Election slated Saturday

Notice has been given to registered voters of Mitchell County of a joint election, where ballots will decide on two proposed Constitutional Amendments and tax exemptions for the County Education District, to be held August 10.

Mitchell County and the Colorado Independent School District (ISD), Westbrook ISD and Loraine ISD are holding the joint election for the purpose of adopting or rejecting the proposed Constitutional Amendments as submitted by the 72nd Regular Session of the Legislature and in regard to tax exemptions for the Mitchell County Education District (CED).

Polling places will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. on Saturday, August 10.

Due to the election being held jointly between the County and ISD's, polling for both ballots will take place at the County Precinct election sites.

After first voting on the ballot for the state constitutional amendment election, voters will proceed to the school election where they will be given a ballot corresponding to the ISD in which they reside.

Precinct 1 voters will cast their state constitutional amendment ballots at the Courthouse, 349 Oak, Colorado City. At the same location, voters will be balloting on the CED exemptions. People who reside in both Colorado ISD and Loraine ISD will be given their respective ballot at this location. Arlene Morris is the precinct election judge and Louise Sweatt is the alternate.

Precinct 2 voters will cast their votes at the Westbrook Tax Office, 799 Bernier, Westbrook. Besides the state constitutional amendment election voting will take place on Westbrook ISD and Colorado ISD CED exemptions for residents of the respective school districts. Keith Williamson is the precinct election judge and Nell Rollins is the alternate.

Precinct 3 voters will cast their votes at the Housing Authority, 439 Oak, Colorado City. Voters will vote on the state constitutional amendment and ballot in their respective ISD election. Boxes for both Westbrook ISD and Colorado ISD will be maintained at this voting site. J. M. (Jesse) Munoz, Jr. will preside as the precinct election judge with Doris Dockrey. See ELECTION, page 2

Mitchell CED approves hiring law firm Monday

The Mitchell County Education District (CED) approved hiring legal representation at Monday night's regular meeting.

Tom Rees, as a legal advisor, met with the local CED board in regards to legal counsel of the Mitchell CED and recommended the firm of McMahon, Suroviksutt, Buhrmann, Cobb and Hicks, of Abilene.

25 Mitchell County residents of the Westbrook area filed suit against the Mitchell CED seeking to have a temporary injunction placed on the CED's tax levying, collecting and distributing activities.

Rees said that Jack Harris of the attorney general's office had initially indicated that the office would assume the defense of the Mitchell CED.

He had been told that Toni Hunter of the attorney general's office would be assigned to represent the Mitchell CED.

Since that time, Rees has been notified that the attorney general's office will only defend the portions of the suit which relate to the constitutionality of the CEDs.

The attorney general's office notified Rees that their office would not be the representing lawyer for the CED or individuals named in the lawsuit.

The restraining order in itself is not a constitutional matter, Rees noted. Several other issues were brought up in the suit that are not considered to be constitutional issues.

Rees said that the local board would need counsel and recommended the Abilene firm.

He noted that Stephen H. Suttle and David L. Buhrmann of the firm had been contacted and that the firm would represent the Mitchell CED at a standard rate of $150 per hour.

Rees noted that even though the attorney general's office would be handling a great deal of the representation, that the side issues dealing with the CED needed

County budget approved

The 1992 Mitchell County budget of $3.7 million was tentatively approved by commissioners Tuesday morning.

County Auditor Georgie Griffith met with commissioners to present the figures which resulted from budget workshop sessions.

The 1992 budget proposal is in the amount of $3,781,999.73, she noted.

Griffith also presented commissioners with projected receipts of $3,214,429.30.

These receipts are projected on interest due the county, sales tax, ad valorem taxes, and fines, fees and licenses.

This represents a deficit budget proposal of $567,570.43.

It was noted that the 1992 budget represents an increase of $502,000 or 15 percent from last year's budget.

Griffith noted that the county will receive several thousand dollars less from due to tax rates, sales tax receipts are down and that proceeds from some fees are down.

It was noted that increases have resulted from increased requirements of insurance premiums, the Berman Building renovations, improvements and the Board of Economic Development.

Commissioner Carl Guelker expressed concern over the proposed three percent raise, noting that the raises 'nip' at the budget.

It was noted that salaries make up 43 percent of the county budget.

Several commissioners noted that the county employees deserve the raise and that due to the rise in health insurance premiums will be taking home a smaller check, even after a 3 percent raise.

Guelker said he agreed that the county employees deserved a raise, but that he knew of "lots of people who have had to take pay cuts just to keep their jobs," and noted that it seems time for county employees to "tighten our belts a little."

Commissioner Ed Roach recommended staying with the raise this year but noted that "next year we may have to make the cut."

He added that some county

Criminal mischief reported

Mitchell County Sheriff Patrick Toombs noted the recent reports of criminal mischief in the county including oil field equipment and two pickups.

On Monday night, August 5, oil field tools were reported stolen from a pulling unit located 4 and one-half miles north of Silver.

Toombs noted that the pulling unit was near the highway at the time of the disappearance.

Anyone who may have seen activity around the site is asked to contact the Sheriff's department.

Toombs also noted the reports of two pickups, one on or about July 23 and the other on or about July 28, both from here in Colorado City.

Jimmy Shannon, 42, is being held in Mitchell County Jail in connection with the July 23 disappearance of a pickup that was located in Scurry County by officials of the Sheriff Department there.

Since Shannon's arrest two outstanding warrants, from Taylor County and Dallas County have surfaced and his parole from the State of Texas has been revoked.

Sheriff Department officials are also working on the other disappearance that occurred between 10 p.m. on July 27 and 6 a.m. on July 28.

The 1988 Ford F350, 4 door, white pickup with a propane tank in back was driven through a fence where it received considerable damage.

Sheriff Department officials were notified of the pickup in a farmer's field. The windows of the truck had been broken out and the truck was stuck.

Toombs noted that the department had suspects in the case but ask that anyone with knowledge of the event was asked to call the Sheriff's Department.

