This is the north one-half of the east part of Survey 20 consisting of approximately 121.05 acres lying approximately three and one-half miles northwest of Sonora in the E. M. deBerry ranch. Acreage was a discrepancy in survey and was sold by the State of Texas to Boyett in June 1944.

Examinations and medication are free of cost with drug companies donating medicines to patients unable to bear the cost of treatment. This clinic serves a 13-county area which includes Sutton County. It is financed by the Heart Fund's annual drive of which 40 percent goes to the Texas and national research and education branches and the remaining 60 percent being used for local support of the clinic. Devil's River Philosopher Advises Washington That Feelings Are No Indication For Economic Upswing

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River reviews the economic situation this week, without any noticeable change in it.

Dear editor:
I don't know anything about the economic situation, I know when hardtimes are here and when they've left, but me and the economic experts have never been able to figure out exactly when they're coming or when they're fixing to leave, at least not to the point where we could make any money with our inside dope, so all this talk about a "readjustment" or a "minor recession" leaves me on the outside.

However, there is pretty general admission at the top level in Washington that a mild recession has hit the country, in some spots at least, although I've seen times so hard a mild recession like this one look like a prosperity boom, but what has me puzzled is a statement I read in a copy of a frozen newspaper which a north wind blew in during the cold spell last week and which I read just before I started a fire with it.

According to it "the feeling of the administration is that business will pick up in the mid-year period and be booming again before the end of the year."

Now I'll tell you. Maybe Washington can depend on its feelings to tell how the year is going to turn out, but the system won't work on this ranch out here on Devil's River.

I've never started a crop year yet that I didn't feel that this year I'm really going to make something, but after years of experience I've found that a man's feelings in January and February are mighty sorry barometers about what's going to take place at selling time later on in the year.

Understand, there's nothing wrong with these first-of-the-year feelings, they're necessary if a rancher is ever going to get any ranching done, but they into it, although this is heard-don't have any more bearing on the outcome than wishing for rain if it's dry or for dry weather if it's raining. What I mean is, how a man feels about his stock prospects before lambing or shearing has mighty little loan value at the bank.

Flood Prevention Work Progressing Says O. C. Fisher

Watershed flood prevention work is progressing in our area, with the Sulphur Creek project in Lampasas scheduled for contracting of three or possibly five retarding structures between now and June; the Lowrey Draw project in Sutton and Schleicher Counties being in the development stage, with prospects for completion of all preliminaries this spring; and the Valley Creek project in Runnels County, temporarily disapproved by the State Soil Conservation Board, scheduled for further study to determine questions of feasibility.

All told there have been 132 applications for such projects, aside from the Trinity and Colorado watersheds, which is evidence of widespread local interest in the flood prevention method.

That boom that shakes the earth when a jet plane breaks through the sound barrier is causing damage in Lampasas County. The Lometa newspaper reports, in a lighter vein, that the explosions "shake the peas off your knife—and our folks are not educated to swallowing naked blades like the sword swallows do—and believe us—there have been some near tragedies!"

In fact, the article continues, "One of our better educated neighbors even stabbed himself in the mouth with a fork—when one of those high-pressure BOOMS hit just as he was about to take in some fodder!"

Seriously, these explosions are upsetting nerves and are reportedly causing some cracks in rock foundations of buildings. I have appealed to the Air Force to investigate and instruct pilots to do their training a little higher up in the sky.

An economic engineering report on the Diablo Dam project on the Rio Grande is ready, except for a delayed report from the Fish and Wildlife Service, according to Col. L. H. Hewitt, International Boundary and Water Commissioner, of El Paso. The proposed report will then be circulated to other government agencies for comments before it will be ready for submission to the Bureau of the Budget and then to the Congress later in the year.

W. Farley), Tom Walters, Leonard Ward, Bruno Brandt, W. B. Davis, and John W. Clark, individually and as constituting and representative of that class of five-year employees given cash legacies of $500.00 each under the terms of such purported will of such decedent.

