Legislature Bid

Ex-Local Resident To Run

A Big Spring cotton buyer with a degree in political science and government announced Saturday as a candidate for Texas House of Representatives, District 63 (Mitchell, Nolan and Howard Counties).

He is Ralph Lamar Mahoney, 29, who formerly lived in Colorado City.

Mahoney is a candidate for the post now held by State Rep. Temple Dickson of Sweetwater, who this month revealed he would not seek re-election for a fourth term.

"I was born in Houston," Mahoney said, "but moved to Colorado City while still an infant.

"I've been a resident of West Texas since that date except for the time in college, military service and a few months in Memphis as a cotton buyer."

Mahoney said he believed the office of State Representative should not be treated as "the personal property of the office-holder," but as an assignment of trust from the people of the district.

"I shall be responsive to the people of this district and seek to speak their feelings in the legislature as their representative," he stated. "I will not be dominated by any special interest group."

RALPH MAHONEY
he's a candidate

Mahoney was graduated in 1958 from Big Spring High, attended Tarleton State College for two years and received a bachelor of arts degree from Texas Christian University with a major in politics science and government.

While in TCU he was active in Young Democrats of Texas and served as a member of their state executive committee.

He served two years in the U.S. Army with one year in Vietnam, where he served as a security and identification chief at Cam Rann Bay in a joint effort in security control between the U.S. and the Vietnamese.

Mahoney, in his brief visit to Colorado City Saturday morning, said the time has come when Texas must take another look for new source of revenue.

"Sales taxes and property taxes can no longer by considered as a never-ending supply of revenue," he explained. However, he said he had no fixed position where this new source should be.

He also professed active support for Texas Natural Fibers Commission and consideration for providing that commission with "working authority" in work that is vitally important to cotton and, therefore, to this district.

"I have never held political office," Mahoney said, "but my college training, political experience as a Young Democrat and experience in the

Strict Conduct Ordered For Fighting Juveniles

Judge Elmer Martin laced a strick code of conduct into another chance for seven juveniles who were among those Latin-American youths in fights and disorders at Colorado High last week.

If they don't live up to the code every day with good conduct, then they can expect to be right back in Juvenile Court to face the consequences.

Judge Martin made this point emphatic when he spoke to the seven youths and their parents Friday in the hearing.

Investigation and court action in the outbreak, which resulted in the stabbing of one 15-year-old Latin-American, is not ending with this single juvenile hearing.

A charge of aggravated assault has been filed in County Court against Cruz Pineda, another student who is 18 and who can be tried as an adult.

He is accused using a metal chain in an assault on Raul Contreras during the big fight inside the school.

Another youth has been questioned concerning the firing of a gun in a residential area when two groups of youths confronted each other after school classes were dismissed.

And a 10th youth is expected to voluntarily under go psychiatric examination.

One of the important results of the Friday hearing in the delinquency hearing of the seven juveniles is the face that the court has retained jurisdiction over all seven. Final decision of the court will depend upon how the youths and their parents respond to the code of conduct imposed by Judge Martin.

Here is what the judge ordered each boy must do as he released the seven to custody of their parents:

1. All orders of the court will be explicitly obeyed, without exception. Copies of the court orders are being furnished school authorities so they will be acquainted with the courts decision.

2. Must obey every law, school rule, order or request, at any time. School authorities are requested to report any violation they observe directly to the court.

3. Must punctually attend, remain and participate as directed or as proper in school activities and functions.

4. Must be courteous at all times.

5. Weapons of any kind, including pocket knives and chains, are prohibited at any time on or about the seven.

6. Must refuse and refrain from any words, altercations, arguments or fights of any kind anywhere, particularly on school grounds.

7. Each must promptly report to the court, sheriff's officers or police any person attempting to cause trouble, disorder or arguments of any kind.

The seven defendants were represented in the hearings by two attorneys. Also, included as an observer was Principal Wally Price of Colorado High.

"There was a fine spirit of cooperation by the attorneys involved," said Judge Martin, "and the parents appeared to be genuinely concerned and anxious to assist the court."

However, he made is plain that the final outcome of the hearing will depend on how the youths conduct themselves.

County Attorney Frank Ginzel, who has been busy investigating the entire case since the outburst of distrubances Jan. 15, also emphasized that he would press for additional court action if evidence points to other participants in the fights.

"This is a serious matter," Ginzel told the Record, "and these youths and parents must understand that the citizens of this community will not tolerate their schools to be misused and threatened as they were last week."

