Big Bend Blanketed In Deep Snow

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snows of up to nine inches blanketed much of the rugged Big Bend National Park area in Far West Texas today. The Weather Bureau warned of extremely hazardous driving conditions, especially above the 4,000-foot level.

Meanwhile, farmers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley rejoiced at the added moisture provided by a similar rare snowfall there Monday.

Some Valley lettuce was buried in the snow, which began melting off today.

"We'll be back in the fields harvesting lettuce tomorrow," said Billy Cellum, sales manager for La Casita Farms at Rio Grande City. Conditions were too wet for harvesting today.

Snow was still falling after daybreak today in the Big Bend Park, although it had stopped at Alpine, which also caught up to 9 inches.

The snow and sleet had changed to cold rains over portions of South Texas today. The Monday snowfall was the heaviest in several decades.

The storm extended into northern Mexico Monday, bringing the worst snowstorm in memory to the region.

More than 20 inches fell in the Monterrey area, and overall the system caused more than $2 million in estimated damage to the late citrus crop.

There was even a little more light snow in early morning at Laredo, but most of the two inches measured in that Mexican border city Monday washed away in slow rain.

Skies were largely clear outside the southeastern half of the state. Overnight temperatures again were brisk, but most points had readings up to a dozen degrees higher than the day before.

The Weather Bureau warned motorists that until further melting occurred today, driving conditions remained hazardous from the edge of Southwest into South Central Texas. It urged particular caution in a belt 50 to 75 miles wide between Laredo and San Antonio, where some icing was reported on bridges and overpasses.

Farm interests in the moisture belt generally welcomed the needed moisture, minimizing the hardships.

As much as 9 inches of snow piled up around the villages of Bruni and Oilton, both in Webb County with Laredo, and measurements ranged up to 7 inches just outside Laredo.

It was the old border city's first snowfall since 1947 and heaviest since 1932. Snowmen blossomed all over town, one towering 12 feet tall beside a freeway. Youngsters pelted unwary targets freely with snowballs. Some grew so excited over the phenomenon that they forgot and tucked the snowballs away in their pockets.

Some schools closed in areas where snow was heaviest, but pected to be shortlived.

Tickets are now available for the annual banquet of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

The banquet is scheduled for the night of Jan. 20 in the high school cafeteria. The tickets are priced at $3 each and they are available now at the Chamber of Commerce office in the city hall.

A banquet planning commitee meeting was held this morning at the city hall, with Bill Seale, 1966 Chamber President, heading up the session. A special ticket sales force is expected to begin helping with the ticket sales soon.

The guest speaker for the banquet will be Joe M. Kilgore, former Congressman and now a well-known attorney in Austin.

Meeting Set On Downtown Plans

The Snyder City Council last night received the annual audit report and made plans for a special meeting to bring property owners in the downtown area up to date on plans for the improvement project which has been edging ahead for several months.

J. D. Hinton, architect, met with the council again last night for a discussion of the plans. It was decided that a meeting would be scheduled for Jan. 23 to formally present the plans to property owners so that they will know how their property will be affected.

Buster Anderson, CPA, presented the annual audit of city funds. He said the city's financial records were in excellent condition.

Jack Lawrence was presented a certificate in appreciation for his service as a member of the council. Lawrence submitted his resignation at the December meeting, at which time he announced plans to move to Lubbock and resume his formal education.

A letter from Harold Denson was read, advising the council that he plans to discontinue his taxicab service here effective March 10.

US Attack Biggest Yet

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) —A massive American force backed by planes, armor and artillery has launched the biggest offensive of the Vietnam war in an attempt to sweep the Viet Cong out of the jungled "Iron Triangle" 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon.

The objective is to capture a major headquarters complex of the Communists and to clear enemy troops from the tangled forests from which they menace the South Vietnamese capital.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland's command announced the multidivision operation was launched at dawn Sunday. It said in the first three days 92 Viet Cong have been killed and 16 taken prisoner.

The operation includes evacuation of up to 10,000 Vietnamese peasants living in the long-time Viet Cong bastion and their resettement in other localities.

Westmoreland told newsmen that the enemy had changed his military strategy in 1966, but that his objective remains the same: "To unify Vietnam by force as a Communist state." In a year-end review, he said the enemy strength in South Vietnam exceeds 280,000 men, and infiltration from North Vietnam has averaged more than 8,000 men a month.

Other than the drive in the Iron Triangle, no major engagements were reported by the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands.

U.S. headquarters said American Marines took sporadic mortar and small arms fire in their sweep of Thanh Phu Peninsula 55 miles south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta. But there has been no contact of any size since the Leathernecks landed last Friday, and so far only four enemy have been reported killed and five taken prisoner.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 45 Viet Cong killed by government troops in repulsing two attacks on military posts 340 and 348 miles northeast of Saigon.

South Korea's Tiger Division reported 26 Viet Cong killed, 212 captured and 621 suspects pulled in during operation Maeng Ho 6, which has been going on since Jan. 3 about 13 miles south of Qui Nhon. The Koreans do not announce their own casualties.

Court Rules On Travel To Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that a citizen who holds a generally valid passport cannot be criminally prosecuted for traveling to Cuba without government authorization.

At the same time the court upheld the government's right to declare certain foreign countries out of bounds.

Chiang Watches Turmoil; Plans Return To Mainland

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chinese Nationalist Ambassador Chou Shu-kai said today President Chiang Kai-shek is ready to return to the mainland if present disorders lead to general chaos in Red China.

The Nationalist diplomat said in an interview that the time is drawing near in Red China for outside direction and organization. "That we can provide," he said.

Chou foresees three possible outcomes of the present situation:

—Success of Chairman Mao Tse-tung and his defense minister, Marshal Lin Piao in suppressing opposition to their rule.

—An overthrow of the present hierarchy by the Communist party wing led by President Liu Shao-chi.

