Clinton vows active role

U.S. to play part in Israel, PLO peace accord

■ President announces resumption of communication with Palestine Liberation Organization after more than three years of distance.

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — President Clinton pledged Friday an active American role in shepherding Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organization's historic experiment in peaceful coexistence.

Even as he exulted in their agreement, a breakthrough came on another front of the Arab-Israeli peace talks: Jordan and Israel virtually concluded an "agenda for peace" and a senior U.S. official said it would be announced on Tuesday.

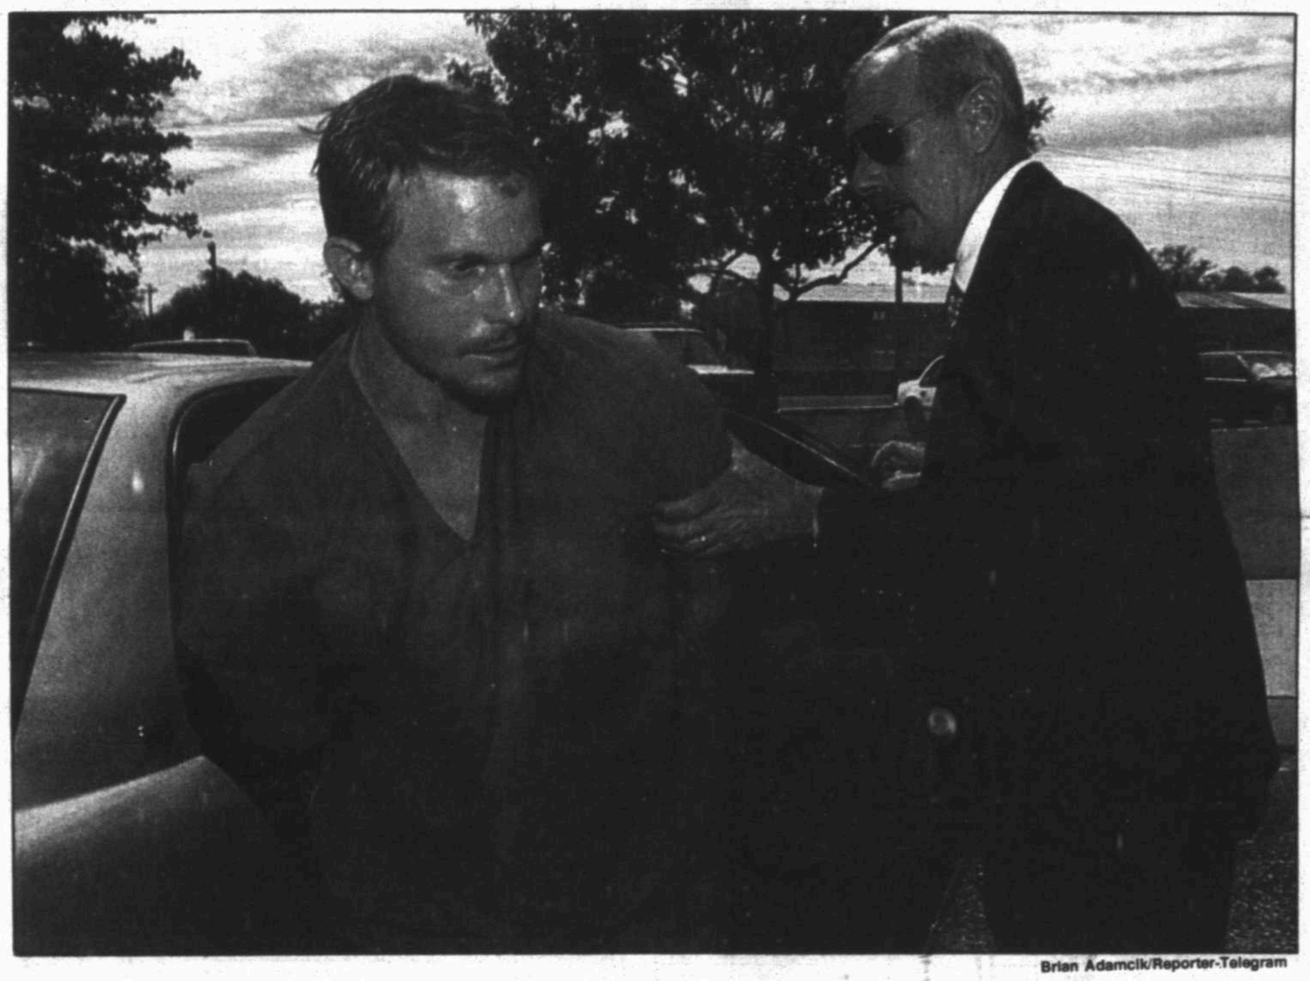

Final details were being worked on by Secretary of State Warren Christopher in his office Friday evening with FBI agent Tom Kirspel escorts suspected bank robber Jimmy David Clark into the federal courthouse Friday.

Attorney's Office files motion to detain suspect

By Michael Kashgarian
Staff writer

A 23-year-old Hobbs, N.M., man suspected in Thursday's bank robbery appeared clad in blue jail garb and shackles before a federal magistrate Friday afternoon.

Jimmy David Clark, who originally told authorities his name was Shane Lee Allen, was advised of his rights by Judge Louis Guirola Jr.

The U.S. Attorney's Office filed a motion to detain Clark without bond, which will be decided at a hearing set for Wednesday morning.

In a complaint filed with the court, FBI officials stated that Clark "admitted that he was responsible for the robbery earlier that afternoon of Bank One located at the intersection of Andrews Highway and Wall Street."

The FBI is investigating whether Clark may have been involved in two other recent robberies. A man fitting his description robbed the Texas Commerce Bank on Andrews Highway in Midland on Aug. 20., and a man with a similar description robbed the West-

President to visit Houston to tout plans

HOUSTON (AP) — A downtown hotel worked Friday to stock its kitchen with presidential favorites from peanut butter and bananas to mango ice cream in preparation for President Clinton's weekend visit to Houston.

The Texas stop is part of a road show that began Thursday in Cleveland and was to continue on to California on Friday before coming to Houston.

Clinton and Vice President Al Gore are touting their plan to trim government waste and eliminate over 252,000 jobs in the bureaucracy, saving $108 billion by the end of the decade.

Today, they're scheduled to visit a non-funded state agency that distributes surplus federal goods to public institutions and private educational and non-profit organizations.

The Texas Surplus Property Agency distributes $30 million to $50 million in property per year, from paper clips to helicopters and fire trucks.

It is not open to the public and receives no government funding, but operates by charging a handling fee.

The Houston event is designed to highlight the role of state Comptroller John Sharp in developing the proposal to "reinvent government."

Sharp's performance review audits in Texas are said to have been used by Gore as a model for the federal effort.

Gov. Ann Richards, the state's ranking Democrat, was expected to appear with Clinton and Gore. Houston Mayor Bob Lanier and his wife, Elyse, also were under consideration for a role.

The visit has meant hard work for staffers at Houston's Wyndham Warwick Hotel, especially the kitchen help.

General manager John Gibb said chefs will be whipping up their own version of Clinton's favorite dessert — mango ice cream — from a secret recipe.

Smith discusses Congress's agenda at conference in Midland

Publisher stops at airport to rally support for his run in March primary

By Katherine Poteet

San Angelo publisher Scott Campbell made a stop at Midland International Airport Friday to build support for his run against Rep. Lamar Smith in the March Republican primary.

"It's not too early to begin campaigning," Campbell said. "I actually announced my plans to run last spring. But, this is a big district and we have a lot of ground to cover."

U.S. Rep. Lamar Smith told a handful of supporters and members of the media at a Friday afternoon press conference the issues that would be on the minds of the Congress between now and Thanksgiving.

Flight delays caused Smith's press conference at the Midland International Airport to be postponed for an hour, cutting his question and answer question period to about 15 minutes before he had to rush to another engagement.

However, the congressman explained that health care, the Gore report and the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) would be three key issues presented to Congress in the near future.

"NAFTA will probably have the biggest impact on Texas . . . it will create tens of thousands of jobs . . . and will be good for the economy of West Texas," Smith said.

He indicated that NAFTA will probably be voted on by November. He said the free trade agreement is "up in the air" with one-third of Congress opposing it, another one-third in fa-

Fund-raising party

AUSTIN — Gov. Ann Richards said Friday she is ready to run for re-election as she prepared for a fund-raising party that was expected to pump about $2 million into her campaign warchest. Shortly after 8 p.m., singer Willie Nelson opened the event attended by about 2,500 people by singing, "Waltz Across Texas." Nelson, Lyle Lovett, Nanci Griffith and Don Henley were among the Texas musicians on hand for the event, which was hosted by author Larry L. King and actress Alfre Woodard. "I'm probably going to spend it on a campaign next year," Richards said of the money raised at the "Ann at Sixty Birthday Celebration." Richards, a Democrat, was elected in 1990. She will bid to be the first Texas governor to win re-election since Democrat Dolph Briscoe did so in 1974.

Faith as weapon

WASHINGTON — To a chorus of hisses, the Democratic Party chairman rebuked the Christian Coalition on Friday for ads he said cast President Clinton's supporters as unchristian. He said it was wrong to use faith "as a weapon to divide. "God and faith are not and cannot be the province of one political party or movement," David Wilhelm said in a blunt speech to more than 2,000 Christian Coalition activists. "God is an independent. And no single entity can claim to speak for all persons who believe in Christ and consider themselves Christians."/7C

HOSTAGE: Anderson tells about days leading up to release

(From 1A)

This place is metaphorically, as well as literally, a hole. It's dirty and full of mosquitoes. The light, a bare bulb hanging from the ceiling, is never turned off. The guards are suspicious and unfriendly — one is "the Ghost," whom we've already had so much trouble with. He likes to sneak up to the opening of our cell above us and spy. Frank's cot is lying almost under the opening, and it's hard for him not to look at it under his blindfold, when he lies down. Whenever the Ghost appears, he accuses Frank of trying to see him. It's making Frank even more paranoid than he is. I offered to change places with him, but the guards wouldn't go along, for no apparent reason.

Once again, the depression is enormously deep. Only our physical misery distracts us from our black, endless thoughts. It's now March in southern Lebanon, and growing too hot for the heavy blankets we've been given, especially with three people's body heat raising the temperature even more. So it's a dilemma, either being stifled while hiding from the mosquitoes or being cooler and bitten in a thousand places.

It's so quiet most of the time, and the mosquitoes are so numerous, that just their combined whine keeps me from sleeping.

The chains are a very heavy emotional and psychological burden, as well as a physical one. Just to feel them even when I'm not moving drags me near to despair. And now they're very tight. The guards had been leaving them loosely around our wrists until the Ghost spied me managing to pull mine (with considerable effort and some pain) off my wrist. From then on, they were fastened tightly enough to sometimes cut off the circulation. Not that we could go anywhere even if we could get them off, with the metal grille and wooden door between us and the guards, and the guards between us and the outside, and a Shiite village surrounding us.

I've been feeding a tiny mouse that appears in the dead of night occasionally. I call her Mehitabel. She will sit for a while under Frank's bed, absolutely still, before dashing at an incredible speed to the foot of mine, then almost teleporting herself to the ledge beside the cot and finally close enough to snatch the little piece of bread I place next to my head on the pillow, usually while I'm dozing. When the hamsters sealed up the cracks in the wall with more concrete blocks and cement, she disappeared. Tom and Frank tried to convince me she was sealed up in the wall, but I refuse to believe it. She must have gotten away. . . .

I wake abruptly sometimes from the light dozing that passes for sleep these days, sweating and frightened. The dream is often the same: I'm free, and wandering through Beirut, or at the office, talking to Robert or Nick or some other friend, but I know I have to return to this prison. "I don't want to go back," I cry. "Well, just don't go back," is the bland reply. But they don't understand. There is some terrible compulsion, some obligation or promise I just can't ignore, and I have to. I just have to. "I don't want to wake with a chain on my leg again." And then I wake up, and at the first movement, I can feel the chain pulling at my ankle, and my heart plummets inside me.

I dream of Madeleine, too, and can feel her so clearly, the curve of her hip, the way she fits to me, the smell of her hair. It's so clear, so real, and I wake up to a terrible emptiness in my arms. I still can't think of her for more than a few moments at a time with the pain

Tonight will be fair with a low in the lower 60s.

Sunday is expected to be partly cloudy with a high in the lower 90s.

After an overnight low of 60, Friday's high was 87 compared with the record high for that date of 100 in 1964. The record low for today's date was 50 in 1935.

STATE

It was mostly sunny and mild across Texas on Friday, with a few showers dampening parts of South Texas.

Rainfall was reported in the southern Hill Country, Coastal Plains and Lower Rio Grande Valley. In North Texas, a dry air mass remained entrenched in the wake of a cool front that brought welcome lower temperatures.

Afternoon highs were in the 80s and 90s across North Texas and South Texas with 70s and 80s in West Texas.

Winds were northerly in North Texas but southeasterly in West Texas. South Texas had variable winds.

Forecasters said North Texas will remain partly cloudy but warmer through Sunday. Highs today are to be in the middle 80s to middle 90s. Lows today night are to be in the upper 60s to middle 70s. Highs Sunday are expected near 90 to upper 90s.

The West Texas forecast is for fair skies with some showers or thunderstorms in the Far West and Big Bend. Highs today are to be in the upper 80s to mid 90s with lows in the upper 50s and 60s.

NATION

Thunderstorms were threatening throughout the Northeast on Friday, and wind blew through parts of the Midwest.

Severe thunderstorm watches were posted for parts of New York state, New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont, much of Massachusetts, and the region's Atlantic coastal waters.

Gale warnings were posted for Lake Huron, and winds gusted to 60 mph over Lake Erie near Cleveland.

Heavy rain from thunderstorms over Puerto Rico caused local flooding at Bayamon and Toa Baja, the National Weather Service said.

Rainshowers and thunderstorms reached over New England, the northern Appalachians, the lower Great Lakes, Florida, southeast Louisiana and the Texas Gulf Coast.

Temperatures for this season will reach their lowest point of the season in northeast New York state during the weekend, but low-temperature records are not likely to be tied or broken, the weather service said.

Low temperature for the Lower 48 states Friday morning was 32 degrees at Truckee, Calif.

SMITH: Congressman visits Midland

(From 1A)

vor and the remaining one-third undecided.

"I lean toward NAFTA . . . it increases exports to (Mexico) where our export business is No. 1 in shipping exports," Smith said. "It should benefit West Texas . . . with a larger export market."

"The net result, I think, will be good for America," the congressman said.

Smith said three other issues he thought would be important included the energy industry, the need to reinvent government and immigration.

"There is good news for the energy industry," Smith said. "The president decided not to impose the BTU tax . . . he did the right thing."

However, Smith claimed a 4.3-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax would cost a half-million jobs in the energy industry. He said the tax would cost Texans $370 million alone and broke it down even f rther to estimate a $450-a-year cost for the typical Texas family.

On reinventing the government, Smith said he had been working on that idea for a number of years and called Vice President Al Gore's idead "good" but indicated 60 percent of the Gore report could be implemented right now by "a stroke of the president's pen."

"This administration . . . has been long on promises and short on performance," Smith said.

Regarding illegal immigration, Smith said it cost Americans more than $13 billion a year to support illegal aliens. He also claimed the easy availability of jobs and benefits attracts immigrants and puts "American citizens out of work."

He said he has sponsored a bill that would make approximately 20 recommendations to Congress to reduce illegal immigration. He indicated that more than 50 percent of the jobs that illegal aliens get are obtained through the use of fraudulent documents. One of his suggestions is that more states should have "tamper-proof driver's licenses."

To emphasize his point further, Smith said 42 percent of all federal prisoners in Texas are illegal aliens and 75 percent of these criminals commit other crimes while on parole, probation or while awaiting deportation.

The congressman also discussed a bill he introduced for a reduction of federal regulations that could result in $38 billion a year in savings.

Smith said the bill would call for each congressional committee to examine where the funds go for each federal agency, then "squeeze the costs of these regulations by 6½ percent over the next seven years."

"Regulations are invisible taxes to the citizens," Smith explained. "They strangle the energy industry with an average cost to the typical family of $6,600-8,800 a year."

Smith said the regulations cover a number of things including the workplace, industry and the environment.

"Some regulations are good . . . and some are meaningless regulations that cost a lot of money," he said.

When questioned about the Friday announcement regarding the candidacy of Scott Campbell to run against him in the Republican primary next spring, the congressman made only a brief reply to Campbell's claim that Smith is "out of touch with his constituents."

"Good representation is the absolute best politics," Smith said. "I have represented West Texas well in the issues regarding agriculture, energy and reducing the cost of government . . . this is not a campaign stop. The primary is six months away and we'll have plenty of time to debate."

