

Castro, Krush To Face Identical Restriction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today ordered Cuba's Fidel Castro restricted to Manhattan Island when he attends the United Nations general assembly session in New York, beginning next week.

The limitations imposed on Castro's movement are the same as those previously set on the travels in this country of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and two other Soviet bloc leaders.

This latest move by the United States in preparation for dealing with the New York assembly of many government chiefs who follow the lead taken by Khrushchev was announced at a news conference today by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Herter said the Cuban embassy was formally advised this morning of the restrictions on Premier Castro.

In addition to Khrushchev, the curb previously had been ordered into effect for the Hungarian premier and the Albanian Communist party chief.

Herter said no decision has been reached about limiting the travels of Yugoslav President Tito, Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser or any other top level visitor.

Herter made these other main points:

1. One of Khrushchev's U.N. maneuvers may be to make a personal bid for the seating of Red China as a member. Herter suggested that only as a possible level visitor.

2. Herter discounted the likelihood of any meeting at New York between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower although both men are scheduled to be in the city Thursday. Herter simply said he was unaware of any plans. He said Eisenhower's conditions for a meeting with Khrushchev will stand. These include release of two American fliers held since July 1.

3. No invitations have been issued yet for any of the government leaders attending the U. N. session to visit Washington. Any such bids would be the business of the White House, Herter said.
4. The United States considers that East German restrictions on travel to West Berlin, constitute a serious matter. Herter would make no comment beyond this.
5. Herter declined to give any advice to the American press as to how it should cover Khrushchev's visit. He also said people who might invite Khrushchev to make public appearances would have to decide for themselves whether they wanted to give an invitation to a man who had insulted the United States.
6. The situation in the Congo is so confused that Herter said he would not dare try to assess it from Washington. President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba are engaged in a struggle for power, he said. The other outstanding fact about the Congo at the moment is that the country generally is much quieter outside the capital than in Leopoldville.

Unite Against Foes, Congo Premier Urges

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba called on the divided Congolese army today to unite against the "imperialists" seeking to profit from the Congo's chaos.

Lumumba spoke over Leopoldville Radio for the first time since the powerful transmitter was taken over by U.N. troops Sept. 11. Restrictions on its use were relaxed Tuesday.

He addressed himself particularly to the unruly and undisciplined army which holds the balance in the bitter struggle for power in the Congo.

"Speaking in my capacity of minister of national defense, I give you the order to devote yourself body and soul to the service of your people and your republic," Lumumba said.

"There is only one government, and that government is defending your interests and that of the Congolese people with all its energy."

The army itself appears to have been disintegrating along tribal lines.

No one was sure whether Lumumba or Kasavubu held the upper hand in the undisciplined army. It was clear both leaders could rely on a hard core of their tribal supporters, but the rest of the force wavered back and forth between the two political camps.

A senior Congo government official who claims to be non-partisan, said the soldiers have been gradually regrouping themselves into their tribal attachments in the 10 weeks since they mutinied against their Belgian officers following Congo independence.

Both Kasavubu and Lumumba have been trying to fire each other, and seize full control but neither has had solid enough support from the army to make the order stick.

The situation became more confused Tuesday night when Lumumba defied a new Kasavubu arrest warrant and strode into a joint session of Parliament which gave the premier a rousing cheer and voted him dictatorial powers.

The vote meant little, since a majority of the senators and deputies were absent, but Lumumba publicly hailed it as a legal mandate empowering him to "arrest any person causing trouble."

"I did not ask for full powers," Lumumba asserted. "It is the parliament which has offered it, because of the gravity of the situation."

Most opposition members refused to show up for the session held under the guns of helmeted Congo troops.

The vote came after a fiery speech by Lumumba who accused Kasavubu of fomenting an army uprising and credited himself with preventing a civil war when he was arrested Monday by Kasavubu supporters.

A few hours earlier, troops loyal to Kasavubu occupied the radio station in Leopoldville, an official of the Kasavubu government, to broadcast a promise of jobs and to appeal to the population to rally behind the president.

United Fund Sets $41,000 Budget

Directors of the Scurry County United Fund adopted a $41,000 budget for the coming year at a session Tuesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The new budget, which of course will be the goal for the 1960 United Fund Campaign, represents a slight decrease from the $42,500 budget of the past year.

The total budget adopted for the coming year is the exact figure submitted by the United Fund budget and admissions committee. A substantial share of the reduction is reflected in the amount allocated for campaign "overhead," which is pegged at $5,000 this year, a reduction of $1,000.

Funds for participating agencies were approved as follows: Red Cross, $4,500; Boy Scouts, $9,000; Girl Scouts, $4,000; Boys Club, $12,500; Salvation Army, $4,500; Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, $1,000; Heart Fund, $250; Medical Research, $250.

Thus, the United Fund will support eight agencies in the coming year, compared to seven agencies for the past year.

The United Fund campaign will be launched here in November, and key personnel for the campaign will be announced following the next meeting of the board.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon R. Johnson campaigned here today to help his colleagues put New Mexico's four electoral votes on the list of Sen. John F. Kennedy for president.

Johnson and his wife, Lady Bird, and their party came to Albuquerque after a fast six-hour automobile tour through five communities of Eddy and Chaves counties, in New Mexico's "Little Texas" region.

New Mexico, where Democrats outnumber Republicans in registrations about 21-1, voted for Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956.

Johnson goes next to Phoenix, Ariz.

Bright Flash Seen In Northeast Texas

TEXARKANA (AP)—What some observers described as an enormous bright flash in the sky was seen early today in northeast Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Valentine Wade Larue said he was picking up his newspaper on his front lawn at 4:40 a.m. when the flash occurred. He said the light was bright enough for him to see words on his newspaper in the pre-dawn darkness.

Texarkana civil defense authorities said the flash was seen in Texas at Marshall, Dallas and Texarkana; at Arkadelphia, Ark.; Monroe, La.; and Oklahoma City.

Larue said the strange sky light seemed to be moving eastward.

Berlin Squeeze Tightened As Krush Voyage Unfolds

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP)—The squeeze on Berlin gets tighter as the Soviet ship Bahika, with Nikita Khrushchev on board, sails closer to New York.

It may be coincidence, but the progressive pulling at the drawing on this communist-surrounded city, appears to be keeping pace with the progress of the Soviet premier across the Atlantic.

Western officials speculated today that Khrushchev would like to have the Berlin situation boiling when he appears before the U.N. General Assembly next Tuesday.

Any doubts whether the current harassing of travel by West Germans has Moscow's approval were removed Tuesday night by the Soviet commandant in East Berlin, Maj. Gen. Nikolai F. Zakharov.

He stoutly backed up the Communist East German regime, saying it was acting within "constitutional rights" the Soviets gave it five years ago.

Zakharov rejected an Allied protest of Aug. 31 against the first of the series of jobs at free movement delivered by the East Germans over the past two weeks.

Zakharov turned down the Western argument that four-power control still applies to the whole of the city. The East sector, he said, is part of the sovereign East German state.

He also pointed to a menacing finger at the West's lifetime air corridors to Berlin, warning the Allies not to mistle them. The Western powers would have to "bear the consequences" if they allowed West German "revenge seekers and militarists" to fly to the city to "stage provocations" against Communist countries, the general said.

The Communist regime announced Tuesday night it would no longer recognize the West German passports issued to West Berliners. Instead, visas would be attached to personal identity cards for travel through East Germany.

This would not stop anybody traveling so long as a visa was granted. But it distinguished the West Berliners from the West Germans, making them appear second-class stateless citizens.

The East German regime also condemned the visit here Thursday of West German President Heinrich Lübke as "deliberate political provocation."

All this was part of what the Germans call the "salami system."

Berlin is the salami. The Communists are operating on the principle that a slice every now and then is not missed. But in the end there is nothing left.

Giant Plane Carrying 75 Smashes Dike

NEW YORK (AP)—An American Airlines Electra turboprop plane, carrying 75 passengers and a crew of five from Boston, hit a dike while landing at La Guardia Airport today. Flipped over and burst into roaring flames, no one was reported killed but some passengers were injured.

Six of the passengers were rushed to Flushing Hospital after astonishing rescue operation of all aboard the flaming craft.

Others injured were treated in airport hangars. Airport police said none of these appeared seriously hurt.

American Airlines said the flight today reported no trouble as it made a landing approach before striking the eight-foot-high dike. The dike was one of a number erected at edges of the airport along Flushing Bay during an airport construction program.

Crew members were: Capt. Gordon Staples, First Officer Herbert Schlicher, engineer Kenneth Thoman and stewards Margaret Fleming and Donna Gilligan.

Fire fighters were not immediately able to get the blaze under control.

The crash occurred in sunny but hazy weather.

Because of a huge construction program now under way at La Guardia, runway No. 31 is the only one available.

One observer was quoted as saying the landing gear hit the dike and snapped off, throwing the craft into a spin.

The supervisory chief pilot of the airline, Sheldon E. Panburn, was piloting the plane at the time of the crash. He said the craft was struck by a downdraft just as it made its runway approach.

Snyder School Board Takes Action On Variety Of Items Here

Snyder School Trustees last night dispensed with an agenda ranging from purchase policies to physical facilities of the school plant.

The board approved a motion calling for written bids only when purchases are made by the schools.

During the discussion Doug Flynn, school business manager, was commended for his handling of the purchases in the past.

The school budget was amended to provide $27,687.49 for the fixed charges account, which is for insurance, etc.

A tuition charge of $200 per student was set for two Negro pupils from Borden County who have asked to attend Lincoln School in Snyder.

Supt. T. E. McCollum reported that enrollment in junior high grades is about the same as last year, but high school and elementary school figures are off. However, he said the comparative figures for last year were taken later in the season, and that the elementary school enrollment has not reached its peak this season. High school enrollment is off some 50 students from a year ago.

Upon McCollum's recommendation, the board approved additional seating facilities at the Junior high football stadium for use by the school bands. All seating in the bleachers now available is required for spectators, McCollum said.

At the same time, the board authorized advertisement for bids on construction of paved walk ways at the high school football stadium.

The possibility of making Spanish courses available in the elementary grades as an after-hours option and as an elective course in junior high school was discussed. A survey on the possible demand for the courses will be made and presented to the board.

Chas. Henry, director of curriculum, said there apparently was little uniformity in Spanish programs in other schools. The board agreed that conformity in attire will not necessarily be required, but participation will be required.

Henry and Skipper Joyce reported to the board that on an overall basis the school bus route system is working satisfactorily, although some minor adjustments may be required.

T. D. Wiman, high school principal, discussed the possibility of the school paying tuition for cheerleaders and band twirlers to their respective training clinics, provided the students desire to attend. Cost figures will be surveyed and a definite policy will be set at the board's next meeting.

Seek To Bar Kasavubu's Delegation

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union today sought to bar the U.N. Security Council from seating a Congolese delegation sent to New York by President Joseph Kasavubu. It contended that only a rival delegation representing Premier Patrice Lumumba was a legal group.

The issue was raised by the Soviet foreign minister, Valerian A. Zorin, as the 11-nation council resumed debate on the chaotic Congo situation.

U.S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth expressed regret that the Soviet Union had brought up the question. He said there were important matters of substance that could be discussed without either of the Congo delegations at the table.

The debate developed as the two competing groups sat at opposite sides of the council chamber. The Kasavubu delegation was headed by Justin Edimbioko and the Lumumba group by Thomas Kanza.

Wadsworth proposed that the council agree on an informal basis that for the time being neither of the delegations be invited to the table.

Demo Rally On Tap Here Tomorrow

An old fashioned "eating and talking" political rally is all set for the pavilion at Towle Memorial Park Thursday night with the $5 per plate barbecue dinner to be served at 7:30 p.m. and "speaking" to begin at 8:30 p.m.

Tom Webb, Abilene attorney who has long been active in the Democratic party, will be the main speaker for the function, which will "spread the organization of a Democratic drive in Scurry County to win the voters to the support of the party ticket in November."

Tickets are being sold to the barbecue, but L. A. McClanahan, chairman of the drive, urged everyone to come to the rally whether they come to the barbecue or not.

The Scurry supporters of the John Kennedy - Lyndon Johnson presidential ticket are anxious for all voters, regardless of their convictions at present, to attend the rally and listen with an open mind. With rumors and cross rumors going around the county, the Democrats in Scurry want a chance to get everything out in the open and make a clean, honest battle the goal between now and November, McClanahan said.

Campaign headquarters will be set up in the Snyder Drug No. 1 building as soon as material is available from state headquarters.

Two Weather Moons Slated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two more Tiro weather satellites will be sent into take television pictures of the earth and its cloud cover.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration says that Tiro II will be sent into orbit before the end of the year, and Tiro III will be launched next year.

Dr. Morris Tepper, NASA chief of meteorological satellites, told an Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences dinner meeting Tuesday night that attempts will be made to analyze data from Tiro II so swiftly that the information may be used immediately for actual weather observational purposes.

This would help especially in tracking such major storms as hurricanes.

Ike To Beat Krush With U. N. Speech

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower decided today to beat Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to the punch and address the United Nations General Assembly before Khrushchev's visit to New York Thursday, Sept. 22, to address the General Assembly.

This date would put Eisenhower well ahead of the Soviet premier in the speaking list under United Nations procedure.

