CONTINUING STRUGGLE—A Northrop T-38 Talon superimposed on the base's time line signs tells the story of the continuing struggle of man against time and the elements in painfully clear terms—especially after more than a few days of gusty winds in the area. The sign was recently moved from near the main gate to a new location adjacent to Main Boulevard near bldg. T-815, where it now stands its vigil. (U.S. Air Force Photo By TSgt. Robert F. Zbleski)

72-07 Prepares For Graduation

The 54 members of Class 72-07 will receive their silver wings at graduation ceremonies Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the Base Chapel.

Featured speaker for the occasion will be Brig. Gen. Larry M. Killpack, assistant comptroller of the Air Force for Accounting and Finance and commander, Air Force Accounting and Finance Center, Denver.

General Killpack was commissioned a second lieutenant upon graduation with a bachelor of science degree from the University of Utah in 1949. He then entered pilot training in June of that year and upon completion was assigned to the 86th Bomber Wing in Germany where he flew the Republic F-84F Thunderstreak and the North American F-86F Sabre.

After several assignments back in the United States the general returned to school to earn a master of business administration degree from Harvard University in 1961. In August of 1964 he entered the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, Washington, D.C., and upon graduation served as project officer in the office of the Deputy Chief of

Speaker Named For Banquet

A command pilot who is also a rated parachutist and a veteran of three wars will be the principal speaker at the Air Force Silver Anniversary Banquet scheduled for 7:30 p.m. March 23 at the Officers Open Mess.

Maj. Gen. John R. Murphy, vice commander, Air Training Command, will address a group of 250 persons who will gather at the Officers Open Mess that evening climaxing a day-long activity that will include a 3 p.m. appearance of the Thunderbirds on the Reese flight line in connection with an open house.

March 23 will kick off several events planned this year in connection with the observance of the Air Force's 25th—or silver—anniversary. It was on Sept. 18, 1947, that Stuart Symington was sworn in as the first Secretary of the Air Force, thereby making it officially a separate branch of the Armed Services. The Air Force traditionally observes that date as its birthday, but—in its silver anniversary year—has set aside many events throughout the year to remind its personnel and the public of its short but very bright heritage.

Young Man's Fancy Turns To...Sports

Not that they don't all year 'round, but in the spring, a young man's thoughts really turn to . . . sports!

At least, they should. There is enough command emphasis on participation in base-level sports to dispel any pangs of conscience pains the duty-bound athlete might experience by not pulling overtime every day.

You're wanted on the athletic field.

Each year, ATC presents an award for excellence in sports and recreation, a most coveted cup, to the ATC base racking up the greatest number of points in command-level competition during the year. Mather AFB, Calif., won over runner-up Webb AFB, Tex., in 1971.

In his congratulatory message to Col. Charles G. Cleveland, Mather's wing commander, Lt. Gen. G. B. Simler (former captain of the University of Maryland football team) said, in part:

"It is my hope that competition will be keener and participation higher in 1972 than it was in 1971."

And 1972 is here.

Several wing commanders took to their typewriters when the 1971 results were posted and handed out columns for their base newspapers discussing their base's standing and urging better showings this year. One of them was Col. Charles E. Woods at Vance, whose column was candidly headlined, "Vance Wins Booby Prize."

Vance finished dead last in ATC last year, but in all fairness to our Oklahoma friends, they run a civilian contract pilot training operation up there and consequently have far fewer military personnel assigned. But as Colonel Woods pointed out, Vance lost 560 points because the base did not enter teams in some command-level tournaments. He added:

"I don't want anyone to get the idea that our bottom of the pile performance last year is any indication of our potential. We need to field good, hard-hitting, hard-working teams, and we sort of deluded ourselves with the philosophy that we have too many strikes against us because of our small military population. We need you!"

Commanders want you to participate as long as you are blessed with either talent or desire. Work schedules sometimes conflict, but the enterprising jocks can work out some arrangement to leave ample time for sports.

Base-level teams which compete in command-level tournaments are, of course, made up of the elite players from squadron-level teams. Squadron-level teams are made up of guys like you.

