Court Slates Redistricting Rule Today

HOUSTON (AP) — A three-judge federal court was expected to decide today whether to let Texas delay congressional redistricting until after the 1964 elections.

In a 2-1 decision last Oct. 19 the court ordered reapportionment on a population basis.

The jurists said the state must hold at-large elections this year unless it is redistricted. Their ruling was upheld by the Supreme Court.

A hearing on a motion by the state to delay redistricting reconvened today for questioning of three more witnesses and final arguments. Six testified last week.

The judges had hoped to finish it in one day but testimony dragged through Friday and Saturday, when U.S. Circuit Judge John R. Brown said: "We hope to be able to decide this case in a very, very brief time after we conclude arguments."

IMPORTANT

Brown several times has told the lawyers their closing arguments will be the most important phase.

Judges Brown, James Noel and Joe Ingraham ruled in October the state's current districts are unconstitutional in that they favor rural areas over urban areas.

While their order for Texas to redistrict was upheld by the Supreme Court, it said state officials could seek a delay from the Houston judges.

If the court here grants the motion for delay, normal election arrangements will continue and the legislature will have an opportunity to redistrict at its regular session starting in January.

If the court refuses delay, Texas congressmen will be elected at-large until steps are taken to reapportion the state.

The redistricting petition was filed last year by five Republicans and more than 20 persons have received court permission to intervene as plaintiffs. Among them are 23 of 26 Republican candidates for Congress.

WITNESSES

Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Bob Looney, a Democratic candidate for congressman-at-large, called the only witnesses.

Carr asked the court to let 1964 elections be held as planned, giving the legislature time to redistrict next year.

Looney and the Republicans want the state to redistrict immediately or establish ground rules for electing all 23 congressmen on an at-large basis.

Judges Ingraham and Brown, both Republicans, signed the Oct. 19 majority opinion. Noel, a Democrat, dissented.

Witnesses heard Friday were Robert E. Johnson, executive director of the Texas Legislative Council, and State Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio.

Johnson testified modifications are needed for at least 18 of the state's congressional districts. He said four to six weeks are needed for the council to finish compiling information that would be needed by the legislature.

Spears said he believes the legislature could redistrict the state within a month if called into special session for that purpose only.

DELAY EFFECT

Frank Erwin, Austin lawyer and new chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, testified Saturday that the perfect answer to the problem would be for the court to delay the effect of its order until after the November general election.

He said delaying the primaries scheduled May 2 would cause extreme hardship on the candidates.

Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo said in his opinion a special session of the legislature could not redistrict the state within 30 days. He said now is a bad time to try because "the legislators are interested in getting re-elected."

Gov. John Connally answered in writing five questions asked him by lawyers in the case.

To one question Connally said he never categorically stated he would not call a special session of the legislature for congressional redistricting.

Questions asked the governor were drafted by Looney. Carr said Connally answered the queries in his presence. The governor did not appear at the hearing.

Calls Heard From Life Raft

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "There's somebody out there in a life raft, we're sure of that," a Coast Guard spokesman declared today as search widened for a transport plane with nine men aboard that vanished off the California coast Saturday.

"Faint radio signals" picked up late Saturday on two international distress channels came from the Gibson Girl type of emergency transmitter carried in a ditching operation."

The Coast Guardsman added, "And they came from the area where the DEC4 was last reported."

Long-range search planes, Coast Guard cutters and Navy vessels crisscrossed a vast ocean area of some 15,000 square miles Sunday, however, without sighting aircraft wreckage or raft. The search area was widened some 8,400 additional square miles today.

The search centered today in the area approximately 800 miles due west of Monterey.

It was from there that the transport's pilot, Capt. Harry Baker, 59, of Fallon, Nev., radioed his last message.

The plane, owned by Facilities Management Corp. of Los Angeles, was inbound from Wake Island after a refueling stop at Honolulu. It was headed for Los Angeles.

Must Register, Court Tells Aliens' Lawyers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that attorneys representing a foreign government in legal matters must register under the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938.

The tribunal, in an opinion by Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, ruled against Victor Rabinowitz and Leonard B. Boudin, New York attorneys, who were retained by the Republic of Cuba in 1960.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy called in 1961 for their registration under the act which requires detailed information about a registrant's work.

Astronomers Report New Power Source

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Two astronomers say they've discovered an incredibly powerful source of light and radio waves in space. It's an object moving so fast and at such a great distance that current concepts of the universe's size and age have been upset.

Dr. Maarten Schmidt of the Mount Wilson and Palomar observatories said the object, believed to be an exploding galaxy or cluster of galaxies, is the most distant yet seen by man.

YARDSTICKS

"We have had to throw our yardsticks out the window," he said.

Dr. Schmidt discovered the new object with the aid of radio astronomer Thomas A. Matthews. They said it is moving faster than anything ever observed in the heavens — approximately half the speed of light.

Until announcement of the new discovery, astronomers measured the speed and distance of objects by a technique called the "red shift." They said that the faster an object goes, the more its light shifts into the red part of the spectrum.

All distant objects, they said, appear to be going away from our part of the universe. They all seem to go faster — and get redder — the farther they recede.

SPECTRUM

Astronomers, using this method to measure speed and distance, figured the percentage of shift across the spectrum — toward red — equalled the percentage of the speed of light at which the object was traveling.

Thus, if the shift toward red was 1-10th of the way, they figured the object was going about 1-10th the speed of light.

The problem, however, is that they keep finding new objects farther and farther away. The new object, dubbed 3C-147, is believed to be 10 or 20 per cent farther away than the most distant previously known object, called 3C-295.

Eight Japanese Killed In Mine

TOKYO (AP) — Eight Japanese workers died of gas poisoning today when a gas explosion trapped them 3,000 yards inside a coal mine they were closing.

The explosion occurred at a colliery in northern Kyushu Island. The workers were removing equipment.

Temporary Rates Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decided today the Federal Power Commission may condition an emergency grant of temporary operating authority to gas producers on a prohibition to rate increases during the authorized period.

Justice Tom Clark delivered the 7-2 decision.

Justices John Harlan and Potter Stewart dissented.

Temporary authorizations were issued to independent producers in the Alta Loma area in Galveston County, Tex., and in the Alvin City and Chenango Fields in Brazoria County, Tex., with a condition that the initial price not exceed 18 cents per thousand cubic feet.

In later litigation, the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans ruled the commission lacked authority to prevent a producer from filing and putting into effect a contractually authorized increased rate during the term of a temporary authorization.

Appealing to the Supreme Court, the commission contended a producer given a temporary authorization, under condition that he maintain the status quo pending a hearing and final determination of rates, is barred from attacking the condition, once he has begun to operate under the authorization.

Brazilian Amnesty Called Off

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Rear Adm. Paulo Mario da Cunha Rodrigues, a leftist who was appointed navy minister after a sidown rebellion in the ranks last week, did an about face today and rescinded an amnesty for the rebels.

The Navy Ministry press officer said investigations had been ordered into the action of men and officers involved in incidents that caused a crisis in the Brazilian navy and government.

A number of men were wounded in the clash and there may have been some killed, press reports said.

The ministry's action came after sharp criticism of the amnesty by the press and by naval officers, including more than 30 admirals. They protested government failure to punish enlisted sailors involved in a 40-hour rebellion, which was mostly passive.

CONGRESS

Rodrigues acted after conferring with President Joao Goulart, who flew here from Brasilia, the capital, where Congress was convening to consider the crisis.

Brazil's Communist-dominated labor leadership charged that conservative military men were planning to overthrow left-leaning President Goulart.

Leaders of the General Confederation of Workers vowed to oppose any attempted coup with a general strike and "any methods of fighting which the moment demands."

In a public statement, they urged Brazil's unions and workers to be prepared for a general strike.

SOCIAL REFORMS

The labor leaders issued the warning amid a growing crisis over Goulart's attempts to institute sweeping social reforms and strengthen his power to circumvent a recalcitrant Congress. The trouble came to a head last week with a sit-in strike by 1,400 sailors against alleged political discrimination and poor conditions in the navy.

The sailors surrendered after 40 hours Friday when the General Confederation won a promise from the government that they would not be punished. The rebellion took place in the headquarters of a union affiliated with the labor command.

COMMUNISTS

The navy's officers, including 30 admirals, charged the sailors' revolt had been directed by a group with "clearly Communist characteristics" and called upon the nation to oppose the "communization" of Brazil.

Muslims Attack Fort Worth Police

FORT WORTH (AP) — A police officer was struck in the head with the sharp edge of a hoe today by one of four persons who said they were members of the Black Muslim sect.

The incident occurred near Lake Benbrook.

Police arrested the three men and one woman and sped to the county jail. Witnesses said the four were wrestled to the ground and handcuffed.

Henry Wright, an internal security officer, was reported seriously injured when smashed across the head with the garden-fertilizer tool.

First reports indicated the Negroes were planting beans in a field and refused to leave when police arrived. A group of admitted Muslims had been attempting to homestead the government land in the suburban Benbrook area since last week.

Two men were arrested Saturday after they trundled a tractor into the area to begin cultivation of their proposed farmland.

The homesteaders, jailed at Benbrook under the names of John Muhammad and Malcolm Shah, moved into the area behind the Woodlawn Golf Course last Tuesday.

They chopped down 23 trees on the government-owned property, which is leased by the City of Fort Worth, and used as a park.

The two told police Saturday that government land belongs to the black man and that they were staking claim to what rightfully was theirs, said H. F. Hopkins, lieutenant in charge of the Fort Worth Security Division.

Another policeman, A. D. Marshall, 34, was treated at a hospital after he was kicked in the abdomen during the hand-to-hand fighting.

The Negroes were identified as John Scott and wife, Maurice Shah, 30, and D. W. Miles.

Lt. H. F. Hopkins of the Fort Worth Internal Security Unit and Wright arrived at the scene and attempted to discourage the Negroes' farming efforts.

"We don't want to have anyone hurt out here," Hopkins told the group. "You know you are on public property."

"The black man owns the earth," Scott replied. "You have no right to this land yourself."

Scott added:

"Why don't you go back to Europe where you came from? Don't you know the property belongs to Elijah Muhammad (the leader of the Muslim organization)? Our father controls the very atmosphere you white men breathe."

