Bonds Sold By CRMWD

BIG SPRING—The Colorado River Municipal Water District has completed the next to last hurdle in its efforts to impound a new lake by selling $30,000,000 in revenue bonds.

The district caught the market at a peak so far with an interest rate of 4.90 for the 30-year term bonds.

Directors were unanimous, however, in selling the bonds because of the pressing need for water in West Texas, Charles Perry, Odessa, president of CRMWD, said.

Proceeds from sale of the issue, probably the largest single block by any political sub-division in West Texas, are expected to be on hand by Sept. 23.

This will be well in advance of the opening of bids for the construction of the dam Oct. 6. If proposals are within the money, CRMWD will likely make an award immediately.

Eastman, Dillon, Union Securities, Inc. of New York City, which put together the proposal with 53 underwriting houses, including most of the Texas bond firms, will get a 1.6 point discount. This will make the effective rate of the issue 4.96.

Perry said that the board felt the prudent course was to make sure of the money for the big dam project above Robert Lee on the Colorado River and for pipelines reaching as far west as Odessa. While the district has a contract to furnish Midland with water starting in 1970, engineer estimates show the member cities also may need additional water by that time, O. H. Ivie, CRMWD general manager, said.

Bonds are not callable before July 1, 1975, and then only from any residue in the construction fund, plus funds earned out of operations. Calls on money from any other source, such as refunding, cannot be before July 1, 1981, and then at a 3 per cent premium; calls from Jan. 1985-July 1,1988 will carry a 2 per cent premium; from Jan. 1, 1989 to July 1, 1991 1 per cent; and after Jan. 1, 1992 to maturity on Jan. 1, 1996 one half of 1 per cent.

Keen interest is being shown in the dam project, said Ivie. So far 23 firms across the nation have asked for plans. He predicted that this number would grow.

Directors authorized the payment of $5,270 to the Texas Water Rights Commission for the expense of gauging stations on the upper Colorado River.

Contract quantity for delivery of water to Standard Oil Company of Texas was lowered from 1,890,000 gallons a day to 1,680,000 a day.

Ive reported to the board on purchase of lands in the basin of the lake which will impound 488,000 acre feet of water when full. It appears at this stage that condemnation proceedings will be pressed in three or four instances, he said. The board previously authorized this action to clear the way for land acquisition in the dam area.

Representing Eastman, Dillon, Union Securities, Inc. at the sale Thursday were Richard Locke, and C. N. Burt of New York City. Paul Horton, Dallas, the district's bond attorney, also was on hand to assist in closing the deal.

Heavy Texas Rains Bring Flash Flood

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rains in Southwest Texas caused flash flooding today and the Weather Bureau warned ranchers and others to be alert to move cattle to higher ground.

The warning was for the watersheds of the Nueces and Frio Rivers and for Gulf of Mexico drainage systems around Corpus Christi.

The Weather Bureau said the heavy rainfall—more than 5 inches at some points, had closed low-water crossings.

Rainfall of 5.30 inches fell north and west of Utopia, which is west of San Antonio.

Forecasts called for showers and thunderstorms to continue into tonight in nearly every section of the state and in the eastern half Saturday.

Among the heavier moisture measurements were 4.2 inches at a Llano River pump station about 120 miles west of Austin, 4.02 in a rural area northeast of Rocksprings in Edwards County and 4 at Pidcoke, near Gatesville in Coryell County.

The Weather Bureau blamed downpours in the hill country for local flash floods near the headwaters of the Guadalupe, Llano, Sabinal, Frio and Nueces rivers.

Moderate to occasionally heavy showers descended through the night at many points from the South Plains of West Texas across the state into Louisiana and deep into South Central Texas, extending to the coast in places. Skies were clear only in the Panhandle and far west.

Galveston, with 3.94 inches of moisture, was another point which got a soaking.

Moisture amounts elsewhere included Del Rio 2.5 inches, Dryden 1.70, Abilene 1.69, Laredo 1.50, College Station 1.37, Mineral Wells 1.30, Beeville 1.21, Utopia 1, Carbon .99, Wichita Falls .96, San Antonio .85, Midland .74, Valley View .58, Gorman .53 and San Angelo .52.

Scores of towns received smaller amounts of rain.

Galveston got 3.94 inches of rain, of which 2.5 fell during a gusty thunderstorm early in the morning.

Heavy rains were scattered through much of the state with lighter rains elsewhere.

Heavier rains included Llano 2.5 inches, Del Rio 2.5, Dryden 1.70, Abilene 1.69, Laredo 1.50, College Station 1.37, Mineral Wells 3.60, Beeville 1.21, Carbon .99, Wichita Falls .96, San Antonio .85, Midland .74, San Angelo .52.

Also McGregor 1.88, Winters 2.40, Orange .41, San Augustine 2.17, Groveton 1.72, Jacksonville 1.1, near Vance in Real County 4, and near Encinal in La Salle County several reports of several measurements of 3 inches or more.

Anti-Inflation Plan Due Quick Hearing

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid talk of new taxes and some sharp complaints, Congress moved today to speed consideration of President Johnson's new proposal for fighting inflation by suspending some business tax incentives.

The House Ways and Means Committee announced hearings next Monday on the presidential plan — outlined in a special message Thursday — to suspend for 16 months the 7-per cent tax credit for business spending on equipment and the tax-advantageous fast depreciation rules on business real estate.

The legislation was quickly introduced Thursday by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., committee chairman, who said the first witnesses will include Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor and Budget Director Charles L. Schultze.

In the Senate, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield annunced that Democratic leaders in Congress had been consulted in advance of the message and had assured the President of their cooperation.

And Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., head of the Finance Committee, said that group will consider Johnson's proposals at an early date. The House must act first on the legislation.

In his surprise message, Johnson said the stimulus to the equipment improvement needed a few years ago now is overstraining supplying factors and clogging capital markets with excessive demands for credit.

The business tax credit applies not only to equipment and machinery purchased by industry but to such farm production equipment as tractors. It does not, however, apply to livestock investments.

Johnson announced his new anti-inflation proposals at a news conference staged Thursday just as the special message arrived on Capitol Hill.

Sec. Freeman Speaks On Farm Prices

HALFWAY, Tex. (AP)—Farmers are moving to town for jobs offering more money because they're tired of waiting for a fair return on their products, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Feeman said Thursday.

About 8,000 people heard him speak at a field day program of the High Plains Research Foundation. Its Halfway facility is 15 miles west of Plainview in West Texas.

"The only times our farmers have received parity — a return comparable to other segments of our economy, a return fair-minded people agree they rightfully deserve — were during periods of national crisis, periods when the entire economy boomed and good-paying jobs were plentiful," Freeman said.

"Then fair farm prices were absolutely necessary to keep farmers on the land and producing."

Because opportunities elsewhere again are taking farmers from the land, he said, the number of dairy farmers and the number of milk cows have dwindled nearly twice as fast as normally.

"We consumers should draw a lesson from this," Freeman said. "If we want to keep the 'best diet at the lowest real cost in the world,' as I'm sure we do, we've got to see to it that our farmers are kept on the land producing that abundance for us."

The secretary spoke in late afternoon after inspecting the research foundation's along with a record crowd at the 10th annual field day.

House Wants Closer Look At Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee called today for closer auditing of the vast military construction program in Viet Nam as it recommended $1.02 billion in new funds for domestic and foreign military constructin projects.

The amount approved is subject to House action next week. Most of it was earmarked for improvement of military bases and construction of housing for personnel.

In stressing the need for increased audit programs in Viet Nam, the committee said the remoteness of the area and problems involved are "unprecedented in such a small geographical area."

The value of military construction in use in Viet Nam at the end of July, it said, is estimated at $138 million and is increasing at the rate of $40 million monthly.

Texas projects will cost $14,257,000 including these:

Perrin AFB, Grayson County $61,000.

Webb AFB, Big Spring, $226,000.

Fuel Line Leak Delays Gemini 11

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)— A pinhole leak in the fuel system of the Titan 2 boster rocket today forced a postponement of the flight of Gemini 11.

The leak was discovered just three hours before astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Richard F. Gordon Jr. were to wake up to start preparations for their three-day mission. They were allowed to continue sleeping.

