KREMLIN LEVELS FULL-FRONT BLAST AT MAO

Angered Russians Call For Showdown With Chinese

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union finally lashed back at Red China today, calling for a showdown meeting of the world's Communist parties to thrash out communism's big feud.

Breaking a six-month silence, the Kremlin accused the Chinese of trying to run the Red bloc, to stir political unrest in the Soviet Union, to sabotage Premier Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence and to obtain nuclear weapons at any cost.

The Soviet reply occupied nearly an entire edition of the Communist party newspaper Pravda. In a front-page editorial, Pravda called Mao Tze-tung's regime "the main danger to the unity of the world Communist movement."

Pravda said the final straw was Tuesday when Peking called Khrushchev "the greatest capitulationist in history" and demanded that Communists in and out of the Soviet Union repudiate his policies.

INSULT

The party organ called the attack a "terrible insult to our party and the entire Soviet people."

"It showed conclusively that the leaders of the Communist party of China have passed all limits in their political struggle against the world Communist movement," the editorial continued, "and have chosen the Communist party of the Soviet Union and the Soviet Union as the main target for their attacks."

The remainder of the paper contained an anti - Chinese speech by Mikhail A. Suslov, the Soviet party's chief theoretician. The speech had been kept secret since Suslov delivered it to a meeting of the Soviet Communist party's central committee Feb. 14.

Accusing Red China of "nationalist arrogance" and "great power, egotistical interests," Suslov said: "There is no longer any doubt that Peking is steering a course toward a split among the Communist parties, toward the setting up of factions and groups hostile to Marxism-Leninism."

CHAOS

Suslov accused the Chinese of seeking to usurp the Kremlin's leadership of the world Communist movement and to bring political chaos within the Soviet Union as well.

Although Suslov's speech was laced with harsh language, he did not propose reading Peking out of the Communist movement, as Stalin had tried to do to Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia. Instead, Suslov proposed a meeting of the world's Communist parties "to discuss the basic problems of our time and to hold the broadest possible exchange of opinions in the interest of surmounting the difficulties that have arisen in the Communist movement."

The blast came while Khrushchev was visiting Hungary. The Soviet premier indicated public annoyance with his Chinese critics on Wednesday by saying Peking wanted to spread world revolution on an empty stomach.

GOULASH

"Isn't it better to have good goulash?" Khrushchev asked applauding Budapest factory workers.

Hungary's Communist party came to his support today, accusing the Chinese of "weakening the unity of Communist countries and helping imperialism against the socialist world."

Up to now, many Communist parties have been reluctant to parade communism's internal troubles before the world. The Soviets apparently are confident they will have enough support at any gathering of world communism.

The Soviet leadership has been silent since a Chinese delegation left Moscow last July refusing to come to terms for ending the dispute between communism's two largest powers. Suslov represented the Soviets in the talks.

In his speech, Suslov derided Mao's claim that violent revolution must accompany the progress of communism.

SURPASS

"All the facts indicate that the socialist countries can within a historically short time surpass the capitalist countries economically," Suslov said, echoing Khrushchev's rallying cry.

But the Soviet theoretician said China's "great leap forward" had failed dismally because it was poorly planned.

By their policies, Suslov continued, the Chinese were risking a nuclear war with the West. He said they scorned the atomic bomb as a "paper tiger" but nonetheless were "out to put their hands on the nuclear weapon at all costs."

Suslov specifically charged the Chinese with stepping up their attacks on the Indian frontier during the Cuban missile crisis in October, 1962.

He said the attacks "rendered a big service to the force of imperialism" because it split India's Communist party into pro- and anti-Chinese factions. At the same time, he added, Peking "leagued" with Pakistan, a member of two Western alliances.

INTERFERING

Suslov also accused the Chinese of interfering with Soviet disarmament efforts. He said Peking regards disarmament as an "illusion, an unrealizable slogan."

Brazil Gay But Goulart Not Located

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Victorious army leaders of Brazil's anti-Communist revolution said deposed President Joao Goulart fled into Argentina today, but Argentine border officials said they had not seen the ousted leftist.

An army spokesman said early today Goulart had left his ranch at Sao Borja, on the Argentine border, bound by car for Buenos Aires and "already is in Argentine territory." Goulart was reported accompanied by his family and Gen. Assis Brasil, chief of his personal military staff.

Authorities in Argentine border provinces said, however, Goulart had not entered the country and that border patrols were alerted for any clandestine crossing. Airport control towers in Paraguay and Uruguay also were watching for him.

FOR ARREST

The military leaders of the swift, almost bloodless revolution, who charged that Goulart's leftist policies were leading Brazil into communism, sent six army officers to Sao Borja to arrest him if he remained at his ranch.

Goulart, abandoning his vow to fight to the death, vanished Thursday after flying out of Porto Alegre, his last redoubt in Brazil's deep south. Informants said he gave up to prevent the bloodshed of a futile resistance.

The deposed president had fled to the southern seaport, capital of his home state of Rio Grande do Sul, earlier in the day from Rio de Janeiro. Army troops were converging on Rio then in the last stages of the two-day revolution in which only two deaths were reported.

SUCCESSOR

In Brasilia, the inland capital, new President Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli, president of the Chamber of Deputies, was sworn in as Goulart's constitutional successor by Congress Thursday after Senate President Auro Andrade declared the presidency vacant.

Mazzilli, 54, a conservative politician, immediately set about forming a government to try to cope with Brazil's staggering budget deficit, rampant inflation, labor unrest and the need for profound social reform, especially land redistribution.

MacArthur Still Critical

WASHINGTON (AP) — General of the Army Douglas MacArthur's condition remains critical, but the emergency treatment started Thursday to try to meet the problem of diminished kidney action is "functioning quite satisfactorily," his doctors reported today.

A medical bulletin from Walter Reed Army Hospital at 9:30 a.m. also said there has been no bleeding from the general's esophagus for the past 20 hours. Therefore a tube that has been inserted through his throat and esophagus, into his stomach is being removed this morning.

"However," the bulletin added, "his condition remains critical."

The bulletin reported that the five-star general "passed a fair night," and that his blood pressure remained at 110-60—presumably at about the same point as late Thursday afternoon—and that his pulse was at 96, still somewhat elevated, and his temperature at 99.2, just slightly above normal.

The doctors were fighting to give their patient sorely needed time to recover vital processes.

In admiration, they credited his stamina through 11 days of critical condition to "his heart, his constitution and his will to live."

Rusk Vows 'Close Work' With Brazil

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the United States is ready "to work very closely" with the new government of Brazil in tackling Brazil's difficult problems of economic and social development.

President Johnson had sent a message to new Brazilian President Ranieri Mazzilli Thursday night, congratulating him on Brazil's having solved its government change within that nation's constitutional framework.

This established U.S. recognition of the new regime following the ouster of President Joao Goulart.

Rusk told a news conference that Goulart had been overthrown by a combination of forces representing fears in the Brazilian Congress, armed forces, and among state governors that constitutional government in the country was in danger.

"They moved to insure the constitutional process," Rusk said. Goulart's enemies had accused him of leading the country down the road to communism and U.S. officials had become alarmed about Communists moving into positions of power in Brazil.

Rusk said he wanted to emphasize that the upheaval which has now taken place in Brazil has not solved "all that country's problems by any means." He said he included problems of inflation, the size of the external debt, need for capital investment and many others.

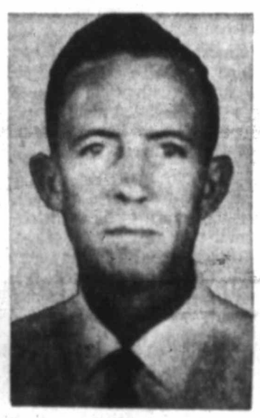

It was clearly in this context that he was in effect holding out the hand of U.S. assistance to whatever extent the new Brazilian government wishes it. He predicted that the United States and Brazil would be consulting on common efforts.

Rusk also said he thought that South America's biggest country might now, under new leadership, begin to cooperate more with other nations in the hemisphere, including the United States, on such problems as those arising around Cuba.

Schools' Elections Slated On Saturday

Large Turnout Due For Voting

A large turnout of voters is anticipated for the area school elections here Saturday. Residents of Big Spring will ballot in three county board races, the Big Spring district race, and the Howard County Junior College election.

The polls in all contests will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Voters must have a poll tax receipt in order to vote.

The Big Spring Independent School District patrons will elect two trustees from a field of three candidates. Voters may cast ballots in any one of three polling places—the high school, Kate Morrison Elementary, or Gay Hill Elementary.

James E. (Jimmy) Felts, incumbent who has served since September, 1963, is seeking re-election. C. J. (Jack) Haralson, general manager for GAMCO, Inc., and Winston Wrinkle, owner-manager of Radio Station KBST, are the new candidates. O. S. Womack, incumbent, is not seeking re-election.

HCJC

Two incumbents, John A. Coffey and Dr. P. W. Malone, are bidding for re-election on the Howard County Junior College board without opposition. Polling places for HCJC trustees will be as follows: Coahoma for Boxes 5, 7, and 9; Forsan for Box 10; and the Big Spring High School for all others.

Three vacancies are to be filled on the county board. The at-large post, and seats representing commissioners' precincts three and four, will be filled. Incumbent Charles R. Jones and W. Ray Echols are at-large candidates. Voters at all boxes ballot in the race.

Hayes F. Stripling Jr. is the lone candidate for the Precinct 3 seat. Voters for this race will cast ballots at Big Spring High School or the Elbow school.

Incumbent Harvey Adams and H. C. Reid are competing for the Precinct 4 seat. Polling places in this race are at Big Spring High School and Gay Hill Elementary School.

U.S. Jurist Nixes Racial Hearings

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Racial tensions appeared to ease today while a civil rights lawyer prepared to appeal a federal judge's refusal to take jurisdiction in the state's cases against demonstrators.

The lack of arrests Thursday and the departure today of a prominent demonstrator apparently marked a temporary halt to demonstrations.

Police arrested 285 persons between last Saturday and Wednesday, mostly for violations of the state's trespass laws.

Mrs. Malcolm Peabody, 72, mother of Massachusetts Gov. Endicott Peabody, boarded a plane in Jacksonville today with Mrs. Donald Campbell and Mrs. John Burgess to return to Boston.

Mrs. Peabody spent two days in jail on trespass charges and put up a $450 bond for her release. Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Burgess, wives of Episcopal bishops, spent one night in jail after their arrest as sit-in demonstrators in St. Augustine restaurants.

"I hope the next time I come I can go into a restaurant in St. Augustine and sit with anyone I choose," Mrs. Peabody said at the airport. Mrs. Campbell said, "I wouldn't have missed it."

Mrs. Burgess, a light-skinned Negro, said on parting, "I can't complain that I was treated badly, but I was under the most emotional strain I have had in a long time. I feel as if I had been at a funeral—although I didn't cry."

The lull started Thursday when lawyers, Mrs. Peabody and other witnesses went to Jacksonville in an effort to have the federal court take jurisdiction in the state's cases against the jailed demonstrators.

U.S. District Judge Bryan Simpson refused to take jurisdiction, saying regular county courts could handle the cases.

"I hear opinions expressed that nobody can be acquitted," the judge said. "I suggest that maybe not many should be."

"If somebody sticks their neck in a noose and then complains that the rope burns, there isn't much to complain about," Simpson said.

The federal judge also refused to issue an injunction barring the St. Augustine Police Department from using trained police dogs for the control and breaking up of integration demonstrations.

Martin Has Three Races

STANTON (SC) — Judge Jim McCoy, county school superintendent, announced today that all is in readiness for the Martin County school elections Saturday. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Three trustees will be elected for the Stanton Independent School District and three candidates have filed. They are Stanton White, G. P. Harrell, and Fred Holder. Voting boxes will be located at the junior high gym in Stanton, the Courtney school, and the old Lomax school.

Three candidates are in the field for two places on the Grady Independent School District board. They are L. V. Welch, Jimmy Sawyer and Lloyd Mims. Balloting will be in the school.

There are no announced candidates for the three vacancies on the Flower Grove school board. These seats will be filled by write-in votes, and the voting box is in the school building.

Two Elections Set At Forsan

FORSAN—A city election and school trustee election will be held at the same place and on the same day in Forsan. A special provision in the city charter sets the city election at Forsan on the first Saturday in April instead of the usual first Tuesday. Both will be held at the high school building.

C. B. Long, present mayor, is running for re-election with no opposition. Council candidates are L. S. Camp, present city marshal; John B. Anderson, and L. B. McElrath. Two are to be elected. O. W. Scudday is not bidding for re-election. There is no candidate on the ballot for city marshal.

Five candidates are asking election to the school board. They are, incumbents Ed Simpson and D. M. Bardwell; R. V. Fryar, Jack Ellis Sr., and Leroy Findley.

Miss Texas Wings In For Gala BS Beauty Pageant

Miss Texas 1963, Jeanne Richey Amacker of Beaumont, will arrive in Big Spring Saturday at 11 a.m. to participate in the Miss Big Spring pageant. The Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors Club members will be at Howard County Airport when Trans-Texas Airlines Flight 197 arrives and will roll out the red carpet for her.

A parade, featuring Miss Texas, Miss Abilene, and all entries in the Miss Big Spring contest, will be held downtown shortly after 11 a.m. Saturday. Miss Abilene (Marilyn Vanderveer) will be mistress of ceremonies for the pageant in the city auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

There are seven candidates for Senior Miss Big Spring this year. They are Bonnie Kay Smith, Joanna Patterson, Linda Kay Gibson, Jacqueline H. Dimmock, Mary Margaret Gary, Jeananne Bogard, and Charlotte Mac Anders.

Candidates for Junior Miss Big Spring are: Donna Michelle Yates, Caryle S. McCreary, Nancy Hardesty, Rita Jean Armstrong, Freddie Kay Woods, Darlene Nell Thomson, Kandis Annette Long, Marilee Carr, Cecilia Kay Pachall, Nancy Jane Thomas, Carla Chapman, Pam Daratt, Mariann Williams, Sheri Jon Andre, Robbie Merle Brown, Lana Susan Baker, Jimmie LaNell Meredith, Nancy Lynn Haralson, Mary Ann Andrews, Vicki Ann Cofer and Sandy McCombs.

A final rehearsal will be held in the city auditorium at 7:30 p.m. today, to work out details in timing for each contestant. The tentative time schedule was worked out Thursday night in the first rehearsal, and instructions given the girls by Jaycee president Jim Wright.

A ramp extension to the stage has been constructed and carpeted so that contestants may walk out into the audience.

A section of the auditorium has been reserved and tickets for this section are $1.25. Regular seats are $1.

The winner of the Miss Big Spring title will enter the Miss Texas contest in Fort Worth later in the year. She will also receive a full wardrobe from Big Spring merchants, plus a cash award.

Bulletin

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes were forecast for a wide sector of West Texas and a snowstorm with possible damger to livestock was predicted for the upper Panhandle as a new cold front pushed into the state today.

The warning called for severe thunderstorms, hail, tornadoes and damaging winds was for an area bounded by a line running from Quanah to Spur, Abilene, Coleman, Mineral Wells, Bonham, and westward along the Red River to Quanah from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Glenn Leaves Base Hospital

Col. Glenn went on convalescent leave and left by automobile for his home at Seabrook, near Houston. His secretary drove the car.

Soft Coal Mines Idle

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An intra-union dispute kept soft coal mines in six states idle today. There was little hope of a solution before Saturday at the earliest.

The dispute, which early this week affected Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, spread Thursday to Kentucky, Illinois and Indiana.

Thousands of miners stayed away from their jobs, but officials of the United Mine Workers Union said the confused pattern of the strikes made it difficult to estimate the exact number.

It appeared, however, that at least 10,000 were out in the six states.

At issue is discontent over a contract signed last week between the UMW and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association. It was the first contract negotiated by W.A. Boyle, president of the UMW for less than two years, and provided a $2-wage increase that raises the daily base rate to $26.25.

Miners, however, say they don't want a wage increase, only better fringe benefits and seniority protection.

The new contract provides a $25 increase in the $200 vacation allowance. But miners say a man can make $280 at his regular rate and would lose money on vacation.

Another complaint involves paid holidays. Under the contract double time is paid only those who actually work on a paid holiday and miners feel the companies won't schedule work on the seven paid holidays.

UMW Local 6321, which represents some 1,250 workers at the U.S. Steel Corp.'s big Robena complex south of Pittsburgh, has scheduled a meeting Saturday at Masontown, Pa.

Representatives of all locals in the affected area have been invited but there has been no indication how many will appear.

Hoffa's Protege Indicted By Jury

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A young man raised by James R. Hoffa has been indicted on charges of offering a $25,000 bribe to a member of the jury which convicted the Teamsters Union president of jury tampering.

Charles L. O'Brien, 29, business agent for a Detroit Teamster local, is accused of offering the money March 9 to Callie Key, a Negro widow, if she would swear Hoffa did not receive a fair trial.

O'Brien posted $15,000 bond and was released pending arraignment.

As a child, O'Brien was taken into Hoffa's home after his father, a Kansas City truck driver, was killed. Hoffa recently said O'Brien is "a boy who I have raised since he was a baby." O'Brien, his wife and their two children live in Hoffa's Detroit home.

The alleged bribe offer took place five days after Hoffa was convicted here and three days before he was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000.

