Every gin in the Wellington area has been swamped with cotton for the past ten days as the pictures above show. Upper left is a scene of the Farmers Co-Op Gin in Wellington which has had to lease extra parking space for trucks loaded with cotton. Upper right shows Miss Lucille Bennett, bookkeeper and J. T. Tidwell manager of The Wellington Gin standing in front of waiting trucks in their packed yard; Center shows cottonseed overflowing from the Wellington Farmers Co-op as parked cotton waits. Lower left pictures Mrs. Lucille Baird, bookkeeper and Junior Mitchel pressman standing in front of baled cotton that has been ginned in such quantities that the trucks can't get it hauled away. Lower right Lester (Boney) Hunter and R. N. Barnett in front of cotton in the overflowing yard of the J. M. Tindall gin. It was estimated that there were over 500 bales of unginned cotton waiting to get under the suction Saturday and the jam is expected to get worse as long as fair weather continues.

PMA Resumes Buying Cottonseed at $46.50

The Production and Marketing Administration County Committee has resumed purchasing cottonseed at $46.50 per ton for the account of the Commodity Credit Corporation Millard Brown announced this week. The committee discontinued their purchases of seed about two weeks ago after the ginner's price advanced to $46.00. But due to the ginner's price having dropped off again, it has become necessary to renew the PMA Committee purchase activities.

The CCC Price Support Program is solely for the benefit of the farmers themselves. The purpose of the cottonseed purchase program is to keep enough seed off the market during the rush season to strengthen the market on seed so the farmer will get something near parity on the price of cottonseed.

The parity price determined for the 1949 crop was $55.00 per ton. The cotton seed purchase program is extended to all cotton producers. If they do not take the advantage of it then they have no.

Mexican Pulls 1,500 Daily

Pete Travain of Del Rio, Texas, who is working for Mr. H. C. Morrow, has been pulling the amazing total of 1500 pounds of cotton per day.

Mr. Travain, who is about thirty five years old, pulled 1600 pounds of cotton on his best day, but he usually averages just over 1500 pounds.

Beard, Castleberry Head USO Fund Campaign

B. W. Beard, and Bobo Castleberry have been named co-chairmen for Collingsworth County for the Texas USO Reactivation Campaign, Roy Bourland, District Chairman, of Pampa, Texas, announced today.

The quota for Collingsworth County is $630.00, which is Collingsworth County's share of the $500.00 goal for Texas.

Mr. Beard said, "The cold war continues, and our people have called for a big Army, Navy and Air Force so that our country will be ready to meet any pressures from the enemy."

"We have 98,000 of our young men and women from Texas now in uniform, and Collingsworth County has her share of these people who are in the service. It is up to us to show our gratitude and appreciation through our support of USO. This we can do because USO is on the scene to serve them whether they are stationed at some military establishment here in the United States or at an overseas outpost."

"We believe that unless we do assume this responsibility, that it is only natural that these young people will return home embittered because of the lack of interest on our part. Through USO we can provide them with wholesome religious and recreational facilities, and in so doing, we assure ourselves that they are meeting and mingling with the right type of people. We all know that there are those among us who advocate foreign ideologies and if we do not do something to keep our young men and women away from such people, they will fall prey to such false philosophies."

"USO provides the thousands of veterans in Army, Navy and Veterans hospitals with professional entertainment and the frequent reminder, so important to their morale, that neither they nor their heroic deeds have been forgotten. "The citizens of Collingsworth County have always done their part in such programs, and we are confident that all will respond to this very worthy undertaking."

Rockets Meet Irish At Shamrock Nov. 11

The Wellington Skyrockets and the Shamrock Irish will meet in Shamrock on Denver Field in their traditional Armistice Day clash, Friday at 8:00 in the afternoon.

Student tickets are now on sale at the Wellington High School, and adults at Whites Auto Store. Both schools will grant a half day holiday to their students.

Although the game will have no bearing on the district title, it is expected to draw a record crowd, due to the excellent performance of both teams through the years, the game has become a classic in the district. With the exception of two years in which McLean ruled the roost and the last two in which the Lefors Pirates have made other teams walk the plank, either the Irish or the Rockets have dominated District 1A for the past 14 years.

The Rockets have the edge on wins and a considerable edge on district championships.

But all of this is put by the board when the two teams meet. Sham-rock's victory over McLean last Friday brands them as a potent team, and the spirited play of the Rockets against Memphis and against Lefors gives ample evidence that the game will be a thriller.

Coach Scott McCall reports that all of his boys are in good shape for this time of the year. Four have been suffering from colds; but there are no arm or leg injuries.

Charles T. Roberts, superintendent of the Wellington Schools says that school will take up at 8:30 in the morning and will dismiss at 12:30 P. M. The game starts at 3 p. m.

National Guard Seeks More Recruits Here

The Wellington National Guard of Texas, Medical Co. 142 is conducting a two-month recruiting campaign at the present time, Major Dale Watkins announced this week.

Goal of the campaign is to bring the Wellington Medical Co. to its full authorized strength of 90 officers and men. Its current strength is 55.

The local campaign is part of a National effort to bring the National Guard strength to 400,000 men. The National Guard had an overall strength of 358,000 on August 1.

A major member of the national defense team, the National Guard has been assigned the vital M-Day Mission of immediate action against an invading aggressor. At full strength the National Guard will have approximately 684,000 officers and men in more than 6,000

National Kids Day Will Be Observed In Wellington on November 19

National Kids Day will be observed in Wellington on November 19, according to Jack Gibson, president of the Wellington Kiwanis Club.

In explaining why we need a National Kids Day, Mr. Gibson said:

"One of the most important problems that our nation faces today in building for a future America is a continual rise in the number of crimes affecting children. At the same time, the lot of the underprivileged child has not been improved to the fullest extent."

"The purpose of National Kids Day is to provide a focal point and promotional device so that the potential forces in the community can use this day to emphasize the need for combating these problems.

"Because the problems of underprivileged children cannot be solved without providing additional money, Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States and Canada will conduct dignified fund-raising drives in connection with National Kids' Day. Money raised in a community, however, will remain in that community to be spent in assisting underprivileged youth. The distribution of the funds raised will be under the supervision of the local Kiwanis club.

City Starts Garbage and Waste Collection Nov. 1

The City of Wellington plans to give its citizens in the residential section a one month free ride on trash and garbage collection. The city took over the collection job on November 1. But to allow time for efficient operation and full understanding of the plan, city officials have decided to make no charge for the first month's service. Bills will be sent out in advance for the December service; but no charge will be made for the November service.

The service came into effect at the request of a large number of people who became alarmed at the sanitary conditions in Wellington and who presented a petition signed by over 600 people during the summer months during the time when polio was increasing at an alarming rate not only in Texas but in the outskirts of the Wellington area.

Bura Handley, city manager said that it would take more time than the first ten days to get the service working on schedule, due to the tremendous amount of waste that had accumulated in some places. "We are making an effort to get the city really clean and ask the people to bear with us until we can get on schedule. Your co-operation in the service especially in the matter of providing containers is solicited." He said.

The ordinance putting the plan into effect was passed Monday night. In short it cites the services that will be rendered, charges for the services and the regulations that will be imposed on the disposal of trash and garbage.

Some of the major provisions of the ordinance follow: Every owner or tenant of a building or residence must provide adequate containers for trash and garbage. No one except duly authorized agents or employees of the city of Wellington shall empty trash or garbage containers or transport them on the streets of Wellington without permission from the city.

The following charges will be made:

Single family residence, $1.00 per month; Duplex, each unit, $.75 per month; Garage Apartment, $.75 per month; three or more family apartments if outside the business area per unit, $.75 per month.

Charges for business firms will be assessed after the city manager has compiled a record of the amount of time and the expense needed to take care of the trash or garbage for that firm. This will be submitted to the City Council for approval and if approved will remain in effect for that firm for one year. This cost can be cut by making it more convenient for city employees to collect the trash.

