MURDER REENACTED AT TRIAL IN PARIS

NEWSPAPER EMPLOYES TELL DETAILS OF SHOOTING OF THEIR EDITOR

WARNED NOT TO SEE WOMAN

"I Cannot Refuse" Was Calmette's Reply—Defendant's Husband Enters Court Under Guard

By Associated Press.

Paris, July 21.—Madame Caillaux was up early today and almost her first act was to look through a mass of morning papers for her testimony yesterday. She found she had been sympathetically treated. There were many appreciations of her dexterous arrangement of facts and of the feeling which she has put into her descriptions of her agony.

The most important testimony at the second day's hearing of the trial was that of President Poincare of the Republic whose deposition was read. It said that Joseph Caillaux then minister of state had called upon the president the day Calmette was killed and had spoken about the probability publication in the Figaro of letters between himself and Madame Caillaux. In the course of an excited talk Caillaux explained according to the deposition:

"If Calmette publishes the letters, I will kill him."

Caillaux also took the stand. After relating incidents of his private life after his first marriage, he explained the circumstances of the writing of the two letters to Madame Raynoard, who afterwards became Madame Caillaux. His voice trembled but he gathered composure as he proceeded.

When her husband, Joseph Caillaux entered court this morning he was accompanied by two detectives, owing to the fact that a group of spectators had hooted him after he left the prison after visiting his wife. Two office boys from the Figaro were the first witnesses today. They described the arrival of Madame Caillaux on the day of the shooting. They told how she waited and detailed her entrance into the room occupied by the editor and of their hearing shots.

Tells of Finding Calmette.

One of the boys crouched down on the witness stand and uttered a series of low cries to show how he had found Calmette when he ran to the latter.

Other members of the staff of the Figaro testified, including Louis Latzarus. He said when he ran into Calmette's room another man was holding Madame Caillaux by the wrist. She cried:

"Let me go! I am not going to escape."

The man then let her go and she stood near the door, clear eyed and calm, her face neither flushed nor pale. She seemed untroubled by the presence of fifteen editors gathered around her. She began to speak, saying:

"Since there is no justice in France——"

One of the editors interrupted her with, "Shut your mouth. After what you have done keep quiet." Madame Caillaux retorted:

"I was not speaking to you."

Urged Not To See Her.

Paul Bourget who was with Calmette in his office when the woman's card was brought in, said he remarked to Calmette:

"You will not see her." Calmette replied:

"I cannot refuse to see a woman."

The scene of the shooting was reconstructed by a succession of witnesses, employes of the Figaro. Some of them denied that their advertising man, while talking with their artist in the room where Madame Caillaux was waiting to see Calmette had mentioned Caillaux as Mrs. Caillaux testified yesterday. At this point Madame Caillaux interrupted the testimony saying:

"I wish to ask M. Voisin (the advertising man mentioned) whether one of his friends did not say 'is the sheet ready?' and whether he did not answer, 'we have a great paper on Caillaux tomorrow?'" Vosin replied, "that is absolutely false." Madame Caillaux retorted:

"I heard Voisin say to his friend, it costs dear, but we are letting loose the hunting dogs on all sides."

The warrant charged that Cunningham not only did not give her any food for twelve days before her death last Friday but that he purchased a coffin three weeks ago and began digging a grave two weeks later.

NO ATTACK YET BY FORCES OF ZAPATA

MEXICAN CAPITAL NOT BELIEVED TO BE IN DANGER AT PRESENT

REBELS ARE ADVANCING SOUTH

Puebla Governor Said To Have Offered Them Peaceful Entry. Orozco's Offer Refused

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, July 21.—Early today Emilio Zapata had not attacked Chimilco the village, twenty miles from the capital which his men threatened yesterday. This village is of great strategic value because the capital gets its water supply from the lakes there. Four thousand federals detend it. Federal officials said they consider the place perfectly safe and that there is no ground for fearing a Zapatista attack on the capital itself. The federals who evacuated San Luis Potosi are concentrating at Queretaro and at Gonzales Junction.

It is said here constitutionalists have begun their advance south from San Luis Potosi. Reports from Puebla say the governor there has sent delegates to offer the constitutionalist leaders peaceful entry into the state capital. General Obregon's troops are now about 160 miles northwest of the capital and it is reported they are preparing to advance on Mexico City.

General Orozco and other former revolutionary chiefs now serving with the government troops have offered their services to President Carbajal to check the constitutionalist advance on the capital. President Carbajal has declined the offer.

BASEBALL STRIKE PROBABLY AVERTED

KRAFT CASE WHICH STARTED TROUBLE, AMICABLY SETTLED TODAY

NEWARK CLUB TAKES ACTION

Makes Deal Without Instructions From Either the American or National League

By Associated Press.

New York, July 21.—There will be no strike of baseball players in the two major leagues. The Kraft case basis for the strike order issued yesterday by the baseball players fraternity was settled today when the Newark Internationals agreed to buy Nashville's interest in Kraft. This announcement was made at a meeting of the International League stockholders today.

In the settlement of all claims on Kraft the Nashville club is to receive $2500. C. H. Ebbetts, a stockholder in the Newark club said this arrangement was made without instructions from either the American or National League and was made to avoid possible trouble between organized baseball and the players.

MONASTIC LIFE STILL POPULAR STATISTICS SHOW

Rome, July 21.—That the monastic life has lost none of its hold on present day humanity has just been demonstrated by the report made of the growth of the Capuchin order, the general chapter of which just closed here. Despite the fact that several of the leading countries of Europe no longer permit monasteries of the order, the Capuchins now have 771 convents, scattered through 53 provinces, with 10,176 full members. In addition they have throughout the world 5,780 congregations of "tertiaries," or members of the order who, while not living in convents, secluded from the world, devote their lives to the work of the order. The total membership of these congregations falls just a little below 1,000,000.

By Associated Press.

El Paso, Texas, July 21.—The southern movement of General Villa's forces has begun, according to advices today. Villa still was in Chihuahua City but was expected to start south within forty-eight hours and his army of 18,000 was reported entraining for Queretaro. There he expects to join the other constitutionalist army for a triumphal entry in Mexico City.

