The SDN Column

This is the month when Santa Claus mingles with football, and basketball pokes its head into the picture.

The phenomenon which is Texas High School Football keeps a lot of fans in a dither long past the dates when most of their home teams close out their seasons. The playoffs hold the interest of many fans, as well as the coaches and players themselves.

It is a wearying sort of activity for the players, however, and one of the foes which coaches must battle (those fortunate enough to be in the playoffs) is the physical and mental grind of an extended season. How long can the players of a given team maintain their interest week after week, and how long can they drive themselves physically on the practice field? It has been conceded in past years that some teams thought to be capable of winning state championships failed to do so simply because a sort of battle fatigue overtook their team members. So, it is an accomplishment worthy of note when a team goes on winning week after week past the regular season.

Snyder has a couple of playoff games booked in Tiger Stadium this weekend which should attract considerable interest. They are lined up to make an ideal weekend of football watching for fans who want a lot of it without leaving home. The Bronte- Sundown game Friday night and the Sonora-Clarendon game Saturday night are scheduled so that fans here can see both of them and then catch the Texas-Arkansas showdown on television in between.

Snyder was all set to seek some playoff games earlier, but suddenly found itself out of the market during the first playoff week when the resident Tigers were thrust back into their district playoff after seemingly being eliminated. The past weekend, Snyder was not in a good position geographically to get a playoff game, but this week was fortunate enough to land two playoff games. Nearly all cities and towns court the playoff games. It is good public relations and good business.

Two of the teams who will participate in the games here this weekend have held playoff games in Snyder before. Both Bronte and Sonora have been here, and the fact that they are returning speaks well of Snyder.

TO REINFORCE EUROPEAN COMMON MARKET

France Presents 6-Point Plan

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer

THE HAGUE (AP) —President Georges Pompidou of France proposed today a six-point plan for reinforcing the European Common Market and said his government is "favorable" to admitting new members.

But he maintained his resistance to pressure from other Common Market members at their meeting here to committing France to a specific date for the start of negotiations with Britain, Ireland, Denmark and Norway on their admission.

He said: "We think the preparatory work for negotiations should be finished in the shortest possible time."

West German Chancellor Willy Brandt, Dutch Foreign Minister Joseph Luns, the Italians and the Luxembourg delegation repeated their insistence that the conference fix a firm date.

A probable compromise was suggested by Jean Rey, president of the Common Market executive commission. Rey urged the political leaders to commit themselves to the principle of enlarging the Common Market, but to leave to its Council of Ministers the task of setting a date, a timetable and procedures for negotiations.

Rey suggested the council should do this before the end of the year.

It seemed clear that the French had finally accepted the notion of a broader community, blocked so long by former President Charles de Gaulle.

At one point in today's discussion, Pompidou spoke of "the probable introduction of four new countries" into the community.

Heading Pompidou's six-point plan was a proposal for regular meetings of the six foreign ministers to coordinate foreign policy.

The six foreign ministers already meet nearly every month, but their discussions are confined to economic matters. There has been widespread criticism from European countries who contend they can't make their viewpoints felt on great issues discussed between the United States and the Soviet Union.

There was little optimism evident, however, about the changes of agreement on negotiations for Britain's admission to the EEC.

A spokesman for West German Chancellor Willy Brandt said he was "moderately pessimistic" about getting an early date for talks with the British.

Brandt said negotiations could begin in the spring. Premier Mariano Rumor of Italy wanted to pin down the date to the end of March.

But French President Georges Pompidou, who requested the conference, said nothing about any date, and members of his delegation said he would hold out against setting one.

A possible compromise; agreement to set a date to set a date. That is, a fixed time would be set, July 1, for example, when the Common Market would let Britain know when talks would start.

RADIO BIDS REJECTED

Gas Rate Action Due

The Snyder City Council last night wrestled with the gas rate problem again, but did not quite come up with a solution.

After an hour and a half of discussion, the council informed Lester Victor, local manager for Lone Star Gas Co., that the city would have a proposal ready at its January meeting.

The gas company announced Oct. 17 that it was asking for a rate increase here, simultaneously with similar requests in other cities it serves. Lone Star asked for an increase in its minimum rate from $1 to $1.25 and percentage increases on a volume basis. Overall, the hike requested amounts to about 25 per cent and the gas company calculated that the average customer's gas bill would increase by approximately $1.70.

The gas company said its rate increase request was necessitated by increased costs of operation and increased cost for gas resulting from a hike of six cents per 1,000 cubic feet in the price Lone Star pays its transmission division for gas at the "gate" to the distribution system.

In discussion last night, city councilmen indicated that they felt that the gas company likely is entitled to an increase in rates. However, the discussion also indicated that no members felt that, on the basis of information available, that they could justify the amount asked by Lone Star.

The subject will be discussed again at a special meeting Dec. 18.

Les Francis Chevrolet Co. was successful bidder to furnish three cars for the police department and a half-tone pickup truck for the animal warden. Francis' net bid on the cars including trade-in vehicles, was $5,915.66. Wilson Motors, local Ford dealer and only other bidder on the cars, had a net proposal of $6,839.15.

Francis' bid for the pickup was $2,266.24. Wilson Motors had a proposal of $2,285.59 and Snyder Truck and Tractor Co. bid an International at $2,288.72. No trade-in was considered in the pickup bids, the city electing to keep a 1961 Ford Econoline van which had been in use by the animal warden.

Bids on radios for police cars and for two portable radio units were rejected and new bids were asked. This decision was made because one of the bids arrived after others already had been opened for tabulation. The decision to ask for new bids came on a split vote, with Councilmen Joe Sentell and John Thomas voting to go ahead and accept the low bid submitted. Councilmen John Boren, Rayburn Burgess and Herb Reed opposed that motion, and the council then agreed to ask for new bids. Bids had been submitted by Motorola, RCA and General Electric.

Two ordinances were approved on second and final reading, one setting the dog license fee at $2 per year and the minimum pound fee at $5, and the other requiring new street dedications to be a minimum of 60 feet wide.

An ordinance accepting the city's new code of ordinances was passed on first reading as councilmen looked over initial copies of the code book.

City manager George Patterson was authorized to ask for bids for replacing one of the ambulances under lease to Snyder Ambulance Service.

Ken Babcock requested permission to take water service from the U&F Water Supply Corp. west of town. The city manager was given authority to grant the request, contingent on compliance with policies established by the council. Bobby Burnett asked for a clarification of the ordinance dealing with home occupation, businesses, inquiring if an employe not living on the premises could be used in such a business. He was informed that only persons living in the home may work in a home occupation business, the type in residential zones covered in the ordinance.

Crowds On Hand For Yule Event

Colorful lights, Santa Claus and Christmas music combined with throngs of hundreds of people to introduce a Yuletide atmosphere to Snyder last night.

Youngsters lined up in long lines to talk to Santa Claus in his Santa Land house, which didn't quite get finished before the 5 p.m. starting time, but was pressed into use, nevertheless.

"It was about 10 minutes to eight when the Santa Claus line finally played out," said Chamber of Commerce President Shelby Coker, who expressed satisfaction over the turnout for the downtown festivities officially launching the Christmas shopping season.

There were good crowds on hand and stores remained open past their usual closing time for the convenience of shoppers who came into town for the event.

Arrangements will be made for Santa Claus to appear at other times between now and Christmas, Coker said.

A new arrangement of Christmas lights, a nativity scene and a gaily-colored tree contributed to the festive atmosphere around the square. Christmas music was played on two electronic organs installed for the special occasion on the south side of the courthouse. Mrs. Wendell Rehm and Mrs. Wayne Bethel played the two organs which were provided by Ken Claunch of the Conn Organ Co.

