Record Tides Cause Millions In Damage

BOSTON (AP)—Thousands of persons fled their homes, hundreds were rescued and damage was recorded in the millions from a record ocean tide which gave New England one of its worst coastal floods.

Communities along 30 miles of the Greater Boston shoreline suffered the brunt of the flood devastation as the Atlantic Ocean spurted a stormy anger from Maine to New Jersey Tuesday.

The highest tide in 108 years—14.3 feet—brought ocean water to a depth of seven feet on some streets and into the first floors of many homes.

The flood tides were driven by a northeast storm which battered New England for the second successive day.

The storm dropped up to 16 inches of snow in New England. At least nine deaths were blamed on the storm.

More than 700 families were forced to flee their homes in the town of Hull on Boston's South Shore. Scores of women and children were plucked from first floor windows by rescuers.

Coast Guard craft and private boats were called to aid in the evacuation.

Pelting rain, sleet and hail hammered at windows. Patrolman Paul Dunn waded shoulder high in water to rescue two women and two children in Hull.

There were evacuations and rescues in Quincy, Scituate, and Cohasset on the South Shore and at Revere, Winthrop and Nahant north of Boston.

At Scituate, Mass., June Ragge was looking out her window when the ocean broke through the sea wall. "Then came tons of stone," she said, "and water cascaded across the road. My children panicked. I called police and they got us out."

Later she remembered she had not shut off the gas and electricity and Edison Electric Co. man rowed her back to the house. On the way back to safety, a gust of wind knocked her out of the boat into the icy water. The Edison man saved her.

More than 300 evacuees were housed overnight in public buildings in Quincy.

Thousands had to seek shelter elsewhere throughout the flood area when water rose several feet in their cellars and extinguished furnaces.

At Camp Ellis, Maine, an unoccupied house washed into Casco Bay.

In New York 44,000 homes were without power when the storm snapped power lines. Two men were electrocuted by fallen wires.

At Newburgh, N.Y., a Greyhound bus bound for New York with 18 passengers aboard skidded and overturned on the New York Thruway.

Scores of parked cars suffered sea water damage when they were flooded up to window height along streets and in industrial parking lots on the Greater Boston waterfront.

Mercantile establishments reported hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage loss when stock stored in cellars became soaked.

The hazard from wet wiring forced power companies in the New England flood areas to cut off the power supply. Other crews shut off water and gas lines.

The Bosion fire department asked the Coast Guard to assist with firefighting equipment along the waterfront where several wharfs were flooded.

The slashing northeast storm moved slowly out to sea. The Weather Bureau said tides today would be between one and two feet above normal.

Rayburn Honored At Celebration

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK

SHERMAN (AP)—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, who will be 78 when Congress convenes Jan. 6, gets an advance birthday celebration today as Sherman pays special tribute to its veteran representative.

Highlighting the "Sam Rayburn Appreciation Day" was to be a luncheon in his honor at noon, staged by the city's eight service clubs. Fully 500 persons were expected to attend the luncheon at which Rayburn was to be the principal speaker.

The luncheon has been billed as "non-political."

Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla) headed a group of senators and representatives from Washington who flew to Sherman in a government plane to help honor Rayburn, who has represented this North Texas district in Congress ever since 1913.

Monroney said the plane was proffered because of what he termed "the national prominence and importance."

Joining the North Texans in the observance was Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex). Johnson, majority leader of the Senate, and Rayburn are the two most powerful men in Congress.

Others coming from Washington, all Democrats, are Sens. Eugene McCarthy (Minn), John Sparkman (Ala), E. L. Bartlett (Alaska), Thomas Dodd (Conn), and Reps. Jim Wright, Homer Thornberry, Joe Kilgore, Walter Rogers, Frank Ikard, all Texas Democrats, and Reps. Carl Albert (Okla) and Hale Boggs (La).

Boggs, coming to Sherman direct from Louisiana, is expected to bring other Louisiana congressmen with him.

Also coming from Washington are Judge Eugene Worley of the U.S. Court of Claims and Federal Communications Commissioner Robert Bartley.

Dry Weather Due For Rest Of Year

By The Associated Press

Skies were clear over northwest Texas Wednesday and cloudy elsewhere over the state as the Weather Bureau promised dry weather for the rest of 1959.

New Year's Day weather was expected to bring little, if any, change.

Wednesday's pre-dawn temperatures varied from 22 in Dalhart to 53 at Corpus Christi after Tuesday's maximums were in a 30-degree range from Amarillo's 42 to Brownsville's 72.

At 6 a.m. Wednesday, no rain had fallen in Texas in more than 60 hours.

Forecasts for all sections of Texas called for considerable cloudiness and slowly rising temperatures through this final day

Maine Governor Dies In Sleep

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — Gov. Clinton A. Clauson, 64, died in his sleep at the executive mansion early today.

The governor, a Democrat, was in his first year of a four-year term.

Under Maine's constitution he is succeeded by the president of the state Senate—Republican John H. Reed, 38, a well-to-do potato grower from Fort Fairfield.

Reed said Clauson's death "is terrible news for the whole state of Maine. He was a much beloved man and this is a great loss to the entire state."

Clauson, a one time chiropracter and native of Mitchell, Iowa, was the first Maine governor to die in office for almost 40 years.

Dr. Joseph R. Crawford said the cause of death was undetermined but "in all likelihood it was heart or a cerebral hemorrhage."

The governor was dead when Dr. Crawford arrived at Blaine House, the executive mansion at 2:35 a.m.

The only member of the family present was Mrs. Clauson, the former Ellen Kelleher of Waterville.

The governor also leaves a son, Cornelius K., of Waterville, and a daughter, Mr. William Shasse of Brunswick.

Clauson came to Maine as a young chiropractor. He settled in Waterville where he served as city treasurer in 1930 and mayor in 1956 and 1957.

In recent years he had been in the oil distribution business there.

Active in Democratic party affairs for more than 30 years, he was U.S. collector of internal revenue for Maine from 1934 to 1953.

A World War I veteran, he was a member of the American Legion. He also was a Mason and a Shriner. At one time he was president of the Maine Assn. of Chiropractors.

He was elected governor in 1958 succeeding Edmund S. Muskie (D) now Maine's junior U.S. senator.

Clauson did not have the backing of Muskie or other top leaders of their party in the 1958 primaries, but he defeated their candidate, Maynard S. Doloff and went on to a victory over ex-Governor Horace Hildreth (R). He was the first governor elected to a four, rather than a two-year term.

Train-Auto Crash Kills 4

ROSCOE, S. D. (AP)—A fast-moving passenger train slammed into a car here early today killing four persons. One was the survivor of a nine-death highway crash on New Year's Day two years ago.

The dead were Elmer Heiser, 30, the driver; and his three passengers, Edwin Kirschenmann, 30; Tommy Sweetland, 13; and Wilbert Beck, 18.

Beck survived a highway crash near Eureka on New Year's Day 1958. The nine persons killed in that crash included six members of his family. Young Sweetland was a stepson of Heiser.

Witnesses said the electric warning signals were in operation as Heiser's car moved over the crossing at slow speed about 12:30 a.m. in Roscoe, community of 500 in north-central South Dakota, 42 miles west of Aberdeen. The car was demolished.

Aliens Must Report During January

DALLAS (AP) — About 50,000 aliens must report their address in the 150 Texas counties under the jurisdiction of the Dallas office of the Immigration Service, Gordon Cornell, district director, said today.

Cornell said that 241,661 aliens reported their addresses during last January throughout the state.

