County Pays Tribute to Pink Sullivan Friday

Friends from every walk of life gathered Friday morning, August 8, to pay final tribute to Pink Sullivan, a leader in almost every phase of Wellington's growth for more than 40 years.

The services were held at the First Methodist Church, which was filled to capacity. The Rev. J. F. Michael, pastor, officiated, assisted by Rev. Hubert Thomas, a former pastor now at Amarillo.

Mr. Sullivan died Wednesday at noon after an illness of five days. He suffered from a heart ailment, however, since 1943.

Pall bearers for the service were J. N. Glasgow, Earl Clark, Barney Glenn, Jack Brisbin, John Robert Henard Jr., William Barjenbruch, Bobo Castleberry, and Lowell Wells.

Flower bearers were Priscilla Chase, Dorothy Robertson, Bonnie Willis, Dora E. McClaskey, Mrs. oJhn Ritter, Mrs. Walter Winter, Mrs. Orland Butler and Mrs. Jim Leach.

Burial was in the Wellington cemetery under the direction of the Ellis Funeral Home.

James Pinkney Sullivan was born August 10, 1889, in Lafayette County, Mississippi, the son of Tom and Mattie Sullivan. When he was three years old, the family moved to Texas, settling near Chico. He lived on a farm until he was 21 years of age, then came to Wellington in 1910, riding the first passenger train to reach the city. He came to work for his uncle, the late L. T. Sullivan, who that year had been elected sheriff of Collingsworth County.

The following year, he went to work for the Ed Blain Hardware, and later, when it was sold, he was employed by the Hamilton Hardware. In 1917, he bought an interest in the Pioneer Hardware with the late F. H. Royal and the late D. D. McDowell. This partnership continued until 1934, when Mr. McDowell retired from the business. It was divided at that time and Mr. Sullivan set up the Sullivan Hardware and Implement Company, while the Royal Brothers kept the other part of the business.

Of the many enterprises in which he engaged outside his business, it was his work for the city of Wellington that meant the most to Mr. Sullivan. He served as a city official longer than any other one man in Wellington has served, first as an alderman from 1926 to 1936, then as Mayor from 1939 to 1947.

As early as 1922 he was called in to advise the city on business matters, and he helped in other capacities before he was elected alderman. When he became mayor, construction of Wellington's fine community building was about to begin, and he played a major part in this building program. He remained as mayor throughout World War II, in spite of heavy responsibilities of his own business and the fact that he already knew his health was failing. Toward the end of his administration he helped formulate the city's post-war improvement program that has been carried out to include the construction of Marian Airpark, street, light, water and cemetery improvement.

During his eight years as mayor, Mr. Sullivan never kept a penny of the salary paid him. Each month, his check was turned over to some group, one or another

Rodeo, Old Settlers Reunion End Week of Entertainment

Wellington continued its celebrating this week with the Rodeo scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday nights, August 13 and 14, and the Old Settlers Reunion Friday, August 15.

These three events started off by Wellington's big parade at 4:00 p. m. Wednesday afternoon, one of the best the city has witnessed in many years.

Plans for the Old Settlers reunion are nearing completion, according to Miss Katherine Boverie. This year's reunion will be held at Ellison Park, on East Avenue, a block south of 15th Street. Shade is being put up, in addition to that provided by the many trees in the park.

Pioneers and their families will register at the park, although those wishing to register ahead of time may do so at the county library.

The day will be given over to visiting and reminiscing, with a basket dinner spread at noon. Those attending from the county are urged to bring well-filled baskets, enough for themselves and the out of county visitors.

On the whole, the reunion will be carried out along the same lines as those that are traditional to the old settlers.

In charge of plans this year are Ben Brewer, Tom Sommerville and Bob Bowen.

The number of entries in the Wellington Rodeo gave promise of being the largest in several years, according to Cameron Beam, president of the Wellington Rodeo Association. At noon Wednesday, contestants had already registered from throughout this area, southwest Oklahoma and eastern New Mexico.

The first rope will be thrown at 8:00 p. m., opening the rodeo that is known throughout this area as "not the biggest but the fastest rodeo in the Panhandle."

Stock is being furnished by Johnny Gilfurst of Apache, Oklahoma, and it is still wild and frisky, and allergic to rope and rider. Gilfurst has provided the stock for some of the better rodeos this season.

Three clowns will be on hand to entertain the crowd, each of them an expert at drawing laughs, Mr. Beam declared.

Rodeo Association committees have included Cameron Beam and Fleet Pruden, in carge of advertising and flags; Ed Smith, securing stock; Leon Roberts, ground man, while the other members have worked in various capacities and including John Holton, Bill Towns, Guy Bell, Paul Ball, and Ben Hurst. Three non members have been instrumental in getting the rodeo arena ready, Denny Judd, Alvin Horton and Ernest Harwell.

