Golf Club Elects Officers In New Organization Plan

Reagan, President, Morrison, Secretary; Committees Appointed

Nine Hole Course

Ross Reagan, city manager, was elected president of the Burk Burnett Golf club in the reorganization meeting at the city hall Monday night.

After the election, committees were selected to represent the organization in various activities in the establishment of the plans.

The committee selected included: G. V. Evans, Jack Brumley, chairman; Bob Browning, Cliff Cannon, Henry Porter, Rex Koller, Herbert Kiesling; Membership, F. A. Jamieson, Al Rosedale, D. R. Peevey, C. J. Morrison, B. F. Gilchrist; Constitution and by-laws, Ross Reagan, Neal Hall.

Dr. C. J. Morrison, local dentist, announced Saturday morning that a golf course was practically assured Burk Burnett at the site of the old Hillcrest club.

For several years local golfers have had to visit other cities when they wished to play, and the committee met informally to start the organization this week.

The club will be called the "Burk Burnett Community Golf Club."

Piedmont Umpire

NEELEY VAUGHT

Neeley Vaught To Umpire Piedmont League This Year

Popular Local Business Man Changes Hobby Into Profession

Former Postmaster

Neeley Vaught, formerly popular umpire of local baseball and softball enterprise, has accepted a position with the class B Piedmont league on the Atlantic coast.

Mr. Vaught umpired in the East Texas League, a class C combination last year. The acceptance of the professional contract is the process of changing a hobby into a profession.

The teams in the league are Richmond, Norfolk, and Portsmouth, Virginia, Rocky Mount, Durham, Winston, Salem, Charlotte, and Asheville, North Carolina.

In addition to his umpiring in tournaments in the amateur and semi-pro groups, Mr. Vaught was official emergency and relief umpire for the Texas league as long as the club was in Wichita Falls.

He is an old timer in Burk Burnett. He came here in 1919 as a clerk at the Farmers State Bank. Since that time he has been well known in the district.

Locally the reactions from the approval was being watched with keen interest. Local oil company and union officials refused to make comment this week.

The case of four Burk Burnett union members was definitely touched by the decision. These members have had a review before NLRB and the exact course that they will follow depends on the advice of the board.

Quarterly Luncheon To Be Held Monday April 26 At Park

H. D. Smith Elected Director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce

Oil Development Investigated

The quarterly luncheon of the chamber of commerce will be in the form of a barbeque held at the city park Monday night, April 26, according to plans made at the meeting of the board of directors Monday night.

The committee for arrangements is Oscar Kemp, Charles Boyd, and Harold Van Loh. The tickets committee is B. F. Gilchrist, W. R. Hill, H. W. Prinzing, Roy Jackson, Jack Brumley, and W. T. Holman.

A committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of deep oil development. The committee included H. S. Grace, Henry Pearlman, A. R. Hill, Oscar Kemp, D. R. Peevey, and H. D. Smith.

July 5 was selected as the date for Burk Burnett day at the Pan-American, and the committee selected to make arrangements for a local delegation included A. B. Sandler, L. N. Peyton, and B. F. Gilchrist.

Burlesque Bathing Review At Palace Theatre Fri. Nite

Most Humorous Program Of Year To Be Presented By Service Clubs

Crowd Expected

The most humorous show of the year will be presented at the Palace theatre Friday night when the Lions and the Rotary club give the burlesque bathing review for the benefit of the underprivileged school children of the city.

The master of ceremonies will be Leonard Mattingly, president of the chamber of commerce and member of the Lions club. The entries have been selected, and they will appear in a brilliant set of costumes including evening gowns, special spring bathing suits of the most advanced style.

In addition to the burlesque, the coins for the 30 anniversary will be auctioned at the show. To the highest bidder the first coin of the celebration and other coins will be sold at the show.

Former Residents Of Burk To Speak At Birthday Meet

Rev. J. L. H. Hawkins, Baptist Pioneer Minister To Feature Program

Shepherd To Sing

Rev. J. L. H. Hawkins, one of Burk Burnett's first residents and pioneer Baptist minister, will be the feature speaker at the 30 anniversary birthday party to be held June 18-19.

Other prominent Burk Burnett ex-residents will appear on the same program. Walter Clines, one of the most widely known ex-Burkburnett citizens in the state will appear for a short address.

R. E. Shephert the "Singing Mayor", one of Texas' greatest song leaders will lead a short sing song for the opening of the meeting. Shepherd was formerly a resident of Burk Burnett and moved to Wichita Falls from here.

Billy Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Walker, will be the only representative of Burk Burnett to enter the regional contests of the Texas Interscholastic meet.

The local contestant won honors to represent the district by carrying away first place honors at the district meet in Wichita Falls last Friday in Senior declamation. He entered the district by a victory in local elimination series and first place in the county tournament at Iowa Park.

Rookies Humble Mighty Bottlers

Riley Patterson's Rookies of the Criss Pipe and Supply company humbled the vaunted Coca Cola team from Wichita Falls on the Burk Burnett diamond Sunday afternoon 6 to 5.

The Wichita crew had the game on the ice 5 to 4 in the last inning, but Gore went wild and the local lads scored the winning tally.

Scientists meeting in Philadelphia, argue whether man first came to America 5,000 or 4,000 years ago. More important perhaps, is the question of whether he should have come here at all.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Senate Condemns Sitdown Strike but Spares President; Henry Ford Defies Lewis; Governor Benson Incurs Censure of Minnesota Senate.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

IN ORDER to get the Guffey coal control bill through the senate without an amendment condemning the sitdown strike, Majority Leader Joe Robinson promised to permit consideration of a resolution carrying similar condemnation, but when it was presented and adopted, by a vote of 75 to 3, it was not a joint resolution, which would require the signature of the President. That was what Senator McNary and others wanted, but Robinson said it must be concurrent, because he would not put Mr. Roosevelt in the position of having to indicate his position on the sitdown strike by either signing or vetoing the measure.

Sen. Robinson

MOVING back again to the West, we find Elmer A. Benson, Farmer-Labor governor of Minnesota, involved in labor troubles that might conceivably result in his impeachment. About 200 members of the "people's lobby" staged a sitdown in the senate chamber at St. Paul for the purpose of enforcing their demands for immediate action on the governor's relief plan. Benson had previously spoken to the crowd, telling them "It is all right to be a little rough once in a while" in dealing with the legislature, and the lawmakers were exceedingly resentful. The governor, after one day and night, persuaded the demonstrators to leave, telling them they had done a good job.

Gov. Benson

Besides declaring the sitdown strike "illegal and contrary to sound public policy" the resolution as adopted took a double slap at the employers by also declaring: "That the so-called industrial spy system breeds fear, suspicion and animosity, tends to cause strikes and industrial warfare and is contrary to sound public policy; and "That it is likewise contrary to sound public policy for any employer to deny the right of collective bargaining, to foster the company union or to engage in any other unfair labor practice as defined in the national labor relations act."

HENRY FORD returned from Detroit to his winter residence at Ways, Ga., and there announced that the Ford Motor company "never will recognize" the United Automobile Workers of America or any other union. "We'll deal with individual workers," he said. Ford said that any of his men who struck would be "let out" of the particular plant with regrets "because we know the men are simply being duped and coerced by the strike leaders." "We won't hold any grudge against them and will be willing to hire them back," he added. He said public officials were charged with protecting citizens from such disorders as sitdown strikes.

Those who seize property not their own are in the same category as housebreakers," Ford said. John L. Lewis in reply told a union meeting in Detroit that he had no doubt Ford will continue to deal with individual employees "as long as his employees permit him to follow that policy and no longer." And the C. I. O. chief added ominously: "I have no doubt Henry Ford will change his mind on this subject."

The strike in the Ford plant in Kansas City came to an end and the members of the United Automobile Workers were boasting of gaining a victory over the imperious Henry. But the advantage they won was slight and temporary, and the battle with Ford is set to be fought.

The thirty-day strike of the Chrysler company employees came to an end when W. P. Chrysler and John Lewis reached an agreement under persuasion of Governor Murphy. The company agreed to recognize the U. A. W. A. as the bargaining agency for its members, and the union pledged that it would call no sitdown strikes nor permit its members to engage in any in Chrysler plants for the duration of the compact, which extends to March 3, 1938.

The strike of Reo company men was settled on approximately the same terms, and Governor Murphy then turned his attention to the Hudson company strike. The C. I. O. invaded Canada by calling out 3,700 workers in the plants of the General Motors company of Canada at Oshawa, Ont. But it was the old-fashioned kind of strike, with picketing, and the union pledged there would be no violence.