—General chaos resulting from the intensity of the current power struggle as rival leaders purge each other. This would leave the 700 million Chinese people virtually leaderless, he predicted.

"That is where we come in," said Chou. "We have been preparing for such a day and we cannot shed our responsibility to the Chinese people."

He said the return of the Nationalists would be a "political operation carried out militarily." Chou would not say if support could be expected from the United States in such an eventuality.

Instead, he said there would not be a requirement for a large volume of shipping or for manpower. Chou recalled how Chiang marched north against the warlords four decades ago and unified China with only a few divisions at his command.

State Lawmakers Begin Session

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—Preliminaries of the 60th legislature began today with recurring rumors that an attempt may be made in the first Senate session to strip Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of much of his power.

The legislature officially opens at noon.

Senators went into a closed session at 10 a.m. for the announced purpose of choosing Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado as the president pro tempore.

However, numerous sources said there would be a discussion of a proposed change in Senate rules which would base appointment of Senate committees on seniority rather than leaving the choice to the lieutenant governor. The proposed changes also would provide for bills to be called up for floor debate according to a published calendar rather than on the call of the lieutenant governor.

Senators, as they went into the closed caucus, refused to comment on the report.

"I think there's something working but I'm not sure myself what it is," one Senate leader said.

Other sources said numerous long conferences were held throughout the capitol Monday night with senators generally divided into three groups—those supporting Smith, those wanting the rules change, and those undecided.

One source said any Senate change probably would call for a two-third majority vote before it would be effective.

The Senate situation was one of several storm clouds of internal dissension that hung lower over the Capitol dome even before the lawmakers tackled the prime job of levying new taxes.

Rep. John Fogarty Dies At Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John E. Fogarty, D-R.I., died suddenly today at the Capitol. The House sergeant-at-arms said Fogarty, elected in 1940, collapsed and died in his office.

Fogarty, 54, was chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee that handled funds for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare. He was sixth-ranking member of the full committee.

Mao Backers Alerted To Stand In Readiness

By FORREST EDWARDS

HONG KONG (AP) — Chinese from Canton reported today that wall posters attacking Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung had gone up throughout that south China city and that Canton radio had broadcast alerts to his supporters to be ready to come to his defense.

Some arrivals said they had seen dozens of anti-Mao posters Monday and early today before taking the afternoon train to the border and crossing into Hong Kong. Others claimed there were hundreds of such posters.

They said radio appeals directed Mao's followers to stand ready to "crush the enemies of our great leader."

There was no way to verify the reports, but most of the travellers told essentially the same stories.

They said the posters and counterappeals followed a weekend of bloody fighting between pro-Mao Red Guards and anti-Mao factory workers in which they said several persons were killed, scores hurt, a Canton hospital lobby smashed and doctors and nurses beaten up.

Thousands of workers reportedly stayed away from their jobs in factories and municipal gas, water and electric plants Monday. Radio broadcasts repeated appeals for workers to return to their jobs.

A middle-aged Chinese man said he saw several persons lying on the streets — "I think they were all dead. They had been badly beaten about the head and there was blood all around.

"About 20, maybe more, were hurt when Red Guards fought with clubs. They were taken to the Canton Hospital. When the hospital refused to turn over the injured workers, Red Guards smashed windows, broke down the door, and wrecked the entrance room."

A 42-year-old woman said she saw hundreds of anti-Mao youths attack a group of Red Guards — "they had iron pipes and they were swinging them with all their strength. They were shouting that they were sick of Red Guards and sick of Mao's thought."

A still terrified older woman, her hands shaking, said: "Human blood was all over the streets. They were fighting with clubs and bamboo poles. Many were bleeding and some were badly hurt."

Opponents of Mao in Shanghai, Red China's chief port, were accused today of resorting to economic warfare in an effort to disrupt Chinese production and finances.

Shanghai "revolutionary workers" made the charge in a message to Mao reported by the New China News Agency.

Pro-Mao workers in Shanghai walked off their jobs and paralyzed communications, transportation and utilities.

The message to Mao today said a handful of reactionary Communist leaders in Shanghai "not reconciled to their defeat" are "playing new tricks. Using material benefits as bait to corrupt some workers ideologically, they have attempted to lead the masses onto the evil road of economism, so as to shift the general orientation of the struggle, disrupt production and the state finances, and sabotage the great proletarian cultural revolution."

It said the "staunch revolutionary left" have seen through these schemes, have stood out against these economic lures, and rebuffed what it called "sugar-coated bullets."

It said the pro-Maoists would "seize complete victory" and firmly oppose "putting bank notes in command."

Red China's Premier Chou En-lai was reported today to have called for a letup in attacks on five of his vice premiers by the militant Maoist forces who have created chaos and violence on the mainland.

Japanese correspondents in Peking said Chou made his plea for restraint at one of the continuing high-level meetings of Mao's purge group in Peking Sunday with Mao's sharp-tongued wife, Chiang Ching, present.

SHANGHAI REPORTED IN TURMOIL — The Port of Shanghai, China's largest city with a population of over eight million people, is reported to be in turmoil with strikes by thousands of anti-Red Guard workers. City's CRMWD Rate Decreases

BIG SPRING — Odessa and Big Spring will pay somewhat higher water rates in 1967 and Snyder lower if the member cities of the Colorado River Municipal Water District use the amount of water they estimate for the year.

Rates were established at a meeting of the CRMWD board here this morning, based on estimated operating costs and estimated production for the year, plus the cities' per centage of the total production for previous year.

Odessas calculated rate for the year is 22.38 cents per thousand gallons, or .30 of a cent more than the actual rate for the past year. Big Spring's rate would be 16.22 cents, or 1.17 cents more than for the actual rate last year. Snyder's rate would be 13.76 cents, or .59 of a cent less than the actual rate for the past year.