Lynch Case Probe Slated

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—Two federa alttorneys are here to assist in presenting evidence to a special federal grand jury which convenes in Biloxi Jan. 4 to investigate the Mack Charles Parker lynch case.

Seven persons have been subpoenaed to appear.

Parker, a truck driver, was dragged from the Poplarville jail in the early hours of April 25 by a band of hooded and masked men two days before he was scheduled to go on trial for the rape of a white woman.

His bullet-riddled body was found by federal and state officers a week later floating in the Pearl River 17 miles west of Poplarville.

A Pearl River County grand jury last month adjourned without returning any indictments.

Gas Well Is Re-Ignited By Crewmen

By B. F. KELLUM

MISSION, Tex. (AP)— A flaming gas well near here that bridged itself over during the night was set afire again today.

Fire fighters with the Paul Adair Wild Well Service of Houston re-ignited the well before starting their work permanently to cap it.

The fire fighters said gas was still escaping from the hole and it could blow again any moment.

The body of one workman who is missing and who apparently died when the well blew out and caught fire early Tuesday has not been found. Two other workers were injured.

The well blew out, exploded and burned Tuesday and far into the night. One member of its drilling crew apparently was killed and two were injured. Flame from the wild well shot 200 feet into the air at the site about 7½ miles west of here.

Guards stood near the well Tuesday night to keep the public away for fear another blow out might come and the spewing gas re-ignite.

Missing after the blast was Carl Albrecht, 28, of Alice, Tex. Don Baxley, 21, of Artesia, N.M., and Benny Schooler, 26, of McCamey, Tex., were injured, Schooler seriously.

Two other workers in the 5-man crew of the Gilmour Drilling Co. of Alice escaped injury. They were drilling the well for Texas Star Oil Co.

Two renowned Houston oil well fire fighters called to the scene, Paul (Red) Adair and Boots Hansen, already had made preliminary plans to snuff out the blaze today when the well put itself out. They stood by Tuesday night in the event the fire started again.

Plans Entry In Primaries

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) today plunged officially into the race for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

Humphrey announced at a news conference that his name will be entered in presidential primaries in Wisconsin, the District of Columbia, Oregon and South Dakota.

Humphrey indicated he will campaign primarily on foreign policy and national security issues. He aimed immediate barbs at the Eisenhower administration.

"We can no longer tolerate a government that reacts instead of taking the initiative," he said in a statement handed to reporters.9

"We cannot afford to have an a statement handed to reporters.'

"We cannot afford to have an administration that spends all of its time repairing damage instead of building solid, long term programs."

Humphrey became the first among the Democrats most prominently mentioned as presidential possibilities to get officially into the race.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) returns Saturday from a Jamaica vacation and is expected to confirm then that he also seeks the prize.

A trio of other major potential contenders for the nomination — Adlai E. Stevenson, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri — are expected to continue for sometime to play it cozy.

The first of the primaries that Humphrey said he will enter is that in Wisconsin. It is to be held April 5.

Dates of the others are District of Columbia, May 3; Oregon, May 20, and South Dakota, June 7.

There is general expectation that Kennedy also will enter the Wisconsin primary.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Oregon) has said his name will go in the Oregon primary where all of the presidential aspirants are expected to be entered either with or without their consent.

Morse, an active member of the Senate District of Columbia Committee, has indicated he may enter the District of Columbia primary.

Humphrey hopes to take South Dakota, his native state, along with Minnesota and Wisconsin, as the nucleus of a Midwest bloc he hopes he will give him a minimum of 150 convention votes on the first presidential ballot. His hopes of getting the nomination are built primarily on the possibility of a stalemate.

Humphrey, who is generally opposed by Southern Democrats because of the position he has taken on civil rights, said he had no illusions about his quest for the nomination.

"It will be an uphill fight," he said frankly.

Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California narrowed the field with an announcement Tuesday he will take no active part toward becoming the serious candidate he had come to be regarded in some quarters.

But Brown held firmly to his resolve to keep other aspirants out of the California primaries. He intends to be his state's favorite son candidate and to head the state's 81-vote delegation to the Democratic national convention. He said he hasn't made up his mind whom he will support. He also said he won't take second place.

Humphrey said in an interview he doesn't think Brown's announcement changes the situation with regard to the coveted California bloc. This view was echoed by a Kennedy spokesman.

"I think all of the Democratic hopefuls intend to respect the governor's desire to be a favorite son," Humphrey said. "If one should go in against him, of course, it would become a free-for-all."

Humphrey is understood to have decided that he will not contest Kennedy in the March 8 New Hampshire primary. He has made it clear, however, that he would welcome a battle with the Massachusetts senator in the April 5 Wisconsin primary.

That single primary could be decisive in Humphrey's case. If he can't beat Kennedy in Wisconsin, Humphrey is likely to drop out and hurry back to Minnesota to attend the job of getting himself renominated and re-elected to the Senate.

Supporters of both Kennedy and Humphrey believe New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's self-elimination from contention for the Republican presidential nomination has aided their cause.

They argue that the two senators are classes as more liberal in their views hat other potential aspirants. They contend that, with Democrats generally trying to hang an "Old Guard" label on Vice President Richard M. Nixon, their party is likely to want a liberal nominee.

It is their view that Stevenson, Symington and Johnson would not offer much contrast to Nixon, who appears assured of the Republican nomination.

New Crisis Seen On Nuclear Arms Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Britain are facing a new crisis in their negotiations with the Soviet Union for an enforceable treaty outlawing test explosions of nuclear weapons.

It may reach a head soon after the three-power talks resume Jan. 12 in Geneva. It is not the first time a deadlock has thrcatened.

The crisis centers around development of an international inspection system strong enough to discourage cheating with sneak explosions.

Unless the Soviet Union modifies its opposition to strengthening the system already proposed, President Eisenhower indicates he may order a resumption of underground test explosions in the United States.

Before such a step would be taken, officials said, the United States would very likely change its strategy in the negotiations at Geneva to seek a limited rather than a comprehensive test ban. A limited ban would apply only to explosions in the air or in the water. They could be policed more easily than underground explosions.

A toughening U.S. policy with respect to the negotiations was disclosed Tuesday when Eisenhower substituted a day-to-day voluntary suspension of nuclear weapons tests for the present fixed-term moratorium which expires Dec. 31.

The United States, he said at Augusta, Ga., will consider itself free to resume nuclear weapon testing but "we shall not resume without announcing our intentions in advance."

In effect Eisenhower put the world and particularly Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on notice that without substantial progress toward agreement at Geneva the U.S. test suspension policy may be revoked some time next year.

The decision drew a mixed reaction on Capitol Hill.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, sharply disapproved, calling it "nuclear brinkmanship" which might backfire and upset chances for agreement with the Soviet Union.

Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said nuclear testing would be resumed only if it is necessary for this country's security. He said Eisenhower's stand should be supported.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), the committee chairman, said the decision would involve only "a very slight change" in the current situation unless the U.S.S.R. resumed its testing. He said the President "may be trying to suggest a little more urgency in proceeding with the negotiations at Geneva."

This is not the first time that disputes over the inspection system have endangered the negotiations. Concessions by the Soviet Union toward strengthening the proposed control machinery eased another threatened collapse last summer.

Controversy On Rate Plan Flares

AMARILLO (AP)—The controversy over Texas' new automobile insurance law, which becomes effective Jan. 1, flamed on today after one state senator said in effect that another didn't know what he was talking about.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo said Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria "indicated a lack of facts" in statements he made on the so-called "Texas safe driving plan."