Technicians tried to repair the leak in time to launch Gemini 11 Saturday, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said.

A final decision whether or not this would be possible was not expected until late this morning, however, after tehnicians clean part of the fuel system and get a closer look.

A postponement of two or more days appeared more likely.

Aiming to minimize the delay to 24 hours, technicians unloaded only the leaking tank, the spokesman said, keeping fuel inside other tanks aboard the Titan 2 rocket.

The leak, in the first stage, was first detected by a technician checking ordinance devices on the rocket after its tanks had been loaded with 13,700 gallons of fuel and 15,900 gallons of oxidizer.

He noted a tell-tale reddish-bown wisp of vapor that indicated a leak and reported it to the blockhouse. About the same time, it was noted by instruments in the blockhouse.

"It was only a pinhole in a welded area," an official said. "But you can't fly with that type of situation."

The hole was so tiny that more vapor than liquid was escaping.

The launch crew immediately began dumping the 151 tons of fuel. Then they will have to purge the tanks before technicians can get in for a closer look.

Damage Heavy From Port Aransas Fire

PORT ARANSAS, Tex.(AP)— An early-morning fire swept through a Port Aransas shopping center today and caused an estimated $500,000 damage to a bank and adjoining businesses.

Officials said flames broke out in the attic of a building complex housing the Island State Bank and five stores.

The bank was destroyed but officials took the institution's records and cash from the vaults and opened for business in a nearby building.

The five stores adjoining the bank were heavily damaged.

About 100 men and 15 firefighting units battled the two-hour blaze.

Hong Kong Reports Mao Has Cancer

HONG KONG (AP)—A Hong Kong newspaper said today that Mao Tze-tung has cancer of the throat and has lost part of his voice.

Quoting arrivals from Communist China, the Chinese-language New Life Evening Post said: "Mao improved slightly but he can no longer make a lengthy speech."

The paper said that Mao refused doctor's orders to stop smoking.

Court Returns Guilty Verdict

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Pfc. James A. Johnson Jr. was convicted today of refusing to obey an order to go to Viet Nam. The seven-man military court delivered the verdict after 16 minutes of deliberation.

Johnson, the second of three soldiers charged with refusing to go to Saigon, appeared to smile nervously as the board returned from deliberation.

He marched smartly up to the president of the general courtmartial, Col. Morriss Zebrowitz. He saluted and heard the verdict.

After hearing the verdict, he again saluted, did an about face and was expressionless as he marched back to his seat.

Earlier Johnson had testified that he felt he would be a "criminal" if he fought there. The defense rested its case after the defendant spent 15 minutes on the stand.

Johnson pleaded innocent Thursday at the general courtmartial's opening day. His defense contended that a high-level Army plan was behind the court-martial proceedings.

Johnson admitted today that he intentionally disobeyed an order that he board an aircraft bound for Viet Nam from nearby McGuire Air Force Base.

He said while at Ft. Hood, Tex., he had asked his commanding officer, his chaplain, and the judge advocate how he could avoid being sent to Viet Nam.

The judge advocate had replied, Johnson testified, "Only if your mother were on her deathbed."

Crash Fatal To Three

MCKINNEY, Tex. (AP) — Three persons were killed Thursday in a collision of three automobiles and a tractor-trailer loaded with grain on U.S. 75 two miles north of here.

Dead were Mrs. Ruth Kirby, 21, of Sherman and Carl Young, 62, and his wife, Coy Phyllis, 52, of Dallas.

Billy Kirby, 22, husband of the dead woman, was critically injured.

Highway Patrolmen said the Young's car struck the rear of one driven by Sue Jones of Denison, who had stopped at a narrow bridge to give the truck room to pass.

The Young's car careened into the path of a truck and then was struck by the Kirbys' automobile, officers said.

None of the five persons in the Jones car or the truck driver, James Lewis of Waxahachie were believed injured.

Cong Bands Hit Saigon

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. fliers bombed and strafed an infiltrating guerrilla band practically on the outskirts of Saigon tonight. The dazzling yellow light of parachute flares outlined the city's buildings and reverberations from the explosions jolted the downtown area.

Jets and helicopters joined the attack on the Viet Cong, who were reported probing along a canal which is the capital's southern boundary. The Communists want to wreck the election Sunday of a constituent assembly and their efforts have centered largely in the Saigon area, which has about a quarter of South Viet Nam's population.

The strength of the attackers was not determined. But Vietnamese police sources said about 30 crossed the canal and went into hiding in the 4th Precinct — an area of houseboats, shanties and slum dwellings.

South Vietnamese infantrymen reported they killed 150 main force Viet Cong troops in a fierce battle in the central lowlands near the South China Sea Coast. A spokesman said U.S. Air Force planes accounted for up to 50 more Communist dead.

The fighting was the only large action reported during another day of scattered Viet Cong terrorism aimed at disrupting South Viet Nam's elections Sunday. At least five persons were killed.

American pilots flew 135 bombing missions against North Viet Nam Thursday, concentrating on oil supply points and transportation lines in the Haiphong area and the southern Panhandle.

'Black Power' Advocate Jailed

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A hearing on charges against "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael in connection with rioting in Atlanta was delayed today to give his attorney more time to prepare the defense.

Carmichael, national chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, faces two charges, including one of inciting a riot—a state charge. The second charge is disorderly conduct—creating a disturbance.

The 25-year-old Negro remains in jail under bond of $10,000 on the first charge and $1,000 on the second.

His attorney, Howard Moore Jr., well known for his defense of Negroes in civil rights cases in Atlanta, was given until 4:30 p.m. today before returning to answer the charges in Recorder's Court.

Carmichael could be held for grand jury action on the charge of inciting a riot. The city charge carries a maximum penalty of 60 days in jail or a fine of $500.

Detective Supt. Clinton Chafin said Carmichael was arrested at SNCC headquarters Thursday night and offered no resistance.

Experts Say Deadly Tumor Influenced Sniper Rampage

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN (AP) — Charles J. Whitman, torn by inner guilt and puzzled by things going on inside him that he didn't understand, had a deadly tumor growing in his brain when he went on his murderous sniper rampage Aug. 1, a team of national medical experts said Thursday.

They said it probably would have killed him within a year.

But that tumor, less than an inch at its largest part, could not have been the sole reason for Whitman's killing 16 persons and wounding 30 others, said a member of the 32-man panel.

The panel admitted it did not know exactly why Whitman did what he did.

The rapidly growing tumor, about 3 or 4 months old, "could only have been of secondary influence, not the primary cause of his behavior," said Dr. Harry M. Zimmerman of the Montefiore Hospital, New York.

The panel, in a 16-page report and one-hour news conference, said without a recent interview with Whitman it was "impossible to make a formal psychiatric diagnosis."

"However," the task force said, "the highly malignant brain tumor conceivably could have contributed to his inability to control his emotions and actions" Aug. 1.

They said he had taken drugs to keep up with academic pressures, but "there was no evidence of drug intake on the day of his death."

Their findings were unanimous.

Whitman, a husky 25-year-old blond, was slain by police on the observation deck of the University of Texas tower where, aiming through a powerful scope, he cut down almost everyone in sight for 90 minutes.

Was he psychotic?

"No," Farnsworth said.

"He was," Farnsworth said, "a troubled man, acting on strong impulses in an organized way. He felt strongly something was going on inside himself which he did not understand. He was strongly impelled by emtional influences beyond his control."

Pentagon Admits Builders Misled

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon admits it misled civilian contractors in the billion-dollar Viet Nam construction program by overstating probable contract awards and underestimating costs.

In the wake of reports alleging company waste and mismanagement, defense officials praised the private combine known as RMK-BRJ for doing "an amazingly competent" job under tough circumstances.

The consortium, Pentagon officials said in an interview, was steered wrong on two counts.

The firm was told last December to gear for a $960-million program, then was awarded only $780 million in projects.

The $780 million turned out to be a faulty figure — about $200 million low, and the Pentagon must dip into contingency funds to pay the extra amount.

RMK-BRJ, building nearly 80 per cent of the U.S. military facilities for the war effort, consists of Raymond International Inc., of New York; Morrison-Knudsen of Boise, Idaho; Brown and Root of Houston, Tex.; and the J.A. Jones Construction Co. of Charlotte, N.C.

