United Way 'week' beginning here

Some 90 volunteer workers will spread throughout the Snyder-Scurry County area this week asking county residents to give "the United Way."

Their work will be concentrated during a one week effort which United Way officials say they hope will end with $77,300 in campaign dollars raised.

Drive Chairman Roy McQueen stresses to workers and donors alike that the 1983 United Way drive will be conducted within the seven-day time frame.

Following this, beginning Monday drive volunteers will begin dropping off drive packets among county business and industry workers, professional personnel, public school and college staffers and public employees.

These packets will contain United Way information including where campaign dollars will be spent during the coming year and recommended donations from employees based upon salary.

With more than 1,200 packets being distributed locally, drive volunteers say that no contribution is too small, however.

Donations may be in several forms. A one-time check written in care of United Way is one. Locals may also "pledge" their donation in the form of a monthly bank draft.

Whatever the form, the end result of individual generosity will be the continued operation of eight United Way "agencies" which benefit Scurry County citizens.

By far the majority of these are county youth, and they may range from a proud Cub Scout earning his first merit badge to a frightened and helpless child in temporary need of a foster home.

United Way dollars help fund both the Buffalo Trail Council of Boy Scouts as well as a new drive agency, the Oil Patch Foster Parents Assn.

Other funding agencies include the Boys Club, the Snyder Child Day Care Center, the West Texas Girl Scout Council, the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, plus the local operations of the Salvation Army and Red Cross.

With a goal of $77,300 aimed for, United Way officials have broken the fund raising effort down into divisions. The following is the chairmen for these and each's respective goals plus United Way volunteer workers who have donated their time for this week's drive.

—Advance Division: a goal of $21,037. Division chairmen are Dr. Don Newbury and Mickey Nunley.

—Commercial Division: a goal of $13,886. Division chairmen are L.E. (Doc) Griffin, Fred Castillo and Donny L. Brown, assisted by Art Feinsod, John Gayle, Steve Smith, Sam Buchanan, Joe Hefner, Ken Branam, Judy Brown, Shirley Gorman, Jo Ann Nunley, Harry Krennek, Pat Johnson, Lou Voss, Sue Travis, Speedy and Jo Ann Prince, Bobby Beard, Wayne Burney, Jeffri Long, Joyce Weber, Jan Johnson, Gloria Romo, Mario Herrera, Jim Brown, Jene Steakley, David Hines, Keith Hackfield, Donna Gray, Joe Fowler, Mike Reed and Troy Williamson.

—Oil and Industry: a goal of $18,975. Division chairmen are Jerry Vestal and Jerry Cales, assisted by Jackie Green, Mel Z. Gilbert, John Thomas, Tommy Lay, Marlin Terrell, Jerry Gunsett, Neal Feagans, Kenny Kornegay, Chuck Warren, Ben Sartin, Gary Cooley, John Burke, Dan Lindsey,

Who needs United Way...?

Like Brenda Clem and her daughter Dawn, age 8. United Way dollars totaling $8,000 will help fund the Girl Scouting operation in Scurry County during 1983. This means Brenda, who is a troop organizer for North Elementary, and Dawn, a Brownie scout the past two years, can continue to enjoy scouting.

Dan Cotton... WTSB announces new bank director

A membership change in the board of directors for West Texas State Bank was announced Friday as longtime Snyder attorney Dan Cotton was named to the board.

Cotton will replace Herman Doak, the last surviving charter member of the bank board originally organized in 1950.

In conjunction with the selection of Cotton, Doak's resignation from active membership on the board was accepted "with regret." He will be retained as an honorary advisory director, however.

Cotton is a native of Scurry County, growing up in the Dunn area where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Cotton, still reside.

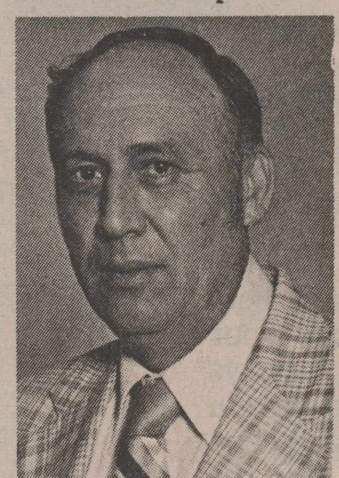

He graduated from Snyder High School in 1947 and Texas Tech in 1951 before returning to Snyder. He successfully ran for county clerk in 1955 and served in that office until 1966.

During this time, he studied and passed his state bar exam and became a practicing attorney in 1966.

He and his wife Jane Ann have two sons, David, who joined his father in the law firm Cotton and Cotton in 1977, and Alan, currently with the Midland division of the state comptroller's office.

Cotton's fellow bank directors include: Wayne Boren, honorary chairman and advisory director; H.W. Cargile, chairman of the board; Martin Brooks, bank president; Harold Denson, local auto dealer; Bill Eiland, county rancher; John A. Greene, bank executive vice president; Charles H. Henderson, bank vice president; Holman Odum, county rancher; R.C. Patton, manager for Higginbotham-Bartlett here; and Dale Stuard, bank senior vice president.

Open house set at elementaries

Snyder elementary schools have scheduled traditional open house events Monday beginning at 7 p.m.

These are planned at each of the six elementary campuses to allow parents to meet faculty members and to visit their children's rooms.

Programs will begin in the auditoriums of all schools, then parents are invited to tour the buildings to view student's work.

School officials note that football fans can expect to be back home in time to watch most of the Monday night football game.

The SDN Column

by Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "He who gives only when he is asked has waited too long."

Some day we may stop and count the number of good causes for which funds are sought each year. By any standard they are numerous, and the vast majority are worthy of our consideration.

One of our favorites is the United Way as it seeks to tie several fund raising efforts into one. The various agencies served by the United Way are basically youth oriented.

The 1983 goal is $77,000 and only one thing is different from previous drives. This year, the campaign is hoping to make its contacts and reach its goal in one week. In order to do this, persons contacted by United Way workers are encouraged to handle that packet only one time. Make a decision and return the packet to the worker. It will save both of you valuable time.

Most of us put off things as long as we can. We've found that deadlines are valuable. If you give someone a month to complete a project—he'll generally take a month. If you give the same fellow the same project to do in a week, it will be done in a week.

It reminds us of a business executive who arrived at his office one day last week and looked at the stack of papers covering his desk.

He looked at the pile and sighed, "Life is a sequence of things you mean't to get done yesterday."

We read about a woman who pulled into a full-service station. She was told by the attendant that her car was two quarts low on oil. She opened the trunk, handed him two cans and said, "Here, put these in."

"That," muttered the attendant, "is like taking two eggs to a cafe and saying, 'Here, fry these.'"

Harold Denson, station operator, and I.E. Martin, a former service station owner, were comparing notes in the coffee shop last week.

They both recalled a similar incident that occurred in Snyder several years ago. A man pulled into a station and was told he was low on oil. The fellow reached in the trunk and handed the attendant a can. You guessed it, most of it went on the motor instead of in it.

Ask Us

Q. — I read something about a farm herbicide being recalled by the state. What herbicide was it?

A. — The Texas Department of Agriculture recently cancelled the registration of a herbicide called Dinitro-3. The action was prompted by the death of a farmworker near Bryan, Tx. who died Aug. 5 after applying the chemical to a cotton field. Tests are now being conducted to see if Dinitro-3 did in fact cause the death.

Seoul dislikes explanation

By KEVIN NOBLET
Associated Press Writer

South Korea today called Soviet explanations for rocketing its jetliner "brazen-faced" and "unpardonable," as 1,000 Japanese searchers combed a 200-mile coastal stretch for bodies and debris.

At the United Nations, the Security Council delayed a vote Friday on a U.S.-backed resolution condemning the attack, partly because of Soviet pressure on members to abstain or reject the measure. The vote was rescheduled for Monday.

Elsewhere, a dozen NATO countries will announce a two-week ban on airliner flights to and from Moscow, alliance sources said Friday, and French President Francois Mitterrand told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko of his anger over the Sept. 1 attack.

Rebel plane is shot down

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — The leftist Sandinista government said its armed forces shot down a rebel plane near Costa Rica after rebel air attacks intensified with the rocketing of oil tanks at the Pacific port of Corinto.

In El Salvador, insurgents seized a small town and engaged in scattered firefights with army patrols, military and civilian sources said Friday.

Complaints bother Reagan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, asking if critics would prefer war, showed frustration at complaints that he hasn't been tough enough with the Soviet Union for shooting down a Korean jetliner.

"I know that some of our critics have sounded off that somehow we haven't exacted enough vengeance," Reagan said Friday. "Well, vengeance isn't the name of the game. Short of going to war, what would they have us do?"

County budget on agenda

Scurry County Commissioners have scheduled a second public hearing Monday for the 1984 County Budget. The hearing will be during the regular court session set to begin at 10 a.m. in the courthouse.

This budget, which will go into effect Jan. 1, 1984, is now projected at some $11.9 million. Although a tax rate is not officially set, county officials have indicated an increase in county taxes of approximately 1 percent is expected.

2 held in kidnapping of San Angelo woman

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — Two people faced arraignment in San Angelo today on charges of kidnapping in connection with the abduction of a prominent grocer and his wife.

A 40-year-old man and a 20-year-old woman, both from Abilene, were arrested on a highway north of San Angelo after officers in a helicopter and airplane followed them from a lake west of San Angelo.

William Haley, manager of M-Systems Food Stores in San Angelo, and his wife were released unharmed after a $10,000 ransom demand was met, the FBI said. The money was recovered, authorities added.

Haley delivered the money to a man at a convenience store on the west side of San Angelo after he received a telephone call indicating that his wife had been kidnapped, Kelly said.

Haley was driven to a secluded area, where his wife was being held. They were released, and authorities made their arrest a short time later.

Haley called police after he received the call about his wife, San Angelo Police Chief Travis Johnson said, and was told to hold off making contact as long as possible.

Several law enforcement officers were dispatched to the store where Haley was told to take the money, Johnson said, and other officers were in a helicopter and a single-engine airplane.

A man with a gun forced Haley to drive to the reservoir west of San Angelo, Johnson said. Authorities followed a car from the site, and the man and woman were arrested later about seven miles north of Bronte.

Johnson quoted Mrs. Haley as saying that she was abducted at gunpoint after the couple came to the family home about 9 a.m. and knocked on the door.

The suspects left the area after taking the Haleys into a remote section of the lake, the police chief said. Mrs. Haley's hands were handcuffed behind her back, Johnson said.