A member of the group told a reporter: "We don't want any publicity. We just want to live here in peace. The whole earth belongs to Allah, but you white men say we can't even farm on a worthless piece of land."

Ailing Glenn Out Of Race

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., withdrew today from the Ohio U.S. Senate campaign because of injuries from a bathroom fall last month.

"No man has a right to ask for a seat in either branch of the Congress merely because of a specific event such as orbiting the earth in a spacecraft," Glenn told newsmen after one of his physicians said participation in the campaign would be detrimental to his health and recovery.

His statement was made at the Air Force hospital where he was brought March 6 to recover from inner ear damage.

Glenn's announcement ended weeks of speculation on how the injury would affect the future of the spaceman turned politician.

The ear injury impaired Glenn's sense of balance and curtailed his plans to retire from the Marine Corps March 1 to enter the Ohio Senate race.

Glenn said he sent a telegram to Ohio Secretary of State Ted Brown requesting that his name be taken off the Democratic ballot.

Glenn had been prevented from actively campaigning until he had retired from the Marine Corps. His release from the corps had been postponed pending his recovery from the bathroom fall.

Stunned Alaska Inventories Ruin

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — As Alaskans toiled to dig out from the rubble of Friday's great earthquake, Civil Defense officials listed new casualty figures today of 21 known dead and 83 missing and presumed dead.

Fifty-five were reported to have been injured.

This means if those presumed dead—most were washed to sea by tidal waves following the quake—are indeed dead the toll will be more than 100.

Gov. William A. Egan made a new damage estimate Sunday night of $350 million for this far north state, where industry in several south-central coastal towns was virtually obliterated.

LARGEST CITY

Anchorage, with a metropolitan population of 100,000 and the state's largest city, 8 dead and 2 presumed dead, 50 injured.

Kodiak, 7 dead, 14 presumed dead, 2 injured.

Valdez, 1 dead, 30 presumed dead, 2 injured.

Seward, 2 dead, 20 presumed dead, 2 injured.

Whittier, 1 dead, 12 presumed dead, 1 injured.

Cordova, 1 dead, 5 presumed dead, injured unknown.

Port Ashton, 1 dead, 5 presumed dead, injured unknown.

A stunned population began to realize the economic ruin carried by the quake. In some communities, industry was as much as 95 per cent wiped out.

"It might take a year and a half to two years to rebuild," said Mayor Bruce Woodford of Seward, "but we'll make it."

CONSERVATIVE

Egan said his estimate of property damage was conservative. Other unofficial estimates were higher.

Egan had increased the figure after visiting Valdez, his hometown.

Information from many of the heavy-hit areas was sketchy at best. In Kodiak, where a tidal wave washed out the waterfront, one report said martial law had been proclaimed. Police refused to confirm or deny the report.

Edward A. McDermott, President Johnson's personal representative on the scene, was flying back to Washington today to recommend special relief legislation.

The President already has declared the 49th state a major disaster area. McDermott

WARNING

An earlier mid-afternoon shock led to a Civil Defense warning of a new tidal wave headed for Seward. It was called off quickly, but people who had lived through Friday evening's terror fled to high ground.

The Friday evening quake was rated by experts at 8.2 to 8.7 on the Richter scale. This scale, measuring the release of energy, has never before rated a quake higher than 8.6 and then only rarely and in unpopulated places.

Anchorage wholesale grocers estimated they had about a 30-day stock of essential foods on hand—mostly in wrecked warehouses, but still usable.

Electric current was being restored slowly. Many homes and buildings were without light heat or power.

Drinking water had to be boiled or melted from snow. Mass typhoid inoculations were arranged.

Police, soldiers and National guardsmen, patrolling downtown Anchorage, reported no cases of attempted looting.

Workers started pulling down teetering four-ton slabs of the modernistic five-story J. C. Penney store and other dangerous ruins. Dynamiting was considered and rejected.

A Civil Defense official said, "It is still possible some victims are in the rubble. We might not get to some for quite a while."

Honking Hound

A sad faced dog, left alone by his mistress, won the attention of passersby and irritated nearby office workers as he pawed the horn in downtown Fort Worth. Really leaning into his work, man's best friend attracted a policeman who ticked the car for overparking, and finally with the battery exhausted, the pooch rests his head on the horn rim. When his mistress returned, she, too, joined the ranks of the irritated and called the garage to get the battery recharged. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Churches Report Big Turnout For Easter

Many local churches reported a big turnout for Easter Sunday services, while some pastors said attendance was only a little more than average. Several churches indicated Sunday School attendance was down from the average, but this was attributed to families taking Easter weekend visits.

The sunrise service in the city park amphitheatre drew around 350 early risers. This service is sponsored annually by the Big Spring Pastors Association and has been held for more than a quarter of a century. One pastor, who has been connected with the service for several years, said many church members, planning to visit relatives for Easter Sunday, attend the sunrise service and then drive to other areas.

There were an estimated 10,000 persons in church here Sunday.

Three churches reported extra high attendance for Palm Sunday services a week ago, followed by a drop Sunday.

Deadline Near For Car Tags

Monday got off to a slow start in the automobile tag office, but by midmorning the belated motorists who must have their plates attached by midnight Wednesday were beginning to move in.

Deadline will be at 9 p.m. April 1 insofar as the tag office is concerned.

Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor, said that business was heavy Friday and that many plates were issued at the court house office. Saturday, she added, the substations where plates are being dispensed, also had a big day.

Today the substations were reporting heavy demand for plates and some had called in for additional supplies. State law makes it illegal to operate a motor vehicle with out-of-date tags after midnight April 1.

The substations, where plates can be bought, are Newsom Food Store on South Gregg; the four Lewis 5-and-10 stores, and Eason Bros. Garage on West Third.

Trial Begins In First Case

A jury was being selected Monday afternoon to try a damage suit brought by George McGinn ex against the Fire Insurance Exchange and others. The case was announced round when Judge Ralph Caton sounded a heavy civil jury docket Monday morning. It was given No. 1 spot on the trial assignment.

Second case to be called for trial this week, assuming the McGinn matter can be cleared out in time, will be E. G. Britton Jr. vs. R. E. Rhoades. This is also a damage suit. Five other cases were announced today.

They are: Eugene Davis vs. Gulf Insurance Co., compensation; Francisco M. Olguin vs. Royal Indemnity Co., compensation; Joseph Malcolm Johnson vs. Liberty Universal Insurance Co., compensation; and Regino Sanchez vs. Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., compensation.

Judge Caton said it is doubtful if more than two of these cases can be cleared out this week.

County Judge Sets A Docket

Judge Lee Porter, county court, has announced he will call a non-jury civil docket for trial in his court starting April 6. About 60 cases are on the list. Porter said he did not know how many of the cases might be ready for trial but he hopes, on calling the docket, to see as many as possible for disposition in the next few weeks. He said he has a limited number of pending jury cases and that he will also ascertain the status of these cases at the same time he sounds the non-jury matters.

HONORS GEN. HOWARD J. WITHYCOMBE
Academics Building gets new name Tuesday

Ceremony Tuesday Honors Webb's Former Commander

Tomorrow at 1:30 p.m., the Academics Building at Webb Air Force Base will officially become Withycombe Hall in honor of the late Brig. Gen. Howard J. Withycombe.

General Withycombe, Webb's former Wing Commander, was killed in an automobile accident last January 5.

The idea of having the portrait begun with Class 65-C shortly after the general's death.

It was then the idea of naming a building for the general also came into being and the portrait-building dedication and memorialization became a project of all the student pilots and permanent party of the 3561st Student Squadron. Mrs.

26 Violent Deaths Noted

By The Associated Press
Twenty-six persons died violently in Texas during the Easter weekend, including 14 killed in automobile accidents. The toll was tabulated by The Associated Press between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

Despite the increased volume of motorists making holiday trips, the number of traffic fatalities was no greater than for some ordinary weekends. Among the latest victims were:

A head-on collision Sunday night on State 79 near Petrolia, 18 miles east of Wichita Falls, killed Mrs. Linda Hendon, 25, an expectant mother from Chickasha, Okla., and her three children—Gregory, 4, Jan, 2, and Bruce, 9½ months. Both drivers suffered serious injuries. They are James Hendon, 30, husband of the dead woman, and Mrs. Madge Heindol, 50, of Oklahoma City.

DROWNINGS
Marcello Herrera, 49, and a son-in-law, Gilbert Silva, 20, both of Corpus Christi, drowned Sunday while picnicking beside the Nueces River near Calallen. Companions said Arnold Gonzalez, 15, fell into 10 feet of water and cried for help. Herrera sank after going to the youth's aid. Silva dived in to help the other man and both went down while young Gonzalez struggled to shore.

An explosion and fire of undetermined origin killed Mrs. Jesse Day, 74, a telephone operator, Sunday in her home at Stamford, in West Central Texas. Pieces of the house were hurled 50 feet. The cause of the blast had not been determined.

GUNSHOT
Elmo Fowler, 56, of San Angelo died Sunday night of gunshot wounds suffered at his home. Police said a neighbor found him wounded in a bedroom with a shotgun lying nearby.

Terry Crost, 24, Lubbock beauty supplies salesman, was killed Sunday when his car hit a bridge abutment 2½ miles north of Roscoe, west of Sweetwater. He was en route to a family gathering at Winters.

Robert Smith, 32, of Idalou died late Saturday night in the flaming wreckage of a diesel transport truck 5 miles west of Knox City. Officers reported the truck jackknifed descending a hill and halted upside down in a ditch. Smith was trapped in the burning cab.

NEAR ALVIN
Ernest Jackson, 35, was shot and killed early Sunday at the home of a girl friend, Miss Henrietta Davis, north of Alvin in Brazoria County. Officers charged her with murder.

A collision of two cars Sunday killed Cecil White of Cross Plains near his home town. Sue Lippe, one of three Brownwood girls in the other car, suffered serious injuries.

Two youths fled after the fatal shooting of Juan Hernandez, 46, at San Antonio in a Sunday night robbery netting the pair two 50-cent pieces. A companion, Ramon Cantu, 44, said the holdup occurred after the car he and Hernandez were driving ran out of gas.

AT PICNIC
Antonio Alejos, 21, of San Antonio was fatally stabbed Sunday at an Easter picnic in South Bexar County. Police said Alejos' father and brother also were killed.

