The Bryan Brothers Gompers and Harding Shoup's Ultimatum How About Miners?

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN is a citizen of Florida. He deserted Nebraska for the Everglades state after thirty years on the Platte river. During his Nebraska reer, W. J. B. was persistent in his efforts to make his brother, Charles Bryan, the democratic governor of Nebraska. He never succeeded in his laudable endeavors. Brother Charles always went down and then took the count. This year Brother Charles ran on his own hook and the first returns showed that he was second in the race. Then the belated returns came in and Charles won first place. If this is a democratic year, Charles may be the governor of Nebraska, if he wins to his support the thousands of wet democrats in the larger cities of Nebraska who have never been converted to the cause of prohibition or sworn allegiance to the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act. These stubborn ones are for wine and beer; the Bryan borthers are for unfermnted grape juice. Prohibition is the law of the land. It is in America to stay. Of course the die-hards have hopes that the lighter moistures may return some day but they are hoping in vain. Drys labored seventy years before they won their amendment to the constitution. It would take the wets a thousand and seventy years to force a return of what they call the good old days.

IT WAS SAMUEL GOMPERS and not President Harding who made use of these words: "Let it not be forgotten that the strike was caused by the wanton disregard of the contract by the mine owners. They treated their pledge to the miners as a scrap of paper. They refused to confer with the miners. They ought to treat the miners as serfs and the miners refused to accept such treatment. They ceased mining coal."

President Harding is a very conservative and a very cautious American statesman. He would not have made use of the words imputed to him in a million years. He does not believe the mine owners treated their pledge to the miners as a scrap of paper and neither does he believe the mine owners sought to treat the miners as serfs. President Harding speaks

Anti-Negro Party Plans Test Case

By Associated Press.

ORLANDO, Fla., July 22.—The newly organized independent republican party in Florida, formed for the avowed purpose of eliminating the negro from republican politics in the south, announced today that, in order to test the strength of its principles in the election next November, W. C. Lawson of this city would be its candidate for the United States senate against the regular republican candidate, should one be nominated.

Police Characters Wanted for Killing

By Associated Press.

GRANITE CITY, Ill., July 22.—Warrants for the arrest of three well-known police characters of St. Louis, Mo., have been issued here in connection with the killing early this morning of Deputy Sheriff Patrick J. Nalty and the critical wounding of Patrolman Ross Jonson, who engaged two men in a revolver fight in front of a local hotel this morning. The warrants were issued against George F. O'Malley, Lyle Watkins and James "Sticky" Hennessy, the former two having been sought, the police announced, in connection with the hold-up of the Tri-City State bank at Madison, Ill., which was robbed of nearly $10,000, July 10.

Klan Ordered To Discard its Robes in Public

ATLANTA, Ga., July 22.—The knights of the ku klux klan have been ordered to discard their masks, robes and other regalia except when in their lodge rooms, it was announced here tonight at headquarters of the organization. The order made public in a letter to Governor Hardwick of Georgia, from E. Y. Clarke, imperial wizard pro tem, mentioned only Georgia klansmen, but it was stated the order was general.

The imperial kloncium, or governing body of the klan, passed a rule more than a year ago, it was stated, prohibiting the wearing of masks and regalia except by permission of the imperial wizard and it was said tonight the present order means that effective at once no such permission will be granted except for parades.

Clarke's letter to the governor, however, stated that he had issued orders "forbidding all further parades or the use of the masks or other costumes of the klan in the state of Georgia except in the l ge rooms until further orders."

Investigation by klan officials of any unauthorized wearing of klan regalia and of lawlessness by persons wearing such costumes also has been ordered. Clarke's letter said. He added that he could not believe the governor "antagonistic to the klan" and Governor Hardwick, who had urged that the klansmen unmask, replied he had no "personal hostility or animosity" towards the organization.

MORE COAL CONFERENCES

New Arbitration Is Suggested

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Another effort to bring about a conference settlement of the national coal controversy was suggested to President Harding today by Mayor John F. Durkan of Scranton, one of the five mayors of anthracite cities in Pennsylvania who have tendered their services to the administration in the interests of conciliation.

Immediately after presentation to President Harding of his plan for settlement of the strike in the anthracite fields, Mr. Durkan wired John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, with whom he previously had discussed the possibilities of peace, inviting the union leader to meet with the five mayors in Scranton or New York, the first of the week.

Formation of the president's arbitration commission was understood to be nearing completion and it was thought the announcement of its personnel would be made before the expiration of the 10 days or two weeks during which the administration will await the results of the invitation to operators to resume production.

Meanwhile various agencies of the government are combining to effect emergency distribution of fuel to railroads, public utilities and localities in need.

Flappers Save Big Candy Factory

By Associated Press.

NEWARK, N. J., July 22.—The sudden passion of lolly-pops developed by flappers has proved a lifesaver to the Charms company, Newark candy manufacturers it was revealed in federal court today.

Receivers reported that since a year ago when the firm was nearly defunct, it has made a profit of $44,000, all because of lolly-pops and flappers.

The firm bought huge stores of sugar at the high prices prevalent prior to 1921, and when prices dropped faced bankruptcy. Receivers decided to revive the lolly-pop. They boiled down the sugar, flavored it, wrapped it in brightly colored paper, and the flapper did the rest.

The machine was completely demolished and all the occupants badly mangled in the crash. Mr. Payne, who was driving, apparently failed to see the approaching train and drove on the tracks in front of it. Every one in the car was dead when members of the train crew and passengers went to their aid.

Hyde had honored requisition papers for the return of Mrs. Ida Miller, escaped woman convict, to the Texas state penal farm, local authorities said the woman held here as Mrs. Miller would be sent to Texas at once. Newsman Drowned

By Associated Press.

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y., July 22.—William A. Coldwell of Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., a former Cornell football and crew star, was drowned this afternoon in Lake George near Fort Ticonderoga, when a canoe in which he was paddling over turned.

Mr. Caldwell, who was in his 45th year, was a member of the class of 1900 at Cornell. He began his newspaper career with the Philadelphia Times and later was employed on papers in St. Louis and Butler and Meadville, Pa.

Former Ranger, Well Known Here, Shoots Justice Following Election

By Associated Press.

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 22.—Justice of the Peace H. E. Showers, precinct No. 1 Jefferson county, was shot tonight by a federal officer the one bullet entering the abdomen penetrating the kidney and going through the body. He will die. Judge Showers is said to have been sitting in his automobile on a downtown street when a federal prohibition officer M. T. Gonzales, attempted to take a pint of whiskey from the justice. Showers is said to have resisted and the officer shot him.

Judge Showers is a candidate for re-election in the democratic primaries today and was elected.

M. T. Gonzales, mentioned in the foregoing dispatch as having shot and fatally wounded a Beaumont justice, was formerly a member of the Texas Ranger staff that was stationed in Wichita Falls during the last stages of the oil boom.

While in the city he established an enviable reputation for fearlessness and in the course of his service took part in several spectacular escapades in the oil fields. In spite of this, however, he was never mixed up in any fatal shooting affairs in this county and on only one occasion while stationed here did he find it necessary to bring his gun into play.

Most of his oil field work was done with J. W. McCormick, present chief of police, as his partner.

Gonzales was in Wichita Falls not more than two weeks ago and went from here direct to Beaumont.

Neff Wins

GOVERNOR NEFF

Incomplete, but representative returns from widely scattered portions of the state, left little doubt Saturday night but that Governor Neff would be successful in his campaign for re-election. His lead over Rogers, his nearest opponent, is estimated at being in excess of 15,000.

DENISON MAY GET RANGERS

Believe Neff Will Take Action

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, July 22.—It is now thought that Governor Neff will either order state rangers or national guardsmen to Denison to protect shopmen on account of the railroad strike. This opinion followed a conference this afternoon between Governor Neff, Major General John A. Hulen, Attorney General Keeling and Adjutant General Barton.

Governor Neff and Adjutant General Barton returned from Waco today and the conference was immediately called by the governor.

Asked before the conference if rangers or guardsmen would be sent to Denison, he replied that he "had nothing to say."

General Barton was asked the same question and he said "I'll see you Monday." This was his reply to several similar questions.

The governor's attitude, General Barton's reply and the secret conference caused the opinion that troops or rangers will be sent to Denison some time next week unless the strike situation becomes less serious.

SMITH HOLDS SLIGHT LEAD OVER MURPHY

Sartin Elected Judge By Majority Over Jones

With 90 per cent of the vote in Wichita county heard from at an early hour this morning, and with only a few isolated precincts not having reported, it appears that nine candidates listed on the county ticket have been elected to office.

Boy 11, brought into the Record News office at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, gave Smith 163 votes and Murphy 56 in the sheriff's election, taking Murphy out of the lead and giving it to Smith, after the forms had been made up with Murphy leading. We're Much Obliged, Folks, For Coming to Our Party

Through the courtesy and co-operation of several Wichita Falls business houses and churches, the most successful entertainment ever given by a newspaper was carried out on the Moore & Richolt lot at the corner of Ninth and Indiana Saturday night, lasting into the wee hours of Sunday morn.

Election returns from all over the state, gathered through an efficient service, and a special leased wire, and the quickest tabulation of local and county returns were thrown on a screen 10 feet square, at the top of the Wichita theater building, where thousands of Wichitans, guests of the Record News election party, witnessed the earliest dope and learned the standings of the respective candidates.

Efficient returns concerning the county candidates were enabled only through the fast work of the large number of Record News correspondents out in the local field, who kept all manners of communication lot throughout the night, informing the editorial department of the paper as to the outcome of those in the race in their respective precincts.

Elaborate Party.

The party was conceded by a number of those present to be the most elaborate thing of its kind any newspaper in the Panhandle of Texas ever put on, and apparently all were well pleased from the inception of Billy Buzzard's jazzy music to the final flash of the votes on the large screen.

Co-operation of the part of Stanfill's Transfer company, who hauled the folding chairs to the grounds; D. M. Jones, who furnished the large truck from which the returns were flashed; the Olympic theater, who gave permission to use the side of the Wichita theater; the First Methodist church; north, who contributed the large sterioptican, was responsible for the success of the undertaking, while the night would never have been achieved had it not have been for use of the Moore & Richolt lot.

Ripley Helps Out.

The B. G. Ripley Piona company came to the aid of the distracted editorial force by furnishing a piano or the orchestra on a moment's notice. Earlier arrangements fell through at the last minute and Mr. Ripley generously permitted a fine instrument to be loaded on a truck and taken to the election party lot after several other efforts had met with no success.

The Record News is deeply indebted to Mr. Ripley for his kindness.

Added to the co-operation of these interested persons, a force of editors, assistants and reporters scrambled from a veritable avalanche of figures and statistics, and prepared in the most rapid manner the reutrns which you witnessed.

Come again. The Record News always serves, and ever for your pleasure.

SIX KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

By Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 22.—Six persons are dead, including five members of one family, father, mother, two daughters and son, as a result of the failure of Engineer C. H. Ring of Monett, Mo., to slow down for a siding near Logan, southeast of here at 3:50 o'clock this morning. His engine, St. Louis-San Francisco "Meteor No. 9" one of the fastest trains on the system, crashed head-on into No. 2, another fast St. Louis-San Francisco passenger train, which was waiting on the siding. Ring's fireman, A. W. Gelker, jumped to safety while the engine was traveling at a rate of 35 miles an hour. Engineer Ring remained until the emergency brakes were applied the last time before the crash. He was crushed to death. The dead:

DALLAS, July 23.—A total of 163,996 votes had been accounted for in the senatorial race at 2 o'clock this morning. It was estimated that from 650,000 to 700,000 votes were cast throughout the state. If the candidates maintain the same standing to each other in the part of the state not heard from as they did for the first 164,000 votes counted, Earl Mayfield will be one of the senatorial candidates in the run-off primary of August 26th. His opponent may be James E. Ferguson or Senator Culberson.

As the returns were tabulated Ferguson and Culberson alternated for second place. Mayfield consistently maintained first position. Governor Neff seemed assured of a place in the run-off primary, with his opponent probably Fred Rogers.

Mayfield and Davidson were the two leaders at 1 o'clock in the race, for the nomination for lieutenant governor.

The race for state treasurer seemed to lie between Terrell and Garrett. For superintendent of public instruction, Bentley and Marrs were the leaders.

That there was more interest in the races for U. S. senator and governor was indicated by the way the returns came in. The returns for these offices showed heavier votes than for the other offices, indicating either that more votes had been cast for these candidates, or that because of greater interest more efforts were being made to get returns on these offices first.

NURSERY HOME FREE OF DEBT

Federated Societies Raise Funds

Wichita Falls' church women, as represented by the Federated Missionary society, this week completed the big "stunt" they had set for themselves—paying in full for the day nursery home. Friday the check was turned over to the last debtor, J. I. Staley, who had advanced the necessary money, so that the society could pay cash and get a better price. On April 27 the Federated Missionary society launched the drive to obtain money to buy a permanent home. Friday's payment made a total of $7,395.66 in cash collected and paid out, according to the books of Mrs. H. J. Goodale, the treasurer.

There was one donation of $500 and a few of $100, but the majority of the contributions which made possible the home, at 502 Lamar, came in small amounts. And there were a large number of workers whose interest and activity made possible the success of the movement.

The amount paid out, $7,395.66, represents the purchase price of the home, and the repair work that was necessary to make the building like new. The furniture has also been refinished, until every piece of equipment is as good as new. There are still a few other improvements desired. It is stated, consequently any contributions which have not yet been turned in, will be very acceptable.

During the past week there have been an average of 35 children in the home daily. Several days there were more than 40 of all ages.

The officers of the Federated Missionary society, as this report of the speedy realization of their ambition and success of their efforts, desire that their thanks be extended to all who have made this possible.

Warrant Issued Charging White With Court Violation; Editor Defiant

By Associated Press.

EMPORIA, Kan., July 22.—A warrant charging William Allen White, author and editor, with violation of the industrial court law in displaying a placard sympathizing with the striking railroad shopmen, was issued in district court here late today. Mr. White, through his attorney, immediately made bond for his appearance when the case is called here next October.

The warrant, signed by County Attorney Roland Boynton, a nephew of Mr. White's, was issued upon an information filed by a representative of Governor Henry J. Allen, life-long friend of Mr. White.

The warrant for Mr. White's arrest charges specifically that he "hindered, delayed, interfered with and suspended operation" of trains on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad.

"When a law or a ruling or legal science, just two courses are open to him," said Mr. White in a statement issued immediately after his arrest.

"He must seek its repeal in the legislature or its annullment in court. The Kansas legislature is not in session. My only other course is to seek the annullment of the order which seems to me to restrict freedom of utterance.

But Governor Allen, his friend publicly and personally for many years, and the companion of the editor on a European trip during the world war, differed in his interpretation of the industrial court act. He held that displaying the sympathy card in the Gazette window was a violation of the picketing clause of the industrial court law, and declared Mr. White had the wrong "slant" in the matter.

Throughout it all, the governor and editor have reiterated that there was no personal feeling between them, declaring that their personal friendship had not been affected by their difference of opinion over interpretation of the law.

MYSTERY VEIL FALLS AROUND PEACE MOVES

Harding Active But Silent on Strike Matters

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—President Harding spent eight hours today in close study of the railroad strike situation but when his activities were concluded there was not the slightest intimation concerning conclusions reached or possible course of administration action.

Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the railroad labor board, was the president's chief informant, but a part of the time Senators Cummins of Iowa, Watson of Indiana and Kellogg of Minnesota, all republican members of the senate interstate commerce committee, were closeted with the president and Mr. Hooper. Later also, Senators Underwood and Pomerene, democratic members of the same senate committee saw the president. For these conferences all the White House engagements were set aside.

Hooper to Chicago.

Mr. Hooper left the session after lunching with the president and tonight returned to Chicago. He gave the president a direct and full account of every move that had been made by the labor board since the shop craftsmen walked out July 1, and further a view of the positions taken by the strike leaders and by the executives of the railroads, with whom the board has dealt. This was supplemented by the three republican senators, who themselves went over issues in the controversy with heads of eastern railroads in a meeting at Washington this week.

THREE ISSUES ARE HOLDING UP SETTLEMENT.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Three principal issues now prevent a possible settlement of the railway shopmen's strike, B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employes department of the American Federation of Labor, said in a statement tonight. These issues, he said, are found in the refusal of the rail executives:

1—To discontinue contracting out of work.

3—To continue seniority rights of employes who suspended work.

"The responsibility for increasing losses to the railroads, to the communities they serve and to the wage earners upon the railroads and elsewhere, through continuance of the present suspension of work," the statement said, "rests now plainly upon the association of railway executives, and particularly upon that small but dominating group representing the New York banking interests."

Pointing out that the railroad labor board has decided against the practice of contracting out railroad work in certain cases, Mr. Jewell asserted that the Erie railroad, the New York Central and its subsidiaries, including Indiana Harbor Belt, the Michigan Central and the Big Four, and the Western Maryland railroad, have all contracted out shop work.

Baseball Teams Halted by Strike

By Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 22.—The first known interference with American's national pastime, baseball, due to the strike of railroad shopmen, became apparent here tonight when it was discovered that the Columbus team of the American association would be unable to reach Kansas City Tuesday night for their Wednesday game, because of curtailed train service.

As a consequence, the visitors will play a double-header tomorrow, the playing time of the Tuesday game to be used in travel.

RAIL MAN DIES

NEW YORK LICKS CHICAGO

NEW YORK, July 22.—The baseball team of the New York firemen today defeated the Chicago fire fighters team at Ebbetts field, 13 to 6. This was the third and last game of the series, Chicago having captured the first two.

PRETTY TOUGH FOR THE COLLECTORS

Bill collectors enjoying buffet lunch prepared by Mrs. Frank Townley Brown, wealthy Chicago woman, who is shown in white knickers.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Frank Townley Brown, wealthy Chicago woman, received considerable publicity when she attempted to oust Billie Burke, the actress, home. Now she has broken into the limelight again by giving a bufet lunch at which her creditors were the guests. In addition to tea and lunch the bill collectors also were given checks for their accounts.

SMITH—

urday. Avis appeared to have the entire field over his two opponents, while it was clear that Gipson had taken the lead over Swanson for place No. 1. Gipson, according to the returns received at the Record News office at a late hour, was leading his opponent by 542 votes, this giving him an election while Avis led Parnell, his nearest opponent, by 145 votes.

The warmest part of the entire race centered about the sheriff's contest. Smith and Pat Murphy were running a nip-and-tuck affair in that division the latter having a lead over his oppenent by 63 votes. Jim Glenn was entirely out of the race, it was indicated last night, this leaving a run-off campaign necessary in November between Smith and Murphy.

Murphy received 1,702 votes on late tabulations last night, while Smith had a total of 1,679 and Glenn 540.

Sartin was leading over his opponent Judge J. P. Jones, by almost 2 to 1, with an incomplete vote of 2,146, compared to 1,542 which Jones had received.

Guy C. Raley was clearly elected tax collector over M. L. Tittle, he having a total of 2,120 votes as compared with 1,630 received by Tittle.

Paule was ousted in the race for county surveyor, Henry J. Morgan, Jr., who is now filling an unexpired term of office, receiving 2,298 votes while Paule received only 946.

A. F. Kerr, the votes indicated, has again been chosen to fill the post of district clerk, which office he has held for 12 years. Over his opponent, Kerr received a total of 2,016 votes as compared with 1,501 received by Meadors.

Miss Elizabeth Hall and Mrs. R. W. Miller fought hard for the office of county clerk, the former, at present deputy county clerk, having a lead of around 300 votes over Mrs. Miller, who received 1,068 votes. Miss Hall received 1,383 votes. Thomason and Fox, two men in the race who faced the ladies, received 683 and 670 votes respectively.

"Red" Gibbs won out over all his opponents in the race for justice of the peace, precinct 1, place 2 with a vote of 1,096 on incomplete returns, while Frank Morgan appeared to have been re-elected to the office of constable, with a slight lead over Bob Windham. Morgan received 1,314 on unofficial returns, while Windham got 1,170. Bill Bryan, also a candidate, received 709 votes.

R. V. Gwinn was re-chosen apparently, to preside in the office of justice of the peace, precinct 1, place 1. He received 1,708 votes as compared with 915 which Simmons got, on incomplete returns.

The county vote, based on incomplete returns which were received at a late hour, follow for Wichita county:

Representative 11th District, Place 1—Swanson, 1,681; Gipson, 2,187.

Representative 11th District, Place 2—Parnell, 1,617; Simmons, 816; Avis, 1,765.

Mayfield a Product of Texas Public Schools

Earle B. Mayfield, who yesterday won a place in the run-off for the democratic nomination for U. S. senator from Texas, was born in Overton, Rusk county in 1881. He received his education in the East Texas high schools, the Southwestern university at Georgetown and the state university of Texas. His first office was state senator. In 1906 he was elected to the upper house of the Texas legislature from the twenty-seventh district.

He operated a large farm in Bosque county, was a member of the farmer's union at the time he announced his candidacy for the state senate and carried the district by a majority of two thousand. During his first term he actively supported the various liquor regulation bills introduced as well as the legislation demanded by the farmers' union. He was re-elected for a second term without opposition as his district was strong for prohibition and agriculture and livestock raising were the mainstays of the people.

He served six years as a senator and while holding that office he announced as a candidate for railroad commissioner against John L. Wortham who had been appointed to the commission to fill a vacancy by Oscar B. Colquitt, then governor. Mr. Wortham was a candidate for the nomination but was defeated. This happened ten years ago. Mr. Mayfield served a full term of six years, announced for re-election and was given the second term practically without opposition. His term as commissioner will expire in 1924.

According to his biographers, Mr. Mayfield was twenty-one years old the 12th day of April, 1902, and the first vote case by him was for prohibition when he voted for local option in Smith county, August 29, 1902. He was born in Rusk county, he was a resident of Bosque county when he won his first office and Austin has been his home for ten years. He is married, his wife is a native Texan and they have three sons, who are being educated in the public schools of Texas and who expect to finish their education, walking in the footsteps of their father, in the state university.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

for all the people; Samuel Gompers speaks for the people who are wage earners, or wage workers. President Harding has to be careful, in his use of words. Samuel is master of his own mouth.

GOVERNOR OLIVER SHOUP of Colorado has threatened to withdraw state troops protecting mines there because of alleged boosting prices by the operators. Secretary of War John W. Weeks applauded the attitude of Governor Shoup and this is what Weeks said: "The governor very properly made it clear to [illegible] that he was protecting the mines, not to enable them to make money but to enable the people to obtain coal." It must have been a great shock to the mine owners of Colorado. Aren't these gentlemen entitled to protection and aren't they entitled to fix their own prices on coal they sell to consumers? Governor Shoup must imagine he is the Great Titan of the Universe. What right have the people to complain? After the mine owners and the miners have settled their differences, there will be a coal famine, manufactured or real, and those who get a full supply of coal will pay a fancy price for their fuel.

GOVERNOR JOSEPH B. ROBertson of Oklahoma is preparing to open the coal mines of his state and to mine coal regardless of the operators or the strikers. He has the soldiers; where will he find the professional coal diggers? A coal digger is like a statesman, he isn't made in a day.

BUSINESS HAS BEEN GIVEN a punch in its ribs by the rail strikers and the coal strikers. It goes without saying that the actress who had married three millionaire husbands and had squandered three fortunes was not far wrong when she said: "Life is just one damn thing after another." Modern civilization has many blow holes in it and the modern industrial system is as faulty as the modern civilization. These strikes will cause a loss to the workers of the country and the capitalists of the country of a billion dollars, and yet there is an editor at Fort Worth who has the nerve to recommend the application of golden rule wisdom to the angry disputants. Now just why should the golden rule be shot full of holes by the gunmen on either side of the industrial war in West Virginia, Illinois or elsewhere?

buted in any amount to the fund, is included in this general appreciation. Especial mention is desired to be made of J. L. Staley, for his confidence in advancing the necessary money several weeks ago, and giving the use, without interest and without making out a note.

Appreciative mention is made again of the ice companies and the milk dealers who are supplying ice, and who have been generous contributors practically since the opening of the day nursery.

An invitation is extended to all those who have contributed to this home to pay a visit when possible, so that they may realize just what their donations have meant. There have been many individual gifts of equipment and supplies from time to time. In fact those who have not visited the nursery and kept in touch with affairs, can not realize just how great an appeal to the hearts this institution makes. The friends of the institution have been generous, and it is the hope of the Federated Missionary society, that the institution is it's service and it's administration will continue to be worthy of the interest and support of the people of Wichita Falls.

SISTER'S HUG CONDEMNED PET

Dick Sullivan, part St. Bernard and part mastiff, pet of Jacob Silverman and family, of Lansdale, Pa., was condemned to death because a peculiar law of the state of Pennsylvania denies an alien the right to possess a dog. Dick Sullivan's master has not been naturalized. Mrs. Harding read the pathetic plea Silverman and his daughters has made to save the life of their faithful pet and President Harding appealed to Governor Sproul in Dick's behalf. The governor of Pennsylvania wired to Magistrate Boorse at Lansdale and Dick is now waiting to lick the hands of the president, the governor and the magistrate.

KATY FILLING VACANT JOBS

Service Is Improving Despite Strike

According to information received from H. G. Smith division freight and passenger agent of the M. K. & T., conditions on the line out of here continue to improve.

Mr Smith, in a statement made public yesterday, indicates through statistics that the strike is not having as weakening an effect as was reported recently.

