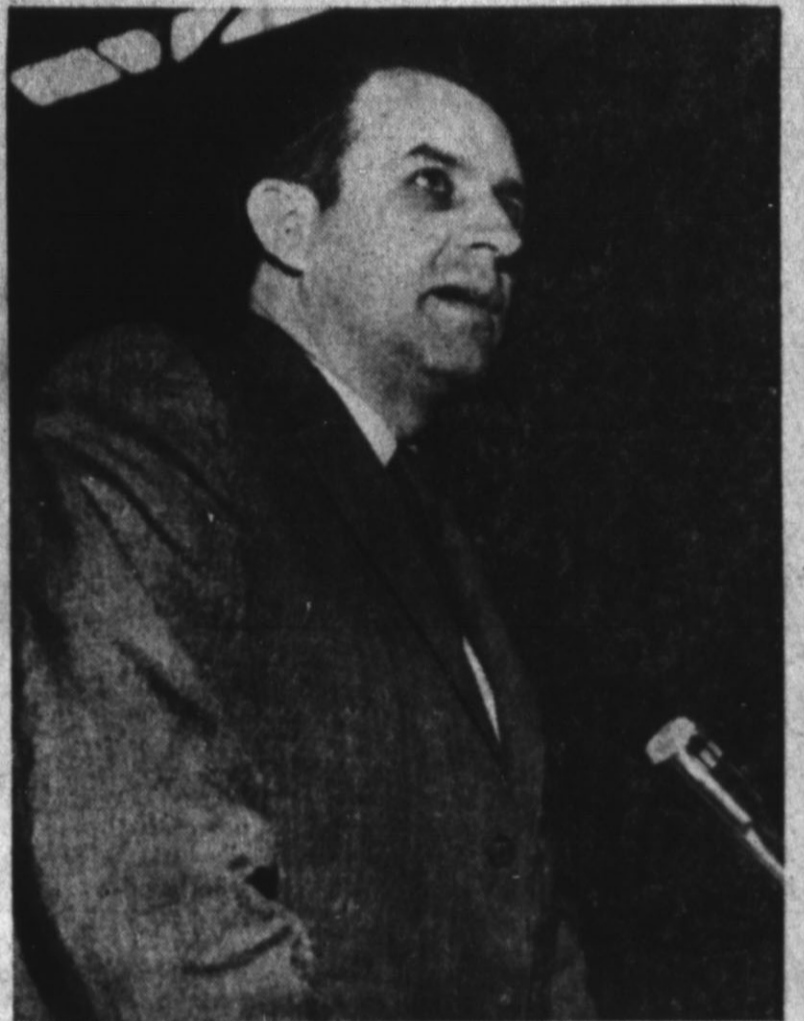

"By and large, in Texas, the public utility has written its own ticket," Reavley said. "The statute under which electric cooperatives are incorporated are unfair and we are attempting to get it changed to protect the territory you now serve."

Talking in detail about House Bill 3, which the TEC sponsored in the last legislative session, Reavley charged House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock with leading the committee hearing into "a farce" after using several delaying tactics.

A junior student from Dimmitt High School, tall Georgene Hughes took first place from a field of six contestants in the beauty contest. It marked a repeat victory for Castro County, home of the 1959 queen, Miss Zetha Ivey. Miss Hughes impressed the Major League team assignments for the Hereford Little League baseball program were made Saturday afternoon. This followed the week-long try-outs and player auction, which was conducted Friday night.

City Discusses Service Lines For Addition

Hereford City Commission met with building contractor N. D. Bartlett of Hereford Friday afternoon in connection with a water and sewer line which was installed in a block of Westhaven Addition last winter.

Bartlett voiced objection to three-inch service lines leading to homes from the main water line, which was laid along the alley in the block.

He contended that he felt the three-inch lines would not provide sufficient pressure when the block was fully developed, and that homes would be at a "water pressure minimum."

City Engineer Bill McMorries of Amarillo said that the three-inch service lines, when no longer than 900 feet, should provide adequate water pressure under normal operation, such as in residential areas.

McMorries pointed out that the service lines in that block were approximately 900 feet long. He said he felt certain that when the block was fully developed, the service lines would provide adequate water pressure.

The commissioners passed a motion to have the matter studied by the city attorney to determine whether or not the installation meets city ordinance or policy specifications.

The special meeting was held at 5 p. m. Friday in the City Manager's Office.

Slate Precinct, County Conventions: Change Two Primary Polling Places

Interest in the many contested races on ballot in the May 7 Democratic Primary continued to mount last week as more than 50 Deaf Smith County residents had cast absentee votes at the County Clerk's office in Hereford Friday afternoon.

Absentee ballots will be accepted in the County Clerk's office through Tuesday this week. Voting in 23 county, district and state office posts will be held from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Stanton Teacher Gets Fellowship

Phillip W. Shook, science teacher at Stanton Junior High School, has been awarded a fellowship to attend the National Science Foundation Summer Institute at West Texas State College in Canyon.

He will receive from the Foundation a stipend of $75 a week for the 12-week program. The program's work will parallel that of the regular summer term at WT, which opens May 31 and closes Aug. 19.

The Institute is divided into two sections for mathematics, physics teachers and for biology-chemistry teachers. Projects will include classroom and laboratory work, seminars, field trips, and lectures by visiting scientists, including Dr. Willie Ley, noted authority on missiles and space travel.

Field trips will include a visit to Holloman Air Force Base at Alamogordo, N. M. Shook teaches science to seventh and eighth graders at Stanton.

Saturday, May 7, in 10 county precinct voting places.

Primary and run-off elections have been moved forward several months this year, as result of action of the Texas Legislature in its 1959 session.

Voting in the Democratic primaries is essential to participation in other Democratic party activities this year. No one will be allowed to take part in a Democratic precinct convention unless he has a poll tax receipt which has been stamped "Democratic".

However, it is not required that a "straight ticket" be voted in the General Election.

Poll tax holders must vote in the primary, absentee or at the polls, to get their poll taxes stamped.

Democratic party precinct conventions will be held Saturday in each of the election precincts in the county. The Democratic county convention will be held May 14 at 2:30 p. m. in the Stanton Junior High School Building, according to L. H. Woodford, county Democratic chairman.

Deaf Smith County election and convention precincts include:

Precinct 1, Aikman School. Convention at 8 p. m.

Precinct 2, Stanton Junior High School. Convention at 8 p. m.

Precinct 3, R. W. Mitchell residence. Convention at 1:30 p. m.

Precinct 4, Simms Community House. Convention at 1:30 p. m.

Precinct 5, Ford Community House. Convention at 1:30 p. m.

Precinct 7, Dawn School House. Convention at 1:30 p. m.

Precinct 8, Garcia Community House. Convention at 1:30 p. m.

Precinct 9, Bippus Community House. Convention at 1:30 p. m.

Precinct 10, Daniel School. Convention at 1:30 p. m.

