Peking Now Center Of Red Turmoil

By EUGENE LEVIN

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese correspondent reported from Peking today that Red Chinese workers, including both supporters and opponents of Mao Tse-tung, are pouring into the capital, raising the possibility of violence there.

A correspondent for the newspaper Yomiuri telephoned his paper that more than one million workers had already arrived in Peking and more are coming in daily.

"The situation in Peking is fluid and the center of the storm appears to have shifted from the militant Red Guards to these workers," he said.

"It is certain that the situation in Peking required Mao's return. There is a possibility that the violence which hit Shanghai and other cities will spread to Peking and other cities throughout mainland China."

Japanese newsmen reported that wall posters in Peking said Mao has returned to Peking to take personal command in his struggle against the faction headed by President Liu Shao-chi.

The Peking correspondent for the Kyodo news agency said one poster announced that the central committee of the Chinese Communist party had decided to strengthen the powers of the security police. This report said new measures included arrest for anyone hindering Mae's continuing purge or hampering production and the arrest of anyone ridiculing Mao or Defense Minister Lin Piao, Mao's heir apparent and chief associate in the purge.

A correspondent for the newspaper Asahi said he saw angry workers demonstrating in front of the security ministry and calling for the ouster of Security Minister Hsieh Fu-chih.

U. S. Support Troops Arrive In Mekong Delta

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — A detachment of American support troops — engineers, signal and security forces — has set up shop in the Mekong River delta in a movement expected to commit at least a 15,000-man U.S. infantry division to the war in that waterlogged rice bowl.

The U.S. Command announced today the detachment moved to an area on the My Tho River at Dong Tan — about five miles southwest of the town of My Tho and 40 miles southwest of Saigon — and "is continuing preparation of the base site."

The long-heralded shift of Americans to the thickly populated delta, which could contribute to making 1967 the bloodiest year of the Vietnam war, developed as shells from supporting artillery killed eight American soldiers and wounded 34 in a company of the 1st Infantry Division in the Iron Triangle north of Saigon.

"Preliminary investigation indicates error in plotting the firing data," a spokesman said.

A report from the field, where about 30,000 American and South Vietnamese troops are pressing the biggest offensive of the war, said 16 of the 155mm shells fell among the company.

Though the announcement concerning the delta covered only the support troops, it was obvious they were paving the way for long-range operations by American ground combat forces. Government battalions and the Viet Cong have waged desultory war to a stalemate in its mud, muck and water.

A short-range operation by 4,000 U.S. Marines and Vietnamese was in its eighth day on the coastal Thanh Phu peninsula, 55 miles south of Saigon and 40 miles from My Tho. A detachment of 12 to 20 U.S. Leathernecks reported moderate casualties in a clash with a Viet Cong force of undetermined size in the first solid engagement of this campaign. Enemy casualties were not known.

U.S. commanders have said the delta, laced by 25,000 miles of navigable waterways and countless miles of swamps and paddy fields, must be wrested from Viet Cong control if the war is to be won by the allied side. More than a third of South Vietnam's 15 million people live in the delta and it is estimated 100,000 guerrillas are based among them.

Fear that the massive firepower of modern American weapons might claim heavy toll among civilians was one factor delaying the decision that the government forces must have help.

The American presence in the delta has been slight, limited to advisers to Vietnamese units, river patrol boat crews and some helicopter units.

Occupational Survey Is Discussed

Requirements for establishing a vocational school were discussed here last night at a meeting held at Snyder High School.

Attending the session were Ray Barber of the Texas Education Agency, and Tom Sealey of Midland, member of the State Board of Education.

Specifically discussed at the session was an occupational survey which is now underway here and which is one of the prerequisites of such a school.

Dr. Robert Clinton, Superintendent of Snyder Schools, said that since the community had done all it could so far in an effort to provide higher education here, he believed that perhaps a vocational school for the area would now be a logical step.

Barber said that 84 vocational schools had been put into operation in the state since the Act of 1963 made them possible. He said aims are to provide students with a school to meet vocational needs and to offer quality vocational education in areas which need it most.

Division chairmen for the occupational survey here were named. They include Billy Bob McMullan, agriculture; Forrest Beavers, distributive division; Eula Williams, health division; Helen Martin and Vera Periman, homemaking division; Mrs. Betty Price, office division. Skilled, oil and technical divisions will be handled under the direction of Karl Mawhorter, the city's director of community development.

Dr. Clinton urged all local and area businessmen to cooperate with persons who work in the occupational survey. The results of the survey could well determine whether Snyder will be the site of an area vocational school, it was explained.

It Really Is Friday 13th

FORT WORTH (AP) — Bad luck has big ears.

Larry Huff, Mrs. Joanna Neal and John Peerman were sitting in a dispatch office of a van line, talking.

Hey, somebody said, today's Friday the 13th...

Crash! The ceiling fell.

"I was sitting here watching it fall and I didn't believe it," Huff said.

Peerman said he was parking his truck for the day.

Manager For C-C Named

H. E. Merrifield, 52, of Waco has been named manager of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

Directors of the Chamber voted this morning to hire Merrifield, following a recommendation by the board's committee which had been named several weeks ago to screen applications.

Merrifield, who has been working for a private concern at Waco in recent months, has 17 years of experience as a Chamber of Commerce manager, serving in that capacity at Gladewater, Belton and Pharr.

An organist and active lay worker in the Methodist Church, Merrifield also has experience in the field of entertainment, having once been a member of the Lawrence Welk band.

Chamber President Bentley Baize, said that Merrifield was contacted by telephone last night and that he would accept the post here.

John Boren and Les Francis gave Chamber directors the report from the board's screening committee this morning and recommended that Merrifield be named to the post.

Baize said Merrifield had indicated that he could come to Snyder next week and that he will be on hand for the annual banquet scheduled for the night of Jan. 20.

Tickets to the banquet, priced at $3 each, are now being sold.

State Will Appeal Ruling

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin says he plans to appeal a district judge's decision striking down the constitutional amendment requiring annual voter registration in place of the poll tax.

