Federal Cash At Low Mark, Says Anderson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Anderson told Congress today that distressingly low cash balances in the Treasury necessitate the five-billion-dollar increase in the legal debt limit asked by the administration.

He said the cash position now is so tight that next month treasury balances in commercial banks may get down to 250 million dollars, or less than an average day's disbursements.

Appearing before the House Ways and Means Committee, Anderson said the request for a hike in the debt limit from 276 to 280 billion dollars until June 30, 1959, was based also on the need for more flexibility in managing debt obligations.

"Even with a balanced budget there will still be large seasonal fluctuations in receipts which make operations under the 275-billion-dollar limitation most difficult," he said.

The committee is expected to approve legislation for the higher debt ceiling. Action may come next week and that would send the question on to the Senate.

Anderson told the House members he hopes to get more of the government's debt into long-term obligations. In recent years, much of the debt financing has been through short-term notes and certificates rather than long-term bonds.

Anderson noted that the Treasury must meet more than 25 billion dollars of Treasury bills coming due within the next 90 days, and more than 50 billion in all forms of obligations maturing in the calendar year 1958.

The higher debt limit, he said, will help the Treasury take advantage of opportunities in the period ahead for long-term financing.

Anderson had asked the increase by letter three days ago, saying he needs "sufficient flexibility that will allow us the capacity to do as good a job as we can in the management of the debt."

House leaders, anticipating no concerted opposition, already have scheduled debt increase legislation for a vote Tuesday.

The increase would permit new government borrowing to finance maturing obligations before the bulk of tax receipts flow in during the next several months.

In an earlier appearance before the Ways and Means Committee, Anderson "regretfully" ruled out general tax reduction under present conditions. But he clearly left the way open for a tax cut in the future if the economy fails to make an expected rebound and requires stimulation.

The government's debt now exceeds 274 billion dollars, less than a billion below the present ceiling. The all-time high was about $280,800,000,000, reached in December 1955 when the legal limit was temporarily 281 billion.

SPOT MUSE

MANY SNYDER residents apparently got barometers for Christmas, according to Jim Babcock, Continental Air Lines manager here. Babcock says he has had many requests to aid in adjusting the instruments since the holidays.

TO GIVE PROPER readings, barometers must be adjusted so that they will record the barometric pressure as it stands at sea level, which means that a substantial adjustment is required at Snyder's altitude.

THE BANKS HERE will be closed Monday in observance of Robert E. Lee's birthday. One banker here said yesterday that proves there are still plenty of rebels in this part of the country.

Pest Control Work Will Be Stepped Up

An effort to greatly lessen the number of flies and other pests next spring and summer will be made by the city-county health unit and the city of Snyder.

J. E. Craven, health unit sanitarian, said that an inspection will be made about April 1, to determine the number of pit toilets, cess pools and unapproved ceptic tanks, in use here, and that about April 30, another inspection will be made to determine the number of such cases which have not been improved to meet health unit sanitation standards.

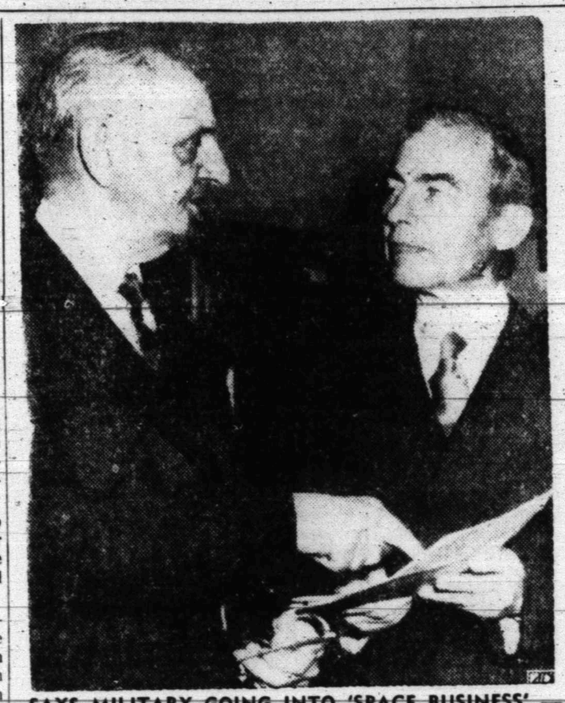
"At that time proper legal steps will be taken to make the residents comply with health and sanitation regulations," Craven said.

Members of the Negro Chamber of Commerce have requested the city and health unit to take action to bring about removal of all pit toilets in the Erwin Heights Addition.

Craven said that almost all residences in Snyder now have sanitary sewer lines available, and that there are only a very few, isolated houses which can not be connected to sewer lines with little expense.

Roy Dunlap, city manager, reported that a total of $88,000 has been spent in the past year extending sewer service to the Bootheland Addition in north Snyder, and that so far the city has collected only $18.10 in revenues from the new lines.

"All pit toilets, cess pools and ceptic tanks which are not large enough to take care of the inflow of sewage will be carefully inspected, and an effort will be made to remove all pit toilets, cess pools and ceptic tanks which are below health standards," Craven said.



SAYS MILITARY GOING INTO 'SPACE BUSINESS' — Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles poses in Washington, D. C., with Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, prior, to testifying in secret session before the group. Quarles, right, said in an interview the military is "going into the space business" with a new agency authorized to plan such things as space ships. The committee is conducting a board investigation of the military program. (AP Wirephoto)

Douglas Raps Meager Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A pioneer aircraft manufacturer today called for "more guts and less gobbledegook" to speed U.S. production of U.S. missiles and anti-missile missiles.

Donald W. Douglas Sr., chairman of the board of the Douglas Aircraft Corp., said only a small fraction of the necessary funds has been made available for work on the Zeus antimissile project on which his firm is working with Bell Telephone Laboratories and Western Electric.

"Nearly two years ago we felt this weapon was sufficiently feasible to warrant a go-ahead," he told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, "but so far only a small fraction of the necessary funds has been made available."

In the case of the 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missile Thor, Douglas said that even after successful test firings "we waited from August to December for an order to increase production of this much-needed missile."

But Douglas testified that on the whole he could say "most unequivocably that I do not share the gloomy opinion of so many that the race for weapon supremacy has been lost forever and that we are permanently doomed to the role of a secondary power."

He expressed belief the armed services and industry have been doing a much better job of keeping pace with any potential enemy than the public realizes.

Douglas appeared with his son, Donald W. Douglas Jr., president of the company, and Robert Johnson, his assistant chief missiles engineer.

He said that in two years the Thor has been developed and successfully tested and the production line is now in operation to turn them out in any quantity desired.

"Furthermore," he said, "production can be accelerated to almost any degree which might be necessary."

As for the antimissile weapon designed to shoot down enemy missiles, he said, "all we need now is the 'go-ahead' signal to bring it to the same status that we have brought the IRBM."

One of the most formidable obstacles to getting things done swiftly and efficiently, Douglas said, "is the time-consuming, agonizing process of waiting for official decisions."

Opposing the single chief of command setup advocated by some, he said that "too often centralization of authority simply means the absolute power to commit irreparable blunders."

Douglas' call for speedier firm decisions paralleled a comment by Sen. Cotton (R-NH), who said in a statement "there are so many layers of decision-making officials and boards in the armed services that the Russians can put a program into action while we are conferring about it."

