District Court.

District Court was in session again this week, adjourning Wednesday of this week. The grand Jury dismissed last week to reconvene again this week, and those who did not care to appear before that august body were surprised to be called before it this week, after a week of hiding. They returned three bills of indictments all felonies, and adjourned Tuesday afternoon.

Among the lawyers here this week, besides special Judge W. F. Schenk and District Attorney G. E. Lockhart, were Roscoe Wilson and Percy Spencer, of Lubbock.

Brownfield State Bank Sold.

Quite a surprised awaited the town Wednesday morning, when it was learned that two strangers had come in the day before and quietly purchased a controlling interest in the above institution, which had been so long under the management that started it, and which had become a recognized leader in the commerce and growth of the town and county.

The new comers are W. H. Dallas, of Lamesa, formerly cashier of the First State Bank of that city, and was elected President of the Brownfield State Bank. O. T. Halley hails from Coahoma, and was formerly cashier of the Coahoma Bank, and was elected cashier of the Brownfield bank, they having bought a controlling interest in the above institution. They both come well recommended, as being men who will not hesitate in assisting in the upbuilding of our town and county, and the erection of good schools and churches. They will also carry out the policies of the old officials as far as possible, and will strive to hold all the old customers, and add thereto as many as possible. They have retained the services temporarily of W. A. Bell, who will be useful to them in getting acquainted with the people, and a run of the business.

STATE OF TEXAS, County of Terry, We M. V. Brownfield, as president and Will Alf Bell, as cashier of said bank, each of us, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.

While the Herald regrets to see the old officers of this bank supplanted, having had eight years of pleasant dealings and scores of accommodations from their hand, it nevertheless hastens to welcome these hustling new bankers to our coming city, and stands ready at all times to help them push forward our worthy town and Co. We are also pleased to say that all old officials will remain in Brownfield, and while following other pursuits, will just the same throw their influence and wealth towards our upbuild.

Mr. Dallas has rented the Richardson residence, but both have bought lots on which they will build in the near future. Thus Brownfield adds two more good families.

The deal was made through the land firm of Jno. B. King.

The Lubbock Avalanche is now thoroughly up on its feet again after a destructive fire, and have a new plant out and out. The paper is printing about 24 pages a week now that are spicy with news, and full of good, home ads. We love to look at a good full blood paper like this that represents the progress of the south Plains, after looking at a half starved papers from the east. Get on to the plains.

Several of our farmer friends have recently asked us to urge a rabbit drive. We think there is nothing better for the community, as lots of these pests are thus sent to their last resting place, and others or scared out. But is for those most interested to set the date and organize the forces, and we will use plenty of printers ink in advertising the matter.

Dr. T. F. Miles, of Lorena, Tex is here looking after his extensive ranch interests. He paid the Herald a call this week, and renewed for the Herald for about the 13th time, he being one of our oldest subscribers, standing next in line of the Dallas News, on our single wrapper list. Dr. Miles is a great booster for Terry, and we can confidently hand you this, that he thinks more of his Terry county ranch, acre for acre, price considered, than he does his many black land acres in McLennan county

Again we wish to call the attention of the good people of Brownfield to the fact, that some irresponsible youths are allowed to shoot targets promiscuously over the town section, and some of these days we are going to have a tragedy right here that will be forever regretted. If you are obliged to let your children use deadly firearms, for pity sake teach them to respect the right of others, and learn them the danger in them. We hope the day will soon dawn, when incorporation of our town comes, and with it a misdemeanor for discharging a firearm in the incorporated limits, except in the protection of the home.

No Shotage of Flour.

Chicago, April 28.—There will be no shortage of flour in America, and no war time prices.

This message to alarmed housewives was delivered Saturday by B. A. Eckart, prominent Chicago miller, who was speaking for many of the largest millers in the West. At the same time he announced a reduction in the price of flour of $2.50 a barrel for September and October delivery.

Eckhart says that present high prices are due to hysterical buying and hoarding which has created a temporary shortage. He asserts that all the millers in the country are backing him in his offer to lower prices for future delivery.