Toombs said that with these recent occurrences it is wise to "be sure and take your keys out and lock the vehicle when you get out."

representation.

The McMahon firm was described by Rees as being qualified to handle the type of suit that the Mitchell CED is currently facing.

There are several similar lawsuits being heard around the state: two in Ausin, the Edgewood ISD case and the Palacios ISD case; and four around the state, Mitchell County, Summerville County, Moore County and Lamb County.

Because of the pending litigation the attorney general's office has filed a motion to have the constitutionality portion of the suit abated -- an order which seeks help and obedience until the suit's already before courts are settled.

A discussion evolved as Mitchell CED Vice-Chairman Warren Zant said that Westbrook ISD would "not pay a cent to sue ourselves."

Westbrook Superintendent Sonny Hollis also spoke to the board and said that "the situation is serving as the alternate.

Precinct 4 voters will cast their ballots at the Senior Citizens Building, 125 East Colorado Avenue, Loraine. In addition to the state constitutional election, ballot boxes will be maintained at the site for Loraine ISD and Colorado ISD for those living in their respective jurisdictions. Nelda Bruce will serve as the precinct election judge and Clara Foshee will serve as the alternate.

Precinct 7 voters will cast their ballots at Oak Street Baptist Church, 805 Oak, Colorado City. Besides voting on the state constitutional election, these voters will also vote in their respective school districts CED exemption election. Boxes will be maintained for residents of Westbrook ISD and Colorado ISD at this site. Billie Ruffin is the precinct election judge and Juanita Vest is the alternate judge.

that the attorney general is coming to defend the constitutionality of it [Senate Bill 351]."

"The restraining order will go into effect if it is declared unconstitutional," Hollis noted, and that if the bill is declared constitutional the CED system will go into effect.

"I'm glad we have four cases to be heard," Hollis said of the suits filed against the County Education Districts.

He noted that the state had been wrong two out of 3 times in previous court overturned decisions, noting reference to the old school finance method and the Legislative reforms which have gone to court.

Hollis also noted that the local District Judge has the same powers as Judge Scott McCowen.

"McCowen hasn't made a decision," Hollis said. "We need a quick decision."

Hollis said that the State Legislature made all the decisions about the CED, including the creating of it, setting the tax amounts, levying rates and methods of fund distribution.

He continued to note that even though the state set up the CED system and mandates how the money will be received, it is not considered a state agency.

After further discussion, CED Chairman Dwayne Harris made a motion to hire the McMahon firm and that the legal fees would be distributed equally among the component school districts, each paying one-third of the representation costs.

Zant responded by saying that, "we [Westbrook ISD] won't pay a dime. You'll have to sue us for the money."

Glenn Sanders, Loraine Superintendent, said that if Westbrook didn't join he felt their Texas Education Association accreditation could be affected.

The motion came for a vote and was passed 2 - 1. Harris and CED Secretary Robert Dale Finley voting for the motion and Zant casting his vote against the motion.

Commissioners hear long-distance proposal

Commissioners were presented a proposal to save on their long distance phone bills at Tuesday's called meeting of the Court.

Elaine Githens of NTS Communications, Snyder, told commissioners that her company could save the county money on their long distance rates.

She noted that AT&T charges range from 29 to 33 cents per minute compared to NTS rates of .2194 cents per minute.

Githens also noted that NTS charges are billed by the second instead of by the AT&T rate of complete minutes.

Under the current system, a phone call that is two minutes and three seconds long will be billed to the county as a three minute call, Githens noted.

She told the court that her company would provide automatic dialers so that long distance calls may be completed by dialing 1 plus the number, the same process now used to dial a long distance number.

It was also mentioned that NTS statements can be itemized as to who is making which calls, by having each person identified with a code.

Githens also noted that NTS is voice activated which means that billing for a long distance call will not begin until a voice speaks on the other end of the line.

The average cost to a customer is .205 cents per minute, Githens noted.

County Judge Ray Mayo and Commissioners Ed Roach, Carl Guelker, Buddy Hertenberger and Bill Preston heard the proposal from NTS and tabled any action at the present time.

employees are already having to drop dependents from the insurance coverage in an effort to make ends meet.

The commissioners tentatively approved the budget with the pay raises, with Commissioner Buddy Hertenberger noting that "next years budget will be rougher."

In other action, commissioners approved the payroll in the amount of $47,766.25 to cover the period from July 20 to August 2.

County Judge Ray Mayo and Commissioners Bill Preston, Guelker, Roach and Hertenberger were in attendance at the meeting.

125 vote absentee

Absentee voting for the upcoming August 10 election concluded Tuesday evening with 125 ballots being cast.

Voters will cast their ballots on two proposed State Constitutional amendments and decide the fate of three local option issues in the election questions to affect the tax rates of the Mitchell County Education District.

report to members of the board proposing that Colorado ISD serve as administrator for the Mitchell CED.

She recommended that each component school district collect their own taxes, as they now do, and the CED taxes and mail copies of the daily deposits to the CED administrator.

Colorado ISD proposed to serve as the administrator for a one-year trial period.

The duties of the administrator include preparing and posting the agenda, typing minutes, attending meetings and informing the board on CED finances, working with the bank depository.

Finley noted Colorado ISD's qualifications with the staff currently employed and the IBM computer.

The proposal from Colorado ISD was to serve as administrator for one year at a cost of $27,275 which would include the expenses of stamps, paper and salaries.