A&M Co-Ed Issue Sparks Violence

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Boyd Metts, Aggie freshman who formed a group to investigate the feasibility of making Texas A&M coeducational, was hospitalized after inhaling fumes from an ammonia bomb thrown into his room early today.

Metts, from Bivins, Tex., left the hospital to take final examinations but was due to return later in the day.

This development in the furor over girls entering the school came after the Student Senate voted 11-5 last night to seek the ouster of the editor of the Battalion, campus newspaper. The editor, Joe Tindel, senior from Athens, Tex., had written that a policy of coeducation should be adopted.

Another bomb was thrown into Metts' room Sunday night.

He declined comment on the latest incident other than to say he might have a statement later.

However, Metts said the purpose of his group had been misrepresented because it sought only to get information on the coeducational question and did not necessarily endorse girls attending A&M.

The Student Senate recommended that the Students Publication Board call for Tindel's resignation.

The student assembly's three civilian members and three others were absent. All others participate in the school's ROTC program.

The group also voted 17-1 for a referendum in which all students would ballot on coeducation for A&M.

The Battalion said yesterday that a straw poll indicated slightly more than half the students interviewed favored admitting girls.

Clarlie Wood, Tyler, senior, moved for Tyndel's dismissal, saying the Battalion "is hurting our school."

The Battalion also said that a bomb made with a can of cleansing liquid with a firecracker fuse was thrown into the room of William Metts, Bivins, Tex., but his roommate tossed it out before it exploded.

Metts announced the organization of the Aggie Assn. for the Advancement of Coeducation, which he said he will seek to register with school officials.

Plane Object Of Searchers

HONOLULU (AP) — Aircraft and ships crisscrossed the path of Typhoon Ophelia again today, hunting a U.S. weather reconnaissance plane that vanished Tuesday night with 10 crewmen.

The missing plane, a B50 bomber adapted for weather survey, last reported at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday when it was some 600 miles north of Guam, heading into the typhoon's center. The center contained winds reported in excess of 140 miles per hour.

At Yokosuka, Japan, yesterday the Navy reported that listening stations at Guam, Hawaii, Anchorage and Adak picked up faint distress signals in the general area of the plane's disappearance.

Bomb Scare In Little Rock School Touches Off Search

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A bomb scare touched off a search of Central High School by a platoon of Arkansas National Guardsmen last night, but no explosive was found and the soldiers were withdrawn.

Classes are not scheduled at the court-integrated school today. Teachers are grading midterm examinations.

An Arkansas Military District spokesman said the normal completment of federalized guardsmen — about 25 men — was on duty today as usual. The shift was changed recently to weekdays only from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. formerly the guardsmen were on duty at all times.

The federalized troops found "no indication of any evidence" of a bombing, a spokesman for the Arkansas Military Dist. said. Other Army officers, insisted that the surprise maneuver was merely "a practice alert."

About an hour before the soldiers arrived at the four-square-block campus, military authorities, Little Rock police headquarters and a newspaper had received anonymous telephone calls that "something was going to happen to Central High School."

"They're from out of town; they're going to blow up the school," a woman caller shouted almost hysterically into a newsman's ear.

At 9 p. m. two jeeps and a bus carrying an estimated 36 guardsmen reached the campus. The rumors that "something was going on" brought hundreds of onlookers to the school in automobiles.

The troops, under the command of an unidentified colonel, dashed into the dark building and flashlights were seen moving from room to room.

The colonel was asked about he presence of the troops. He replied sharply, "No statement," and ordered news photographers to take no pictures.

City police patrolling the area stopped Ed Martin of The Associated Press and Ken Johnson of the Memphis Commercial Appeal and warned: "You'd better stay out of here the rest of the night."

POLARIS MISSILE IS LAUNCHED BY NAVY

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy launched a Polaris ballistic missile test vehicle here today.

It was the first Polaris test officially identified as such.

Judging from its performance at the start, and until it disappeared down the Air Force missile test range, it was a highly successful shot.

In Washington, the Defense Department's director of missiles, William Holaday, said the firing was considered a success.

Holaday, spoke briefly with newsmen as he arrived at a closed-door session of the House Armed Services Committee. "All I really know now is that they have called it a success," he said.

Holaday said the device that was tested includes a forerunner of the Polaris propulsion engine.

"We will be making and firing more of these as we go on with the development of the missile," he said.

It is known that a number of Polaris test devices have been fired from this center within the past 12 months.

In each case those launchings that were confirmed were described merely as test vehicles, without associating them with Polaris.

Polaris, named after the North Star, is the Navy's 1,500-mile intermediate-range ballistic missile. It was designed for launching from atomic powered submarines above or below water, and from aboard ships.

Polaris reportedly will be the biggest and most complex missile the Navy ever has attempted to build. It will be smaller and lighter than the other IRBMs — the Air Force Thor and the Army Jupiter — in the nation's arsenal.

The operational Polaris probably will be about 50 feet tall — 10 feet shorter than the Air Force and Army IRBMs — and 100 inches in diameter, and may be capable of carrying an atomic warhead of up to 1,000 pounds. There was no indication of the size or weight of the test vehicle fired today.

Aerojet General Corp., Sacramento, Calif., is developing the Jupiter IRBM. Like the Air Force Thor, it uses a liquid propellant. The Navy turned to solid propellant rocket power, as more practical for use aboard ship, after that type of fuel and oxidizer combination became available in efficient and usable form.

The Defense Department announced plans for Polaris only a year ago. Now it says, the missile is well along in development. The program is high on the Navy's weapon priority list.

Cloudy Skies Building Up Across State

By The Associated Press

Cloudiness was expected to build up over Texas Friday and Saturday but no precipitation was forecast.

Skies were clear early Friday.

Temperatures dipped below freezing in the Panhandle-Plains area. Dalhart reported 24 degrees and Amarillo and Lubbock also were below the freezing mark early Friday.

Brownsville had the warmest predawn temperature, 50.

Highs Thursday ran from 68 at San Antonio to 54 at El Paso and Van Horn.

A three-day storm that stifled the Northeast United States under a snow blanket eased Friday although there was light snow overnight and rain or drizzle along coastal regions.

Heavy snowfall, measuring up to 28 inches in some spots, impeded highway and air travel.

The storm center moved slowly up the coast and the Weather Bureau said that rain in the warmer coastal areas would change to heavy snow as colder air moves in behind the storm center.

Most of the area from the northern Plains eastward to the Great Lakes and southward into the Ohio Valley and Tennessee was under a vast cloud cover.

Clairemont Man Found Shot

A Clairemont man killed himself with a self-inflicted gunshot wound just west of the Scurry-Fisher County line on U. S. Highway 180 about 17 miles east of here about 9 o'clock this morning.

Frank Soliz, 50, was the victim. He left a note in spanish requesting authorities who found his body to notify his relatives in Clairemont. W. C. Davidson, justice of the peace, returned a coroner's verdict of suicide.

Members of the Scurry County Sheriff's department and the Texas Highway Patrol here who investigated, said Soliz killed himself with a .22 rifle, which was found with his body at the scene.

"He shot himself in the roof of the mouth, and the bullet apparently tried to come out near his left eye," Jay Massingill, deputy, said.

