

$300 FOR EACH PUPIL FROM POOR FAMILY

Busing Moratorium Plea

(AP WIREPHOTO)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon formally asked Congress today to block temporarily all further pupil-busing orders by the federal courts while it wrestles with long-range proposals to equalize the quality of education in all schools.

In an 8,000-word special message, Nixon recommended that a moratorium on new busing remain in effect until July 1, 1973—or until Congress acts on broader legislation at some earlier date.

The chief executive said he was convinced that the Senate and House have the constitutional power, under the 14th Amendment, to call a temporary halt to further court-ordered busing.

FEDERAL AID

In addition to calling for the moratorium, Nixon proposed a new equal educational opportunities law that would channel special federal aid to schools with a large enrollment—over 30 per cent—from poor families.

The amount of aid would total about $2.5 billion and would amount to roughly $300 for each pupil coming from a poor family.

Before sending his message to Capitol Hill, Nixon held an early morning White House conference with the Democratic and Republican leadership of the Senate and House.

The message was a follow-up to a television-radio address Thursday night in which he argued that his proposals "would focus our efforts where they really belong—on better education for all of our children rather than on more busing for some of our children."

In his message to Congress, Nixon argued that his recommendations "would not roll back the Constitution, or undo the great advances that have been made in ending school segregation, or undermine the continuing drive for equal rights."

He said "this administration means what it says about dismantling racial barriers, about opening up jobs and housing and schools and opportunity to all Americans."

In advance of the message, many observers had wondered how Nixon would go about fashioning a busing moratorium without risking successful challenges to his plan in the federal courts.

The President noted that the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, under which school desegregation cases have arisen, specifically empowers Congress "to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article." He went on:

"Until now, enforcement has been left largely to the courts—which have operated within a limited range of available remedies, and in the limited context of case law rather than of statutory law.

CONFUSION

"I propose that the Congress now accept the responsibility and use the authority given to it under the 14th Amendment to clear up the confusion which contradictory court orders have created and to establish reasonable national standards."

The proposed equal educational opportunities law would bar any state or locality from denying equal educational opportunity to any person because of race, color or national origin.

APPEAL CONSIDERED

Caton Throws Hospital Suit Out Of Court

District Judge R. W. Caton Thursday dismissed the suit of J. T. Langley et al vs. the Howard County Commissioners Court et al on the ground that the plaintiffs had no basis for their suit.

Suit challenging the creation of the Howard County Hospital Authority was filed Jan. 13 in 118th District Court. Plaintiffs alleged in the suit that the 1970 commissioners court acted illegally in creating the authority and they sought to enjoin the board of directors of the authority from acting in behalf of the authority. The authority was created as a vehicle through which Medical Center Memorial Hospital could receive federal funds for hospital improvements.

In dismissing the suit, Judge Caton ruled that individuals do not have the right to challenge the action of an incorporated or governing body unless they can show specific damage done to themselves, and separate from damage incurred by the rest of the citizenry.

Plaintiffs may appeal Judge Caton's ruling to the State Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland.

Defendants in the case are County Judge A. G. Mitchell and Commissioners Bill Bennett, Bill Crooker, Jack Buchanan and Simon Terrazas and authority board members Joe Pickle, Clyde Angel, J. R. Anderson, K. H. McGibbon, Truman Jones and J. M. Woodall. John T. Ferguson, local attorney, represented the authority board, and County Attorney Bill Eysen represented the county officials.

George Thomas, local attorney, filed the suit on behalf of plaintiffs Langley, B. T. Chrane, L. D. Chrane and Clyde (Shorty) Johnston.

Warns Utility Hikes Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission today announced new, sharpened guidelines for utility rates but warned the nation that big increases will be necessary to pay for the service it wants.

The regulations put limits on the rate of return that utilities may realize from increased rates, and added provisions requiring them to take into account increased productivity and to absorb labor costs that increase more than 5.5 per cent.

Also, the commission made provisions to hand over final authority on utility rate increases to existing regulatory bodies that come up with acceptable anti-inflationary policies.

Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said the regulations would require reductions in some requested rate increases but not in others. He had no estimate of how much utility rates might go up under the new rules.

But he warned, "We urge the consumers of the nation to realize that when you demand service, you have to pay for it. You don't get something for nothing."

He said that four days of public hearings on utility rates made it clear that some large increases are going to be necessary in order to continue "adequate, safe and pollution-free services."

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — "I picked up this morning to a door, and there was an old man," Speaker Gus Mutscher said today.

Mutscher, wearing a nylon zip-trouser and a new pair of slippers, walked through his sunroom offices carrying his baby son in his arms.

Gus Hurley Mutscher will be a year old next Wednesday, a week after his father was convicted by an Abilene jury of conspiracy to accept a bribe from Houston promoter Frank Sharp. Mutscher said.

"He wants to spend time with his daddy now," Mutscher said.

Mutscher was smiling as he made the rounds of the offices along the corridor behind the speaker's chamber. It is virtually certain he never again will preside over a session of the House.

Mutscher was not expected to be in the speaker's apartment and housekeeping in Brenham, his hometown, before the legislature returns in special session; probably late this month.

Judges Study Show Stock

4-H and FFA members will show 44 steers and 81 lambs beginning at 5 p.m. today at the newly enlarged and renovated Howard County show and fair barns.

The annual show began Thursday with the sifting, weighing and classifying of the show animals.

The lambs will be shown today, and with the steers taking over at about 7 p.m. The sale of prize-winning animals will be at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The lamb judge this year is Oliver Werst, Glasscock County agent. Billy Reagor, Martin County agent, will judge the steers. The sifting Thursday was handled by Bobby Lemons, Mitchell County agent.

The ladies of the 10 Howard County Home Demonstration Clubs will be in charge of concession booths this year. All proceeds will be used to help with show expenses.

Step R. B. McAlister of Lubbock, who introduced Mutscher to the former Miss America who became his wife, said Thursday it was 99 per cent certain that the speaker would resign.

HUMILIATION Not resigning would subject him to the further humiliation of being removed from office by a vote of the house.

When Smith calls the special session, the house will be plunged into an immediate battle over who takes over as speaker until the start of the 1973 regular session.

Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine claims about 92 out of 150 votes. He is a candidate for 1973 speaker and says he is the front-runner.

But McAlister, who is taking care of the speaker's office's day-to-day routine for Mutscher, says there is a "better than 50-50 chance" Price's plans will be foiled.

EMERSON'S PAPERS DESTROYED

Howard J. Aibel, ITT senior vice president and general counsel, said that after the meeting staff members and their secretaries reviewed their files and disposed of what he called "unneeded documents, most of them old and outdated materials."

Delay Of ITT Lobbyist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Judiciary Committee day postponed testimony from John Holloman, counsel for the committee, made the announcement. The trip had been planned for next Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Beard, now in a Denver hospital, has been reported suffering from a heart ailment.

Committee testimony Thursday developed that within a day of learning that columnist Jack Anderson had a private ITT memorandum in his possession, ITT mobilized its full Washington staff to destroy all documents that might be "misused or misconstrued" by Anderson.

On Feb. 24, an Anderson associate, Brit Hume, appeared at ITT's Washington office with a memo written by Mrs. Beard.

The next morning, W. R. Merriam, head of the office, told the staff of 25 there was a possibility of theft and that they were to check to see if any documents were missing.

"At the same time they were told to remove any documents that were no longer needed for current operations as well as documents which, if put into Mr. Anderson's possession,

Highland Mall Is Scene Of Scout Exposition

Several hundred Boy Scouts and Cubs, together with their volunteer leaders, will present part of the story of Scouting in a massive display Saturday.

It will be in the form of the annual Scout Exposition set for 2 p.m.-5 p.m. in the Highland Mall.

Nineteen units will put up displays, requiring 30 booth spaces.

Capt. Clyde McLeod, general chairman, and his aides will chalk in the boothspaces before 8 a.m. Saturday, and the gates open at that time to the units for building booths and installing their displays.

Everything is to be in place by 2 p.m. During the morning judges will look over the installation work to grade units on boy participation. Results will be announced at the close of the show, and ribbons will be awarded.

Jerry Armstrong, in charge of booths and tickets, urged all unit leaders to complete their ticket sales check-in by 4 p.m. in order to gain maximum credit for the unit's share.

Some of the units which have announced themes are: Pack 202, games; Pack 29, American Heritage; Pack 179, Cub Scouting develops the boy; Troop 8, electricity; Pack 45, kite building; Troop 146, wildlife; Troop 179, out-of-doors; Pack 1, bottom of the sea; Pack 100, Texas wax museum; Troop 1, Indian lore; and Pack 138, feats of skill. The eight remaining units had not announced their theme.

All-Out Texas Oil Flow

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Texas' nearly 200,000 oil wells will go on full-scale production two weeks from today to try to satisfy the nation's growing appetite for energy.

Union Oil Company of California, said, "Things look rosy on the demand side—not so on the supply side."

Executives predicted Americans would use 4 to 6 per cent more petroleum products this year than in 1971, but said it was getting harder and harder to obtain oil without bringing it from overseas.

