United Fund Exceeds $10,300 Goal By $1,159

The United Fund campaign resulted in collection of $11,459.30 in cash and pledges, surpassing the goal of $10,300 by $1,159.30.

In making the announcement this week, the Rev. Cecil H. Lang, Jr., campaign chairman, said the United Fund directors were happy with the results but disappointed that solicitation had not been more complete.

"In originally setting the goal the board was forced to cut the agencies' requests for funds and realizes that if all residents had contributed, the requests of the agencies would not have been cut," Lang said. "The agencies benefitting from United Fund allocations could do a better job if they had received the totals they asked for."

Lang said several areas of the county have not been fully solicited. "Do you live in one of these areas?" he asked. "If you do, please give now. Contributions will be received through Tuesday, Feb. 16 at the United Fund office in the Chamber of Commerce building. Stop by and make your contribution or mail it."

The United Fund slogan is "If you don't do it, it won't get done." A final report will be made next week.

Government Sends Sanders To Pakistan to Plan Rebuilding

The U. S. Government has sent Jack Sanders, head of the Jack Sanders Company, to Pakistan to inspect the catastropic damage and recommend measures to protect the people from future hurricanes, cyclones and tidal waves.

Sanders was selected for this mission because of his vast experience in major cleanup and rebuilding projects following hurricanes in Louisiana and Texas. He and his son, Rocky Sanders flew to Pakistan and arrived at Dacca, East Pakistan this week. They are expected to spend about two weeks in Pakistan and then return to the United States with their recommendations.

While conferring with leaders in Pakistan, Sanders plans to suggest that concrete be made out of shell since there is very little gravel in that country.

He also will discuss techniques for building stronger houses out of bamboo and making them sturdy enough to withstand hurricane-force winds and also to have the capacity to float.

Sanders was in charge of post-hurricane projects in either Louisiana or Texas in 1961, 1963, 1966 and 1970.

County Sewer System Under Consideration

Something badly needed in Aransas County—a sanitary sewer system for homes, motels and other business establishments outside the citylimits—now looms as a possibility.

The Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District is considering the possibility of seeking a state legislative act to change the charter of A.C.C.R.D. (generally known as the Water District) to give the District the authority to construct and maintain such a sewer system.

Presently, the main function of the Water District is to bring treated Nueces River water here from Lake Mathis for use by residents of Rockport and some residents outside the city limits.

Regarding sanitary sewer facilities, the City of Rockport has its own sewer system which serves residents of the the city. Outside the city limits, septic tanks serve home owners and business places.

If the Water District proceeded with its plan regarding sanitary sewer service outside the city limits, the project would be financed primarily by federal and state grants, plus some revenue bonds.

There is nothing imminent in the plan. As one spokesman for the Water District put it, "The first thing we want is to find out is what the public thinks about this possibility, particularly the people who live outside the city limits."

People wishing to express their opinions regarding this project—pro or con—are urged to contact Col. J. H. Harrison, manager of the Water District, in his office in the Courthouse, or call him at 729-5211. The office is open Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings and Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

DEATH BEFORE CRASH

Recent research in California comes up with the finding that an unexpected number of drivers dying within 15 minutes of a single-vehicle accident were dying of natural causes which produced the accident. The researchers discovered that natural deaths at the wheen accounted for 15 per cent of the deaths in single-vehicle crashes.

This pinning down of why some road accidents happen illustrates the need for adequate postmortem examinations of drivers killed in accidents of all kinds. If the overall proportion of natural deaths is as substantial as these special findings suggest, the case is strengthened for much more stringent licensing regulations.

The California study shows that 96 per cent of the drivers dying of natural causes were men, in 94 per cent of cases the cause of death was a heart attack and, significally two thirds of the victims were between 50 and 70 years of age. Of the drivers who died of heart episodes at the wheel, 40 per cent apparently had no previous knowledge of a heart condition.

The California team or researchers—a coroner, a highway patrol representative, a member of the state justice department and a public health official—urge that all physicians should advise patients with coronary disease about their fitness to drive. In the first five years after a cornary attack, other studies show, mortality is 20-40 per cent.

There is no doubt that drivers with heart conditions who insist on getting behind a wheel are a menace to others and are taking unnecessary risks with their own health. The Journal of the American Medical Association states that the stress of driving has an adverse effect on cardiac function among drivers with coronary artery disease.—Financial Post.

