Unidentified Planes Hit S. Viet Outpost

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Jet planes strafed a South Vietnamese outpost five miles from the 17th Parallel today and U.S. military spokesman disagreed among themselves as to whether the raiders were Communist MIGs or straying American fighters.

Four planes hit the outpost at Gia Linh in a single pass, two shooting and two flying top cover, and then sped out to sea. Five Vietnamese were wounded, a truck was destroyed and a bulldozer was set afire.

U.S. military spokesman at the Da Nang air base, about 100 miles from the scene, said the planes presumably were MIGs. He said, however, base intelligence officers had not finally determined what kind of aircraft was involved.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, Vietnamese military commander of the area, said he suspected they were Communist Chinese planes.

The reported witnesses told him the raiders were black MIGs with no wing markings. Other Da Nang sources, however, denied that the raiders were black.

American military spokesmen in Saigon, 380 miles farther south told newsmen the strafing was done by four U.S. jet fighters flying off course. Both Navy and Air Force planes were involved in raids during the day on North Viet Nam.

A high U.S. authority here said Vietnamese spotted white—American — stars on the planes that hit the outpost and the initial investigation showed they fired 200mm cannon shells.

"No MIGs are armed with 20mm cannon," he said. "Our best information indicates that the planes were not enemy aircraft."

This authority said a final report will be made after further investigation of the shell fragments, but added: "We are 99 per cent sure of our initial findings."

The American report in Da Nang that the planes were presumed to be MIGs was at first denied by a U.S. official in Saigon. Later he amended his statement, saying the U.S. spokesman in Da Nang had given such information. The Saigon story, however, was that the Da Nang spokesman "jumped to the conclusion."

MIGs have figured in three incidents north of the border. The Soviet-designed fighters shot down two supersonic F105 fighter-bombers from American squadrons that were bombing a bridge 65 miles south of Hanoi April 4. But American and Vietnamese fliers have spotted no hostile aircraft in recent weeks.

The attacks were under way again when the South Vietnamese outpost was hit.

Bolivian Factions Call Cease-Fire

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Bolivia's military junta and its tin miners agreed Monday night to a cease-fire calling for an end to the miners' eight-day-old strike and withdrawal of troops from the mines.

The truce was signed after a battle between government forces and workers in the industrial suburbs of La Paz which continued into Monday night. At least 19 persons were killed and more than 70 wounded.

Heavy casualties were reported in mining centers south of the capital where miners tried to repel troops under government orders to occupy the state-owned mines.

The cease-fire agreement was signed by Gen. Alfredo Ovando Candia, the armed forces commander, and leaders of the Bolivian Drivers Union who have been mediating the dispute between the junta and the leftist miners union.

Radio Mendez in La Paz said representatives of the two factions will meet in the capital to widen the agreement. The broadcast said it now stipulates that:

1. The miners will call off the strike they began May 17 to protest deportation of their leader, former Vice President Juan Lechin.

2. The junta will pull its troops out of tin mines they have occupied and stop their advance on other mining centers.

Bloody rioting erupted in La Paz last week following the start of the strike, and the junta sent 17 labor leaders into exile in Paraguay to join Lechin.

An armed band of gunmen tried to assassinate the president of the junta, Lt. Gen. Rene Barrientos, Saturday at the Kami mining center 140 miles south of La Paz. He escaped injury but one of his guards was killed. Four gunmen were captured.

The government ordered the army to occupy the mines Sunday after the miners refused to return to work. Decrees were issued reducing wages of all mine workers and dismissing 27,000 workers from the state miping corporation's payroll.

Troops began occupying one mine after another north and south of the capital, freeing a number of the 70 hostages the government said were being held by the strikers.

The fighting spread Monday from the mine centers to the suburbs of La Paz, where officials estimated that 300 snipers were holed up. Air Force planes strafed the hilltops around La Paz in an effort to flush out the snipers.

The junta which deposed President Victor Paz Estenssoro last November has been trying to reorganize the mines which it says are nearly bankrupt.

Workers See Little Hope For Miners

By JOHN VAN MOL

ROBBINS, Tenn. (AP) —Rescue operations were resumed in a gas-polluted mine today for four men trapped by a violent explosion. The body of a fifth miner was found earlier.

The recovery work was halted several hours as officials sought to clear the air inside the mountainside mine. Two large fans were to suck methane gas and coal dust from the pit.

The rescue operations were stopped temporarily after four men had been overcome by gas. Three were sent to a hospital. Federal and state mine inspectors said there was little doubt the trapped men were dead.

The five men were believed trapped about 3,000 feet from the mine entrance. Rescue workers, working in shifts, labored into the night trying to reach the men.

Telephone wire was strung inside the mine to set up communications. Timber was taken in to block off rooms that had bad air and to rebuild supports.

Charlie Welch, a foreman for the Highland Telephone Co., said a seven-man rescue squad was standing by equipped with a new type breathing apparatus.

State mine inspectors and veteran miners all but abandoned hope of finding any of the men alive. They said the violence of the explosion left little doubt that the men died instantly.

"I don't think there is a chance for the men to get out alive," said Victor Voiles, a storekeeper.

SWOOPS LIKE A BIRD

Winged Pegasus Launched To Test Space Hazards

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Saturn 1 super-rocket thundered to its ninth straight successful test flight today and drilled into orbit a mammoth "space bird" satellite to climax a spectacular early morning launching.

The satellite, Pegasus 2, unfolded two giant wings to a span of 96 feet — greater than most four-engine airliners — and began swooping through space like a great bird.

It was to measure tiny meteoroids and the hazard they pose to astronauts making lengthy space trips.

Each time the thin, metallic skin of Pegasus 2 is penetrated by one of the streaking cosmic bullets, the satellite is to emit an electronic squawk to be recorded in a memory device and radioed to earth on command.

The 18-story-tall Saturn 1, the world's most powerful rocket, uttered a mighty roar and sent a waterfall of flame cascading over its launching pad as it flashed to life at 2:35 a.m. after a perfect countdown.

The massive first-stage power plant, a cluster of eight engines, generated 1.5 million pounds of thrust.

It was the first time that Saturn 1 had been launched in darkness, and it provided early-rising missile watchers with a brilliant performance of noise and fire.

It illuminated Cape Kennedy as if it were midday.

A great thunderclap rolled across the cape and a 300-foot tail of flame fanned out behind the booster as it raced toward space.