Garbage and waste will be collected.

The third film entitled "Proper Care Means Longer Wear," demonstrates care and home repair of electrical household appliances, how to change a fuse or a plug, how to repair frayed cord, and the most common causes of trouble, in household appliances are explained.

Business Firms and School To Close at 12:30

Legion Will Hold Formation At Hall Armistice Day

John Coleman, commander of the Frank King, post of the American Legion, announced that a formation would be held at the Legion hall at 11 O'clock Nov. 11 to commemorate Armistice Day.

Immediately after the formation the hall will be open for all service and ex-service men. Mr. Coleman extended an invitation to all of these to come in and visit with their buddies. The hall will be only to service and ex-service men.

Supt. Charles T. Roberts has announced that the Wellington schools will close at 12:30 and that the game with Shamrock will start at 3 p. m.

Mayor Ernest Lewis has issued a proclamation calling on all business firms to close their doors between the hours of 12:30 P. M. and 5 P. M. in the afternoon on November 11. However, a few firms have indicated to The Leader that they will be closed throughout the day and others such as gins and some cafes will stay open during the entire day due to the rush of business.

King Hurt in Gin Accident

Lloyd King, ginner at the Loco Co-op Gin, was seriously injured Friday morning when his left arm became caught in the stand saw at the gin. His hand was badly cut, and the muscles in his arm just below the elbow were mangled.

Mr. King was taken to the St. Joseph's Hospital in Wellington where an immediate operation was performed. He will remain in the hospital for several days due to weakness from loss of blood.

Visiting Mr. King are his wife and children, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. King of Wellington; his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Terry and sons of Wellington, and his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Lee King of Vernon.

Cotton Burns on Highway Saturday

Twenty eight bales of cotton were damaged when being transported to the compress at Childress caught on fire five miles south of Wellington last Saturday.

After the truck had been unloaded the Wellington Fire Department was called to the scene and succeeded in saving 17 of the bales by the use of "wetter water."

The truck on which the cotton was loaded belonged to Horton and Harwell and all the damages was

Boy Scout Drive Starts With Breakfast Nov. 16

The kick-off breakfast for the Boy Scout drive will be held at 7:30 Wednesday, November 16 in the community building.

Approximately 60 people will participate in the various phases of the drive. Business people will receive a letter this week explaining in detail the need for the fund raising campaign. In all, over 300 people will be contacted in the one day drive.

The Operating Budget of the Adobe Walls Council is used to give more and better Scouting to the boys of a 15-county area, 12 of them in Texas, and the three counties in the Oklahoma Panhandle, and for the development of the Council Boy Scout Camp, Camp Ki-o-Wah, located near Lake Marvin.

At present Scouting in Wellington is available to all boys from 8 to 21, through the medium of Pack 31; Troop 32; and Explorer Crew 32. The leaders of these units are, Pack 31, H. L. Duncan Jr.; Troop 32, Sandy K. Parsons Jr., Scoutmaster, Vance, Green, assistants; and Explorer Crew 32, Henry C. Sullivan, advisor.

Pack 31 is sponsored by the Wellington Kiwanis Club; Troop 32 and Explorer Crew 32 are sponsored by the Wellington Rotary Club.

Much interest in Scouting had developed in this area during recent months. Cub Scout work was revived by the Kiwanis Club a few months ago, and the Boy Scout troop at Dodson was re-organized after having been allowed to lapse. Re-organization of the Boy Scout set-up to provide for Explorer Scouts is keeping in the organization the older boys, who ordinarily drop out of the work upon reaching their middle teens.

Lefors Clinches District Title

Rockets and Pirates Battle
Out Brilliant Offensive Game

The powerful Pirates from Lefors clinched the district championship here last Friday by grinding the Rockets under 33 to 18; but they had their hardest battle in two years — one that provided the most thrilling game the fans have seen on the local gridiron in years.

The game easily could have had a different outcome for Wellington practically gave Lefors two touchdowns and missed an extra one for themselves by one yard. On the ground and in the air the Rockets gained the astonishing total of 318 yards as compared to 302 for the Pirates as two offensive minded teams fought brilliantly until the last second. In fact the battle was roaring more fiercely in the last three minutes of the game than at any other time. Although neither team scored during these waning minutes, the fierceness of the play can be judged from the fact that the ball changed hands six times in this short length of time. Some of these changes were simply holding on downs, others were by interceptions and fumbles and on one occasion Melton grabbed the ball out of the arms of a Lefors runner — a perfectly legal play.

The tremendous power of the Pirate line headed by 263 pound Don Stokes and four other 160 pound linemen was evident early in the first quarter. With fine blocking they cleared the way for Joel Combs and Friday Todd as the Pirate machine ground their way down the field for two touchdowns. They led 13 to 0 at the end of the quarter.

Against such power and the elusive running of Combs and the speed of Todd, the Rockets had to resort to cunning and passing for any hope of victory. They did use these with daring and finesse as Bobby McCutcheon threw a whole book of football plays at the often bewildered but fighting Pirates.

The Rockets came back to move across midfield with Norman, Copeland, Hiett and McCutcheon alternating on deceptive running plays. They penetrated the ten yard line three times before they could put across a counter. Once they drove to the one yard mark before being halted on fourth down. McCutcheon returned the kickoff back to his own 30 yard mark and with two beautiful passes beautifully caught made the tally. The first was a bullet to Norman right over the line who squirmed far enough for a first down and the second was to Melton for the touchdown.

Fine defensive work spearheaded by Riley, Graves, Strickland and Brock but including all the flaming Rockets halted the next Pirate drive. In fact Joel Combs was stopped; and the Rockets started a drive of their own; they had worked the ball into dangerous territory for the Pirates before the whistle stopped the first half with Lefors leading 13 to 6.

In the opening period of the second half Lefors made 2 touchdowns easily. In the first they were helped by two 15 yard penalties. The last penalty was a penalty against Norman on a personal foul. He had been roughed up considerably by the big lads and decided to settle one of his grievances in a man to man fashion. This last one put the ball down on the 7 yard line and the Pirates ran it over on two tries.

On the next kickoff Bobby McCutcheon had his one bad break of the evening. He fumbled on the eight yard line and Clemmons recovered and Combs carried the ball over with Todd converting to make the score 27 to 6.

The undaunted Rockets came roaring back as McCutcheon began to dig deep into his bag of plays for something to confuse the too stout boys from Lefors. He found it and it was a handoff to Brock, a guard, who went 57 yards to put the ball on the 9 yard line. Beam charged for 6 and Copeland carried it over for the touchdown.

The Pirates put on the power again and drove down the field to get their third "earned" touchdown of the evening, but actually their fifth as far as the score was concerned. And the score was 33 to 12.

Bobby took to the air to help the Rockets move 77 yards for their final touchdown. The payoff came on a beautifully executed play. In midfield McCutcheon passed to Melton who lateralled wide to Hiett who raced to the 10 before being brought down. On a sneak Bobby went over for the final touchdown of the game.

That was the end of the scoring. But it took three or four minutes of the most furious football battling ever seen on the Wellington field to end the game.

Even in defeat the Rockets looked good and their loyal fans were proud of their spirited play. James Love's Pirates emerged as a worthy representative of the district. In fact if they had Bobby McCutcheon's passing to go with everything else they have, they are a team that could win the Class A championship not only of the region but of the state.

Soil Conservation Tour at Shamrock On November 14

"You are what you eat," according to the book Soil, Food and Health, published by Friends of the Land, Columbus, Ohio; and the thought provoking statement that "food is fabricated soil fertility" is made by O. E. Fink, M. A., in his article therein, based on the teachings of William A. Albrecht as illustrated by the film "On the Other Side of the Fence," produced by Phillips Chemical Co. of Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

Collingsworth Countians, who were hosts to this group last year, are invited to attend the meeting at Shamrock on November 14.