Dist. Judge Herman Jones ruled Thursday the amendment was misrepresented on the ballot.

"Certainly we are going to appeal," Martin said after learning of Jones' ruling.

If the Texas Supreme Court upholds the decision, the legislature will be free to repeal the annual Registration Law enacted by the 1966 special session and enact some other form of voter registration.

The suit challenging the amendment, approved by a 642,136 vote Nov. 8, was filed by Roy R. Evans, secretary-treasurer of the State AFL-CIO, and Allen C. Matthews, president of the Austin Labor Council.

Jones earlier refused an AFL-CIO request to keep the amendment off the ballot on grounds he lacked authority to do so.

The amendment was submitted to the voters as a choice for or against repealing the poll tax as a voting requirement. The U.S. Supreme Court, about a year after the legislature submitted the amendment, ruled the poll tax requirement unconstitutional.

No mention of the annual registration provision was made on the ballot.

"Frankly, the court has tried to find a way to avoid invalidating the result of an election, but it is my judgment that under the (legal) authorities it is the court's manifest duty to do so," Jones wrote.

"Since the voters, by the ballot form, were told only that something in the Constitution was being repealed, with no suggestion that anything was being frozen into the Constitution, it is my judgment that the ballot form fails to meet the requirements of law.

Russians Attack Mao's Reputation

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

MOSCOW (AP) — In the back rooms of the massive gray Soviet Communist party headquarters, a plot has developed to try to ruin Mao Tse-tung's reputation.

The outlines are gradually becoming visible as the Soviet press whittles away at various claims to greatness made on behalf of the Chinese leader.

Informed sources report that the sharpest attack is yet to come. A Soviet contention that Mao stole Soviet ideas on guerrilla warfare to establish his reputation as one of history's great military theorists.

Other parts of the plot range from assertions that Mao's regime is soft on capitalists — to a Communist, the blackest sin — to scoffing at his much-vaunted poetry.

The plot is just one part of the current Kremlin attack on "Mao Tse-tung and his group," who are accused of following an increasingly dangerous anti-Soviet policy.

There has never been any love lost around the Kremlin for Mao, who rose to prominence in the late 1920s by ousting Moscow influences from the Chinese Communist party. He repeatedly defied Soviet thinking on the proper course toward victory in China. Success proved him right.

Things got nasty in 1947 when Liu Shao-chi, then Mao's loyal deputy but now his opponent in the Peking power struggle, made a bold claim for the leader.

"Mao Tse-tung's great accomplishment has been to change Marxism from a European to an Asiatic form," Liu said.

Lenin's Soviet heirs have never been willing to admit that anyone but themselves has the right to interpret Marx. Rival claims are met with the fervid anger of religious fanaticism.

So Liu's claim, and later elaborations that sought to insert Mao between Marx and Lenin in the Communist pantheon, opened a theoretical rift to match the dispute over practical matters.

Tiny Togo Tells Military Takeover

COTONOU, Dahomey (AP) — The tiny coffee-growing land of Togo had its second coup in four years today with the army reporting seizure of all eivil powers.

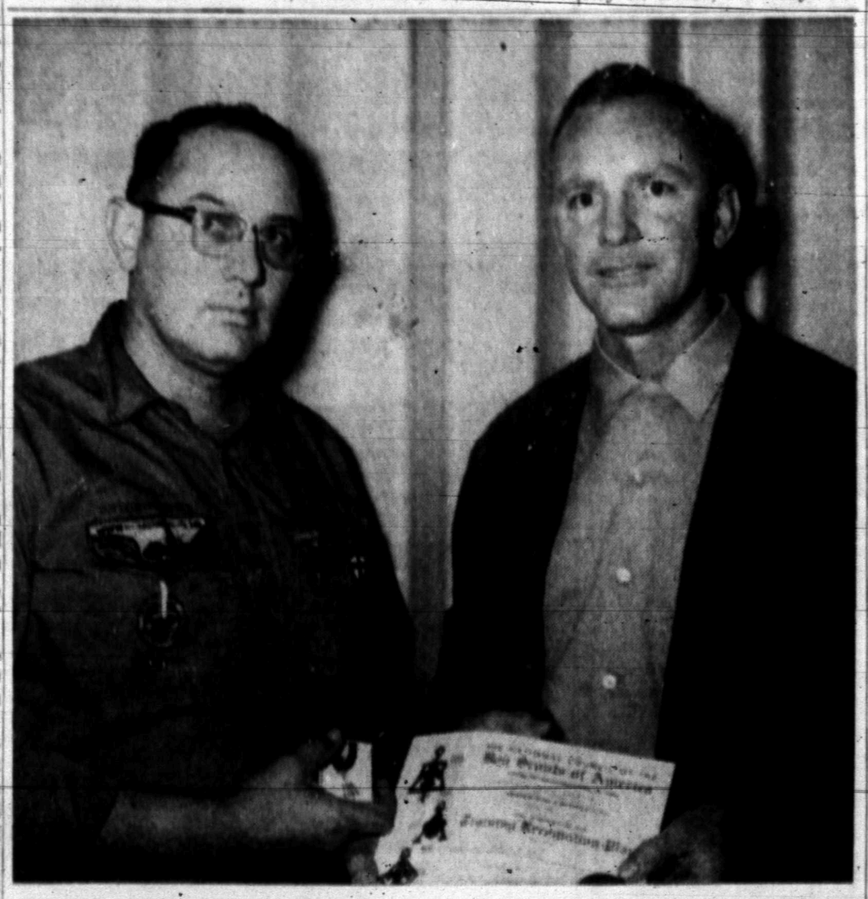

The takeover was announced in a broadcast from Lome, the Togolese capital, by the army chief of staff, Lt. Col. Etienne Guassingre Eyadema. He warned the public to refrain from any political demonstrations and ordered all public offices closed for the day.

Informed sources in neighboring Dahomey said President Nicolas Grunitsky resigned during the night. There were no reports of violence but a blackout of the radio-telephone circuit to Paris prevented any check on the situation.

