Roughneck Killed

Eugene Robinson, 21, roughneck employed by the Sharp Drilling Co. of Midland, died at 8:15 p.m. Thursday of injuries received Monday night on an oil rig. Location of the rig is about 16 miles west of Big Spring.

Young Robinson, who was unmarried, lived in Odessa.

He was brought to the Cowper Hospital and Clinic at 9 p.m. Monday. Hospital personnel was told he had been trapped between two joints of drilling pipe. He suffered massive internal injuries and died Thursday night.

River-Welch Funeral Home took the body in charge, and then transferred it to the Hubbard-Kelly Funeral Home in Odessa. Services will be at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Grandview Baptist Church in Odessa. Burial will be in the Sunset Memorial Park.

The victim was brought to the hospital here in a private car.

Bible Fund Report

The high school Bible Fund appeal picked up in both number of responses and the day's total Thursday, but a sharp increase will be needed to hit $2,000 by the end of the week. The fund needs to be at that point to have a chance of reaching the $3,500 objective in the remaining week of the annual appeal.

Among the backers of the fund is Mrs. R. O. Weathers, who now lives in Marietta, Okla. "My two sons (Ray and Jim) took Bible in Big Spring High and were greatly benefitted," she wrote. "I hope it will always be available — wish it could be in all our schools." In Thursday's tabulation, a typographical error gave the incorrect amount on the gift by the Homemakers class of First Christian; it should have been $10.

Nixon Winding Up

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon will resume his quest for the presidency on Wednesday in Chicago with a motorcade through the Loop and a television program broadcast throughout Illinois, an aide said Thursday.

The aide said Nixon will spend Wednesday night in Chicago and will travel to San Francisco Thursday. He also will campaign in Oklahoma and Texas during the tour.

Nixon has spent the past eight days on what he called a "working vacation" at Key Biscayne off Florida. He flew to New York today for a round of planning.

He said he wants to campaign on issues rather than personalities.

Quoting The Politicians

By The Associated Press

What major figures at the Democratic National Convention are saying:

"Let those who believe that our cause in Vietnam has been right—and those who believe it has been wrong—agree here and now: neither vindication nor repudiation will bring peace or be worthy of our country." — Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey.

"If we can elect 10 more senators of our point of view, we can help determine foreign policy more than Richard Nixon or Hubert Humphrey. We're going to continue to carry the issues to the country." — War critic Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, withholding support from Humphrey.

"If you're not loyal to your country, you're just nothing." — Former Democratic national chairman James Farley.

"I've about concluded that we ought to scrap this whole convention system." — Loser Sen. George S. McGovern.

WEBB QUEEN
Mrs. Patti Anderson

To Reign Over Base Carnival

After an eye-popping evening of parading bathing beauties, Mrs. Patti Anderson was named Queen of Webb AFB for 1968. Thursday Mrs. Anderson, whose husband is Capt. Charles Anderson, personnel services officer, was judged winner from the field of 18 contestants.

From the total entry, five were selected semi-finalists by the panel of eight judges. The four runners-up were Mrs. Phyllis Mott, Mrs. Shirley Ruth Hamm, Ann Hatch and Mrs. Jill Davis.

Mrs. Mott's husband, 1st Lt. David Mott, is an instructor pilot and, like Mrs. Anderson, she has two children. Mrs. Hamm is the wife of S. Sgt. Donald Hamm, who works in the publications branch. Miss Hatch is an auditing clerk in the resident auditor's office. Mrs. Davis, who is from England, is married to S. Sgt. Gary Davis of the management engineering detachment.

Mrs. Anderson, a former Miss Keesler AFB, will reign over the Webb Carnival which opens today at 6 p.m. and continues through Monday.

The judges, whose selection met with resounding approval of the estimated 200 persons watching the pageant at the Officers' Open Mess, were Col. William C. McGlothlin, Col. Chandler B. Estes, Col. Robert W. Casey and Col. Donald A. Jones, C. M. Sgt. Milton Johnson, M. Sgt. Norman Newell, and T. Sgt. Joseph Cyr.

Party Unity Problem First On HHH Agenda

CHICAGO (AP) — With a little-known senator from a small state as his handpicked running-mate, Democratic presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey starts a campaign that will first require plugging the gaping holes of party unity.

At Humphrey's request, the Democratic National Convention Thursday night dutifully delivered the vice presidential nomination to Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, a former Maine governor who has acquired the reputation of a capable senator, but not national popularity.

WEEK OF DISCORD

The convention closed after a week of discord, sometimes vitrioloc, on a night marked again in downtown Chicago by police and National Guard troops firing tear gas and swinging clubs to break up demonstrations by anti-Vietnam war protesters.

After going through the motions of selecting Muskie, delegates cheered and waved banners to the tune of "Happy Days Are Here Again" as Humphrey took the podium to accept the presidential nomination and plead for national unity and justice.

Signalling his promotion from President Johnson's team to his now sovereign position as his party's nominee, the vice president told the delegates that their areas of agreement are much greater than those of division.

On the sorest issue of all, he said:

"Let those who believe our cause in Vietnam has been right—and those who believe it has been wrong—agree here and now: Neither vindication nor repudiation will bring peace or be worthy of our country. . .

LESSON

"If there is one lesson we should have learned, it is that the policies of tomorrow need not be limited by the policies of yesterday.

"If I am president, I shall apply that lesson to the search for peace in Vietnam as to all other areas of national politics. . ."

With the pattern of his campaign thus sketched, Humphrey begins overhauling the party organization with the election today of a national party chairman to succeed John M. Bailey of Connecticut, who has served in the spot since 1960.

Gov. John N. Dempsey of Connecticut said the word had come down that Lawrence F. O'Brien, former postmaster general and a long-time political adviser to the assassinated Kennedy brothers, had been tapped for the post. O'Brien was Humphrey's convention manager.

Second only to the demonstration for Humphrey was the convention's tribute to Robert F. Kennedy, who might have wrested the nomination from Humphrey if he had not been assassinated on the night that he won the June 4 California primary.

Delegates responded with a cheering, singing tribute to the showing of a 20-minute film depicting Kennedy's career and life.

Some of those who wanted to draft Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the surviving brother, went home hardly mollified by Humphrey choice of Muskie.

There was some grumbling among Southerners that Muskie was too much of a liberal to suit their conservative taste. And the doubt whether Humphrey can beat Nixon in November hovered like a cloud over some state delegations.

The 6-foot-5 Muskie, a 54-year-old Roman Catholic who has served in the Senate since 1959, epitomized party disagreement over how to end the Vietnam war. He supported a Humphrey-endorsed platorm plank that called for a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam only when Hanoi shows a willingness to reciprocate militarily.

CONCEDED

But Muskie conceded that he and Humphrey "have a different evaluation of the risks involved in stopping the bombing." For his own part, the vice presidential nominee said he would "actively pursue the prospects of a bombing halt" while consulting with Paris peace negotiators and military leaders.

But Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., did not agree. McCarthy, Humphrey's chief rival for the top nomination, declined to endorse his fellow Minnesotan.

He said he will devote his time in the fall campaign to electing Vietnam war critics to the Senate so that body will have a larger voice in foreign affairs.

McCarthy avoided the closing convention session but Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, another Humphrey opponent, attended as a sign of unity.

REVOLT

Muskie won the second place nomination overwhelmingly but not without some shortlived efforts to stage a revolt. Insurgents offered the name of Julian Bond, 28-year-old Negro legislator from Georgia, but he withdrew. He explained that he wasn't old enough to meet the constitutional requirement that a candidate be at least 35 years old.

Aw, Forget It

Cans Hurled From Hotel, Youths Hauled To Lobby

CHICAGO (AP) — Police stormed through the 15th floor of the Conrad Hilton Hotel early today, clubbing and chasing supporters and aides of Sen. Eugene McCarthy after a barrage of smoked fish and empty beer cans clanged down on Michigan Avenue.

Illinois National Guardsmen were stationed on the avenue.

The police swept some 50 youths from the floor down to the lobby. Police said there were no arrests. They said none of the youths was registered in the hotel McCarthy's people claimed otherwise.

BARDED IN

Anthony Podesta, 24, McCarthy's convention advance man, said he and about 20 McCarthy people were in suites 1506 and 1508 when the police "barged in."

"They claimed the room was listed as vacant on the hotel's lists and we had to leave," Podesta said. "This simply was not true."

John Warren, 24, the Arkansas coordinator for the McCarthy campaign, was struck on the head by a nightstick. Dr. William Davidson of Boston, McCarthy headquarters medical chief, said he treated three persons who had been clubbed.

One of those chased down to the lobby was Mary Beth McCarthy, 19, the senator's niece. In the lobby, some 30 of the youths sat on the floor in the elevator area, singing: "We Shall Overcome."

Many of the youths were allowed to return to the 15th floor after McCarthy interceded with officials.

"I'm shocked beyond belief," McCarthy said as he viewed the melee scene on the 15th floor.

"If this was a case of smoked fish and beer cars that provoked this incident, then political conventions are through," he added.

Police said they used telescopes to determine the windows from which the debris was falling onto the Illinois National Guardsmen patrolling Michigan Avenue in front of the Hilton, the headquarters hotel for the Democratic National Convention which ended Thursday night.

GAS FIRED

The guardsmen fired tear gas Thursday night into a crowd of some 3,000 antiwar demonstrators and 79 persons including eight convention delegates or alternates and two newsmen were arrested several blocks south of the Hilton.

The arrests occurred when the demonstrators began to march in the direction of the International Amphitheatre, site of the convention.

Mass arrests came later in a confrontation between National Guardsmen and a mile-long line of marchers, led by Dick Gregory, Negro civil rights activist who had invited the demonstrators to his South Side home.

The marchers were told at 18th Street and South Michigan Avenue that any further advance would be met with arrests.

Gregory and Thomas Day Frasier, a paraplegic and a Democratic county chairman from Tulsa, Okla., ignored the order and were immediately arrested. Frasier was in a wheel chair.

Rock-throwing followed as guardsmen fired tear gas and used rifle butts to disperse the crowd. More tear gas canisters were fired and the crowd dispersed to regroup at Grant Park, across from the Conrad Hilton Hotel, hub of downtown convention activity.

There the demonstrators sat peacefully on the littered grass of Chicago's lakefront as the odor of the gas lingered in the nighttime air. Convention delegates returned to the Hilton under the armed security of 1,400 guardsmen, six lines deep in front of the hotel.

Chicago police were in little evidence. They confined operations to making arrests and hauling away those arrested.

Earlier, McCarthy told the demonstrators in the park that he did not endorse either of the major party candidates for president.

Pilot Sails Bomber To A Remote Crash

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — "I was trying for the ocean and almost made it," said the pilot of an Air Force B52 bomber that skimmed over populated areas and a nuclear submarine before crashing Thursday night in a remote area of Cape Kennedy.

EXPLODED

The fuel-loaded Stratofortress exploded as it smashed into an Atlantic beach about two miles from missile row at 8:50 p.m., plowing a deep furrow in the ground and scattering charred wreckage over a wide area.

All seven crewmen bailed out. The Air Force said they received only minor injuries.

There was no damage to facilities at Cape Kennedy where several rockets are poised on multimillion-dollar launch pads, including the Saturn 1B which is to launch the first three-man Apollo astronaut team into orbit in October. There also were several thousand workmen at the cape at the time of the crash.

The Air Force said the pilot, Maj. Bobby L. Ward of Universal City, Tex., avoided a potentially disastrous situation by staying with the disabled plane until the last moment as it passed over the cities of Cocoa, Cocoa Beach and Titusville and Port Canaveral.

The $10-million B52 had engine trouble soon after takeoff from Orlando's McCoy Air Force Base, about 50 miles west of here.

Flooded Palo Duro Holds 45 Campers In Trap

By The Associated Press

An estimated 45 persons remained trapped by floodwaters in fabled Palo Duro Canyon today after helicopters rescued 13 of the most threatened during the night.

None of those still in the 1,500-foot-deep slash in the Panhandle terrain were in danger.

HIT 14 FEET

The water rushing down Palo Duro Creek reached a height of 14 feet at one time but shortly after dawn had fallen to about eight feet.

Food was flown by choppers to those remaining in the canyon.

Rains measuring up to 7.87 inches fell at Canyon, 10 miles to the northwest and upstream, to send the torrent into the canyon.

Palo Duro Canyon once was the impregnable stronghold of the Comancheros, a band of hard-bitten outlaws operating during the days when the West was wild.

It also was the scene of what is considered the last Indian battle in the United States, in the early 1880s, when a group of redskins fled the Ft. Sill Reservation.

The marooned persons largely are campers. They are expected to be freed by Saturday or Sunday unless more rain falls.

Texans Predict 'A Tough Race'

CHICAGO (AP) — The political battles of Chicago in August will bring hard times to Texas Democrats in November, say leaders of the state party.

"I'd say we are behind nationally," Gov. John Connally said Thursday night at the close of the tumultuous Democratic National Convention.

TOUGH RACE

"It will be a real tough race, but if Vice President (Hubert H.) Humphrey comes down and campaigns, we've got a chance to capture the state," said Robert S. Strauss of Dallas, Texas' new national committeeman.

On the plus side, the Lone Star delegation can point to success in backing Humphrey's presidential nomination, its support of President Johnson's Vietnam policy, and to survival of a credentials challenge that in effect tested the strength of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy at the convention.

On the minus side, the Texans had to swallow bitter defeat of the unit rule that in coming years is expected to widen the differences between liberal and conservative factions of the state party.

The selection of Maine's Sen. Edward S. Muskie as Humphrey's running mate did little to help the standing of the national ticket in Texas.

"I don't think anybody knows him in Texas," Connally said. "I don't think it will affect us one way or the other."

Strauss sees the big job in the general election campaign as convincing Texas voters, who in the past votes conservatively most of the time, that Humphrey and Muskie are at least moderates.

Strauss said the big problem is that Humphrey is not "the Texas type candidate. However, he is strong in support of President Johnson, his position on Vietnam is one that we can take in Texas, and he is strong on law and order.

DISHONESTY

Connally said Thursday night that he thought McCarthy was guilty of "intellectual dishonesty" for failing to endorse Humphrey.

He particularly criticized McCarthy for remarks made to a group of downtown demonstrators Thursday afternoon.

"The McCarthy people have been claiming all along that they are the real Democrats," Connally told newsmen. "Then when the time comes, McCarthy goes down to the park and tells those hippies, yippies, and terrorists that he is not going to support the nominee of the party . . . a classical example of intellectual dishonesty if I ever saw one in American politics."

LBJ Skips Party: Pride And Politics

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, first chief executive in 24 years to skip his own party's national convention, probably was swayed by one or all of three factors—security, pride and plain old good politics.

The Texas White House, in keeping with its usual policy, didn't shed any light on the subject. But then it hadn't indicated until the very last possible minute whether Johnson would attend the final session of the Democratic National Convention Thursday night.

SECURITY RISK

Speculation on why he didn't seemed to run along three lines:

—Security. Two top Secret Service officials were in Chicago, including the head of the White House plainclothes bodyguard, and presumably they recommended Johnson stay away from the tension-torn city and convention.

—Pride. Judging from the mood of many delegates, Johnson could not be assured in advance of an entirely friendly reception from fellow Democrats.

—Good politics. The President may have decided that his presence would have done nothing to further the election hopes of the new Democratic ticket of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

Despite the tumultous demonstrations by antiwar protesters and the bitterness of anti-Humphrey forces on the convention floor, Johnson may have had a twinge of regret at one point if he chose to stay away because of pride.

THANK YOU

Humphrey, in his acceptance speech, said Johnson "accomplished more of the unfinished business of America than any of his modern predecessors."

Then he added: "Tonight Mr. President I say thank you, thank you Mr. President."

The band struck up and the convention hall exploded into cheers.

Johnson was the first incumbent president since 1944, when Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated for an unprecedented—and now illegal—fourth term, to stay away from his party's convention. FDR was on a secret wartime trip at the time.

GEN. J. E. BOLT

Gen. Bolt Is Webb Speaker

The man who planned and led the first non-stop flight of F-105 "Thunderchiefs" from Hickam AFB Hawaii, to Kadena AFB, Okinawa, via Wake and Guam, is the scheduled guest speaker for "Stag Night" at Webb AFB's Officers Open Mess this evening.

He is Brig. Gen. Jones E. Bolt, present deputy director of operations for strike forces, Headquarters USAF in the Pentagon.

The general, as well as the "Thunderchiefs," gained national attention in 1953 for the non-stop Pacific flight since it was the first time a single engine fighter had flown such long distances over water. Air-to-air refueling was used during the flight, and due to strong winds in excess of 100 knots on the entire route, the flight time was nine hours and 45 minutes.

Gen. Bolt, a 26-year service veteran, is a commander pilot who has logged over 7,000 hours flying time, of which well over 5,000 hours is in jet fighters. Prior to his current assignment, Gen. Bolt served as director of the Tactical Air Control Center, Headquarters 7th Air Force, Tan Son Nhut AB, Vietnam, where he was responsible for the planning and execution of the air war in the southern part of North Vietnam and throughout South Vietnam.