"The contractor has come to us and said 'you're wrong'," a top military planner told newsmen Thursday. "He now needs $200 million more to finish the projects currently authorized due to underestimations by the Air Force, Navy and Army."

The government will pay this cost increase under provisions of the company's contract, he said.

From RMK-BRJ's view, however, there is a touchy point involved. Its fee is based on a percentage of the originally estimated cost for a given project. And Pentagon officials acknowledge the company may get little or no fee from the added $200 million — even though low Defense Department estimates were at fault.

Ranking officers said the proposed reduction — from $960 million to $780 million — signified no slowdown or curtailment of the Viet Nam construction effort.

If anything, the building program has expanded, they said. From now until at least January, RMK-BRJ will be completing $35 million to $40 million a month in temporary troop quarters, airfields and port facilities for the U.S. command in Saigon.

Syrian Premier Says Revolt Crushed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Premier Youssef Zayyen of Syria announced today that an attempt to overthrow his leftist regime was crushed Thursday night. But independent reports reaching Beirut indicated the threat of civil war still hangs over Syria.

Syria's borders with the outside world were closed, an indefinite curfew was being maintained, and troops guarded the Ministry of Defense and radio station and patrolled the streets of the Syrian army outside Damascus but these could not be confirmed.

Adults May Register Again On Tuesday

First session to register prospective students in adult education courses at Snyder High School was held last night, but not enough registered to form classes.

Those interested will be given another opportunity to register next Tuesday night in Room 124 at the high school. Possible courses to be offered include audio - lingual Spanish, both wood and metal shop, typing, shorthand and bookkeeping. Tuition fees will be $20 per semester for classes of 15 or more.

Peace Plan Shapes Up

LONDON (AP) — A compromise program to end the rebellion in Rhodesia, including compulsory oil sanctions voted by the United Nations, was reported shaping up today in the Commonwealth conference.

Conference sources said in return for the oil sanctions and British agreement to refuse independence to Rhodesia until rule by the black majority is assured, the African members of the Commonwealth would silence, at least for a reasonable time, their demands that British troops overthrow Prime Minister Ian Smith's white minority government.

Only four white members — Australia, Britain, Canada and New Zealand—and Malaysia oppose the use of force to put down the rebellion by the white minority.

The rest of the 23-nation group of African, Asian and Caribbean countries want assurance that the colony's 4 million black Africans will get control of the government. Smith's government, representing the 225,000 Rhodesian whites, declared independence from Britain last November to block black rule.

3 Vehicles In Mishap

A three-vehicle smashup at Avenue V and Thirty-fifth Street at 5:42 p.m. Thursday resulted in considerable damage and minor injuries to Rex Davidson of Snyder. He was not taken to the hospital for treatment.

Damage to Rex's 1965 Model Chevrolet was estimated at $400. Also involved were the 1961 Model Chevrolet of Dana Lynn Thompson and the 1966 Ford pickup of Billy D. McDorman. All of the motorists are Snyder residents.

Damage to Thompson's vehicle was set at $300, and damage to the pickup was set at $200.

He was introduced by Woody Pite of Sweetwater who is chairman of Sweetwater's Ambassador Program, and who spoke on the program.

President Don Browning presided. Gwen Raymond, Houston Rotarian, was a guest at the meeting.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a rather sticky problem. Sticky fingers. I "collect" books. I am a college graduate and my hobby is reading, so I spend a lot of time browsing in book stores.

I usually buy a book or two, then walk out with another (unpaid for) under my arm.

I can well afford to buy the books I pick up, so I can't lay the blame on need. Nor can I say I take them for "kicks," because I take the type of books I enjoy, Zen, pyschology and the classics.

Suggesting professional help would be useless for I am only slightly embarrassed by this tendency, but I would not like to get caught. What to do?

"STICKY FINGERS" IN S.F.

DEAR ABBY: According to a well-known marriage counselor, ninety per cent of all divorces start in the bedroom. Would you say this was ture?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: Which bedroom?

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I usually side with you, but when you say it's all right for a pregnant woman to stand in the front row of a choir, that's where I draw the line.

After all, let's have a little respect for a crowd of mixed sexes. It is embarrassing to see a pregnant woman, flaunting her condition. Sure, I have two kids, but I didn't go out and throw myself at people and force them to look at me.

Whoever says a pregnant woman is "beautiful" is a liar, and you know it. Let's be realistic about this and admit the truth.

A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: All right, let's be realistic. Everyone on this earth got here via the same route—a pregnant woman. So why the embarrassment? "Beauty," they say, "lies in the eye of the beholder." And to many, a pregnant woman is indeed beautiful.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Will you please say something to people who bring their wedding gifts to the church when they come for the wedding. Invitations are sent out three weeks before the wedding, which is plenty of time to buy a gift and have it delivered to the bride's home.

My daughter was recently married in a beautiful big church wedding, and she sent 400 invitations. About 200 guests brought their gifts to the church. Now, Abby, there is no time between the ceremony, dinner and reception for a bride to open 200 gifts.

And afterwards she leaves immediately for her honeymoon. So that leaves all those gifts unopened and unacknowledged. And the people who bring their gifts to the church are the first to complain because they weren't thanked soon enough.

New Orleans Looks Back

NEW ORLEAN S(AP) —Solemn tolling of church bells today marked the first anniversary of Betsy, the terrible hurricane that stunned the New Orleans area.

Looking back, that long night a year ago seems almost incredible.

Winds up to 150 miles per hour groaned and shrieked until dawn. Ships ripped lose to crash, and sink at the waterfront. Power failed over most of the city. Roofs torn from houses skipped along like fall leaves.

It would be weeks before power and telephones were fully restored. It would be more weeks before the full extent of casualties and damage could be accurately assessed.

The final count: 71 killed, 17,000 injured, more than a billion dollars in damage. It was the greatest blow to insurance companies in history. Their losses were put at more than $715 million.

It's not easy to get property insurance in South Louisiana now.

Antique Buying Is Rising In Popularity

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The antiques circuit is a booming vacation pastime.

Groups get together and follow the "sale" signs across countryside, often equipped with their own comfortable chairs and a picnic lunch. Browsers and buyers are jamming country and city auctions, second-hand stores, house "tag" sales, junk shops and demolition emporiums. Everybody is in search of a "find" — something valuable whose true worth has escaped the attention of the seller.

But real finds are getting harder to get.

Some people are content to take home a stepladder or a punchbowl at the end of a day.

At a recent house auction of fine Chippendale and Queen Anne, one engaged girl gathered up the kitchen's brand new household appliances — toaster, blender, coffee pot and broiler. The saving made it possible for her to be the successful bidder on a $50 handhooked rug, and to feel that she'd gotten a real bargain.

But lots of people get stung at auctions. So many good things are now reproduced that even experts can be fooled points out interior designer Leona Kahn, a perennial auction goer.

Professional searchers spend long hours, sometimes weeks, combing back roads of 10 states places to discover new sources of antiques, she points out. It never has been more difficult to ferret out antiques.

One reason for the massive competition is, of course, the trend to buying antiques for investment, she says.

"Great antiques are not run-of-the-mill old pieces. These are usually signed pieces, rare examples of a given period," Mrs. Kahn points out.

But even "old pieces" that were the backbone of auctions and sales, sandwiched in with the rare work of art or piece of furniture, are getting harder to find. Many would-be sellers now call appraisers to get a value put on an old piece of great-grandma's that has been covered with dust in the barn or attic for 50 years or more. They want a good price for it.

The shortage of good things has naturally brought reproductions on the scene, she points out. It isn't always easy to recognize a doctored piece of furniture or a piece of porcelain or glass made today from an old mold.

Many porcelains have been copied and even when you find one with a recognizable mark, such as a Chelsea anchor mark, one must be aware that there is a great variety of Chelsea marks all indicating age.

First - time auction goers should know, too, that most professionals carry tape measures with them. Not only to measure chair seats and plates as one indication of their age, but to get the true dimensions of an object on which they intend to bid.