Eyadema reportedly has been carrying on a running dispute with Grunitsky about the budget for his 1,200-man army. The army chief played a key role in the January 1963 coup when one of his soldiers assassinated Sylvanus Olympio, Togo's first president and a brother-in-law of Grunitsky.

Togo experienced a brief upheaval two months ago, but Eyadema that time sided with Grunitsky and it was put down with no deaths or serious injuries. A band led by dissident politicians rushed the government radio station and took it over. They held out for several hours until Eyadema decided to back Grunitsky.

Eyadema was apparently using the radio network as his immediate tool. He said the constitution was suspended, the National Assembly dissolved, and all political activity forbidden.

Thant Says China Blocking Reply

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant reportedly believes that fear of pressure from Red China has prevented North Vietnam from responding, even privately, to the U.S. offer to stop the bombing.

Informed sources said Thant feels that if Hanoi did make any move toward peace premised on a cessation of the U.S. air war against North Vietnam, Peking would find out and get the North Vietnamese to retract the offer.

Thant makes that contention, the sources said, in discussing U.S Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg's request Dec. 19 that Thant — seek "an assurance, private or otherwise, that there would be a reciprocal response toward peace from North Vietnam" if the bombing stopped.

The informants said their impression is that Thant is not in direct touch with Hanoi but arrived at this conclusion after talking to diplomats of other Communist countries.

This report appears to contradict Thant's contention at a news conference Tuesday that North Vietnamese leaders are independent of Communist China. It also suggests that Thant had no hard facts to back up his statement then that he felt hopeful that an unconditional halt in the bombing would produce "a definite move toward negotiations." He said to tell about his private contacts could "spoil the whole thing."

Representatives at the United Nations of seven Asian governments friendly to the United States had an appointment with Thant today to ask him for an explanation of his remarks at the news conference about the situation in Southeast Asia. They included diplomats from Nationalist China, Japan, the Philippines, South Korea, Laos, Malaysia and Thailand.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This may sound dumb coming from a 24-year-old man, but I have to have the answers, so here goes. What is the correct procedure for getting engaged? Does the man ask the girl first and then ask her father? What if the girl says yes and her father says no? And if he asks the father first, what if the father says yes and the GIRL says no?

Now, let's say the girl says yes and her father says yes. Does the man pick out the ring and give it to the girl? Or should he have the ring in his pocket when he asks the girl? What if he has the ring in his pocket and the girl says no?

"IN LOVE"

DEAR "In": Ask the girl first, and if she says no, don't bother her father. If she says yes, ask her father. If he says yes, ask the girl to help you pick out the ring. Makes sense, no?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: The other day a friend of mine (I will call her Josephine) told me how cool she thought my brother was and that she would give anything to go out with him.

Well, I told my brother about Josephine and what she said and he didn't think the same about her. In fact he thought she was a creep. I even offered him money to take her out just once, but he wouldn't do it. I know Josephine is going to ask me about my brother again. What shall I tell her?

ON THE SPOT

DEAR ON: If Jospehine inquires about your "cool" brother again, tell her that he freezes at the suggestion of dating a friend of yours, and unless she can attract him on her own, it's not tonight, Josephine — or any other night.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I read your column and usually concur with your advice, but I believe you could have done more for "OUT OF IDEAS" whose wife was hooked on cigarets, tried everything and couldn't quit. There are thousands of people who are "hooked" and try as they may, seem unable to quit smoking. There is a solution, however, and it is more than just a doctor.

Seven-day Adventists the world over have been helping hundreds of thousands of people break the tobacco habit. They have devised a five-day stop smoking clinic which provides the free counseling services of a medical physician for the physical side of the problem, plus the pastoral counseling on willpower from a minister.

In five short days people who never thought they could stop smoking have done so and are on the road to better health. Tell "OUT OF IDEAS" to telephone his nearest Seventh-day Adventist minister and find out when the next free five-day stop-smoking clinic will be put on in his area.

SINCERELY,

J. J. G., LINCOLN, NEBR.

Chet Brooks To Reintroduce Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—A state senator says he intends to introduce a bill in the legislature to guarantee that most meetings of public officials would be open to newsmen.

Sen. Chet Brooks of Houston made the announcement at a meeting of the Austin Industrial Editors.

Brooks, while a House member, made unsuccessful efforts to pass similar bills in 1963 and 1965.

Under Brooks' proposal, any citizen would be able to attend all meetings of tax-supported commissions, government agencies and committees, with the exceptions of certain courts, closed sessions of the legislature, and some hearings when the individual involved asks for a closed session.

Says Powell Rift Won't Hurt Demos

UNIVERSITY PARK, PA. (AP) — A Texas congressman said Thursday he sees little chance of the Adam Clayton Powell controversy hurting the Democratic Party in the 1968 presidential election.

Rep. Jack. B. Brooks, D-Tex., in discussing threats by followers of the deposed New York congressman to bolt the Democratic Party and form a third party, told a news conference:

"I think it is highly unlikely and unrealistic. The rank and file of the Negro Americans are not only good Americans but good Democrats as well, and I don't think they would let anything like that happen."

Brooks was at Pennsylvania State University to deliver two lectures to students and faculty of the department of political science.

Texan Urges Cottonmen To Organize

Wayne Underwood, vice president of Lockett Seed Co., of Vernon, spoke Thursday to industry members attending the Belt-wide Cotton Production-Mechaniztion Conference here.

"The price per pound of cotton can be increased by growing, harvesting and ginning high quality cotton, then marketing it in uniform quality lots," Underwood said.

He said organization at the community, county or multi-county level can improve output and the price received for cotton.

Another speaker, Dr. Charles S. Miller, associate professor in the Department of Plant Sciences at Texas A&M University, said Oklahoma researchers are studying the use of heated air to defoliate or dessicate cotton.

Miller said work being done at Stillwater could mean defoliation processes becoming independent of weather or the condition of the cotton crop.

Lambert H. Wilkes, another A&M professor, said more uniformity in operations and precision depth planting can yield more cotton per acre.

