OIL DEVELOPMENT

Leasing Project West of C-City

A new oil leasing venture is developing in Mitchell County west of Colorado City.

The lease agreements are being shaped up by a team from Midland, according to persons in the oil industry here.

Acreage envolved in the venture is spotted over an area extending from just east of Westbrook to the vicinity of Lake Colorado City.

Lease terms have ranged from 7 to 5 years, it was reported, and the block may include 8,000 acres when the project is completed.

In other Mitchell County oil development, 3 new drilling locations have been staked in 2 separate fields.

Spotted in the Turner Gregory (San Andres and Clear Fork) Field are C. W. Guthrie of Big Spring No. 1 L. H. Murphy and M. L. Melton of Colorado City No. 4 T. A. Reaves.

Guthrie No. 1 Murphy is a 3,000 foot rotary test 3 miles northeast of Iatan at a site 330 feet from south and east lines of southwest quarter of Section 24, Block 29, T-1-N, T&P Survey.

The Melton No. 4 Reeves will drill to 2,900 feet at a location on 160-acre tract 7 miles northwest of Westbrook. Drill site is 990 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of Section 13, Block 29, T&P Survey.

In the Westbrook Field, Blue Danube Oil Company staked its No. 2 Alvin Byrd.

The project will drill 3,250 feet to test the Clear Fork on an 80-acre tract 4 miles northwest of Westbrook at a site 990 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of Section 20, Block 20, T-1-N, T&P Survey.

HEARING SET JULY 11

County Designated for Brucellosis Controls

Mitchell County is in line for Type 2 program for control and eradication of bovine brucellosis.

Petition has been completed bearing more than 75 per cent of the county's cattle owners who own at least 51 per cent of the tax rendered cattle.

The result is that a proclamation has been prepared designating Mitchell County as a Type 2 control area, according to R. G. Garrett of Austin, executive secretary of Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas.

Hearing on the control designation has been scheduled for July 11 at 9:30 a. m. in the State Office Building in Austin.

Notice of the hearing date was detailed in a letter this week from Garrett to County Agent Jack Burkhalter.

Preparation of the petition in accordance with the regulations governing voluntary acceptance of the brucellosis control program have been in preparation here since mid-March.

The move to petition for the control followed an explanation of the program here by Dr. James Henderson, head of the project for the Livestock Sanitary Commission.

Burkhalter said testing of cattle probably would not start before next fall.

When a county is designated Type 2 control, then it is qualified to participate under the "range and semi-range area" program. Area certification will be for a period of 3 years.

To obtain this area certification, the Type-2 county must have blood tests of all dairy cattle, all purebred beef cattle and 20 per cent of all other cattle in each herd over 3 years of age, steers, spayed heifers and official vaccinates under 30 months exclud-

C. G. Brinkley Dies; Rites Thursday

C. G. Brinkley, 72, died Monday morning, apparently from a heart attack as he was on his way home from town, within a half block of his home at 120 West Seventh Street.

He apparently became ill and sat down to rest on the porch of the Assembly of God Church at the corner of Seventh and Oak Streets.

Brinkley died before a passer-by could summon aid.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday morning at 10:30 in Kiker and Son Funeral Chapel with Rev. G. W. Pendleton of Dallas officiating. Burial was in Colorado City Cemetery.

Brinkley was born in Williamson County, Nov. 11, 1887. He and Miss Earnest Coe were married Oct. 20, 1909 in Peacock. The couple moved to Colorado City Christmas Day, 1926, where Brinkley was employed by Col-Tex Refinery until his retirement seven years ago.

Brinkley is survived by his wife of Colorado City; three daughters, Mrs. Phynus Shurtleff and Mrs. A. T. Caffey of Colorado City and Mrs. J. B. Tucker of Eunice, N. M.; two sons, Bob Brinkley of Fabens and Francis Brinkley of Dinuba, Calif.; five brothers, Blake Brinkley of Waco, Foster Brinkley, Dean Brinkley and Grady Brinkley all from Brownwood and Jesse Brinkley of Eastland; 18 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Johnson Push

Mitchell County's political push behind the Lyndon B. Johnson presidential campaign will be formerly organized here Saturday in the Mitchell County Democratic Convention. Democratic precinct conventions last week named Johnson delegations to the county convention.

TO BACK JOHNSON

County Demos in Session Saturday

Politics keeps moving early this season as Mitchell County Democratic Convention convenes Saturday in Civic House.

The convention will begin at 2 p. m. with delegations on hand from the county's four major precincts—Colorado City, Loraine, Westbrook and Spade.

And the main course of business will be giving a shove to the presidential candidacy of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson and naming delegates to the State Democratic Convention.

Assurance for the Johnson banner to wave over the county convention came last Saturday at the 4 precinct conventions. Democrats in each of the precinct conventions quickly adopted resolutions endorsing the senator.

