DALADIER RESIGNS AS BRITISH BOMB NAZIS

SPRING ARRIVED AT 12:24 O'CLOCK THIS AFTERNOON

This is spring. The season of birth, of new life, new leisure, new labor, new love. The season of plowing and planting, of baseball and bunnies, of fashion and flowers. But the world's newspapers are pictures of death—of weapons and war, of disease and desire, of oppressed and oppressors. We thought you might like a change from these pictures, so we made this composite. It's spring. Spring in America. 1940.

Britain To Fight War In Own Way, Stanley Asserts

LONDON, March 20 (AP)—War Secretary Oliver Stanley bluntly replied to critics of Britain's war effort in the United States and other neutral countries by declaring today that "We intend to fight in our own way and not in their way." Stanley said that the foreign press had criticized Britain for a lack of enterprise and initiative. "This is a dangerous lesson for neutral to teach," he said, adding that "we are now learning that persons who ignore the rights of neutrals receive their admiration."

This statement was interpreted to mean Britain intends to clamp down tighter on the imports of small nations contiguous to Germany whose imports from the United States have swelled since the war.

Speaking of "Germany's challenge," Stanley said that "people across the ocean are thinking 'how are we going to keep out of it, but they're in it.'"

"No one can remain indifferent to the result of the struggle," he said. "Do they (neutrals) really think that if we lose life can go on as they know it?"

"An ocean," Stanley warned, "may be a good barrier to aircraft, but it's no barrier to ideas."

Stanley said that Britain was fighting for an end of German ideas—those of Hitler and the Hun.

He said that if Britain had not gone to war the people in the United States would have said, "Why aren't you fighting?"

"Today people in the United States are saying, according to Stanley, 'we can't understand the war.'"

"None can remain indifferent to the result of the struggle," he said. "They may be lucky. We may fight their battles for them."

FDR Denies He Said He Wanted To Retire

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg of Michigan declared today the republican presidential nomination was so "desperately important" that it should flow from the people's deliberate judgment and "not from the transient impulse of a campaign tour."

Vandenberg took this indirect slap at candidates who have been stumping for top republican honors in declining invitations to speak in Wisconsin and Nebraska before their presidential primaries, in which he is entered.

"If the convention ultimately chooses me," he added, "I shall then enter the campaign with every energy and resource at my command."

His statement came after President Roosevelt had caused a wave of new speculation on Capitol Hill by terming untimely a column by Ernest Lindley which said the President had told an unidentified southern legislator: "That he wanted to retire."

That secretary Riell was a good man for his place.

That if postmaster general Farley was put on the ticket, his Catholicism would stir up religious prejudice.

Mr. Roosevelt told reporters late yesterday that the column was made out of whole cloth and that such an interview had not taken place.

Lindley issued a statement last night describing his column as "a piece of straight reporting of information which came to me from sources whose reliability I have no reason to doubt."

Ah, Springtime, You Have Come!

(By The Associated Press)

Ah, springtime! 12:24 p. m. and infant spring stepped through the hole in nature's backdrop today and officially cast his benediction upon a greening world.

At that wondrous moment the sun, rushing northward to raise Texas thermometers out of the winter doldrums, was vertically over the equator and, briefly, day and night everywhere became of equal length. The mystic rite of the vernal equinox was performed.

Spring was here!

It was the call to young men's sentimental thoughts, a reminder to housewives to telephone the swimming man and amateur gardeners to look for leaks in the old spray gun.

But forecasters, made cheerfully pessimistic by unfilled weather predictions, had their fingers crossed notwithstanding blossoming orchards, blooming pansies and daffodils, and upspringing kitchen gardens.

"I'll remind you again," said Dr. Joseph L. Cline, Dallas forecaster, "that we will be breaking no precedents if we have another killing frost before April Fools day."

Meanwhile, cloudy and warmer weather with fairly southerly winds at least are due for the next day or two, and two-piece suits are becoming the young man's preference.

Sadler, Thompson Favor Oil Slash

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—Two of the three members of the Texas Railroad Commission said at the statewide oil prororation hearing here today that they favored a substantial reduction of the state's oil production allowance, effective April 1.

Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson asserted that latest crude oil stocks figures indicated Texas was producing about 183,000 barrels more oil per day than was needed. The current Texas allowance is approximately 1,500,000 barrels per day.

Commissioner Jerry Sadler expressed the opinion that Texas should produce about 1,410,000 barrels per day next month.

Rotary Lecturer Holds 500 Borgans Spellbound

Man Who Saw Russia First-Hand To Speak At Auditorium Tonight

For one and one-half hours last night a crowd of 500 persons gave their whole attention to a speaker who lectured on "Developments in Soviet Russia."

The speaker was Dr. John Alexander Morrison, member of the University of Chicago's department of geography from 1928 to 1938, and the man who conducted the first course in the geography of the Soviet Union ever held in the United States.

Last night Dr. Morrison spoke at the Borgas High school auditorium in Borgas, Doyle F. Osborne, principal of Pampa High school, who with Hol Wagner attended the lecture from Pampa, said the speaker was excellent and kept the attention of his audience all the time.

At 8 o'clock tonight Dr. Morrison will speak at the Pampa High school auditorium. Admission will be 35 cents for the lecture, or $1 for the series of four lectures, sponsored by the Rotary clubs of Pampa, Borgas, Stamford, Graham, and Lamesa. Other speakers, to follow Dr. Morrison, are to speak in Pampa each Wednesday.

Pampa's Rotary club had Dr. Morrison as a special guest at their regular weekly luncheon today, following an address delivered to students at the high school assembly period at 11 o'clock this morning.

Russia Thrice Size Of U. S.

Salient facts presented in the Borgas lecture were: Moscow, the center of the U. S. S. R., a city of bureaucrats, has increased in population from one million to four million from 1920 to 1939.

Russia is three times the size of the United States, and occupies one-sixth of the earth's surface.

Extent of the U. S. S. R. is exemplified in its temperature range, from 93 degrees below zero in the north to a climate in the south in which tea and cotton are grown.

Moscow, despite its size, has no city plan until 1935, and has grown topsy-turvy.

There is no political morality in Europe.

Dominant idea of the Russians is to overtake and surpass the United States in production.

Exhibits Slides

During the lecture, Dr. Morrison exhibited lantern slides showing new steel mills, canals, and architecture of the Soviet Union. An open forum followed the showing of the pictures.

Dr. Morrison was educated at Dartmouth, University of Breslau, Breslau Osteuropa Institute, and the University of Chicago. He has spent a month each in geographical observation in Dalmatia, Finland and Sweden.

In June, 1937, he attended the 17th See MORRISON, Page 3

C-C Workers Requested To Report Soon

Members of the finance committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce were busy this morning contacting the membership campaign workers in an effort to finish the campaign this week. Frank Culbertson, finance director, announced.

"We had an excellent turn out for the breakfast meeting yesterday but the committees have been slow in checking in their reports," Culbertson said.

"Some of the prospects have been out of town and others have wanted to get approval from a home office. It is important that we conclude the work just as soon as possible, and I wish to urge all workers who have not yet reported to do so at once."

While members of the finance group are contacting prospects several additional memberships have been received through the mail. Among these additional voluntary memberships are the following: Eagle Radiator Works, J. L. Love, Acme Lumber Company, Hillman Hotel, C. P. Buckler, Central States Power & Light Co., C. R. Anthony Co., Lunsford Bit Shop, and Cree & Hoover.

A complete list of all the memberships will be prepared at the close of the campaign, Culbertson said.

Letters are going out today to a number of firms having out of town headquarters seeking their cooperation on the 1940 budget.

The oil, gas and industrial group headed by Dan E. Williams is sending out letters to companies having to secure approval from headquarters in other cities and expect a delay of several days, before their committee will be able to make its report. Others of that committee include: W. A. Bratton, Dan J. Gribben, R. B. Allen, Dan C. Kennedy, Ray J. Hagan, Emmett Dwyer, and George Berlin.

Spring, Tra-La! Brownie Digs Up Signs In Pampa

By BROWNIE EMERSON

They said to watch for signs of spring in Pampa.

First of all there's the flowers. Take violets, for instance. Those in the garden of Mrs. Edwin Vickers, the prettiest bunch of violets in town, are already blooming as are the jonquils at the Vickers place.

Hyacinths are showing signs of life and nearly ready to bloom, and

SHUSH... the first robin.

It won't be long until the plum trees join the parade.

Other trees, and other flowers, and shrubs, are being set out in other Pampans' yards.

So far as the birds are concerned, there are few, if any, robins in Pampa, a typical spring sign in other sections.