Ralph E. Motsinger of Louisiana State University said chemicals should be used cautiously on cotton crops.

"When weak seed are planted and-or the cotton is subjected to severe stress, then the chemicals become one more factor to damage the stand," Motsinger, a plant pathologist, told the delegates.

Definition Department

Marinate means to let food stand for a certain length of time in a mixture which has some acid in it.

Marinade, on the other hand, is the mixture in which the food stands. It is usually a seasoned acid-oil mixture and may be an Italian or French or oil-vinegar dressing which is used; or, it may be made from a special recipe.

What do marinades do to foods which are marinated? They have some tenderizing effect as well as providing seasoning imparted by spices, herbs and vegetables.

What does it mean to cut in julienne-style? This usually refers to meat which is cut in long match-like strips, as for a salad or another dish.

Dredge is a term frequently used in cooking. It means "to coat with flour." Actually, this is most often seasoned flour, that is, flour to which salt and pepper have been added.

Probing The Psyche For Color

Have you taken any psychological color tests lately? If you didn't in 1966, you probably will in 1967.

Color - consciousness on the part of consumer product manufacturers is prompting a whole new analysis of what buyers want and why, the trade association says. Practically every national magazine has run or will run ads that offer quizzes to readers to determine their "color personalities."

The color explosion has been building up for several years. In 1966, for instance, the demand for color television almost outstripped production. Appliance manufacturers brought out polka-dotted and striped refrigerators, domestic ceramic tile makers introduced hundred of new designs, and a service industry, the airlines, got into the act by painting their airborne vehicles in vibrant hues.

There was a time when ceramic tile was offered only in neutral shades that would fit any decor. That's changed. Many consumers still want subdued colors, but a growing number are demanding brilliantly colored tiles that can be used as decorating tools. These, like much of the U. S. — made tiles, are available.

That 1967 will be another, and even bigger, year of color is inevitable. Probing the consumer's psyche for color preferences may not become a national pastime, but it will be a much-used device to both arouse and analyze demand.

Highlight On Ledges

Lucky enough to have window ledges? Do something unusual with them to show them off to their best advantage. A few rows of colorful ceramic tiles, which are resistant to just about every type of damage, will turn plain ledges into attractive elements of your color scheme.

Have you used cottage cheese only in fruit salads? You must try it with vegetables. Make a cottage cheese garden bowl by adding it to your next tossed salad. Toss your salad, add your favorite dressing and top each bowl of salad with scoops of creamy cottage cheese.

GRAND OPENING

Sunday, January 15th. 1:00 p. m. To 6 p. m.

The Owners and Personnel of Hillcrest Lodge Want to Offer Each of You A Cordial Invitation to Visit Them During Their Grand Opening and Open House.

The purpose of the Hillcrest Lodge is to furnish aging and chronically ill senior citizens a safe and healthful place in which to live with a homelike atmosphere and quiet surroundings.

Male and female adult patients, including married couples, are admissable to the home without age restrictions. Both ambulatory and bedfast, or infirm, are acceptable, along with senile and mentally confused, if they are manageable. Those who are considered not acceptable for admission to the home are patients who are unmanageable, detrimental to themselves or to others, severe personality and behavior disorders, those with communicable contagious, or infectious disease, or with illness of such nature that the facilities of the home would not be considered adequate to give proper care.

The patient can choose his own doctor and druggist. Registered and licensed vocational nurses will be on 24 hour call and three will be on duty in eight hour shifts.

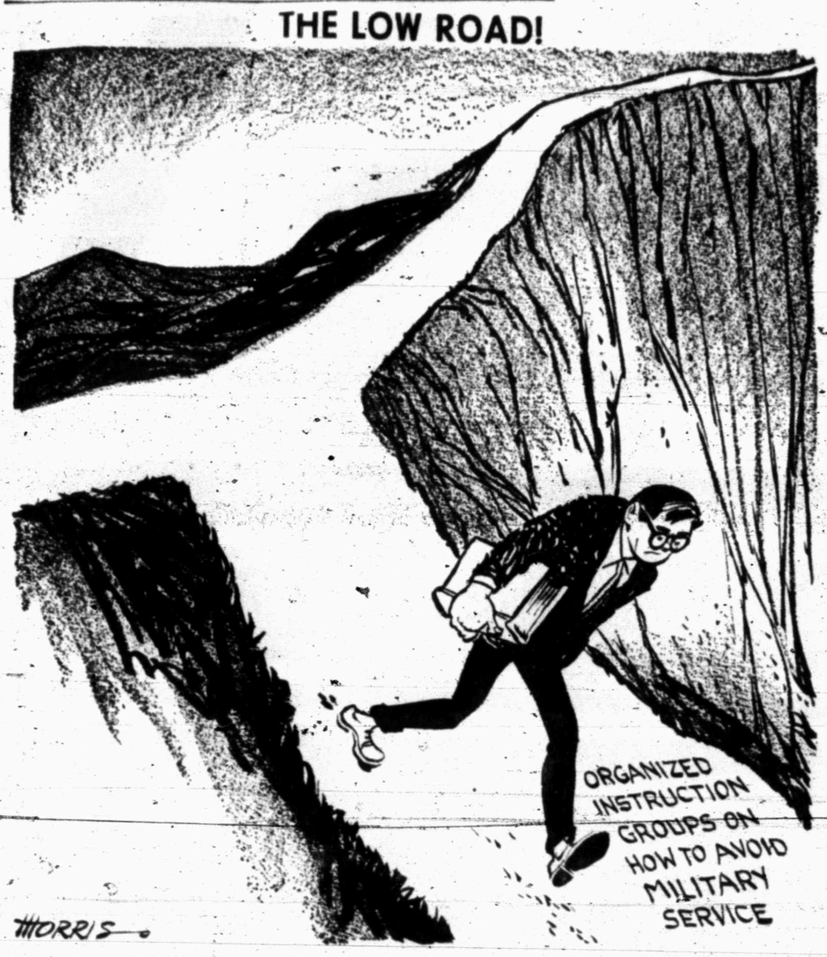

The Home personnel devote as much time as possible with each patient, trying to learn their likes and dislikes in order to keep them active and happy. We encourage churches to get their organizations to devote as much of their time as possible with our aged as special projects of the churches.