"This is a damn historic occasion and a sad occasion," Commission Chairman Byron Tunnell said, just prior to announcing the 100 per cent factor for April, an increase of 14 per cent from March.

Wallace Brings His Campaign To Texas

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — After a day of work in the office, Gov. George C. Wallace is on the campaign trail again today with a speech to an Alabama teacher organization and a news conference in Texas.

His campaign people say he is counting most heavily on seven key states where he figures he can make the best showing — Wisconsin on April 4, Pennsylvania April 25, Indiana May 2, Tennessee May 4, North Carolina May 6, and Maryland and Michigan on May 16.

When Wallace appears Friday morning at the Alabama Education Association annual convention in Birmingham, he will probably make a plea for voter support for Alabama delegates pledged to him.

Ex-Dallas Cop Charged With Bank Robbery

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Authorities plucked one man from Dallas Thursday and found another in Beeville before placing the pair in Corpus Christi jail on charges of robbing the Gulfway National Bank.

Other primaries in which the Alabama governor is running are Rhode Island on April 11, Massachusetts April 25, Nebraska and West Virginia May 9, and New Mexico June 6. He is on the Oregon ballot, but whether he will campaign actively for the May 23 primary there is undetermined.

Wallace got a big start in delegate commitment Tuesday with his victory in the Florida primary, where he drew 42 per cent of the votes and 75 of the state's 81 convention delegates.

Design Your Own Check Craze Picking Up Loot

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Alimony checks a Sausalito, Calif., man sends to his ex-wife show a photograph of him kissing his new wife.

The man is one of hundreds cashing in on a new craze—design your own check.

Since the Bank of Marin began the design-a-check service four months ago, it has been swamped with new accounts, new check orders and inquiries from banks in Missouri, New York, Florida and other states, assistant cashier Kitty Jones said here.

Advertising executive H. Samm Coombs plugs his agency with checks that bear a photograph of him sitting on a soapbox.

Elf Shelto, a bookkeeper, has checks illustrated with an elf drawing.

Gary and Lynn Imm's checks were designed by their young son, who drew a portrait of the Imm family.

Customers may bring in a drawing or photograph of whatever they want on their checks, as long as it's not in checkable taste, Mrs. Jones said. The checks cost $4.95 for 200.

Designs may be superimposed across the entire check or put in a corner so the name isn't crowded. Two colors

Boy Stealer

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM.

DESIGNING SISTER: (Q.) My sister is a year older than I and says I'm stupid and the boys I go with are stupid.

But she steals them from me. She has stolen several. A boy usually lasts me about a month, maybe two, and then he's hers.

If he calls when I'm gone and she's home, I'm dead. She answers the phone and puts on a dumb little high-pitched Northern accent. The next time I see that boy, he's probably coming by to pick her up.

I love her, but I won't love her long if she keeps stealing my boy friends. What can I do? — Little Sister, Age 16, in Alabama.

(A.) No one can steal a boy from a girl if he seriously cares for her.

No girl who seriously cares for one boy will try to steal another girl's boys wholesale. This goes for sisters as well as just friends.

When you find your boy and your sister finds hers, this charade will stop. For your sake, I hope it is soon.

PERSPIRATION: (Q.) I have a perspiration problem. It smells bad. I went to two doctors about it and they told me exactly nothing.

My boy friend doesn't mind it, and we plan to get married in a year or two. But other people do. They say things. I had a job at school but quit because the boss threw hints at me about my odor.

I bathe three times a day most days — sometimes four — and never wear anything twice. So it isn't uncleanliness. Please tell me how I can conquer my problem. — Unhappy in Michigan.

(A.) You may not be able to conquer it. But you can tame it into something you can live with.

Each time you bathe use a deodorant. Twice a day use an antiperspirant. Wear blouses or shirts or dresses with sleeves. Under the sleeves wear under-arm shields (you can get them at your department store).

With this routine your perspiration should be under control. And you should be able to get by with fewer baths — maybe just one a day.

Altho six clubs is a routine contract inasmuch as there are 12 top tricks available, it was rather natural to glide into six spades. When South opened the bidding with one spade, North had sufficient to flash the slam signal by making a jump shift to three clubs. South temporized by rebidding his suit and North showed the fit by raising to four spades. South made a slam try by cue bidding the ace of diamonds and since North had all the missing controls, he proceeded directly to six spades.

UNEMPLOYMENT BLUES—III

Women, Teens Hunting

By JEAN HELLER Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in its history, the United States is facing an unemployment crisis that cannot be cured simply by increasing the demand for labor.

Newspaper classified pages already are full of job offers that go begging because the people who need work generally haven't the skills to fill the available openings.

Throughout 1971, the jobless rate hovered around 6 per cent, a recessionary level. Last month, the rate fell to 5.7 per cent, but even if that decline signals a trend, economists do not believe it will go deep enough into the basic problem to cure it.

PRIME WORK FORCE

The crisis is one of structural unemployment, joblessness among women and teenagers, problems which economists say must be tackled with innovative and massive federal programs.

The January figures issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics showed the unemployment rate for adult women to be 5 per cent. For teenagers, it was a massive 18.8 per cent. By contrast, it was just 4 per cent for all adult men and only 2.8 per cent among married men, the last two groups considered by many to be the nation's prime work force.

The unemployment rate among women and teenagers is high because the entire structure of the American labor force has shifted in the last 10 years. The teenage labor force has grown by 2.5 million, and women in the labor force have increased by 7 million. At the same time, the adult male labor force decreased by 4 million.

BABY BOOM

Labor Department economists say the influx of young workers reflects the post World War II baby boom. That boom is, in part, also responsible for the influx of women—the mothers of those postwar babies who are no longer tied to their homes by their children.

"We hear complaints all the time because the unemployment statistics reflect the housewives looking for part-time work," said BLS economist John E. Bregger.

"How in the hell do they know if she needs the job? Maybe it's very important to her and her family. Nobody's got the right to question her motives."

Yet the fact is that a woman

JOBLESS — Unemployment in the U.S. hovered around six per cent in 1971, a recessionary level. The jobless rate in February fell to 5.7 per cent but some economists believe that even if this figure indicates a trend, it will not be enough to cure the basic problem of structural employment: joblessness among women and teenagers.

Disproportionate

The business-oriented board of governors that runs the U.S. Postal Service can be expected to push hard for getting the mails into the black. No one takes exception to this; it was an important part of the rationale underlying the shift to the present public corporation setup more or less independent of Congress.

There is reason to fear that in its efforts to make the mails pay off the board may cripple a basic postal service concept that has served the nation well since early times.

This is the idea that the low rate for second-class mail — newspapers and periodicals — has significant public educational value, helping in the ready dissemination of all shades of opinion on all sorts of issues.

The Postal Service now is talking of a 145-percent increase in second-class mail rates over the next five years. Such a jump in the cost of mailing would be a heavy blow to periodicals, even the news magazines and others with huge nationwide circulations. The blow would fall even more harshly on the journals of opinion, and might spell their doom. Newspapers would be hit, too, but it is the periodicals — and especially the little journals with low advertising budgets — that would be hardest hit.

One curious aspect of the situation is that a far smaller increase — only 24 per cent — is proposed for third-class mail. This category encompasses the bulk mail, which is in the main commercial rather than educational or informative. The rationale for such a small boost in third-class rates is that this type of mail already pays for itself.

The answer is that it ought to pay for itself and, in addition, along with other categories of mail, help take up some of the slack on second-class rates. It would be a poor bargain for the public were the Postal Service, in its zeal to make ends meet, to wind up delivering the coup de grace to useful publications.

Nature Held In Trust

Writing in the Corpus Christi Caller Times, Robert M. Jackson had a word to say about proposal for development of the seashore along Mustang and Padre Islands.

Pressures for commercial development, already great, are bound to jump once a new causeway and high bridge to Padre is opened to traffic.

"There are now a lot of us who believe that the greatest tourist attraction, as well as the greatest benefit to the most people, will result from restoring as much of the islands as possible to their primitive condition and keeping them that way." He also quoted from a National Park survey more than a dozen years ago: "Padre Island represents one of the last remaining opportunities for this nation to preserve such a length of beach in its natural state. In future years, America's growing population will have few chances to experience and gain inspiration from a vast sweep of ocean shore unaltered by man to preserve America's longest island beach will (provide) a place where future generations of Americans can experience a wide spaciousness that is their heritage."

Within reasonable limits of accessibility and convenience, park areas are in need of man's touch, but beyond that, the preservation of these works of nature for future generations is essential. Those who follow are entitled to these blessings which we hold in trust.

Could Be A Way

Around The Rim

Brian Peay

A controversial issue, which has been on the city books for a lengthy period, has surfaced again this past week, and still the city administrators and commissioners do not know how to settle the question.

THE PROBLEM, which has cultivated the controversy, concerns the growing number of mobile home owners in the city not paying taxes on their property.

And twice now the city council has brought the issue up for discussion in an effort to solve the dilemma, each time bringing the wrath of a good portion of the mobile home owners down on their heads.