Hazlewood also said Tuesday night that Fly's statements were "contradictory."

Fly said Monday that he could not understand Hazlewood's opposition to the plan "in view of the fact Grady was one of the people who asked for this thing."

Hazlewood said Fly's statement was contradictory "because he says Grady was one of the people who asked for this thing' insinuating that I and the other 181 members of the Legislature recommended or endorsed this identical plan proposed by the Board of Insurance."

"At another place in his statement," said Hazlewood, "he used the words recommended that the State Board of Insurance adopt some plan.' There is a monstrous amount of contradiction in these statements."

The Amarillo senator added:

"I think it is grossly unfair to the other 180 members of the Legislature for Sen. Fly to intimate that they passed any legislation attributing a plan to accelerate insurance premiums for moving violations when no accidents involving property damage or personal injury has resulted, and thereby abandoned their own prerogatives of rate setting by turning that function to police departments and deputy constables who, apparently with Senator Fly's approval will hereafter take over the fixing and setting of insurance premiums by the giving or not giving of tickets where no accidents are involved.

"This screwball part of the plan will be the end of safe driving campaign in Texas because what community can ever hereafter afford to put on a safe driving campaign when the result may well cost that public spirited community a cool million dollars in added insurance premiums."

Motive Is Still Sought In Ohio Sniper Slaying Case

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Investigation of the sniper slaying of Charles R. Clark got back today to such basic matters as motive and the possibility of accident.

The love affairs of the victim's beautiful brunette wife, on which police have concentrated since the Christmas Eve crime, still are due for much probing.

Lois Clark, 30, mother of four, may possibly know "why the shot was fired, or, give some lead as to who did fire the shot," said Edward R. Ostrander, Lake County prosecutor.

Mrs. Clark was questioned for more than two hours Tuesday by Sheriff William B. Evans and two assistant prosecutors.

Ostrander declined to give details of his talks, but said Mrs. Clark was "most helpful in giving information which may be pertinent."

He said she would be questioned further, possibly with polygraph testing. She agreed last week to take such tests.

Ostrander made a public plea for information about the slain man, a 35-year-old electrical engineer with a five-figure income.

He raised the possibility Clark may have incurred enmity of someone who did not even know Mrs. Clark.

"We all know Clark has been represented as a model husband, a Boy Scout leader, a pillar of his church and a competent and well-liked business man," Ostrander explained.

"But actually we know nothing of his (Clark's) relations at the Reliance Electric & Engineering Co. where he was employed, or of his associates."

Chances appeared slim that the bullet which crashed through the kitchen window of the Clarks' home in nearby Mentor and struck Clark on the temple had been fired by accident.

Helping to rule out the accident theory was the questioning of Carol Clark, 12, by Asst. Prosecutor John F. Clair Jr. The victim's oldest daughter said she was trying to open a can of pumpkin when her father came to help her. She estimated he was at the window only about four seconds when the shot was fired.

This would make it appear Ostrander said, that the sniper was in position and waiting in the darkness outside for his target to be framed in the lighted window.

Fear Chemicals Polluting Water

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Our drinking water is being polluted by hundreds of new chemical products whose effects on human health are totally unknown, a water expert warned today.

These include plastics, detergents, and insecticides, and cannot be completely removed from water now by standard methods, said H.W. Poston of Chicago.

"We do not have reliable methods for predicting their effect on man. We don't know how to remove viruses from treated water. We don't know the effect on the human system of the constant accumulation of small increments of present-day chemicals."

Poston called for immediate and expanded research to find ways of assuring safe, plentiful water, in a report to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Funds spent on water research now amount to less than one cent annually per person in the country, said Poston, of the U.S. Public Health Service division of water supply and pollution control.

Problems of polution control and adequate water supply will become more serious as population expands rapidly, said Poston and Arve H. Dahl of Washington, D.C., chief of the USPHS division of water supply and polution control in Washington, D.C.

Dahl forecast that "super-cities already forming will stretch for unbroken hundreds of miles along all our great watercourses, coasts, and major highways."

Poston said today's wastes contain such things as synthetics, plastics, detergents, insecticides, industrial solvents, high energy fuels.

"It is estimated that 10,000 totally new chemicals are put to use each year. Each new product has several processes and each process has several by-products and will one day end up as part of our waste."

Rock's Staff For Campaign Staying On

NEW YORK (AP)—The large personal staff that was ready to push a presidential campaign for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller will continue in being.

Associates of the governor stress that this does not mean that he still has his eye on the White House.

They contend his announcements that he would not seek the presidential nomination and would not accept a vice-presidential nomination are absolutely final.

The staff's function, they say, will be to help the governor with his speech-making and the normal activities surrounding a governor.

Strictly political activities of the staff have been dropped. They ranged from contacting political leaders around the country, to planning the governor's political pulse-taking tours, to clerical work involved.

Rockefeller made clear, however, in his noncandidacy statement Saturday that he intends to continue "as citizen and as governor" to speak with "full freedom and vigor" on national and world issues.

The staff of nearly 70 persons, operating in two mansions converted into an office building here, can expect to be kept busy.

The governor likes to be well versed before venturing his views on any topic.

Researchers will continue to dig into the pros and cons of issues so his advisers can help him in deciding what position to take on questions that arise.

Staff work will continue in deciding what speaking engagements to accept and what topics to discuss in countless details.

A separate organization, the Citizens for Rockefeller, which operated at the Belmont Plaza Hotel, has closed up shop.

The citizens group supplied literature to organizations and individuals who expressed interest in the governor as a potential candidate.

Expense Accounts Due A Close Look

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Income tax men are going to take a closer look at entertainment deductions and business expenses claimed by corporations and small businessmen.

Dana Latham, commissioner of internal revenue, said Tuesday more detailed records on such deductions will have to be kept starting Jan. 1.

Latham said tighter reporting is needed because there is a growing tendency by corporations, partnerships and small businessmen to claim tax deductions for the personal expenses of officers and employes.

Many taxpayers have complained about such lavish expense accounts, Latham said. He added this could encourage taxpayers to try chiseling if they think others are getting a better break.

The more detailed reporting requirements will not apply to 1959 tax returns filed early next year, but will become effective after Dec. 21 for future returns.

Latham emphasized that individual taxpayers will not be burdened with any new accounting chores and that no one will have to do any retroactive bookkeeping. Detailed accounting will not be required for such small items as tips and taxi fares.

Corporations will have to report the salary, expense allowances and any other compensation paid to each of their 25 highest-paid officers. This also will apply to partnerships.

Individuals owning a business will have to report the salaries, expense accounts and other compensations of the proprietor and his five highest-paid employes—if the employes receive $10,000 or more yearly.

Corporations, partners and individual proprietorships will have to indicate whether they claim an expense deduction for such properties as beach resorts or hunting lodges.

New Play By Novices Is Going Strong

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A new playwright and some actors unused to stellar limelight are giving Broadway a memorable dramatic experience in "The Andersonville Trial."

The production, directed by Jose Ferrer, opened Tuesday night at the Henry Miller Theater. It blazes with emotional excitement.

The author is Saul Levitt, a recruit from TV and films. The chief roles in the large all-male company are performed by George C. Scott, Albert Dekker and Herbert Berghof, familiar on TV screns.

"The Andersonville Trial" derives from the same fearsome episode of the American Civil War which several years ago provided MacKinlay Kantor with his Pulitzer Prize novel, "Andersonville."