Luis Harrison, 30, of Mansfield, south of Fort Worth, died early Sunday when his pickup truck ran off an overpass at Mansfield and plunged 30 feet to the ground.

Donald Gammon, 24, of Fort Worth was killed early Sunday when thrown from a motorcycle against a telephone pole in Fort Worth.

Jimmy Crayton, 29, was found shot in one eye early Sunday in an Austin night club which he managed. He died at a hospital. Police arrested a 21-year-old Negro man and a 20-year-old woman.

Midwest Milk Market Dims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opportunities are gradually disappearing for Midwest dairymen to supply fluid milk for bottle sale to consumers in big population areas.

Midwestern dairy leaders long have sought to gain entry into the fluid milk markets where milk prices are the highest. Much of the Midwest milk goes into manufactured dairy products and brings the producer less than prices paid for fluid milk.

An Agriculture Department report said today that long distance shipment of milk is declining.

It said a major factor in the decline has been an increase in milk production in areas adjacent to the big consumption centers. This increase has been particularly important in recent years in heretofore milk shortage areas of the South Atlantic and South Central states. The Midwest is a surplus milk area.

"An additional factor contributing to decreased shipments from the Wisconsin-Minnesota Plains near his home town. Sue Lippe, one of three Brownwood girls in the other car, suffered serious injuries.

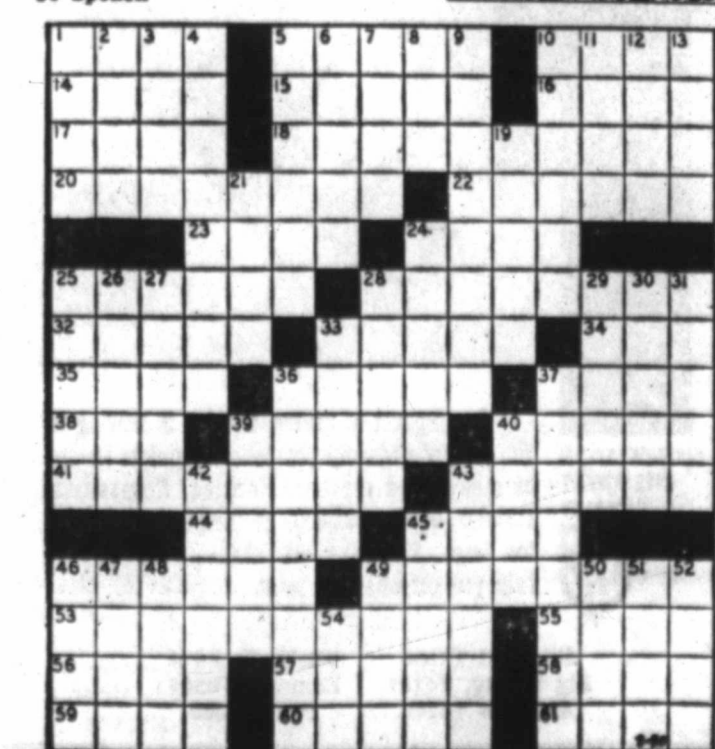

Two youths fled after the fatal shooting of Juan Hernandez, 46,

Besselink Presses In $20,000 Azalea

By KEN ALTYA
WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—It's been almost seven years since Al Besselink won a regular PGA circuit golf tournament. Not since the 1957 Kansas City Open has the big blond from Merchantville, N.J., won on the tour.

But he was 18 holes away from victory today as the final round of the $20,000 Azalea Open ended. Besselink's par 72 Sunday after earlier rounds of 70-65 gave him a 287 total, nine under par, and a two-shot edge over Joe Campbell, the first round leader.

Asked how he planned to play the final 18 holes over the 6,744-yard Cape Fear Country Club course, Besselink replied:

"Well, I won't do any unnecessary gambling, but I certainly won't be playing safe. I've never been known to be a safe player. I won't do anything to jeopardize my lead, but I'll be firing at the hole."

"If I don't win, maybe next week it will be better or if not then, maybe the next week I'm playing so well now that something has to bust."

Besselink picked up $400 in bonus money for leading after 54 holes to go along with $1,000 he pocketed Saturday for leading the second round and also shooting his low score.

He made only one birdie Sunday, but an eagle on the 565-yard third hole gave him his big push. He used his driver twice and then needed only a five-foot putt for the eagle.

Two traps and a hooked shot into the woods cost him three bogies.

Campbell, first day leader with 67, had slumped to 73 in the next round, but charged back with 69 for second place.

The 69 was the day's low score, tied by Dutch Harrison, celebrating his 54th birthday, and Rod Funseth. The three divided $600 in bonus money.

Sharing third place at 210 were Tommy Jacobs, Lionel Hebert and Larry Mowry.

Bob Gajda, who held second place in each of the first two rounds with a pair of 68s, slumped to 75 for a four-way sixth place tie at 211. A triple bogey seven on the 17th, where he hit a ball out of bounds, cost him second place.

Harrison, Jack McGowan and Jerry Pittman were tied with Gajda.

Mike Souchak and Pete Brown followed at 212, one stroke ahead of Gene Littler, Funseth, Bruce Crampton, Doug Ford and Billy Casper.

Pasarell Gets Win For Tennis Crown

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Charles Pasarell, the fiery young Latin with the big game, has served notice he may be ready for tennis stardom.

The hard-hitting UCLA student from San Juan, Puerto Rico, defeated Dennis Ralston 6-3, 3-6, 6-4 Sunday to win his second straight Thunderbird Tennis Tournament.

Pasarell, ranked 10th nationally, dominated play with a strong service and powerful ground strokes that constantly kept the second-ranked Ralston on the defense.

"I'm playing much better than ever before," said Pasarell. "I thought Ralston played well against me but I still handled him. I'm looking forward to a good year."

Ralston and McKinley still got a share of the glory. The Davis Cup stars combined for a 10-5, 6-4 victory over Yale's Gene Scott and veteran Ham Richardson of Dallas in men's doubles.

McKinley and Ralston pleased the crowd with their hustling retrieves and scoring slams which bounced out of the Phoenix Country Club center court area.

Janie Albert, who has been drubbing the nation's best junior players the past couple of years, showed she may be ready to hold her own in the women's ranks.

Miss Albert, of San Francisco, beat veteran Mimi Arnold of Santa Barbara, Calif., 6-3, 7-5 for the women's title.

Miss Albert teamed with Southern California's Bill Bond for a 6-3, 2-6, 7-5 victory over Julie Heldman of San Francisco and Ian Crookenden of New Zealand in mixed doubles.

The Roundtable

JACK KOUNTZ, who made a hole-in-one recently while playing on the Big Spring Country Club course, will receive a special award in the near future from the Acushnet golf ball people. Since he was using one of their products, they're mounting it on a special ash tray with a small gold engraved plate which gives his name and the date he carded the one. JERRY GREEN, club pro, will present it. Jack's only hole-in-one in 40 years of golf came on the 159-yard, par-3 12th hole. A strong wind was blowing out of the northwest when Jack stroked his lucky four-iron. Jack was playing with SAM LEWIS, who can testify to the feat. Jack said later: "This is the biggest thrill I've ever had playing golf. Especially after being so close so many times and expecting it to drop and then being disappointed by a matter of inches. To tell the truth, after I hit the ball and saw it disappear, I thought I had either overshot the green or had hit it behind the pin. I never knew it was a hole-in-one until I got to the green." Jack, who averages around 90 for 18 holes, is a 15-handicap golfer.

JACK KOUNTZ

BASEBALL CHATTER: AL KALINE, Detroit Tigers outfielder, talking of DICK RADATZ, huge relief pitcher for the Boston Red Sox: "They oughta have that guy painted green—to give the hitters a background." CHARLEY DRESSEN, manager of the Tigers, mentioning GUS TRIANDOS to a sportswriter: "He's pretty slow. He's got funny feet. They're flat. He used to squash grapes out in California." BILL RIGNEY, manager of the Los Angeles Angels, after talking to former President DWIGHT EISENHOWER at a spring training game which saw San Francisco smash LA, 10-1: "I asked him if he had any advice about stopping these guys, but even he admitted it might be wise just to surrender." Los Angeles Dodgers' public relations head, RED PATTERSON, after the New York Yankees beat the Reds in a recent grapefruit league game: "Well, the Yankees finally won the fifth game."

J. D. JONES is the American Business Club's meet coordinator for this spring's National Junior College track meet at HCJC. He and the other ABC members have a tough job, at least if what one member said recently is true—"If we don't make more money on this year's event, it probably won't be held in Big Spring again." Incidentally, mentioning the track meet, one local advertising salesman likes to refer to it as the "World Series of junior colleges." That's stretching the point a little. The numbers three, four and five never appear on New York Yankee uniforms. They were retired after being worn by BABE RUTH, LOU GEHRIG, and JOE DIMAGGIO. Only two punts were blocked during the 1963 National Football League season and both were against TOMMY DAVIS of the San Francisco 49ers. At 29, BILL HALLER is the youngest American League umpire. CHARLEY JOHNSON, star quarterback of the St. Louis Cardinals and a Big Spring High School product, is working on his doctor's degree in chemical engineering at Washington University in St. Louis. He'll finish his schooling and get his degree in June, 1965.

It's just the way you look at it. Like the man who went to buy a horse, picked out an animal and asked "How much?" The owner said: "Three thousand dollars." The visitor studied the horseless closer and finally replied: "I'll give you $200." The deal was closed.

Afterwards, the purchaser asked: "Why did you ask so much in the first place?"

The farmer replied: "I thought maybe you'd like to own a $3,000 horse."

Steers Will Take Trip

The Big Spring Steers, with a 6-7 season record, try to jump up to the 500 mark in wins and losses Tuesday as they take on the Lubbock Monterey Plainsmen in a 4 p.m. contest in Lubbock.

If the last outing between these two clubs is any indication of this game's outcome, the Steers could have a rough time. Lubbock visited the Bovine's field earlier this month and inflicted a 9-2 loss on the locals.

The starting lineup for the Steers is uncertain but should look like this: Baxter Moore, shortstop; Howard Bain, third base; Charley West, catcher; Van Tom Whitley, center field; Eddie Thomas, first base; Gary Mears or Charles Burdett, pitcher; Tony Emerson, right field; David Agee, left field; and Jim Hamilton, second base.

