Probes Set In Martin, Irion Areas

Wildcats have been planned in Martin and Irion counties.

Amoco Production Co. will drill No. 1 Ruby Allred as a 10,000-foot test in Martin County, 10 miles Southwest of Ackerly.

It is 1¾ miles south of the marginal one-well Hill Ranch (Mississippian) field.

Drillsite is 1,320 feet from south and west lines of section 58, block A,. Bauer & Cockrell survey.

Amoco also has planned the Irion test, No. 1 Funk Estate, a 7,900-foot wildcat, 15 miles northeast of Mertzon.

It is 4½ miles west of the Arden, South multipay field and 2⅝ miles northwest of a 7,300-foot failure.

It spots 660 feet from south and 710 feet from the west lines of section 30, block 10, SPRR survey.

Sutton Sectors Gain New Tests

William B. Wilson of Midland, has filed application for additional wildcats in southwest Sutton County. All are planned to 9,500 feet, and as stepouts to production in the Shurley Ranch field, about 10 miles southwest of Sonora. All are designated William B. Wilson Lease.

Located in section 153, block C, HE&WT are No. 1-153, 933 feet from north and west lines; No. 2-153, 933 feet from north and 2,480 feet from east lines; No. 3-153, 1,707 feet from south and 933 feet from west lines and No. 4-153, 1,707 feet from south and 2,480 feet from east lines of the section.

In section 40, TTRR survey are No. 4-174, 800 feet from north and 3,200 feet from east lines; No. 3-186, 933 feet from south and 150 feet from west lines and No. 4-40, 1,320 feet from south and 933 feet from east lines of the section.

Also, in section 136, block C, HE&WT survey, No. 1-136, 4,347 feet from south and 933 feet from west lines; No. 2-136, 933 feet from north and 2,480 feet from east lines; No. 3-136, 1,707 feet from south and 933 feet from west lines and No. 4-136, 1,707 feet from south and 2,480 feet from east lines.

Tests in section 159, block C, HE&WT are No. 1-159, 933 feet from north and west lines; No. 2-159, 680 feet from north and 3,300 feet from west lines; No. 4-178, 1,920 feet from south and 1,880 feet from west lines of the section.

Earlier, announcement of nine sites in the area had been made.

Ward Gas Region Strike Finished

Skelly Oil Co. has completed No. 2-10-18 University as a Wolfcamp pay opener in the War-Wink, South field of Ward County, eight miles northwest of Pyote.

IN WAKE OF POMPIDOU'S DEATH—

Fierce Election Battle Is Predicted In France

PARIS — (AP) — France today faced the prospect of a fierce election battle following the sudden death of President Georges Pompidou.

Pompidou, the republic's president since June 20, 1969, died Tuesday night.

Premier Pierre Messmer summoned government ministers to a meeting today to make arrangements for Pompidou's funeral. Informed sources said it would be a private ceremony restricted to his immediate family, with interment at Orvilliers, the village southwest of Paris where Pompidou had a country retreat.

An official memorial service will be held in Paris Saturday, probably in the Cathedral of Notre Dame, the sources said.

Pompidou returned from a weekend at Orvilliers to his private apartment on the Ile St. Louis in the Seine early Tuesday, and apparently he died there.

A one-sentence announcement from the Elysee Palace said the 62-year-old president died at 9 p.m. The cause of death was not announced, but there had been widespread reports for the past year that he was suffering from some form of cancer.

Since early last year, his face and body had swelled up and he had fatigued easily. But official reports usually said he had influenza.

At Pompidou's death, Alain Poher, president of the Senate, automatically became interim president. The 65-year old Centrist also served as interim president briefly after the resignation of the late Charles de Gaulle in 1969. In the election that followed, he lost to Pompidou, the Gaullist candidate.

Poher must arrange a presidential election within 20 to 35 days of Pompidou's death, or between April 22 and May 7. The new president will be elected for a full seven-year term, not to serve out the two years and two months remaining in Pompidou's term.

Pompidou, the son of a southern schoolteacher, came to office in 1969 as the heir to De Gaulle and his strong presidency. He had served for six years as De Gaulle's premier, but he lacked his mentor's towering personality.

His popularity decreased in recent months as France was battered by economic hardships and the energy crisis.

His death left the Gaullist camp divided, with no clear successor. The front runners were believed to be Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing, who is not formally a Gaullist, and former Premier Jacques Chaban-Delmas.

Giscard d'Estaing, 48, is the leader in public opinion polls. A brilliant economist, he leads the small Independent Republican party which has been solidly allied with the Gaullists.

Chaban-Delmas had been preparing to run for the presidency in 1980, when Pompidou's term would have expired, since his ouster as premier in July 1972. He is expected to get the support of the Gaullists.

The Communists and Socialists are expected to back the Socialist party's secretary-general and perennial candidate, Francois Mitterand. He would profit if Chaban-Delmas and Giscard d'Estaing split the Gaullists.

Pompidou is survived by his widow, the former Claude Cahour, and one son, Alain, a doctor.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight L. Chapin testified today that H. R. Haldeman approved the hiring of political saboteur Donald H. Segretti but that he left Haldeman's name out of an "eyes only" memo he wrote for top White House personnel.

NEW YORK (AP) — The government rested its criminal conspiracy case against former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and onetime Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans today after one month of testimony by 40 witnesses.

MEDIA, PA. (AP) — Prosecution witnesses testified today that two hired killers bought cars within hours after they assassinated Joseph Yablonski.

Oil-Buying Nations Open Two-Day Meet

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — A meeting of 12 major oil buying countries opened today with a minute of silence in memory of President Georges Pompidou of France, whose government is boycotting the session.

The two-day meeting is a preliminary to a conference in June of oil producing and consuming countries.

Martin Wins Council Post

By ROBERT C. BORDEN

Mark S. Martin won the contested Place 5 City Council seat in extremely light voting here Tuesday, leading his nearest opponent, Raymond E. Howard, by 35 votes.

Mayor Ernest Angelo Jr. and Place 4 Councilman Frank Kell Cahoon, both unopposed, also were returned to the council.

In voting at four fire stations throughout the city, 2,412 persons cast ballots, approximately half what had been hoped for by city officials. City Manager James W. Brown said blowing sand Tuesday afternoon probably kept some voters away from the polls.

Martin polled 768 votes to Howard's 733. Two other Place 5 candidates were well behind the leaders. Warren Faller received 538 votes and Mrs. Pat Griffith, 360.

Mayor Angelo captured 2,020 votes, with two write-ins recorded for mayor. Cahoon received 1,808 votes. There were 10 write-ins for Place 4.

The race was one of the quietest in recent years, with few issues generated. All Place 5 candidates are political beginners.

Martin, area landman for Dow Chemical Co., said, "It's good to win. It is always better to win than to lose. The margin of the win wasn't really that satisfying and the voter turnout was very disappointing."

Martin noted that less than one of 10 registered Midland voters went to the polls. He continued, "I think it is a good indication from one standpoint that there were four good can-

CD Siren To Be Tested

The Civil Defense warning siren on the new Federal Building will wail at noon Thursday, but don't worry.

Jack Chilcoat, city-county Civil Defense coordinator, announced that the siren blast Thursday will be only a test of the new device which will supplement the city's nuclear attack warning system.

"The test of the siren on the Federal Building probably will last several minutes," he said, "because a complete cycle will be run for its initial test."

Hearsts Say They Believe SLA Will Release Patricia

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The parents of kidnaped Patricia Hearst say they believe the Symbionese Liberation Army will keep its promise to reveal by Friday where and when it will free her.

In a typed letter delivered Tuesday to the editor of an underground newspaper, along with a dozen long-stemmed roses and a comic greeting card, the SLA said "further communication will follow in the following 72 hours" giving "the state, city and time of release of the prisoner."

"Of course we're very pleased to learn that the SLA will release Patricia," Randolph A. Hearst said in a statement to newsmen at his home in suburban Hillsborough.

"I'm sure they will," added Hearst, editor and president of the San Francisco Examiner. "I've been sure all along that she was well. And if they say they'll release her, I believe it."

The message, dated March 29, was delivered to John Bryan at the office of the biweekly Phoenix which he edits. It broke a 23-day silence by the terrorist SLA, which dragged the 20-year-old college coed from her Berkeley apartment on Feb. 4.

It was unclear when the SLA's self-imposed deadline would expire, because a florist delivered the communique with the flowers 17 hours late.

Kalliopi Volikakis, owner of Crete Florists, said she told a smartly dressed brown-haired young woman who ordered the roses Monday and enclosed the letter that she would deliver them no later than 6 p.m. But Mrs. Volikakis said her car broke down and she wasn't able to make the delivery until late Tuesday morning.

The last SLA message on March 10 denounced the Hearsts for allegedly failing to meet demands in good faith and included a stinging taped rebuke by Miss Hearst in which she accused her father of "washing his hands" of the case.

The new communique was accompanied by half of a California driver's license bearing Miss Hearst's signature and most of her photograph. The state Department of Motor Vehicles said in Sacramento that details on the license match its records of Miss Hearst's li-

President May Owe $475,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional investigating committee received behind closed doors today a report by its staff believed to say President Nixon owes some $475,000 in income taxes.

Questions before the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation include whether to hear Nixon's tax lawyers' arguments that his deductions were proper and whether to make the staff report public before the committee decides whether to endorse it or make changes.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, said Nixon's attorneys have seen part of the report.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., vice chairman of the committee, told newsmen he understands the President's counsel has filed a brief supporting its position. He said he would not object to giving the attorneys an opportunity to state their case, but that here was some feeling in the committee that this could lead to other requests for appearances and so

High Winds, Sand Return To Area

High winds returned to much of West Texas today, filling the air with sand in some areas, as a cool front began to lower temperatures substantially.

Winds in Midland reached a peak of 55 m.p.h. about 5 p.m. Tuesday, stirring up considerable blowing sand and limited visibility at times to as low as four miles. The winds averaged 25 m.p.h. or more until about 9 p.m. Tuesday.

The National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal said winds will be westerly to northwesterly 20 to 35 m.p.h. tonight.

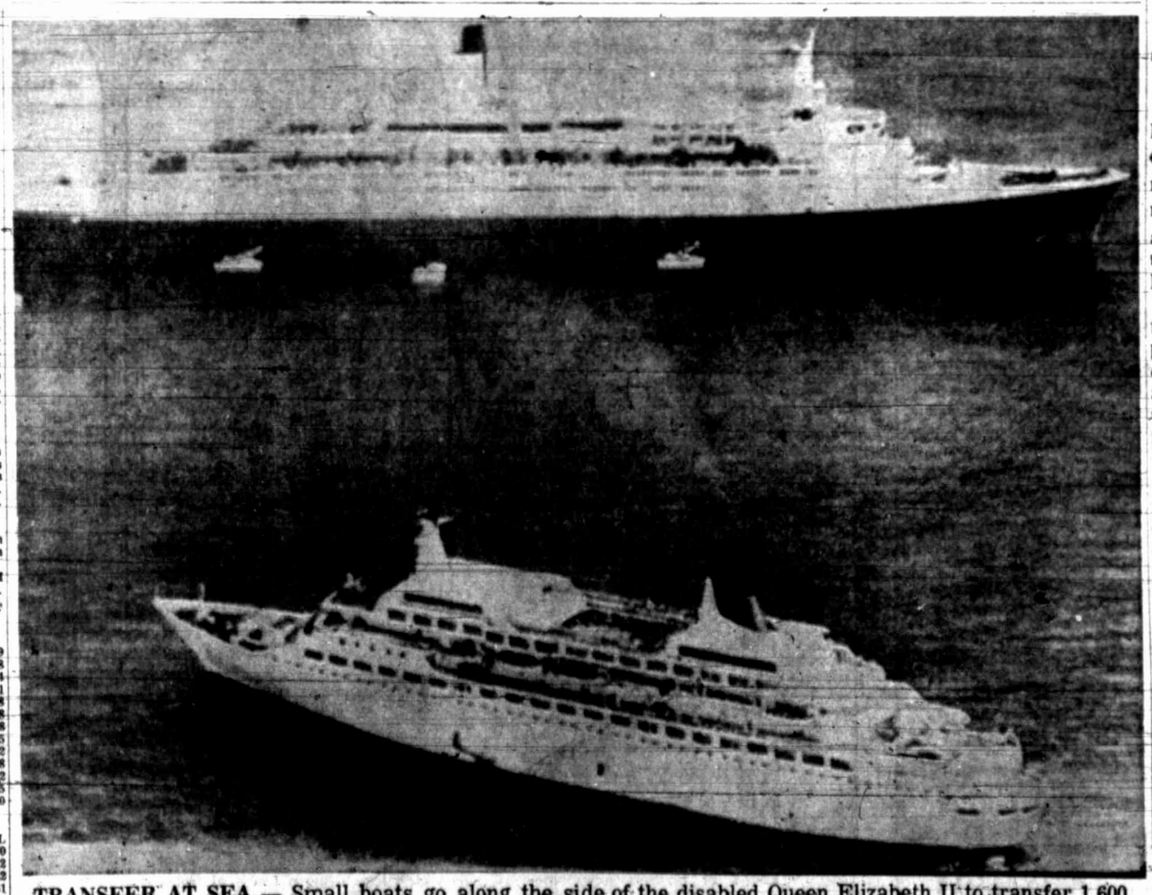

The front is expected to result in cooler temperatures for the Midand area through Thursday. The high today should be in the middle 70s, dropping to a high in the middle 60s Thursday.

The low tonight should be in the middle 30s. The high Tuesday was 86 and the low this morning was 52. Skies will be clear to partly cloudy today, becoming fair Thursday.

The cool front shoved through the central part of the state and set off threatening thunderstorms.

The menacing turbulence kept 17 counties in Northeast Texas under a tornado watch until 9 a.m. The alerted area,

Compromise Legislation Near In Oil Tax Reform Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly two months after it began examining the case for oil tax reform at a time of rising petroleum prices, the House Ways and Means Committee appears ready to settle on compromise legislation.

Amid much wrangling and mind-changing over what approach would stand the best chance of passing the economic and political tests ahead, the tax-writing committee is nearing final action on a bill that would:

—Impose a new windfall-profits tax on the petroleum industry, but provide that oilmen could escape paying virtually all of this new levy if they plow such windfall profits back into exploration and development activity.

—Abolish the petroleum depletion allowance, which oilmen use to save some $2 billion to $3 billion a year in federal taxes, through a sharply modified plan calling for an eventual total phaseout.

—Revamp tax treatment of the income that U.S. petroleum companies earn abroad, including an end to the use of the depletion allowance overseas.

In deciding what to do with the depletion allowance domestically, the committee shifted gears again Tuesday and voted to keep this special tax writeoff at a reduced level of 15 per cent until Jan. 1, 1979 for at least a third of U.S. oil production.

Presently, the allowance permits 22 per cent of gross income from oil and natural gas property to be deducted from taxable income, up to a top of 50 per cent of taxable net income.

The committee decided Tuesday to freeze the rate at 15 per cent until Jan. 1, 1979—when it would plunge to zero—for the first 3,000 barrels of oil daily per producer, as well as for the so-called "stripper well" producing up to 10 barrels of oil a day and for the Alaska North Slope's oil production.

Additional Police Patrols Sought In Air Park Area

A recent rash of vandalism at Midland Air Park and an increasing number of cyclists using the runways has brought a request from City Aviation Director Wilson H. Banks for additional police patrols in the area of the airport.

"Destruction of runway lights and directional markers pose a serious problem," Banks said. "Destruction of this equipment could cost a pilot his life."

Riding bicycles or motorcycles on the runways is an extremely dangerous practice. Last year, a young man lost his life when he was hit by an aircraft while he was riding his motorcycle on a runway at a general aviation airport, similar to Air Park, at Dallas, the aviation director said.

"In order to avoid a tragic accident, parents should take immediate and positive action to see that their children do not, under any circumstances, enter Air Park," Banks advised.

"We have requested the Midland Police Department to increase its patrols at Air Park in order to apprehend offenders and possibly save their lives," Banks said.

