Prairie Areas Are Hard Hit Over Canada

Half Of Planting Reported To Be Failure And Thousands Of Persons Need Relief

(By The Associated Press)

OTTAWA, Ont., July 22—Drouth again is stalking through the wheatlands of Canada's prairie provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, with human misery in its retinue.

Approximately 24,000,000 acres were sown with wheat in these provinces and in less seriously stricken Manitoba. Crop reports indicate today half the planting was a failure.

Thousands Need Relief

More than 1,000,000 persons are affected directly and indications were that about 400,000 of them would need drouth relief.

Production which topped the half billion bushel mark in 1932 and then started a sickening drop may not amount to 300,000,000 bushels in this, the fifth successive season of drouth.

Vast areas of western Canada, with southern Saskatchewan as the center, have suffered greatly. In Saskatchewan, a broad strip of territory just north of the United States boundary has become virtually a desert.

Slight Consolation

The story for Alberta is less distressing. Optimistic estimators felt the crop there might not go far below one half of the 1928 yield of 171,000,000 bushels.

Some slight consolation remains in the increased price for grain this year.

End To Cases Being Sought

SWEETWATER, July 22. (Special)—Four men, three of them from Lubbock, have indicated they would like to go before a grand jury as soon as possible and get disposed of cases charging conspiracy to unlawfully possess and pass counterfeit currency.

Held under heavy bond are W. T. Sessums, T. W. (Pat) Kirk and Robert Southard, all of Lubbock, and Robert T. Wood of Hereford. Otis Harvey, another Lubbock man, was held at last report in Los Angeles and a removal order for him was expected.

Woman Free On Bond

In addition, Mrs. Sessums had been charged, but executed bond of $1,000 when arraigned before Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner at Lubbock.

The men had been held at Sweetwater since being transferred here June 30.

It was alleged the men and the woman had in their possession and passed approximately $1,500 in bogus currency. Tom H. Hanson, secret service operative of Dallas, and the Lubbock sheriff's office directed smashing tactics which resulted in raids at Juares and Mexico City.

Negro Is Given 99 Years Wednesday

DECATUR, Ala., July 22 (AP)—Imprisonment for 99 years was decreed yesterday for Andy Wright by the 10th jury in six years to return a guilt verdict in the "Scottsboro case" on charges that nine negroes committed a gang assault on two white women.

Shortly after the Wright jury reported, Clarence Norris, convicted last week, was brought before the bar and sentenced to die September 24.

As Judge W. W. Callahan looked down on Norris, the negro said:

"The jury didn't find me guilty—they just thought they did. I was convicted of a crime I never thought of committing."

"Scottsboro" defendants twice have been saved from death by the U. S. Supreme court. Wright was among those saved from the electric chair, having been sentenced to death at Scottsboro, Ala., in April, 1931.

SUPPORT IS REPLEDGED

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—New Mexico's two senators repledged today their support of former Senator Samuel G. Bratton for appointment to the United States Supreme court.

Traxler Dreads Return To Texas Prison Farm

(By The Associated Press)

HUGO, Okla., July 22.—The charmed life of Roy "Pete" Traxler, bullet-scarred veteran of flights from the law, today was withstanding the effects of a bullet wound over the heart and faced prospect of return to a Texas prison farm.

His companion in their 12-day flight lay in a morgue, a victim of the desperadoes' own guns. The companion, Fred Tindol, who with Traxler fled the Eastham, Tex., prison farm last July 8, was slain and Traxler was shot above the heart by two hostages the outlaws had kidnaped in their flight from a posse of almost 1,000 officers in southern Oklahoma.

Snatch Guns From Sides

Frank Trimmer, 50, a farmer, and J. E. Denton, 44, an oil field worker, snatched guns from the men's sides when the exhausted fugitives dozed in a car near Boswell, Okla.

In a hospital here under armed guard, Traxler appeared bitter against the man who wounded him.

"I tried to tell the guy he didn't need to shoot me because I was all through," Traxler said, "but I just wasted my breath. He didn't wait for me to say anything. He just shot. I fell out of the car to keep him from killing me."

Turn Upon Traxler

Trimmer and Denton both fired at Tindol first, then Denton turned his gun on Traxler.

Trimmer was kidnaped from his farm home and forced to drive his car, after the two fugitives had ditched the car in which they kidnaped Denton.

"Traxler told Trimmer to pull up at the roadside," said Denton, "and we would wait until it got dark."

Denton, riding in the back seat with Tindol, said he saw Tindol's gun on the seat, Traxler's gun was in the seat as he sat beside Trimmer. Traxler dozed.

Both Grab For Guns

The two hostages exchanged glances in the rear view mirror, and both grabbed for the desperadoes' guns.

"Traxler begged us to get him a doctor," Trimmer said. "He said he was afraid he might bleed to death. After a while he started threatening us. He said he knew he was going to die."

As four armed guards watched over Traxler in his hospital room here, Gov. James V. Allred of Texas announced he would ask extradition if Traxler does not waive custody proceedings.

At the same time, U. S. District Attorney C. A. Summer said at Muskogee, Okla., that charges of harboring a fugitive had been placed against Mrs. Nell Tingley Traxler, attractive 30-year-old wife of Traxler, who was arrested Tuesday.

Woman Left Behind

She fainted and was left in the fugitives' car, three miles south of Aylesworth, Okla., when a portion of the posse trapped their car in the dead end of a country lane. Traxler and Tindol fled into the Washita river bottoms. Bloodhounds were summoned to hunt them down, but they slipped through the giant manhunt early yesterday, later kidnaping the two men.

Traxler declared "we never hurt an ybody," and added that "all we wanted was to get away."

"I hated to do it," Trimmer said after the shooting. "I wish there had been some other wa y out. But I figured that if the officers caught us all in the car they would shoot. It was either their life or ours."

Worried About Wife

Traxler was worried about his wife. He feared she might have been wounded in the gun battle in which he and Tindol escaped.

At Durant in the county jail, Mrs. Traxler sobbed when told that her husband was wounded seriously.

"I've got money," she sobbed as she requested that Traxler be tak-

Criticism For Strike Fight Given Today

Civil Liberties Group Says Careless Indifference For Human Life Was Shown

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 22—The LaFollette civil liberties committee said today that Chicago police used "excessive force" and showed "the most careless indifference to human life and suffering" in breaking up a Memorial day demonstration of steel strike sympathizers.

The report, filed with the senate by Chairman LaFollette (Pro-Wis) followed a committee investigation of the encounter near the gates of the Republic Steel plant, in which ten demonstrators were killed, and scores injured on last May 30.

Came Without Warning

The committee found that "the police attack came without warning," after "the first shots . . . came from a police revolver."

Speakers at a strike mass meeting just before the clash said nothing which could be even remotely construed as an incitement to assault the police or to capture the plant," the report said

"We believe that it might have been possible to disperse the crowd without the use of weapons."

"Wounded prisoners of war might have expected and received greater solicitude," the report related.

No Attempt At First Aid

"By the frank admission of all the police, no attempt whatsoever was made to render first aid on the field . . . Wounded and dying strikers were unceremoniously thrown into police patrols along with uninjured prisoners.

The report was voluminously illustrated with pictures taken by press photographers and excerpts from a newsreel.

It declared that "a number of the police armed themselves with hatchet handles, apparently obtained from the plant," and that Captain James L. Mooney, police commander, did not know where his men obtained the tear gas they threw.

"Thus, the evidence not only refutes the police charge that the parade assumed a military character, but establishes, on the contrary that it lacked all the elements which would indicate a preconceived plan to employ force."

Special Session In September Likely, Governor Declares

AUSTIN, July 22. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred said today the legislature would be called in special session probably late in September.

He said there would be a session even if a survey now being conducted by the state auditor and the tax commissioner showed there was no immediate need for additional money to pay old age pensions.

The governor has expressed the opinion from time to time that the general financial condition of the state would necessitate a session to consider remedial measures.

Secret Flight Around World Planned; Identity Unknown

Germans Snicker At The Idea Of Goose Step In American Camp; Charges Are Denied

(By The Associated Press)

ANDOVER, N. J. July 22—August Klapprott, New Jersey leader of the German-American bund, today stated that a congressional investigation of the bund, whose activities a Veterans of Foreign Wars unit called "un-American," would be a "flop and waste of taxpayers' money."

At Washington Rep. Dies (D-Tex) introduced a resolution yesterday to inquire into "nazi propaganda activities."

Dies said one reason for his resolution was the bund's 21 camps where he declared "open allegiance is being pledged to Hitler." He charged "millions are being sent from abroad to finance attempts in this country to enlist support for nations and movements in Europe."

Klapprott declared "only American citizens may join the bund, built up by nickels, dimes and dollars from members in $25 shares, dues and renting camp space."

"It's nothing else but propaganda to call us nazi," he said. "Our allegiance is to America. We raise our hand for the German national anthem out of respect for what Hitler and his national-socialist movement did in not only combatting communism, but showing the world how to combat it."

Franz Nicolay, 24, leader of the 100 metropolitan youngsters frolicking in the sunshine at Camp Norland in the Sussex hills, laughed at reports they

China Will Recognize Truce With Japanese

TOKYO, July 22. (AP)—The central Chinese government, Japanese dispatches from Peiping said today, has agreed to recognize settlement of the North China crisis by local officials.

Officials said the agreement would remove much of the tension which both Japanese and Chinese had predicted might lead to war.

Agrees To Truce

Gen. Sung Cheh-Yuan, commander of the 29th Chinese army and chairman of the Hopeh-Chahar political council, had agreed yesterday to a truce with Japanese.

The war office was reliably reported today to have issued orders indefinitely suspending the delivery of huge orders of war supplies and halting the shipment of such equipment to North China.

Meaning Is Unknown

Although the meaning of this move in the tense Sino-Japanese situation was not apparent immediately, some observers interpreted it as an indication peace rather than war was visible on the horizon after two weeks clouded by threat of open hostilities.

Col. Takaji Wachi, Japanese army officers who arrived by airplane from North China, warned that Japan will be unable to settle the North China dispute by purely regional agreements with local Chinese dispute by purely regional agreements with local Chinese authorities.

Japan, he declared, must deal directly and strenuously with the Nanking (central) Chinese government.

Meters Again In Operation

Reinstallation of parking meters on business streets of Lubbock started shortly after noon today and approximately 320 will be in place when a crew of men employed by Dual Parking Meter company of Oklahoma City finishes work early tonight.

The devices will be in full operation tomorrow and thereafter for at least 120 days from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. except on Sundays and those holidays proclaimed by the president or the governor as days of feasting or thanksgiving." The quotation is from the city ordinance authorizing the meters.

Two-Hour Parking

Upon each meter box will be fitted a metal plate which states, "two-hour parking from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m."

Timing mechanism for the meters which was shipped from the Tulsa factory of the company three days ago arrived this morning and workmen supervised by G. A. Hale, engineer for the company, devoted the forenoon to the installation of the clock-like parts in the meter boxes. The boxes have been in storage in a city warehouse since last December.