TUESDAY NIGHT an amendment was proposed to the city mobile home ordinance, calling for a yearly inspection of all mobile homes in the city at a rate of $24. City administrators reasoned that this procedure would bring all mobile home owners into conformity with the city regulations concerning taxes.

Consequently the administration and commission was forced to hear the adverse opinions of many owners in the meeting, and finally conceded the issue needed to be studied further. The amendment was tabled.

GRANTED THERE are good arguments on each side of the issue, the city's and the mobile home owners.

On one hand, there are between 1,000 and 2,000 mobile homes in the city, and currently there are only 160 on the tax rolls, out of which 60 owners are delinquent in their taxes. The city does have a problem, in that there is a huge majority of owners getting city services, but not paying for them.

However, on the other hand, the city has approximately 100 owners, who are paying their taxes. It is only logical that if the proposed regulation is put on all owners, those who are paying their taxes are being discriminated against.

A MAN WHO kicks his good dog, because of his bad dog's actions could possibly end up with two bad dogs.

In my opinion there is a more simple solution to the problem. The city should correct the owners that are at fault by passing strict legislation that would bring them into conformity. And the city has the means by which to do this.

WHY COULD not the city concentrate more on depressing the spot zoning in Big Spring, even to the point of halting it completely. This is already being done to a certain extent. Then the administration could assess on a pro-rated plan each mobile home park owner the personal property taxes owed by the home owners in his lot.

In turn, the lot owners could raise their lot rent fees to cover the tax load. Then the city could concentrate on bringing into conformity those home owners who have already spotted their mobile homes across the city.

This way when the mobile home owner leaves the city, he has already paid his taxes through rent, and the city is not left holding the proverbial bag.

THIS IS only an opinion or a suggestion, and possibly could be too simple to incorporate into such a complex city system. Often times a simple solution is better for everyone involved, rather than years of controversial head butting.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

Upon becoming a Christian should I give up my profession in the technical field and become a missionary or preacher? Or should I serve God in my chosen profession? D.F.

It would be a mistake to believe that every one who became a Christian should be a missionary or preacher. To begin with, not all would be qualified or suited to a special ministry, and if they were, there would be no one to preach to — for all would be preachers in the church. I could not imagine anything more confusing.

However, I believe that in a sense we are all to be witnesses — preachers and missionaries, regardless of our vocation. A Christian carpenter should be a Christian first, and a carpenter second. A Christian lawyer should be a Christian first, and a lawyer second. This was true in the New Testament, and they got the job done. Paul was an apostle first, then a tent-maker second. It was obvious by his writings that the central interest of his life was Christ, and not his tentmaking. This should be so today, if we are to win the world for Christ. As far as the church is concerned, there is just one preacher, the pastor. But as far as the world is concerned, we must all be pro-

Brokers Peddle Junk

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — We approach now that stage in the stock market where weak companies go public, brokers peddle junk, parimutuel betters spend mornings watching the tape and mutual funds talk of performance.

Nothing unusual about such a phase; it's as predictable if not as regular as the seasons. You know it's that time again when your friend favors you with a hot tip. And asks for one.

Amateur speculators either forget or don't care to recall that:

1. The company must have consistent and superior growth in earnings.

2. This growth, says Carney, should be at least 9 per cent a year per share. Moreover, the company should be able to maintain this record year after year, even in times of adverse business conditions.

3. The company should have a consistent market. The demand for its products should be strong year in and year out.

4. An example of such a market is that for razor blades or paper napkins. Many companies selling disposal products qualify here, but building supply companies and other businesses can't be overlooked.

5. The company should dominate its market or at least be a leader in a fast-growing field.

6. Carney says he would prefer to have the stock of the leading company breeding tropical fish than that of a little firm trying to make a better transistor or electronic computer.

7. If the company cannot meet criterion No. 3 then it should be a company in an emerging field or one developing new concepts in an established field.

For example: Furniture stores that stock items and offer immediate delivery rather than a two-month wait; delivery services which guarantee overnight service, although at a price higher than charged by the Post Office.

8. The company should be well managed.

9. The smaller the company, the more crucial it is that it have good management. The smaller the company the more you should know about its management.

10. "You might buy IBM without personally knowing its management, but you should not buy stock in a tiny electronics firm or its equivalent without having met their people."

11. The stock should have a higher return on equity.

12. To qualify as a true growth stock, says Carney, the company should earn at least 20 per cent a year on its investment. That is, if the company has net worth of $10 million, it should earn $2 million a year.

13. If you tuck these reminders in your wallet, Carney suggests, you're less likely to be caught up in the speculative fever that, ironically, is often caught from your best friend.

Red Hot Conclave

Garth Jones

Texas Democrats with weak hearts that can't stand much excitement had better skip the upcoming state convention June 13 in San Antonio.

"We're trying to make plans for two or three or maybe even four days," says a harried worker at State Democratic Headquarters in Austin, "but frankly we don't know what is going to happen."

THAT MAY become the political understatement of the year.

At the worst, the convention could split with a walkout of dissidents, resulting in a rump delegation to Miami Beach July 10 contesting the regular delegation in a similar to the Chicago spectacular in 1968.

At the very best, the convention appears likely to set new longevity records with wave after wave of hot arguments and debates over new national guidelines that say the national convention delegation must accurately reflect the sex, age, race and political leanings of all Texas Democrats — not just the winners.

The Republicans expect no such trouble at their June 12-13 session in Galveston. There likely will be a few skirmishes but plenty of time for the usual GOP pomp and ceremony plus a little fun making on the beach. Their main task is to select 52 delegates to their Aug. 21 national convention in San Diego.

YOU CAN be sure that campaign fund raising will be a major top of discussion at each battle site.

There are no announcements yet but each general session is sure to be preceded by a political gala, rally, dinner, extravaganza, reception, spectacular, etc. — anything to squeeze a few more campaign dollars out of the party faithful.

These fund raising ducats may find a slow sale in the GOP ranks since Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., is their only big name candidate but the avalanche of contested races in the Democratic fold should encourage lively competition for tickets.

DEMOCRATIC FAT cats may find times a little tough. Since the new national guidelines says there must be an adequate number of women, young people and minority races in the Miami Beach delegation there apparently won't be quite as much room for the wealthy party supporters who already have suites reserved overlooking the Atlantic. There has even been some talk — without much response — of setting up special funds to send people to Miami Beach who could not afford it otherwise.

After the spirited 1968 national Democratic convention in Chicago, punctuated by tear gas and stink bombs, the national party set out guidelines saying "we believe that state parties should be on notice that whenever the proportion of women, minorities and young people in a delegation offered for seating in Miami is less than the proportion of these groups in the total population, and the delegation is challenged, then such a challenge will constitute a prima facie showing of violation of the guidelines."

AN SDEC subcommittee has been studying the delegation guidelines for close to two years now. At first they appeared wedded to a plan that would let a straw vote of precinct delegates on possible presidential nominees dictate much of the delegation strength. Then there was a surprising switch and the subcommittee recommended to the SDEC that it adopt a 51 per cent winner-take-all plan that has brought stern warnings from the national party, the governor, lieutenant governor, and Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex.

It also has brought a number of thinly veiled threats of walkouts at the state convention with the political rebels making a final appeal to the national party in Miami Beach.

"GOOD LUCK and God speed if your motives are good," one prominent liberal Democratic leader told the SDEC subcommittee. "If your motives are not, I'll see you in Miami."

NEW YORK (AP) — Did your mother come from Ireland? Did your father? Or your grandmother or grandfather?

Well, one of the few things they probably brought here besides the gift of blarney, was a name. The history of Ireland is written in its storied names.

Here, for St. Patrick's Day, are a few popular Irish-American names and what they mean:

- Barney—A pet form of Barnabas, son of prophecy.
- Barry—One who is diligent.
- Bogan—Soft or tender.
- Bolger — The light-complexioned man; one who made leather bags.
- Boyle—Proud or vain pledge.
- Burke—Dweller at the fortified place.
- Clancy—Bloody warrior.

Cochran—Confident.

Cody—The helper or assistant.

Coffey—Victorious.

Cohan—The priest.

Collins—A pet form of Nicholas (people, victory).

Conside—Constant.

Coogan—Contention or strife.

Corbett—Dweller at the sign of the raven.

Coughlin—A hooded cloak.

Cullen—A cub or puppy; the handsome person.

Deegan—Black head.

Delaney—Grandson of the challenger.

Devlin—Descendant of the plasterer or dauber.

Dooley—Black hero.

Doyle—The swarthy stranger or foreigner.

Eagan—Rustic.

Farrell—Supervisor.

Finnegan—Fair.

Fitzpatrick—Noble or patrician.

Fitzgerald—Firm spear.

Flanery—Bright ruler.

Flanagan—The little red man.

Flynn—The red-haired or ruddy-complexioned man.

Gavin—Hawk of battle.

Gilligan—Descendant of the little servant.

Gleason—Descendant of the little blue-clothed man.

Hagerty—Unjust.

Hanlon—Great hero or warrior.

Hanrahan—Warrior or champion.

Harrigan—Champion.

