HOWLING WINDS SHAPE DRIFTS

Twenty-Three Inches Of Snow Is Dumped On Nebraska Town

(By The Associated Press)

HAYES CENTER, Neb. March 31. — Howling winds early today shaped drifts from 23 inches of snow dumped on this southwest Nebraska community by a spring snowstorm.

Winds up to 60 miles an hour swept the area last night putting visibility to zero and halting traffic. Similar conditions were reported farther east at McCook. Early today winds of 33 miles an hour with stronger gutsts were reported.

The storm, which began moving into the state Monday night, left 15 inches of snow at North Platte and lesser amounts elsewhere. The weather bureau said the storm was making a slow exit and would probably move out of Nebraska before the day was over.

The snow had left some roads blocked, closed schools in at least five towns and brought a new threat to cattle which are now in the calving season.

Mud rather than snow plagued some Nebraska communities. A delegation of citizens from gumbo-bound Bloomfield, Neb., planned to protest about muddy roads to state officials in Lincoln to-

POLICE STAND BY FOR VIOLENCE

New York Taxicab Tie-Up Threatens

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 31.—Importation of union strong-arm men was charged today as owners of the city's biggest taxicab fleets declared they will run as many cabs as possible despite an impending strike.

A union linked to John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers repeated its cry that "not a wheel will roll" after 4:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow in the city's $100,000,000-a-year taxi industry.

Union members have been ordered to "wipe all cabs off the street."

Police Held Ready

Two thousand policemen were held ready to step in if there is violence. Mayor William O'Dwyer says he is determined that there shall be no more of the beatings and overturning of cabs that marked strikes of past years.

Jack J. Jackman, spokesman for a large group of independent owner-drivers, charged the union had brought in men from southern mining towns. Jackman said these men would spearhead union flying squads and that if trouble resulted they would be to blame.

Leon Zwicker, director of the taxi union, denied that the men brought in are "goons"—strong-arm men.

Zwicker said 100 United Mine Workers organizers "from all over" are in the city helping the taxi union. "If there are any goons," he said, "they will be the operators' goons."

Union Reorganization Issue

Principal issue in the strike—voted Tuesday by more than 5,000 union drivers and taxi garage workers—is a demand for immediate union recognition without going through a representation election under state labor laws.

The union—local 35 of the taxi workers organizing committee—can not go to the National Labor Relations board because officers of the parent United Mine Workers have not signed non-Communist affidavits under the Taft-Hartley law.

Leaders of the taxi union say the state election would take too long and give the employers a chance to "stall, divide and conquer." There is no other union in the field.

Wage increases, if closed shop and other benefits are sought by the union.

Education Bill "Kill" Avoided

AUSTIN, March 31. (AP)—The red-hot Gilmer-Aikin public school bills today survived one quick-kill attempt in the House of Representatives.

The House then plunged into debate with a plea from Rep. Rae Files Still of Waxahachie that direction of the public schools in Texas be divorced from politics.

The attempt to block further consideration of the school bills this session was knocked down on a ruling from acting Speaker Pearce Johnson of Austin. He held that a resolution by Rep. William A. Miller of Houston, putting off further action until a special session, was improper.

Gallery Filled

Mrs. Still called the Gilmer-Aikin proposals "the best possible program for school children, administered the way it should be."

She was speaking of the reorganization bill that abolishes the elective office of state superintendent. No matter who holds that office, she said, it has to be run "politically and not on the basis of what's good for the school children."

The House gallery was filled again today, mostly with school teachers who listened attentively. The House sometimes was not so attentive and the speaker had to ask for order several times.

Many spectators were on the floor of the House. The Senate had adjourned until Monday after again stalling off consideration of a pending citrus commission bill and other legislation.

The Weather

HST Declares Deficit Would Be Dangerous

President Claims Tax Hike Will Not Bring Depression

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 31 — President Truman declared today that he still wants his anti-inflation program and higher taxes. He spoke of the recent drop in prices as only a temporary let up in inflation pressure.

At the same time, he said his request for stand-by price controls has been a factor in checking price rises.

Program Not Shelved

This administration program has not been shelved, Mr. Truman asserted, certainly not on the basis of any consultation with him.

As for taxes, the President said a federal deficit would be much more dangerous to the country's economic health than a tax increase.

Mr. Truman told a news conference that he does not agree with Senator George (D-Ga), chairman of the Senate finance committee, that a tax increase at this time might bring about a depression.

Is Prodding Congress

By these remarks, Mr. Truman was prodding Congress indirectly once again to follow his advice and increase taxes by $4,000,000,000.

George's view is that taking that much money out of the hands of the people would mean less spending for consumer goods and so contribute to a slackening of business.

What Mr. Truman argues is that it would be worse for the government to spend more than it takes in through taxes, creating a deficit in its accounts.

In his message to Congress last January, Mr. Truman proposed a $4,000,000,000 increase in taxes to come chiefly from corporations and perhaps from individuals in higher-income brackets. At a later news conference, he indicated he felt personal income taxes could be increased on people earning $6,000 or more a year.

Other Comments Made

The President's tax remarks were among several news conference comments in the economic field, He also said:

1. He is still sticking by his request that Congress give him stand-by power to put in rationing and price controls—that the idea has not been shelved.

His request for such anti-inflation legislation, he declared, is one of the main reasons that inflation has been temporarily held off. The proposed program, he added, has

Weather Fair, Cool In Texas

(By The United Press)

Fair and rather cool weather prevailed over most of Texas today as a cool air mass remained centered over the state.

The U. S. weather bureau in Dallas said the typical early spring weather should continue for at least 36 hours, except in the lower Rio Grande valley where temperatures remained warm.

Mercury Rises

The mercury rose to 91 degrees at Brownsville yesterday afternoon for the state's high. But at Amarillo the mid-afternoon top reading was 50 degrees.

Temperatures early today dropped below freezing at many northwestern points, with Dalhart having the chilliest reading—25 degrees. It was 27 at Amarillo, 30 at Lubbock and 31 at Clarendon. Van Horn, in Southwest Texas, also recorded a 31-degree mark.

Little Precipitation

The weatherman said there was relatively little precipitation in Texas during the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a. m. today. Beaumont, with .17 of an inch, recorded the heaviest fall. Houston had .15, Corpus Christi .11, and Victoria .09.

A slight warm up was expected this afternoon as northerly winds slowly diminished. They were averaging 15 to 20 miles per hour at mid-morning.

Bevin To Meet With Acheson On Peace Aims

Unity Of Western Germany Termed Most Vital Issue

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The Western nations began lining up their solid front today as British Foreign Secretary Bevin and Secretary of State Acheson scheduled the first of a series of major conferences.

While the main reason for Bevin's visit to this country is the signing of the North Atlantic security treaty Monday, the meetings were expected to cover the whole problem of reinforcing the unity of the West against Russia.

Diplomatic authorities agreed that by far the most important matters facing Bevin and Acheson—as well as French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman—concern western Germany.

Vital Issues At Stake

Schuman probably will see Acheson tomorrow and the three foreign ministers will make a determined effort to end policy differences preventing creation of a single German government over the American, British and French occupation zones.

Bevin takes the stand there will be no trouble settling this issue.

Other questions which may come up in the discussions, particularly between Bevin and Acheson, include:

(1) The security of the Middle Eastern countries such as Turkey, Greece and Iran; (2) the possibility of forming a Mediterranean defense treaty; and (3) how to block the spread of Communism in southeast Asia.

Taft Poses Problem

On his arrival yesterday from New York, Bevin said the Atlantic pact, which he and 11 other foreign ministers are to sign, will mean "peace for a long time."

In a radio talk last night, Chairman Taft (R-Ohio), of the Senate Republican policy committee suggested that such a pact, together with the prosposed rearmament of Europe, might lead Russia to attack "before these armaments are built up."

Others scheduled to arrive during the next two days include Foreign Ministers Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium, Joseph Bech of Luxembourg, D. U. Stikker of the Netherlands.

The foreign ministers of Iceland,

Doomed Widow Asking, In All Sincerity, For Some Advice

Death In Year--And $10,000 To Spend--That's Problem Faced By Lonely Woman In Oklahoma

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 31. — Death in 12 months—and $10,000 to spend before it comes . . .

What would you do?

An Oklahoma City woman—a middle-aged widow—doesn't know. But she is asking, in all sincerity, for advice.

Here is the background:

We'll call her Mrs. Heart.

She is 51. Doctors have told her a heart ailment probably will claim her within a year.

Mrs. Heart is moderately wealthy. She became a business woman after her husband was killed in the first World War, made wise investments, and used her money cautiously.

She sold her business eight years ago, ready to enjoy her financial harvest, to live in comparative luxury the rest of her life.

But then the doctor said only for a year.

Now she doesn't know what to do.

Mrs. Heart, through the Daily Oklahoman, has asked the public for advice. The newspaper has investigated her story.

It's neither publicity nor sympathy Mrs. Heart is seeking.

Just a simple request for help in deciding how best to spend $10,000.

As she puts it:

Air Force Transport Crashes; Six Are Believed To Be Dead

(By The Associated Press)

EDGAR SPRINGS, Mo., March 31—The small cattle pond where an Air Force C-47 plane crashed in a rainstorm last night was drained by dynamite blasting today to clear the way for a search for bodies.

Two bodies were taken out before the draining was begun. Four others were believed to be in the wreckage. If anyone parachuted before the crash he hadn't turned up.

Army and Air Force police held back a crowd of about 500 civilians while a crew worked at the pond.

The plane dropped out of a cloud and hit the pond—about 40 feet wide and 85 feet long—like a bullet on a bullseye, in water about seven feet deep.

An Air Force spokesman at Scott air base, Ill., originally said he understood secret documents were aboard the craft but later denied the statement after talking to Patterson field authorities. The duty officer at Wright field, O., declared: "We've been told not to give out any information regarding the subject of documents aboard."

Highway patrolmen left the scene around 2 a. m. (EST) and said Army authorities had taken

Industry Head Dies In Crash

LONDON, Ont., March 31. (AP) —Dr. Willard H. Dow, president of the vast Dow Chemical co., his wife and three other persons were killed today in the crash of their private plane near London, Ont.

The 52-year-old Midland, Mich. executive and his party were heading for Boston, Mass., when their plane plunged into the ground a mile from this Canadian city's airport. The time of the crash was 10:55 a. m.

The victims were identified as Dow; Mrs. Martha Dow; Mrs. Calvin Campbell, 45, of Midland; Pilot A. J. Bowie, Midland and Co-Pilot Fred Clements, Midland.

One Man Survives

Mrs. Campbell's husband, head of the Dow company's legal department, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital where his condition was pronounced "not to serious." Campbell, the only survivor, was conscious.

Aairport officials said icing conditions might have caused the crash.

The party took off from Tri-City airport near Midland at 9 a. m. planning to fly to Boston to attend a banquet tonight at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Faltering in bad weather, the plane fell into a farmer's field and burst into flames.

WASHINGTON, March 31 — A group dominated by New Deal Democrats called on the Senate today to investigate Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI on charges that he violated the law by tapping telephone wires.

The charge was based on the following statement by Hoover in a recent issue of the Yale Law Journal:

"It is no secret that the FBI does tap telephones in a very limited type of cases with the express approval in each instance of the attorney general, but only in cases involving espionage, sabotage, grave risks to internal security, or when human lives are in danger."

Signers Named

The request for an investigation was addressed to Chairman Pat McCarran, D., Nev., of the Senate judiciary committee in a letter signed by Paul A. Porter, Joseph L. Bauh, jr., and Vendell Berge, of Americans for Democratic Action, and Roger Baldwin, James Lawrence Fly and Arthur Garfield Hays of the American Civil Liberties Union. Porter and Fly are chairmen of the Federal Communication commission which consistently has battled against wire tapping by the FBI under any circumstances.

Americans for Democratic Action is the organization of New Deal Democrats which sought to prevent President Truman's nomination last June. It wanted either Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas or Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Ceiling Hikes Facing Delay; Decontrol Due

100 Areas Will Be Freed From Rules, Spokesman Claims

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Housing Expediter Tighe Woods today ordered a survey of landlord incomes. The findings will determine what rent increases are to be granted under the new control law.

Announcing the order in a statement, Woods declared the 15 month extension is a "considerable strengthening" of the previous law and does not mean "a general rent increase for all tenants."

The new law does require that rent ceilings allow landlords a "fair operating income." The survey is to obtain information for carrying out that part of the law.

To Issue Regulation

Woods said a new regulation will be issued governing rent boosts under the "fair income" clause after the survey is completed. Meantime, rent offices will continue to handle landlord petitions for increases on grounds of hardship.

A spokesman said Woods within the next week or so will also remove the ceilings in about 100 of the 600 rent areas of the country. Woods agreed to do that if Congress gave him power to restore ceilings in case of need.

Enough Housing

The idea is that in these 100 or so areas there is now enough housing so that rent ceilings are not necessary. Woods will take them off. But if rents pop way up, Woods will put ceilings back on.

Housing officials said the survey of landlord incomes probably will require several weeks. Until it is completed, no landlord will know whether he qualifies for a rent boost.

Woods concurred with President Truman. In signing the extension act late yesterday, the President issued a statement calling it "an effective" law, well equipped with enforcement teeth, and a "crushing defeat for the real estate lobby."

The rent agency understands that Congress intended some liberalization of ceilings, a spokesman said. There is no ground, he indicated, for the belief voiced by some Republicans during the debate that the "fair income" guarantee might mean merely the continuing of present standards.

On this point, Mr. Truman's stater ent said the law will help "to correct injustices against landlords."

"In particular, the act will be helpful in the case of any small

Matador Firms Named In Suit

AUSTIN, March 31. (U.P.)—Five retail groceries and one bakery at Matador were charged by Attorney General Price Daniel today with illegally attempting to fix the retail price of bread.

In an anti-trust action, filed here in 126th district court, Daniel received from Judge Jack Roberts a temporary restraining order enjoining the defendants from the alleged collusion.

The defendants were named in the petition as D. I. W. Birnie and Melvin Mason; Virgil Skaggs, Roy Biship, Lud Harris, W. I. Rushing, and Lee Roy Smith. All except Smith operate grocery stores. Smith operates a bakery and wholesale bread business.

Price Made Uniform

The state's petition alleged that in February, two of the defendant retail grocers were charging 15 cents per one pound loaf of bread and the other defendants were charging 17 cents. However, Daniel alleged that in March, all of the defendant grocers "agreed upon a retail price of 17 cents per one pound loaf and that since such date the retail price of bread has been uniform at all retail grocers in that city."

Smith, Daniel alleged, aided in obtaining agreement between all grocers on a uniform price.

The state's action seeks to permanently enjoin the alleged violations of the state's anti-trust laws.

Academy Award "Oscars" May Soon Become A Thing Of Past

HOLLYWOOD, March 31. (AP)—Chances increased today that the coveted academy award "oscars," symbols of excellence in the motion picture art, soon will become a collector's item.

Five top movie producers have come out flatly with an announcement they are stopping their contributions to the awards.

Robert Montgomery, secretary of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences says without their support, the oscars are a thing of the past.

The producers, in a joint statement from New York, indicated they are withdrawing financial aid to the awards to remove "any suspicion of company influence."

Companies Exploit Winners

Montgomery, academy secretary, declared last night:

"The academy is not in a financial position to sponsor the awards itself. And since the film companies benefit by the oscars, it seems only fair that they should help contribute to the presentation ceremony."

Montgomery pointed out that the companies exploit to the limit any academy award won by their pictures.

The producers stated they will continue "moral support" of awards in general, if based on "democratic selection."

The statement was signed by Nicholas M. Schenck of Loew's, (MGM) Barney Balaban of Paramount, Spyros P. Skouras of 20th Century-Fox, Maj. Albert Warner of Warner brothers and Ned Depinet of RKO.

"I don't know what they are talking about," Montgomery said. "The academy award process is completely democratic. And the academy itself is as democratic as the Grand Central station."

Charge Answered

The producers said they will support "the original functions of the academy . . . in technical fields." The academy does research work in pictures and acts as a storehouse for historical matter relating to the industry. It has 2,000 members, including actors, individual producers, cameramen and other artists and technicians.

The producers said they should not be in a position, as they have in the past, where they can be accused of "subsidizing an artistic and cultural forum."

The producer statement was in reply to charges by Jean Hersholt, academy president, that they were withdrawing support because "voices in the industry" wanted to make commercial pictures, unhampered by artistic standards.

The producers said their move was not a commercial one, but "in the interest of less commercialization."

The academy gave the top 1948 "oscar" to Sir Laurence Olivier's British film "Hamlet." It was the first time a foreign picture had received this award.

"The only thing I regret in the whole mess," said Montgomery, "is the rumbling dissent over the British picture winning it. I'd say it was bad sportsmanship."

Grocer Won't Play 'Robbers' Anymore

MIAMISBURG, O., March 31 (AP)—Neighborhood youngsters have been going into Wilbur Karpur's grocery here and playing a "holdup" game with the 65-year-old man.

So, when a youth entered the store yesterday, a gun in hand and his face covered with a handkerchief, Karpur only laughed when he was ordered to get behind the counter.

The intruder pocketed his gun and struck Karpur on the head with a homemade blackjack, then fled as the grocer threw a pop bottle at him.

It took six stitches to close the wound in Karpur's head. He isn't playing the "holdup" game any more.

Sale Of Ammunition For Gun Held Illegal

West German State Pending

BONN, Germany, March 31. (AP)—Members of the constitutent assembly made another try today at reaching agreement on a constitution for the west German state proposed by the United States, Britain and France.

The assembly's committee of elders was called into session to try to iron out different opinions on tax and spending powers.

The Social Democratic party (SPD) announced after a caucus late yesterday they would continue to insist that a strong central government be supreme over the states in monetary matters.

Differences Stated

The SPD, with 27 of the 65 assembly seats, is one of the two major parties in western Germany.

The Christian Democratic union (CDU), also with 27 seats, favors giving more power to the states, and less to the federal government. This is in line with recommendations of the three occupying powers.

The Christian Democrats asked the Social Democrats to agree on a compromise.

But the Social Democrats, who are Socialists, said they would refuse to accept the Western powers' recommendations on financial provisions of the constitution.

The deadlock blocks assembly action, since a two-thirds vote is necessary to adopt a constitution.

Sawdust Diet For Cows May Be Boon To U. S. Timber Industry

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 31 (AP) Science is getting along right well in its effort to convert hay-burning cows to a sawdust diet.

Dr. H. K. Benson, chemist, told the National Farm Chemurgic council today some cows in the west are the guinea pigs in this experiment.

They developed a liking for a molasses made from yeast and sugar, produced from sawdust. They appear to be thriving on it. The diet has to be tested a while longer before the scientists decide it could become big business, using a great proportion of sawdust and wood products that now are mostly waste.

Cost Is Sought

Dr. Benson, retired head of the department of chemistry at the University of Washington, said the yeast contains vitamins and the sugar is a high energy food. He hopes it will cut the cost of producing beef.

The government is building pilot plants to see what the cost of production will be in large quantities. The molasses is mixed with other animal foods.

Dr. Benson said the idea of changing old bossie's diet to sawdust was born in plants the government built during the war to make alcohol from wood. The alcohol was needed for making rubber. Some of these plants no longer are needed for rubber.

The new livestock feed has been produced in pilot plants at Madison, Wis., and has been fed to cows in Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

"In time we may make the timber industry so efficient, by using all its byproducts, we will be utilizing everything but the song of the buzz saw," Dr. Benson said.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Conditions Return To Normal After Bloodless Coup In Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria, March 31. (U.P.)—Syria, under firm army control after a bloodless coup yesterday, reopened its frontiers and communications today and reportedly was preparing to go ahead with armistice talks with Israel.

Army leaders who overthrew and arrested Premier Khaled El-Azam and his cabinet lifted the strict curfew in Damascus. Shops reopened and life in the capital was back to normal.

Traffic was resumed across Syria's borders with Lebanon and Trans-Jordan. Telephonic communications cut when the coup was launched also were resumed.

Hundreds of students marched through Damascus streets waving banners and cheering the "liberation" of their country.

Deposed President Shukri Al-Kouwatly, along with Premier Al-Azam and government ministers, was held in a Damascus hospital. Reliable reports from other Middle-Eastern capitals said Syria's delegates to the United Nations, Faris El-Khoury and Emir Adel Arslan, have tried in vain to persuade Al-Kouwatly to resign.