At the U.N., Brazil has the first right to address the General Assembly, followed by the United States presenting the second speaker. The assembly opens Sept. 20.

There was no immediate indication when Khrushchev will get his turn, but it was thought probably that he will not make his speech until after Eisenhower returns to Washington.

Eisenhower's decision marked a sudden shift in plans, presumably dictated by an administration desire to prevent Khrushchev from stealing the propaganda spotlight unchallenged.

The previous administration plan was for Eisenhower to go before the General Assembly some two or three weeks after

Low Area In Gulf Watched

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Weather Bureau reported Wednesday that an area of low pressure has developed 400 miles south of New Orleans and said it "is in an area favorable for further intensification."

The agency sent a hurricane hunter plane to investigate.

The ominous pressure center arose as Texas enjoyed mild temperatures and clear skies.

Highest winds reported by ships in the pressure area were 25 to 35 m.p.h. in squalls, the Weather Bureau said.

The agency asked ships in the area to make special reports.

The Weather Bureau said all interests in the middle and east Gulf of Mexico should watch for future bulletins or advisories.

In Texas, rain was absent for the second straight day.

Early morning temperatures were mainly in the 60s. Galveston, with a 74-degree reading, was the warmest place in Texas and the low was 61 at Dalhart.

Temperatures Tuesday soared to 99 at San Angelo and the low maximum was 83 in Galveston.

The five-day forecast issued Wednesday calls for temperatures around normal in the coastal areas as the pressure, scattered showers and squalls, scattered showers mainly on the weekend are forecast.

Says Approval Is Sought Instantly

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Ever wonder what's really behind the rash of instant-love marriages? Instant coffee, instant mashed potatoes, instant beer in England, at least and now instant love?

E. H. Demby, president of Motivation Research Associates, has an answer: People are seeking instant love.

By love, he hastens to explain, he means essential approval. The instant urge isn't just a question of saving time, but of getting a reward as quickly as possible, of winning approval for something you did.

"Our entire society is geared to approval," he says.

Instant love was not an instant conclusion, Demby arrived at it after intensive research to learn what products people need emotionally.

Japan Hit By Winkie Craze Again

By KEN ISHII

TOKYO—The Winkie craze has hit Japan.

Winkie, a 10-inch high, black plastic air-filled doll with winking eyes, is easily the biggest rage in Japan since the hula hoop two years ago.

"We have customers queuing up from before dawn waiting to buy a Winkie," says an official of Tokyo's Takashimaya department store. "It would be bedlam if we sold them in the toy department so we've set up a special sales booth outside a ground floor entrance."

A spokesman for Tsukadaya, a wholesaler who has a patent on the doll, declares "we're swamped with orders, we'll never be able to fill them all."

What started the craze?

Some say it's because they're cute. When inflated, a Winkie doll cuddles up to anything its clasping arms can cling to. Girls sport them on their arms, or their handbags.

Others say it's because it's a doll with a difference—and cheap. One costs 180 yen (50 cents).

Still others blame the silly season.

"We hope it lasts, but perhaps the craze will end when the summer's over," the Tsukadaya spokesman says.

He explains there is a Winkie shortage because "we can't mass produce them. It requires a lot of manual work."

Takashimaya gets about 500 Winkies a week. They're sold on Thursdays and Sundays and are snapped up within minutes after opening time.

Winkies first hit the market in late June. Tsukadaya estimates 30,000 have so far been sold throughout Japan, but the number is probably larger.

Girl Deputy Is On Target

SELMA, ALA.—The girl sheriff, a deputy, wearing boots and riding pants, kneels and takes careful aim with a .38 caliber, snub-nosed revolver. The man-sized target is 50 yards away.

Five shots later, the shapely sharpshooter has hit the target dead center three times.

Martha Elizabeth Pitts is Alabama's modern, southern version of the Wild West's shooting gal, Annie Oakley.

As a secretary-deputy for Dallas County Sheriff Jim Wood, the 20-year-old Miss Pitts spends most of her time in the office as a secretary and receptionist.

But as the county's only woman deputy, Miss Pitts puts some of her manly skills to use in the firing range.

During the two years she has served on the sheriff's force, Miss Pitts has practiced in private with her pistols and rifles. She prefers rifles, especially 22-caliber models—the main provision being that the gun doesn't kick or recoil much.

She holds a membership in the Alabama Sheriffs and Peace Officers Assn. and Auxiliary and the Alabama Sheriffs Assn.

Miss Pitts' popularity at social events has obviously not been hurt by her reputation with a gun. The pretty deputy won the district Miss Posture Contest this year.

Running Attack To Bolster Travis 7th

By Jerry Jackson
Sports Editor

Travis Seventh will be tough to handle on the ground this year, if pre-season indications are a reliable basis for formulating an opinion.

The Blue Devil first year men are graced with "first year" coaches this round, too, as lumbering Willie Bigham and sideock Jim Wesson take over at the helm of the team. Both are physical education teachers in the elementary system here, while Bigham is also a veteran Hermleigh High School mentor.

"We have a pretty fair back field and line," Bigham has asserted. "Have three good running backs in Jerry Kinchloe, Paul Kimzey and Marvin Mayfield. They should all do a good job, as will our quarterback, Powers Boothie. Mayfield's not too big," he continued, "but he's full of spunk and desire and will make us a good hand."

"So you'll rely mainly on the running game?"

"Yes, that'll definitely be our stronghold," he countered. "We'll throw the ball a little bit, but it'll be very little."

How's the line shaping up?

Line Prospects Bright

"We've got a lot of good boys up there, too," he spattered. "Danny Howell, a center, is a good boy, as are Donnie Fisk and David Nance, both of whom are defensive guards. Nance hasn't been out long, but is catching on quick. And then, Charles Holland is another," he went on. "Well built and pretty fast. He's a tackle."

How about overall team strength?

"It's a little hard to tell yet," he mused. "Our offense is quite a bit ahead of our defense, as we've spent quite a bit more time so far on the offensive end of things. As I say, we've got three boys who can run with the ball—Mayfield, Kinchloe and Kimzey. We should score some points, but the way our defense looks I'm not sure whether we'll be able to chase over enough to keep up with our opponents or not. Just have to wait and see."

"Quite a bit different working with that age boys as compared to those who are older," he went on. "They try just as hard, of course, but aren't as consistent as the older ones. They'll run two or three plays and look really great, and then they'll turn right around and play in such a way that they couldn't even win a forfeit."

Football Trip Near At Hand

Plans for the Boys' Club Pee Wee footballers' trip to Dallas and the Texas-Los Angeles Charger pro grid game are complete now, as the Optimist Club sponsored trip is in progress less than two weeks distant.

The game is shaping up as somewhat of a "grudge" battle, as this past weekend saw the Chargers upsetting the Texans' undefeated apple cart by the barest of margins—21-20—in Los Angeles in the first American Football League test of the season for both.

Previously, each had walked through their respective exhibition slates with spottier records and thus branded themselves as the cream of the AFL professional crop.

Formulated plans call for the Boys' Clubbers to depart Snyder at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 24, traveling by bus to Fort Worth where they will spend the night at the Panther Boys' Club. Then the following morning they will attend church in that city and depart for Dallas and the Cotton Bowl, witness the game, and return to Snyder at the conclusion of same.

Spikes To Roam

One of the big attractions of the game will be the opportunity of watching Snyder's Jack Spikes perform. He has already branded himself as not only one of the outstanding players on the Texas eleven, but also in the entire league as a whole, having led the trip, with Pee Wee football exhibition round of play.

One important item which Mickey Brous, the Boys' Club director, has emphasized has to do with the signing up at the Club of boys desiring to make the trip. All boys—Pee Wee graders or otherwise—are eligible to sign up for the trek, the only stipulation being that he be under 14 years of age. A total of 100 boys are to make the trip, with Pee Wee football players being given the initial nod, after which any shortage will be made up by other boys wanting to go.

Each boy making the trip will be expected to take his own bedding, sheets and blankets, dress clothes for church, sports clothes for travel and the game, personal articles (toothbrush, change of socks, etc.), and money for five meals. Also, he must have a liability release signed by his parents or guardian prior to leaving.

All transportation costs and game tickets will be handled by the Optimist Club in conjunction with the Boys' Club. Each boy going will be furnished with a T-shirt and a membership card in the Dallas Huddle Club, which entitles him to free admission to all of the Dallas Texas home games.

OFF WITH THE NEW; ON WITH THE OLD

'We'll Be Better' -- Conley

"We got run over, fooled, and embarrassed," Coach John Conley stipulated at last night's Quarterback Club meeting in reference to Friday's opening 26-6 loss to Berger. "I can promise you that we'll be better, though," he went on. "I'm sure of that."

"Our kids were demoralized and confused all during that first half," he continued. "A lot of them were playing positions which were in a large part unfamiliar to them. The experiment doesn't look very good now. But we've put our 'strong' boys back in the old positions in which they did the best job last year and are shooting for a better combination to go up against Andrews."

He went on to itemize that physically the squad is about the same as it has been. Halfback Frank Moore temporarily sidetracked by a bronchial attack which bordered on pneumonia, is back in harness now and should be ready to see at least a little action this Friday. Another halfback—Spencer Dyer—is hampered by a calcium deposit in his leg and is almost certain to be out of the lineup when the Tigers take on Andrews.

Charlie Gladson, mainstay line-man, received a cut near the eye requiring five stitches during the Berger game, but has been going at full speed ever since. And nursing minor injuries are linemen Bill Weaver and William Robinson.

In addition to Coach Conley's talk and thumbnail sketches from the rest of the system's coaches in regard to each of their respective teams, coaches Ace Amos and Dutch Stehley gave a briefing on the Andrews strength potential which they observed while scouting the team during Friday's tie game waged against Tom S. Lubbock. Amos submitted an offensive breakdown, while Stehley concentrated on the defensive aspects of the team.

Concluding the meeting were films of Friday's Snyder-Berger game and also the College All-Star and Baltimore Colt tilt of 1959.

Ankle Break Smites Kuenn

CLEVELAND (AP)—Outfielder Harvey Kuenn, last year's batting champion in the American League and now fourth in average, has a hair-line fracture in a left ankle bone and will play no more this year.

Kuenn fouled a ball during batting practice in New York three weeks ago and it struck his foot, but X-rays at the time showed no break. When the pain persisted, pictures were taken again, and the fracture showed. A walking cast was put on the foot Tuesday, and Kuenn will go home to Milwaukee later this week. He was batting .308.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

Lacy Boles has gone and done it again. The grizzled and graced Veteran of Ring Wars, Champion of the People, and Teller of Extremely Tall Tales can now join the elite but continually expanding circle of fishermen whose stories leave doubt in the minds of listeners.

This one supposedly transpired up in the wilds of South Dakota, and concerns a spoonbill catfish that reportedly weighed 38 pounds. It wasn't so much the size or weight of the flat-billed "monster" that caused eyebrow-lifting concern, though, but the manner in which it was caught.

"You see, a spoonbill won't bite a hook," Boles informed with an air of being in "in" by catching em that way. "That much of his story was highly believable, considering the structure of the freshwater Ubangi."

Then how did you land it?

"Well, like I said before, those things won't bite a hook."

I nodded.

"So the way it happened is that my line caught in five runs that had gotten caught in a cloth which he had hooked him before and their lines had broke," he continued. "So I just pulled the thing on. In was afraid my line was going to break, too, but luckily it didn't."

And where did you say this all came about?

"Aw, it was up at this dam pretty close to Pierre," he replied, as he continued to carry on a running battle with King Edward, both of whom were losing ground. "Wa hee, Weeho, Woohaw, or something like that."

I nodded once again, too busy jotting down information to look up.

"Sounds like that place over there in Hawaii, whatever it is."

"Oah!" I offered.

"Yeah, that sounds about right. Who am I to question the veracity of the story? For it is said, and with truth, that facts are much more fascinating than mere fiction. However, there are those who would cast doubts as to whether it happened just as he related."

One doubting Thomas by the name of L. J. Mustard spotted the whole thing and shrugged it off as a complete hoax. When confronted with what was considered to be rockbound proof of the fable—an untouched photo of Lacy displaying the catch (see

Morgan Makes Switch To Reservation

Bud Morgan, former stellar liner for the Snyder Tigers, has transferred from North Texas State, where he has been attending the past two years, to McMurry College in Abilene.

He gained national acclaim during his freshman year at Denton when he stepped to the fastest low hurdles clocking of the season for first year collegians. However, he was plagued with leg trouble through most of the past year and failed to show up as well as had been expected, but is hoping to come back strong for the Indians in the future.

Guiding his progress at McMurry will be Coach Grant Teaff, a former Snyderer and longtime friend and acquaintance of Morgan's. In addition to his duties as track coach, Teaff is also assuming the post of head football mentor for the Tribe this year.

Morgan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morgan of 2206 42nd Street.

Ben Schwartzwalder is in his 12th season as Snyder football coach.

Andrews Tabs Now On Sale

Tickets for the Snyder-Andrews game which will be played in Andrews this Friday are currently on sale at the School Administration Building for $1.50.

Student tickets for the contest have also been placed on the selling block at Snyder High "and both" junior highs for 50 cents each.

All of the duets, both student and adult, will remain on sale until Friday morning.