Strength Of The Giants Now Proves Embarrassing

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is that peculiar time in history when the giants are embarrassed by their own strength.

The shining example of this is North Vietnam, which is only slightly larger than New York State and whose population of about 16.2 million is slightly less than New York's.

Little North Vietnam has the huge United States over a barrel in more ways than one, even though this country is almost 51 times larger and has a population of around 200 million.

The two nuclear giants, the United States and the Soviet Union, are so strong they could eliminate each other. The last thing they want is war with each other. As a result, they walk on tippy-toes when they deal with each other.

North Vietnam, the exact opposite, is primitive compared with American might. Yet this country, in war with North Vietnam, isn't daring to use its full strength or even half of it.

If this country tried to end the war faster by bombing everything in sight in North Vietnam, and invading it, Red China might feel compelled to enter the war on the side of its Asian neighbor — just as it did in North Korea.

Much of world opinion is critical of the United States now for being in the war at all. It would be worse if the United States tried full bombing and invasion.

And, although the United States could wipe North Vietnam off the map if it wanted to use nuclear bombs, the world would be horrified. And Russia might feel compelled to help its fellow-Communists in North Vietnam by retaliating against the United States with nuclear bombs.

So, the United States feels restricted to fighting an almost old-fashioned war and, to make the story even more gruesome, this country doesn't know how long this war will last, as President Johnson has acknowledged.

Already more than 6,000 Americans have died in the war and this country's armed forces have about 500,000 men in the area. Since there is no end in sight, the final casualty figures can't even be guessed.

But the American troubles, a product of this war, continued to muliply at home and elsewhere.

This country, enjoying the longest period of prosperity in its history, could devote more of its money and resources to needed programs at home, if there was no war. And the expense of the war is climbing.

Johnson is paying a bitter penalty — in the form of criticism which hurts him in a number of ways — for doing what he thinks is right in continuing the war until North Vietnam says it has had enough.

By this time, it seems certain, Johnson would have made trips abroad to help American foreign policy. For instance, it might have been worth while for the Western allies if Johnson could have visited France to talk with President Charles de Gaulle, the high-handed Frenchman who has upset the allies by his disregard for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

And then there's the Soviet Union, with whom the United States would like closer relations. There has been some progress in that direction but Moscow, still leader of the Communist world, can't afford to get too cozy with a nation making war on North Vietnamese Communists.

When the war ends the best the United States can hope for is that South Vietnam, once freed from direct attack by the Communists, can somehow manage to survive on its own.

A Junior Editors Quiz About PRAYING MANTIS

QUESTION: Is the praying mantis just an ugly bug, or does it have some value?

• • •

ANSWER: First, the praying mantis, or mantid, isn't a bug. This word refers to one special kind of insect (example: the water bug). The mantid belongs in another insect group, the Mantidae. Mantids, of course, are not praying when they hold up their front legs in the queer position Joe is imitating. The mantid uses this position to hold the insects he eats for food close to his jaws. He is an extremely hungry creature. It is this that makes him of value to mankind, for mantids consume great quantities of insects which are harmful to us. So useful is the mantid that the European species of this insect has been introduced into the United States, since it specially likes to dine on certain insects which we don't want. Mantids are also interesting for the way they can swivel their heads around, unusual for an insect. The other insect in our picture, which might be confused with a mantid, is a walking-stick. This creature has a thinner body and the three pairs of legs all look alike. The walkingstick eats leaves, rather than insects.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Study insects a bit. You'll find a lot of interest in what you thought were just "ugly bugs." 1-13

Rewards Of One's 56th Birthday

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A glance at the calendar reminds me that next month I'll be 56 years old.

What other blows can mankind take and still endure?

Reaching that age may be a hollow victory, but it is still a victory. A majority of the human beings who have teemed the earth never lived to be 56.

Once you go beyond 55 you are getting into winter territory. You have an instinctive realization that there's frost ahead. It hits you somewhere inside like the blow of a mammoth hammer.

You have to face up to the fact that in many ways you are definitely over the hill. This has a glad as well as a sad side.

It is pleasant to know that you are still young enough to run for the presidency, if your country should call you, but too old to have to run for a post in the local P-TA.

There are other erosions and compensations at 56.

You no longer have to read the morale messages the boss pins up on the company bulletin board.

The doctor has a pretty definite idea what's wrong with you, and you know pretty well what's wrong with him. You enjoy exchanging symptoms.

If you donate a pint to the office blood bank, everybody tells you that you are a hero — something you've known for a long time.

On your actual birthday you get 27 get well cards and three careful pecks on the cheek by three homely secretaries.

You figure it is rather foolish to get short-winded bending over tying your shoelaces when they now sell shoes that don't need shoelaces.

Every time you wear a bow tie you feel devilish.

You decide it is easier to leave your bifocal glasses on all day than to waste your strength whipping them on and off.

It occurs to you now and then that William McKinley and Calvin Coolidge have never been really fully appreciated.

You abandon any idea of growing a beard because you know it would come out all white.

When you see a fellow go up the stairs two at a time you realize the world will never run out of fools.

It is a matter of quiet pride that you are married to a woman who doesn't wear a miniskirt.

It worries you terribly if one of your enemies falls ill. What a gap there'd be if there weren't any old enemies left to keep your spleen healthy.

You secretly agree with most of the things your wife says, but you'd rather die than admit it to her.

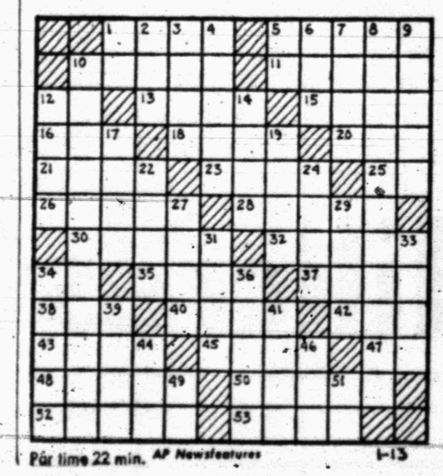

At 56 you lose any fear you ever had of second childhood. In your heart of hearts you realize you are still in your first childhood, that nobody ever really grows up inside, and that life is always a kindergarten — but a worthwhile one.