The general has flown over 160 missions in Southeast Asia. In 1967, while commander of the 366th Tactical Fighter Wing, Da Nang AB, Vietnam, he regularly flew missions into the Hanoi area in a F-4C Phantom II. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross (DFC) with one Oak Leaf Cluster and the Air Medal with nine Oak Leaf Clusters for his actions there.

A prisoner-of-war during World War II, he was a member of the group of POW's forced on the infamous march from Stalag Luft 3 (about 100 miles southeast of Berlin) to Mooseburg (15 miles north of Munich) in 1945.

In 1948, he assisted in the formation of and flew right wing on the first jet Air Force acrobatic team — "The Acrojects." The team was the forerunner of today's "Thunderbirds" acrobatic team. Besides holding the DFC and the Air Medal, Gen. Bolt also has been awarded the Purple Heart, the Vietnamese Air Force Distinguished Service Order First Class and the Vietnamese Air Force Air Gallantry Cross.

He was graduated from Clemson A&M College, Clemson, S. C., with a degree in engineering in 1938. He attended the Air Command and Staff College, Maxwell AFB, Ala., in 1954. He and his wife have three sons.

Maine's Muskie Whips Sad Years

CHICAGO (AP) — The man Lyndon B. Johnson sentenced to Senate obscurity for daring to defy him nine years ago has emerged as the Democratic nominee for vice president.

Even Johnson eventually agreed the sentence wouldn't stick on Edmund S. Muskie, the tall man from Maine who grew quietly but steadily in stature among his Senate colleagues through patient effort and integrity.

"The President regards him as a real powerhouse," a former White House aide said as Muskie took charge of key administration proposals on Capitol Hill after Johnson became president.

"A senator's senator," said Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, the man some believed Muskie might succeed someday.

LONELY

But the first years were lonely ones for the lanky senator who arrived in Washington in 1959 after two terms as Maine's governor. Johnson, Senate majority leader then, asked Muskie to vote with him to turn back a liberal effort to limit filibustering. Muskie refused.

Johnson responded by assigning the freshman senator his fourth, fifth and sixth choices for Senate committees. Instead of the Foreign Relations Committee spot Muskie wanted, he was given Banking and Currency, Public Works, and Government Operations.

Looking back, Muskie recalled, "I was frustrated, lonely, disillusioned and disconsolate."

But during the years Muskie's committees grew in importance. He handled administration bills to stem pollution of air and water. He steered Johnson's Model Cities program in the Senate. And he moved up in party ranks to become chairman of the campaign committee for Senate Democrats.

A former aide to Johnson praised him as "one of the few liberals who's a match for the Southern legislative craftsmen."

A Cabinet member said, "If you have a domestic bill that's really tough and you need advice on how to get it through, Ed Muskie's the best buy up there."

South's take-out double of East's one spade opening with 14 high card points and relatively attractive distribution was routine; however, his partner was confronted with a problem in responding. North had 12 high card points and game appeared to be in the offing, but he had no suit of his own to bid inasmuch as his only four card holding was in spades.

North finally resolved his difficulties by making a cue bid of two spades, which obligates partner to name his best suit. When South responded with three diamonds, North raised to four. South felt obliged to carry on to game.

West opened the three of spades and East put up the king, dropping South's queen. The ace of spades was continued and ruffed in the closed hand.

On the surface it appears that declarer can win a maximum of 10 tricks—five diamonds, two hearts and, at most, three clubs no matter how favorably that suit divides. Declarer observed a way to develop an additional trick in the diamond suit, by ruffing out all of dummy's spades and then using North's diamonds to draw trumps.

A diamond was led to the nine and a third spade was ruffed with declarer's ten. The jack of diamonds was overtaken by North's king and a fourth spade was trumped with the queen of diamonds. A heart was led over to the ace and the ace of diamonds drew the last trump as South discarded a heart.

A small club was led and, when East followed with the nine, declarer played the queen which held the trick. The ace of clubs was cashed and, when East obligingly dropped the king, North's jack of clubs became established for the game fulfilling trick.

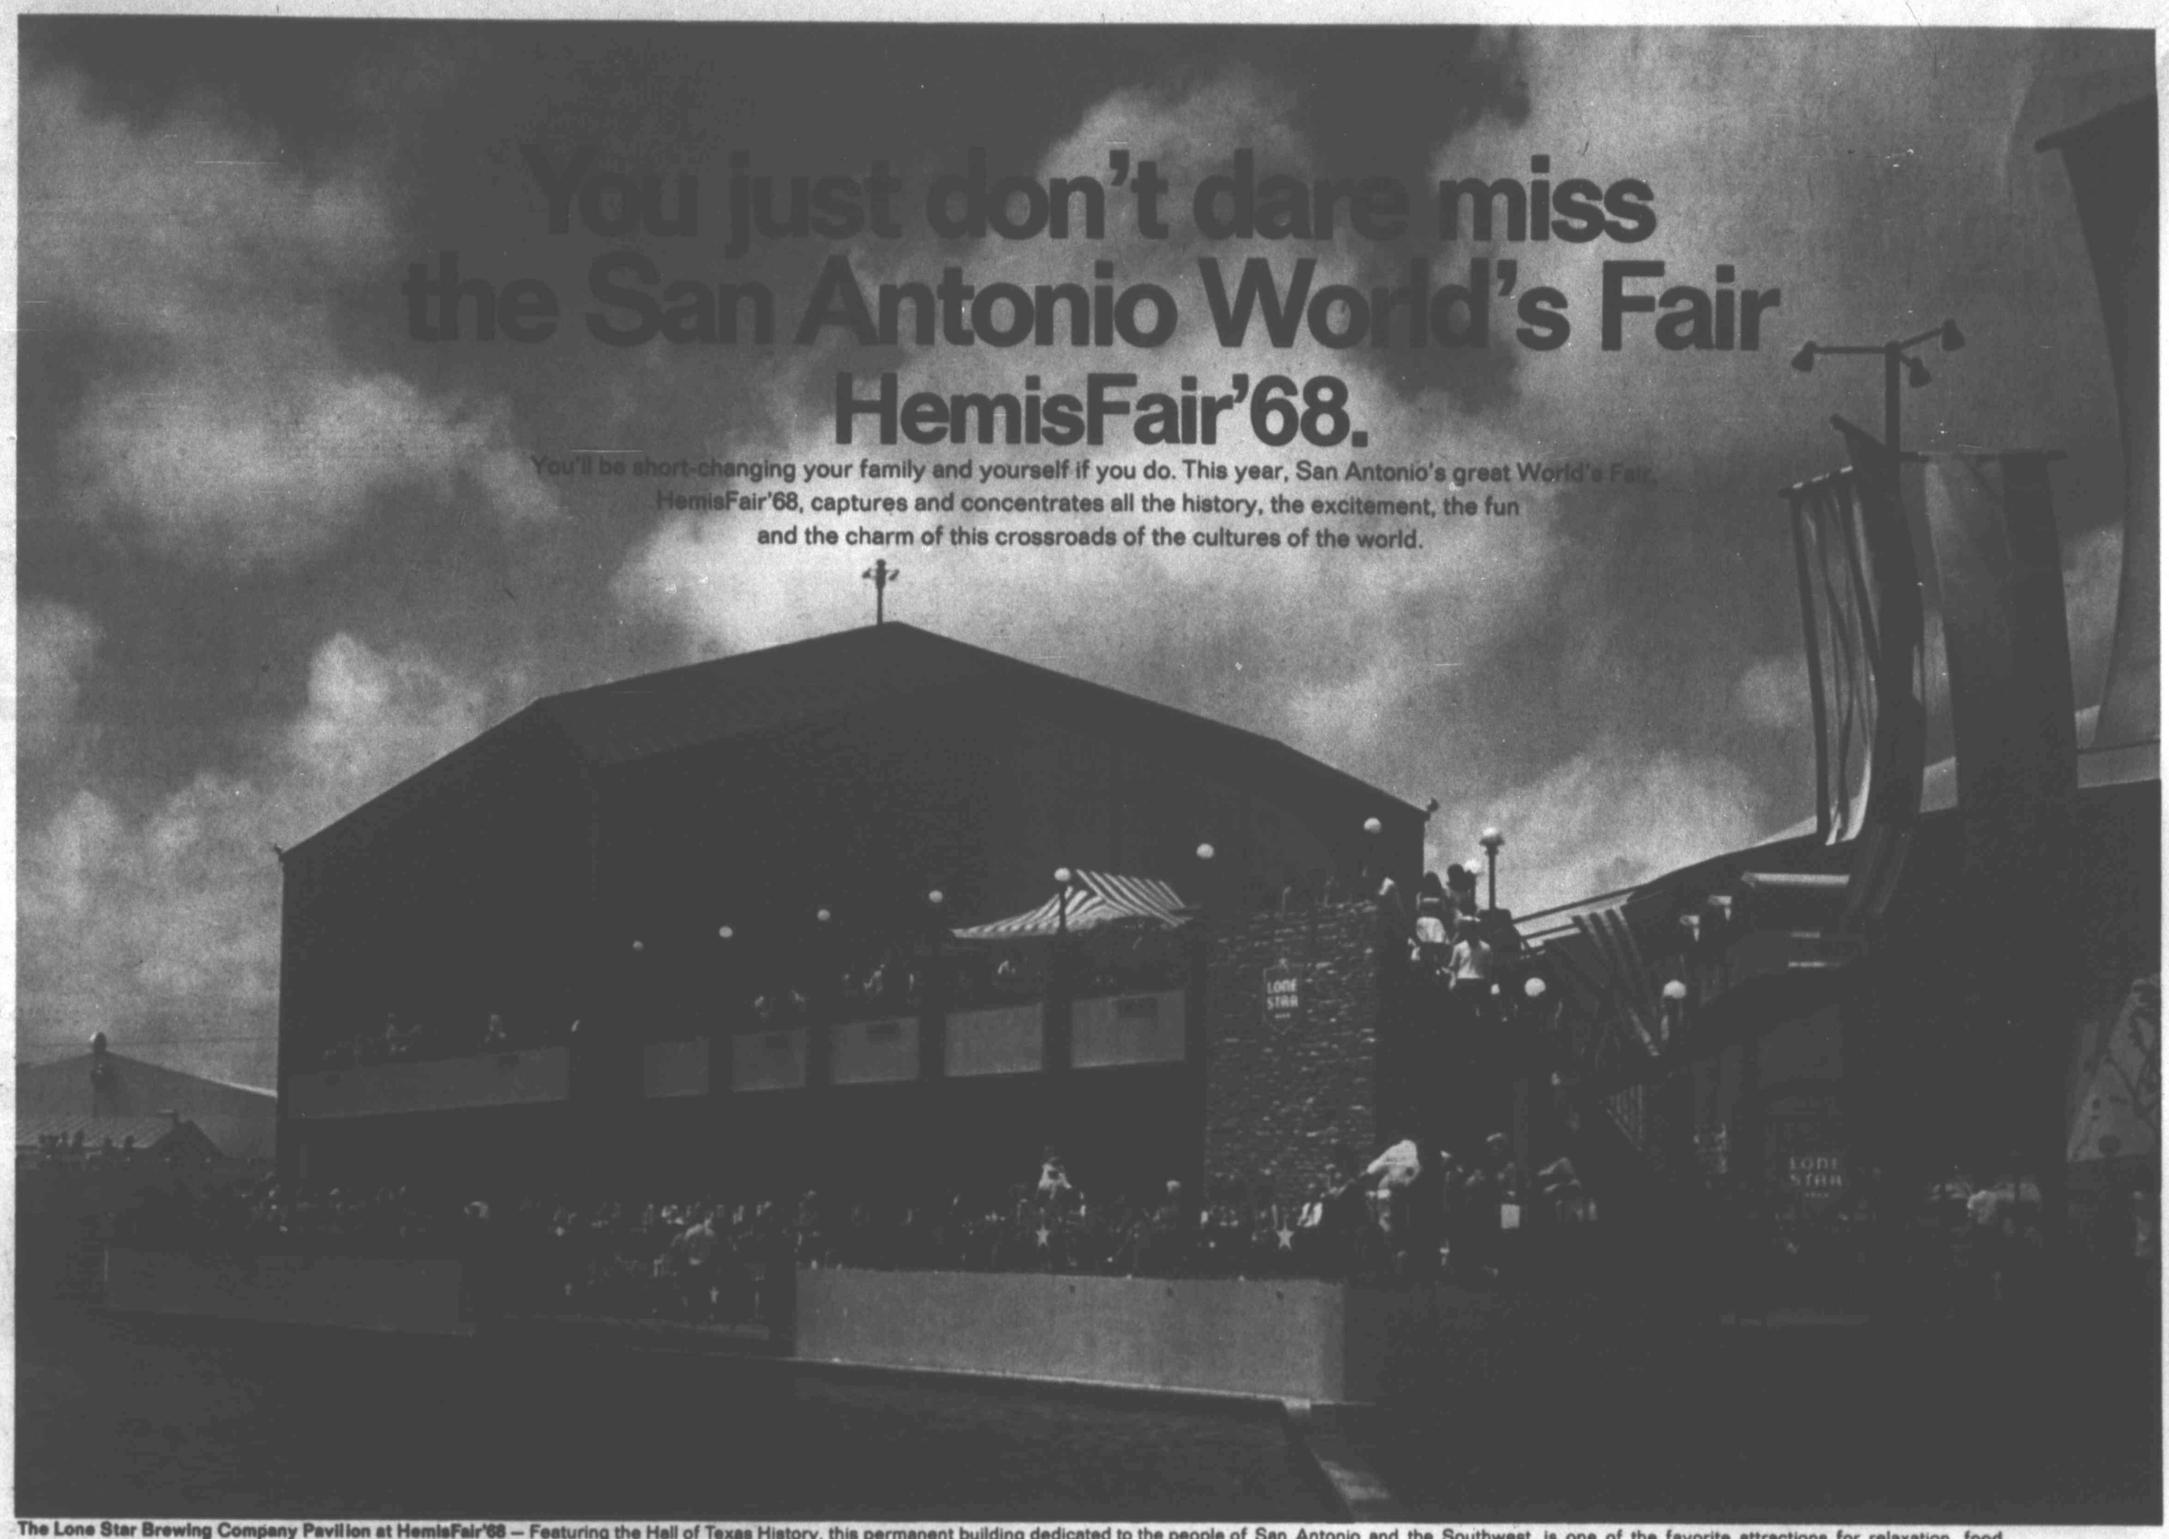

Despite the favorable lie of the cards, East could have prevented declarer's execution of a dummy reversal—by shifting to a trump at trick two. The spade continuation provided South with a ruff that he could not obtain under his own power, due to the shortage of entries to the North hand. If declarer is left entirely to his own devices, he must end up one trick short.

A LOVELIER YOU

Eat Breakfast If On Reducing Diet

By MARY SUE MILLER

A Lovely Mother writes: Please suggest some low-calorie breakfast menus for my teen daughter. She's determined to lose weight this summer, although our doctor says her weight is just right. She has a summer job and goes off mornings without so much as a glass of milk. I am anxious about this.

The Answer: All reducers need a severe lecture when they pass up breakfast. There is scientific proof that unless you eat breakfast you will have a hard time losing weight, for the reason that you snack in the morning and eat too much lunch.

Designed for a quick morning meal with hot weather appeal, these low-cal breakfasts:

Chilled cantaloupe, ¼ peeled and thinly sliced; one slice lightly buttered raisin toast; one cup skim milk. (205 calories.)

Berries of choice with skim milk, ½ cup each; toasted corn muffin, lightly buttered. (219 calories.)

Sliced orange; one cup bran flakes with ½ cup skim milk and sugar substitute. (244 calories.)

Beef consomme, served on ice cubes with lemon garnish; one poached egg and one slice broiled Canadian bacon on toasted English muffin. (227 calories.)

Black coffee and plain tea may be added if desired. Because the counts are so very low, whole milk may be substituted for skim milk. It is a fact that teens should consume more food at breakfast than is suggested here. But this is a case where something is better than nothing.

CALORIE COUNTER

Do you really know the calorie counts of the foods you eat? Our booklet, "Pocket Calorie Counter," tells the score at a glance. It also gives a diet plan — a way to eat and slim. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller, care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

Committees Are Elected By Class

WESTBROOK (SC) — Members of the JOY Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Bill Hutchins for a business and social hour. Mrs. Keith Williamson presided and appointed a nominating committee composed of Mrs. N. J. McMahan, Mrs. Charley Buchanan and Mrs. Altis Clemmer. Mrs. McMahan led prayer.

The group will buy a plastic garment bag to store choir robes, and articles were contributed by members to fill 'ditty' bags for servicemen in Vietnam at Christmas.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. McMahan will host the September meeting.

Try Drying Flowers

It is easy to dry flowers with cornmeal and borax or fine sand. The bouquets or arrangements which result give a wonderful flow of achievement.

