200 Million Oil Merger Rapidly Nearing an End

Simms, Waite-Phillips And Barnsdall Companies In Combine

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Negotiations for a consolidation of Mid-Continent oil companies, which will link the Waite-Phillips, Simms Petroleum and Barnsdall corporation, are rapidly nearing completion with prospects that formal announcement of the plans will be made next week.

The merger which will be built around the Barnsdall corporation as a nucleus may eventually embrace five or six companies having combined assets of $200,000,000. Among the companies which may be drawn into the amalgamation are Skelly Oil, Independent Oil and Gas and Texas Pacific Coal and Oil.

Four or five plans of consolidation are now under consideration by the bankers and interests controlling the various companies. New financing involved in the different proposals ranges from $15,000,000 to $40,000,000 in bonds and between $10,000,000 and $200,000,000 in other securities, public offering of which probably will follow the formal announcement of the merger terms.

If St. Paul Lived Today He Would Be Journalist,—Pope

ROME, Jan. 6—(AP)—If Saint Paul lived today he would be a newspaper man in spirit at least, Pope Pius asserted this afternoon in the hall of the consistory when a decree was read on the eminent virtues of the venerable Antonio Maria Claret, once archibshop of Cuba and founder of the congregation of missionaries of the immaculate heart of Mary.

The ceremony today was preliminary to the canonization of the prelate.

Eulogizing Archbishop Claret's use of books and the press as powerful means to spread the faith, the pontiff said: "It has been remarked that if Saint Paul lived in our day he would become a journalist. That this would have occured literally, I doubt, but I believe it certainly would have occurred in spirit, because without question he would have utilized with great eagerness such an instrument for the dissemination of ideas as the press."

PARIS FEARING FLOOD DISASTER

Further Rise in Seine Would Work Havoc; Water Invades City

PARIS, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Paris is in an extremely critical situation; a further rise of thirty inches in the Seine would precipitate a catastrophe. Despite protective works hastily thrown up on both sides of the river, the waters are invading the city. The first effect of this is the closing of the Invalides railroad station, directly across the street from the ministry of foreign affairs.

Traffic to Versailles, amboulette, Derux and Granville has been suspended. The island of St. Denis was abandoned this evening by the residents who took refuge in the city barracks, while Fort Vincennes set aside for the accommodation of refugees in the eastern part of the city already shelters hundreds.

The Seine has risen from two to four feet in the last 24 hours and weather officials who predicted yesterday that the peak of the flood would be reached tonight say now that it will continue to swell until Friday.

Berlin And Bride 'Tickled To Death'

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(AP)—After a two-day preliminary honeymoon at Atlantic City and "tickled to death" with married life, Irving Berlin and his bride, the former Miss Elin Mackay came back to New York tonight.

A porter guarded the door of their drawing room from the time the song writer and former singing waiter and the daughter of the Postal Telegraph millionaire boarded the train. They slipped out at Newark, N. J., climbed into Berlin's limousine, slid past a traffic light or two, and headed for New York as unheralded as they could have wished.

HOOVER SLAPS JOHN BULL FOR RUBBER TRUST

Says "Intrusion" by Government Into Trading "Raises New Dangers"

HURTS "GOOD WILL"

International Relations Put In Unfavorable Position Says Commerce Chief

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Investigation of the situation growing out of the British rubber monopoly was started today by the house commerce committee.

Opening the inquiry, Secretary Hoover assailed "intrusion" by any government into trading operation on a vast scale.

"This practice," he said, "raises a host of new dangers—the inevitable aftermath of any such effort by political agencies to interfere with the normal progress of supply and demand."

Threatens Good Will.

The foreign monopolistic control of the crude rubber price he added, threatens not only the sane progress of the world, but contains in it great dangers to international good will."

In addition to the committee's hearing, the rubber situation was discussed in the house by Representative Frear, republican, Wisconsin, while in the senate a resolution was introduced by Senator King, democrat, Utah, to direct the judiciary committee to investigate alleged manipulations of rubber prices by foreign and mestic "monopolies."

Inquiry Attacked.

Mr. Frear asserted that the rubber investigation "appears to have been based" on high rubber prices and "American press reports alleged to be propaganda" and that the Tilson resolution ordering it seems "to be made the basis for commercial reprisals."

Secretary Hoover, on the other hand told the committee that the rubber situation could not be solved by acquiescence or acceptance and that it would only be compounded and aggravated by retaliatory action. He urged the working out, instead, of a broad constructive solution.

Was "Lecturer" for California Firm; Guilty of Using Mails in Fraud

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Dr. Baker P. Lee, erstwhile pastor of a prominent Los Angeles church was fined $500 each on four counts in federal court here today. Rev. Lee, with three co-defendants, was found guilty last week of having used the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of the oil units of the Arc-Bee Oil syndicate at Santa Fe Springs.

J. G. Kirsten, one of the defendants, was fined $500 on each of seven counts while seven months jail sentences were given to Theodore C. Reed and J. J. Berliner.

WORLD COURT VICTORY SEEN

Defeat of Reed "Propaganda" Resolution Regarded Fair Test

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The senate refused today 54 to 16 to order an investigation into propaganda in favor of approval of the world court adherence resolution and the Italian and other foreign debt settlements.

Such an inquiry was urged vigorously by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, who after losing the preliminary skirmish in the foreign relations committee eight to three carried his fight to the floor of the senate.

In some quarters the vote on the Reed resolution was regarded as a fair test of strength on the world court issue. The 54 votes cast against the resolution exceeded by seven a two-thirds majority which must be mustered to put through the measure for American adherence to the world court.

Furthermore, it will be local music produced by the city's latest musical organization—the Wichita Falls Municipal band.

The band will make its first public appearance at the dinner. It is under the direction of R. A. Brollier, with G. W. Pond as manager and with Mayor R. E. Shepher as soloist.

Chamber of Commerce To Be Hosts at Dinner To Out of Town Men

The annual membership dinner of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce will attract a large number of out of town visitors to the city Friday night, particularly chamber of commerce and civic officials.

Invitations have been sent out by the local organization to chamber of commerce heads in all communities within radius of 50 miles and word has been received that a number of them will be here for the dinner. A delegation of five men will be down from Childress; representations will be here from Dallas, Fort Worth and from practically all of the points around Wichita Falls having organized chamber of commerce work.

With tickets to the number of 600 sold Wednesday night it was virtually assured that the 650 seats available in the Junior college dining hall Friday night would be reserved by noon this morning. The demand for seats continued unabated all day Wednesday.

While the dinner and the program to accompany it will draw distinguished guests from out of the city, it will also see the business leaders of Wichita Falls out in toto. The list of names to whom tickets have already been sent includes all of the recognized executives of the city and who will be on hand for the dinner and program.

MUSKOGEE 'BAD MAN' LOSES IN FIGHT FOR LIFE

Gallows Yawn for William A. Lawrence, Who Killed Phoenix Policeman

MOTHER'S PLEA VAIN

Will be Hanged at State Prison at Florence, Ariz., On January 8

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 6.—(AP)—William A. Lawrence, Muskogee, Okla. "bad man" and slayer of a Phoenix policeman, lost his last fight today to escape the gollows, when the state board of pardons and paroles refused to take action in his case. He will be hanged at the state prison at Florence, Ariz., at dawn January 8.

Were Caught in Robbery.

Lawrence killed Patrolman Haze Burch of Phoenix last February, when he and his brother, Babe, were caught in the act of robbing an automobile of gasoline.

A petition, asking that the death sentence be changed to life imprisonment, was submitted to the board of pardons and paroles yesterday and after hearing numerous witnesses the board took the matter under advisement.

After an executive session of several hours, the board announced late today that it would refuse to make a recommendation in the action and that the sentence of the court would be carried out.

Mother Begs for His Life.

The fight waged by Lawrence's friends was dramatically climaxed at a hearing before the board today when the slayer's mother appealed for his life.

Walking unsteadily to a position in front of members of the board Mrs. Lawrence sobbed out a word picture of her condemned son's life. Her story ended with the words: "God gave me my boy 27 years ago. Please spare his life."

Then she collapsed.

CITY TAXES COMING IN.

Collections Brisk the Past Few Days Says Hyer.

City taxes are coming in fast, several large amounts as the larger firms of the city "pay off" helping each day to swell receipts which run at the close of business anywhere from $10,000 to nearly $30,000, it was announced by W. R. Hyer, city tax collector Wednesday. The last named figure was almost reached Dec. 31 when $29,988.68, city and school taxes were collected. It will probably stand as the biggest day's receipts of the current collection season, thinks Mr. Hyer, with the possible exception of receipts on the last day of January surpassing it.

There was one item alone paid yesterday of over $17,000.

Elephant Which Killed 9 Men To Be Electrocuted

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan 6—(AP)—"Tex," rated as one of the wildest of circus elephants, is to be electrocuted. This was learned today after a visit to Little Rock of William Newton, owner of the beast. Newton is considering a plan to put "Tex" to death here. He said that several cities, including Kansas City, Memphis, St. Louis and Dallas had been mentioned in connection with the place of execution, but he preferred that the elephant be put to death in Arkansas.

"Tex," said to be about 100 years old, is reputed to have killed nine men in his day and to have gone "bust" a number of times.

LYRICS OF LIFE.
By Douglas Malloch.
Let Them Be Children.

No doubt they're "cute," the way they're dressed,
Perhaps they're smart in grown-up things
But childhood is so brief at best,
And time so quickly manhood brings
So soon the baby is a maid,
So soon the youngster is a man
Their childhood is so quick to fade—
Let them be children while they can.

"A little actress," some folks say,
A prodigy they call the boy,
But little actresses today
Have missed a lot of infant joy.
"How well he plays the violin, I"
I wish instead the words he ran,
Life's labors soon enough begin—
Let them be children while they can.

Youth is a time to learn and play,
That is enough for babes to do;
For they will need, some later day,
Glad hearts and sturdy bodies, too.
Time soon enough will bring the task,
The noisy nights, life's caravan;
Fathers and mothers, this I ask;
Let them be children—while they can.

MOODY TO JOIN IN PETITION TO SUPREME COURT

Motion for Re-Hearing On Validity of $300,000 Issue to Be Filed

BOND BUYERS SAFE

Attorney General Says "Good Name of State" is An Ample Guarantee

AUSTIN, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Motion for re-hearing before the United States supreme court on validity of the $300,000 bond issue of Archer county road improvement district No. 2, likely will be joined by his department, Attorney Dan Moody said today. He expects to take such action as soon as a copy of the supreme court's opinion holding the bond issue unconstitutional, because the district was not provided by the legislature, arrives from Washington.

He expressed opinion buyers of road district bonds need have no fear for their investment. "The good name of the state and quality of her citizenship are ample guarantees that whatever is necessary will be done in order to make sure that people who have bought Texas bonds will be paid their money," he said.

TEXAS COUNTIES FIND WAY AROUND DECISION.

AUSTIN, Jan. 6.—Texas counties, careful to uphold their credit, already have found a "way around" the far-reaching decision of the U. S. supreme court holding illegal bonds voted by districts of less than a county's area, according to the state highway department. Counties already are taking steps to issue county-wide bonds and take up the obligations of the local districts which voted the road district bonds, it was said.

Moody said he expected to join in rehearing motion because "this opinion affects the validity of other bond issues which have been approved and holding good faith." He indicated the people of Texas would validate and redeem road district bonds, even if forced to amend the constitution.

$80,000,000 Involved.

A check by Mark Wiggington, chief clerk of the attorney general's department, shows between eighty and eight-two million dollars worth of district road bonds have been issued. From September 1, 1922 through August 31, 1924, approximately 75,000,000 dollars worth of bonds were issued. Mr. Wigrington has not completed check for the year ending August 31, 1925, but said the total for that year would run between five and seven million dollars.

"Until a motion for re-hearing has been acted upon by the supreme court of the United States in the Archer county bond case, the attorney general's department will not approve any road district bonds involving the same questions as were passed upon by the court in that case," Moody said. A copy of the opinion of the supreme court will not be available to the department until it can be received by mail from Washington. In view of the fact that this opinion affects the validity of other bond issues, which have been approved and sold in good faith, the department expects to join in a motion for re-hearing as soon as the opinion is received.

Mosley Is Silent.

Keen interest in the supreme court decision was shown here today. There is considerable talk of a special session to validate the bonds. However, the constitution can be amended only in regular session.

Other capitol observers pointed out that under the court decision, the highway commission could withdraw promises of thousands of dollars in allotments made to road districts on condition that district bonds be voted. Chairman Hal Mosley of the commission had no statement to make on this point.

Movies Playing a Big Part In Education, Mrs. Guest Tells Club

"Millions of people are influenced by the motion picture, and many children receive their ideals of life from them. They occupy the fifth place in industrial life and one-half billion dollars are often spent on one production," Mrs. J. C. A. Guest said, in speaking of the "Motion Picture" and its effect on the morals of children, to members of the Bowie Parent-Teacher association Wednesday afternoon.

"There are 30 thousand picture shows operating and the whole world goes to see the movies, even in the coldest part of Alaska, the far corner of Japan and in every country of the nation. The good influence is almost overcome by the evil. We can hardly take our children to the show and feel safe, for good pictures do not draw good crowds. The emotional strain of some pictures are bad for children, for the child responds to every emotional feeling," Mrs. Guest continued.

As a remedy of the motion picture evil on children, the speaker advised the parents must solve the problem and limit the child's visits to the show and select them for him.

Mrs. Moore gave the devotionals followed by a piano solo by Miss Elizabeth Stearns. A short business session was also held.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask our druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

Pimples

"OH, why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples blotches and blackheads?

"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion, I know I would be the happies girl in the world! What can I do?"

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations—helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red-blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous red blood such as S. S. S. helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It beautifies your skin — drives away pimples, blackheads, blotches, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you full of new life and energy.

All drug stores sell S. S. S. Get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

Pains in Side

"I WAS suffering very severe pains in my right side," says Mrs. Annie Russell, R. F. D. 1, Brookhaven, Miss., whose picture is printed above. "At times I felt I could not straighen up. The pain ran across my back and, after suffering, I would take sick headache and lie abed more than a week.

"My head would ache and my side would hurt and be sore to the touch. I was nervous too,—that irritable feeling one has when she feels that she has stood about all she can. I was up and down and as cross as I could be.

"I was advised by a neighbor to take Cardui, which I did. It was not so long till I noticed a change in my condition. My side got better. I gained in weight and ate and slept and felt just as well as could be. After taking six bottles I didn't have any more trouble with my side.

"I have taken Cardui two or three times since, as a tonic, when I felt run-down. I took it during change of life and have not had any trouble. I am feeling fine. Do you wonder that I praise Cardui?

"My daughter is taking Cardui, and I recommend it to my neighbors and friends."

FOR Sour Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physcians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, at drugstore.

NO NEED TO WORRY

THE recent supreme court ruling on the Archer county road district affecting the Scotland and Windthorst dispute with Archer City may or may not have a "far-reaching" effect.