THAT HEADACHE HAS A MEANING!

Remember this when a headache occurs. You gamble with your health when you treat the pain rather than its cause.

Some headaches have simple explanations such as those resulting from overindulgence in food or drink. This type usually passes as soon as its cause — a disturbed digestive and eliminative tract — has been relieved.

Most other headaches, however, particularly if chronic or recurring, should be taken more seriously, as they may be a warning signal of a more serious health problem. And often the problem is not related to the head.

Headaches can, of course, result from many conditions. But research has revealed that a common cause — often unrecognized — can be traced to the cervical vertebrae (spinal bones of the neck).

One should not delude oneself into assuming that headaches are "normal" and that they can be easily corrected with a package of "pain killers." Seeking relief by merely drugging the pain often allows the cause of the symptoms to go untreated. The further a condition is permitted to advance, the more serious it becomes, and the more difficult it is to overcome.

Headaches are the most common health complaint in America today. If you have headaches, it would be an act of wisdom to seek qualified professional counsel as early as possible from a doctor of chiropractic. Under chiropractic care, a patient is either treated or referred after a comprehensive differential diagnosis.

$1.7 million...

Slot cheating cancels record jackpot

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Gaming officials say they won't reveal how "very sophisticated" thieves rigged a progressive slot machine to pay out a world-record $1.7 million because they don't want the theft to inspire other crimes.

The thieves manipulated a machine at Harrah's Tahoe hotel-casino Aug. 19, when a retired warehouseman hit the winning line of triple bars with a $100 investment and an hour's play, officials said.

The Nevada Gaming Control Board on Friday canceled the jackpot, of which about $200,000 had been paid to 51-year-old Gus Econopoulos of San Francisco. Harrah's stopped payment on the balance.

The cancellation — Nevada's first on a big jackpot because of fraud — was ordered after computer and slot machine investigators "determined that the slot machine was electronically manipulated," said board Chairman Jim Avance.

Econopoulos has been in hiding for his own safety, although authorities know where he is, according to Avance. He said Econopoulos was "extensively questioned" after authorities located him at a relative's home shortly after he hit the jackpot.

The thieves used "very sophisticated" methods to rig the machine, said Avance. He added, however, "We don't want to divulge to others how the machines can be manipulated."

In progressive slot machines, the jackpot rises every time a player drops in money but fails to win; in other slot machines, the payout is limited to a fixed amount.

While Econopoulos "confirms the findings of the Control Board" on how the device was tampered with, neither he nor any other suspects have been charged, said Avance. He would not name the others or say how many there were.

As for possible involvement by Harrah's employees or other casino insiders, Avance said he was "not making any allegation." However, he added that "the investigation is continuing. It is not completed."

There was no answer Friday at the office of Econopoulos' San Francisco lawyer, Michael Wohlstaedter, who had said Wednesday he had not heard from Econopoulos since the jackpot was hit.

Officials from the state attorney general's office, the California Department of Justice and Harrah's management cooperated in the investigation, said Avance.

Information has been turned over to Douglas County District Attorney

Brent Kolvet, who said he had not filed charges because "at this point I don't feel the investigation is completed."

Meanwhile, the slot machine was inspected at Harrah's request and put back on the gaming table with the $1.7 million jackpot restored, said Mark Curtis, a spokesman for the casino. Subsequent play has raised the jackpot to nearly $1.8 million, Curtis said.

With the cancellation, the world-record jackpot payout remains at $1.24 million, paid in November 1982 at the Golden Nugget casino in Atlantic City. Nevada's record stands at just under $1.1 million, paid Aug. 14 in Las Vegas.

Center plans dress up day

Senior citizens are invited to recreate their school days for a costume judging event Monday in the senior center.

"We want everyone to dress like they did when they attended school, no matter how far back that was," Gloria Shaw, Senior Center director, said. Ribbons will be awarded for the costumes judged best.

Monday will bring a series of special events in addition to the costume competition. Senior citizens from Hermleigh will be special guests for the day and for lunch.

The Kitchen Band will begin fall practice at 10 a.m. and new members are invited to meet with the group. At 2:30 p.m., a new exercise class will hold its first meeting. The class is for women only and is to meet Monday and Thursday afternoon from 2:30-3:30 p.m.

Dr. Shelby Hillis and judo students from Western Texas College are to present a brief exhibition at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday in the center.

Activities at the senior center are for all county residents 60 years of age and older. For more information call 573-4035.

Debate called for

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The government today called for a U.N. Security Council debate on Lebanon's civil war, and leftist Druse leader Walid Jumblatt pledged to spare the lives of an estimated 40,000 besieged Christians. "I give the Christian population of Deir Al-Kamar and the refugees to that town my word that they will not be harmed," the 36-year-old Jumblatt said in a radio interview. "I have ordered my forces not to storm the town or harm its people."

The International Red Cross said its relief convoys were unable for a third day to reach Deir Al-Kamar, a tiny town in the embattled Chouf mountains. Its 3,000 population has swollen to about 40,000 because of the influx of Christian families fleeing Druse fighters.

Jumblatt's Syrian-equipped militiamen besieged to Deir Al-Kamar on Friday after overrunning nearby Beit-Eddin, a major stronghold.

Curriculum report studied by state board

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Board of Education has under study a Texas public school curriculum report that suggests Texas public school students should decide after the sixth grade whether to study for college or a job.

The board is not expected to act on the staff study until some time in 1984.

The staff, which labeled its report "For discussion only," also suggested the powerful elective board administering the 1,125 public school districts in the state might want:

— To encourage schools to schedule a seven-period day with 45-minute classes or a six-period day with 55 minutes classes.

— To say if high school graduates should complete 20 units of study instead of the 18 units required now.

— To require a "computer literacy course" of all students at some stage of their education to equip them for either new college or business techniques.

— To decide if students should be allowed to miss classes in order to participate in "co-curricular" activities such as drill teams, cheerleading, marching band, ROTC and athletics.

The state school board heard the report given by Tom Anderson, deputy commissioner of the Texas Education Agency, but too no action on it.

The report resulted from a bill passed by the 1981 Legislature directing the state board to establish a state basic curriculum by designating the essential elements for each of 12 subjects comprising a well-balanced curriculum.

Anderson said the TEA had received oral and written testimony from 5,352 people and 2,225 organizations before preparing the report.

"While there was little disagreement that English, language arts and mathematics should receive no less than 50 percent of instructional time on a daily basis (at the elementary level) there was much disagreement with the recommendation that other subjects could be taught on a weekly basis with no specific time allotment."

Anderson said much of the testimony came from supporters of fine arts, vocational education and physical education who part of a student's time daily.

One staff suggestion said the state board might want to require that students in Grades 7 and 8 divide themselves into those who want to pursue an "academic" or "general-vocational" education.

This would lead to a high school graduation with 24 study units for an "academic" diploma, 21 units for "general," or 21 for "vocational."

"Academic" graduates would get more mathematics, science and languages while "vocational" graduates would get more skill training in the trades, including computer programming.

Pillory was the practice of constraining the head and arms of a person in wooden stocks and subjecting them to public ridicule. It was used for the last time in England in 1830 as the punishment in a perjury case.

American fires, sues employees

DALLAS (AP) — American of eliminating aircraft inspections by mechanics.

A libel lawsuit was filed in the Superior Court of Fulton County, State of Georgia Tuesday against the union members, said American spokesman Lowell C. Duncan.

"On Sept. 2, a group of union guys went to Atlanta and passed out leaflets in front of the American terminal and walked up and down with vestlike placards implying that American planes were unsafe because the preflight walk around is no longer being performed by a licensed union mechanic," Duncan said.

"This has nothing to do with the recently (March) negotiated contract," Jackson said. "We don't care who they use to do the (preflight) inspection of the airplanes, union or non-union, so long as that person is a Federal Aviation Administration licensed mechanic."

American said the employees stood outside American's terminal in Atlanta and distributed "false, misleading and defamatory" handbills and wore signs accusing

TABS scores are improving in state schools

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas students fared better this year on basic skills tests, with minority students showing some of the largest jumps in scores, according to standardized test results.

Texas Assessment of Basic Skills results released to the State Board of Education on Friday showed "marked improvement" in math and reading skills of students in the third, fifth and ninth grades.

About 666,000 students in those grades took the February test, which also included a writing portion. The 1983 scores were compared to results from the previous three years in which the test — ordered by lawmakers — was given.

Deputy Commissioner of Education Tom Anderson told the board the scores showed "marked improvement" in math and reading, but student performance on the writing portion of the exam "has been inconsistent."

Anderson said the minority scores were among the most encouraging trends. Blacks and Hispanics still trail in percent of students achieving mastery of basic skills, but the gap is shrinking.

In 1980, 83 percent of the white ninth graders mastered basic reading skills, 52 percent of the Hispanics mastered those skills, and 44 percent of the blacks achieved basic proficiency.

This year, however, the white students achieving mastery was 90 percent, the Hispanic success rate was 67 percent, and 62 percent of the black students achieved mastery.

While the test results were generally encouraging, Anderson said student performance on "more complex skills remains lower than desired."

For example, only 67 percent of the third graders were able to identify the "main idea" in a reading passage — rated by Anderson as one of the most important skills.

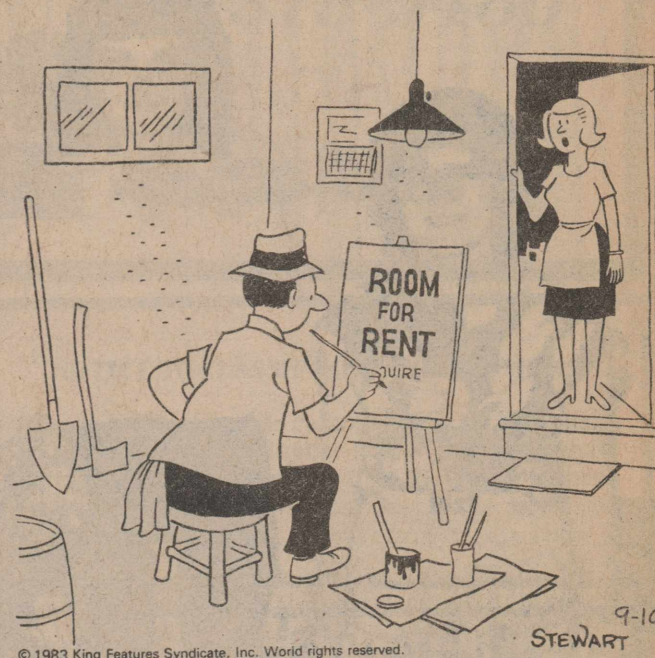

In grade five, the lowest reading scores also were in identifying the main idea of a passage.