O'Brien has been in Chattanooga since the trial's end seeking affidavits in an effort to win a new trial for Hoffa. The Teamsters leader and three others were convicted of trying to tamper with the jury which heard Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville. That case ended in a mistrial.

Special Prosecutor John J. Hooker of Nashville said earlier that Mrs. Key, 63, treasurer of the Tennessee Federation of Negro Women's Clubs, had been approached with a bribe offer, and turned it down. Mrs. Key was the only Negro on the jury.

The indictment was the first returned by a grand jury investigating events during and since the trial. The jury which has recessed until April 13, has heard testimony from Bernard E. Spindel, a professional wiretapper, and several employes at the Read House Hotel.

Spindel, an electronics expert from New York, was hired by defense lawyers during the trial to try to prove that FBI agents spied on Hoffa. He testified he monitored conversations between government agents watching Hoffa's hotel.

HOW TO BE A CHRISTIAN?

As the word implies, a Christian is an adherent of Christ; just as an Episcopalian is an adherent of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The word implies that the Christian is "of Christ"; just as an Athenian is "of Athens."
The disciples at Corinth were reproved for calling themselves by other names; although some remained just Christians. Paul said to them, "Now this I say, that everyone of you saith, I am of Paul, and I of Appollos, and I of Cephas, and I of Christ. Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?" (I Cor. 1:12, 13).
We do not divide Christ by wearing the name, Christian. Certainly he was crucified for us. Then, if we have been baptized into his name, we have the right to say we are of Christ.
As long as such a one continues to adhere to Christ, he is a Christian.

White House Faces Issue Of How To Exploit Chasm

EDITOR'S NOTE—Stanley Johnson was an Associated Press correspondent in Moscow for six years, until 1962. He has reported on the Soviet-Chinese quarrel since it became acute in 1959-60. In this analysis he discusses the implications for the United States of the newest development in the dispute.

By STANLEY JOHNSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The Kremlin virtually read the Chinese out of the world Communist movement today, forecasting an era which brings new opportunities and new dangers for the United States and its friends.

How to exploit what appears to be an unbridgeable chasm between Moscow and Peking was a major concern of the White House and State Department long before the Soviet Communist party issued its showdown challenge. Now it has become a vital concern.

To most diplomats, it long has seemed inevitable that a definitive break with China would mean the Soviet Union would have to work to improve relations with the West.

LONG BORDER

Not only does such a break mean the return to the relatively small "socialist camp" of the late 1940's, it also means the Soviet Union must guard the world's longest border against an openly hostile China.

In addition to the United States, firmly opposing Communist expansion to the West, there is now also Communist China, firmly opposing Soviet policy in the East.

Premier Khrushchev must be thanking his lucky stars he resisted all pressures to help China build an atomic bomb.

With its limited resources, faltering agriculture, and pledges to fight imperialism with improved living standards for its people, the Soviet Union will find such a situation an almost unbearable strain unless there is relaxation somewhere.

ANY POINT

It could come in Berlin, Cuba or any point where Moscow and the West are in conflict.

The other side of the coin is just as important, however. The Soviets, and Khrushchev in particular, cannot afford to follow a policy which might appear to prove the Chinese charge that Khrushchev is "the greatest capitulationist of all time" and a stooge of the United States.

The late President John F. Kennedy understood this well, and there is no reason to think President Johnson does not.

Khrushchev put an optimistic face on things to the last. Even in the call for a world Communist showdown meeting, his spokesman said the Soviet Union was still willing to work for reconciliation.

OTHER PARTIES

The possibility remains that pressure from other Communist parties during the proposed meeting might bring the Chinese black sheep back into the Communist fold. It seems much more probable, however, that they will continue to scorn any shepherding from Moscow.

In this case, another almost inevitable result would be a sharpening in their struggle for influence in southern Asia, Africa and Latin America.

A good place to watch for this is Zanzibar, where the Soviet Union and China are already eyeball to eyeball and it's a question of who'll wink first.

Enrollment Is Still Falling

Enrollment in the Big Spring schools for the week ending March 26 was nine below that for the previous week. There were 7,422 students March 20, and 7,413 last week.

Losses listed on the report showed: Airport 7, College Heights 5, Gay Hill 2, Kate Morrison 2, senior high school 1, and special education 2, totaling 19.

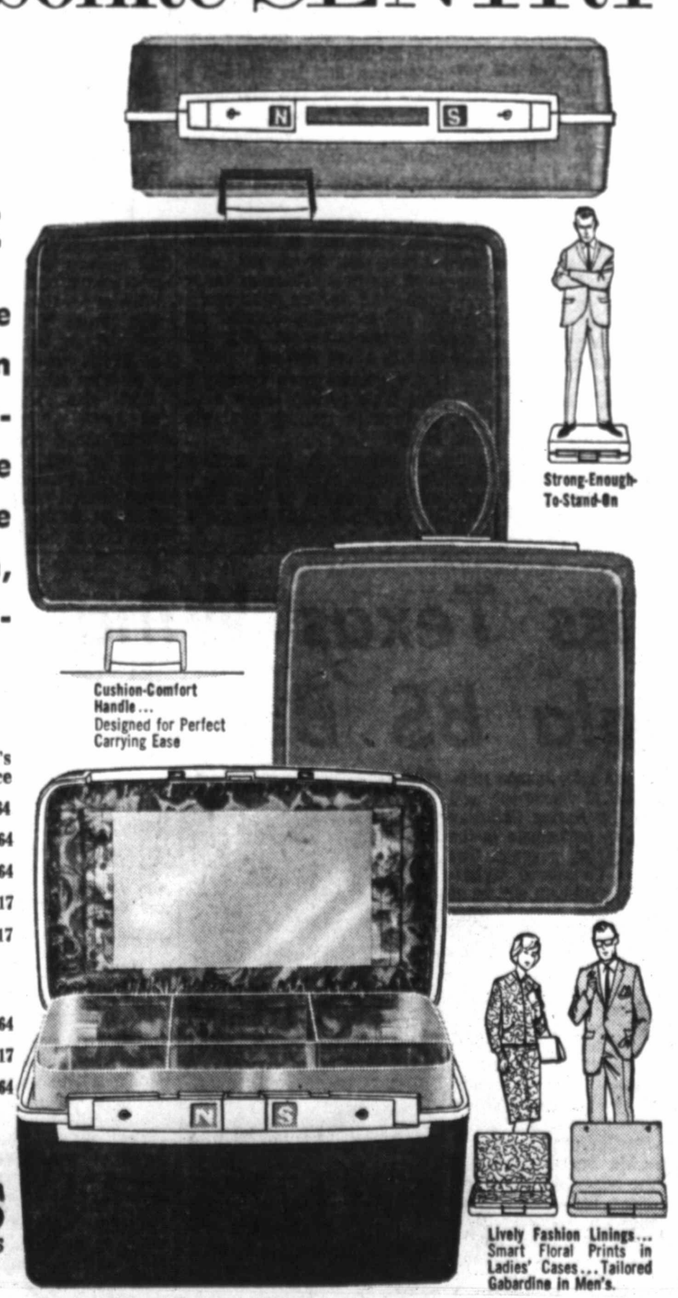

Gains shown were: Boydstun 3, Cedar Crest 3, Marcy 3, and Washington 1, totaling 10.

The enrollment of 7,413 on March 26 was 51 above the same period a year ago when 7,371 students were shown.

Barbs Tossed At Yarborough

By The Associated Press

The Texas political scene warmed up along with the weather Thursday as candidates fired critical barbs at each other from Northwest Texas to the Gulf Coast.

Much of the criticism was aimed by opponents at U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., who was opening up another local headquarters, this in Austin.

Republican candidate George Bush, addressing Odessa cattlemen, called Yarborough "a man who mouths concern over the plight of the cattle industry, but doesn't stand up to be counted" in Senate legislation.

DEFECTION

Democratic senatorial candidate Gordon McLendon said at Abilene that the only way Yarborough can win re-election "is through the defection of Democrats to the Republican ranks."

In Corpus Christi, another GOP candidate, Jack Cox, termed Yarborough one of the "rubber stamps and yes men" in Congress.

In the meantime, Yarborough told supporters he is "the only candidate for the Senate who is supporting President Johnson and his program." He said Texas Democrats "will not permit pseudo Democrats to infiltrate the Democratic primaries."

GOP Senate candidate Robert Morris told newsmen in Austin he considers Bush his chief opponent. Morris said a concentrated campaign of six speeches a day, seven days a week has pushed him out in front for the GOP nomination.

ATTACKED

On the gubernatorial front, Connally's record was attacked by Democratic challenger Don Yarborough—no relation—And Republican Jack Crichton.

Crichton, campaigning in the Rio Grande Valley, said the governor will have to answer at the polls for state government expenses "up about 20 per cent" and for his "control by President Johnson."

Yarborough, touring Hurst, Garland and Fort Worth, said Connally procrastinated in the redistricting matter, exposing congressional candidates to at-large races and possible loss of key committee positions in Congress.

A Democratic candidate for congressman - at - large, Dan Sullivan, said in Fort Worth that he is the only candidate "unequivocally" for President Johnson's program. He said incumbent Rep. Joe Pool voted against the Kennedy - Johnson program 70 per cent of the time.

Robert Baker, another congressman - at - large candidate, carried his campaign to Amarillo and Fort Worth.

Coker's To Mark New Milestone

April is anniversary month for Coker's Restaurant at Fourth and Benton, and Lonnie and Leonard Coker have redecorated their popular place extensively in anticipation of the milestone.

"We deeply appreciate the friendly response the people of Big Spring and surrounding area have given us," they said. "One way we feel we can try to show our appreciation is to provide facilities and service unexcelled anywhere."

Although refurbished extensively only a year ago, the interior of the modern cafe has been redecorated and remodeled. The middle and north dining areas have been carpeted, and the lighting system has been completely redone. The decor has been changed, and the dining rooms have been separated from the front dining area with a new ornamental masonry screen.

Although the cafe is relatively new, the redecoration was in keeping with a policy of the operators of staying abreast of latest developments so that their famous foods can be served in the most pleasant of surroundings.

Lonnie Coker and his twin brother, Leonard Coker, came to Big Spring in April of 1934 and opened a business which they operated for 23 years under the name of Twins Cafe in the 200 block of West Third Street.

They had begun a career in food service in their hometown of Chillicothe, and after three years moved to Quanah where they operated another three years. From the start of their business here, they met with a ready response. They had only two waitresses and a dish washer and could seat a maximum of 42 customers. As the volume increased, they added another dining room. Later they operated three other places.

On Aug. 1, 1957 they opened their restaurant at Fourth and Benton, a handsome brick structure surrounded by paved parking area. Response was instantaneous, and within a few years they were obliged to add a major dining room to the north end of the new building.

Today they can serve over 200 persons simultaneously and are equipped to handle private groups as well as the general public. The name Coker's has become as familiar and as popular in this area as the Twins was for so many years.

A Devotional For The Day

Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord. (John 20:18.)

PRAYER: O Lord, give through us, whom Thou hast called out of the world to be disciples of Thy Son, a daily witness to the resurrection. In the name of Jesus Christ, the great head of the church, our triumphant and living Lord. Amen.

Highwayman Spare That Tree

Southern California conservationists are rising in opposition to a proposed superhighway that would pass through several groves of giant redwood trees. They are particularly disturbed by the fact that the route would pass through a number of groves which have been preserved from destruction solely by the work of nature lovers.

California highway officials answer criticism of the route by saying that it would "cost too much" to adopt an alternate route. This answer will not satisfy California Conservationists or their fellows in 49 other states.

The question can be turned around: What is a grown redwood tree worth?

The trees involved are estimated to be at least 1,000 years old. Some of them are believed to be at least 2,000 years old. They occur only along a relatively narrow coastal strip from Southern Oregon to a point near Santa Barbara, California. Some of these magnificent trees are more than 300 feet tall. These trees had reached their full growth long before Cortez stood "silen' on a peak in Darien," gazing at the Pacific Ocean.

Within a redwood grove there is a cathedral - like stillness, broken only occasionally by the chirping of an unseen bird. When it is windy there is a vast rustling of branches high above. Sunlight penetrates rarely, and that in golden shafts, to the ground between these great trees.

Should we deny this and future generations of Americans the opportunity to stand among the redwoods and contemplate this wonder of nature? The answer must surely be No!

If the sacrifice of a part of a redwood grove were necessary because there are no alternate routes, then it might be justified. But there is no such necessity. The highway can and should be routed around the redwood groves at a cost which will ultimately be far less than the loss of irreplacable trees.

Obligation Of Citizenship

Two opportunities for voting come in April, the first on Saturday when school districts choose their trustees.

In Howard County there will be three such elections—the Big Spring Independent School District, the Forsan Independent School District, and Coahoma Independent School District.

Besides these, voters will be asked to name three members of the county school board. Two of these will come from commissioner precincts No. 3 and No. 4, and one will be chosen from the county at-large. Thus, everyone may be privileged to vote in the at-large race; those in the respective precincts in the other races.

The other election Saturday is for trustees of Howard County Junior College, with boxes at Forsan, Coahoma and Big Spring.

Then, on Tuesday voters in Big Spring and at Coahoma will ballot on members of the city council.

Each voter is the judge of whom he or she believes to be best qualified to serve the interests of the districts precincts and the cities. The basis of choice may vary from voter to voter, but compelling reason ought to be the ability to work effectively for good schools and good government.

The first test of citizenship, however, is getting to the polls. It is an indictment of us when we let these occasions go by without exercising our right to vote.

Lyndon Johnson And Texas

JOHNSON CITY, Tex.—All the elements that went into the making of Lyndon Johnson are evident when you see him in his native country on the LBJ Ranch that is both symbol and solid proof of the poor boy who made good.

Driving his white sedan across the rolling country that is green where irrigation pipes bring water and sparse to barren on the range, he knows every bull, every cow, every heifer. He admires the big, solid backside of Silver Mischief, a powerful Hereford bull.

"I PAID $2,000 for him," he says, "and he'd bring two or three times that today."

He points out the ranch scrubs that will be sold, not for breeding stock, but as beef cattle. Look at the thin flanks on that heifer, he says; you can tell she'll never amount to anything. There is a stern finality in his judgments which is not unlike the judgments he passes on people, and especially on the people who work for him.

SPEAKING admiringly of the liberalism of one of his staff, he adds, but he's a "working liberal" and not a "talking liberal." This last may be as good a political definition of President Johnson himself as any—a "working liberal" who wants to get things done with as little talk as possible. The opprobrious term, in the Republican lexicon, is wheeler and dealer.

President Johnson is a Texan. But what it means to be a Texan, as the rest of the country understands it, is not a sufficient explanation. Texas is part of the booming Southwest, a region that thanks to climate, transportation, certain generous mineral deposits, and big federal contracts, is coming into its own as a new center of power.

TEXAS CLINGS to the American past, to tradition and dogma, while at the same time carving out the future with giant and often ruthless strides.

There is something of this in Johnson, and it may be one reason he stands so high in every poll in every part of the country. He can say the most obvious things—things that sound corny to the cynical. When he talks, for example, about the virtues of the private enterprise system, he is expressing his own beliefs and this apparently comes through to the millions who hear him on television.

THE TOUR OF the ranch winds along roads newly cut in the red earth, between great boulders blasted and bulldozed in a craggy granite outcropping. We have come through fields where the fawns and the does flee in the headlights of the car in the early dusk. At the high point you look off to the blue distance of the horizon with no sign of human habitation. The President says this is his favorite spot.

Traditionally, the tour ends with a visit to Cousin Oriole Bailey. At the sound of the horn she comes out of her little red-painted cottage and stands beside the car, chatting with her cousin.

"YOU SEE THAT bull over there, Cousin Oriole," the President says, gesturing to a herd just beyond the fence around Cousin Oriole's cottage. "That's a Devon, and I bought him from Senator Morse. You want to watch out that he doesn't jump your fence."

"You keep him away from me, Lyndon," she says with mocking sternness.

THE PRESIDENT had been up most of the night before receiving reports on the Alaskan earthquake, but he shows no sign of fatigue. He is, in short, a force of nature, and yet far more complex than this term conveys. Like all Texans, he is proud yet extremely sensitive to the slightest shade of criticism from whatever source. Impulsive, impetuous, deliberate, reflective, demanding, self-centered, thoughtful, considerate, supremely confident and deeply insecure, beneath the surface—the sand-colored ranch clothes, the 10-gallon hat, the boots with their fancy stitching—he may prove one of the most complex individuals ever to occupy the White House.

Billy Graham

I have been ill for the past few years, and I just know that God is punishing me for something—I don't know what. I have asked Him to forgive me if I have done anything wrong, but I am still in pain. I just feel like I can hardly bear any more affliction. —T. T.

Sickness is the lot of man. Job said: "Man is a few days and full of trouble." Most people are ill at some time or other, and affliction doesn't mean, necessarily, that God is judging you for some evil in your life. The Bible says: "Many are the afflictions of the righteous." Some of God's most devout saints have suffered great pain, but they learned to use their affliction constructively.

When the plague struck Greece in ancient times, and half the population was wiped out, Thucydides the chronicler wrote: "It was in those that had the plague, and were recovered that the sick and dying found the most compassion."

