Lockhart Will Oppose Thomas In House Race

Lubbock Attorney, Sponsored By Friends, Will Work For Best Interests Of College, He Says In Statement

G. E. LOCKHART, Lubbock attorney, announced last night that he would enter the race as a candidate for representative from the 119th district, composed of nine South Plains counties, in response to a petition circulated by his friends here Friday.

Mr. Lockhart's final decision was reached after he had declined to make any announcement Friday night as to his reaction to the petition of his friends.

Governed by Friends

"I have been governed by the urgent requests of my friends and by a profound belief that I am able to render a real service to the citizens of this section in the event that I am elected to the State legislature," he said. "There are two major things which I would include in my platform. First, I would seek legislation favoring Texas Technological college, an institution which is inadequately supported in view of its educational influence to this great section. Secondly, I would try to create some relief for the present road situation in West Texas. We, of West Texas, are not receiving what we are entitled to and I would try to focus more light on the inconsistent program of the highway department in this section."

Attorneys For Wilcox Aren't Pleased With Court Ruling On Candidacy; Dallas Man Plans His Campaign

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 31.—Dissatisfied with the supreme court's holding that Senator Thomas B. Love, of Dallas, was qualified as a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, although he did not support the 1928 party presidential electors, attorneys for D. W. Wilcox, of Georgetown, chairman of the state democratic executive committee today field a motion for a rehearing.

TO OPEN IN AUSTIN

DALLAS, May 31. (AP)—Thomas B. Love, democratic candidate for governor issued the following statement today: "I have acceded to the request of friends in Austin to formally open my campaign for governor in the senate chamber at Austin on Saturday night, June 14, two weeks from tonight."

G. W. Skinner Admits That He Knifed Negro After Battle To Take Him From Cell; To Order Hearing

(By Associated Press)

CHICKASHA, Okla., May 31. — Lynch law claimed its second victim of the month in the Southwest today. Henry Argo, 19 year old negro, died early this afternoon at an Oklahoma City hospital from wounds inflicted by members of a mob that stormed the Grady county jail intermittently throughout the night seeking revenge for an alleged attack on a white woman.

Several members of the Chickasha artillery battery of the Oklahoma National guard suffered minor injuries from missiles thrown by the crowd.

Second This Month

Earlier this month, a large mob burned the court house and jail at Sherman, Tex., and killed a negro charged with the same offense.

Argo was shot in the head by an unknown member of a group that defied county officers and National guardsmen and entered the jail. Later, when it was believed the mob spirit had subsided and spectators were permitted in the jail, the negro was stabbed near the heart by G. W. Skinner, husband of the woman the negro was alleged to have attacked.

Skinner Arrested

Skinner and several other members of the turbulent crowd were arrested while the demonstrations were at their height, but were released later without bond. B. F. Holding, county attorney, announced after the negro's death that an

Carl Williams, Representing Cotton Growers, Speaks To Gathering Of Lamar County Citizens At Paris

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, May 31. — Practices of the Federal Farm Board and Co-operative Marketing methods were discussed by Carl Williams, cotton member of the board, before a gathering of farmers and business men of Lamar county here today.

Williams asserted the Farm Board had been instrumental in causing the price of cotton to be two cents higher than it would have been since the stock market collapsed and attributed the slump to abnormal conditions rather than due to statements and actions of the board.

The Farm Board, he declared, had been bolstering prices during the last several months in the face of the most unfavorable financial conditions.

What Is the Matter with Agriculture?

Turn to Page 12, Section 2, for the first of a series of articles on agricultural economics, especially prepared for The Avalanche-Journal by its farm editor, Al Hill.

Starting today and continuing on successive Sundays, Mr. Hill presents six articles, explaining the years of effort and planning for farm aid and the agencies through which this work has been carried on with little success. The stories are interesting, fresh and timely—and are based upon the prime industry of this section.

East Texas Petition Puts Moody In Race

Governor Refuses to Comment as Tyler Friends Act

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 31. — Action of a group of East Texas friends of Governor Moody in filing his application for a place on the democratic primary ballots as a candidate for Governor failed to move him to comment.

"I have not a thing to say," he told newspaper reporters, refusing to amplify his statement of yesterday that he would not like to run for Governor against R. S. Sterling of Houston, chairman of the Highway commission and his political friend.

Twenty-Five Sign Petition To Enter Dan's Candidacy

TYLER, May 31 (AP)—A movement to draft Gov. Dan Moody for a third term was started here today in the forwarding to Albert Sidney Johnson, secretary of the State Democratic Executive committee, in Dallas, a petition signed by 25 East Texas citizens.

Accompanying the petition was a check for $100, the necessary fee to have the Governor's name placed on the ballot in the party's coming primary election.

Can Withdraw Name

By the action of the East Texan Mr. Moody becomes a candidate, as rules of the party permit either a candidate or 25 representative citizens to file his application for a place on the ballot. However, should the Governor wish he has the privilege of withdrawing the application.

Today's petition was the third

LAS VEGAS, N. M., May 31. — A tornado struck Wagonmound, N. M., late this afternoon and was reported to have demolished half the community.

Wagonmound has a population of about 1,200. Fire trucks were dispatched to the community to fight a fire reported to have broken out immediately after the twister had done its damage. One victim, according to information received, was a 17-year-old boy, Alfred Holbrook. Another resident, Floyd Criger, was reported to be injured seriously.

Electric Wire Burns Lubbock Man Seriously

A. P. Lyons, Texas Utilities Employe, Injured At Work Saturday; Co-Laborer Is Placed In Rescue Role

A. P. Lyons, 26, of 1404 Avenue K, an employe of the Texas Utilities company, was seriously injured Saturday morning about 10 o'clock when he came in contact with a live wire while working on a pole on Third street, between Avenues V and W.

Lyons was found unconscious and "frozen" to his position on the pole by L. G. Bell, who was working near him at the time. Bell, after some difficulty, was able to get the injured man loose from the wire and call an ambulance.

Long Unconscious

Rushed to the Lubock sanitarium for treatment, the young man did not regain consciousness until 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon and, according to physicians was suffering of severe shock. Only very small burns were in evidence about his body. His condition last night was said to be slightly improved.

After regaining consciousness Lyons was unable to tell what had happened. He stated that the last he could remember was working on a wire and then everything went black.

Girand Is Named In GOP Primary

W. D. Girand, local attorney and referee in bankruptcy for the Lubbock division of the Federal court, yesterday was drafted as a candidate for the republican nomination of justice of the court of criminal appeals, according to word received here last night from Dallas.

Girand was selected together with a list of 34 other candidates for office in Texas. He will be opposed by W. S. West, Brownsville, in the first republican primaries in July. Selections were made by the state executive committee in session at Dallas.

County Judge Presides, Tells Views Of Commission; Jail Problem Is Paramount, Say Most Of 50 Present

DIVIDED opinions centered around discussion pertaining to solution of the congested and unsanitary conditions prevailing in Judge Robt. H. Bean, presided over pressed sentiment of two citizens viewed the proposal as a plan designed mainly to clear landscape for the new $335,000 federal building here Saturday afternoon at a mass meeting of 50 voters of the county.

The meeting was called by County Robert H. Bean, who presided over the session, for the purpose of soliciting opinions that might govern the Commissioners' court in arriving at a "practical plan to submit to voters," following defeat one month ago of a $250,000 bond issue, which was proposed for a new jail and criminal court structure.

None Favor Additions

While many made no expressions, a straw vote revealed that none was in favor of building a new jail and twelve favored the original proposal of $250,000 for a combined criminal courts structure and jail.

Two Men Jailed After Stealing Railroad Track

(By Associated Press)

PORT ARTHUR, May 31.—Two white men were arrested today for "stealing a railroad."

The men had taken up approximately two blocks of a Southern Pacific switch near the Gulf Refining company and had carted the steel off and sold it to a local junk dealer. They had returned for the last load which they were leisurely taking up when apprehended.

The men were using Kansas City Southern railroad tools to take up the track. One of the men was taking up a switch which throws the siding onto the main line, while the other was prying up the rails when caught.

Four Lubbock Boys Injured In Car Crash

Vain Harkey, Richard Carruth, Ford Couey, Leon Harvey Hurt when Car Hits Another on Road Early Today

Four Lubbock youths were injured, two seriously, at about 2:15 o'clock this morning when the car in which they were riding crashed into a parked automobile seven miles south of the city on the Lamesa highway.

Vain Harkey, employe of a local tailor shop, received severe gashes about the head and fractured ribs. Physicians said his skull possibly was fractured. Ford Couey suffered gashes above the left eye and about the head. Richard Carruth was painfully lacerated about the face and head. Leon Harvey, fourth occupant of the car, also was painfully hurt.

None of the ocupants of the parked car was injured, although both autos were badly smashed. The victims were brought to the Lubbock sanitarium by passing motorists.

Both groups were said to have been returning from a dance at Woodrow, 12 miles south of Lubbock.

At 4 o'clock this morning, attending physicians said the conditions of Harkey and Couey were serious.

The parked car was owned by Elmer Calhoun. Two other boys and two girls were in the car although their names were not learned.

Chicago Officers Seek Dallas Girl

CHICAGO, May 31. (AP)—E. J. McShane, University of Chicago student, appealed to police today for aid in finding his fiancee, Miss Kyra Kyrilla, 20, of Dallas, whom he reported disappeared an hour before they were to be married.

Miss Kyrilla arrived this morning from Dallas to keep a wedding engagement with McShane, taxied to the dormitory where he lives, greeted him, then announced she would motor to a neighboring shop, make a purchase and return almost immediately, McShane told police.

That was at 10 a. m. McShane waited six hours, then notified police.

City Runs Away In Race For Next Convention; Coombs Is Unanimously Made President

Lubbock Polls 1,207 1-2 Votes, Sweetwater 649 And Mineral Wells 67 In Ballot For 1931 Meeting; Chamber Listens To Prominent Men Speak Then Takes Public Stand

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, May 31.—Lubbock was awarded the 1931 convention of the West Texas Chafber of Commerce tonight.

Lubbock received 1,207 1-2 votes, to 649 for Sweetwater, its nearest competitor. Mineral Wells was third with 67 votes.

Wichita Lad Wins Contest.

Joe F. Witherspoon, Wichita Falls high school boy, won the annual "My Home Town" oratorical contest.

In a session which was even more harmonious than that of yesterday, the chamber today completed its declaration on positions of public questions. New officers, including President Charles E. Coombs, of Stamford, were chosen by unit directors who also unanimously agreed upon another term of office for General Manager D. A. Bandeen.

This afternoon delegates forgot business to engage in colorful parades by delegations and to witness the climax of the spectacles of the convention, an air circus in dedication of Kinsolving field, Abilene's new airport. Delegations from 26 towns, each boasting a band, marched in the parade.

Resolutions Passed

All resolutions offered today were adopted without opposition. The most important were a declaration for further protection of property occupants against "land grabbers," and a water priority resolution.

Senator Clint Small, of Wellington, candidate for governor, and Rep. Cecil Storey, of Vernon, candidate for attorney general, spoke for the land resolution. Senator Walter C. Woodward, of Coleman, sponsored the water proposal.

Stamford Man Elected

Charles E. Coombs, of Stamford, was elected president of the oranization by unanimous vote. The Stamford attorney was a past vice-president and treasurer and chairman of the important work committee.

Other officers named were: Houston Harte of San Angelo, first vice-president; Cliff Caldwell, of Abilene, second vice-president, and R. C. Colbert, of Stamford, treasurer. Caldwell defeated A. C. Easterling of Del Rio, and the others had no opposition. D. A. Bandeen was re-elected manager without opposition.

Relief Is Seen

Senator Small asserted that the so-called Small River Bed law, constitutionality of which is to be determined by the supreme court after being upheld by a trial court and the court of civil appeals, had brought considerable relief to land owners, but he urged additional safeguards.

"The state, and not alien vacancy hunters, should determine where a vacancy exists," Small said. "The occupants of land then should be granted prior right to purchase."

Bledsoe Drive Is Begun Here

Lieutenant-Governor's Chase Enlivened In Meeting Held Last Night; Gathering Of Friends Set For Monday

Following a meeting of 25 prominent citizens of Lubbock, held last night, tentative plans for organization of a "Bledsoe for Lieutenant-Governor" campaign committee were formulated, for the purpose of advancing the candidacy of W. H. Bledsoe, of Lubbock, for that office.

Judge Clark M. Mullican was chosen chairman of the Bledsoe campaign committee, with George Dupree as secretary. A manager and committees will be chosen Monday night at a mass meeting of Lubbock citizens called for 8 o'clock. The gathering will be held in the 99th district courtroom at the courthouse. The public is invited to attend.

Graf Zepp, Battered By Wind But Airworthy, Reaches U. S.

(By Associated Press)

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 31.—After riding out the most tempestuous squalls of its career, the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin, great gray rambler of the skies, arrived today at this scene of its first triumphal crossing of the Atlantic.

Its shimmering skin blanched by tropic suns and washed by subequatorial torrents the skyship that has crossed the Pacific once and the Atlantic seven times, to say nothing of ringing the world, nosed into sight at 6 o'clock (E. S. T.) this morning as ghostly as the mists from which it came.

Storms Recounted

Officers and passengers told of storms in the air and as soon as the ship was berthed workmen began repairs on broken struts holding in place the rear engine gondola.

W. F. Von Meister, American representative of the Luftshifbau, said that the struts were broken while the ship was at its mast at Pernambuco. He said that the damage was found to be unimportant and to avoid delay the ship was brought on here with no more than jury repairs. He said that the gondola had suffered no additional damage during the flight from Pernambuco, despite the rough weather.

The passengers spoke of the storm casually and smilingly just as one tells of rough but undangerous seas encountered on an ocean liner. Even the women, Mrs. Mary Pierce of New York City, Mrs. Laura Durston of Syracuse, New York, and Lady Grace Drummond Hay of London, said that they had not been frightened at any time.

Soon after the ship arrived,

Trio Of Tests In Hobbs Holds The Spotlight

Major Operations Underway By Humble, Tidal And Hobbs Are Being Watched; Pay Is Shifting To East

Three major operations now hold the spotlight of attention in the Hobbs, N. M. area, according to advices received Saturday from oil scouts stationed in that territory. The Humble No. 1 Bowers, in section 30-18-38, the Tidal Oil company No. 1 Grimes, in section 29-18-38 and the Hobbs High Inc., No. 1 Tatum, in section 35-18-38, now are being watched with a great deal of interest by members of the oil fraternity throughout this section of West Texas and in New Mexico.

The Humble No. 1 Bowers, elevation 3657 feet, topped first gas at 2772 feet with an estimated oil show of 25 barrels per hour at 3143. The well is now flowing about 7500 barrels.

Tidal Tops Gas

Tidal Oil company No. 1 Grimes, located one mile east of the Humble well, elevation 3646 feet, topped first gas at 2792 feet or about 30 feet lower structurally on gas, whereas it was 134 feet lower on anhydrate than the Humble well. This fact, according to geologists, shows a thinning of salt beds of over 100 feet. Saturday a show of oil was encountered at 3115 feet which makes it about 30 feet higher than the first oil show in the Humble well, further thinning in evidence.

This thinning off of the salt series beds above the line from the Humble well eastward makes the Hobbs field widen to the east and makes the Hobbs High Inc., No. 1 Tatum look promising for a producer.

Pro-Commissioner Doran Says Cooperation Is Lacking

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Public opinion was described today by Prohibition Commissioner Doran as the deterrent to that complete enforcement of the dry laws which could be accomplished if all the states would cooperate with the federal authorities.

In a monograph contending that the states and the federal government had concurrent obligations to enforce prohibition, Doran said that in states where there was lax cooperation "unwholesome influences are at work to prevent enforcement."

M. C. Little, 22, above, of Lubbock, is perhaps the youngest contractor in the Southwest. His most recent monument of skill is the new $50,000 business structure of B. E. Needles, located at Avenue H and 15th street.

Needles Opening Draws Big Crowd

More than 20,000 people and an excess of 2,500 automobiles were estimated as having been on hand for the opening of B. E. Needles' new $50,000 super service station at Avenue H and Fifteenth street Saturday, according to a check made by J. E. Wacksmith, of Dallas, branch manager of the Goodrich Rubber company.

Mr. Needles announced that by 2 o'clock in the afternoon 2,000 bottles of soda water had been given away. 'We believe," he said, "that our six automatic pumps emptied more gasoline into cars on this Saturday than has ever been sold by any service station on the South Plains in any one day heretofore."

Success of the formal opening is credited in great measure to advertising carried in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche and Lubbock Daily Journal, Mr. Needles declares.

Two Held For Slaying Wife

Ohioan And His Paramour Are Facing Murder Charges As Aftermath To Illicit Love Affair; Woman Is Bitter

(By Associated Press)

JEFFERSON, O., May 31.—A young woman's quest for happiness through love of a married man and the slaying of his wife culminated today in the filing of first degree murder charges against Mrs. Maude Lawther, 22 year old housemaid, and Trilby Smith, 26, the man she loved.

The two were arraigned today before Justice of the Peace T. J. Weatherstone and held for the grand jury June 9 in jail without bond. Both pleaded not guilty.

Woman Part Indian

Calmly and without emotion Mrs. Lawther, a dark haired woman with sparling black eyes who says she is a quarter-blood Indian, told officials and newspapermen how Smith plotted with her to slay his 22-year-old wife, who was shot through the temple on a lonely road west of Ashtabula Thursday night.

Both defendants were said to have confessed yesterday to the plot to slay the woman, each blaming the other.

Today's injuries resulted when British mounted troops charged to break up an attack on the salt pans at Dharsana, where similar raids have occurred almost daily for two weeks. Nationalist volunteers numbering 156 started for the pans and were driven back several times by the sticks of foot police. The mounted troops finally charged.

Taken from stock January, 1929. Placed on Silver Fleet. Driven 29,764 miles without leaving rim. Transferred to our 1930 Silver Fleet. This actual photograph shows exact condition of tire when retired from service. Total mileage, 47,892. Punctures, 8. Blow-outs, none. Carcass breaks, none. Reason for removal, two nails embedded in tread.

Worn Out... at last! after 47,892 miles

THERE IT IS, in the picture up above. Through! Worn out! Ready for the scrap heap. That Silvertown we showed you in one of our advertisements a while ago.

It traveled 30,000 miles with last year's Silver Fleet. Made the entire tour through 46 states without ever coming off the rim. Transferred to the 1930 Goodrich Silver Fleet . . . and punished for 17,892 more miles.

Now it's through . . . with a service record of 47,892 miles.

Proud? Naturally we're proud of it! Because we sell tires like that. Tires capable of giving unheard-of mileage.

There's nothing special about this Silvertown. Nothing out of the usual run. It came straight from stock for its grueling trip with the Silver Fleet. And it received no care . . . no attention . . . you can't give your tires.

That's why we're sure of ourselves when we say you can get mileage like this from Silvertowns. They've proved they have the stuff. Proved they can beat all comers in open competition.

Come in to see our Silvertowns. Blood brothers to this veteran of the roads. They never were expensive . . . and now, mile for mile, they're the cheapest tire you can buy. Yes, we have your size waiting for you.

Notice!

It is really a pleasure to offer this wonderful proven Quality tire to our many customers on the South Plains.

Our daily volume of sales are increasing over last year's records . . . . and confirmations from our customers on the wonderful mileage that they are getting with Goodrich Tires are similar to those reports that were handed in by the Goodrich Silver Fleet.

Steady Growth Marks Spur's Rise From Cattle Range

Agriculture Has Big Part In Progress

Famous Old Ranches Broken Up Into Farms; Excellent Advancement Made In City In Past Decade

(By Staff Correspondent)

SPUR, May 31.—Nestling at the foot of a huge hill which rises for some distance above the surrounding rolling country just off the cap rock, is Spur, one of the prettiest cities in West Texas and the center of a great agricultural and cattle community.

Spur has had a steady growth, not rapid but on a firm basis with a good territory to draw from and a group of citizens who are alive to their possibilities and prospects.

Has Much History

But Spur does not have only a wealth of beauty and agricultural resources but history as well. There are many ranches with history extending back for 40 or 50 years or more.

For example, there is the famous Spur ranch, which is as famous over the nation as the old Capitol Syndicate's XIT, the Matador or any other. It was begun back in 1881 or 1882 as the Spur ranch and sold to the Espuela Cattle company. In turn this company sold to the Espuela Land and Cattle company and later S. M. Swenson and sons, E. P. and S. A. associated with the National City bank of New York City, bought the place.

The Matador ranch also reached into the Spur territory and it was to this place, over in Motley county, that the late Judge Benjamin Worswick went about 1889.

Spur Has 2,000 People

Spur has nearly 2,000 people living there. Latest figures are 1,883 but it is though the actual number is right at 2,000. Ten years ago the town had a population of around 1,100. Twenty years ago it was so small that it was not considered apart from the justice precinct.

The town was started November 1, 1909 by S. M. Swenson and sons. On the same day the Stamford and Northwestern pulled its first passenger train into town.

Charles A. Jones, recently of Kansas City but retired to Los Angeles, was manager. He had come tot this country in 1907 to take charge of the Spur ranch as the resident executive when the Swensons purchased the property of the Espuela Land and Cattle company in August of that year.

The town was incorporated February 7, 1911. First city officials were: George S. Link, mayor; W. G. Sherrod and E. C. Edmonds, commissioners; Oscar Jackson, recorder and secretary; R. D. Glasgow, attorney; Dr. J. E. Morris health officer and J. M. Neeley marshal.

Has Paving Program

Spur is starting a paving program that calls for the completion of five streets down town. As soon as the state highway from Dickens to Spur is completed, several more blocks of paving probably will be added.

The town has its own electric power plant, serving several hundred customers. There also is a privately owned utility company operating in town.

Between 80 and 90 business houses are operating, including two wholesale grocery houses shipping to a wide territory.

Averages Over $1,000,000

Two national banks have combined deposits of around a million dollars at the present time. "Our bank deposits for the past five years show an average of $1,081,852," says Dr. D. L. Granberry, secretary of the chamber of commerce. "I don't think there are very many towns the size of Spur that can show that record."

The valuation of all property in the city is estimated at approximately $2,800,000. City property is valued at $204,609, including the power plant, sewer and water works systems and other property.

Spur boasts five gins within the city limits, one a double gin; a compress, seven churches, a Rotary club, an active chamber of commerce, a business college, a cream plant, steam laundry, two wholesale houses, two hatcheries an active retail credit association and five hotels.

Experiment Farm There

State experimental farm No. 7 is located a mile and a half from the city, with R. E. Dickson as superintendent. Its 320 acres are devoted to experimental work that has proven of value to farmers and ranchers of the section in West Texas below the cap rock.

The school system of Spur includes a high school, junior high school and a ward school, with an enrollment of approximately 800.

The Rotary club has 41 active members and is a factor in the promotion of the city's social life.

One of the best golf courses in this section is the Espuela Golf club's course.

Maintains Library

One of the city activities is a library, in the office of the city secretary. Helen Grace, one of the town girls and a daughter of Dr J. H. Grace a pioneer physician of the city, is librarian. The library has 530 volumes and residents are making use of the facilities in increasing numbers.

Headquarters of the S. M. Swenson and Sons interests in Texas are located here with Clifford B. Jones, president of the board of trustees of Texas Technological college at Lubbock, as resident manager. The ranch properties more than 100,000 acres in ranch lands and around 150,000 more acres in farm lands and other properties.

The town was begun by the Swensons who organized the townsite company. Only a very small proportion of the original town lots are unsold.

Has Rail Connection

Direct connections with Wichita Falls by rail, via Stamford, are possible over the Wichita Valley, a subsidiary of the Fort Worth and Denver City, in turn a part of the Colorado and Southern and the great Burlington system.

There is soon to be paved a highway to Dickens, the county seat, 11 miles away and at the foot of the caprock off the "East Plains."

Bus lines connect Spur with Lubbock and also to Stamford and there to Wichita Falls. Also there is a line to Abilene.

Spur has a county fair association and grounds, located just across the railroad tracks. The fair dates have been set for this fall and officers of the association are making plans for a larger exposition than ever.

Besides cotton and cattle, maize, grain sorghums and alfalfa are raised in the county. There in an increasing interest in feeding of cattle with home grown feeds.

The city of Spur has outstanding obligations of but $64,000 including those against the power plant.

"We are retiring bonds by earnings of our plant," the city secretary said. The city will soon be out of debt.

Something like 450 customers are on the books of the sewer system. As fast as the city grows the system is being extended.

LUBBOCK LOSING

D. L. Granberry, secretary of the Spur chamber of commerce and W. D. Stracher, editor of the Dickens County Times, did not get together the other day on the amount of money they believe Lubbock loses each year by not having a paved road connecting that city with Spur. Said the editor, "Lubbock loses at least $100,000 a year because they do not have a paved road here." When discussing the situation in Spur, the chamber of commerce man said "Lubbock would get at least $30,000 more a year if they had a paved road." Told that the editor had mentioned a figure three times greater, the secretary exclaimed "That's the way with you newspaper fellows, you always get things bigger than we do."

KNOWS HIS FRENCH

Rev. C. W. Parmenter of Spur is popular with the Legionnaires of that town. The parson served overseas and knows a lot of French words and when the crowd from another town shows up they trot out the minister to talk French a bit. It always makes a hit. The Spur post has helped organize one post in a neighboring town, Jayton, and members declare that if they ever hear so much as a whisper of any other town wanting a post, they'll be there pronto. Reverend Parmenter goes on most of the out-of-town trips.

USES SHOVEL

Alton Abbott of the Texas Motor Ways line got mud on his shovel at last and he didn't do it trying to shovel the big Buick out of the mud. Last winter during a heavy snowstorm Alton bought the shovel and fastened it onto his car to use in case the snow got too deep and he had to shovel out. He used it several times between the end of the Dickens county paving and the caprock near crosbyton. The mud was so deep and the big car threw so much of it that about two or three shovels would have been necessary to remove the mud.

POPULAR GROUP

One of the popular musical aggregations in Spur is the Ukulele Girls of the high school. There are seven of them and they dress alike, red and black dress. All of them sing as well as play and their favorite plan is to sing and play a few popular sings, making a parody of some well known number with local color to it.

INTERESTED IN LUBBOCK

Mayor Ned Hogan of Spur is interested in everything pertaining to Lubbock. The mayor is a partner in the store of Hogan and Patton, with E. C. Patton of Lubbock. They have one store in Spur and one in Lubbock.

GROUP ENTERTAINING

A Lubbock Legion quintet Wednesday night just about shocked some of the Spur folks. The boys went out to the Legion barbecue and entertained the visitors from other towns and the Spur boys and their families with songs, stunts and talks.

Toastmaster Whitacre told so many stories on Scottie and Sham Battle and "Mr. Henderson's side partner" that the crowd had to hold their sides. Then the post commander, J. A. Raley, led the sing song at the close and lead every song that was called for, although several were popular about the days of '98. On the way back the bunch went to a filling station to get gas and they "stung" Mr. Henderson of Texas for the gas. Then at the cafe, the bill was settled by the toastmaster, who was the low man. Pepped up with a lot of barbecue steak and some hot coffee the boys sang all the way down town, to the entertainment of the crowd. The last seen of the boys they were singing down Burlington avenue headed for Lubbock.

Warriors For Health Should Be Put To Work, City Health Physician Says

Typhoid And Other Diseases Should Be Watched

AS SUMMER arrives, the warriors for health arm themselves against the encroachment of typhoid fever and other diseases which prevail during summer.

Lubbock is entering the hot weather months in fairly good health, according to Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer.

"Summer should be the most healthful season of the year in Lubbock," said Dr. Rollo, "due to the fact that the South Plains has teeming sunshine and an invigorating climate.

Should Be Vaccinated

"As a sure preventive of the summer dread, I would urge every one to become vaccinated against typhoid fever.

"There are many other simple rules for maintaining health, which could be briefly outlined as follows:

"Drink plenty of milk.

"Screen houses against flies and do everything to prevent breeding of the insect.

"Oil lakes and water pools.

"Eat plenty of vegetables.

"Spend much of the summer in the open air, and get at least eight hours sleep per day.

"Lubbock's milk supply is in splendid shape, and I can wholeheartedly encourage one to drink much milk. This city has adopted the standard milk ordinance as proposed by the United States public health service and backed by the State department of health. This is a big protection and insures a good and safe milk supply if one takes advantage of its provisions.

"The ordinance requires that milk come from healthy cows, be handled in a clean fashion, and kept clean, cool, and covered in transit.

"Most important—the ordinance grades milk."

Two World Records Are Shattered At National Meet

Atlanta Wizard Defeats Roger Wethered To Annex Last Of Major Golf Titles; Large Gallery Sees Match

By FRANK H. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 31. (AP)—Bobby Jones today completed his golfing diadem by winning the British Amateur championship, which he has long coveted, by a convincing defeat of Roger Wethered, seven up and six to play in the 36-hole final.

All the jewels of golf now have sparkled from Bobby's crown. He is the only man who has ever won the open and amateur titles of both the United States and Great Britain.

They gave him the cup on the terrace of the royal and ancient clubhouse this evening with all the patriarchs of golf gathered there.

The final between Jones and Wethered, with 12,000 persons trying to see the shots, was the climax of a great week of golf in fine bracing Scotch weather and with enthusiastic galleries trailing over the famous links where putts have been missed for 500 years.

A Gallant Climb

Nearly 300 matches have been played this week—all free—for St. Andrews is a public course and there is no admission fee. Never have the golf loving Scots had such a good time as they have watching Jones climb, round by round, over Englishmen, Scotsmen and Americans including the amateur champions of Great Britain and the United States, and the captain of the British Walker Cup team as a final opponent.

Wethered was a worthy opponent and great sportsman. Although the tide was against him all the way, he never seemed worried and played his normal game, which was good, but not good enough.

Jones played 30 holes in two under fours and there is the story of the 1930 British Amateur final.

First Nine Square

The former British Amateur champion held the American Open champion level for the first nine holes, with each one under par. Jones won five of the next seven holes and Wethered rallied with a great birdie at the 17th to win and go to luncheon four down, when he had been five behind.

The Briton won the first hole in the afternoon when the American was stymied and seemed about to win the second when Jones made one of his few bad drives of the week. The visitor, however, seemed always to have a great shot in his bag when needed and he recovered with an iron good enough to place him in position to win the hole.

Wethered Reduces Lead

Wethered reduced the lead to three at the sixth, but it was the last chance he had against the machine like precision of the American's game.

The home player's wild tee shots cost him dearly in the morning and forced him to struggle to keep within reasonable distance. In the afternoon his long game steadied, but his loose play on the greens ruined his chances, and play ended on the 30th with a missed putt by Wethered from three feet.

"I didn't drive or putt well today," said Wethered tonight, "somehow or other I seemed to pull every ball off line, but Bobby Jones is a great golfer who may put any one off his driving. Every one does it, and I had my bad lapse in the morning. But I did not play so badly and would have won from many other golfers. All day Jones drove magnificently. I envy him his long game and his fine touch on the greens."

"I was lucky to win," was Bobby's comment.

Scots Favored Bobby

Jones' victory was popular with the Scots. They swarmed after his shots and climbed on each other's shoulders. Many placed their youngsters on their heads and had the story of the utting relayed.

When the finish came the crowds engulfed Bobby like wild tribesmen. Half a dozen Scotch bobbies rescued him and escorted him back to the club house, more than a mile away, for the match ended at the 12th hole, far out on the neck of the links.

Jones received the cup he wanted most of all from the hands of Col. P. G. M. Skene, captain of the Royal and Ancient club, who called attention to the fact that the new champion is an honorary member of the Royal and Ancient.

"I never have been happier to get any cup," he said, "and I never worked so hard, nor suffered so much either."

Par Played By Jones

Jones' relentless battle against par proved too much for his slender opponent. The fact that Wethered was playing his ball seemed incidental. Bobby was trying constantly to better or at least remain level with par and in this he was highly successful.

In the morning round he never went above the figures called perfect for each hole. He had one five at the long seventh, where Wethered got a fine birdie four, but Jones had birdies at the fifth and 14th and with all the others in even par he was two under for the morning round.

In the afternoon he went over par on two of the first four holes but after that he never slipped, and birdies at the 23rd and 28th holes offset them, so in his battle against par her had a two stroke advantage for the day.

Wins On 30th

Turning at the ninth—the 27th of the match—for the last time Bobby shot 3-3-4 and it was all over. With a four hole advantage at the intermission he added one hole on the first nine of the afternoon, and was five up. He made it six with a birdie three at the 312 yard 28th where he almost drove the green. His par three at the short 29th was good enough for a half, and a par four at the 30th brought him the title when Wethered missed a putt for the half.

Lubbock Hubbers and Amarillo Texans clash at Merrill Park this afternoon. Game starts at 3 o'clock.

While the Puckett brigade is entertaining the home fans, Dutch Luenberger and his Advertisers will be at the Lynn county capital for an engagement with the strong Tahoka outfit. Scott is due to start on the mound against Amarillo and Hoyle will oppose the Tahoka sluggers.

Today's game with the Tactless crew from Amarillo will bring a group of former Lubbockites back to the old home lot. Sled Allen, the erstwhile "Daddy" of baseball on the South Plains and former manager of the Lubbock Hubbers, will take his position behind the bat for the invaders. Windy Nicklaus, a baseball and football star for Tech matadors during the early years of the school's existence, will be on third base. Gib Jackson, one of the most versatile diamond stars to ever don a Lubbock uniform, is to cover one of the outer gardens for Emmer Gober's nine. Manager Gober is recognized as one of the smartest semi-pro baseball heads in the state and from all indications he has assembled a whale of a club at the Panhandle metropolis.

Thus far in the 1930 season the turnouts for games here have been disappointing. The basic reason for this lethargy on the part of fans, as we see it, is simply a lack of baseball interest. But at the same time there are enough baseball enthusiasts left in Lubbock to suport a winning club, if this club can furnish the class of baseball a city of this size demands. Today's game with the Amarillo team should prove an acid test for not only the strength of the local nine but for the city's fandom and its support.

Two recent additions to the Fort Worth club of the Texas League appear likely to bring the Panthers back into the pennant chase in short order. Both are pitchers, the first Lil Stoner, a former Cat who has returned to Cowtown after an extensive stay in the majors, and the other is Henry Thormahlen, bought laft week from Waco. The latter has won eight and lost two games this season and is certain to be a consistent winner for Frank Snyder. Stoner has won his first three starts since joining the Felines and scouts are wondering why he was allowed to leave the Big Show. Although occupying fifth place in the Texas League standings, the Panthers are but five games out of first place. Manager Snyder's cohorts have just recently hit their stride and will be plenty dangerous for the rest of the way to the finish.