THREE hundred sitdown strikers at the plant of the Hershey Chocolate corporation at Hershey, Pa., were overwhelmed and driven out by a mob of thousands of irate farmers and loyal workers of the company. The farmers were enraged because the strike had cut off their market for $10,000 worth of milk daily. They and the non-strikers were armed with clubs and bricks and the strikers were treated roughly. Gov. George H. Earle of Pennsylvania ordered an investigation and declared formally: "The bloodshed at the Hershey plant was a disgrace to the commonwealth. The blame lies directly on the sheriff of the county, who said he did not need the assistance of the state police to maintain order. Precedent decrees that local authorities must ask the state's assistance before it intervenes. "The state police will not be used to suppress union labor. Neither are they interested in the sitdown problem. They will prevent mob rule. Apparently the sheriff was not an unbiased law enforcement officer in this case."

On regaining possession of its chamber, the senate put through a resolution condemning the governor for "inciting people to riot" and failing to perform his lawful duties to "quell and quiet the mob." While there was no serious talk of impeachment, the report was current that the senate resolution was drafted deliberately as a possible basis for such action.

BITUMINOUS coal miners were on strike only one day, for the new wage scale, providing an $35,000,000 increase of pay for the 430,000 men, was signed by representatives of the operators and the United Mine Workers of America. Of course the consumer will have to pay for this wage boost. Charles O'Neill, president of the United Eastern Coal Sales corporation and chairman of the operators' delegation at the conference, said the cost of bituminous coal at the mine would go up at least 25 cents a ton. The miners won a raise of 50 cents a day, but lost their demand for a 30-hour week. The 35-hour week, or 7 hours a day and 5 days a week, which was in effect under the old contract, will remain. Also the men failed to get two weeks' vacation with pay and a guaranty of 20 days of work a year.

THERE is going to be a lively three-cornered struggle in the southwestern oil fields. The C. I. O., whose plans in that direction were mentioned in this column not long ago, has begun the campaign to organize the workers in the Texas field. Harvey C. Framming, of Washington, president of the International Association of Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers and close friend of John Lewis, is in charge of the operations. A rival movement for members and prestige will be started, in a few days by the A. F. of L.

Gov. James V. Alfred of Texas has given notice that he will use "every resource" against sit-down strikes, which he declares are unlawful and un-American. He added: "My investigation convinces me that sit-down strike organizers have invaded Texas. Sit-down methods do not represent the desires of an overwhelming majority of organized labor in this state."

TRANS-ATLANTIC air service between the United States and Great Britain may be expected to start almost immediately, for the last obstacle in its way was removed by an agreement with Canada concerning routes through the Dominion.

Assistant Secretary of Commerce J. Monroe Johnson announced that two routes through Canada had been made available for trans-Atlantic flying craft that will make a total of four trips a week. One route is by way of Shediac, N. B., and the other through Montreal. The hop-off point for eastward flights over the ocean would be from Bottwood, N. F., which also would be landfall on the westward flights. Johnson said that under the agreement British and United States planes would make two crossings a piece weekly.

SENATOR JAMES HAMILTON LEWIS of Illinois told the senate that he believes the time has come for President Roosevelt to call an international peace conference that would revise the treaty of Versailles. He said the object of the conference would be to reach a "new disposition that might content the nations that are now in revolt and which continue in conflict because of the affront and injury they feel was worked upon them under the terms of the treaty." The senator asserted the popularity of Mr. Roosevelt abroad would lend much to the success of such a conference.

THAT France and Russia are flagrantly violating the Spanish civil war neutrality agreement by sending aid to the Madrid government is the charge flatly made by Virginio Gayda, Italian editor who is generally regarded as voicing the views of Premier Mussolini. The charges are so serious that many observers believe they mean Italy may soon break away from the agreement and openly go to the assistance of the Franco regime.

Gayda said 25 officers of the French general staff were mapping the strategy of the loyalists especially on the front northeast of Madrid, and that transshipment had been permitted through France of much war material made in the United States. He alleged that Edouard Daladier, French minister of war, is receiving reports on the performance of the new 155 millimeter (6.1 inch) French guns sent to Spain and used extensively in the Guadaluajara battle.

The Spanish steamer Mar Negro, Gayda declared, was en route to Valencia from Odessa, Russia, with a cargo of munitions of war for the Spanish government.

THE house of representatives passed, 177 to 14, a measure, admittedly experimental, designed to speed Supreme court decisions on the constitutionality of acts of congress. It embraces one of the phases of the President's court program. The bill provides that whenever the constitutionality of an act of congress is drawn in question in any suit in a federal court, the attorney general is permitted to appear and present arguments on behalf of the government. The attorney general is given the same rights as a party in the suit.

PERSISTENT search in the mountains of northern Arizona revealed the wreck of the skyliner that had been missing several days; and in the wreckage were the corpses of the eight occupants, six of them burned beyond recognition. The plane had been sold and was being taken from Burbank, Calif., to New York. It had smashed against the side of a mountain, the cause of the disaster being unknown.

PRICES of government bonds have been declining in a disturbing manner, and the administration decided to do something to check the slump. The open market committee of the federal reserve system discussed the matter all one day, and next day President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and Chairman Eccles of the reserve board held a long conference. The result was this announcement: "With a view (1) to exerting its influence toward orderly conditions in the money market and (2) to facilitating the orderly adjustment of member banks to the increased reserve requirements effective May 1, 1937, the open market committee of the federal reserve system is prepared to make open market purchases of government securities for the account of federal reserve banks in such amounts and at such times as may be desirable."

The security and commodity markets were given a rather severe jolt by the President when he told the correspondents that prices of durable goods, especially steel and copper, were too high and that it was time for a shift in federal expenditure from them so as to spread the national income more evenly.

PROCLAIMED by the President, congress and all governors, Army day was celebrated throughout the nation on April 6, the twentieth anniversary of America's entrance into the World war. The keynote of Army day, according to Rear Admiral Reginald R. Belknap, U. S. N. retired, general chairman of the day, is "peace through preparedness."

"We who have seen the terrible destruction wrought by war want to do all in our power to avoid another war," he said. "The best way to do this, we believe, is by having a strong, well-trained, well-equipped army and navy. So strengthened, an aggressor nation will think twice before trying to draw us into war." The best way to achieve this preparedness, he added, is by carrying out the provisions of the National Defense act of 1923.

THAT Florida ship canal project, which would cut the state in two, has come to the fore again and probably will have to be fought out once more in congress. Two reports on the matter have just been filed. One, from Maj. Gen. Edward M. Markham, chief of engineers of the army, says the federal government would be justified in completing the project at a cost of $197,921,000. The other, from the river and harbor board, says the canal is economically unsound.

Neither report was made public at once, but the War department said General Markham recommended an Atlantic-Gulf waterway 22 feet deep and 400 feet wide.

MAKES MEDICAL FIND

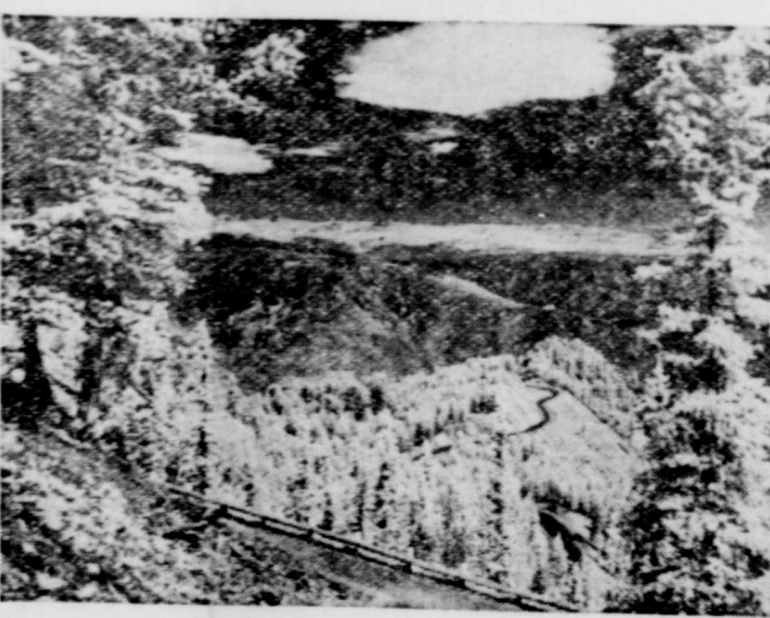

Dr. Harry Goldblatt, associate director of the institute of pathology of Western Reserve university in Cleveland, whose recent discovery of the cause of high blood pressure may prove the most significant in modern medical history. High blood pressure, or hypertension, as medical men call it, is the world's chief cause of death. He discovered that it is caused by an insufficiency of blood in the kidneys.

Badminton Stars in Title Meet

Badminton made its debut as a big-time American sport when players from all parts of the country met in Chicago for the first national championship tournament. The popularity of the game among women was indicated by the large number of feminine entries. Among skilled competitors were, left to right: Helen De Feyster, New York city; Patience Radford, Boston; Naval High, Chicago; Zoe Smith of Seattle.