Tulane's 1960-61 basketball team has four letterman back, including junior Jack Jordan, 6-foot-9 center.

Fred Mauroino, Syracuse All-American end, added 20 pounds during the off season via weightlifting. He is 215 pounds this fall.

Richard Waters, second unit quarterback for Travis Eighth, suffered a shoulder injury during yesterday's practice session which will keep him sidelined for at least a week.

He received a hairline crack on the shoulder, and his arm has been placed in a sling temporarily.

STERLING CHALKS UP ONLY HIT OF GAME

Howard Sterling strided to the plate last night in the home half of the sixth inning and proceeded to level a baseline grass-cutter double down the third base line, scoring teammate Dale Brown from third and earning for Trinity Methodist a 1-0 victory over Colonial Hill Baptist and with it the Church Softball League bunting.

Brown had previously walked, then pilfered both second and third to advance himself into scoring position.

It was a sweet victory for the Methodists and a brilliant effort on the part of winning hurler Potts Neeper, who chucked himself a no-hitter and came within an ounce of hurling a perfect game. He issued a fourth frame base on balls to spoil his perfect game attempt, as that represented the only runner to gain a base off him. And that runner subsequently succumbed on first.

Over the span, Neeper sent 17 of the 22 Colonial stickmen he faced down on strikes.

For Colonial, the loss was a heartbreaking one for Lester Lorne Crosby, with Sterling's sixth inning blast being the only hit which he relinquished. He failed to possess the razor-sharp effectiveness of Neeper, however, as he issued passes to three and struck out 10.

Trinity, thus, stamped itself as the "comeback team" of the summer, as it downed Avenas D. Baptist last week in a special Sunday death extra inning playoff contest for the second half crown, then completed the romp into the throne room with last night's well-timed triumph over the first hit champs.

Goat kids instead of people kids, of course. After all.

"I heard that a long time ago," he reminisced. "Finally quit telling the story, though, 'cause everybody got to looking at me kind of funny like maybe they didn't put much stock in it." Lacy's yarn is just as far-fetched, without a doubt. Come to think of it, everybody HAS been sort of steering clear of the guy lately for some reason.

But Did You Hear The One About...

ALL OF WHICH brings into mind a couple of other fish tales as brought to light by Jim Wesson and Bob Hammack.

Wesson had to do with a recent magazine article which related how four men managed to haul in a 315-pound catfish from the Missouri or some such river. Used a baby pig for bait. That's right—baby stinker.

Now, the article was in the Saturday Evening Post or maybe the Saturday Afternoon Roast?, so it should be authoritative. So draw your own conclusions.

Hammack added some fuel to the fire, though, when he told of hearing of such fabulous catches when using young kids as bait.

If You Agree With Us That:

The American people are reaching and yearning for effective leadership with strength and imagination.

The American people have flourished through almost eight years of ineffect, inefficient, Republican administration conducted largely from the Burning Tree golf course in Washington, and a Country Club in Atlanta, Georgia.

That in the past eight years the Republican party has not proposed one single constructive new program to increase the welfare of the American people — not one new move of benefit to all the people, or those who need it most — and that they have hammered, opposed and obstructed every Democratic effort to deal with our urgent needs.

That the Republican administration has permitted — even invited Communism to fester within 90 miles of our shores.

That through the Republican administration our Country has been subjected to insults in South America when our Vice-President was mobbed, in Japan when the representative of the President of the United States had to be removed from his car by helicopter for protection — not because he was a man named Hagerty, but because he was the representative of the President of the United States, and in Paris when Khrushchev ran his bluff.

If you agree with us that it is time to get this Country back on the road to progress and prosperity — the road of progress and prosperity it enjoyed under the greatest Presidents the Country has ever had — Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Harry S. Truman, Democrats all.

If you agree with us that we simply can't afford to turn this Government and this Country over to Dick Nixon.

THEN Give us your help, give us your hand and we will win the Country, and the State and the Nation for JOHN F. KENNEDY AND LYNDON B. JOHNSON.

MEET WITH US IN OUR ORGANIZATIONAL PARTY RALLY AT TOWLE MEMORIAL PARK PAVILION, THURSDAY NIGHT, SEPTEMBER 15, 1960 at 7:30 P.M. GOOD FOOD, GOOD SPEAKING. Tickets $5.00 per person. If you don't attend for the eating, then you are invited to attend for the free talking.

Judge Tests Of His Trip Into Red China

By WILLIAM C. WALSH
Written For The Associated Press
Copyright, 1960.
By The Associated Press

Last March, the Peoples Republic of China announced that its brother, Bishop James Edward Walsh, had been tried and convicted of espionage as a veteran American spy and sentenced to 20 years imprisonment.

My brother, who spent most of his life in missionary work in China, had been tried and convicted of espionage as a veteran American spy and sentenced to 20 years imprisonment.

In July, I received a cable from the Chinese Red Cross, stating that I would be allowed to spend 14 days in China for the purpose of visiting my brother.

My wife and I arrived in Hong Kong July 28. That afternoon, as previously instructed, I got in touch with the China Travel Service. I turned over my passport to them, and three days later I was advised that the necessary visa had been received.

I was authorized to enter China August 1, 1960, at 3:30 that morning the British Red Cross representative, Miss Robin Hurst, called for me at the hotel. I drove with Miss Hurst, Mr. Joseph Carniglia of the American Red Cross, and Father Michael J. McKiernan, head of the Maryknoll Fathers in Hong Kong, to the border at Shumchun.

Shortly afterwards I crossed the frontier to the Chinese mainland. My passport and visa were inspected. I went through customs with my baggage, and I filled out an entry form and currency declaration after completion of the formalities and lunch at the station. I took the train for Canton.

On the train ride to Canton, I was accompanied by a Chinese Red Cross representative, a Mr. Wong. He is the official who receives the Red Cross packages sent in every month for American prisoners in China.

At Canton, we were met by another Chinese Red Cross representative, and the two men took me to the Hotel Aichun, where I received a good room, had dinner, and went to bed after calling Mrs. Walsh in Hong Kong to inform her of my arrival in Canton.

I got up at 5:30 next morning to catch a 7 a.m. plane for Shanghai. After 2 1/2 hours of flight, it landed at Nanchang, and I was told we might be delayed because of a typhoon in the vicinity of Shanghai. Later in the day, the flight was canceled, and I was taken to a hotel in Nanchang along with two Chinese passengers.

The next morning, the hotel manager accompanied me to the airport, about 20 miles from the city. There was still uncertainty about the weather at Shanghai, noon. The hotel manager, a very nice chap, stayed with me until the plane left.

The plane had a capacity of 35 passengers, with five single seats on the right and five double seats on the left side. The latter were filled with freight and baggage. There were four Chinese passengers besides myself.

When we landed at Shanghai at 5:30 p.m., it was raining but the typhoon was over. No Chinese Red Cross or travel service representative had accompanied me on the flight, but at the airport I was met by Mr. Li of the Red Cross and Mr. Lo of the China International Travel Service.

Mr. Li, who could not speak English, was 30 years old. Mr. Lo was 23; he could speak broken English and acted as interpreter.

They took me in a car to the Peace Hotel (formerly the Cathay Hotel), one of the best-known in the city. It is a modern hotel, 10 or 11 stories high, located at the corner of Bund and Nanking roads.

Here I was given a double room with twin beds and bath on the seventh floor. This room was to be my headquarters for my stay in Shanghai. The hotel dining room was on the eighth floor, and I usually walked up a flight of steps although there was elevator service.

The food was quite satisfactory, the menu printed in English and other languages as well as Chinese. I had apple pie a la mode for dessert that first evening, had no trouble getting orange juice and scrambled eggs for breakfast, and they even had French toast with syrup.

I thought the coffee was all right, and there was chicken, ham, pork and a variety of fish, vegetables, potatoes, carrots and sometimes green beans with these dishes, and a Chinese vegetable whose name I didn't discover.

My room cost my 12 yuan a day, or a little over $5 in U. S. money. I don't think my meals ran more than $2 yuan per day, so the total cost was from $8 to $10 a day.

My passport had been taken up by the Chinese Travel Service representative the evening I arrived, in order to register me at the hotel and to have the passport cleared at the Foreign Office. I got it back the afternoon that I left Shanghai eight days later.

On the morning of Aug. 4, Mr. Li and Mr. Lo came to my room shortly after breakfast. With them was a Mr. Shen, a Chinese Red Cross interpreter. Later, I was received in another room of the hotel by Mr. Chang, chief of the Shanghai branch of the Chinese Red Cross. He told me the meeting was in the nature of a courtesy call.

During the morning, I suggested to Mr. Li and Mr. Lo that I might want to look around the streets of Shanghai, but they told me I was a stranger who might get lost, and so they didn't think I'd better.

In view of this, and because my passport had been taken up, I didn't go out without one or both of them accompanying me.

After my interview with Mr. Chang, I went with them to the Bank of China to get additional Chinese currency, using the letter of credit had previously obtained from the Bank of China in Hong Kong. The expenses of the train and plane ride had left me short. I obtained the currency without trouble. The rate of exchange was 213.50 yuan for 500 Hong Kong dollars, which are worth somewhere in the neighborhood of 18 cents.

About 1:30 in the afternoon, Mr. Li and Mr. Shen called at my room and told me I could see my brother at 3:15. They came back for me about 2:45, and we took a car they had ready to the Shanghai jail.

ASC Votes Tabulated

Results of the Scurry County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation election were tabulated this week with voting done by mail. Elected were a chairman and delegate to the county convention, a vice chairman, a regular member, a first alternate and a second alternate from each of four communities. They are, in order, as follows:

A Community—James Stansel, Max von Roeder, Everett Parkson, Don Jones, and Pete Beaver.

B Community—John Floyd, Mozell Roggenstein, Carl Brumley, Walker Wall, and Sam Cross.

C Community—J. T. Trevey, Marvin Sorrells, Elton Crowder, Mickey Sterling, and Hubert Clements.

D Community—Edwin Kuss, Orvil Hess, W. M. Hairston, Fred Campbell, and D. L. Cotton.

The four delegates listed above will meet Sept. 26 at 1 p.m. in the County ASC office, 3423 Avenue T, to elect a county committee for the coming year, Roy Hanson, ASC office manager in Snyder, announced today.

Hero Is Left Treading Air

DETROIT (AP)—John Ingolia saw smoke pouring from a second-floor window next door Tuesday. He raced into the apartment building and found an over-stuffed chair afire. He grabbed it and started downstairs.

Halfway down, he met a woman who ordered, "don't bring that smelly thing down here."

"I'll take it out the back," he replied, stumbling back up the stairs.

Ingolia took the chair through a back door on the second floor, but found himself treading air. The porch had been ripped down some time ago.

Ingolia's injuries were minor. There wasn't much left of the chair.

Here I was given a double room with twin beds and bath on the seventh floor. This room was to be my headquarters for my stay in Shanghai. The hotel dining room was on the eighth floor, and I usually walked up a flight of steps although there was elevator service.

Town Seeking To Enforce Cat Law

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—The hamlet of Rutledge Tuesday sought a court injunction to force two spitzer sisters to comply with a borough law limiting the number of cats in a domicile to four adults.

Officials said in a petition, Elizabeth Van der Graft Williams, 72, and her sister, Ethel, 75, have 50 cats which possess "noxious and offensive odors" and create "unreasonable noise."

Man Unhappy With Rate Of Exchange

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Self-service laundry operator O. W. Smith recently acquired $2 Mexican coins but he's might unhappy about the rate of exchange.

Eighty-two 10 centavo pieces normally are worth about 65 cents in American money.

But the culprit who stuffed them into the laundry's coin changer may have collected $20.50 if he got five nickels for each Mexican coin.

Bursley said he would accept.

Molding Contest In Spotlight At Club

The wide, varied, and unending array of activities which characterize the Scurry County Boys' Club had as a high point recently a crafts contest, entered by a healthy number of budding young craftsmen.

Plastic molding was the featured activity, and the judges for the competition were Norman Folks and Levi Garrett.

Winners in the various divisions and areas included the following:

Midget Division Indian Lore: First, Teddy Smedley, Second, Raymond Murphy; third tie between Terry Clemmer and Steven Burney.

Junior Division Indian Lore: First, second, and tie for third, Marvin Mayfield, Tie for third, Larry Connell.

Junior Division Miscellaneous: First, Larry Connell, second, third, Marvin Mayfield.

Intermediate Division Miscellaneous: First, Ronnie Chauncey, Second and third, Durwood Brunson.

Midget Division Miscellaneous: First, Teddy Smedley; second, Terry Clemmer; third, Randy Dolins.

Junior Division Dog Plaques: First, Ronnie Clemmer; second, Marvin Mayfield; third, Billy Noel.

Three Firms Facing Suit

HOUSTON (AP)—Two major oil companies and the Texas Electric Service Co. were named in a $30 million lawsuit a Houston oilman filed Tuesday.

A. E. Amerman Jr. filed the suit against the Pan American Petroleum Corp., the Magnolia Petroleum Co. and the Electric company because of what he called fraud and conspiracy.

Amerman said he and some associates arranged in 1953 to build a pipeline from the old ocean oil field in Brazoria and Matagorda counties to the Fort Worth area.

Amerman said the oil companies were to sell him gas he would transport to Fort Worth for sale to the Texas Electric Service Co.