Affliction makes you akin with all mankind. Get on top of your pain instead of being crushed by it. In love's service wounded soldiers always serve best. All around you are people worse off than you. Loose yourself by helping them in some way, and you will find your infirmities easier to bear. You have been too close to them. As you get closer to fellow-sufferers, you will find your own sufferings to be less severe.

Johnson Quick To Hail Brazil Military Coup

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has used unusual language in sending fast greetings to Brazil's new president, Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli.

In his message Johnson expressed admiration for the way Brazilians settled their difficulties "within the framework of constitutional democracy and without civil strife."

Yet, the new president's ascension to office was the result of a military coup—not a constitutional process—in which the army threw out the elected president, Joao Goulart, who then fled the country.

IT WAS AFTER the army got rid of Goulart that the Brizilian Congress named Mazzilli, president of the Chamber of Deputies, the new president.

The process of choosing Mazilli could be considered constitutional since the constitution provides when there is no president or vice president the Congress will choose the chief executive.

Favorable American reaction had been expected since last Monday night when a high U.S. State Department official said there was increasing danger of a Communist takeover in Brazil.

The Brazilian army went into action Tuesday night.

THE ASSOCIATED Press in stories from Brazil has bluntly called Goulart's regime a left-leaning, Communist - influenced government. The Johnson administration wants no more Communist takeovers in the Americas.

And Goulart had let Communists move into high positions.

Last month U.S. diplomats stationed in Latin America were called here for a three - day strategy session on Johnson administration policies in the hemisphere.

After the meeting one source told this story of what happened:

AMONG OTHER issues the diplomats discussed how far the United States should go in opposing certain dictatorships and military governments.

Some of the diplomats expressed belief the United States should modify its policy of disapproving some of the military and other strongly conservative governments in Latin America.

(Under President John F. Kennedy this government expressed displeasure with some undemocratic regimes by calling its diplomats home and by cutting off economic and military assistance.)

THE VISITING diplomats, the same unidentifiable source said, contended that U.S. pressure had little effect on the undemocratic regimes and that it would be better for Washington to keep contact with anyone in power and try to use its influence to alter conditions.

Whether the Johnson administration will recognize extreme reactionary regimes, even if they take over illegally, remains to be seen. The group in control now in Brazil is conservative.

It's a nation where 8 per cent of the landowners hold 75 per cent of the cultivated land although more than 60 per cent of its more than 75 million people gain a living—often sparse—from farming.

MORE THAN 60 plans for farm reforms have been made in the past 13 years but little has been done about them. Yet under Goulart in the past year inflation amounted to 81 per cent.

There has been crisis after crisis in the economy. Whether Mazzilli can do any better remains to be seen. But so long as the army and the wealthy conservatives stay together a coup by leftists is unlikely.

But how long revolution can be avoided — without wide reforms to give more people a better share of the living—is a question that will haunt any regime which tries to stand pat and ignore the problem.

Please Help The Tipsy Robin

By JAY WEST
Editor and Publisher
Laurel Leader—Call

LAUREL, Miss. (AP)—If you see a drunken robin reeling around in your yard these spring days, please take it into your house until it sobers up and can resume its flight northward.

It is likely intoxicated with the fermented juice around seeds from the chinaberry tree.

The seeds are encased with pulpy covering and it is this that ferments and causes enough alcohol to put red robin on a jag.

WHEN THE robin gets enough to start reeling it loses wing power and is a likely prey for natural enemies—cats and dogs.

In defense of the drunken robin it should be told that for most of the year it feeds soberly on seeds from dogwood, choke berries, juniper berries and small fruits.

But when time comes for the spring trip from south to north, about all that is left is the chinaberry. Spring rains have soaked the berries. The warm sun has fermented them.

Some bird watchers are of the opinion the robin is not naturally inclined toward drunkenness. It's just that the alcohol-soaked chinaberries are the only food it can find.

THE CHINABERRY tree is a native of the Southern states and Mexico. In its wild state, it seldom grows north of the southernmost Tennessee line. That is why most bird lovers in the North have never seen a drunken robin. The chinaberry is cultivated in a lot of Southern yards as an ornamental tree and because of its heavy shade.

So, kind sir, if you will, please pick up the robin after its yearly binge and let it sober up until it is able to fly north.

It should be protected because it has the strongest personality of all birddom, despite its spring toddy.

JOHN BURROUGHS, the naturalist, described it as the "most native and democratic" of all birds in the United States. The robin's song is pleasant and highly varied.

In the North, in the summertime, it is seen singly, or near its mate, hunting for the early worm. But in the winter it travels to the Gulf Coast where it lives with big, friendly flocks in the piney woods.

Hepatitis Is Inflammation Of The Liver

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Two years ago I had hepatitis, and even with the best of care it left me with a chronic liver condition.

Is there any drug which will help? What about diet? Is rest important? I am 50.—D. P.

Perhaps putting hepatitis into correct perspective will make you less gloomy than you seem to be.

Hepatitis is inflammation of the liver. In the last few years we have heard a good deal about it because much of it has been traced to virus.

However, there are plenty of other causes: arsenic, hydrocarbons and a variety of poisons; syphilis; ameba. All are inflammation of the liver and hence are "hepatitis."

In short, the liver is damaged, sometimes more and sometimes less.

While the organ has remarkable powers of regenerating itself, even after rather severe damage, this takes time.

Unlike a good many other illnesses, once the infection has been conquered, you may return to normal quite readily. This is not so with the liver, because it is complex and there is no way to give it a complete rest. Thus the healing and regeneration has to progress while this important organ keeps right on working.

There is no magic drug which will do this for you. Rather, you succeed best just by seeing to it that you do nothing to interfere with Nature's slow progress.

Diet should be balanced—protein, carbohydrate, and a moderate amount of fat. Vitamin B complex often is used, too.

Alcohol must be avoided. After all, it is a poison, and the liver shouldn't be required to contend with it.

Rest is important in the active stage of hepatitis; after two years, your regular amount (about eight hours for most of us) is all you require.

It's easier for me to tell you to be patient than it is for you to be so. There are certain liver tests that can be done every six months or so, which will reveal whether the condition is static or improving, and, quite aside from the medical importance of this information, it is sometimes comforting to a patient to know that he really IS improving even though the procedure seems terribly slow.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been a fairly heavy smoker since I was 14. I am now 33. I have read so much about cancer that I would like to know what my chances are of avoiding it if I stop now.—A. F.

They will be a lot better if you stop now. You will have a much better chance of avoiding heart or lung troubles, too.

Around The Rim

She Is Not Dead, She Only Sleeps

According to current news reports, the death knell has been sounded for that quite unique city of Hot Springs, Ark. Gov. Orval Faubus, claiming a mandate from a 91-3 legislative vote, has told the fabled resort city to cut out all gambling—period.

DOWN THROUGH the years, for a century now, Hot Springs has been bothered by the lid on gambling from time to time. Yet, the resort city has rolled right along, prospered, grown in population largely through efforts of civic promoters who seek the light industry and vacation-fishing trade instead of leaving it to the guys with the green eyeshades to pull in the visitors. Besides, a gambling environment doesn't usually mean a population growth.

Gov. Faubus has his violent critics, chiefly from that little 1957 unpleasantness at Little Rock Central High, but more than a few Arkansawyers swear by him, not at him, saying he has done more for the state than any man in history. Faubus is in his fifth term as governor and is generally conceded an upcoming sixth session in the Little Rock mansion if he wants it. But whether the lid remains on in Hot Springs is yet to be seen. Our wild guess from this far-off point is Hot Springs will be gambling-closed for a good many months—but will gradually re-open.

OF COURSE, Hot Springs is a city in a class all by itself. It is about as much a Southern city as Miami is. It has a few less people than does Big Spring, and the drawling Arkansas accent is the exception rather than the rule. It's the grating, hard sounds of Chicago's Halstead Avenue that predominate the usual Hot Springs conversation.

Northerners run the hotels, motels, the bath houses, the "art galleries" (a show in themselves), the cafes and most of the other tourist outlets.

BUT CONTRARY to the published moanings out of Hot Springs, gambling isn't the city's lifeblood, like it is in Las Vegas. Sure, the whirling roulette wheels and the blackjack tables bring in many a buck for certain elements in Hot Springs. But much more vital is Mr. and Mrs. Average Tourist and their kids.

Hot Springs has been a resort for a full century, and even before that the various Indian tribes met there for the curative dips in the mineral waters. Closing down the gambling won't kill off the town.

AND AN INTERESTING political sidenote is the timing of Faubus' move—coming just after the finish of racing season at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs (this plus its accompanying pari-mutuel betting is legal, by the way). But Oaklawn's February - March season pulls in the really big flocks of gamblers.

At the same time, Hot Springs elements, that is, the pro-legalized gambling enthusiasts, have plenty of time to get a statewide campaign rolling for a November amendment to legalize gambling in Hot Springs only.

Regulations And Public Patience

WASHINGTON — The "civil rights" bill, if enacted into law, will open up a whole series of adventures in constitutionalism.

The Constitution gives Congress the right "to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several states." Applying this clause, the law-makers have felt justified in passing statutes governing monopolies, price - fixing, and the recognition of labor unions. But nowhere in the Constitution is there any explicit power bestowed on Congress to take away from employers the right to choose their employes, even if this means refusing to hire persons of a particular color, religion or national origin.

THE EXTENT to which the new legislation is bound to open up constitutional controversies is indicated by a provision in the pending bill as it was passed by the House of Representatives. This calls for a regulation of employment practices. While forbidding any discrimination because of "race, color, religion, sex or national origin," the proposed legislation would permit discrimination against persons because of their "atheistic practices and beliefs" as well as against persons who are members of Communist party organizations.

THIS IS THE first time that Congress has dealt in the matter of employment with the beliefs of an individual. If Congress claims the constitutional right to prohibit or permit discrimination where color or race or religion or beliefs of any kind are involved, then the Supreme Court of the United States will be confronted some day with some interesting questions. Will it, for example, decide that atheism is a religious belief?

BUT THE problem with respect to employment is not so simple. The pending bill in the Senate not only recognizes the right to discriminate in employment against atheists and those holding Communistic beliefs, but it also permits an employer to advertise for persons of a particular religious belief and to exclude all others wherever, as the bill states, religion is "a bona fide occupational qualification reasonably necessary to the normal operation of that particular business or enterprise."

WHAT THIS amounts to is a formal recognition that religious beliefs can be a factor in employment practices. But the Constitution does not give Congress any such broad legal power to approve or disapprove of religious beliefs. In fact, it specifically says the "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." The Supreme Court has even ruled that Congress cannot pass any law which aids one religion over another. Certainly there is nothing to indicate that a citizen can, under the Constitution, be deprived of a job because of any beliefs.

THE SUPREME Court will certainly have a hard time determining just how Congress gets the right to regulate employment practices on the basis of religious beliefs by citing the words: "To regulate commerce."

Poverty And The Income Tax

WASHINGTON—When last we visited Ethyl and Potassium Chloride, the most intractably incompatible couple on the block, they were strictly from Splitsville.

She had bashed him with an iron trivet, leaving "Home Sweet Home" imprinted in reverse on his forehead, and flounced home to her ma.

IT LOOKED as if the end had come, to be sure, but we are happy to report that they are reunited, if not reconciled. Their spiritual adviser, who'd tinkered the ailing match for a dozen years, failed to heal the rift, and finally locked himself in his study with a quart of croup medicine that contained .02 per cent codeine by volume.

The Chlorides' family attorney blew it as well, and ultimately estimated that it would take not less than two decades of continuous litigation to settle their problems. Their social worker, a muscular contralto with a well-defined moustache and degrees from five unknown universities, contented herself with the 2,000-word observation that it was the worst traumatized family she'd ever seen and her case load was a disgrace to an enlightened community.

WHAT FINALLY brought the couple back together was the friendly counsel of their tax man. He explained the advantages of split income provisions, and before you could say economic determinish they were billing and cooing as if they were not married at all.

It was an inspiring sight, but experts hold out little hope that the cure will be lasting. Ethyl, for example, had scarcely thawed out their first meal together in six weeks when Potassium, so to speak, ripped things.

"WAR ON POVERTY," he snorted, reading a days-old newspaper that had unaccountably escaped little Sodium. "I wonder who he thinks he's fooling. I'm with Goldwater on this one, poors are poor because they are no good to start with."

"Like your parents, eh?" was Ethyl's sweetly-reasoned rejoinder.

"I only wish I'd listened to 'em," her spouse roared in reply. "I'm just wondering how a busted Hiram who can't make a farm pay is going to make it pay after Sargent Shriver gives him $1,500 of my dough."

"HE'S GOING to buy a tractor, you heartless boob," Ethyl replied, fingering a steak-tenderizer speculatively. "Or maybe fertilizer. What do you know about farming, anyway? You can't even keep the crab grass mowed."

"Maybe not," Potassium replied. "But I know how hard I have to work for $1,500. And dropouts. Good grief. In any sane society nobody would ever have started 'em in school in the first place. Any kid wants an education can get one. Don't tell me."

"You don't believe in giving people a chance, you loud-mouthed economic royalist, you."

"ECONOMIC ROYALIST? Me? After I get put through the wringer by the Internal Revenue Service?"

"The Internal Revenue Service," she said dreamily, wrinkling her nose in the way he had once found so endearing. "They're the ones who brought us back together."

Put It In Ice

TOOWOOMBA, Australia (AP) — They were trying to install a 3,000 pound safe in a bank in this Southern Queensland city.

The aperture was ready, but part was below floor level, and so situated that no normal lowering technique would serve.

Then engineer Russ Webb called for six 70 pound blocks of ice to bring the level up to floor, slid the safe on the ice, then waited and mopped.

It took a week for the ice to melt enabling the safe to fit snugly into position.

Negro Pair's Talkathon Thwarts Austin Council

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Two Negro speakers who gained the floor on another matter held the City Council in an 11-hour "speak-in" on racial equality Thursday before yielding to a post-midnight recess.

It was scheduled to resume again this morning.

The marathon session developed when two representatives of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People appeared before the council seeking passage of an anti-discrimination ordinance.

Volma Overton, president of the Austin NAACP chapter, took the floor at 10 a.m. and held it by reading from a book until 4 p.m., with a council time-out for lunch.

Then Claude Allen, an instructor at Huston-Tillotson College, took over with a rambling dissertation on civil rights that continued — with an hour-plus break for dinner — until 12:30 a.m.

RECESS

The council took it all in stride until at 12:30 a.m. Mayor Lester Palmer suddenly but quietly announced a recess and told Allen he could resume his remarks at 8 a.m. today.

It had been a long but uneventful day and a seeming contest to see which side would give in first. The mayor peeled off his coat and unbuttoned his collar as the night progressed. Another councilman slipped off his shoes and propped his feet on a table.

A behaved crowd of from 75 to 100 persons, mostly whites, packed inside and around the council room door to view the proceedings. A few Negro pickets marched outside.

ORDINANCE

The talkathon was to attract attention to an ordinance Overton has drawn up. It would set fines for persons engaging in discriminatory acts against Negroes in matters ranging from restaurant service to public employment.

Council has before it another proposed ordinance which would, among other things, establish a human rights commission with investigative powers to look into alleged discrimination.

Old B25 Takes Spot Of Honor

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Instead of a junk heap, an outdated World War II bomber has been assigned a shiny spot in a private air museum at Ontario, Calif.

The old B25 was flown Thursday from Sheppard Air Force Base to the California city to join 83 other reconditioned aircraft in an air history collection.

The bomber was piloted on its one-way flight to California by Col. Walker Mahurin, Air Force reservist and an official of North American Aircraft Corp. and chairman of the Ontario Museum.

The aircraft was donated to the California museum.

Yesterday's Jumbles: INLET ADAPT BUNDLE CHARGE

Answer: What the botanist who married the factory owner's daughter hoped to inherit — THE PLANT

Thanks Voiced By Airliftees

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The weary pilot found the note half-hidden in his plane after airlifting 30 persons here from Kodiak. It was written on a paper napkin.

"This is for nice kind persons at the Navy base. We thank you so much for your big help to native people.

"You clothed us when we didn't have clothes, you feed (sic) us when we were hungry, you gave water to drink and there is more nice things you Navy people help us with.

"It's so nice there is a Navy base or any base to help us, so this bye-bye from all Kaguyak people."

Parts of the letter were released this week by Lt. Comdr. R. L. Rundle of the Alameda Naval Air Station, Calif., who was the pilot. He said it had been left by a 9-year-old girl whose name he didn't know. He plans to frame it.

EVERYWHERE one hears that we are living in a changing world. Thus many assume that "you cannot clothe the twentieth century church in first century clothing." Transportation, farming, medicine, communications and practically every phase of business are undergoing constant change. Christianity, according to this thesis, must change to keep up with the times and the changing needs of man.

But is this really true? Have man's needs really changed? While all would concede the great advances brought about by material progress, some things fundamental to man's salvation have not changed — nor ever will.

MAN IS THE SAME

From the time of creation the nature of man has not changed. He has the same greed as did Lot when he chose the fertile valley in preference to the barren hills (Genesis 13). He has the same love for power and preeminence as did Diotrephes, a first century disciple who threatened the unity of a particular congregation (3 John 9). Man has the same lusts that have characterized men of every age — the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life" (1 John 2:16).

