Ochiltree County Ships 92 Carloads of 1941 Wheat

Total Yield Estimates Are Upward

Barley is Yielding From 40 to 70 Bushels Per Acre

As the Perryton area gets deeper into the 1941 harvest, it commences to look like total yield figures will be increased considerably over estimates made after storms, rust and moisture cut down the crop yield. While the wheat harvest is not yet in full way, most of the early cuttings indicate yields from 15 to 30 bushels with most crops running under 20 bushels. Test is running from 52 to 60 with an average test of 55 to 56. The moisture content is lower than last week.

A check of elevators late Wednesday afternoon showed that 92 cars of the 1941 wheat crop had been shipped from points in Ochiltree County. These shipping places were Lintoon, Twichell, Perryton, Lord, Farnsworth and Waka. Figuring 2000 bushels to the car, the total shipments to date are 138,000 bushels. In addition to this thousands of bushels have gone into storage on the farm and in elevators at shipping points in the county.

Mother, May I Go Out to Swim?

Mother, may I go out to swim, my darling daughter, asks the poem on hanging your clothes on a hickory limb, but don't go near the water. The poem was written by Virginia Woodruff, New York City. Her bathing costume is made up of cherry bandana cloth—definitely not for swimming. She's wearing a new ear-bay bracelet and forgetful motorists, on her feet.

Prior to that time, 575 checks had been received at the County Agent's office for $93,477.32. Many Attend First Wheat Festival

Regional Chairman E. B. Germany Is Main Speaker

With band music blaring, wheat threshing on Main Street, 13 beautiful aspirants to the crown of "Wheat Queen of the World," and the main address by E. B. Germany, USO director for the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana broadcast from Perryton over the entire Texas State Network, Ochiltree county's first Wheat Festival held Saturday was a grand success. The unique feature of the festival, the pledging of 4,213 bushels of wheat, one bushel for every man, woman and child in Ochiltree county, to the USO, centered the eyes of the nation on Perryton and Ochiltree county. Donations are now pouring in from the good people of Ochiltree county to fulfill this pledge.

Germany Lauded Ochiltree

E. B. Germany, Dallas, state chairman of the Democratic party and regional USO director, arrived by plane shortly after noon. He was accompanied by Jay Taylor, 18th District USO chairman; Cedar Puckett, Potter county USO chairman; and Adjutant W. T. Johnson of the Amarillo Salvation Army.

Mr. Germany was profuse in his praises of Ochiltree county for making the highest per capita donation of any county in the United States. He declared, "Our soldiers have nothing to fear in support from such citizens as your's." He also brought out in his address, which was broadcast over 116 radio stations of the Southwest, the fact that Ochiltree county has the highest percentage of native born white American citizens of any county in the United States.

In the Rocket's Red Glare -- America!

Americans will view the traditional fireworks of the Fourth of July with more than usual pride this year. The Declaration of Independence was signed on July Fourth, 1776, when the United States was an infant nation. The original Stars and Stripes, designed in 1777, has grown until today's Star-Spangled Banner covers a united, powerful nation. Yours will be a glorious Fourth this year—perhaps more glorious than at any time in the past 165 years.

Patricia Arnold Crowned 'Wheat Queen of The World' at Perryton Wheat Festival

Miss Patricia Ann Arnold, 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Arnold who live across the county line in Lipscomb, was crowned "Wheat Queen of the World" as the climax of Ochiltree County's first wheat festival Saturday night. Miss Arnold was entered as Miss Lipscomb County.

"Pat" is a freshman in high school, five feet four and one-half inches tall, weighs 110 pounds, has black hair and brown eyes. Her hobby is riding and she is truly a daughter of the waving fields of golden grain and the rolling grasslands dotted with white faces. The first "Wheat Queen of the World" was presented with a $25 defense bond.

The eight wheat farmers and cattlemen who judged the contest had their hands full to pick a Queen from such a bevy of beauties, each and every one truly a Queen. Entries in the "Queen" contest were Betty McKay, Mary Totsy Horan and Elva Jean Dixon, Spearman; Ruby Thrasher, Booker; Marcelia Frittz, Margaret Farnsworth, Joan Dillingham, Ruth Ann Urban, Ann Lou Herndon, Lena Maye Wilson, Marguerite Benton and Avanelle Hill.

The judges were C. O. Roach, Roy Linn, R. B. Ranson, A. R. Hoghland, J. S. Slaughter, L. R. Conner, J. H. Calliham and R. A. Flowers.

Final Rites For Mrs. Talley Held Today

Many were the heads that were bowed in sorrow Tuesday afternoon when word sped 'round that Mrs. J. S. Talley had died in this city. Although in very poor health, her death came as a shock and surprise. Confined to her bed several months, she suffered a heart attack Sunday afternoon from which she never rallied.

Funeral services will be held at the Ochiltree cemetery this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. E. G. Pennington, a former pastor of the Perryton Baptist church now located at Gainesville, Texas, will return to officiate at the last rites.

Have You Made Your Donation to The Ochiltree USO Wheat Fund?

Wheat donations for Ochiltree county's pledge to the USO program are pouring in but the total is still far short of the 4,213 bushel goal. This goal, set at one bushel for every man, woman and child in Ochitree county, can be reached only by many, many persons who are able giving far more than the apportionment of one bushel for each member of their family.

There are scores and scores of families, both large and small, who are not financially able to give even one bushel, hence those that have must make up for those that have not. With this thought in mind, the donation committee feels that some who have already pledged will raise their donations. Pledges are being received at the office of the W. B.

The trade boundaries of Perryton are extended outward just a little more each year by the ever growing knowledge of the advantages of trading in Perryton.

This reputation and the friendly services of Perryton merchants and professional people is making more persons call Perryton "My Town" every day.

JUST HERE and THERE

H. A. Finch, superintendent of our CCC camp says "It sure looks like a good time for the farmer and rancher to mow the annual grasses and weeds in the pastures, and give the perennial grasses a chance to make a come back."

"With the abundant moisture in the ground, and the cover afforded by the mown grasses and weeds, the native perennial grasses ought to literally "bust" out of the ground and defy any and all competition."

He says, he has had actual experience with a simiar situation, and that the results have been most gratifying. Looks to us like a mighty good time for the farmer and rancher to assist nature in getting a good sod established again.

Remit Penalty And Interest County Taxes

However if a taxpayer elects to pay up the delinquent taxes on one piece or just a part of his property then he must pay a six per cent penalty of the amount of the delinquency paid.

No refunds will be made to those who have paid delinquent taxes under the remission law if the tax collector has filed his monthly report and made remittance to the

National Defense Training for CCC Enrollees

AMARILLO, Tex.—The training of enrollees in CCC Camps for specific functions in the National Defense effort recently was outlined as a major objective of the camps by the Director of the Civilian Conservation Corps. In conformity with this objective, soil conservation specialists in the Perryton camp and the 24 other camps of the Southern Great Plains are cooperating with educational advisors and Army personnel in the camps to give enrollees specific training in such skills as will make them valuable workers in the Defense program upon their graduation from the camps, according to H. H. Finnell, Regional Conservator of the Soil Conservation Service at Amarillo, Texas.

Job-training courses under competent instructors are given in most camps such fields as the care, repair, maintenance, and operation of automotive equipment and tractors, the construction of roads, bridges and buildings, the laying of telephone lines, construction engineering, surveying, radio operation, baking and cooking and many other skills.

Enrollees from many camps are able to attend vocational training courses, provided in the camps or at nearby trade schools such as the Perryton high school under supervision of the Defense Training Program now being administered by State Departments of Vocational Education and the U. S. Office of Education. Subjects taught in these vocational training schools include maintenance and repair of motor vehicles, wood working, metal work, electricity, welding, radio, and aircraft construction.

Approximately 90 per cent of the enrollees in CCC camps being jointly administered by the Soil Conservation Service and the Army in the Southern Great Plains region, which includes Kansas, eastern Colorado, eastern New Mexico, and Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, are now receiving vocational training of value to National Defense, according to Finnell. The special training courses are taken by enrollees after the eight-hour day of work has been completed.