IN THE ROUGH

When John Dillinger got his, he was betrayed—some say—by the "lady in red."

Jack Sheppard, England's most celebrated jailbraker, was finally taken while drunk.

But where did police capture Bernard Segouin, another jail breaker and Quebec's most wanted man? On the 19th hole of a golf course, armed with nothing more deadly than a putter.

Ah, affuence. It's the click of a golf ball, rather than the click of a glass, that tempts the outlaw from his hideout.

Police will now have to search from polo fields to private pools to find criminals. The underworld has gone middle class.—Toronto Star.

NEVER GAMBLE WITH YOUR LIFE

Being a pedestrian in today's traffic can be a big gamble at times. In fact, nationwide studies indicate that odds are eight to one that a pedestrian will get killed when crossing streets between intersections rather than with a signal. The moral is: Don't gamble against accidents with an attitude of "it can't happen to me."

Statistics compiled from records of state motor vehicle departments add even grimmer touches to the traffic accident report. Over 52,000 victims died on our highways in 1967. More than 4,200,000 persons were injured. Over 40,000 victims were killed on clear, dry roads.

The 20 to 34 age group stands the greatest chance of being killed in auto accidents. Speed is the greatest killer.—Jackson (Miss.) Clarion Ledger.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

Texans have a right to be proud of their meat and poultry industries, and they also can show deserved pride in activities of the Veterinary Public Health Division of the Texas State Department of Health which is charged with inspection of meat and poultry processing operations.

Slightly more than a year ago, the State Health Department opened a school at Yoakum to train meat inspectors, a decision made mandatory by a new Texas Meat and Poultry Act. Faced with the choice of letting the federal government take over all inspection or providing adequate state inspection, the Texas Legislature decided in favor of state controls. The federal government still inspects all red meat and poultry processed for interstate (across state lines) shipments.

Since its inception the new Veterinary Meat Inspection School has turned out just over 400 trained meat inspectors. Four hundred and 23 persons are employed in the meat inspection program. A total of 789 slaughterhouse and processing plants are under state inspection.

The amount of red meat and poultry inspected is staggering. For a 10-month period ending June 30, more than 324 million pounds of red meat—beef and pork—came under the critical eyes of Health Department inspectors. In addition, 63½ million pounds of poultry were inspected.

"Objective of the program is better products for all Texans," said A. B. Rich, D.V.M., director of the Division of Veterinary Public Health, "and inspection is essential to make certain that only wholesome meat and meat products reach the tables of the consumers." The program also will upgrade the meat industry and encourage it to provide better products, said Dr. Rich.

Cooperation between federal and state meat inspectors has been good, and a new federal registration becomes effective Dec. 1, with a registration deadline of March 1, 1971. The new regulation affects such allied, interstate operations as meat brokers, meat wholesalers and warehousemen. Knowing the identity of each of these operators is important to members of the Compliance and Evaluation Staff of the United States Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service. While the inspectors in the state and federal plants are the first line of defense against unfit meat and poultry, the Compliance and Evaluation Staff are the federal and state's governments' second line of defense.

Some meats are processed for non-human food purposes. These meats are used from animals which died other than by slaughter or were suspect animals before death. Since this meat has the potential for being diverted from its intended non-human food use, the new registration will help in tracing all meat and protect wholesomeness of meat which you eat.

The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance. Each boy answered roll call by telling what one part of the law of the pack or promise meant to him.

We practiced our part for the banquet program and sang the songs we have chosen for the banquet. Since Valentines Day is next Sunday, we made Valentines for the parents. Refreshments of cola and jelly surprises were served, after Bradley Reininger said the blessing.

We closed the meeting by standing and saluting the flag and singing America.

Miss Linda Harris, Charlie Grant, Jr. Exchange Vows Saturday Night

Miss Linda Marie Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Harris, was united in marriage Saturday with Charlie Lawton Grant, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Grant, Sr.

The Rev. Chas. Fake of the First Baptist Church performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decked with two standing baskets of lavender gladioli with white spider mums. Mrs. George Rinche, organist, played the traditional wedding music and sang "O Promise Me."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a satin A-line gown, empire bodice, trimmed with French lace daisies with puff sleeves. Her satin train was trimmed with daisies. Her veil of illusion was held in place with a heart shaped pin. She carried a bouquet of white roses and white satin ribbon streamers.