Joining with the Rodeo Association in the event is the Wellington Chamber of commerce, which has been in charge of advertising and promotion, with all work headed by Clark Anderson, president.

Caravans advertising the rodeo were sent out under the direction

Cotton Loan Rate For Collingsworth County Set

The 1952 cotton loan and purchase rate for Collingsworth county has been established at 31.78 cents per pound for middling white and extra-white 15-16 inch staple stored in an approved warehouse. Other grades and staple lengths shall be determined by adding or subtracting the premium or discount for the applicable grade and staple.

Loans may be made on farm stored cotton if the structure in which the cotton is stored meets the eligibility requirements. Rates on farm-stored cotton have not been furnished the county office at this date, but is expected in the near future.

Loans can be made through all approved local lending agencies as in the past, or direct loans from CCC may be obtained through the county PMA office.

Under the 1952 cotton price support program, purchase agreements can be executed by producers who do not wish to obtain a loan on the cotton. By executing a purchase agreement the farmer is guaranteed the support price for his cotton, provided he delivers the cotton to CCC at the end of the loan program.

The 1952 loan program provides for all loan documents to be retained in the county where the lending agency or the county PMA loan was executed, either at the office.

This procedure will expedite the handling of the equity transfer or redemption of loans. Further details of the cotton loan program can be had by contacting the PMA office.

Urge All County Residents Over 15 Take Chest X-Ray

The mobile chest x-ray unit will be in Wellington this Saturday, August 16 and will take x-rays on that day and also on August 18, 19, and 20th. This will enable everyone over the age of 15 years to get their chest x-rayed.

It will be located at Stevenson Implement Co. and the hours will be from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. on Saturday so farmers and other people who are working late will have a chance to get their x-ray. The hours on the other three days will be from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

CHECK GENERATOR LOCATIONS

Dr. Irving P. Krick, of the Water Resources Development Corporation, and Monty Mitchell, of the T-O Moisture Ass'n, look over the operation map showing the location of all the corporation's rain increasing project and silver iodide generators. A meeting in connection with the location of the generators in this area will be held at Samnorwood Friday night.

Members of the committee would also like to point out again that the chest x-rays are free, but they are not charity. They are paid for by the tax payers money and everyone should take this opportunity to get the benefit of the x-rays.

The individual does not undress and only two minutes of his time is required.

Children under 15 are not included in the program because few below that age contract tuberculosis unless it is present in older member of the family.

A person may appear healthy, yet have turberculosis in an early and curable stage, and this can be detected by the free chest x-rays.

The x-ray will also detect a number of other chest ailments which should have medical attention.

The information revealed by the x-ray is confidential, but the results of those whose x-rays appear positive is sent to the individuais fafily physician. Anything further is up to the individual.

Free Mail Delivery Begins In Wellington September 2

City mail delivery will start in Wellington Tuesday, September 2, R. F. Curry, postmaster announced early this week, with the arrival of the last of the equipment needed to institute this new service for Wellington.

The project has been pending since May, 1951.

One full-time mail carrier and one auxiliary or part time carrier will be added to the staff of the Post Office personnel, Mr. Curry said. These men have not been apointed as yet, although several applicants took the examination some months ago.

Roughly, the free delivery service will be made in an area from Dallas Street west to Floydada Street, and from 7th to 15th Street. There will be several blocks of delivery area ranging off this main section.

The drive for free city mail delivery was begun by the Wellington Chamber of Commerce in May of 1951, with the co-operation of the local Post Office.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars joined the movement and took over the project of selling and installing mail boxes in the delivery area.

This, with the completion of sidewalk over several skips, enabled Mr. Curry to make application for delivery service.

Assurance came several months ago that the city would receive this service, and the arrival of equipment to institute delivery has held up starting the project.

The Fair Store

Introducing the Fair Store, A Family Business

One of Wellington's family owned and operated stores is The Fair Store which for the past 12 years has been a vital part of the business life of Wellington.

Four brothers and sisters are the owners, George Shadid, John Shadid, Miss Marie Shadid and Miss Rose Shadid. John Shadid, since he was released from service in the Air Force following World War II, has been in charge of the store at Memphis, also a family owned institution.

Merchandising is second nature to this family, for they grew up in stores owned by their father, the late N. Shadid, first at Brinkman, Oklahoma, and later at Mangum.

Their parents, who came to the United States from Lebanon, were among the early settlers of Greer County, and farmed first 10 miles north of Mangum, later moving to that city.

Each of the children was educated at Mangum. George later attended Hill's Business University at Oklahoma City and Oklahoma A&M College at Stillwater, and his brother attended Oklahoma University.

In 1940, the family moved to Wellington to establish the Fair Store. Like most of the other businesses here that have grown to importance, the store was started in a small way, the owners wishing to determine definitely the needs of the town, its potentialities, and the preferences of their customers before they began expansion of their stock. This has been steady, continued growth, until now they offer one of the most complete stocks of ready-to-wear for the entire family to be found in the area.