Man has, therefore, the same need for divine guidance, encouragement, sympathy, forgiveness, hope, and salvation that he has always had.

SIN IS THE SAME

In the Garden of Eden sin brought destruction to the peace and contentment of Adam and Eve and destroyed their blessedness of being with God. It resulted in their death and expulsion. In Noah's age sin was rampant throughout the land, and every imagination of man's heart was "only evil continually" (Genesis 6:5). This brought destruction to the world. When the children of Israel, a people in covenant relationship with God, were delivered from Egyptian slavery they sinned before God in the wilderness and brought upon themselves the condemnation of dying in the wilderness.

In Paul's day the warnings were no less urgent. Referring to the terrible spiritual consequences of sin, the apostle wrote: "For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 6:23).

CHRIST IS THE SAME

He is the divine Son of God, from everlasting to everlasting: "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty" (Revelation 1:8).

The Lord is never changing and is acclaimed to be Jesus, the Christ, "the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever" (Hebrews 13:8).

We can see, then, that man is the same. Sin is the same. Christ is the same. The gospel of Christ is the same, saving men through God's power the same today as it did in the first century (Romans 1:16).

Therefore, since obedience to the same gospel will make children of God of us today as it did in the first century, it is clear that first century Christianity is not only possible, but actually exists today when people are exactingly dedicated to the New Testament and its precepts.

Churches of Christ today plead for a complete return to the New Testament as the sole rule of faith and practice in religion. We strive for religious unity on the basis of the pure Word of God. We urge purity of life and stress the one plan of salvation originally delivered by the apostles of Christ. We pray for everyone's acceptance of the "one Lord, one faith, one baptism" of first century Christianity.

Yes, first century Christianity is not only possible but desirable! Jesus prayed for the unity of His followers (John 17:20-23). What will you do to help restore undenominational Christianity as it existed in the first century?

You are invited to attend the following churches of Christ this Sunday

Rare Rock, Crystal, Fossils Embedded In Home Area

By JO BRIGHT

Ever since the first cave woman decided it would be nice to have a man around the house—and a hearth to hold him — men and women have been turning houses into homes.

A home happens in several ways. For the newlyweds on a budget, a home is often created simply by scattering a few pieces of Mama's crochet about a rented apartment. When finances are ample, there's the building-of-the-dream-house routine including the feuds with the contractor, carpenters, painters, and man in charge of scraping the labels off the windowpanes.

Perhaps the best home of all is not the first—or even the finest, but the one that "has possibilities" and affords the opportunity for a man and woman to use their creative abilities in shaping it more to their heart's desire.

Such a house is that at 1500 Eleventh Place which Mr. and Mrs. E. Lee Thackrey purchased when they moved here less than three years ago. Of white stucco, it is of modest size but situated on a large, flat lot where there is room for expansion.

BEGAN DIGGING

Last July, Thackrey, who is an instructor in the biology lab at Howard County Junior College, began using his spare hours—and a hand shovel—to dig a large hole under a back bedroom window. Eventually the excavation measured 18 by 20 feet and reached a depth of four feet. This was the beginning of a split-level living area which Mr. and Mrs. Thackrey, both in their middle years, are creating from rock, cement blocks and their own energy.

"The Project," as it is known to interested neighbors, will actually provide a two-room and bath addition to the present four-room house and will be used as a family room and study.

The base of the room is constructed of rock, gathered mostly from the South Mountain area, which contains an abundance of marine fossils. The remainder of the construction is of cement block but the shoulders of the rock walls will be topped with white marble.

RARE ROCK

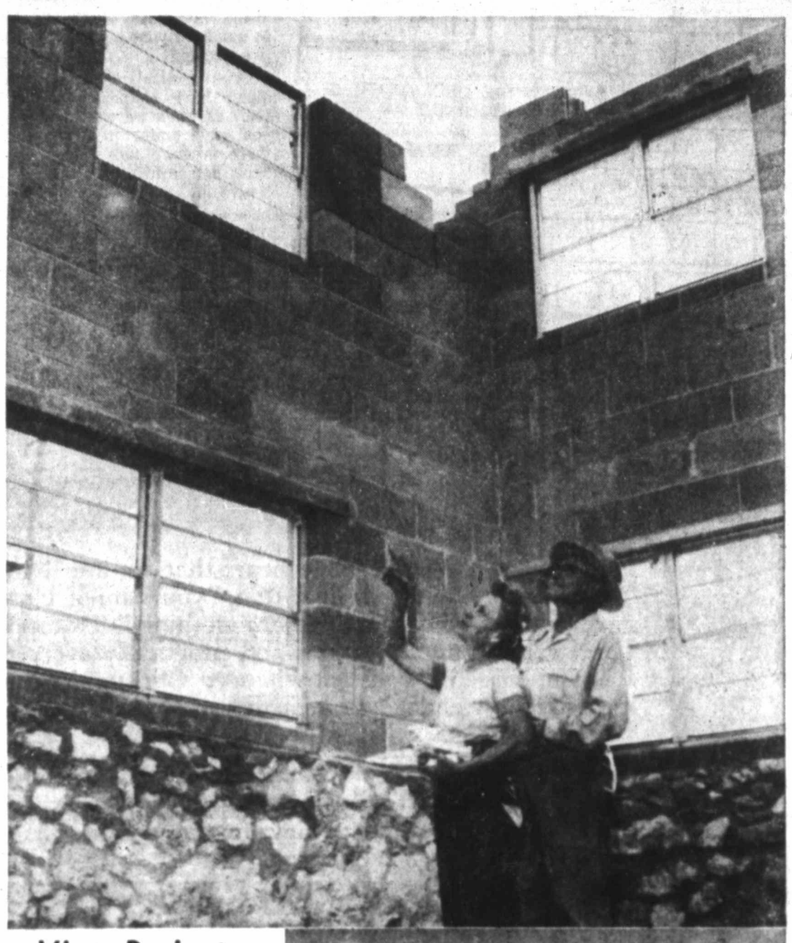

Access to the lower room will be by a semicircular stairway with a wrought iron rail leading five steps down from the present dining area. This room will contain a large, circulating heat fireplace with a blue flame log lighter. The front masonry part of the fireplace will be built of embedded rock, minerals, crystals, fossils and odd and rare specimens which Thackrey has collected over several years of vacations and field trips.

The mantel is to be made of solid lavender or rose quartz, a rare occurence of this mineral. A floor level hearth consists of an 11-inch wide border of red polished granite from Marble Falls which was cut and shaped by Thackrey. The fourth wall of the lower room will be of varnished mahogany wood paneling, and the entrance to the upper study will be a stairway adjoining the semicircular one.

Even the dirt from the excavation is being put to use. Hauled by wheelbarrow to the back corner of the lot, it will form the basis for a rock garden where a water fountain will produce a flow over the rocks which will drain into a small goldfish pond. Stacked in the yard now are cement blocks which the Thackreys will use to build a back fence.

CABIN VENTURE

This is not the Thackreys' first attempt at building. They own a mountain cabin at Alpine, Colo. where they built a huge fireplace, similar to the one here, which also contains the rare specimens. On April 23, Mr. and Mrs. Thackrey will take a college group on a field trip which will end at the cabin. As he lectures along the way, in teaching the students to observe the world around them, Thackrey's eye may be caught by a rare rock or just a pretty pebble. If so, it's probable he will find a spot in the new room to display its beauty.

View Project

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lee Thackrey examine the towering walls of cement blocks with rock base which will enclose their new family room and study. The couple used weekends and spare evening hours before sundown to excavate for the base, gather rocks, and mix mortar. The lower level will have a fireplace embedded with polished stones and a circular stairway leading to Thackrey's study above. When the project is completed, the Thackreys will begin work on a rock garden with waterfall which will provide a refreshing view from the rear windows. The yard will be landscaped and enclosed with a cement block fence.

Credit Tips Presented For Club

Jack Watkins was guest speaker at the noon meeting of the Credit Women's Club Thursday at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. Mrs. J. B. Apple introduced the lecturer who stressed the importance of detailed information on buyers purchasing on credit. This helps in skip tracing, where creditors leave without settling their debts and must be located.

Mrs. Earl Hughes presided, and 23 members attended.

Whiteside Is Speaker

Horace Whiteside of Faye's Flowers spoke on the use and proper arrangement of artificial flowers and fruit at the Tuesday meeting of the Opti-Mrs. Club in the home of Mrs. W. T. Phillips, 1309 Virginia.

The program was presented in a demonstration form and different containers were used to show how the same flowers could be arranged to carry out a modern, contemporary or early American theme.

Twelve attended and welcomed Mrs. Reg Hyer who has recently moved from Colorado City. She was one of the organizers of the club. Mrs. W. D. Broughton presided at the business session.

The next meeting will be a luncheon at Coker's Restaurant April 28 at noon.

Couple Recites Nuptial Vows

LAMESA (SC) — Miss Kay Frances Doshier and Jerald Ray Kingston repeated nuptial vows in double ring ceremonies at 8 p.m., March 25, in Hillcrest Baptist Church with Rev. Luther Crawford, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Doshier of Lamesa, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Kingston of O'Donnell.

WHITE ARCH

The couple stood beneath an archway of white mums and stock accented with a background of greenery. The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal-length gown of peau de soie accented by a fitted bodice, scooped neckline and long tapering sleeves which came to petal points over the hands. Appliqued lace panels draped the front of her soft-pleated skirt which ended in a long chapel train. The wedding dress was designed and made by the bride's mother.

The fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a tiara-type crown handmade of miniature pearls. She carried a cascade of feathered white French carnations atop a white Bible.

Miss Suzanne Hilburn of Lamesa served as maid of honor, and Larry Doshier served his brother as best man.

RECEPTION

A wedding reception was held in Fellowship Hall following the ceremony. Guests were registered from Gail, Stanton, Crane, Ackerly, Garden City, Snyder, Lubbock, Lamesa and Hobbs, N. M.

For traveling the bride chose a rust brown suit with matching accessories. She wore a corsage from the bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Lamesa High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of Borden County High School, is presently employed by Fred Doshier and Sons Well Service of Lamesa.

The couple will make their home in Lamesa following a short wedding trip.

Miss Janis Lilly Feted At Pre-Nuptial Shower

COAHOMA (SC) — Miss Janis Lilly was honored at a shower Thursday in the home of Mrs. E. H. Kiser. She is the bride-elect of Brice Willburn and their wedding will be an event of April 16.

Hostesses were Mrs. Bernard Coates, Mrs. A. G. Murphy, Mrs. Bob Kiser, Mrs. W. T. Stockstill, Mrs. Dan Pettitt, Mrs. Don Holman, Mrs. E. T. Stalcup and Mrs. Jim McMeekin.

Thirty guests were registered by Miss Judy Kiser. The refreshment table was covered in a white lace cloth over lilac and centered with a miniature bride and groom in an arrangement of lilac and white flowers.

Guests included the bridegroom - elect's mother, Mrs. Gerald Willburn, and the bride-elect's sister-in-law, Mrs. Don Lilly, both of Ackerly, and Mrs. James Jeffcoat of Knott.

Psychology Need Seen In Fashion

Ron Postal, of the National Council of Men's Fashions in California, predicts that when men understand the psychology of clothing — as most women almost inherently do — they will begin to show originality in style and color.

"In the meantime," said the fashion seer, "most of them will look as though they came out of the woodwork or wallpaper. What's maddening about it is that most of them feel safest playing it just that colorlessly."

Three Slip-Covered Beauties

John Moore designed the fish-tailed creation at left from iridescent lime silk upholstery. Fontayne herself (center) models her design made from embroidered blue satin home furnishings fabric. Couturier Norman Norell chose astronomically expensive floral printed silk taffeta drapery material for his model, at right.

Draperies Get Nod From Dress Houses

NEW YORK (AP) — The not absolutely - new technique in acquiring a chic wardrobe though poor is by cutting up the tablen linen, stitching up the bedspreads, and draping the draperies.

In ripping away the curtains of Old Tara and stitching up a Rhett-bait coustume, that fictional Southern temptress Scarlet O'Hara may have started the whole thing.

More than 100 years later, the National Society for Industrial Designers has now put its stamp of approval on this sort of thing by inviting the couturiers to invade their field.

Big fashion designers perused the luxurious materials by the bolts, took home the bedding and the lace under the family silver, and went to work with

Recently their inspirations were upholstered onto socialites, celebrities, and their favorite mannequins and the girls were sent onto the runways for the approval of the general public, but especially the home furnishings-orientated.

They were a huge success, these opulent, embroidered, brocaded, or silken garments. They were regal, sexy, or slightly on the kookie side, depending on the moods of the makers.

One thing they were not was cheap. One silken creation required at least 10 yards at $86 each to execute, plus the labor costs involved. Another floor-length gown was snipped from a bolt going (but probably not too rapidly) at $100 a yard.

At this rate obviously using home decorating materials in your wardrobe is no bargain.

But if you are short of cash, and you prefer to look better than the family sofa, the dining room windows or the kitchen table, these are a handy substitue for cash at the department store. Just refrain from inviting anybody in for a while.

WOMEN MINISTERS

Parish Workers Hear Panel Talk Thursday

A panel program, under the direction of Mrs. Albert Hohertz, was presented Thursday evening at the meeting of the Parish Workers of St. Paul Lutheran Church. Mrs. Halvard Hansen, 621 Tulane, was hostess.

The theme for the meeting was "Recruiting for Full-time Church Work." Mrs. Walter Pachall led the devotion. The topic, "Can Women Be Ministers," was presented by Mrs. Hohertz, assisted by Mrs. C. A. Wiederhoft, Mrs. James Hyman and Mrs. A. A. Graumann.

A picnic will be held in Birdwell Park on May 3. All members and friends of the church are invited, and are to bring food for their families and guests.

A scholarship fund is being started for any member interested in full time church work.

There were 19 members in attendance with two visitors, Mrs. O. O. Craig and Mrs. Lillian Sebelius.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jack Shroeder and Mrs. Boyce Hale.

Sweater Sleeves Stay Put With Elastic

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Do the sleeves of your favorite sweater stretch and keep sliding down on your arms?

Here is the way I solved this problem:

Buy enough grosgrain ribbon to go around your arm or wrist at the point where you want the sleeves to stay . . .

Shrink the ribbon BEFORE measuring, by pre-washing in HOT water.

Sew a seam so that the band will fit your arm exactly. Then . . . attach the grosgrain band to the inside of the ribbing on the bottom of your sleeves.

You will find that the sleeve will not slip down.

This works equally well on the sleeves of a nylon jersey or wool jersey dress. . . . Mrs. C. A. Barrett

Dear Heloise:

For those who have a baby who wears white shoes with dark soles that always seem to come off on the white part of baby's shoes—polish the shoes as usual, and after polishing the soles with the original color (black or brown), let the polish dry thoroughly and then apply a coat or two of clear fingernail polish over the dark color.

Your baby's shoes will never be streaked on the side as they usually are. . . . Mother

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

When the kitchen sink is on a blank side of the kitchen with no window (which is very depressing to me, anyhow) I find a mirror helps relieve the dullness. (Though sometimes, looking at myself after an hour of dishes, etc., it doesn't seem such a good idea!)

Dear Heloise:

I always had a hard time getting my tie-backs even when hanging my ruffled curtains after laundering them. I noticed that I had lots of holes on the edge of the window frames from previous times.

So I just used a black marking pencil to circle the correct hole. No more guessing next wash day and it sure saves time.

When taking in my clothes, I have a laundry cart and a basket. I put the ironable things in the cart and all of the other things for folding—in the basket. No more pawing through the whole laundry. And, thank you, dear Heloise. I love your column. . . . Blondie

Cultivation Of Violets Explained

Mrs. Preston Harrison detailed the culture of African violets for 14 members of the Spaders Garden Club when they met Thursday in the home of Mrs. V. A. Whittington, 809 W. 17th. Mrs. Kyle Cauble served as cohostess.

Violets are of several varieties, the speaker said, and grow best when care is used in sterilizing potting equipment.

A collar of foil around the edge of the pot will prevent leaf rot, she explained. Plants are watered from the top with a sprinkler and blossoms must be picked clean to induce further blooming.

Mrs. Bob Carlisle reported that the council project at the Big Spring State Hospital has been completed and the patio is ready for inspection. The club placement show, to be held April 23 at the home of Mrs. Dale Smith, was discussed.

Roll call was answered with individual's spring yard chores, and new secret pals were selected.

Officers' Wives Club Hears Flower Judge

The "Springtime" theme was evident throughout the Officers' Club at Webb Air Force Base Thursday when the Officers' Wives Club held their monthly luncheon. The scent of spring came from fresh flowers used in decorations, the colors of the season sparkled on the fashionable hats of the guests, and the enthusiasm of the gardener was in the voice of Mrs. Dale Smith, guest speaker.

Hostesses were wives of the Maintenance and Supply Group. Mrs. William D. Largent served as chairman, and her cochairmen were Mrs. Charles P. Gillis and Mrs. Bruce Burrows. Mrs. Robert Sandner, president, conducted the business session, calling for the minutes to be read by Mrs. Dwight Hartzell.

Event dates announced by Mrs. Sandner included the OWC bridge, April 16; Family Services orientation, May 21; Hi and Bye Coffee, April 29; and an all-day bridge session April 30. She reported a profit of $1,465.96 for the Red Stocking Revue, an OWC benefit.