GRAVES & McGowan are now in position to let you have any amount on farms and ranches at 8 percent.

Proposed Amendment

To the State Constitution, Providing for and Relating to the Creation of Conservation Districts. Senate Joint Resolution No. 12.

Proposing an amendment to Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto at the end thereof another section to be known as Section 59, declaring the conservation and preservation of all the natural resources of the State of Texas are public rights and duties; providing for the creation of conservation districts, declaring such districts body politic and corporate, defining the authority of such districts, and conferring upon the Legislature authority to pass laws with reference thereto; declaring that the Legislature shall have authority generally to legislate for the purpose of conserving the natural resources of the State; fixing the time for the election for the adoption or rejection of said proposed constitutional amendment; making certain provisions for said election and the ballots thereof and the methods thereof; directing the issuance of the proclamation therefor, prescribing certain duties of the Governor of the State and making an appropriation to defray the expenses of said election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto at the end thereof another section to be known as Section 59, and which shall read as follows:

Section 59a- The conservation and development of all the natural resources of this State including the control, storing, preservation and distribution of its storm and flood waters, the waters of its rivers and streams, for irrigation, power and all other useful purposes, the reclamation and irrigation of its arid, semi-arid and other lands needing irrigation, the reclamation and drainage of its over-flowed lands, and other lands needing drainage, the conservation and development of its forests, water and hydro-electric power, the navigation of its inland and coastal waters, and the preservation and conservation of all such natural resources of the State are each and all hereby declared public rights and duties; and the Legislature shall pass all such laws as may be appropriate thereto.

(b) There may be created within the State of Texas, or the State may be divided into such number of conservation and reclamation districts as may be determined to be essential to the accomplishment of the purpose of this amendment to the constitution, which districts shall be governmental agencies and body politic and corporate with such powers of government and with the authority to exercise such rights, privileges and functions concerning the subject matter of this amendment as may be conferred by law.

(c) The Legislature shall authorize all such indebtedness as may be necessary to provide all improvements and the maintenance thereof requisite to the achievement for the purpose of this amendment, and all such indebtedness may be evidenced by bonds of such conservation and reclamation districts, to be issued under such regulations as may be prescribed by law and shall also, authorize the levy and collection with in such districts of all such taxes, equally distributed, as may be necessary for the payment of the interest and the creation of a sinking fund for the payment of such bonds; and also for the maintenance of such districts and improvements and such indebtedness shall be a lien upon the property assessed for the payment thereof; provided the Legislature shall not authorize the issuance of any bonds or provide for any indebtedness against any reclamation district unless such proposition shall first be submitted to the qualified property taxing voters of such district and the proposition adopted.

SEC. 2- The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors for members of the Legislature at an election to be held for such purpose on the third Tuesday in August, A. D. 1917, the same being the 21st day of August, A. D. 1917; at said election the vote shall be by official ballot which shall have printed or written thereon the words "For the amendment to Article 16 of the constitution of the State of Texas providing for conservation districts, the creation of such districts and their government and regulation" and also the words "Against the amendment to Article 16 of the constitution of the State of Texas providing for conservation districts, the creation of such districts and their government and regulation," and those opposing it shall erase the words "For the amendment to Article 16 of the constitution of the State of Texas providing for conservation districts, the creation of such districts and their government and regulation," which said erasures shall be made by making a mark with a pencil or pen through said words. All ballots cast as above provided shall be counted as cast for or against this proposed amendment, and if a majority of the votes cast shall be for the amendment it shall be declared adopted; if a majority of the votes cast shall be against the amendment said amendment shall be lost. All the provisions of the general election laws as amended and in force at the time said election is held shall govern in all respects as to the qualification of electors, the method of holding such election and in all other respects as far as such election laws can be made applicable.

SEC. 3- The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have the same published as required by the constitution and laws of this State.

SEC. 4- The sum of Five Thousand ($5,000 00) Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of such proclamation, publication and election.

Poultry Raisers, do Your Duty!