Home For Aged Burns

NOTRE-DAME-DU-LAW, Que. (AP) — A home for the aged burned down to the ground in this tiny lakeside community today and police said as many as 55 of its inhabitants were unaccounted for.

Quebec Provincial Police reported that about a score of the 75-80 persons in the building were known to have escaped the blaze that swept through the wooden, three-story building on Lake Temiscouata about 120 miles northeast of Quebec City.

Known to be in the home were 69 elderly patients, 17 of whom were listed as crippled and unable to move about without aid. The home had about 10 staff members.

A male and a female nurse told police they had time only to leap from the windows after seeing flames racing through the building.

The fire started about 6 a.m.

Thirty local volunteer firemen and reinforcements from neighboring communities fought in vain against the blaze.

About 15 of those who escaped were taken to a hospital. The others took refuge in private homes nearby.

PWP Organization Meeting Tonight

A group from the Abilene Chapter of PWP will present an informative program. Parents whose husbands or wives are deceased, or those who are divorced are invited to attend the meeting.

Madalyn O'Hair's Case Thrown Out

AUSTIN (AP) — Atheist Madalyn Murray O'Hair's suit to prohibit astronauts from praying and reading the Bible aloud in space has been thrown out of federal court.

U.S. Dist. Judge Jack Roberts granted the government's motion to dismiss the case.

He said Mrs. O'Hair failed to show she had a "cause of action."

11 Join Apollo Crew In Isolation

By PAUL RECER
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Eleven persons have been ordered into isolation with the Apollo 12 astronauts after a rubber glove being used to examine moon rocks ruptured under pressure.

A Manned Spacecraft Center official said the mishap Monday could slow down the preliminary examination of lunar rocks brought back by the Apollo 12 crew.

Among the 11 persons were seven scientists, six of them assigned to work on the preliminary examination of the Apollo 12 rocks. Their absence leaves 20 scientists to complete the work.

Four employes of a contractor also were quarantined.

The 11 moved into the quarantine qquarters with Apollo 12 astronauts Charles Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Alan L. Bean. Fourteen other men also occupy the dormitory-like quarters as part of normal operations.

Quarantine is scheduled to end on Dec. 10.

Bryan Erb, director of the Lunar Receiving Laboratory, said eight of the 11 persons became exposed to moon dust when a cut developed in a rubber glove extending into metal and glass cabinets which contained several moon rocks. The other three persons, he said came in contact with the eight who were initially exposed.

NASA's policy is to quarantine all persons who come in contact with lunar material until it is proved harmless.

Hippies Charged In Tate Slayings

By RICHARD E. MEYER
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two members of a wandering band of hippies were under arrest today and a third was being sought in the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and six others here last August.

Police said they would seek murder indictments against "four or five" other persons.

The honey blonde actress and four others were murdered at Miss Tate's Bel Air mansion Aug. 9. The following day, several miles away, a wealthy merchant and his wife were killed in a so-called "copycat" slaying.

Under arrest were Charles D. Watson, 24, of Copeville, Tex., and Patricia Kernwinkel, 21, of Los Angeles. Being sought was Linda Louise Kasabian, 19, also of Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles Times said members of a hate-oriented, cult band of hippies were suspected of the seven slayings, as well as at least four other "grotesque murders in the Los Angeles area.

The Times said police believe the victims were killed both to "punish" them for their affluent life style and to "liberate" them from it.

The newspaper said the police break in the case came two weeks ago when a young woman member of the hippie band told a police informer of the mass murders, recounting details which police said could be known only by the killers.

The arrests, the search for Miss Kasabian and the indictments to be sought culminate an intensive investigation by 19 detectives, Police Chief Edward M. Davis told a news conference Monday.

Detectives have concluded, Davis said, that the nomadic hippies "who committed the Tate murders" also stabbed the owners of a chain of markets, Leno and Rosemary LaBianca, to death.

The Los Angeles County grand jury is being asked for indictments against "all of the suspects, those we have named in warrants and four or five others, in all seven of the killings," said Police Inspector Peter Hagan.

State troopers hunted through hippie colonies in the Taos area of north-central New Mexico for Miss Kasabian. She is accused in Los Angeles murder warrants of killing Miss Tate, three of her jet-set companions and a friend of the teen-age caretaker on Miss Tate's estate.

Miss Kernwinkel, who pulled a hat over her head as police approached, was arrested Monday in Mobile, Ala., on a warrant almost identical to Miss Kasabian's.

Watson, accused in a warrant of killing only the caretaker's friend, Steven Parent, was arrested Sunday in McKinney, Tex., by his sheriff cousin, who summoned him to jail from Copeville by telephone.

The bodies of Parent, 18, and Miss Tate's jet-set companions —Hollywood hair stylist Jay Sebring, coffee heiress Abigail Folger and Polish playboy Voityck Frokowsky—were found scattered in and around the actress' home.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a man who is old enough to be my father. We want very much to get married, but my parents disapprove of him because of the difference in our ages. Abby, we have been in love for over a year now and if this isn't "love" I will be satisfied with whatever it is for the rest of my life.

We enjoy the same things, and have beautiful fun together. He is kind, loving, unselfish, and I KNOW we could be happy. So how important is age?

IN LOVE

DEAR IN LOVE: Age IS important, but it's not ALL IMPORTANT. You don't say how "young" you are — or how "old" he is. Neither do you give me a clew concerning how mature, experienced, independent, and self - sufficient you are. Have you dated many men? Have you ever been out in the business world: What's his track record? Past marriages? Children? Grandchildren, maybe? (Could you — and WOULD you be willing to support him if you had to?) These are all very important factors. Clew me in, and I'll be able to give you an answer.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I would like to comment on the woman who wanted to breastfeed her adopted child.

When I was a young girl I had a female Cocker Spaniel who was getting on in years. Then someone gave me a kitten which was two days old. I placed the kitten in the same box with the Cocker Spaniel and I thought it was "cute" the way the kitten kept trying to "nurse" on the Cocker Spaniel.

After three days, the milk came in! I could hardly believe it because that Cocker Spaniel had not had pups for a long time. Besides, I never knew a dog could nurse a cat!

Abby, that kitten was nursed by the dog until he was a full grown cat.

I witnessed this with my own eyes, but when I told my husband (who is a medical doctor of many years practice), he laughed at me.

After he read that item in your column pertaining to humans, he said in a much more humble tone, "If it could happen with humans, I suppose it could happen with animals." Thank you, Abby.

"VINDICATED" IN SANTA ANA

* * *

DEAR ABBY: It didn't surprise me to read in your column where a woman who had never borne a child was able to nurse an adopted baby. I once saw an old range mare who had been barren for years adopt an orphan colt and raise it on milk which seemed to have come in through a miracle.

DUDLEY, AN OLD COW POKE

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I belong to a car pool in which there is one mother who is giving us all fits. She will pick up the children at school and then proceed to do her marketing, pick up her dry cleaning, pay a few bills, and so on. Sometimes she doesn't bring the children back until dark. In the meantime, we mothers are half out of our minds for fear there's been an accident, so we are on the telephone calling each other and waiting.

Is there some nice way we can tell this thoughtless woman to do all her errands BEFORE she picks up the children at school?

SPOKESWOMAN

DEAR SPOKESWOMAN: Don't worry about trying to find a "nice" way to tell this woman that she is out of line. Just tell her that if she cannot manage to bring the children directly home from school in the future, she had better find other transportation for her child, because YOUR car pool is OUT.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Israel Jets Stage Attacks

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets bombed Arab guerrillas inside Jordan for the second day in a row today, then hit Egyptian targets along the southern sector of the Suez Canal, an Israeli spokesman reported.

