Rev. Mark Abbott To Speak Sunday

Rev. Mark Abbott and his wife Diane, who have been recently commissioned as Methodist missionaries, will be speaking to the members and guests of Tahoka First United Methodist Church Sunday evening following a covered dish supper at 6 p.m.

The Abbots were commissioned as regular missionaries of the General Board of Global Ministries on Oct. 23, 1986 in New York City, and they were assigned to serve in Madrid, Spain. There Mark will be a professor of biblical studies in the seminary of the Spanish Evangelical Church, which is composed of three major traditions: Reformed, Lutheran and British Methodist.

Mark is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Merriel Abbott, who currently serve the First UMC of Lovington, N.M. Mark was recommended for a license to preach in 1974 by the charge conference of the Slaton UMC, where Merriel Abbott was pastor at the time. Mark is a graduate of Slaton High School, Oral Roberts University and Asbury Theological Seminary, and he now is working on a Ph.D in New Testament at Drew University in Madison, NJ. He has been ordained deacon and elder in the Northwest Texas Conference and served as pastor of the Plains UMC for two years following seminary.

Diane is a native of Hamburg, NY, and earned a bachelor of arts degree in Spanish Education at Oral Roberts U. She also is trained as a professional secretary. Her responsibilities in Spain are as yet undefined.

The couple have a 9-month-old son, Andrew Nelson.

BLUSTERY DAYS — The first day of Spring is officially this Saturday, but typical West Texas winds are already playing havoc with female hair styles, as demonstrated here by Belen Gomez, who may need more than two hands to keep her long hair in place. Mrs. Gomez graciously consented to being photographed in the 40-mph wind Tuesday, but this photographer didn't volunteer to help comb out her tangled locks.

Teachers, School Staff Are Hired

Tahoka School teachers and other personnel were given extensions of their contracts as the Tahoka ISD board of trustees met last Thursday. Administrators and coaches previously had been given contracts.

Charlie Keaton of Texas Roofing Co. explained the condition of the Gardner building gymnasium roof and discussed additional work needed on the classroom portion of the building roof. The board then authorized Supt. Clifton Gardner to arrange for repairs on the roof of the Gardner building.

Business manager Loretta Tekell reported a balance in all funds on Feb. 28 of $1,604,515. She also reported that on Feb. 28 the 1986 tax collection totaled $547,876, less discounts, which is 86 per cent of the total 1986 tax roll.

Marion Pennington and Lynn Lankford were added to the substitute teacher list, and the group heard a report of damage from recent vandalism to the school.

A special meeting of the board will be at noon April 6 for canvassing results of the school board election April 4. It also was decided to change the regular monthly board meeting time for April to Tuesday, April 7 at 7;30 p.m.

Officers Find Most Incidents Not Major

Officers in Lynn County were busy during the last week, but most of the incidents investigated involved disorderly conduct, drinking and traffic violations, as major crimes in the county took a breather.

Victor De Los Santos of O'Donnell reported a rock was thrown at the windshield of his 1984 model pickup while he and a passenger were driving in the 700-block of 9th St. in O'Donnell Monday night. Three suspects were named and investigation of the incident was continuing.

Zenaido Robledo of Tahoka reported a ladder stolen from his residence between March 9 and March 11.

Police investigated an accident on Saturday in the 2300 block of Main Street that involved a 1975 Pontiac driven by Emily Rivas of Tahoka and a 1982 Mercury driven by Edna Dudgeon of Lubbock. No injuries were reported.

Tahoka police arrested a 36 year old Tahoka man on Wednesday, March 11 at a North 6th Street residence for criminal mischief, disorderly conduct and public intoxication. The subject was transported to Lynn County Sheriff's Office where he was booked and jailed.

Police arrested a 35 year old Tahoka man on Friday for disorderly conduct after a family disturbance call was investigated.

Police arrested a 27 year old Tahoka man on city warrants for running stop sign, no proof of liability insurance and failure to appear.