Ladies, Here's A Live Wire! Mrs. Knowlands Trying To Boost Husband Into U. S. Senate

CONGRESSMAN KNOWLAND'S WIFE CAMPAIGNING FOR HIS ELECTION TO U.S. SENATE

San Francisco, July 21.—Since the election of United States senators has been put into the direct hands of the voters all over the country it is probably sure that other women will follow the example of Mrs. Joseph K. Knowland, wife of Congressman Knowland of Alameda. Mrs. Knowland is getting right out among the workers, drumming up votes for her husband, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate. She is going around the state in her auto, speaking noon hours and in the evenings in factory yards and in public squares. Her campaigna is unusual inasmuch as her husband is held at Washington with his duties in the House, while his wife is looking after his fences. Mrs. Knowland is a live wire. Recently she addressed 1,000 men during the noon hour at the Union Iron works speaking from her automobile. "I want you to like me and to vote for my husband because he is always on the job," cried Mrs. Knowland. She deliberately used campaign slang and in one of her remarks said: "I did not come here to give you any of that suffrage stuff. But I rode in the suffrage parade in Washington and some of the men must have liked my appearance for they tried to drag me from the automobile and said, 'She is some chicken, some squab.' I want you men to like me, too, and to like my husband and vote for him for the Senate."

ELECTION JUDGES CANNOT GIVE ADVICE TO VOTERS

Attorney General Holds It Is Misdemeanor For Them To Try To Exert Influence

By Associated Press

Austin, Texas, July 21.—The attorney general's department today announced that under the Terrell law an election judge is prohibited from in any way telling a voter how to vote on any proposition; also that the judge has no authority even when requested to do so to instruct the voters how the various candidates stand on the prohibition issue or any other question. For an election judge or officer to do this would be a misdemeanor. Voters must inform themselves of all politi[cal] issues.

TEXAS COMPANY REPLIES TO OKLAHOMA'S PETITION

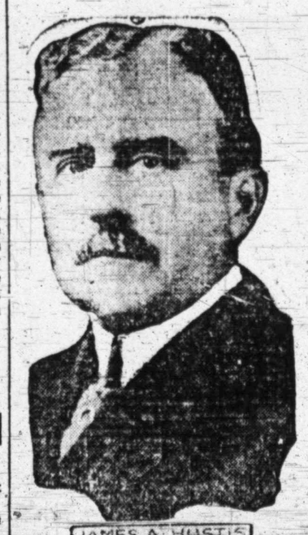
Says Producers Company Is Not Competitor, Carrying on Different Part of Work

By Associated Press

New York, July 21.—The legal department of the Texas Company today issued this statement regarding the anti-trust suit filed against it yesterday at Atoka, Okla.:

"There has been no consolidation of competing companies or combinations in restraint of trade. The Texas Company itself is not in the business of producing oil but is a purchaser, transporter, refiner and marketer. The Producers Oil Company takes leases, drills and produces. It would not violate any anti-trust statute for the Texas Company to own the Producers outright. The two are not competitors and never were. They are in different branches of the business, one supplementing the other. As far as the relation of the Texas Company and the Central Petroleum Company are concerned, it is considered sufficient to say that these resulted from a compromise of a law suit in the federal court. The total production of the Central Petroleum Company and its producing companies is less than one-half per cent of the production of Oklahoma."

GOVERNMENT TO SUE NEW HAVEN RAILROAD FOR STOCK JUGGLING



JAMES A. HUSTIS

Washington, July 21.—The department of justice will file its dissolution suit against the New Haven road in a few days. This was the statement of the department of the receipt of advices regarding the decision of the New Haven directors, of which James A. Hustis is chairman, at their meeting in New York to refuse compliance with the Massachusetts law which provides for the sale of the Boston and Maine stock. The department has been withholding the filing of the suit in the hope that the directors would finally agree to the sale of the New Haven's Boston and Maine stock under the conditions imposed by the Massachusetts legislature.

ANOTHER INFECTED RAT IS FOUND IN NEW ORLEANS

Makes Six To Date—No New Cases of Plague Reported Up To Early This Afternoon

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, July 21.—A rat captured at the Bumaine street wharf was announced today as infected with bubonic plague. This is the sixth infected rat captured. No new cases had been reported up to early this afternoon, the total standing at eight. Announcement came from Washington that another public health service physician is to aid in the work of fighting the plague.

ANCIENT SEWER CAVES IN IN HEART OF NEW YORK CITY

Large Cavern Suddenly Appears In Financial District When Old Conduit Gives Way

By Associated Press.

New York, July 21.—A large cavern suddenly appeared under Liberty street between Broadway and Nassau streets in the financial district late yesterday when an ancient sewer far below the pavement caved in. The foundations of several great skyscrapers formed the walls and the arched asphalt the dome for a vast subterranean chamber which quickly began to fill with sewage draining from Broadway. The skyscrapers were not in danger as their foundations are firmly anchored far down in bedrock. Among them are a building of thirty-five stories and one of twenty-one.

INQUIRY BY COMMISSION INTO ALLEGED EMBARGO

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 21.—Investigation of embargos placed by coal railroads alleged to result in discrimination against shippers was ordered today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. All railroads were made respondents to the proceeding, which will begin with hearings to be designated some time soon.

LEADERS IN IRISH IMBROGLIO CONFER

ENEMIES OF LONG STANDING ATTEND MEETING AT KING'S PALACE

WILL MEET AGAIN TOMORROW

Some Newspapers Criticise King For His Action In Calling Leaders Together

By Associated Press.

London, July 21.—For an hour and a half today, leaders in the Irish trouble conferred at a meeting called by the King in Buckingham Palace. So deep was the interest of the public that big crowds gathered outside the palace to watch the party leaders going to the conference. After the conference it was announced that the meeting will continue tomorrow.

King George received the statesmen. Probably this is the first time that John E. Redmond and John Dillon, the Irish Nationalist leaders had ever exchanged greetings with their king as it has been their practice to remain away from all functions where they were likely to meet royalty. The conservatives and the liberal leaders who attended today, Premier Asquith and Andrew Bonar Law, respectively have been barely on speaking terms.

Two others who attended are believed to be bitter personal enemies. They are the Marquis of Lansdowne, leader of the Unionists in the House of Lords and David Lloyd-George. At the same time, the Irish Nationalists and the Ulster Unionist representatives probably were not pleased upon finding themselves in such close contact. It is believed the atmosphere of the meeting could not have been otherwise than extremely chilly.

After a brief conversation the king withdrew leaving the conferees to their deliberations. Some of the newspapers attached the king bitterly for interfering, declaring that the move is revolutionary.

CONGRESSMAN QUITS SEAT UNDER FIRE

McDERMOTT OF CHICAGO, ACCUSED BY MULHALL RESIGNS TODAY

IS CRITICISED BY COMMITTEE

Alleged To Have Received $7500 From Washington Pawnbrokers For Aiding Them

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 21.—Representatives James T. McDermott, Republican of Illinois from the stockyards district of Chicago today on the floor of the House of Representatives offered his resignation effective immediately. He is under charges in connection with the lobby investigation.

A majority report of the lobby investigating committee now ready to come before the House severely criticised him while the minority report recommended that he be expelled from the House.