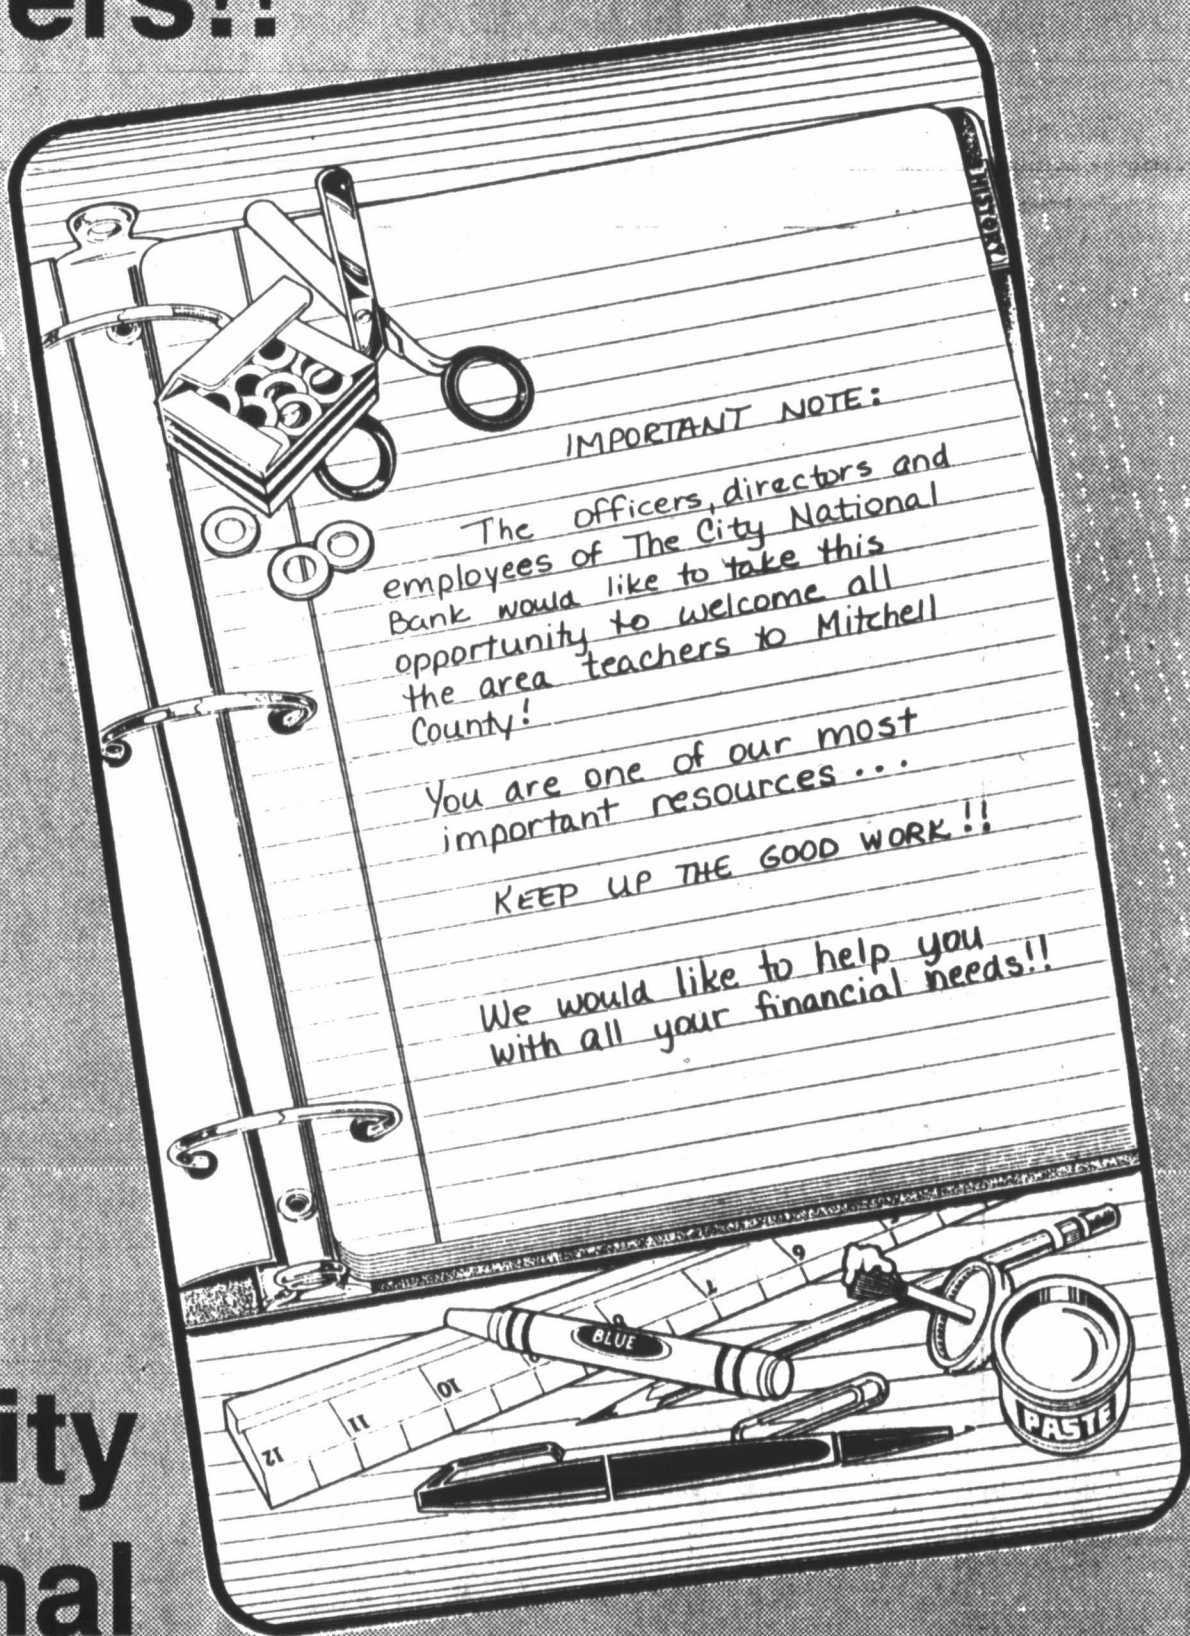

The motion was approved.

In other action the board authorized the CED administrator to meet with local banking institutions to work up bid guidelines for the Mitchell CED bank depository.

The board also heard that no one is offering liability insurance for CED board members at this time.

The CED board will meet again on Thursday, August 15, for the purpose of canvassing ballots from the August 10 election.