Finnell emphasized that the camps have not ceased to work on the conservation of natural resources, but are continuing that work and giving the vocational training to the enrollees in addition. He also pointed out that in addition to the vocational training provided enrollees, the program is of value to National Defense in that it graduates enrollees with stronger and more healthy bodies and with experience in how to live, work and play together, which will be invaluable to them if and when they are inducted into the Army.

Advice to Boaters And Fishermen

AUSTIN, Texas—The fishing and Texas has been fortunate in having boating season is well under way, a dearth of fatal accidents on lakes and streams, but the executive secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission is issuing his annual don't for fishermen and boaters. Observance of these simple rules by operators of all crafts, whether they be row-boats and canoes or larger boats, will do much in holding down the list of drownings:

Never overload a boat, nor allow occupants of a boat to stand up in it.

Do not use a motor of too large horsepower for the size of the boat It is also unsafe to use a small horsepower motor on a large boat because in case of a storm the boat will be unmanageable.

Every boat should be equipped with one life preserver for each person in it, fire extinguisher, lights and good oars or paddles.

Every outboard motor should be equipped with a chain or good rope because motors will frequently come loose and be lost at the bottom of the lake or stream.

Never leave a motor unattended while it is running. The motor may give a quick turn and throw you into the water.

And most important of all: leave your bottle at home; water and alcohol do not mix.

Saltwater Racketeers

It's time to wake up! An article in the July issue of "The Southern Sportsman" published in Austin, Texas, goes over the salt water fishing problem pretty completely. To sportsmen who believed that the ocean was a vast storehouse to be drawn on indefinitely, the extraordinary poor fishing for the past two years has been a severe shock. And nothing is being done about it. Shrimp netters kill not thousands, but millions of small fish in the inland bay regions. There should be a law to keep them out of inland waters. Commercial fishermen bottle up great hordes of fish in the passes as they go to and from the ocean and their retreats in the bays and lagoons. By stretching nets, bottling them up, in these passes they can slay countless tons of fish. Something should be done about it! Don't wait for "George to do it." Write your state representative and senator. Let's get some action before it is too late. George is tired!

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen, Liberal, Kans., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Allen.

J. J. Long left Sunday to return to his home in Los Angeles, Calif. He was here to attend the funeral services of his mother who passed away on June 23. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Richardson and Mrs. M. R. Coffee accompanied him as far as Amarillo.

George Myers and his daughter, Mrs. Everett Smitherman and her two daughters Thalia and Geline, and Mr. Myer's niece, Miss June Tucker, all of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Mary White of Beaver, Okla., visited Thursday and Friday in the home of Mr. Myers' sister and Mrs. White's daughter, Mrs. J. Fifty Years of Medicine

"The last fifty years is the inclusive period of so-called modern medicine," said Dr. Nathan B. Van Etten, president of the American Medical Association, recently. "Modern medicine is the end result of the evolution of individual efforts to cure the sick, restore them to functional usefulness and to enlist community support in the prevention of disease."

Just how well this work has been done is found in statistics covering disease and mortality in all sections of this country. In New York, for instance, infant mortality was 250 per 1,000 live births in 1866—it was 34 in 1940. Diptheria claimed 3,000 New York victims each year in 1866—last year it claimed but ten. And where, in up-state New York, the tuberculosis death rate was 74.6 per 100,000 of population in 1920, it was 36.3 in 1940—about half.

Look up the records of any of the great killers of the past and you'll find that similar progress has been made. And the bulk of the credit must go to medicine. It is medicine which works quietly endlessly and patiently in the laboratories and hospitals of America. It is medicine which encourages further development of the various public health services. It is medicine which has set as its goal the maximum possible extension of medical service to all the people.

In this country, the level of public health is the highest ever attained in the civilized world. But even that great achievement doesn't satisfy the medical men. They mean to achieve far more in the years to come. That is the way the medical mind works. It never stands still. It must always look forward.

Attacking Our Incentives

Various poisoners of public opinion have for many years directed their atatck at the word "profits," and now, in the present defense emergency, they would like to reap the results of their poisoning if they could possibly get away with it. The only way in which they can be thwarted in this aim is for the public to look at the real facts of the case, and refuse to listen to baseless allegations.

Our system is called a profit system, but the definition is incomplete. Actually it is a profit-or-loss system, in which individuals start enterprises because they know there is a fair chance of success. But these enterprises, which mean new jobs and new payrolls for others, aren't guaranteed success; as a matter of fact, there hasn't been a year since 1929 in which more than two out of five corporations made money!

Now, in connection with defense, thoughtless folk are pointing to stories of "hundred per cent increases" in profits over previous years. They forget that a jump from a 1% return on investment to a 2% return fits that "hundred per cent increase" definition, but still doesn't take profits up to "prosperity" levels.

The attack on the profit motive is part of a far broader attempt to undermine the system of life we have in this country. Certainly profits should not be allowed to reach unreasonable levels—and present and future taxes will undoubtedly prevent that from happening! But the citizens of the United Staes should be chary of letting a few shouters voicing plain inaccuracies destroy their faith in the incentive that has led to our present jobs, payrolls, wealth of new products, and our vast industries that today are building the equipment for the naiton's defense.

OPM Starts Drive for Aluminum

The Office of Production Management has made plans for a nationwide campaign designed to salvage 20,000,000 pounds of scrap aluminum lying idle in American homes, backyards and other places. Twenty million pounds of aluminum would be sufficient for building 650 long-range bombers.

In a test campaign in four counties in Wisconsin and Virginia, there were collected 80,000 pounds of aluminum, enough for construction of two and a half long-range bombers. In many homes were found wornout kitchen utensils made of aluminum, which were useless to housewives. Other aluminum junk was salvaged from cars abandoned in garages and home appliances in storerooms. This junk aluminum has little value for the individual owner but is greatly needed for building warplanes.

When the OPM campaign is well under way, every wornout aluminum pan or other useless gadget made of the same metal should be donated for the defense program. The combined small contributions of junk, now practically worthless to the individual owners will speed up the construction of heavy bombers which otherwise would be delayed by the aluminum shortage.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

More Than Battleships

Defense of the Americas calls for more than battleships, tanks and bombing planes and the men to operate them. The sensational victories achieved by the Finns and the Greeks against great odds resulted not from better equipment or man power, but from superior morale. If the armed forces and defense workers of the United States are to put forth their best efforts, they must know that the whole nation is backing them and is interested in their welfare.

This month the United Service Organizations for National Defense, made up of six national bodies, are asking for financial help for the country's defenders. The money raised will be used to operate more than 360 clubhouses that the government will build for soldiers and sailors and others just outside Army camps, naval bases and defense plants. These clubhouses will give the service men suitable recreation while they are on leave from active duty.

Since most of the big training camps are situated far from large cities, some special provision must be made for the men's recreation. The forces of vice have been on the scene for some time. The USO clubs will provide the soldiers a homelike atmosphere and will enable him to make social contacts with civilians living in the area. Texas, with a large share of the new Army camps located in this state, will get back more of the USO money than it gives.

The United Service drive gives every American an opportunity to enlist for defending his country. Every dollar and every dime contributed to this fund will strenghten the nation in resisting the threat of aggression from overseas. Dallas and Texas people, who realize this danger, should be among the earliest to achieve their USO quotas.—The Dallas Morning News.

Name Delegates to State Convention

Delegates and alternates to the State Convention of the American Legion Auxiliary, from the Pierce Johnson Unit, were announced today by Mrs. Dewey R. Allen, president. Mrs. E. B. Gyger, incoming president, will be chairman of the delegation. Other delegates are as follows:

Mrs. A. P. Spicer, Mrs. C. B. Rogers, Mrs. Herman Hargrove, Mrs. Sibley Jines and Mrs. Van W. Stewart. Aternates are: Mrs. Virgil Olmstead, Mrs. B. H. Peckenpaugh, Mrs. Glenn Truax, Mrs. Jack Aller, Mrs. F. L. Garrett and Mrs. Robert Lawrence.