The Steers host Eunice, N.M. Saturday for a 1 p.m. doubleheader.

Senate Asks For Answers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators ask more questions today about reports underworld figures hung around while Sonny Liston trained for his heavyweight championship fight with Cassius Clay.

They also want to know why Liston gave away stock, which brought $100,000 in profits from the Clay fight, to a man identified as a former associate of mobster Frank (Blinky) Palermo.

These questions came up as the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee sought to wind up its hearings into circumstances surrounding the Feb. 25 fight won by Clay when Liston failed to come out for the seventh round.

In the new development, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., asked the Senate investigators to find out whether associates of Frankie Carbo had been in Clay's and Liston's Florida training camps. Carbo, now in prison, is former underworld czar of boxing.

19-YEAR-OLD

Houston Youngster Slated As Regular

COCOA, Fla. (AP)—What is it like for a 19-year-old kid whirling around the majors as a regular? Rusty Staub of the Houston Colts tells an interesting story of his experiences last season.

"The first time I would see some of those established stars I would say to myself 'gee whiz, what am I doing here?' After the game started it was like playing any game."

"I knew I was the underdog. If I didn't do real good nobody expected me to. I was a little disappointed I didn't hit better than .224."

"Hitting against fellows like Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax was a little. But then I would dig in and bear down. I would tell myself this was not Class B, C or D but the majors. This is it and you sink or swim."

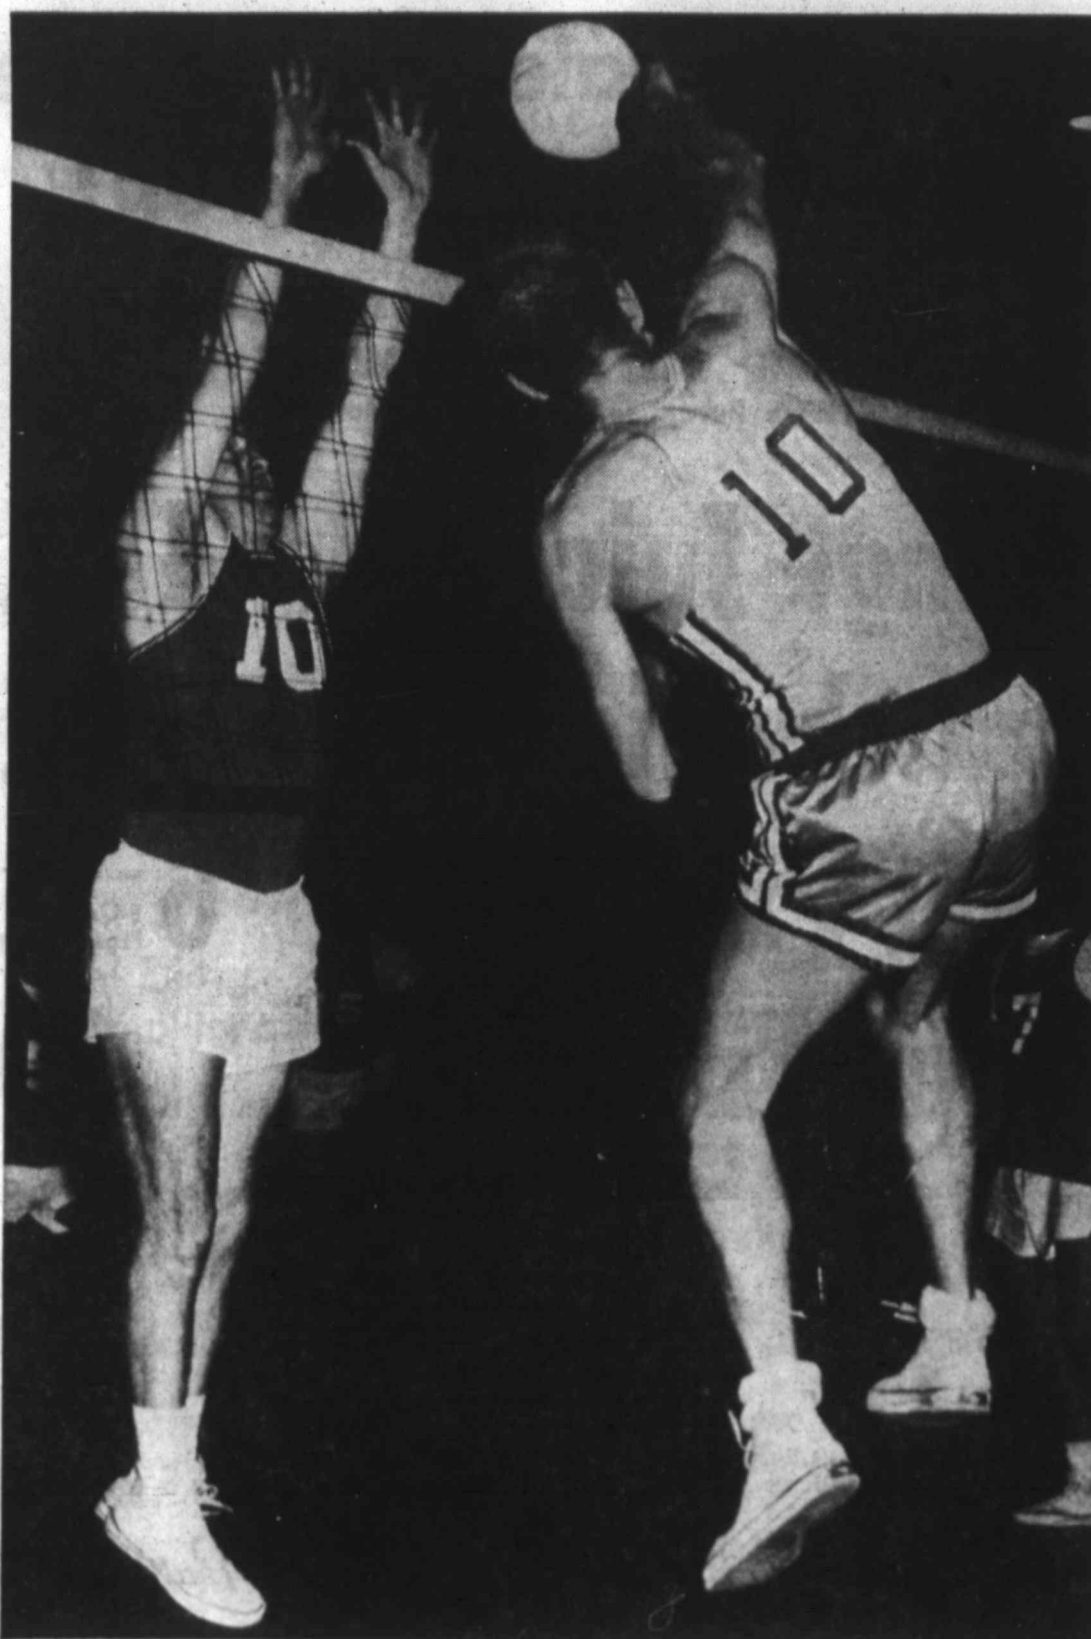

Incidentally, Staub hit a home run off Drysdale with one on to win a 2-1 game from the Los Angeles Dodgers — his first homer.

Naturally, the young man from New Orleans was tortured by doubt during that first year.

"You wonder can you do it?" he explained. "Are you a big leaguer? Sometimes you do as good as the others. Sometimes you do better. Sometimes you get into a slump like when I went 0 for 27 but still I came back pretty good."

"Everybody asks if being overpublicized hurt me. Not that much. It was a great year for me. The experience you can't buy. I was tickled to stay up here than you would in the minors. I made a lot of lousy, stupid plays but the mistakes stick with you. When you make a mistake up here, you remember it and don't do it again if you can help it."

High-Powered Action

There were a lot of good sets with the spikes having a field day Saturday at the first annual YMCA and Webb Air Force Base Invitational Men's Volleyball Tournament. The action above was in a match between the Big Spring Y and Dyess AFB of Abilene, which the visitors won, 15-7 and 15-4. Spiker Gene Pabst of Dyess has just hit a smash while Big Spring's Jack Dumphy is in a blocking attempt. Both men made the all-tournament team as spikes. (Photo by Jimmy Townes)

Mantle Smashes Two Long Round-Trippers

By The Associated Press

Report No. 2 is in on Mickey Mantle, whose fate apparently hinges on tape.

Last Thursday, Mantle's case history had an expenditure for tape—to bandage his legs. Sunday, Mantle's case history had an expenditure for tape—to measure his homers.

Mantle, the New York Yankees' $100,000-a-year slugger, has been batting average .318 Sunday by lifting two long drives over the fences at Tampa, Fla., in a 6-4 exhibition baseball victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The homers were the first of the spring training grind for Mantle, who had been forced into a four-day layoff by his ailing legs. He had complained about his left knee—operated on during the winter for torn cartilage.

"I was running real good when I came down here, but I haven't been running good the last couple of days," Mantle said when he issued Report No. 1 Thursday.

He concentrated on trotting against the Reds. Both homers were hit with Mantle batting right-handed against southpaw Joe Nuxhall, the first with a man on in the first inning traveling 350 feet and the second in the fifth with the bases empty rocketing 430 feet.

Report No. 2, however, still left doubts about the condition of Mantle's taped legs. In the field, he ran without any indication of lameness, but he let one hit fall in front of him instead of charging it in the Mantle manner.

While the American League champion Yankees were getting a boost from their No. 1 product, Sandy Koufax of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers turned in his sharpest pitching performance in a 3-1 loss to Minnesota.

Koufax became the first pitcher to go all the way this spring as he limited the Twins to five hits. Jimmie Hall ruined Koufax' effort with a two-run homer in the fourth and the Twins added an unearned run in the fifth.

Joining Hall as the day's hitting stars were Detroit rookie Willie Horton, Julio Gotay of Pittsburgh, Tim Lincecum of the New York Mets and Tony Conigliaro, a rookie with the Boston Red Sox who may be compiling one of the oddest hitting records ever produced.

Gotay collected two homers and two singles for five runs batted in as the Pirates walloped Philadelphia 13-4 while Lincecum broke a hitless string that had extended to 16 at-bats by slamming a homer, double and single in the Mets' 8-3 belting of Washington.