There was no hazzle about the Johnson resolutions, either, as all elements joined in with support.

Here is how the precinct Demos stated their Johnson support — the foundation for statement sure to come from the county convention:

Whereas, our nation now enters an historic decade of decision in which the future of human freedom will be directly determined by the vigor, wisdom, effectiveness and — above all—the responsibility of America's own leadership, and,

Whereas, to meet this challenge it is incumbent that the President of the United States be a man already seasoned in the active duties and responsibilities of national leadership, a man with both the vision and background to make the fights that must be made for a strong first-class America, a man who understands other men at home and abroad and can bring them together to resolve the grave questions of peace and opportunity in our times, and a man who has the ability and will and experience to make the Amer-

County Teams Score in 4-H Contests

Two Mitchell County 4-H teams have qualified for state contests in College Station.

They won the right to enter state competition with performances Saturday in District 2 elimination contests in Lubbock.

Placing second in District 2 and earning a trip to the state contests were Bill Harris and Rex Harris, whose demonstration is concerned with effective use of electric cooperative power.

Also winning second in District 2 and a trip to the state meet was the Mitchell County grass judging team of Marvin Sursa, Johnny Belvin Jackie Bass, and Carlos Galvan, all of Loraine.

The state contests will be June 7-8 in connection with the Texas 4-H Club Roundup on the campus of Texas A&M College.

Smo-Keet Site Near Westbrook

A new industry—cutting, packaging and distributing mesquite chunks for barbecuing — is setting up operation this week in Mitchell County.

It is the third small industry addition to Colorado City area in recent months and the second with enterprising use of previously disregarded natural resources.

The company packaging the mesquite wood for sale in stores across the country is Smo-Keet Company of Dallas. Headquarters for the business here is a mesquite pasture on O. B. Trulock acreage on the south side of Interstate 20 Freeway, 3 miles west of Westbrook.

A small metal storage building has been constructed at the site, electric saws have been placed in operation and electric power installed.

L. G. McKinney of Dallas is president of the Smo-Keet Company and Harry Webber of Eunice, N. M., is vice president.

Supervising the work here is Bernard Whiteacre, 35, formerly of Hobbs, N. M.

Location of the unique operation here followed contacts by the Chamber of Commerce with Webber. These contacts by the Chamber of Commerce have been in progress over recent months as Webber checked the location, possible sites and negotiated for a field base.

The company plans to market the mesquite wood chunks under the brand name of Smo-Keet. Chunks will be packaged in heavy paper bags — 10 pounds to the container.

Present plans in Mitchell County are for mesquite to be cut and trimmed in the field, then moved to the electric saws where they will be cut in small chunks, weighed and packaged.

Truck transportation will move the packaged mesquite to market.

Containers for the mesquite are colorful with yellow background, red and green printing. The bags feature "Smo-Keet" in red-green letters above a barbecue grill with red beef steak.

BEFORE STATE BOARD

June Hearing Set for Proposed County Lake

Hearing is scheduled June 20 in Austin on the application to construct a dam and reservoir on Colorado River in Mitchell County's southern area.

The hearing will be at 10 a. m. that date before the State Board of Water Engineers.

Colorado City, Mitchell County and Loraine officials have endorsed the application filed last year by Colorado River Municipal Water District and are expected to have representatives at the Austin hearing.

E. V. Spence of Big Spring, general manager for the water district, announced that the CRMWD board of directors plans a meeting May 26 in Big Spring.

The directors meeting, of course, will develop final preparation for the district's participation at the hearing.

Application is for a water permit to impound the new lake at a dam site 21 miles south of Colorado City and 1.5 miles north of the Coke-Mitchell county line.

The permit if granted by the state board will allow the water district 2 years to make a postive start on the lake project or show cause for extending that period.

Hearing on the application — which was authorized by the CRMWD board of directors last June 11 — has been delayed with consent of the CRMWD while the state agency cleared other major hearings from its agenda.

In the meantime, the water district and Texas Electric Service Company engineers have been busy studying and analyzing the salt problem on the proposed lake's watershed below Lake J. B. Thomas.

Spence, in a significant statement this week, expressed confidence that the problem of salt polution can be solved adequately so the new Mitchell County reservoir will have top quality water.

The lake — with plans slightly revised since the original application — would

TRACK AND JOURNALISM

State Wins for McKay and Barber

Two Colorado City High students scored first places in State Interscholastic League competition in Austin Friday.

Jerry McKay, junior standout athlete, tied for first place in the Class AAA high jump with a leap of 5 feet 11 inches.

In the journalism competition Laura Barber won first in feature writing and second in editorial writing among Class AAA students.

Jeannie Gundrum, a first place winner in typing in regional competition, was not among the winners in Austin.