Audiences at the six soil conservation meetings at centrally located West Texas and Panhandle points along the lines of Fort Worth and Denver City and Wichita Valley Railways, sponsored by Burlington Lines in cooperation with the Second National Bank of Houston, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, and the Texas A&M Extension Service, will have an opportunity to see this sound and color movie, which will be shown and commented on by O. Dooley Dawson, vice president and manager of the Bank's agricultural department.

Dawson joined the staff of Second National Bank of Houston in September 1945, at the inception of its new agricultural department. A graduate of Texas A&M in 1932 with a degree in agriculture, he spent 11 years with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in Texas before joining the Bank. He had worked in every region of east and central Texas from the Red River to the Gulf, and thus acquired a practical knowledge of native soils before his Bank connection.

As manager of the Bank's agricultural department he has traveled many thousands of miles over the State during the past four and one half years, carrying the message of soil conservation directly to more than 60,000 persons in scheduled meetings.

Each program also will include talks and demonstrations by M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist, and A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, both of Texas A&M College System, College Station, and the Cooke County range management team comprised of B. T. Haws, county agent, Gainesville, coach; Douglas Robinson, and Billy Whitt.

A group of Burlington Lines Officers, and representatives of the Second National Bank of Houston, the Soil Conservation Service, and the O&M Extension Service will tour the towns and surrounding territory to attend these meetings and inspect important conservation projects now underway.

The first of this series of important meetings, to which the public is being invited and urged to attend, will be at 1:00 P. M. in the Community Building in Shamrock on Monday, November 14th.

Following the Shamrock meeting, the group will travel via special railroad cars to Childress for the second meeting in the High School Auditorium there at 7:30 P. M. Tuesday, November 15th.

The third meeting of the series will be at 2:30 P. M. in the Texan Theater in Quanah on Wednesday, November 16th. The special railroad cars then will move to Henrietta for the fourth stop and meeting in the Dorothy Theater at 2:00 P. M. on Thursday, November 17th.

An overnight railroad trip from Henrietta to Spur and Stamford will put the official party in those towns on Friday, November 18th, for the final programs. The fifth meeting of the series will be in Spur at 1:30 P. M. in the Spur Theater, and the sixth and final

THEY KNOW COLLINGSWORTH AGRICULTURE Millard Brown, PMA secretary, and Ben Farmer, of the Marella community here confer on phases of the county program. Mr. Farmer is a member of the PMA committee, and one of the county's leaders in farming the sandy land area profitably.

Grasses Growing in Importance in County

Certainly many problems of farm management are facing the farmers of the county today. Each farm will be affected by the cotton and wheat acreage reduction and with the possibility of a grain sorghum acreage reduction in the future, J. W. Thomas, County Agent, said this week.

It is of interest to every farmer to watch the response of various crops such as grass, legumes, fruits etc. and also livestock enterprises that will fit into the cropping system of each farm.

Farmers are giving some thought to enterprises other than cotton, wheat, and grain sorghum, because of not only restricted acreage but because of price prospects.

Work with the various grasses can be seen on the ground and certainly is worth some time and thought to those farmers who expect to do some grass work in the near future. Frank Eikenburg has several fields of different grasses scattered through the county. These grasses include buffalo, blue grama, sand love, weeping love, and others.

The Mill Iron Ranches has some good fields of blue panic and some excellent examples of what rotation and proper grazing will do toward allowing the native grasses to come back into over-grazed and mismanaged pastures. The return of such session will be in Stamford at 7:30 P. M. in the Round-up Hall on Texas Cowboy Reunion Grounds, following which the official party will return to Fort Worth, College Station, and Houston.

Local arrangements committees are under the sponsorship of R. H. Forrester, Wheeler attorney, for Shamrock; V. E. Hafner, county agent, Childress; L. M. Boring, creameryman, Quanah; Ernest Lamb, president, Chamber of Commerce, Henrietta; Chas. A. Taylor, county agent, Spur; and Co-chairmen Cecil Eager and A. J. Mills, Stamford.

of our native grasses as side oats, sand blue stem, little blue stem, blue gramma, switch, curly mesquite, canadian rye, western wheat, indian, sand love, buffalo and many other grasses is amazing where there is still enough of any of these grasses in the pasture to serve as a seed source if properly managed.

A number of farmers throughout the county are doing work that is not profitable but also of interest to many of us who anticipate doing grasses and legume seeding on our farms.

John Brim has gotten good response from blue panic grass. Frank Coleman and Ben Farmer have gotten a tremendous increase from grazing small grains by the addition of phosphate and vetch or winter peas with the small grain.

Many farmers have used alfalfa to make the poultry, hog and cattle enterprise more profitable on their farms.

Good grasses and legumes are the foundation for profitable livestock enterprises on our farms and ranches. Let's give more thought to the needs of our pasture and ranges.

Out of town relatives and friends attending the funeral of Lt. Wesley Green were: Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Burk, Shawnee, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Burk, Graham; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Givens, Chickasha, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Reynolds, Okla. City, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Green and children, and Mrs. Sam Green, Melrose, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. B. B. ## County Rejects Amendments

In very light balloting, Collingsworth County voters rejected all ten amendments to the state constitution in the election Tuesday. The county favored A. R. Bivens over John K. Barnly 79 to 66 in the first boxes reporting including the two Wellington boxes which are ordinarily the heaviest. Several boxes were still out Wednesday morning; but the trend was so one-sided that it was thought that the pattern would continue as it started.

Results on the various amendments reported up till 11:00 o'clock Wednesday follow:

- 1: For — 59; Against — 159.
- 2: For — 30; Against — 188.
- 3: For — 59; Against — 163.
- 4: For — 84; Against — 144.
- 5: For — 49; Against — 174.
- 6: For — 38; Against — 187.
- 7: For — 107; Against — 115.
- 8: For — 74; Against — 153.
- 9: For — 103; Against — 122.
- 10: For — 88; Against — 141.

John N. Harnly — 66.

A. R. Bivens — 79.

Gins in Wellington will run all day Friday, Armistice Day, due to the fact that their yards are swamped.

Ellis Nunnelley reports that Cleve Riddle who is pulling cotton for him recently pulled 1,129 pounds in one day. The best report prior to this one was that of Charles Seely who pulled 1,032 on the R. L. Karnes farm last week. John Roy Gollighugh pulled 1,004 Saturday, November 6 on the farm of Lewis Morris near Marrella.

But wait a minute, The Leader correspondent at Lutie, Mrs. Jack Lowrie sends in a better one. A colored man pulling for Bill Oldham got slightly over 1,400 in a day. But Mrs. Walter Fritts sends in a story that tops them all. H. C. Morrow has a Latin-American pulling for him who regularly pulls over 1,500 pounds a day and on some days goes over 1,600.

There is something dramatic about the size of this year's cotton crop and the hurry and bustle it has created. Gins over the area are just as busy as those in Wellington and we hope to have some pictures of them in the paper next week.

The Wildlife Management Department of Texas A&M wants hunters to send in the right wing of all Quail killed this year. By examining the feathers they can tell whether it is a young bird or an old one. They want to determine the proportion of the young birds to the old ones and eventually want to know more about the factors which cause numbers of game birds to rise and fall from year to year.

Mrs. Cal Sugg has an interesting hobby. She cooks delicious pies, cakes, rolls and other special orders of baked goods for various ladies in Wellington. Although she furnishes all the supplies herself, she turns all the money received from their sale over to the Christian Church.

Wellington girls will hold their annual football game at Powell Field Friday November 18. Last year the game was a honey and turned out to be far more exciting than many people expected.

There will also be football in Wellington Thursday, November 10. In the afternoon the Shamrock Junior High team will play here and Thursday night the B team will play Wellington at 7:30.