Soliz's body was draped partly over the right door of his 1954 Chevrolet car, when he was found by Garland Brumit, a passerby. Brumit notified the Fisher County sheriff of what he had found, and the Fisher County sheriff called in Scurry County authorities when he found the scene to be about one-half mile inside Scurry County.

Soliz was dressed in work clothing.

He left a note which requested authorities to notify his relatives of his suicide. The note also explained that he was killing himself because of worries. He mentioned, in the note, that he was worried over an accident he had had during December in Clairemont.

Apparently Soliz killed himself about 9 o'clock this morning, but was not found until about 12 o'clock. Members of the Scurry County law sheriff's department arrived at the scene about 12:35.

He died either enroute to Cogdell Memorial Hospital in a Bell ambulance, or shortly after arriving at the hospital.

He lived on a ranch near Clairemont which is believed to be owned by a Snyder man, E. E. Wallace.

His car was headed west, on the north shoulder of U. S. 180.

Benson Calls For Fast Action On Ike's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson today urged Congress to ease crop production controls and to authorize lower price supports as a means of opening new farm markets.

In a statement prepared for a Senate Agriculture Committee hearing, he asked specifically for quick action on a broad program outlined by President Eisenhower in a special message on agriculture yesterday.

The program drew heavy fire from many farm state congressmen.

As Eisenhower had done, Benson characterized major features of current farm programs as failures.

"The shortcomings of our past programs are quite clear," he said "We have tried to legislate prices artificially, without full consideration for the inevitable forces of supply and demand.

"We have tried to control production artificially, without full consideration for the efficiency and ingenuity of farmers. In other words, we have lacked realism. Our farm programs — no matter how desirable in objective — have failed to get the job done."

The result, he said, has been lost markets, accumulation of costly surpluses, ever tighter restrictions on production and an adverse effect on farm income.

Benson put great stress on administration proposals to give his department authority to set price supports for such basic crops as wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco, peanuts and dairy products as low as 60 per cent of parity. The present minimum is 75 per cent of parity.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

A number of key legislators have said that major proposal by the administration stands no chance of adoption.

Benson said existing law, permitting price supports on these crops at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, is not flexible enough.

"The present range is too narrow," he said, "to permit the expansion of markets needed to absorb the increased production which our farms will likely produce."

Such a reduction in the minimum support level should be accompanied, he said, with authority to increase by as much as 50 per cent the acreage allotments for all these major crops except corn. Elimination of allotments altogether was proposed for corn.

Applications For Soil Bank Halted

The Scurry County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office stopped taking Soil Bank acreage applications at closing time yesterday and will temporarily take only requests for future applications.

The temporary ban on applications is statewide, but it is believed here that it is only temporary until the state ASC office can check reports and see how much money is obligated for the 1958 acreage reserve. The ban came after the state office made telephone checks around the state and found there was a much larger sign-up than expected.

Some local observers say they believe there are more applications early this year because the regulations this year make it easier for farmers to make up their minds early how much cotton land they will put in the acreage reserve.

So far, there is a total of about 250 applications for participation in the 1958 acreage reserve program here.

The local ASC office is now taking requests, and they are being kept in the order in which they are made. When the money is known available, those making requests will be notified, in the order they made their requests, and can then complete applications.

County ASC offices send in written reports to the state office each Friday, and it is believed the state ASC office will know by Monday how the state stands on money allocated for the acreage reserve program. Counties are not allocated definite amounts of money in the acreage reserve program.

Little Damage In Two Fires Thursday

Firemen put out two fires here yesterday, but there was only slight damages reported.

First of the fires was a grass fire in the lawn of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Goss, 3701 Avenue V, about 3:45 o'clock. There was no damage.

The second fire occurred about 6:30 o'clock last night in the construction project at the First Baptist Church, Twenty-seventh Street and Avenue Q. A heating unit used to dry concrete turned over and exploded. Firemen said there was slight damage.

Applications May Reopen

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Agriculture Department today halted for the time being the signing of agreements with farmers to retire land from cotton growing this year under the acreage reserve part of the soil bank program.

While instructing its state and local field offices to accept no more such agreements now, the department asked these offices to keep a record of farmers still wishing to participate, in the order in which they apply. It may be possible officials said, to allow some of them to take part if enough money is available.

The suspension is effective in all cotton-growing states. It was ordered, officials said, to avoid the possibility of oversubscribing cotton's part of the half-billion-dollar acreage reserve fund. Many more farmers want to participate in the cotton retirement program than had been anticipated, officials said.

The department has allocated about 178 million dollars for cotton. This amount is now being divided among cotton-producing states. In turn, the state allocations will be divided among counties by the respective state agricultural stabilization and conservation committees.

Two Oil Firms Accused Of Ignoring Import Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—M. V. Carson Jr., administrator of the government's voluntary oil import program, said yesterday the subsidiary of a Dallas firm has landed Venezuelan crude oil at New Orleans without getting an import allocation.

Carson identified the firm as Delta Refining of Memphis, Tenn., "said to be a subsidiary of Southland Co., Dallas, Tex."

He said the press reports were that Delta was supplied the Venezuelan oil by Superior Oil Co. Carson is in charge of the program designed to reduce imports of foreign crude oil.

He said that if any such arrangement is continued the two companies will have to share responsibility for impairing the success of the program. Carson added in a statement that the action appeared to have been taken in direct violation of import procedures approved by President Eisenhower.

An Interior Department spokesman said the "Superior Oil Co." to which Carson referred was headquartered in Los Angeles. The spokesman said Delta has been bringing in foreign crude at a rate of 10,000 barrels a day.

Now on file is a request by Southland for a hearing on an application to start importing foreign crude east of the Rocky Mountains.

Superior has no import allocation for the area east of the Rockies. The Interior spokesman said, although "The Superior Oil Co., Houston, Tex.," has, like Southland, asked for a hearing on a proposal to initiate crude imports.

Superior Oil Co., Los Angeles, thus far has not replied to a Department inquiry of Dec. 24 as to whether it will comply with the control program, the spokesman said.

Carson said in his statement that "Delta Refining Co. has never made application to me" for an import allocation, and he added:

"It would be particularly unfortunate that Superior Oil Co. and Delta Refining Co. would enter into an agreement of this kind without taking cognizance of the program which was formulated after exhaustive study and represents a basic policy decision of the executive branch of the government.

"If Delta Refining Co. and Superior Oil Co. continue with such an agreement, and imported crude oil is being landed in New Orleans by Delta without a government-approved import allocation, these two companies will have to share the responsibility for an action which may tend to impair the adequacy of a program designed to enable our domestic oil industry to meet the requirements placed upon it by considerations of national security."

Ham Radio Club To Plan Classes

Classes in radio code, theory and construction of equipment will be discussed by the Snyder Amateur Radio Club in its meeting at the Jay R. Huckabee Co. offices, 2001 Twenty-fifth Street, tonight, Ed Fly, president, said.

Since the first meeting of this year held last Friday night, the club has gained six new members and has acquired a permenant meeting place which will be available soon.

The city of Snyder has provided the meeting place to be located in the city's building, now occupied by the Snyder unit of the National Guard, which will move to new quarters in the new armory building in Towle Memorial Park soon. The amateur radio club will be permitted to use a room in the old armory building because of its potential importance in Civil Defense and emergency aid needs here.