In addition to those mentioned above, in jail during the last week were one person each for theft by check, disorderly conduct plus resisting arrest, driving while intoxicated, and contempt of court. Three persons were in jail for public intoxication.

IT'S QUITE AWHILE before vacation time for most people, but even so a lot of folks I know are getting out their maps and planning places to go and things to do.

Planning trips often is more fun than actually taking them, and a heck of a lot cheaper. Some folks typically just look at the maps and pick out an exotic, faraway place they'd like to go to , then consider it briefly before rejecting the whole idea because they won't have enough time or money and besides, their wife or husband doesn't like the idea.

"But, honey, I've always wanted to go to Cactus Gulch, Okla. during their annual Funny Hat Festival." But she'd rather be at Neiman's during their annual sale. Or he'd rather go to Daytona Beach and watch the idiot race drivers kill themselves. Or maybe to Wally-World.

What usually happens is you wind up going to Colorado or Ruidoso or Balmorhea State Park, all of which are pretty nice and which usually please most members of the family.

WE TOOK OUR own mini-vacation last week, being gone for four days, counting Sunday, which was mostly used up in returning home. During that time we looked at no daily newspapers and almost no TV, except for some recorded movies. We lived happily without any mention of Iran, Contras, Col. North and his secretary, Ronald Reagan and Donald Regan.

Regan reportedly has rejected an offer to pose nude in Outhouse.

KNOT HOLES: Saturday is the first day of Spring, when flowers, dandelions, baseball commentators, grass and gophers will suddenly appear....I am a little concerned that I may suddenly start growing deer horns, and lousy ones at that. A headline in the Lubbock A-J said "Poor Antlers Caused by Illness, Heredity" and I have had both of those things at various times.

Need Tax Help? Try VITA or TCE

Free tax return preparation is available through the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) or Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) programs.

The VITA program provides free assistance in the preparation of relatively simple tax returns for taxpayers with special needs--lower income, non-English speaking, elderly and handicapped. The volunteers, who usually set up their tax assistance sites in libraries, schools and similar locations, are trained by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

The TCE program provides tax assistance mainly for persons 60 years or over.

The IRS advises that persons going to a VITA or TCE site for assistance should be sure they take along the tax package that came to them in the mail, their wage and earnings statements, interest statements, copy of last year's return, and other necessary tax information and documents.

REFINED VS. NATURAL SUGAR-- Many people believe that natural sugar, such as that found in orange juice, is a better source of energy that the refined sugar you get from soft drinks, candy or desserts. "The fact is that sugar is sugar in whatever form, and it's stored in muscles similarly," says Dr. Alice Hunt, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. The difference is that foods with natural sugars typically have other nutrients, like the vitamin C, potassium and folic acid in orange juice. Foods containing refined sugar, such as soft drinks, frequently have no vitamins and minerals. Many desserts may have small amounts of vitamins and minerals, but are also high in fat and sodium, she explains.

With VNS cottonseed, someone always makes a profit.

Unfortunately, it may not be you.

Let's face it. VNS cottonseed is more inexpensive than Certified or Generation One cottonseed. It's no wonder. VNS's purity is questionable. It's not even inspected. VNS is just a grab bag of surprises. Surprises that in the end can cost you money.

Additionally, when you buy VNS cottonseed, you're taking a chance with your entire crop. Buy a Summit Seed cottonseed, such as their Deltapine SR 383, and you'll know exactly what you're getting — the best cottonseed available.

More importantly, Summit's cottonseed actually pays you to use it. The average price difference between VNS cottonseed and Summit's Generation One for instance, is about $2.25 an acre. But planting VNS or impure cottonseed could cost you 3¢ a pound premium compared to the quality and strength of Generation One lint. That's a $15 bonus per bale and a net return, in your pocket, of $13.75 per bale.

With a return like that, the question is not whether you can afford to plant Summit Seed's Certified or Generation One cottonseed, it's whether you can afford not to. Specify Summit Seed's Deltapine SR 383, SR 482, or SR 10. Make sure that when someone profits on your cottonseed, it's you.