His statement follows:

"Strikers places are being filled with new men. As an indication of the gradual improvement in our freight service, loaded cars moved during the last four days have made a steady increase as shown as follows:

July 16 3,340
July 17 3,443
July 18 3,637
July 19 4,012

"The average daily loaded movement for the month of June was 4,400 cars and these figures show that we are fast approaching the normal handling of business.

"Passenger movement is improving. The Texas Special, the fast through train between St. Louis, Kansas City and Texas points—Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco, Temple, Austin and San Antonio—out of 18 days arrived at its southern terminals 13 times on schedule, St. Louis 13 times and Kansas City 17 times."

There are no embargoes in effect on the M. K. & T. lines and all classes of freight will be received and delivered, and considering conditions, Mr. Smith assures Katy patrons reasonably prompt service and a continued improvement.

Is Not Feeling Strike Pressure Yet

"The Fort Worth & Denver is, of course, feeling the strike at present; but not to the extent that it is being felt on other lines."

It was pointed out that none of the passenger trains have been taken off and that the freight service has "not been curtailed in the least," the official ascribed this fact to the equipment now in use on the F. "When the strike has been under way longer, however," it was admitted, "it may become necessary for us to do some retrenching."

NEARLY LOST

Mrs. Percy Rockefeller.
After being lost for hours in an unseasonable blizzard, a party of tourists were rescued in Yellowstone National park by forest rangers. In the party was Mrs. Percy A. Rockefeller, sister of James A. Stillman, the banker, who aided in building a beacon fire on a rocky eminence on a spur of Mt. Washburn. The forest rangers were guided by this fire but did not reach the tourists until they had suffered considerably from exposure.

FLO MAKES HIS BEAUTIES WEAR CORSETS

Six of Flo Ziegfeld's beauties demonstrating the new style, flexible corset which he designed for them.

Flappers may come and flappers may go, but Ziegfeld Follies girls are going to wear corsets . And that's that. Not the ordinary kind, though, for Flo has designed a new model which will not interfere with their terpsichorean gymnastics. In a letter to Health Commissioner Copeland of New York recently, Ziegfeld advocated a return of the corset to promote grace and beauty. Ziegfeld's corsets are now just at much a part of his chorus' equipment as tights.

New Refinery Will Boost Business to Eliasville Field

Development of the Eliasville oil field and the establishment of new refinery along the roadway of the W. F. & S. will materially increase local freight service on that railway, according to assertions made yesterday by R. W. Miller, general superintendent of the Wichita Falls & Southern.

The Mid-Kansas Oil company, according to Mr. Miller, is developing all of its leases in the Eliasville field, and contemplates the erection in the near future of a modern refinery along the route to the latter place. The refinery will probably be located about four miles south of Eliasville.

The Katy's daily earnings

Cash paid over the counter by passengers and shippers is a railroad's sole source of operating revenue. The average gross revenue per mile of the M. K. & T. Lines in 1921 was $45.70 a day. In the first five months of 1922 the average gross revenue per mile was $36.78 a day.

To serve the public satisfactorily, the M.K. & T. management must keep the cost of train service, up-keep of roadway and equipment, wages, taxes and rents within this revenue, and maintain a margin between expenses and earnings that will attract additional investment, as need develops for enlarged transportation capacity.

The M. K. & T. Lines represent a property investment, recognized by the Interstate Commerce Commission under the Transportation Act, of more than $60,000 a Mile. In the first five months of 1922, after paying expenses and taxes, the M. K. & T. Lines earned a net operating income per mile, on an investment of more than $60,000 a Mile, of $7.65 a day. Most enterprises with like investment enjoy greater income. None perform an equivalent public service with less income.

The Katy is proud of it's service to the Southwest. The compensation it enjoys will bear public comparison with that of any other business or industry.

Spuds Wallop Leaders 6-2 When Wheeler Goes Great

SUMMA'S SUNSET HOMER IS FINAL CLIMAX AS OPENING GAME IS GRABBED FROM CRABS

Spudders Flash Great Play Behind More Major League Hurling; Bescher Leads Attack With Three Blows; Wheeler Whiffs Nine; Bischoff and Hendricks Hit Homers.

By "SPIKE" COOPER

Homer Summa caught two runners aboard in the eighth, and although the game had already been won, he promptly iced the contest with a drive over the right field wall at its furthermost point.

Due to train connections, the Galveston team did not arrive until after 5 o'clock, but Manager Salm refused to disappoint the 2,000 fans who sat patiently through the heat. The clock pointed to 5:52 as the team took the field, but play was rushed up and the sun had barely set when the last hitter was retired on strikes.

Rip Wheeler uncovered a brand of pitching which was unbeatable. Nine Crab hitters went the strike-out route, and only four times did the visitors hit safely, one of which was a scratch by Hendricks in the eighth.

Art Weiss robbed Eibel of an extra base wallop in the fourth when he leaned high in the air after a drive which looked far over his head. A gloved hand catch brought the sphere down in one of the best plays of the day.

Perryman hurled a good game until he weakened in the eighth and gave up the final three runs.

The Spudders came back in their half with a marker when Bescher and Adams poked doubles to the boarded barriers surrounding the outfield.

Galveston took the lead again in the second. Munson walked and went to second when Brown grounded out Wheeler to Beck. Griffith's double to left scored Munson with the last marker gathered by the visitors.

George Bischoff evened up the marks in the Spudder's half when with the count three-two and two men out, Perryman slipped one down the groove which "Bisch" promptly unloaded outside the field.

The game assumed a dueling aspect from there on out until the Spuds chased another across in the fifth. White led off with a double down left field foul line. Bischoff sacrifice him to third and when Wheeler grounded out Connolly to Eibel, White scored.

Summa Ruins It.

The three runs in the eighth came as a result of clean hitting again. Wheeler lined out to Distel. Bescher got his third hit of the day, a single to center. Tanner followed suit with another and Bescher held second Summa then ruined Galveston's chance by dropping one near the creek far beyond right field fence.

After the second inning, Wheeler was absolutely air-tight. He allowed two hits, one in the first, Hendricks's homer and one in the second. Griffith's double. From there on out, he began fanning hitters with regularity and not an inning passed that did not see at least one disappear by that route.

Al White pulled a great catch in the first when he raced outside the foul line in right after a short fly by Distel. Tanner followed with a play equally as brilliant on the next drive, a smash by Moore toward left. A beautiful stab snared the ball.

The Spudders chalked up nine hits and more than half went for extra bases, totaling exactly 18 bases. Three doubles and two homers aided materially in the counting.

Perryman had excellent control and did not allow a pass while Wheeler was a bit more generous and walked four.

By taking the game yesterday, the Spudders moved a whole game nearer the top as all three leaders were bumped.

Jumbo and Pat Here.

Jumbo Ramsey joined the club yesterday and looks good. He threw to the hitters and took lots of exercise But Pat Flaherty, latest acquisition was the chief sweat-producer. He was all over the field and seems to be in excellent condition. He's glad to be with the Spudders and should turn in a lot of ball games before the final curtain rings down.

Several of the nine were juberous about changing duds-outs, but the shade prevailed strongly and over they went. The jinx did not mean anything.

CINCINNATI, July 22.—A special dispatch from Oakland City, Ind., Eddie Roush's home, says Roush, Cincinnati Red star outfielder, was reinstated yesterday by Commissioner Landis, it is said, strongly commended the Cincinnati ball club for its determined stand against the holdout of Roush, who refused to sign a contract with the local National club when his salary demands were refused.

Roush, who held out for a yearly salary of $18,000, said last night he would not play with the Reds until his terms were met. Roush said: "Of course, I applied to Judge Landis for reinstatement, but I will not play with the club until the team agrees to what I ask."

EIGHT SPUDS IN CHARMED CIRCLE

Summa Leads All In Number of Base Hits

By WILLIAM B. RUGGLES

Summa, the fleet outfielder of the Wichita Falls Spudders, regained the leadership of the Texas League batters in figures compiled through games of Wednesday, his average of .371 having DeMaggio of Beaumont, the next regular who has been over 200 times at bat, bested by four points. Forty-two Texas Leaguers are hitting better than .300, the latest old inhabitant to reappear in the batting haunts being Frankie Fuller of San Antonio, now hitting .307.

Of the men who will have to be figured in by the close of the season, it is still anybody's race. Mike Massey, Summa, DeMaggio, Jackson, Connolly, Whiteman, Edington, Boos or Blades may be the lucky wearer of the shoes of Clarence Kraft. The 1921 leader ranked twelfth on the list and is steadily climbing.

English Girls Canada Brides

The cream of British young womanhood is flocking to a vast Gretna Green on the fertile plains of Canada. In two years 264,000 women have come to the dominion from the British Isles, listed as "unaccompanied women" and the reduction of British surplus women has just begun. Forty per cent of these girls have married since their arrival. Canada has a surplus of men and the Canadian government is acting as cupid. Lecturers travel throughout England, Scotland and Wales, describing the country and agreeing to place the girls in jobs in Canada, usually in domestic service, the provinces paying the expenses of the girls, they repaying the loans on easy terms from the wages they receive. This is an enlightened policy. A government which facilitates home making not only is fulfilling its highest duty, but is strengthening itself.

JUNGLE CHIEFS SEE PARIS

Accompanied by from three to five wives, two dozen jungle kings, dusky rulers of French possessions, are seeing Paris, with high officials of the French government acting as their escorts. Dressed in faultlessly fitting black coats and plug hats, these kings of the jungle are having the time of their lives in the French capital. Nearly all speak French fluently. One proudly announces he is a subscriber to a Paris newspaper which for 10 years he had read in the jungle. Who knows but on some far off cannibal isle the natives are now following the daily adventures of Jiggs and Maggie and the Gumps, thereby taking lessons

THREE STARS OF THE CLIMBING CUBS

Three of the men who are making the Cubs a winning outfit. Grover Alexander, left; Arnold Statz, center, and Tony Kaufmann

(By Norman E. Brown)

A few weeks ago the Chicago Cubs looked like the hopeless outfit of the National league. Bill Killefer, earnest pilot, was struggling in what seemed a hopeless effort to swing the aggregation into some kind of shape. Grover Alexander hit a slump, to make matters worse.

But times have changed since then, Marie.

Right now the Bruins are giving the sparkling White Sox outfit a run for popularity honors in the Windy City. The National leaguers are making their presence felt around the circuit.

Perhaps Alexander is the barometer of the team. After a good start this season Alexander hit the skids. He lost four straight games, was yanked a couple of times and then lost another game before he found his stride again. Then he went out and won four straight or better and is still going good.

Killifer's pitching problem has been lessened further by the brilliant relief hurling of Toney Kaufmann. Coupled with these bright spots young Arnold Statz stepped out in front with a hitting streak and an exhibition of outfielding that was a show in itself. He went 19 games at one stretch without missing his daily bingle. He bit over .375 in that span.

The work of these stars and Killefer's steady plodding brought the other members around into some semblance of a machine again and now they are living up to the expectations of the Cubs fans—and doing a bit better. They must be reckoned with from now on.

HE'S WELCOME

Duke of Leinster.

To comply with a second condition involved in a $15,000 wager, the Duke of Leinster, who recently drove a racing car from London to Aberdeen in record time, is arranging for a transatlantic voyage single-handed in a twelve ton ketch from the west coast of Ireland to New York. The Duke, who is 38 years old, refuses to tell with whom he made the bet. He is called the "daredevil" sportsman of England, and is well known because of his many exploits.

Unwritten Rules of Court Are Barometers of Sportsmanship

(By Don Weldon)

There are unwritten rules of tennis as well as written ones. A man may become an efficient racket man and know all the strokes and still miss the real meaning of the word sportsman. There are certain customs which a player must accept and abide by if he expects to become a true follower of the sport.

Most customs regarding tennis are outgrowths of the combined manners of the best players on the courts. One of the first rules which is observed by net men is that no player shall appear on the courts in dark clothing. While this is governed by no rule it is a custom never broken by players who are true sports. It is best to wear white duck or flannel trousers and a white shirt. Because of the heat caused by the friction of the rubber shoes most players wear wool socks. In a long match the value of this will be especially noticed as the player will not tire as quickly. All other customs have grown from the search for comfort as have these.

Tennis is a game for the good fellow and the true sport but the groucher and the heefer have no place on the court. Tennis is a game where the individual is tried as to his true qualities. If one is petty and little in his views tennis will show him up; if he can't take loss in good spirits he won't last long. Working the other way, however, it will bring out the true worth of a man. Learn to take defeat with a smile and to treat a defeated opponent with the courtesy due him. When you make a bad shot don't throw the racket and lost your temper. If you do you will lose the game too. Play hard, be game and don't grouch.

Rule 10—The server shall not serve until the receiver is ready. If the latter attempts to return the service, he shall be deemed ready.

Case 13—The service is delivered before the receiver is ready. He tries to return it and fails. Is he entitled to have it played over again?

Decision—No. If he attempts to return the service he is deemed ready.

Case 14—In receiving the service, the second ball is served while the first one (a let) was still in the air, and the two came in contact. No attempt was made to return the second ball. The point was scored for the server. Was this correct?

Decision—No. A let should be called.

PROPOSES A HEART LOTTERY

A Hammonton, N. J., citizen wants an ordinance passed forbidding the 50 widows and 50 widowers of that town to play solitaire. Being a widower himself, he proposes a "heart lottery" the names of all the widows and widowers to be paired off and under the rules courtship to be encouraged for 6 months. The scheme seems practical, except that the time limit seems unnecessarily long. It will be all settled in less than 6 months.

Veteran Star Cuts Lead Held by Sisler

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Perhaps Tyrus Raymond Cobb is convinced, in his own mind, that he is "slowing up" after 17 years as a star in the American league, but George Sisler, the marvel player with St. Louis whose batting honors Cobb is threatening today, is positive the "Georgia Peach" will be his most dangerous rival for the 1922 batting championship.

The race between Cobb and Sisler today is narrowed down to a difference of only 11 points, with Sisler setting the pace with an average of 416, a drop of four points within a week. Cobb, continuing his batting rampage, smashed out nine hits in his last five games, bringing his average of .405, while the best Sisler could do was four in as many games.

Sisler, however, is showing his worth in base stealing and scoring, having registered 79 times and stolen 34 bases—the best base-stealing performance in the major leagues.

Walker Hitting

Clarence "Tillie" Walker, the slugging outfielder with Philadelphia, is having a hard time catching Rogers Hornsby, the National league home run leader. Just when Tillie poles a circuit drive, Hornsby bags one for himself. Tillie smashed two out in one game and ran his string up to 23, which gave him a lead of two ahead of Ken Williams of St. Louis. Harry Heilmann of Detroit has 16 poled and Babe Ruth has 15.

Other leading batters for 55 or more games: Speaker, Cleveland, .365; Schang, New York, .360; Heilman, Detroit, .356; Meusel, New York, .348; Bassler, Detroit, .347; Ed Miller, Philadelphia, .347; Tobin, St. Louis, .342; O'Neill, Cleveland, .339.

Miller on Spree

A recruit and a veteran are giving National leaguers something to talk about this week. The recruit is Lawrence "Hack" Miller, the Pacific coast slugger, with Chicago and the veteran is Jake Daubert, first baseman with Cincinnati. They have been yielding the hickory with telling effect, each cracking out a dozen hits in their last seven games. Daubert's hitting included two doubles and a home run, while Miller bagged four circuit drives and two doubles.

The Cincinnati veteran brought his average from .355 up to .371 and is the runner-up to Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis star, who tops the list with a mark of .397. Miller added 10 points to his average and moved up among the select 10, his percentage being .350.

Hornsby's keen eye and hitting prowess keeps him out in front among the major league home run clouters, with a string of 25 for the season.

Max Carey, the speedy outfielder of the Pirates, in addition to showing the way to the base stealers with 24 thefts, is out in front as a run getter having registered 76 times.

Other leading batters for 55 or more games: Gowdy, Boston, .370; Holocher, Chicago, .366; Grimes, Chicago, .363; Snyder, New York, .363; Bigbee, Pittsburgh, .362; J. Johnston, Brooklyn, .357; B. Griffith, Brooklyn, .351; L. Miller, Chicago, .350.

LEVERETT BOLSTERS SOX

It is true that Leverett has not been sent to the firing line as often as Faber, Robertson and Hodge, the club's older and more seasoned pitchers, but he has made good.

In six games he won four, for a percentage of .667, and was among the eight leading American league hornets.

SHOOTERS SEE BEST MEET OF YEAR

Deatherage Finishes With Unbroken Run of 151

Shooting for a valuable trophy, a high-grade trap gun offered by the club to winner, under the handicap system, President Deatherage of the club broke 125 straight targets when he was forced into three extra frames. The run of "deads" brought his total run to 151 straight and still unbroken, taking his last events of the shoot last week. Deatherage was breaking his targets as regularly and as cleanly as ever shot over traps anywhere, and climaxed the best weekly shoot of the year.

At the close of the first 50 targets, five men were tied for the grand trophy, Deatherage, Dempsey, Nabb, Rigsby and Gallagher had perfect scores. In the first extra event, Dempsey and Gallagher dropped out while Nabb did not fall away until the second extra. Rigsby was still shooting in his unusual form and a third extra event was necessary to determine the winner.

For the regular weekly trophy, Deatherage was undisputed winner. Four shooters were tied last week and in the shoot off Friday, Rigsby was awarded the spoon.

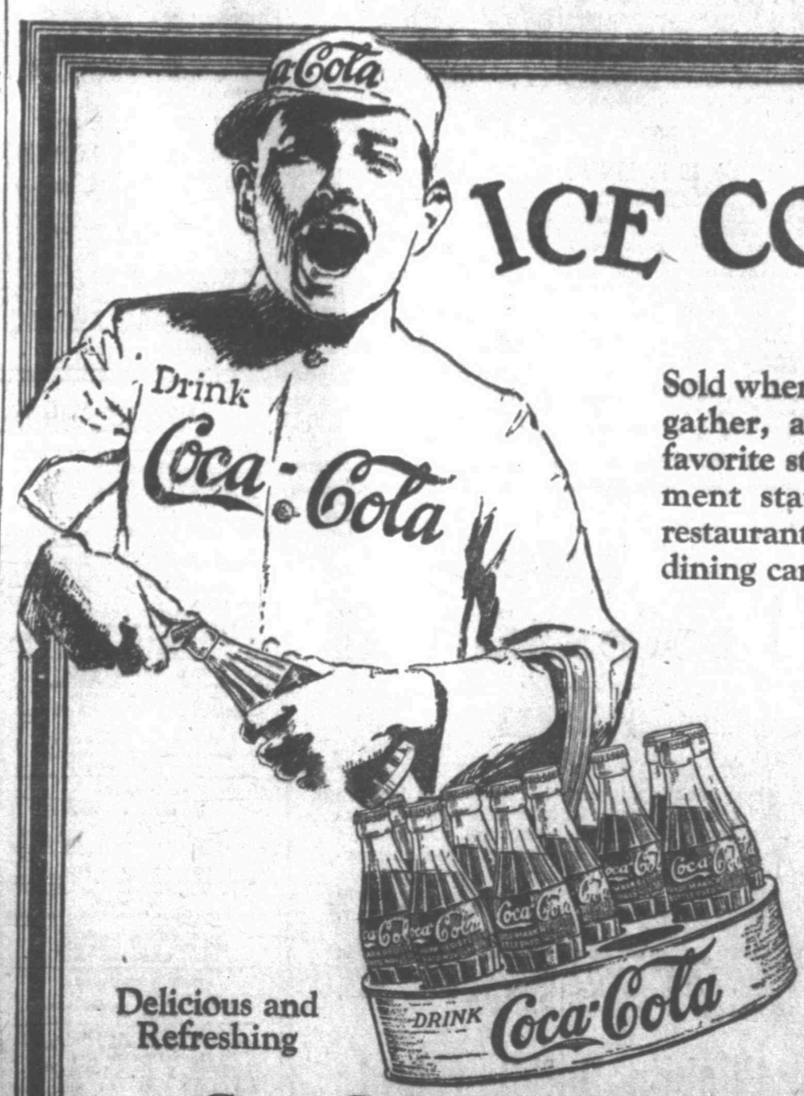

In the singles, 50 targets, single rise from the 16 yard line, the scores were: Landon 42, Gallagher 47, Grooms 33, Dempsey 46, Cooper 32, Deatherage 50, Gotcher 36, Greenburg 45, Burgan 31, Nabb 49, Rigsby 47, Brown 30, Lounsey 44, Ward 50, Kiddy 37, Lyon, L. L. 42, Adams 47, Pate 49, Apple 36, Brandeberry 30.

The shoot was by far the best of the season.

Farm Produce Prices From All Over Texas

PRICES PAID TO FARMERS HERE

Roasting Ears Are Getting Scarce

Prices being paid farmers for their products in Wichita Falls have a wide range in most cases. This is due to the fact that the merchant pays one price for country produce, according to grades and the farmer sells his stuff directly to the retail trade at another price. On the farmers' market days the prices range even more than other days as bargaining is one of the big features of the market and the farmers have not agreed on any set price for their produce.

Home grown roasting ears are getting scarce and are going up in price. On the other hand the cantaloupes and watermelons are beginning to come in more plentifully.

Eggs .....26 cents
Butter .....25 to 30 cents
Tomatoes, per pound.....3 to 5c
Corn, per dozen ears.....20 cents
Peaches, early Albertas, per bushel $2.00
Fryers, lb.....20 to 25 cents
Cantaloupes, per dozen....60 to 70c
Watermelons, per dozen....$3 to $5
Shelled corn, per bushel....60 cents
Wheat, per bushel....73 to 98 cents
Prairie Hay, per bale..33 to 40 cents
Johnson grass, per bale..25 to 35cts

GRAIN

CHICAGO GRAIN

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Heavy selling by hedgers put enough wheat in the market today to overcome week-end covering by shorts and wheat values declined readily on the board of trade, the close being near the bottom figures of the day with December at new low level for the season. At the finish wheat showed a loss of 1 1-4 to 1 1-2, September $1.09 1-4 to $1.09 3-8, and December $1.10 1-2 @1.10 ¾; corn was down 3-8 to 1 1-8c; oats 1-2c lower and provisions 10 to 30 cents higher.

Trading in wheat was light and featureless the greater part of the short session.

Predictions of continued favorable weather fo rthe crop was a bearish factor. Corn futures were dull and easier, reflecting the trade in wheat. Demand was almost local and commission house buying was small.

The oats trade was dull, what small trade there was being attributed to the absence of a demand for cash.

Provisions were firm despite the easier hog market.

MODERN STYLES NOT SO NEW AFTER ALL

(By International News Service.)

PARIS, July 22.—That fashion is as old as humanity has once more been proved by some recent discoveries made in Egypt.

In the time of the Pharaohs the battle of the skirts was as hotly fought as in the present day. Charming statuettes of Egyptian women lately sold at a great sale show skirts of knee-length and others that sweep the ground. One is a draped model caught on the hip by a large buckle ornament.

PARIS, July 22.—Is the German empire a republic or is the German republic an empire?

Le Matin wants to know. According to dispatches from Washington, that journal points out, Dr. Otto Wiedfeldt, German ambassador to the United States, in presenting his accrediting letter to President Harding, said: "I have been appointed through the confidence of the president of the German empire and of the German government."

To which Mr. Harding replied: "I am pleased to receive from your hands a copy of the letter of His Excellency the president of the republic of Germany."

Wall Street Is Unsettled by Both Strikes

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Regardless of Wall street's traditional indifference to labor troubles, the week in the financial market showed that the coal and railroad strikes had finally left its impression on trade and industry.

Figures issued by the department of commerce at Washington and authoritative mercantile agencies plainly indicated that the improvement noted in June had not been maintained and that the immediate future is rendered more obscure.

These conditions were in part attributed to seasonal slackening, but they were accelerated to a marked extent by higher production costs, prospective reductions of railroad earnings and an enormous shrinkage of buying power through labor's loss of wages.

The stock market lapped into its customary midsummer dullness but values in the transportation and coal groups were not materially affected. Reactions were more pronounced in the oil and motor divisions, some of those issues showing sharp depreciations.

Predictions that the oil industry is approaching a state of over-production and that further cuts in raw and refined products are inevitable gained wider currency.

22 COUNTIES WANT FARM BUREAU DRIVE

(By International News Service.)

DALLAS, July 22.—Twenty-two counties in Texas have expressed a desire for membership campaigns to increase the number of signers of the cotton contract of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association, according to reports from speakers who have already been in 24 out of approximately 100 counties which will be visited this week.

Farmers have shown great enthusiasm upon hearing that they had been able to establish in Texas in less than a year, a business amounting to more than eight million dollars, and to do it with few mistakes.

Although women have had the right to vote in Norway since 1907, the recent election to the storthing of Miss Kareen Platenfi is the first instance of a woman being selected for that office.

HEDGE SALES WEAKEN COTTON

Market Closes 9 to 16 Points Lower

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The feature of trading in the cotton market today was the heavy purchase of December contracts by brokers who were selling March and May at the same time. This was supposed to represent the transfer of hedges on a large scale. The market otherwise was rather quiet and mostly the usual week-end affair with a further downward trend due to a belief that the southwestern dry spell might be relieved over Sunday at least to the extent of lower temperatures.

Opening was steady and unchanged to 15 points lower. A later upturn was not well supported, however, and in the last half hour the market again yielded to selling pressure from local sources and dropped in some cases to lowest of the day, October reaching 21.75 and December 21.73. The close was barely steady and 9 to 16 points net lower. Neither the very bullish week end statistics, nor the liberal sales of print cloths at Fall River served to check bearish sentiment which appeared to be still aggressive at the close of the week.