Immediately upon assembling of the House today he rose to a question of personal privilege and offered his resignation, declaring he "would appeal my case to the people of the fourth district of Illinois."

Mulhall charged McDermott had received $7500 from Washington pawnbrokers to work against the federal loan shark law and a $2000 campaign contribution from a Chicago brewers' association.

McDermott's defense was that the money from the pawnbrokers was in the nature of personal loans and that the brewers had contributed only $500 out of personal friendship. He denied a charge by Mulhall that he had forged Harold F. McCormick's name to a check for $250.

HAL CHASE INJUNCTION IS DISSOLVED BY COURT

Decision Says There Is No Mutual Obligation In the Ten Day Release Clause

By Associated Press.

Buffalo, July 21.—Organized baseball suffered a legal defeat today when Justice H. P. Bissell vacated the injunction secured by the Chicago American Baseball Club restraining Hal Chase from playing with the Buffalo Federal League Club.

The lack of mutual obligation in the so-called ten day clause of Chase' contract with Chicago which gave that club the right to terminate the contract on ten days' notice was the basis of vacating the injunction.

Justice Bissell, however, said organized baseball is not a violation of the Sherman law.

CARRANZA'S STAND CAUSES PESSIMISM

SAYS WILL NOT TREAT WITH CARBAJAL EXCEPT FOR SURRENDER

CARBAJAL PLANS RESISTANCE

Will Not Submit To Invasion of Capital By Constitutionalists Without Agreement

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 21.—Provisional President Carbajal does not intend to surrender unconditionally to General Carranza, but will concentrate his military forces and resist an invasion rather than permit constitutionalists to enter Mexico City without previous agreements not to take vengeance on the lives and property of Huerta's supporters. This information came from authoritative sources in Mexico City today to Washington diplomats. It caused pessimism in some quarters over the possibility of a peaceful settlement.

Emilio Rabasa, head of the delegation which represented Huerta at Niagara Falls arrived here today and discussed the situation with the South American mediators and then with Jose Castellot, personal representative of Carbajal. Castellot said he was confident ultimately there would be an agreement between Carbajal and Carranza.

There was much comment on Carranza's information to the American consul at Monterey that he would receive a commission from Carbajal only on condition of unconditional surrender by the Mexico City authorities. These uncompromising terms have puzzled diplomats who hoped for a quick solution. They believe decisive infulence for peace rests with the United States.

There were no indications today how far the American government was prepared to exert pressure on Carranza to obtain amnesty and guarantees. Diplomats also watched with keen interest the reports that Villa again was threatening to break with Carranza.

BODY OF GIRL IS FOUND MURDERED AT GALVESTON

Mystery Surrounds Discovery This Morning—Identity Has Not Yet Been Established

By Associated Press.

Galveston, Texas, July 21.—The body of a handsome well dressed young woman was found on the beach west of the city this morning with a bullet hole through the head. There were no signs of powder burns, which lead the authorities to believe she was murdered. There was no jewelry or other means of immediate identification. As the body was partly covered with sand which the tide had washed over it during the night, it was believed the girl was murdered sometime before midnight. One of her shoes was found some distance in shore from where the body lay and this was taken to indicate the body was dragged to the beach after the shot had been fired.

The girl wore a Panama hat of fine texture, a handsome white dress of sheer material, tan shoes and tan silk stockings. She had long black hair, gray eyes and was about five feet five inches tall. While positive identification had not been established at two o'clock this afternoon, it seemed almost certain that she had resided in this city for some time.

A medal showing a minature figure of the Virgin Mary which was found near the bode led to the information that she frequently had attended services at St. Mary's cathedral and that she usually went to the church every evening for a few minutes of prayer.

CANADIAN CRUISER WILL TAKE HINDU STEAMER AWAY

Sails For Vancouver To Enforce Government's Order As To Japanese Steamer

By Associated Press.

Bellingham, Wash., July 21.—Reports reached here today that the Canadian cruiser Rainbow sailed last night from Victoria for Vancouver. She is fully equipped with ammunition to enforce the Canadian government's orders to escort the Japanese steamer with 352 Hindu passengers aboard out of the harbor.

FUNERAL OF MAJOR COBB IS HELD TODAY

BODY IS LAID TO REST THIS AFTERNOON IN RIVERSIDE

DRAPED IN CONFEDERATE FLAG

Services are Held at Church of Good Shepherd—Large Throng in Attendance

Draped in the Stars and Bars, banner of the cause he loved so well and served so nobly, the mortal clay of Major Robert Cobb was this afternoon laid tenderly away in Riverside cemetery. A large concourse of old comrades, legal associates, Masonic brothers and neighbors followed the remains up the hill to the resting place.

The funeral was held from the Church of the Good Shepherd and the impressive Episcopal rites were observed. Music was by a special choir which sang the customary burial offices and an anthem "I Heard a Voice From Heaven." At the graveside the Masonic ritual was observed.

Many beautiful floral tributes marked the love and esteem in which Major Cobb was held. The pall-bearers were:

Active—A. H. Carrigan, A. H. Britain, P. B. Cox, W. E. Fitzgerald, T. R. Boone, N. Henderson.

Honorary—George Simmons, W. J. Howard, H. C. Young, V. S. Kay, J. T. A. Fleming, H. J. Norwood, A. J. Schaffer, J. D. Carithers.

Confederate veterans of this city and vicinity attended the funeral in a body to pay tribute to their departed comrade.

In accordance with an oft-expressed wish of Major Cobb his coffin was draped in the Confederate flag and the emblem under which he fought and strove in early manhood was made to enshroud his frame.

Death Comes Very Peacefully.

Major Cobb was stricken nearly two weeks ago and it was not long until it was evident that the end was near at hand. His wonderful vitality, however, kept the spark of life burning much longer than was expected. Since Thursday of last week he had been unconscious and his strength gradually waned until early yesterday afternoon when he died as peacefully as a child going to sleep.

The home life of Major Cobb was of unusual sweetness and it was in his family that his entire interest seemed to center after age forced him to forego the active practice of his profession. His daughters from out of the city, Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Sunnett, both arrived before he died. The death less than two years ago of his son, Robert, was a grievous blow for the major, but he bore up bravely.

Unusually Active Career.

The career of Major Cobb was one of exceptional activity. Answering the Southland's call in early manhood, he gave the lost cause the best that was in him until the struggle between the states was ended. For four years farming in Monroe county, in Northern Mississippi occupied him, he being in charge of a large plantation there. The negroes, lately freed, were unruly and the handling of the plantation was no small task, but the major proved fully equal to it. After four years of farming he returned to Kentucky, locating at Paducah where he resided until 1884 with the exception of a brief residence in Colorado. It was in 1884 that he came to Texas.