CAHILL IS NOW COACH OF THE YEAR

By JACK DONOVAN

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)— At the age 47 when the world has passed many men by, Tom Cahill of Army unexpectedly found himself on top of that world today.

Cahill, quiet and with few extrovert qualities, was picked by his colleagues in the American Football Coaches Association as University Coach of the Year Thursday night.

He achieved the honor after being a head coach less than a year and at a time in life when few assistant coaches feel that such a coaching opportunity will never come their way.

In a notable contrast, the coaches named Dan Jessee, 65, who retired after 35 years at Trinity, Hartford, Conn., as college coach of 1966.

To complete a sweep of honors for Eastern coaches, Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse was elected president of the association Thursday.

Cahill was little known outside his area when shortly before the start of spring practice last year Coach Paul Dietzel decided the University of South Carolina was more attractive than the U. S. Military Academy.

Three days before spring practice ended Col. Ray Murphy, director of athletics, told Cahill, "The job is yours, if you want it."

Cahill moved his family into the big house provided the head coach at West Point, but they did not immediately unpack everything.

"At 47, well, that's a little late to suddenly find yourself in a head coaching job," Cahill said. "I was fortunate in that I had been there seven years and had a good understanding of the operation.

"At one time or another I had coached every kid on the varsity. So I wasn't stepping into something sight unseen."

Cahill took a demoralized, losing team that had enjoyed few successes under Dietzel and produced eight victories in 10 games, including a 20-7 triumph over Navy.

It was after the third game—11-0 over Penn State for victory No. 3—that Cahill said he returned home and told his wife, "You can unpack the dishes now."

The defeats were to national champion Notre Dame and to Tennessee.

Cahill, 6-foot-2 and 200 pounds, has the bearing, the speech but not the aloofness of most military men.

A native of Fayetteville, N.Y., he was graduated from Niagara University and coached eight seasons at Manlius Preparatory School near Syracuse, N. Y., and at a high school in northern New Jersey before becoming Army plebe coach and baseball coach.

He said the awards to him were "a tribute to the players." he previously was named coach of the year by the football writers association.

Jessee, outgoing president of the coaches association, had three undefeated teams at Trinity—1949, 1954 and 1955.

Baltimore Sinks Hawks

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nobody seems to want to buy the St. Louis Hawks, which perhaps is just as well because Don Ohl seems to own them already.

Just as it was being learned Thursday that the New Orleans group that had offered $3.8 million for the Hawks had lowered its bid, Baltimore, led by Ohl's 41 points, broke a 13-game National Basketball Association losing streak with a 137-116 triumph.

A spokesman for the Hawks said the new bid by the New Orleans group was not satisfactory and that owner Ben Kerner, who wants to sell because of illness, was hoping for other offers.

Ohl broke open what had been a tight game with 18 last-quarter points. The game was tied at 105 with 8:47 left before a free throw by Gus Johnson, returning to action after missing eight games because of a knee injury, put the Bullets ahead for good.

In the only other game Thursday night, the Warriors rallied in the final period and overhauled New York 127-123 at San Francisco.

Rick Barry paced the Warriors with 41 points, including San Francisco's last eight points, six on free throws. Teammate Nate Thurmond contributed 30 points and 30 rebounds as the Western Division leaders stretched their first-place margin to 8½ games.

Clay Seeks New Hearing

NEW YORK (AP) — Cassius Clay's attorney sent telegrams to high Selective Service officials today asking them to direct a local Kentucky draft board to reopen the heavyweight boxing champion's appeal for exemption on grounds he is a Black Muslim minister.

Local Board No. 47 of Louisville voted Thursday not to reopen Clay's appeal on the ministerial plea.

Attorney Hayden Covington said he sent the telegrams to Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director of the Selective Service, in Washington, and to Col. Everett S. Stephenson, Kentucky state director, in Frankfort.

Covington said he felt certain that either Hershey or Stephenson would order the local board to reopen the case "because they know I can go into court and demand that it be reopened." He claimed that ministers are exempt from the draft by the Selective Service law.

He said that Clay, who embraced the Black Muslim faith three years ago under the name Muhammad Ali, devotes about 90 per cent of his time to lecturing and seeking converts to the faith.

Buff Junior Teams Split

LORAINE — The Junior Buffaloes divided a pair of basketball games with Loraine Thursday night with the boys winning, 37-33, and the girls losing, 26-18.

Larry Patterson and Junior Bilano each tossed in 10 points for Fluvanna, and Louis Contreras netted 8. For Loraine, Jimmy Adkins was high point man with 19 points.

Fluvanna led all the way, although Loraine cut an 11-point deficit to only 4 points in the final two minutes as the Buffs allowed the subs to take over.

Loraine's girls led in every period as Rita Trout sparked the attack with 17 points. Gwen Stansell and Pam Shoemaker pitched in 10 and 7 points respectively for Fluvanna.

Next Thursday, Fluvanna will host Ira in two junior games.

Crash Kills Highlands Coach

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Jack Dean Scofield, 29, head football coach of Highlands University at Las Vegas, N.M., was fatally injured here Thursday night in a car-truck collision.

John Levra, 29, an assistant coach at Highlands University, was reported in fair condition.

Two other occupants of the car—Adelle Hroch, 24, and Virginia Meurer, 24, both of Corpus Christi—were in critical condition.

Scofield and Levra had been attending the convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in Houston. Scofield planned to speak at a high school football dinner tonight at Mercedes.