Large things may look much smaller on the auction stage, so if you don't want to be stuck with something that doesn't fit into your house, it's best to attend the auction's preview. There you can see everything close up and measure if you like.

It's a good idea to avoid bidding on anything that needs repairs, advises Mrs. Kahn. Look around, you'll notice dealers seldom bid on objects in disrepair. The auctioneer may say in an off-hand-matter "It needs a little repair" as he lovingly strokes the little old lady's hooked rug or a table with wobbly legs. But don't fall for it. That kind of hand labor can be costly. Dealers rarely bid on such items, unless they are spectacular finds.

The odds are much against a neophyte copping off a real prize at an auction in Mrs. Kahn's opinion.

When something of especially fine quality is to be auctioned, dealers often band together to buy it. That way the syndicate can dispose of it, realizing some profit [illegible] sky-high against each other.

Mrs. Kahn has noticed that French antiques are bringing top prices in the east, and that American antiques dated 1800 and earlier are in top demand in outlying areas. Old American and Georgian silver is going up . . . up. . . up in price, if you can find it.

If one intends to make a large expenditure on a really fine item at an auction, one should seek professional help and guidance in Mrs. Kahn's opinion perhaps from one's interior designer.

Sew Mannerly?

AP Newsfeatures

If you are one of the more than 50 million women who sew at home — how is your home sewing etiquette?

You may stitch up a dress in jig time, but does your temper come unzipped while you're doing it?

A sewing machine manufacturer has been conducting a confidential survey to find out just where, how, why and when a girl's manners can come apart at the seams while she's sewing.

The company's home economist, Hertha Holt, offers these DO's and DON'Ts in a survey preview.

1. Don't be a copycat. When you see a friend wearing a dress you like, don't copy it. There are plenty of patterns for new dresses, suits, coats. Try some of the newer ones and she may copy you.

2. DON'T fish for compliments when you wear the beautiful new outfit you made. You'll get them anyway. Wait, then you can say those magic words, "Thanks, I made it myself." On the other hand, do accept compliments graciously. "I'm so glad you like it," sounds a lot better than "Oh, it's just a little thing I whipped up myself."

3. DON'T clutter the house with your home sewing projects. Plan out a neat work space for sewing and keep your sewing area organized. Have a fold-away area if you live in limited space. Set aside a sewing room if you're lucky enough to afford it.

4. DON'T annoy the neighbors by running your sewing machine with others might be asleep. The newest model machines make very little noise, so you can safely sew without disturbing anyone. But if you have an old model machine, don't use it in early hours if it's old and noisy.

5. DONT give amateur lessons in home sewing. If a friend asks you to teach her how to sew, be realistic. Teaching is an art, for an expert. Remind her that if she buys a machine a qualified instructor will teach her the elementals and the beginner's course, with a machine purchase, is free.

Among the DO's:

1. DO remember that if your friend's ready - to - wear outfit cost double the amount that it might have cost you to stitch it up at home, you may lose a friend if you say so — especially if you say so in front of the friend's husband. Many a domestic free-for-all has been caused by just such a chance remark.

2. DO be polite if the telephone rings in the middle of a sewing project. If you budget your sewing time (easy, an hour a day), the sewing project will wait a few minutes. The friendship you lose may not.

3. DO use your own sewing machine, your own home sewing equipment. Borrowing can make you unpopular. Just remember that if your best friend has a sewing machine, she has it because she needs it. So rent one, buy one — don't borrow one.

4. DO invite friends in to visit while you're sewing. You don't have to be a home-sewing hermit to do a good job. Serve coffee, chat. It makes your sewing go faster. Besides, you may get some help.

5. DO give an occasional gift that you sewed yourself — and say so. It's quite proper to point out that the gift is one you sewed yourself — a 'labor of live" in this, our busy society.

Mrs. Dupree Has Program At Club Meet

The Twentieth Century Club met for a salad luncheon in the home of Mrs. H. J. Brice on Sept. 6th.

Mrs. J. Nelson Dunn presided during the business session. Members answered roll call with "something interesting from the summer".

Mrs. Dunn welcomed guests and reviewed programs for the coming year. Mrs. Charles Tyer gave a parliamentary drill, asking members to familiarize themselves with the constitution and by-laws of the club.

Mrs. Bob Dupree reviewed portions of "Don't Panic Mother," by Peg Boland, saying in part: "Take a select handful of cats, dogs, roosters, snakes, and kids. Mix well, adding one slightly hurried housewife and a delightful sense of the incongruous, and you have the stuff laughs are made of.

"Peg Boland's causes for 'panic' are the same ones that have beset every mother, but which she sees for what they are; tempests in teapots, and very funny ones at that."

Mrs. Dupree gave highlights of the chapter "Flaming Twenties and Sexy Sixties", quoting Peg Boland as saying "What youth will do from one generaton to the next is as unpredictable as what kind of people live on the moon.

"The flaming twenties and the sexy sixties have more in common than any other period. We originated jazz, wore short skirts and bird-nest hairdo's. Those brief skirts that looked like the dressmaker had run out of material didn't do any more for knobby knees than they do now.

"Maybe what's wrong with the younger generation is that there are not enough of us who belong to it."

Mrs. E. B. Schulz and Mrs. Nathan Wade were guests.

Lima Pear Casserole

2 cans (1 pound each) large dry lima beans (seasoned water pack)
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons light brown sugar
1 can (1 pound 14 ounces) pear halves (Kieffer type)
2 tablespoons butter

In a 2-quart oblong ovenglass baking dish (11¾ by 7½ by 1¾ inches) mix together the lima beans (including their liquid), brown sugar and lemon juice. Drain the pears. (Use their syrup in some other dish.) Arrange the pears over the beans. Cut pears and beans with butter. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 20 minutes. Allow to stand in oven with heat turned off for another 10 minutes so juices will thicken; baste beans at top — they'll look dry — with juices once or twice. Serve at once. Makes 8 servings.

Left over cooked elbow macaroni may be used in a salad. Add mayonnaise, chopped onion and pickle.

Fighting Tigers Open Football Season

Host Andrews' Mustangs In 8 p.m. Tilt

With 20 seniors and a pro set offense, the Andrews Mustangs invade Tiger Stadium tonight for an 8 p.m. clash with the Snyder High School Tigers. The clash will inaugurate the football season for both teams.

It will be a severe challenge for new coach Keith Miles' eleven, for the Mustangs are big and tough and are preseason favorites to win the championship of District 2-AAA.

In John Beilue, 195-pound senior, Andrews has one of the best passers in the area. This two - year letterman also is dangerous on the pitchout option and he has the size to run with authority.

Favorite targets for Beilue's aerials are halfbacks Bobby Smith (168) and Mike Jones (175) and ends Walt Modgeling (170) and Clarence Slatton (160). All are seniors.

With a beefy forward wall, the Mustangs will be difficult to run against. Most of their tackles are in the 190 to 200 pound class, and the guards are quick and aggressive.

Jones is perhaps the best runner in the Andrews camp. Look for him to be on the receiving end of Beilue's pitchouts.

Snyder can counter with a good quarterback of its own in senior 175-pounder Murry Bowden. Murry also can carry the mail and he's effective on short passes. A tough boy, he doubles as a linebacker on defense.

Backfield experience is the main strength in the 1966 edition of the fighting Tigers. Curtis Clay, 175-pound senior tailback, has as good speed as anyone on the field and could break away with good blocking.

Fullback Mario Tavarez, up from the "B" team, and letterman wingback Rick Hall also add punch to a scrapping offense.

Only three lettermen return to the line, but the Tigers trenchmen are in excellent physical condition and proved in scrimmages with Odessa Ector and Midland that they can hold their own against heavier teams. They will be outweighed 15 to 20 pounds per man up front.

Joe Breeden, 213-pound tackle, is the beefiest boy in the line, and he is a leterman. But, he can expect spirited help from a fine crop of "B" teamers, including Larry Wadzeck, Bobby Clayton and Tim Mebane, another monogram winner. Ends Frankie Grimmett and Craig Bell also are talented, although they are lacking varsity experience. Bobby Clardy's experience in the line also will come in handy.

The offensive line will be without the services of David Fulks tonight. He was sidelined with a knee injury and may not see any action. Stepping into the gap will be Ronnie Shields, 160-pound Junior guard, who saw service on the junior varsity as a fullback.