RUN: Publisher rallies support at airport

(From 1A)

bent Smith, R-San Antonio, for the 21st Congressional District, which includes portions of Midland and San Antonio and all or part of the following counties: Midland, Glasscock, Sterling, Irion, Tom Green, Schleicher, Menard, Kimble, Mason, Gillespie, Llano, Burnet, Williamson, Real, Kerr, Bandera, Kendall, Comal, Guadalupe and Bexar.

Campbell, who publishes an agriculture magazine, said he entered the race because he thought Smith had lost touch with the people in his district.

"I know this district like the back of my hand," he said. "And, the people in this district are fed up with government and politicians. I'm not a politician or lawyer. I'm a common citizen who understands the needs of small business, something the congressman has lost touch with."

Campbell said he better understood the concerns of the oil and gas industry, particularly in Midland and Odessa, through his dealings with area residents.

"I don't pretend to know everything about the oil and gas industry, but I know people who do," he said. "The important thing is to seek their opinions and help. They have the knowledge and they are being ignored."

He said the oil and gas industry should be deregulated and be given tax breaks and incentives to explore.

The candidate also took issue with Smith's backing of Title X of the Public Health Service Act, which overturned the Bush administration's "gag rule" on abortion counseling and required that all women who had unintended pregnancies receive non-directive counseling on all options, including abortions.

"To me, this says that Smith will take a more liberal stance on abortion, which is obviously not what the residents of Midland want," Campbell said.

"I am aware of the abortion conflict here in Midland and want the people to know that I am opposed to abortion and federal funding for abortion. The only exceptions for this would be a criminal act against a woman that resulted in a pregnancy or the mother's life is in danger."

Campbell criticized Smith for making his residence in Washington, D.C.

"Washington should be a place that we vote, not a place that we reside," Campbell said. "I would keep my permanent residence in San Angelo. That's the only way to keep in touch with the people in your district."

PEACE: Clinton pledges U.S. support

(From 1A)

Jordanian Ambassador Fayez Tarawneh. "Otherwise, it's ready," the official told The Associated Press.

In a fast-paced day, the United States also prepared to open its talks with the PLO. Nabil Shaath, chief political strategist for PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat, was scheduled to call Friday night on Dennis Ross, a top State Department official.

Israel's agreement with Jordan, which has received little attention, would serve as a framework for a peace treaty between the two countries.

It provides for a secure border and cooperation on conserving scarce water supplies.

An announcement on Tuesday would follow the signing at the White House on Monday of a historic agreement between Israel and the PLO to establish Palestinian self-rule in Gaza and Jericho.

Clinton, endorsing the accord and a parallel, mutual recognition accord between Israel and the PLO, said "there plainly will be some guarantees."

At the same time, the president announced a resumption of U.S. communication with the PLO after more than three years of icy distance following an abortive raid on a Tel Aviv beach by members of a PLO faction.

The talks will begin with the arrival of a Palestinian delegation, said a senior U.S. official.

Negotiations with Syria and Lebanon are lagging, and they may not be represented at the 11 a.m. ceremony.

Foreign Minister Shimon Peres will sign for Israel, with Secretary of State Warren Christopher and Russian Foreign Minister Andrei V. Kozyrev at the table. Two former presidents, Jimmy Carter and George Bush, will be looking on. A third, Gerald Ford, will be at dinner Monday nignt.

"Today marks the dawning of a new era," Clinton said. "Now there is an opportunity to define the future of the Middle East in terms of reconciliation and coexistence and the opportunities that children growing up there will have, whether they are Israeli or Palestinian."

Standing in bright sunshine, a pleased expression on his face, the president said of the Israel-PLO agreement: "I want to express the full support of the United States for this dramatic and promising step."

A senior administration official, briefing reporters the night before at the White House, ruled out sending American troops to Gaza or to the West Bank as part of an international peacekeeping operation.

But Clinton left that door open. Asked what the United States would do to help ensure the security of Israel and the fledgling Palestinian authority in Gaza and Jericho, he replied:

"That has to be worked out by the parties. There will plainly be some peace guarantees, through what mechanism it's not clear."

Clinton noted U.S. troops were sent to Sinai to help monitor the peace accord between Egypt and Israel more than a decade ago.

HOSTAGE: Anderson recalls final days before his release

(From 2A)

welling up, threatening to engulf me.

I can often feel the panic sneaking up, the weight of the months and years that have gone by while we lie on these mattresses, the incredible waste. I push it away, and busy my mind with mental games, or frantic efforts at conversation. Tom keeps careful track of the time — "This is my 500th, 600th, 700th day. It's 23 days till my birthday, till Christmas, till Easter." I ask him, snarl at him — "Don't tell me, Tom. I don't want to know." I can't stand to think about all those weeks, months, piling one on top of the other.

I pray. "God, give me strength, courage. Above all, calm acceptance. I'm grateful for my life, for all the things I've had. Even those so-short months with Madeleine were a gift. I've done so much, traveled so much. If I die tomorrow, OK, my life has been full. But this purgatory, endless, gray. Don't ask more of me than I can give. But I have to. If this is Your will, I have to."

Sometimes the acceptance comes, and I know I can just go on. Then the black misery comes again, and I try to push it away. Even when it does break through the deliberate busy-ness of my mind, and overwhelms me, I know by now that it will pass, retreat. It's hard to be so completely miserable all the time. But it never disappears completely. It's always there, in the background of my mind, waiting.

September 5, 1990. My 2,000th day.

I've established contact with Terry Waite. He is next door, as John and Brian thought. I began by tapping on the wall and, when he tapped back, painstakingly tapped out the series 1-2-3-4 . . . to 26. Then, using numbers for the alphabet (1 — a; 2 — b; and so on), I tapped out our names. It took a while, but he caught on. I spent all one night tapping out a summary of all the news: Brian's release; Frank's release; the comments and promises of Iran, Syria, and others on hostages over the past year. Then the world news: the Berlin Wall's falling, communism's demise in eastern Europe, free elections in the Soviet Union, work toward a multiracial government in South Africa. All the incredible things that have happened since he was taken nearly three years ago. He thought I was crazy.

He's been in isolation all that time, without even a scrap of news. I knew he was brave, risking his life for us. But he must also be an incredibly tough man. Sounds sane and rational. When I apologized for dragging him into this with the letters we sent so long ago, there was no bitterness in his gracious reply.

It takes an agonizingly long time to exchange any message, what with stops and starts, misspellings and miscountings. My knuckles are already scraped raw from the concrete wall. But he obviously needs this contact so badly, I can't stop. I have had to tell him not to knock so loudly, and not to do it when the apartment is very quiet, late at night. The sound carries through the walls, and God only knows what they'll do if they catch us.

Baalbek, Lebanon. December 4, 1991.

The 2,454th day, and the last. The two new subchiefs came in this morning to say that I would be going home tonight. They talked with me awhile about various things. Strangely, they seemed mostly concerned with justifying themselves, and the last seven years. They said that their group now realized that this had all been a mistake, and they had gotten little out of it. They knew that the release last year of their brothers in Kuwait, the main goal they'd had in the beginning and for all those years, had nothing to do with the hostages they had held so long. "This tactic (kidnapping) is not useful. We will not do it again," one of them said. "We are not giving up. But we will use other means."

He did not explain what that meant, and I was not interested enough to pursue the subject.

"Trust Me" Ali was also there, and tried to start an argument about the same old subjects — the evil of the West, and how the Arabs, especially the Lebanese Shiites, had been oppressed. After a couple of minutes, I told him, "Ali, we've had this argument before. It doesn't settle anything."

One of the two subchiefs rebuked him in Arabic, and he went off to sit at the other side of the room. Then they asked me if I would make one last videotape, telling the world what they thought of the whole matter. I agreed, provided that I was allowed to say directly that this was their statement, which I was only reading and did not agree with. They had no objection. A man came in with a small video camera, and they gave me several pages, translated into English but in the usual florid Arab style. I read the statement, then added at the end, bluntly, that it was my captors' statement, not mine. But, I said, I thought it was important to hear what they had to say.

They gave me a new shirt, a pair of trousers, and some shoes, then left. I've been sitting here most of the day playing solitaire by candlelight — the electricity is out again — and listening to the radio. It's very strange — all the news reports say I've been turned over to the Syrians already, and am on my way to Damascus. They say there's a delay because of snow in the mountains between Beirut and Damascus. Of course, I'm in the Bekaa, and there's no snow.

It's been interesting, listening to the news analyses, and the recaps of the past seven years. The newscasts are full of praise for me — I don't know for what, except perhaps for surviving. It's like listening to your own obituary.

My mind is so full, spinning so fast, with so many things. Maddy — she's in Damascus, according to the radio, with Sulome. How is she feeling? What will we say to each other, after so much pain? What will I do? It is so good, with her last radio message, knowing she is waiting, and we can start again. What has it been like for her? How could she wait so long? I know the depth of my love. Hers must be so much greater, her strength so incredible.

I know the drill at Damascus. I've seen it so many times, as hostage after hostage has been released. The first ceremony at the Syrian Foreign Ministry. Thank everybody — the Syrians, the Israelis, the U.S. government, even the Iranians — ironic that, but necessary, I suppose.

I have less constraint than the others — I'm the last, except for the two Germans. I'd like to say something about the Lebanese held in Khiam prison by the Israelis, without trial, without a chance to defend themselves. But I'm not sure I should — Picco is working on that problem, and I would certainly not want to screw up any deal that my release is part of.

What do I say about my kidnappers? I have no love for them. The small kindnesses of a few guards over the years, the mostly decent treatment of the past few months, mean nothing compared to nearly seven years chained to a wall. But I don't hate them. I could, easily, but I cannot let myself. My life will begin again in a few hours. What am I going to make of it? Can I keep the faith and the determination of this time? Will I be able to keep from slipping back to the self-indulgence, the arrogance that I know I was full of then?

I am 44 years old. I don't feel it. I still felt young when I was taken seven years ago. I feel young today. But I'm not.

All my thoughts are fleeting, drifting in and out of my mind. I can't concentrate on anything, except the cards. Game after game of solitaire, interrupted for moments as I tune one radio or the other to another newscast. Lunch comes, then dinner.

It's dark outside now. They always prefer to wait for darkness to fall before making any move. The door opens. Several guards come in. I'm already dressed — I put on my new clothes two hours ago. Mahmoud says, as he has so many times, "Stand up."

No tape this time. Just the blindfold. The new subchiefs are there. One of them hands me a small bouquet. Half a dozen carnations. "Give this to your wife, and tell her we're sorry."

Someone takes my arm, guides me through the door, outside, and into a car. Another Mercedes, just like the one they forced me into so long ago. "Trust Me" Ali is in the backseat with me. He's ranting about Bush's ingratitude, his failure to mention the Khiam prisoners in his first statement about my release. I'm impatient. Shut up, man.

The car stops. I'm pulled out. Someone puts his hand on my shoulder. "I'm a Syrian colonel. You're free."

ROB: Suspect appears before magistrate

(From 1A)

ern National Bank in Odessa 10 days later and 10 days prior to Thursday's hold-up.

Clark was apprehended about 5 p.m. Thursday — about two hours after a man armed with a pistol held up the bank.

The robber confronted a female teller, put a briefcase on the counter and said, "This is a withdrawal," according to the complaint. The teller placed money from the drawer in the case, and the robber said, "There is more money." The teller replied, "Yes, there is," and placed money from another drawer in the case.

After the man left, he was followed by the bank president who asked the robber to stop, according to the complaint.

The robber crossed the street and left in a gold-colored Oldsmobile. An off-duty police officer observed the scene and pursued the car.

The officer subsequently lost track of the car but did get a description and license plate number.

A car fitting the description was later stopped at Lamesa Road and Highway 158. Clark was arrested and $2,600 was found on his person. A briefcase with more money — some that matched serial numbers of money taken from the bank — was also recovered.

Clark also told officials he threw a pellet gun out the car window during his attempted getaway.

Bullock appoints Bivins to committee

Staff report

State Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, who represents Midland, has been appointed to the Interim Senate Committee on Home Equity Lending by Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock. The committee will study whether Texas home-equity lending laws should be changed.

Texas law currently prohibits voluntary encumbrances on homestead property. The Legislature recently considered several bills to amend home-equity laws but no agreement was reached.

"I was supportive of home-equity lending in the past session, but there still are many issues that must be examined," Bivins said. "As a member of this committee, I plan to approach the issue with an open mind so we can generate a fair and reasonable proposal."

The interim committee will issue a report to the Legislature of its findings by December of 1994.

Sens. John Montford (D-Lubbock) and Judith Zaffirini (D-Laredo) also were appointed to the committee.

Lawyer: Koresh aware of probe for 7 months

AUSTIN (AP) — Seven months before the Branch Davidian compound near Waco was raided by federal officers, a gun dealer alerted cult leader David Koresh that authorities were investigating his purchase of weapons, the lawyer who represented Koresh said Friday.

Attorney Dick DeGuerin said Henry McMahon, who had owned a gun shop and sold Koresh many of his weapons, phoned the cult leader from another room as an Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms agents checked the dealer's records in July 1992.

On Feb. 28 of this year, about 100 ATF agents raided Koresh's Mount Carmel compound. Four agents were killed and 16 wounded in the ensuing gun battle with cult members. Six Branch Davidians also died in the initial battle.

After a 51-day standoff, the compound was consumed in flames and Koresh and about 85 of his followers died.

Speaking to a Freedom of Information Foundation of Texas seminar Friday, DeGuerin said that during the July 1992 inquiry, McMahon phoned Koresh saying, "There's a guy here from the ATF looking at my books and he's asking a lot of questions about you and your guns.'

"And David says, 'Well, tell them they can come on out and they can see the guns'," the lawyer said.

DeGuerin said McMahon returned to the other room and told the agent of the phone call.

"The ATF agent goes nuts and gets angry and says 'we don't want to do it that way. You shouldn't have called him'," DeGuerin said.

Jack Killorin, a spokesman for the ATF in Washington, said Koresh's learning of the investigation in July 1992 had no effect on the raid or the resulting standoff between agents and cult members.

"The fact that someone knows they're under investigation does not take away from (it)," Killorin said.

"The tip that is of concern is (the one) that a raid was shortly coming in the minutes before the raid took place," he said. "It becomes a question of preparedness at the moment."

Federal authorities have alleged that Koresh and his followers learned of the raid shortly before it occurred Feb. 28.

Robert Montserrat, McMahon's attorney, did not immediately return a telephone call from The Associated Press.

Five CNN employees die in Somali attack

MOGADISHU, Somalia (AP) — Five Somalis working for Cable News Network were killed and four wounded Friday in a three-hour battle between rival clansmen that added a bloody new element to worsening violence in Mogadishu.

It was some of the heaviest clan fighting in months and climaxed a second day of attacks on U.N. peacekeepers. U.N. officials said at least 27 mortar shells or rocket-propelled grenades were fired at U.N. positions and that Pakistani soldiers were fired on again while clearing roadblocks. No U.N. casualties were reported.

The fighting came a day after U.S. helicopter gunships blazed away with machine guns and rockets at Somalis who ambushed Pakistani troops and American combat engineers clearing a road. Supporters of a fugitive warlord claimed at least 125 men, women and children died.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, Secretary-General Boutros Boutros-Ghali expressed regret Friday over the high death toll but said U.N. efforts to disarm Somalis would continue.

Ahmad Fawzi, a spokesman for the U.N. chief, said U.N. peacekeepers would investigate the ambush and the Americans' counterstrike.

An American commander said Friday the heavy assault was necessary to save the U.N. force.

Somalis attacked a U.N. vehicle with a grenade Friday, wounding two U.S. soldiers, witnesses said. There was no U.N. confirmation. Four children and an unidentified adult were also reportedly wounded in the attack.

In Thursday's battle, one Pakistani was killed and two Americans and two other Pakistanis were wounded.

The bloodshed in Somalia's capital has fueled growing congressional opposition to U.S. participation in Somalia. The Senate voted 90-7 late Thursday to urge the president to ask Congress by Nov. 15 to approve the continued presence of U.S. troops.

The CNN workers were shot in what apparently began as an attempt to hijack a vehicle rented by the network. The CNN workers belonged to a subclan of the Hawayi clan and the carjackers were from another subclan.

Militiamen from each subclan rushed in and began firing at each other with mortars, rocket-propelled grenades and automatic weapons. The battle swirled around a hotel housing foreign journalists most of the afternoon.

The United Nations, which usually does not interfere in clan conflicts, sent Bangladeshi troops to monitor the battle and U.S. Blackhawk helicopters finally fired machine guns to scatter the combatants.

Carter acknowledges talks with rogue warlord

N.Y. Times News Service

Former President Jimmy Carter said Friday he has been in regular contact with General Mohamed Farrah Aidid, the fugitive warlord sought by U.S. Army Rangers in Somalia, and has spoken with the head of the United Nations on Aidid's behalf.

Carter said he is not negotiating Aidid's surrender, but "responding to a request from him and just relaying what he says."

Aidid's fighters were blamed for Thursday's attack on U.N. troops, who responded with machine gun and 20mm cannon fire from U.S. helicopters. Supporters of Aidid said at least 125 people were killed by the American helicopters, including women and children — whom U.S. military advisers said participated as combatants.