CLAY PONDER A QUESTION — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay ponders a question during a news conference after his arrival in Houston, Tex. He learned minutes before he is now 1-A in the military draft after he lost his bid to be classified as a conscientious objector. During the conference he side-stepped questions pertaining to his draft status. Clay is scheduled to meet Ernie Terrell on Feb. 6 to clear up the heavyweight title difference. Many Texas Deer Face Starvation

AUSTIN (AP) — State wildlife officials say a reopening of the season will not substantially reduce Texas' deer population which has swelled to an estimated 3.2 million.

Officials said Thursday an estimated 270,000 bucks and does were killed during a 50-day season which closed Dec. 31. This was 50,000 more killed than in 1965, officials said, but not enough to prevent starvation of some deer this winter.

E. A. Walker, director of wildlife services for the Parks and Wildlife Department, said Texas deer harvests have failed to keep the deer population in check and it has increased since a severe drought broke in 1957.

The primary reason for failure of controlling the herd is that antlerless deer permits are not being fully used, he said.

Walker said the Parks and Wildlife Department predicted a dieoff since the summer of 1964. In the Edwards Plateau and counties southeast of Austin that prediction is coming true, he said.

Walker told a group of outdoor writers that only 33.7 per cent of the antlerless permits have been used since 1959.

He suggested the best way to reduce the deer population is a long-range program based on increased usage of antlerless permits and hunter-landowner cooperation.

The director said his reasons for refusing to recommend an extended deer season included the season would not greatly reduce the number of deer and only the best deer—the ones with the best chance of surviving the winter — would be harvested

Ira Divides With Hobbs

IRA — The Ira Junior High School basketball teams split a doubleheader with Hobbs here Thursday night. Ira's girls won, 23-22, but the boys lost, 19-31.

Scoring for the Ira girls: Neva Payne 10, Annette Erwin 7, and Janie Roddy 6. Reta Martinez paced the Hobbs girls with 14 points.

Jackie Martinez, with 10 points, led Hobbs to victory in the boys game. Scoring for Ira: Ricky Cox 9, O. B. Crawford 6, and William Rasco 4.

Ira's next Junior High game will be at Fluvanna next Thursday night.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Calvin Murphy, Niagara's star freshman 5-foot-11 basketball player, scored 52 points in leading the Baby Eagles to a 120-95 victory over the Canisius frosh Thursday night.

Sweetwater Falls Twice To Travis

Travis Junior High School swept a pair of basketball games with Sweetwater here Thursday. The 8th graders won, 27-12, and the 9th graders emerged triumphant, 57-36.

Coach Bill Herrington's 8th graders employed a strong defense to turn back a big Sweetwater team with a 1-3-1 zone strategy. Harvey Pinkerton captured scoring honors with 10 points. Other Blue Devils who scored: Norman Davis 6, Stewart Sims 5, Robert Pharris 2, Jesse Speers 2, Gary Harless 1, and Eric Clay 1.

Brown was high point man for the Ponies with 4 points.

Coach Larry Roberts' 9th grade punctured Sweetwater's 1-3-1 zone with some good shooting. The tilt never was close as the subs saw action in the first half, in the third quarter, and then took over for the entire fourth quarter.

Wesley Bishop had a good night from the field, sinking 18 points. Other 9th graders who tallied: Ricky Glasscock 8, Jim Patrick 7, Ronald Ward 6, Merce Hernandez 5, Don Light 4, Dennis Carlton 2, Robert Durst 2, Ed Brandon 2, Mike Hodge 2, and Mark Gilstrap 1.

Thompson ripped the cords for 16 points and Teston hit for 10 for the visitors.

Next Monday, the Travis 8th and 9th will host Stamford in tilts slated to begin at 6 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. respectively.

Donny Gets Army Call

STINNETT, Tex. (AP)—Donny Anderson, former Texas Tech star and a prize rookie halfback of the Green Bay Packers in the National Football League, is Army bound.

Anderson's father, Jack Anderson of Stinnett, said Thursday his son will report for active duty with the U. S. Army Reserves immediately after the Superbowl game in Los Angeles Jan. 15.

The Packers meet the Kansas city Chiefs of the American Football League for the world pro grid championship in the Superbowl.

The elder Anderson said his son is due to report Jan. 16 at Ft. Campbell, Ky., for his four months of active duty training.

Time Changes All - - Even Golfers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A few weeks ago, Jerry Steelsmith of Santa Barbara, Calif., his money and faith almost depleted, was ready to quit the pro tour and take a job as an assistant teaching pro.

Not so many years ago, Dan Keefe, of Chatham, Mass., was making a good living as industrial advertising manager for a camera firm, with no thoughts of playing golf as a profession.

Today these two men—obscure in a world of glamor and riches—have their fingers toying with the $13,200 first prize in the $66,000 San Diego Open golf tournament, first on the $4.5 million tour.

Steelsmith is leading the pack with a seven-under par 64 over the Stardust Country Club course, thanks to a flashy putter, which gave him an eagle and six birdies in the opening round.

Next to him, one stroke back at 65, is 25-year-old Randy Glover, who never has won a tour tournament. Then comes Keefe, a teaching pro from New England, tied with former PGA champion Bobby Nichols and Gay Brewer at 66.

Hardened touring pros were still in the thick of the fight with 56 players under par. Forty-six year old Tommy Bolt and young Lee Graham were tied at 67. There was a flock at 68, 69 and 70.

PGA champion Al Geiberger was in the 69 group. The other national champion in the field, U.S. Open winner Bill Casper, also defending champion here, was even-par 71.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus aren't playing.

Welter Bout Set Feb. 10

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Ted Whitfield will meet Curtis Cokes, world welterweight boxing champion, in a non-title bout in Dallas Feb. 10.

And if the Springfield, Mass., fighter beats the Texan, he has been promised a championship bout with Cokes.

Whitfield was considered for a title bout with Cokes last November but the nod went to Jean Josselin of France, who was defeated by the champ.

At that time Whitfield was undefeated in 24 bouts. Since then he has lost two straight. He has been dropped from the World Boxing Association's top 10 but is currently rated No. 10 by Ring Magazine.

His new manager, Paul Mitrano, said the two losses resulted from Whitfield's disappointment at not getting the title bout last November and because of disagreement with some of his staff.