Precinct 11, Central School. Convention at 8 p. m.

In past years, voting in precincts 1 and 2 was held in Deaf Smith County Courthouse. This was changed for the primary because of crowded conditions in the courthouse.

Mailed absentee ballots will be accepted at the County Clerk's office up to election day provided the application to vote absentee was received at the office by Tuesday. Persons not living in Hereford may write the County Clerk for necessary forms to vote absentee.

In the more localized races, the most sought-after office is that of county commissioner of Precinct 1, with six

By JIMMIE GILLENTE
The weather man sure flipped his lid Friday night. And did he ever put me in a spot? All over town women are accusing me of getting their plants killed. Mrs. Johnny Blocker said she read this column Thursday where it said to put your overcoat in moth balls, so she decided to do some transplanting - and now she figures she has lost every single thing. Several other ladies have called to file the same complaint. I am really in the dog house all over town; and I don't get much sympathy at home, either.

"Why don't you learn to keep your big mouth shut?" asked my wife, who has always pooh - poohed my weather forecasting ability. I told her this attitude was the sort of thing that drives strong men to drink, and she replied: "In that case it won't affect you!"

Christian Church of Pasadena. Others elected to vice president posts were Mrs. Loren Andis of Mission, Tex., and the Rev. Wilbur J. Mindel, minister of the First Christian Church of Odessa. The Rev. E. A. Wilburn, minister of the First Christian Church of Cleburne, was elected secretary.

It looks as if I also owe J.F. Martin an apology, but I hope he will show a bit more tolerance. Other than all of these unhappy people, I am not disturbed, however. This is the first real, dead - center miss I have made in 15 years of continuous predictions, and I figure a fellow is entitled to flub up that often. My record is better than Dan True or the U. S. Weather Bureau by a long shot - and I wouldn't have missed this time if I hadn't gone scientific. Remember, my original hunch was a late cold snap in April. Then, I got to looking at barometers and thermometers and studying tables, and the days got real hot, so I finally gave up and rescinded my original hunch - and that's where I made my mistake.

There absolutely is no scientific or logical explanation for the weather in this country. The only way it can be predicted is strictly on the hap - hazard system, based on hunches, aching corns, rings around the moon and rheumatism.

Meanwhile, I am truly sorry about the transplants. I thought the deal over seriously, and decided to leave town until things cool off. Since I will be gone, it seems only fair to leave this department in charge of someone capable and efficient, so I am hereby turning it over to Dudley Bayne, Earnest Langley and Lyle Blanton. If you lost any flowers, due to my prediction, you are certainly entitled to complain. Just pick up the telephone, call either of these three gentlemen - and get it off your chest. You'll feel a lot better! My personal opinion is that the very least they could do would be to come out and help you replant all of the bulbs and flowers you may have lost.

Friends of Joseph B. Dooley, federal judge, arranged a coffee for him Wednesday morning in order that he might meet and visit with some of the Hereford people. The judge, contrary to what he expects from jurors, was detained and arrived late. Meanwhile, R. G. Peeler, one of the guests, came drifting in some 15 minutes late, but still 10 or 15 minutes ahead of the judge.

"Good morning, Judge," D. C. Kinsey said to Peeler, and walked over to shake hands, whereupon several others started calling Peeler, "Judge."

Everything was fine, except with one newcomer, who did not know Peeler or Judge Dooley, and took the arrival seriously. Finally, he leaned over to a neighbor and whispered:

"The judge seems like a nice fellow, but somehow or other he doesn't talk like the other judges I have known."

Robert Veigel is back from Arizona and, after looking over his lawn, says: "No matter what you've heard about that Arizona country, we still grow better dandelions right here in Hereford."

Robert further says he has some certified dandelion seed, which he will absolutely guarantee to produce. Dandelions are like any other crop, according to Robert. The fellow who has none is just using the wrong kind of seed.

I don't know whether to congratulate the REA or the Rotary Club on the barbecue Thursday. A couple of weeks back I happened to be in Floydada and was invited out to their REA barbecue, which was served out of Ft. Worth by Walter Jeton, the caterer who also served our C-C banquet each year. The Jeton feed was good, but it did not compare with the Hereford food. The Bull Barn also helped, because the sand was blowing on the high school grounds at Floydada. Mostly, though, our Rotarians just plain put on a better feed.

Since Leo Forrest is REA manager, also president of the Rotary Club this year, I guess he can take due pride on both counts. Anyway, he seemed to be the only Rotarian not working - and I don't blame him; it wouldn't be fair to do the work and still have to pick up the tab.

Henry Sears knows more entertaining stories than anyone I ever saw. I think I enjoy them because they are nearly always true, a bit unusual, and because Henry is a natural - born story teller. Several years back Henry and Taft McGee used to eat lunch together almost every day, and part of the fun was sticking the other guy with the check. Finally, they adopted a rule that the first one who touched the tab was "it"; this worked fine, because the waitress usually dropped the check where it touched one of them. One day, when the sand was blowing a gale, the two had lunch and the waitress laid the check on the counter - square between the two men, not coming close to either of them.

"We didn't have anything else to do," says Henry, "so we just sat there all afternoon. Finally, about 4:30 p.m., Taft weakened, reached for the tab, and said: "Gimme that check, Henry. Like I told you when I came in, I am a busy man - and can't waste much time eating lunch."

Jack Bowen of the Lyndon Johnson for President headquarters in Austin was a visitor in Hereford this week, and reports that the Johnson cause is doing quite well, including some 300 Texas counties he has visited. He was convinced that Texas will go whole hog for LBJ, but said his travels lead him to believe Texas may go Republican again in case Johnson does not get the nomination.

Johnson will personally stay with the party, regardless of who gets the pat on the back at convention, and will urge all Texans to do the same - but Franklin D. was the only man, it seems, who could ever make things stick with Texans.

Jack Streun got a bit confused when his daughter caught him in town to report that she won a "lamp" at the REA meeting. Jack thought she said "lamb" and when he mentioned something about "turning it out", he was immediately informed that it wasn't even lit.

By the time this gets in circulation, Clara and I will be on the way to Atlanta, Ga., where we will attend the National Editorial Association. We decided to go when the cold snap hit.

We also got a notice that The Brand has been chosen in one of the three top places (first, second or third) for General Excellence. We figure it will surely be third place, but when you consider all of the other small town newspapers in the United States, even that isn't bad. Melvin Young, H. A. Tuck, Jack Allmon and Ather McIver finally agreed and, for once, I didn't have any trouble convincing my wife.

"However, don't bother to call me," said Melvin, "who remembered when I was in California and telephoned him at 11:30 p. m. - only it was around 2:30 a. m. here - thanks to time zones and day light savings."