Hearn—The little fearful or distrustful one.

Hogan—Young.

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Gov. George Wallace of Alabama has done some penetrating work in his campaign in Florida's presidential primary. He has stressed the busing issue in its many aspects. It will be interesting to read President Nixon's recommendations on the subject today, because it is beginning to be one of the biggest controversies before the country today.

THE ALABAMA governor, in a television interview on ABC's "Issues and Answers," pointed out that busing has been going on for a long time and often was necessary for children who lived in the rural areas or some distance from the schools they attended. He added:

"But when you close a school down in one section of town in order to force students to go across the city, either by bus or by their own conveyance, it is artificial. It is something that is rejected, and that is the type of busing that the average citizen is opposed to. They believed in freedom of choice and they had freedom of choice, and that has been destroyed by some executive court

GOV. WALLACE emphasized that the key point is the destruction of neighborhood schools "in order to force them out of the school system to bring about a certain racial quota in another section of town." He also explained that busing over long distances has aroused the ire of many parents. He stated:

"I do feel that you have to obey the law, but the law does not require arbitrary busing. It does not require busing to achieve racial balance. In fact, it is prohibited in the 1954 decision. We have to obey whatever the law is, whether we like the law or not, and the decision of '54 says non-discrimination.

"I THINK THAT the best school system is the school system developed and controlled by a people locally within the State of California and the State of Alabama, but we don't have that now so we have to accept the least disruptive practice that has been imposed upon us by the federalists at this time, and that is the freedom of choice system."

A Devotion For Today...

Do everything without any grumbling or disputing, so that you will be blameless and honest . . . in the midst of a crooked and perverted age, in which you appear like stars in a dark world, offering men the message of life. — Philippians 2:14-6 (Goodspeed)

PRAYER: O God, we thank You for the examples of honesty and of constructive words offered from Christian commitment. Help us to witness to Christ, knowing that we are not alone. Amen.

A HELPING HAND — Members of the church community have begun assisting Veterans Administration Hospital staff with the problem of feeding long-term, bed-fast patients quickly each evening and providing them with individual attention. Mrs. Ralph Smith, 1733 Yale, assists Lonzo Howard with a little tender loving care.

THANKS TO CHURCH MEMBERS Veterans Receive Visits Along With Hot Meals

By LINDA CROSS

Members of the Big Spring church community have extended a welcome helping hand to the patients in the long-term care ward at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Evening mealtime had become a drawn-out ordeal for the patients on the 4th-floor ward of the hospital. On the ward are 40 patients, 21 of whom must be hand-fed. Because the evening staff was less than the staff on the other shifts, it was difficult to get the patients fed quickly while the food was still warm, and yet be able to give each patient the individual attention needed.

Learning of the problem, Mrs. Dean Sheppard, director of volunteer services, sent out an appeal for help to the local churches, and received quick, and much needed help. Eight churches have pledged six members each to help with the evening serving through March and April.

Each church helps with serving for a full week, beginning on Sunday evening. The volunteers are assigned to patients, whom they assist in preparing for dinner, serve, and then assist with washing themselves after dinner.

Veterans receiving the visitors each evening appreciate not only the help with their meal, but take advantage of the opportunity to converse and learn what is happening in the world outside the hospital, said Mrs. Sheppard.

"Without volunteer help, the patients would be fed, but it would be a lengthy process, and the patients would be deprived of a chance to visit with members of the community," said Mrs. Sheppard.

"It's a great program, and it is pleasurable and rewarding to do something for people who can't do for themselves," said Mrs. Ralph Smith, 1733 Yale, one of the volunteer "servers."

W. K. Boling, 1000 E. 13th, has become familiar to many of the veterans. Boling learned of the hospital's need of assistance

Exam Service Set For Confirming

An examination service for the friends and parents of seven persons to be confirmed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church will be held Saturday, March 25, at 4 p.m. The Rev. Donald V. Hafemann, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Midland, will officiate.

To be confirmed Palm Sunday, March 28, at 8:30 a.m. are Sharon Craver, Gary Ehrich, Bonnie Godwin, Carmen Risetter, Robert Roever, Kim Tow and Dorinda Kaddatz.

Holy Communion service will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Good Friday, and the Rev. Hafemann will conclude his Lenten services of sermons with "Joseph of Arimathea — Tells His Side Of It." Easter Sunday service will be at 8:30 a.m.

Local Youths Win Bible Quiz Honors

Five Big Spring young people have swept the top prizes in the Lamesa Zone Bible Quiz sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene, and have won the right to participate in the district quiz April 7-8 at Arlington, Tex.

Lamesa Zone encompasses Churches of the Nazarene in Big Spring, Lamesa, Seagraves, Seminole, Andrews, Brownfield, Denver City and Grassland (near Post). Winning the zone championship for the Big Spring church were Mark Morgan, first; Sandra Woodridge, second; Jim Bill Pedigo, third; Diana McGuire, fourth; and Carol Mize, fifth. Team alternates are Gordon McGuire and Jowannah Hawkins.

All participants in the quizzes are between the ages of 12 and 19, and are active members of the Nazarene Young People's Society. Material for the quizzes is taken from the Biblical books Romans and Colossians with participants required to memorize 106 verses.

Wayne Morgan is the local bible quiz director.

If the Big Spring young people win the district contest in April at the annual Nazarene Young People's Society Convention, they will advance to the regional contest at Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Okla., April 20-21.

Five top winners at the regional contest will represent Bethany College in the international quiz June 14-17 at the International Nazarene Young People's Society Convention in Miami, Fla.

Hill Links Martin To Bank Scandal

HOUSTON (AP) — Democratic candidate for attorney general John Hill of Houston says incumbent Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin should go before a Senate or House investigating committee because he's got a lot of explaining to do.

Hill, opposing Martin in the May Democratic primary, said Thursday that Martin did not deserve re-election because of his links with Frank Sharp and for his failure to do anything about the Sharpstown bank scandal.

Hill accused Martin of being aware of National Bankers Life stock purchased in 1969 by state officials but he did nothing about them.

Deputy May Hit Reporter With Charge

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — "She hit me on the arm, not over the head," says Deputy David Dalbert of an incident with a television reporter at the Gus Mutscher trial, "but it hurt ... it swelled up."

Dalbert, a Taylor County Deputy Sheriff, said Thursday he is considering filing charges against Jessica Savitch of KHOU-TV in Houston, who said she struck him with a microphone Wednesday.

When the incident occurred, Dalbert was escorting House Speaker Gus Mutscher from the county courthouse after a jury had convicted Mutscher and two colleagues of bribery conspiracy.

The Houston newsman said she beamed an unidentified deputy over the head with her microphone after he shoved a photographer companion, Lon Kutchnell, and tried to jerk his camera away from him.

Dalbert denied he pushed or shoved anybody or tried to jerk anyone's camera from them. He said he would file charges "if the sheriff wants me to."

If he prefers charges, they will be "aggravated assault on a police officer," Dalbert said. Of possible charges, Taylor County Sheriff Ray Trammell said "I'm thinking hard about it."

Earn Credits By Campaigning

MOUNT PLEASANT, Mich. (AP) — Central Michigan University will offer students a chance to earn three credit hours in political science by campaigning May 15 to June 8 for candidates of their choice in the Oregon and California presidential primaries.

The course will be conducted by Dr. James R. Davis, author of the book "Presidential Primaries—Road to the White House."

On their return to the university campus the student campaigners would be required to write a paper on their experiences.

The $370 cost includes tuition and round-trip fare between Mount Pleasant and Portland, Ore. and San Francisco, a university spokesman said.

Nixon Proposes Bundle Of Aid To Industry, Plus Tax Relief

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has proposed a bundle of incentives to industry—including some modest tax relief, credit aids, federal cost-sharing, and even prizes—to develop new products and processes.

In a special message to Congress Thursday, Nixon promised a partnership of government and industry to marshal science and technology in solving economic problems at home and reviving American competitiveness in world trade.

The message disappointed some industry leaders who have urged changes in the anti-trust laws to encourage corporations to pool research-and-development funds for projects too big or risky for single firms.

POWER PLANT
Nixon invited the pooling of resources and sharing of profits, but did so by giving assurances, in effect, that his administration will not take antitrust action against combinations seeking needed technological breakthroughs as long as their actions do not foster monopoly.

The message reported that firms in two major industries already are pooling their resources. Electric utilities have pledged $25 million a year for the next 10 years to develop a liquid metal fast-breeder nuclear reactor, as a demonstration power plant. This, said Nixon, is part of a larger effort by electrical utilities to raise $150 million a year for research and development in producing clean electric power.

Gas companies, through the American Gas Association, have raised $10 million to accelerate their pooled effort to convert coal into gas, the message said.

MAJOR GOALS
Other major goals of the technology drive, Nixon said, are rapid, safe and pollution-free transportation; measures to reduce loss of life and property from natural disasters; improvement of drug-abuse rehabilitation programs, and stepped up medical research.

Although it is known that many tax-incentive proposals to speed research have been studied by the White House, Nixon's message made only one tax request—enactment of the small-business tax bill pending since last year.