Conigliaro led the Red Sox to a 6-4, 13-inning victory over the Los Angeles Angels with a homer, two triples and a double. The 19-year-old outfielder now has collected 15 hits—13 for extra bases. His batting average is .288; his slugging average .750.

In other games, St. Louis edged Milwaukee 6-5 in 11 innings, Kansas City defeated Houston 2-1, the Chicago Cubs outslugged San Francisco 11-7, Baltimore nipped the Colts' B team 2-1 and Cleveland downed the Angeles' B squad 7-6.

Florida Twosome Takes Golf Title

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—Jack Veghte of Clearwater, Fla., and Truman Connell of Jupiter, Fla., defeated Sid Salomon of St. Louis and Labron Harris of Stillwater, Okla., Sunday in a sudden death playoff for the men's international four-ball golf championship.

Local Y Wins In Consolation

The consolation trophy in the first annual YMCA and Webb Air Force Base Invitational Men's volleyball tournament went to the crew from the Big Spring Y Saturday as they defeated a group from the AFB.

With all-tournament spikes, Chuck Chapman and Jack Dumphy providing the power with their spikes for the local Y, they swept past Webb 16-13, 16-14, and 15-13 in one of the most even matches of the tournament.

In the championship bracket, Dyess Air Force Base of Abilene beat the Midland Y in straight games, 15-12 and 15-6, to take home the top trophy. The Midland squad received a runner-up award.

Dyess only lost one game in the tourney, a 15-10 loss to Midland in the round-robin.

The all-tournament team consisted of these players along with Dumphy and Chapman: spikes, Gene Pabst, Dyess, and Abe Wadley, Midland; sets, Jim Taylor, Midland, and Bob Miller, Dyess.

There were five teams in the field with only San Angelo not placing a player on the all-tournament squad.

The tournament began with round-robin action with two games being played in each match. At the end of the round-robin, the teams with the top three won-loss records were placed in the championship bracket where San Angelo lost in the first round to Midland to set up the final game. Webb and Big Spring, who came in fourth and fifth respectively, were in the consolation finals.

The results:
ROUND-ROBIN
San Angelo over Webb, 15-11, 15-10; San Angelo split with Big Spring, 15-13, 15-17; Dyess over Webb, 15-4, 15-4; 15-14; Midland over Big Spring, 15-12, 15-12; Dyess over Big Spring, 15-12, 15-12; Midland split with Dyess, 15-10, 15-9; Midland over Webb, 15-7, 15-9; Dyess over San Angelo, 15-11, 15-3; and San Angelo split with Midland, 15-14, 15-6.

Boston Receives Nod Over Royals

By The Associated Press

"I think Boston will take it." Cincinnati had just knocked his club out of the National Basketball Association playoffs but Philadelphia 76ers Coach Dolph Schayes saw nothing but trouble ahead for the Royals.

"If Jerry Lucas' back doesn't come around it should be Boston in five or six games," Schayes said.

Cincinnati earned a shot at the formidable Celtics by out-gunning Philadelphia 130-124 Sunday night in the decisive game of a best-of-five series. But Lucas' aching back may cripple the Royals' best game when they open a board-seven Eastern Division final set Tuesday in Boston.

The pairings for the Western Division finals will be determined tonight when St. Louis and Los Angeles tangle in the last of their five-game series. The survivor plays San Francisco.

Lucas was sub-par in the Philadelphia series, although the rookie star pulled down 11 rebounds and scored 15 points Sunday. He reinjured his back a week ago and has been playing part-time since.

"I'm getting a little better," he said after the game. "I still can't jump as well as I should. But in a couple of days I hope to be ready." Cincy Coach Jack McMahon, otherwise happy after the Royals streaked by Philadelphia on the strength of deadly second-half shooting, hopes so too.

The Royals hit on seven of their first eight shots in the second half and turned a 59-59 deadlock into a 74-61 bulge. Robertson didn't miss on nine shots in the last 24 minutes.

John Kerr led Philadelphia with 11 points.

Los Angeles came from 10 points down in the second half to whip St. Louis 97-88 Saturday and even the Western series at two victories apiece.

Emerson Wins Tennis Crown

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Roy Emerson of Australia exhibited a powerful service and accurate ground strokes in defeating Manuel Santana of Spain Sunday for the Good Neighbor Tennis Tournament title.

Emerson, who has not lost a singles match in the Good Neighbor since 1960, fought off a Santana rally in the first set, then assumed command for the match, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2.

Emerson and countryman Ken Fletcher won the doubles crown from Boris Jovanovic and Nicola Pietrangeli, 6-3, 6-8, 6-4.

Nancy Richey of Dallas, third-ranked U.S. woman player, defeated Stephanie de Fina of Hollywood for the women's crown, 6-4, 6-2.

Officers Eye Spa Closing

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Police start checking today to see that this mountain resort city's biggest industry, illegal gambling, is really dead.

Roulette wheels, dice, card tables and slot machines were still Sunday by order of Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Whether the closing is permanent is a question. One club operator predicted the casinos would be in full swing next year. A move is under way to legalize gambling through an initiated act in the November general election.

25 PER CENT

A city official estimated that 25 per cent of the city's 28,377 residents would be affected immediately by the shutdown.

Mayor Dan Wolf said gambling has been a steady part of the city's economy. "You can't just yank it out, like a bad tooth," he said.

Almost 1,000 casino employees will be without jobs. One of the largest casinos had a payroll of $1.5 million a year.

Hot Springs will lose $140,000 in taxes it collects each year on gambling.

GAMBLING

Estimates of the amount spent here annually on illegal gambling run to more than $50 million. The amount spent on housing, food and services probably would double that.

Hot Springs also is the site of Oaklawn Park, a legal horse race track. With six days left in the 43-day race meeting, the park's mutual machines have handled $22.6 million.

Police also will visit bars, restaurants, service stations and other businesses to see that slot machines are removed.

Many clubs will remain open, at least temporarily. Sale of mixed drinks, also illegal in Arkansas, apparently was not affected by Faubus' order.

MINISTER

The closing was put in motion by a Baptist minister, the Rev. Roy H. Galyean of Gravette, a member of the Arkansas House of Representatives. He introduced a resolution condemning illegal gambling and the House approved it 91-3 last Thursday.

Faubus, saying he was acting on mandate from the House, told city officials to stop the gambling or he would send state police to do it.

Police Chief John Erney told club operators that Saturday night would be the last for the casinos, which have attracted gambling buffs to Hot Springs for 100 years.

The resort city, 54 miles southwest of Little Rock, still will have its thermal baths, horse racing, water sports — and mixed drinks.

Russian Roulette Fatal For Youth

WESLACO, Tex. (AP)—Israel Garcia, 16, died in a game of Russian roulette at his home Sunday, police said.

Officers said he put the weapon to his head, pulled the trigger and it clicked harmlessly. They said two other youths declined a chance to do likewise, young Garcia tried again and the weapon fired.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Garcia, were away from home.

Vatican Maps Tougher New Red Policy

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The framework of a tough new Vatican policy toward communism stood out today after the first Holy Week of Pope Paul VI's pontificate.

The hardening emerged in speeches delivered by the pontiff during the week. He also again stressed the search for Christian unity and closer ties between Roman Catholics and other Christians.

After a Good Friday procession in which the 66-year-old pontiff carried a cross, he condemned Communist treatment of Roman Catholics as another crucifixion.

ACCEPT GOD

In his first Easter speech as Pope, Paul urged atheists and those who oppose religion to accept God.

His Good Friday speech was the strongest papal condemnation of communism since the reign of Pope Pius XII, who died in 1958.

Paul's Easter speech from the loggia of St. Peter's Basilica was taken as both an appeal and a demand to Communists to mend their ways.

His predecessor, Pope John XXIII, never wavered on doctrinal opposition to Communist philosophy and dictatorial methods. But John sought to ease world tension and improve the situation of Catholics in Iron Curtain countries by showing patience and charity in dealing with communism.

IRON CURTAIN

John almost never used the term "church of silence," which Pius used to refer to Roman Catholics behind the Iron Curtain. Pope Paul used the term Good Friday.

There was some speculation in Vatican circles that new measures against Catholicism by Red regimes was responsible for the Pope's attitude.

Some Vatican sources considered that the Pope's speeches, particularly his words on atheism, were aimed against a new Soviet campaign to promote atheism.

Settle It, But With Dispatch

Representatives from the board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools will meet with city officials in what appears to be a move to settle the city's case for higher water rates out of court.
Certainly this is what should be done if it can be done. The city has attempted vainly to get the state to make adjustments in the rates, established a quarter of a century ago in the heat of a campaign to secure location of the hospital. What the city did then was in effect pledge the output of a well or wells to the state hospital at 10 cents a thousand, which represented the approximate lifting costs.
For the past 12 years since it has been taking its supply from the Colorado River Municipal Water District the city has averaged paying 17 cents per thousand for raw water. To this has been added the cost of treating the water, storing and distributing it. City officials estimate the basic cost of water, including all these charges as well as debt service, is about 35 cents per thousand gallons.

Granted a rate concession was part of the consideration of location of the hospital in the city, the city has paid a handsome subsidy over the years for this. After a quarter of a century, a more realistic look is due. Not until the city exhausted all other remedies and filed suit did the matter really come to a head. Perhaps the state board felt it did not have authority to act until confronted with this prospect. If the matter can be settled between the parties, so much the better, but it should be settled with reasonable dispatch.

Help Pin Down Hubcap Thieves

One of the most vexing, frustrating crimes is that of theft of automotive accessories, notably hubcaps. Based on reports, there seems to be an increasing volume of this sort of theft lately.

These thefts are not for kicks, but for obtaining spending money. This means that someone has to fence (be the sales outlet) for those who steal these hubcaps. Police require records from dealers, which means that hubcaps likely are fenced through out-of-town outlets.

We do not know that identification marks (some groups will stamp your name inside your hubcaps with metal dies) is the answer, but they might give officers some means of tracing the outlets. We'd like to see the heat applied to these. Meantime, if you can tip officers of characters suspected of taking hubcaps, you may furnish the thread that will help unravel a lot of this.

Taking Away Private Rights

WASHINGTON — Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Democrat, and Senator George Smathers of Florida, Democrat, engaged in a little debate the other day in the Senate on the subject of "private clubs" and whether the latter would be required by the proposed "civil rights" bill to open their doors to guests, irrespective of color, creed or national origin.