McKay scored 5 points to put Colorado City in 10th place in the state track and Infact, athletes from District 3-AAA were impressive as 4 schools from the district — Snyder, Colorado City, Lamesa and Sweetwater—scoring track points.

Snyder, paced with a double win by Sanley Woolever in the high and low hurdles, was fourth with 37 1/3 points behind Andrews, Brownwood and Bay City.

Lamesa scored 6 points and Sweetwater counted with 2.

McKay, even with his tie for first place with 5 feet 11 inches, had a disappointing performance. He had cleared 6 feet 2 previously in the season.

Miss Peggy Tiller Becomes Bride of Billy Mitchell

Miss Peggy Jo Tiller of Abilene became the bride of Billy Ray Mitchell of Abilene Monday evening in the Payne Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tiller of Route 3 and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mitchell of Abilene.

Rev. Fred Smith, pastor of the Payne Baptist Church, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

An arch covered with greenery and lemon foliage, which was centered with twin candelabra and white tapers flanked by baskets of white gladiolas and pale blue carnations, accented the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white Chantilly lace over net and bridal satin. It featured a fitted bodice with a bolero jacket, buttoned high collar and long sleeves which tapered to a point at her hands. The full skirt was ballerina length and accented at the hemline with scallops.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of seeded pearls.

The bride carried a bouquet of white carnations surrounded by blue carnations and white streamers over a white Bible.

She wore a blue garter, borrowed her tiara, carried an old handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother. Her wedding attire served as the traditional "something new."

Mrs. Peggy Redman of Midland presented the music.

Mrs. Ken Deatherage of Abilene was matron of honor. She wore a light blue brocaded taffeta sheath style dress that was accented with a matching chiffon cumberband that tied at the back with a large bow. She completed her ensemble with a small clip hat of light blue, white gloves and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Light blue streamers extended from the bouquet.

Jerry Mitchell, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Candles were lighted by the junior usher, Johnny Tiller Jr., brother of the bride.

IN TUESDAY MEETING

Group Told Facts About Increase of Diabetes

At a joint Wednesday meeting of the Looney, Fairview and Landers Home Demonstration clubs, Mrs. Dewey Turner was guest speaker in the Lone Wolf Electric Building.

Mrs. Turner told the group some of the statistical facts about diabetes mellitus.

"One per cent of the population of the United States has diabetes," she told the group.

She related to the group that age is no exception to the disease. She then pointed out that it is common in middle ages and unusual in the young and even rare in children.

"Most cases are in the age group of 50-60 years of age," said Mrs. Turner.

"Diabetes is hereditary, but it takes 2 people to cause the inheritance," she continued, "one person in 4 inherits the tendency."

She pointed out that the number of diabetics is increasing, because: diabetics are living longer, they are having more children and it is a disease of older people and the entire population is now living longer.

Mrs. Turner stated that in 1959 diabetes was the eighth cause of death; there were 15.4 deaths from diabetes in each 100,000 of population; diabetes caused 1.6% of the total deaths.

Some of the typical symptoms of the disease are excessive thirst, frequent urination, albmen in the urine, chills and fever, excessive appetite, increased metabolism and loss of weight.

The speaker then told the group some of the symptoms of shock in patients receiving regular insulin. Some of these symptoms are sweating, hunger, fruity odor to breath, unconsciousness and difficult breathing.

Some of the treatments, she said, for insulin shock are external heat and elevation of foot of bed, saline in the vein, insulin, carbohydrates and washing out the stomach.

To conclude her topic the speaker related some of the points one should consider while caring for a patient that is in a diabetic coma.

During the business Mrs. Turner presented a report on her recent trip to the district meeting that was conducted in Littlefield in April.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Bruce Byrnes, Mrs. John Womack and Mrs. P. P. McGee.

Members attending from the Landers club were Mr. Byrnes, Mrs. Charles N. Stubblefield and Mrs. Forrest Porter.

Attending from the Looney club were Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. C. E. Browne, Mrs. Carroll, Brown, Mrs. J. H. Carlock, Mrs. N. O. Brown, Mrs. Parker Jarman, Mrs. McGee, Mrs. Bill Thompson, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Rufus Marshall, Mrs. J. D. Hartsfield, Mrs. Henry McGuire, Mrs. T. P. Sanford, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Maggie Hamrick and Mrs. Jess Thompson.

Members attending from the Fairview club were Mrs. O. L. Simpson, Mrs. Earnest Uzzle, Mrs. Lee Strain, Mrs. E. R. McMillian, Mrs. Lon Strain, Mrs. Will Berry, Mrs. Willard Thurman, Mrs. J. C. Womack and Mrs. W. W. Jenkins.

Do you bring home everything you've paid for?

It's a good question.

Which you can answer "yes" — if you always buy from the business people right here at home. Where you live.