Mrs. Allen also stated that the Perryton Unit has enrolled 120 members for 1941. On July 1, the membership of the Unit exceeded that of its Post. It is very unusual for a Unit to equal or exceed the Post's membership. For this accomplishment, Perryton Unit will receive several citations and special awards.

The State Convention will be held in Fort Worth, August 17-20.

Trunkfish

The trunkfish is most appropriately named, for he literally "lives in his trunk." His body is completely enclosed within a hard, stiff, bony shell, the only movable portions of his anatomy being his eyes, jaws, fins and tail.

The little pine-cone fish is another whose thick scales unite to enclose the body in a sort of box.

Dispelling the Fog

By CHARLES MICHELSON
Director of Publicity, Democratic National Committee

Isolationists, and included in that group must be all the people who oppose the various programs suggested to make our aid to England and the other beleagured democracies effective, have generally come to the declaration that the utmost aid to Great Britain in the way of war machines and munitions is all right.

Ex-President Hoover, the other day, in affirming the necessity of keeping up this supply said: "Let me state at the outset that I support provision of the maximum of tools of war to Britain; that I am convinced we can give this maximum during her next critical months only if we keep out of this war."

But nowhere in his address did the former President mention how we were going to deliver the goods in the face of the raids and submarine and bomber sinkings of cargo ships.

The classical parallel comes from that high authority, Mother Goose, wherein a cautious mother, consulted on the wisdom of aquatic adventure, advised thus:

"Yes, my darling daughter,
Hang your clothes on a hickory limb,
But don't go near the water."

The general argument is that if we convoy the supply ships, and they are attacked, the American war craft must attack the raiders. That means a naval engagement and the isolationists agree that is war. But is it?

Early in our history we battled French frigates and corvettes and privateers. Frequently we recaptured prizes the raiders had taken. On several occasions our naval forces compelled French warships to surrender and brought them home. We patched them up, raised our own flag on them and sent them to sea again to fight the French—and still there was no war declared. In fact, the Governor of one French island refused an exchange of prisoners on the sole ground that the conflicts did not constitute war.

What to Do—And How to Do It

Up to date of this writing we have not adopted the convoy system. We merely patrol the ocean lanes and report the advent of hostile craft. What would happen if one of our patrollers happened to be present when a Hitler raider started to sink one of the cargo ships carrying munitions to England still remains a matter of conjecture. Probably the Navy knows what would happen but no civilian can do more than venture a guess.

Still the question remains unanswered—how are we going to insure the delivery of the war goods all agree must reach the forces of democracy? That delivery perhaps constitutes the biggest element on whether the British Empire stands or falls. Perhaps on the arrival of the bombers, guns and ships we are forwarding under the lend-lease law depends the outcome of the European War. If Hitler wins, we will be next in line, for the purpose of the Axis to destroy democracy has been openly declared. It may be argued from this premise that the only way we can definitely keep out of war is by making the destruction of Great Britain impossible—but still there is no solution of the riddle offered by those who take Mr. Hoover's position—that is to give England every possible aid, but avoid using the navy or the air force "where they may have to shoot or be shot at."

The President has in mind the answer to the riddle. He said as much at his recent press conference, when he mentioned that the convoy system used during the first World War was out-moded in view of the part that air bombers, improved submarines and increased power surface raiders are now playing, but, naturally, he would not reveal just what would be done in regard to the new agencies of attack on merchant ships.

The President Is Not Guessing

Some of my column colleagues, having perhaps more information than this commentator, deduce that he intends to do it with airships, using airplane carriers and near-by islands for bases. Going on from there, they suggest that the program involves big bomber bases on the Aleutian Islands and Hawaii, from which our flying fortresses would keep watch on any element of the Japanese navy approaching American waters. This, they figure, would enable this country to brace up the Atlantic patrol without taking too many chances on what Japan might have in mind.

Perhaps the guess is a good one, but it sounds a little too simple. The deductions possibly hit what may be a part of some more elaborate plan—that is anybody's guess.

Obviously the reticence concerning the arrangements is to avoid giving potential enemies information. As the President said, when pressed on the subject, that a comprehensive answer would be the very information Hitler would be pleased to get.

Senator Wheeler, as leader of the isolationists, suggested the other day that the President submit a war declaration to Congress. Of course, nobody considers seriously that we would declare war. War, if it ever comes, will have to be declared by Hitler. The debate which the Montana Senator visualizes would probably furnish the Axis powers with just the information withheld for military reasons. The isolationists, it is indicated, would advance as their main argument that America is woefully unprepared. If they were answered, either the Government would refuse to give the data of our Army and Navy and materials strength, or would have to disclose those vital secrets. So the Wheeler project is not going to get very far. The debate would probably range far into the field of how much aid the democracies have received, how much is enroute, and how much the Nazi raiders have sunk—all very interesting, doubtless, but hardly good strategy.

The Nazi spies, and general espionage agents now operating in this country with difficulty, danger and vast expense, would be relieved for other duty if what they are striving to learn were spread on the Congressional Record, ready-made for them.

Workers Buy Defense Bonds

AUSTIN, Texas—When queried as to the reception by the people of Texas to the salary allotment plan for Defense Savings, State Administrator Frank Scofield stated:

"Many, many empoyers over the State have made it possible for their employees to invest regularly in Defense securities through the medium of alloting a fixed amount out of each pay check for this purpose. Also, thousands of their employees have started active participation in such a plan for regular saving and investment.

"In this connection," said Mr. Scofield, "I should like to mention that on the purchase of a 10-cent stamp you will be given a card on which you may mount 25 of these stamps, and exchange them for $2.50 worth of the larger size. On the purchase of a 25-cent stamp you will be given an album on which you may mount 75 of these stamps. When so filled the album will have a total value of $18.75, the purchase price of a savings bond that will appreciate in 10 years to $25.00. Correspondingly, the regular purchase of stamps of the 50-cent and $1.00 denominations will fill albums of a total value of $37.50 respectively. Noted Speaker at Goodwell July 10

Dr. Albert Edward Wiggam, nationally known psychologist and arthur, will appear at Panhandle A. and M. at Goodwell, Oklahoma on July 10 at 8:30 p. m.

The subject of Dr. Wiggam's lecture will be, "Who Shall Inherit America?" In this lecture Dr. Wiggam discusses such vital questions as: Can we preserve Americon democracy when the educated people of America have not enough children to replace themselves? When the abler families in every economic class are not reproducing themselves? When both high school and college graduates are not reproducing themselves? When thousands of empty seats are already found in our grade schools? When most schools are located where not enough children are born to fill them, and most children are born where there are not enough schools to educate them? When four conditions are present in nearly every section where there are enough children to replace the parnts—isolation, ignorance, hopelessness and poverty? When our chiefest immediate problem is national defense but vast reservoirs of intelligence and leadership are undeveloped? When these problems can be solved and a greater, better America created not by alarm, but by intelligence, not by emotion, but in facing of facts?

"This promises to be the most outstanding lyceum number ever brought to the Panhandle A. and M. College campus," stated B. E. Bradley, Chairman of the Assembly and Entertainment Committee.

That Reminds Me

BY RALPH HERBERT

THEY used to sing about the difficulty in keeping the boys down on the farm and now the United States Department of Agriculture comes to bat with hard, prosaic figures showing that the boys are still leaving the agricultural regions—to be soldiers or to work mainly in factories engaged in national defense contracts.

On June 1, 1941, 11,649,000 persons were working on American farms. This was an increase of 890,000 over May 1, 1941, but a decrease of 247,000 from the figures of June 1, 1940. What this shows is that while great numbers have left the farms to take up their duties as drafted men or to work in factories, their places have been taken in part at least by unpaid family workers and farm operators.