Mrs. Esco Hamlin Shows Art Work

Mrs. Esco Hamlin presented an art demonstration in charcoal at the Young Homemakers of Coahoma meeting Tuesday.

New members of the organization are Mrs. Sammy Smith, Mrs. Travis Reid, Mrs. Hilton Witt, Mrs. Tommy Birkhead, Mrs. Charles Grizzard and Mrs. Alvin Luce.

The homemakers will have a garage sale Sept. 7 in the Coahoma shopping center.

Committee chairmen appointed for the coming year are Mrs. Bobby Howell, ways and means; Mrs. C. Roy Wright, community projects; Mrs. Harold Harrington, membership; and Mrs. Rodney Brooks, "Little Sister" and FHA coordinator.

Bridal Shower Held For Patricia O'Brien

Miss Patricia O'Brien, who will be married to Pvt. Fred A. Riggan on Sept. 7 in the East Fourth Baptist Church, was honored with a pre-nuptial shower Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Nobles, Sterling City Route.

Hostesses with Mrs. Nobles were Mrs. Tex Cobb, Mrs. Don Stevens, Mrs. Bill Kuykendall, Mrs. Howard Dodd, Mrs. W. F. Harrell, Mrs. T. M. Dunagan, Mrs. Dorothy Condron, Mrs. Billy Hopper, Mrs. Charles Bailey, Mrs. Tom Kirkpatrick and Mrs. M. A. Dunagan. Their gift to the honoree was a set of stainless steel cookware.

Miss Gloria Dodd and Miss Connie Dunagan assisted at the refreshment table which was covered with a pink cloth overlaid with white lace. The corners were caught with pink bows, and the centerpiece was of white gladioli and pink carnations. White milk glass and silver appointments were used.

Miss O'Brien was attired in a white knit dress featuring white satin collar and buttons. She was presented a white carnation corsage, and similar corsages were presented to her mother, Mrs. M. J. O'Brien, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. L. A. Riggan. Sixty-five guests attended.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Don't Let Flip-Tops Cut Kiddies Feet

HELOISE

Dear Folks:

Please . . . when you open a flip-top metal can while on a picnic or at the beach DON'T throw the flip part on the ground.

Little kiddies running through the park barefoot, or playing in the sand, can get real deep cuts from these tops. Not only that, but they may also require a tetanus shot.

A good idea would be to save one beverage can and put the flip-tops inside of it. This way, nobody could get cut.

Much better for you to be safe than for some sweet little child to be sorry. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

After many years of uncomfortable sewing, I have found the answer — a secretary's chair!

I can lean back and stretch my back and also wheel over to grab that pair of scissors, thread or what have you that is usually out of reach.

And my new chair also wheels under my machine very nicely when not in use. The back rest and height of the seat are both adjustable. . . . Rhea McAllister

Dear Heloise:

My husband uses a small piece of nylon net to hold a little slice of apple in his tobacco humidor.

The moisture keeps his tobacco moist, plus the fact that a very pleasant ordor results when he smokes.

Every now and then he rinses the net, puts in a fresh slice of apple and replaces it in the can. . . . Mrs. B. Martin

Dear Heloise:

I wonder why on earth most bras are fastened in the back?

Smartly dressed women are very conscious of any bulges elsewhere. So why have a lump in the middle of your back, when a front-fastened bra gives a nice smooth back and is so easy to put on?

Is it just an old habit which nobody really thought could be changed? . . . Doris

* * *

I've got one crippled friend who splits hers down the front, removes the hook-and-eye band from the back, attaches it to the front and sews up the back! Isn't she smart! . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When taking a cream pie away from home, I always had the problem of finding something to keep the meringue from getting torn up.

By sticking toothpicks around the top of my pie and then putting the pie in a plastic bag, my problem was solved. . . . Hallie Ferguson

Dear Heloise:

My kitchen is very small and I was just desperate for shelf space.

So my father cut the plaster board out between wall studs over my stove and sink (as there were no windows over either one). He than lined the opening with thin wooden paneling and put small shelves in this space for my spices, etc.

He did the same to the wall in the stairwell of the basement steps, but covered this with a door the thickness of the plaster board. Then painted it the same color as the wall. This area holds my brooms, mops, etc.

Really has been a wonderful feeling to have all this extra room. . . . Mrs. Mac

Dear Heloise:

Know how I clean my plastic flowers and ivy? In the washing machine!

I throw them in with a little detergent and swish them around for about five minutes or so on the DELICATE cycle. Take 'em out and rinse them in the sink so they won't spin dry.

This is a simple way and gets my flowers much cleaner than washing them by hand. . . . Mrs. J. W. Powell

Announces Plans For Marriage

Mrs. T. T. Dittrich, 1705 Donley, announces the approaching marriage of her daughter, Cindy Marie, to Airman I.C. Hubert Gene Greer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Greer of Printer, Ky. The couple will be married Sept. 7 in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base.

Baptist WMU Has Officer Election

The Woman's Missionary Society of Phillips Memorial Baptist Church met Tuesday evening for Bible study with Mrs. Aaron Lafferty leading the opening prayer. Mrs. Lester Adams read the prayer calendar and led prayer for missionaries.

New officers elected were Mrs. Todd Roberts, director, and Mrs. Dan Sanford, vice president. The Rev. Dan Sanford held the Bible study, "The Order of the Resurrection."

The next meeting will be Sept. 5 when a salad luncheon will be held at the church. At that time, Mrs. Charles Mangum will present a study of the book, "Spiritual Life Development."

To Help Children

The Eagles Auxiliary met in Hotel Settles Monday night. The club planned to purchase key chains to sell. Proceeds will be used to help destitute children. Mrs. Bill Cochran won the door prize.

Miss Debbie Miller Is Honored At Gift Party

Mrs. Tippy Miller, 902 E. 12th, hosted a miscellaneous gift party Tuesday evening for Miss Debbie Miller, bride-elect of Tommy Erhardt. Cohostesses were Mrs. Jim McAmis and Miss Candy Black.

The refreshment table was covered with ecru lace over pink linen and centered with an arrangement of pink roses. Crystal appointments were used.

The honoree was attired in a white and pink linen A-line dress. She was presented a corsage of carnations in her chosen colors as was her mother, Mrs. Granvil Miller, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Marvin Erhardt. The hostess gift was a set of glassware.

The couple plans to be married Friday in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Robert Polk officiating.

Presents Review

Mrs. R. J. Shortes reviewed a magazine article about TOPS clubs at the Monday meeting of the TOPS Salad Mixers at the Knott Community Center. A surprise birthday party was given for Mrs. Dan Brasher, and low-calorie refreshments were served. Miss Lynn Massengill was honored as "Queen of the Week." Mrs. Wayne Webb is in charge of the program for the next meeting.

Political Independence Steps Taken By Hubert

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, taking his first step out of the shadow of Lyndon B. Johnson as Democratic nominee for president, has pledged to explore new policies if necessary to bring peace to Vietnam.

"The policies of tomorrow need not to be limited by the policies of yesterday. If I am president, I shall apply that lesson to the search for peace in Vietnam," Humphrey told a cheering convention Thursday night.

BLOODSHED

With that pledge, Humphrey reached also for peace in a Democratic party torn by its deep divisions on Vietnam, scorned by the antiwar demonstrators who clashed with police in a fourth night of bloodshed in downtown Chicago.

To try to heal the wounds, Humphrey took an elastic stance that appeared to endorse the Vietnam policies of the Johnson administration as long as he served it as vice president, but edge open the door for new approaches if elected president.

In his acceptance speech he urged, "Let those who believe that our cause in Vietnam has been right—and those who believe it has been wrong—agree here and now: Neither vindication nor repudiation will bring peace or be worthy of our country."

PEACE TALKS

Looking ahead to Inauguration Day, Humphrey said, "No one knows what the situation in Vietnam will be on Jan. 20, 1969. Every heart in America prays that, by then, we shall have reached a ceasefire in all Vietnam, and be in serious negotiation toward a durable peace."

He promised, both as candidate and vice president, to do everything possible to aid the Paris peace talks. But he then made his apparent declaration of political independence on the policies of tomorrow.

He spelled out no specific new paths, no areas of disagreement with present policies, but offered his vow to strive for "a prompt end to this war."

Humphrey spoke at the close of a convention marked by repeated battles over the Democratic position on that war. He told the delegates, "Had we papered over differences with empty platitudes instead of frank debate, we would deserve the contempt of our fellow citizens and the condemnation of history."

PROMISE

Humphrey asked losing candidates Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and Eugene J. McGovern, both critics of the war, "to help America in the difficult campaign ahead."

But McCarthy stayed away from convention hall, denying Humphrey the traditional tableau of unity on the final night, withholding his support from the nominee, promising to campaign for a larger antiwar bloc in Congress.

McGovern said he would support Humphrey but not the Vietnam plank in the platform. He said his major effort would be to gain his own re-election.

The plank, preserved by Humphrey forces by a 3-to-2 ratio in a turbulent floor battle only hours before the nomination, links an end to all bombing of North Vietnam with a response from Hanoi and the safety of U.S. troops. Antiwar dissidents had fought for an unconditional bombing halt.

Heavy Fighting Reported In South Vietnam Sectors

SAIGON (AP) — Hard fighting was reported in the northern and central part of South Vietnam today, with nearly 200 more Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers killed. But as the upsurge of combat continued for the 13th successive day, the enemy overran a small government outpost and killed 18 civilians and kidnaped 65 in two undefended hamlets.

RANGERS HIT

The hardest fighting was reported south of Da Nang, where U.S. Marines, South Vietnamese rangers, dive bombers and artillery killed 126 enemy troops in three fights, the allied commands said. Allied casualties were 10 Marines and five rangers killed, and 52 Marines and 23 rangers wounded.

At the southern edge of the central highlands, fighting continued around the Duc Lap Special Forces camp, and government troops reported killing another 66 enemy soldiers Thursday. This raised the number of enemy claimed killed there since last Friday to nearly 1,000.

But the North Vietnamese put pressure on another isolated point, capturing a 4-to-12-man government outpost some 15 miles west of Quang Ngai City in the central lowlands and shelling the nearby Ha Thanh Green Beret camp.

WIPED OUT

At the outpost all of the defenders apparently were wiped out, and the attackers set up six mortars, two recoilless rifles and a machine gun which opened up on government reinforcements that were sent to try to drive the attackers out.

Along with the continuing fighting, heavy enemy troop movements were reported on the infiltration corridors leading into South Vietnam from Cambodia and Laos. The U.S. Command sent its heaviest bombers, Air Force B52s, to attack these units in a continuing effort to smash the buildup which could herald assaults on Saigon, Tay Ninh and other key cities.

BANG BARGES

The B52s flew 11 missions against camps and troop concentrations in all four military corps areas of South Vietnam between noon Thursday and noon today, dropping 1,000 tons of bombs. One raid was 27 miles from Saigon.

Over North Vietnam, U.S. pilots logged 130 missions Thursday in the effort toslow the flow of war material into South. Pilots reported destroying or damaging 114 supply barges and 44 trucks in one of their best days in several weeks.

COL. C. C. HALTOM

Col. Haltom Retires Today

Lt. Col. Charles C. Haltom, Webb AFB executive officer, will mark the end of a 26-year Air Force career in a formal retirement ceremony at the flag pole adjacent to wing headquarters at 5 p.m. today.

The colonel, who has been stationed at Webb since July, 1967, has been the base executive officer since February. He previously served as services division chief at the base.

Col. Haltom arrived at Webb after a three-year tour of duty in England, with the 7468th Supply Group, and with the 3rd Air Force 7500th Air Base Group. He has also served as wing executive officer at Vance AFB, Okla., and at the Pentagon, Washington D.C.

The colonel has been awarded the Silver Star, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters and the Commendation Medal among other decorations.

He and his wife will leave the base Sunday to return to Bryan, Tex., where they will run a ceramics shop.

The couple has three children. Two daughters are married, and their son, Robert, will be a sophomore at Texas A&M.

Court Of Honor Held By Scouts

Seventeen advancements in rank and 74 merit badges were presented at an end-of-summer Court of Honor for Troop 179 Thursday evening at Kentwood Methodist Church. The troop is sponsored by the church.

Inducted as tenderfoot scouts were Gerld Dennis, Mark Lagerstrom, Chris Helson. Receiving second-class badges were Kent Brashears, Glenn Carlton, Frank Dailey; first class badges, David Dunn, Robert Fielder, Jackie Richards; Star scout, Earis Dunn, Rob Lawlis, Phil Parmenter; Life scout, Allen Boren, Maxey Brashears, David Fisher, Craig Lagerstrom and Bob Priebe.

About 50 parents and friends attended in addition to the boys, and all were served homemade ice cream and cake. In charge were Don Campbell, scoutmaster, with assistants Bill Priebe and Austin Ferguson, and the troop committee headed by Raymond Hamby.

Kidnaper Is Captured; Lad, Ransom Recovered

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — FBI agents rescued 4-year-old Stanley Stalford Jr. from a kidnaper today after the abductor tried to use the boy as a shield following a gun battle during a high-speed chase.

Curly haired Stanley and his abductor, identified by the FBI as Robert L. Dacy of Lakewood, Calif., were taken to Morningside Hospital.

One report said the boy, son of a banker, was treated for a gash in his leg.

GUN FIGHT

The FBI in Washington said, however, that the boy escaped injury. Agents said Dacy, 39, was wounded in the right arm. The ransom money—$250,000 had been requested—was recovered.

Agents chased Dacy at breakneck speed through city streets, exchanging shots.

One of the agents rammed Dacy's auto with his pursuit car.

Dacy was trapped, agents said, as they converged on the area to corner him.

They said he tried to shield himself with the youngster, but they were able to make the arrest.

Agents didn't immediately say how.

The boy was rescued two days after he was taken from the family's $90,000 home in a secluded area of Beverly Hills by a man posing as an electrician.

One of the agents involved in the rescue reportedly suffered a minor bullet wound.

NO THREAT

One report said Dacy might have a broken leg when his bullet-riddled car was rammed by the pursuit vehicle.

Stalford, 49, is chairman of the board of the $100-million Fidelity Bank of Beverly Hills.

He and his wife spent anguished hours after the abduction waiting for a promised call from the kidnaper—and making what police said were earnest efforts to pay the ransom.

Police Chief Clinton H. Anderson said the kidnaper and the parents talked by telephone Wednesday night, the same day of the abduction. No threat was made on the life of their only child, Anderson said.

No Charges Filed Against Assassins

GUATEMALA (AP) — The Guatemalan government said today it has detained numerous people in its investigation of the assassination of U.S. Ambassador John Gordon Mein but no charges have been filed against any of them.

Three men were picked up in a red car Thursday because one of the two cars that forced the ambassador's chauffeur-driven limousine to the curb Wednesday was red. But there was no indication so far that they had any connection with the assassination.

A statement purportedly signed by the ultraleftist Rebel Armed Forces—FAR—said its agents killed Mein, 54. It said they were trying to kidnap the envoy and hold him as a hostage for one of their terrorists, Camilo Sanchez, who was arrested Saturday.

But officials said it was possible that another group had issued the statement in FAR's name. The kidnaping of Guatemala's Roman Catholic archbishop in March was at first blamed on the FAR, but later it developed that it was the work of MANO, an organization of militant ultrarightists who were trying to provoke government action against the leftists.

President Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro has imposed a 30-day state of siege, giving the government power to make arrests and conduct searches without warrants. The declaration also imposed severe press censorship. Foreign correspondents were not allowed to telephone information to their home offices, and censors delayed telegraph press messages as much as 10 hours.

McGOVERN REMAINS LUKEWARM

McCarthy Ignores HHH's Plea

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Hubert Humphrey's plea for party unity has fallen on the deaf ears of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, his chief rival for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Indications were that Humphrey will get only lukewarm backing from another former challenger, Sen. George McGovern.

McCarthy refused again Thursday to endorse Humphrey, citing their differences over policy in Vietnam.

McGovern, the South Dakotan who was a rally point for forces of the late Sen. Robert Kennedy, said he would support Humphrey, but only second to his own efforts at re-election to the Senate.

Both sealed their positions by failing to make the traditional loser's speech at Thursday night's final convention session pledging their best efforts to the victor.

FORMER PALS

They must have been particularly disappointing to the vice president since both McCarthy and McGovern long had been close political associates.

McGovern also has been one of his warmest personal friends. For many years they lived next door to each other in Chevy Chase, Md.

Humphrey associates said the vice president also felt he had given important assistance to both men in their earlier political careers.

But the bitterly devisive issue of Vietnam proved to be a more important factor in the decisions of McCarthy and McGovern than old associations.

McCarthy received a direct bid to appear on the platform with Humphrey Thursday night and make a unity speech, but he flatly declined.

McGovern said that he would go to the session—which McCarthy did not do—but not address the convention.

The South Dakotan sat in a box and got a big greeting from the crowd. He did go to the podium and join in a parade of party figures who greeted Humphrey after the vice president's acceptance speech.