BLAMED FOR LACK OF PREPAREDNESS—

Israeli Chief Of Staff Resigns

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israel's chief of staff, Lt. Gen. David Elazar, resigned after an investigating commission blamed him and his chief intelligence officers for Israel's lack of preparedness for the Arab attack last October.

"I have been done an injustice," said Elazar, a hero of the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, after the commission issued an interim report Tuesday. He named his chief of operations, Maj. Gen. Itzhak Hofi, as his temporary replacement.

The commission exonerated Premier Golda Meir and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, whom many among the Israeli public held responsible for Israel's initial setbacks in the October war. As a result, Mrs. Meir's Labor party lost ground in the parliamentary elections at the end of the year.

Elazar, 49, denied the commission's charges against himself, including the accusation that he had failed to give proper consideration to intelligence reports on the possibility of an Arab attack last Oct. 6.

But the report also charged that the intelligence staff failed to detect the Arab preparations for war, and it demanded the resignations of the intelligence chief, Maj. Gen. Eliahu Zeira, and 13 senior officers of his staff.

The commission, which is headed by Chief Justice Simon Agranat of the supreme court and includes two former chiefs of staff, also proposed that Maj. Gen. Shmuel Gonen, the commander on the Egyptian front at the start of the war, be suspended from active service while the commission determined his part in the serious Israeli setback there.

In contrast with the criticism of the military, commanders, the report said Mrs. Meir had done "everything she could in a responsible manner" and with much forethought. It said Dayan was not required to order precautionary measures beyond those proposed by the general staff and in fact had warned the general staff on May 21 that war would break out in the late summer.

Range Fires Contained

LOVINGTON, N.M. (AP) — Two range fires that rampaged over nearly 400 square miles of grassland in southeastern New Mexico were reported contained today.

Firefighters from across the southeast corner of the state worked through the night to control the blazes, which were pushed through tinder-dry grass by winds up to 62 miles per hour.

"They were the worst grass fires we've had in this area for a good number of years," said Wayne Benson, Lovington fire chief.

The Lea County sheriff's office reported no one was injured and no residences were damaged.

"But 100 miles of fences and a number of corrals and windmills were destroyed," said Dene White, sheriff's dispatcher.

Mrs. White said one of the fires, which broke out north of Maljamar and spread east toward Lovington, "was about 28 miles long and six or seven miles wide."

Benson said the second fire, which started north of Lovington and burned within two or three miles of town, was about 12 miles long and four miles wide.

Benson said he'd had no time to investigate the cause of the larger fire, but the smaller blaze was believed to have started when the wind knocked down a power line.

The two fires burned within six miles of each other.

Firefighters and equipment were brought from Eunice, Jal, Loving, Tatum, Artesia, Roswell and Hobbs, along with equipment and personnel from the state Game and Fish Department, state police and the Bureau of Land Management.

IRS Checking Bentsen's Returns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal Revenue Service auditors are checking the 1970-1972 income tax returns of Senator Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex.

Bentsen said Tuesday the IRS action is a "routine audit." He declined to say whether he thought the check was politically motivated. The senator is considering running for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination.

He said the IRS told him of the audit three or four months ago and that the accounting firm that prepared his returns is cooperating with the federal agency.

"We gave them all the records we could," Bentsen told reporters at a news conference.

Bentsen revealed the audit while discussing President Nixon's tax returns.

He criticized the President for deducting the value of papers donated to the National Archives, saying Nixon exercized "very poor judgment in taking that kind of charge off to get his taxes that low in those two years."

IRS auditors are checking Bentsen's last year in private life and his first two years in the Senate.

Bentsen served on numerous boards of directors and as president of Lincoln Consolidated before his election. He described Lincoln Consolidated as a financial holding institution.

The senator said he resigned from all boards on which he was serving after election and placed all his financial holdings in a blind trust.

Bentsen said the IRS never audited him while he was a member of the U.S. House, from 1948 to almost 1955, but that he was audited while in private business.

He said the audit covered the three years "because they hadn't audited me" over that period of time.

Bentsen also said he continued to favor maintaining the oil depletion allowance as it affects the domestic oil industry.

"I feel we should keep incentives on the North American continent for exploration for oil and gas to develop self-sufficiency," he said.

It would be a mistake to stop working for self-sufficiency because of the resumed flow of Arab oil to the United States, Bentsen added.

He stressed the need for protecting the marginal wells in attaining self-sufficiency.

"We have to see that those stripper (marginal) wells are profitable to operate, because, if they aren't, they're going to quit," he said.

Lawyers In Farenthold's Suit Told To Keep Mouths Shut

AUSTIN (AP) — Frances Farenthold's civil suit against Gov. Dolph Briscoe will get an April 24 pre-trial hearing but lawyers will not be talking about it beforehand, at least for publication.

District Court Judge Herman Jones laid down the ban Tuesday at the end of an hour-long hearing on plaintiff's motions to gather pre-trial evidence and testimony.

Jones announced earlier that the original April 8 trial date had been postponed indefinitely.

After Tuesday's hearing Jones sternly warned lawyers of both sides not to comment on the case involving the two Democratic candidates for governor.

"No good will come from extra-judicial cutting, shooting and slashing in this case," Jones said.

Mrs. Farenthold filed suit Feb. 5, the day she filed for governor, contending that Briscoe had violated the new state campaign reporting law by raising a large amount of money at a Dallas appreciation dinner before a campaign manager was named. Briscoe has denied the charges and called her case "mudslinging in the courts."

Raymond Needham, Houston lawyer for Mrs. Farenthold, argued that he should be allowed to take oral depositions from witnesses in addition to written interrotatories already authorized. The motion was overruled.

In a second motion, Needham asked the court to make Briscoe's campaign records available to Mrs. Farenthold, particularly those concerning the Dallas dinner.

"To forbid us to ask questions would require us to take the word of the defendant and believe the defendant's word and not look at his books and records," Needham said.

"It takes gall to come into court and ask for a political opponent's books and records right in the middle of a campaign," said James Wilson, Austin, a defense lawyer. He also claimed the "wholesale depositions" would violate the constitutional rights of campaign contributors who wished to remain anonymous.

Jones said he would rule on opening the records after the April 24 hearing.

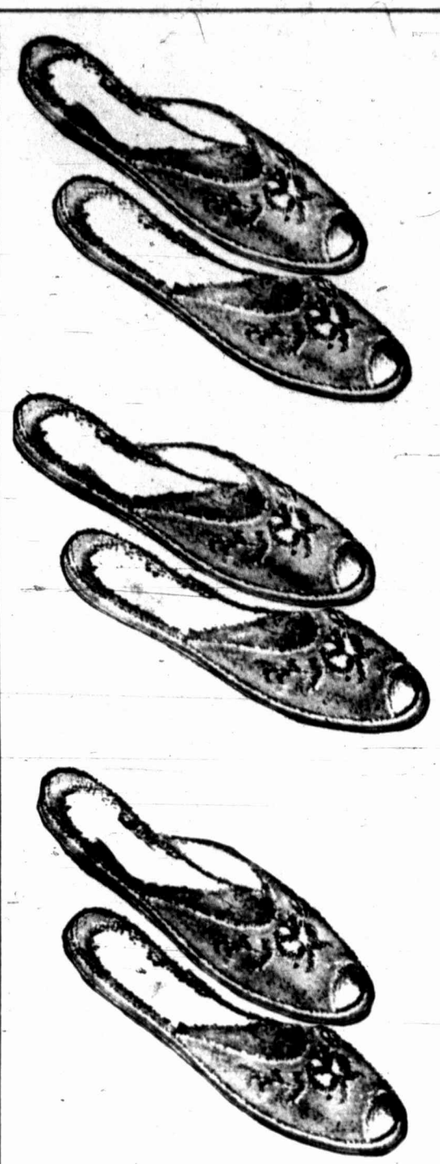

"We won't be doing anything until after the April 24 hearing," Needham said.

Council Names Mayor Pro Tem

HOUSTON (AP) — Councilman Judson Robinson Jr. Tuesday was named mayor pro tem by the City Council. He will preside over the city when Mayor Fred Hofheinz is absent.

Robinson, who has been on the council since 1971, has served in the post once before. The councilman he replaced, Johnny Goyen, has been on the council since 1958 and has served as mayor pro tem nine times.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Handbills On Cars Are Merely Litter

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — Our family disagrees about where the cherished pictures of relatives should be hung. The others say in a bedroom or den but I believe they should go in the living room where everyone can see our loved ones. My question is which room is used for that customarily. Everyone can do what pleases him, but I would like some answers on what the etiquette is, if any, on the subject. — BETTY F.

DEAR POLLY — Our Pet Peeve is with those businesses and organizations who place advertisements on car windshields, back of the wipers. They usually end up littering the streets and parking lots. In winter they often freeze to the windshield and are hard to remove. Such advertising should be done in the papers and magazines. — BARBARA.

DEAR POLLY — Marlyne wrote that she wanted to remove tar from a suede belt and I had the same problem with a purse and dipped a toothbrush in a little vinegar, brushed it into the suede, left it overnight until dry and then brushed it again. I hope this works as well for her. — PEGGY B.

DEAR GIRLS and Marlyne — Test the effect of the vinegar first. Many authorites suggest scraping as much of the tar off as possible, when the material is dry cleanable. Then sponge with a cleaning fluid. This process, or any other, may have to be repeated. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — To brighten the surroundings for the youngster who sleeps in the bottom bunk bed firmly fasten a piece of heavy cardboard or pressed wood to the underside of the upper bunk. Let the child decorate his own "ceiling" as he likes with wallpaper or magazine cutouts, drawings, etc. — KENNETH.

DEAR POLLY — Your column is a favorite of mine and my husband also reads it and often calls my attention to a suggestion he thinks might help me. We have four small boys so need short cuts.

When I buy or make a pair of knit slacks or shorts with a tunnel-type waistband that has elastic run through it, after the elastic is in place I stitch, with matching color thread, a seam up and down the width of the band in the front, back and on each side. The seams usually blend right into the knit and they keep the elastic from twisting inside the band. They also keep the waistband from turning over while wearing the slacks and they keep the gathered fabric evenly spaced on the waistband. — MARION.

MILLION DOLLAR RIDE—Mrs. Van Folger, left, and Mrs. Brian McWhirter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha members, look over a folder publicizing the annual ESA Million Dollar Bike Ride for support of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital to be held in Midland May 4. Riders wishing to participate may contact Mrs. Folger or Mrs. McWhirter for information.

ESA Sorority Plans Million Dollar Bike Ride For St. Jude Hospital

The third annual Epsilon Sigma Alpha Million Dollar Bike Ride for support of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital will have a new theme this year. A "Bicycle Built for Two" will dramatize local rides being held throughout the nation, including the one scheduled May 4 in Midland.

Sponsor of the Midland ride is the ESA City Council, which is seeking riders for the 15-mile round trip ride. The location of the ride will be announced at a later date. All concerned citizens, young and not so young, are invited to take part. Sponsor lists and information are available from Mrs. Van Folger, 683-4925, or Mrs. Brian McWhirter, 694-2004.

Nationally, an ESA couple will pedal a bicycle for two from Memphis, Tenn., home of St. Jude hospital, to Beverly Hills, Calif., home of the hospital's founder, Danny Thomas. The 2,500-mile cross-country journey will take two months.

The hospital, founded in 1962, is the largest childhood cancer research center in the world in terms of number of patients and treatment successes. Basic clinical and research findings and accomplishments developed at the hospital are shared freely with physicians and research scientists throughout the world, extending the benefits of its work beyond its own patients to children, parents and society.

The ride was very successful in Midland last year.

FHA Chapters Observe Week

The Midland High School Future Homemakers of America Chapter kicked off National FHA Week Monday with a Coke-float party for FHA members at Edison Freshman School.

The purpose of the party was to introduce the Edison girls to FHA activities and the Homemaking Department of MHS.

Chapter members also attended church with their families Sunday and planted a red rose bush in the school patio Tuesday. Today, the chapter honored teachers with a salad and sandwich luncheon. At 7:30 p.m. Thursday the MHS girls will visit Trinity Towers for an "Around the World through FHA" program. Guests will include the chapter's adopted grandparents. Brenda Graham will present a slide program. Friday, plans will be made for the FHA spring retreat to be held at Spence Lake April 20-21.

In charge of arrangements for the week are Melody Peterson, Loree Williams, Roda Johnson, Elizabeth Hughes, Vickie O'Neal, Brenda Graham, Joyce Rosser, Rita Minton and Norma Pittman.

Zeta Tau Alphas Meet For Brunch

The Zeta Tau Alpha Alumnae Chapter had a guest day brunch recently in the Midland Woman's Club.

Mack Thomas, interior decorator with Knorr Furniture Co., presented a program on "Putting the Heartbeat Back into the Home." He said that the energy crisis, along with other problems, has made Americans more aware of their homes and the quality of life within a home. He encouraged those attending to use plants in many rooms for their psychological and aesthetic values.

Mrs. Joe B. Warren announced Mrs. Louis Michaelson and Mrs. Curtis Dowden, now residing in Lafayette, La., have received alumnae Certificates of Merit. Mrs. Michaelson, Mrs. Paul J. Nicholson and Mrs. L. W. Henshaw Jr. recently attended the sorority's State Day in San Antonio.

Members were reminded to make reservations for the Panhellenic luncheon April 18 in Midland Country Club with Mrs. E. W. Howard Jr., 682-1390.

Hostesses to the brunch were Mrs. Gerald M. Graham, Mrs. J. Frank Johnson and Mrs. Goff Wettstein. Centerpieces of yellow daisies decorated the tables.

Mrs. George Allen Thomas

Mr. And Mrs. George Allen Thomas Honeymooning In Europe Until July

Mr. and Mrs. George Allen Thomas departed for a three months' honeymoon in Europe following their marriage here Monday and a reception in the Petroleum Club of Midland.

The bride, the former Janice Bertine Sliger, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brizz M. Sliger, 2012 Shell St. Mrs. Bennie Sue Thomas, 2001 Bedford St., is the mother of the bridegroom.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 10:30 a.m. by the Rev. John Long in the George F. Ratliff Chapel of the First Christian Church.

Mrs. Edward Blair, organist, presented the music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long sleeved, formal-length gown of white quiana. The bodice yoke was softly gathered into a wedding band neckline. The A-line skirt flowing from the raised waistline had a Watteau train. Her headpiece was a chiffon hood extending to a chapel-length train. She carried a bridal bouquet of white Phalaenopsis orchids, freesia, gypsophila and stephanotis.

Mrs. Joe Davis was the matron of honor and Mary Lee Bailey of Austin the maid of honor. They were dressed alike in formal-length gowns of dotted ultratresse in peach color, designed with scooped necklines and short sleeves. The skirts fell in soft gathers from the Empire bodices, which had tiny covered buttons. Deep flounces encircled the hemlines. Their headpieces were fashioned of kalanchoe blossoms and gypsophila. Each carried a bouquet of kalanchoe, white freesia, yellow daisies, Enchantment lilies and gypsophila.

Tack Thomas of Dallas was the best man and Charles Ratliff the groomsman.

Upon their return to Midland in July, the couple will establish residence at No. 20 Winchester Court. She is a graduate of The University of Texas-Austin, with degree in business education and office administration. She is a member of Pi Omega Pi, honorary business sorority.

The bridegroom, an independent oil man and investor, is a graduate of Texas Tech University.

Reported Crimes Increase 50 Per Cent Here Last Month

Crime increased here slightly more than 50 per cent in March, making an increase of 49 per cent for the first three months of the year.

Actual figures showed 253 crimes reported last month, compared with 168 in March 1973.

The largest increases were in burglary, theft and vandalism, according to the monthly report released by the Midland Police Department.

Clearances of crime continue to be above last year's average, 58 per cent of the crimes solved last month compared with a 1973 yearly average of 55 per cent.

There were no murders in the city last month — and none in March 1973.

The largest increase in crimes last month was in burglaries, the 86 reported in March being 38 more than in the preceeding March. Fifty (58 per cent) of them were cleared with the arrests of 19 juveniles and eight adults.