Ted Robinson, president of the Fort Worth club, refused to divulge the price paid for the Cub hurling ace, but said it was "the highest price one Texas League club ever paid another for a player." The new Cat reported to Waco last season, coming to Manager Derrill Pratt from the East Carolina league. With Wilmington in that circuit he had won 14 and lost two and his club was in the second division. Manager Pratt, recognized for his ability to develop young players, has put his stamp of approval on Thormahlen, declaring that he is a coming star.

For your information this morning, we are able to announce that A. B. C. baseball nine has been officially named the "Primer Boys," after a long confab with leading members of that organization. The youngsters are hot and ready for their battle Tuesday afternoon with the Never-Say-Die Kiwanians. Clarence A. (Call Me Sheff) Sheffield, bell bull for the good-time charlies, has formally accepted the position of head cheer leader for the A. B. C.'s and everything is set, including the big war clubs of the Kiwanians. "Junior" Watson, former pride of Midland and Baylor College for Women, holds the inside track for pitching duty in the Primer Boys' camp. Watson is endowed with enough confidence to turn back the army and navy, but Amos Howard and his slugging mates appear confident of pounding Watson from the Hillock. The A. B. C. hurler will have able assistance behind the bat in the person of Windy Watkins, versatile Hubber star.

Eckhardt Runs Swat Average To .411 Mark

Beaumont Slugger's Feat Of Leading League For Seven Consecutive Weeks Said To Be Unparalleled

DALLAS, May 31. (AP)—Pounding the ball at his hardest clip of the season, including one run of nine consecutive hits, big Oscar Eckhardt of the Beaumont outfield pushed his sticking average up to the high mark of .411 through games of Thursday and again had undisputed hold on the Texas League leadership.

Joe Munson, the Waco war-horse who climbed into a tie with Eckhardt last week, could not hold the pace and fell back to second place with a mark of .383. Eckhardt's feat in leading the batting race for seven consecutive weeks is said to be unparalleled in modern Texas League ball.

Kaufman Is Third

Other leading clubbers of the circuit included Kaufman (Houston) .365; Shiver (Beaumont) .365; Rye (Waco) .358; Schinkel (San Antonio) .355; Holm (Houston) .352; E. Brown (Dallas) .352; Selph (Houston) .342; Morrow (Houston) .342. It was noteworthy that the league leading Wichita Falls Spudders did not have a man among the leaders. Neither was Shreveport, in fourth place, represented.

Schinkel, slugging San Antonio gardener, was leading the league in two departments, total hits and triples. He had banged 70 safe ones, followed by Selph and Eckhardt, each with 65. He had slapped five triples, the same number as his teammate, J. Moore.

Hock Scores 41 Runs

Hock, Houston third sacker, had scored 41 times, compared to 40 each for Whelan of Shreveport and "Half Pint" Rye and Waco. Fitzgerald of the Spudders was leading in doubles, with 17. Burns of the Spuds and Stewart, Shreveport, each had 16. Bad Bill Kelly, Panther first baseman, clung to a slight lead over Bettencourt, Wichita Falls, in the race for homerun honors, with 13 and 12, respectively.

Lil Stoner, Fort Worth, and Vincent and Florrid of Wichita Falls, led the league's pitchers, each with three wins and no defeats.

Arnold Fatalist

Race Winner Will Stay on Track

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31. (AP)—Billy Arnold, winner of yesterday's 500 mile auto race, is a fatalist and, believing that "you're oing to get it some time no matter where you are," will continue racing.

The Chicagoan, who looks more like 18 than 26, has participated in three speedway races, finishing seventh in 1928, eighth in 1929 and first yesterday. He will receive part of the $52,150 prize money, the remainder going to Harry Hartz, owner of the car he drove in the race.

Arnold's mother, Mrs. Anna Arnold, said if Billy wanted to continue racing he had her approval. Arnold, however, does not want Eddie, his 18-year-old brother, to enter the sport, Eddie, a copy boy on the Chicago Daily News, today was the proud recipient of a sports roadster given him by Arnold. The latter is expected to race at Detroit next week.

Spur Team Faces Heavy Schedule

SPUR, May 31.—Spur high school has a heavy schedule of football this year, with 16 games arranged for or possible.

First game is with Pampa on September 5, right at the opening of the school year.

Gene Taylor, popular coach the past year, is director of athletic work. He is brother of Harry Taylor, coach at Post last year, who has gone to Mangum, Okla.

There will be 10 or 11 letter men from the 1929 team back in uniform this fall. Of these is Captain B. M. Puckett, fullback, who is playing his last year of high school football. Puckett has been one of the popular members of the team.

About 50 boys are eligible for football and it is expected most of them will be on hand when the call is made for practice. Spring practice was had this year.

A large number of the games for the 1930 season are non-conference games.

Angelo Team Sets New Mark In Mile Relay

Babe Russel Of Hereford Third In 220; Harlandale High, San Antonio, Youth Breaks Hurdle Record

CHICAGO, May 31. (AP)—Froebel High of Gary, Ind., today successfully defended its national track and field championship in the University of Chicago's twenty-sixth annual meet, piling up 52 points to win over Brazil, Ind., which was second with 40.

Oak Park High was third with 28, Kokomo, Ind., had 23, and Atwood, Ill., and Pittsburg, Kas., 18 each.

Two world interscholastic records were bettered and three meet records were improved, along with a pair of new relay race marks, as the Gary team won the meet in the last two events, the half-mile and mile relays.

Fuqua Is Star

Ivan Fuqua, the one-man team from Brazil, was the outstanding performer, placing first in the 440 yard and 220 yard dashes and second in the 100 yard dash for a total of 23 points.

Texas placings were as follows:

One mile relay — Won by San Angelo, Tex. (Orr, Adam, Jones and Brothers); second, Froebel High, Gary, Ind.; third, Scotts Bluff, Neb.; fourth, Eldorado, Kas.; time 3:29.7 (new Stagg meet record. Former record, 3:30.2 by Central High, Columbus, O., in 1928).

220 yard dash (final) won by Fuqua, Brazil, Ind.; second, Burnett, Meridian, Miss.; third, Russell, Hereford, Texas. Time :21.6. (Ties Stagg meet record set by Goodwille, University High, Chicago, in 1923, and Metcalfe, Tilden Tech, Chicago, 1929.)

Pole vault—Tie for first between Wonsowicz, Froebel High, Gary, Ind., and Skelly, Oak Park, Chicago (12 feet, 10 inches); tie for third between Tobias, Kokomo, Ind., and Nesrsta, Flatonia, Texas, (12 feet, 4 inches); tie for fifth between Beck, Salem, O., Baxter, Nacogdoches, Texas, Dorn, Horace Mann High, Gary, Ind., and Riddell, Ft. Collins, Colo. (11 feet, 10 inches).

220 yard low hurdles (final)—Won by Lambertus, Gothenberg, Neb., second, Kenney, Mason City, Ia.; third, Ablowitch, Greenville, Texas; fourth, Abrams, Froebel High, Gary, Ind.; fifth, Kelly, Snohomish, Wash.; sixth, Cooper, Harlandale, Tex. Time :24.2.

Casper Breaks Record

Charlie Casper of Harlandale, Tex., ran a great race in the 120 yard high hurdles to set a new national mark of :15.1. Casper broke the tape only inches ahead of Amsden Oliver, sensational negro from Roosevelt High, Dayton, O., in winning the event.

Oliver who in the trials yesterday raced over the 220 yard low hurdles in :23.6 for a new national interscholastic record, was the victim of an accident today in his favorite event. Leading by three yards, the slim negro stumbled as he cleared the seventh hurdle and sprawled in the cinders. He got up as the field swept by him and finished courageously, but in last place.

Texan Hitch-Hiked Way To Track Title

SAN ANTONIO, May 31. —(AP)— Charles Casper, Harlandale High school youth, who set a new world's interscholastic record of 15.1 seconds in the high hurdles today at Chicago, literally hitch-hiked his way to the championship.

Early in the current season, when his school did not think sufficient of his ability to pay his transportation, Charley was forced to hit the highway in order to attend the Texas University relays at Austin, 90 miles away. Leaving here at daylight, he reached Austin just in time to enter and win his event.

There was difficulty in raising a fund to send him to Chicago and his trip was not assured until four days before the meet was scheduled.

Whichone Winner In Belmont Race

BELMONT PARK RACE TRACK, N. Y. May 31. (AP)—A great horse with a great rider laid claim to the three-year-old championship today as Harry Payne Whitney's Whichone with Sonny Workman in the saddle, galloped over the Belmont Park track winner of the historic Withers Stake and $26,150.

Showing championship form, the brilliant colt, which last year won the juvenile title, came from behind in the stretch after overcoming early interference to outclass a field of five rivals by four lengths. Trailing the Whichone-Workman combination in second place was Walter J. Salmon's Swinfield while another length back followed Pranke Brown's Starpatic.

The son of Chile-Flying Witch went to the post at the almost unbelievable odds of one to 10, the second shortest odds in the 55 years of the running of the classic mile. Man O' War was quoted at one to 30 in his 1920 triumph, when he stepped the mile in 1:34 4-5, a new American record at the time. Whichone went the distance today in 1:38 1-5 over a track rated as good.

Rogers Hornsby Is Presented With National League's Most Valuable Player Award Again

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, May 31. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, the "wounded in action hero," of the Championship Cubs, hobbled into Wrigley Field shipperter by crutches today to receive the National League's most valuable player award for the second time.

Thirty thousand fans, most of whom saw the famous "Rajah" break his good left ankle while sliding to third base in yesterday morning's game with the St. Louis Cardinals, stood during the presentation ceremony and gave a tumultous cheer. It was a little solace anyway for Hornsby, who will be out of the game six weeks or more because of his accident.

Heydler Presides

President John Heydler of the National League presided at the brief ceremony, which was held before the day's game between the Cardinals and Cubs. He handed the "Rajah" $1,000 in gold and lauded him not only for his baseball playing ability but for his spirit, one of the big factors that enabled the Cubs to win the National League pennant last year. James Cruisenberry, president of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, who made the award, also praised Hornsby and presented him a bronze paoque.

"This award is made to you," President Heydler told Hornsby, "not only because you are a great baseball player and invaluable, but because you possess the spirit that makes a great baseball player. We all would prefer to give you a good leg, but this may be of some solace. Get up and around in a hurry. We need men like you in this game."

Spirit Is Praised

Thus the player, who most baseball critics predicted would ruin instead of help the Cubs in 1929, heard himself lauded and signalized as the most valuable man to his club in 1929. Instead of being the "trouble maker" he was reputed to be when he came to the Cubs for approximately a half million dollars and players in 1929, Hornsby not only led the 1929 champions in hitting with a .380 average, but was invaluable as a field general, centering around his keystone position. He was the leader of the league in runs scored, breaking the all time record, and was the only player on the team to play every game, including exhibition contests.

"Hornsby was everything and more than we expected," said President William Veeck of the Cubs, who purchased his contract from the Boston Braves in one of the biggest deals in baseball history.

Hornsby, who won the award in 1925 and is the only player to win it twice, is also the last man to receive the honor. The award has been discontinued ending with 1929 the league magnates believing it instrumental in higher salary demands.

Hornsby plans to leave for his farm on the outskirts of St. Louis tomorrow night to recuperate. While the fracture is not exceptionally severe, he and the Cubs will be fortunate if he gets back in to action in six weeks. It probably will be two months, perhaps the rest of the season.

Leland to Leave Monday for Meet

(Special To Avalanche-Journal)

FORT WORTH, May 31.—Cy Leland, Texas Christian University's Flying Frog, and Richard "Red" Oliver, his teammate, will leave Monday afternoon for Chicago. The two star Horned Frog track men will take part in the National Collegiate A. A. track meet June 6 and 7. The boys will be accompanied to Chicago by L. C. "Pete" Wright, athletic director.

Cy again will run in the "century of the century." He will be opposed by George Simpson of Ohio State, Eddie Tolan of Michigan, Claude Bracey of Rice, and probably Frank Wykoff of Southern California. He will also run the 220 against practically the same field.

Oliver will be entered in the 100 in addition to his regular event, the 220 low hurdles. His strongest opposition will come from Sentman of Illinois and Anderson of Washington in the hurdles.

Southwest Grid Race Looks Hot

Scribe Takes Early Peek Into Dope Bucket And Finds Big Question Mark Hovering Around Camps

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

DALLAS, May 31. — Three full Conference football squads report months remain before Southwest for the long grind. Furthermore is unseasonably hot for discussion the rough sport; but the real, dyed-in-the-wool football fan already is in training. He is taking it easy right now—just loafing along, so to speak—but he will be bearing down in earnest in a couple more months and by mid-September will be able to give you the inside dope on every one of the seven camps.

One of the principal hot-weather topics has had to do with Weldon Mason, the Southern backfield flash who is counted upon to make himself obnoxious to the Navy and Notre Dame and Indians, not to mention rival Southwest Conference schools next fall. It has been rumored that Mason is in a bad way from a crack he received on the head against Texas last year and will be of little value to the Mustangs in 1930.

Mason May Be Off

The report probably is premature True, Mason did suffer a severe head injury when he tackled Nona Rees. He was under a doctor's care for months and was forced to wear glasses when not on the playing field. But he went on playing nevertheless, and scored the touchdown that tied Texas Christian that cold November day. Nobody knows what he will do next fall He might be a washout—an he might be a Mason of 1929. Coach Ray Morrison quite frankly does not know.

Few observers, it seems, are picking the Mustangs to capture the championship, despite the fact that last year's great team is returning almost intact. They figure that the games with the Middies, Micks and Hoosiers will take all the sap out of the Ponies and that they will have nothing left for the conference race.

Neither are they favoring the Horned Frogs to repeat. In the first place, no Southwest Conference member ever has repeated. In the second place, the Frogs lost Howard Grubbs, the section's premier quarterback, along with such brilliant linemen as Brumbelow Handler, Barr, Moore and Walker It will be hard to replace that crew "Grassy" Hinton of Cleburne is supposed to be slated for Grubbs' shoes, but they will wobble on his feet. And it is said that "Red" Oliver, the sprinter who was to team up with Cy Leland in the backfield for a murderous combination, is not such a hot backfielder after all. He is very nearly as fast as Leland, but they say he doesn't know how to thread through a broken field. However they said that about Cy early last fall, and he showed 'em.

Texas May Lose Meadows

Then, there is the report that Claude Meadows will not be at Texas University next year. The Longhorns had been counting on the fleet halfback from Waco to round out a fine backfield, and if the report is true, he will be missed. This big fellow Koy, from Blinn Memorial College, is expected to prove a sensation in the Texas backfield. They say he has everything a great back needs.

Coach Morley Jennings faces a tough problem at Baylor. He will have almost exactly the same squad back that was generally picked to win last year's conference titles. He will have a fine line—providing he can scare up a pair of good ends—and he has a set of splendid backs. If the forward pass had been barred last year the Bears very probably woul have finished at the top But six other teams again will be throwing an occasional pass in 1930, and therein lies Jennings' problem. He has the alternative of playing the same set of speedy, diminutive backs and letting the opposition pass over their heads, or displacing them for more rangy lads with less ball-carrying ability Or, better still, perhaps he can teach Wilson, McElreath and Kathcrat to knock down passes. If Jennings does that—look out for the Bruins!

Big Bill Tilden Will Meet Cochet For Men's Singles Crown; American Stars Clash for Women's Net Crown

By THOMAS TOPPING
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUTEUIL, France, May 30. (AP)—America's standard-bearers out-did themselves in the French tennis championships today, creating an all-California final for the women's title and landing Big Bill Tilden in the title round against Henri Cochet for the men's singles crown.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody mowed down Fraulein Cecilie Aussem of Germany, 6-2, 6-1, in a match interrupted by rain, and Big Bill Tilden turned back his old rival, Jean Borotra of France, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, but the biggest surprise was the smashing victory of Helen Jacobs over Senorita Elia de Alvarez of Spain 6-1, 6-0.

Miss Jacobs, for the first time since she came to Europe, proved the American ranking committee made no mistake when it selected her as second only to Queen Helen herself. She overpowered the highly rated Spanish player by strong driving, cunning change of pace and length and a magnificent overhead game that coupled with unusual agility and speed at covering court.

Sam Rice Adds To Lead Over Hitting Rival

Washington Outfielder Holds 31 Point Advantage On Al Simmons; Senators Pace Field In Bat Averages

CHICAGO, May 31 (AP)—Sam Rice, veteran Washington outfielder, appears to be making a strong fight for the batting championship of the American league.

Unofficial averages, including games of Wednesday, show that Rice not only led the batting race for the third straight week but that he stretched his margin over the runnerup, Al Simmons of Philadelphia, to 1 points. During the sixth week of campaigning, Rice lifted his average from .390 to .411.

Rice Leads Senators

Rice's big stick, one of the factors in Wasington's surprising showing in the junior circuit, also was instrumental in lifting the Senators from second to first place in team hitting during the week. The league leading Senators increased their batting mark from .294 to .303 and sent the Cleveland Indians from first to second position.

Batting averages during the sixth week slumped slightly. Trailing Rice, the leading hitters were Simmons, Philadelphia, .380; Ruth, New York, .376; Hodapp, Cleveland, .364; McManus, Detroit, .362; Cissell, Chicago, .358; Judge, Washington, .355; Burnett, Cleveland .355; Cochran, Philadelphia, .349; and Oliver, Boston, .346.

Grove And Jones Tied

"Lefty" Grove of the Athletics and "Sad Sam" Jones of the Senators remained deadlocked in the race for pitching leadership, each winning his sixth game against no defeats while Ted Lyons of the White Sox had a record of eight won and two lost. Grove ran his strikeout record to 37 during the period.

Detroit came up to the Philadelphia in the fielding race, each team having a .974 defensive. Boston completed six double plays during the week. Babe Ruth leads in three batting fields. He leads in runs with 41, in total bases with 98 and in his favorite field, home runs, with 14.

Rice leads with 62 hits and in stolen bases with 8; West and Judge, of Washington and Combs of the Yankees are tied in triples with six apiece while Cronin of Washington has hit 16 doubles. Foxx of the Athletics leads in runs batted in with a 40 total.

Recognition was given Lee Barnes University of Southern California athlete, for his mark of 14 feet 1 1-2 inches in the pole vault, two years after he had given up competition.

Terrific Pace Set By Wichita Spudders Due To Timely Stick Work, Sports Observer Believes

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, May 31. (AP)—The difference between winning baseball and losing baseball in the Texas League is not clearly defined; but, whatever it is, the speeding Wichita Falls Spudders have it down to a fine point.

During the week ending Friday the league leaders maintained a terrific pace, winning seven out of eight games and materially boosting their pennant stock,—yet they neither outhit their opponents nor played better ball afield. By remarkable coincidence, they made 66 hits during the week and their opponents 66; they committed 14 errors and their opponents fumbled 14. Yet Carl Williams' ambitious youngsters lost only one decision, which, in the last analysis, is what counts.

The answer lay in the fact that the Spudders hit in the clinches. Three of their four victories over Shreveport were won by the slimmest possible margin, one run. Timely homeruns decided the issue in two of the three, and their only loss resulted from a circuit blow by Perry of the Sports. In five of their seven triumphs the Spuds came from behind to win.

For the entire week the Leaders had only one exceptionally well pitched game. That came when Milt Steengrafe held Dallas to four hits and blanked them, 11 to 0 Thursday. That was the club's only top-heavy score of the week.

Of 18 horses E. R. Bradley has at Chicago for the Washington park season, only one has a name commencing with a letter other than P. It is Tsuga, which Bradley bought last year.

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, once claimant to the world's heavyweight title, is now operating a cafe in Glendale, Cal., besides keeping up active wrestling competition.

Herman Leads Paul Waner In National Race

Brooklyn Slugger Slumps But Stays On Top With .414 Average; Cards Take Team Leadership

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—Although the St. Louis Cardinals have captured team leadership by a fraction of a point, the Brooklyn Robins still dominate the race for batting honors in the National League. A club the Robins are second by the margin of .3257 to .3261 for St. Louis. Individually they hold three of the first ten places on the batting lists and top honors in several other departments.

Despite a slump that lasted most of the week, Babe Herman of Brooklyn is back at the top of the regulars in the averages released today and including Thursday's games with a mark of .414, four points below his previous week's average. Paul Waner of Pittsburgh has moved into second place at .405 while Frank Hogan of New York, tied with Herman a week ago, has dropped back to fifth place.

Herman Leads In Scoring

Herman also leads the league in scoring with 39 runs. His teammate, Johnny Frederick, who also has made 63 hits to top the list in that respect, is tied with Bill Terry of New York for second place in scoring, one run behind. Frederick likewise is second in hitting doubles with 15. Frank Frisch of St. Louis has piled up a total of 19 two baggers. Another Cardinal, Taylor Douthit, is second to Frederick in hits with 59 blows.

The two leaders, Herman and Waner, are the only regulars who have averages above the .400 mark. They are followed by O'Doul, Philadelphia, .388; Terry, New York, .384; Hogan, New York, .382; Klein, Philadelphia, .379. Douthit, St. Louis, .373; Flowers, Brooklyn, .372; Heilmann, Cincinnati, .372, and Frederick, Brooklyn, .371.

Hack Paces Field In Homers

The Chicago Cubs have made almost a clean sweep of the batting honors not taken by Brooklyn and St. Louis. Slugging Hack Wilson has hit 13 home runs to lead in that respect and has batted in 33 runs for a first place tie with Chuck Klein of the Phillies. Klein and Walter Berger of the Braves are tied for second in home run hitting with eleven each. Kiki Cuyler and Woody English of the Cubs lead in hitting triples with six apiece and Cuyler also tops the base stealers with ten.

Pitching leadership is divided between Adolfo Luque of Brooklyn and Jess Haines of St. Louis once more. Each added a fourth victory to his record last week without meeting a defeat so far. Jim Lindsey of the Cards is the only other undefeated pitcher, having two victories, while still another Cardinal, Wild Bill Hallahan, has fanned 53 opposing batsmen to lead in that department.

U. S. C. Trojans Beat Cardinals In Hot Battle For Major Track Title Of Nation; Marks Broken

By ALAN GOULD.

HARVARD STADIUM, Cambridge, Mass., May 31. (AP)—The superior all-around strength of Southern California's Trojans triumphed over the individual brilliance of Stanford's Cardinals, defending title holders, today and swept them to victory in the 54th Intercollegiate A. A. A. track and field championships, a sensational battle featured by the greatest collection of performances in the history of the classic.

Three records were shattered and a fourth equalled in the two-day struggle as the two Pacific Coast rivals staged a spectacular fight for team honors. For a time, Harvard unexpectedly made it a three-cornered affair with a surprising show of strength but the Crimson was unable to keep up the pace all the way.

Scoring in 11 of the 15 finals, the stalwart band of 16 Southern Californians rolled up the impressive total off 44 1-4 points, an eight point margin over Stanford which finished second with 36 1-4 points Harvard finished a good third with 23 1-2 points, Michigan fourth with 14 1-4, and Yale fifth with 12 3-4

Stanford, with her twin stars Eric Krenz and Harlow Rothert, in rare form, furnished most of the record-breaking thrills.

Bills Paid When Due

ARE PAID AT THE BEST TIME FOR BOTH CREDITOR AND CUSTOMER

IF bills are not paid when due, they soon become larger . . . . not only are they larger by your purchasing more things . . . . but they mount in your mind until you imagine them larger than they actually are. Putting off paying a bill when it is due creates a mental state that is destructive to good credit.

Everyone owes it to himself to pay bills promptly, for then he escapes the haunted feeling of credit destruction . . . . and enjoys instead the comfortable knowledge that he is establishing a credit reputation . . . . a record for faithful performance of his contracts.

PAMPA SHERIFF FACES CHARGE

PAMPA, May 29. (AP)—Sheriff E. S. Graves, veteran Gray county peace officer, today stood indicted on a charge of converting bond money to his own use.

A grand jury last night returned an indictment charging Graves with accepting a $500 check of R. H. Bartlett of July 29, 192, in lieu of other bond and failed to return it the following day when bond was made, converting the check to his own use after cashing it at a bank here. Bartlett had been held on a liquor law violation charge.

Graves demanded a trial. In the final report the jury charged county officers with inefficiency and seeming unwillingness to collect evidence which would result in conviction.

SICK HEADACHE AND DIZZINESS

Relief Found Through the Use of Thedford's Black-Draught.

Greenville, S. C.—"For a number of years, I took Thedford's Black-Draught for biliousness, and as a laxative," writes Mrs. Sudie Webb, of 7 DeCamp Street, this city.

"I used to have severe sick headaches, when I would let myself get bilious. I would get very nauseated and dizzy. I would have to go to bed.

"After my head quit aching, I would feel weak and dizzy. Seemed like I would drop everything I would pick up. This dizziness would last two or three days.

"I found that Black-Draught would give relief and seemed to cleanse the system. After I found this out, when I felt a headache coming on, I would take Black-Draught and keep it off. I did this for several years, avoiding a lot of pain and suffering. I can highly recommend Black-Draught."

The medicine which this South Carolina lady mentions is also recommended by thousands of others because of the benefit it has been to them.

DUN'S REVIEW IS MORE FAVORABLE

NEW YORK, May 30. (AP)—Dun's review this week will say: With the added restraints of holiday interruption and of unseasonable weather over a considerable area, repression of business activities has continued the rule. Another month is ending much as it had begun, with few changes of special significance, and more than the usual repetition is necessary in reviewing the general situation. The state of inertia and of indecision, although less pronounced in some instances, extends to many branches of enterprise. While financial movements reflect similar characteristics the securities markets are favored by conspicuous monetary ease, but are more sensitive now to trade trends, there being an increasing disposition to take cognizance of actual existing conditions. Appraisals made on the basis of future prospects bear a confident tone and the latent economic reserve power is considered reassuring, but the absence of a broad and decisive revival is the controlling factor at present. Cautious policies are being closely adhered to in most quarters with a strong disinclination to operate beyond immediate or early needs, and the lack of vigorous demands serves to accentuate the recession in commodity prices.

Weekly bank clearings $7,599,961,000, a decrease of 20.5 per cent from a year ago.

Recognition Must Be Given Dam Plans

AUSTIN, May 30. (AP)—Presentations for dam and reservoir sites along the Rio Grande will not be given official cognizance until after the international commission planning division of the waters of the river completes its work, John A. Norris, chairman of the state board of water engineers, said Thursday.

The presentations, representing sites extending almost the entire length of the river as it flows between Texas and Mexico, have been received at the office but no action will be taken, not that he does not believe the board has jurisdiction but merely as a matter of policy, he said.

INQUIRIES ON MARKET WEEK ARE RECEIVED

LETTERS ASK FOR PLAN USED HERE; ANOTHER IN OCTOBER

Though Lubbock's first market week is nearly three months past, advertising results from it are still being obtained, reports at the local chamber of commerce reveal.

Two inquiries were received yesterday from chambers of commerce of other states regarding the method of handling used by the local body and the results obtained. Jackson, Tenn., and Grants Pass, Oregon, both seek information regarding the event. Besides these two many other inquiries have been received from closer places.

In each instance the local chamber has outlined the plans used here and listed the benefits which are derived from such an attraction. Lubbock's first program was held in March and another is scheduled for October.

Lockhart Will Oppose Thomas In House Race

Lubbock Attorney, Sponsored By Friends, Will Work For Best Interests Of College, He Says In Statement

G. E. LOCKHART, Lubbock attorney, announced last night that he would enter the race as a candidate for representative from the 119th district, composed of nine South Plains counties, in response to a petition circulated by his friends here Friday.

Mr. Lockhart's final decision was reached after he had declined to make any announcement Friday night as to his reaction to the petition of his friends.

Governed by Friends

"I have been governed by the urgent requests of my friends and by a profound belief that I am able to render a real service to the citizens of this section in the event that I am elected to the State legislature," he said. "There are two major things which I would include in my platform. First, I would seek legislation favoring Texas Technological college, an institution which is inadequately supported in view of its educational influence to this great section. Secondly, I would try to create some relief for the present road situation in West Texas. We, of West Texas, are not receiving what we are entitled to and I would try to focus more light on the inconsistent program of the highway department in this section."

G. W. Skinner Admits That He Knifed Negro After Battle To Take Him From Cell; To Order Hearing

(By Associated Press)

CHICKASHA, Okla., May 31. — Lynch law claimed its second victim of the month in the Southwest today. Henry Argo, 19 year old negro, died early this afternoon at an Oklahoma City hospital from wounds inflicted by members of a mob that stormed the Grady county jail intermittently throughout the night seeking revenge for an alleged attack on a white woman.

Several members of the Chickasha artillery battery of the Oklahoma National guard suffered minor injuries from missiles thrown by the crowd.

Second This Month

Earlier this month, a large mob burned the court house and jail at Sherman, Tex., and killed a negro charged with the same offense.

Argo was shot in the head by an unknown member of a group that defied county officers and National guardsmen and entered the jail. Later, when it was believed the mob spirit had subsided and spectators were permitted in the jail, the negro was stabbed near the heart by G. W. Skinner, husband of the woman the negro was alleged to have attacked.

Skinner Arrested

Skinner and several other members of the turbulent crowd were arrested while the demonstrations were at their height, but were released later without bond. B. F. Holding, county attorney, announced after the negro's death that an

Carl Williams, Representing Cotton Growers, Speaks To Gathering Of Lamar County Citizens At Paris

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, May 31. — Practices of the Federal Farm Board and Cooperative Marketing methods were discussed by Carl Williams, cotton member of the board, before a gathering of farmers and business men of Lamar county here today.

Williams asserted the Farm Board had been instrumental in causing the price of cotton to be two cents higher than it would have been since the stock market collapsed and attributed the slump to abnormal conditions rather than due to statements and actions of the board.

The Farm Board, he declared, had been bolstering prices during the last several months in the face of the most unfavorable financial conditions.

East Texas Petition Puts Moody In Race

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 31. — Action of a group of East Texas friends of Governor Moody in filing his application for a place on the democratic primary ballots as a candidate for Governor failed to move him to comment.

"I have not a thing to say," he told newspaper reporters, refusing to amplify his statement of yesterday that he would not like to run for Governor against R. S. Sterling of Houston, chairman of the Highway commission and his political friend.

Twenty-Five Sign Petition To Enter Dan's Candidacy

TYLER, May 31 (AP)—A movement to draft Gov. Dan Moody for a third term was started here today in the forwarding to Albert Sidney Johnson, secretary of the State Democratic Executive committee, in Dallas, a petition signed by 25 East Texas citizens.

Accompanying the petition was a check for $100, the necessary fee to have the Governor's name placed on the ballot in the party's coming primary election.

Can Withdraw Name

By the action of the East Texan Mr. Moody becomes a candidate, as rules of the party permit either a candidate or 25 representative citizens to file his application for a place on the ballot. However, should the Governor wish he has the privilege of withdrawing the application.

A. P. Lyons, 26, of 1404 Avenue K, an employe of the Texas Utilities company, was seriously injured Saturday morning about 10 o'clock when he came in contact with a live wire while working on a pole on Third street, between Avenues V and W.

Lyons was found unconscious and "frozen" to his position on the pole by L. G. Bell, who was working near him at the time. Bell, after some difficulty, was able to get the injured man loose from the wire and call an ambulance.

Long Unconscious

Rushed to the Lubock sanitarium for treatment, the young man did not regain consciousness until 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon and, according to physicians was suffering of severe shock. Only very small burns were in evidence about his body. His condition last night was said to be slightly improved.

After regaining consciousness Lyons was unable to tell what had happened. He stated that the last he could remember was working on a wire and then everything went black.

Two Men Jailed After Stealing Railroad Track

(By Associated Press)

PORT ARTHUR, May 31.—Two white men were arrested today for "stealing a railroad."

The men had taken up approximately two blocks of a Southern Pacific switch near the Gulf Refining company and had carted the steel off and sold it to a local junk dealer. They had returned for the last load which they were leisurely taking up when apprehended.

The men were using Kansas City Southern railroad tools to take up the track. One of the men was taking up a switch which throws the siding onto the main line, while the other was prying up the rails when caught.

Four Lubbock Boys Injured In Car Crash

Vain Harkey, Richard Carruth, Ford Couey, Leon Harvey Hurt when Car Hits Another on Road Early Today

Four Lubbock youths were injured, two seriously, at about 2:15 o'clock this morning when the car in which they were riding crashed into a parked automobile seven miles south of the city on the Lamesa highway.

Vain Harkey, employe of a local tailor shop, received severe gashes about the head and fractured ribs. Physicians said his skull possibly was fractured. Ford Couey suffered gashes above the left eye and about the head. Richard Carruth was painfully lacerated about the face and head. Leon Harvey, fourth occupant of the car, also was painfully hurt.

None of the ocupants of the parked car was injured, although both autos were badly smashed. The victims were brought to the Lubbock sanitarium by passing motorists.

Both groups were said to have been returning from a dance at Woodrow, 12 miles south of Lubbock.

At 4 o'clock this morning, attending physicians said the conditions of Harkey and Couey were serious.

The parked car was owned by Elmer Calhoun. Two other boys and two girls were in the car although their names were not learned.

Chicago Officers Seek Dallas Girl

CHICAGO, May 31. (AP)—E. J. McShane, University of Chicago student, appealed to police today for aid in finding his fiancee, Miss Kyra Kyrilla, 20, of Dallas, whom he reported disappeared an hour before they were to be married.

Miss Kyrilla arrived this morning from Dallas to keep a wedding engagement with McShane, taxied to the dormitory where he lives, greeted him, then announced she would motor to a neighboring shop, make a purchase and return almost immediately, McShane told police.

That was at 10 a. m. McShane waited six hours, then notified police.

Graf Zepp, Battered By Wind But Airworthy, Reaches U. S.

(By Associated Press)

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 31.—After riding out the most tempestuous squalls of its career, the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin, great gray rambler of the skies, arrived today at this scene of its first triumphal crossing of the Atlantic.

Its shimmering skin blanched by tropic suns and washed by subequatorial torrents the skyship that has crossed the Pacific once and the Atlantic seven times, to say nothing of ringing the world, nosed into sight at 6 o'clock (E. S. T.) this morning as ghostly as the mists from which it came.

Storms Recounted

Officers and passengers told of storms in the air and as soon as the ship was berthed workmen began repairs on broken struts holding in place the rear engine gondola.

W. F. Von Meister, American representative of the Luftshifbau, said that the struts were broken while the ship was at its mast at Pernambuco. He said that the damage was found to be unimportant and to avoid delay the ship was brought on here with no more than jury repairs. He said that the gondola had suffered no additional damage during the flight from Pernambuco, despite the rough weather.