CAPITOL JOURNAL

STEVEN A. CARRIKER
House of Representatives

Democratic President front runner Gary Hart met with members of the House Democratic Caucus last week, then went on to address the Senate. Hart endorsed the "Save the Family Farm" bill, sometimes called the "Harkin-Hightower" bill. He went one-up on the bill's House sponsor, Democratic Presidential rival Richard Gephardt, by suggesting even more far-reaching measures such as collective bargaining powers for farmers. Democratic politicians across the country seem to be lining up in favor of the Texas-written alternative to the current costly and unpopular farm law.

***

There is action in the Legislature to promote "truth in advertising" on constitutional amendments. I have co-authored a "clear language" bill with Representative Bob Richardson (R-Austin) that would require that proposition wording on the ballot would clearly explain to voters what they were deciding. Too often constitutional amendments are worded to sell their idea rather than to inform the voters. The most flagrant example of this is perhaps the recent amendment to do away with the state's 100 year long prohibition on branch banking. Fearful that the voters would not accept a change in the branch banking laws, the authors of the amendment specified wording referring to "full service banking" on the ballot. The bi-partisan effort by Representative Richardson and myself would end this type of deception.

***

History was made last week when 82 percent of House Republicans voted for increased taxes under the Clements tax plan. The tax bill which passed the House increases the sales and gasoline taxes on a permanent basis. A number of the rural Democrats voted against the tax, saying it was part of a larger plan to gut services in rural areas like small school funding and the Extension Service. It was the contention of those Democrats that the bill making the spending decisions should be laid out on the table before asking Texans to pay more in taxes.

***

The open-again, closed-again prison crisis is a growing concern. The House recognized the need for expanded prison space, and has passed and sent to the Governor a bill authorizing a pilot project for privately funded prisons. The Legislature sees this as a necessary first step in keeping Texas out of the federal courthouse and keeping convicted criminals behind bars rather than out on the street.

CRP Information Available At SCS

What is the right story and how does it apply to each individual farmer and farm in Lynn County?

The Food Security Act (FSA) of 1985 has mandated that every farmer must have a conservation plan on his farm or farms by Jan. 1, 1990 if his soil is predominately highly erodible and he wants to participate in numerous USDA government programs. Each farmer then has until Jan. 1, 1995 to carry out, complete, or apply the conservation plan on his land. The same law, FAS 1985, which mandates that each farmer have a conservation plan also mandates the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) to write all the needed conservation plans by Jan. 1, 1990. That means ⅓ in 1987, ⅓ in 1988 and the final ⅓ in 1989.

The SCS Office in Tahoka can review your individual operation and give you a copy of what would be required to be in compliance if you choose to participate in USDA programs.

As a farmer you need to know if the land is highly erodible and thus in need of a conservation plan and SCS needs to write ⅓ of the needed plans in Lynn County (about 470) in 1987.

We believe that an informed public makes informed decisions in our democratic society. Call 806-998-4622 for an appointment or come by our office in Tahoka.

Farmers Union Sets Meeting Tuesday

Farmers Union members and friends are invited to a Texas Farmers Union district meeting on March 24 at the Country Steak Barn, FM 1294 at 10 a.m.

The farm group will meet later at 1:30 p.m. at the Texas A&M Agricultural Research Center for a presentation by Dr. Ron Knutson of Texas A&M University.

Both meetings are open to the public.

Cotton Today

Foreign Spinners Want Improved Fiber Properties--Eight spinners representing the International Textile Manufacturers Federation advised U.S. cotton Industry representatives this week they will need cotton with improved strength, maturity and length uniformity, finer fibers, and less damage due to ginning.

The group had a frank and open discussion with some 15 breeders, producers, ginners and researchers at National Cotton Council headquarters in Memphis. The spinners later went to Gastonia, N.C., to meet with textile mill representatives.