"We have concentrated on offering you standard lines of merchandise, the brands you see advertised in the better magazines every issue. That is why you'll find the same goods — coats, suits, dresses or hats, in The Fair Store that you'll find in any city in the United States," George Shadid declared.

The store is still in its original location, on the west side of the square.

Regular trips to the big merchandise markets of the southwest enables the owners to outfit their customers with clothing styles as soon as they are released by the designers.

The family has been active in civic affairs since moving to Wellington. George is a member of the Wellington Kiwanis Club and the Chamber of Commerce, has served on various committees for these, and has taken part in various drives put on in the city. Rose and Marie Shadid are members of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

The family is members of the Greek Orthdox Church, whose members are administered to by the Episcopal Church in areas where the former has no organization.

Mourning Dove Season Set

AUSTIN, The Executive Secretary of the Texas Game & Fish Commission has been notified of U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service approval of recommended mourning dove hunting regulations for Texas.

He also was advised by telegram that the fall waterfowl regulations for Texas will be approved probably on August 8.

The Federal agency has final authority over dove and watefowl regulations since doves, ducks and geese are migratory.

It approved a 40-day season for South Texas beginning October 1. Shooting will be restricted to afternoons, beginning at 12 o'clock noon and ending at sunset. The limits are ten birds per day and ten in possession.

The Washington agency also approved the whitewing season, recommended by the Commission, for September 12, 14 and 16, shooting to begin at 4 p. m. and to last until sunset. The limit is the same as mourning doves.

Both mourning dove and whitewing dove regulations are identical with 1951 except that the South Zone mourning dove opening date was changed from November 15 to October 1 and the whitewing dates were altered to provide for a wekend hunting period beginning on a Friday and extending through a Tuesday.

The Executive Secretary said all indications were that the waterfowl regulations will be announced much earlier than last year. He has been designated to attend a National Flyway Conference on August 5 which will have a part in final decisions.

The Game & Fish Commission has recommended Texas be zoned for waterfowl, with a proposed north zone season beginning October 31 and a proposed south zone season beginning November 21. On the theory that a longer season than the 50-day 1951 season may be allowed if the zoning request fails, the Commission asked that statewide waterfowl hunting begin October 31.

Texas had a 50-day waterfowl season last year, beginning Nov-28.

Give Children Physical Checkup Before School

AUSTIN—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges the parents of all children who will respond to the school bell for the first time in September to be sure the child is physically ready for school duties.

"First and foremost is the need for vaccination against smallpox. Parents should see that children are vaccinated before they are one year of age; however if not done previously, at school age vaccination becomes absolutely necessary," Dr. Cox said. "If your child has not been vaccinated have it done immediately for his own protection and that of others."

Immunization against diptheria is also highly important, Dr. Cox declares. This which causes serious illness and deaths among young children can be prevented with toxoid. The child who has never been protected should be given this safeguard against a dreaded killing disease. Even though he may have been immunized as a baby, doctors and health officers usually recommend an additional dose of toxoid to strengthen immunity before entrance into school.

"In addition, before you send your child to school you are urged to take him to your family physician and dentist for a through examination," Dr. Cox adds. "You will want to konw that he is in good physical condition and can compete with the other children on equals terms. If the check-up reveals any weakness or defects they should be corrected at once. Don't let your child start his school life with any avoidable handicap."

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

For once I am at a loss for words to say about the departure of one of our leading citiens. I never thought of Pink Sullivan as a brother-in-law. From the time I was in grade school until the day he died, I simply thought of him as my best friend, and I guess I loved him far better than most men love their own blood brothers. I will say this in the midst of sadness. Pink Sullivan was a big man —big in body, big in heart, big in foresight and big in the richness of his soul. His counsel, advice and understanding will be missed by many for years to come.

It is an ill wind that blows nobody good. Some of the alfalfa growers are producing record breaking yields of alfalfa seed. Some yields as high as 300 to 350 pounds an acre have been reported and the price is from 40 to 50c a pound.

Some of our cotton is about dead and no amount of moisture could help it too much, other is marginal and some is in excellent shape and loaded to the fullest. Due to our acreage, enough rain could make us a tremendous crop: but it is all in the question stage right now.

Congratulations to everybody who worked to make the reunion of the ex-students of Wellington High School such an outstanding success. It was bigger this year than last and the dance by Harry James orchestry was a fitting climax with over 1,100 people in attendance. Mr. James is a fine man. He stayed at the Hotel Wellington that Mrs. Hollingsworth and I have cleaned up somewhat and are now operating.

The big parade, the rodeo and the old settlers reunion are scheduled for this week. The parade will be over by the time you read this, but the rodeo will be on Thursday night and the old settlers will meet Friday.