The passengers spoke of the storm casually and smilingly just as one tells of rough but undangerous seas encountered on an ocean liner. Even the women, Mrs. Mary Pierce of New York City, Mrs. Laura Durston of Syracuse, New York, and Lady Grace Drummond Hay of London, said that they had not been frightened at any time.

Soon after the ship arrived,

Lubbock Polls 1,207 1-2 Votes, Sweetwater 649 And Mineral Wells 67 In Ballot For 1931 Meeting; Chamber Listens To Prominent Men Speak Then Takes Public Stand

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, May 31.—Lubbock was awarded the 1931 convention of the West Texas Chafber of Commerce tonight.

Lubbock received 1,207 1-2 votes, to 649 for Sweetwater, its nearest competitor. Mineral Wells was third with 67 votes.

Wichita Lad Wins Contest.

Joe F. Witherspoon, Wichita Falls high school boy, won the annual "My Home Town" oratorical contest.

In a session which was even more harmonious than that of yesterday, the chamber today completed its declaration on positions of public questions. New officers, including President Charles E. Coombs, of Stamford, were chosen by unit directors who also unanimously agreed upon another term of office for General Manager D. A. Bandeen.

This afternoon delegates forgot business to engage in colorful parades by delegations and to witness the climax of the spectacles of the convention, an air circus in dedication of Kinsolving field, Abilene's new airport. Delegations from 26 towns, each boasting a band, marched in the parade.

Resolutions Passed

All resolutions offered today were adopted without opposition. The most important were a declaration for further protection of property occupants against "land grabbers," and a water priority resolution.

Senator Clint Small, of Wellington, candidate for governor, and Rep. Cecil Storey, of Vernon, candidate for attorney general, spoke for the land resolution. Senator Walter C. Woodward, of Coleman, sponsored the water proposal.

Stamford Man Elected

Charles E. Coombs, of Stamford, was elected president of the oranization by unanimous vote. The Stamford attorney was a past vice-president and treasurer and chairman of the important work committee.

Other officers named were: Houston Harte of San Angelo, first vice-president; Cliff Caldwell, of Abilene, second vice-president, and R. C. Colbert, of Stamford, treasurer. Caldwell defeated A. C. Easterling of Del Rio, and the others had no opposition. D. A. Bandeen was re-elected manager without opposition.

Relief Is Seen

Senator Small asserted that the the so-called Small River Bed law, constitutionality of which is to be determined by the supreme court after being upheld by a trial court and the court of civil appeals, had brought considerable relief to land owners, but he urged additional safeguards.

"The state, and not alien vacancy hunters, should determine where a vacancy exists," Small said. "The occupants of land then should be granted prior right to purchase."

Bledsoe Drive Is Begun Here

Lieutenant-Governor's Chase Enlivened In Meeting Held Last Night; Gathering Of Friends Set For Monday

Following a meeting of 25 prominent citizens of Lubbock, held last night, tentative plans for organization of a "Bledsoe for Lieutenant-Governor" campaign committee were formulated, for the purpose of advancing the candidacy of W. H. Bledsoe, of Lubbock, for that office.

Judge Clark M. Mullican was chosen chairman of the Bledsoe campaign committee, with George Dupree as secretary. A manager and committees will be chosen Monday night at a mass meeting of Lubbock citizens called for 8 o'clock. The gathering will be held in the 99th district courtroom at the courthouse. The public is invited to attend.

Trio Of Tests In Hobbs Holds The Spotlight

Major Operations Underway By Humble, Tidal And Hobbs Are Being Watched; Pay Is Shifting To East

Three major operations now hold the spotlight of attention in the Hobbs, N. M. area, according to advices received Saturday from oil scouts stationed in that territory. The Humble No. 1 Bowers, in section 30-18-38, the Tidal Oil company No. 1 Grimes, in section 29-18-38 and the Hobbs High Inc., No. 1 Tatum, in section 35-18-38, now are being watched with a great deal of interest by members of the oil fraternity throughout this section of West Texas and in New Mexico.

The Humble No. 1 Bowers, elevation 3657 feet, topped first gas at 2772 feet with an estimated oil show of 25 barrels per hour at 3143. The well is now flowing about 7500 barrels.

Tidal Tops Gas

Tidal Oil company No. 1 Grimes, located one mile east of the Humble well, elevation 3646 feet, topped first gas at 2792 feet or about 30 feet lower structurally on gas, whereas it was 134 feet lower on anhydrate than the Humble well. This fact, according to geologists, shows a thinning of salt beds of over 100 feet. Saturday a show of oil was encountered at 3115 feet which makes it about 30 feet higher than the first oil show in the Humble well, further thinning in evidence.

This thinning off of the salt series beds above the line from the Humble well eastward makes the Hobbs field widen to the east and makes the Hobbs High Inc., No. 1 Tatum look promising for a producer.

STATES ARE RAPPED

Pro-Commissioner Doran Says Cooperation Is Lacking

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Public opinion was described today by Prohibition Commissioner Doran as the deterrent to that complete enforcement of the dry laws which could be accomplished if all the states would cooperate with the federal authorities.

In a monograph contending that the states and the federal government had concurrent obligations to enforce prohibition, Doran said that in states where there was lax cooperation "unwholesome influences are at work to prevent enforcement."

M. C. Little, 22, above, of Lubbock, is perhaps the youngest contractor in the Southwest. His most recent monument of skill is the new $50,000 business structure of B. E. Needles, located at Avenue H and 15th street.

Needles Opening Draws Big Crowd

More than 20,000 people and an excess of 2,500 automobiles were estimated as having been on hand for the opening of B. E. Needles' new $50,000 super service station at Avenue H and Fifteenth street Saturday, according to a check made by J. E. Wacksmith, of Dallas, branch manager of the Goodrich Rubber company.

Mr. Needles announced that by 2 o'clock in the afternoon 2,000 bottles of soda water had been given away. "We believe," he said, "that our six automatic pumps emptied more gasoline into cars on this Saturday than has ever been sold by any service station on the South Plains in any one day heretofore."

Success of the formal opening is credited in great measure to advertising carried in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche and Lubbock Daily Journal, Mr. Needles declares.

Two Held For Slaying Wife

(By Associated Press)

JEFFERSON, O., May 31.—A young woman's quest for happiness through love of a married man and the slaying of his wife culminated today in the filing of first degree murder charges against Mrs. Maude Lawther, 22 year old housemaid, and Trilby Smith, 26, the man she loved.

The two were arraigned today before Justice of the Peace T. J. Weatherstone and held for the grand jury June 9 in jail without bond. Both pleaded not guilty.

Woman Part Indian

Calmly and without emotion Mrs. Lawther, a dark haired woman with sparling black eyes who says she is a quarter-blood Indian, told officials and newspapermen how Smith plotted with her to slay his 22-year-old wife, who was shot through the temple on a lonely road west of Ashtabula Thursday night.

Both defendants were said to have confessed yesterday to the plot to slay the woman, each blaming the other.

BOMBAY, May 31 (AP)—The casualty list resulting from raids by Indian nationalists on government salt deposits was swelled by 106 names today, while plans were made for a huge "final raid" on the Wadala Salt works tomorrow.

Today's injuries resulted when British mounted troops charged to break up an attack on the salt pans at Dharsana, where similar raids have occurred almost daily for two weeks. Nationalist volunteers numbering 156 started for the pans and were driven back several times by the sticks of foot police. The mounted troops finally charged.

CASING NO. 92624451 (6.50-20 6-PLY SILVERTOWN)

Taken from stock January, 1929. Placed on Silver Fleet. Driven 29,764 miles without leaving rim. Transferred to our 1930 Silver Fleet. This actual photograph shows exact condition of tire when retired from service. Total mileage, 47,892. Punctures, 8. Blow-outs, none. Carcass breaks, none. Reason for removal, two nails embedded in tread.

Worn Out... at last! after 47,892 miles

THERE IT IS, in the picture up above. Through! Worn out! Ready for the scrap heap! That Silvertown we showed you in one of our advertisements a while ago.

It traveled 30,000 miles with last year's Silver Fleet. Made the entire tour through 46 states without ever coming off the rim. Transferred to the 1930 Goodrich Silver Fleet . . . and punished for 17,892 more miles.

Now it's through . . . with a service record of 47,892 miles.

Proud? Naturally we're proud of it! Because we sell tires like that. Tires capable of giving unheard-of mileage.

There's nothing special about this Silvertown. Nothing out of the usual run. It came straight from stock for its grueling trip with the Silver Fleet. And it received no care . . . no attention . . . you can't give your tires.

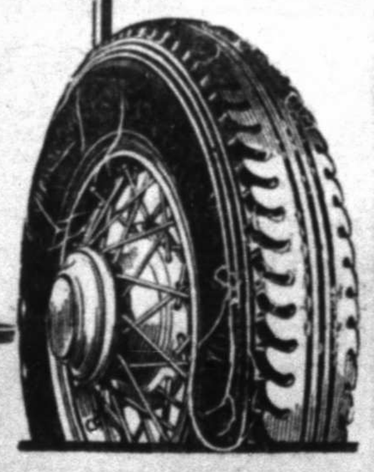

That's why we're sure of ourselves when we say you can get mileage like this from Silvertowns. They've proved they have the stuff. Proved they can beat all comers in open competition.

Come in to see our Silvertowns. Blood brothers to this veteran of the roads. They never were expensive . . . and now, mile for mile, they're the cheapest tire you can buy. Yes, we have your size waiting for you.

Notice!

It is really a pleasure to offer this wonderful proven Quality tire to our many customers on the South Plains.

Our daily volume of sales are increasing over last year's records . . . . and confirmations from our customers on the wonderful mileage that they are getting with Goodrich Tires are similar to those reports that were handed in by the Goodrich Silver Fleet.

Steady Growth Marks Spur's Rise From Cattle Range

Famous Old Ranches Broken Up Into Farms; Excellent Advancement Made In City In Past Decade

(By Staff Correspondent)

SPUR, May 31.—Nestling at the foot of a huge hill which rises for some distance above the surrounding rolling country just off the cap rock, is Spur, one of the prettiest cities in West Texas and the center of a great agricultural and cattle community.

Spur has had a steady growth, not rapid but on a firm basis with a good territory to draw from and a group of citizens who are alive to their possibilities and prospects.

Has Much History

But Spur does not have only a wealth of beauty and agricultural resources but history as well. There are many ranches with history extending back for 40 or 50 years or more.

For example, there is the famous Spur ranch, which is as famous over the nation as the old Capitol Syndicate's XIT, the Matador or any other. It was begun back in 1881 or 1882 as the Spur ranch and sold to the Espuela Cattle company. In turn this company sold to the Espuela Land and Cattle company and later S. M. Swenson and sons, E. P. and S. A. associated with the National City bank of New York City, bought the place.

The Matador ranch also reached into the Spur territory and it was to this place, over in Motley county, that the late Judge Benjamin Worswick went about 1889.

Spur Has 2,000 People

Spur has nearly 2,000 people living there. Latest figures are 1,883 but it is though the actual number is right at 2,000. Ten years ago the town had a population of around 1,100. Twenty years ago it was so small that it was not considered apart from the justice precinct.

The town was started November 1, 1909 by S. M. Swenson and sons. On the same day the Stamford and Northwestern pulled its first passenger train into town.

Charles A. Jones, recently of Kansas City but retired to Los Angeles, was manager. He had come tot this country in 1907 to take charge of the Spur ranch as the resident executive when the Swensons purchased the property of the Espuela Land and Cattle company in August of that year.

The town was incorporated February 7, 1911. First city officials were: George S. Link, mayor; W. G. Sherrod and E. C. Edmonds, commissioners; Oscar Jackson, recorder and secretary; R. D. Glasgow, attorney; Dr. J. E. Morris health officer and J. M. Neeley marshal.

Has Paving Program

Spur is starting a paving program that calls for the completion of five streets down town. As soon as the state highway from Dickens to Spur is completed, several more blocks of paving probably will be added.

The town has its own electric power plant, serving several hundred customers. There also is a privately owned utility company operating in town.

Between 80 and 90 business houses are operating, including two wholesale grocery houses shipping to a wide territory.

Averages Over $1,000,000

Two national banks have combined deposits of around a million dollars at the present time. "Our bank deposits for the past five years show an average of $1,081,852," says Dr. D. L. Granberry, secretary of the chamber of commerce. "I don't think there are very many towns the size of Spur that can show that record."

The valuation of all property in the city is estimated at approximately $2,000,000. City property is valued at $204,600, including the power plant, sewer and water works systems and other property.

Spur boasts five gins within the city limits, one a double gin; a compress, seven churches, a Rotary club, an active chamber of commerce, a business college, a cream plant, steam laundry, two wholesale houses, two hatcheries an active retail credit association and five hotels.

Experiment Farm There

State experimental farm No. 7 is located a mile and a half from the city, with R. E. Dickson as superintendent. Its 320 acres are devoted to experimental work that has proven of value to farmers and ranchers of the section in West Texas below the cap rock.

The school system of Spur includes a high school, junior high school and a ward school, with an enrollment of approximately 800.

The Rotary club has 41 active members and is a factor in the promotion of the city's social life.

One of the best golf courses in this section is the Espuela Golf club's course.

Maintains Library

One of the city activities is a library, in the office of the city secretary. Helen Grace, one of the town girls and a daughter of Dr. J. H. Grace a pioneer physician of the city, is librarian. The library has 530 volumes and residents are making use of the facilities in increasing numbers.

Headquarters of the S. M. Swenson and Sons interests in Texas are located here with Clifford B. Jones, president of the board of trustees of Texas Technological college at Lubbock, as resident manager. The ranch properties more than 100,000 acres in ranch lands and around 150,000 more acres in farm lands and other properties.

The town was begun by the Swensons who organized the townsite company. Only a very small proportion of the original town lots are unsold.

Has Rail Connection

Direct connections with Wichita Falls by rail, via Stamford, are possible over the Wichita Valley, a subsidiary of the Fort Worth and Denver City, in turn a part of the Colorado and Southern and the great Burlington system.

There is soon to be paved a highway to Dickens, the county seat, 11 miles away and at the foot of the caprock off the "East Plains."

Bus lines connect Spur with Lubbock and also to Stamford and there to Wichita Falls. Also there is a line to Abilene.

Spur has a county fair association and grounds, located just across the railroad tracks. The fair dates have been set for this fall and officers of the association are making plans for a larger exposition than ever.

Besides cotton and cattle, maize, grain sorghums and alfalfa, are raised in the county. There in an increasing interest in feeding of cattle with home grown feeds.

The city of Spur has outstanding obligations of but $64,000 including those against the power plant.

"We are retiring bonds by earnings of our plant," the city secretary said. The city will soon be out of debt.

Something like 450 customers are on the books of the sewer system. As fast as the city grows the system is being extended.

LUBBOCK LOSING

D. L. Granberry, secretary of the Spur chamber of commerce and W. D. Stracher, editor of the Dickens County Times, did not get together the other day on the amount of money they believe Lubbock loses each year by not having a paved road connecting that city with Spur. Said the editor, "Lubbock loses at least $100,000 a year because they do not have a paved road here." When discussing the situation in Spur, the chamber of commerce man said "Lubbock would get at least $30,000 more a year if they had a paved road." Told that the editor had mentioned a figure three times greater, the secretary exclaimed "That's the way with you newspaper fellows, you always get things bigger than we do."

KNOWS HIS FRENCH

Rev. C. W. Parmenter of Spur is popular with the Legionnaires of that town. The parson served overseas and knows a lot of French words and when the crowd from another town shows up they trot out the minister to talk French a bit. It always makes a hit. The Spur post has helped organize one post in a neighboring town, Jayton, and members declare that if they ever hear so much as a whisper of any other town wanting a post, they'll be there pronto. Reverend Parmenter goes on most of the out-of-town trips.

USES SHOVEL

Alton Abbott of the Texas Motor Ways line got mud on his shovel at last and he didn't do it trying to shovel the big Buick out of the mud. Last winter during a heavy snowstorm Alton bought the shovel and fastened it onto his car to use in case the snow got too deep and he had to shovel out. He used it several times between the end of the Dickens county paving and the caprock near crosbyton. The mud was so deep and the big car threw so much of it that about two or three shovels would have been necessary to remove the mud.

POPULAR GROUP

One of the popular musical aggregations in Spur is the Ukulele Girls of the high school. There are seven of them and they dress alike, red and black dress. All of them sing as well as play and their favorite plan is to sing and play a few popular sings, making a parody of some well known number with local color to it.

INTERESTED IN LUBBOCK

Mayor Ned Hogan of Spur is interested in everything pertaining to Lubbock. The mayor is a partner in the store of Hogan and Patton, with E. C. Patton of Lubbock. They have one store in Spur and one in Lubbock.

GROUP ENTERTAINING

A Lubbock Legion quintet Wednesday night just 'about shocked some of the Spur folks. The boys went out to the Legion barbecue and entertained the visitors from other towns and the Spur boys and their families with songs, stunts and talks.

Toastmaster Whitacre told so many stories on Scottie and Sham Battle and "Mr. Henderson's side partner" that the crowd had to hold their sides. Then the post commander, J. A. Raley, led the sing song at the close and lead every song that was called for, although several were popular about the days of '98. On the way back the bunch went to a filling station to get gas and they "stung" Mr. Henderson of Texas for the gas. Then at the cafe, the bill was settled by the toastmaster, who was the low man. Pepped up with a lot of barbecue steak and some hot coffee the boys sang all the way down town, to the entertainment of the crowd. The last seen of the boys they were singing down Burlington avenue headed for Lubbock.

Warriors For Health Should Be Put To Work, City Health Physician Says

Typhoid And Other Diseases Should Be Watched

AS SUMMER arrives, the warriors for health arm themselves against the encroachment of typhoid fever and other diseases which prevail during summer.

Lubbock is entering the hot weather months in fairly good health, according to Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer.

"Summer should be the most healthful season of the year in Lubbock," said Dr. Rollo, "due to the fact that the South Plains has teeming sunshine and an invigorating climate.

Should Be Vaccinated

"As a sure preventive of the summer dread, I would urge everyone to become vaccinated against typhoid fever.

"There are many other simple rules for maintaining health, which could be briefly outlined as follows:

"Drink plenty of milk.

"Screen houses against flies and do everything to prevent breeding of the insect.

"Oil lakes and water pools.

"Eat plenty of vegetables.

"Spend much of the summer in the open air, and get at least eight hours sleep per day.

"Lubbock's milk supply is in splendid shape, and I can wholeheartedly encourage one to drink much milk. This city has adopted the standard milk ordinance as proposed by the United States public health service and backed by the State department of health. This is a big protection and insures a good and safe milk supply if one takes advantage of its provisions.

"The ordinance requires that milk come from healthy cows, be handled in a clean fashion, and kept clean, cool, and covered in transit.

"Most important—the ordinance grades milk."

Use of Cigs Costs Team Golf Title

TOPEKA, May 31. (AP)—Puffs on cigarettes between strokes cost Wichita East High school the Kansas High school golf team championship.

Wichita placed first in the state tournament at Manhattan two weeks ago but E. A. Thomas, executive secretary of the Kansas State High School Athletic Association, today announced awarding of the title to Argentine High School of Kansas City.

Wichita East was ruled out, the secretary said, because half the team, Myers, made himself ineligible by smoking cigarettes during tournament play in violation of an association rule.

Two World Records Are Shattered At National Meet

Atlanta Wizard Defeats Roger Wethered To Annex Last Of Major Golf Titles; Large Gallery Sees Match

By FRANK H. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 31. (AP)—Bobby Jones today completed his golfing diadem by winning the British Amateur championship, which he has long coveted, by a convincing defeat of Roger Wethered, seven up and six to play in the 36-hole final.

All the jewels of golf now have sparkled from Bobby's crown. He is the only man who has ever won the open and amateur titles of both the United States and Great Britain.

They gave him the cup on the terrace of the royal and ancient clubhouse this evening with all the patriarchs of golf gathered there.

The final between Jones and Wethered, with 12,000 persons trying to see the shots, was the climax of a great week of golf in fine bracing Scotch weather and with enthusiastic galleries trailing over the famous links where putts have been missed for 500 years.

A Gallant Climb

Nearly 300 matches have been played this week—all free—for St. Andrews is a public course and there is no admission fee. Never have the golf loving Scots had such a good time as they have watching Jones clumb, round by round, over Englishmen, Scotsmen and Americans including the amateur champions of Great Britain and the United States, and the captain of the British Walker Cup team as a final opponent.

Wethered was a worthy opponent and great sportsman. Although the tide was against him all the way, he never seemed worried and played his normal game, which was good, but not good enough.

Jones played 30 holes in two under fours and there is the story of the 1930 British Amateur final.

First Nine Square

The former British Amateur champion held the American Open champion level for the first nine holes, with each one under par. Jones won five of the next seven holes and Wethered rallied with a great birdie at the 17th to win and go to luncheon four down, when he had been five behind.

The Briton won the first hole in the afternoon when the American was stymied and seemed about to win the second when Jones made one of his few bad drives of the week. The visitor, however, seemed always to have a great shot in his bag when needed and he recovered with an iron good enough to place him in position to win the hole.

Wethered Reduces Lead

Wethered reduced the lead to three at the sixth, but it was the last chance he had against the mechanical like precision of the American game.

The home player's wild tee shots cost him dearly in the morning and forced him to struggle to keep within reasonable distance. In the afternoon his long game steadied, but his loose play on the greens ruined his chances, and play ended on the 30th with a missed putt by Wethered from three feet.

"I didn't drive or putt well today," said Wethered tonight, "somehow or other I seemed to pull every ball off line, but Bobby Jones is a great golfer who may put any one off his driving. Every one does it, and I had my bad lapse in the morning. But I did not play so badly and would have won from many other golfers. All day Jones drove magnificiently. I envy him his long game and his fine touch on the greens."

"I was lucky to win," was Bobby's comment.

Scots Favored Bobby

Jones' victory was popular with the Scots. They swarmed after his shots and climbed on each other's shoulders. Many placed their youngsters on their heads and had the story of the utting relayed.

When the finish came the crowds engulfed Bobby like wild tribesmen. Half a dozen Scotch bobbies rescued him and escorted him back to the club house, more than a mile away, for the match ended at the 12th hole, far out on the neck of the links.

Jones received the cup he wanted most of all from the hands of Col. P. G. M. Skene, captain of the Royal and Ancient club, who called attention to the fact that the new champion is an honorary member of the Royal and Ancient.

"I never have been happier to get any cup," he said, "and I never worked so hard, nor suffered so much either."

Par Played By Jones

Jones' relentless battle against par proved too much for his slender opponent. The fact that Wethered was playing his ball seemed incidental. Bobby was trying constantly to better or at least remain level with par and in this he was highly successful.

In the morning round he never went above the figures called perfect for each hole. He had one five at the long seventh, where Wethered got a fine birdie four, but Jones had birdies at the fifth and 14th and with all the others in even par he was two under for the morning round.

In the afternoon he went over par on two of the first four holes but after that he never slipped, and birdies at the 23rd and 28th holes offset them, so in his battle against par her had a two stroke advantage for the day.

Wins On 30th

Turning at the ninth—the 27th of the match—for the last time Bobby shot 3-3-4 and it was all over. With a four hole advantage at the intermission he added one hole on the first nine of the afternoon, and was five up. He made it six with a birdie three at the 312 yard 28th where he almost drove the green. His par three at the short 29th was good enough for a half, and a par four at the 30th brought him the title when Wethered missed a putt for the half.

Lubbock Hubbers and Amarillo Texans clash at Merrill Park this afternoon. Game starts at 3 o'clock.

While the Puckett brigade is entertaining the home fans, Dutch Luenberger and his Advertisers will be at the Lynn county capital for an engagement with the strong Tahoka outfit. Scott is due to start on the mound against Amarillo and Hoyle will oppose the Tahoka sluggers.

Today's game with the Tactless crew from Amarillo will bring a group of former Lubbockites back to the old home lot. Sled Allen, the erstwhile "Daddy" of baseball on the South Plains and former manager of the Lubbock Hubbers, will take his position behind the bat for the invaders. Windy Nicklaus, a baseball and football star for Tech matadors during the early years of the school's existence, will be on third base. Gib Jackson, one of the most versatile diamond stars to ever don a Lubbock uniform, is to cover one of the outer gardens for Emmer Gober's nine. Manager Gober is recognized as one of the smartest semi-pro baseball heads in the state and from all indications he has assembled a whale of a club at the Panhandle metropolis.

Thus far in the 1930 season the turnouts for games here have been disappointing. The basic reason for this lethargy on the part of fans, as we see it, is simply a lack of baseball interest. But at the same time there are enough baseball enthusiasts left in Lubbock to suport a winning club, if this club can furnish the class of baseball a city of this size demands. Today's game with the Amarillo team should prove an acid test for not only the strength of the local nine but for the city's fandom and its support.

Two recent additions to the Fort Worth club of the Texas League appear likely to bring the Panthers back into the pennant chase in short order. Both are pitchers, the first Lil Stoner, a former Cat who has returned to Cowtown after an extensive stay in the majors, and the other is Henry Thormahlen, bought laft week from Waco. The latter has won eight and lost two games this season and is certain to be a consistent winner for Frank Snyder. Stoner has won his first three starts since joining the Pelions and scouts are wondering why he was allowed to leave the Big Show. Although occupying fifth place in the Texas League standings, the Panthers are but five games out of first place. Manager Snyder's cohorts have just recently hit their stride and will be plenty dangerous for the rest of the way to the finish.

Ted Robinson, president of the Fort Worth club, refused to divulge the price paid for the Cub hurling ace, but said it was "the highest price one Texas League club ever paid another for a player." The new Cat reported to Waco last season, coming to Manager Derrill Pratt from the East Carolina league. With Wilmington in that circuit he had won 14 and lost two and his club was in the second division. Manager Pratt, recognized for his ability to develop young players, has put his stamp of approval on Thormahlen, declaring that he is a coming star.

For your information this morning, we are able to announce that A. B. C. baseball nine has been officially named the "Primer Boys," after a long confab with leading members of that organization. The youngsters are hot and ready for their battle Tuesday afternoon with the Never-Say-Die Kiwanians. Clarence A. (Call Me Sheff) Sheffield, bell bull for the good-time charlies, has formally accepted the position of head cheer leader for the A. B. C.'s and everything is set, including the big war clubs of the Kiwanians. "Junior" Watson, former pride of Midland and Baylor College for Women, holds the inside track for pitching duty in the Primer Boys' camp. Watson is endowed with enough confidence to turn back the army and navy, but Amos Howard and his slugging mates appear confident of pounding Watson from the Hillock. The A. B. C. hurler will have able assistance behind the bat in the person of Windy Watkins, versatile Hubber star.

Eckhardt Runs Swat Average To .411 Mark

Beaumont Slugger's Feat Of Leading League For Seven Consecutive Weeks Said To Be Unparalleled

DALLAS, May 31. (AP)—Pounding the ball at his hardest clip of the season, including one run of nine consecutive hits, big Oscar Eckhardt of the Beaumont outfield pushed his sticking average up to the high mark of .411 through games of Thursday and again had undisputed hold on the Texas League leadership.

Joe Munson, the Waco war-horse who climbed into a tie with Eckhardt last week, could not hold the pace and fell back to second place with a mark of .383. Eckhardt's feat in leading the batting race for seven consecutive weeks is said to be unparalleled in modern Texas League ball.

Kaufman Is Third

Other leading clubbers of the circuit included Kaufman (Houston) .365; Shiver (Beaumont) .365; Rye (Waco) .358; Schinkel (San Antonio) .355; Holm (Houston) .352; E. Brown (Dallas) .352; Selph (Houston) .342; Morrow (Houston) .342. It was noteworthy that the league leading Wichita Falls Spudders did not have a man among the leaders. Neither was Shreveport, in fourth place, represented.

Schinkel, slugging San Antonio gardener, was leading the league in two departments, total hits and triples. He had banged 70 safe ones, followed by Selph and Eckhardt, each with 65. He had slapped five triples, the same number as his teammate, J. Moore.

Hock Scores 41 Runs

Hock, Houston third sacker, had scored 41 times, compared to 40 each for Whelan of Shreveport and "Half Pint" Rye and Waco. Fitzgerald of the Spudders was leading in doubles, with 17. Burns of the Spuds and Stewart, Shreveport, each had 16. Bad Bill Kelly, Panther first baseman, clung to a slight lead over Bettencourt, Wichita Falls, in the race for homerun honors, with 13 and 12, respectively.

Lil Stoner, Fort Worth, and Vincent and Florrid of Wichita Falls, led the league's pitchers, each with three wins and no defeats.

Athletics Down Senators For Third Straight, 7 to 3

Arnold Fatalist

Race Winner Will Stay on Track

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31. (AP)—Billy Arnold, winner of yesterday's 500 mile auto race, is a fatalist and, believing that "you're oing to get it some time no matter where you are," will continue racing.

The Chicagoan, who looks more like 18 than 26, has participated in three speedway races, finishing seventh in 1928, eighth in 1929 and first yesterday. He will receive part of the $52,150 prize money, the remainder going to Harry Hartz, owner of the car he drove in the race.

Arnold's mother, Mrs. Anna Arnold, said if Billy wanted to continue racing he had her approval. Arnold, however, does not want Eddie, his 18-year-old brother, to enter the sport. Eddie, a copy boy on the Chicago Daily News, today was the proud recipient of a sports roadster given him by Arnold. The latter is expected to race at Detroit next week.

Leland to Leave Monday for Meet

(Special To Avalanche-Journal)

FORT WORTH, May 31.—Cy Leland, Texas Christian University's Flying Frog, and Richard "Red" Oliver, his teammate, will leave Monday afternoon for Chicago. The two star Horned Frog track men will take part in the National Collegiate A. A. track meet June 6 and 7. The boys will be accompanied to Chicago by L. C. "Pete" Wright, athletic director.

Cy again will run in the "century of the century." He will be opposed by George Simpson of Ohio State, Eddie Tolan of Michigan, Claude Bracey of Rice, and probably Frank Wykoff of Southern California. He will also run the 220 against practically the same field.

Oliver will be entered in the 100 in addition to his regular event, the 220 low hurdles. His strongest opposition will come from Sentman of Illinois and Anderson of Washington in the hurdles.

Makeshift Lineup Good Enough to Defeat Nats

PHILADELPHIA, May 31. (AP) — The World's Champion Philadelphia Athletics presented a makeshift lineup today but had little trouble taking their third straight from Washington 7 to 3. The Athletics had Al Simmons, Mickey Cochrane, Jimmy Dykes and Max Bishop on the bench nursing injuries.

Spur Team Faces Heavy Schedule

SPUR, May 31.—Spur high school has a heavy schedule of football this year, with 16 games arranged for or possible.

First game is with Pampa on September 5, right at the opening of the school year.

Gene Taylor, popular coach the past year, is director of athletic work. He is brother of Harry Taylor, coach at Post last year, who has gone to Mangum, Okla.

There will be 10 or 11 letter men from the 1929 team back in uniform this fall. Of these is Captain B. M. Puckett, fullback, who is playing his last year of high school football. Puckett has been one of the popular members of the team.

About 50 boys are eligible for football and it is expected most of them will be on hand when the call is made for practice. Spring practice was had this year.

A large number of the games for the 1930 season are non-conference games.

Angelo Team Sets New Mark In Mile Relay

Babe Russel Of Hereford Third In 220; Harlandale High, San Antonio, Youth Breaks Hurdle Record

CHICAGO, May 31. (AP)—Froebel High of Gary, Ind., today successfully defended its national track and field championship in the University of Chicago's twenty-sixth annual meet, piling up 53 points to win over Brazil, Ind., which was second with 40.

Oak Park High was third with 28, Kokomo, Ind., had 23, and Atwood, Ill., and Pittsburg, Kas., 18 each.

Two world interscholastic records were bettered and three meet records were improved, along with a pair of new relay race marks, as the Gary team won the meet in the last two events, the half-mile and mile relays.

Fuqua Is Star

Ivan Fuqua, the one-man team from Brazil, was the outstanding performer, placing first in the 440 yard and 220 yard dashes and second in the 100 yard dash for a total of 23 points.

Texas placings were as follows:

One mile relay — Won by San Angelo, Tex. (Orr, Adams, Jones and Brothers); second, Froebel High, Gary, Ind.; third, Scotts Bluff, Neb.; fourth, Eldorado, Kas.; time 3:29.7 (new Stagg meet record. Former record, 3:30.2 by Central High, Columbus, O., in 1926).

220 yard dash (final) won by Fuqua, Brazil, Ind.; second, Burnett, Meridian, Miss.; third, Russell, Hereford, Texas. Time :21.6. (Ties Stagg meet record set by Goodwille, University High, Chicago, in 1923, and Metcalfe, Tilden Tech, Chicago, 1929.)

Pole vault—Tie for first between Wonsowicz, Froebel High, Gary, Ind., and Skelly, Oak Park, Chicago (12 feet, 10 inches); tie for third between Tobias, Kokomo, Ind., and Nesrsta, Flatonia, Texas, (12 feet, 4 inches); tie for fifth between Beck, Salem, O., Baxter, Nacogdoches, Texas, Down, Horace Mann High, Gary, Ind., and Riddell, Ft. Collins, Colo. (11 feet, 10 inches).

220 yard low hurdles (final)—Won by Lambertus, Gothenbery, Neb.; second, Kenney, Mason City, Ia.; third, Ahlowitch, Greenville, Texas; fourth, Abrams, Froebel High, Gary, Ind.; fifth, Kelly, Snohomish, Wash.; sixth, Casper, Harlandale, Tex. Time :24.7.

Casper Breaks Record

Charlie Casper of Harlandale, Tex., ran a great race in the 120 yard high hurdles to set a new national mark of 15.1. Casper broke the tape only inches ahead of Amaden Oliver, sensational negro from Roosevelt High, Dayton, O., in winning the event.

Oliver who in the trials yesterday raced over the 220 yard low hurdles in :25.6 for a new national interscholastic record, was the victim of an accident today in his favorite event. Leading by three yards, the slim negro stumbled as he cleared the seventh hurdle and sprawled in the cinders. He got up as the field swept by him and finished courageously, but in last place.

Texan Hitch-Hiked Way To Track Title

SAN ANTONIO, May 31. —(AP)— Charles Casper, Harlandale High school youth, who set a new world's interscholastic record of 15.1 seconds in the high hurdles today at Chicago, literally hitch-hiked his way to the championship.

Early in the current season, when his school did not think sufficient of his ability to pay his transportation, Charley was forced to hit the highway in order to attend the Texas University relays at Austin, 90 miles away. Leaving here at daylight, he reached Austin just in time to enter and win his event.