After 2½ minutes, the hydrogen-powered second stage ignited, and pushed the satellite into orbit.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that Pegasus 2 was in an orbit ranging from about 320 to 460 miles high.

Personnel at the West Indies tracking station on Antigua watched on closed-circuit space television as the satellite's wings unfolded like an accordian high above the atlantic some 2,000 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy.

They said a camera mounted on the second stage provided clear pictures of the deployment.

Junta Offering No Concessions

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican rebels were optimistic today and the Americans pessimistic about prospects for a coalition government. The junta showed no sign of giving way.

A rebel spokesman said negotiations to form a government headed by Antonio Guzman Fernandez, minister of agriculture under deposed President Juan Bosch, were "very advanced." Other rebel sources said the talks were nearing "a successful conclusion."

But a U.S. spokesman, noting strong opposition to Guzman from the junta, said prospects for a quick settlement were still dim. U.S. officials would only say that "a number of conversations have taken place and are continuing."

Sources close to the junta president, Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, said Imbert had not been consulted on the coalition government. He called in U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett Jr. and Jose A. Mora, secretary-general of the Organization of American States, to ask them for an explanation of the negotiations.

Bennett reportedly told Imbert that the United States was not trying to impose a government. However, the United States is known to favor Guzman as a compromise choice.

Imbert has been demanding that the rebels surrender and has refused to step aside in favor of a coalition. The rebel chief, Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, has said he would resign if an agreement is reached on the coalition.

The Washington Post reported Monday night that President Johnson has ordered a team of FBI agents into the Deominican Republic to investigate the extent and nature of Communist influence in the Caribbean nation.

The newspaper said that details about these FBI activities were being kept strictly secret. It said White House spokesmen had denied that the FBI has been brought into the Dominican situation at all.

"However, it is known the President personally contacted FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover last week and requested him to undertake the investigation," the report said.

The FBI said it would have no comment. There was no immediate comment from the White House.

The State Department announced that the 21,000 U.S. troops in the Dominican Republic are now under the command of the Inter-American Force formally created Sunday. Its commander is Gen. Hugo Panasco-Alvim of Brazil. Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer of the United States is deputy commander.

Besides the U.S. contingent, the Inter-American Force is made up of 1,250 Brazilians who begin arriving today and small contingents from Costa Rica, Honduras, Nicaragua and El Salvador.

The troops are under the flag of the Organization of American States and wear yellow and blue shoulder patches.

Three-man international patrols, with a U.S. soldier, a Costa Rican and a Honduran in each jeep, began patrolling the U.S.-occupied international safety zone Monday.

Solons Limit Bill's Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate clamped a tight time limit today on further debate on the voting rights bill urged by President Johnson. The action was regarded as assuring the measure's early passage.

The vote to put the Senate's cloture or debating-closing time into effect was 70 for and 30 against. This was three more than the required two-thirds majority.

Voting to limit debate were 47 Democrats and 23 Republicans. Voting against it were 21 Democrats and 9 Republicans.

The debate restriction limits to one hour each senator's speaking time on the bill and all amendments from now on.

Debate on the bill began April 22.

Most of the 100 senators will not make use of their allotted time and leaders were hopeful of passing the bill Wednesday, if not tonight.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., a key spokesman for Southern senators who have denounced the bill as unconstitutional, told newsmen he intended to call up 10 or 11 more amendments but would spend only a few minutes on each.

"The way things are," he said, "I don't think I could even get a denunciation of the Crucifixion into the bill."

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, a major architest of the administration bill, said that except for Ervin's amendments he expected only three or four others to be offered.

Dirksen said he thought the bill might be passed tonight, as did Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

This was only the second time the Senate has invoked its debate-limitation rule on a civil rights measure. The first time was the 71-29 vote to shut off debate on last year's general civil rights bill. The vote then came on the 75th day of debate and throttled a Southern filibuster.

In August, 1962, a two-thirds majority also was obtained to cut off a filibuster against the bill establishing the Communications Satellite Corp. That was the first time in 25 years that the cloture rule had been successfully invoked.

Stock Split Approved

HOUSTON (AP)—Superior Oil Co. stockholders have approved a 10-for-1 stock split effective today.

The tight-held stock, with a par value of $25 a share, was selling for more than $1,500.

Cigarette Tax Hike Approved

AUSTIN (AP)— Gov. Connally's $79 million tax package, including a 3-cent increase in the cigarette tax, won quick House approval today by overwhelming votes.

The House sent the cigarette tax bill to the Senate on a 139-7 vote, then passed 138-7 and sent to senators Connally's bill to raise $6 million by a change in inheritance tax collection procedures.

The cigarette tax boost is estimated to raise $73 million—more than enough for the state's $70 million share of the $101 million teacher pay raise bill passed last week. The entire package also contains enough money to finance a $4 million appropriation to San Antonio's 1968 HemisFair exhibition and to settle $2.5 million in claims against the state.

The House took less than 30 minutes to pass the cigarette tax bill, to 11 cents per pack, highest in the nation. Taxes on tobacco now bring the state about $100 million a year.

Ruby Testifies He Took Stimulants

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby told Monday how he took numerous stimulant pills before killing presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald and then expressed fear that he and Oswald would be linked in the assassination.

"To the American people and the world . . . I'm going to be branded a part of a conspiracy with Oswald," said Ruby. "You're going to forget how I felt about the beloved President Kennedy. There has been so much torment, so much hardship—."

Ruby's discourse, wandering from topic to topic and punctuated with emotional pauses, came during a hearing in which attorney Joe Tonahill, who was on Ruby's trial defense team, was taken out of the case for Ruby's forthcoming sanity hearing.

Tonahill's removal was ordered by Judge Louis T. Holland Montague, Tex., who said the question of Ruby's counsel would be settled by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals following the sanity hearing.

Ruby, his face pallid from over a year in jail, said he took 30 antibiodic pills and others that "stimulate you and make you want to do positive things" after awakening on Sunday, Nov. 24, 1963, the day Oswald was shot to death.

He said he brooded about the Kennedy children being fatherless but noted, "what quirked me after that I don't know. As God is my judge, that is the truth."

Ruby repeatedly referred to "one of the most bizarre conspiracies in the history of the world" to link him to Oswald, and seemed to have lost hope of escaping the electric chair.