Clara is quite interested in seeing the flowers and historical spots, since she is a history major and a little hepped on Civil War lore. I figure to take a fishing pole, but have a sneaking idea that I will wind up with sore feet after walking through all of those battle grounds in Tennessee and Georgia. She has already announced that we "just have to go by Chattanooga"; I think it is because this is where Sherman started his march to the sea.

I was a New York Yankee fan until I got married, but now I never mention it. That gal gets so mad if the Yankees win the pennant that she sulks for a week. I don't believe she would like them even if they hired a pitcher named Robert E. Lee.

REFRESHING VISIT

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) - Pleading guilty to illegally entering the United States from Canada, Robert Pickering, 35, of Stoughton, Sask., explained he did it because a brewery strike in Ontario cut off his supply of beer. He found things better here. Two days after he left Canada, he was arrested in Toledo on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

GERMAN CHAPLAIN
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The Protestant dean of the chaplain services of West Germany's armed forces, Brig. Gen. Albrecht von Matus, toured United States military bases to see how this country's chaplaincy functions.

Red Mayor Says: 'Thanks U. S. A.'

By JOHN GRIFFIN
 SOLO, Java (AP) — The Communist mayor of this Central Java city isn't against American foreign aid loans. He sees them as a help to an Indonesia moving along toward inevitable communism.

Soft spoken Mayor Oetomo Ramelan is a hardcore party man. And he presents a picture of Communist confidence sitting behind the neat two-telephone desk from which he presides over a community of 300,000 persons.

The P. K. I. (Communist Party) has been paving its troubles since the mid-1957 elections when it emerged as the strongest political force in the Central ling changes in an area rich in Javanese culture and the Moslem religion. It has concentrated on better roads, health and social conditions among the poor and keeping its political fences mended among government workers.

Like most mayors, Ramelan likes to have his picture taken and is friendly. He even answers autograph requests from Boy Scouts in America.

But he sees Indonesia through a straight Communist eye.

"The main problem facing the nation now is to free it from domination by foreign capital."

How about the Chinese, now on the receiving end of an army-inspired order to give up all trading in rural regions? The P. K. I. has joined the Chinese Communists in protesting this.

"The Chinese are no problem here," the 40-year-old mayor says quickly, indicating he meant domination from the West.

Is there any risk of domination from the Soviet Union?

"The Soviet Union never invested capital, so how could it dominate us? If you will study history you will see that is the first step towards domination. They give us loans . . . We also welcome loans from the United States, of course, if no military ties are involved."

A one-time law student, Ramelan joined a student "partisan" movement against the Japanese in World War II. He was with the Communists in 1948 when they tried a counter-revolutionary government.

Since then the P. K. I. has rebuilt and established itself in legal fashion. Everyone agrees it has made long strides among the peasantry.

Says Ramelan: "You ask me why communism has an appeal. First, it is scientific and logical. It is something any student can learn. I did during the revolution. You can picture the world marching along the road to socialism. For us, this means it will lead to communism."

BUSY TECHNICIANS
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's missile and aircraft industry employs more scientists and engineers in research and development than any other industry, says the National Science Foundation.

Planes, official publication of the Aircraft Industries Assn., reported 85,000 scientists and engineers work in the aircraft and missile industry, of which 52,000 are directly connected with research and development.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashby

Q. How can I remove the stains from my hands after hulling berries?
 A. Moisten some cornmeal with vinegar and rub this over the stains.

Q. How can I remove a shallow dent in the body of my car?
 A. Here's one easy and often-effective way to do this: Smear the surrounding area with grease. Then apply a plumber's rubber force cup to the center of the dent and, after expelling the air, give a quick jerk — which often brings the dent right up.

Q. How can I separate a number of postage stamps that have become tightly stuck together?

 A. Don't soak them. Instead, lay a thin paper over them and run a moderately hot iron over the paper. They will come apart easily, and the glue will still be usable.

Q. How can I remove stains on pie dishes?
 A. Oven-browned stains on these dishes can be easily removed by soaking in a strong solution of borax and water.

Q. How can I clean a common brick fireplace that is discolored by smoke?
 A. Usually very effective for this is ordinary household ammonia. A mild washing - pcwder solution will remove accumulated dirt and dust. Wash off with clear water. If the brickwork is old and porous, it will, of course, absorb considerable water and will take quite a bit of time for drying.

Q. Is there a way I can easily darken some light tan leather articles, such as belt, shoes, etc?
 A. Rub these articles with a cloth dipped in ammonia. This will give the leather a deep brown finish. Take care to apply the ammonia uniformly so that the finished job will not be a spotty one.

Q. How can I make use of a rubber hot water bottle which has a tiny leak in it?
 A. Instead of filling it with hot water, fill it with hot salt. Salt, it's said, will keep hot longer than water.

MAYOR OETOMO RAMELAN
 and Eastern parts of this long rich island holding two-thirds of Indonesia's 88-million people.

President Sukarno's "guided democracy" virtually rules out any further elections, and thus Communist hopes of new election gains. More important, the army has emerged as communism's greatest enemy.

But the final verdict is far from in. The P. K. I. still has its thousands of centers in the smallest villages and dirtiest slum sections. Mayor Ramelan says — and some veteran foreign observers tend to agree — that the party still seems to be gaining strength among the people, at least in this area.

"If you will study history you will see that the area has always been the center of our struggle against colonialism. As we see it, this struggle is still going on," he says.

In its first crack at local power (17 of 30 city council seats), communism has made no start-

The Office Of Sheriff

Deaf Smith County

FULL-TIME JOB!

Court records reflect that the number of criminal cases filed in Deaf Smith County has almost doubled since 1957.

This constitutes a tremendous increase in the work load of the various law enforcement agencies, and creates new demands on the time and skills of the officers charged with the responsibility of policing the county.

As a dedicated peace officer, I feel that my more than 20 years of experience in all phases of police work and criminal investigation, including supervisory positions, together with my specialized training, qualify me to meet the demands of the office of sheriff efficiently. The Sheriff's Department in Deaf Smith County currently enjoys a harmonious and profitable relationship with the Hereford Police Department and the local officials of the Texas Highway Patrol, as well as the various out-of-county agencies.

This has not always been so, nor is it the case in many other counties in Texas.

Knowing the importance of continuing this policy of complete cooperation, I promise without hesitation that if I am elected your sheriff these conditions will continue to exist, insofar as my best efforts can bring this about, and that the people of Deaf Smith County will continue to have a united front of law enforcement between them and the criminal element. Having no outside interests, and no intention of acquiring any, it is my promise to you that, if elected, I will devote full time to the sheriff's office.

My further promise to you, if you honor me with this trust, is a businesslike administration of the sheriff's office, and honest, impartial enforcement of the law.

I invite you to investigate my record, to satisfy yourself that your vote for me would not be misplaced, and sincerely solicit the support of all law-abiding people in my candidacy for Sheriff.