DIRECT APPEAL

In that speech, Humphrey addressed a direct appeal to the two senators:

"To my friends Gene McCarthy and George McGovern, who have given hope to a new generation of Americans that there can be greater meaning in their lives, that America can respond to men of moral concern, I ask you to help America in the difficult campaign ahead."

McCarthy made known his decision to a throng of antiwar demonstrators at a park across from his hotel. Many of them wore black armbands or ribbons because of his rejection by the convention.

Red Tanks Roll Out Of Prague

PRAGUE (AP) — Scores of Soviet tanks pulled out of Prague today as Communist leaders assembled for a party congress debate on Moscow's demands for sharp curtailment of Cechoslovak liberalization.

The liberal leaders who signed an accord in Moscow already have cautioned against resistance. The local party leaders have to decide whether to reject the accord or find ways to live with it in hope they can convince Moscow that most of the 350,000 Soviet bloc occupation troops can leave the country soon.

GUNNERS STAY

The National Assembly already had rejected the accord, which says Soviet, Polish, East German, Hungarian and Bulgarian forces will remain until the situation "normalizes." But in Communist countries, it is what the party does that counts.

The Soviet tank withdrawal to camps outside the city apparently was part of the effort of the occupying forces and the Czechoslovak government to make the situation appear as nearly normal as possible.

The main points in the city were still occupied by Soviet forces, especially the newspaper offices, the radio and television studios and Ceteka, the national news agency. Russian trucks with machine gunners still patrolled the streets.

Employes of the streetcars and buses served notice on city authorities they would not operate after 8 p.m. unless they had guarantees for the safety of their passengers and themselves.

ILLEGAL PAPERS

Life in Prague was hardly changed. There were queues at food stores and any place where motorcyclists distrubuted copies of underground newspapers.

Prazke Noviny, a mimeographed newspaper purportedly issued by the Prague city administration, said Soviet officials called on the deputy mayor and demanded that "illegal" newspapers and radio transmitters cease their activities and posters and painted slogans calling for resistance against the occupation be removed.

The deputy major called on the Russians to withdraw their tanks from several points in the city so that work on the Prague subway project could continue, the newspaper said.

Antioccupation posters and painted slogans were still evident in most sections of Prague but they appeared to be gradually getting fewer.

While pledging to cooperate with the government in ceasing anti-Soviet polemics, the editorial staffs of several newspapers have come out strictly against reimposition of censorship, one of Moscow's demands.

Stock Exchanges Will Continue 4-Day Week

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock exchanges will continue their four-day trading weeks through September, the governing boards of the New York and American exchanges decided Thursday.

The exchanges and the over-the-counter market have been closing one day a week, mostly on Wednesdays, since June 12 to give brokers' clerical staffs more time to handle paperwork that accumulated during very heavy trading.

The exchanges will be closed next Monday, Labor Day, as usual. They also will close Sept. 11, 18 and 25, all Wednesdays.

Movie Film Crews Leave, Express Appreciation

"The generous cooperation, help and friendliness of the citizens of Howard and Martin counties has been greater than anything we expected or hoped for," said Jerome Hellman, producer of the film "Midnight Cowboy."

"We selected this area first of all because of its physical aspects, but the hospitality of its people and officials has made our stay doubly productive and pleasant. We leave with regret."

The cast and technical crew of the "Midnight Cowboy" company left Big Spring Friday flying back to New York after spending three weeks in this area. Sixty persons comprised the local group.

Hellman and John Schlesinger, director of the film which stars Jon Voight, travelled over much of Texas in their search for exactly the kind of country they wanted for the sequences they needed for their picture.

Many scenes in Big Spring and the county, as well as scenes in Midland and in Martin County and Stanton, were filmed by the company during August.

Echoing Hellman's sentiments, Schlesinger added a special word of commendation for the patience, spirit and intelligence of the several hundred Texas residents, ranging in age from 4 to 82, who made motion picture debuts before the cameras. Voight and actresses Ruth White and Jennifer Salt also expressed their appreciation of the Texas hospitality.

"Midnight Cowboy," the story of a small town Texas youth who goes to New York City to make his fortune, will be released in 1969. Most of the movie, adapted by screenwriter Waldo Salt from a James Leo Herlihy novel, was filmed in New York City. Dustin Hoffman is co-starred with Voight, who plays the title role.

TROOPS IGNORE INSULTS; BIG TROUBLE DUE SUNDAY

Students Trigger Fresh Fear In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Students increased today their efforts to rally the public to their increasingly anti - government demonstrations, the biggest of which they plan for Sunday—the day of the president's State of the Union message.

The students' National Strike Council said that from now through Sunday they will concentrate on visiting unions, businesses and talking to the man in the street, explaining the reasoning behind their six demands, which include resignation of the chief of police and release of 86 persons they call political prisoners.

GUNFIRE

All indications early today were that the government, too, is trying to avoid more violence in capital, which for two days has echoed to the sounds of both student and army gunfire. Troops ignored crowds that hurled insults and bottles at them while they manned their various positions Thursday.

The students, who have held four massive marches and demonstrations this month, have chosen Sunday for their greatest effort. On that day if he follows tradition, President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz will leave the National Palace and ride in an open car from the Zocalo, or main government square, to deliver his speech at midmorning.

Since early Wednesday, the Zocalo has been occupied by troops and military equipment, which were brought in to clear a crowd of about 200,000 demonstrators from the 23,000 square-meter area. All Wednesday and Thursday, efforts were made to harass troops who set up checkpoints on main traffic arteries leading to the Zocalo.

AUTONOMY

The demonstrations began July 26 with one in honor of the anniversary of Fidel Castro's Cuban revolution and the students have had little success in rallying other groups to their cause. Slum dwellers living in a wide market area behind the National Palace turned out in force Tuesday and became the first such group to do so.

The students, whose protest began as one of violation of university autonomy, have gradually changed the character of their demonstrations to that of anti-government and anti-Diaz Ordaz. The autonomy issue arose when the army on July 29 entered by force the grounds of a preparatory school, part of the National University System which has 250,000 enrolled.

GAS STRIKE?

The public remains apprehensive. A report swept the city Wednesday that all gas stations would close Thursday in sympathy with a strike of workers in Petroleos Mexicanos, the government oil monopoly that owns the stations. Jesus Reyes Heroles, director of Petroleos Mexicanos, denied there was any such strike or shutdown.

Two Injured In Accidents

Eight traffic accidents Thursday in Big Spring sent two people to a local hospital where they were treated and released.

Naomi Marks, 2602 Ann Drive, was injured when the car she was driving and another car driven by Charles H. Dobbs, 1826 Purdue, were in collision at Sixth and Johnson about 4:43 p.m. Thursday. The woman was taken to Webb AFB Hospital where she was treated and released.

Also treated and released at Webb Hospital was Delores Smith, 402 State, who was riding a motorcycle which crashed into a parked car at Fourth and Benton at 2 p.m. Thursday.

An accident involving cars driven by Gladys Sherrill, 1210 E. 17th, and Gainus Dawson Short, Garden City, at 12:40 at 2401 Gregg, brought $150 damage to the Sherrill auto. Officers said the Sherrill car was parked and the Short auto was backing up when the collision occurred.

Carol Jeane Burleson, 1702 Runnels, and Oberia Mae Parks, 1507 Runnels, were driving cars which collided at 1507 Runnels at 1 p.m. Thursday. At 2:17 p.m. cars driven by James B. Davidson, Snyder, and Alvis Jeffcoat, Knott, collided at Fourth and Benton.

William Christian, Odessa, was driving a car going west on IS 20 which struck a guard rail as it entered an exit to a service road about 6:40 p.m.

John Clifton Owings, San Antonio, and Joann Allen, 805 Dallas, were in cars which collided at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Highland South Shopping Center parking lot.

A one-car accident occurred at 8:54 p.m. when an auto driven by Velva LaVerne Wood, 419 Dallas, hit a sign post east of FM 700 on a service road, causing $150 damage, officers said.

Baby Kidnaped Found Unharmed

PORT ARTHUR (AP) — The cries of a baby left on a doorstep aroused a sleeper at 4:40 a.m. today and shortly thereafter tiny Drek Reese, abducted from St. Mary's Hospital, was in the arms of his parents.

The five-day-old was unharmed and well, Dr. Douglas Thompson told the overjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Reese of nearby Port Neches.

Dr. Thompson, the family physician, telephoned Reese who was awakened by the phone bell. Reese turned over and told his wife and she screamed in relief he reported.

MYSTERY

Police remained mysterious about the abduction, refusing to reveal just where the tot was found or the name of the person who telephoned police about hearing the baby cry.

Drek was wrapped in a blanket and was on a doorstep.

He was abducted two days ago from the hospital.

Persons at the hospital who saw a woman leaving with the child said she appeared to be a Mexican-American.

Officers said the investigation "may be drawn out." Some police speculated that the child may have been kept in the neighborhood where it was found.

ORDEAL

Patrolman A. L. Whittredge answered the report of the crying baby. He picked up the boy, drove to the hospital and, reported a nurse, ran through the hospital corridors to the infants' ward with the child in his arms.

The father said, "It looks like he was cared for. It looks like they knew what they were doing."

Reese added, "It had lost a little weight but that is natural." Babies normally lose a little weight for a day or two after birth.

Asked if he knew anything about a suspect, he said, "They haven't told me anything. They won't tell us." He did not appear disturbed by the lack of information.

The Reeses have a 17-month-old child.

The father said the ordeal "was getting to be pretty wearing on us."

Police Seize Delegate Confined To Wheel Chair

CHICAGO (AP) — Police arrested at least two Democratic delegates in antiwar protests Thursday night and took another into custody on the convention floor in a squabble over credentials.

David C. Hoeh, chairman of the New Hampshire delegation, was handcuffed and taken to a police station after he tried a credit card in an electronic machine used to scan credentials for admission to the convention floor.

Thomas D. Frasier, an Oklahoma delegate confined to a wheel chair, was seized by Chicago police in an antiwar march near the downtown lakefront area.

Also appearing in police court early today were a New York delegate and a Washington alternate.

Hoeh, from Hanover, N.H., said convention guards arrested him even after he identified himself. He said glasses were knocked off and the crystal of his watch smashed in a brief scuffle.

The New Hampshire chairman, who was wearing his proper delegate badge, said, "I just wanted to show that the machine would accept a false card, and it did." Hoeh was held up to an hour by police before he was released without charges being filed.

Frasier, a county Democratic chairman from Tulsa, Okla., had joined in an antiwar protest march led by comedian Dick Gregory south of the lakefront hotel row where demonstrators clashed with police in another night of tear gas and bloodshed. Police blocked the march and arrested leaders.

Others appearing in police court in a predawn session for persons arrested in antiwar demonstrations identified themselves as Richard Neuhaus, a delegate from Brooklyn, N.Y., and Richard Kelley, an alternate from Seattle, Wash.

Laying Pipe Accomplished

Laying of the last pipe of a 33-mile stretch of 36-inch line from the Martin County pump station to Big Spring was to be accomplished this weekend.

The final joints were placed at the Big Spring pump station, leaving only clean-up work and testing of the east section of the line to be done. Pressure tests have been run on the west half of the line constructed by Panhandle Construction Company.

The line parallels a 27-inch section laid in 1952 and has been installed in anticipation of water from the new lake to be impounded above Robert Lee. Closure of the dam there is scheduled for mid-October.

Most of the contracts connected with the project have been awarded. The district has asked for bids Sept. 12 for five oil well mounds in the upper basin of the new lakes, and bids are being advertised for Sept. 26 on the construction of a pump station at the off-channel storage above Colorado City. This will leave the 42-inch pipeline from Moss Creek Lake, southeast of Big Spring, to the Robert Lee Lake as the last major contract.

Play Day Plans

The Knott Saddle Club will complete a play day, which was postponed last Saturday because of bad weather, beginning at 7:30 p.m. today at the club's arena.

Two events remain on the program and anyone wishing to compete in them are invited to enter.

Gravel Contract Goes To Caldwell

H. G. Caldwell today was awarded contract to supply gravel for a 2.76 mile paving project and a two mile sealcoating job on the Ratliff Addition county road.

The county commissioners court met in special session to consider bids for the gravel.

Caldwell's bid was $2,841.38.

U. S. Prisoners Riot At Vietnam Stockade

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AP) — Scores of American military prisoners rioted today at the U.S. Army's Long Binh prison stockade. One GI prisoner was killed, 59 were injured and four guards and the acting warden were hurt in the hour-long melee.

Of the injured, 29 were taken to a hospital, all in satisfactory condition.

The rioters burned 10 large buildings inside the stockade known as the LBJ, for Long Binh Jail. Half a city block in size, it is the U.S. Army's biggest prison in Vietnam and held 719 American military prisoners and one civilian.

The buildings destroyed included the large wooden mess hall and the administrative building containing the files for the prisoners.

It was the second serious outbreak in a U.S. military prison in Vietnam in two weeks. Nearly 300 prisoners rioted at the U.S. Marine brig in Da Nang Aug. 16, and eight inmates and one Marine guard were injured. The rioting Marines complained about cold food, having to say "sir" to the guards, overcrowding and the long delay in some inmates being brought to trial.

The Long Binh stockade is 12 miles northeast of Saigon, in the middle of the Army's main supply and administrative center in Vietnam.

Thugs Nab Hubcaps

Hubcaps were targets for thieves Thursday in Big Spring.

Mrs. Don Harris, Orlando, Fla., reported two hubcaps were taken from her car at the Holiday Inn Thursday morning, and Mrs. Jim Wood, 2221 Lynn, told police a hubcap was taken from her auto.

Four hubcaps were reported taken from a car owned by Robert Cook, 814 Willa, Thursday night while it was parked at the America Club, and Cary Tomerlin, 1304 Tucson, told police two hubcaps were taken from his car.

Police also said that a billfold containing $30 was stolen from Patricia Pettigrew, 2705 Larry, about 5:30 p.m. Thursday while she was in the College Park Shopping Center.

Officers also investigated an attempted breakin of Austin Shoe Store Thursday in Highland South Shopping Center.

Police reported that the auto taken from Richard Holway, Room 31, Desert Sands Motel, Sunday, was recovered at Big Spring Airport. About $700 also was taken in the theft, but it has not been recovered.

Enrollment Up To Expectations

FORSAN — Enrollment through the first two days of the Forsan school is living up to expectations.

The total Thursday evening, said Supt. Herb Smith, was 420. He anticipated that others would register after the Labor Day holiday Monday.

The first four grades, housed in a new plant at Elbow, have 160 enrolled. There are 139 in the intermediate grades (5-8) at Forsan. Senior high school (grades 9-12) has 121. All classes are functioning on regular schedule, and school appears off to a smooth start, said Smith.

(AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Weather Forecast

On Friday night showers are forecast for the Gulf Coast, the Mississippi Valley and the southern Plains with rain in the Pacific Northwest. It will be warmer in the central Plains.

DEATHS

V. L. 'Ike' Manuel, Rites Saturday

Funeral services for Vernon L. (Ike) Manuel, 59, former vice president of Security State Bank, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Rosewood Chapel with Dr. Gordon Clinard, pastor of First Baptist Church of San Angelo, officiating.

Burial will be in City Cemetery under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be Stanley Wheeler and B. F. White, Stanton; W. F. (Bill) Thomas, Abilene; and C. C. Bell, C. Y. Clinkscales, A. M. Farris, Bob Brock and Ed Settles, Big Spring.

Mr. Manuel died Wednesday in San Angelo where he had lived since December, 1967. His body was returned to Big Spring today. He was a member of the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ.

Chester Smith, Rites Saturday

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Services for Chester Smith, 70, will be at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in Kiker and Son Funeral Home Chapel. Burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery.

Mr. Smith, a retired custodian at the Col-Tex Country Club, died on Thursday afternoon in a Corpus Christi hospital after a two months illness. He had been living with his son, Harold Smith, in Robstown. The son is his only survivor.

Mr. Smith came to Colorado City in the early 1920's. He married Toby D. Eudy, March 17, 1917, in Paris. She died last Jan. 24. He moved from Colorado City to Robstown at that time.

Saturday Rites For Mrs. King

Service for Mrs. Mary Pearl King, 68, Sand Springs, who died Thursday in a local hospital, will be at 11 a.m. Saturday in River-Welch Chapel.

The Rev. Bill Odell, pastor of Berea Baptist Church, will officiate, and burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

Survivors include the husband, George F. King, of the home; two daughters, Jacqueline Ellis and Collene Reasonover, both of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.; three sons, Jerry F. King, Dallas, Norman King, California, and Roland King, Big Spring; 14 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. One daughter and one son are deceased.

Pallbearers will be Al Acuff, Travis Greenfield, Romey Mays, Bill Hunter, Pat Copeland and Doyle King.