Paint all day and mop all night is the rigorous schedule these youths follow. They are students at the Chicago Art Institute and work their way through art school by doing janitor work in the institute after their day in class.

What S. Cobb Thinks about

The Origin of Sitdowns. SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—With the Barnum show there once was an elderly lady elephant named Helen. Now, Helen had wearied of traipsing to and fro in the land. Probably she figured she'd do everything anyhow. So each time when the season ended, she went rejoicing back home to Bridgeport, Conn.

Nobody ever knew the date of departure the next spring. There was no more bustle about winter quarters on that morning than for weeks past. But always, when the handlers entered the "bull barn" to lead the herd, they found Helen huddled down on her voluminous haunches, which, under that weight, spread out like cake bases on a hot griddle. She would utter shrill sobs of defiance, neither prodding nor honeyed words could budge her.

So please don't come telling me that the sit-down strike is a notion or that somebody in Europe first thought it up. Thirty years ago I saw my lady elephant fried, broken, put on one, all by her fat self.

Taxes and More Taxes. JUST when everybody is taking comfort from the jaded promises of that happy optimist, Chairman Harrison of the senate finance committee, that the government will be able to get by for 1937 without asking this congress to boost taxes, what happens? Why, in a most annoying way Governor Eccles of the federal reserve board keeps proclaiming that to make treasury receipts come anywhere near meeting treasury disbursements throughout the year he's afraid it's going to be necessary to raise the rates on income and profits higher than ever.

And meanwhile state governments and civic authorities scream with agony at the bare prospect of reductions in Uncle Sam's allowances for local projects. A balanced budget would seem to be like Santa Claus, something everybody talks about but nobody ever expects to see.

Self-Determination. FORMERLY the states jealously guarded their sovereign prerogatives. Once—but that was a long ago many have almost forgotten it—they fought among themselves one of the bloodiest wars in history over the issue of states' rights.

Now we see them complacently surrendering to federal bureaus those ancient privileges—and may be, after all, that's the proper thing to do, if in centralized authority be the hope of preserving a republican form of government. Still, one wonders what Englishmen would do under like circumstances, since Englishmen are fast about their inheritance of self-determination. Perhaps the distinction is this:

In democracies there exists a false theory that all men are born free and equal. So the Englishman insists on having his freedom, which is a concrete thing, and laughs at the idea of equality. Whereas, the American abandons his individual freedom provided he may cling to the fetish of equality.

Yankee tweedledee and British tweedledee may be brothers under the skin, but they have different skin diseases. The Parole Racket. IT IS astonishing but seemingly true that, of five young gamblers recently caught red-handed in a criminal operation, not a single one was a convict out on parole. There no way to bar rank amateurs from a profession calling for professional experience and proper background. And can it be that the various parole boards over the union are turning loose qualified practitioners fast enough to keep up with the demand? Maybe we need self-opening jails.

Those sentimentalists who advocate the idea that a chronic offender required to serve out his latest sentence should take steps right away to correct this thing before it gets too far. Our parole system may be vindicated if it costs the lives and property of ten times as many innocent citizens as at present. IRVIN S. COBB. ©—WNU Service.

BURKBURNETT, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1937

MY CARIBBEAN TRIP (Continued from Last Week)

large stopped at the beach, and those who wished to do so took a dip in the Caribbean. We collected many pretty shells and everything was perfect, except for the sand and flies, which really do sting. The barge and the train took us back once more to the Cayals and we left our last port of call, bound for New Orleans.

The night before the ship docks is always the occasion of the Captain's dinner and masquerade. Agala time was had by all, and prizes were given for the best costumes, most of which were made from crepe paper.

Monday morning we were back in the U. S. A. and after customs inspection our trip was really at an end. So much had been crowded into a short time that we hardly believed that the cruise had lasted only twelve days. It was with real regret that we said goodbye to our shipboard acquaintances whom we would probably never see again.

JUNIOR JOTTINGS

Once again the Junior class is to send a representative to regional meet at Denton; this year it is Billy Walker in declamation. He along with Pauline Duncan, and Miss Tanner, will leave Thursday afternoon so that Billy may speak sometime Friday April 23.

We Juniors are really proud of Billy and we wish him all the luck in the world and about a gallon from the moon.

Last year the representative that went to district, regional and state meets and came back with this carefully compiled list of things she had learned. For Billy's benefit we will print them.

(1) I am a very poor speaker. (No reference to Billy)

(2) I can do things much better if I'm ill.

(3) A big orange "B" on a black sweater makes one feel homesick in a strange town.

(4) Seniors aren't as intelligent as they would have one think.

(5) Cold drinks aren't good when they are hot.

(6) The first of a trip is never very congenial.

(7) It pays to take teasing with a sarcastic smile.

(8) I can't dance.

(9) Too much Mexican food is repulsive to one's gastronomic organs.

(10) I should choose homey essay subjects.

(11) These things Mexican women wear around their heads are called rebosas.

(12) The most beautiful spot in Texas is the Sunken Garden.

(13) The Alamo isn't as interesting inside as I thought.

(14) It is very nice to relax on the stone seat on the Alamo Plaza at night.

(15) The trees behind the Alamo are pretty and yellow in the spring.

(16) I can't write essays very well when I'm having a good time; it is best for me to worry like everything about something.

Of course the Seniors are better than we are, but will someone please remind them that a certain very great man once said, "By their fruits ye shall know them."

We Juniors are making excellent plans for the banquet. We have not let the recent class war interfere with our ambitions for a swell banquet. If anything the war has only served to make us want to show the Seniors up by giving them a banquet better than the excellent one they gave the Seniors of '36. (Aren't we horrible? Giving the best banquet of recent years just for spite.) According to the present plans the banquet will be held May 14.

Barbara Crissey, another of our Juniors, is making steps in the direction of the Ladder of Success. She isn't off the ground as yet, but no telling when she'll go up, for it was only Monday when she had an audition before the Cascade of America talent committee in Dallas.

News From The Agriculture Department

Last Friday the F. F. A. boys went on a picnic at the Prescott park. There was plenty to eat and everyone ate plenty. The boys played baseball until the F. F. A. boys, who are members of the football team, finished their evening practice and came out to the park. Mr. Volney Hill brought the football boys out to the picnic after their practice and this was one picnic that coach went on that he had plenty to eat.

The F. F. A. boys had planned to visit the National Forest Reserve in the Wichita Mountains last Friday and Saturday but the trip was postponed until the latter part of April until the weather conditions are favorable.

The Vocational Agriculture Meet this year is to be held at the College Station of Texas at A and M. This is a state wide contest for Vocational Agriculture students in Texas and is held every year on April 12 and lasts three days. Four teams from Burk Burnett are entering in different contests. The teams are "Wild Life Identification" team, "Poultry Judging" team, "Dairy Judging" team and the "Entomology" team. These teams are working very hard and they are planning to bring back more honors from this state contest. The competition of this state meet is plenty tough and the local boys realizing that in order to win they must be in excellent condition. There will be approximately 500 teams in this contest. The local boys are planning to leave Sunday, April 18, and arrive at College Station Sunday night. They will be back about Wednesday. These teams have been working very hard for the last two months in preparing for this contest.

The F. F. A. boys who are not going to enter the contest are going to be waiting anxiously for the results about Wednesday because they know how hard their fellow students have worked to bring back honors.

The purpose of studying Entomology is not to win honors only, but to gain experience in the different kinds of damaging insects, their control, etc. Wild life is an extremely interesting subject. In this study you learn all about wild life such as birds, flowers, and animals. For one who's intention is to be a lone star farmer, this is the first step in his career. Dairy Cows and poultry are the most important things on a farm and it is extremely helpful to know good cows from bad cows, good chickens from bad chickens, and to feed them in order to receive the most products of excellent quality. These are just a few items under the main subjects in order to qualify for a position on one of the teams.

-The Staff-

Christine Millikin is the editor-in chief and is the dependable blonde on our staff. Her main interest in school are centered on typing (in which she won second place at County meet), Home Economics Club, Dramatic Club and secretary of the Senior Class. She has made a good editor and is seldom seen without Mary Emma or Mary Louise.

Mary Louise Kelly is the associate editor and does everything that Chris doesn't toward her position on the staff. She is a member of the Dramatic Club, Vice-president of Home Eco. Club, General Flunky of Senior Class and she plays the part of Lilla Wilson in the Senior play. She also is very dependable.

Luther Lee Grace, News editor, is a senior and is better known as "Luke". He is a member of the Dramatic Club and plays the part of Donarid Swift, Letty Lythe's fiancée and manager, in the Senior play. During basketball season he was our star reporter. Also in the past few years he has taken part in various sports but has not been able to do so this year on account of injuries.