The actual rate will be determined by the fixed charge, plus six cents per thousand gallons for all water used. The actual rate, therefore, cannot be determined until the final consumption figures are reported.

Fixed charges are arrived at by a complicated formula which has the cities sharing in source of supply charges in the ratio of their consumption for the past year, plus one half of the operation costs on the same ratio and one half on the same ratio times the gallon — miles the water must be moved.

Odessa's fixed monthly charge under the formula comes out to $62,550, Big Spring's to $27,359, and Snyder's to $6,710. But by applying $150,000 of revenue earned from water sales to oil companies, the board reduced these to $55,905 for Odessa, $22,927 for Big Spring and $5,495 for Snyder. Even by using this $150,000 the CRMWD will maintain a point 1.34 coverage on its bonds.

In 1966 Odessa's calculated rate was 21.87 cents, its actual rate 22.08; Big Spring's 15.18 and 15.05; Snyder's 13.95 and 14.35. Big Spring alone of the member cities used more water than estimated and this lowered its actual rate. The converse was true for Odessa and Snyder. But by the same token, Big Spring increased its percentage of the total water, hence its rate will be sensitive to this in 1967. In the past Odessa has been the one generally to increase its percentage.

Odessa's calculated rate for 1967 results from $55,905 per month, plus 6 cents per 4,095,000 thousand gallons estimated consumption; Big Spring's calculated rate for 1967 results from $5,495 per month plus 6 cents times 2,690,000 thousand gallons; Snyder's rate results from 5,495 per month plus 6 cents times 850,000,000 gallons.

In other business the CRMWD board adopted a resolution memorializing H. Hicks Allen, who died recently at Snyder. Allen was unit manager of SACROC when the oilfield repressuring unit negotiated its contract with CRMWD and had maintained close ties with the water district and its officials.

Shouting Crowd Supports Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of chanting, singing Negroes shouted support for Rep. Adam Clayton Powell from the Capitol steps today as the hour drew near for a scheduled showdown on whether the Harlem Democrat will be allowed to take his seat in the House.

"We want Powell back in the chair," they chanted, referring to Monday's vote by House Democrats to strip Powell of the chairmanship of the Education and Labor Committee.

Meanwhile, House leaders were meeting to decide whether to revise plans to complete opening day formalities, including the seating of members, in the wake of the unexpected death of Rep. John E. Fogarty.

Fogarty, a Rhode Island Democrat, collapsed and died in his office earlier today.

Speakers who addressed the crowd in front of the Capitol charged that Congress was persecuting Powell because he is a Negro.

At one point, Negro leader Stokely Carmichael appeared, but left without addressing the gathering.

A beefed-up Capitol police force stood by, but made no effort to disperse the crowd, which remained orderly.

One of the men on the steps read a long proclamation calling for Powell to be seated.

When the reading was finished, a woman shouted that Negroes would withhold their votes from the Democrats who support the motion to keep Powell from being seated.

Powell commented Monday, after the vote taking away his chairmanship: "Jesus had only one Judas; I had about 120."

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were both born in Europe. Our two children were born in the States. I think our children should be taught to speak the language of our native country, but my husband does not agree with me.

Last summer I took the children to Europe to visit their grandparents and they learned to speak a little in my native tongue. When we returned home my husband was furious. He refused to speak to the children in anything except English. My husband's attitude puzzles me. Is he wrong or am I? Why does he act this way?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Your husband is apparently ashamed of his native country and does not want his children to be identified with it. It is my view that the more languages one has at his command, the better educated he is.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am 29, college educated, have a good job, money in the bank, my army behind me, and I am not a bad looking fellow. I like sports (winter and summer), the theater, and I love people. Older women and children adore me. I come from a good family, smoke only a pipe and I drink moderately.

My problem? I am lonesome. I refuse to chase tramps. Girls tell me they like me "like a brother." I have more "sisters" than the Kennedys. What is wrong with me?

LONEOME

DEAR LONESOME: Either your description is off or you are.

DEAR ABBY: We know you meant to help us out, but who knows more about how long it takes a G. I. to get mail than a G. I.?

Some letters to service men overseas DO go and mail with only a five-cent stamp, but on a "space available" only basis, and if there is no room abroad a plane, the letter can be delayed for as long as 10 days!

We are jet mechanics in the air force, and while we don't take part in actual combat, our planes go on fighting missions and we keep them flying.

So come on, Abby, give us a break and print this, so the folks back home will send all our mail AIR MAIL. Next to coming home, mail is all we have to look forward to.

THE G. I.'s IN THE 11TH TRS: NORTHERN THAILAND

DEAR ABBY: I got a kick out of the letter complaining because a kooky neighbor woman called PRIVATE IDA went around inspecting everybody's garbage and trash. She said she learned a lot about people—what they drank, how much, and whether the lady of the house cooked for her family or fed them TV dinners and made whole meals out of cans.

Boy, could I have fun with her if she lived in my neighborhood! I'd swap garbage with my neighbors for a whole week and confuse "The Inspector." Then just to mystify her I'd take my garbage across town to some other friendly garbage can. My empty cans would shake her up but good. I'd even put notes in my empty trash cans with little messages, such as "HI—WHAT YA' LOOKING FOR?" The possibilites are endless.

Lee Awarded Citation By Health Dept.

The highest State Health Department citation for water works operation proficiency has been awarded to George J. Lee, general superintendent of the Snyder water supply system.

Signed by the State Commissioner of Health and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, the Grade "A" certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of water plant operations.

Lee is also holder of several other certificates in the field of water plant operations.

A veteran of more than 16 years in his profession, Lee has attended and was graduated from numerous water and sewage works short schools.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed an examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers.

Lee obtained this top certification on his own time and expense in order to increase his efficiency as a key public servant.

Rep. Mahon Praises Local CAP Work

Buford Browning, chairman of the local Community Action Program committee, has received a telegram from Congressman George Mahon in praise of local incentive displayed with regard to the poverty program.

