Agree on Sewer Line Across Little Bay for Key Allegro Motel

Agreement has been made on a plan to lay 3,000 feet of sewer line across the north part of Little Bay to provide city sewerage service for Key Allegro Motel and the soon-to-be-built adjacent Casa Allegro Condominium Apartments owned by Frank A. Randt of Rockport and Dallas.

The agreement was reached Wednesday afternoon at a special meeting of the city council attended by Randt and three of his representatives, attorney Sam Wilcox, builder Dick Picton and civil engineer Gene Urban.

The somewhat complex agreement was worked out in this way: first, it was reported that Randt could build his own sewage treatment plant near the motel and the condominium for about $13,000.

Next, Urban estimated it would cost approximately $25,000 to install a lift station, lay 3,080 feet of 6-inch pipe across Little Bay and hook onto the city sewer system. He also reported that 4-inch pipe would cost about $1,600 less.

It was stated that the 4-inch pipe would be adequate to handle 10,000 gallons of sewage per day from the motel

Aransas County commissioners terminated the use of the old recreation building at the county airport for teen-ager dances.

County Judge John D. Wendell reported at a Commissioners Court meeting that during recent weeks at the dances "there have been fights, drinking and considerable damage to the building, such as breaking out windows and not replacing them."

Wendell said one fight turned into a cutting scrape which resulted in one of the participants requiring hospitalization. He indicated that most of the troublemakers were older youths, 20 years of age and older.

Lack of a sufficient number of adults to serve as chaperones was cited by the judge as probably the main reason why disorderly acts took place in recent weeks.

The Aransas County Youth Recreation Sponsors, which organized the dances, were notified by Judge Wendell of the commissioners' decision and why the decision was made.

The Youth Recreation Sponsors is an organization of parents of young people in this area. The parents strive to plan and organize wholesome activities which the boys and Both activities buildings will offer a place for each of the whole camps to meet together in inclement weather. They also will provide a place for films and other audio-visual aids to be utilized in the program.

Channel Dredging Is Opposed Here

The Rockport Conservation Association, Inc., has announced opposition to the granting of a permit which would allow dredging of a 3,000 foot channel in Redfish Bay.

The conversation group is opposing the permit on the grounds that the muddy dredge waste, from the proposed channel would damage seafood nursery areas in Redfish Bay.

Plane Pulled From Water, Pilot Missing

The light single-engine plane that had been the object of an area search since Sunday was found Wednesday about one-fourth of a mile offshore in Aransas Bay four miles north of Rockport.

A helicopter from the Coast Guard Station at Corpus Christi spotted the plane submerged in 10 to 12 feet of water in a line off the southeast approach of the runway of Aransas County Airport.

The pilot of the plane, Evert Castleberry, an aircraft mechanic at Aransas County Airport, was not found. A diver searched the submerged plane but did not find a body.

Sheriff Robert Hewes and a shrimp boat, Ring of Fire, towed the wreckage of the plane into the Sandollar Motor Hotel Marina. Fire Marshall Elva Mullinax, Constable J. E. "Buddy" McLester and Chubbby McLester manned the shrimp boat. A drag line then lifted the plane out of the water and onto the shore.

Four planes—three Civil Air Patrol Planes and a local private plane—searched all of Aransas Bay and the western shore of St. Joseph's Island. Hewes said. He said one of the plane's seats was found on the western shore of St. Joseph's Island.

The search for the missing pilot will be continued Thursday.

A Civil Air Patrol plane with Jack Birchman and Chuck Atwood of Corpus Christi also spotted the plane after circling the area. Atwood is commander of the Corpus Christi CAP squadron.

Birchman, a geologist with Coastal States Gas Producing Co., said the plane appeared to be intact. He said it appeared to searchers that the pilot experienced mechanical trouble after takeoff and apparently was attempting to come in for a landing when it

Chamber Happenings

The Chamber of Commerce fishing tournament for out-of-ranged low calorie buffet for business but so far no entries have been received.

As explained in previous newspaper articles and in bulletins to all C of C members, including motels and trailer courts, the fishing tournament is set up to work like this:

First, it is open ONLY to out-of-town visitors. The contest is for trout, redbfish and flounder only. Weekly, monthly and grand prizes are waiting to be handed out.

To enter, all a visitor has to do is use rod and reel, catch a trout, redbfish or flounder and take it to one of the four weighing stations: Morrison's Sportsmen Center, 506 S. Water; Key Allegro Marina; Wilson and Son, Fulton; or Sea Gun Marina.

At the weighing station the fish will be weighed, and information about the weight of the fish, who caught it, etc., will be written on a blank form. Once a week the weighing stations will turn these forms over to the Chamber of Commerce so the winner can be selected.

So, visiting fishermen, hop to it, catch some big fish and enter them in the contest. You may win a prize.

And, operators of motels and trailer courts, please encourage your guests to enter the fishing tournament.

Jim's Smokehouse furnished the refreshments for the hospitality program at the Chamber building this week. Thank you.