Minnie Jo Martin, news editor, is a quite and demure Senior. She sees that the Spanish Club and all Spanish news are well represented in the paper. Her ambition is to be a business woman. She plans to attend Draughon's Business school at Wichita Falls. Her best friend is Stella Davis.

Pauline Browning, sports editor, was responsible for the reports of volleyball during that season. She is president of the Junior Class, member of the Dramatic Club and represented us in Senior Girls Declamation at County Meet, winning second place. Pauline played an important role in the Junior play, and is very popular among her fellow classmates.

Fred McPherson, sport editor, is a senior and one of the football heroes of the past season. All of the football games were written by Fred and he certainly did justice to them. Fred also played basketball. His interests around sports and he likes to write about them.

Melba Clark is a feature editor of the staff. She is a Junior and secretary of the Junior Class. She played the part of Mrs. Mudge in the Junior play. She plays tennis and entered county meet this year for Junior doubles. Melba takes part in both social and sport events of the school.

Mary Emma Hodges, feature editor, is an active member of the Junior Class. She is also responsible for the Grade School News. One of her favorite articles is "Have You Heard," perhaps you have noticed it before. She played the part of Mrs. Up-Dike in the Junior play. Mary Emma represented the school in Junior doubles in tennis. Although she didn't win first, she is determined to bring home a blue ribbon for Senior Singles next year.

Barbara Crissey is society editor of the staff. She has a grand voice and has sung at many social and civic affairs in this city and Wichita Falls. Barbara played the lead in the Junior play. She belongs to the Dramatics Club and is also talented in expression.

Margaret Turner is the other society editor. She is another blonde in the Senior class. She also contributes good editorials to the paper. One of her favorite subjects is speech. Margaret plays Sally Otis in the Senior play. She chums with Grace Preston.

Polly Hall is the poet of the staff. At poetry writing and essay too, she is very commendable. She won second place in county meet on her essay writing. Polly writes stories. Polly is rather intelligent and will probably get somewhere in the outside world. She is the Junior reporter and her column is headed "Junior Jottings."

Grace Preston, Grace to you, is co-president of the Senior class. She writes the biographies of each member and usually disposes their secrets. She is also a member of the Dramatics Club and intends to major in speech in college. She plays the important role of Mrs. Simmons in the Senior play. She is always around when a laugh is needed (no offense). We mean she's the life of the party.

Billy Walker, one of the recent additions to the staff, is a Junior. He has been responsible for many of our good editorials. Billy takes an active part in all school activity and represented us in County, District, and Regional meet in Declamation. He is a member of the Dramatic Club and played one of the leading roles in the Junior play.

Tempa Davis is a reporter for the staff and is an active worker. She is a faithful Senior and works in the library. Her favorite articles are office and library news. She is liked by everyone and studies all her subjects. She is seldom seen without Marvella.

Marvella Elliott, reporter, is one of the hard workers on the staff. She is a Senior and works in the library. Marvella also writes poetry and has a grand personality for such work. She writes editorials for the paper.

Tommy Harms supplies half of the jokes. He is co-president of the Senior class and plays the part of Chester Benny in the Senior class play. Tommy is a member of the Dramatics Club and has other interests such as working, cutting up in English class, and studying.

Billy Ashlock also helps furnish jokes. He is well liked by everyone. Billy plays the part of Mr. Simmons in the Senior play. He is dependable and will help a person in need if asked in the right manner. His ambition is to become a great doctor.

Jaunita McKenzie, typist, is a Senior and considered the most beautiful blond in the Senior class. Her ambition is to be a good housewife. Jaunita is grand sport and can be depended upon. She is rather quite and reserved in all that she does.

Pauline McGinnis, typist, holds the position on the Growl Staff which determines whether we have any news in the paper. She is a popular member of the Senior class and has the leading role in the Senior play. "The Whole Town's Talking." Pauline is a member of the Dramatic Club and has been featured in several one-act plays.

Frances Walker, typist, is a Senior and has only been with us for a year, but in that short time, she has proven to be very likeable and dependable. She is a member of the Homemaking club and a "G" typist. She makes good grades in all her subjects.

Billy Walker Wins Honors

Billy Walker, our Senior declaimer, is going to Denton to represent the nine counties in our district in that contest.

Billy won first place in the county meet March 26, in Iowa Park. There he defeated five other contestants for the privilege of going to the district meet.

Last Friday, April 9, he was judged better than eight boys from the other counties, and also the Wichita Falls entrant.

Having duly recuperated from winning two blue ribbons in two weeks, Billy and party which will probably include Mr. Duncan, Miss Tanner, and maybe some others, will depart for Denton, where the annual regional meet is held, Friday afternoon or early Saturday morning.

There he will compete against the entrants from Regions 1, 2, and 4 and if he wins, he will enter the state meet in Austin, May 7.

We all believe Billy will do his best and we expect him to return with flying banners and another blue ribbon. We wish him all the luck and good fortune he needs to be eligible for the state contest three weeks from now.

HOMEMAKING CLUB

The Homemaking Club met Thursday, April 8, at 6 o'clock for the purpose of organizing more definitely and stating their aims and purposes.

The roll was called and the minutes were read by the secretary, Francine Hill.

Mildred Milford, president, appointed a committee of two, Marginell Chambers and Mary Louise Kelly, to select a motto before the next meeting.

A short but interesting talk was given by Doris Whitaker on sportsmanship.

A girl's Creed was read by Geneva Campbell and follows: I believe that the home is woman's natural environment. I believe that there is much art in making a barren house into a gleaming comfortable home as there is in painting a picture or in writing a poem.

I believe that there is dignity and beauty in service, that as a career for woman, homemaking offers greater opportunity for leisure, for growth of mind and spirit, for exercise of the body, than any other occupation.

I believe that one who has the intelligence to keep her own house in order is wise enough to be a force in any community.

It is my desire to be one of the countless women of the world to make life sweeter and better because I live and do my work well.

Opal Smith wrote a poem entitled "The Maker of a Home" which was read by Francine Hill. The poem stands for the Homemaking girls but should be read by other students as well.

The Maker Of A Home

By Opal Smith
There's a light in yon window,
Shining through the heavy black

Of the night, causing shadow upon shadow
Around the lonely shack.
A lady waited patiently
Rocking to and fro
And her sweet voice sang softly
In tender tones low.

It was no mansion
Pattered from ancient Rome,
The furnishings were not so handsome,
But it had the peace of home.
The girl that learns the making
Of an humble place into home
Fills hearts with peace and stills
the aching

And makes men rejoice at the word "HOME".
The aims and purposes of the club were read by Christine Milikin. They are:

(1) To develop organized interests in homemaking as a vocation.
(2) To foster high ideals of and appreciation for home life.

(3) To develop an alertness to the changes which have taken place in the home and a realization that training is necessary if the home is to keep pace with progress.

(4) To promote active response to community needs and a desire to enter into community life for the common good.

(5) To stimulate interest in the wise use of leisure time through hobbies and wholesome recreation.

(6) To train members to be self critical and tolerant of the ideas of others.

(7) To encourage loyalty to principle rather than to the group to think and act according to own views so long as they do not interfere with a similar freedom for others.

(8) To develop habits conduc-tive to the acquisition of new knowledge such as reading, thinking and conversing.

(9) To develop a mental alertness in members which will lead them beyond the routine of everyday life into the wider realms of public affairs.

(10) To develop the realization that the charm of good manners comes in practicing them daily.

At the rally last year, several songs were sung and from these, our club has selected one which is sung to the tune of "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp!"

CLUB SONG

In our club rooms bright we sit,
Learning how to do our bit,
And about you members all do far away;

And the thoughts that fill our mind
Tell us always to be kind,
Helping, sewing, cheering some one every day.

Work! Help! Save! The time is fleeting,
Cheer up, girls, the time will come.

When we take our stand in life
Mid the pleasure and the strife
Let us all be up preparing for this day!

It was arranged to have Miss
Edna Styles of the City Beauty
Shop to give us a demonstration
Monday on manicuring but unfortunately the meeting was postponed until Tuesday.

ROGUES GALLERY

At last the Seniors may don a cap and gown, and amid all the excitement, giggling, and "How do I look," have an exact reproduction of their little features put upon paper for the public eye to gaze admiringly upon.

Now, of course, no member of the Senior Class could ever manage to look like a dying calf in a hail storm, but we ask you, what are some of those poor suffering creatures in those pictures? The Humane society should do something to a man who would cause such looks of agony and pain on a poor helpless, and perfectly harmless little senior's face, and we are seriously thinking of appointing ourselves a committee of one to see that this matter gets some attention.

We know perfectly well that you can't expect too much of a picture, not even with the added dignity of a cap and gown, but how can some of our nice-looking Seniors get such expressions on their respectable countenances in a picture, when they are never seen to wear such an expression in everyday life? Is having one's picture made such painful experience?