One Pakistani soldier was killed, and two Americans and two other Pakistanis were wounded.

Carter referred to the killings as a "tragedy."

"I think that the sustained effort to kill or capture Aidid, which is resulting in the death of many Somali civilians, is something that should be terminated. And I think some alternative should be provided for," Carter said.

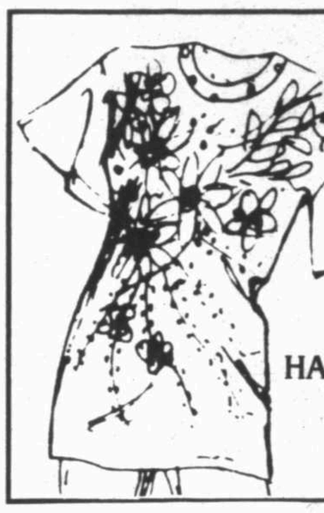

In a letter to the former president, Aidid asked for the United Nations to set up an independent commission to investigate recent events in Somalia. "I would like to assure you, Sir, that I will be prepared to accept and abide by the finding and decision of the commission," the warlord wrote in a letter.

Carter said he has discussed such a commission with the head of the United Nations. He said "some of the East Africa leaders" have told him they would be willing to give Aidid safe haven during an investigation.

Carter did not name the leaders or the countries. But he has recently made two visits to Africa.

NATO secretary suggests admittance of old enemies

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The United States and its European allies must open a debate on adding new members to NATO, the military alliance's top official said Friday.

"NATO is not a closed shop," Manfred Woerner, secretary-general of the 16-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization, said at the annual meeting of the London-based International Institute for Strategic Studies.

"In my view, the time has come to open a more concrete perspective to those countries of central and eastern Europe, which want to join NATO and which we may consider eligible for future membership," he said.

It was the first time Woerner publicly urged the allies to prepare for the eventual admission of some of the alliance's former Soviet bloc adversaries.

The United States, the most influential member of NATO, has been reluctant to hold such discussions for fear of angering Russia.

However, Russian President Boris Yeltsin implied during a recent visit to Poland that he would not object to Polish membership in the alliance.

Poland, Hungary and the Czech Republic would most likely be at the top of any list of candidates for NATO membership.

Woerner said membership should be on the agenda of a summit, likely in early January.

Mideast pact ignites protests on both sides

PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat signs document that recognizes Israel's right to exist. Then three PLO officials resign, top dissident threatens to assassinate Arafat.

JERUSALEM (AP) — "God will punish this insult!" lawmaker Hanan Porath shouted as hundreds of Israelis banged pots and hit the ground with sticks Friday to protest Israel's recognition of the PLO.

"I say to the PLO that history will not forgive them and also tell them that the struggle will not stop," said Abdel-Aziz Rantisi, a spokesman for the Islamic fundamentalist Hamas group that opposes the Israeli-PLO accord.

Such opposition from both sides is unlikely to reverse the drive toward peace between the long-time foes, or derail an Israeli-PLO plan to establish Palestinian self-rule in the occupied Gaza Strip and West Bank.

President Clinton responded by restoring American diplomatic contacts with the Palestine Liberation Organization, and the White House was arranging an elaborate ceremony on Monday to seal the accord. U.S.-PLO contacts were suspended when PLO guerrillas attacked Israelis in 1990.

Russia, cosponsor with the United States of the formal Mideast peace talks, hailed the accord as comparable to the fall of the Berlin Wall.

In Israel and the occupied lands, strong opposition on both sides cast a chill over the mutual recognition agreement signed Friday by Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin in Jerusalem and PLO chairman Yasser Arafat in Tunis.

Three members of the PLO's Executive Committee resigned in protest, and the radical Palestinian dissident Ahmed Jebril warned Arafat of assassination.

"I see this as a moment of importance with many opportunities, but not a few risks," said Rabin.

Then, reflecting the distrust still felt here, he added, "All of this is being done with the assumption that the other side will also fulfill all its obligations."

Under the accord, the PLO recognizes Israel's right to exist and renounces violence. Israel recognizes the PLO as the representative of the Palestinian people and agrees to start talks with the PLO on broader Mideast peace issues.

Argentine cult members to stand trial

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — A federal judge ordered 18 members of a cult to stand trial on charges ranging from kidnapping and corruption of minors to religious and racial discrimination.

The 18 were arrested Sept. 1 during a series of raids on homes in the Buenos Aires area belonging to the cult known as The Family, an offshoot of the Children of God sect founded in California in 1969.

They include six Americans, five Argentines, two Canadians, two Spaniards, and one person each from Germany, France and Venezuela. All are adults.

Judge Robert Marquevich ordered them to stand trial late Thursday and ordered the cult's assets seized.

All 18 have denied the charges. They sang religious hymns in English on Thursday night as they were transported from the court house in suburban San Isidro to a nearby jail.

"The same thing is happening to us as happened to Jesus!" several shouted to reporters. "Justice and God will triumph!"

A court statement said medical examinations of about 143 children who were placed in court custody after the raids showed one 14-year-old child had suffered "cruel and atrocious" treatment. Several girls, ranging in age from 9 to 17, were found to have experienced sexual relations.

The document said the investigation did not prove the children were raped, but medical exams found evidence of anal and other lesions in several children.

A witness charges that some children were forced to perform erotic dances in their underwear for videotape cameras at one cult home.

Pope urges Baltic nations to discard bitter memories

TALLINN, Estonia (AP) — Pope John Paul II urged the Baltic nations Friday to shake off their bitter memories of the Soviet occupation as he concluded a seven-day pilgrimage to Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia.

"May God hasten the time when past events will forever be a memory confined to history books," the pope said before boarding a jetliner to return to the Vatican.

"After your shared suffering as a result of the loss of independence and the stifling of basic freedoms, the citizens of Estonia ... Latvia and Lithuania are now making progress on the path of democracy," he said.

Earlier, Estonian President Lennart Meri said he hoped the pontiff's visit would speed the withdrawal of some 4,500 Russian troops still in Estonia after 50 years of Soviet occupation.

"I implore you to pray for a friendly, stately and early settlement of this anxious legacy of the part," Meri told the pope before the departure.

The pope said Estonia should never have to suffer the fate again.

"We can no longer have an era of fear where a small nation has to be afraid of a bigger nation," he said.

During his pilgrimage, the pope stressed the need for good relations among religious groups and overcoming bitter disputes among national groups caused by Soviet occupation.

Police find Kevorkian with 18th body

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Jack Kevorkian attended his 18th suicide hours after being ordered to stand trial on a charge of helping a man kill himself, and his lawyer said Kevorkian would go on a hunger strike if he's jailed.

■ More nation news/7C

"If he's imprisoned, he will not eat and Dr. Kevorkian will not survive very long in prison," Geoffrey Fieger said of his gaunt, 65-year-old client.

He said the man who committed suicide Thursday had signed a thank you note for Kevorkian, saying "It's a nicer world because of thoughtful people like you."

"God help us all if the prosecutors anywhere can put us in jail for a doctor rendering that kind of compassion," Fieger said.

Kevorkian threatens suicidal hunger strike if court jails him.

Police were summoned Thursday night by a 911 call to the Redford Township home of Donald and Eunice O'Keefe. There, they found Kevorkian and O'Keefe, a retired, 73-year-old Ford Motor Co. worker with bone cancer, dead in his bed. He had a mask and tube over his nose and mouth, and a canister was nearby, Police Chief David Parker said. Mrs. O'Keefe was out of town, he said.

Kevorkian has refused to answer police questions.

Prosecutors said they will likely decide by Monday whether to levy additional charges or ask the court to raise Kevorkian's bond. They are awaiting an autopsy report and the results of further investigation.

"We're certainly not going to go running into court and say he was there when somebody died. We'd get laughed out of court," Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Tim Kenny said. "If we can establish that he did participate and assist, we would certainly be seeking to get bond changed."

Kenny was meeting with Redford Township police Friday.

Wayne County Prosecutor John O'Hair accused Kevorkian of defying the law — especially since just hours earlier he was allowed to remain free on $100,000 bond

Court allows lesbian couple to adopt child

BOSTON (AP) — A state Supreme Court ruling Friday made a prominent breast cancer surgeon and her lesbian lover the first homosexual couple to win approval from Massachusetts to adopt a child.

In a 4-3 decision, the court said that two unmarried women it identified only as "Susan" and "Helen," may jointly adopt "Tammy," a 5-year-old girl they have raised since birth.

Their attorney, Katherine Triantafillou, later confirmed that the couple was Dr. Susan Love and her lover of more than 10 years, Dr. Helen Cooksey, also a surgeon. Despite the wording of the ruling, the women had no reluctance about being identified, their lawyer said. They have held positions on the Harvard Medical School faculty and now live somewhere in California, the lawyer said.

Triantafillou said Ms. Love was in surgery all day Friday, and neither she nor Cooksey could be reached for comment.

"They are like the perfect parents, and all-American, except for being lesbian," Triantafillou said. "It is an absolutely extraordinary wonderful decision."

Tammy was conceived by Ms. Love through artificial insemination from Ms. Cooksey's biological cousin.

The women's relatives as well as teachers, religious leaders from their church and neighbors testified that the couple were ideal parents, and endorsed their adoption request.

The state Department of Social Services also recommended the adoption be approved.

Central to the case was the fact that the two are not married. Massachusetts, like all other states, does not recognize same-sex marriages.

But a majority of the court said there is nothing in state law preventing joint adoption by a homosexual couple.

Police apprehend two suspects in murder of tourist

MIAMI (AP) — Two people were arrested Friday in the slaying of a German tourist, and police said one of them admitted pulling the trigger of a sawed-off hunting rifle that fired the fatal shot.

Patsy Jones, 20, was arrested Friday and charged with the murder of tourist Uwe-Wilhelm Rakebrand, who had just arrived in the United States on his honeymoon.

Also arrested Friday was 19-year-old Alvan Hudson, but police refused to release details of his involvement. He was the final suspect being sought, authorities said.

Jones' 19-year-old boyfriend, Recondall Wiggins, gave himself up to authorities two days earlier after reportedly confessing to his mother that he drove the van that rammed the rental car Rakebrand was driving.

"Certainly there's a sense of relief," police spokesman David Magnusson said after Jones' arrest.

Wiggins identified Jones as the one who pulled the trigger of a .30-30 carbine hunting rifle as he drove a rented yellow Ryder van that bumped Rakebrand's car, The Miami Herald reported Friday.

Police said later that Jones had also confessed to the shooting.

Wiggins confessed to his mother when he and Jones went to see her at her job as a secretary at a Metro-Dade police station, the newspaper reported.

"Momma! Did you hear about the tourist who got shot?" Wiggins asked, according to the newspaper. "I'm going to prison 'cause we did it."

Wiggins also told a cousin about the killing when he saw her at a hospital where his son was hospitalized for treatment of a seizure.

Rebels thwack Socorro, 61-6

■ The 10th-ranked Midland Lee Rebels roll up 380 yards rushing to move to 2-0 on the season.

By Bill Pettit
Sports Writer

EL PASO — Tenth-ranked Midland Lee went into Friday night's ball game with El Paso Socorro hoping not to repeat last year's performance when the Rebels cracked the state's 5-A Top 10.

A year ago, Lee jumped to a No. 9 state ranking following Week 4 of the season and then promptly lost to San Angelo Central, 44-34, on the road.

The scenario was hauntingly familiar as Lee was on the road again, this time to face Soccorro, a team fresh off a 34-0 route of Carlsbad, N.M., but head coach Earl Miller and company silenced people worried about a repeat as the Lee defense shut down the Socorro passing game in a 61-6 thrashing at the Socorro Athletic Complex.

Lee forced five turnovers, four interceptions — two by dedrick Adams and Kevin Jordan — and a fumble recovery by Jordan to make the words easy for quarterback Cortney Turner and the rest of the Lee offense.

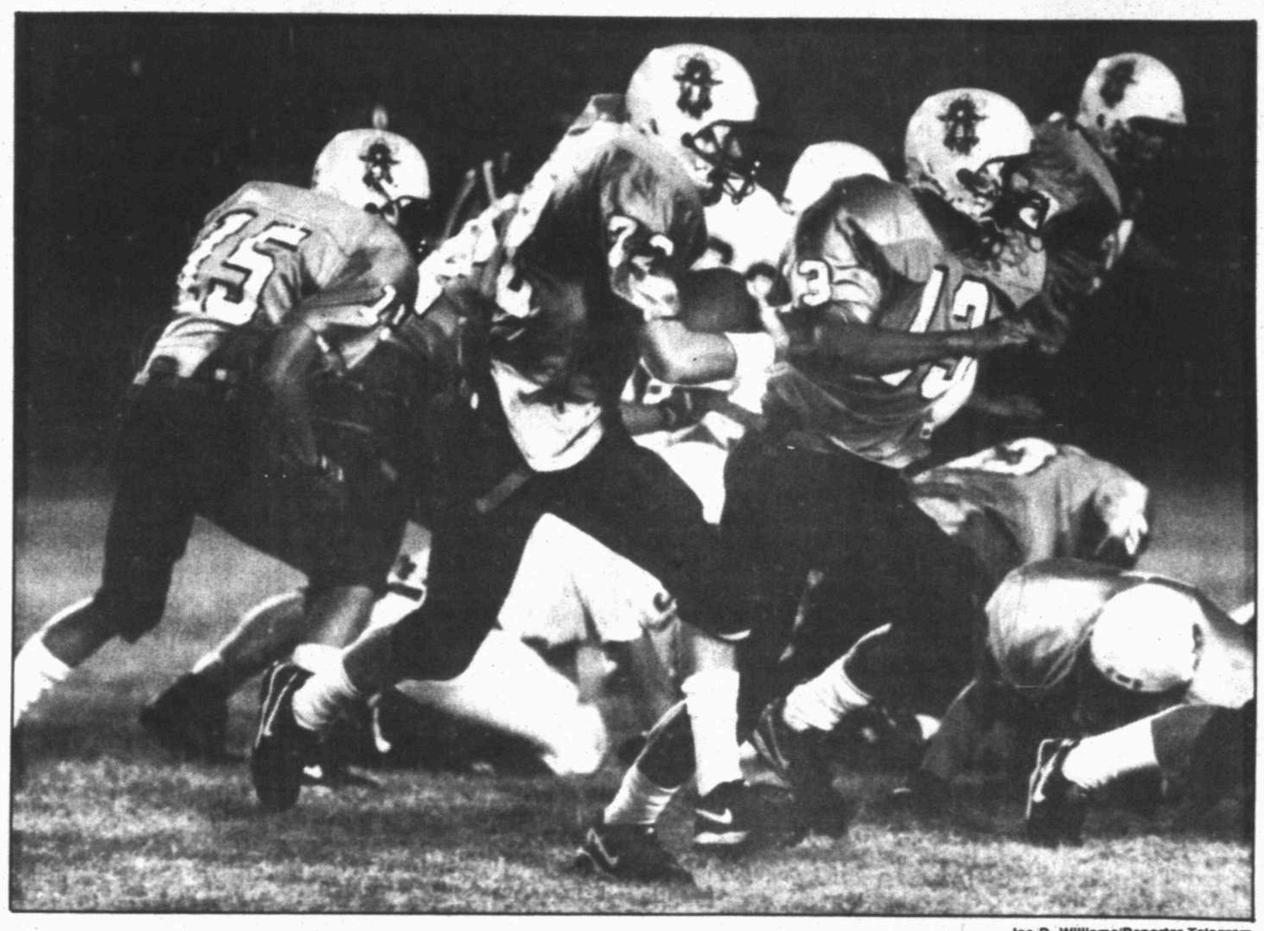

For the second game in a row, Lee made use of a short field throughout the game, never having to travel more than 51 yards for a score, and erupting to a 33-0 lead midway through the second quarter before Socorro could cross midfield.

"I thought the offense moved the ball well," said Lee head coach Earl Miller. "We had a couple of fumbles in the first half that hurt us, but overall we played well.

"Socorro has a good football team, but let's be honest, we're just bigger and have better people at the skill positions. When you have better personnel it makes it a lot easier."

Socorro coach Jim Carson agreed with Miller.

Greenwood tailback Michael S. Smith rambles past the Fort Stockton defense for a Ranger first down Friday in Greenwood. Smith rushed eight times for 115 yards and ran for a touchdown run of 69 yards.

Greenwood downs Ft. Stockton

By Mike Butts
Staff writer

GREENWOOD — Greenwood's 35-14 Homecoming win over Fort Stockton Friday may have given the Rangers their second win of the still young football season. But for Greenwood fullback Damon Cumba, it was a first.

"That," said Cumba, referring to last season's 28-6 loss to Fort Stockton, "is payback number one. Payback number two is next week."

"Runnin' Rangers" has a nice ring to it. But Friday, when every other time the Panthers (0-2) looked up, another Ranger halfback was streaking for a big gain, the "Flyin' Rangers" may be more appropriate.