There was difficulty in raising a fund to send him to Chicago and his trip was not assured until four days before the meet was scheduled.

Whichone Winner In Belmont Race

BELMONT PARK RACE TRACK, N. Y. May 31. (AP)—A great horse with a great rider laid claim to the three-year-old championship today as Harry Payne Whitney's Whichone with Sonny Workman in the saddle, galloped over the Belmont Park track winner of the historic Withers Stake and $26,150.

Showing championship form, the brilliant colt, which last year won the juvenile title, came from behind in the stretch after overcoming early interference to outclass a field of five rivals by four lengths. Trailing the Whichone-Workman combination in second place was Walter J. Salmon's Swinfield while another length back followed Pranke Brown's Starpatic.

The son of Chile-Flying Witch went to the post at the almost unbelievable odds of one to 10, the second shortest odds in the 55 years of the running of the classic mile. Man O' War was quoted at one to 30 in his 1920 triumph, when he stepped the mile in 1:34 4-5, a new American record at the time. Whichone went the distance today in 1:38 1-5 over a track rated as good.

CHICAGO, May 31. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, the "wounded in action hero," of the Championship Cubs, hobbled into Wrigley Field supporter by crutches today to receive the National League's most valuable player award for the second time.

Thirty thousand fans, most of whom saw the famous "Rajah" break his good left ankle while sliding to third base in yesterday morning's game with the St. Louis Cardinals, stood during the presentation ceremony and gave a tumultous cheer. It was a little solace anyway for Hornsby, who will be out of the game six weeks or more because of his accident.

Heydler Presides

President John Heydler of the National League presided at the brief ceremony, which was held before the day's game between the Cardinals and Cubs. He handed the "Rajah" $1,000 in gold and lauded him not only for his baseball playing ability but for his spirit, one of the big factors that enabled the Cubs to win the National League pennant last year. James Cruisenberry, president of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, who made the award, also praised Hornsby and presented him a bronze pacque.

"This award is made to you," President Heydler told Hornsby, "not only because you are a great baseball player and invaluable, but because you possess the spirit that makes a great baseball player. We all would prefer to give you a good leg, but this may be of some solace. Get up and around in a hurry. We need men like you in this game."

Spirit Is Praised

Thus the player, who most baseball critics predicted would ruin instead of help the Cubs in 1929, heard himself lauded and signalized as the most valuable man to his club in 1929. Instead of being the "trouble maker" he was reputed to be when he came to the Cubs for approximately a half million dollars and players in 1929, Hornsby not only led the 1929 champions in hitting with a .380 average, but was invaluable as a field general, centering around his keystone position. He was the leader of the league in runs scored, breaking the all time record, and was the only player on the team to play every game, including exhibition contests.

"Hornsby was everything and more than we expected," said President William Veeck of the Cubs, who purchased his contract from the Boston Braves in one of the biggest deals in baseball history.

Hornsby, who won the award in 1925 and is the only player to win it twice, is also the last man to receive the honor. The award has been discontinued ending with 1929, the league magnates believing it instrumental in higher salary demands.

Hornsby plans to leave for his farm on the outskirts of St. Louis tomorrow night to recuperate. While the fracture is not exceptionally severe, he and the Cubs will be fortunate if he gets back in to action in six weeks. It probably will be two months, perhaps the rest of the season.

Southwest Grid Race Looks Hot

Scribe Takes Early Peek Into Dope Bucket And Finds Big Question Mark Hovering Around Camps

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

DALLAS, May 31. — Three full Conference football squads report months remain before Southwest for the long grind. Furthermore is unseasonably hot for discussion the rough sport; but the real, dyed-in-the-wool football fan already is in training. He is taking it easy right now—just loafing along, so to speak—but he will be bearing down in earnest in a couple more months and by mid-September will be able to give you the inside dope on every one of the seven camps.

One of the principal hot-weather topics has had to do with Weldon Mason, the Southern backfield flash who is counted upon to make himself obnoxious to the Navy and Notre Dame and Indians, not to mention rival Southwest Conference schools next fall. It has been rumored that Mason is in a bad way from a crack he received on the head against Texas last year and will be of little value to the Mustangs in 1930.

Mason May Be Off

The report probably is premature True, Mason did suffer a severe head injury when he tackled Norris Rees. He was under a doctor's care for months and was forced to wear glasses when not on the playing field. But he went on playing nevertheless, and scored the touchdown that tied Texas Christian that cold November day. Nobody knows what he will do next fall. He might be a washout—an he might be a Mason of 1929. Coach Ray Morrison quite frankly does not know.

Few observers, it seems, are picking the Mustangs to capture the championship, despite the fact that last year's great team is returning almost intact. They figure that the games with the Middies, Micks and Hoosiers will take all the sap out of the Ponies and that they will have nothing left for the conference race.

Neither are they favoring the Horned Frogs to repeat. In the first place, no Southwest Conference member ever has repeated. In the second place, the Frogs lost Howard Grubbs, the section's premier quarterback, along with such brilliant linemen as Brumbelow Handler, Barr, Moore and Walker. It will be hard to replace that crew. "Grassy" Hinton of Cleburne is supposed to be slated for Grubbs' shoes, but they will wobble on his feet. And it is said that "Red" Oliver, the sprinter who was to team up with Cy Leland in the backfield for a murderous combination, is not such a hot backfielder after all. He is very nearly as fast as Leland, but they say he doesn't know how to thread through a broken field. However they said that about Cy early last fall, and he showed 'em.

Texas May Lose Meadows

Then, there is the report that Claude Meadows will not be at Texas University next year. The Longhorns had been counting on the fleet halfback from Waco to round out a fine backfield, and if the report is true, he will be missed. This big fellow Koy, from Blinn Memorial College, is expected to prove a sensation in the Texas backfield. They say he has everything a great back needs.

Coach Morley Jennings faces a tough problem at Baylor. He will have almost exactly the same squad back that was generally picked to win last year's conference titles. He will have a fine line—providing he can scare up a pair of good ends—and he has a set of splendid backs. If the forward pass had been barred last year the Bears very probably woul have finished at the top. But six other teams again will be throwing an occasional pass in 1930, and therein lies Jennings' problem. He has the alternative of playing the same set of speedy, diminutive backs and letting the opposition pass over their heads, or displacing them for more rangy lads with less ball-carrying ability. Or, better still, perhaps he can teach Wilson, McElreath and Kathcrat to knock down passes. If Jennings does that—look out for the Bruins!

Big Bill Tilden Will Meet Cochet For Men's Singles Crown; American Stars Clash for Women's Net Crown

By THOMAS TOPPING
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUTEUIL, France, May 30. (AP)—America's standard-bearers out-did themselves in the French tennis championships today, creating an all-California final for the women's title and landing Big Bill Tilden in the title round against Henri Cochet for the men's singles crown.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody mowed down Fraulein Cecilie Aussem of Germany, 6-2, 6-1, in a match interrupted by rain, and Big Bill Tilden turned back his old rival, Jean Borotra of France, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, but the biggest surprise was the smashing victory of Helen Jacobs over Senorita Elia de Alvarez of Spain 6-1, 6-0.

Miss Jacobs, for the first time since she came to Europe, proved the American ranking committee made no mistake when it selected her as second only to Queen Helen herself. She overpowered the highly rated Spanish player by strong driving, cunning change of pace and length and a magnificent overhead game that coupled with unusual agility and speed at covering court.

Sam Rice Adds To Lead Over Hitting Rival

Washington Outfielder Holds 31 Point Advantage On Al Simmons; Senators Pace Field In Bat Averages

CHICAGO, May 31 (AP)—Sam Rice, veteran Washington outfielder, appears to be making a strong fight for the batting championship of the American league.

Unofficial averages, including games of Wednesday, show that Rice not only led the batting race for the third straight week but that he stretched his margin over the runnerup, Al Simmons of Philadelphia, to 1 points. During the sixth week of campaigning, Rice lifted his average from .390 to .411.

Rice Leads Senators

Rice's big stick, one of the factors in Wasington's surprising showing in the junior circuit, also was instrumental in lifting the Senators from second to first place in team hitting during the week. The league leading Senators increased their batting mark from .294 to .303 and sent the Cleveland Indians from first to second position.

Batting averages during the sixth week slumped slightly. Trailing Rice, the leading hitters were Simmons, Philadelphia, .380; Ruth, New York, .376; Hodapp, Cleveland, .364; McManus, Detroit, .362; Cissell, Chicago, .358; Judge, Washington, .355; Burnett, Cleveland .355; Cochran, Philadelphia, .349; and Oliver, Boston, .346.

Grove And Jones Tied

"Lefty" Grove of the Athletics and "Sad Sam" Jones of the Senators remained deadlocked in the race for pitching leadership, each winning his sixth game against no defeats while Ted Lyons of the White Sox had a record of eight won and two lost. Grove ran his strikeout record to 57 during the period.

Detroit came up to the Philadelphia in the fielding race, each team having a .974 defensive. Boston completed six double plays during the week. Babe Ruth leads in three batting fields. He leads in runs with 41, in total bases with 98 and in his favorite field, home runs, with 14.

Rice leads with 62 hits and in stolen bases with 8; West and Judge, of Washington and Combs of the Yankees are tied in triples with six apiece while Cronin of Washington has hit 16 doubles. Foxx of the Athletics leads in runs batted in with a 40 total.

Recognition was given Lee Barnes, University of Southern California athlete, for his mark of 14 feet 1 1-2 inches in the pole vault, two years after he had given up competition.

Terrific Pace Set By Wichita Spudders Due To Timely Stick Work, Sports Observer Believes

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, May 31. (AP)—The difference between winning baseball and losing baseball in the Texas League is not clearly defined; but, whatever it is, the speeding Wichita Falls Spudders have it down to a fine point.

During the week ending Friday the league leaders maintained a terrific pace, winning seven out of eight games and materially boosting their pennant stock—yet they neither outhit their opponents nor played better ball afield. By remarkable coincidence, they made 66 hits during the week and their opponents 66; they committed 12 errors and their opponents fumbled 14. Yet Carl Williams' ambitious youngsters lost only one decision, which, in the last analysis, is what counts.

The answer lay in the fact that the Spudders hit in the clinches. Three of their four victories over Shreveport were won by the slimmest possible margin, one run. Timely homeruns decided the issue in two of the three, and their only loss resulted from a circuit blow by Perry of the Sports. In five of their seven triumphs the Spuds came from behind to win.

For the entire week the Leaders had only one exceptionally well pitched game. That came when Milt Steengrafe held Dallas to four hits and blanked them, 11 to 0 Thursday. That was the club's only top-heavy score of the week.

Of 18 horses E. R. Bradley has at Chicago for the Washington park season, only one has a name commencing with a letter other than P. It is Tsuga, which Bradley bought last year.

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, once claimant to the world's heavyweight title, is now operating a cafe in Glendale, Cal., besides keeping up active wrestling competition.

Herman Leads Paul Waner In National Race

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—Although the St. Louis Cardinals have captured team leadership by a fraction of a point, the Brooklyn Robins still dominate the race for batting honors in the National League. A club the Robins are second by the margin of .3237 to .3261 for St. Louis. Individually they hold three of the first ten places on the batting lists and top honors in several other departments.

Despite a slump that lasted most of the week, Babe Herman of Brooklyn is back at the top of the regulars in the averages released today and including Thursday's games with a mark of .414, four points below his previous week's average. Paul Waner of Pittsburgh has moved into second place at .405 while Frank Hogan of New York, tied with Herman a week ago, has dropped back to fifth place.

Herman Leads in Scoring

Herman also leads the league in scoring with 39 runs. His teammate, Johnny Frederick, who also has made 63 hits to top the list in that respect, is tied with Bill Terry of New York for second place in scoring, one run behind. Frederick likewise is second in hitting doubles with 15. Frank Frisch of St. Louis has piled up a total of 19 two baggers. Another Cardinal, Taylor Douthit, is second to Frederick in hits with 39 blows.

The two leaders, Herman and Waner, are the only regulars who have averages above the .400 mark. They are followed by O'Doul, Philadelphia, .388; Terry, New York, .384; Hogan, New York, .382; Klein Philadelphia, .379; Douthit, St Louis, .373; Flowers, Brooklyn, .372; Heilmann, Cincinnati, .372, and Frederick, Brooklyn, .371.

Hack Paces Field In Homers

The Chicago Cubs have made almost a clean sweep of the batting honors not taken by Brooklyn and St. Louis. Slugging Hack Wilson has hit 13 home runs to lead in that respect and has batted in 39 runs for a first place tie with Chuck Klein of the Phillies. Klein and Walter Berger of the Braves are tied for second in home run hitting with eleven each. Kiki Cuyler and Woody English of the Cubs lead in hitting triples with six apiece and Cuyler also tops the base stealers with ten.

Pitching leadership is divided between Adolfo Luque of Brooklyn and Jess Haines of St. Louis once more. Each added a fourth victory to his record last week without meeting a defeat so far. Jim Lindsey of the Cards is the only other undefeated pitcher, having two victories, while still another Cardinal, Wild Bill Hallahan, has fanned 53 opposing batsmen to lead in that department.

U. S. C. Trojans Beat Cardinals In Hot Battle For Major Track Title Of Nation; Marks Broken

By ALAN GOULD.

HARVARD STADIUM, Cambridge, Mass., May 31. (AP)—The superior all-around strength of Southern California's Trojans triumphed over the individual brilliance of Stanford's Cardinals, defending title holders, today and swept them to victory in the 54th Intercollegiate A. A. A. track and field championships, a sensational battle featured by the greatest collection of performances in the history of the classic.

Three records were shattered and a fourth equalled in the two-day struggle as the two Pacific Coast rivals staged a spectacular fight for team honors. For a time, Harvard unexpectedly made it a three-cornered affair with a surprising show of strength but the Crimson was unable to keep up the pace all the way.

Scoring in 11 of the 15 finals, the stalwart band of 16 Southern Californians rolled up the impressive total off 44 1-4 points, an eight point margin over Stanford which finished second with 36 1-4 points. Harvard finished a good third with 23 1-2 points, Michigan fourth with 14 1-4, and Yale fifth with 12 3-4.

Stanford, with her twin stars, Eric Krenz and Harlow Rothert, in rare form, furnished most of the record-breaking thrills.

Advertisers Play At Tahoka Today

The Lubbock Advertisers return to Tahoka today for another tussle with the All-Stars of the Lynn county capital. Starting time for the game is set for 3 o'clock.

Manager Luenberger last night announced the starting lineup for the local aggregation. Joe Hoyle will start on the mound for the Advertisers and Volney Hill will catch. The infield will be composed of Bowers at first; Waller at second; Green at shortstop and Clark at third.

Daily Vacation Bible Schools To Start Here Today

Two Churches Are To Hold Daily Classes

First Presbyterian Work Is Postponed; Full Staff Of Teachers Are Included In The Work

Annual daily vacation Bible schools will open tomorrow morning at the First Baptist and First Methodist churches with an estimated enrollment of 700 children. These schools are conducted for children from the beginners through the intermediate departments and are without charge.

The Methodist school begins at 9 o'clock and continues until 11:30 o'clock while the Baptists will open at 9 o'clock and close at 12 o'clock. Both schools will continue through Friday, June 13.

Program Varied

The program varies from year to year but includes worship, habit-talks, missionary stories and expressional activities, music handwork and recreation. The standard courses place prime emphasis upon the Bible stories, Bible memory work, correlating most of the periods with the Bible story hour.

Because of the illness of several members and the absence from the city of others, the First Presbyterian church has postponed its school until in August according to an announcement from Miss Virginia McLean, director of church activities.

Picnic To Be Held

During the course of the schools a picnic is to be held and students of the Methodist school will attend a sunrise breakfast.

Faculty for the Methodists has been announced as follows: Mrs. Hunter W. Richardson in charge; beginners, Mrs. Elmo McClellan, superintendent; pianist, Catherine Royalty; supervisor of craftwork, Lorena Bains; supervisor of lunches, Sammie Marie Hitt; helpers, Mrs. Sidney Ogilsbee, Mrs. John Morgan, Mrs. I. C. Enochs, Misses Alta Vista McCoy, Betty Richardson, Bess Holland and Mary Genlece Hardberger.

Primary department, Mrs. Fred Gwendolyn Thompson, pianist; craftwork supervisor, Miss Mildred Hinds; helpers, Misses Murvel Rankin, Freddie Adkins, Lucille McCrummen, Mary Ansley, Roberta Myrick, and Lorena Odom.

Junior department, Mrs. Ernest Nelson, superintendent; pianist, Mrs. J. B. Galland; craftwork supervisor, Mrs. A. L. Schoolcraft; helpers, Mrs. B. E. Needles, Misses Ethel Green, Mary Catherine Cole, Virginia Anthony, Lois Marie Stanton.

Intermediate department, Mrs. J. T. Shaver, superintendent; pianist, Louise Hodges; superintendent of stories, Miss Lallah Boone; supervisor of craftwork, Mrs. H. A. Welmaker; helpers, Mrs. Reese, Mrs. R. T. Campbell and Mrs. Gerald Wren.

Miss Hazel Kokanour, director of church activities, is to be in charge of the Baptist daily vacation Bible school. She will be assisted by Miss Myrtle Sansom who will have charge of beginners' work; Mrs. G. V. Pardue, superintendent of primary work; Miss Frances Stahl, superintendent of junior work and Mrs. Frazier McCrummen will be superintendent of the intermediate work.

Commencement exercises will be held at the close of the schools and parents and patrons will be given an opportunity to inspect the articles made during the two weeks.

W.H. Bledsoe Formally Announces Race For Office Of Lieutenant - Governorship

Local Man Says He Is For Permanent State Progress

IN a statement issued Saturday W. H. Bledsoe of Lubbock, a former state senator, formally announced his candidacy for the nomination for lieutenant governor of Texas in the forthcoming Democratic primary on July 26. The statement is in answer to recent rumors that Mr. Bledsoe would not be a candidate this year.

Mr. Bledsoe announced he had filed his application for a place on the ballot with D. W. Wilcox, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee.

To Wage Active Campaign

"I expect to conduct an active vigorous campaign throughout the state from now on until the date of the primaries," the statement said. "Of course it will be impossible for me to cover every part of the state and meet all of the people and I will have to depend to a great extent upon my friends and those who know me for assistance in the campaign."

A lawyer by profession, Mr. Bledsoe has lived in Lubbock for the past 21 years and has practiced law here all of that time.

Educated In Texas

"I was born at Cleburne, Texas, where I resided until the time I moved to Lubbock," he says in his statement. "My legal education was received at the University of Texas and under Governor Oran N. Roberts and Judge Robert S. Gould. My life profession has been as practicing attorney.

"The only public offices I have ever sought or held at the hands of the people has been that of member of the house of representatives and the state senate from the district in which I now live. My services in both branches have been extensive and I understand the rules governing both branches thoroughly and have had ample experience in this work to carry on the business of the senate properly. I am a life long democrat and if elected lieutenant governor, will conduct the business of the office in a manner which I know will be fair to the people and satisfactory to the senate over which I would have the honor to preside."

Office Is Important

Mr. Bledsoe says the office of lieutenant governor "is an important one" and one wherein the holder can render "an invaluable service" to the state.

He outlines his platform as follows:

"I have at all times been a friend of education, both the common schools and the higher institutions of learning, and believe it is the state's highest duty to uphold them and improve them. Above all, I desire to see adequate appropriations for the care of the state's eleemosynary institutions.

To Cut Sessions

"If elected lieutenant governor of Texas, it will be my purpose after a conference with the senators, to undertake to select those best fitted for the various committees, and with my knowledge of the work of the senate I feel sure it can be done in a way that will curtail long and expensive sessions.

"I am a friend of labor and have always supported legislation looking to the general welfare of the working classes.

"In my public and private life I have nothing to hide and invite the voters of Texas to make any and all investigations that they may desire."

Grateful For Support

Mr. Bledsoe says he considers it "a great honor to have the opportunity of serving the people of my native state in this high office and will be ever grateful for their support." He promises faithfully to discharge the duties and responsibilities of the office imposted by the constitution and the laws of this state.

"I am seeking this office with the view of rendering only that sort of service that will contribute to her permanent progress among the states of the union," he says in conclusion. "It is my purpose to make the campaign on my record as a citizen, lawyer and legislator. I will not indulge in personalities or criticisms towards others who may aspire to this position of trust and honor. Your vote and support in the primaries and after that in the general election will be appreciated."

Amarillo Club To Play Here

Lubbock Aggregation Will Meet Tactless Texans At Merrill Park Today; Sam Scott Starting Pitcher

Sam Scott will oppose Teddy Nicklaus on the hillock this afternoon when Emmer Gober and his Tactless Texans of Amarillo invade Merrill Park for a nine-inning struggle with the Hubber diamond aggregation. The game starts at 3 o'clock.

Scott turned back Plainview last Sunday in an impressive fashion, limiting the Hale county hitters to a pair of bingles, and the selection of the slim righthander to start the fireworks in today's encounter is based upon his recent performance.

Ted Nicklaus, hard-working Amarillo flinger, is a veteran moundsman in the history of Panhandle baseball. He has drawn the starting assignment from Manager Gober in preference to Buck Freeman and Lefty Middleton, both stellar slabmen.

The Lubbock club will be forced to take the field today minus the services of its flashy shortstop, "Pepper" Young, who has left Lubbock for the summer. Clarence Hodges, another Tech infielder, is also likely to be lost from Puckett's nine. A pair of capable reserves will be injested into the lineup to replace Young and Hodges, Blair, a former West Texas leaguer, will fill the shortfield position and Earnest Dowell, former Lubbock high school star, is scheduled to start at second base.

Brothers, Waller and Allen will remain in the outfield. Windy Watkins is to catch again for the locals.

Cliff Heathcote, Chicago Cub utility outfielder, began hitting better this year when he began standing closer to the plate.

The photo-electric cell is used to sort colors of cigars, check vehicle traffic, as a burglar alarm, and scores of other uses.

The Mills of the I. A. A. F. Grind Slowly Indeed

Frank Wykoff ran 100 yards in 9.4 the other day, and sometime in the next few years you may be reminded of the fact by the acceptance of his performance as a world record by the International Amateur Athletic Federation. Meanwhile the world record of Eddie Tolan, Michigan's negro sprinter, stands on the books and 9.5 is supposed to be the shortest time in which a human being can travel 100 yards on his own power.

I used to wonder why a mark made so quickly took so long in traveling to the record books. But I have cut it out. The I. A. A. F. has tried to sacrifice speed in these matters to the interests of accuracy—and hasn't succeeded in even that. Why waste time with such people?

Beating the Champion

Tolan is on the record books as the world champion in the 100-yard dash, yet this year he has taken a dusting nearly every time he has entered competition. Cy Leland, the Texan, beat him at the Kansas and Drake Relays. George Simpson defeated the Michigan sprinter at the Ohio Relays and twice at the Big Ten meet in Chicago.

There is a chance for the question of sprinting supremacy to be settled once and for all at the National Collegiate track and field meet in Chicago June 6 and 7. Here Simpson, Tolan, Wykoff, Bracey, Leland and Meier will run it out. George Simpson, who has won eight races out of eight starts this year, will be the favorite. If Tolan or any of the others can beat George, the airy title of "fastest human" should be his.

For My Money

Most of the young men who sprint, hurdle or vault are simply young men in college, and furnish no very colorful gob of copy to the reporters. They run their races, a few of their names linger on for several years, another young man in college breaks their record and thereafter they are forgotten. But there is one lad many of the reporters who have covered track meets will never forget. He was my favorite because he was a fighter, and in any argument among the boys in the back room upon the subject of great sprinters, I always have insisted that this chap was the greatest. His name is Percy Williams.

Rheumatic fever made an invalid of Percy Williams when he was a boy 15 years old. Doctors pronounced his heart leaky and advised him never to run for a street car. He was a frail youth, with an Adam's Apple as big as a Baldwin in his thin neck. He weighed about 110 pounds. A couple of years before he ran in the Olympics of 1928 he fell from a shed and broke a leg.

But at Amsterdam, the world's greatest sprinters followed him down the 100 and 200-meter path. He went on later to beat Tolan at 40 yards in 4 2-5 seconds; to beat Jack Elder at 45 yards in 4 4-5; to tie a world record at 60 yards in the Canadian championships at 6 1-5, to beat Wykoff, Bracey and Tolan last year at Vanvouver in 100 yards at 9 3-5.

They say the outdoor life saved Williams' life after the doctors had given him up. A different word seems more expressive. That word is courage.

Joe Patrick, president of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific coast league, draws no salary. He is a millionaire in his own rights.

Ty Cobb got five hits in a single game 13 times during his major league career.

Grand Jury Returns 30 Indictments Then Recesses

Seventeen Are Arrested, Five Free On Bonds

Thirteen Yet To Be Arrested By Officers; Report To Be Made Later On Jail Before Close Of Term

CONCLUDING its first week's session, grand jury of the 72nd district court was recessed Saturday afternoon returning bills in criminal cases numbering thirty.

Seventeen of the indictments were announced by the Lubbock county sheriff's office, thirteen others not having been arrested. Of the seventeen indicted and arrested five have already made bond.

Indictments, as returned by the body, are:

Buddy Porter, two cases, violation pro law, released on $1,250 bond each case; A. L. Hoffman, violation pro law, released on $1,000 bond; W. Johnson, violation pro law, released on $1,000 bond; Ray Myers pro law violation, released on $1,000 bond; Hub Johnson, pro law violation, released on $1,000 bond.

Others Are Held

The following have been arrested and are being held in jail in lieu of the necessary security: L. D. Kelly, two cases forgery and passing, $1,000 bond each case; Sam Taylor, pro law violation, $1,500 bond; Horacio Penia, forgery and passing, $1,000 bond; Miguel Ramos, forgery and passing, $1,000 bond; Eusibio Lopez, forgery and passing, $1,000 bond; Jesse Scott, pro law violation, $1,000 bond; J. H. Dumas, two cases theft over $50, $1,500 bond each case; J. J. Crow, pro law violation, $1,500 bond; M. T. Fisher, burglary, $1,250 bond; Essie Young, assault with intent to murder, $1,500 bond; L. J. Brown, pro law violation, $1,250 bond; Willie Morris, pro law violation, $1,000 bond.

The jury probably will make an investigation and detailed report on conditions in the Lubbock county jail the latter part of its eight-week term.

Dallas Bandit Duo Robs Bank Of Cash, Bonds

Leisurely Pair Tie Officers Of Institution And Escape With $10,400 On Saturday; 'Job' Is Well Planned

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, May 31. — Two men robbed the Grand Avenue State bank here of $10,400 today, and escaped in leisurely fashion.

Gaining entrance through a rear window, the men greeted Weldon Miller, assistant cashier, when he entered to open the bank before 8 o'clock. They bound him and forced him to sit at a desk. Then they sat down.

Soon Vice-President and Cashier W. F. Miller walked in. The men rose, displayed their guns, and tied up Miller, then resumed their seats.

Vault Is Opened.

Shortly after 8 o'clock, the bank's force was complete when Roy O'Brien, bookkeeper, arrived. He was treated in the same fashion, but the robbers, instead of returning to their chairs, unbound Weldon Miller and forced him to open the bank vault and money boxes. Gathering up their loot, in cash and Liberty Bonds, the men retied Miller, exited through the rear window, and drove off in Miller's car.

Officers found the car later some distance from the bank, leading to the belief that a third man had been stationed at that point as a part of the apparently carefully prepared plan.

Fight Against Flood Goes On

Alexandria Girds For Battle Against Rising Water; Long Siege Is Seen; Negroes Of Valley Sing Praises

(By Associated Press)

ALEXANDRIA, La., May 31.—Plantation negroes, homeless up the Red River valley, today sang their praises of Red Cross rations while about Alexandria a mighty battle was in progress to curb continued inundation by the rampant river.

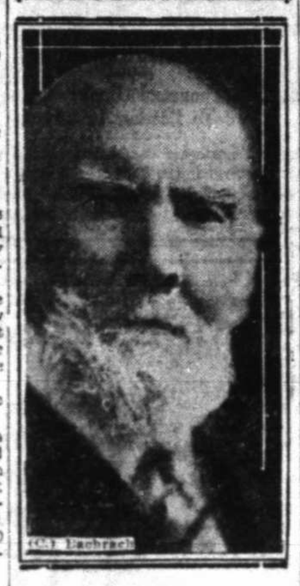

Negro spirituals drifted out from the refugee camps in Natchitoches and Red River parishes where more than 10,000 persons were driven from their homes. Preparations were made for Sunday camp meeting with such of thanks for deliverance one the recession of the waters.

More Men At Work

Facing a flood crest revised upward, levee and highway forces today threw additional crews into action to strengthen levees and attempt to hold Rapides bayou emergency dike for the protection of the Enterprise addition to the city and a wide stretch of valuable farm lands extending to Boyce.

Alexandria prepared for a long siege against flood, the rising of the crest being predicted here from 39.7 feet to from 40 to 40.5 feet by June 3.

Oldest Yale Grad Is 100 on June 5

The first 100 years may be the hardest for some folks, but not for Edward Payson Bradstreet, above, of Cincinnati, who has enjoyed every one of them. Mr. Bradstreet, who on June 5 will be 100 years is the oldest living Yale alumnus, having graduated in 1853.

Tahoka Child Is Run Down by Car

Guy Thompson, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Thompson, of Tahoka, was painfully injured Saturday night about 8 o'clock when he was struck down and run over by an automobile on the main street of Tahoka.

The child was brought to the Lubbock sanitarium later last night and physicians stated, after examination, that no broken bones could be found but that he suffered from shock and possible internal injuries. Several small cuts were sustained about the face and arms. Attendants said last night that while painful, his injuries are not serious.

Bryant Greathouse, of Tahoka, was driver of the automobile and stated that the lad ran in front of his car and he was unable to swerve or stop before striking him.

Mothers Honored By Tea in Paris

PARIS, May 31. (AP)—More than 250 Gold Star mothers of the United States, the fourth group to land, today paid tribute at the Arc de Triomphe to France's Unknown Soldier.

In traditional fashion they paused at the Altar of Freedom before beginning their trip to the battle cemeteries where their dead rest in Flanders field.

After the brief ceremony, the mothers went to a restaurant in the center of Paris for tea.

There they were guests of honor with Walter E. Edge, American ambassador, who with Colonel Richard Tellis and General Burant, spoke briefly to them.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Johnny Hines, Film Comedian, Faces Drunk Prosecution

LOS ANGELES, May 31. —(AP)—Johnny Hines, film comedian, will face a jury trial June 20 in municipal court on charges of being drunk in an automobile. He pleaded not guilty today.

"Love-For-Governor" Club Is Formed Here; To Support Senator's Campaign

A "Love-For-Governor" club was organized here Friday night in the county courtroom of the courthouse and plans made for waging an active campaign for the Dallas senator in this section.

John L. Ratliff was selected as president of the group and R. H. McCauley was named secretary. Eighty members are in the club.

The organization plans to hold a series of meetings in the county and to carry the senator's banners in other areas of the South Plains. The next meeting will be held on June 13. An effort will also be made to have Mr. Love make a major address in Lubbock and make this city his headquarters for the South Plains.

The club is probably the first organized in the state, it was stated at the meeting Friday.

Few Court Cases Fifty Years Ago Says S. K. Bynum, Pioneer Ranchman

Law of the range of 50 years ago has been recalled by S. K. Bynum, of Lubbock, pioneer rancher of the early days.

The following was printed in the Roswell Morning dispatch while Mr. Bynum was visiting recently with his son C. L. Bynum, in that city: "There seldom was a case in court in those days," said Mr. Bynum. "I remember more than one argument over the ownership of a cow, where the owner failed to agree. And in such a case, any group of passing cow hands that happened along would hold court on the range over the disputed property, and their decision was final. No one ever thought of an appeal, by way of court of law or even the vicious law of the six-shooter.

Under Lincoln

"Once in a while, though, we'd get a case in court. All this country then was under Lincoln, and the old county courthouse there (Roswell) was the scene of more than one battle in court, even after the days of Billy the Kid.

"Mr. Bynum was in Roswell in 1886, when there were two saloons and two little houses in the town."

Mr. Bynum is field representative for the museum of Texas Technological college. He spends his time in gathering arrow heads, old pistols, and other articles of historic value which are preserved as representative of the old west.

JURY DISMISSED

Twelve Men Unable To Agree On Will Edmondson Case

LLANO, May 31. (AP)—Unable to reach a verdict, the jury in the trial of Will Edmondson, charged with slaying Fred Bolinger at San Saba in 1925, was dismissed here today.

The case went to the jury late yesterday. Three ballots were taken, the first being evenly divided for conviction and acquittal, the second four for conviction and eight for acquittal and the last 11 for acquittal and one for conviction. It was the fourth trial for the San Saba farmer, reversals and mistrials having resulted before.

Lynn County's Growth Symbolizes Texas' Progress

Three Decades Find Section Grown From Cow Country To Land Of Farms, Busy Cities

Coming Of Railroad Is Great Boon To County As New And Lively Towns Spring Up In Neighboring County

BY FRANK HILL
Staff Correspondent

TAHOKA, May 31.—The story of the development of Lynn county, from a vast prairie country with a couple of ranch headquarters and 17 cow-punchers, as was the case in 1900, to the present agricultural empire of 2,124 farms and 12,366 people and a 110-section ranch thrown in that will likely be all farms before another ten years, is a story that applies to the great South Plains of Texas.

It is symbolical of a country of short history, rapid development, where more growth is shown in ten short years than is shown in many sections of the United States in a hundred years, where cow camps have become towns and towns are becoming cities all in the span of thirty years.

Almost Unbelievable

Although the growth and development of Lynn county has not been as rapid as that of some counties on the Plains, due to a large extent to the fact that big ranchers have been reluctant to give way to the farmers, a review of the past thirty years is interesting even to we Plains people, and is a bit unbelievable to long time residents of the older sections.

The census enumerator in 1900 did several days hard riding back and forth between the few ranch headquarters and cow camps and managed to eke out a total population of 17 for the entire unorganized county of Lynn. There was no town, no store. One postoffice served a radius of fifty miles. Supplies were hauled in from Big Spring, the nearest railroad town, ninety miles away, and Colorado City.

Land Prices Low

The entire county could have been bought for less than a half million dollars. Land was high at from 50c to $1.00 per acre, and an early day real estate agent is reputed to have been razzed by the cow-punchers because he "held up a poor, ignorant East Texas man who wished to risk all he had farming here $1.50 an acre."

But it wasn't long until new people came in, the county was organized in 1903, and immediately a town sprung up and was christened Tahoka in honor of Tahoka Lake, long an oasis to Indians, buffalo hunters, and explorers of "the great West Texas desert."