His resignation would pave the way for a completely new government. Unconfirmed reports said army leaders of the coup planned to hand over temporary control of the country to a provisional government headed by El-Khoury, a former premier, and former President Hashem El-Atassi.

Meantime, Col. Husni Al-Zaim, army chief of staff and commander of the gendarmarie, continued at the head of a military junta ruling the country.

Elections Planned

(Reports from Middle-Eastern capitals said Al-Zaim has decided to dissolve the Syrian parliament and call country-wide elections within 20 days to form the basis for a constitutional government.)

Informed sources said Al-Zaim was preparing to go ahead with armistice negotiations with Israel under United Nations auspices. El-Azam's government had agreed last week to enter into negotiations with Israeli covering the northeast sector of the Palestine front.

U. S. Marine Gen. William Riley, chief of staff to acting UN Palestine Mediator Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, arrived in Damascus Tuesday night almost simultaneously with the start of the coup for an attempt to arrange the Syrian-Israeli talks.

Peace Backers Keep Schedule

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP)—Although eastern European delegates have been ordered out of the country, a "world peace" rally plans to go on a cross-country tour without them.

Sponsors said yesterday plans for the tour would not be abandoned, despite a State department ban against participation by 18 visitors from Russia and neighboring countries.

The sponsoring group, the National Council of Arts, Sciences and professions, said the State department's action would "convince more and more Americans that the department does not want . . . a truly free exchange of information between the American people and cultural leaders from eastern European countries."

The department, in ordering the 18 to leave within "a reasonable time," said they were admitted to the U. S. only for the "world peace" conference in New York City last week, and not for any tour. It expressed the view prior to the New York meeting that that session would be a "sounding board for Communist propaganda."

Famous Composer Included

New York's district immigration director, Edward J. Shaughnessy, said the group must leave within "a week at the most" or "it will be necessary for us to take steps."

Several of the delegates already have booked passage home.

Among those ordered to leave is Dmitri Shostakovich, world famous Russian composer, who was billed as the star attraction of the scheduled peace meetings in various cities.

Sponsors said they had cancelled several lectures and concerts, but would hold a series of meetings to report on the New York conference. These will be attended by U. S. intellectuals, and those from nations not included in the government ban, the council said.

Meetings are tentatively scheduled at New Haven, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Detroit, St. Louis, Denver and Los Angeles.

Antique Collections Seen In Mrs. J. H. Comer's Home

"Brighten the corners" is the idea behind the interior decoration scheme of Mrs. J. H. Comer in her home at 1614 Ave. Q.

Mrs. Comer, a small cheery woman, has brightened not only the corners of her rooms, but also the entire home with lamps, bright ornaments and greenery.

"Her home is filled with antique pieces of furniture, vases, pictures, china and silver dishes, which she has collected through the years. Large mirrors on almost every wall reflect and re-reflect her collections, creating an effect of spaciousness even in the smaller rooms. Mrs. Comer cherishes her mirrors, for, she says, they "double the beauty."

Collection Started

"It really came as a surprise to me when I discovered I had a 'collection'," she declares. "I have traveled a great deal in the United States, and when I saw something I wanted for my home, I just got it. But in my early years I never dreamed I would have as many things around me as I do."

Totally cosmopolitan in outlook, her living room holds an Italian alabaster lamp on a table made of China teak. The mechanism of the grandfather clock came from Germany, and another table holds vases from France. A four-poster bed was sent to Louisiana from France more than a century ago, and is covered with a heavy spread, hand-made in Georgia. A Chinese cabinet, printed with cherry trees and pagodas, stands in a corner.

Her silver ware is a collector's dream. She has two complete silver services, two other sterling coffee pots, a dozen silver goblets and curiously decorated fruit juice cups, as well as many other trays, heavy candlesticks, compotes and miscellaneous pieces.

China in her collection includes a Wedgewood set from England, and other sets from France, Bavaria and the United States, as well as odd plates from other nations. Her most treasured plate is of hand-painted crackleware, bearing an old-fashioned picture of a boy and a girl, and the date of her wedding to the late Mr. Comer, Aug. 22, 1895.

Among the rarer articles in the home is a clock with a wooden mechanism, made many years ago in Europe. The clock still runs, with a curious clicking sound.

Dark Spots Covered

Mrs. Comer cannot bear a dull, dark spot. When her mahogany doors proved too dark for her taste, she clipped flower designs from rough wall paper, pasted them on and covered the door with clear shellac. Seen from a short distance, the effect is that of an oil painting.

"It brightens the corners," she explained. "And look," she continued, pointing to a fine old French mirror across the room, "with a morror, it brightens two corners."

Not everything in Mrs. Comer's home would be valuable to a collector interested only in money. She chooses decorative items for their color and gaity, rather than price.

Anniversary Is Celebrated By Lockney Couple

LOCKNEY, March 31 (Special) Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Huls, residents of Lockney for 21 years, observed their 60th wedding anniversary Friday.

The couple, married March 25, 1889, at the bride's home near Paola, Kas., have moved only twice in their 60 years together —once to Hanna, Okla., and later to Lockney.

The six living children of Mr. and Mrs. Huls, along with most of their 10 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren, were on hand to help them celebrate.

Mr. Huls, 85, and Mrs. Huls, 78, were both born in Miami county, Kansas, and were reared within six miles of each other.

In 1905 Mr. Huls went to Hanna, Okla., purchased some land and moved his family there in 1906, one year before statehood. He recalls that he hewed logs for an addition on his house when he first moved to Hanna, and that the community had one Indian scare after he moved there.

Active in public life, Mr. Huls has served as tax assessor, township clerk and road overseer in Kansas, and as township clerk, justice of the peace and mayor of Hanna.

In 1927 the couple began considering moving to Texas. With his son-in-law, S. G. Miller, Mr. Huls traded land in Kent county, Texas, for a drug store in Lockney, now called Lockney Drug company. Mr. Miller was made manager, a position he still holds, and Mr. Huls still retains his interest in the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Huls' six children include Mrs. S. G. Miller, Lockney; Mrs. Marie McLain, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Leslie G. Huls, Perkins, Okla.; Phil Huls, Eufaula, Okla.; Lloyd Huls, also of Eufaula; and Glen Huls of Stamford. One daughter, Mrs. C. B. Bernham, died at Hanna 34 years ago.

Mary Haworth's Mail . . .

Hypocritical Aunt Reveals Disturbing Secret To Niece During Recent Visit

DEAR Mary Haworth: I am a girl 18, and last fall when I was visiting my father's sister in another city, we were talking about young girls' deportment, etc., and she told me my parents got married just three months before I was born.

She said it was necessary for my father to come home from a post he held several thousand miles away, in order to make mother "an honest woman," as she termed it. I had noticed my birth date and their marriage date wasn't entered in the family Bible, but thought nothing much of it. Aunt Kit said she brought up the ubject wondering if my birth record was in order.

My parents have always been highly respected in our community, and I have always adored them. The other girls' parents have never inquired much about where we were going, or how late we would stay, if my mother approved. All my school chums have commented, when visiting us, how fine my parents are; and I have been ever so proud of them.

GIRL CAN'T RECONCILE STORY WITH HER IDEAS

THIS is a terrible blow. I simply can't reconcile what I have heard with the goodness and sweetness my mother has always shown everyone. I don't feel I can have faith in anyone again. I have worried over the matter until my school work is affected; and recently a school authority called me in, inquired if I were having "boy trouble" and told me to discuss whatever problem I had with my parents. But I simply can't.

I think my father suspects something, however. Recently he wrote Aunt Kit that it wouldn't be convenient for her to visit us this Spring, though I don't know why; and recently he asked me what is wrong with me. He said he hoped I would never do anything to hurt my mother, that she was always a wonderful woman, while he had been a bit wild in his college days, as quite a few of his colleagues were.

Will you please advise me how I should feel about this, and what I should do—as I cannot get over the shock, and cannot discuss it with anyone I know.

GIRL IS FLOORED BY AUNT'S VENOM

DEAR V. C.: The shock isn't due to your parents' love story, now ancient history. It is due to your Aunt Kit's dastardly thrust last fall. You are floored by her sneak attack on your mother — against which you had no defense.

It was a shattering experience, of course, to "feel" the venom, the coiled destructive hate, implicit in her devious gossip about your natal history. And incidentally, her alleged concern about your birth record is hypocritical hogwash. It is "in order." You are quite legitimate, for after all you were born in wedlock, even if the marriage was a bit late.

You absorbed the poison of Aunt Kit's attitude and concluded, unconsciously, that all who know, or might hear of the story, would echo her sly smear-talk. But don't be silly. Aunt Kit is jealous of your mother for various reasons—but mostly because you and your father love her so dearly, and because you've tended to put her on a pedestal, due to her good mothering of you.

HERE'S what to think of your parents: Spiritually they have grown up since the years when your father was wild and thoughtless in courtship. There is nobility in your father's statement that your mother was always a wonderful person; and there is mature virtue in her "goodness and sweetness" to everyone.

They are greatly devoted, as your father's testimony shows. They are greatly respected in the community where you live, which means that in marriage they have weathered every test of social worth. And they have given you warmhearted love and security. What more could you ask of parents?

For advice: Give your dad a break. He wants to know what's wrong, so tell him confidentially.

I'm sure he's big enough to meet the subject with delicacy and dignity, and that he would welcome a chance to help you recover from Aunt Kit's poison-dose. A heart-to-heart talk with him should (1) bring your filial feelings back to normal and (2) add considerably to your growth as a person.

Needle In Haystack Only Small Puzzler

HOBART, Okla., March 31. (U.P.) The classic needle in the haystack is a small puzzler indeed compared with the one in Mrs. Leonard Portwood's little toe.

Mrs. Portwood, who has a closet full of shoes she can't bear to wear, found out why when she limped to a doctor's office. An x-ray showed a phonograph needle imbedded above the joint of the little toe on her right foot.

No jitterbug or phonograph fan, the Hobart woman says she has no idea how the needle got in. She just knows she wants it out.

Four Arrested In Gas Theft

Police arrested four youths, one of them a juvenile, for investigation into theft of gasoline from transfer and storage trucks, and held as "hostage" an automobile in connection with their search for a suspect in a gasoline-stealing incident in another part of town.

Patrolmen N. H. Lassiter and Lynn Campbell were inspecting the warehouse district when they observed a light sedan driven by a youth. He was stopped, and the three other youths were on the railroad at Twenty-third and Ave. F, the patrolmen said.

Theft Is Admitted

The youths admitted stealing gasoline from transfer and storage trucks, the patrolmen said, and "showed us two five-gallon cans of gasoline and a hose."

All were jailed by the city except the juvenile, who was released to his father after being taken to the juvenile ward of county jail.

Police said J. H. Schenk and Cecil Trull, patrolmen, found "gasoline flowing" through a tube from the car of a resident of 3400-block Twenty-first into another gasoline can.

License Is Traced

The patrolmen said they hid to watch, but that someone who drove up without lights in the suspect car apparently "heard a noise and ran," for no one was around it when the officials closed in.

The license number of the car had been traced, however and an arrest was expected momentarily.

A 29-year-old Lubbock negro was held last night in city jail on informal charges of theft over $50 —two truck tires from B. F. Goodrich store at 1112 Main.

No charge had been filed.

The negro, in a statement to City Detective Robert West, admitted taking the tires from his place of employment and selling them to another party. Two other tires, valued at about $75 each, were also missing from the store, police said.

Peace Bond Set

Peace bond of $200 was set Wednesday afternoon for Curtis Lee, 22, of Lubbock, upon affidavit of Guy E. Keels that Lee had threatened Feb. 25 to take Keels' life. The hearing was in justice court of D. W. Robertson.

Coleman Steen, 40, a negro, posted $750 bond after pleading innocent of a county court charge of liquor law violation.

Commercial Truck company, located at 713 Texas Ave., complained to police that six windshields and a rear window of trucks had been broken there by boys shooting BB guns.

New "VA Chorus" Is Organized In City

"The VA Chorus,' 'composed of Veterans administration regional office employes, was organized Monday night with approximately 35 members attending. During a short business meeting Ted Goldsby was elected president; Rose James, vice-president; and Ina May Stewart, secretary-treasurer

Dick Richards, director of the Tech Boys Glee club, will direct the chorus. It was agreed that during the month of April the group would meet each Monday night from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. In the future the practice time will be from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. Present plans are to form several trios and quartets from the mixed chorus.

Robert W. Sisson, manager of the Veterans administration regional office, brought about the organization of the group, stating that he felt it would further goodwill and fellowship among the employes and at the same time be a source of entertainment to civic and veterans' organizations before whom they may appear.

Crash Victims Are Improved

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Rodden, of 413 Ave. H, who were seriously injured Wednesday night in an auto collision at Texas avenue and Twenty-third, both were reported in improved condition in West Texas hospital today.

The accident occurred at about 10:45 p. m. Wednesday.

Gerald Martin Dunlap, 21, of 2433 Twenty-fourth, driver of the car which was in collision with the Rodden vehicle, escaped injury.

The Roddens were in a 1939 Ford coach. Dunlap was in a 1940 model DeSota sedan.

Face Is Cut

Mrs. Rodden, 35, most seriously hurt, suffered a laceration of the right leg and a chest injury, possibly involving broken ribs and a punctured lung, an attending physician said at midnight.

Mr. Rodden, 38, a Watkins products salesman, had a deep laceration of the right knee, a laceration above the right eye, and a strained neck and shoulder. Glass fragments from the broken bottles among his wares were also imbedded in his face when he reached the hospital.

Investigation Is Continued

The sequence of events leading up to the mishap were as follows, police reports said:

Rodden had driven to Mead's bakery in 2200-block Texas where his wife was employed, and had left the bakery after picking her up. They drove a part of a block south on Texas and were making a left turn onto Twenty-third when the crash happened.

Dunlap was driving north on Texas avenue and his car collided with the right side of Rodden's car, turning the latter vehicle over on the left side and knocking it approximately 30 feet with the force of the impact.

Both machines were badly damaged, and Rodden's car was almost demolished by the terrific impact. Bystanders attracted to the scene helped right the machine to free the two injured persons.

A police patrol car carrying Patrolmen Cecil Dickey and W. C. Johnson was close behind Dunlap when the collision occurred and immediately called the ambulance and members of the traffic division of the police department.

Investigation in the case was to be continued today, officers said.

10 Percent Decline In Living Costs Is Forecast For 1949

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, March 31—A decline of about 10 percent in the cost of living can be expected in the coming year "barring wars and weather," says the U. S. Commissioner of Labor Statistics.

But there is little reason to anticipate a greater decrease, Dr. Evan Clague told a meeting of the International Association of Public Employment Services last night.

Food prices should continue downward unless buoyed up by the international situation or climatic conditions, he said.

Cautioning that the public should not expect too much in the way of adjustment, Dr. Clague said consumer prices neither rise as rapidly nor fall as far as wholesale prices.

Dr. Clague said rents today are about 20 percent above their 1924 peak. If controls were to be removed now, he warned, rents would rise substantially and remain high for a number of years.

To offset this, he said, the average weekly earnings of wage-earners also reached their all-time high of $55 last December. This figure, in relation to current prices, gave wage-earners the most effective purchasing power they have had since V-J day, he declared.

Unemployment during February reached a postwar high of 3,750,000 and is likely to increase as much as 600,000 this year, Dr. Clague said. This increase will be caused by school and college graduations and the additional discharge of service men, he explained.

As more and more firms, in a contracting market, are forced to take labor costs into consideration many smaller businesses will go under, Dr. Clague predicted. Marginal workers will lose their jobs in the larger businesses, he said.

In 1950 and thereafter, Dr. Clague said, vast community effort will be needed to meet the still unsolved problem of what to do with older employes.

New occupations will have to be devised for workers between 45 and 65 years of age who no longer are wanted in business and industry, Dr. Clague said, because many of these people will not want to retire or go on pension and would rather be kept in useful employment.

Roy Autry To Head Telephone Company

Roy Autry, former Lubbock resident who moved to Dallas several weeks ago when Southwestern Associated Telephone company moved its general offices there from Lubbock, Wednesday was named president of that telephone company, according to an Associated Press dispatch from New York City.

Autry succeeds R. B. Fairly, also a Lubbock resident until the company's move to Dallas this past month, who was named chairman of the board. At the time of his election to the company presidency, Autry was vice president and general manager of the telephone company.

The announcement from New York said that the change anticipated Fairly's automatic retirement as an employe next Dec. 31 under the company's pension plan, after which he is expected to continue as a director and board chairman.

The company, a subsidiary of General Telephone Corp., provides local and long distance telephone service to nearly 400 communities in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Louisiana. The company had maintained its main offices in the Myrick building here for a number of years until the recent removal to Dallas in order to be more centrally located among its holdings.

Autry, active in Lubbock in various civic projects, and his family resided at 2101 Thirtieth while in Lubbock.

Courthouse Plans Expected By May 1

The architectural firm of Haynes and Kirby has commited itself to place plans and specifications of a proposed new county courthouse in the hands of the county commissioners court "not later than May 1," County Judge Walter Davies informed the court at a special called business meeting this morning.

Judge Davies said that would allow advertising of bids in May and opening of bid proposals about June 1.

The public approved an issue of $1,500,000 in bonds in 1946, for construction of a new courthouse to replace the present one completed in 1917 and to add to county jail. All except $250,000 of the bonds have been marketed.

Texas Crop Prospects Given Hike By Increased Rainfall

BY BOB WEDDLE
United Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, March 31 — With spring hardly more than a week old, prospects appeared bright over Texas as a whole today for one of the best growing seasons in several years.

Moisture conditions were reported favorable in most of Texas' agricultural areas. However, as scattered showers continued to fall, the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Austin said some areas had received too much rain.

This was in sharp contrast to last spring, when much of the state suffered from severe drouth conditions and only scattered sections received ample rainfall.

Spring Activity Slowed

But observers were quick to point out that there still is plenty of time for dry weather to move in and play havoc with the auspicious signs of early spring.

The USDA reported that spring field activity this week has been confined largely to well-drained sandy soils, with rains continuing to fall over large areas. The rains were generally light, but were sufficient to keep farmers out of the fields in the coastal and East Texas counties.

Spring plowing and planting was falling behind in those sections, with cotton, corn and rice fields too wet for working.

At the same time, however, reports showed wheat, oats and other small grains to be making good progress. Prospects appeared good for a bumper wheat crop in the Panhandle and in the Wichita Falls area.

At Amarillo, Potter county agricultural agent Art Bralley pointed out that "wheat prospects now are very encouraging. Excellent underground conditions are providing moisture for unusually rapid growth of wheat."

Cattle Are Poisoned

The Panhandle picture had its gloomy side too, as wheat poisoning was blamed for the loss of an estimated 1,500 head of cattle in 34 counties. The poisoning was attributed to grazing cattle on wheat which has grown rapidly during the last few weeks under the stimulus of ample moisture.

But in the same 34 counties, wheat growers said prospects were "extremely good." They forecast a record yield. Memphis, Hereford, Dalhart, Paducah and other Panhandle points reported better than average rainfall.

According to Jim Roach of the Wichita Falls Record News, farmers in Wichita county and the 19-county surrounding area will produce one of the best grain crops in several years—with a few more spring rains and continued warm weather.

Last week's rain in Wichita county was termed a "lifesaver" for grain crops. Wheat began to show up much better in Clay county, where the rains also provided plenty of water for livestock. Wise County Agent Tom Roof said the wheat crop in his area appeared better than did the 12-to-15-bushel-per-acre crop of last year. Farmers expect a yield this year of 15 to 18 bushels.

Grains Take Beating

Small grains in Jack county took a beating from hard winter weather. Wheat crops were termed only "fair." The same situation existed in Archer county, where last year's drouth depleted the water supply of Archer City to the extent that water had to be imported. But recent rains have improved the outlook. A bumper crop appeared possible if more rain falls when needed.

F. W. Martin, Haskell county agent, said the 85,000 acres of wheat in the county were well on the way to producing a heavy yield. Knox county farmers, their crops in good shape at present, were keeping their fingers crossed for continued good weather until harvest time.

Farmers in Jones county optimistically look for the best crop the county has produced in 15 to 20 years. They noted the absence of green bug trouble and pointed to a moisture penetration of 26 inches. Wheat acreage has been placed at 60,000.