The grade nine math results showed the lowest scores in ability to solve personal finance problems, where only 48 percent — a drop of 3 percent from 1982 — achieved mastery.

Several board members complained that school districts and reporters have improperly used the TABS results to compare districts and students. Commissioner Raymon Bynum said the only purpose of the TABS program "is to determine which students are below" an expected level of achievement.

Board member Mary Ann Leveridge of East Bernard said lawmakers who mandated the tests made it "very clear ... they did not want kids compared and they did not want school districts compared."

FHA INSTALLS OFFICERS—The Snyder High School chapter of Future Homemakers of America installed officers Thursday evening in the living room of the home economics department. Prominent official now safe McALLEN, Texas (AP)—A high-ranking union official of Mexico's oil monopoly who was kidnapped at gunpoint reportedly was in the custody of federal authorities in Mexico for questioning involving a complaint against him.

Hector Garcia Hernandez, 48, was kidnapped from his posh McAllen home Thursday by two gunmen who held three people hostage while awaiting his arrival.

McAllen Police Sgt. Jesse Colbath said Friday he received word from Mexican federal authorities that Garcia Hernandez and his two abductors were safe in Tampico, about 300 miles south of the Texas border on the Gulf of Mexico.

Felipe Flores, a spokesman for the attorney general's office in Mexico City, said Garcia Hernandez was being transported Friday to Mexico City for questioning involving a complaint against him.

His abductors, identified by Flores as Ramon Vazquez and Gilberto Galvan, were arrested in Tampico on a charge of deprivation of liberty, Flores said.

He said the two men claimed to work for Pemex.

Garcia Hernandez, secretary of education and social services for the PEMEX oil union, has been involved in a highly publicized feud with another Pemex union official, Colbath said.

Salvador Barragan Camacho, secretary general of the Mexican Oil Workers Union, filed a complaint with the Mexican attorney general's office in August, accusing Garcia Hernandez and his private secretary of defrauding the union of $6.6 million.

Harold Stassen still seeks post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold Stassen is ready to go. Again.

Stassen announced Friday that he is a candidate for president, fully expecting that President Reagan, who is still being coy, will run for a second term. Stassen thus joins California's Benjamin Fernandez as a contender for the Republican nomination.

Stassen, at 76, is four years older than Reagan. This is his seventh try for the nomination; or maybe the eighth or ninth.

"I do not have a personal count," he said. "There are many different ways of counting campaigns. I've never objected to anyone's calculation."

Until the Korean plane was shot down last week, Stassen said he had been trying to decide whether "perhaps the right thing to do would be to wait (to see) whether President Reagan does not run, or runs, or if he does not run whether he backs someone."

The actions of the United States and the Soviet Union in the plane shooting crystallized his decision, he said.

Both countries knew for 2½ hours that the plane was off course, Stassen said, "and yet neither side talked to the other side; neither side communicated with the plane."

He said that as president he would meet with the leaders of the Soviet Union "and propose a new policy of recognizing a competition of systems for this period (in) history without war and without terrorism."

He would establish committees to work on critical areas and follow with regular summit meetings.

The record shows Stassen, who last held elective office in 1945, was a candidate in 1948, 1952, 1964, 1968, 1976 and 1980. But, he says, one might also count a drumbeat for him in 1944 when he was in the Navy in the Pacific.

"In fact," he added, "when I was the keynote and chairman of the (Wendell) Willkie nomination in 1940, there was some talk then, except of course I was then constitutionally too young."

Now, he told a packed news conference, "that question won't arise."

Stassen said he has no organization, has collected no money and has no illusions about his chances. He expects, however, to enter every primary from Iowa to California.

"This is not a matter of a Jerusalem prison in 1947 office holding," says

Stassen — who last held elected office in 1945, the end of his three, two-year terms as Minnesota's governor. "This is a matter of deep concern, which is literally life-long as to what happens to the peace of the world and what happens to the economic systems of the world and the way in which people live on this one Earth. And that is the basic motivation I had and have had through the years."

A reporter wanted to know if this is Stassen's last race.

"Why should I foreclose myself," said the one-time youngest governor in U.S. history. "If I am elected in 1984 and I'm still in good health ... who knows what those future years would be?"

Charm classes in the works

A charm seminar for girls in grade six and up has been scheduled for Oct. 1 at Western Texas College.

The Snyder Jaycee Women are directing the seminar which will begin at 8:30 a.m. and end at 1 p.m. They will also provide a Coke and cookie break for participants. There will be drawings for prizes and "goody bags" will be given to the girls.

Program speakers will be Marta Hanks, speaking on "Color and Your Wardrobe," Kathy Roberts speaking on "Charm," Sandra Robinson speaking on attitudes and relationships, and Patrice McKinney "Discussing diet and Exercise."

There will be no charge for students. Registration forms will be distributed in Snyder schools on Sept. 26 and are to be returned to the school on Sept. 30.

Dear Abby

Husband's Office Buddies Have Wife All Worked Up

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1983 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Please print this very important message to "The Bachelors in the Office":

I know that you have chosen to remain unmarried, to be free from responsibility. There is no one in your life to whom you must answer or consider in your decisions. But my husband has a wife and family to consider. His wife needs his companionship and his children need a father's influence and love. So, please, stop inviting him to all your drinking parties and "men only" expeditions.

Don't twist his arm to stay for "one more beer." And if he says no, don't make fun of him and accuse him of being "henpecked."

I know he needs his recreation, but three or four nights a week is a bit much. You are welcome in our home anytime, but please, don't involve my husband in activities that keep him from his family. While he is out having fun with you, his wife and kids are alone, and we miss him.

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: The bachelors in the office are not responsible for your husband's decisions. He is. Some arms twist more easily than others. Your message translates: "Don't offer candy to my baby." Better to direct your message to your husband.

DEAR ABBY: A casual acquaintance, after losing his wife, started calling me and coming to my home. He has never taken me out. (I give him tea, cake, etc.)

He told me he would like to have sex relations. I told him without a license it does not go. He still comes around, hoping to be a winner.

What is your advice to me about him?

FOREST HILLS, N.Y.

DEAR FOREST: He bluntly told you what he had in mind, and you clearly told him "no rice, no dice." If you enjoy his company, bring out the tea and cake, but hold back the "etc." or he will be the winner.

DEAR ABBY: Today my 22-year-old son put two 15-cent stamps on a letter that could have gone for 20 cents, because all he had were 15-cent stamps. Well, his father hit the roof! I am not talking about just being upset, I am talking about violence! He called our son every four-letter name in the book, interspersed with stupid, lazy, no good, etc. Our son is neither stupid nor lazy. He is a good kid who works with his father putting in 9-10 hours a day to earn his college fees.

This goes on all the time with all four of our sons. They are never allowed to defend themselves or talk back to him because that would be "disrespectful" so they just take his bullying.

I say he is abusing the boys verbally; he says he is trying to make "men" of them. Please comment.

THE BULLY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: They're your sons, too. Writing to me about your husband's abusive behavior won't improve the situation. Why don't you take the bull(y) by the horns and point out the fact that he's confusing "respect" with fear?

I hope he wakes up to reality soon, or he will have a lonely and loveless old age.

DEAR ABBY: I see so many letters in your column from wives who complain because their husbands have retired and are now "underfoot."

Abby, retired husbands do not have to be "underfoot." I know. Mine retired after 30 years, and we moved from a big city to a small town. I have my housework and he has his gardening and workshop. Whenever I need him for something, I call him with a loud bicycle horn and he comes running.

NO PROBLEMS IN TEXAS

Every teen-ager should know the truth about drugs, sex and how to be happy. For Abby's booklet, send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Isn't it time we all smartened up about hospital care?

Where else in the world do we check into a facility with a bed next to someone we have never seen before, put up with a steady stream of strangers who take out blood and our urine and are never seen again, and pay $200 a day for the privilege?

At those prices, you'd think we'd get to talk to the chef ... instead of a nutritionist.

Most of the beds in hospitals are occupied by people recuperating. The crisis is over and they are just getting their strength back. My proposal is simple.

The best hotel in Los Angeles cost me $130 a day. For this, I get a room with a television and bathroom to myself. No one coughing in the middle of the night. No one watching the ballgame when I want to watch "Masterpiece Theatre." None of their relatives who come and spend the day and use "our" bathroom.

The hotel room comes with a continental breakfast and a newspaper. It also comes with a fluffily bathrobe that covers my ENTIRE body.

There is valet parking for people who come to visit me. (How many of you have had people visit you in the hospital who had to circle around until the new parking garage was finished?)

There are deck chairs and a swimming pool and when I don't eat everything on my plate, no one cares.

I can read until I go to sleep and no wakes me out of a sound slumber in the middle of the night to ask if I need a sleeping pill.

If my vital signs are up to it, I could walk to Rodeo Drive and read price tags. Or, if I am lonely, I could sit in the lobby and watch people argue over their bill.

If I have a burning desire to see my doctor, there is a putting green nearby where we could meet and maybe have something cold to drink while I tell him what "Reader's Digest" says about my condition.

I've been thinking about this for a long time. It has a few bugs to work out, but by and large you have to admit if you're lucky enough to recuperate in the summer months, you could get some real bargains at Palm Springs or the ski slopes at Vail.

Not convinced? What if I told you that for the price of a ride in an ambulance you could fly first-class Pan Am from New York to London?

Historical facts found by Pepper

MIAMI (AP) — U.S. Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., says he's "discovered some new historical data" about his birthday, and he's not about to concede that today is his 83rd. It could be his 63rd, says America's oldest congressman.

"You know, I was born up there in east Alabama in an area where, at the time I was born, they didn't have reliable vital statistics," Pepper explained in an interview Tuesday, "so somehow or another they got it around that I was born in 1900."

"I looked into the matter and finally I've become satisfied, and recent data has revealed, that as a matter of fact, instead of being born in 1900, I was born in 1920 — just two years after I served in World War I," the congressman added with a laugh.

Regardless, he said, he's not all that concerned about the past.

"I think about the future," said Pepper. "Think about what you're going to do tomorrow. ... I'm so busy I don't have time to get old."