Installations began more than a month later than the June 15 date originally set by the city commission. Because of strikes in metal industries, the company has been delayed in obtaining delicate parts necessary to readjustment of the timing mechanism.

To Be Tested 120 Days

Meters will go in place for a test period of 120 days, after which the city commission will be privileged to keep or remove the devices without further obligation. Members of the city commission have promised that an election will be held at the end of the test period if there is any question as to the attitude of Lubbock citizens toward the devices.

If purchased the city will pay $58 each for them, the entire sum to come from revenue of the meters. Eighty-five per cent of the revenue from the devices will apply on the cost until paid, after which the entire collections will go to the city. Revenue during the test period will apply on the purchase. Approximately 320 meters will be installed.

The installations will mark the second time that the meters have been placed on Lubbock streets. They first were put in, with a one-hour parking limit, last November. Twenty

Opposition To Ask Revision Of Proposal

Proponents Admit That Foes Are Too Strong; Study Of Lower Courts Scheduled

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 22—The senate judiciary committee voted today to ask the senate to send back to it the Roosevelt court bill with instructions to draft a substitute dealing only with the lower courts within 10 days.

In an hour and a half executive session attended by Vice-President Garner and administration leaders, the committee instructed Senator Logan (D-Ky) to make the motion in the senate today to recommit the pending compromise court bill.

Only Two Opposed

Only two senators opposed the decision, first senators leaving the committee room said.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev), one of the leading foes of the bill, said the committee's action would clear the way for drafting a new bill dealing only with procedure in the lower courts and eliminating all references to the size of the supreme court.

If the senate agrees to the proposal, the committee will have ten days in which to whip the new bill into shape for presentation to the senate.

Virtual Abandonment

The committee's action marked virtual abandonment of the compromise court bill now pending in the senate and was generally considered a complete victory for court bill foes.

The new bill would follow the outlines, in a general way, of the bill suggested yesterday by Senator (D-Mont), opposition leader, after he was asked by the administration to submit the opposition's suggestions for legislation.

Attending the judiciary committee meeting today in addition to Garner and regular committee members, were Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, the newly elected Democratic leader, and Wheeler.

Garner Is Silent

Garner and Barkley were close-lipped as they left the committee room a few minutes before the meeting ended. But Senators McCarran and Logan told newspapermen waiting outside the room what had happened

The judiciary committee action came after administration leaders had fought with their backs to the wall to save such remnants of the compromise bill as they could.

The proponents, however, had conceded for some time that the foes had enough votes to sidetrack the bill and virtually could dictate the kind of legislation they could pass.

Democrats on both sides of the controversy were making desperate efforts to heal the breach which had threatened to split their party. Peace negotiations were being conducted principally by Vice-President Garner and Senator Barkley of Kentucky, new majority leader.

Truce Is Reached

To smooth the way for negotiation of an agreement, a truce was reached between opposing leaders to lay the disputed court bill aside until next week. The senate took up today the president's farm interest veto and minor bills.

The big break in the court battle came yesterday after the Democrats picked Barkley as their leader, 38 to 37, over Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi.

Garner worked industriously to bring order out of confusion and harmony out of dissension.

Mystery Again Being Probed

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 22.—Seven years old, still as baffling as the day it happened, and fast becoming an almost legendary mystery of New York police annals, the disappearance of Supreme Court Justice Joseph Force Crater was a live problem again today.

A new inquiry into his disappearance August 6, 1930, was launched by John A. Lyons, assistant chief inspector in charge of detectives, on orders from acting Police Commissioner Harold Fowler after a New York newspaper (the World Telegram) published an interview with the missing jurist's wife, Mrs. Stella M. Crater, quoting her as charging her husband was "murdered" in connection with his "political career" and that New York police were "inefficient" in their original investigation.

Mrs. Crater, located at her summer home near Belgrade Lakes, Maine, denied last night she had "mentioned murder" and that she had criticized the police.

Mrs. Crater said she believed her husband is dead.

All-College Dance Is To Be Given At Tech Campus

Sponsored by the men's dormitory, an all-college dance has been planned for Saturday night from 9-12 o'clock in the dining room of the hall.

Dr. Frances Benge, Mrs. Eleanor M. Chitwood, and Mrs. Bernie M. Buford, social director of the dormitory, will be chaperones.

Never wash berries until it is time to use them. This added moisture is likely to cause a mold to form even when the berries are stored in the refrigerator. Berries should be loosely sprinkled over a strainer or colander and stored in a very cold place to prevent mold. For extra protection, add one-third cup sugar to each quart of berries and boil 5 minutes. This sauce will keep a long time.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 2 spoonfuls of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

ANOTHER SMART USED CAR BUYER

"Call it a woman's bargain hunting instinct if you like," says Mrs. V. Dudis, housewife, "but when I considered investing in a second used car I turned to the classified ads in the paper. I looked particularly for the Dodge dealers' ads, as on several occasions I had heard about their wonderful bargains in dependable used cars. Even though I had a certain make and model in mind I had no trouble at all in finding just what I wanted. That was several months ago, and the more I drive my car and see what other dealers are asking for models like mine, the more I realize how big a bargain I got by going to a Dodge dealer.

"I know that I saved at least $35 and my car was in an exceptionally fine condition, looking and running like new, and the Dodge dealer was just as anxious to please me as though I were buying a new car. I'm positive that anyone wanting to save money on a good used car can't do better than to go to a Dodge dealer."

Convention Is Drafted Here

The "greatest program for the greatest convention" in history of West Texas Pharmaceutical association here August 17, 18 and 19 was promised late Wednesday following a meeting of officials of the organization with a steering committee of Lubbock druggists.

Addresses by men nationally prominent in the drug business and by outstanding leaders, the most extensive array of exhibits ever to be shown at one of the conventions, dances, banquets, luncheons and a golf tournament will be some of the features.

President Bowen Attends

Those attending the meeting included Joe Bowen of Sweetwater, president of the association; J. W. Bryant of Lamesa, secretary; and Lee Stinson of Snyder, director. Lubbock druggists were Mark Halsey, chairman, and Bert Pinson, D. Jarrett and W. R. Pickas, members of the steering committee; John Powers, of the Drug Travelers association which holds its convention simultaneously with that of the pharmaceutical group; and J. H. Brock representing the chamber of commerce in making arrangements.

Among those to whom invitations will be extended to speak, it was announced, include Jerry McQuade, editor of "Drug Topics," a trade magazine published in New York City. McQuade is described as one of the most widely known figures in the industry and is one of the best known speakers. The topic on which he will be invited to speak is, "Fair Trade Acts," dealing with federal legislation of vital importance to druggists.

Others Not Announced

Names of other prospective speakers will not be announced until formal invitations have been extended and acceptances have been relieved, Halsey said.

Some of the other assured features of the convention program, however, will include a banquet and floor show at 7 p. m. Wednesday—the second day of the convention; dances both Tuesday and Wednesday nights; a luncheon Wednesday at which Southwestern Drug company of Amarillo will be host and another luncheon Thursday given by Behrens Drug company which recently established a distribution house in Lubbock, and a golf tournament Tuesday afternoon at Lubbock Country club, with Pinson in charge of arrangements. Hilton hotel here will be headquarters.

To Invite New Mexicans

Without an exception, the officials and committeemen predicted the greatest convention in the history of the association, with attendance from all portions of West Texas. Invitations likewise will be extended to eastern New Mexico druggists to be present.

President Bowen pointed out that the time of the convention, in mid-August, occurs at a season when the greatest number of druggists can most conveniently get away from their businesses; that excellent crops have created a general feeling of optimism which will contribute to the attendance; and that topics of utmost importance to the industry will be discussed.

He and others praised the program arranged by the Lubbock steering committee as being one of splendid entertainment features without overlooking subjects of vital value to a business now confronted with more and greater problems than ever before in its history.

Shallowater School District Is To Receive Back Taxes

Shallowater rural school district will receive approximately $1,800 in back taxes through settlement of litigation involving tract known as the "Spencer lands", county tax officials said Wednesday.

In litigation since 1928, no taxes have been paid. The court matters are now over with and settlement of taxes extending back to the 1928 payment is being negotiated.

IN MISERY WITH GAS AND BLOAT

Thought His Stomach Would Burst; But Now Van-Tage Has Relieved Him.

Many druggists of this section say they never saw anything like the way Reliable People praise Van-Tage. This is the Amazing New Medicine which is being sold in great quantities here in Lubbock. Recently Mr. Mart Holt, of 2433 Corinth St., Dallas, Texas, endorsed it.

MR. HOLT

"For over 2 years I had been a very sick man with constipation and a gassy, bloated stomach," said Mr. Holt. "It didn't seem to matter what I ate—everything seemed to turn right into gas and I would start bloating and swelling up until it felt like my stomach was going to burst. I was always taking strong physics. I heard about Van-Tage, and I made up my mind to get some of this medicine and see if it would help me. After suffering for so long, you can imagine my surprise when the FIRST BOTTLE began to give me real, honest relief! The awful bloating and swelling with gas has been relieved and I can eat heartily without suffering with gas like I used to. My constipated bowels have been given a fine cleansing and now they are more regular. I can't help but praise a medicine like Van-Tage."

VAN-TAGE contains over 30 Ingredients, so it is like taking several medicines at once! Brings forth gas and bloat, helps cleanse bowels and invigorates sluggish kidneys, so that people declare it made them feel different ALL OVER. Van-Tage is NOT expensive, so get it—TODAY—at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway. — (Adv.)

East Texas Oil Field Claimed As Still In Good Condition

AUSTIN, July 22. (AP)—The giant East Texas field still is in good condition, Railroad Commissioner C. V. Terrell emphasized today, notwithstanding that more than a billion barrels of oil have been taken from it.

Terrell, head of the commission, issued a fact digest on the Texas oil, gas and allied industries simultaneously with promulgation of a proration order authorizing oil production next month greater than ever before.

Pressure Is Good

He said average bottomhole pressure in East Texas was 1155.06 pounds, a decrease of only 129.94 pounds since February 6, 1934. At the beginning of 1937, he said, the huge pool had produced over five times as much oil as New Mexico and Michigan combined and approximately as much as both Louisiana and Arkansas.

Of the 23,107 East Texas wells, only a little more than 4,000 are on the pump, he stated.

The 73,500 Texas oil wells were reported to have a daily potential in excess of 32,000,000 barrels. Terrell said demand for Texas oil had approximately doubled in the last five years.

Huge Farm Rally Is To Be Staged

Prediction that 4,000 West Texas farmers will demand immediate passage by congress of supplemental farm legislation at a rally in Amarillo July 28 was made here Wednesday by Cliff Day of Plainview, president of Texas Agricultural association. Day declared his support for a measure establishing parity prices for farm products.

Kirkpatrick To Speak

Donald Kirkpatrick, of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Washington, will be the principal speaker at the rally.