That it will require a readjustment of the state's road laws seems to be agreed, but that does not necessarily mean Texas must undergo a radical, wrenching alteration of its whole highway system and the manner of financing it. The same thing, then, is true of irrigation districts and bonds which, it has been suggested, may also feel the effects of the supreme court affirmation of the contention that the Texas highway district law is unconstitutional.

The very magnitude of the situation demands some legal rearranging be done that will not disturb the state's public financial structure. If some $70,000,000 worth of bond issues voted in the last 16 years have been voted under an invalid law, the law must be changed and something done to make past records legal. How it shall be accomplished is a question for the gentlemen of legal mein to consider. Doubtless they can and will.

It is inconceivable that holders of bonds aggregating in value the stupendous sum of those securities floated for road improvement in Texas should have their investments jeopardized. Especially is this true since all the bonds were issued in good faith. No Texas road district will seek to repudiate its obligations, even if the supreme court has taken a stand that, on its face, would legally permit of a repudiation.

As an immediate effect in this section, the decision of course gives the Archer county protestors the relief they sought from what was perhaps an inequitable piece of legislation by the Archer county commissioners. In doing this, naturally, it will be doing a good thing. The decision also has had the effect of putting a temporary bar in the way of pending road bond issues, for the attorney general's department has said it will approve no more issues until the road law is amended.

In these respects the decision is far reaching. There is no question but that it is an important one. It is not one, however, to inspire alarm or misgivings. It calls for prompt and thorough attention; probably it requires a rather sweeping revision of the state road laws; it doubtless will demand some intensive study by the best legal minds and some Blackstonian manipulation that will be a credit to a Philadelphia lawyer.

That will be the extent of its effect. Texas has her roads and will keep them. Investors have their bonds and will retain them with their value unimpaired. A new law will be devised to permit creation of road districts and issuance of road bonds in the future.

Why worry about it?

WHAT'S THE TRUTH ABOUT IT?

IF HALF that Ira D. Perry says about his treatment at the hands of the Chicago police is true—and he has impressed the state director of public welfare—third degree methods demand an airing. There should be a full investigation.

Time and again similar stories have been circulated. Some of them have found their way into print. If they are lies, the police department ought not to be permitted to rest under the imputation that it wrings confessions by torture. If they are true, somebody should be brought to account.

There were hints of action against the police by persons who were held for questioning before Loeb and Leopold made their confession. One of these was a teacher in the schools which Bobby Franks attended. No charges however, were made.

If Chicago boys can always be distinguished from down state boys in the Pontiac reformatory by reason of fresh head bruises, received, as is alleged, from the Chicago police, the department of public welfare should act.

The prisoner is always at a disadvantage. If he is guilty of the crime charged, he is in a poor position to complain. The word of felons is not considered particularly good and there is doubtless some tall lying about the police.

The law, however, does not tolerate torture. It is rather important to know whether Perry was driven to confess a crime of which he was not giulty by tortures inconceivably inhuman.

THE COMPASS COURSE

IN these talks we have dealt largely with success.

Success means the utilization of the faculties we are given at birth.

They ought to be utilized to our own advantage, as well as to the advantage of others.

Success does not mean money success. Nor does it necessarily mean the kind of success attained by either Napoleon or Caesar.

A life is only a success when it is a happy and an enjoyable life and when it contributes to the welfare of others.

Determination to surpass others can be carried too far, particularly when it is determination to get more money than they do, no matter how.

A great many men have started out to get rich—and by thinking of that alone have succeeded in it, but in nothing else.

They have set a compass course to the shortest way to wealth.

And when their harbor was reached they had nowhere else to go.

The vessel which sets a course over the shortest line from one port to another will arrive soonest at its destination, but the voyage will not be nearly as enjoyable as if it took a more roundabout and leisurely cruise.

There are many interesting ports of call on this journey that we all are making, and one who is in too much of a hurry to get to his ultimate stopping place will miss most of them.

It is a bleak and austere and unprofitable life if there is no fun, no enjoyment in it.

Beauty and pleasure are here to be enjoyed, and the man who refuses to enjoy them because they cost him something is just an ordinary fool.

The braggart Caesar may have thrilled with a glow of pride when he wrote his message: "I came, I saw, I conquered" but the quiet humorous philosopher and poet Horace got far more out of the game, and incidentally did far more for the rest of the world.

What he put into books is as new and fresh as ever.

What Caesar put into buildings and governments has almost perished from the earth.

The man who cannot gain wealth without austerity and determination and the sacrifice of friendships would do better to remain poor.

He neglects as he goes all that life is worth living for.

And as he reaches the age when it will soon be over, he must reflect that—with the knowledge that he could live but once on this earth—he got nothing out of it but money, and perhaps a little power, which did him no more good than did the money.

We do not yet know why we are here, save that it is for some high purpose.

But we do know that while we are here we can be happy and interested.

We cannot do that by trying to get money alone. Many have tried it, and have sunk into a friendless and desolate old age, wondering too late why they did not know better."

HIS EPITAPH

"HE came to New York with $40 forty years ago; he had forty failures, and he had forty million dollars when he died."

This is the way Arthur Brisbane summed up the achievements of Frank Munsey. Frank Munsey left a will behind him. He had many near relatives in old New England. He provided handsomely for those relatives in his last will and testament, and then gave the residue of his vast estate, something like $38,000,000 to the Metropolitan Museum of Fine Arts of New York City.

It goes without saying that the Metropolitan Museum of Fine Arts is to all intents and purposes the property of the people of Greater New York.

Frank Munsey had never married. As a New Yorker he accumulated a vast fortune. As a New Yorker who loved New York, he builded himself a monument ten times as tall as the Woolworth building, when he endowed the Metropolitan Museum with his many millions.

The only "corrupting influence" needed to get some poor innocents is just a chance to be corrupt.

BUILDING OF WEST TEXAS

There are wise men who say that railroad building in West Texas will lead all other sections of the country this year, and that the partition of ranches into small farms will add a million to the population of west Texas this year.

"Love Bound In Wichita Falls"

By the Author of 'The Flapper Wife'

READ THIS FIRST:

FLOSSIE and MARY ROSE MIDDLETON are two pretty sisters, the daughters of a widowed mothers. They work for the Dexter Automobile Company.

Mary Rose is secretary to the sales manager, JOHN MANNERS, and is in love with him. He is engaged to DORIS HINIG, an heiress. Mary Rose repeatedly refuses to marry TOM FITZROY, a young doctor.

Flossie, a born flirt, does a very poor job of keeping the office files. She spends most of her time running around with the president of the company, HILARY DEXTER, although she's engaged to his secretary, SAM JESSUP. When Mary Rose discovers that Dexter, who's married, has given her many presents, among them a gold vanity case, she orders Flossie to return them. But no one can make Flossie do anything she wossn't want to do, as the girl's mother, MRS. MIDDLETON, learns when she tries to make her stop staying out late on cocktail parties and joy rides.

John Manners takes Mary Rose home to meet his invalid mother, and after several weeks when they see each other often, tells her he loves her and always will, even if he marries Doris. Then the two sisters quarrel and Flossie gets even with Mary Rose by telling Manners that she's "just stringing him along" and really loves Tom Fitzroy and intends to marry him. Mary Rose wonders at his sudden coldness toward her.

MRS. DEXTER finds Flossie's vanity case in her husband's car, and when she comes to the office to tell him she'll divorce him, she mistakes Mary Rose for Flossie, and gives her a tongue lashing before the whole office. Dexter finally persuades his wife that he never so much as looked at another woman and they leave the office together.

Mary Rose doesn't tell any one that it was not she but Flossie who left the case in the car and she stands all the slurs and the snubs from the other girls. For, as Flossie points out, if Sam Jessup finds out that his girl has been going out with Dexter, he'd never marry her. And Mary Rose hopes and prays that Sam will marry Flossie and keep her out of mischief.

The office has a Hallowe'en masquerade but Mary Rose doesn't go. Instead she reads to John Manners' mother and afterward Tom drives her to his house. There his mother tells her how jealous Doris Hinig is of her and Tom adds that he just saw Doris and Manners out driving together.

(Now go on with the story.)

"Oh me, Oh my! I never seem to get caught up with my mending," she said to Mary Rose, as the girl came into the room. Her words were doleful enough but her tone was cheerful.

As a matter of fact, she enjoyed mending. For she was one of those domestic women who keep house with the same zest that many another woman plays cards or dances or goes out on a shopping spree! An excellent type and one that is fast disappearing from the face of the earth!

"Didn't Flossie look too sweet for words tonight!" Mrs. Middleton spoke again, presently, when Mary Rose had put on a sewing apron and was going through the mending basket. "I declare, Mary Rose, she gets prettier every day she lives. I don't suppose a body would believe it, to look at me now all faded and washed out, but—she's the living image of me when I was her age!"

"I don't doubt it," Mary Rose answered promptly. "I've always known that Flossie got her looks from you."

Mrs. Middleton sighed. "And her ways, too. I was always full of the very old Nick when I was a girl!" she said. "I could have had my pick of any of the men down in Brown's Ferry—and then I had to take up with your pa, who never had one penny to rub up against another!" She shook her head impatiently.

"And that's exactly what Flossie's going to do!" she added after a minute or two. "I don't wish anybody any bad luck, but sometimes I almost wish that Wheezer would blow up with Sam Jessup in it."

Mary Rose laughed, then suddenly sobered. "If only Flossy is half as happy with Sam as you were with my father, she'll be a lucky girl!" she told her mother sensibly.

But Mrs. Middleton couldn't see it that way. For one thing she couldn't see what Flossie could find to like in Sam Jessup! If he were the Prince of Wales, she still would dislike him, she said with spirit.

The clock struck eleven

"Well, I suppose Flossie's the belle of the ball tonight," Mrs. Middleton remarked, looking up at it.

* * *

And Flossie was the belle of the ball that night.

There wasn't a girl at the company's Hallowe'en masquerade who could hold a candle to her.

In her pink dress with its rosebud wreaths and her pink silk stockings and gold slippers, she was springtime and youth and beauty incarnate.

At least she seemed all of that to Hilary Dexter who, dressed like a clown, watched her wherever she went, flitting from one corner of the room to another like a sunbeam.

She was not only the belle of the ball but the life of the party. She romped and she sang. She gave an exhibition of the Charleston in a cleared space in the center of the big shipping room where the party was held.

Someone had put "pep" into the party by putting gin the punch, and the more of it that Flossie drank the more lively she became.

"Come here, Dex, old kid!" she called to the president of the company, as she collected a crowd together for a tug-o'-war. And to the shocked surprise of Miss Minnick, Dexter yelled in answer "Right-o, Flossie!" and came running heavily to her.

"That won't make much of a hit with Mr. Dexter to have her call out like that to him," Miss Minnick observed acidly to Sam Jessup. "He's the president of the company and ought to be treated with respect."

"That's no joke," Sam answered seriously.

But what neither of them knew was that Hilary Dexter was very, very tired of being treated with respect.

No one in the whole world but Flossie Middleton treated him like a pal and a playfellow. No one seemed to forget that he was the head of the company that made the wonderful Dexter Eight, and that he was worth $3,000,000, if he was worth a nickel!

Even his wife, his grown children and the men he played golf with treated him with concealed awe.

But Flossie made him forget that he was rich and successful and forty-six years old. She danced with him and laughed with him and at him.

Sometimes she slapped his face and called him "fresh," when he tried to kiss her. So far he had not kissed her. He almost had, that day on the stairs when Mary Rose had seen them together, almost!

But tonight, as he looked at her, Hilary Dexter felt that he couldn't do without Flossie much longer. He wanted to hold her in his arms—all her sweet, warm slimness crushed close to him—her red mouth that was like a red flower bruised by his kisses. She had played with him long enough.

"Let's ditch this shindig," he said in a low tone to her, as they joined hands in an old-fashioned Virginia reel. She nodded and smiled with a flash of her eyes that were like brilliant blue jewels.

Ten minutes later, wrapped in her thin satin cape, she came down to him, where he waited for her in the shadow of the great building.

"Aren't we wicked to sneak away like this?" she whispered, laughing softly in the darkness. "I don't know what Sam will say when he can't find me."

"He'll probably say that it's funny that we've both disappeared," Dexter answered. "And the rest of them will probably think what he says! We should worry!"

Something in his tone made her look uneasily at him. She wondered if she ought to get into the big car and go riding with him alone. True enough, she had gone with him plenty of times before—but he seemed so queer, tonight. Not himself at all. And she had had too much of that punch. Her head felt light and dizzy.

"Get in," he said harshly, and in she got.

As they left the town the big clock on the tower of the Zenith building pointed to midnight.

"Dingbats!" Flossie exclaimed. "I didn't know it was that late, did you? The party'll be breaking up. We'd better go back."

"Nothing doing," the man answered shortly. "By the time we got back they'd all be gone, anyway."

"But Sam—" Flossie walled.

Forget Sam," Dexter interrupted her. The put out one arm and swept her close beside him. Flossie tried to wriggle away, but he held her in a grip of iron. "Forget Sam. You belong to me."

Flossie made a pert little face at him. "Sa-ay! How do you get that way?" she asked. "And please take your arm away from my ribs. Don't forget that I'm the same old touch-me-not girl I always was!"

Her tone was flippant, but her heart was beating wildly. For the first time in her life she was afraid of a man. She was mortally afraid of Hilary Dexter.

She decided, at last, that perhaps her best plan was to say nothing, and let him hold her. She even nestled against him, just to prove to herself that she was not afraid. But she was, for all that.

Ten miles out from town was a shady little road that ran along the banks of the shallow river, and she knew that Dexter was leading for that road now. They had often sat there on the hot nights of last summer, and near them other couples had sat. It was a kind of Lover's Lane.

But tonight it was dark and deserted when they turned into it.

Dexter drove up beside a large willow tree that they had called their tree, and stopped his car. With one sweep of his arms he turned off the lights and took Flossie Middelton in his arms.

She tried to scream, although no one could have heard her if she had, for the nearest farm house was a half mile away. But his mouth, coming down hard upon hers, stifled that scream.

WAS I BORN UNDER THE DOUBLE CROSS?
By McKinley H. Sauer

One day, despite my rivals three,
The girl I longed to make my bride
Agreed that she would go with me
To take a good, long auto ride,
Alas, four miles all went flat!
Will this day bring such luck as that?

Serene, I walked with jaunty air
Till yesterday, but now I moan:
Instead of smiling, now I swear—
My neighbor bought a saxaphone!
He's blown my smiles and joy away;
I wonder what's in store today!

I never wrote a funny verse
To cheer a weary heart along
But that the printer makes me curse
By getting half my phrases wrong.
A line or two he'll often miss—
I wonder how he'll butcher this!

Oh, ever thus since childhood's hour
By many things my soul is vexed;
'Neath fortune's bludgeonings I cower,
Yet stick around to see what's next!
Last night SHE gave me back my ring
I WONDER what today will bring!