Ezra D. Fritts, Saturday Rites

Funeral services for Ezra D. Fritts, 88, will be at 10 a.m. Saturday in Rosewood Chapel with the Rev. Charles Harper officiating and burial in Trinity Memorial Park under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be Reuben Trantham, L. W. Whisenhunt, Harold L. Woods, Albert Medlin, W. A. Shaw, and R. D. Hale.

Mr. Fritts, a retired farmer who moved to Big Spring earlier this year from Elizabethtown, Ill., died Thursday in a local hospital after an extended illness.

Politician Pledges Aid

ST. LAWRENCE — Water problems of the area were discussed with leaders of the St. Lawrence irrigation area and with Glasscock County ranch representatives on a current visit to the area by George Baker, Fort Stockton candidate for the Texas legislature from the sprawling 13-county 66th district.

Baker learned first hand of efforts by residents of a six-county area centered about St. Lawrence to organize an underground water control and improvement district to protect and conserve the fresh waters of the Trinity sand and other formations.

Petitions have been circulated asking for a survey by state water officials to determine the exact boundaries of the formations so that an election might be called to decide on creation of a district which would confer powers to meet the problems by a locally elected board of directors. Baker promised to assist residents of the area to obtain assistance from the state water offices.

"Texas is far behind other western states in recognizing the need to protect and conserve underground fresh water resources, and it will be my goal to work in every way possible to encourage local citizens to use existing laws set up to help them meet the problems," said Baker, "and work to strengthen the pattern and scope of water conservation in future legislation."

The Fort Stockton newspaper man is a land owner in Pecos and Terrell counties, and has had experience in water development in the Fort Stockton area. He seeks the post vacated by Gene Hendryx of Alpine.

Tech Prof To Study Down Under

LUBBOCK — Dr. Thadis W. Box, director of Texas Tech's International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Land Studies, left with his family Thursday for a year's residence in Australia. He will investigate the ecology (relation of organisms to environment) of that continent's rangelands and examine Australia's over-all approach to university education with particular interest in the areas of natural resources. His study will be supported by a Texas Tech faculty development grant and by the Danforth Foundation's E. Harris Harbison Award which Dr. Box received in 1966. He delayed acceptance until ICASLS was firmly established.

Final Play Day Session Slated

COAHOMA — The final session of the play day series at the Coahoma roping arena will be held at 2 p.m. Monday.

Contests, based on points earned over the five play days this summer, will be decided at the end of the session. Ribbons, plus belt buckles will go to the high point boy and girl in each of the age divisions — 9 and under; 10-12; 13-15; and 16-19.

Adults, who have been competing, will receive ribbons. Contests include barrel racing, pole bending, flag racing and goat tying.

Cheaper in the long run.
Gas will never cost you much. (You'll get about 27 miles to the gallon.)
And the amount of oil you use is like a drop in the bucket. (It only takes 2.7 quarts and almost never needs more between changes.)
And the engine is air-cooled, so you don't have to spend a red cent for anti-freeze or rust inhibitors.
And you get more than your money's worth out of a set of tires (around 40,000 miles).
But don't think buying a new Volkswagen is just another get-rich-quick scheme.
You have to wait until the second set of tires wear out.

SECOND PLACE TROPHY
Col. William C. McGlothlin, Col. Robert Bennett

Webb Shares Second Place, Gets Trophy

The on-the-job training (OJT) program at Webb AFB was singled out this week for excellent achievement during 1968, when Col. Robert Bennett, deputy chief of staff for personnel of Air Training Command, visited the base to present Webb with the ATC's runner-up OJT trophy. Accepting the trophy for the base was Col. William C. McGlothlin Jr., wing commander.

Col. Bennett made the presentatiin before a gathering of approximately 100 OJT supervisors, monitors and trainers in the Non-Commissioned Officers Open Mess. Webb, who placed first in the OJT competition last year, scored 95 this year. It placed second to Mather AFB, Calif., which registered 98.

Two other bases tied Webb for second place, but Webb was awarded the trophy for having the highest percentage of upgradings. Any score above 85 is considered excellent.

The base OJT award was also given out during the presentations. Named the base winner this year was the supply squadron. Maj. Wayne A. Thurn, commander of the supply squadron, accepted the award for the squadron.

UNITED FUND

Kiwanis Urged To Back Campaign

Harold Davis, president of the Big Spring United Fund, urges all employers or managers of business establishments in the city to adopt a plan where their workers can contribute to the UF and make their payments through a payroll deduction plan.

Speaking before the Big Spring Kiwanis Club Thursday, Davis pointed out that the payroll deduction system has been repeatedly proven to achieve two ends — make the giving easier on the donor and tend to increase the over-all size of his gift. He cited statistics showing that firms which had adopted the plan found their employes were making gifts three to four times as large as they made under the old system of immediate collection on a one-contact-only basis.

He told the club that the goal this year was $110,000, which was well under the budget requests of the participating agencies.

"The result of this," he warned, "is that the agencies will have to conduct their own independent drives for funds later in the year. This is an unhappy situation, but it is one that cannot be avoided. We have repeatedly found that it is impossible for us to raise more than $110,000 in our UF drive. If the agencies have to have more money than that to keep their doors open, then there is no alternative than for them to conduct individual drives and that is what they will be forced to do."

He expressed regret that all of the agencies which rely on public support are not members of the UF and that it is not possible to enlist enough financial support from the public to carry the work of these agencies.

"Some of the agencies," he said, "cannot qualify as UF members because of factors which are a part of their make-up. Others do not wish to be members of the UF. All are worthy organizations and all play an important role in our community.

"If we could combine all of them into one UF organization and get the support of all of our people, one campaign would be all that the community need face."

As it is, he said, many people approached by the UF realize that they are to be asked by the non-member agencies for help later on and hold back some of their funds for that purpose.

He asked all Kiwanians to volunteer as workers to help canvass the community when the UF drive is launched. He said at least 140 workers are needed.

'Tough' Ike Allowed To Do 'Light Reading'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Still further improvement in former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's condition was indicated today as his doctors reported that he is now allowed to do "light reading" in his bedroom.

In a medical bulletin issued shortly before 10 a.m. EDT, doctors of the Walter Reed Army Hospital said: "There has been no essential change in Gen. Eisenhower's condition since yesterday's bulletins.

"The general is in excellent spirits and spent another comfortable night. The favorable trend, previously noted, has continued.

"Light reading and music, in addition to visits with Mrs. Eisenhower, have helped to occupy the general during this continued confinement." This was the first reference to Eisenhower being allowed to do any reading since his Aug. 16 heart attack.

The doctors had previously reported that the five-star general was enjoying light background music while confined in his bed.

"He's tough—and so is the human heart," said Dr. Paul Dudley White, once Eisenhower's doctor, in a telephone interview from Boston Thursday.

"I thought during the past week," he said, "that Gen. Eisenhower wasn't so terribly ill that there was need for bulletins every few minutes that he was about to die."

Doctors cut to one Thursday the number of daily bulletins detailing the former president and five-star general's condition. They had been issuing three since Eisenhower's seventh heart attack Aug. 16.

Eisenhower, 77, was taken off the critical list Wednesday. But Walter Reed Army Hospital doctors cautioned he is still in serious condition and long range prospects for full recovery are uncertain.

But White said: "Almost no matter how sick a person is" there is always a chance for recovery.

"We doctors and the lay public must maintain more hope with respect to disease," said White, who was chief consultant when Eisenhower suffered his first heart attack in 1955.

"The heart is no longer to be considered the delicate organ even we doctors once thought during the 1920's," he added.

Sorry 'Bout That

In an account concerning local groups of the railroad brotherhoods and the proposal to join under one transportation union, T. P. Ray was incorrectly listed as president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainman. R. G. Goodson holds that post; Ray is the local chairman. Local units of the four brotherhoods will ballot on the proposed merger, after a constitution is written and the issue is submitted for individual voting.

HIGHLIGHTS OF ACCEPTANCE SPEECHES

'We Must Halt Arms Race'

CHICAGO (AP) — Here are highlights of the acceptance speeches Thursday night of the Democratic Party's candidates for president and vice president:

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the presidential nominee, said:

"This is not the first time that our nation has faced a challenge to its life and purpose. Each time we have emerged with new greatness and new strength. We must make a moment of crisis a moment of creation. We stand at such a moment now in the affairs of this nation—at the end of an era, at the beginning of a new day . . .

REALITY

"Across America and throughout the world, we hear freedom's rising chorus: 'let me live my own life. Let me live in peace. Let me be free.' It will be answered in how we face the three realities that face this nation.

"The first reality is the necessity for peace in Vietnam and the world. The second reality is the necessity for peace in our cities and in our nation. Third reality is the necessity for unity in our party and in our nation . . .

"Had we papered our differences with empty platitudes instead of frank debate (over Vietnam) we would serve the contempt of our fellow citizens and the condemnation of history . . . This debate is the work of a free people, the work of an open convention, the work of a political party responsible to the needs of this nation . . .

Let those who believe that our cause in Vietnam has been right and those who believe it has been wrong agree here and now: neither vindication nor repudiation will bring peace or be worthy of our country . . .

"We must halt the arms race before it halts humanity . . .

MUGGING

"Every American has the right to a safe neighborhood. On this there can be no compromise . . . Rioting, burning, sniping, mugging, traffic in narcotics and disregard for the law are the advance guard of anarchy—and they must be stopped . . . The answer lies in reasoned effective action by state, local and federal authority. We do not want a police state but we do need a state of law and order . . .

"Neither mob violence nor police brutality have any place in America . . . "

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie said in accepting the vice presidential nomination:

"My reaction . . . is an acute awareness of the work we must do—to build a peace, to heal our country . . .

"To make a society such as ours work is not easy . . . It means respect for the rule of law and equal justice as the best guardian of the rights of all citizens. It means granting all citizens equal opportunity to participate in American life, in the policy- making processes of our society . . .

"We have learned that freedom does not work unless we work at it.

"That, perhaps, is at least part of the reason for the surging determination of so many of our young people and of the disadvantaged among us to make a place for themselves in building the future of our country, in identifying the direction in which it should go, in setting the pace at which we should move:

"Such a force should hearten those who believe in freedom as the most creative expression of the human spirit . . . We must learn to work with this force, to insure continued and more meaningful participation in the democratic process.

"This should inspire those involved with confidence that their efforts will achieve the dignity, opportunity, equality and full participation, which is the measure of what they seek.

"This is the way to develop the self-discipline of an enlightened and civilized society, rather than the imposed discipline of a barracks state."

Dear Abby

Joke In Poor Taste

DEAR ABBY: I recently attended a beautiful wedding ceremony that was marred by a "practical joke" perpetrated on the bridegroom by a "close friend." This idiot had painted "SAVE ME" on the soles of the bridegroom's shoes, so when the couple knelt for prayer, it could be seen by everyone.

I felt this was very poor taste, and would appreciate your comments. M.D.

DEAR M.D.: I agree with you. And I'm printing your letter knowing full well that it may give some other "idiots" ideas, but hoping that ALL bridegrooms will look to their soles for the work of heels.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I'm nearly 15 years old and have a brother who is 16. This is my problem.

I have my own room with twin beds. My brother has his own room, too, but he has only a fan in his room and I have an air conditioner in mine. With the warm weather here, my brother complains that the fan doesn't help much, so he wants to sleep in my room because of the air conditioner.

I don't want him in with me because I think I'm too old to be sleeping with an older brother, and I want my privacy.

My folks say I'm silly, and I should let him use the other twin bed. I would like your opinion. BOILING

DEAR BOILING: It would help to know whether you are a boy or a girl. If you are a girl, I don't blame you. If you are a boy, and your "privacy" is that important to you, be a man and trade rooms (for the hot spell) with your brother. (Or would you rather fight than switch?)

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I was shocked and disgusted today when I took my 2½-year-old daughter shopping with me. As we approached a certain toothpaste display she pointed to it and shouted, "Oh look, Mommy, SEX appeal!" I nearly fainted. This is just one example of how TV commercials influence young children. Another thing with regard to the boob tube:

What good does it do for parents to try to teach their children not to make personal, insulting remarks to people when they see it done day after day in television commercials?

I have a friend whose little 4-year-old boy tells people that they have "baaaad breath, body odor and dandruff." Everyone laughs and thinks it's cute.

Well, I don't, so please print my letter with the following statement: I will NOT buy products whose commercials offend me, and I hope other mothers who feel the same will follow suit. BOBBY'S MOM

* * *

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Fishing For Trouble

Bill Campbell, Huntington, W. Va., had to pull his ball out of a creek Thursday on the No. 10 hole at Scioto Country Club's course, scene of the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship. He shot a 76 on the second day of the tournament. Passing him on the bridge is Richard Siderowf, Westport, Conn.

Match Play Opens In Meet Saturday

With the First National Bank Cup Matches and qualifying rounds out of the way today, the field in the 36th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament can turn to its customary blood letting Saturday.

The meet, which starts out as a match play event and switches to medal competition Monday, offers the spectacle of Odessa's Mike Cleckler trying to win his third straight championship.

The hat trick has never been pulled in the meet, although Bill (Red) Roden of Odessa has captured four titles and six players, including Roden and Cleckler, have won it two times running.

Roden ruled the roost here for the first time in 1942. He returned to the throne room in 1947, repeated in 1948 and won for the final time in 1957.

Eddie Morgan, Charley Quails, Doug Jones, Luke Thompson, Bobby Wright and Bill Craig and Bobby Maxwell have each won the championship twice.

One of the oldest amateur meets in the state, the tournament was started in 1931 on sand greens. It has been held each year since that time with the exception of 1944, when World War II intervened.

Cleckler is back to try and defend his laurels but faces stern competition from such players as Phil Howe of Ponca City, Okla., the reigning City champion here; Dan Wilkins, the 1968 Country Club titlist; Jake Broyles, Fort Stockton; Bobby Bluhm, Odessa; Ronnie Broadrick, Big Spring; and Roy Peden, Kermit, to name a few.

The cup matches were to begin at 1:30 p.m. today, with 20 players involved in the 18 holes of competition. This marks the first time in four years cup play has taken place prior to the meet.

If tradition holds, the medalist will come out of the cup matches.

A barbecue is scheduled to be held for tournament entries and guests starting at 7 o'clock this evening while a dance is planned for Saturday evening, starting at 9 o'clock.

The championship flight will consist of 32 players but first round losers will be reassigned to the President's flight Sunday.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

If Big Spring's interior line comes through this fall, the Steers could be as good as the best in District 3-AAAA.

On paper, the locals have a backfield to compare with any club in the league and should field a phalanx of stellar ends.

Johnny Cliff Patton, judged off the form he showed in the spring, will be more than adequate at the quarterback spot. Roy Lee (Waterbug) Warren would give the Steers the threat of a breakaway runner, the likes of whom it hasn't had in years.

Fullback Rocky Wooley was hamstrung by injuries last year. If he can go at full speed, he'll be spending so much time in enemy backfields the real estate people may sue for equal rights.

Wingback Johnny Rutherford threatens to be a real credit to the Big Spring secondary, too. He made the transition from quarterback quite well and was one of the real bright spots in spring workouts.

He could emerge as one of Patton's favorite passing targets, too.

Jack Tayrien, the former Big Spring coaching aide who is now chief honcho at Lockney, is cautioning the friends of football there not to expect too much too soon.

Tayrien says the Longhorns are lacking in speed and depth, are slow as AA teams go and need polish.

If the Lockney people are patient with Tayrien, the team will blossom on schedule.

Quite likely, Lockney will put the ball in the air a lot. Tandy Johnston, converted from a defensive specialist, has shown an ability to seek out a target and hit him on the run.

Lockney was 2-8 last year and the fans are lusting for improvement. Some observers say the Lockney people are too impatient. They should give Jack ample time to get the boilers going.

When Camilo Pascual beat Mel Stottlemyre and the New York Yankees behind Washington in the Yankee Stadium recently, 2-1, the temperature reached 114 degrees in one sunny spot within the park.

Pascual, a native of Cuba, where the sun often shines in all its glory, commented that he had never been warmer but one time in his life.

"I like hot weather but not this hot," Camilo said. "I haven't seen hotter weather since I was with Big Spring, Tex., in the Longhorn League when I was 17 years old."

Pascual is now 34 years of age and has been in the majors since 1954, when he went up with the old Washington Senators. He moved to Minnesota with the franchise in 1961 and was traded back to Washington last year.

Neither he nor Stottlemyre went the route in the contest. Both departed in the seventh round.

Camilo was bothered with a sore arm most of the time he was with Big Spring. His memory was playing tricks on him in New York. It gets hot here but never reaches 114—well, rarely ever. Besides, he did most of his pitching here at night.

Tahoka, which opens the football season with neighboring Stanton two weeks from tonight, is having to shape up without the great Cliff Thomas for the first time since 1964. Thomas, headed for A&M on a scholarship, gained 1,600 yards carrying the mail last fall.

The Bulldogs have another fine running back, however, in the 190-pound Larry Anold. It takes a while for Arnold to get up a head of steam but he's hard to contain when he comes charging down the main line. Stanton's line had best get to him before he can get traction.