The theatrical undertaking, based upon court records, concentrates upon the military trial of the Confederate captain, Henry Wirz, who commanded the Georgia stockade where 14,000 Union troops died in less than two years.

In building its kene dramatic high-tension, the play explores beyond mere recital of courtroom events. Levitt seeks the motives beneath the acts of defendant and prosecutor, ponders the ethical basis of human behavior.

He and Ferrer manage these elements without ever permitting a letdown in the sustained impact.

Berghof turns in a remarkably compelling portrayal of Wriz, the man sent at last to the hangman.

As the judge advocate, Scott is under some disadvantage with a leanly sinister visage and sometimes hoarse vocal manner.

Dekker is huge, beetling and resourceful as the defense counsel.

Singers Set For All-Night Event At Ira

The Great Plains-Cap Rock Singers Association will have their annual New Year's Eve all night sing tomorrow night at the Community Center in Ira, starting at 7:30. The association is supported by leading gospels singers of West Texas.

The program will not be a strictly religious program, according to J. Lawrence Deavers of Snyder, president of the organization. The 1960 Convention Song Book will be used for the sing.

There will be no admission charge and the public is invited and urged to attend.

"Come when you want and leave when you have to," Deavers said. The sing will be preceded at 6 p.m. by a program of songs by the Calvary Trio over KSNY.

Water Rates To Be Set On Jan. 14

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will convene in Big Spring Jan. 14, Charles B. Perry, Odessa, president, announced today.

In compliance with the trust indenture, the district is obliged to establish water rates to the member cities at the January meeting. The rates were approximated in October when the board adopted an operating budget for 1960 based on estimated of consumption by the cities. The indenture also requires that in the January meeting formal transfer of moneys to the indentured funds be accomplished. These are the improvement and extension, the contingency and the retirement funds.

Progress reports from E. V. Spence, general manager, and some prospects for the year will be discussed. The board will be meeting without one of its directors from Big Spring Curtis Driver, who died Sunday as the result of a horseback riding mishap on Dec. 13.

Anti-Jewish Drive Feared

BRUNDWWICK, Germany (AP)—Four new anti-Jewish incidents were reported today in various parts of Germany. Police tried to find out if they are part of a concerted nationwide campaign.

Swastikas and anti-Semitic slogans were painted on the monument for the war dead and victims of nazism here Tuesday night.

Swastikas were painted on several shop windows in the Rhineland town of Rheydt.

Authorities in Hesse announced the state criminal agency has taken up the case of an 85-year-old Jewish survivor of the Resien-camp who was anonymously thratened with crucifixion.

In Offenbach, near Frankfurt, a half-Jewish resident reported that swastikas and the word "Jew" were scratched on his car. Police said the man advised them belatedly, explaining he feared he would be terrorized if he reported the incident.

Swastikas also were painted on the St. Hedwig's Roman Catholic church in Ge senkirchen. Police said they suspected a connection with the desecration at Cologne.

Four Persons Die In Blaze

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A young couple and two of their children perished today in a fire which spread from an exploding oil stove.

Their third child was brought from the first-floor apartment in critical condition. Eight other residents escaped the 2½ - story frame dwelling.

The victims are Houston C. Parker, 23; his wife, Nellie, 21, and two daughters, Barbara Ruth, 1, and Rickie Jean, 2.

The third child, Carvis Truman Parker, 4, is hospitalized in critical condition.

The five were asleep in a front bedroom when fire broke out in the adjoining living room.

Dep. Fire Chief H. L. Drew said the blaze started when the stationary oil heater blew up. Firemen confined the fire to the two front rooms.

College Kids Reading More Over Holiday

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — They pack into the reading room as if it presented the challenges of a telephone booth, these college kids.

They line up to use the card catalogue, and it looks like the queue for World Series tickets.

They are college students spending Christmas vacation in the public library in record hordes.

When the chairs are gone—even the extra folding chairs—they sit on the long marble staircases, or at the foot of the tall Grecian columns, their knees pulled up, reading and scribbling notes.

The 50 librarians work like beavers answering questions, finding special books and there are many requests for out-of-the-way knowledge.

"War babies of the early '40s," said Emerson Greenaway, director of Philadelphia's Free Library trying to explain why there has been a sudden rise during the holiday in just the last two years.

He said about 3,500 persons are coming to the library daily — almost double the normal count—and most are college students. They stay all day, too.

"College teaching methods have changed," Greeneway said. "Research and reference papers are now a requirement for most college courses. Long periods of reading have replaced hours previously devoted to lectures.

What of the future?

"Well," said Greenaway, "maybe studying is just another college fad that will fade away, like swallowing goldfish."

Man Dies Under Wheels Of Cart

DANIELSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — A cigarette, a shaky cart and a misstep spelled death for William Crew, 55.

Sheriff Dewey Seagraves said Crew fell beneath the wheels of a heavy cart Tuesday while trying to light the cigarette. A box of matches was clutched in his hand.

New Manager For Park Announced

MONAHANS (AP)—A. J. Jayne of Monahans is the new manager of the Sandhills State Park, east of Monahans.

President Conrad Dunagan of the Sandhills State Park Assn. made the announcement Tuesday.

The appointment was made by Bill Collyns, executive director of the Texas State Park Board.

Jayne succeeds Bob Larson, who resigned after serving as park manager three years.

NEWS IN COATS—Here's one of the prettiest of the new Spring Coats, it is of a pale beige tweed liberally nubbed in white. New looking are the gently broadened shoulders, the deep semi-yoke cut in one with the sleeves, the bias bands and pocket flaps, the wider, notched collar. Slim in line in front, the back of the coat falls loose and straight. Very light in weight but warm enough for most Spring days and evenings, it travels wonderfully with its natural crease-resistance. The cut insures comfort over suits or dresses. It will be shown in such colors as all white, white and gold and American beauty.

Mrs. Joe Caton Hostess To Altrurian Club Meeting

The Altrurian Club met recently at the Martha Ann Club with Mrs. Joe Caton as hostess.

The program "A Pilgrimage Into Christmas" was presented by Mrs. Caton, Mrs. Earl Donaldson and Mrs. A. C. Preuitt.

Introduction and roll call by Mrs. Caton, each member responded with a verse of scripture. The true Christmas spirit was the theme of stories told by Mrs. Donaldson Accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Preuitt, Mrs. Giles Bowers sang "There's A Song In The Air" and Mrs. Hugh Boren "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear". "Silent Night" was led by Mrs. C. C. Miller, with the group joining in the singing.

Mrs. Caton concluded the program with the following story: "Keeping Christmas". "There is a better thing then the observance of Christmas Day and that is keeping Christmas.

"Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you?

"To ignore what the world owes you, and to think you owe the world?

"To know that the only good reason for your existence is not what you are going to get out of life, but what you are going to give to life?

"Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs and the desires of little children?

"To remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old?

"To stop asking how much your friends like you, and ask yourself whether you love them enough?

"To trim your lamp so it will give more light and less smoke, and to carry it in front of you so that your shadow will fall behind you?

"To make a grave for your ugly thoughts and a garden for your kindly feelings, with the gate open?

"Are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas. Are you willing to believe that love is the strongest thing in the world, stronger than hate, stronger than evil, stronger than death— and that the blessed Life which began in Bethlehem, nineteen hundred years ago is the image and brightness of eternal love? Then you can keep Christmas. And if you keep it for a day, why not always. But you can never keep it alone".