IT HAPPENED that the discussion arose after the Florida senator read into the record a dispatch by this correspondent pointing out the "club" ties that may confront private clubs which furnish lodging or meals or other services to transient guests. Senator Humphrey stated that the quotations in the dispatch were accurate, but that he differed with the interpretation placed upon them. He is convinced that the private clubs are exempted even if they do serve meals or rent their rooms to guests of members who are transients in interstate commerce. But he added:

"If the proposed statute is not adequate to give that kind of club an exemption, and to make it crystal clear that it would be exempt, I would favor writing in clarifying language to that effect."

THIS IS A comforting reassurance, because no matter how the senators themselves may interpret the proposed law, the courts reserve the right to read it literally and to pass judgment on the actual words contained in the statute. Also, by refusing to refer the bill to the Judiciary Committee for consideration and study, the Senate now has bypassed the usual means by which careful attention is given to clarifying legal points. For there will be no hearings in which to take testimony from competent witnesses on any of the points involved in the bill.

THE SO-CALLED "exemption" clause, for example, is not specific. It merely says that the provisions of the proposed bill "shall not apply to a bona fide private club or other establishment not open to the public, except to the extent that the facilities of such establishment are made available to the customers or patrons of an establishment within the scope of subsection (B)."

Senator Humphrey said during the course of the debate in the Senate that the key phrase in subsection (B) is the reference to an establishment "which serves the public." He declared that a private club loses its identity as a private club only when it "serves the public." The Minnesota senator furthermore stated that it is only when facilities are open to everybody that it could be said that a club "serves the public."

BUT THIS IS precisely the point made by the hotels and motels. They claim to be engaged in private business and assume the right to say who shall or shall not be admitted to their premises. The other side of the argument is that a hotel now has presumably become clothed with a "public" character just because it accepts persons who travel in interstate commerce. This, however, is exactly what the private clubs also do, subject to restrictions of their own, and it is, moreover, what the hotels and motels believe they have the constitutional right to do.

So the question really turns on whether the Congress of the United States can, under the Constitution, pass laws that will regulate the conduct of any business association or enterprise, or activity merely by declaring that its patrons move in interstate commerce and calling it a "public" facility.

ANOTHER SECTION of the House "civil rights" bill, entitled "equal employment opportunity," goes even further. It permits intervention by a court order at any time to restrain an employer from choosing his own employees unless it can be proved that his choice was in no way related to an "individual's race, color, religion, sex, or national origin." But even the provisions in this section of the proposed bill are by no means clear. Thus it excludes "a bona fide private membership club — other than a labor organization — which is exempt from taxation."

The bill also permits an employer actually to discriminate on the basis of religion or national origin if he can prove that religion or national origin "is a bona fide occupational qualification reasonably necessary to the normal operation of that particular business or enterprise." The proposed statute makes it permissible, too, to refuse to hire any person because of his "alleged practices and beliefs," and also to ban any "member of the Communist party."

THE COURT might some day hold that such exceptions or exemptions are in themselves discriminatory and deprive citizens of "equal protection of the law."

The enforcement problems are bound to be complex, if not unsolvable. For the basic truth is that Congress is attempting to take away the rights of privacy from persons who are engaged in business and has also come very close to an interference with the rights of many organizations hitherto considered to be private and selective in their relationship to their patrons.

Billy Graham

Don't you believe that most of our problems would be solved if we all observed the 'law of love'?

If we could get rid of hatred, and put love in its place, this old world would be a good place to be in. Don't you agree?—A. B.

In a recent survey it was found that eight out of ten Americans agree with you—that most of our major problems could be solved if we could somehow apply the Golden Rule. But an interesting finding came out of the same survey—eight out of ten Americans questioned thought they were living by the law of love. You see, we think the trouble is with the other fellow.

I agree if we all exercised the 'law of love' that many of our problems could be solved. But, the difficulty is: if God, who is Love, is not in our hearts, then we can hardly expect to manifest His love. Our nature needs to be changed before the world can be changed. God's love needs to be allowed to flood our hearts, and then hatred, prejudice, and illwill will be crowded out.

Attitudes Toward Peace Gingerly Re-Examined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Re-examination takes time, changes come slowly, old attitudes don't get unstuck easily, and in a country as full of prejudices as this one politicians step gingerly.

Over a year ago the Kennedy people began saying winds of change were sweeping the world after Soviet Premier Khrushchev packed up his missiles in the 1962 Cuban missile crisis and took them home.

IN THE LAST few months of his life President John F. Kennedy spoke repeatedly on the idea of finding new ways to peace. At American University he said, "Let us re-examine our attitude toward peace itself."

At the University of Maine he said, "While it is too late to say, nothing has changed in Soviet-American relations, it is too early to assume that the change is permanent."

These were cautious statements to get people thinking, but pitched in a low key, no doubt to prevent any sudden surge of false hopes about the immediate future.

WHAT CHANGES did take place since the Cuban crisis and up through Kennedy's death to the present time?

The biggest, perhaps, has been the intensified split between the Soviet Union and Red China, dividing communism into two huge and antagonistic blocs which, if continued, almost certainly will force them to seek new friends.

Then there was the limited

American-Russian agreement to ban nuclear tests, an achievement long discussed but never attained before. Meanwhile, American allies stepped up trade with communism.

French President Charles de Gaulle, while safe under the American defense umbrella from Russia's attack, took it on himself to be a disruptive force in the West, and in his usual crude and overbearing way.

NEVERTHELESS, in the past week President Johnson, Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., all in separate speeches talked of a changing world.

Fulbright, like Kennedy, asked for a re-examination of attitudes but he went further than any of them by suggesting that changes in the world required changes in American foreign policy on a number of fronts.

This was like throwing a nest of bees into a crowded bus where the passengers had been sitting comfortably on their old attitudes for years.

ALTHOUGH praised for stirring things up, he was savagely denounced by some politicians of both parties in Congress to the point of implying this conservative Southerner was outlining surrender to communism.

Both Johnson, who had talked of change, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who earlier this year pictured 1964 as a year when long deadlocked cold war issues may start moving out of deadlock, said Fulbright was "thought-provoking."

But then Rusk disagreed with Fulbright on how to handle Cuba and Johnson disagreed on Cuba and Panama.

JOHNSON is the man upon whom rests the task of invoking change, if there are to be any by this country.

But Johnson is new to foreign affairs, this is an election year when he hopes to be chosen president on his own, and he is very sensitive to popular attitudes. So far he hasn't tried to disturb them.

So any changes in foreign policy would seem more likely next year than this, unless they are an obvious and incontrovertible improvement.

It was Oscar Wilde who observed, "One should always play fairly when one has the winning cards."

Varicose Veins Reduce Circulation In Legs

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Please send me your booklet, "How to Deal with Varicose Veins." I enclose 20 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. I would like to know how to help my husband.

His leg is very red and purplish and the itching is almost unbearable. The leg starts to swell after he scratches it.

He will not take any sulfa pills that the doctor prescribed, and is trying to treat himself with alcohol or vinegar rubs or soaking in hot water to relieve the itching. I'm afraid he might be doing more harm than good.

He had an operation in the Navy but it didn't seem to solve his trouble. He is now 52, 6 feet and weighs 270 pounds.—MRS. R. E.

I don't know as he is "doing more harm than good," but he is NOT doing several things that would help. The booklet will explain why. Basically, the varicose veins slow down the circulation in his legs. Waste matter and excess fluids stagnate in his legs because the circulation is slow, sluggish.

The toxic wastes cause the itching, among other unpleasant consequences.

The sulfa pills can't be expected to stop the itching and can't correct the faulty circulation; they are, however, a safeguard, to some degree, against infections starting when he scratches and breaks the skin. There isn't any dependable way of preventing infections, though, except doing something to improve the circulation.

As for the itching, calamine or similar lotions will give him more relief and with less risk of small injuries to the skin which, with his trouble, are likely to become chronic ulcers or infections.

Sometimes a single operation puts an end to varicose vein trouble; sometimes another is necessary; sometimes it succeeds but has to be repeated several years later because other veins have become varicose.

But one thing is certain: Overweight always makes varicose veins worse, and that 270 pounds your husband is carrying around means he is begging for more trouble.

Dear Dr. Molner: My 19-year-old son is dating a girl who is his fourth cousin. I am very much upset. Should cousins marry?—MRS. A. M.

Many states prohibit marriage of first cousins because of the danger. Fourth cousins are far enough apart, so the risk would be negligible.

With first cousins there is too much possibility of each inheriting similar recessive genes which might be reinforced and cause serious trouble. I know of two first cousins who had a weakness in the optic nerves, although they could see. They married and their children became blind in childhood.

Around The Rim

Everybody Gets Butterflies

One thing and another:
How do you scatter the butterflies when you're (1) expecting semi-strangers for dinner, (2) preparing to make a speech or (3) awaiting the chance to play a violin before some fraternity or sorority?
The most gifted and experienced performers, if it's any consolation to you, get the jitters, too.

PIANIST Byron Janis says he goes through a whole system of calisthenics. He carries with him a gadget he calls a neck stretcher, which hangs on a door and tractions the neck. In addition, he never fails to get a massage on the day of a concert.

Conductor Thomas Schippers makes it a point to sleep on the afternoon of a performance. He isolates himself from people the entire day and never eats before going to the podium.

More than one artist utters a little prayer immediately before facing their audiences, which invariably has a soothing effect for the musical breast.

A MRS. Virginia Nichols of St. Charles, Ill., had an accident last year and lamented to the investigation policeman:

"My husband will never believe this."

Seems she was driving along on an expressway when an airplane collided with the rear of her car while making an emergency landing.

Another woman, this one in Michigan, had her car damaged in a collision with a piano. She said she crashed into it when it slipped to the street from a truck driving just ahead of her.

HOW DO YOU like the gall of that auto thief in San Diego who returned a car to its owner after a month and complained in a wordy letter that it needed new spark plugs, a wheel alignment, a new radio and that the back seat was very uncomfortable? Or the dognaper down in Miami, who telephoned the owner and asked him what kind of food best agreed with the canine?

Time was when an inch was considered to be a man's thumb width. Six centuries ago, however, an English king considered that to be too unscientific. He decreed that an inch should be the length of three grains of barley, laid end to end.