Three Short Courses Set To Begin Coming Week

Three more short courses will be starting next week at Howard County Junior College.

They are on gunsmithing, furniture refinishing and knitting.

Starting Monday at 7 p.m. will be the course on gunsmithing with M. L. Knowlton as instructor. He is not only a gunsmith but a designer of guns and component parts. The class meets each Monday for six weeks in Room PA-111, and the fee is $15.

Beginning Tuesday will be the course on furniture refinishing, a project-type led by Mrs. Mabel Kountz. Those participating should have some piece of furniture to work on, although this is not a necessity. Mrs. Kountz has long experience in restoration of valued furniture items.

The class meets each Tuesday in Room PA-109 for six weeks for three-hour sessions beginning at 7 p.m. The charge is $15.

The basic course in knitting will begin Thursday at 7 p.m. in Room AD-1 with Mrs. Lillian Pijanowski as the instructor. It will meet in two-hour sessions for six weeks, and the charge is $10.

Three Candidates In School Race

FLOWER GROVE — Three candidates are in the race for two positions on the Flower Grove school board. The election takes place in the school cafeteria April 1 from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Absentee voting is now under way at the county clerk's office in Stanton.

Two incumbents, Leon Cave and Vernon Holcomb, are in the field. The third candidate is Ralph Williams. Cave and Holcomb have each served two terms.

The election judge will be Murray Cook.

Task Force Set For Conclave

A meeting of the agriculture task force for the Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday, 4 p.m., in the chamber conference room, according to G. C. Broughton Jr. and Gerald Miller, co-chairmen. Purpose of the session will be to develop a program of work for the year.

JURY DUTY IS AGELESS — Mrs. Hannah S. Lilly, 91, is the oldest person ever to answer a summons for jury duty in Harris County criminal courts, officials say. Mrs. Lilly, a former beautician, lives with two sisters in Houston. She said when she reported with her summons, that she has served twice before, the last time in April, 1969. She likes serving on juries, she said, but was not picked to serve last week.

Nature's Landscapes Praised By Speaker

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever," said Mrs. Jim Benetz, quoting John Keats when she spoke to Alpha Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Clarence Hays, Sand Springs.

Mrs. Benetz discussed nature's landscapes and artists' landscapes and displayed a painting by Robert Woods. She said the most natural things of beauty are skies, clouds, snow, mountains and trees, but that every place is beautiful in its own way. Each member told what they considered the most beautiful view they had seen in the United States.

Sewing Group Is Completing Quilts

Miss Twila Lomax was hostess recently for a meeting of the Sew and Chatter Club in her home at 1306 Runnels. Mrs. Hazel Adcock, sister of Mrs. C. M. Weaver, was welcomed as a guest.

During the afternoon members worked on individual projects, including crochet. Further sewing was done on quilts, and some members brought finished quilt blocks.

Mrs. Marvin Sewell's birthday was observed. She was presented a gift, and birthday cake was served with coffee.

It was reported that a member, Mrs. Tom Rosson, has undergone surgery at Medical Center Memorial Hospital.

The club will meet again March 22 in the home of Mrs. Floyd Martin, 1503 Vines.

Several members outlined various phases of chapter activities for rushees present. Mrs. Chuck Ogle discussed service projects, and Mrs. Don Cunningham explained how program themes are chosen. Three women were nominated for "outstanding young women of America." They are Mrs. Hays, Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Royce Cox. Chapter awards for "pledge, girl and woman of the year" will be announced April 27, BSP Founder's Day.

A couples' party is scheduled March 24 at First Federal Community Room. The next regular meeting is at 7:30 p.m., March 28 in the home of Mrs. Tommy Fambrough, 6 January. New officers will be elected.

Rushees present were Mrs. Bill Brooks, Mrs. Fred Copeland, Mrs. Brent Brooks and Mrs. David Verner. Mrs. Phil Cook was also a guest.

Orientation Scheduled At Webb

The Personal Affairs Office of Webb Air Force Base will have an orientation, for military wives only, from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., March 30, in the NCO Open Mess on base. A free luncheon and nursery care will be provided. Reservations must be made by March 28 by calling 267-2511, Ext. 2446.

There will be four speakers. Mrs. Herbert Johnson of the Commercial Transportation Office will speak on shipment of household goods, after which Capt. James Dikes of the base hospital will discuss CHAMPUS (medical benefits for military dependents).

The third speaker will be M. Sgt. Lawrence Seabolt who will explain casualty notification and assistance. Lt. Warner will climax the program by speaking on personal affairs.

Winners Named In Bridge Play

Duplicate bridge winners Wednesday at Big Spring Country Club were Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, first; Mrs. J. D. Elliott and Mrs. H. W. Smith, second; Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. R. H. Weaver, third; and Mrs. Travis Reed and Mrs. J. H. Parks, fourth. Winners in the La Gallina session were Mrs. Bill Johnson and Mrs. Auriel Lafond who tied for first and second places with Mrs. Hayes Stripling Jr. and Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin.

Newcomers Name Bridge Winners

Mrs. Bill Archibald won high score for Newcomers Club bridge at a dessert luncheon Wednesday in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room. Other winners were Mrs. David Dill, second; and Mrs. Owen Gee, low. Mrs. Lannie Bartlett, a new member, tied for "bridget" with Mrs. Dade Goforth.

Tells Effect Of Plant Hormones

Jim Owens, agriculture teacher at Howard County Junior College, discussed effects of plant hormones on various plants when he was guest speaker for Men's Garden Club Tuesday evening at the U.S. Experiment Station.

L. R. Saunders Jr. presided and announced that Lyman Duncan of Des Moines, Iowa, will be a guest at the next meeting, at 7:30 p.m., April 5 at the experiment station. Duncan is executive secretary of Men's Garden Clubs of America, headquartered in Des Moines. He will be en route to Tucson, Ariz., for a national convention April 7-9.

It was announced a spring flower show is scheduled by Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs, April 29-30, at the First National Bank.

Party Honors Miss Casillas

Miss Yvette Casillas, bride-elect of Jose Padilla, was honored Sunday afternoon at a gift shower held in the First Federal Community Room.

Hostesses were Mrs. Leo Gonzalez and her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Zertuche. The honoree was attired in a sleeveless, white linen dress accented with silver buttons. She was presented a yellow carnation corsage. Her mother, Mrs. Jessie Casillas, received a pink carnation corsage, and the future bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Guadalupe Padilla, was given a blue carnation corsage.

Silver punch and coffee services were used on the refreshment table, which was covered with a handmade white lace cloth. White and lilac flowers were used in the centerpiece.

Guests from out of town included the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. Celia F. Casillas, and Miss Melinda Casillas, both of Del Rio; and Mrs. Manuel Gonzalez of Odessa.

The couple will be married April 8 at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church.

Beauceants Get Easter Message

An Easter message from Mrs. Guy L. Page, supreme worthy president of the Social Order of Beauceant, was read at a Monday meeting of the local group in the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Lee Porter, president, presided, announcing plans for the assembly's annual birthday dinner April 10. Members have made tarnish-proof bags for holding silver, and these were presented to the assembly.

Following a ritual practice session, refreshments were served by Mrs. Nellie Weaver, Mrs. George Bair and Mrs. Hattie Everett. The next meeting will be March 27.

New Handbags Strictly Classic

The look of ready-to-wear for fall is strictly classic by day and softly classic by dark. The look calls for special handbags.

Hilde Walborg for Walborg offers a wide variety of looks, including the important body-hugging silhouette interpreted in many ways, the small colorful bag for the young withits and the truly elegant handbag that once again occupies an important niche on the accessory scene.

Montgomery Wards Presents Style Show

Mrs. Bob Taylor, fashion manager for Montgomery Wards, narrated a style show for Jaycee-Ettes and guests Tuesday in Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

As Mrs. Taylor discussed trends in women's styles, clothes were modeled by Mrs. Larry Knight, Mrs. Ben Faulkner, Mrs. Leroy Spires, Mrs. Joe Spencer and Mrs. Max Moore.

Members will operate a concession stand at the Rattlesnake Roundup, March 24-26. Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Alton Fields and Mrs. A. J. Pirkle will serve refreshments to patients at Veterans Administration Hospital March 27.

New officers will be installed at a banquet March 31 at K.C. Steak and Seafood House. A meeting is scheduled at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday in the Faulkner home, 422 Edwards, to update the club scrapbook.

Mrs. Fields became a member of the group. Guests were Mrs. R. K. Taylor, Mrs. Ronnie Palmer, Mrs. Ernie Holmes, Mrs. Gary Davis, Mrs. Rusty Rustbult, Mrs. James Willett, Mrs. Jim Mills and Mrs. Peter Gregg.

Hostesses were Mrs. Pirkle and Mrs. Ken Gafford. Decorations depicted St. Patrick's Day.

No, It Won't

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think this is too dumb to answer. Can a girl get pregnant from kissing? DALLAS

DEAR DALLAS: No. But it's a good beginning.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please help me? I am a 13-year-old girl and live with my mother alone. A few years ago my father and my two brothers were killed in a car accident. Since I am the only one my mother has left, she babies me something awful. She won't let me go anywhere without her.