L. A. Dickey had no pickers so Monday afternoon Mrs. Jimmie Kelso, Mrs. Paul Brewer, Mrs. Dickey and Mrs. Millard Brown went out to help him harvest his crop. Mrs. Kelso led the group with a total of 264 pounds for the afternoon.

If you read something on the front page about cotton being put out by "wetter water" don't get alarmed. That is what they call a solution used by the Wellington Fire Department for putting out fires in baled cotton. It sinks into the very center of the bale whereas ordinary water will penetrate only a short distance.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express deepest appreciation to all of those who have been so kind and sympathetic since the loss of our loved one, Lt. Wesley M. Green. We especially appreciate the good food which was served and the beautiful floral offerings which were given for the reburial services.

THE PLOW THAT MAKES THE SAND PRODUCE

Osa Black, one of the best known farmers in the Panhandle, is shown here with the mold board plow with which he goes down 18 to 23 inches to turn up six to eight inches of clay in his deep sandy land. His plow has a 23 inch clearance. He had 1,000 acres in cropland this year. He uses two tractors to pull this plow. He plants rye and follows that with peas.

Rockets Most Spectacular Team In District 2A

By FRANK A. GODSOE, JR.
Special Correspondent of Wellington Leader

The ball game had everything! It had the best team in District 2-A and it had the most spectacular one. It had one of the better Class A passers in Texas and one of the most dazzling broken-field runners. It had eight exciting touchdowns.

Those things don't come under the head of "cuff information" as most of the lucky 2,000 who sat in on that Wellington-Lefors thriller Friday night at Powell Field probably will agree. Where else could anybody get so much entertainment for an 80 cent admission!

It was the kind of game I would have been willing to pay to see, even if it hadn't been on the house. That's rare praise from a newspaper laborer.

Ask any of the brothers in the sports writing lodge (or lodge if you prefer) and he will tell you that we try to go to a game and watch it objectively. Somebody wins. Somebody loses. You write a story, try to be fair, try to be accurate, then go your way and forget it.

But how could anybody be objective about the kind of pageant that unfolded Friday night on Powell Field? I was glad Lefors won, for the one reason that Pirates appear to have the best football team in District 2-A. And I was sorry one of the darlings schoolboy combinations these eyes have seen had to lose.

The Skyrockets made what probably was their finest competitive effort of 1949 in the Lefors game — notwithstanding the fact that it was a losing one.

When I see a squad that is down two touchdowns in the first quarter come back to penetrate three times in the next 12 minutes and score once, my hat comes off with appropriate respect.

When a team uses two different trick plays on which a center, then a guard carries the ball, tries one of them twice, gets perfect execution each time (though a penalty nullified Brock's second run), I'm ready to admit that I'm looking at an amazing team.

When the same outfit runs on fourth down with 10 yards to go out in the middle of the field and makes it, and throws the ball around like jugglers at a convention until a great opponent is bewildered, there are bouquets deserved by the team that does it.

Bobby McOutcheon's handoff back to Jerry Strickland wasn't as successful as Brock's 57-yard scamper on that other fooler, but it took imagination and nerve.

That fourth-quarter, quick-lineup pass had 10 Pirates as confused as J. B. "Uncle Jay" Linn searching for his car keys, but one Pirate reacted fast enough to stop it for a 2-yard gain.

I've seen Wellington play eight times since the Regional Final in 1946 when I made my first Class A football trip for the News Globe (in a 1932 Chevrolet, borrowed from a friend). Friday night's performance by the Skyrockets was the most fascinating of all.

I saw a better football player in 1946 than any of the performers on Powell Field Friday night (I. D. Russell), but not such a thrill.

Here are some of the notes, jotted on a frayed cuff, during 48 minutes of rare athletic drama. You are welcome to look 'em over:

1. Joel Combs (No. 33), the Lefors tailback, is the most deceptive broken-field runner I've seen on a Class A team in three seasons. This includes Waldo Young who sparked Monahans to the state Single A championship last year.

2. Bobby McOutcheon is the most durable youngster for his size you can find. Donald Stokes, the Lefors tackle who looks as big as one of those fat bales of Caprock cotton, smeared Bobby brutally a couple of times, as did several other Pirates. That blond young man was coming back for more.

3. Ray Dickerson, (No. 31) is the unsung hero of the Lefors success with that Notre Dame formation offense. Not the only good blocker, but pretty terrific for a 140-pound boy.

4. Two breaks tipped the balance in the favor of Lefors. When the Rockets failed by inches to make a first down on the Pirates' one-yard line . . . When McOutcheon's fumble on the kickoff led to a Lefors touchdown. It easily could have been four touchdowns to four. Lefors, of course, would have won anyway on the margin of three conversions.

This has nothing to do with the football game, but Mrs. Deskins Wells broils the finest beefsteak that ever soothed the biceps of a hungry sports writer (don't you dare cut this out of the copy, Deskins).

This was written because it was an opportunity to say a lot of things which you can't put into a football account in a regional daily. Also because Deskins Wells asked me to do a sidelight piece for The Leader.

It also was written because it is fun to write about the Wellington and Lefors football teams. I should write a book about 'em, but I don't have time.

LOCO

By BETHINE ADKINS

Weather almost like summer has permitted the farmers to make a good showing in the harvesting of the cotton crop here. Nearly everyone here could use a few more hands, however.

The Loco gin has been running all day and all night with a new night crew added. Mrs. Roland Mayhugh is bookkeeper; E. C. Hutchins, ginners; Jack Brown and John Wolf, press hands, and J. L. Woods is suction man. The day crew is Mrs. Medford Crowder, bookkeeper; Lloyd King, ginners, and Mr. Grady Graham of Wellington is manager. Some of the farmers have been working with the crew. Medford Crowder and George Adkins worked several days last week.

Mrs. Buford Minter and Kenneth Lefors are visiting in the W. C. Minter home this week.

Many people from this community viewed the load of burning cotton Saturday on highway 83 about 6-1-2 miles south of Wellington.

Visiting in the G. W. Adkins home this week end were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cayton Jr. and daughters of Vega, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Elbert of Wellington.

Miss Virginia Wylie and Miss

Neva Jo Wolf of Pampa, and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Morris and son of MacDoo, Texas, visited in the L. H. Wolf home this week end. Miss Juanell Wolf returned home with Mr. and Mrs. Morris for a few days visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Crawford and Mary Su and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Crawford and daughters attended the golden wedding celebration honoring Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Trout of Reed, Oklahoma, Sunday.

Mrs. Jack Brown and sons visited Mrs. G. K. Patterson of Buck Creek Saturday.

Mr. E. S. Copeland and George Adkins received medical treatment in Wellington this week.

WHEN constipation hangs on and you have that listless, "half alive" feeling chances are it's not your stomach but your intestinal tract that's at fault. Sluggish intestinal muscles permit waste to accumulate . . . gas is formed and often you feel miserable, nervous and out of sorts.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Coleman and son, W. A., were in Duncan, Oklahoma, Saturday and Sunday visiting Mr. Coleman's mother, Mrs. Minnie Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Lennon returned last week from California where they have been visiting while the Dodson school is closed for cotton picking.

They visited in Compton, Long Beach, Ontario, and Long Park in California, and in Phoenix, Arizona.

Mrs. R. C. Neece of Mobeetie visited here Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Jones and other friends and relatives.

Copeland Elected Fraternity Officer

CANYON — Bob Copeland, Wellington junior at West Texas State, was elected historian of Alphi Phi Omega, national service fraternity, at club elections last Friday.

Miss Gay Reeves, student at Texas Tech in Lubbock, was here this week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reeves.