Thefts and vandalism also increased last month. There were 58 thefts last month and 37 in March 1973. Vandalism increased from 24 a year ago to 45 last month.

Twenty-one of the thefts were cleared with the arrests of 15 adults, and 19 of the vandalisms were cleared with the arrests of six adults and four juveniles

The 16 assaults reported last month, represented a increase of 10 from the previous March Eight assaults were cleared last month, represented an increase adults.

A breakdown of the assaults last month showed seven for aggravated assault, which is the highest assault offense under the new penal code; seven assaults, and two assaults on a peace officer.

Robberies also increased going from one in March 1973 to two last month. The robberies in both months were aggravated (armed) robberies.

There were no robberies solved last month but police Monday arrested a suspect in one of the March heists.

There was one rape reported in March and one in March last year.

While most of the crime categories saw rising statistics last month, there were two declines.

The most notable was in narcotics law violations which fell from 13 cases in March 1973 to four last month.

Police reported 100 per cent clearance last month with the arrests of five adults.

The four included two for heroin possession, one for marijuana possession and one for possession of other drugs.

The largest difference was in the marijuana possession cases with eight being reported in March last year.

There was one fewer forgery reported last month than in the previous March, the figures showing four last month.

Big Spring Police To Conduct School

BIG SPRING — The Big Spring Police Department will conduct a 40-hour school for juvenile officers June 20-July 3 at Howard County Junior College.

Officers interested in attending must contact Big Spring Police Chief Vance Chisum or Richard Kleinhans, criminal justice coordinator for the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, before June 18.

Classes will be held 1-5 p.m. on weekdays.

Courses will include all aspects of juvenile procedure and enforcement and are open to law enforcement personnel in the 17-county Permian Basin region.

Food Stolen From Truck At Terminal

About $145 in food has been reported stolen from a truck parked at Webb-Davis Fruit Co. at Midland Air Terminal.

The truck was owned by Woodrow Harris.

Missing items include nine boxes of shrimp, a turkey roll, two boxes of steaks, a carton of apple pies, a box of burritos and a five-pound flounder, according to Patrolman John Adams.

Big Spring Mayor, Councilmen Win

BIG SPRING — Mayor Wade Choate and councilmen Eddie Acri and Harold Hall Tuesday were re-elected without opposition.

Five hundred sixty-three voters cast ballots in the election. Choate received 499, votes, Acri 453 and Hall 468.

Eudaly Retains Seat At Grandfalls

GRANDFALLS — Harold Eudaly Tuesday turned back a challenge for his seat on the Red Bluff Power Control District board of directors.

Eudaly received 77 votes and his opponent, Harold Ward, received 51.

Incumbents Win Election Races In Monahans Vote

MONAHANS — Three incumbent city councilmen were returned to office Tuesday.

Norbon Skies was the top vote-getter with 512 votes, followed by Robert White with 484 and Robert Tucker with 461.

Dr. T. V. Longbotham Jr. received 395 votes and was the non-winning candidate with the highest vote total. Other losing candidates included J. W. Thrasher Sr. with 245 and J. C. Young with 181.

Monahans voters passed a proposition to require future council candidates to run using the place system. The proposal garnered 556 votes for and only 171 against.

Voters also approved a proposal to allow the city to grant a $3,000 homestead exemption to persons 65 years old and over. The proposition passed 614-138.

Bass, West, Henry Elected At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — Roy Bass swept to victory in the mayor's race here with about 60 per cent of 14,522 votes against two opponents.

Bass defeated Councilman Jack Baker and W. B. Rushing in the race.

Advertising executive Dirk West was the top vote-getter taking 74 per cent of the votes against two other candidates in the race for mayor pro tem.

Alan Henry, an insurance man, overwhelmed three opponents in the Place 4 council race. He gathered 62 per cent of the votes.

Bill Vestal Wins Snyder Mayor Race

SNYDER — Bill Vestal Tuesday narrowly defeated Winnie Poyner in the mayoral race here.

Both were seeking the post being vacated by Mayor Bill Seale.

Vestal received 261 of the 487 votes cast. Miss Poyner received 226.

Three city councilmen were re-elected without opposition.

Place 6 incumbent Charles Blakey received 426 votes. Jake Cummins, Place 2, received 439 votes and John Fagin, Place 4, got 424.

Rippetoe Speaks To Evening Lions

A. D. Rippetoe of Midland was the speaker Tuesday at the meeting of the Midland Evening Lions Club at the Regal 8 Motor Inn.

The speaker, who is senior representative, commercial sales, Shell Oil Co., discussed the energy crisis and its effects on the overall condition of the nation. He mixed considerable humor with his informative, enjoyable address.

Rippetoe was introduced by Lion A. E. Hauck, program chairman for April.

President Jack Cross presided at the session.

Wheat Still Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — A weekly weather report Tuesday by the Agriculture Department said the winter wheat crop in the plains states was "in good condition with adequate soil moisture" in most areas.

Mark Twain's first book was The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County and Other Sketches, published in 1867.

Dan B. Hemphill Easily Elected Mayor Of Odessa

ODESSA — Dan B. Hemphill Tuesday ran away with the mayor's race here.

He received 2,970 votes against three opponents in his bid to succeed retiring Mayor Jim Reese. Joe L. Laughlin received 531 votes in the race, followed by Mark Clark with 349 and William Christopher with 117.

Glenn O. Brown garnered a plurality in the five-way race to succeed Place 2 Councilman Dick Clark. Brown received 2,427 votes. Bill Millhollon gathered 661 votes, followed by Ben L. Ellison with 268, Gary Garrison with 260 and Charles Boland with 222.

Place 1 incumbent Willie Hammond Jr. received 2,983 in his unopposed re-election bid.

Lions Tailtwister Nominations Made

Nominations for the office of tailtwister of the Midland Downtown Lions Club were heard — and how — at the club's Wednesday noon meeting in the American Legion Hall.

The nominating speeches and seconding remarks — longwinded, hilariously detailed and generally insulting — continued at press time. But it was all in fun.

The tailtwister nominations program traditionally is an entertainment highlight of the club year. It usually is held on the Wednesday nearest April Fool's Day.

The election to name the successor to Tailtwister Kelley Roberts will be held later this month, President Frank Marlow said.

Ulrich To Address Medical Assistants

Wayne Ulrich, Midland Memorial Hospital administrator, will address a meeting of the Midland County chapter of the National Association of Medical Assistants at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Community Room of the Commercial Bank Building.

Ulrich will discuss future plans for Midland Memorial.

Andrews Takes Top Honors At UIL Meet

FORT STOCKTON — Andrews High School ran away with the top honors at Monday's University Interscholastic League literary events here.

The team accumulated 174 points in the AAA competition. Kermit was second with 102 points, Fort Stockton placed third with 89 points, followed by Monahans High School, 75, Pecos High School 53, Seminole High School, 47, and Odessa Ector High School with seven.

Andrews swept the slide rule competition with Stephanie Fuhrman, Susan McDonald and Norma Bales taking first through third places.

The team also took all three top sports in number sense with Dale Hayes, Angela Reece and John Turnage, ranking first, second and third respectively.

In girls debate, Miss McDonald and Debbie Riemenschneider, both of Andrews took top honors. The Andrews boys debate team of Joe Carroll and Richard Edgell placed second behind the Fort Stockton team of Eric Mayo and Paul King.

Mark Cooper and R. L. Bemerman, both of Andrews, placed first in boys informative speaking and boys persuasive speaking respectively. Bobby Baker, another Andrews student, won the journalism headline writing contest.

Other Andrews students placing in the competition include Jana Miller, second in ready writing; Maggie Natividad, third in typewriting, and Rose Welborn, fourth in shorthand.

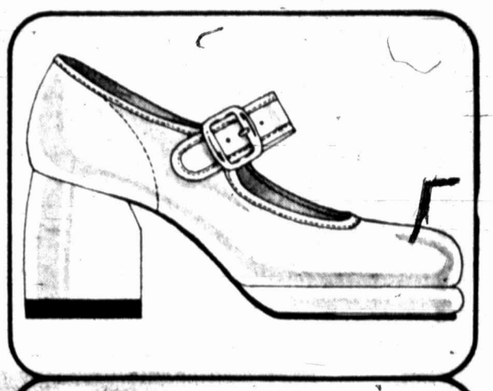

An Ector High student, Ramona Benavidez, won the journalism news writing contest.

Miss Lago Plans Recital At Tech

LUBBOCK — Diane Lago, a senior music education major at Texas Tech from Midland, will play a piano recital Friday in the Music Building on the Tech campus.

The recital is a partial fulfillment of requirements for a bachelor of music education degree. Miss Lago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nils Lago, performed the same recital in the Gardens Assembly of God Church in Midland on March 28.

'Sting,' Jack Lemmon, Glenda Jackson Big Winners

By BOB THOMAS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "The Sting," Glenda Jackson and Jack Lemmon were the big winners at the 46th Academy Awards presentation, which had something for everybody. Even a streaker.

"The Sting" stung four other box office favorites, most prominently "The Exorcist," and collected seven Oscars, including best picture of 1973.

Lemmon, tortured garment maker of "Save the Tiger," and Miss Jackson, the English lady on a swinging vacation in "A Touch of Class," won top acting honors in the awards Tuesday night. It was a second Oscar for both.

"The Exorcist," which won two Oscars, was an early favorite in the race for best picture. But its shock and violence seemed to turn off many of the Academy voters, who are predominantly mature and long-standing members of the film community.

They seem to prefer a standard and trouble-free film like "The Sting," the stylish tale of a mammoth confidence game in Chicago.

Both "The Exorcist" and "The Sting" had been nominated for 10 awards.

In addition to best picture, "The Sting" won Oscars for George Roy Hill's direction and David S. Ward's screenplay. Julia Phillips shared producing honors with her husband, Michael, and former actor Tony Bill, becoming the first woman producer to win Hollywood's biggest prize.

Youth and age were served in the supporting acting categories. John Houseman, 71, the heartless Harvard professor of "The Paper Chase," and Tatum O'Neal, 9, the cigarette-smoking confidence girl of "Paper Moon," won in their first film roles.

The awards ceremony was enlivened by a totally nude 33-year-old man who dashed across the stage before the Music Center audience as David Niven prepared to introduce Elizabeth Taylor.

The nudity was not seen by viewers tuned in to the nationally televised awards ceremony.

The streaker identified himself as Robert Opel, a Hollywood advertising man. He said his streak was "a hell of a way to launch a career as a comic."

Lemmon, 49, the Harvard graduate who won a supporting Oscar in 1955 for "Mister Roberts," responded emotionally to his award. He commented pointedly about actors who had criticized the award. He said he felt it was "one hell of an honor, and I am thrilled."

"Save the Tiger" was his fourth nomination as best actor.

Miss Jackson, 39, was making a film in Rome and was unable to accept her second Oscar. It was claimed by Mel Frank, coauthor and director-producer of "A Touch of Class." Miss Jackson won her first Oscar in 1970 for "Women In Love."

Houseman, veteran Broadway and Hollywood producer and now head of the Juilliard School for Dramatics in New York's Lincoln Center, performed his first screen role in "The Paper Chase."

"For the first time in a long and tumultuous life, I am almost speechless — but not quite," said the urbane Houseman.

His award was popular with the trade audience, as was that of perky Tatum O'Neal, who upstaged her father, Ryan, in "Paper Moon." Dressed in a stylish satin tuxedo with high heels, she thanked her director, Peter Bogdanovich, and her father.

"Day For Night," Francois Truffaut's story of the travails of making a movie, won the Oscar as best foreign language film.

The best song was "The Way We Were," from the movie of the same name, with music by Marvin Hamlisch and lyrics by Alan and Marilyn Bergman. Hamlisch also won Oscars for his scores for "The Sting" and "The Way We Were."

The telecast was a full and sometimes deadening three hours, but as usual, the show had its touching and dramatic moments.

Two standing ovations were accorded to veteran superstars Katharine Hepburn and Groucho Marx. Miss Hepburn, still lovely but tremulous of voice, presented the Irving G. Thalberg Memorial Award for consistent high production to Lawrence Weingarten, who made some of her best comedies.

Groucho, 83 and looking it, appeared on stage to accept an honorary Oscar and the Academy's homage for himself and his zany brothers, stars of classic comedies of the 1930s and 1940s.

"I wish Harpo and Chico could have been here to share this great award," the comic remarked. He said he also wished the award could be shared by his long-time dowager foil, the late Margaret Dumont.

"Most of all I want to thank my mother, because without her none of us would have been anything," said Groucho. He also paid tribute to his manager-girl friend, Erin Fleming, "who makes my life worth living She understands all my jokes."

All-Choral Concert Refreshingly Varied

Something had to give, as the saying goes, in Midland Tuesday night, and apparently that "something" was the concert by the Chorale of the Midland-Odessa Symphony.

City elections, special Lenten services in Midland churches, a blustery, dusty evening following a sand-laden day and, not least, the popular annual Academy Award presentations on tv — undoubtedly these were the main factors contributing to the small attendance at the concert. It's another example of the "feast-or-famine" kind of thing we often have here, with too much going on at the same time — or else nothing at all.

It really is a shame more people didn't hear the all-choral concert last night. It offered a program of sacred and secular works that was refreshingly varied as to period and style, skillfully presented by the ensemble from first number to final one.

It is certainly to the credit of the Chorale and its director, Lawrence B. Marsh, that the program was fresh and interesting, containing works not often performed — certainly not in this area. The ensemble could as easily (or perhaps easier) have given us an evening of banalities — tried-and-true "safe" works. And the Chorale itself performed beautifully, achieving at times sound of such polish and precision that it gave the impression of being one perfectly tuned instrument. In all honesty, there were some other times when the ensemble did not sound quite so professional, but that we can overlook.

The Chorale opened its concert in Lee High School auditorium (one of the fifth pair of symphony season subscription events) with four sacred works, three of them by masters of German polyphony. These included the "Verbum caro factum est" of Hans Leo Hassler, the "Cantate Domino" of Heinrich Schuetz and Johannes Brahms' "O Savior, Throw the Heavens Wide." They were beautifully, skillfully presented; particularly nice, I thought, were the Shuetz and Brahms works, along with the other work on the opening segment of the concert, the "Crucifixus" of Antonio Lotti which had a number of interesting modal sequences.

One of the featured works on the program was the "Psalmkonzert" of contemporary German composer Heinz Werner Zimmermann. It is a happy, rythmical work that is not any the less reverent for all its jazziness; in fact, it has (at least for me) the same kind of deep devotion that so called "simple" spirituals evoke so well.

The work featured baritone Marvin Waltz, joined by the Chorale and a group of girls from the Goddard Junior High School. Waltz provided some excellent solos, and the Chorale and guest chorus backed him splendidly. Adding much to the effectiveness of this number (and it IS effective) was a group of instrumentalists, including those on trumpets, vibraphone and string bass.

The Chorale also offered the Benjamin Britten choral dances from his opera "Gloriana," and these proved interesting, varied and melodic, some more than others. The four Slovak folk songs of Bela Bartok were also well delineated by the singers. Piano accompaniment was provided by Pam Bristol.

Another presentation was Hennagin's "Walking on the Green Grass," which is perhaps interesting but it is of those super-arranged, rather gimmicky vocal works that I don't regard too highly. You may feel differently.

Robert Benn Chambers was soloist for Aliabiev's "Solov'yem Zalyetnym," which was soulfully Russian in style and mood, and quite delightful to hear. Two Macedonian folksongs by Srebotnjak also were pleasant to the ear.

Mezzo Jo Ann Steel and soprano Suzanne Medlen were heard in Burleigh's "My Lord, What a Morning," which seemed one of the most popular of the light works. Miss Steel provided some rather spectacular vocal moments which the audience seemed to appreciate. The program closed with DeCormier's "Ride On, King Jesus," which had tenor Carroll Kyser as soloist, and it, too, was pleasing to the audience, as was the "Hallelujah" encore.

—Roger Southall

New Yorkers Can Now Dial-A-Joke

NEW YORK (AP) — "Fellows, you want to get your wife crazy?" says the voice on the other end of 999-3838. "Don't talk in your sleep, just grin."