Soviet freighter docks in Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — A Russian freighter docked in Houston is expected to leave today without incident despite anti-Soviet sentiment over the downing of a Korean airliner.

The ship, the General Kravtsov, was the first Soviet vessel to dock in Houston since a Russian fighter shot down a Korean Air Lines 747 last week, killing all 269 people on board.

No demonstrators were present when the General Kravtsov docked Friday, officials said.

Ed Horn, communications manager for the Port of Houston Authority, said the port is behind fences and people who do not have official business would not be admitted.

"I think we have two port policemen there (at the dock) instead of one. We plan to keep out any demonstrators," Horn said.

King said the ship was to be loaded with liquid tallow through a pipeline. No longshoremen would be involved in the work.

A 500-foot freighter, the Novovolynsk, is scheduled to arrive in Houston late Sunday or early Monday with a load of general cargo and will require longshoremen, officials said.

"I really don't know if we'd work it," said Miller Barrington, president of Local 24 of the International Longshoremen's Association. Barrington said he would submit the question to a vote of members.

Members of Local 13 of the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union, which is not connected to the IILA, have refused to unload a Soviet freighter docked in Los Angeles since Tuesday.

Port officials in Los Angeles ordered that freighter to leave its berth by today to make room for another ship even if it is still loaded with its cargo of wood and vodka.

Horn said seven Soviet ships docked in Houston last year.

Both the Novovolynsk and the Kravtsov are represented in Houston by the Southern Steamship Agency Inc. Officials of that firm have refused comment.

There are 100,000 species of butterflies and moths worldwide.

Mosquitoes are attracted to bananas. The fruit contains two chemicals which also are found in blood.

Suits allege price gouging

HOUSTON (AP) — At least five Houston businesses face civil lawsuits or compensation to customers who claim that the firms engaged in price-gouging in the wake of Hurricane Alicia.

Texas Assistant Attorney General A.D. Downer filed five lawsuits Friday in state district court. More suits may be filed, Downer said.

One tree firm charged $5,000 to remove a fallen tree, the lawsuits allege, and an ice company charged as much as $110 for 55-pound blocks of dry ice.

The state attorney general's office has received about 80 written complaints and 200 telephone complaints of alleged price-gouging since Alicia pummeled the Houston area Aug. 18, Downer said.

Two of the five businesses, the Glass Masters Co. and American Ice Co., agreed Friday to return money to customers.

A temporary restraining order against A to Z Tree Service, which sets a maximum $95 per hour fee for a three-man crew, was issued Friday by Judge Geraldine Tennant. Hearings were set for later this month on injunctions against Bill Beal's Bonded Tree Service and Wattigney Services.

The lawsuit against A to Z and its manager, Bubba Kessler, alleges the company charged from $800 to $1,800 per hour for tree removal work on at least four occasions. Downer said the cost of such work in Houston usually ranges from $75 to $135 per hour for a three-man crew and equipment.

A to Z customer Lester Lenert said in an affidavit that Kessler and a crew of three removed a 50-foot fallen oak tree from his property Aug. 18. He said he was charged $2,450 for a three-hour job.

Kessler said Friday that Lenert agreed to "whatever it would take" to remove the tree, and agreed to the price ahead of time.

"I did what I said I would do," Kessler said, adding that insurance costs and the risk of damage to workers and property figured into the fee.

Beal's charged 90-year-old Pete Wolf $5,000 after seven workers spent six hours removing a fallen tree, Wolf said in an affidavit.

Wolf said in the statement he thought the price was too high, but paid it because the tree was blocking a neighbor's driveway.

Beal's could not be reached for comment. Louis Wattigney, owner of Wattigney's Services, declined to comment.

American Ice was accused of charging up to $110 for 55-pound blocks of dry ice. The company has agreed to reimburse customers any amount charged in excess of 25 cents per pound.

The lawsuits were filed under the state Uniform Commercial Code and the state Deceptive Trade Practices Act.

SALINE NOSE DROPS

When allergy or a head cold fills the nose with an excess of mucus, it may help to use nose drops made from ½ tsp. table salt in a cup of water. Sniff the liquid thru one nostril at a time, until it comes thru to the back of the throat. A spray bottle may be helpful. It should be spat out rather than swallowed. Only ½ tsp of salt in 8 oz. of water is advised. Most people tend to make the solution too strong.

You could say the visitor's defense bent but didn't break or you could say the home team's offense itched but didn't scratch. Either way, it amounted to a disappointing 12-6 loss for the Snyder Tigers here Friday night.

The outcome leaves the Tigers at 0-2 for the season while the victorious Dunbar Panthers vault to 2-0.

Snyder reached the Dunbar 7, the 12, the 15, the 34 and the 1-yard line and couldn't pick the lock into the Panther end zone. Snyder's final possession, which ended in a fumble at the Dunbar 4, made this loss a difficult one to take.

"It seemed like all night we were right there, we just couldn't push it in," said Coach George Byerly. "The kids played well the whole game, we just didn't make the plays we needed when we had to have them. Give Dunbar some credit, they stopped us everytime but once."

Snyder's defense played extremely well, particularly in the second half when it held Dunbar to only two first downs and 55 yards total offense. The fact that the Tigers led in every key statistic but the scoring, didn't ease the pain of losing.

"It's no consolation right now," said Byerly. "I don't think you can ever be satisfied with outplaying somebody if you don't win."

Dunbar led 12-0 at halftime, but Snyder chipped away at that midway through the third quarter. Taking possession on the 30-yard line after Charles Bollinger recovered a Larry Green fumble, the Tigers cranked out a seven-play drive for their only score.

Quarterback Jimmy Cain keyed the march. He hit split end Chad Peterson for a 12-yard gain from the 27 to the 15, then ran for 11 and 3 yards to the 1. From there, junior back Paul Thompson carried it over with 6:45 left in the quarter.

Snyder faked the extra point kick with Peterson passing to Peyton Claxton, but the ball was just out of reach and the Tigers had to settle for six points.

A 15-yard penalty and a fine defensive play by Ronnie Landis kept Dunbar from moving the ball on its possession. Snyder wasn't able to advance either, but a fumbled punt set the Tigers up in action at the Panther 27.

Snyder moved the ball down to the 15-yard line before linebacker Brian Jones sacked Cain for an eight yard loss on third down. The Tigers tried a screen pass on fourth down but the play failed, and Dunbar took over.

Still later in the contest Snyder moved from its 37 to the Dunbar 35 before again giving up possession on downs. Then, with 3:18 to go, the Tigers began their longest - and most frustrating - drive of the night.

Runs of 12 and 13 yards by Cain helped Snyder move from its 29 to the Panther 37. Cain then hit Peterson on a nine-yard pass to the 30. One play later, Dunbar was whistled for unsportsmanlike conduct and the Tigers found themselves at the 15-yard line.

Norman Malone picked up two yards on the ensuing down, but an attempted pass on second-and-eight fell incomplete. On third, Cain tried to hit Malone in the end zone. Free safety Steve Allen was called for interference, and Snyder got the ball at the 1-yard line with a little over 40 seconds to play in the game.

But as had happened all night near the goal line, things went awry for the Tigers. Snyder elected to go wide on the next play and Malone was knocked back to the 4-yard line. Then, on second down, Thompson fumbled and end Sam Collins was on the spot to recover the ball for Dunbar. The Panthers simply fell on the ball to run out the clock.

Dunbar's initial score of the game had come with 57 seconds left in the first quarter. The Panthers engineered a 44-yard, eight-play drive which was culminated when quarterback Greg Zamora hit tight end Collins for an 11-yard TD pass. The extra point failed because of a bobbled snap.

Dunbar later scored with 40 seconds left in the half. The Panthers used another pass - a 26-yard strike from Zamora to split end Willie Rogers. The 10-play, 87-yard drive was sparked by two runs of 15 yards each from tailback Ricky Parks and aided by an 11-yard pass interference penalty.

The point-after-try, a run, was stopped short.