Day said yesterday that the agricultural adjustment act of 1937, written in May, and in which farmers and members of the Texas Agriculture association had a part in formulating, has been introduced in the house with the likelihood of being shelved until January unless Texas farmers demand action. Day said they hold the crux to the situation, and if they join farmers in other states in demands, it will swing the legislation at this time.

Rallies similar to the one at Amarillo will be held in Waco July 29 and in Lufkin the next day.

Day added that 16 South Plains counties had agreed to send 50 to 100 delegates to the Amarillo rally next Wednesday.

COURT TO OPEN

SPUR, (Special)—The regular quarterly term of county court will convene at Dickens Monday. Judge Marshall Formby will be on the bench and County Attorney L. D. Ratliff will represent the state.

Russia Is Busy Building Siberian Fortresses

Russia long has been upbuilding her Siberian fortresses. The Amur river skirmish between Russian and Japanese gunboats was followed by an $800,000,000 Russian loan issue for "defense." Here are Siberian troops playing at war on the troubled Manchoukuoan frontier.

Man Is Queer Creature As He Awaits Verdict

BY DAN TARPLEY
Journal Staff Writer

Man's outstanding characteristics—weather they be pathos, patience, courage, hysteria, nervousness, self pity, or what not—may be seen most clearly when he is walking, smoking, or wringing his hands and waiting to find if IT's a boy or a girl—or both.

That's according to a representative group of hospital, sanitarium and clinic attendants who count it all in a day's work to assist the mother in delivery, welcome and attend the new arrival, and revive the father after his "fainty spells."

Wide Range In Appeal

It was pointed out by nurses and doctors that most babies make their debut between the hours of 2 and 4 a. m., thus allowing a wide range in the apparel of the well-dressed, and often nearly undressed, father.

Costumed for the ceremonies attendant to arrival of offspring, the father may be arrayed in suspenderless and beltless slacks, unmated socks, if any, and house shoes, silk pajama tops, an undershirt or the upper half of a nightshirt may serve for a shirt.

Lubbock's maternity wards boast that never have they "lost a father." And this in spite of the mental anguish and nerve-wracking anxiety of the lying-in period. Hospitals and clinics everywhere, medical authorities said, report a "surprising low mortality rate among expectant fathers."

Expression and attitudes of fathers in the time of delivery vary considerably, according to authorities. The seasoned veterans of similar experiences often equip themselves with a bored expression nearing disgust and a carton of nerve-soothing cigarettes.

First questions with which physicians and nurses are greeted after the ceremony are: "What is it?" Then: "How much does it weigh?" If the avoirdupois is above average, the fathers often assume a rather chesty pose and look as if they might emit a Tarzan yell.

Letter S's, figure 8's and other inartistic designs outlined by cigarette ashes, and tattered magazines and newspapers often mark the trail of the fathers who imagine all may not be going well. To add to the father's tenseness, veterans in a distant corner and with a somewhat warped sense of humor often tell of hair-raising experiences of former campaigns in the waiting room.

Sometimes Look On

Occasionally fathers are wrapped in sterile sheets with armholes and topped with a white cap and admitted to the delivery room "bleachers." They promptly are forgotten until the recessional.

Just before red-faced, helpless junior is railroaded off to the ward with a dozen other infants, the husband is allowed to view the next generation which in no time relatives will be saying, "looks just like you."

As an afterthought, "Say, Miss Nurse, how's the wife?"

And then it's telephone calls—and cigars to the boys.

Texas Project Gets Approval

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt approved Wednesday a $5,000,000 grant which will make possible the completion of the Marshall Ford dam on the Colorado river in Texas, 35 miles upstream from Austin.

When completed the structure will create a lake 45 miles long with a shoreline of 190 miles, impounding 575,000 acre feet of water. The surface area will be approximately 11,000 acres and the maximum depth 168 feet, said A. J. Reinhard, a member of the lower Colorado river authority board of directors.

The cost completed will be $10,000,000. In addition, about $2,500,000 will be spent on the acquisition of land and the installation of machinery to generate power, Reinhard said.

Damage Is Caused

Army engineers estimate about $4,000,000 damage has been done annually to farm lands between Austin and the Gulf of Mexico by spring floods on the Colorado river.

"The recently completed Buchanan dam and the Marshall Ford dam will impound these flood waters," said Representative Lyndon Johnson of Austin. "The contractor said the Marshall Ford dam would be completed in 1939. The savings in flood devastation alone within a few years will make the project pay for itself."

A. J. Wirtz, general counsel of the authority, said the expense of installing power generating machinery and acquiring land in connection with the project would be met by the authority itself.

Only two hours before the president signed the grant a delegation of Texans, headed by Johnson, had conferred with James Roosevelt on the matter.

In the group were C. McDonough, general manager of the lower Colorado river authority; Wirtz; Fritz Engelhard, vice chairman of the authority; C. R. Pennington, and T. H. Davis, members of the board of directors.

LOTS MARKED OFF

WHITEFACE, (Special)—Five lots will be marked off on the trackage property just west of the highway railroad crossing west of the depot for location of a supply company, and several locations of from four to six lots have been sold east of the depot for similar purposes. Oil play is deemed responsible.

Training For House Work Is Being Given By The WPA

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—The WPA, accused by some housewives of luring away their prize maids, has started back into the field of training girls and women for house work.

Ellen S. Woodward, assistant administrator in charge of women's projects, has approved a program to train needy young women for household employment. The new project calls for wages while learning to cook, wash, iron, clean house, market, and take care of children.

SIGHTSEEING FROM CELLS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Life in Alcatraz prison, the government's "Devil's Island" in San Francisco bay, is pretty dull, so convicts are welcoming a new diversion. Alcatraz is close to the man-made island where San Francisco's 1939 world fair is under construction. Cells and prison jobs overlooking the site are in demand.

Buying Spree Is Described

A luxurious "$1,000 buying splurge" was translated from entries kept by Berthold L. Montgomery, 29-year-old former Lubbock and Slaton man who Tuesday afternoon was transferred to Nolan county jail after having been charged here as being a fugitive from federal justice.

The complaint alleged a clause explaining Montgomery, former U. S. marine, had raised a $13 disability compensation check to $1,300 and passed it at a Sinton bank.

Orders Are Expected

Elmer J. Reed, U. S. deputy marshal who transferred the man, said removal orders from one of the two judges of the northern federal district of Texas, were expected within three or four days. The man probably will be taken to Houston, he said, to face charges there of altering a government check.

The former marine told Reed he had been accompanied by his pretty, 19-year-old wife on the spending spree that began after he assertedly had cashed the treasury obligation early this month. He said he had bought "practically everything in sight" and had lost about $200 gambling. He had only $175 when arrested.

Authorities said Montgomery, who was discharged from the marine corps in June of 1936 and who married soon afterward, had fought in the Nicaraguan campaign against Sandino and had suffered no wounds. En route aboard ship to this country, however, he was injured and had been receiving government compensation. Family members said the injury was to his spine and that "he has spells."

Charge Is Filed

The charge here was filed with S. E. McMillan, justice of peace who acted for Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner on vacation. There was no arraignment here. Tom Hanson, secret service agent of Dallas, filed the complaint. He had come here when informed by Sheriff Tom Abel he and Bedford F. Carpenter, deputy sheriff, had arrested the man Monday when en route to Slaton, where his parents live.

Hanson and the sheriff's department recently broke what was described as one of the largest international counterfeit rings to have been active in years.

Students Are Given Credit In Classes For Fishing

STILLWATER, Okla., July 22. (AP)—Some students get whipped for going fishing, but those in Prof. O. A. Moore's Oklahoma A. and M. classes get credit for it.

Frequent trips to lake and stream for various kinds of fish are part of the regular procedure in Prof. Moore's field zoology courses.

Celluloid was discovered by a typesetter, named Hyatt, who was trying to find a cheap material for making billiard balls.

Faces 5-Year Term

Because she beat 4-year-old Joan Morvan, daughter of her common-law husband, Mrs. Norma Gatto, 25, of Jamaica, L. I., faces up to five years' imprisonment. A jury found her guilty after she admitted having lied about some facts in the case to shield George Morvan, "because he had a suspended sentence for burglary." Jon died as result of a criminal attack by Mrs. Gatto's brother.

Problems Are Talked Here

More than 75 farm county agents and farmers from 18 South Plains counties heard R. N. Merrifield, field agent for the AAA from Washington, D. C., discuss problems relating to compliance with the 1937 agricultural conservation program at a conference here Wednesday.

Meeting was held at the Hotel Lubbock. K. J. Edwards, College Station, district agent leader presided. Lester Young, College Station, field administrative assistant in charge of the work and O. J. Moss, a former administrative assistant, were here. The four men discussed thoroughly the program, going over forms and regulations for agents and for county committeemen.

Questions Are Answered

A considerable portion of the time was devoted to questions and answers. Many committeemen as well as county agents, asked for explanations and amplifications on the rules. The session began at 10 o'clock and closed late in the afternoon.

Some time was given to the 1938 program. Merrifield asked numerous questions of agents and farmers, relating to inclusion of new land farmers in the cotton program.

Among the agents and others here were: James W. Potts, Garza; Ralph Howe, Crosby; V. F. Jones, agent and C. F. Lawrence, Lynn; R. N. McClain, agent and W. T. McKinney, Terry; Roy Hickman, Cochran; Don P. Turner, agent; Davis P. Pounds, assistant and O'Dell Reiger, administrative assistant, Lamb; H. B. Horne, Yoakum; D. W. Sherrill, agent and H. D. Pool, assistant, Hockley; W. C. Taylor Bailey; Frank A. Buckley, Motley; D. P. Bredthauer, Floyd; Grady Lane, Dickens and C. C. Jobson, agent; Homer E. Thompson, assistant and Ben McGee, administrative assistant, Lubbock.

Verdict Given To Hospitals

AUSTIN, July 22. (AP) — The supreme court, ruling on cases from Dallas and McAllen, held that city owned and operated hospitals performed a governmental and not a proprietary function.

In the Dallas case, it set aside judgment of a civil appeals court giving damages to Russell E. Smith in the death of a daughter, allegedly for negligence by Parkland hospital.

Remuneration Denied

It affirmed a second appellate court in denying remuneration for injuries to the wife of W. T. Gartman of McAllen, allegedly caused by negligence of a nurse in a McAllen hospital.

The high tribunal held that deputy clerks employed by Orville Beall, former Tarrant county clerk, were entitled to remuneration in addition to the salaries they received, although they had accepted less than the legal maximum.

It sustained decisions by lower courts that the employees did not waive rights to obtain balances of office fees appropriated by the commissioners' court for payment of salaries.

By refusing to take jurisdiction the supreme tribunal left standing a decision of a civil appeals court permitting operation by J. H. Robinson of a daily motor carrier service between San Antonio and Corpus Christi and intermediate points but denying expansion of a four-day service to a daily schedule between San Antonio and Falfurrias.