Committee-Director Link

C-of-C Projects Liaison Named

Director representatives for 12 Chamber of Commerce project committees were announced Saturday by new Chamber President J. C. Britton.

These leaders will represent the Chamber's board of directors on the committees, serving as liaison for the executive group at the actual work level.

Each of the representatives are selecting able leaders to serve as the chairmanship of the 12 committees.

Here are the committee-director line-ups announced by Britton:

Agriculture - Travis Turner, well known farmer and named Monday as the outstanding farm family for 1969. He is a holdover member of the Chamber board.

Culture and Education - Dick Wistrand, partner in G. E. Foster Insurance & Loans, newly installed as a director.

Fair and Banquet - Robert Aycock, partner in Colorado Machine Shop and a holdover Chamber director.

Finance and Membership - Drew Ballard, owner of Radio Station KVMC beginning his first year as a director.

Highway and Lakes-Water Resources - John T. Merritt, owner of Pond & Merritt Cleaners, will work with dual committees, each with a separate chairman. He is also an experienced member of the Chamber board.

Merchants - Vernon Lewis, owner of E-Z Way Superette and starting his first year as a Chamber director.

Industrial Development - Don Benson, Texas Electric Service Company manager who has just stepped down from the Chamber's presidency. He served as director representative to this same committee during the last 12 months.

Operation Pride - Joe Morren, certified public accountant and holdover member of the Chamber's board.

Chairmanship and make-up of the 12 project committees is expected to be completed this week.

"We are urging that the citizens of our community give their best effort during 1970 for the progress of our city," said Britton.

"Vision and work by these committees will be the principal leadership and spark for this effort."

Area's Census Office Opens

Thirty-county district, which includes Mitchell County, will open Monday its office for the 1970 Census of Population and Housing.

Location will be in Wichita Falls with Richard R. Newton of Wichita Falls as district manager.

From this office Newton will supervise all phases of the census in Mitchell and 31 other counties -- Archer, Baylor, Clay, Coke, Cooke, Denton, Dickens, Fisher, Foard, Glasscock, Hardeman, Haskell, Howard, Jones, Kent, King, Knox, Jack, Montague, Nolan, Palo Pinto, Shackelford, Stephens, Sterling, Stonewall, Taylor, Throckmorton, Wichita, Willbarger, Wise and Young.

Newton will direct a force of 40 crew leaders and 609 census takers throughout the district.

He is a graduate of University of Pennsylvania and owner-operator of an oil production business in Wichita Falls.

His appointment was announced Saturday by Percy R. Millard, director of the Census

5 More Days

For Voter Sign-Up

Mitchell County registered 340 more voters in two days, but the registration pace still is slack compared to previous years.

Tax Assessor - Collector Montie Hardegree reported 2,740 total registration late Friday.

However, Jaycees had a registration station Saturday in Civic House and several churches were to distribute registration blanks Sunday.

Only five more days remain for Mitchell County citizens to register so they can vote in this important election year. Last day for registering at the Courthouse will be Friday, Hardegree said.

His office will remain open Friday night for stragglers, but definitely will be closed Saturday, Jan. 31.

Governor Preston Smith contacted county Democratic leaders by telegram urging get-out-the-voter drive during these final days of registration. Like Senator Ralph Yarborough has been warning for weeks, the governor said registration is low some areas of the state.

Club Names Powell To Presidency

He was elected Tuesday night at the club's annual stockholders meeting.

Named to the vice presidency was Eddie Piland, owner of Eddie's Pharmacy.

Four new directors elected at the meeting are Wayne Dodson, A. G. Furlow, Jr., D. M. Merritt, Charles A. (Dink) Rees and Piland.

Powell succeeds Raymond Fuller in the club president's post. Traditional dinner honoring the new president will be announced later.

It'll Sure Make A Big Bonfire !

This big pile of broken tree limbs grows larger day by day as city trucks keep dumping the debris in an open area between Ruddick Park and Little League Park. It will all be burned in a big bonfire by the city, but at least 200 more truck loads must be hauled before the ice storm damage is cleared away.

Same Loan Levels Likely

'70 Small Grains Support Prices

Area farmers who participate in the feed grain program have assurance that the 1970 price-support loan levels for corn, grain sorghum, and barley will be essentially the same as in 1969, according to Warren Anderson, member of the Mitchell County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Loan levels for oats and rye also will be about the same, he said.

"While there could be some small change because of transportation cost factors, for production planning purposes farmers can count on our county loan rates being about like last years: corn, $1.91 per bushel; grain sorghum, $1.62 per hundredweight; barley, $.82 per bushel; oats, $.74 per bushel; and rye, $.98 per bushel," he said.