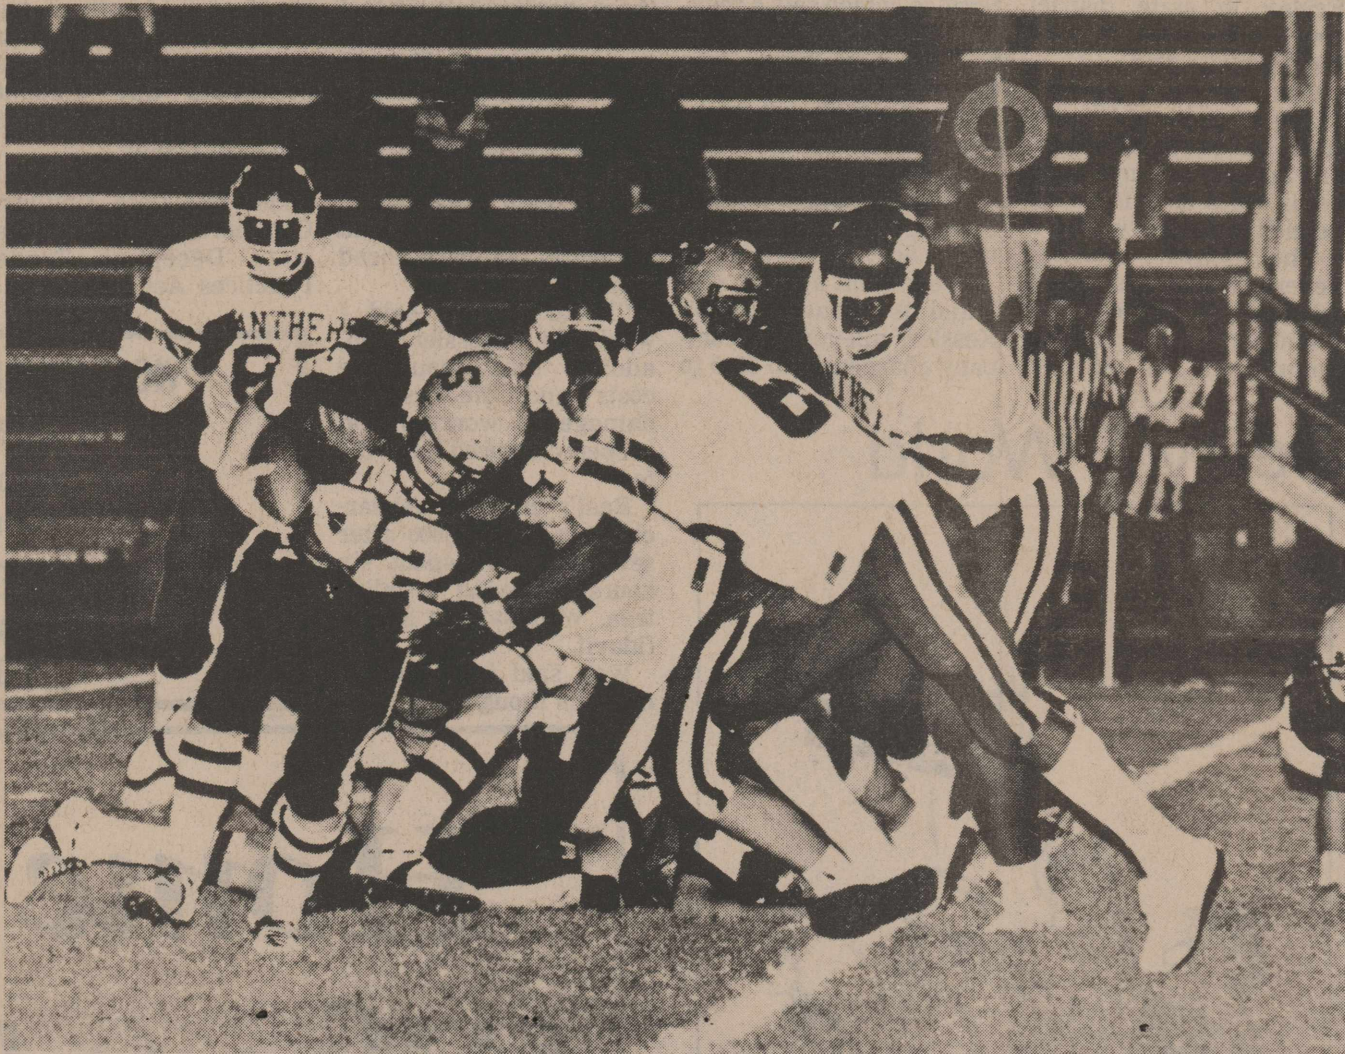

Snyder had advanced to the Dunbar 7 and 12-yard lines in the second quarter but had been turned away both times. The Tigers pushed the ball from their 45 to the Panther 10 on passes of 5, 14 and 27 yards from Bollinger. From there, the junior quarterback ran to the 7-yard line on first down but was dropped for a four-yard loss on the next play. Dunbar took over two tries later when Snyder failed to connect on back-to-back pass plays.

Still later, Malone broke lose for runs of 18 and 19 yards as the Tigers marched to the 12-yard line. A fine tackle by Jones on a fourth-and-11 play caused Dunbar to hold off the Tigers once again.

Malone carried the ball 20 times for 87 yards to lead Snyder in rushing. Cain stepped off 75 yards in 14 carries.

Parks had 96 yards in 18 carries while teammate Green had 44 in 13.

Snyder stays at home next Friday, hosting undefeated San Angelo Lake View at 8 p.m.

HAVE CHANCES - Snyder had the opportunities here Friday but could only account for six points and came up short against Lubbock Dunbar, 12-6. Above, Chad Peterson is hit by Roland Robinson on first down. See related article, this page. (SDN Staff Photo by Noble Young)

Coyotes muzzled, 36-16

WELLMAN - Borden County Coach Duke Frisbie said he was challenged by a school board member after the game.

"You must not be paying the preacher," the fan said.

"I'm paying the preacher," Frisbie retorted. "He's just not turning it in."

Borden County got caught in a 30-point second-quarter outburst here Friday and fell to Wellman, 36-16. It was the Coyotes' second loss of the season.

"We played pretty good ball again. How can you say that when you get beat? But we did," said Frisbie. "The score really wasn't indicative of how the game was played. We got down there, but it was not for us to score."

Wellman had 10 first downs and six penetrations while Borden marked nine and five, but the hosts simply made the most of their efforts while the Coyotes came up short.

Wellman got all of its scoring in the first half; Borden had its in the second.

The hosts scored in the first quarter as Greg Wellman broke free on a 41-yard scamper. The standout back then crossed over from four yards out in the second. Still in the period, Alfie Moya ran over from four yards away. Wellman also scored on an eight-yard run and a flea-flicker from Bill Martin to Wellman for 64 yards produced the other points. The team also kicked three two-point conversions.

Borden got on the scoreboard in the third quarter when Sammy Williams scampered for 40 yards. Williams later scored in the fourth quarter on a 24-yard run. Doug Adams kicked both two-point conversions.

Individually for the Coyotes, Williams had 134 yards rushing on 19 carries. Kirby Williams had 32 yards and Chris Cooley had 7.

Borden, which entertains undefeated Lueders-Avoca in the District 2-1A opener next Friday, is still without two-way starter Charles LaRue. LaRue went out in the first game

Lamesa and Pecos grabbed solid victories Friday night, while Snyder slipped 12-6, leaving the Tigers as the only District 2-4A team without a win two weeks into the 1983 season.

Lamesa bombed hapless Brownfield 34-0 while Pecos knocked off Carlsbad, N.M. 15-0. Snyder got inside the Lubbock Dunbar 20-yard line four times without scoring - to the 1-yard line late in the game - and had to settle for a six-point loss.

In other results Friday, Andrews, Fort Stockton, Sweetwater and Lake View grabbed victories to remain undefeated. Andrews upended Midland High 25-0 while Fort Stockton blanked Alpine 28-0. Sweetwater shocked Abilene High 21-10 and Lake View swamped Stamford, 47-6.

Cards fall 66-33

BLACKWELL -- Blackwell overcame a 36-25 scare at halftime to post 30 more points and defeat Hermleigh 66-33 here Friday night in a non-district six-man ballgame.

It was the second straight loss for the Cardinals of Hermleigh, who entertain undefeated Trent for the opening of District 2-1A play next Friday.

"We just didn't play defense," said Cardinal Coach Clarence Spieker. "Our defense wasn't very good at all. Offensively, we did a good job. Our line blocked well and if we had had any defense at all and held them (Blackwell) a time or two when the score was close we could have turned it around," he added.

Blackwell led only 14-12 at the end of the first quarter and 36-25 at halftime, but outscored the visitors 18-8 in the third period and 12-0 in the fourth.

Darren Hughes ran for 306 yards and four touchdowns in accounting for most of Hermleigh's points. He scored on runs of 5, 5 12 and 25 yards.

Donnie Davis, 160 yards, scored on an 11-yard run. Fuentes kicked one two-point conversion and hit Bratton for a one-point pass conversion.

Blackwell, 2-0, got three TDs from Billy Harris, two each from Tom Messick and James Chew and one apiece from Joe Laprad and Johnny Jones.

Practical Ranch Financial Management

Most ranchers have never been shown how to successfully organize and analyze their ranch business information beyond record keeping strictly for tax purposes. Duncan Ranch Management Company is offering a one day workshop to provide the rancher with a "bag of tools" deliberately presented in a basic form to insure a complete understanding of financial statements, cash flows, and true net profits. The course will outline the spread sheet analysis developed by Duncan Ranch Management Company to enable ranchers to compare one ranch business enterprise to another and to project future annual net profit for their operation.

Each student will be provided with an instruction manual complete with charts and forms to apply to his own operation. The class will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will be limited to twenty students on a first come first served basis.

IRA -- Ira shut down the rushing game, then outlasted an aerial barrage to post its second straight win of the season here Friday, beating Loop 44-18.

The Bulldogs, who raced away from a 20-18 halftime advantage by scoring 16 points in the third quarter, held Loop to a minus-2 yards rushing for the contest. Loop put together 229 yards through the air, but it wasn't enough to overcome the 'Dogs.

"The kids came out and hit real well. That's the kind of football we hope to continue to play," said Coach Mitch Lee. "Our defense did a great job physically against a bigger team and our offensive line, they were just super. If we cut back on our penalties (180 yards worth) I feel like we can put together a really good ballgame. We weren't too unhappy with it because Ira's offensive line of center Charlie Sanchez and ends Don Crane and Steve Denson did the blocking while the hosts racked up 478 yards rushing. And with the line was leading the way, Bruce Strickland made the most of it.

Strickland ran for three touchdowns and kicked five-two point conversions for 28 of Ira's points. He also led the team in tackles with 13.

He cashed in first on a two-yard run with 7:33 left in the first quarter, then struck again from 26 yards out with 2:59 left and from 33-yards away with a minute to go.

Danny Denson picked up the action in the third, scoring on runs of 22 and 20 yards. Reyez Juarez crossed the line on a three-yard sweep play in the fourth quarter to close out the scoring.

HOBBS, N.M. -- Western Texas College Blue shot a tournament low of 290 here Friday but it wasn't enough to overcome an eight-stroke lead posted by host New Mexico Junior College Red in the NMJC Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

New Mexico, which had posted a 292 on Thursday, came in at 296 Friday to hold off the Westerners. The hosts finished the tour-

NFL roundup...

Jets look to turn trend

by The Associated Press Jim Zorn and the Seattle Seahawks seem to bring out the worst in the New York Jets.

The Jets, impressive 41-29 victors over the San Diego Chargers in their National Football League opener last week, hope to snap a six-game regular-season losing streak against the Seahawks this Sunday in New York.

"We're going into this game with a very positive attitude," said Jets' defensive end Mark Gastineau. "If we turn this series around, maybe it'll show everyone we're ready to play this season. It will be a very positive thing for us to know that we can beat them."

New York contained San Diego star quarterback Dan Fouts as well as anyone can expect, but Zorn's scrambling style contrasts with Fouts' drop-back style.

Last week wasn't one of Zorn's hotter efforts as Seattle dropped a 17-13 decision to Kansas City. However, the Jets have a way of improving Zorn's statistics.

The Pittsburgh Steelers gave the Denver's John Elway a rude introduction into the NFL last week, knocking the rookie quarterback out of the game with an injured right elbow in a game the Broncos won 14-10.

The Baltimore Colts would like to be just as rude to Elway, who spurned them after they made him their No. 1 draft selection earlier this year, forcing the trade to Denver.

Colts' owner Robert Ir say has labeled the game a must win for Baltimore, which edged New England 29-23 last week.

"I have no hard feeling against him (Elway)," said linebacker Johnnie Cooks. "If he doesn't want to play with us, that's his problem."

'Pokes test Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Two defensive players cast aside by the Dallas Cowboys hope to deliver calling cards to their old teammates during a National Football League contest Sunday.