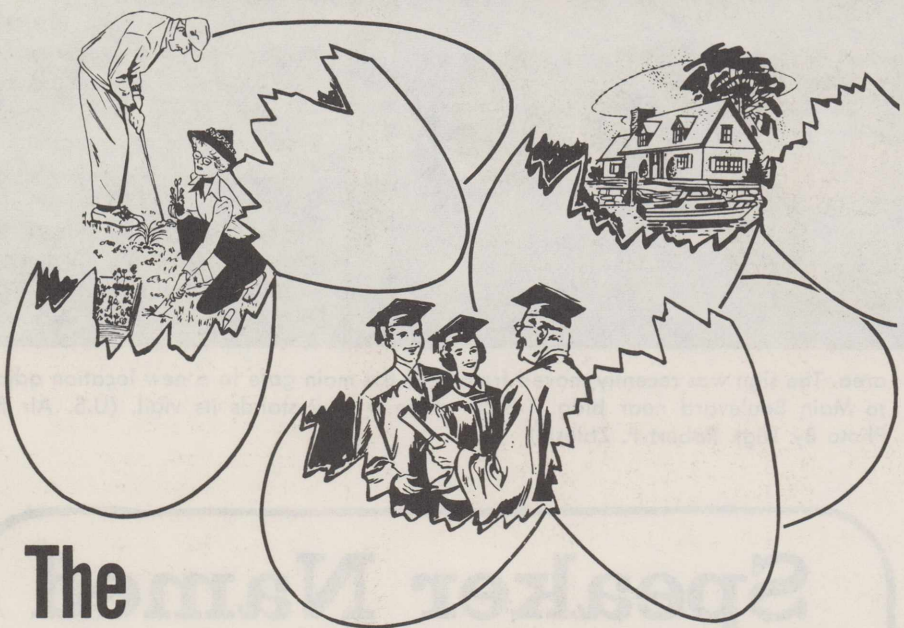

We won't bore you with a recap of how sports participation is beneficial to good health and all that. We merely want to leave you with three thoughts:

- (1) Commanders want to field winning teams.
- (2) You can't win without entering.
- (3) Watch out for Vance in '72.

The PAYROLL SAVINGS PLAN for U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Accident Data Alarms

HQ. ATC — A five-year study of traffic accident involvement by rank and age group revealed youth as the predominant factor, according to an ATC Safety Directorate bulletin.

In the airman category, the 21-23 age group was most involved in the 13,681 accident studies. This group compiled slightly over 40 per cent of the total accidents. The middle management 26-35 age group (NCOs) compiled approximately 16.8 per cent of the accidents recorded.

The young officers accident experience as a group was slightly less than the same age airmen. However, the 26-36 age group officers accounted for 38.5 per cent of the accidents, which is much higher than the middle management group of NCOs.

The mature age groups (26-35) are of chief concern, since they represent middle management supervision. Any breakdown of the accident prevention effort, either in terms of manpower losses or laxity of supervision at this level, is considered disastrous. Perhaps this is a neglected segment of our effort that requires a "hard look" by commanders and safety planners.

Phone — A Great Tool?

(An AFNS Editorial)

The telephone is a wonderful invention.

Pick up the receiver, dial a number, and presto, you're in contact with someone at the other end of the base, country, or world.

But, as wonderful as it is, the telephone has its drawbacks. For one, it has reduced the amount of face-to-face contact necessary to do business. Instead of looking the other man in the eye, you're just another voice coming out of an earpiece.

Too often the end result of impersonal dealings over the phone is inaction; it's easy to make commitments — and equally easy to forget them. Too often this means of communication is abused with unauthorized calls.

How many times have you agreed to do something during a telephone conversation? How many times have you failed to do it?

Maybe there is something to say for the old-fashioned handshake agreement. It's not easy to look the other man in the eye and then ignore it later.

Modern science has given us wonderful tools, such as the telephone. It is difficult to imagine how we functioned in the days before it was invented; its necessity to modern military operations is obvious. But its effectiveness as a tool depends upon people — the people at each end of the line.

Are you using this tool honestly, fairly and effectively?

Rapping... about people

(An AFNS Feature)

Question: What is the policy on the personal appearance of persons other than active duty Air Force personnel?

Answer: The Air Force policy on civilian dress and appearance is contained in AFR 30-16, Standards of Civilian Dress and Appearance. This regulation stipulates that installation commanders may only prohibit those styles of dress or manner of personal grooming which are illegal, immoral, unsafe, unsanitary, or which clearly interfere with the mission of the base. Restrictions on the personal grooming of civilians, retired military, and dependents who are eligible to use base facilities will be consistent with the foregoing criteria. Members of the other Services are permitted to use all base facilities if their dress and appearance meets the standards of the Service to which they belong.

Question: What are the Air Force's current male grooming standards?

Answer: Basically, members are allowed to wear their hair in any style they choose as long as it presents a neatly groomed and tapered appearance and permits proper wear of all Air Force headgear. The hair cannot touch the ears or the collar, except the closely cut hair at the back of the neck. Sideburns may extend to the lowest part of the exterior ear opening. Mustaches are permitted, but will not extend beyond the vermilion border of the lips at the corner of the mouth. Beards are prohibited unless prescribed by a medical officer for medical reasons. Wigs or hair pieces will not be worn on duty or in uniform except to cover natural baldness or physical disfiguration.