The classes could not be started until permanent meeting place had been acquired.

The room in the old armory building will be available as soon as the national guard unit can move to its new quarters, Roy Dunlap, city manager and civil defense coordinator here, said.

Fly said the classes in radio theory, code and equipment construction, improvement and maintenance will be designed to make better amateur radiomen of the club members, and will help them to qualify for Federal Communications Commission licenses.

All members of the club and anyone else who is interested in amateur radio or electronics is urged to be present at the meeting which will start at 8 o'clock tonight.

The amateur radio club members could be highly important to the entire community in case of a disaster of any type which knocked out other means of communications or power failure," Dunlap said.

Cuban Rebels Fight Battle, Then Retreat

HAVANA (AP)—Rebels reportedly led by Fidel Castro himself swept into the farm town of Veguitas yesterday, fought a bloody battle with government forces and retreated to their mountain hideouts.

It was the second bold rebel raid in three days in eastern Cuba. Castro's forces blockaded the sugar shipping city of Manzanilo, 20 miles west of Veguitas, all day Tuesday.

The rebels also have been burning sugar cane fields and farm buildings in an effort to cripple President Fulgencio Batista's economic program.

Residents of Veguitas said Castro himself led the raid there. Many rebels were reported killed and wounded and about 20 to 30 government troops were slain. The rebels reportedly held the town of 8,000 residents for two hours.

An estimated 200 rebels moved into Veguitas from the Sierra Maestra before dawn, spraying buildings with machine-gun and rifle fire. No civilian casualties were reported.

As civilians hid, the rebels killed or wounded most of the dozen army guards in the town.

When government reinforcements rushed to Veguitas from nearby Bayamo, rebels ambushed a number of armored cars at a bridge. Most of the government casualties were said to have occurred there.

Helper Hired For Electronic Brain

CHICAGO (AP)—The University of Illinois has hired an electronic helper for its electronic brain, Illiac, which can solve complex mathematical problems but isn't quite so sharp on nonscientific chores.

The university's trustees announced the new machine will be rented from the International Business Machines Corp. for an estimated $100,000 a year.

The electronic helper is designed to handle relatively simple operations like billing and payroll items, for which Illiac is not particularly suited.

Four Trapped By Cave-In

SPRING CANYON, Utah (AP)—A cave-in trapped four men in the depths of a coal mine early today, and rescuers said there was no way to tell whether they were dead or alive.

The cave-in was believed caused by an earth tremor three miles deep in the Spring Canyon Coal Co. mine. Spring Canyon is 14 miles northwest of Price in central Utah.

The men were a holdover crew from the night shift, left behind to bring a motor head out of an abandoned section of the mine.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Semken identified them as Keith Anderson, about 30, Bob William Daniels, about 50, Dean Neilson, about 27, all of Spring Canyon, and Cecelio Garcia, about 25, of Helper.

Families of the men stood vigil outside the mine as 100 rescue workers tried to get to them.

Legislator Gets Pine Seedlings

There are quite a number of East Texans who have become transplanted West Texans in the Snyder area during the past few years, but now something new has come about.

An East Texas legislator this week sent a West Texas legislator here 100 pine tree seedlings, urging him to have them transplanted here.

The pine seedlings were sent to Rep. Robert R. Patterson here by Rep. Reagan R. Huffman of Marshall.

Patterson turned the pine seedlings over to W. J. Ramsey, county park superintendent, who is already in the process of setting them out here.

Along with the seedlings, Huffman sent instructions for planting. The trees, he said, were sent on behalf of the Pine Tree Committee of the 55th Legislature and East Texas legislators.

"Please plant these seedlings or have someone to plant them for you and let's determine whether your part of the state, soil, and climate are conducive to the growing of pine trees," Huffman said, adding, "We sincerely hope that each and every one of these seedlings will grow into a magnificent pine tree so tall that it may reflect the regard that we in East Texas have for you and other legislators."

Ramsey said he has already planted about 25 of the trees and that all of them will be set out in the parks and around county buildings which have landscaping.

Since the trees were sent here as an experiment, Ramsey is experimenting with them, planting them in different kinds of soils to determine which is best for them.

The park superintendent said he believes many of the seedlings will live. They average about 15 inches in height.

Mary Castle Files

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Mary Castle, 29, who has starred in the "Stories of the Century" filmed television series, has sued her husband, William, 32, for separate maintenance. She charges grievous mental cruelty.

Hernandez Rites Today

Funeral services were to be held at 4 p.m. today for Mrs. Abela M. Hernandez, 52, who died at 9 a.m. yesterday at her home on the Lubbock highway here.

Mrs. Hernandez was born in Tom Green County Aug. 7, 1905. She had been a resident here since 1943. She was a member of the Spanish Church of Christ.

Max R. Zamorano, minister, was to officiate at services at the Spanish Church of Christ. Burial was to be in Snyder Cemetery under direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Survivors include her husband, Vadal Hernandez; two daughters, Mrs. Clara Enriquez of Haskell and Mrs. Caroline Sanchez of Snyder; one son, Salome Baladez of Snyder; two sisters, Mersilia Mijares of Mexico and Mrs. Francisca Loyola of Snyder; and one brother, Guadalupe Mijares of Mades, Colo.

SNYDER AREA CHURCH NOTES

Bus Service, New Church Officers On Sunday Slate

Installation of new church officers at one church and the beginning of a free bus service to another will be among highlights at Sunday services in Snyder area churches.

• • •

Calvary Baptist

The free bus service will be started Sunday by the Calvary Baptist Church, which will serve all parts of the city for all persons who desire to ride to the church and do not have transportation.

The bus will run from 9 to 10 a.m. each Sunday, and it will make a return trip after church services. Those desiring rides have been asked to call 3-4479 or 3-4191.

The Rev. Emmett Duckett, pastor, will speak on "The Great Mystery of Godliness" at the Sunday 11 a.m. service and "Where Is the God of Elijah" at the 7:30 p.m. service.

• • •

Hermleigh Church

"Praying for Revival" will be the subject of the Rev. L. R. Stuckey, pastor of the Central Baptist Church of Hermleigh, for the Sunday 11 a.m. service.

He will speak on "True Salvation" at the 7:30 p.m. service.

• • •

Grace Lutheran

Installation of newly-elected church councilmen will be held Sunday morning in connection with the 10:45 a.m. service at Grace Lutheran Church.

Councilmen, chosen for three years, are Henry Schwarz, Raymond Graves, who was re-elected, and Jesse Johnson. Also to be installed are new Sunday school officers and teachers. The officers are Henry Schwarz, superintendent; Mrs. L. T. Kramer, assistant superintendent; and Mrs. Henry Schwarz, secretary.

The Rev. Walter Lentz, pastor, will speak on "The Social Life of Jesus." The church meets at West Elementary School auditorium. On Saturdays at 11:45 a.m. on KSNY, Rev Lentz presents "Religion in the News."

• • •

25th Street CC

At the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ, Glen Pace, minister, will speak on "A Strange Inquest" at the Sunday 8:45 and 10:55 a.m. services.

He will speak on "So Great Salvation" at the 7 p.m. service.

• • •

Trinity Church

"A Faith That Sustains" will be the topic of the Rev. Elton Wyatt, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church, at the Sunday 10:55 a.m. service. The choir will sing "Lead Me Gently Home, Father," with Laura Arnold and Tom Burton as soloists.