I live only one block from school, but my mother walks me to school every morning. If I have to stay after school, my mother comes to school and stands outside waiting for me. It is so bad, Abby, that I don't may need medical attention. Tell your school counselor what you've told me. If you have no counselor, confide in your favorite teacher. Or your minister. When your mother gets the help she needs, she will stop babying you, which will solve your problem and your mother's, too. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I was really disgusted with that college kid whose roommate suggested they share an apartment with two girls. This boob said they would be mutually benefitted because the boys wouldn't have to bother with cooking or laundry and the girls would have the "protection" of men living on the premises, plus they would all save a few bucks!

Is this guy for real? If the girls are students, they are in college to study, not to wash out some jerk's socks. Didn't this boy's Mommy ever teach him to feed himself and pick up his things? Where does he come off expecting a stranger to cook for him and do his laundry?

I hope this idiot wakes up, and soon. And if those girls know what they are getting into and still want to live with those two guys for the sake of "security," and to save a few bucks, they all deserve each other.

DISGUSTED IN L.A.

DEAR ABBY: The letter about the hostess who did not want to give her recipes reminded me of this incident, which happens to be true.

A woman I'll call Mrs. Jones served her women's luncheon club a delicious casserole. A guest whom I'll call Mrs. Smith had to have the recipe, so Mrs. Jones graciously gave it to her.

The next day Mrs. Smith decided to surprise her husband with that casserole for dinner. She put the recipe in front of her and said, "It calls for leftover lamb, but I don't have any, but the leftover pork chops will do. Oh, dear, I'm out of mustard, but I'll use ketchup instead."

"It calls for chives, but I'll use that old clove of garlic I have in the fridge instead."

"And as long as I have turnips, I'll substitute them for carrots." (I think you get the general idea.)

Needless to say, the casserole was terrible and her husband was revolted.

The next day Mrs. Smith telephoned Mrs. Jones and said, "Some friend YOU are! You didn't even give me the right recipe!"

Pap Smear

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How many kinds of Pap smears are there and which method is best? I ask this because every doctor I go to does it differently.

Some doctors cause a lot of pain, some cause little, some cause no pain at all.--M.V.

Without knowing exactly what you mean, I'll try to give an answer that will satisfy your questions.

Basically, all Pap smears are the same -- collecting a "smear" of liquid or fluid, and examining the cells under a microscope to see whether any are becoming cancerous.

It's a technique developed by the late Dr. George Papanicolaou, a physician and cytologist who came from Greece and gave us a wonderful method of detecting cancer in its very early stages.

It was used first, and is mainly used, to find cancer of the cervix, which is the entrance to the uterus, before any other signs are detectable. It was later developed for the same purpose in other areas -- breast secretions, lesions of mouth, throat, larynx, lung, rectum. Basically, the technique is the same in all cases -- gathering a sample of surface cells, whether this is done with a speculum or bronchoscope or by use of sputum.

I will now take it for granted that you are talking about the Pap smear for cells from the cervix and vagina. I know of no reason why there should be any significant difference in the way this is done -- except for the matter of gentleness in obtaining the sample.

Taking the sample should not be painful at all. Some doctors are gentler than others, and I dare say that this is a matter of considerably more importance to women when they have pelvic examinations, including the Pap smear.

All I can do about the matter is to call attention to it. Physicians, all of us, must remind ourselves not to forget to be gentle.

Unless a patient can relax enough to allow easy entrance of a vaginal speculum, the examination is going to be uncomfortable.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been told that a person with asthma should never have morphine. Is this true? -- E.J.

It would be used only under most unusual circumstances. The principal drugs used in treating asthma are adrenalin or ephedrine, to relax the bronchial passages. Sometimes it is necessary to resort to cortisone-type medication. Morphine should not be used because it is a respiratory depressant, hence would tend to put more burden on the asthma patient's breathing.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would a physical for a 17-year-old single girl include a Pap test, pelvic examination or anything like that? -- J.B.

Well, that depends. What's the physical examination for? To go around for the girls' hockey team at school? Or for a food handler's permit? Or by a gynecologist? Or what?

If the examination is called for because of vaginal discharge, menstrual distress or irregular bleeding, then it certainly should include the items you ask about.

If the hymen is still intact, the manual examination can be done through the rectum. A Pap smear can be readily obtained through the perforation of the hymen without discomfort.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Vida Blue Quits, Says He Will Consider More Offers

By The Associated Press
 Vida Blue said, "I quit," and with those two little words, the Oakland A's lost a pitcher and baseball lost a gate attraction.

"We hate to lose him... and that's an understatement," said Oakland Manager Dick Williams after the star left-hander announced his retirement from baseball Thursday.

Blue, who reached an impasse in contract talks with owner Charles O. Finley, decided it all wasn't worth it and chucked his career for a public relations job.

The personable Blue had a meteoric rise last year, when he won 24 games and the Cy Young and Most Valuable Player awards in his full season in the majors. He pitched before more than a million fans.

The surprise announcement came after Blue maintained a rock-steady posture against Finley's offer of $50,000 for this year. Blue, represented by lawyer Robert Gerst, was seeking $92,500.

DOOR AJAR
 The door for negotiations was left slightly ajar, however, when Gerst said that Blue would consider any higher offers from Finley.

Elsewhere in baseball, there was more off-the-field excitement as the Boston Red Sox became the first team polled to vote against a strike for the Major League Players Association. The vote was 19-4 by the Red Sox, whereas the first 13 teams asked had voted unanimously for a strike.

The Players Association has threatened a strike because of an argument with owners over money for the ballplayers' health benefit plan.

In exhibition baseball, Ellie Hendricks tripled across the tying run in the fifth inning, then singled in the winning run in the seventh as the Baltimore Orioles whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2.

Tony Muser led the Chicago White Sox with four hits and two RBI in a 9-5 triumph over the Kansas City Royals.

A triple by Ted Simmons and single by Jerry Raque broke a tie and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 rain-shortened 4 1/2 inning victory over the Houston Astros.

OTHER GAMES
 The Cincinnati Reds and New York Yankees played to a 1-1 tie in a game called after 13 innings because of rain. Cesar Geronimo's single drove home the game's first run in the top of the Cincinnati 10th inning. The Yankees tied it in their half of the inning on Johnny Callison's home run.

Craig Nettles drove in six runs for Cleveland as the Indians pulled out a 12-8 comeback triumph over the Chicago Cubs. Hank Aaron and Oscar Brown homered for Atlanta in a 15-14 triumph over the Texas Rangers.

Willie Crawford got three hits, leading Los Angeles over Minnesota 4-2. Boston scored six runs in the sixth inning to beat Detroit 10-6.

Five Oakland pitchers combined for a shutout as the A's topped San Diego 4-0, and the California Angels scored five times in the first inning and walloped Milwaukee 6-1.

IT'S SERIOUS
 Vida Blue found it impossible to keep a straight face but swore, "I'm serious."

The 22-year-old pitching star of the Oakland Athletics announced Thursday he was leaving baseball, for a public relations job, because A's owner Charles O. Finley won't offer more than $50,000 for the coming season.

Blue called the figure, which Finley has stuck with since Jan. 8, "unfair judged by existing standards in baseball."

He and his attorney, Robert J. Gerst, want a $92,500 contract offer as a reward for Blue's great 1971 season.

The American League's Most Valuable Player, dressed in sports shirt, slacks and sneakers at the news conference here, said he would go to work for a steel products company in Los Angeles as vice president in charge of public relations.

Blue noticed some incredulous looks on the faces of reporters and photographers and cracked up laughing at that point.

FINAL OFFER
 But Finley, at his insurance office in Chicago, seemed to think Blue was sincere.

"I have to assume that he is," Finley said, and repeated what he had told Blue by phone Wednesday night, that $50,000 was his final offer.

Most A's players, in spring training at Mesa, Ariz., still think Blue will pitch this year.

"I think he'll come back to play. He likes to play," said outfielder Angel Mangual, who was to have been Blue's spring training roommate. "Now he's just confused."

Blue, in his first full major league season, received a $14,750 salary last year. He had a 24-8 record, a 1.82 earned run average, eight shutouts and 301 strikeouts.

The A's won the Western Division title and Blue pitched before more than a million baseball fans.

Finley gave his star pitcher from Mansfield, La., a new blue Cadillac on "Vida Blue Day" at the Oakland Coliseum.

The first postseason honor that went to Blue was the Cy Young Award, as the American League's best pitcher.

In an interview at his apartment after he won that award, Blue was asked if he expected a salary fight with Finley.

"No. I don't think we'll have any problems," said Blue, who already had arranged for Los Angeles attorney Gerst to represent him.

Finley calls his $50,000 offer the best ever made to a second-year baseball player.

"He had a great year and had a great future ahead of him. As long as he is retiring, I'm happy that he has selected the steel industry and is starting out as a vice president," said Finley, who once worked in a U.S. Steel machine shop.

Gerst said Blue will begin work April 3 for Dura-Steel cabinets, for "more than $50,000 a year, which makes steel 900 a year."