Never before in the history of our country, have we had the opportunity of serving it as we now have. Today the cry of the nation is, to produce and produce efficiently. The nation's meat supply can be increased more rapidly by means of poultry raising than by any other livestock route. For this reason, every man, woman, boy or girl so situated as to be able to grow poultry, should consider it his or her sacred duty and privilege to raise as many chickens, duck, geese, turkey and pigeons as they possibly can.

Come! poultry raisers and farmers! Do your duty by enlisting in the great army of poultry raisers. Respond to the call and cry of the nation for food! We can double the output of eggs and treble the production of poultry meat. We can accomplish all this without any great effort on our part. In the name of "The Land of free and the Home of the Brave" I, in my humble position, appeal to every poultry raiser in the State of Texas, to at least treble the production of poultry and eggs. Let us stand united, and instead of shouldering a rifle until we called upon, assert every human effort and intelligence towards producing the nation's supply of meat and eggs.

Hatch every fertile egg produced. Feed you chickens well.

Keep them free from vermin. Raise plenty of food to help reduce the feed bill and keep the birds healthy.

In conclusion let me say, that I know you will do your share, and that for your country's sake you will do your duty. I know many of you personally and feel sure that the poultry raisers of the State are as loyal and patriotic as any class of people.

Once more, allow me to say. "Let us fall in line, for the nation's supply of meat and eggs rests upon our shoulders and we must wage a successful battle for more poultry and eggs."

Yours very truly,

F. W. Kazmeir

Poultry Husbandman.

Raise Your Hogs.

The biggest error of the Texas farmer today is not getting a good supply of shoats. The price is never great; they will never starve. They get thin, but your slop waste and vegetables will very nearly keep them going. Put them in the pen in fall and a few sacks of wheat bran and corn will complete the job of supplying your family with meat for 12 months.

Tenants move about and do not keep many hogs on hand. If they move a great distance they sell out and when they get to their new homes they wait a while and sometimes spend the money, then decide it is cheaper to buy "hogs on the hole" the following winter, as then they will have the money out of the crop. Then if the crop is short, they are forced to buy "a bite at a time" out of a grocery store at a high price, and this is what puts the cotton crop in two. — Farm & Ranch.

The following has surprised Brownfield: A business man's wife suffered from dyspepsia and constipation for years. Although she dieted she was so bloated her clothes would not fit. ONE SPOONFUL buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka relieved her INSTANTLY. Because Adler-i-ka empties BOTH large and small intestines it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold.

FARM STOCK

DEMAND FOR WORKING MULES

Three-Year-Old Animals Wanted in Every Market in Country—Good Grade Mares May Be Used.

Somehow or other the demand for working mules of good build and weight stays as strong and as keen in these last few years as ever. Three-year-old mules are wanted in every horse and mule market in the country, and in spite of the increasing number of motor trucks and other transportation methods, the market shows no inclination to forget the mule.

As a side line on the 40, 80 or 160-acre farm you can't beat mule raising. Of course the conditions have to be favorable. You have to have a pretty fair bunch of mares, not too small and of fairly good conformation. There should be a few good jacks in the neighborhood, and there usually are, at least in riding distance. Good grade mares and a pure bred jack make about the right combination to finally result in good money from the mules. Where there are no good jacks in the district, four or five or six men can very easily club together and buy a good animal. If they really want to go into the mule raising business to get all the profit coming to them they will be able to get enough money raised to get a good jack.

He should then be insured and given the proper handling. By the right kind of handling he can be made to be of service not only for the mares owned by his owners, but he may be stood for public service and made to earn his keep in that way.

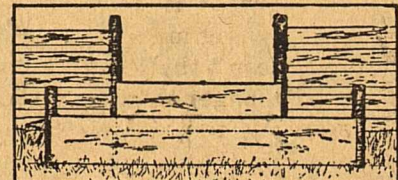

A mature jack's first year of active service ought to enable him to serve something like sixty mares, and later on he ought to be able to serve from seventy-five to eighty without any difficulty. In a few seasons the jack of quality will be able to pay for himself and make his own keep as well as serving all the mares of his owners.