Wilbarger county was optimistic over it's 100,000 acres of wheat, while 70,000 acres in Childress county was making a good show. Good conditions also were reported in Foard county, with 86,000 acres of wheat, and in Cottle and Hardeman counties.

In the South Plains—the state's heaviest cotton-producing area — the sub-soil moisture was said to be "better than at the same time in many years." According to the soil conservation service in Fort Worth, crop conditions were reported good throughout most of West Texas.

Less Moisture Reported

The lower Rio Grande valley was unique in that it reported less than average rainfall so far this year. Sources anticipated heavy demands on irrigation facilities, due to large cotton acreage.

Records indicate 769,578 acres of cotton have been planted in Cameron, Hidalgo and Willacy counties, compared with 591,100 acres last year.

Tomato acreage was about 60 per cent of normal because of the severe January freeze. Some farmers planted cotton where tomato plants were frozen out. Evidence of some blight and fruit worm eggs and young worms was present.

Next year's citrus crop still remained a big question, as estimates indicated some 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 trees were being pulled out. Those figures included normal cutting of white grapefruit trees to make room for the more profitable red variety, as well as the trees damaged by the freeze.

Farmers near Olney, in Throckmorton, Archer and Young counties, were preparing to defend their 1949 grain crops against two looming threats—grasshoppers and sunflowers. They planned to combat the menaces by aerial spraying, using chlorodane for the insects and 2,4-D for the sunflowers.

Rainfall reports throughout Central Texas showed rainfall to date this year was above average at virtually all points. The same area last year suffered acutely from drouth conditions. Austin's fall was 1.51 inches above average, College Station 3.30, Comanche 4.34, Corsicana 2.19, Llano 2.14, Mexia 1.17, San Marcos 2.25, Taylor 1.66, Temple 2.07 and Waco .76.

Comedian Fred Allen Talks Himself Out Of Being In Movie

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 31.—Fred Allen, busy turning down radio and television offers, has added a new triumph:

"I just talked a guy out of putting me in a movie."

Allen is a fast-talking man with baggy eyes and high blood pressure. The latter is the reason he has decided to bow out of radio after this season.

Death Shatters Doubts

If he had any doubts about his decision, they were shattered with the sudden death of his friend Jack Kapp, Decca record boss. Show business folk always slow down for a while when one of their number dies suddenly.

Allen's health is not the sole reason he is hopping off the airlanes. "Everything in radio is in a turmoil," he told me. "Nobody knows what is funny."

Tax Favorite Topic

And there is that favorite topic among star performers—taxes.

"I figured out that out of 39 shows a year, I do 31 for nothing. Why should I work so hard just to get paid for those eight shows? I might better be doing guest shots or writing for Jack Benny."

This might seem surprising in view of the Allen-Benny "feud." Among other things, Allen has accused the comedian of being unable to ad lib a belch after a Hungarian dinner. Actually, the feud exists only in such quips. Both admire each other as creative comedians.

Motorists Continue Registration Rush

Motorists Wednesday continued the last minute rush to get vehicle registration tags before the Friday midnight deadline arrives.

All vehicles requiring registration must have 1949 license plates to operate legally on Saturday morning.

Total registrations through yesterday as announced from the office o. J. B. Johnston, tax assessor-collector, were: Passenger vehicles, 19,500; commercial vehicles, 3,000; farm trucks, 1,350; motorcycles, 40; trailers, 350.

In order to facilitate registration during the last few days before the deadline, five sub-stations have been set up in addition to the tax office on the main floor of the county court house. Raider Trackmen Leave For Austin Today

Tech's Cinder Squad Slashed

Coach Maxey McKnight, accompanied by eight Texas Tech trackmen, was scheduled to leave College Inn this morning at 8:30 for Austin and the Texas Relays, one of the nation's greatest track and field events.

The Red Raider coach, sick over the bad weather that had hampered track work at every turn this spring, decided at the last minute to out down on the number of men he would take. He had thought he would take 10 to 12 men, but weather so badly hurt workouts that he changed his mind.

Will Return Sunday

The Techsans are making the trip in private cars and will return to Lubbock Sunday.

Despite the fact that the squad is considerably smaller than had been anticipated, McKnight feels that he is taking a stronger squad than normal. Every man going to Austin has been better than average in workouts and most of them are able to perform in more than one event.

Ed Clepper, who was the standout at Fort Worth, will head the team going into action at Austin. Clepper will run the high hurdles, in which he placed third, and the high jump, in which he tied for second. He also will be a member of the sprint relay team.

McKnight also is counting on Charley Reynolds, the sprint king of the Techsans. Reynolds has been coming along slowly this spring, reporting overweight and generally in poor condition. He failed to place at Fort Worth, but has rounded into form the past two weeks.

Another Red Raider prospect is Charley Pinnell, whose track activities were slowed down by the fact that he had been out for basketball. Pinnell has begun to run the 120-yard low hurdles in the form that won many points last year.

Reynolds will run the century and 220-yard dashes as well as on the mile relay team. Pinnell will run the low hurdles and the high jump.

Other Raiders making the trip will be Costin Bufkin, Ben Wilson and Joe Wilson, all of whom will run the 440-yard dash and form the mile relay team; and Seth Murphey and Moon Mullins in the dashes and on the sprint relay team.

Golf Meet At Lamesa Opens

The first golf tournament of the season to be sponsored by the West Texas Pro-Amateur Golf association has attracted linksters from both the Lubbock Country club and the Meadowbrook Publinx Golf club today.

Herbert Schroeder, Country club pro, said that he would make the trip to Lamesa, accompanied by five amateurs from Lubbock. They include Ray Biggers, Roy Cooper, J. B. McCauley, O. A. Terry and Chick Trout, sr.

Paul Jones, Meadowbrook club pro, said that the same number would accompany him to the matches. With Jones will go J. F. Nicholson, Sloan Fortenberry, Fred Hinson, Allen Orr and J. D. Horne, all amateurs.

In the 18-hole women's water hole and low putt tourney yesterday at the Country club, Mrs. John Markham won the water hole meet and Mrs. O. D. McCoy took the low putt contest.

The nine-hole low net and low putt contests were won by Mrs. C. O. Campbell and Mrs. Culver Hill respectively.

Lamesa is making plans for an entry list of approximately 75 golfers, including 15 or more pros. Golfers are expected from Mineral Wells, Abilene, Amarillo, San Angelo, Big Spring, Pecos, Odessa and Midland.

Play will be in foursomes, one pro and three amateurs, with prizes of cash to the winning pro and merchandise or trophies for the amateurs.

GALEY'S HIT WINS CLOSE TILT

Westerners Shade Tech Nine, 8 To 7

Staging two rallies, the Westerner baseball team defeated a potent Texas Tech Independent team, 8-7, yesterday at Chapman field diamond.

The win was the fifth straight for the high school club and the fourth game won by one run. Earlier this week Morton was defeated by the same score.

Both teams gave up seven errors, and the Tech crew outhit the Westerners. The losers collected seven safe knocks, including two home runs, and the Westerners were only able to hit safely four times.

The winning pitcher was Bennie Day, and the loser was Arch Campbell. Hitting home runs for the losers were Sam De Stefano and Cannon. Cannon's blow came with two men aboard in the sixth inning. Dick Mattanck had two hits, one a double.

Bobby Brown and Morris Turner had one hit in two official trips to the plate for the Westerners. Dean White drove in one run with a single in the seventh in his only appearance at bat, and Charlie Galey won the ball game with a hit in the bottom of the eighth inning, scoring Brown from third base. In addition Galey scored three runs and turned in a nice job in field. The winning hit was good for at least a triple, but officially it was only a single.

Jim Wilson started on the mound for the Westerners, pitching one inning. The first man up, Bob McNeil, hit a scratch single behind first base. Loose fielding by the Westerners allowed McNeil to score, three errors being committed in the first inning.

The Westerners scored two runs in their half of the first inning on seven consecutive walks by Pitcher Dick Robinson. Two Westerners, Dan Adkisson and Jimmy Richards, were caught off third base and put out. Campbell came in with two outs and the bases loaded and struck out Jimmy Sexton to retire the side.

The Independents pushed across five runs in the sixth inning, after the Westerners had gone ahead, 3-1, in the third, on three hits and three errors, including Cannon's home run and a double by Mittanck.

Three errors, two walks, and one hit allowed four Westerner runs in the seventh inning which put them ahead, 7-6.

De Stafano's homer in the eighth tied the score, but the Westerners bounced back in their half of the inning to win the game. Brown singled, Richards and Fullerton got on base on errors, and Galey drove the winning run across the plate.

Friday afternoon at Chapman field diamond the Westerners will play Childress High school, beginning at approximately 4 o'clock.

Pampa Boxers Meet Lockney

LOCKNEY, March 31. (Special) Boxing teams from Pampa and Lockney will mix it up here tomorrow night in the third high school boxing card of the season for the undefeated Lockney Longhorns.

The fights, which will begin at 8:15 p. m. in the high school gym, are expected to attract that largest crowd of the season.

Pampa Replaces Lakeview

Pampa takes the place of Lakeview High school, which originally was scheduled for tonight. But Lakeview was unable to meet the engagement and the match has been cancelled.

There will be 15 bouts on the card and Lockney is expected to face its stiffest test of the season. Pampa has a strong squad, but the Longhorns also have one of the finest teams on the Plains. Coach Curtis Kelley's crew has yet to meet defeat.

Pampa has a well balanced team with several seasoned boxers among the number. Leon Kelley and Francis Hunt of Pampa both have expressed a desire to meet Calvin Pyle, the hard-hitting Lockney middleweight, who has yet to taste defeat. It would be Hunt's second attempt at licking Pyle, the Pampa pugilist losing a decision to Pyle in the Amarillo Golden Gloves high school division.

Kelley Is Pampa Hope

Kelley is Pampa's heavyweight hope and recently won the championship in the Plainview tournament. But when one of the two fails to get his wish, he will face Donnie Bybee of Lockney in the card's second top fight.

A welterweight scrap that should produce plenty of action will pit Pampa's Jimmy Bowers against Lockney's Ray Ferguson, a freshman. Ferguson has been sensational in his first two bouts, stopping both opponents in the first round.

The fights begin at 8:15 in the high school gym and a capacity crowd is expected to be on hand.

Baylor Bears Meet Texas Nine Today

(By The United Press)

Baylor's Bears will attempt to keep their lead in the Southwest conference baseball standings today at the expense of the Texas Longhorns, the defending champion.

Baylor, in the only conference game played this season, automatically jumped to the top of the standings by outslugging Southern Methodist, 14-13, last Monday.

Tradition will be against the Bears Thursday, however.

They will be playing the Longhorns on their home field at Austin, where Texas has won its last 35 conference games, including 11 against Baylor.

Dallas Eagles Drub Little Rock, 15-4

DALLAS, March 31. (U.P.)—The Dallas Eagles showed their long-heralded power last night as they crushed the Southern association's Little Rock Travelers, 15-4.

Ben Guintini paced the 13-hit Dallas attack as he rapped out a pair of homers, one of them with two teammates aboard.

Gov. Sidney S. McMath of Arkansas was an honor guest at the game.

DiMaggio Past Initial Hurdle

ST. PETERSBURGH, Fla., Mar. 31. (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, the New York Yankees $90,000 "if," smiled as he peeled off a sock in the clubhouse at Miller Huggins field. The old toothy grin was back.

"I'm afraid I'll play another year. Every blankety blank inning he said. "It looke like I'll have to work for my money."

DiMag had just passed his first test with flying colors. The tender right heel that threatened to end his great career gave him no trouble in a six-inning chore against Cincinnati. It was his first start.

Pain Not Gone

"The pain is not completely gone.55 said Joe, if it the heel) improves a little more, I'll be very happy.

"After the first workout (March 1) I thought I'd have to hang up. Now I feel like I could play nine. I would have, too, but Casey Sengey said 'don't overdo it.'

"Not until I get on base will I know for sure what I can do. But I don't expect any reaction. If it holds up, I'll be in good shape."

DiMaggio, the highest priced player in Yankee history at $90,000 per year, underwent an opedation for removal of a spur from his right heel during the winter. Although it appeared completely healed, he overdid it in the first day of training.

Makes Easy Catches

After a hurried trip to Johns Hopkins for observation, DiMaggio was sidelined. Until yesterday he appeared in exhibitions only as a pinch hitter. He had not been too optimistic.

In yesterday's game he made two easy catches, almost without moving, fielded a grounder and went hitless in three trips.

DiMaggio wears baseball shoes with a pad in the heel. When the season starts he expects to use golf spikes around the back of the heel to keep him from sliding on quick starts.

Lamesa Will Enter Full Team In Relays

LAMESA, March 31. (Special) There's not anything small about Bob Harrell, Lamesa High school track coach.

Harrell has announced that he will take the entire Golden Tornado track squad to the Big Spring Relays Saturday. It will be the third meet of the year for the Tornadoes, who have scored only two points in previous engagements. Both of them were by Bobby Hawkins, ace half-miler.

Hawkins placed third at the Southwestern Exposition in Fort Worth and second at the West Texas Relays in Odessa.

Tornado tracksters who will enter the various track and field events include Hawkins, Bennie Eggleston, Robert Adair, Don Fennell, Dick Echols, Randall Reeves, Don Tom Hackney, Johnny Montgomery, Lowell Fancher, Wray Maddox, Marshall Crawford, Billy Doyl Wilson, Buddy Quisenberry and T. J. Womack.

Kentucky's basketball team averaged more than 62 points a game during the 1947-48 season while opponents got only 39 per game.

Injuries Slow Lubbock Team

With the Big Spring Relays only two days away—Saturday, April 2—the Westerner track squad is living on hopes.

Better weather for the last two days of practice and no new injuries to the team would make Coaches Fred Brown and Pat Ferris a lot happier. First it was Wayne Stroud dropping out with a throat infection. He is back at work now but not at full strength. Then Charlie Williams pulled a leg muscle and is still bothered. And finally Wayne Stroud came up with a charley-horse that may hamper his running this week.

Weather Slowed Squad

But the weather is something that gives the coaches grey hairs. Although this has been one of the mildest springs in recent years, there has not been a continuous stretch of warm, windless weather which helps the conditioning of track men. Most of the boys work out in their sweat pants and still don't perspire the way they should.

A strong field is expected at Big Spring this week, and more than 100 athletes are due to participate in track and field events. Amarillo, which won the Odessa meet last week, will be i Childress and should benefit the Westerners by their absence. But Odessa, which placed second, will be entered. The Bronchos won the meet last year.

The preliminary events will be run at 9:30 Saturday morning at Steer stadium, and finals will start in the afternoon. It is likely that the high hurdlers will be eliminated in favor of a mile medley relay. Last year nine records were broken and one was tied.

Decker Is Improving

Donald Decker has been improving in the dashes and low hurdles in practice, and if he keeps up the good work he may give Jimmy Patterson of Odessa a close race. Decker ran the 100-yard wash in 10.4 Wednesday in practice.

Eddie Goetze seems to be at home running the 440-yard dash and turned in a 55.5 yesterday. He has been entering the 880-yard run, but he should do better in the quarter mile.

Another change has placed Donny Rawls in the low hurdles where he seems to be doing all right.

A chartered bus will take the boys to Big Spring, leaving early Saturday morning. Approximately 20 boys will make the trip, and 13 events will be entered.

Horse Racing Opens Friday In New York

NEW YORK, March 31. (AP)—Horse racing returns to New York tomorrow. If the balmy spring weather of the last few days holds some 50,000 fans may welcome the sport back to Jamaica.

On opening day a year ago 33,564 turned out in rainy weather, but the more optimistic, having in mind the return of the daily double after three years, believe the crowd will be far greater tomorrow.

The $25,000 six furlong Paumonok Handicap, which has come to be regarded as a traditional opening day feature, provides the main interest.

SAN ANGELO WINS

SAN ANGELO, March 31. (AP)—The All-Valley stars and the San Antonio polo club clash today in the second game of the Southwest intra-circuit polo tournament. San Angelo defeated the Dallas Blues, 5-4, yesterday in the opening match.

YOST OUT AS TIGERS PULL DOUBLE PLAY—Eddie Yost, Washington Senators outfielder, is forced at second as Eddie Robinson hits into a double play in the fourth inning of a game with the Detroit Tigers played in Lakeland, Fla. Tiger shortstop Hal Daugherty throws to first in time to get Robinson after making the putout at second. (AP Wirephoto).

Golf Vet Conquers Trouble On Greens

Sam Snead May Cop Masters Tourney If Putting Holds Up

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 31.—Without the slightest quaver in his sorghum soprano, Slammin' Sammy Snead disclosed today that he had conquered his putting "yips" and was a sitting squirrel cinch to win the coveted Masters golf tournament.

Considering that the high-pocketed hill billy hadn't won a tournament for over a year, until he bested Lloyd Mangrum this week in the Greensboro Open, Snead's sudden confidence had to have a solid foundation.

It did.

Putting Is Superb

Sam won that one, his first triumph since the 1948 Texas Open, on the greens. His putting was superb, and for Snead that's just like money in the bank.

There was a time during the past year when Sam was experimenting with 17 putters—all at one time. From green to cup he was the worst.

A two-footer was as tough for Sam as a 20-footer. He had the shakes and he had them bad. The second putt was liable to be farther away than the first.

It was this one phase of the game which threatened to ruin one of the finest golfers ever to hit the tournament trail. And it was an old story to Snead.

Won P. G. A. Crown

When his putting was true, Sam could give them all fits. He won his share, including the cherished P. G. A. title, but after a brief period of success following his return from the Navy, Snead hit the putting skids, but good.

As far back as 1939, when he was in the groove, Snear caught his lumps. That was the year he had the Masters all wrapped up with a record 280. But Ralph Guldahl came hammering home with a 33 on the last nine which gave him a 279 and the title.

Sam may have been thinking of that just a few months later when he stood on the final tee at Philadelphia needing only a par five to win the National Open. He blew to an eight worrying, not about the guys who had finished but about the ones who still were out.

From there on his troubles started and, in the periods when his putting nerves were under control, Snead was the man to beat. He had the swing and he had the shots. Mostly he didn't have the putting.

Yet he made a great splurge in 1946. Until the "yips" hit him again.

At the time, Sam was playing in the Toledo four ball just prior to going to England for the British Open. He couldn't drop a putt in a bathtub and Joe Louis watching him flinch from virtual "gimmies," asked wonderingly:

"Just how much can a man take?"

Even Louis, an expert in that capacity, was amazed.

And Sam, as he walked to the clubhouse, announced that he would withdraw from the British Open.

"I can't putt, so why go," he said.

Walter Hagen cornered Sam in the locker room and stood him on a bench to watch Sam's putting stroke.

"Why, there's nothing wrong with you," Sir Walter said. "Just hit it at the equator and it goes in."

They talked for 15 minutes and a photographer snapped the picture. The next day a local newspaper's sport page on one side showed the picture and a caption which read: "Hogan gives Snead putting lesson." On the other side of the page was Sam's syndicated column: "How To Putt."

Sam changed his mind, made the trip to England—and won the British Open.

"The Store of Better Values . . Compare"

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

George Schepps came to town yesterday and lost no time in hanging out the "things look better than ever" sign. Which is good. We like to see and talk with a man who has the courage of his convictions. If we could agree with George, and we can't until we see for ourselves, we'd go right out and bet the horse's neck of a roll on his predictions. Yesterday he declared with conviction that the Hubbers were going to be in the middle of the fight for the pennant. Not only that, they were going to be better in the opening weeks than they were last year.

Good. We'd like to see them get a good healthy lead before they lose too many games. And if they don't get the lead, at least we'd like to see them build a hearty percentage. George is convinced that they will get off to a good start and remain good. He's had the advantage of seeing them in spring training and he's an old hand around ball players. For instance, Tommy Taylor has been cut loose. Tommy was rated a great prospect by Greenville players who saw him last spring and George grabbed him without seeing him. He was given a chance this spring, but the young pitcher didn't have it. Rather than have him get in the way, he was cut loose.

Another pitcher failed to exhibit the right spirit and he's headed for other climates. He's a great prospect, but he knows it all. Greenville won't take him and Corpus doesn't want him. So there go two pitching prospects. In return, Cotton Russell is deadly serious this year and has been looking fine in practice. He knows that this is the year for him if he intends to go up and he's one of the hardest workers in camp. Herby Pitts has exactly the same spirit. George says that he still is a little wild, but is improving each time he pitches. He rates Pitts as the greatest lefthanded prospect in the league.