Comparing June 1, 1941, with June 1, 1940, the Department of Agriculture presents other kinds of figures showing farm employment by geographic divisions. The only ones showing an increase were the West North Central states with a gain of 2000 and the Pacific states with a gain of 16,000.

The districts showing losses were: New England, 7000; Middle Atlantic, 14,000; East North Central, 44,000; South Atlantic, 37,000; East South Central, 103,000; West South Central, 47,000, and Mountain States, 3000.

The employment figures, which varied widely in different sections, were in part affected by weather conditions. The west had wet spells and the east had dry spells, so that various crops were thus advanced or retarded.

In general, the reduction in available hired hands for farm work has not greatly hampered production. Farmers in the main have responded fully to the task of maintaining average crops, despite labor scarcity and the great necessity of paying higher wages to keep hired hands from going to the cities and towns where factories tempt them by offers of increased pay.

Mrs. Lule Guthrie returned Monday from a three weeks vacation in Provo, Utah.

Delinquent Taxes

Pay Now and Save!

A new law, House Bill No. 76, passed recently by the legislature and duly signed by the Governor, and now in effect, releases interest as well as penalty on state and county taxes delinquent on or before July 1, 1940.

Under the new law, all penalty and interest heretofore imposed will be remitted if all taxes owed on all property owned by a taxpayer are paid. However a six per cent penalty will be added if a taxpayer chooses to pay all taxes on only a part of his property and does not clean up delinquent taxes on all of his property. In order to obtain this great saving, delinquent taxes must be paid before November 1, 1941.

To get the benefits of the above remissions, all delinquent taxes must be paid. Bear in mind that this new law does not effect 1940 taxes, on these the usual penalty will be collected if they are delinquent.

Adventures of THE TOTTIES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE AND PASTE IN YOUR SCRAPBOOK)

Of course wee Duncy kept real still.
His being hunted was a thrill.
"I wonder if a door is near,"
He thought, "so I'll get out of here."

Just then he heard the giant roar,
"I guess that I will hunt no more
Until I've had a bite to eat;
I'll rest my large and weary feet."

"The girls who work for me can serve
And give the service I deserve."
He loudly called—the girls ran up
With steaming coffee in a cup.

Duncy wisely sat real still,
Deciding that he'd wait until
He had a better chance to call
Without scaring the girls at all.

His hiding place soon grew real hot.
Said he, "I'll roast as like as not,
Hiding in this stove was smart,
But I'll be baked into a tart."

More coffee shortly was poured out.
Then Duncy heard the giant shout,
"It's chilly here, a cold we'll catch,
Please light the oven with this match."

(NEXT WEEK: DUNCY IS FORCED OUT OF HIS HIDING PLACE.)

Impressive Grand Canyon Draws American Tourists

BY WINIFRED CLARK

NOTHING in the world approaches the Grand Canyon in size, form, and glowing color. Only when you look down upon this wonder of nature from the high North Rim can you begin to assimilate the immensity of this chasm. For many years the Grand Canyon has been a mecca for thousands of American tourists.

Grand Canyon National Park is well worth a visit. Discovered 400 years ago by Don Lopez De Cardenas, of Coronado's expedition, the Grand Canyon is one of the world's greatest natural wonders. Its rocks are millions of years old.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB NEWS

● Missouri Ave. Club

"A house is always a home," stated Mrs. Shanks to the Missouri Avenue Home Demonstration Club, Friday afternoon, June 27, when it met with Mrs. Albert Ackley.

"A house must have love and co-operation in it to be home. Each member of the family must work together to make the home an enjoyable place. It takes much more than fine and beautiful furnishings to make a house into a home. It must be lived in," further stated Mrs. Shanks in the program, "Individuals".

Mrs. Huston and Mrs. Ackley brought to the club a flower demonstration which had been previously shown by Miss Huffhines. Mrs. Shanks and Miss Huffhines assisted in the flower arrangements.

Guests were Mrs. Beulah Stark, Mrs. Harold Hawk, Mrs. D. W. Allbrook and Miss Elizabeth Huffhines. Members present were Mesdames Ecton Lawrence, J. S. Slaughter, W. R. Zenor, C. O. Roach, H. J. Freezer Locker Conserves Foods

In conserving the food supply this summer for winter use, the freezer locker offers much opportunity for adding variety to the diet. Freezing however can not be substituted for home canning.

It is recognized that freezing is more suitable for certain fruits and vegetables and canning for others. Tomatoes make a very satisfactory canned product but will not freeze. Strawberries, except when combined with great amounts of sugar, have been absent from the diet during out-of-season months. Now they can be frozen very satisfactorily but are not very palatable when canned. Young and Boysen berries freeze well but blackberries are best when canned.

English peas and greens retain their fresh flavor when frozen but field corn should always be canned. Young beans and asparagus tips are very nice frozen but the more mature beans and the asparagus with larger parts of the stalk become woody tasting on freezing.

Regardless of the advantages of the freezer locker it can never take the place of canned food, particularly because matured vegetables do not freeze well but do can satisfactorily. More fully developed vegetables contain more vitamins and minerals than the very young ones.

Food Poisoning Common in Summer

AUSTIN, Texas—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, today issued a warning to Texas housewives to guard against food spoilage and resultant human food poisoning during the summer months.

Summer heat and food spoilage were closely coupled together in Victorian days as a sure sign of summer, and the association continues today, unless scrupulous care is taken to avoid food spoilage.

"Long hot days in July and August necessitate keeping food clean, covered, and refrigerated, plus additional hot water safeguards," Dr. Cox stated.

It should be kept in mind that food poisoning is more common in summer than in winter. The summer menu usually includes smaller helpings of cooked food and increased amounts of raw and cold food which may be more subject to spoilage or contamination. Vegetables and fruits which are eaten without peeling should be washed carefully to avoid possible contamination with mineral poisons from chemical sprays.

Harmful germs which may be harbored in raw dairy products or imperfectly cooked food cause typhoid fever, dysentery, summer diarrhea, scarlet fever, diphtheria and other diseases. Perishable foods should be handled carefully and kept under constant refrigeration until time to serve.

Special care should be taken with milk and milk products, since milk is an excellent medium for bacterial growth.

Dr. Sanford Installs New X-Ray Machine

Dr. H. M. Sanford has recently installed the latest hospital type General Electric X-Ray equipment in his offices. This new piece of medical research machine is 100 milli-amps, 210 volts, with both horizontal and vertical fleuroscopy.

It will do any kind of x-ray work providing for accurate and thorough investigations of all parts of the body including the stomach, bowels, lungs, gall bladder and kidneys.

Styles for Summer Travel

Smart ensembles for vacation travelers are styled by Mona Maris, lefft, and Priscilla Lane. Miss Maris wears a lime yellow crepe dress topped off with a hip-length jacket of yellow and brown plaid. Miss Lane's shirtwaist dress is in aqua marine crepe, with collarless neckline and knife-pleated skirt. The basket weave jacket is in the same solor.

Who's Thirsty?

Keep Awake! Drive In Stocking Feet

Take off your shoes and drive in your stocking feet. That, said State Police Director Homer Garrison, Jr. Austin, today, will relieve the monotony of night driving. Cool air and the jar of pedal vibration on the feet will prevent dozing, which frequently results in serious crashes.

"It pays to have cold feet," Garrison said, "when you're bravely trying to stay awake. An open cowl will prevent one's getting too warm and comfortable."

Coffee will not help as much as a shockingly cold soft drink, he said, adding this final suggestion:

"If there's no one else along to suffer from it, you can break the monotonous purr of the motor and at the same time get in a little practice for operatic or oratorical ambitions by singing or talking loud."

Mrs. J. C. Russell left Sunday to return to her home in San Antonio after a months visit in the home of her brother, C. B. Rogers and family. She plans on returning in a few weeks for her son, James, who is attending the LZ Summer Camp for Boys.

Sharp Curtailment WPA Employment

WPA project employment was reduced from 2,442 to 1,569 workers in the 26 counties comprising the Amarillo WPA District, it was announced by District Manager A. A. Meredith, Amarillo.