The church schedule includes MYF at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, the evening service that day at 7:30, WSCS at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, choir practice at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, and the meeting of the Methodist Men at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

• • •

First Baptist

The Rev. G.M. Cole, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will speak on "What If God Had Not Pledged" at the Sunday 11 a.m. service, and the choir's special music will be "Crown Him With Many Crowns."

At the 7:30 p.m. service, the pastor's subject will be "God's Investment," and special music will be a solo by Mrs. Tom Fulton.

• • •

Presbyterian Church

At the First Presbyterian Church the Rev. R. Charles Spivey, pastor, will speak on "Until We Really Care" at the Sunday 11 a.m. service.

The Westminster Fellowship, which meets at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, will be studying the parables of Jesus. On Wednesday night, after a covered dish super from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., there will be mission study on Japan.

• • •

Episcopal Church

The Rev. Donald Hungerford, vicar at St. John's Episcopal Church will speak on "Vision and Delay" at the Sunday 11 a.m. service.

There will be Holy Communion at 7:45 a.m. Sunday at 7:30 a.m. Thursday.

37th Street CC

Dale Brooks, minister at the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ, will speak on "I Have Need of Nothing" at the Sunday 10:45 a.m. service.

At the 7 p.m. service, his subject will be "Ye Take Too Much Upon Yourself."

• • •

Green Hill Church

"The Claims of Christ" will be the subject of Dr. Ray Ellis, interterim pastor at the Green Hill Baptist Church, at the Sunday 11 a.m. service.

At the 7:30 p.m. service, he will speak on "The Churches of Revelation."

• • •

Bethel Baptist

At the Bethel Baptist Church, the Rev. W. L. Cass, pastor, will speak on "Some Biblical Imperatives" at the Sunday 11 a.m. service.

At the 7:30 p.m. service, he will speak on "Holy Things of God." The church meets at Northeast Elementary School.

Tax Study Commission In Session

By ARNO ADAMS

DALLAS (AP)—Mr. Citizen gets a chance here today to say what he thinks about digging deeper into his pocketbook to pay new state taxes.

The matter comes up at the first public hearing to be conducted by the Texas State Tax Study Commission, created by the Legislature last spring.

Sen. William Fly of Victoria is chairman of the nine-member body.

He said individuals and organizations unable to be on hand in person may submit written statements. Those who cannot be heard in Dallas will be given an opportunity to voice their views at later public sessions.

State and local taxes are expected to be high on the program for the Legislature when it convenes next January. The Commission was created only to gather facts, and is prohibited from making any specific recommendations to the Legislature. The research also includes tax policies of other states.

Fly said sessions will continue for at least two months over the state.

The TSC was created by a law recommended to the Legislature by Gov. Daniel. Since Oct. 30, the commission has been backgrounding its study.

Rep. Frates Seeligson of San Antonio is commission vice chairman and John McKee of Dallas is secretary. Other members are Sen. Ottis Lock of Lufkin, Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford, Rep. John Huebner Sr. of Bay City, Rep. Richard Slack of Pecos, Hugh Loewenstern of Amarillo and John Stockton of Austin.

Governor Operates Bulldozer In Rites

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Gov. George D. Clyde manned the bulldozer instead of the usual shovel at ground-breaking ceremonies that launched preliminary work on a freeway system here.

Clyde, who took some advance lessons in bulldozer operation just to be on the safe side, was asked to knock down the wall of a building—being torn down to make way for the freeway.

On his first try, he barely missed a parked car. But after the car was quickly moved, he performed his job with dispatch then carefully climbed down as onlookers applauded.

Appeal Made To Students

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Venezuela's new education minister has appealed to Caracas students to end their demonstrations against the regime of President Marcos Perez Jimenez.

The speech by Dr. Humberto Fernandez Moran over a nationwide radio hookup last night was taken as an indication of the government's concern over the student outbreaks.

The demonstrations have continued for four days.

(Reports in New York said the police fired on 250 students demonstrating in a Caracas schoolyard Wednesday and wounded two. The government continued its tight censorship. Communications with the outside world improved last night.)

Fernandez Moran promised high school and university students in jail—he did not say how many were there—would be released when order is restored.

The country has been in a constant state of tension since the abortive New Year's Day rebellion by disgruntled air force units.

Few Britons Are In Chips These Days

LONDON (AP)—Only 600 persons in Britain had incomes of 6,000 pounds ($16,800) or more last year after paying this country's stiff income taxes, the government reported today.

The basic income tax in Britain is 42½ per cent, and the take rises steeply along with income.

A total of 45 Britons reported gross incomes — before taxes — of 100,000 pounds ($280,000) or more during the year.

The report did not include capital gains, which are not taxed in Britain.

Cold Spot Reading Hits A Torrid 5.5

WASHINGTON (AP)—The world's coldest known spot—the American IGY station at the South Pole—has now reported a "record high temperature" for that spot.

The U. S. National Committee for the International Geophysical Year announced that on Jan. 12 a temperature of 5.5 degrees above zero was recorded by scientists there. The previous recorded high was about 5 degrees below zero.

This same station previously had reported a record low of 102.1 degrees below zero, recorded Sept. 17, 1957. This was the lowest temperature ever reported from any place in the world, IGY spokesmen said.

Lentz To Pastoral Meet, Mission School

The Rev. Walter Lentz, pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church, will attend the Northern Conference Pastoral meeting of the Texas-Louisiana Synod in Waco Monday.

He will also attend the annual Mission Pastors Retreat of the Synod at Luther Hill, near La-Grange, on Tuesday and Wednesday. He will serve as pianist for all the devotional services at the mission school.

Detroit is a city of many nationalities. Its largest foreign population is Canadian, about 65,000.

Baptists Set Dinner For Wednesday

The Rev. W.E. (Bill) Thorn, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of Lubbock, will be main speaker Wednesday evening at the loyalty dinner being held by the First Baptist Church in connection with its financial campaign.

The dinner will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the high school cafeteria. It will be one of the climaxing events leading toward subscription of the $216,000 budget for the year adopted by the church in its Forward Program of Church Finance.

A children's party will be held during the dinner at the First Baptist Church basement, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Rev. Thorn's church recently completed a financial program like the one underway in the Snyder church. In that church, tithers increased from 416 to 975, missions in the budget from nine per cent to 14 per cent. The total church budget was increased from $60,000 to $189,000. Many other churches in the South have had similar results.

The speaker will be introduced by the Rev. G. M. Cole, pastor of the church. D. D. Shelburne, general campaign chairman, will preside. Special music will be under direction of David Oglesby, music-education director for the church.

Callas Is On Way Home In Happy Mood

PARIS (AP)—Soprano Maria Callas, her famous temper held tightly in check, was flying to the United States today with nothing but smiles for her public.

The stormy prima donna will stop first in Chicago. After singing there, she will go to the Metropolitan Opera in New York.

She will be singing in the United States for the first time since she caused an uproar in Rome by walking out in the middle of Bellini's "Norma" on opening night. She said she had lost her voice, but some critics said heckling had caused her to lose her temper.

Stoping over at Paris' Orly Airport, the singer told a noisy, jampacked press conference: "I hope to sing well in America. You know I like it there. The atmosphere is warm and the climate is good."