Best indicator of the season is the sport world. The golf and tennis bugs are biting Pampans hard these days, track and field workouts have started in the local high school, there's plenty of baseball talk, and best of all, the warm days have brought forth the desire of C. H. Walker, postmaster, to go fishing.

Spring showers are missing from the picture as Pampa's last precipitation was on March 6, a mere .04-inch sprinkle.

Boys are playing marbles again. And if all this isn't enough to convince you it's springtime, there's lots of Pampans suffering from colds.

Fancies of young men are supposed to be another sure sign of the new season, and the kids have begun courting in the park again.

Better buy better built tires, Star, Barrett-Sill.

War Flashes

PARIS, March 20 (AP)—A series of German patrols, operating west of the Saar river and Vosges mountains, were reported today by French military sources to make it have sustained "serious losses" in futile attempts to penetrate French advance lines.

The Nazi sorties were described as desperate but beaten back in every instance.

COPENHAGEN, March 20 (AP)—Informed foreign circles today pressed the opinion that Sweden, Norway and Finland may be forced to conclude a secret defensive alliance—in view of Moscow's position that any would be inimical to the U. S. S. R.

No official comment was available since the whole question of an alliance still is in the stage of preliminary discussions.

LONDON, March 20 (AP)—The British trawler Lowdown was sunk in a collision today, and only one man of a crew of 15 was saved.

Post-Nuptial Event Honors Mrs. Francis Smith Tuesday Evening

Complimenting Mrs. Francis Smith of LeFors, the former Miss Harriett Hunkapillar, a post-nuptial shower was given Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. A. Cole with Mrs. Charles Thomas, Miss Lucille Cole, and Mrs. Cole as hostesses.

A pastel color motif was carried out in the candlelighted rooms which were decorated with potted plants and cut flowers.

Each guest wrote her favorite recipe for the honoree and as Mrs. Thomas read a clever poem, the gifts were presented in an attractive basket topped with an Easter rabbit.

Refreshments of punch, individual cakes, and pinwheel sandwiches were served following the entertainment.

Attending were Meses. George Walstead, DeLea Vicars, J. S. Wynne, Siler Faulkner, Sr., Charles Thut, W. A. Bratton, J. B. Johnson, Odus Mitchell, L. L. Sone, Clifford Braly, Roger Connell, W. ## Mrs. Davis Speaks At Recent Meeting Of Holy Souls P-TA

Holy Souls Parent-Teacher Association met immediately following an executive board meeting. Mrs. D. C. Kennedy, vice-president, presided over the business session which was opened with prayer led by Mrs. D. J. Gribbon.

Mrs. Tom O'Rourke, Jr., gave a report on the success of the supper served at the Country club dinner-dance by the P-T-A. recently. Mrs. LeRoy Rice reported on the City Council meeting and Mrs. S. S. Cox presented a resume of both the semi-annual spring meeting of the district Council of Catholic Women in Amarillo and the recent meeting for the organization for the decent literature drive to be launched extensively here in Pampa by the Parish Council of Catholic Women supported by other organizations.

Mrs. Kennedy announced that Mrs. T. F. Morton, City Council president, will be guest of the P-T-A next month for a Founders' Day program.

Mrs. Henry Clay Nash, in charge of the program, presented Henry Buster Walker who gave a reading, "Fellowship," and Mrs. W. H. Davis who gave a paper on "Social Development in the Home and School."

"These two factors must work hand in hand in this serious obligation of the correct rearing of a child. Considering first the home itself, because the home is the foundation of all human society. The pre-school years speedily pass and with a prayer on her lips, the mother sends her child to school, where he begins his formal academic training. The beginning of a new life for the child."

Mrs. Davis told of some of the mistakes and misunderstandings of a mother for her child's sojourn through school, of the adolescent age of the child, as well as of planned and supervised play and recreation for all ages of children. "The great business of training; therefore, is first to lay before our children the best and noblest ideal; secondly, to get that ideal stamped into the child's mind in the concrete form of sound principles; and thirdly, as firmly to establish the habit of acting according to these principles that will last for the rest of the child's life," she concluded.

MODERN MENUS

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
Lent sends the imagination fishing for delicious meatless dishes. So bait your hook and dip into this pond of special recipes.

Norwegian Fish Pudding

(Serves 4 to 6)
One pound fish fillets, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, dash of nutmeg, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 eggs, 2 cups milk.
Cut fish into small pieces, force through food chopper three times, using fine blade. Pound with wooden potato masher, force through wire sieve. Add seasonings and flour. Beat eggs slightly, add milk and combine with fish mixture. Pour into greased custard cups and set in a dish of hot water. Bake for 1 1/2 hours in a slow oven (300 degrees F.).

Lentils

(Serves 4 to 6)
One cup lentils, 1 medium-sized onion, 2 cloves garlic, 1/4 cup butter, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon mixed whole spices, 3 cardamom seeds (if desired), 1 slice lemon.
Soak lentils overnight in 1 quart water. Drain, cover with water, simmer gently 1 hour, or until tender. Mince onion and garlic, brown lightly in butter, add lentils, salt and pepper. Tie spices and lemon in a bag, cook with lentils 10 to 15 minutes. Remove spice bag before serving.

Cod Chowder

(Serves 4 to 6)
Four slices salt pork, chopped, 1 onion, finely chopped; 1 1/2 cups diced boiled potatoes, salt and pepper, 1 cup boiling water, 1 cup shredded codfish, 2 cups milk. Parboil codfish 5 minutes and drain. Fry out pork and cook onions in fat. Strain fat into saucepan and add to it potatoes, boiling water, cooked codfish and hot milk. Season with salt and pepper. Bring to boiling point and serve.

Shriners To Give Circus In Amarillo

It will not be necessary to wait until the good old summertime to see a full-fledged circus, as the Kiwa Shrine Patrol at Amarillo has again arranged with Polack Brothers circus to present its complete show in the city auditorium at Amarillo for four nights and three matinees, starting Monday, March 25. This was such a success last year that no doubt the auditorium will be crowded to capacity, insofar as the Polack Brothers management advises that they will not only have some of the old favorites there, but many new and novel features as well.

The auditorium is an ideal place to hold this offering, for not only is the crowd seated in comfy chairs, but they can also see this fine attraction from any part of the building.

Orphans and underprivileged children will be guests at the matinees in a special section of seats, both through the generosity of Shriners as well as merchants and charitable inclined citizens who are also arranging to assist these young underprivileged have a good time.

Groups of employees organizations are also to attend on special evenings. Those unable to see the purchased tickets are also arranging with Chairman Davis of the underprivileged children committee to turn their tickets over to him so as to enable the less fortunate to attend.

Starts of the larger tented circuses have joined this large traveling circus, consisting of The Belle Troupe of teter board stunts; the Harrison Trio, unicycle riders; The Orton Troupe and Miss Marimoto in balancing, high perch and iron jaw tests; the Flying LeClaires who on the flying trapeze offer some hazards which were not seen last year; Miss Teresa who beats the reputation of being unexcelled for her daring in the air and her heel catch from a trapeze; with Miss Mona the trained elephant, Captain Hamilton and his lions, Snider's Bears and Betty Hilton's dog revue featuring some of the animal features.

This year efforts are being made to bring the Liberty Horses here, which no doubt will appeal to all horse lovers in the Pampa section. Eugene Randow with his famous group of clowns will have many bags of new tricks to keep the audience in an uproar of laughter, for a circus naturally would not be complete without clowns. Plans are to fill in after the thrills and sensations.

appointed by the state must adhere to its loan and grant agreement with the federal government, which furnished the funds for the project.

Governor Phillips must not proceed with his state court injunction suit.

Phillips must not interfere with construction of the dam through use of the national guard.

Judge Kennamer set hearing on the order for Monday.

The federal government declared it held $1,265,000 in bonds against the project. It asked damages from Phillips "personally with costs" if the dam were damaged or impaired by his actions. It contends normal spring floods might "endanger or impair" the dam.

Attendance At Church Campaign Increases Tuesday

An increase in attendance last night at the First Baptist church enlargement campaign, was reported and 1,000 prospects for the Sunday school were revealed.

A visitation program will strive to reach every Baptist home this week. The attendance goal for Easter Sunday is 1,000.

Dr. Alvin G. House will speak tonight at 7:45 o'clock on "Keeping the Church Member Enlisted." Supper is to be served at 6:45 o'clock.

Workers Council To Meet Tonight

A regular monthly meeting of the Workers' Council of First Methodist church for all officers and teachers of the church school will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in this church.

Farris Oden is general superintendent of the church school.

Smart Doggy!

MCKINNEY, March 20 (AP)—Geepo is a dog but that doesn't mean he's a dumb animal.