I am one of twenty five weekly editors who have been invited to take a five weeks cruise aboard the carrier "Midway." I intend to go if I can get all of my shots for typhoid, tetanus, typhus and cholera and can get my passport and visas authorized in time. Right at this time I do not know whether I will make the deadline or not on all the requirements. If I do, we will visit Scotland, Norway and ride the "Midway" as observers as the giant carrier takes part in maneuvers of the NATO.

The trip is similar to the one Bill Hughes took this summer: but I am having to go through with a lot more paper work. Bill was never out of the territoral waters of the United States and he did not have to take all these shots not get so much clearance.

This is going to force me to miss the state meeting of the Democratic Party in Amarillo, although I am a delegate. I intend to give my proxy to Mrs. Darvin Nix if she can go; for she is the vice-chairman of delegates.

Bobby McCutchen has started operating the shoe shop that his father operated in Wellington. Bobby had worked in the shop for a number of years under the direction of his father and figures that he can make a success of the business. The shop is located on the west side of the street about half a block north of United Super Mrket.

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our deep appreciation for the many kindnesses shown us since Hugh Painter was injured. The flowers and cards and words of encouragement have meant a great deal, and the neighborliness and friendship of those living near us could have been shown in no better way than in plowing our fields for us.

We are grateful to each of you.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Painter. 7-1p

Keep costs down, performance up, with a Dodge

- Haul at lower cost with a Dodge truck—½- through 4-ton—that's "Job-Rated" to fit your job.
- Boost gasoline mileage with features like high-compression ratio and special gas-saving carburetor.
- Reduce upkeep with such wear-saving features as floating oil intake and positive-pressure lubrication.
- Enjoy super-smooth performance with gyrol Fluid Drive, wear-protecting advantage available on all ½-, ¾-, 1-ton and Route-Van models.
- Come in for a demonstration—and a good deal!

"My Dodge trucks save a lot of money on gas!" says H. A. ROBINSON, Contract Hauler, Mobile, Ala.

"On a 200-mile run I save 1½ to 2 gallons of gas. I get this saving seven days a week, and on my two trucks that means I save over $300.00 a year on gas alone. That's good, because each of my trucks makes an average of 50 stops per day hauling mail.

"My first Dodge truck cost me only $54.00 of repair expense in two years. I ran my second Dodge over 103,000 miles in two years and spent only $15.50 on it for repairs.

"If I'd known what I know now about Dodge trucks, I'd have switched to them long ago and saved myself a lot of money."

Save on gas and oil. All 8 Dodge truck engines give exceptional economy with plenty of power. You get advantages like lightweight aluminum pistons, improved fuel system with economy control, precision-balanced crankshaft, and other money-saving features.

Save on maintenance. Rugged engines and chassis make Dodge trucks famous for dependability. Upkeep costs stay low because of special Dodge features like 4-ring pistons, chrome-plated top ring, and wear-resisting exhaust valve seat inserts.

Save with long life. Because Dodge trucks last so long, depreciation is less and trade-in value stays up. Long life and dependability are result of such features as alloy steel springs, shot-peened axle shafts, and extra-sturdy frames.

An X-Ray Test May Save Your Life

Tuberculosis chest X-ray tests have already enabled over 15 people in Collingsworth County to discover that they had the disease and gave them an opportunity to do something about it while there was still time.

It takes only 2 minutes of your time, you don't have to undress and all information is kept confidential.

To many people who think they might have it are afraid to discover the truth. Nothing could be more dangerous. If you are sick, you need to know about it and do something about it. Think of the security you'd have in knowing that you are well and healthy.

Peace of mind that you will enjoy will be well worth the time of the X-ray.

T. B. is a disease that you may have a long time before you develop any of the symtoms, but the tubercle bacillus is doing its damage to your body just the same.

The majority of people sametime in their life contact this dreaded germ, but if a person is eating the proper diet sleeping and resting enough they are able to fight off this germ.

However, many people don't realize that they are run down and are likely victims.

One hundred and ninety deaths due to Tuberculosis were reported to The Texas State Dept. of Health in 1951. Be safe. Have your chest X-rayed.

Car Check-Up

"A news item from the Department of Public Safety states that 13 per cent of last year's traffic accidents in Texas were the results of mechanical failures in automobiles.

"Since the percentage applies to both fatal and non-fatal accidents, one may assume that some 300 lives were lost in the state because of mechanical failures alone.

"This is not to minimize the need for careful driving for the driver falures were the cause of 85 per cent of accidents last year, but merely to call your attention to the fact that your chances of survival during the coming year are increased considerably if your automobile is inspected and its defects corrected.

"And it's not just the old cars that are mechanically defective. In any year about 35 per cent of the accidents involve cars not more than 1 year old. By adding cars 2 and 3 years old, the percentage builds up to about 50 per cent.

"On top of these figures, a poll conducted by International Association of Chief of Police shows that 30 to 35 per cent of the cars in Texas have mechanical defects that could cause accidents and deaths.