Vicious Things!

THE ROMANCE OF LITTLE THINGS.
By Dr. Walter E. Traprock.

It is the little things that count. A cinder in Josephine's eye first caused Napoleon to notice how beautiful those eyes were! And later, a sty on her left lid made him throw her over! "You look terrible," he said and turned toward the wall. It was the end for poor Josie!

So, with myself, little things have altered the course of my life sometimes for good, sometimes . . .

There was that affair with the Princess Marmola of Greece. It all hinged on a wishbone, the tiny wishbone of a quail. Shall I ever forget the night, dining at the Embassy, when she looked across the table with those lustrous, prune-brown eyes of hers and cried: "I have the wishbone!"

I nodded. "We'll wish, later . . ." my glance said. We did so, in the conservatory, after drying the wishbone on one of the steam pipes. The Princess won. "What did you wish?" I asked. She buried her face among my decorations. "That I might become your wife."

What was a man or honor to do? Also, remember the prune-brown eyes. We stole from the palace and hailed a taxi. "Whither?" asked the driver. "Anywhere, out of Greece!" was my reply.

Sensing our excitement the fellow drove like mad! At the first corner he crashed into a fruit stand. The taxi was overturned! I came to in the American hospital, with a broken collar bone.

"You factured your wishbone," said the young interne, facetiously. I went white, . . . then red, . . . like a traffic signal! He little knew the anguish his words caused me. Ah, the little things, the little things . . .

We Regret To Announce—

The beloved Dr. Traprock is very ill, and is confined to his bed where he must remain in absolute quet for some weeks. As soon as he gets on his feet again—which we all hope will be very soon—he promises to reward all of his FUN SHOP friends with bigger and better tales than ever!

SIGHTING HIS PREY

"Now, Wife and I never quarrelled—we thought too much of each other for that—but when my mate spoke to me in that tone I knew she meant what she said and that it would be best for us both if I did as she wished. So I waked up in a hurry and sat up and looked around me. And what do you think I saw?" Polar stopped for a moment and Black Bear, just as the White Bear had hoped he would, growled:

"SLOWLY I LOWERED MYSELF, AH NOW MY HIND FEET WERE IN THE WATER."

"What?"

"Afar off along the shore was a great flat rock that jutted out into the water and on that rock was a Seal and he was sound asleep!

"'Grr' growled I. 'A Seal, lazy and fat. If I can catch him, mate, I shall have made a good start toward filling the larder. And catch him I can, for he is all alone and unprotected."

"'He may not be asleep at all,' grunted Wife. 'Perhaps he is only taking a cat-nap with one eye open. How do you know but what he will flop off the rock and be gone long before you can reach him?'

"'One eye open or both eyes shut, that fellow is not going to flop away, when he sees me coming, because he isn't going to see me coming,' boasted I. 'He isn't going to even guess that I am anywhere around until—pounce—I have him in my power.'

"'Hmm!' snorted my mate. 'Sounds all right, but how are you going to manage it?'

"'Just you wait and see' returned I, and without more words on the subject off I started. Wife called after me 'Pride goes before a fall; don't be too sure of success, my dear.' But I paid no attention. I was going to show her what a really clever sportsman like myself could do.

"I paddy-pawed down to the water's edge, creeping as close to the ground as I could and trying to make no more noise than a mouse in case the breeze might carry a warning to that Seal's sharp ears, and though I didn't think the fellow could hear from that distance still one never can tell, you know. I came to the rocky ledge. Slowly, softly, I lowered myself by my fore feet. Ah, now my hind feet were in the water. Inch by inch down I went. Into the splashing waves I dropped, and—I flatter myself—without a sound."

Jackie Coogan To Play Hamlet; But He's Still On Screen

"Jackie Coogan to play Hamlet."

This newspaper headline was sent broadcast throughout the country a few weeks ago and caused a considerable ripple on the otherwise placid summer theatrical sea. Mona Morgan, chairman of the Shakesperian Federation attempted to throw a bombshell into David Belasco's plans to groom Jackie for the role of the Melancholy Dane by endeavoring to establish the age of Hamlet as thirty years, while Belasco held firmly that the Prince of Denmark was but sixteen.

From England where the Bard of Avon is theatrical religion newspaper writers commented extensively on the "Wizard's" decision to enter Jackie in a novitiate to study for a period of three years for the role of Shakespeare's most difficult character. The Manchester Guardian, one of Britian's foremost daily newspapers recalls the fame of their own "Young Roscius," who lived early in the nineteenth century, and who startled the theatrical world with his wide range of Shakespearian characterizations, particularly those of Romeo and Norval.

The juvenile movie star is pursuing his picture work, but it also engaged in the study for his Hamlet, and has command of long and difficult passages of the play. Both Belasco and his life long friend, David Warfield, have an interest, and love second only to the parental affection for Jackie, and are determined to see the lad progress up the ladder of dramatic fame on the stage. Another interested party is Williard Mack, long connected with the Belasco enterprises and the author of Jackie's current Metro-Goldwyn-vehicle, "Old Clothes."

"Old Clothes" was directed by Eddie Cline and produced under the personal supeervision of Jack Coogan, Sr. Frank B. Good was the photographer and Menneth B. Clark the scenarist. It starts at the Olympic theatre today for a 3-day run.

Dancing And Fun To Run Riot In Olympic Vodville

Dancing will play an important part on the Olympic theatre vaudeville bill opening today, the advance notices of the schedule reveal. It will be well balanced, however, with music and other entertainment specialties mixed in.

To start with the bill offers the Howard twins in "The Dancing Dandies," an ensemble of past and present dance steps that are reminiscent of about all the dancing arts from the days of George Primrose down to the present.

Ten Amaz'ng Fingers.

Manuel in "Master of the Dollar," is the possessor of ten marvelously trained fingers with which he makes cards, coins and other media perform amazingly mystical stunts. He introduces a series of experiments that never fail to confound his audience.

Mons Jeaneskal Robenoff and company are ,as their name hints, a Russian ballet troupe prepared to give all the color and action that these superb dancing acts usually have. These charming young ladies assist Robenoff, who is one of the most capable Russian ballet steppers of the day.

The Squirrel Dodgers

"The Squirrel Dodgers" is the illuminating title by which Morton and Dennis are booked. Both are comedians of the first magnitude; they have a line of hilarious patter and comic antics that is a mirth provoker extraordinary, and for good measure they throw in a little music now and then to round out the act.

Kleo Lambert and company will be shown in "Artistic Feats of Grace and Strength," a number in which the physical proweess of a slight but well trained girl is the principal feature.

Jackie Coogan in "Old Clothes" is the movie attraction.

More Truth Than Poetry

THE POLITICAL PRIMER
THE BOSS

A Boss is a person who has no ambition
To hold any splendid or lofty position.
He sits in an office and puffs a cigar
Or drives a large, shining, six-cylinder car,
And says to the gentlemen seeking for places,
"You can't have no jobs, for I don't like your faces."
Or else he observes, "Well, you look good to me—
But I gotta be sure you are regular. See?"

A Boss has no yearning to play to the gallery,
He always is willing to work without salary,
He seldom says things for the papers to quote—
But he tells legislators the way they shall vote,
And if they're heedless and fail to remember
They're not re-elected the coming November—
But fade like a wraith from the popular eye,
And spend the next year or two wondering why.

A Boss cannot rattle off Latin declensions,
But he has a front seat the the party conventions,
Directing with fluent and elegant ease
Possessors of fortunes and college degrees
To make nominations and draw up the platform,
And put resolutions in this form or that form.
His visage is grim and his manner is cold—
And the folk in his following do what they're told.

A Boss doesn't ask any pay from the nation
Although his is a terrible hard occupation.
Yet without any visible means of support
He wears costly raiment and lives like a sport.
The key to this puzzle is hard to arrive at:
We can only conclude that his means must be private—
Or else, like King Midas, of whom we've been told
Whatever he touches is turned to pure gold!

News Of The Fields

Krupka Deep Test

Marland Oil company of Texas was down 3,538 feet and nothing showing yet on its No. 3, Krupka, in the south half of the J. Scott survey, southwest Archer county, Wednesday morning.

NW Archer County

Rosier-Pendleton-Marland were reported drilling past a depth of 925 feet yesterday morning on their No. 1, F. L. Wilson, in the Spaulding survey, southwest of the first Waite Phillips pool in northwest Archer county.

SE Baylor County

Petroleum Producers and Cranfill were reported setting pipe to test yesterday on their No. 6, Mills, one location south and one location east of the northwest corner of the southwest quarter of the TE&LCO survey, block 2427, southeast Baylor county. The well topped the sand at a reported depth of 1,404 feet.

East Wichita

F. O. Harrell is building a derrick for a test in the southwest corner of block 29 of the Comanche county school lands survey. Fasset and Tuttle land, east of Wichita Falls, east Wichita county, and should get spudded there in the near future.

The well will be drilled by the Underwood Drilling company.

Mankins Area

Roy I. Carter No. 3, Parkey, a location south of the northeast corner of the H&TC&RRCO survey, abstract 205, section 11, south of the Waite Phillips Mankins production, had the pipe set Wednesday and was reported to be bailing. Sand had been encountered at the usual depth below 1,700 feet, it was understood.

N. of Archer City

Kentucky Oil corporation and the Empire Gas and Fuel company are reported to have spudded Tuesday on a test on the William Walker survey, about 900 feet almost due south of the old Kentucky hole on the Annie P. Jackson land, this latter located in the southwest corner of the Aldridge survey, school house lot. Inasmuch as this well had a good sand, and a number of other pools, notably Chalk Hill, the Barkley and Meadows, and the Wichtex-Dixie stuff, have been opened up recently in the same general area unusual interest is attached to the outcome of the test.

THOSE UPSETS

The outcome of those Commercial Cage league openers the other night on the Junior college court surprised a majority of pre-season dopsters. The statistical bozos who had followed the four clubs through the past several weeks of practice encounters had it that Texhoma and Landon-Hill were the class of the lot. Whereupon Tuesday night both clubs were bowled over.

• • •

Sharpe's Dixie-Stephens outfit, displaying a bold and rather spectacular attack which was abetted by the sterling defensive work of Bertie Foster, topped Don Faichney's Oilers, 40 to 20. The Texhoma crew is going to find the road a rough one without the services of Pap Peyton on whom they had been banking strongly this season. Pap's going to hook up down in Dallas, quitting Wichita Falls basketball circles.

• • •

Metzger's and Moore's Draughon business five overcame an early lead and outfought Neal's Landon-Hill outfit. Beck, one of Neal's mainstays, failed to come through very strongly. The Draughon outfit had been given up as a tough club to beat, but there were few who didn't believe the sporting goods team would turn the trick.

• • •

INTEREST PICKS UP.

Not a very heavy interest has been taken in Wichita Falls basketball heretofore, but this year with the strongest and fastest league in the annals of the game as played in this sector and with the matter already decided the Wichita Falls champion quintet enters the race for Texas honors the cage sport is expected to move into a much higher status locally.

• • •

JOHNNY PROTESTS

Anent that deal whereby Fort Worth corrals Red Bird, that eccentric Waco wrong-hander who pitched for the Brazos river village last year when the Cats invaded and then was lent to Houston in time to beat the Cowtowners again, our well-informed sporting friend, Johnny Riggs, arises to a point of order and protests.

• • •

'TAINT FAIR.

"Fort Worth certainly is going to great lengths in effort to keep a championship machine," avers Riggs. "They couldn't beat Red Bird, fact of the matter is. Red Bird beat 'em every time he pitched against 'em but once, so they swap Stormy Davis and Wolgamot for him out of self defense."

• • •

Well, well, well. At last we've discovered what was the matter. As you recall, the judges couldn't agree at that Matlock-Martin fight Monday night. One gave the verdict to Matlock, one favored Martin and the other wouldst have called it a draw.

THEM CROOKS!!!

Why, there wasn't supposed to be any decision. Sure, she was all framed up. Nope, it doesn't matter that Jack and Buster all but cut each other to pieces and that both had to have several stitches taken in gashes received during that furious mill. It doesn't matter that each bled like a couple of stock hogs, and stood toe to toe, slugging it out all the way. That fight was fixed, and the judges weren't supposed to give a decision.

• • •

Sure, and how do I know, do you ask? Why W. F. (Slim) Templeton told me so. Yessir, that elongated and exceedingly exurberant sport fan who is always on the know side of these athletic questions confides that 90 per cent of all mat struggles are "fixed" and gosh knows how many of these prize fights.

• • •

Shame, shame on you wrassling boys and leather chunkers for gypping the dear old public.

• • •

THAT FAN COMPLEX.

Slim is an example of the many misinformed sporting gentry who are up in arms every minute griping about something or other. That's a peculiar complex of quite a few sporting gents. Why, a couple of bimbos could half murder each other, and they'd shout frameup. Every time a pitcher loses a game or some heavy hitter strikes out, they yap he's laying down on the job trying to "throw" the game. But just so long as these same bimbos pay up at the ticket office nobody cares, so why talk about it?

Giants' Outlook For 1926 Race Rosier Than '25

Veteran Infielder, Improved Staff, Reorganized Outfield

NEW YORK, Jan 6.—The New York Giants will open their 1926 drive to depose the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates with prospects of an improved pitching staff, a veteran infield restored to 1924 strength and a reorganized outfield.

Although John McGraw frankly conceded Pittsburgh youth and power in a machine which outstripped his club last season, he maintains that the Giants of 1925 were beaten as much because of injuries as by the Pirate offensive. For this reason he has decided to again depend on his veterans. Of the few deals he has made the most notable brought Pitcher Jimmy Ring here for the Phillies in exchange for Wayland Dean and Jack Bentley.

Old Injuries Cure.

Heinie Groh, Frankie Frisch and Travis Jackson, who suffered leg injuries in the last campaign, have recovered and McGraw intends to start them at third base, second and short stop, respectively. He has decided to return versatile George Kelly to first base after having been compelled to use him at second and in the outfield last year.

Unless Groh fails to exhibit old form at the training camp the Giants will hold Fred Lindstrom, Eddie Farrell, former Pennsylvania captain, and Bill Terry, hard hitting young first baseman, in reserve.

As the result of the failure of Bill Southworth and Hack Wilson to measure up to expectations in the outfield last year, "Lefty" Tyson, from Louisville, will be given a chance as an outfield regular with Ross Young and Emil Meusel remaining in the positions they filled last year.

McQuillan Returns.

The Giant chieftain has high hopes for his two young pitching stars, Fred Fitzsimmons and Ken Greenfield.

Hugh McQuillan, suspended last season by McGraw for infractions of the rules, is expected to return to condition. Ring and Arthur Nehf veteran southpaw, are considered particularly effective against the Pirates. Jack Scott, Virgil Barnes and Jack Wisner also will be available.

As for catchers indications are that the club will depend upon the veterans, Frank Snyder and Grover Hartley, and the Wichita Recruit Hughie McMullin.