VOCAL NUMBER

The program opened with Mrs. James Manes, pianist, accompanying Mrs. Frank V. Jones as she sang "April Showers." Mrs. H. P. N. Gammel introduced Mrs. Smith who discussed gardening and horticulture. Mrs. Smith, who has been a national flower show judge since 1954, detailed the basic requirements for producing healthy plants in the southwest area. During a question and answer period, she suggested flowers and shrubs which thrive well in this area.

An arch of greenery centered the stage which created the illusion of a garden bower. Rock wall planters held flowering plants which were later given as prizes. Opposite white wrought iron garden furniture was a white cart holding potted geraniums and a straw gardening hat. A white tree was dotted with bright pink blossoms. The centerpiece for the main table was formed of fresh flowers in shades of blue, yellow and red. The arrangement was presented to Mrs. Smith. Other tables held green watering cans filled with crepe paper flowers.

COL. TAUTE

Mrs. Sandner introduced Col. August F. Taute who spoke briefly concerning activities of women connected with the base.

Welcomed as newcomers were Mrs. David Glasser, 65-E; Mrs. William E. Green, Mrs. Ralph W. Holm and Mrs. Ronald W. Sager, all of 65-F; and Mrs. James R. Hensley and Mrs. George C. Baird, both of the permanent party.

Introduced as guests were Mrs. Roy Townsend, Mrs. Lyle Yantz, Mrs. Eldridge Estes, Mrs. Milton Talbot, Mrs. Jim Zack, Mrs. Jack Burnett, Mrs. V. C. Fichter, Mrs. Al Scarlata and Mrs. Jo Bright.

Also, Mrs. William B. Crooker, Mrs. Jack Davis, Mrs. Don Newsom, Mrs. James Duncan, Mrs. Ann Houser, Mrs. R. L. Beale, Mrs. J. R. Farmer and Mrs. Edward Swift, Mrs. E. V. Spence, and Mrs. S. W. Freese.

The plant prizes were presented to Mrs. William Cottrell, Mrs. Vic Figalan, Mrs. John Arnold, Mrs. Swift, Mrs. Jerry Welch, Mrs. Willaim A. Claire, Mrs. Roger Counts, Mrs. John H. Larson, Mrs. William F. Wesson and Mrs. Jay L. Lauer.

Candidates for offices in the OWC were introduced by Mrs. R. E. Storz, and the election will be held next month.

Announce Winners

Duplicate games were held Thursday at the Webb Officers Club with six tables in play.

Winners were Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. W. E. Harris, first; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Riley, second; Mrs. John Stone and Capt. Ron Kibler, third; and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lingenfelter, Mrs. Ron Kibler and Mrs. George C. Baird, tied for fourth.

Master point play will be held Thursday at the club.

Mrs. Badger Home Following Surgery

Mrs. B. B. Badger, 2107 Scurry, returned home Thursday following a month's stay in Austin where she underwent eye surgery.

OBIE BRISTOW BUYS TICKET
. . . to rally from Frank Sabbato

County Democrats Schedule Big Political Rally Monday

Don Yarborough, Democratic candidate for governor; Sam Sullivan, Andrews, candidate for congressman-at-large; and other candidates for state, county, precinct and township offices will be guests Monday night at the Democratic Party Candidate's Rally in the Howard County Junior College cafeteria.

The rally, sponsored by the Howard County Democratic Club, will be a hamburger dinner, followed by a free-for-all candidate speaking.

Frank Sabbato, president of the County Democratic Club, and Frank Hardesty, chairman of the Howard County Democratic Committee, said that advance sale of tickets has been good. The menu is hamburgers (all you can eat) and iced tea or coffee.

Hardesty said the meal begins at 6:30 p.m. During the dinner hour, Hoyle Nix and his West Texas Playboys will be featured in concert.

It had not been determined who would serve as toastmaster but it will be either Hardesty or Sabbato.

Hardesty said that other state and regional candidates than Yarborough and Sullivan would probably attend. He said that conflicting engagements in the area will keep a number of state and area office seekers away, but that some of these have said they will send personal representatives to appear for them.

Representative Ed Carpenter, Howard County, will be on hand, he has informed the committee. State Senator David Ratliff has said he will have either Mrs. Ratliff or his daughter here as his representative.

U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough will be unable to attend due to previous commitments.

All local candidates are urged to be present and the club officials said that arrangements will be made for each speaker.

The rally, as planned, will be the big political get-together of the campaign. Hardesty said he hopes the cafeteria will be filled to capacity for the meeting.

He pointed out that just one month remains until election, and office seekers will have to increase their campaign efforts in the few weeks to come.

He suggested that the rally will offer an excellent opportunity for the office seekers to deliver their message to the voters.

Kiwanis Set Clothing Drive

A city-wide clothing drive to collect usable garments to be turned over to the Salvation Army will be waged in Big Spring Saturday, April 25. Clyde Smith is chairman of the Kiwanis Club committee on arrangements for the drive. He announced Thursday that he would reveal general details for the campaign in a few days.

All members of the club will be recruited for this effort, Ward Jackson, president, told the club.

Announcement was also made that plans are being drawn for the rodeo barbecue. This event, on the first night of the Annual Howard County Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, will be on June 3. Initial effort, Jackson pointed out, is getting enough wood on hand for the preparation of the meat. This work will be started at once.

The boys and girls committee, headed by Ewing Werlein, has helped two youngsters get eye examinations and glasses, and also lent a hand in seeing that two other children had their tonsils removed, Jackson announced.

Program for the day, presented by Frank Rice, was a film of New York City and dealt with the preparations for the World Fair and discussed the best methods of attending this mammoth exposition.

Bob Travis was program chairman for the day.

Dave Dorchester, with Texas Electric Service Co., was initiated as a new member.

Four Charged In Burglaries

Police today said the arrest of two brothers and their wives apparently clears up three burglaries in Big Spring.

All four signed statements concerning burglaries at Tracy's Grocery, 1607 Scurry; Kirby's Cleaners, 1213 W. 3rd; and the Alamo Motel, 901 W. 3rd, police said, following their arrest earlier this week in Odessa and Midland. The home address of the four was given as Sweetwater.

According to police, approximately $107 in cash and $21.30 worth of food was taken in the burglary of the grocery, 11 items of clothing valued at $100 and two master locks worth $4 were taken at the cleaning firm, and a TV set was taken from the motel. The burglaries occurred within the past 10 days.

Police said the four persons are charged with burglary. Both women, 20 and 21, are in jail in Odessa along with one of the men—a 25-year-old. His brother, 40, remains in jail in Midland, police said.

City Election Has 11 Votes

At noon on the final day for casting absentee ballots in the general city election, only 11 votes had been counted in the office of C. R. McClenny, city secretary.

The election, for three commissioners, will be held Tuesday. McClenny said the mail vote would be counted if it is received by 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

Four of the 11 absentee votes were cast Thursday, McClenny said, and only one vote had been cast before noon Friday. However, one person called in and said "we" would be in to vote later, said McClenny, indicating other votes would be cast before the 5 p.m. deadline today.

Tradition To Be Followed

Sunday, the girls of Rainbow Assembly No. 60 of Big Spring will carry on a tradition that dates back to the early 1920's, when the chapter first was organized here.

Mrs. Barbara Daily, mother adviser, said the girls always attend church on the Sunday nearest April 7—which is the birthdate of Mark Sexson, who organized the first Rainbow Assembly in the United States. It was organized at McAlister, Okla. He was a Presbyterian minister.

In keeping with tradition, the Assembly alternates churches, first attending one, then another the next year. Mrs. Daily said the girls are from different religious sects.

This year, the Assembly will attend church services at the First Baptist Church. There are 150 girls in the Assembly.

The Rainbow Assembly corresponds to the Order of DeMolay, and both organizations are junior "replicas" of the Masonic Order and its Auxiliary.

Sweetheart

Miss Gay Gates will represent the Stanton Lions Club at the convention May 1 and 2 in Brownwood. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn G. Gates, she has been chosen as the Stanton Club Sweetheart.

Police Are Kept Busy

A variety of complaints kept police hopping Thursday.

Someone took four hubcaps valued at $30 from the car of C. M. Bentley, State Hotel, while his vehicle was parked at the T&P parking lot between 8 p.m. Wednesday and 4 p.m. Thursday.

A license plate reportedly was stolen from the car of P. H. Viera, 113 NE 9th, prior to 8:45 a.m. Thursday.

William Wheat, 4, 4003 Dixon, was bitten by a small dog according to police, who said the animal warden was to contact the dog's owner, D. W. Austin, 3914 Parkway, this morning. Another child, unidentified, was reportedly bitten by a dog in the 1600 block of Cardinal. The dog was taken to the animal pound.

Police said Mrs. K. W. Price, Andrews, complained that four hubcaps were stolen from her car while it was parked at the College Park Shopping Center between 2 and 4 p.m. Thursday.

Two boys, 19 and 17, and two girls, 16 and 15, were arrested about 10:45 p.m. Thursday at Northwest Seventh and Scurry in connection with possession of alcoholic beverages, police said.

Ross B. Abernathy, 1609 Sycamore, was taken to Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital by Nalley-Pickle ambulance about 8:15 p.m. Thursday for treatment of a head cut following a fall at his home. Police said Abernathy's head struck a stove in the fall. Hospital authorities today said his condition is good.

Rites Set For Mrs. Voline Ryals

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Mrs. Voline Ryals, 57, of Clute, Tex., died in a Galveston hospital Thursday morning. She was born Aug. 10, 1906 in Mississippi.

Funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Kiker and Son Chapel here. Rev. Neil Rogers, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, will officiate, and burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Delia Smith, Colorado City; one son, James H. Smith, Clute; two brothers, Freeman Smith, Colorado City, and J. D. Smith, Austin; five sisters, Mrs. Howard Gross, Odessa, Mrs. Vernon Ezell, Colorado City, Mrs. J. H. Roberts, Edinburg, Mrs. Margaret Denton, Odessa, Mrs. Kathryn Frazier, Waco; and two great-grandchildren.

Minor Crashes

Police investigated only two motor vehicle accidents in the city limits Thursday. Locations and drivers involved: 600 Birdwell Lane, Herman Nunez, 2601 Larry, and Johnny Bird, 807 NW 4th; Fourth and Benton, Gino Montelone, Webb AFB, and Richard Robertson, 2806 Clanton.

First Aid Course Set For Monday

The Red Cross first aid instructors course has been set back to Monday at 7 p.m. at the City Police conference room.

At that time, a decision will be reached on meeting times and place for the 18-hour course. M. J. Cole, Midland, instructor-trainer, will be in charge.

All persons who hold a current Red Cross instructors certificate or an advanced Red Cross first aid certificate are elibible to participate. Those completing the course will be certified as instructors for a period of two years.

Firemen Make Five Calls

Firemen answered four calls Thursday and one alarm this morning.

A leaking carburetor was blamed for a fire in the car of Mrs. Lela Byers about 8:45 a.m. today. It occurred at 5:08 E. 6th, firemen said, and damage was restricted to the wiring.

Light damage to a television set resulted from a short in the wiring in a fire at the Van Cleave residence, 615 Tulane, about 11 a.m. Thursday.

Grease on a stove at 2608 Clanton caught fire about 5 p.m. Thursday, but there was no damage, firemen said.

Smoke of undetermined origin caused firemen to be summoned to the 1100 block of East Nineteenth at 8:07 p.m. Thursday night. Firemen said there was no fire and the origin of the smoke could not be determined.

A grass fire of unknown cause occurred at 8:45 p.m. Thursday on a vacant lot at Second and Benton.

Weather Forecast

A wide band of precipitation is expected Friday night from the south and central Rockies eastward to the Atlantic coast except Florida. Some snow is expected in northern New England and in the higher elevations of the south and central Rockies. Rain is expected in the north Pacific coast. It will be colder in the central third of the nation but little change is expected in the remainder of the nation. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Water Pact Negotiations To Begin Here Monday

City Manager Larry Crow said today the executive director of the State Board for Special Schools and Hospitals and two members of the board will be in Big Spring Monday to negotiate the water contract for the hospital and to visit the proposed site for a new special school.

Raymond W. Vowell, executive director of the board, and Jesse M. Osborn and C. E. Bentley, members will be at city hall at 8 a.m. for the meeting, Crow said.

It also will be attended by city officials and city commissioners.

The board appointed Osborn and Bentley to represent it in water contract negotiations with the city upon the recommendation of the attorney general's office.

The city had filed suit against the state, seeking to revise its contract for furnishing water to the hospital. The contract, signed in 1937, should be invalid since it created a perpetuity, binding future commissions, according to City Attorney John Burgess.

Originally scheduled to be heard Monday, the suit was passed over last Friday in Austin.

Under terms of the contract, the city furnishes the hospital water at a cost of 10 cents per thousand gallons. City officials claim the cost of water to the city, after treatment and other expenses are deducted, is about 35 cents per thousand gallons.

Crow said the visitors would tour the proposed site for a new state special school following the negotiations. The city has offered several acres of land near the present hospital as a possible site for the new school.

didates are running for three places, and in Forsan where five candidates are after two places.

Coahoma District voters will mark ballots in the city hall and at Vincent Baptist Church. Woner Robinson, Marion Hays, and T. O. Ernest, are seeking re-election to the Coahoma board. New candidates are Jasper Gibson, Donald Deke, and C. C. (Red) Harrison.

Forsan voters will choose two trustees from five candidates. Ed Simpson and D. M. Bardwell are incumbents seeking re-election. R. V. Fryar, Jack Ellis Sr. and Leroy Findley are new candidates. The polling places will be at Forsan High School and at Elbow.

SANDS

Sands Independent School District will elect three board members, with two incumbents seeking re-election. The box will be at the Paymaster Gin in the Brown Community. Supt. M. B. Maxwell said the location was near the center of the district.

Larry Shaw and Bobby Roman are asking re-election. New candidates are Jack Bolin, Bill Sprawls, Walter Froman, W. C. Fryar, and A. V. Graham.

GLASSCOCK

Glasscock County independent School District, including the entire county, will have a trustee election at the school building in Garden City. Eight candidates are running for four two-year places on the board. Incumbents asking re-election are: L. C. Hardy, Arnold Lange, J. A. Pagan, R. D. Dobbs. New candidates are Clyde Reynolds, R. J. Hunnicutt, D. M. White, and Robert Hayden.

Borden County voters will choose two trustees from five candidates. Incumbent J. H. Jones, along with O. B. Petty, D. V. Phipps, Roland Keener and Donald Preston, will be on the ballot. Art Davison, incumbent, is not seeking re-election.

O'Donnell school district voters will express themselves for or against a $275,000 major improvements bond program for the district. This will be the second similar program in two years. They will also elect two trustees from three candidates. Julian Pirtle and Dick Franklin are asking re-election and Glen B. Brewer is the third candidate.

HAS PRINCE GONE BEATLE ON BRITONS?

LONDON (AP) — Has Prince Charles adopted the Beatle cut?

The 15-year-old heir to the throne, who toots a fair trumpet and twists rather fabulously—returned Thursday night from school in Scotland.

As he strode into the wind at the airport, his darkish hair came down over his eyes, Beatle style. It stayed in the familiar droop as he climbed into a royal sedan.

Squares pointed out that Charles had been exposed to clippers and shears in the rear, especially along the neck line. It was just the wind blowing on Charles' fairly long front locks, they said.

A spokesman for palace attaches said:

"We really don't know if it's a Beatle hairdo or not. Doesn't look it from the rear or the sides perhaps. And we really can't ask, now can we?"

Quarantined For Meningitis

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Thirty-eight persons who may have come in contact with a soldier suffering from spinal meningitis were quarantined on a Frisco railroad train today and were to be taken to Ft. Sill for treatment.

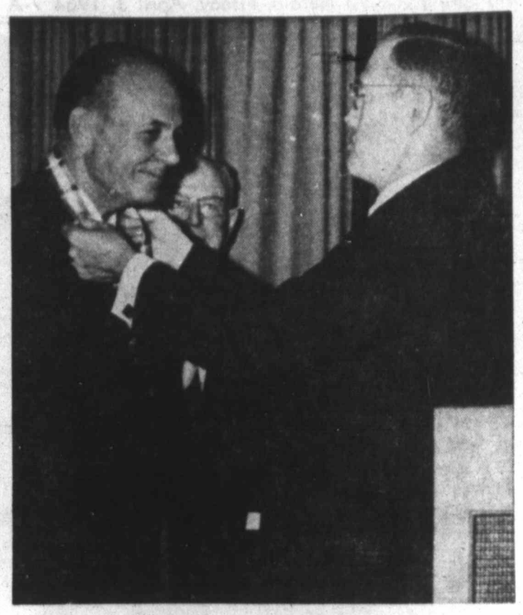

Details were vague, but apparently the soldier, identified by military authorities as Pvt. Kenneth R. Murray, was traveling with 38 other soldiers from Ft. Knox, Ky., to Ft. Sill.

Officers Named

STANTON (SC)—Udell Morris has been elected president of the Stanton Lions Club. Other officers elected were Bob Cain, first vice president; Roy Phemister, second vice president; John Wood, third vice president; Roy Pickett, secretary; George Walter, tail twister; F. O. Rhodes, lion tamer; Jack Ireton and James Jones, directors; Pauline Wood, sweetheart; and Rev. C. R. LeMond, chaplain.