It dismissed for lack of jurisdiction an application for writ of error by Cameron county water improvement districts numbers 1 and 3 which were enjoined permanently from deepening a drainage ditch spanned by a dam from which a neighboring district secured water for irrigation.

A group of former Dallas policemen, ousted by the civil service board in 1933 for claimed inefficiency, lost a final effort for reinstatement when the court refused a motion for rehearing. The tribunal formerly had held against the policemen.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Station House Mystery

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—Springfield's police force is having a hard time explaining this:

The profits of a recently installed pop vending machine in the station goes to the department's flower fund. Opened for the first time, the device yielded 12 nickles—and six slugs.

Absence Makes . . .

OKLAHOMA CITY — There are two men in this vicinity whom Dave Cannon, brewery employe, doesn't care to meet again.

As they hi-jacked Cannon of $140, one of the men said, "Well, we are getting acquainted."

Cannon says they were the same men who robbed him of $200 three weeks ago.

Well Nourished

BEAUFORT, N. C.—Bill Wells tells this one.

He bought a cantaloupe, took it home and halved it. Out flew a butterfly with an inch wing spread. He said it apparently developed from a larva which had bored its way inside.

Attention, Small Boys

LOS ANGELES—Spinach haters note: Dr. Alva Davis, professor of plant physiology at University of California Los Angeles, predicted vegetables soon may cease to be part of the human diet. Because—

"All man's energy comes from the sun by way of green plants. It is conceivable that we shall be able to get that energy without the use of vegetables—directly from the sun."

Bath Night Horror

CHICAGO—When Mrs. Olivia Nichols told her seven year old son, Jerry, to take a bath before going to bed at 9 p. m., the boy mumbled words of resentment and disappeared.

Neighbors joined two squads of police in their search for the boy. Shortly after 3 a. m. Jerry returned home.

"I ran away when you told me to take a bath," he told his mother. "But I'd lots rather take a bath now than stay in that big cardboard box out in the back yard. I'm scared."

Fall Guy

KANSAS CITY—John Bell had to borrow a cigaret when he got to the hospital.

Bell dropped his pipe from the porch of his home. Leaning out to catch it when a boy tossed it back, he fell and broke his arm. Brought to the hospital, he had forgotten the pipe.

Sunbeams passing across a dusty circus ring are hazardous to acrobatic riders, since horses frequently try to hurdle them.

Tragedy Cause Made Public

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP) — A spark of static electricity probably caused the explosion which destroyed the dirgible Hindenburg, the bureau of air commerce reported today.

"The cause of the accident was the ignition of a mixture of free hydrogen and air," said Secretary Roper's special investigators.

Because of an apparent leak in the dirigible, a combustible mixture of hydrogen and air formed in the upper stern of the ship, the report said.

Charge Equalized

When landing ropes touched the ground the charge of electricity on the ship became equalized with that on the ground, the experts theorized, and the resulting electrostatic discharge ignited the mixture.

The belief was expressed that the discharge was a "brush discharge," more commonly known as "St. Elmo's fire." This was described as a static discharge, feebler than an ordinary spark.

The Hindenburg was destroyed at Lakehurst, N. J., on May 6, with a loss of 36 lives.

Mosquitoes are man's worst enemies among the insects. They number more than 500 species.

ANOTHER SMART USED CAR BUYER

"I used to feel mighty guilty driving off in the morning with the car and leaving my wife and three boys stranded at home," says W. W. Eckert, executive of an employer's claim service company. "I knew that if I had another car my wife could use it to take the youngsters out. I didn't think I could afford a second car. Then one day I noticed some special bargains offered by a Dodge dealer in the classified ad section. The prices looked right, so I went down to see.

Well, I found just what I wanted and bought it. The car is a dandy—and now I know why. It's because it carried the Dodge Dealers' Seal of Dependability."

DON'T SAY we didn't warn you if you miss today's baseball tournament games. It's too late now to get you out there for the Lubbock-Tahoka game, but you should have been there anyway. There's another game, starting about four o'clock, or so, between New Moore and Wolfforth, and as this usually hits the street sometime before 4, you've plenty of time. You'll see something there, because Freddie Rich has gathered himself up a ball club, no matter if it did get trounced yesterday.

And don't forget tomorrow's schedule. This tournament is getting hot now, and it'll be that way through the finish. The Amerada Oilers of Big Hobbs and the Cosden Oilers of Big Spring are battling Friday in the feature event, and that'll be a battle. The clubs are doped to finish in the money, and today's game will make a lot of difference.

In the second game tomorrow, Brownfield is to play the winner of today's New Moore-Wolfforth game.

OUR STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER has been busy this week, "covering" the baseball and golf tournaments. His assistant also was on the job, and he caught this . . . shot of the photographer taking a shot of Wild Bill Ellis as he wound up for a toss in the general direction of a Brownfield bat last Sunday. Ellis won, made good, so he's due to be back this afternoon, pitching for Tahoka . . . The old boy was on the job again yesterday, and was standing nearby on one of the frequent occasions Freddie Rich disputed with the umpire . . . But

Eddie Hambright had the first guess, so Rich lost that argument, too. The picture man was on hand for both the games in which the defending champions, the Collegians, were playing, and he caught

. . . Just before the ball came to the plate, it looked like a strike, and when Freddie, who was catching, caught it, it still looked like a strike. . . . But look what it did when it passed over the plate! . . . Brownfield was really trying to get the Tip-Toppers out of there yesterday, and Pitcher Ragsdale for Brownfield did double duty with his curve ball. From the press box, it seemed that Ragsdale's arm would give out any minute, so we signalled the photog to get a close-up . . . This is what he got, along about the seventh inning . . . as Ragsdale continued to heave that muscle-twisting curve-ball past the plate. . . .

TOMORROW we're sending the picture man back out to the Country club for a few shots of the women's golf tournament. These ought to be interesting.

Match play in the tournament begins today in the women's golf joust. There should be some contests worth watching between now and Sunday, and the finals on Sunday ought to be good.

Masculine golfers of the neighborhood, of all surrounding towns and clubs, should not forget the annual Meadowbrook Open, starting next Sunday. You may qualify from Sunday through Wednesday. Matches begin Thursday, and continue throughout the week.

Hagen Victor Last Night

Jack Hagen, the mild man from the Louisiana country who has suddenly turned wild, came forth last night to avenge himself, after a fashion, against bad Buck Lipscomb. Hagen, who had sworn to do it, took Lipscomb in the first and third falls of their main event wrestling match at the Auditorium.

Prefaced by a clever build up in which the principals had an extra-curricular fist fight, the match was played to a full house at Sled's gathering place. Jack took the first canto with a lot of slamming, but mostly plain fisticuffing. Bucko then came back and butchered the Louisiana lad for fair to take the middle heat.

Gang On Referee

In the final Jack slammed Lipscomb just once and pinned him. The slam followed a general free for all in which the third (and superfluous) person in the ring, Big Train Clements, was the target of a few well aimed blows by both combatants. Be it said for the Big Un, he retaliated, with interest. It was during a flurry with Train that Lipscomb was snuck up on from behind.

Gust Johnson fiddled with John Nemanic for a draw in the curtain-raising 20-minute contest. Looks as if Sled has something in the husky Johnson or Johansen. The bout was elaborately clean, the anemic Nemanic just was not man enough to bother Gust.

Kopecky Held To Draw

Josephus Kopecky, of the Taylor, Texas, Kopeckys, injected first life into the evening's entertainment in the semi-final with Dummy Krause. Joseph messed up the mute considerably but was unable to take a fall.

Fans had a whooping time at the conclusion of the main embroglio when Lipscomb, Hagen and Clements resumed their battling. And it was a good scrap for several minutes. Buck plainly got the best of both Jack and Big Train. In fact, Lipscomb gave Hagen an artistic butchering throughout the match, although he lost. And the folks who paid the freight were extremely well pleased about that.

New Manager Is No Aid To The Browns

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The wolves are different in St. Louis.

Anywhere else, when they start to howl, the chances are they'd get some ball players, but when they open up on the Browns, they wind up with the manager's scalp—and don't ask why.

If anyone could have done a better job with the Brownies than old Rajah Hornsby, he hasn't made his appearance in big time ball up to now. Certainly, no one can do any better with the material at hand.

Pulled Miracle Last Year

That he finished out of the cellar last year was a miracle.

The new Brownies' bosses might have taken a tip from the Boston Bees. Bob Quinn moved in there two years ago and found a club dying on its feet. But instead of pouring it on Bill McKechnie he has backed Bill up, until now he has brought together a pitching staff that is the pride of the National league, if not the entire big time.

Lou Fette and Jim Turner, a couple of 30-year-old "rookies," are the latest with whom Quinn and McKechnie have come up to baffle batting opposition. Fette and Johnny Lanning, a second year man, had a cinch yesterday with the Cardinals and walloped them in both ends of a doubleheader, 5-1 and 2-1.

Dizzy Is Defeated

A homer by Ray Mueller with the bases loaded in the 11th inning won the first game for Fette. Then Lanning, matched against Dizzy Dean, whose big toe is healed again, tossed a two hitter at the gas house gang for the nightcap decision.

The Chicago Cubs, meantime, stretched their National league lead to two full games over the crippled Giants by whipping the Phillies in a twin bill, 4 to 1 and 6 to 0.

A five run rally in the fifth gave the Cincinnati Reds a 6-5 decision over the Giants. George Jeffcoat turned in a four hitter to blank the Pirates for a 6-0 Brooklyn win.

Although Bunny Jim Bottomley was the new manager for the Browns, it was the same old ball club. So the Yankees trimmed them, as usual, 6-3.

Jimmy Foxx smashed out two homers for the second straight day to lead the Red Sox in a 10-3 walloping of the Detroit Tigers.

Washington's Senators ended a 12-game "win-less" run by topping the White Sox, 7-3. The Cleveland Indians just managed to nose out the Athletics in both ends of a twin bill, 9-8 and 8-7.

Survey On Colorado Will Start Soon

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—The agriculture department said today a flood control survey on the upper Colorado river in Texas "should begin within three to seven weeks."

"Survey probably will begin first along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers," said M. S. Eisenhower, department director of information. "The need for surveys there is very urgent. I think it safe to say work should begin on the upper Colorado in three to seven weeks."

The department will receive $300,000 for the survey work from the $1,000,000 of flood control survey funds in the non-military appropriation bill signed by the president Monday.

A preliminary survey will be made along the tributaries of the upper Colorado to determine the seriousness of the problem, Eisenhower said, and if necessary a more thorough survey will follow to work out the best means of retarding run-off on the watershed.

Semi-Final Play In Amarillo Tournament Is Set Today

AMARILLO, July 22. (AP)—Bob Skaggs of Clovis, N. M., led a foursome of golfing oldsters into semi-final play of the tri-state senior tournament today.