Oscar Kuver, who was drafted during the winter, is another hurler showing a great amount of ability. He has a fast ball, good control with it and an improving assortment of curves. He knows what to do on the mound and doesn't have to stumble around five minutes looking for the rubber. Don Hensiek shows signs of improving into a good starting hurler. He's another lad picked up in the draft during the winter. Royce Mills is the same old Mills, as dependable as the day is long. And there is a strong possibility that a lad right here in Lubbock, whose name can't be revealed yet, may be the No. 1 hurler on the Hubbers this year.

The outfield is far from settled yet, but two boys apparently certain to stick are Joe Wisniewski and Lloyd Pearson. Pearson played with Greenville last year and turned in a good job, but Red Davis and George both thought another year in Class C would be good for him. His attitude is fine and he's accepted the demotion in good spirit. Wisniewski is another draft purchase and he's the boy George wants us to go overboard on. He's willing for us to bet a dinner, a pair of boots, a hat or anything else that Wisniewski hits over .335 and slams 40 or more home runs. If he can do that, he can play on the Hubbers for our money.

As mentioned earlier, veteran trouble is the chief fly in the ointment right now. Manager Jackie Sullivan bumps into another vet every time he turns around, which is bad, for he can carry only seven. Okay, Kuver, Mills and Hurler X all are vets. So is Mike Dooley behind the plate. Jim Prince on first, Sullivan on second, Jackie Wilcox on short and Frank McAlexander on third all are veterans. That makes eight right there, two over. So who's bound to stick? Sullivan, Dooley, Mills, Kuver, Hurler X and Wilcox, for he is a fine utility man if they get another shortstop. What about Prince and McAlexander? Ouch.

George said yesterday that Frank, without any question, was the most improved ball player he had ever seen. He said that it had taken him a long, long time to come into his own, but he declared that Frank made him think of Buck Fausett. And Prince on first base was turning in a creditable showing each time, playing a steady game and hitting well. If you were manager, what would you do? We're glad we're not Jackie or George. What probably will happen is that a couple of the vets will be shifted, maybe to Greenville, and a couple of limited service players will take their place.

Another thing, when the Hubbers get on their bus to come back here April 11, they'll have the starting lineup on board. That gives Jackie nine full days to work them as a unit and quite possibly a few days more than that in Greenville. It won't be a green team and it will have enough experience to give it age. From what George says, it will be a balanced club. But what makes us happy is the fact that behind the plate and on second base will be two of the best in the business. The line from the catcher to centerfield is supposed to be the backbone of a baseball team. From all appearances, it would look like the Hubbers would be hard to bend.

John Woundenberg, tackle of the San Francisco '49ers of the All-America Conference, has started every game his team has played—42—in the three years.

O'Dowdy, Rod Fenton Win Go

Two fast wrestling matches were unreeled at Sled Allen's arena last night to the pleasure of the crowd, and Pat O'Dowdy and Rod Fenton made good their boast that they could lick George Overhauls and Buck Weaver in an Australian tag team match.

But the match went three full falls, and the losers came near to winning. Two referees were used this time to assure no foul play on the part of O'Dowdy and Fenton.

The first fall was won by Weaver and Overhauls in 19 minutes. Overhauls was in complete command and had a full nelson on O'Dowdy when he went to the ropes. Weaver came in and finished the rowdy-one with a flying mare and body pin.

It took the Fenton team 13 minutes to win the second fall, and O'Dowdy won the fall with a hammerlock and stomp on Overhauls.

Flying tackles backfired on Overhauls in the third fall. He was employing them successfully against O'Dowdy, but when Fenton entered the ring the tide turned. Fenton dodged one of the tackles and Overhauls landed in in the third row of seats outside the ring where he was counted out after three minutes of the fall.

In the first event, Arturo Ruiz won the first and third falls to defeat Billy Sandow. The match was a good exhibition, and both wrestlers worked hard and rough before Ruiz took the contest.

Ruiz won the first fall in 18 minutes with an abdominal stretch, and Sandow came back to take the second after nine minutes with a step-over-toehold. The third fall and the match went to Ruiz after eight minutes with another abdominal stretch.

Ben Hogan To Leave Hospital On Friday

EL PASO, March 31 (U.P.)—Bantam Ben Hogan will set out for his Fort Worth home Friday on the second leg of a journey that almost cost him his life.

The first leg of the journey started at Phoenix, Ariz., and ended at Van Horn, Tex., last Feb. 2 when Ben's black Cadillac crashed headon into a bus on a foggy highway.

He was taken to Hotel Dieu hospital here and encased in a plaster coccoon when x-rays told the story he had received a broken pelvis, a fractured collar bone, rib and ankle in the crash.

Bantam Benny's recovery seemed doubtful when blood clots appeared in his pelvis, but Dr. Alton Ochsner, a celebrated surgeon, was rushed from his New Orleans clinic to the Hotel Dieu operating room.

BOXER'S DEATH PROBED

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 31. (U.P.)—Ray Blackmore, police chief of San Jose, was conducting an investigation today into the death of 14-year-old boxer Billy Cornwell on Tuesday night and another investigation of the tragedy will be launched Monday by the state athletic commission.

Pakistan's textile industry plans to have 1,000,000 spindles within five years.

Grid Teams Confident

Tech Elevens Play April 9

There's an old saying that hope springs eternal in the human breast, which is another way of saying a person is optimistic.

And that saying fits Bill Kelley, former Texas Tech end to a T—a Double T.

Kelley is coach of the Ranchers, the Tech football team that will play the Farmers, another section of the Raider squad, on April 9. Opposing him that Saturday night will be Glenn Lewis, former Raider halfback.

The affable Irishman from Idalou yesterday felt so confident his team would win that he offered the Farmers a six-point handicap. He mysteriously added that he had a secret weapon that would beat anything Lewis could devise.

Lewis was not available for a statement. In fact, he couldn't be found. Rumor had it that he had left town and was in a library, trying to study plays that could be used against the Ranchers. He previously had ired Kelley by stating that the Farmers probably would use their second team most of the time, since the Ranchers didn't appear to have much ability.

Meanwhile, tickets for the big game and fun night in Jones Stadium Saturday a week were going fast. A large number of buyers flocked to the athletic offices in the stadium to buy not one or two tickets, but several.

Many business men bought blocks of tickets to give to employes, friends and people visiting their stores. A couple of business men bought blocks of 100 tickets for distribution.

Members of the Texas Tech football squad will be in the business district this morning and afternoon selling tickets. The players will wear distinctive lapel signs which will have their names printed on them. The men will travel in pairs and each will have 100 tickets to sell.

Officials of the show, which is known as the Double T Sports Parade, are convinced that the entire program will be worth seeing. They are offering a first rate football game along with an entertainment program at the half that $1, which is the cost of an adult ticket, normally could not buy.

Parker, Robertson On "Hospital" List

AUSTIN, March 31. (U.P.)—The Texas Longhorns may go into the 22nd annual running of Texas Relays here Friday and Saturday minus one or both of its top sprinters.

Trainer Frank Medina said it was doubtful whether Charley Parker and John Robertson, being treated for injuries received in the recent Fort Worth meet, would be available.

Parker won the 100 last year and anchored Texas' 440-yard relay team to 29 straight victories. Robertson is defending broad jump champion in the Relays, and is a regular member of the sprint combine with Parker.

Major League Clubs Play Here Tuesday

More Than 4,000 Ducats For Cleveland-Giant Clash Sold

Indications are that the Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants will play to about as large a crowd this year as saw them in action at Rosenthal Field a year ago.

A check of ticket sales yesterday showed that there were less than 4,000 tickets remaining for the game. That's less than half the 8,000 that were put on sale a few weeks ago.

Ticket sales have stepped up noticeably in the past few days, probably because the day of the game isn't far off. Customers have only until Tuesday to buy tickets at $1.80 each and these do not include any reserved seats.

Like last year, there will be reserved seats only for those persons buying season reserved ducats and the same is true of box seats. Reserved seat ticket holders and box seat holders have first chance at their respective seats for all exhibition games and most of them already have bought tickets for the exhibition.

Clubs Head Eastward

The Giants and Indians will break up their spring training camps in Arizona following exhibition games on Sunday. The two clubs open the long trip home with a game Monday in El Paso and arrive here the following morning.

After that, the clubs continue their exhibition tour eastward playing 10 more games against each other. The only break comes April 9 and 10, when the Giants swing up to Oklahoma City to play the Oklahoma City Indians and the Indians go to New Orleans to play the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Both clubs were tremendously impressed with Lubbock last year, with the playing field and with the hospitality shown. They are looking forward to the stop here and are expected to co-operate as completely as they did last year, when they won friends by signing autographs and making personal appearances.

The Giants again will present a power-laden lineup such as they had last year when they clubbed out a 10-2 victory over the Indians. On the other hand, the World Champion Indians should present better pitching.

Most fans are hopeful of seeing Bob Feller in action here this year. The fireballer was held back to appear in Oklahoma City, but might hurl here this season. So might Satchel Paige, the aging negro, one of the greatest gate attractions anywhere.

RICE CAPTAINS NAMED

HOUSTON, March 31 (AP)—End James (Froggie) Williams and Center Gerald Weatherly will captain the 1949 Rice Institute football team.

Tech Squad To Test Club Nine

Texas Tech Independents and Boys Club meet today at 4:30 in a practice baseball game at Boys Club diamond.

The Boys Club team has suffered only one setback thus far in practice games, that being close 3-4 loss to Lubbock High school.

The clubbers have been showing improvement in their last few starts and should give the independent team good fight. Yesterday the Independent team lost to Lubbock High, 7-8.

Either Joe Hall or Jackie Martyn will start on the mound for Boys Club, and M. D. Stevens or Jackie Cook will catch. Other starters are not known.

Friday afternoon, Levelland will come to Lubbock to meet Boys Club at the local diamond.

"Red Heads" Play At Ralls Tonight

RALLS, March 31 (Special) — Girls basketball comes to Ralls tonight in the form of the world famous Red Heads, who will play the Ralls Independents in a game sponsored as a benefit for the local Parent-Teachers Association.

The Red Heads boast one of the finest girls teams in the nation. They play any team of men under men's rules and usually manages to hold their own.

Tonight's game begins at 8 p. m. and a capacity crowd of 1,000 spectators is expected. Tickets will be sold only at the doors at 75 cents for adults and 30 cents for children.

Orwell Moore, former court star, tutors the Red Heads and has built an organization that is considered one of the finest anywhere. The girls present a colorful and sometimes comical court game, but are top players. They use men's rules and seldom lose.

France Seeking Recognition As Western Europe's Big Brother

By JOSEPH S. DYNAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, March 31.—France is reaching out for recognition as western Europe's tough big brother and main defender in the event of war.

A cabinet spokesman said yesterday Foreign Minister Robert Schuman will demand that the French army be built up and armed heavily for this role under the North Atlantic defense alliance.

The statement came less than a day after Gen. Charles De Gaulle, a sharp critic of the government, had voiced similar demands, contending it would be "a grave mistake" to rely on Britain as the main defender.

Treaty Described

Schuman, leaving for Washington yesterday to sign the North Atlantic treaty, described the instrument as "a guarantee of peace and security which we have sought in vain since the end of the first world war."

The cabinet spokesman said Schuman will remain in the United States until Easter, talking in that vein for agreements giving the treaty plenty of teeth to make it truly effective.

Schuman told the cabinet he also hopes to settle disagreements over Western allied policies in Germany while he and British and American diplomats are together in Washington.

Clash of Viewpoints

There has been a clash of viewpoints among the Western powers on the form of the proposed West German government. A deadlock has developed between them and the German drafters of the proposed West German constitution.

The three powers are reported to have virtually settled disagreements over the development of West Germany's industrial resources, but plan further discussions in Washington.

Schuman said he also hopes to come back with an agreement over final disposition of Italy's pre-war colonies.

House Okays Power Bill For Southwest

WASHINGTON, March 31. (AP)—A multi-million dollar appropriation bill for construction of southwest power transmission lines has been sent to the Senate.

The House yesterday approved an interior appropriation bill which gives the Southwest Power administration a $4,000,000 appropriation. The bill also provides authority for the administration to assume contract obligations for an additional $5,000,000.

The funds are for construction of public power transmission lines in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.

The SPA markets power from federally constructed flood control dams in the six states. Some of the dams are only in the planning state.

All of the projects are scheduled to be completed in five years. Construction on 51 is to start July 1.

Tax Program

had a good effect already.

2. Dr. Edwin G. Nourse is not resigning as chairman of his council of economic advisers.

That was in response to a question. Nourse has been reported at odds with other members of the council—Leon Keyserling and John D. Clark. For one thing, Nourse is reported to be less inclined to favor anti-inflation controls.

Support Weakening

Despite Mr. Truman's contention that his price-rationing program has not been shelved, there are strong indications at the capitol that support for it there is weakening.

Several key Democratic senators told reporters in interviews prior to the President's news conference that they believed the nation is in for a period of "healthy readjustment" that probably has removed any great need at present for the controls.

"There can be no doubt that recent price decreases have reduced demand for controls," Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) told a reporter.

Rent Hikes

landlords who may not be obtaining an adequate net operating income," the President said.

The Truman statement was notable for its conciliatory tone. It was completely in line with the new White House policy of kindness to Congress.

He did not denounce the "home rule" provision, even though he charged last week that this decontrol device was backed by the real estate lobby as a means of scuttling rent control.

Instead, Mr. Truman described the system as one which extends the principal of the local rent advisory boards—a grant of greater authority to local officials to say whether federal rent control is no longer needed. Decontrol decisions by cities, towns and villages must be approved by state governors.

An Associated Press survey of governors and big-city mayors indicated that most of them will move slowly in using the local decontrol machinery.

The President did not discuss the failure of Congress to grant the two-year extension he requested, and its refusal to allow criminal action against rent violators.

Atlantic Pact

Denmark, Norway and Portugal likewise are expected.

Iceland and Portugal decided only yesterday to join the alliance. Their action assured a solid line-up of all the nations geographically qualified to join the pact except for two: Germany and Spain.

The conferences here may bring some discussion of policies toward Spain.

At the moment the United Nations has a ban against full diplomatic relations with the Franco government.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

MARKET SLIGHTLY OFF

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP)—The stock market closed a little lower today as traders took a breathing spell after two fast-moving sessions.

Losses ranged from fractions to around a point.

Business was brisk in comparison with so many slow days earlier this year but far below Tuesday's 1,800,000 shares and Wednesday's 1,850,000. Turnover was at the rate of around 1,600,000 shares for the ful session.

Business was stimulated during the past two days by news of the Federal Reserve board's cut in margin requirements to a 50 per cent basis from 75. On Tuesday the market raced ahead but yesterday only minor, and somewhat spotty, improvement was noted.

Profit taking sales helped to climb down on rising attempts today.

Marked down most of the day were Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Kennecott Copper, American Smelting, Westinghouse Electric, Dow Chemical, Radio Corp., Santa Fe, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Monigomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, and Schenley.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP)— Cotton futures were irregular in slow trading today. With the higher mid-March parity discounted, traders again awaited congressional action on more ECA funds and developments on farm legislation. Reports that mills may curtail print cloth production because of slow demand depressed the market.

Futures closed 15 cents a bale higher to 5 cents lower than the previous close.

Souvenirs Of White House Are Planned

WASHINGTON, March 31. (AP) Want a piece of the White House for a souvenir?

The executive mansion is being remodeled and there will be tons of old nails, slivers of wood, partly charred timber, antique hardware, bricks.

Disposal of this historically valuable debris will be up to a six-member commission President Truman says should be named to supervise the White House remodelling.

The House is now studying a bill designed to establish the commission—two senators, two members of the House and two persons named by the President. Approval of the measure was predicted today.

If you want, say, a nail that tore Abraham's pants, you'll have to take it up with this commission.

Congratulations To

A record crowd of 229 youths turned out last night for the weekly movie program at Lubbock Boys club. An educational film, "Let's See Chicago," and two comedys were shown.

Mrs. Cora Lee Carter, of 3402 Twenty-fifth, today was reported to be recovering satisfactorily in Lubbock Memorial hospital after undergoing major surgery there last week. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. E. J. Carter of San Angelo, is with her during her convalescence.

Mrs. J. L. Quicksall, instructor in secretarial administration at Texas Tech, will be main speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Lubbock Sales executive club at 6:30 o'clock tonight in Hilton hotel. She will discuss and demonstrate proper techniques in writing effective business letters.

Good attendance has been reported at a series of meetings being conducted this week in St. John's Methodist church by Dr. Carradine Hooten, pastor of the First Methodist church of Oklahoma City. Meetings are held twice daily, at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., in addition to a daily youth meeting at 7 p. m. Tonight's 7:30 o'clock sermon topic is to be "Opening Closed Worlds." All interested persons have been cordially invited to attend.

The sermon topic will be "Modern Idolatry" at the Sabbath Eve service at 8 o'clock Friday night at Congregation Shaareth Isreal. Miss Geraldine Steinberg of Plainview, a member of confirmation class of Congregation Shaareth Israel, will assist Rabbi Julius Kerman in reading of services.

An elderly negro, Sam Williams, was held for investigation of police this afternoon after his arrest for questioning in connection with his possession of property he said he had found in an alley. The property included a Masonic sword on which was inscribed the name "Burton S. Burks," Lubbock attorney who recently moved to 2600-block Thirtieth. Burks was out of the city and had not been communicated with by detectives.

A county court assessment of $75, court costs and revocation of the right to drive a car for six months were levied this morning against Louis Evans Countess, 27, of Idalou, who pleaded guilty of drunk driving.

A county court petition jury will return at 3 p. m. to hear arguments in the trial of Harvey Knight, 42, on a charge of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle. The case grew out of a collision of Knight's car with a truck March 6 on the Lubbock-Slaton highway. Gloria Lee Volz, 7, was disfigured by facial scars as result of the mishap. Knight testified that the child's mother Mrs. Jo Volz, became hysterical and he took his eyes momentarily from the road in efforts to quiet her. That was when the accident happened, he said. Mrs. Volz had been treated a few minute searlier at a Slaton hospital for injuries suffered in an earlier mishap.

Firemen counted the morning exciting. They ran to two fires where major damage was done, two where damage was slight—and had a collision that involved a hose wagon with two parked automobiles. None was injured in the fires or the collision. The E. K. Chapman residence at 1705 Ave. S suffered an estimated $6,000 to $7,000 damage at a 3 a. m. fire of undetermined origin. A five-room farm residence two miles south of the Brownfield highway and a half-mile east of the Slide road "burned to the ground" about 4 a. m. The resident, unnamed in reports, saved much of his household furniture, and said his loss was covered by insurance. Fires in ceilings of residences at 2830 East Ave. J and at Twenty-sixth and East Ave. B brought slight loss. Cedil Norris was driver of the fire truck. A plate glass display window of Bennett Motor company, at Texas Ave. and Seventeenth, was smashed.

Judy and the director met on a movie set and were married in 1945. Her first husband was Composer David Rose. The Minnellis have a daughter, Liza, three.

Actress To Preside At First Bullfight

HOLLYWOOD, March 31. (INS)—Paulette Goddard declared today that she will preside at the opening of the bullfights in Acapulco, Mexico, despite British groups who have criticized the film actress for her liking for the Latin sport.

The actress, who has been a familiar figure at Mexican bull rings, declared:

"I feel that being asked to preside at the bullfight at Acapulso to be a signal honor. I refuse to yield to pressure groups and I will fulfill my promise.

"I consider bullfighting the greatest drama of all for in it the actors play for keeps."

Paulette's studio said that the actress has been the target of letters of criticism from the British society for the prevention of cruelty to animals and other groups.

The actress will leave for an extended vacation in Mexico, the country she refers to as "my second home," as soon as she completes a current film.

me seems silly or useless. I want a plan. I want a purpose."

The $10,000 isn't her entire estate. A daughter—she lives in California—has been "comfortably provided for."

Mrs. Heart won't tell her friends.

"Then," she says, "it immediately becomes a personal thing. They'd be forever asking if you felt all right. And they'd stop talking when you came into the room."