Nimmo attends election meeting

Colorado Independent School District Superintendent Don Nimmo attended a meeting in Abilene concerning the upcoming election.

On August 10, Texans statewide will go to the polls to vote on a proposed constitutional amendment allowing county education (CED) voters to grant certain property tax exemptions.

At the same time, Mitchell County Education District along with all CED's across the state will hold elections on two property tax exemptions (percentage homestead and disabled and elderly) and a proposal to tax certain personal property.

These optional tax exemptions are contingent on passage of the statewide constitutional amendment and local voter approval within the CED, said Nimmo.

"The format of the local ballot may confuse some voters, since the order of the propositions may vary from county to county," said Patti Clapp, president of the Texas Association of School Boards. "The most controversial proposal would allow the CED to tax tangible personal property."

"Opponents are wary of this authority because of the inability to appraise personal property and the difficulty of accessing and collecting taxes on personal items. Observers believe the administration of such a tax would cost many CEDs more than they would gain in revenue," she said.

Each of the 188 CEDs in Texas must hold an election August 10 to offer the following optional tax exemptions.

In all cases, the elections are being conducted by each component school district in the CED, and voters may petition for another election if the local election fails.

The CED must seek voter approval of a 20 percent homestead exemption. The amount of this may not be less than $5000.

The CED must seek voter approval of a $10,000 homestead exemption for persons 65 and older or disabled persons. Only one of these exemptions may apply to a homestead, even if the homesteader is both disabled and over age 65.

The CED must also seek voter approval to tax certain items of personal property not held or used for production of income (other than manufactured homes).

"After the results of the August 10 exemption election are known, Mitchell County Education District will adopt its tax rate," Nimmo said.

"A share of the financing of the Foundation School Program is assigned to the CED. While the Legislature set the 1991 CED tax rate at a minimum of 72 cents per $100 of value, most CEDs statewide will need to adopt a higher rate to account for collection rates less than 100 percent and other factors."

"Delinquent taxes and differences in local tax roll values and State Property Tax Board values will obligate many CEDs to adopt a tax rate somewhat in excess of 72 cents," Nimmo said.

"The Legislature created CEDs for the limited purpose of levying and collecting property taxes, which are then distributed to all school districts within their boundaries."

The success of Mitchell CED in completing this process in a systematic and timely fashion has a direct impact on the Colorado Independent School District," Nimmo said.

Serving on the Mitchell CED are: Chairman Dwayne Harris representing the Colorado Independent School District, Vice-Chairman Warren Zant representing the Westbrook Independent School District and Secretary Robert Dale Finley representing the Loraine Independent School District.

New JP, constable lines ok'd

Commissioners approved new Justice of the Peace and Constable precinct lines but tabled action on polling places at Tuesday's called meeting of the Court.

The action today was another of the required steps before presenting the approved -- Revised Redistricting Proposal B -- to the Justice Department.

The new Justice of the Peace and Constable boundaries will coincide with the newly created commissioner precinct boundary lines.

Justice of the Peace and Constable precinct 1 will coincide with commissioner precincts 1 and 4; Justice of the Peace and Constable precinct 2 will coincide with commissioner precincts 2 and 3.

If the redistricting package is not met with an objection from the Justice Department, the new precincts will become effective on January 1, 1992.

The commissioners tabled action on polling places to match the new commissioner precincts until after County Clerk Joan Beach returns from a scheduled meeting concerning voting boxes.

County Judge Ray Mayo and Commissioners Ed Roach, Carl Guelker, Buddy Hertenberger and Bill Preston were in attendance at the called meeting.

Public Notice

On April 9, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to request that the optional feature "Call Transfer Disconnect" be available to all PLEXAR I customers by including the feature in Southwestern Bell's PLEXAR I tariff. Currently, this optional feature is available only on a customer requested basis.

Call Transfer Disconnect (CTD) is an optional feature that allows PLEXAR I customers the ability to transfer a call to another telephone number within or outside their PLEXAR I system, hang up, and permit the two remaining parties to continue with the call. The PLEXAR I user is then free to place or accept another call. CTD is not intended to be used to avoid toll charges. Therefore, CTD will not be available to PLEXAR I customers subscribing to optional Extended Metropolitan Service or Extended Area Calling Service.

If the company's application is approved, the monthly rate for CTD will be $4.00 for each PLEXAR I station line. Prior to the June 19, 1991, interim rate approval, Southwestern Bell was billing customers who receive the service $1.50 for each station line equipped with this feature. In addition, under Southwestern Bell's proposed tariff, every line within the PLEXAR I system must be equipped with this feature. The nonrecurring charge for the additional lines which must be equipped with CTD will be waived for existing CTD customers. The tariffed monthly rate will apply to all existing and future CTD customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

The graves of three little boys are side-by-side, in knee high grass and weeds, in the Union Chapel cemetery north of Loraine. The rounded headstones, probably white marble, are small by today's standards, but represent a considerable expense for when the boys were buried shortly after the turn of the century.

The inscriptions on the two northernmost markers indicate the parents were J.W. and Jennie Nunley. The third stone marker is showing more effects from facing the burning sun the past 84 years and the parents' names have dimmed, but the last name is also "Nunley." The mother seems to be identified as "M. A."

The boys were Henry Nunley, almost 5 years old, Arthur, 2 1/2 and Claudie, who lived only 2 days. All three died in 1907. All three died within a period of just 36 days!

Why? Illness? An accident? It's almost impossible to get answers 84 years later. The Nunley graves are just three of probably less than 20 in the cemetery.

Near the asphalt road leading to Lone Wolf Mountain is the grave of Evelyn Jettine Brown. She died in 1927. The flat marker reads "infant daughter, our baby." No age is given, nor are the parents.

A walk through the small cemetery tell something about the folks who lived in Mitchell County during the early 1900's. That's because epitaphs were vogue then. Today, they're not.

James Wood and his wife, Martha, are buried in the Union Chapel Cemetery. Their graves are enclosed with a chainlink fence. Inscribed on their headstone is, "Having finished their duty they now sweetly rest." James passed away in 1924, 14 years after his wife.