Kiwanis NOTES

There is an edition entitled "Life Begins at Forty" . . . I am reasonably sure that very few in The Wellington School System, including teachers, have reached that age. I am sure that the program presented last Friday was full of life and presented, as well as conducted, by persons well below the age of forty. Eleanor King gave an excellent rendition of her reading and Ruth Sweat's reading "Turkey Gobbler" (poor turkey gobbler). His ending was surrounded with dumpings or dressing or both.

I always thought that only one person was required to give a reading. It takes two or more when Billie Jack Gibson performs, especially with that big red patch on the lower right quadrant of the anatomy. The subject "Pants" and I do mean with proper manipulations. Now . . . CARLOTO . . . that Cynthia Akins not only can but did put on an excellent demonstration of Carlotia . . . You just have to see the performance to appreciate it "Carlotia."

I often wonder what visitors think about the etiquette exercised at these meetings . . . there is rarely any broken bones during the battle over the good food served.

Visitors: Rufus Johnson, Walter Graves, John Pounds (Scout executive) Leon Coleman (getting acquainted with an active organization), Lester Hill (one on whom we can always depend for anything), Rogers Melton and Lindel Norman . . . football players. All these visitors, I hope, had enough to eat and enjoyed putting on the program as well as witnessing it. James Cope received his emblem to show that he is an active member in the Kiwanis Club. It is a pleasure to have competent members come into the club.

It is a pleasure to receive the information from President Jack Gibson that, according to the records, Wellington Kiwanis Club is leading in this district, in attendance and achievements . . . That is Something To Be Proud Of . . . Thanks to the efforts of all members.

You should have witnessed the activity that Fleet Pruden manipulated that left hand during the eating period last Friday. It has been told that he would have to learn to use his left hand. In my opinion, he is ambidextrous. Please consult your dictionary to find out that he is capable of using either hand dextrously.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hindman of Elmonte, California, visited in the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, Monday and Tuesday of last week. Other guests in the Roberts home Monday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hindman and F. C. Hindman, all of Pampa.

Rev. Henry H. Kinkeade, former pastor of the First Baptist Church in Wellington, has been named pastor of the Grace Temple Baptist Church, recently organized in Denton, Texas, and will conduct services regularly in a large residence purchased by the church on West Oak Street.

Plans are under way to carry on a building program, of which the first step is to build an auditorium with a seating capacity of 500. Of course there is some satisfaction in owning the tractor that more farmers have bought than all other makes combined; but the real reason Farmall is the best buy for you is the same one that made it the unquestioned leader in the farm tractor field—

It does better work, more work, and wider variety of work at LOWER COST.

There are lots of other reasons why Farmall should be your first choice, not the least important of which is that re-sale value is and has consistently been much higher for Farmalls. That means lower depreciation cost; and Farmall's proved longer life means much lower maintenance costs; it's fuel economy on a given job means lower operating costs.

Free Supper for Disabled Vets.

All disabled veterans of the county are invited to a free supper that will be given at the Pullman Cafe at 8 P. M. on November 11. The free supper will climax a one day membership drive according to Riley Dunson.

At this time an actual Army film "The Late Company B" will be shown. These are actual pictures of the Battle of the Bulge.

The Wellington chapter of Disabled Veterans is the only one of its kind in the Panhandle. A man does not have to draw compensation from the government to be eligible for membership," he said.

Mr. Dunson estimated that approximately 60 men in the county are eligible for membership.

"If a man knows that he has a disability due to war activity, even though he is not drawing compensation, he is eligible for membership. In fact, these are the men we want to reach, because we feel that we can help them."

The Wellington Chapter was organized in May, with Raymond Horton as commander and R. L. Templeton vice-commander. No membership drive has been held, and approximately 15 men are now enrolled.

Aim of the organization during the Armistice Day drive is to enroll every man who is eligible.

Mr. Dunson pointed out that a man does not have to be a resident of this county to belong to the Wellington chapter.

The DVA meets twice each month, the first and third Tuesdays, at the American Legion Hall. The meetings begin at 8:00 P. M.

If necessary the committee will arrange for trucks to transport the cotton seed from each gin site in the county at the expense of the CCC. $46.50 per ton is the price at the gin site to the farmer if it is not convenient for him to haul his seed to the stock pile located in Wellington at J. B. Stevenson's implement lot.

After the seed is delivered to the stock pile, where a receiving certificate is issued by a PMA committee employee, then the producer may present his certificate at the county PMA office and receive payment for his seed.

Sherrie Grogan Burned Nov. 2

Sherrie Grogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Grogan, who live near Abra, was painfully burned on both arms Wednesday afternoon, November 2, when a pan of hot grease tipped over on her.

Sherrie and her mother were cooking french fried potatoes and had just removed the fryer from the stove when it turned over.

Both arms were burned below the elbow.

Mrs. Grogan rushed her daughter to Wellington for emergency treatment, and she was able to return home that evening.

In his proclamation, the mayor declared that the observance of a day set aside especially for Youth was 'both praiseworthy and in the best interests of both the community and the nation.'

Kiwanis International and the National Kids' Day Foundation are to be congratulated on making possible the observance of National Kids' Day with a program reminding the public that the problems of youth — and especially underprivileged youth — require constant and ever increasing attention, the Mayor said in issuing the proclamation.

Wellington, Texas, will be one of more than 3,000 cities in the United States and Canada participating in the observance of National Kids' Day.

Odean Lewis, driver of the truck, managed to get most of it off before help arrived. Eleven bales were a total loss. It is thought that the fire started from a match or cigarette flipped by a passing motorist rather from a hot packed bale; for it was inspected carefully before leaving the Farmers Co-op Gin in Wellington and yet it was ablaze all over when the fire was first noticed five miles south of town.

Comfortably yours

There was a time when a man thought he had to wear a hat a long time before it really felt comfortable. That was before men discovered Resistol "Self-Conforming" Hats. First time you try on any Resistol it's "comfortably yours"—because that soft cushiony leather shapes to your head immediately and holds its styling through long-lasting wear.

Another Step Forward for Wellington

REGULAR CITY-WIDE

GARBAGE REMOVAL

SERVICE

Nearly every citizen of Wellington recently signed the petition asking the City Council to provide for a regular garbage removal program similar to that available in other modern cities.

Because the need was urgent, and because we asked for it and promised our co-operation, the City has gone to considerable expense to set up such a program and implement it with first-class, up-to-date equipment. They have done their part to bring us this basic and essential service—as necessary to a happy and healthy community as water and sewer systems—but complete success of this move for a more sanitary and beautiful city depends now on the individual citizens of Wellington. Therefore...

THE NEXT MOVE IS YOURS

—because, even with the fine equipment and conscientious workmen the city has provided, the job can't be done on schedule and economically unless YOU and ALL OF US co-operate by following the simple rules the Council found it necessary to set up when establishing this service.

—All the details of this program have been worked out after diligent investigation and serious thought. City officials studied garbage collection programs that are operating successfully in many neighboring cities, and the best features of each have been incorporated into the ordinance setting Wellington's system in operation. If time and experience show there is need for it, changes can be made; certainly it is possible that rates can be reduced if ALL OF US do our part.

—If YOU believe that it's better to live in a clean city than in one where filth and trash gives sanctuary to disease-carrying rodents and insects, and where rubbish and litter abounds in yards, streets and alleys, then you'll do your part to make this program a success.

—If we do this job right, there won't be any need for annual clean-up campaigns; Wellington will STAY clean ALL THE YEAR 'ROUND, and with the problem of garbage and trash under control, we can then work toward other measures to safeguard life and health in our city.

This Is Your Part of the Job . . .

Provide some kind of covered metal container for all your garbage and trash; large enough to hold the accumulation between pickups; small enough to be handled quickly and easily by the workers.

Provide a separate covered container for liquid garbage or slops.

If you burn any trash or garbage in residential section, burn it in still another container to avoid danger of putting live coals into the collection truck.