Said suit styled "Dolores Mooers, A Widow, v. H. B. Fuqua, Independent Executor, et al.," being numbered 157 on the docket of such court and a brief statement of the nature of the suit being as follows:

Plaintiff seeking equitable review asks to set aside a settlement made with her husband, Clifford Mooers, dated May 1, 1956, and this Court's decree of approval entered the next day in cause No. 1464, styled "Ex Parte: Clifford Mooers and Wife, Dolores Mooers," recorded in the minutes, Vol. 6, p. 636, and asks an accounting and for a declaration fixing the identity of the residuary devisee under a purported will of such husband as admitted to probate December 10, 1956, in which suit it is claimed that plaintiff as the wife of such decedent for 27 years before his death was induced to consent to such property settlement and decree by the fraud of her husband and his agents, consisting of false representations and concealment of material facts as to the nature, extent and value of the community property and of plaintiff's true interest therein at such time, and because of further false promises to bequeath and on account of mistake induced by fraud of her husband and coercion; and it is claimed that a fraud was also practiced by such decedent on this Court, and that the proceedings did not comply with Article 2624a.

It is further claimed in such suit that all or substantially all property in decedent's name at the time of such settlement and at the time of his death was community property, and that had the wife received those properties awarded to her in such settlement, such were greatly less than her share at such time, and such contract was grossly unjust and disadvantageous to her, but that there was further material fraud and deceit practiced on her as to those properties which it was recited she was to receive under such settlement because of failure of title and of consideration in material part and inability to deliver and failure to deliver personal property of the kind and value which it was represented such wife should receive.

Plaintiff offers to do equity and makes a continuing tender to restore that which she has received and asserts that due to her situation, inexperience, ignorance and deception she could not sooner have discovered such fraud and brought this action.

It is further claimed that since such husband's death the defendant H. B. Fuqua, acting as Independent Executor under the purported will of such husband, has come into possession of but has not distributed all of those properties which the husband wrongfully took under such settlement and decree and in which plaintiff had a continuing equitable ownership and interest, and that the other defendants are claiming to own or have some interest in such properties and estate as the respective cash legatees and residuary devisee

YOUR MINISTER

SAYS

By Rev. Bill Brown
"And be ye kind to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you." (Ephesians 4:32)
Our prayers usually end with these words, "For Christ's sake." This scripture is dealing with forgiving one another. Many of us would want nothing more than God to look upon the face of His beloved Son, and deal with us according to the merit of our suffering substitute. But this is the side of this great truth. God desires us to look upon the face of His Son, and for Christ's sake, suffer, serve and glorify Father. Could this be the true motive for Christian life and service? How much will another suffer for her child's sake? God was willing to bless the children of Israel on various occasions for the sake of David. For Christ's sake we are to forgive one another, even as our Heavenly Father for His dear Son's sake has forgiven you. We should have this loving spirit like Jesus had when he instructed His followers to forgive even until seventy times seven. It is so Christlike to have a compassion and pity, and a heart ready to bless and forgive. One of our Hymns is titled "Let Others See Jesus In You". Shall we ask ourselves these important questions? Can others see Jesus in us? Can others recognize and feel the forgiving spirit from us? Can we say that we are kind one to another and tenderhearted? For Christ's sake alone, we should do our very best in this business of forgiving.

Work Plan On Lowrey Draw Requested

An application for planning assistance covering Lowrey Draw alone was submitted on July 18, 1956. It was "approved for planning" by the State Soil Conservation Board on August 8, 1956.

Lowrey Draw thus became Project 96 in Texas to become eligible for development of a flood prevention work plan under Public Law 566—which also meant that 95 other projects were ahead of Lowrey Draw in priority.

The Soil Conservation Service had funds for only one flood prevention planning party in Texas, which could plan about three watersheds each year. SCS had formed two other planning parties which were paid from local funds raised by interested people who did not want to wait 10 to 20 years for the regular flood prevention planning party.