Then, there's little Billy Boothe's grave. The small headstone includes a lamb perched on top of it. There's no epitaph, just this inscription: "Febr. 20, 1909-July 31, 1910." Billy only lived a year and a half.

Another headstone reads, "M. E. wife of W.O. Hale." She died in 1914. The epitaph: "She was a kind and affectionate wife. A fond mother and friend to all."

The Smiths, Joe M. and Mrs. C. E. Smith, are buried in Union Chapel. He died in 1915. She breathed her last breath in 1940.

"Tho lost to sight to meory dear," reads the inscription dedicated to Mrs. Smith.

There are other graves. Johnnie L. Swinford died on March 19, 1916. He was only 21. His Woodman of the World headstone is almost five feet tall, standing high above the reaching grass. The epitaph reads, "Our darling one has gone before to greet us on the golden shore."

W.H.H. Johnson (1836-1911) is buried in this cemetery, also. His grave is surrounded by a wire fence, complete with a gate.

Some of the graves in Union Chapel Cemetery have temporary markers, like those placed by funeral homes. Unfortunately, it's impossible to read the names of the deceased on these, as well as the dates they died. Their graves are also overrun with high grass and weeds.

But back to the three little boys; how did they die and why in such a short period of time? Odds are no one living today remembers. Probably no one remembers J.W. Nunley, or his family, let alone why the boys died.

Gus Armstrong grew up in Loraine and he couldn't recall any Nunley. Mrs. Jack Linam lives on the same road as the Union Chapel Cemetery, but she has no recollection of the Nunleys.

D.O. Blair has lived near the cemetery all his life, and while he wasn't born until after the Nunley boys died, he worries about the cemetery being washed away some day.

"Frank Kelly built that tank near there," he explained, "and when it overflows, it washes over that cemetery."

Records in the county clerk's office are incomplete because the state did not require birth and death certificates to be recorded until some time after 1907. A search of the records by Clerk Joan Beach was fruitless. Likewise, efforts by Kiker-Scale Funeral Home were unsuccessful to shed some light on the mystery of the Nunleys.

There was only one more source to check. The microfilm of the Colorado Record at the Mitchell County library. Fat chance the deaths would be mentioned, because frankly, the only deaths usually mentioned back then were those of prominent citizens, or outlaws. Obituary pages were unheard of.

But, lo and behold, the editor of the Record did make at least one mention of the Nunley tragedy.

"May 3, 1907. J.W. Nunley, who lives on the Snyder Road north of town, has and deserves the sympathy of all. His child, 3 years old, died last Saturday and the balance of his children are sick. They live on the Wes Allen place."

Apparently Henry, Arthur and Claudie died from a disease. The Record story makes no mention of J.W.'s wife, Jennie. Had she died also? If so, where is she buried?

Further, because Henry was born in 1902, Arthur in 1904 and Claudie wasn't born until 1907, had J.W. remarried between 1904 and 1907? (Remember, the third headstone is difficult to read).

And finally, regardless of J.W.'s married status, why did the Record refer to only "J.W. Nunley who deserves the sympathy?" Why was his wife not also mentioned.

Questions to which we'll probably never know the answers, but to little Claudie, Henry and Arthur, there will be someone out to clean up your graves this weekend.

That's just the way West Texans are.

Youth participate in clothing project

Several youth recently participated in a 4-H Clothing project which included several 'learn by doing' activities.

The 4-H Clothing project enables adult leaders to teach 4-H members skills that are important now and will last a lifetime. It also gives members the opportunity to demonstrate skills at the County and District 4-H Fashion Shows.

The Mitchell County 4-H Fashion show was held at the Lone Wolf Medallion Room with a patriotic theme.

Each of the 4-H members participating were judged early in the day wearing the garments they constructed.

Judging criteria included construction of the garment, fabric and pattern selection and overall fit of the garment.

A 'Festival of Fashions' fashion show was held in the evening with family and friends of the 4-H'ers attending.

Clover kids in the fashion show were Hattie Holman and Megan Merrell both receiving blue ribbons for their work.

Those receiving top honors and advancing to the District 4-H

Fashion Show held in San Angelo were Junior members Angela Chaney, Mica Merrell and Hayley Smith.

Senior members advancing to San Angelo were Caasi Smith and Tara Baker.

Special awards were given for sewing with natural fibers and top junior and senior models.

Those receiving those awards were Angela Chaney -- Cotton Award, Hayley Smith -- Wool and Mohair Award.

Modeling awards went to junior 4-H'er Mica Merrell and senior 4-H'er Caasi Smith.

At District 4-H Fashion Show, 4-H members were once again judged on their clothing construction skills based on an interview with judges.

Angela Chaney received 2nd place in the junior dressy attire category, Hayley Smith 4th place in the jumpers/rompers category, and Mica Merrell 4th place in skirts and tops.

In the senior sports and specialty wear category, Tara Baker received 3rd place, and in the non-tailored daywear category, Caasi Smith received 4th place. Hayley Smith received a $25 special award in the wool Natural Fibers division.

Adult leaders involved in planning and teaching the clothing project learning activities were Judy Bridgford, Judy Merrell and Peggy Smith.

If you would like more information concerning the 4-H program in Mitchell County, contact the Mitchell County Extension office at 728-3111.

WORLD CHAMPION: Callie Bolin won the Corky Ogden Memorial World Championship Barrel Race, 8-and-under category, held Sunday at the Scurry County Coliseum in Snyder. Her horse, 'Stick', is shown wearing the saddle which designates Callie as the World Champion. Callie is holding the belt buckle she received to designate her accomplishment.

Bolin wins barrel race

Callie Bolin of Colorado City won the Corky Ogden Memorial World Championship Barrel Race held Sunday at the Scurry County Coliseum in Snyder.

The eight-year-old Bolin bested 32 entries from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Alabama in three runs to earn the World Championship title.