Promoter Norm Levinson, who announced the Feb. 10 bout at a news conference here Thursday, says he had promised Whitfield a return match for the championship if he beats Cokes. Doug Lord, Cokes manager, said he agreed to such an arrangement.

Meanwhile, Cokes is scheduled to meet Francois Pavilla in Paris Jan. 23.

Proven cream makes wrinkles diminish or vanish in 2 weeks

With a substance new to cosmetics, named Genava, aging skin can start looking younger and younger—not older and older.

After a two-week trial on a selected group of women, a noted dermatologist reports on the ingredients in Genava:

"Disappearance of small wrinkles was accomplished in two-week period; even the very deepest wrinkles showed very great improvement."

Dr. W. P. also comments, "the small superficial wrinkles responded dramatically." And he adds that the skin was "more translucent and smoother in appearance."

These results are nothing short of amazing. And it took a new cosmetic compound to do it.

Genava was developed by the trustworthy Nina laboratory. Designed to be used twice daily—under makeup and overnight—it is absorbed instantly by the skin. Start using Genava today. In just two weeks your wrinkles will vanish or diminish greatly. Skin becomes more translucent, smoother. You will look gloriously younger! 1.65 oz. $3.50; 4 oz. $5.00

FIRST WOMAN NAMED TO CURIA — Rosemary Goldie, 49, was named by Pope Paul VI to be the first woman in history to be a member of the Curia of the Roman Catholic Church. Miss Goldie, who grew up in Sydney, Australia, was appointed a vice secretary by the Pope, and thus became a member of the Curia, the church's Rome-based central administration. (AP Wirephoto)

Asks Compensation For Sniper's Victims

AUSTIN (AP) — A legislator says he will introduce a bill providing state compensation for the victims of Charles Whitman's deadly shooting rampage from the University of Texas tower last Aug. 1.

Whitman killed 14 strangers from atop the tower and wounded more than 30 persons.

"Whitman not only took people's lives — he also destroyed people's financial stability," Rep. Jack Johnson said Thursday. "Some of these people are going to be maimed for life.

"This thing was done on state property. The legal justification is there."

Johnson's bill would set up a state commission to determine the damages suffered by Whitman's victims.

Italian-Americans Win Suit To Adopt Little Blonde Lass

TILLSON, N.Y. (AP) — "Beth was the calmest person in the house," said her foster father, Michael Liuni, after he and his wife won a year-long battle to adopt the blonde four-year-old.

Liuhi, an $8,900-a-year technician for International Business Machines said he himself was "stunned and bewildered" after learning Thursday that the Ulster County welfare commissioner is reluctantly consenting to the adoption of Beth by the Liunis.

The commissioner, Joseph Fitzsimmons, had opposed the adoption because of the dark complexion of the Liunis, an Italian-American couple, in contrast to the light coloring of Beth. Fitzsimmons also claimed that the Liunis were too old. Both are 48.

Fitzsimmons told a news conference Thursday: "Firmly convinced as I am that this is not a prudent or proper disposition, I shall sign the necessary consent, and place full responsibility for this decision on those who have flagrantly disregarded all principles, concepts and guidelines relating to adoption proceedings.

"The responsibility for the improper placement of this child must rest with the court-appointed investigator, the special guardian — whose report praises me and condemns me in the same breath — and the court, who virtually insists on my consent to this adoption."

Surrogate Judge R. Waldron Herzberg said he was fully prepared to accept responsibility, both for his own acts and for those of the two investigators he had appointed. He said he would be in his chambers Monday to discuss the matter with attorneys and sign the adoption order.

The Liunis, who have cared for Beth since she was five days old, have three natural children: Albertha, 18, Joseph, 13, and Michael, 14, who is studying for the priesthood at St. John's Seminary in Montour Falls, N.Y.

The Liunis learned of Fitzsimmons' decision over the radio. Mrs. Liuni and her two married sisters burst into tears of joy when they heard the news on the radio.

Liuni calls Beth an all-American girl. She was born, he said, on July 4, 1962.

US Aid To Vietnam Goes Astray

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ernest Gruening says 20 per cent — or $91 million — of U.S. economic aid to Vietnam was lost through theft and diversion last year.

And the Alaska Democrat, chairman of a Senate subcommittee on foreign aid, added that his 20 per cent estimate probably was low. He noted that some other sources had estimated losses as high as 40 to 50 per cent.

Another member of Congress joined Gruening today in doubting that the loss in Vietnam aid through theft and diversion is as low as the government's official 5 to 6 per cent estimate.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chairman of the House Foreign Operations subcommittee, said "no one really knows what the figure is." He added that if the 5 to 6 per cent estimate made by the Agency for International Development is correct, "They have indeed achieved a miracle."

Gruening's estimate Thursday of 20 per cent losses for the year was close to that reported in a series of Associated Press articles in November following a two-month investigation by a team of AP newsmen. Some knowledgeable persons in Vietnam told the AP team that loss percentages might run to 40 per cent.

AID Administrator William S. Gaud reported to President Johnson Monday that losses were no more than 5 to 6 per cent "in recent months." He later told reporters that by "recent months" he meant the final two months of the year. Estimates out of Saigon earlier that day applying the 5-to-6 per cent loss figure to all of 1966 were in error, Gaud said.

We have loved this top hero story since childhood. A boy from the country, unused to war, meets the giant Philistine warrior. It is quiet faith arrayed against arrogant boasting... the rustic sling with a stone in it against the great spear in the hand of might. How unequal will be the combat! But watch the deeper battle... reverence against evil. The giant is against all good and is confident victory must go to the strong. David stands for spirituality upon which civilization must rest.

Thus the story is a parable of human life, in which the struggle between good and evil goes on forever in combat for the souls of us all. Evil has noise, power and wealth for support. But back of the struggle is the faith that "Right is right as God is God, and right the day must win." Then read God's word and support His church with your means and your presence, and say with Sir Galahad, "My strength is the strength of ten, because my heart is pure."