Girl Scout Week Set For Sunday Kick-Off

With Sunday marking the 60th anniversary of Girl Scouting in America, Col. Walter H. Baxter III, wing commander, has proclaimed March 12-18 as Reese Girl Scout Week.

The Brownie, Junior, Cadette and Senior Scouts will begin the week by attending church services in uniform on Girl Scout Sunday. Groups from Reese will attend Catholic Chapel services at 10 a.m., Protestant Chapel services at 11 a.m., Hurlwood Baptist Church services at 11 a.m. and Country Church Chapel services at 7 p.m. The Girl Scouts will assist at each of the services.

The highlight of the week will be at 6 p.m. Tuesday, when there will be a Father-Daughter Banquet in the Eagle Room of the Officers Open Mess. A portion of the program will be presented by each troop and the decorations will feature the Seven Service Days—seven areas of Girl Scout activities.

After wearing their uniforms to school Thursday, the girls will take part in retreat ceremonies at 6:30 p.m. in front of bldg. T-1. Girls from Cadette Troop 236 will retire the colors.

Drug Abuse Policy Defined

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Air Force has spelled out its treatment policy for members addicted or dependent on opiates, amphetamines or barbiturates, to insure it is not releasing drug-dependent airmen into society without an honest attempt to eliminate their drug dependency.

Air Force said, in a message to all major commands, members dependent or addicted to these drugs will be assigned to a military drug treatment program or a Veterans Administration facility for rehabilitation.

No Air Force member who is drug-dependent or addicted will be separated until he has completed at least 30 days of treatment, providing he has sufficient time, remaining in service. If he does not have 30 days retainability, he may voluntarily extend his term of service to complete the program.

The instructions said that no maximum or minimum treatment period has been established for other categories of drug abuse. However, rehabilitation must be offered to all drug abusers.

Talon Talk

By Capt. Henry T. Johnson

Well they say no news is good news, but that is not why we had no columns last week nor is good news necessarily the prevailing atmosphere this week. We here in the O'Hundredth, as well as our counterparts throughout the command, have witnessed a fundamental change in the personnel management philosophy of the command which has resulted in numerous changes in the manning structure of the operational squadrons, including ours. We'll summarize the changes here so that you'll have some idea as to where to find the various people who have been affected.

Lt. Col. Gene Hallett has taken over the squadron operations office and Lt. Col. Jessie Williams will act as his special assistant until his retirement in June. Lt. Col. Dick Woods has been assigned to the wing Plans Division and Maj. Bob Cocks has returned from the Student Branch to assume command of Section I. Capt. Jimmy Gray has left us for Base Operations and Capt. Johnny Barbara has assumed command of H Flight, with Capt. Ron Ford taking over as the assistant flight commander of G Flight.

Captains Brian Mauden, Keith Huey and Sal Bonacasa have been assigned to our Check Section. Filling their respective shoes will be Capt. Eric Steffensen as the C Flight commander, Capt. Stan Jones as the A Flight commander (sounds like a takeover by the RCAF, doesn't it), and Capt. Mike Martin as the C Flight assistant flight commander. Taking Stan's place as the assistant F Flight commander is Capt. Mike Sanford.

That's about it, at least for the present, so don't be surprised if you see some new faces in some strange places.

The "real" squadron party will be held tomorrow night at the Officers Open Mess. The Eagle Room is being used for a wedding reception, but we'll have the rest of the Mess. The dress theme remains hot pants and mod attire and we still have those prizes for the most "exciting" outfits to give away.

Also we'll present some squadron mugs to our friends who have left us in the past few months. My feelings are that we need squadron unity now more than we have (even remotely) in the past couple of years, so let's all push hard for a 100 per cent turnout.

This week the "Old Pro" comments on a philosophy that applies to both our day to day living and to our flying. "Gents, don't ever be caught failing to check six, because that is where the enemy likes to strike. Think about it."

Tweety Topics

By Capt. John W. Nichols

The 3501st PTS is beginning to have so many new IPs that it is becoming difficult to find the students. Rumor has it that two-turning may nudge out tripping in the near future as the focal point of IP complaints.

This writer can remember not too many months ago when one new class was greeted by a flight room with four IPs—in those days it was difficult to understand why the eighth student flying a particular beginning ride with the same IP was no better than the first.