Greenwood's wishbone rolled to 258 yards rushing and a 28-7 lead in the first half before cruising to the win in the second half. The running game worked so well in the first half the Rangers ran for first downs in first and ten situations nine times. And they had scoring marches of 70, 98 and 74 yards while throwing only one incomplete pass. Next week Greenwood takes on Denver City, who beat the Rangers last season 26-13.

"You can't do anything about speed," said Fort Stockton coach Dave Drummond, whose Panthers fell to 0-2. "You just have to play with who you've got."

What the Rangers (2-0) have is Cumba and a stable of speedy halfbacks along with nifty-pitching quarterback Hilbert Ochoa. Friday Cumba was the left jab of Greenwood's offense, punishing the Panthers up the middle with tackle-breaking runs. And Michael S. Smith, Indavong Phonasa, Cody Hall and Shawn Sayles were the team's knock out punch, skirting outside or powering inside for chunks of yardage.

"Everybody I'd seen had run the ball pretty well against Fort Stockton, so I really wasn't surprised," said Ranger coach Bob Purser in a post-game locker room full of homecoming princesses and team will wishers. "But we were concerned because they beat us last year. I was more concerned that they moved the ball on us."

Fort Stockton did score first to take a 7-0 lead. But that was on a short drive set up by Greenwood's poor field position resulting from a first-snap-of-the-game fumble by Cumba. The Rangers went 70 yards in six plays on their third possession to tie the game at 7-7 with Sayles going over from the eight-yard line.

Even with the impressive offensive showing, the Rangers were ragged in the second half, committing eight penalties for 60 yards. They also fumbled six times in the game and lost three of them. Especially problematic was the exchange between Ochao and Cumba on veer plays when the quarterback tried to read the fullback.

But that amounted to little more than nit-picking when you look at the Rangers 390 yards of offense and 15 first half first downs.

"We just can't finish one off," Purser said. "We're so thin we get run down so fast. We have real good football players that have to go both ways."

Two plays in the first half turned the game to Greenwood's favor.

First with the score tied 7-7, Michael P. Smith intercepted a Ruben Leyva pass and returned it 35 yards to the Panther 25. On second and ten from the Fort Stockton 14, Phonasa scored on a delayed draw to put the Rangers up 14-7.

The Panthers started a long drive after the kickoff, mostly on the strength of single setback Jeffrey Hughes' big-man runs. Hughes had nine carries for 61 yards but the Rangers made a momentum swinging goal-line stand as the Panthers failed to score on three attempts from the three-yard line.

The Rangers followed with an even longer drive, but they ended theirs by getting six when Phonasa took a pitch from Ochao and out-ran the Panther defense down the sideline. The drive came right after the goal-line stand, covered 98 yards on

Permian blasts Temple

By Jeff Wilson
MRT Correspondent

ODESSA — The big rematch turned into the big mismatch.

John Williams rushed for 200 yards and scored four times as the No. 5 Permian Panthers avenged last year's 20-14 loss to Temple by rolling past the No. 4 Wildcats 35-7 before a crowd of 17,500 at Odessa's Ratliff Stadium.

But last year's loss was not the motivation behind Friday's win, so says Permian receiver Sheldon Bass.

"It wasn't based on revenge," Bass said. "It was based on us playing hard. We wanted to play hard, come out and play Mojo football."

The Panthers did just that.

Permian rolled to 388 yards of total offense while allowing the defending Class 5A state champs 194, 137 of that coming on the ground.

Bass played a big roll by catching six passes for 91 yards, one covering 33 yards for a touchdown, while intercepting a pass and recovering a fumble.

"We came out and gave it the best effort we could," Bass said.

Williams, who also played down the revenge angle, said it was by far a team effort.

"The offensive line played a great game," Williams said. "The defensive line played a great game. I give all the credit to them. We just wanted to come out and play."

Williams start this year was almost a carbon copy of last year's contest, where he scored on the fourth play of the game. This year he waited until the game's fifth play.

Scott runs Estacado over Steers

By Pete Herndon
MRT Correspondent

BIG SPRING — Big Spring coach Dwight Butler found out Friday night it is possible to have the ball on the 20-yard line and need to go to the 20-yard line to make a first down. He also found out he had no miracle play to call on second down and 60.

"I called a trap. I didn't know what else to call," Butler said of the play that was indicative of his error-prone Steers' 14-7 loss to Lubbock Estacado.

Big Spring falls to 1-1 going into next Saturday's game against Lubbock High. Estacado is also 1-1.

The Steers opened the game with an 80-yard kickoff return by Dustin Waters, but turned the ball over on downs at the Estacado nine. Two plays later, Estacado running back Talion Scott ran 85 yards for a touchdown, setting the stage for a 236-yard performance.

Big Spring appeared ready to answer in the second quarter. Steers running back Lonnie Jackson ran 54 yards on an option pitch on second and 43. The run was called back for clipping. The ball was placed on the wrong yard line, setting up Butler's trap call.

"That's what makes it more heartbreaking," Butler said. "We had chances to win. (Estacado coach Louis) Kelly honestly thinks his team should have blown us out. It depends on who you talk to, but we had our chances.

"There are a lot of teams that would like to play Estacado to 14-7 and can't do it," Butler said, referring to the Matadors making the Class 4A state playoff semifinals last season.

Big Spring tied the game in the third quarter on a 25-yard touchdown pass from Wes Hughes to Todd Parrish and an extra point by Drexell Owusu. The Steers defense held on Estacado's following possession, but a controversial roughing the punter call allowed the Matadors to keep the ball.

Hill, four others suspended

COLLEGE STATION — The NCAA notified Texas A&M on Friday that running back Greg Hill was suspended for five games and four other players received bans from two games to a year for accepting money for summer work they didn't perform.

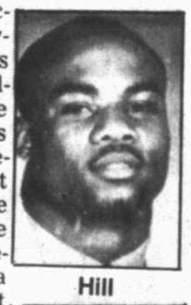

The school and head coach R.C. Slocum were spared any punishment.

■ SWC Roundup/8B

The NCAA said in a statement that linebacker Jessie Cox is suspended for the season, with suspensions of four games for wide receiver Brian Mitchell, three games for cornerback William Mitchell and two games for offensive lineman James Brooks.

The suspensions are retroactive to Texas A&M's 24-0 victory over Louisiana State in its season opener last Saturday.

A Texas A&M spokesman said Friday the school had just been told of the sanctions and had no immediate comment.

Hill

Cox

The athletes were accused of accepting payments from Dallas booster Warren Gilbert, a former Aggie letterman. The Dallas Morning News revealed in stories last December that the players were on the payrolls as maintenance workers at a subsidized apartment complex owned by Gilbert.

After an investigation into the reports, Slocum suspended Hill and three others for the Cotton Bowl against Notre Dame on New Year's Day.

Texas A&M subsequently dropped two players from scholarship and said the five others accused of getting illegal payments would be suspended for two games, pending notification from the NCAA of its action.

The school's original Jan. 22 report identified Hill, Cox, Brooks and Brian Mitchell. An additional report in March identified William Mitchell as being involved in the scheme.

Janet Justus, the NCAA's Director of Eligibility, called the violations "serious" and said the players should have known better.

"If they didn't know, they should have known that this was improper," Ms. Justus said. "If you're receiving money for work you're not doing, a red light should go on."

Ms. Justus, whose job is to look solely at infractions by individual players, added that Slocum and school administrators have not yet been cleared from wrongdoing.

Steffi Graf returns a shot in her victory against Manuela Maleeva-Fragniere, who won the first game of the match.

Sukova, Graf win

■ U.S. Open

NEW YORK (AP) — A third straight Grand Slam title is in Steffi Graf's grasp, all hers for the taking today against the lowest seeded women's finalist in the U.S. Open in 15 years.

Graf overcame one fidgety set Friday night to beat Manuela Maleeva-Fragniere 4-6, 6-1, 6-0 after No. 12 Helena Sukova scored her second stunning upset, beating No. 2 Arantxa Sanchez Vicario, to reach the final.

The top-ranked Graf, who won the French Open and Wimbledon, encountered little difficulty in the absence of Monica Seles until she dropped one set in the quarterfinals against Gabriela Sabatini and another in the semis.

Maleeva-Fragniere, who has been playing with a broken left pinky, broke Graf twice to start th match and survived an inc.edibly long, intense 28-point game to hold to 5-3.

Serving at 40-love for the first set, Maleeva-Fragniere put it away with a wicked backhand slice crosscourt that Graf just stared at while going the other way.

"I just couldn't get going," Graf said. "I made a lot of easy mistakes. I wasn't very happy. I was surprised I was tight in the beginning, not ready for the match. Sometimes I have to remind myself of who I am and how I can play tennis."

Graf made 19 errors in that set, but started pounding balls into the corners in the second set while working on Maleeva-Fragniere's two-handed backhand — weakened and aching from last week's chipped bone in her finger.

"I felt pain on the backhand return," Maleeva-Fragniere said. "I was playing just to put the ball in somehow."

Once Graf took control at 3-0, she never let go.

The skinny, 6-foot-2 Sukova, eight inches taller than stocky Sanchez Vicario, loomed like a gangly giant at the net, awkward at first and then absolutely commanding as she won 6-7 (9-7), 7-5, 6-2.

Sukova, who knocked out No. 3 Martina Navratilova in the fourth round, reached her first Grand Slam singles final in four years and is the lowest seeded women's finalist at the U.S. Open since 16th-seeded Pam Shriver in 1978.

Blue Jays end losing streak

Associated Press

■ AL Roundup

TORONTO — The Toronto Blue Jays stopped their longest losing streak of the season at six games, and stayed in first place in the AL East by beating California 10-4 Friday night behind Todd Stottlemyre's pitching.

The Blue Jays, swept in a three-game series at California last week, began the day tied with New York for the division lead.

Joe Carter homered, doubled and drove in three runs. Ed Sprague also drove in three runs for Toronto. All 10 of the Blue Jays' runs scored on two-out hits.

Stottlemyre (9-10) gave up two runs on seven hits in eight innings. He struck out three and walked two. California scored twice in the ninth off Duane Ward.

The Blue Jays scored six times in the third inning against Phil Leftwich (2-5). Roberto Alomar singled home the first run and Carter followed with an RBI double.

Rangers 4, Twins 3
Rangers 3, Twins 2

ARLINGTON — Juan Gonzalez tied his team record with his 43rd home run and Texas beat Minnesota to complete a doubleheader sweep that rallied the Rangers closer in the AL West race.

Texas won its fifth in a row and moved within 3½ games of Chicago, which lost 4-0 to Detroit. That is the closest the Rangers ever have been to first place this late in a season.

Tom Henke, who set a career-high with his 35th save in a 4-3 victory in the opener, also got a save in the second game.

Dave Winfield went 0-for-4 in the first game, leaving him four hits shy of 3,000. He did not play in the second game for the Twins.

Gary Redus singled home the go-ahead run in the seventh inning of the second game. Dean Palmer singled off Larry Casian (5-2), Doug Strange sacrificed, Doug Dascenzo singled to short left field and Redus hit the first pitch from Brett Merriman into center field.

Indians 7, Red Sox 4
Red Sox 5, Indians 4

CLEVELAND — Mike Greenwell, who had homered in the opener, singled home the winning run in the 11th inning of the second game as Boston Red Sox beat Cleveland for a doubleheader split.

Cleveland won the first game 7-4 as Bob Ojeda outpitched the struggling Roger Clemens.

The win in the second game was Boston's third in the last 10 games, and it ended a string of seven consecutive losses to the Indians.

Cleveland reliever Bill Wertz (2-3) retired 15 of the first 16 batters he faced until the Red Sox won it on consecutive two-out singles by Billy Hatcher, Scott Fletcher and Greenwell.

Ken Ryan Jr. (5-2) was the winner with 1⅓ scoreless innings.

The Indians scored twice on Boston blunders in the first — once when center fielder Jeff McNeely threw the ball into the dugout on Carlos Baerga's single and again when right fielder Bob Zupcic dropped Albert Belle's fly ball. Belle added a sacrifice fly in the third, and Baerga hit a sacrifice fly in the fifth.

Royals 6, Yankees 5

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Mike Macfarlane homered and Chico Lind hit a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning as Kansas City defeated New York, dropping the Yankees out of a share of first place in the AL East.

The Yankees wasted a four-run rally in the top of the eighth and lost their fourth straight game, their longest skid of the season. New York fell one game behind Toronto, which beat California 10-4.

Jim Abbott, making his first start since pitching a no-hitter against Cleveland, gave up a double to Greg Gagne leading off the Kansas City first. Steve Howe (3-5) relieved Abbott to start the eighth with a 5-4 lead and was the loser.

Winner Jeff Montgomery (4-5) relieved David Cone with two outs in the eighth. But instead of getting his league-leading 43rd save, he got his fifth blown save.

Tigers 4, White Sox 0

CHICAGO — Eric Davis homered twice, backing the two-hit pitching of Mike Moore and leading Detroit over Chicago.

The AL West-leading White Sox lost for the third time in four games. Their lead was cut to four games over Texas, which beat Minnesota in the first game of a doubleheader.

Detroit won for the third time in four games. The Tigers trail Toronto by five games in the AL East.

Moore (12-8) struck out six and walked three, two of them intentionally, in his third shutout of the season. He did not allow a hit until Ron Karkovice singled with two outs in the fifth, and Lance Johnson had an infield single in the seventh for Chicago's other hit.

Alex Fernandez (17-7), who had won his last five decisions, gave up three runs and eight hits in eight innings. He struck out eight.

With one out in the fourth inning, Davis hit a 3-2 pitch into the bleachers in right-center field for his second homer since being traded from the Los Angeles Dodgers on Aug. 31.

Athletics 12, Orioles 9

BALTIMORE — The last-place Oakland Athletics again played the spoiler's role, scoring seven runs in the eighth inning for a victory over Baltimore.

Oakland, coming off a three-game sweep of AL East-leading Toronto, won its season-best fourth straight on the road. The A's, whose 56-83 record is the worst in the league, got two-run singles from Brent Gates and Jerry Browne during their late rally.

David Segui had four RBIs and scored twice for the Orioles. But Baltimore committed four errors in losing for only the second time in 11 games, and dropped 1½ games behind Toronto.

The Orioles gave up as many runs Friday as they did in their previous five games combined (12). Mike Mussina fell behind 4-0 early, and after Baltimore bounced back for a 6-4 lead, the bullpen blew it.

Mariners 10, Brewers 3

MILWAUKEE — Mike Blowers and Bret Boone each hit two-run homers and Dave Valle drove in three runs, sending Seattle past Milwaukee.

Teddy Higuera (0-3) failed in his fifth attempt to win his first game since beating the Mariners on June 23, 1991. Higuera, trying to come back from rotator cuff surgery, gave up four runs on seven hits in five innings.

Tim Leary (10-7) allowed three runs on eight hits in seven innings. His victory total is his highest since he went a career-best 17-11 in 1988 for Los Angeles.

Blowers hit his 14th home run and Marc Newfield hit an RBI double in the fourth that put Seattle ahead 3-1. Ken Griffey Jr. had a sacrifice fly in the fifth for his 98th RBI.

Blowers started a six-run sixth with a single off Doug Henry. Greg Litton singled and pinch-hitter Rich Amaral reached on catcher Dave Nilsson's error, loading the bases.

Schilling pitches Phillies over Astros

Associated Press

■ NL Roundup

PHILADELPHIA — Curt Schilling scattered nine hits in 8⅓ innings before leaving when he was struck by a line drive, and the Philadelphia Phillies beat Houston 6-2 Friday night to snap the Astros' four-game winning streak.

Schilling (13-6), who has averaged seven innings per start this season, allowed two runs, striking out four. He was hit on the lower right leg by Ed Taubensee's liner and suffered a bruise. Mitch Williams got the last two outs.

It was the second straight win for the Phillies after a three-game losing streak.

Pete Incaviglia, who rested Thursday with a strained knee, returned to drive in three runs with a triple, single and sacrifice fly.

Greg Swindell (10-12) pitched six innings, allowing nine hits and four runs as he lost his third straight decision.

NL East-leading Philadelphia took a 3-1 lead in the second inning on a run-scoring triple by Pete Incaviglia and Kevin Stocker's RBI single. The Phillies made it 4-1 in the sixth on Darren Daulton's double and Incaviglia's RBI single.

Expos 4, Reds 3, 10 innings

MONTREAL — Marquis Grissom's run-scoring single over a drawn-in infield with one out in the 10th inning off Rob Dibble gave Montreal a victory against Cincinnati.

It was Montreal's fourth consecutive victory, and 16th in their last 18 games. But the Expos remained seven games in back of Philadelphia in the NL East.

Lou Frazier drew a leadoff walk from Dibble (1-3), stole second and moved to third on Oreste Marrero's fly ball. Grissom followed with an opposite-field single.

Rockies 9, Pirates 8, 11 innings

PITTSBURGH — Eric Young's run-scoring double in the 11th inning broke a tie, and Colorado went on to beat Pittsburgh.