The 1910 census enumerator found 1,713 in the county. But, a new day had dawned. Half a dozen real estate agents were advertising Lynn county soil as tillable, and people were finding out that it was. There were now two gins in the county. Cotton ginnings for 1908 had totaled 634 bales, 1909, 183; however some cotton was brought in from Terry and other counties. Bank deposits totaled $63,000. Land had jumped to from $10 to $15 an acre for the best.

It was in 1910 that the railroad was built to Tahoka and Lamesa, and immediately Wilson and O'Donnell had come into being. The Tahoka school had four teachers and the district voted a $15,000 bond issue for a brick building, the first in the county. There were now twelve organized schools in the county where there was none in 1900 and three post offices. A page advertisement in the Lynn County News boasted of the fact that Tahoka had two drug stores, bank, hotel, livery stable, confectionary, hardware, a railroad, and a telephone exchange with long distance connection.

Along in the latter part of the year, the names of Tahoka and Lynn county appeared on the front pages of the big newspapers of the United States for the first time in history. The story, in part, read: "Washington, D. C., Oct. 1, 1920—The growth of Lynn county, of which Tahoka is the capitol, has not been equaled by any county in the United States. The percentage of gain is 9976.5 per cent."

In 1920 there was need of several enumerators, for the county had 4,738 inhabitants, 786 of which lived in Tahoka. There were 275 in school at Tahoka, requiring the services of 8 teachers, so another $15,000 school bond was voted. One student graduated from high school that year. A $100,000 court house had been built, and soon Tahoka boasted of being one of the first five towns in the entire Panhandle-Plains section to have paved streets. There was now three gins, the cotton production was 9,556 bales, and times were prosperous as shown by the $550,000 on deposit in the banks at Tahoka, O'Donnell and Wilson. Poll tax payments totaled 930 for the county.

A jump of another ten years and we behold a new land. Highways, two state and one national, traverse the county, and there is a net work of lateral roads. Only one big ranch, the 111-secion T-Bar, which lies against Tahoka's city limits on the west, remains. However, thousands of acres of other land remains eligible to the plow. There are now twenty-four school districts, twenty with modern brick buildings, with a total plant value of over half a million dollars. There are 3,800 schelastics, 3,300 poll tax payers, 3,300 motor vehicles. Practically every farmer has a telephone, many have tractors, and all drive automobiles. The three towns have gas, water, lights and all other modern conveniences. The county that once could have been bought for less than a half million is now worth fully $20,000,000, leaving out all towns and other improvements, and valuing the land at only $10 per acre.

Promotion For Scouts Carded

Series Of Honor Courts Will Be Held During This Week In Anton, Amherst And For Spur, Jennings Reports

Three courts of honor are scheduled for this week in cities included in the South Plains Area council, Boy Scouts of America, according to statement Saturday at headquarters of the council in this city.

Monday night troop 43 at Anton is to meet. Tuesday night installation of a new troop will be made at Sudan. This troop is to be known as number 39. Troop 36, of Amherst, will have charge of the investiture ceremonies. Thursday night a court will be held by troop 38 at Spur.

Jennings To Attend

D. T. Jennings, scout executive, will attend all of the courts and will be accompanied to Sudan by K. N. Clapp.

George Eaton, deputy scout commissioner, will visit Lamesa on Wednesday and Thursday of this week where he is to speak before service clubs of that city on the Big Brother idea. He also will meet with scoutmasters and patrol leaders to help them work out programs for troop meetings.

HOBBS AREA GIVEN

Oil Field Extends 35 Miles Long, Eight Wide

HOBBS, N. M., May 31. (Special) Area of the Hobbs field near here is estimated to be around 35 miles long and from five to eight miles wide.

Geologists report this is the approximate area known so far and that there is a chance of the field extending still further.

Four ten-inch pipe lines are planned for the field. Two are already operating.

Many experts predict the field will be as large as the Oklahoma City field while others say it will be the largest in the southwest.

"JUST ANOTHER ONE"

Sterling Will Help Split Al Smith Supporters, Love Says

DALLAS, May 31. (AP)—Thomas B. Love of Dallas, democratic candidate for governor, today said in a statement that the announcement of R. S. Sterling of Houston as a candidate for governor "simply adds one more Al Smith supporter to the list of 18 Al Smith supporters in the race for the governorship against me, the only anti-Al Smith candidate in the race."

"Mr. Sterling's announcement does not complicate the situation but simplifies it by further dividing the already hopelessly divided Al Smith minority of 1928," he said.

POTASH TEST PLANNED

Core Test Being Put Down In Hobbs Oil Area

HOBBS, N. M., May 31. (Special)—A core test for potash is being made as an offset to the Empire-Martin test in township 20 of range 33 east, in Lea county, W. B. Lang, geologist for the U. S. geological survey, reports.

The hole was drilled some 1,600 feet before being abandoned. It was started as a gas test. Considerable money was saved the government by the drillers of the test.

RESUMES OLD POST

FLOYDADA, May 31. (Special)—Jeff Davis, former lineman for the Texas Utilities company here, who has been working for L. G. Witherz for several months is back with the utilities concern. He had to resign about a year ago because of injuries received when he fell and broke a leg.

Registration Of Students Scheduled For Monday; 250 Courses, 100 Advanced Given

Recreation Program Planned For Summer; Chicago Cast Of Players Coming; Staff For Session Named

TEXAS Technological college will open its doors for the fifth annual summer school session tomorrow morning with students registering from 8 o'clock through 5:30 o'clock. Classes will begin Tuesday morning.

Plans for registration as sent out from the registrar's office call for liberal arts and all students who have not enrolled in the college during the past year to report in alphabetical order according to the first letter of their family name as follows:

8-9 o'clock, V-W-X-Y-Z; 9-10, S-T-U; 10-11, P-Q-R; 11-12, M-N-O; 1:30-2:30, I-J-K-L; 2:30-3:30; E-F-G-H; 3:30-4:30, C-D; 4:30-5:30, A-B. Agriculture, engineering and home economics students now enrolled in school may report to their respective buildings disregarding the alphabetical order.

Must Give Addresses

Students in registering will register their Lubbock address and church affiliation, women entering the west rotunda and the men the east rotunda.

More than 250 courses, 100 of which are advanced, will be offered during the summer session which is divided into two terms, the first closing July 12 and the second one opening July 14 and continuing until August 22. These courses are of freshman, sophomore, junior, senior and graduate rank and practically all lead to appropriate degrees.

Plan Recreation

Recreation plans for the summer session have been formulated by a special committee of the faculty and provide for group singing, band concerts, dramatic productions, moving pictures, a watermelon party and an artist course which includes a concert given by the Fisk Jubilee singers.

The Bennett-Hall players from Chicago will produce the play "Grumpy" at the college gymnasium and the Light Opera Mirror will present selections from Balfe's "Bohemian Girl."

Recreation tickets may be purchased by the students which will enable them to attend these attractions.

To Sponsor Cavern Trip

Each summer the college sponsors a trip to the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexio, the time being approximately July 4.

LONE STAR MATRIMONIAL MUTUAL ASSOCIATIONS

WE ARE BONDED

All of our members are reinsured, guaranteeing the of Texas, guaranteeing the payment of our policy. Every official connected with our organization is under heavy bond, protecting you against fraud.

We have 19 companies operating on a flat rate of $5.00 per month, for the first 3 months, from date of organization. These new companies were organized April 1st.

We are now operating 21 companies throughout Texas and Oklahoma. If you are interested in a Matrimonial policy, either come to our office, or call us, and one of our representatives will gladly call and explain our proposition thoroughly to you.

Buy here, with your home company, where you can watch the progress of the company. Investigate our proposition thoroughly, before buying Matrimonial Insurance.

To date, we have paid off 230 claims. We have sold, in the city of Lubbock, over 1,700 policies—THAT RECORD SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

LOOK

The past week the Lone Star Matrimonial Mutual Associations have sold over 700 policies.

421 Ellis Bldg.

PRESENTS THE WORLD'S GREATEST POLICY CONTRACTS

CONSIDER ONE MONTH OLD 478 POLICY HOLDERS

We think that is a record. Why such growth? Our policy contracts meet the needs of the people.

No Assessments On Claims Until August 1st

Our Straight Endowment Policy

Which anyone may take in their own name, pays you approximately $250 after 3 months, $500 after 6 months, $750 after 9 months and $1000 after 1 year, according to terms of the contract. There is no "red tape" connected to this policy. Just dates of your policy evidences claim. You may conveniently establish a fixed income by carrying one of these contracts.

Our Birth Or Parentage Policy Contract

Gives you financial aid at a most opportune time. Birth (or parenthood) may occur at any time after day you receive your policy. After you have carried policy 3 months from date you receive it, it pays you approximately $250, after 6 months $500, after 9 months $750 and after 1 year $1000. Due proof of birth whether mature or premature (miscarriage) shall constitute claim of parenthood. PROVIDE FOR THIS CONVENIENT CASH ENDOWMENT TODAY.

OUR UNSURPASSED AND LIBERAL

MARRIAGE POLICY

This policy is one of the greatest aids to newlyweds ever provided, giving you financial lift into the joys of married life, taking care of the added immediate obligations for you. Under our policy contract you may marry at any time after day you receive your policy and then after you have carried it three months from day taken out, it will pay you approximately $250, after 6 months, $500, after 9 months $750, and after 1 year $1000. If you carry one of our marriage policies and something should occur to prevent your marriage your policy is payable anyway after term of one year from date you receive it, paying you $1,000.

OUR PLAN

Application fee (with application) $15.00. Assessments which may be levied upon the claim of member or members, $1.25. Your assessments will run approximately $5 to 15 each month. All balances, if any, between amount received from assessment and amount paid on claims shall be applied on other claims presented.

DO OTHERS A FAVOR

Send or bring us the name or names of others whom you know could be benefitted by one of our "Policy Contracts," we will gladly call on them and if they take advantage of our offer the association will pay you immediately $2 for each one recommended who purchases policy.

ALL BUSINESS AND INFORMATION IS STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

Salesmen and saleslades wanted. Salary and commission, or straight commission.

WE ARE BONDED AND STRONG

MODERNIZE YOUR HOME
Now
ON MONTHLY PAYMENTS

READ THESE 3 FACTS:

You can enjoy home improvements on just a few dollars a month, like building a home, or buying a car.

1. COSTS LESS AT THIS TIME.

Right now carpenters are not rushed. They can start your work at once, do a better job, and finish sooner.

2. INCREASES VALUE OF HOUSE.

Modernizing adds to the value of any house, makes it more comfortable to live in, easier to sell. Modernizing is one of the safest investments a home owner can make.

3. EASY TO PAY THIS WAY.

There is no necessity of cutting into your savings fund to pay for modernizing. The small, monthly payments take care of the total bill easily—conveniently.

puty sheriffs repulsed the first nors on the jail, in the same with the county courthouse. iff Matt Sankey had gone to ell, neighboing county seat on information that the negro ted was there.

Troops Ordered Out

the mob grew more menacing, guardsmen were ordered out by telephone by Charles F. Barrett, Oklahoma adjutant general. A regular army officer brought tear bombs from Fort. Sill, 55 miles away.

The tear bombs were thrown after a considerable blaze, set by the rioters, had been extinguished in the jail. As the gas permeated the jail, guardsmen and rioters were driven out and only Argo remained in his second story cell, other prisoners having been removed to the city jail.

When the gas cleared the mob again milled into the structure. Guardsmen, who sent frequent machine gun volleys over the heads of the crowd throughout, shot at the feet of the rioters.

Attorney Makes Plea

Early in the night the throng had gathered and cries of "lynch" went up but the ranks were thinned somewhat after Skinner had agreed to go back to the farm and after County Attorney B. F. Holding had made an impassioned plea for order and legal procedure.

Skinner, who had been much in demand during the day among corner crowds for the retelling of his part, collapsed on the jail lawn this afternoon. He was taken to a hospital, where physicians said they believed he had been overcome by fatigue.

Shortly after the attack on his wife, he had returned to the dug-out home and heard her story that the negro had overpowered her after wresting her 19 months old baby from her arms.

Negro Is Jailed

Skinner, an overall-clad tenant farmer, started in pursuit of the negro, still in sight, and walked some 15 miles. Argo was arrested after Skinner appealed to the Sheriff's office.

At about 10 o'clock, farmers from the vicinity of the alleged attack and the "rowdy" element of Chickasha led a throng of more than one thousand to the jail.

Mystery surrounds the actual shooting of the negro. The mob broke into the building before and after the bombing and its members climbed ivy-covered walls to fling bricks and to fire into his cell.

Bolder rioters advanced to the door of the cell in which the negro was confined and attacked the walls, seeking to make an opening through which they could extricate their intended victim. Argo fought back with desperation, hurling whatever missles reached his hands. Finally he wrenched an iron bar from one of the attackers and flailed about with it.

Water Pipes Broken

Rioters, seeking clubs and levers, tore water pipes from the interior of the jail, loosing a flood to aid to the confusion. Officers believed the negro was shot during this stage.

The mob quieted down and, after daylight, officers believing the frenzy had passed, admitted sightseers to the jail. Skinner admitted he stabbed the negro while accompanying that group.

Advertising Needed

Sounding the keynote of his administration, Coombs said that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in 12 years had established itself in the confidence of "our own people," and that its duty now was to advertise West Texas to the world. Coombs mentioned prevention of "junking" the Orient railroad, obtaining of lower freight rates, enactment of the Small law, establishment of Texas Technological college at Lubbock as outstanding movements to the success of which the regional group contributed.

The organization adopted a resolution by L. A. McDonald, of Denton, authorizing a committee to see whether West Texas colleges were receiving appropriations in proportion to taxes which this section pays, and advising against any more state colleges until present schools were given adequate support.

Aviators Stunt

About 30 army aviators participated in the air circus. They dived, looped, executed slow and fast barrel rolls, rode upside down and did other stunts to thrill the thousands who attended the formal opening of the airport. Thirty-six ships of the nation's air fleet were brought here by about twice that many officers and enlisted men. They included an attack group from Fort Crockett Galveston, and bombardment, pursuit, observation and basic training planes from Kelly, Dodd and Brooks fields, San Antonio.

Visiting civilian fliers who brought 15 planes here planned to perform tomorrow.

Women's Band Official WTCC Music Makers

ABILENE, May 31. —(AP)—A band composed entirely of women tonight was selected as the official band of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the Fort Worth Women's band was named winner in the four-year class at the conclusion of the annual band contests.

The Women's band succeeded the famous Cowboy band of Simmons University, Abilene, which did not compete this year.

Prizes Awarded

Prizes aggregating $2,500 were awarded victors in the various classes. Among awards were the following:

Six months class (organized six months) Portales, New Mexico, All-School band; one-year class, Burkburnett Junior band; two-year class, Wichita Falls Playground band; three-year class, Iowa Park Triangle band.

High schools: Class A, Cisco; Class B, Albany; Class C, Bronte; Class D, Eastern New Mexico, Portales; university class, Texas Christian University.

Murray Is Pleased With Victory Of Lubbock

"Selection of Lubbock for the 1931 convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has further asserted the growing popularity of the 'South Plains Hub' as a convention city," said R. J. Murray, president of the Lubbock Board of City Development, in a telegram to the Avalanche-Journal, received last night from Abilene.

"The measure by which Lubbock won over the field of competition," he said, "is clearly indicative of a favorable regard West Texas holds for our city. Lubbock will entertain more conventions during the next 12 months than any other West Texas city, and I daresay that our record in that respect will be comparable with that of any other Texas metropolis."

A delegation of about 25 Lubbock business men successfully sought the convention at Abilene.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 31. —(AP)—The cotton market was largely a nominal affair today, the short session opening with only a single trade in July and although Liverpool cables were lower than due that single trade was 1 point up. Only one other trade was reported during the first hour, that in October at 3 points decline.

Owing to the fact that New York was closed there was little disposition to trade. The market closed steady 2 points net up on July and 3 points net down on new crop months.

While trading remained stagnant all session July sold up to 15.86 and closed at 15.85, up 2 points net, while October closed at 14.80 and December at 14.88 or 3 points net down for the day.

TEXAN IS DEAD

A. M. McFaddin, Cattle Baron, Dies In Victoria Home

VICTORIA, May 31. (AP)—A. M. McFaddin, 67, Texas cattle baron and son of one of the state's pioneers, died at his home here tonight.

Livestock

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, May 31. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Short receipts of cattle and trade very poorly tested and most nominal was the rule today.

A quiet packer demand featured the week's trade in slaughter steers and apparently not many cattle of this class are needed for local slaughter requirements. Steady to slightly lower prices have been paid for bulk of the steer receipts. Prices for slaughter yearlings were well maintained during the first half of the week but settled at declines of fully 25c Thursday, closing on that basis.

Market Uneven

The market for slaughter cows, listed above 5.50, has been very uneven, tending weak to lower, although trade average not far from 25c lower for the week, some sales of butcher cows showed losses of as much as a half dollar.

Stock calves and yearlings moved rather freely at firm rates Monday, but country demand tapered off toward the close of the week and prices dropped to lower levels. Declines have been uneven, ranging from 25 to 75c.

Truck hogs made a good clearance on the Fort Worth market Saturday at prices 10 to 15c higher. Best truck hogs brought 9.60 and bulk of the light and medium weights sold from 9.40 to 9.60. No desirable rail hogs were shown in the carlot section, as receipts in the division were limited to one load of highly mixed off quality butchers.

Sheep Included

Receipts today included about 2,600 sheep and lambs, bulk of run consisting of slaughter offerings. Trade remained steady throughout, with shorn fed lambs reported at 8.25 @ 8.50; 2 year old shorn fed wethers at 6.50; aged fed wethers at 5.50 and spring lambs from 8.25 to 9.25.

Very liberal receipts of sheep and lambs, about 75 per cent shorn slaughter wethers, have been counted into the market during the week.

Grain

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 31. (AP)—Terrifying blizzards of dust over the Canadian prairie wheat country gave a general upward swing today to the wheat market here. Crop losses that resulted to wheat in the path of the storm were estimated at 30 to 50 per cent in places. Chicago May delivery of wheat, however, failed to hold gains, and finished at a decline because of lack of buying from federal farm board allies.

Closing quotations on wheat were irregular, ranging from 7-8c setback to 1 1-4c advance compared with Thursday's finish. Corn closed at a shade to 2 1-3c gain, oats varying from 4 1-4c off to 1-8c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 7c.

Damage Reported

At first, the wheat pit here was dominated by advices indicating severe crop damage from Canadian dust storms, especially in Saskatchewan and Alberta provinces. Some reports at hand said that fully half of that part of the crop otherwise uninjured in the path of the storm had been set back a week or 10 days as to growth. Influenced by such advices, the trade virtually ignored for at least the time being an official estimate that the 1930 wheat crop of India is 71,000,000 bushels larger than last year's total.

Reactions from today's top prices for wheat were witnessed mostly in the late dealings and were associated with a monthly crop summary from a leading Chicago unofficial expert. He estimate the condition of domestic winter wheat at 74.4 per cent, indicating a crop of 549,000,000 bu. against 525,000,000 bu. suggested by the government's May 1 report.

Trade Evens Up

Although trade in May wheat and corn evened up well for the month without any spectacular change, May oats suffered a big drop at the close, and touched the lowest price yet this season. Oats, unlike wheat, had no government sponsored support. A little belated buying for previous speculative sellers of May corn hoisted the final quotations for that month. Otherwise, corn market firmness was due to wheat strength and to cool weather.

Provisions were dull but firm.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—July 1.07 1-8, 1.10 3-8 @ 1-2; Sept. 1.10 1-8, 1.13 3-8 @ 1-2; Dec. 1.14 5-8, 1.17 5-8 @ 3-4. Corn—July 79 5-8 @ 3-4, 81 5-8 @ 82 1-4; Sept 81 1-4, 83 1-8 @ 1-4; Dec. 75 3-4, 77 1-2.

Mass Meeting

cent bond issue was suggested in questions asked by Dr. S. H. Adams, of Slaton. "Isn't it a fact," he asked Judge Bean, "that the present jail has been condemned and plans for a new one started in order to clear grounds for the new federal building?"

Need Is Apparent

"Discussion relative to need of a jail building started before location of the federal building was considered," answered Judge Bean. "The need for some remedy to the jail situation is apparent, and we say that unhesitatingly, without making any concessions to the federal government."

"We are not trying to legislate any specific issue which will not meet approval of the majority of citizens of this county," Judge Bean continued. "The recent plan of a $250,000 bond issue was presented after the Commissioners' Court had made an analysis of existing conditions and had envisaged the future growth of the county.

Opinions Conflict

"We have been presented with two conflicting opinions by as many firms of architects as to whether the present courthouse structure would support two additional floors, in which would be housed the jail quarters and administrative offices, together with criminal court rooms. With this in view we presented the original plans of the present building to H. N. Roberts company, engineering firm of Lubbock, who advised us that it would be economically unwise and not prudent, from the standpoint of safety, to add more weight to the foundation of this structure.

"Under the original proposal, the present courthouse building was to remain, and the new structure was to be erected on the northeast corner of the public square, where would be the criminal court rooms, the jail quarters and offices of county officials who are now uncomfortably crowded in the old building.

Suggested Requested

"With all this in view, we are here to receive suggestions. We want to know what the majority of people of the county think is a feasible plan."

"Does any one outside of Lubbock want the federal building to be located on the site donated by the Commissioners Court?" asked Dr. Adams.

At this juncture County Commissioner W. L. Brashear, of Idalou, interrupted Judge Bean and asked for the floor. "Volumes were printed in newspapers," said Mr. Brashear, "with reference to the government building location long before we ever reached a decision, and our meetings in the commissioners' court were always open when we were discussing the federal building project. We thought we were acting wisely in making the donation. That is no longer an issue. We are now concerned with the jail problem and let us discuss the matter without making reference to a matter that has already been settled."

One Against Move

"There should have been an open meeting on the question of the jail and the federal building," said T. J. Richardson, of New Hope. "We farmers are not willing to have our taxes raised by anything which is to bring a federal building to Lubbock and we do not believe that we could afford to pay more taxes to build a $250,000 court house and jail. We've got to figure on getting by as cheap as possible."

"All our meetings have been open," explained Judge Bean. "We tried in every way possible to outline specifically our needs. The purpose of this meeting is to receive your frank opinions, as we have sought in the past.

"There seems to be an unwarranted feeling against Lubbock," continued Judge Bean. "This city pays 60 per cent of the taxes of the county and the city has spent $80,000 on the upkeep of roads in the county. Surely, those living outside of this city should show some consideration in view of Lubbock's voice in the matter."

G. K. Horton, of Hurlwood, stressed that he is proud of Lubbock and that he supported the issue for a new court house and jail building.

Wants Lower Issue

A. M. Becton, of the Becton community, expressed the opinion that the recent $250,000 bond issue was exorbitant and stated that he is opposed to such a heavy bond issue at this time. "If we have to have a bond issue," he said, "let's make the figures as low as possible. I am in favor of building on to the present jail, if the conditions are too crowded. We can get by much cheaper than most people think, in my opinion."

E. B. Speck, Lubbock, expressed confidence in judgment of the Commissioners' court and said that, in consideration of the future growth, that a new building for a jail and criminal court rooms would be economy.

Figures Shown

Vaughn Wilson, county attorney, said that the county jail has housed from 40 to 50 prisoners daily during the last 10 or 12 months, while the normal capacity is but 28. He said that provision for prisoners is a social problem, and he said that the authorities are unable to segregate prisoners, as the law requires, under the present conditions.

Upon suggestion of Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, Judge Bean made arrangements for as many as wished to visit the jail in order to study the actual conditions. Twenty went through the structure, among whom was J. A. Barton, of Lubbock, who reported that the congested situation is exceedingly unsatisfactory.

Graf Zeppelin

witnessed by a crowd of scant hundreds instead of the thousands who came to see her on the three other times she was here, the passengers began to scatter. The Infante Alfonso, first cousin of the King of Spain, was taken in a Navy plane to Washington at invitation of the government. W. B. Leeds, wealthy New Yorker, took Mrs. Pierce to New York in a large plane waiting for him at the field. The others went to New York in a special train.

Customs On Hand

Before the passengers left, however, they were subjected to customs and health examinations and to interviews, sound reel talks, and dozens of photographs. After Leeds had been photographed repeatedly he walked away with a parting shot that brought laughs even from the cameramen.

"If this keeps on," he said, "I'll be a Mary Pickford."

An hour and a quarter after the Graf was first sighted, it was securely housed in the great hangar and work was begun to refuel it for the last stretch of its four-continent flight, which has already taken it 15,000 miles in 204 flying hours. The take-off on the return to the home station at Friedrichshafen, with a stop at Seville, is scheduled for 9 o'clock, eastern standard time, Monday.

HATCHER QUITS RACE

DALLAS, May 31 (AP)—W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas, State Treasurer announced today that he was withdrawing from the race for the democratic nomination for Governor to enter the race for State Railroad commissioner.

Hatcher said he was "financially unable and morally unwilling" to continue in a race "which has become a contest between multi-millionaires and those seeking the nomination on 'isms.'"

PLANE KILLS TWO

Nebraskans Are Burned Badly As Sky Ship Hits Street

SCOTTS BLUBB, Neb., May 31. (AP)—Roy H. Libby and Harold Lyman, both of Holdrege, Neb., were killed here late today when their airplane crashed on a downtown street. The bodies were burned beyond recognition.

Libby and Lyman were officials of the Western Public Service company at Holdrege and were on their way here to attend a company meeting. An eye witness said the motor apparently was giving trouble as the plane appeared over the west part of the town. Shortly after, when the plane had reached the southeast section of the town, there was an explosion which witnesses said crumpled the plane.

G. E. Lockhart

mer Lynn county official, is Mr. Lockhart's opponent. The present incumbent, Carl Rountree, of Lamesa ,has announced that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself.

Two other Lubbock citizens, who announced for the office, recently resigned their candidacies. Al M. Hill, agricultural editor of the Avalanche-Journal publications withdrew last week in favor of R. J. Murray, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, who has since withdrawn, explaining that he "could not sacrifice the time."

Here Many Years

Mr. Lockhart started his law practice at Gomez, Terry county, in 1909. When the railroad was built into Tahoka in 1910 he moved to that city, where he resided until 1925, when he moved to Lubbock, where he is now a member of the firm of Lockhart, Gerrard & Brown.

In 1912 he was elected district attorney of the old 72nd district, then composed of Lubbock, Crosby, Hockley, Cochran, Garza, Lynn, Yoakum, Terry, Dawson and Gaines counties. By the narrow margin of three votes he defeated J. E. Vickers, of Lubbock, who had been appointed to the office a few months before. At that time there were only 2,500 votes in the 10 counties.

He served as district attorney until 1918, the only elective office he has ever held.

The 119th district is composed of the same counties as was the old 72nd judicial district, with the exception of Garza county.

state senator for several terms and has long been prominent as a leader in civic affairs. Other candidates for the office he aspires to are, Sterling P. Strong of Dallas; Edgar E. Witt, of Waco; H. A. Darwin, of Paris; J. E. Hair, of San Antonio; Virgil Arnold of Houston and J. P. Rogers of Houston.

The meeting last night chose as a slogan for the campaign in this section: "Write to your friends in other portions of Texas and ask them to vote for Bledsoe for lieutenant-governor." Those present at the meeting, in addition to Mr. Bledsoe, were listed as following:

Dr. Paul W. Horn, B. Sherrod, S. E. Cone, Judge Clark Mullican, Vaughn E. Wilson, R. L. Morley, E. L. Klett, John Dalrymple, Judge Homer L. Pharr, J. M. Marshall, F. E. Wheelock, M. O. Abernathy, Cecil Horne, Rev. Jack Lewis, P. Y. Robinett and Charles B. Qualls.

SIXTEEN MISSING

Santa Monica Bay Tragedy Is Likely To Toll 19 Lives

SANTA MONICA, Cal., May 31. (AP)—The blue waters of Santa Monica bay tonight concealed the fate of at least sixteen holiday pleasure seekers who yesterday went fishing in the launch Ameco which capsized and foundered, tossing possibly seventy persons into the waves. Official reports showed three bodies recovered, sixteen missing and fifty-two survivors.

Chicago Crowd Sees Hireling Slayer Killed

"Long Overdue," Gunman Dies As Shotgun Slugs Fly From Car Nearby; Had Record Of Years' Standing In Court

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 31.—A reputed hireling killer was paid off in kind today with pedestrians on a busy southwest side corner witnesses to the transaction.

Shotguns, leveled over the side of a speeding automobile, ended the life of Philip Gnolfo, whose police record started with an arrest for gun toting at Greensburg, Pa., in 1915, and progressed through extortion, alcohol pedding and alleged murder at so much per head.

Two Are Hurt

The same shots" wounded Carnelo Gueli, 48, Toledo, O., and caused another occupant of Gnolfo's car to be cut by flying glass. He was Joseph Fiannaca, 34, Rochester, N. Y., who said he was in the dry goods and oil business there.

Still more shots that strayed from their mark struck Edward Ziattos, a 14 year old boy, who was passing the corner with his brother. He was wounded in the arms and legs.

One of the crimes of which Gnolfo was suspected was the slaying of Henry Spingola, gang lawyer and politician of the "bloody twentieth" ward, three years ago.

Long Overdue

"Gnolfo was long overdue," chief investigator Patrick Roche said. "The boys say he 'got' Henry Spingola and had to duck out of town. It was only a few months ago that he dared to show his face in Chicago."

WORK ON HOBBS ROAD

HOBBS, N. M., May 31. (Special) Work is under way by the state highway department of New Mexico on the Hobbs to Carlsbad highway. Heavy traffic into Hobbs from Carlsbad and El Paso has caused the road to get in bad shape and the highway department decided to put it in condition.

DRAG BROWNFIELD ROAD

BROWNFIELD, May 31. (Special)—Terry county officials are working on the county road between Brownfield and Seagraves. Work is being done to the county line. Each day, according to the highway department, sees an increase in traffic over this road to the new Lea county New Mexico oil field.

TRACTORS USED WIDELY

There are nearly 900,000 tractors in use on farms in the United States. These are most numerous in the corn belt and in certain sections near industrial centers.

The ordinary person's lungs contain 76,000,000 air cells.

Miss Willette Waters And Jerome Merrell Will Wed June Fourteenth

Complete Program Announced For State B. And P. W. Club Meet Starting On June Ninth

Members Of Nine Valley Clubs Are To Be Hostesses For Convention; Miss Ruby Marie Douthit, Delegate From Lubbock, Leaves For Harlingen Friday

MISS RUBY MARIE DOUTHIT will leave Friday to attend the state convention of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs which will be held in the Valley, with headquarters in Harlingen, June 9, 10, and 11. The 230 women of the clubs in Brownsville, San Benito, Harlingen, Mercedes, Weslaco, Donna, McAllen, Edinburg, and Raymondville will be hostesses for the occasion.

On Sunday, before the actual convention program begins, the delegates will be entertained at historic Point Isabel, the old port which has its halo of buried treasure and lost ships. The Harlingen Chamber of Commerce will be hosts to the delegates at a yachting party, swimming and dinner at the Yacht club.

Program Announced

The convention program for Monday has been announced as follows: 8:30 a. m.—registration, Fair Park auditorium, Harlingen; 9:30—executive board meeting; 10:30—club presidents' round table, Miss Mary Jane Higgins, leader; 11:30—drive over Valley, with progressive luncheon by Raymondville, Edinburg, and McAllen; 5:30—Spanish tea, Llano Grande Country club, Mercedes; 8:00—formal opening, Fair Park auditorium, Harlingen, with Misses Mary Jane Higgins, Marion H. McClench, and Daisy H. Leake, speakers.

Tuesday's Program

Tuesday's program has been announced as follows; 7:30 a. m.—emblem breakfast, Val Verde, with Donna and Weslaco clubs; 10:00—business session, Fair Park auditorium; 12—luncheon Reese-Wil-Mond Hotel, Harlingen; 1:30—round table, auditorium; 8:00—club presidents' dinner and music contest, Stonewall Jackson hotel, San Benito.

For Wednesday, the following program has been outlined: 8:30—business session, auditorium; 12—leave for Matamoros, Mexico; 1:00—frolic dinner, Matamoros; 4:00—short business session, El Jardin hotel, Brownsville; 9:00—state president's and national officers' dinner, with Miss Marion H. McClench as principal speaker.

Guest of Honor

Miss McClench, of Ann Harbor, Michigan, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, will be the guest of honor at the convention. She was a member of the original group of 200 women who gathered in St. Louis July, 1919, to organize the federation. In Detroit she was president of the Detroit Business Women's club, and served for two years as president of the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs. She was a member of several committees of the national federation, and was national recording secretary in 1928-29. She was general chairman of the national convention at Mackinac Island, Michigan.

Success In Business

Miss McClench holds a conspicuous record of success as one of the leading insurance women of the Middle West, having entered this business when she graduated from Smith college.

A college education for women is the advice of Miss McClench, who emphasizes the fact that the most valuable education should be directed to a definite end during college years. The cultivation of one talent as a means of livelihood, whether used for thata purpose or not, she holds to be the most valuable asset a girl can have.

Pink dresses worn with blue hats were much in evidence at the recent Kentucky Derby.

White trimming touch are popular on dark hats they are wearing.

Five Hundred Are Expected At Assembly

Lacy Summer Days Call For Chic Frocks, Hats

Brown, Beige And Black Favored In Paris Dresses

BY ROSETTE

NEA Service Writer

PARIS, May 31.—It was only natural that lace, the most feminine of all fashion's mediums, should return to its place in the sun when styles definitely went feminine. Today it has resumed its long-lost lead in the well-dressed woman's wardrobe.

Lace started its offensive some few seasons back by a timid appearance on lingerie, after a long eta of untrimmed, almost masculine underwear. But now that womanliness, daintiness and other such feminine adjectives can be applied to fashions, lace occupies, quite rightly, a very prominent place in the mode's scheme of things.

Lace Suit Appears

The lace evening dress already is an old friend, but the newcomer in the field is the lace suit. Worth shows one of gray lace, tailored like an ordinary fabric, completed by a picture hat of fine black straw, also inlet with black lace. Martial et Armand show an ensemble, suitable for the races, a garden party or some such formal summer afternoon function, which fulfills three objects. Worn with the jacket, it answers the purpose for the afternoon; with the removal of the jacket, the wearer can appear at a cocktail party without troubling about changing; and if this party is prolonged into a dinner party, with the removal of the mitt-sleeves and the bertha collar, she has an informal evening dress.

Twine Lace Seen In Headgear For Ensembles

As all these very dressy afternoon models are made ankle-length, they will not appear incongruous on the dance floor, trains being set apart for very formal occasion alone, for the summer season, anyhow.