Besides near-term needs, the spinners said they are looking at fiber characteristics of cotton for the year 2000. Committee Chairman Sebastian Otto of West Germany said improvements will be enhanced by reliable instruments to measure fiber properties, and the raw cotton industry must be adequately rewarded for producing cotton with qualities the spinners want. The group requested a follow-up session to review ginning and processing research during the U.S. Cotton Seminar to be sponsored by Cotton Council International in Europe April 29-May 6.

Boll Weevil Funeral Held- No tears were shed by the crowd attending funeral services for the boll weevil in Raleigh , N.C., this week. The rites marked the formal declaration that the weevil had been eliminated from the state as an economic pest of cotton. Among pallbearers and speakers were Gov. Jim Martin, Agriculture Commissioner Jim Graham, and Garysburg, N.C., cotton producer Marshall W. Grant, who is chairman of the Southwest Boll Weevil Eradication Committee.

Robert R. Coker, former National Cotton Council president and eradication committee chairman, Hartsville, S.C., had to cancel out on his dream of being a pallbearer at the boll weevil's funeral due to a bout with pneumonia. Speaking in his behalf was J. Ritchie Smith, former Council technical services director who worked closely with Coker to bring about the eradication program.

Outlook Conference Planned: "Productivity Through Technology Management" will be the theme for the Cotton Outlook Conference to be sponsored by the Cotton Foundation and the National Cotton Council June 15-17 at the Walden Conference Center near Houston. The theme was selected at a planning committee meeting in Memphis this week. Program topics will range from biotechnology and its impact on cotton to a discussion of agri-marketing communication. Also planned is a bus tour to nearby College Station to view cotton research being conducted at Texas A&M School of Agriculture.

Sorghum Producers To Discuss Farm Program In Lamesa

Sorghum producers in the Texas South Plains will meet in Lamesa on Wednesday, March 25, at 9 a.m. in the Farm Bureau building, 1602, Lubbock Highway, to discuss their options under the current farm program and compare it to the Market Oriented Production Plan proposed by the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Well Sites Protected During CRP Contract

Producers who have elected to enter their land into the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Conservation Reserve Program can be assured that their permitted well sites will continue to be protected under the rules and regulations of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 during the 10-year contract period.

According to A. Wayne Wyatt, Manager of the High Plains Water District, "Several questions have arisen recently concerning whether wells located within the Water District's service area on land that is entered into the CRP will continue to be recognized as legally permitted well sites and thus protected from encroachment during the contract period."

Wyatt explains, "Under the rules and regulations of the High Plains Water District, the only way the status of a legal well site can be changed is if the well owner destroys the well or formally declares the well abandoned and files an abandoned well form with the District."

A Visit With Your County Agent
By Stanley Young

Check Alfalfa For Alfalfa Weevils

This is the time when producers need to examine their alfalfa for the presence of alfalfa weevil larvae, cautions Stanley M. Young, Lynn County Extension agent for agriculture. Recent surveys around the South Plains have shown that alfalfa weevil larvae are beginning to hatch and feed in the terminals of plants.

With the beginning of warm spring weather, overwintering female weevils start laying eggs. The young larvae which hatch are very small, yellow-green in color and feed in the growing tips and developing buds. Older larvae are green with a white stripe down their back.

"We expect to have our peak alfalfa weevil activity in April in our area," said Young.

If larval numbers are high enough to reach economic threshold, one properly timed application should give control. Treatments should be applied in alfalfa two to six inches tall when two or more larvae are found per plant or when 30 to 50 percent of the plant terminals show weevil feeding damage. Plants 7 to 14 inches tall should be treated when 25 or more weevil larvae per square foot are present. Several effective insecticides are registered for alfalfa weevil control.

The alfalfa weevil has only one generation per year and is only a pest of first cutting. After the larvae finish feeding, usually by mid-May in our area, the larva spins a net-like cocoon on the plant or in the soil debris. The adult weevil emerges from this cocoon and leaves the field. The weevils stay out of the alfalfa fields all summer and re-enter them in the fall. The adults overwinter in the field and the cycles then repeats itself.