The suit claims the companies studied Amerman's plans for financing and building the line, then made a separate agreement to build the line themselves.

E. A. Renfro, Houston division superintendent for Pan American, refused to comment on the suit.

Republican Gets A Call From Demos

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The phone call from the president of the Michigan Young Democrats came as a surprise to Gilbert E. Bursley, a Washenaw County candidate for state representative.

It was an invitation for Bursley to take part in a panel discussion on African problems.

Bursley said he appreciated the offer but wondered if the club realized he was a Republican.

There was a long silence on the other end—and then: "That's all right. We'd like to hear you anyway."

Bursley said he would accept.

Thousands Greet Kennedy In Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Texans by the tens of thousands poured from office buildings, factories and homes Tuesday to give Sen. John Kennedy a rousing climax to his two-day border-to-border tour of the state.

A crowd estimated by Police Chief Leon Arnold at 100,000 saw and heard the senator in Texarkana. It was the first time a presidential candidate had ever visited the East Texas city.

Earlier in the day Dallas Police Chief J. E. Curry estimated that 175,000 jammed downtown Dallas as Kennedy rode slowly to Memorial Auditorium where he talked to almost a full house at the 11,000-seat structure.

Vice President Richard Nixon, GOP candidate, drew an estimated 100,000 as he rode through Dallas Monday and his crowd at the Memorial Auditorium was like Kennedy's, almost a capacity one.

Some observers felt that the time Kennedy rode through Dallas—the lunch hour—helped swell the number that lined his parade route. Nixon came after the lunch break when many had returned to their offices.

Fort Worth officers estimated that 15,000 saw Kennedy at the city's Burnett Park and the crowd that saw him in front of the Capitol at Austin early in the day was at between 5,000 and 15,000.

Additional thousands saw Kennedy as he rode from Fort Worth to Dallas with brief stops at Arlington and Grand Prairie.

Democratic politicians, trying to keep the state from going Republican as it did in 1952 and 1956, said they were encouraged with the response to the Massachusetts senator.

Kennedy said he would "probably be back in Texas" to campaign.

At Texarkana with Kennedy were House Speaker Sam Rayburn, Arkansas Sen. J. William Fulbright, Rep. Carl Albert, D-Ark., O. L. Johnson, a Lt. Gov. George Nigh, Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., Rep. Wright Patman; D-Tex., Mrs. Margaret Price, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Kennedy's sister, Mrs. Peter Lawford, and Gov. Price Daniel.

Former Highway Commission Chairman Marshall Farnby said he felt Kennedy had started behind in Texas "but I think this trip will swing it to him."

John White, agriculture commissioner, said Kennedy's showing surpassed anything given Adlai Stevenson in 1952 and 1956.

Kennedy told the crowd that "there is not a farmer in Texas or Arkansas whose income has deteriorated under Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, Nixon and the others."

He got a roar from the East Texas crowd when he told them that Nixon is "the Republican tradition—Taft, Harding, Landon, Dewey."

The Texarkana gathering was swelled by the Four-State Fair which is in progress.

Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus was among the Democrats in the city. Although Faubus is a candidate for president on the National States Rights Party ticket in Arkansas he said he was supporting the Kennedy-Johnson ticket. But, he added, he is not backing the party platform.

A relatively large number of Negroes turned out to see and hear Kennedy in Texarkana. Few Negroes had been noted in the crowds that saw the senator in other Texas cities.

Way Of Life May Hold Cancer Key

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Our ways of life hold keys to saving many thousands of humans from cancer, a prominent scientist predicts.

Cancer kills, might 'well be cut 10 to 15 per cent within 10 years by finding these keys, says Dr. John R. Heller, president of Memorial-Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, New York.

Dr. Heller listed five major fields for study of possible cancer causing agents in the American environment:

• Unnecessary exposure to radiation, smoking, air pollution, some of the chemicals added to foodstuffs, and some chemicals handled in industry and manufacturing.

It is generally considered that only one per cent of cancers can be blamed upon environmental causes, he said in an interview at the fourth National Cancer Conference sponsored by the National Cancer Institute and American Cancer Society.

But, admitting it could be "a wild guess," Dr. Heller said he thinks perhaps 15 to 20 per cent of cancers might be traced to agents in our environment.

He foresees big gains from research to find and then eliminate such causes, or finding ways of protecting humans against them.

Such research is admittedly difficult, he said.

Vaccines against cancer do not appear right now to be just around the corner, he said, but he has hopes they may be found. Vaccines depend upon finding specific causes, such as viruses, which can be used to stimulate protective antibodies.

Dr. Heller said that within his own lifetime there could come one to three drugs which bring about permanent arrest of some few kinds of human cancers.

The problem of determining whether chemicals added to foodstuffs carry risk of causing cancer poses "a genuine dilemma," he added. This is particularly true for chemicals which produce cancers only occasionally in some species of animals, and under certain conditions.

For then the question arises whether they are safe for humans when put in tiny amounts into foods to improve taste, color, texture or other qualities.

If all such chemicals were banned entirely from foodstuffs, "we would have a very limited and unpalatable diet," he remarked.

Slate Is Set For Debates

NEW YORK (AP)—Dates and times for the "great debate" between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy have been announced by television and radio networks.

The first debate will be in Chicago on Monday, Sept. 26, 9:30-10:30 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time, on domestic policy.

On Friday, Oct. 7, 7:30-8:30 p. m. EDT, they will appear on the first of two programs of a news panel format. The program will originate in New York if both candidates can be here. Otherwise the networks will follow them and use a split screen.

The second news panel program will be Thursday, Oct. 13, 7:30-8:30 p. m., EDT, using the split screen. Nixon will be in Los Angeles, Kennedy in New York.

On Friday, Oct. 21, 10-11 p. m., EDT, they will discuss foreign policy from New York.

Networks participating are the Columbia Broadcasting System, National Broadcasting Co. and the American Broadcasting Co.

The programs will be carried on both radio and TV.

Mild Weather Is Due For Next Five Days

DALLAS (AP)—The Weather Bureau issued today this 5-day forecast for Sept. 14-18:

Eastern and Central Texas. Temperatures around normal in coastal areas, and extreme South Texas and 2 to 4 degrees below normal elsewhere. Precipitation moderate to locally heavy. Scattered showers mainly on weekend.

Western Texas. Temperatures 2 to 4 degrees below normal. Precipitation light to moderate. Scattered showers mainly on weekend.

Crop Failure Is Blamed In Death

LOLITA, Tex. (AP)—A justice of the peace ruled Tuesday that farmer Joe Tomas, 44 and father of 13, shot himself to death because of debts and a crop failure.

Justice Leslie Paemick said Tomas shot himself with a rifle. The body was found behind a barn.

The victim's wife said Tomas' cotton crop was ruined and other crops heavily damaged by 26 days of rain during August near this southeast Texas town.

Castro, Krush To Face Identical Restriction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today ordered Cuba's Fidel Castro restricted to Manhattan Island when he attends the United Nations general assembly session in New York, beginning next week.

The limitations imposed on Castro's movements are the same as those previously set on the travels in this country of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and two other Soviet bloc leaders.

This latest move by the United States in preparation for dealing with the New York assembly of many government chiefs who follow the lead taken by Khrushchev was announced at a news conference today by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Herter said the Cuban embassy was formally advised this morning of the restrictions on Premier Castro.

In addition to Khrushchev, the curb previously had been ordered into effect for the Hungarian premier and the Albanian Communist party chief.

Herter made these other main points: 1. One of Khrushchev's U.N. maneuvers may be to make a personal bid for the strating of Red China as a member. Herter suggested that only as a possibility.

2. Herter discounted the likelihood of any meeting at New York between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower although both men are scheduled to be in the city Thursday. Herter simply said he was unaware of any plans. He said Eisenhower's conditions for a meeting with Khrushchev still stand. These include release of two American fliers held since July 1.

3. No invitations have been issued yet for any of the government leaders attending the U. N. session to visit Washington. Any such bids would be the business of the White House, Herter said.

4. The United States considers that East German restrictions on travel to West Berlin constitute a serious matter. Herter would make no comment beyond this.

5. Herter declined to give any advice to the American press as to how it should cover Khrushchev's visit. He also said people who might invite Khrushchev to make public appearances would have to decide for themselves whether they wanted to give an invitation to a man who had included the United States.

6. The situation in the Congo is so confused that Herter said he would not dare try to assess it from Washington. President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba are engaged in a struggle for power, he said. The other outstanding fact about the Congo at the moment is that the country generally is much quieter outside the capital than in Leopoldville.

KENNEDY MEETS WITH PROTESTANT MINISTERS—Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic nominee for president, listens to a question being asked when he met with 400 Protestant clergymen in a Houston hotel while on his tour of Texas. Unite Against Foes, Congo Premier Urges LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba called on the divided Congolese army today to unite against the "imperialists" seeking to profit from the Congo's chaos. Lumumba spoke over Leopoldville Radio for the first time since the powerful transmitter was taken over by U. N. troops Sept. 6. Restrictions on its use were relaxed Tuesday.

He addressed himself particularly to the unruly and undisciplined army which holds the balance in the bitter struggle for power in the Congo.

"Speaking in my capacity of minister of national defense, I give you the order to devote yourself body and soul to the service of your people and your republic," Lumumba said.

"There is only one government, and that government is defending your interests and that of the Congolese people with all its energy." The army itself appears to have been disintegrating along tribal lines.

No one was sure whether Lumumba or Kasavubu held the upper hand in the undisciplined army. It was clear both leaders could rely on a hard core of their tribal supporters, but the rest of the force wavered back and forth between the two political camps.

A senior Congo government official who claims to be non-partisan, said the soldiers have been gradually regrouping themselves into their tribal attachments in the 10 weeks since they mutinied against their Belgian officers following Congo independence.

Both Kasavubu and Lumumba have been trying to fire each other, and seize full control but neither has had solid enough support from the army to make the order stick.

The situation became more confused Tuesday night when Lumumba defied a new Kasavubu arrest warrant and strode into a joint session of Parliament which gave the premier a rousing cheer and voted him dictatorial powers.

The vote meant little, since a majority of the senators and deputies were absent, but Lumumba jubilantly hailed it "as a legal mandate empowering him to 'arrest any person causing trouble.' " "I did not ask for full powers," Lumumba asserted. "It is the parliament which has offered it because of the gravity of the situation."

Giant Plane Carrying 75 Smashes Dike

NEW YORK (AP)—An American Airlines Electra turboprop plane carrying 75 passengers and a crew of five from Boston, hit a dike while landing at La Guardia Airport today, flipped over and burst into roaring flames. No one was reported killed, but some passengers were injured.

Six of the passengers were rushed to Flushing Hospital after astonishing rescue operation of all aboard the flaming aircraft.

Others injured were treated in airport hangars. Airport police said none of these appeared seriously hurt.

American Airlines said the flight today reported no trouble as it made a landing approach before striking the eight-foot-high dike. The dike was one of a number erected at edges of the airport along Flushing Bay during an airport construction program.

Crew members were: Capt. Gordon Staples, First Officer Herbert Schleicher, engineer Kenneth Thomas and stewardesses Margaret Fleming and Donna Gilligan.

Fire fighters were not immediately able to get the blaze under control.

The crash occurred in sunny but hazy weather.

Because of a huge construction program now under way at La Guardia, runway No. 31 is the only one available.

One observer was quoted as saying the landing gear hit the dike and snapped off, throwing the craft into a spin.

A supervisory check pilot of the airline, Sheldon E. Panofsky, was piloting the plane at the time of the crash. He said the craft was struck by a downdraft just as it made its runway approach.

The debate developed as the two competing groups sat at opposite sides of the council chamber. The Kasavubu delegation was headed by Justin Bomboko and the Lumumba group by Thomas Kanza.

Wadsworth proposed that the council agree on an informal basis for the time being, pending the return of the delegations to be invited to the table.

The White House announced that Eisenhower will go to New York Thursday, Sept. 22, to address the General Assembly.

This date would put Eisenhower well ahead of the Soviet premier in the speaking list under United Nations procedure.

At the U. N., Brazil has the first right to address the General Assembly, with the United States presenting the second speaker. The assembly opens Sept. 20.

There was no immediate indication when Khrushchev will get his turn, but it was thought probably that he will not make his speech until after Eisenhower returns to Washington.

Eisenhower's decision marked a sudden shift in plans, presumably dictated by an administration desire to prevent Khrushchev from stealing the propaganda spotlight unchanged.

The previous administration plan was for Eisenhower to go before the General Assembly some two or three weeks after Khrushchev's.

School Board Takes Action On Variety Of Items Here

Snyder School Trustees last night dispensed with an agenda ranging from purchase policies to physical facilities of the school plant.

The board approved a motion calling for written bids only when purchases are made by the schools. During the discussion Doug Flynn, school business manager, was commended for his handling of the purchases in the past.

The school budget was amended to provide $27,687.49 for the fixed charges account, which is for insurance, etc.

A tuition charge of $200 per student was set for two Negro pupils from Borden County who have asked to attend Lincoln School in Snyder.

Supr. T. E. McCollum reported that enrollment in junior high grades is about the same as last year, but high school and elementary school figures are off. However, he said the comparative figures for last year were taken later in the season, and that the elementary school enrollment has not reached its peak this season.