Exchange of gifts and refreshments was enjoyed by 26 members and two guests, Mrs. Dan Gibson and Mrs. Harry Vanderpool.

Languages Easy For Children

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M. D.
AP Newsfeather

The adult who learns a second language has trouble ever speaking it without some accent. Children on the other hand can acquire a new language easily and so well that they speak like a native.

This fact leads many people to think that the ideal time to start a second language is in the toddler stage when the first language is being learned. This is likely to happen in families who speak a language at home different from the one used by the community in which they live.

Experts in the field of speech think that presenting a child just learning to talk with two ways of saying everything he would like to communicate slows the child down and in the long run may interfere with his full use of any language.

Let a child, these experts agree, learn one language well enough so that he has a real concept of the value of communication before you confuse him with another way of getting his ideas across.

Experiments in Sound

In early babyhood a child experiments with all manner of sounds— all the sounds a human being is capable of making, many more than he will ever use for any single language. Before he is a year old a baby can say expertly a German "ich" or a French "tu" as well as the difficult English "th". But when this child begins to copy the speech about him he stops practicing those sounds which do not occure in his own language. After a while (10 years or so) he finds it hard to recapture his baby ability to make his tongue and lips and throat go the way they did during his early experiments. But most anytime below the age of 10 a child can make any sounds he hears with extraordinary accuracy.

Language, however, is far more than the ability to make sounds. Language is really a very complicated thing when you come to think about it. We use sounds not only to mean things, but to mean how we feel and what we think and what we do. And we have all sorts of subtle shades of meaning that we get across to others not only by the sounds themselves but by the way we combine them.

Language Structure

This is no small job for a youngster to master. It would be bad enough if all a child needed in learning two languages at the same time was to learn two names for everything. But it's much more complicated than that. Syntax and sentence structure are never the same in any two languages. As a very simple example, an English speaking baby might say: "He throws it." But in French he must change the words around: "He it throws" (Il ia jete). Or in German he would have to say, "The ball throws he" (Den ball kastet er).

If Bobby has to do this, it's small wonder that he throws the ball a long time before he talks about it. Talking is so difficult that he doesn't bother with it— in any language.

If yours is a two-language home try to teach your child one language only until he is about 5 years old. For a child who talks early and well you might possibly reduce this to 3 years but not below this. Then if you have the chance, teach him a second language. Let him learn it through his ears as he did the first one and he will grow up speaking both languages fluently and well. He will have the desire and ability to communicate firmly established before he discoveds that it can be done in a completely different way.

Christmas is celebrated three times in Iran — once in December for Protestants and Roman Catholics and twice in January by Armenian and Russian Orthodox.

Republicans Face Prospects Of Dull National Convention

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans' 1960 convention should be one of the dullest of the century unless they can find a way to jazz it up.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon—as of this minute, with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller stepping aside—seems certain to get the presidential nomination at the convention which opens in Chicago July 25.

If he gets it without opposition, that will be the first time in this century it has happened except when a president was being renominated. It's hardly an exciting way to start a campaign against steamed-up Democrats.

Rockefeller's ice-cold and dead-aim statement removing himself from the race was not the kind to create party harmony. The coldness and the aim were directed squarely at the Republican party bosses.

They gave him the chilly shoulder in big doses on his last Midwestern trip. It was after this trip he decided not to fight Nixon for the nomination.

Mary McGrory in the Washington Star said Tuesday that in Milwaukee party leaders bought blocks of tickets for the luncheon at which Rockefeller spoke and he faced a sea of vacant chairs.

If they were dedicated Nixon fans and thus wanted to discourage Rockefeller, they succeeded. But perhaps they and others like them played it a little too cute. Already some opposition to the bosses is appearing in Republican ranks.

Tuesday the New Hampshire "Draft Rockefeller" committee turned down an invitation to join the Nixon-for-President camp, saying it has "no authority" to commit its members.

In Los Angeles the Californians-for-Rockefeller organization said it intends to start a draft of the New York governor for the Republican nomination.

The group's board of directors issued a statement saying: "We are convinced that the present leadership of the party has its hands tied by political applications and is stifling the true expression of voter preference."

Maybe these signs of discontent will melt away and Nixon will have an unwrinkled red carpet waiting for him at the convention. But Rockefeller's withdrawal statement contained indications that he may be critical of both the party and the Eisenhower administration between now and convention time. He has been critical in the past few months. He said he would continue to speak with full freedom.

It seems fair to put this interpretation on Rockefeller's statement: He was, in effect, telling rank-and-file republicans the party bosses had deprived them of a chance to choose between him and Nixon.

He said "The great majority of those who will control the Republican convention stand opposed to any contest for the nomination." He could have said the majority of the convention controllers wanted Nixon.

But by saying they didn't want a contest, as he went on to explain, he showed how the rank-and-file therefore would be deprived of a chance to make their own feelings understood.

The only way left open to him—in trying to overcome the bosses' opposition—was to go into state primaries where, before the convention, the average Republican voter could choose between him and Nixon in a way the bosses could not ignore.

In a dozen years, the Pakistan seaport of Karachi has increased in population from 300,000 to 1½ million people.

Annual Fuzzy Forecast Of Future Told

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is time again for our annual fuzzy forecast of the future.

Surprisingly, the old crystal ball is clearer than usual on what lies ahead in the next 12 months. After a decade as muddy as the 1950s, it can't get anything but clearer.

Life in 1960 looks downright pixie. Here are a few unsafe and zany predictions on what will happen during the coming year:

The Soviet Union will land the first dog on the moon. Three months later, spurred on by angered animal lovers around the world, the United States will land a smaller rocket on the moon containing three cans of dog food—and a can opener that can be operated by paw.

Fidel Castro of Cuba will get a close shave.

Red China, worried over the possibilities of world overpopulation, will export three million tons of birth control literature to India, two million tons to the Soviet Union and one million tons to America.

England will offer to unite Ireland, and the Irish will turn the offer down on the grounds they don't need foreign help.

On the domestic political front, the Republicans, sensing the country is in the mood for a real economy program, will nominate Richard M. Nixon for both president and vice president.

The Democrats, after a bitter intraparty fight, will nominate a real dark horse for president—Sen. Edward Muskie of Maine—and campaign under an old GOP slogan: "As Maine goes, so goes the nation." In a hands across the distaff gesture, the Democrats will name for vice president either Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt or actress Laureen Bacall. Clare Boothe Luce will be offered the post secretly but will turn it down.

In the sports world, Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees will win the World Series, retire from baseball and buy a bowling alley. He will then drill and find oil under it.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

Announcement of the Class AAA All-Area team by the Abilene Reporter-News places a well-earned feather in the caps of a quintet of Tiger footballers, with two being placed on the first unit and three nailing down second team honors.

Had it not been for "that little town east of here"—namely Breckenridge — the selections would've read much like an all-3AAA team, in that first team picks were confined to representatives of those schools exclusively. The Bucks walked off with half of the first team's twelve choices (due to the close balloting there were five backs named to the team); while Sweetwater placed three, Snyder had a pair, and Lamesa one to round out the dream team.

Hayes And Walker Snare Top Spots

TIGER FIRST TEAM PICKS were Dick Hayes and Barry Walker, both seniors, while the second eleven was bolstered by juniors Charlie Gladson, David Wiman, and Reg Scarborough. Hayes was also placed on the All-District 3-AAA first team, as were Gladson, Wiman, and Scarborough, while Walker was a second team pick on that mythical aggregate.