She has considered another marriage, but—

"I would want to know someone pretty well before I thought of marrying him. I am terribly lonely."

He would not share in her estate. Merely help her spend the $10,000 she allotted herself for this last year.

A calm philosophy has replaced the initial shock of knowing that death—to her—is a timed thing.

"It's the most peculiar sort of feeling," she says. "I have lost fear. I used to be afraid to travel by plane. It made me ill. Now it doesn't bother me at all.

". . . it's a reckless kind of feeling."

The exhibit is open to both boys and adult showman but the two groups do not compete against each other, the men showing in open classes and competing among themselves while the boys are left to scrap it out in the judges scores.

Exhibits will be in the Dairy Show barns.

C. B. Martin, former Hale county agent, is president of the Fat Stock Show Association. Other officials are Roscoe Snyder, secretary-treasurer; George Sealey, assistant superintendent; Jack McGarr is superintendent of the fat steer and heifer division. Showdown In Oleo Row Set

WASHINGTON, March 31. (AP) Two familiar gladiators—butter and oleo—took the House floor today for a showdown fight.

The question is:

Will Congress free oleomargaine of all federal taxes and prevent any new restrictions on its sale?

Forces Confident

Confident oleo forces claimed they had the votes to splatter the butter bloc. But dairy state members, while conceding the House will vote to repeal the special oleo taxes, said they expect to win their fight to outlaw sale of yellow oleo in interstate commerce.

Taxes that would be repealed, if the measure becomes law, are:

On colored oleo at retail 10 cents a pound; on the uncolored product at retail ¼ cent a pound; $600 a year on oleo manufacturers; $480 a year on wholesalers of colored oleo; $200 a year on wholesalers of the uncolored product; $48 a year on each retailer of the colored oleo, and $6 a year on retailers of the uncolored product.

Wins Initial Victory

The butter bloc won an initial victory when the House agriculture committee on March 9 approved a bill repealing the oleo taxes but at the same time preventing the sale of yellow oleo in a state unless it was manufactured there.

The committee rejected 14 to 13 a bill by Rep. Poage (D1Texas) that would repeal the tax, permit interstate sale but require that each serving of yellow oleo in a public place be identified as oleo.

Hopper Infestation Predicted By Expert

COLLEGE STATION, March 31. (AP)—This appears to be the year of the grasshoppers, H. G. Johnston warns.

Johnston is state grasshopper control leader and head of the Texas A. & M. college department of entomology.

He said the hoppers will begin ot hatch in south Texas in about two weeks. Texas can look forward to the forst infestation in 10 years, he said.

Johnston's warning follows a count of eggs by the U. S. department of Agriculture grasshopper control division.

Areas along the Brazos river between Waco and Richmond and along the Trinity as far south as Polk and San Pacinton counties will have the worst infestation of the big, yellow differential type grasshopper.

Creek bottoms as far east as Titus county and west to the West Cross timbers are expected to have scattered outbreaks.

West Texas, the South Plains and the Panhandle will have a smaller but above-normal number of hoppers, the count shows.

Johnston suggested dusting along fense rows and ditches where the differential hopper hatches for control.

He said effective dusting agents are 15 pounds of 10 per cent toxaphene or 15 pounds of 10 per cent chlordane per acre.

Johnson County 4-H Club Girl Is Winner Of Texas Home Demonstration Scholarship

COLLEGE STATION, March 31. (AP)—Barbara Dell Dean, 16, of Alvardo, Johnson county, has been named winner of the Texas Home Demonstration association's Maggie W. Barry award.

Floyd Lynch, state 4-H club leader of Texas A. & M. college, announced the winner today.

It is the highest honor that can come to a Texas 4-H club girl, Lynch said. The award carries a year's scholarship to any state college.

Miss Dean, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Dean, has completed six years of 4-H club work. In 1945, she was secretary of the Venus 4-H club, and in 1946 and 1947, president and junior leader. In 1947 and 1948, she helped plan programs for the county 4-H camps and taught other girls attending how to do glass etching and metal craft work.

She was a county delegate to the state 4-H club round up in 1947 and a district delegate to the state 4-H conservation camp in 1948.

Canning, sewing and food preparation have been her major demonstrations. Viola Jeske, assistant county home demonstration agent of Johnson county, is supervising Barbara Dell's demonstrations. Barbara Dell remodeled her bedroom and makes her own clothing. She plans to enter college this fall and will study home economics.

The preliminary judging was done on the basis of records submitted to the state 4-H office.

Official Of Liquor Board Visits Here

John Lawhon, administrator of the Texas Liquor Control board, of Austin, visited briefly in Lubbock today.

The former Smith county attorney who later became an attorney for the control board, then administrator a year and a half ago, said of the Lubbock district board personnel:

"We hope Mr. W. G. Poplin (deputy supervisor and commanding officer) and his assistants will have cooperation of the public in dealing with the bootleg situation out this way.

"One deputy supervisor and four inspectors naturally can't completely stop bootlegging in the 23 counties of their district, but assistance from officers and the public can be of inestimable aid in keeping it under close control."

Lawhon said the board had attempted to place men here who "will work at their job and who are in favor of impartial enforcement of the law."

Poplin and three of the inspectors came here a week ago in a shift that sent Deputy Supervisor Charlie F. Fuller and three inspectors to other districts from here.

department that the use of wire tap evidence be made legal in government prosecutions of spies and in the interests of national defense.

McCarran introduced in the Senate a national security bill requested by the Justice department but eliminated from it the sections which would have made wire tap evidence legal.

Although Hoover conceded that the FBI tapped wires in a limited category of cases, it is understood that the Justice department holds no law was violated. There is dispute about it, of course, but some persons contend that the law would not be violated unless the results of wire tapping were presented as evidence in legal proceedings.

and points beyond.

The schedules from Lubbock to Denver City will leave Lubbock at 12:30 p. m., this being a through bus from Oklahoma City to El Paso, leaving Oklahoma City at 1:10 a. m., routed by the way of Lawton, Wichita Falls, Seymour, Lubbock, Seagraves, Denver City, Hobbs, and Carlsbad, arriving in El Paso at 8 p. m. The other schedule leaves Lubbock at 2 p. m., making a direct connection at Seagraves for Denver City, Lovington, and Hobbs, arriving in Denver City at 4:15 p. m., Lovington at 4:05 p. m. (Mountain Tibe) and Hobbs at 4:35 p. m.

This new service gives two schedules daily in each direction to Denver City, a new schedule in each direction to Lovington, and an additional schedule between Lubbock and Hobbs, now making six schedules daily from Lubbock to Hobbs.

The service gives Denver City connections by bus for passengers, mail, and express with Lovington, Hobbs, Seagraves and Lubbock, and connections at Seagraves for Seminole, Andrews, Midland, and Odessa.

Reports On Missing Flier Still Lacking

No additional information had been received today by Mr. and Mrs. Altus B. Sansom of 2507 Twenty-second regarding their son, First Lt. Altus B. Sansom, who was reported Tuesday by the War department as missing on a bomber flight in Japan.

Reports originally indicated that Lt. Sansom might have been aboard a B-26 light bomber which was reported to have crashed Sunday on Mount Fujiyama. First reports were that four men were aboard the bomber. Searching parties reaching the scene of the crash on the Japanese mountain were unable to locate but three bodies.

A storm has thus far prevented removal of the bodies from the scene. Wire reports last night were that searching parties were to bring the bodies down from the mountain today.

Butane Blast Fatal To Man

MADILL, Okla., March 31 (AP)—A blast in a butane plant killed an oil chemist and burned seven other men, near here last night.

J. R. Mahan, a plant worker, was burned on the face and hands when he tried to pull the chemist, J. S. Green, 47, from the succeeding oil fire before it was too late.

Dies Minutes Later

But Green died 15 minutes later in the hospital.

Plant Superintendent F. E. Thompson, 46, and Pump Operator Arnold Heinrich, 40, were critically burned. The other injured were Repairman Foy C. Reid, 41, H. Thorpe, Clyde Gleason and L. M. Mouney.

The explosion came at the butane-propane-gasoline refinery of the Warren Petroleum Corp. while a new unit was being tested.

The flash was seen for nearly 20 miles.

complete charge of the search. No further effort to recover bodies in the wreckage could be made until equipment arrived to pull the plane from the pond. The pond was seven feet deep and about 30 feet wide.

It was in the barnyard of farmer Burvis Mace. Mace said the plane flew low over his house, then hit a cloud. The next thing, he said, it was falling end-over-end and dived into the pond.

"My son Mervin and I were scared. The plane exploded," Mace explained.

Residents See Crash

Most residents of Edgar Springs, 20 miles south of Rolla, which in turn is 90 miles southwest of St. Louis, saw the plane crash. Those questioned said they saw no one parachute from the craft but search parties continued to hunt for men reported to have left the plane before the crash.

Leroy Taylor, operator of a cafe here, said a wing, "or what looked like a wing," fell off and was found about two miles from the rest of the wreck.

A military police guard from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., under the command of Lt. John R. Hill, immediately barred everyone from the plane except Army personnel and police.

Names of the men aboard were withheld pending further check.

250 Persons Make Claims To Estate

AKRON, O., March 31. (AP)—Miss Frances Louise Butler, 83-year-old recluse who died in a cluttered hotel room here last January, left an estate worth $902,545, an appraisal filed in probate court yesterday disclosed.

Probate Judge Vincent Zurz said he had given administrators until April 9 to file a petition to determine heirs. More than 250 persons have claimed kinship and a share of the estate, which includes $696,231 in Ohio and $206,313 in New York in cash, real estate and personal belongings.

Churchill Tonight Will Tell World What Hope Is Seen For Man In This War-Marred Century

By CY DOUGLASS
Associated Press Staff Writer

BOSTON, March 31—Winston Churchill tells the world tonight what hope he sees for man in this war-marred century.

The 74-year-old statesman, who spurred battling Britain with his call to "blood, sweat, and tears," will speak on "The 20th Century, Its Promise And Its Realization."

His views are awaited with the urgency that surrounded his "iron curtain" speech at Fulton, Mo., March 5, 1946.

Then he lamented the lowering of an "iron curtain" across Europe, assailed Soviet Russian expansion, and called for the fraternal association of the British commonwealth of nations and the United States.

Thinkers In Audience

Tonight in his immediate audience of 13,900 at Boston Garden will be some of the ablest thinkers of the western world; statesmen, educaors, scientists and philosophers.

They are gathered for a three-day mid-century survey, initiated by Massachusetts Institute of Techfology on the "Social Implications of Scientific Progress." The occasion is the inauguration Saturday of Tech's tenth president, Dr. James Rhyne Killian, jr.

Over the country and much of the world, the words of Churchill will be carried by radio (NBC, ABC, Mutual in U. S.) and television to one of the largest audiences ever to hear a speaker.

Churchill has agreed that his address will be "of some importance." He has said little more about it. MIT estimates it will last one hour and run about 7,000 words.

The former prime minister will be in Boston until Friday at midnight. Then he, his wife and their daughter and son-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Christopher Soames leave for New York. They take the Queen Elizabeth home on Saturday. All during his stay he will be guarded by representatives of Scotland Yard, the U. S. secret service and Boston police.

To Receive Honor

The convocation will bring him again to Boston Garden tomorrow night. Departing slightly from its custom of never conferring honorary degrees Tech will make Churchill "an honorary lecturer," the first this noted scientific school has ever had.

Main speaker Friday night will be Harold E. Stassen, now president of the University of Pennsylvania. He fills the spot on the program to which President Truman had originally been invited. The President accepted, then cancelled the engagement because of the press of official business.

In the convocation's discussion panels tomorrow, top thinkers from this country, Britain, France, Belgium, India, Brazil and Mexico will survey the accomplishments and prospects of humanity in the atomic age.

Their talks will scale the range of modern problems—from world production to world peace.

Keynote speaker at the opening general session today is Dr. Karl T. Compton, now chairman of MIT corporation and also of the research and development board of the national military establishment. He was for many years president of Tech. Dr. Killian succeeds him. Compton's topic is "Science At The Mid-Century."

On Saturday, the colorful academic procession of presidents and representatives of universities and colleges in many lands and the inaugural itself will conclude the three-day program. Among the schools to be represented is the ancient University of Padua, founded in 1222.

Youths Put On Own Shows---With Fire

MINNEAPOLIS, March 31. (AP)—Two 17-year-olds couldn't raise the money to go to shows so they "angeled" their own entertainment here—with matches.

Police and firemen were stumped by 16 garage fires which destroyed or damaged the buildings and a dozen autos in recent weeks.

Yesterday a householder found two youths meddling in his garage. They told officers:

"Yes, sure we set those fires. We couldn't find any odd jobs to get money for the movies. So we put on our own shows."

They were held to juvenile court while losers totted up the bill.

River Being Dragged For Body Of Sailor

PAULSBORO, N. J., March 31 (AP)—The Delaware river is being dragged for the body of a sailor identified as Earl C. Daniels, 27, of Port Arthur, Tex.

The man plunged into the river yeseterday from the oil tanker R. P. Smith.

Motor harbor police said they could not determine whether the merchant seaman jumped or fell.

The tanker came here from Lake Charles, La.

China Nationalists Due In Peiping For Peace Negotiations

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
Associated Press Staff Writer

NANKING, March 31.—Nationalist peace delegates, prepared for long negotiations on three of the Communists eight conditions for peace, will leave for Peiping tomorrow.

Delegation Chairman Chang Chih-Chung said the Communist demand for punishment of so called war criminals, army reorganization and formation of a coalition government would require much negotiation.

The other five conditions, covering restoration of civil liberties and economic reforms, have been a part of the government's program all along, he said. He added that the government unfortunately had not gotten around to implementing them.

Has Chiang's Blessing

The delegation, Chang told Chinese legislators, will go to Peiping for the peace talks with the blessing of retired President Chiang Kai-Shek. However, political observers accepted this statement with tongue in cheek. Chiang has been an implacable foe of the Reds for the duration of the 22 years of civil war. He also heads their criminal list.

Likely the world will get little information about the peace talks once they start. The Communists have barred foreign and Chinese newsmen. The Red radio, the only medium disseminating news from North China, likely will report the peace conference. But this news of the historic event in all probability will be slanted to the Communist view.

Newsmen Silenced

Foreign newsmen in Peiping have been silenced since February by the Communists. Applications to cover the conference have been made by foreign newsmen in Shanghai and Nanking but no answer has been received from the Reds.

The Communist victors in the long war will call the turn of events at Peiping. French educated Chou En-lai will head the Communist negotiators. His role will be far different from that in 1946 when Gen. George Marshall of the United States tried to bring the Nationalists and Communists together. At that time the Reds were on he run and Chiang was dictating the terms.

There are 2,000 more full-time nurses and midwives in British hospitals than a year ago.

Stassen Urges Changes In UN

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 31. (AP)—Terming the United Nations a "veto-riddled organization," Harold E. Stassen last night called for a complete revision of the UN charter "about three years from now."

Stassen, now president of the University of Pennsylvania, said the three years would reveal "the lasting intentions of the Soviet Union and answer the question whether they, at that future time, will join in strengthening the UN or whether we must slide down the tragic road toward the horrors of a third world war."

Stassen criticized groups working for formation of an international organization excluding Russia, saying an agency without the Soviet Union is a contradiction of terms, because "Russia and her satellites are in the world."

Symbol of Failure

Stassen said the UN organization provides the "best hopes for a lasting and just peace in this troubled one world." He spoke at the opening of the model United Nations general assembly at Rutgers university before more than 1,000 persons.

Stressing the need for future revision of the charter, the former governor of Minnesota said the Atlantic pact is a symbol of "the partial failure of the United Nations" in its first four years of operation.

He proposed a full United Nations conference for the revision.

Bandleader Mum On Report Of Divorce

Bandleader Jimmy Zito, whose orchestra played a Wednesday night engagement at the local Cotton club, said at that time that he had no comment regarding an International News Service story stating that his actress wife, June Haver, received her final divorce decree Wednesday.

The INS dispatch, sent from Hollywood, said the couple was married in Las Vegas, Nev., in March, 1947, and separated six months later.

Kidnaping Charges Dropped At Ozona

OZONA, March 31 (AP)—Charges of kidnaping have been dismissed against two brotheres.

The charges were dismissed yesterday when the wife of one was granted a divorce and given custody of their two-year-old son.

G. K. Beeman and Horace Beeman had been returned here Sunday from Pueblo, Colo., on charges of kidnaping after they seized G. K. Beeman's son, Kenneth Allen, 2, in Ozona last Friday night.

Mrs. G. K. Beeman, mother of the boy, accompanied the men rather than allow her son to go alone. The men were arrested near Pueblo Sunday.

Horace Beeman was released from jail yesterday afterneon. G. K. was held in the Crockett county jail for the sheriff of Concho county. He is under a complaint at Paint Rock, Tex., on a felony charge of passing a $207 worthless check.

Judge J. B. Randolph granted the divorce decree in 112th district court. The custody of the Beeman child goes to the mother. The father is allowed "reasonable" visiting privileges. He is to visit the child only when accompanied by Sheriff V. O. Earnest or one of his deputies.

Information Commission Asks Increase In U. S. Propaganda

WASHINGTON, March 31. (AP)—Congress got the argument today that while the "Voice of America" is being heard behind Russia's iron curtain, it ought to reach millions more there and in other parts of the world.

A five-member advisory commission on information recommended a prompt expansion of the State department's official radio facilities.

It said Congress should vote much larger funds also to circulate American films and publications to spread facts about the United States and offset Communist propaganda.

Fund Bare Minimum

The commission said the $36,000,000 approved by the budget bureau for the official radio and allied operations next year was a "bare minimum" and out of line with the billions proposed for the military and for foreign economic aid. Russia, it advised, is spending "enormous sums" for propaganda.

President named the commission to keep tab on the expanded which Congress authorized last year. Mark Ethridge, Louisville publisher, is chairman. Members include Erwin D. Canham, Christian Science Monitor editor, Philip D. Reed, General Electric company chairman, Mark A. May, director of the Yale university institute of human relations, and Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Reports Submitted

Along with its own report, the group submitted a report by May on a survey he made early this year in ten European countries. On the basis of May's findings and other reports, the commission advised that "behind the iron curtain the Voice of America is getting through to the people who have access to radio sets and to many more by word of mouth." In Poland and Czechoslovakia it is believed a tenth of the population is reached.

"It is effective partly because it tells the people the truth about what is going on in the world outside and in their own countries; partly because it counteracts Russian propaganda; mainly and fundamentally because it brings hope and encouragement," said the commission.

In western Europe, Congress was told the radio, American libraries and other enterprises are "quite effective" as far as they go, but should be expanded. May found that the American information now is reaching the upper and middle classes rather than the farmers and industrial workers.

In Latin America, the commission recommended a more vigorous effort to off-set Communist propaganda among industrial workers in Venezuela, Chile and other countries.

Storm Areas Clean Up Ruins

Dreary Tasks Being Faced

CANTON, Okla., March 31. (AP) The terror that tornadoes brought to seven Oklahoma communities gave way today to the dreary and heart-breaking job of picking up the pieces and starting over.

There were three deaths to learn to forget, and more than a dozen victims are still in hospitals with serious injuries.

The twisters, probably just two of them, churned from Oklahoma to Kansas along the diagonal face of a stationary cold front.

First Was Worst

Reading from southwest to northeast, the first one hit Canton, Longdale, Homestead and Isabella. The second tornado, headed the same way but farther north, passed close to Enid and Medford and raked Blackwell en route to Kansas. Each did up to half a million dollars damage.

The first was the worst. It tore part of Canton down and killed Charles Stowers, 32, and Mrs. C. W. Godfrey, about 80. Then it hopped seven miles to Longdale—and killed 12-year-old Larry Arnold. It passed on to rip open homes and buildings in the villages of Homestead and Isabella.

The second twister hit only glancing blows. It struck rural buildings near Medford, partly destroyed an airport near Enid, and did its worst damage at Blackwell, injuring half-a-dozen, and tearing down a school and several homes.

Crossed Into Kansas

It apparently crossed the line into Kansas, and injured three persons on farms near Winfield.

As with all tornadoes, there was freak damage. A brick church was razed to the ground, but across the alley a flimsy frame garage stood untouched.

A 6-months-old baby girl was snatched from her home and set down gently in a field several hundred feet away.