Smiling and unperturbed, she braved a pushing, shouting crowd of photographers, publicity men and Parisian well-wishers at the airport.

"Oh, she's going to explode—she can't stand this much longer" a nervous publicity agent groaned as the singer was shoved against a wall by a radio reporter. But Callas continued to smile. "Incredible," said the publicity agent.

Spivey Speaker On Devotional Program

The Rev. R. Charles Spivey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will be speaker on the Daily Devotion program on KSNY next week.

The program, under sponsorship of the Snyder Ministerial Alliance, is held Monday through Friday at 9:15 a.m.

At Convention

The Rev. and Mrs. John Reaves of the First Christian Church are in Fort Worth this week attending the Pastor's Convention.

The event is being held on the campus of Texas Christian University.

GYPSIES

QUESTION: Where did Gypsies get their name?

• • •

ANSWER: The original Gypsies were groups of people who wandered over India about 1300 A. D. They called themselves "Romanies," but when some of them migrated to Egypt about 1400, they were called Gypsies—from the word Egypt. The name stuck, even as they spread through Europe and eventually came to the New World.

Early Gypsies were carefree people who wore bright clothes and enjoyed dancing and music. They made a living as metalworkers, blacksmiths, horse traders and fortune tellers.

In modern times, gypsy life is anything but gay. Most of the estimated one million Gypsies in the world—the majority of them in Hungary, Russia and Spain—have to beg for a living. A few small bands still roam over the United States.

• • •

State Government Problems Outlined By Sen. Ratliff

Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford described legislative procedure and outlined several problems facing the state government at a dinner meeting of the Provisional League of Women Voters last night at the Snyder Country Club.

Sen. Ratliff, who represents the 24th senatorial district, of which Scurry County is a part, called special attention to two study groups now in existence. One, the Tax Study Commission, which is holding its first hearings today in Dallas, is to make a complete analysis of the state's tax structure. Sen Ratliff is a member of that commission.

He predicted that during the present biennium the state will "go in the red" by about $75-million, unless new funds can be found, or some functions can be curtailed.

The objective of the Tax Study Commission is to gather full information on the tax load borne by various phases of the economy. Some sources probably are paying more than their proportionate share of the state's taxes now, while others are paying little, Sen. Ratliff said. However, the study commission will not make specific recommendations. Instead, it will simply gather the information and have it available for legislators at their next session.

Study also is being given to the possibility of revamping the state constitution, Sen. Ratliff said. The document has become cumbersome by reason of a multitude of amendments.

Water problems continue to plague the state, Sen. Ratliff reminded. He suggested that sectionalized interests probably present the chief stumbling block to a solution. For example, he said that water legislation which would benefit West Texas usually is opposed by South and East Texans, particularly those who live along the coastal areas, because lowland farming operations depend upon runoff from the major streams. This is particularly true in the rice-growing areas, he said.

State P-TA Changes Its Schedule

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Congress of Parents and Teachers in the future will hold conventions in the spring instead of fall, and elect officers to two-year instead of three-year terms.

Those were major policy decisions at the midwinter meeting of the board of managers which ended yesterday.

The changes will not be immediately effective. A spokesman said details remain to be worked out. Two-year elective terms will apply to district as well as state officers.

The board elected Mrs. Stanley Erskin of Midland, formerly state vice president, state chairman of budget and finance. Mrs. Will Miller of Corsicana, president of the 9th district, also was named a member of the budget and finance committee.

The PTA leaders voted to abolish the state membership chairmenship, and separate the functions of safety and civil defense.

Mrs. L. P. Shafer of Tornillo, former membership chairman, was named chairman of civil defense. Mrs. J. M. Daniel of Bryan, outgoing president of the 20th district, was named state safety chairman.

Floyd Parsons, superintendent of schools at Big Spring and state citizenship chairman, was elected to the office committee.

Mrs. S. L. Canterbury of Kilgore, 3rd district president, was elected to the board of trustees of the endowment fund.

OPEN BRIDGE TOURNAMENT SET—Some of the members of the Lucky 13 girls club of Snyder are pictured above with the three prizes to be given in the Open Bridge Tournament tomorrow at the Country Club sponsored by the club. Play will begin at 1:30 o'clock and the prizes will be awarded about 4:30 o'clock. Tickets, available from any member of the club, or at the door, 75 cents per player. In addition to the first and second prizes and a booby prize, a door prize will also be awarded. ACTION NEVER CAME SO BEAUTIFULLY PACKAGED

... or offered so many new ideas about driving pleasure! CHEVROLET has blended bold new styling with brilliant advances in riding comfort and engine performance to come up with a BEAUTIFULLY MOVING THING.

There's an unmistakable sense of action in the style of this new Chevrolet. You see it in the bold way the windshield rakes back at the corners, in the deeply sculptured gull-wing rear that looks like the very shape of motion. Even the way that trim, slim steering wheel feels in your hand tells you there's potent performance in this package!

Just twist the key. This one snaps awake and into action on a moment's notice, and puts out the kind of performance that puts pleasure into driving. V8's with up to 280 h.p. supply the action. Full Coil suspension and a new body-frame design turn that action into a smooth, sweet-handling ride. If you like Chevrolet's looks, wait till you sample its life! Your Chevrolet dealer will arrange it.

Reds Are Anxious To Compete With U. S. In Latin-America

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Communist governments are ready and eager to send know-how teams to Latin America to compete with the Americans there.

Moscow already has mounted a heavy propaganda offensive keyed to the advantages of Latin-American economic cooperation with Communist bloc nations.

Thus far the Latin Americans seem unimpressed. U.S. aid programs and technicians alike are highly popular. Local leaders would consider it disastrous if the United States cut back either on the program or the U.S. personnel engaged in technical assistance.

In more prosperous areas of Latin America, the International Cooperation Administration program, successor to Point Four, is insignificant. But where sizable programs are under way, the response is enthusiastic. Here is a rundown:

BRAZIL: The program is considered important to this growing nation's development. It is relatively modest, costing about 4½ million dollars a year. There are 135 U.S. technicians, working in agriculture, health, education, mineral development, civil aviation, railways and labor programs. Over-all administration accounts for 33.

Technical assistance is popular, except among the Communists. The program has established a business and public administration school in Sao Paulo, brought airport improvements for Rio de Janeiro, Porto Alegro and Sao Paulo and set up special schools to train Brazilians so they could pass know-how on to others.

PERU: The consensus here is that U.S. technical assistance is a boon, and highly successful.

The program is staffed by 56 North Americans and 2,600 Peruvians. Of the North Americans, only 10 per cent are in administrative jobs. As times goes by, Peruvians take on more and more executive responsibility for the program.

CHILE: The aid program has been showered with praise. Chile's projects include agricultural improvements, development of commerce, health, industrial development, scientific and economic research programs and public administration. Fifth-three Americans work with 380 Chileans. American technicians are highly popular.

MEXICO: Most of the ICA program concerns training Mexicans to do better jobs and to pass know-how on to others. It costs Uncle Sam about $700,000 a year, small in comparison with programs elsewhere. There are only 10 Americans on the permanent staff.

The Mexico program concentrates on an industrial productivity center set up with U.S. help. Visiting American experts give seminars at the center, teaching North American techniques.