The military spokesman said all planes returned safely.

Witnesses to the 15-minute attack across the Jordan River said the guerrillas fired on an Israeli patrol from positions south of the Sea of Galilee, the same area where Jordan and Israel traded artillery fire Monday after Israeli jets struck.

The witnesses said the Israeli planes did not encounter antiaircraft fire today. However, a military spokesman in Amman, Jordan said ground fire intercepted the two jets as they dropped napalm bombs and spewed machine-gun fire. He added there were no Jordanian casualties.

An Israeli spokesman said an Israeli border policeman was wounded when two grenades were thrown at his patrol in the occupied Jordanian town of Hebron, south of Jerusalem.

Three convicted Arab saboteurs began serving life sentences today for setting fire to a Jerusalem store and blowing up an Israeli railroad track. The three were tried before an Israeli military court and sentenced Monday. A fourth defendant received a 25-year prison term for his role in the incident.

Another military court handed down terms of 20 to 25 years to three young Jordanians who belonged to a guerrilla organization and were captured carrying weapons.

Seek Driver In Mishap

City Police are seeking an unidentified motorist who fled the scene after his car was in collision with the parked 1967 Model Pontiac of Bobby Leroy Hart, 204 Thirty-first Street, at 6:50 a.m. Monday in the 1900 block of Twelfth Street. Damage to Hart's car was estimated at $75.

Police also investigated a two-vehicle collision on Thirty-seventh Street at Avenue U at 3:29 p.m. Sunday that was not previously reported.

Involved were the 1966 Model Ford of Ben Michael Gafford, Route 2, and the 1951 Model Chevrolet pickup of Lewis Lawrence Ray, 1801 Avenue S. Damage to the pickup was placed at $75, and damage to the car was set at $50.

The nation's population may reach 360 million by the year 2000 and unless home construction increases by 50 per cent over current levels, many of them will not be housed.

JUDGE REYNOLDS

Rotarians To Welcome Governor

Rotarians will welcome on Wednesday the Governor of District 573, Rotary International, Judge Charles L. Reynolds of Childress, who will address the Snyder Rotary Club, one of 48 in his district, and will confer with Henry F. Clark, President of the Snyder Rotary Club, and with other club officials to obtain information on the club's plans for its service activities and to offer suggestions on Rotary administrative matters.

All members of the Snyder Rotary Club have been invited to a club assembly at 6 p.m. Wednesday at the Farm Bureau office on the Big Spring Highway.

Judge Reynolds is one of 298 Rotary governors throughout the world who are serving as representatives of Rotary International in districts composed of member clubs. Each district governor is responsible for supervising the clubs in his district. Rotary, an international men's service organization, has more than 658,250 members in some 13,961 clubs in 148 countries.

A member and past president of the Childress Rotary Club, Judge Reynolds is presiding Judge of the 100th Judicial District of Texas. He was elected Governor of District 573 at the Rotary international convention in Honolulu, Hawaii, in May, 1969, and will serve until June 30, 1970.

Though a seasoned Rotarian before his election to the office of district governor, Judge Reynolds attended an eight-day international assembly last May at Lake Placid, New York, at which all Rotary governors for 1969-70 attended in-depth seminars to plan for their responsibilities. One of his biggest responsibilities will be to hold a district conference of all Rotary clubs in this area at Plainview on April 23-25, 1970.

Gore Proposes Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leaders sought today to shape a compromise income tax cut proposal which can win both White House approval and Democratic support.

It is expected to include a limited increase in the personal exemption and some other changes for inclusion in the tax reform bill.

A cut to 23 per cent in the oil depletion allowance was written into the bill Monday.

The Republican compromise proposal, to be sponsored by Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., would be proposed as a substitute for the amendment of Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., to raise the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $1,000 for each dependent in four yearly steps.

The Gore measure is backed by Democratic leaders, but faces stiff administration opposition on grounds it would cost the Treasury too much revenue.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., the GOP leader, said Republicans hope the Percy plan—still being drafted as the Senate resumed its tax debate—will win administration endorsement.

He said it would involve an increase to $700 or $750 in the personal exemption, with adjustment in income tax rates as well.

Scott said estimates of the revenue cost are being prepared now.

He said the White House has taken no position on the GOP plan, but it is obvious the administration would prefer it to the Gore measure.

The Republican leader had said earlier he was inclined to support the Gore proposal. He said that drew a quick reaction from the administration—personal visits from officials of the Treasury and the White House.

"They looked pained," Scott said.

Texas To Feel Allowance Slash

HOUSTON (AP) — A slash in the oil depletion tax allowance voted Monday by the Senate could drain as much as $200 million a year from oil and gas operations in Texas, an industry leader said Monday.

This appraisal came from Kenneth E. Montague, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

"According to estimates from the U.S. Treasury and industry sources," he said in a formal statement, "the reduction in depletion rates from 27½ per cent to 23 per cept will remove between $150 million and $200 million a year from oil and gas operations in Texas unless offset by price adjustments.

Red Legislators Visit My Lai

By JAY SHARBUTT
Associated Press Writer

MY LAI, Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnamese legislators investigating an alleged 1968 massacre of civilians by U.S. troops entered this shattered hamlet today after being delayed by a South Vietnamese military operation.

Riding atop two tanks, the legislators brought with them four civilians who said they lived in or were near the hamlet during the alleged massacre of 100 or more villagers.

The legislators said the civilians told them they had not actually seen American soldiers shooting unarmed men, women and children in My Lai on March 16, 1968, but heard shooting and civilians crying.

Sen. Tran Van Don, leader of the investigating team who is chairman of the Senate Defense Committee, had been held up in nearby Quang Nga with his investigating team. South Vietnamese officers told them they could not enter My Lai until militiamen secured the area and made sure it was clear of Viet Cong.

Despite indications armed Viet Cong remained in the area following the South Vietnamese clearing operation, the hamlet was found empty.

Two men among the four civilians accompanying the legislators said they survived the incident by escaping into nearby paddy fields.

They told the legislators they saw the Americans entering the hamlet and "heard firing and people crying," reported Sen. Don, who acted as interpreter.

The two men said the women, children and old men in the hamlet—which at the time was under strong Viet Cong control—"gathered together in groups to show they weren't firing weapons."

The men ran out of the hamlet and came back when the Americans left at about 4 p.m., Don said. The two men pointed at a water-filled ditch about 1,000 yards from the hamlet and said they saw 30 bodies lying there after the U.S. troops had gone.

Don's nine-man legislative team—four senators and five House members—arrived Monday in Quang Ngai. He said he wanted "to get at the truth" and learn why the massacre "was kept a secret" if it actually occurred.

Court Pleas Are Entered

Several pleas were entered in county court yesterday.

Maria Hernandez and Adelina DeLeon both pleaded innocent to three charges of shoplifting and they were released on $250 personal bond on each charge.

The offense allegedly occurred Nov. 28.

Jean Boyd and Max Champion Baugh both pleaded innocent to charges of illegal transportation of beer, wine and whiskey and both were released on $500 bond. Baugh allegedly committed the offense Nov. 30 while the other offense by the other suspect allegedly occurred the day previously.

Eudalia Pena pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated and received a 30-day jail term, a $100 fine and court costs. The jail term portion of the sentence was probated for one year. The offense occurred Nov. 30.

Firemen Are Called

City Firemen answered calls to three grass fires yesterday afternoon.

The first one occurred at 1:30 p.m. on Twenty - fourth Street at Avenue E. The second call was at 2:40 p.m. to 1105 Avenue R. The last one — at 2:55 p.m. — was about two miles west on the Lamesa Highway.