"I know that I am a lost cause as far as saving my life—don't believe Joe Tonahill — I know there is a whole conspiracy behind it," Ruby said. At another point, he noted, "I walked into a trap when I walked down that ramp (into the city hall basement where he shot Oswald). I know I am going to die a horrible death."

Speaking of that Sunday, he said, "I shouldn't have tried to play the part of a hero. My background wasn't — clean enough to play the part of a shaved Monday night by a House committee.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In just a few weeks my brother is getting married. He asked Dad to be his best man, and it doesn't sound proper to me. Please give me your opinion. I would appreciate an answer in your column so he can see it, too. Thank you.

JANE

DEAR JANE: It is entirely proper and I think a beautiful gesture on the part of your brother. In these days when diamonds are a girl's best frind, how refreshing for a man's best friend to be his Dad.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have a pet peeve that sounds so petty and stupid that I am almost ashamed to mention it. It's people who come and sit down beside me on the piano bench while I'm playing. I don't know why this bothers me so much, but it does. Now you know, Abby, you can't tell someone to get up and go sit somewhere else without hurting their feelings. But it would be a big relief to me if I could get them to move in a nice inoffensive way. Any suggestions from you, or anyone who has solved this problem, would be greatly appreciated.

LOST CHORD

DEAR LOST: People want to sit beside you while you're playing because they're fascinated. Change your attitude and regard their presence as a compliment and it might be easier to bear. P. S. You might also change your piano bench for a piano stool.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am having a problem with my sister. She is always running down the place where I get my meat, groceries and even the place where I take my dry cleaning. She keeps after me to shop where she shops, and gets mad if I don't take her suggestions. Her husband makes more than mine and I can't afford to spend money like she does. Besides, I have no car and I have to shop near to where I live. Abby, I am satisfied with my life the way it is but she makes me feel like everything I have is second-rate. I'm not jealous of her. I just wish she would leave me alone and quit suggesting things I can't afford. I am older than she is, but she makes me feel like a helpless child. What can I tell her?

SISTER TROUBLE

DEAR TROUBLE: Thank her for her suggestions. Then tell her you must shop where it is convenient for you, and the price fits your pocketbook. And if she resumes the suggestions, tune her out and change the subject.

• • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO ROBERT: There's only one way to succeed. You've gotta wanta. And it's a do-it-yourself project all the way. You can't borrow the ambition. You can't borrow the perseverance. Nor can you borrow the self - confidence it takes to become a success. But above all, you've gotta wanta so passionately that nothing — and no one — can discourage you.

Absence Of Lao Offensive Puzzles US

By RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — With about two weeks to go before monsoon rains drop the curtain on major military activity in Laos, U.S. and Laotian officials are wondering what happened to the annual Pathet Lao offensive.

The absence of a significant Communist push in Laos so far has puzzled many here. Normally, the Pathet Lao and their North Vietnamese allies unleash attacks just a few weeks before the rainy season to grab some important piece of territory. After the monsoons start it is practically impossible for government forces to mount a counterattack.

Last year, this tactic gained the Communists virtually the entire Plaine des Jarres and bottled up neutralist forces of Gen. Kong Le. He lost almost all of his 40 Soviet-built tanks in the retreat.

Western officials here have speculated that the absence of a Communist spring offensive this year might be attributable to these factors:

1. — The Communists already have secured the territory that is of importance to them now. These are areas adjacent to Communist China, North Viet Nam and South Viet Nam, for the needed corridor to South Viet Nam.

2 — A big offensive would embarass the Soviet Union, which is cochairman of the Geneva conference, and Poland, which is a member of the three-nation International Control Commission.

3 — The Communists believe in ultimate victory in South Viet Nam and presumably think that when this victory is achieved, Laos will be scooped up automatically.

In addition to these considerations, the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam and Laotian air force bombings in Laos made a buildup of troops and logistic supply from North Viet Nam extremely difficult.

A Rumanian poet once described the people of his Balkan nation as "beggars sitting on a pile of gold."

Bogalusa Whites Want Mayor Out

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Angry whites, fighting [illegible] toward desegregation, pressed today for a recall election aimed at ousting the mayor.

About 500 whites milled around a bonfire rally in a city park Monday night after the park gates were ripped away.

Mayor Jesse Cutrer Jr., and the Commission Council had closed the all-white parks here last Wednesday after about 100 Negroes, staging a test picnic, were attacked by whites.

The recall petition was started by the Bogalusa Citizens Council after Cutrer announced the city's illegal segregation laws would be wiped off the books.

"I have to do what I think is right for the community," the mayor said. "You can't let those on the fringe lead. All I can see, otherwise, is chaos and violence and killing."

The Citizens Council accused the mayor of "going along with scalawags, carpetbaggers and outside agitators."

The council petition increased the pressure on Mayor Cutrer, 50, who has been in the uncomfortable middle between the Ku Klux Klan and civil rights workers for months.

The black-haired mayor, an ice cream manufacturer, said he will not back off from his stand.

Negroes make up about 35 per cent of the 23,000 residents of [illegible] Louisiana city, located in an area which the Klan claims as its own.

At Monday night's park rally, big signs reading, "This park closed indefinitely by order of Commission Council", were torn down.

There were cries of, "Let's go to City Hall." Some drove to the white-columned City Hall, which resembles an antebellum mansion, but found it closed.

The first shoemaker's name was Thomas Baird, or Beard. He arrived in Salem, Mass., in 1629.

How to keep your kitchen cooler while you're cooking...

COOK FLAMELESS ELECTRIC! With flameless electric cooking, pots and pans sit directly on electric heating elements, and absorb the heat before it can escape to warm up the kitchen. Air circulation isn't needed to support combustion, so flameless electric ovens are fully insulated on all four sides, top and bottom to "lock" cooking heat inside where it's used and wanted. This means your air conditioning equipment will have an easier task . . . work more efficiently and economically because it doesn't have to overcome heat wasted into the kitchen air by cooking flames. See the new electric ranges at your dealer's soon . . . and enjoy a cooler kitchen . . . electrically!

Hospital Auxiliary News

A called general meeting of the Cogdell Hospital Auxiliary was held at 9:30 a.m., May 24 at the home of Mrs. Larry Hall, president. The Auxiliary voted to help extend TV cable service to the hospital. This is another service the Auxiliary is helping make available to the patients of Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Subscriptions to newspapers and magazines are donated by firms and individuals on a yearly basis. Our sincere thanks go to Mr. Claude McCormick, McCormick & Sons Oil Distributors, for his subscriptions in 1964. These papers were distributed daily to each patient by the Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary also expresses appreciation to Bell's Flower Shop, Snyder Drugs, Brewer's Southside 66, Lieb's Supermarket, Snyder Savings & Loan, Key Brothers Implement Co. and the Snyder Daily News for their past and present subscriptions.