ONLY SIX PLAYED IN ALL AMERICAN LEAGUE GAMES.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Box scores of the American League during the 1925 season contained the names of 264 players. Only six of this number had the distinction of playing in every game during the year.

According to statistics compiled here, 188 players participated in fifteen or more games, while 76 were credited with participation in less than fifteen games. The six players who went through without missing a game were Joe Sewell of the Cleveland Indians; Sam Rice, Washington; Al Simmons, Philadelphia Athletics; Bib Falk, Chicago White Sox; Bob Meusel, New York Yankees and Marty McManus, St. Louis Browns.

The Boston and Detroit clubs were the only ones that failed to have a player participate in all of their games.

Grisham, Carnaham, Preston, Cooledge Flash With Tigers

ELECTRA, Jan. 6.—The Tiger cagers were sent through a lengthy workout here Tuesday afternoon which consisted of a goal tossing practice and a short scrimmage between two picked teams.

Lonnie Grisham, rangy lad who showed up well the first of the season but who has been ineligible, was out with the squad Tuesday and made an impressive showing as a defensive performer. He is apt to make the Tigers a valuable man this season. Willis Carnaham at center for the regulars looked good both on the defense and offense, getting a number of neat goals from the floor. Harry Preston at forward also looked good at goal tossing. Roy Cooledge continues to shine at stationary guard for the first team. He bids fair toward making this position his regular berth as the Tigers have been sorely in need of a man for this position since Aven quit the squad.

Dewey Byrd, second team forward, was the star of the afternoon practice on the offense, getting goals in great regularity throughout the scrimmage session. He came through with a number of baskets from the center of the floor.

LAW RATS WITH TIGERS.

AUSTIN, Jnan. 6.—(AP)—Dr. R A. Law, member of the Texas university interscholastic league executive committee, will be official representative of the league at Waco Friday night when a banquet will be given the high school championship Waco football team. BRAVES WOULD PLAY FOOTBALL

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The Boston National league baseball club has applied for a franchise in the national professional football league and plan, if successful to place a salaried eleven in the field for the next two seasons, Secretary Edwin Riley announced today. The project was planned partly as an economic addition to the Braves field baseball park, Riley said, as the leaders of the National league club hoped to make up for many months of baseball idleness by filling the stands in the fall and winter months.

The Braves are the first major league club to throw its lot in with professional football, although the New York Giants last season lent their name and grounds to a club promoted by outside interests.

Landon Hill To Meet Lone Star

The Landon-Hill basketball club of the city league will play the Lone Star gas team of Petrolia, on the Iowa Park court Friday night according to an announcement by Manager C. E. Neal of Landon-Hill.

The city leaguers are trying to whip their team into shape for their next scheduled battle in the league. Neal's crew meets the Dixie-Stephens team next Tuesday night in the second game of the title race.

Landon Hill probably will start Beck and Kolp at forward, Van Horn at center, and Clary and Rice at guard in the Lone Star gas contest.

Jabs and Hooks

About that championship loving cup to be presented by the legion Monday night to the winner of the Trammel-White fight: the trophy will be defended on the following week, says Don Wofford. He intends to bring in Jimmy Owens to meet the holder of the trophy.

Effort also is being taken to get Clyde Hull down here from Massachusetts to meet Tommy White, providing the Texas City scrapper doesn't meet any reverses in the meantime.

White blew in Tuesday a bit heavier than usual. He looked pretty good yesterday in workout session, however.

Tommy returned to Houston three weeks ago from a tour through Mexico where he took fighters in three different weights, welter, middle and light heavyweight. He was very successful. The past three weeks he's taken a layoff, visiting the home folk during the holidays.

White likes Jack Dempsey. Met the heavy champ in Mexico, he said, ran around with him quite a bit, incidently had his picture taken with him. Jack won't let anybody else in the crowd spend a nickel, according to Tommy, always makes the other fellow put up his money when it comes time to pay off. Great spender, is Jack, he declares.

Tex Ray, running a boxing school nowadays down in Fort Worth, probably will fight the semi-windup fight Monday night with Jackie Burns.

Jake Regains 18.2 Balk Line Crown

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Young Jake Schaefer, twice former champion today regained the world's title at 18.2 balk line billiards to the United States, when he defeated Edouard Horemans, Belgian title holder, 1,500 to 800, after three 500 point block of play.

The score for the final block today was: Schaefer 500; Horemans 318.

GRID NOT EMPHASIZED TOO MUCH IN S'WEST

AUSTIN, Jan. 6.—Football has not been over emphasized in the southwest conference, though extraordinary vigilance must be emphasized by responsible school authorities to guard against such an abuse, Dr. D. A. Penick, president, said today.

Dr. Penick, a Texas university professor of Greek and Latin, represented his conference at the holiday meeting in New York of the National Collegiate Athletic association, before which football "over emphasis" was thoroughly discussed. "I don't think we've reached the point in the southwest conference where we're spending too much time and money on football," he said.

NIGHT HAWKS TO MEET ELECTRA K. OF P. AGAIN.

The Clara Night Hawks will take on the Electra K. P. Friday night on the Clara court. These two teams met recently and the Night Hawks won the game with ease. Now the Electra club is back for another try.

The Clara faculty team has a good record this year and hope to add to their already large string of victories, the Electra club for the second time.

Legion Puts Up Trophy for Best Southwest Boxer

Look out! Look out!

They've gone and done it now. Yeah, the Pat Carrigan post of the American legion is going to decide for itself just who or what is the best welterweight mittster in the sonothwest.

Many aver Tommy White is king of 'em all at this weight down this way. Quite a few declare Duke Trammel has it on 'em. Several say Jimmy Owens is the best, and so on down the line.

So the legion plans to decide by right of conquest, so to speak, the welter championship of the southwest. A silver loving cup is to be presented to the winner of the White-Trammel match scheduled Monday night at the 812 1-2 Scott gym. This championship trophy, properly engraved, is to go permanently to the man who retains it for 12 consecutive months.

A sort of commission to govern the staging of matches in which the cup is involved has been appointed. This commish is composed of Bill McDermott, Morris Wolfe and Blondy Cross.

The fighter winning the cup goes under contract to the commission to defend the trophy at any time against any logical contender selected by the commish upon being given 30 days notice.

There may be fighters who do not believe the winner of the Trammel-White bout the best in the southwest at the weight. These gentlemen will be given full privilege to prove such contention fistically.

The Passing Hour

~ by Wm. B. Ruggles ~

COMPENSATION

They talk about the Dempsey punch;
They say it makes the fighters quail;
Imagination plays a hunch
And writes that even realms of tale
Scarce lure the heavyweighting clan
To meet that pile-drive jolt again!
Ah, well, the bruiser's but a man—
He knows the purse outlasts the pain.

It may be that the gents who seek
To face the champion in a ring
Expect to play a role but meek
And take their fighting on the wing—
That they must lose, they are aware;
But for the test you find them fain—
Who sneezes at the loser's share?
Always the purse outlasts the pain.

The Fallacy.

Regarding an editorial in this column the other day pointing out that by holding the annual meetings of the national association at expensive points, the minors government is concentrated in its minority, the double A and A leagues, one class A magnate replies that this is justifiable. The point he makes is that as only the A and AA loops are permanent, the others being transitoroy in character, the stable larger minors should carry the burden of government and planning.

This would be logical enough were it not a variety of specious reasoning. For in adopting it, the double A and A leagues are attempting to enact two roles. The chief reason for the national association is a guarantee of protection against encroachment by the majors. The higher minors complain bitterly that they are not given consideration by the two major leagues, which would prefer to regard their continued existence as only to aggrandize the American and National leagues. Yet this is exactly the reasoning which the two high classes of minors adopt towards the lower.

As a matter of fact, every organized league formed and maintained is a help to the others. Without a sufficient number to recruit the field, it is doubtful if the game would long go on.

Each section of the game has to learn its lesson of the value of the others to the machine.

The horse is the swiftest thing that goes on feet.—Collier's weekly. This will come as information to the modern novelist specializing in the flapper.

Japanese will put tax on baseball. Going us one better. Baseball puts the tax on us.

No Comparison.

The friends back home at Marion, Ohio, of George Pfann, Cornell quarterback and captain, now a Rhodes scholarship winner, seize the announcement of this honor to point a comparison between the studious young athlete who has rejected frequent offers to play pro football in favor of scholarly attainments, and the highly pressagented Grange, who took the dollar way.

With all due admiration of Pfann's allegiance to the amateur and scholarly ideal, it must still be pointed out that there is no comparison. For Harold Grange, the somewhat celebrated Wheaton iceman, had no intimate acquaintance with the dollar, except in single units, and was naturally dazed by the golden glow opened up before him. Whereas, of young Mr. Pfann it is submitted from Marion that "his mother, daughter of one of Marion's wealthiest citizens, died a few years ago. Both children inherited a small fortune from their mother."

The folks at Marion are again referred to George Phair's still unquestioned definition of an amateur —"an athlete with a rich father."

"What baseball needs"—it is Edward Trowbridge Collins broadcasting—"is more of enthusiasm for the home team—the desire to see it win." This is Mr. Collins of Philadelphia speaking. His avocation is that of a manager, field captain and second baseman of the Chicago American league club.

If the two major leagues' 16 clubs were composed entirely of native sons, what this country would need would be more seating capacity at the vaudeville matinee.

Another Famous Substitution.

This column took occasion yesterday to air, via the "Nebraska Alumnus" a past misdeed of Fielding H. Yost in the case of Krebs who helped Kansas beat Nebraska in 1890. Old-timers hereabouts may be stirred to another memory with a glance at the list of officials for the Pasadena New Year's game. One of the four was George Varnell, once of Chicago, now of Spokane.

Varnell obtained some celebrity at Chicago. But old Longhorn rooters may recall the phenomenal halfback that enabled Kentucky U (now Transylvania) to defeat Texas in the fall of 1905—a year that the Orange team included Hastings, Crain, Parrish, Rowe, Francis, Wilkerson, Blocker, Bob Ramsdell, Bowie Duncan among others.

It was the same Warnell, who, according to subsequent revelations, had been picked up on the team's way south. He is regarded as one of the coat's best officials now. Well, he was a derned good halfback.

USE SULPHUR IF SKIN BREAKS OUT

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist.

This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. Get a jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

Let a trial of Mentho-Sulphur show what this means to you. Send the coupon for it. Clip it now

Stop a Cold In a Day

We paid $1,000,000 for this Method

You can end a cold in 24 hours. But you must use the right way, the complete way.

It does more than end a cold. It checks the fever, stops the headache, opens the bowels, tones the entire system. It leaves one in better condition than when the cold began.

That way is HILL'S. It is such a super-help that we paid $1,000,000 for it. It is so well-proved that millions have come to employ it.

Start HILL'S today, and relief comes tomorrow. Use it promptly, and the cold does not get started. Use it a few days, and the damage is ended. One usually feels better than when the cold began.

A cold is a serious matter. Deal with it in the best way science knows. That way is HILL'S. All druggists.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

MILLIONS DIE OF INDIGESTION

Most Common, Yet Insidious Of Fatal Diseases Strikes Like Lightning and When Least Expected.

Protect yourself by strengthening your digestive organs with Ferraline—then eat wha. you please without fear of trouble.

Nature, with Her infinite wisdom, has provided in Ferraline a quick and sure relief for the millions who are living in constant fear of that dreaded disease—Indigestion. Ferraline is not a concoction made by man but it is a strictly natural product, and contains the essential elements which Nature has provided to strengthen and tone up the weakened organs of digestion.

Indigestion and weak blood march hand-in-hand. No dyspeptic can have pure rich blood until his digestion is made perfect again. Stomach disorders always weaken the blood and weak blood causes anaemia, weakness and nervousness.

If you have had warnings of Indigestion do not delay another day to accept the positive guarantee that your money will be promptly and cheerfully refunded if the very first bottle of Ferraline does not give you relief. Don't be misled into believing that heart-burn, gas, bloating, constipation, biliousness, sck-stomach, heart and kidney pains will gradually go away. These are danger signals warning you that the dread diseases, Indigestion, is gradually sapping your very life. Regenerate your digestive organs at once with Ferraline, then you can eat three good meals every day without discomfort. A ten-days treatment of Ferraline will cost you only One Dollar at your druggists.

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Flu

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children. Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night. —Adv.

Dear Mr. Investor—

We have for sale the following lands:

1280 acres, being sections 23 and 18, block 14, Wilbarger county; 600 acres in cultivation and grain. Price $30.00 per acre.

456 acres in two different tracts, near Charlie, Texas. One being 225 acres in Wichita county farm land. When the Clay county irrigation project is extended, these will come under that project. The other tract of 231 acres is Red River sandy land. Made one-half bale of cotton to the acre this year. Does not blow very much.

We consider these two latter tracts as an exceptional bargain and would like to have a working interest or one-half interest in this property, if some one would agree to finance it. We will pay the interest on our part. These lands make crops every year and would be self supporting.

There is a loan of $10,000 against this property, the balance would be cash. Price $55.00 per acre.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The cotton market, although not particularly active today nevertheless showed an upward trend to prices and a good part of yesterday's decline was recovered. Following a slight early decline of five to seven points the market rallied and prices were on the upgrade nearly all day, occasional reactions being significant. The highs were reached right at the end, showing gains over the early lows of 21 to 27 points. The main stimulating influence was the better demand for spots. The close showed net gains for the day of 10 to 24 points but later months were practically unchanged, although Liverpool cables were slightly better than due. Shortly after the call prices eased off five to seven points compared with yesterday's finish to these levels remained the lows of the day. Prices soon started to rally due to the reports from southern markets and also from the local market of a better demand for spots. There were also reports from freight brokers in Galveston as well as here that a large amount of freight room had been booked for January and February shipment.

By noon January traded at 19.79, March at 19.34 and May at 18.93, or 14 to 20 points up from the lows. After a period of quiet accompanied by a few points reaction, prices again advanced and made the highest of the day in the late trading, 35 to 37 points up from the lows of the morning. The close was at the top.

Exports for the day totaled 31,785 bales.

NEW YORK FUTURES.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Cotton futures closed steady at net advance of 13 to 32 points.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The cotton market today recovered part of yesterday's losses on renewed covering by near month shorts who appeared to be influenced by reiterated rumors of probable shipments from the trade and reports of a steadier spot situation in the south. March contracts led the advance, selling up to 19.98 or 24 points not higher. March closed at 19.93, the general market closing very steady at net advances of 12 to 22 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of one to four points on the comparatively steady showing of Liverpool and covering by some of yesterday's sellers. A small amount of southern selling, and selling for Wall Street or western account at the opening, was absorbed on slight setbacks, and the market was quiet but steady during mid-day. Later the demand from near month trade or speculative sheets became a little more active owing to rumors that a considerable part of the certificated cotton held in the warehouses here was destined for export. About 3,000 bales of the local cotton has been shipped out since the end of December, which naturally tended to color the talk of further shipments although some traders here said they thought the rumors were exaggerated. Offerings were light and it did not require a great deal of buying to send the price of January up to 20.07 and July to 19.06, net advances of about 13 to 24 points o nthe general list. Last prices were within a point or two of the best.