The three-time defending NL East champion Pirates had already been mathematically eliminated earlier in the night when first-place Philadelphia beat Chicago. The Pirates are a season-low 13 games under .500 at 64-77.

The Rockies have won five straight from the Pirates, and stand 7-3 for the season.

Alex Cole led off the 11th with a pinch-hit single against Blas Minor (7-6) and after a bunt and stolen base, Joe Girardi walked. Young hit a double down the right-field line to score Cole. Dante Bichette singled in two more runs with two outs, his third hit of the game.

Cardinals 6, Giants 2

SAN FRANCISCO — The Giants' once big lead in the NL West was reduced to two percentage points as St. Louis beat San Francisco.

The loss extended the Giants' losing streak to three games as San Francisco dropped to 89-51 while Atlanta improved to 90-52 with a victory at San Diego.

Tom Pagnozzi's two-run double in the seventh inning off rookie starter Salomon Torres (2-1) scored Bernard Gilkey and Erik Pappas, who both singled with two outs, to give the Cardinals a 3-2 lead.

Braves 3, Padres 2

SAN DIEGO — Right-hander Greg Maddux tied for the NL lead with his 18th victory, but his start was cut short when he was hit by a line drive off his pitching elbow in the sixth inning of Atlanta's victory over San Diego.

The Braves won for the 25th time in 30 games to keep the pressure on the slumping first-place San Francisco Giants.

Cubs 12, Mets 10

NEW YORK — Jose Vizcaino and Ryne Sandberg each hit run-scoring singles in a two-run ninth inning as Chicago outlasted New York to send the Mets to their seventh straight loss.

Bob Scanlan (4-5) who allowed one run on two hits in one inning was the winner. Randy Myers pitched the ninth for his 43rd save.

Loser Mike Maddux (3-7) allowed four runs and six hits in 1⅓ innings.

There were 30 hits in the game, 16 by the Cubs.

Kevin Roberson had a one-out double in the ninth inning, and then Dwight Smith was walked intentionally with two outs before Vizcaino singled off first baseman Eddie Murray's glove to put the Cubs ahead 11-10. Sandberg followed with his single.

Jeff Kent's RBI single with two outs in the bottom the eighth scored Dave Gallagher, who had doubled, to tie the score 10-all. It was Kent's fourth RBI.

A&M: Still not cleared

and Texas A&M continues and will be heard by the NCAA Committee on Infractions, she said.

In her statement, Ms. Justus said Cox began employment with Gilbert during summer of 1990 and received at least $3,000 while working during most vacation periods through summer 1992.

Cox has since repaid $2,580 of the money, the statement said.

Cox helped several other players complete tax forms, picked up paychecks for himself and others and helped inform Gilbert about the players' vacation schedules, the NCAA said.

"It appears that Cox had the most knowledge of the fraudulent work scheme," Ms. Justus said. "Cox gained the greatest financial benefit, and was involved for the longest period of tie. Thus, we believe the imposition of a loss of a season of competition is warranted."

Ms. Justus said Hill was found to have received four checks totaling $1,400, none of which he earned.

Buff tailback Ricky Lucas had one touchdown and 137 yards on the ground as Stanton racked up 474 rushing yards. Brad Barnhill chipped in six runs for 114 yards, and Ortiz picked up 44 yards on seven carries.

Turnovers lead Tors' loss to Chiefs, 28-20

By Tom Ruiz
MRT Correspondent

LAMESA — The Lamesa Tornadoes were their own worst disaster as they dropped five fumbles and a 28-20 loss to the San Angelo Lakeview Chiefs here Friday night.

Lamesa committed three turnovers in the third quarter during time-consuming drives that moved them inside the Lakeview 20 two times. "Boom, boom and we're down 14 points instantly after we fumbled the ball," said Lamesa coach Gary Yoder who was referring to the lightning quick scores that Lakeview converted after the Lamesa miscues.

Chiefs quarterback Jamie Cauley flung two touchdown passes like precison-like arrows to give 1-1, Lakeview a 28-7 third quarter lead.

"A couple of their scores were gimmes. Our guys got turned around and didn't come up with the plays," Yoder added.

Had the Tors hung on to the ball in the third quarter, they could've easily forced Lakeview to play a catch-up game, instead they were forced to dig out of a hole in the fourth quarter.

"Our kids are not quitters," Yoders empahsized, and his troops proved him right.

Down by 21 points with less than four minutes remaining, the Tors used a blocked punt which set up their second TD of the night when Carl Jackson went over from three yards out to cut the deficit to 28-14.

"Our kids were really pumped up at this point," Yoder said.

Sixty-three seconds later, Cole Adams picked off a Cauley pass and returned it to the Lakeview 28.

From there the Tors used four plays, culiminating with a four-yard juant from Jackson. Unfortunately, they missed the point-after. But fate smiled on Lamesa again when Lakeview fumbled and the Tors recovered with 1:36 to play.

However, Lamesa ran out of time and chances as they dropped to 0-2 on the year.

"We gave it a great effort tonight, we moved the ball and ate up the clock but we're going to have to stop putting the ball on the ground," Yoder said.

Lamesa goes for its first win next Friday when it hosts Reagan County in the Tors Homecoming.

STEERS: Estacado overcomes Big Spring

(From 1B)

The snap appeared to sail over punter-quarterback Michael Johnson's head into the end zone. Johnson retrieved the ball, and as he punted it out, was hit by a Big Spring player.

Before Estacado ran its next play, Butler called timeout, went onto the field, and argued with the referee.

"He told me it didn't go over his head," Butler said. "My argument was that the punter was their quarterback. With the ball bouncing around in the end zone, we couldn't just sit back and wait to see if he was going to run it out.

"If the punter is a quarterback or running back and there's a bad snap like that, all bets are off as far as I'm concerned. I need to look at the rules and see if I'm confused on that rule.

"But that one play didn't do it."

When Estacado was forced to punt three plays later, Big Spring's Timmy Banks ran it back 42 yards to the Matadors 15-yard line. Three plays later, however, Owusu's 25-yard field goal attempt was wide left.

Scott answered with a 69-yard run for the game-winner.

"One of the things our guys know is that when you get inside the 10-yard line you have to score," Butler said. "We had our chances and didn't do it. Maybe if you know you are going to miss a field goal, you go for it on fourth down. This game is easy to coach after it's over."

Butler was quick to point out that one disappointing loss, especially in non-district play, will not ruin the Steers' season.

"A lot of the mistakes we made were in mechanics," he said. "We had some poor tackling and made some mistakes up front offensively. But it's not anything physical.

"Physically, our effort is good."

Bubka wins GP vault

LONDON (AP) — Pole vaulter Sergei Bubka and hurdler Sandra Farmer-Patrick captured IAAF Grand Prix overall titles Friday night, each winning a record $130,000 in prize money.

On a damp, chilly night at Crystal Palace, Bubka and Farmer-Patrick won their individual events with performances good enough to beat out several other contenders for the overall titles.

Bubka, the world champion and world record-holder from Ukraine, cleared 19 feet, 10¼ inches to win the pole vault and edge javelin thrower Jan Zelezny for the men's top prize in Grand Prix final.

Farmer-Patrick, meanwhile, beat world champion Sally Gunnell in the 400-meter hurdles in the last race of the night to overtake 1,500-meter runner Sonia O'Sullivan for the women's title.

"It hasn't sunk in what I have won," Farmer-Patrick said. "I went out to compete and see what happened. I was hoping I could place overall but didn't think I could win it."

It was the richest meet in track history, with $2.3 million in prize money. Each individual winner received $30,000, with an additional $100,000 for the overall champions.

Six men and six women were tied with 45 points going into the final event of the 16-meet series.

Except for Gunnell and Jamaican sprinter Merlene Ottey, who pulled out at the last minute, all the contenders won their events Friday night. That meant the titles were decided by a complex scoring system based on performance.

Bubka's vault, his best of the season, was scored the superior performance of the night among the men. He finished just ahead of Zelezny of the Czech Republic, who threw the javelin 289-7.

"I didn't know how many points I had or how many points I needed," said Bubka, who won the overall title in 1991. "For me, all this (tiebreaking system) was something new."

Bubka failed at three attempts to raise his world record from 20-1½ by one-quarter of an inch. For a moment, he appeared to clear the bar safely on his third try but it fell after Bubka had landed.

Whitaker, Chavez battle to draw

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Julio Cesar Chavez escaped the first defeat of his 88-bout career and Pernell Whitaker retained the WBC welterweight title Friday night when they battled to a 12-round draw at the Alamodome.

Whitaker gave a masterful boxing exhibition, spearing Chavez with right jabs, left leads, counter punches and combinations while keeping the Mexican off balance for much of the fight.

But two of the judges, Mickey Vann of England and Franz Marti of Switzerland, each scored it 115-115.

Judge Jack Woodruff of Dallas favored Whitaker 115-113.

Since two judges called it even, the fight was called a draw.

The AP scored it 116-112 for Whitaker.

The decision was greeted with a smattering of boos from the pro-Mexican crowd of more than 60,000 and it left no one satisfied. But it probably did set up a rematch.

Chavez, who was a slight favorite, kept moving forward much of the fight, but on this occasion he also got backed up several times by the clever Whitaker.

"This fight is for the best pound-for-pound fighter in the world," Whitaker said before the fight. But the decision settled nothing.

"You can be 2,000-0 and have a bad night," Whitaker said.

Chavez certainly didn't have a typical Chavez night, but his right-hand punching and his aggressiveness obivously kept him from absorbing his first defeat.

The 31-year-old Chavez also left the ring a champion, since his WBC super lightweight title wasn't at stake.

"You've got a lot of courage," Chavez told Whitaker immediately after the fight. "We'll make mucho dinero in the rematch."

Whitaker made at least $3 million and Chavez between $3.5 million and $5 million Friday night.

"I felt I won the fight," Chavez said. "I'm not happy with the referee."

Chavez was unhappy over referee Joe Cortez allowing Whitaker to clutch and grab.

Many ringsiders, however, felt that Whitaker deserved the decision.

The 29-year-old champion from Virginia Beach, Va., boxed masterfully, keeping Chavez off balance much of the fight. He even shook the Mexican on a couple of occasions.

Although frustrated on occasion, Chavez never got discouraged and kept winging right hands and body punches at Whitaker.

Both fighters used roughhouse tactics in clinches and breaks and both hit low several times. In the fifth round, Chavez was given about 30 seconds after being hit low by a left hand, but Cortez didn't penalize Whitaker.

In the fourth round, Cortez shoved Whitaker when he was breaking the fighters and Whitaker took a half-hearted swing at the referee, then quickly hugged Cortez.

Chavez weighed 142, five under the welterweight limit, three under the contract limit for this fight and two over the super lightweight limit. He had an edge in the first round, but his best rounds were probably the fifth and ninth, when he was able to land several good body punches and connect solidly to the head.

Whitaker, who weighed 145, had real big rounds in the sixth and seventh, when he shook Chavez and had him holding on with jabs, hard 1-2s and body punches.

Whitaker, a former lightweight and super lightweight champion, is 32-1-1 with 15 knockouts. Chavez, a former featherweight and super featherwight champion, is 87-0-1 with 75 knockouts.

The draw was the second of the night on the championship triple-header before a crowd that was announced as a record paid attendance for an indoor title fight, but an exact figure wasn't immediately available. That means it topped the 63,350 who saw Muhammad Ali become heavyweight champion a third time when he outpointed Leon Spinks in 1978 in the Superdome at New Orleans.

In the first fight on the card, Azumah Nelson, 128½, of Ghana, retained the WBC featherweight title when he fought a draw with hometown hero Jesse James Leija, 129. It was originally announced as a split decision for Nelson, but it was discovered that the card of Belgian judge Daniel Van Del Wiele had been added incorrectly. Instead of favoring Nelson 116-115, he had it 115-115.

Terry Norris, 153½, of Campo, Calif., knocked down Joe Gatti twice in the first round and stopped him at 1:28 to retain the WBC super welterweight title. Norris' 10th successful title defense boosted his record to 36-3 with 22 knockouts. Gatti, 154, had a 12-fight winning streak halted as he fell to 20-3 with 15 knockouts.

Rookie Labonte wins Miller 400 pole

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Bobby Labonte, continuing to show improvement in his rookie year on the Winston Cup circuit, stole some of Mark Martin's thunder Friday by winning the pole for the Miller Genuine Draft 400.

Labonte's fast lap of 122.006 mph at Richmond International Raceway meams Saturday night's race will be the third straight in which he will start fourth or better.

It was the first pole on stock car racing's top series for the 29-year-old Labonte, the 1991 Grand National champion and the younger brother of former Winston Cup champion Terry Labonte.

"We knew we'd be pretty good, but we didn't realize we'd be on the pole," said Labonte, who is 19th in the driver standings and had his best finish, a seventh at Watkins Glen, N.Y., last month.

Ernie Irvan, in just his second race since joining the team of the late Davey Allison, will start on the outside of the front row, also in a Ford Thunderbird. Irvan's best lap on Richmond's .75-mile, D-shaped layout was 121.770.

Rusty Wallace, Darrell Waltrip and Harry Gant rounded out the top five qualifiers.

Martin, the focus of much of the attention at Richmond as he seeks a modern-era, Winston Cup-record fifth consecutive victory, will start 10th after a lap of 120.805 mph.

"That was all I could get out of it," he said. "And I'm sure it will pick up a lot later when we get in the race. Maybe we should have scuffed in the tires, but we didn't. That's a good run, though."

Martin is one of six drivers to win four in a row since 1972, when NASCAR reduced the series to no more than 31 races from a schedule of as many as 64.

Richard Petty set the record for consecutive victories with 10 in the 48-race 1967 season.

Martin's qualifying run certainly doesn't rule out the possibility of winning Saturday night. He started from the pole at Watkins Glen and Bristol, Tenn., but was only 12th at Michigan last month and fourth last week at Darlington, S.C.

Labonte got off to a slow start this season, finishing no better than 12th in his first 10 races, a stretch that left him 28th in the points standings. Since then, he has been on a steady climb, with two of his three top-10 finishes coming in the last four events.

"We're just learning week in and week out, and that's all there is to it," he said. "Everybody on this team is just trying to get better as we go along."

Labonte saw confirmation of that improvement when he drove back into Richmond's garage area after his qualifying run and saw the face of Tim Brewer, his crew chief.

"It looked like he had just won a lot of money on a gambling bet," Labonte said.

The pole gave Labonte a boost in his bid to catch Jeff Gordon, the leader in the rookie standings, and guaranteed Labonte a spot in next year's Busch Clash race for 1993 pole winners.

"I don't think it's hit me yet," he said.

Winston Cup points leader Dale Earnhardt, who is 304 points ahead of Wallace with eight races remaining, will start eighth.

Gordon and Bill Elliott were among the notables who didn't make the top 20 on Friday. They had the option of standing on their qualifying speeds or trying again in a second round of time trials Saturday afternoon, when the remainder of the 34-car starting field was to be set.

USC women's cage coach denied appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Supreme Court justice refused today to order Southern Cal to reinstate its former women's basketball coach while she pursues a sex-bias lawsuit over being paid less than the men's coach.

Justice Sandra Day O'Connor turned down an emergency request by Marianne Stanley, who did not renew her $96,000-a-year contract after four years with the Trojans.

Stanley sued the University of Southern California and athletic director Mike Garrett for $8 million, alleging discrimination and retaliation in contract negotiations.

As part of her suit, Stanley demanded equal pay with George Raveling.

REBELS: Warren runs for 100 yards

(From 1B)

"They're a lot better than they were last year," he said. "They were just too much for us. When a team has talented people like they had, everything you do to try and stop them is unsound.

"I felt like Coach Miller outcoached us tonight and I apologized to the kids after the game."

Both teams turned the ball over on their opening possessions before Lee began to flex its defensive muscle. Adams intercepted a Johnny Dominbguez pass with 10:02 to play in the first quarter to set Lee up at the Socorro 42. From there, the route was on. Lee scored on drives of 42, 48, 28, 49 and 32 yards in a 15-minutes span to put the game away.

Jeremy Warren, who rushed for just 11 yards in last week's win over El Paso Andress, bulled his way for 100 yards on 11 carries. Melvin Dunson came on in a backup role and romped for 116 yards on just six carries, including a 70-yard run for a touchdown in the second half.

Lee's defense played a bend-but-don't-break style of ball, allowing 15 first downs and 215 yards total offense, but permitted Socorro to cross the goal line just once, a one-yard plunge by Mario Jiminez, following a 50-yard kickoff return by Jiminez that set up the Bulldogs at the Lee 49.

Midland Lee faces Amarillo Palo Duro next week.

Stricker leads rain-delayed Canadian

Associated Press

OAKVILLE, Ontario — Longshot Steve Stricker, the surprise first-round leader in the Canadian Open, was clinging to a two-shot lead when darkness halted second-round play Friday night.