Man Injured

A 22-year-old Big Spring man was treated at Cowper Clinic-Hospital about 9:30 p.m. Thursday for cuts on both sides of the neck and wrist. He was placed in city jail following treatment, according to police, and was kept overnight.

HIGHEST SCOUTING HONOR CONFERRED
R. L. Tollett gets Silver Beaver from Joe Pickle

Tollett Given Scouting Award

Raymond L. Tollett, Cosden Oil and Chemical president, was in the midst of an African tour in January when the Buffalo Trail conferred on him its highest award, the Silver Beaver.

Friends and fellow Scouters saw to it Thursday that he received it with appropriate recognition as upwards of 200 of them gathered at Cosden Country Club.

R. W. Whipkey, Herald publisher and associated with Tollett in civic endeavors for nearly 25 years, lauded him as a considerate and charitable man.

"He has shown his talent for leadership in far more than money, for he has invested in boys in a program for physical, mental and moral strengthening," he said.

Against a backdrop of several others who have been similarly honored, Tollett, who is district chairman, had this decoration for outstanding service to boyhood placed around his neck by Joe Pickle, vice chairman of the Lone Star District.

Early in the program, Joe A. Moss, first vice chairman of the district and also an associate of Tollett's, had noted that this was a significant day in that the last corporate acts of the Cosden Petroleum Corporation had been performed. Association with Tollett in the company, he said, had taught him that the company had been the "reflection of honor and integrity" of the man who headed it.

Boys from the Cub, Scout and Explorer units sponsored by Cosden (Pack 29, Troops 4 and 136, Ship 136, Air Squadron 236 and Post 444) furnished the color guard. The Rev. James Puckett, Baptist Temple pastor, and the Rev. Henry Parmenter led the prayers.

Tollett told the audience gathered at the banquet for the occasion that he considered this "the highest honor I have ever been privileged to receive." He said that Scouting was a wonderful program, and that support involved much more than money.

Whipkey said that from the time Tollett came to Big Spring in 1940, it was apparent that he would be a leader in civic affairs. He credited Tollett with a leading role in maintaining community spirit and in helping countless individuals and causes unobtrusively but generously.

Standing with Tollett for the award were other Silver Beaver wearers including Dr. W. B. Hardy, W. C. Blankenship, Joe Pickle, George Melear, Sam McComb, Sherman Smith, Earl E. Campbell, and Garrett Patton. Nat Shick and Dr. W. A. Hunt were unable to be present. Arrangements for the banquet were directed by Jack Gulley, district commissioner, and decorations were arranged by the After Five Garden Club.

OIL REPORT

Sterling Test Is Abandoned

A Sterling County wildcat has been plugged and abandoned.

An old well worked over, BSW Drilling Co. No. 1 J. W. Johnson locates 660 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west lines of section 196-2, H&TC survey. It went to a total depth of 4,662 feet with 4½-inch casing being set at that level.

Six new locations have been filed with the Railroad Commission in area counties, with Howard County's three projects heading the activity.

All three Howard County wells, which will test the Iatan, East Howard field, will be drilled by the Sinclair Oil & Refining Company. Each one will be a water injection well.

No. 122 Granville M. Dodge Est. spots 660 feet from the south and 2,636 feet from the east lines of section 11-30, T&P survey. It is five miles east of Coahoma on a 645 acre lease. It will go to 2,850 feet by rotary tool.

Another project to 2,850 feet by rotary tool, No. 123 Granville M. Dodge Est., will locate 660 feet from the south and 2,632 feet from the east lines of section 3-30, T&P survey. It is also five miles east of Coahoma on a 645 acre lease.

No. 125 Granville M. Dodge Est. locates 660 feet from the south and 75 feet from the west lines of section 3-30, T&P survey. It is five miles east of Coahoma on a 645 acre lease. It will also go to 2,850 feet.

Two locations are spotted in Mitchell County.

E. L. Wilson of Dallas has scheduled No. 1 R. A. May as a 5,100-foot lower Permian wildcat, three miles southeast of Westbrook. The drill site is 467 feet from the south and 2,173 feet from the east lines of section 55-27, T&P survey. It is four miles east of the multipay Dockrey area.

Standard Oil Co. of Texas will drill No. 3-S-5 W. L. Foster to 2,500 feet in the Iatan (San Andres) field. An old well drilled deeper, it spots 990 feet from the north and 2,135 feet from the west lines of section 7-29, T&P survey. It is eight miles east of Coahoma on a 160 acre lease.

Scofflaw Queen

Miss Hermena Perlmutter, a lawyer specializing in defending persons accused of traffic violations, became New York's scofflaw queen when she pleaded guilty to 257 unanswered traffic summons in Criminal Court. She was fined $3,418. Some counts dated back to 1960. One other charge, she denied, alleged driving without registration. She'll get trial on that June 4. Her home is in Elizabeth, N.J. Emergency Fund Sought In Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Gov. William A. Egan flies to Juneau today to urge a joint session of the Legislature to approve a $50-million emergency bond issue to help earthquake-torn Alaskan cities.

The amount is only a tenth of the estimated loss but, says Egan, it will show Alaska is willing to do everything possible to pull itself up by its bootstraps.

President Johnson urged Congress to approve $50 million in emergency funds quickly and in Seattle, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D - Wash., predicted eventual congressional approval of up to $200 million.

INSURANCE

Jackson, attending a meeting of 500 state and federal officials and Seattle businessmen, proposed a government-sponsored retroactive disaster insurance plan. He said the precedent of retroactive insurance was established during World War II when the government offered war-risk insurance to persons suffering property losses.

Alaska Sen. E.L. Bartlett told the meeting his state has an assessed valuation of $815 million and damage, in terms of replacement costs, would amount to about $550 million.

While others talked of money for the vast rehabilitation tasks, Alaskans continued doing the little jobs that bring order out of chaos. Homes, shaken but liveable, were straightened and it was back to school for youngsters in many places.

The weather turned cold and snow began to fall. But it could not cover the ugly piles of rubble in the center of this beautiful city, Alaska's largest.

Heat and power have been restored to most of the city and telephone service is back to normal. It is being overtaxed, however, by anxious relatives and friends.

Although a week has passed, the total number of casualties is not known, and may not be for some time yet. Civil Defense officials place the figure at 125 dead and missing.

FOOD SENT

There was no food shortage here, but 60,000 pounds was airlifted to Kenai, Soldotna and Homer in the hard-hit area on the peninsula south of here.

Opening lead: Ten of ◇

East's maneuvers in defending against declarer's slam contract apparently marked him as a "long shot" bettor. The favorite, however, was in his opponent's corral, and it required a very nimble mental performance for East to uncover the best bet for an upset.

When South made a jump rebid in his own suit after North's two club response, the latter was aware that a slam was in the offing, for he had the equivalent of an opening bid himself. His action took the form of a raise beyond game—an invitation which South was quick to accept.

West opened the ten of diamonds and the ace was played from the dummy. Trumps were drawn in three rounds. Declarer cashed the ace of clubs dropping West's ten and continued with a small club. When West showed out, South put in dummy's nine. Had East taken this trick, the contest would have been over, for declarer would now have been in position to discard his small hearts on North's established club suit.

East was fully aware that the moment of decision was at hand, and he paused to consider his prospects. If he won the trick, his only chance to set the contract hinged on an attempt to cash the king of diamonds, for South was surely marked with the ace of hearts to warrant his strong bidding. However, if declarer had a second diamond, he would surely have finessed the queen on the opening lead.

East reached the conclusion that the only real opportunity was the prospect of finding his partner with the jack of hearts, in which case there was a chance to take two tricks in that suit. In order to put his judgment to the test, East permitted dummy's nine to hold, for by surrendering his club trick he prevented the run of the suit.

Declarer cashed the king of clubs and ruffed himself in with another club. Since the North hand lacked an entry to cash the established long card in the suit, South switched his attentions to hearts. He cashed the ace and then led another heart to the queen. He was doomed to disappointment when the king turned up in the East hand. A heart return permitted West to cash the setting trick in that suit.

Economy Run To Stop Here

All eyes of the American automotive industry will be trained with increasing interest on Big Spring for a few hours Sunday as the caravan of cars making up the 1964 Mobil Economy Run make a stop at the Cosden Country Club for lunch before continuing their cross-country tour.

The automobiles, en route on their third day of a week-long journey from Los Angeles to the Mobil exhibit building at the New York World's Fair, will roll into Big Spring from Farm Road 700 approximately at 11:45 a.m. and after a short luncheon will continue their day's 600 mile drive from El Paso to Fort Worth.

The run is made only by stock automobiles for the purpose of determining mileage economy.

The United States Auto Club, the sanctioning body for the run, has divided the competition into eight separate classes, ranging from small compacts to heavyweight luxury classes. The 45 cars in this year's competition will represent every American make of automobile.

The USGA, which maintained a 24-hour surveillance of the entries before the race officially began, requires that all cars be driven in a "realistic and honest manner," with all traffic laws being obeyed and gas-saving tricks such as coasting down hills out of gear strictly forbidden. An observer rides in each car to ensure that all rules are followed.

Water District Puts New Plans In Motion

Extension of the contract with Sun Oil Company for its waterflood purposes was in prospect as a result of the board of directors meeting of the Colorado River Municipal Water District Thursday.

If negotiated by E. V. Spence, general manager, the deal would involve the CRMWD furnishing an additional 600,000 gallons of water a day. Sun has approximately 900,000 gallons per day leeway under its original 3,000,000 gpd contract with the district. This would meet the requirements of Perkins & Prothro for 1,500,000 gpd to supply another waterflood project.

The district proposes to construct a 5½-mile pipeline to serve the proposed project. Sun Oil Company would treat water which goes into the line. The district's investment would be set up over a 15-year contract period.

The way also was cleared for some selective experimental kills on rough fish in Lake J. B. Thomas. The board provided funds which may be used upon recommendation of the Texas Game & Fish Commission. R. A. Schooling, lake superintendent, said this would be an effort to improve fishing, but he pointed out that recent nettings had indicated the lake's ratio of game fish to rough fish is more than acceptable.

An experiment in stockpiling raw lake water underground in a portion of the Martin County well field is proceeding above expectations, O. H. Ivie, assistant general manager, told the board. He said that since Dec. 27, 1963, the district had injected 136,000,000 gallons in dewatered formations and that the goal of 160,000,000 gallons would be reached before pumping to Odessa in the early summer would be necessary.

Directors approved contracts for drilling and equipping three wells which were installed to recover water put in under the injection program.

A recommendation on the location of a dam to impound a second lake on the Colorado River is due to be ready by July 1, S. W. Freeese, Fort Worth, the district's consulting engineer, told the board. He said that he is hopeful that the district would be in a position to start securing land for the dam and basin before the end of the year. Two sites, one in southern Mitchell County and one northwest of Robert Lee, have been under consideration. The lake would impound about twice the volume of Lake J. B. Thomas, the present reservoir.

Ensign Killed

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Ens. Francis Andreas of Delano, Calif., was killed Thursday when his plane crashed at a Navy landing field near the city. Another student pilot in the plane, Rexford Wolf, of Kenton, Ohio, was injured but was in satisfactory condition today.

NATO Official Sets Retirement

PARIS (AP)—Dirk U. Stikker secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, announced today he is retiring in the middle of the summer.

Stikker, 67, told the NATO council his health would not permit him to continue. He underwent a series of abdominal operations in Washington's Walter Reed Hospital in 1962.

Committee To Explore Having Safety Study

The possibility of having a representative of the Texas Safety Association to coordinate a survey of community safety practices will be explored by the Chamber of Commerce public health and safety committee.

W. W. Brown reported to the group that this service is possible, and that the role of the TSA would be to advise the city in certain areas in light of experiences elsewhere. The service is purely advisory, he said.

He also relayed the prime program advanced at the recent TSA meeting attended by him and Paul Soldan. This included improvement of the driver license laws; improvement of police support in salaries and in the number of state patrolmen; inclusion of high school driver education programs under the foundation program; and creation of modern courts of traffic law. Supt. Sam Anderson explained that currently the driver education program is financed entirely by the local districts.

Regarding erection of signs pleading for safe driving, Brown said highway and safety officials at the state meeting were of the opinion that signing was at the saturation point. On one stretch of South Texas road, experiments are being run on reducing the number of signs to a bare minimum.

Carroll Davidson, chamber manager, presented a copy of the brief in support of the city's bid for consideration as a site for the proposed state home for retarded children. He said that the board for Texas Special Schools and Hospitals had named a screening committee which is setting up criteria. Applications will then be rated and visitations will follow.

The city is making good progress in its program of eradication or remodeling of buildings which are hazards to safety or health, said City Manager Larry Crow. Following notice to eight property owners, four buildings have been removed or demolished. Another dozen notices have now gone out, he said.

Trinity Baptist To Hold Services At High School

The morning and evening worship services, and the auditorium Bible Class at Trinity Baptist Church will be held in the Big Spring High School auditorium April 5, 12, and 19, Rev. Jack Power has announced. The services will be held at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

All Sunday School classes, except the auditorium Bible class, will meet in their usual places. The nursery will also operate in the present building. The mid-week prayer service will be held in the small auditorium at the church.

REV. DON MARTIN

Opens Revival Here Sunday

Revival services with Rev. Don Martin, Arlington, as evangelist, will begin Sunday and continue through April 19 at the First Assembly of God Church, West Fourth and Lancaster, according to the pastor, Homer Rich.

Services will be conducted each evening at 7:30 p.m., except Saturday. The crusade is being held in conjunction with the special emphasis from Easter to Pentecost Sunday. Special prayer meetings will be held at the church each morning from 9-10 a.m.

The Sunday School department will be using the theme, "Great Is Thy Faithfulness", to add impetus to the program of reaching and teaching through the Sunday School staff.

Rev. Martin, a talented musician, both vocally and instrumentally, has ministered throughout the nation. His ministry has a direct appeal to youth, as well as mature adult congregations. The public is invited.

Pioneering In Training

By DUDLEY LYNCH
Portales, N.M., News Tribune

PORTALES, N.M. (AP) — Quietly, and with little publicity, Eastern New Mexico University is pioneering in a field normally reserved for religious colleges or seminaries.

The Portales institution produces a dozen or more ministers each year, complete with degrees.

Buildings, religious instructors materials and expenses are underwritten by the participating religious groups.

The university accredits the courses offered.

Members of small churches in Eastern New Mexico and West Texas are acutely aware of the program. Many of the country congregations depend on ministerial students to fill their pulpits each Sunday.

At this time of year at least two of the three chairs of religion at ENMU are swamped with requests for graduates to fill pulpits throughout the Southwest.

The Church of Christ Bible Chair has the largest program with two fulltime staff members and curriculum which leads to a master's degree in religion.

Dr. Steven Eckstein, dean of the Bible Chair directors after 11 years here, said the chair has sixteen ministerial students this year.

"This is the best year we've had," Dr. Eckstein said.

Since the Church of Christ chair was begun in 1947, 75 to 100 preachers have been turned out of ENMU with religion and related majors.

Eugene Byrd, is co-director and an assistant professor in religion.

How does the ENMU student of religion compare with the ministers turned out by Church of Christ colleges?

"Our people are all over the world and have certainly demonstrated their ability to fit in," Dr. Eckstein said. "We have more requests than we can fill when our men get their degrees."

The Rev. Robert Clarke, director of the Baptist Student Union, prepares more men for the theological seminaries than he sends directly into the preaching fields. Many of his religion majors are already full-time ministers, however, and commute to Portales three or more days a week from points as far distant as 100 miles.

The Baptist chair turns out an average of five ministers a year.

The situation at the Methodist Church's Wesley Foundation is quite different.

The Rev. Milton Chester, completing his first year here, said the difference is due to the preferences of Methodist seminaries.

"Our seminaries do not want religious majors, they want liberal arts students," he said.

For this reason the Methodist chair turns out no religious majors although it is a center for future seminary students who are working on their preliminary liberal arts degrees.

Mormons Hold Conference

The West Texas District is being represented at the general conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Salt Lake City, Utah this weekend.

Mrs. Elton Wallace, Mrs. Robert D. Shaw and Mrs. G. F. Casey have been attending the primary conference this week and will be present for the general semi-annual session starting Saturday. Twice each year since its organization in 1830, the church has held a conference at the historic Morman tabernacle.

Today's general conference will draw several thousand delegates representing some two million members. The 375-voice tabernacle choir will sing and the services will be televised in this area from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. over KOSA-TV, channel 7, Odessa.

It Turned Out To Be Right

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A woman who just moved here found a job at Central School Supply Co. On the first day, she rushed into the manager's office and announced:

"There's a man trying to get funny. He bought a lot of school supplies and wants them charged to Christ the King."

The manager assured her everything was proper . . . that Christ the King is a Catholic church.

VBS Planning

It's two months until vacation time, but Baptists in the Big Spring Association will be laying the groundwork for their Vacation Bible Schools soon. An associational meeting for workers will be held April 13 at Airport Baptist Church, and experts will be on hand to advise on programs and materials.