Brown, beige and black are the three favored colors, with a marked preference for black. Chanel shows some delightful shades of blue lace, both in the fine and coarser varieties, and in many instances chiffon or tulle is combined to impart an air of lightness to the hem. Black cire lace in medium-sized mesh is also seen Twine-colored lace is both good for the afternoon and evenings, especialy in the heavier silk variety.

Hats Feature Twine Lace

Twine lace is largely featured by the leading modistes for summer hats, either in the form of encrustations, or as trimmings. A large picture hat will show a double insertion of lace encrusted in the brim or again, a black straw shape will be trimmed with a floral motif made of the same lace trimming as shown on the gown. Naturally, the greatest discrimination is necessary in the selection and wearing of such hats. They must always form part of an ensemble, never an isolated feature.

Lace mitt-sleeves that can be removed or not, lace encrusted elbow-length gloves, lace ruffles, yards and yards of lace on organdie dresses, gossamer underclothes, mostly lace — never has there been such a lace era as this.

Luncheon And Program Are To Be Given

Birthday Of Jefferson Davis Will Be Commemorated By U. D. C. Chapter Here On Tuesday

Commemorating Jefferson Davis' birthday, the United Daughters of the Confederacy will have a luncheon Tuesday in the E. P. Earhart home, 1016 Avenue O. Veterans and their wives will be guests for the occasion.

Following the luncheon, the following program will be given: "Texas, My Texas", sung by the chapter; "Life of Jefferson Davis," Professor George Smallwood; "The Jacket of Grey", Mrs. E. S. Tom; war songs by the chapter. Each of the veterans will be given an opportunity to speak.

Those who do not have means of transportation are asked to call the Earhart home, and a way will be provided.

Rustic Garden Is Scene For Sans Souci Function

Tea-Dance Attended By One Hundred Fifty Guests

IN a rustic garden setting, flooded with soft green and creme-colored lights, members of the Sans Souci club and their guests attended one of the outstanding club events of the year Friday. The function took the form of a tea-dance from 5 to 8 p. m. in the ballroom of Hotel Lubbock, and more than 150 persons were present.

Surrounding the dance floor was a vine-covered picket fence, while the orchestra pit was made to resemble a porch, surrounded with vines and shrubbrey.

Refreshments Served

In one corner of the improvised garden was a rustic well, surrounded with vines, hollyhock, and salt cedar. Nearby was the punch table elaborately decorated with pink Dorothy Perkins roses. Punch was served with pink and green sandwiches and candy sticks in the same colors.

A fish pond in the center of the room was made unusually lovely with rocks, grass, and artificial frogs.

Favors Are Given

An arm corsage of pink rosebuds tied with pink and green ribbon, thus stressing the Sans Souci colors, was presented each girl present.

The following committees were in charge of the event: decoration; Misses Geraldine Smith, Mary Snyder, Lena Bert Medlin, Dorothy Rushing, Hazel Ligon, Jane Mast, and Donna Vaughn; invitation: Misses Kate Boyd, and Helen Womack; refreshment: Misses Alma Spikes, Alma Ralls, and Cornelia McCanne; orchestra: Misses Hazel Ligon and Blanche Bradley.

Other members of the club are Misses Dorothy Oxsheer, Zona Stiles, Mary Lee Bardwell, Catherine Jameson, Mary Ann Thompson, Christine Carter, Virginia Conley, Anne Snyder, Mary Lou Bayless, Louise Pressgrove, Mary Allen and Mrs. Winfield Watkins.

Council Here To Send Five To Oklahoma

Miss Corrinne Warner, Four Guardians Leave Tomorrow For Camp Which Is To Be Held At Tuttle

Miss Corrinne Warner, Lubbock Camp Fire executive, and Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw, Miss Lenora Davies, Miss Elizabeth Conner, and Miss Mary Gene Owen, Camp Fire guardians, are leaving tomorrow to attend Camp Idlewild, which is to be held in Tuttle, Oklahoma, June 2-9. The local group is being sent by the Camp Fire council.

Miss Warner is to have charge of swimming and other sports at the camp, filling the vacancy left by the resignation of Miss Elizabeth Carruthers. Miss Carruthers is a physical education instructor at the Oklahoma College for Women.

Will Give Pageant

Miss Warner has announced that one of the features of her work would be a water pageant, "The Conch Shell," the characters to be selected from those attending the camp, and the reading parts to be done by Miss Mary Gene Owen of this city. The pageant is the story of Aphrodite, the daughter of Neptune, god of the sea. She falls in love with a mortal man but before he is allowed to marry her, he must show his skill in the water. The pantomime will be largely swimming and dancing.

Conducted By Council

The camp is conducted by the Oklahoma City Council of Camp Fire Girls. It is situated in a beautiful spot on the banks of the South Canadian river, about 25 miles from Oklahoma City. The stone fireplace is an attractive feature of the main lodge, which is used for assembly and reception. Nearby is the dining hall and kitchen. Tents with floors and furnished with cots provide the sleeping accommodations. There are also two craft houses.

Announcement Is Made Here At Afternoon Bridge Party; Fourteen Tables In Progress

Mrs. Gaylord Hankins Is Hostess For Pretty Affair On Saturday; Miniature Brides, Grooms Form Score Pads And Tallies; Tiny Scrolls Announce Engagement

ANNOUNCEMENT of the engagement of Miss Willette Waters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Waters of this city, to Jerome Merrell of Amarillo was made at a bridge party given by Mrs. Gaylord Hankins, in the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. J. H. Hankins, 2401 Broadway, Saturday afternoon.

Pink roses and blue larkspur made an attractive setting for the entertaining suite, where 14 tables were arranged for the games.

Tallies were brides and grooms in miniature, and score pads were tiny brides. A bed spread was given the guest of honor, and she was also presented the favor for high score, a boudoir pillow, and for high cut, six individual powder puffs in a dainty box.

An ice course was served with blue individual cake squares embossed in pink letters "June 14" and a pink and white ice in rose glassware, emphasizing the chosen color motif.

On the plates was a tiny scroll tied with white satin ribbon and printed in gold with announcement of the engagement.

Spur To Start On Paving, June 16

(By Staff Correspondent)

SPUR, May 31.—Paving of five blocks in the down town section of Spur is scheduled to start June 16, Mayor Ned Hogan announced following a meeting of the city commission Thursday with Charles Whitner, local contractor.

The paving includes Bullington avenue in the business section and some half blocks on either side of that street.

There has been some delay due to technicalities but the contractor is prepared to begin work on schedule time.

Paving will be of concrete, Mr. Whitner said. Some concrete intersections, erected about ten years ago and then considered to be but temporary, will be torn up.

Gravel from the streets is to be used for graveling streets in the residential sections.

NEXT COURT SCHEDULED

CROSBYTON, May 31—(Special)—Next term of county court for Crosby county will be held in August, Edgar Hutchins, county judge, reports.

"We just closed a court and the docket was rather light," he said. "From all indications at this time, we will not have a very large docket next August."

Mlle. Lenglen Trades Racket For Sketchbook

Tennis togs designed by Suzanne Lenglen (center) court longer skirts for grace. Left: A heavy white washing silk frock has natural waistline, no sleeves and is eight inches below the knee. It has a loose jacket of dark blue wool fabric, and has its white lining made a separate jacket, and you can wear either on top or either alone. Both the cuffs and the front of the jacket are held together by buttonholes with links slipped through. Right: A pastel colored washing silk two-piece tennis suit has a pleated skirt cut long enough for grace and a very feminine neckline to the sleeveless jacket. There is a Lenglen bandeau of the same silk.

BY ROSETTE PELLETIER
NEA Service Writer

PARIS.—Suzanne Lenglen, pioneer short-skirt wearer when she started both Europe and America a few years ago by appearing on the courts in knee-length frocks, now about-faces and, as a designer, advocates longer skirts for sport wear!

Retired from the limelight of international tournaments and the attending glory as "the most brilliant woman tennis player of all time," the great Suzanne now cooperates with a Paris couturier and has turned her marvelous technique to creating sports clothes that have both chic and comfort.

"Women have never been seen to their advantage in such games as tennis," Mlle. Suzanne asserted. "Longer skirts that will not hamper freedom of action will be much more graceful.

"In designing my sports clothes, I study first of all the essential of movement," she explained. "Our celebrated couturiers know how to design sports clothes that look beautiful on a mannequin in a salon, but will go all awry with a volley or a backhand drive. I think sports clothes can be harmonious as well as practical. There is a field here for an entirely new technique in sportswear for women."

A Style Dictator

Although Mlle. Lenglen vows she never will play tennis in public again, she is particularly well qualified for her new work, having in her days of glory set the fashion for sportswomen the world over.

It was Suzanne who first dared to appear on the courts in abbreviated frock with both her neck and arms bare. She further was a revolutionary in her introduction of the "Lenglen bandeau," replacing the cumbersome and ugly hat that women then wore. The Helen Wills eyeshade followed the Lenglen bandeau. Anyone who ever saw Lenglen play will never forget her spectacular entrances on the courts in her colored jackets and coats which she would throw aside with a dramatic gesture. She was the first to introduce a style note into the game.

"When I first went to Wimbledon as a young girl women players still wore long, tight-sleeved waists, ankle-length skirts over seemingly endless petticoats, stiff collars and large hats," Suzanne recalled. "The most astonishing thing was that they could play at all in such an absurd costume. Those days are gone forever, but out of the other extreme that we have known recently, we must endeavor to achieve a balanced mode.

"To do this, skirts must be longer. And costumes must be cut to allow the vigorous movements of the body. These are bound to disarrange costumes unless taken into account."

Mlle. Lenglen, as sports directress of the house of Yvonne May, is still as slim and vivacious as ever. She drives to work in a small sports car, painted pale blue, her favorite color. She is always accompanied by "Whisky," her shaggy-haired dog. On the subject of her playing again, she said emphatically:

"I am dead sick of tennis. I started too young. I shall never play again except for pleasure, and that in private. No, I never miss the excitement and cheering crowds; I am glad to be away from it all. I never even go to tennis matches now, because I never cared to watch tennis matches except when played by brilliant men stars."

Mlle. Lenglen declared that she never felt as well as she does now.

"I was over-strained and muscle-tired when I finished my American tour," she explained. "I am even slimmer now than when I was in training. You see, when you play you eat a lot because the vigorous exercise requires more food. Now I live normally, exercise a little daily, as every women should, and my muscles are more supple."

Dresses Of Silk

The new tennis dresses that Suzanne has designed, are all of practical wash silks, with normal waistline and full, pleated skirts reaching about eight inches below the knee. Each dress has its bandeau and its short jacket. She gives white the preference, but some of the models have short, reversible jackets in pale blue, yellow and green and other colors with white linings.

Her sports department is a very complete one, with tennis rackets, scarfs, handkerchiefs and other accessories and two novel tennis cases designed by Suzanne which hold two or three tennis frocks and a complete set of toilet accessories so a tennis player can face the inadequacy of most of the dressing rooms placed at their disposal.

Suzanne plans to build a tennis court in the garden behind her maison de couture where she can study the movements of mannequins at play. The house is a lovely old mansion, dating back to the time of Louis the XVI. In the old days it was the scene of many magnificent fetes and ranked as one of the great estates in Paris.

Pictures Show Progression Of Styles From Time Of Leg-O'-Mutton Sleeves

Delineator Gives The Styles Worn By Miss Of 1891

If the miss of 1930 could go back about 40 years when grandmother danced the minuet—and rode a bicycle—what a change she would have to make in her summer wardrobe! Perhaps no one, unless it is the couturier, realizes this fact so much as does a photographer. In the possession of Arthur L. Brown, local photographer, and Mrs. Brown, there is a Delineator dated May, 1891, and a number of old pictures which show style developments from that day to this.

To dress in grandmother's style, a young lady would have to change her circular skirt, which is so popular this year, for a long, straight skirt, simply styled, with perhaps a fullness in the back arranged in fan-plaits. The indefinite figures seen in prints this year would have to be changed to coins, rings, stars, crescents and full moons. The leg-o-mutton sleeve or the bishop sleeve with a deep fitted wristband would be equally fashionable.

Hats of 1891

As for the hats of 1891, let us quote the Delineator: "Bright, glittering gold is so generally used in millinery that its absence is more conspicuous than its application, and the beauteous effect is duly admired. Aigrettes and fancy feathers are touched with gold, ribbons are spun from fine, flexible wires of gold, and frames are made of gold braid or lace.

"Jewels, too, contribute their share of splendor to the new millinery, and mock stones are applied on silken fabrics. Artistic designs are wrought with the jewels and gold threads on hat coverings that are draped over shapes intended for drawing-room, reception, carriage and other dressy wear."

Very Low Crown

All the hats of 1891 had very low crowns. Their chief purpose seems to have been for ornamentation and they were elaborately decorated in birds, flowers, and ribbons.

Hair was worn long and was brought behind the ears, forming a knot at the back on top of the head. Small bows or clusters of flowers were often used as ornaments for the hair.

Bobbed Hair In Style

Yet this method of dressing the hair did not remain in style many years, for about 35 years ago, a bobbed hair fad appeared. Mr. Brown has a picture of his mother wearing bangs and short, curly hair.

About five years later, the pictures show the hair to be long again, "rats" being used to achieve the desired puffs. It was about this time that extremely high necks, bloused waists, and long, full skirts were in vogue.

Hats Made Plainer

In most of the pictures made before about 1912 the hats were very elaborate, but at this point they took on a slightly tailored appearance. No birds or flowers were seen as ornaments, although huge feathers were quite popular. Very short waists were worn at this time, and shirts often swept the floor.

Then a vast change took place between 1912 and 1925, when the flapper, with her boyish bob and very short frock ruled the styles, and almost immediately, another style followed. The short skirts remained, but the boyish bob—and boyish figure—were forgotten, the hair was allowed to grow longer, and clothes took on a feminine touch that was altogether lacking in the flapper styles. The long-waisted frock was of greatest popularity, and a flower was often seen at the shoulder. Though they were short, the skirts were pointed, scalloped, or flared.

Styles of Today

Of course the next development is self-evident. The skirts have kept their ruffles and flares but the length has greatly increased, especially in afternoon and evening gowns, and circular skirts, with interesting variations, have come into their own. It is with a note of interest, also, that the old-fashioned touches are seen here and there, and that very little, if indeed, anything, is really new.

Lyric Theater To Have Sound Pictures Soon

Remodelling Work Started On House; New Theater Is To Be Started Within A Few Weeks

Remodeling of the interior of the Lyric Theatre on North Texas and the installation of sound equipment will be started Monday, Mrs. G. T. Scales, announced Saturday at the same time she also announced the purchase interest of H. T. Hodge of Abilene in the theater.

"Most of the new equipment is now here and we are starting the remodeling work," Mrs. Scales said. "We are putting on a new roof and also changing completely the acoustical arrangements of the interior.

To Have New Screen

"Our sound equipment will be the De Forrest special and is built especially for this theatre. We will have a new sound screen."

It will take several weeks to completely remodel the theatre and building and it is not expected that the house will have to be closed for any length of time.

Cost of the installation will be in the neighborhood of $10,000 to $12,000 it is expected. When completed the work will be among the best in this section.

Seats To Be Covered

New seat coverings are to be used and the interior will be re-decorated as well as the acoustical treatments.

Mrs. Scales is now the sole owner of the Lyric and Rex theatres in Lubbock, she came here several years ago.

Recently Mrs. Scales announced the erection of a theatre building at 1014 Main street on the site of the present location of the Acorn stores. An architect is to be here this week to go over these plans and specifications for the proposed building will be available in about two weeks.

Dr. James T. Hutchinson is owner of the present structures and he is to build the building for Mrs. Scales. She will install the furniture and fixtures of the theatre as well as the sound and stage equipment, at a cost of between $20,000 and $30,000. The building itself is to cost in the neighborhood of $200,000.

Moneyed Men Buy Property

J. A. Johnson And John J. Harden Of Oklahoma Are Interested In Hobbs Now; Improvements Expected

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

NEW HOBBS, N. M., May 31 — Millionaire city builders have entered the New Mexico development field with the purchase this week by John J. Harden of Oklahoma City and Fort Worth and J. A. Johnson of Sweetwater and Tulsa, of New Hobbs townsite property in the extent of several hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. Harden is the foremost city builder and developer of Oklahoma and Texas and has a large following which will follow his lead into New Mexico.

Mr. Johnson is one of the foremost refinery operators of the United States and has connections throughout the east which will prove valuable to this state since his interest has been acquired in property here.

Mr. Harden has been the leading spirit in the improving of residential and business sections of Fort Worth and Oklahoma City to the extent of many million dollars and he intends to follow the same plan here. It is expected that within the next few months several hundred thousand dollars will be spent in New Hobbs such as pavement, substantial business buildings, sewers, and other conveniences which will make a modern city possible.

TO JUDGE IN OKLAHOMA

W. L. Stangel Is Secured As Oklahoma Fair Official

Prof. W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department of Texas Technological college, will judge the Duroc and Poland China classes in the swine department at the Oklahoma State Fair, to be held at Oklahoma City September 20-27, it was announced Saturday.

Judging of the division over which Stangel will preside will be held September 22, 23 and 24.

He has recently returned from Stillwater, Okla., where he judged the swine division at the Oklahoma A. & M. exhibits.

WARNS ON SMALL SIZES

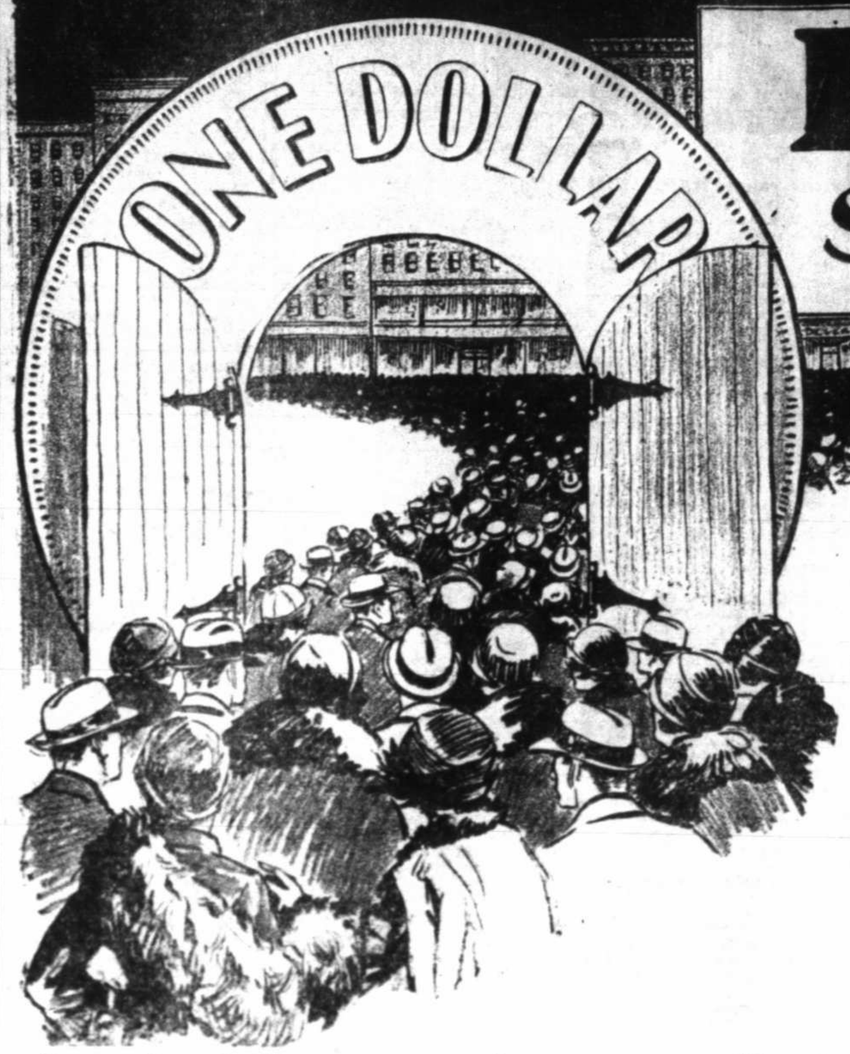

Payne Says Only Fish Above 11 Inches To Be Kept

Following announcement Saturday that the lake at the county park will be open to fishermen free of charge, for a 30-day period beginning Monday, County Commissioner N. A. Payne has warned against catching under-size bass and crappie.

"All bass under 11 inches in size and all crappie under 7 inches must bethrown back into the lake," said Mr. Payne. "The State game laws will be enforced.

"I would like also to urge that bait and fish be cleared from the park in order that there might be no stale odor."

THE TEXAMITES

It wasn't long till Chewey grew real tired and then the ride was through. The small wheel-barrow quickly stopped and Chewey loudly cried, "Hey, cop right out, you little fat. Of fun I guess you've had a lit. And now, why don't you push this thing and let me have a ride?"

The little boy was tossed a bit. He knew the job of pushing it, with Chewey in, would be real hard. He knew not what to do. Then Scooty said, "Now, don't you feel and get in feeling all upset. You need not push in! Chewey. He was only feelin' you."

The little youngster smiled twice as he was so relieved as he could be. "I'm glad to hear him," he exclaimed, "but I'm not very strong. If I should run or quite a gait I couldn't keep the thing up straight. Poor Chewey'd take a tumble if a single thing went wrong."

Then sat around an hour or so and then decided they must go. Back into their big car then went and drug-chugged down the road. "I hope this lovely trip will last a long long time. Can we go fast," cried Chirp. "It's a real great car to carry such a load."

Not far away they stopped once more. Another big treat was in store. Out in a field they saw a farmer working with his grain. "What is he doing?" Carrie yelled. His excitement was soon dispelled. The Travel Man replied, "He works real hard and not in vain."

His grain is planted right over that there pit in the blazing sun and hence it shortly dries. Let's see if we can help with his task," said Scooty. "Can we lend a hand?" The farmer answered, "Say, that's grand. I need a little help and I am glad to hear you ask."

(The Texamites are a wonderful Faith in the next story.)

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love.

WE DISAGREE, GOVERNOR MOODY!

THE Governor, reports the Abilene Morning News, is highly pleased with the work of the State Highway department. Further than that, The News quotes Mr. Moody as saying:

"The Highway department is maintaining our state highways in the finest state they have at any time." That fact is going to be news to a lot of people who live in this particular section.

The Avalanche-Journal is in no position to argue the case with Governor Moody. He may be right. We are in a position to say, however, that as far as the South Plains is concerned, the highway maintenance work is not satisfactory, has not been satisfactory and, until more money and more work is expended, will not be satisfactory to those of us who cut our eye-teeth travelling the roads in these parts.

It is sad to relate that most of the Governor's business keeps him in parts of Texas far removed from the South Plains. Since taking office in 1927 Governor Moody has visited Lubbock upon no more than three or four occasions—and possibly not that often—which, of course, is our loss, not his. But we know full well that when he praises the maintenance of state highways he does not praise maintenance in this section. He couldn't honestly do it and Governor Moody is nothing if not scrupulously honest.

We have no doubt that the paved highway areas of Houston, Dallas, Ft. Worth, San Antonio, Austin, Waco and Abilene are being well maintained and cared for. We have no doubt that those sections of the state, where Governor Moody most often transacts business, are being well protected in the matter of roads. And neither do we have any doubt that Lubbock county money—and money from the other South Plains counties—is helping turn the trick, while our own dirt highways are being grossly neglected.

Lubbock county has no criticism of the state's co-operation in the matter of our paved highway projects, now in their infancy. The department has been on the job, there's no gain-saying that. But Lubbock county, and some of the other South Plains counties, do have criticism to offer on the way the dirt highways are being handled and The Avalanche-Journal is one agency not too bashful to say so.

It will be a long time before a network of paved highways stretches throughout the length and breadth of the South Plains. Until that far-away day a large percentage of us will be traversing dirt highways. Those roads can be kept in better shape than they are kept and everybody knows it. So while our present Governor, and his successors, are patting the Highway department on the back for its fine work, they might remember that all sections of the state do not have paved highways—or highway commissioners to see that their every need is cared for.

We agree that Governor Moody may be right about the fine maintenance work in the state as a whole—but we disagree that his praise should be extended to cover the work done in these parts.

CONFIDENCE AND CONCEIT

Efficiency experts and practitioners in the art of super-salesmanship lay stress on what is casually termed "self-confidence." To sell one's product or to sell one's self, they say, one must have confidence in one's products or in one's ability and talents.

But there is a wide difference between legitimate self-confidence and stupid conceit. The latter quality, unfortunately is to be found in many persons, in many different walks of life, and when displayed to any noticeable degree at all, is insufferable. Beautiful women, that is, those who are naturally beautiful and do not have to depend upon artificial aids, often take on the air of having been altogether responsible for their pulchritude. They forget that fate just as easily might have made them hideous. And the same thing is true of the handsome youth who, realizing his handsomeness, affects the role of having been altogether responsible for his good looks. Fate might just as easily have marred him, too.

Conceit, however, takes its worst form in those human frames which lay claim to more than the average brains or intellectuality, and this applies particularly to professional walks of life. Even in the matter of brains or intellect, whatever gods there obviously are as capable of producing morons as they are of producing intellectual giants. The most beautiful woman, of course, is that woman who, although quite lovely, seems unconscious of it. And the wisest man is he who realizes that mortal wisdom, and especially his own endowment of it, has many limitations.

THE QUEEN AND COTTON

Dame Fashion has taken a royal partner in England. Queen Mary, having considered the sad case of the Lancashire cotton mills and being well aware how much her example means to the women of England, has designed herself a dress in cotton and will wear it in season and on occasion so that other ladies will do likewise.

This is intended as a remedy for a serious industrial condition. Doubtless it will have its effect, for fashions are set by somebody, and a queen should be able to guide them at least a little. It is worthy of note that the campaign for cotton is to be aided and encouraged by skilled artists in dress design, so that a woman of England may be well dressed even though she be clad in cotton. From this it may be presumed that the queen's fashion hint will not be too exactly followed or the compliment of imitation carried too far.

But if the Englishwoman patronizes home industries by giving cotton a chance again, she will be dressing to the queen's taste as well as restoring a little the fortunes of one of England's basic manufactures.

A Russian dancer says she hopes soon to be able to spin around on her toes for 30 minutes. If she could last another 30 seconds that would be one full minute.

Now that women's hats shaped like coal-scuttles are fashionable in Paris, it won't seem so embarrassing for the men folk to wear stovepipes.

PLAN TO CARVE UP STATE OF TEXAS TO GIVE SOUTH EIGHT NEW SENATORS WOULD REQUIRE CONGRESS' CONSENT

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Representative John N. Garner's scheme to give the south eight new members of the U. S. senate, by carving up Texas, whence he comes to Washington, into five states, instead of only one as at present, is an original idea—no one disputes that.

The only criticism of it which one hears, from congress' constitutional authorities, is that it would be almost impossible to make it work—though Garner seems to think it would be as simple as drinking a glass of water.

According to paragraph 1, section 3, article 4 of the U. S. constitution:

New states may be admitted by the congress into the union; but no new state shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state, nor any state be formed by the junction of two or more states or parts of states, without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned, AS WELL AS OF THE CONGRESS."

Now, is it likely (ask the critics) that a predominantly northern congress ever will sanction any southern state's subdivision of itself, so as to shift control of the senate to austral side of the Mason-Dixon line. Is it imaginable that even a Democratic congress would do it?—considering the various bickerings which occasionally occur between the northern and southern wings of the Democratic party.

Quering thus, the critics smile skeptically.

Yes, but (rejoins Representative Garner) Texas is different from other states in that, upon its admission into the union, it was given its choice of entering as one state or five states or any intermediate number of states; and while it is true that if elected to enter as only one, it is not yet too late for it to change its mind and multiply itself.

It is indeed insist the legalistic critics of the Garnerian theory) too date for the Lone Star commonwealth to adopt any such change of program; once in, it immediately became subject to the constitutional prohibition of the formation of a new state within the jurisdiction of one already established, without the consent of congress.

I beg (says Representative Garner) to call your attention to the terms of the congressional joint resolution of 1845 for Texas' annexation which states:

"New states of convenient size, not exceeding four in number in addition to said state of Texas, and having sufficient population, may hereafter, by consent of said state, be formed out of the territory thereof, which shall be entitled to admission under the provisions of the federal constitution."

It does (admit the legalists) sound convincing, but surely, Friend Garner, you must realize that that promise was unconstitutional.

A congressional resolution cannot override the fundamental law of the land. The fact that this one happens never to have been tested heretofore has nothing to do with the matter. One, two, three or four little sub-Texas' can get into the union as new states with congress' approval; not otherwise. And we doubt like the dickens if they can get it.

If this reasoning is correct (and the constitutionalists hand it out, for public consumption, with an air of the most sublime confidence) it punctures a mighty bright idea.

Some folk surmise that Representative Garner thought up his plan because he himself wants a senatorial toga.

This seems doubtful. As minority leader of the house of representatives, he is as big a man as he would be as a minority senator. If the Democrats ever get control of the representatives' chamber (and they are predicting they will control it in the next congress) he will be speaker—which, according to Nick Longworth, who holds it now, is a more important job than the vice president's.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.
Medical Adviser for Central Press and The Avalanche-Journal.

DOCTOR PETERS ADVOCATES DANCING FOR BODILY HEALTH AND POISE
Acrobatic Dancing

"DEAR DOCTOR:I am 16 years old, 5 ft. 1 in. tall and weighed 85 pounds when last weighed. I know I am terribly underweight, but am wiry and perfectly healthy, otherwise. This is my question: Do you think it would harm me to take acrobate dancing lessons? I do so want to take them, but my Dad thinks they may harm me. I read an article of yours sometime ago, concerning the benefits of acrobatic dancing, and I meant to cut it out to use a forceful argument for my lessons, but I forgot to do so.

ANXIOUS."

There is no doubt that ballet and acrobatic dancing are super-fine modes of exercise, Anxious, and I think all children should be taught them, in some form. They are especially good to strengthen the feet and legs.

Of course, you are considerably underweight, and if you take up this mode of exercise, it would mean you would have to add much more to your diet; but perhaps the exercise would stimulate the appetite so you would want to. I'll repeat the resume of what Dr. Philip Lewin, an orthopedic surgeon, says of this form of exercise. Of course, he writes from the standpoint of health and the correction of deformities. While the doctor was writing for girls, it doesn't mean that acrobatic dancing isn't equally as good for boys and men and women—naturally, in all cases, if there is no contra-indication to exercise.

Here is what he says:

"Through ballet dancing the girl may develop and improve in concentration, poise, sense of balance, quickness and accuracy of thinking, co-ordination of the mind, muscle and body, and sense of rhythm both of music and of movement. Added to these mental health benefits is the important factor of enjoyment.

Physical health benefits are found in improved circulation and digestion and in development of muscle (of both the heart and the skeleton), ligament, tendon and bony skeleton.

"Improvement in body symmetry, carriage, posture and physical attitude is great—Children who are overweight are benefited by the physical activity of ballet dancing, for it has a tendency to prevent the deposition of fat. The thin child is improved by the general stimulation of bodily functions, especially circulatory, muscular and digestive functions.

"Ballet dancing is the foundation of all branches of dancing. Through ballet work the muscles may be properly developed and the balance and poise necessary in any kind of dancing is obtained.

"Acrobatics may be a valuable auxiliary to ballet dancing. It must be taught by a specially trained instructor, who must give every child individual attention in order to prevent injury. Backbending stunts must not be indulged in too strenuously or too constantly. In children with thyroid gland disturbance, acrobatics and sometimes ballet dancing are to be avoided."

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column in their turn. Requests for articles or pamphlets on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, plus the following small charge to help cover cost of printing and handling: for each article wanted two cents in coin; for each pamphlet ten cents in coin. The pamphlets are Reducing and Gaining, Hygiene of Women, Kidney and Bladder Disorders Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper. Write legibly, and not over 200 words.

The Husband Hunter

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY

NATALIE CONVERSE, jealous of her husband, quarrels over BERNADINE LAMONT. Alan seeks sympathy from his secretary, PHILLIPA WEST, who successfully schemes to arouse Natalie's suspicions, and she leaves Alan. Wounded pride prevents either from seeking a reconciliation, and Alan turns to Phillipa, who plays her part so cleverly that they soon become engaged.

Natalie writes Alan, informing him of her return. Phillipa, fearing of losing Alan, tells him she is obliged to leave home, because of trouble with her father.

Alan's meeting with Natalie who brings her young sister, FLORENCE, with her, leaves Alan hopeful, but baffled as to Natalie's intentions. Ashamed of his neglect of Phillipa, he goes to her apartment the next day and without directly asking it of him, he agrees to pay for the furnishings. Natalie asks to talk to him, and he invites himself to dinner. He goes home to dress and is about to leave when Phillipa telephones. She appears distraught and hurt when he tells her he cannot take her to dinner.

After an evening of friendly but evasive talk, Natalie appeals to his love for her, and Alan, torn by his knowledge of his love for her, and his entanglement with Phillipa, is silent. Natalie believes that Alan does not love her. Alan goes, asking if he may return the next evening.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXI

It was not a week before Alan was back in his home.

Though there had been a short period during which he believed he never would live there again. For Phillipa had flatly refused to release him from his engagement.

When he left Natalie to seek this release, he went to Phillipa's apartment, and found her engaged in making it habitable with the few pieces of furniture that had been delivered that day.

He could see on her face traces of the mental storm she had been through. But he did not know that it was temper; he thought it was pain. He felt like a brute all evening over the way he let her down about dinner and getting moved. His feeling had perhaps made it impossible for him and Natalie to reach an understanding. Phillipa, less on his conscience might not have stood so immovably in his way.

But he decided to face the issue with her squarely, and now he had to go on with it, or know he was a moral coward.

She plainly showed her surprise at seeing him, and essayed a sweetly welcoming smile. He began by apologizing for calling so late.

"But I had to talk with you, Phillipa," he went on "and this is better than the office."

"Oh, I couldn't have gone to sleep anyway," Phillipa assured him hurriedly. She wanted to talk too, anxious to put him right if he had any wrong ideas.

Alan looked around for a place to sit.

"Take my sutcase off that chair," Phillipa said, at the same time clearing another for herself. She sat on one foot and curled the other about a leg of the chair, looking small, and childish as a result of the informality of her posture. Her hair was disarranged and there was a smudge on her chin. One fist was stuck into a pocket of the blue smock she was wearing. She made an appealing picture, but Alan was unaware of it.

"Have you any idea why I couldn't have dinner with you tonight, Phillipa?" he asked.

She nodded, her lips moving like a hurt child's. "Natalie?" she said softly.