PARAGUAY: The technical aid program bore much fruit in improving ancient farming methods in this small country. A relatively small ICA staff has aroused no resentment.

CUBA: There are only 17 Americans working on technical aid programs in prosperous Cuba. It costs a maximum of $570,000 annually. Americans serve only in advisory capacities in farming, education, mining, public administration and labor-training programs.

URUGUAY: There is only a small ICA staff in Uruguay. But, said a source close to the government, "the departure of U.S. aid technicians would be deplorable" because of the important assistance they give in specialized fields.

Sarah Churchill Draws $50 Fine

By HAL MCCLURE

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — Actress Sarah Churchill, head high and fighting to hold back the tears, pleaded guilty to a drunk charge, but explained: "I was more ill than drunk."

The 44-year-old actress, daughter of Britain's Sir Winston Churchill, was fined $50 yesterday in Malibu Justice Court.

Her gloved hands gripped the back of a chair as she faced Judge Charles H. Woodmansee and answered, "I plead guilty to the charge." Given permission to make a statement, she continued: "I was more ill than drunk. I was alone in the beach house where I had gone to learn my lines for a television show.

"I have been under some strain these last months. I fully realize that anyone might have misunderstood the situation.

"I deeply regret any inconvenience I may have caused. . . The pain to myself and those I love is self-evident."

Judge Woodmansee said her attitude was commendable, but added: "You are the daughter of the world's greatest living statesman, but we must place the case in its proper perspective."

He said he would treat her the same as anyone else who came before him on the same charge. He then fined her $50 or 10 days in jail.

Miss Churchill was accompanied by her attorney, personal manager, several friends and Basil Bleck, representing the British consul general in Los Angeles.

She posed willingly for photographers, but a fine film of perspiration on her forehead showed her nervousness. She refused to answer newsmen's questions after the short hearing and was whisked away in a limousine.

Miss Churchill was arrested last Monday by sheriff's deputies who went to her rented beach cottage in response to complaints that she had been using profanity over the telephone.

Deputies said they tried to calm her, but that she jumped into their car and refused to get out. She spent five hours in county jail before her release.

Friends say she has been upset over the suicide of her husband, Beauchamp, in London last August. They had been estranged.

Two Teen-Agers Die In Auto Collision

CROSS PLAINS, Tex. (AP)—Two cars loaded with teen-agers collided headon two miles north of here on a farm road last night, killing two teen-agers and injuring seven others.

Killed was Juanita Hinkle, 17, and Mary Brown, 18, both Cross Plains High School students.

The Texas Highway Patrol said six girls were in one car returning from a beauty contest at Cross Plains. The car collided with one containing 3 teenage boys.

Disgruntled Taxpayer Files Suit Over Snow

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—A self-styled "dissatisfied taxpayer," Dante A. Mollo, went before the City Council with a complaint about last week's snowstorm.

He said he left his home the morning of Jan. 10 "in the best of spirits—but within a few minutes my good spirits had changed to despair."

The street had not been plowed and it took him an hour to get out, he said.

Mollo filed a claim for $52.06—of which $2.06 was an hour's lost pay and $50 for "mental anguish."

The Council referred the matter to a committee.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

ANOTHER DISTRICT 3-AAA basketball race gets underway tonight and the two co-favorites, Sweetwater and Colorado City, lock horns in one of the openers.

Lake View goes to Lamesa for the other opener tonight. The Tigers drew a first round bye.

On the strength of their predistrict record, it looks like the Sweetwater Mustangs rank as the district favorite. The Mustangs will carry a 14-4 season record into tonight's contest with Colorado City.

The Ponies will be at home tonight and probably will get off on the right foot by defeating the Wolves. C-City, at last count, had a 13-4 record and could possibly give the Mustangs some trouble tonight.

It looks like the Tigers, Lamesa and Lake View will battle it out for the next three spots. All three were heavy hit by graduation with the Tigers, perhaps, being the hardest hit.

Both Lake View and Lamesa have returning regulars, while the Tigers have none. Lake View, in fact, has the only returning all-district player of 3-AAA in Rex Wilson.

Any one of the three could rise up and contest Sweetwater and Colorado City for the title but right now it looks like the Mustangs and Wolves have the inside track.

Bengals Could Make Strong Bid

We still think the Tigers will let their presence be known in the district race. Although shy on experience, the Tigers have been long on desire in games this season.

You might say all seven of the Tiger wins to date can be attributed to all-out hustle and sheer determination.

If they can maintain this attitude, then the Bengals could very well come up with their second straight flag.

On paper, though, the Tigers are relegated for the secon division. At least two "expert" have the Tigers tabbed for the No. 4 spot, Jimmy Browder at Abilene and Bob McCollom at San Angelo.

The Tigers and Lamesa are the only teams below the .500 mark for the season. The Bengals are 7-11 on the year while the Tornadoes have managed just five wins against 17 defeats.

Lake View is one game above the .500 mark with a 9-8 slate.

Lamesa, despite its unimpressive record, could very well be the "Darkhorse." Kenneth Barr, who has missed most of the season with an injury, returned to action this week and he led the Tornadoes to a victory over Kermit, a team the Tigers lost to earlier in the season and whom the Bengals will meet tomorrow night at Kermit in their final pre-district warmup.

The Tornadoes have built up quite a reputation in past years as slow starters but strong finishers.

Close Race Seen

The 3-AAA cage race shapes up so close that at least one writer in our district refuses to predict the outcome.

Maybe we'd be better off if we did likewise but we've been wrong before and guess it wouldn't hurt to miss one more.

Without further "hullabaloo" here is the way we see the outcome of the 3-AAA cage chase:

1. Sweetwater; 2. Colorado City; 3. Snyder; 4. Lamesa; 5. Lake View.

We hope we're wrong here, of course, as we'd like to see the Tigers win'em all, as they did last season in district play.

Someone gave Lamesa sports scribe Jim O'Brien a "bum" steer on the Tiger-Seminole game here Tuesday night. O'Brien wrote that Seminole used her reserves through most of the second half.

The fact is that Seminole used its first string throughout the third quarter when the Tigers outscored the Indians, 20-5, to erase a 28-23 Seminole halftime lead.

Naturally, with the regulars not doing so well, Seminole coach Metz LaFollette pulled his regulars at the start of the final period with the Tigers in front by ten, 43-33.

But the starters returned shortly and finished out the game. None of the Seminole subs were in the game long enough in the second half to score.

OUTSTANDING TIGER—Bud Morgan, center, last night was named as the "Outstanding Tiger" footballer for the 1957 season at the annual Quarterback Club football banquet. Bill Meek, left, SMU head coach and the principal speaker at the banquet, looks on as Carl Herod makes the presentation. Morgan's name was engraved on the trophy shown which Herod donated to Snyder High School. (Lee Watson photograph)

Morgan 'Outstanding Tiger'

Bud Morgan, halfback for the Snyder Tigers, last night was named the "Outstanding Tiger" for the 1957 season at the annual Quarterback Club football banquet honoring all local football teams.

Morgan is the first back to receive the honor since 1948 when another halfback, Donald Mack Jones, won the award. All-State end Melton Ham was the award winner last year.

Morgan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morgan.

Carl Herod, local businessman and fan, made the presentation. Herod presented Morgan with an engraved name plate to be placed on the trophy presented to Snyder High School by Herod last year.