As a reward to the new World Champion, Bolin received a saddle, belt buckle and a cash prize for her accomplishment.

The event is held as the American Junior Rodeo Association

National Finals are held, August 6-10, in Snyder, where Bolin will be a contestant in both barrel racing and pole bending.

Callie is the daughter of Jeannie and Hobie Bolin of Colorado City.

Can Your Child See Well Enough To Learn??

When your children enter school this fall, about 80% of what they learn will come through sight. Yet 4 out of 10 children have vision problems that can inhibit school achievement. Most vision problems cannot be detected by the familiar eye chart test for 20/20 vision. Help make your child's future crystal clear.

Does Your Child...

- Avoid close work?
- Hold reading material too close?
- Show excessive head movement while reading?
- Lose his place while reading?
- Rub eyes frequently?
- Make reversals while reading?
- Often have headaches?
- Uses a finger to maintain his place while reading?

If so, we recommend having your child's vision tested.

LORAINE PERSONALS

...BY LOIS PHILLIPS

Last Sunday while I went through the Abilene paper I ran across the name Groom and it was announcing their 75th wedding anniversary. Can you really believe that; not unless you are up in years yourself. Pearl Groom was Mr. Charlie Hamiltons sister. She married C.W. Groom in Tye, Texas and later moved to Loraine where their three kids finished school. I believe they went to Lone Star before Loraine. They finished here.

They had three children, Willard Groom who married Maxine Beights and in a few years he drowned in an Abilene lake. Nova Lee married Eldon Mahon and her sister Nina is married to Louis Baskind of El Paso. I don't know how long they have been in Abilene but the article said they had been members of University Baptist Church 46 years. Glad to hear from you guys even by the paper. Nova Lee, I can just hear you laughing even now. Another happy "75", we hope.

We lost another long time citizen this week also. Ila Walker was a vital part of our town all her life. She was married to Virgil Walker a number of years. They had two sons, Rodney (deceased) and Jackie, who with his wife Patsy Beaty Walker, lived at the old Lee Walker home here in town. Ila had a number of grandkids but I don't know exactly. Rodney Walker, Virgil & Ila's oldest son, was married to Charlene White Walker a number of years before his death. Ila will be remembered with lots of love in our town. She was a nurse at Dr. Johnson Hospital a number of years.

Royce and Neysa Lefevrie Beights had a grandson with them on Sunday morning. He is Zack Rogers. He is from the Dallas area and a real cute little boy.

Saw Gwen Claxton, also Buddy and Mollie Ennis Blair, eating out after church on Sunday. It's always nice to see people you don't get to visit very much.

Our granddaughter, Patti Beaty, came Saturday to visit and spend the night. You know how that goes, we have to share when they come to town. Elba Mae Evans is also her grandmother, but its fun and fair.

Reba Gross of Lake Buchanan is in town visiting her daughter and family Donnie, Sandy and Chris.

Troy and Jean Walker Keagans of Arlington accompanied by their granddaughter spent Thursday night in Loraine visiting her mother, Syble Walker.

Ryan Bruce of Lubbock, son of the Leslie Bruces visited in Loraine last week. Grandpa and Grandma are going to Lubbock for his birthday this week.

Erika and Michael Lucas were here last week with grandparents, Royce and Nelda Bruce.

Void and Connie Beights came for Margarita's birthday. I believe she lives in Abilene. Anyway a bunch of her family came in. Royce and Neysa Beights, Ira and Audrey Beights also Roy Beights came. I believe I was told that he was the host of this affair. Royston, I almost forgot you. They held this party in the church that Margarita attends.

Kyle Moore, Craig Finley, Michael Moore, and Chris Phillips played golf in Abilene last week. They are improving along the way.

Well kids, I first must get a plug in for school as it starts real soon now. Let's see if we can't make this your best year ever. I guess you know you'll have to start with the very first day. I know you can do it, you know you can, so get busy with the books.

The group that recently returned from a tour of London, Paris, and Berlin, met Thursday evening with Mrs. J.C. Hall. Pictures, slides and reminiscing provided entertainment.

Mrs. Travis Turner provided the delicious watermelon delivered by Mrs. Mildred Free. Cokes were served.

Mildred Free, Christy Dockrey, Sally Smith from Amarillo, Billie Ruth Abernathy, Iris Preston and Viola Bell from San Angelo, Texas were present.

Susan and Ben Preston & David Todd spent Sunday night with Iris Preston.

OBITUARIES

Pedro Villanueva Martinez

Funeral services for Pedro Villanueva Martinez, 43, of San Angelo, were held Wednesday at the Sacred Heart Cathedral in San Angelo.

Mr. Martinez died Sunday morning, August 4, in an accidental drowning.

He was born June 19, 1948, in Mitchell County and was preceded in death by his father, Pedro S. Martinez; one infant son, Sebastian Martinez; and one brother, Refugio V. Martinez, Sr.

Survivors include his wife, Guadalupe, of San Angelo; four sons, Paul, Pedro Jr., and Adam, all of San Angelo, and Martin of San Antonio; one daughter, Cassie Martinez of San Angelo; one granddaughter, Miranda Martinez of San Angelo; his mother, Sebastiana Martinez of Colorado City; six brothers, Roman and Rufino of Colorado City, Emeterio and Juan of Snyder, Jose of San Angelo, and Manuel; and six sisters, Benita Davila and Bruna Franco of Colorado City, Irene Gomez and Christina Ceballos of Sweetwater, Maria Gutierrez of San Antonio, and Romana Bugarin of Watauga, Texas.

Ila Burrus Walker

Funeral services for Ila Burrus Walker, 85, of Loraine, were held Tuesday at the First United Methodist Church in Loraine. Rev Tommie Taylor officiated at the ceremony. Burial followed at the Loraine Cemetery under the direction of Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Mrs. Walker passed away Monday, August 5, after a brief illness.

Ila Burrus Walker was born October 13, 1905 near Loraine, the youngest child of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Burrus, early settlers of Mitchell County. She graduated from Loraine High School in 1922 and married Virgil L. Walker on May 1, 1923. He died August 5, 1971.