Mahon, chairman of the powerful Armed Services Committee and a longtime Representative, lauded Snyder leaders for taking action "on its own" to get the poverty program started.

The City, County and School joined hands to provide for a study to determine the needs of the underprivileged residents of the City. The initial cost for the study was borne by the City and County, with each governing body putting up $4,250. The school system provided facilities for the study.

Snyder is the first community in the state to launch a study of poverty needs at its own expense.

Part of the Congressman's telegram follows:

". . . it has come to my attention that wonderful progress has been made with the Community Action Program in Snyder. I understand that this is the first instance of a Texas community financing a project completely with local funds. It always is gratifying to me to see what can be accomplished when will and determination are exercised. Congratulations certainly are in order. Let me hear from you from time to time. Best wishes and much success."

Mrs. Edith McKanna has been designated as the local coordinator for a cultural resources inventory to be taken in Snyder as a part of an official statewide survey now being conducted by the Texas Fine Arts Commission, according to Mrs. Lynn L. Williams, president of the Mesquite District of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, chairman of the newly created Fine Arts Commission, said, "We are indeed grateful to Mrs. McKanna for undertaking the completion of our survey in Snyder. This is a unique project in Texas; nothing of its kind has ever been attempted in the State of Texas before."

The purpose of the survey, Shepperd explained, is to determine both the quantity and quality of cultural activity both by organizations and individuals now going on in the towns and communities in our state. "We plan not only to catalogue the various organizations active in the fine arts field in Texas, but to identify individual artists, authors and craftsmen, and the location and identification of local public and private works of art and collections," Shepperd said.

When tabulated, the results of the statewide survey will be used by the Commission to develop an over - all plan to utilize the cultural resources of the State to meet the needs of the greatest number of persons possible. The survey results will also permit the Commission to publish a "Who's Who" in the arts in Texas, a calendar of cultural activities and events, and a list of available talent, performing arts groups and exhibits, and to develop pilot projects that would assist in the development of the arts in Texas.

Parents Challenged At P-TA

"There are no perfect parents. Perhaps God gives children imperfect parents to prepare them to live in an imperfect world. But our capacity to acquire knowledge and develop skills suggests that God intends for us to improve." Mrs. Marvin Dozier opened the program at City Council P-TA with this quotation by Dr. W. Clark Ellzey, a professor at Texas Tech. She offered a challenge to the audience to try to become better parents.

The suggestion was made that this be a part of each parent's New Years resolution. A quiz was given concerning role of parent and mate.

Father Charles Bowyer, minister of the Episcopal Church gave the devotional.

During the business session, members were remiaded of the program to be given Monday night, Jan. 9, Miss Dorothy Prince of Odessa, guest speaker. Her subject was "The Individual Child in Learning." The event was held at 7:30 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

Guest at the City Council P-TA was Mrs. M. F. Garland, P-TA president of District 18, from Rotan.

SPEAKING OF NO-WIN WARS--

90th Congress Will Seek New Rule Against Filibuster

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Back in 1932 Sen. Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, the Senate's Democratic floor leader, said "when a senator once takes to the floor, nobody but Almighty God can interrupt him, and the Lord never seems to take much notice of him."

But making a single senator shut up was never much of a problem, even if the Lord ignored him. Just let the senator exhaust himself, for if he could chatter for 25 hours he would be a record-breaker.

The record-holder is Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who talked 24 hours and 18 minutes in 1957 against the civil rights bill. Then, when he had finished, the Senate passed the bill. But this was just a one-man filibuster, which is an attempt to block Senate action by talk.

The real problem is how to shut up a bunch of senators on a filibuster. There is a way to stop them, called cloture, if it can ever be managed, which down through American history has never been often. Just the same, down through history a try has been made.

And now 35 years after Robinson indicated the Lord's reluctance to interfere, some liberal senators are still trying to find an easier way than the one on the books to shut off a filibuster. And that will be one of the problems of the 90th Congress which opens today.

They're pinning a lot of hope on Hubert H. Humphrey who, as vice president, is supposed to preside over the Senate and, when asked, to give his opinion on things like rules about filibusters.

There wasn't a rule for stopping a filibuster until 1917 when President Woodrow Wilson, fed up on a filibuster that blocked one of his projects, got the Senate to pass a cloture rule, called Rule 22, which became famous later for all that was said about it.

This rule simply required a vote of two-thirds of the senators present and voting, which is something less than a two-thirds vote of the full Senate, to shut off debate.

But in 1949 the Senate got into a peevish hassle over fair employment practices legislation. The Senate made it even tougher to kill a filibuster by changing Rule 22. No longer could just two-thirds of the senators present stop debate. Now it had to be two-thirds of all the senators.

Several attempts were made by Senate liberals between 1949 and 1959 to soften up Rule 22. No good. In 1959 they made it a little softer by changing it back to where it was: A filibuster could be stopped by two-thirds of the senators present at voting time.

This, of course, was just a mild softening. The liberal ideal would be to stop a filibuster by a simple majority of the senators present at voting time. But the 1959 rule change has been unchanged since, despite other liberal assaults on it.

This time the liberals seem to think their chance is better with Humphrey presiding. He was committed to softening Rule 22 ever since 1953 when he and others, unsuccessfully, tried to do it.

This is where he comes in. The liberals argue that in each new session of Congress, like this one, the Senate has a right to change its rules. Their opponents argue the Senate is a continuing body, with the rules remaining the same.

In 1957, when Vice President Richard M. Nixon was presiding, Humphrey, then a senator from Minnesota, asked Nixon for a ruling on whether the Senate was a continuing body. In effect, Nixon said no. But, through a parliamentary tactic by the conservatives, his ruling was sidetracked and No. 22 was let unchanged.