Cotton closed steady at net loss of 10 to 22 points.

NEW ORLEANS, July 22.—Pronounced irregularity was shown by cotton today. In the early trading July lost 80 points, falling to 21.15, while January lost only 12 points at 21.18. Weakness in July appeared to be due to a lowering of the spot basis especially in the western belt.

Before the opening there was much talk concerning high temperatures in the western belt, Fort Worth reporting a temperature of 100 degrees at 8 o'clock last night.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The Guaranty Trust company today issued a statement in connection with the voluntary bankruptcy petition filed yesterday by Allan A. Ryan, asserting that reserves of $3,000,000 had been set up in the last year against $4,000,000 owed the company by the broker and Allan A. Ryan and company.

The statement calling attention to statements that Mr. Ryan's indebtedness to the trust company was $8,500,000 and upwards, added "the facts are that Allan A. Ryan and Allan A. Ryan and company owe the Guaranty Trust company of New York for its own account a principal amount of approximately $4,000,000 against which pledged collateral applies. Cognizance has been taken of this situation for more than a year and in anticipation thereof, reserves have been set up against this account aggregating $3,000,000.

Dull Financial Session Recorded On Stock Market

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Tacit approval by the federal government of the independent steel mergers provided the only feature of today's dull financial session.

Extreme gains of 1 to almost 3 points were scored by Bethlehem, Lackawanna, Republic and Midvale steels, but this advantage was largely forfeited on realizing sales.

Motors manifested much of their recent reactionary trend, Studebaker being subjected to further selling pressure with several of the less prominent issues of that group.

Rails were listless, but final quotations were mainly towards lower levels. Equipments, coupers and related shares moved within the narrowest limits. Mexican Petroleum again featured the oils, its early strength, however, soon being dissipated. Sales amounted to 275,000 shares.

Weekly trade reviews bore out recent statements of a halt in general business due chiefly to the coal and railroad strikes. Distribution of merchandise fell below the corresponding periods of last year, but collections were better.

A contraction of $84,000,000 in actual loans and discounts was the noteworthy item in the weekly clearing house statement. This was accompanied by a decrease of $95,600,000 in net demand deposits and a cash gain of $31,564,000, increasing excess reserves to almost $44,000,000.

Industrial Unrest Upsets Steel Trade

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Industrial conditions arising from the coal and rail strike have quite seriously disturbed the steel market, production is being hindered and costs increased by the fuel shortage and buyers are showing a disposition to limit new operations and await developments. Consequently new business is smaller, but unfilled orders are quite large. Pig iron is nervous and unsettled. Furnaces are being blown out, owing to scarcity and high prices for coke and buyers are cautious about placing more than moderate orders under present conditions.

Copper is firmly held at 14 cents for all deliveries by the large producers, with exporters bidding 13.90 fas, New York.

OIL FIELD WORKER FOUL PLAY VICTIM

By Associated Press.

BRECKESNRIDGE, July 22.—H. W. Graves, age 25, oil field worker, was found dead in the Brazos river near here last night. His face was cut and bruised and officers believed he was the victim of foul play.

PARIS COPS HOLD JUVENILE THIEVES

(By International News Service)

PARIS, July 22.—Patrolman Pierre walked a beat in front of a large popular department store.

Out of the store walked a little girl about fourteen years old, wearing a new dress.

A minute later she was followed by a little boy about twelve years old in a new overcoat.

A little girl about eight, a youngster of six and a blue-eyed child of two followed in order, each wearing conspicuously new and tidy clothes.

The policeman surprised the group as they rejoined a block away.

"Yes, I stole the clothes," the oldest child confessed to the magistrate next morning. "Mamma was so poor she never would buy us any."

TO THE PUBLIC

Wish to announce that DOCTOR SCHULTZ, the old, reliable specialist, has opened a branch office at the Armilda Hotel, Electra, Tex., in connection with his Wichita Falls office 605¼ Eighth street, Suite 3, for the benefit and convenience of his large patronage in that vicinity.

OLDEST IN EXPERIENCE; RICHEST IN MEDICAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILL; THE SUFFERERS' FRIEND; THE PEOPLE'S SPECIALIST in the treatment of all Chronic, Nervous, Blood and Skin Diseases of men and women.

No man or woman need be weak or ailing. My special treatment is an open door to VIGOR and all the pleasures that belong to perfect health and you may avail yourself of my services. It has been and is my life's work to aid the afflicted; alleviate their sufferings and restore them to health and vigor. I have placed the charge for my services at a small cost.

IF YOU ARE SICK

PROFIT BY THE EXPERIENCE OF OTHERS

Consult
Dr. Schultz

THE RELIABLE SPECIALIST

For scientific treatment of chronic, nervous and special diseases of both sexes, catarrh of all mucous membrane, stomach, liver, kidney complaints, blood and skin diseases. Hemorrhoids and prostatis complications treated without the knife, by a safe and humane system of scientific treatment.

If you are sick of experimenting, sick of failures, sick of being sick, come to me. I invite sick people who contemplate taking treatment to come. Special attention given in the combination of curative powers, modern electricity, vibrations, etc., with the scientific administration of selected Specific Medicines. I endeavor to do everything to promote the welfare of my patients.

A Doctor's Appeal to Parents:

If the mothers and fathers of our children would see the awful wrecks of men and women I see almost daily and could hear the story most of them tell, namely: "Our parents never warned us," they would no longer hesitate to teach the children SEX HYGIENE. The relation of the sexes is God given. It is the duty of the parents to explain the sex truth to the growing boy and girl. It is a sacred duty and I warn you parents of the present generation—do not conceal the sex truth from your children if you have any regard for their future health and happiness. It should be part of their religion. Our children should be taught to know themselves. If this talk results in just one boy or girl asking the truth of the parents, I shall feel as if my appeal is not in vain and that the world is slightly better because of my passing through.

IF YOU NEED A SPECIALIST WHY NOT THE BEST?

Are you a nervous wreck? Are you worn out and broken down? Are you suffering from vicious Blood and Skin Diseases, that destroy bone tissue, and disfigure for life? Backaches and kidneys give you all-gone feeling? Whether these conditions were caused by early excesses, or contracted by inoculation, it does not matter, for they will all respond to my treatment. Consult Dr. Schultz, the Reliable Specialist, who is well equipped by long experience that enables him to offer his service on a basis that no other can; his charges are lower for cures than the average physician generally charges for failure.

Those who have wasted time and money, and failed to get rid of their ailments, are especially invited to consult FREE. I am giving the benefit of over 30 years' honorable experience; some of my cures are truly wonderful, yet I do not work magic; I do not make the old younger, nor the blind see; I simply apply the knowledge my years of honorable experience have given me, and I do this honestly and intelligently.

Know When They Are Well Off Ho Hum; Some Guys Don't

(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 22. — Gordon Selfridge, merchant prince, owner of Lansdowne house, finest residence in London, inhabited by patrician families for generations, is discontented.

Not satisfied with what he has, he is building himself a dream-house—a castle in the air.

"It is my hobby," said Selfridge, "just an airy hobby. It will never materialize, but I love thinking about it.

"Some years ago I began to wonder what a really perfect castle would be like. And I planned and planned in my own mind. Then I called in the cleverest architects in England, and they made me all kinds of lovely drawings—drawings that, looked at, gave one the feeling of having had a perfect summer's vacation."

But there it is. Castle complete, with drawbridge, stately apartments, gorgeous gardens, marble staircases, marble baths which would turn a Roman emperor green with envy. But all in the air!

Nevertheless, Selfridge walks through the spacious halls daily—in imagination. Sometimes he ascends through the wide gardens. And every now and then he makes wonderful alterations in the designs—but they only amount to marks in the plans!

Culberson in High Spirits Saturday

Special to the Record News.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Senator Culberson retired at 9:30 tonight having received the returns of only one county, Maverick. The news that Culberson had carried Maverick by a clear majority of 21 was sent to him by R. D. Wright, an old friend and supporter.

Culberson was immensely pleased when he received the telegram from Wright at Eagle Pass. eH said that he would wait until morning to receive other returns.

The senior Texas senator spent eight hours in his office and on the floor of the senate today and then went for a shortautomobile ride. He was in the best of spirits.

The total cost of the Munich station amounted to only 30,000,000 marks, against 133,000,000 marks for the Leipsic station.

KAISER SUES GERMAN WRITER

(By International News Service)

BERLIN, July 22. — The ex-Kaiser's lawyer, in Berlin, has filed suit for libel against the well-known satirist, Carl Sternheim, for poking fun at the ex-Kaiser in his latest book, "Libussa," in which the ex-warlord's charger Libussa "knocks" its memoirs on the floor of the stable. It is a sharp satire on the role the ex-Kaiser played in politics at Petrograd, London and Berlin while he was in power.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas, to the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon unknown heirs of James A. King, deceased, by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the 78th district court of Wichita county, to be holden at the courthouse thereof in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in September, A. D., 1922, the same being the fourth day of September, A. D., 1922, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the tenth day of May, A. D., 1922, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 12747-B wherein T. B. Noble is plaintiff and Eddie King, a widow, and the unknown heirs of James A. King, deceased, are defendants and said petition alleging: That on or about the 14th day of August, 1919, the said James A. King, made, executed and delivered to Mrs. C. B. Staton his four promissory notes for the sum of $1,000 each, due on the 14th day of August, 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923, each respectively, payable to the order of the said Mrs. C. B. Staton, bearing interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum from date until paid and stipulating for 10 per cent on the amount of principal and interest then due as attorney's fees in case suit is brought on same or if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, whereby the said James A. King became bound and liable to pay and promised to pay the said Mrs. C. B. Staton the sum of money in said note specified, together with all interest and attorney's fees due thereon, according to the tenor and effect thereof. That said notes were given for a part of the purchase money of the following described real estate and premises, situated in the county of Wichita, Texas, to-wit: Lot No. 4 in block No. 161 in the original town of Wichita Falls, Texas. That on the 14th day of August, 1919, said property was conveyed by Mrs. C. B. Staton to James A. King, deceased, by her deed of writing, in consideration, among other things of the four notes herein described and that in said deed of conveyance a lien was reserved thereon to secure the payment of said notes and a lien to secure said notes was reserved in said notes. That after the execution and delivery of said notes for a valuable consideration, the said Mrs. C. B. Staton, by her written endorsement upon the backs of said notes, transferred the same, together with the lien upon said property securing said notes to said plaintiff and this plaintiff is now the legal owner and holder of said notes. Plaintiff alleges that the first of said notes is entitled to the following credits on the dates herein alleged, to-wit: Sept. 6, 1920, $10; Sept. 3, 1920, $70; Oct. 1, 1920, $60; Nov. 12, 1920, $126.27; Nov. 29, 1920, $15; Dec. 17, 1920, $50; Jan. 1, 1921, $64; Jan. 7, 1921, $11; Feb. 10, 1921, $50; Feb. 28, 1921, $75; April 4, 1921, $50; May 2, 1921, $50. That note No. 2 bears on the back thereof the following credit: Sept. 6, cash $80, interest paid to Aug. 14, 1920. That note No. 3 bears on the back thereof the following credit: "Sept. 6, cash $80; interest paid to Aug. 14, 1920;" that note No. 4 bears on the back thereof the following endorsement: "Sept. 6, cash $80, interest paid to Aug. 14, 1920." That default has been made in the payment of the first two notes hereinabove described, save and except the credits herein alleged and the plaintiff by reason of the default in the payment of said notes elects to declare all four of said notes due and payable, and the defendants though often requested, have failed and refused to pay said notes, each or either of them, or any part thereof, except the credits herein alleged and the same still remain due and unpaid. Wherefore, plaintiff prays that said defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, and that he have judgment for his debt, and such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, that he may be justly entitled to.

Herein fail not, but have before said court at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 20th day of June, A. D. 1922.

BYERS ROAD TO BE EXTENDED

Will Be Taken on to Oklahoma City

A report from Oklahoma City Saturday was to the effect that a franchise to enter Oklahoma City has been requested for the Byers-Waurika railroad.

This report could not be verified here, however. Parties connected with the road said that eventually the road will more than likely be continued on into Oklahoma City but there is nothing definite at this time on the matter.

The report from Oklahoma City was to the effect that when the road is completed to Waurika its construction will keep right on into Ringling and from Ringling into Oklahoma City.

The present plans of the road officials are to have trains running over the line to Waurika not later than January 1.

GUARDS WANTED FOR RAILROADS

Ask Protection for Strikebreakers

Directors of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce in special session Saturday morning adopted a resolution calling upon all local, state and federal authorities to "insure complete protection for every man in Texas in his right to work without interference or bodily harm."

The resolution cites that there have been numerous instances in Texas where men peaceably pursuing their work on railroads have been attacked and demands that so far as Wichita Falls is concerned, at least, nothing of the kind shall happen. The resolution does not condemn officers but on the other hand states that in the opinion of the directors the Wichita Falls police department is doing its duty toward maintaining peace and order.

The resolution follows:

WHEREAS, there have recently occurred in Texas numerous instances of men being attacked and injured peacably engaged in labor on the railroads and,

Whereas, we are determined that as far as Wichita Falls is concerned, there shall be no such lawlessness and while in our opinion, the Wichita Falls police department is doing its duty toward maintaining peace and order and while we believe the overwhelming majority of our citizens, both union and non-union, and the general public are opposed to any lawlessness, and,

Whereas, the liberty and justice guaranteed under the constitution demand full protection against attack, and the right to engage undisturbed in any lawful occupation; and give the public the right to expect the government to maintain law and order and furnish adequate protection to all those at work, therefore,

Be It Resolved

That the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce urges that the most diligent care be continued by all properly constituted local, state and national authorities to insure complete protection for every man in Texas his right to work without interference or bodily attack; that when in spite of protection attacks are made, the offenders be searched out vigorously and dealt with as called for by law, and that public announcement be made in all communities that these precautions have been taken and that lawlessness will be drastically suppressed."

Special Music at Baptist Church

"Seven reasons why Peter denied Christ," will be the theme of a sermon Dr. O. L. Powers will deliver at the First Baptist church Sunday night at 8:15 o'clock. The subject will be treated from an entirely different standpoint than ordinarily comes to mind when reading of the famous incident in the Bible. There will be a mixed quartet to sing at the evening service.

The morning sermon of Dr. Powers will be delivered on the subject "Fainting" and this service there will be special musical features. Messrs. Vaughn Ray and Ivan Jurchison will sing a duet and the choir will sing an anthem with three violine accompany.

LITTLE BUSINESS FOR CITY COUNCIL

Business to come before the city council Monday night will be of a minor nature with the exception of a few questions, it was asserted at the city hall yesterday.

The question of paving three blocks on Indiana, from Tenth to Thirteenth will probably occupy some of the council's time, while other business will be purely of a routine nature.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. — How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckleface, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

OLD SHELL EXPLODES, KILLS 8 YOUNGSTERS

Wreckage in rear of Watertown, N. Y., home where eight children met death by explosion of an old shell.

Investigators in Watertown, N. Y., have been unable to ascertain the reason for the explosion of a souvenir shell in the rear of the home of Edward G. Workman, that resulted in the death of eight children. It is believed, however, that the "dud," used as a door weight, was hit with a croquet mallet. The victims were playing in the back yard when the explosion occurred.

Audit of City Books Finished

Auditing of the city books was completed Friday with the finishing of work on the city water company's records, according to statements made at the city hall yesterday.

The audit, which was directed by Ira S. Harris, certified public accountant, and said to be an expert on city books, will be submitted to the city council Monday night, during its regular meeting.

It is understood that a saving of approximately $3,000 has been effected through the audit.

NOW DO MY WORK WITH EASE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N.Y.—"I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep nights and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly every one around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like."—Mrs. CHAS. BAKER, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N.Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

CANALS TO BE STARTED SOON

Irrigation Work to Be Rushed

R. A. Thompson, chief engineer of the Wichita valley irrigation project and E. S. Heyser of the Callahan Construction company, are expected to return early this week from the lower Rio Grande valley where they have been for several days studying the irrigation projects there with special reference to canals and general distribution of water. With their return from the valley a new phase of work is expected to be taken up on the irrigation project here.

The greater part of the work heretofore has been confined to work on the river where the lake is to hold the water and general preparations to confine the water for irrigation. When the two engineers return, it is said that some work more than likely will be started preparatory to making distribution of the water. Within a few weeks the big dredge will be put to work and then water will begin to accumulate in the lake so that by the time the dam is completed, there is expected to be a large amount of water stored.

Working out of distribution is no small job and it will take some time. The engineers are desirous of rushing the project as rapidly as possible and to this end preliminary work on the distribution will be taken up at an early date, it is said, so that when the dam is completed the distribution system will be well under way.

$11,925 to Be Spent On Buildings Here

Although the issuance of building permits dropped back to a par with other weeks during the past seven-day period, a total of $11,925 will be expended on buildings to be erected in this city during the coming month.

The permits issued during the week were granted to the following:

W. C. W. Brown, to erect a five-room frame house at 1205 Austin; $3,000.

W. R. Hyer, to erect a five-room frame residence at 1715 Lucille, $4,000.

J. J. Simon, to repair a five-room frame residence at 2111 Ninth; $1,250.

J. T. Rundell, to erect a garage and servant house at 1630 Pearl; $525.

E. S. Warren, to add a dance hall at 612 Wichita; $150.

H. A. Joplin, to erect a five-room frame residence at 1711 Filmore; $3,000.

Kiwanians to Use Tar and Feathers

Tar and feathers will be on hand at the next regular luncheon of the Kiwanis club.

The club members, after having received a wireless from international headquarters, are wondering what has become of Ben Neal?

Has he married?

Some one said they heard the wedding bells ring in New York.

What happened to him and Julian Bobo in the New York church?

Something surely happened, for the local members have the done on the two men they sent to Canada to represent them recently.

That's why there will be tar and feathers at the next regular meeting because the local club intends to find out everything concerning that trip.

D. L. Fritz will give the attendance prize at the meeting, while the silent boost is announced as a "deep, dark secret."

$272,000 Paid by Refunding Fund

In the past 15 days, a total of approximately $272,000 has been paid out by the city of Wichita Falls of the warrant refunding fund.

Approximately $3,000 remains to be paid yet, city authorities asserted Saturday.

Payment from the large fund which was obtained from a Kansas loan company began 15 days ago, and approximately 500 people have been served by the fund.

Electric Company to Construct Handsome New $40,000 Home

It was reported Saturday that plans are being drawn and a contract will soon be awarded for a two-story brick building to cost approximately $40,000 to be erected in the 800 block on Indiana street for the Wichita Falls Electric company.

According to the report the building is to be built especially for the light company and the entire building building will be occupied by the company.

Officials of the electric light company admitted that negotiations are under way for a new building, but had nothing to give out at this time.

It is said that the building is to be equipped with all necessary appliances and fixtures for the light company.

Salesrooms and some of the offices will be on the first floor, it is said, while others will be on the second floor. The building is to be erected by the owner of the property, it is reported, and leased to the electric light company.

Lesson No. 27.

REACTANCE AND IMPEDANCE.

The steady flow of direct current in a circuit encounters only the ordinary or ohmic resistance of the circuit. When an alternating current flows in a circuit in which an alternating current flows contains a coil of wire, the interlinkage of the magnetic lines of force of any one of the turns, with adjacent turns, causes a counter-lectromotive force to be developed which opposes the impressed electromotive force and consequently retards the flow of currant. If the current decreases, however, the counter-electromotive force opposes the decrease and tends to maintain the original flow of current. As previously explained, this opposition is due to self-induction and the resistance which it offers to the flow of current is known as reactance. In addition to the ohmic resistance, we therefore have a retarding factor in an alternating current circuit due to reactance and the combined effect of those two resistances is known as impedance. The reactance due to inductance is known as inductance reactance.

Another form of reactness makes itself known when an alternating current flows in a circuit containing a condenser. If the voltage in an alternating circuit is impressed upon a completely discharged condenser, current will flow, and the voltage of the condenser will increase until it is equal to the impressed voltage of the circuit. When the counter-electromotive force of the condenser becomes equal to the impressed voltage of the circuit, the flow of current will cease. If the impressed voltage is decreased, the condenser will discharge and the counter-electromotive force will cause current to flow in an opposite direction to the original current. The form of reactance occasioned by the counter-electromotive force of a condenser is known as capacity reactance. The combined resistance of a circuit containing ohmic resistance and capacity reactance is the impedance of the circuit. Impedance in a circuit, therefore, is the resultant effect of combining either inductance reactance or capacity reactance or both with the ohmic resistance of the circuit.

It is important to note that the counter-electromotive force developed by the self-induction of a coil of wrie has an opposite effect to the counter-electromotive force developed by a condenser, the former tending to prolong the current and the latter having the opposite effect. The inductance reactance of a coil of wire also acts in an opposite manner to the capacity reactance of the condenser and these two reactances tend to neutralize each other. If the amounts of inductance reactance and capacity reactance are so adjusted in an alternating current circuit as to exactly neutralize each other, the only resistance offered to the flow of current is the ohmic resistance of the circuit. When such a condition exists in an alternating current circuit, it is known as electrical resonance and is a very important feature in radio transmitting and receiving. How the valuable property of electrical resonance is made use of in radio circuits will be carefully explained in a lesson tomorrow.

100 TEAMS ON WAURIKA JOB

Work to Begin on Roadbed Monday

Monday will mark a new era in the construction of the Byers-Waurika railroad.

At 7:00 o'clock in the morning of that day 100 teams with drivers and other workers will start to work on the preparation of the roadbed. All the past week there were 25 to 40 teams working and considerable progress was made, but with the force for Monday more than double work is expected to proceed rapidly.

Ties for the new road are reported to be on their way and by the time sufficient grading is done, all material for track work will have been assembled so that there will be no delay. The track will be built first to Red river and a material hauling train will be put on to carry bridge material.

So This Is Wichita! Sky-Scrapers, Shade And Traffic Cops!

No, Not a Pipe Dream—Just a Sample of The Faith in the City That Faith Built.

"My, my; what a change," I thought to myself as I strolled down Indiana avenue.

And you can't imagine the change that can come over a public thoroughfare in 30 years.

It was in 1952. And turning back the pages of history 30 years, it was a vastly different Wichita Falls in 1952 than it was in 1922.

Perkins-Timberlake had grown into a mammoth 20-story affair, with beautiful bronze doorways and an entrance of the purest marble. The Olympic theater had come to be an enormous play-house, while the little Olympic cafe which stood at its side had also had its change.

On down the street were more things for me to marvel about; even the people had changed. P. B. M. & Company had grown into a large place of business, and there must have been several hundred clerks inside.

And as I started across the street at the corner of Eighth and Indiana a traffic cop who stood under a sunshade in the center of the much-widened street signalled constantly to the long lines of vehicles that thronged the public highway.

What Faith Did

I marveled at the sights that 30 years had brought to "the city that faith built," and I thought about those times back in 1922, when Hubert Harrison, Frank Kell, and others interested in the material development of this city through the activities of the chamber of commerce had fought hard for that slogan which I read across the top of the Bank of Commerce: "This is the City That Faith Built."

The Kemp hotel had grown to such proportions that the roof garden was almost a five-minute ride on the elevator from the ground floor, but as I had gained the top, I gazed about over a city modern in every respect, and worthy of the name the 30 years change had brought to it.

Out toward Lake Wichita, where once had stood a dance pavilion and other things of amusement, I saw a land dotted with beautiful homes, extending on toward the Archer county line, and when I asked what had become of the lake, I was informed: "It's out there—they call it 'Lake View Park' now—you just can't see it for the homes that have been standing there for the last 20 years. That's where the elite of the city live now, and the lake is surrounded by an enormous pavilion, inside of which is a spot as beautiful as you ever saw."

Roads All Paved

And out beyond the lake I could see where the paved highway that extended only to the spillway in 1922 had been continued on past Bugs Point and as far as I could see into Archer county there was pavement.

In another direction out to the west end of the city, I gazed and tried to picture how the sight I saw would have fitted the Wichita Falls I knew in 1922. But I couldn't picture that, for there on a corner of Tenth street stood the complete realization of dreams of the Wichita Falls medical fraternity of 1922. The year 1952 had brought a large, modern sanita-

BURKBURNETT, July 22.—The Tidal Western Oil & Refinery company is making improvements worthy of emulation, especially by oil companies.

They are putting in common washrooms with hot water heaters and other conveniences where women of the company may do their laundry, are also installing shower and tub baths, and are building sanitary toilets emptying into septic tanks; the overflow of which will be conducted through tile under the lawns of the community yard for sub-irrigation of grass, trees and flowers.

BURK PLANS TO FINISH ROAD PROGRAM.

Special to the Record News.

BURKBURNETT, July 22.—Since the assurance that Wichita county will receive $60,000 for road building funds by the state highway commission, the Burkburnett chamber of commerce is planning to accept the extension of the city pavement west to Clara and on to the Bridgeport bridge, which will practically complete the Burkburnett road system. Present resources will extend it one mile, making six miles the totals in city.

WICHITA TOPS OTHERS FOR HEALTH

ACCORDING to city health authorities this city is absolutely free from any kind of contagious disease. Such a record for a city the size of Wichita Falls is said to be remarkable as most all cities have scattered cases of small pox, measles, mumps, diptheria or some minor disease at all times, it is said although there may be only a few cases and held under complete control.

Wichita Falls long known as one of the healthiest places to live in the entire state has by the eradication of every kind of contagious disease made a new record. Even the health statimates most always have a few cases of some minor contagion, it is said, where there is dense population. By continuing a campaign to keep this city clean the health authorities hope to keep the record of no contagious diseases during all the summer.