Upon McCollum's recommendation, the board approved additional seating facilities at the junior high football stadium for use by the school bands. All seating in the bleachers now available is required for spectators, McCollum said.

At the same time, the board authorized advertisement for bids on a construction of paved walk ways at the high school football stadium.

The possibility of making Spanish courses available in the elementary grades as an after-hours course in an elective course in junior high school was discussed. A survey on the possible demand for the courses will be made and presented at the board.

Clara Henry, director of curriculum, said there apparently was little uniformity in Spanish programs in other schools.

The board discussed the physical education program in the schools, noting that some students had objected to the usual attire for PE classes. The board agreed that conformity in attire will not necessarily be required, but participation will be required.

Henry and Skipper Joyce reported to the board that an on-approval basis the school bus route system is working satisfactorily, although some minor adjustments may be required.

T. D. Wiman, high school principal, discussed the possibility of the school paying tuition for cheerleaders and band twirlers to their respective training clinics, providing the students desire to attend. Cost figures will be surveyed and a definite policy will be set at the board's next meeting.

Demo Rally On Tap Here Tomorrow

An old fashioned "eating and talking" political rally is all set for the pavilion at Towle Memorial Park Thursday night with the $5 per plate barbecue dinner to be served at 7:30 p.m. and "speaking" to begin at 8:30 p.m.

Tom Webb, Abilene attorney who has long been active in the Democratic party, will be the main speaker for the function which will spearhead the organization of a Democratic drive in Scurry County to win the voters to the support of the party ticket in November.

Tickets are being sold to the barbecue, but L. A. McLaughlin, chairman of the drive, urged everyone to come to the rally whether they come to the barbecue or not.

The Scurry supporters of the John Kennedy - Lyndon Johnson presidential ticket are anxious for all voters, regardless of their convictions at present, to attend the rally and listen with an open mind. With rumors and cross rumors going around the county, the Democrats in Scurry want a chance to get everything out in the open and make a clean, honest battle the goal between now and November, McLaughlin said.

Campaign headquarters will be set up in the Snyder Drug No. 1 building as soon as material is available from state headquarters.

The Weather Bureau reported Wednesday that an area of low pressure has developed 400 miles south of New Orleans and said it "is in an area favorable for further intensification."

The agency sent a hurricane hunter plane to investigate.

The ominous pressure center arose as Texas enjoyed mild temperatures and clear skies.

Highest winds reported by ships in the pressure were gusts to 25 in 30 mph in squalls, the Weather Bureau said.

The agency asked ships in the area to make special reports.

The Weather Bureau said all interests in the middle and east Gulf of Mexico should watch for future bulletins or advisories.

In Texas, rain was absent for the second straight day.

The weather bureau said all temperatures were mainly in the 60s. Galveston, with a 74-degree reading, was the warmest place in Texas and the low was 61 at Dalhart.

Temperatures Tuesday soared to 89 at San Angelo and the low maximum was 83 in Galveston.

The five-day forecast issued Wednesday calls for temperatures around normal for the coastal area and 2 to 4 degrees below normal elsewhere. Scattered showers mainly on the weekend are forecast.

By A. J. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union today sought to bar the U. N. Security Council from seating a Congolese delegation sent to New York by President Joseph Kasavubu. It contended that only a rival delegation representing Premier Patrice Lumumba was a legal group.

The issue was raised by the Soviet foreign minister Valerian A. Zorin, as the 11-nation council resumed debate on the chaotic Congo situation.

U. S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth expressed regret that the Soviet Union had brought up the question. He said there were important matters of substance that could be discussed without either of the Congo delegations at the table.

The debate developed as the two competing groups sat at opposite sides of the council chamber. The Kasavubu delegation was headed by Justin Bomboko and the Lumumba group by Thomas Kanza.

Wadsworth proposed that the council agree on an informal basis for the time being, pending the return of the delegations to be invited to the table.

The White House announced that Eisenhower will go to New York Thursday, Sept. 22, to address the General Assembly.

This date would put Eisenhower well ahead of the Soviet premier in the speaking list under United Nations procedure.

At the U. N., Brazil has the first right to address the General Assembly, with the United States presenting the second speaker. The assembly opens Sept. 20.

There was no immediate indication when Khrushchev will get his turn, but it was thought probably that he will not make his speech until after Eisenhower returns to Washington.

Eisenhower's decision marked a sudden shift in plans, presumably dictated by an administration desire to prevent Khrushchev from stealing the propaganda spotlight unchanged.

The previous administration plan was for Eisenhower to go before the General Assembly some two or three weeks after Khrushchev's.

But when questioned by news items about the possible proposals, Herter declines to go beyond the wording of his formal statement.

Berlin Squeeze Tightened As Krush Voyage Unfolds

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP)—The squeeze on Berlin gets tighter as the Soviet ship Batika, with Nikita Khrushchev on board, sails closer to New York.

It may be coincidence, but the progressive pulling of the drawing on this Communist surrounded city, appears to be keeping pace with the progress of the Soviet premier across the Atlantic.

Western officials speculated today that Khrushchev would like to have the Berlin situation hold when he appears before the U. N. General Assembly soon after its opening session next Tuesday.

Any doubts whether the current harassing of travel by West Germans has Moscow's approval were removed Tuesday night by the Soviet commandant in East Berlin, Maj. Gen. Nikolai F. Zakharov.

He stoutly backed up the Communist East German regime, saying it was acting within "constitutional rights" the Soviets gave it five years ago.

Zakharov rejected an Allied protest of Aug. 31 against the first of the series of jabs at freedom of movement delivered by the East Germans over the past two weeks. Zakharov turned down the West German argument that four-power control still applies to the whole of the city. The East sector, he said, is part of the sovereign East German state.

He also pointed a menacing finger at the West's lifeline air corridors to Berlin, warning the Allies not to misuse them. The Western powers would have to "bear the consequences" if they allowed West German "revenge seekers and militarists" to fly to the city to "stage provocations" against Communist countries, he said in general.

United Fund Sets $41,000 Budget

Directors of the Scurry County United Fund adopted a $41,000 budget for the coming year at a session Tuesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The new budget, which of course will be the goal for the 1960 United Fund Campaign, represents a slight decrease from the $42,500 budget of the past year.

The total budget adopted for the coming year is the exact figure submitted by the United Fund budget and admissions committee. A substantial share of the reduction is reflected in the amount allocated for campaign "overhead," which is pegged at $5,000 this year, a reduction of about $1,000.

Funds for participating agencies were approved as follows: Red Cross, $4,500; Boy Scouts, $9,000; Girl Scouts, $4,000; Boys Club, $12,500; Salvation Army, $4,500; Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, $1,000; Heart Fund, $250; Medical Research, $250.

Thus, the United Fund will support eight agencies in the coming year, compared to seven agencies for the past year.

The United Fund campaign will be launched here in November, and key personnel for the campaign will be announced following the next meeting of the board.

LBJ Day In New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson campaigned here today, to help his colleagues put New Mexico's four electoral votes on the side of Sen. John F. Kennedy for president.

Johnson and his wife, Lady Bird, and their party came to Albuquerque after a five-hour automobile tour through five communities of Eddy and Chaves counties, in New Mexico's "Little Texas" region.

New Mexico, where Democrats outnumber Republicans in registrations about 24-1, voted for Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956.

Johnson goes next to Phoenix, Ariz.

Bright Flash Seen In Northeast Texas

TEXARKANA (AP)—What some observers described as an enormous bright flash in the sky was seen early today in northeast Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Policeman Wade Larue said he was picking up his newspaper on his front lawn at 4:40 a.m. when the flash occurred. He said the light was bright enough for him to read the newspaper in the pre-dawn darkness.

Texaskana civil defense authorities said the flash was seen in Texas at Marshall, Dallas and Texarkana; at Arkadelphia, Ark.; Monroe, La.; and Oklahoma City.

Larue said the strange sky light seemed to be moving eastward.

The East German regime also condemned the visit here Thursday of West German President Heinrich Lübke as "deliberate political trouble making."

All this was part of what the Germans call the "salami system."

Berlin is the salami. The Communists are operating on the principle that a slice every now and then is not missed. By the end there is nothing left.

Floridians Dig Out Of Storm Debris

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Flood waters, washed out highways, rats and mountains of debris won't stand in the way of Florida residents determined to sweep aside Hurricane Donna's rubble and rebuild "bigger and better than ever."

Typical of the feeling which prevailed was a move in Miami to adopt families left homeless by the hurricane. A 22-year-old book-keeper dismissed the idea with a shrug of his shoulders and decided to start a chain of good will.

The plan is for persons to give spare items which will help set up families back up in houses.

A "little WPA" which would not only help with the cleanup task but would provide work in the devastated areas was proposed Tuesday by Gov. LeRoy Collins.

The governor said the project would be especially effective in the Florida keys, where he saw 80 per cent devastation and he noted that many would rather work than accept handouts.

In some areas rats, flooded out of their usual haunts, moved into residential subdivisions. A South Miami boy was bitten and may undergo the search of painful rabies shots.

Men in some communities formed shooting parties to kill the large rodents.

Effect of Hurricane Donna on wildlife in the Florida everglades probably won't be known for some time. The hurricane's full force swept through the two-million-acre area on Florida's southern tip.

Some 250 storm refugees are at Islamorada, a once-busy sports fishing center 75 miles south of Miami. A mess hall was set up in a Methodist church. Food and water are being airlifted by Navy helicopters.

Doctors have been busy giving typhoid inoculations. State road department employees are working alongside Army, Navy and Marine Corps personnel building temporary bridges to replace the 12-mile Overseas Highway.

Two Jet Bombers Are In Collision

SHANNON, Ireland (AP)—Two U.S. Air Force B47 jet bombers on a three-plane flight over the Atlantic today.

One spun down through the overcast. The other limped 300 miles to Shannon with an engine dangling from one wing.

With visibility closing in and waves running high, five Royal Air Force rescue planes and a British destroyer were ordered to the area to search for the three-man crew of the downed plane.

The search operation also reported to include three U.S. submarines on duty in the area.

Discovery of the downed plane's wreckage was reported to include three U.S. submarines on duty in the area.

Primaries Shed Little Light On Nation's Political Tides

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nine states held primary elections Tuesday. There were some surprises, an upset or two. Generally, the results shed little light on the way the political tide might be running in November.

In Massachusetts, Gov. Foster Furcolo lost to a relative newcomer, Mayor Thomas J. O'Connor, 35, of Springfield, in a bid for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Furcolo had the Democratic State Convention's endorsement and the party was split. O'Connor, in his first try for statewide office, campaigned hard and long, while Furcolo sat tight until a few days before the primary.

O'Connor will run against Republican Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, who was unopposed for renomination.

State outcomes included: Minnesota, Wisconsin, Utah, Arizona, Colorado and Washington. In some cases, such as Wisconsin and Minnesota, major candidates were unopposed in their parties and the races shaped up as tests of relative party strength.

Voter List Challenged

MACON, Ga. (AP)—Terrell County officials accused of deliberately hindering Negro attempts to vote under a federal court order today forbidding discrimination in any form.

Judge W. A. Bostie's injunction in the historic civil rights case forbids Terrell registrars from keeping separate Negro and white voter records, from giving Negroes tougher literacy tests than white applicants or delaying Negro applications when white applicants are registered immediately.

The lengthy detailed order also gave the three registrars 10 days to put four complaining Negroes on the qualified voters' list.

Nixon Tour Still Facing Troubles

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—A chartered plane carrying Vice President Richard M. Nixon on his cross-country campaign tour took off today but troubles continued to plague the trip.

The plane carrying Nixon and a great statesman and legislator, accompanying the Republican presidential nominee was grounded because of a leak in the hydraulic system which operates the landing gear.

Twenty-seven of the approximately 35 newsmen who were with Nixon were chosen to ride in the vice president's plane and the others waited here for a substitute craft.

Says Approval Is Sought Instantly

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Ever wonder what's really behind the rash of instant-love marriages? Instant coffee, instant mashed potatoes, instant beer (in England, at least) and now instant love?

E. H. Demby, president of Motivation Research Associates, has an answer: People are seeking instant love.

By love, he hastens to explain, he means essential approval. The instant urge isn't just a question of saving time, but of getting a reward as quickly as possible, of winning approval for something you did.

"Our entire society is geared to approval," he says.

Instant love was not an instant conclusion. Demby arrived at it after intensive research to learn what products people need emotionally.

A manufacturing concern in search of something to manufacture hired him to find out.

He conducted a year-long survey based on the proposition that the outside of the looking being on constant display, represents greater emotional projection than the inside.

To his researchers, husbands privately confessed that their spouses pressured them into spending their so-called free time manicuring lawns.

And wives complained of being neglected by husbands working outside — grass wide-eyed, no less.

The evidence was overwhelming to Demby; he decided the lawn is the biggest threat to American marriage today.

His first product suggestion — instant lawn. And within six months the company's chemists came up with it, too. It's a spray, he says, that chemically combines with the grass blade itself — dead or brown or crabgrass — and permanently tints it a natural-looking green.

It's supposed to stay that way without washing out or rubbing off, until the next season's growth.

"I didn't realize the danger a lawn is to the American home," Demby says with awe, "until I did my research. The lawn is a real marriage trap."