Geepo is the pet of William Dorsey, newspaper carrier, and Geepo found himself locked in the newspaper office the other night. About 2 a. m. Geepo grew restless and tried to get out—but no luck.

Geepo leaped upon the counter and knocked the receiver off the telephone. To show it was no accident, Geepo barked long and loud into the microphone and pretty soon the operator at the other end spread the alarm to the police.

They sped to the newspaper in a squad car and opened the door. Geepo made a beeline through their legs and dashed for home.

hours after Prime Minister Chamberlain had told the House of Commons that "we intend to fight" and hinted that Britain was about to avenge the German raid Saturday upon the British North sea fleet anchorage at Scapa Flow.

Air Minister Sir Kingsley Wood in telling the House of Commons of the raid today said that hangars and oil storage tanks were set afire, and that "many hits" were made on the Jetty Light railway and other parts of the big German base.

Today's reconnaissance flights confirmed the success of last night's operation, Wood said.

The attack, he continued, was concentrated for six hours on Hornum, the island's big seaplane base, from which the air minister said German planes have been flying to drop mines along the British coast and attack British shipping.

Air ministry sources said this afternoon that all British planes had returned "hours ago" from the raid, and that there was no action against Sylt this afternoon.

Poor visibility, compared with the British moonlight and drifting clouds that aided the British last night and early today, prevented the Danish coastal observers from estimating accurately the number of planes involved in the follow-up raid.

They said, however, that apparently there were six groups of bombers, with the reverberating explosions equal or nearly equal to those previously, and German anti-aircraft batteries keeping up a terrific defense.

The Danes said they themselves fired warning shots at one foreign plane which flew over Danish soil, and that several bombs were dropped on the coast of Denmark, on which they said one plane landed with spitting machine-guns.

Thirty of the latest types of Wellington and Whitley bombers were believed to have engaged in the raids starting last night, the British Press association reported, although there was no official word of the numbers.

Already, on the strength of glimpses caught by the crews of wheeling bombers in the rainbow glare of battle, the air ministry reported the gigantic raid had destroyed seaplane hangars, a railway, barracks, jeties and concrete ramps. More than 100 bombs were dropped in the mass raid of last night and early today.

Pampa Girl Rode Palomino In Show

Miss Margaret Stockstill returned yesterday from Fort Worth where she was one of eight cowgirls honored at the Southwest Exposition and Pat Stock Show. She was accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Stockstill.

The girls were guests at all events during the exposition, feted at banquets and showered with gifts.

The Pampa girl, only representative from the Panhandle, took her pet Palomino horse to Fort Worth and rode it in all parades at the exposition.

Medical Attention Given City Prisoner

Late yesterday afternoon city officers arrested a man on an intoxication charge but this morning when he "came to" the officers were afraid they had more than an intoxicated man on their hands so they called the city physician.

After an examination, the doctor said the man was suffering from alcoholism and that his life was not in danger. The physician said the officers had been right in calling him. The man could easily develop a serious illness because he had been the victim of gunshot wounds several years ago.

One of the bullets passed through his eye and out his skull, necessitating the placing of a silver plate in his skull. One arm had almost been shot off, examination showed.

The man murmured to the physician that he had been hi-jacked several years ago and was shot with a pistol and shotgun when he resisted.

Galligly Loses Last Legal Move

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—Richard Gray Galligly, son of a socially prominent Georgia family, lost today what appeared to be his last possible court move to avoid extradition.

The state court of criminal appeals overruled a motion for rehearing of Galligly's appeal from a Dallas county district court decision remanding him to the custody of Georgia authorities. He is under two life sentences in Georgia for murder.

Unless Governor W. Lee O'Daniel or some other court should intervene, Galligly can be taken from Texas immediately after the court of criminal appeals mandate reaches Dallas, where he is in jail. The mandate probably will get to Dallas by Friday.

Five months ago, Governor O'Daniel decided after a hearing that Galligly should be extradited. The fugitive's blond young wife, who has aided in his Texas fight for freedom, recently appealed to the Governor for reconsideration of the case but O'Daniel gave no indication that he would take further action.

One Killed, Two Injured In Wreck

CHILDRESS, March 20 (AP)—Alvin Winters, Collingsworth county farmer, was crushed to death today and Archie Collins of Childress and one of the Collins children were injured seriously in a highway crash two miles from Wellington.

Collins, Connell and five other Childress youths, returning from a St. Patrick's day celebration at Shamrock, had parked their car for minor repairs at the side of the road. They halted Winters, who parked his car in front of theirs to provide light. James Raven, Wellington negro, ran his car between the two parked machines, fatally injuring Winters.

Collins suffered back and chest injuries, Connell a broken ankle and leg. They were taken to Wellington.

Mrs. C. C. Lander Buried In McLean

Funeral services for Mrs. Chester C. Lander, 30, were to be conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the First Presbyterian church, McLean, by the Rev. W. A. Erwin, pastor. Burial was to be in McLean cemetery under direction of Clay's Funeral home of Pampa.

Mrs. Lander died Monday night in a local hospital. She had been a resident of McLean for 18 years. Mr. Lander is a McLean druggist.

Survivors are the husband, her mother, grandmother, four sisters and two brothers.

Senate Bill Aimed To Halt Purchases Of Foreign Silver

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—The senate banking and currency committee approved today a bill that would end all purchases of foreign silver by the treasury.

The committee sent to the senate with a favorable recommendation the legislation by Senator Townsend (R-De) to end the foreign silver buying authority.

Majority leader Barkley (D-Ky), a member of the committee, said the vote was 14 to 4.

Secretary Morgenthau had opposed the Townsend bill only yesterday, expressing hope that the committee would not do anything which might complicate "chaotic" world conditions.

The meeting was called to order at 7:00 Monday evening by senior patrol leader Raymond Perkins. The flag ceremony was held followed by the oath and law. An investiture service was held for John McColm. A board of review was held for Brent Blonkist Jr. and Carroll Chisum who became second class scouts, and for Billy Dixon who became a first class scout.

A report on the trip to Canyon was given, and plans made for a short afternoon hike for Saturday.

There were twenty-four scouts present and three visitors.

FDR Ordered To Bed

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt's temperature was up again and he was ordered back to bed.

His physician, Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire, said, however, he was "not in the least concerned" about the President's condition and that his cold was "just one of those things that hangs on."

"Götter" Discussed

By Medical Society

A score of persons attended the regular monthly meeting of the Gray-Wheeler Medical society, held last night at the Schneider hotel. In connection with the meeting members held a Dutch luncheon.

"Götter" was the subject of the principal talks, made by Dr. Dune and Dr. J. W. Hendricks, both of Amarillo.

Dr. J. E. Nicholson of Wheeler, society president, was in charge of the meeting.

Dr. W. R. Walker, Wheeler, James Odum, Memphis, of the Group Hospital service; Dr. J. W. Gooch, Shamrock; a Mr. Allen of Dallas and a Mr. Duke of Amarillo, representatives of the Upjohn company, were other out-of-town persons attending.

Pampa physicians present were R. M. Brown, W. Purviance, H. L. Wilder, J. H. Kelley, R. A. Webb, V. E. von Brunow, Calvin Jones, W. B. Wild, E. H. Turner, M. C. Overton, R. M. Bellamy, and J. O. Gilliland.

Franklin's Wife Injured By Horse

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 20 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., wife of the president's son, suffered a fractured pelvis and brain concussion in a fall from a horse while riding with the Farmington hunt near here today.

An attending physician at University hospital said her condition was satisfactory.

The accident occurred as Mrs. Roosevelt attempted to take her mount over a picket fence. The horse fell on the rider and she was rendered unconscious.

Young Roosevelt was attending classes at the University of Virginia law school when he was informed of the accident. His wife is the former Ethel du Pont.

Trouble With Census Man

Biggest difficulty in the current squabble over the forthcoming diennial census is that there ARE two sides to the question.

Critics of the setup as established by the Census Bureau point out that the canvassers are straying a long way from the simple constitutional provision which provides for nothing more complicated than counting heads. They wouldn't mind a few of the questions that census takers intend to ask citizens, but they think Uncle Sam is going a little too far when he sets out to discover intimate details about family life.

Even then, they might not howl quite so loudly if there were any assurance that the information gathered would be kept strictly confidential. But they fail to see how anyone can reasonably expect some tens of thousands of census takers to keep juicy tidbits of neighborhood interest under their hats.

But look at the Census Bureau's viewpoint: Theoretically, every scrap of information gathered will be as confidential and as sacred as the secret ballot. Questions are not designed to embarrass housewives, nor to snoot purposefully into private matters. All that's wanted is more data on American life than has ever been collected before with a view toward establishing a rich fund of statistics on resources.