STRIKERS HOLD TOGETHER HERE

Roads Blamed Thru Bulletins Issued

"Liberty bell rang out in tones clear as on Independance day, when at 10 o'clock on the morning of July 1, the 'minute men' of organized labor in the American railroad industry quit their work en masse as the only recourse left after two years of negotiation and 'buck-passing.'"

This statement, contained in the first strike bulletin to be issued after local shopmen walked off their jobs 22 days ago, leads a review of the wage issue over which the strike resulted, and which has been adopted by local members of the six federated shop crafts as most clearly defining their stand in the present strike.

Walk-Out Supported

Read at a closed meeting of the strikers held in the Labor temple several days ago, the statements relating to the wage issue and the attitude taken by railroad employes is understood to have met with hearty approval on the part of the skilled laborers.

The article narrates that during the month of June, three wage decisions were issued by the railroad labor board, "establishing a wage scale which the employes could not afford to accept." The first decision affecting the maintenance of way forces it is pointed out, established a basic minimum of 23 cents per hour for unskilled labor, or less than $600 per year salary. The average wage of section men was established through the board's order as 32 1-2c per hour or $800 per year.

In stressing their views of this cut, it is pointed out in the strike bulletin that "no human family can support themselves on such a cut."

Complain of Low Rate

The wage rates set for shop craft in the second decision to be issued by the labor board, the bulletin asserts, "was considerably below the rates necessary to meet the increase in cost of living since 1915." And in this connection the bulletin calls attention to figures showing the cost of living today to be 58.8 per cent higher than in 1915.

The third decision, the bulletin says, affected the wages of the clerks, freight handlers, stationary firemen, oilers and signalmen, and was a continuation of the unjust wage scale started with the minimum for track labor."

Roads Violated Act

The bulletin calls attention to the fact that more than 90 railroads, through the labor board, have violated the transportation act, and that because the wage is considered unjust and unreasonable as prepared by a government board, the men now on strike will remain firm in their cause until the differences are settled to the mutual satisfaction of all parties concerned.

Nearly 200 men walked out in Wichita Falls when the strike order became effective, and none of these have returned to fill the places they left vacant. It is understood from information gleaned through local railroad officials that less than 30 strike-breakers have been brought into this city to do the work of the strikers, and that these few men are unable to handle the vast amount of work which must be performed.

STAMFORD TO VOTE ON ROAD BONDS AGAIN

Special to the Record News.

STAMFORD, July 22.—The $400,000 good roads bond issue for Precinct No. 2—Stamford precinct—which was defeated by a decisive vote in an election here several weeks ago will bob up under a new dress Aug. 5. Opponents of the bond issue in the recent election recently met at Anson and decided upon a course to pursue in connection with another election.

REAL POULTRY KINGS COINING MONEY HERE

Chicken Business on Upgrade Thru Wichita County

An average of 2,334,000 eggs are laid annually in Wichita county by 452,250 chickens, less than half of which, however, are laying hens.

These figures have just been arrived at by County Farm Agent Guy R. Jones, after making an investigation of the poultry industry of the county as a whole.

"The poultry business in Wichita county is a big business, bringing in a good living to many people and making money above living for others while it is cutting a big figure in the living of all farmers." Mr. Jones said.

"Poultry and dairy cattle are the two sure crops of Wichita county," Mr. Jones continued, discussing the poultry business, "and just watch these two industries in the future. According to the census there are an average of 603 chickens on every farm in the county per year. That does not mean that so many chickens are kept at one time. It means the total number have been hatched off or held over and of course many are sold off as fryers or broilers or eaten."

The average value of chickens on each farm, according to Mr. Jones is about $172.22 and at that valuation the chickens have helped the farmer pay his grocery bill besides furnishing him with eggs and meat most of the year around.

Receipts $51,356

Approximate receipts for chickens and eggs sold in Wichita county per year, according to Mr. Jones, totals $51,356. This does not include value of chickens and eggs eaten or those sold to neighbors or in the country. It means the chickens and eggs brought to city market. The total value of chickens and eggs produced in the coulaty per year is estimated, on a conservative basis, as $130,250.

Mr. Jones thinks the poultry and dairying business in Wichita county is the sure living method and says it is growing rapidly.

Mayor Calvert and representatives from the chamber of commerce, American Legion and ouYng Mens' Business league will give interesting talks and a brass band will play music throughout the entire morning.

VERNON ROUTE TO OKLAHOMA CUT 42 MILES

Work Already Under Progress Along Texas Line

By ERIC G. SCHROEDER

VERNON, Texas, July 22—Twenty-six miles northwest of Vernon more than a score of workmen are engaged in an undertaking which bids fair to prove of tremendous consequence to a large area of Texas and Oklahoma trade territory.

Where the Red river flows at its most amiable gait, where its waters are the shallowest and its strength at the lowest ebb, a pile driver is busily thumping long timbers more than 20 feet in the sand in order that travelers from the north and south may be provided with a substantial bridge whereon to cross the state line.

The project, however, has been set upon less with the idea of fostering trade relationship than with the view of nurturing a great artery of travel that will serve as a direct connection of Oklahoma highways with Texas' Highway Five or Colorado-to-Gulf Highway 28 A which connects Vernon with Crowell and over which travelers must pass to reach the well-known FFF highway extending from Fort Worth to Las Vegas, New Mexico, and with the great irrigation lake which is to lie 30 miles south of Vernon.

Shortens Route 40 Miles

Incidentally there will be a direct stimulation of travel between nearby Oklahoma points and principle cities of Texas. Dallas, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls, especially, promise to profit materially through the shoppers who will be enabled by means of the bridge to have quick and easy access to Highway Five.

The new structure, which will be opened in a few weeks, will cut off 42 and one-half miles between Vernon and Altus, Okla. The road from the river's edge to Altus is at present in excellent condition and county commissioners of Wilbarger are now actively engaged in making as presentable as the Oklahoma pike the stretch of highway connecting the bridge with the Colorado-to-Gulf.

The bridge, which will stretch from bluff to bluff, will accommodate both vehicles and pedestrians, and will be provided with two turnouts. It will be composed of 165 bents stretching 3,500 feet. Three piling bents will extend from the respective bluffs but 1,700 feet of the structure will be composed of four pilings. The long timbers,30, 32 and 34 feet in length are being driven from 17 to 20 feet into the bed of the stream until they penetrate hard pan. They are of long leaf pine, 90 per cent heart, as, in fact, is all timber used in the construction of the bridge.

Dream For Years

For years the proposed bridge has lived as a dream of aspiration in the hearts of citizens most vitally affected by its construction. Its possibilities as a connecting link have formed the theme of dozens of mass meetings held in Texas and Oklahoma. It remained for A. P. Peck and J. C. Hickernell, life-long residents of Vernon and public spirit citizens of the highest tone, to shape the dreams into a definite project and to crystalize action in the enterprise.

To further the carrying out of their plans has taken a year, but visions are coming true today. Creeping slowly but surely across the treacherous Red river is the instrument by means of which thousands of travelers will reach the great highways of Texas, and conversely find their way from these great stores of commerce and pleasure to the pleasant smoothness of Oklahoma pikes.

As evidence of his accomplishment at Medina Lake last week, F. E. Bradenberry brought the mounted denizen of the deep a bass, and placed it on exhibition at Collier and Landon's yesterday.

The catch was the prize of a two-weeks' outing spent at the great retreat of pleasure seekers located high in the hills west of San Antonio.

The party, Mrs. J. I. Bradenberry, Tulsa, Okla., Miss Wenona Stephens, Patoka, Ill., Mrs. F. E. Bradenberry and children, Gladys, Maxine and Ellwood left Wichita Falls Sunday, June 25 with O. B. Bradenberry as pilot. F. E. Bradenberry and C. L. Apple followed on Monday, leaving here at 4:25 in the afternoon. An all night drive landed them at the lake at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday where they joined the first arrivals.

Two weeks were spent at the source of many angling stories. During that time, many bass were taken by the party with the "big one" for F. E. Bradenberry, captured July 7. On the following day, Oren Bradenberry landed one barely a pound smaller, as his best. Many others ranging from two to four pounds added to the larder during the time spent by the vacationists.

After two weeks spent at Medina Lake, the camp broke, with the first party journeying to the coast, via Houston to Galveston for another week. The other members returned to Wichita Falls from the lake with the stories and mounted evidence of their luck.

"A wonderful time" is the way Mr. Bradenberry spoke of his trip. "We had wonderful weather and were forced to sleep under woolen blankets every night as the chill of the mountain air decended around the camp," he said, "and in addition to the fish, we saw many turkeys, a few deer, but best of all, no rattlers."

Texas Court Must Decide if Whiskers Are Tough or Razor Dull

(By International News Service.)

FORT WORTH, Texas, July 22.—Call for Mr. Solomon!

The seventeenth district court must decide whether S. E. Houtchens, of this city, wears a tough, obstinate beard or whether he attacked said beard with a faulty razor.

Houtchens bought the razor from a barber supply company. But alas, when he arose happy next morning his day was utterly ruined at the beginning, for either the blade wouldn't cut or else the beard refused to be cut by a novice instrument.

Houtchens filed suit in Justice of the Peace McCain's court, alleging that the razor was ill mannered, caused his face extreme misery and was anything but the nice, gentle razor the company claimed for it when sold.

The lower court gave Houtchens judgment of $4, the company having to pay costs of $2.60. The law does not permit an appeal to be taken to the district court when the amount involved is less than $20, but the barber supply company was not discouraged, and asked for an injunction restraining payment of the judgment, alleging in its appeal that Houtchens took the razor home and without sharpening it introduced it to his wiry whiskers. A temporary injunction was granted

$300,000 Worth of Handsome Homes To Be Complete Soon

Number of Beautiful Residences Going Up; Iowa Park Also Is Building Houses.

While there is no building boom going on in Wichita Falls at this time there are some unusually good buildings going up in the line of residences and school buildings.

In fact there are about six buildings actually under construction or on which work is to begin right away that will be erected at a cost of approximately $300,000 and there are other buildings being contemplated.

Building Finer Homes

There are being constructed some very fine residences in the city or just out of the city limits. Some of these homes are to be among the finest in Wichita Falls. They are designed for comfort as well as beauty and embrace in their plans the most modern of home conveniences.

Besides the many homes being constructed work has started on the two ward school buildings, one on the North side and the other in the Sibley Taylor addition. The two structures were designed by Voelcker and Dixon who are supervising their construction. The same firm will open bids at an early date on remodeling the Sam Houston school which is to be done at an approximate cost of $25,000.

Country Club Progresses

The new country club building is well under way. This structure is costing $75,000 and its building is under supervision of Voelcker and Dixon. It is to be one of the prettes club houses in this section of the country and was planned to embrace all the features of the modern club home.

The P. P. Langford home, plans for which were drawn by Voelcker and Dixon is to cost approximately $50,000.

The Ed Peterson home, on the Seymour road, designed and being erected under the supervision of C. J. Pate, is to cost $50,000. The garage already has been built and ground has been broken for the house. It is to be one of the prettiest homes in the Wichita Falls territory and the grounds are to be a very attractive feature of the estate.

Building At Iowa Park

Besides the building being erected in Wichita Falls architects from this city have under construction in nearby towns some very fine structures. Voelcker and Dixon are supervising the erection of a $50,000 home for Will George in Iowa Park and one to cost $15,000 for James George.

They also have drawn plans for the new $150,000 high school at Burkburnett and a $15,000 ward school at the same place.

Jerry M. Schaefer has completed plans for and is supervising the construction of the new $60,000 First Bantist church at Electra. This is to be one of the finest church buildings in all northwest Texas.

FARMERS MUST STICK TO FIGHT

Many Quit Drive on Boll Weevils

"A fly-swatting campaign conducted late in the summer is an endless fight."

M. B. Oates, agricultural agent of the Fort Worth & Denver, makes that statement in a report issued from his office Saturday concerning the prevalence of boll weevils in the cotton patches of Clay and Montague counties, and toward which, the agent asserts, farmers of this vicinity have grown indifferent.

In speaking of the indifferent attitude the farmers have taken toward the appearance of the deadly pest, Mr. Oates says that "that is where the danger lies," although the boll weevil is not yet numerous in this section.

The agent declares in his report that the conditions in Clay and Montague counties are "decidedly unsettled," and that although it "seems that a larger number of farmers than usual are getting ready to fight boll weevils later on, very few are figuring persistently now."

His report on conditions in the two counties through which he has just completed a survey contains a clear outline of the situation. It follows.

"A recent visit to Clay and Montague counties makes me uneasy about the boll weevil situation. Weevils are not very numerous and for that reason people generally are not fighting them much. Farmers are too optimistic at present to push the fight. But optimism does not kill weevils. This optimistic hopeful state of mind is where the danger is. Weevils multiply with miraculous rapidity and before a lot of people realize it, there will be enough weevils to injure the crop very seriously if not destroy it entirely. Farmers told me yesterday that the weevils are not bad; that their cotton is blooming and putting on some fruit but that at this time last year there were but very few blooms. All I have to say to that is that they can make a lot more cotton than last year and still not make much. There are at least a few weevils everywhere and they are busy too, and if cotton growers don't keep busy fighting them the boll weevil will get ahead.

"It seems that a larger number of farmers than usual are getting ready to fight them later on but very few are fighting persistently now. Many have bought the Hitt Boll Weevil machine but I haven't seen one running yet. I know however that a few men are using them. A man said yesterday that he tried his but cought only three or four weevils to the row so he quit. Poor fellow! Guess he wanted to catch a hat full to the row. When they get so numerous as that which they will do, it will be too late to check them or save his crop. Several instances of this kind have been found—this quitting because not many are caught.

"A fly swatting campaign late in the summer is an endless fight but a swatting campaign started with the appearance of the first fly in spring will easily control them and almost eradicate them. The same principle applies to boll weevils, but an early start on the weevil is much more important than on the fly because they multiply so much more rapidly. Ten adult weevils to the acre now, means that there will soon be thousands of eggs and larvae in the squares and later on enough to completely destroy that acre.

Horses and Mules Are Big Industry In Wilbarger Co.

Special to the Record News.

Your Gas Supply

The picture shows three pipe lines crossing the Brazos River. They are a part of the provision of the natural gas supply for you.

Over hills and into valleys—thru rock and soil—under streams, across streams and over streams—at the bottom of the rivers and in bridges over the rivers, these lines continue from the wells to your city gates.

They represent one of the most complete gas systems in the United States, a system that has been improved and worked upon until it is equal to the demands you make upon it for gas at any time.

Preparedness Essential

Natural gas service is unlike anything else from the fact that there is no way of estimating beforehand the supply that will be needed. A change in the weather means a tremendous increase on the lines, and you want the gas especially when everybody else wants it, consequently facilities must be provided for an enormous peak load, four or five times the ordinary consumption that is used a few days each winter.

To prepare for this, pipe line capacity must be enormous, compressor stations must be provided to transport the gas, and every other facility must be ready to give you a full supply when you want it.

Timely Little Talks Over the Teacups An Individual on the Inside Impresses Her Opinions on Friend People Peggy Piedmont Meets During Week

DEAR KITTY: If there is one thing that is going to make you sit up and take notice more than you ever did before, Kitty, when next you visit Wichita Falls is the many beautiful new homes that have been and are being built in the center of small tracts instead of on one or two lots.

While you know we have always boasted of some handsome suburban homes our number has not been many. One of the prettiest places of this kind is the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Chenault in Indian Heights, where is also the P. B. Cox home and where a palatial residence for the Ed Petersons is being constructed. Many of this type are also under construction on our paved highways, both the Iowa Park and Henrietta roads.

* * *

SPEAKING of large homes and land reminds me that I must tell you about the good times some of our younger girls are having on one of the well-known Texas ranches, the Goodnight, near Amarillo. This attractive spot with its famous herd of buffalos is owned by Wichitans, the W. J. McCallisters, and fortunately for Wichita Falls girls, there are two attractive daughters in the family who have been having a house party there for the past week. Among those from here who spent part of the week there were Stella Winters, Frankie Adickes and Helen Knotts.

* * *

THAT summer has its sorrows we have to admit. When we see these vacationists who have spent some time in the country or on the sea coast we begin to realize what Nell Brinkley, clever society cartoonist, meant when she depicted in one of her latest pictures some of the discomfort of summer and as we sum them up as a whole and go over them one by one we say "why she simply hasn't told half of them." And yet with all her mad moods causing freckled noses and rough sun burnt blistered skins; ruined frocks, and flirtations ending in broken promises, you add there is some recompense in all these in the good time we are having.

As I write these lines I am also thinking of the home comings of some of our talented young friends whose ambitions for careers have carried them far afield in search of knowledge. Last week Miss Ruth Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hill, returned from Northwestern university where she has been studying these hot days to better prepare herself for her duties as a member of the music staff of the local schools this next year, and Miss Mary Colquitt and her sister, Mrs. E. L. Fulton who have also been doing summer work at the same seat of learning. Margaret McMahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McMahan is taking summer work at the Carnegie Technical school at Pittsburgh that she may make up enough credits to finish next year and receive her degree. This ambitious young woman will only take a two or three weeks vacation which she will spend in Atlantic City, N. J.

* * *

NOW as the boys used to say, "this brings on more talk," for speaking of these girls reminds me of some of our ambitious boys. We have seven from here who will leave for Fort Sill August 1, to take a citizens training course, among them Edward Cadane, Wallace Bright, Harold Anderson, Carroll Johnson and Stephen West.

In a letter received from Myers Hays, commonly known as "Hank", who received his appointment last year from the late Lucian Parrish to the United States naval academy at Annapolis, he told us that he was having the time of his life in spite of the strict discipline and that he had a handle to his name now "Mirshipman Wm. M. Hays" if you please.

Gage McDermitt, the second local boy to receive an appointment to the academy the past year left for Annapolis Wednesday night to take up his studies. So you see many of our boys as well as girls are not spending the summer in idleness.

* * *

WELL I do declare I have talked along this way at great length and have not mentioned our summer visitors. The past week we have been busy entertaining Norma Cunningham from Amarillo, the attractive houseguest of Mrs. Leslie Stringer who furnished inspiration last week for one of the jolliest house parties yet enjoyed this summer by local young people. The party occupied two cottages at Medicine Park. Katie Mae King, a cousin and house guest of Lillian Randle, has been here for some time and has been honored with all sorts of informal affairs including swimming parties, matinee parties and dances.

A group of attractive matrons: Mesdames Leon Levy of Henderson, Ky., Henry Levi of Jackson, Tenn., Straus of Waco, Tobias of Brooklyn, Ben Goldsmith of Corsicana and Chas. Kahn of Fort Worth have added "pep" to the doings of local matrons. Mesdames Goldsmith, Levy, Levi and Kahn being the honorees at one of the smartest bridge parties of the summer last week at the Kemp hotel with Mesdames A. Marks and Phil Kleinman hostesses.

TALKING about dancing reminds me of some of the new eccentric one in vogue in many places this summer we still expect them on the stage but of some new and daring dances recently introduced in the south, an Asheville, N. C., paper expressed itself thusly regarding them:

"The old dance changeth, yielding its place to the ridiculous lest the sublime should become irksome. In Hendersonville new dances have been introduced that promise even in the la-vae stage to spread wings more fantastical and final than any other corruption of Terpsichore's butterfly art.

"The scandal walk has been introduced in Hendersonville, according to local exponents who find themselves no longer able to follow the fickle variations of the dance.

"Now the 'scandal walk' comes to the rescue of the bunny hug, the tango, the camel walk, the friction step and heterogeneous dances unnamed. All these children of jazz are modest when the 'scandal walk' usurps the floor. But it has its good qualities. There is no better muscle and mind co-ordinating exercise in the world. The left shoulder describes small circles upward and westward. The right shoulder reverses the action going downward and eastward. The hips must by no means be caught at any time in line with either right or left shoulder. This gives three distinct cycles of rotary motion which require mental alertness.

"The monkey dance is also being ushered in so local jazz hounds say. The dancers go through as many antics of the monkey as the face of the flapper and cake eaters can portray. The dance starts off with a whirl. Then without evident excuse for the falling out, the girl tears away from the boy and make monkey faces at each other. Just as the falling out appears to be final, the two spin around, clutch and whirl away across the floor, only to fall out again over some trivial matter.

"The third dance which jazz hounds are perfecting in Hendersonville, according to local dancers who realize they have reached the limit of development in this direction, is the powder plant.

"The powder plant will go up in smoke when the first contact with public opinion is met. In brief, the powder plant is done by rising on the toes and twisting the ankles in such a way that the dancers move from higher altitudes to lower levels, working the same principles of the carpenter's brace and bit, or the corkscrew of more remote ages.

* * *

NOW going from the ridiculous to the sure enough sublime you must forget about the monkey faces these monkeys who dance make, but just read about the many Wichitans who are scattered from coast to coast and about what enjoyable summers they are spending. Among our latest departures are Mrs. Eugene Leipold, who is in Colorado Springs; Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Hammond and children, L. P. Jr., and Dale left Saturday for two weeks in Rochester, Minn., after which they will return to Wichita Falls and with their house guests, Miss Bettie Tribble of Tolvert, Texas, Mrs. M. H. Horn of Humble and Mr. Hammond's mother, Mrs. H. Hammond of Mineral Wells, will go to Colorado in their car. The Leslie Stringers left Saturday for San Angelo for a visit with Mrs. Stringer's parents on a ranch; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Anderson and Miss Mina Sievert will leave today in the Andersen car for a few weeks' outing in Colorado and Frank Keims and their children left Friday for Corpus Christi overland and anticipate stopovers in San Angelo and San Antonio. Mr. and Mrs. Gay Hammond and Mrs. J. I. Staley and children will leave in the Hammond car about August 1st, for Colorado and T. P. Duncan's with their children, T. P. Jr., and Margaret plan to leave for the same state at that time. Many Wichitans who expected to take extended vacation trips by rail are a little undecided at present on account of the strike situation.

And so Kitty, as the vacationists depart and the days lengthen and the shadows of even tide fall, my pen pauses in its ceaseless scratching as I realize I am about writ out, and wondering if you are experiencing any of the "sorrows of summer" like the rest of us are, I bid you adieu until my next effusion.

FLAPPERS NOT BAD, CENTENARIAN SAYS

(By International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 22.—If the judgment of 112 years is worth anything, the flappers of today are not the terrible beings they are sometimes represented to be.

In fact, 112 years of life say the much-slandered young lady of the present is "just about all right."

Mrs. Sarah Duffy, born in England in 1810 is speaking:

"The flappers' dresses are a little short, but I guess they are pretty good girls—about as good as the girls ever were."

Mrs. Duffy came to America when she was a little girl. The passage took three months. Her husband, Thomas, died 30 years ago. She attributes her longevity to "just natural living." Asked for a reason she replied:

"Oh, nothing—just worked! I always did eat what I wanted. I wasn't particular."

LEADING CITIZEN WINS ELECTION

All Reports Show Him Gaining

"Our Leading Citizen" wins in a walk, according to Manager Sparks of the Olympic theater.

Everybody's interested in election news, so Sparks drops by the newspaper offices to tip off the reporters on one race that had not been reported as yet.

"I've gotten reports from Dallas, Fort Worth and other even larger cities telling of sweeping gains made by 'Our Leading Citizen,'" Sparks says. "He's really a knockout. He'll go over in a walk when all the votes are counted."

"But who do you mean? Whozzit? How d'ye get that'a way?"

"Easy, easy. 'Tis none other than Tommy Meighan. He's our leading citizen, or rather he's got the lead in 'Our Leading Citizen' one of the best pictures ever made, that I'm showing at the Olympic during the first part of this week."

And then he lays down a bit of publicity dope and chatter about Thomas Meighan in this election story by George Ade, entitled "Our Leading Citizen." Probably Sparks is right. Maybe the picture is all that he says it is. If so, it certainly is a corker.

MONEY SCARCE; MUSIC HALTS

(By International News Service)

BERLIN, July 22.—Hundreds of music halls, cabarets and varieties will have to close on account of the general economic crisis.

Beer cabarets and smaller varieties that sprung up like mushrooms during the war can no longer afford to pay the exceedingly high salaries for first-class artists.

If conditions are not changed there will be an exodus of German artists abroad, especially to Holland and South America.

Fun for Kids in Film at Strand

It couldn't happen anywhere else than in the films!

Boys being paid big salaries merely for getting into mischief!

And yet that is exactly what happened while Director Lloyd Ingraham was filming "At the Sign of the Jack o' Lantern" for the Renco Film company which is being released by Hodkinson.

The boys were Newton Hall and Davis Tronis.

The story required them to slide down bannisters and otherwise to make themselves nuisances to their elders. They did their work most excellently, Mr. Ingraham says, and put into it much enthusiasm. In fact, the director declares, they seemed to be perfectly at home in their parts, and their interpretations of their roles left nothing to be desired.

"It was a cinch!" said Newton. "All we had to do was to annoy the rest of the people in the cast. There wasn't any going to church, wearing Sunday clothes. Of course there were some nails in the stair bannisters, but then you cant' have everything.

"Me and Davis had a lot of fun and if grownups would only stop to think about it, kids has got to have some amusement they wouldn't get jawed at half as much as they do."