The sharp curtailment in WPA employment is in line with National WPA retrenchment, State Work Projects Administrator H. P. Drought advised district managers, in announcing the statewide employment cut.

WPA employment is being reduced nationally to 1,000,000 workers and in Texas from 73,310 to 56,500 workers. WPA certified National Defense projects will be continued at full strength, necessitating greater reductions on other types of WPA projects, Meredith was advised.

Because the reduced WPA employment makes it impossible to employ workers in localities where projects are scattered and the cost of supervision is relatively high, work will be concentrated in areas where the relief load is heaviest, district managers were advised. It may be necesary to discontinue WPA activities, at least temporarily, in certain counties in order to reduce supervisory costs, Drought told district managers.

Shirley Bess Hearn and Earl Olmstead left Sunday to spend two weeks with their cousin, Jack Slaton, Las Vegas, N .M. Their aunt Mrs. W. R. Slaton met them in Amarillo.

Judge and Mrs. Jack Allen, Mary Kathryn and Bill left Wednesday for Dallas, where they will attend the State Bar Convention. Mr. Allen will attend a special dinner for district judges on Friday evening.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Faith Defeats Violence

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 6
Text: 16:6-15

IT is with mixed feelings that one takes up the study in this lesson of the introduction of Christianity into Europe. How much are the places and events of that time related to the places and events of which we have been reading in our daily papers.

The unbeliever or cynic might remark on the irony of the fact that, where the triumph of the Gospel seemed so effective, after 19 centuries great armies are arrayed in destruction with the powerful machines and equipment of a civilization that has gone astray.

PAUL with his missionary companions was making his second missionary tour in Asia Minor, revisiting the places where he had preached the Gospel and established the beginnings of churches. For some reason that is not made plain, his course in Asia was blocked. The lesson says that the Holy Spirit had forbidden them to preach the Word in Asia, that is, in that particular part of it. And when they sought to go to particular places, "the spirit of Jesus suffered them not."

We do not know just what was the nature of this inhibition, but when Paul's course seemed blocked there came the most remarkable opening. It was probably as he lay meditating upon this serious barrier that he saw a vision of a man of Macedonia, that is, from Greece, standing by him in the night and saying, "Come over into Macedonia and help us."

AS with his experience at the time of his conversion on the way to Damascus, Paul was "not disobedient unto the heavenly vision." For him such a call meant immediate action. There is a remarkable turn, however, to this story of Christian beginnings in Europe. It is the part that women played, and particularly one woman, Lydia, a seller of purple, a woman evidently of remarkable force of character, whose business enterprise was matched with spiritual integrity.

This is something to ponder. It was fitting that Christianity, which has been the great liberator of women, should have had its beginning in the part that a woman played.

Now for the word of hope. The Christianity that had so small a beginning and in less than three centuries became the religion of the Roman Empire and spread throughout the world, is neither dead nor done for. Faith, hope and Christian courage can still overcome the new forces of tyranny and violence

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The scientific unity which exists between God and man must be wrought out in life-practice, and God's will must be universally done" (page 202).

THE AMERICAN FAMILY . . . . . By George

"Our teacher said my brother Johnny has a natural flair for art."

• Lake View Tattler

Mr. and Mrs. Cornell and children, enroute home from Palm City, Calif., to Cave City, Ark., stopped to visit with the Pipkin family. The Pipkin ladies dressed 52 frying chickens and placed them in their locker for use at a later date.

Little Gale Gossett is very proud of her new permanent of curls.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Nitschke and daughters, Bertha and Katherine, attended the Wheat Festival in Perryton, Saturday.

Miss Anita King and brother Willis are very busy with their new bicycles.

Mrs. Pipkin and daughters, Edith, Betty and Elma, were callers in the S. J. Powell home, Friday. Sena Belle Pipkin is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Orval Fulbright.

Visitors in the Hollis Gossett home last week were Mr. and Mrs. George Session, Borger, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Session, Spearman.

Did you all miss the Lake View Tattler last week? Well, I failed to get the report in the mail due to one of 'them thar' agents that accidently on purpose arrive at a farm house at the stroke of twelve noon. I had to scratch around to prepare an appetizing lunch, and did that man eat! It seemed funny to me that he stopped on his way to Gossetts at our house for lunch when Mrs. Gossett had won a basket of groceries Saturday. But some people have all the luck!

The home demonstration club of the McMillen community met in the home of Mrs. B. E. Plummer last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sims were moanin' low this week. Their saddened spirits were due to the death of Nig, whom they had known for about 15 years. He died of heart failure. We hope he is now where all good horses go.

Mrs. John Sims was surprised Tuesday when her friends and neighbors arrived about 3 p. m., bringing gifts and cakes to celebrate her birthday with her. Since no one knew her age, the birthday cake was decorated with 16 pink candles. Present were Mesdames Dennis Reed, W. Y. Williams, Olan Williams, Johnny Kenny, Verny Kenny, Earl Church, Dan Nitchske, Walter Emmick, S. J. Powell and Hila Robinson, Mrs. Sims' daughter who is visiting her parents, Misses Maxine Williams, Helen Williams, Margaret Reed, Leona Emmick, Bertha and Katherine Nitchske and master J. M. Kenny Jr. Shirley Ruth Emmick sang, "Happy Birthday to you, Simsie."

● The Library Corner

Because of the last drastic reduction in WPA funds, the district has had to reduce its summer program for libraries. This means that beginning next Monday, July 7th, the Perryton library will have to go back to its old schedule of 12 to 5 p. m.

The special summer service had only been in operation a month, but already, in spite of the busy harvest season, the output of books per day had almost doubled. So it is with a great deal of regret that the Library Board announces the return to the former shorter hours. However, it gives us all something to work toward, full time library service in Perryton someday.

And it might have been much worse. Miss Staley, the district supervisor of the library project, reports that Perryton, with many other small libraries in the district, was slated to be closed. But because of its unusual service to the community, reaching all the county as it does, and also because of the unusual support and hard work from various members of the community for it, the authorities were convinced that our help should be continued.

The state supervisor from Austin was here last week and praised the remarkable progress of the Perryton library in its first year of existence, both in community interest and the intelligent selection of the books added to it.

Mrs. R. L. Duke wishes to announce that for the present the Children's Story Hour will be continued on Tuesday and Saturday mornings at 9:30, as she feels that time is more comfortable for the children. Your child needs the advantages of feeling at home in a library, and the life-long pleasure that reading will give him. But he will keep coming to the story hours because they are fun.

Don't forget that on the library reading table you will find current magazines for adults and children: The Reader's Digest, Good Housekeeping, The Pathfinder for up-to-date news, Child Life, Children's Activities for the youngest readers, and American Boy and American Girl for the older ones.

Let's use what opportunities we have.

Luck?

Are you superstitious? Sportsmen as a whole are. They depend on various phases of luck to bring them results. Indians used to carry tokens — "Medicine," they called them—for good luck and protection against evil spirits. Most of us do the same thing. I know a sportsman who wouldn't think of going hunting or fishing without a game-bird feather stuck in his hat. He tells himself that it is just useless superstition, yet he'd never really expect luck unless that feather is there!

Green Manure Cover Crops Lead in Popularity With Texas Farmers Under Farm Program

COLLEGE STATION—If the extent of soil-building practices carried out under the 1940 Agricultural Conservation Program indicates popularity, then Texas farmers favored the planting of green manure and cover crops, growing home gardens, and contour farming intertilled crops, statistics in the State AAA office indicate.

The planting of green manure and cover crops in orchards or commercial vegetable land was used on 147,620 farms and 1,036,591 acres, George Slaughter, chairman of the State AAA committee, has announced.

In addition to this practice, on 91,771 farms green manure and cover crops were planted on 1,684,162 acres of cultivated land, bringing the total planted under the program to 2,720,753 acres on 239,391 farms.