Now the liberals seem to think that, with Humphrey presiding, they can get the same opinion as Nixon gave and prevent its being sidetracked. The liberals have several ideas on softening No. 22, such as making it possible to kill a filibuster by a majority (51) of the 100 senators.

All this is due for a showdown, perhaps just another showdown no more fruitful than the ones which went before, when the new Congress gets down to work.

Junior Editors Quiz on BACTERIA

QUESTION: Why do foods spoil and how can we prevent it?

• • •

ANSWER: Food spoils because of chemical changes, or because tiny organisms grow in it, such as bacteria. These minute organisms can multiply at amazing speed. One bacterium can produce 16 million new ones in 24 hours. Many bacteria are useful, since they do away with waste matter. But others can cause poisoning. Several methods are used to prevent such spoiling of food. Storing in a cold refrigerator is one. This slows down the growth of bacteria and reduces harmful chemical change. Another method is to can food after it has been treated, which destroys the bacteria and prevents chemical action, in most cases, for more than a year. Freezing is another important way to preserve food, since this prevents the tiny organisms from growing and keeps chemical changes under control. Drying, or taking most of the moisture out of food, is also useful, as bacteria cannot grow when food is dry (lower left, a prune and two raisins). To prevent chemical action, some dried foods are also blanched, or exposed to heat. Still another method is curing, by using some combination of cooking, smoking, salting and drying, often with certain harmless chemicals added.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Put unused food back in the refrigerator. Don't let the food you eat get dirty, and be sure your hands are clean when eating. 1-10

Jumping To Conclusions With Boyle

UCLA Continues To Dominate Poll

By BEN. OLAN
Sports rite Itma y not be inht
Associated Press Sports Writer

It may not be in the cards for Louisville to overhaul top-ranked UCLA in The Associated Press' weekly basketball poll, but the Cardinals seem to have a more immediate problem.

The Southern Illinois Salukis, those small-college spoilers, are the unbeaten Cardinals' next opponents Wednesday night. The Salukis, No. 1 in the small-college poll, upset high-ranking major college Texas Western last month. Wednesday night's meeting, too, is on Southern Illinois' court in Carbondale, Ill.

UCLA continued runaway leaders in the latest major-college poll, collecting 35 first-place votes and 359 points in the balloting by a national panel of 36 sports writers and broadcasters. Louisville drew the other vote for the top position and 324 points.

Points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc. The voting was based on games through last Saturday.

New Mexico climbed one place to third while Houston also advanced a notch to fourth.

UCLA lifted its record to 9-0 last week by beating Washington State 76-67. Louisville whipped Tulsa and North Texas for a 13-0 mark. New Mexico beat Denver and Seattle while Houston downed Tennessee Tech and Lamar Tech. New Mexico has an 11-1 record and Houston is 13-1.

Princeton's 91-81 victory over North Carolina helped the Tigers move into the No. 7 spot and dropped the Tar Heels from third to fifth. Princeton was unranked a week ago.

Texas Western held sixth place. Kansas advanced from ninth to eighth. Providence slipped two places to ninth and Florida moved into the rankings in 10th place.

Cincinnati, No. 8 a week ago, plus Mississippi State and Bradley, tied for 10th last week, all tumbled from the rankings this week. The Bearcats lost to Tulsa. Bradley was beaten by Wichita, and Mississippi State dropped one to Florida.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and total points:

1.	UCLA (35)	359
2.	Louisville (1)	324
3.	New Mexico	227
4.	Houston	203
5.	North Carolina	201

Schmidt Plays It Cautiously

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Schmidt, a hard-charger in his linebacker days, was approaching cautiously today a contract that would make him head coach of the National Football League Detroit Lions.

Schmidt met with Lion officials for nearly six hours Monday, then said he had not yet made up his mind

Lion owner William Clay Ford fired Coach Harry Gilmer last week and announced that Schmidt, for 13 years a Lion linebacker was his top choice for the job.

Schmidt, who retired after the 1965 season, was an assistant to Gilmer last season, working with the linebackers.

"There is no agreement or disagreement," Schmidt, 34, said after Monday's meeting. "I just want to think it over a bit more. It's a big step."

He's scheduled to meet with Ford again Wednesday.

"This was the first time I had seen the contract, too," Ford said. "Although naturally I had discussed it with our attorney.

"But after the reading of it, I'd say that Joe and I are in agreement. It is just a matter of letting the attorneys decide on the final wording. There may be a few language changes. But that's all."

Reports have it that the contract is for up to five years and may pay as much as $50,000 a year.

Gilmer was 4-9-1 in 1966, the second year of a three-year contract. Several players had publicly criticized Gilmer, and it was hoped that Schmidt might be the man to pull the club together.

White, Grey Teams Win

Travis White fought off a late rally by Travis Blue to gain a 36-32 triumph and Lamar Grey thwarted a late rally by Lamar Red to take a 26-24 victory in 7th grade basketball games held here Monday night.

Travis Blue, trailing 15-27 going into the final frame, dunked in 17 points in the final stanza compared with only 9 for the White, but the buzzer halted the rally.

Gary Durst was high point man with 20 points. Other White teammates who scored: Jackie Murray 8, Jimmy Brandon 4, and Mike Glasscock 4.

Billy Clayton was high for the Blue with 8 points. Other Blue scorers: Don Durst 7, Albert Hernandez 6, Butch Buchanan 5, Kent Horsley 4, and George Alderete 2.

The Red's David Thompson captured scoring laurels in the game matching Lamar teams with 15 points. Travis Bunch tallied 11 points for the victorious Grey.

Other grey scorers: W. T. Brice 7, Mike Line 4, and Mark Bostick 2. Other Red scorers: Bill Stokes 4, Gary Lankford 3, and Terry Arnold 2.

The Grey team notched only 4 points in the fourth quarter while the Red scored as many points in the last quarter as it did in the previous three periods —12.