Sincerely,

L. R. Cherryhomes

Beauty At Home

Q. What, in your opinion, is one of the most frequent errors in makeup?

A. Failure to blend properly. There is nothing more betraying to your purpose than a line marking the beginning of one cosmetic or the ending of another. Harsh, round circles of rouge, eyebrow pencil showing up in a hard, black line, a line of demarcation between the powder - base on your face and that on your throat - these are unsightly giveaways that sometimes escape one's notice in a poorly - lit mirror. Always be sure to check your makeup in a good, strong light!

Q. What after - shampoo rinses are good for promoting softness in the hair?

A. Either vinegar or lemon. When using vinegar, add three tablespoons to a quart of water. When using lemon, one is usually enough, although some women prefer two, to four quarts of water. Follow either of these rinses with one of clear water, of course.

Q. What is the best way to apply eyeshadow to the lids of the eyes?

A. By using a thin, camel's hair brush (the kind artists use), a delicate line of shadow may be drawn close to the roots of the lashes on the upper lid, much closer than your little finger can get. Then you blend the line out over the lid, fading as you go. No coloring should be perceptible at the crease of your lid. The blending process may be done with your finger, if you wish, but be careful not to put too much coloring on the lid.

Q. How should a girl with deep - set eyes make up her eyes?

A. She really should eliminate entirely any eyeshadow - or choose a soft brown that is almost invisible. She is creating her own shadow - so she concentrates on her lashes, applying mascara two or even three times a day until they are a velvet - soft fringe around her eyes.

Q. How can I subdue or whiten some scars left on my face by pimples?

A. Mix one ounce of alum, one ounce of lemon juice, and one pint of rose water. Shake this mixture well, and apply to your skin with some absorbent cotton pads.

Young Mothers Study Club Elects Officers

New officers were elected at the meeting held by the Young Mothers Study Club Tuesday evening in the Community Room of the First National Bank. Hostesses were Mesdames James Boyd and Marshal Wilson.

Mrs. Charles R. Springer was elected president. Those who will serve with her include Mrs. Marshal Wilson, vice president; Mrs. A. W. Self, secretary; Mrs. Weldon Roberson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ed Rinn, treasurer; Mrs. Don Newman, parliamentarian and Mrs. Bruce Fink, historian.

Mrs. Kenneth Malone was in charge of the program for the evening dealing with the subject "The Care and Feeding of Husbands". She said in part: "Health, happiness, business and professional success and social effectiveness all are influenced by the state of nutrition. The woman who is a good planner, a wise purchaser, an excellent cook and a gracious hostess to her family is truly a master home builder.

"It is a scientific fact that women live longer than men. Modern conveniences have made women's work easier while men must work harder to provide these luxuries. Women need to know that nobody in any household needs more love, understanding and appreciation than does the husband, and that he needs to find relaxation and real enjoyment in the home. A wife who prides herself on being a good housekeeper can make a husband feel that it isn't his house at all."

Mrs. Kenneth Maxwell was a guest of the club and new members present included Mesdames Charles R. Springer, Don Newman, Ed Rinn, Pete Wilson and Glendon Sanders.

Others present were Mesdames James Alston, Labry Ballard, James Boyd, Gid Brown, Wendell Burdine, Hugh Clearman, James Headstream, Kenneth Malone, Gerald McCaskill, Jess Robinson, Dale Young, Marshal Wilson and Weldon Roberson.

The program, presented by Mrs. Ansel McDowell, was a review of the book The Final Diagnosis by Arthur Haley, which revealed the story of a young physician's struggle to bring back the high standards of a once up-to-date hospital, against the objections of an aging pathologist.

Special guests included Mesdames Dick Barnard, Gaston Baer, Homer Newton, H. E. Miller Jr., Pat Webb, R. J. Peeler, Gladys Miller, O. M. Dickey, Bill Massie, J. W. Witherpoon and Mrs. Allen.

Members present were Mesdames N. D. Bartlett Jr., Ray Cowsert, Charles Hood, Joel Hodges, V. O. Hennen, L. H. Lookingbill Sr., Ansel McDowell, Dick Miller, Charlie Noland, W. B. Owen, J. B. Pool, Lloyd Pool, Mary Seigler, W. J. Stanford, J. Howard Walker and Helen Pipkin.

YOUR RED CROSS ON THE JOB

By CORINNE J. NEELY

Your chapter had delegates attending a number of meetings this month to bring us new ideas and view points. At the Board of Directors meeting set for May 10th in the Community Room at 10:00 A.M. they will make brief reports. Of the seven persons attending the Welfare Meeting in Amarillo the 22nd, three attended the panel on youth "Recreation and Character Building." They were Jr. Red Cross chairman, Mrs. W. J. Messick; Water Safety instructor, Mrs. O. G. Hill Jr.; and Community Center Hostess, Mrs. Clyde Cave.

Mrs. M. T. Rutter, chapter Gray Lady, heard the panel on "Our Aging Citizen" as did substitute-delegate, Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. Miss Della Stanger, First Aid instructor, and Mrs. Jewel Smith of Home Service Committee were present for the program on "Moving People-What Are Their Problems." Mrs. Smith was a panel member.

The Gray Lady program for the chapter is getting into full swing and this month at their luncheon meeting, they heard a report from Mrs. Earl Plank on her trip to Dallas Art Conference. She and Mrs. O. Werthenberger - Jr. Red Cross teacher-sponsor, were delegated by the chapter to attend one luncheon meeting where Jr. Red Cross was the main topic in art.

Two of the Gray Lady group, Mrs. Guyrene Carter and Mrs. M. T. Rutter were hostess (for the chapter) at a party for the Retrainee Group at the Amarillo Air Force Base. Our group furnished prizes for the bingo games and cookies and cakes for the refreshments. On the 26th, Mrs. Earl Plank and your executive secretary attend the bi-annual meeting of the Panhandle Association of Red Cross Chapters at the Air Base in Amarillo where General Pottinger and his lady were guests for the luncheon. He was the guest speaker at the time. In the afternoon meeting, "Disaster" was the theme. Both chapter delegates made summary reports following group meetings.

Speaking of Disasters, this chapter was able to aid in some ways the Red Cross Sunny Side headquarters set up in Dimmitt, and stood by on an alert basis. Nurses were sent to help at hospital and several checks were sent to the chapter there through our chapter marked for Sunny Side people.

Under instructor of First Aid, Henry Aycock, the Advance class was completed this month with seven people earning certificates.

Jr. Red Cross of four schools chose Easter as the season for project of making favors and place cards for the local hospital, nursing home and the V. A. Hospital and a Children's Home in Amarillo.

High School Council showed the film "Jerry Joins Up" and announced the delegates for leadership summer camp school in Kansas. They were Thomas Coffman and Beverly Boyer.

Jr. Red Crosser, Audri Miller asked the chapter to arrange for a speaker for a Home Makers Class on Civil Defense. Clay Angelo, who had recently attended a meeting on this subject in Amarillo, gave the talk.