Since the larvae are a pest of first cutting, it is sometimes possible to cut a little earlier than usual and avoid chemical treatments. Cutting results in exposure and a lack of food which kills many of the remaining larvae. Winter grazing by livestock helps reduce weevil populations, the county agent said.

Farm Policy Meeting Slated

Alternatives for modifying the 1985 Farm Bill will be the subject of an upcoming conference by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The conference will be held at the Texas A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center, Lubbock, March 24 at 1:30 p.m.

The conference will present policy options and possible impacts to agricultural producers and agribusiness firms. Extension economists and South Plains agricultural leaders will make presentations.

The Agricultural and Food Policy Center at Texas A&M conducted an extensive analysis of policy alternatives, including lower target prices, the Harkin Bill, and mandatory production controls. The consequences vary considerably. Current discussion in Washington centers around some of the alternatives to be discussed at the meeting, Says Stanley Young.

The conference is open to all those interested in South Plains agriculture, emphasized Young.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Finnish researchers divided couples with hypertension into three dietary groups: (1) a low-fat diet with high ratio of poly-unsaturated (vegetable) fats; (2) a low-salt diet; (3) their normal diet. Only the group on the low-fat diet experienced a reduction in blood pressure, and this improvement reversed when they returned to their usual diet.

A TRIBUTE TO "OUR WOMEN IN WHITE"

A most important member of the Health Team is the registered nurse. Wherever she serves — in a physician's office, hospital or home — her work is indispensable.

BRIGHTER COTTON PICTURE DUE TO MARKETING LOAN--The cotton marketing loan provision of the current farm bill has given a big boost to the entire cotton industry, says an economist. The marketing loan, which adjusts the price of U.S. cotton to the world market price, has made American cotton more competitive abroad. The result has been increased world trade, reduced foreign acreage and production, and expanded consumption of U.S. cotton. However, U.S. producers must remain highly productive to compete against low-cost foreign labor and rapidly improving technology abroad. Also, strong trade policies are needed to maintain and expand exports.

OUT OF THE WOODS

By Juanell (Wood) Jones

I HATE TO clean house. It's boring, hard work, and generally no fun at all. Occasionally, though, I'm forced to drag out the old vacuum cleaner and dust rags and give the house a good "going over", as my Grandma always says.

Mostly what I don't like about this chore is that I can't ever get anybody to help me. My kids drag out toys as fast as I put them away, and my husband's idea of helping is to get out of my way ... completely out of the way, as in "I think I'll go play tennis" or some other such diversionary tactic.

My brother mentioned the other day that he vacuumed their house and tidied up the place because his wife was due home from a trip, and he wanted to surprise her. "Shock" might be a better word for it. This is the guy who, when sharing an apartment with three other guys during his college days, let the trash sacks pile up in the kitchen and out into the hallway until he could no longer leap over it, even with a running start. I suppose then he put on a gas mask and hip boots to carry out the mountain of trash that had accumulated over who knows how many days.

To my knowledge, my husband has never run a vacuum cleaner. I doubt he knows where to turn it on. In all fairness, though, he takes his turn in the kitchen occasionally, washing dirty dishes. He has even made the bed once or twice when the thought occurred to him. And when I was pregnant with our second child and couldn't bend over the bathtub, he became quite adept at bathing our son. (He also had to tie my tennis shoes for me, because not only could I not reach them, I couldn't see anything lower than the hem of my blouse.)

So, guys, it's not "unmanly" to help out around the house. In fact, I can almost guarantee your wife will adore you if you take the initiative and lend a helping hand before she even asks you to.

My idea of heaven would be to come home from work to find my husband welcoming me with open arms, supper all cooked and the table set, and the house all spic and span because he took a day off, just to surprise me. That would be a miracle.