"Suburbanites don't have any fun," Demby says. "They spend all their time on lawns and gardens, and at the end of the year, what have they got?"

As for his theory of instant love, he says he intends to keep it at the center of all his research for the manufacturing company.

"If a product isn't a stimulant for approval, you don't need it."

"Why," he demands, "do they suggest you use a fresh egg with packaged cake mixes? It would work just as well with a powdered egg. But a woman wants to be rewarded for her own cake, and putting in the raw egg makes it hers."

Japan Hit By Winkie Craze Again

By KEN ISHII

TOKYO.—The Winkie craze has hit Japan.

Winkie, a 10-inch high, black plastic air-filled doll with winking eyes, is easily the biggest toy in Japan since the hula hoop two years ago.

"We have customers queuing up from before dawn waiting to buy a Winkie, says an official of Tokyo's Takashimaya department store. "It would be bedlam if we sold them in the toy department so we've set up a special sales booth outside a ground floor entrance."

A spokesman for Takashimaya, a wholesaler who has a patent on the doll, declares "we're swamped with orders, we'll never be able to fill them all."

What started the craze?

Some say it's because they're cute. When inflated, a Winkie doll cuddles up to anything its clasping arms can cling to. Girls sport them on their arms, or their handbag straps.

Others say it's because it's a doll with a difference—and cheap. One costs 180 yen (50 cents).

Still others blame the silly season.

"We hope it lasts, but perhaps the craze will end when the summer is over," the Takashimaya spokesman says.

He explains there is a Winkie shortage because "we can't mass produce them. It requires a lot of manual work."

Takashimaya gets about 500 Winkies a week. They're sold on Thursdays and Sundays and are snapped up within minutes after opening time.

Winkies first hit the market in late June. Takashimaya estimates 30,000 have so far been sold throughout Japan, but the number is probably larger.

Ira PTA Has Annual Supper

IRA—The Ira PTA held its 5th annual "Get Acquainted" supper at the school cafeteria last Thursday.

Serving hours were from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. The menu consisted of sliced ham, potato chips, red beans, onions, pickles, tomatoes, bread, doughnuts, tea and coffee.

A total of 295 persons were served by members of the Ira PTA unit.

The PTA will hold its regular meeting, Thursday, Sept. 15, at 9:30 p.m. in the school study hall. A style show of PTA fall hats will be given by members. Plans will be made for the coming year. Everyone is urged to attend.

Girl Deputy Is On Target

SELMA, Ala.—The girl sheriff's deputy, wearing boots and riding pants, kneels and takes careful aim with a .38 caliber, snub-nosed revolver. The mansized target is 50 yards away.

Five shots later, the shapely sharpshooter has hit the target dead-center three times.

Martha Elizabeth Pitts is Alabama's modern, Southern version of the Wild West's shooting gal, Annie Oakley.

As a secretary-deputy for Dallas County Sheriff Jim Wood, the 20-year-old Miss Pitts spends most of her time in the office as a secretary and receptionist.

But as the county's only woman deputy, Miss Pitts puts some of the men to shame on the firing range.

During the two years she has served on the sheriff's force, Miss Pitts has practiced in private with her pistols and rifles. She prefers rifles, especially .22-caliber models—the main provision being that the gun doesn't kick or recoil much.

She holds a membership in the Alabama Sheriffs and Peace Officers Assn. and Auxiliary and the Alabama Sheriffs Assn.

Miss Pitts' popularity at social events has obviously not been hurt by her reputation with a gun. The pretty deputy won the district Miss Posture Contest this year.

Plans Already Brewing For Festivities Of Inauguration

BY INEZ ROBB

Every four years the United States Government knows it's got a President a-comin' up for inauguration and it doesn't aim to be caught without a cake.

The cake is just about ready for the oven, no matter who wins in November. Before October 1 work will start on the erection of stands on and in front of the Capitol for the inauguration of either Vice-President Nixon or Senator Kennedy on Jan. 20, 1961.

It requires between three to three and one-half months to build the Capitol stands, including the one over Capitol's new steps where the next President will take the oath of office.

It also requires just a little more money every four years to inaugurate a President in the style to which the American people are accustomed. Weeks ago Congress appropriated $250,000 to pay for the 1961 inauguration, which is $40,000 more than the ante for the inauguration in 1957, and $49,000 more than for President Eisenhower's first inauguration in 1953.

In fact, a little digging into the records will prove that the cost of inaugurations has kept pace with the H.C.L. in the lifetime of most of us. In 1925, it only cost $28,800 to inaugurate Calvin Coolidge. Four years later, a joint Congressional committee, always charged with such affairs, spent $32,222 to inaugurate Herbert Hoover.

The first inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933 dipped to $22,988, but the costs have been rising steadily ever since, save in 1945 when, during World War II, F.D.R. took the oath of office in the White House without cost of public ceremony.

In the eight years between the first inauguration of President Eisenhower and the inauguration of the next President in January, the cost of erecting the Capitol stands for the event has risen more than 50 percent.

The sum of $150,000 has been appropriated from the $250,000 inauguration kitty to erect the stands of '61. Although they will seat 17,259 persons, a few hundred more than in the past, the stands are not appreciably larger than those that cost $99,700 for the 1953 inauguration.

Goodness know what the stands would cost if there weren't available to Uncle Sam much of the steel framework that the District of Columbia telephone company donated to the government when Warren G. Harding of all Presidents insisted on a simple, inexpensive inaugural. Uncle Sam saves this steelwork from inauguration to inauguration.

Those charged with planning the inauguration must provide everything from velvet ropes (fifty to sixty feet or enough to keep out any later-day One-Eyed Conolly), pipes and cables for "baricades" to keep the crowds in hand and red carpet vests, sir, we have to have it, just like royalty, and why not? to fire extinguishers.

Congress has already passed the legislation, necessary every four years, to quarter troops in the capital's public buildings (troops to guard the President and march in the inaugural parade); authorize installation of wires for telephones, telegraph, radio and television at the Capitol and along the parade route; place necessary street, sidewalk and other public space under control of the Inaugural Committee and authorize special licenses for peddlers of souvenirs and hot dogs. Not to mention commissioning of conflict stations and first-aid posts.

One large item on the inaugural agenda awaits on the election of the next President. It is up to the new Chief Executive to determine whether there shall be an inaugural ball. Such a gala affair cannot be forced on a man who wants no part of such purely frivolous doings.

The 1961 ceremony may take all of the $250,000 appropriation. Often, there is money left in the till. But no matter which candidate makes the inauguration, a lot of taxpayers are certain to feel their money is being spent on the wrong man.

First Day In College Big Event

By HAL ROYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments on a Pavement Plato: A million or so young Americans will start one of the grandest adventures of a lifetime this month—college.

A boy's first day in kindergarten and his first day in college are two great landmarks in his life. On one he leaves infancy behind forever, and on the second he begins to become a man.

The parent has a big role to play when his son is ready for college. But often he isn't college-educated himself, and isn't sure just what that role should be. He wants to help, but he isn't sure of either the possibilities or the pitfalls in college.

Here are a few scattered answers to a number of questions many of these parents are asking themselves.

Q: My son can't get into one of the famous Ivy League schools in the East. Will this ruin his future?

A: No, although attendance at these schools will be of great help if he plans to sell bonds or get on the U. S. Supreme Court.

Q: What about the big state universities?

A: Educationally, they are fine. But sometimes a boy of 17 can get lost in the crowd.

Q: Where would you prefer to send your own son?

A: To a good junior college or one of the hundreds of fine smaller colleges. Their quality of teaching is often better than in the larger universities, and their enrollment is small enough so that your son will get more individual attention. If he needs help, he is more likely to find it.

Q: My son doesn't yet know what he wants to be. What courses should he take?

A: Let him take basic courses in literature, history, economics, logic, biology, public speaking, American government, psychology—and at least one foreign language. These will give him a groundwork of wide knowledge that will benefit him all his life and perhaps speed him to a choice of a career.

Q: What about letting my son work his way through college?

A: No, not even if you have to mortgage your home. The benefits of working one's way through college are highly over-rated. Few men who did this ever want their sons to do it because they know what they missed. Going to college is a fulltime job in itself. Let your son work during his vacations.

Says Restrictions Are 'Unfortunate'

LONDON (AP)—The liberal News Chronicle said today the American decision to restrict Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to Manhattan Island was "unfortunate and unwise."

"The right course for the Americans was to issue a warning that they could not guarantee the safety of any of the tyrants once they left Manhattan," said the Chronicle. "It should be the constant aim of Western governments to avoid giving opportunities to the Communists to appear in the injured party."

Home football foes for Pittsburgh this fall will be Michigan State, Miami of Florida, West Virginia, Army and Penn State.

Running Attack To Bolster Travis 7th

By Jerry Jackson
News Sports Editor

Travis Seventh will be tough to handle on the ground this year, if pre-season indications are a reliable basis for formulating an opinion.

The Blue Devil first year men are graced with "first year" coaches this round, too, as lumbering Willie Bigham and sidekick Jim Wesson take over at the helm of the team. Both are physical education teachers in the elementary system here, while Bigham is also a veteran Hermligh High School veteran.

"We have a pretty fair backfield and line," Bigham has asserted. "Have three good running backs in Jerry Kinchloe, Paul Kinzey and Marvin Mayfield. They should all do a good job, as will our quarterback, Powers Boothie. Mayfield's not too big," he continued, "but he's full of spunk and desire and will make us a good hand."

So you'll rely mainly on the running game?

"Yes, that'll definitely be our stronghold," he countered. "We'll throw the ball a little bit, but it'll be very little."

How's the line shaping up?

Line Prospects Bright

"We've got a lot of good boys up there, too," he spared. "Danny Howell, a center, is a good boy, as are Donnie Fisk and David Nance, both of whom are defensive guards. Nance hasn't been out long, but is catching on quick. And then, Charles Holland is another," he went on. "Well built and pretty fast. He's a tackle."

How about overall team strength?

"It's a little hard to tell yet," he mused. "Our offense is quite a bit ahead of our defense, as we've spent quite a bit more time so far on the offensive end of things. As I say, we've got three boys who can run with the ball—Mayfield, Kinchloe and Kinzey. We should score some points, but the way our defense looks I'm not sure whether we'll be able to chase over enough to keep up with our opponents or not. Just have to wait and see."

"Quite a bit different working with that age boys as compared to those who are older," he went on. "They try just as hard, of course, but aren't as consistent as the older ones. They'll run two or three plays and look really great and then they'll turn right around and play in such a way that they couldn't even win a forfeit."

Holt Favorably Impressed

Regardless of how the team comes around, though, it is being held in high esteem in at least one

Football Trip Near At Hand

Plans for the Boys' Club Pee Wee footballers' trip to Dallas and the Texas-Los Angeles Charger pro grid game are complete now, as the Optimist Club sponsored trip is at present less than two weeks distant.

The game is shaping up as somewhat of a "grudge" battle, as this past weekend saw the Chargers upsetting the Texans' undefeated apple cart by the barest of margins—21-20—in Los Angeles in the first American Football League test of the season for both. Previously each had walked through their respective exhibition slates with spotless records and thus branded themselves as the cream of the AFL professional crop.

Formulated plans call for the Boys' Clubbers to depart Sydney at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 24; traveling by bus to Fort Worth where they will spend the night at the Panther Boys' Club. Then the following morning they will attend church in that city and depart for Dallas and the Cotton Bowl, witness the game, and return to Sydney at the conclusion of same.

Spikes To Roam

One of the big attractions of the game will be the opportunity of watching Snyder's Jack Spikes perform. He has already branded himself as not only one of the outstanding players on the Texas eleven, but also in the entire league as a whole, having led the loop in a number of statistical areas over the course of the exhibition round of play.

One important item which Mienie Broux, the Boys' Club director, has emphasized has to do with the signing up at the Club of boys desiring to make the trip. All boys—Pee Wee graders or otherwise—are eligible to sign up for the trek, the only stipulation being that he be under 14 years of age. A total of 100 boys are to make the trip; with Pee Wee football players being given the initial nod, after which any shortage will be made up by other boys wanting to go.

Each boy making the trip will be expected to take his own bedding (sheets and blanket), dress clothes for church, sports clothes for travel and the game, personal articles (toothbrush, change of socks, etc.), and money for five meals. Also, he must have a liability release signed by his parents or guardian prior to leaving.

All transportation costs and game tickets will be handled by the Optimist Club in conjunction with the Boys' Club. Each boy going will be furnished with a T-shirt and a membership card in the Dallas Huddle Club, which entitles him to free admission to all of the Dallas-Texas home games.

'We'll Be Better' -- Conley

"We got run over, fooled, and embarrassed," Coach John Conley elaborated at last night's Quarterback meeting in reference to Friday's opening 34-0 loss to Borger. "I can promise you that we'll be better, though," he went on. "I'm sure of that."

"Our kids were demoralized and confused all during that first half," he continued. "A lot of them were playing positions which were in a large part unfamiliar to them. The experiment doesn't look very good now. But we've put our strong boys back in the old positions in which they did the best job last year and are shooting for a better combination to go up against Andrews."

He went on to itemize that physically the squad is about the same as it has been. Halfback Frank Moore, temporarily sidelined by a bronchial attack which bordered on pneumonia, is back in harness now and should be ready to see at least a little action this Friday. Another halfback—Spencer Dyer—is hampered by a calcium deposit in his leg and is almost certain to be out of the lineup when the Tigers take on Andrews.