More subscriptions are needed. Those interested in making a newspaper donation are asked to contact the Circulation Department of the Snyder Daily News.

Due to an oversight, the names of Mrs. Inez Brown, General Treasurer, and Mrs. Skipper Joyce, Snack Bar Treasurer, were omitted from our roster of officers for 1965-66.

The Auxiliary offers varied opportunities for community service. There is a need and a place for more workers in the Auxiliary. If you would care to join, contact Mrs. W. E. S. Dickerson, II, membership chairman, at HI 3-9924.

Backdrop Is Answer

While any living room can be brightened with fresh flowers or decorative plants, sometimes a suitable setting poses a problem.

One vacant spot that will look a lot better with colorful flowers is a fireplace opening. Ideal is a backdrop in the form of a handsome, low folding screen.

The panels in a three - part, hinged screen four feet high will furnish a lovely background. In fact, they'll add their own decorator touch if made of a material like filigreed hardboard.

Finish the screen to match your living room color scheme or provide a striking contrast. Place the flowers or plant on the floor or on a low table in front of the screen. The filigree panels can be cut and worked with ordinary carpentry tools.

Takes Tales With Salt

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A man drove up to Police Chief John Kayser in suburban Upper Dublin Township Monday night and said there was an elephant loose on Route 309.

"Keep moving," Kayser said.

A little later a woman walked up. "There is an elephant walking on the lawns near Bethlehem Pike."

This time Kayser checked with headquarters and learned the switchboard was flooded with calls that an elephant was indeed loose and walking on lawns.

The elephant, a 9,000-pound animal named Dolly, got away from handler Arthur Mason, after he took her and two others to a show at an orphans home.

Until she was recaptured, traffic in the township was "terrible," police said.

GOPs Plan To Cut Foreign Aid

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of House Republicans who call themselves "a minority of the minority" plan today to try to cut up to $100 million from President Johnson's $3.37 billion foreign aid authorization bill.

One of the Republicans, Rep. E. Ross Adair of Indiana, told a reporter he expects to offer at least one or perhaps two amendments in that range to give House members who oppose foreign aid spending a chance to pare the authorization.

Adair was far from optimistic about his chances of succeeding. The composition of the House has changed since two years ago when he led a successful Republican attempt to slash foreign aid by more than $500 million.

Not only do Democrats have a top-heavy majority in the House, but they can count on considerable support among Republicans who traditionally have made the foreign aid program bipartisan.

Also militating against Adair's position is President Johnson's technique of sending Congress a "barebones" foreign-aid request.

Under President John F. Kennedy and prior to that, it was standard technique to ask Congress for far more in the full expectation that budget-minded congressmen would give the request a hefty cut before passing it.

Adair can count on the support of only four other Republican members of the Foreign Affairs Committee for his position. The seven other Republican members are considered pro-foreign aid.

The four dissenters are Reps. H. R. Gross of Iowa, Z. Y. Berry of South Dakota, Edward J. Derwinski of Illinois and Vernon W. Thomson of Wisconsin. With Adair they signed minority views in a report accompanying the bill.

The House completed a routine four-hour debate on the bill Monday and reserved today's session for amendments. Final action is expected by nightfall.

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, told the House foreign aid "is not a miracle vaccine that will make every country in the world immune to communism."

He conceded it has failed in some cases and been a waste of money in others. But over-all, Morgan said, foreign aid has helped the United States win significant struggles against communism all over the world and is vital to U.S. security.

The authorization measure merely sets the ceiling for foreign aid spending. The actual money will be voted later in an appropriations bill.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

ZIHUATENEJO, Mexico — Like I feared, a storm blew up. Not exactly a big one like a hurricane. But there was some wind from the sea and after throwing up a dozen handsfull of sand, a little blew inland.

Stormy weather. Too dangerous to fly back like I so desperately wanted so now I have to stay until tomorrow. And I laid back on the golden, sunny beach and placed another order for seafood.

And after demolishing it and relaxing from the effort, I strolled along the palm-fringed beach a way until I came to an interesting looking little stream. And then began strolling up the stream picking up stones and checking the merchandise.

The mountains are still green from the rainy season and the little creek is running merrily but not enough to prevent scientific exploration.

Half a mile up the stream, there sat a couple of Indian gentlemen with ancient coon rifles watching me intently.

"Hola," I said, in a neighborly fashion.

They did not answer. Maybe I lack appeal. Anyhow, I scratched for rocks and fingered into small gravel deposits.

So the Indian gentleman with the longest rifle said, "It is against the law to look for gold. It belongs to the people who live here."

"Gold?" I said with an astonished look. "I would not know gold if I saw it. I merely look for pretty rocks."

The other gentleman asked, "For what?"

So I said, "I collect them for my elderly aunt who is confined to her bed by paralysis. It is her only hobby."

The gentlemen looked at each other and one of them asked, "What would you pay for some very nice rocks?"

I shrugged and said, "I am not really interested in many. Only a few of no value that I might pick up. What kind of rocks?"

And he said, "We have some very pretty ones for sale. I will get them if you are interested."

"I am not really interested," I said, "but I will look at them."

They disappeared. And half an hour later came back with a bag. It was full of glistening quartz crystals ribboned all through with green tourmaline. Cuts beautiful stones.

"How much will you pay?" the gentleman with the long rifle asked.

I shook my head. "What a pity. Filled with impurities and of no value."

"There are five kilos here," the other said. "A man from Mexico City buys it from us at ten pesos a kilo."

Five kilos are 25,000 carats. It would cut probably 10,000 carats. And at five pesos per carat. . . "What a pity," I said. "Filled with dirt."

Long Rifle studied the ground a moment and said, "Give us forty pesos."

And I put on a mournful look and said, "It is worthless. But since you brought it all the way over here I will give you thirty pesos, which is all I have in my bathing trunks."

We closed the deal. And I wandered back down the creek with the bag of crystals, listening to them chuckle.

So all right. They were trying to faff me, weren't they?

Diamond M Scholarship Presented

The Diamond M Foundation has announced the awarding of the Lyndon Baines Johnson Scholarship to Cynthia Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Hale.