Look for the Tiger defense to react quickly with such lads as Danny Garner and Jerry Rains to anchor an aggressive line. Tavarez holds down the other linebacker spot, with Bell at the end opposite to Rains, Hall at monster back and Breeden in the line. Deep men are Rob Golden, Bobby Wilson and Lonnie Gilstrap.

Both teams probably will try a lot of traps and passes, so it should be an interesting affray from a spectator's viewpoint.

With their share of breaks, look for the Tigers to pull an upset in the initial outing.

Probable Starters:

Travis 9th Trips Whirlwinds, 24-14

LAMESA — Surprising Travis Junior High School's 9th grade football team socked Lamesa's freshman team with a 24-14 setback here Thursday night in the opening football game for both schools.

Lamesa took an 8-0 lead with two minutes remaining in the first half on a 19 yard sprintout pass to the right end. The same play, in which the quarterback sprinted to his left and threw to the right, worked for the two extra points as the hosts took an 8-0 cushion at halftime.

Snyder's defense was tenacious during the first two periods, stopping the Whirlwinds several times as they operated in Travis territory. The Blue Devils turned back the Lamesans four times inside the seven yard line.

Travis took the kickoff opening the second half and drove in to tie the score after Willis Harrison made a fine runback of the kickoff, returning it to his 45. Wingback Merce Hernandez scored the TD on a beautifully executed option play that covered 25 yards, and he also scooted over for the conversion points.

Following the kickoff, the Blue Devils held Lamesa, and drove in again on a 60 yard drive with Merce doing the honors again—this time from eight yards out on a dive play. Howard Murphree took the pigskin over the doublestripes for extra points to make it 16-8 in favor of the visitors.

Lamesa narrowed the gap to 16-14 in the 4th period on a 30 yard run by their quarterback, but their bid for bonus points was foiled.

With 3:30 remaining, Willis Harrison scampered 45 yards to pay dirt on an isolation play. The Travis line did a good job of blocking the Whirlwind linebackers on the play. Hernandez pushed the ball across the goal again for the final two points.

Coach Bill Herrington credited the win to a good team effort, pointing out that no single boy was outstanding.

"We just wanted to win real bad, and we had fine suport from our fans who attended the game," said the new athletic director at Travis.

CANYON GUN CLUB RANGE NEWS

The Canyon Gun Club will hold Match No. 17 at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the club's range.

The range is located southwest of the old Lemons Camp southwest of Snyder.

The match will be a Light Varmint NBRSA. Rules will apply, 5-5 shot groups at 100 yards, any scope. Match trophies and aggregate trophies for 1st, 2nd and 3rd places will be awarded.

Albuquerque Advances

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Albuquerque Dodgers advanced to the championship playoff, and Austin and Arkansas will try again tonight to conclude their first-round postseason series in the Texas League.

The Dodgers' home run power gave Albuquerque a 10-3 victory over Amarillo Thursday night and their best-of-3 series. Albuquerque won the first and third games.

Orange Runs Vs. Bruin Passing

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Syracuse makes its third visit to Texas in 10 years Saturday, and it isn't too sure of a satisfactory trip because the Orangemen run into Baylor's sky-raiding Bears.

If there's anything Syracuse isn't confident about it's defense, and it is due to encounter an air raid of astonishing proportions.

Terry Southall, whose absence with a broken leg left Baylor floundering to a 5-5 record last season, is as sound as the dollar Washington threw across the Potomac.

The other night he hurled five touchdown passes in 17½ minutes, just to illustrate what he'll be up to Saturday when Baylor and Syracuse clash before a national television audience (ABC).

Baylor, on the other hand, fears the devastating running game of the Orangemen with Floyd Little, a trackman-halfback who does the 100 in 9.6 leading the terrifying attack.

Little was the heart of Syracuse last season when he ran for 1,065 yards, which betters even what Jim Brown did; took 21 passes for 248 yards, returned punts for 423, kickoffs for 254 and scored 19 touchdowns in carrying the Orangemen to a 7-3 record.

Little and a blasting fullback named Larry Csonka, who rushed for 795 yards, present the reason why Coach Ben Schwartzwalder has said "we can move the ball."

But Schwartzwalder, who saw Baylor in spring training and got an eyefull of Southall, can't be sure about his defense.

He has even threatened to throw the ball more than Syracuse is noted for in an effort to fight fire with fire, but Schwartzwalder's idea of passing seems to be about a third of Baylor's. Syracuse averaged only 13 per game last season. Baylor tried 32 and might do even more Saturday if the Syracuse running game starts paying off.

Fast Nags Are Ready

CHICAGO (AP) — At least seven horses in a field of 15 juveniles are given a good chance Saturday to win thoroughbred racing's richest prize—the Arlington-Washington Futurity.

With 15 at the post in the fifth running of the seven-furlong test for 2-year-olds, the race will gross $367,700.

The winner, with the exception of Reverie Knoll Farm's Lightning Orphan, will collect a record $102,200. Lightning Orphan, is a $25,000 supplemental entry and would receive $182,700 by winning.

The basic worth for second place is at least $70,000, third $40,000 and fourth $25,000.

With the field so wide open and with such a grandoise purse distribution, a bulky group of 15 or more was expected.

There was no clear-cut favorite until the last entry was dropped in the box. That was Herbert Allen's Favorable Turn who arrived from New York before dawn today. He is rated an early 3-1 choice.

The son of Turn-To a $36,000 yearling purchase, has won only twice in nine starts, but his last race was a smashing seven-lengths victory in the rich Saratoga Special Aug. 17.

Among other strongly regarded contenders are Heatley Stable's Top Bid, E. Gay Drake' Quick Sworn, Lightning Orphan, Harvey Peltier's Dipsomat Way, Claiborne Farm's Minotor and Tamara Geva's Sir Winzalot.

But none of the others can be overlooked: Dr. K. Knapp's Roman K., F. W. Hooper's Olympic Site, William Radkovitch's Wilbur Clark, R. W. Wilson's Bandera Road, North Star Ranch's Zip Pocket, and M. G. Phipps Gentlemen James.

McCall Has High Hopes

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — George MacCall, the U.S. Davis Cup captain, refuses to be downhearted over the Americans' disappointing showing in the National Tennis Championships, drawing to a climax this weekend.

"Naturally, I wish we had done better, but it's not possible for a player to be at his peak the year around," the Los Angeles insurance executive said today. "We were at our best last winter in Australia — we hope we can reach that peak again."

The United States had only one quarter-final survivor in the men's singles division and that was its 13th-ranked player, Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, who has been tabbed a doubles specialist.

The two top men, Dennis Ralston and Arthur Ashe, lost in straight sets to Australians — Ralston to Fred Stolle and Ashe to John Newcombe.

Graebner had a chance to redeem the American team today when he played Stolle in one of the two remaining quarter-final matches. The other sent Roy Emerson, twice winner here, against a young Australian teammate, Owen Davidson.

Sandra Holds Classic Lead

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Sandra Haynie said it couldn't be done. But the Fort Worth, Tex., golfer holds the first-round lead in the Pacific Ladies Professional Golf Classic after a two-under-par round of 70 Thursday over the par-72, 6,610-yard Eugene Country Club course.

"I don't believe my lead will stand up," said Miss Haynie after finishing her round early in the afternoon. "There are too many good golfers still out on the course who should have good rounds."

However, the closest anyone came to matching Miss Haynie's nines of 34-36 were defending champion Mary Mills and Clifford Ann Creed who fired one-under-par rounds of 71.

Gloria Ehlert and Margie Masters are two shots back of Miss Haynie, while seven golfers, including top professional Mickey Wright, all stand at 73.

Slugger Frank Thomas hit .260 for the Phillies, .172 for the Astros and .212 for the Braves during 1965 for a composite mark of .220.

Three Local 11's Play Saturday

Three football games involving Snyder teams are on tap Saturday.

The "B" team journeys to Sweetwater for a 7:30 p.m. tussle, while the Lamar 8th hosts Goliad of Big Spring on the Junior High turf at 6 p.m., followed by a clash between the 9th grade teams of both schools.