District tri-champs, of course were Snyder, Sweetwater, and Lamesa, each of whom posted 3-1 records through the campaign. A flip of the coin put the Lamesans into the playoff driver's seat, however, at which point they received a rude awakening at the hands of Breckenridge in bi-district, getting trounced by a 32-0 score.

The Bucks waltzed into the AAA finals, using the magic "32" number established against Lamesa in downing Andrews and Mt. Pleasant by identical 32-6 tabs. They looked to be unstoppable, and by virtue of that fact advanced into the finals against Cleburne as gaudy three-touchdown favorites.

But Cleburne had something to say on the subject, caught fire and scored late for a 20-20 tie and at least a chunk of the AAA state championship.

Speculating and hashing over "what might have been" solves nothing, but it is nevertheless interesting to note an "if" or two, while at the same time taking a sidewise glance at the aforementioned All-Area selections.

Gaining spots on the two teams named were five Tigers a quartet of Sweetwater Mustangs, and only two Tornadoes.

If So-And-So Had Done This 'N That . . .

IT IS THOUGHT— possibly erroneously, possibly not— that a glance in retrospect would tend to confirm the theory that either Snyder or Sweetwater would've probably given the Bucks a little better run for the money in bi-district. Not a victory, necessarily, although that would not have been completely out of reason. But a better game, it is thought.

Frankly, I was underwhelmed at the Tornadoes' showing. Disappointed and a little shocked to boot. Whatever the cause for the lopsidedness of the game, it is doubtful that the Bucks were really 32 points over and above the Tors, as the score would indicate. But that's what the scoreboard showed, nevertheless.

Snyder played its best game of the year against Breck in losing 20-22. Whether they could've gotten that "high" once again and either beaten or scared the Bucks is unknown, in that they (Breckenridge) have a habit of getting progressively tougher when it comes playoff time. If nothing else, though it's some food for thought.

Sweetwater? The Bucks took the wind out of their sails in the first game of the season, 24-0. However, the Mustangs gathered steam as the season rocked along, and would've undoubtedly showed to good advantage in a second meeting.

But enough of these "ifs, ands, and buts". And what could be more appropriate in closing than a "wait'll next year"?

Tigers Victimized By Steers, 69-49

By JERRY JACKSON

Snyder's Tigers were "stone cold dead in the market" from the field in Tiger Gym last night, and the Big Spring Steers capitalized on the early lapse to breeze through to a 69-49 victory, their second of the year over the Bengals in as many starts.

The game was played before a small but enthusiastic partisan crowd.

The local five came alive in a spirited second half to outscore the taller and more experienced Steers as they racked up 36 points in that span to only 29 for Big Spring. Led by a hustling Bubba Fleming, who poured in 14 points in the second half surge, the Tigers hit a commendabale 40 per cent field goal average during those two quarters, but a first half five of 29 (17 per-cent) proved to be too much of a deficit to overcome.

Pacing the Steer attack were the Brothers LeFevre, a pair of young skyscrapers. Jay topped all scorers with 20 points, with brother Zay nipping at his heels with 18. Homer Mills was the other top scorer rounding out the bulk of the point production, as he popped the nets for 17.

Fleming, an aggressive little guard and fine ballhawk and ball handler, was the sparkplug in the Snyder offensive, as he racked up a total of 18 points for the evening. He was followed by Charlie Gladson, Steve Free, Roger McMennamy, and Mike Moffett, with eight seven, six, and five points, respectively.

Diminutive Free, a sophomore guard, topped the Tiger rebounders, grabbing off five during the evening. Gladson followed with four, while Moffett and McMennamy gathered in three apiece.

It was in the area of rebounding, coupled with the cold first half shot-making, that undermined the Tiger cause. The field goal percentage of the Steers was their strong point, as they lofted 15 less attempts from the field than did Snyder, but made them count in racking up a most creditable 56 per cent for their efforts.

The contest was marred by numerous fouls, 50 being called throughout the game, with each team being charged with approximately the same number. One boy from each team went out via the foul route, Moffett in the third quarter and Bob Evans of the Steers in the final stanza.

The Tigers also trailed in the free throw department, canning only 15 of 36 as stacked up against Big Spring's 19 of 32.

In a "B" game preceding the varsity contest, the locals went down by 46-42, although a lively fourth quarter rally on their part almost pulled them even with the visitors.

Eddie Phy was the big gun in that surge, looping in half of his 16 points for the game during that quarter. His output was high for Snyder, and he was followed in the scoring department by Mokey Hale with nine, and Larry Smith, who hit for eight.

The Steers' Ronnie Hamby topped his team's scorers with 21 points, with George Ryan marking up an even dozen.

SUNLAND FUNLAND—Pictured above, sprawled beneath a backdrop of imposing mountains which help to make up the Guadalupe chain, is Anapra, New Mexico's Sunland Park, which is in its first season of racing. The infield area is unique, in that it is made up of a body of water on which aquatics are performed both before and during the races. Although located in New Mexico, the track is within a stone's throw of the Texas border, and is just a few minute's drive from downtown El Paso.

'Opportunism' To Be Main Steer Weapon

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP) — Syracuse has the greatest defense in the nation's college football. It is 96.2 yards per game, a fantastic average.

Texas, which plays Syracuse in the Cotton Bowl Firday, can't compare with that. The Texas average is 247.5. But the Longhorns' record shows they didn't have to stop the opposition in order to win. It also shows Texas won on occasion even though the opposing defense was better.

While the consensus leans toward a three-to-four-touchdown victory for Syracuse, the statistical facts might point to a closer struggle.

Syracuse is noted for keeping the ball most of the time. That might not work against Texas though. Texas had it only 47 times and Maryland only 49 yet won by only three points more than Texas.

Arkansas outgained Texas 251 yards to 234 but Texas won 13-12. Rice had 280 yards. Texas 202 but Texas won 28-6. Texas A&M outgained Texas 287 yards to 226 but Texas won 20-17.

Southern Methodist's fine passer, Don Meredith, threw for 154 yards against Texas and still couldn't score.

Thus, it is seen that Texas has a good defense, too.

The most yards any team made against Syracuse was Navy — and Syracuse won 32-6 with a 304-yard barrage.

Analyzing is the main exercise of the critics as the contest nears. None can come up with any statistics that would make Texas superior in any phase except possibly punting. But the intangible "opportunism" makes them pause for a moment. Eighteen of the 30 Texas touchdowns came on aggressiveness and alertness.

Ponies, A&M Bolt Into SWC Finals

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — Southern Methodist challenges undefeated Texas A&M tonight in the championship finals of the ninth annual Southwest Conference Basketball Tournament.

The two pre-tournament favorites thrilled a crowd of 6,000 Tuesday night by impressively erasing early deficits and grabbing semifinal victories over Arkansas and Texas.

SMU ran its season record to 7-2 while defeating Arkansas 67-56. The Aggies won their seventh straight by turning back the young but dangerous Texas Longhorns 84-74.

The Aggies enter tonight's 9:30 p.m. finals as the defending champions.

Texas and Arkansas meet at 7:30 p.m. for third place in the three-day pre-season meet.

Afternoon consolation games saw Baylor meeting Texas Christian for fifth place (2 p.m.) and Texas Tech meeting Rice for seventh place (4 p.m.).

Baylor moved into the consolation finals by defeating Tech, 78-58. TCU turned back Rice 83-72.

Carroll Broussard and Wayne Lawrence led A&M against Texas as the Aggies handed the Longhorns their second defeat in eight starts.