How can social and economic advances be brought about, they ask, unless the people interested know to what extent change is needed? How can America know what America needs unless exhaustive and authoritative figures are on file?

Whatever questions are finally approved for submission to the populace, chances are there won't be much trouble so long as the canvassers remain courteous. Residents have a right to expect Uncle Sam's representative to be at least as considerate as a shoe-string peddler. The reason James Russell, the Keno-sha, Wis., shoe repairman, refused to answer questions in a preliminary survey, he told authorities, after his arrest, was that the census man wasn't polite.

The great majority of citizens will want to co-operate. They will expect the census takers to do the same.

The Nation's Press

STRIKES FORBIDDEN
(Chicago Tribune)

On May 1 the city of New York will take over a number of transit lines now under private operation. In all, some 27,000 employees of the companies will be transferred to the city's pay rolls. Mayor La Guardia has announced that these employees will be retained, but they will not be permitted to have a closed shop and will not be allowed to strike. The right to strike against the government, the mayor said, is not and cannot be recognized. Not long ago President Roosevelt used almost the same words in declaring that workmen may not strike against the federal government.

Why Mr. La Guardia regards a tieup of local transportation in New York as permissible under private management but unthinkable under his management is a question which need not now be examined. The significant thing is that he thinks that way and that Mr. Roosevelt feels the same way about it. Both Mr. La Guardia and Mr. Roosevelt have put themselves forward as the special friends of organized labor and have enjoyed a large measure of labor support. Both of them have more or less openly endorsed strikes which cost the public a great deal of inconvenience and loss. And yet both of them as government officials have taken the unqualified position that when the government goes into business the employees of that business may not strike, whatever the provocation.

This is a matter which organized labor and its friends may well ponder. What it means is that organized labor will be one of the principal losers if the trend toward collectivism in this country continues. As an industry after another is subjected to the government management the rights of labor will be more and more narrowly restricted. If the government takes the railroads the railroad unions will be denied the right to strike. If the government takes the power companies the same rule will apply.

That, of course, is precisely what has happened in the totalitarian countries where collectivism has been carried to its limits. Any one who would call a strike in Russia, Germany, or Italy would surely be locked in a concentration camp and could reasonably expect to be shot for treason.

Collectivism is the enemy which thoughtful labor leaders fear most. Demagogues like to pretend that only employers and capitalists have reason to oppose government in business. The recent action of Mayor La Guardia proves that organized labor is equally threatened.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, March 20—A first-class sensation is very likely to develop out of the coming congressional investigation into French and British purchases of the U. S. military planes.

Here are the ingredients, as visible in the capital today.

1—A brand-new military plane, only recently considered too "secret" to be sold abroad, is going to go to the French in large numbers. The U. S. Army, incidentally, has not yet begun to get delivery on this plane.

2—The French and British are about to spend a billion on airplanes, although existence of a "bottleneck" in production has just been admitted by Assistant Secretary of War Johnson.

3—Many army and navy officers strongly oppose the sales but are overruled. Deals are arranged by the White House. The army and navy, it is reliably reported, do not now know what planes will really be sold abroad.

4—A hush-hush veil of secrecy has hidden the entire affair for over a year.

An interesting case is that of the Curtiss P-40 pursuit ship. A year ago War Department spokesmen told a Senate committee that this ship, above all others,

Sharing The Comforts Of Life ---

By R. C. Moiles

WEALTH DISTRIBUTED WILLY NILLY

A contributor takes exception to my statement that wealth that is produced will be distributed willy nilly. He contends that if this were true in "anything like a measurable degree, compared with our marvelous capacity to produce, the millennium would have Satan by the tail on a downhill pull."

What the contributor fails to understand is that producing something in excess of local needs that is of not enough value to pay for transporting it from one part of the country to another, is not producing real wealth. Of course, if we produce ice in Alaska, it would not be regarded as of value in the winter time at least. It might have a little local value but any excess quantities would be of no value.

If a man would not distribute his wealth, what would be his purpose in keeping it? A man would be irrational if not insane to work and produce anything if he did not want what he produced or something else that he believed he could get by exchanging what he produced.

When anything is produced out of proportion to other things, it, of course, has very little if any exchange value. Labor unions, prorate, tariffs, bad banking laws and bad taxing laws have prevented things being produced that are badly needed. When the labor unions and the tariffs and the tax laws prevent some kind of property from being produced freely and permit unlimited production of other kinds of property, then great injustice is being done to the workers in the unlimited class.

And to limit all kinds of production, in order to have harmony in exchange value, is to only make everybody poorer.

There was never as much difference between our ability to produce and our wants as there is at the present time, in spite of all the theorists and dreamers who contend the opposite. The reason the difference is so great, is because our wants are infinitely greater than they have ever been before.

It is a nice Utopian dream in which collective bargaining advocates like to indulge, to contend that we can produce plenty for everybody. We can, undoubtedly, produce a great deal of any kind of commodity or service, but that, by no means, means that we can produce enough of everything to supply all our wants. Especially, are we lacking in ability to produce understanding among people. We have made very little progress along this line.

Yes, everything that is produced willy nilly will be distributed. Of course, it could be distributed much fairer and with a great deal less waste, if there were a free market that permitted it to be freely distributed.

But the advocates of collective bargaining do not seem to want a free market. They want to repeal the natural laws of nature and have the rain fall only on those they would have it fall on—not as it was intended to fall on the just and the unjust. This, of course, only causes great confusion and much unnecessary suffering.

THEORISTS BAR STRIKES WHEN THEY ARE RESPONSIBLE

All these politicians who pose as being the greatest friend of all to the working man, invariably say, when they are responsible for a service, that it is against public interest to strike against the government.

Mayor LaGuardia, in taking over the Interurban Railroad, has ruled against the closed shop and against strikes. President Roosevelt has also ruled along the same line.

Now it seems rather strange that these men, when they are responsible for service, should make a rule that strikes are detrimental. How in the name of common sense can they expect private enterprise to give a service when the government, when represented by such men as Roosevelt and LaGuardia, will not protect those who want to work and can secure jobs, in the right to work?

Of course, private enterprise cannot compete with public enterprise if, in one case, the government insists on one man's right to work and protects him in that right and, in another case, it does not.

These theorists who believe that wage levels can be raised by collective bargaining, when they are put to the test and are held responsible, soon reverse themselves. Consistency, thou art a jewel! The way to test a man is to let him try to do something that he demands of other people. When the coddling government officials are obliged to render a service, they immediately reverse their position from what they demand of private enterprise. It is a poor rule that does not work both ways.

must not be sold abroad. Today that ship has been released for sale to the French.

Technically, it is not the P-40; it is to be sold minus all of its secret accessories, and in that condition is officially known as the B-1; but it is the same plane, and it is being sold abroad before the U. S. Army, for which it was designed, has been able to get production on it.

Now it is the secrecy under which the release of this plane was arranged, the fact that the White House can—and, according to reliable report did exercise the presidential power as commander-in-chief to overrule any army and navy protests, and the abandonment of the old policy of keeping all new planes and weapons exclusively for U. S. use until the army and navy are thoroughly stocked with them, which has both congressional and military circles badly worried.

The allied purchasers are known to be anxious to get two particular pets of U. S. military aviation—the famous bomb-sight, which is the most prized military secret on earth today, and the Bell Alcobra, powerful rear-engineered pursuit ship, some army officers and congressmen are afraid that these two may follow the Curtiss fighter over the ganplanck to Europe.

FLAME PLANT PLAN

Meanwhile, the furore over the sales is having the unexpected effect of giving support to a move to put the U. S. government into the airplane manufacturing business.

About one year ago Senator Lister Hill of Alabama introduced a bill which would establish a government airplane factory as a "yardstick" for production costs, set up a research laboratory, and put the government into mass production of planes in case of war.

Now Senator Hill is getting action. He has been named chairman of a special subcommittee to hold hearings on this bill, and witnesses have already been called. The senator now believes he can get action at this session; and if the big foreign purchases are shown to be delaying U. S. rearmament, he easily might.

THE CONGRESSIONAL AX

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, March 20—It may come as a shock to some of the parishioners to hear that Mae West takes exercise. It was to me, anyway. Here, I always had thought, was a true Sybarite, a voluptuary lolling in a Louis XIV den of mirrors, ermine and busy ivory telephones. Or Aphrodite reclining in a foam bath and reading Variety.

In most ways Mae has been remarkably inactive. Never drives her own cars; doesn't dance, swim or ride horseback. Has no interest in gardening, cooking or knitting. She leaves all games from tennis to chess. She doesn't attend parties and is no longer a regular spectator at boxing matches because, she says, she can't endure the smell of cigars.