Thieves stole three antique guns from the Hugh Billingsley residence at Dunn sometime yesterday, according to a report by Sheriff's Authorities.

Nixon Seeks To Eliminate Hunger

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon called today for a massive national commitment to end hunger and malnutrition and said, "The plain fact is that a great many Americans are not eating well enough to sustain health."

In an address prepared for a White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health, Nixon urged support for three measures pending in Congress which, he said, "should virtually eliminate the problem of poverty as a cause of malnutrition."

One measure would put a floor under the income of every American family, supplementing or providing incomes for 25 million persons.

Nixon said the meeting of experts in the field marks an historic milestone and added: "It sets the seal of urgency on our national commitment to put an end to hunger and malnutrition due to poverty in America."

The President, who got a view of the angry mood of many of the persons invited to the conference even before his scheduled keynote address, said the central question until now has been whether the nation would accept the problems of malnurishment as a national responsibility.

"That moment has passed," Nixon said. "... "Speaking for this administration, I not only accept the responsibility—I claim the responsibility."

He said while action is required by our national conscience, practical terms compel action.

Money is one factor in eradicating malnurishment, Nixon noted, saying the $5 billion plus he has proposed for new or bigger programs for food and family assistance next year would go far toward controlling the problem.

Windows Broken By Vandals Here

Vandals shattered the north window at the Sweet Shop, 2506 Avenue G, according to a City Police report. Officers said the crime was discovered yesterday morning.

Another report of a shattered window was received yesterday from the Diamond M Foundation, 911 Twenty - fifth Street. The front door glass had been hit with a rock.

Famed Sailor Tells 'How To Keep Fit'

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — The doughty globe-circler Sir Francis Chichester has written a small book on "How To Keep Fit" that sets a new world record for candor.

None of this pep talk — "Hooray, it's fun to have vim and vigor" — that you usually get from young muscle builders.

None of that sales pitch from reducing faddists about "It's joy to be slim."

This tough 67-year-old, whose life has been a jagged fluctuation between physical euphoria and a mass of ailments and accidents, believes in exercises — he's been doing them for 60 years — and in fasting.

But he tells you flatly "I do not like exercises" and "I hate" fasting. His attitude is that keeping fit is worth a lot of trouble.

The book's full title is "How To Keep Fit By One Who Never Is As Fit As He Would Like To Be," and it was published here recently by Coward-McCann.

Most Americans will recall that Chichester (later Sir Francis) in 1966 performed the feat of circumnavigating the globe in a 53-foot ketch, the Gypsy Moth IV. They may not recall that he once was a pioneer solo flier and a prominent yacht racer.

His book's main purpose is to offer directions for 21 exercises, some of them adapted from Yoga, requiring 30 minutes each morning. But in addition, in 18 pages preceding the outline of exercises, he sketches the history of his physical misadventures, and it is quite a history.

Aside from some boyhood episodes, like being bitten by an adder and taking a 40-foot fall from an oak tree, there is mention of his developing "rheumatism" at age 17 while working on a farm. He attributes this illness to the fact that he was unhappy and lonely.

It appears from the author's account that he has always had an extreme physical reaction whenever he has had to face social contact or public acclaim.

He first realized this in 1929, when he was 27. After a few months of flight instruction he flew a solo from London to Sydney in a little 90-miles-an-hour airplane.

"The fame I ran into hit me like a shock," he says, and put him "on the verge of a nervous breakdown."

The same thing happened after his 1966 trip around the world. The crowds, the excitement, the ceremonies and the banquets bothered him so much that he developed a duodenal ulcer.

During his middle years he worried a lot about his business (mapmaking) and his yacht racing, and he blames the tension for at least some of his ailments — gallstones, asthma, pleurisy, pneumonia and a lung abscess diagnosed as cancer. For some of these problems he went to a physician engaged in "natural healing."

Sir Francis believes that most illnesses, except those from infectious diseases, "are caused by stress, chiefly emotional stress."

His accidents included a plane crash in Japan in 1931 and a serious fall that damaged his leg just before the trip around the globe.

"I have had many struggles to get fit again after accidents or illnesses," he says, "but at times in my life I have been wonderfully fit, bursting with vitality and pentup desires for action."

His position is that "I believe that my regime of exercises, naturopathic treatment and diet have been powerful factors in my recovery, and today I consider them the most potent factors I know."

As for diet, he became a vegetarian in his later life.

He is quite frank about the drudgery of exercising.

"I do not like doing exercises and I cannot believe anyone else does," he says. "They require willpower, which I sadly lack when I get up in the morning. They take up valuable time which I would prefer to spend lolling in a bath, dawdling over breakfast, or browsing through the morning paper.

"I do them chiefly for negative reasons — because without them I feel depressed and miserable, because I get stiff-jointed, slowmoving, dull - thinking and finally end up with disc or sacro-iliac trouble.'"

Sir Francis also recommends, from his own experience a three from his own experience, a three-day fast, not for reducing but for eliminating poisons from the body.

Yet he admits: "I do not like fasting, I hate it. I find it grim and depressing to wake up in the morning and think 'No food at all today.'"

But for him, at least, fasting brings a lift. So much of a lift, in fact, that he has made it a rule not to make any decision or agreement for several days afterwards.

"My judgment," says he, "is always rotten at the end of a fast because I feel so strong and full of vitality, so snaguine and optimistic, so happy and benevolent, that projects which seemed difficult or dangerous before fasting now seem simple, easy and safe."

Scantily Clad Girls Are Selling More Merchandise

By WHAYNE EISENMAN
AP Business Writer

NEW YOK (AP) — Carl J. Haas tweaks his black mustache and describes with pleasure how scantily clad harem girls will entice male customers into his new shop.

"We think the more skin that's showing, the more sales we'll get," he says. "We're trying to create an orgy atmosphere."

"In fact," promises an ad for the store, "we may just add topless sales girls to worship at your feet. . ."

The recently opened shop in mid-Manhattan is selling, by the way, men's shoes.

So far, the harem costumes and the topless look are absent, but the girls are there.

Haas, Adler Shoe Shops vice president, says the harem costumes are ordered and the topless look is a very real possibility.

Haas is not alone in his desire to use feminine flesh to sell merchandise.

There is evidence that the nude look may be moving out of the ivory tower of high fashion into the rough and tumble of sales promotion.

"We've had some very high caliber drug firms ask us for topless and nude girls to promote products at medical seminars," said Stuart Golden, president of Trade Show Promotions International.

His firm employes between-job actresses who—a recent advertisement says—"are specially trained to stimulate interest in your product or services."

"Women seem, by far, the most desirable sales promoters," he said. His clients in three countries like the girls to wear miniskirts and bikinis as well as more conservatve uniforms.

He refuses the requests for nude and topless girls, he said, and often advises against bikinis if they're not right for the product.

Even so, a large electrical products company recently insisted on a model in a bikini to introduce a new computer to an audience of engineers.

"Girls attract attention," explained a spokesman for BP Oil, which in chill November weather had pretty girls in pretty skimpy costumes giving commuters handbills on something as sexless as home heating oil.

Brothers Unlucky In Draft Lottery

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Richard Stolman's birthday places him in the No. 1 group on the new draft lottery list. His older brother is a No. 2 draw.

"There was not much anyone could say," Stolman related Monday night after a telephone call to his parents in Nashville, Tenn. "Nobody could really grasp it."

Stolman, 19, is a sophomore at the University of Wisconsin. He was born Sept. 14. He said his brother, Douglas, 21, a senior at the University of Kansas, was born April 24.