"Yes. I went up there," Alan answered, his voice grown suddenly husky.

Phillipa waited. Alan could not tell what she was thinking.

"Phillipa, this is all a ghastly mistake!" he blurted out helplessly, pleadingly.

Phillipa stiffened in her chair. She had thrown an arm over the back of it. Now her fingers gripped it until they were white.

"It's a mistake for you to treat me like this!" she cried.

"Phillipa, please . . ."

She was on her feet, facing him.

"Don't 'Phillipa' me, Alan. I had enough of that at home. Tell me what you came here to say. What's a ghastly mistake?"

Alan's eyes wavered. He hated what he had to do, frankly called it rotten. But Phillipa was ready for it. She did not draw back an inch. "Say it," she commanded.

"About us," he said finally.

Phillipa choked back the bitter laughter that rose to her lips. She realized suddenly that she must get herself under control. She could scratch just as effectively if she kept her claws sheathed until she needed them.

She retreated to her chair and sank into it, weakly.

"You mean—our engagement?" she asked with as much calmness as she could surmon up.

"Yes," Alan nodded. "I never can love anyone but Natalie, Phillipa."

Phillipa slumped in her chair, with a heartrendering moan.

Alan looked away from her. God if being sorry would help . . .

Phillipa began to sob and gasp out broken sentences at the same time.

"Why do I have to be the one to suffer? Oh, Alan, Alan, why weren't you sure? You needn't have done it! I can't stand it, oh, don't you see? I can't stand it!"

She had slipped from her chair to the floor, a huddled heap of misery that wrenched and tore at Alan's heart.

He was speechless with contrition.

Phillipa raved on. "Oh, what a fool I've been. What a fool, to love you like I do. My whole life is ruined." She swayed writhingly, as though in actual physical pain.

"Phillipa, for God's sake, don't," Alan entreated her.

She looked up at him. Her face was contorted, but her eyes shone dry of tears. Alan did not notice, being stricken by her startling expression. He drew back as though she had struck him a blow.

"Don't you see?" she wailed. "If you desert me now, Alan, I just can't stand it. It would be too terrible to live here alone, and I couldn't anyway, I couldn't afford it, and I'd never work for you again."

Alan opened his mouth to speak, but she rushed on, stopping him. "I couldn't go back home, either. Dad wouldn't have me, and Mother would be heartbroken."

"Stop it, Phillipa, please," Alan exclaimed in exasperation. "I'm not a brute. We can talk this thing out sensibly."

"Sensibly!" Phillipa flamed at him. "That means that you don't care how I suffer."

"It means nothing of the kind," Alan answered resignedly. "Please get up." He put his hands under her arms, and lifted her back to her chair.

"I'll kill myself!" she sobbed, relaxing against him. "I can't lose you, Alan, I love you too much."

"But Phillipa, what could we make of it after what I've told you?" he asked helplessly.

Phillipa lifted her face. "Were you happy with Natalie?" she retorted hotly. Then, beseechingly: "Oh, Alan, you weren't. You know you weren't. It would just be like that again. I'd let you go if I thought you would be happy, but I know you wouldn't. Natalie couldn't have loved you, to leave you like she did. I'll make you happy. Think of the wonderful times we've had together. I know we'll be happy. And I won't, I won't, I won't let you go!"

Her voice had risen in a crescendo of emotion, her hands were flung up to his arms, pulling him down to her. "Alan, Alan, kiss me, kiss me," she begged.

Alan stooped over her, blank

New Highway In Crosby Is Agreed Upon

Work To Start Soon On New Route; Local Men Given Contract; New Designation Is Given

By Staff Correspondent

CROSBYTON, May 31.—Work order for the grading and drainage of 8.6 miles of state highway No. 53, in Crosby county, from the Dickens county line on the east, west to a point about four miles east of Crosbyton, was issued this week by the state highway commission, Judge Edgar Hutchins of the county commissioner's court was advised Thursday.

"The contract has been let to Fields and McCelvey," the judge said. "They, in turn, have sublet the contract for a part of the work to John Chesley, who is to begin work right away."

Route Agreed Upon

Route west from the Dickens county line to the western cap rock across Blanco canyon, has been agreed upon. The route up the cap rock has not been determined, according to Judge Hutchins.

In Dickens county the highway, instead of angling off to the north about a mile east of the Crosby county line, will run directly east. In Crosby county the road will go directly east for several miles and then into the canyon.

The new highway will cross White River at Silver Falls dam, one of the popular recreational resorts of this section.

"During the grading and drainage work or delays due to detours," of traffic or delays due to detours," Judge Hutchins said. "It will not be necessary for any detours at all. That is, none until the top of the cap rock on the west side of Blanco canyon.

It is expected the grading and drainage work will be complete before the close of the summer. Next year it is believed the highway department will order the paving of the road.

Bonds were voted for the road construction last year. It is also planned to go ahead with the rest of the county's road building program as fast as the state highway department can handle the additional work.

"We are ready now and our only delay will be on the part of the highway department. They have a heavy program mapped out."

The exact route into Crosbyton from Silver Falls dam has not been announced by the state. It is understood there is a slight delay in this and that at the next letting of bids the work contract will be announced.

SCHOOLS IN FINE SHAPE

Crosby County Boasts Of Good Education System

CROSBYTON, May 31—(Special)—Every independent school district in Crosby county has brick school buildings and three of the rural school districts also have brick structures, B. F. Hicks, county superintendent, reports.

Besides the brick structures at Crosbyton, Ralls, Lorenzo, Robertson and Cone, there are also buildings at Fairview and Emma, rural districts.

Two other districts have stucco buildings, Mr. Hicks added.

Scholastics In Crosby Are 3,387

(By Staff Correspondent)

CROSBYTON, May 31.—Crosby county suffered a loss of 62 scholastics for the year which begins in the fall as compared with the year just closing, B. F. Hicks, county superintendent of schools, explained in announcing the total for the coming year, 3,387.

Conditions Excellent

"School conditions in Crosby county are excellent, considering the situation we have had to face along agricultural lines. We are expecting our crops this year to put us in good shape. If we have a normal crop yield, Crosby county will snap out of it and we will have the county back to its normal position."

Scholastic figures for the year to come show that 2,386 children of school age are in the five independent districts and that 1,001 are in the 16 rural schools.

Ralls has the largest number, 898, due to its large district, which includes three rural schools now a part of the district system.

Figures for independent districts are:

Crosbyton	663
Ralls	898
Lorenzo	464
Robertson	203
Cone	158
Total	2,386
Rural districts	1,001
Grand total	3,387

"Wonderful Says Mrs. J. E. Sims"

My Husband Suffered 13 Years With Stomach—Argotane Relieves Him, Says Lubock Woman

"It is certainly wonderful how a few bottles of Argotane restored my husband's health after he had spent many dollars on other medicines that did him no good," said Mrs. J. E. Sims, of 1626 Fifteenth Street, Lubbock, Texas.

"For thirteen years," she continued, "he has suffered with a terrible stomach, which gave him no end of trouble. He was constantly trying to get relief by taking something or other but just seemed to get steadily worse. The doctors told my husband that he would have to be operated on before he ever got well. They said he had an ulcer of the stomach. Everything he ate disagreed with him, and he would just be miserable for hours afterwards, and gas bloated him up so until he could hardly breathe. His nerves were just all to pieces and he was so restless, he could hardly sleep at all at night."

"From the statements that were in the local paper, we thought Argotane might help him, and a friend also recommended it and he feels better than he has in thirteen years, and he looks like a new man, and he doesn't suffer at all now, as he used to. Argotane has done so much for my husband I am glad to recommend it to anyone suffering as he did, and he will continue taking it as long as he can get it and will keep a bottle of it in the house at all times."

Alan did not go to Natalie's the next night. She did not expect him, for he sent a message to say he would not come. He offered no explanation, but he said: "God bless you," at the end of it. Over which benediction Florence uttered a "Humph," when she read the telegram.

She had refrained from taking any direct action against her sister's supposed rival until after Alan's expected visit. But now that he was not coming, she went ahead and perfected her plans.

Andrew was necessary to them. She wanted him to take her to a public library. She hated to leave Natalie alone, but she already had a date with Andrew, and she was eager to get into action.

"Take an aspirin and a hot bath and go to bed," she urged her sister, when she was ready to leave the house. Natalie's pallor and quiet hopelessness worried her.

"If she would only rave and rant and break up a few pieces of furniture, I'd like it better," she said to Andrew, for she had to tell him what she intended to do, so he'd be a help and not a nuisance.

He agreed to aid her, and said: "Gee, kid, you've got a sacrificin' nature sure enough. I see where I'm going to have it soft."

Florence screwed up her lips. "Yeah?" she drawled. "Well, big future-something-or-other, get a load of this. I'm cunnin' too, else I couldn't put this over. So when I sacrifice, look out."

"But you're doin' this for your sister."

"Uhuh, and for you and me too. Gee, Andy, it'll be nice when Alan and Natalie make up. Think of the parties she'll give for us especially after you buy me a ring."

"Hey, baby, you're speedin'. I got to get set before I think of rings."

"A dollar down and a dollar a week. I already know a place. And I do want to see Nat her old self again." Florence's young voice swiftly changing from teasing cajolor to wistful tenderness revealed the disposition that made Andrew's heart thump with fondness for her. Gee, she was a sweet kid.

They ate their table d'hote dinner in reckless haste, and hied themselves off to the nearest public library, which happened to be the one at Fifth Avenue and Forty-second Street.

There, after a bit of research work, they found what they wanted. Then they went to a drug store. And came out laughing in high glee.

"But just the same," Andrew confessed, "I'm glad it isn't me."

"It'll be worth it," Florence assured him light-heartedly.

They hurried over to the Grand Central Station and caught a train on the run. Florence's plan would not be put into effect until they reached Hillshire.

There they engaged a taxicab and had themselves driven to a corner down the street where Florence had located a store with public telephones. Andrew got out and went in.

Florence, in the taxicab, opened her bag and dug out the package they had got in the drug store. She could see Andrew through the plate glass windows, entering a telephone booth. She undid the package and waited.

In a few minutes Andrew came out of the booth and walked to the soda fountain. With the nonchalance of youth, he asked for a glass of water without making a purchase.

"For the lady outside in a cab," he explained and walked away with the glass. It being a high class neighborhood, the fountain attendant made no objections.

He looked out, however, and saw a creamy-gloved hand take the glass from the young man and disappear in the depts of the cab. Then he went on pouring chocolate syrup into a container.

Andrew hurried in with the glass, then sped back to Florence.

"Well," she asked, as he climbed in beside her, "was she scared?"

Clara Bow, 'True To The Navy,' Opens At Lindsey Today

"It" Girl Proves Riot In Nautical Film Coming Here

"Redhead" Peppy, Vivacious In New Talkie

THE new Clara Bow, who caused such a furore of excitement in the brief glimpse possible in "Paramount on Parade" is back with an eyeful of charms in her latest "IT" hit, "True to the Navy," opening at the Lindsey Theater today.

She is slim, lithe, peppy, and has all the famous vitality and vivaciousness which have made her the most popular female star in motion pictures. In "True to the Navy" she brings a real enthusiasm, a new beauty and appeal.

"True to the Navy" is all Clara Bow. A soda-fountain girl with a great personality, she has all the sailors from the fleet wild about her. Every boat that comes into port brings a special boy-friend for the "Redhead." She has only about half-a-dozen steady beaus. Each thinks himself the only one. Clara is wholehearted, a good sport, none of the gobs means more than a good friend to her. Then the whole fleet drops anchor at once, and Clara's clamoring boy-friends try to settle their rights by force. When this doesn't work, they all declare war against her.

Then Clara meets a new boy-friend, Fredric March, and loses her heart. Just as March is about to pop the question, to which Clara is eager to answer yes, her discarded suitors warn March that Clara is a heartless flirt. March veers off. But Clara goes after her man, proves she loves him and adds a wedding ring to her collection of souvenirs.

In addition to Clara and March, who will be remembered as Clara's boy-friend in "The Wild Party," Harry Green, the funny man of "Kibitzer" and "Honey", furnishes loads of laughs. The supporting cast is exceptionally good, and includes Sam Hardy, recently seen as the race-track promoter in "Burning Up."

"True to the Navy" is a fast-moving romance with a nautical tang, dominated by a forest-fire of "IT". Frank Tuttle, director of "Sweetie," made it.

"Second Choice" Comes To Palace Here This Week

Dolores Costello Is Star Of Talkie

Dolores Costello will be seen at the Palace Theater Thursday next in "Second Choice," a Warner Bros. and Vitaphone all-talking picture —an absorbing story of the jazz age.

Miss Costello is cast as Vallery Grove, a modern girl whose mother objects to her liking for a poor young man, Don Warren, who later jilts her for a rich girl. The strange twist of affairs by which she, to hide her anger and mortification, marries Owen Mallory, who has himself been thrown over—the return of the lover—the battle between the rivals—the everlasting throb and crash of jazz—make up a drama of unique appeal.

The rival youths are played by those screen favorites, Chester Morris and Jack Mulhall. Others in the superb cast are Edna Murphy, Charlotte Merriam, Ethlyne Clair, Jimmy Clemmons, Edward Martindel, Henry Stockbridge and Anna Chance. The play is based on the Saturday Evening Post story by Elizabeth Alexander. Joseph Jackson did the adaptation and Howard Bretherton directed.

"Second Choice" is suffused with all the joy, conflict and suffering of youth. Story, cast and direction conspire to create a great evening's entertainment with the screen's most beautiful star.

In a recent month Denmark exported 5,000,000 eggs.

Belle Bennett In Picture At Lyric With Joe E. Brown

'My Lady's Past' Begins Showing Here Today

Frances Hyland, who wrote Belle Bennett's latest story, "My Lady's Past," produced by Tiffany-Stahl, studied to be a grand opera singer. But she also had the writing urge powerfully strong within and, seeing the opportunity Hollywood offered for quick results in the picture field and weighing it against her chances of getting into opera, she decided to try scenario writing for her vocation and save singing for a pastime. The results of her decision, are entirely satisfactory to Miss Hyland and all producers lucky enough to get one of her originals and scripts.

"My Lady's Past," with Joe E. Brown in leading support of Belle Bennett., is the attraction starting today at the Lyric Theater. Dialogue and music score have been synchronized by RCA Photophone.

Sheriff And Tax Collector To Be Elected Separate

(By Staff Correspondent)

CROSBYTON, May 31.—With the final population figures for Crosby county in excess of 11,000, voters of the county will have two additional offices to vote for, tax collector and district court clerk, H. B. Mayes, deputy tax collector, says.

"Under the law counties with population of 10,000 or more have the office of tax collector and sheriff separated," he explained. "That means that Crosby county at the July primary, will have a new office to select a candidate for.

"The law also says that the office of district and county clerk is to be separated when the population is over 8,000."

Mr. Mayes has announced his candidacy for tax collector. He has been deputy collector and also deputy sheriff for the past seven years.

Elmer Reed, serving his second term as sheriff, will be a candidate for that office at the next election Mr. Mayes addd.

When Puccini, the great Italian composer, was writing his first opera, "La Villi," he was so poor that he had to live on credit for four months at a tiny restaurant in a Milan slum.

Mystery Picture Will Be Seen At Lindsey Theater

"The Return Of Dr. Fu Manchu" Will Open Thursday

Five actors who took part in the thrilling episodes of "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu" will repeat their characterization of that film when "The Return of Dr. Fu Manchu" comes to the Lindsey Theater on next Thursday. Eight of the actors in the earlier "Fu Manchu" film will not appear in the forthcoming picture, because they were killed off by the insidious doctor.

Warner Oland again plays the scheming oriental who, if you remember, swallowed poison to thwart his detective enemies' plan to take him alive. It becomes apparent in "The Return of Dr. Fu Manchu" that the poison was by no means lethal, and that the sleek, slot-eyed monster of machinations is now very much alive. He returns more full of plots and devilry than a woman's bridge party.

O. P. Heggie, as inspector Nayland Smith of Scotland Yard, again leads the forces of the law against Fu Manchu. Jean Arthur carries on as Lia Eltham, ward of Dr. Fu, who escaped his toils in the first film and who is now the object of his unrelenting pursuit.

Neil Hamilton is again Dr. Jack Petrie, last member of the ill-fated family marked for doom by the crafty oriental. William Austin continues in the comedy character role of Sylvester Weems.

The picture is based on the mystery novel by Sax Rohmer.

"Skin Deep" With Monte Blue Will Show Here Today

Fast-Moving Play Starts Palace Program

"Skin Deep" a creation of that expert devisor of plots, Marks Edmund Jones, originally appeared in a magazine under the title of "Lucky Damage." Warner Bros. have made it into a Vitaphone all-talking picture, starring Monte Blue —and it comes to the Palace Theater today.

The drama is fast moving, gripping and always consistent and it illuminate a phase of underworld life which has never before been adequately shown on the screen.

The story of "Skin Deep" has to do with a famous gangster and his mob. It involves his sweetheart who becomes his wife—his paramour——the District Attorney—his small son—a famous plastic surgeon and his daughter—and a host of other characters. As the child of the District Attorney, Davey Lee is given an opportunity to do some fine work. Betty Compson is beautiful and clever in her portrayal of the heartless jazz wife. Monte Blue easily dominates.

"Skin Deep" will provide as fine entertainment as any to be seen in the local theatre this season.

The cast includes Davey Lee, Betty Compson, Alice Day, John Davidson, Tully Marshall, John Bowers, Georgie Stone and Robert Perry. Gordon Rigby did the talking scenario. Ray Enright directed.

Crosby Teachers Plan To Be At Tech Again In Fall

CROSBYTON, May 31—(Special)—Crosby county school teachers will attend the annual teachers' institute conducted by Texas Technological college at Lubbock, B. F. Hicks, county superintendent of schools, said today.

"I do not think that the county board will plan an institute for this year," he said. "We have been going to Lubbock for several years and we like it very much. The institute there is of great value to our teachers."

WILLIAM BOYD

William Boyd To Be Seen Here As Officer O'Brien

Dialogue Picture To Start Here On Tuesday

When the public sees and hears "Officer O'Brien," Pathe's all dialogue melodrama starring William Boyd at the Palace Theater on Tuesday next, picture fans will be treated to one of the most artistic screams that has ever been recorded by a microphone. The scream, which is a part of the dramatic climax of the picture when panic reigns in the courtroom, after the mysterious murder of a witness, was supplied by Ella Mentone, former member of the Metropolitan Opera company. This is how it all came about.

Tay Garnett, director of "Officer O'Brien," sent in a call to the casting office for a woman to scream off stage. The requirements were for a scream that would be sufficiently piercing to electrify the hearers, yet not so shrill that the microphones could not record it properly. Fourteen women were tried without avail. Miss Mentone, who is the wife of Richard Blaydon, Pathe production manager, was on the set merely as a spectator.

"What kind of a scream do you want?" she asked the director.

"Well, what kind of a scream have you got?" countered Mr. Garnett.

The former opera singer gave him a sample. Bill Boyd, sitting nearby nearly fell out of his chair. Extras and members of the cast were seen to leap three feet or more.

"That will do," said Garnett. And so it was that a Metropolitan Opera company scream is registered in "Officer O'Brien." In the cast supporting Mr. Boyd are Dorothy Sebastian, Russell Gleason, Ernest Torrence, Clyde Cook, Arthur Housman, Ralf Harolde, Paul Hurst and Tom Mehoney. It is an original story by Tom Buckingham.

When dense fog hung over Paris on a recent Sunday autoists and tourists groped their way about streets in bewilderment until late in the afternoon.

Ibanez Gives Romance Of Great Adventurers

"The Knight Of The Virgin" Latest Novel Out

"The Knight Of The Virgin" by Vincente Blasco Ibanez. Another tale of days of Spanish conquest. E. P. Dutton & Company. $2.50.

BLASCO IBANEZ never fails to put life into his words and the characters are living ones. "The Knight Of The Virgin" is based upon historical facts and the author gets the most out of them. Not until you finish the book and begin to think it over do you experience the true beauty, the delicate symbolism that identifies its hero, Alonso de Odjeda, as not only one of the most picturesque Conquerors of Central America, but a typical simple-hearted soldier who, devout in his prayers to the Holy Virgin, kept his heart as strong as the steel he wore, with three supreme ambitions of his soul —to pay constant devotions to the Holy Virgin who listened to his prayers, to conquer virgin land, and to love a woman.

Characters Prominent

The man Columbus, aged until his brain was no more than a mass of matter, and an exciting story of the Spanish conquest, is told here as a sincere and delightful novel, but never for speed of narrative does Blasco Ibanez forget that actions proceed from characters. There need be no apology for his characters and the author tells their story with precision, economy, edge and force.

Blasco Ibanez pictures with amazing detail and fitting power the exciting life of Fernando Cuevas and his wife, Lucero, who are introduced to the reader in so "human" a manner that it is with a certain degree of regret that one is forced to take leave of them. The story of their love and life together, their struggle for their son on the island from the First Voyage of Discovery, is presented with deep intensity and closes with a climax that is as entertaining or as thought-provoking as you like it to be.

Period Recaptured

There is feverish excitement and demoniacal fury in this story of the Spanish Conquest and the period has been graphically recaptured in the sixteen chapters that compose the narrative. Many lives are seized upon and pictured at their most dramatic moments. Here, each adventure is told with skill, a rare appreciation of the emotions of men under the strain of adventure, battle and love. In spite of the tragedy of individual incidents in the story, there are many times where gentleness and a sense of humor pervades. It is not only the style of narration that holds one to this book; the story itself has all the fascination of color and action bound together by a wide extreme of emotion and individuality.

Book News Notes For This Week

Cut Prices

Four New York publishers, including Doubleday, Doran & Co., one of the largest general publishing houses in the United States, have announced price cut that will reduce by one half or more the cost of their popular fiction this summer and autumn.

Three of them, Simon & Schuster, Farrar & Rinahart, and Doubleday, Doran, will issue novels and detective stories at $1 a volume, instead of $2 and $2.50. The latter two will also reduce prices of their more expensive books. The fourth, the firm of Coward-McCann, will issue only first novels and works by less popular authors at $1.50.

Simon & Schuster will publish $1 books in paper covers, but the others will bring theirs out in cloth bindings the same type of books, they said, as they now issue at the higher prices.

All announced the price cuts simultaneously as the American Booksellers' association closed its annual convention with a formal protest against the sale of current books in drug stores and cigar stores at cut-rate prices.

Broadway Low-Down

It is no uncommon sight to come upon a table of theater folk in a Broadway restaurant reading Sidney Skolsky's "Times Square Tintypes," so it must be as diverting to the insiders as it is to the onlookers.

Skolsky, one of Broadway's bright young men, has caricatured in staccato phrases most of the celebrities of that curious artery, from Al (Jolson) to Zeigfeld (Florenz). He reveals that Helen Morgan sleeps in fancy colored men's pajamas that Rudy Vallee always carries at least three toothbrushes with him, that . . . but why go on."

Has System

It is the contention of Sidney S. Lenz, considered one of the greatest card players in the world, that there is too much money lost by bridge players through negligible bidding. In order to help alleviate their losses, Mr. Lenz has set down a system of bidding that is practically guaranteed to work. It will be discussed by Simon and Schuster in a small book entitled "My system of Contract Bidding." (Simon and Schuster).

Flying Simplified

Marjorie Bartholomew Paradis, mother of two children and author of two recent novels, won the $1000 prize offered by Samuel French & Co. and the Theatre Arts Monthly Cup in the first annual National Long Play Tournament held last week at the Waldorf Theatre, New York, with her three-act comedy, "The New Freedom," presented by the Morningside Players of Columbia University. Mrs. Paradis' two novels, "The Caddis" and "A Dunner of Herbs," both deal with aspects of woman's freedom in modern family life.

Unused Invention

The first patent that Thomas A. Edison ever took out (the date was June, 1868) was for an electrical apparatus designed "to record and register in an instant and with great accuracy the votes of legislative bodies." In his newest and last book, "Short Talks on Science" (Century) the late Dr. Edwin E. Slosson records the fact that when Edison submitted this invention to a committee of legislators at Washington, they turned it down with the explanation that it would do away with the practice of filibustering, and hence was undesirable.

Aviation has provided material for a number of books, but one of the first simple, non-technical expeditions of flying has been produced by that ante stormy airman, Gen. William Mitchell.

The former director of military aeronautics calls the book, "Skyways" and leaves the history of winged transportation to others while he tells how to fly, describes planes and equipment and reports on the commercial, military and sporting sides of aviation.

Gillis Recalls Mark Twain Days

Twain Was Poor Sport In Jokes On Himself

MARK TWAIN, as remembered from his California mining days by the late William R. Gillis, was a poor sport, a practical joker who could not take with good grace a joke on himself.

Gillis's recollections of Sam Clemens, as Twain was called by his contemporaries on Jackass hill, near Tuttletown, Calif., are contained in the newly published "Goldrush Days with Mark Twain."

This waning season has been one of numerous memoirs of the old west. And to the previous tales of Indians, cattle rustlers and stage coachers, Gillis has added a collection of anecdotes of the gold miners. Not the first prospectors of '49, but the pocket miners who cleaned up behind them.

It was about this time, in the early sixties, that Mark Twain came to Jackass hill to be the guest of William Gillis and his brother, Jim, leaving it only to gather material at Angels' Camp for the "Jumping Frog of Calaveras" and "Roughing It."

Taking charge of the local newspaper, in association with another humorist, Dan McQuill, he kept the people thereabouts, continually laughing.

Once Sam Clemens became the victim of a fake holdup that made him scarcely less angry than when his nose was bashed in a boxing match. To escape the jibes of his friends, after the latter incident, he hastily left on a month's vacation. But he soon came back in a white heat over a series of quips McQuill had published about the swollen nose that was going about frightening women and children.

EXPLANATION OF LAST SUNDAY'S CARTOON

IT IS POSSIBLE FOR A SUBSTANCE TO BECOME COOLER WITHOUT LOSING ANY HEAT

This is known as the ADIABATIC LOWERING OF TEMPERATURE, a process in thermodynamics, which occurs without transference of heat either from or to the body. The making of artificial ice is based upon that principle. The process is described in any "Textbook of College Physics."

QUEEN ELIZABETH OF ENGLAND WAS KING OF FRANCE

To discourage the use of the English arms and title by Francis and Mary, Queen Elizabeth in 1559 invoked her ancient and inherent right to the kingdom of France. The Salic Law having precluded a Queen from ruling in her own right, she assumed the title of "King" of France. Examples of female rulers assuming the title of "King" are not infrequent in history. Thus Christina was "King" of Sweden, Marie was "King" of France, and Marie Theresa was "King" of Hungary. Reference: Hugue's "Les 'Rois' Femmeles."

Interest In Texas Cotton Co-Op Branches On Gain

Numerous Towns Of Plains Section Are Seeking Branches Of Marketing Organization

Littlefield Announces Its Readiness To Underwrite Guarantee; Moser Said To Be In Area This Week

Interest in the location of local branch offices of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, in cities of the South Plains, shows healthy growth during the past week.

From Littlefield comes the word that city's chamber of commerce is waiting only for a visit from C. O. Moser, of Dallas, vice-president and secretary of the American Cotton Cooperative Association, to underwrite the guarantee of $7,500 necessary to secure a branch office.

Will Be In Area

Mr. Moser is expected in this territory during the week, being scheduled to speak at Snyder on June 5. The Scurry county capital announces enthusiasm for underwriting a branch since Sweetwater's chamber of commerce declined opportunity of securing one for that city. On June 6 Mr. Moser will be at Plainview to probably close up location of a branch there, and Littlefield is trying to get him to visit there the same date or the next.

"Halls and Crosbyton both are interested in the Co-Op branch offices," states County Agent D. F. Eaton, who was in Crosby county last week. "Many farmers and business men of Crosby county approached me with numerous questions pertaining to the proposition."

Numerous Towns Eligible

Other South Plains cities where branch officers might be located are, Levelland, Lamesa and Post, while several cities on the North Plains, also located in district two, of which Lubbock is headquarters, are potential branch locations. Any town, where as many as 15,000 bales of cotton in a season might easily be handled by the cooperative, may secure a branch office with a federal grader and classer, clerical force and payment of advance checks, if its chamber of commerce guarantees handling that number of bales.

While interest increases on the Plains, the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association is using most of its 20 or more field men in a concentrated drive in the Corpus Christi region of Southwest Texas. Corpus Christi has been made a district headquarters city for that part of the state.

Drive Will Move North

Following the drive for membership in Southwest Texas, field men, under supervision of Lawrence Westbrook, director of organization for the association, will be moved to Waco's district and then to Abilene's before coming to Lubbock's region, according to announced plans from Mr. Westbrook.

Reason for the drives in the lower countries is given that cotton is farther advanced. By the time the drive gets to the Plains country the crop will be between "laying by" and picking. Greater volume of membership is looked for by such a schedule.

From Corpus Christi information tells of widespread interest throughout that entire area, with telegraphic calls for men to smaller centers overwhelming the large force of workers.

Protein Analysis Is Now Available

Wheat growers of the Plains country are advised by G. R. Dunning, manager of the Panhandle Laboratories at Plainview, that the laboratory is now open and offering service of making protein analysis of samples sent to them from any grower in Northwest Texas.

"Every year Plains wheat is noted for protein content superior to other sections of the United States," states H. J. Bower, professor of agronomy at Texas Technological college, "and, if the growers will get proper tests made and handle their high protein content grain rightly, they will be the ones to receive the premium in price rightfully due this class of wheat."

Information from Manager Dunning of the Panhandle Laboratories states that the office is located at 819 Broadway, Plainview. When tests are sent to the laboratory for analysis, growers are asked to state whether or not results are to be telephoned or wired. Otherwise the results will be mailed in due course of business.

PRESSES 52,400

Littlefield Compress Next To Lubbock In Session

The Littlefield compress has pressed 52,400 bales of cotton, of the last season's crop, according to H. W. Hammock, of Sudan, director of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association.

"This record exceeds the total cotton production of Lamb county the past season," says Mr. Hammock, "and places Littlefield next to the city of Lubbock in point of bales handled by any compress on the South Plains."

Hogs And Cows Good Combination

The combination of hogs and cows is well demonstrated by the success obtained by Sam Sanders, Lubbock county farmer residing on the Lorenzo star route.

Mr. Sanders started out the first of this year with four brood sows and 11 milch cows. Since he has raised a crop of 19 feeder pigs, feeding them on milk and grain, averaging a gallon of milk to each pig every day.

Average 180 Pounds

The pigs are said to average approximately 180 pounds each in weight. They are high grade Duroc stock and, while no accurate data has been kept on the cost of feeding, it is believed that this did not cost more than between 5 and 6 cents a pound to fatten.

"There is only one question facing Mr. Sanders," remarks County Agent D. F. Eaton, "and that is whether or not he can get an equitable market price for his pork when he desires to sell."

Mr. Sanders has been shipping his cream to the Trinidad Creamery, at Trinidad, Colo.

Eradication Made Of Johnson Grass

To those who contend that Johnson grass is an unbeatable antagonist to farming on the South Plains, County Agent D. F. Eaton cites the record made this past year by J. B. McCauley on 100 acres north of Lubbock.

"A year ago," Mr. Eaton declares, "this hundred acres was solid in Johnson grass. Mr. McCauley laid the field off, listed it, worked it with a one-way plow, boy and tractor, and later plowed it deep as possible. Then, again, he had it plowed even deeper, had it harrowed and then drilled in wheat last fall.

Wheat At Perfect Stand

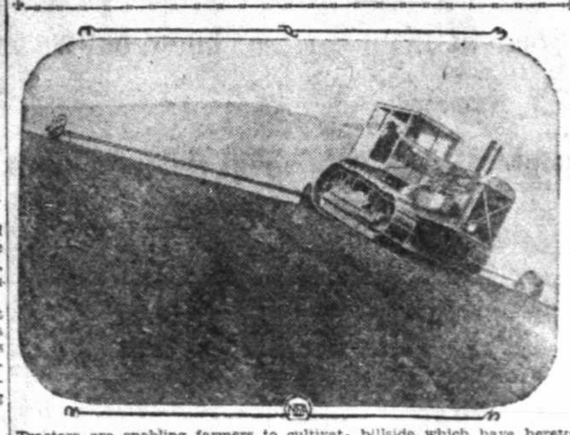

"Today there is a perfect stand of good looking wheat on these hundred acres, indicating a yield of at least 20 bushels to the acre. And there is not a blade of Johnson grass to be found in the field."

Added value to this farm is cited as the result of having killed the Johnson grass, in addition to the result of a paying crop to be harvested this summer.

DAVIS TO RALLS

RALLS, May 31—C. C. Davis of the Cone community, near here, will move here soon to take charge of the Dyke gin. Mr. and Mrs. Davis recently attended a school for cotton gin managers at Houston.

Too Steep For Dobbin

Tractors are enabling farmers to cultivate hillside which have heretofore remained unfarmed because they were too steep to plow and plant by horses. This picture shows a tractor hauling a grain drill outfit up a hill so steep that only the front wheels of the drills can be seen as the machine tops the crest on the McGregor ranch at Hooper, Washington.

Rains Of The Week Benefit

Many Localities Were Badly In Need Of Moisture, With No Planting Done, While Some Had Crops Up

Rain of the past week came at opportune time to aid some communities in first planting and to assist crops in other localities to new life, according to a survey made Saturday.

In Lubbock county, from the Liberty school community east of Lubbock on to Ralls, not enough moisture had fallen to permit planting of any crop. The east and north end of the county was in sore need of rain. In and beyond this area prolonged drouth had killed many fields of wheat and farmers were plowing this crop under and getting ready to plant cotton and grain sorghums.

Cotton Up and Growing

Other parts of the county, and of the Plains, where moisture had been sufficient, saw cotton up and thriving when last week's rain came. Cotton in many communities is up to a good stand and looking pretty, although the recent high and dry winds and accompanying sand had whipped out fields of it.

Wherever moisture was sufficient farmers have started planting grain sorghums. With this latest visitation it is thought that planting will go under way in every part of the South Plains within the next few days.

Bower To Work For Seed And Plant Board

H. J. Bower, head of the agronomy department in the school of agriculture at Texas Technological college, has gone to Denton, where he will assume duties for the remainder of the summer with the Texas Seed and Plant board.

While at Denton, Prof. Bower will work with P. B. Dunkle, superintendent of the State Agricultural Experiment station located there, in inspecting seed wheat for certification by the state board. Denton county is the place of origin of the well-known strains of Denton and Nortex wheats.

LOW MARKET HERE

Cattleman Reports Price Offered Under Normal

Inability of Lubbock markets to meet the needs of Lubbock county producers was again evidenced during the past week when Jim Hamilton, of this city, tried to sell a baby beef.