One house was unmarked outside—but the inside was crammed with debris carried through win-

THE QUESTION

What is one of the most admirable qualities a person can have?

MRS. A. F. WELLS, 3412 Twenty-fifth, cashier and wife of owner of Shamrock cafe: "Friendliness and truthfulness and sincerity are good qualities. It takes all of them for a person to be admirable.

R. C. DONNELL, 2116 Ninth, oiler for construction work: "Self respect woul be one. If you don't respect yourself, you won't have any ambition, or you won't think you can do anything."

DAVID C. BRANNON, 2508 N. First: "Consideration. Without consideration no one can be happy, whether it's in business or in friendship or in marriage. One should have respect for everyone. Respect for elders especially is important."

WALLACE THARP, Big Spring, partner in Compact Sales Co. who spends part of his time in Lubbock: "I think compassion—the ability to see and understand other people's problems. That's something you could write books on."

MISS INEZ DAVIS, 3309 Twenty-second, saleslady at Sansome Paint and Paper Co.: "I'd say a good personality and friendliness. You have to like people and want people to like you in order to be friendly and have a good personality."

ROBERT COLLIER, 2117 Eighteenth, salesman at Heath Furniture Co.: "Personality, I guess. It means the kind of character and the kind of friends a person has. You have to like people and have a good disposition."

School Sites Purchased By Local Board

Negotiations for the purchase of sites for two new elementary school buildings were completed Wednesday at a recessed meeting of the board of trustees of Lubbock Independent school district.

A five-acre tract facing north in 4600-block of Thirty-fourth street was purchased from C. L. Baggett for the sum of $7,000. The tract is bounded by Thirty-fourth street on the north, West avenue on the east and Thirty-sixth street on the south.

Legal definition of the tract is the east five acres of tract 4, Tech Town addition to the City of Lubbock, a resubdivision of the northwest ¼ of section 18, block B, Lubbock county.

Building Plans Drawn

The other site, containing 7.12 acres, is the northwest ¼ of section 17, Eva M. Rice land, and faces on the north side of North Sixth street. Purchase price of the land from C. L. Rice was $5,000.

Plans are being drawn at the present time for a 12-room school building on the site bought from Rice, according to Clyde Tatum, chairman of the board of trustees. A. C. Jackson, business manager, said that temporary buildings will be placed on the two tracts in time for occupancy next fall.

With school enrollment growing from year to year, the purchase of additional school sites is part of a long-range plan to keep facilities expanded to the needs of the school system. Permanent buildings will be erected on all school sites when the need becomes great enough and the necessary funds are on hand.

New Junior High Indicated

In discussion of schools and school sites, the board has agreed over the past two years that the next major move in the school system will be a junior high school in the northwest part of the district.

At Wednesday's meeting, the board also authorized the removal of buildings acquired as war surplus recently from South Plains Army Air field to the Cottage school for use as an assembly room. A public address system will be installed there, Jackson said, to be expanded as additions to the school are built.

Contracts for renovation and addition to Cottage school were let this month, and work is beginning at the present time.

Permanent Track Is Planned For Soap Box Derby In City

Members of the Lubbock Exchange club started out in high gear Wednesday noon in preparations for the second annual Lubbock Soap Box Derby when they voted to build a permanent track for the Derby in the undeveloped area of Mackenzie State park.

The permanent track, which will cost an estimated $4,000, will conform as closely as possible to the track at Akron, O., where the All-American Soap Box Derby is run.

The Exchange club members plan to finance the track through labor and machinery contributions from road and dirt-moving contractors and by general contributions from those interested in the project as a boys' activity project.

Help Is Asked

Anyone wishing to make donations to the porject may mail checks to The Exchange Club Soap Box Derby project, General Delivery, Lubbock.

The Exchange club is a co-sponsor with The Avalanche-Journal and Kuykendall Chevrolet company in staging the Derby, which will be run on Monday, July 4.

East Broadway hill on Highway 82 was used for the Derby last year.

Use of the undeveloped area in the park for the Derby site has been tentatively approved by K. N. Clapp and members of the parks board and actual location of the track will be made within a few days.

It is estimated that one month's work will be required to construct the 1,000-foot race course.

In the meantime, Exchange club members will be seeking sponsors for the nearly 250 boys who have already signed up for the Derby. Sponsors, by paying a $17.50 fee, provide for the boys' wheels, steering gear and other materials incident to the race. Each boy must build his own car and cost of materials is limited to $6.

Any individual, business firm or organization wishing to sponsor a boy in the race may send in his check to the Exchange Club Sponsor Committee, General Delivery, Lubbock, Texas, or to The Avalanche-Journal.

A canvass among business firms for sponsors for the boys will be made at a later date if there are boys who haven't a sponsor by that time.

Former Communist Says Reds Called Strike In 1941 Crisis

NEW YORK, March 31. (AP) — Communist chiefs, seeking to halt war aid to Britain, flashed the word that heralded the long 1941 strike at the Malwaukee Allis-Chalmers plant, a government witness says.

Louis F. Budenz, on the stand in the Communist conspiracy trial, testified yesterday the strike signal came at a secret party meeting at Milwaukee in 1940 in the days of the Hitler-Stalin pact.

He said Eugene Dennis, party general secretary and a defendant, told the meeting that the party's U. S. politburo had recommended the strike to block "the flow of war materials."

Among those present at the meeting, Budenz said, was Harold Christoffel, then president of the Allis-Chalmers local of the CIO United Automobile workers.

Defendants Rebuked

"Christoffel said an occasion for such a stoppage could be found," the witness testified, "and Dennis said it should be done as soon as possible."

The strike came off early in 1941, but was ended before Germany invaded Russia in June, the witness said.

Budenz, former Communist official, broke with the party in 1945, and rejoined the Roman Catholic church. He is the first government witness called in the trial of 11 Communist leaders.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina rebuked the defendants for "smiling, sneering and snickering" during Dudenz's testimony.

Defense lawyers jumped up to protest, as did Dennis, who is defending himself.

"We do not take these proceedings lightly," said Dennis.

"I saw you," the judge retorted. "You were one of the chief offenders."

Mistrial Denied

The exchange came in a courtroom flurry touched off when Medina accidentally misstated the charge against the defendants.

He said they were accused of "conspiring to overthrow the government" instead of "conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow' of the government.

This brought a defense demand for a mistrial, which was denied.

Budenz testified the Milwaukee party meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Meta Berger, widow of Victor L. Berger, once Socialist congressman from Milwaukee. She died in 1944.

The witness said Wisconsin Communist leaders were told by Dennis to be prepared to go underground to "turn the imperialistic war into a civil war" if the U. S. entered the war on the side of Britain.

Christoffel told the Milwaukee meeting, Budenz said, that the Allis-Chalmers strike could be effected through "friction between the UAW and AFL unions."

Christiffel was expelled last year by the Allis-Chalmers union which installed right-wing officers. He was convicted a year ago in federal court of lying when he told the House labor committee he never had been a Communist. The case is on appeal to the Supreme Court.

Soldier Asks Aid Of State Department

TOKYO, March 31 (AP) — Cpl. Lorenzo Gamboa, who already has General MacArthur on his side, today asked the U. S. State department to help him rejoin his wife and two children in Australia.

The Filipino, who gained U. S. citizenship for his wartime service with American forces, filed a new application for permission to go back to Australia. It has barred him as an "Asiatic."

He made his new application in a letter to Patrick Shaw, chief of the Australian mission here, declaring "When I was ready to give my life for your country, there was no question of race, color or creed."

Gamboa sent a copy of the letter to William J. Sebald, head of MacArthur's diplomatic section, and asked the State department to "intercede for me in an effort to secure my entry into Australia."

The corporal had carried on his battle alone until about a week ago when MacArthur learned of Gamboa's failure to gain entrance to his wife's native land. The general assigned his legal chief to help.

Without waiting for an official U. S. move, Shaw asked the Australian government to reconsider Gamboa's case. The answer still was no.

Texan Found Guilty Of Tavern Slaying

WACO, March 31 (AP) — Cyrill J. Thibodeaux was sentenced to ten years in prison for the slaying of Staaden Sawyer at a tavern near West, Dec. 26, 1948.

A 56th district court jury returned a verdict of guilty late yesterday afternoon.

Thibodeaux and Sawyer were both from Hillsboro. Thibodeaux pleaded temporary insanity as his defense.

NEW SENATOR — Dr. Frank Graham, above, 62, president of the University of North Carolina, has been appointed to the U. S. Senate. Dr. Graham, who helped draft President Truman's controversial civil rights program, replaces the late Sen. J. Melville Broughton. He will serve until the 1950 general election.

Grover W. Lampey's Relatives Are Sought

MONAHANS, March 31 (AP)—Authorities were searching today for relatives of Grover W. Lampey, 64, found burned to death on a Pecos river bank yesterday.

Sheriff W. B. McNerlin said he thought that Lampey, an itinerant, had built a fire to keep warm, and was burned when he dozed off.

New York Debutante, London Banking Firm President Wed

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 31. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Sweeny, jr., planned a golfing honeymoon today following their fashionable wedding.

Friends said the former British amateur golf champion and his bride would go to Augusta, Ga., for the masters tournament, April 7-10, and then visit Dallas, Texas, Pinehurst, N. C., and White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., before sailing for England in May.

Marries Debutante

Sweeny was married to Miss Joanne Marie Conneley, New York debutante, in St. Edward's Catholic church at 4:15 p. m. (EST) yesterday by the Rev. Patrick D. O'Brien.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. M. S. Huntington Watts and John H. Conneley, both of New York, was given in marriage by Winston Frederick Churchill Guest, polo player and big game hunter, of New York and Palm Beach.

Heads Banking Firm

Sweeny, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Sweeny of New York and London, is president of the Federated Trust, a London banking firm.

Work On New Grain Elevator Here Nearing Half-Way Point

Unheralded except by its mammoth hulk stretching skyward from a plot that was open field a few weeks ago, Lubbock's largest current construction job is moving on schedule into the middle stages of progress.

It is the $1,500,000 Producers Grain Corporation elevator southeast of the city. Work Wednesday night was 25 per cent completed on the structure, one of the largest if not the largest southwest of Kansas City.

Just completed is a nine-day continuous pour of concrete forming 24 of 48 bins, each 125 feet high, which will give the elevator its total capacity of 2,000,000 bushels of grain.

During the pour 330 men were employed on the job to make an aggregate weekly payroll of $30,900. Some of the key workers are earning in excess of $300 weekly during the building of the elevator.

Concrete was poured continuously for nine days and nights to form the first section of the bins. Dump trucks carrying "sandwiches" of sand, cement and gravel unloaded into a "mixermobile"—a mobile concrete mixer of large capacity—which fed the mixed cement into a hoist that stretches 125 feet into the air.

Overseeing the job are Tom Christian, superintendent for MacDonald Engineering company of Chicago which obtained the general contract on a bid of $915,800, excluding machinery; and Jay Earle, engineer representing both the owner, an Amarillo concern, and the architect-engineer, Horner and Wyatt of Kansas City, Mo.

The next big phase of construction will be the "headhouse," the square center portion which will be 210 feet 9 inches high and will contain grain hoists and other complex machinery to control the movement and loading of grain.

Earle said recent high winds have delayed erection of the scaffolding, in spite of numerous guy-wires that anchor it into position.

The contractor estimates that a 16- to 18-day continuous pour of concrete will be required on that portion of the building. The foundation is being prepared now.

The headhouse will be far and away the tallest structure in Lubbock. It's height of 210 feet will compare with the approximate height of 120 feet of the Lubbock and Hilton hotels.

When the headhouse is poured, a third continuous pour will be required to form the second group of 24 bins.

A line of 16 bins three deep will form the storage portion of the elevator. Each bin will have an inside diameter of 22 feet.

The completed elevator will include a number of smaller buildings. It will embody the latest improvements in machinery and equipment.

Among other equipment will be three car dumps on the south side of the building which can tilt freight cars sidewise or endwise for unloading grain. A similar dump to accomodate the largest trucks and truck-trailers will be built on the north side of the building.

"The Texas," a conveyor system, will surmount the bins and carry grain to individual bins.

There will be a Carter disc separator which can take a mixture of different grains and separate them into different bins, discarding sticks and other waste. A fan system will discharge dangerous combustible dust into a special tank receptacle.

Two 2,500-bushel capacity scales will be installed.

Earle, representative of the engineer, has been engaged in "slip-form type of construction for 33 years, and during that period he has built grain and rice elevators in many sections of the country.

Christian, the contractor's superintendent, has been engaged in elevator construction for 10 years. He lives in Chicago.

New York Anti-Red Bill Goes To Dewey

ALBANY, N. Y., March 31 (AP)—A bill designed to weed out and bar Communists from jobs in New York's public school system went to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today for expected approval.

The state assembly gave the measure overwhelming final legislative approval last night, over objections of some minority Democrats.

Under terms of the bill, the board of regents must maintain a list of organizations it finds subservice and set rules to prevent members from holding jobs in the public school system.

The bill's preamble states:

"There is a common report that members of subversive groups, and particularly the Communist party and certain of its affiliated organizations, have infiltrated into public employment in schools of the state."

Another measure sent to Governor Dewey by the Republican-controlled legislature would prohibit use of public buildings by organizations which the U. S. attorney general lists as subversive.

Edelweiss, low growing flower of the high mountains of Switzerland, is protected by law because of its rarity.

Suits For Income Tax Refund Filed

DALLAS, March 31. (AP)—Suits to recover about $100,000 in alleged overpayment of income taxes have been filed here by three Wichita Falls families.

The Dallas tax office handles connections for North Texas.

Plaintiffs are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hair, now residents of Albuquerque, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Christie, and Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Bullington. All were partners in the construction firm of Hair, Christie and Mason. This firm built barracks and other installations for the Air Force during World War II.

The three couples claim federal tax collectors overstated their net income by taxing them for the 1943 earnings of their children, who also were named as partners in the firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Hair together are suing for $29,226.68; Mr. and Mrs. Christie for $35,066.49; and Mr. and Mrs. Bullington for $25,397.27.

Experiment Is Underway Near Monroe

Prospects For Early Lettuce Crop In Area Claimed Bright

By EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

An attempt to make a crop of spring lettuce is being undertaken this year in Lubbock county. According to D. W. Sherrill, county agent, this is the first such experiment with spring lettuce to be tried here.

Harry Sumida, has planted 60 acres to five varieties of this lettuce and all of it has made an excellent stand at this time. The different types were planted on staggered dates and the first plantings have reached the point where they are being blocked out.

Plants Cabbage Early

Sumida is operating a total of 110 acres together with D. W. Theil three miles east of Monroe. 50 acres has been planted in early cabbage and is beginning to make a showing. The whole operation is irrigated.

At the present time the soil on Sumida's land is crusted. This was caused by the recent hails and winds, Sumida said. He is using a small rotary hoe mounted on a tractor to break this crust before he applies water from the irrigation system.

Both Sumida and Thiel are pleased with the results so far. However, they point out that the entire outcome hinges on the weather and they cannot make any predictions at this time. Sumida has had previous experience with these crops in Colorado and in every case has been successful.

"If all goes well," Sumida said, "we can expect to make our first crop of lettuce about May 20 and the early cabbage should be ready by June 10."

Sumida began blocking out his lettcue beds Wednesday. This is done with a hoe and spaces the heads about 12 to 14 inches. It gives the heads a sufficient amount of moisture, fertilizer (which is added to the irrigation water) and allows for a free circulation of air about the plants.

"I'm very optimistic about our crop," Sumida said. "In fact I almost feel sure that we have it made now," he added with his fingers crossed. Sumida also said that he devoted 100 per cent of his time to the crop. Rapid changes in the weather kept him close to the fields and prevented him from engaging in any other activities.

"If the crop is good and comes in on time we will be well repaid for our efforts because we will catch the earlier and higher priced markets," Sumida stated.

Self-Mutilation Of Prisoners Probed

ANGLETON, March 31 (U.P.)—An investigation was to be made today into the self-multilation of four prisoners yesterday at the Darrington state farm near here.

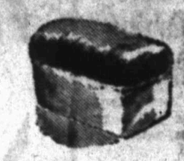

The men, serving sentences from two to five years for burglary, severed their heel tendons. Prison officials said that practice was occasionally resorted to by prisoners who refused to work.

O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas prison system, said the men were John James Clark, 24, Tom Green county; Robert L. Johnson, 25, El Paso; Harold N. Smith, 23, Montgomery county, and Carl Williams, 21, El Paso.

New Production Area Found In Southwestern Andrews County

Cities Service Oil Company has discovered a new area for production from the lower Permian in Southwest Andrews County, one mile north of the closest Ellenburger wells in the Dollarhide field.

Cities Service No. 1-E Cowden, 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 14, block A-52, psl survey, developed free oil in a drillstem test at 6,526-6,789 feet, in a section thought by some geologists to possibly be basal Clear Fork.

The tool was open four hours and 28 minutes. No fluid flowed out of the pipe during the time the tester was opened.

However, considerable fluid was unloaded from the drill pipe while it was being pulled.

Operator representatives estimated that the total recovery was 6,225 feet of fluid, or 69 barrels. That fulid was 18 barrels of drilling mud and 51 barrels of oil. There was no formation water. The venture is drilling ahead below 7,092 feet in lime. It was originally started to go to around 10,500 feet to explore into the Ellenburger.

Well Is Completed

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has completed its No. 2 Edwards for commercial production from the Devonian in the Landon-Strawn area of South-Gentral Cochran County to open a new pay in that region.

On an initial production test, the well flowed 24 hours through a 12/64-inch choke, producing 237 barrels of oil. Gravity was 38.4 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 51-1. Total fluid recovered had a shakeout of two-tenths of one per cent basic sediment and water.

Production was natural from the open hole zone at 10,913-55 feet.

This discovery is 660 feet from north and 528 feet from west lines of section 13, block L, psl survey.

Venture Drills Ahead

An extensive investigation of the San Andres-Permian was to be made by C. H. Murphy & Son No. 1 E. T. O'Daniel, Central Gaines County wildcat projected to 5,700 feet two miles southeast of Seminole.

Top of the San Andres was picked through samples at 5,000 feet, on an elevation of 3,268 feet. The venture was drilling ahead below 5,094 feet in lime. It is to start coring Thursday. The exploration is to core through the San Andres with diamond bits.

It is 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 16, block C-44, psl survey.

New Field Opens

A new oil field in Northwest Borden County was opened by the completion of H. L. Hunt No. 1-B Clayton & Johnson, discovery in the Spraberry section of the lower Permian 11 miles northwest of the town of Gail.

On a 24-hour potential test, the well pumped 24 hours to make 40 barrels of oil. Gas-oil ratio was 400-1. Gravity of the petroleum was 41 degrees. Of the total fluid recovered, 27.2 per cent was water, which was in addition to the 40 barrels of oil.

This development is 660 feet from north and west line of the lease in section 22, block 31, T-6-N, TP survey. Elevation is 2,526 feet.

Operator will ask for a Railroad Commission hearing on this new discovery, suggesting the pool be named "North Gail" field.

Offsetting this strike, H. L. Hunt has staked his No. 2-B Clayton & Johnson directly southeast to the pay opener.

The drillsite is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 22, block 31, T-6-N, TP survey.

Maintenance School Scheduled At Tech

A tow-day school to instruct 4-H boys, farmers and ranchers in the care and maintenance of their tractors and farm machinery, will be held at Texas Tech, April 7 and 8.

District Agent W. N. Williamson, of the extension service, said that plans have been made to have a second-hand tractor of nearly every type at the school. Service men and maintenance experts from the various firms handling the sales and service of these tractors will be on hand to demonstrate the proper way to make repairs and operate the machine more efficiently.

The school was to have been held in the agricultural engineering building which recently was damaged by fire. The classes will be held in the old agricultural engineering building, Williamson said.

Visitors are expected from 16 South Plains and Panhandle counties and the demonstrations are open to all who are interested in the subject.

Storm Areas

dows by the blast.

Although tornado winds approached 400 miles per hour—nature's most concentrated weather fury—their peculiar destruction comes from the extreme low pressure, a near vacuum that apparently lies in the vortex.

Surrounded by this sudden vacuum, a houseful of air bursts outward like a bomb blast, scattering the timbers far and wide.