Mrs. Walker was also preceded in death by two children in infancy and by one son, Rodney Walker.

She was a nurse at Johnson Hospital for several years, had lived in Loraine all her life, and was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Loraine.

Survivors include one son and his wife, Jackie and Patsy Walker of Loraine; and one daughter-in-law, Charlene Walker of Loraine; five grandchildren; and thirteen great-grandchildren.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

...BY DON NIMMO

Colorado Independent School District extends its welcome and a great big HOWDY to parents, students and patrons of the district for the 1991-1992 school year. YEP! It's that time again. The summer is fast passing with all the activity necessary for beginning a new school year.

Items of interest you need to be alerted to:

1. Registration of students at each of the four campuses will be announced by the building principal. It will be important to register your child as requested by each building in order for us to get an accurate enrollment count to provide adequate staff and facilities.

2. First day for teacher/staff is Wednesday, August 21 (report to assigned buildings).

3. First student day is Thursday, August 22.

4. It is very important for your child to be in school on the first day (from Pre-K to high school seniors). Combined with the importance of academic purposes is the new attendance accounting rule in effect beginning with the first day of the 1991-1992 school year. Beginning with the 1991-1992 school year, state funding on average daily attendance will be based on attendance each day of the 180 day school year as compared with previous years of the best four (4) weeks in the fall and spring.

5. Athletics, band and other pre-August 22 student activities will be published in order for participants to begin practise on time.

6. We do not anticipate any changes in bus routes or bus stops on the in-town routes.

By this time you have probably purchased the basic supplies of paper, pencils, glue, etc. You have checked to see if shoes still fit and that the leans leg still cover most of the sock and shirts do not bulge too much between buttons. Here are some other things you can do to make sure your child gets off to a good start this year.

1. GET TO KNOW YOUR CHILD'S TEACHER(S). One study found one-third of all parents NEVER met or talked with their child's teacher. You know important things about your child that you can tell the teacher. Introduce yourself.

2. LET YOUR CHILD KNOW that homework is important. Set a regular time for homework. Find a quiet place for your child to study, and be there to help.

3. LET YOUR CHILD KNOW that he/she can succeed. Tell him/her you expect the best. Talk about school every day. Praise good work.

4. READ TO AND WITH your children every day. During reading time, turn off the TV and radio. Talk about books. Be sure they see you reading.

5. FIND OUT HOW YOU CAN get involved in your child's school. Calendar and attend school events. Think about offering your time and services as a school volunteer.

The administration and staff of Colorado Independent School District eagerly look forward in working with you to help your child be successful during the 1991-1992 school year.

Propositions explained

On August 10, Mitchell County voters will go to the polls to cast their ballots in two separate but related elections. The state Constitutional election includes two propositions, both of which relate to education. The County Education District ballot has three propositions concerning local options concerning property taxation and tax exemptions.

To vote for the tax exemptions, you must vote in both elections.

The Constitutional amendments

Proposition number 1

Proposed Amendment 1 to the Texas Constitution would allow an expanded homestead exemption for school taxes but would open the door to a potential ad valorem tax on personal property.

The amendment reads, "The constitutional amendment to allow voters of a county education district to adopt certain exemptions from the district's ad valorem taxation for residence homesteads and to provide for the taxation of certain tangible personal property."

Proposition 1 is a trick question; make that questions. The wording of the amendment actually asks two questions, one calling for tax exemptions and one calling for new taxes. But you only get one vote for both questions.

We favor applying the homestead exemption to ad valorem taxes in all school districts, but not if the extension is tied to a possible ad valorem tax on personal property.

The problem that arises in the form of enforcement of such a tax.

We understand that according to the wording of the amendment, voters would have to approve a personal property tax before it could go into effect.

Our opposition is based on this type of tax is so strong that we don't even want to see the question on the ballot.

Residents were once billed for a personal property tax on their automobiles, but it was so unpopular that its enforcement was suspended.

We feel the same way about a tax on other personal property.

We strongly urge a vote Against Proposition 1 on August 10.

Proposition number 2

"The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds to provide educational loans to students."

The proposed amendment would authorize the Legislature to allow the Higher Education Coordination Board to issue up to $300 million in general obligation bonds to finance educational loans to needy Texas students attending Texas colleges and universities.

These loans are urgently needed to meet the fall 1991 demand to financially needy students. If not approved, about 15,000 Texas students may be unable to attend Texas colleges and universities.

The bonds will be paid back by the borrowers, plus interest, not by taxpayers.

With a projected $4.5 billion deficit, the state doesn't need to incur any more debt.

To combat the tax burden, the Legislature is considering raising state college and university tuition. This will help solve one problem while creating more financially needy students.

We recommend you vote For this constitutional amendment.

The local options propositions

Proposition number one

"The exemption of 20 percent of the market value of the residence homestead from ad valorem taxation in Mitchell County Education District."

We recommend you vote For this proposition.

Proposition number two

"The exemption of $10,000 of the market value of the residence homestead of an individual who is disabled and of $10,000 of the market value of the residence of an individual who is 65 or older from ad valorem taxation in Mitchell County Education District."

We recommend you vote For this proposition.

Proposition number three

"The taxation of all tangible personal property, other than manufactured homes, in Mitchell County Education District, that is not held or used for the production of income."

We recommend you vote Against this proposition.

Junell says 'no'

Lottery is not the answer

The current special session of the Texas Legislature poses some of the most difficult choices for any public official. Comptroller John Sharp has identified millions of dollars in potential cuts in state services including higher education and human services. As a member of the House Appropriation Committee after prolonged consideration, we enacted most of the recommendations to reduce state spending. We cut over 2 billion dollars from the original current services budget. Our problems are compounded because our public school system is under a Supreme Court order to equalize funding; and our mental health and prison systems are under federal court order.

Despite the committee's deep cuts in state spending -- some of which were particularly painful. New revenue is required to keep the school doors open, the DPS on the highways, build new prisons and the universities funded at minimal levels.