The new arrivals in the squadron got a chance to meet each other at the squadron party Feb. 25. George Driscoll proved that a party can be good even if your posters are terrible. And Maj. John L. Foster was seen "whipping" the effects of special disorientation.

The sit-down dinner was in the finest tradition of the Reese Officers Open Mess. The new deputy commander for Operations, Col. Kirk Brown, was there in time for dinner in spite of the fact that no one told him it was for dinner.

We discovered true talent in the squadron as Skip Franklin sang some after dinner songs and Lt. Col. Melvin G. Swanson was seen mixing it up with the youngsters on the dance floor as everyone else scrambled for their ear protectors.

By now the inspection from our friends next door will be over and those who have been called on to display their instructional prowess and flying skill will be patting themselves on the back or wishing they had studied harder.

Mike and Mary Malone are proud of their new addition, a son, Miles.

Officers Mess Schedule Set

The Officers Open Mess has announced a full slate of events for the coming week.

Tonight and tomorrow night, members and guests are invited to enjoy the music of Between the Generations in the main bar.

Monday night will feature the Class 72-07 graduation dinner-dance. The Steak Special is featured every Tuesday night. Wednesday nights offer the weekly Chicken Special with The Flyte providing the music from Wednesday until Saturday. Thursday night, there will be a Junior Officers Council mixer dance.

The mess also reminds patrons that every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 5 until 6 p.m. is happy hour.

NCO Mess Entertainment Planned

The NCO Open Mess will open its weekend entertainment schedule tonight with Tommy Hancock's country and western band. Also a special buffet will be served from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m.

Tomorrow and Sunday nights Merging Traffic will provide the music for the listening and dancing pleasure of Mess patrons.

The Mess also reminds that the sandwich bar is open every day at noon.

Tee Reservations In Effect

The Reese AFB golf course will begin taking reserved tee times beginning this weekend.

Usually, play at the golf course at this time of the year is not heavy enough to warrant tee-times on weekends and holidays. However, unseasonably warm weather has brought base golfers out in greater numbers than anticipated and the decision was made to begin the reserved tee-times a few weeks early.

Golfers may begin calling for their reserved tee-times at 9 a.m. on the Thursday preceding the weekend of play. Times will begin at 8 a.m. with the cut-off at about 10 a.m. Afternoon tee-times will begin at noon.

Golfers are reminded that reserved tee-times will be made for groups of three or four—no more, no less—and that golfers who make such reservations and then not show up for them are subject to lose that privilege at the judgement of the golf course manager.

General Murphy To Speak...

General Murphy

The principal speaker at the banquet on the evening of March 23, General Murphy, has had a great share of that bright heritage. He was graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., in 1942 and immediately started flight training. He served with the Ninth Air Force in the European Theater of Operations as pilot, squadron commander and deputy Group commander, flying 139 missions, totaling 305 combat hours, in the P-47 aircraft.
During the Korean conflict he flew 30 combat missions in the F-51 fighter as executive officer of the 18th Tactical Fighter Wing before being reassigned as commander of the 49th Fighter Group where he led the Group on 89 combat missions in the F-80 aircraft. He finished his Korean tour as director of the Joint Operations Center for Fifth Air Force.

In May 1965 General Murphy went to Thailand where he served as deputy commander, 2nd Air Division at Udorn Royal Thai Air Force Base and from January through July 1966 was assistant deputy commander, Seventh Air Force/Thirteenth Air Force, Thailand.
Assignments between wars included tours at March AFB, Calif.; Misawa AB, Japan; Luke

AFB, Ariz.; Perrin AFB, Tex.; Randolph AFB, Tex.; O'Hare Field, Chicago, Ill.; another tour in Japan; Ent AFB, Colo.; the National War College in Washington, D.C.; Seymour Johnson AFB, N.C.; and more recently he served first as deputy director and later as director of Legislative Liaison, Office of the Secretary of the Air Force, Washington, D.C. In July 1970 he was assigned to his present job—vice commander of Air Training Command.
General Murphy has a host of decorations and awards including the Distinguished Service Medal, Silver Star, Legion of Merit with two Oak Leaf Clusters, Distinguished Flying Cross with three Oak Leaf Clusters and Air Medal with 38 Oak Leaf Clusters. He has foreign decorations from France, Belgium, the Republic of Korea and the Republic of Vietnam.

General and Mrs. Murphy, the former Jane Atkins, have two sons. The general's hometown is Fargo, N.D.
Tickets for the banquet may be purchased through the Officers Open Mess, through which members may charge same to their monthly bill, or through Mr. Tom Ireland, Civilian Personnel Office, ext. 2290. Tickets will sell for $4.50 each for the meal featuring an entree of ribeye steak.