HANDY GATE FOR A PASTURE

Board Arranged Between Two Stout Posts Will Keep Hogs In and Let Other Stock Out.

A response to a query for a plan for a gate to keep hogs in a pasture and permit other stock out is given by C. F. Hewitt of Louisa county, Iowa, in Wallace's Farmer, as follows: Have two stout posts in the fence row six or eight feet apart. Board up about sixteen inches high; then put a stout piece (a round pole is preferable) on top. Now set two short posts about eighteen inches from the fence on the side where the hogs are to be kept. These posts should be about sixteen inches high, and they also should have a pole on top, making it the same height as the first, or about twenty-one or twenty-two inches high. If the cattle are large, this might be made two feet high. The pole that is fastened to the fence posts should be on the side next to the short fence, so when the hogs go in between they cannot jump over the fence.

To Protect Wall.

To wash, paint or varnish wood work without soiling or marring the wall, use a piece of window glass with a straight edge about twelve inches long to hold between your work and the wall. This can easily be cleaned and will not warp or bend, as does a piece of cardboard, which is sometimes used.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

There Are Lots of Cous- in Tobes.

Our Cousin Tobe was in from the farm yesterday. He came for some fresh vegetables, and while here he bought a couple of dozen eggs and a pound of butter. He says he thought for a while he would plant a garden, but decided that the rabbits and bugs would eat it up. He made good money on his cotton last year. In fact he made so much money that he thinks he will have enough to buy groceries with until he get his first bale this fall. His wife wanted to raise chickens, but he says they are more trouble than they are worth, and we suppose is right. A few years ago one of Tobes relatives gave him a pig, but the old pen that was on the place when Tobe moved was in such a shape that it wouldn't hold anything, so he turned it out and never saw anything more of it. Cousin Tobe doesn't think the war will last any longer than next Saturday night, so he is not worrying about the food question. "I never seen the time," he says, "as I couldnt get plenty to eat if I had the money to pay for it." Of course he is right. What we need is plenty of five-dollar bills, and if we can't buy anything for them we can boil them for greens. By Cracks Calan, in Star Telegram.

THE HERALD $1

Judge Price on Good Roads.

To the progressive Citizens of Terry County: Civic pride is a landmark of civilization. The State is a unit in the multiple of a nation, a county is a unit in multiple of States. Man is a unit among the multiplied millions that make society. Indeed and in truth, man is that coherent finite being that rules and dominates the Nations of the Earth. Progressive men do not live to themselves alone; there is a tie of fellowship unseparable. You and I, my fellow citizen, constitute the working unit of our local government. Shall we, further encourage by our neglect, the spirits of slothfulness in our civic improvements? The time has arrived when every stalwart man's shoulders must hit the wheel.

Our own county's system of public high-way is a ditch, or a sand bed. What are you going to do about it? We have the best country that sun shines on when it comes to production, a fact which can be established by mathematics. The value of a half dollar invested in good roads is not to be measured by what it will buy, but what we will be deprived of if we do not invest it. Lighting cigars with twenty dollar bills, is not much more extravagance than to continually drag a light load over a bad road. Bad roads made commerce almost impossible in the dark ages. Are we still in the dark ages? Rome built her fine roads one mile at a time, even Ancient Rome had the best roads the world has ever known. Can we imagine why? History says that their good roads paid dividends, wonder if they would now?

My fellow citizens' argument in favor of good roads is not what you are looking for, it is good roads. who will take the initiative? Lets answer this question in a chorus. Here is my plan. What is yours? Every man, old and young that has a feeling of civic pride, go out and meet that public road across your premises with an axe, plow and spade, and with such other tools at your command. Fix that road for your own selfish use. Should I have said that? No, for you and your neighbors.

Suppose you do not care to take this route? Terry County hasn't the money to build a decent road in the county. Road districts must be created, and bonds issued, and at this trying hour. Is this the route? Lets show old Terry up at her real self the pride of the Plains. You ask me what I will do I'll answer your question by saying that I am ready to carry my part of the load. What will you do? Respt. Yours, W. W. Price.