Largely as a result of efforts of Texas farm leaders who encourage a "live at home" program, payments for home gardens was included in the 1940 soil-building practices for the first time. The provision specifies a minimum of five varieties of vegetables must be planted to be classified as a home garden. Cooperating farmers on 138,036 farms reported 167,089 acres of home gardens in 1940.

Contour farming of intertilled crops was carried out on a total of 100,870 farms involving 6,290,832 acres.

Other widely-used practices included contour listing 5,565,708 acres of cropland on 78,502 farms and summer legumes interplanted or grown in combination with other crops of 797,168 acres on 74,397 farms.

A practice in 1940 which showed marked increase over 1939 figures was the construction of 10,299 earthen dams or reservoirs involving the movement of 3,659,360 cubic feet of dirt on 9,887 farms. In 1939, Texas farmers constructed under the program 7,933 earthen dams and reservoirs on 7,650 farms.

Two other outstanding soil-building practices are seeding small grain for harvest on the contour and constructing standard terraces with proper outlets. Seeding small grain on the contour was used on 11,596 farms and 573,790 acres, while terrace construction totaled 48,477,200 feet on 18,266 farms.

Soil-biulding payments are made to farmers for adopting specific, approved practices on farms, Slaughter pointed out, and they vary with individual farms. This payment is in excess of the payments earned for planting within soil-depleting acreage allotments.

In carrying out a soil-building practice, the AAA chairman continued, even though the soil-building allowance for a farm does not defray the entire expense for the practice, it does minimize the cash expenditure for the farmer while he builds his soil or helps to prevent erosion.

This soil building report does not include the practices carried out in the 7 counties using the special wind erosion control program.

Other practices carried out under the 1940 program included:

Contour ridging noncrop open pasture: 6,866,000 feet, 601 farms.

Leaving stalks of sorghum, broom corn or sudan grass on the land as protection against wind erosion: 4,960 acres, 403 farms.

Contour listing or furrowing noncrop land: 32,380 acres, 660 farms.

Strip cropping on contour: 75,152 acres, 1,645 farms.

Protecting summer fallowed acreage from wind and water erosion: 461,132 acres, 10,541 farms.

Pit cultivation of cropland: 699,944 acres, 3,573 farms.

Seeding adapted varieties of alfalfa: 62,062 acres, 4,987 farms.

Seeding permanent grasses or pasture mixtures: 37,724 acres, 1,874 farms.

Seeding annual sweetclover, annual rye grass, biennial or perennial grasses or mixtures: 102,528 acres, 6,544 farms.

Seeding winter legumes: 56,990 acres, 4,179 farms.

Seeding lespedeza: 16,062 acres, 1,228 farms.

Establishment of a permanent vegetative cover by planting kudzu: 23 acres, 18 farms.

Application of 240 lbs. of 20 per cent superphosphate or 500 lbs. or rock or colloidal phosphate: 9,964,470 pounds: 846 farms.

Application of ground limestone: 21,000 pounds, 6 farms.

Natural reseeding of noncrop open pasture by deferred grazing: 100,766, 713 farms.

Mowing to control noxious plants: 158,532 acres 5,468 farms.

Planting sod of bermuda, buffalo, mesquite, Dallis or carpet grass: 20,744 acres, 3056 farms.

Development of springs or seeps by excavation: 9,508 cu. ft., 32 farms.

Planting forest trees: 1,494 acres, 477 farms.

Cultivating, protecting and maintaining a good stand of forest trees: 14,574 acres, 1,694 farms.

Protecting restoration land: 10,552 acres, 113 farms.

Construction of ditches for diversion and spreading of flood and well water: 15,141,900 feet, 1,792 farms.

You've heard of hens crowing, women wearing men's suits, etc., etc. Well, it seems menfolks have the same trouble with their weaker sex in the animal kingdom too. Antlered doe, a freak of nature, are killed occasionally in Texas. One weighing nearly 100 pounds and having pronged antlers was shot by a San Antonio hunter in the Hill Country last season. NEW OIL BEATS five other big-name brands in TORTURE-TEST

Endures Sizzling Death Valley heat for 13,398 MILES ON ONE 5-QUART FILL

How this Certified Record can spell new Oil-Savings—new Engine Safety—for

You get the oil that outlasted 5 other highly reputed brands by 74% to 161% in Certified Competition, when you change to this proved-in-advance new oil named

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL
—Popular-Priced

Your own engine can be fortified by new Conoco Nth motor oil right today, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. But before going on sale this new oil proved that a regular 5-quart fill could establish startling extremes of endurance, protection and miser-economy.

Fantastic Death Valley brings Your Evidence

Death Valley seems to shimmy—like heat at your furnace door. And down on this desert impartial observers watched 6 identical stock cars run at 57-mile speed, torture-testing 6 quality oils including new Conoco Nth oil. No let-up, day on day, till each oil gave out and junked its engine.

Even the best competitive oil in the test was outlasted 5,683 miles by Conoco Nth oil. And one "rival" was outlasted all of 8,268 miles by new Conoco Nth oil. Certified.

All this New Economy how?

America has long known Conoco best for making it possible to give any engine OIL-PLATING...lubricant that can't all quickly drain down, but must stay PLATED UP--alert against wear in advance—not waiting till oil-flow starts. OIL-PLATING comes from a rare synthetic . . . man-made under the Conoco Germ Processed oil patent. And Conoco Nth motor oil still brings OIL-PLATING—but not only that! . . .

In addition this new oil brings Conoco's latest synthetic—Thialkene inhibitor. It inhibits—controls—the effect of foul "leftovers" produced by every engine's normal firing. Otherwise uncontrolled oil spoilage could easily start. In oils that let this spoilage start, it spreads like a rumor—gets worse, faster and faster. But now that's nipped in the bud by Thialkene inhibitor, in new Conoco Nth oil . . . U. S. Patent 2,218,132. This oil stays more like its own good self. Then your engine will, and that saves oil . . . as demonstrated by the long life of Conoco Nth in pitiless Death Valley.

You'll never give your own engine such a "trial by torture." You wouldn't pass up your regular time for draining. Authorities say, "Don't!" But you can know that Conoco Nth outlasted big-name oils by as much as 161% Certified. So you can see your ... of big Summer savings in changing to new Conoco Nth at Your ... Merchant's Conoco station. ... tal Oil Company—Pioneers in ... America's oil with Synthetics

Engines were under lock every mile. Cars were under scrutiny every minute. Never a drop of oil could be added.

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

JUST A MINUTE

By PAT FYLNN

AMARILLO, Texas.—July 2—Just back from a trip to the Northestern Panhandle that makes us even prouder to live in this region and know Panhandle people. We were in Perryton, Texas, a city proud to be ignorant of fifth-columns and wouldn't tolerate sabotage any more than allowing Hitler to annex the county and are as patriotic as the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights, combined. Perryton, county seat of Ochiltree county who has the right to boast a greater percentage of native born, white Americans than any county in the United States and, brother, they proved their patriotism last Saturday when they presented the USO 4,213 bushes of wheat—one bushel for each man, woman and child in the county and don't think they allowed outsiders to purchase this wheat at auction either as the Perryton Equity Exchange, a farmers' cooperative elevator, paid 90 cents per bushel for the donated grain.

E. B. Germany, regional chairman for the USO for Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, was flown to Perryton by Jay Taylor, Cedar Puckett and Adjutant W. T. Johnson (Salvation Army) in Taylor's plane. That flight was another highlight of the festival. They stopped at Borger, enroute, where editor J. C. Phillips, USO chairman of that city gave the boys a check for two thousand bucks, bustin' their quota all to pieces. Then with a tail wind they circled Perryton a few minutes later so low this writer got scared Jay couldn't find the airport. Jay, however, saw the landing field and the cattle at one end of the pasture. Undaunted, he made the prettiest landing we have seen in some time and not a steer moved. As Adjutant Johnson crawled out of his ship he told us all he wanted was the chance to "get my stomach back" then promptly stole the hearts of everyone he met in Perryton.