Now we will be ready for May programs, chiefly lining up Water Safety Program.

The schedules for the contests have not been received in the office, but will be published as soon as we get it.

A ten-hour course for Hereford credit and collection management and personnel will be held at the Community Center beginning Monday, May 2. Courses will be conducted by Lowry M. Carpenter, a retail credit specialist from the University of Texas Distributive Education Department. Lowry has conducted similar courses in a number of other Texas cities.

Classes will be conducted at night to permit maximum attendance. "The courses will be of great importance to all personnel dealing with credit and collections, whether they are owners, managers or employees of retail, wholesale, servicing and professional organizations," Mrs. Dyalitha Benson, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, said.

All phases of credit and collection procedures and problem will be explained and discussed during the four nights of classes. The course was designed primarily for experienced personnel and emphasis is on advanced training and refresher work in modern credit and collection techniques and procedures.

Further information about the classes can be obtained from Clifford Galley.

St. Anthony's Guild Meets Wednesday

Day lilies, primroses, sweet peas, mock orange, nandina, golden bell, forsythia, French lilac, and chrysanthemums were only a few of the flowers that the members of St. Anthony's Guild exchanged at their meeting Wednesday night.

Mrs. Frank Brinkman was chairman of the program. Mrs. Ed Dziuk Sr. conducted the meeting and roll call was answered with "My Favorite Flower."

It was reported that several ladies cooked the meals for those attending the Cursillos de Cristiandad at the mission camp last week. Father Aloysius expressed his appreciation for the cooperation shown at the basket dinner, Sunday, April 24, which honored His Excellency, Bishop John L. Morokovsky.

Tuesday Moisture Welcomed In Area

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT

Tommy Timberlake spent Thursday night with Tommy Brown.
Bob Merrill visited with Roger and Earl Brown Tuesday night and spent Wednesday morning with Mrs. Eldred Brown and that afternoon visited with Roger Brown again.
The well at the Bruce Coleman home ceased pumping late Thursday night, and Mrs. Coleman has been getting water from the S. N. Thweatts until the well can be repaired.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS

He was the greatest slugger of them all . . . "The Babe" to baseball fans of every age . . . and this was his finest hour.

It was during a World Series between the Yankees and the Chicago Cubs - near the twilight of Babe Ruth's career. He was being razzed by the Cubs, and the fans hooted as the big fellow came to the plate. Charley Root reared back and threw two strikes past the mighty Ruth. The Chicago crowd roared with delight. Ruth just held up his fingers, counted each strike.

Then the "Babe" made his greatest gesture. He stepped back and pointed to the flagpole in the center field. The crowd gasped - then waited in tense silence as Root threw. Ruth swung, connected - and the ball sailed high and far into the center field bleachers. For a moment the crowd was silent. Then it rose en masse to cheer the greatest slugger of them all. Remember the year?

That was a year when a car buyer acted with caution. Every dollar counted . . . and no buyer could afford a "Ruthian" guess about the deal he was getting. He had to be sure!

The year was 1932. Dollars count, today, too . . . and you can make every dollar count when you see us about a better deal on a new 1960 FORD. You'll be SURE of getting tops in trade and terms . . . plus the best in service, too! CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO., INC., 146 E. Second, Phone EM-2727.

Bank Account Is Subject Of Meet

West Hereford Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. W. J. Frost Tuesday. Roll call was answered with "Trouble I Have in Keeping Books", "When I've Thought the Bank's Bookkeeping was Wrong", and a "Hint on Good Bookkeeping".

She also stressed the point of never signing blank check. Members present were Mesdames J.B. Shirley, Edna Bowe, Vern Witherspoon, Carlos Vaughn, Ida Vaughn, Hugh Witherspoon, John Jacobsen Sr., Verna Schroeder, Edgar Moseley, Miss Evelyn Bell, one visitor and the hostess. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Shirley May 10.

P. L. Burrells Attend Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Burrell of Hereford attended a "family get-together" Saturday in the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stovall of Panhandle, where another sister, Mrs. Ethel Coker of Portland, Ore., was a guest.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. George Burrell and Neal Burrell of Shamrock, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Burrell of Amarillo, Mrs. Lillie Burleson of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts of Bakersfield, Calif., Mrs. Elna Norrid of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Powell of Sunray and Roberts' mother from Bakersfield.

MIGHTY TASTY was the verdict of the 1,156 persons who were served at the Deaf Smith County Electric barbecue Thursday at noon. The Hereford Rotary Club prepared and served the annual meal. Five-year-old Valrie Ann Craig was among the eager eaters. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Craig, her father is co-op line superintendent. (Staff Photo)

Wheat Prospects For 1960 Add Sharply To Area Farm Outlook

Prospects for a bumper wheat crop in 1960 became even brighter during the past week as showers deposited approximately an inch of rain over the area to leave fields and range land in the best late-April condition seen here in the past decade.

Greatest economic benefit from the rains will be seen in the vast northwest area of Deaf Smith County, where irrigation facilities do not exist on a large scale.

Moisture has always been the greatest pitfall wheat growers in the area must face. They still have such hazards as greenbugs, hail and the remote possibility of too much late rain and rust but none of these risks are so great in the dry-land section as lack of moisture.

To say that every crop in the territory will materialize according to fondest hopes would be folly; however, it does appear that the area will make a good crop, regardless of what happens — and we still have the possibility of bumper yields for the area. Generally speaking, a good wheat yield in the dry-land territory will be plus economy to people of the area and to the community at large. Add to this factor, the increased interest in livestock feeding in the territory, along with other usual crops, including grain sorghums, potatoes, onions, sugar beets and certified seed, and it appears that 1960 may easily be a better than average year for the farmer.

An outstanding wheat crop comes along once every three to five years in this country and, when it does, having extra money is a lot better than depending on a crop which fails — and not being able to meet one's obligations.

Law Is Servant, Not The Master

Today, May 1, 1960, is "Law Day U. S. A."

Like most people, your first mistake concerning Law Day will be that of assuming that it is an occasion upon which to extol and celebrate lawyers. In truth, lawyers are interested in Law Day but, certainly no more than other serious minded, appreciative Americans.

The true purpose of law day is universal to all citizens. Its object is to foster respect for our laws, enabling our nation to grow in moral strength as it grows in population, resources and world leadership. Law Day is a time when we should pause and recognize the place of law in American life, along with the contribution it has made and must continue to make in future years.

Without law, freedom would be impossible as we know it in America for, when the freedom of one individual infringes upon that of another, someone must surely suffer his rights as a free man. Consequently, it is law which brings order into the affairs of free men, enabling them to survive, own property, develop schools, pursue knowledge, and enjoy those freedoms which remain.

Law should be the servant of free man, just as it is his only hope in lasting peace. Without law, those laws of our nation which have not been endorsed and supported by the majority of our people have fallen into disuse, or have been repealed. It stands to reason that all of our laws must continue to have the backing and respect of our people, or they will follow the same pattern.