Private cables said bodge selling in Liverpool has been absorbed by re-buying and trade calling, and the advance in American cotton was probably encouraged by the firmer ruling of the market for Egyptian, which was about 30 to 35 points higher in Alexandria. Reports that cotton men in Atlanta yesterday urged a reduction of 25 per cent in acreage may have been a factor but the near-month firmness was the chief feature.

Exports today 31,785, making 4,794,768 so far this season. Port receipts 31,116. U. S. port stock 1,648,967 bales.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The stock market offered better resistance to disclosed considerable irregularity. The selling pressure today but price movements opening tone wasas heavy as a result of a large accumulation of overnight selling orders particularly in the motors and oils. Offerings were fairly well avsorbed, however, and the market headed upward after mid-day but sagged again in the final dealings. Trading was on a reduced scale, the day's sales falling just short of 1,735,000 shares.

The day's business and financial news was largely favorable. The weekly steel trade reviews pointed out that current operations were running close to the pre-holiday level, despite the fact that new business does not ordinarily develop in large volume until the middle of the month. The federal mining and smelting company announced the payment of a dividend of $10 on the common and authorized the payment of $19.25 a share in arrears on the preferred stock; the American Cigar company raised its annual rate from seven to eight per cent and the American Water Works company declared an extra of 2½ per cent in stock.

Steel shares displayed a strong undertone with buying influenced by prospects of another favorable tonnage statement by the United States Steel corporation this week. U. S. Steel common crossed 138 in the early afternoon but settled back to 137¼ where it was up one point on the day. The brisk demand for Republic Steel was based on expectations of an early resumption of dividends.

Heavy liquidation of the Pan-American issues in further reflection of the adverse federal court decision in California brought about a sympathetic reaction in some of the other oil shares. General Asphalt common and preferred however advanced to their highest prices since 1922.

Rails were reactionary although special strength developed in Delaware and Hudson, the stock showing an extreme gain of nearly five points at 161½, the highest since 1913.

Pacific Coast was the outstanding strong spot among the specialties, soaring 13½ points to 45, a new high record.

Federal Mining and Smelting broke from 111 to 99¾ on the announcement of the dividend but rallied later to 104½ for a net loss of 4½ points. The preferred touched a new high record at 105 and then eased to 103, up ⅝ on the day.

Call money renewed at 4½ per cent and then dropped to 4, closing at the low figure. Time money rates were a shade easier, 90-day maturities being available as low as 4¼ instead of 4½ per cent, the prevailing rate of the last few weeks. Prime commercial paper was unchanged at 4¼ to 4½ per cent.

Market Gossip

Booth and Burmeister, brokers, basement Wagoner Bldg., today received the following market comment from J. S. Bache and company of Chicago and New York:

GRAINS.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Wheat market erratic during the early part of the session with prices generally lower. Short covering by the trade resulted in a quick recovery and later prices were at somewhat higher levels than the previous closing. The outside trade continues very limited which accounts for the extremely rapid fluctuations. Foreign demand continues limited and a further recession is necessary to improve the technical position of the market.

Coarse Grains—Fair commission house buying appears in corn on the sharp breaks, and prices averaged higher despite the easier tone in wheat. Bulk of the buying appears to be based on the idea that congress can draft and pass legislation to help producers. It remains to be seen if it can find time to get this work. Contry offerings remain small. Southern demand for oats shows improvement. More interest taken in rye, and should Poland prohibit exports as indicated by cables the foreign demand should improve.

COTTON.

There has been an underlying strength to the market all during the day with the price level now at about the high. It seems probable from yesterday, January and March showing the greatest strength due no doubt to the imminent shipment of a very large proportion of the certificated stock out of New York.

Speculative interests was on buying side, and large operators are supposed to be along a considerable quantity of cotton and apparently buy more on weak spots. On the other hand, in our opinion, there is a very large quantity of cotton in the market for sale. We see nothing in the immediate future calculated to create any very violent fluctuations either up or down.

Poll Tax Payments Coming Slowly As Time Limit Nears

Only about 4,500 people of Wichita county have paid their poll tax, according to tax collector Guy C. Raley yesterday, who estimated about 15,000 people would have to pay between now and February 1 to bring the Wichita county voting strength up to par. To facilitate collection at the end of the month when there is usually a last minute rush booths are to be installed at various downtown points during the last week in January where the tax may be paid without the usual visit to the courthouse.

Poll tax receipts are prerequisities of the voting privilege in Texas. While payment is not compulsory, a special drive is being made this year to make the number of those paying as large as possible in order t oincrease the potential voting strength of the county in the coming state elections.

TAX COLLECTIONS ARE GOOD

Citizens of Electra and Burkburnett are being offered, for the first time, facilities for the payment of their taxes in their home towns without making the trip to Wichita Falls for that purpose. W. C. Harris is taking care of collections at Electra and W. A. Roberts of the chamber of commerce handling them at Burkburnett. Residents of those cities and the surrounding country may pay the collectors there, who in turn mail the money to Wichita Falls, where receipts are made out and returned to the collectors for distribution among the payees.

Mr. Raley and three deputies, who were in Electra all day Tuesday, collected about $12,000 in taxes, including 300 poll tax and 300 auto tax items.

MAJESTIC CARD WELL-ROUNDED

Zelaya Gets Across With Music Stunt—Snoozer Real Hit

The Majestic theatre presents an evenly balanced vaudeville card this week, nothing sensational, but a well-rounded program. It got over bit with Wednesday evening's audience.

Senor Don Alphonse Zelaya, the South American pianist, led the bill with musica, wit and philosophy act which received heavy appreciation from the crowd.

The act of Meredith and Snoozer won the hearts of all. Snoozer is an educated bulldog, an intellectual canine, so to speak, whose display of intelligence is astonishing. It's by far the best dog act put on in Wichita Falls the current season.

Earl Hampton with Madge McCarthy and Frank Townsend kept the crowd in high spirits with a comedy skit "Meet Dad" that is rapid fire in repartee all the way.

Laura Ormsbee, vocalist, with Hal Findlay at the piano put across a pleasing bit of melody and some rare harmony with Findlay's tenor voice chiming in.

George Schreck and company, the "Butter and Egg Man," headline the offering with an unique song and dance revue. The act is an exceedingly clever one. It'll be many a long day before another dancer of the eccentric and clog variety Schreck characterizes comes to Wichita Falls. He is well supported by a quartet of talented young women and a pair of male dancers and singers.

In observance of the week of prayer the third of a series of programs will be given at the Yale Avenue Evangelical church tonight beginning at 7 o'clock. The theme of the meeting is "Pray for Missions, Home and Foreign."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, for only 75 cents. It is improved by the addition of other ingredients, and is called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

ROAD BONDS TO BE MADE GOOD

Texas Will Not Allow Investors to Lose, Moody Declares

DALLAS, Jan. 7.—(AP)—"The good name of Texas and the quality of her citizenry are ample guarantee that whatever is necessary will be done in order to make sure that people who have bought Texas road bonds will be paid their money."

These words of Attorney General Dan Moody of Texas contained in a statement to the press Thursday, were given endorsement today by Wirt Davis, president of the Republic Trust and Savings bank of Dallas. Mr. Davis sent a telegram to the Wall Street Journal and twenty-five or thirty international bankers saying:

Supports Moody.

"With reference to the opinion of the supreme court of the United States on the validity of certain unsold special road district bonds of Archer county, Texas, this bank wishes to endose most cordially the sentiment of Mr. Dan Moody, attorney general of Texas." The quotation from Mr. Moody's statement to the press was inserted in the telegram.

"We believe with the attorney general that the proper authorities will take every necessary action to preserve the credit and good name of Texas in the business world, and that the bonds of the road districts, involved by implication or otherwise in the supreme court's opinion will be properly met, principal and interest.

To Protest Rights.

"In expressing this opinion, we wish to assure the bankers and the investing public of this country that this bank pledges itself to use every proper effort to the end that the right of holders of Texas road district bonds be protected."

(Signed) "Republic Trust and Savings Bank," Dallas, Texas, by Wirt Davis, president.

C-C HAS STAGE

portant function of marking ballots for new directors will take place. Every man holding a ticket will be presented a ballot when he turns in his admission slip at the door. Sometime between then and the time he goes to the dining table he is expected to study the list of directorial candidates, make his decision as to who can best serve Wichita Falls as a chamber of commerce director, and mark his ballot accordingly.

Ballots will be collected as the diners go to the cafeteria and tellers will immediatey begin counting them so that the results of the election may be known before the crowd is dismissed.

In the dining hall the first item of importance, of course, will be the turkey dinner that is now in process of preparation. This has been prepared under the direction of Mrs. K. R. Keith of the Junior college dining room staff and will be served by a corps of young women from the Business and Professional Women's club. Miss Elizabeth Miller, president of the club, will be in active charge.

A supervising service committee headed by Mrs. P. A. Welty will be on han dto superintened the netual service. A laying of tables committee directed by Mrs. Henry Hines will be busy all day today taking care of this important item. The decorating committee, also, under the direction of Mrs. Jouette Bonner will finish up its work of decorating the big cafeteria room. All ladies committees have been organized and headed by Mrs. W. P. Killingsworth.

With the dinner under way music will be supplied by the high school stringed orchestra—and at the conclusion of the meal, the program will start.

Entertainment, Education.

This will include entertainment and instruct on, moulded into a well-balanced ensemble. It will have, for instance, vocal numbers by Misses Juel and Adelle Ray and a solo by Rev. Leslie Miller, one of the most popular vocal artists in the city. The addresses will include the usual president's address, this year by J. T. Harrell, president of the chamber of commerce, who will review the activities and accomplishments of the past year. Mr. Harrell will also be toastmaster of the evening and preside at the entire dinner.

In addition to Mr. Harrell's report, which will be in the nature of an address, to other speakers have been secured to provide oratorical encouragement to the city's builders for the coming 12 months. These two are Charles I. Francis, prominent Wichita Falls attorney, and Ed S. Vaught, Oklahoma City attorney, who is being brought here to regale tonight's crowd with his inimitable witticisms, his brilliant humor, sound philosophy and constructive suggestions. Mr. Vaught is expected in the city early this morning.

Ticket sales Thursday night stood at the "sold out" figure. It was reported from the chamber of commerce offices that practically all of the 650 seats had been reserved and that tonight's affair would find one of the largest crowds ever assembled under a single roof in Wichita Falls, ready for the evening's fun and education.

Gen. Malone Asks Them To Aid In Enforcing Dry Law.

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Wives of members of the second division, United States army, were appealed to today to aid in enforcing a military order prohibiting the use of intoxicating liquor. Brigadier General Paul B. Malone, division commander called women of the command into the assembly of division officers for the first time and warned them of the bad effect on their husbands' army careers which would result from drinking liquor at dinner parties.

Grandfield Area in Excellent Shape, Says President of Bank On Business Visit in This City

O. H. Maricle Optimistic Over Conditions in His Community With Cotton Yield Already Above 1924 Figures

All southwest Oklahoma, Tillman county in particular and Grandfield more specifically yet is enjoying one of the most prosperous years in its history. Cotton production has mounted high and while price recessions have hurt somewhat, the section's basic business, agriculture, is in good shape.

This is the statement of O. H. Maricle, president of the Tillman county bank of Grandfield who was in Wichita Falls Thursday on business.

"We are mighty well pleased with things in our section," Mr. Maricle declared. "Last year our county produced 12,500 bales of cotton and this year, with most of our ginning done but a little more to come in, we have already gone around the 14,000 bale mark.

"In Grandfield the installation and operation of new ginning equipment has helped us immensely."

COX SHIELDS TIMIDITY

Ex-Presidential Nominee Calls For Leaders "Who Are Unafraid"

SIDNEY, Ohio, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Chiding "timid souls who would put expediency before principle because they are disheartened by democratic losses" James E. Cox, former governor of Ohio, in a letter read at a Jackson day celebration here, called for positive leadership by "men unafraid."

A revolution of public opinion will result, he predicted, from the administration policy which concern "nothing save the welfare of the dollar."

4 CHILDREN DIE WHEN HOME BURNS AFTER BLAST

LISTOWEL, Ont., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Four children of Mr. and Mrs. William Sharp, ranging in age from 3 to 15 years, lost their lives today when fire caused by explosion of a lamp destroyed their home on the outskirts of this city.

DRAMATISTS SHOP FORMED.

Playwrights Organize to Force Movie Men to Deal With Them.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(AP)—More than 100 leading New York playwrights today formed a "dramatists shop" to forestall what they construe as an attempt of motion picture producers to corner the New York play market. The "shop" is a committee through which it is planned to force the movie men to deal directly with the dramatists, in acquiring moving picture rights of stage plays.

CANTWELL IS SPEAKER.

Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of schools and president of Junior college, was principal speaker at the chapel program Thursday. He urged the continuance of the student support of athletic contests throughout the winter and spring seasons, and pointed out that their interest was necessary to make it a self-sustaining proposition.

ATTACKS CAL FOR U.S. TRUSTS

Congressman Connally Says He "Cripples" Tariff Board

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(AP)—President Coolidge was attacked in the house today by Representative Connally, democrat, Texas, who contended he had encouraged the development of trusts.

The executive, he charged, has sought "to cripple" the tariff commission and to destroy the federal trade commission, a body created by congress to control trusts.

Refers to Speech.

Referring to the president's speech before the New York state chamber of commerce in New York City last November, Mr. Connally said Mr. Coolidge had disclosed the opinion that big business has had faults, may have faults in the future, but nothing is wrong with it now.

Describing this as "a marvelous situation," the representative "wondered" if the president had in mind a number of big "trusts" that exist at present. He then enumerated a number of large business enterprises, including the Aluminum Company of America, the Standard Oil Company of New York, the Pacific Oil Company of California, the General Electric company and the Continental Baking company.

NEW INVENTION SAVES MILLIONS

A Lamp that burns 94% Air

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 percent air and 6 percent common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, J. T. Johnson, 600 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Adv.

"Where Buyer and Seller Meet"

More Truth Than Poetry

THE PAT ON THE HEAD

I know how you feel, Mister Seven Year Old.
You haven't strayed out of the yard;
You haven't done just exactly as you have been told,
A thing that is dreadfully hard.
When mother told father how good you had been
When he sat down to dinner at night,
And father replied with a meaningless grin,
"He cannot be feeling quite right."
Then both of them kissed you and sent you to bed,
And all that you got was a pat on the head.

It isn't so easy to try to be good
When there's lots of bad things to be done,
And even when children behave as they should
And miss such fine chances for fun—
And think that, perhaps, they have earned a reward
Like a few pounds of candy or so,
That anyone's parents should surely afford.
Do they get what they're wishing for? No!
They'd be glad of a toy or a book, but instead
They are always put off with a pat on the head.