Skaggs defeated Dr. A. S. Neal of Cordell, La., 5 and 4 in yesterday's round of this odd tournament, limited to players at least 50 years old.

Others who came through to the semi-finals were Wallace Clark of Canyon, who defeated Joe Langhorne of Dalhart 2 up; Byron Clancy of Carter, Okla., who upset Joe Storey of Dalhart, 2 up, and B. F. Holmes of Shamrock and 1935 champion, who eliminated Dr. R. P. Parcells of Amarillo, 2 and 1.

Elinor Jones Is Medalist For Affair

Match play in the Lubbock Country Club's women's invitation golf tournament was to get under way this morning at 9 o'clock, the championship resting on the outcome of results in the 16-player championship flight.

A second flight of eight and a third of two players make up the disappointing field, but there'll be some hot golf and some torrid matches in the titular brackets, if practice rounds mean anything.

Medal Scores Sear

Practice rounds mean more than yesterday's qualifying, from all indications, because medal scores soared like a bird yesterday over a soggy course and tricky greens. Miss Elinor Jones, pre-tournament favorite from Albuquerque, N. M., became the medalist, but not until she had won a nine-hole match from Mrs. Cliff Dean of Lubbock, 1 up. They had 90's for their qualifying scores, and had to play it off for the tournament prize. Miss Jones, champion woman golfer of New Mexico and winner of the recent Big Spring invitation tournament, had set a new course record for women on the Country Club grass greens Tuesday by firing a 79 in the mixed foursome event.

Hard-hitting Elinor required 48 strokes to negotiate the first nine in her qualifying round, but came in with a 42. Mrs. Dean did just the opposite, going out in 42, coming in with 48.

Following are the first round pairings, with qualifying scores:

Championship Flight

Miss Elinor Jones, Albuquerque, 90, vs. Mrs. Hugh Skiles, Clovis, 103.

Miss Elizabeth Pummill of San Angelo, 107, vs. Mrs. Theron Hicks of Big Spring, 94.

Mrs. Harry Stalcup of Big Spring, 99, vs. Mrs. J. R. Stiles, Lubbock, 111.

Mrs. Guy McAfee, Lubbock, 104, vs. Mrs. Rhea Vernon, Abilene, 92.

Mrs. Gordon Phillips, Big Spring, 93, vs. Mrs. Charles Akey, Lubbock, 106.

Mrs. Jack Earhart, San Angelo, 111, vs. Mrs. Glen Smith, Lubbock, 101.

Mrs. Charles Worrell, Clovis, 96, vs. Mrs. J. R. Farmer, Meadowbrook, 111.

Mrs. Obie Bristow, Big Spring, 103, vs. Mrs. C. L. Dean, Lubbock, 90.

First Flight

Mrs. E. A. Henry, Ralls, 116, vs. Mrs. James Parr, San Angelo, 124.

Mrs. A. Swartz, Big Spring, 127, vs. Mrs. W. F. Heiwig, Lubbock, 121.

Mrs. Cliff Widener, Lubbock, 122, vs. Mrs. Penner Tubbs, Meadowbrook, 148.

Second Flight

Mrs. Bob Crawford, Meadowbrook, 146, vs. Mrs. T. E. Patterson, Meadowbrook, 180.

Rogers Hornsby Plans Legal Move In Ouster

ST. LOUIS, July 22 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, deposed manager of the impotent St. Louis Browns studied possible legal action today to enforce his contract through the remainder of the year.

Hornsby and his first assistant, Coach Charlie O'Leary, were dismissed suddenly, and were replaced by "Sunny Jim" Bottomley as manager and Charles "Gabby" Street, former Cardinal and St. Paul manager, as coach.

Turns Down Offer

Hornsby, who had been manager since the middle of the 1933 season, said he turned down "a $5,000 offer of settlement" because he believed his contract should hold good to the end of the 1938 season. Last year he was signed to a two-year contract calling for a salary of $18,000 a year.

"Asked if he would appeal to Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis, or if he contemplates any legal action, Hornsby said "not until I find out just what the club is going to do about the contract."

Don Barnes, president of the Browns, said "our attorneys have given their opinion that the contract could be terminated—abruptly. The dismissal was not the result of any overnight decision."

AN UNUSUAL CASE

Hitting Mark Is In Danger

(By The Associated Press)

John Grodzicki probably would be as good a man as any to put a stump in Stanley Sperry's current stirrings as a consecutive-game hitter.

The Oklahoma City Indians' second baseman has connected safely in 26 games. The all-time league record is 27 games, achieved by Ike Boone of San Antonio 16 years ago. In Oklahoma City's game with Houston tomorrow Sperry will have his chance to tie that mark. The Indians rested today.

Wins Own Game

Grodzicki proved himself Houston's top-notch twirler in a 1-to-0 victory over third-place Tulsa last night. He not only kept the enemy at bay but supplied the game's only run, a long homer over the left field wall in the eighth. He allowed nine hits but pulled himself out of more than one hole with 11 strikeouts.

Dallas seems to have improved its brand of baseball under new Manager Ray Brubaker but the last-minute punch is still lacking. The Steers tangled with San Antonio in a fine game and lost out 3 to 2. The North Texans have lost many a game this year by that margin.

End Losing Streak

The win gave San Antonio its fifth straight and pulled them to within a game of Fort Worth, hanging on the frayed edge of the first division. The Cats ended their nine-game losing streak by taking the nightcap of a double header from Beaumont. The score was 9 to 5. Beaumont took the first 4 to 3.

The punch that has made Oklahoma City the league pacer over a long stretch of the season was still there when the Indians battled Galveston. In the last four innings they slammed across eight runs, winning 6 to 5.

Heat affects black horses more than it does those of any other color.

Losing Clubs Also Tangle Late Today

Second round in the Seventh Annual Avalanche-Journal baseball tournament gets under way full force today with a couple of winning teams meeting in the first round, two losing outfits clashing in desperate combat in the nightcap.

Tahoka's dammin' sluggers, with big Bill Estes tapped to pitch again, bob up against the Lubbock Hubbers in the feature attraction today. The game starts at 2 o'clock. In the second engagement, starting about 4 o'clock, the bowling Wolfforth Wolves tangle with the New Moore outfit.

Tahoka defeated Brownfield, the Hubbers won from New Moore, in opening games. So the clubs will be out there today striving for a chance to stay in the "sure money" bracket.

The Cosden Oilers of Big Spring joined the Tahoka, Lubbock and Amerada Oilers clubs by defeating Wolfforth, 12 to 3, in yesterday's main tussle.

In the first game yesterday, the defending champions, the Tip-Top Collegians, faded from the tournament field under two straight defeats. They put up a brave battle and were doing right well in the closest game of the tournament so far, only to lose to a determined Brownfield club, 6 to 5, in the seven-inning game.

Both of yesterday's games was of 7-inning duration, by agreement. Owing to a wet field, which needed dragging until right at game time, and to a delay in arrival by the Brownfield club, the game got started a bit late, and managers agreed to seven innings.

Big Spring and Wolfforth also played seven innings. Although they took their outs and collected seven hits, the Wolfforth Wolves were outclassed in the field and at bat by a powerful Big Spring array, and were ready to call it quits in the seventh.

Public Enemy Spreads Color

Manager Freddie Rich, however, brought the first spark of baseball life into the tournament when he went in as catcher for his quickly picked up ball club and spent the afternoon disagreeing with the umpires' decisions. Once, on a close play at the plate, he was ready to fight, but calmed down and stayed a few shades redder than Texas Tech's football uniforms for the rest of the game. His club is made up of former Wolfforth, Lubbock and South Plains players who, were they to stick together long enough, could be plenty tough.

The fiery Rich led his share of the divided crowd in constant verbal battle against the umpires and the opposing players, sometimes looking and acting very comical, at other times very tragical.

The actual fight of the afternoon, however, was not on the field, but in the grandstand. The second game was held up several seconds while players and fans watched an exchange of facetiae between irate grandstand persons. Each of the combatants were ordered to appear

Britain Sets Out To Make King George VI A Man-Of-The-People

Hard Task Is To Be Faced

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 22—King George VI has hardly had a chance to get used to the "feel" of a crown on his head, but already politicians, labor leaders and part of the press have dumped into his lap one of the hardest problems he could have. That is, how to be King with due regard for the dignity of his high office and, at the same time, be in close touch with all classes of his subjects?

The problem, long brewing in the minds of many, came out into the open recently when the House of Commons was discussing the monetary allowances to be made to the royal family. None of the Labor leaders in Parliament uttered any republican sentiments, but the gist of their speeches was that they wanted more democracy in the relations between King and people. Major Clement Attlee, official leader of the Labor opposition in the House of Commons, voiced it. So did Arthur Greenwood, a former Labor cabinet minister. So did Morgan Jones. They all agreed possibly there was occasion for parade and fuss and feathers in such an ancient ceremony as the coronation at Westminster Abbey. What they complained of was the adulation and the snobbery with which a British ruler is surrounded in his everyday life. There is too great a distance between the palace of the King and the cottages of the people.

Would Broaden His Friendships

They did not formulate their charges, but as one who has known many of them for years, it is easy to put what they feel, into a few brief propositions:

1—The King, who is ruler of all classes of the people, is surrounded too much by men and women of one social class, one monetary standard of living and often of one ultra-conservative outlook on politics, political economy and public policy.

2—The erection of this barrier of the favored classes, which keeps the sovereign from close contact with the masses, makes for ever more artificiality and snobbery.

3—Some dignified way should be found so that the King might have the enlightening and broadening influence of friends and acquaintances drawn from many walks of life.

Royalty's Training Is Snobbish

All of the Labor leaders realize that it is easier to suggest these things than to draw up a plan as to how it is to be done. The King may be advised by his cabinet ministers, but very largely, if the attempt is seriously to be made, it will depend upon his own common sense, courtesy and tact.

It is no easy thing. A King is in a different position from a President of the United States. The President comes from the people and, when he leaves his high office, goes back to the people. With a future king or even royal prince in Britain, it is quite different. He is born to his rank. And, unless he abdicates like the Duke of Windsor, he keeps it for life. From his earliest childhood, his companions and acquaintances are hand-picked. They are young people from the wealthy titled or county families. They go to the same schools and universities. They have the same studies. They play the same games. They frequent the same places.

There was a time when George VI could follow some of his own inclinations. As Duke of York, he did not expect to be King. He interested himself in industrial problems and visited factories to see things for himself. He started and founded at his own expense a boys' camp where young men from the rich, social classes and young men from the working classes lived together for some weeks, getting to know each other and forming, for the time being, one big democratic family with no class lines.

Barred From Old Contacts

These and many other similar activities, George VI has had to give up since he mounted the throne. The Duke of York could play about his boys' camp in shorts, take part in their games, eat the same food and sleep in a similar tent. As King he can't. "One doesn't." He is rapidly learning the inhibitions and prohibitions that beset a monarch—even a constitutional one with little real power save as symbol of empire, and top of the social tree.