Linebacker Jim Eliopoulos and defensive back Monty Hunter were victims of Dallas roster cuts coming out of summer camp. The 1982 draft choices have hooked on with St. Louis Cardinals and are looking forward to an early reunion.

"I'd still like it if we won - twice," said Hunter, who a year ago was nicknamed "Big Game" by the Cowboys, an arch-rival of St. Louis in the National Conference East.

"I miss those guys. They were really good people and really took care of me," said Eliopoulos, who a year ago spent the season on injured reserve. "I don't think I'll be lining up on defense, but I will be playing special teams and I'm going against the guys I competed against in camp."

Dallas, which earlier this week rallied for a 31-30 victory over the Washington Redskins, hopes to do better than the last time it came off a Monday night triumph, a 41-20 loss to Denver three years ago.

In addition to its shortened time to prepare, Dallas has spent much of the week conjecturing over whether Neil Lomax or Jim Hart will quarterback St. Louis.

Cardinals Coach Jim Hanifan said Thursday that Lomax, who suffered a shoulder injury last week in the first half of the team's 28-17 loss to the New Orleans Saints, would not play. But the report apparently did not convince Cowboys defensive tackle John Dutton.

"He'll probably play and throw for 400 yards. I just don't believe anything about the injury reports," Dutton said in Dallas. "Guys who are supposed to be out eight weeks come back three days later."

Hart will be making his first start in nearly two years, hoping to steer St. Louis to an upset over an opponent which ranks as a one-touchdown favorite. "The Cowboys are a good team, but they're not infallible. They're not a bunch of giants who can't be felled," Hart said. "The rookies probably are in awe of them, because they're called 'America's Team.' But I'm not particularly worried. It would take just a victory to do away with those fears."

Shower and go
Getting yourself revived after a hard day's work is no problem for Zsa Zsa Gabor. The legendary actress recently told Beauty Digest: "When I have to get ready for a big evening out on the town, I just take a long, hot shower and I immediately feel better. Also, I don't drink and I hardly ever smoke, so I have a lot of natural energy."

Out of town guests were from San Angelo, Sweetwater, Colorado City, and Lubbock.

The couple will make their home in Snyder where the groom is employed by AAA Exterminating Co.

Never mind how you got there; you are in a reasonable seven-spade contract and have to make it. All you need is to find a 2-2 trump break and 3-2 heart break. You can also make it against a 3-1 trump break and the right 3-2 heart break.

Now take a peek at the East-West cards. Trumps break 2-2 nicely, but hearts are divided 4-1.

If you go after hearts, you are going to wind up just one trick short.

Is there any other chance? Yes, there is. You start with 11 top tricks, assuming trumps aren't 4-0. A heart ruff will put you up to 12. Is there any way to get a 13th without setting up your long heart suit?

Now let's see our careful declarer find that extra chance. He starts by discarding a diamond on the ace of clubs. Then he ruffs a diamond, enters dummy with a high trump and ruffs a second diamond. A second trump to dummy drops both adverse trumps and he plays out his last three diamonds to discard three of his hearts. Then he can ruff one heart in dummy and be home, since that 4-3 diamond break gave him his grand slam trick.

Suppose diamonds didn't break 4-3. Then he would have had to play for a 3-2 heart break. He would have given himself an extra winning chance.

Hearing heartbeats

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I hear my heart beating in my ear, all the time unless I have the radio, TV or something else going on to cover it up. This has been going on for almost two years.

It started when I was five months pregnant. A neurologist checked me and said it might be a kink or a narrowing in a blood vessel or vein and, had become more noticeable because of the increased blood flow of pregnancy.

It was still there after my baby was born and the neurologist ran several tests, a CAT scan, X-rays and a brain wave test. Everything was normal.

He sent me to an ear, nose and throat specialist and he found nothing unusual and said to "just live with it." I have adapted fairly well but I do worry about it sometimes. Could it be an aneurysm or something serious or just from a blood vessel too close to the ear? I also have some ringing in my ears. I'm 34 years old.

DEAR READER — Make one more stop and see a cardiologist. Some people do become super-conscious of their heartbeat and may hear it when lying in bed but your story doesn't really sound like that because of its constant presence.

You might have a variation with the pulmonary veins from your lungs draining into the jugular veins or veins to the heart causing turbulence. You could have a cardiac condition that contributes to it. Or you could have an overactive thyroid that increases your circulation.

So you should have an examination by a cardiologist. Then if no one can find anything, you may need to learn to ignore it. You may then want a tinnitus masker in view of your history of being able to block it out with the TV or radio.

More than 40,000 visitors go scuba diving in the waters off the Cayman Islands every year. The

To give you a more complete idea of the problem of ear noises I am sending you The Health Letter 12-10, Help For Tinnitus — Noise or Ringing in the Ear. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 70-year-old woman and want to know if I should be concerned about having a black stool three-fourths of the time for the last three months, also diarrhea.

I had diverticulitis of the colon but it is now healed. The doctor has tested me for blood and cancer and everything is OK.

The other thought is my diet. I pride myself in preparing our meals. I make bread with unbleached flour, whole wheat and bran, cook our vegetables without water and do very little frying.

Since this started I am on Tagamet, no caffeine or liquor. Have you any suggestions?

DEAR READER — If you happen to be taking iron or a medication that contains iron that can cause black stools. Otherwise the concern is that you do in fact have blood in your stools. I hope your letter means your doctor has checked and not found blood but it is important that you be sure.

You can have blood from many causes, cancer is just one. You can bleed from an ulcer and the digested blood will cause black tarry stools.

And you can bleed from diverticuli even though you have no pain. Your acute attack of diverticulitis may be over but you still have diverticuli; the small pockets of the colon don't go away. See your doctor again and ask specifically about bleeding.

Hospital runs its restaurant

HOUSTON (AP) — About three years ago, a battery of chefs went into a kitchen at Methodist Hospital and began what sounded like an impossible task — developing recipes for a gourmet restaurant which would use very little salt and no butter.

Officials of the Sid Richardson Institute for Preventive Medicine, under whose auspices the restaurant was to operate, set tough limits on sodium, animal fat and cholesterol content. Doctors and patients at the institute are highly conscious of the effects those substances have on the cardiovascular system.

All of which presents a basic problem for a cook.

"When you take out the salts and the fats, you take away a lot of what gives food its taste," said John Adams, assistant administrator for the institute.

Adams and general manager Lois Johnson tout reviews like Houston City magazine's as evidence the team overcame its handicaps. Chez Eddy, the reviewer said, "might be the best restaurant in Houston; it is undoubtedly the best restaurant in a hospital anywhere."

Chez Eddy's customers include patients in the Sid Richardson program (an exercise and diet plan run by the hospital), doctors and drop-ins.

About 65 customers pay an average of $13.60 apiece to indulge themselves in Chez Eddy's brand of asceticism at lunch each weekday, Adams said. The restaurant — named for Houston oilman Edward Scurlock, who formerly owned the land on which the building stands — serves about 35 at dinner, he said.

The kitchen staff of Chez Eddy compensates for the salt limits by flavoring food with stocks — boiling bones and draining off water, leaving a residue with a slight salt content. Cooks also substitute vegetable oils, light white sauces, for cream and butter.

"It's tough," chef Anthony Chin said. "You have to give up a lot. In the kitchen, it's very hot and people tend to get frustrated."

Chin said he and his colleagues worked about a year to concoct a menu which satisfied them, an achievement he said they reached by "doing a lot of trying and messing it up."

Adams said the patience paid off. Officials of Chez Eddy are "looking for a publisher" interested in a cookbook based on the restaurant's recipes. They offer cooking classes.

There also has been talk of franchising the restaurant, Adams said, though that presents the danger of "losing control of the quality."

"We opened this restaurant with the concept that you can eat a healthy meal, a very fine meal, without sacrificing taste," Adams said.

HOW TO GO TO HEAVEN FROM SNYDER

The Bible teaches that God loves you and wants you to enjoy a happy abundant life.

ACCEPT

Life is full of misery (sickness, sorrow, divorce, death) but worst of all men die and go to HELL FOREVER. The Bible says, "The smile of their torment ascends up forever and ever."

CHRIST

knows sin separates us from God's wonderful love and plans for our life. "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God," the Bible says

"by the deeds of the law shall no flesh be justified in his sight," meaning, man tries in vain to build a bridge to God with good works, church, kindness, baptism, etc...

THEN

Man is helpless under God's condemnation, without any human solution, for "the wrath of God abides upon you."

REJOICE

God has provided a way for everyone of us to be free of the power and penalty of sin, for the Bible says, "there is now no condemnation."

JESUS CHRIST

IS GOD'S ANSWER FOR YOUR LIFE!

The Bible says, "He (God) made him (Jesus) who knew no sin to be sin for us, that we might be made the righteous of God."

Meaning God punished Jesus for our sins so we may be forgiven and receive the perfect righteousness of God, which is in Jesus Christ.

NOW

God promises for you, "whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord (Jesus Christ) shall be saved." "For with the heart, man believes unto righteousness, and with the mouth, confession is made unto salvation."

CATCH THE 4-H FEVER

There's something spreading in this community. You can't see it and you can't feel it — unless you've been around a 4-H'er. 4-H is spreading the word — whether you're nine or 90, city slicker or farmer, whether you're male or female — 4-H has something for you. That's because 4-H is a special combination of young people who are eager to learn skills they can use throughout their lives, and adults who want to insure their community's future by building strong, active, responsible citizens. 4-H teaches how to make decisions, how to be active citizens and how to set individual goals and values.

That's pretty special and pretty unique. It's something you and your family ought to get involved in. 4-H helps you get where you want to be in life. 4-H is building on experience...building for your future, and having a good time doing it.

4-H clubs are meeting now and we want to share with you the schedule of meetings and places so that you can join and have fun with these other 4-H'ers.

Professional

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Many occupational groups want the prestige and pay that go with being considered a "professional," but both the public and groups aspiring to professional status must recognize the trade-offs involved, says a University of Rochester professor.

Jerome Lysaught says, "If teaching is raised to a full profession, the public may get better teachers but will probably have to pay more. Teachers may receive more respect, but they'll be held more accountable."

"If dental hygienists are licensed to practice separately from dentists, patients may pay less, but forego dental supervision. "Settling such conflicts involves lawmakers and judges, but the final decision is the result of public opinion."