The voice belongs to comic Henny Youngman and the number is for a new service provided by the New York Telephone Company — Dial-A-Joke.

A company spokesman said Tuesday that its Dial-Santa message during the holidays proved so successful that it decided to try another service.

Youngman recorded 30 spot jokes for April, different ones for each day, the spokesman said. He added that if the service proves popular and profitable, the company may sign other comics.

Milk Co-Op Faces Another Lawsuit

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Wise County dairy owner Mrs. J. D. Van Huss has filed a $40 million damage suit against the already beleaguered Associated Milk Producers, Inc.

Mrs. Van Huss, operator of the Van Huss Dairy, filed the federal court suit for herself and for an estimated 44,000 individual dairymen in the United States.

Wise County is a major Texas milk producing area.

The suit charges the dairy cooperative with controlling prices of milk, violating laws on sale of securities and creating a monopoly in hauling milk from dairies to processing plants.

Mrs. Van Huss also seeks to void contracts of AMPI with dairymen.

Also named in the suit is Bob Buchanan, identified by plaintiff's lawyers as a Wise County resident.

HAVE YOU WRITTEN A BOOK?
A publisher's editorial representative will be in Midland in May. He will be interviewing local authors in a quest for finished manuscripts suitable for book publication by Carlton Press, Inc., well-known New York publishing firm. All subjects will be considered including fiction and non-fiction, poetry, drama, religion, philosophy, etc.
If you have completed a book-length manuscript (or nearly so) on any subject, and would like a professional appraisal (without cost or obligation), please write immediately describing your work and stating which part of the day (a.m. or p.m.) you would prefer for an appointment and kindly mention your phone number. You will promptly receive a confirmation for a definite time and place.
Authors with completed manuscripts unable to appear may send them directly to the representative (address below) for a free reading and evaluation. He will also be glad to hear from those whose literary works are still in progress. Please address:

Residents Challenged

Now, about this expensive siege of vandalism which has enveloped Midland in recent weeks.

This is something which cannot and must not be taken lightly. It is a serious matter which concerns every resident of the Tall City.

It is all so needless, so uncalled for, so extravagant, if you please.

And the total cost, it is estimated, could exceed the $1 million mark this year if the vandalism continues at the present pace.

It really doesn't seem possible that this type of thing should be occurring in Midland, which is blessed with residents of the highest caliber to be found anywhere.

Yet, vandalism is happening right here and now, at an unprecedented rate.

Why would some of the city's young people, who as a group, are ranked among the finest, best-behaved and most considerate in the land, engage in the destruction of property belonging to their fellow Midlanders?

It isn't enough to say it is spring and the youths of the community are just having some fun. Wilful destruction of property must not be classed thusly. It not only is costly, it is against the law . . . and it must be considered as such.

Spring and fun and young people aren't something new. The youths of years past also were afflicted with spring fever, and they had fun, but, generally speaking, their fun was clean, at least to the point of being non-destructive. And there is plenty of good clean fun to be had in Midland and elsewhere today.

Midland police do not believe that a ring of vandals is responsible for the trouble here. Rather, they are of the opinion that groups of youths get together and decide on the spur of the moment to tear up some property. They think also that most of the vandals are 17 years of age and under.

This being the case, the fine, well-disciplined youths of Midland perhaps can do more than anyone else in helping to put an end to the vandalism by determining personally that they or their friends will not become involved in any acts which they know are not right or proper.

Their influence also can work wonders.

Parents, too, must become involved in the all-out effort to curb vandalism by making sure that their children are not involved in acts of vandalism.

The police department will cooperate to the fullest extent, as always, but its members cannot do the job alone. The general public also has a definite responsibility in this regard.

This is something that residents of the community, working together, can control. And vandalism should be controlled promptly. The challenge is ours!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Postal Service has multiple problems.

WASHINGTON—Americans have been paying more for postage yet the mails have been moving slower since the Postal Service went on a business basis three years ago.

The change was supposed to reduce waste, increase efficiency and improve the service. Instead, the opposite has happened.

To find out why, we have spent weeks investigating the Postal Service. The contracting system, we found, is plagued with problems. These have been caused by poor management and a cozy relationship with the contractors.

The hard-headed businessmen, who serve on the board of governors, have failed to reform the cumbersome postal machinery. Most often, they simply rubber-stamp the recommendations of Postmaster Gen. E. T. Klassen. And he has been caught up, inevitably, in the petty rivalries and ancient animosities of the Balkanized bureaucracy.

From the locked files of the Postal Service, we have obtained documents which tell the incredible contracting story. Since 1971, about half of the contracts have been awarded on a noncompetitive basis. The ballooning of these contracts beyond their original prices have cost the taxpayers an extra estimated $100 million.

Eleven favored companies accounted for $60 million of the overrun, with each one adding $1 million or more to its contract. Another two dozen companies upped their fees by $100,000 or more.

Some of the additional costs were legitimate, with needed work being done for the extra money.

Most of the contracting troubles have come from the attempt to mechanize the mails. Contracts have been let to develop advanced equipment, which would read, cull, sort and cancel the mail at a faster clip. Millions have been spent for the fancy machinery, but bumbling has outpaced the technology.

A memo, never intended to be read outside of the postal hierarchy, acknowledges: "There have indeed been problems with our procurement practices."

An all too typical contracting fiasco was the order for a new facer-canceller, which would process envelopes. A $2 million contract was awarded to National Cash Register in 1968. The company developed three machines and was directed to produce 26 more at a cost of $4.8 million. Only nine of the machines now are operating, and they are still being tested.

The Postal Service also spent another $1 million to develop a new air culler, which could be used with the facer-canceller to speed letters through the post offices. Of the 14 that were ordered, seven are gathering dust in warehouses, six have been put to limited use and one is under scrutiny at the postal lab.

Post offices in urgent need of new facer-cancellers, meanwhile, were put off with promises of the new machines that are supposed to come from National Cash Register. Finally, the Postal Service had to buy 180 older machines from another company recently just to keep pace with current mails.

A similar tale of waste can be told about the new high-speed optical character reader, which is supposed to speed-read the addresses on envelopes and sort them out by code numbers. Philco-Ford started this project, with a $10 million postal contract, a decade ago. After an overrun of $3.1 million, for which Philco paid the penalty, the company finally came up with a machine that seems to work.

It has been installed triumphantly in Boston. But unfortunately, it runs only a few hours a day, since the post office isn't geared up to keep pace with the machine.

Without waiting for the Philco product, the Postal Service awarded other contracts for even speedier optical character readers. One was developed by International Business Machines, whose proud product now rapidly scans addresses in New York City. But it, too, can operate only a few hours a day without getting ahead of the mails.

One reason the mail can't keep up with the speed readers is that the mail sorters are too slow. To correct this, the postal authorities gave the Maxson Electronics Corp. a $7 million contract to produce 65 multiple position letter sorters. After working on it for a year, Maxson came back to the Postal Service with problems, which the company said would cost another $105,000 to straighten out.

The money was granted, but the problems weren't solved. Finally, the contract was cancelled and another company had to be brought in to finish the job.

The postal people are having troubles, too, with the plants that are supposed to house all the fancy new equipment. A total of 21 bulk mail centers were planned outside major cities. The first project at Secaucus, N.J., already has produced a whopping $60 million overrun. The builder, Lester B. Knight of Chicago, boosted his contract by $3 million.

Another 19 bulk mail centers are now in some stage of construction.

Footnote: My associates Jack Cloherty and Ed Tropeano spoke with all the companies named. Both Philco-Ford and IBM defended their work, explaining that any problems occurred because they are working on "advancing the state of the art." Maxson refused to comment because it is litigating its dispute with the Postal Service. A Knight Co. spokesman not only defended his company's work but offered to allow us to inspect the books. A Postal Service spokesman confirmed the details of the separate contracts and admitted that the attempted mechanization has not yet paid off for the taxpayers.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

(Newspaper Enterprise Association)

The late Walter F. Wyman of Boston was a great whist player who used to write delightful articles on the play of the cards. Some of his hands were really ingenious. While he always gave some New England player credit for them, we have a feeling that most of them were developed in Walter's fertile mind.

Walter was South, playing a four-spade, doubled contract. He ruffed the second heart and led his king of spades. It held and when he led a second spade West showed out. East won and forced Walter with another heart.

Things had taken a nasty turn for the worse, but Walter was undaunted. He saw a play for his contract if West held three clubs to the queen and East exactly three diamonds to the king.

So Walter led his eight of clubs. His plan was to finesse dummy's jack; take a diamond finesse; overtake his king of clubs with dummy's ace; take a second diamond finesse and wind up losing just two trump tricks and one heart.

The play would work in real life, but this time it failed miserably.

It seems that Harry Stubbs of Arlington who sat West, had visualized what Walter was up to and threw a monkey wrench into the machinery by playing his queen of clubs on Walter's eight.

If Walter and Harry are still playing in that Valhalla where good players go, more power to them.

Japan, Far East's Only Democracy, Well, Kind Of

TOKYO (NEA) — Many Japanese leaders like to remind the outsider that they have the only true "working democracy" in the Orient. But in thoughtful, casual conversation, it comes out that what Japan really has today is still a "graft" — immature in development and insecurely bonded to its life mainstream.

One who expresses the reality well is a former prime minister, Nobusuke Kishi, who held the post from early 1957 to mid-1960, and now lives placidly in quiet backwaters, though not without influence as a conservative consultant to certain elements in the ruling Liberal Democratic party.

In an interview held jointly with colleagues of mine, Kishi flatly declared that what goes on in Japan's supposedly key governmental institution, the democratically-elected Diet, in no way can be said to pass for useful discussion and debate. If democracy means reasonable exchange, compromise, a molding and reshaping of proposals to find a broad common ground, Kishi says the Japanese do not yet have it.

The LDP rules, of course, in both the 498-member lower house and the 257-member upper House of Councillors (for which there will be elections this summer). The chief opposition parties, highly vocal and activist in mood, are the Socialists and the Communists.

Yet their goals, "Marxist" in differing degrees, are so far removed from those of the pragmatic, ruling LDP that the opposition neither conducts nor desires "discussion." This means, plainly, that the rival parties have no genuine contribution to the development of working government policy. They simply criticize, and oppose. Their entire posture is one of assault, in and out of the Diet.

It is Kishi's contention, and I could find no dissent from this proposition as at least a partial truth, that Japan's mass media — meaning in this case mostly newspapers of huge circulation distributed widely through the country — tends to support the opposition in steadily critical attacks against the government in power.

Possibly this argument has to be viewed somewhat guardedly. In some of the touted treatises on Japanese life, I have found it argued that some influential journals cooperate strongly with combined government-business leadership in helping to set the nation's citizenry on a chosen course.

However that may be, there can be little doubt that the Diet as presently functioning is a talking society, with immense power to command the presence, endlessly, of the incumbent prime minister, his top cabinet officials and many others.

Right now, it is exercising its authority in a new way — putting key businessmen and their firms on the griddle in a constant grilling, much as Sen. Henry M. Jackson parboiled the U.S. oil executives in Senate committee session some months ago.

The grilling concerns Japan's worst nightmare — ungoverned inflation — and the role played in it by the pricing and other practices of Japanese trading and manufacturing establishments. But that's a story for later review.

Return to Kishi for several points he thinks arise from the Diet's "no discussion" pattern.

The first, already alluded to, is the central fact that without constructive modifiers from the opposition, the ruling LDP, in Kishi's words, "decides everything." The concept of some kind of consensus emerging from debate is wholly absent.

Second and obvious, the Diet's power to command the leaders' presence wastes incredible amounts of official time that should be given over to the conduct of government by the top men.

Third, this is just one element in a delaying effect that slows down seriously the governing process. In Kishi's judgment, the constant barrage of criticism, the almost fanatic bombardment on even the most trivial points (no errors are left unnoticed), makes the ruling party afraid to decide. So deciding is put off. And "democracy" here proceeds as a painful, immature ritual.

Dear Editor:

Supporting our numerous unfortunate and work-shy welfarers is pretty expensive for laboring taxpayers these days.

But much more burdensome is the support of our vast and getting vaster infestation of lawyers, who are multiplying so rapidly that youths now are being urged to study medicine or dentistry instead of law.

Which may not solve the problem. Different talents are required in various jobs, and who wants a tooth pulled or his appendix removed by a John Dean III?

Is No News Better Than Bad News? Good Question

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Ten years ago, in a unanimous decision, the U.S. Supreme Court enunciated a doctrine which in the view of some critics, granted virtual immunity from the libel laws to newspapers.

The court ruled that a public official could not recover damages for defamatory statements about his official conduct unless it could be proved that they were made with actual malice or with the knowledge that they were false or with "reckless disregard" for their truth or falsity.

Today, journalists are concerned that this right of "uninhibited, robust and wide-open" debate on public issues, to use the words of Associate Justice William J. Brennan, is in danger of being nibbled away by a less liberal bench.

Court Decision

The Supreme Court has agreed to review a case arising under a Florida law which requires newspapers to print rebuttals from people about whom they published adverse stories or comments. The fear is that, should the Florida statute be upheld, it would encourage similar laws in other states, or possibly a federal "right to reply" law which the Nixon administration intends to submit to Congress.

Even should all this come true, however, the press would still have one option that those who believe it needs "curbing" or who tend to blame it for the bad news it reports, might bear in mind.

That kind of self-imposed news boycott by editors will never happen, of course. It would be as damaging to the integrity of the press as it would be to the public interest.

But if the public really wants a press that plays it safe — that asks, "How will this story or this editorial affect us?" rather than, "Do the people have a right to this information" — that could be what it ends up with.

AN ECONOMIST FOR the U.S. Chamber of Commerce has figured out that next year's $304.4-billion federal budget comes to an average share of $4,362 from every family or household in the country.

No need to worry, however. The government won't be sending bills for that amount — not directly. As in the past, that portion of the budget not met by tax or other income will be financed by borrowing. In other words, by adding it on to the national debt.

We, or our children, will just pay for it later the "easy" way, with cheaper dollars and continued inflation.

There were 9,566 commercial and industrial failures in the United States in 1972 with a liability of $2 billion according to Dun & Bradstreet data, The World Alamanac says. A business failure, as defined for this record, occurs when a commercial or industrial enterprise is involved in account proceeding or a voluntary action which is likely to end in loss to creditors. This amount is less than the U.S. Attorney General's data which reports all bankruptcy.

Constitution Delegates Like Status Quo In Legislature

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Legislator-delegates to the Texas Constitutional Convention have said through repeated votes that when it comes to the legislature, they like the status quo.

Debate continues this afternoon on the legislative article to a new state constitution.

No morning session was planned, to enable the Judiciary and General Provisions committees several hours to work on their articles, the only ones that have not been reported to the convention floor.

In Tuesday's session, the convention voted 89-65 to keep the size of the legislature as it is now—31 senators and 150 House members. This overruled the Legislative Committee's recommendation for a Senate of 40-60 members and a House of 120 to 180 representatives.

"The feeling in the committee . . . was that the Senate was 31 members 100 years ago . . . It is getting so a senator can't go by and see his folks once a month, and the people have a right to see their senators more often than that," said Rep. Bryan Poff, D-Amarillo.

But Rep. Jerry Donaldson, D-Gatesville, had another approach.

"What that is going to mean to the people of Texas is more politicians. And the last thing that people of Texas want is more politicians," Donaldson said.

The committee's proposal to require that representatives be at least 21 and senators 25 won easy approval despite numerous attempts to lower the age requirements. The present 1876 constitution contains age restrictions of 26 for senators and 21 for representatives.

Sen. Bob Gammage, D-Houston, failed 85-73 to reduce the age requirements to 23 for senators and 18 for representatives.

"I use a rationale the full adulthood that 18-year-olds now hold in this state," he said.

Also defeated were amendments to allow any qualified voter—meaning 18-year-olds—to serve in both houses and to keep 25 as the age for senators but reduce the minimum age for House members to 18.

Legislator-delegates also refused to permit teachers in public schools and colleges to serve in the legislature and draw pay for both jobs, thus preserving another element of the status quo. The key vote was 83-66 against an amendment by Poff to permit such service.