The precise 1970 loan levels for Mitchell County will not be known for some time, he reported.

The 1970 feed grain national average loan levels have been set at: grain sorghum, $1.61 per hundredweight; barley, $.83 per bushel; oats, $.63 per bushel; rye, $1.02 per bushel.

Price-support payment rates for program participants will be exactly the same as in 1969; 30 cents per bushel for corn; 29.68 cents per bushel (53 cents per hundredweight) for grain sorghum; 20 cents per bushel for barley.

A farm's total price-support payment is arrived at by multiplying the per bushel price-support payment times the farm's projected yield times the smaller of the planted food grain acreage or 50 per cent of the farm's feed grain base.

For producers of corn, grain sorghum, and barley, price-support loans and payments are contingent upon voluntary participation in the feed grain program and compliance with its provisions.

Wolves Lose 3rd

Start 2nd Half With 1-3 Mark

Colorado High Wolves ended their first half of District 3-AAA South Zone schedule here Friday night on a sour note.

They fell 52-77 to Snyder Tigers, missing an opportunity to pull up to a .500 mark.

Now, they face the final half of zone play with starting record of only one victory in four official starts.

Wesley Bishop was the big noise for the Tigers, pushing 12 field goals through the mesh. When he added two free tosses, his total for the night added up to 26 points. That's more than any two Wolves could count.

Rickie Sorenson, the senior who has been a bright spot in the C-City line-up recently with improved play, hit for 12 points, 10 of 'em by the field goal route, to lead the Wolves.

Right behind were Willie Hopkins with 11, David Matthews with 10, Stan Bracy with 9 and Robert Bender with 8.

Snyder moved into an early lead and was out front 12-17 at end of the first quarter. And the Wolves were still very much in the game with a close second quarter although scored 14 to 16 during that period.

Still, the 26-38 count at half-time didn't place victory out of reach.

But is was just about over at the end of the third when the Tigers spurted with 17 points while limiting C-City to 10.

Auto Inspections Are Lagging Here

With the state's April 15 motor vehicle inspection deadline approximately 90 days away, large numbers of Mitchell County motorists have yet to take their vehicles in for the mandatory annual safety inspection.

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, Wednesday urged all motorists whose vehicles have not been inspected to visit an inspection station as soon as possible.

"Those getting the inspection now will avoid long lines which are certain to develop at many stations as the April 15 deadline draws near," he said.

The DPS Director noted that Texas adopted an annual inspection program Sept. 1, 1969. All vehicles inspected since that date have had the sticker placed on the left side of the windshield with a large number tab inserted to show the month of expiration.

For example, vehicles inspected in September have the number nine displayed and will require reinspection before September 30, 1970. Those inspected in October have the number 10 and must be reinspected before October 31, 1970. Vehicles which are inspected in January will bear the number one and reinspection will be required before January 31, 1971.

CONVERSATION CORNER

THERE ARE SO many things to care about. There is that sadder-than-fears look of desolation in the eyes of hungry Biafran children, shown on TV via sattelite.

Pick up any daily newspaper or weekly news magazine. There are so many things to care about. . .children born with birth defects. . .children living in slums. . .children crying all over the world.

There are so many things to care about that sometimes the heart is fit to break and the mind seethes with questions with no visible answers.

There are so many things to care about. . .pollution, poverty, crime, inflation, disease, drug traffic, mass insanity, war. . . that sometimes it is almost impossible to find something to care about.

DECIDED, after a day spent hearing President Nixon's State of the Union message and a night spent hearing his message dissected, to try to find something not to care about, anyhow, just for a change.

It isn't easy to find things not to care about. But did learn, upon reflection, a shattering of what is meant by the now familiar expression "couldn't care less."

"Couldn't care less," once you get used to that inverted term, says more than just "don't care."

COULDN'T care less, in case anybody cares, whether or not the President has his thinning dark hair colored.

Doesn't he and only his hair-stylist knows is not the question. But is made modest headlines, recently.

COULDN'T care less what Mr. Nixon's personal interest:

To be or not to die is strictly Mr. Nixon's personal business. Interest to see a better world without the shadow of to die or not to die young—in battle—is the question.

To die or not to die in the cradle from neglect or hunger is the question. To die or not to die from the old truism man's inhumanity to man. . .to woman. . .and to the little child, is the question.