Cooper Boys To Open Drive For Red Cross

Boys from the vocational agriculture classes at Cooper High school were to begin a Red Cross fund drive in that community today according to Jason Gordon, director of the drive.

Gordon said H. H. Nicholas, superintendent of the school, and Harvey Owens, vocational agriculture teacher, would accompany the boys. He also urged every one to have their contributions ready when the boys called. They will work in teams.

Second Performance Of Tech Play Slated

A second performance of "Joan of Lorraine," a play produced by the Texas Tech speech department, is to be given at 8 p. m. tonight in Lubbock Senior High school auditorium.

A crowd of some 500 persons attended the first performance Wednesday night, when the cast made three curtain calls.

D'Ruth Hopping played the title role in the Maxwell Anderson play. Others in the cast included Jack Witte, John Upshaw and Wilson B. Ward.

The play was directed by Miss Cecilia Thompson, Teach speech instructor.

Services Scheduled For Former Sculptor

FORT WORTH, March 31. (AP)—Joseph Eddy Lipe, a sculptor who came to Texas because of stories of Davy Crockett, will be buried here tomorrow.

Lipe, 41, did the bust of Will Rogers which stands in the Will Rogers memorial coliseum here.

He died in a hospital yesterday.

Lipe retired as a professional sculptor three years ago and became a dental technician.

He heard the David Crockett stories when he was a child.

"They roused my interest in Texas and I determined to make my home were when I grew up," he once said. He moved here from Michigan 12 years ago.

DOCTOR CLAIMS THEORY SUCCESS

Rice Diet To Treat Kidney, Heart Disease Is Reported

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 31.—A new report on the successful use of a diet of rice to treat heart and kidney disease was made today at the annual meeting of the American College of Physicians.

The rice diet, according to Dr. Walter Kempner, associate professor of medicine, Duke university, is based on the theory that salt, protein and fat are detrimental in large quantities and their restriction is warranted in the treatment of disease of the blood vessels, resulting from high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries.

Dr. Kempner said that the rice diet is "very low" in salt and protein and cholesterol, a fatty substance which experimentally has been found to produce hardening of the arteries.

Dr. Kempner said that a study of almost 1,000 patients showed that the rice diet "acts beneficially to reduce the blood cholesterol in a great majority of patients and in many to a significant degree."

"Other changes occur in the composition of the blood—chief among which is the drop in chlorides and the rise in bicarbonate with the sodium and potassium remaining constant," he said.

He said the rice diet also has brought benefits in chronic nephritis, or bright's disease, and in edema, or dropsy.

Case Histories Cited

Dr. Kempner recalled several case histories in which the diet produced results, and also reported "great success" in the management of a significant number of cases of so-called benign essential hypertension, or cases in which no disease is found in the kidneys and elsewhere which might be factors in producing the elevation of the blood pressure.

In 777 patients who followed the diet for an average of 92 days, he said, there was "definite decrease" in blood pressure in 71 per cent of the total group. The longer a patient remained on the rice diet, the more improvement he made.

The rice diet, according to Dr. Kempner, can be increased to supply adequate energy by adding sugar. No essential deficiencies develop, he said, and the patient does not starve.

Hotel Here Praised In Company Report

Lubbock's Hilton hotel ranked second in percentage of occupancy among the Hilton hotel systems, the company's annual report reveals.

The Lubbock Hilton has a 93.9 per centage of occupancy in 1948, a gain of .7 per cent over 1947, the report revealed. Only the Albuquerque, N. M., Hilton hotel had a greater percentage of occupancy than the local unit and by only .1 per cent. The New Mexico hotel had a 94 per cent occupancy record.

The report also revealed that the average daily room rate of the local hotel was lower than any of the other Hilton hotels. Lubbock had an average of $4.39 compared with $4.91 at El Paso and $5.41 for Albuquerque.

The report also carried a picture of Mrs. Evelyn McDonald, housekeeper of the local hotel, citing her for her 15 years service with the Hilton chain. A picture of the local hotel was included in the report along with those of the Plaza and Roosevelt, New York, Palmer House and Stevens, Chicago, Dayton Biltmore, Dayton, O., Mayflower, Washington, Town House, Los Angeles; Albuquerque Hilton, St. George and Bermudiana, Bermuda and the Palacia Hilton, Chihuahua, Mexico.

Demonstration On Grass Seeding Set In Crosby County

A grass seeding demonstration will take place on the Howard Hampton ranch, five miles south of Robertson, Crosby county, Friday afternoon at 2 p. m.

The demonstration is sponsored by the Board of Supervisors of the Crosby County Soil Conservation district. Technicians from the Soil Conservation service of the USDA will assist in the grass seeding.

Mr. Hampton, a Lubbock man, is seeding approximately 150 acres of cropland to grass. The grass seed mixture being sown will consist of side oats grama, blue grama, little bluestem, King Ranch bluestem, sand bluestem, sand lovegrass and weeping lovegrass. About ten pounds per acre will be required

Sorghum Cane Reported

Seventy-five acres of this land already has a good cover of drilled sorghums and the remainder has a cover of combine sorghum stubble. Most of the area is sandy with a few small areas of shallow land. It is subject to wind erosion.

W. R. Kimbrough, Crosby county agent who will direct the demonstration, says that the Hampton ranch was chosen for the demonstration because it is an ideal example of the type of land that can be saved by grass planting.

The supervisors are furnishing a grass seed planter. The machine was constructed from an old sod planter and some parts from a Planet junior. They are also furnishing enough seed to plant 20 acres. The balance of the seed is being furnished by Hampton.

Demonstration Scheduled

Another grass planting demonstration will take place on April 4. This show will be on the farm of Leon Lawson, two miles southeast of Pettit. The Hockley County Soil Conservation district, of which Lawson is a supervisor, will sponsor the demonstration. Lawson was also one of the first co-operators on the soil conservation program. Hockley County Agent Artie Forehand will be in charge of the operations.

The public, and especially landowners, are invited to attend both of these demonstrations for the purpose of learning what they can do to prevent erosion on their property.

Treasury Secretary Not In Wife's Will

CINCINNATI, March 31. (AP)—United States Treasurer William A. Julian was—"by design and intent"—cut out of his late wife's $10,000 estate.

Mrs. Gertrude M. Julian's will stipulated that her secretary, George A. Argus, and the Provident Savings Bank and Trust Co., share equally in the estate.

In the will, filed yesterday in probate court, Mrs. Julian said the absence of bequests to others "is not by inadvertent omission, but rather by design and intent, for reasons deemed by me to be adequate and proper."

Mrs. Julian died last week.

Slayer Given Life Sentence

STEPHENVILLE, March 31 (AP)—Robert C. Bagwill, 17, was sentenced to life imprisonment 30 minutes after a jury convicted him of murdering Crockett C. Ross.

The youth wept as District Attorney Sam Cleveland late yesterday reenacted the killing of the 38-year-old Stephenville filling station operator.

His sister, Mrs. Carl W. Grounds, 20, of Tulsa, cried out "no, no" and wiped the tears from Bagwill's eyes as Cleveland called the youth a "confirmed graduate in crime."

Pleaded Innocent

Bagwill had pleaded innocent to the slaying of Ross on Jan. 28.

The state had asked he be sent to the electric chair.

The case reached the jury of 11 farmers and a grocery clerk at 6:30 p. m. A verdict was returned at 8:05 p. m.

Bagwill and his uncle, Daniel White, 48, were arrested at Vernon on Feb. 6.

Asks Sentencing

Bagwill asked immediate sentencing when the jury returned its verdict.

The jury was charged to consider Bagwill guilty or innocent of murder with malice. Judge Ernest O. Belcher ruled out a charge that include murder without malice, self-defense or duress, in a conference with state and defense attorneys before the charge was drafted.

Ross was robbed of $300 the night he was slain.

Mrs. Grounds was the only witness called by the defense.

Former Policeman Goes Free On Bond

DALLAS, March 31 (AP)—Former Dallas Policeman Walter Johnson, 60, was free on $3,000 bond today after being charged with assault to murder in the shooting of Paul Spence, his 45-year-old neighbor.

Spence was reported in "fair condition" at Baylor hospital from bullet wounds in the chest and left hand.

Academic Freedom Wiped Out In North China Under Communists; Education Is Doctrinized

By CLYDE FARNSWORTH
Special Correspondent

SHANGHAI, March 31.—Academic freedom has perished under the Communist regime in North China, along with academic discipline.

Sovietization of schools, reported by competent witnesses who have reached Shanghai from Peiping, Tientsin and Tsinan, poses the question whether it will be possible for foreign mission schools to continue as such in the Red areas.

In fact, it is questioned whether education of any kind, except in Communistic doctrine, will be possible. Thousands of non-Communist students either are staying at home or have fled from North China, seeing no possibility of formal education under the Soviet regime.

One of my informants said more than 700 students of one Peiping university had crossed the frontier into non-Communist China the same day he did. Hundreds of such student refugees already are in Shanghai.

Student "Soviets" or councils, have usurped the authority over both private and public schools. They attend classes when it does not interfere with frequent council sessions, parades, mass meetings or "trials" which often last for hours.

The Communists decide which teachers shall teach, what they shall teach and even punish teachers for mistakes or "breaches of discipline."

"Revolutionary universities" are being opened both in Tientsin and Peiping. They are expected to turn out in four months personnel to take over civil government, making up for the Reds' lack of trained administrators. Entrance standards are not exacting—age limits are from 15 to 40. Out of the first 660 registered in Tientsin for the quickie course only 250 had been college students before.

"Trials" of students and teachers have been brought to the campuses of other universities as a scholastic version of "Tou Cheng," or "reckoning," which Red terrorists used to establish "the new democracy" in Chinese farm villages before party headquarters ordered them to taper off.

Student Punished

It is even practiced on landlords or well-to-do shopkeepers, but not with its former violence, according to reliable reports. Mostly members of the defendant's family are subjected to dunce-capped humiliation in the streets. If real punishment is to be meted out, it is done through "people's courts."

One of my informants told of witnessing a modified "tou cheng" against a student of Fu Jen Catholic university in Peiping early this month. It was held at the university athletic field and lasted five hours without a break.

The "defendant" was required to kneel the whole time. He was forbidden to speak in his own defense without first getting permission from the chairman, a fellow student. It appeared to my informant that most of the students present were reluctant to take part.

Charges Many

However, he said, a few stooges were scattered among them and these yelled timely responses to the proceedings, which were mostly speeches by the chairman and four or five others. Their oratory ranged far afield from the case.

It seemed charges against the student included mistreating servants, being unkind to fellow students, and raping a girl student. He was convicted by acclamation and wasn't seen on the campus after that.

In China where revolutionary ideas don't reach deep among the people, the role of the students as a most readily manipulated and articulate group of civilians has been important both to the Communists and the Nationalists.

This situation has produced the "professional student" whose mercenary task it is to promote his sponsors' cause. Both sides have used these campus mercenaries. Sometimes student parades have been turned out in "spontaneous demonstration" by paying demonstrators.

My informants from North China said the Communist "professional students" were still on the job.

1949 Traffic Death Toll Shows Increase

CHICAGO, March 31 (AP) — The nation's traffic deaths during the first two months of 1949 totaled 4,400, four per cent more than for the same period in 1948, the national safety council said today.

The February toll for the nation was 2,000 or three per cent more on a daily average compared with a year ago.

The council said heavy snows cut western states travel during the two months, reducing the death toll there. But unseasonably mild weather in eastern states increased travel and the number of traffic deaths in that area.

Conservation Work In Cochran Asked

During the past month application has been made by the following Cochran county farmers for soil conservation work: C. B. Jones, B. F. Taylor, L. T. Lemons, J. R. Silhan, E. R. Woolsey, D. G. Henry, Alvin DeBord, W. L. Bledsoe, Oren Hill, C. E. Harbison, Thomas Simnacher and B. M. Rose.

A soil and moisture conservation plan has been worked out with the following co-operators: N. E. Hall, Hughes Smith, James St. Clair, Woodrow Self, Joe Weeks, H. T. Greener, Syl Greener and Jo Jack.

Pipe System Installed

T. W. Roberts, a co-operator of the CYT Soil Conservation district, has installed an underground concrete pipe system and an 800,000 gallon reservoir for storage purposes. The underground pipeline has an alfalfa valve every 200 feet. By using 200 feet of gated pipe, no water will be lost through ditch or evaporation. The pipe is so constructed that there will be a gate for each row, thus absolute control as to how much water will be turned in each row. Roberts plans to install more lines in the near future. Some advantages of the underground water system are the conservation of water, no ditches, no weeds, and less labor.

Irrigation wells have been drilled recently on the following co-operators' farms: W. L. Bledsoe, B. M. Rose, D. E. Benham, J. L. Sullivan, P. J. Ausmus, and D. N. Bills. B. F. Taylor, H. Milligan, J. R. Silhan, and R. Z. Dewbre are drilling at the present. Surveys have been made for H. B. Barker, Bill Harris, D. E. Benham, and J. L. Sullivan for irrigation ditches.

The CYT Soil Conservation district at Morton has received, for replanting purpose, 8,000 eastern red cedar, 14,000 Chinese elm, 1,250 mulberry and 1,000 apricot seedlings. Most of these have been given to co-operators who planted last season, but who lost planting stock due to the drouth.

Young Boys Are Disillusioned Over Buried Loot They Found

CAMDEN, N. J., March 31 (AP)—Two little boys are disillusioned today—the buried treasure they found turned out to be the loot of some modern day robbers.

Frederick Dawn, seven, and Frank Anton, eight, went on a treasure hunt yesterday along Newton creek. Digging through some metal boxes, they came on a number of watches, rings, a gun, bullets and a fireman's badge.

Some of the "treasure" they parcelled out to playmates, and the rest they took home. Frank's mother, Mrs. Catherine Anton, became curious when she saw her son twirling an old fashioned watch on a heavy gold chain.

Musical Slated By Bethel A.M.E. Choir

The annual musical of the choir of Bethel A. M. E. church, 1801 Ave. B, will be presented at 8 p. m. Friday in the church auditorium, according to announcement by Rev. T. B Reese, pastor.

The theme of the musical, "We, Too, Are America," will be brought out through narration and music to illustrate the progress of the negro in education, science and invention, military service, and literature and music.

Soloists for the evening will be Mesdames M. Terrell, R. A. Harris, H. F. Kinney, W. F. Robinson, and B. M. Jamerson, Miss Ada B. Houston and L. J. Whitlow.

With the exception of Mrs. R. A. Harris, whose membership is with the Baptist church, all soloists are members of the Bethel A. M. E. church.

Mrs. M. D. Simmons, president of the choir, will serve as narrator. Mrs. E. C. Struggs is pianist and director.

Featured songs will include "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Jericho," "I Got Shoes," "Look Away," "Lift Every Voice," "A City Called Heaven," "Go Down, Moses," "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen," "Crucifixion," "Look Away to Heaven," and "Walk Together Children."

There will be no admission charge. The public is invited to attend.

Egypt hopes to have telephone service throughout it rural districts in five years.

Illinois Donor Adds To Conscience Fund

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP) A conscience-stricken citizen of Illinois sent the government $1,230 in cash yesterday to pay for unsolicited taxes.

The donor was unidentified. He said in an unsigned letter that the money—three $500 bills, two $100 bills, and $30 in smaller bills — was to pay the taxes of "a group of gentlemen."

Secretary of the Treasurer Snyder said the money will go into the department's 138-year-old "conscience fund" which now amounts to over $2,000,000.

MONEY, as all and sundry know, is beginning to "tighten up." It isn't flowing so freely these days as it has been during the pre-war, and immediate post-war periods.

As money tightens up, it is becoming more difficult than it has been for years to "put the bite" on people. Business men and others aren't so quick to toss a 100, a 50, or even a 10 dollar check into first one pot and then another "for the good of this, that or the other thing."

So back with us, as in the days of yore, are the promoters—the ladies and gents who roam the length and breadth of the land, putting on financial drives of one kind or another.

These campaigns take many forms, but they are the same in one respect. In each case, the promoter gets a big cut of the take—sometimes such a big cut that, after expenses are paid, there's very little left for the sponsoring group or organization.

Lubbock and other South Plains business men will be wise to watch out for these promotional boys.

Even though they may have flimflammed some very fine, honest people into accepting their services on behalf of very fine and humane projects, the promoters are, first and last, interested in themselves and their cuts in the profits.

Our citizenry should not be stampeded by these sharp, professional "do-gooders" whose first goal is to do good for themselves. Our people should refuse to be sold a bill of goods, however beautifully wrapped, unless they are sure that their money is going to the charity for which it is solicited, instead of to promoters who are here today and gone tomorrow.

BUSINESS men in Lubbock and elsewhere are being bombarded already by various so-called advertising solicitors, allegedly representing various publications that nobody ever heard of and nobody reads.

These solicitors have slick stories about "special editions and special sections dedicated to your city, or section." But the truth is that in most cases the man who buys the so-called advertising buys nothing. His money goes to the promoter and the unknown publication and from it the victim gets no return.

Every city should have a local board to rule on every itinerant's proposal. If the proposal is good, the board can O. K. it and persons solicited may then use their own judgment about their participation. If the proposal is no good—and most of them are—then the board's refusal to approve it will stop the solicitation in its tracks.

It's time we're all getting smart enough to protect ourselves.

That Man on Avenue Q says nothing annoys a woman so much as having friends drop in and find her house looking like it usually does.

Sudden thought: The earth that used to revolve on its own axis now keeps going on American taxes!

WE RAN across Richard Douglas the other day and the conversation drifted around to crop prospects. Naturally, we got to the old Indian legend about how the direction of the wind at sunrise on March 22 is always indictative of the year's crop yield.

"Of course," we said, "that's a lot of hokum. It's just an 'old wives' tale. But people are interested in the legend; have been, year after year. Every time March 22 rolls around, Avalanche-Journal telephones ring off the wall from calls from people asking "How was the wind blowing at sunrise? What kind of crops are we going to have?"

Mr. Douglas chuckled.

"Don't you think," he asked, "that deep down inside all of us there are superstitions—especially about the caprices of nature? Don't you think that all of us, no matter what our degree of intelligence and education, like to be on the good side of superstition?"

'Way down deep under our veneer of civilization and education, we humans are partially the product of the Neanderthal Man.

The early human had only the learning he could pick up and the only place he could pick it up was from the stars, the sun, the moon, the seasons and other manifestations of nature.

He kept no written records for those who followed him, because he knew no way to set down such records.

Hence, each man had to take things as he found them and to draw his own conclusions. Doubtless he passed some of those conclusions on to his children, and they, in turn passed them on to their children. In the process, more guesswork, more superstition—born of fear, perhaps—entered into the picture.

MOST people are loath to admit their superstitions. The more formal education they have, the more loath they are to admit them. But nearly all of us have superstitions to which we stubbornly, if more or less secretly, cling.

In our own case, we know full well that a black cat crossing our path doesn't mean a thing. We know it's silly to feel that a black cat, or a pink one, for that matter, has any power to wreak harm merely by crossing the path of a traveler.

Yet a year or so ago in early morning, as we were starting a 400-mile drive and a black cat streaked across in front of our headlights, we stopped, turned around in the middle of the block, and circumvented the black cat's magic—if any.

We had no accident—not even a "flat," on the drive!

Superstitions which prey on the minds of some people, do not bother others.

We don't know that we've ever broken a mirror, but wouldn't care if we did.

We have walked under many ladders and so far as we know, none of our bad luck has stemmed from the practice.

But we never put our hat on a bed—and if some well-meaning hostess plops our headpiece on a guestroom bed along with the hats and coats of other guests, we sneak into the room and carefully place our sombrero on the floor, or on a nearby chair!

As a kid, traveling with a baseball club, we were told that putting a hat on the bed would make us a "cousin" to every opposing pitcher and also cause all our children to become acrobats.

No hats on beds for us. No, sir!

WE DON'T know for certain whether any of the local Ph. D.'s have superstitions or not; or whether they'd admit having them, if they do. After all, it's asking pretty much of a dweller upon the academic Olympus to come clean in a matter of that kind.

But we're willing to bet that if the truth were known, maybe even Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Dean Robert Cabiness Goodwin, Dr. Charles B. Qualia and Dr. Oscar Kinchen have their pet "beliefs." And an old master of Indian lore like Dr. William Curry Holden, whose academic degrees and titles take up four lines of type if presented in their entirety, is bound to have a few, at least!