On a movie set she displays, among other things, great physical fortitude in her tormented corsets. These, together with her high heels, are responsible for her celebrated waddle, and it has been guessed that if she ever fell down while thus encumbered she'd be as helpless as an overturned turtle.

CONSENTS TO POSE WITHOUT HER CORSET

The other day she astonished Universal by consenting to pose for pictures with various gymnastic accessories. In the spare bedroom of her mirrored bower on the seventh floor of the Ravenswood apartments, she has a couple of five-pound dumbbells, a contraption with handles and elastic cords that works like a weight-pulling machine, and a short practice bar such as ballet dancers hang onto while limbering up.

I suspect that Miss West wanted to show her public that normally she is not as oddly formed as her screen costumes make her appear. In a skin-tight black satin bathing suit, holding the dumbbells and yanking at the wall appliance, she looked fine, but not as kicking. She's considerably smaller than fans would guess. Biographical statistics give her height as 5 feet, 4 inches, but I doubt if she stands half an inch over 5 feet without shoes. She loves sweets but diets assiduously. She says that when she has to lose weight in a hurry she goes on a steak diet.

MAE HAS ENERGY USES IT IN WRITING

I still doubt that she takes much exercise, but there's no questioning that she has tremendous energy. She writes a great deal, either laboriously with pencil or by dictating to a secretary. Since 1926 when she wrote and starred in "Sex," and went to jail for it, Miss West has done her own plays, and has revised her movie scripts. She now has finished a screen play about Russia's Catherine the Great and hopes a producer will come up and see her sometime.

She drives a shrewd bargain and was making more money from her pictures than Paramount was when she left that studio a couple of years ago.

Miss West's age always has been one of her mysteries. When she was booked by police at Blackwell's Island, 1900 was given as her birth year, but theatrical records show that she appeared at the Folies Bergere and the Winter Garden in New York in 1911. Anyway, she wears well. That black bathing suit proves that.

'Speediest Thief'

HOUSTON, March 20 (AP)—Police are looking for the "speediest thief." A few days ago he entered a drug store, grabbed three pints of whiskey and fled so swiftly he ran out from under his hat.

The other night he entered a liquor store, grabbed three quarts and again fled so fast he lost his hat.

Attention hound owners of Wheeler, Lipscomb, Hemphill, and of other Panhandle counties: we'd sure like for you to enter your hounds in the dog show to be held in Pampa. An attractive trophy will go to the best "potlicker" hound. Why not drop us a line that you'll bring your hounds to Pampa the Sunday we have the show?

Our old friend, Dutch Huber has entered his bird dog in the show. . . . The City Drug store turned over a lot that contained $5.92 to the Baker school cafeteria fund for underprivileged children. Other contributors: C. R. Followell, $1, Lions club $25—and thanks to all of you. Aaron Meek and the Baker teachers and children appreciate your generosity.

Mrs. Mickey Conley is a lucky woman because she has so many friends, but she was more than lucky Sunday because on that day Mrs. Stella Pollard baked her a superb birthday cake, and Mrs. Pollard, be it known now, is a wonderful cook. Nobody can make slaw like hers—she'll give you the recipe, and you'll follow it to a T but still it won't taste like her slaw. . . . Mrs. Pollard took the cake up to her good friend Mickey Sunday afternoon, and when a friend dropped in Mickey gave him a piece.

Boy Kidnaped From School Grounds

LONE OAK, March 20 (AP)—Carl Kelsay faced charges of kidnapping today in connection with the attempted abduction of eight-year-old Donald Walker of Lone Oak.

A man and woman seized the boy yesterday afternoon as he played on Dunn's creek school grounds but they were seen by Jesse Miller, superintendent of the school.

Miller notified officers and a short time later Kelsay and a woman companion were arrested. No charge was filed against her.

The child was returned unharmed to his father.

Deck Walker, father of the child, said the woman tried a few days ago to obtain a loan of $125 from him and expressed the opinion the abduction was part of a plan for extortion.

It ain't the feller that's on relief because he needs it, that's driving the country into bankruptcy. We could raise enough money to take care of that kind of feller easy, if it wasn't for the chislers. And it ain't the little pick and shovel fellers down at the bottom, they don't amount to a hill of beans when it comes to chisling. It's the army of fat salaried political buzzards that's living off the relief funds through the thousands of useless, unnecessary, inconsequential, unproductive, unproductive, unproductive jobs, they're the real chislers. And that's just our trouble, instead of just perving the necessary adequate relief where it's needed, we're trying to maintain all these buzzards in the style to which they've become accustomed, and it can't be done on account of their too dang stylish, and besides we can't raise that much money anyway. And that's why, instead of cutting off the little pick and shovel feller, we should ought to start up amongst the big shots where we could really save some money. No sir, it ain't the communists or the bunds that we got to watch out for so much when it comes to subversive activities, it ain't nobody else but the native born American citizen that's putting the skids under our government. And that's the reason why everybody should ought to have to take the oath of allegiance before they're allowed to vote, instead of just having a few aliens do it. And not only that, it should ought to say something in it about not cheating, wronging or defrauding the government, just on account of so many native born American citizens running around here saluting Uncle Sam's flag with one hand, and picking his pockets with the other.

P. S.—You kin always tell a political buzzard from a regular buzzard, on account of one of em's real feathers on—

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Lester P. Barlow, Baltimore inventor, announced today he would demonstrate the safe-handling qualities of his new typhoid-explosive bomb at Baltimore a week from today.

Members of Congress and army and navy representatives will be invited to attend this unofficial demonstration, Barlow said, although official military tests, agreed upon by army and navy heads yesterday, will not start for about two weeks.

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWeese

WE often wonder if people stop to consider the statement you sometimes hear the newspaper has a decided advantage in any public controversy. . . . Nothing is farther from the truth. . . . Fact of the matter is, a newspaper can destroy itself by endorsing any serious principle that is unsound.

SOMEbody has to be gracious enough to give a newspaper credit for having a big enough think tank to realize and to know that to what ever degree a newspaper sponsors sound principles which will work and opposes unsound principles which won't work—to that degree will the newspaper succeed.

WE do not pretend, of course, to assume that newspapers never adopt unsound policies and survive, but they cannot adopt any major unsound policy and survive. . . . So, any newspaper that takes exception to the theories and policies of persons who apparently have always devoted their lives to the welfare of their fellow citizens, is going to be at a decided disadvantage.

ALTHOUGH these persons long have had the reputation of being infallible, if their present ideas and their present leadership will not stand the scrutiny of analysis, then they fall into the classification where they become decidedly vulnerable from the standpoint of the general welfare.

A NEWSPAPER in any community can be said to have posted a bond with the people of that community in the amount of the value of its property. . . . For this reason, it dare not advocate unsound principles, because to criticize sound principles is to advocate unsound principles. . . . And so, it readily may be seen to just what great extent a newspaper is placed at a disadvantage in taking a stand on matters of public interest.

WE get the report that in a class at the High school yesterday the vote was 25 to 3 against the advocacy of municipal ownership in Pampa. . . . The vote was taken after a general discussion of the local situation. . . . Pampa's city commission did not hold its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. . . . Two members were absent, so the session was postponed until 1:30 Thursday afternoon. . . . Apparently the Pampa Oilers baseball management is having more difficulty in getting contracts from its players than Crummer & Company had in getting one from the city commission.

FROM the McLean News: "One day last week a man, the nature of whose business requires him to move every so often, asked for his meter deposit at the Southwestern Public Service Co. office (in McLean) in the presence of the McLean News editor. After paying his bill and receiving his receipt, the man said: 'This is the cheapest electric bill I ever paid for the same amount of service.' When it is remembered that McLean had one of the highest rates in the state under municipal ownership, it should be a source of pride to every citizen to know that the present company has been able to reduce rates to a point that would inspire such comment from a user who has every chance to compare rates." Remember, that is from The McLean News.

IT is to be hoped that the Fact Finding Committee will not attempt to turn loose any of its findings on the merits or demerits of municipal ownership in these final days before the City election. . . . The material the Fact Finders are gathering, the public was told, is to be for the purpose of informing the people so they could vote intelligently on the municipal power issue. . . . That doesn't come up for a vote at the April 2 election.

IF Fact Finders should re-enter the picture at this late date with municipal ownership data, it definitely would peg them as being political in character. . . . Since they originally were on record as getting both sides of the story it would be fair for the committee at this time to release information that would favor either ticket in the coming election. . . . No matter which ticket is elected, Fact Finders still can present their findings after the April 2 election. If the people of Pampa feel that it should be done, then a special election can be called on the light and power issue.

IF the Fact Finders publicly had gone on record as being either for or against municipal ownership then there could be no quarrel with them for plugging into the city campaign for all they are worth, but because they have told the public they are neutral we cannot see where their information—either for or against—has any place in the City election of April 2.