COULDN'T care less what Michael Brody, Jr., has to say next. That 21-year-old, whose utterances of giving away his dog monopolized the headlines for days, needs help.

His condition, by his own admission brought about during a trip, is not at all funny.

Reporters who followed him and his bride around making sport of [illegible] hounds are a disgrace to the journalism profession.

Couldn't care less whether he's rich or poor. The question is whether anyone who loves him doesn't arrange to have him receive professional treatment. He needs a trip to the hospital.

COULDN'T CARE LESS category has a few minor notes. Couldn't care less whether or not Dean Martin marries his beauty queen. . .or who slew Dr. Michael Shay, on "As The World Turns." He asked for it, didn't he?

Couldn't care less about the art show starring a Beatle and his love life, which got banned in London.

Couldn't care less about the new Pat Paulsen's Half-A-Comedy show. It is beautifully named, though.

Oh well. Trouble may be that Spiro Agnew has hired up all the best Half-A-Comedy writers.

NEWSPAPERS of this generation, for all their faults, are better than they used to be.

Wayne DuBois (Maj. Ret.) has a perfectly preserved copy of an Albany, New York, paper printed in 1820.

It deserves a whole column of comment. It is that rare. Thing is, it would take a strong magnifying glass to read all the classified ads on front page, no less.

Did spot one little item recounting a tragic accident to a citizen who lost control of his horse and had his "gig" turned over in a ditch!

Life was complicated even in 1820.

Saw Shug Bynum, Dr. H. Jene Steakley and his wife Bobbie, same place, same time.

Mary Anne (Kelley) McCloud, wife of Judge Austin McCloud, and her beautiful first daughter Melinda were at the Corner. Later, Mary Anne dashed by with a copy of "The Lodge," an informal history of the Lodge at Cloudcroft, New Mexico, where this particular family has spent many happy vacation hours. The McClouds own a picturesque summer cottage a short distance down the mountain from the Lodge.

They are visiting third son Jerry and his family at Lakeland, Fla. Jerry, who works for the Florida Citrus Corporation, is married to the former Sue Watson. She is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. (Plez) Watson, former Coltians who live now in Garland.

Jerry and Sue are parents of two sons, Jeff and Rick, and a little girl named Julie.

His parents had a short visit with Scott and his family in Austin, then took a plane for two weeks in Florida.

Mrs. Maxwell Davidson recently visited her sister, Mrs. Ben Elliott and family and her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Latty, a patient in Root Memorial Hospital.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith, Jr. were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Miller of Crane.

The latter visited his mother, Mrs. C. J. Miller, who is seriously ill in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene.

Federation Tea Honors District President

Mrs. W. V. Wheeler of Anson, president of Mesquite District Federation of Women's Club, will be honored here Tuesday afternoon at a tea in Hesperian Room of Mitchell County Public Library.

Hesperian Daughters will serve as hostess for the tea, which will be combined with a regular monthly meeting in which officers for 1970-71 will be elected.

"Another year has gone by with a lot of good things and a few bad," Barbara writes, "but one of the good things is receiving our C-City Record.

"Sure do miss all the smiling faces and hello's from our friends in C. City. On the day the Record arrives it makes us feel like we're back home."

OFF THE CUFF—want to play the guessing game?

Wedding bells are being tuned up for June by a bachelor who grew up in C. City and a cute young business girl who grew up in Loraine.

Today (Sunday, Jan. 25) marks the birthday of the O&OS up in Midland, Michigan.

Another hint—O&OS is short for one and only son, named Bill. As the King of Siam was always saying "Is a puzzlement" how he is now just four years younger than his mother—as she reckons her own birthdays.

City Manager Sadler Speaks At Boy Scout Court of Honor

City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr. Thursday evening was guest speaker for a Court of Honor honoring Boy Scouts of Troop 20 and 23.

Sadler used the letters in spelling Boy Scouts to tell what scouting means to him.

"B is for boy," he said, "First, be a boy; second, be proud you are a boy."

In explaining the characteristic of outgoing, Sadler, a former Boy Scout, advised scouts to give of themselves to the needs of others. "As Scouts you have a lot to offer - share it with others."

"You will be Boy Scouts for only some six years. You will become a man all too soon. Remember in manhood and old age your fondest memories will be those of your youth. Enjoy it while you can."

Sincere is the description he chose for the letter, S, encouraging scouts to be sincere in studies, every day endeavors and duties.

Courtesy to family, fellowman and fellow scouts and obedience to the laws of the land and laws of church were other characteristics described by the guest speaker.