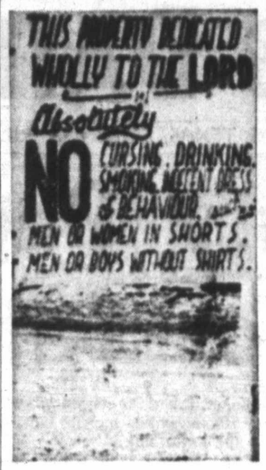

Blacks To Attend Meet

The Rev. John C. Black Jr., pastor of Big Spring's First Christian Church, Mrs. Black, and several delegates from the church, will join more than 3,500 ministers and lay leaders from Texas at the 77th annual assembly of the Texas Association of Christian Churches in Houston April 16-19.

The sessions, which will officially open at 7:30 p.m. April 16, will have as the central theme "Disciple Traditions — Renewed and Reformed." Dr. Travis A. White, president of Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, and president of the Texas association, will deliver the keynote address. The group is expected to authorize the largest fund-raising program of the Christian churches (Disciples of Christ) — a $5,365,000 capital funds campaign.

The Big Spring delegates will be among the 1,200 who will act on all business matters. More than 7,000 registrations are expected from 500 Texas Christian churches.

Sessions will close with an ecumenical service Sunday afternoon.

Stern Warning

This is the sign outside a farm occupied by a religious group calling itself The Believers. The group and its leader, Brother Don Kindhart, re-established itself on the farm after it was ousted by the Southern Baptist Convention last year. Kindhart estimates there are 150 people in his congregation who came to Iola, Kan., "on a call from the Lord." (AP WIREPHOTO)

LOOK UP FOR PROOF

"Look up," is the theme of the International Sunday School lesson for April 5. Bible readings include Genesis 1:1-13, 27, 31; Psalms 104:1-24; Job 38:1-11; Isaiah 40:12-26.

That this is God's universe is emphasized in the topic for the lesson. The scarcity of true atheism is pointed out, as the subject turns to the prophecies from the Bible telling of God's work in creating the universe.

The lesson is briefly summed up with a look at the sky and the world about it. Who created these? Where did they come from?

Veteran Retires

NEW YORK (AP) — After 41 years of service, William E. Leidt has retired as director of publications for the national council of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Westside Baptist Slates Revival

The Rev. Bill Kenny, evangelist from Llano, will preach at 8 p.m. each night of a week's revival to be held at Westside Baptist Church, beginning Sunday.

Prayer service will be held at 7:30 o'clock each night prior to the revival message. James Kinman, Big Spring, will lead the singing.

The host pastor is Rev. Kenneth Andress, who recently moved here from Westbrook, where he was pastor of the First Baptist Church. A native of Haskell, Rev. Andress is a graduate of Hardin - Simmons University and has attended Southwestern Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. He issued an invitation to the public to attend.

Quarterly Song Fest Scheduled

Regular quarterly singing at the Apostolic Faith Church, 1400 Goliad, will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. and the public is invited to attend.

Bob Spears is president of the association which arranges the program. A number of out of town quartets have said they will be on hand Sunday to take part.

The programs usually run about two hours.

Rev. Bingham Accepts Klondike Church Call

After eight years as pastor of the Hillcrest Baptist Church, the Rev. H. L. Bingham has submitted his resignation to accept a call to another charge.

He will become pastor of the Klondike Baptist Church in south central Dawson County the latter part of April. Klondike has one of the largest rural congregations in Dawson County.

REV. H. L. BINGHAM

Rev. Bingham came here eight years and one month ago from the Friendship Church in Lamesa to take charge of the Hillcrest ministry then a mission of the First Baptist Church. The church had gone from mission to church status and back to a mission operation when he came here. During his tenure as pastor, the church has become a self-supporting congregation in its own right, sponsored a mission of its own (Berea Baptist) which now has a larger membership than the mother church.

More than 375 persons have come into the fellowship of the Hillcrest Church, not counting those at its mission, while Rev. Bingham has been the pastor. During the past two years, he served as acting director of the Baptist Encampment north of Stanton in addition to his pastoral duties.

Rev. and Mrs. Bingham have two children; Mrs. Wayne Holcombe, Houston, and Pfc. Ronnie Bingham, who is stationed by the Army in Germany.

CHRIST IS RISEN
The importance of Easter lies in the fact that Christ rose triumphantly from the tomb. By accepting Christ we, too, have victory over death.

THE Twenty-Third PSALM

You've got to have your arms around a warm, wooly, wobbly lamb before the real meaning of the Twenty-third Psalm grips you.

You begin to realize how awkward, bewildered, helpless a lamb really is.

David wasn't merely singing of the Lord's faithfulness. He was confessing his own helplessness!

The key to religious faith is not simply the discovery of God's power. It is the discovery of our own need.

The Lord is OUR Shepherd.

1 The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want;
2 he makes me lie down in green pastures. He leads me beside still waters;
3 he restores my soul. He leads me in paths of righteousness for his name's sake.
4 Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me.
5 Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of my enemies; thou anointest my head with oil, my cup overflows.
6 Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Willie Roy Johnson—Mile relay, possibly sprint medley relay.

Henry Lopez—Pole vault, mile relay.

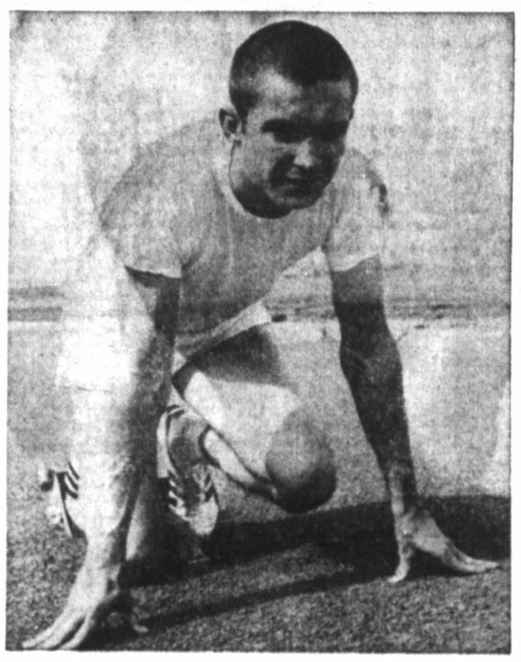

Gary Morris—Mile.

Hubert Perkins—220, possibly at least one relay event.

Frank Palamino—Two relay events.

Ronnie Dale Smith—Javelin, shot put, discus.

The meet will serve as a final warmup for the Steers prior to the District 2-AAAA meet, which will be in Odessa a week from tomorrow.

Runs In Austin

John Perry, star quartermiler for Howard County Junior College, will represent the local school in the Texas Relays in Austin, which terminate Saturday. Perry has been one of the most consistent point-getters for the Hawks this season. He's from Hearne, is a transfer student from the University of Texas.

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

MIKE WESTER of the Abilene Reporter-News:

"A lot of advice is passed out each spring on how to catch fish. But, few "experts" offer suggestions on what to do if you don't succeed . . . Perhaps the first thought which comes to mind is to buy a "catch" at the local fish market. This is a common deception, even though the angler's reputation is at stake. Once discovered pulling such a stunt, even fish caught legitimately are hard to claim as the fisherman's "own."

JIM MURRAY

"Other water hunters claim the big one got away. Even though overworked, this fabrication can be effective if it has two important ingredients: corroborating testimony from one or more fishing companions and physical evidence of an epic struggle. Verification is easy to provide but producing the evidence is tougher. Try tearing the bottom out of a landing net because the fish was so big. Or, break that new fishing rod in half to back up your story. Sporting goods dealers like to encourage this method, but it can prove costly."

• • • •

DON HUTSON, former Alabama University and Green Bay Packer end, talking about the best receiver he's seen in pro football:

"That Del Shofner makes everybody look bad."

• • • •

JIM MURRAY of the Los Angeles Times:

"Nowadays, to have a flyweight fighter, first you got to have a famine. Or a war, which is the same thing. You got to go to a part of the world where they had the same kind of diet where you had to beat the dogs to the food. You get a guy who ate two fortune cookies a year and he can't make the weight without chopping off an arm."

Talking about Japanese flyweight HIROYUKI EBIHARA:

"One hundred and ten pounds of raw fish with a fright wig on top. The Japanese Beatle. The only son of Nippon who can eat in a teahouse and still stand up because if he sat down and took his shoes off on a rug, you'd need a vacuum cleaner to find him. Stripped, he looks like one chopstick."

• • • •

MAL WHITFIELD, Negro track star who won three Olympic gold medals while competing for the U.S.:

"I am going to make what may seem a shocking proposal coming from a former Olympic athlete who has traveled in many foreign countries as an official goodwill ambassador for the United States of America. But it is because of my personal examination of my country's image abroad and my first-hand knowledge of its many home-grown ills, that I take the following position:

"I advocate that every Negro athlete eligible to participate in the Olympic Games in Japan next October boycott the games if Negro Americans by that time have not been guaranteed full and equal rights as first-class citizens.

"Just how effective would a Negro athletes' boycott of the Olympics be? There is the possibility that the 1964 U.S. Olympic team will be dotted with dark faces in greater numbers than ever before—that is if the time trials are not seeded so that you have all Negroes in one heat. (This has happened before on occasions.) For instance, in the 100- and 200-meters, Negroes would dominate four places. They could also dominate in the 400-meter relays. In the broad jump, it will be a toss-up between the former record-holder and the current record-holder, which could put two black faces in that event. In the high jump, there could be two or perhaps even three Negroes; the same in the hop-skip-and-jump. In addition, there could be two or three good Negro representatives in the high hurdles, and Negro contestants should show up in all divisions of the Olympic boxing team, giving a total of about 25 per cent Negro participation. This means that in sports, Negroes are still carrying the heaviest load in America."

National League Will Sign Boys

Boys 8 through 12, as of July 31, interested in playing in the National Little League will sign Saturday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. at College Heights School.

Only boys residing within the district boundaries, however, may sign in the district. Territory south from Fourth Street to the county line and between Settles Street on the east and Sunset-Parkway streets on the west is in the league. Boys signing should bring their birth certificates or other bona fide proof of age.

Giant Star Signs

NEW YORK (AP)—Roosevelt Brown, the New York Giants' 32-year-old star tackle, has signed for his 12th pro season in the National Football League, the club said Thursday.

Bellard Says He Won't Take Lubbock Post

SAN ANGELO — Emory Bellard, San Angelo head football coach and athletic director, has been contacted by Lubbock school officials with regard to the athletic directorship of Lubbock schools but he said Thursday he had given them a negative answer.

The position at Lubbock has been open since Eck Curtis resigned about a month ago.

"I like the coaching part of sports the best," Bellard stated in commenting on his answer to Lubbock officials.

The Lubbock school system now has three high schools, Lubbock, Monterey and Dunbar. The athletic director does no coaching.

Bellard has been at San Angelo four years and has won the District 2-4A title and bi-district over the 1-4A titlist the last three years.

Bellard this weekend will head the high school lecture section at the second annual West Texas State Coaching Clinic at Canyon. Ray Graves, head football coach and athletic director at the University of Florida will be the main speaker among the college coaches.

Shoot Will Be Held

VINCENT—The Mesquite Gun Club will hold a shoot Sunday at the range seven miles west of Vincent. It will be a center and rim-fire pistol shoot with 10 shots being fired offhand at 25 yards.

In the last shoot March 22, three Big Springers took all the trophies.

La Roy Shaffer was the top man with three bullseyes and a 95, beating out Roy Ford who also had a 95 but no bullseyes. Horace Reagan took third with a 94 and one bullseye.

Steers Meet Top Netters

ABILENE — The Big Spring High School tennis team was in Abilene today along with 24 other high schools and 215 players as the Abilene Invitational tournament got under way.

The Big Springers should have a tough time.

Midland Lee will be back defending its team title it won a year ago with Abilene Cooper, Lubbock Monterey, San Angelo, and Wichita Falls expecting to have top personnel on hand.

San Angelo's Johnny White will be back to defend his boys A title, but is seeded second to Odessa Permian's Mike Beene. The pair has met twice this season with each lad recording one victory.

In the doubles competition, Joe Williams and Bobby Connel of San Angelo are top seeds.

In girls' competition, Dabby Phillips of Abilene High is back to defend her A girls singles crown while the A girls doubles has Monterey's Sharon See and Sherry Sloan picked as top contenders.

Runnels, Goliad Split In Matches

Runnels and Goliad spht in two volleyball matches played Thursday in the Goliad gym.

Runnels' Yearlings took the seventh grade contest with twin 15-6 and 15-7 victories. Barrera led the winners with 12 points while Brenda Henson had five for the losers.

In the eighth grade match, the Mavericks retaliated with 15-11 and 15-6 victories as Robbie Smart led the winners with 12 points. Williams had five for Runnels.

Morose Cincy Royals Two Down In Series

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON (AP)—"We just laid down," said frustrated Cincinnati Coach Jack McMahon. "If we get this kind of performance, I don't expect we'll win again. The Celtics will sweep us in four."

McMahon held his post-mortem outside the wake-like Royals' dressing room Thursday night after Boston defeated his team 101-90 and took a commanding 2-0 lead in the Eastern Division playoff final.

The best-of-seven National Basketball Association series now moves to Cincinnati Sunday and Tuesday nights. No team in NBA playoff annals ever has been down 0-2 in a seven-game set and pulled it out.

St. Louis, which entered the Western Division final as the underdog, takes a one-game edge into Friday night's second contest at San Francisco.

"The Celtics were aggressive," McMahon said. "We wouldn't even go after a loose ball. I'm disgusted with this team. On switches when a Boston player got by, my boys would say 'oops,' shrug and then figure it wasn't their responsibility any more.

"Look, we're the highest-scoring team in the league and we've got 87 and 90 points in the playoffs. Are they tired? How the devil can they be tired?

"I said Jerry Lucas was 30 per cent with that back condition. Heck, he's not even 10 per cent. He looks like he's afraid to bounce the ball. He must be in pain. He keeps telling me he can play, but he can't.

"Jack Twyman had a good shooting game with 27 points but he gave up that many on defense. Oscar Robertson got 30? He'll get that many if he just gets the ball.

"I think that K.C. Jones of the Celtics is your star. He hustled, he worked the ball in and gave Boston a great game."

"K. C. Jones was great, the whole show," echoed Lucas. "I never before played a game in my life when I didn't score at least one basket."

Lucas was held to three free throws and seven rebounds.

"They played a good ball game, we played a better one," commented Boston Coach Red Auerbach. "We certainly aren't overconfident by any stretch of the imagination."

Tommy Heinsohn got 31 points and Sam Jones 25 to pace Boston scoring.

Northern Dancer Gets Big Test

By The Associated Press

Canadian - owned Northern Dancer and 24 other 3-year-old thoroughbreds are slated to present their Kentucky Derby credentials for consideration Saturday in four rich races topped by the $100,000-added Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park.

In addition to the 1 1-18 miles of the Florida Derby for which Northern Dancer is the 4-5 choice, the preps for the May 2 running of the blue ribbon event at Churchill Downs includes the one mile of the $50,000-added Gotham at Aqueduct, the 1⅛ miles of the $25,000-added Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park and the one mile of the $15,000-added California Derby Trial at Golden Gate Fields.

Other 3-year-olds also are slated to go in the four stakes but it is the Kentucky Derby candidates that figure to be in the spotlight. The Florida Derby and Gotham each look for nine entries with eight in each pointing for the big Kentucky race. Five of the probable Arkansas Derby starters and four of the likely California Derby Trial field are Kentucky Derby eligibles. Each expect to draw 14 starters.

Northern Dancer, second only to Hill Rise as the Kentucky Derby future book choice, will be ridden by Bill Shoemaker in quest of his second straight Florida Derby triumph. The 33-year-old Shoe won last year with Candy Spots.

The Dancer, never worse than third in 12 starts and winner of nine races, will pack 122 pounds along with four other stakes winners—Roman Brother, The Scoundrel, Dandy K. and Ky. Pioneer. All the others carry 118.

Roman Brother, leading money-winning 2-year-old of 1963, is the 4-1 second choice under Manuel Ycaza. Dandy K., winner of the Fountain of Youth last week, is 6-1 and The Scoundrel and Ky. Pioneer, 8-1. The Scoundrel comes from Rex Ellsworth stable, which sent out Candy Spots. Ky. Pioneer is Calumet's chief hope for an eighth Kentucky Derby victory.

Tebbetts Resting In Ariz. Hospital

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts was reported "in satisfactory condition and doing well" early today, but doctors still wouldn't make any predictions as to when the Cleveland Indians manager would return to action.

The attending physician at St. Mary's Hospital, where Tebbetts was taken Wednesday night after a heart attack, said tests indicate there has been "some tissue damage." The doctor said no one can make positive statements about a coronary for four or five days.

The 54-year-old manager was described as resting well and not in pain.

Tebbetts was stricken while at the hotel the Tribe calls home during its annual spring training stay in Tucson.

Third base coach George Strickland has been named acting manager while Tebbetts is recovering.

Steers Host Eunice In Pair Saturday

Big Spring winds up pre-conference baseball activity in a doubleheader with Eunice, N. M., here Saturday. The first of two seven inning contests is scheduled for 1 p.m.

Eunice is of unknown strength. The twin bill was booked after Eunice had originally scheduled Lubbock High and wanted to extend its trip into Texas.