"As of today, you have just a little over one month to have your automobile inspected. Sept. 6 is the deadline, and persons driving autos without the inspection sticker on Sept. 7 are subject to being fined.

"You will recall that this deadline was postponed once in order to give inspection stations a chance to take care of every one. The Department of Public Safety says that no excuses will be accaptable on Sept. 7 when peace officers start arresting drivers of vehicles which have not complied with the inspection law."—Clay County Leader.

Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's notes The Buck Creek Philosopher on his noJshon grass farm on Buck Creek has fallen victim of the summer craze, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editar:

I was out here the other night looking for flying saucers, there's one thing I've noticed about the things, there are more of em in the summer time when it's convenient to be outside sittin in your yard lookin skyward, I guess for the same reason there are more sick people in hospitals than hotels. Also, more people see em over Washington than anywhere else, on account of a guilt complex, I suppose.

I'd been looking for some time but hadn't seen anything worth more than a paragraph or two in a newspaper when my wife spoke up and said she wanted the front gate fixed along with the leakin sink, the hole in the roof, the floor on the back porch, the wall paper in the livin room, the steps to the front porch, the screen door to the kitchen, the window panes on the north side of the house, the stuck door in the hall, and a few other things which traile off in a flow of words like the tail streak of a comet.

I do not like to have my scientific studies interrupted by such matters, but I took my eyes off the sky, left the saucers to the Associated Press, and explained to her it is not sound business to undertake any modernization, improvement or financial venture until after the election.

Naturally things are in a state of Flux and uncertainty, awainin the outcome of the election in November, and it don't behoove nobody to take any important steps until the economic roads for the next four years are well defined. Big business follows this pattern frequently. Personally, I do not intend to fix my saggin gate after the election either, or the sink or the back porch or the roof or anything else anybody can think of, but if you can't use an election to postpone naggin on the topics, you ain't usin your head.

If you want to know what I think of flyin saucers, they're as real as political promises and about as hard to put your finger on after they flash by.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

We Hold Wealth Subject to God's Will

On a smaller scale and in a more primitive way, the Israelites of old were confronted with all the problems of character and conduct and their effect upon relationships in society, that vex and erplex the more highly organized nations of today. It is this that makes ancient wisdom of so much value for modern life.

Next to the problem of the abolition of war and the establishment of peace, and by no means unassociated with that deeper problem, are the problems of labor—keeping people working under fair conditions and with good living standards—and of wealth—keeping the power of great wealth under control in relation to the rights and interests of all.

So many problems in these spheres remain unsolved that we are apt to fail to realize the great progress, both in relation to labor and wealth, that has been made within the memory of many now living.

It is not so long since labor was regarded as a "commodity" to be bought, like any other commodity, in the cheapest market, under a competition for jobs that in times of unemployment was bitterly keen.

Then came the recognition that labor was human, of blood, flesh and spirit, with families housed in homes — or hovels — and the demand for a "living wage" became so insistent that by now reference to a standard of living is a stressed factor in wage negotiations and contracts.

Similar progress has been made in enforcing recognition of the relationships and responsibilities of wealth. In the days when labor was a "commodity," wealth was largely immune from government control and any sence of responsibility. The prevalent conception was that a man's wealth was his own to do with as he pleased.

From a Christian standpoint the obligations of wealth are more simple and direct. What a Christian has is not his own, but is held in stewardship subject to the will of God. That is the ideal set forth in the New Testament, and the truer the Christian the more nearly he will attain it in the practical use of what he possesses.

News of Men in Service

Following is part of a letter from Ensign Edmond Schaded, now on duty with the Navy in the Far East, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Enis Schaded. He tells of an inspection trip made by his ship up the coast of Korea.

Pusan, Korea

Dear Folks,

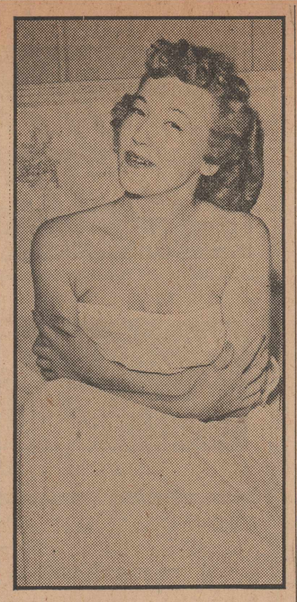

Don't let the word "Korea" frighten you; for it's as peaceful and calm here in Pusam as in San Francisco. We arrived here this morning around 9:00, having left Saesbo yesterday evening at 5:00. It took 15 hours for the trip across the chanel. Our best speed is only 12 miles an hour; and we normally cruise around 10.5 or 11 miles per hour. So you can see we don't expect to be in a hurry to get any place. Most ships go around 15 miles per hour. Ships of our type are slower and hence we have to allow for that in operating schedules.