It was the 10th award made by Herod but until last year a trophy had been presented to the winner. The Texas Interscholastic League, however, frowned on the trophy award so Herod presented a trophy to the school last year instead of the boy.

The name of the award winner from now on will be engraved on the trophy.

Bill Meek, head football coach at SMU, addressed the estimated 350 players and guests and gave some good advise to the young gridders.

"No matter what talent you have always do your best," Meek said. "It's not just the best team you're proud of but it's the one that did their best," Meek pointed out.

"The score doesn't mean a thing it's what you get out of the game that's most important.

"Just do the best of your ability. If the third team is the best you can do, then be the best third teamer on the squad. If making a "C" is the best you can do in school, then make C's.

Meek urged all the Tiger footballers to make plans to attend college.

"Life gets mighty bumpy if you are not prepared," Meek said. Get your education first and then work.

"You can always work but can not always go to school.

Meek had a lot of praise for boys playing football. "It's the only sport," the SMU coach said.

"Although I played all sports, football, basketball, baseball and track when I was in high school," I think football is tops.

"You have to love football to play it," Meek continued. You can play basketball and not like it; you can play baseball and not like it; and you can run a good race and not like it.

"But you can't play football and not love it," Meek added. I guess it's the very nature of the game, body contact and all, but you've got to love football to play, and you've got to sacrifice to play."

In another special ceremony, Wayland Holt, master of ceremonies, presented checks to all local coaches on behalf of the Snyder Quarterback Club.

F. G. Hoefer, QB Club president, addressed the group briefly, praising all local footballers for their fine play during the season, from the 7th grade on up to the 20 graduating seniors who played their last high school game.

The program was climaxed by the showing of the SMU-Arkansas game film of last fall, won by SMU, 27-20.

SMU, Ags Clash; Texas Upsets TCU

By The Associated Press

SMU tries Texas A&M at College Station Friday in a key Southwest Conference basketball game.

The Mustangs are 3-1 in conference play and A&M is 2-2. SMU trails Arkansas, 4-0, while the Aggies are tied with Texas Tech and Rice at 2-2.

Texas jumped into third with a 3-2 record Thursday by walloping TCU 73-69 at Austin. TCU won the preseason tournament and for a time was considered the favorite for the title.

The loss left the tall Frogs with a 2-3 mark. Baylor is last without a conference victory.

A&M will lack the services of 6-8 sophomore Wayne Lawrence, who has a sprained ankle. He was used sparingly against SMU in the preseason tournament when the Mustangs beat the Aggies 59-49. Lawrence is the top Aggie scorer, however.

Texas used a zone defense and ball stealing tactics to overcome TCU's height advantage.

The Longhorns jumped off to a 9-1 lead and were never headed. Kenneth Brunson's long field goals helped the Frogs to close the margin to only two points on six occasions.

Ronnie Stevenson of TCU was held to only four field goals while 6-10 H. E. Kirchner was shut out. Brunson, Kenneth King and Roy Davis got 17, 15 and 9 points, respectively, for TCU. Stevenson boosted his total to 15 from the foul line.

Jay Arnette, Brenton Hughes and John Shaffer scored 18, 21 and 15 points, respectively, and helped the Longhorns out-rebound the Frogs.

Dick Hoehn, Dartmouth college tennis and squash player, lost only one tennis match as a 1956 freshman.

Dayton Trips Oklahoma City For 12th Win

By DON WEISS

Fast or slow, power or finesse, Tom Blackburn's University of Dayton basketball teams have that winning touch.

Blackburn, the silver-haired strategist whose teams rolled up a 217-83 record over the last decade, was handed a squad this year short on capable big men but long on speed and adaptability.

It has meant a different style of play, but the Flyers are winning just the same.

Dayton's record was boosted to 12-2 last night with a 75-60 victory over Oklahoma City. The Flyers, after playing possession-type basketball most of the season, did it with a fast break this week.

Blackburn junked ball control after seven minutes of play and the teams tied 12-12. The result was a spurt that whipped the Flyers into a 45-21 halftime lead. The closest Oklahoma City, led by 6-10 Hub Reed's 35 points, got after that was 12 points in the closing minutes.

Joe Hobbs set a University of Florida scoring record with 38 points in a 75-70 victory over Miami (Fla.), and Texas, after winning only one previous game, upset Texas Christian 73-69 in the Southwest Conference in other features of a slim program.

Brenton Hughes had 21 for Texas, which used a zone defense to overcome TCU's advantage in height.

Dave Hollingsworth's jump shot with five seconds left enabled Davidson to nip Furman 72-70 in a Southern Conference thriller while in the same league, freshmen Bob Ayersman and Chris Smith led Virginia Tech to a 96-60 rout of Washington and Lee. Ayersman had 29 points and Smith 20.

A&M Starts Anew On Coach Hunt

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—The Texas A&M Faculty Athletic Council, now charged with the preliminary selection of a new coach, met for two hours yesterday but didn't release any names.

Chairman Chris Groneman said the council looked over its list of likely candidates and had received several new applications. He declined to release any names.

Groneman said yesterday until his group has a chance to revamp the riddled list of possible candidates, there will be no steps taken toward interviews.

A&M's efforts to hire a new head coach and athletic director to replace Paul Bryant have not only failed so far, but have caused a break in ranks of former Aggies. W. T. Doherty of Houston, chairman of the college board of directors, abolished the board's athletic committee Wednesday.

Prospective candidates and alumni have charged that one of the reasons the search has ended in a fiasco has been because both the board's athletic committee and the Faculty Athletic Council have been screening candidates.

Currently mentioned as candidates for the Aggie job are Jim Owens of Washington; Bill Yeoman, an assistant at Michigan State, and Siki Sikes of East Texas State.

The latest coach to turn down the job was Eddie Erdelatz of Navy.

Groneman said yesterday "We are going to have to start all over again. The lists we had have all been riddled. We will first prepare a list of all likely candidates and then narrow down the field."

Canyon Reef Quint To Meet Jayton

Canyon Reef Sports Center's basketball team will meet Jayton tonight at Hermleigh Gym, starting at 8.

Canyon Reef is one of four teams in the City Basketball league whose season opens next Monday. The Sports Center five will scrimmage Brooks Oil tomorrow night at Hermleigh.

A change has been made in the City League schedule. All games originally slated for Wednesday night will be played on Thursday night's, according to league president Howard Jones.

Tiger 5 To Kermit Tomorrow Night

The Tiger basketeers journey to Kermit tomorrow night to close out their pre-district schedule for the season.

In an earlier meeting, the Tigers blew a half-time lead to lose to the Yellow Jackets, 48-44.

The Tigers will carry a 7-11 record into the Kermit contest.

Tomorrow's game will be preceded by a "B" game at 6 p.m. between the two schools. The varsity tilt is scheduled to start at 7:30.

After tomorrow's game, the Tigers will have only district games left on their schedule. The Black and Golders will host Lamesa next Tuesday in their opening game of the District 3-AAA race.

Loop play opens tonight with Colorado City at Lamesa and Lake View at Lamesa.

Gary Vice continues to lead the Tigers in scoring with 229 points. Bill Phillips and Leon Reed are tied for second with 136 apiece. Rounding out the top five are Israel Hinojos with 134 and John Ward with 103.