Dreary Skies Fail To Keep Crowd Away

Under conditions that would have sent a duck to high ground, the Big Spring Quarterback Club staged its annual barbecue for members of the local high school football team and their coaches Thursday evening.

Site of the party was shifted from the amphitheatre to a nearby pavilion. The dreary skies didn't keep hundreds of football buffs from attending.

The intimacy of the occasion seemed to enhance rather than blight the occasion. The light was dim and there was no loud speaker available but somehow the speakers made themselves heard above the shuffle of feet, the laughter of children playing just outside and the occasional gossiping that went on among the callers.

Bob Wright, assistant executive vice president of the Texas Coaches Association, drove all the way from Austin to deliver the principal address and he appeared deeply impressed by the devotion of the local fans.

What Wright lacked in articulation, he more than made up for in fervor in his talk to the gathering.

Aiming his speech more directly at the boys and girls present, Wright extolled the virtue of athletics and the attitude of the athlete in general.

The speaker urged his listeners to develop a firm handshake and the ability "to look people in the eye."

He also urged the footballers to "love" their coaches as they, in turn, are "loved." Players who are corrected on the field should feel complimented rather than resentful because of that high esteem coaches have for their players, Wright said.

Harold Davis served as master of ceremonies and did a creditable job of keeping the program moving.

Spike Dykes, head coach of the Steers, spoke briefly before turning over the job of introducing the players to his subordinates.

Davis said the first business session of the QBC would take place in the High School Cafeteria Tuesday, Sept. 10, at which time an intelligence report on the Steers' first opponent, Lubbock Monterey, would be given.

Pina Guides Rankin Game

RANKIN — Rankin, which visits Coahoma for the season's opening football game two weeks from tonight, is regarded as a strong contender for District 7-A championship honors.

Coached by Wayne Mitchell, the Red Devils will have 15 seniors on the team, along with five juniors and four sophomores.

In District 8-A last year, Rankin wound up with a 4-6 record. District 7-A is certain to have a new titlist this year, since last year's winner, Canutillo, has been promoted to AA ball.

Rankin will boast quickness, especially at the quarterback spot, where junior Adam Pina will take charge. Pina has already won two varsity letters. He believes in putting the ball in the air a lot.

Ends Malcolm Brown, 130; Billy Bearden, 165; John Smith, 150; and Carson McGough, 150, are Pena's favorite receivers.

Among Rankin's running backs are Jim Vick, 145, soph; Kenneth Lester, 160, senior; Booker Dixon, 130, junior; Ed Peterson, 160, junior; Dwayne Holder, 162, senior; and J. B. Welbron, 125, senior.

The center of the Rankin line will be relatively light, with center Larry Holder the heaviest at 170.

TOM ADAMS

Adams Is Aide At Goliad JH

Tom Adams, a 1961 graduate of Cross Plains High School, is in his third year as a junior high school coach here.

Tom will be the eighth grade line coach under head mentor Jack Gray at Goliad Junior High.

Adams played his high school football as a tackle under Bill Gunn, winning three varsity letters. He was also all-area in basketball for two seasons.

The Goliad mentor graduated from Tarleton State College in Stephenville in 1965 and has done all of his coaching here.

He is married to the former Karen Walker, who is now a teacher at Cedar Crest Elementary school. The two make their home at 2510 Larry.

In addition to his teaching duties, Adams will teach Texas History on the seventh grade level at Goliad.

Senators Do Tigers Favor In 5-4 Win

By The Associated Press

The Washington Senators have had their troubles moving forward, but they overcame them long enough to put the Baltimore Orioles in reverse.

The Senators entered Baltimore two days ago buried in last place in the American League while the Orioles had climbed within four games of leading Detroit.

Washington departed Thursday night still locked in the cellar, but left the Orioles moving backward, six games behind the Tigers after losing twice to the Senators.

Frank Howard's home run put the brakes on the Orioles Wednesday night and the king-sized slugger teamed with Ken McMullen and rookie Gary Holman to beat Baltimore 5-4 in 11 innings Thursday night.

MOMENTUM BUILT

That loss came after Detroit rode Mickey Lolich's three-hitter to a 2-0 triumph over California in the afternoon as the Tigers built momentum for their three-game weekend series against Baltimore starting tonight.

In other games, the Chicago White Sox slipped by the New York Yankees 1-0 and Minnesota tripped Cleveland 3-2 in night contests and Boston crumbled Oakland 11-2 in daylight.

The Senators played their last place role for seven innings against rookie Roger Nelson, making his first start of the season. They had only four hits and trailed 3-0. Then came the start of the turnabout.

A walk and shortstop Mark Belanger's error on a potential double play sent McMullen up with two on and one out and he unloaded his 18th homer for a tie game. Howard followed with his 38th blast on the next pitch.

Baltimore got back on the beam temporarily when Brooks Robinson, who doubled in two earlier runs, singled home the tying run in the eighth. But Holman, who pinch hit unsuccessfully in the eighth and stayed in the game, followed Bernie Allen's one-out double off Eddie Watt, 4-5, with a two-out, game-winning single.

PRESSURE ON O'S

Lolich, 13-8, put the pressure on the Orioles earlier after a slow start in which he gave up three hits in the first two innings. But he retired the last 20 hitters he faced, and finished with 12 strike outs and one walk.

Willie Horton supplied the offense with his 31st home run in the fourth inning for the first of two hits given up by George Brunet, 13-13, in his seven innings. Horton drove in the second run in the eighth with an infield hit.

"Care with handle"

Texas gets 1/2 Gallon

The James B. Beam Distilling Company is introducing the new Jim Beam half gallon in more and more states.

Outside of its impressive size, the Jim Beam half-gallon bottle is notable because it has such convenient features as a built-in pouring spout and a handy handle.

They call it "Care with handle."

But the handle, of course, isn't really that important. It's the care that counts.

Six Generations of Care

The care that Jacob Beam exercised in perfecting his formula back in 1795. A formula that's been kept a secret in the Beam family for six generations.

The care that went into the selection of the location in north central Kentucky on which the Beam distillery was built and still stands, served by the limestone filtration of limestone springs, fertile grain fields, white oak timber for the barrels.

The care that goes into every step of the distilling process, to insure that the famous quality of Jim Beam never varies, always lives up to its reputation.

All that care is good reason for the Jim Beam half-gallon, the one with the handy handle.

NFL Sorely Needs Victory Tonight

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Browns encounter the Buffalo Bills tonight, their first American Football League opposition ever, and the National Football League sorely needs a Browns' victory.

The AFL holds a 10-5 edge over the NFL and needs only two more victories to clinch the interleague, preseason series with eight games remaining, six of them this weekend.

There also are two AFL games on tap tonight—Cincinnati vs. the New York Jets at Memphis, Tenn., and Denver against San Diego at San Antonio, Tex.

The Washington Redskins scored 16 points in the second period and held on for a 16-10 victory over the Detroit Lions in an NFL game at Washington Thursday night.

Jerry Allen ran three yards for the first touchdown and Jim Ninowski passed 25 yards to Jerry Smith. Both touchdowns were set up when the Lions were penalized on third down after Washington drives apparently had stalled.

The Redskins got a safety when linebacker Ed Breding blocked a Jerry DePoyster punt in the end zone.

Detroit, who scored on a 59-yard pass from Bill Munson to Earl McCullouch and DePoyster's 37-yard field goal, lost a chance to win when Munson's 39-yard scoring pass to McCullouch late in the final quarter was nullified by offensive holding.

Cleveland is expected to make its first appearance against an AFL team a victorious one as the Bills have serious problems at quarterback.

Buffalo's regular quarterback, veteran Jack Kemp, tore ligaments in his right knee in a scrimmage last Monday and will be lost for the season. No. 1 backup man Tom Flores also is on the injured list with a sore passing arm and is ineligible to play.

This means the Bills will go with rookie Dan Darragh and Kay Stephenson, obtained from San Diego Wednesday, at quarterback.

Frank Ryan and Bill Nelsen will be at quarterback for Cleveland, which will have Charley Harraway at halfback in place of the injured Ernie Green.

The Browns go into the game with a 2-1 record. Buffalo at 2-1-1.

San Diego, 2-2, meets Denver, 1-2, fresh from an upset over the NFL Los Angeles Rams. Denver will have to stop John Hadl, who passed for 300 yards and two touchdowns against the Rams.

With regular quarterback Steve Tensi sidelined with a broken collarbone, John McCormick, attempting a comeback at 31, is expected to start for Denver.

More Gate Records Fall At Ruidoso Past Week

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — This past week saw two records come tumbling down as Ruidoso Downs enjoyed another banner weekend. During the four-day racing period, more than 20,000 fans wagered over $800,000. A record weekend handle fell short only because a tremendous deluge on Sunday sent some fans home early.

Friday, however, proved to be the "surprise" day of the weekend. Some 4,800 persons wagered $211,354 on the day's program, which was an all-time high for a non-holiday Friday. What made this more amazing was the fact that the day's card was made up entirely of two-year-old races.

The trials for the All American Futurity comprised most of the program, and the youngsters ran near perfectly true to form. Officials called the program "one of the most appealing ever."

Liz Devine, nominations secretary, said the crowds came "because of their interest in the All American trials, which included the world's finest quarter racers on display at their best."

Another riding record was set last Thursday by Larry Byers. Byers sets his goal every year to break the riding mark of the previous year, (usually his own) and this season was no exception. The record for one season here was seventy wins, accomplished by Byers last season. On the last race Thursday, he booted home Jungle Dress for his seventy-first win of the season and a new all-time record for number of wins in a single season. The large crowd gave the cool jockey a tremendous ovation.

The season's finest racing cards are tap this weekend, with racing scheduled five days, today thru Labor Day.

Lou Brock Big Order For Bucs To Handle

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates had the right idea but the place for pine tar was on Lou Brock's spikes, not Bob Moose's hand.

Brock stole four bases and the St. Louis Cardinals rapped the Pirates 5-0 Thursday night smacking Moose and his somewhat sticky pitches for four runs and six hits in less than three innings.

The Cards complained that Moose had pine tar on his pitching hand and the umpires ordered him to the dugout in the middle of the third inning to clean his hand. He came back to face four batters, surrender a walk and two singles and leave again—this time for a relief pitcher.

Elsewhere in the National League Thursday, New York shut out Cincinnati 2-0, Atlanta blanked Philadelphia 6-0 and Houston rapped San Francisco 6-1. Chicago and Los Angeles were not scheduled.

Brock, who scored twice, had a single and four walks. The only time he didn't steal was in the third inning when there were two runners on base in front of him and he had no place to go.

The four thefts gave the Cardinal speedster 41 for the season, just one back of Pittsburgh's Maury Wills, the National League leader.

Brock and Curt Flood walked in the first and scooted home on run-scoring singles by Roger Maris and Tim McCarver. Dal Maxvill and pitcher Ray Washburn singled two more across in the third and Maris' single delivered a wrapup run in the sixth.

Cal Koonce and Ron Taylor combined for a two-hitter against the Reds, giving the Mets their 62nd victory—one more than New York managed all of last season.

Koonce, making his first start after 45 relief appearances, stymied Cincinnati until the seventh when Taylor took over. Bud Harrelson had three hits for the Mets and Cincinnati's Pete Rose went hitless, ending a 19-game batting streak.

Phil Niekro fired a two-hitter at Philadelphia and Atlanta used home runs by Felipe Alou, Hank Aaron and Deron Johnson to beat the Phillies.

Niekro didn't allow a runner past first base and won his 11th game. Alou and Aaron both homered in the first and Johnson connected in the eighth as the Braves pinned a fifth straight loss on the Phillies.

Houston pounded Juan Marichal for six runs in less than two innings and cruised past the Giants on Dave Giusti's four-hitter.

Denis Menke tagged a three-run homer in the first inning and the Astros knocked Marichal out after 1 2-3 innings—the earliest kayo of his career.

Offer Seminary Courses

Rev. James A. Puckett, left, Rev. W. H. Odell, and Rev. Glenn Faison, standing, and Rev. Clyde Campbell, left, seated will be teachers for the seminary extension courses at Baptist Temple beginning Sept. 3. Rev. Charles E. Sheffield, seated, right, is promotion director.

World Hunger Topic Of Lutheran Meeting

Hunger in the United States and the world was chosen as the issue for young people in the Lutheran church at the International Walther League Gathering last week at Purdue University.

Approximately 3,000 young people between 14 and 21 years of age met in West Lafayette, Ind., to reorganize the league and proceed to make the organization more of a service club than a social club.

Beth Graumann and Ann Budke, Big Spring High School seniors, attended the youth convention, "which was one of the most inspirational meetings I have ever attended," Miss Graumann said.

"Everything centered around world hunger and it made us realize the scope of the problem," Miss Budke said. Both agreed that in this respect the convention accomplished what it set out to do.

Guest speakers from Nigeria and Colombia, mass meetings and small discussion groups and hundreds of booklets, leaflets, packets and magazines stressed problems of feeding the millions of people in the world.

"We definitely plan to try to put a little more emphasis on the service rather than social aspect," Miss Graumann said of their local league at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Miss Budke attended the meeting as a representative of the local league and Miss Graumann represented the zone.

Both have scheduled speeches for the upcoming months to tell about the convention. Miss Budke will speak at the business meeting of the local league Sept. 8 and Miss Graumann will speak in Midland on that date.

Miss Graumann will also speak at the annual fall rally in Odessa in November to report what happened at the convention and how leagues in West Texas can participate in the international campaign against world hunger.

"The one thing we definitely plan to do is to try to raise money," Miss Budke said. The money will be sent to such organizations as World Relief for Lutherans, Friends of Peace and the International Walther League.

A chartered bus carried 43 Texas delegates, including five sponsors, from Dallas to Purdue. The group stopped off in Chicago, which was "too big and unfriendly," Miss Budke said.

"It seemed the people went out of their way to avoid catching your eye," Miss Graumann said. "Nobody smiled." The convention was different, both agreed.

"They tried to plan it so we could meet as many different people as possible. My roommate was from Philadelphia," Miss Graumann said. Miss Budke's was from Illinois.

"Our counselors were all young — under 23, and the entire convention seemed keyed to youth," Miss Budke said. The average age of the delegates was 16.

Rev. Fields In Indiana

Rev. J. W. Fields, a former resident of Big Spring, has resigned his church at Markley to accept a church in Hammond, Ind. This is a new Southern Baptist church.

Rev. Fields and his family lived here 1957-1965 while he was employed at Webb AFB as an electrician. They moved to Fort Worth in 1965, and he entered the Southern Baptist Seminary there. He worked for Bell Helicopter while studying at the seminary.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Sand Springs.

Third Year Seminary Classes Begin

The third year of seminary extension classes will begin Sept. 3 at Baptist Temple with an offering of six courses.

Registration will be on the first day. Classes meet each Tuesday from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. for 18 weeks.

Course offerings include Old Testament (121), evangelism (123), life and faith of Baptists (126), theology (146), religious education (115 and 135).

A transcript is maintained for each student, and a diploma will be issued upon completion of 16 courses. Colleges allow transfer of credit for seminary extension center work. For lay people, credit also is granted for the church study course.

The Rev. Clyde Campbell, Hillcrest Baptist pastor, will teach the Old Testament, "Solomon through Malachi." (Fee $12 for course and text.) He also will teach doctrines of the Old Testament ($10.45).

Baptist doctrine and history ($11.25) will be taught by the Rev. James A. Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple.

The Rev. W. H. Odell, Berea Baptist pastor, will teach basic evangelism ($14.70).

Both of the religious education courses, teaching for results and one in enlisting, training and guiding leaders in the church, will be taught by Glenn Faison, First Baptist education director. (These are $11 and $13.50.)

Dr. P. D. O'Brien Involved In Heart Transplant Drama

His duties as associate pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Houston has involved Dr. P. D. O'Brien in a striking real life drama—a heart transplant.

"The experience was different from anything that has previously happened in my life," said the former pastor of the First Baptist Church here.

The donor, a Mrs. Geaconne, was a member of the Second Baptist Church in Houston, and since the pastor was on vacation, Dr. O'Brien was privileged to counsel with the family concerning offering her heart for a transplant. She was in the final days with a brain tumor and later was to sustain a cardiac arrest.

"I sat with the family while the two-hour operation was in progress at St. Luke's Hospital," said Dr. O'Brien. Mr. Geaconne is a Catholic and she was a Baptist, and family were well represented. They called on me to pray that the operation would be a success and to offer a prayer for the family of Carl Van Bates, who was to receive the heart, and for sustaining grace for all connected with the incident. I have rarely felt as near to God as I did during that two-hour period."

The emotion-packed drama moved to its climax, however, in the family room where the Geaconnes were gathered after the operation.

"As Mrs. Bates, whose husband had just received the heart, entered the room, she fell into the arms of Mr. Geaconne, whom she had never before seen, and tears of gratitude and thanksgiving flowed like rain. I thought I saw a preview of what will happen when we see the One who gave us a new heart and a new life. If mere man can transplant a heart and give new physical life, who can doubt that the One who made man 'in His own image' can give new spiritual life."