Broussard scored 29 points and Lawrence 21 as A&M overcame early 6-point Texas leads.

Jay Arnette hit 21 points for Texas.

Steve Strange, 6-foot-7 junior from Dallas, was the big difference as SMU pulled away from Arkansas in the final 10 minutes after the lead had changed seven times.

Strange led SMU with 20 points and grabbed 12 rebounds.

Baylor breezed into the consolation 6-foot-5 senior from Alba, scored 23 points as the Bears outclassed Tech's Red Raiders. Tech enjoyed a brief lead only in the opening minutes.

Badger Hopes Resting On Quarterback

By BOB MYERS

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—As quarterback Dale Hackbart goes, so goes the Wisconsin football team.

That's what Big Ten observers say, and the same goes for the Washington Huskies and their All-America quarterback, Bob Schloredt.

Hackbart led the Badgers to the Big Ten championship, Schloredt piloted the Huskies to a tie for the title in the newly formed Athletic Assn. of Western Universities—and both ushered their teams into the New Year's Day Rose Bowl.

Both quarterbacks are excellent field generals, and both excel at the favorite play of each team, the run or pass option maneuver.

So the pair will be very much in the view of the 100,000 fans in the big bowl, and the nation's TV fans can keep a sharp eye on No. 28, Hackbart's jersey number, and 15, which belongs to Washington's one-eyed marvel.

Neither boy, Hackbart a senior from Madison, nor Schloredt, a junior, is rated a great passer by his coach. But they get the job done.

Schloredt passed the Huskies 733 yards in completing 39 out of 75 attempts for five touchdowns and a 52 per cent completion average.

Hackbart threw 83, completed 40 for 589 yards and two touchdowns.

Schloredt was the running workhorse of his team. He carried the ball 116 times and gained 255 yards.

The leading ground gainer for Washington, however, was fullback Ray Jackson, who carried 95 times and gained 460 yards.

Hackbart led the Badgers in rushing by carries, a net 366 yards.

Cotton Maid Selection Due

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Three Texas beauties compete with 18 others here tonight for the 1960 Maid of Cotton crown.

They are Flo Burris of Houston, Genevieve Hogue of Commerce and Enna McDaniel of Amarillo.

The new Maid will be chosen before an invitation-only audience of some 7,000. She will succeed Malinda Berry of Stillwater, Okla.

The three Texas beauties appeared Tuesday night at a dinner dance. Two of the Texas girls wore wedding dresses.

The new Maid's first public appearance will be at the Cotton Bowl football game in Dallas New Year's Day.

Meek Facing Problem In Shrine Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—How do you go about beating a club you believe is as good a squad as ever assembled for an all-star football game?

That's the problem facing Coach Bill Meke of Southern Methodist University who heads the staff of the West for the 35th Shrine East-West battle at Kezar Stadium Jan. 2.

"We can't match them in size or power," declares the West coach in sizing up the opposition that includes no-less than 15 players from the Big Ten and three from Notre Dame. "They have just about everything you could ask."

But Meek isn't ducking for cover before the game starts and adds, "these are two of the finest squads ever assembled out here."

He figures the West can win, but he isn't divulging battle plans. You can bet, however, the West will take to the air soon after the 1:50 p.m. (PST) kickoff of the nationally televised (NBC) struggle.

Starting quarterback for the West will be Don Meredith, a fellow who played for Meek at SMU and this past season completed 69 of 122 passes for 804 yards and 5 touchdowns. Wyoming's Jim Walden will be used both on offense and defense. During the past season he connected on 45 of 101 throws for 882 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Halfback Bill Bucek of Rice gives additional versatility to the offense since he can both run and throw.

While Meek has decided on Meredith as the starting quarterback, Coach Duffy Daugherty of the East still hasn't made up his mind whether he will open with Dean Look, who was all Big Ten for him at Michigan State, or George Izo, the 200-pounder from Notre Dame.

Duffy can field a line averaging 233 pounds per man or about 15 more than the West can muster.

Rich Futurity Is Scheduled Today

El Zag, easy winner of his two Sunland starts, tops a list of 16 impressive nominees for the $10,000 Sun Bowl Futurity to be run today at six furlongs. The race is exclusively for two year olds who will automatically turn three on New Years day.

Owner Col. R. C. Nauman of Littleton, Colorado and trainer, Randy McMakin, have accepted highweight of 125 pounds for their brilliant charge, highest impost he has ever been asked to carry. He will be conceding from 7 to 17 pounds to his 15 rivals. The stakes winning Bob Yeager will be aboard.

Sired by El Drag, who holds the seven furlong world's record, El Zag faces the sternest test of his young career as his training was interrupted slightly by a recent injury. However, his connections have declared him fit and ready and will point him towards the Kentucky Derby next May if successful in the Futurity. His excellent record shows seven wins and two thirds in 14 tries this year.

J. P. Hanson's classy juvenile filly, Bobbin, is next on the weight scale at 118 pounds. She was successful in her three Sunland starts disposing of her field with ease on each occassion. Trained by Glenn Bamford she has twice run second to El Zag but her backers are confident she will be vindicated in the Futurity. She has registered eight wins and placed on seven other occassions in nineteen starts this year.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Douglas of Tucson, Arizona have high hopes for their fine colt, Forward Gunner who ran a good second to El Zag earlier in the meet. A three time winner here, he will carry 116 pounds in the Futurity.

Also in at 116 is Bull Liege, owned by Mr. H. W. Cathey of Martzon-Texas. The fleet son of Akbar-Copper Pair, recently ripped off the Futurity distance in 1:09 3-5 seconds.

The cinderella horse of the race is First Round who was a bargain purchase in California by trainer Bob Lake for his patrons, Mr. and Mrs. George Meyer of Houston, Texas. Lake developed the classy gelding into a first rate contender for the Futurity. A two winner this season, First Round will carry 115 pounds.

Big Joy, handsome bay colt from the C. B. McNeil Stable has been called the "personality kid" by rail birds who saw him crush his opposition in his only Sunland outing. The racey looking colt is a huge two year old and appears to hold a promising future as a sophomore.

The New Mexico bred, Macdan, returned to his winning ways in his last effort at Sunland. The classy grey won the New Mexico Futurity at Albuquerque and at 113 pounds holds a potent hand in the race.

Rounding out the Futurity nominees are Queens' Fancy 112, Debonair Dandy 111, Flying Morse 110, Flaming Jade 110, Rockspot 110, Larc's Lassie 110, Sunlit Sea 109, Tiger Dust 108, Market Time 108.

Ingo Named Top Fighter

NEW YORK (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, world heavyweight champion, has been named "fighter of the year" by Ring Magazine in its annual yearend issue for the second straight time.

Johansson's selection was based on his dramatic third round knockout of Floyd Patterson June 26 at Yankee Stadium. Gene Fullmer, National Boxing Assn's middleweight champ, was the runner-up.

Although the boxing magazine still rated Sugar Ray Robinson as the world champ despite NBA's recognition of Fullmer, it listed Sugar Ray No. 3 among the middleweights.

Editor Nat Fleischer pointed out that the fact that a boxer is recognized as champion does not necessarily gain for him the o.1pN necessarily gain for him the No. 1 rating. Gene Fullmer was listed as No. 1 and Spider Webb, who was beaten by Fullmer earlier this month, was No. 2.

Three boxers were listed in a class by themselves for the first time in five years.

History May Not Repeat In Bowl Tilt

By ED TUNSTALL

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — History has a disconverting habit of repeating itself, but don't bet on it when Louisiana State and Mississippi meet in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day.