Pusan isn't very large, but it is quite a busy port. The harbor isn't as large as Sasebo, and the hillsides surrounding are defintely not as pretty as Japan. There just doesn't seem to be the freshness and beauty here as in Japan.

Have seen several LST's coming and going in and out of the harbor already, carrying South Korean soldiers on the main deck. However, the ships have been loaned or leased to this country, so actually Naval personnel do not operate them. They are merelly being used by South Korea for transportation purpose. There are other ships here in the bay, not all of them Navy ships, and not all of them as clean there is usual a large number of and neat as ours. And of course small fishing boats and vessels all over the place, looking as though they will fall apart at any minute. But the people in them go putt-putting on by and pay us no heed; so they evidently are well satisfied.

As we were leaving Sasebo harbor last evening, I noticed a Navy ship to our right with the number 70 on her, a small ship similar to a destroyer. She was just coming into the harbor. I immediately remembered that someone I knew was on the Frigate PF 70; so I went to my room and got my address book and found that it was the boy with whom I rode from Newport to New York after OCS was over. Naturally. we couldn't shout hello across 8 or 4 hundred yards of water; but I got our signalman to send a message by flashing searchlight to Norm Schwartz saying "Ensign Schwartz Schaded says hello." The signalman on his ship asknowledged receipt of the message, and they delivered it immediately to him. I know he was surprised to get it. Funny part was that I received a letter from him last Monday, telling me they came in and out of Sasebo every so often.

We have our network of radio circuts which they use to contact other ships and naval bases either by voice or Morse code; but they are restricted to official messages of the ship only and most of the time they are coded in the secret form which the Navy uses. Therefore we can't use that only in cases of urgency or emergency for our own messages. However, when ships are within a farily short distance of one another, instead of radio we use Morse Code by flashing searchlight, or we can use morse code by signal flags. That normally is the way messages are sent back and forth wfth ships in the harbor and with the offices at the Naval base by searchilght or flags. Anyway, whenever I want to send a message to someone in a ship nearby, I can always get our signalman to do it either with the flags or searchlight. Actually, I could sit and talk with someone all day by that method.

BRRR—IT'S NICE—If you're interested in cool sleeping in hot weather, Betty Cox passes on her recipe. The blue-eyed blonde television actress puts sheets in the refrigerator before she leaves her New York apartment in the morning. Result: Cool sleeping on hottest night.

We didn't arrive in time for Mass on the base here in Pusan this morning, but there is a late Mass at 4:15 this afternoon. Four of us are going in this afternoon to look around the town, so I'll have an opportunity to go to Church. So far my church lift has been well taken care of. And in the event we need a doctor, the Commodore has a doctor on his staff here aboard with us. So we are well taken care of spiritually and physically.

Lord Jim Says--

By Bill Hughes

I get all mixed up trying to figure how people figure. The other day Hiram was talking about a case where a woman getting off a bus someplace for one reason or another fell and broke her leg. That was all. There were on claims of permanent damage.

There was a damage suit, of course. The leg, however, mended and the woman went back to work. Yet a jury of men and women true awarded the woman $84,000.-00, so the article said.

Naturally, the Insurance Company appealed the case. What the final result was I don't know. But what mixes me up is the idea of justice of that jury, the thinking and figuring of the individuals on that jury.

To be sure Insurance Companys have money but not that kind of money. At that rate how long would any of them last? If every similar case paid off 84 to 100 times the maximum possible cost including time out of work, think what the cost of insurance would have to be for any company in business.

Yet, even more to the point, how can men and women morally or even in the name of common sense adjudge to someone else a gigantic surplus of consideration for which they have no responsibility and to which the someone else is not entitled—even by the most fantastic stretch of the imagination?

This is no isolated case, there are literally thousands of them going on every day through out this great land. To be sure in the end after great expense and much time many of these extravagant claims, but not all, are whittled down to near reason by higher courts.

But the point is what is happening to the moral concepts, to the justice, to the thinking of the individuals who not only make up these juries but who are the people themslves.

These are exactly the same defects of and for which the present President and his administration are guilty and are being censored.

Now which pot is calling the kettle black and which comes first? How can we do away with a defective shadow unless we canhge the body that casts that shadow?

Thoughts and ideas are the creators of all material objects. It is thoughts and ideas that cast shadows that count.

If my master forgets to think to feed me, I will guarantee you that his failure to think, will alter the size and shape of my shadow, buried bones notwithstanding!

Can somebody please set me straight?

One should consider chiropractic upon the immediate onset of sickness, so that the nerve pressures are removed before organic structural changes occur in weakened tissues.

What sign were you born under?

It makes a difference, some folks say! But whatever your sign — one thing you probably have in common with most Americans is that either directly or indirectly you're an owner of one of America's electric light and power companies like the West Texas Utilities Company.

It's like this: about three million people from all walks of life — teachers, housewives, doctors, mechanics, farmers — put their savings into companies like the West Texas Utilities. They're direct owners.