MORNING REFRESHER
Orange Bread & Iced Coffee

ORANGE BREAD
Delicious, keeps well and makes wonderful toast.

1 package dry yeast
¼ cup warm water (110 to 115 degrees)

2-3rds cup orange juice, at room temperature
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter, soft
2 tablespoons finely

grated orange rind 2½ cups (about) unbleached flour

In a large bowl, sprinkle yeast over water and let stand until dissolved — about 5 minutes. Stir in orange juice, sugar, salt, butter and orange rind; gradually stir in enough flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on a prepared board or pastry cloth; knead until smooth and elastic — about 10 minutes. Place in a buttered bowl; turn to butter top. Cover bowl; let rise in a warm place (about 80 degrees) until doubled — 1 to 2 hours. Punch down; knead for 5 minutes. Shape into a loaf; place in a buttered 9 by 5 by 3-inch loaf pan. Cover; let rise in warm place about 1 hour. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — 35 to 45 minutes.

Adding a pinch of baking soda to fresh cream when pouring over fruit keeps the cream from curdling.

By Donny L. Brown

We've already spotted the first portents of autumn and they sure have come early this year. Stores are stocking Halloween costumes and related "stuff" — a full eight weeks before All Hallow's Eve is due to clink and clank its way across our imagination. We're tempted to say it reminds us of the Hollywood mansion containing a year-round Christmas tree. And protests of commercialization rise quickly to the lips. But, what the heck. We like Halloween. We may get tired of looking at it during a two month period, but as a kid the first shipment of wax lips, crepe paper pumpkins and rubber masks was an event almost equal to the Christmas trees arriving. We remember great stacks of rubber masks, concentrated in horrible piles at the dime store. We still prefer them to the polystyrene jobs they have now, which scare us alot more than the old style.

The assembly line image of a Lucy or a Charlie Brown mask — all with that impersonal stamp of mass production and neatly fitting one behind the other — gives us nothing short of the heebie jeebies. Of course, Halloween items have always been nothing but junk. Cardboard black cats, tin horns with plastic mouthpieces, tin noisemakers, rubber bats, wax mustaches and paper skeletons with metal rivets for joints. All of these splashed with Halloween colors, the orange of a jack-o-lantern's light, the baleful yellow of a harvest moon, the green glow that circles a night walking ghost and the black cast of a witch's hat. It's probably only with dumb nostalgia — a "good old days" knee jerk reflex — that we remember these garish and gruesome dime store sundries with affection.

It seems the image of "horror" has changed. Today, it focuses on chopped-off heads and gouts of blood. Escaped psychopaths lunging out of dark kitchens will scare the fool out of you, allright. But, in the words of one famous writer, they seem the product of the glands and not the heart. It has been observed that "horror" has changed as we have changed. We have discovered that it lies within summer camp guidance counselors and not some Transylvanian nobleman long cursed to roam the earth among his fellow "undead." We no longer fear the "creatures of the night," as Bela Lugosi called them in the original Dracula. We're afraid of the kid delivering groceries. The horror of Halloween always seemed related more to the imagination than to the reality of mass murder. In line with this, the holiday seemed a time for otherworldly things. A time when the imagination can chew on harmless and horrific images. They are spooky, not horrible. Rather than wrench our stomachs, they tickle our spines like a current of cold air. Before the season passes, let's go pull down the record with the clanking chains, shrill screams and headless horseman hoof beats. Hang up the "glow-in-the-dark" skeleton, set the plastic jack-o-lantern on the mantle and buy us two dozen cardboard black cats with green eyes and arched backs. We'll look forward to a walk in the darkness and the chill crisp of an autumn night. Send in the ghosts and goblins, Mrs. Jones. We'll see them now.

Since I'm missing some good scenery, I promise to make this short and sweet, and if you ever want to tell me about your vacation, do the same, okay? Deal. I left Snyder on the 9:25 p.m. westbound bus a week ago last Friday (Aug. 26). I spent Saturday night in Arizona at the Grand Canyon. Sunday night, I was in Las Vegas. Monday, I was broke. That's the bad news. The good news is that I wasn't any more destitute than I'd figured on being. So I was able to continue this tour of the Northwest. In the back of my mind, I thought that I would be lucky and hit a jackpot. I didn't really believe that and when I had thrown away the $50 I'd set aside to throw away, I got back on the bus. Well, okay...I did invest another $10, but dig this. I won back almost $30 with that $10 and left Vegas only about $20 in the hole. Twenty dollars is not bad for almost 24 solid hours of entertainment. As luck would have it, my next layover was in Reno. There, in a matter of about 20 minutes, I lost $15. I learned a lesson. From now on, no gambling at six o'clock in the morning. My next stop is Portland, Ore. Since I'm not there yet, let me back up and give you my impressions of Vegas and the Grand Canyon. In two words, Las Vegas is "fun" and "cheap." Let me qualify that "cheap." If you get carried away gambling, it's not cheap at all. But you knew that, right? Let me continue. For a room, they charged me $27, tax included. Also included were coupons good for free meals, free tokens and free drinks. Drinks are free anyway if you're gambling.

The food in the casino restaurants is ridiculously cheap, and very good. I paid $2.95 for a steak dinner. That is $2.95 as in less than three bucks. For another dollar, I could have had lobster. But who am I, "Mr. Moneybags?" The shows seem a little high. They start around $15. I passed on them all, but I noticed others didn't mind shelling out to see Don Rickles, Debbie Reynolds, Paul Anka, etc. etc. Summing up, the fast paced Vegas takes its good easy time to get your money. But it gets it. Money you don't spend for one thing, say food, you spend for another, say gambling. Now, for the big story, the Grand Canyon. How can I describe something as big as that? In a word, it is "awesome." That is, it's awesome if you can remember what awesome mean't before advertising copy writers and sports people discovered it. Try thinking of the national debt and you will have some idea of the magnitude of the Grand Canyon. (I told you it was awesome.) How were the facilities at the Canyon. Rooms cheap, food high. I paid $18 for a dormitory type room designed and priced for two. Even paying double, I thought that reasonable. However a breakfast of bacon, eggs and coffee cost me more than $5. Since the sunsets and sunrises are spectacular, I advise spending the night and bringing a friend. But, pack a few sandwiches along with your camera. I know I promised this was going to be short. I lied. But fair's fair. If you want to tell me about your vacation, just write it down like I did and I'll read it. I promise.

SDN Week in Review

MONDAY Sept. 5
The current indication is new construction estimates will again fall short of comparable figures for the previous year in Snyder, it is reported. These estimates are based on the city's fiscal year, which runs from Oct. 1-Sept. 30. By the end of August, the running total was closing on last year's estimate but still shy some $500,000. This year to date, some $5.8 million in new projects has been applied for. The same figure last year at the end of August was some $6.3 million. For 1983 to surpass 1982, the month of September would have to produce new construction figures in excess of $1.6 million.
TUESDAY Sept. 6
A 2-year-old Snyder boy is listed in serious condition in Lubbock General Hospital Tuesday morning after being struck by a car near his home Monday evening. The accident occurred in the 700 Block of 18th St. at 8:53 p.m.
It is reported that nine months later, Snyder's Crisis Intervention telephone service is seriously in need of both volunteers and funding. Voluntary donations which launched the project are now all but depleted. Consequently, while the cost requirement is not that substantial, unless more donations are received soon the service may have to be discontinued, spokesmen say.
A new look for the 193-member Snyder High School Tiger marching band is unveiled. The band now sports a "drum corps style" mode of dress featuring Bridgeman-style wide brimmed black hats with sparkling sequin hat bands, over-the-shoulder gold and white sashes cinched with a black cummerbund, white shirts with ruffled fronts and black trousers.
The Scurry County commissioners court votes to accept bids for renovation at Moffett Field. These are to be opened Oct. 3.
As now planned, new aluminum bleachers and concrete block underground dugouts will be installed at the facility. In addition, the backstop behind home plate will be moved back. To make up for this lost spectator space, the new bleachers will be extended on either side of the playing field.
Eighteen individuals are ordered to stand trail on felony charges after the September session of the Scurry County Grand Jury returns 19 indictments Tuesday afternoon. These include one defendant charged with the Aug. 5 armed robbery of Stinson's Drug and another facing aggravated assault charges following the Aug. 8 stabbing of a local man at an east side motel.
The September session of the Snyder City Council produces a long agenda of business for council members to include 11 unanimous votes and one split council ballot. The council votes 3-2 to overturn city staff plans to seek bids on a computerized graphics mapping system — a new system which was to be shared with personnel with the Scurry County Appraisal District. Councilmen also again name Snyder National Bank as the bank depository for city funds.
THURSDAY Sept. 8
Finding ways to save energy costs for 13 campus buildings at Western Texas College is the goal of a year-long study approved here Thursday. To finance the project, trustees for WTC give the go-ahead for local funds to match energy grant dollars already approved. A total of some $66,000 will now be available — half through the grant and half through a local match.
FRIDAY Sept. 9
Since March, unemployment figures for Scurry County seem permanently stuck between the 4-5 percent range, it is reported. The latest estimate from Texas Employment Commission personnel here in Snyder places it at 4.6 percent.

Looking Back

FIVE YEARS AGO
Rural residents of Scurry, Borden, Dawson, Howard and Garza Counties gathered in Gail Monday — Sept. 5 — for a Labor Day roping and barrel race. Nearly 100 persons were on hand for the competitions. The event was held in conjunction with grand opening ceremonies for the Sunshine Mercantile general store and the Gail Cafe owned by Pat Porter and Bob Dyess. Congressman Omar Burleson today — Sept. 7 — informed local farmers that Scurry and Kent Counties had been made eligible for Farmers Home Administration emergency drought loans for the 1978 farm year.
10 YEARS AGO
Snyder High School cheerleaders elected for the 1974-75 school year included Pam Buchanan, Cydney McDonald, Donna Cornett, Julie Rhodes, Karen Lambert and Merilou Moore.
The Snyder Tigers opened the 1974 football season with a 21-3 drubbing of the Dunbar Panthers in non-district football action Friday night — Sept. 8.
The Snyder Sunrises Kiwanis Club was officially presented its charter at the Snyder Noon Kiwanis Club's annual Ladies Night Banquet Saturday night — Sept. 9.
20 YEARS AGO
Officers of the Fluvanna FFA for the 1963-64 year, elected yesterday — Sept. 9 — include: Denny Belew, president; Joe Beaver, vice president; Richard Contreras, secretary.
25 YEARS AGO
Members of the Cogdell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary began circulating petitions today — Sept. 11 — seeking to call a bond election for the construction of a 40-bed addition to the hospital facilities. Costs of the project, which would almost double the size of the hospital from 50 beds to 90, was estimated at a half-million dollars.
One of Snyder's oldest landmarks, the Alamo Hotel located in the 1300 Block of 26th St., was torn down this week to provide a new parking lot for the First Baptist Church. The hotel, constructed around the turn of the century by the late Bill Jones of Snyder, had served continuously as a hotel or boarding house until it was purchased by the church three years ago.
30 YEARS AGO
Snyder city councilmen voted last night — Sept. 8 — at their regular monthly meeting to put the city in the garbage business. The trash collection schedule adopted by the city will allow twice weekly service to residential districts and once daily service in the business districts.