Time To Abolish Boxing

WASHINGTON—The aroma of fine old Gorgonzola that lingered in the wake of the Liston-Clay fight has finally permeated the Senate, where for a time it was confused with the heady bouquet that has been generated by the Bobby Baker case.

Our lawmakers have finally set things to rights, however, and are now up to their hocks in an investigation of the sorry bout staged by the two gladiators in Miami Beach last month. Their purpose, if one reads the signs correctly, is to save boxing from itself.

SEN. PHILIP A. HART'S Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee is conducting hearings on the Liston-Clay pushing match. "Time," Sen. Hart warned at the start of the hearing, "is running out for the boxing business unless something is done."

Just by calling it the boxing business, the senator from Michigan did a lot more for the rowdy old racket than it deserves. It is a nasty, degrading enterprise that enriches hoodlums at the expense of the broken bodies and shattered minds of the poor slob who work at it. It maims and it murders, and any decent society would have outlawed it at about the time bear-baiting was prohibited.

IT IS A TELLING commentary on the man that Sen. Hart found "a growing suspicion that the sport is controlled by hidden manipulators and that the men who go into the ring and take the knocks are the ones who profit least from the gate receipts." One is tempted to wonder where he has been all these years.

Liston and Clay are, of course, of no account as fighters, and neither has ever betrayed any trace of intellect. One is a compulsive loudmouth and the other is a sullen ex-con with a tendency to quit. As squalid as the fight game is, it is unfair to cite either Liston or Clay in an indictment of it.

BUT THERE IS no shortage of case histories. Joe Louis, for example, was a gifted fighter and an honest and intelligent man. He may well have been the greatest heavyweight of the century; in any event, he was a champion who wore his laurels with grace. And what did the crooks (abetted by predatory tax collectors) leave him of his ring earnings? Why, bless your bloodthirsty heart, they left him more than $1 million in debt to the Internal Revenue Service, that's what.

Even so, Joe was one of the lucky ones. He's still alive, and his brain is not scrambled. He might have been poor, little Benny Paret, who was wantonly battered to death in Madison Square Garden, New York's celebrated abattoir, two years ago this very month.

BUT RING DEATHS are no novelty. Since 1945 the number of young men who have lost their lives in the fight racket is 226. A number of these have been killed while boxing under the supposed safeguards of college rules, so you may laugh in the face of the next apologist who suggests that maybe bigger gloves or headgear or shorter fights will save the manly art of self-defense from the righteous anger of its critics.

Prize fighting is not manly, it is not an art, and it has nothing to do with self-defense. What should be engaging the attention of the good, if not quite-bright, senators is a law abolishing it forthwith.

The Problem Of Proteges

WASHINGTON — Bobby Baker and Sargent Shriver are both proteges of Lyndon Johnson — and there's the rub. The Senate Rules Committee is anti-Baker. The House Labor Committee, which is hearing testimony on the Poverty War, is pro-Shriver. Both the Senate and House committees, however, are anti — proteges — which brings us back to the rub.

For the kernel of the Baker case is expressible in three words—too much power. And the objection to making Shriver the Poverty Czar (as H. R. 10440 would do) comes to the same thing—too much power.

THE TWISTER is that the likes of Baker and Shriver will never come along again. Any legislation that hobbles a future Secretary of the Senate Majority will be futile, because it was the combination of Baker's Johnson's and the late Senator Robert Kerr's personalities which produced the present scandals. Likewise, any legislation which fails to hobble a future Director of Economic Opportunity (the "Czar's" official title), will be dangerous, because it is Shriver's unique position, personality and ability which put him above suspicion—as any successor might not be.

HOW DID BAKER succeed? The bright smile, the obsequious, industrious and almost obsequious manner of the perfect household butler, the swift feet that took him on errands, the retentive memory for names and details, the seeing-eye for Senatorial pressure points, made Bobby the ideal steward for Democratic Leader Johnson. During the mid-1950's, Johnson sometimes had a majority, and sometimes didn't, because deaths and elections kept the Senate in precarious balance. But Bobby knew where every Johnson vote could be found upon short notice. He could summon a pro-Johnson Senator out of a Turkish bath, or send an Air Force plane to pick him up in the hinterlands.

AS LONG AS Bobby's boss was Johnson, he served no other master, and seems to have trod the straight-and-narrow path. It was Bobby's defection to Senator Kerr, after Johnson went to the Vice Presidency, which opened the wide gate of temptation.

AND HOW DID Shriver succeed? Although brought to Washington as Peace Corps Director by President

Kennedy, Shriver was soon spotted and corralled by the Vice President, an inveterate protege collector. It is an easy mistake to group Shriver as a Kennedy in-law, a coattail-clinger to that family's fortunes. Johnson saw him, as he once saw the now-Governor Connally of Texas, as a brilliant, handsome, personable, can't-miss comer. Shriver, along with other Johnson "finds," like Deputy Defense Secretary Vance and Assistant Secretary of State Mann, is typical of the scores of top-shelf executive types (many cuts above Baker) whom Johnson has assembled down the years.

THESE TWO MEN, Baker and Shriver, are very different in make-up and moral fiber, yet both have to be catalogued as proteges, and as Johnson proteges. Their simultaneous presence on the stage, and in the minds of the Senate and House, will have a lot to do with how the Poverty War legislation is finally written.

Built-In Error

NEW YORK (AP) — At first glance it looks like a mistake. The two 690-foot steel towers that hold up the Verrazano Narrows Bridge connecting Brooklyn with Staten Island are 1 1/2 inches farther apart at the top than at the bottom.

But according to Steel Facts, published by American Iron and Steel Institute, this is deliberate. It was done to compensate for the curvature of the earth. Each tower to be truly vertical must have its axis point to the center of the earth.

Cocoa Crop

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Trade sources anticipate a substantial increase in the 1963-64 Nigerian cocoa crop over the 1962-63 crop of 175,000 tons.

Several cocoa merchants forecast a crop of about 200,000 tons, or slightly more than the record 195,000 tons in 1961-62. Part of the increase this year represents cocoa from the light 1962-63 crop held over to the new season to take advantage of higher producer prices, sources said.

Dear Abby

Choose Your Own Birthday

DEAR ABBY: My father-in-law celebrates his birthday on February 22nd. He was born in the old country and either they didn't figure time the way we do or else his birth records were lost but, anyway, I am sure he chose that date himself because it was Washington's birthday and he wanted to share in the honor. We always have a cake and sing "Happy Birthday" and make a big occasion of it. All of a sudden an elderly aunt of his from Elmira, N.Y., turned up and when she saw this birthday celebration for Papa Joe she loudly announced that he was born in the summer! He was so embarrassed, it spoiled the party. I think she owes Papa Joe an apology (he's been very quiet since then). Should I suggest it?

BEA IN BROOKLYN

DEAR BEA: You could suggest it, but anyone as sensitive to the feelings of others as Auntie from Elmira appears to be, would either refuse, or do it without conviction. The damage is done. But tell Papa Joe I know lots of wonderful people in his boat. I have an uncle who picked Christmas!

DEAR ABBY: I am sorry but I have to disagree with you about men in uniform. You said they were okay. Well, a few years back I would have said they were okay, too, but I learned my lesson.

My father never approved of any of his daughters going out with men in uniform. (There were six of us girls.) We thought it was kind of peculiar because Papa had been in the Navy himself for three years. Anyway, I met this hot shot Air Force guy and I went for him in a big way. He acted the perfect gentleman. I sneaked off to date him. And, sure enough, the minute he got out of uniform he was no gentleman.

FLO FROM RICHMOND
DEAR FLO: He should have kept his uniform on.

DEAR ABBY: My husband was ill for over a year, and in all that time not one of our neighbors came to see him, or even inquired about him. When he died, they all came running over with baked goods and sympathy. I refused to accept anything, telling them that the time for them to have done something for him was when he was alive and could have appreciated it. Now I am being severely criticized for my actions. Was I wrong?

BITTER WIDOW

DEAR BITTER: That your neighbors had hurt you by their thoughtlessness does not justify your rebuff. There is a chance that they didn't know of his illness or of the seriousness of it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DISAPPOINTED IN NEWPORT: Take comfort in the words of Mark Twain: "If you pick up a starving dog and make him prosperous, he will not bite you. This is the principal difference between a dog and a man."

Get it off your chest. For a personal unpublished reply, write ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The melancholy quiet of disaster's aftermath has settled over this pitifully scarred city.

Soldiers guard deserted streets. Weary people line up with bottles, buckets, jars, coffee tins, at big water-tank trucks. Others line up at a school building for typhoid shots, others at the city park for soup in steaming vats.

Eyes are dull from shock and fatigue, but if voices are low, spirits seem amazingly high. The crucible of common misfortune has brought out the best in

As neighbors swapped experiences, it became more clear what it was like during the awful minutes that began at 5:36 p.m. Friday.

"Are you sure it was only minutes?" said Clarence Colbert, an engineer. "I swear that damn thing lasted at least a half hour. We were all at home. At first I thought it was just another small quake—we get 'em all the time here.

"Then I heard a sound, like rolling drums, and I knew it was big. I howled 'Let's get out of here!'—and we did."

SAC Bombers Survey Damage

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Super-sonic B58 bombers from Carswell Air Force Base at Fort Worth were among Strategic Air Command planes flying reconnaissance missions over earthquake-damaged Alaskan areas.

Seven SAC aircraft flew over stricken areas Saturday and delivered photos to headquarters here Sunday.

Air Force Chief of Staff Curtis E. LeMay directed the flights to speed analysis of damage caused by the quake.

The advancing front of the quake wave wrought havoc that tossed cars over like toys, breached concrete walls, wiped out complete inventories in a wink, and left some 150 businesses as worthless as so much garbage. About 350 persons were left homeless, but the Red Cross found temporary homes for them.

A looter was arrested on the beach as he stood knee deep in water filling his Easter basket with goodies floating out of a supermarket.

The 40 passengers included 8 Americans, 20 French, 7 Ital-

Chile Tremor

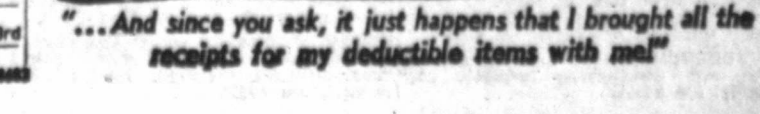

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — A strong but brief earth tremor was felt in Santiago today. It caused alarm but there were no reports of damage or casualties.