THE LORD'S HELP IS ALWAYS AVAILABLE AND SUCCESSFUL

Help from the Lord is available and successful against any odds—He has promised to be with us as we trust Him when tested.

The Universal Sunday School Lesson is taken this week from Nehemiah 2:17, 18; 4:15-20; 6:1-3, 15, 16, and points out that the same qualities of leadership which are clearly seen in Nehemiah are very necessary today when there are many enemies to the work of the Lord.

The faith of this man and his followers is an example for everybody as we build our lives and serve the Lord in the ways in which he has led us.

As Nehemiah set his mind and heart to do things God called him to do, he faced a number of enemies which are still around: ridicule, fear, guile, false accusation, temptation to tempt God and corruption of friends and associates.

Laymen and leaders in the work of the Lord today must work together in complete dedication and faith if they are to resist the opposition to true Christianity.

John A. Lawrence Plans New Career

JOHN ARTHUR LAWRENCE

John Arthur Lawrence is giving up a career in banking to train for the Episcopal ministry.

Currently, he is spending a few days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kelley E. Lawrence, 543 Hillside Drive, before going to Evanston, Ill., to enter Seabury - Western Theological Seminary Sept. 14.

Lawrence has been vice president of the Louisiana National Bank in Baton Rouge, La., a position he resigned to take this important step. It was not an easy decision, for in addition to laying aside a promising career in banking, he and his wife, the former Carole Joachimi of Beaumont, have three daughters, Karen, 5, Kelly Ann, 3, and Kimberly, 1. During his three years of training, the family will be at 621 Garret Place, Apt. N-31, Evanston, Ill.

All of his early education was in the Big Spring schools. Prior to his graduation from Big Spring High School in 1953, he was active in the Hi-Y programs, the youth work of his (St. Mary's Episcopal) church, as well as in all affairs. He received his BA degree from the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., in 1957, then served in the U.S. Army in the Nike-Hercules program. This led him into data processing and then into banking.

In his new calling, Lawrence is being sponsored by the Louisiana Diocese.

RACKY

Frightened, its wing broken, the bird was clinging to a rail when Tod found it. He brought it home, and "Racky" became its name.

Days passed and the bird mended quickly.

"Racky's getting well," the six-year old informed me one day. "Will he fly away?" I nodded.

"But I want him to stay here! I'll feed him, and let him sleep in his box-house, and take care of him—an' everything!"

"But he might want to be with his friends," I said. There was silence as the boy pondered the idea.

"All right," he finally said. "I'll let him go. But I bet he'd be happier here with me!"

We, too, would be happier if we knew where we belong in the complex pattern of life. God helps us discover ourselves and our place in His universe through His Church.

The child didn't know any better.

Do you?

A Devotional For The Day

Peter seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do? Jesus saith unto him, . . . What is that to thee? follow thou me. (John 21:21-22)

PRAYER: Dear God, forgive us for neglecting our talents. Help us to believe that the little we have when consecrated wholly to Thee, Thou wilt accept and use to the enrichment of life and the salvation of souls. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

An Added Obstacle

The sweet taste of victory may well be seasoned with bitter gall for Hubert Humphrey, the Democrats' nominee for president. He faces first of all a tremendous challenge in seeking to weld divergent elements into some semblance of workable unity during the next two months.

He has yet another considerable obstacle, and that is the memory of some of the ugliness and uneasiness that surrounded the Democratic convention in Chicago. Put on edge by threats of marches on convention hall and other centers, Chicago threw up cordons of police and imposed unusually stringent security measures at the convention hall. Downtown, the National Guard was used as a back up when clashes broke out between demonstrators and police.

This led to charges of police brutality, of a police state and other catch phrases which were used by principals on the convention floor. In the clashes across from the hotel headquarters, some heads were banged and a number were bloodied — both the demonstrators and the police.

Mayor Daley of Chicago was in an uneasy position — he would have been condemned had he not provided adequate force and shown clear determination to maintain order and to prevent a national convention having to function under the shadow of intimidation. But to stand ground, he incurred the charge by dissenters of intimidation by police force. In any event, it was not a pretty sight, although the determination not to let demonstrators take over with unbridled recklessness was wise and justified. It was the mayor's decision, but it was in the end Vice President Humphrey's show because he was the nominee. Shaking this off may be as hard as trying to put back fractions of a party after the bitter heat of battle.

Time Lag In Qualifying

Only four states in this country have voting ages of less than 21 years. President Johnson's proposal to lower the age to 18 has failed to stir much enthusiasm for change.

There are numerous pro and con points on this issue, some worthy of serious debate and some not. But the single most effective and persistent argument is that the 18-year-olds are not yet mature enough for judicious political decisions, and the argument is hardly blunted by the retort that neither are many of their elders.

The British have afforded a different perspective on this question. And it should be given serious thought in the United States.

The British government announced this summer that its parliament will soon consider legislation to reduce the voting age from 21 to 18. A conference on electoral law reform there had recommended a one-year rather than three-years reduction. But the majority party, which endorsed 60 of the conference's 71 recommendations, opted for an 18-year minimum on this finding:

"New electors on average cast their first vote at least two years after reaching qualifying age, with the effect that most new electors who qualify for a vote at 18 will in fact cast their first votes only at the age of 20 or 21."

Little attention has been given that point in the United States, where it is as valid as in Britain. Given the time lag between age qualification and actual voter registration and subsequent elections, the maturity argument against voting-age reduction is obviously weakened.

David Lawrence

There Must Be A Better Way

CHICAGO — Anyone who has watched the national political conventions for the last half-century cannot but be disappointed that something better has not been devised than the present system of choosing presidential and vice-presidential nominees. Theoretically, the delegates represent the "will of the people." Actually, they are chosen by local bosses and politicians, and are controlled largely by office holders or individuals ambitious for political power.

IT WAS OBVIOUS from the start that Hubert Humphrey would have enough votes to win the nomination and that there was no real contest for the top spot on the ticket. Even the debate on the platform could hardly be described as a serious consideration of vital issues. The Vietnam war plank, for instance, as written by a majority of the platform committee, was challenged by a minority report. But the real reason for the conflict in Southeast Asia — Communist imperialism — was scarcely mentioned in the brief speeches.

Most of the opposition, moreover, expressed against the administration's policy, was confined to demogogic statements designed primarily to appeal to the youth of the country, who certainly do not like the war in Vietnam any more than do their parents. Both world wars were "unpopular", too, but bore a direct relationship to American security. The main objective of American participation in the Vietnam war is the prevention of a third world war.

POLITICS IS based upon what the politician thinks is popular. Many delegates to the convention felt that an anti-Vietnam war position would be widely supported at home. Yet the issue was not handled in a way that would help to produce an understanding by the public. For adoption of the platform plank of the minority would have compelled the presidential nominee to repudiate it.

The effort to secure passage of the minority report on the Vietnam controversy was aimed more at getting votes among the anti-war groups in local elections rather than to affect the outcome of the convention. Had the anti-war plank been adopted, it would have repudiated the Johnson administration and embarrassed Humphrey. Also, the new party leader would have had no choice but to ignore what the convention had said on that issue.

WHAT HAS BEEN going on behind the scenes in the Democratic convention at Chicago is not unusual. The customary efforts have been made to break down the strength of the leading contender. Rumors that Senator Edward Kennedy might run were often heard. They produced some anxiety in the Humphrey camp, where it was recognized as a device to try to stop the top runner. Sen. McCarthy in his own way endeavored to block the Humphrey movement, but now virtually admits he had not at any time felt sure he could win the nomination and merely entered the race to express his viewpoint. Other candidates have done the same thing in the past, and it has not yielded them much fruit, politically speaking.

THE DEMOCRATS are up against a tough problem in the campaign. Disunity prevails, and a protest vote will be cast not only by many Democrats but by lots of independents who have hitherto been on the side of the Democratic party. The tendency will be, as has happened before, to blame the administration in power for the Vietnam war and for the disorders in American life. If a miracle happens and the Vietnam conflict is suddenly ended this autumn, it might help the Democrats. The domestic issues, however, are in many respects even more poignant than the foreign-policy question.

ARRANGEMENTS for the convention at Chicago were based somewhat on a belief that evening sessions should be held, as this would be better for television audiences. But it turned out that, because of the lengthy programs, some of the important steps taken by the convention were not reached until after midnight. This was the case at Chicago as well as at Miami Beach. Sooner or later, those who make plans for a national convention in the hope of attracting nationwide attention may provide a schedule that starts in the morning and finishes at a reasonable hour at night.

Some day, however, the American people will come to the conclusion that political conventions as conducted nowadays are not exactly based on the doctrine of "freedom of choice" and that a national primary on the same day throughout the country may be a better way to select candidates for party nominations.

How is it possible to pray without ceasing, as the Bible says?
P.L.

To pray without ceasing means to be everlastingly in the attitude of prayer and yieldingness to the will of God. There is the danger that after we have uttered our prayers to God we may go our way, forget and fail to expect an answer. The Bible also says that we are to "Pray always and not to faint." Therefore to pray without ceasing can also mean to pray without giving up. It does not mean that we are to get on our knees and stay there necessarily until the answer comes. It simply means that regardless of the nature of our problems, the first thing for us to consider is the ability of our God to solve that problem and to meet our individual needs. The Christian who prays without ceasing is that happy, radiant, and victorious child of God. There is no short-cut to spiritual power and apart from this kind of praying one cannot possess this mighty spirited dynamic.

College Education Costs Climb

NEW YORK (AP) — The price of a college education, like the tab for real estate and taxes and a suit of clothes, is going up again this year. Four out of five schools queried in an impartial survey confirm this.

Increases for fall tuition will average from a low of 5 per cent in state colleges to 7 per cent in private men's schools, the survey showed, meaning an average minimum increase in tuition-fees-room-board of $56 to $166.

THESE FIGURES come from perhaps an unusual source, the Life Insurance Agency Management Association, but they represent a poll of more than 1,000 colleges. Insurance agents like to have such figures in talking up total security plans.

Some hope, however, is offered by another study, this one by the Bureau of Census, whose figures suggest that the investment in education till is one of the best. The young college grad, the bureau figures, will earn $167,000 more than the high school grad before retirement.

The problem for parents who view the expenditure solely as an investment, however, is that they aren't likely to be around to count up the total payoff. Better to consider it a responsibility or a gift.

Here are the results of the insurance agents' study of the costs of tuition, fees and roomboard for colleges throughout the country:

PRIVATE MEN'S schools, $1,530 tuition fees, $958 room-board, total $2,488, an increase of $166 or 7 per cent from last year.

Private women's colleges, $1,331 tuition fees, $1,019 roomboard, $2,350 total, an increase of $136 or 6 per cent.

Private coeducational colleges, $1,284 plus $850 for a total of $2,134, an increase of $131 or 7 per cent.

Public colleges, for residents of the state, $332 plus $770, total $1,102, an increase of $56 or 4 per cent. For nonresidents the tuition rises to $769, while other costs remain the same, for a $100 or 7 per cent increase.

Wide variations were found for different parts of the country. In the Northeast the median for men's private colleges will be $2,894 this fall, meaning that one-half the totals will be above and one-half below that figure.

Now this $10,000 or so for four years doesn't cover nearly all the expenses. It is a basic figure, and has nothing to do with transportation, clothing, books, football game tickets, dates and whatever else a student is likely to need money for.

White Collar Romeos?

NEW YORK (AP) —The American business office is firmly believed by many jealous wives to be a place where innocent husbands are led astray by conniving secretaries and voluptuous receptionists.

If this were only true, of course, every U. S. farm and store and factory would be deserted. Every man in the nation would want an office job.

HOWEVER, it's only a wifely delusion, created partly by sensation-seeking novelists, that business offices are oases of orgy inhabited by sultry Delilahs. The truth is that passion in the executive suite tends to be prim rather than primordial.

And as every working girl knows, it is not she who usually initiates any romantic overtures that may occur. The advances are made by the male swivel-chair daydreamers.

No office is without its quota of these would-be wolves, who are usually more clawless than lawless. If you glance around your own office the following Romeo types may be familiar:

The Junior Executive: He chucks the chins or kisses the fading cheeks of all the old biddies, hoping by flattery and charm to get them to tell him what skeletons are hidden in the closets of the top executives. He feels that this knowledge will sooner or later help him up the success ladder.

THE FRANKENSTEIN Monster: For 364 days of the year, harmless Harold is as shy and timid as a gazelle. But after the second drink at the annual Christmas party, he begins beating his chest, a wild look comes into his eyes, and he runs from desk top to desk top after any and every girl who comes into view. He winds up alone with his arms around a coat hanger, pleading to it, "Don't go home, baby. Let's make a real night of it."

The Cunning Prude: At least once a week this hypocrite strolls through the secretarial pool pulling down a skirt here and there and exclaiming coldly: "It's far too short—this is a business office not a strip-tease show." This tactic wins him a reputation of a killjoy; it also enables him to brush his hands across a lot of lovely knees.

CALCULATING CHARLIE: He always brings in a cake and a dozen roses for his secretary and gives her a chaste kiss on her forehead. This convinces him that he has swept her off her feet, and she should be willing to work overtime for nothing.

The senior vice president: He likes to think of himself as the lovable old Mr. Chips of the office. The fatherly attitude—that's his gimmick. Whenever he sees one of the girls looking blue, he consoles her by putting a fatherly arm around her and giving her fatherly pats. It generally takes him five fatherly pats to range from the shoulder to the hemline.

That's a fair sampling of white collar Romeos, isn't it girls? Most office wolves are really so dull they wouldn't know what to do if you gave them "yes" for an answer.

Finding Arteries That Starve The Heart

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there a new finding in medicine that can locate and identify which of the small narrowed arteries or arterioles are the culprits that supply too little oxygen to the heart?

If so, what method, if any, can correct this? — Mrs. F. C.

Yes, such a method exists, and is being used with great frequency by the larger medical centers. And, as with all useful procedures that require special equipment and training, the same method is graudally being adopted at other hospitals.

The method is called coronary cinematography — that is, taking motion pictures, by X-ray, of arteries which carry blood circulation to the heart muscle.

A harmless dye is injected into the blood stream, which makes the blood visible on X-ray film. Thus any area in which the arteries are narrowed or clogged shows clearly, and such portions of the heart muscle as are not getting sufficient circulation are made apparent.

There is no medicine that will open up these narrowed places. However, in certain cases it is possible to correct the situation by supplying circulation to the heart muscle from another source. Specifically, an artery in the chest wall (the internal mammary artery) is sometimes implanted in the heart muscle to carry an extra supply of blood to it.

Symptomatic relief also is achieved with a great many patients by the classical method of using tablets of nitroglycerin, or one of its derivatives, or giving isosorbide dinitrate, alone or along with propanolol.

These drugs do not correct the narrowing of the arteries. Rather, they cause an improvement of circulation which gives the muscle enough more blood to ease its work.

This is familiar to thousands of patients with angina pectoris — the heart pain which results when the heart muscle is not getting enough circulation to match the demands on that muscle.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have eight of your booklets but cannot find one on bursitis. — A.C.

The subject is included in "How You Can Control Arthritis," because, although not exactly a form of arthritis, it is similar in that it involves painful joints.

Bursitis, while it can be stubborn, usually yields to proper medical care. If you want the arthritis booklet, send 35 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner, in care of The Herald.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dim Understanding Of Demos On TV

Now we understand why the Texas draft rate was raised a while back. The Army needed more troops to fight the battle of Chicago.

A BUNCH of television stars called on Texas delegates trying to get support for Sen. McCarthy. But most of the Texans were tuned in on another channel.

Our theory is that Maine Sen. Edmond S. Muskie won the veep derby over Oklahoma's Sen. Fred Harris — my pick — because the 6-foot-5 architect claimed more first-ballot votes for presidential nominee Humphrey than any other vice presidential candidate.

One reason Americans complain about national political conventions is that they don't really understand how they work.

TO MAKE the Democratic extravaganza more meaningful for patriots permitted by television commentators to watch brief portions of the past proceedings, the following glossary is provided for "hot" winter squabbles:

Caucus: A secret meeting at which delegates fist fight and curse one another, before emerging with a harmony statement for the press.

Deadlock: What would happen if President Johnson's telephone line to Permanent Chairman Carl Albert went dead in the middle of the proceedings.

DRAFT: What candidates drink if they can't get it in the bottle.

Favorite Son: A portable pawn shop in which a state trades its support for goods and services if their client comes in first.

Keynoter: Between elections every party member is asked to send his favorite cliche to national headquarters. Just prior to the convention, a person is picked to stand up at the convention and read them.

Loyalists: Those delegates who still favor reunion with England.

Platform: A handsome document which includes not what the delegates stand for but what they think the people will stand for.

PLATFORM PLANKS: Wooden promises to splinter groups.