David Eisenhower Birthdate No. 30

WASHINGTON (AP) — David Eisenhower, son-in-law of President Nixon, is in the upper one-twelfth of draftable males in the United States.

Eisenhower's birthdate, March 31, was selected No. 30 among the 366 days of the year drawn Monday night in the national draft lottery.

The 22-year-old grandson of the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower now holds a student draft exemption, good until his graduation from Amherst College in June.

Space Toys. Hit The Market

By ALLEN NACHEMAN
Associated Press Writer

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Are you one of those cynics who sit in front of the television set with a pencil and paper during the moon shots and figure what it's costing you in taxes?

The Apollo program is running around $25 billion and the population is about 200 million so each of us is kicking in an average of $125, right?

And you'd like yours back in cash.

I used to feel that way, but the coming of Christmas has brought me to my senses. It hasn't made me more patriotic, just more mercenary. I see now that it would cost me less in the long run to let the government run the space program than to conduct it in my living room, which is the alternative.

This is the season when strange people come into your home through the television set and explain to your children how they can spend twice your salary. And my 3-year-old is beginning to understand what they're talking about.

He sits in front of the set and watches Major Matt Mason driving his space buggy around Venus and he looks at me wide-eyed and asks, "Hat dat?"

But then the network news cuts in with pictures of the real astronauts walking on the moon and I can say to the kid, "We can't buy Major Matt. See? He's working for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

This is easier for him to understand than if I tell him, "Listen, kid. Your old man isn't making enough to support four people, a dog and a space program."

Has all this been getting by you? Have you been raiding the refrigerator during every commercial?

Major Matt, a 6-inch plastic doll, sells for $2.99 and his buddy, astronaut Jeff, is $2.44. Their talking space station, which furnishes authentic astronaut jargon at the pull of a string, goes for $7.99.

A powerful lunar tractor and protectively tinted space bubble to carry Matt and Jeff around your living room cost $8.99 and a mobile satellite launcher with its own 40 x 24 inch moonscape is $11.99. Are you taking this down?

Billy Blastoff, America's first boy in space, outfitted with space car, sled, tractor and crawler, is $5.99.

The deluxe Billy Blastoff set, including Robbie the Robot, radar scope, walkie-talkie and "radio active material," $10.99.

A moon copter with whirling blades, and an eight-wheel space mobile are $4.99 apiece.

Callisto, the astronaut from Jupiter, with transparent skull and esoteric extras, goes for $2.44.

Lost in space robot, $6.88.

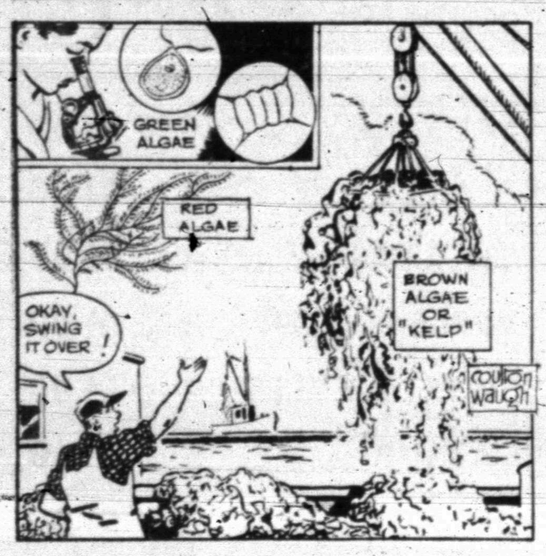

Blast off to the moon kit: $7.99.

Zintar the silver explorer, Zerak the Blue Destroyer and Zabor the Bronze Transporter: $4.99 each.

Mighty Zogg costs $13.99. Batteries are extra.

And do you think it will end there? How long do you think your kids are going to be happy with astronauts who aren't even as well-dressed as the Barbie Doll crowd?

A Junior Editors Quiz About ALGAE

QUESTION: What are algae and how do they live?

* * *

ANSWER: Algae are very primitive plants. Imagine plants without flowers or roots or stems or leaves and you'll get a good idea of them. Algae live in water, some in fresh, some in salt water, and they vary enormously in size. You would have to look through a microscope to see the smallest one, yet the strand of a large piece of the algae called kelp might be 200 feet long. Like the land plants, the algae live by changing substances they take in to plant food such as sugar and starch. They do this through the action of the green material called chlorophyll (in algae, this green is often masked by other colors.) Algae can take materials needed in their little food factories directly from the water. Fish and other animals which eat algae get these useful materials, too, and we get them by eating the fish. Someday, perhaps, the use of large amounts of algae will help to solve the world's food problems. As it is, seaweed, a kind of algae, is eaten in many parts of the world.

Worster, McKay, Brand, Fox Pace All-SWC Team

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex., (AP) Four players were unanimous selections on the 1969 Associated Press All-Southwest Conference football team — fullback Steve Worster and offensive tackle Bob McKay both Texas, center Rodney Brand of Arkansas and defensive back Denton Fox of Texas Tech.

The only repeaters from the 1968 All-star squad as picked by the SWC coaches were Worster and Brand on offense and ends Richard Campbell of Texas Tech and Mike Deniro of Texas A&M and linebacker Cliff Powell of Arkansas on the defensive platoon.

Texas' James Street, a senior quarterback from Longview, was named the Most Valuable Player on the coaches' ballots although he was nipped by Southern Methodist's Chuck Hixson in voting for the first string quarterback berth.

Street was the instant decision maker in Texas' triple-option—the leading ground gaining machine in the nation. Street was responsible for handing the ball off to Worster, keeping it or making a quick pitch to the halfback. He also proved he could pass when the defense ganged up on the Longhorns' Wishbone T.

There were 13 players chosen on the offensive unit with Gary Hammond of Southern Methodist and Charles Speyrer of Texas receiving an identical number of ballots for the wide receiver berth. Jim Bertelsen of Texas and Larry Stegent of Texas A&M tied for votes at a running back spot opposite Bill Burnett of Arkansas.

On defense, ends Richard Campbell of Texas Tech and Mike DeNiro of Texas A&M tied for a slot opposite Texas' Bill Atessis who was selected by a wide margin.

The majority of the coaches voted for only four linemen and three linebackers so the middle guard position was dropped on defense.

Hammond, who teamed with the nation's premier Passer in Hixson to give SMU a constant sudden touchdown threat, was named Offensive Sophomore of the Year.

Rice's Rodrigo Barnes, a linebacker-defensive end, was picked as the Defensive Sophomore of the Year.

Ed Marsh of Baylor, the nation's top punter, and Jerry Don Sanders of Texas Tech, place-kicking specialist, won awards.

NO. 1 HORNS, NO. 2 HOGS TO DECIDE NAT'L TITLE

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Irrepressible Texas and immovable Arkansas held onto the one-two spots today in the Associated Press' college football rankings, setting the stage for Saturday's blockbuster between the two Southwest powers.

The Longhorns stacked up 708 points, including 31 first place ballots, and the Razorbacks had 612 points and no first place votes from a national panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

The two meet at Fayetteville, Ark., in the glamor game of the year. At stake is the southwest Conference championship, the host spot in the Cotton Bowl and probably the No. 1 ranking.

After an idle weekend for most of the teams, which have finished regular season play, there was little change in the rest of the Top Twenty.

Penn State, one of the few teams in action, stayed No. 3 after blistering North Carolina State 33-8. The Nittany Lions, who garnered three first place votes, had 578 points.

Ohio State remained fourth with 479 points; Southern California was fifth with 426 and one first place vote; Missouri stayed in the sixth spot with 356 points and Michigan, No. 7 with 328 points and one first place ballot. All were idle Saturday.