GOLF
 JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — First round scores Thursday in the $125,000 Greater Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament at the 4,843-yard, par-72 Hidden Hills Country Club Course:

A TRIPLE FOR SIZEMORE — St. Louis Cardinals infielder Ted Sizemore slides into third base with a triple in fourth inning of game with the Houston Astros in St. Petersburg Thursday. Houston third baseman Doug Rader takes throw from right field too late and misses the tag on runner. The game was called in fifth inning.

SAYS HE'S QUITTING — Vida Blue, the Oakland Athletics' sensational pitcher, tells a news conference in Oakland Thursday that he is quitting baseball to go into a business job. He has been in a salary dispute with A's owner Charles C. Finley. The latter has offered $50,000 and Blue is asking $92,000.

TEXAS BOWS TO KANSAS Wildcats' Zone Zaps Marquette

By The Associated Press
 For UCLA it was business as usual in the NCAA Far West Regionals, but in the Midwest Adolph Rupp's Kentucky team surprised Chances-less Marquette.

The Bruins, seeking their sixth straight national basketball title, defeated Weber State 90-58 Thursday night, but Coach John Wooden said he wasn't pleased with the team's performance.

"I doubt we had as much respect before the game for Weber as we should have," Wooden said. "This is sort of like starting a new season. We just didn't look sharp."

Guards Henry Bibby and Larry Farmer hit from the outside and center Bill Walton controlled the backboards as UCLA led 42-25 at the half. But Walton got into foul trouble and was replaced by Swen Nater, who scored 12 points. Walton, an All-American, scored six points.

Weber State Coach Gene Visscher said his team played tight at the beginning as he had feared it would, but "I didn't think we'd stop Walton the way we did."

Bibby finished with 16 points and Farmer with 15. Bob Davis hit 16 for the Wildcats while Riley Kimberly had 14. Walton slightly injured his left knee but is expected to play in the regional final Saturday in Provo, Utah.

Kentucky, No. 18-ranked champions of the Southeastern Conference, spent less than an hour developing the zone defense it used to defeat No. 7 Marquette.

Rupp said he used the zone because he didn't believe his team could handle the Warriors man-to-man.

The Warriors missed, and have missed, center Jim Chones, the All-American who signed a professional contract with the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association. While Chones was playing, Marquette was undefeated and ranked second in the nation.

OPTIMIST RELAYS
Pour 1,000 Boys Into Big Spring

Probably a headache! Tom Adams, meet director and Big Spring freshman track coach, estimated that about 1,000 tracksters from 34 teams will be flooding into Memorial Stadium tomorrow morning for the annual Optimist Club Junior Track and Field Relays.

Adams said that all the Big Spring coaches whose teams weren't playing would be helping him. He estimated that 24 coaches would be able to help. He also said that 30 representatives from the Optimist Club would be on hand to assist.

The biggest chore of all may perhaps be in the hands of Optimist Club members. They will serve a noon meal to the participants in the track meet. A minimum of 750 meals will be served.

The track and field events start at 9 a.m. The finals will start at about 1:10 p.m. All events should be completed by about 4:30 p.m.

Adams said, "Our freshman team is in pretty good shape. We should do really well in the field events. We might do fairly well in the distance events, too."

Rick McCormick of Big Spring is expected to do well in the quarter-mile run. He placed first in the recent San Angelo meet. Joe Rios is expected to do well in the half-mile race.

Four local teams are entered in the relays. The Big Spring Toros and Brammas will compete in the ninth-grade division; the Big Spring Goliad and Runnels teams will enter the eighth grade events.

Steers Tackle Tough El Paso

The Big Spring Steers baseball team will try to snap a three-game losing streak when they tangle with a tough El Paso Austin in a doubleheader starting at 1 p.m. this afternoon at Steer Park.

David Carter will place his 2-1 record on the line when he starts pitching in the first game of the twobill. Earl Reynolds with a 1-1 record is slated to start the other game which will probably begin about 3:15 p.m.

The Steers started out on a winning trail, but they were bushwhacked by Monterrey March 11 in a doubleheader and they dropped one to Brownfield since then. Big Spring is 6-3 over-all.

El Paso is a strong team with a 2-0 record. They won the district last year. Oakey Hagood, Big Spring's baseball coach, said, "They always have a strong team."

Coach Hagood continued, "We had a good workout yesterday, and I think we're just around the corner from being a good ball club."

Rick Steen with a 2-0 record will be the probable starter in a Saturday game with El Paso. Tomorrow's game starts at 10:00 a.m. The three-game series will be a tough one for the Steers who are trying to steady themselves for the tough 5-4A District race.

DARBY DERBY — Well, if it isn't ol' Darby Dan celebratin' with the Irish clan. This dapper horse has a reason to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. He is the early favorite to win Saturday's $50,000 Louisiana Derby at the New Orleans Fair Grounds. Sandy Salmen adjusts the derby for No Le Haze, a fast horse at that.

Kansas Spoils Longhorns' Bid

By The Associated Press
 Kansas State came from behind to clip the Texas Longhorns, 66-55 last night in Ames, Iowa.

David Hall hit nine clutch points to lead the Kansas State quintet back into the lead after an earlier Texas rally. Hall finished the game with 13 points. Danny Beard led the winners with 20 points.

Teaff Tees Off Baylor Season

WACO, Tex. (AP) — New coach Grant Teaff didn't waste any time giving his Baylor footballers their first taste of combat Thursday at the opening of spring drills.

"Plastic-popping one-on-one drills highlighted the day with defensive end Mike Black of Houston, Navarro Junior College transfer Charles Dancer of Mexia, and Tommy Turnipseed of Beeville getting green stars for their helmets with their enthusiasm.

"The object of spring training in my opinion is to develop skills and find players who will hit," Teaff said. "We found three hitters today."

He added, "They know what we want and expect and they tried to execute it."

Teaff was greeted by 105 candidates, including 28 lettermen. The annual Green-White game will close spring practice on April 22.

Cellar Dwellers Tip Hot Bullets

By The Associated Press

It was what you might call downright embarrassing. Here were the Baltimore Bullets, getting ready to clinch the National Basketball Association's Central Division championship and here were the Cleveland Cavaliers, mired in last place, a fat 13½ games back of the leaders. And which team would you guess had won the first five meetings between the two clubs this season?

Why, the Cavaliers, of course. The Bullets set out for a little revenge and got it Thursday night with a 105-101 victory over the Cavs as Wes Unseld set a Cleveland Arena rebounding record.

In other NBA games Thursday, New York squeezed out a 103-102 last-second victory over Houston and Golden State downed Portland 107-94.

Unseld pulled down an Arena record 24 rebounds and injured-riddled Gus Johnson came off the Baltimore bench to score 18 points in the second and third period, helping the Bullets end their Cleveland hex. The Bullets took the lead in the opening moments of the third period when they held the Cavaliers to a single field goal in the first 7:58 and opened a 16-point lead. Archie Clark led Baltimore with 24 points while Austin Carr and Bobby Smith had 26 each for Cleveland.

The Knicks went down to the final seconds to beat Houston. The Rockets, down by 10 at halftime, had battled back in front on Elvin Hayes' basket with nine seconds remaining. But the Knicks came back to regain the lead when Bill Bradley connected on a 20-footer with three seconds left on the clock.

Houston set up Hayes for one final shot but it rolled off the rim. Calvin Murphy quickly canned the rebound but the officials' Jack Madden and Tom Jones ruled the bucket came after the final buzzer.

Hayes led all scorers with 37 points while Bradley and Earl Monroe had 20 apiece for the Knicks.

Trinity U. Replaces Coach Who Has Intramural Tag
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Trinity University will have a new head football coach after the former coach said he "didn't get into the coaching profession to coach intramural sports."
The new coach is Warren Woodson, who also serves as Trinity athletic director. He replaces Gene Offield on the gridiron and will retain his post as athletic director.
Offield, head football coach for the past two seasons, disclosed his resignation in an interview, although it doesn't be-

Just Like Springtime

By The Associated Press
Is it indeed springtime in Texas?

Not officially, but the weatherman is trying awfully hard to bring the season here a few days ahead of schedule.

Skies today were clear over all the state and afternoon temperatures were to reach into the 70s and 80s. Early morning temperatures generally were in the 40s and 50s, although readings just before sunrise ranged from 38 at Dalhart to 62 at Galveston.

Del Rio posted Thursday's high reading in the state, as the mercury in that city along the Rio Grand pushed to 85.

Even though the state was under the influence of a cooler air mass, temperatures climbed into the 70s and 80s. The skies were clear Thursday, except for a few scattered thin high clouds left in the wake of the cold front which raced through Texas Wednesday.

The weekend weather, according to the National Weather Service, should be pleasant, with clear skies, mild afternoons and cool to mild nights.

Moore Is New Loan Officer

W. A. "Dub" Moore Jr., has been added to the staff of First Federal Savings and Loan Association, as Loan Officer and Management Trainee.