Don't burn any trash within city fire limits which are, essentially, the business section. Daily pickup will make burning unnecessary and thus greatly reduce fire hazards.

Place containers in location convenient for pickup.

Get behind the program, not only by looking after your own premises, but by talking to your neighbors and helping them to understand it's value and the need for it.

The Cost

Cost of this service will be moderate; conveniently paid with your water bill each month.

A maximum of $1 a month per residence; and charges for business institutions depending entirely on the volume of material picked up and the time it takes to load it. The more conveniently you can arrange the pickup on your own premises, the less it will cost you.

This service is expected to be paid for entirely by the service charges; it will not add to your taxes.

No charges will be made for residential service during the month of November; charges appearing on your water bill December first will be for December service in advance

The Service Will Do This for You . . .

Haul off all garbage and trash which is properly set out for pickup, once each week in residential section, and once each week day in business section.

During insect season, containers and surrounding area will be sprayed with DDT at each pickup

Help you and your neighbors to keep your premises sanitary and neat; maybe save your child's life or your own.

Regular schedules will be worked out soon, by which you can always know just what day your trash will be picked up.

Make your property more valuable by making it and the premises surrounding it more attractive.

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER
Thursday, November 3, 1949

Wellington Can Be Kept Clean

The City of Wellington has started a regular trash and garbage collection program. It was put into effect as the request of a vast number of citizens who have been clamoring for more sanitary conditions for some time.

Details of how the plan will operate will be found in another part of this same issue of The Leader. In a broad way these include daily collections in the business district and weekly collections in the residential areas of the city.

But it should be pointed out now that the plan will require the co-operation of the people if it is to succeed and if it can be continued. Like anything else that involves changes from the customary method of doing things, this new plan will bring criticism from some sources. It is to be hoped that the common sense of the majority of the people who believe in a clean city and recognize the importance will outweigh vastly the criticism of the minority. If there is a crystallization of intelligent opinion as to the very real need for such a service then the plan can and will work. In that case the majority can impress a minority by moral suasion as to the very real need for such work to be done in Wellington on a competent and comprehensive basis.

The task is not going to be an easy one for either the city officials and workmen and the people who sincerely believe in keeping the city clean. Some toes are going to be stepped on and some feelings will be ruffled until we get used to the plan and see the results.

Burning trash in the limits which includes all of the business district will be prohibited. Some merchants, who have been burning their own trash in front or back of their stores for years may object to this at first. They will have to provide containers and pay the city for hauling off their trash. On several occasions the fire department has been called in the middle of the night to put out alley trash fires from which sparks were blowing in a dangerous manner. The reason for this provision is plain once it is understood.

Trash burning will be permitted in the residential areas; but people who burn their paper and boxes must provide two containers. One of these will be for the material they want hauled away; the other to be used as an incinerator. The reason for this is that the City of Amarillo has burned up two of the costly trash packing machines because they picked up barrels in which there had been a fire.

OTHER EDITORS SAY:—

Senatorial Courtesy

Senatorial courtesy is a tradition, one might say, a fetish, in the upper branch of congress, that does not always prevail in the public interest. It has been the reason for so much shabby behavior, so much stubborn selfishness, that many rejoice to see it occasionally defeated.

The essence of the tradition is that the senate must let a senator have his own way in his own state regardless of the right or wrong of his attitude. By means of it, Senator Downey of California was able for quite a while to hold up the pay checks of some reclamation service officials who had dared to disagree with his views. The officials had performed their duties and were entitled, by every rule of justice, to their pay. But the senator saw and seized an opportunity to punish them for daring to disagree with him, and senatorial

There are other provisions that will tread on other toes; but one of the main ones is going to be that it will cost money. While the costs are moderate, it should be remembered that there are many people who have never paid out any money for trash hauling. Some carried theirs off. Others simply dumped their unburnable trash in their neighbor's container or let it pile up in the alley. It is obvious that there will be criticism of the plan at first. City officials have decided to perform the service from now until December 1 without direct cost to any person or firm. The Leader believes this will be wise. This will give fair-thinking people a chance to judge the value and worth of the plan before it costs them a cent in direct charges; but these will start on December 1, and each person will be billed according to the charges set forth in the ordinance.

In the meantime every person who believes in a clean city should take it upon themselves to study the plan and help others understand its worth and the urgent need for it. Co-operation and moral force can keep Wellington clean.

Curtilment &amp; Conservation

The farm bill has been passed by Congress and signed by President Truman. The law requires price support of the so-called basic crops, wheat, corn, cotton, rice and peanuts at 90 per cent of parity next year if control measures are applied in an effort to combat surpluses.

It appears almost certain that the farmers will vote for acreage controls or allotments.

It is not certain as how to best manage his acres in trying for other revenue needed to meet the heavy expenses of mechanized farming and high farm labor costs.

The old stand-bys of diversified farming such as hogs, eggs, poultry and turkeys of this county come under an entirely different category. They can be supported from zero to 90 per cent. On these the producer will have to guess against the law of supply and demand plus the intangibles of politics. He can't be certain on these items.

But there is one thing on which the farmer, the land owner, the tenant and the land lord can be certain. That is that intelligent soil conservation will continue to prosper and will leave something for his children.

Don't think of diverted acres—think of building up the land.

Another Lesson in Red Ideology

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note: The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek enters the army-navy squabble this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:

I ain't exactly a war veteran, makes no difference if I am battle-scarred after years of marriage and goin up one row and down another out here on Buck Creek or tryin to make 1910 bobwire hold together in 1949, but I was talkin to a group of World War II veterans the other day and from what I can tell about what they said, I think I know the solution to the big Army and Navy squabble among the Generals and Admirals.

As I understand it, things ain't goin to suit the private tastes of the Generals or the Admirals either, and they're developin a squabble worse than a trustee fight in a one-teacher school district. Naturally, I don't know whether a B-36 airplane is any good or not, never used one out here, and likewise there ain't been no air-craft carriers foolin around out here either, but the argument over which one is best reminds me of the argument some school trustees had in a district I heard about once over whether they ought to burn wood or coal to heat the school building, one trustee bein in the wood business, another in the coal business. They nearly wrecked the school system before they compromised on burnin wood the first half the term, coal the second, although by the time they got things ironed out and smoothed down they installed gas and later on they consolidated a bunch of schools and the building ain't even there anymore.

However, I don't believe a compromise is what's needed in the Army-Navy squabble. My idea is that since both the army and navy is strong for military discipline and believe in 100 percent obedience to your superior officers, and since the President is the Commander-in-Chief, I think President Truman ought to call in the squabbling officers from both sides and tell em dissension in the ranks is bad for the country and assign the leaders to K. P. every day for a week. If that doesn't clear up matters, which it generally does I understand, give em close-order drill for a while or send em over the obstacle course a few times. I ain't familiar with the meaning of all these terms, but the veterans I was talkin to claim they'll get the job done if applied often enough.

Yours faithfully,

BIBLE COMMENT
FOR NOV. 13

Prophet Presents Enigma of Suffering To Succeeding Ages

The prophet Jeremiah, whose book of 52 chapters, and five chapters of Lamentations, are a major part of Old Testament prophecy, lived in troublous times. His courageous mission was fulfilled in sadness and suffering, as he saw the land that he loved invaded, the king made blind, its people mostly carried into exile, and a remnant forced to flee to Egypt.

A touch of glory surrounds a man, whom not even the direst suffering, and the persistent threat of death, could swerve from his mission to declare what God has revealed to him, and to save king and people from the disaster that threatened them, when they refused to heed his warning and to follow his guidance.

Jeremiah foresaw the destruction and havoc that were about to be inflicted on Jerusalem by the invading Babylon army. But his warning and counsel only brought upon him the charge of disloyalty and treason, and the penalty of imminent death.