A lot of folks chuckle over the beliefs the colored folks maintain in charms and hexes and signs. But most of those who do wouldn't think of starting a long journey on Friday the 13th, or, when walking with another, take one side of a telephone pole, or tree, while his companion takes the other.

Ain't we smart animals?

BY DREW PEARSON: U. S. SCIENTISTS AFRAID TO PRESSURE HST ON BIKINI REPORT

American Diplomatic Personnel Still Underpaid

WASHINGTON.—One of the few pieces of legislation passed to date by the 81st Congress was a bill just about doubling the President's salary and housekeeping allowance. Meanwhile, American diplomats, stationed on the first line of defense, are still hopefully waiting for their promised but pitifully small increase of $330 a year.

PEARSON

This increase was tied to the bill boosting the President's pay check. For last year all other federal employees had been given a raise—but not U. S. diplomatic personnel abroad. Some of them, beginning on a salary as low as $2,000, can barely make both ends meet, and are supposed to keep up proper appearances as representatives of the great United States.

U. S. foreign service officials are stationed from Sinkiang to Tasmania, from Oslo to Durban, where the 40-hour week enjoyed by other officials is as rare as a smile on the face of John L. Lewis.

A bulletin recently sent to these employees quoted Senator Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts as saying: "Americans in the foreign service need to have great pride in their country. And it should be a pride that shows through, that reflects the true worth of the American way of life."

However, the President's salary boost was passed by Congress while the struggling, run-of-the-mine U. S. diplomat abroad got none. Furthermore, the ritzy boys with drag at the top came out fairly well. Their allowances weren't cut. But because the budget bureau sliced the State department even below last year, many of the poorly paid, struggling young diplomats at the bottom had $100 cut off their living and rental allowances.

To them the Truman "fair deal" has turned out to be the "raw deal." For, while we spend billions on the European recovery program, we nurse nickles on the front line of the American program for peace.

Note—One reason the American diplomatic service has been so notoriously inept is that it is has been so underpaid. Only wealthy men could afford to become career diplomats, and wealth does not necessarily mean brains.

Long-shanked House majority leader John McCormack can be a rough antagonist when he gets warmed up, but seldom has he been in such fighting form as during a lecture on racial tolerance the other day.

His target was race-baiting, rabble-rousing Representative John Rankin of Mississippi, who had just delivered a speech singling out Israel, along with the continents of Europe, Asia and Africa, as a "sinkhole" into which we are "pouring" relief funds.

Angrily McCormack told Rankin to "sit down." Then he blistered: "I have no feeling against anyone because of accident of birth. I was not consulted when I was brought into this world, neither was anyone else and I do not think accident of birth should operate against anyone.

A man's racial origin means nothing to me, a person's name means nothing to me. A person's religion I respect. But what does mean everything to me is a person's mind.

"And when I meet a person with a bigoted mind, I am meeting a person I do not like, a person I have nothing but contempt for."

Stung to the quick, Rankin vehemently demanded that McCormack's words "be taken down" by the clerk, the House instrument of censure. However, what most irked Rankin apparently was not the lecture on tolerance, but an added McCormack remark "in which the gentleman from Massachusetts deliberately and falsely accused me of opposing every measure for the defense of my country prior to Pearl Harbor."

However, McCormack's senior colleague, fair-minded Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, promptly sat on the boisterous little Dixiecrat, by ruling him out of order.

SOME OF us newspapermen are so busy calling attention to things that don't go right in the world that we underplay news about people who are helping to make the world a better place to live in. So here is some news about the folk who may not hold public office, who may not be famous outside their own community, but who nevertheless are making everyday human news as servants of brotherhood:

George L. Stahl, Sunbury, Pa.—who runs a hotel in a coal-mining town where at one time they spoke 17 different languages, and who by his unselfish devotion to his community has endeared himself to his fellowmen. In Sunbury, there's almost too much of "let George do it."

Ambrose Crass, Murfreesboro, Tenn. — A retired 76-year-old printer who hasn't been content to retire when it comes to working for others, and who is to be found making the rounds for other people whenever there's work to be done.

Dr. Clement L. Littauer, Asbury Park, N. J.—for his promotion of the local brotherhood rally which each year selects a distinguished citizen who has done most for his community regardless of race, color or creed.

Mrs. Ella Allen of Ft. Smith, Ark.—and the 52 children who have formed a Servants of Brotherhood. Each week the children meet to report on what they have been able to do for others.

Mrs. Robert C. Loving, Philadelphia—A widow who now devotes the affection she once lavished on her family visiting the sick in the hospitals of Philadelphia until she is known to thousands as "Mother Loving" and truly exemplifies the name she bears.

What these and many other Americans are doing may not be closed-door, hush-hush news, but it's what makes the U.S.A. what it is today. • • •

Marion carpenter, the lady photographer who plopped a bowl of bean soup in Columnist Tris Coffin's face, may be asked to eat her soup somewhere else besides the Senate restaurant. A move to bar Miss Carpenter from the restaurant will be taken up at the next meeting of the Senate rules committee. . . Senator Watkins of Utah will ask President Truman to postpone the signing of the North Atlantic pact until Congress and the nation have had a chance to study it. Watkins will claim that 17 days' examination of the pact is not sufficient time in which to study the most important change in America's foreign policy in 150 years.

Empire State Building Most Orb-Filling View In Big Town

THINGS Few New Yorkers know About N. Y. The most orb-filling view in The Big Town is the Empire State bldg. It is built to accommodate 25,000 tenants. (More than the population of many communities.) . . .Most tourists go right to its top—originally constructed as a mooring mast for passing dirigibles. It is never used as such. It is the coldest spot in town. . .Though Times Square (42nd Street and Broadway) is in the heart of the City of Skyscrapers there isn't one skyscraper there. . . The Time edifice and the Paramoundt bldg. are pygmies compared to those in lower Manhattan—or the nearest tall building uptown—the Chrysler bldg.— several blocks east.

There are enough regular theatregoers in the Metropolitan area to keep a show (that attracted good notices) running for 40 weeks. . .Approximately 30,000 of them go to see all the shows religiously. . .The best photos of Broadway are usually taken on drizzly nights. The Big Stem's dazzle. . .New Yorkers spend about $500,000 a year on phone calls just to find out what time it is.

THOSE impressive police wagons which race to emergency calls cost more than $21,000 each. They are crowded with grim-cracks and doodads to aid citizens in distress. . . .We have more than 100 well-equipped hospitals, too. And that's not enough. . .The most turbulent hospital is The Harlem, where six ambulances are kept busy in New York's jungle. There are so many "cuttings," a reporter was told not to phone them in. It isn't news, any more.

Our town has 120 pawn shops, in case you're broke. . . .There are 35 restaurants in the block between 6th and 7th Avenues on 49th Street. They range from a walk-up India dinery to a massive chophouse operated by Eisenhower's one-time mess Sgt. . . "Sloppy Looey's" is in the heart of the Fish Market on South St. It is said to be one of the finest seafood spots on seven continents. . .We have one restaurant on the lower East Side (been in business 30 years) which serves only one meal a week—Sunday dinner. . . .Local hotels list as their worst offenders—college girls in groups. When they check out—their rooms resemble the aftermath of a cyclone.

THERE is a ritzy candy store on Upper 5th Avenue, which retails its bonbons at only $80 per box. (The cost of the fancy box is the reason). . .Toy shops on the same avenue have "toys" that cost you more than the real thing from which they were copied into playthings. . .Contrary to public opinion, unhappy love affairs account for the fewest number of suicides in Our Burg. The reason you think so is that they make the most dramatic headlines. . .The N. Y. Times has the largest city-room—one block long—from 43rd to 44th. It is so big editors summon reporters via mierophones.

Some of our newsstand dealers make $1,000 a week. . . Newsstands cannot be sold. The City owns them. . .Several years ago stalls in choice locations retailed for as high as $50,000—until Mayor LaGuardia ended That Racket. . .A ruling states that every newsstand must be open at least 4 hours every day. . The out-of-town newspaper stand at 43rd and B'Way receives thousands of letters annually from all over the nation. Asking the vendor to look out for some missing kin—who may buy the hometown paper there.

ANOTHER ruling in Our Village demands that cab-drivers must get out and inspect the cab to see if the fare left anything—and if so— to report it to the nearest precinct house. . .The oldest apartment house is on the north corner at 72nd and Central Park West. . . Across the way is the Majestic Apartments (once a hotel) where O. O. McIntyre, the columnist, started his colyum. He was the press agent there—and sent his colyum to papers around the land free—just to get the hotel name in print. . .One swank apartment house at 87th near Madison has more maintenance men than tenants.

If you want to wear your shoes out, you can find quarters in Our Town for as low as $7 per month. . .But if you want a suite at the Waldorf-Astoria (in the Towers there) it'll cost yez only $28,000. . . Most New Yorkers dial the wrong number (about 4 million wrong ones yearly) before 10 ayem. When they are still sleepy, apparently. . .Some sections of the town still have the Gay 90s flavor. . .On West Street—near the Hudson River—there are horse-troughs on every block. We have about 17,000 nags, even with all those motor trucks. . .It is possible to walk from 34th to 42nd Street without traveling on the streets. Via connecting subway underpass. . .The Big Show for country bumpkins still is the famed Automat near 46th on Broadway.

America's Dr. Jekyll And Mr. Hyde

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"HOW can a wife who is ambitious for her husband help him get ahead?" That's the problem a young wife asks me to discuss.

Here is how a group of Canadian executive recently answered a similar question.

They said, in effect: ONE: Provide a home atmosphere of peace, with leisure for study. TWO: Handle money efficiently. THREE: Keep house neatly. FOUR: Be at least able to understand the vocabulary of your husband's work. FIVE: Be well-groomed. SIX: Be sure that your social manners are dignified. SEVEN: Be thoughtful in your relations to your husband's juniors.

MILLETT

As it stands that is a pretty good list. You'll notice that emphasis is placed on arranging evenings so that the husband has time for studying, rather than on leading a busy social life so that he is sure to meet "the right people."

Handling money efficiently will call for a great deal of wisdom on the wife's part, for it means much more than just being economical in small ways. Pinching pennies may or may not help a man to get ahead. But spending money where it will benefit the family most certainly will.

DON'T UNDERESTIMATE SOCIAL MANNERS

IN studying the list, don't dismiss lightly the warning that your social manners should be dignified. Not every woman can impress the world with her exceptional brains, great beauty, or unforgettable charm. But every woman, regardless of her looks, her background or educational advantages can meet the world with quiet dignity.

It may come as a surprise to some women to see that stress is placed on being considerate of the husband's juniors, rather than on making an effort to get on better footing with those above him. Such women have the mistaken notion that the way to help their husbands is to play up to the boss and the boss' wife, and never mind about the "unimportant" people the husband has already outdistanced. Ofter the husband must depend on the work of these juniors for the success of his own job.

One point not included in the list but which is also important is for a wife not to talk too much about her husband's business affairs. He may tell her everything that goes on at the office, discuss personalities with her, etc. But if she is smart she'll play dumb when those matters are being discussed by her husband's associates or their wives.

The wife who follows all these rules may not have a successful husband. But if she doesn't it won't be because she held him back.

"Try And Stop Me"

A MEMBER of the staff of a famous Hollywood producer did an unprecedented thing a few weeks ago. The producer had just outlined his idea for a new picture. The staff man coughed nervously, looked around for the nearest exit, and piped up, "Boss, I think your idea is terrible."

There was a stunned silence in the room for a moment; then the producer said quietly, "Joe please do me a favor. When you talk to me hereafter, keep quiet."

A HOLLYWOOD starlet upset precedent by asking for an autogarph instead of giving one. The autograph sought was Edna Ferber's, and the starlet's disarming request read, "It doesn't matter whether you write it or print it. I copy all my autographs over anyhow alphabetically in my scrap book."

Tallulah Enmeshed In Million Dollar Battle; Gaylord Upset

NEW YORK, March 31.—Tallulah, as everyone must know by now, is deeply enmeshed in a tearing-down million dollar fight with Benton and Bowles, Proctor and Gamble, some sort of shampoo called Prell, radio, jingle writers, Time & Life magazines, lawyers, letter-writers, other people named Tallulah, and a new water-system on her farm which cost $13,000. The system, not the farm.

RUARK

. I went to call on my old neighbor, carrying a fifth of calf's foot jelly and a sympathetic look. I said hello, baby, the, re treatin' you rough. Tallulah took over from there.

Unable To Sleep

"Darling," she said, "Darling, you can't known what I've been through with that bloody water-system costing $13,000 and taxes like they are and Gaylord is moulting from the strain Gaylord is the lovebird who is sitting on your neck and the reason I've got only one is the damn birds won't talk if you've got two they just sit and drool over each other and I haven't been able to sleep a wink I'm so upset and confused over the whole awful thing my God today I called room service and when then asked me what I wanted I told them a bourbon sautee and I couldn't be in my right mind you know very well because I love you that I never endorsed a bloody thing in life not even an opium pipe which reminds me of the story about Jeanne Eagles and Fanny Brice Jeanne was on the fire because she'd endorsed some sort of cigarette or other and everybody was being very artiste about it and pulling faces at her and Fanny asked somebody how much poor dear Jeanne got for the endorsementn and they said $5,000 and Fanny said by God for five thousand clams I would endorse an opium pipe and darling you know yourself I never even endorsed a reefer and I wouldn't have ordered a bourbon sautee if I'd had a matinee on today because you know how I feel about my work and just ask me all the questions you have in mind but ask them loud because my boy friend said just the other day will you please for Gossakes listen to me for just a minute—at the top of your lungs?

I'm so nervous I'm a wreck and it isn't a publicity gag at all it's a kind of pride I have in my work you know darling when you lived next door and I was saddled with that stinker 'The Eagle Has Two Heads' you know I always turned up cold sober for every stinking performance and now look at me I've come down with my spring leprosy and I'm just a wreck and it's all because of this awful Prell thing the man wrote a singing commercial with my name in it to sell some vile hair-oil or something and you remember that it was Beaverbrook who once said only three people in the British empire were automatic front page news—George Bernard Shaw, Tallulah, and the Prince of Wales—and you know very well that when somebody says Tallulah nobody ever answers 'Tallulah who?' and I never slept a wink last night because darling this is serious with me and my privacy has been invaded and you know I don't need the money, it's a point of principle I've got my name to think of and I've got a million letters here to prove that I don't need a last name mentioned to, have my privacy invaded and I intend to fight them to my last ditch Gaylord come down off that dash-dash mirror poor darling he's frightfully upset and who can blame him so am I and now ask me a question, darling."

I do my own interpreting, wher I talk to Tallulah, and the gist is still that she thinks no commercial product has the right to use her name without permission, since she is the only Tallulah around who is immediately identifiable by her first name. Stealing Tallulah's purse has always been a theft of trash, because of an uncontrolled generosity, but she has invested her years in her unusual first name, which she had from her grandmother. I think it was real unchivalrous of the hair-soap people to use it without her permission and now if she will just take Gaylord off my neck I will say that maybe I have proved a point in her favor because I never mentioned her last name at all.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

Today's Journal Editorial

WELL-DESERVED HONOR

One of the most appropriate and heart-warming gestures we have seen in a long time was the dedication of the latest issue of the Senior High school student newspaper, The Westerner World. Dedication was to Superintendent R. W. Matthews "in appreciation of 26 years service with but one absence for personal reasons."

The dedicatory article about Mr. Matthews in the issue would interest every friend of Lubbock schools and contains information which would be surprisingly informative to most of them. He was for example, an aviation instructor in World War I, drove tourist cars in Yellowstone National park, played football and "busted" broncos.

He richly deserves the recognition his students have seen fit to give him. And we doubt if any honor he ever has received delighted him more than the designation his students have bestowed upon him—that of "Dad of Westerners."

HARPOONS TIPPED WITH PRAISE

U. S. Senators Stage One Of The Greatest Shows On Earth

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 31. — For butter patties-on-the-back, see the United States Senate.

Sit in the gallery for free any day and look down on one of the greatest shows on earth.

Watch their tempers get raw but notice how, even when they heave a harpoon, they dress the tip in shimmering praise.

For in anger or sarcasm, they still butter one another up with a tender introduction.

"Will the very distinguished senator yield?" says one, although he may not think there's anything very distinguished about the man he's asked to yield.

Douglas High Point

And the yielder may wish the other one would stop interrupting, but he says "it is a pleasure to yield to the most able senator."

The high point this year was reached by Senator Douglas, Illinois Democrat, during the filibuster debate. He was against it.

He had the floor and was asked to yield for a question by Senator Russell, Georgia Democrat and captain of the filibusterers.

"I yield," said Douglas, "with a great deal of trepidation, as I face one of the subtlest men, and one of the most able field generals I suppose who ever appeared on the floor of the United States Senate; and though my knees are knocking, I am very glad indeed to yield."

Once in a while Senator Tom Connally, Texas Democrat, gets a little irritated and shows it with a sarcasm he lays on with a heavy hand.

Pepper Best Speaker

Connally is chairman of the Senate's foreign relations committee which soon will begin hearings on the Atlantic pact. He's for it.

But Senator Donnell, Missouri Republican, has doubts about it, and this week took a lot of Senate time to say so although the pact wasn't up for debate.

He asked Connally on the Senate floor if he could take part in the hearings, although Donnell is not on the committee.

"We", said Connally, "are always glad to hear eminent senators give their eminent views on eminent questions."

After listening to the 96 of them year after year, you begin to form a box-score of your own. Here's mine:

Best speaker—Claude Pepper, Florida Democrat. He's the toughest man in debate of the Senate floor. Watching him organize his ideas is a fine experience. And he shrugs off sarcasm so he can keep a cool head.

Donnell Boresome

Men who look most like old-time senators—Clyde Hoey, North Carolina Democrat, who wears the same kind of outfit every day: blue gray pants, blue-gray cutaway coat with a red carnation and a wing collar; and Connally, who looks a little like an actor or William Jennings Bryan with his hair hanging down over his collar.

Man who wears me out—Donnell. Digging into the meaning of just one word, even if it takes hours, is a great delight for him but not for me. He lugs in loads of dictionaries to define a word.

Men who don't talk unless they have something to say—Douglas and Aiken, Vermont Republican. Two thoughtful, intelligent men.

Most restless—I think Russell Long, Louisiana Democrat and son of the late Huey Long, gets the prize for moving around and slapping other senators on the back. He's only 30 brand new in the Senate, but he hops from seat to seat, getting clubby.

To offset the heat of the closed booth, the Sudan is testing open telephone booths.

All In A Lifetime — The Modern Age

Man Needs Education Which Will Stand Up Long Enough For Him To Get Another

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK.—I would like to trade my education in for a new one, just as you trade in a broken down car for a later model.

I grew up in what was supposed to be the most widely educated generation in history. But it appears now that practically everything I learned was wrong.

Today it is hard to believe in anything, because a thing that is accepted as a fact in the morning may be regarded as a superstition by evening.

Let us take a simple subject like the human body, something every normal person has. But how shall you take care of this marvelous machine? Well, what they teach you to do today they'll probably tell you to shun tomorrow.

If It Wants To

I was told, on the teacher's word of honor, that a clean tooth never decays. Everybody today knows darn well it will—if it want to.

The school dentist showed us the right way to brush our teeth—sideways. A couple of years later we were being taught to use a rotary motion. Now my dentist is in favor of brushing up and down. And I am looking forward to a day, coming fast, when I can avoid all doubt in the matter by taking 'em out and soaking 'em in a glass.

Take spinach. Everybody was sure in the days when I played marbles that spinach was the best source of iron outside the mesabi range. Now practically everybody knows better. People are reduced to eating spinach for pleasure.

Mold Idea Changes

Take mold. I was told mold was poisonous. Now if you don't swallow mould three times a day—in the form of penicillin—people get the idea there's nothing wrong with you.

The benefits of sunshine, fresh air and exercise—faiths of my childhood—have been debunked as over-rated. I used to believe people worried and grew thin. No, they worry and grow fat. They used to say "eat hearty." Now they say that if you do you'll become overweight and won't live long.

As a result of all these changes, a man no longer can afford to do anything to his body without running the risk of being out-of-date before his last wonder pill has been digested. About the only safe thing to believe in is the circulation of the blood.

What we need is an education that will stand up long enough for a man to earn enough money to go back to college and get another education.