Now seriously folks, the Seniors have had their pictures made in their caps and gowns at Brown's Studio on Avenue C, and we are all very proud of them, and are going to have them put in the Bulldog's Growl in the near future so be looking out for the Senior Hall of Fame.

POETRY COLUMN

Spring is in the air, along with weeds in the ground, flies in the house, bugs around the light, spring fever in your body, poetry every where, and a grand uplift somewhere in the region of the lungs plus a foolish feeling near the heart. At any rate, here we have more poetry.

ODE TO A WEED

Oh pretty little weed,
Present when I'm sowing seed,
Always growing in my way,
No matter what I do or say;
You just don't seem to understand
How you're messing up my land
I hoe you up and then your brother,

But in a week there's another,
I chop until my hands are sore,
But you're still there and then some more;

You never seem to mind at all
How hard I work in Spring and Fall.
Your presence keeps me occupied;
Sometimes I think of suicide,
When you keep on coming here;
How can life hold any cheer
If I'm hoeing all the day?

Oh, little weed, do go away.

Due to the tremendous

Burk's Baseball Club Elect Captain

Tuesday, April 6, the baseball girls called a meeting to elect their captains. The first elect their captain was Gracie Bell Jones, co-captain. The captain was Logan and Treasurer for co-captain an election between the two. The co-captain was Truett Majors who won by a score of 10 to 5.

FRESHMEN RAM

Ralph Baumhardt has been recovering rapidly from injury. He broke a foot in an accident but that he is able to compete.

Mr. Farr took a general science picnic Friday. They started at 8:00 a.m. and had a picnic at 1:00 p.m. and a good time all day.

The Freshmen have found a play and have announced that they will present the play in the future. Take notice, iards!

Imagine Russell Brown's "Last of the Mohicans" by Tony Ames. They are they are long-agoed with pictures to give you an apperance you should see.

FREE TICKETS

The high school students wish to thank Mr. Stanley Gartside for the free tickets he presented to them last week.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

The chapel program last week was presented by Miss Virginia Allen from Burkburnett, sponsored by the fourth grade. Several enjoyable songs and piano selections were well given by her many pupils. The program this week will be the negro choir from Wichita Falls.

TRACK

Mr. Watkins took his track boys to the district met in Wichita Falls last Saturday, although the boys did not go very far in the meet; though they showed the school spirit by going Fairview could have made more points if every boy in high school had shown some school spirit by working out for track. The school as a whole appreciate the boys who stood by Mr. Watkins in track this year and we hope to do better next year.

SENIOR NEWS

"Bashful Bobby" has been chosen for the annual senior play to be given May 7. The characters have not been chosen, but we know that the play will be an excellent play and well characterized. The seniors met last week and decided to call off their Turner Falls and Denton trip. They came to that decision so they could save their money for their Carlsbad trip. After much discussion, the seniors (every one of them) decided to spend "Senior Day" at Diversion Lake fishing for their future hopes.

The seniors fully appreciate Mr. Paschall for being so lenient with them in the rules that they have broken during the school term.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors presented their annual play Friday, April 9. The name of the play was "He Had A Past" and the attendance was one of the largest ever seen at Fairview. The audience enjoyed many laughs during the play. Many compliments were passed about the play and everyone Juniors are really good actors, seemed to have enjoyed it. And we wish to thank everyone for the splendid support given us.

The Juniors are sponsoring "Maytime" presented at the Palace Theatre, Sunday and Monday, April 18-19. Tickets may be purchased from any of the Junior members, and if you plan to go the Juniors would appreciate very much your buying a ticket from them.

Sophomore Scribbling

At last the entire Sophomore Class have come to an agreement of some sort. In fact it is a party to be given by Wilma Whigham, who claims it will be a "Loof Lirpa" party. Now few members of the class know what the meaning of the words, and they have to be very close-mouthed about it. Everyone is looking forward to finding out what kind of a party it will be.

Another thing that is a deep dark mystery to us is the uncertainty way in which Wilma is finding out our middle names, and to what purpose it could be put. Everything is a deep secret to us. However, the Sophomores are looking forward to April 16, the day of the party she is giving. What will it be?

"BELIEVE ME OR NOT, LADY!"

Inscrutably camouflaged by his bidding hirsute growth, Joe E. Brown in his role of astrologer, is assuring his patron (Vivian Oakland) that her fate is controlled by the stars—and Brown is their infallible interpreter. The scene is from his latest starring vehicle, "When's your Birthday" showing at the Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Prinzing Will Give Book Review Next Monday Night

Mrs. H. W. Prinzing will review the popular novel of Dr. Lloyd C. Douglas, "White Banners" for a public program at the First Methodist church next Monday night. The public is invited to attend the meeting starting at 7:30, and a small admission will be charged for children and adults. The book reviewed is one of the most interesting of the series of novels by the former famous minister. The review is sponsored by the Missionary Society.

The series that started with "Magnificent Obsession" has continued to attract attention until the climax in "White Banners". The interesting manner of presentation by Mrs. Prinzing is expected to draw a good crowd Monday night.

Shakespeare Story Telling Club Here

Donald Hoidt, special representative of the Shakespeare story telling club, was in Burkburnett last week for the purpose of organizing local clubs. Mrs. B. O. Willis was appointed to continue the local organization, and the meetings will be held in the high school building next Wednesday between four and five p. m. The club will hold a series of twenty story hour meetings; at which time the children of the elementary grades will be offered training in expression, dramatics, and story telling.

Authentic Shakespeare games, dances will be presented. As a grand finale the child members will present a play in simplified form.

CHIROPRACTIC HEALTH

There's a lot of needless suffering in the world.

A good deal of it is through illness and disease that people accept with resignation because usual methods have failed to achieve correction.

When usual methods fail, then it's time to try unusual.

The unusual methods are the kind I use.

I'm probably a very different kind of doctor from those you are accustomed to. I prescribe no drugs, and I don't possess a single surgical instrument.

There are some cases I cannot benefit - and I don't try. Neither do I make a charge for telling a patient to go somewhere else. And my charges are moderate for the types I can benefit.

I claim no unusual skill, but I do get results through the use of different, and natural methods.

An appointment for a consultation can be arranged and that will cost you nothing.

There's a good deal of needless suffering in the world - let's cooperate to end some of it.

Yours - -for Health,

Lewis Shores, D. C.

WHERE DO YOU SPEND YOUR CASH?

Our Home Merchants—the Concerns Who Pay Taxes and Support Our Town—Are Entitled to Your Patronage.

There are many live merchants and business men right here at home, offering you real bargains—many of them through the column of this newspaper.

There isn't any god reason why the big mail order houses and other foreign concerns should have your patronage. They are not concerned one whit in you or your town.

By the time you pay postage, express or freight charges, wait a few weeks for the goods you have bought "sight unseen" or driven your car to Wichita Falls—you haven't gained a thing—haven't saved a cent.

Money spent here at home finds its way again into your pockets. Read the ads in this paper. Our home concerns have values to offer you. They have good, reliable service. They are courteous and appreciative—they are your neighbors and friends.

COLOR FILMS MARK NEW ERA

IN HOLLYWOOD PRODUCTION

DESERT HONEYMOON. Marlene Dietrich and Charles Boyer in one of the romantic honeymoon scenes in "The Garden of Allah," David O. Selznick's technicolor production of the famous Robert Hichens love story, at the Palace Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

New sparkle and color to furnishings, and new eye-comfort for the family, resulted when the lighting in this living room was modernized.

By Jean Prentice

WHETHER you rent or own your own home, there's no need to have a living room that appears dark and dingy during the evening hours for lack of the few little things that would make it "a perfect picture of comfort."

For example, the wall and ceiling paper may be in fair condition, but just a few shades too depressingly dark. And the ceiling lighting fixture and wall brackets—are they horrible to look at, and worse for the family to see by?

Don't despair for a moment longer. You needn't go on living in a dreary environment. When you've studied the accompanying illustration and have seen what one ingenious woman accomplished, you'll take new heart.

This home maker called in a home lighting advisor, spent about twenty dollars—and worked wonders. Not only did the changes lighten the walls and banish offending fixtures, but they transferred the emphasis at night from gloom to the charm which lies in the interesting detail and skillful arrangement of the lovely old furnishings. Mere pictures cannot begin to depict the new comfort and ease of seeing that the room now provides so generously.

How was it done? Well, to start with, the unsightly old wall brackets flanking the map above the mantel were replaced with plastic urns, while the ugly cluster unit in the ceiling was superseded by one of the new, ready-made, modernizing units that has five sockets using 40-watt bulbs and concealed by a 20-inch parchment drum.