Although both were idle, Louisiana State and Notre Dame swapped places. LSU moved up a notch to eighth and the Irish dropped one to ninth, rounding out the Top Ten was UCLA which climbed a place, although finishing play for the season two Saturdays ago.

Auburn went from 12th to 11th after blasting Alabama 49-26. Tennessee went from 10th to 12th despite clouting Vanderbilt 40-27; Nebraska and Mississippi stayed 13th and 14th after days off and Purdue moved up a notch to 15th after an idle weekend.

West Virginia, Stanford, Florida, Houston and Toledo completed the Top Twenty.

Voting for the Top Twenty teams will continue after Saturday's Texas-Arkansas clash and a final tally will be held after the bowl games New Year's Day.

Texas and Arkansas warmed up for their important meeting with resounding victories on Thanksgiving Day. Texas pounded Texas A&M 49-12 and Arkansas bounced Texas Tech 33-0.

Tigers Take On Talented Ector

It's out of the frying pan into the fire!

At least that's the situation Snyder's Tigers probably will find themselves in tonight when they journey to Odessa to take on Ector in another non-conference basketball clash.

The Bengals have lost their first two tilts to two tough teams, but Ector could be stronger than either Andrews or Lubbock-Estacado — the early victors over the Tigers. Moreover, like the first two foes, they also will have the home court advantage.

Snyder does not open its home slate until Tuesday, Dec. 9. This weekend, the Bengals will be at Irving for their first tournament of the season.

Coach Ned Underwood's boys have been working out in earnest for the Ector clash, and he plans to try a double post attack with Danny Farmer, 6-2½ junior, and Ronald Ward, 6-1½ senior, working on the inside and Bruce Almond, Wesley Bishop and Glen Rambin operating on the outside. Bishop is a senior and the other two are juniors. All are in the 6-0 to 6-2 height range.

Coach Bill Bundy's Kittens will be seeking their third straight triumph, and he plans to go with Dubby Preston and Kent Horsley on the inside and Jackie Murray, Ronnie Morse and David Thompson on the outside.

State's Death Toll Grim

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents sent the violent death toll spiraling as a total 80 persons were reported dead at the end of the long Thanksgiving holiday.

Of that number, 44 died on state roads and highways, 16 were victims of shooting incidents, 7 died in plane crashes and miscellaneous violence claimed 13.

The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Those who died in the last 48 hours of the period included these:

Two separate accidents on El Paso city streets claimed the lives of Carol Ann Burr, 17, and Mrs. Elena Vega, 62, both of El Paso. They died of injuries received in separate two-car collisions Sunday.

A Dallas pedestrian died Sunday night after a freak accident Saturday evening which turned him into a human torch. Officers said Rufus High, 31, was walking along a freeway carrying a bucket of gasoline toward his stalled car when he was struck by a car. The impact drenched High with flaming gasoline and he received third degree burns over most of his body.

A Houston-based Department of Public Safety officer died Sunday evening after being electrocuted. The DPS said Arliss Wayne Ray was flying a model airplane when it struck a high voltage line. No age was immediately available on him.

Fire Department Gets New Engine

Snyder Fire Department Engine No. 2 rolled into town yesterday afternoon after a journey from Oklahoma City where it was purchased from the Boardman Company.

At the controls was Dick Folsom, a representative of the firm, who turned the keys over to Fire Chief Alfred Kohl. Engine No. 2 is a 750-gallon (per minute) pumper that will replace a 1949 Ford truck that had a 200 gallon booster tank on it.

The shiny new red fire truck carries 500 gallons of water and has a hose bed capacity of 1,500 feet of 2-inch hose. There are spacious compartments on both sides, the back and in front behind the cab whereas the old truck did not have any compartments. Total cost of the new truck with trade-in was $22,600, and the price includes everything except the hose.

"We plan to use it at the East Station," said Kohl. The new truck has a 477 cubic inch Ford engine, and it was built to specifications.

Last year, the Fire Department purchased a 350 - gallon booster truck. The addition of the new one this year gives the Snyder Fire Department a total of five pumper trucks and two booster trucks. Four of the five pumpers are 750-gallon pumpers while the other one is a 500-gallon pumper. Both booster trucks are 350-gallon trucks.

ICC Issues Emergency Order Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission moved today to ease the effect of a national freight crisis in case of a nationwide railroad strike scheduled for 12.01 a.m. Wednesday.

The ICC, announcing plans to issue an emergency order, said it is authorizing its field supervisors and directors to grant on-the-spot authority to re-route commerce and passengers by motor vehicle.

Meanwhile, mediation sessions were continuing in an effort to avert a national shutdown. Taking part were railroad management groups, four shopcraft unions and the National Mediation Board.

The ICC said its full resources and 82 field offices will be employed to assist in alleviating the distress of shippers if the strike goes off on schedule.

Priority treatment, the commission said, will be given shipments for defense, health, safety and welfare purposes.

The ICC said it will grant railroad rerouting orders to ease the emergency needs of shippers in areas where rail operations continue to function.

No More Legal Delays In School Desegregation Cases

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has spelled it out for its six Southern states — no more legal delay in school desegregation cases.

"The new modus operandi is to require immediate operation as unitary systems," the court said Monday. "Suggested modifications to unitary plans are not to delay implementation."

The court's ruling came Monday as it ordered an immediate start on a two-step desegregation plan in 16 districts scattered across the six states in the circuit — Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

In outlining the plan, the court said immediate desegregation had been ordered previously in cases involving Mississippi school districts and "it must likewise be effectuated in these and all other school cases now being or which are to be considered in this or the district courts of this circuit."

The 16 districts directly involved in Monday's ruling were told the first step must be finished no later than Feb. 1 and must include all that is "necessary to conversion to a unitary system save the merger of student bodies."

In the second step, the court said, the school districts have until the start of the school year next fall to merge the student bodies.

For now, the major emphasis is on desegregating faculties and some facilities—such as school buses.

"Despite the absence of plans, it will be possible to merge faculties and staff, transportation, services, athletics and other extracurricular activities during the present school term," the court said.

One [illegible] to be met by Feb. 1, is that the teaching staffs be reassigned so that "in no case will the racial composition of a staff indicate that a school is intended for Negro students or white students."

The ruling said the school district, if necessary, must make acceptance of reassignment to another school "a condition of continued employment."

Other requirements which would apply generally in each district included:

—Teacher assignments, dismissals, demotions, promotions, hiring and salaries must be made without racial discrimination.

Great Lakes Region Has Heavy Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry cold and snow stung interior sections of the nation's Northeast today while gale-force winds lased coastal areas.

Snow fell from the eastern Great Lakes to the north Atlantic Coast. Gale warnings remained in effect through the night from Block Island, R.I., to Eastport, Maine.

Temperatures skidded near zero in northern New York. Readings in the teens ranged westward into Michigan and east into central New England.

The cold settled deeper into the South, with mercury levels in the 30s as far south as Georgia.

Heaviest snows piled up in the eastern Great Lakes region where Buffalo and Rochester, N.Y., both measured 9 inches. Two additional inches fell at Pittsburgh overnight, atop 2 inches already on the ground.

Clear skies were widespread outside the snow belt, and temperatures generally were only seasonably crisp at worst. Lingering mildness in the Plains held overnight lows in the 30s.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 9 at Massena, N.Y., to 67 at Key West, Fla.

Santa And The Dumbbell

ONCE upon a time there was a boy named Robert Clarence Hector Lee. But no one in the world ever called him Robert Clarence Hector Lee.