Charlie Gladson, mainstay lineman, received a cut near the eye requiring five stitches during the Borger game, but has been going at full speed ever since. And nursing minor injuries are linemen Bill Weaver and William Robinson.

In addition to Coach Conley's talk and thumbnail sketches from the rest of the system's coaches in regard to each of their respective teams, coaches Ace Apone and Dutch Stetley gave a briefing on the Andrews strength potential which they observed while scouting the team during Friday's tie game against Tom S. Lubbock. Amos submitted an offensive breakdown, while Stetley concentrated on the defensive aspects of the team.

Concluding the meeting were films of Friday's Snyder-Borger game and also the College Star and Baltimore Colt tilt of 1959.

Andrews Tabs Now On Sale

Tickets for the Snyder-Andrews game which will be played in Andrews this Friday are currently on sale at the School Administration Building for $1.50.

Student tickets for the contest have also been placed on the selling block at Snyder. High and both junior highs for 50 cents each.

All of the duets, both student and adult, will remain on sale until Friday morning.

Tulane's 1960-61 basketball team has four lettermen back, including junior Jack Ardon, 6-foot-9 center.

Fred Mautino, Syracuse All-America end, 200 pounds during off-season via weightlifting. He is 215 pounds this fall.

Ankle Break Smites Kuenn

CLEVELAND (AP)—Outfielder Harvey Kuenn, last year's batting champion in the American League and now fourth in average, has a hair-line fracture in a left ankle bone and will play no more this year.

Kuenn fouled a ball during batting practice in New York three weeks ago and it struck his foot, but X-rays at the time showed no break. When the pain persisted, pictures were taken again, and the fracture showed. A walking cast was put on the foot Tuesday, and Kuenn will go home to Milwaukee later this week. He was batting .308.

Lacy Boles has gone and done it again. The grizzled and gnarled Veteran of Ring Wars, Champion of the People, and Teller of Extremely Tall Tales can now join the elite but continually expanding circle of fishermen whose stories leave doubt in the minds of listeners.

This one supposedly transpired up in the wilds of South Dakota, and concerns a spoonbill catfish that reportedly weighed 23 pounds. It wasn't so much the size or weight of the flat-billed monster that caused eyebrow-lifting concern, though, but the manner in which it was caught.

"You see, a spoonbill won't bite a hook," Boles informed with an informative air. "You can't catch that way." That much of his story was highly believable, considering the structure of the freshwater Ubangi.

Then how did you land it?

"Well, like I said before, those things won't bite a hook."

I nodded.

"So the way it happened is that my line caught in five lures that had gotten stuck in 'em by users who had hooked him before and their lines had broke," he continued. "So I just pulled the thing on in. Was afraid my line was going to break, too, but luckily it didn't."

And where did you say this all came about?

"Aw, it was up at this dam pretty close to Pierre," he replied, as he continued to carry on a running battle with King Edward, both of whom were losing ground. "Wa hee, Weeho, Wochaw, or something like that."

I nodded once again, too busy jotted down information to look up.

"Sounds like that place over there in Hawaii, whatever it is."

"Oahh?" I offered.

"Yeah, that sounds about right. Who am I to question the veracity of the story? For it is said, and with truth, that facts are much more fascinating than mere fiction. However, there are those who would cast doubt as to whether it happened just as he related.

One doubting Thomas by the name of L. J. Mueller spotted the whole thing and shrugged it off as a complete hoax. When confronted with what was considered to be rockbound proof of the fable—an unretouched photo of Lacy displaying the catch (see above) and the spoonbill just up from beneath a snail-shell cloth which he was using to hold it up—he still refused to relent.

"That's a laugh," he debunked, and was heard to snicker. "They have those deals where you can pay two his and pose with any fish you want to."

"But Lacy Boles would never stoop to such depths," I defended. "Not our Lacy."

"Oh, wouldn't he?" he shot back.

"Admittedly, I was at a loss for an answer."

Morgan Makes Switch To Reservation

Bud Morgan, former stellar hurdler for the Snyder Tigers, has transferred from North Texas State, where he has been attending the past two years, to McMurry College in Abilene.

He gained national acclaim during his freshman year at Denton when he stepped to the fastest low hurdles clocking of the season for first year collegians. However, he was plagued with leg trouble through most of the past year and failed to show up as well as had been expected, but is hoping to come back strong for the Indians in the future.

Guiding his progress at McMurry will be Coach Grant Teaff, a former Snyderite and longtime friend and acquaintance of Morgan's. In addition to his duties as track coach, Teaff is also assuming the post of head football mentor for the Tribe this year.

Morgan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morgan of 2206 42nd Street.

LACY BOLES To Tell The Truth

Oh, my aching back!

Nagging backaches, headaches, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exercising, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation... with that restless uncomfortable feeling. If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable... with restless, sleepless nights... don't wait... try Doan's Pills... get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for large economy size and save money. Get money back if Doan's Pills don't!

TRIUMPHANT TRINITY

The Trinity Methodist softballers copped the league crown here last night, as Potts Neeper mowed Colonial Hill Baptist down on hits and a 1-0 victory in the deciding finale. Composing the team are, left to right, first row: James Maxwell, Marvin Foez, Bill Kinzey and Max von Roeder. Included in the second row are: Marvin Dozier, Bud Fagan, Tom Burton and Dale Brown. And standing are: Howard Sterling, player-manager Charlie Morrow, Neeper, George Lee, and Carl Foree. (Photo by Jackson)

Neeper Handcuffs Foes As Trinity Takes Title

Howard Sterling strolled to the plate last night in the home half of the sixth inning and proceeded to level a baseline grass-cutter double down the third base line, scoring teammate Dale Brown from third and earning for Trinity Methodist a 1-0 victory over Colonial Hill Baptist and with it the Church Softball League bunting.

Brown had previously walked, then pattered both second and third to advance himself into scoring position.

It was a sweet victory for the Methodists and a brilliant effort on the part of winning hurler Potts Neeper, who chucked himself a no-hitter and came within an ounce of hurling a perfect game as he tossed a fourth frame base balls to spoil his perfect game attempt, as that represented the only runner to gain a base off him. And that runner subsequently succumbed on first.

Over the span, Neeper sent 17 of the 22 Colonial stickmen he faced down on strikes.

For Colonial, the loss was a heartbreaking one for loser Lonnie Crosby, with Sterling's sixth inning blast being the only hit which he relinquished. He failed to possess the razor-sharp effectiveness of Neeper, however, as he issued passes to three and struck out 10.

Trinity thus stamped itself as the "cunshack team" of the summer, as it downed Avenue D Baptist last week in a special Sunday death extra inning playoff contest for the second half crown, then completed the romp into the throne room with last night's well-timed triumph over the first half champs.

But Did You Hear The One About...?

ALL OF WHICH brings to mind a couple of other fish tales as brought to light by Jim Wesson and Bob Hammack.

Wesson's had to do with a recent magazine article which related how four men managed to haul in a 215-pound catfish from the Mississippi or some such river. Used a baby pig for bait. That's right—a young oinker. Now, the article was in the Saturday Evening Post (or maybe the Saturday Afternoon Post?), so it should be authoritative. So draw your own conclusions.

Hammack added some fuel to the fire, though, when he told of hearing of such fabulous catches when using young kids as bait.

If You Agree With Us That:

The American people are reaching and yearning for effective leadership with strength and imagination.

The American people have flourished through almost eight years of inept, ineffective, Republican administration conducted largely from the Burning Tree golf course in Washington, and a Country Club in Atlanta, Georgia.

That in the past eight years the Republican party has not proposed a single constructive new program to increase the welfare of the American people — not one new move of benefit to all the people, or those who need it most — and that they have hammered, opposed and obstructed every Democratic effort to deal with our urgent needs.

That the Republican administration has permitted — even invited Communism to fester within 80 miles of our shores.

That through the Republican administration our Country has been subjected to insults in South America when our Vice-President was mobbed, in Japan when the representative of the President of the United States had to be removed from his car by helicopter for protection — not because he was a man named Hagerty, but because he was the representative of the President of the United States, and in Paris when Khrushchev ran his bluff.

If you agree with us that it is time to get this Country back on the road to progress and prosperity — the only road of progress and prosperity it enjoyed under the greatest Presidents the Country has ever had — Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Harry S. Truman, Democrats all.

If you agree with us, that we simply can't afford to turn this Government in this Country over to Dick Nixon.

THEN — Give us your help, give us your hand and we will win the Country and the State and the Nation for JOHN F. KENNEDY AND LYNDON B. JOHNSON.

MEET WITH US IN OUR ORGANIZATIONAL PARTY RALLY AT TOWLE MEMORIAL PARK PAVILION, THURSDAY NIGHT, SEPTEMBER 15, 1960 at 7:30 P.M., GOOD FOOD, GOOD SPEAKING. Tickets $5.00 per person. If you don't attend for the eating then you are invited to attend for the free talking.

Judge Tells Of His Trip Into Red China

By WILLIAM C. WALSH
Written For The Associated Press
Copyright, 1960,
By The Associated Press

Last March, the Peoples Republic of China announced that my brother, Bishop James Edward Walsh, had been tried and convicted of espionage as a veteran American spy and sentenced to 20 years imprisonment.

My brother, who spent most of his life in missionary work in China, is 69. I had learned that relatives of four other Americans imprisoned in China had been permitted to see them, and so I likewise applied to Chinese authorities.

In July, I received a cable from the Chinese Red Cross stating that I would be allowed to spend 14 days in China for the purpose of visiting my brother.

My wife and I arrived in Hong Kong July 28. That afternoon, as previously instructed, I got in touch with the China Travel Service. I turned over my passport to them, and three days later I was advised that the necessary visa had been received.

I was authorized to enter China Aug. 1. At 10:30 that morning the British Red Cross representative, Miss Robin Hurst, called for me at the hotel. I drove with Miss Hurst, Mr. Joseph Carniglia of the American Red Cross, and Father Michael J. McKiernan, head of the Maryknoll Fathers in Hong Kong, to the border at Shumchun.

Shortly afterwards I crossed the frontier to the Chinese mainland. My passport and visa were inspected. I went through customs with my baggage, and I filled out an entry form and currency declaration. After completion of the formalities and lunch at the station, I took the train for Canton.

On the train ride to Canton, I was accompanied by a Chinese Red Cross representative, a Mr. Wong. He is the official who packages every month for American prisoners in China.

At Canton, we were met by another Chinese Red Cross representative, and the two men took me to the Hotel Aichun, where I received a good room, had dinner, and went to bed after calling Mrs. Walsh in Hong Kong to inform her of my arrival in Canton.

I got up at 5:30 next morning to catch a 7 a.m. plane for Shanghai. After 2 1/2 hours of flight, it landed at Nanchang, and I was told we might be delayed because of a typhoon in the vicinity of Shanghai. Later in the day, the flight was canceled, and I was taken to a hotel in Nanchang along with two Chinese passengers.

The next morning the hotel manager accompanied me to the airport, about 20 miles from the city. There was still uncertainty about the weather at Shanghai, noon. The hotel manager, a very nice chap, stayed with me until the plane left.

The plane had a capacity of 15 passengers, with five single seats on the right and five double seats on the left side. The latter were filled with freight and baggage. There were four Chinese passengers besides myself.

When we landed at Shanghai at 5:30 p.m., it was raining but the typhoon was over. No Chinese Red Cross or travel service representative had accompanied me on the flight, but at the airport I was met by Mr. Li of the Red Cross and Mr. Lo of the China International Travel Service.

Mr. Li, who could not speak English, was 30 years old. Mr. Lo was 23, he could speak broken English and acted as interpreter. They took me in a car to the Peace Hotel (formerly the Cathay Hotel), one of the best-known in the city. It is a modern hotel, 10 stories high, located at the corner of Bund and Nanking Roads.

Here I was given a double room with twin beds and bath on the seventh floor. This room was to be my headquarters for my stay in Shanghai. The hotel dining room was on the eighth floor, and I usually walked up a flight of steps although there was elevator service.

The food was quite satisfactory, the menu printed in English and other languages as well as Chinese. I had apple pie a la mode for dessert that first evening, had no trouble getting orange juice and scrambled eggs for breakfast—and they even had French toast with syrup.

I thought the coffee was all right, and there was chicken, ham, pork and a variety of fish. Yougot potatoes, carrots and sometimes green beans with these dishes, and a Chinese vegetable whose name I didn't discover.

My room cost my 12 yuan a day, or a little over $5 in U. S. money. I don't think my meals ran more than $2 per day, so the total cost was from $8 to $10 a day.

My passport had been taken up by the Chinese Travel Service representative the evening I arrived, in order to register me at the hotel and to have the passport cleared at the Foreign Office. I got it back the afternoon that I left Shanghai eight days later.

On the morning of Aug. 4, Mr. Li and Mr. Lo came to my room shortly after breakfast. With them was a Mr. Shen, a Chinese Red Cross interpreter. Later, I was received in another room of the hotel by Mr. Chang, chief of the Shanghai branch of the Chinese Red Cross. I was told the meeting was in the nature of a courtesy call.

During the morning, I suggested to Mr. Li and Mr. Lo that I might want to look around the streets of Shanghai, but they told me I was a stranger who might get lost, and so they didn't think I'd better.