Mrs. Cobb was Miss Virginia Walker of Mississippi, she becoming a bride not long after the close of the war. For nearly half a century she has walked by the major's side, his faithful helpmeet through the years of his career.

His War Record.

Major Cobb's distinguished war career was not the inspiration of a longing for martial renown, but came from the momentous questions which he believed involved the perpetuity of the institutions and individuality of unfrettered statehood which he considered was guaranteed by the federal constitution. Imbued with this conviction by institution and training and with the true spirit of the cavalier, he hastened to join the lists, placing upon the altar of the Confederacy an accomplished young manhood, fervent with patriotism, pulsating with lofty courage and guided by that soldierly discernment that won well merited distinction and promotion for rare bravery on so many fields. His name and that of Cobb's Battery were synonyms for dashing intrepidity and death-dealing fighting of which the commanders were fully sensible, as in planning battle they were wont to assign Cobb's battery to a point where the fury of the assault marked the storm center of the struggle.

It was at the battle of Jackson, Miss., while Cobb's Battery was resisting the terrific onslaught of the enemy that General Breckinridge took occasion to remark that "Cobb was as brave as his hair was red;" all of Major Cobb's old comrades can appreciate the full force of the general's observation.

Notable Career As Attorney.

Not long ago, on Major Cobb's birthday The Times printed a letter from his distinguished nephew, Irvin S. Cobb, the writer giving some reminiscences of the major's career. The story of Major Cobb's life is rich in instances of courage and loyalty both in and out of the war.

A detailed sketch of Major Cobb's war record has already been published. The record is one of devotion to duty, unfailing bravery and thorough competence—attributes which have marked his civil as well as his military activities. As a private citizen and an attorney his life was without reproach. In the court room his well trained mind, thorough knowledge of the law and keen wit made him an adversary to be well reckoned with. He was never active in politics, though all his life he took a deep interest in political affairs and followed local and national events closely.

AMERICAN WOMEN ARE BEST TREATED

WOMAN WRITES WOMEN HERE HAVE PRIVILEGES AND RIGHTS DENIED OTHERS

IS TREATED AS SUPERIOR

In Some Other Countries Woman Is Not any Better Off Than A Servant

Paris, July 21.—"The American man is just about the grandest institution of his kind in the world," declared Mrs. Mabel Potter Daggett, writer of international repute, in an interview granted the United Press correspondent here. Mrs. Daggett is in France studying sociological conditions as they affect women, following a similar investigation in Germany.

"Back home," she said, "I would have you know I am something of a suffragette. I have always felt that woman was not getting what she deserves from the tyrant man. I felt she was imposed upon, that she was the victim of an enormous number of wrongs which simply cried aloud to be remedied.

"Since I came to Europe I have changed my mind on more than one point. I have come to realize a few things I was not aware of before. One of the things I know now, for instance, is that the American woman is the best treated, the most highly respected and generally the most looked up to lady of the universe.

"In Germany the woman is not much better off than a servant; in fact a wife is regarded as a sort of chief maid, an unsalaried female person whose duty it is to see that His Majesty the man of the establishment, has everything as he wants it. After his wife, the unpaid servant, skims the cream from everyday life and gives it to him, she can have what is left. This rule holds through the entire relation of man and woman in Germany and though perhaps to a somewhat lesser degree, the same things is true in France.

"Throughout Europe I have found the working woman, working not side by side with the man, but in places inferior to what is considered a "man's work." She does the hardest labor; she sweeps the streets; carries the coal in sacks on her shoulders; works in the fields—yet she has not one of the liberties, not one of the advantages we women in America forget we have always had. "In America the man treats the woman as his superior in many ways; he looks up to her. If she is kept from having things, it is not because he is tyranizing her—he simply thinks the things desired are not good for her in her quality of "wonderful woman." Far from treating her as his servant he is prone to make himself hers and instead of forcing her to do work too menial for him, if one of the two must do it, he not only does it himself but insists upon doing it.

I have come to realize more fully than hav ecome to realize more fully than ever before I could, that America is the woman's country of countries and when I go back I shan't feel ashamed to cuddle down and purr in real contentment."

Mrs. Daggett returns to America shortly where she will write of her European experiences and obesrvations.

MANY GLAD TO QUIT CALOMEL

Thousands Avoid Taking the Drug and Use Dodson's Liver Tone In Its Place

Dodson's Liver Tone is a harmless reliable vegetable liquid. It is made to take the place of dangerous calomel.

Calomel in large doses is a poison. It is a mineral, a form of mercury. What it does unpleasantly and very often with decided danger in cases of constipation and sluggish liver, Dodson's Liver Tone does for you safely and pleasantly, with no pain and no gripe. Dodson's does not interfere in any way with your regular business, habits or diet.

Dodson's Liver Tone is backed up by a guarantee of "satisfaction or your money back" as your druggist will tell you.

Of course so successful and so reliable a remedy has its imitators, but your druggist has Dodson's and will not deceive you.

Dodson never makes extravagant statements. Dodson's Liver Tone has been made from the first to take the place of calomel. It livens the liver, overcomes constipation agreeably and makes you feel good and if you are not satisfied completely with it your druggist will hand back the purchase price, 50c to you cheerfully, instantly and without question.

Prominent lecturers from all over the country were in attendance and addressed the educators. One of the most interesting speeches was delivered by Hugh T. Musselman, editor of the Rural School Advocate, in which he declared, while the average farmer has common sense, he is sadly in need of school sense.

SOCIETY

The Superior Sex

He says he cannot understand however women dare
To flaunt about the public streets the fashions that they wear.
His mother would shrink back in shame or shudder with dismay,
He tells us, if she could behold the costumes of today.
But let his wife put on a dress left over from last year,
And he will growl: "Why don't you have a little style, my dear?"

He says the shapes of women's hats would make a martyr swear;
He can't see how a female can put such things on her hair.
"I don't know what we're coming to next year," he says aghast;
"Each season's crop of headgear is more hideous than the last!"
But when a broiler comes along adorned in such a hat,
He gapes and whispers to his wife: "Why can't you dress like that?"

LABOR CELEBRATION WILL BE HELD AT LAKE WICHITA

Lake Wichita will be the scene of the Labor Day celebration this year. The celebration will continue two days. Notable speakers in the labor world will be brought here for the occasion.

The Labor Days committee of the Trades Council made its first report at Monday night's meeting. It reported that it had closed arrangements for the grounds at Lake Wichita and that the Traction Company would give a five cent fare for the two days. The committee will also be given the concessions for those two days. The committee is still at work and expects to have all details of the arrangements completed for the greatest Labor Day celebration ever held in Northwest Texas.