Coach Bill Hartsfield and Roy Carter listed "B" team starters, as follows:

Offense—ends, Jerry January and Alan Rasco; tackles, Vincent Loyola and Flavio Reyes; guards, James Heath and Bobby Wright; center, Terry Row; quarterback, Steve Holder; wingback, Joe Greer; fulback, David McGinnis; and tailback, Mitch Rambin.

Defense—ends, January and Tom McDorman; tackles, James Merritt and Loyola; guard, Heath; linebackers, Greer, McGinnis and Reyes; halfbacks, Rambin, Charlie Johnson; and, safety, Holder.

Coach Tommy Echols offensive alignment for the 9th grade game includes ends Ronnie Watkins and Larry Greene, tackles Carlos Preston and Ted Floyd, guards Rickey Arnold and Steve Ray, center Darden Stokes, quarterback Lee McNair, wingback Randy Levens, fulback Billy Bowden and tailback Lynn Wilson.

Other boys slated to see a lot of action are tackles Randy Dollins and Howard Shifflett, end Mike Keller and back Brad Morgan.

Offensive starters for Coach Jerry McLeod's 8th grade team are ends Scott Morgan and Bill Wilson; tackles, Mike Carter and Keneth Keller, guards Larry Wall and James Norred, center Dennis Breedlove, quarterback Bruce Almond, wingback Tommy Faver, fulback Gary Shields and tailback Bobby Thompson.

Boys coming in on defense include Johnny Quiros, Steve Dillaha, Bill Branson, Mike Shearburne and Glenn Rambin.

Kathy Stumps Toe

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth, leading money winner on the ladies professional golf tour last year, withdrew from the Pacific Ladies Professional Golf Classic in Eugene after she broke a toe Wednesday.

The San Antonio, Tex., golfer said she thought at first she had sprained the toe, but X rays showed it was broken. She broke it when she kicked a chair in a motel, she said.

When trainer - driver Frank Ervin won the American-National Maturity with Bret Hanover at Sportsman's Park in Chicago on June 25, it marked the 94th time he had the reins in a sub-two-minute mile.

The Hobbs Panthers Have Talented Team

HOBBS, Tex. — With starters returning at every position, the Hobbs Panthers will be in a good position to challenge Ira for supremacy in District 3-B Six-Man football this fall.

Coach Boxie Weems lost All-Star runningback Tommy Lay and center Arnold Reyes, but other lads on the varsity filled in for them some last season due to injuries and actually started several games. Thus the Panthers can field veterans at every position, both offensively and defensively.

Hobbs also has more depth than in years past, but they still are lacking in depth in comparison with title favorite and defending champion Ira.

Barring injuries, Hobbs could win it all with its fine first team strength. Returning offensive starters are halfbacks Gary Nettleton (165) and Kenny Martinez (137), both seniors, and ends Maurice Martinez (145) and Turo Martinez (140). Turo is a Junior and Maurice is a senior.

Other regulars are quarterback Randy Williams, 147-pound Junior, and center Windle Cave, 150-pound Junior.

Coach Weems had counted on George Martinez, 147-pound Senior to handle the quarterbacking chores, but George is out with a fracture of the left arm.

Still, the Panthers have depth at the signal calling spot in the person of Lorin Pearce, 135-pound Freshman. Lorin is a better than average passer and is the team's punter and extra point man. He was quarterback on the Junior High team that was undefeated in its last 16 outings. The Junior boys won the crown the last two years, and they also copped titles in basketball and track in 1965.

Kenny Martinez, who was sidelined after receiving an injury in the Ira clash last season, is back in action and was expected to be at top form for the season opener against Leuders.

Nettleton, Maurice Martinez, Kenny Martinez and Turo Martinez all are ready to go both ways along with Randy Williams. Jimmy Martinez, 145-pound Junior halfback, is the only substiute when the team goes on defense. He replaces Windle Cave, who is slated for offensive duty only.

Other lettermen are Junior Allen Faulkenberry (145), Sophomores Maurice Clements (143), and Ross Aguilar (133), and Freshmen Brad Maule (135), Rene Martinez (101), and Richard Mulano (118).

Faulkenberry and Aguilar are halfbacks, Clements, Maule and Rene Martinez are ends, and Mulano is a center.

Also ready to answer Coach Weems' call are "B" teamers David Albers, Gill Warren, William Polk, Jerry Clawson, Steve Warren and James May.

With more depth and size, Hobbs would be the choice. As it is, the Panthers will put plenty of pressure on Ira and are ready to take over should the Bulldogs falter.

Highland appears to have the third best club in the district, and Divide, Blackwell, and McCaulley should battle it out for fourth place.

The Hobbs schedule:
Sept. 9 — Lueders.
Sept. 16 — O'Brien.
Sept. 23 At Mertzon.
Sept. 29 — At Paint Creek.
Oct. 7 — Open Date.
Oct. 14 — At Weinert.
Oct. 22 — Ira. (XX)
Oct. 28 — At Divide. (X)
Nov. 4 — At Blackwell. (X)
Nov. 11 — Highland. (X)
Nov. 18 — McCaulley. (X)

(X-Denotes District games; XX-Denotes homecoming game. Kick-off in the first three games is set for 8 p.m. with a 7:30 p.m. kickoff slated for the remaining games.)

Goldman Quits As LBJ's Bridge With Intellectuals

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Eric F. Goldman, historian and Princeton professor, has quit as a White House consultant, which in his case meant being a bridge between President Johnson and the nation's intellectuals.

In a number of cases this has been like trying to build a bridge between reality and idealism.

Goldman, in one of those don't-quote-me-directly news conferences where he managed to reveal some thoughts after two years in his job, believes there is still a wide gap between Johnson and his intellectual critics.

For one thing, Goldman thinks there is mutual distrust between the two sides. Johnson is suspicious of the intellectuals' motives and they won't accept him as an able leader because his political maneuverings chill them.

To this writer there is no more blessed, indispensable group than intellectuals for their efforts to keep the American mind working at its highest levels.

But also to this writer, who for more than a quarter of a century has watched politicians and government leaders in Washington, a lot of American intellectuals live in a dream world which has no connection with reality.

They set up for themselves an ideal of what a president should be, although they would have difficulty agreeing on it, and close their minds to the reality of what a president is.

In the first place, he is an individual, which always makes any president different from any other.

One will have more intellectuality, like Woodrow Wilson; one will be more bleak, like Calvin Coolidge; one will exude warmth, like Franklin D. Roosevelt; or ebullience, like Theodore Roosevelt; one will have sheer character sticking out of his ears, like Harry S. Truman; one will be a heroic symbol and nonintellectual but magical pacifier of emotions, like Dwight D. Eisenhower; and one will be the essence of grace, like John F. Kennedy.

Kennedy had more than grace. He had style and taste. In any of those fields Johnson is no match for Kennedy and seems to reveal it by his ceaseless efforts to be accepted, applauded and approved.

But Kennedy was an amateur president compared with Johnson in the sense of accomplishment, endless energy, and 24-hour-a-day dedication to his job. Kennedy talked better than Johnson but performed much less.

It is comfortable and comforting for an intellectual to live remotely and safely in an academic world, far away from the boobytraps of politics, and decide how the country should be run.

On the far-off college campus he has none of the responsibility for running the country. He doesn't have to endure the ordeals, disappointments and rebuffs that go with the White House job.

And he doesn't have to make the compromises which a president must continually make if, for instance in dealing with Congress, he hopes for some progress by getting only part of what he had asked or proposed.

And it is particularly comfortable for an intellectual miles away from Washington to refuse to accept — in his own mind — any compromise or anything less than the ideal he has set for himself.

This might be considered intellectual snobbery. But to this writer it is simply immaturity. It is easy to sit back and decide what Johnson should do. But Johnson has to go through the grit and grind of doing it.

Report On Concerts By Beatles

By MARY CAMPBELL

NEW YORK (AP) — The Beatles have given seven "concerts" in New York and preformed three times on the Ed Sullivan television show.

I've been to them all — as a reporter.

The police usually think I'm a beatle fan who has borrowed a press card. To them, a female — any age — looks like a potential screamer and barricade jumper. At every concert, some grandmother proves them right.