Germany is about the most Democratic fellow we have met in some time and guess that is why he also heads the Democrats in Texas. His shelling out of shoes and shirt in his hotel room made him just that much more popular to Perryton citizens. Then following the queen contest that night when Miss Pat Arnold (she dislikes dish washing) was declared the "Wheat Queen of the World" and was presented a National Defense Bond as a trophy, Germany cinched his popularity by telling the 13 other queens present he was sending them each a book of National defense stamps. No wonder he is mayor of Highland Park.

Germany had Kim Kimmell of Radio Station KFDA, originator of the Texas State Network hook-up, worried and running in circles due to our butting in on the program. Mr. Germany had given us a copy of his address that we might release its text to national wire services early and we were checking his script with his speech. Suddenly we found he was on the last page and there was some eight minutes to go. Glenn Truax, director of the Perryton Ranger Band showed us why his musicians are class B champs of Texas, when he told us not to worry as his gang could play an hour from memory. Kim hurried to the speakers stand ready to take over but imagine our surprise when Mr. Germany continued his talking another few minutes, stopping just in time for the band to play "Eyes of Texas" and climax the perfect broadcast. Germany said he forgot to tell us he had timed the speech and had added another five min- and had added another five minutes.

W. H. "Bill" Lance deserves not only the thanks of his fellow citizens in Perryton but those of everyone in the wheat belt for originating the idea of the wheat festival in conjunction with the USO. He secured more national and favorable publicity for Perryton since the founding of the city August 22, 1919. Other than having headaches on the festival arrangements, Bill is mayor and chamber of commerce manager of Perryton. Bill is also general chairman of the annual birthday celebration for Perryton and the 22nd anniversary of the city will be staged August 21-22. The first day's program is the rodeo in the afternoon and a good baseball game and public dance that evening. On the 22nd the Pioneer Day parade fills the morning calendar and there are now 16 bands entered, more floats promised than last year's successful "Coming Of Age" celebration, and delegations assured from Panhandle cities of Texas, Kansas and Okla.; rodeo finals for the afternoon and another ball game and dance for the evening. Bill is letting the beauty contest go this year for another most unique idea to select Miss Perryton—1941 that will soon be announced. Miss Margaret Farnsworth winner of the Miss Perryton—1940 event and Miss Arnold will be official hostess' for this years celebration. Just a note to Bob Dow of the Will Roger's Range Riders in Amarillo: This is a MUST event for your gang and the people on the Northeast Plains feel you won't slight them this time.

We would be unappreciative if we did not acknowledge our gratitude to those who aided in publicizing Perryton's "natural" Festival. There were Mayor Lance, Mr. and Mrs. Van Stewart of the Ochiltree County Herald, Miss Myrtie Mae Conley, AP correspondent of Perryton, Miss Helen May of Max Boyer's office, Miss Bette Bryan and "Pappy" Bryan of the Perryton Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cayler, Mr. and Mrs. John Osterbuhr and Carl Ellis, Carl photographed all official pictures and worked harder than a press photographer at a three alarm fire. Also our gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Claybaugh of the Southwestern Daily Times at Liberal, Kansas who aided us in our clean-up yarns Saturday midnight.

Another person we met and enjoyed was A. W. Thurman who marketed the first wheat in Ochiltree county in 1906, having to haul the grain to the nearest railroad at Glazier.

On July 18 Tom Ellzey, owner of the L-Z ranch stages his 9th annual Northeast Panhandle Amateur Rodeo for his neighbors and friends. This rodeo offers cash prizes on all contest events except bronc riding and this year an additional treat in a kid's pony and colt auction and two funny events for the kids at the L-Z Camp, a potato race and a milk-stool race. These 31 kids on the ranch hail from cities from Tulsa to Houston and are learning ranch life by ranch work.

John Coburn, popular Amarillo cattlemen has assumed his duties of concessionaire at Lake Fryer, promising plenty of excitement at this Perryton resort in the way of boating, fishing, dancing and aquatic events. Having handled the first Lake Fryer we predict a record crowd when John announces the second opening soon as the people near that beautiful, tree, surrounded lake turn out for water sports.

And to that "chief" of a nationally known wire service who in calling us for more words and more pictures on Perryton's wheat festival and wanting to know "where in h—— is Perryton" we have only one suggestion—pick up any paper in the nation of last week and learn about the "Wheat Capital of the World"—on second thought, perhaps he is the guy that released our yarns to those papers.

Captain Jim Line of the Wichita Falls district of the Department of Public Safety was in Perryton for the festival and we rode back to Amarillo with this Panhandle officer who has established himself as one of the best in Texas. We were agreeably surprised to learn that our Texas Highway Patrolmen are allowed only one hour to finish an examination the Civil Services allots two hours to compelte. Also our Texas Highway Patrolmen complete in seven weeks a course the FBI allows thirteen weeks to master. Furthermore, we'll betcha if you could compare grades the Texas boys would have the highest on those exams as one recent rookie completed the test in 56 minutes with a grade of 96.

"Shine" Carter states the Dalhart Lake will open July 10 and Bert Howell of Lake McClellan says fishing opens there July 8. Fryer opened fishing on July 1 as did Lake Tule while Buffalo and Marvin have been open some several weeks. Conchas Dam opened for restricted fishing July 1.

We have been threatening a fishing trip for exactly four and one half years this week without a day off to make it and now again we pledge ourself to such a treat, so if we knock at your door some day in, say about 1951 and ask permission to fish on your land, the least you can do is warn us of the posted zones in your district.

Baltimore Pig Hunt

Hunting within the very confines of a great city? Sounds silly! But that's what dozens of passersby, railroad officials and motorists did recently — went on a pig hunt in the heart of Baltimore.

A railroad wreck liberated 845 little pigs, big pigs and medium-sized pigs. Reports are that the hunters found pigs in cellars, automobiles, streets and alleys. Final count was: 48 pigs killed, 351 recaptured, balance missing.

Russians Were Prepared for Nazi Blitzkreig Attack

As tension with the Reich grew in the weeks before actual invasion by the Nazis, the Red Army engaged in huge tactical maneuvers. Photo at left shows Russian anti-aircraft gunners manning multi-barrelled machine guns and scanning the skies for enemy planes. At right, shells are being inspected before they are fired at the enemy.

Mrs. Arthur Townsend and Mrs. Marshal Stone spent the week-end in Dallas. Saturday night they attended an all night broadcast sponsored by the Stamp-Baxter Music and Printing Co. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Collins and Mrs. Lonnie Suitor accompanied them to Dallas and visited with relatives.

Edward Dickey, Fayetteville, Tenn., came in Friday for a visit with his cousin, Mrs. Gerald Tindle and family. This is his first visit to this part of Texas and he plans on staying several weeks.

Conner Improves Farnsworth Plant

L. R. Conner, owner of the Conner Grain Co., Farnsworth, has made many improvements to better facilitate the handling of grain.

Included in the improvements is the installation of a new 20-ton Fairbanks-Morse scale with all-cement platform or scale floor.

A new office building, 12 x 28, has been erected. This beautiful new stucco structure will provide ample quarters for taking care of business.

Mr Conner has just completed the building of a 40 x 120 warehouse at his farm located adjacent to Farnsworth. This building is of the half-round type, wood rafters with channel iron covering, concrete foundation and floors. It is planned so that it can be used for storage of overflow grain from the elevator.