That stood behind the rocking chair at the right was ousted in favor of one of the new I.E.S. floor lamps. A similar lamp was placed behind the sofa at left in the picture. Here its flexibility in providing three different amounts of light from the same bulb, a 50-100-150-watt size, is a boon, since it adapts itself easily to any lighting demand, be it for tete-a-tete or knitting! The table lamp ceases to hide its light under a bushel. Its shade was raised, sprayed white on the inside, and equipped with two 75-watt bulbs. And the lighted plastic urn on the book-case adds a finishing touch.

Perhaps light can solve some of your problems as happily as it did those in this room. Why not look into it, and see? Until you do, you'll never really know how attractive and inviting your home can be, nor how much happier you can be in it.

Smart, Flattering Dresses

MRS. DICK EVANS has come to town and brought Ann and Eddie LeRoy with her. She lives in Palm Beach in the wintertime and, of course, knows all about style. That's why she wears this director type frock that is both new and figure flattering. In the floral print she has chosen she is perfectly gowned for the parties that will be given for her in the home town. The kiddies are wearing the simple styles appropriate to childhood and therein their smartness lies.

Auntie Rose Sews, Too.
Little Ann is asking Auntie Rose if she makes her clothes too. "Sure enough, dear," comes the reply. "I made this percale for mornings and have a beauty in yellow crepe cut from the same pattern to wear to the Bid-or-Bi meetings."
"I'll bet you can sew fast, too, the way Mother does. It only took her two mornings to make Eddie's suit and my dress. Won't you help me with my doll clothes now?"
"Indeed I will, Ann, and then we will have some of those oatmeal cookies you like for lunch."

The Patterns.
Pattern 1272 is available in sizes 14 to 20 (32 to 42 bust). Size 16 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39 inch material and 2 1/2 yards of ribbon for tie belt.
Pattern 1275 is for sizes 6 months to 4 years. Size 1 requires 1 1/2 yards of 32 inch material.
Pattern 1403 comes in sizes 2, 4, and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.
Pattern 1212 is designed in sizes 34 to 48. Size 36 requires 5 yards of 35 inch material plus 1/2 yard contrasting for the collar.

Hawkeye, as usual was in Burk Burnett Saturday. Of course he attended the big cash drawing. In fact, folks, more than anything Hawkeye was anxious to see just how the new manager of the Burk Burnett C of C acted. Another Herman and another Burk Burnett reared and well educated young business man. Say, folks, Bro. Herman just did fine in handling the big cash drawing. He didn't at anytime have any symptoms of the Buck Ageut all as Hawkeye was close enough to the truck to watch. He just did fine. The city was fortunate in getting the young man they did to take the Hon. Herman Brown's place.

Wheat and oats are growing fast and also the grass is furnishing fairly good pastures.

Lots of corn will go into old mother earth this coming week as half of it will have to be replanted.

Well sir, Hawkeye took several dozen of hen fruit over to Burk Burnett Saturday. While going up the south side of main street, he was called as he was about to pass by that great little business place called the L and M Food Store. After waiting for several minutes outside Hawkeye finally pushed himself through the store with his hen fruit and here came a smiling clerk to take the bucket of hen fruit and before I could say scat, the money for the eggs was placed in Hawkeye's hand. Say folks, the L and M Food store is certainly up to date. The beauty part is about this nice little food store everything is sold in line with the other food stores in the big oil city that they pay a good price for the farmers hen-fruit and all other products that the farmers have to sell.

While Hawkeye was in the busy streets of our friendly little city, Burk Burnett, Saturday after dinner who did he meet but one of his best friends, the owner and editor of one of the best weekly papers that printed in Texas, the Burk Burnett Star, Fred Brookman. Bro. Fred says to Hawkeye, "I want you to go over to the Palace play house and see a fine picture entitled, "Will Rogers". So after a few minutes of argument, they started to the Palace with one of the Burk Star complimentary show tickets that is good for every Saturday. Bro. Fred and Hawkeye hadn't hardly started til the met the manager of the Palace, Stanley Gartside, a fine young Gentleman, so Fred turned Hawkeye over to the manager and Hawkeye was escorted right in the play house for one hour and a half. I saw one of the finest pictures I have ever seen for a good many moons, and Hawkeye certainly did enjoy the picture. I will say folks, if you want to see a real picture just go to the palace. Fine seats and air conditioned. Many thanks to Mr. Brookman for the ticket.

A. L. Willis, Alias Cyclone Willis, a very prosperous Red River alley farmer, who owns a fine little farm here in the valley is building a nice four room house in the same spot where he lost his house last fall by fire while his tenant, Jess Kinnaird living in the house. Jess will farm the land again this year.

Mrs. Hugh Jones Is Hostess Of Class

Mrs. Hugh Jones was hostess to the members of the Busy Bee Bible class of the First Presbyterian church Thursday. During the business meeting, Mrs. Jones was elected secretary and treasurer. Plans were made for a rummage and bake sale to be held at the church next Saturday. Mrs. J. N. Anthony spoke on the Bible character Moses. Mrs. Clyde Bohner spoke of the book Deuteronomy. The class will meet with Mrs. Johnson in May.

Those present included Mesdames John Anderson, D. R. Peevy, Johnson, Hauptmann, John Webb, H. J. Exley, J. N. Anthony, Clyde Bohner, Malley Smith, Hugh Jones, J. M. Patterson, and guests Mrs. Frank Watson, and Hastings.

NYA Projects In Area Progressing

During the first five months of operation of the Soil Conservation program sponsored jointly by the National Youth Administration and the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College terrace lines have been run on 31,444 acres of farm land, it was announced Tuesday from the office of H. A. Ziegler, Assistant District Supervisor in District 12.

This project has been in operation in five counties of this district and approximately 60 boys have been employed on this project for the past five months. This project is specially for farm boys who are eligible for work relief and are interested in learning about terracing work. This project has been in operation in Wichita, Wilbarger, Hardeman, Stonewall and Haskell Counties.

feint or deception can side step the tackler, that much ground is gained. If that can be done without any loss of power and drive Spray will be much more valuable to the team.

John Blair Should improve more rapidly this year. So far this spring, he hasn't demonstrated any miraculous ability to improve but he can and probably will. He will be on the spot this year. His rating last year will make him the object of attention both from the fans and the players in every game. Plays will be planned that might make him look foolish since the district is already aware of his status. That is the trouble with this all-district rating. It places any boy on the spot right quickly and that boy has to play like a demon to keep in the game. Now John has that job. In other words, next year he will have to demonstrate that he earned that rating. You know there will be about 150 football players in this district out to prove that he didn't. It is up to him. And let me tell you, it will be a tough job.

Let's look at Three boys now that are out to earn a spot at end. Jack McKown. "Papa" McKown's honey chile", is starting out. He will have the burden of the name he carries and will have to prove himself good. That elongated jack-rabbit is built for an end. When he gets his full growth, he will be able to reach up and brush the dust off of the stadium lights. He will have three or four years of eligibility; and, if he sticks, he will make an A-1 player. He has natural ability, and lacks only experience. He can receive passes. There is no doubt about that. These other two shockers, Johnson and Evans (I hardly know whether to call them fullbacks or ends) deserve a lot of watching.

Big Rabbit Creek

The sad news was received in Big Rabbit Creek community early Sunday morning of the passing of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Watson, Big Pasture pioneer settlers, of 1907.

Miss Clara Watson was born June 14, 1907, in Central, Okla., Washita County. She passed away over the great beyonds, April 10, 1937, at the age of 29 years, 9 months and 28 days. This fine young lady lived in the neighborhood of Randlett, since childhood and was loved by all who knew her. She was a devoted christian from childhood. She has been in very poor health for several years with different complications. Her funeral was preached Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. at the Randlett Baptist church of which she belonged. Rev. Brown of the Randlett Baptist church officiated. Her remains were laid to rest in the Fairview-Randlett cemetery. She leaves behind to mourn her loss a devoted father and mother, three brothers as follows, Clarence, Claud, and Ira, two sisters, Mrs. Lester Boles and Mrs. Maud Underwood, all of Randlett.

The whole Rabbit community joins with the writer in sending to the father and mother, brothers and sisters and other relatives in their great bereavement of the passing of the beloved daughter. It is the prayer of the writer that God will be in the Watson home to console and comfort them in their great loss.

She is gone, but not forgotten. Never shall her memory fade. Loving thoughts shall always linger round the grave, where she is laid.

W. H. Martin and his brother Ed Martin left last Thursday on a business trip to Jal, New Mexico to look after their oil interests. They arrived back home last Friday evening.

You could look Sunday morning in any direction and farmers could be seen walking over their corn to see if it were up, or will it come up. It is stated that 98 per cent will have to be planted over.

Hawkeye accompanied Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wood, their two daughters and little son, Mrs. Wood's mother, Mrs. J. C. Fowler. All motored over to our friendly little city, Burk Burnett, Saturday after dinner.