Wherever you buy, part of your money goes to build and to keep up the community in which you spend. To support schools, churches, civic projects, to pay the people who work in that community, and to provide better business and job opportunities for those who live there.

When you buy in YOUR OWN town, you get about the same merchandise you'd get anywhere else — PLUS the enjoyment of these other things that your money pays for.

When you buy anywhere else, you get merchandise ONLY. And your home community is a little poorer because you carried off part of its resources. And the many things other than goods that your money pays for are left for somebody else to enjoy, while they wait for you to return and give them some more.

Indians, Giants Open League with Victories

Indians and Giants knocked the lid off Colorado City's 1960 Little League baseball season Tuesday with impressive victories.

In the first game of the inaugural twin-bill the Indians walloped the Pirates, 10 to 1, behind masterful pitching of Cupp and Mann.

The Giants jumped to a quick lead in the second contest and managed to hold on for an exciting 8 to 6 triumph over the Dodgers.

Friday the 13th will pair the Eagles vs. Texans at 6 p. m. and the Tigers vs. Dodgers at 8 p. m.

Farm League and Minor League teams will move into action for the first time Saturday with a trio of games scheduled at Memorial Field.

Farm League teams will play in the late afternoon and twilight Saturday with Blue Sox vs. Steers at 4 p. m. and Cubs against the Lions at 6 p. m.

At 8 p. m. Saturday the Cats and Missions will tangle in the initial Minor League contest.

With Cupp and Mann limiting their opponents to only 2 hits, the Indians scored an easy win over the Pirates in the Little League opener Tuesday night.

Petty and Mann led the scoring for the Indians with 3 runs each while Grisham slammed out 2 hits.

Only 1-hit was collected off Mann in the final 3 innings and that was the Pirates' only score — a home run by Little John Beasley.

Although the Giants moved to an opening inning lead, they had to play an extra inning before defeating the Dodgers.

And it was a seventh inning home run by Applin with a teammate on base that produced the 8 to 6 winning margin.

FALLS IN SWEETWATER

Wallace Wins 1, Loses Another

Wallace Wildcats baseball team made it five in a row Thursday afternoon by walloping DePriest High of Hamlin, 14-2, behind the lusty hitting of Tony Jones, Clifton Lee, Henry Burton, and Clarence Marshall and the sturdy pitching of Archie Biggers.

Wallace had 11 hits and 14 runs, while Biggers and Curtis Scott allowed Hamlin only three safeties.

The teams were on equal bases in the first inning as neither team was able to cross the plate. Wallace made two runs in the second and five runs in the third to take a 7-0 lead. DePriest made their runs in the sixth and seventh.

Biggers retired the first 14 batters in gaining his fifth win. He struck out 10 batters.

Wallace has two games left to play. They are with Sweetwater and Plainview. Both games are away.

Robert Fowler hit a single through the box in the bottom of the seventh inning in Sweetwater Monday night to give the Sweetwater Bulldogs an 11-10 victory over the Wallace Wildcats.

The Wallace team, sporting an 8 run lead, saw the Bulldogs trim that lead to 4 in the fifth inning. The score at that time was Wallace 9; Sweetwater 5.

After two men were out, a walk to G. Blueford, a single by Fowler and a double by T. Brown cut Wallace's lead to 9-7.

Wallace made a run in the seventh when Clifton (Catfish) Lee was safe on an error by the Sweetwater shortstop. Curtis Scott got his fourth hit of the night and Wallace had a 10-7 lead.

Two doubles, an error and two singles gave the Bulldogs four runs to win the game 11-10.

Archie Biggers, who had won five straight games, lost his first of the season allowing 10 hits.

There's Message In 1960 Census Count

No doubt about it, census figures for Colorado City and Mitchell are a jolt.

And a person unconcerned about the fact that populations of both Colorado City and Mitchell County are below 1950 level is likely to be a person who is not concerned with the actual economic life of this community.

The 1960 Census preliminary report is a fact of life. We can't hide from it. Neither can we cover it up.

After the first shock, though, we should realize the census — no matter how startling it may be — offers multiple fields for consideration and, possibly, some solace.

For one point, the slight dip from 6,774 population in 1950 to 6,416 amounts to only 358 less persons and can hardly be called a drop. There should be recognition to the fact, also, that the 1950 Census was during heighth of the Snyder oil boom when development, business and population peaked above the usual level of healthy growth.

Therefore, it is not misleading in the least to emphasize that Colorado City has kept practically all of its boom growth.

The fact still remains, however, that Colorado City and Mitchell County have declined in population during the last 10 years. This dip has come when population continually increased for the nation as a whole and for the Southwest region in particular.

There are some factors in this population ratio which sometimes are beyond the immediate control of the community and its citizenship. For instance, the trend throughout West Texas at this decade in history is toward urbanization — with largest population growth in metropolitan areas simultaneously with a move away from farms and rural communities.