This film version of one of Myrtle Reed's most popular books will be seen at the Strand theater, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Agnes Ayres and Edna Murphy in a scene from the Paramount Picture "The Ordeal"

AGNES WEARS PRETTY GOWNS

Seen to Advantage in New Film

Rich tollettes. lots of them, of the latest style, are a feature of "The Ordeal," Agnes Ayres latest Paramount starring vehicle which opens at the Empress theatre for two days beginning Monday next.

Miss Ayres interprets the part of a young widow who inherits a fortune which she will lose if she marries again. Widows with money are expected to be well-dressed, hence Miss Ayres' wardrobe in this picture is said to be a real delight to the feminine eye.

For instance, there's a pheasan blue evening gown with opalescent sequins and crystal beads, finished with velvet to match. Specially striking are slippers and fan of blue pheasant feathers.

For motoring and street wear Miss Ayres has a moleskin suit and a gorgeous ermine wrap with an ermine toque trimmed with white toque feathers.

Simple but striking in its line is a dinner gown of taupe chiffon embossed in velvet flowers of the same tone. A striking walking dress is of navy blue faille brocaded in black satin.

"The Ordeal" written by W. Somerset Maugham, is said to be a most unusual picture. Beulah Marie Dix made the adaptation while Paul Powell directed. Included in the cast are Conrad Nagel, Clarence Burton, Edna Murphy, Edward Sutherland, Adele Farrington, Claire DuBrey, Edward Jarndel and Shannon Day.

New Orleans is to use poison gas in an efort to exterminate rats.

Richard Talmadge Comes to Gem in 'Taking Chances'

"Taking Chances" which is the feature at the Gem Wednesday, presents a picture that will appeal to a wide variety of tastes.

Richard Talmadge is the star and the plot affords this talented and active young actor the opportunity of displaying the full measure of his powers as a doer of hair-raising and death defying stunts. The struggles of an ambitious but otherwise unknown college graduate afford plenty of humor and also much in the way of sympathy for his efforts. His persistence and quick thinking at last place him as the private secretary of a prominent and wealthy promottor who takes hi mon a trip to Mexico.

Just before sailing time the clique which is trying to get control of the stocks which are controlled by Talmadge's benefactor, kidnap young Talmadge and plenty of action results in the succeeding fight.

Beautiful settings and palatial scenery, are features which make the picture of special interest.

"Taking Chances" runs for one day only and lovers of thrills, action and the sentimental doings of two young and attractive people who are very much in love will be repaid for a visit.

MANY NEW CARS ARE SOLD HERE

Overland Record Is Enviable

That the saturation point in automobile buying is as far away as ever, seems evident from sales figures this spring. Nearly 40 per cent of all sales of the $550 light Overland car in May were made to new buyers, those who had owned no previous car. It is believed by Willys-Overland officials that this is an exceptionally high per cent of new business, perhaps not surpassed by any car this year.

This report, which shows a total increase in Overland retail deliveries for May of nearly 40 per cent above April, indicates that every important factor in this increased market is the new buyer. The percentage of new buyers in May was almost 70 per cent higher in April.

Of all other sales of the light Overland cars in May 73 per cent were to former Overland or Ford owners.

Eighty per cent of Willys-Knight sales replaced other cars in use. Of these nearly 50 per cent previously were Overland or Willys-Knight owners. The other replacement included an interesting and surprising total of higher priced cars ranging up to $3,000 and more. Willys-Overland officials attribute this to the economy and freedom from trouble of the Willys-Knight car, and to the fact that the trend in America is following that of Europe in seeking lighter weight and operating economy.

CIRCUS RIDER FALLS IN DEN OF LIONS

(By International News Service)

PARIS, July 22.—Louis Juge made each night "the Circuit of Death." Which is to say he rode a bicycle around the rims of a cage in which were pacing several mature and ferocious looking lions. Small boys voted it the best stunt in the circus.

Opening night of the Paris engagement made Juge nervous. Just as he reached full speed, the bicycle slipped and precipitated him among the lions. His rib broken, he was unable to move.

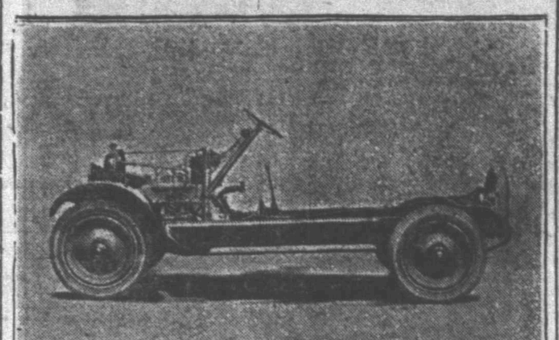

The crowd was horrified. Several women fainted. Trembling, circus employes went to Juge's rescue. Only the lions, leaving the wounded man considerably alone, seemed bored by the whole affair.

HOUNDS FIND BOOZE

(By International News Service)

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., July 22.—Bloodhounds owned by Thomas Everson, deputy sheriff, are now known as "hootch hounds." Put on the trail of robbers who pilfered the apartment of C. W. B. Chapman, general claim agent of the Monongahela Power and Traction company, they followed a scent to a vacant house, in upstairs rooms of which officers found a complete distillery, one of the largest yet found in the country, and hundreds of bottles lying around.

REO PUTS OUT TAXI CHASSIS

The New Model V Reo —Taxi Cab Chassis—

Designed and built expressly for taxi service, a taxicab chassis, to be known as Model V, has just been announced by the Reo Motor Car company, according to advices just received by Mr. Fritz of the Fritz Motor company. But a casual survey of its many strong features is necessary to recognize a vehicle particularly adapted for the work it is intended to do.

Mr. H. T. Thomas, chief engineer of the Reo plant, is enthusiastic over its latest contribution to the Reo line; and predicts a great future for it. His confidence is founded on the established correctness of the mechanical principles employed and on the thorough and efficient manner in which the various working units have been developed.

Foremost among the qualifications necessary for successful operation in taxicab service are the durability and stamina that will resist hard usage and rough travel, supplemented by reasonable speed, quick and dependable self-starting, quick pick-up and ample spring resiliency. Economy of operation and particularly economy of maintenance are also vital factors.

Reo has always enjoyed an enviable reputation for these qualities in both their passenger and commercial models, and the broad and valuable experience gathered by them in both lines of motor car industry have peculiarly qualified them to produce a taxicab chassis, which it is believed will play as important a part in the taxicab business as the remarkable Speed Wagon has played in the highway haulage field.

Being a combination of the best units of Reo Passenger Cars and Speed Waagons, and mounted on a frame especially designed for taxicab work, the new Reo model enters the field as a thoroughly tried and tested job and is entirely free from everything that is experimental. Each unit taken from the passenger car line has made good in many thousands of cars now in service, and every unit coming from the Speed Wagon has been demonstrated by the 60,000 jobs that "deliver the goods quicker and cheaper" for practically every line of industry.

HISTORIAN SAYS WARS NOT OVER

Prophecy Based on Bible

(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 22.—"All devout students of prophecy agree that there must be another war," says Rev. E. L. Langston, preacher and historian. "The 1914-1918 war," he states "changed the whole face of Europe and the Near East and has altered the politics of the world. That war, if prophecy is read aright, is only a preparation for tremendous developments.

"The Scriptures state that there are likely to be two league of nations and the situation is more thrilling because of the entente between Russia and Germany at Genoa.

"The once certain fact in the future is that Jews are to play a very great part in the politics of the world. Throughout the whole of Christendom we see Jews coming to the front as never before—in law, politics, arts, science, newspapers, banking, diplomacy—wherever intellect is demanded there the Jew excels.

"The Jewish question, right to the second advent of Christ, will be at the bottom of all world unrest and will eventually lead to the last great war—Armageddon!"

FEMININE ROBIN HOOD GETS PINCHED

(By International News Service)

BUDAPEST, July 22.—If Robin Hood reappeared on earth today he would be sent to a sanitarium.

This Robin Hood was a girl daughter of a wealthy family impoverished by the war, she stole from the rich and gave to the poor. They called her "Angel of the Slums."

Under various names, she obtained employment as servant in the homes of rich but stingy families. There she filched valuables, sold them and gave the proceeds to needy friends.

"My conscience was numbed by the misery I saw," she told the magistrate, who committed her to an institution for nervous cases.

YET TO REWARD FIGHTING RELATIVES

AUTO BUSINESS OUTLOOK GOOD

Chandler Official Is Optimistic

Indications of big crops in most parts of the west, and the improvement in prices, together with the easing of money undoubtedly will have the effect of still further stimulating business, according to George M. Graham, vice president of The Chandler Motor Car company who has just returned to the company's factory in Cleveland from a visit to distributers of the Chandler Six that extended to the Pacific coast.

"Everywhere throughout the west remarkable optimism is expressed concerning the business situation," said Graham.

In commenting on the automobile industry in particular, he said that the public is displaying marked discrimination in concentrating its preference on the product of sound and stable manufacturers who are backed by years of experience and by ample financial resources.

Chandler An Old Company

To the fact that the Chandler company is so well entrenched in this respect no less than to the established quality of its car, he attributes the growth of Chandler sales.

The appeal of the Chandler Six line also has been widened by the addition of two new models—the five-passenger Metropolitan Sedan and the four-passenger Royal Dispatch—following the bringing out of the five-passenger touring model which created a sensation at the automobile shows early in the year.

During the past six months Graham's tour of Chandler distributer points has taken his from coast to coast. He stopped in forty-one of the forty-eight states.

"In almost every place throughout the United States, but particularly in the region west of the Mississippi" said Graham, "I found an expectation that business will continue to improve throughout the last six months"

Only 99 people in the thousand, in the United States, have savings accounts and the percentage of our home and farm owners is shrinking steadily. The City National Bank of Commerce is helping thousands of West Texas people to accumulate the money for a business start or the purchase of a home, and will gladly aid you, likewise.—adv.

Herbert Voelker Gets First New Dodge Coupe Here

The honor of owning the first new Dodge Brothers, all steel coupe, in Wichita Falls goes to Herbert Voelker, a prominent architect of this city. McFall Brothers delivered to Mr. Voelker the first of the new Dodge models to be received here, during the past week.

"The new coupe is meeting with great popularity in every part of the country, among business and professional men who recognise in it, a utility car of economical upkeep and striking appearance," said Clarence Dodge, sales manager for McFall Brothers, speaking of the new coupe.

"The business coupe is the first all-steel closed car to be put on the market. The frame as well as the shell is of metal, permitting the use of the making process instead of hand-painting in applying the enamel finish.

"The new business coupe is an interesting development in closed car construction. For some time past, Dodge Brothers have been experimenting in closed body consrruction in an effort to put out a closed car with the same baked enamel finish that is used on the open jobs. It was found impractical to use the baked enamel method in finishing the cars employing the wood frame because of the effect of the high baking temperature on the wood."

Southern Tire Co. Has New Home

H. A. Dodson and his crew of tire dispensers including "Salesman Sam" will be found at their new home, 605 Indiana, tomorrow. According to Mr. Dodson, the new quarters will be much larrer than the former home of the Southern Tire and Vulcanizing company on Tenth street.

The firm will continue to handle Miller, Diamond and Star tires as before, offering the same high standards of "Don't Cuss, Call Us" service so well known to frequenters of the old Tenth street location.

BET $10,000 AND LOST

The husband of Mrs. Mallory, world-famous tennis player, is a stock broker. In Wall street the story is circulating that he lost $10,000 on his wife's match with Suzanne Lenglen. He received from his wife on the night before the match a cablegram in which she declared she never felt better and was sure to win. He admits the cablegram, but equivocates regarding the wager.

OLDFIELD IS A MARMON FAN

Says They Are Car For Service

"I have used many makes of high-grade cars," writes Barney Oldfield, "But none of them have ever had any harder service than my two Marmons. The principal reason for this is that since using the Marmons I have undertaken the manufacture of Oldfield tires, which I test personally. To get definite, personal knowledge of how my tires stand up, I have driven my Marmon Speedster continuously under most extreme conditions—high speed on race tracks and on bad roads and hard going in cross country trips.

"This car has not only served as a pacemaker for a lot of races during the past two years, but has been driven across the country from coast to coast three times, and on my trips visiting Oldfield tire dealers everywhere in the United States. It has covered a total of 36,000 miles and is today running as well as it was the day it left the factory.

Mrs. Oldfield has used the coupe on two cross-country trips and has often remarked as to the extreme comfort of riding and the great ease with which she has handled the car."

New Lincoln on Display Here

"The new Lincoln is here," after many promises and futile attempts to get one of the new models, made under the direction of the Henry Ford regime, Capt. W. S. Langford, owner of the Motor Supply company, local Ford and Lincoln dealers, has been able too get one of the new cars from the Dallas headquarters and now has it on display at the company's salesrooms at 6th and Indiana streets.

The car is attracting considerable interest among motor enthusiasts who have seen it, both for it's beauty and the remarkable features of it's Leland built motor.

Captain Langford drove the car in from Dallas last week and extended a cordial invitation to all who are interested to visit the sales-rooms and study a personal inspection of the new model.

Randle Tells How To Keep Tires in Good Condition

There are a great many people, it is said who are inclined to get riled at the word "Don't!"

So in offering a few hints to tire users, C. C. Randle, of the Randle Auto Supply, local Goodyear dealer, prefers to put it this way:

"It's wise to keep a tire properly inflated because if it has too much air in it, it may blow out and if it has too little it is bound to wear out more quickly than it should.

"When putting in a new tube it is better to take pains than be in a hurry, because if the job isn't done right it will probably have to be done over again, and a new tube bought in the bargain.

"The man I classify as a careful driver is not only avoiding risks in traffic but obstacles in the road as well. He will not spend one-half as much for tires as the careless driver.

"The spare tire that has been kept in the case on the rack, away from grease and sunlight has several hundred miles more in it than the one that has been left open, exposed to these pneumatic enemies."

MONEY MASTER IS BANKRUPT

Wall Street Ruins Allen F. Ryan

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Allan A. Ryan, generally regarded as one of Wall street's most spectacular operators during the "war boom" period, and the son of Thomas Fortune Ryan, from whom he has been estranged for years, went bankrupt today, listing liabilities at $32,435,477, of which $27,806,984 are secured claims and his assets at $643,533.

His voluntary petition in bankruptcy, which comes as a startling climax to one of the stormiest financial careers of the present generation, indicates the wiping out of a fortune variously estimated from $5,000,000 to $30,000,000. Wall street, which began to count young Ryan out as soon as he was expelled from the New York stock exchange on June 23, 1920, following his sensational 'corner" on Stutz motor stock, nevertheless was shocked by the immense amount of liabilities which the young financier had assumed.

Ryan's greatest exploit was his sensational corner of Stutz motor stock, which with his resultant expulsion from the stock exchange, he is held by his friends to have been directly responsible for his financial ruin.

SO THIS IS—

rium, around which there sprang a concrete wall that enclosed a portion of the structure from the curious gaze and which no doubt aided to keep away the din and noise of passing automobiles.

The sight was too much for me to describe in these few lines. Turning to the river I saw a long row of trees that had been planted on either side —yea verily, the citizens of Wichita Falls had made this the city beautiful. On beyond the river I could see a huge structure, but I could hardly make out the letters which graced the top of the building. Turning to my guide, for I had had a guide to direct me over the city I once knew well, I asked what place that might be.

"That?" he asked with a smile. "Oh, that's just the community house; it will be some building when it is remodeled—they're planning to make it larger."

Down on the streets once more, I started cautiously up Scott; but as I ventured to cross Seventh toward the court house, I was stopped rudely by the warning blast of an automobile horn. I stopped anad watched the uniformed chauffeur as he stuck forth an arm, made the symbol of a circle and turned the corner.

"Do they blow horns here now?" I asked of a friend who had also been stopped by the warning horn.

"Yes, yes—" came his answer, and I thought I saw a faint smile curl his lips as he turned to look at me. Possibly he didn't know that in 1922 Wichitans didn't know what automobile horns were, and that very few people ever signified which way they were going to turn.

And after I had wandered through a busy court house, and had seen four crowded district courts instead of the three there were in '22, I strolled about over the city once more and noticed for the first time on my visit back to the old haunts of Wichita Falls that there was a uniformed patrolman on every corner, wearing a badge symbolical of a powerful police department, and carrying a small billy such as would do honor to Broadway, New York.

I stopped the next patrolman I came to and asked:

"How many men on the force now?"

"Around 200," I think he said, and then when I had told him that back in '22 there were less than 20 officers in the whole department, he smiled and said:

"Well, old man, Father Time has changed the city that faith built."

And he had.

N. Y.'S EXPENSIVE GEWGAWS

The most expensive piece of jewelry on sale in New York is a pearl necklace priced at $275,000 at Tiffany's. So reports a western woman who conducted such an investigation on her recent visit to Gotham. On a former trip she saw an emerald chain valued at $250,000. This is one of the most notable instances—perhaps the only one—of the declining price of living to be found in the country.

DON'T PICK YOUR BERRIES NEAR STILL

(By International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., July 22.—Pick your blackberries a safe distance from moonshine stills. Blackberry picking may be considered a crime when indulged in too close to a still, it was decided by U. S. Commissioner Carter here.

Ben Bell, Beater Bell and Jordan Gilley, white, and Howard Strike and George Ammons, negroes, were arrested by federal prohibition agents in Clayton county.

The prohibition agents said the five men were in a ditch in the vicinity of a still that was running in full blast and that when the officers approached all ran, but were caught and arrested.

Ben Bell pleaded guilty to operating the still. The other four men claimed they were picking blackberries and didn't know where there was a still in the vicinity. Judge Carter decided that blackberry picking should be done at a greater distance from a still and placed each of the men under $100 bond.

New Sunday Ruling Announced

(By International News Service.)

WELLINGTON, Kan., July 22.—Those celebrities whose financial remuneration is dependent primarily upon their labors performed upon the baseball diamond will not, in all probability, include the town of Wellington, Kan., in their itinerary for a barnstorming tour this fall, it is said. The national pastime is taboo henceforth on Sundays in this community.

A vote polled by residents recently showed 955 persons were opposed to circuit clouts of the horsehide on Sunday, while 855 "thirty-third degree fans" voted in favor of the measure, according to tabulations estimated by members of the park board.

Sunday golf won by a majority of 149 votes.

Racquet wielders may lob their balls over, under or into the net on Sunday until they drop from exhaustion without fear of being molested by various enforcers of the law. No "blue" law crushed this tennis sport, although it won out by a small majority.

The vote on Sunday games resulted after the park board had requested the city commissioners to pass an ordinance prohibiting Sunday baseball in the city park.

DODGE BROTHERS COUPE

You will realize, the moment you see this coupe, how perfectly it fulfills a very real need.

It was designed and built by Dodge Brothers in response to that need—long-standing and often-expressed by people in all parts of the world.

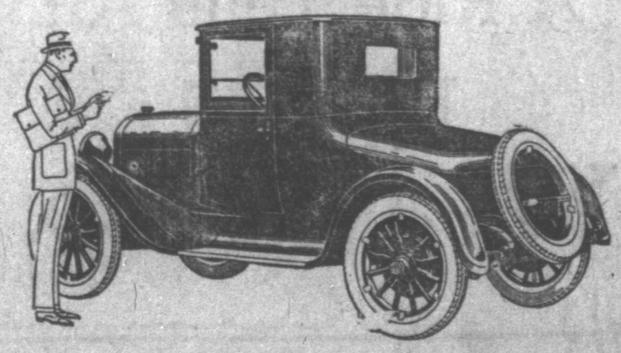

With Dodge Brothers chassis as a starting point, it only remained to create a coupe body which would unite the usual coupe refinements with greater lightness, hardihood and economy.

The world now knows how this was accomplished. An entirely new precedent in closed car construction was established. The body is built of steel.

Moreover, the deep comfortable seat is upholstered in genuine leather. The doors are exceptionally wide. The rear compartment will hold a small steamer trunk and other luggage. The enamel, baked on the steel at high temperature is readily restored, after hard usage, to its original lustre.

In every detail the car reflects the purpose of the builders—to make it a practical car of universal appeal.

SHIPPERS TO HAVE RADIO

Weather Bureau Will Co-Operate

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Shipping and aviation interests on the Great Lakes are to have the benefit of the weather bureau's radio weather reporting facilities, completing the bureau's program of giving this service to all shipping interests in waters about the United States—in the Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico, Pacific and Great Lakes. Heretofore this type of service was only in operation along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and in the Caribbean Sea.

Twice daily—at noon and 11:30 p. m., seventy-fifth meridian time—between April 15 and December 20 the Great Lakes naval radio station will broadcast on 1,988 meters wave length a message giving surface weather conditions as observed at 8 a. m., or 8 p. m., and aerological observations taken in the morning or afternoon of the date of distribution. The message will include also a synopsis of general conditions, wind and weather forecasts for the upper and lower lakes, storm warnings for the lakes, and flying weather forecasts for aviation zones extending between Western New York, Northern Ohio, and Indiana and Western Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas.

Local bulletins will be distributed at various times during the day from the naval radio stations at Alpena, Mich.; Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland and Duluth. Ships have been invited to call upon any of these stations for weather reports, warnings or forecasts.

YOUNGSTER WILL MARRY GUARDIAN

(By International News Service.)

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 22.—Wedding bells will ring in the near future for Frank Miley, 19, the ward of Mrs. Halla Miley, 30, who will become the youngster's bride.

The bride-to-be is the legal guardian of her future husband. Both of them have the same name. When the happy pair applied for their marriage license at the Greene county courthouse Mrs. Miley gave her permission for Frank's marriage to her.

The woman showed court attendants a certified copy of her appointment as guardian for her husband-to-be. The appointment was made in the probate court of Shannon county.

In addition to Frank, Mrs. Miley was appointed guardian of five other Miley children, she said.

MERE MAN WANTS BIG HEART BALM

(By International News Service.)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 22.—What value is to be placed upon a man's damaged affections?

Charlie Bondi estimates that about $25,000 in cold cash would be right.

According to papers filed through his attorneys in court, Bondi is attempting to recover this amount from Lena Danna, who, he alleges in his complaint, entered into a perfectly good agreement to marry him. Bondi further claims that, after he had purchased kitchen utensils, household furniture and expended certain sums of money for fruit and flowers, the lady in the case suddenly suffered a change of mind.

The story leaked out, Bondi was laughed at by his friends, and the suit is the result.

"BACK TO NATURE" STUFF CHEATS DEATH

(By International News Service.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 18.—Frank Hansen has a new way of cheating death.

Told by physicians that he was rapidly approaching death, Hansen has regained his health by returning to the promitive life. Hansen is said to have lived like a wild man on Santa Cruz Island, off Santa Barbara channel, for eighteen months, subsisting alone on mussels, abalones and fish. His only garment, it was said, was a bathing suit, which suffered considerably through hard usage.

It is claimed by two ship captains that Hansen attracted considerable attention because he made friends with wild foxes and boars found on the island.

Common Sense About Eczema and Eruptions!

Here's Something About S. S. S. That You'll Be Glad to Hear.

You might just as well know it right now,—the cause of skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, boils and so on, is right in the blood. There is no getting away from it. Science has proved it. We prove it. You can prove it.

When the cause of skin troubles and eruptions is in the blood, it isn't common sense to simply treat the skin. A bottle of S. S. S. will prove to you what is happening in your blood. S.S.S. is a scientific blood cleanser,—it drives out the impurities which cause eczema, tetter, rash, pimples, boils, blackheads, blotches and other skin eruptions. When these impurities are driven out, you can't stop several very nice things from happening. Your lips turn naturally rosy. Your eyes sparkle, your complexion clears. It becomes beautiful. Your face looks like that of a prosperous, ruddy, well-fed, refined gentleman, or if you are a woman, your complexion becomes the real kind that the whole world so admires. S.S.S. is also a powerful body-builder, because it builds new and more blood-cells. That's why it fills out sunken cheeks, bony necks, thin limbs, helps regain lost flesh. It costs little to have this happen to you. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

Let S. S. S. Give You An Angelic Skin!

SIR AUCK MEETS GEORGE

Col. George Harvey, American ambassador to England, greeting Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, back in London on a visit.

WHITE MULE'S KICK MAY MEAN DEATH

(By International News Service.)

ATLANTA, Ga., July 22. — The kick in Lowndes county's particular brand of "white lightening" is paid a high tribute in a document filed with the Georgia prison commission here seeking commutation of the death sentence of Dolphus Bell, negro sentenced to die for the murder of Ed Kelly, another negro.

"Kelly persuaded Bell to take two drinks of 'white liquor' and when he had taken them Bell lost what little mind he had," the petition said.

"The two drinks absolutely paralyzed his mind and dethroned his reason. When he gained his reason the next day he found that he had killed his best friend."

MELONS BRING $50 A CAR HERE

Shipments Short of Last Year

Special to the Record News.

AUSTIN, July 22.— The weekly review of Texas radio market news service, for the week follows:

Watermelons

The daily watermelon movement from this state at the present time is around 80 to 85 cars. The total movement to July 17 from Texas is 1,584 cars, as against 2,121 cars last year. The national movement to date however, is considerably heavier this season than last. The United States has rolled 28,022 cars of melons as against 22,330 cars last year. At Texas shipping points growers are getting $45 to $50 per car of 23-25 pound melons, in bulk loadings of four tier cars of Tom Watsons. Consuming markets are not in very active demand, supplies on all markets are liberal, and movement somewhat slow. In Kansas City jobbers are paying $2.25 to $2.50 per cwt. and in Chicago by the car 22-24 pounders are bringing $185 to $200; 24-26 pounders, $225 to $250; and 23-25 pounders $170 to $225.