A long-time Big Spring resident, for the past four years Mr. Moore has been General Manager of the McGibbon Oil Company. Prior to that, he was employed by the Phillips Petroleum Company.

Dub graduated from Portales High School and received his B.A. in Business Administration and Marketing from Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, in 1961. He is on the Board of Directors of the Kiwanis Club.

His wife, Patsy Ruth, graduated from Causey High School and also graduated from Eastern New Mexico University in 1961, with a B.A. in Secondary Education. Mrs. Moore is president of the College Heights P.T.A. and vice president of the 1955 Hyperion Club.

Both are active workers in the 14th and Main Church of Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore have two daughters. Lavoy is 11, and Laura Lee is 9. Both girls attend College Heights Elementary School. The family resides at 528 Scott.

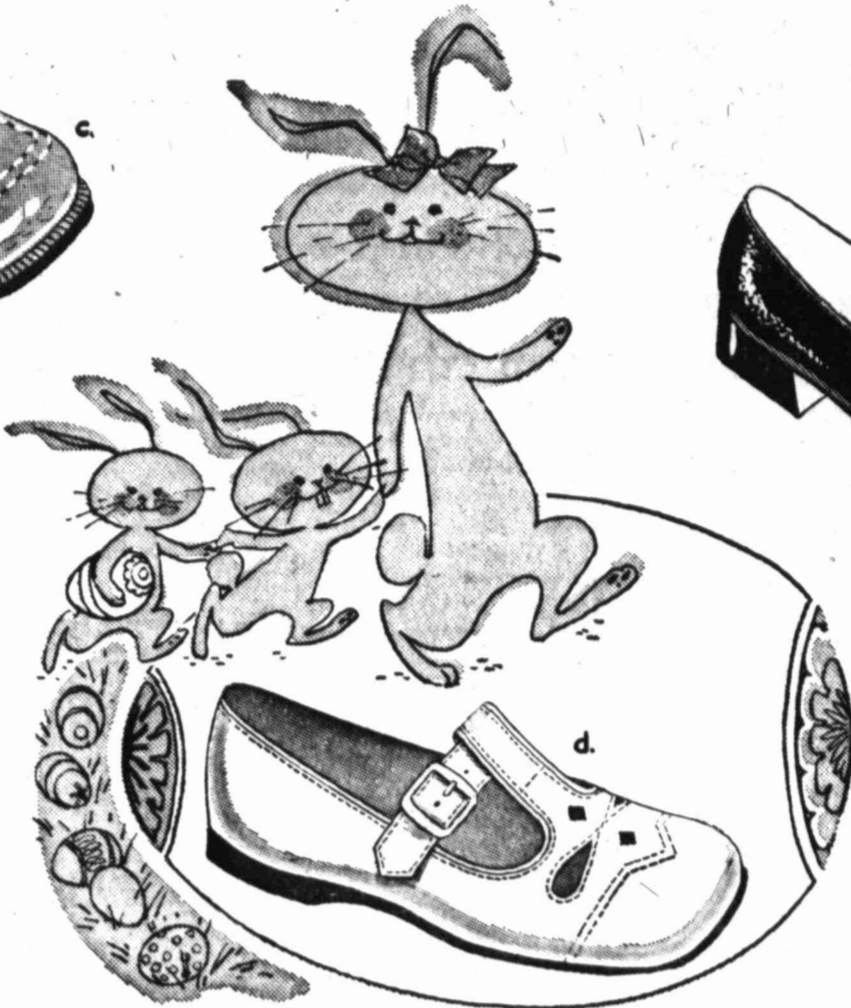

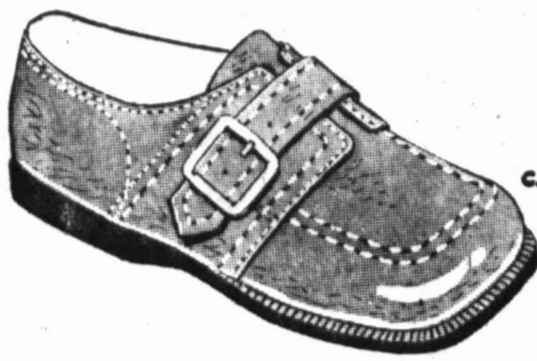

Dub Moore makes a great asset to the staff of First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Chapter Here Set To Lend Its Help

Following an appeal made by the Capitol Kidney Foundation of Austin for contributions, C. G. Cooper said that the Alamo Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America and its associated clubs will respond to the need. Cooper is president of the Far West Club of the Telephone Pioneer Organization.

The sum requested by the Kidney Foundation was $1,000. Of this amount, the Far West Club will donate their pro-rated share, Cooper said. Cooper also pointed out that there are nine clubs which make up the Alamo Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers. He also said Miss Nell Thornton, club secretary and treasurer, would prepare the check, which is to be delivered March 22.

Cooper further stated that such an undertaking was among many projects in which the Telephone Pioneers participate.

Shutdown Of All Ports Looms As Possibility

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A shutdown of all U.S. ports loomed as a possibility today after the Pay Board trimmed a wage increase won by West Coast longshoremen in ending a 134-day dock strike.

There was no immediate comment from Harry Bridges' West Coast International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union Thursday after the Pay Board in Washington lopped about one-fourth of the ILWU's negotiated increases.

Nor was there comment from Bridges' East and Gulf Coast counterpart, President Thomas W. Gleason of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Union.

NEW RULES

But Bridges told his 13,000-member union on Feb. 24 that the ILWU and the ILA had agreed that they would join in a nationwide dock strike if the Pay Board touched wage increases won by either union.

The Feb. 16 contract between the ILWU and the West Coast employers' Pacific Maritime Association contains language which permits the ILWU to take strike action within 30 days if the Pay Board refuses approval of the contract.

The Pay Board's staff reported that West Coast stevedoring firms had saved some $1 billion in reduced labor costs through increased productivity since the union agreed to new work rules in 1960.

Nevertheless, business and

Troop Cuts Continue

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command cut back 1,220 more troops today, the second big reduction in three days.

The command said 11 Army units have begun phasing out, including two helicopter units with a total of about 50 aircraft.

Wednesday, 41 Army and two Air Force units totaling 5,700 men were phased out.

Total U.S. strength in Vietnam was 114,500 men March 9. President Nixon has ordered the total cut to 69,000 by May 1. Peak U.S. strength in Vietnam was 543,000 in April of 1969.

Another 30,000 Air Force men are in Thailand, fighting the Indochina air war from there, and 15,000 Navy men are aboard ships operating off the coast.

public members of the Pay Board outvoted labor members 8 to 5 in rejecting the new ILWU-PMA contract as inflationary.

The Pay Board said the new ILWU contract provides for a 16 per cent increase in wages and overtime and a 4.9 per cent increase in employer-funded pension and welfare benefits during the first year of the new 18-month pact.

PAY PROVISIONS

It voted 8 to 6 to approve only a 10 per cent increase in wages and to allow the 4.9 per cent increase in fringe benefits to stand. The 14.9 per cent total is still higher than the 8.9 per cent called for in the board's standard guidelines.

"The extra allowances were made in recognition of the necessity of producing the income and retirement security which has helped to foster efficient industry production leading to significantly greater output with a continuously declining work force," Pay Board Chairman George H. Boldt said in announcing the decision.

Under the pay provisions of the pact, the West Coast dock workers were to receive a 72-cent hourly wage increase, retroactive to Dec. 21, to bring the hourly scale to $5. An additional 40 cents an hour was due July 1.

Helen Earley Will Greet Heritage Museum Guests

Visitors to the Heritage Museum on its new weekend schedule will have an "old timer" to welcome them. She is Mrs. Bill (Helen)

Earley, who will be the receptionist from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday each week starting this Saturday.

Mrs. Earley, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Creath, came to Big Spring in 1914 and helped in her father's store. Later, she taught school in Glasscock, Howard and Martin counties before her marriage to Bill Earley.

"I felt that I knew about everybody in the county then," she recalled.

As a housewife, she was active in Boy Scout and Girl Scout work (she was a leader in the latter for 10 years), also in school and church affairs. For the past 13 years she has been a social case worker at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Mrs. Earley is a member of the Texas Public Employees Association, a member of the board and an assistant Sunday School teacher at the First Christian Church; secretary of the Genealogical Society of Big Spring, and a member of the American Association of University Women.

Mrs. Clyde Angel, museum president, said that the weekend schedule was worked out in hopes it will be convenient to the many people who have been prevented from using the museum because of their weekday work schedules. There is no admission charge because the county and city support the institution.

Choral Program Slated Monday

Patrons will have a chance to judge contest numbers at 8 p.m. Monday when the Big Spring schools' choral department presents a unique concert entitled "You Be the Judge."

The choirs of Goliad Junior High, Runnels Junior High, and those from the high school, including the Meistersingers, the a cappella, freshman, boys and girls choirs, will perform. They will use numbers which they will perform at the district Interscholastic League contests March 21-23, and members of the audience will be asked to judge the units on the basis of their Monday evening presentations.

Tickets may be purchased from any choir member or at the door of the high school auditorium for $1 adult, 50 cents student.