Thousands of people were shopping and on the streets of Burk Burnett, Saturday, it is a great wonder to Hawkeye where in the world does all that great mass of people come from. It's a cinch

LEAGUE ACTIVITIES

The University Interscholastic league has expanded its activities until almost every phase of school life is included in the contests that are held throughout the school year. These contests reduce to a contest status the normal activities that should characterize every school program. The theory of the league is that the normal class work becomes a basis for the contest. In reality the present set-up calls for the training of a highly specialized group.

Since the schools are attempting to do in every phase of the league's program the same thing that they are doing in football, win regardless of the means, a more logical program should be adopted.

Throughout the years, especially during the contest season a single period, preferably the first of each day should be set aside for contest period. During this time training for the interscholastic activities should be given. Those who desire to speak write, spell, sing or paint, or any other speciality should be given that elective. By that method a much larger group would receive the benefit of the specialized training necessary for competition.

An additional advantage would be that the instructors who are pushed to a fury during the training season could adopt a more logical and permanent program.

This suggestion is made after watching the lists of winners. From more than one school the names of the same person appears as entry from the schools in parallel contests. That kills the whole scheme of the contest.

Entry should be limited to one form of activity. The honor representing the school should be spread among as many people as possible. And finally the training should not be concentrated among a small group of favorites.

NEW GOLF CLUB

Several attempts have been made for the organization of a golf club in Burkburnett, but most of them have failed because the sponsors attempted to make the proposition a money making scheme. Naturally the necessity to make a profit led to conditions completely undesirable.

The attempt sponsored by local business men to create a community golf club is one of the most praiseworthy that has been attempted by local enterprise. There are a sufficient number of men here interested in the game to make the endeavor a profitable one from the viewpoint of providing recreation.

At its best golf is a relatively expensive game. When the player must drive 30 or 40 miles to play and pay other expenses accompanying such a trip, it becomes too great a burden.

It is evident that this enterprise is headed for success. When any group of people band together for a purpose with out the thought of personal profit, success is inevitable. We have the assurance that this group has done exactly that thing.

10th DISTRICT VOTE

The analysis of the vote for congressional candidates in the 10th district holds several interesting possibilities. The result is encouraging for the proponents of the president's supreme court plan, but it wasn't in a real test of the strength of the plan's popularity. There were eight men including the proponent of the Townsend plan in the race, and each of these men drew a normal strength support that would be theirs regardless of the issues in the race.

Had there been only two men in the race, it could have been said to have been an accurate test of the plan's popularity. However, the fact that the winner favoring the plan, received almost twice as many votes as his nearest opponent, is encouraging news to the proponents.

Still more interesting than the rest of the court plan is the comparative ranking of the Townsend votes. In every election the supporters of the old age pension plan achieve their maximum strength. This group votes solidly. Out of 28,000 votes only 1,051 went to the candidate of the group. Only slightly more than three percent of the persons voting favor Townsend.

The president's plan received 14 percent of the votes in a race of that nature, and that is a large percentage, discounting even the personal equation of the young man's popularity.

Grade School Intra Mural Tournament

The physical education department of the Central Ward School started an intra-mural contest this week. The contest has been started for the girls department, and to determine the best team in the division. The teams are matched in the following bracket: vs L-6-1; L-7-1 vs H-6-1; H-5-1 H-6-2 bye; H-5-1 vs H-7-2; H-7-1 played H-7-2 Tuesday. The score was won 13 to 0 by the upper class.

Mr. Teal is the manager of the girls tournament, and the girls are being coached by Miss Pattie Thompson. The tournament will be completed next week. The boys will start their tournament immediately after the present series is completed. The boys will be coached by Morris Strong and Lee Clifton.

The lineups for the teams are as follows: H-6-2, Oletha Ceyer, captain, Nina Ruth Sands, Oletha Cryer, Clara Guest, Martha Coats Myrtle Watson, Le Rue Simpson, Francis Dudley, Sue Marie Abbot, Juanita Arrington, and Jaunita Bruner. Blue Bonnet Club Studies Vines

Members of the Bluebonnet Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. D. A. Westbrook Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Thomas and Hugh Preston as co-hostesses. The roll was called with a response on the name of a favorite flower. Mrs. J. N. Matthews had an interesting paper on the beauty and use of vines. A travelogue by Mrs. George Kerr on the trip to the Dallas Garden Show exhibits was interesting and instructive. Refreshments were served to Mesdames John Anderson, Danforth, D. R. Peevey, J. M. Patterson, Hugh Preston, J. M. Thomas, George Kerr, I. D. Russel, H. A. Exley, J. N. Matthews, B. F. Gilchrist, R. M. Gilchrist, and guests, Stacy, Gilbert.

A plant exchange and a voyage around Mrs. Westbrook's lovely home ended the afternoon.

Mrs. Schroder Is Hostess Of Clara Ladies Aid Group

The Ladies Society of the Trinity Lutheran Church of Clara met for its monthly business and social session at the home of Mrs. Emil Schroeder, April 8th.

The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Arthur Everet, president, who also had charge of the business meeting, during which time the minutes and all correspondence were read by the secretary, Miss Clara Schulz.

Reports were heard from the various working committees.

The following ladies were elected as members in the society: Mesdames Arthur Raming, G. F. Mertz, C. A. Mings, Albert Hinkle and Hermann Engelmann. Rev. Paul Kaiser, pastor of the church gave a most interesting report of the convention recently held at Houston, Texas.

The latest project undertaken by the ladies is the beautification of the parsonage and church grounds by planting flowers, shrubs, etc. A most enthusiastic discussion was held.

At the close of the business

a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served to: Mesdames F. Raming, Arthur Evert, H. C. Oberhaus, Della Raming, Ivan Zeck, G. D. Holtzen, Arthur Raming, John Siber, Fred Minick, J. C. Rathke, O. D. Scott, Fred Van Loh, G. B. Holtzen, Ed Hiserman, Henry Schroeder, Paul Kaiser, Oscar Schroeder, A. W. Brockriede, A. Lohofener, Emil Schroeder, Pauline Schwegler, L. Schribe, John Heins, Ernest Birkman, Albert Hinkle, G. F. Mertz, C. A. Mings, Ella Schulz, Herman Ingelmann, C. B. Kiesling, and Miss Clara Schulz; guests, Rev. Paul Kaiser, Mesdames R. M. Diggs and Sidney Moore, and Misses Irma and Clara Kiesling.

Effect Of Sales Tax In Wichita County

Wichita County merchants do a total retail business of $26,482,000 and a 2 per cent sales tax as now proposed in the Texas Legislature would yield $529,640 from this county while the sales tax burden to be borne by each resident of the county would amount to $7.12 per year.

These figures are based on a recent census of the United States Department of Commerce and are contained in an eight page pamphlet, "Texas Taxes, A Suggested Solution," being distributed by Rev. J. Earnest Stack of Houston, Editor of the Christian American.

Other enlightening facts contained in the pamphlet include: "A two per cent sales tax will yield $28,652,300 in annual recurring revenue to the State of Texas."

"The yearly volume of business done by the 70,000 retail establishments of Texas is approximately $1,432,615,000."

"Under a 2 per cent retail sales tax each inhabitant of Texas would be required to pay $4.72 per year."

"Sales tax collections per store under a 2 per cent levy would amount to $417.20 annually."

"Forty-five per cent of the sales tax revenue would come from 10 counties in Texas in which the largest cities are located."

Dr. Stack, a well known Bapminist minister, recently made the public statement that burdensome and excessive taxes were hampering religious activities in Texas.

"Any man or woman who ever served on a Church Finance Committee knows only too well that 'High Taxes' is too often given as the reason for failure to meet obligations to the church," Dr. Stack said.

FLOYD GIBBONS

ADVENTURERS Hello Everybody CLUB

"Man With the Knife" By FLOYD GIBBONS

HERE is a story sent to me by Eva Halm of Chicago—the story of a little girl whose impulsive act saved her from one danger, only to throw her into another one.

Eva has grown up in the meantime, but back in 1907, when she was just a kid, her dad was superintendent of the trolley car lines over a large area in Chicago. He spent the day going from one station or car barn to another, and at night, after dinner, he usually drove down to the biggest station and checked over the others by telephone.

Those were the horse and buggy days. Eva's dad drove a spirited horse hitched to a light rubber-tired runabout, and usually when he went to the main station in the evening someone in the family rode with him.

On this particular night it was Eva who was to go driving with him. There had been some labor trouble on the line and some of the men were out to "get" the superintendent. As a result, he carried a loaded .38 revolver in a leather holster in his hip pocket.

Dad Took His Gun Along.

He slipped the gun in his pocket that night as he was starting out—and then buttoned his coat and overcoat over it.

Eva noticed that. She knew, too, that there were a couple of pretty tough customers among the men who were "after" her dad, and she asked him why he didn't keep that gun in his overcoat pocket where he could get at it more easily.