T.O.P.S. Special

Monday wasn't just another meeting for the Rockport Tops. They also put on a Christmas Show for the benefit of the members. A total of 44 ladies were present and after the business meeting was concluded, they settled back and enjoyed a highly entertaining show put on by a few less inhibited members, plus the talented assistance of two guests, namely Mrs. Vic Stuart, Sr., and Miss Jeanie Prophet. Jeanie is already well known to Rockport audiences for her very skillful performances on the piano accordion, and Monday night was no exception.

A musical trio then gave their unique rendition of western, Spanish and popular songs. Charlene Stuart's activity on the drums was nothing less than astonishing. Betty McMeredithe performed on her home-made bass fiddle and proved her versatility on the maracas and the bongo drums. Jeannie of course supplied the very necessary melody on the accordion.

Last but not least, Ruby Hart and partner once again delighted their audience with their own special version of the hula. It may not have been authentic Hawaiian but the worst that could be said was that it sure was different, and it certainly was hilarious.

Members then joined in a community carol singing with a few harmonious duets by Mrs. Reba Vick and the T.O.P.S. secretary. The piano accompaniment was ably provided by Mrs. Mildred Herrington. An exchanging of gifts and a most tastefully arranged low calorie buffet completed the evening's activities. The ladies all went home tired, happy and not too overweight, they hope!

Pirates Win Consolation Trophy

By Dan T. Oliver

The Rockport-Fulton High School Pirate Varsity basketball team attended the 1969 Bloomington Tournament Dec. 5 and 6. The Pirates won two out of three games, receiving a consolation trophy.

The Pirates lost their first game to Industrial 47 to 36. High scorer for Industrial was Revel with 11 points. High scorer for the Pirates was G. Davis with 12 points.

The Pirates won their second game over Hallettsville 48 to 24. High scorer for the Pirates was R. Huff with 10 points. High scorer for Hallettsville was L. Lanes with 12 points.

The Pirates also won their third game over Tidehaven 50 to 32. High scorer for the Pirates was R. Huff with 16 points. High scorer for Tidehaven was D. Frich with 14 points.

Following the games Saturday night 10 players were named as all-tournament, and from the Pirate team Ruford Huff was named.

When Franky French was a major league manager and was banished from a game by an umpire, one of his tricks was to lie flat on the dugout floor and run the team from there unobserved by the umpires.

NATURE TRAILS

By CONNIE HAGAR

"At Christmas-tide the open hand scatters its beauty For love is heaven, and claims it's own."

—Margaret Sangster

A "green Christmas" is unknown to those farther north. We are spoiled on the Texas coast; it's very real to us, and the traditional holly is the same family as our yapon with which many decorate their homes at this season. Think of seeing 20 beautiful black-bellied tree ducks perched in a tree at one time; they are from the tropics. Then a new bird, the mute swan, in a pond on Lamar Peninsula. Almost too much for one day.

And the winter residents have been arriving daily, the robins in number, the goldfinch, pine-siskins, blue-grey gnatcatchers, myrtle warblers, all here for the cold months.

The extremely high tides have made shorebirds very scarce. No good shelly oyster reefs for them to probe, but it's fine for ducks on Little Little Bay, and protected there as they are, you can realize how close you can approach them and never cause a pause in the feeding habits.

Shelling hasn't been too productive, high tides again, but some few have been gathered.

Flowers are resting from the lovely spring showers but nature knows best how to manage her beauty, so look, look, look!

The Monarch butterfly and dragonfly have just about finished the big migration movement through our area, and many people call the dragonfly the mosquito hawk but dragonfly is correct.

Inca doves predominate in back yards now; how a sight of one gives joy to out-of-state birders who come to avoid cold weather and enjoy 15 or 20 at one time.

To all my friends who enjoy Nature Notes, a pleasant and prosperous New Year. Keep looking!

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schleider were in Hearne Saturday to attend the funeral of her brother, E. R. Teater.

Palm Harbor Fishing News

J. C. Arla, Sr., and Bob Copeland caught 75 nice redfish averaging 2½ to 3 pounds, also drum and sheepshead.

The Leon Glasscocks of San Antonio and Palm Harbor and Margaret Glasscock caught a 4½ pound trout and several assorted fish.

In spite of the strong wind Saturday, Bert Cunningham of Palm Harbor caught a 7½ pound red, along with other fish.

The George Banks of Salina, Kans., fishing on the banks of the Intracoastal Canal, had a good catch Sunday A.M. Fishing was real good along these banks both Saturday and Sunday.

Wayne Lindsey caught 8 reds averaging 6½ pounds.

The Leslie Monzingo, fishing Sunday, had a good catch of fish, several reds, 4 to 4½ pounds.

The Theil Sharpes and John Keenans of Palm Harbor had a nice catch Sunday afternoon, with Mrs. Sharp catching a 4 pound trout.

The name Edward is a modern derivation of an old German name, Eduard.

First Robins Cue Cold Snap is Due

"Got your sweater handy? You're going to need it," Mrs. Connie Hagar said as she made her forecast that real cold weather is not far away.

Mrs. Hagar, 83-year-old nationally-recognized bird authority recently saw robins arriving here from the north.

"It's a sign that the cold spells are coming," Mrs. Hagar said. "It sure doesn't mean it will be spring soon like some folks say."