If history repeats itself, George VI may find some way of broadening and deepening the relation between himself and all his subjects. His family has gone a long way in the past 100 years. His great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, did not like it, but she was the first modern British sovereign who learned that she had to bow completely to the will of Parliament. His grandfather, King Edward VII, went a step farther and showed that he realised he was a sovereign in an increasingly democratic age. He played the game with his Prime Ministers.

George V Democratized Rank

The father of the present King, the late King George V, went even further in the democratisation of the throne and, incidentally, of the political life of the kingdom. He backed up Premier Asquith in smashing the real power of the House of Lords. And, as the first King in British history to have a Labor ministry, he went out of his way to make things easy for his Labor Prime Minister. He did more. He made of the members of his two Labor cabinets personal friends, with many of whom he delighted to chat.

The present King has shown already a certain similar adaptability. One of the features of the recent coronation festivities was a reception given for him and the Queen by the London County Council. That body, which rules greater London, is in turn ruled by a Labor majority. George VI and Queen Elizabeth went to the function, danced as if they enjoyed it, and chatted and laughed freely with Labor leaders, who had come up from the ranks and achieved eminence by hard toil.

What Labor wants is more of that kind of contact—not in receptions and dances—but in man-to-man talk on the problems that beset the mass of the people.

I used to get so muddled at times. Now I feel different — altogether much clearer. There must be hundreds of women like me. They ought stick to Kruschen every morning."—Mrs. L. B. ## Wasted Her Money On Many Medicines

Gly-Cas Gives Astounding Results After All Else Had Done No More Good Than So Much Water; Stomach, Kidneys Regulated, Rheumatic Pains Gone

"Even the most skeptical person would easily be convinced of Gly-Cas' merit after giving it a short trial," said Mrs. Effie L. Huey, Detonte, Arkansas, (near Little Rock). "For twenty years indigestion and constipation had been a constant source of distress with me. My kidneys would not allow me a good night's rest and I was extremely nervous and had spells of dizziness. Then rheumatism settled in my arms, hands and limbs, swelling and crippling me so I could hardly get about. Rest was impossible and I was really a "health wreck" for years. I just threw my money away on various kinds of medicines which all failed. But at last I began to use Gly-Cas and to my great surprise I was like a new person within a week.

"Words cannot express my gratitude for what Gly-Cas has done for me," continued Mrs. Huey. "I haven't had a single attack of indigestion since I began this remedy, kidneys are regulated, nerves quieted, dizziness and even those dreadful pains of rheumatism have entirely gone. It is wonderful to be able to sleep so well again and eat the foods I wish. I cannot praise Gly-Cas half enough for the blessing of good health it has given me. Gly-Cas is one medicine worth many times its cost."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Haley Drug Co., 1210 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

The smart Dallas salesman was, through necessity, week-ending in the long dead East Texas town.

"Well, what do you think of our little community?" asked one of the local boosters in the hotel lobby.

"Quite unusual," said the Dallasite, "quite unusual. In fact, it's the first cemetery I've ever seen with electric lights!"

LUBBOCK'S philosophical mayor, the Hon. Ross Edwards, delivered himself the other day of an opinion that's worth considering.

"There are no perfect men; there are no perfect women; there are no perfect organizations," said Hizzoner. "If there were, we'd have reached the millenium.

"John Smith has one fault that perhaps I have not. But if I don't have his fault, I have another. All in all, most of us pretty well balance up."

Those ideas possibly may come as quite a shock to some of our folks who are fairly smug in their belief that they have no faults but that their neighbors have more than their just share.

Yet those who have been around long enough to find out what time it is will agree with Mayor Edwards.

A Lubbock man had been run into by an erring motorist and all the right—both legal and moral—was on his side. He appealed to a lawyer and arranged to go to court in the matter.

"You want to push this suit through to its quickest conclusion?" asked the attorney.

"You bet I do," said the victim. "I have a boy six weeks old and I want to get that money in time to pay for his college education!"

WILLIAM Allen White's suggestion that the Republicans call upon Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia as their 1940 presidential candidate serves one purpose, if no other. It shows just how desperate are the Old Guardsmen and just how short of presidential timber the party really is.

LaGuardia can't get the job done. Neither can the Republican party, which is as dead as a door-nail, play a leading role in returning the nation to a conservative government.

The only thing that can turn that trick is a coalition of the safer, saner ranks of what once was the Democratic party with the more liberal of what once was the Republican party. We have a sneaking idea that Bill White realizes the fact, that he made the LaGuardia suggestion just to call attention to the situation.

"William," asked that learned person, "how many ears has a cat?"

"Two," replied William.

"And how many eyes has a cat?"

"Two."

"That's right," pursued the scientist. "Now tell me, how many legs has a cat?"

"Say, mister," the kid said in apparent disgust, "ain't you never seen a cat?"

THE following clipping, evidently from a magazine, came in yesterday's mail with no name or letter with it. Because it is interesting to contemplate, The Plainsman is reproducing it.

"Tracing the tax burden of the average man from the cradle to the grave, beginning with soap for the baby's skin and going on to the post-mortem levy of his estate, the Twentieth Century Funds, a non-political institution, estimates the total for all citizens at $12,500,000,000 (federal, state and local governments) as follows:

"For soap and tooth cleansers, $4,530,000 per year.

"For medicine, 172 hidden taxes.

"For milk and wheat, the twin staffs of life, more taxes for the consumer than profit for the farmer.

"For meat, 11 cents tax on a 40-cent roast.

"For bread, 83 taxes totaling 2 cents per loaf.

"For shoes, 112 hidden taxes.

"For rent, 30 cents on ever dollar.

"For a train ride, $3 on a $10 ticket.

"For liquor, 85 per cent of the retail price.

"For cigarets, 6 cents per package.

"For theater tickets, 10 cents on every dollar.

"For tennis racquets, or golf clubs, one cent in ever 10 cents.

"For death, 191 hidden taxes.

"And that doesn't include your inheritance tax!"

Why nothing was said about automobiles, The Plainsman cannot understand. Research departments of several of the big companies can prove to any interested person that more than half the purchase price of an automobile and more than half the cost of its upkeep can be traced directly to tax channels.

"Flame Trail"

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD
(Copyright, 1937, Marie De Nervaud)

SYNOPSIS: When Kay Crandon of the Lazy Nine loses her ranch house and barn in a fire, Josh Hastings, owner of the Flying Six, tries to buy her ranch and court Kay. She distrusts him and in determined to keep her ranch and rebuild. Hastings' cowhand, Scrap Johnson, molests Kay, but Ted Gaynor, a puncher she impulsively hired, rescues her. Later they shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings, hating both, murders Scrap, using Ted's gun. Ted crawls to an unknown shack where a girl named Marion nurses him through a week of fever and delirium. The gun is found and Sheriff Farley gets on Ted's trail.

Chapter 27
A Narrow Escape

A faint call from the inside of the shack sent Marion running back. As soon as she stepped in the door and found Ted's dark eyes fixed on her, she knew she had really won the battle.

For the first time, his eyes gazed at her with a seeing look, and his pupils dilated with surprise.

"Who — what — where am I?" Ted tried to raise his head, but his strength failed him, and he sank back exhausted by even that small effort.

Marion crossed quietly to his cot and put a cool hand on his head. He still had fever, but she no longer encountered the hot, dry skin she had learned to expect through the past week.

"You mustn't try to talk yet," she warned him. "You've been very sick, but you are going to be all right now."

For some time he pondered this, his eyes fixed on her face.

"Where's Kay?" he said finally.

Marion shook her head. "I don't know. I can't tell you anything, so please don't use up your strength by asking questions. There is no one here but me."

"How — how long —?" His lids began to droop. Instead of answering, Marion lightly held her hand over his eyes, and in a few minutes his regular breathing proclaimed him asleep again.

Stepping to the outer door, Marion drew it to, leaving it slightly ajar and sagging on its hinges as she had first found it. Although she had been forced to break her promise to her father when she had taken in this young man, she had scrupulously kept her word in every other regard. Anyone coming unexpectedly on the shack would have unhesitatingly pronounced it deserted.

She moved quietly around the two rooms into which the cabin was divided, putting them in order while she waited for the water to boil on the single oil burner which was her only source of heat.

She had taken a chance on building a fire in the stove at night, but with the first coming of dawn, she had put it out, so that no telltale smoke should betray their presence.

Humming a little tune in her relief that her patient was out of danger at last, Marion looked speculatively at the rough planks that boarded the windows on the outside.

If she could only take them off and let the sun stream in, instead of creeping through the cracks, it would be so much more cheerful. She started toward the door, with a sudden decision to obey her impulse. After all, it was ridiculous to stay cooped up this way! If any searching party had been out for this wounded puncher, it had evidently passed by this hidden spot long ago.

As she reached the inner door that led to a tiny vestibule, she suddenly stood rooted to the spot. Her hand clutched the door frame and her breath came fast. She listened with desperate intentness for a repetition of the sound she thought she had heard. A second later, she heard with unmistakable distinctness a shout in the distance, and an answering call somewhat nearer.

'Don't Make A Sound'

Pushing the inner door shut again, Marion darted to the oil stove and turned it out, then sat down by Ted's cot, her eyes fixed on him, watching for any sign that his sleep had been disturbed. With bated breath, she waited, while torn by indecision.

Should she make her presence known? If Ted had been still in danger, she would have felt that she must get what help she could to save him. But now that she was sure he was on the road to recovery, her first duty was to her father.

If the dread suspicion she harbored as to his activities was true, it would mean certain imprisonment and possible death for him if he were taken. To find her there would inevitably put any searchers on his track, and they would wait to take him when he came back.

She put one hand on Ted's forehead and felt his pulse with the other. There was no doubt but that his fever was down and his pulse much stronger.

A sudden shout outside made Marion start violently. She saw Ted's eyes open as a man's voice exclaimed, "Look at this clearing, will you? How'd we miss it before?"

Bending swiftly over Ted, Marion whispered with compelling intensity, "Don't make a sound! It is the one thing I ask, in exchange for saving your life!"

After one wondering look at her, Ted feebly pressed her hand in acquiescence, and together they waited in breathless silence, listening to the oncoming footsteps crashing through the brush.

"Say, that's old Ten Strike's hangout! Didn't you ever run across it?" A second voice answered the first. "His shanty there's been deserted a dozen years or more. Ever since the old boy kicked out."

"We'd better have a look at it," the first voice boomed. "Gaynor might—"

Marion felt the hand in hers jerk spasmodically.

"Aw, what's the use?" the other voice broke in, impatiently. "We're just wasting valuable time. If that guy had been able to get as far as this after bumping Scrap Johnson off, he could have made a real get-away. And believe me, he wouldn't have lost any time doing it. Besides, that shanty looks just the way it did the last time I saw it, a couple of years ago."

"Just the same, I'm going to have a look," the first one insisted stubbornly.