The scholarship was first established by the Foundation in 1961 following Mr. Johnson's campaign visit here at which time he expressed his deep and continuing interest in the education of the nation's youth.

The first to receive the scholarship was John Riley Vincent of Ira. Vincent has made an outstanding record at McMurry College, and is graduating this semester.

Miss Hale, who has a 93.6 grade average, will attend Texas Tech.

While in Snyder High School, she was a member of the National Honor Society during her junior and senior years, and was secretary of the Student Council her senior year.

Miss Hale was active in the school publications, and was selected as the outstanding member of the Annual staff.

She was active in speech and debate work, and was captain of the Forensic Squad. Miss Hale was also active in drama, and received the best actress award.

In addition to her many school activities, Miss Hale was also active in, and an officer of the junior hospital auxiliary, the Candy Stripers.

The scholarship is given initially for four semesters. If, however, Miss Hale maintains the quality of work of which the Foundation officers feel she is capable, the scholarship can be extended.

Compromise Told In Indiana 'Boar War'

WARSAW, Ind. (AP) — The Hoosier-style "boar war," has ended in compromise.

Walter Blocker, 48, told his complaining Kosciusko County neighbors during a court recess Monday he would halt his boar hunts Sept. 30.

The neighbors claimed the boars damaged crops, killed farm animals and scared children.

Blocker said his year-round hunts have been conducted the past two years for men willing to pay for shooting what he called "semiwild" boars imported from Florida.

Two Elderly Hurlers Keep Mets Afloat

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A juvenile delinquency expert is no match for a pair of elderly one-armed bandits.

As a result, the New York Mets continue to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League's Battle of the Bottom.

The Mets, out of their familiar cellar spot for more than two weeks, took two games from Philadelphia Monday night, 6-2 and 4-1, behind two pitchers whose combined ages total 78 years.

The Pirates lost ground to the Mets even though they won their fourth consecutive game, defeating the Chicago Cubs 6-4. Donn Clendenon, the juvenile authority, continued his torrid hitting pace, collecting three hits in four at-bats.

Manager Casey Stengel, 74, sent out Warren Spahn, 44, and Frank Lary, 34, to try and halt the Mets' six-game losing streak. To do it, they had to beat the best the Phillies had to offer — Jim Bunning and Chris Short.

They did — left-hander Spahn by scattering 10 hits in the opener and right-hander Lary by hurling a one-hitter through eight innings in the second game.

Clendenon, meanwhile, brought his eight-game streak to 16 hits in 31 trips to the plate for a .516 average. His over-all mark has rocketed 56 points to .331.

A graduate of Morehouse College, Clendenon worked this past winter in the office of the district attorney of Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) as a member of a special committee on juvenile delinquency.

The Pirates remain in last place, 1½ games behind the Mets.

Elsewhere in the NL, St. Louis defeated Los Angeles 6-4, Cincinnati stopped Houston 5-2 and Milwaukee edged San Francisco 4-3.

In the American League, New York trampled Cleveland 15-5, Detroit whipped Chicago 8-3 and Baltimore nipped Washington 2-1.

Spahn evened his record at 4-4 in the opener as Ed Kranepool drove in three runs with a two-run homer in the first and a fifth-inning triple. The loss for Bunning, now 3-4, was his first to the Mets after six victories.

Lary allowed only Ton Gonzalez' one-out single in the sixth for eight innings. But Gonzalez led off the ninth with a homer, and Richie Allen followed with a single. Frank McGraw then came on and saved Lary's first victory. Short, 4-5, gave up a three-run homer to Johnny Lewis in the four-run sixth.

The Pirates spotted the Cubs four runs, then tied the game in the fifth inning. Andre Rodgers ignited the four-run rally with a double, then scored the go-ahead run in the sixth after leading off with a single and drove in the final run with a single in the seventh.

The Cardinals won their seventh straight game as Julian Javier rapped three hits, scored three runs and drove in two. He broke a 3-3 tie by coming home on Claude Osteen's balk in the fifth and scored on Ron Perranoski's wild pitch in the seventh.

Joey Jay helped unbeaten Jim Maloney gain his fifth triumph for the Reds. Jay pitched the final two innings after Maloney's shoulder tightened. Five straight hits in the second inning drove Houston's Dave Giusti, 6-2, from the mound. Leo Cardenas knocked in two runs with a pair of singles.

Eddie Mathews' three-run homer powered the Braves to their victory. The blast came in the third inning off Bob Shaw. The Giants' Willie Mays took the day off until the ninth inning when he pinch hit and drew an intentional walk.

TWO BIG TROPHIES—Johnnie Goosby, Lincoln High School's girl track star, holds the two big trophies she won at the state meet. She placed first in the 50 yard dash and in the baseball throw to score 10 points and give Lincoln the state Class B title. The 10 points, of course, made her the high individual in the meet. The trophy at left is for the high point individual, and the other is the team title trophy.

Longhorns Slate Exhibition Games

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns, southwest Conference baseball champions, have scheduled two exhibition games prior to the College World Series at Omaha, Neb., June 7.

The games will be against the SMI Steelers of Seguin, a semi-pro team. The first game will be at Seguin June 1 and the second at Austin June 3.

The Longhorns won their 40th conference baseball title this year while compiling an 18-5 season record.

Golf Pro Stricken

WEST BOYLSTON, Mass. (AP) — Walter Cosgrove, 55, the golf pro at Green Hill municipal golf links in Worcester since 1929, collapsed and died Monday night during a sports award dinner.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Roger Ward, the U.S. Auto Club's all-time point leader who can't remember when he last failed to qualify for a championship race, is standing on the sidelines at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway for the first time in 15 years.

The 44-year-old Ward was the 34th-fastest qualifier when time trials for the 500-mile classic ended Sunday night. Only the top 33 cars will start the race.

"I can't remember the last time I failed to qualify for a champion race," Ward said dejectedly.

Ward, who makes his home in Indianapolis near the big 2½-mile speedway, has been a recognized "500" leader for most of his 14 seasons at the brickyard.

Many observers believe the record of his last six races here will be unbeatable — first in 1959 and 1962, two seconds, a third and a fourth.

Ward has an outside chance of making the race next Monday if another driver is unable to compete, but Ward said he wouldn't wish bad luck on anyone. "They earned it," he said, "and I didn't."