Police Hunt Son In Slaying Of Mother

SEATTLE, March 20 (AP)—A bizarre and brutal "cupboard slaying" of an attractive 45-year-old Seattle matron sent officers today on an intensive search for her 23-year-old son.

The body of the victim, Mrs. Harriet Redding Arnold, was found beaten, stabbed and strangled yesterday in the nailed-shut cupboard under the sink drain board of her suburban bungalow.

A murder warrant was issued last night against Daniel Davis, 23, her son. Deputy prosecutor Charles Ralls said the warrant was obtained on the basis of the story related by Davis' estranged wife, June, 20. He said Mrs. Davis told officers she played with Davis in a hotel Monday night, and that, after acting strangely and nervous during the night, he told her yesterday morning of the killing.

Mrs. Davis later told officers they would find the body of her mother-in-law at the latter's home.

THE PRICE OF PRIDE
National income for 1939 has just been estimated by the department of commerce at $68,500,000,000. This is the second-best year since Mr. Roosevelt became president. Despite the fact that it is still some fourteen billions under 1929, it has justified considerable optimism.

It seems almost ungracious therefore even to point out some underlying facts. But these facts will demand to be heard sooner or later. One, of course, is that a part of this prosperity—in aircraft, and national defense, for example—depends upon war, which always destroys more prosperity than it creates. Another fact is that we ought to be more disturbed over an unbalanced budget when business is reasonably good than when it is bad. If we can't pay our bills in good times, when can we?

The materials for a real prosperity are at hand and the recipe is known. First, as to the material: Bank deposits are the largest in the history of the United States. They exceed $57 billion. They are looking for jobs. People hesitate to take the responsibility of giving them jobs. Why? Another new all-time record has been made by money. It is with reference to velocity of circulation, the way we measure how fast dollars move around. Velocity of circulation today is like molasses in March. In New York City banks it is only 29 per cent of the 1919-1925 average, lower than for any month for which records exist. In banks outside of New York City, velocity is also at a new low point. The rate of turnover of money for the entire nation has steadily declined since 1928, 10 years ago, and has done so without interruption except for brief periods in 1936 and 1937.

Here we have two all-time, all-American records—both bad. If conditions were such that confidence in future business existed, the potential for good from these figures is simply staggering. These $57 billion idle dollars are enough to pay wages to these 8,000,000 idle men, at $1000 a year each, without stopping, until April, 1947, seven years and one month ago now.

And because these $57 billion aren't hard at work we continue with the alternative of $3 billion a year of new government debt, and a crushing tax load, to finance WPA and other substitutes for prosperity.

"This pride that pulls the country down." Some day these 8,000,000 idle men may realize that it is the stubborn pride of their own government which stands between them and a decent job in private employment. Some day they will say to themselves, "If these dollars were busy, I'd have a job." And they are going to growl, "Who's stopping them?" That will be a good time to stand from under. Some of them must have asked this question the day the Congressional District, the other day. And I'm not suggesting that any one vote for any particular party. But it is necessary to vote for men of both parties who want business to do business and are neither Socialists nor high wind mighty that nobody can let them anything. Plenty of Democratic Congressmen have fought as hard and as bravely as Republicans against this creeping paralysis of collectivism.

The answer to the question why we have idle men and idle money are pretty well known. One is NLRB. Another is SEC, and a hundred other bureaus bossing business and investors around. Another is government competing with its own citizens. Another is high and higher taxes. Another is the unbalanced budget and what it may lead to. Another is the kind of Supreme Court we now have. Another is the question mark about a third term—how business would hum if that question were answered the right way! Another is the constant stream of new rules and regulations so that, as a great judge, Benjamin Cardozo—said, "Men are viewed as malefactors for failure to consent to the unknown and the unknowable."

Two or three years ago Mr. Roosevelt told Congress that the new government machine might need to have a nut tightened here and loosened there. And perhaps a little oil of humility in the joints. But did he mean it? Can you get a single nut loosened except after a terrific fight between Congress and the President? No sir. "We must not let the people down!"

Echrich Only Boy To Whip Pampa Boxer

Boxing fans of Pampa and this section of the Panhandle are believing that the Pampa Independent Basketball team won a 59 to 49 game from the LeFors Independents Monday night in the LeFors high school gymnasium.

Tom Bean, who used to play basketball and football for Plainview high school and who later was with the famous Amarillo Gladiators, led the Pampa scoring with 16 points. But Bean wasn't high point man of the game, however, for Ellington, former LeFors Pirate star, hit the basket for 20 points.

Elmer Irving was second in command of Pampa scoring with 12 points. Pampa's Weber added 10 points as did Carruth and Wolff for LeFors.

The Pampans are scheduled to meet LeFors again and also Phillips this week but dates have not been arranged.

Players, with their points, follow: Pampa: Irving 12; Strickland 8; Bean 16; Weber 10; Orville Heiskell 5; Claude Heiskell 8.

Seeded Teams Defeated In Denver Meet

DENVER, March 20.—In a mad scramble like the National AAU basketball tournament, you never know when a first round bye is going to turn into a second round "bye bye."

Sixteen teams of the 50 that began the week-long marathon answered "here" today for third round games, and only eight of these were rated good enough to draw byes in the first round.

Six other teams so complimented were hustled to the exits in their first frays and two of these were seeded quintets.

The second major overthrow of the tournament occurred last night when the unsung Colorado Springs Jewellers handed out a 63-40-46 hiding to the seeded Eugene Oregonians.

The first surprise, of course, was the Salt Lake City Eckers' victory the night before over the Oklahoma City 88ers, another of the eight seeded clubs.

The people's two choices, the national champion Denver Nuggets and the Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips 66 machine, runnerup last year, played their next games tonight.

The Nuggets play Montana university and Phillips closes the third round slate against St. Louis United Service.

Yesterday's results: Shreveport, La., Morris and Dickson, 46, Kansas City College of Commerce 44.

Des Moines Coalers 72, Amsterdam, N. Y. Textiles 45.

boys shake hands, throw their arms over the others shoulder and that's real sportsmanship and the kind that parents like to see their sons develop.

Bouts will be staged in 12 weight divisions. Each school may enter two boys in each weight which means that if all schools take advantage of the double entry a session will have to be held Saturday afternoon.

Stars Galore

The teams met in Stinnett last week and so close was the battling that Pampa and Stinnett each had four champions and Canadian and Follett two each. Both Follett and Canadian will bring much stronger teams to Pampa and the Pampa and Stinnett title hopes will be challenged.

Fans who saw the Stinnett meet will bet that Echrich, Follett's 125 pound sensation, will give the crowd their money's worth. He's a crowd puller and never stops. He's the only boy to stop Pampa's L. V. McDonald this year.

If it's smooth, finished boxing fans want, they'll get it when Berger, 95, and Yaunt, 105, of Stinnett take the floor.

For a deadly punch that travels only a few inches, Lefty Pendleton of Pampa should be watched as should Roy Ralston's Mathis and Jennings are a couple of boys who have what it takes in their weight divisions.

Hallbourg Returns His Contract With Oilers

Gus Hallbourg, youthful rookie pitcher who showed marked improvement as the 1939 baseball season progressed, returned his signed contract to the Pampa Oilers management yesterday. He was the second player from last year's team to sign, Shortstop Sam Malvica being the other.

Hallbourg finished last season with 11 wins against five losses. He worked in 24 games. The big right-hander got off to a shaky start but improved with every game until he was the best looking prospect on the team at the close of the season.

In the games he worked, Hallbourg had an earned run average of 5.32 against him but most of that handicap was in early season games. In the field the right-hander had a perfect average.

Only Lefty Rex Dilbeck had a better pitching record than Hallbourg, 50 far Dilbeck has not signed a contract.

Business Manager Harold Miller received a second unsigned contract from Frank Grabek yesterday. Earlier Grabek had returned a contract asking $225. His new demand was $175 but it received no more favorable recognition than the other.

"He's received his last contract," Manager Grover Seitz declared when presented with the returned contract and accompanying letter.

Mobeetie-Allison Girls Rout Californians 41-24

MOBEETIE, March 20 (NS)—Mobeetie and Allison girls combined last night to hand the Modesto champions of California 41 to 24 drubbing before a packed gymnasium. The Texas girls displayed a brand of ball that dazzled the Californians and had them on the defense most of the way.

The Mobeetie-Allison team used the three ace forwards from this year's Mobeetie finalist team in the state tournament while the guards were from last year's state high school and A. A. U. championship team from Allison.