"Suit yourself. I'll be going on. After you finish looking over deserted real estate perhaps you'll catch up and help me track down the murderer."

Marion bit her lips and involuntarily gripped Ted's hand, as she studied his bewildered expression. Then she turned her eyes fearfully toward the door.

A heavy tread tramped up the two steps, and the outside door was shoved open. Holding her breath, Marion braced herself for the next moment, when the intruder would step across the space that divided the two doors, and push open the inner one.

She could feel him peering in the small darkened space, and hear him stamp an experimental foot on the rotted flooring. Then to her immense relief, he sprang back and shouted to his companion.

"Hi! Wait a sec! I'm coming!"

Marion could scarcely believe that she was hearing his retreating footsteps. For a full second longer, the dead tension held her. The sight of Ted's white face and closed eyelids, as he slumped back on the pillow, galvanized her to action, and she reached for some cold water to revive him.

Marion Believes In Ted

The distant footsteps, crashing through the brush, had completely died away, when Ted finally opened his eyes again, to find Marion gazing at him with solemn intensity.

"Is your name Gaynor?" she asked.

Ted nodded. "Yes, it is. But I'm as much in the dark about this murder talk as you are. You believe that, don't you?" His eyes closed again with exhaustion.

"Yes, I do believe it," Marion answered, with conviction. "I can tell by looking at you that you are no murderer. And from what you said when you were delirious, I gathered that you'd been shot before you had a chance to aim, and your shot had gone wild."

"That's just the way it was," Ted nodded. "I don't remember anything after that. I can't separate delirium from reality. I could have sworn that I saw Josh Hastings bending over me once, but that must have been plain night-

WILL WE EVER HAVE A SOCIAL CODE?

Away back yonder some seer, commenting upon human behavior under various circumstances, sagely remarked: "It all depends upon whose ox is being gored."

Some day, the nation's genius may produce a code of social relations. By looking on such-and-such a page, anyone will be able to tell at a glance exactly what rights he has in living, working, going on strike and, perhaps, dying. In case that code ever is written, people can look back on some of today's perplexing contradictions and get a laugh out of them.

The administration ruling against collective bargaining for federal employes may be material for one such laugh. President Roosevelt says that the government cannot make contracts with its employes because their pay scales and conditions are determined by Congress and not by executive officials. In addition, federal employes are denied the right to strike or designate any one union to represent them all.

Now these rights have been guaranteed, by federal law, to nearly all workers in private industry. Can it be that the administration is just now finding out how much the shoe pinches when it's worn on the other foot?

Is, as our early day wise man observed, the wrong ox being gored?

Stunt-Man note: Doubling for Eddie Cantor in "Ali Baba Goes To Town," Bob Rose allowed himself to be run down, and over, by a lot of Arab horsemen. Got $500 for the job and wasn't even scratched. Cantor, though, in carrying on the sequence, will be shown badly mussed and trampled.

Metro is spending an extra quarter of a million dollars on "Broadway Melody of 1938." Wasn't just right when they sneak-previewed it recently, so it's back in the studio for expensive and extensive retakes.

Universal's "The Road Back" also is laid up for repairs. Representatives of Germany were furious over the conclusion, which showed Germany training and arming for another war.

So they're cutting that part and adding more love interest. The result probably will be spinach.

New Racket: Lots of tourists are being defrauded here by men who promise to arrange tours through studios, including visits to the sets. They claim influence with certain studio guards, and for advance payment of $10 promise to have their customers met near the studio and taken in through the motor gate.

But nobody ever meets the victims.

New Deal Begins "Purge" Of Democrats Who Oppose FDR In Senate, Rodney Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 22 — The New Deal knife is at last definitely out for those Democratic senators who come up next year for renomination and who have fought Roosevelt on the court and other issues.

Seven or eight such senators are in danger, and the Republicans now expect to give three or four of them Republican nominations in case they are licked by administration and labor forces in Democratic primaries or state conventions of 1938.

Dutcher

This means the biggest major party split since the Bull Moose bolt of 1912, assuming that the administration is successful, and that the Republicans carry out their private assurances. Strategists in both parties, however, expect that the big year of political alignment between progressives will come in 1940.

The Farley machine, local politicians and labor's Non-Partisan League — which is backed chiefly by top officials of the big C. I. O. unions — are working together in at least a half-dozen states for pro-New Deal and pro-labor Democratic candidates, with elimination of anti-New Deal Democratic senators as a chief aim.

Will Try To Smash Machine

First indication that these forces were operating came from New Jersey, where Senator William H. Smithers, and other Roosevelt supporters, have decided with organized labor's aid to try to smash Frank Hague's powerful Democratic machine. Congressman Elmer H. Wene will run against Senator Harry Moore in the Democratic gubernatorial primary.

The background of this is the fact that Boss Hague, whose machine was not too onorous for New Deal purposes when he played New Deal ball, has been opposing the administration lately. His senator, Moore, joined the anti-court senators, and Chairman Mary Norton of the House Labor committee, another political ally of Hague's, had been fighting desperately to avoid wage-hour legislation at this session.

Investigation discloses that the same tactics, in one stage or another, are being used in several other states.

Faces Desperate Fight

Senator Alva Adams of Colorado, a leader in the fight against the court plan and one of the signers of the judiciary report, will face a desperate fight against combined administration and labor forces. Labor's Non-Partisan League has promised adequate financing if a strong candidate to run against Adams can be found.

Present plans call for a slate which will advance a farmer organization man for senator and a candidate with strong labor appeal for governor.

Over at the White House they're saying that Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri is finished as a senator. His principal worry is Judge Charles Ray, who has strong labor support and probably will be the pro-Roosevelt candidate.

Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada already has announced during the court debate that the party machine's dagger is in his heart. Although he has had a big build-up from William Randolph Hearst, it is believed that even Pat doesn't feel potent enough to defeat the man Senator Key Pittman and the Democratic machine will run against him.

Conferences On Tydings

Conferences have been held lately with a view to eliminating Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland, another court plan opponent who is wealthy and socially prominent. The New Deal candidate against Tydings is likely to be the progressive congressman,

Girl Improves From Illness

Report of marked improvement in the condition of Edna Marie Moore, 6, daughter of Rollis B. Moore, former Lubbock resident now in the drug business at Bellevue near Wichita Falls, was received this morning by Louie F. Moore, her uncle, who is chief deputy county clerk here.

The child was stricken with infantile paralysis several days ago, and the word from her father gave vivid description of the development and progress of perhaps the most mystifying contagious disease now confronting medical science. Anxiety with which infantile paralysis is regarded was reflected. Moore was advised, by the fact that Bellevue city health officer advised against all assemblies in Bellevue community for a week and that representatives of the state health department telegraphed precautionary advice to the community.

Becomes Very Ill

The little girl, the father wrote, suddenly became violently nauseated followed by such pain in the neck and spine that the disease was tentatively diagnosed as meningitis before she was established as being a victim of infantile paralysis. Then her legs, arms and vocal cords became paralyzed. The letter today said, however, she has regained partial use of one arm and again can talk.

The fact that the father persisted in requiring examinations of the child so that a correct diagnosis was obtained in comparatively quick time was credited with having made possible her progress toward recovery.

The child has been with her parents on visits to Lubbock on numerous occasions.

THE pronghorn antelope is unusual in two respects. First, it differs greatly from the present-day antelopes of Africa. Second, it molts its horns annually, a process common among antlered animals, but unheard of among those animals that bear horns.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 2 to 4 lower on favorable weather, disappointing Liverpool cables and under southern and foreign selling. Oct 11.64; Dec 11.61; Jan 11.62; Mch 11.66; May 11.72; July unquoted.

Initial prices were at new lows for the lives of the contracts from January forward, and at the lowest since last November for the October and December positions.

Buyers were cautious.

December recovered from 11.51 to 11.56 and shortly after the first half hour was selling at 11.64, when the list generally was 1 to 3 points net higher.

Early rallies at Liverpool were lost under Egyptian selling.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 22 (AP) — Cotton opened steady today in quiet trading and first transactions were unchanged to 3 points down on the execution of a few overnight selling orders.

Liverpool was slightly better than expected but apparently exerted little influence on the local price trend.

October opened at 11.65, December at 11.70, January at 11.72, March at 11.77 and May at 11.80 bid. Towards the end of the first half hour active positions were two to three points above the previous close.

Texas highway patrolmen aided in standing guard over Traxler. They said he might be well enough to return to prison, should he be extradited, in about a week.

Last night he slept most of the time, exhausted by his wound and lack of food. The fleeing fugitives had subsisted mostly on whisky and narcotics during the wild flight. During periods of wakefulness, he talked with his guards about his capture and possible return to Texas.

"I would rather go to prison here," he pleaded. "I would rather do anything than go back to Texas."

Wagner Replies To Gov. Lehman

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 22—Senator Wagner (D-NY) told Governor Lehman of New York in a letter today he would "follow the dictates of my own conscience" in deciding how to vote on the Supreme court issue.

Wagner replied to a letter recently made public by Lehman in which the New York governor asked Wagner to come out against the substitute court bill. Wagner wrote to Lehman after opponents of the court bill had untertaken to draft a new compromise proposal eliminating the supreme court provisions of the program offered by President Roosevelt.

Wants Independent Court

"Like all good citizens," Wagner wrote the governor, "I share with you the firm resolve to maintain the independence of the courts. My years as a judge endeared to me the traditions of the bench, and my study of the history of the world has convinced me that a free judiciary and a free people go together."

The senator expressed the opinion that "we are in such complete agreement as to our social objectives" should not permit differences over methods "to draw us apart, or divide our forces."

Pointing to the rapid changes in the court situation, Wagner said that "due to the developments of the last 24 hours, there is uncertainty as to what proposals will ultimately be submitted to the senate dealing with the judiciary."

Local Baseball

ir police court to pay fines.

In all, it was a colorful day, after rain and we'grounds had caused postponement of Tuesday's schedule and set the entire tournament forward one day.

Brownfield, the loser to Tahoka in a mild upset Sunday, came back with more strength and courage yesterday to take a one run lead in the second inning, go ahead with a four-run splurge in the third after the Collegians had pushed one across in the third, and add another in the fifth for half a dozen runs and victory.

The Collegians outhit Brownfield, 12 to 7, working on Pitcher Ragsdale's curve ball for hits in all but the opening frame, but they were unable to bunch enough for runs. Second Baseman Stevenson, safe on one of two Brownfield errors, scored on Siats Maguire's infield grounder, which went as a fielder's choice when an attempt was made at the plate for the Collegians' first run, in the third. In the fourth, Olin Crews slapped a home run over the right field wall, after two were out. The Collegians threatened then as Stevenson singled and Manager Berl Huffman doubled, but Buddy Aderton, going in to hit for Maguire, who was removed in favor of Lefty Euel Sprueill, popped out to Ragsdale.