The noted ornithologist said she spotted about 50 to 75 of the red-breasted songsters sunning themselves and hopping and pecking for worms along the road northeast of town.

Others have been reported seen in Corpus Christi.

"They're not early," Mrs. Hagar said. "It's snowing and raining up north. They're worm-eaters and the ground is frozen so hard they can't eat. So they come here to feed."

Mrs. Hagar said more and more robins will be showing up. They'll stay until March when they'll head back north. Their appearance in the northern states is a sign that the ground is thawing and that spring is near.

But South Texans should keep their woollens on until the robins leave. They know when its safe to depart and the coldest weather is over, Mrs. Hagar said. — Caller-Times.

50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Bonner of Taft, celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary, were honored Sunday at a reception in the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Elliot. Their children, Mrs. J. W. Boyd of Baytown; Mrs. Robert Sample of Laredo; Mrs. H. R. Bean of Ft. Worth; Mrs. H. F. Elliot of Rockport; A. K. Bonner of Portland; John R. Bonner of Taft; and Miss Lola L. Bonner of Rockport; their grandchildren and great grandchildren, hosts, greeted some three hundred relatives and guests from throughout Texas.

The granddaughters, Mrs. Wesley Rasberry; Mrs. Charles Richter; and the Misses Martha Bean; Rose Ann Elliot; Paula Bean; and Jessie Sample served coffee, punch and petit fours, while the granddaughter-in-law, Mrs. William Bean, and friends Debbie McElreath and Nancy Thomas attended the guest book.

A family crest, designed and created by Delores H. Porter of Houston, was displayed on a table easel. The family tree, painted by Louise A. Wilken of Corpus Christi, in gold acrylic on sliding glass doors in the Elliot home portrayed photographs of the 36 members of the immediate family. A genealogical tree, produced by Ann Boyd and Ina Bennett of Baytown, traced the history of the Bonner family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonner were married in Galveston and have resided in San Patricio County since 1930.

Received a card from Dave Crooks of Palm Harbor, who with his wife, is vacationing in Hawaii. The card had a picture of a young man on a surfboard riding a huge wave. Dave's message said, "Hope you recognize me on the surfboard. It was one of my better runs!"

Ever since plans for the Aransas County-Rockport Centennial Celebration were formulated, Dave has been working as chairman of the public relations committee and is doing an outstanding job. He and I have been working together and largely due to Dave's efforts we have been able to get quite a bit of publicity throughout the state already.

Cleo Smith makes wonderful sausage bread. She makes it in little rolls with a tasty bit of sausage inside. About a year ago she brought a sack-full to the Pilot while they were still warm. The two boys (Roger and Woods), Wanda Sparks and I gobbled them up in a hurry.

A few days ago while in the Post Office, I asked Cleo when she was going to make us some more. The next day, Cleo came into the Pilot with a smile and a sackful of sausage bread rolls. Wanda, being a lady, ate only two or three. Woods was busy in the print shop. So Roger and I really went to town. I must confess that I ate so many that when I went home for lunch, all I wanted was a cup of coffee.

Thank you, Cleo. We love you and your sausage bread.

4-H Bridge Club

Mrs. R. E. House was hostess to the 4-H Bridge Club at her home last Friday. Members playing were Mrs. Pearl Denny, Miss Lillian Fahr, Mrs. Ed Hall, Mrs. Jimmy Hunt, Mrs. Frank Lenoir, Mrs. R. C. Naper, Mrs. L. G. Wood and Mrs. George Dickey of Corpus Christi. Mrs. Pearl Denny won high score and Mrs. Dickey won second high.

Judges will accompany the tour for final selection of the four contest winners. Having the caravan and the contest judging the same evening affords an opportunity for more people to be sure to see all displays. Participants will be rewarded for their efforts not only in their own enjoyment, but through the knowledge of pleasure brought to many others throughout the season.

Last year's tour was so well received that the Chamber of Commerce hopes more people will join this year to catch a spark of the real Christmas spirit and enjoy fellowship together.

Castleberry had left the airport at 2:30 p.m. Saturday for San Antonio. Birchum said that Castleberry circled the airport once after takeoff, but there was no way to tell if this indicated he was in trouble as the plane did not have a radio. It had been assumed then that the pilot went northwest to San Antonio.

When Castleberry failed to reach his destination in San Antonio, the Air Force ordered a search.

The missing aircraft was a four-seater Beechcraft Bonanza. Castleberry was the only person in the plane. He lived in Rockport with his wife and seven children.—Caller Times.

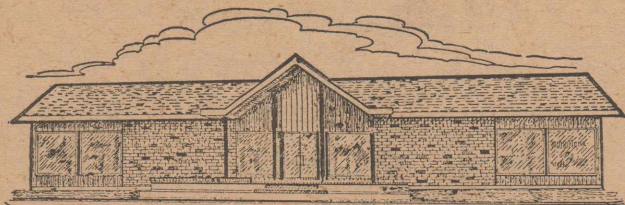

FUN IN THE PRESS

"Fire away," replied the man. "I've found out that you can live in this town without brains, but not without money."—Anderson (S.C.) Independent.