Tonight the Mobeetie-Allison team will go to Raydon, Okla., where they will meet the Raydon All Stars, a team entered in the Oklahoma A. A. U. tournament which opens this week-end.

The Modesto team from California, composed of veteran players who were runners-up in the national tournament last year, arrived in Pampa yesterday and came to Mobeetie by bus. They returned to Pampa where they stayed last night, leaving this morning on the Santa Fe for Klawns from where they were to take a bus to Guthrie, Okla., for a game tonight.

Smith, Mobeetie forward, was the scoring ace of the game, hitting the basket for 17 points. Also paced the California lassies with 12 points. While the Mobeetie forwards handled the ball smoothly and expertly, the guards kept the visitors from getting close to the basket.

The victors were coached by Supt. M. D. Blankenship of Mobeetie and Supt. John Peeples of Allison. Hays and Dillion of Allison officiated.

For the past two years, Midland teams have flourished around in the basement until the season was more than half-gone. Duffey and Hale are determined such will not be the case this year. They, better than anyone else, realize that interest cannot be built up in a cellar club and are not going to leave anything undone in an effort to have a club on hand that will keep the interest of the fans from beginning to end.

The owners of the club, Duffey and

4-Minute Mile Foreseen For Chuck Fenska

PHILADELPHIA, March 20 (AP)-A "four-flat" mile?

It's possible, three college track coaches agreed today, and they think Chuck Fenska probably is the man to do it.

Said Ben Ogden, of Temple: "It can be done, and, in my opinion it will be done in the not too distant future-very probably by Chuck Fenska."

Lawson Robertson, veteran Penn and American Olympic track coach won't "place any limit on what Fenska will do in the future" because he is young and is improving faster than any other runner.

Observed Jim Elliott of Villanova: "I see no reason for believing that the limit has been reached in the standard distance of a mile. Fenska, at 24, has not reached the peak of his running career."

Thus in the bespectacled Wisconsin runner who hung up a record of 2:59.7 for the three-quarters at Chicago Saturday night, may be the fastest of the long-discussed four minute mile.

The Philadelphia mentors pointed out that a 60.3 for the final quarter at Chicago would have broken the trick.

A 60.3 final quarter is not at all phenomenal for the mile but whether a fellow would have enough left to go that fast after a 2:59.7 three-quarters, is a question," said Robertson, who long has believed that the four minute mile is within reach of human speed.

He and Ogden agreed that a likely spot for Fenska to attain the "four-flat" would be in the lightning fast Dartmouth indoor track, provided conditions were favorable.

Another good site, Robertson said, would be the quarter-mile Olympic track at Los Angeles.

YESTERDAY Ann returned the stolen jewels, asks for a job instead of a reward. Temple hires her as housekeeper, but she is not to be fooled. After a crisis day, she is going to marry when Steve Grayhouse enters.

CHAPTER XXV

HI, old timer," Steve said pleasantly. "Tell the fair damsel that her swain has arrived." He gasped, "Ann—" as if only half believing his eyes.

"Hello, Steve." "Is that you, Ann? I only took one drink—I swear I did." Shutting his eyes, he shook his head violently, then stared again. "It's true. For a minute I thought I'd conjured you out of thin air."

"I'm here all right," she admitted, sitting down on the second step. "That is, what's left of me."

Steve sat down beside her. "Sweet to see you, Ann."

She nodded, resting her chin on both fists. "I'm the new housekeeper."

His laugh was explosive. "You're what?"

"The new housekeeper," she repeated. "Mr. Temple hired me to bring order out of chaos in this house."

"Well, I'll be—Look, Ann, I thought you were married by now."

"No."

"I thought—you said—"

"Paul went away." Saying it, she felt the sting of tears. She got to her feet and Steve also rose, looking up at her.

"He isn't coming back?"

She shook her head, fingering the little silver bracelet.

"I've never forgotten you, Ann. You pop out of my thoughts at every turn."

She smiled vaguely, her mind on household troubles. She and Plunket would have a showdown in the morning. Plunket and all her relatives couldn't lick her.

Steve still gazed at her. "Guess I'm in love with you," he said.

"Guess I fell in love with you that night at Clancy's."

Ann moved up a step. "We'll just scratch the last few remarks from the records," she said lightly.

"Keep it in mind that I'm an upper servant in this house."

"I'll keep you in mind. If I found you scrubbing down the back stairs it wouldn't change the way I feel."

Irene floated down the stairs in white tulle. She touched Ann's arm with a friendly little gesture as they passed. She called, "Evening, mister."

"By a beautiful," Steve responded in an absent-minded tone.

ANN went to bed and she did not plan. She slept. Refreshed the next morning, she took a firmer grip on the management of Mr. Temple's difficult household. She breakfasted alone with her employer, sitting demurely behind the coffee service.

"Everything all right?" Mr. Temple asked.

She nodded. "It will take a little time."

"My top sheet was fine."

Ann smiled. She had seen to that herself. "Highball all right?"

"Just right. The house feels different, Ann. I feel guilty in dumping my problems on your shoulders, but I actually relaxed and enjoyed myself last night."

"You'll be good for the kids. I'm glad you're here."

"Thank you," she said with a little warm glow. When the chauffeur had driven him to the city, she attacked her duties with new fortitude. She went first to the kitchen.

"I'll do the ordering and planning from now on, Plunket," she said firmly.

Plunket grunted.

"What food market have you been patronizing?"

"The Superior."

"May I see yesterday's order slip?"

"I don't know where it is."

Plunket spoke hastily.

"Give it to me at once."

"Find it if you can," the woman grumbled.

"Plunket—you will speak courteously to me or I will find another cook."

"I keep the slips in that drawer," Plunket nodded her small, round head.

ANN opened the drawer and scanned the dates on a number of market slips. She chose one. "Hm—four dozen boxes of soap flakes. Where are they?"

"In the laundry—where do you suppose?"

"Plunket—Ann's sweet voice had a steely ring.

"Well—"

"Six dozen limes. Why six dozen?"

"Mr. Temple likes 'em in his highballs."

Ann opened the huge refrigerator. Five limes reposed in a little wooden basket. "Where are the other nine and a half dozen?" she asked crisply.

Plunket's face was scarlet. "Run that refrigerator," she turned.

"You keep out of it."

"Where are the limes?" Plunket whined. "Me and the girls like limes."

Ann turned away. "Beginning now, Mr. Temple will pay only the market bills which I have okayed," she said.

Plunket was washing dishes. She splashed the suds and clattered the silver.

Ann took down draperies and sent them to the cleaners. She superintended the cleaning of the bedrooms, feeling like nothing so much as a pitiless slave driver.

Dinner was served that night with flowers and lighted candles on the table. It was a simple, well-balanced meal and brought forth a compliment from Mr. Temple. "I don't like flub-dubbery," he said.

Ann knew that an uprising was well under way in the kitchen. The servants whispered behind her back, they glowered and were sullenly perverse when she came upon them. With a little tactful inquiry Ann had learned that the Superior market was owned and operated by Plunket's uncle. And she knew that war would be declared when the Temple account was taken elsewhere.

ANN was in her room that second evening when Irene knocked on the door. "May I come in, Ann?" she called.

"Oh, yes—come in." It had occurred to her that she was well on the way to being as lonely as she had been in her first working days. She welcomed Irene eagerly.

Ann had been packing her father's watch, the silver spoons and a few other treasures in the lower drawer of her dresser. She closed the drawer and stood up as Irene dropped to the bed.

"I'm glad to note that Plunket hasn't slit your throat yet," she said cheerfully.

"Just give her time," Ann laughed.

"She's talking to Dad in the library."

Ann frowned. "I'm sorry. I want to relieve him of all that."

"Dad'll get rid of her. If he doesn't, want to be bothered."

Irene lighted a cigarette and lay back comfortably on the pillows. "It's fun having another girl in the house," she said.

"It's fun being here." Considering her day, it was quite a thing for Ann to say.

"What's it like to earn your own living, Ann?"

"Ghastly." They both laughed. Ann stretched herself luxuriously on the satin brocade chaise longue, crossing her slender ankles. The two girls looked at each other, smiling a little.

Bizarre Murder Plot Uncovered

UNIONTOWN, PA., March 20 (AP)—A state trooper posing as a "killer" uncovered a bizarre murder-for-insurance plot in which a spiritualist minister and the wife of a tavern keeper are accused of scheming to kill the woman's husband.

Motor police lieutenant William R. Hanna said the Rev. Clayton R. Miller, 63, of nearby Brownsville, and Mrs. Amelia Santilli, 31-year-old attractive brunette of Uniontown, signed statements admitting the frustrated plot.

The two waived hearing last night on charges of conspiracy to commit murder and solicitation to commit murder and were held without bond.