Stricker, whose starting time was backed up by two rain delays totalling one hour, 41 minutes, had two holes to go when play was suspended at 7:45 p.m. EDT.

The 26-year-old Stricker, a native of Edgerton, Wis. who plays most of his golf on the Canadian tour, was eight under for the tournament when play was stopped.

Brad Bryant, not yet a winner in a 16-year PGA Tour career, held the clubhouse lead at 6-under 138 after a hard-fought 70 in a cold rain.

Brandel Chamblee, Dudley Hart and Phil Blackmar were at 140. Chamblee had a 70, while Hart and Blackmar had 1-under 71s in the difficult conditions.

Fred Couples, D.A. Weibring and Ed Dougherty were next at 141. Dougherty shot 70 and Weibring 71.

Couples, with a 71, easily led the eight members of the American Ryder Cup team who are competing in this national championship.

Their overall performance was far from encouranging for captain Tom Watson who will lead a 12-man team against the best from Europe in England later this month.

John Cook, after an opening 82, withdrew during Friday's first rain delay.

Corey Pavin and Jim Gallagher were at 147 after 36 holes and U.S. Open champion Lee Janzen was another stroke back.

LPGA Ping

PORTLAND, Ore. — Despite bogeys on three of her last five holes, Tina Barrett shared the lead with Michelle Mackall and Brandie Burton at 6-under-par 66 Friday after the first round of the Ping-Cellular One Golf Championship.

Barrett had nine birdies in her round and was 8-under through 13 holes in the $450,000 event.

Trouble came, though, on 14 and 16. She failed to make a 2-foot putt for par on 14 and a 4-footer for par after missing the green on the par-3 16th.

That dropped her into a tie with Mackall and Burton, who had finished their rounds early in the day. But Barrett briefly regained sole possession of the lead by making a 15-foot birdie putt on 17.

But her erratic performance ended sourly on her old nemesis, the 18th, where she got in trouble early and missed a 20-foot par putt.

A year ago, she missed an 8-foot par putt on the final hole and failed to join Nancy Lopez and Jane Crafter in a playoff. Lopez eventually won the tournament.

Mackall, 33, had her best round in what has been a miserable year.

■ Golf Roundup

And, in what cannot be good news for this tournament's sponsor, she credited a switch from a Ping to a Zebra putter for making the difference.

GTE North Seniors Classic

INDIANAPOLIS — Dave Stockton eagled the par-5 ninth and birdied the par-4 10th Friday in a 6-under-par 66 that gave him a one-stroke lead after the first round of the GTE North Seniors Classic.

Stockton has won four tournaments this year and is the tour's second-leading money-winner with $825,399.

Rocky Thompson, who also eagled 9, made a 20-foot birdie putt on 18 and Bob Betley birdied the last two holes to tie for second at 67.

Stockton's eagle 3 gave him a 5-under 30 on the front side of the 6,670-yard Broadmoor Country Club course. Thompson needed the eagle to make the turn at par before completing a round that included the eagle and six birdies.

Bob Murphy and 62-year-old Jim Ferree, the leader of the Vantage Classics competition for participants over 60, were tied at 68.

Mike Hill, who finished second to defending champion Raymond Floyd last year, was one of six players at 69. He was tied with Bruce Lehnhard, DeWitt Weaver, Gibby Gilbert, Dave Hill and Rives McBee.

Stockton started his round with two pars and posted his first birdie on the 383-yard No. 3 when he made a 7-footer from above the hole.

Martin wins Autolite

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Mark Martin tightened his already formidable stranglehold on his NASCAR competitors Friday night by cruising to victory in the Autolite Platinum 250 Busch Grand National race.

Martin finished 2.72 seconds ahead of Tracy Leslie for his third consecutive victory on the circuit.

It came one night before Martin was scheduled to try for a record fifth straight Winston Cup victory.

"I can't believe it. I'll tell you, it's like a dream come true," said Martin, who won $25,135. "Golly, we just can't do anything wrong."

Martin led six times for 185 of the 250 laps of Richmond International Raceway's .75-mile, D-shaped layout. He kept his Ford Thunderbird up front for the last 88 laps.

Hermie Sadler was third. Tommy Houston, driving a car borrowed from Rick Mast, was fourth.

MOJO: Williams wild

(From 1B)

Williams took a pitch from quarterback Nick Keeton and rambled 66 yards down the left sideline to give Permian a quick 7-0 lead just two minutes into the game. His 4-yard score the second half gave the Panthers a 14-0 halftime lead.

And as the Panther offense looked impressive during the first half, the defense was equal to the task.

Temple's running back tandem of Delarrius Wilson and Gerald Watson combined for 106 yards, 34 of that coming the first half.

"I thought we played well defensively," Permian coach Tam Hollingshead said. "But we have to be consistant. We can't let this be a flash in the pan type game.

"We didn't talk about (last year's game) at all. We just wanted to improve and play well."

The Panthers dominated the whole game with the exception of Temple's first two drives of the second half.

Down 14-0, the Wildcats took the second-half kick 77 yards in seven plays to cut the lead in half when Watson scored from five yards out.

After forcing the Panthers to punt, Temple again began to drive but a fumble by quarterback Justin Lee, which he recovered for a loss, stalled the drive. Facing fourth and three from the Permian 32, Lee tried an option pitch that hit nothing but the turf.

Bass jumped on the ball and that all but sealed the win.

The Panthers scored three times in the fourth quarter to put the game away.

While Williams dominated the Wildcats on the ground, Keeton quitely put up some big numbers through the air.

The senior QB completed 13-of-14 passes for 153 yards and a touchdown. Bass and wingback Keltron Montgomery hauled in six passes each. Montgomery's catches went for 62 yards.

"Nick, Sheldon and Keltron did a great job of hooking up tonight," Williams said. "When we do that, it takes the pressure off of me most defenitely."

With the win, Permian improved to 2-0 on the season while the Wildcats dropped to 1-1.

The Panthers get a shot at Amarillo next week. The Sandies knocked the Panthers out of the playoffs last year with a 10-7 win the quarterfinal round.

Jackson downs El Paso

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mike Groppuso had three hits and drove in three runs, including a two-run homer, as the Jackson Generals beat El Paso 8-1 to win the Texas League championship Friday night.

Groppuso, 1 for 6 in the previous six playoff games, had an RBI single in the second inning. In the seventh inning, he crushed the home run, his second of the playoffs, to straightaway centerfield.

Jackson was 3-7 against El Paso during the regular season, but swept the best-of-five championship series. The Generals won both games at El Paso before the series switched to Smith-Wills Stadium.

Chris Hatcher had a solo home run in the second inning to give Jackson a 1-0 lead. The Generals never trailed in the title game.

Hatcher drove in at least one run in each of the last six playoff games. Hatcher drove in nine during the postseason and hit two home runs.

It was the first Texas League championship for the Generals, but the fourth for the Jackson franchise.

Bears brace for Colorado, Tech gets rugged

Associated Press

There is plenty to celebrate for the Baylor Bears this week but rookie head coach Chuck Reedy will have none of it.

The Bears made a thrilling comeback to beat Fresno State last week and earned a No. 24 ranking in The Associated Press college football poll but Reedy and the Bears got right back to business.

The approaching visit by No. 10 ranked Colorado has something to do with Reedy's serious mood.

"We didn't have long to celebrate the win over Fresno State," Reedy said. "We were already worried Sunday night after looking at Colorado game tapes."

No. 5 Texas A&M will visit No. 17 Oklahoma without five players, including running back Greg Hill, suspended by the NCAA for accepting pay for summer jobs they did not perform. They were already out, pending NCAA notification, but the ruling body made it official on Friday.

In other games, Texas Tech plays at No. 9 Nebraska, Rice hosts Tulane, Houston hosts Tulsa, Wisconsin is at Southern Methodist, and Texas Christian hosts New Mexico. Texas has an open date.

Colorado will try to add its second SWC victim in as many weeks after beating the Texas Longhorns last week.

■ SWC Roundup

Reedy, offensive coordinator under former coach Grant Teaff, turned the job over to Jack Crowe, former Arkansas head coach, and he likes the way quarterback J.J. Joe and Crowe have worked together.

"I had a chance to work with J.J. at quarterback but Jack Crowe has done a fabulous job in getting him ready to play this season," Reedy said. "Jack has J.J. getting into the deeper mental aspects of the game. Jack is really a great football mind."

Houston initiated Kim Helton's head coaching career with a 49-7 loss to Southern California a week ago, leaving Helton desperate to avoid an 0-2 start.

"I'm not sure how much I make a month but I'd give a month's salary away if we win," Helton said.

Helton expects the Hurricane to come out throwing in Saturday's noon kickoff. USC passed for 292 yards against Houston's defense.

"If I watched a team and they can't rush the passer and can't cover the curl, I know I would throw," Helton said.

The Red Raiders are beginning the rugged part of their schedule, beginning Saturday at Nebraska and followed by games against Georgia, Baylor, Texas A&M and North Carolina State.

"This is a real opportunity for us," Tech coach Spike Dykes said. "We have the utmost respect for Nebraska because of the kind of quality teams Tom Osborne has been putting on the field for so many years.

"The scary thing is, Nebraska has 182 people on the team, and 119 played against North Texas (last week)."

SMU couldn't overcome its own mistakes in last week's 10-6 loss to Arkansas and Coach Tom Rossley has made reducing miscues a project.

"If we reduce our penalties in the second half, and hold back the busted assignments, in a young offense line, we have a chance to win," Rossley said.

TCU coach Pat Sullivan also is concerned with turnovers.

"We completed 22 of 38 passes but three of them were to the wrong team," Sullivan said. "You have those mistakes when you have a young quarterback."

Rice is looking for its first victory after losing to Ohio State a week ago and running back Yoncy Edmonds is looking for improvement as the replacement for departed Trevor Cobb.

"I'm going to ask to carry 20 times this week," Edmonds said.

"If I would have gotten to carry more, I felt I could have gotten into a grove."

Vandy tries break from tradition

Associated Press

Tradition's nice, but everybody needs a break. Vanderbilt's football players would like one when they entertain second-ranked Alabama today.

"If we beat Alabama, that would be something that hasn't been done around here for a long time," senior tailback Tony Jackson said.

"Just that game in itself would give us a lot of momentum."

■ College Roundup

Vanderbilt is coming off a 27-12 victory at Wake Forest, its first season-opening win on the road since 1982. Alabama, the defending national champion, beat Tulane 31-17 in its opener, extending its winning streak to 24 games, longest in the country.

Vandy hasn't beaten Alabama in the Southeastern Conference since 1984, when the Commodores won 30-21 at Tuscaloosa. This time, Vandy has Alabama at home, and the Tide's streak could end at any time, coach Gene Stallings said.

"It's a tough conference, and there's high expectations for every team in the league," Stallings said.

Vanderbilt runs an I-Bone rushing offense and gained 431 yards on the ground against Wake Forest, while throwing the ball only seven times for a total of 12 yards.

In Saturday's other games involving ranked teams, it's No. 21 Clemson (1-0) at No. 1 Florida State (2-0), No. 11 Notre Dame (1-0) at No. 3 Michigan (1-0), No. 5 Texas A&M (1-0) at No. 17 Oklahoma (1-0), No. 7 Florida (1-0) at Kentucky (1-0), No. 22 Georgia (0-1) at No. 8 Tennessee (1-0), Texas Tech (1-0) at No. 9 Nebraska (1-0), and No. 24 Baylor (1-0) at No. 10 Colorado (1-0).

Also, No. 12 Washington (1-0) at No. 16 Ohio State (1-0), Pacific U. (0-1) at No. 13 Arizona (1-0), Maryland (0-1) at No. 14 North Carolina (2-0), Southern California (1-1) at No. 15 Penn State (1-0), No. 18 North Carolina State (1-0) at Wake Forest (0-1), No. 19 South Carolina (1-0) at Arkansas (1-0), Hawaii (1-0) at No. 20 Brigham Young (1-0), and San Jose State (0-1) at No. 23 Stanford (0-1).

Clemson coach Ken Hatfield knows his work is cut out for him at Tallahassee, Fla., especially with Florida State sporting one of college football's best offensive players, QB Charlie Ward.

"One of the game plans against a great thrower is keep him on the bench," Hatfield said. "He's got to be the fastest quarterback they've ever had, and that's been a big plus."

The Seminoles won 24-20 at Clemson last year as Ward threw for a 9-yard touchdown to Kevin Knox with 2:08 to play.

After losing 23-21 to South Carolina and facing a tough Tennessee team, Georgia might already be in crunch time.

"A lot of folks are saying if we lose to Tennessee we're out of it," Bulldogs coach Ray Goff said about the Southeastern Conference race. "I don't think there's any doubt that if you lose two your backs are to the wall."

Tennessee opened with a 50-0 win over Louisiana Tech.

Last year, both teams were 6-2 in the SEC.

Kim Basinger, glamorous cat burglar

Kim Basinger, right, takes aim at co-star Val Kilmer in "Real McCoy."

'Real McCoy' — real dud

By Michael H. Price
N.Y. Times News Service

Australian director Russell Mulcahy has come a long way since making all those rock videos he delivered during 1978-83, but no amount of feature-film experience seems capable of steering him away from the superficial funk-and-flash style he perfected while capturing the three-minute musical exploits of Rod Stewart, Billy Joel and the Rolling Stones.

Mulcahy glamorizes Kim Basinger beyond any dramatic legitimacy in "The Real McCoy," a thriller/comedy that purports to offer the story of a struggling, strong-willed woman. It's really just a prolonged video, long on looks and short on story.

Real McCoy

Karen McCoy ..... KIM BASINGER
J.T. Barker ..... VAL KILMER
Jack Schmidt . TERRANCE STAMP
Directed by Russell Mulcahy; Produced by Martin Bregman, Willi Baer and Michael S. Bregman; Screenplay by William Davies and William Osborne.
Rated: PG-13 (mature situations, violence, language)
Running Time: 106 minutes
Venue: Midland Park Mall

Basinger plays ace cat burglar Karen McCoy, who intends to spend the rest of her life as a productive member of society. But an oily former associate, the suavely menacing Terence Stamp, uses a threat against her son (newcomer Zach English) to bring McCoy's skills back into play, pulling off a high-stakes bank job.

The predicament requires Basinger to play partners with Val Kilmer "The Doors," whose character is an inept thief who has attempted to model his career after McCoy's exploits. The actors work well together, and the film accomplishes a nice, if obvious, twist of making the lead good/bad character a woman and the sidekick a bungling man.

Terence Stamp has played this sort of role so often that little effort is evident on his part. He makes a convincing creep, all the same, and the film is more interesting, in its generic way, for his presence.

A high-speed love affair

Christian Slater, right, and Patricia Arquette in "True Romance."

By Bob Strauss
N.Y. Times News Service

LOS ANGELES — With its double-barreled wit and savvy satire, "True Romance" is every frame the movie "Last Action Hero" aspired to be.

It's a snide, nasty send up of boys' movie-fed fantasies that takes devilish glee in bringing its hero's pop dreams to life. This thing shoots from the hip backward, sideways and out at a hundred tangents — and, miraculously, rarely misses a target.

If there were any suspicion that Quentin Tarantino, the writer-director of last year's "Reservoir Dogs," was a one-movie wonder, this one buries it deep. "Romance" was Tarantino's first script, and though the film was directed by overamped slickster Tony Scott ("Top Gun," "Beverly Hills Cop II"), the writer's encyclopedic, affectionately mocking reservoir of tough-guy poses is even more pronounced here than in "Dogs."

The film also has a solid psychological core that keeps its self-consciously outlandish action tethered to a planet resembling ours — Tarantino, a onetime video store clerk, knows just how emotionally stunted young men who watch too many movies think the world ought to be.

Fall season brings less TV violence

By Joyce Millman
N.Y. Times News Service

SAN FRANCISCO — It's been over a month since Sen. Paul Simon gave the networks 60 days to clean up violent programming and promised that he'd be watching — presumably with a scorecard in hand.

Well, the senator's not going to see much rough stuff in the month ahead. The 38 new shows being rolled out by ABC, CBS, NBC and Fox this fall season are heavy on family comedy and light romance.

Of course, there's Steven Bochco's R-rated ABC drama "NYPD Blue," but if Simon looks away from the screen to fish a peanut from the bottom of his bowl of Chex party mix, he'll miss the premiere episode's much-hyped split-second flash of nudity.

Here's a look at how the networks' schedules stack up night-by-night.

Monday

There's only one new show Mondays this season, CBS's sitcom "Dave's World" (Sept. 20), and, no, it's not another Letterman show. This one stars Harry Anderson, and it's based on writer Dave Barry's humorous newspaper columns about life 'n stuff. "Dave's World" is slotted between "Evening Shade" and "Murphy Brown" in CBS's still popular but increasingly snoozy Monday lineup.

Don Rickles, left, and Richard Lewis star in Fox's "Daddy Dearest."