"May Day" is also celebrated in Russia, but in honor of the arrival of Communism. Law in Russia is decreed by "masters," who seldom consider the welfare or wishes of the masses as free men and women. Upon the outcome of controversy between these two systems fairly well depends the future of the world and the people who exist in future years.

Law Day is an ideal occasion to recall these things, and to give thanks as free men that we do have and maintain just and adequate laws in the United States of America: laws which are the servant, not the master of free men.

Saturday Is Election Day

Voting time is just around the corner. Next Saturday, May 7, to be exact, while absentee voting in the First Democratic Primary will terminate Tuesday, May 2.

In addition to selecting a Governor, U.S. Congressman, State Representative, Attorney General and District Attorney, Deaf Smith voters will also ballot on the offices of Sheriff and Tax Assessor. Collector in contested races, while voters in Precinct 1 and 3 will vote on Commissioners.

Against a heavy vote in the primary next Saturday is the fact that few people realize that the time is already here, since this is the first occasion in many years when the First Primary did not occur on the last Saturday in July. Hotly contested races, on the other hand, indicate much interest, which may easily offset the early date.

Needless to say, it is the duty and obligation of every American to exercise his right and privilege of casting a vote in the election. The United States of America is one of the few nations which offers its citizens the franchise of free, unfettered voting — and the best possible way to maintain this situation is to vote.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Louis Braille lost his eyesight in a childhood accident in 1812. Entering a school for the blind in Paris, he learned his alphabet from wooden letters. Then he "read" large letters impressed on paper but was impatient with a system that required hours to understand one paragraph.

Next, Braille studied music and at 14 became organist for the Church of St. Anne. There he thought of joining the blind friars, but the Canon said, "God may have great plans for you... Pray to Him... He will show you the way." Louis became one of the great organists of Europe. Yet, he was lonely, could not resign himself to blindness, and was heard to cry out, "Dear God, restore my sight... and I'll dedicate my life to helping my blind brothers."

Though he did not gain his sight, but instead was stricken with tuberculosis, Louis helped his blind brothers. After learning of an army captain's system of night writing, he spent days and nights for years perfecting a touch system. Today, the blind read and write in Braille, play instruments from Braille music-scores, learn geography from Braille maps, put Braille labels on canned goods and operate office machines through his system.

SECOND OF A SERIES

Medical Care-Expenses Taxes Major Problems

(Editor's Note: The following is second of a series of six articles on problems of the senior citizens of Texas, which recently appeared in the Houston Post. As members of the Hereford Area Foundation are currently attempting to locate a Methodist Church home for the aged in Hereford, the series will be carried in The Sunday Brand as a public service. Federal Social Security is slowly but steadily supplanting state - federal Old Age Assistance as a source of income for elderly Texans.

Nearly a half - million citizens of the State in the upper age bracket are drawing either Old Age and Survivors Insurance (social security) or Old Age Assistance, and about 45,000 receive both. At least seven out of 10 old people get a monthly check from one or the other.

The most recent figures show that 245,626 Texans draw social security because of their age, for a total of $15,830,012 a month, while 223,000 receive Old Age Assistance totaling $11,834,141 a month.

At present the maximum social security payment is $108.50 a month, and the average in Texas is $64.45. The maximum Old Age Assistance payment is $67 a month and the average is $53.06.

Thanks to increased social security coverage, the Old Age Assistance rolls are showing a gradual decline from a peak of 227,853 in September, 1950, though they went up a bit during the drought years. By 1975 they are expected to drop to 142,000.

At present, the biggest need for indigent old people is low-cost medical care.

Mrs. William B. Ruggles, of Dallas, a member of the Texas Society on Aging, said the two questions most frequently asked by old people are: (1) Can anything be done to help us with the cost of medical care? (2) Is there any possibility of relief from the tax burden at the time of life when our incomes are so reduced?

The Texas homestead exemption does provide a measure of tax relief, but the burden of medical care grows heavier by year.

Information on the survey being conducted in your county is available from your county judge.

POLIO SHOTS PUSHED

School officials and physicians here urged this week full use of Salk vaccine against polio after a survey at Littlefield High School revealed that one out of every three students has inadequate protection from the disease. A similar survey conducted at the junior high school shows about one of every five students there has inadequate protection. "What is alarming," said Glenn Reeves, principal at LHS, "is the fact that 44 students in our high school have not received polio shots whatsoever." Fourteen students at the junior high have not received any Salk vaccine. U.S. Public Health Service says three or more doses is between 80 and 90 per cent effective against polio. Four or more doses boost effectiveness to 90 per cent or better. Doctors recommend booster shots every two years. More than 500 cases of polio were reported last year in Texas, with nine out of ten cases involving persons who received less than three shots. Three of every four cases involved persons who had received no shots. In 1952, before the Salk vaccine was discovered, Texas had 3,984 polio cases.

PARK PLANS TAKE SHAPE

A new Little League Ball Park, built to official LL regulations and specifications, will begin shaping up on the block formerly occupied by the old Ag barn in the east part of Friona in the next week or two. Definite action was planned at a meeting Monday night between representatives of the merican Legion, Jaycees, Friona Lions, and the Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. After talking over various "rumors" and other speculations concerning the new park those present elected a board of directors for the Little Leaguers organization and each of the clubs were assigned definite goals in connection with constructing the new park in time for the summer schedule to begin the last of May. Pinning down two rumors which had been holding up action on the park building — the new park can be used by others than the Little Leaguers provided permission is obtained from the commissioner; the park fence (centerfield) can have advertising on it. These two items were causing some of the misunderstanding about the park, but after settling them the 20-odd men present got down to business. The following assignments were decided upon: American Legion, responsible for construction of bleachers; Friona Lions, responsible for construction and erection of fences; Friona Jaycees: construction of two dugouts, Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture: providing a concession stand at the rear of the backstop.

SUNRAY PLANS CLEAN-UP DRIVE

"Clean-up, Paint-up and Fix-up Week" gets rolling Monday in Sunray with six days devoted to preparing a summer attire for the Moore County city. City Council members recently officially set the week aside and have urged citizens to make the campaign the best in the history of the city. City cooperation with residents in hauling away trash has been assured by City Secretary Darce Foshee. "After areas have been cleaned and trash is cleared it should be piled next to the alley so that trucks can haul it away," Foshee said. A full scale assault against trash in the alleys is planned Saturday when private and city trucks will be used to clear the city.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editors note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm discusses work this week, in a theoretical sort of way.

Dear editor:

Some people never get out of a rut. For example they think the only time to get spring fever is in the spring, whereas I've found it can be done in the summer, fall or winter too, if you put your mind to it.

What brought this to my mind was an article I read yesterday afternoon when I got tired of working and sat down, by an industrious expert who said that "by the year 2,000 the word 'worker' will be obsolete, man having been replaced by industry. Look about you now—do you see many people with a pick and shovel?" he asked.