There is the fact, too, that Colorado City's population climbed in recent years above the Snyder boom level as families with electric power plant, lake and highway construction became residents here, only to move before the 1960 Census as these projects were completed.

This 1960 Census will be a yardstick by which business and industry and other elements measure Colorado City for years to come. And regardless of factors contributing to the situation, Colorado City has dipped slightly in population and its surrounding rural areas have lost a substantial amount of population.

This should be sobering to every business owner, operator and employe within Colorado City.

Circumstances always have, always will have definite bearing upon the immediate growth of any town or community. But those which move ahead and stay ahead are those who plan and work for it.

Leaders of Abilene, for instance, made it plain in their reflections over their city's tremendous growth that planning and cooperation were the major items behind the growth.

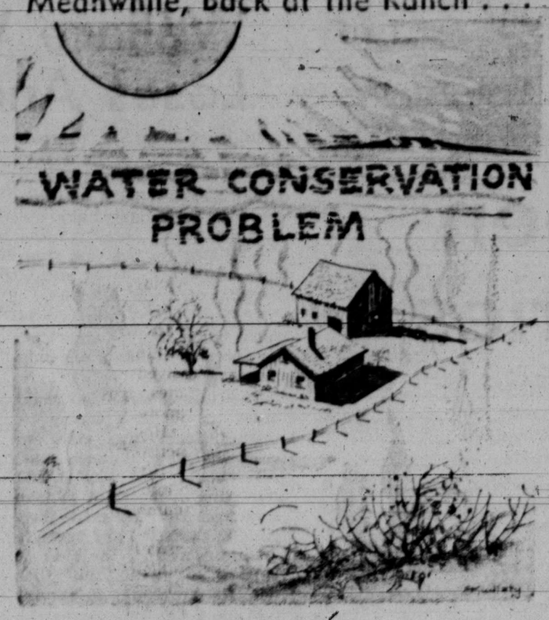

That's not the only one. You can look at any of our neighboring cities which have continually moved forward and you will find an alert, aggressive and cooperating leadership within their communities.

There is more to business than a person opening his store's door and waiting for customers to appear. Business—even in this period when population across the entire nation and world is constantly increasing — is competition between areas and regions.

This is the actual story of the 1960 Census. Colorado City must do an even better job of planning, working and cooperating to make itself a better place to live and do business.

The person who believes he can turn his back on this fact, leave the job undone or for somebody else to do — well, he is flirting with economic disaster.

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

He'd Leave First Visit to Spacemen

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek probably is taking a very backward view of space travel, his letter this week indicates. That's typical.

Dear editor:

People gazing up at the stars at night have been wondering for thousands of years what's out there in space, although I've found you can wonder what's out there while gazing at the sky in the daytime, no use waiting till dark, and I got to thinking of an idea yesterday while I was reading an article in a newspaper.

According to this article, a famous scientist who's a specialist on space exploration, Dr. Wernher von Braun, says it's very likely that life exists in the universe outside the earth.

"There is good reason to assume, on purely scientific grounds and on evidence adduced by observation, that life exists elsewhere in the universe," he said. "Our sun is one of 100 billion stars in our galaxy. Our galaxy is one of billions of galaxies populating the universe. It would be the height of presumption to think that we are the only living things in that enormous immensity."

All right, if you assume there is life out there, you might as well assume it's intelligent, or at least as intelligent as we are, maybe a lot more, which doesn't take too much intelligence to imagine.

All right, here's the thing: we're spending billions of dollars to send somebody out there to see what the other people are like.

Why don't we sit tight and let them send somebody down here to see what we're like?

We ought to be just as interesting to them as they are to us, especially if they showed up during a national political convention or in the middle of a first class war. If they're so all-fired intelligent, why don't they show up?

Why do we always have to take the lead? It reminds me of Americans who are always dreaming of visiting Europe. My theory is to just go about my business here and let the Europeans dream of visiting me. I can't imagine why any European would want to visit me, and I have a notion a lot of Europeans can't understand why Americans want to visit them.

I say if there's life out in the universe, let 'em look me up. It's the same distance from there to here as it is from here to there.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

New Highway Brochure Starts Tourist Advertising by State

State Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Texas Highway Department soon will come out with a brochure aimed at attracting out-of-state tourists to Texas.

Publication of the booklet with State Highway funds has been okayed by Attorney General Will Wilson. State Comptroller questioned the legality of using road use tax revenue for non-highway purposes, and the Attorney General's opinion as to legality was requested.

Actually, the brochure sticks close to the road. It contains a map of the Texas highway system, tells about traffic laws and highway markers and makes a strong appeal for safe driving.

Its publication was declared legal on grounds that to refuse authorization would, in effect, declare unconstitutional the amendment approved by the people to allow advertising of Texas with state funds.