Kirwan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Kirwan Sr., is a top tennis player. He won the city tennis championship when he was 12-, 14- and 18-years-old, and is the seventh ranked doubles player in the state.

He maintains a 3.2 grade point average and is active in the Spanish Club and the Young Republicans.

He is a winner in the Daughters of the American Revolution essay contest.

Kirwan is a member of St. Ann's Catholic Church where he is a member of the Christian Youth Group and the Youth Choir.

After graduation he hopes to be awarded a tennis scholarship to Texas A&M University.

Compromise Legislation Breaks Ice Jam Surrounding National Health Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The congressional ice jam surrounding national health insurance has been broken by the introduction of new compromise legislation by two influential Democrats.

"This could pass the House and Senate this year," Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said of the bill worked out over the last 18 months with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Hearings Planned

Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said he will conduct health insurance hearings April 24-26 and every Friday thereafter until all new bills have been discussed.

The Kennedy-Mills bill more closely resembles the Nixon administration's proposal than Kennedy's earlier cradle-to-grave approach favored by organized labor.

Same Price Tag

Mills said it carries a nearly identical $40 billion price tag, but would be financed through payroll taxes and an additional $8.5 billion rather than private health insurance premiums as proposed by the administration.

Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare praised the Kennedy-Mills bill but said that administration leaders "remain strongly opposed" to the concept of total federal control of health insurance and financing through Social Security-like payroll tax increases.

The Kennedy-Mills bill would limit the average American family's out-of-pocket health-care payments to $1,000 a year, including a maximum $300 deductible for a family of three.

The administration's plan, in contrast, would set the catastrophic-illness ceiling at $1,500 with a $450 deductible for the same size family.

Same Charge

Both proposals would charge consumers the first 25 per cent of bills until the limit is reached, and both would abolish Medicaid for the needy with some form of new government-financed coverage.

Unlike the administration plan, which would cast private insurance companies and Blue-Cross-Blue Shield in a major role, the Kennedy-Mills bill would have them serve as fiscal intermediaries or bill payers on behalf of the Social Security Administration, much as they do now under Medicare.

Downtown Rotary Going To Odessa

Members of the Midland Downtown Rotary Club, led by President John Tyler, will go to Odessa as a group Friday to attend the All-Conference luncheon being held in connection with the annual conference of District 573, Rotary International, opening there Thursday.

Dr. L. L. Morriss, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Midland and a long-time member of the Downtown Rotary Club, will be the luncheon speaker.

The regular Thursday noon meeting of the Midland club will not be held this week, due to the Odessa conference luncheon, Secretary R. O. Smith said.

Save America's Energy

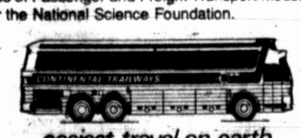

Inter-city bus travel is the most fuel saving. Up to 85 passenger miles per gallon. That's twice as efficient as most automobiles. Four times as efficient as jet travel.*

We can't solve the energy crisis, but we make it a lot easier to live with by moving people at enormous savings in fuel. Whether you're going across the state or across the nation, traveling on a Continental Trailways bus just makes sense. When you help save America's energy you're doing something for everyone, including yourself. And our year-'round climate controlled, rest room equipped coaches with a modern new color concept, convenient schedules, and economical fares make wise travel a pleasure.

involve the committee in extended hearings.

Mills said he could not vote on approval of the report at today's meeting, adding, "I need at least a few hours to study it."

He said he is open-minded on releasing the staff report, meanwhile. Several other members took the same position.

The chairman, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., earlier had set a news conference for late today, apparently with the expectation of making the report public.

The White House meanwhile would not flatly confirm that Nixon still intends to pay additional taxes if the committee rules against him. Nixon had pledged to abide by the committee's findings.

Asked about this Tuesday, Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said "We'll address this all at one time . . . I'm not really prepared to go into this."

The controversy involves taxes Nixon paid on his income during his first term, 1969 through 1972. According to summaries of his returns, the total tax paid for the four years was $78,651 on income of $1,122,266. Of the total tax paid, $72,682 was for the first year, 1969.

Nixon's tax bill was reduced because of large deductions he claimed.

Of these, the most widely publicized was a donation of papers acquired during his pre-presidential years to the National Archives. Nixon has taken their appraised value of $576,000 as a charitable donation deduction.

A major question, however, has been whether the donation was legally concluded before July 25, 1969, effective date of a change in the law virtually eliminating such deductions.

Another question was whether Nixon should have declared and paid tax on a capital gain of $117,300 from the sale of part of his California property in 1970. Accountants have disagreed as to whether the transaction, in which he sold most of the land originally purchased but retained the house and 3.9 acres, did or did not result in a capital gain.

In December 1973 Nixon asked the joint committee to determine whether he owed additional taxes in connection with these two transactions and said he would abide by its decision.

The committee agreed to undertake an inquiry but would not limit it to those two items, insisting on reviewing Nixon's entire federal income tax operations for the four years.

California's Lt. Gov. Reinecke Faces Indictments

WASHINGTON (AP) — California's Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke was indicted by the Watergate grand jury today on three counts of perjury in connection with the ITT antitrust case.

Reinecke, a leading contender for this year's Republican gubernatorial nomination, was accused of lying to a U.S. Senate subcommittee during hearings on the nominations of former Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst.

Chief U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. summoned special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski for an afternoon appearance to explain an apparent premature leak of the Reinecke indictment.

Hart said that 22 minutes before the indictment was officially presented to him in court at 12:07 p.m. EDT, an aide from the office of Rep. Jerome Waldie, a California Democrat on the Judiciary Committee which is considering impeachment matters, called to ask for a copy of the Reinecke indictment.

Prosecution Rests Its Case In Chapin Trial For Perjury

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prosecution rested today after calling only four witnesses in the perjury trial of Dwight L. Chapin, President Nixon's former appointments secretary.

Assistant special prosecutor Richard J. Davis rested his case after introducing a lengthy memorandum from Chapin that detailed his relationship with political saboteur Donald H. Segretti.

Chapin is charged with four counts of lying under oath to a Watergate grand jury last year about Segretti, whom he recruited for political dirty tricks.

Told To 'Get Lost'

"I assured Dwight it's nothing to worry about," Dean said.

In the memo, Chapin said he should have fired Segretti when he went to New Hampshire before that state's primary and used his own name.

"When Watergate broke we told Don to get lost — I believe Herb settled with him," the memo said.

The allusion was to Herbert W. Kalmbach, former personal attorney to President Nixon, who testified Tuesday that he paid Segretti approximately $45,000 from unused 1968 campaign funds.

Chapin also said in the memo that "Don sent me clippings — this was the main way he reported."

Phony Press Release

He said he suspected Segretti of having been responsible for a phony press release distributed in Florida attributing sexual misconduct to Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Henry M. Jackson of Washington "since one day I received a copy of it in the mail at my home."

Both copies of the memorandum were labeled "eyes only."

Dean said that meant there should be limited distribution, although he said he knows one copy was given to John D. Ehrlichman, formerly Nixon's chief domestic adviser.

At the start of today's session of the trial Chapin and his attorneys waived any claim to an attorney-client relationship with Dean which they had raised in preliminary motions.

In another Watergate-related development Tuesday, Sen. John Tunney, a California Democrat, predicted President Nixon's impeachment by June. He spoke at Shippensburg, Pa., State College.

And, Sen. Howard W. Baker Jr., vice chairman of the Senate Watergate committee, said the resignation of Nixon would be "an unfortunate precedent" for the country.

In other developments:

—Nixon's chief Watergate lawyer, James D. St. Clair, and Albert Jenner, chief minority council for the House impeachment inquiry, met for two hours. Afterward, Jenner reported some progress had been made in the deadlock between the House Judiciary Committee and the White House over evidence requested by the committee. He would not provide details.

—Texas Republican Sen. John Tower said Republican Senate leaders had discussed the possibility of Nixon's impeachment by the House and trial in the Senate. He would not say what, if anything, had been decided by the Republican leadership.

cense, including the initial of the issuing clerk.

After examining the fragment which Bryan brought to Hillsborough, Hearst said: "We believe it is a driver's license, we believe it is Patty's, and we believe the communique is a genuine one."

Catherine Hearst, Patricia's mother, said the new message was "a tremendous relief for me.

"I'm so happy to see half of Patty's driver's license and I hope to get the other half and Patty along with it, because I believe the SLA certainly has lived up to everything they said so far and I have reason to believe they'll continue to live up to their word."

Hours before disclosure of the SLA's 72-hour time limit, the Hearst Corp., of which Randolph Hearst is chairman, announced a deadline of its own.

Confessed Killer Testifies In Boyle Trial For Murder

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — Confessed killer Claude Vealey says he and two other hired gunmen considered dynamite, firebombs and poison before finally shooting United Mine Workers insurgent Joseph "Jock" Yablonski.

Vealey testified the $5,200 murder contract under which Yablonski was slain came from a man named "Tony." Vealey said he got $1,750 as his share.

Vealey was the second of the three triggermen to testify Tuesday at the murder trial of former UMW President W. A. "Tony" Boyle. Boyle is charged with arranging the 1969 assassination of Yablonski, a union rival.

Sticks To Story

Earlier, Paul Gilly, 42, the man who says he recruited Vealey and who confessed participation in the plot after he was convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to death, stuck to his story under cross-examination that he was told the "kill Yablonski" order came from Boyle.

Gilley has testified that Silous Huddleston, 65, his father-in-law and a former UMW local president in LaFollette, Tenn., gave him the Yablonski contract. He also said that another UMW employe, William Prater, also of LaFollette, had made the contact with Huddleston.

"Prater and Huddleston told me they were handling it for Mr. Boyle," Gilly said.

Prater Confesses

Huddleston has pleaded guilty, and Prater confessed his part after he was convicted of murder, claiming that $20,000 in union funds authorized by Boyle was used in the assassination payoff.

Slain with Yablonski as they all slept on Dec. 31, 1969, in their Clarksville home in southwestern Pennsylvania were his wife, Margaret, and daughter, Charlotte.

Boyle, 72, defeated Yablonski for the presidency of the UMW three weeks before Yablonski was slain. The election was subsequently ruled invalid and Boyle was defeated in a new election by Arnold Miller.

Boyle is now serving a three-year federal sentence for the illegal use of union funds during the 1968 president election.

The new coouncilman thanked his supporters and added, "I'll do my best to gain the confidence of those who didn't vote for me. I'm looking forward to serving on the council and I sincerely hope that I'll be able to contribute to their efforts in the management of the city."

Mayor Angelo is "excited about the prospects for growth and prosperity for the community." He stated, "I think we have some real challenges facing us, but I do believe the possibilities for Midland are great."

Disappointed in the voter turnout, Mayor Angelo said, "I would hope the light turnout was not an indication that the balance of our citizens are not interested in their city government. I realize that it's difficult to get overly excited when two out of three races do not have a contest, however it's true that the city government can do nothing without the support and the interest of the whole community."

Cahoon also was appreciative of his re-election and said, "I feel that Midland has a period of real opportunity in the future and I'm hopeful the city council can play a positive role in helping develop Midland's future."

The new members of the council probably will be sworn in at a special meeting April 15.

District Jury Here Convicts Louie Hill Jr. On Rape Charge

Louie Hill Jr. was found guilty of rape this morning in Midland's 142nd District court and the jury was to return at 1:30 p.m. to begin the punishment phase of the trial.

The eight-woman, four-man jury deliberated 55 minutes before returning the guilty verdict and court was recessed for lunch.

This is the second time this case has been tried, the first one ending in a hung jury last June.

The victim of the Feb. 23, 1973, attack was on the witness stand Tuesday morning and part of the afternoon. She positively identified Hill as her assailant.

She and Midland police Inspector Tommy White were the only prosecution witnesses to testify and Asst. Dist. Atty. Jerry Bucner rested the state's case at 2:35 p.m.

Defense attorneys are Vern Martin and Harold Jones.

A defense witness Dr. Herbert Cavenaugh, who examined the victim after the incident, told the court that the victim told him she resisted at first but did not later because she knew her attacker knew she could identify him and she was afraid he would kill her.

The victim testified that Hill had not hit her and did not have a weapon but she considered it a threat when he told her that he would be sent to prison if she reported him.

Before the defense called its first witnesses, Martin moved for an instructed verdict of innocent, saying that there was insufficient evidence to prove that the victim had been forced to submit by force or threats which put her in fear of serious bodily injury or death.

Judge Perry Pickett overruled the motion.

Midlanders To Attend Meeting

Several Midlanders will attend the 51st Annual West Texas Historical Association meeting scheduled Friday and Saturday on the Texas Tech campus at Lubbock.

The meeting will begin at 2:45 p.m. Friday with a tour of the Ranch Headquarters Museum.

Attending from Midland will be Mrs. Valerie Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hoard, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Stickney and Mrs. John P. McKinley.

Reward Offered For Capture Of Arsonists

McALLEN, Tex. (AP) — A $1,000 reward has been offered by the City of McAllen and the homebuilders association for the arrest and conviction of arsonists, Mayor Jack Whetsell said Tuesday.

Four fires involving possible arson have been reported in the Lower Rio Grande Valley city in the past month. The latest fire occurred early Tuesday when two units of the new Los Amigos townhouses were destroyed. The units were under construction.

Whetsell said two of the earlier fires also involved apartment complexes under construction. The other suspected arson case was at a junior high school.

"We have a problem. We have somebody in town who doesn't have much regard for people's property," Whetsell said.

Where's The Fire!

- 2:57-5:23 p.m. Tuesday, 23 miles southeast of Midland on State 158 and 5 miles south on Farm Road 137 in Glasscock County. Grass fire. Burned about one section of land area. Midland, Garden City, Sterling City, Stanton firemen fought the blaze. Cause unknown.

7:04-7:23 p.m. Tuesday, 5104½ N. Lee St., residence of Victor Armendarez. One-room apartment, contents burned. Heavy damage. Caused by faulty extension cord.

Norwegian Ship Ready To Take On QE2's Passengers

ABOARD THE SEA VENTURE (AP) — The Norwegian cruise ship Sea Venture joined the drifting Queen Elizabeth 2 southwest of Bermuda early today and made preparations to begin taking the stricken liner's 1,642 passengers aboard.

The Sea Venture hove to about 300 yards away from the flagship of the Cunard Lines and awaited the arrival of officers from the QE2 to make arrangements for the transfer of the passengers by lifeboats and launches.

The rendezvous was made about 240 miles southwest of Bermuda.

The sea was calm although there was an overcast, and the temperature was in the 60s.

The mid-ocean transfer was expected to take several hours, and the QE2's passengers were expected to reach Bermuda Thursday.

The Sea Venture was also to transfer tons of diesel fuel for the British liner's emergency generators.

The captain of the Sea Venture said he expected a "very successful operation." He said he had offered to try to tow the liner to Bermuda, but officials of the Cunard Line, the owners of the QE2, decided to call on two tugs from New York.

Lines Still Form For License Plates

Lines are still forming in front of the license plate windows in the county tax office as tag sales run about 5,000 ahead of this time last year, Elmo Linebarger, county tax assessor-collector, said this morning.

There were from 20 to 25 persons in the lines at all times Tuesday but the lines had become smaller this morning.

No accurate count has been made, but Linebarger said there have been about 50,000 sets of 1974 plates sold.

About eight or 10 persons have paid the 20 per cent penalty required if vehicles are driven without '74 plates after midnight last Monday.

Most of the late purchasers are signing affidavits which state they have not driven the vehicles since the deadline passed.

The long lines and heavy sales after the deadline is unusual, according to Linebarger, who said sales normally drop to a trickle within a day after the deadline.

Newspapers Now Exempted From Wage Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council has lifted wage controls for workers in the newspaper industry.

"We have now determined that conditions are such that wages and salaries paid in the newspaper industry should be exempted," Director John T. Dunlop said Tuesday.

He added: "This action is in accordance with our objective to remove controls selectively where conditions permit."

Prices in the newspaper industry were decontrolled March 15 but the council at that time said it was delaying action on wages because important labor negotiations were under way in some cities.