And so, I'm afraid it will be by and by,
When they put soft temptation aside—
And view with a wistful and half suppressed sigh
The fun that the good are denied
Though conscious that virtue is noble and fine,
They will find it evokes scant acclaim—
And that while they pursue it they well may resign
Any hope of great riches or fame.
The best they will get is that same little pat,
And they'll play in big luck if they even get that!

HURRAY FOR RIP

Ripper intends to try a comeback.

Rip Wheeler who departed Wichita Falls last summer at outs with the management, in an irritable frame of mind and with the hope possibly burning in his breast that he may never see this city again, is going to start over, he declares.

* * *

The erstwhile very effective Spudder right hander failed to get over during the 1925 season. He couldn't get started. Became crabbed, was roasted by the fans, and in general suffered an exceedingly unsuccessful and also unpleasant baseball year.

* * *

But Rip's been indulging in a bit of heavy thinking. He's chalked 1925 off the slate entirely, will try to forget it, and plans to come back to Wichita Falls, incidently, where he gained his first fame as a pitcher, and endeavor to make good all over, he says.

* * *

"I want to come back to the club with which I enjoyed possibly my biggest success as a pitcher and start again," declared Rip in a missive to President Gardner. "I want to come back and wipe the slate clean; show the fans of Wichita Falls I can make good.

* * *

Rip was handicapped last year with a sore arm. Never did round into shape, and midway in the race quit the team.

* * *

He says he believes the injury has healed, in fact, was all to the OK last fall when he twirled several semi-pro contests.

* * *

One point in Wheeler's favor; he isn't afflicted with the habits and forms of dissipation a number of otherwise sterling ball players handicap themselves with. Rip doesn't smoke, doesn't drink, and does not run around much or keep late hours.

* * *

WINTER WEATHER

Gee, but it's cold, you say?
Yet, straw hats are in vogue today.
Overcoats may be in style—
Others don bath suits and smile.

* * *

ASK FITZ

Yeah, it may be chilly enough here to freeze the ear muffs off a fireman in the furnace section of a smelting plant, but there's one Spudder athlete who isn't worrying about the shortage of gas, frozen radiators and the like. Our Howard Fitzgerald, that rollicking southpaw outer gardner, is playing ball twice a week in a winter league out Miami way.

* * *

The present is the biggest straw hat season in the history of the city and they're going in more for the aquatics and salt water stuff than ever, opines W. H. (Billy) Richardson who has just returned from a two-week visit in the Florida metropolis.

* * *

Twice-a-week ball isn't enough to put Fitz into condition, but it'll serve as a limbering up process, paving the road to easier conditioning when he swings in the spring training spree here in March.

* * *

ANOTHER WISE CRACK

Another one of these presumptious bozos who doubtless had never played the game and surely has seen but few contests made a crack yesterday about how effeminate(?) a form of sport basketball happens to be. He was standing in the Kemp lobby. It was coincidental that we eased on down to Landon-Hills a few seconds later and walked in on a crew of basketballers, every one of whom was crippled up in some manner or another.

* * *

Don Falchney, lanky Texahoma center, and Preston Beck, Landon-Hill forward, were in a pretty bad way. Falchney had just returned from a session with a doctor who had pulled a piece of tooth out of his (Don's) lower lip and taken several stitches in the wound. It was injury received Wednesday night in practice encounter when Falchney collided with Denny. Beck was nursing a bandaged dome, very effeminate and sissified sort of game, this basketball—oh yus, yus, yus.

* * *

MORE EL TORO FOR WILL.

That Texas league delegation which includes J. Alvin Gardner of Wichita Falls, the Fort Worth trio of LaGrave, Arz and Zoeller, Morris, Conley and Lupton of Dallas, Tarleton and Heckman of Shreveport along with the south Texas moguls en route to the annual baseball pow-wow intend to stop over in El Paso and take in a bull fight across the river. But the real bull throwing contest doesn't come off until they arrive at Catalina Islands, slyly avers J. William Gray.

* * *

SMART PERSON

Speaking of Gray, there's a young man who ought to get far along in life. He's a very saving person and is always managing to get something for nothing. An example: yesterday at that Rotary club luncheon when Jack Edwards extended invitation to the organization to be Edna Park's guests at the showing of "East Is West" Tuesday night, Mr. Gray was the speediest in jumping to his feet and accepting the bid. He was the last to sit down after a count was taken of those who signified intention of witnessing the play.

LUQUE GOES UNDER KNIFE.

HAVANA, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Adolfo Luque, Cincinnati National League baseball pitcher, who is suffering from appendicitis, will be operated on tomorrow, his physician said today.

Noska Says He'll Wallop Dick Tonight

"I Can Get Just as Rough As Daviscourt," Avers Bohemian

THE CARD.

Dick Daviscourt versus Paul Noska. Heavyweights, best two out of three falls.

Jack Gorman versus Bill Andrews. Lightweights, best two out of three falls.

Place: 812 1-2 Scott Street gym.
Time: 8:30 o'clock tonight.

All set and ready to go, declared Alec Ross, matchmaker for the Wichita Falls wrestling association, last night.

Jackie Gorman has been on hand all week training hard for his match with the formidable Andrews, graduate from the Farmer Burns school, and the popular little Plainview grappler believes he'll win out.

Noska arrived last night primed for his affair with Daviscourt. When told of the rough tactics big Dick used against Ad Santel here two weeks back, Paul scowled and said: "I'll show him something if he gets dirty with me. I understand he kicked Jim Londos the Greek and nearly knocked him out," continued Noska. "But I'll stop him. I can get just as rough as he can."

Daviscourt wired from Dallas to effect that he is ready to perform and will arrive in Wichita Falls early this morning.

No referee has as yet been selected for the heavyweight bout tonight. Both Daviscourt and Noska have threatened to throw Referee Gene Liepold overboard should he crawl between the ropes. Each has a grouch on against the diminutive official because he attempted to bar a whole lot of the rough stuff each used in matches here with Santel.

White Elephants Register Pair Of Player Changes

French Succeeds Miller In Right—Houser Returns

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—(AP) Only two changes are in prospect for the Philadelphia Athletics, runners up in the American League race last season.

In right field, Walter French, erstwhile all around army star, who played brilliantly toward the close of 1925, is slated to succeed Bing Miller. Joe Hauser, whose broken knee cap early last spring forced him out of the game, is expected to return to first base.

Otherwise, Connie Mack, 64-year-old leader, stands pat on the outfit that set a sensational pace in 1925, until September. Mack expects stronger opposition from nearly all the clubs this year, but is confident his combination of youth and experience, benefitted by additional seasoning, will make a strong pennant bid.

Unusual Battery Strength.

Besides one of the hardest hitting outfields in the game and an infield of more than average ability, Mack possesses unusual battery strength. Mickey Cochrane was the 1925 sensation behind the plate. The Athletics have another promising catcher in Fox, an 18-year-old recruit.

Mack has three star right handers in Sammy Gray, Eddie Rommel and Slim Harriss, in addition to the veteran Jack Quinn.

Lefty Grove, a $106,000 investment, failed to meet expectations last year but convinced Mack that he has the stuff with which to make good this season. The other portside talent includes Baumgartner and Heimach, veterans; Joe Pate, 32-year-old draft product of Fort Worth, and Willis, recalled from Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Dukes May Oust Hale.

Jimmy Dukes will have the preference over Sammy Hale at third while Dick Galloway and Max Bishop again will hold down shortstop and second base, respectively, with Bill Wambsganss, obtained from the Red Sox, as chief utility man.

"Waterbucket Al" Simmons, the club's heaviest hitter in 1925, is a fixture in centerfield. Bill Lamar is slated to patrol left field again. Miller and Welch, both seasoned players, will be held in reserve. George O'Brien, young fly chaser from Dallas, is a promising rookie.

PACK ALL SET FOR BIG HAWK GAME TONIGHT

Ray and Francis Slip 'Em Into Basket With Regularity

The Coyotes took their final workout of any importance Thursday before their game tonight on the Iowa Park court. The club is in fine shape and rearing for action. The Hawks will have a bit of the advantage on the Coyotes through the fact they have played three games and have been at practice longer since the holidays than has the pack.

Perk Ray and Coyal Francis, two leading point getters of the club, hit their stride again Thursday and piled up a goodly number of baskets during the practice. This pair will form the bulwark of the offense on the Park court tonight.

The probable starting lineups:

Iowa Park:		Coyotes:
Filmore	Forward.	Howard
Beasley	Forward.	Sisk
Enloe	Center.	Francis
Fields	Guard.	Ray
Cheaves	Guard.	Brown

LANDON-HILL VS. HARROLD.

The Landon-Hill basketball team will meet the Harrold high school on the Iowa Park court tonight instead of the Lone Star Gas company team as was first planned. Manager C. E. Neal of the Landon-Hill team, announced Thursday game with Petrolia Gassers has been called off.

The probable starting lineups:

Landon-Hill.		Harrold.
Beck	Forward.	McClendon
Kolp	Forward.	McNamara
Van Horn	Center.	Rook
Clary	Guard.	Clynch
Rice	Guard.	Crawford

Jabs and Hooks

The welterweight championship curb which will be at stake in the Trammel-White melee Monday night along with contract governing the trophy has been placed on display at Harmon drug store No. 1.

Dickie Dixon, one time popular bantam in Wichita Falls, has been out of the ring since late last summer when he scrapped in New Mexico. The only time Dixon has boxed recently was in exhibition matches at the Fort Worth Y. M. C. A. Dixon has been troubled with boils on his neck.

Tommie White will work out in the American Legion arena this afternoon at three o'clock and all the fans are invited up to see him in action.

Frankie Fink, former Wichita Falls scrapper, has been making a great showing on the Pacific coast of late.

Don Wofford, fight promoter, will leave today for Oklahoma City to see the battle between Vicente Aguilar and Warnie Smith.

Frankie Oaner, who kayoed Wildcat Monte last July, is on the coast but no word of his fights there have been received by Wofford yet.

Mickey Shaw, who until recently fought under the name of Mickey O'Shay, the Irish welter, blew into town yesterday declaring he is on his way to the coast, but wants to compete in the championship matches here. Shay boasts that his opponent won't last four rounds with him.

Dick Griffin writes in from Fort Worth with the word that he has been under the care of a doctor in Dallas and that his eyes are better. Dick expressed his desire for another fight in Wichita Falls. He left a month or so back because of trouble with his eyes.

COOPER CUTS RECORD

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Harry Cooper of Dallas, Texas, smashed all tournament records for the southern course of the Los Angeles country club in the amateur-pro best ball tournament today when he turned in a card of 66, which is six below par.

Fohl Expects Much of Boob Fowler, Former Horned Frog

History often repeats itself in baseball, especially with regard to young men with energy and ambition. Seldom has a youthful player of ability been sent down from the majors to a class AA league, but that he bounces right back like a tennis ball. So it was with Joseph Chester Fowler, who is very apt to make his presence felt in the ranks of Lee Fohl's Boston Red Sox the coming season. Fowler had spent considerable time with the Cincinnati Reds prior to last spring. He never quite fitted into the scheme of things and as a regular, but in him some of the experts saw a lot of talent ability—ability that would come to a boil if put on the fire and kept there. Anyway, the Reds had some sort of an account to settle with Minneapolis of the American association, last spring, and Fowler was called out of line and sent to Mike Kelley's club. Once in the game regularly at third base Chet proved to be a worthy young infielder. Result: Boston snagged him in the fall draft.

Fowler bats left-handed and the unofficial averages of the American association sho wa figure of .314 after his name.

He was born in Waco, May 30, 1898, and became the property of the Reds in 1922.

Cincinnati took him up from Texas Christian university where he starred in football, baseball and track. His nickname at the Horned Frog institution was "Boob" and for several years he was known as "Boob" Fowler.

He was optioned to Newark and Knoxville and upon recall was sent to Oklahoma City in July, 1923. Called back to Cincinnati a month later he broke into a number of games and made a good impression. The Reds carried him as reserve infielder throughout 1924 and there were some regrets when it was announced he was to go to Minneapolis last spring. However, it was probably the best thing that could have happened to him in the way of shaping him for the big show. Fowler stands five feet, 11 1-2 inches tall and weighs 180 pounds.

Acquisition of Many Shortstops May Mean Cubs to Jilt Charley Hollocher

Charley Hollocher may not return to big league baseball again. This has been the rumor for some time, following the failure of the former great shortstop to round into form last season.

And now comes the report that should he essay a comeback it will not be in the uniform of a Chicago Cub. This rumor gains credence as the makeup of the Cubs for next season, judging by present plans, is weighed.

Manager McCarthy has already gathered together three young shortstops he feels are ready to play the bag for his outfit if called upon. One is Jimmy Cooney, well tempered veteran from the Cardinals. Another is Maurice Shannon, who learned the fine points of infielding from McCarthy at Louisville. The third man is Clyde Beck, infielder obtained from Los Angeles.

It has been suggested at times that Hollocher might find more congenial surroundings with some other club—that his desire to leave Chicago has affected his playing in recent seasons, although, of course, his main trouble has been a stomach ailment.

So it wouldn't surprise the wise boys if some kind of a deal was engineered by the Cubs in the near future which would send Hollocher to another major league outfit. And there are many clubs who would like to take a year's chance on him.

PASSING HOUR

WORTH REMEMBERING

Some other guy will come along, old man,
When you have shifted this brief college span—
He'll fill the little niche you filled so well
And hold the fancy of the fickle fan.

Some other star will come to do his bit
And preach the science of the mask and mit,
To teach the galleries the home run hymn,
The thrilling anthem of the two-base hit.

Some other swart skinned son of push and drive
Will star where football heroes strive
Will spread his carcass on the chalk tipped goal
And thank his gods if he gets out alive.

We're mighty small potatoes in this game
Of transient glory and of fleeting fame;
"When you and I behind the veil are past"—
The grand stand guys will cheer some other name.

The Home Brand.

Announcements by Houston that Joe Mathes will manage the club in 1926 and by Beaumont that Jim Galloway will be in charge there, illustrate one of the peculiar mental turns of professional baseball. It is always turning to its own class for its leaders.

Mathes managed Beaumont for several years. Galloway handled the Dallas club. Neither has been a pennant winner as yet but when other clubs seeking managers cast around, they turn inevitably to the men who have already had experience and who, they feel, are far better bets than strangers.

The major leagues run much to the same trend. It is nothing odd to see a pilot who has been at the head here and there catch on with another team. They don't like experiments.

It is naturally a good policy. Certainly it works out better in the Texas league, where clubs are sick of hiring as managers high priced major league stars, one of whom has yet to deliver as a winner. This is conceded to be a difficult section in which to win. The men who have been through the mill will know how hard the going is, know what caliber of club you have to have to face it. The high priced major leaguer is costing a big salary while he is getting his education—poor business everywhere.

The beginner at poker pays for his education, too. Only he pays it himself.

And a lot of us never get beyond the beginners' stage—and don't know it.

Sizing 'Em Up.