Expense of the brochure, said Wilson's opinion, "will be refunded to the highway program many times due to the great increase in automobile travel and the resultant increase in gasoline taxes."

Tourist spending in Texas dropped $100,000,000 last year. This has been attributed by many to the fact that other states have advertised vigorously while Texas has not.

TEACHER TRAINING — State Board of Education is considering proposals for revising requirements for education of public school teachers. Decision is to be made next summer.

Suggestions include:

1. Requiring all teachers to take 18 semester hours in education courses.

2. Requiring elementary school teachers to take 18 hours in subject matter and skills to be taught plus an other 18 hours in related areas. An optional plan would be 24 hours in one subject and 18 in another.

3. Requiring future teachers to spend six semester hours of practice teaching. It was suggested that this requirement could be set aside for persons with a college degree and three years actual teaching experience.

NOT EASY — Biggest problem in driving on the new long, straight, controlled-access highways is that it's too easy. Drivers get bored, inattentive, sleepy.

"Rhythmic hum of powerful engines mile after mile . . . soft rumble of tires can produce a decided hypnotic effect," says the State Health Department Bulletin.

It suggests these ways for a driver to keep awake and alert: (1) Watch for police cars. (2) Chew gum — a full pack at a time. (3) Sing loudly and talk to yourself out loud, or to a passenger. (4) Drive in your stocking feet. (5) Sit on something hard. (6) Keep moving your eyes. (7) Don't overeat before a trip. (8) Make periodic stops.

Finally, says the Bulletin, if you get sleepy, the only real cure is to pull off the road, stop, and go to sleep.

It cautions against artificial stimulants and driving after taking tranquilizers and antihistamines.

WHAT'S A BOMB? — Anyone who buys a jar of gasolint for his lawn mower could be accused of violating the state's anti-bomb law, a Dallas labor lawyer argued before the Court of Criminal Appeals.

His client was convicted of having assembled materials for a "Molotov cocktail" — a homemade bomb consisting of a jar of gasoline with a rag stuffed in the top for a wick.

In the case at issue, the bomb was exploded in the driveway of a non-striking employe during a Dallas labor dispute.

Dallas assistant district attorney disagreed with the charge that the law involved is unconstitutional. He said the statute makes it clear that possession of gasoline for use as a fuel is legal, but for use in bomb making it is illegal. He said the law had been upheld seven times by the Court of Criminal Appeals and twice by the U. S. Subreme Court.

TRAFFIC COURTS — More and more attention in Texas is being given to plans for setting up courts of record to try traffic cases only.

Lawyers and law enforcement officials have been concerned for years.

Public interest was suddenly sharpened this year when the State Board of Insurance adopted automobile insurance rates tied to the driver's traffic violation record. People who had been paying fines rather casually began to wonder what kind of shake they could get if they went to court over a ticket.

A State Barr Association committee has suggested a two-pronged plan — one for rural and one for metropolitan areas.

Under this plan, county seats with 50,000 or more population would set up a city traffic court of record. Less populous areas could set up a county-wide traffic court. City judges would be appointed, county judges elected.

In each case, the new courts would be restricted to traffic cases, and usual corporation and justice of the peace courts would continue to function.

University of Texas Law School Dean Page Keeton has suggested that county traffic courts be set up so that appeals could go directly from them to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

TEXAS AGRICULTURE

Mixed Bales Hit Farmer's Profit

By JOHN C. WHITE
Agriculture Commissioner

Well in advance of the beginning of another ginning season, it might be well for Texas cotton growers to consider and remember the results of a recent study on money losses resulting from mixed-quality cotton bales.

The study was made by the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and showed that in a single season cotton farmers lost an estimated $2,400,000 because of mixed quality bales.

The AMS found the situation basically to bt this: When cotton is sampled for grading, a small amount of lint is taken from each side of the bale, and both parts are classed. If the quality is different on the two sides, the farmer is paid on the basis of the lower quality — even though most of the bale may be higher.

Cotton shippers also lost money in payments to warehousemen for special handling of the mixed bales. Some warehouses reopened the bales, resampled, and rebaled them with the low quality lint removed. Usually, the benefits were not enough to defray the costs.

The AMS reported that most frequently it is the ginners who get the blame for mixed bales because they often combine cotton from two different growers, but the study showed actually that it is the farmer who is most often responsible. It was found that 61 per cent of the mixed-quality bales was brought to the gins as mixed seed cotton, with only 39 per cent being mixed by the gins.

The problem of mixed-quality cotton, of course, can never be entirely eliminated because it is impossible for farmers always to bring in loads with the same quality of cotton throughout. Weather causes certain differences, and cotton from two different fields may have to be combined to make up a load.