But dad just laughed at her. They got into the carriage and drove along. The station he was heading for was quite a distance away and about three miles from home.

Eva Used the Whip and the Horse Plunged.

they had to cross the Belmont avenue bridge over the north branch of the Chicago river.

The bridge was darkest in the middle, for only the arc lamps at either end gave it light. They had just about reached that darkest part when a roughly dressed man stepped out from behind one of the bridge uprights.

Eva's dad had to pull up the horse. Often, when he couldn't be reached by phone, a pitman was sent from a nearby station to give him a message at this point.

There Were Two of Them.

He brought the horse to a stop as he approached the man and said, "Well, what is it?"

But at that same moment another roughly dressed figure stepped from the other side of the bridge and caught hold of the horse's head.

For a minute no one spoke. Then, suddenly it dawned on Eva that these couldn't be men from the station. If they were, why didn't they answer? And if they weren't—well—then they must be a couple of those fellows who were trying to "get" her dad.

And then Eva saw something else. The fellow up front by the horse's head had something in his hand which gleamed dully in the dim light.

Eva Had an Inspiration.

A knife! Right then was when Eva acted on impulse. She jumped to her feet, reached over the reins in her dad's hands and snatched the whip from its socket. As she grabbed that whip she thought of the gun in her dad's pocket, buried under those buttoned-up coats where he couldn't get at it. Then she raised the whip and brought it down on the horse's back with all her strength.

The horse reared and plunged. The man at his head jumped aside, cursing. The carriage moved back and forth, and Eva fell sideways. Just in time her dad reached out and caught her.

"But for his quick action," she says, "I would have been thrown to the bridge and probably knifed to death."

But that move of her dad's was disastrous. In reaching out for her he had slacked up on the reins and lost control of the horse.

The horse got the bit in its teeth and away it went.

But at last dad pulled the horse up and turned it into the street leading to the station. When it was all over he turned to her and said: "You must never do that again. You might have been killed."

But Eva still wonders what would have happened if she hadn't done it. ©—WNU Service.

Dried Milk Was Used by Tartar, Mongol Warriors

A publication of the Douthitt corporation gives the following story of the early history of dry milk:

Marco Polo, the Venetian traveler of the Thirteenth century, recorded that the Tartar and Mongol warriors subsisted on dried milk made by boiling the milk, skimming off the fatty portion which they put into a separate vessel, and setting the remainder in the sun to dry. Each soldier carried ten pounds of this dry skimmed milk, and each day put a half pound of it in a leathern bottle with as much water as was thought necessary. Their motion in riding produced a thin porridge upon which they made their meals.

From that long ago time to mid-Nineteenth century, nothing more is of record concerning dry milk.

In 1855 Grinnam secured a patent from the British government on a process for drying milk. This required the addition of carbonate of soda or potash to the fluid milk, which was then evaporated in open jacketed pans with constant agitation until a dough like consistency was obtained. Cane sugar was added and the moisture was then pressed between rollers into ribbons; after further drying it was pulverized. This process was very slow; the product was of poor quality, high in moisture and generally unsatisfactory.

In the year 1887 malted milk, a combination of whole milk, extract of malted barley, and wheat flour, was commercially produced. Although this product was not dry milk, it led to the development of a suitable process for drying milk.

Mineral in Feed for Cows

Mineral matter is very important in the feed of a dairy cow. Calcium and phosphorus make up the major portion of the mineral matter of the skeleton. These, together with other minerals, are essential in regulating the vital processes of the body. Milk production requires many minerals, the most important of which are calcium and phosphorus. Alfalfa and other legumes supply the cow with relatively large quantities of calcium, while the protein concentrates, such as cottonseed meal and wheat bran, are sources of phosphorus. A shortage of iodine will cause the calves to be born with goiters.

Colorado's No-Man's Land

No-Man's Land in Colorado is a tract of about 1,300 square miles in the north central part of the state, about 50 miles from Denver. Lying between lands included in the Louisiana Purchase and in the Texas Panhandle purchase, it is not part of either, but was obtained in the cession of the Utah Indians under the treaty of March 2, 1868. It was included within the boundaries of Colorado when that state was admitted to the Union in 1876. On August 9, 1936, at Breckenridge, Colo., Gov. E. C. Johnson proclaimed American sovereignty over this land.

POULTRY FACTS

BABY CHICKS NEED PROPER ATTENTION

Feed Well-Balanced Starter, Specialist Advises.

By Roy S. Dearstyne, Extension Poultry Specialist, North Carolina State College.—WNU Service.

Get your baby chicks off to a good start and you will be in a better position to make money with your poultry flock this year. The first step is to get only good chicks. Hatch eggs from birds of a good type that are high producers. Or buy chicks from reliable hatchers.

Don't let low prices fool you into thinking you can get a bargain by buying cheap chicks.

Then give the chicks a chance. Feed a well-balanced starter. Provide one mash hopper, five feet long, for each 100 chicks. Provide a half-gallon drinking fountain for every 50 chicks.

Carefully figure the amount of floor space in the brooding house, and do not start more than two chicks for each square foot of floor space. Check brooder house temperatures at frequent intervals. More chicks have been killed by overheating than by chilling. Protect the chicks from drafts, but see that they get adequate ventilation.

Rigid sanitation will keep down disease. Do not let the chicks come in contact with anything that may have been infected by older birds. Don't drug the chicks unless an emergency arises.

If any chicks appear to be infected with disease, remove them from the brood at once. Investigate the trouble and see what can be done to eliminate it. County farm agents and extension specialists will be glad to offer suggestions about disease control.

Many Little Turkeys Die for Lack of Enough Food

"It is a fact," says Prof. H. D. Munro, "that many little turkeys starve to death the first week they are in the brooder, and to prevent this the feeder must see to it that they all learn to eat."

"Place shallow feeders or boxes filled with reliable turkey starting mash before poulters as soon as they are put in the brooder. Young turkeys do not eat mash as readily as baby chicks and must be taught to eat."

"Some growers put older poulters with them to teach them. A moist mash with ground alfalfa leaves sprinkled over it will often attract the attention of the little birds and get them started. The patience of the man looking after them is the main factor. Stick with them until they are all eating."

"One hundred poulters in a 10 by 12 brooder house is enough. A temperature of 90 degrees to 95 degrees Fahrenheit at the edge of the hover two inches from the floor is correct for the first week. Lower the temperature five degrees each week until 70 degrees Fahrenheit is reached."—Prairie Farmer.

The Leghorn

The Leghorn for years has been a widely known breed in the United States. Leghorns were brought into this country from Italy. The first varieties imported were the Single Comb Brown and the Single Comb White. There is every indication that this breed originated in Italy, where fowls of a similar type have been kept for many years. The breed is noted for its alertness, its stylishness of carriage, and the graceful blending of its different sections.

Geese Little Trouble

Of all poultry and fowl domesticated by man, the lowest mortality rate is among geese. It has been said by those doing business with them that they have no "mortality rate" at all. Once the hatch is made, with proper precautions, the expectancy of geese should be the number of eggs that produced. One point, must be kept in mind in goose raising. These birds are like other live stock. They will not thrive in low, filthy, penned-in quarters.

Poultry Lore

Cornish hens are never permitted to set. The egg production is too essential.

Johannesburg, South Africa, has stopped cruelty to poultry by banning shipments in crowded crates.

An expert says you can often tell a genuine antique by tapping it sharply. This is especially true in the case of eggs.

A breeder cannot sell many settings of eggs for hatching and raise a good-sized flock from a few birds unless these birds are exceedingly productive.

In buying baby chicks, investigate the average production of the parent flock and whether the birds were selected for production, size, freedom from breed defects, and other points. The lowest acceptable flock record is 180 eggs.

T. B. Clinic To Be Held Here May 5th

Free clinic for tubercular examination will be held in Burkburnett during the afternoon of May 5. The clinic is the quarterly examination sponsored by the County society for the prevention of tuberculosis, and the famed Dr. Mendenhall one of the states most outstanding specialists in chest diseases.

The society issued the invitation this week to all persons exposed or who have symptoms of the early encroachment of the infection to list for the examination. Mrs. C. J. Morrison of Burkburnett, Phone 203W can accept reservations for the clinic. The members of the Parent-Teacher Association have been requested to spread the information as widely as possible to bring the publicity for the clinic before all school children and all parents.

The place and exact hour for the clinic will be announced later, and the nurses from the county office at Wichita Falls will assist in the clinic.

Special emphasis is being placed this month on early diagnosis. All persons who have been exposed, who have extended colds, recent cases of flu, pneumonia, and other diseases of this type have been urged to have an examination by some competent physician as early as possible.

Tuberculosis is one of the most curable of all chronic diseases when attacked early enough, and ninety per cent of adults have definite exposure and infection some time during their life and recover without apparent ill effects.