Another seventy-five million people, through their life insurance policies and savings bank accounts, are indirect owners. For their banks invest a substantial part of their premiums and savings in the securities of the nation's electric companies.

So, you see, these companies, like the West Texas Utilities, that serve nearly everybody are owned by nearly everybody!

BUICK'S POWER STEERING?

It's the big NEWS of the year

THERE is a host of things that endear a ROADMASTER to anyone who loves to drive.

There's the might of its Fireball 8 Engine — most powerful ever put in a Buick.

There's the thrift of its Airpower carburetor — a four-barrel automatic that literally brings increased power right out of thin air.

There's its hushed and luxurious silence — its poised and level ride that cost a million dollars to develop — and the infinite smoothness of its Dynaflow Drive.

But the thing that has brought the most cheers for this big and obedient beauty is Buick's version of Power Steering.*

Gone is the tug of turning, parking, maneuvering in small space.

Power Steering takes over the effort of turning the front wheels — makes it a one-hand operation.

Do you have to learn to drive all over again if you have this new Buick feature?

You definitely do not. On the open road, you have that same sure sense of command that you've always had. Coming out of a curve, you can loosen your grip, and the front wheels right themselves just as they do on every Buick.

But you'll notice this: When you suddenly hit loose dirt or sand—or a stretch of rough road—Power Steering smoothly goes into action — helps take up the jerk — makes control of the wheel easier and driving safer.

Wouldn't you like to try out this newest wonder — on a ROADMASTER or a SUPER? You say the word, and we'll do the rest.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster and Super only.

of the Wellington churches or some worthy organization.

He did not seek re-election in 1947.

Probably no other man did as much to mechanize agriculture in this area as Mr. Sullivan. Dealer for International Harvester Company for 20 years, he sold more implements than any one dealer the county has had. This was the part of his business operations he liked best, for he particularly enjoyed contacts with his farmer friends that it gave him. He maintained his implement business until late in the war years, then sold it to Sam Moore, now of Childress.

Mr. Sullivan liked to go out and visit with his friends in their own communities, and for many years he regularly attended the entertainments and meetings held there.

His sound business judgement and understanding of the problems of this section, both agricultural and business, along with his warm personality that drew people to him, caused many to come to him for advise in their business affairs.

Mr. Sullivan was a charter member of the old Country Club and in the years of its operation was one of the outstanding golfers of this area. He was also a charter member of the Rotary Club, and a member of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society, the Methodist Church and the Panhandle Hardware Association. He was a director of the Wellington State Bank for about seven years. In early years he was a director of the Wellington Chamber of Commerce.

He was keenly interested in politics, and had participated in the recent Democratic Conventions.

Mr. Sullivan was married to Miss Clay Wells September 19, 1915. While they had not met until he came to Wellington, their parents had been friends in Wise County and their grandparents in Mississippi.

She survives him, as do their four children, James Sullivan and Henry Sullivan, Mrs. Vernon Ratzlow of Phillips and Mrs. J. W. Dickens of Big Spring. There are four grandchildren, Linda and Janice Ratzlow and Patricia and Susan Sullivan. A sister and seven brothers also survive, Mrs. Annie Ogle of Chico, Charlie Sullivan, Clarence Sullivan, Guy Sullivan, George Sullivan, Other Sullivan, Carl Sullivan and Rob Sullivan of Woodson. A cousin, Luther Sullivan, lives here.

Out of town relatives and friends here for the funeral included his brothers, Charles, Clarence, George, and Other Sullivan of Woodson, T. B. Sullivan, Mrs. Geraldine Boyd and Miss Robbie Sullivan of Woodson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Easley and Miss Laura Dean Sullivan of Chico; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pass of Wilson, Oklahoma; Lt. men dashed from cover to cover until they reached safety at the base of a hill. Here they discovered a box of ammunition which they carried, in addition to their wire load, to a machine gun crew who were running low on ammunition. Continuing with their wire lines along the hillside, Sergeant Warren and his companion were frequently halted by intense enemy fire, but finally reached their destination, completing the communications. After getting the lines laid, Sgt. Warren retraced the entire route with cover of darkness, repairing breaks caused by enemy shelling, thus maintaining the wire communications. This voluntary action by Sergeant Warren allowed his units to maintain radio silence during a critical period, and thus aided materially in the success of the entire operation. Sergeant Warren's heroism in the face of danger reflects high credit on himself and the military service.

REUNION SIDELIGHTS

Lon Watkins, 1930, and his wife Claire, were up from Carlsbad, N. M., where he practices law. Lon described himself as "up to my neck in New Mexico politics but I haven't run for an office yet."

Lon made this trip with his right arm broken, result of being thrown from his horse a couple of weeks ago.

After leaving here, Watkins graduated from the University of Texas and Washington and Lee University in Virginia. He and Claire returned to live for a short time before going to Carlsbad.