Letter to the editor

To the editor,
On Saturday, July 30th, our dad, Lester Arnold of Big Spring, was attending a dance at the American Legion Hall in Snyder. At about midnight he had what was determined to be a massive heart attack. The purpose of this letter is two-fold. First, it is to thank several people and secondly to inform the people of Snyder. There is one individual in particular that our family is forever indebted. This individual acted immediately without asking who, why or how; if it had not been for this man we would never have seen our dad alive again. As quickly as he could this man performed CPR on our dad and started his heart beating and breathing. Our family wishes to publicly give our undying gratefulness to Mr. Wyatt Swint of Snyder for his quick action and ability. We would also like to thank the ICU-CCU nursing staff for their patience with us and the excellent care that was given to our dad during his stay. A special thanks to Nurse Bailey for her patience, understanding and straight-forwardness with our family. We must also thank Dr. Paul Thompson of Snyder and Dr. Locker (a visiting resident from Lubbock) for their care and honesty they provided. Even though our dad was only in Cogdell Memorial for five days before being transferred to a heart specialist in Lubbock; we will forever believe that it was the excellent care that he received in Snyder that allowed him to recover and go home. Yes, he was released from the hospital and returned home on Aug. 19. It will be a long while before he is back on the dance floor, but he is up and around and getting stronger as each day passes. In addition to expressing our heartfelt appreciation to the above people, we also want to tell the people of Snyder that they have an excellent medical facility, staffed with competent, knowledgeable and above all caring doctors and nurses. We hope that this only reinforces what is already known, but we could not have been more impressed with the care our dad or our family received. The Lester Arnold Family: wife-Helen (Big Spring); son-Mike (Big Spring); daughter-Pat Moore (Dallas); and son-Stephen (Midland).

Pecos rodeo still draws competitors each year

PECOS, Texas (AP) — Charles Beyssier bears little resemblance to the rowdy cowboys in Pecos 100 years ago when it was home to what is believed to be the world's first professional rodeo.

Beyssier builds condominiums for a living, wears stylish red shirts, matching red boots and is a native of France. Part of the time he is also a pro rodeo rider who has seen his fantasy come true.

"John Wayne and Steve McQueen were my heroes when I was a little boy in France. I dreamed about being a cowboy, and here I am, riding in the famous Pecos rodeo," Beyssier says.

He won third place in the saddle bronc contest that concluded Pecos' centennial rodeo on the Fourth of July. That earned him $600 of the $193,000 in prize money awarded during the five-day event.

Prize money totaled $40 in the first Pecos rodeo, which took place July 4, 1883, on Main Street. When Trav Windham roped a rampaging steer in 22 seconds — not far off modern timings — he won $25 and a blue ribbon cut from a local girl's dress.

Few in this ranching and oil town of 12,000 have forgotten the frenzied days of Pecos when it was known as the West's most lawless community.

"Pecosin" was a common turn-of-the-century term for people shot and dumped in the nearby Pecos River. There, too, is the legend of Pecos Bill, a mythical cowboy figure much like Paul Bunyan.

Pecos Bill lassoed mountain lions and tamed cyclones, storytellers say.

Brass floor plates in the Orient Hotel saloon at the Pecos museum show where two gunmen died in an 1896 shootout. Pecos once was famous for having more saloons per person than any other town in Texas.

Today some people know the town more for its Pecos cantaloupes and as the former home of convicted swindler Billie Sol Estes.

For present-day cowboys, the Pecos rodeo is one of 200 they can go to, even traveling by plane. But Lisa Hensarling, Miss Texas Rodeo 1982, says they still yearn for the past. "Lots of these guys would love to be back in the 1860s with Butch Cassidy," she says.

This year, rider Don Gay was arrested after slugging a Pecos deputy who accidentally stepped on his foot at a bar. Gay, 29, was charged with public intoxication and disorderly conduct.

And at the Pecos airport, urban cowboy Bobby Del Vecchio accidentally crashed his airplane into a hangar. "I've often asked myself why I ever got into rodeo," he said.

Perhaps it's economics. Del Vecchio, one of the sport's top bull riders, won $80,000 last year on the national pro rodeo circuit.

The $40 purse in the first Pecos rodeo 100 years ago established it as the world's oldest professional rodeo, despite claims from Prescott, Ariz., North Platte, Neb., Wingfield, Kans., Cheyenne, Wyo., Deer Trail, Colo. and Denver.

Mother faces grand jury

HOUSTON (AP) — A grand jury will be presented with involuntary manslaughter charges against the mother of two children who died when left in a car with the windows rolled up, a judge ordered Thursday.

State District Judge Ted Poe issued the order after an examining trial for Deborah Assady, 21, of Pasadena.

Mrs. Assady has been

Each held informal roping events preceding Pecos by up to 14 years, but none at that time offered prize money, historians say.

Rodeo announcer Tom

Hadley said Pecos and its historic rodeo give spectators and participants a glimpse of a storied past when the West was "a tough way of life with a lot of drunks, fights and guns." "There are still outlaws in rodeo, but you have that in any profession," he said.

Champion noble, naive

CHICAGO (AP) — For more than half a century, lawyer Luis Kutner has been "The Springman" of prelates and poets, the poor and the powerful jailed on the whims of misguided justice.

He earned a fortune — and the nickname — in his first year as a lawyer, an inventive 22-year-old who found profit during the Depression in his life's obsession, the writ of habeas corpus.

Two Chicago detectives had been fabricating evidence to put suspects behind bars. Kutner learned of it and filed writs through the mail demanding freedom for every one of the wrongly accused.

If the prisoner walked, he paid $2,000. If not, no charge.

"I had altogether 4,000 file, ... won 123 on those two (detectives) alone," Kutner recalls. "I made enough to do whatever I wanted."

What he wanted was justice, anywhere for anyone held illegally.

In 1930 Kutner founded World Habeas Corpus — an international tribunal to which all nations would subscribe, and to whose judgments all nations would acquiesce.

The idea has been regarded as both noble and naive.

Most noble perhaps to those whose freedom has been won with Kutner's aid, people like the late Cardinal Josef Mindszenty of Hungary, or those whose life hung on Kutner's persuasive powers, like the late Moise Tshombe, deposed president of the Congo.

Kutner entered the University of Chicago at age 15, clerked for Clarence Darrow and completed law school at 21. In 1952 he was judged among the 15 foremost U.S. poets and is an accomplished painter whose works have been shown at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

But, ultimately, it is his savvy and his legal strategies on which Kutner's reputation rests.

At 76, Kutner pores over pleas for help in his dark, wainscoted office, an aging crusader struggling to keep man at arm's length from his own worst self. Each day he sifts through packages and pictures pleading for aid: For the tortured Baha'is in Iran, for prisoners in the Soviet gulags, for people on death row in the United States.

Kutner believes the Soviets will comply if an international body orders an accounting. He has appealed personally to Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar to set the U.N. machinery in motion. He also hopes to build on public clamor over the case, boosted when President Reagan made the Swede an honorary U.S. citizen recently.

"International law," he says, "can be made pragmatic by moral force."

Shield talks of 1st days

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Sportily dressed in white shorts, white sandals, a gray short-sleeved shirt and dark sunglasses, 18-year-old model-actress Brooke Shields took time out from shopping to describe her first days as a freshman at Princeton University.

"It's really been great," Miss Shields said, but she added, "It's difficult being away from home."

Miss Shields, from Englewood, in the third day of orientation among 1,172 new members of the class of 1987, walked along Nassau Street on Tuesday surrounded by new friends.

Now, in the autumn of his career, Kutner girds for a final test: He hopes to force the Soviet Union to reveal the fate of Raoul Wallenberg, the Swedish diplomat credited with saving more than 375,000 Hungarian Jews and gentiles during World War II. He disappeared after the Soviets captured Budapest in 1945. The Soviet Union

Gen. James Wolfe landed his British army on the banks of the St. Lawrence River near Quebec City June 27, 1759, and blocked off French shipping. After a 75-day siege, Wolfe led his men up the cliff to the Plains of Abraham where they defeated the forces of the Marquis de Montcalm and took the city. Wolfe, 32, and Montcalm, 47, were both mortally wounded in the battle.

The latest research on cotton and grape varieties, drought tolerant crops, and weed control will be featured stops for the 74th annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock and Halfway. The event begins at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the research site, just north of Lubbock International Airport.

Scurry County producers will find the program particularly applicable. Research efforts at the Lubbock and Halfway station focus especially upon needs of producers in the Rolling High plains of Texas.

The annual field day alternates between the TAES locations at Lubbock and Halfway. Field tours will be conducted throughout the afternoon, with tractor-drawn trailers shuttling visitors to key research plots.

The field day is a cooperative presentation of TAES, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the High Plains Research Foundation, United States Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Research Service, and the national Weather Service.

The steps will highlight new techniques and products for weed control, development of new varieties to improve cotton fiber quality, the latest research on grapes, an increasingly important High Plains crop, and development of drought tolerant cotton to better utilize declining water supplies and reduce irrigation requirements.

Other features of the field day will be a display of computers and agricultural programs for computers, a tour of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Soil Testing Land, and an open house at the Texas Forest Service greenhouse and facility at the station.

Sen. Sarpalius has insurance plan

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Sen. Bill Sarpalius said Thursday the "simplest solution" to obtaining insurance for farm workers would be to require crew leaders to pay for the insurance.

"Farm workers would be covered, but by the crew leaders and not the farmers," said Sarpalius. "If that crew leader does not provide adequate coverage, then the farmer would be liable."

Sarpalius, D-Canyon, made his suggestion to the Joint Committee on Farmworker Insurance.