The Soil Conservation Service estimated that a work plan on Lowrey Draw could be developed for $15,000. It was agreed that an effort would be made to raise the money, rather than risk the danger of a flood by waiting 10 or more years. (IN THE MEANTIME CONGRESS HAD AMENDED PUBLIC LAW 566 TO THE EFFECT THAT LOCAL PEOPLE WOULD NOT BE REQUIRED TO FURNISH ANY OF THE CONSTRUCTION COSTS, which made the project appear much more attractive and attainable.

The Edwards Plateau soil conservation district pledged $5,000, and Sutton County pledged $5,000. The City of Sonora determined that it would not give $5,000 but Mayor Alfred Schwiene, assisted by Joe M. Vander Stucken and others, raised the remaining $5,000 by public subscription.

Flood Prevention Work Plan Developed On Lowrey Draw

Work plan development was started on August 12, 1957. Two SCS field parties, plus a project engineer, sedimentation specialist, hydrologist, and two economists collected field information from which to develop the plan. The economists made a block by block, house by house estimate of property values. A contour map of the city was prepared, to determine probable damages in the event of 25, 50 and 100 year frequency floods.

The completed plan was explained to local county, city and soil conservation district officials, and others on November 13, 1957. The plan called for six flood prevention structures or dams on Lowrey draw. It was pointed out, however, that protection on Lowrey Draw alone would give only 30 per cent reduction in flood damages in the City of Sonora in event of a severe flood (100 year frequency storm). It was agreed by the group present that work on Lowrey Draw alone would not provide acceptable protection to Sonora, and that a project providing only a 30 per cent solution to the problem would never be approved by the Department of Agriculture or the Congressional Committees.

As a result of the house by house survey of property values, the contour map showing the flood plain position of most of the city, and the damages indicated from imposing a hypothetical 100 year frequency storm on Sonora, the planning party determined that control of both Lowrey Draw and Dry Devil's River would be feasible and economically justified. The work showed that flood prevention dams on both draws would give Sonora approximately 96 per cent reduction in flood damages from a 100 year frequency storm.

Since considerable survey work on Dry Devil's River was necessary in developing the plan on Lowrey Draw, SCS engineers determined that a work plan on Dry Devil's River could be developed for $7,000.

Approximately $3,500 was left from the $15,000 Lowrey Draw fund, so an additional $3,500 was required. These funds were provided jointly by Sutton County and the City of Sonora, $1,750 each.

We Are Stewards Of The Land

By Jim Ray Baker

In the Beginning, God created the earth. He supplied it with an abundance of good things. Fishes swam the waters; beasts roamed the woods; and birds split the air with their wings. But something was still missing. It lacked a keeper who would take dominion over the earth and preserve it. Thus, God decided to create man to take on the job. This makes the keeping and preservation of the garden our responsibility.

Since then, a malignancy has invaded our lands. It threatens our very existence for it attacks our soil which supports all forms of life on the earth. This ruthless killer is called erosion. Every year billions of tons of rich topsoil go down our slopes and rivers to the ocean, where they lie useless to us. This must not continue to happen. We have an obligation to God. We have an obligation to our ancestors who worked so hard and sacrificed so much so that we might have the great heritage which is ours. We owe it to our posterity, for a well fed nation remains strong and happy while a weak nation soon falls prey to tyranny.

If we are to stop this terrible thing we must take action. First, we must study the problem; learn how it works, why, and how it can be stopped. Scientific research must be put to work to learn these things, to find solutions and to inform and train the people, especially the people like farmers who come in direct contact with the soil. This is the only hope if our phyla is to succeed on earth, for all life comes from the soil. We should begin filling our obligations now so that we may save the beauty and good earth which has not already perished.

Broncos Win Over Sterling City

Sonora was ahead as much as 10 points, and only behind once, right after the half. Johnny McClelland, with the score tied at 43 each, hit a free throw to make the final score 44 to 43.

"B" Loses
Sterling City won the B game 42 to 36 after a tight game, with Sonora ahead until the third quarter.