At last night's meeting word was received from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen that that organization desired to participate in the Labor Day paarde and other features of the celebration.

THIS LIFE'S ODD! MRS. GARRISON WAS BORN IN AN ARMY TENT AND NOW SHE IS WIFE OF THE SECRETARY OF WAR

Washington, July 21—It's funny how things will turn out in life isn't it? Take Mrs. Lindley M. Garrison, for example. She was born in a tent—an army tent—and now she's the wife of the Secretary of war. All her life she had been a home woman, not a society devotee, but now she's one of the most popular entertainers and the most gracious and brightest of hostesses in brilliant Washington. A stately, comely matron in middle life, Mrs. Garrison quickly took the capital by storm in official society. She is not a clubwoman or a suffragist, but she does not oppose either. Her interests are all in her home life, in making it comfortable and charming and happy. The Garrisons have no children.

ED HOWARD, Mgr.

It is plain to us that somebody is going to be "sat on" good and hard at the El Paso convention, and it is not going to be President Wilson and his policies. Colonel Ball says President Wilson and his administration should receive an endorsement with no strings tied to it at the El Paso convention, and Mr. Ferguson, while he criticises the President for his endorsement of Ball, is practically of the same opinion. All of which clearly indicates that while the Democrats of Texas are something like equally divided as to Ball and Ferguson, by far the greater portion of them are standing by the President.

Despite the fact that President Wilson has tentatively endorsed the candidacy of Colonel Ball, Candidate Ferguson proclaims his fidelity to the administration and asserts with vigor that he is in accord with him on nation-wide prohibition, woman suffrage and free raw materials. It is up to Colonel Ball to say under which flag he sails, Wilson's or Bailey's.—Denison Herald.

Well, Colonel Ball has spoken. He is sailing smoothly under the Wilson flag and says in unmistakable language that he stands squarely for an endorsement of President Wilson's administration at the El Paso convention without any strings to it. That ought to be satisfying to any Democrat who had doubted that Colonel Ball would have the nerve to oppose Senator Bailey, his friend and supporter.

THE DEMISE OF A SOUTHERN GENTLEMAN.

Referring to the late Major Robert Cobb, I leave it to others to speak and write of his life as a lawyer and soldier. But, to me, he appeared a more inspiring figure as one of God's noblemen, a perfect Southern gentleman.

Under all conditions and circumstances of his life; when honors were showered upon him; when the bleak winds of adversity threatened; when politics aroused human passions, he never lowered the dignity or tarnished the name.

At all times, whether among neighbors, friends, acquaintances or strangers, he appeared a gentleman "to the manor born."

Sad to relate, he belonged to a class of men who are fast disappearing from the busy scene of the world today.

Like some old relic of the bygone ages we will cherish his memory, and point the youth of our land to this grand old Southern gentleman as an example worthy of their emulation.

EDGAR RYE.

J. W. Farwell, of Chicago, who is not a Democrat nor a particular admirer of President Wilson, is authority for the statement that the crops of the United States for the year 1914 will be worth something like $12,000,000,000, and that prosperity is bound to come with their harvesting and marketing. The calamity howlers can now take a rest. They have predicted hard times and done all that is possible for them to do to make their prediction come true, and have utterly failed. Panics, in times of plenty, are a thing of the past, nor can they be manufactured to serve the interests of money sharks. The Wilson administration, of course, cannot take credit for the good crops, but it can take credit for the legislation that makes it practically impossible to bring on money panics. He is the only President who ever had the backbone to go squarely up against the money power and has won out on every point. For that reason his administration should be endorsed enthusiastically by the people, not only of Texas, the greatest of the Democratic states, but by the people of every state in the Union who do not believe that the money power should rule the government.

THE POORLY PAID TEACHER

The state tax for the year 1914 has been fixed at 1 21-2 cents on the $100 valuation. Last year it was 20 cents, a reduction of 12 1-2 cents. The state school tax, however, has been raised from 17 1-2 cents to 20 cents. This raise will have a tendency to improve our public schools. Perhaps it will be sufficient to make it possible to pay the teachers decent salaries, at least as much as common labor, but if not, then an additional raise is in order. The best way to improve the public school system is to place the schools in charge of competent teachers, and as a general rule competent teachers can do better in commercial lines of business than to accept positions at school teaching for the compensations usually offered in the ordinary Texas school.—Wichita Times.

For vexing labors, small compensation and slim chance for advancement, the school teacher holds the position that heads the list. The same labor, study and tenacity of purpose necessary to bring only moderate success to the teacher would more than likely bring financial independence and perhaps fame if directed in almost any other line. Many of the very brightest minds are in the school room under the present system, but it is always at a great personal sacrifice that they are there, for the man or woman who is only a dimly shining mark as a teacher would fairly blaze in almost any other profession.—Corpus Christi Democrat.

WHY ENGINEERS, FIREMEN AND HOSTLERS DECLINE TO ARBITRATE.

There are at least 100 locomotive engineers who hold jobs on the various railroads entering Wichita Falls, and who make their homes here, and fully as many if not more firemen. Several articles have appeared in the columns of The Times in the last few months touching on the contemplated strike, and which gave the views of the railway managers. The Times, being a newspaper that wants to do what it conceives to be right in this matter, is now going to publish a series of articles that have been prepared for the press by the officers of the locomotive engineers and firemen's organization, giving their side of the controversy, and will start by reproducing the following, showing why the engineers and firemen are opposed to arbitration of the differences existing between them and the railway managers:

A peculiar feature of the threatened strike of engineers, firemen and hostlers on the Western railroads is, that while the Unions representing these employes have gone on record as favoring arbitration in past negotiations they now positively refuse to submit the present dispute to an arbitration board for a decision.

This marked change in the attitude of the Railroad Brotherhoods toward arbitration is attributed by the officials of these organizations to what they assert is a disposition on the part of certain railroad officials to not fairly apply Arbitration Awards when made.

W. S. Stone, Grand Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers says:

"The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in the past has favored arbitration for the settlement of all disputes between labor and capital, and, in fact, has been instrumental in assisting to have several laws enacted upon this subject. However, with our experience of the past few years, we have changed our views, and unless some plan can be devised whereby members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers can be assured that the award will be put into effect as handed down by the Board of Arbitration, there will be no further arbitration, so far as we are concerned. This has been brought about by the sad experience of the past three cases.

"In 1910, we had a wage movement of fifty-three railroads in the Western territory. A settlement was reached through mediation, the Honorable Charles P. Neill, Commissioner, being the one to bring about the agreement, which has never been carried out in good faith by the railroads in the West; and the present wage movement in the West is due partially to the fact that the men were deprived of what they were rightfully entitled to by the ward of 1910.