After its worst season, "Murphy Brown" is trying to get back on track by cutting down on scenes with baby Avery and bringing in "Quantum Leap" star Scott Bakula as a potential love interest. "Love & War" is also undergoing major changes, with Annie Potts ("Designing Women") replacing Susan Dey in the lead. Potts is guaranteed to be funnier than Dey, but then a potted plant could be funnier.

The big question about CBS's Monday lineup is whether Emmy-winning "Northern Exposure" can halt its descent into cloying New Age-y preciousness. A few less shows about death 'n stuff could help.

But, really, the night still belongs to ABC's "Monday Night Football."

Tuesday

Tuesday is shaping up as one of the most interesting ratings battles of the season as ABC, NBC and Fox do extensive rearranging of schedules.

NBC has trashed its lineup, except for "Dateline NBC," in an attempt to build a comedy block to challenge ABC's "Full House," "Roseanne" and "Coach." NBC starts the night with two kid comedies, "Saved By the Bell: The College Years" (Sept. 14) and the ABC castoff "Getting By," then gambles the new sitcom "The John Larroquette Show" (regular time slot, already debuted) — one of its best new shows — in the time slot opposite "Roseanne."

Jerry Seinfeld is back for another year on NBC's "Seinfeld."

Chase not ready for late night either

Had this been a situation comedy, or one of those shows where baby boomers get in touch with their feelings by sharing tender moments with someone from their past, it might've worked.

But when Goldie Hawn reached over and kissed Chevy Chase, then the two reminisced about their times on the movie set and finally got up and sing "Happy Birthday" to Hawn's son in the audience, it failed. And it failed badly.

Patterson

He's Chevy Chase ... and you're not. But believe me, you wouldn't want to be.

The premiere of "The Chevy Chase Show" proved one thing: the former Saturday Night Live comic actor, nervous though he was, is not a talk show host, nor is he a factor in the late night talk show wars.

Give him six months. Even Pat Sajak had a year — and his was a good show by comparison.

Chase's 15 minute exchange with Hawn, his co-star in his first movie, "Foul Play," was downright embarrassing.

A friend who watched commented that he kept switching away from the show, hoping to convince himself that what he was seeing on the show wasn't really happening.

Chase and Hawn conducted their own little party, and it felt as if, as a viewer, you were intruding. The two schmoozed and talked Hollywood worse than Merv Griffin and his Co-schmoozer of the Day way back in the '70s.

Goldie kissed Chevy, called him "sweet," looked at the audience and remarked that she hoped "everyone here realizes just how wonderful" this guy is."

But before the kiss and the words of adoration, Goldie actually bent over and sang a song to Chevy as the show's star looked on all googly-eyed. It did not bring to mind Bette Midler's touching "One More for the Road" tribute which she sang on Johnny Carson's final show.

Chevy tried his old news headlines format, but even that didn't work. When he referred to Reginald Denny, the truck driver beaten during the L.A. riots, as "pinata," Chevy was only offensive, and showed he has sunk to new depths when trying to wrack that tired old brain of his for a punchline.

Even his trademark slap-schtick failed miserably. Bits that had him falling into cement and dropping a birthday cake for Goldie's son could be seen coming a mile away during the set-up.

FALL: NBC tries to mend disastrous Friday

(From 1C)

If "Larroquette" had a stronger lead-in, maybe. But "Getting By" is no match for ABC's new sitcom "Phenom" (Sept. 14), starring Judith Light and William Devane as the mother and coach, respectively, of a young tennis pro played by Angela Goethals. With its strong women characters and mix of laughs and heart, "Phenom" is a perfect setup for "Roseanne."

NBC's other new sitcom, "The Second Half" (Sept. 7), about a divorced Chicago sportswriter with two daughters, is pretty weenie stuff up against "Coach."

Tuesday is also the night for ABC's long-awaited "NYPD Blue" (Sept. 21) in the 9 p.m. slot. The nudity's no big deal, the "raw" language even less so, but it's still the best cop show Steven Bochco has done since "Hill Street Blues."

Wednesday

Fox stands pat with the slumping "Beverly Hills, 90210" and the ascending "Melrose Place." NBC has already premiered its one new show, the Tom Brokaw-Katie Couric news magazine "Now."

ABC leaves only one show, the formidable "Home Improvement," in place from last season. Its new lineup consists of "Thea" (already premiered), a mediocre single-mom sitcom; "Joe's Life" (Sept. 22), a "Home Improvement"-type sitcom starring Peter Onorati ("Civil Wars"); comedienne Brett Butler as a single mom in the intelligent and charming sitcom "Grace Under Fire" (Sept. 22), which could be ABC's big new hit; and the 10 p.m. drama "Moon Over Miami" (Sept. 15), a "Moonlighting" ripoff with two charismatic stars, Bill Campbell and Ally Walker.

CBS has already premiered the stinker sitcom "The Trouble with Larry." Its other new sitcom, "The Nanny," starring Fran Drescher as a Jewish Mary Poppins, debuts in October after CBS finishes airing the World Series. The detective drama "South of Sunset," starring rocker Glenn Frey, also gets a post-Series debut.

Thursday

With "Cheers" out of the picture, anything can happen, but only on NBC, CBS or Fox — ABC is sitting this night out with a dog of a new drama, Daniel J. Travanti's "Missing Persons" (which already premiered), "Matlock" and "Primetime Live."

CBS's "Eye to Eye with Connie Chung" has been popular in the summer ratings; the jury's still out on the soap "Angel Falls," which premiered last month.

NBC hopes to keep its Thursday dynasty alive with the lineup of "Mad About You," "Wings," "Seinfeld" (in the old "Cheers" slot), the new "Cheers" spinoff "Frasier" (Sept. 16) and "L.A. Law." "Frasier," starring Kelsey Grammer, has a laugh-out-loud pilot episode; it looks like a hit. "L.A. Law" is promising many changes, including the addition of two characters from "Civil Wars" (lawyer Eli Levinson and secretary Denise Iannello), to try and win back frustrated viewers. Not a chance.

Except for "The Simpsons," which is five years old and fresher than ever, Fox aims pretty low with the new "Sinbad" (Sept. 16) and the returning "In Living Color" (are there any Wayanses left on this show?) and "Herman's Head." But then, Fox didn't get where it is by aiming high.

Friday

NBC tries again to mend its disastrous Friday schedule with two new dramas, "Against the Grain" (Sept. 30), about a small-town Texas high school football coach, and the two-hour "NBC Friday Night Mystery," which this season debuts alternating mysteries starring Larry Hagman and Kenny Rogers and a reunited "Hart to Hart."

Fox has two new hourlong series, "The Adventures of Brisco County, Jr.," which did well in its debut, and the intriguing "X-Files" (Sept. 10).

ABC and CBS battle it out for young viewers and their moms. ABC has the returning "Family Matters," the new sitcom "Boy Meets World" (Sept. 24), which is a sort of '90s "Leave it to Beaver" starring Ben Savage (younger brother of "Wonder Years'" Fred) and new time slots for "Step by Step" and "Hangin' with Mr. Cooper."

CBS leads the night with Faye Dunaway and Robert Urich in the romantic comedy "It Had to Be You" (Sept. 24), followed by the likeable new comedy "Family Album" (Sept. 24), starring Peter Scolari and Pamela Reed as a married couple coping with kids and aging parents. CBS gives "Bob" a second chance after a low-rated first season. Newhart's workplace has been changed from a comic book to a greeting-card company (his new boss will be played by Betty White).

CBS also gives Shelley Long's low-rated "Good Advice" and the Emmy-nominated drama "Picket Fences" new leases on life.

Saturday

Cowboys and comedies dominate the Saturday schedule. ABC has "George," a sitcom starring George Foreman as an overeating boxer, and "The Paula Poundstone Show," neither of which have been given premiere dates yet.

CBS goes all Western with "Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman," the new drama "Harts of the West" (Sept. 25) starring Beau and Lloyd Bridges, and Chuck Norris' "Walker, Texas Ranger."

NBC has a woman-oriented lineup beginning with the new sitcom "The Mommies" (Sept. 18), starring the Petaluma comedy duo of the same name, Valerie Bertinelli's wretched "Cafe Americain" (Sept. 18) and the untouchable trio of "Empty Nest," "Nurses" (with new cast member Loni Anderson) and "Sisters."

Fox counters with a manly double-dose of "Cops" and the news magazine "Front Page."

Sunday

Ho-hum, another ratings win for CBS's Sunday lineup. Neither ABC's new romantic drama "Lois & Clark: The New Adventures of Superman" (Sept. 12) nor NBC's Steven Spielberg-produced undersea action series "seaQuest (CQ) DSV" (Sept. 12) are likely to do much damage to "Murder, She Wrote."

Fox could make big ratings gains with its lowbrow, but undeniably strong, lineup of the new variety show "Townsend Television" (Sept. 12), starring Robert "Meteor Man" Townsend, "Martin," "Living Single" (which already premiered), the venerable "Married ... with Children" and the new Don Rickles-Richard Lewis sitcom "Daddy Dearest" (already premiered). If Fox is smart, it'll start programming a cross-series sweeps special — "Poker Night with Martin, Al Bundy, Bud Bundy and Don Rickles."

PATTERSON: Chase suffers

(From 1C)

I like Chevy Chase as much as the next guy, and I'd like to see more of him. More of him as in a bigger Chevy. As in back on the silver screen where he belongs. Chase is no Steve Martin or John Belushi, but if given a choice of Chevy as talk show host wannabe or Chevy as big screen comic actor, choose the latter.

Yes, Chevy, Generalissimo Francisco Franco is still dead. And the producers of your show need to see a lawyer about a last will and testament. Soon.

ROMANCE: Arquette, Slater film's strengths

(From 1C)

In the case of "Romance's" hero, Clarence Worley (Christian Slater), the opportunity to act on that world view unexpectedly materializes when a trashy-but-tender call girl enters his life. Alabama Whitman (Patricia Arquette), newly arrived in Detroit from some undeveloped region of the South, was hired by Clarence's boss at the comic-book store to be the introverted lad's surprise birthday present.

But she falls in love with "only my third trick" and wants to get monogamous. Clarence is evidently of like mind — they marry at dawn. All that stands in the way of ever-after bliss is the matter of retrieving Alabama's stuff from her former employer. Gallantly, Clarence pays a visit to the pimp — and before they know it, the lovebirds are in Caddy convertible flight to California, with a case full of uncut coke and half the Detroit mob in hot pursuit.

And that's just the setup. Once they hit L.A., they turn their Hollywood honeymoon into a high-adrenalin bender, fueled by the promise of quick cash and a chance for Clarence to meet his alltime favorite producer, "Coming Home in a Body Bag's" Lee Donowitz (Saul Rubinek, as credibly sleazy as anyone from "The Player"). A few glitches do intrude on the nonstop fun — like Alabama's brutal beating at the hands of an assassin, or the ridiculously complicated shootout that threatens the climactic drug deal — but hey, true love never runs smooth.

Tarantino's perversely eloquent script purrs along effortlessly, though, with enough speed to spare for a tour (de force) of great star turns. Dennis Hopper plays Clarence's estranged, ex-alkie dad, who goes out in a blaze of politically incorrect glory, protecting his son from a suave, sadistic and proudly Sicilian inquisitor (Christopher Walken). A scarred and dreadlocked Gary Oldman is Alabama's nightmare pimp, while Val Kilmer essays an ethereal Elvis, who, in one of many astute pop-culture gags, only Clarence can see.

Brad Pitt plays a California stoner so out of it he thinks telling bad guys how to find his friends is being helpful (more ironic humor: sometimes, it is).

(Condensed movie reviews by Los Angeles Daily News film critics. The rating system for the film list is: 4 stars — Don't miss it; 3 stars — worth your while; 2 stars — Has it moments; 1 star — if you must)
(For use by NYTimes News Service clients)

N.Y. Times News Service

ALADDIN: Another endlessly entertaining animated feature from Walt Disney, buoyed by Robin Williams' energetically inventive turn as the Genie who helps a poor street kid named Aladdin surmount the evil plotting of Jafar and win the love of the Sultan's daughter Jasmine. Dazzling color and breathtaking animation combine with nonstop laughs and spritely songs. G. Rating: ★★★★

CALENDAR GIRL: Jason Priestley ("Beverly Hills, 90210") headlines the story of three class of '62 high school grads who drive from Nevada to Los Angeles to date the woman of their dreams — Marilyn Monroe. The fact that she doesn't know them just means it will take longer. In between camping out on her doorstep, the young men hang with Jason's actor-wannabe uncle (Joe Pantoliano), run away from a deaf loan shark and generally trade quips about the meaning of life. Of course it's unbelieveable, but more to the point, it's not particularly funny or appealing. PG-13. Rating: ★

CLIFFHANGER: Truly spectacular stunts, camerawork and special effects are nearly wasted on this stone dumb, Alpine adventure. Sylvester Stallone battles John Lithgow's murderous thieves at 12,000 feet. Director Renny Harlin ("Die Hard 2") piles on the virtuoso, ridiculous action, but the effects of oxygen deprivation are only apparent when somebody tries to speak coherently. R. Rating: ★★½

FREE WILLY: A sort of "E.T." for the environmentally conscious, the story of two adolescents in search of family — one a killer whale, the other an abandoned boy — unfolds deftly and without excess sentiment. Credit director Simon Wincer ("Phar Lap," "Lonesome Dove," "The Man From Snowy River"), newcomer Jason James Richter, Keiko the whale and wildlife cinematographer Bob Talbot for the class act of the summer family shows. PG. Rating: ★★★

THE FUGITIVE: The big-screen version of the classic TV show is a nonstop chase machine. But, similar to the Energizer bunny it goes and goes like, all it leaves you with are memories of motion and a drumbeat. Dully stalwart Harrison Ford is the innocent Dr. Richard Kimble, wrongly condemned for killing his wife. Charismatic, witty Tommy Lee Jones is implacable Marshal Gerard, determined to catch the escaped con, who's equally determined to find the real killer. Director Andrew Davis ("Under Siege") never lets up on the suspense, not even to toss a little character development into the mix. PG-13. Rating: ★★★

HARD TARGET: The best movie Jean-Claude Van Damme's had the luck to be in is one of the most compromised Hong Kong superdirector John Woo has made. The filmmaker's typical, balletically choreographed and highly imaginative violence, while evident everywhere, has clearly been undercut to achieve an R rating. What's left is a good-looking, less-than-gut-grabbing fight between Van Damme and a bunch of rich jerks who hunt homeless veterans in New Orleans. R. Rating: ★★½

HEART AND SOULS: It's a wonderful death for four disembodied spirits who don't learn why they're attached to a young man until it's almost too late. He's supposed to help them set their affairs straight on Earth, but since he's yuppie scum played by Robert Downey Jr., it's not that easy. Director Ron Underwood ("City Slickers") goes for typical, Hollywood feel-good spirituality most of the time. But the cast — Charles Grodin, Kyra Sedgwick, Tom Sizemore and Alfre Woodard are the ghosts — often rise above their single issue characters to levels of winning grace. PG-13. Rating: ★★½

JURASSIC PARK: Steven Spielberg's dinospectacular is not the religious experience many expected, but it's a pretty good, sci-fi chase movie. Something goes wrong at an island amusement park whose main attraction is genetically engineered, live dinosaurs. The big lizards, realized by a superb combination of full-sized robots and computer-generated graphics, have infinitely more charisma than their underwritten human prey, played by Sam Neill, Laura Dern, Jeff Goldblum and Richard Attenborough. PG-13. Rating: ★★★

THE MAN WITHOUT A FACE: Mel Gibson's directing debut is pretty conventional stuff, well-made but hardly passionate. It does contain one of the superstar actor's best performances, as a fire-scarred recluse who comes out of his shell when a troubled boy (talented newcomer Nick Stahl) becomes his student. Set on the Maine coast in the summer of '68, it's like "Phantom of the Opera" does "Dead Poets Society." PG-13. Rating: ★★½

NEEDFUL THINGS: Max Von Sydow stars in the screen adaptation of the Stephen King best seller about a satanic shopkeeper who trades curios for nominal sums of cash plus pranks that heat long-simmering feuds to the boiling point and then some. King's parable about the evil under the idyllic facade of a peaceful New England village is played mostly for easy laughs by director Fraser Heston, but a good-looking production and a strong cast that also includes Ed Harris, Bonnie Bedelia and Amanda Plummer make for passable popcorn horror fare. R. Rating: ★★

RISING SUN: Though he has excised some of the more alarmist politics from Michael Crichton's Japan-bashing best seller, adapter-director Philip Kaufman ("The Right Stuff") still has made a pretty racist thriller. It's also quite sexist and muddled, though blessed with strong, high-tech visuals and fine performances by Sean Connery and Wesley Snipes. They're two L.A. cops investigating the murder of a white woman in a Japanese corporate tower; the mystery is too obvious, the explanations of Japanese behavior simultaneously reductive and convoluted. R. Rating: ★★

ROOKIE OF THE YEAR: A sweet and funny fable about a clumsy 12-year-old who is drafted by the Chicago Cubs when his broken arm heals into a 100-mph pitching machine. Rookie director Daniel Stern in a not-so-shabby performance himself milks the situation for all its comic potential without ever losing sight of the warmth that gives the film its "Big"-ish charm. PG. Rating: ★★★

THE SECRET GARDEN: Frances Hodgson Burnett's durable novel about a lonely turn-of-the-century orphan who finds emotional rebirth in tending for a mysterious abandoned garden gets its classiest, most sensitive screen interpretation to date from director Agnieszka Holland ("Europa, Europa"). Visually spectacular and superbly acted by a cast headed by newcomer Kate Maberly and Maggie Smith, the film explores universal themes of loss and renewal with a simplicity and beauty that will enchant filmgoers of all ages. An instant classic. G. Rating: ★★★½

Facts About The BIBLE
BY JOHN LEHTI

THE SHEPHERDS' PROTECTORS

WHILE THE YOUNG SHEPHERDS GUARDED THEIR FLOCKS THEY IN TURN QUITE OFTEN WERE GUARDED THEMSELVES BY SMALL BANDS OF YOUNG MEN WHO WERE SUITABLY ARMED TO WARD OFF BRIGANDS AND OUTLAWS WHO MIGHT STEAL THE SHEEP. THESE YOUTHS WERE USUALLY IN SOME KIND OF MINOR TROUBLE WITH THE AUTHORITIES. FOR PAY THEY RECEIVED FOOD FROM THE OWNERS OF THE FLOCKS. SUCH AN ARRANGEMENT WAS MADE BY DAVID AND HIS SMALL BAND OF COMPANIONS WHEN HE HAD TO LEAVE SAUL'S PALACE UNDER THREAT OF DEATH. THIS MEAGER BEGINNING LATER LED TO DAVID AMASSING AN ARMY POWERFUL ENOUGH TO ENSURE HIS CONTROL OF THE ENEMY PHILISTINES WHEN HE WAS MADE KING.