Miss Sandie Peters was maid of honor and Rhonda Miller of Aransas Pass was flower girl. Miss Peters wore a lavender gown of organza, round neck, long puffed sleeves, trimmed with two rows of venice floral lace. The bodice was set off with a band of dark purple satin which held the matching train. She wore a purple satin bow attached to lavender tulle as her headpiece and carried one large white mum surrounded by lavender pompoms.

The flower girl wore a white ruffled organdy dress, long white sleeves with dark purple sash. She wore a purple satin bow attached to lavender tulle and carried a white basket of white rose petals.

Willie Yule, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Ross Harris, brother of the bride, and Harley Walters.

The bride's mother wore a pale suit with a orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a pale pink dress with orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The table was laid with a white cloth and held two arrangements of lavender gladioli and white spider mums. Those in the house party were Miss Cathy Deason, Miss Kathy Haggerson and Miss Donna Hadley.

The bride and groom are graduates of Rockport-Fulton High School. The couple will be at home in Baytown where the groom is employed by Humble Oil Company.

Out-of-town guests were R. A. Robinson, Lovington, New Mexico, Capt. Samuel Reiser, San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Yule and daughter of Baytown, Mrs. Jimmy Miller and daughter, Houston.

For her going-away attire the bride chose a lavender dress with corsage of white roses and white accessories.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank everyone for the cards, visits, calls and other kindnesses shown me during my stay in the hospital and while at home.

Golden Age Club Meets

The Golden Age Club met Feb. 2, with 50 members and guests present. After refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. B. W. Hamblin, a film "Ceclia" was shown through the courtesy of Central Power and Light Company. Most of those attending stayed to play games after the film.

The Golden Age Club will meet at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 16 at United Methodist Fellowship Hall for a covered dish supper to be followed by a social hour and games. Anyone interested is welcome to attend. Bring a dish of food and renew old friendships and make new ones.

Miss Ledbetter Is Honored

Miss Margaret Ledbetter was honored with a kitchen shower Jan. 25 at the home of Pamela Griffis.

The bride's colors, blue and white, were used in the table decorations and guest book. Miss Ledbetter was presented with a blue carnation corsage with a small spoon tied to the ribbon, a "utensil" tree, and a mop and broom decorated as a bride and groom.

The hostesses, Linda Ballou, Karen Hayden, Pat Harrist, Melinda Mills, Molly Gregory and Pam Griffis, gave the bride-elect a steam iron.

Punch, cookies and sandwiches were served to 25 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. George Neal of Evanston, Ill., visited their friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Kinsey, Sunday and then proceeded on their way to Harlingen Monday.

ELECTRICITY IS FOR PEOPLE
NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK
FEBRUARY 7-13, 1971

All-electric mobile homes make dollar-and-cents sense like any Gold Medallion Home.

Whether or not you're a candidate for a mobile home, here's something worth thinking about. More than 41,000 mobile homes sold last year were total electric. And each of the electrical comfort, convenience, work-saving and entertainment devices going into such a home had to be cost-compared with alternatives before it qualified for the mobile home value picture. One which is certainly sweeping the country.

If you like carefree, clean, quiet, economical, easy living, you'll enjoy total-electric living in any home — whether it has wheels or simply wears a Gold Medallion.

Disaster Loan Program Begun For All Farmers

J. Lynn Futch, State Director, Farmers Home Administration, has announced a new disaster loan program that opens the door to all farmers, rich or poor, as long as they are in designated areas.

In the past, only farmers who could not borrow money from regular lending sources could qualify for FHA disaster loans. Now, says Futch, all farmers in a formally declared disaster area will be eligible.

The new program is provided by the Disaster Relief Act passed by congress last year.

The loans will be available whenever the President or the Secretary of Agriculture designated an area for such aid.

Major drought, hurricanes, flood, and insect invasions are examples of such disasters, Futch said. During the 1969-70 fiscal year 12,778 loans totaling $89.4 million were handled nation-wide under the rules restricting them to low income farmers.

Another major chance will be in the interest rates mixiмum not to exceed six per cent.