Tuesday's action does not affect executive and variable compensation, which remain subject to Phase 4 controls.

U.S. To Rest Case In Mitchell-Stans Conspiracy Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — One month after it called its first witness, the federal government was scheduled to rest its criminal conspiracy case today against former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and one-time Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans.

Seven or eight minor witnesses were on call for brief testimony, according to the prosecution. But the defense indicated a willingness to stipulate as to the testimony of at least five, making it unnecessary for them to take the witness stand.

extending into other states, covered a 140-mile-wide corridor centered on a line from 50 miles southeast of Tyler to east of Pine Bluff, Ark.

It was a continued siege of wild weather which broke out late Tuesday.

Winds clocked officially up to 74 miles per hour in El Paso—the worst ever in that city—caused minor injuries to two persons and damaged mobile homes, roofs, power lines and trees, The Associated Press reported.

Dust flew late Tuesday over much of the countryside from the New Mexico line eastward to Fort Worth.

Services Today For Mrs. Yates

Services for Mrs. Leonard E. Yates, 30, were to be held at 2 p.m. today in the Newnie W. Ellis Chapel, with the Rev. Elbert Smithen, pastor of Bellview Baptist Church officiating. Interment was to be in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Mrs. Yates died Monday following an apparent heart seizure.

Survivors include her husband, a son, her parents, four brothers and a sister.

Pallbearers were to be C. E. Kennedy, Leon Clark, Charles Hamner, Claude Danford A. B. Montgomery and Gene Jumper.

Tectonics Symposium Starts At Theatre Centre Thursday

The Third Annual Symposium on Global Tectonics, sponsored by the Permian Basin Graduate Center, will get under way here Thursday in Theatre Centre.

An outstanding array of lecturers will be on hand for the three-day symposium which will begin at 8:30 a.m. Thursday and end with a 12:30 p.m. session Saturday.

Dr. Jack Elam, president of the Graduate Center, said persons still can register by contacting the center's office, 563-2311.

"Late arrivals and persons who decide at the last minute, can register at Theatre Centre prior to the beginning of the lectures Thursday," Dr. Elam said.

The symposium's lecturers include Dr. Elam; Dr. John Dewey, State University of New York at Albany; Dr. W. R. Dickinson, Stanford University; Dr. John K. Sales, State University of New York at Oneonta; Dr. Richard Lee Armstrong, the University of British Columbia, and Dr. Clark Burchfiel of Rich University.

Governor Likes Narrow Neckties

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York Gov. Malcolm Wilson, who wears old-fashioned, narrow ties, has received a wide one from an alumni group of his alma mater, Fordham University.

"I want to thank you very much for giving me about two and a half ties," Wilson told the Fordham Club of Northeastern New York. "You'll see it — perhaps in another form."

"I just don't like to wear that much cloth around my neck," Wilson said in explaining his preference for narrow ties.

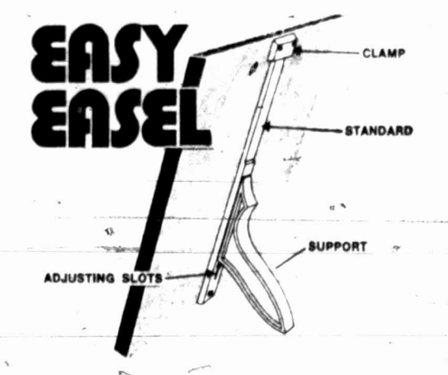

Guzman, Lopez Convicted In Death

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — A 27th District Court jury deliberated only ten minutes today before returning a guilty verdict in the murder trial of Rene Adolfo Guzman and Leonardo Ramos Lopez.

Guzman and Ramos Lopez were charged in the shooting death of William (Donny) Reese, a Dallas County deputy.

Prosecutors rested their case Tuesday night. Defense lawyers declined to call any witnesses.

Allstate Ordered To Pay Dividends Or Leave Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — Insurance Commissioner Don Odum has given Allstate, Texas' second largest auto insurer, a choice: Pay $4 million in disputed policyholder dividends or leave the state.

Allstate, which receives more than $75 million a year from Texas auto policy premiums, said it would appeal Odum's ruling.

Odum said Tuesday the company's certificate to do business in Texas would be canceled if Allstate does not start paying the dividends within 30 days.

Allstate canceled dividends on its expiring policies Oct. 3, 1973, the same day the board granted it the right to reduce its rates on automobile policies below the Texas uniform rates.

Earlier in the year, Allstate had obtained board approved to pay $6.3 million in dividends on policies expiring from June 1, 1973 to May 31, 1974. About $2.3 million in dividends had been paid before Allstate suspended the payments.

Allstate policyholders whose policies expired after Oct. 3 bought their coverage at standard rates, so received neither dividends nor the benefit of reduced premiums. They did receive rate reductions on their new policies if they renewed with Allstate.

Insurance Board chairman Joe Christie said only Allstate engaged in that practice. Other dividend paying companies that reduced their rates also paid dividends on expiring policies, he said.

Odum noted that Allstate customers whose policies expired between June 1 and Oct. 3, 1973 received dividends and said those with coverage expiring after Oct. 3 were victims of "unfair discrimination and unlawful treatment."

Allstate issued a statement saying it believed its action was both legal and fair.

"Our prompt action in moving to lower our auto insurance rates under the new Texas (competitive car insurance) law and to drop the outmoded dividend arrangement is in the best interests of our policyholders. We hope the commissioner's ruling will not discourage other companies from making lower rates available to their customers under the new law," Allstate said.

In addition to losing its license, Allstate will be fined $10,000 if it fails to pay the dividends, Odum said. This would not happen, however, if Allstate wins its appeal.

10 Narcotics Agents Are Acquitted On Charges Of Terrorizing 11 Persons

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — Some of the 10 undercover narcotics officers acquitted on charges of terrorizing 11 persons in drug raids last year claim they were railroaded — and maliciously prosecuted by the Justice Department under pressure from Sen. Charles H. Percy.

The jury deliberated 3½ hours Tuesday night before finding the agents innocent of all charges that they violated the civil rights of the persons whose homes were raided without search warrants.

There was no testimony during the trial to indicate that any drugs were found during the six raids.

Residents Manhandled

The prosecution charged that agents manhandled some of the residents of the raided homes and threatened some with guns.

As U.S. District Court Judge Omer Poos read the last of the verdicts, the seven federal officers and three St. Louis policemen cheered, shook hands and embraced their families and friends. Some wept.

Percy, an Illinois Republican, conducted Senate hearings in Chicago last spring on the six Illinois raids, taking testimony only from those whose homes were raided.

David Schippers, one of the defense attorneys and a former head of a Justice Department organized crime strike force in Chicago, said Percy "wants to be president of the United States and he doesn't know enough to listen to both sides.

"It was a railroad job by the Justice Department. They were railroaded."

'Indicted Maliciously'

Kenneth R. Bloemker, one of the federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs agents on trial, said, "I think we were indicted maliciously." He also charged that Percy "jumped on the bandwagon because he has some presidential aspirations."

There was no immediate comment from Percy.

Five related charges pending against the agents as a result of the raids are not likely to be prosecuted, a government lawyer said after the verdict. Those charges included perjury before the grand jury and an attempt to cover up the raids.

In closing arguments, defense attorneys said the decision would signal drug pushers and police how effective narcotics law enforcement will be.

"They are on trial for doing their duty," Schippers said.

Prosecutors countered that the decision will determine whether narcotics agents may bend the Constitution if they think the means of their investigations justify the ends.

Although the agents acknowledged they had no arrest or search warrants, they said they had enough reason to believe illegal drugs were in the homes to enter them to make arrests. The raids climaxed a seven-month probe of St. Louis-area cocaine traffic.

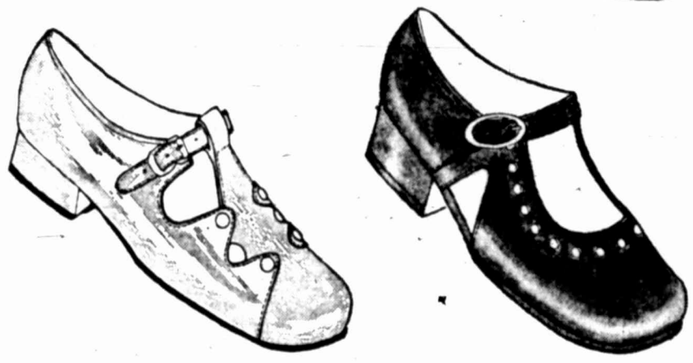

Acquitted with Bloemker were federal narcotics agents Dennis Moriarty, Dennis W. Harker, Michael Hillebrand, Leon Phillips, William C. Dwyer and Calvin Culp and St. Louis policemen Ronald J. Olive, Daniel J. Duffy and Donald W. Spicer.

Permian Topples Lee By 9-5

WEST RETURNS — Jerry West (44) Los Angeles Laker great, dribbles around Milwaukee's Jon McGlocklin in Tuesday night's NBA playoff game in Los Angeles. West has been out a long time with an injury. The Lakers won, 98-96 in a real thriller. (AP Wirephoto.)

Will Aaron Be Playing?

CINCINNATI (AP) — Will he or won't he? The answer to the Great Henry Aaron Debate is only hours away.

The Atlanta Braves' home run artist arrives with his team today amid a swirling controversy over whether he'll play in Thursday's baseball season opener or in the remaining two games of the series.

An announcement on the decision is likely to come at Thursday's 10:30 a.m. CDT press conference. Aaron and Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn will be in attendance.

Aaron, on the threshold of eclipsing one of the most hallowed records of all time, has been a raging topic of debate this spring since the Braves announced he would likely be kept out of the lineup until the club returns to Atlanta.

Panthers Stage Rally In Sixth To Capture Wind-Blown Contest

By BOB DILLON
R-T Sports Writer

ODESSA — Despite having to chase down caps and rubbing sand and dirt from the eyes, Midland Lee and Odessa Permain put on a District 5-4A doneybrook in a wind-blown baseball game Tuesday with the Panthers coming out on top with a 9-5 victory over the Rebels.

It almost came down to which team could get the ball into the blustery winds just out of curiosity to see where it might land.

Coach Gene McCanlies' Panthers broke open a 5-5 tie in the bottom of the sixth inning to score four runs to nail down the victory which clinches a tie for the first half crown. Permian is now 5-0 while Lee drops to a 3-2 reading with two games left in the first half of the race.

Fighting winds of 35 miles per hour, with gusts up to 48 m.p.h., both teams were able to use the wind to advantage. Lee Coach Ernie Johnson viewed the loss realistically. "They (Permian) had to play in the wind too and we didn't get the hitting we needed to win," said a disappointed Johnson afterwards.

Junior Alex Kager scattered six Rebel hits in chalking up his seventh win of the year against no losses and a four-run first inning by the Panthers off starter Jay Frazier didn't hurt matters for the righthander.

Lee threatened in the top of the first when leadoff hitter Blain Murray singled and stole second, but Kager got Brett Blackwell to line out to Ray Nunez in left, Larry Tidwell on a popup to catcher Rusty Breazeale and Bobby Stevens to tap back to the mound.

Frazier struck out Panther leadoff hitter Larry Blecher, but Bobby Inzer singled into left and Mark Chelette followed with a base hit past third. It looked like Frazier might get out of the jam when he got Breazeale to pop out to third, but Greg Austin, who had three hits in three trips to the plate, singled in Inzer and Nunez also singled in a run for a 2-0 lead. Kager slammed a long drive into right-center that went for a two-run triple and a 4-0 Permian lead.

Lee cut the Panther lead to 4-2 in the second inning. David Clingman walked and Javier Torres doubled him to third. Clingman scored on a sacrifice fly by Steve Koch to left and Torres raced home when a throwing error by Austin got away from Chelette at third.

With only two hits to their credit, the Rebels stormed back to take a 5-4 lead in the fifth inning. Pinch-hitter Rusty Laughlin rammed a triple into the power alley in right-center and the sophomore scored on a groundout by Murray to deep third to make it 5-3. Blackwell

Six-Year Venture Ends With Short

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)— Bob Short says his six-year venture into professional baseball was a "break-even" matter financially after he made a $5 million profit off the Los Angeles Lakers in basketball.

Short, a Minneapolis trucking baron, sold the Texas Rangers of the American League for $10 million Tuesday to a Dallas-Fort Worth group headed by industrialist Brad Corbett, but retained 10 per cent of the club.

"I paid $9.4 million for the (baseball) team and it was almost a break-even situation," Short said after a news conference. "It was great I didn't go under. Now, when I sold the Lakers it was almost all profit. The sale price was $5.175 million and most all of it was profit."

Short, who lost $1 million in the two years the Rangers were in Texas, said "I wish I could have done better by myself."

Short added, "I have great joy but some misgivings in making the announcement. I did everything I could in Washington to make the team a success, and I wouldn't stay with this group if I didn't believe it eventually will pay dividends."

He said, "I'll stay in at least a full year and I might be in forever. It just depends on how things go. A million dollars is still a lot of money to me."

Short drew the wrath of the Washington, D.C., press and some club owners when he moved the team from the nation's capital to Texas.

"I feel metroplex ownership of the team will give it a big boost," Short said. "It's good it is now locally owned."

Corbett of Fort Worth, who parlayed a $300,000 loan from the Small Business Administration in 1967 into a company that reported sales of $55 million in 1973, said, "I come from the Bronx and grew up in the shadows of Yankee Stadium. It's always been a dream to own a major league team."

Midland Bowlers Seek State Meet

Six bowling teams and a contingent of representatives of the Midland Men's Bowling Association will be in Austin this weekend for the 42nd annual Texas State Bowling Association convention to lay the ground work for obtaining the 1977 state tournament for Midland.

Members of the association to make the trip include Raymond Nicholas, president; Jack Francis, secretary-treasurer; vice presidents Buster Davis, Jack Moore and Bill Milner; directors Ken Baker and Eddie Krup and life members C. G. Wells and A. E. Patterson.

The six bowling teams will be entered in the bowling tournament Saturday and Sunday.

Smith's Homer Paces Midland

The Midland Reporter-Telegram
SPORTS
1B—WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3, 1974

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

The Midland High Bulldogs are beginning to get a good feeling about Tuesdays despite the obstacles the lucky day creates. The Tuesday sluggers broke loose with 11 hits at Memorial Stadium diamond to thump the Odessa High Bronchos, 8-4, in a wind marred District 5-4A baseball contest.

The wind was blowing in gusts of up to 40 miles an hour and many of the Bulldog boosters on hand were beginning to wonder if the infield dirt would last long enough to finish the game. The Bulldogs seemed to be little concerned about the strong wind, however, after moving out of the 5-4A cellar with the convincing victory — after all it was Tuesday.

Last Tuesday, the Pack erupted for 12 hits against Abilene, and this week's 11-hit performance moved the Bulldogs around the bases with a flurry. The only trouble is that the Dogs have to play on Saturday also, so they now stand at 2-3 in loop play and have to face the Cooper Cougars on Saturday.

There were plenty of heroes for the Bulldogs Tuesday against the Red Hosses, but the bat of Bruce Smith and the route going hill performance of Jeff Cole seemed to stand out above all the rest.

Smith belted a solo homer in the first inning and drove in a run in the important third while Cole deserves special recognition for just lasting through seven frames. Cole was pitching into the teeth of the vicious wind, and did allow nine hits, but with the exception of the first and third innings, Odessa did little damage to the curve balling specialist.

Odessa erupted for two runs in the first inning with a 360 foot wind blown blast over center fielder Brandon Battles' head by Mike Fambro for a four bagger, and a run scoring single by Garland Reid.

Smith narrowed the gap in the bottom of the frame, however, with a towering drive over the right center field fence.

The Bronchos got two more markers for a 4-1 lead in the top of the third when Derrill Eubanks scored from first base on a single by Reid. Reid's hit to right got past Smith, allowing Eubanks to scamper around the bases and Reid ended up on third. Reid then scored on a single by catcher James Lunsford.

For all practical purposes, Midland won the game in the bottom of the third when the Pack put together five straight singles which netted four runs and the lead.