Police said Lang and Washington, both 17, have made state-

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, fighting for his life, developed a kidney condition of "grave concern" during the night, doctors at Walter Reed Hospital reported today. They said his condition remained critical.

The doctors also reported that the general had "unfortunately" developed a recurrence of intermittent bleeding from his esophagus, the condition that prompted his second operation more than a week ago.

MacArthur is attempting to weather the impact of his third major operation in 24 days. He has been receiving bedside aid of an arsenal of life-supporting equipment.

The 64-year-old general was under sedation during the night, and was receiving intravenous fluids, blood transfusions and oxygen as he required it.

But, the doctors said, the five-star general was still in critical condition, as he has been for several days.

Late Sunday night, hospital spokesmen said that Mrs. MacArthur had visited her husband several times through the day. Earlier, they indicated the general was wavering between consciousness and sedation.

NEW SURGERY
The latest emergency came early Easter morning and doctors had to operate for a third time — the second emergency surgery in seven days.

They removed about eight feet of small intestine after a portion of it had become trapped in an old hernia. It had literally strangled for lack of blood.

Doctors said they had found a small perforation in the removed section—but that there had been no gangrene.

From the time that report came Sunday, the only succeeding reports had been of "no change" in the general's condition. His family was close by—either in the recovery area or in the executive suite of the "alter Reed Army Medical Center."

JAUNDICE
MacArthur entered the hospital 28 days ago today suffering from severe jaundice — and on March 6 underwent his first operation. Doctors removed gallstones and his gall bladder to relieve a bile obstruction causing the jaundice.

Recovery progressed normally, with the general receiving visitors, taking short walks and eating a regular diet.

Last Monday he was stricken with the rupture and bleeding of a varicose vein in his esophagus. Doctors operated again, this time under emergency conditions, to stem the bleeding. They rerouted major veins to relieve the pressure, removing the spleen in the process, and stopped the bleeding.

Again recovery seemed to continue normally, until the general was hit again, this time by pneumonia, an inflammation at the base of his right lung.

Under antibiotic therapy, the lung showed marked improvement, and he was reported recovering until the second emergency Sunday.

Steely Orb Symbol For World Fair

NEW YORK (AP) — The World's Fair opening next month will be symbolized by the Unisphere, which stands for peace through understanding.

For years visitors will remember the huge stainless steel globe, showing all the continents and with three orbital rings.

But can you recall the fair that had the amazing Crystal Palace, or the one with the traveling bridge?

There have been more than 30 world expositions since the first was held in London in 1851 and each has tried to be a little more lavish, dazzling and fantastic than the preceding.

One fair boasted a fountain that sprayed eau de Cologne. Another topped it with a fountain that shot out artificial flowers.

EIFFEL TOWER
Structures erected for some fairs were so admired they were retained for decades. A few, including the famous Eiffel Tower in Paris, are still in use.

An assassin fatally wounded President William McKinley while he was attending the Pan American Exposition at Buffalo in 1901.

The Exposition Universelle in Paris in 1867 attracted reigning monarchs from 18 nations.

The first fair was staged in an immense and remarkable building of iron and glass, dubbed the Crystal Palace and erected in London's Hyde Park.

It was made of 300,000 panes of glass and was so large—as long as six football fields—that full size trees grew under its roof.

It was unlike any building that ever had been constructed before and provided a note of the fantastic that became essential in all subsequent fairs.

SIX MILLION
Opened by Queen Victoria, the show was an immense success from the beginning, attracting six million spectators during its 144-day run.

There were 100,000 exhibits and a multitude of fountains, one spraying eau de Cologne to freshen the atmosphere. A new musical invention, called the saxophone, intrigued many visitors.

The Crystal Palace later was moved to the outskirts of London, where it remained until destroyed by fire in 1936.

New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art now has an exhibition on fairs. This and other sources offer curious notes on world fair history.

New York adopted the glass house idea for its fair of 1853, but made one improvement. Glass in the dome was stained to reduce glare from sunlight that had brought complaints in London.

HIT BY FIRE
Cruciform in shape and somewhat resembling a church, the imposing structure stood near what is now the Public Library on Fifth Avenue. A fire destroyed it in 1858.

The French International Exposition in Paris in 1855 offered immense exhibition space in two big halls, many fine art displays and a fountain that ejected artificial flowers.

In 1862, London held another international exhibition. It built a second Crystal Palace complete with two domes. Prosper Merimee, a French novelist, described the glass building as "horrible" and the restaurants as "detestable."

President Ulysses S. Grant opened the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition in 1876. It was the first of the really mammoth fairs and its five large structures and more than 100 smaller ones occupied 60 acres.

PRESENT SITE
The Gallery of Art still survives and was the home of the Philadelphia Museum until it moved to its present site.

The nearly 10 million visitors got a look at another new invention, Thomas Edison's phonograph.

At Paris' Exposition Universelle in 1878, the noted actress, Sarah Bernhardt, became so enthralled by a balloon exhibit that she persuaded the balloonist to take her aloft for an aerial dinner and a broader look at the big show.

Paris put on another Exposition Universelle in 1889 and the 984-foot Eiffel Tower went up as the center attraction and the world's tallest structure.

The fair also offered a handy moving bridge on which weary spectators could ride the entire length of one big hall, viewing the passing scene from a sitting position.

Visitors to Chicago's Columbian Exposition in 1893 saw the electric light powered by a new generator created by George Westinghouse and got a chance to try the Ferris wheel, the dizziest of all rides up to that time.

ELECTRICITY
The Pan American Exposition in Buffalo in 1901 featured an electric tower emphasizing the importance of electric power from nearby Niagara Falls.

A tragedy marred the show. President McKinley was shot by an assassin at the Temple of Music on Sept. 6 and died eight days later.

Some other fairs:
St. Louis, 1904—Covered more than two square miles with fountains, courts and buildings.
San Francisco, 1915—Featured a tower of jewels 435 feet high. Its palace of fine arts is still standing.

Philadelphia, 1926 — Municipal stadium, scene of countless Army-Navy games, was built for the fair.
Chicago, 1933-34 — Featured science, industry, and the midway, and fan dancer Sally Rand.
New York, 1939-40—The Trylon and the Perisphere, and the Futurama building.
Seattle, 1962—The space needle and the monorail train.

Work, Worship As LBJ Extends Holiday Stay

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson is extending the Easter holiday he says is no vacation into another day or two around the LBJ Ranch.

Again today no appointments were announced for the chief executive. That's been the pattern for his stay here, now in its fifth day.

But Johnson has been getting in some work—a president always does. And he sort of grumbled, "haven't had one," when asked Sunday how he was enjoying his Easter vacation.

Over the weekend, the President quickly proclaimed earthquake ravaged Alaska a disaster area and mustered federal help for the state as reports flowed in from the scene and from Washington.

PAPER WORK
Among other things, Johnson got in some paper work, announced some appointments and drafted a bid to Congress to set up a committee to find out why farmers are getting less for food and housewives are paying more.

In the aftermath of the shooting down of two straying American planes over East Germany in recent weeks, Johnson said that "I have given very strong instructions" for American airmen to observe the boundaries of corridors assigned to allied aviation.

Some of these items were the product of another Saturday news conference over which Johnson presided in a beige Western ensemble in the combination library and office in the ranch house.

POVERTY
The President skirted political questions, said he intends to take a look in person at areas of poverty and unemployment at a time not yet determined, announced appointments of four women to high level government posts, and said he respects the opinions of the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee but disagrees with his views on Cuba and Panama.

The chairman is Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who took some swings at administration policy toward those Latin trouble spots in a Senate speech last week.

In interludes between the presidential work, Johnson has been off by car or helicopter to visit neighbors. He has been out often looking over his 400 acres along the Pedernales River and other property he owns.

HOME PLACE
He and Mrs. Johnson conduct tours of the home place at the drop of a 10-gallon hat.

Reporters who were invited out for beer and pretzels Saturday got a news conference almost as soon as they arrived—and a tour almost as soon as the conference ended.

Each at the wheel of a white luxury car, the President and his wife led a cavalcade of motley ranch cars around the ranch—with heavy hands on special horns that can call cattle or persuade animals to move off the road.

"See them run!" Johnson exclaimed when a blast sent some black sows and piglets scurrying.

BABY PIG
Photographers wanted a picture of Johnson with a baby pig. He was willing if they could catch one. In a moment, a piglet was plunked down in his arms.

At one stop, Johnson handed over a Kennedy half dollar to a young Negro, the son of a ranchhand.

"You know who I am?" Johnson inquired.

That brought a wide grin and the right answer: "Yes, sir, the President."

Another point of interest was Johnson's birthplace—a time-weathered property the President said he bought just two weeks ago for $2,500, though he considered it worth only about $500.

Gov. and Mrs. John Connally spent Sunday afternoon with the Johnsons and had Easter dinner at the ranch—a dinner featuring sirloin strip steak and some vegetables grown on the ranch.

SERVICES
The President and Mrs. Johnson attended Easter services in Fredericksburg, 15 miles from the ranch.

Johnson, 6 feet 3, had to duck to get into little Barnabas Episcopal Mission, with its low shed roof and low door. Only 46 other worshippers attended—a capacity crowd.

The Johnsons joined in prayers and hymns and received communion. They heard the Rev. Jack Langford ask God's help for "the people of Alaska suffering from the trials and tribulations caused by the tremors in the earth's crust."

The President wore a black suit for Easter. Mrs. Johnson wore a coral wool suit and matching silk blouse. Neither had a new Easter bonnet.

The President was bareheaded. Mrs. Johnson's hat was of beige straw with a rolled brim—and she had worn it before.

One Injured As Well Explodes

CORSICANA (AP)—An old oil well being repressurized as a new well exploded Sunday as a crew worked around it.

Jerry Oxley, 21, of Many, La., suffered a broken leg in the initial explosion, which triggered five other blasts.

Damage was estimated at $200,000, mostly to equipment of the Charlene Cement Co. of Houston. The well is near Retreat, 6 miles east of Corsicana.