Peaches

East Texas offerings are so scarce that carload shippers are having to concentrate from many points to get sufficient quantities. In purchases of small lots, these carlot shippers are having to concentrate from many points to get sufficient quantities. In purchases of small lots, these carlot shippers are paying growers $1.50 to $1.75 per bushel for their peaches, selling same in carload lots around $2.60 per bushel f. o. b. shipping point. Five cars rolled from Texas points the past week and a movement of 6 cars is anticipated for the coming week.

Honey

Listings in the state's marketing bulletin quote comb honey in 6-10s at 15 cents per pound, and extracted honey in the same sized containers at 11 cents. Cases of 12-5s, extracted honey are offered by another lister for 12 1-2 cents per pound.

Poultry and Produce

Hens, per pound 15 1-2; roosters, per pound 07; friers 1 1-2 to 2 pounds per pound 25; eggs per 30 doz. case, $7.00; tomatoes, per four basket crate $1.25; cabbage, per pound 05 to 06; sweet potatoes, new crop, per pound 06. Drilling Operations To Be Curtailed Until Outlook Improves

ONLY OFFSETS TO BE DRILLED

Crude Cuts Taken as Only Temporary

With the Electra production daily average going well above the 21,000 barrel mark for the first time in years and promise of reaching still higher totals as the tangible results of the past several weeks concentrated drilling, following the important 1900 foot sand discovery came the somewhat discouraging 50 cent cut, and the announcement of some of the companies that drilling operations are to be shut down until conditions improve.

There was almost 2,000 barrels new production in the new wells completed during the past seven day period in the Electra district, the bulk of this of course coming from the few wells in the 1900 foot sand in the South Electra pool.

Not all of the drilling operations will be stopped, however, according to information received from various company officials the latter part of the week. Where protection is necessary it will be the policy of all operators to drill offsets, and since so much of the development is in new territory, there still remains considerable offset drilling to be done.

The fact that several of the larger companies are going ahead with their offset drilling to the best knowledge of representatives in the district headquarters at the end of the week, is considered as a highly favorable sign that the cut is to be considered only temporary, and that there will be no long period of depressed prices, after the period of depression in the refined market and the export market is passed.

Circumstances on the individual operators will largely control the drilling policy in the next few weeks, according to the present indications. While Electra's production has been increasing steadily for the past few months, there has never been a jump of more than 1,500 barrels a day in a weekly average, and there is not over production enough to constitute any great menace to the market.

The G-bundy, Planet and Wobbe-Gladiolus leases, in the South Electra pool, are fairly well protected already. The Crisman shut down announced the middle of the week, but there has been no change in the present operating plans as far as is known with the other companies.

FEW LOCATIONS IN OSAGE AREA

BONCA CITY, July 22.—Recent cuts in the price of crude oil have been followed by a cut in the number of locations made in the Burbank on western Osage. This is shown by the fact that only nine new locations have been made during the past week, whereas just ahead of the cut a few days announcement of 100 new locations was made. Many of these were on the acreage on which leases were sold at Pawhuska on June 28.

Oil men are of the opinion that, while the present week's completions in the Burbank may show an increase in production, yet the field will commence showing a slump almost immediately because of a letup in drilling operations, following the price cut. The production of the field fell off 600 barrels last week but many completions this week will no doubt swell the total's gain. It is believed that many of the locations made ahead of the cut will be withheld from drilling as long as possible.

The Burbank is now producing around 77,000 barrels daily or over twice what it was on January 1, of this year. Estimates have been made that the field's peak would be 100,000 barrels. The price cut may mean, however, that the peak will not be reached this year.

Amerada Pool Extended Half Mile Through Producer In 2,017 Sand

Special to the Record News.

ARDMORE, July 22.—The proven area of the Amarada pool hass been extended one-half of a mile to the northwest with the bringing in of the Amerada Petroleum company's No. 1, Criner, northeast corner of northwest quarter of 25-5s-1e, which topped the sand at 2,007 feet and with the drill 18 feet in, is making estimated production of 150 barrels. Casing is now being run and tankage is being erected preparatory to drilling deeper into the pay.

This is the deepest producing horizon yet found in the Amerada pool and is more than 200 feet lower than the sand found in the nearest producer, which is the Amerada-Farve No. 1, one-half mile to the southeast, and which came in for 270 barrels from sand at 1,5901.607, after casing off several upper sands. The sand found in the Amerada-Criner well is believed to be new to the district, inasmuch as a slight showing was had at the depth of the shallower pay in the other wells of the field.

Finding of the pay in this well is due to revive interest in the field and is attracting considerable attention to the area north and northwest, inasmuch as the trend of production is apparently going that way. The proven portion of the field covers a strip of one mile in length running northwest and southeast through section 20-5-s-1e, with the Amerada-Chiner well as the farthest northwest, and a group of lime pay wells in the southeast corner of section 20 and as the farthest southwest limits. In between are producers yielding from 1,230 feet to 1,600 feet.

WICHITA FIRM HITS OIL SAND

Hutchinson Test Is Good for Well

Special to The Record News.

PANHANDLE, July 22.—After drilling a few feet deeper in the Gulf Company No. 1 Dial near the center of Hutchison county, an additional oil sand was encountered which forced a high grade of oil into the hole to a depth of 700 feet. Oil stood 1500 feet in a 3070 foot hole when the first sand was reached in this test, the production is now estimated at over 500 barrels from the two sands, though no test has been made the first sand is cased off to permit further drilling.

The land upon which this well is being drilled is owned in fee by the Panhandle Refining company of Wichita Falls, which is said to hold over ten thousand acres adjacent to the well in addition to the 2500-acre block up which the well is being drilled.

Silk Test Delayed.

Silk-Bullington-Clark No. 1 Burk Burnett, Carson county, is having considerable trouble in landing their 6-inch in a 3000-foot hole, some oil has been found in this test which is near Gulf No. 2 Burnett producer. Texas Company No. 1 in the same block two miles north is drilling again at 2700 feet, with a possibility of completion within ten days.

Tipton No. 1 McConnell in the east side of Carson county, is preparing to resume drilling at 1800 feet after under-reaming 800 feet of hole for 10-inch pipe.

Briefly described, all wells in this field run as follows: First 600 to 1,000 feet, quick sand and water, making the driving of pipe necessary —next 1000 feet alternating gyp, redbed and rock salt, very easy drilling —at around 2300 feet a thick hard lime is found containing much gas— between this point and 3,000 feet where oil sands and limes are found, limes containing gas and caving formations are encountered, which causes many crooked holes and much casing trouble.

Casing Shortage Delays Well

Wynn No 1 well of Gulf Production Co., a short distance east of town is slightly delayed on account of casing shortage.

Twelve and one-half inch casing was set in the well around 1400 feet several day ago, and it was thought that the large flow of water has been cut off. While drilling at 2,000 feet Wednesday, the water again broke in making it necessary to place several hundred feet more pipe in the hole. Drilling will be resumed soon as more casing can be moved to the well. Panhandle citizens are looking forward to the hit encountering gas in this test within the next three hundred feet, when an effort will be made to contract with the Gulf Co., to pipe the gas to Panhandle for fuel before winter.

A proposal has been made by the Humble company to supply gas for Panhandle, however, the Humble well is twice the distance from the city.

McGee To Be Shot Again.

Operators on the McGee well are of the opinion that the shot placed in that well several days back, was set off at the wrong place in the hole. A second shot of "Nitro" will be set off Sunday or Monday. The first charge consisted of 180 quarts of fluid while the second will be 600 quarts.

While the increase in production from the first shot was very noticeable, the owners expect a larger production when the large charge is properly placed and discharged.

Gas Stocks Grow Less, Reports Say

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 22.—Although gasoline refineries in the United States are breaking all records for production, the reserve supply of "gas" for the nation's automobiles is steadily growing smaller, the American Petroleum Institute disclosed today.

In May 12,229,975 barrels of motor fuel were refined, topping by over a million barrels the highest previous record made in September, 1920. Yet, according to the institute's figures, if all production should cease simultaneously there would be only 82 gallons apiece for the 10,448,632 automobiles registered in the country.

Despite the record breaking production month of May, 849,004 barrels were withdrawn from reserves to supply the current demand, it was shown.

GAS REDUCED.

4 PRODUCERS IN AT MEXIA

Humphreys Gets 1,325 Barrels

Special to the Record News

MEXIA, July 22.—Four new Humphreys Oil company producers were announced this week making a combined flow of over 1300 barrels. All of the wells are in the proven portion of the main field, and in most cases are offsets to important producers. The wells are :

Humphreys Henry 7—125 barrels.
Humphreys Rogers 11—200 barrels.
Humphreys Rogers 16—200 barrels.
Humphreys Rogers 4—800 barrels.

In addition to the four wells for the week in Mexia thus far there have been two partial completions at Currie, the Snowden & McSweeney 2, coming in a gasser without oil and the Homa-Okla McGaw 6 coming in with the hole full of oil and not enough gas to lift the fluid.

The Danciger interests are drilling in a well on the W. J. Hughes tract and the J. K. Hughes Developing company is swabbing their No. 1 on the same tract. Both completions are looked for the later part of the week.

The Big Williams on Honest Ridge today set 6 inch casing and the derick on Ward No. 1, near this well is being skidded over a short distance where Ward No. 2 will be spudded in within the next few days. Reports from the vicinity indicate a flattering outlook, and many operators seem toexpect the Big Williams to make a well. Should it do so a large new area would be opened up for development purposes.

GRISWOLD GETS WELL OF WEEK

600 Producer in 1,940 Sand

The best well reported for the original South Electra pool up to the end of the week was the Griswold Oil company's No. 26, Burnett lease, a 600-barrel producer, at 1940 feet.

This company brought in the second 1500 foot producer in the new south extension of this sand, their No. 1 Waggoner, lease C., being completed for 100 barrels. This well is just west of the 1500 foot discovery well in this part of the pool, the Cline Oil company's No. 1, and is south of the Shamrock Oil company's Waggoner lease, on which there are several 1900 foot producers.

The 700 foot sand found in the No. 3 Waggoner of the Carteret Oil company, southwest extension from the original South Electra pool, has made a 15 barrel producer. The No. 4 on this same lease has been completed at 1890 feet, and is making 50 barrels.

The Planet Petroleum company's No. 5 Waggoner A, also in the south end of the pool, is reported a 200 barrel well, sand at 1910 feet.

In the 1820 foot sand in the main pool, the Hobbs Oil company's No. 41 Burnett is reported a 150 barrel well.

Offsetting the Harver-Cullum producers, in Section 31, the Texas company completed two nice wells Thursday, both in the 1800 foot sand. The No. 223 is making 200 barrels, and the No. 224 is swabbing 400 barrels.

The Eureka Producing company's No. 6 Waggoner, in the pool northeast of section 31, is reported a 50 barrel well, sand at 1450 feet.

In the east side of the original South Electra pool the Thomasson and Mallory No. 6 has been completed in the 470 foot sand, for a 15-barrel producer.

The Hobbs Oil company, section 1, in the shallow pool three miles east of the producers in section 5 and 6, has compelted it's No. 10 Burnett, in the 660 foot sand a 10 barrel producer.

None of the new wells started within the past few weeks, following the completions on the Beaver Electra Refinery grounds, and the Gulf's new Douglas producers, just east of the Electra townsite, have yet reached sand depth, but the pool presents an extremely active scene. New wells have been started by the Gulf on the Douglas, the Camp Oil and Gas company is drilling on the road east of the Gulf lease onthe Douglas, and there are several tests now drilling on the refinery grounds, and on the Jennings, south of the road.

The south pool is also due for some more new producers within the coming week, while there are scattered tests to the west, and northwest from the main pool, that are due to arrive at decisive depths within the next week or so.

The new extension on the John and Jeff Waggoner ranch, between South Electra and the K. M. A. pools, had another new producer the first of the week, the No. 12 Waggoner brothers of the John and Jeff Oil company.

DALLAS CUTS GAS.

By Associated Press

DALLAS, July 22.—A number of filling stations here posted gasoline at 23 cents per gallon today, a reduction of 2 cents.

No fewer than twenty women now hold seats in the national law-making body of Finland.

200-BBL. WELL IN ARCHER POOL

Extends Field to the West a Little

Following the completion last week of two unusually nice wells in the south end of the Texhoma Archer county pool by the Texhoma Oil & Refining company, interest is still further increased in this territory this week end by the completion of a nice well on the Coffman, a slight west extension from the Texhoma producers on the Gose. This new well, the No. 5 of J. I. Staley, was brought in Friday, swabbing at the rate of 200 barrels, or better. The sand here is around 1600 feet.

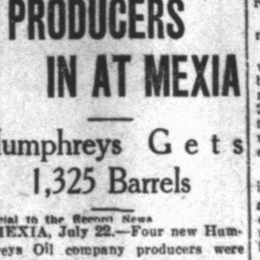

The Texas company's No. 2 Chance offsetting the No. 1, a recent completion ,is on the sand, at approximately 1,600 feet and is reported showing up for a nice well.

No. 3 is drilling at 160 feet, and No. 4 and 5 are new locations.

No. 24 and No. 25 Gose of the Texhoma Oil and Refining company are on the sand, waiting to drill in with tools. No. 25 has started drilling.

The Herbert Oil company's No. 1 Gose, south of the Texhoma operations, is reported nearing sand depth.

Three new tests in the north end of the pool, on the Taylor are expected to be completions within the next week. These are the No. 4 Taylor of the Kentucky Oil company, the No. 3 Taylor of Harper et al and the No. 1 Taylor et Morson et al.

Scandal Charged In Ward Case

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The appellate division of the supreme court today refused to restrain District Attorney Weeks of Westchester county from pressing John Doe proceedings before Justice Morschauser, to determine the accuracy of the charge that there had been a conspiracy to obstruct the administration of justice in connection with the investigation of the shooting of Clarence Peters by Walter S. Ward.

In denying an application for a writ of prohibition made by Ward, the court held that "the facts presented are insufficient to justify the issuance of such a writ."

Knights of the Ku Klux Klan

This Order is an institution of Chivalry, Humanity, Justice and Patriotism, embodying in its genius and principles all that is chivalric in conduct, noble in sentiment, generous in manhood and patriotic in purpose; its peculiar objects being: First—to protect the weak, the innocent, and the defenseless, from the indignities, wrongs and outrages of the lawless, the violent and the brutal; to relieve the injured and oppressed; to succor the suffering and unfortunate, especially worthy widows and orphans. Second—To protect and defend the Constitution of the United States of America, and all laws passed in conformity thereto, and to protect the States and the people thereof from all invasion of their rights thereunder from any source whatsoever. Third—To aid and assist in the execution of all constitutional laws.

IT STANDS FOR

AMERICA FIRST: First in thought, First in affections, and First in the galaxy of Nations.

BENEVOLENCE: In thought, word and deed based upon Justice and practically applied to all. To right the wrong; to succor the weak and unfortunate: to help the worthy and to relieve the distressed.

CLANISHNESS: Real Fraternity practically applied — standing by and sticking to each other in all things honorable.

WHAT IT IS: It is a standard fraternal order promulgating fraternal conduct, and not merely a "social association."

The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is founded upon dependable character It is not an ultra-exclusive institution, but its membership is composed of picked men, who are investigated before being accepted. Enrolled among its members are thousands of the best-known business and professional men, ministers, statesmen, authors and educators.

Only native-born American citizens who believe in the tenets of the Christian religion and owe no allegiance of any degree or nature to any foreign government, nation, political institution, sect, people or cannot swear an unqualified allegiance to the Government of the United States of America, its flag and its constitution.

No man is wanted in this Order who does not esteem the Government of the United States of America above any other government, civil, political or ecclesiastical in the whole world.

Because certain individuals at various times have committed acts of violence under cover of darkness and shielded by masks and robes somewhat resembling the official regalia of the Ku Klux Klan, they have been classed as members of this organization. The Ku Klux Klan is a strictly law-abiding organization, and every member is under solemn oath to uphold the law at all times.

The growth of the Ku Klux Klan has been nothing less than marvelous. It now covers practically every city and town in the United States, numbering hundreds of thousands of real American men.

Beach Billiards, Lawn Checkers and —

Well, Look Over Some of the Other Novelties Among the Latest Summer Pastimes---Topsy-Turvy Adaptations of Other Games, Such as Auto Polo, Undignified Golf and Water Baseball.

A Hybrid Game Is Beach Billiards, Popular at Ocean Park, Calif., for It Requires a Golf Stick, Three Croquet Balls, a Smooth Bit of Beach, and a Pretty Girl.

The Ann Hyatt Water Baseball Team of Starlight Park, New York City, Practicing in a Swimming Pool. May Stoller, at Bat; Mary Torick, Behind.

BEACH billiards, bathing-suit baseball, circus golf, lawn checkers, auto polo—!! These are some of the games with which the American and Continental millions are diverting themselves by day and by night this summer. And wherever these millions have penetrated, whether to some mountain fastness or the roaring seaside, or perhaps the back yard of a country bungalow plot, they are still searching for further novelties.

A few years ago a vacation was a simple affair and pleasures fell into a small number of classifications. You went to the ocean or the mountains; you rested, you fished, swam and danced.

But the "mechanical revolution" has simply run riot with humanity's playtime instincts.

It first broke out in the realm of children's toys. Where the youngest generation had once amused itself with iron hoops and agate marbles, they are now preoccupied with motor-driven tricycles, highly complicated miniature electric railway systems, mechanical soldiers, pogo sticks, and more lately—all kinds of radio devices.

Mothers, fathers and elder brothers and sisters looked upon all these fascinating instruments of pleasure first with indulgence and then with envy. They never tired of telling themselves that children had no such toys when they were growing up. And the spectacle of the fond father who shoved his five-year-old son into the corner while he himself played with the Magic Building Set became a familiar one.

This secret adult longing for the new-found mechanical wonders of childhood always expressed itself with a vengeance whenever a circus, carnival, street fair or some such official occasion for cutting loose presented a reasonable excuse. Nothing could equal the gusto with which grown-ups applied themselves to throwing confetti, blowing snake whistles, wearing false faces and the like. And as any pleasure park concessionaire can tell you, it has always been the adult population which supported the scenic railways, the figure-eights, the steeple-chases and the shoot-the-chutes.

After a while the elders got to be less furtive about their childish desires and a great many novel playthings for adults came into open use. The myriad novelties of 1922 are therefore but a logical development of a process that has been going on for four or five years.

Beach billiards—or billiard golf—one of the games that has had a great run of popularity at the eastern beaches this year, is called an "ideal game for the unstrenuous." For the young woman who looks well in a bathing suit, but who doesn't care much for the water, it is a game that will amuse and divert her while she lounges in the sand, without anything else, animate or inanimate, to divert her.

All one needs to play this game is a golf stick, three croquet balls and four holes in the sand. The object of the game is to pocket the balls in the sand holes, using the golf club like a billiard cue and causing the cue ball to carom from one to the other of the object balls as in billiards.

The player must be careful, of course, not to hit the balls too hard, for if she shoots them out of reach and has to rise in order to retrieve them, one of the advantages of the game is lost.

Another 1922 game which promises to become a popular summer resort diversion is the open-air checker game. This game was originated at Lake Hopatcong, N. J. A checkerboard is laid out on the ground and the checker-men are made out of wood and painted white. The players employ long staffs, as the photograph on this page shows, and the moves are the same as in any ordnary house game of checkers.

Outdoor checkers promises to become a national sport. On a lawn checkerboard laid out in front of the Hotel Alamac, at Lake Hopatcong E. M. Statler and John McE. Bowman, both hotel proprietors of fame, engaged in a series of three games. Mr. Bowman won two out of three. The contest took three hours. It entertained several hundred spectators. Among them was Hudson Maxim, the inventor. After the players had finished Mr. Maxim played E. Tierney, another hotel man, and the inventor won. In September there will be a national outdoor checker match at which the two winners will appear and others eager for the title of the champion checker player of America. A silver loving cup will be the prize.

By far the most exciting 1922 novelty is the new game of auto polo. This game is not without its dangers and consequently is not to be recommended either to the unstrenuous or to the timorous. Six autos and a large leather ball, about the size of the ball used in pushball, are employed. About the same rules apply as in polo. The object of the game is to manipulate the automobile in such a way as to push the ball across the opposing goal line.

The demands of the game make it necessary to do quick turns, come to sudden stops and make equally quick starts. The drivers frequently get nasty spills and head-on collisions are not infrequent. The automobiles are often stripped down to the chassis, which makes them turn over very easily. The game must be played on soft ground. If it were not, it would hardly be permitted, because it would have too heavy a list of fatalities.

Auto polo originated in San Francisco. They are already planning champion matches up and down the Pacific Coast.

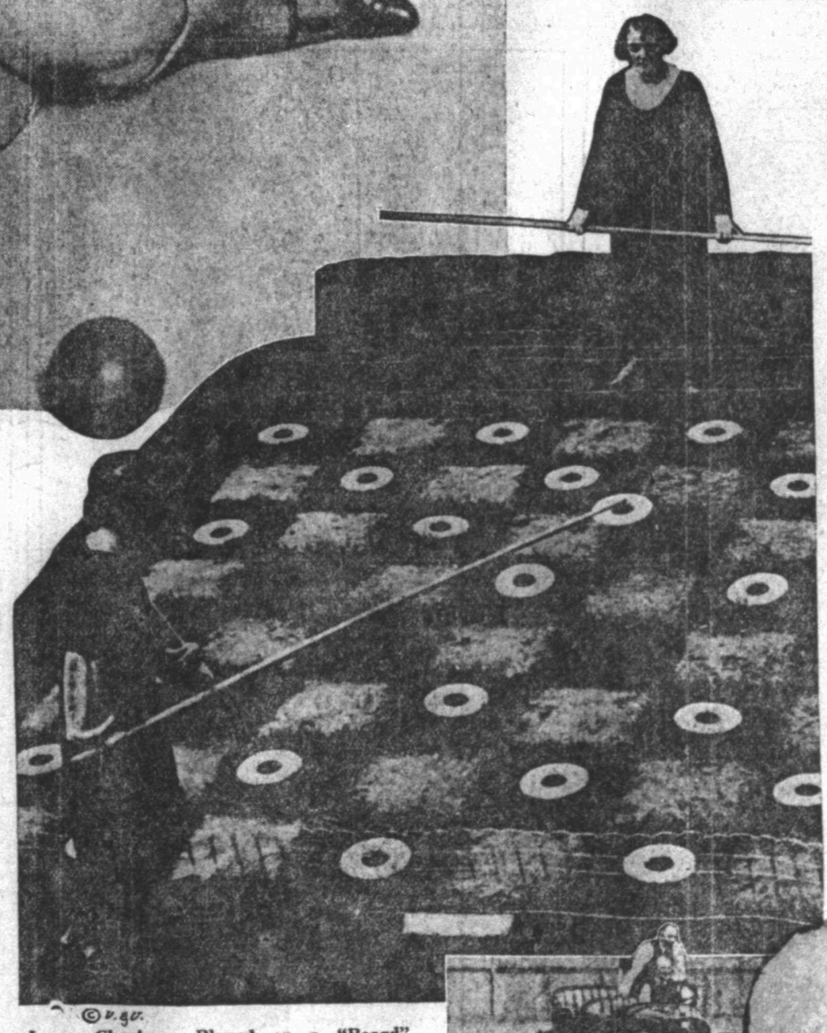

England contributes a freak golf game to the novelties of 1922. Its popularity spread so rapidly that several of its leading votaries were induced to put on a tournament on the Yelverton course in South Devon.

The usual kinds of clubs and balls are used, but the game is confined to a much smaller area than the average eighteen-hole golf course, and the hazards are multiplied many times over. Instead of the ordinary traps, ditches, water courses and the like, the player is introduced to channels, boxes, rings, bars and what not. Instead of concentrating on distance and direction, he must frequently send the ball through a very small space.

Still another sort of novelty golf game is in vogue at Atlantic City. It is played upon a miniature course of nine holes, with all the appropriate tees, greens and hazards. The ball is about the size of a marble. The club shafts are about the usual length, but instead of having the usual clubs on their ends they have small wooden or metal figures of golfers, with golf sticks in their hands. And it is the club of the wooden figure that strikes the ball.

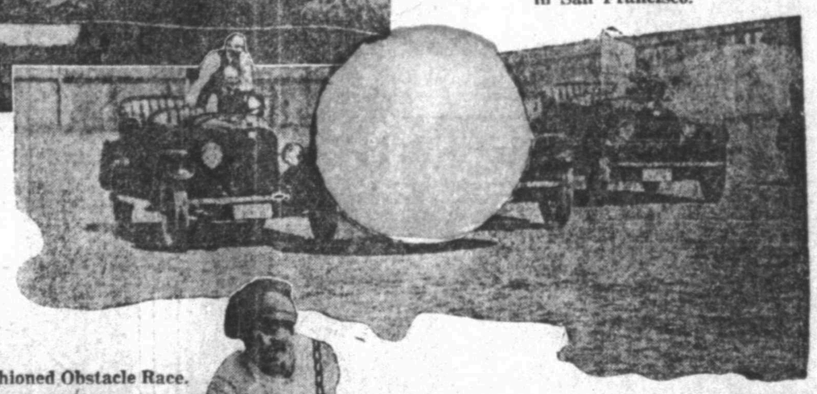

Grown men on the Tempelhofer Fields, near Berlin, are as excited over flying motorless model airplanes as men in Central Park, New York, are over sailing model yachts.

And, of course, no summer camp, bathing beach or country hotel is complete without radio apparatus to listen in on the broadcast programs.