He was called Woodenhead, or Dunderpate, or Rattlebrain. Or just plain Loony. His teachers called him Flibbertygibbet. Even his mother called him a Goose.

But mostly he was called Booby Bobby for, sad to say, that is what he appeared to be. He was so foolish that he thought goldfish were pure gold and the same thing as money in the bank. When his mother said she wished she could afford a gorgeous red velvet dress for Christmas, Booby Bobby took his two pet goldfish out of the bowl and put them in his mother's purse.

His mother got the goldfish back into the bowl just in time but Booby Bobby could not understand why she was so upset and did not buy the gorgeous red velvet dress for Chsirtmas.

He was so loony he thought that the shapes clouds make in the sky were the real thing and not clouds at all.

At school his desk was next to the window. He liked to lie back in his seat and stare at the sky. One day the teacher was at the blackboard explaining a very important point in the New Math for First Graders. Suddenly Booby Bobby jumped from hs seat shouting "Look! Look! It's Santa Claus! He has his bag on his shoulder and oh, see! all the toys are spilling out of the bag!"

The children scrambled to the windows. Even the teacher forgot about New Math for a second as she came for a look. All they saw were clouds.

"You sit down and stop disrupting this class!" snapped the teacher.

"It is Santa!" insisted Booby Bobby. "I saw him!"

"Sit in the corner!" ordered the teacher, rapping his knuckles with her ruler.

The children sniggered and called him a dunce. The teacher wrote a sharp letter home to his father saying something would have to be done.

Poor Booby Bobby. He was so goofy he thought puppets were living creatures. He saw a Christmas puppet show where an angry giant tweaked Santa Claus by the nose. Booby Bobby rushed up to the little stage and swatted the giant with his fist shouting, "Shame! Shame!"

The giant was smashed to bits and the owner of the show sent Booby Bobby's father a bill for $17.50.

"Every day it's some new embarrassment," groaned the father when he came home from work that night and got all this bad news. "The boy is the laughing stock of the town."

"Poor Goose," sighed the mother. "How lonely it must be to have everyone making fun of him. He needs a friend. If he had a friend perhaps he would be more sensible."

While they talked Booby Bobby was standing in the umbrella stand. He was pretending to be an umbrella so his mother would not be able to find him when bedtime came.

Umbrella or not, he heard all his parents said about him. He was sad to have made them so sad, especially at Christmas time.

He was not aware that he was lonely and he did not really mind people making fun of him. Still, he thought, maybe his parents were right and things would be better all around if he had a friend. It might make people think he was important and not just a boob.

"Tomorrow," he said to himself, "I will go to the store and buy a friend."

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

* * *

Q — Can I take a business deduction for the bottles of whiskey I buy as Christmas gifts for my customers?

A — Yes, business gifts are a deductible expense as long as they do not exceed $25, to any one customer during the year. If gifts total more than $25, only $25 may be deducted. A gift to a customer's wife or child must generally be included with any gift to the customer himself in figuring the $25 limit.

Note that gifts which cost $4 of less are not subject to this limit if your name is clearly and permanently printed on the item and is one of a number of identical items distributed by you. This would cover calendars, pens and similar items.

Q — I've taken a part-time second job. What can I do to stop having Social Security taxes taken out of my pay on both jobs?

A — Each employer is required to withhold Social Security taxes on the first $7,800 of wages paid employees in 1969. However, if more than the maximum of $374.40 is withheld for Social Security because you had two jobs, the excess can be claimed as a credit on your 1969 income tax return.

Procedures for claiming this credit are explained in the instructions you will receive with your tax forms.

Q — Can I deduct my veterinary fees when I figure out my farm income on Schedule F, Form 1040?

A — Yes, veterinary fees as well as medicine for farm livestock are deductible when you report farm income and expenses.

Veterinary care for personal pets is not deductible.

Q — What types of taxes are involved when IRS closes down a business for failure to pay Federal taxes?

A — Any type of tax may be involved; however, these cases usually involve employers who fail to turn over to the Government the money they have withheld from their employees' wages for income and Social Security taxes.

Drastic steps such as closing a business or levying on wages are only taken as a last resort after the taxpayer has repeatedly failed to make satisfactory arrangements to pay the tax. Congress has authorized IRS to take certain specific actions in such cases in fairness to the other taxpayers who do pay in full and on time.

Q — I have fully supported my grandmother for years. Will we still be able to claim her as a dependent this year even though she is now in a rest home?

A — Yes, you may still claim her, so long as you continue to support her and she meets the other dependency tests. A close relative, your grandmother for example, does not have to be a member of your household to qualify as a dependent.

If your grandmother is in a rest home primarily because of the medical care provided there, the entire cost of her maintenance is considered a medical expense. If personal or family reasons prompted the decision for her to enter the home, only those expenses specifically for medical care will be considered deductible medical expenses.

Q — I won't be working anymore this year so why can't I file my tax return now? I could use the money I'm expecting to get back.

A — Existing regulations provide for the filing of an income tax return after the end of the tax year, which, with rare exceptions, is the calendar year for employees. Even though you may not work or receive income during the rest of the year, a tax return is required to be filed on the basis of a full tax year. To avoid delays when you file for your refund, make sure you have a Form W-2 statement of wages paid and taxes withheld attached to your return. Your employer should have given you your W-2 within 30 days after leaving employment.

Westmoreland And Laird Accept Vietnam War Policy

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William Westmoreland says the war in Vietnam "would be over by this time—or would be nearly over" had the United States continued bombing North Vietnam.

The Army chief of staff made the assessment before a House subcommittee.

Transcripts of his testimony and that of other top Pentagon officials including Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird before the subcommittee two weeks ago were made public Monday.

Laird told the committee President Nixon's Vietnam policy is working—and could lead to "a military victory" for the Saigon government.

But should the process of Vietnamization of the war falter, peace talks prove fruitless and North Vietnam step up military aggression, Laird said, the United States is prepared to escalate its war effort.

"I would not rule out that possibility completely," Laird said. He did, however, seem to rule out use of nuclear weapons by American forces.

Westmoreland said if the bombing halt had not been ordered by former President Lyndon B. Johnson more than a year ago "the enemy would have fully realized that he had nothing to gain by continuing the struggle."

But he acknowledged that view has the benefit of hindsight, saying: "The authorities that made the decision . . . had every expectation that this was going to work. I think most prudent individuals would have come to the same conclusion."

The four-star general, former U.S. commander in Vietnam, told the subcommittee he accepts Nixon's Vietnam policy and would not resume the bombing now.

He emphasized that Vietnamization would be a gradual process with American troops staying in South Vietnam for several years. But he ruled out an enemy victory unless Red China steps in.

Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor agreed:

"If we can just buy some time in the United States by these periodic progressive withdrawals and the American people can just shore up their patience and determination, I think we can bring this thing to a successful conclusion."

Ex-Legislators Serving To Qualify For Benefits

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Several former legislators are putting in brief stints with state agencies that will qualify them for retirement benefits of $1,800 or more a year.

Included are several who registered with the House clerk as lobbyists during the 1969 legislature.

A new state law says former legislators who served as much as eight years may qualify for state employe retirement benefits by getting a state agency job and paying $288 into the retirement fund for each year they were in the legislature before Jan. 1, 1970.

According to available records former lawmakers went on the state payroll in recent months. Former Sen. James E. Taylor, former adjutant general of Texas and former director of the Texas Motor Transportation Association; former Sen. Weaver Moore of Houston, who presided over the founding meeting of George Wallace's American party in Texas, former Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, who once represented chemical companies before the legislature; former Sen. William Fly of Victoria, who was defeated for reelection in 1960 after he ardently advocated a state sales tax; former Sen. Vernon Lemens, who registered this year as a lobbyist for the Texas Finance Institute; former Rep. Jack Bryan, registered this year as a lobbyist for the Texas Motor Transportation Association; former Rep. Fred Niemann, who registered with the House clerk as legal counsel for several state wide associations, including the licensed vocational nurses and the Texas Apartment Association; and former Rep. Henry Lehman of Giddings.