If you doubt that statement above that no high priced importation has ever yet won a Texas league pennant—here's the record for the loop:

1907—Austin won with Brooks Gordon as manager, promoted from the ranks. 1908—San Antonio won with George Leidy as manager—promoted from the 1907 ranks to succeed Sam LaRaeque. 1909 and 1910—Houston won with Hunter Hill, brought back to the league that granted him after a plentiful seasoning in the higher minors. 1910—Jimmy Maloney shared Houston's honors, winning for Dallas after managing for years for Joe Gardner. 1911—Dale Gear, veteran league pilot, copped for Austin. 1912, 1913—Houston won under John Fillman, promoted from the field. 1914—Houston and Waco, the former under Pat Newman, promoted veteran first sacker, Waco, (and again in 1915 and 1916) under Ellis Hardy, long a Texas league player and Texas college coach. 1917 and 1918—Dallas won under Ham Patterson, club owner, veteran minor leaguer. 1919—Shreveport under Billy Smith, also Rip Van Winkle of the minors. Incidentally Patterson and Smith offer the only examples over the long route of rank outsiders breaking in as winners (and Billy Smith's club won fewer games in 1919 than Fort Worth). 1920 to date, Fort Worth under Jake Atz, who had already served his Texas league novitiate.

Not a player fresh from the majors on the entire list! And there have been plenty trying their hand.

Fight for beer to begin soon—United Press. Thought it started with the amendment.

The trouble with what you get is that it is not worth fighting for, says Bill Holloway, the plumber.

GREB FIGHTS LOMSKI

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion will defend his title in a ten-round bout at Oakland on the night of Feb. 2 against Leo Lomski, middleweight champion of the Pacific Coast of Aberdeen, Wash. This was announced today by Tommy Simpson, Oakland promoter, who said that both boxers had telegraphed acceptance of his terms.

Hank Severeid, veteran Washington catcher, has dropped only one foul fly ball in the last 10 years of big league play.

SPUDDER BOSS EN ROUTE TO BALL PALAVER

Manager Brainard Goes To Catalina With Gardner

J. Alvin Gardner, Spudder president, departed Wichita Falls Thursday evening for Fort Worth where today he will join representative of the three other Northern Texas league teams, and then hop off for Catalina Islands and the annual meeting of the National association of professional baseball leagues.

South Texas representatives are expected to join the party at El Paso.

Fred Brainard, new Spudder manager, will meet Gardner in El Paso also, it is planned and make the jaunt to the coast.

Gardner declared yesterday before his departure that he has no specific deals in mind, but intends to stick on the lookout for a catcher, a pitcher and another infielder.

It is quite likely the Spudder officials will do some kind of trading, for the club is carrying quite a bit of excess baggage and swapping material.

NEAL'S SQUAD SHADES TRIBE

Beck Loops Basket From Mid Court to Win Tiff, 22-21

Waging a stubborn and sudden reversal of form in the final two periods of a hard fought cage encounter Thursday night on the Junior college court, Bubs Mosley's Landon-Hill basketeers nosed out on C. C. Frazee's Indians in the last minute of play, 22 to 21.

Preston Beck, Landon-Hill forward, won the game with a sensational loop from mid-court with but 30 seconds remaining. The two-pointer overcame a one-tally margin and sewed up the contest.

The same second string team that in the afternoon ripped through the Junior college first stringers, tore open the Landon-Hill defense for a 10 to 1 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter the clubs ran about even and the Junior college five held a 19 to 7 lead over the city leaguers at the close of the half. The Landon-Hill defense pulled the unexpected and held the Junior college five to one field toss in the last half. This one basket for the college was a long shot from the sidelines at about the middle of the court made by Dummy Deems.

The same second string team of the college that piled up the 10 to 1 score in the first quarter couldn't do a thing to the defense of the city league team in the last half. The Mosley clan battled with their backs to the wall and in the last minute won out with a one-point lead and 30 seconds left to play, which they stalled off.

Beck was high point man with five goals and two free pitches. Chubby Neal, also of Landon-Hill, tossed three baskets from the court. Snodgrass, Kelm, Rawls, Robertson, and Deems, of the college each totaled four points. Two of the four mad eby Robertson were free pitches.

Clary, Rice, McMinn and Herring were the outstanding guards of the game. Each of these four played great ball at guard. Doyle Stephenson, Beaty and Snodgrass played good defensive ball for the college.

Cage Sport To Fore in Vernon

VERNON, Jan. 7.—Basketball is rapidly taking its place as the outstanding sport among all the schools of ernon. Every school in the city boasts its quintet, and matched games are played almost daily between both boys and girls teams.

Junior High's boys under the direction of Coach Dubbins boast the best record of any club in the city, not having lost a game out of four played. Wednesday afternoon the junior cagers defeated the West Vernon quintet by a score of 11-8. The club is matched with Lockett for a game on the latter's home ground Friday afternoon.

PARKERS BEAT MERGARGEL

Hawks Grab Rough Encounter By 18-15 Score.

Brewster's Iowa Park basketball five took Megargel into camp Wednesday night at Megargel, 18 to 15, the contest was exceedingly rough.

The outstanding performers were Fillmore, Cheaves and Beasley.

Bambino Asserts He's In Greatest Shape of Career

215 Pound Babe Reduces Waist Line Seven Inches

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Asserting today that he had reached the best physical condition of his career at 215 pounds, Babe Ruth proposes to carry his training campaign from a New York gymnasium to the golf links at St. Petersburg, Fla., next month in an effort to regain the home run hitting honors he lost last season to Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Four weeks of intensive exercising here have reduced the waist line of the Yankee slugger seven inches. Calisthenics, hand ball and boxing have been included in his daily routine.

Although optimistic over his own prospects, Ruth was not sanguine regarding the prospects of the Yankees to regain their former high place in the American circuit.

"It is hard to get back kin the winning habit after you're storted to break," he explained. "I guess it depends a lot on what kind of trade Huggins makes and the youngsters that he develops next spring."

Sports of All Sorts In Day's News

ABOUT MISTER MIKE DOOLAN.

The honorable order of the sons of the Emerald Isle, being collected by Joseph McCarthy, pilot of the Chicago Cubs, has lately been swelled by the admittance to membership of Mr. Michael Doolan.

Mr. Doolan's presence is required, due to the activities of the Cub leaders in rounding up young shortstops. Doolan, once one of the sweetest shortstops in the game—and the most graceful—is counted on to teach these newcomers the fine points of covering the territory between second and third and the pitcher's box and short left field, as a good shortstop should do.

Doolan won his place in the hall of fame as a member of the Philadelphia National league club. He was with that club when the Federal league was organized and was persuaded to jump to the Baltimore club of the outlaw organization.

When peace was declared Doolan was awarded to the Chicago Cubs in the general distribution of players and saw service with that club in 1916. However, his days were about over and after playing with the Giants and Dodgers for a time he left the big show and became interested in the game from the coaching and scouting angles, spending most of his time with the Syracuse and Baltimore clubs.

Doolan's name on the Cub roster will be listed along with such good names as Cooney, Kelly, Fitzgerald, Shannon, Burke, O'Doul and Hartnett. But the uniforms will be gray and white, as usual.

WHY DID CAVENEY GO TO SEATTLE?

Speaking of shortstops, we would like to hear from the major portion of the American and National league clubs as to why, during their mad scramblas to get infielders, they permitted the Cinci Reds to send Jimmy Caveney to the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league.

Now the report was prevalent last season that Jimmy's legs were a bit weak. If this be the only reason it is a thin one. Given the choice between a weak pair of legs and a weak brain the average manager will take the weak-legged one for a shortstop.

The Reds certainly didn't let Caveney go because of his age. For the man they got in exchange—Frank Emmer—is Jimmy's age.

Emmer's advantage over Caveney, on paper at least, is his hitting ability. But the ability is gauged only by his work on the coast. He had a trial with the Reds in 1916 and has been a minor league ever since.

The Pirates have Glenn Wright, one of the greatest shortstops the game has produced in late years. The Giants have the brilliant Travis Jackson. The Cleveland club has Joey Sewell. Connie Mack has Dykes, Galloway and Hale and a couple of other good men. But the other clubs are weak in the shortstopping department.

And the interesting part of it is that the Cinci Reds have Sam Bohne, who stacks up as better than the average shortstop, so why toss out Caveney to get simply another shortstop "hope?"

Just what will happen to Urban Faber, veteran White Sox war horse in 1926? That is a question many American league fans who watched "Red" through his 12 campaigns are asking.

Two seasons ago Faber appeared about ready to fade out of the limelight. He had sustained a splintered bone in his elbow. I believe it was, and his wing refused to yield to treatment. However, an operation during the following winter seemed to correct the fault, and he returned to active duty last season. He had but fair success, however, for Faber. He won 12 games and lost 11.

Eddie Collins has his mind set on building up a young ball club that will stand the gaff for many years. It is a question as to whether or not he will want to carry Faber and thereby reduce the opportunities for developing one more young hurler.

Faber has given the White Sox his baseball life and his passing will be regretted, but such passing is inevitable eventually, of course.

RESERVES NIP TRIBE QUINTET IN CAGE DRILL

Kelm, Harvey, Snodgrass Cut Through Regular Defense

The Junior College Indians staged a scrimmage Thursday afternoon in which the second stringers went wild and pierced the defense of the regular lineup almost at will. Bill Kelm, Olin Harvey and Snodgrass were the outstanding performers with the reserve five.

The second stringers used what might be termed a triangle attack with Kelm invariably opening by taking a long shot for the hoop and Harvey and Snodgrass following in to the goal for a take-off on the backboard and shorter shot.

However, the first team was not entirely idle. Crites, Thurman and Rawls waged a fairly neat floor game, took the ball down the court cleverly on several occasions and scored numerous short shots. A number of crip goals were missed, however, with the reserves invariably recovering the sphere and working up the court for counters.

The scrimmage opened with Deems and Stephenson in the first string guarding role. Beaty later replaced Stephenson, who was moved to the second team. Stephenson then produced the thrill of the afternoon when he looped a basket from the center of the court.

VERNON PLAYS THALIA TODAY

Lion Hoopers Round Into Form Fast—T. Kery New Captain

VERNON, Jan. 7.—Coach Wilemon's court squad is scheduled to play the season opener with Thalia on the latter's home court Friday afternoon, the Lion mentor announced Thursday. Coach Wilemon has been driving his cagers hard since the holidays, and the men are reported to be in excellent condition.

Ted Key was recently elected captain of the Lion squad to take the place of Crouch who was selected to lead the squad, but who has admitted that he is ineligible for participation in basketball this season.

Other men who have been showing up well in practice sessions and who have been named to make the trip to Thalia are: Hayhurst, Hopkin, Lockett, Clois Key, and Luttrell.

Buff Leader To Buy Ball Talent

HOUSTON, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Armed with a fountain pen and considerable cash, president Fred Ankenman of the Houston Buffs left for Catalina Island, Cal., tonight to attend the annual midwinter session of the National Association of Minor leagues. He will be accompanied by Joseph Mathes, new manager of the local club.

The fountain pen and check book are destined to play quite a role, for Ankenman has announced that he is in the market for new talent to serve as replacements. Sales and draft dug heavily in the Houston baseball. Goodwin and Benge were lost from the pitching staff, McCurdy from the catching department and Homer Peel from the outfield. For Mathes to keep the 1926 club up in the thick of the race it will be necessary for him to find equals to this departed quartet. Even with this four in section last year the Buffs finished several laps behind the pennant winning Panthers.

"Profs" to Revise Grid League Rules

AUSTIN, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Revision of the rules of the Texas University interscholastic league, under which the state high school championship has been conducted for several years, will be undertaken by a committee of school teachers in session here Friday and Saturday.

The committee authorized at the interscholastic league section meeting of the state teachers' association convention in Dallas Thanksgiving, is composed of R. D. Green, Abilene; N. S. Holland, Stamford; Wylie A. Parker, Dallas; E. C. Deering, Marshall; R. H. Bristor, Taylor; J. O. Webb, Harrisburg; Miss Ora Johnson, San Antonio; R. P. Ward, Edinburg; W. A. McIntosh, Amarillo.

ROCKNE GOING TO EUROPE.

Notre Dame Grid Wizard Won't Hold School in Austin.

AUSTIN, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Knute Rockne, Notre Dame University football coach, will not be able to hold a football coaching school here this summer, Jack Meagher, athletic director of St. Edwards' University, has been advised. Last summer, Rockne and Dr. W. A. Meanwell, Wisconsin University basketball coach, held a school at St. Edwards' that was attended by more than 200.

Plans have now been altered to hold a Rockne school here Aug. 1-15, 1927, Meagher said. Rockne expects to leave soon for an extended stay in Europe, he wrote Meagher.

REAL ESTATE, IRRIGATION LAND, LEASES & LOANS

Wichita Falls, Texas

January 6th, 1926.

Dear Mr. Investor—

We have for sale the following lands:

1280 acres, being sections 23 and 18, block 14, Wilbarger county; 600 acres in cultivation and grain. Price $30.00 per acre.

456 acres in two different tracts, near Charlie, Texas. One being 225 acres in Wichita county farm land. When the Clay county irrigation project is extended, these will come under that project. The other tract of 231 acres is Red River sandy land. Made one-half bale of cotton to the acre this year. Does not blow very much.

We consider these two latter tracts as an exceptional bargain and would like to have a working interest or one-half interest in this property, if some one would agree to finance it. We will pay the interest on our part. These lands make crops every year and would be self supporting.

There is a loan of $10,000 against this property, the balance would be cash. Price $35.00 per acre.

5 Comanche Indians From Lawton Travel 400 Miles to Locate Peyote Weed Used in Religious Ceremonies

Red Skins Harvest Entire Crop on Texas Ranch; They Hope to Brew into Tea

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 7.— (AP)— After traveling 400 miles from their reservation near Lawton, Okla., five Comanche Indians today found the red man's delight—the peyote weed—and obtained all they could carry home.

Balked by federal authorities in their attempts to have the narcotic ban on importation lifted the Indians motored to a large ranch near Oilton, 100 miles south of San Antonio and placidly gathered two auto loads of the weed. A local Indian guided them to this ranch, which, its owner, Hall Street, said today contains the only peyote growing in the United States. Assured by customs agents that he would not be molested for permitting the Indians to harvest his crop, provided they did not ship or send it through the mails, Street invited the red men to take all they wanted.

Besides giving the consumer a "kick," peyote has a use in the Indians' religious ceremonies. They contend it is essential for their rites, but several reservations and state legislatures have forbidden its use. Nebraska last year legislated against it.

Peyote is chewed by the male Indians and brewed into tea by the medicine man and drunk by the squaws. Government agents say it lends zest to any Indian meeting. The herb, a member of the cactus family has a pulp that gives the kick.

The Indians yesterday appealed to Attorney General Moody at Austin to remove the federal ban but he explained he could not help them.