"Do you see anybody actually doing any manual labor?" Which way you reckon that man was looking? You can look in some directions, say mine for example, and maybe not see anybody doing much manual labor, but the idea that manual labor has just about been abolished is one of the biggest hoaxes ever attempted.

Now it's true that riding a tractor beats walking behind a plow pulled by horses, but anybody who imagines driving a tractor eight or ten hours a day, going up one row and down another, doesn't involve work, just never has tried it. Furthermore, you don't step outside, when plowing time comes, mount your tractor, and take off. Somebody has to get some plows or planters or busters or discs hooked up to that tractor, and if anybody thinks this doesn't involve manual labor, I will be glad to turn the job over to him first thing in the morning.

And furthermore, manual work isn't confined to the farm. In the most perfectly air conditioned building in the city, using scientifically designed chairs and an electrically-operated typewriter, typing eight hours a day runs into work. A doctor in a modern hospital, with all kinds of newer gadgets, including an electric saw instead of a hand saw, still finds himself played out after a four-hour operation. And so it goes.

In fact regardless of how many labor-saving devices man now has, regardless of all the automatic systems and modern inventions, most people I know wind up the day just about as tired as people did 50 years ago. At least they say they're tired. And when I say I'm tired, I don't want anybody arguing with me about it.

My theory is that machines will never be smart enough to eliminate work. It's up to man to do this, and the only way is not to rely on a machine, but to simply crawl under the shade of a tree and stretch out.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

OFF THE Shelf

By H. A. TUCK

If you think the sky is an unlimited vastness, in which a pilot is free as a bird, The Crowded Sky by Hank Searls will change your mind. This novel helps explain in detail how mid-air collisions can occur. Searls explains in his prologue: "The airway is not a highway, but an invisible alley, sometimes of infinite height. Day or night, its traveler depends for safety not as the motorist does on keeping right or left of a center line, but on holding a promised speed and an assigned altitude. If he speeds up, he will overtake his predecessor; if he climbs or descends inadvertently, he is suddenly in an opposite stream of traffic approaching with the speed of sound." While The Crowded Sky is crammed with technicalities of air travel, it also is concerned with the human problems it explores. Commander Dale Heath is flying a jet from California to Washington to a meeting. But the Navy pilot is worried about his broken marriage, its effect on his teen-age daughter and of his love for a dead friend's widow. At the other coast, commercial co-pilot Mike Ruble is concerned about the inflexible attitude of his captain, the suave and experienced Dick Barnett. Aboard with Ruble as a passenger is Dr. Ed Benedict, who is wrestling with his conscience and his professional code. In the middle, at the fictitious Amarillo Control Center, traffic controller Norm Coster is having a rough night: air traffic is heavy, bad weather has put all planes on instruments. On such a night, pilots must depend strictly upon the instructions of the controller. Quickly, as the cities and towns flash past, the two planes approach each other. Clouds hide them from view. No question about it, this is an exciting book, and the reader won't be in the mood to put it down unfinished. The Crowded Sky by Hank Searls is a dramatic story of how men and or-

Beauty At Home

Q. What can I do about some honey that has become grainy?
A. Set the container in a saucepan of hot water, with a couple of sticks of wood under the container to keep the water circulating under it, and let it stand for several hours. Keep the water hot, but not boiling, and the honey should return to normal.

Q. How can I keep partly used cans of paint from hardening?
A. Try the same method that jelly and jam makers use for preserves. Four some melted paraffin or wax over the top of the paint that is left in the can. This will harden into an airtight, protective coating.

Beauty At Home

Q. What can I do about some honey that has become grainy?
A. Set the container in a saucepan of hot water, with a couple of sticks of wood under the container to keep the water circulating under it, and let it stand for several hours. Keep the water hot, but not boiling, and the honey should return to normal.

Q. How can I keep partly used cans of paint from hardening?
A. Try the same method that jelly and jam makers use for preserves. Pour some melted paraffin or wax over the top of the paint that is left in the can. This will harden into an airtight, protective coating.

DO NOT LET A MINORITY GROUP TAKE THE RIGHT TO VOTE FOR JUDGES AWAY FROM THE PEOPLE.

Judges are elected by your vote so that the people may control the development of the law.

Some politicians and few lawyers are proposing that judges ought to be appointed. I am opposed to such a proposition.

The people know as well as lawyers if a candidate is qualified to be a judge.

My finance is too limited to do a lot of advertising in this campaign. However advertising does not add to a candidate's qualification.

I often wonder where so much money comes from in expensive campaigns for public office.

When I am elected I will be obligated only to the people as a whole.

LAW DAY U.S.A. MAY 1st

This ideal has come closer to realization in our America than in all but a few other countries. But, in a large part of the world there is no sharing of such good fortune. For many people, the court house doors may not even be open—or else the decisions rendered are too often only the first step to a concentration camp.

In recognition of the essential role of Law in this country as the safeguard of individual freedoms, May 1 has been proclaimed LAW DAY U.S.A. In grim contrast, this same day in certain other nations will witness an entirely different kind of May Day celebration. There, citizens will parade before rulers who use law, not to provide justice for the individual, but to perpetuate their own dictatorship.

We take this opportunity of LAW DAY U.S.A. to salute the men and women—poets, lawyers, philosophers, judges, teachers, and just plain citizens—who have contributed so much to the creation and the preservation of our constitutional American freedoms.

Yes Virginia, There're Still Real Leprechauns

By VIVIAN BROWN
Do you believe in Leprechauns? Brownies, elves, grass sprites? You should, says Ann Moray, singer and lecturer on Celtic mythology and faerie lore, because "they really exist, and one wee person may be nudging you now, hoping for the warmth of your smile."

It could be tiny like a sprite Brownie, Leprechaun or Luriken, Puca or Fear Darrig—or a larger spirit like an elf, just under a foot high.

If you are a MacClachlan or a MacDonald, you've seen a Brownie, no doubt, the one perhaps who came here from Ireland with your ancestors. "If you haven't seen him, listen for his merry laugh, and you'll see what I mean," says Miss Moray.

The Grants of Inverness had a Brownie - attached type also, she says. And a Kirwin is said to have married a fairy woman, one reason 'tis said Kirwin women are endowed with extreme beauty and charm.

If Welch, your wee people, the Tylwytheg, prefer to live near rivers or lakes as they did in Wales.

In Germany, they adore mountains. There are Modsogar and Dyrin and their tribes of Dwarfs who are metallurgists—strong, small and thick set.

Scandinavians have inherited dour fairies, Miss Moray says. Cruel gnomes evolved because of the cold climate, and they've never warmed up.

Most wee people, however, are usually jolly and good. The Ferothers, for instance, fairies of the Indians, work ceaselessly for the good of mortals. Brownies are supposed to be very industrious, and can help with the housework, if they are in the mood.