Bynum Sets HCJC Record In Hurdles

BIG SPRING — Although Howard County Junior College's crippled track team finished sixth in the National JC meet at Garden City, Kan., Harley Bynum of Snyder set an HCJC school record in the 330 yard intermediate hurdles.

Bynum had a time of 38.7 in preliminaries and then ran a 38.85 in the finals to finish fourth. He placed second in the 120 yard high hurdles with a time of 14.7. HCJC, with only a skeleton force at the meet, scored a total of 33½ points.

Redlegs Shut Out Midland Braves

The Snyder Redlegs shut out the Midland Braves, 2-0, Sunday afternoon.

Amarillo Cager Signs With Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The University of Texas announced Monday that it had received a signed letter of intent from Bill Bogan, 6 foot 4 inch Amarillo Tascosa basketball star.

Bogan, an all-district and all-city basketball player for two years, is also a three-year baseball letterman, with a 10-2 pitching record this year.

18 Texans Qualify In Nat'l Open

By The Associated Press

Eighteen players—nine at Houston, seven at Dallas and two at Odessa—qualified in National Open local qualifying rounds staged Monday.

The 18 will be in Dallas June 7 for the sectional qualifying round in attempt to make the field for the National Open in St. Louis June 17-20.

Mark Hopkins of Texas City paced the qualifers at the Lakeside Country Club in Houston. Others qualifying at Houston were Ralph Johnston of Garden City, N.Y., Buddy Weaver of Lake Jackson, Don Collett of Houston, Jim Grant of Weathersfield, Conn., Randy Petri of Houston, Bert Weaver of Beaumont, John Leach of Houston, and Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur.

Cassius, Liston Battle Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — In a television studio named the Central Maine Youth Center, heavyweight champion Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston will meet again tonight in a 15-round title fight which will be telecast live to millions in North America and Europe.

Reports that there may be an attempt on Clay's life by followers of the slain Black Nationalist leader Malcolm X have increased interest in this controversial return bout but failed to cause any noticeable stir at the ticket office.

There may be only 3,000 paying customers in the high school hockey rink when Clay, a 13-10 underdog, steps into the ring at 9:30 p.m., EST, to defend his crown against the man he dethroned in a controversial fight in Miami Beach 15 months ago.

But, through the magic of closed-circuit television and the Early Bird satellite, millions of fans will get a chance to see these two strapping fighters strive to answer the many questions people have been asking since the unbeaten Clay became champion on Feb. 25, 1964.

On that night, the brash young gladiator from Louisville, Ky., ascended to boxing's most prized throne when the formidable Liston, a prohibitive 7-1 favorite, quit on his stool after the sixth round of a strange contest.

At the end of the fourth round Clay, claiming he was "blinded" and unable to see, wanted to quit. At the end of the sixth, Liston, blood streaming from a wide and deep gash under his left eye, and complaining that his left shoulder was injured, yielded his title.

They were supposed to have met in Boston last November but an emergency hernia operation for Clay forced a postponement and then a dispute over the promotional background finally sent the fight out of Boston to this textile town of 40,000.

So, at last the two bitter rivals appear set to have it out in the ring in a town still surprised at getting boxing's greatest attraction.

At prices of $25 and $100, only 3,000 or so spectators may pay about $150,000 for the live bout, but the closed circuit telecast to 258 locations in North America, Mutual Broadcasting System's radio broadcast, the Early Bird transmission to Europe and other extras may make this a $5-million promotion.

Each fighter will collect in the neighborhood of $600,000 and up for a battle that few experts expect to go the limit.

Miss Gene Hagen of Alderwood Manor, Wash., was the fourth woman bowler to score a perfect (300) game this season. She averages 153.

Fancy Footwork Frequently Precedes Senate Decisions

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate moves in curious ways its duties to perform.

Case in point: the sudden head of steam it is building up for passage of a voting-rights bill — now that it has been debating the measure a month and three days.

This is the legislation President Johnson, Negro leaders, liberal organizations and labor chieftains urged be passed hurriedly when Johnson submitted it to Congress March 15. It got to the Senate floor April 22.

The Senate seldom attains a speed faster than the brisk trot of a weary horse heading for the barn and his supper of oats. It wasn't even up to that dizzy pace in considering a bill aimed at bringing a measure of peace to the embattled civil rights front.

But all at once senators looked up at the calendar and there it was — the shining prospect of a long Memorial Day holiday from Friday until Tuesday.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield have been dangling this prize in front of senators' eyes in their campaign to get action.

There have been some complications. To give Southern critics of the legislation an opportunity to tell the folks back home that they went down to defeat with colors flying before a numerically superior force, Dirksen and Mansfield filed a cloture petition to limit debate.

To curb the obviously dispirited talk the Southerners have carried on, a two-thirds majority of those voting is required. This is always a touch-and-go business because many senators don't want to vote to limit debate because they fear the same weapon may be used against them as part of some future minority.

Dirksen encountered some unusual difficulties. Three Republican senators he didn't name were willing to vote for cloture but they weren't willing to stay around later than Wednesday to vote on final passage of the bill. All three had out-of-town speeches scheduled, beginning Thursday.

To get the three to vote for cloture, Dirksen had to promise them that if there wasn't a showdown on the bill itself by Wednesday, final action would be postponed until June 1.

There was one small loophole. He might be able to "pair" the three for a Thursday vote. Ordinarily when a senator is not on hand for a roll call he can get a colleague on the opposing side who is present to withhold his vote. That is called a "live pair," by which both senators' positions are registered without counting in the roll-call result.

In this case, Dirksen would need to pair two absent supporters of the bill against one opponent, since two-thirds approval is needed to apply cloture.

If all of this sounds complicated, it is. But that, friends, is the way momentus decisions are reached in the Senate.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE ACROPOLIS

QUESTION: Why is the Acropolis in Athens so famous?

• • •

ANSWER: In ancient days, it was customary to build fortifications on high places, where arrows and other missiles could be rained down on attackers. The Greeks added the building of temples, dedicated to their gods, to this use of a high place. Often a city would grow around such a combined fortress and temple, and the word acropolis came to be used, because it was composed of the Greek words for highest and city.