Since my vote against the lottery in February, many of you have written me sharing your views about our future -- including your opinions on lottery. I am deeply appreciative of your expressions of concern.

The issue of a state lottery poses stark choices for public officials; even if personally opposed to raising revenue by means of a voluntary tax like lottery, should a state legislator deny the public its right to vote on a question such as lottery in the present economic environment? If lottery generates $500 million in its first year and over a billion dollars in each biennium thereafter, then what tax should be imposed to replace those dollars which lottery would raise? Should it be tax on medicine for the sick? Food for the poor? An income tax on working people? None of these choices are desirable.

We have cut state government to the bone. The cuts are going to be painful to families with students, indeed to all working families. It is time to focus on the revenue options. Lottery is obviously one of them.

More importantly, I have concluded that a public official should not stand in the way of the people's right to exercise basic democratic principles -- including a constitutional amendment vote on a lottery. The public's right to choose on the issues of spending go to the heart of democratic government.

In February, I wrote the "lottery is another device by which government can continue to feed and grow." and that lottery is a "devastation to economic development." However, a personal income tax or the state's failure to balance its books on a pay-as-you-go system are completely unthinkable. We need only to look at the example of Connecticut or certain other Northeastern states now in financial woes.

For these reasons, I have concluded that my duty on this issue is to cast a vote in favor of allowing Texans the right to vote on a constitutional amendment permitting a lottery in Texas. I personally believe that the lottery is an undesirable way for the state to raise money. I will encourage others to vote against the lottery in the constitutional election. But as a public official and as your state representative, I stand by your right to amend our Texas Constitution. That's what democracy is all about.

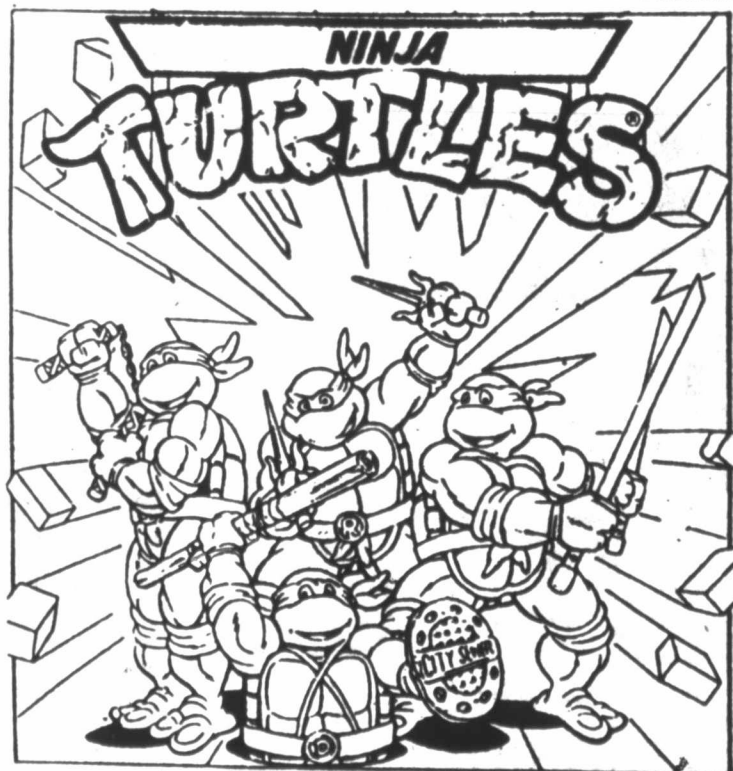

I am confident the best days of Texas are ahead of us and not in our past.

1991 PROPERTY TAX RATES IN COLORADO CITY

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for Colorado City, Texas. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's EFFECTIVE tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's ROLLBACK tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$327,721
Last year's debt taxes	$9,401
Last year's total taxes	$337,122
Last year's tax base	$68,882,256
Last year's total tax rate (per $100)	$5.4750

This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$377,130
This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$63,998,860
This year's effective tax rate (per $100)	$5.8927

1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publish notices and holds hearing (per $100)*	$6.0695
---	----------

This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$333,167
This year's adjusted tax base	$63,998,860
This year's effective operating rate (per $100)	$5.2058
.72 for school district (or zero) (per $100)	.00000
1.08 (or add $.08 for schools) = this year's maximum operating rate (per $100)	$5.6222
This year's debt rate (per $100)	$2.5511
This year's rollback rate (per $100)	$8.1734
Sales tax adjustment rate (per $100)	$1.8468
Rollback tax rate (per $100)	$6.3266

SCHEDULE A: UNENCUMBERED FUND BALANCES

The following balances will probably be left in the unit property tax accounts at the end of the fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

TYPE OF PROPERTY TAX FUND	BALANCE
General Fund	$174,241.00

SCHEDULE B: 1991 DEBT SERVICE

The unit plans to pay for following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes.
These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

Description of Debt	Principal or Contract Payment to be Paid	Interest to be Paid	Other Amounts to be Paid	Total Payment
1976 Gen. Obligation	$45,000.0000	$7,842.1600		$52,842.1600
1983 Gen. Obligation	$85,000.0000	$14,815.6800		$99,815.6800
1976 Gen. Obligation	$10,000.0000 $140,000.0000	$1,742.1600 $24,400.0900		$11,742.1600 $164,400.0000

Total required by 1991 debt service $164,400.00

Amount (if any) paid from funds listed in Schedule A

Excess collections last year

Total to be paid from taxes in 1991

Amount added in anticipation that the unit will collect only ____% of its taxes in 1991

Total Debt Service Levy $164,400.00

SCHEDULE C: EXPECTED REVENUE FROM ADDITIONAL SALES TAX (FOR COUNTIES AND CITIES WITH ADDITIONAL 1/2 CENT SALES TAX)

In calculating it effective and rollback tax rates, the unit estimated that it will receive $119,012 in additional sales and use tax revenues.

This notice contains a summary of actual effective and rollback tax rate calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at CITY HALL, Colorado City, Texas.