In view of this, and because my passport had been taken up, I didn't go out without one or both of them accompanying me.

After my interview with Mr. Chang, I went with them to the Bank of China to get additional Chinese currency, using the letter of credit had previously obtained from the Bank of China in Hong Kong. The expenses of the train and plane ride had left me short.

I obtained the currency without trouble. The rate of exchange was 213.50 yuan for 500 Hong Kong dollars, which are worth somewhere in the neighborhood of 25 cents.

About 1:30 in the afternoon, Mr. Li and Mr. Shen called at my room and told me I could see my brother at 2:45. They came back for me about 2:45, and we took a car they had ready to the Shanghai jail.

At 2:45, we were taken to the jail, where I saw my brother, Bishop James Edward Walsh, and his wife, Mrs. Walsh. They were both in good health and seemed to be enjoying their stay in China.

My brother and I had a long talk, and he told me that he was planning to return to the United States in the near future. He said that he was tired of being in China and that he wanted to see his family and friends.

After talking with my brother, I was taken back to the hotel. I was told that I could see my brother again at 4:15. I went to the jail at 4:15, and we had another long talk.

After the second visit, I was taken back to the hotel. I was told that I could see my brother again at 6:15. I went to the jail at 6:15, and we had a final talk.

After the final talk, I was taken back to the hotel. I was told that I could see my brother again at 8:15. I went to the jail at 8:15, and we had a final talk.

- D Community—Edwin Kuss, Fred Hess, W. M. Hairston, Fred Campbell, and D. L. Cotton.

Hero Is Left Treading Air

DETROIT (AP)—John Ingoglia saw smoke pouring from a second-floor window next door Tuesday. He raced into the apartment building and found an over-stuffed chair afire. He grabbed it and started downstairs.

Halfway down, he met a woman ordered, "don't bring that smelly thing down here."

"I'll take it out the back," he replied, stumbling back up the stairs. Ingoglia took the chair through a back door on the second floor, but found himself treading air. The porch had been ripped down some time ago.

Ingoglia's injuries were minor. There wasn't much left of the chair.

Donna Provides Much Information
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Weather researchers gathered more information about hurricanes from Donna than all tropical storms since the national hurricane research project began in 1956, says the chief of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer said tracking, warning and forecasting during the passage of Hurricane Donna were the most complete in history, adding that if Donna had occurred five years ago hundreds of people might have lost their lives because of less adequate warning.

Donna has left no doubt that it was the most destructive and vicious storm since Weather Bureau records were first kept in 1887, Reichelderfer said.

Child, Maid Killed In Dallas Blaze
DALLAS (AP)—An early morning fire killed a child and her Negro maid today.

The victims were Cynthia Burnett, 2, and the maid, Mary Morris, 50. The child's sister, Darlene Burnett, 4, suffered burns and was reported in fair condition.

Police said the parents were not at home and they have been unable to notify them of the fire. A neighbor, W. A. Jones, said he heard screams coming from the frame home about 3 a.m. He got into the kitchen and carried out Darlene.

Firemen found the body of the child and the maid near a door. Fire Chief W. L. Lester said the $5,000 fire might have started at a floor furnace.

Town Seeking To Enforce Cat Law

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—The hamlet of Rutledge Tuesday sought a court injunction to force two spinster sisters to comply with a borough law limiting the number of cats in a domicile to four adults.

Officials said in a petition Elizabeth Van der Graaf, 75, and her sister, Ethel, 75, have 50 cats which possess "noxious and offensive odors" and create "unreasonable noise."

Man Unhappy With Rate Of Exchange

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Self-service laundry operator O. W. Smith recently acquired 82 Mexican coins but he's might unhappy about the rate of exchange.

Eighty-two 10 centavo pieces normally are worth about 65 cents in American money.

But the culprit who stuffed them into the laundry's coin changer may have collected $20.50 if he got five nickels for each Mexican coin.

Molding Contest In Spotlight At Club

The wide, varied, and unending array of activities which characterize the Scurry County Boys' Club had as a high point recently a crafts contest, entered by a healthy number of budding young craftsmen.

Plastic molding was the featured activity, and the judges for the competition were Norman Fuiks and Levi Garrett.

Winners in the various divisions and areas included the following: Midget Division Indian Lore: First, Teddy Smedley, Second, Raymond Murphy, third tie between Terry Clemmer and Steven Burney.

Junior Division Indian Lore: First, second, and tie for third, Marvin Mayfield. Tie for third, Larry Conell.

Intermediate Division Miscellaneous: First, Ronnie Chauncey, second and third, Durwood Brunson. Midget Division Miscellaneous: First, Teddy Smedley; second, Terry Clemmer; third, Randy Dolins.

Republican Gets A Call From Demos
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The phone call from the president of the Michigan Young Democrats came as a surprise to Gilbert E. Bursley, a Washburn County candidate for state representative.

It was an invitation for Bursley to take part in a panel discussion on African problems.

Bursley said he appreciated the offer but wondered if the club realized he was a Republican. There was a long silence on the other end—and then: "That's all right. We'd like to hear you anyway."

Bursley said he would accept.

Three Firms Facing Suit

HOUSTON (AP)—Two major oil companies and the Texas Electric Service Co. were named in a $30 million lawsuit a Houston oilrig filed Tuesday.

A. E. Amerman Jr. filed the suit against the Pan American Petroleum Corp., the Magnolia Petroleum Co. and the Electric company because of what he called fraud and conspiracy.

Amerman said he and some associates arranged in 1958 to build a pipeline from the old ocean oil field in Brazoria and Matagorda counties to the Fort Worth area.

Amerman said the oil companies were to sell him gas he would transport to Fort Worth for sale to the Texas Electric Service Co.

The suit claims the companies studied Amerman's plans for financing and building the line, then made a separate agreement to build the line themselves.

E. A. Renfro, Houston division superintendent for Pan American, refused to comment on the suit.

Thousands Greet Kennedy In Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Texans by the tens of thousands poured from office buildings, factories and homes Tuesday to give Sen. John Kennedy a rousing climax to his two-day border-to-border tour of the state.

A crowd estimated by Police Chief Leon Arnold at 100,000 saw and heard the senator in Texarkana. It was the first time a presidential candidate had ever visited the East Texas city.

Earlier in the day Dallas Police Chief J. E. Curry estimated that 175,000 jammed downtown Dallas as Kennedy rode slowly to Memorial Auditorium where he talked to almost a full house at the 11,000-seat structure.

Vice President Richard Nixon, GOP candidate, drew an estimated 100,000 as he rode through Dallas Monday and his crowd at the Memorial Auditorium was, like Kennedy's, almost a capacity one.

Some observers felt that the time Kennedy rode through Dallas—the lunch hour—helped swell the number that lined his parade route. Nixon came after the lunch break when many had returned to their offices.

Four Die In Houston Fire

HOUSTON (AP)—Four members of a Houston family died early today in a fire that swept their motel cabin.

The victims were T. D. Clark, 37, a welder; his wife, Dorothy, 30; and their sons, Johnny, 9, and T. D. Clark Jr., 11. They were permanent residents of the motel.

A daughter, Janet Clark, 13, escaped and spread the alarm to the managers, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mulligan.

Mrs. Mulligan said she went to the cabin after calling the fire department but could not get in because of the flames.

Thousands Greet Kennedy In Texas

At 15,000 saw Kennedy at the city's Burnett Park and the crowd that saw him in front of the Capitol at Austin early in the day was put at between 5,000 and 15,000.

Democratic politicians, trying to keep the state from going Republican as it did in 1952 and 1956, said they were encouraging with the response to the Massachusetts senator.

Kennedy said he would "probably be back in Texas" to campaign.

At Texarkana with Kennedy were House Speaker Sam Rayburn, Arkansas Gov. J. William Fulbright, Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., Oklahoma Lt. Gov. George Nigh, Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., Mrs. Margaret Price, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Kennedy's sister, Mrs. Peter Lawford, and Gov. Price Daniel.

Former Highway Commission Chairman Marshall Fomby said he felt Kennedy had started behind in Texas "but I think this trip will swing it to him."

John White, agriculture commissioner, said Kennedy's showing surpassed anything given Adlai Stevenson in 1952 and 1956.

Kennedy told the crowd that "there is not a farmer in Texas or in Arkansas whose income has not deteriorated under (Secretary of Agriculture Ezra) Taft" Benson, Nixon and the others."

He got a roar from the East Texas crowd when he told them that Nixon is in "the Republican tradition—Taft, Harding, Landon, Dewey."

Texarkana gathering was swelled by the Four-State Fair which is in progress.

Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus was among the Democrats in the city. Although Faubus is a candidate for president on the National States Rights Party ticket in Arkansas he said he was supporting the Kennedy-Johnson ticket. But he added, he is not backing the party platform.

Thousands Greet Kennedy In Texas

A relatively large number of Negroes turned out to see and hear Kennedy in Texarkana. Few Negroes had been noted in the crowds that saw the senator in other Texas cities.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE STARS

QUESTION: When did astrology and the zodiac originate?

ANSWER: For thousands and thousands of years, man has studied the stars. He still does today. But there are two kinds of study—astronomy and astrology. They should never be confused. Astronomy is a highly scientific study of the stars and their action. Astrology is based on the belief that the heavenly bodies control the affairs of man. By studying the stars, the astrologer believes he can predict events. An important part of astrology is the zodiac. This is the portion of the sky through which the sun, moon and planets move from east to west. The astrologer divides the zodiac into 12 portions. One of these supposedly controls the destiny of every person, depending on his birth date. Astrology is believed to have begun among the Chaldeans who lived thousands of years ago in the area that was later called Babylonia. Occasionally the predictions of astrology have agreed with actual happenings. And for this reason there is still some interest in astrology today.

FOR YOU TO DO: In an almanac or a book on astrology, find out which sign of the zodiac you were born under.

Way Of Life May Hold Cancer Key

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Our ways of life hold keys to saving many thousands of humans from cancer, a prominent scientist predicts.

Cancer tolls might well be cut 10 to 15 per cent within 10 years by finding these keys, says Dr. John R. Heller, president of Memorial-Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, New York.

Dr. Heller listed five major fields for study of possible cancer causing agents in the American environment:

Unnecessary exposure to radiation, smoking air pollution, some of the chemicals added to foodstuffs, and some chemicals handled in industry and manufacturing.

It is generally considered that only one per cent of cancers can be blamed upon environmental causes, he said in an interview at the fourth National Cancer Conference sponsored by the National Cancer Institute and American Cancer Society.

But, admitting it could be "a wild guess," Dr. Heller said he thinks perhaps 15 to 20 per cent of cancers might be traced to agents in our environment.

He foresees big gains from research to find and then eliminate such causes, or finding ways of protecting humans against them. Such research is admittedly difficult, he said.

Vaccines against cancer do not appear right now to be just around the corner, he said, but he has hopes they may be found. Vaccines depend upon finding specific causes, such as viruses, which can be used to stimulate protective antibodies.

Dr. Heller said that within his own lifetime there could come one to three drugs which bring about permanent arrest of some few kinds of human cancers.

The problem of determining whether chemicals added to foodstuffs carry risk of causing cancer "poses a genuine dilemma," he added. This is particularly true for chemicals which produce cancers only occasionally in some species of animals, and under certain conditions.

For then the question arises whether they are safe for humans when put in tiny amounts into foods to improve taste, color, texture or other qualities.

If all such chemicals were banned entirely from foodstuffs, "we would have a very limited and unpalatable diet," he remarked.

Slate Is Set For Debates

NEW YORK (AP)—Dates and times for the "great debate" between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy have been announced by television and radio networks.

The first debate will be in Chicago on Monday, Sept. 26, 9:30-10:30 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time, on domestic policy.

On Friday, Oct. 7, 7:30-8:30 p. m. EDT, they will appear on the first of two programs of a news panel format. The program will originate in New York if both candidates can be here. Otherwise the networks will follow them and use a split screen.

The second news panel program will be Thursday, Oct. 13, 7:30-8:30 p. m., EDT, using the split screen. Nixon will be in Los Angeles, Kennedy in New York.

On Friday, Oct. 21, 10-11 p. m., EDT, they will discuss foreign policy from New York.

Networks participating are the Columbia Broadcasting System, National Broadcasting Co. and the American Broadcasting Co.

The programs will be carried on both radio, and TV.

Mild Weather Is Due For Next Five Days

DALLAS (AP)—The Weather Bureau issued today this 5-day forecast for Sept. 14-18:

Eastern and Central Texas: Temperatures around normal in coastal areas and extreme South Texas and 2 to 4 degrees below normal elsewhere. Precipitation moderate to locally heavy. Scattered showers mainly on weekend.

Western Texas: Temperatures 2 to 4 degrees below normal. Precipitation light to moderate. Scattered showers mainly on weekend.

Crop Failure Is Blamed In Death

LOLITA, Tex. (AP)—A Justice of the peace ruled Tuesday that farmer Joe Tomas, 44 and father of 11, shot himself to death because of debts and a crop failure.

Justice Leslie Franck said Tomas shot himself with a rifle. The body was found behind a barn.

The victim's wife said Tomas' cotton crop was ruined and other crops heavily damaged by 26 days of rain during August near this southeast Texas town.