Auto Polo with a Pushball—a Strenuous, Neck-Imperilling Game Devised in San Francisco.

Have You Walked Across America?

The Transcontinental Hike's the Thing, and Thousands of Girls Who Once Might Have Been Afraid of the Dark Have Hit the Open Road Where They Make Their Beds in the Bush and Catch Their Breakfast from Trout Streams.

THE surplus of khaki trousers, the high price of gasoline, and perhaps the celebrated spirit of unrest which is supposed to be stirring in the heart of every modern woman, has suddenly peopled the roads of America with long and short distance girl hikers. Maidens, who in another day might have shuddered at the thought of taking a trolley trip without a chaperone, are now boldly striking out on foot for a jaunt from ocean to ocean. Maidens who yesterday might have been afraid of the dark are making their beds in woods and by roadsides. Maidens who once might have thought themselves lost without a man to support them, are earning their meals at farmhouses and catching them from woodland streams.

Altogether the protracted hike has got to be one of the things that a girl of spirit is supposed to do. One girl, for instance, who had planned to work for a Ph. D., flatly announced that she was going to walk around the world before she opened another book. She is now in the Hudson's Bay country.

This urge to the long distance hike is, of course, not confined to women. Some of the girls have taken along their brothers and husbands. Other men are going it alone. But the long streams of foot travelers that are passing from east to west, west to east, north to south and south to north are women for the most part.

A party of four young girls who had lived the greater part of their lives in that section of New York now known as Greenwich Village, recently started a walking tour to the Pacific Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. De Simon, Who Have Abandoned Their New York Flat for a Coast-to-Coast Dash.

They are Eva Roland, Bobby Castleton, Edna Morgan and Peggy Thomas. The starting point was "The Pepper Pot," a small restaurant frequented by the Bohemian set in the Village. At the end of six days the party was at Youngstown, Ohio, bound for Fort Wayne, Indiana, and they reported among other things that they felt much safer on the country roads than on the streets of New York.

The Greenwich Village friends of these girls think that this must have been a humorous thrust at New York's police department. But this sentiment is generally subscribed to by women hikers—not only as regards New York, but any city. When they start out they are somewhat possessed by the usual city dweller's fear of thieves, robbers and murderers. After a while these fears slip away from them. The lonely stretch seems anything but unfriendly. Farmers passing by give them a cheerful greeting, officials in the little villages seem only too glad to give them explicit directions regarding the roads, the thick stretches of woods are inviting, and the little brooks seem to tinkle a welcome. Hikers, after a day or two on the road, lose all sense of being strangers amidst strange surroundings, according to their statements. Whether naturally lovers of nature or not, the worries they may have acquired under the artifices of city life soon cease.

The Greenwich Village Hiker Quartet may well take a leaf from the diaries of Beatrice Cohen, Hannah Davis, Anna Ginsberg and Bertha Rogovin who traveled 15,000 miles on foot, probably the record for girl hikers. They are all New York girls. They went from New York to the Coast and then back by a southern route.

Their experience should be valuable to all who contemplate such a trip. Miss Cohen, in an interview, threw much light on the manner in which they managed to get food on the way.

"The first thing we did when we got to a town of any size was to call on the employment agencies," she said. "All of us are expert stenographers. Failing to get a job here we would consult the 'help wanted' ads in newspapers or apply to the Y. W. C. A. We took jobs packing apples, in printing offices, and several times as department store salesgirls. We found people on all sides ready to help us. It didn't matter that all of us did not get work, for we pooled our earnings. Thus it happened that sometimes I would be out of work and sometimes one of the other girls. But we managed to live easily on our aggregate earnings.

"We averaged from one day to six weeks in a town and we did not regulate our stay by our money but by the weather. For instance, when we left Spokane we had to get through to the Cascade Mountains. In order to get ahead of the winter snows we all gave up good positions and resumed the hike. I then had a job as secretary to David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Leland Stanford University.

"In comparing the different sections of the country we traveled through we found that California was the easiest place to get along in. If it is not the most prosperous section it is surely the easiest place to make a living.

"If a girl can get along safely in New York city she can anywhere else on earth.

And if she wants to see the world I recommend for her the open road. We took the trip because we thought it would be good fun and we wanted to see all of the country. We didn't have money enough to see it in the de luxe fashion. But we saw it and perhaps, got more out of our trip than we would have had we traveled in a Pullman or luxurious motor car."

The trip lasted a year and four months.

Miss Yvonne Losch, a co-ed at Johns Hopkins University, says that not only does she feel safer on the road but that walking is much more pleasurable after you are well started than any other form of locomotion. If you are on a ship, she says, you eat too much; if you are in a train, your nerves get ruined, and if you are in an automobile you don't get enough exercise. Miss Losch is now en route from Baltimore to California.

Billy Gorton and his sister Dorothy, who are in New York after a walking trip from their home in Los Angeles, declare that they have at last found the ideal vacation both from a standpoint of economy and enjoyment. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. DeSimon, who are walking to Los Angeles from New York, subscribe to the same sentiment, while Isaac Shalsteare, who, after several cross-country hikes, is on a round-the-world tour which he expects to take seven years, says that the open road is his university.

Educational motives also inspired E. H. Burt, who is touching all four corners of the country in his walking trip. Burt is a criminologist and he is making frequent stops along the way to study prisons. He has been in jail twenty-six times without getting arrested. Every now and then, when inclement weather forces him to take shelter, Burt will find sanctuary in some wayside jail. He rather likes them, he says. He is supporting himself by selling postcards.

In the Borough of the Bronx, New York City, an Out-of-Doors Club was formed last year by girls whose brothers had been in the army. One of them suggested that they all wear their soldier relatives' discarded uniforms on a trip into the Westchester woods. After this regular week-end walking trips were taken. Four of these girls are now walking to California and two of them have walked to Maine and from there will work their way down the coast to Florida.

Two coast-to-coast hikers have demonstrated it is possible to travel the entire distance on foot without having a coin pass through their hands. These two girls, Gladys Swanson and Gwendolyn Brown, started out from Pittsburgh during the middle of the winter. They killed birds in season, did chores at farmhouses in return for meat and vegetables, lived on fish during spring, and made wild berries their main diet in the summer months. They are now on the Pacific Coast.

COTTON AND IRRIGATION

GROWERS of long staple cotton are to be protected. Those who are engaged in making the tariff bill in the senate have adopted an amendment to the bill providing for a duty of 7 cents a pound on Egyptian cotton. Arizona is one of the states where long staple is produced. California is another. South Carolina is another.

Many of the Texas farmers on the banks of Red river are producers of long staple cotton. Irrigation is responsible for the long staple crop of Arizona and in the Imperial valley of California the magical flow of impounded water makes its production possible. Senator Cameron of Arizona is a republican; Senator Ashurst of Arizona is a democrat. These senators when it came to the item of long staple cotton became violent protectionists. They introduced an amendment taxing long staple importations 15 cents a pound. This amendment failed and the Arizona senators made a fight for 10 cents a pound.

Senator Stanley of Kentucky is a democrat. He opposed the amendments introduced by the Arizona senators. He contended it would be a blunder for the government to advance millions to reclaim the arid bad lands of the southwest so cotton could be produced and impose a tax on all the people of the country so that the long staple cotton might be grown. There are millions of bales of inferior cotton grown in the United States. Thousands of farmers plant bad seed. They do not adopt advanced cultural methods, nor do they give heed to the seed they buy and plant. They are the producers of inferior grades when if they marched with the procession of students and thinkers who believe in pure seed and scientific farming they would be growers of the longer staples and financial success would come to them instead of being at the mercy every year of cotton buyers, money loaners and merchants who charge them exorbitant prices for supplies for the reason that they are compelled to carry in season and out of season these improvident and impractical tillers of the soil.

There could be an enormous crop of long staple cotton produced annually by southern farmers. Long staple is always in demand. It sells for a fancy price. It enriches the practical farmers who produce it. These growers of long staple do not depend on the credit system. They are not dependent upon the country banker. They grow a product which calls for ready money. Since the close of the war between the states the women and children of the southland have furnished the labor that has given the manufacturing world its cheap cotton and made multi-millionaires of the large manufacturers of Europe and America. Until recent years there has been no marketing system worthy of the name.

There has been no holding organization of farmers and financiers. In Texas they begin to pick in August. In other years they hurried the cotton to market just as fast as it was picked and ginned. Of course the buyers had the best of it. They had the growers at their mercy. They fixed the price and it was up to the farmers to take it or leave it. Long before Christmas time, in other years, 75 per cent of the annual yield of cotton had passed from the control of the producer. Now why should one of the world's staples be picked and ginned and sold in 90 or 120 days? Why should the market be ginned? Why should it be congested? Why should the fleecy staple be hurled upon the docks and into the freight houses or warehouses of the shipping companies? Why shouldn't there be orderly marketing? Why shouldn't there be sane marketing? Why should the gathering and selling time be limited to four months?

If there is a surplus, why shouldn't it be house and carried over until spring, and lastly why should the cotton grower play into the hands of gamblers of the world and the buyers of home and foreign mill owners? Organization has come to pass and there are thousands of cotton growers who are members of these holding organizations which promise to do so much for the farmer through a sane marketing of the fleecy staple. All the mill owners are organized. They know what they are doing. All the wholesalers and jobbers of cotton goods are organized. They know what they are doing. All the retail merchants know what they are doing. Now why shouldn't the 2,000,000 southern families who produce two-thirds of the cotton of the world have their holding organizations and their marketing agencies? They furnish the land. They furnish the seed. They furnish the labor. They gamble with nature and the elements. They furnish the sweat. They take all the risks.

Now why shouldn't they take down some of the velvet when there is a division of the profits? Unless all the signs are misleading, there is going to be a world cotton famine in the near future. More than 11,000,000 bales of American cotton were taken in the cotton year which closed July 1. Less than eight million bales of cotton were grown in America last year. There may be another famine this year. Not only in the United States but the world over, there is no holdover to speak of. All the reserves are melting away. Cotton should bring the producer a fancy price this year if the world demand continues and sane marketing is the rule and not the exception.

Fortunately, however, Uncle Sam won't be importuned to supply the need when Europe runs out of crises.

Another little fault of our civilization is the popular opinion that the roll of honor is a bank roll.

Some men have a chance to succeed, and some are content to sit and cuss the people who have succeeded.

If a man hasn't entertained an idea in 37 years, he always glows with pride when called a "good party man."

O! ye whose hearts are resonant, and ring to War's romance,
Hear ye the story of a boy, a peasant boy of France;
A lad uncouth and wraped with toil, yet who, when trial came,
Could feel within his soul upleap and soar the sacred flame;
Could stand upright, and scorn and smite, as only heroes may:
Oh, harken! Let me try to tell the tale of Jean Desprez.

With fire and sword the Teuton horde was ravaging the land,
And there was darkness and despair, grim death on every hand;
Red fields of slaughter sloping down to ruin's black abyss;
The wolves of war ran evil-fanged, and little did they miss.
And on they came with fear and flame, to burn and loot and slay,
Until they reached the red-roofed croft, the home of Jean Desprez.

"Rout out the village, one and all!" the Uhlan Captain said.
"Behold! Some hand has fired a shot. My trumpeter is dead.
Now shall they Prussian vengeance know; now shall they rue the day,
For by this sacred German slain, ten of these dogs shall pay."
They drove the cowering peasants forth, women and babes and men,
And from the last, with many a jeer, the Captain chose he ten;
Ten simple peasants, bowed with toil; they stood, they knew not why,
Against the gray wall of the church, bearing their children cry;
Hearing their wives and mothers wail, with faces dazed they stood,

But there was one who gazed unseen, who heard the frentied cries,
Who saw these men in sabots fall before their children's eyes;
A Zouave wounded in a ditch, and knowing death was nigh,
He laughed with joy: "Ah! here is where I settle ere I die."

He clutched his rifle once again, and long he aimed and well. . . .
A shot! Beside his victims ten the Uhlan Captain fell.

With bayonets they pinned him down, until their Major came.
A blonde, full-blooded man he was, and arrogant of eye;
He stared to see with shattered skull his favorite Captain lie:
"Nay, do not finish him so quick, this foreign swine," he cried;
"Go nail him to the big church door: he shall be crucified."

With bayonets through hands and feet they nailed the Zouave there,
And there was anguish in his eyes, and horror in his stare;
"Water! A single drop!" he moaned; but how they jeered at him,
And mocked him with an empty cup, and saw his sight grow dim;
And as in agony of death with blood his lips were wet,
The Prussian Major gaily laughed, and lit a cigarette.

But mid the white-faced villagers who cowered in horror by,
Was one who saw the woeful sight, who heard the woeful cry:
"Water! One little drop, I beg! For love of Christ who died. . . ."
It was the little Jean Desprez who turned and stole aside;
It was the little bare-foot boy who came with cup abrim
And walked up to the dying man, and gave the drink to him.

A roar of rage! They seize the boy; they tear him fast away.
The Prussian Major swings around; no longer is he gay.
His teeth are wolfishly agleam; his face all dark with spite;
"Go, shoot the brat," he snarls, "that dare defy our Prussian might.
Yet stay! I have another thought. I'll kindly be, and spare;
Quick! give the lad a rifle charged, and set him squarely there,
And bid him shoot, and shoot to kill. Haste! Make him understand
The dying dog he fain would save shall perish by his hand.
And all his kindred they shall see, and all shall curse his name,
Who bought his life at such a cost, the price of death and shame."

They brought the boy, wild-eyed with fear they made him understand;
They stood him by the dying man, a rifle in his hand.
"Make haste!" said they; "the time is short, and you must kill or die."
The Major puffed his cigarette, amusement in his eye.
And then the dying Zouave heard, and raised his weary head:
"Shoot, son, 'twill be the best for both; shoot swift and straight," he said.
"Fire first and last, and do not flinch; for lost to hope am I;
And I will murmur: Vive La France! and bless you ere I die."

Half-blind with blows the boy stood there; he seemed to swoon and sway;
Then in that moment woke the soul of little Jean Desprez.
He saw the woods go sheening down; the larks were singing clear;
And oh! the scents and sounds of spring, how sweet they were! how dear!
He felt the scent of new-mown hay, a soft breeze fanned his brow;
O God! the paths of peace and toil! How precious were they now!
The summer days and summer ways, how bright with hope and bliss!
The autumn such a dream of gold . . . and all must end in this:
This shining rifle in his hand, that shambles all around;
The Zouave there with dying glare; the blood upon the ground;
The brutal faces round him ringed; the evil eyes aflame;
That Prussian bully standing by, as if he watched a game.
"Make hate and shoot," the Major sneered; "a minute more I give;
A minute more to kill your friend, if you yourself would live."

They only saw a bare-foot boy, with blanched and twitching face;
They did not see within his eyes the glory of his race;
The glory of a million men who for fair France have died,
The splendor of self-sacrifice that will not be denied.
Yet . . . he was but a peasant lad, and oh! but life was sweet. . . .
"Your minute's nearly gone, my lad," he heard a voice repeat.
"Shoot! Shoot!" the dying Zouave moaned; "Shoot! Shoot!" the soldier said.
Then Jean Desprez reached out and shot the Prussian Major dead!

A CAPITAL VIEWPOINT

By Herbert Corey

NAME, Edward Voigt. Occupation, being a Minnesota congressman. Birthplace, Bremen, Germany. Charge, disturbing the peace.

It only shows what can be done by a congressman who knows the ropes and who, incidentally, has what might in some of the lower walks of life be labelled the gall to do it. There are 435 members of the lower house of congress and if each of the 435 were to do what Voigt did when his peeve came up in his throat the amount of legislation accomplished might be conservatively estimated at nit. Which might or might not be a good thing. Anyhow, this is what happened.

"I want this, that, and the other from the administration," said Voigt. "Postmasters—and a little of the fat—and just a bit of gravy."

The administration said that Mr. Voigt must realize that this is a bad year and that there are not enough postmasterships to go around and that this was the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party and that, anyhow, if he didn't get 'em what was he going to do about it? And Mr. Voigt swore a deep-sea oath.

"I'll show you," said Mr. Voigt.

So he conducted the finest little one-man filibuster that has ever been seen in the lower house. The house has been in the habit of saving time as much as possible. A roll call takes anywhere from twenty minutes to an hour, all depending on circumstances, and most roll calls can be evaded in the interest of speed. So Voigt began to demand roll calls. If there happened not to be a quorum the hard-working members of congress, for the hard work is not done on the floor, would be called away from the committee rooms.

"If I don't get that gravy," Mr. Voigt said in effect, fixing a merciless eye on the speaker, "I demand a roll call."

Well he got it, darn it. He could always get it. A congressman has some rights, by heck, even if certain people do act as thought they have not. And when he got that roll call the house would move ponderously along until Voigt saw his chance to drop another clockweight in the gear. When he would demand another roll call. At the moment this piece is being written he has been quiescent for some days—like many another volcano — and no one knows whether he got his postmaster or has been overcome by horror. But whenever he starts in to sit on the other side, the congressional chair being notably hard, the rest of the house starts up in terror. His mates fear he may be about to do it again.

Over in the senate that sort of thing happens in a different sort of a way. The so-called senatorial courtesy which does not prevent one senator calling another senator a liar, or begging him to step into the cloak room so he can be busted in the snoot, provides a different sort of a filibuster. An outraged member in the senate can filibust just as long as he can keep the floor and talk. When his soft palate begins to hang down he can send the Holy Bible or snappy bits from the Bosh to Coocoo volume of the encyclopaedia to the reading desk and have it read by an outraged clerk. When he has rested sufficiently he begins to talk again.

Moral: If you don't like what you're getting, say it with filibusters.

CRIME IN DALLAS

THERE is ever a fly in the ointment. There is ever specks on a spotless town. A week ago a Dallas grand jury made a report which carried with it the conviction that Dallas was without crime nor criminals, without wantons or wastrals, without drugs or drug addicts, without whisky or whisky runners, without vice or vice protectors, without moral lepers or social ulcers.

Now the newspapers of the spotless city are filled with stories of the work of porch climbers burglars, of diamond robberies and robbers, of dope and dope sellers, of the arrest of wicked women and wild men, of rum seizures and the capture of rum runners. Of course Fort Worth is in the limelight, too. In that city unmasked men are flogging their fellows who are willing to work and the sheriff and the police are unable to run to earth the perpetrators of the floggings, although they ride in motor cars and appear to know where they are going at all times. These cities have vice squads.

They have strong arm squads. They have purity squads and they have traffic cops who at least never overlook a fracture of the law and see to it at all times that the majesty of the law is vindicated. When in doubt, flog a man but never take a chance with a traffic cop. He is for the law in the courthouse and not justice in the river bottoms. There is a fine that goes with it and the fine goes into the municipal or county treasury.

Nearly all reformers are sincere, but you can say that about people who won't let little children play on Sunday.

Even if the picture isn't nasty, the movie patrons are not wholly disappointed. The air in the place usually is.

THIMBLE THEATRE. —By Segar

SOLDIERS AND REPUBLICANS

A YEAR ago the congressional lawmakers of the republican party declared that a soldier bonus bill would be passed without delay. It hasn't been passed. Six months ago President Harding advised the republican lawmakers to put over the ship subsidy bill. It hasn't been put over. More than a year ago the congressional lawmakers put over an emergency tariff and then began the creation of a permanent tariff.

They are hammering away and the end isn't in sight. Now all the senators want to go home. There are two or three great defeated ones who do not care what happens. There are others who have primaries or elections or both ahead of them. It must be true that the republican senate is without a leader. It must be true that the republican house is without a leader. In his inaugural message the president declared that the executive and the legislative branches of the government were wide apart and that it was neither Americanism nor republicanism nor democracy for the executive head of the government to coerce the legislative branch.

President Harding has had his way but he would have made greater headway and his administration would have been in greater favor with the public if he had rubber stamped the republican leaders in the beginning of his administration. There must be a leader. There must be a boss, a dictator, a master of men, to win results.

A conservative is one who thinks all the plots to disturb the scheme of things are hatched by bad eggs.

If America does lend Germany the money, it might be well to lay in a stock of ultimatums for use on pay day

STOPPING PAIN BY PRESSURE

Cross Section of Finger-Tip Showing Nerves Between Nail and Bone. The Expert Finds Points Such as This, Where Bones or Knuckles Are Near the Surface, the Best Places to Apply Pressure to Deaden Pain.

To Locate a Pain-Relieving Spot, Press the Teeth of a Comb on the Wrist, Then Rotate the Comb.

"ZONE THERAPY" is the name given to a queer science that stops pain by pressure. It is the scientific explanation of why you grit your teeth to obtain relief from pain; why after pounding your thumb you seize it and hold it tight to stop the pain and why you press your folded arms against your stomach to ease abdominal pains.

This simple method of preventing suffering in one part of the body by mere pressure on another part is expounded by Dr. William H. FitzGerald of Hartford, Ct., and former physician of the Boston City Hospital; former laryngologist to St. Francis Hospital, Hartford; graduate of the Vermont Medical College; member of the Allied Medical Associations, and for over 20 years a practising physician, specialist, and known as the discoverer of "zone therapy." At the recent session at Atlantic City of the Allied Medical Associations, Dr. FitzGerald remarked that he had appeared before many societies from coast to coast within the past 10 years and had tried to give the man who says "A thing that sounds so impossible can't be so" a chance to refute the principles of zone therapy.

"Zone therapy has come to stay," Dr. FitzGerald asserts.

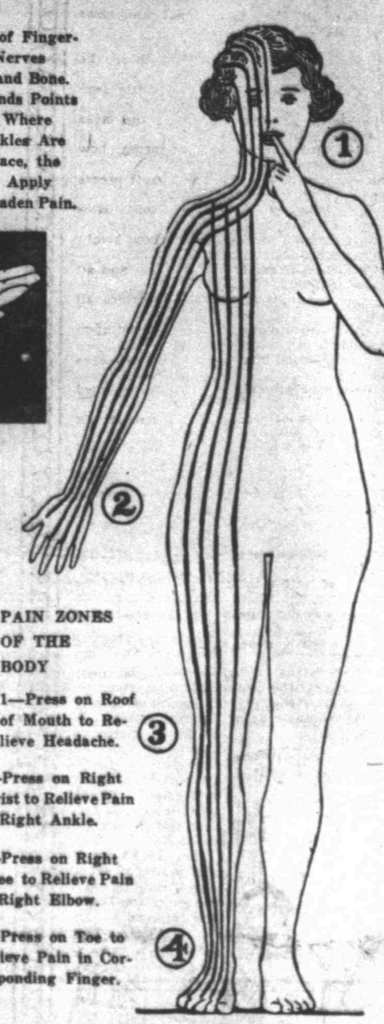

Dr. FitzGerald's method is said to have such astonishing results, and to be so easily applied by any layman to his own body, that the whole subject may seem, at first glance, a scientific absurdity. This Connecticut physician has discovered that the instinctive habit of pressing firmly on any part of the body that hurts is entirely scientific, and that by observing a few simple rules which he outlines you can often eliminate pain entirely. The layman may apply zone therapy to himself without danger. Usually, it is beneficial; in any case, it is harmless.

Actual demonstrations of the "zone therapy" theory, as credited to Dr. FitzGerald, offer proof, for example, that a toothache can be stopped by squeezing one of your fingers or the corresponding toe. If you experiment further with Dr. FitzGerald's remarkable system, Ralph R. Perry, writing in Popular Science Monthly, assures you that you may find, among other things, that you can do the following:

Relieve the hurt in your left thumb that you mashed with a hammer by binding a rubber band tightly around your left great toe.

PAIN ZONES OF THE BODY

1—Press on Roof of Mouth to Relieve Headache.

2—Press on Right Wrist to Relieve Pain in Right Ankle.

3—Press on Right Knee to Relieve Pain in Right Elbow.

4—Press on Toe to Relieve Pain in Corresponding Finger.

Stop the aching of a first or second molar by pressing firmly the knuckles of your second finger, and the wisdom tooth by pressing firmly the corresponding parts of the third and fourth fingers.

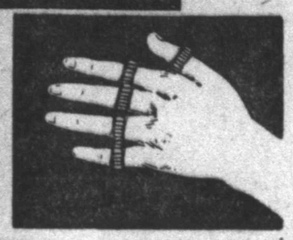

In fact, according to the exponents of zone therapy, a pain in practically any member of your body may be partially or entirely put out of business by simple pressure on another member in the same bodily "zone."

"Zone therapy" is the name applied to the method, because Dr. FitzGerald has found that for purposes of relieving pain the body may be divided into 10 vertical zones, five on each side of a centre line. The extremities of the zone division lines are the fingers and toes. For example, the first zone on either side of the body begins at the big toe and runs up the entire body, including the chest, back, and head, extending down the arm and ending at the thumb. The second, third, fourth and fifth zones originate similarly in the first, middle, ring, and little fingers and run to the corresponding toes.

How "ZONE THERAPY" Gives RELIEF by PINCHES and SQUEEZES

If a Baby Cries as a Result of Some Irritation It May Be Relieved by Gently Rubbing the Feet.

How "Therapy Rings" Are Worn on the Fingers to Block Pain.

Pressure across any section in anterior half of any zone will relieve pain in any other part of that half of the zone, and pressure across any section in posterior half of any zone will effect the same relief in that zone, although pressure at some points is more effective than at others. An important point to bear in mind is that it will do no good to squeeze your right toe to reduce pain in your left thumb; or to press upon the first finger to cure an injury that should be treated by pressure on the second finger. Areas of pain run up and down, and also crosswise, as from the various orifices of the body.