"U is for understanding," he continued. "Be understanding in your contacts with your fellow in your contacts with your fellowman, be understanding in the recognition of the faults you find in your family, your friends and your leaders."

In concluding his remarks Sadler related his characteristic for T- true. He advised Scouts to be true to God, country, family and themselves.

Scoutmaster of Troop 20, B. D. Mason served as master of ceremonies.

Jerry Mason led Scouts and guests in the pledge to the flag. Bill Ellis spoke the welcome.

Three Scouts in Troop 20 received rank awards during the Court of Honor presentation. They were Bill Ellis, life rank; Mark Reynolds, star rank, and Jeff Bertl, star rank.

Ellis also received personal fitness, first aid, public speaking, citizenship in the community merit badges.

Badges for Reynolds, in addition to his rank award, included first aid, citizenship in the community and personal fitness.

Bureau's Regional Office in Dallas.

Initial period of Newton's work will be for setting up the district office and its operational plans. He has been in the Dallas regional office for several days of intensive training and preparation.

The 1970 Census, which will dwelve into more aspects of American life than any previous census, will require nationwide 12,000 crew leaders and 160,000 census takers plus 393 district managers and 13,000 office personnel.

Measurement May Assist Producers

Producers who plan to participate in the 1970 voluntary wheat, feed grain, or cotton programs may save money by requesting measurement service from their county agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office, according to Curtis E. Latimer, chairman of the Mitchell County ASC Committee.

He urged farmers to put in their requests for measurement service as soon as possible in order to be assured of early service.

The ASCS office makes a charge for the measurement service sufficient to cover cost of the field and office work. "In proprotion to possible savings to the farmers, the modest charge is well worth it," said Latimer.

Under the voluntary programs, a farmer certifies the acreage he has planted in wheat, feed grain, and cotton. Failure to certify to the exact acreage devoted to each crop and land use can result in substantial reductions in payments otherwise earned under the farm programs.

However, if the acreage has been staked by an ASCS reproter prior to planting or prior to the certification date, the farmer has assurance he will be able to make precise certification.

If his acreage is staked before planting, he need only stay within the staked areas to assure compliance with the programs. If his acreage is measured after planting and before certification, he still will have time to make change to comply fully with the programs.

The ASCS measurement service provides for staking both the land to be planted to the program crops and the land which is to be diverted from crop production.

"Guessing about acreage can cost the farmer money either through over-planting or under-planting," Latimer said. "Acreage measurement takes the guessing out."

He pointed out that after a producer has certified his crop acres and his diverted acres he cannot make changes in order to comply with program provisions. If a spot check reveals an error, a penalty must be assessed. Spot checks are made each year on a substantial number of farms participating in the voluntary program.

Measurement service should be requested at the County ASCS Office. Complete details about the service and the charge for it plus full information about farm program compliance provisions are available.

Rites Here For Kin of Buchanans

Katherine Hammock Norris, the daughter of Mrs. Angela Buchanan Hammock and the late G. T. Hammock, died in Chicago Friday at Michael Reese Hospital after an illness of four months.

Mrs. Norris, the niece of Roy Buchanan, Mrs. Lewis Major and Katherine Buchanan, all of Colorado City, completed high school here, later graduated from University of New Mexico, with graduate work at Washington University of St. Louis. Her special field was Spanish and she spent a year studying in Spain.

Many of her years were spent in New Mexico, later moving to Kansas City, Mo., teaching Spanish in one of the high schools. More recently she taught Spanish at Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Missiouri, and was to be at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, N. M., when she became ill.

Her maternal grandfather was J. A. Buchanan, rancher and real estate man of Colorado City. Her paternal grandfather was the Rev. R. M. Hammock, pastor of the Presbyterian Church here in the early days.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Angela Hammock; her son, Dr. Stephen Norris of Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago; a daughter, Mrs. Richard Michelini of Cambridge, Mass., and four grandchildren.

The Rev. John Hancock of All Saints' Episcopal Church will conduct last rites at Kiker and Son Funeral Home Monday at 2 p.m. with burial in Colorado City cemetery.

170 Absent Friday at High School

Illness kept 160 students and 10 teachers away from Colorado High Friday afternoon.

School administrators said a flu-type of illness was main reason for the high number of absentees.

The illness had been building up during the week. By Thursday the total number of ill students had increased to 102, then 58 more were out before classes ended Friday afternoon.

Over the entire system Friday, 285 absent students were counted. Next highest to Colorado High was Frank Kelley Elementary where 45 pupils were away from classes in the first three grades.