Increase the Acreage of Sweet Potatoes

Washington D. C., May 7-1917
Seed to plant an acre of Irish potatoes cost about $40 this spring. Seed Sweet potatoes will not cost more than $4 where vine cuttings taken from early plants are used. The yield of sweet potatoes per acre is usually greater than that of Irish potatoes and as a food they are as nutritious. Sweet potatoes may be grown throughout the States and, of course, in certain other sections. Specialists in the U.S. Department of agriculture are urging an increased acreage of this crop wherever it can be easily grown.

Sweet potatoes it is pointed out, are the South's chief instrument for quick and effective increase of the food supply. Seed is plentiful; last year's crop was the second largest ever produced. By means of vine cuttings it is possible to plant almost unlimited areas of this crop and at the same time conserve the present supply. That is, a farmer who wishes to plant 10 acres will need seed enough—say 8 to 10 bushels to get slips for one acre. Vine cuttings from this acre would plant many more acres, planting being possible until the first of August in the lower South. This system, now widely used in the South, enables the utilization of land from which early potatoes, cabbage and other truck crops have been taken.

Sweet potatoes are not expensive to grow. The main limiting factor to the production of vast quantities by this plant is labor. Yields from fields set with vine cuttings are as large as from plants grown from slips. This method has the further advantage of preventing the transfer of diseases which are carried on tubers.

The South doesn't need to learn how to grow sweet potatoes the specialists point out. Farmers know how to produce large yields of this crop. But the farmer must be impressed with the necessity of increasing his acreage of this crop, and then when harvest comes, to prevent the enormous loss of from improper handling and storing. The best way to keep sweet potatoes is to store them in well ventilated storage house, not "dugouts." Storage houses should be made ready as soon as possible. In Farmers' Bulletin 548, "Storing and Marketing Sweet potatoes," instruction for building such houses and for converting old and unoccupied buildings are given.

THE WORLD'S TWO BEST TWO-ROW CULTIVATORS

The P. & O. Two-Row Cultivator

Covers every essential feature for perfect work, ease of adjustment and adaptability of all conditions of soils. The simplest and strongest Two-Row Cultivator made. "It's the way we build them." Frame as strong as a bridge. Axles of improved construction prevent wheel widening in front; make light draft. Fine depth adjustment; each gang controlled independently. Four levers do the work of six on other styles, as the inside levers control the inside gangs independently, and also raise or lower the gangs in pairs. Easy working adjustable foot levers. The wheels can be pivoted alone or in connection with the lateral gang movement. The pressure springs are center hung, insuring proper tension in all conditions of the ground and in any position of gangs. The parallel movement of gangs insures each shovel cutting the proper width and depth. Furnished with any style gang.

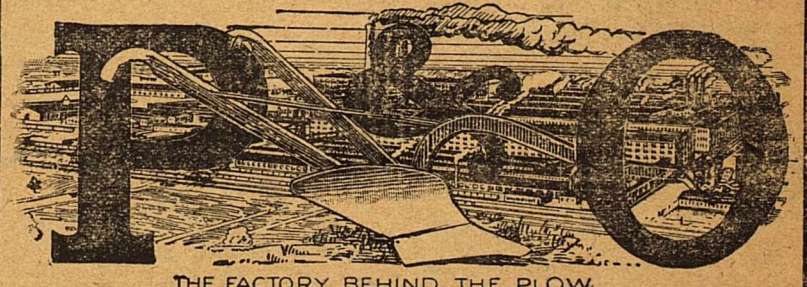

No. 27 2-Row Lister Cultivator

We make a complete line of DRY-FARMING tools, prominent among which is the No. 27 Lister-Cultivator, which has many superior features, consisting of two sets of gangs mounted slidingly on a trussed spreader pipe. Turn table construction evenly distributes weight on the gangs, holding them level and preventing one side from going in deeper. Each gang follows its own row. Roller connection between the gangs and spreader pipe. Gangs can be raised as a unit or shovels can be raised separately. Frame balances with tongue when raising gangs. Easy to change from first to second cultivation. Extra high clearance for large corn, with long shield for small corn. Eight shovel attachments can be furnished when ordered. If your dealer will not supply you it ONLY TAKES A POSTAL to get our new 1917 catalog and special introductory prices.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holgate, on the 6th, a fine boy; both mother and baby doing well.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harland on the 6th, a fine boy. Both mother and baby doing well. Mr. Harland lives several miles north of Gomez.