Moore and Fly are working for the State Railroad Commission as hearing examiners in the transportation division; Taylor is a "military property auditor" for the adjutant general; Phillips worked two months as a "special assistant" to Sen. William Moore of Bryan; Lemens is working on a "temporary basis" as a special researcher for the insurance department; Bryan is making an investigation of dormant water districts for the Texas Water Rights Commission; Niemann is doing special research for the state Agriculture Department on state laws dealing with herbicides and insecticides; and Lehman is in the state Treasury Department's escheat division. Lehman succeeded state Treasurer Jesse James, his new boss, in the House.

Lehman said he is "down here working. I hope to keep the job as long as I can." He said he will "probably pay" his $288 a year for each of his 18 years of House service.

Fly said he would work until he qualified for retirement benefits.

Railroad Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey said of Fly and Moore, 68: "We had some work they could do and put them to work. Nothing was said about it being temporary. They were not hired from a temporary standpoint."

The ex-legislators who qualify will be eligible for $150 a month in retirement benefits, plus $20 for each year of service beyond eight years. Lehman would be eligible for $350 a month, Moore for $270 a month and Lemens $290 per month.

Everett Anschutz, assistant executive secretary of the State Employes Retirement System, said a former legislator could serve for a month and a day and qualify under the new law for retirement checks.

Some employes grumble because of what they call favoritism in the new retirement law. It's possible for an ex-legislator with eight years of service to get back the $2,304 he contributed to join the system in less than two years of retirement.

But Anschutz says there is another side.

The legislative retirement system was not set up until 1963. Lawmakers then serving were given credit for their prior service when they joined the new system, Anschutz said.

"The legislature is giving these guys the same chance they would have had if they had been on the payroll in 1963," Anschutz said.

Violent Hurricane Season Ends Today

MIAMI (AP) — The most violent hurricane season in 16 years ended today after blowing a multitude of new records into weather history.

Thirteen tropical cyclones, from Anna to Martha, whipped up the most since 1953 when there were 15, the National Hurricane Center reported in a post-season summary. Only nine of the 1953 storms became hurricanes.

Ten storms burgeoned into hurricanes this year, the largest array in 19 years. There were 11 hurricanes in 1950.

Camille, which struck Mississippi and other Gulf Coast areas, was the most damaging storm of record, Hurricane Center Director Robert Simpson reported. Camille caused losses estimated at more than $1.4 billion, Simpson said. Lives lost totaled 258, and 68 other persons are missing, he added. The property losses slightly exceeded those inflicted by Betsy in 1965.

The bugle call known today as Taos was composed in 1862 by a United States Union general, Daniel Butterfield.

Helicopter Crewmen To Be Released

SEOUL (AP) — U.S. military headquarters announced today that three American helicopter crewmen downed in North Korea Aug. 17 will be released Wednesday at the Panmunjom truce village.

A military spokesman said U.S. and North Korean representatives would meet at 11 a.m.—9 p.m. Tuesday EST—for the release of the three fliers.

They are expected to be sent to the U.S. Army's 121st Evacuation Hospital 20 miles west of Seoul for a medical checkup before being flown back to the United States.

The three men are Capt. David H. Crawford of Pooler, Ga., Spec. 4 Herman E. Hofstatter of Lowpoint, Ill., and WO Malcolm V. Loepke of Richmond, Ind. The North Koreans reported that Crawford and Hofstatter were seriously injured and Lopeke was slightly injured, then later reported them in "normal condition" after treatment.

They were shot down in a small helicopter while on a training flight. The U.S. Command said they got off course, and the North Koreans said they were downed near Kumchon, 15 miles north of Panmunjom.

Informed sources reported that the United States would give the North Koreans a letter of apology in exchange for the men. The North Koreans had demanded that the United States admit the helicopter was on a hostile mission, a demand American representatives rejected, but it was not known just what the letter would say.

Group To Work In Cuba Harvest

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Seventy U.S. citizens flew to Cuba Monday to help harvest sugar cane.

It was the second such group to go in four days. Last Friday 75 flew to Havana. An attorney for the groups, which call themselves the "We Shall Win Brigades," said three more will go in January.

First Military Draft Goes Back To Days Of Moses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service System likes to say the first military draft was ordered by God.

No sooner had Moses led the Israelites out of bondage in Egypt, the Bible says, that Jehovah ordered him to:

"Take ye the sum of all the congregation of the children of Israel, after their families, by the house of their fathers, with the number of their names, every male by their polls; from 20 years old and upwards, all that are able to go forth to war in Israel, thou and Aaron shall number them by their armies."

By this means, Moses registered, classified and inducted a conscript army of 603,550 citizen soldiers.

Between God's draft and the U.S. induction system, which underwent major reform Monday night with the imposition of a lottery selection method, history is studded with examples of mandatory military service.

The Athenians, Spartans and Romans all required citizens to serve in their armies under rules that would make most Americans cringe.

England maintained the practice from pre-conquest times on and Capt. John Smith brought the draft with him when the first permanent English colony was formed in Virginia in 1607 with each settler a soldier.

But as New World colonization spread, forms of required military service changed and the militia system replaced straight out draft.

State troops were the main units in George Washington's Revolutionary army, a situation that failed to please the future first president.

Shortly after he became chief executive Washington asked Congress for a "uniform and effective system for the militia of the United States."

Congress responded with an act in 1792 requiring service in militias, which remained, however, under state control as to length of service and training.

Other efforts to maintain a large national army under federal control failed in the face of strong objections against any permanent, standing military force and compulsory training.

Most militia units were manned by volunteers and it was such forces that fought the War of 1812, the Mexican War and much of the early Civil War.

Bedeviled by short enlistments and badly trained militiamen, President Lincoln obtained a law in 1862 authorizing him to order states to meet their troop quotas by drafts.

When this didn't work, Lincoln had instituted in 1863 the first national draft act.

The traditional objection to mandatory military service rose anew, fueled by the law's major loophole—a provision allowing a draftee to obtain his own substitute or buy his way out with a $300 payment to the government.

Riots followed, the worst taking place in New York City where Irish immigrants and other poor people fought police and Army units for four days. Property damage ran into the millions and deaths have been estimated at 1,000.

Following the Civil War the nation reverted to a tiny army stationed mainly on the frontier to fight Indians. Although a draft was instituted during the Spanish-American War, the fighting ended before the induction system was really put into effect.

The modern draft was born May 18, 1917, as the United States prepared to fight in World War I.

Each registrant was assigned a serial number and these numbers determined the order of induction. The numbers were drawn in a national lottery with Secretary of War Newton D. Baker drawing the first number from a big fish bowl.

Induction was stopped but the draft mechanism was kept alive after the war by a Joint Army and Navy Selective Service Committee. When the Selective Training and Service Act was passed Sept. 16, 1940 on the brink of U.S. entry into World War II, the draft machinery was ready.

Dec. 13, 1941, six days after Pearl Harbor, Congress amended the act to remove a restriction that inductees could serve only in the Western Hemisphere or U.S. territories, and the period of military service was extended to the duration of the war plus 6 months.

Again a lottery was used, setting the order of induction on serial numbers drawn from a glass bowl. However, unlike the previous lottery when fewer men were needed, the World War II drawing determined only when a man would go, not if he would go.