Hamilton tried to sell his beef for 10 cents a pound. The best offer obtainable in Lubbock was 6 cents per pound, while the Fort Worth market price stood at 12.75 cents.

ROBINETTE TO TAHOKA

TAHOKA, May 31—F. A. Robinette, of Lubbock, connected with the State Telephone company office there has been transferred here as manager. He succeeds James W. "Jimmie" Singer, who was recently promoted to be manager at Littlefield as district manager. Changes and improvements on the property are planned for next year the new manager reports.

Farmers And Others Go To Study Co-Op

Delegation Leaves Here Next Wednesday For Visit And Study Of Hale Creamery At Plainview

For the purpose of studying plans of organization and operation, a committee of Lubbock county farmers and Lubbock business men will spend Wednesday in Plainview in conference with officials of the Hale County Cooperative Creamery association.

The delegation from this county will be headed by County Agent D. F. Eaton and Jed Rix, Lubbock furniture dealer. It is planned to have representative farmers from every community in the county, as well as some eight or ten business men, make the trip and all-day study.

Next Step To Co-Op

Wednesday's schedule is next step toward forming a cooperative marketing association in Lubbock county for handling dairy products. Last week Douglas Pounds, of Acuff went to Brownwood for the purpose of studying operations of the cooperative poultry and creamery associations in that city.

"All who wish to make the trip to Plainview next Wednesday," declares County Agent Eaton, "should be at the courthouse here by 8 o'clock that morning. Anyone interested in bettering marketing conditions for Lubbock county producers is welcome to go along."

The Hale County Creamery Association has been operating their own creamery with marked success for the past few years. Market prices of cream offered by them has been several cents per pound butterfat above that offered on the local markets and many Lubbock county dairy farmers have been shipping their cream to this plant. Many dairy farmers of this county are members of the Hale county organization.

BARRIERS TO TAHOKA

TAHOKA, May 31—Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Barrier, formerly connected with the Barrier Brothers department store of Lubbock have leased the St. Clair hotel here. Mrs. Barrier will be in charge while Mr. Barrier, a traveling salesman, will join her at a later date. N. M. Bray, who with Mrs. Bray formerly operated the hotel, have charge of the miniature golf course here.

Ruin Is Threatened America Foundation

Economic Structure Claimed As Being Top-Heavy

BY AL HILL
Avalanche-Journal Farm Editor

UP TO now we have witnessed a very unwise attempt at building an economic order in the United States, from top to foundation—in reverse to all accepted natural laws. Of late years we have been faced with the sorry debacle of trying to expand a structure of well organized and exceedingly efficient business upon our basic industry—agriculture—a foundation which long has been over burdened.

Warnings have been uttered through the decades by those who could see cracks widening in the foundation. Only in two instances have efforts been made by governmental machinery to strengthen the base, since the United States Department of Agriculture came into being.

First In 1914

First, establishment of the Agricultural Extension service, by passage of the Smith-Lever Act May 8, 1914.

Second, on June 15, 1929, the Agricultural Marketing Act became a law when President Hoover signed it.

Today, agriculture is looked upon by many as being a bankrupt industry. The Federal Farm Board, in this case, must act as the receiver.

If it be true that America's basic industry is agriculture, then it behooves every citizen of patriotic mood to show an interest, at least in whether or not our national foundation shall or shall not crumble.

Question Arises

Should the farming industry be permitted to continue bankrupt, the question arises: How long is it possible for the super-structure to remain suspended in air before crashing to pieces?

With all odds seemingly stacked against it, an aggravated agriculture—fighting for every forward step—has been the rule in America since white men first braved the wilderness in their determination to build homes for the free and to establish a government of equality for all mankind.

Inequality of opportunity in Europe, wherein the then existing systems of government stipulated that only a few men were entitled to full share of the created wealth, compelled the founders of our republic to seek this new land. The old idea that "the select" were to govern people and to control wealth remained, however, in the minds of the greedy.

Indians Lived Easily

Indians of vagabond mind roamed the prairies and tramped the hills of this continent prior to arrival of the white man. These nomadic tribes of redmen found the land ever abundant with sustenance. They trekked northward at springtime and southward at fall time; gathering berries or fruits from wild vine and tree; killing beasts and fish and fowl, as they hungered; utilizing feathers and skins for apparel; combining bark and twig and leather for shelter.

The urge for permanency and stability, so history relates, existed even in the minds of some of the Indian tribes. Patches of corn were planted. Irrigation systems were builded by them in a few isolated instances.

Unlike the roaming Indians, first thought of white men who came to America was to establish homes; to prepare soil; to plant crops.

Thanksgiving Is Set

When the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock, with winter deadening vegetation, men set out from the settlement, blunderbuss in hand, seeking sustenance. Turkeys and Thanksgiving followed. So was established the nation's first gesture of gratitude to an all-wise providence.

Farming, as practiced by some and looked upon by others, continues to be ruled by the thought of "trusting Omnipotence".

Long ago foresight taught the energetic that the "trusting" rule would not bring success—where the prevailing aim was to build homes.

Home building has ever been the ultimate aim of Americans and continues so today, although, since the time we began to strengthen upper stories in our national building and to ignore agriculture, it has become more and more difficult the average citizen to own his home—whether it be in the city on the farm.

Business Benefitted

Tariff legislation and taxes added for the purpose of bolstering business, of erecting public edifices of building paved streets and roads of sustaining schools and public improvements, have resulted in sapping the life-blood from land and home and home without returning to the an equal share of benefits.

With 85 per cent of the farms of the United States under mortgage public conscience needs to be aroused as to the true state of affairs. To gain clear understanding of what has become a national problem, a recording of events that make up the history of American agriculture—to date—will be timely.

The chapters to follow in this series of articles will be patterned to give a brief fundamental knowledge of what has been going on, and of what problems almost half of the nation's population has been struggling with.

Five more installments of this series are planned. Next will be given the story of Agriculture becoming established upon this continent. The third chapter will tell of growth of cities and development of manufacturing. Fourth is designed to relate the beginning of burdens placed upon agriculture and start of the fight for equality, with the birth of various farm organizations. The fifth chapter is to tell of the Agricultural Extension Act and aims of those leading the movement. And, the final article will deal with the Agricultural Marketing Act.

POST TEACHER MARRIES

SPUR, May 31—(Special)—Miss Lulu Alice Robertson, of this city, and teachers in the Post schools for the past two years, was married recently at Tahoka to Coy McMahan of this city. Mr. McMahan was formerly with the Bryant-Link Co., but is now manager of the Piggly Wiggly Cash Grocery store. The young couple went on a wedding trip to Old Mexico.

ACCEPTS CISCO POST

SPUR, May 31—(Special)—R. Cluck, superintendent of schools here for the past three years, will leave this summer for Cisco to become superintendent there. He was re-elected several months ago by unanimous action of the board, but declined to accept because of several flattering offers, he reports. Mr. and Mrs. Cluck will not move until the summer school here closes.

our Is Proud Of City Plant at Saving Is Claimed In Operation Of Light And Water Unit; $15,000 Paid n Warrants First Year

(By Staff Correspondent)
PUR, May 31.—Residents of r are proud of the record of their icipal water plant, which, in the year of its operation was able pay off some $15,000 out of its rings, on the warrants issued to for the plant.
his is the statement of L. R. rows, city secretary and manager of the utilities of the town.
Decreased Rates
We not only paid $15,000 on the rants, but we also saved the peoits of Spur approximately $20,- by decreasing their utility rates," continued.
It is estimated that the amount money saved to residents and payers is more than the total ount of city taxes last year taxes were around $30,000."
Started Last Year
The plant was built and equipnt installed at a cost of $104,000: eration began about May 1, 1923 d a cut in the price of electricity s put into effect. The new rates e from two cents per kilowatt down to five cents, for domestic consumers and from five ts down to two cents per k. w. h. commercial power.
Equipment of the plant includes ee engines, two of 240 horse er each and one of 180 horse er. One engine is used during middle of the day and two at ht. During the winter months is sometimes necessary to run ee engines for short periods of e.
Street Lighting Good
"We have 669 street lights in Spur d we claim we have the best hted town in Texas," Secretary rrows said. "Each light is of candlepower and its costs us out $1.60 per month to operate m as compared to $4 a month der the old system. We save 00 a year on street lighting."
Three men are employed in the wer house. It is located on Burton street near the railroad de- and is of fire proof construco.
Cost of the plant included the th line and distribution system r the entire city.
50 Per Cent Use Plant
"More than 50 percent of the ers of electricity in Spur are cusmers of the municipal plant," cretary Burrows explains. "It about 52 percent, I think."
Operation of the city's water stem is a part of the power plant rangement, as the pumping, done electricity, is handled by the city. owever, the actual power used is harged to the water department nd that income enables the city's wer plant to show a better inome.
The city has three wells, each bout 52 feet deep, that furnish the ater supply for the city. Wells are ocated on Duck Creek, near to the ity.
Use Electric Pumps
Pumps, automatically controlled y electricity, are used. They are the Fairbanks-Morse turbine ype and are high pressure maines. They have been in operaion for three months.
On top of a hill near the city is ocated the water tower. A reservoir has been built near the wells nd the two have a combined reerve of 150,000 gallons.
"Our annual water consumption s around 103,000,000 gallons or bout 300,000 gallons a day," Mr. urrows said. "The plant has a capacity of a million gallons daily."
Ted Hogan is mayor of Spur, with H. Tradwell, street commissionr and J. E. Johnson, water ommissioner.

North Carolinians purchased 4,553 life insurance policies in 929, the insurance commissioner's records show.

First Lubbock Postal Meter Machine Here

Letters Bearing The Stamp "Permit No. 1" Are Being Mailed Out By State Telephone Company Here

Lubbock's first postal meter machine has been installed by the State Telephone company, with general offices in the Myrick building, and letters bearing the stamp, "Permit No. 1" are being mailed, H. D. Phillips, commercial manager of the company, announced. Necessary meters have been installed by the local postoffice force.

"The State Telephone company of Texas recently acquired the properties of the Haskell Telephone company, consisting of some 25 local exchanges and several hundred miles of toll line," Mr. Phillips said in making the announcement. "These properties, along with several others operated by the State company in West Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, gives them 112 local exchanges and several thousand miles of toll lines in this unit.

"All central accounting is out of Lubbock and this made it necessary to install the postage meter machine in order to handle the large volume of out-going mail. This amounts to in excess of 25,000 pieces each month which exceeds by far the mail of any other business concern in Lubbock."

The State Telephone company of Texas is a subsidiary of the Associated Telephone Utilities company of Los Angeles, Calif., who own and operate a large group of local exchanges in some 20 states, the commercial manager said. The personnel is composed of practical telephone men with many years of experience and they are developing the area which they are serving as fast as they can.

Something like 600 square miles in West Texas is now served by the State company from Carlsbad and Roswell in New Mexico on the west to Waynoka, Okla., and Olney on the east. North the company operates as far as Dalhart and south to Lamesa and beyond.

Interest Shown In Tent Revival

Continued interest has been manifested in the revival conducted at the tent located at 10th street and Avenue W according to a report yesterday. Crowds have averaged from 500 to 750 each night.

Rev. Virgil B. Starnes of Waco is preaching nightly at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Starnes has been preaching since 1916 and has held revivals in 36 states in the union.

Sermons for today have been announced for 11 o'clock at which time the evangelist will preach on "Mother, Heaven and Home;" this afternoon at 3 o'clock "Entangling Alliances," and tonight at 8 o'clock "Realities of Hell."

C. J. Atchison is leading the song services and Miss Urada Gaines of Lubbock and Miss Alice McKnight, Fort Worth, are at pianos.

The revival, which is being held under the auspices of the West End Baptist church, will continue through next week. Twenty additions have been made to the church in the past week.

G. R. Scott Will Seek Re-Election

G. R. Scott this morning officially announces his candidacy for re-election to the office of justice of the peace, precinct No. 1, a position which he has held for the past four years.

Judge Scott announces on a platform of service rendered and a faithful performance of duties during his period of service to the public.

"I only ask that voters make an investigation of my record and qualifications as a public officer," he stated. "After that is done if they believe me deserving and qualified, I would appreciate their support. I want to thank them for their support in the past and I promise to discharge my duties in the future, if elected, as impartially as in the past. It is their duty to vote for the best qualified men to fill all offices."

KILL HUGE WOLF

Fifty Mounted Hunters And 40 Dogs Make Chase

LOVINGTON, N. M., May 31. (Special)—A huge gray wolf which is said to have terrorized ranchers and farmers in Lincoln county for months, was killed by a group of hunters on the Slaughter ranch in that county.

Fifty mounted hunters, using 40 dogs in the chase, were in the party known as the Lea Corn Wolf hunters. Wilbur McKnight, who made the kill, said the animal was one of the most vicious he had ever seen.

HURTS HIS "BUSINESS"

Crosby County Judge Ties Two Knots Within Year

CROSBYTON, May 31 (Special)—Edgar Hutchins, county judge, does not look with favor on the new marriage law of Texas. He has not had the "business" since it went into effect that he had before.

"I'll tell you why," he said. "In December, 1925, the year before the law went into effect, I married 19 couples who came into this office to have the marital knot tied.

"Since the law became effective last June I have married just two couples."

'Mahatma Duncan's' March to the Sea

While New York crowds stared at the strange procession, Raymond Duncan (left), clad in his customary flowing robes, and 15 allies marched down to the sea to dip up salt water in 10 cent store buckets as a gesture of sympathy toward Mahatma Ghandi and his civil disobience campaign in India. The parade down to the harbor is pictured above. Duncan is a brother of the late Isadora Duncan, famous dancer. The man on the left is carrying one of the buckets with which the work was performed.

Twelve Tech Students Leave Tomorrow For Six-Week Tour Of New Mexico And Colorado

Study Of Geological Formations To Be Made At Points Of Interest; Credit Hours Will Be Given To Classes

Leaving Lubbock early Monday morning, 12 Texas Tech students of geology and Dr. Leroy T. Patton, head of the department of geology, will go to Pagosa Springs, Colo., for a six weeks' study of geological formations at that place and at points of interest in both New Mexico and Colorado.

Study courses will be in the form of advanced classes in geology for which each member will be given nine credit hours. Cost will be $75, which is to include transportation in the college bus, and all other expenses of the trip.

Students Announced

Those who plan to leave Monday include Raymond Dunn, D. R. Criswell, Wallace Varley, Wayne Varley, Lewis Brown, Whitman Matheny, E. A. McCullough, Elliott Taylor, Robert Spivey, Roy Lindley, Conrad Clark, Clarence Cole and Morgan Gist, and Dr. Patton, director.

Most of the six weeks' study will be in the Pagosa Springs quadrangle, in the form of detailed physiography, stratigraphy, structure and historical geology. Formations studied will be for the most part in the Mesazoic and Tertiary areas.

Itinerary Given

Itinerary of the tour as announced by Dr. Patton includes Roswell, Carrizozo, Santa Fe, where a day will be spent, and Tierra Amarilla, N. M. From there it will cross Chama Pass to Pagosa Springs. The return trip will include Durango, Colo., and the Mesa Verde National park, where two days will be spent, Gallup, Albuquerque, Vaughan and Clovis, arriving in Lubbock again about July 12.

After the return all students will be required to present a report of the study as a scientific bulletin, which is to be prepared under direction of Dr. Patton.

E. Lee Brown Out For Commissioner

Announcement is made today of the candidacy of E. Lee Brown for the office of county commissioner, precinct No. 4, subject to action of the democratic primaries in July.

Mr. Brown, a resident of Lubbock for the past 17 years, has never been a candidate for public office before.

In making his announcement Mr. Brown stated: "If elected I will have no other business connections and will devote all of my time to the interests of precinct 4 and Lubbock county. I would appreciate the considerations of all voters."

gg Co-Op Is Operating In Dickens Area

ertile Egg Association Is Doing Much Good; Premium Of Five Cents Is Paid By Merchants Of Spur

(By Staff Correspondent)

PUR, May 31.—One hundred and y farmers of Dickens county e formed the Dickens County In-tile Egg association and are now rketing their eggs through a co-rative group and their own stor- plant, D. L. Granberry, secre- of the chamber of commerce, today.

oy Stovall, manaer of the Spur amery and the Spur Bottling rks, is to be manager of the stor- plant. The building has been npleted and equipment installed. We give each member a rubber mp and pad and he stamps his n infertile eggs." Mr. Granberry plained. "Each man has his own mber so we can tell what farmer plied the eggs.

At the plant the eggs are graded d candled. We have shipped a mber of cases now and we ex-t, when we get fully under way handle more than 50 cases of s a week.

"Spur merchants are paying a mium of five cents per dozen to farmers who bring in graded, ndled and stamped infertile eggs. r members get that much more an other farmers."

The association is going out for uality stuff" Mr. Granberry said. far they have met with consid-able support from egg buyers and ers.

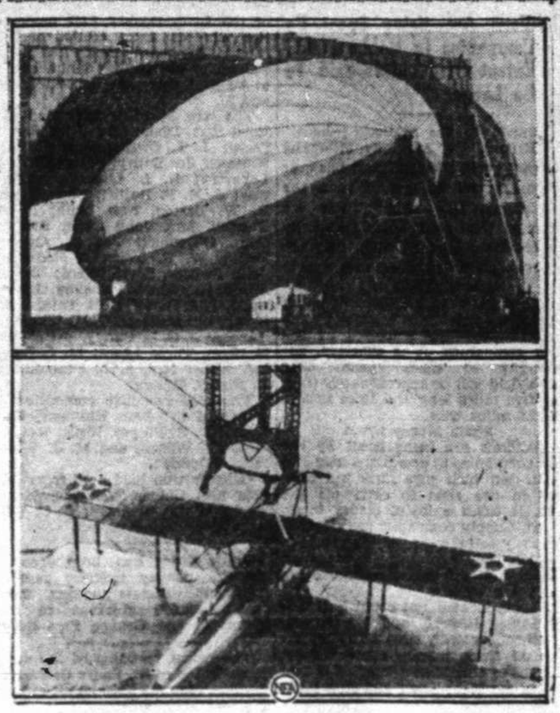

eed For Records On Cows Is Cited

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

TAHOKA, May 31.—"I feed my w the same but they do not pay the same," is the conclusion ched by I. M. Draper, prominent nn county farmer, as a result of periments with his small herd of rseys, which show nothing re-arkable but does prove that farm-s should keep a record of feed sts and production of each cow st month, one of his cows pro-ced 41.4 pounds of butter fat at cost of a little less than 10c per und and made a profit above cost feed of $10.87. Another cow pro-ced only 18.75 pounds of butter-t at a cost of 38c per pound and ade only 75c profit. Each cow s getting the same amount of ed. Skim milk was valued at 40c r hundred.

Mr. Draper's entire herd made m a profit of $39 and produced t at a cost of 14.4c per pound.

Los Angeles Has New Mast and "Pick Up" for Planes

These pictures show how the dirigible Los Angeles is being kept mechanically up-to-date. Above you see the big airship being drawn out of its hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., with the aid of a new portable stub mast which enables the craft to be handled by a ground force of only 60 men instead of 200, as previously. Below is a close-up of the plane-hooking device, on the dirigible's underside, which was demonstrated before President Hoover at recent naval maneuvers off the Virginia Capes. A big navy biplane is shown after it had made contact with the hook in mid-air.

Garza County Proud Of Courthouse Lawn; Unusual Plants Are Growing

(By Staff Correspondent)

POST, May 31.—Garza county's courthouse lawn is one of the beauty spots of the entire county and is the pride of the citizenship of the county and city.

John Ramsey, veteran custodian, is in charge of the plot and he spends many hours outside his regular time, looking after the grounds.

"I have been here for six years and I like to work around the lawn and yard," Mr. Ramsey said. "It gives me a good deal of pleasure to work with and among flowers and trees."

Poppies "Pride"

Mr. Ramsey's bed of poppies is his "pride". On the north side of the building is a large plot of ground with nothing but poppies. They are of every shade and color, with reds predominating. All plants are large and with large flowers and scores of citizens bring their visitors around to the park just to show them the poppies.

Another unusual plant is a dogwood plant, said to be the only one in the county. The custodian has worked with this plant like a hen with a lone chick, so to speak, nursing and caring for it until it is in the very best shape.

"We have 15 or 20 varieties of shrubbery here," Mr. Ramsey said. "When I came we began to sow Bermuda grass and now our lawn is in the best shape."

Other flowers in growing profusion are, verbenias and coxcombs. There is a large number of rose bushes of all popular varieties.

Scout Camp Is Mecca For Boys Of Area

Regular Periods Are Held In Camp Each Summer For Boy Scouts Of Section; Much Recreation Offered

(By Staff Correspondent)

POST, May 31.—Residents of Post and Garza county are proud of the 400 acre camp of the South Plains Council of Boy Scouts located only a short distance from this city and known as the C. W. Post memorial.

It is so named in honor of the memory of the late C. W. Post, who started the town and who colonized the county a quarter of a century ago.

Site Is Donation

Site comprising the camp was presented to the scouts by Mrs. L. J. Montgomery, his widow, and by Mrs. Marjorie Post Close Hutton, his daughter.

A four weeks camp is held here every year, generally in sessions of two weeks each. There is always a June camp and one later. From 100 to 150 boys, sometimes more, come here for each camp.

Location is a historic one, on the old Llano ranch, which has been in this territory for the past 50 years. It is located about three and a half miles south of Post.

$10,000 Spent

Improvements to the amount of around $10,000 have been put on the camp. There is an improved old ranch house, used for headquarters and the place is well kept throughout. A mess hall has been built and other improvements are contemplated.

"One of the big needs at the camp is a lake for swimming," Marshall Mason, one of the active men leaders of the scout movement in Post, says. "We feel that the other towns in the council ought to start the movement to build the lake.

Plenty Of Swimming

"Boys at the camp now have to go elsewhere for swimming. There are plenty of lakes around here, so there is nothing to do in the way of having a long distance to go."

John T. Herd, prominent banker and business man here, is vice president of the council. He with a group of business men who are active in the work, keep in close touch with the situation and see that the camp throughout the year is not molested.

Post has two troops with about 50 boys altogether. The boys often hike out to the camp for a night's camp or go there during the day just to see "if it is still there" as one man expressed it.

Boy Scouts In Lamesa Active

Considerable Activity Is Held During Past Month; Interest In Work Increases; 3 Troops Are Functioning

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

LAMESA, May 31.—Scouting in Lamesa has seen considerable activity during the last month, according to J. D. Dyer of Lamesa, deputy commissioner of the South Plains council.

The troops in Lamesa, sponsored by the American Legion, the Lions club and the Methodist church, are planning at present to be prepared for the annual Boy Scout encampment at Post which begins June 30. The three organizations sponsoring the Boy Scouts in Lamesa are aiding in securing jobs for the scouts so that they can earn the needed fee to attend the camp, Dyer states.

Telling of Camp

The deputy commissioner has been visiting troop meetings in Lamesa during the last two weeks explaining various details of the camp. He states Lamesa will probably be represented by the largest group of scouts this year than ever before.

A joint over-night hike of troops in Lamesa was held here last weekend when members of the three Boy Scout groups were guests of John Henry Dean on his Indian canyon ranch in the east part of Dawson county. Over fifty scouts attended the hike which was under the direction of D. T. Jennings, scout executive of the Plains council, Lubbock scout men present, besides Jennings, included George Eaton, field man and Ikey Crenshaw, Eagle scout of Lubbock. Lamesa men who accompanied the boys were J. D. Dyer, Clyde Backenstoss, S. Richardson, Leslie Pratt, Joe Spikes and Clarence Ham.

Troop 44, under the direction of Richardson, won the banner offered during the short camp for compiling the most points in contests and scouting. Troop 44 is the youngest in Lamesa and is sponsored by the Lions club. Troop 22 is sponsored by the American Legion and Troop 23 is under the auspices of the Methodist church.

SERVICE TO CONTINUE

Contract Is Renewed Between Department And Bus Line

TAHOKA, May 31—(Special)—Tahoka will continue to receive first class mail from the east early in the morning and have an outlet late in the afternoon as the result of the renewal of a contract between the Postoffice Department and W. R. Ingram, operator of the Post-Tahoka-Brownfield stage line. Renewal of the contract, which had been doubtful, enables this city to get its eastern mail a day earlier than it would have should the department gone back to train service. It also insures continuance of the reception of Fort Worth, Dallas, and Abilene morning papers early of the morning of their publication date.

FINDS WORK PROFITABLE

Tahoka Man Raising Sheep And Doing Right Well

TAHOKA, May 31—(Special)—W. D. Nevels, Tahoka banker and farm owner, who has been experimenting in the raising of sheep on the Plains, is finding the business profitable even at the present low prices of wool. Starting several years ago with only a few head, he now has 340 sheep, most of which are yearling ewes. He has just clipped 4,180 pounds of wool from the flock which would bring over $1,000 at the present low prices.

Dates Set For Annual Confab Of Old Timers

West Texas Old Settlers Will Gather At Hank Smiths On August 15 And 16; Expect Large Attendance

(By Staff Correspondent)

CROSBYTON, May 31.—Dates of the annual West Texas Old Settlers association will be August 15 and 16 at Hank Smith Memorial park, a short distance from Crosbyton, W. T. Dunn, secretary of the West Texas Old Settlers association, announced this week.

"We had about 15,000 people out there at the two day celebration last year and I look for as many this year," Mr. Dunn said. "The first house built in Crosby county is there, built by Hank Smith."

Program Arranged

A program is being arranged by a committee of old timers and it will be ready in a short time. There will be no politicans on the program this year.

"Old timers want to hear a lot of stories about early days and we plan to have a lot of that." the secretary said. "Last year one of our speakers got in some political stuff and we have decided not to have any politicians this year."

There will be carnival events, shows, rides and other amusements. Concessions are to be leased to individuals and organizations.

"One of our big stunts will be an old fashioned rodeo with all of the thrills of the early days," R. L. Travis, president, added. "That is what the old boys like and we will have a big crowd out to see it. The rodeo will last two days."

Third Woman To Come To Dickens Still In County

(By Staff Correspondent)

SPUR, May 31—The third woman to make her home in Dickens county is still living and at an advanced age, is enjoying life and the friendship of her neighbors.

She is Mrs. Jennie Browning, wife of W. L. Browning, who came to Dickens county in 1878, before the county was organized.

"Mrs. Browning was the third woman in Dickens county," says Bill Shaffer, himself one of the old timers. "She came to the county and settled on Duck Creek. That was in 1878 or 52 years ago.

"There were only two other women in the county at the time."

The area had only a few settlers, mostly ranchers. Cattle was the line of agriculture and one had to ride miles and miles to get to a ranch house.

Mrs. Browning's arrival antedated the famous Spur ranch by three years. It was not started until in 1881 according to Mr. Shaffer.

Bill is one of the old timers himself. He came to the county in 1882 and has been here as cowboy and rancher ever since. Now he has retired from nearly all active work.

To stop gate crashing at football games, barbed wire entanglements have just been put around the Wembley stadium near London.

O'Donnell C C Reviews Year

Successful Period Of Work Is Closed With Much Accomplished; Needs Of Community Cited

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

O'DONNELL, May 31.—The community Chamber of Commerce of O'Donnell has just closed the most successful year in the history of the town. The drive to raise a budget for the coming year was completed by one committee in two hours time and shows a considerable increase in spite of the general business depression throughout the country.

The organization adopted the program of work outlined by the secretary-manager, G. S. Dowell, which is by far the biggest program that has ever been undertaken by the local organization. Not only had O'Donnell a large delegation at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Abilene on May 29, 30, and 31 but will have about five members of the Board of Directors who will accompany the secretary-manager to the Texas Commercial Executives association at Plainview, on June 5, 6 and 7. O'Donnell believes in chamber of commerce work and intends to have best trained group of workers in the country.

After a careful consideration of the conditions of O'Donnell and surrounding territory the chamber of commerce has come to the conclusions that:

O'Donnell doesn't need any more: grocery stores, drygoods stores, hardware stores, drug stores, barber shops, filling stations, cotton gins, lumber yards, garages, newspapers, variety stores, produce houses, shoe shops, doctors, real estate and insurance men and rent houses.

O'Donnell does need: A State highway east and west, more rural mail routes, more rural telephone lines, more dairy, poultry and hogs, milk routes, another bank, a "talkie" theater, a bakery, paved streets, better lighted streets, more city water, more trees, lawns, and flower gardens, a tri-county fair, a band, better support of churches and schools, a golf course, an airport, a farmers cotton picking association, a direct and effective method of inducing new settlers to locate here and a retail merchants association.

ROUTING IS ASSURED

Bond Election In Garza Will Determine Highway Route

(By Staff Correspondent)

SOUTHLAND, May 31.—Routing of Highway No. 7 through Southland is assured in the event Garza county votes bonds for construction, Judge Gross, chairman of the local delegation that attended a highway meeting in Abilene recently, reports.

Members of the committee included besides Judge Gross, Ed Martin and J. D. Herd.

The routing will be delayed until the county has had time to hold a bond election, it was indicated. The commission is said to have given assurances to the group that if the bonds are voted the highway will pass through Southland.

Thirty delegates from the United States attended the recent Mexican Highway and Tourist Congresses at Mexico City.

Poultry Profits In Dawson Reveal Good Production

(Special to the Avalanche-Journal)

LAMESA, May 31.—According to records kept by nine Dawson county poultry raisers during April, they realized a total income of $879.89 from 3490 dozen eggs produced by 2456 birds for that month. The feed cost was $241.90 or .0693c per dozen. Average per hen for the month for the 2456 birds was 17 eggs. The poultry raisers received an average of .25c per dozen.

The highest production was the average of 23.3 eggs per hen by a flock of 244 white leghorns owned by Joe M. Peterson. His total income was $196.65 and a feed cost of $41.13. His profit was $155.53.

Since the poultry short course held here in January, which lasted one week, over 100 poultry houses have been constructed in Dawson county, according to W. W. Evans, county agent. All of the flocks have access to farm range with modern houses under sanitary conditions. Interest manifested in poultry raising in this county has led to the formation of the Dawson County Poultry association which meets regularly in Lamesa.

Baptists Gather In Lamesa, June 5

LAMESA, May 31.—(Special)—Baptist workers from all parts of the lower South Plains will gather here June 5 for their regular conference. Addresses by several noted Plains Baptist ministers will feature the full day's program.

Future Of Oil Area Lauded

Millions Are Being Spent By Companies In Hobbs Field; Extent Of Field Is Said To Be Large

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

HOBBS, N. M., May 31.—"The largest boom the southwest has ever seen. It will be greater than the Oklahoma City field." These are two of the comments frequently heard from oil men when they are questioned as to what they expect of the New Hobbs area.

They back these statements up by citing the listener to reports of competent geologists employed by the big companies. It is expected, according to these men, that this field will be approximately thirty-five miles long and from five to eight miles wide.

Much Money Spent

Millions are being spent by the oil companies in operations here and four ten inch pipe lines will soon be in the field to carry off the oil. It takes a lot of money to do that. Supply companies are stocking heavily to take care of the demands which they expect to be made on them and an unusual number are represented here.

Being located just about half way between Roswell and Big Spring and conveniently situated as to other oil fields many oil men expect to make this their center of operations for West Texas and New Mexico.

Directors Named For Lynn's Fair

(Special to the Avalanche-Journal)

TAHOKA, May 31.—Newly elected members of the board of directors of the Lynn County Fair association represent every section of the county. The board already has plans well under way for the annual event to be held this year September 26 and 27.

The new board is composed of: Boyd Rice, Dixie; Mrs. John Berry, Draw; J. T. Owens, Edith; A. R. Kimbrell, Joe Bailey; S. L. Williams, Lakeview; R. L. Littlepage, Midway; J. R. F. Ratliff, New Home; R. W. Barton, New Lynn; T. J. Yandell, Mrs. John Earls, Ben S. Coin, O'Donnell; Joe H. Owens, Petty; W. R. Traweek, Redwine; John Switzer, South Ward; Taylor White, Ray Shaver, Thelma Greenwade, T. J. Bovell, B. R. Tate, S. R. Kemp, Bill Burleson, W. O. Thomas Tahoka; J. C. McCarley, T-Bar; W. E. Sikes, Three Lakes; M. L. Taylor, Wells; Mrs. A. L. Faubion, R. E. Finley, Wilson.

The 1930 executive committee is composed of: Sam Kitchens, New Home; D. G. Phipps, Wells; Rev. C. N. Roth, Wilson, and M. J. Whitsett, O'Donnell.

Officers who held over from last year are: Claude Wells, president; Taylor White, manager; C. C. Williams, secretary-treasurer.

South Africa has been expanding its poultry industry rapidly, a recent estimate showing more than 4,800,000 chickens in the Transvaal and Orange Free State.

The recent regilding of the great cross on top of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, required 3,000 leaves of pure 24-carat gold leaf.

We Are Building an Institution in Radio

At the General Motors Radio Corporation we have laid the foundation of a permanent, progressive business—and on this groundwork we are already raising the structure of an institution with ideals and ambitions quite different from those the radio industry has known ⌣ The men who represent us to you—our dealers—have met requirements which establish them, beyond doubt, as trustworthy, reputable merchants ⌣ Our product is distinctive in its design, in its appearance and in the way it performs ⌣ It reflects, we believe, the extraordinary value that our resources and our experience and our manufacturing abilities help us to create ⌣ We want you to prefer this product . . . and to base your preference as much on your confidence in the dealer who sells it and in us who make it, as on your appraisal of the product itself.

The General Motors Radio Corporation has entered the radio field providing more for you as a radio buyer than had previously been offered. Some of the ablest engineers in the radio industry have designed a chassis capable of truly exceptional performance. The Tone Selector gives you actual mastery of tone, with the turn of a knob. General Motors' vast experience in precision methods has created for you, at a moderate price, a product of exceptionally high quality—and one that is dependable and lasting.

The same consideration for the buyer is evident in our policy regarding cabinets. In appearance, the models of the new General Motors Radio are admirable adaptations of authentic period furniture. And in order that you may consider them as permanent possessions—as you would any example of fine cabinetwork—we shall design any future chassis or speaker so that it may be installed in these present cabinets, and you can always enjoy the latest thing in radio at the lowest possible cost.

We have developed these fine instruments . . . established a reputable, responsible organization of exclusive dealers . . . instituted national service . . . pledged ourselves to progressive manufacturing policies and conservative business principles—all, that you may find in radio the same assurance of value, of permanence and of fair-dealing that "Product of General Motors" has come to mean in other fields.

We ask you to judge the sincerity of our purpose and the value of our product by calling on the authorized General Motors Radio dealer in your community. His name appears below.