In each zone, the finger corresponds with the toe, the wrist with the ankle and the knee with the elbow. Therefore, wherever the pain may be, choose the corresponding member in the upper or lower part of the body and press firmly at some point where the main trunk nerves are close to the surface—that is, at the joints, where there is little flesh and muscle over the bones.

The best way to apply zone therapy to yourself, Dr. FitzGerald advises, is to use rubber bands passed entirely around the proper finger or toe, so as to include every part of the zone, and thus necessarily reach the right spot. Dr. FitzGerald himself uses a "therapy zone" or spiral spring, for that purpose, but he declares a rubber band, or even a tight bandage, is often as effective. He outlines the method as follows:

Slip on a rubber band that is uncomfortably tight, and leave it in place for from 5 to 15 minutes. Since this will stop the circulation, always remove it before the end of the finger starts to become blue, and then, if the pain continues, place it on again, repeating the operation several times a day for several minutes if necessary.

The continued pressure has been found to keep the pain from returning, and in many cases of headache or toothache, to cure the affliction. If the pain returns, apply the tight band again, and if it should persist, call a doctor. Recurrent pain that cannot be assuaged by zone therapy, it is pointed out, indicates a genuine pathological condition, and requires the immediate attention of a physician.

Since zone therapy in the hands of the layman is primarily a method of first aid, Dr. FitzGerald suggests the following methods of treatment for accidents that may occur when you are on your vacation or out of reach of competent medical aid:

To "push a headache out through the top of your head," press your thumb, or better, some smooth, broad surface like a metal knife handle, firmly against the roof of your mouth, as nearly as possible under the spot where you feel the pain. Hold it in place for from three to five minutes. If the pain is very severe, supplement this treatment by pressure on the joints of the fingers or wrists, especially on the top or back of the hand. For a racking headache "just back of the eye," compress the first joints of both forefingers or both forefingers and both middle fingers. This usually gives relief, unless the headache is due to prolonged eye strain or toxic absorption from the bowels.

If a tooth begins to ache, press the cheek immediately over that particular tooth, or squeeze the gums between the thumb and first finger for from one to four minutes. In addition, place a rubber band on the proper finger, remembering that, starting at the centre of the mouth and counting toward the rear, the first three teeth on either side are controlled by the thumb, the next two by the forefinger, the next two molar teeth by the middle finger, and the wisdom tooth by both the fourth and little finger of the hand on the corresponding side. Pressure should be applied on the first or second joint. Since the zones sometimes overlap somewhat, it may be best to press upon two fingers.

The best aid in treating other aches and pains incident to a vacation is a blunt pointed aluminum comb with strong teeth. This enables you to search out and locate the exact spot at which to apply the pressure that relieves the pain of such injuries as a sprained ankle or a wrenched knee. Place the teeth of the comb upon the knuckles, wrist, or elbow, as the case may be, and rotate it entirely around the joint, pressing firmly.

You will soon find a spot at which the pain is lessened, and that is the place to adjust your rubber band, or to squeeze with your fingers.

Is it always possible to find such a spot, and if found, will the pain always disappear? Dr. FitzGerald makes no claims so sweeping. Zone therapy, he points out, is no panacea nor cure-all. The reaction of different individuals to it varies greatly. With some persons, pressure therapy produces complete anesthesia, in which minor surgical operations can be performed without the least pain to the patient. With most persons, however, zone therapy produces analgesia—a reduced sensibility to pain.

Dr. FitzGerald's experience is that specialists in zone therapy can deaden sensation in about 80 per cent. of all cases, and can make the nerves quite insensible to pain in about 65 per cent. Among laymen, about half can relieve their own pain, and about 60 per cent. can reduce it.

No theoretical explanation of the results obtained by zone therapy has been attempted. The discovery indicates, however, that the relation among the various nerves of sensation is more intimate than physicians have believed. Certain it is that the control centres in the medulla oblongata, at the base of the brain, can be easily stimulated or deadened by proper manipulation at the nerve ends.

Zone therapy, as sometimes interpreted, may depend upon what physicians term "nerve block." As you press upon the nerve over the seat of injury, or upon another nerve that joins the injured one at the brain, you prevent it from transmitting full knowledge of the injury. It is as if the nerves formed a telegraph system, and you were able to cut the wire—producing anesthesia—or to scrape off the insulation, thus reducing the current that is transmitted and producing more or less pain insensibility.

Whatever the explanation, Dr. FitzGerald, working entirely by zone therapy, claims to have cured malignant cases of goiter.

"The effect of zone therapy certainly is not due to mental suggestion," says the discoverer, "for if you press the wrong finger, no relief follows, and the method is often effective where mental suggestion fails. Hay fever, for example, can frequently be cured by pressure in the mouth at various points in line with the nose. A sneeze can usually be stopped by pressing the centre of the upper lip against the teeth with the first finger. Vomiting and car sickness—occasionally, even seasickness—will yield to steady pressure or stroking with a metal comb on both surfaces of the hands, in the first and second zones. Lumbago and pains affecting all zones can be helped by pressing on the tips of the fingers, or by grasping a comb so that the prongs press against the middle joints of all the fingers, and the thumb on the comb end."

Women's CLOTHES Aid HEARING

PUBLIC speakers always should feel more pleased when they see that women form the greater part of the audience. Aside from the charm of the presence of femininity, there is another and very important reason why great numbers of women should gladden the heart of any speaker, and that reason is, according to Prof. F. R. Watson of the department of physics of the University of Illinois, that women's clothes have a very direct effect on the acoustics of an auditorium.

"Speakers and singers can be heard more easily when their audience is composed chiefly of women than when it is preponderately masculine," says Prof. Watson. "This is because women, as experiments have shown, absorb more sound than men, owing to the clothing worn.

"The usual trouble in an auditorium results from the fact that the walls do not absorb sound to any great extent, and consequently the word uttered by the speaker takes a long time to die out. In the mean time other words are spoken that become confused with the sound of the first words. In some cases curved walls produce echoes and concentrate the sound in unexpected ways. Sound absorbing materials are the usual corrective; cushions in the seats are quite efficient, but in some cases hair felt should be placed on the walls. The amount of felt needed is readily calculated from the acoustic properties of the room.

"In a small room there is almost never any difficulty, but in large rooms the troubles increase, so that it is necessary to add sound-absorbing materials in addition to the natural furnishings. The closer the walls are to each other, the more numerous are the reflections of sound a second and the more rapid is the absorption of sound.

"Sound travels from a speaker at the rate of about a fifth of a mile a second. It is reflected from the walls of a room and very rapidly fills the entire volume. Because its action is a mystery to many laymen, though the theory has been carefully worked out by scientists, wrong ideas have grown up about acoustics.

"For example, as much as seven miles of wire has been strung in an auditorium, although when as a practical corrective for acoustic difficulties are useless."

Prof. Watson, who analyzed the acoustic properties of Chicago's municipal pier and whose recommendations for improvements were adopted by the city authorities, has devised an instrument that simplifies acoustic analyses. It is an arc light reflector which sends its hissing together with a beam of light to inaccessible ceiling surfaces to determine the presence and paths of any echoes.

As the sounds and the light take the same path, the light indicates the point in the ceiling surface where the sound strikes, and the angle of sound reflection is then mathematically computed. A standard organ pipe is blown and the time taken for the sound to die out is measured with a stop watch.

RADIOGRAMS

MANY experienced radio enthusiasts are able to predict, with a fair degree of accuracy, the advent of cloudy or rainy weather. When the "static" in the air is particularly heavy, which is evidenced by a loud hissing sound in your receivers, you may be quite sure that bad weather is close at hand. This may be observed on small crystal sets as well as on more elaborate apparatus.

* * *

It is not at all necessary to be discouraged if you live in the kind of apartment house where the landlord is unalterably opposed to having antenna hung up on the roof. The old, and generally serviceable trick, is to rig your receiving set to your bed-springs, using that as an antenna. If you have a fairly efficient set, or even one of the very small crystal detector outfits, satisfactory results from this hook-up may be expected. If your bed-springs are not available, you can still use your fire-escape as an antenna—only first be sure that you scrape the paint clean from the point where you connect with your detector.

IS the EQUATOR Gradually MOVING to the NORTH?

THE average man has no doubt grown to look upon the earth's "belt" and its axis as immovable lines even though they are imaginary, says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society. But an astronomer in London was quoted the other day as asserting that the distance between Naples, Italy, and the equator has been shortened by a mile and a half during the last 51 years, and that Greenwich has apparently moved half a mile toward the tropics in less than two decades.

There is no question that latitudes change, but there is a very little question whether the changes are of any considerable magnitude and whether they continue for any great length of time in the same direction. The variations that have been established are due to a slight wabbling of the earth like a top which is not spinning evenly around its axis. This irregularity does not change the direction of the axis itself but does change the point on the earth's surface, the pole-point, from which the axis emerges. By such changes most points on the earth would have their positions altered with reference to the poles and to the equator, which is always 90 degrees from the pole-point and therefore follows it in any movement which it makes.

There are at least two distinct and unequal wabbles known: One completed in a year, and one in about 14 months. Their combination causes the pole-point to wander in a rather uneven way, tracing lines that are very roughly elliptical and which cross and recross each other. But these two known wabbles cause only a very slight variation from a steady rotation; the "wanderings" of the pole-point because of them are believed to be always within a circle 60 feet across. The latitude of any city would be changed, therefore, because of these two recognized wabbles of the earth, at most, only 30 feet north or south of its mean position.

There are other possibilities, however, in regard to change of latitude. One is that there are other yet unrecognized wabbles extending over longer periods which cause the pole-point to wander in circles or ellipses that may be larger than the 60-foot circle. Another is that there may be forces in operation which shift the pole-point steadily southward practically along a certain line of longitude.

PLANTS That COMMIT CRIMES

THE common ivy is a real criminal of the plant world. When it has no wall to climb, it will live on other plants, sapping their vitality as it creeps higher and higher, until its victims are suffocated.

A similar fate overtakes trees in Central American forests which receive the attention of a creeper called the matapolo, or tree-killer. The latter grows very quickly, the tendrils overhanging the tree's branches and reaching down to the ground, where they take fresh root. Soon the victim is surrounded by a regular thicket of creepers, which deprive it of both air and light.

Botanists also classify a variety of wild fig as a "criminal." A bird, perhaps, drops a seed in the fork of a tree. The seed soon germinates, and its roots cling to the trunk of the victim as they make their way to the ground. Once the ground is reached, the strangling process begins, for the fig grows rapidly, crushing out its victim's life so completely that it disappears entirely.

The toad-flax (or wild snapdragon) sucks the life out of other plants by means of small whitish swellings on its roots, which attach themselves to the roots of their victim.

A dangerous robber is the dodder, a peculiar plant with neither roots nor leaves. Consisting of a thin, yellowish stem, with clusters of tiny flowers, it bores its way into the stems of clover, hops and flax. Unless checked, it will do immense damage.

Another enemy of clover is the broom-rape, of which there are no fewer than 180 varieties. Their method of robbery is to penetrate the ground with their roots just as far as the roots of their favorite host. On these they fasten themselves, and feast on the sap which the victim unwillingly makes for them. Rape seed never dies. It may lie dormant in the ground for years; but if it finds itself at just the right depth below the surface, it will waste no time in germinating.

Vaccinating DOGS as Preventive of RABIES

CLINICS for canines where dogs are now immunized against rabies by vaccination with a serum are now being established as a result of experiments conducted in Connecticut, where 36,000 cases have been treated successfully.

The vaccination is made between the shoulder blades, the quantity of serum used being measured according to the weight of the dog, and gives immunity for a period ranging up to two years, when it must be repeated. Yearly vaccinations are advocated.

The serum can be obtained from the public health service, United States Laboratories, at a nominal cost.

Maj. W. C. Billings, United States medical staff officer at Ellis Island, considers the plan of immunizing dogs against rabies by vaccination feasible. He explains that one treatment, as a rule, is sufficient, and that veterinarians could give it in a few minutes, causing the dog to suffer very little during the operation or afterward. It is not safe, Maj. Billings says, for inexperienced persons to attempt the inoculation, and he advises that all such persons be prohibited from attempting it.

"By the use of this serum," says Maj. Billings, "a dog can be bitten by a dog that has rabies and will not develop the disease. Of course, a rabid dog from some other place could invade your city and bite any number of persons, who would have to be given the Pasteur treatment, but the same dog, biting an inoculated dog, could do no damage. I hope in time to see the whole country adopt this humane dog treatment. Not only are the people protected, but the dogs themselves are the beneficiaries, for a dog so treated does not need to be muzzled."

Under the direction of the board of health of Englewood, N. J., a dog clinic is being established in that city where all dogs will be vaccinated with a serum which makes them immune to rabies. Animals so treated will be permitted to run at large, without muzzles, except when the dog is known to be vicious.

An Experiment in Auto-Suggestion

A VERY simple and interesting experiment in auto-suggestion is described in a book entitled "The Practice of Auto-Suggestion," by C. Harry Brooks, published by Dodd, Mead & Co., New York. It is a test with Chevreul's pendulum, and illustrates the difficulty of holding such a pendulum still while thinking that it is moving.

"Take a piece of white paper," says the author, "and draw on it a circle of about five inches radius. Draw two diameters, AB and CD, at right angles to each other and intersecting at O. The more distinctly the lines stand out the better—they should be thickly drawn in black ink. Now take a lead pencil or a light ruler and tie to one end a piece of cotton about eight inches long; to the lower end of the cotton fasten a heavy metal button of the sort used on a soldier's tunic. Place the paper on a table so that the diameter AB seems to be horizontal and CD to be vertical. Stand upright before the table with your miniature fishing rod held firmly in both hands and the button suspended above the point O. Take care not to press the elbows nervously against the sides.

"Look at the line AB; think of it; follow it with your eyes from side to side. Presently the button will begin to swing along the line you are thinking of. The more your mind dwells easily upon the idea of the line the greater this swing becomes. Your efforts to try to hold the pendulum still, by bringing into action the law of the reversed effort, only make its oscillations more pronounced."

Mr. Popenoe, Plant Explorer, Gives Some Impression of His Late Trip Through This Ancient Neighbor of Mexico.

By NORMAN C. McLOUD

IF there were prohibition enforcement officers in Guatemala they should have little trouble in enforcing the laws—if they had the laws to enforce.

Gathering evidence as to the sale of liquor to the Indians of that Central American country should be a comparatively easy matter, according to reports recently brought back by Wilson Popenoe, plant explorer for the United States Department of Agriculture. Mr. Popenoe has spent two years in Guatemala, and knows whereof he speaks. Furthermore, he has brought photographic proof.

In Guatemala the native bar room—the cantina—is known by the outdoor check room it keeps. This check room is at once an invitation and a betrayal. In the land of the dry it would achieve for a saloon both its doing and its undoing. The picture shown is a street scene in Antigua, sixty miles from the Pacific Coast and 25 miles from the railroad at Guatemala City, capital of the country.

The packs and bundles belong to Indian carriers, who, quite naturally, were not visible at the moment. The Indians are the burden bearers of Guatemala. In the regions removed from the single three hundred mile transcontinental railway these natives transport all freights on their sinewy backs. The packs seen in the picture are the burdens of these human freighters, or of Indians who have come to town with farm or garden products.

"Burning Water"

To a large number of the Indians there is irresistible appeal in the cantina with its flaming merchandise of aquardiente. The potent forces of this staple native drink are such as to fully warrant the literal translation "burning water". Americans who have made its acquaintance call it "white eye" because of its pure, watery clearness.

"It is strong and cheap," declared Popenoe, "and four or five drinks of it will make a national dictator out of the mildest Guatemalan, or give the unassuming American a feeling that he is President of the United States and Central America as well. When the Indians leave their packs outside and disappear into the cantina they know nothing more of burdens of any sort till next day.

"These cantinas are as thick as the waterfront saloon used to be in our seaport cities, and the sign-of-the-pack is not their only means of making their presence known. Any one of them may be spotted by the sense of smell for a considerable distance, and a prohibition officer could not escape them if he tried."

The First Capital

Antigua is a city with much history. Its story dates back to 1535, when it was founded as the first capital of the kingdom of Guatemala, embracing all of Central America as far south as the Panama Canal. The kingdom was a vice-royalty, under the Spanish Crown. At one time the city had a population of 100,000, but it was destroyed by an earthquake in 1773, and has never been entirely rebuilt. Its present population is about 20,000. The city is 5,100 feet above sea level and is located in a valley ten miles in length and two miles wide.

"This valley is a beautiful region," said Popenoe. "It is flanked by lofty mountains, all of which have been volcanoes in their day. One of them—the small peak near the center of the picture—is still active from time to time. The floor of the valley is a solid series of coffee plantations, which produce the finest coffee grown in Guatemala. The general average of Guatemalan coffee is superior, and the product of this valley is especially prized because the high altitude gives slow maturity, allowing the berry to gather added flavor and aroma from its longer stay on the trees. In the picture of the valley the coffee trees are not visible. The trees shown as covering the region are the cover trees, grown for protection of the coffee trees from the danger of sunburn."

High Cost Of Living Not Effective Here

One of the delights of a stay in Guatemala is the privilege of living at the Hotel Rojas, a native hostelry. "At this hotel one gets more for his money than any place I have ever seen in any land," declares Popenoe. "For the equivalent of $1.25 a day I was provided with a clean and comfortable room and three meals a day—two of the meals being five course dinners. The food is remarkable for its excellence. Exchange rates have fluctuated since I was there and my expense under the prevailing rates would be about 75 cents a day.

"During my stays at the hotel at various times I formed a close friendship with a fellow-student of plant life, in the person of Joselito, the head gardener. Joselito—or 'Little Jose'—is nine or ten years old, and is the custodian of the flowers and plants. His "garden" is in the patio of the hotel and has a lavish and luxurious collection of roses, violets, gladiolas, jasmines, bougainvillia, palms and various tropical plants. Joselito takes his work very seriously, and is on the job every day with his watering pot and garden tools. Many an older gardener could learn something from this youngster."

A place of great interest to the few travelers who visit it is the city of San Cristobal Verapaz, 125 miles from Guatemala City. This is strictly an Indian town, with a population of 25,000 members of the Kekchi tribe. This tribe is one of the most important of the 21 Indian tribes in Guatemala. The traveler into the interior of Guatemala finds that in addition to speaking Spanish it is necessary for him to learn some phrases in the language of the Kekchies, as the tribe is self-sufficient and disinclined to learn Spanish.

A Peculiar Custom

An ancient custom which still prevails is the use of twenty as a unit of counting. Instead of going above twenty the natives start all over at that point and for forty count "two twenties", for sixty "three twenties", and so on.

The Kekchies are progressive and industrious and among the most intelligent peoples in Guatemala. They are honest, clean as to personal habit, patronize the schools for their children, are fairly abstemious in the matter of intoxicants and where they have not been spoiled by contact with the outsider they are declared by Mr. Popenoe to be on a much higher moral plane than most civilized nations.

A Ceremonial—Of Black Pepper

In one of the pictures Mr. Popenoe is shown receiving the hospitality of the most important man in the town. This man owns nine little farms and is regarded as a prosperous and substantial citizen. With his family, he is shown in the picture, at the ceremony of serving his guest with "batido," a native drink, made of ground chocolate seasoned liberally with black pepper. This drink is served hot—in more ways than one—and the drinker takes it from half a calabash.

The necklaces worn by the women are made of Guatemalan coins, now out of circulation because the silver is worth more than the face value of the coinage.

Witchcraft Still Prevalent

"The instruments are big crystals of quartz and colorful red beans," said Mr. Popenoe. "The Brujo takes the crystals and arranges them in squares or circles, following this by counting the beans out in various ways, as singly, in pairs and in threes. Accordingly as they come out odd or even he settles grave questions with 'yes' or 'no'.

"The chances are for fifty per cent. accuracy, of course, and this percentage serves to keep the people believing. A boy who worked for me lost a hog and the Brujo told him that the animal was gone for good. The fact that the boy found the hog two weeks later did not seem to shake his belief in the Brujo in the slightest degree, for he had known too many cases in which the right answer had been given to let one experience discourage his faith."

One of the most beautiful lakes in Guatemala is Lake Amatitlan, near Antigua, 4,000 feet above sea level, and with orchards of Avocados or Alligator pears on its shores.

AMONG THE MOVIE STARS

TRUMAN VAN DYKE IN "THE JUNGLE GODDESS"

LON CHANEY WITH IRENE RICH AND LITTLE STANLEY GOETHALS IN "THE TRAP"

OWEN MOORE

JACKIE COOGAN IN "OLIVER TWIST"

Patsy Ruth Miller — "The Trap" — "Golden Dreams" — "Across the Continent" — Owen Moore — "The Woman Conquers" — Truman Van Dyke.

UNKNOWN a little over twelve months ago Patsy Ruth Miller became a motion picture actress without preparatory experience. She is a dark-eyed, brown-haired miss from St. Louis. While touring California, a director saw her on the beach of a winter resort and immediately engaged her. She has appeared in "One A Minute," "Camille," "The Wandering Boy" and "Watch Your Step." Her latest was with Tom Mix in "The Fighting Streak."

"The Trap"

"The Trap" is a powerful story of the Canadian northwest which gives the versatile Lon Chaney the opportunity to do the greatest acting of his career. Although Chaney did exceptional work as the frog in "The Miracle Man"; as the cripple in "The Penalty" and leader of the crook band in "Outside the Law," each role was in support of some noted star. Now Chaney has reached the heights himself.

In this picture, Gaspard, played by Chaney, is a simple, lovable French-Canadian trapper, who goes about the world with a song in his heart and on his lips. Then enters Benson, an American adventurer, who ruthlessly steals Gaspard's mine and sweetheart, without the slightest knowledge of the danger he invites in awakening the fires of hate in the heart of the simple trapper. As he had loved with all his heart, so now he hates with equal fervor. He becomes a wolf in human form and step by step wreaks vengeance on the man he hates.

"Golden Dreams"

The story concerns Mercedes McDonald, daughter of a Spanish mother and an American father, Sandy Buchanan, the engineer in charge of the new oil wells on the McDonald estate, the Duke of Othomo and his scheming uncle, Don Felipe de Cristobal. Don Felipe wishes to arrange a marriage between the Duke and Mercedes to recoup the family fortunes. Mercedes, however, has given her heart to Sandy Buchanan, and the Duke and his Uncle go to all lengths to get the American engineer out of the way. In a great attack upon the inn in which Buchanan, his friends, and Mercedes take refuge, the lions, tigers and bears in a traveling American circus are loosed upon the attacking party, the Duke and Don Felipe falling victims to their fury.

"Across The Continent"

In the story, Mr. Reid is piloting his little car at tremendous odds across the country, and leaving his larger and more powerful contestants behind one by one. To prevent ultimate victory, one of the contestants sets fire to tall grass in the roadway, in the belief that the driver of the flivver would be stopped indefinitely. But not so. As the flames gather force, Mr. Reid dashes into the blazing inferno at tremendous speed and dashes through the fire belt unharmed.

"Across the Continent" marks the return of Mr. Reid to his now famous automobile speed driving pictures. His leading woman is Mary MacLaren. Theodore Roberts has a prominent role.

Owen Moore

This popular screen star was born in Ireland. He came to the United States when he was eleven years old, getting his education in Toledo, Ohio, and at twenty he started his stage career, playing juvenile leads in road attractions. In 1909 he went on the screen and has been in many big successes. His next production will be "A Previous Engagement."

"The Woman Conquers"

This is a virile story of the north. Katherine MacDonald, the American Beauty, has the role of Ninon Le Compte, society debutante, who deplores the lack of physical fibre among the men of her acquaintance, including Frederick Van Cort, III. (Bryant Washburn), an ardent suitor for her hand. When word arrives that Ninon has been left vast fur trading interests in the wilds of the Hudson Bay country by the death of a relative, she decides to take possession in person. Unable to alter her decision, Frederick Van Cort and Flora O'Hara, Ninon's friend, accompany her.

Lazar, Canadian in charge of the post, is openly hostile to Frederick and covetous of the girl. His law has been that of possession and he evidences every intention of abiding by it as far as Ninon is concerned. As he threatens to seize her by force she learns that he is wanted by the police for murder and threatens to turn him over unless he departs within 24 hours.

Follows then the burning down of the warehouse in which the valuable furs are stored, Ninon's pursuit with young Van Cort and an Indian. In a blinding blizzard they are driven to seek refuge in an old cabin. There they find Lazar. There is a terrific fight. Lazar temporarily outwits his pursuers. Then young Van Cort demonstrates that he is more of a man than Ninon had thought him to be.

Truman Van Dyke

Truman Van Dyke, who co-stars with Elinor Field in the animal serial "The Jungle Goddess," is comparatively a newcomer to the screen. When he was selected as leading man there were not many screen stars who envied him, as there are over four hundred wild animals used in "The Jungle Goddess" and he was called upon to face all of them at one time or another.

In one episode he had to grapple with a leopard in an airplane while three thousand feet in the air. He still bears many scars from this stunt. In another chapter the scenario called for the hero's sacrifice to alligators. Van Dyke was the victim. Without previous training and with but brief instructions he tackled one of the reptiles and a barehanded conflict with the beast took place for the cameras.

Jackie Coogan In "Oliver Twist"

It has remained for Jackie Coogan, the famous 7 year old star of the silent drama to give the screen a beautiful and colorful impression of that famous volume "Oliver Twist".

Everybody who has read "Oliver Twist"—has known how young Oliver suffered through life, meeting one adventure and experience after another until he finally reaches the "end of the road" and—happiness.