Although there was more than one acropolis in Greece, we think today of the acropolis at Athens as THE acropolis. One of the reasons is that it is crowned by the matchless Parthenon, erected between 447 and 438 B.C. in honor of the patron goddess of Athens, Athena Parthenos. This structure is often called the world's most beautiful building. Under the shadow of the acropolis took place those gatherings of Greek citizens which led to a government they called democracy, meaning rule by the people. Although their democracy was not as complete as ours is today—slaves and women could not vote—we can feel grateful to the Athenian Greeks for a powerful impulse toward the ideas which are back of our own conception of living.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Read some more about the golden age of the Athenians. You may not agree with all the Greek ideas, yet you can hardly fail to see how great a heritage of thinking and culture the greeks left for us to use and to improve. 5/25

Viet War Boring For Lonely Men

By HAL BOYLE

HILL 327, South Viet Nam (AP) — They keep a lonely vigil on a hot and dusty hill for a meeting with the enemy that may never come.

They are the four officers and 87 enlisted men of a U.S. Marines Hawk missile battery.

They are learning the hard way that war more often is boring and monotonous than dangerous or exciting, and that the thing you do most in any war is simply to wait.

The job they have to do is to knock out of the sky with their ground-to-air missiles any enemy planes that threaten the huge Da Nang air base.

The men have great confidence in their weapon. In training for their present mission they found the Hawks effective in bringing down drone aircraft used as targets at their base on Okinawa.

"They'll knock the hell out of anything that can be sent against us over here," said the battery commander, Capt. Everett Cowley, 33, Quincy, Mass.

The battery, whose theme song is "On Top of Old Dusty," is emplaced on the flat peak of one of the highest hills in the Da Nang area. The road up itis one long river of hubcap-deep dust.

It isn't that way all year round, however. When the rainy season starts the road will become a river of mud.

The view from the top of Hill 327, where the long slender Hawk missiles nest in their launchers like poised hornets, is hauntingly beautiful. In one direction stretches the watery waste of the South China Sea over which white cloud towers float in slow and timeless majesty. Between the sea and the base of the hill lie the city of Da Nang and its vital air base.

In the other direction lie a valley and rugged hills from whose green hell Marine patrols are tortuously and painstakingly flushing the tenacious Viet Cong. The loveliness of the hills hides the menace of the ambushing enemy.

The battery's position conceivably is vulnerable to mortar attack. It is guarded by sandbags and barbed wire and a company of Marine infantrymen. But the missilemen themselves also pull sentry duty, man outpost holes, and pile up more sandbag barricades.

The heart of the battery is its small, well-hidden command central. The darkened room is air-conditioned not so much for the comfort of the men as to protect the radar and electronic equipment with which the missilemen keep a day and night watch of the sky.

I asked Capt. Cowley if his men had had many interesting experiences. He smiled wryly and said.

"Well, once we saw a king cobra snake, and in six weeks we have piled up 50,000 sandbags. This job isn't romantic — just scenic and necessary. We do feel that if the enemy does try to fly against us here we'll bring him down here."

Inaugural Gown's Designer Praised

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas senators adopted a resolution Monday praising John Moore, who designed Mrs. Lyndon Johnson's presidential inaugural gown, and Moore's parents of Alice, Tex.

The resolution, by Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr., Laredo, noted that Moore moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Moore from Oklahoma to Alice in 1940 and now is working in New York City.

The resolution also expressed thanks that Moore has donated to the Presidential Room Museum in Odessa an exact miniature replica of Mrs. Johnson's inaugural gown.

The Smithsonian Institute will receive the original gown.

Academy Now Keeps Exams Locked Away

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Air Force Academy instructors now keep examinations in locked safes until they are ready to test cadets, officials said today.

This appears to be the chief way in which security at the academy has been tightened in the wake of a cheating scandal which led to the resignation of 109 cadets earlier this year.

The cadet wing of about 2,500 has not been subjected to any special surveillance, it was indicated.

Officers on the faculty said in interviews that while there can be no ironclad assurance that some cheating will not recur, they believe the cadets themselves will try to make certain scandal never again is brought to the 11-year-old service academy.

An investigation of nearly two years of cheating showed that ringleaders found ways to penetrate offices in the academic building and steal advance copies of examinations. These exams then were sold to other cadets for up to $25.

Officials said instructors formerly kept advance copies of examinations in their desks but that exams now are stored in safes.

Any substantive changes in administration of the academy apparently await specific instructions from Washington and a new command due to be installed July 1.

Maj. Gen. Robert H. Warren is being replaced as superintendent, after completing a 3-year term, by Lt. Gen. Thomas S. Moorman.

A special five-man committee investigating the cheating scandal submitted its report to Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert May 6.

The report was critical of the administration and staff of the academy but recommended no revolutionary changes in method. It held that the controversial honor code should be retained, although perhaps in an altered form.

Oilman Says He Owns Famed Guns

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A Colorado oilman says he is the lawful owner of the scope-sight rifle used in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas.

John J. King, oilman and gun collector from nearby Englewood, filed suit in federal district court here Monday in an attempt to get the rifle, along with a .38 caliber pistol used to kill Dallas policeman J. D. Tippit.

King said in his petition that he purchased the rifle and pistol from the estate of Lee Harvey Oswald, the presidential assassin, last New Year's eve.

The sale was carried out through an unidentified Dallas agent, King said.

The petition alleged that the weapons are in possession of the U.S. Attorney General and that Atty Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach refuses to give them up.

King said the weapons were purchased strictly for his private collection, not for exhibition. He valued the guns in excess of $10,000.

Last March an attorney for Marina Oswald, widow of the assassin, disclosed that a $10,000 bid had been received for the death guns.

US Solons Apt To Push Adoption Of Metric System

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housewives, start thinking of butter at so much a kilogram and dress goods at so much a meter.

Husbands, try to picture vital dimensions of 91-66-91.

This advice comes from Chairman George P. Miller of the House Committee on Science and Astronautics.

The California Democrat is one American who reacted with absolute delight to Britain's announcement that gradually it will institute the metric system of weights and measures.

"This passes our bill," Miller exulted to a reporter.

Like some others in Congress, Miller has been calling for years for a study by the National Bureau of Standards of the problems that would be involved in putting the United States on the metric system. They say use of the metric system would make it easier to relate U.S. technology to that of other nations.

So far the bill has moved hardly a millimeter in the face of opposition by members who don't think the results of such a study would be worth its cost, estimated by Miller at $200,000 to $500,000.

"When Britain goes through with this, we will be absolutely alone with our complicated, outdated system of measurements," Miller said. "Our competitive position will be horrible. Have you noticed that our food package labels already carry a line giving the contents in grams?"