LSU, then rated the top team in the nation, whipped Ole Miss 7-3 last October in one of the football season's great games. But it took an 89-yard punt return by All-America Billy Cannon to score the deciding touchdown.

The drums started beating almost immediately for a rematch and the Sugar Bowl obliged.

LSU was riding an 18-game winning streak when it entertained the third-ranked Rebels on Halloween night. Bobby Khayat's field goal put the Rebels in front until well into the final period before Cannon blasted off on his incredible run that was voted the most spectacular play of the 1959 season.

In the Sugar Bowl LSU finds itself a seven-point underdog. Ole Miss was the nation's No. 2 team in the final Associated Press poll while LSU was third.

Cannon, undoubtedly the year's top player, will match talents with Mississippi fullback Charlie Flowers, another All-America.

With Robinson, third choice in the professional National Football League player draft, somewhat hampered by his broken hand, and field goal expert Harris definitely on the sidelines, the edge lies with the player-rich Rebels, all reported in top condition.

Offensive Tussle Looms In Sun Tilt

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Two of the nation's best offensive football teams tangle here Thursday in the 25th Sun Bowl game.

They are New Mexico State, the country's third best total offense club, and North Texas State, the No. 4 team in total offense. Kickoff time is 2 p.m. (MST).

North Texas is rated an 8½-point favorite.

New Mexico State (7-3) will feature the nation's leading rusher and scorer in junior halfback Pervis Atkins. Atkins won the national rushing championship with 971 yards on 130 carries—an average of 7.4 yards per try. He scored 17 touchdowns and ran five conversions for 107 points and the national scoring leadership.

Housing Inspection Slated In El Paso

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special Defense Department inspection team plans to go to El Paso Jan. 10 to check into the housing situation in the Texas city.

Rep. J. T. Rutherford of Texas said the study is to be made in the light of protests from various El Paso citizens over a proposal to build 1,000 family dwelling units under the Capehart Housing Act for personnel at Ft. Bliss.

Congressional approval was given the project last summer. Objections were raised on the ground that ample housing is available in the El Paso area.

SUDDEN DEATH FROM THE SKIES — Mrs. Jane A. David, 32, was burned to death when a 1750-gallon fuel tank fell from a B47 bomber on takeoff at Tucson, Arizona. A burning bicycle which the woman was riding is in the foreground and her body can be seen at the rear. Flames from the explosion covered the area and roared to a height of 300 feet. The pilot of the plane knew he was in trouble and banked the plane so the tank would not fall in a densely populated area. (AP Wirephoto)

Deaf Lawyer Talks On Phone

By GEORGIA NELSON
Corpus Christi Caller-Times

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., (AP)—A totally deaf Corpus Christi lawyer has perfected a system which enables him to carry on a telephone conversation.

William F. Wallace Jr. believes his technique would be helpful to others who can't hear—especially those who, like Wallace, carry on a successful business.

Here's how it works:

Wallace's secretary has another phone on the same line. She dials the number and advises the party who is calling. At a nod from her, Wallace picks up his receiver.

The Secretary, Margo Salinas, sits across the desk from Wallace, facing him. His eyes are on her lips. As the party on the other end of the line talks, she repeats his words.

Wallace reads Mrs. Salinas' lips.

The big-framed lawyer uses the same technique at his home. Mrs. Wallace is his teammate there.

Wallace's helper is equipped with a telephone receiver with a button which can be depressed with a finger. This button keeps the sound of her own voice—even though only a whisper is needed to form the words for lip-reading—from going onto the phone line and mixing with the voice of the other party.

Wallace got the idea when he saw a court reporter repeating the words of witnesses into the microphone of a tape recorder.

He described his telephone system in an article published by the American Medical Assn. Several doctors wrote to him, saying they didn't believe it would work.

Wallace proved it does work—by making long distance telephone calls to them.

Wallace has a law practice and is also president of an oil company, an insurance agency and an investment company.

Ed Sullivan, Hedda Hopper Frantically Seek Headlines

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A suggestion by TV emcee Ed Sullivan that Hedda Hopper makes television hay out of her newspaper column has touched off this indignant retort:

"Liar!"

The fireworks came Tuesday when Miss Hopper learned Sullivan had protested to two actors' organizations about the way guest talent was being lined up for a TV show she will do.

Sullivan's program and the Hopper show vie for the national TV audience at the same hour Jan. 10.

New York columnist Sullivan told a Hollywood trade paper that Miss Hopper was using her Hollywood column as "payola to get performers for her show free."

Miss Hopper shot back: "When he (Sullivan) says I don't pay my people, he's a liar. I guess he must be slipping. Ed Sullivan is scared to death I'm going to knock him off the air."

Actor Charlton Heston got into the act—or out of it. He withdrew from the Hopper show, saying he had not understood earlier that it was to be a network program rather than a local one.

"There is no question about my willingness and eagerness to do an interview with Hedda any time—free—but if Rexall (the sponsor) is going to beam it over 168 stations in competition with guys who have paid me a lot of money for the same thing, then I'd be doing them a dirty trick to go ahead," Heston said.

He said he makes local appearances free continually.

Miss Hopper and several of Heston's colleagues from "Ben-Hur" taped a segment of the Jan. 10 show without him.

"We didn't miss him," she said.

Sullivan said Heston made $10,000 appearing on Sullivan's Sunday night show.

"If he's appearing on her show for nothing," Sullivan said, "then you're setting up a situation which is intolerable because all shows must pay for their performers."

"Everybody is being paid," Miss Hopper said. "I myself am just a paid performer on the program, which isn't mine at all, but a production of Talent Associates, headed by David Susskind and Al Levy. They are contacting the performers."

Ronald Reagan, president of the Screen Actors Guild, said the matter did not fall in his group's jurisdiction. The American Federation of Television and Radio Artists referred the case to its Hollywood office.

Utah Jury Makes Probe Of Polygamy

FARMINGTON, Utah (AP)—Utah should launch an extensive investigation of polygamy in an effort to stamp out the practice says the Davis County Grand Jury.

The jury returned nine indictments Tuesday and issued a report on its six-months probe of plural marriage.

The report did not say how many people were involved in polygamous practices, but said the cost of welfare payments is a staggering burden on the taxpayer.

The practice of a man taking more than one wife once was sanctioned by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon). But the church, which has more than half the population of Utah among its members, outlawed polygamy before statehood in 1896. Since than any Mormon caught practicing polygamy has been excommunicated.

Small groups calling themselves Fundamentalists persist in taking more than one wife and claim divine sanction. The legal charge of unlawful cohabitation carries a penalty of up to five years in prison.

The jury suggested the practice should be punished more severely and that the women should also be prosecuted.

Deputy Quits Post Here

"For the past year I have acted as your office deputy in the Scurry County Sheriff's Dept. I am now retiring from public service and ask that my resignation be accepted," she said in her letter of resignation to Sheriff Earl Abercrombie.

"It has been a pleasure to be associated with you and your staff. May I express my sincere good wishes for the continued success of your department.

Pennsylvania Dems Will Delay Choice

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. David Lawrence said today Pennsylvania Democrats will not decide their choice for presidential candidate until two months before the national convention July 11.

Lawrence, as governor and a Democratic national committeeman, is expected to lead Pennsylvania's 81-vote delegation to the Los Angeles convention.

Some of Lawrence's aides say privately the governor is leaning toward Sen. W. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) for the nomination but Lawrence has steadfastly taken a neutral stand.