With one out, Battles and Terry Copeland drilled singles to start the attack. Smith drove a single to left to score Battles from second, Alan Buonasera knocked in Copeland with a safety to center and first baseman Karl Brosig put the lid on the scoring attack with a bloop hit to left which scored Smith and Buonasera.

Clellan Pearce opened the Bulldog fourth with infield safety and moved to second on an overthrow by Gaylen Fisher, the Broncho second baseman. Pearce scored on a single to right by Battles.

Battles moved to second on a wild pitch and came riding home on Bounasera's hit to left.

Cole helped his own cause with a double to open the Bulldog fifth and scored on Pearce's second single of the day to wrap up the scoring.

BULLDOG BITES: Losing pitcher Don Hudnall lasted only 2 1-3 innings against the Pack hitters. Hudnall came into the game with a 3-1 mark and had given up only two earned runs in district. He also had a no-hitter to his credit against Ector this year, but the Bulldogs raked him for six hits and five runs, all earned. Cole is now 3-3 on the year.

Buffalo, Lakers Take Victories

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

Some people would be satisfied with the improvement the Buffalo Braves have shown this season. They doubled their victory total in the regular season from 21 to 42, turned last season's National Basketball Association's Rookie of the Year Bob McAdoo into the NBA's leading scorer, and on and on.

But suddenly, the young Braves are throwing a scare into the Boston Celtics in their Eastern Conference semifinal playoff series. Buffalo's 115-105 triumph in Buffalo Tuesday night evened the series at one victory apiece, and the fourth-year club appears to be gaining confidence with each game.

The Celtics had defeated the Braves in five of their seven regular season games and in Saturday's opener in Boston.

In the other NBA playoffs, the Los Angeles Lakers trimmed the Milwaukee Bucks 98-96, and the Capital Bullets downed the New York Knicks 88-79.

There were no playoff games scheduled in the American Basketball Association.

"I think we can beat them when we play our game," said rookie guard Ernie DiGregorio, who had 18 points in a balanced Buffalo scoring attack. "The big thing is, we have to play defense."

McAdoo, who led the Braves with 23 points, doesn't seem worried about that. "It's the toughest defense we've played this year," he said.

The Celtics, led Tuesday night by Jo Jo White's 27 points, Don Nelson's 21 and John Havlicek's 20, have the extra game at home in the series.

Lakers 98, Bucks 96

Elmore Smith, traded earlier in the season from Buffalo to Los Angeles, scored 30 points and grabbed 17 rebounds to help Los Angeles trim Milwaukee and cut the Bucks' series lead to 2-1.

Smith outscored Milwaukee center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar by a point and collected two more rebounds in a game which saw a brief return to action by the Lakers injury-plagued star guard Jerry West, who finished with four points.

Bullets 88, Knicks 79

Capital took a 2-1 lead in their series with New York behind a 22-point performance by little Kevin Porter on the Knicks' home court.

In the other NBA playoff, the Chicago Bulls and Detroit Pistons resume their deadlocked Western Conference semifinal with Game Three at Chicago Friday night.

In the American Basketball Association, the New York Nets take a 2-0 lead to Hampton, Va., for Thursday night's third game against the Squires and Kentucky leads Carolina 1-0 entering tonight's second game in the East Division series.

The Utah Stars own a 2-0 advantage while travelling to San Diego for game three and four tonight and Thursday night against the Conquistadors and the Indiana Pacers-San Antonio Spurs series is one-all going into tonight's third game at San Antonio in the West Division semifinals.

Suffolk Still Closed

BOSTON (AP) — The shut down of Suffolk Downs race track has gone into its third day, and the Massachusetts Mutuel Clerks Guild is prepared for a long seige, says business agent Joseph Arena.

Steers, Eagles Capture District 5-4A Victories

Coach Larry Horton's Big Spring Steers busted loose for 17 hits Tuesday to down Abilene Cooper, 11-10 in eight innings while San Angelo dropped a 3-0 decision to Abilene despite a one-hitter by Keith Ellwanger.

Monte Harris pitched his second shutout of the District 5-4A race for the Eagles in tossing a two-hitter. Harris walked none and struck out 12 Bobcats while Ellwanger issued two walks and fanned eight.

Abilene scored two runs in the first inning and added another in the sixth to give the Warbirds a 3-2 loop record compared to San Angelo's 2-3 reading.

Six homers sailed out of Steer Park in gusty winds with John Thomas Smith, winning Big Spring pitcher slamming two and Don Canning another along with four runs batted in. John Morelion snapped out of a slump with three hits for the winners.

Ray Baber, Alan Lakatta, the losing pitcher and Kennedy hit homers for the Cougars who are 2-3. Big Spring is also 2-3 in 5-4A play.

followed with a solid hit up the middle, but Tidwell flew out to left. Kager's pickoff throw to first bounced into the dirt with Blackwell racing to second on the miscue. Stevens then ripped a two-one pitch over the fence in left for a 5-4 Rebel lead.

Permian came back to tie the game when Austin's routine fly ball into right, suddenly took off over Torres' head with a gust of wind and dropped in for a triple. Nunez drove in Austin with a long drive to center which almost went over the fence.

The Rebs got runners as far as first and third in the sixth inning, but failed to score on a walk to Torres along with an error by Kager on Frazier's slow roller down the third base line, but Murray grounded to third where Chelette made a strong throw to first for the third out.

Then came the fatal sixth inning as Permian tallied four runs to ice the contest. Larry Lovera tripled when Torres came in too far on his fly into right, Belcher struck out swinging and Inzer dropped a blooper just over second where Koch threw low at the plate with Lovera scoring on the error. Chelette also singled and a throwing error by Murray gave the Black Cats another run and a 7-5 lead. Breazeale then doubled into deep center to score Chelette and Eddie McNeal came in to relieve Frazier with Austin getting a hit off Hankinson's glove at third with Breazeale scoring. McNeal got Nunez on a pop fly to Blackwell and Torres gloved a long drive off the bat of Kager at the fence in right for the third out.

Blackwell started off the Lee seventh with a sharp single, but Tidwell lined out to second and Kager struck out Stevens and Clingman looking, to end the game.

Lee is now 13-4 on the season while Permain stands 11-1. The Rebels travel to Abilene Saturday for a date with the Eagles while Permian entertains San Angelo.

Irving Defeats Lee Girls

ABILENE — The Midland Lee girls volleyball team fell to defending Class AAAA champion Irving in a bi-district playoff in the Cooper High Gymnasium Tuesday.

The Rebels dropped the first game, 15-7, but battled back to upend the Tigers, 14-5 in the second game with a strong comeback, but lost the final game, 14-12.

After being behind 10-4, Lee fought back to tie the third and deciding game 10-10, but Irving scored two points after time had run out for it's 14-12 win and the bi-district crown.

Lee winds up the season with a final 18-7 record and has five or the 10-girl squad back next season, according to Coach Linda Weikel.

Graduating will be Tana Hill, Cindy Hudgens, Karen Johnson, Trisha Kubik and Willie Lane, while Lezlie Frith, Jancie Goodley, Kathy Jennings and Liz Whiteside return for the 1974-75 season.

Irving faces Pampa next in the regional playoffs this weekend with the winner advancing to state the following weekend.

Aluminum Bats Hot

TULLAHOMA, Tenn. (AP) — An executive for a company that manufactures aluminum baseball bats says sales this spring are up 60 per cent.

Fred Juer, president of the bat division of Lannom Manufacturing, said sales of wooden bats are also up — by 20 per cent.

Bramlett Cops Prize

Sandy Bramlett won the Womens' Singles Tennis Tournament last weekend at the Elks' courts with a 6-2, 6-0 win over Pam Parrish.

Dee Hines defeated Betty Buonasera, 6-2, 7-5, to win consolation honors and the B Division championship prize went to Barbara Waller with a 7-5, 6-3 win over Maxine Schreiner. B Consolation honors went to Shirley Swanson with a 6-1, 6-0 victory over Kaki Warren.

Ford Set To Start

Cincy, Atlanta Open Thursday

By ANDY LIPPMAN
AP Sports Writer

Gerald Ford and Jack Billingham have both been announced as starters for Thursday's major league baseball opener between the Cincinnati Reds and the Atlanta Braves in Atlanta.

But the vice president has a big advantage. He doesn't have to worry about serving up Hank Aaron's 714th home run.

"Everybody in the place is going to give him a standing ovation when he comes up to bat. My stomach is probably going to turn over a couple of times and I'll swallow hard. Then I'll have to get down to business," said the lanky Cincinnati pitcher who has given up five homers to Aaron in his career.

There's no indication that Aaron will definitely be in the Braves' line-up to continue his pursuit of Babe Ruth's career homer mark, other than Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's recent memo that he expected the 40-year-old star to make an appearance.

But if the homer does come, Billingham says it won't be the end of the world.

"It's not something that's going to haunt me the rest of my life," Billingham said. "Nobody will remember it a month later."

Ford was named as the White House starter for the opener, accepting an invitation from Kuhn and Reds' President Bob Howsam.

In exhibition games Tuesday, Minnesota bombed Boston 13-0, a split Philadelphia Phillies squad lost to Pittsburgh 10-2, while another squad beat the St. Louis Cardinals 8-4, the Chicago White Sox beat the Reds 7-6, the Milwaukee Brewers trimmed the Chicago Cubs 11-10, the New York Mets blanked the New York Yankees 3-0, the Detroit Tigers beat the Houston Astros 4-2, the Atlanta Braves edged the Baltimore Orioles 3-2, the California Angels beat University of Southern California 8-5, and Los Angeles Dodgers beat San Francisco 10-8.

The game between Montreal and Kansas City was called off because of rain.

The ball Ford throws out won't be worth anything near what the record-breaking ball hit out of the park by Aaron will bring. Spalding, whose baseballs are used by both major leagues, got into the ball bidding business Tuesday, offering $15,000 for the ball Aaron hits for No. 715.

Meanwhile, the Texas Rangers were sold by Bob Short to a Dallas-Fort Worth group for $10 million.

Short, who retained 10 per cent of the team, said, "I did everything I could in Washington to make the team a success, and I wouldn't stay with this team if I didn't believe it eventually will pay dividends."

Chicago Cubs pitcher Milt Pappas topped a list of several players who were trimmed by clubs shuffling their rosters in preparation for opening-day play.

Pappas, 34, is one victory shy of becoming the third pitcher to notch 100 victories in each league. While pitching in the American League, he compiled 110 victories, while he has won 99 games in the National League.

Meetings This Week Hold Fate Of Cubs

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — Our first morning at Eldorado Park, we knew it was the Midland Cubs, because Manager Walt Dixon was overseeing the scene, but among the players taking calisthenics in the outfield, the familiar faces were few and far between.

Pitcher Budd Schultz was there and so was infielder Bill Huisman and before long outfielder Joe Wallis and first baseman Jerry Tabb were spotted.

"We're taking it easy this morning," Walt explained. "They've been working pretty hard so we'll have infield, skip batting practice and then play our game with Birmingham this afternoon."

Later the pitchers were to talk Walt into letting them do their "running." It's a game where only the pitchers bat lob pitches from assorted infielders and outfielders and run directly to second, third and home. If a player breaks for first, his side is automaticaly retired.

It's an easy way to get in the running since the overall effect is a baseball-version of slow pitch softball. The action is fast and furious and it takes only a few minutes to play several innings.

* * *

Walt pointed to one pitcher and said, "That's Don Douglas, he pitched for me last year at Quincy. I think he's one of two pro athletes ever produced by Amherst College. He had a degree in Anthropology."

"He said Amherst is the kind of school where the alumni grumbled about becoming a 'football factory' when one of their football players (Jean Fuggit of Dallas) signed a pro contract a couple of years ago. They didn't like it.

"Last winter Don tended bar in Quincy."

On the first week of spring training, Walt commented, "I think we're the second best club in the Chicago minor league system. Saturday we beat Wichita, 9-7, but Key West beat us pretty easily earlier in the week, so I guess that makes them best."

The Cubs were 2-5 after Sunday's loss to Birmingham, but Walt has been around spring training camps long enough to take it in stride. He knows a lot of changes in the rosters of the Chicago farm clubs will be made this week.

Consequently, Walt preferred to remain non-committal concerning personnel and eventual placement of players.

Still, among the players, who don't need a computer to add up two-and-two, there's an awareness that there's an awful lot of talent on the major league and AAA Wichita club that will have to play somewhere.

Off-season trades at the major league and higher minor league level has created a situation where there may not be enough super stars to win a pennant, but there are more players with future potential than in previous years.

Relief pitcher Mike Young said it looks to him like "They've loaded up." And as the Wichita players, most of them ex-Midland Cubs, drifted over from the other diamond, one got the impression that none felt too secure about what the meetings of the Chicago heirarchy, roving coaches and managers might hold.

WFL Grabs Off Two Top Draft Choices

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

Long months remain before the football season opens officially, but the way things have been going in the offseason, the games could prove an anticlimax.

The National Football League, made more fully aware of the World Football League by the bombshell signings of the three Miami Dolphin stars Sunday, reached deep into its pocketbook Tuesday and came up with two first-round draft choices.

Massive defensive tackle Carl Barzilauskas agreed to terms with the American Conference New York Jets for a three-year contract reported as high as $650,000, while the Chicago Bears signed No. 1 choice Waymond Bryant of Tennessee State — a linebacker.

In both cases, the WFL made strong overtures to the college stars, only to lose in the bargaining through doubts that it — regardless of Messrs. Csonka, Warfield and Kiick — will prove itself viable this summer.

"I put a lot of emphasis on playing in the NFL," said Barzilauskas, who jumped to the WFL Birmingham Americans — starting with the 1976 season — for a multi-year contract one agent said made him the highest-paid player in the sport's history.

Bryant, the second-round pick of the Washington-Baltimore Ambassadors. "We had doubts the WFL would get off the ground."

Barzilauskas, 6-foot-6 and 265 pounds, felt the same way. The offer from the New York Stars was termed "substantial" by the big tackle's lawyer, and covered fewer years, but Barzilauskas expressed concern over the numerous franchise shifts the WFL already has suffered.

That fact apparently didn't matter to Oakland Raider veteran quarterback Ken Stabler, who jumped to the WFL Birmingham Americans — starting with the 1976 season — for a multi-year contract one agent said made him the highest-paid player in the sport's history.

It wasn't the money that brought about the move. "Getting back to the South was pretty important to me," said the 27-year-old — the AFC's leading passer last season and engineer of a 9-4-1 playoff season for the Raiders.

"I was born in the South, raised in the South, played football in the South (at Alabama), and I'd like to continue to do so."

But money may draw five starting players from the Baltimore Colts to the WFL as it did former All-Pro wide receiver Gary Collins to the Ambassadors and Houston Oilers quarterback Ed Hargett to the Honolulu Hawaiians Tuesday.

Baltimore linebackers Mike Curtis and Ted Hendricks, defensive end Roy Hilton, running back Don McCauley and safety Rick Volk all are in the option year of their contracts and have expressed readiness to jump.

POST 8-3 VICTORY—

M-Cubs Rip Caps On Four Homers

By TED BATTLES

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — It's almost miraculous what a few strong arms and some live bats can do for a ball club.

Going into Tuesday's game with Shreveport of the Texas League, Midland's Cubs were a 2-6 in Cactus League competition when Manager Walt Dixon decided to look at some of his fine-looking pitching prospects. The result was an 8-3 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers' farmhands at windbuffeted Eldorado Park.

The Cubs spotted veteran-studded Shreveport a 2-0 lead in the second and then stormed to their third exhibition win with a four-homer barrage as Doug Carvahlo, Bill Huisman, Jerry Tabb and Joe Wallis connected.

As a result of some upper level meetings that shook talent down from above, the Cubs are a lot closer to the squad that will come to Midland than they had been for the first eight games.

In the lineup for the first time were shortstop Alfredo Zavala, catcher Steve Haug and former Major League outfielder Jose Ortiz, who shared DH chores with Wayne Tyrone.