Miller, a spry 74, said he would waste no time pushing for the study that could lead to the substitution of meters, kilograms and liters for feet, pounds and quarts.

US Cancels Order For Cartwheels

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has reversed itself and decided against issuing 45 million silver dollars.

The decision announced Monday night came just as the first silver dollars in more than 30 years were set to roll from the Denver Mint.

The Treasury is reluctant to mint silver dollars because both silver and minting facilities are needed to meet a continuing shortage of other coins and because government supplies of silver are running short.

President Johnson announced May 15 that substantial progress had been made in reducing the coin shortage and that he therefore was ordering minting of the cartwheels authorized last year by Congress.

In reversing this decision, the Treasury said the go-ahead order was given on the assumption that it was the intent of Congress. Since May 15, the Treasury said, members of key congressional committees have asked that the order be held up.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, said seven members of a House Appropriations subcommittee agreed that the coins should not be produced.

A Treasury report due shortly is expected to recommend reduction or even elimination of the silver content of dimes, quarters and half dollars to conserve the government's dwindling stocks.

Present supply is 1.03 billion ounces — enough for more than three years at present rates of coinage. The proposed 45 million silver dollars would have consumed 38 million ounces.

Hundreds of millions of silver dollars have been issued over the years, but most have disappeared from circulation. They are popular in some Western states, but the great majority is in the hands of dealers, collectors and speculators.

The administration last year supported the silver coinage bill. It was strongly favored by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who represents the silver-producing state of Montana and was up for re-election.

Mrs. Marcus Pleads Case To Judge

NEW YORK (AP) — Five hours of closed-door testimony in family court Monday failed to gain support for the wife of Richard C. Marcus, son of department store partner Stanley Marcus of Dallas.

After listening to the 27-year-old brunnette's pleas, Judge George A. Timone put off a ruling.

The attractive Mrs. Marcus told newsmen outside the courtroom that her 28-year-old husband—a buyer for the Dallas-based Neiman-Marcus specialty stores—left her with only $800 last August.

Her support action specified no sum. Young Marcus was not at the hearing.

Timone also reserved decision on motions by Mrs. Marcus' attorney that $1,000 bond posted by Marcus be forfeited and that he be cited for contempt for failing to appear.

Mrs. Marcus told newsmen she believed her husband is in Dallas. She said he makes monthly trips to New York.

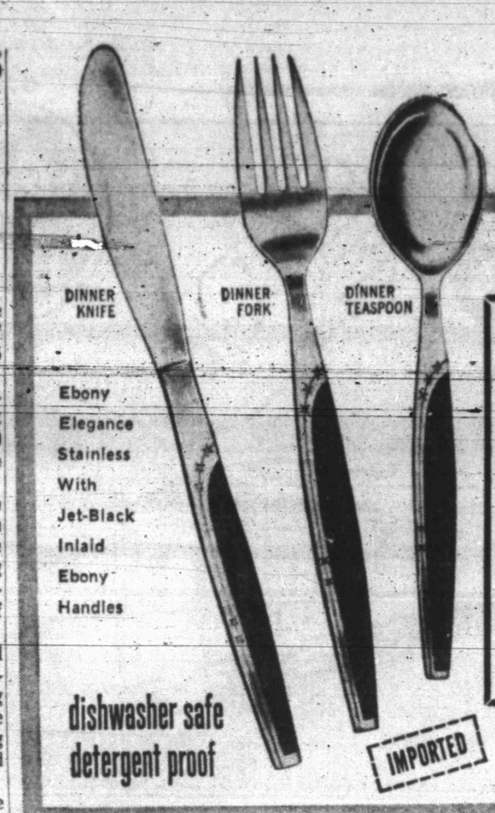
Mrs. Marcus said she was forced to return to work and take in a roommate to help pay for her $250 a month, seven-room apartment in Manhattan.

A native of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., she said she married Marcus three years ago.

Vasallo said a divorce action has been filed against Richard Marcus in New York Supreme Court.

Mrs. Marcus was greeted in court by two process servers. One handed her a subpoena for an appearance in a Texas court in connection with a suit for divorce filed by her husband.

The other gave her a summons to appear in New York Civil Court on a complaint of the Lord and Taylor Department Store, which claims she owes them $760.29 for purchases between last Sept. 1 and Nov. 30.



Effective Dates: May 25 and 26, 1965.

Chinese Military To Eliminate Insignia

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced today it is taking all visible marks of rank off the members of its armed forces, police and militia.

Elimination of insignia of rank would permit the Chinese to merge less conspicuously with the Communist Viet Cong in Viet Nam. The latter wear no badges of rank.

The announcement was taken in Tokyo as a further step to put Red China on a war footing because of the war in Viet Nam.

INSURE WHAT YOU HAVE

If you've heard that GAS central air is out of your reach, don't believe it!

Get the facts.
Call Lone Star Gas for a free estimate!

Don't be fooled by "horseback estimates" on costs! Get a bona fide air conditioning price from Lone Star Gas and compare with the price of the same size electric unit. You'll find the little extra per month to buy a gas unit buys you a lot more air conditioning over the years.

There are two types of gas systems for homes: a combination cooling and heating system and an add-on cooling system.

LOW DOWN PAYMENT, AS LITTLE AS $25/MO. FOR 2.8-TON UNIT

This new gas unit for medium-size homes both cools and heats . . . puts the world's finest year-around air conditioning in reach of everyone.

HOW GAS UNITS CAN LAST TWICE AS LONG AS ELECTRIC

Gas cooling for homes has no compressor. A simple gas flame is the heart of the cooling cycle — with few moving parts to wear or need repair. No wonder the life-expectancy of gas air conditioning is double that of compressor types!

IF YOU HAVE CENTRAL GAS HEAT, IT IS LIKELY YOU CAN USE THE SAME DUCTS FOR GAS COOLING

You may have half of a gas central air conditioning system installed in your home! Just add the gas cooling system (takes up no extra floor space) and start enjoying year-around gas comfort and economy!

GAS ECONOMY PAYS OFF YEAR AFTER YEAR AFTER YEAR

You save in operating efficiency, low maintenance, amazingly long service. The combined heating and cooling costs with gas average about 15% lower than for electric heating and cooling. Add to that the savings in maintenance and replacements and you'll see why gas is your best home air conditioning investment.