However, the AMS made two principal suggestions: First, farmers can be more careful to reduce mixing cotton of different qualities, and, second, ginners in starting a new bale should see to it that their presses are not turned before all of the cotton from one farmer's load has been baled.

During one recent season, it was estimated that nearly half a million bales of cotton were of mixed quality. About 70 per cent of these came from Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, where only 37 per cent of the year's production was ginned. All other states showed considerably less than the national average of mixed-quality bales, which amounted to only 3.4 per cent of total ginnings.

BIBLE COMMENT

Jesus Explained Church Authority

The statements of Matthew and Mark that Jesus taught "as one having authority, and not as the scribes" would be a strange one if it were not true.

There is irony in it, also. The scribes were supposed to be the authoritative teachers, whereas Jesus, as he appeared in Galilee and Judea, began His ministry as an individual, seeking no external authority, but relying only in the truth in His words and deeds, and the fact that He was doing the will of His father in heaven.

It is strange that this phase of the life, teaching and ministry of Jesus had little or no recognition in the religious world.

Religion almost everywhere has been based on authority. The external authority and discipline that is essentially similar to the authority in the Jewish time of Jesus, which He disregarded insofar as authority for His own mission was concerned.

The fact that Jesus acted without an such external authority brought quick challenge. Jesus was immediately asked by the chief priests and elders, "By what authority doest thou these things? And who gave thee this authority?"

That incident and the reply of Jesus ought to have warned the wise and sincere religious leaders against re-enacting it, but it has been re-enacted again and again.

Advantage with Local Merchant

By ROY V. FOX
Record Co-Publisher

Several years ago, a major furniture store in Buffalo instituted an advertising policy which deserves the attention of small city retailers anywhere.

The manager of the store, Kobler & Miller, became convinced that the advertising in his metropolitan area should utilize small community newspapers.

Of course a metropolitan area can be covered with radio, TV, and metropolitan publications. But Kobler & Miller, at additional expense and effort, turned to the small suburban weeklies.

Milton Stevenson, store manager at that time, explained the policy: "Residents look forward to their weekly chronicle for the chatty, personal type news that is usually found only in this type of newspaper.

"If a metropolitan store makes a consistent bid for furniture business through ads in suburban weeklies, it can pull customers who might otherwise buy in their communities."

This statement should be especially enlightening to merchants in small cities who often complain about loss of business to metropolitan cities. For here is a metropolitan merchant expressing his admiration for the advertising medium which is available to every local retailer.

It is an admission that the local merchant has an everlasting advantage if he uses it.

The local merchant has a location advantage; he has the advantage of community loyalty. If these advantages are not working for him, it is probably because he has failed to make use of his third advantage, local newspaper advertising.

STARTS SUNDAY AT PALACE

Outer Space Visit From Jerry Lewis

Fasten your seat belts, fans, we're about to be invaded from outer space by a creature masquerading as Jerry Lewis in the new Paramount-Hal Wallis production, "Visit To a Small Planet," showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Palace Theatre.

This spoof about a beatnik from the stratosphere whose hobby is the Earth and who decides to come take a look at it, is based on the Broadway Stage hit of the same name.

The screen gives the hilarious story, so successfully dramatized on the stage, more of an opportunity to garner laughs than did the show. It takes Jerry, as Kreton, from his own habitat — way out there — and brings him way down here where many mad things happen to him (and the poor people with whom he comes in contact), the full laugh potentials of which could only be realized through the magic of the motion picture camera.

Kreton arrives on Earth wearing a Confederate uniform, since he's gotten his dates mixed. However, the members of the unfortunate family he decides to 'visit' are themselves dressed to attend a masquerade party, so Kreton's strange appearance is taken for granted. But when they learn the 'facts' and when the impish visitor falls in love with the beautiful daughter — well, there are more laughs then even the most devoted Lewis fan can imagine.

Co-starred are Joan Blackman, Earl Holliman and Fred Clark, with John Williams, Gale Gordon and Barbara Lawson.

Beatnik of Outer Space

The beatest beatnik of the all is Jerry Lewis as a visitor from outer space in "Visit to a Small Planet", due Sunday at the Palace Theatre. Here he is shown with Barbara Lawson in one of the highspot scenes in the comedy—the nightclub dance sequence in a place called 'The Hungry Brain'.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I want to express my deep appreciation to the people of my home area for their wonderful encouragement and support in our campaign for Attorney General, and in particular those wonderful friends who worked so long and hard for victory.

Although we did not win as we all wanted to, we can be proud of many things, for example, we received over one-half million votes, state-wide; we received more votes in Harris County (Houston) than our two opponents combined; we lacked only fifty thousand votes getting into a run-off with the encumbent. Fifty thousand votes is not much when you consider that better-than-one million, two hundred fifty thousand votes were cast state-wide. Under the circumstances if we had made the run-off, we would have won.