Other changes include:

Interest and principal payments may be deferred during the first three years of the loan where planned income, because of disaster, will be less than expenses; and

Where the President declares a 'major disaster" area the FHA will be permitted to 'forgive" or cancel part of the loan used to replace losses or repair damage.

The new disaster loan program includes provisions for repairing or rebuilding dwellings and necessary farm service building to farmers, and dwellings to non-farm owners. Those qualifying for Farmers Home Administration disaster services must live in rural areas of not more than 5,500 population, and, in the case of Hurricane Celia, within the seven county designated area. This seven county area includes San Patricio, Nueces, Aransas, Refugio, Live Oak, Bee, and Jim Wells.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITAL

By: Vern Sanford

AUSTIN—According to a 14-month nationwide study by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures, the Texas Legislature ranks 38th among all 50 states.

Study reported that the Lieutenant Governor has too much power, and suggested that some of it be transferred to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

CCSL came out strong for annual sessions of the Legislature and found $15,000 a reasonable annual pay for senators and representatives (who now get $4,800).

Conference also suggested that Texas has far too many legislative standing committees (72 in all) and that 15 for each house would be plenty. A joint hearing House-Senate panels would also save time, the study maintained.

Broad powers of the Lieutenant Governor, said CCSL, are a "hindrance to the Senate developing leadership of its own choosing." Powers include appointment of committee chairmen, assigning bills to committees and casting tie-breaking votes.

States getting the best rankings were, in this order, California, New York, Illinois, Florida, Wisconsin, Hawaii, Michigan, Nebraska and Minnesota.

Texas ranked 45th in ability to control its own activities, 43rd in the use of available information, 36th in accountability to constituency and 17th in being representing of the state's various interests and population.

Boy Scout Week

Since this is Boy Scout Week it seems fitting to set forth the high standards that make up the goals of the Scouting movement.

It is the purpose of the Boy Scouts of America to provide for boys an effective program designed to build desirable qualities of character, to train them in the responsibilities of participating citizenship, and to develop in them personal fitness, thus to help in the development of American citizens who:

—Are physically, mentally and emotionally fit.

—Have a high degree of self-reliance as evidenced in such qualities as initative, courage and resourcefulness.

—Have personal and stable values firmly based on religious concepts.

—Have the desire and the skills to help others.

—Understand the principles of the American social, economic and governmental systems.

—Are knowledgeable about and take pride in the world.

—Have a keen respect for the basic rights of all people.

Are prepared to fulfill the varied responsibilities of participating in and giving leadership to American society and in the forums of the world.

The Boy Scouts of America accomplish this purpose by making its program available in partnership with existing groups having compatable goals, including religious, educational, civic, fraternal, business, labor and governmental bodies.

Peace Lutheran Church Services

Rev. Fred Boden of Our Savior Spanish Lutheran Church, Corpus Christi held the 7:30 p.m. Sunday service at Peace Lutheran Church under the new worship schedule during the interim pastor.

In addition to Reverend Boden, Peace interim pastor Rev. Ed Brown of St. John Lutheran Church, Corpus Christi, and Rev. J. C. Henning of Trinity Lutheran Church, Corpus Christi will be conducting the Sunday evening services at Peace.

This affords the members and the many winter visitors a fine opportunity to witness the varied and fine abilities of these men and to stimulate spiritual growth.

The called meeting of Peace and Faith Lutheran Church, Aransas Pass extended a unanimous call to the Rev. Edward Runge, Barlen, Ill. as pastor elect.

Worship services are 7:30 p.m. Sunday with communion the second Sunday of each month during the interim pastor schedule. Confirmation class is held at Faith Lutheran Church every Monday, 5:30 to 7:00 p.m.

Reporting Interest Income

All interest received or credited to taxpayers' accounts during 1970 must be reported on Federal income tax returns unless it is specifically exempt from tax, said Asa L. Crow, administrative officer of Internal Revenue Service, Corpus Christi.

Interest must be reported in the year it is credited to the account and subject to withdrawal, even though it is not entered on passbooks until the following year. The same true of interest on insurance dividends left on deposit with the insurance company.

Taxpayers may elect to report interest on their Series E, F, and J U.S. Savings bonds mature or are cashed in.

So-called "dividends" on deposits or shares of building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, credit unions, mutual and cooperative savings banks are also taxable as interest income and must be reported.