They have three sons, Stormy, 13, Michael, 11; and George, six.

"Wellington hasn't changed a bit," Lon commented.

Buster Worley, president of the 1930 class, came from Plainview for this reunion. He's with the National Alfalfa Company, one of the larger companies dehydrating alfalfa to be sold to mixed feed manufacturers.

Lester Campbell, 1934, and his wife, Martha, attended from McLean where they publish The McLean News. Lester brought along a note of humor in the derby hat he was wearing to advertise his town and the cards he handed out:

You Lucky Thing—
You've just met
Lester H. Campbell
Derby town Editor and Second
Biggest Bull Shipper in Texas.
You saw the derby and wondered why
It did grace the head of I.
We wear them for old Ed McLean
And hope your friendship we will gain.

One of the progressive young editors of the Panhandle, Lester and Martha have won a number of prizes in state and regional press Associations with their paper.

Among those coming fartherest were Alline Elbert Butler, Wellington Ex, and her husband, Carl Butler, of Marietta, Georgia. They've lived at Marrietta for the last three years, where he is purchasing agent for Lockhead Aircraft.

They have two childrne, Pat 8, and Angela, 5.

They're making their vacation and visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Elbert.

Mildred Pigg Barjenbruch, 1925, of Montague, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Pigg, and the reunion came during the visit. In addition to classmates, she also saw a large group of exes who were her students during the time she taught in Wellington Schools.

Her husband, Boyd Barjenbruch, 1926, was unable to attend this year, due to heavy work. He's county attorney of Montague county.

Two faculty members, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams of Dallas, were present for this year's reunion, and with them was their 10-year-old son, John Robert.

John is still with the engineering department of Trinity Universal Insurance Company, the firm he joined when he left his job as head coach of Wellington high school.

John and Robbie Lee were here from 1937 through 1941.

Last year she returned to the teaching profession, under Dr. J. L. Beard, now superintendent of the Irving Schools, under whom she taught here.

Probably the largest family to attend this year's Reunion were Rudolph Wood of Austin and his three sisters, Zon Wood Hankins of Lubbock, Kay Wood Doshier of Childress, and Bernice Wood of Tulia.

Rudolph Wood graduated from Wellington high school in 1922 and left here a few years later. He's in the grocery business in Austin, were he has lived for about 15 years. He is married and has two daughters and a son, Mary Elizabeth, Dorothy and Wayne.

Next of the family to graduate was Bernice Wood, in 1928. She is the wife of J. E. Ward of Tulia, and they have two children, Chris, 12 and Amanda, 6.

Kay Wood, who graduated in 1929, still lives nearest to Wellington. Her husband is D. R. Doshier, general foreman of the Texas Highway Department, stationed at Childress. She has a son, Kenneth, 15.

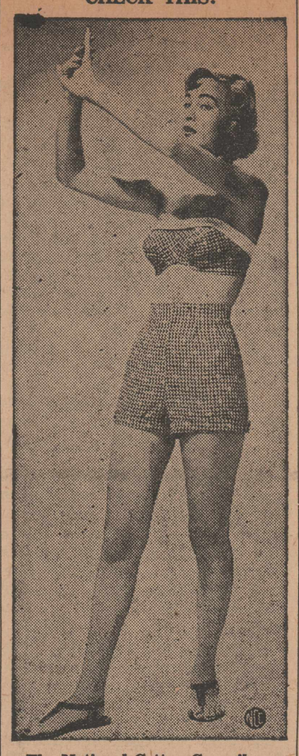

Youngest of the family is Zon Wood, whose husband, R. C. Hankins, is city editor of The Lubbock Avalanch Journal. She also has two children, Betty, 10, and Jon-Anna, 8.

A graduate of 1912, Constance Boverie Schultz came to the Reunion from Tuscon, Arizona. After leaving here, she joined the Veterans Administration in Washington, later transferred to New York, then back to Washington.

She has been in Arizona during the summer and, since she is eligible for retirement under Civil Service, is considering that for her permanent home.

Few of the graduates were having a better time than Mrs. Schultz, but she laughingly said, "When most of these tell me their names, I have to say, "Who were your daddy and mother" before I know who they are."

Bledsoe House -

S. Montague owned the house and lived in a smalled house beside the house which burned.

Mr. and Mrs. Bledsoe were sleeping in the yard the morning the fire started and were awakened by their dog. Mr. Bledsoe ran to the front of the house and opened the door. By this time fire had already destroyed the lighting system and the house was full of smoke. As he rushed to the back of the house, the explosion occurred. It was too late for the explosion to have been caused by gas, and although they are not sure what caused the explosion, it is believed it was caused by a back draft combustion which occurred when Mr. Bledsoe opened the front door, according to Jim Williams, secretary of the Fire Dept.

The dog became so excited in his efforts to help, he bit Mr. Williams and John D. Glenn.