"In 1912, we had an arbitration in the Eastern Territory comprising all roads east of Chicago and north of the Ohio River. This award was handed down in November, 1912, and at this time, after almost two years have elapsed, and the term of the Arbitration Award has expired, we are still striving to have some of the railroads put it into effect and pay their back pay that the men are entitled to under the terms of the award.

"The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomitive Firemen and Enginemen recently had a case in dispute on the Georgia and Florida Railway, and met with the vice president and general manager, Mr. Duer, and were unable to reach a settlement. He proposed to leave the entire question in dispute to a board of arbitration. At the time this was proposed, all committees and grand officers declined to accept his proposition on the grounds of the difficulty experienced in the recent arbitration in the East and having award placed into effect. But the vice president and general manager assured the committee that if we referred the question in dispute on the Georgia and Florida to arbitration that the award given would be properly carried out in its entirety, and that he was willing to give us his personal bond and a guarantee that this would be done. The employes were bitterly opposed to any arbitration, knowing what the previous experience had been in the East, and this objection on the part of the employes were very fully immediately assured us that we need have no fear in this connection, and any decision rendered by a board of arbitration would be put into effect at once on the Georgia and Florida Railway; and he sealed this pledge by stating that he would not only give us his promise to do so as general manager of a property, but would give us his word of honor as a Southern gentleman.

"Notwithstanding this assurance on his part, we were a little bit skeptical because we had had some bad experience along the line of arbitration and still declined. But after several conferences we decided to call on the Honorable William L. Chambers, United States Commissioner of Mediation and Conciliation, and he came to a conclusion and decided to adjust the matter through mediation, but was unable to effect a settlement. It was then decided to place the matter before a board of arbitration, and both parties consented thereto. The board convened in Augusta, and after several days rendered an award granting the employes about a 12 per cent increase. This did not bring them up to the standard wages paid in that territory. However, a few days afterwards, this same general manager, regardless of his promises both as manager of the property and as a Southern gentleman, served notice upon our arbitrators and our grand officers that he had appealed from the decision of the Arbitration Board to the United States court; and so far as the award is concerned, it has not ben placed into effect yet. It is in the courts and probably will be there yet for the next year or two.

"With this experience in the last three cases we have had under arbitration, you can readily understand why our men are bitterly opposed to any further arbitration, unless some plan can be devised whereby the award will be placed into effect without any quibbling and without any sharp practice on the part of the managers of the different railroad properties subject to the arbitration."

W. S. Carter, President of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, says that he is but expressing the sentiments of the membership when he states "there will be no more arbitrations of railroad wage disputes until the men are convinced that railroad officials will not repudiate Arbitration Awards." President Carter says that he has always advised arbitration in the past when strikes were threatened, and he was one of several representatives of organized labor that appeared before a Congressional Committee advocating the enactment of the present Federal Arbitration Law, known as "The Newland's Act," but he now believes that law to be prejudicial to the interest of railroad employes. "So long as the law permits either party to a wage dispute to administer an Arbitration Award, growing out of that dispute, the award will be applied in a partisan manner, and we have ample evidence that some railroad officials do not hesitate to deliberately misapply Arbitration Awards," says Mr. Carter. "There should be some authoritative representative of the Federal Government to insist that an award be applied on all railroads concerned, as interpreted by the arbitrators, and so long as railroad officials are permitted to place their own interpretation on such awards, and to apply the awards to suit themselves, and thus defeat the real purpose of arbitration, the public should not insist that the engineers, firemen and hostlers submit the present wage controversy to arbitration." Mr. Carter further states that "while the arbitration of the firemen and hostlers wage dispute on Eastern railroads in 1913 resulted in an award not entirely unsatisfactory to a majority of the men, the manner of applying that award has made radical opponents of arbitration of more than 30,000 men who voted in favor of arbitrating the Eastern wage dispute of firemen and hostlers."

He asserts that "after the signing of an agreement to arbitrate all matters in dispute, which form of arbitration was prepared by the representatives of the Federal Government, and after the arbitration was prepared by the representatives of the Federal Government, and after the arbitration hearings had commenced, the Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad management served notice that it would not be bound by the arbitration and desired to withdraw therefrom. The Federal Board of Arbitration took this matter under consideration and officially decided, which decision was made a part of the record that he Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad could not legally withdraw from the arbitration at that late date." Mr. Carter asserts that the Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad has never applied any portion of the award and that in this particular case the Federal authority, to whom the matter was referred, decided that the observation of an Arbitration Award under the present Federal Law is simply a moral obligation. "Of what effect is a moral obligation on a railroad corporation?" exclaimed Mr. Carter. He says that other railroads that joined in the Eastern arbitration of 1913, through the activity of the Managers' Committee, have succeeded in evading payment of wages and application of working conditions secured by that Arbitration Award. "The names of 'hostlers' have been changed to 'watchmen,' 'foremen,' etc., by some railroads for the express purpose of avoiding payment of wages fixed by an award for 'hostlers.' In one instance a Philadelphia and Reading official discharged a hostler because he demanded that he be paid the compensation fixed by the award, and officials of that railroad compelled firemen to continue cleaning engines for months after the award became effective, under penalty of dismissal, although the award specifically relieved firemen of that work.

"When the award was made public, differences of opinion as to the intent of certain portions of same immediately arose. The Firemen and Hostlers Committee that disputed points be referred gack to the Board of Arbitration to interpret their own language; but the Managers' Committee insisted that the local committee on each road take up the management of such road the interpretation and application of the award. The Manager's Committee then insisted that specific instances, wherein the men complained that the award was not being properly applied, be prepared and presented to the Managers' Committee, when the matter would then be adjusted. This was done and still there was no disposition to permit the Board of Arbitration to interpret its own awards. Nearly six months after the award became effective, with consent of the Managers' Committee, the Board of Arbitration again met and decided points in dispute. And then the intent of the interpretation of the award was disputed, and so the matter has been prolonged until we find the contention still engaging the attention of committees and representative of labor organizations long after the award has expired, and the award not yet applied in many instances."

"The Store Dependable"

HIS FIRST LONG TROUSERS

Youngster's Desire to Emerge From Status of "Small Boy" Almost Led to Tragedy.

In a certain uptown neighborhood, which shall, for obvious reasons, be nameless, a small tragi-comedy was enacted during the past week. This small drama seems to have its points of absolute originality, so far as recorded history permits us to judge. But here is the case:

In the uptown neighborhood in question two small boys reside. They are not so small, either, these boys. The fact is, the whole issue of the tragi-comedy hangs on the size of the boys. One party to the struggle regards them as being small. The second party regards them as being relatively large. Each party consists of two persons, so that the drama end is not yet in sight.