In the fifth, Giles Shaw singled, stole second and scored on Sprueill's single, the latter scoring on Bob Rich's single and an error by the shortstop. The two Brownfield errors cost two runs, Ragsdale allowing only three earned tallies. The fifth Collegian run came in the seventh when Sprueill drew a walk, advanced on Bob Rich's single and scored on Olin Crews' single.

Brownfield will be back Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock to meet the winner of today's New Moore-Wolfforth game.

In the first game Saturday, the winners of today's Tahoka-Lubbock game will meet the winners of Friday's Amerada-Cosden game.

The Cosden sluggers get off to a good start against Wolfforth. Jake Morgan tripled to right, Horace Wallin brought him in with a single, and Tommy Hutto tripled to left, scoring Wallin. Jack Doran grounded to the veteran Alvin Stearns at third, who played a swell fielding game for Wolfforth yesterday, but Kelly Billberry, who played with the Hubbers last year, misjudged Pat Stacey's fly to center and Hutto scored.

Wolfforth had been retired in order by Bill Cook, Cosden pitcher, with two strike-outs and an infield fly, in the first. Billberry led off the second with a two-bagger to right, advanced to third on Hoyle's grounder to short, and scored on a perfectly executed squeeze play as Stearns laid one down a few feet from the plate. He was thrown out, but a score had come in, and that was something.

The other two Wolfforth tallies came in the third when Jack Hacker led off with a triple to center, scored on Cracker Carr's single. Fred Rich advanced Carr with a sacrifice, and he scored on Billberry's single. Stearns' single in the fourth was followed by 12 consecutive putouts, as Cook bore down to pitch four innings of shutout ball.

Al Marcy, starting on the hill for Wolfforth, lost control in the fifth after the first man flied to center. Stacey was safe on an error, and Martin and Chuck Morgan walked to fill the bases. Marcy walked Skeet West then to force in a run, and old Bud Arnold went to the hill. He got the first man out on a grounder to the box but Jake Morgan doubled to left center, scoring two runs.

Jack Doran's home run inside the park brought Big Spring's twelfth run in the sixth. Nobody was on base.

Texas Allowable Set At Highest

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 22—Legal oil production in Texas will average more than one and one-half million barrels a day next month for the first time in hitsory.

The railroad commission startled the oil industry today by fixing the basic August allowable at 1,495,491 barrels daily, 100,000 barrels above the recommendation of the United States bureau of mines and 110,015 more than the allowable for July 1. The average allowable always is considerably higher than the basic due to well completions.

All sections of the state shared in the unexpectedly large increase. The major portion of it, however, went to fields in the West Texas, Gulf coast, and Southwest Texas districts.

In explanation of the commission's action, Chairman C. V. Terrell said the amount of Texas oil in storage was too small and 30 per cent less in proportion to demand than that in Oklahoma.

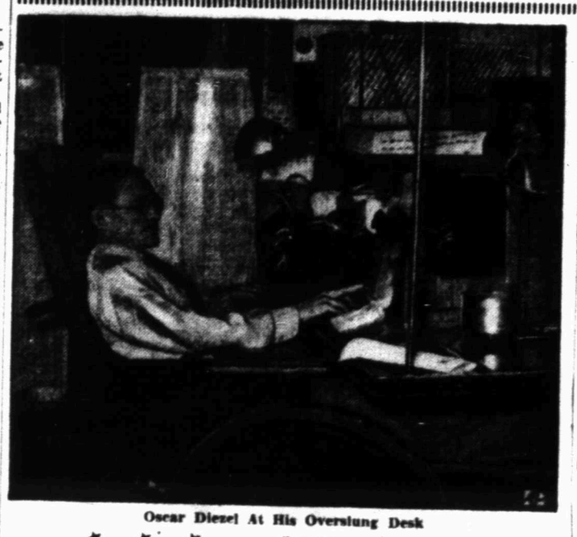

Figures released last week by the bureau of mines showed, Terrell said, that the nation had only about 200,000,000 barrels of stored crude immediately available for refining "or just a little over 60 days' supply."

"The bulk of these 200,000,000 barrels," he continued, "is in the hands of a few strong companies. It is not the policy of the law or of the railroad commission to make oil scarce in order to make it high. The law specifically charges us with protecting the consumer of gasoline.

"We feel that a critical point has been increasing by leaps and bounds.

"We feel that the time to give our producers of oil an opportunity to increase their production is during the heavy consuming season. This is that season. We are stepping up production slightly to protect the consumer and replenish our depleted stocks."

Oscar Diezel At His Oversiung Desk

By AP Feature Service

CHICAGO, July 22 — When Oscar Diezel was 13 illness put him into a wheel chair. There he has been for 28 years. And he is getting along very well.

"I am keeping up with the machine age," Diezel explains. "I try to keep so busy I haven't time to think of myself."

He runs an insurance business in the basement of his home. His desk hangs from the ceiling so Diezel can move his wheel chair under it easily.

Besides his typewriter and telephone is a row of buttons. One controls the lights, another locks the doors. When he wants to go out, he pulls a rope and the door opens before him. He designed an electrical elevator to convey him between his office and bedroom, six feet overhead at the press of a button.

Diezel has acquired the equivalent of a college education. He is a musician and an artist as well as being something of a mechanical genius.

Prussian Headman Loses His Job To German Guillotine

(By The Associated Press)

MAGDEBURG, Germany, July 22 — Nation-wide introduction of the guillotine for decapitating culprits condemned to death has cost septuagenarian August Groebler, Prussian headman, his job.

In adopting the guillotine for Prussia, the Nazi regime followed a practice in vogue for many decades in Bavaria, Wurtenberg, Baden, Hessen, Saxony, Thuringia, Oldenburg, Hamburg, Lubeck, Hanover and the Rhine province.

Secrecy today veiled the date when the mechanical axe was substituted for the man-wielded one in Prussia. It is certain, however, that it happened only after the celebrated women spies, Benita von Falkenhayn and Renate von Natzmer, were executed February 18, 1935, by Groebler.

The execution machine is a somewhat modernized edition of the guillotine which did its bloody work during the French revolution.

The executioner and his two assistants wear evening dress, with top hat and white gloves.

The condemned man is blindfolded and tied firmly to a plank somewhat shorter than himself.

The plank then is tilted on a pivot from a vertical to a horizontal position, the neck of the culprit resting in a groove while his head—face downward—projects over a basket-like contraption.

The headman then releases the sharp, heavy blade which is poised above, it drops rapidly of its own weight, decapitating the criminal.

In the days of the empire and later the republic, executions in Germany were few. One executioner sufficed for all Prussia.

That man was August Groebler, who conducts a flourishing laundry business in Magdeburg, his native city, where his fathers and forefathers are stated to have served as executioners.

The development threw into discard Groebler's trusted axe, with a white lily engraved upon it, which he carried in a velvet case.

STANLEY RESIGNS POST

KILGORE, July 22 (AP) — Chairman C. V. Terrell said here today the Texas Railroad commission had received July 15 a letter of resignation from Capt. E. N. Stanley, commission proration chief in East Texas.

Stanley could not be reached for comment.

This Summer let's all be charming! Good taste in dress, perfect grooming, poise . . . these any woman may acquire at the cost of a little time and determination. And in planning our campaign let's not forget some of the surest aids of all—the advertisements in this newspaper.

For advertisers are in the conspiracy too! Never have they been so lavish with hints and helps to charm and beauty: style news and fashion firsts . . . excitingly different "hair-dos" and make-ups . . . ideas for summer entertaining . . . short-cuts to leisure hours for the cultivation of mind and manner.

Read the advertisements, diligently, often. Make them your charts to charm. Set your course by them, and sail happily into your port of dreams. Bon voyage, madam!

Flame Trail

"Hush! You mustn't get excited! Whatever they meant, you're better off right where you are, until you're stronger."

"But you?" Ted fixed his eyes on her. "Why are you here, in hiding?"

Marion hesitated a moment, and a slow color came into her cheeks. "That's a long story," she said finally. "I'll tell it to you later. I have to stay here without anyone knowing of my whereabouts, until m father comes back." She paused a moment, then added, "Not even the man I'm engaged to knows where I am."

For a long moment the two gazed at each other, then Ted wearily closed his eyes.

"I don't make head or tail of it," he murmured, in a weak voice "but I know you're square. And I know I owe my life to you. So anything you say goes."

For a moment, he sank back in a half stupor, then suddenly sat up violently, and exclaimed, "But look here! I've got to go! My mother and sister are waiting! And Kay—" he fell back on the pillow in a dead faint before Marion could catch hold of him.

Ted eagerly tells Marion about Kay, tomorrow.

State Highway Employes Are Hosts With Open House

State highway department employes were hosts at an open house to which the public was invited at district offices and shops here Wednesday night. George M. Garrett, district engineer, was in charge.

The shops and office were open 6 to 10 p. m. Attendance last night represented all of the 19 counties in the district.

A sound motion picture, showing highway regulation, driving of trucks, etc., was shown from 8 to 9 o'clock and special invitation was extended to drivers.

Similar inspections for the public probably will be held every month, Garrett said, and at the open houses, the public is invited.

Office and shops are situated on Broadway just east of the underpass.

Dancers Are Warmly Received By Large Audience In City

Harry Hamilton and Wana Williams, dancers, were warmly received by a large audience at Senior High school auditorium last night in their presentation of the first of the series of artist course programs arranged for the second semester of Texas Technological college summer school.

Rich costumes and eerie lighting added much to the dances, and "Journey to the End of Night" in which the two wore flowing purple capes, "Blue Monk," and "Figure of Fate" were enthusiastically received by an audience of 600. "Song of Songs" by the team was perhaps the most beautiful dance of the evening, with "Le Boulevardier," "Waldo," and "Pastorale in Discord" offering a gay and delightful contrast to the more sedate numbers.

Dutcher's Column

David Lewis, who has had a labor background since he went to work in the mines at the age of 9.

Senators Van Nuys, Indiana, and Gillette, Iowa, two other court plan opponents whose terms will soon expire, have been doomed for some time by their state machines. Van Nuys has been out of favor both with the McNutt machine in Indiana, and also the new machine which Governor Townsend has been building up. He was really out of the picture before the court plan came up, and will continue to be out of it unless he receives a Republican nomination.

Purge Of The Party

Senator Augustine Lonergan of Connecticut will be fought bitterly by New Deal Democrats, and will almost surely be nominated by Republicans if his party throws him overboard. Presumably the administration is also after Senator Walter F. George of Georgia.

That leaves Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith of South Carolina among the group of Democratic court plan opponents up again next year. Nobody in the administration or elsewhere believes "Cotton Ed" can be licked.

This information comes mostly from pro-New Deal sources and may reflect more New Deal optimism than is justified. But it shows that Roosevelt has moved at last toward his threatened "purge" of the Democratic party. The senators he is after are all conservatives who have opposed him on other issues than that of the court plan.

Extra Safe

BECAUSE in Firestone Standard Tires —

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS — eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

Before leaving on your vacation trip, join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires—today's top tire value.