The story of how all that Jeremiah predicted, with the capture of the King, the putting out of his eyes, destruction, and exile, is told in chapter 39. But there is a bright ray in that dark tragedy in the story in chapter 38 of Jeremiah's rescue from the pit through the offices of a courageous and sympathetic courtier. A gentle and tender touch is added when the courtier dropped "cast clouts and rotten rags," that Jeremiah might put them under his armpits, and avoid the chafe of the rope as kind hands pulled him out.

In all this is the background of the problem of suffering, and of God's suffering servants, emphasized in Isaiah 53. We shall return to that, with more concerning Jeremiah, and some suggestions of what his life and his prophecies mean for our lives and our times.

Financing F-M Roads Making Rapid Progress

Texas now has in all, 88,443 miles of passable roads of all types.

Most rapid progress has been made in farm to market roads, 14,500 miles of which have been financed by the state highway department in conjunction with federal aid, since V-J Day.

The figures are from a survey taken by the Bureau of Public Roads at the direction of the United States Senate. Texas statistics were compiled by the highway department in cooperation with county road officials.

Farm-to-market roads are located upon the recommendations of district engineers after conferences with county commissioners. Location is determined by the highway commission on the basis of need as these figures show:

72 per cent of farm-to market roads carry school buses; 74 per cent carry mail routes; 24 per cent carry mail routes; 24 per cent carry one or more of these services.

Other roads built under the farm-to-market program service oil fields and forest-lumber operations.

When the present program of farm-to-market road construction is completed, the vast majority of farm dwellings will be within one mile of a paved road.

The state highway system as of August 31, 1949, included 39,096 miles of roads of all types, paved or financed for paving.

The counties have 1,606 miles of good paved roads and 9,226 miles of roads that have some kind of cover, varying from oil mix up to surface treatment. The counties report 38,495 miles of gravel and soil-surface roads.

According to the latest available figures — 1947 — local road administration on the county level expended $45,500,000. No division was shown between construction and maintenance.

Here are more figures turned up by the survey:

Common carrier truck routes in Texas are 23,204 miles long, and they use 22,462 miles of state roads.

Common carrier bus routes total 26,436 miles, of which 25,812 miles are state roads.

Mail routes cover 91,936 miles, of which 72,262 miles are local roads not under state control. School buses travel 86,807 miles, of which 69,041 miles are on local roads.

The survey showed that 220 counties in Texas carry on their road construction without the services of engineers.

Seventeen counties operate under the unit system and employ road engineers, whose authority is restricted.

Henderson County, which adopted the unit system in 1947, has now abandoned it.

The vast majority of counties do their road construction and maintenance under the supervision of

HARVESTING TOBACCO

The leaves will be quilted, piled, hauled to sheds, cured, baled and stored before going into cigars.

Don't Feed Cattle Grubs

COLLEGE STATION — There is no profit in feeding cattle grubs and they can be very effectively controlled, says James A. Deer, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A. & M. College.

The losses caused by cattle grubs are borne by the livestock producer and only the livestock producer can reduce them, adds Deer. These losses annually amount to about $65 million and according to Deer, most of this could be added to the national farm income if cattle producers would use the following control measures.

He recommends the use of a power sprayer — with a pressure of 200 to 400 pounds. Lower pressures decrease the effectiveness of the treatment, he says. Spray the animals in a chute and hold the nozzle no farther than four inches the county commissioners.

Those who have observed the unit system say that it has only one chance to operate and survive — and that is when the commissioners court turns the entire matter over to an engineer.

When the court — and the citizens — are strongly in support of the unit system it is successful.

from the backs of the animals. It is best, he says, to use a full gallon of spray on each animal and from 10 to 15 seconds are required for the application if you want to get the best results.

The spray material should consist of 7 1-2 pounds of 5 percent rotenone dust for each 100 gallons of water. Mix it thoroughly, he adds. This is the cheapest and most effective treatment you can use, he says.

Make the first application as soon as the grubs appear and repeat the treatment at three week intervals as long as needed. Usually not more than three or four treatments are needed. Deer says grubs are beginning to make their appearance now in some sections of the state and control measures should be used if the grubs are to be controlled.

He says if you'll use this spraying program now, you may not have to spray the same animals again for grubs. A good control job should increase your cattle weight gains by about 20 percent and also the value of the hide and animal when you go to market. The dairyman with a grub free herd can expect a good increase in milk production. Deer says if you need additional information on how to control cattle grubs, your local county agent will be glad to help you.

Laying Contest Now Under Way

COLLEGE STATION — The 1949-50 Texas Farm and Home Egg Laying Contest got underway on October 1 and will close on July 31, 1950. Changes in the rules and regulations and the regrouping of the flocks, says Cecil Williams, assistant extension poultry husbandman of Texas A. & M. College, should make the contest even better than the one just concluded.

This year according to Williams there are four groups set up for the competing flocks. In the 100-300 hen flocks, there are 82 entries with a total of 14,236 birds involved. In the 301 to 600 hen flocks, 32 flock owners have entries and involved are 12,988 birds. In the 601 to 1,000 size flock, there are 12 entries with a total of 10,074 birds and there are seven entries in the division for flocks of over 1,000 birds with a total of 8,626 hens. The 135 flocks in this year's contest are located in 46 different counties in the state, says Williams.

The high four flocks in each group will receive a cash award from the Texas Poultry Council, sponsors of the contest along with the poultry husbandry department of the Texas A. & M. College System.

Elinor King Honored Friday Afternoon

The Halloween motif was carried out in decorations and refreshments when Dorothy Elinor King celebrated her eleventh birthday, Friday afternoon, November 4.

The party was held at the community building with Elinor's own invited guests attending.

Mrs. John King, mother of the honoree, was assisted with hostess duties by Mrs. Bob Barnett, Mrs. G. V. Rose and Mrs. Alvin Horton.

Skeletons, black cats, and pumpkins decorated the hall and the serving table was centered with the big birthday cake flanked by tall orange tapers.

Poppers were used as favors and nut cups were filled with nuts, mints and jelly beans.

As Mrs. King received and registered the guests, she pinned a

Among the many nice gifts, were two pigeons.

He further stated that the indications are to a trend to socialize newspapers and education as well as medicine.

First Car-Load Peas Shipped This Season

The first peas to be shipped from the county in car-load lots went out Thursday, October 20, Silas Henry, agent for the M-K-T Railway, has reported. These were shipped for Singley Brothers, and were sent to the Consolidated Seed Company at San Antonio.

This car-load shipment included 45,000 pounds.

Although peas, both food and stock types, have been grown in the county for a number of years, it is only within the last two or three years that they have come to the front commercially. Practically all are now grown in the Quail area.

Jones of Singley Brothers said that most of the peas in the car shipment were raised by Frank Bourland and Fred Bourland of Marella and were the Brahma stock variety. In addition to these, a considerable amount have gone out by truck. This represents only a portion of the crop, since there was a large acreage of peas grown under contract which have been delivered to Lubbock.

The local market price on peas is $6.00 per hundred on cream peas and $4.00 on stock peas.

"This is the first year we have handled peas, and it looks like there will be more and more of them during the next few years," Mr. Singley predicted.

He pointed to their soil building qualities, as well as to the fact that the entire Quail area is adapted to their growth, and they are proving a profitable crop for that part of the county.

Principal growers this year have been Fred and Frank Bourland, Osa Black, J. L. Langley, J. W. Canada, Obie White, Ople White, George Stephens, French Self, C. R. Baker, Clarence Blevins and Ben Morris.

Ripe Turkey Prices Top

COLLEGE STATION — Turkeys with pin feathers on their back and along the side of the breast are not ripe and are not ready for marketing. If your turkeys are in this condition, says George Draper, of the Texas A. & M. College System poultry husbandry department, you should start now to get them in top market condition.