All interest received must be reported though the payer does not issue a statement to depositors.

The Kinsey Report

Erick Walker, president of Penn State University, said some very interesting things in his "charge to graduates" last year I believe will interest you.

Referring to the parents and grandparents of the graduates, he said, "These are the people who within just five decades—1919 to 1969—have by their work increased your life expectancy by approximately 50 percent, and who while cutting the working day by a third have more than doubled per capita output.

"These are the people who have given you a healthier world than they found. And because of this, you no longer have to fear epidemics of flu, typhus, diphtheria, smallpox, scarlet fever, measles or mumps that they knew in their youth. And the dreaded polio is no longer a medical factor, while TB is almost unheard of.

"Let me remind you that these remarkable people lived through history's greatest depression. Many of these people knew it is to be poor, what it is to be hungry and cold. And because of this, they determined that it would not happen to you, that you would have a better life, you would have food to eat, milk to drink, vitamins to nourish you, a warm home, better schools and greater opportunities to succeed than they had.

"Because they gave you the best, you are the tallest, healthiest, brightest and probably best looking generation to inhabit the land.

"And because they were materialistic, you will work fewer hours, learn more, have more leisure time, travel to more distant places, and have more of a chance to follow your life's ambition.

Walker said that while graduates' parents and grandparents had done all these things, they had had some failures. "They have not yet found an alternative for war, nor for social hatred," he said.

"Perhaps you, the members of this graduating class, will perfect the social mechanisms by which all men follow their ambitions without the threat of force, so that the earth will no longer need police to enforce the laws, nor armies to prevent some men from trespassing against others," Walker stated.

NATURE TRAILS

By CONNIE HAGAR

"If winter comes, can spring be far behind?"

—Unknown.

Have you seen the gillardias by the salt water swimming pool and the cosmos, thellasperma and calliopsis on Fulton Beach Road? Signs of spring are also visible in the arrival of large groups of shore birds, ruddy turnstones, both greater and lesser yellow legs, marbled godwits, long bill curlews, dunlin and the scarce little blue heron in its first year phase which is told by the yellow line missing by its bill, which line the little white heron has, then we have it in the second year and third year when it is dark blue as is the great blue heron, a permanent resident.

The black skimmers rise and fly in very large flocks, turn as one, settle in the area from which they rose, repeat the flight again and again. Watch a ruddy turnstone turn an empty shell and feed on crustations too small for our unaided eyes to distinguish.

Of the many species of sunflowers, two are in bloom on Fulton Beach Road, but not the silver-leaved species which is a late fall bloomer and in very few sections of Texas.

With the low tide on the islands, shelling has been good but with the high south winds of spring, shelling becomes poor but look, look, look!

Now that winter has given our country a good taste of cold weather, we see groups of robins in many places. Let us remember that a robin is not a sign of early spring in the South, but in the North where the ground is frozen the robins cannot feed but must migrate South to softer ground. Robins prefer worms for a diet.

Just look, look, look!

Fourth Graders Hear Talk on India

The fourth grades of Rockport Elementary School had a special guest on Jan. 29. Jim Ebel visited the school and told about his recent visit to India. He was introduced by his daughter, Claire, who is a fourth grader.

He told of his visit to Bombay and the surrounding countryside. He has many interesting souvenirs to show the classes. These included a hand-carved brass bowl, a brass lunch carrier, and a brass horn from a bus.

He also displayed hand-carved ivory jewelry and a beaded handbag. The biggest hit was a complete dholi, the costume of Indian men, which was modeled by Robin Crisp for the students.

The classes had just completed a study of India in geography, and Ebel also answered many questions from the students. His easily-seen word pictures and authentic display made the "visit" to India seem almost real.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequiently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I was married last year and both my wife and I got a tax package in the mail. If we file a joint return, whose label should be use?

A—Use your name label since the husband's Social Security number is used to identify joint returns. However, you should print your wife's name on the label. Her Social Security number should be entered in the space provided on the return.

Q—If I let IRS compute my tax and I have a refund coming, how long will it take to get it?

A—IRS can compute the tax and issue a refund within 4-5 weeks from the date the return is filed with the service center. Actually, it won't delay a refund to have IRS compute the tax since the computations are checked on all returns we receive.