In a house belonging to one of the parties of the first part a mother walked into a room and discovered her young son in a subtly suspicious attitude. He was idle, sitting, with a newspaper spread out over his knees. But he did not seem to have been reading the paper, and his eyes had a queer glint.

"What's the matter, Peter?" she demanded.

"Nothin'," said Peter.

The Sherlock Holmes mother went over and examined her offspring critically. His eyes evaded her. Suddenly she swooped down and snatched the newspaper off his knees.

"You young villain!" she cried.

Peter leaped to his feet and sighted happily down his legs.

"You take them right off!" yelled the mother. She began to claw at him. "I'll tear them off you!"

"Don't you dare!" the boy shrieked in turn. "Don't you dare hurt 'em! They don't belong to me!"

The irate lady paused. "Who do they belong to?" she asked with ominous politeness.

"To Gus Sparrow. He lent 'em to me."—Philadelphia Record.

ADENOIDS ALWAYS A DANGER

Largely Due to Conditions of Modern Civilization, but Should Be Guarded Against.

Adenoids have been known ever since the days of Hippocrates, but within a generation they have become far more common than they had ever been before. They seem to be caused by an excessive proliferation of lymphatic tissue, which is a manifestation of a general rachitism, due to the overcrowding of cities, want of fresh air, scattering of dust by rapid vehicles, eating foods that have been preserved by chemical sterilization, and other effects of intensive civilization.

Among the ordinary consequences of adenoids are deformation of the jaws, teeth and nose, blocking of the natural breathing channels, tendency to breathe through the mouth and to keep the mouth open, chronic cough, deafness caused by the stoppage of the eustachian tubes, and dulling of the intelligence through habitual congestion of the brain.

Adenoids must be treated just as soon as their presence is suspected. The operation for their removal is simple and has no danger when performed by a specialist.

Pegging Down Roses.

Pegging down is an interesting form of training roses and a system that is valuable for special effects. The first consideration in pegging is vigorous growth. Prune hard the first year, but in the two following years very little will be necessary, as all the growth is pegged down to secure an even effect. As soon as enough young growth has been made to take the place of that which has flowered the latter must be cut away and the young shoot pegged down in its place. A well-furnished bed of pegged down roses should have its surface covered all over with shoots about nine inches apart. Until there is growth enough to cover the surface the old wood must be allowed to remain for another year, encouraging the blooming by pruning in the laterals to a spur with two or three buds. The pegs are cut from twigs, cut so the crotch will hold the rose branch to the ground.

Poor Illustration.

At a meeting of clergymen a curate was anxious to bring himself under the notice of the archbishop. He informed his grace that he had recently seen a wonderful example of the way of Providence. "Your grace," said the curate, "my aunt intended taking a railroad journey, but missed the train owing to her cab being held up. That very train met with an accident and many passengers were killed and injured. Was not that a wonderful intervention of Providence?" The archbishop looked at the curate and, after pausing a moment, simply said: "I didn't know your aunt."

Improved Slot Machine.

An inventor in Birmingham, England, has produced a slot machine which is said to prevent the extraction of goods by the use of metal disks and coins of less value than those intended to be used. It also rejects rubbish which may be pushed into the slot. The machine is constructed in such a way as to test coins and throw out counterfeits. If it will do all that is claimed for it this invention will eliminate some of the greatest defects of the present slot vending machines.—The Pathfinder.

IS MRS. CARMAN GUILTY OR INNOCENT?
WILL PRESENT CHAIN OF EVIDENCE CONVICT HER OF MRS. BAILEY'S MURDER

1. MRS. CARMAN, 2. DR. CARMAN, 3. ELWOOD T. BARDES, 4. MADELINE BAILEY, 5. HAZEL COMBS, 6. CELIA COLEMAN, 7. W. D. BAILEY.

The illustration shows Mrs. Florence Carman, charged with the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey in Dr. Edwin Carman's office, and the chain of witnesses who are prominent in the mysterious tragedy at Freeport, N. Y. The whole country is interested in what fate has in store for Mrs. Carman, who was so suspicious and jealous of her doctor husband that she secretly installed a dictograph in her home so she could spy upon Dr. Carman when he attended to women patients. Dr. Carman is doing all he can to defend his arecused wife and he refuses to reveal the skeleton in his family closet. William D. Bailey, husband of the victim and his daughter, Madeline are reluctant and heartbroken witnesses, for they fear a shadow may be cast upon the good name of Mrs. Bailey if suspected revelations develop. Elwood T. Bardes is the insurance collector who says he saw a hatless woman dressed like Mrs. Carman walk away from the window through which the fatal shot was fired. Celia Coleman is the colored maid in the Carman home who now says Mrs. Carman entered the kitchen from the yard right after the shot was fired. Hazel Coombs was in the doctor's reception room when the murder occurred.

At The Theaters

The Lamar Airdome

Herbert and Nagado, headliners wherever they play, opened an engagement for the first part of this week last night at the Airdome. Their offering is different, entirely so, and of the kind that gets the laugh from everyone. They include a little comedy back talk with acrobatics and one of the team introduced quite the prettiest bit of dancing on skates ever seen here. Whil their act consists of a lot of slap and knockout work it is not "rough" in any sense of the word and will please all. The second vaudeville bill, the trio act, failed to arrive yesterday on account of missing connections, but will open tonight for sure. The pictures for tonight are "The Bottled Spider," Kalem, and "Universal Ike Jr., is Kept from Being an Actor." Universal Ike gets the stage fever but is cured. Of course a pretty girl is mixed up with this latest comedy.

The Gem

"Simp" Simpson and the Spirits" a Selig, two split reel Lubins and a two-reel Vitagraph, Countess Veschi's Jewels are today's pictures. "Countess Veschi's Jewels" is a drama that will interest all, well staged, produced and acted. Jack the hero, going to a house party gets a gentleman burglar's suitcase which contains a complete set of tools. The burglar attends the house party and succeeds in making a successful haul of some valuable jewels. The tools in the suit case throw suspicion on Jack but he and his sweetheart clear up matters and the real culprit is found. The latter half of the second reel is taken up with a picture of the California alligator industry.

The Empress

Gene Gauntier is featured in a three-reeler, "A Fight for a Birthright." The program is completed by a one-reel comedy.