CHIRO LAWYER FLAYS DOCTOR

Persecution From Medical Society Is Alleged in Defense at Dallas

DALLAS, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Seeking to show that the regular medicos of the state and the members of the state board of medical examiners were prosecuting chiropractors in bringing charges against them in several parts of Texas for violation of the medical practice act, Judge C. F. Greenwood, attorney for Dr. S. T. McMurrain, Dallas chiropractor, charged with violating the act closely questioned Dr. T. J. Cowe, secretary of the state board of medical examiners, after the defense had rested in the trial today.

Filed Any Charges.

"Dr. Crowe has stated he believes in enforcing all of the laws," Judge Greenwood prefaced his examination of the witness. "I would like to ask him if he has made any effort to enforce any of the laws except the medical practice act. Have you filed any complaints for violations of the Sunday laws in Dallas?" he asked.

"No," Dr. Crowe replied.

"Why have you taken it upon yourself to prosecute under the medical practice act?"

"That's my business."

The attorney continued in his questioning that a fund had been raised to prosecute chiropractors, but the witness denied that he had knowledge of any such fund.

Walsh Gives Credit To Watkins in Suit On Archer Roads

Disclaiming credit for himself and asserting that his former law partner, William R. Watkins, was entitled to fully as much if not more acclaim than he for the success of the long fight over the Archer county road district No. 2 controversy, C. K. Walsh, local attorney, issued a statement Thursday regarding the affair.

It was as follows:

"My friends as well as the friends of my former partner, Wm. R. Watkins, have been congratulating me for the past two days on the outcome of the case of Browning et al vs. Hooper et al, the so-called Archer county road cases, recently decided by the supreme court of the United States.

"As Mr. Watkins has moved away from Wichita Falls and is now associated with General Lemuel B. Doty of Fort Worth, I wish to have it known to any persons concerned that this case was tried and handled, not by me alone but by the firm of Watkins and Walsh, which firm was dissolved some time ago, in fact before the final completion of this case.

Mr. Watkins deserves fully as much credit, if not more credit than myself, in handling this matter to its successful conclusion and I wish to inform our mutual friends that as Mr. Watkins is not here to receive their congratulations, to be sure and remember that he is to be congratulated and to be commended for his share in this work.

Star in Broadway Scandals Picks Cupid as a Partner

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The third marriage of Broadway celebrities within four days was solemnized today when Edgar Selwyn, theatrical producer and playwright and Miss Ruth V. Wilcox, former member of George White's scandals company were married by City Clerk M. J. Cruise in the municipal building.

Snyder who married her before she went on the stage and from whom she was divorced in Morgantown, W. Va., last October. She gave her age as 24.

The first of the Broadway weddings, each of which was a surprise to friends, took place last Monday when Irving Berlin the song writer, married Elin Mackay, society girl. Tuesday, William A. Brady, Jr., theatrical producer, married Katherine Alexander.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The cotton market developed fair trading today and during the morning prices made gains of 17 to 20 points mainly owing to the strength of the near months. During the afternoon prices lost all of the early gain and a trifle besides, mainly on liquidation and evening up of commitments in advance of the holiday in the local market tomorrow. As New York and Liverpool will remain open traders here were unwilling to take the risk of what might happen in those markets while business was suspended here. The close was near the lows, showing net losses for the day of 2 to 4 points on old crops and 16 points on the new months of October.

At the start Liverpool cables were slightly better than due and first trades here showed gains of six points. Prices advanced gradually during the morning owing to the strong position of near months and eventually January traded up to 20.09, March to 19.59 and May to 19.16 or 17 to 20 points above the previous close.

Prices eased off during the afternoon on pre-holiday liquidation and some short and hedge selling on th ebulge and the low points of the day were reached in the late trading with January at 19.85, March at 19.33 and May at 18.92, or 24 to 29 points down from the highs. The close was a shade above the lows except for October which closed at the low.

Although trading will be suspended here tomorrow the exchange rooms will be open and the day's statistics will be posted as usual and the fluctuations from other markets received.

Exports for the day from all ports totaled 17,536 bales.

NEW YORK FUTURES.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(AP)—An early advance on covering by near month shorts was followed by reactions in the cotton market today. March contracts sold up to 20.12 or back to the high price of last Monday, but broke to 18.98 or four points net lower, and closed at 19.92. The final tone of the market was steady, net three points higher to 19 points lower.

The opening was steady at an advance of five to 10 points in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables and rather more encouraging reports from the cotton goods trade both at home and in Lancashire. There was a little southern selling and commission house realizing, but it was offset by demand from near months shorts, combined with further covering in later deliveries. January sold up to 20.24, or within a point of the previous best price, but late months were slow to follow the near month advance, showing net gains of only 10 to 15 points at the best.

Offers of March seemed to increase at a premium of 100 point over July suggesting that the price might be high enough to bring some cotton here from the south. At any rate, demand seemed to be fairly well supplied during the early afternoon and the market later reacted rather sharply under realizing combined with more selling by New Orleans and the south. January eased off to 20.04 while July sold down from 19.12 to 18.90 or one to 20 points net lower. The close was a shade up from the lowest on most months, but at the lowest prices of the day on later deliveries.

Nothing further was learned regarding intended shipments out of the local stock, but the supply here has been loaded ground with warehouse stocks now showing a reduction of 4,000 bales since January 1. Exports for the day were 17,536, making 4,812,304 so far this season. Port receipts 24,777. U. S. port stocks 1,656,911 bales.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Stock prices displayed a firm undertone today, despite the uncertainty regarding a change in the New York federal reserve bank rediscount rate, which was raised from 3½ to 4 per cent after the market closed. While the recent sharp decline in the New York reserve ratio, combined with the fact that it was the only central bank which held to the 3½ per cent rate, clearly foreshadowed an increase, the news coming at a time whe nthe call money market was flooded with a large surplus of loanable funds on stock collateral, undoubtedly took many persons by surprise. Its effect on the stock market will be awaited with keen interest tomorrow.

Revival of speculative interest in the motor shares, particularly some of the low priced issues, was one of the day's features. Hudson was bid up more than four points to 122¾, closing just below the top. General Motors, Dodge, Indian Motorcycle, Packard, Fierce Arrow common and preferred and Willys Overland showed net gains of one to 3½ points.

Rails moved irregularly higher. Special buying of Norfolk and Western sent that stock up nearly four points to 153¾, a new high record. Delaware and Hudson, which is expected to announce the segregation of its coal properties before the end of the year, jumped five points to 165, the highest in over 20 years.

Buoyancy of several high priced industrials was associated with reports of large earnings and prospects of higher dividends. American Smelting was run up more than four points to 144¾, the highest quotation since 1907. American Brake Shoe and Foundry, Columbia Gas, Consolidated Gas, Liggett and Myers "A" and "B", General Light and Traction and General Railway Signal also sold at their high est quotations in a long time.

Oils gathered strength on merger reports and stiffening commodity prices. Associated, which is being sought as a unit in the new Bernadell merger advanced wo points to 47⅝, the peak price for the present 325 par stock and Pacific, which owns a majority interest in Associated, showed a net gain of 1⅞ at 76⅞. Pan American issues held firm on a subsidence of recent selling pressure.

Call money held steady at 4 per cent all day, but large sums were available in the outside market below that figure some loans being reported as low as 3¼. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges moved within rather narrow and irregular limits. Demand sterling ruled slightly higher at $4.84⅝, in reflection of the improved showing made in the weekly statement of the bank of England. French francs advanced a few points to around 3.86½ cents. Danish krone rallied five points to 24.75 cents on the announcement that arrangements had been made here for a new revolving credit of $40,000,000 at slightly better terms than the one which has just expired.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Discharted over light volume of new speculative buying and over smallness of export demand a good many traders let go their wheat holdings today, almost regardless of price. The wheat market closed heavy, 3¼ to 4⅝c net lower, new style, May $1.76¼ to $1.76⅝ and July $1.52 to $1.52¼. Corn finished at 1½ to ⅝c decline. Oats ¼ to ⅝c off and provisions unchanged to 25c up. Although corn finally gave way with wheat, thee orn market was high most of the day, country offerings of corn to arrive being meager. Oats were also relatively firm, with rural offerings nil. Market Gossip

Booth and Burmeister, brokers, Waggoner Bldg., today received the following market comment from J. S. Bache and company, of New York and Chicago, and Donald Maginnis of New Orleans:

STOCKS.

The session was an irregular one with strength injected into the market several times during the day. It would appear that we are in for another irregular session tomorrow.

It is to be noted the rails were well bought during the entire day.

COTTON.

The cotton market opened slightly higher this morning and remained very steady during the early trading.

We do not believe there is much interest in the market and believe it will remain a scalping affair for the present.

GRAINS.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Wheat, weaker and lower, with trade again largely of a local character. Houses with eastern connections sold both here and at Winnipeg, and with a light outside interest, markets were easily influenced. Reports of improvement in the domestic cash wheat demand attracted some attention, and may become a factor later, but at the moment the weight of the new Argentine and Australian surplus is hanging over the market and it will take radical bulls news to bring about a sustained bulge and hold it. Under general conditions prices naturally decline during the period when Argentine and Australia are placing a fairly liberal percentage of their surplus abroad. Erratic fluctuations must be expected to continue and feel that the buying side should be avoided on the minor upturns.

Corn and oats—The corn market continues to show stubborn resistance to pressure, with sufficient commission house buying to absorb the offerings despite the decline in wheat. Stocks are going out and there will be 500,000 bushels of oats and 250,000 bushels of rye loaded out into vessels to make room for corn, as the eastern demand is very slow. Outside interest in oats is very light. Prices continues to be dominated by action of wheat.

TRAFFIC BUREAU TO OPPOSE NAMING OF MOBILE MAN.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The proposed appointment of R. U. Taylor, Mobile, Ala., to represent the South on the I. C. C. is opposed by Ed P. Byars, manager of the Fort Worth freight bureau, on the grounds that Taylor's experience with railroads has been with the operating instead of the rate-making end of the businesses. Mr. Byars said that opposition to Taylor's appointment would be urged to the Texas Industrial Traffic League and the Southwestern Industrial Traffic League.

"Irrigation Districts Not to Suffer Through Adverse Ruling"—Kemp

The supreme court's recent decision effecting Texas road districts will have little or no effect on the state's irrigation districts and particularly will it have no adverse bearing on the Wichita county irrigation project.

This was the opinion Thursday of J. A. Kemp, president of district No. 1 and recognized as the real creator of irrigation here. Mr. Kemp was positive, he said, that the local project was fool proof from a legal angle and that the laws under which the project was made possible had been tested by able lawyers and found correct.

Special Laws.

"Our irrigation districts," Mr. Kemp said, "have been created through special laws enacted by the legislature. These were drafted mainly by Judge Starley, who I think knows more about irrigation law in Texas and everywhere else than any other man in the state. He exercised all possible care in handling the legislation; the laws under which our district operates has been tested in the courts and found valid. I have no apprehension on the matter at all."

Mr. Kemp then went on to explain that the principal feature of the highway law and the one against which the supreme court directed its principal attack, was that part which provides that property owners to be effected by a proposed district are given no opportunity to lodge formal protests against the measure.

Many Stay Out.

In the case of the irrigation district, Mr. Kemp pointed out, landowners who object to including their property in the district and thus subject it to a tax are given a hearing and, if they insist, cannot be compelled to include their holdings in the project. This, of course, relieves them of the tax. In the local project, a number of property owners at the time of the formation of the district protested against it and declined to come in. Accordingly there has been no taxation levied without due process of law and no violation of the 14th amendment, which the supreme court has held was the case in the Archer county road district.

WELTY OFF OF WATER BALLOT

Engineer Says He Is Not a Candidate for Board Directorship

P. A. Welty, consulting engineer for the local irrigation project, announced Thursday that he was not a candidate for director of district No. 1 despite the fact that a petition has been filed placing his name in nomination for a director in the January 12 election.

In a statement to the Record News Mr. Welty declared that, while he appreciated the honor his friends would bestow upon him by placing him on the directorial board, he found it necessary to decline.

He Declines.

"This is an unsolicited honor I greatly appreciate," he said, "but I feel that as an engineer with my time fully occupied in the pursuit of my profession, I cannot afford to give the time required to the work as director. While the district is new and in the formative state, with the probability of other districts forming, much time must be devoted by the directors.

In addition, insofar as my experience will be valuable, it is as available with me as engineer as much as if I were director. As I am consulting engineer for the district, I would be forced to resign, by law, if I were elected, and I prefer to continue all the pleasant relations that have heretofore existed between the directors and myself.

I take this occasion to thank those whose names appeared on the petition and also the many citizens and landowners who have called me up or met me and offered m ethetr support.

Woman Finds An Empty Welcome

What was intended as a surprise for her husband and anticipation of a warm welcome from him has turned into worry and grief. A young woman from the plains and her four-year-old son arrived in Wichita Falls Thursday where they expected to find the husband and father waiting and working for them. Late in the day, though, no trace had been found of the man, aged 21, since the first of last week, when he was last seen here.

The young woman who had so firmly believed her husband would be waiting for her had just enough money to come here, and now she is penniless. She appealed to welfare workers for aid, and efforts are being made to locate the missing husband.

Call for Delay On Passenger Tax

Collection of the per passenger tax on service cars and busses of the city by the county has been postponed, temporarily at least, as a result of a telegram received Thursday by Guy C. Raley, county tax collector, from the attorney general's department at Austin authorizing collection of the usual motor vehicle tax but instructing him to hold off on collection of the per passenger tax pending a decision on the legality of the law from the higher courts.

The law providing for tax on motor vehicles for hire is of some three years standing. That portion of it relating to the vehicle itself has not been questioned, but the bus owners association have attacked the legality of the portion assessing a $4 per passenger capacity every year since the law was passed. Up until now the state has always won in the courts. Thursday's telegram was the first indication here that the law had been carried to the courts again.

City's Business A Prize Morsel For Freight Agents

Attention is called to an increasing recognition of the status of Wichita Falls as a shipping and industrial center by W. A. Little, division freight and passenger agent for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway here who points to the large number of representatives of the larger railroad carriers of the nation that are continually calling in solicitation of business for their lines.

Refineries Attractive.

Shipping to serve the refining industry of Wichita Falls is especially attractive to the railroads, he says, and considerable effort is always put forth by each road to get its share of it. Too, recognition of the irrigated district as a source of much future traffic also accounts for the unusual number of road agents which are almost continually in the city, declares Mr. Little.

In the last two days no less than ten railroad representatives have been in Wichita Falls, these including W. B. Kinney of the Baltimore and Ohio, Dallas; George H. Hourse, C. and E. I., Fort Worth; Van O'Neal, traveling passenger agent of the Katy, Dallas; I. H. Turner, Great Northern, Dallas; B. D. Shropshire, L. R. and R. R. L. Coleman, L. and A.; H. W. Cook, Wabash, Dallas; L. H. Becker, Dallas, C. M. and St. P.; L. J. Anderson, Fort Worth D. and R. G.; Harvey Bower, Fort Worth general agent of the Missouri Pacific.