Q—If you don't have to have a job before you move, can anyone deduct moving expenses under the new law?

A—No, there are still limitations on who can deduct moving expenses even though these limitations are less restrictive. For details, contact your local IRS office and ask for a free copy of Publication 521, "Tax Information on Moving Expenses."

You can also find information on moving expenses, as well as many other subjects in Publication No. 17, "Your Federal Income Tax." This booklet may be purchased for 75 cents from all IRS offices or the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Q—What kind of mistakes held up taxpayer refunds last year?

A—Refunds were delayed when taxpayers had to be contacted to supply information they forgot to include—or listed incorrectly—when they filed their Form 1040's. Missing W-2 forms, missing signatures, and missing or inaccurate Social Security numbers were some of the major types of errors.

Q—The name label is on the front cover of the instruction package this year instead of where it used to be on the Form 1940. Why the change?

A—To reduce costs and add flexibility to printing procedures. To put the name label on the Form 1040 required the cover of the package to have a cut-out space. The cutting added to the cost of the packages and also limited the number of printers who could supply the packages.

Before the present system was adopted, it was tested successfully last year in several parts of the country.

Q—I have a partial scholarship that covers some of my college costs. Do I have to report this as income?

A—Most scholarships are not taxable and do not have to be reported. Since there are many different types of scholarships, check with the organization that gave it to you for information on its tax status. Details can be found in Publication 07, "Tax Information on Scholarships and Fellowships," available free by contacting your local IRS office.

Q—What taxes can I deduct on my return?

A—If you itemize deductions, your state and local income taxes, personal property, real estate, general sales and state and local gasoline taxes may be decuted. List these on Schedule A, Itemized Deductions.

Federal taxes such as Social Security tax or those on alcohol or tobacco are not deductible. Hunting licenses, driver's licenses or auto inspection fees are also not deductible.

Q—What are the new tax rates for single people? I can't find them in the 1040 instructions.

A—These rates go into effect and packages that were just mailed out.

The new withholding schedules just issued to employers do incorporate the rates for single people, however.

Mrs. Fay Henderson and Mrs. Vennett Stone of Rockport were judges Saturday for a public speaking contest for students in the southern area of Distributive Education Clubs of America held at Del Mar College. More than 1,000 high school students participated and students of the year were chosen.

Eco-Talk

By Eddie Bradley

Dr. Michael DeBakey, the famous heart surgeon, was interviewed on television the other night (the program was not seen locally). In the interview, he said he didn't feel the federal government was spending enough on medical research as compared with other budgeted items. As an illustration, he said for each person in the United States, our government is spending $400 dollars for defense, $40 dollars for highways, and only 90 cents for heart research.

Dr. DeBakey attributed this apparent imbalance in priorities to the fact that the government just doesn't realize how important good health is to the American people. Personally, I believe the real answer is that we the people don't realize how important good health is ourselves. Oh, when we're sick we do. A person with a serious illness isn't worrying about anything else, he wants a cure for whatever is infecting him.

But when our health is good, we become notoriously unconcerned about future health problems; we take good health for granted. A great many men pride themselves on the upkeep they give to their house or their car, while at the same time, they pay practically no attention to the upkeep of their own bodies.

When we plan for the future, most of us concern ourselves mainly with the amount of money we will have and the amount of physical comforts at our disposal. We don't place nearly as much emphasis on our future at our disposal. We don't place nearly as much emphasis on our future health or that of our children.

How else can we explain the inequity between the money spent on roads for driving comfort and the money spent on researching heart-disease problems? How else can we explain our allowing the dumping of chemical poisons into the air and water of our land; poisons that will remain not for a period of years, but for a period of several life times.

There are many similarities between our inner environment, the body, and our outer environment, the world around us. Both environments have built-in systems for maintaining themselves in a health and balanced condition. However, man in his wisdom has introduced so many harmful elements into both systems that, in many cases, the protection is thrown out of kilter and body and environmental cancers are formed.

Unfortunately, just as some of our bodily diseases are discovered too late for a cure, many of the environmental sicknesses in the world are also found to be irreversible.

Maynard Bratton, Wisconsin and Roy Kuykendall, Ohio, were crowned kings of the shuffle board tournament at the pot luck dinner held at Mobile Inn Trailer Park Feb. 4, which was attended by 59 guests.