Polling the delegation: What happens when LBJ's phone line goes dead and Carl Albert needs to play for time.

Quorum: This is a definition that enrages delegates. A quorum is a simple majority, plus one.

Solid South: Until 1952, this was the Amen Corner of the Democratic Party. Since then, it's been Purgatory.

STAMPEDE: What the delegates do when the word is passed that the national television networks have cut for commercials and everybody heads for the restroom.

Delegates: Those nuisances who keep getting in the way of Sandy Vanocur, Mike Wallace and other stalwarts who attempt to get at the nub of the major floor events.

Alternate Delegates: Those poor souls who fill the aisles, hoping to find empty delegate seats but usually only end up getting in the way of Sandy Vanocur, Mike Wallace and other stalwarts, etc.

HAWKS AND DOVES: A Dove is a politician who is not a pacifist but who would draw the battle line along the California coast. A Hawk is a politician who used to prefer dominoes but who has taken up chess and talks endlessly of Czechmate.

'The Mob' Has No Designated Leader

CHICAGO (AP) — The anti-war demonstrators causing so many problems for Chicago police belong to no single group, and have no single set of leaders.

In theory, this week's demonstrations to "confront the warmakers" are being run by the National Mobilization Committee, with third-floor offices in a run-down section of Chicago's downtown Loop not far from the Conrad-Hilton Hotel.

BUT "THE MOB," as demonstrators call it, is simply a loose federation of 135 antiwar groups, with no power to enforce anything. It acts primarily as an information distribution center.

Within this loose coalition are groups ranging from pacifist to pro-Viet Cong, from revolutionist to anarchist. While they're united on their opposition to U.S. Vietnam involvement, they're often at odds on almost everything else, and this makes their demonstrations unpredictable.

WALKING AMONG the Yippies — Youth International party members — and hippies, who don't fall under "the mob's" banner, and the peace-oriented types, who do, last Sunday in Lincoln Park, newsmen got the feeling that most people there felt the city had no right to close the park at 11 p.m. if people wanted to use it.

Those who wanted to use it — the antiwar protest groups — appeared to be made up largely of whites with only a few Negroes.

SOME AMONG the Yippies were bearded and sandaled while others were clean-cut youths in their late teens and early 20s. Most persons under the mobilization committee, however, range from the 20s through the middle 40s in age.

One hundred or so "mob" marshals, picked to keep order at demonstrations, met to discuss what should be done. But they reached no real decision because pacifists argued that police should not be confronted, while revolutionists called for all-out war with police, and Yippies, who oppose all leaders, argued that no one had the right to impose his views on anyone else.

THE RESULT? The meeting decided that people should do whatever they felt they had to do, hardly a clear-cut plan of action.

The same feeling floated through Wednesday's rally that preceded the confrontation with police near the Hilton.

David Dellinger, co-ordinator of "the mob," set up three alternate plans — gathering by a monument for people who wished to confront police in an illegal march, gathering in a different spot for people who wished some other form of action, or just sitting in the park for people who didn't really want to do anything.

BUT THEN, one by one, speakers got up to argue for other things. One black militant said that marching anywhere in a large crowd was just asking for trouble. People should sneak out in small groups, he said, filter through the city and confront the power structure that way.

Telling The People What To Think

WASHINGTON — The governor of Georgia, Lester Maddox, is short and spare, crisp-spoken but courteous, a figure of homespun dignity, a self-made success in business and politics. His up-from-nowhere career was what used to be called the fulfillment of the American dream.

Gov. Maddox appeared before the Democratic platform committee on the same day, at almost the same time, that Sen. Edward Kennedy addressed the nation by television from Holy Cross College. Later at a press conference when the governor responded to questions about the senator's speech, a contrast — and, I think, a striking commentary — jumped into focus.

IT WASN'T just between the two men: one not nearly so tall and handsome, so well-educated and so well-connected as the other; one who won his gubernatorial office against great odds while the other received his Senate seat as a family privilege; one who still is considered as faintly comic (even if a little racist) by reason of having been a stick-waving restauateur, whereas the other is prince of wealth and tragedy. There is room enough in politics for all sorts. But the sharp delineation stands out because the Democratic party hadn't got nearly as much time for the man up from the people as it had for the man reaching down to the people. The Democrats could well be out of touch with popular opinion for this reason alone.

THEIR LEADING candidates this year were all professors: Humphrey, McCarthy and McGovern. Their big men before the platform committee were imposing intellectuals. Their Labor leaders are many years away from the factory floor and have built marble palaces for their workshops.

All this may have something to do with the fact that Gov. Maddox, coming straight from the people with his ideas, got little attention compared with those who brought their ideas from the realms of intellect. The governor said he wasn't surprised that the United States had no influence in the maintainance of European peace, since we'd impoverished ourselves by squandering over $100 billion in foreign aid, some of it to build up Communist economies. Others than Maddox before the platform committee were still talking "bridges of friendship" into East Europe when it was notified that four of these Soviet satellites had joined Russia in marching against Czechoslovakia.

THE GOVERNOR said it was no wonder we have civil disorder, considering that Democratic leaders had preached "we shall overcome" to the discontented.

Maddox told the press conference that only a dictatorship would prevent the "patriotic" and "conservative" movement from gaining control of the country. He was the spokesman from the countryside, not from the academy, and the Democratic policymakers weren't listening.

TED KENNEDY'S speech, delivered from a distance, got rapt attention, and not entirely because of the pathos it carried. The senator was expressing the ideas that now predominate in the Democratic party. They are ideas that originated with professors, philosophers, professional writers and travelers — a far, far way from the ordinary American community of wage-earners and householders.

WITH CERTAIN qualifying passages, the two main thrusts of Ted Kennedy's remarks were against using force upon domestic rioters and against using bombs upon the country that is killing our men in Vietnam. All of the main Democratic candidates, with a slight adjustment in the case of Humphrey, could endorse Sen. Kennedy's speech. It was, indeed, an expression of the "new politics" by which the Democrats still hope to win.

But it also was a performance of telling — not of asking — what the people think. And it may explain much of what's wrong with the Democratic party.

Dark Days Of Depression, Dad Influenced Hubert

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has been called a "voice of the past" and a "man of his times."

He has been called a superguru to middle-aged liberals—and a betrayer of the liberal cause.

HAPPY WARRIOR

He has been called a cheerleader for the Vietnam war and a private doubter—a "happy warrior" and a "weeping hawk."

The usual Humphrey image is that of a fast-talking supersalesman with a sample case crammed with exclamation marks . . . a political evangelist who spouts slogans like "politics of joy."

But there is more substance than style to Hubert Horatio Humphrey, 57, a man of burning ambition kindled in the populism, depression and dust storms of his South Dakota youth—when the depression sale of his boyhood home meant the end of childhood.

Thirty-three years ago Humphrey took his Huron, S.D., boy scout troop to see Washington. From the capital the young scoutmaster wrote his wife-to-be, Muriel Buck:

DREAM

"I need to do more reading and writing, more thinking if ever I want to fulfill my dream of being someone in this world. . . .

"I can see how someday, if you and I just apply ourselves to make up our minds to work for bigger things, we can live here in Washington and probably be in government politics or service.

"I intend to set my aim at Congress. Don't laugh at me, Muriel. Maybe it does sound rather egotistical and beyond reason, but Muriel, I do know others have succeeded."

Humphrey was born May 27, 1911, in a room over his father's drugstore in Wallace, S.D., a town of 100 or so in the prairie country. He was the second of four children, with an older brother Ralph and two sisters, Frances and Fern.

The Humphrey family moved to nearby Doland, a town of almost 500, when Hubert was 5.

MY HERO

The major influence in Humphrey's life was his father: "Dad was a wonderful man. He was my hero. He loved people, and he loved politics. He was virtually the only Democrat in a Republican town. But they elected him mayor, sent him to the state legislature and almost ran him for governor."

But Humphrey, in his bittersweet memories, also remembers the closing of the banks in the late 1920s caused economic havoc and "one day I came home from school and there were mom and dad in the orchard with tears. My dad said 'Son, I had to sell our house.' Childhood ended when we sold our house."

The dark days of depression had struck when Humphrey entered the University of Minnesota. People were trading chickens, eggs and meat for drugs at the Humphrey corner drug store. He had to drop out of college and his father started anew in nearby Huron, a bigger town of 6,000.

When his father was elected to the state legislature, Hubert took a speeded-up pharmacy course at the University of Denver so he could run the drugstore.

'SOMEBODY'

In 1936 he married Muriel and returned to the University of Minnesota. In two years he was graduated magna cum laude. Just before graduation, the first Humphrey child, Nancy, was born. But school still wasn't finished. He got a master of arts in political science on a teaching fellowship at Louisiana State University.

Then the first step to being "somebody" in the world. Two labor leaders asked Humphrey to run for mayor of Minneapolis. He lost the first time, ran again two years later and won. At 34, he was the youngest mayor of any major American city. But it was a city, as Humphrey recalls it, beset with problems of crime and bigotry.

"The first thing I did was hire a new and tough police chief, increase the policemen's salaries and told them I wasn't on the take and that they weren't going to be on the take either and then I said, 'We are going to have a clean town. Let's clean out the rackets,' and so we did."

Destiny gave him a shove toward the center of the national stage in 1948. He not only was running for the U.S. Senate but he was selected to head the state delegation to the Democratic convention in Philadelphia where Harry S. Truman's nomination was automatic but where a battle crackled over civil rights.

Humphrey, named to the platform committee, recalls: "They had a civil rights plank but it skirted the tough issues. We wanted a simple strong plank that supported President Truman's full civil rights program, with the stress on equal employment and equal treatment in the armed forces."

Rising before the convention, Humphrey urged a tougher plank and declared: "We place our faith in the brotherhood of men under the fatherhood of God . . . I do not believe there can be any compromise on the guarantee of civil rights. . . ."

The convention passed the stronger plank. Southerners bolted and formed the Dixiecrats. Overnight Humphrey was a national figure.

And also that year of 1948 he became the first Democratic senator in Minnesota history.

But a few weeks ago, when Humphrey was introduced at the Minnesota Democratic Convention as a "man of his times," a heckler retorted derisively: "1948."

BRONX CHEER

This Bronx cheer summed up critics' argument that Humphrey's vintage year was 20 years ago and the Humphrey wine has soured in the bottle with the LBJ label.

On the other hand, Humphrey probably wouldn't be where he is today without Johnson.

They were elected to the Senate the same year. Johnson moved quickly toward the inner circle and leadership. But Humphrey blew in like a prairie wind, assaulting the doors of traditional power.

Johnson had watched Humphrey, and when he was named Senate Democratic leader in 1953, he brought Humphrey into "the Club," telling the Senate elders Humphrey was "my link with the bomb throwers."

The Humphrey ambitions were still growing.

In 1956, Humphrey had expected that Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, would name him as his running mate. Instead, Stevenson threw the decision to the convention—which chose Sen. Estes Kefauver—and Humphrey was said to have been found by a friend crying in a corner of the convention hall.

MONEY WOES

And 1960 found Humphrey, undermanned and underfinanced, taking on John F. Kennedy in the Presidential primaries.

He rode to defeat in a battered bus. Eight years later, Humphrey rides in a sleek jet.

In 1964, Johnson picked Humphrey as his running mate. It hadn't been an easy job playing second fiddle to a demanding, sensitive conductor such as Lyndon B. Johnson.

Mail Girl Is Expert On 'Hot Dogs'

EDITOR'S NOTE: College coeds who work during the summer occasionally find themselves doing odd jobs. Miss Kathryn Williamson, 19, of Corpus Christi is a summer mail Carrier in Kingsville.

DALLAS (AP) — A mail girl can do a mailman's job, as far as the U.S. Post Office Department is concerned.

And, Miss Kathryn Williamson of Corpus Christi has shouldered the responsibility of a 50-pound mail bag as a summer job.

The 19-year-old Rice University coed says she likes being a mail carrier at Kingsville in spite of the yelping dogs and blistered feet.

"When I first started, I could hear a dog bark and get a sick feeling in the pit of my stomach," Miss Williamson said. "Then I learned to hate them. Now they don't bother me," she added.

She claims the mail delivery job is hard on the feet but great for losing weight. "I've lost about 15 pounds," she said. "Of course, I now walk lopsided and have bow-legs," she added with a wry grin.

"It's a good job for training to be a squaw," she joked. "You learn to walk with a 50-pound load all day and become expert in treating blisters and flat feet."

Miss Williamson is filling in for vacationing mail carriers. She drove the delivery truck one day, she explained, adding that "they only let me drive one day." She said she almost scraped the supervisor out the passenger side on a tree and missed some deliveries.

The auburn-haired Miss Williamson became a mail carrier after passing the department test. "My father advised me to take the job," she said. "And, besides, the pay is pretty good."

She said that some of her interest in the mailman's job is kindled by the fact that her work is so different from what most people consider normal for a college girl.

Miss Williamson, who commutes from her home in Corpus Christi, began work in July and will return to school in September.

"I haven't quite made up my mind what I want to study," she said, "but I think I would like to study drama."

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have a wild desire to make some sudden and hasty changes because of the various temptations to do so that are placed in your path. Also, because you have an urge to do something that can stir up activity where it has been lagging along or at a dead stop for you. Instead, sit back and let changes come into being which they will.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Out-of-towners or matters at some distance, can fascinate you now. Work along with these quietly and all is fine. Don't interfere with present process. It will flow along beautifully as is.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You have some responsibility that you want to renege on but this would lead to trouble instead of something very nice later on. Don't follow that intuitive hunch that could get you into a real pickle. Use logic.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get busy and keep promise you made to a partner instead of trying to pull a fast one now. Wasting your spare time is not good since you could be doing something constructive instead. Be clever.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You almost hate to handle all those small accumulated matters today, but they have to be done some time, and there is no better time than this. If you disagree with a fellow worker, you are in trouble. Be smart.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You want to get off on some tangent that could be bad for you, so keep busy at whatever is constructive instead if you're smart. Arguing with one you really like, could make you feel miserable later. Be kind.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Avoid raking over that topic that could lead to real friction at home. Bend over backward to be kind to kin instead. You want to take some risk. Think it over very well so that you don't worry about it later.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Concentrate on that touch spot in your regular routines that makes your work so tedious. Once it is cleared up, it goes smooth as glass. Dig up errors in reports, etc. Get those cleared up in jig time, also.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Spending extravagantly on some recreation could certainly get you in hot water later on. Spend your time finding ways to put economy measures into effect instead. Use diplomacy though in getting rid of hard-spending acquaintances.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't permit that bothersome situation cause you to make some unsavory comments to good friends that could later boomerang. Spend time in your study working instead. Then get together with pals tonight for light conversation, fun.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have some limitation and you think you can throw it off on another; handle it wisely instead. Why don't you help that person who is in trouble? Do it and see how much happier your own life becomes.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You want to be with good relatives and friends since you are under some pressure, but you would find them too busy to care very much. Get busy and handle own affairs objectively, wisely. You will be better off not getting entangled with others, anyway.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You think that by going to a higher-up with some problem you have, it will be instantly resolved, but you would find just the opposite. Handle it yourself. It's easier than you think if you are polite, honest.

Killeen Trying To Close House

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP) — The Killeen City Council is trying to close down the Oleo Strut, a coffee house for Ft. Hood soldiers that city officials term "a public nuisance."

The council asked the city manager to study what action is necessary.

Joshua Gould, 23, owner of the coffee house, is in jail at Temple in lieu of a $50,000 bond on charges of possession of marijuana.

The Killeen business is reportedly one of seven coffee houses established near military installations in the United States for the purpose of encouraging a union for servicemen.

World Needs More Moles?

DUNDEE, Scotland (AP) — Man's best pet, next to dogs and blondes, may be that near-sighted little animal that digs holes in your garden—the mole.

A British mole expert told a science conference Wednesday that moles get along better with people than they do with other moles and make first-rate pets.

Dr. Kenneth Mellanby of the Monkswood Experimental Station said the Earl of Cranbrook, a 68-year-old naturalist and trustee of the British Museum, carries a mole around in his pocket—house-trained, or rather pocket-trained, of course.

Pilfer-Proof Packaging Plugs Losses

NEW YORK (AP)—"The only way you stop customers from stealing is to booby trap the packages," a Manhattan retailer said.

Packaging industry officials might secretly agree, but they're sticking to gentler methods to plug the estimated $3 billion a year loss to stores from pilferage.

"If a customer is determined to steal, we can't do much," Russell Cook, a creative design supervisor for American Can Co., said. "But we can make stealing harder for those on the borderline."

Pilfer-proof packaging is a rearguard action because the shoplifters' imaginations apparently are limitless.

They switch labels and bottle caps to buy sirloin at the price of chuck or the gallon bottle of bleach at the price of a quart.

Butter is stuffed into margarine cartons and bought at the lower price. This is also tried with large versus small eggs.

Everything from baby food to cookies is tasted by the enterprising shopper. The health hazards and loss to retailers she—and it usually is a woman—causes are obvious.