Few Dark Spots on Nation's Business Map

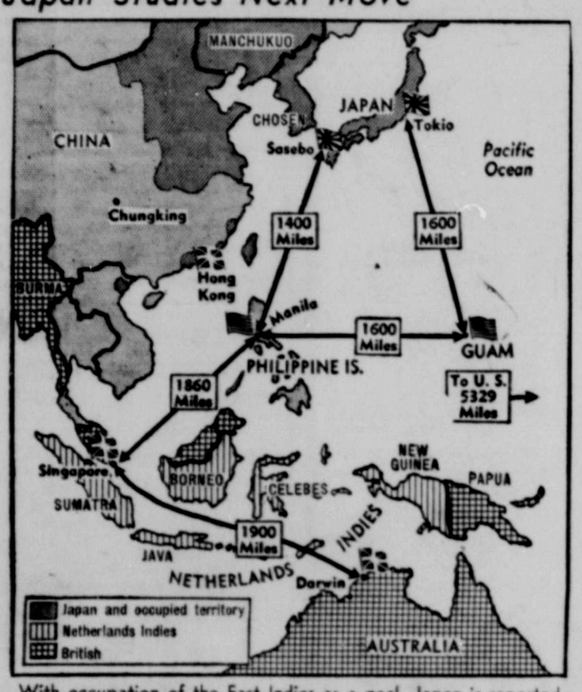

This map depicts current business conditions as compared with the same period last year. It will appear in the July number of "Nation's Business", published by the United States Chamber of Commerce

For the first time in many years, Ochiltree county is pictured in the white, indicating business above the preceding year, on the nation's business map. The almost all-white map depicts improvement from last year in practically every section due to conditions of agriculture and employment.

Japan Studies Next Move

With occupation of the East Indies as a goal, Japan is reported to be concentrating troops for a possible thrust toward the French base at Saigon, in French Indo-China. Map shows the position of British and American bases, which would be threatened by Japanese moves toward the Dutch colonies.

Higgins, who were reared in the Talley home; two sisters: Mrs. W. T. Ellison, Amarillo; and Mrs. W. M. McMillen, Durango, Colo.; one brother, J. W. Richardson of Perryton; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Mary Elizabeth (Mamie) Richardson was born to William Henry and Lucy Elizabeth Richardson Oct. 1, 1877 at Sweet Spring, Mo. When just a child of one, her parents came to Texas locating in Guadalupe County for one year, then going to Caldwell county for 12 years before moving to Coleman county.

Here she was married at Santa Anna on May 4, 1897 to J. S. Talley. The Talley family moved to Ochiltree county in 1901 settling on a farm southwest of old Ochiltree where they resided until 1907 when they moved into Ochiltree. Here they lived until the town of Perryton was started in 1919. Two sons were born to this union, one of whom died in infancy and is buried in the Ochiltree cemetery. Mrs. Talley joined the Christian church when a girl and for a number of years served as church organist.

Mrs. Talley has always been an active and energetic woman, both mentally and physically, giving liberally of her time, labor and sympathy in homes of sickness and death.

In religion she early developed the habit of weighing things in the balance of reason, discarding that which to her did not harmonize with the Creator's plan as she saw God's laws in the big book of life. She believed in doing good for the sake of humanity and not in the fear of the anger and vengeance of a higher power.

That we come into life not of our own accord, and we go not out of our own free will, but subject to the Supreme Power over all, and to that Power she was willing to trust her fate when her time should come to meet the great mystery of death.

May we ever keep bright in the lime light of memory her many good deeds, and may we always emulate her many virtues that we may be better fitted to meet our loved ones who are on the other side.

Miss Nora Jeanne and Jim Lamb returned to their home in Amarillo Tuesday afternoon. They have been visiting with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Conley.

state.

In other words a taxpayer has to wipe the slate clean of all delinquent county and state taxes on all the property he owns if he wishes to avoid the six per cent penalty. If he just cleans up the delinquency on part of his property he pays six per cent. interest.

Delinquent taxes must be paid on or before November 1, 1941 to receive benefits of of remission of penalty and interest.

Under the provisions of the law as pased by the legislature, any political sub-division such as the Perryton Independent School District or the City of Perryton could elect to handle their delinquent taxes on the same basis, however both of these have decided to proceed with the collection of delinquent taxes on the regular basis and have entered into contract with an Austin law firm to enforce collection of same.

The 1941 barley yield is developing into one of the biggest harvests ever in this area, with a return of from 40 to 70 bushels to the acre. Much barley is being sold at 30 cents per bushel. Barley can go into storage on the AAA loan program on a basis for No. 1 of a 45 cent loan when stored on the farm or 38 cents if it goes into an elevator. Grain men report that no No. 1 barley is being marketed, very little No. 2, most of the crop being No. 3 grade.

Rains continue a menace to the 1941 crop. Practically all Oklahoma fields were drenched with a two inch rain Tuesday night. The rain tapered off to the south, only .17 inch falling in Perryton.

Wheat yields are off in the west part of Ochiltree county where many fields were severely damaged by black rust.

Black Represents Southland Life

O. H. Black has accepted an appointment as representative of the Southland Life Insurance Co. for the Perryton area. Mr. Black is an experienced underwriter with many years of service in all branches of insurance, including life, accident and health, fire, hail and storm.

In assuming the Southland representation in this community, Mr. Black states that his services as an insurance consultant are available to all policy holders, regardless of what company carries the insurance. Mr. Black says that many people are unfamiliar with various provisions and clauses of their life policies and that often through such misunderstanding are deprived of the accrued benefits.

merchant getting out individual letters to every man carried on the "Service Roll" in the Herald. This was a pretty commendable piece of work and we know that every young man will appreciate Judge Allen's thoughtfulness. A good example for some of the rest of us to follow.

A. W. Thurman, one of Ochiltree county's real pioneers who is here from New Mexico visiting with relatives and friends was an interested visitor to Saturday's wheat festival. Mr. Thurman marketed the first Ochiltree county raised wheat when he hauled a wagon load to Glazier in 1905, at that time the nearest railhead for Ochiltree county.

J. C. Scott, Harper, Iowa, with the Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America just happened to be a business visitor in Perryton last Saturday and when he learned about the USO wheat campaign he dug down in his pocket and purchased 25 bushels of wheat and donated it to the fund. Mighty fine spirit for a visitor. Thanks and a hand to you, Mr. Scott.

We have been informed that the Community Public Service Co. is giving a bushel of wheat for every employee in their service to the Ochiltree county USO fund. This is in addition to the personal pledges from each and every employee.

And while we're on the USO wheat campaign, Ochiltree county folks are urged to make their pledges at once. A bushel of wheat for every man, woman and child in Ochiltree county. To reach this goal, many will have to give much more than one for each in their family for there are many that are financially unable to give on this basis. So those that "have" will have to make up the difference. Don't let the boys in camp down!

A bouquet to Mayor W. H. Lance for the Wheat Festival and USO idea. Perryton and Ochiltree county received lots of national publicity from this event and it's favorable publicity too. And remember this, it's the kind of publicity that dollars and cents can't buy.

We can't figure out for sure but we honestly think that Texas won when O'Daniel was elected to the United States Senate in Saturday's election. Now Texas will have a real governor in Coke Stevenson who will devote his time to the business of Texas instead of preparing a mixture of religion and politics to be dished out over the radio every Sabbath morning.

O'Daniel certainly has come down in the votes of Texas since the 1940 primaries when he defeated the field for reelection. In Saturday's election he just nosed across the line with a bare 30 per cent of all votes cast. This percentage is lowered even more when one allows for the thousands of Texans who voted for O'Daniel in order to get him out of and Coke Stevenson into the governor's mansion.

Looks like city officials mean business in the enforcement of traffic regulations. Several have been arrested, hailed into city court and paid fines. More power to you city officers. Keep up the good work and you'll soon make Perryton streets safe for everybody.

No the letters delinquent taxpayers of the City of Perryton and the Perryton Independent School District have been receiving from the "Delinquent Tax Bureau" at Austin are not from an official state agency. It is just a high sounding official-like name that has been adopted by a firm of lawyers who have entered into a contract with the governing bodies of these two political sub-divisions for the collection of delinquent taxes.

This firm of lawyers will receive 15 per cent on all taxes collected by them. That's fine and dandy if they will go on through and clean the slate of all delinquent taxes either by collection or sale of property for taxes, thus putting such property back on the tax rolls as a source of possible tax revenue.

If the collection of delinquent