Zavala, picked up on a trade with Pittsburgh a few weeks ago, debuted with three doubles joining outfielder Earl Chew and Carvahlo with three-hit afternoons.

But even without the hitting the pitching would have made this a good day for the Cubs.

Donnie Moore, a No. 1 draft pick from Lubbock Monterey and Ranger Junior College, picked up the win with one-hit pitching over the middle three innings. David Geisel, a 6-3, 209-pound lefthander from Windber, Pa., who was a No. 5 draft pick last summer, finished up in two-hit style, notching four strikeouts with a fast ball that left Shreveport batters muttering to themselves.

Even though nicked for both runs in the second, Don Douglas, a lefthander bartender with the anthropolgy major from Amherst College, was impressive.

Tabb, who had two hits in his first 15 trips, has really come to life in the last three games going six-for-13. His homer in the third behind a Zavala double tied the score and when it disappeared behind the canal behind right field appeared headed for the Superstition Mountains.

Chew's leadoff single in the fourth was followed by back-to-back homers by Carvahlo and Husiman.

Wallis' leadoff homer in the seventh inning scared the daylights out of some youngsters swinging on playground monkey bars well behind the center field fence.

Midland got it's eighth run in the eighth on Huisman's double and a single to right by Greg Collins, the Vanderbilt huskie.

CUBS BRIEFS: Geisel didn't sign until after the 1973 season so he doesn't have any pro experience, but Chicago thought enough of him to pitch him in some early exhibitions. Ortiz thought enough of him after watching him shake a few knees with his fast one, to predict that he would be in the Majors in two or three years. . .With Zavala joining the club, Julio Gonzales moves to third and young Ken Plewitt was farmed to Key West. . .Gary Junge, married during the off season, joined Midland from Wichita and Frank Siedlecki plagued last year by a sore arm, was released. . .Zavala played for the Pirates farm team at Sherbrooke in the AA Eastern League last year. . .Carvahlo who had a single, double, two triples and a homer against Wichita Saturday, knocked in three runs.

Cougars Defeat Knights

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"I played goal, defense and forward in my sleep last night, and I woke up this morning a wreck," said Chicago Cougar Player-Coach Pat Stapleton.

"We all felt we had to make the playoffs because if you don't, nobody pays any attention to the good season you had," Stapleton said Tuesday night after the Cougars defeated the Jersey Knights 7-3 to clinch a spot in the World Hockey Association playoffs.

Jan Popiel scored three goals in the victory, as Chicago moved to an insourmountable 4-0 lead going into the final period.

The Cougars will play either New England or Toronto in the first round of the East playoffs this coming weekend.

In the other WHA game, the Toronto Toros nipped Edmonton 3-2.

In the National Hockey League, the New York Islanders beat Pittsburgh 3-2, Philadelphia stormed Minnesota 6-3, and St. Louis defeated California 5-3.

Toros 3, Oilers 2

Wayne Carleton got two goals, including the game winner, to lead the Toros. The Toros jumped to a 2-0 first-period lead on Carleton's first goal and another by Gavin Kirk.

Ken Baird scored both of Edmonton's goals, tying the game at 2-2 with his second tally at 12:49 of the final frame.

Islanders 3, Penguins 2

Bobby Nystron scored the winning goal from the left slot at 6:25 of the third period and Ralph Stewart got two goals to lead the last-place Islanders.

It was the Islanders first-ever victory over the Penguins.

Flyers 6, North Stars 3

The game went into the final period tied 3-3, but Bill Flett, Ross Lonsberry and Dave Schultz scored less than five minutes apart to give the league-leading Flyers their 108th point, a West Division record.

The game was the 930th and last NHL contest for Minnesota goalie Gump Worsley, who has announced that he will retire at the end of the season.

Blues 5, Seals 3

Floyd Thompson and Dave Gardner scored third-period goals to pace St. Louis.

It was California's 53rd loss of the year, equalling their poorest season ever in 1970-71.

HOROSCOPE

by Carroll Righter

(Apr. 4)

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when you could have all sorts of troubles with work you have to do. Don't grumble or be critical. Be considerate and sidestep a tendency to feel you are being absurd. Patience and a smile relieve tensions now.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Don't be rude with others just because you are in a bad mood or you get into further trouble. Keep busy with work you have to do.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) If you become more optimistic you will be able to handle a problematical affair very well and wisely. Show others encouragement.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Do something about a tense situation at home. Be tactful and you get fine results. Assume a more cheerful attitude toward others.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Exercise care in motion and avoid possible trouble at this time. Listen to ideas of one who is interested in your welfare.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't force your way into a situation that is not good for you anyway. Try to be more economical. Save time for worthwhile person.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't act too hastily now or you could get into a lot of trouble. A smile is your best weapon against adversaries at this time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Secret dealings with others is your best mode of procedure now if you want good results. Attend some group affair this evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Use patience with good friends who are out of sorts right now. Know exactly what your aims are and go after them intelligently.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Handling outside affairs with much care is very important now. Gain support of a bigwig who can be helpful to your advancement.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Your ideas for growth are fine, but they need more study before putting them in operation. Take that chip off your shoulder.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You want to delve into those duties ahead of you, which is fine, but you may find they are more complicated than you realize.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Some associates are sarcastic and demanding so keep quiet until they get rid of their hangups and all goes smoothly again.

BONUS LIVING APARTMENTS

VALENCIA VILLAS

the longer you stay the less you pay

Introducing BONUS LIVING . . . the newest idea in apartment rentals. Earn your way to lower rents by staying longer in your apartment. The chart at right shows how BONUS LIVING works. Select the rent you'd like to pay and sign a lease for that period of time. Pay the single monthly rate (see col. A on chart) and earn an additional 1, 2 weeks, or 1 or 2 months rent free, as a bonus. The net monthly cost to you is lower because of the additional earned living in the various lease categories. The longer you stay the less you pay . . .

- 1 or 2 bedroom apartments Furnished or unfurnished
- Individual heating and cooling units and hot water heaters
- Private patios and balconies
- Swimming pool and tennis court
- Shag carpet
- Ample closets
- Total Electric G. E. kitchens with dishwashers, disposals, stoves and refrigerators

Dear Abby

'Doggie Bagger' Takes The Cake (And Carrots)

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Can you explain why a wealthy woman, when eating out, always takes home the leftover dinner rolls, carrot sticks, crackers and anything else that's served and isn't eaten?

This lady is very generous where charity is concerned.

We are four women who meet once a week for bridge and lunch, and her conduct puzzles me.

I can understand a "doggie bag" for leftover portions of meat, but what about taking home every morsel of edible food on the table?

On occasion we all meet with our husbands, and when this woman asked my husband for his leftover carrot sticks to take home, he thought she was kidding. Yet her husband seemed indifferent. How do you figure this?

AMAZED

DEAR AMAZED: The lady can't bear to see anything wasted. (There are many people who, if they had the courage, would collect all the leftovers.) There is nothing wrong with it. If she were poor, she'd be "chintzy." But since she's rich, she's "eccentric."

DEAR ABBY: My wife passed away three months ago. She was 52, and a wonderful woman. My children are married and have homes of their own. My mother-in-law is constantly plying me with advice. Example: "Don't ever marry again. All women are gold diggers. All they want is your money."

Abby, my life seems so empty. I don't know anyone I want to date, but my mother-in-law's constant harping on the subject has made me think about it.

How long a mourning period should be observed in my case? How soon is "too soon" to seek female companionship? Would my dating before a year be considered disrespectful to the memory of my late wife?

Our marriage was a happy one and we had 30 good years, but I think 55 is too young to resign myself to a life alone. What do you think?

LONELY

DEAR LONELY: It's your life, obviously not that of your departed wife or certainly not that of your mother-in-law, that counts. If you dislike living alone, do something about it and don't worry about what others think. Who named them as your judge?

DEAR ABBY: My son and his wife have been married for three years. They are both bleeding heart liberals and miss no opportunity to announce that they have no children because they don't want any!

I believe their decision to have no children is a very selfish one. The Good Book implores us to "Go forth and multiply." Our son is an only child, and my heart is broken because he is depriving us of the pleasure of being grandparents.

Do you blame us for feeling . . .

DEPRIVED

DEAR DEPRIVED: I don't "blame" you, but I don't agree that your son and his wife should have children because you want to be grandparents.

Couples who remain childless by choice shouldn't be made to feel guilty. When the writers of the Good Book implored us to go forth and multiply, the world needed more people. Not so today. Quite the contrary.

Government Orders To Buy Ground Beef Require It To Be Made From Premium Cuts Of Meat Only

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government orders to meat packers show the Nixon administration's $45 million plan to buy super-grade ground beef for school lunches was carefully designed to require it be made from premium cuts of meat.

The objective, according to Agriculture Department sources, is to use up top cuts from as many grain-fattened animals as the traffic will bear. The forthcoming hamburger purchases were disclosed at the White House March 26.

Specifications Sent

Two days later the USDA, without making details public, quietly sent the high-grade hamburger specifications to meat packers. The firms include prospective suppliers who will submit bid offers to the department April 9 and each week thereafter until the $45 million campaign is completed.

A copy of the specifications were made available by the department to The Associated Press upon request. Meat packers were told the hamburger beef must consist of "U.S. Choice Grade or higher" and that substantial portions must come from cuts that provide round steak and roasts consumers buy in supermarkets.

Also, the instructions said, cheaper parts of the beef carcasses such as "flanks, briskets, short plates and shanks" must be federally certified as coming from parts of the same high-grade carcasses. In earlier school lunch hamburger orders, USDA allowed the beef to come from low-grade, cheaper animals such as worn out dairy cows and grass fattened stock.

One USDA spokesman, asking not to be identified, said the meat "will not be from the kind of beef you'd buy to take home and grind up for hamburger unless you're rich."

Although the $45 million is not expected to require beef from more than one day's normal cattle kill nationally, the high quality of hamburger specified will require a higher number of carcasses and thus help drain off a temporary glut of animals fattened for market.

Meantime, Congress was told Tuesday that consumers have seen beef prices come down sharply from winter records and that there is hope for farmers that cattle prices will improve.

J. Dawson Ahalt, USDA staff economist, told a House agriculture subcommittee that chain stores are now featuring beef specials and that those retail prices "seem to be rapidly approaching" levels of last fall when live cattle prices were about what they are now.

"We believe the cattle market has bottomed out and that there should be a general uptrend in the months ahead," Ahalt said.

But he warned "we may see some rise in retail prices" later this spring. However, he said those increases "will be more moderate than the unusually sharp 12 per cent rise from December to February."

Thus, if Ahalt is correct, USDA will be making its premium hamburger purchases at a time when it expects retail beef prices to be rising again.

Detective Faces Bribery Charge

HOUSTON (AP) — A private detective, Joe David Williams, 27, was charged Tuesday with bribing a police officer.

Capt. I. H. Levrier of the accident division charged that Williams offered one of his patrolmen, J. R. Lawrence, $7.50 per report to obtain copies of accident reports quickly.

Levrier said Lawrence reported the alleged offer, then met twice with Williams. Each time he was wired with a radio transmitting device, Levrier said.

Little Confirmed As Fire Chief

HOUSTON (AP) — The City Council Tuesday by a unanimous vote confirmed John S. Little as fire chief. Little was named to the post Monday by Mayor Fred Hofheinz.

Hofheinz had previously selected retired chief W. O. Hunter. But the councilmen rejected Hunter because he had not been serving in the department for two years, as city ordinances require.

Little has been a district fire chief with the department.

Arguments Set In Carr-Osorio Trial

DALLAS (AP)—Final arguments were to be heard today in the fraud-conspiracy trial of Waggoner Carr, John Osorio and David Hoover.

Prosecutors indicated Tuesday the morning session would be used for preparing the court's charge to the jury with the afternoon session devoted to closing arguments by both defense and prosecuting lawyers.

Under cross-examination Tuesday, rebuttal witness Tom Max Thomas said Osorio once instructed him to alter stock certificates of RIC International so they could be used as bank loan collateral.

Osorio was once Texas insurance commissioner and president of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. Carr, a former Texas attorney general and former head officer of RIC, has been assisting in his own defense. Hoover is a Dallas businessman.

Verbal Exchange

Thomas, who was treasurer of NBL in the spring of 1970, testified Osorio told him by telephone to remove the labels on restricted and unregistered RIC stock to ease its use as bank loan collateral.

The essence of the government's allegation is that the trio illegally used the RIC stock to plunder banks of unsecured loans.

Osorio's lawyer, Emmett Colvin, waded into a testy verbal exchange with Thomas, occasionally causing U.S. District Court Judge William Taylor to rebuke them.

Colvin introduced an expert witness Monday who said his professional opinion is two letters incriminating to Osorio, purported to bear his signature, were forgeries. The letters indicated Osorio had requested removal of the restricted labels.

But Thomas testified Tuesday that Osorio's secretary, Peggy Crabb, often signed Osorio's letters, presumably with his approval.

Hike-Bike-Ride Entry Deadline Thursday Afternoon

Deadline for entering the annual Hike-Bike-Ride competition is 5 p.m. Thursday, Judy Rankin, co-chairman of the Midland Association for Retarded Children's annual event, said.

To enter the event, held annually as a fund raising project for the MARC, participants must obtain a sponsor to pledge a certain amount of money per mile walked or ridden. All civic and social clubs and organizations are eligible to enter.

This year's event has three categories: hiking, bike riding and horse riding. Ten-speed bicycles will be awarded to top money raisers with other awards given in all three categories.

The annual event is co-sponsored by the MARC and Midland Teens Aid to Retarded (TARS). In addition to raising funds for the local organizations, the event is designed to increase public awareness to the programs and activities available locally for mentally retarded children and to promote community involvement in support of these endeavors.

Persons or organizations wishing to participate as either entrants or sponsors may contact Don Soholt at 682-9771 or 683-6751.

Texas Man Dies Aboard Airliner

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A Bellaire, Tex., man died of an apparent heart attack aboard a Braniff Airways jetliner here Tuesday.

Authorities identified him as Paul Nash.

Nash complained of difficulty in breathing while on a flight from Chicago to Dallas, airline officials said.

Two unidentified passengers assisted in administering oxygen to Nash.

The plane made an unscheduled stop at Tulsa International Airport. Nash was taken to Hillcrest Medical Center, where he was pronounced dead.

UTPB 'Preview' Set Thursday

ODESSA — More than 30 entertaining and informational things to do and see are on tap Thursday when The University of Texas of the Permian Basin holds a "sneak preview" for the public of its new Phase I Buildings at Maple and Parkway streets.

The displays will be on view and the activities in progress from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on the "mesa level" in the laboratory wing of the new $12.8 million buildings, which will go into use during the UT Permian summer session.

Moon Rock

Headlining the list of exhibits is a display from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, featuring a lunar sample collected by Astronauts Charles Conrad and Allen Bean during the Apollo 12 space mission.

Musical entertainment, scheduled throughout the day, will include appearances by the Senoritas de las Rosas of Odessa College, The University Singers from UT Permian, St. Joseph's Catholic Church Spanish Girls Choir and the Odessa College Stage Band.

Displays being arranged by local organizations and individuals will feature rare and exotic plants and flowers, coins, stamp collections, gems and minerals, genealogical materials and historical artifacts, said A. W. Keith, UT Permian director of admissions and registrar, who is coordinating events for the day.

Also on exhibit will be Pleistocene age mammoth bones recently excavated by UT Permian students and faculty in Reeves County and the burial of an Indian girl, some 1,500 to 2,000 years old, unearthed by the Midland Archaeological Society and UT Permian staff members in Crane County in 1972.

Art Works

Other items on view will include art works by UT Permian students, displays arranged by the Creative Writing Program, a collection of rare books from the UT Permian Learning Resources Center, trophies won by the university's outstanding women's tennis team, an exhibit featuring rugby equipment and displays highlighting aviation management, law enforcement, the history of credit cards and materials pertaining to small business management.

Representatives of five area junior colleges are expected to be on hand to counsel with prospective students desiring information about programs to dovetail with degree requirements at UT Permian. The schools are Odessa College, Midland College, Howard College at Big Spring, Western Texas College and South Plains College.