SHADES OF LINUS! KING WRINGS TOWEL

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Bob King tugs, chokes and even throws his little red towel, which never is absent a minute of a University of New Mexico basketball game.

New Mexico has charged to an 11-1 season record and a No. 3 national ranking but the towel has not escaped the flings and pulls during the games.

King forgot the towel in the dressing room at halftime of the Denver game last week with New Mexico leading, 29-26. But equipment manager Joe Sisneros quickly recovered the towel and New Mexico ripped Denver 65-43.

"I don't wash it unless I drag it through the mud," said King. "I leave it at home and let it rest when we don't play."

The towel will be with King and the Lobos when they start a road swing Friday in their Western Athletic Conference opener against Wyoming.

But with all the attention King gives his towel, there's plenty left over for New Mexico players who handed defending NCAA champ Texas Western its first loss, dumped Creighton, shelled Seattle and thwarted Colorado State University.

The Lobo mainstays have been 6-foot-9 strongman Mel Daniels, the team's leading scorer with a 22-point average and also leading rebounder; Ben Monroe, who is a top defenseman, and Don Hoover, the floor commander who swiped the ball six times against Colorado State.

Add to that 6-7 rebounder Bill Morgan and 6-3 ballhawk sophomore Frank Judge with sophomore Ron Sanford, 6-8, and 6-2 junior Ron Nelson in reserve.

Barbed Wire Dispute Still Tangled Up

BOWIE, Tex. (AP) — You have to be tougher than barbed wire to negotiate the obstacle on the track at Bowie High School.

Bill Maidens, who lives next door to the track, built a rectangular barbed wire fence 40 feet wide and 150 feet long, covering 40 feet of the track.

Track coach Bobby Rexrode said he guesses he will have to cut the 440-yard dash down to 426 2-3 yards.

A showdown on the situation failed to materialize at Monday night's board meeting.

Maidens did not show up. The school board then decided to await action by the city of Bowie on their request to open up the disputed property. Attorneys for both sides promised to search the law books to come up with a settlement.

The school board says the 40 feet in dispute was dedicated to be used for a street in 1893, but it never happened.

Lamar Cage Teams Divide With Runnels

BIG SPRING — Snyder Lamar divided a pair of basketball games with Big Spring Runnels here Monday night. Lamar's 8th graders took a nip and tuck 32-28 victory, while Runnels 9th graders trounced Lamar 9th, 72-47.

In the 8th grade game the score was knotted at 15-15 at half-time and at 25-25 at the end of the third period. Jeff Stewart popped in a couple of field goals late in the fourth period for the margin of victory. Stewart was the top scorer with 9 points, while Steve Dillaha had 6, Bid Cooper 5, Glen Rambin and Bill Branson 4 each, Bill Wilson 3 and Larry Wall 1.

In the 9th grade game, Lamar fell behind, 0-7, in the first two minutes of play and was never able to get in the ball game. The Runnels Yearlings held a 39-20 advantage at half-time and they outscored Lamar handily in every period except the fourth and it was too late then.

Scoring for Lamar 9th were Lee McNair with 16 points, Billy Bowden 12, Larry Greene 10, Phil Ator 4, Randy Levens 3 and Ronald Gladson 2.

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass. (AP) — First baseman Mike Hegan of the New York Yankees has been ordered to report for six months active duty in the Army.

Hegan, 24, who makes his winter home in Swampscott, was called up with a National Guard unit based in Stoughton. The Yankees said Monday that Hegan will serve his tour at Fort Dix, N.J.

Wildcats Threaten Bengal Den Tonight

A survival battle here tonight pits Snyder against Littlefield in a District 3-AAA basketball contest. The winner still will retain a chance to contend for the title.

Also tonight, Lamesa hosts Levelland in a fight for first place while Brownfield will be at Sweetwater. Lake View hosts Ballinger in a non-conference affair.

Tipoff for the Tiger-Wildcat clash is set for 8:15 p.m. following a tussle between the "B" teams of both schools at 6:15 p.m.

Coach Ned Underwood said he hadn't decided on the starting quintet, but it will most likely include Tommy Bullard and Mickey Almond. Both boys rate among the top 10 scorers in the district. Tommy is in fourth place with a 36 point total for three games while Mickey is in 7th place with 30 points. Both lads are juniors.

The Tigers will pit their 1-2 district mark against an 0-2 record of the Wildcats. However, both of the Bengal losses were to the only undefeated teams in district action, whereas Littlefield lost to Sweetwater and Brownfield.

Snyder has averaged 59 points per league contest while allowing its opponents 56.3 points per game. Littlefield has averaged 44 points while giving up 48 per game. Thus, the Bengals will go into the affray as slight favorites.

Eldon Woodward, one of the team captains, is the only Tiger not expected to be in top form. Victim of an eye injury, he probably will get to see only limited action.

The two Powells—Langston and M. C.— probably will log plenty of game time as will Bobby Clardy, Frankie Grimmett, Sandy Wellborn, and Drake Snyder.

Littlefield usually starts four seniors and one junior. The seniors are Gary Bradley, 5-10, Tim Tapley, 5-10, Neville Manning, 5-11, and Ralph Daingerfield, 6-6. The other starter is Kevin Hutson, 6-3, Junior.

With the tall Daingerfield and Hutson in the lineup, the 'Cats should be able to grab at least their share of rebounds. With a hot night shooting, they could upset the Tigers.

Other 'Cats ready to answer Coach Wilson Elliott's call are Philip Pace, 6-3, senior; Wilmer Williams, 6-0, and Kenny Horn, 5-11, junior.

Many of the Wildcats are football boys who know how to handle themselves when the going gets rough.

Everything points to a fast and close game.

Eagles Snap Loss String, 80 To 68

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a long time between Missouri Valley Conference victories for little North Texas State but when the Eagles got around to winning one, it was impressive.