Irish fairies are gay and merry, probably because Ireland was a warm, lush verdant spot when St. Patrick landed, Miss Moray points out.

Fairies are well dressed. In Munster, the little people wear black hats, green coats, white and red shoes. The Fear Darrig, two-foot high, wear red hats and long scarlet coats reaching to the ground.

"Fairies gravitate to people on the right wave lengths," Miss Moray explains. "Some people are clairvoyant, have second sight, see them all the time. Other people just don't look or they could see them in action. There are people who keep fires burning to keep the fairies warm, those who keep a bowl of water handy for them to wash in, and some people even supply the tasty foods that fairies like—honey, flower nectar, milk and good wine."

Miss Moray, born in Wales of Scottish and Irish parents, never saw a fairy in Britain. But she saw a large one in Venezuela.

"It swept through the house with a furious roar in a diffused colored light," she says.

Poets, artists and philosophers, have believed in them she points out. Milton described them in "Comus." In "A Social History of Ancient Ireland" Professor P. W. Joyce advises us that the Celtic hierarchy alone could fill an entire volume. Sir William Ousley found that fairies "do not resemble angels, nor the Cherubim and Seraphim of the Hebrews, the Daemons of the Platonists nor the Genii of the Romans. They do not resemble the fairies of Shakespeare, and neither is their stature diminutive."

The Rev. Robert Kirk, a minister in Hebrides, 17th century authority wrote in the Secret Commonwealth of Elves, Faunes and Fairies that the fairies were of "medium size and of intelligent and studious spirit. They have light changeable bodies, somewhat in the nature of a condensed cloud, and are best seen at twilight."

Does believing in fairies insult our reason? "No," says Ann Moray, who has lectured on the subject across America. "New scientific developments illustrate there are many unforseen forces at work. We are getting closer to believing what we cannot see at once."

Miss Moray who lives in Washington D. C. with her Venezuelan diplomat husband, Senor Don Juan Lopez de Ceballos, studied music in Vienna and did concert singing before devoting her time to recording Gaelic, Celtic and other songs and legends.

Her songs are songs without accompaniment in the age old manner, using 12 or more scales of the Gaelic Celts rather than two—our major and minor. It is music that makes the voice an instrument—mood music, joyous without a literary symbol.

Songs like Na Reubatan, of the sea winds, have a complete poem, but spoken words and music blend so that it is hard to tell where each begins and ends. Her most recent collection, "Ann Moray Present Gaelic Songs and Legends," includes love songs, sea songs, fairy songs, songs of the saints and lullabies that have been handed down for 3,000 years. She says:

"Music has been the vehicle for the transmission of the poetry of the Gaelic people from the time when Ireland was one of the few areas that had the word of life."

Johnny Jealous Of New Baby?

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M.D.
IT IS NEARLY impossible to prevent a firstborn child from feeling some jealousy when a new baby moves in to his home. But the more sensitive you are to the feelings of your toddler, the easier you will make it for him, and the more likely he will grow up to have real affection for his younger brother or sister.

Don't expect the impossible—you will have some jealousy—just be on the alert to see it in whatever camouflage it appears and ready to accept and reassure your first born.

Some advance preparations help. The older child should know about the coming of the new baby before the big day arrives. But if the older youngster is under 3, his time sense is not too well developed. Next week, next month, next year, may seem to him all lumped together as "soon." Better tell him several months before the birth is expected but as to date be vague.

"Some day we are going to have a new baby in this house." Tell him where baby is now and how you are taking care of him until he gets big enough to move into the room you are fixing up for him.

Try to give your 2½-year-old some concept of what a new baby is like. He may well be expecting a playmate. Take him to visit friends or relatives with babies young enough to lie in cribs so that he sees for himself in his early months, tell him how little and helpless he was—"Why couldn't talk or walk"—and in this picture you were so little you couldn't even hold your own head up." Tell him, "The new baby will be very much the way you were when we first got you."

One way to help the toddler to grow up to his Big Brother role is to graduate him to a grown-up-up-bed. Long before the new baby arrives so that he doesn't feel pushed out and made to give up his place and possessions.

Get him his new bed with a good bit of talk about how grown up he is. Retire the crib or bassinet, and bring it out, freshly painted, after the older child has about forgotten it. This helps to prevent him from feeling pushed out. Do the same thing with any other equipment you intend to pass on from one child to the next.

Get used to calling him your Big Boy and stop calling him your baby. To have your title suddenly applied to someone else is sometimes upsetting. Some preparation for the fact that mother must go away "to get the new baby" is essential. You may explain:

"Mother has to work very hard to push out the baby, the doctor will help her, but she will be tired out afterwards and will need to rest in the hospital for a few days. But she won't be gone long and you and Daddy, or you and Grandma can keep house together while she is gone."

Then comes the big day when mother and baby come home from the hospital. Don't expect your toddler to be as interested in the baby as you are. He will want a reunion with his mother uncluttered with a darling baby sister or brother. Don't make a fuss over the baby, greet the older child with warmth and enthusiasm and only casually show him the newcomer.

20,000 LAUGHS UNDER THE SEA!
"Operation Petticoat"

TRUTH IS NOT ONLY STRANGER THAN FICTION... IT IS OFTEN FUNNIER!

"OPERATION PETTICOAT"

FOR YOUR INTEREST—RESEARCH INFORMATION CONCERNING CERTAIN INCIDENTS ON WHICH THE PLOT IS BASED

As documented by the United States Naval Institute's official account of Submarine Operations in World War II—it REALLY HAPPENED!

Commander Coe of USS SKIPJACK actually went through eleven months of putting in requisitions to get 150 rolls of toilet paper. The outraged letter which Coe finally wrote to the Supply Depot (and which is used verbatim) has become legend in the Navy, a blow for liberty on behalf of all fighting skippers against red tape.

There were female passengers on submarines. Army nurses were evacuated from the Philippines by submarines. USS GATO took aboard patients from a native maternity hospital. Two of the pregnant women gave birth at sea.

USS BOWFIN sighted a sitting duck tanker tied up at a wharf. She fired—the torpedo veered off—missed the ship—and sank a truck.

USS THRESHER surfaced happily on sighting an American destroyer, only to be met by a barrage of gunfire and depth charges, which nearly blew her apart.

AND THERE WAS A PINK SUBMARINE—perhaps not quite as pink as SEA TIGER, but that peculiar orange tinge of a weathered red lead undercoat. The sub was tied up at a wharf for overhaul and a paint job when the Jap Air Force struck. Forced to flee, she wandered the South Pacific—a shocking pastel apparition. This unique sub became the pet subject of Tokyo Rose's broadcasts. This was USS SEADRAGON—but we ask you to withhold the name, in deference to the embarrassed men who served aboard her.

An added item: Tony Curtis was in the Submarine Service during the war. In fairness to Mr. Curtis, he denies any connection with the above incidents.