Carter's book gives message about religion for liberal elite

By Peter Steinfels
N.Y. Times News Service

For Stephen L. Carter, it was the kind of moment that authors of books about politics entertain only in fantasy. On Monday the president of the United States spoke at a prayer breakfast with religious leaders. "I bought a book on vacation called 'The Culture of Disbelief,' by Stephen Carter," Clinton said, adding, "And I would urge you all to read it."

Clinton had obviously read the book himself. His remarks reflected more than a cursory familiarity with its provocative contents.

American liberalism, the president suggested, is in danger of treating religious convictions as intruders and trespassers in political life, stigmatizing them as expressions of fanaticism or threats to the Constitution.

"Freedom of religion doesn't mean that those of us who have faith shouldn't frankly admit that we are animated by that faith," Clinton said. Nor, he said, should citizens who bring their religious concerns into public debates be met with such dismissals as, the president put it, "Oh, you're just being a right-winger."

Carter, the author of "The Culture of Disbelief" (Basic Books), is the William Nelson Cromwell Professor of Law at Yale University, so it is not surprising that his book contains much discussion of the history and theory of the First Amendment's religion clauses.

But as Carter says in the opening pages, his book is not so much about law as "about attitudes — the attitudes that we as a political society hold toward religion." It is "an effort to understand our instincts and our rules and our rhetoric," he says.

In short, it is what the title says, a book about "culture," and in particular the liberal culture of professional, college-educated America, of the national news media, the courts and the universities.

Carter knows that culture from inside, and not only because it would be hard for a Yale Law School professor not to. He defends separation of church and state, looks askance at political preachers and titles one chapter, "The 'Christian Nation' and Other Horrors."

He opposes instituting prayers in the public schools.

WHO ARE THESE UNITARIANS?

They are people who think about their beliefs and then live those beliefs.

If you thought you had "to think alone and like it" you may find a happy church home within the Unitarian Universalist fellowship, in intellectual company with Emerson, Jefferson, Thoreau, Robert Goddard, Susan B. Anthony, and other Unitarian Thinkers, past and present.

Bushman

Julie Ann Bushman, daughter of Blaine and Margene Bushman, received the gold medallion for obtaining the highest achievement in the personal progress program of the church.

The six-year program begins at age 12 and includes goal-setting in the areas of faith, divine nature, individual worth, knowledge, choice and accountability, good works and integrity.

To achieve the award, Miss Bushman completed 56 goals and four 20- to 30-hour projects which included volunteer work with Hospice, caroling for the patients at Christmas and making food baskets for each of them.

Now a student at Ricks College, in Rexburg, Idaho, Miss Bushman is a 1993 graduate of Lee High School where she was active in the Lee High School Choir and vice president of HECE. At church, she served as Young woman class president and was a graduate of the four-year early morning seminary program.

Wooley

Marie Wooley was the Young Woman president in her ward for 3½ years. She is the mother of four and currently serves as a counselor in the primary organization. She is employed by the Midland Independent School District as a secretary in the central office.

In completing the award requirements set forth for program leaders, Ms. Wooley made a quilt for her recently married daughter, LeAnn, as part of a family wedding tradition.

1993 PROPERTY TAX RATES IN MIDLAND I.S.D.

This notice concerns 1993 property tax rates for the Midland I.S.D. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine the property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties used in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by law. The rates are given in per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:

Last year's operating taxes	$11,979,549
Last year's debt taxes	$3,198,044
Last year's total taxes	$15,177,593
Last year's tax base	$3,159,810,254
Last year's total tax rate	$0.4800 /$100

This year's effective tax rate:

	Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$15,052,837
/	This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$3,130,937,683
=	This year's effective tax rage	$0.48078 /$100
x	1.03=maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$0.49520 /$100

This year's roll back tax rate:

	Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property and adjusting for transferred function)	$40,807,971
/	This year's tax base	$3,167,830,133
=	This year's effective maintenance and operating rate	$1.28820 /$100
+	$.06=this year's maximum operating rate	$1.34820 /$100
+	This year's debt rate	$0.13363 /$100
=	This year's rollback rate	$1.48183 /$100

Congress seeks more influence in Somalia

By Jennifer Loven
Associated Press writer

WASHINGTON — Senate leaders said Friday their request for a bigger role in overseeing American military operations in Somalia is a bid for partnership with President Clinton.

On the day of the fiercest battle in the U.N.-sponsored mission there, the Senate on Thursday passed a non-binding "sense of Congress" resolution urging Clinton to seek congressional authorization of American troop presence by Nov. 15.

Thursday's vote "was an effort to work as a full partner with the president, not critical of the president, not as big brother looking over a new president's shoulder," said Sen. John Warner, R-Va.

Warner called the resolution, which passed 90-7, "a clear manifestation of our intention ... to accept the responsibility of the heavy weight of the decisions in Somalia."

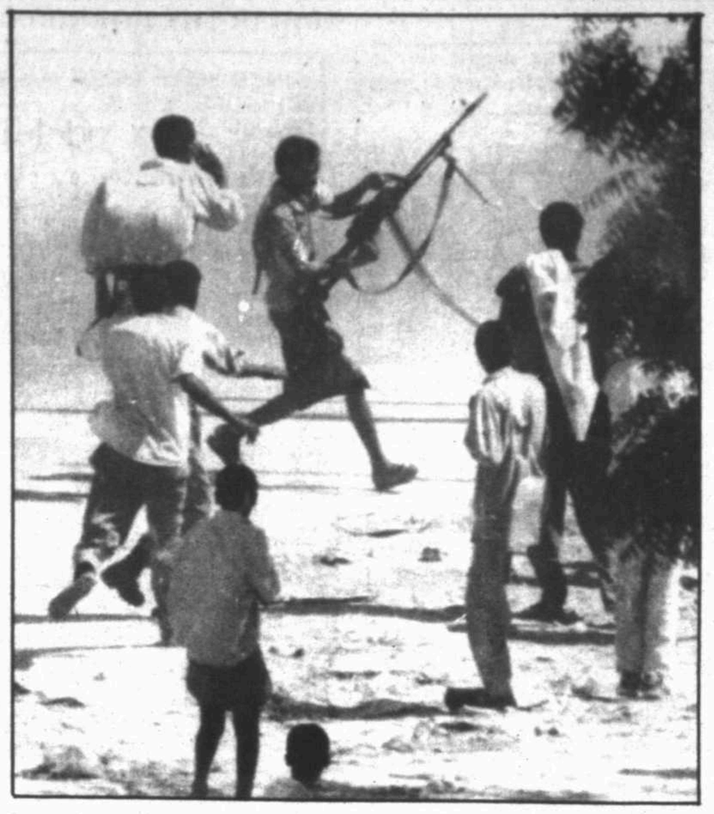

Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell, D-Maine, said it may be time to reassess the American role in Somalia.

"It is clear that both houses of Congress have separately expressed themselves very strongly in support of the American effort there," Mitchell said. "Obviously, as time passes and circumstances change, an updated and a clear definition of American purposes and duration and other aspects of our operation there are appropriate and we look forward to receiving that."

Mitchell, Warner and other congressional leaders met with Clinton at the White House on the Israeli peace agreement with the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Concerns about U.S. involvement in Somalia have been growing steadily in Congress as tensions have mounted between Somali gunmen and the U.N. forces. The international effort began in December to enable food deliveries to the starving to resume in the embattled country.

Thursday's ambush on a U.N. convoy brought a return attack from U.S. helicopter gunships. Supporters of warlord Mohamed Farrah Aidid claimed at least 125 men, women and children died.

Democratic chairman blasts Christian group

WASHINGTON (AP) — To a chorus of hisses, the Democratic Party chairman rebuked the Christian Coalition on Friday for ads he said cast President Clinton's supporters as unchristian. He said it was wrong to use faith "as a weapon to divide."

"God and faith are not and cannot be the province of one political party or movement," David Wilhelm said in a blunt speech to more than 2,000 Christian Coalition activists. "God is an independent. And no single entity can claim to speak for all persons who believe in Christ and consider themselves Christians."

Wilhelm's speech at the opening day of the Pat Robertson-led group's annual conference overshadowed later remarks by Robertson himself and a parade of Republican luminaries that included at least two 1996 presidential prospects.

That Democrat Wilhelm was invited at all was part of the Christian Coalition's fledgling effort to expand its political power. It is trying to shake its image as an arm of the Republican Party and is expanding its issues portfolio beyond its traditional opposition to abortion and homosexual rights.

But the hostile reaction to portions of Wilhelm's speech, and the warm reception afforded Republican speakers who attacked Clinton, left no doubt of the audience's partisan preference.

"We thought we elected Bubba from Arkansas; instead we got one of the aging Woodstock generation and all the radicals who go along with it," Robertson said. He gave the keynote address to Christian activists whose two-day meeting includes training on how to organize and run political campaigns.

Bragging of growing grassroots power, Robertson said the organization has a simple message to politicians at every level of government: "If you advocate the agenda of the radical left, you will not be re-elected to public office."

Robertson's warning came a short time after Wilhelm tried, with little success, to persuade the activists that the Democratic Party and Clinton shared their commitment to faith, family and tax fairness.

Employers, workers to share health costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House blueprint for health reform promises affordable coverage for all while making every business from Wal-Mart and McDonald's to the corner grocer start kicking in for the insurance. Workers will have to pay a share, too.

The plan dangles the prospect of big subsidies for small businesses and low-wage workers to buy health policies, and may let early retirees get health coverage at bargain rates at age 55 until they qualify for Medicare a decade later.

The Associated Press obtained a copy of the 240-page draft summary Thursday night from congressional sources after the White House loosened its grip on the closely guarded document.

It would require Americans to make what Hillary Rodham Clinton on Friday called "cost-conscious, informed choices" among health plans, ranging from cheaper health maintenance organizations to more expensive fee-for-service plans.

"All employers contribute to health coverage for their employees, creating a level playing field among companies," says the White House overview of its American Health Security Act. "Everyone shares the responsibility to pay for coverage."

The plan would create a system of regional alliances operating as health insurance group purchasing pools for Americans. With the exception of corporations with more than 5,000 workers, consumers would choose their coverage from among health plans that will bid for each alliance's business.

Those big corporations would have to offer their workers standard benefits and a range of choices, too.

The plan foresees raising $105 billion in new taxes to pay for reforms, primarily on cigarettes and possibly alcohol. Corporations outside the alliances may also be taxed.

They may have to contribute a 1 percent of payroll surcharge to share health costs borne by the alliances. And the administration is considering slapping a one-time charge on big businesses for relieving them of the burden of health benefits for early retirees, a source said.

The self-employed and the unemployed would be required to buy policies at the alliance. So would federal, state and local workers and virtually everyone else except Medicare beneficiaries.

All employers would pay 80 percent of what an average health plan charged the alliance. The White House estimates such policies would average $1,800 for an individual and $4,200 for a two-parent family in 1994; the actual figures will vary from alliance to alliance.

The employer would pay a premium of $1,440 for the single worker and $3,360 for the family policy. Those figures would not change, no matter whether the worker choose a cheap or expensive plan.

Workers would pay 20 percent of the premium of an average cost plan, but they could pocket savings by choosing a less expensive HMO. They could choose costlier coverage at their own expense.

Founder of Wendy's gets GED, counsels students

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Wendy's founder Dave Thomas said he might have been twice as successful had he graduated high school.

"The biggest mistake I made in my life is when I dropped out of high school," he told 2,500 high school seniors at a rally Thursday.

"We have 4,000 restaurants today, but if I had gotten my high school diploma, we might have 8,000."

Thomas, 61, earned a high school equivalency certificate this year.

The restaurant chain founder appears in Wendy's television commercials.

SUMMERLAND, Calif. — This coastal hamlet was elated when President Clinton visited Ronald Reagan country, but Clinton didn't return and the Nugget saloon was stuck with a pile of "Un-Official Western White House" shirts.

Reagan

No matter. Reagan showed up Wednesday. The former president and his Secret Service entourage strolled into the saloon and sat down in the presidential booth.

"This was a dream come true," said Doug Taylor, who owns the saloon. Taylor and his wife, Sally, had lunch with Reagan.

Reagan ate corn chowder, a hamburger and fries while chatting about his nearby ranch. A "Reagan Country" poster hangs near the saloon's entrance and a stack of Clinton T-shirts.

"This booth was created for Reagan because of his presence in Santa Barbara," Taylor said. "This was truly a dream to have him here."

VANCOUVER, British Columbia — Dr. Oliver Sacks, whose book "Awakenings" was made into a movie starring Robin Williams, was honored at the World Congress of Neurology for his medical contributions.

"I always felt slightly unkosher as a neurologist," Sacks said Thursday at a ceremony. "It's nice to know that I'm kosher after all."

Sacks' book recounted his work with sleeping sickness patients in the 1960s. He used the drug L-dopa to revive them, including some who had been in a trance-like state for 40 years.

Williams portrayed Sacks in the movie.

JACKSON, Miss. — Civil rights pioneer James Meredith said he will appeal a misdemeanor conviction for trespassing at an apartment complex.

Meredith was arrested Jan. 23, 1992, while handing out campaign literature at the complex in his failed bid for a Mississippi seat in Congress.

"The charge was about going on private property that was very prominently posted against trespassing, solicitation and handbills," city prosecutor Bill Gowan said.

"He was asked to leave and refused to do so. He never gave anyone any identification as to who he was," Gowan said.

Meredith was convicted in Municipal Court and fined $50. He took the case to Hinds County Court on Thursday and was convicted again. Meredith said he will ask a circuit judge to declare the trespassing law unconstitutional.

Meredith compared the statute with laws in the 1860s.

"If a plantation had 100 families living on it, the landlord could say who could come visit those people," Meredith said. "These statutes were designed and used to control the movement and activities of black people."

In 1962, Meredith became the first black to enroll at the University of Mississippi. His enrollment produced riots.

Jaroslav Pelikan, a scholar of the history of Christianity, has been elected president of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He will assume office in April and serve as head of the honorary society of scholars and leaders for three years.

Pelikan is the Sterling Professor of History at Yale and the author of more than 30 books, including "The Christian Tradition," a five-volume work published between 1971 and 1989 by the University of Chicago Press.

Pelikan said he hoped to broaden the geographic scope of the society. "I want to take it in a more international direction," he said. "I think it is time for the academy to discover that the world is round."

When Seth Lipsky, editor of The Forward, invited Lucette Lagnado, an investigative reporter and occasional columnist for The Village Voice, to lunch recently, she assumed that he would ask her to write a few pieces for the weekly, a descendant to the Yiddish newspaper Forverts.

Instead, he asked her to be the executive editor. "I was thunderstruck," she recalled Thursday.

Ms. Lagnado, 35, is a Sephardic Jew born in Egypt and raised in the Orthodox tradition, which she said was often opposed to the secular approach of the old Forverts. She has worked as an investigative reporter for Jack Anderson and The New York Post as well as The Village Voice, where she created a column called "The Urban Guerrilla." She also wrote a book about Josef Mengele, "Children of the Flames."

She starts in her new job next week and is already making lists of story ideas.