North Texas ended two years of MVC frustration Monday night whipping Wichita State 80-68. It broke a conference losing string that had stretched over 20 games back to Feb. 18, 1965.

Rubin Russell was the key man, scoring 23 points — 12 of them in the last nine minutes — as North Texas pulled away. Russell dropped in 11 of 16 shots from the floor.

Meanwhile, UCLA, which wins much more consistently in the Pacific-8 than North Texas State does in the MVC, continued to steamroll. The Uclans smashed Washington 83-68 for their 10th straight victory.

Ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press poll, UCLA looked the part, with Lew Alcindor pouring in 28 points before fouling out with 13 minutes left in the game. UCLA led 50-34 at the half and then coasted.

Two other ranked teams also won.

Tenth-ranked Florida took its sixth straight, beating Mississippi 78-63 and Providence, ranked ninth, overcame an early scare from Oglethorpe and won going away, 74-57.

Neal Walk scored 22 points, 18 in the second half as Florida pulled away from Mississippi. The taller Gators controlled the backboards, and upped their record to 10-1 with their sixth straight victory.

Oglethorpe led by five points with four minutes gone in the second half against Providence before Mike Riordan and Jimmy Walker fired the Friars' winning burst. Riordan finished with 24 points and Walker, the nation's leading scorer, had 22.

St. Lawrence Seaway Is Source Of Caustic Dispute

BY JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) —The St. Lawrence Seaway, a symbol of international cooperation in which Canada and the United States use their water boundary to make ocean ports of Midwest cities, is the source of a caustic domestic dispute.

The international waterway runs from Montreal to Lake Erie and is the neck of the Great Lakes waterway, a combined shipping route of 2,342 miles from the Atlantic to Minnesota.

At issue is this: Whether to raise tolls 10 per cent in order to put the Seaway on a paying basis. It has fallen far behind in paying its debts. East and Gulf Coast interests want an increase. The Midwest does not.

Recent developments make it appear the East and the Gulf states are winning out over the Midwest. Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor has on his desk now a recommendation from Seaway officials to increase tolls.

Midwest industrialists, shippers, senators and representatives say the higher rates might jeopardize the future of the Seaway at the very time it shows signs of accelerating its growth.

In its first season, in 1959, the Seaway carried less than 21 million tons of cargo. This past season tonnage grew to nearly 50 million tons.

Those in favor of raising tolls say the growing trade on the Seaway makes this the proper time to lift rates and, hopefully, raise enough money to retire the bonds that built the facility.

East and Gulf Coast interests point to the law which says the Seaway should be self-supporting. Midwest interests point to the national benefits that result from domestic and oceanic trade with its ports.

The Seaway has permitted cities such as Duluth, Superior, Chicago, Detroit and Toledo to carry not just lake trade but an extensive international trade, some of it with nations as far away as Japan and Australia. The Midwest interests argue that this can be an asset in maintaining our balance of trade.

The original debt of the Seaway, about $175 million, must, under the original law, be paid through traffic revenues shortly after the turn of the century. Not only is the Seaway failing to shrink this debt, it is permitting it to grow.

Canadian officials—who collect 71 per cent of the revenues — have expressed a desire to raise tolls on the international section to 44 cents per ton of bulk cargo from 40 cents. Other cargo would go to $1 from 90 cents.

Other charges also are being considered. Tolls have not been charged on the Welland Canal, between Lake Ontario and Lake Erie, since 1962. The Canadian government, which administers the canal, wants to impose charges.

The present plan is to charge $20 per ship for each of the eight locks on the canal, or a total of $160. This would be increased each year until 1971, when the toll would be $100 a lock or $800 a trip.

The Great Lakes Waterways Development Association, which represents industries with a stake in Seaway shipping, argues that such increases would eventually cause one-ship costs of as much as $83,200 a year.

Barnes Assured New Term As Texas House Speaker

AUSTIN (AP)—Ben Barnes, at 28 one of the most formidable figures in Texas government, was assured of re-election today as speaker of the Texas House.

When the House convened at noon, Barnes had ample pledges of support to carry him to a second term in the powerful post to which he was swept in 1965 by a brilliant job of political engineering.

He will be only the fourth speaker to serve two consecutive terms. And there are those who think he might be a candidate for an unprecedented third term in 1969.

Barnes, 6-3, 230-pounds looks like a football player, which he once was. He was a four-year football letter man at DeLeon High School.

The sandy-haired, grey-eyed lawmaker was about to begin his third term when Speaker Byron Tunnell suddenly accepted appointment to the Railroad Commission in January 1965.

With a small group of allies, Barnes quickly parlayed his pledges for the 1967 speaker's race—campaigning for speaker traditionally starts very early—into election two years before he had hoped for it.

All opposition folded before the well-coordinated drive, and he was elected speaker by acclamation.

Barnes worked closely with Gov. John Connally throughout the 1965 session, and many regard him as the governor's protege.

Barnes said he probably will differ with the governor on some parts of Connally's program, but this isn't expected to dilute his ability to guide most of the chief executive's key bills through the House.

Most political observers were amazed at the youthful speaker's ability to keep House members—some of them twice his age—in line during the session.

The big West Texas farm boy, who speaks with sympathy of city problems, is considered a good bet to run eventually for governor, or even U.S. senator.

This may be at the heart of his often strained relations with Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, 55, who openly wants to run for governor.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — Will the IRS issue state sales tax tables this year?

A — Yes, state sales tax tables will be part of the 1040 instruction booklet. They may be used as a guide for taxpayers who itemize deductions.

The instructions will also have a table on gasoline tax deductions to make it easier for taxpayers to arrive at a proper deduction for this tax. This is the first time such a table has been prepared on gasoline taxes.

Q — I just sold some stock I inherited from my father. How do I determint my profit or loss and whether it was long - term or short - term?

A — Use the fair market value of the stock at the date of the decedent's death as the basis for determining whether you had a gain or loss If you received more for the stock than its value when you acquired it, for example, then you have a capital gain to report.