The Victoria

Flo LaBadie and Irving Cummings have the leads in a two part Thanhouser, "From the Shadows," a touching story of the stage. "Our Mutual Girl" and a Keystone comedy complete the program for today. In "Our Mutual Girl" No. 20 Margaret is no where to be found, papers are full of it. Her aunt suspects kidnapping or blackmail, when she receives a note to meets its writer at 14th and Broadway if she would have information of her niece. Ada Taylor's brother is demanding news of his sister, and Mrs. Knickerbocker questions him closely about the missing Margaret, but neither can help the other. Taylor's aid is enlisted in the search. Gangsters on the east side use Ada Taylor as a means of obtaining blackmail(but when she is questioned at the door of Mrs. Knickerbocker's home the thugs tear her away and a lively chase ensues, but they make their escape. That same day a society burglar, who went by the name of Raffles, sent his butler down to the Gangsters den with a letter telling them to lay off boys, this is my job. Things begin to look black indeed for "Our Mutual Girl."

The Majestic

The eighth picture of the Lucille Love series is the headliner for today. No sooner than Lucille hides herself among the boxes on the wharf she hears Loubeque's voice. An officer of the Chinese police is questioning him concerning the whereabouts of Lucille, her overt act in protecting herself from the Chinese woman has been construed as murder and this new danger is confronting her. While Loubeque is talking with the police he loks around the corner of the box and ses Lucille. He is impressed with her forlorn situation and out of sheer pity for her throws the police off her trail. Loubeque then goes aboard the ship and it sets sail not however, before Lucille has stolen into the hold and found a hiding place. She is discovered and taken before the captain. The old mariner with mock seriousness tells her that her punishment shall consist in serving him as cabin boy during the remainder of the voyage. The documents of which Lucille is in search are again in the hands of Loubeque. One day while he is in his state room he catches sight of her spying on him throguh a porthole. Surmising her purpose he takes the documents from his pocket, places them in a scarf and hides the scarf under a cushion. When she goes away from the porthole, he takes the real documents from the scarf and substitutes a package of blank papers. Lucille steals the papers and very much chagrined finds out the trap into which she has fallen. But two can play at the same game. She holds papers, signed by Loubeque, which mark him as a smuggler of contraband arms into China. He proposes that she give him these papers in exchange for the documents that will save her father's honor. She agrees and both hand the other a package of blank papers. It is still a neck to neck race of wits and cunning until Loubeque makes veiled threats as to what he will do when the ship arrives at San Francisco. Lucille appeals to the captain for aid and describes her adventures to him. When the captain calls on Loubeque for an explanation of his conduct, to the girl's amazement Hugo tells the captain that she is insane. Her strange story partly corroborates this and the captain does not know what to do. On the arrival of the ship at San Francisco Lucille is abducted by the agents of Loubeque and the end of the second reel finds her a captive in a city where she has no friends.

FARMERS UNION TO HOLD MEETINGS AT FORT WORTH

State and National Conventions Will Take Place There Within a Short Time

Fort Worth, July 21.—That the attendance and business transacted at both the state and national conventions of the Farmers' union, to be held here soon, will be greatly augmented by separate meetings here of the district unions of Texas, is the expectation of local officials of the Farmers' union.

All of the seven district unions of the state have agreed to hold meetings in Fort Worth coincident with the national convention, beginning Sept. 1. A movement is now on foot to have the district unions also meet here during the state convention, Aug. 4.

There are seven district unions in Texas: Northeast Texas, Northwest Texas, Southwest Texas, East Texas central, Wichita valley and Pecan valley. If all these organizations agree to meet here during the state as well the national convention, both of the gatherings of farmers will be greatly added to. Each district union will probably hold a separate executive session and then join in a general conference with the state or national delegates.

State Secretary Baker of the Farmers' union is being kept busy with an endless stream of delegates' credentials from all parts of the state, as well as quarterly and financial reports from all the county unions.

Betwen 800 and 1,000 delegates and about 1,500 visitors are expected to attend the state convention of the Farmers' union August 4. Four delegates are allowed from each county union and one delegate from counties which have local unions but no county organizations.

Extensive preparations are also being made for the national convention. There will be in attendance one delegate at large from each state of the twenty-three states having state organizations, and in addition, one delegate for every 5,000 of membership of these states or major fraction thereof.

AUTO STARTED DOWN EMBANKMENT AT BRIDGE

Left Standing with Two Children it Started Rolling—Chaffeur's Effort to Stop It

A chaffeaur from a local garage and two little sons of J. D. Ince of this city narrowly escaped serious injury Sunday afternoon when an automobile ran down an embankment on the Wichita River.

A party consisting of the families of Mr. Ince and Mr. Sands, accompanied by Mr. Sands' father and C. de Bentley started out to spend the day on the river south of town. When they reached the ford where the road turns and crossed a deep ditch just as it turns off toward the river the chaffeur, Mr. Ince, Mr. Sands, Charlie Ince and Clyde Bentley got out to examine the bridge to see if it was safe to cross and left the two babies 2½ and 4½ years old in the auto. The brakes were supposed to be set but were not and the machine started. The chaffeur ran and jumped into the car and tried to stop it but it only went the faster. He then tried to turn it so it would run across the bridge but missed it and plunged down the embankment coming to a stop when the left hand front wheel struck the bridge and the top hooked over a 2x4 scantling that was securely fastened to two posts connecting the bridge and the fence. One of the little boys was thrown through the door which had been left unfastened and rolled away, the other landed under the front seat when the front end of the auto went over the bank. The chaffeaur only missed death by about two inches as the scantling would have cut him if he had gone two inches further, however no one was hurt but the machine was badly damaged. Another auto went back after the rest of the crowd and they all enjoyed a pleasant day.

WE COUNTED 51

Graves in one plot in Riverside Cemetery with nothing more substantial to mark them than a decaying pine board. Was one of your loved ones among the above? You can mark them substantially for a small sum. Better follow that good impulse and remember them before they are lost forever.

$5.00 for a head stone, with the name carved thereon. Why not today.

Mary Garden at Mack Taylor's

Columbia records sung by Mary Garden, and now to be heard at Mack Taylor's Drug Store, are a revelation to even the most fervid admirers of this great exponent of modern French opera. These records have an actual personal quality that seems to transcend anything heretofore in records. You can also hear Eugen Ysaye, the greatest violinist of all times, Alice Neelson, America's greatest lyric singer, Lillian Nordica, the famous soprano, Emmy Destinn, dramatic soprano, and all the other great singers of the world on Columbia Grafonolo.

Was severely criticised as being too boastful. Undoubtedly the criticism was deserved.

At the same time we feel justified in saying that we can give you better coffee values than the out of town roaster. We also feel that our twenty-five years' experience as retailers and several years as roasters should put us in a fair position to judge. We have handled at different times nearly all of the leading brands of High Grade Coffees in America and have tested them all. However at last you must be the judge and we respectfully ask you to pass your opinion, and if you don't feel justified in purchasing a pound for trial we will cheerfully supply a free sample upon request.