Draper suggests that turkeys, not yet ripe, should be placed on full feed and should have their range limited. By full feed, he means that a finishing mash should be kept before the birds. He says you can also give your turkeys free access to home grown grains and don't forget to provide them with plenty of fresh water. He adds that turkeys will eat more feed if they have a good shade and now is the time when you want them to eat.

Five to six pounds of feed will be required to put a pound of gain on the birds, but Draper says, since you are utilizing home grown grains, you will profit two ways. You will increase the quality of your birds and thus receive a higher selling price and the gain you put on will cost less per pound than what you should receive when you sell.

If your turkeys have been running on the range and are wormy, Draper says they should be dewormed before placing them on the finishing ration. It is a good idea to move the waterers and feeders at least twice per week for this will eliminate the chances of re-infestation from worms, he adds, and decrease the possibilities for disease outbreaks.

Rural Telephone Bill Passed by Congress

Five years after it was first proposed, a rural telephone bill, passed in the last hours of the first session of the 80th Congress, was signed by President Truman on October 28, Orval Couch said this week.

Authored by Sen. Lister Hill (Ala.) and Rep. W. R. Poage (Tex.), the bill permits the Rural Electrification Administration to make loans, similar to those now being made for rural electric lines, for the construction of rural telephone facilities.

Congress has authorized $25,000,000 for loans during the present fiscal year, which ends June 30. Written into the law is a provision that during the first year

Had RHEUMATISM So BAD That He Had To Quit Working

*Caused by dietary deficiency.

Mr. Jerry Watkins, chief of detectives of the city of Hot Springs, Arkansas, suffered with rheumatism so much and the aches and pains were so terrible that he had to quit working in an effort to regain his health after he had tried everything which his friends recommended.

Detective Watkins is well known and his countless number of friends throughout the country will rejoice to know that he is now healthy, free of rheumatic aches and pains and now working hard.

Mr. Jerry Watkins

"For several years," Mr. Watkins says, "I suffered from a rheumatic condition in the hip and leg. I was very nervous and finally developed migraine headaches. I tried all kinds of medicines but nothing seemed to do me any good. I seemed to be growing worse and worse and was finally advised to take a leave of absence from my work on the police force in an effort to recover my health."

"The pains in my head sometimes were unbearable. I suffered tortures and I was miserable. At night particularly I lay awake and could not sleep."

Mr. Watkins said that someone finally persuaded him to try HADACOL, and after taking the first bottle he said he could see an improvement in his general condition.

"On January 14th of this year," he said, "I felt so much better I decided to go back on the job. The examining doctor told me I was in perfect health. Now I am working from 8 to 12 hours daily and I am able to sleep as any normal person. I have taken six large size bottles of HADACOL and all my friends know I owe my good health to HADACOL."

Mr. Watkins is one of the many thousands of people who suffered from a deficiency of the B vitamins and the minerals that HADACOL contains and who, therefore, found relief in HADACOL.

It is a well-known scientific fact that the lack of only a small amount of the B vitamins and certain minerals in your system will cause certain bodily disorders such as nutritional neuritis, which causes the aches and pains commonly known as rheumatism, and there is no known cure for the ailment except the administration of the needed vitamins and minerals. This is why people who suffered for years and years never were able to obtain any relief until they took the vitamins and minerals the lack of which was causing the disorders.

HADACOL does not contain only one but has five of the B vitamins and four necessary minerals. It comes to you in liquid form so that it will be easily absorbed by the blood and, therefore, carried to the parts of the body which need them most.

So, it matters not where you live—no matter who you are—if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, you should be fair to yourself and give this wonderful preparation, HADACOL, a trial. And if your disease is caused by a lack of the B vitamins and minerals which HADACOL contains, then don't go on suffering—don't continue to make your life so miserable. Temporary relief for you is not enough. Take HADACOL.

Sold at all leading drugstores. Trial size only $1.25, but save money; buy the large family economy size, only $3.50. If your drugstore does not handle HADACOL, order direct from The Le Blanc Corporation, Lafayette, La., and when the postman brings your package, just pay the amount plus the c.o.d. and postage. If you remit with the order we will pay the postage.

Then, if you don't feel perfectly satisfied after using HADACOL as directed, just return the empty carton and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Nothing could be fairer.—Adv.

PIPE DREAM

The man with the pipe seems puzzled by the "Man With a Pipe," by French painter Ernest Enodo. The picture was one of a group of realist, surrealist and cubist paintings and sculpture exhibited in Paris by "Les Surindependents" whose artistic motto is "Independence and Discipline."

no loans to new companies can be considered until all applications from existing companies already serving in the same area receive final action.

Judging by testimony from small independent companies and mutuals, when Congress was gathering testimony on the rural telephone situation, the need of the small existing companies is so great that there seems slight chance that any new companies will be able to secure loans during the coming months, unless the existing companies are slow in making applications.

Although the loans are being made by the Rural Electrification Administration and rural electric cooperatives vigorously supported the bill, since telephone service makes the maintenance of electric service easier, at this time it does not seem likely that the rural electric systems themselves will build rural lines.

It is possible, however, that in some sparsely populated rural areas where economy is of the utmost importance that some organizational arrangement whereby use of the same poles for electric and telephone service can be made. Such joint-use arrangements have been made in the past between rural electric systems and telephone companies.

American Telephone and Telegraph, along with a few of the larger independent companies, bitterly fought the Hill-Poage bill in Congress on the grounds that it would mean subsidized competition to them. Proponents of the bill pointed out that it permits loans only in areas where adequate telephone service does not exist or is not planned for the near future and that the loans do not mean subsidization, since they must be repaid with interest.

Congressmen supporting the bill also pointed out that some such assistance in furthering rural telephone improvement and expansion

There's Money in Blow Sand

Osa Black Plows Sand Deep For Production

"We will be plowing this old blow sand two to three feet deep in a few years," predicts Osa Black, highly successful farmer of the Quail community, in Collingsworth County, who had 1,000 acres in cultivation this year. His farm is two miles north of the Quail community stores.

Black, who invested fully $5,000 in additional equipment this year alone for the purpose, plowed 600 acres of his deep sand last fall and winter to a depth of from 18 to 23 inches with a mold board that had a 23-inch clearance.

"It took two of these small tractors to pull that plow," admits the Quail farmer, who has been farming in Collingsworth County the past 20 years. "But I started this deep plowing back in 1937 with a team of mules and have been at it ever since."

Osa Black is a great believer in peas and peanuts for this deep sand. He harvested 300 acres of peas this summer and 200 acres in peanuts. On top of those two crops, he has 500 acres in cotton this year. His peas had followed rye.

"But I will cut down another year as we have been working too much land," he says. "With the help of three men, we worked day and night for 30 days, 12 to 16 hours day, Sundays included. My cotton will be cut back to 150 acres another year. And I'll never plant any more without fertilizing the crop. We use about 35 pounds of fertilizer to the acre."

But that fertilized crop has to be plowed about once a week during the height of the growing season, Black says. This fact alone calls for a lot of additional work in the crop.

Black carries out all the ACA practices he is allowed. The limit for one farmer has been raised to $2,500 for 1950.

Incidentally, Black received $204 per ton for his peanuts this time.

is a necessity, since rural service has actually degenerated instead of progressing during the past few decades.

It took about three acres to produce a ton.

In addition to his crops, Osa Black is feeding out about 300 hogs a year.

A member of the PMA homestead, Black also is a member of the Quail school board. He and his wife have six sons and daughters in school. During August he had his farm home remodelled and added two more rooms. He also has a home in Wellington.

But Osa Black is leading a group of farmers who are bringing back the old worn-out blowy sand of Collingsworth County into production.

"I am using the wind to help as I clean off the tops of the sand ridges so the winds blow it down," he explained.

And those sand ridges are disappearing fast from Osa Black's farmlands.

Early New England women bleached their sheets by spreading them with sour milk and putting them in the sun.