A long "discussion" at a television studio stage door was necessary before I was allowed to join the press corps in the cafeteria under the studio used by Sullivan. When my identity was finally established, a vice president sent a page boy to check that there was nobody in the men's room. There wasn't and the page guided me down a flight of stairs, into the men's room and out the other side, to the cafeteria. The veep told me I'd be safer going in the back way.

The concerts indoors — the Paramount theater, where the girls used to swoon for Frankie; and two at Carnegie Hall, which now bans rock 'n' roll performances — seem louder than the concerts outdoors — two at Forest Hills tennis stadium, and two at Shea stadium. Sound waves from all that shrieking can't go away. They bounce around and hit your ears from the ceiling and floor and all sides and build and build and build.

The concert at the Paramount made me sick. I think the noise rattled my inner ear.

I felt off-balance and couldn't judge the height of steps to get out of the place. Back at the office, every time a finger hit the typewriter my brains felt as if they were floating slowly up and down. One of the editors suggested that I write a second story about how the Beatles made me sick, but I was too sick to write it.

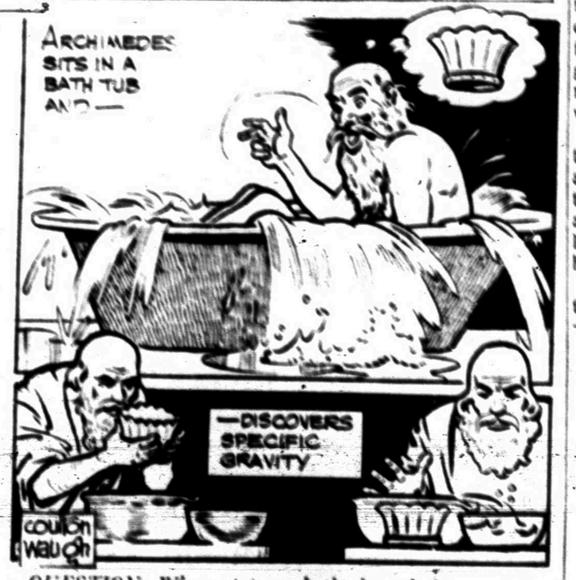

I got a press card — once upon a time if you wrote about music you didn't need one — after Beatling at Forest Hills tennis stadium. I showed a borrowed press card with a man's name on it that turned out to be the favorite trick of the city's Beatle nuts and two policeman nearly threw me out. I stayed, with the tale that my mother had named me for her favorite brother and the name had been giving me trouble all my life and I didn't have time to discuss it now because I had work to do.

Last year at Shea stadium I had asked Paul McCartney if he intended to marry Jane Asher — a query forwarded from London. He said, "Probably."

This year, back at the stadium, for the first time not one policeman mistook me for a Beatle bug. Once, as I stood next to a couple of policewomen, a cop demanded, "Why aren't you in uniform?"

Before I could reply, another cop said quickly, "Don't ask that and insult her. She's in the plainclothes division."

Junior Editors Quiz on ARCHIMEDES

QUESTION: Who sat in a bathtub and discovered a method of weighing objects?

• • •

ANSWER: This was Archimedes, a mathematician of ancient Greece, who developed such extremely useful things as the pulley and the lever. A crown of solid gold had been made for King Hiero of Syracuse. The king suspected the maker had kept some of the gold supplied, and had mixed in silver, making an alloy. He gave the crown to Archimedes to test. While thinking about this, the mathematician climbed into a bath. Some of the water was displaced by his weight and spilled out. Archimedes thought: 'You could put the crown in something filled with water and measure how much spilled out. Then the same weight in pure gold would spill the same amount out — if the crown was pure gold. But if silver had been added, more water would spill out when the crown was put in, because silver is lighter and would have made the crown bulkier, so it would displace more water." He tried this out with the crown and too much water did spill out, which proved silver had been added. Archimedes had discovered the important principle called specific gravity.

FOR YOU TO DO: If this seems a bit difficult to understand, look up an article on specific gravity in an encyclopedia. Try to reason it out. 9-9

(Nancy Furka of Linden, N. J., wins this week's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper.)

Dr. Jackson Reelected By Baptists

DALLAS (AP) — Dr. Joseph Jackson of Chicago was re-elected president of the 5.5 million-member National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc., at its 86th annual convention Thursday.

The convention also adopted four resolutions.

One called for a statement to be drafted with full support of every division on the denomination's views on civil rights. The statement is based on "respect for law and order and the Christian concept of life."

Other resolutions proposed hiring young people to work next summer on voter registration, a summit conference to deal with the problems of riots and to make a constructive approach to first class citizenship, and to make it clear that "the convention's membership in church councils is aimed only at Christian fellowship and does not speak for those bodies on civil rights issue."

Jackson issued a warning to Americans, declaring:

"You stand today in the most dangerous situation since the days of the founding fathers."

The outcome of the civil rights struggle "will doubtless determine the future of democracy, the future of the United States," the Chicago minister said in his annual address to the convention.

Morningside Baptist

Services at Morningside Baptist Church, located at 119 Thirty-sixth Street, will begin Sunday with Sunday School at 10 a.m. The lesson for study is titled "Walking in Truth," and the text is taken from John II 1:13.

East Side C-C

Don Browning will speak at all services at East Side Sunday. For the 8:15 a.m. radio service his subject will be "What Makes the Church of Christ Distinctive?" For the 10:25 a.m. worship service he has chosen "Where Are We Fighting the Battle?" At the 6 p.m. worship service his topic will be "Who Will You Bring?"

Bible classes for all ages begin at 9:30 each Sunday morning. Ladies Bible classes are conducted each Wednesday morning at 9:30 and the midweek worship service is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday. Visitors are always welcome.

Word has been received by the elders for the Highland Church of Christ, Abilene, that the Mutual Broadcasting System has scheduled a special 50-minute documentary program featuring the Herald of Truth radio and television programs.

The program — "Broadcasting: Voice for Morality" — has been scheduled for September 11, at 4:05 p.m. The network is contributing, as a public service 25 minutes of its time, preempting the regular programming. The Herald of Truth is releasing the regular 25-minute time period. The broadcast will be in two parts, separated by a regularly scheduled newscast.

The program will go behind the scenes of the 1966 Herald of Truth Workshop, held Aug. 17-18, and excerpts from the actual speeches will be included in the broadcast. Emphasis will be given to the need for a universal return to moral values that will strengthen the character of our nation.

When asked about this special broadcast, W. F. Cawyer, one of the elders of the Highland Church of Christ said, "The network is contributing this time and participating in this effort because they feel that the quality of our programs and the results that we have had make the Herald of Truth a logical choice for the subject of a program about religious broadcasting."

In a letter to the elders, Harold M. Wagner, director of Religious Programming for Mutual, said, "The excellence of the Herald of Truth and its producers' desire to make the program a vital force in improving our nation's moral climate are obvious. This has been a strong factor in our decision to participate in this special broadcast. . ."

Church Cabaret Proves Success

By JAMES H. RUBIN

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A church basement on the campus of Princeton University spent the summer disguised as a jazz cabaret.

The experiment was so successful it probably will be repeated next summer.

The night spot, operated with the blessings of church leaders, had standing-room-only crowds of collegians and high school pupils all summer long.

"We wanted to show them we live in this century and not some other," observed the Rev. Donald Meisel, a minister of the First Presbyterian Church.

The club, soon to close its first season, is called "The Catacomb," after the caves in which early Christians sought refuge from Roman soldiers. It derives its modern inspiration from the haunts of Parisian music enthusiasts.

"We haven't done a lot of evangelizing. It's just one way of saying that we care, to suggest to the teen-agers that the church is adaptable and flexible and not confined by tradition," the Rev. Mr. Meisel said.

A church member characterized the project as the most important work undertaken in years by the parish. The white stone building has been a stately landmark at the head of the Ivy League campus for years. It is not directly affiliated with the university.

The atmosphere of the basement night club is relaxed and friendly. Dress is casual, occasionally tending toward the "beat," long straight hair for girls and sandals for boys. But there is no dancing, and liquor is prohibited.