If you sold the stock more than six months after your father's death then the gain or loss will be considered long term. Six months or less, will make the transaction a short-term one for tax purposes.

Q — I recently made a payment on back taxes and now I get another bill for the same tax. What's the reason for this?

A — Payments frequently come into our offices that cannot be identified. For this reason all checks for tax payments should have Social Security numbers on them. This will identify the payment with your account.

It also is helpful if you include the notice of payment due when paying such a bill.

Q — I'm just starting a business. What should I know about Federal taxes?

A — The Revenue Service has a "Mr. Businessman's Kit" which can be obtained from local IRS offices. The IRS also has a publication called "Tax Guide for Small Business," which should be extremely helpful to you. It may be obtained at a cost of 50 cents by writing to your IRS District Office or the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Q — Are the tax rates in 1966 the same as they were for 1965?

A — Yes. But social security tax rate of self - employment income is higher.

Q — I'm taking a job overseas in January. What do I do about my 1966 return?

A — For taxpayers who are traveling or living abroad on April 15 there is an automatic filing extension until June 15. Interest at the rate of 6 percent a year is charged, however, on taxes unpaid during the two - month period after April 15.

Before you leave to go overseas, be sure to pick up a copy of IRS publication No. 54, "Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens Abroad." Send a post card to your district director asking for this free booklet.

Texans Appointed To Ocean Study Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)— Two Texans were appointed by President Johnson Monday to a 15-member commission to work out plans to develop the resources of the oceans.

Richard A. Geyer, head of the oceanography department at Texas A&M University, was appointed vice chairman of the group. Houston attorney Leon Jaworski was appointed to the commission.

Female Facades Revealed

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSN
Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Constructing a woman's appearance is a lot more complicated than assembling a rag, a bone and a hank of hair.

It takes several dozen brushes, paint pots, glue, glisteners, sequin strips, eye fringe, hair pieces, specially engineered lingerie that pushes up or flattens in, and a bulging wardrobe of outerwear conceived to deceive.

Just how the fraudy female creates some of her facades was demonstrated with microscopic cruelty Monday for fashion beauty writers here for the Coty program. It was a part of the American Designer spring previews being held throughout this week.

A plain face the size of a ballroom screen took on high cheek bones, and long thin nose with one brown brush. Sags and eye bags disappeared with a little white. So it went until the face was complete with satanic eyes and eyebrows, framed in hairpieces.

Then the face was denuded and repainted, this time getting a glow on with glitter powder, strips of sequins on the eyelids, even black and white tiger stripes under the eyes.

Designer Geoffrey Benne indicated that he was cooperating with the deceptive woman by driving her fashion silhouettes that did not necessarily conform to her own.

Whatever the style was, a copy of his Vatican vestments — called the Padre — or his big girl version of a little girl dress, it almost always did a good job of the figure, from narrow shoulders to wide, sometimes very wide, hemlines.

What Beene called his prophetic shape was a doll-waisted dress with side fullness that would easily camouflage that well-known occupational hazard, secretarial spread.

Along with these were skinny coats and slithery sheaths in wild silk prints, designed figuratively for the woman with nothing to hide. Hemlines in Beene's collection were very, very short — about five inches above the knee — for daytime, floor length and sweepingly full for evening.

Pill Drops Birth Rate

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — A Rutgers University sociologist says oral contraceptives are contributing to New Jersey's three-year decline in births.

"The pills have made it easier to control births and there are several million women in the country using them," said Dr. Robert Gutman, professor of sociology and a population analyst at Rutgers.

Gutman said he felt the falling birth rate was most pronounced among Roman Catholics, who he said were using the pills in greater numbers, and the poor who "were unskilled in using mechanical contraceptives."

The State Health Department reported last week that 1966 marked the third successive lowering of the state's birthrate. There were 121,433 births last year, compared with 132,606 in 1963.

Production Reaches New Daily Record

TULSA, Okla. (AP)— Crude and lease condensate production reached a new record of 8,530,690 barrels a day last week, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

This was a gain of 56,909 barrels over the previous week and 42,100 more than the previous high only two weeks ago.

Texas and Louisiana paced the increase with respective gains of 48,700 barrels a day to 2,958,150 and 36,000 barrels to 1,985,000. Declines were reported by Oklahoma, down 21,455 to 621,185, and Kansas down 16,770 barrels to 265,282.

Bigfoot Man Dies After Highway Chase

DEVINE, Tex. (AP)—Rafael Martinez Corona, 46, of Bigfoot, Tex., was killed Monday night in an auto crash.

Officers said Corona's car struck the rear of another vehicle and its occupants gave chase.

Police quoted witnesses as saying Corona's car was running without lights when the car veered across Texas 178 about three miles east of Devine hit a bridge railing and landed upside down in a creekbed.

Courts To Begin 24-Hour Arraignment

NEW YORK (AP) — A six-month trial period of around-the-clock arraignments for most criminal charges begins in New York's criminal courts Wednesday.

Mayor John V. Lindsay, in making the announcement Monday, said the new system is being tried in efforts to get more policemen out of courts and on the streets, speed up court arraignment calendars and eliminate unnecessary overnight jailing of some defendants.

An electrically heated home...
Most comfortable place to hibernate in winter
Electric heat means gentle even warmth with carefree cleanliness
There's a delightful new kind of living comfort in a home that's heated electrically. Flameless electric heat is gentle and even . . . pleasant warmth throughout your home. And flameless electric heat is clean heat — clean as electric light. Flexible, too — central system, or room-by-room with individual room temperature control. There's an electric heating method suited to your home design and your family living habits. You'll find electric heat is economical, too, especially if your home is Total Electric and qualifies for our low Total Electric rate. Before you buy, build or modernize, get the facts about modern electric home heating. Call or visit us for information.