This was our first state-wide race as compared to the encumbent's fifth. We started with no state-wide organization which is so essential to success in state-wide politics. We now have an effective, energetic organization made up of leading citizens throughout Texas. In the event we decide to run for a major state office two years from now we should be head and shoulders above any other candidate in an open race.

For these reasons, every West Texan should have confidence that we are now entering into an era where our part of the State will share in the major offices of Texas. We have no reason for regret or disappointment. The only thing we need to fear is a lack of confidence in ourselves.

Yours very truly,
Waggoner Carr

The old proverb "still water runs deep" meant that people who talked very little, like Calvin Coolidge, were supposed to be thinking profound thoughts about important things. There is probably more truth here if the proverb is reversed "deep water runs still," for most great people are not noisy about their greatness. Nowhere is this principle truer than when applied to God. He does not force Himself upon us; He will not dazzle our eyes and force us to respect; He has left man free even to reject his Creator. The Bible says that this is exactly what man, every person, has done. We have all repeated the tragedy of Adam and the meaning has drained out of life.

Our rejection, however, does not end God's love. He continues to send His rain on the just and unjust. But far more than this He sends an only son that through Him we may become reconciled to God, for here we can see the magnificent depth of God's steadfast love. His love continues to flow deep and still like this stream, ever there for whoever will turn to Him in trust.

A French proverb (author unknown)
"THE PRESENCE OF A DOCTOR IS THE FIRST PART OF A CURE"

When using home remedies or patent medicines it is important to understand their benefits and limitations. Taken at the first sign of a headache, stomach-distress, muscular pain, etc., relief sometimes comes quickly from an uncomplicated condition.

But, if any of the symptoms return, then self-treatments though giving temporary relief, may be masking an accumulating problem that may eventually endanger your very life. To cure, a physician's diagnosis of the cause is essential. One should be consulted as soon as possible.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby or we will deliver it promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Salvation Army Trio To Abilene Meeting

A local delegation was in Abilene Tuesday for a regional conference of Salvation Army officers, advisory boards and service unit committees.

In the group were M. N. Caddell, Rev. Don Mecoy and Dee Tonn.

The conference was in Wooten Hotel with Dan Eddy of Dallas, Salvation Army service unit director, presiding.

Main purpose of the one-day conference was to discuss the service program of Salvation Army and study ways for improving this program and making it available to a larger number of needy persons.

The Salvation Army is a participating agency in Mitchell County United Fund and a portion of United Fund contributions are channeled into the Salvation Army service work here in Mitchell County.

Lt. Colonel Ernest Pickering, Texas Divisional Commander of Salvation Army, was one of the featured speakers, discussing the Army "All 'Round the World." Eddy opened the program with an address on "An Extended Arm-The Salvation Army," and Dan Elliott Johnston, Austin, service unit field supervisor, discussed "Gifts That Save."

A luncheon meeting was one of the highlights of the day's program, featuring an inspirational address by Rev. Maple Avery, pastor of University Baptist, Abilene on "It's Our Privilege."

Live Worthwhile Life, Mahon Urges Students

By MRS. ALTIS CLEMMER
Record Correspondent

WESTBROOK—Make your live worthwhile in service and character, District Attorney Eldon Mahon advised here Saturday night.

The Colorado City public official was principal speaker for Westbrook High's annual junior-senior banquet.

He urged the students to begin preparing themselves now mentally, physically and morally for the life ahead.

"Don't wait for a lucky chance or some mysterious sign," Mahon said.

The speaker emphasized that opportunities were broad, even with new frontiers in careers of service, in the "fabulous sixties."

But to make the best of those opportunities and help straighten a troubled world, the citizens of tomorrow must know how to deal honestly with themselves and their fellow man, Mahon stated.

Miss Barbara Chambers, toastmistress, introduced the speaker.

Invocation was by Rev. Kenneth Andress, pastor of the Westbrook Baptist Church.

Special musical numbers were presented by students of Wallace High School of Colorado City, under direction of Ellis Womsley Jr.

Others participating on the program were Linda Mc Mahan, president of the Senior Class; Joyce Blakeney, Travis Livingston, and Ruth Rich.

Benediction was by Rev. Max Browning, pastor of the Methodist Church of Westbrook.

Class sponsor for the Junior Class, hosts for the banquet, was coach Jerry Cunningham. Theme was "Moonlight and Roses" and the tables were decorated with red and pink roses in candlelight.

Dinner for the annual affair was prepared by the Parent-Teacher Association and served by sophomore and freshmen girls.

Guests of honor at the banquet were Rev. and Mrs. Andress, Rev. and Mrs. Browning, District Attorney and Mrs. Mahon, Womsley and the Wallace High entertainers, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Lightfoot of Sweetwater, and faculty members of Westbrook School.