Mr. Will Black and others left last Friday morning for a prospecting trip in New Mexico.

Mr. A. E. Nolley and brother, merchants of Weed, New Mexico, took dinner here Tuesday at W. W. Spears. They were enroute to Lamesa.

Bert Ingram, who is helping to build Joe Lane's dwelling in New Mexico, made a slip with a saw last week, and cut his left wrist severely. He came to Brownfield for treatment, but returned to his work in a day or two.

Mrs. Dalton Reed, of Gaines county, came in last week for a visit to her parents here, Rev. J. C. Lewis and wife.

Clarence Hockett of Plains, came over last week for a visit to the McPherson families, also Ben Hurst and Bob Snodgrass of Brownfield, and then visited friends here for several days. Clarence spent his earlier childhood days here in Gomez, a member of Geo. McPherson's family. He returned to his home at Plains, Tuesday.

Mrs. Horace Adams of Brownfield came over last week for a visit to Oral Adams family, and is still here.

Oral Adams' baby that was operated on at Lubbock two weeks ago for a rising in its head, has improved fast, but last Saturday, he took severe cold and a real sore throat, and they called in a Dr. on Sunday. To day the baby is resting well and seems to be improving.

Well, most of the men of Gomez and surrounding country, who haul freight, left for Tahoka Monday. Groceries were getting scarce here, and besides one merchant had a car load of flour there, that had to be hauled out right now.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Hunter came in last Friday from New Mexico and Mrs. Hunter and little Pauline are spending the week here at R. W. Glover's, while Dee hauls lumber to build a house on his new home out there.

Oral Adams sold his Ford Auto some time ago and he now rides in a new Dodge.

We had the finest prospect for a grape crop last Sunday, but Monday morning the earth was white with frost, and all the top and outside of the grape vines were killed. Onions, English peas and greens are not hurt, and our cabbage, tomatoes and pepper plants were not, so we covered them up and did not lose them.

The Public School here will close next Friday, but we have been told that there will be another month of private school, but do not know how many teachers will continue to teach. In point of work done and results accomplished, Gomez has not had a better school than the present one. There is no graduating class this year as we have no tenth grade. The eleventh grade has been taught all the term and during the term a complete outfit for doing laboratory work in chemistry has been installed; also quite a lot of books that are needed by the higher grades.

Home Women May Help Conserve Food

Miss Mary Gearing, head of the department of Home Economics of the University of Texas has been named as Publicity Chairman of the U. S. Army Food Service. In this connection she has addressed an appeal to the women of the state to help in the production and conservation of food.

In her first address to the public Miss Gearing recommends:

1. To eliminate all waste from the household by using the most abundant food stuffs as far as possible, by preparing only such quantities of food as may be necessary for consumption, and by serving simple refreshments at all entertainments.

2. To begin the serving of war portions at all meals, serving no more upon the plate than will be eaten.

3. To make or purchase war brand bread which has other cereals or foodstuffs substituted as far as feasible for wheat flour.

4. To reduce the amount of fresh meat consumed in the home at least one third, and not to purchase or use veal in any form as the slaughter of the immature animal will further reduce the beef supply.

5. Not to purchase foods in large quantities with a view of holding them for future anticipation of scarcity or high prices, as such hoardings will reduce the available food supply and make prices highest for those who can least afford to pay them.

6. To urge national prohibition of the manufacture of alcoholic liquors during the war in order that the 600,000,000 bushels of grain used annually for this purpose may be available for food.

7. To further the conservation of all perishable food products, 1 by home preservation, 2 co-operation with qualified agencies working in the field for this purpose.

8. By co-operation with those engaged in the teaching of the practical selection, preparation and serving of foods.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic.

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 15c.