Main attraction of the "Catacomb" is entertainment. Guitarists, jazz combos and folk singers perform twice nightly. The amateur musicians are usually drawn from the town of Princeton's talented populace. They perform without pay.

"I think they're glad to," said Jay Breese, a comanager of the establishment. No admission is charged. Soft drinks cost a dime. Coffee and tea are served to accompany potato chips and cheese dip.

Breese, a sophomore at Harvard, and David Turner, a junior at Temple, are comanagers and prime movers behind the club. They searched for a source of summer entertainment but rejected other sites for a coffee house because of the cost. The church was available rent-free.

Breese said he felt the night club had a civilizing effect on its patrons. Rock 'n' roll is taboo. Soft jazz discourages dancing, Breese said, "but it promotes conversation."

Breese, who plans to major in social relations at Harvard, said: "The music is the key thing. Some of the jazz is a little wild, But disturbances are unlikely when soft music is playing in the background."

Be still

"With God all things are possible." St. Matthew 19:26.

There's God in the faces of people that pass;
There's God in the winds, in the trees, in the grass.
And insidious evil with its crime and its curse
Must yield to the Maker of our universe.
He who notes a cardinal wing from a tree
Has never forgotten such persons as we!

First Baptist

"What is Man?" will be Dr. A. B. Lightfoot's sermon topic Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church. Sunday school will begin at 9:45 a.m. with the morning worship at 11 a.m. Music will be under the direction of J. D. Smith, minister of music. The Church Choir will bring the message in song, "I Will Sing of My Redeemer."

Choir enrollment will be Sunday afternoon at 5:30 - 6 for ages four years through high school. The nominating committee will meet in the pastor's study at 5. Training Union will begin at 6 with the evening worship at 7 p.m.

The Woman's Missionary Union will meet at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday for the annual planning workshop for the 1966-67 WMU year. All general officers and all officers of each circle are to be present. There will be a nursery provided.

The First Baptist Church will host the first after-game fellowship tonight following the Andrews - Snyder game. All youth are invited to attend.

Colonial Hill Baptist

Sunday School begins at 9:45 a.m. at the Colonial Hill Baptist Church with the morning worship service to follow at 11 o'clock. The pastor, Miller Robinson, will be in the pulpit for both of the services Sunday. He will use as his sermon subject, "Where Have You Been?" taken from Acts 4:8-13, at the morning service.

The evening worship service will be at 6 p.m. The message for the evening will be, "A Word Fitly Spoken," taken from Proverbs 2 5:11. Training Union will follow at 7 o'clock.

The Week of Prayer for State Missions will be observed throughout the week. The ladies of the church will meet each day for the prayer program.

Wednesday at 6:45 p.m. the Royal Ambassadors will meet. The teachers and officers of the Sunday School will meet at this time also for lesson discussion and preparation. Prayer Meeting will be at 7:45 p.m. The Adult choir under the direction of Jim Casey will meet at 8:30 p.m. for rehearsal.

Thursday, members of the church are asked to meet at the church at 9:30 a.m. for visitation.

Friday, Sept. 16, Colonial Hill will be host to an after-game fellowship for all of the Young People immediately following the Snyder - Stamford football game. A very special program has been planned for the occasion featuring Don Timberlake.

Fort Worth Eyed For Flight School

FORT WORTH (AP)— American Airlines officials disclosed plans Thursday to concentrate the company's pilot training at Fort Worth's Greater Southwest Airport.

They also hinted strongly that Fort Worth may become the center of all the airline's flight training.

American's transition training school for the new 400 Astrojet will be moved here from New York's LaGuardia Airport as a first step.

Tentative plans call for transfer of a pilot transition school for the Lockheed Electra from Chicago early in 1967.

American already uses Southwest for pilot training on the Boeing 727 Astrojet.

"By mid-1968," said William Seawell of New York, American's vice president of operations, "we expect to reach a decision on whether to move our four-engine jet transition schools to Southwest.

"This will be part of our decision on a permanent location for our centralized flight training department and its support facilities."

At the same time, it was revealed that a substantial expansion is planned for American's stewardess college at Southwest Airport.

Student capacity will be more than doubled — from 180 to 400.

4-County Singing Convention To Meet

The Four-County Singing Convention will meet Sunday at the Fundamental Baptist Church in Sweetwater.

The singing will begin at 1:30 p.m. and many well-known singers have indicated that they will attend. The Four-County Singing Convention embraces Nolan, Fisher, Scurry and Mitchell Counties.

Anti-Inflation Plan Stirs Criticism

By JOHN VINOCUR

NEW YORK (AP) — Business leaders have expressed varying degrees of dissatisfaction with President Johnson's proposal to dampen the fired-up economy by removing tax incentives for new plants and equipment.

Some executives criticized its timing and completeness and questioned whether it would have an immediate effect on inflation and high interest costs, a survey showed today.

Two financial experts, however, applauded the psychological effect of the move.

The plan received a pledge of support from organized labor.

Heading the list of the proposal's critics were Roger Blough, chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp. and William F. Butler, senior vice president of the Chase Manhattan Bank and director of its economic research division. Both called it " a mistake."

"It's not the best program he could have proposed," Butler said, "because orders already placed will allow capital expansion to go on rising, possibly for another six months. The impact may come at the worst time, just as the overheating is ending."

Blough said the plan would not bring immediate relief and could have "just the opposite result of what it intended" by placing additional pressure on corporate borrowing or prices.

The President proposed that Congress suspend the 7 per cent investment tax credit for 16 months. Johnson promised on his part to cut federal spending and appealed to labor to forego demands for inflationary wage increases.

Some praise for the psychological effect of the proposal came from Butler and David S. Jackson, chairman of the board of governors of the American Stock Exchange.

Its impact, Butler said, "will be on the useful side," while Jackson noted that the program constitutes a definite course of action, an attitude, that he believed would meet with Wall Street's approval.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said the plan deals with "the two principal factors most to blame for today's profit inflation" — the tax credit and the accelerated depreciation formula.

"The President," Meany said, "has wisely moved to eliminate the superheat from the only spot in the economy which is now overheated."

James Tobin, a Yale University economist, said "I am glad to see the proposal. It is the correct first step in tightening fiscal policy."

Miss Ohio Wins With Rousing Song

By PHILIP WECHSLER

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Clutching a tiny American flag and wearing a stars-and-stripes dress, Miss Ohio sang a patriotic song that brought 7,000 spectators to their feet in a rousing ovation Thursday night.

"What's better than a song about my country?" an excited Sharon Elaine Phillian said.

The scene was the second round of competition in the Miss America Pageant at Convention Hall.

Sharon had just captured the talent prize by singing "This Is My Country" in a coloratura voice that rang through the huge auditorium.

She shared preliminary honors with another blonde, Miss South Carolina, Barbara Anne Harris of Greenville, whose 36-22-36 figure won the swimsuit competition.

Miss Ohio first appeared on stage in an emerald green, floor-length gown and sang an operatic selection, the "Bell Song" from "Lakme."

She reappeared moments later in a star-spangled red, white and blue floor-length dress. The audience cheered.

While newsmen questioned Sharon backstage, the reigning Miss America, Deborah Bryant, wiped away lipstick from Miss Ohio's cheeks left by other contestants who congratulated her with kisses.

Sharon, soloist for her hometown Presbyterian church in Delaware, Ohio, aspires to be an opera star. If she doesn't succeed in that she wants to work with disturbed children.

A senior at Ohio State University, Sharon is studying child psychology.

Miss South Carolina, keeps trim by eating steak and avoiding sweets.

The two girls joined Miss New Hampshire, Nancy Anne Naylor, and Miss California, Charlene Diane Dallas, as winners of preliminary rounds.

From the winners of the preliminary competition, which continues tonight, 10 semifinalists will be chosen for the finals Saturday night.

Pupils Sent Home For Haircuts

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — About a dozen Middletown High School pupils have been sent home this week by officials enforcing rules barring "eccentric" haircuts and clothing.

Asked about some of the boys' shaggy hairdos, Principal H. H. Lawrence said, "We are not running a kennel for poodles."

The U.S.S. Constellation, now docked in Baltimore, is one of the Nation's more unusual historic landmarks." Launched in 1797, Constellation was the first commissioned ship of the United States Navy.