Police learned of the plot a week ago and the intended victim, 47-year-old Albert Santilli, was spirited out of the city for safekeeping.

The plot outlined by lieutenant Hanna:

Miller, an ordained minister without an assignment, contacted a former convict and requested him to "get some one to take a man for a ride."

The man tipped police and the "killer" turned out to be 27-year-old trooper W. J. Hayes, a native of Toledo, O., who was assigned to the case.

Hayes said he met Mrs. Santilli and Miller and that she told him she wanted her husband killed—"I don't care how long as it looks like an accident."

The woman showed Hayes a $5,000 insurance policy on her husband which carried a double indemnity clause for accidental death.

THE STORY OF DEMOCRACY

By Hendrik Willem van Loon
Illustrated by the author

Cleon was able, completely corrupt, and a marvelous rattle-rouser, the first man to thump his sides with his fists.

(Chapter Thirteen)

Had Athens been a true Democracy, as Pericles had claimed, or had it been a thinly disguised autocracy under the leadership of a man of such great wisdom that he never made his fellow citizens feel that they were in reality his subject? Our final verdict will depend upon our own prejudices, for a good case can be made out for either statement.

Personally, I feel inclined to regard that whole episode of the Athenian Democracy (tremendously important to all of us because it still speaks around in people's heads) as an experiment in "enlightened dictatorship." For the very moment that the "enlightened leader" had disappeared from the scene, Athenian Democracy collapsed most pitifully.

The Golden Age apparently had feet of clay.

This whole period of the great Peloponnesian war—the suicide of the Athenian Democracy—has been most carefully recorded in the works of Thucydides. If you want to read something completely modern, something that might have been written yesterday, get yourself a cheap edition of Thucydides' famous classic.

It was the work of an insider—an Athenian general who had been deprived of his command after a defeat, for popular forms of government then as now are very severe on their unsuccessful military men.

However, there is very little ax-grinding in this story of the facts without very much comment. But what makes it so interesting to the modern reader is this intimate glimpse of a Democracy of 25 centuries ago which might as well have been a Democracy of a thousand years ago or of today.

There are the same magnificent outbursts of courage on the part of the common people while they were still being dominated by men of the caliber of a Pericles. But the comment these leaders have suffered a setback, the petty little demagogues, who have always smarted under their own sense of inferiority, not only see their chance, but also take it.

You will recognize all the types which since then we have come to associate with the word Democracy. There is the leather merchant, Cleon (full of envy of the aloof and aristocratic Pericles), able, completely corrupt, but a marvelous rattle-rouser. Plutarch describes him as the first man who ever addressed the Athenian town meeting "pulling off his cloak and thumping his sides with his fists." And when he found that this sort of thing worked, he forgot that he was one of the richest men of his town and thereafter went around in the dirty blouse of a common workingman, like a modern college boy slightly tinged with Bolshevism living in a luxurious dormitory but affecting a dirty collar, a leather coat and a lot of hair on his head.

Yet this lover of the people quietly condemned every male citizen of Mytilene to death when that town had dared to rebel against the terrific taxes forced upon its "possessing classes" by Athens. The Athenian assembly overruled this ghastly sentence, but Cleon persuaded the Athenian general in Mytilene to send him a thousand of the ring-leaders (read "the richer people of the community") and the moment they reached Athenian soil, he had all of them killed.

With that type of person in control, all sorts of things were possible. And so it went from bad to worse and the Athenian Democracy perished as practically every experiment in Democracy has come to a direful end—exhausted its forces upon futile wranglings and bickerings between incompetent war bosses and petty politicians and in the end it was destroyed by its own inner violence—and ceased to exist for lack of honest and capable leadership.

Garner's Name On California Ticket

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20 (AP)—The Garner-for-President committee turned to plans for its California campaign today after announcing enough nominating signatures had been obtained to place a slate of delegates for the Vice President in the May presidential primary election.

The Vice President is the first candidate to qualify a list of national convention delegates for the May 7 election.

"Mr. Garner has qualified as a presidential candidate before the voters of California," a committee statement said, "and with this legal formula completed, his real campaign in this state will now start."

If the Garner slate should win in the primary, the delegates would go to the Democratic national convention in Chicago next July pledged to vote for Garner for the presidential nomination.

Many Democratic leaders in the state had urged Edison to seek the governorship and no serious opposition was expected to his bid for the nomination.

Entered in the May 21 Republican primary are former governor Harold G. Hoffman and state Senator Robert C. Hendrickson of Woodbury.

The Democratic incumbent, Governor A. Harry Moore, is ineligible to succeed himself.

Edison Will Seek Jersey Governorship

WEST ORANGE, N. J., March 20 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison announced today he would seek the Democratic nomination for governor of New Jersey.

Many Democratic leaders in the state had urged Edison to seek the governorship and no serious opposition was expected to his bid for the nomination.

Entered in the May 21 Republican primary are former governor Harold G. Hoffman and state Senator Robert C. Hendrickson of Woodbury.

The Democratic incumbent, Governor A. Harry Moore, is ineligible to succeed himself.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—Wall Street celebrated the arrival of spring today with an advancing stock market under the leadership of Aviation and Steel.

Gains of some issues ran around two points toward the close despite a lack of any great buying volume. Transfers totaled about 700,000 shares.

Overnight orders gave promise of a day of action and the opening rise was approximately doubled before the end of the session in spite of furies of profit-taking at midday and near the close.

Chief factor for the upturn was the apparent stimulation of allied operations in the European war and the consequent likelihood of widened American foreign trade. The so-called war stocks received the most attention.

Three Killed In Du Pont Explosion

BATON ROUGE, La., March 20 (AP)—Officials today sought an explanation of an explosion at the Ethyl-Du Pont gasoline blending plant which killed three persons, injured others and rocked the state capital building.

The dead were Clifton Couey, 21, of New Orleans; Justin Hughes, 31, of Dallas, Tex., and Henry Kinberger, 23, of Plaquemine, La.

Officials estimated damage to the plant at $100,000.

The 33-story statehouse was rocked by the blast and the shock was felt as far away as the Louisiana State University campus, eight miles distant.

Club Members Give Shoes For Needy

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 20 (AP)—A civic club luncheon audience, touched to the soles of their feet by a plea for aid for the needy, walked barefooted from a downtown hotel yesterday.

Forrest Warren, newspaperman, told of his paper's shoe fund. Someone in the crowd proposed that all present donate the shoes they were wearing. The footwear was heaped in front of Warren, along with hard cash.

Scrip Never Taken

On Licenses Here

Gray county has always kept within its authority by not accepting scrip or any medium of exchange other than money in payment of automobile registration fees, County Tax Assessor Collector F. E. Leach said today.

Some Texas counties in the past have accepted scrip, which has been sold to companies at a discount, but this condition does not exist here.

Attorney-General Gerald Mann yesterday ruled in a series of opinions intended to clarify registration statutes.

While the state highway department has no authority to refuse forms or license plates on a supposition the county tax collector will violate the law, Mann declared, the department was empowered to work with collectors in determination of disputed vehicle classifications.

Mann said corporations must register motor vehicles in either their county of residence or in the county of residence of one who is in legal possession or control of the vehicle. He added that a foreign corporation or a non-resident individual operating in the state for more than 120 days during a year became a resident for registration purposes.

For registration purposes, an owner may be the legal titleholder of the vehicle, a person who has legal possession or one who has legal control. The residence of a corporation is its principal place of business, he ruled.

A passenger car may be registered as a "farm vehicle" at a reduced rate only if it is used solely for farm purposes.

All-Vegetable Way To Pep Up Lazy Insides

Here's an all-vegetable way to relieve constipation, that is easy to take and gentle with your lazy intestines if you'll do this:

Take a quarter to a half-teaspoonful of this spicy, aromatic laxative at bedtime; wash it down with water.

That way, BLACK-DRAUGHT generally permits a good night's rest; acts gently, thoroughly next morning; usually relieves constipation's headaches, bad breath, biliousness, sour stomach.

Chief of BLACK-DRAUGHT's all-vegetable ingredients is an "intestinal tonic-laxative" that helps impart tone to bowel muscles.

Drive it and you soon see how truly new it is! You find it big... big to look at, big to ride in. You find it marvelously comfortable. You find it superbly powered... with a 95 horsepower V-8 engine that stands already as one of the country's most respected performers. You find it faultlessly fitted... with fingertip gearshift on the steering post, interior luxury peculiarly its own, sleek lines, rich colors... safe with steel and Safety Glass throughout.

And then you hear owners tell of mileage up to 20 per gallon... and your wife exclaims that, for all its size, it's the easiest car she ever drove... and you know that another new Ford-built car has opened another new world of motoring satisfaction!