The Steers, who are now 6-8 for the season, launch 2-AAAA competition here next Tuesday, at which time they oppose Midland Lee, one of the favorites in the league.

Freddy Miears will probably pitch one of the games for Big Spring tomorrow while Charles Burdett could toil in the other one.

Hank Pope, Larry Broughton and Gary Miears will be available for relief mound chores for Big Spring.

Other starters for Big Spring include Charley West behind the plate, Eddie Thomas at first base, Jim Hamilton at second, Baxter Moore at shortstop, Howard Bain at third, Robert Goodlet in left field, Van Tom Whatley in center and David Agee in right.

The Steers hold wins over Andrews (three), Lubbock High, Snyder and Colorado City this season. They have lost to Colorado City (three), Lubbock (twice), Monterey (twice) and Andrews.

CAN U.S. CAGERS?

Customs Slows Russian Women

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If the officiating is anything like the customs inspection, the world champion Soviet girls basketball team might be heading for its first defeat on American soil.

The Russian girls fought their way through some pretty strenuous whistle blowing on their arrival for a five game series.

Among other things, the eagle-eyed New York customs officials:

Sat them down to make their forms out all over again.

Relieved the star center of three shriveled, yellow lemons, with a cry of triumph.

And threatened to take back a bouquet of flowers that the AAU had given to the team captain to welcome the Russian girls to America.

The team arrived Thursday and will fly to Kansas City today to get ready for the first game Monday at Joplin, Mo., against the Wayland Flying Queens of Texas.

The girls will play in Topeka, Kan., two games in Gallup, N.M., and in Plainview, Tex., before returning to New York and flying to Lima, Peru, where they will defend their world title.

They are not expected to have as much trouble cracking American basketball defense as they did the New York customs barrier.

For one thing, this is the third visit of a Russian girls basketball team to the States and they haven't lost a game yet. They won six straight in 1959 and eight straight on their last visit in 1962.

"We will try to play as a world champion team should play," said their coach, Stiapas Bautautas, who also coached the 1962 team.

Bautautas added he expected the Czechs, Bulgarians and the Americans to be the biggest threats to his defending champions at the Lima championships, which begin April 18.

SKAIDRITE SMILDZINA
Ace of Soviets

He will get a line on the American team on April 11 at Gallup, when the two national squads meet.

The Russians are favored for another reason—they play international rules, which are the same for men and women. The American girls usually play one of three sets of special girls rules, all of which restrict the movement on the court.

But once every four years, the Americans must switch to the international rules for the world championships.

Another American problem is six-footer Skaidrite Smildzina, the high-scoring center of the Russian team, and Ravila Salimova, 6-7 reserve center.

Miss Smildzina is a pretty, big thing.

Miss Salimova, who has a sweet smile but looks something like Primo Carnera, towered over all the other girls, although the team averages 5-10 in height.

Mav, Yearling Athletes Prosper In Snyder Meet

SNYDER — Runnels' seventh graders of Big Spring won first places in two events in their division of the Snyder Junior High School track and field meet here Thursday.

Luven Flores copped a blue ribbon in the shot put with a toss of 42 feet. His team mate, Richard Vera, was second in the same event with a 36-5 effort. Still another Runnels boy, Emmett Miller, was third in the event with a 34-10 effort.

John Patton of Big Spring was first in the broad jump with a leap of 17 feet even. Bill Davis of the Yearlings was fourth in the same event with a jump of 15-2.

Patton also finished second in the 100 with an 11.6 second clocking and was second in the low hurdles, having been timed in 16.6. Mike Noble of Runnels was fourth in the low hurdles, with a 17-2 clocking.

In the spring relay, Runnels wound up third, timed at 53.8. George Rios, Bill Davis, Mike Noble and John Patton ran on the team.

* * *

SNYDER — The 7th and 8th grade track squads of Goliad junior high journeyed to Snyder Thursday to participate in a practice meet, in which no medals were given and no trophies awarded to the winners.

The eighth graders turned in a performance that probably would have won the team trophy in that division if points had been recorded. The Mavericks took five first places.

Goliad's best performance came in the 440-yard relay as the Mavericks clocked a :49.5 for their best time of the spring. The four speedsters beat the field by more than a second.

In other events, Freddie Harris had a :26.5 to take the 220-yard dash while Donnie Wiggins took fourth with a :26.8. Ronnie Steen won the 330-yard dash with a :42.0 time.

Jerry Ryan put the shot put 40'1" for a first place and Steve Riordan took third in the event with a toss of 39'2". Wiggins won the broad jump with a 17'11" effort while teammate Lonnie Clanton had a 16'6" for third.

Other finalists were Steen with a :06.4 in the 50-yard dash for a fourth and Don Crockett and Clanton for third and fifth respectively in the 100-yard dash with times of :11.5 and :11.8.

The seventh grade was devoid of first place finishes.

The 440 - yard relay unit turned in a second place clocking of :53.2 while Kenny Barfield had a :16.9 in the 120-yard low hurdles for a third. Barfield also placed fifth in the 100-yard dash with a :12.2 time.

Terry Jenkins had a :10.5 to place fourth in the 75-yard dash while teammate Gary Kelly had a :10.6 for fifth.

There were six schools in the meet—Snyder's Travis and Lamar, Colorado City, Post, Runnels, and Goliad.

Welterweight Will Have Tough Bout

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jesse Smith, former ranking welterweight on the comeback trail, says the 2-1 odds against him in tonight's bout with title contender Luis Rodriguez are nothing to worry about.

"I never fought a guy I didn't think I could whip," said Smith, who was dropped from rankings after a seven-month layoff last year.

In 44 fights, Smith has knocked out 24 opponents in his 36 victories. Ring veterans remember the Philadelphia boxer as the one who rocked former heavyweight champion Sonny Liston with powerful left hooks during a 1959 training stint.

But the Cuban-born Rodriguez now fighting out of Miami, picked Smith for a tune-up fight to prepare for his June 12 title bout with champion Emile Griffith.

He is hunting his 56th victory in 60 fights having won all but one of his last 14 contests since 1961.

The 10-round fight was scheduled for national television (ABC) with Miami blacked out.

Odessan Star In Pro Bouts

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Manuel Gonzalez, the young Odessa fighter who holds the Texas welterweight title, figured he was on the way today to a spot in the world's top 10.

He could imagine that he had earned it Thursday night as he took a unanimous 10-round decision over Joe Brown, former lightweight champion of the world.

The 38-year-old Brown, who lost the title in 1962 to Carlos Ortiz, had visions of a comeback and had planned to use Gonzalez as a stepping stone to a championship fight. But his hopes were definitely dimmed when he couldn't come close to handling the Odessa fighter.

Gonzalez used a sharp left jab and superior speed to keep Brown and his lethal right hand at long range.

Neither fighter was never in serious trouble but Gonzalez got in the toughest punches, rocking the aging Houston fighter in the fourth, fifth and ninth rounds.

Gonzalez weighed 144¾, Brown 138½.

The first professional boxing card in five years here drew a crowd of 1,600.

Volleyballers In Tournament

The second annual Big Spring Invitational Junior High Volleyball tournament will be seen tomorrow in both the Runnels and Goliad gyms as eight teams will be competing in both the eighth and ninth grade brackets for the top trophies.

Consolation finals are set for the eighth grade division at 5 p.m. with the championship game slated for 7 p.m. In the ninth grade, consolation and championship encounters are set for 6 and 8 p.m. respectively. All finals contests will be in the Goliad gym.

First and second place trophies will go out in both the championship and consolation brackets of each division with one squad also receiving the sportsmanship award. In each grade level, an all-tournament team will be chosen consisting of six sets and six spikes.

The ninth grade teams entered are: Lamesa, Colorado City, Monahans, Forsan, Sands, Runnels and two Goliad crews. The same teams will compete in the eighth grade with the exception of Kermit who will take Monahans place. Lamesa is favored in the ninth grade bracket while the Lamesans are favored also in the eighth grade along with Kermit.

Major Effort Due At Austin

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Relays—first of the major outdoor track and field carnivals — opened today with everybody expected to try real hard because it is a step toward the Olympic Games.

Two Olympians were in the field, seeking a return to the big show, and one top new prospect was among the athletes seeing first action. He was massive Randy Matson, the Texas A&M freshman, who has been throwing the 16-pound shot almost 63 feet—with a strained hand.

Matson appeared in the junior college - college freshman division.

High hurdlers Billy Hardin of Louisiana State and Ed Renfrew of Arkansas, who have equaled the Texas Relays record of 13.9, will be among the first to see action.

Also, the Grambling 440-yard relay team, expected to hammer hard at the world's record of 40.0, will be seen in the college class. Grambling already has a 40.3.

Anthony Watson of Oklahoma, who broad-jumped in the last Olympics, is an entry.

Twenty finals will be run off tonight and among them will be an open 440-yard dash in which Earl Young will participate with a view toward a return to the Olympics. Young, the ex-Abilene Christian College star, was sixth in the 400 meters and ran on the winning 1,600-meter relay team in the 1960 Games.

Most of the relays are scheduled for Saturday afternoon's wind-up, when 25 final events will be run off.

Sam Snead Sizzles With Opening 64

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus hadn't been born back in 1938 when Sam Snead won the inaugural Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament for the first of his seven victories in Greensboro.

Young Jack, now a powerful 24-year-old, had a good look at 51-year-old Sam Thursday as the PGA senior champion shot eight birdies and grabbed a three-stroke first - round lead with a superb seven-under-par 64.

Nicklaus was to get another good look at Sam today. They were paired together for the first two rounds of the 72-hole tournament.

Nicklaus, sharpening his game for next week's defense of the Masters championship, had this to say of the old master after he had posted a 70 to trail Sam by six shots:

"Sam is amazing. He has enough nerve to play shots the way they should be played. Some men at his age play what you might call 'skinny' golf. But he keeps hitting the ball close to the pin. He is amazing."

When Nicklaus won the Masters last spring, Snead was only two strokes off the pace in a third-place tie. He has won the classic three times, the last in 1954.

Although he has curtailed his tournament play sharply in recent years, the old slammer from the Virginia hills has been amazingly sharp in his few appearances.

He has taken away more than $27,000 from Greensboro, where his record includes seven victories and eight seconds or thirds.

His 64 Thursday was good for a $400 bonus check, awarded daily for the low round.

Sam had one three-putt green for his only bogey and had four birdies on each side of the 7,000-yard Sedgefield Country Club course, with par of 36-35.

Starting today's play, Australian Bill Dunk and George Bayer were in second place at 67, one shot in front of U.S. Open champion Julius Boros.

Six men shared fifth place at 69, among them British Open champ Bob Charles and Gene Littler.

First-round leaders:

Sam Snead	33-31-64
Billy Dunk	35-32-67
George Bayer	34-33-67
Julius Boros	34-34-68
Sonny Ridenhour	36-33-69
Rod Funseth	34-35-69
Gene Littler	36-33-69
Al Johnston	35-34-69

Angry Joe Torre Prospers And Braves' Brass Happy

By The Associated Press

Milwaukee officials don't mind if Joe Torre remains angry with them the entire season. They wouldn't even mind trying the same tactics next season — if the final results this year are as profitable as the beginning.

For Torre, however, a repeat performance by the Braves' management wouldn't be profitable. That's what made him angry this year. He arrived at camp about three weeks late following a long contract hassle with President John McHale.

Now after only two weeks, the 23-year-old catcher-first baseman is batting .500. His two-run homer in the 11th inning powered the Braves to a 7-5 triumph over Pittsburgh Thursday, their 13th in 16th exhibition games. The winning blow was Torre's fourth hit of the day.

Villanova Lad Looks Good

NEW YORK (AP)—The NCAA emerged as the team to beat and Villanova's flashy Wally Jones as one of the brightest stars after first-round action in the U.S. Olympic basketball trials.

"Oh, but what a pair they'd make," UCLA Coach John Wooden said today. "Just imagine Jones and (Walt) Hazzard in the same backcourt. They'd make somebody sit up and take notice."

Jones, a fancy playmaker with all the moves, piloted the Reds to a whopping 86-63 decision over the Armed Forces Missiles Thursday in a first-round game at St. John's University and delighted the crowd with his spectacular ball handling and passing.

In the other first-rounders, the AAU Stars upset the NCAA Blues 82-76; the NCAA Whites beat the Armed Forces Jets 74-64 and the NAIA All-Stars edged the AAU Stripes 77-74.

Actually, the team scores make but little difference since the Olympic Selection Committee will make its choices by individuals rather than by teams. In all, 94 players from throughout the country are competing for the 12 Olympic berths, plus six alternates.

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Mrs. Ida L. Creek, 90, of 822 W. 7th, Big Spring, died at the Root Valley Fair Lodge Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.

She was born Feb. 22, 1874 in Indiana and had been a resident of the lodge since Feb. 18. She was a member of the Baptist church and the widow of the late John Creek.

Funeral was to be held Friday at 2 p.m. in the Kiker and Son Chapel. Rev. Neil Rogers, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, was to officiate, and burial will be in the cemetery at Bowie, Texas, Saturday afternoon.

She is survived by four sons, Glenn Creek, Big Spring, Everett Creek, Enid, Okla., H. M. Creek, Bridgeport, and H. C. Creek, Denver City; one brother, Will Irvin, Napp, Ind.; five grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

County To Seek Bids On Paving

Howard County Commissioners are advertising for bids for the paving of 12 miles of new county road and sealcoat treatment for eight miles of road already built, it was announced at the meeting of the board Thursday.

The commissioners also have authorized the road and bridge department to seek bids on a distributor, a spreader and a truck to pull the equipment.

If the commission finds the offer on this equipment favorable, it may be the road and bridge will do its own paving instead of contracting the work as has been the custom in the past.

The 12 miles of new road ready for surfacing will cost somewhere around $2,000 to $2,200 a mile, according to estimates.

The three pieces of equipment would probably cost around $25,000. The equipment is of the type needed in topping roads, it was said.

The 12 miles of new highway to be paved include five miles of the Newton road; 4½ miles of the Old Highway 80 (east) road; 2½ miles of the Robinson Road.

The commissioners also consulted with representatives of the Trans-Texas Airways Inc., on a contract for use of the Howard County Airport. TTA has replaced Continental at the port and the contract which the firm had with the commission is no longer in effect. The new operators are not entirely satisfied with details of the old contract and its spokesmen said that a new proposal will be submitted to the court.

Zoning Story Corrected

The meaning of a news story concerning the zoning board meeting Tuesday was changed as a result of two lines of type being left out of the story.

As it appeared, the story said that "The zoning board of adjustment and appeals approved the request of Rev. Jack Power, who spoke on behalf of Trinity Baptist Church."

The paragraph should have read: "The zoning board of adjustment and appeals approved the request of Al Milch, local builder, and disapproved the request by Rev. Jack Power, who spoke on behalf of Trinity Baptist Church."

Milch had asked for permission to use heavy cedar shakes in roofing an apartment center. The church sought permission to connect a new wing directly to the church auditorium, but the board ruled this would be hazardous from a fire standpoint.

Liz-Burton Nest On Sale

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The newspaper Esto says the luxurious Puerto Villarta home bought by Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton is now up for sale.

The couple bought the home while Burton was in the west coast village starring in Tennessee Williams' "Night of the Iguana."

They lived there for several months during the filming of the movie. It was while they were there that Sybil Burton obtained a Mexican divorce from Burton, and that Miss Taylor filed for a later-granted Mexican divorce from Eddie Fisher.

A large "for sale" sign has been erected on the grounds. The newspaper said the value of the property was not known.

Curfew Levied In Missouri City

NEOSHO, Mo. (AP)—Everyone 19 years of age and under has been banned from the streets of Neosho after 7 p.m. unless accompanied by a parent or guardian.

The City Council adopted the curfew Thursday and put up a $300 reward for a tip leading to the vandals who have damaged 250 automobiles in 10 days.

DEAR ABBY

Get Her To Tell You All

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a 16-year-old daughter. She is kind, thoughtful and helpful around the house. She wears the key to her diary on a chain around her neck. The other day she forgot it. I don't know what made me do it, Abby, because I have always trusted her but I did an unforgivable thing. I opened her diary and read it. What a shock I got! I was sick inside. You would never believe the things she does outside the house! My problem is, how do I let her know that I know these things about her without telling her that I read her diary? Should I tell her dad about her goings on? It would break his heart as she is our only child.

WORRIED SICK

DEAR WORRIED: You already know that reading your daughter's diary was "unforgivable." I don't recommend that you tell your daughter. Its apparent that she needs the friendship of a mature, understanding person in whom she can confide. Perhaps it's not too late to build that kind of relationship with her. Try, and try hard; and, if you succeed, she will tell you all about her "goings on" herself. If she doesn't, keep an eye on her. There will be other clues.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is a very outspoken person. When she invites my husband and me to her home for dinner she asks us to leave the children home. She says too much "commotion" makes her nervous. Ours are 5, 7, 8 and 10, and they aren't any worse than anybody else's. She lets us bring them every Sunday for supper when she has all her other grandchildren there. There are eleven in all, and I wonder why the "commotion" doesn't make her nervous then. I am ready to tell my husband if his mother doesn't want my children during the week, she doesn't have to put up with them on Sundays, either. Am I wrong?

MENDELL'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Yes, you are wrong. Take the children to their grandmother's on Sundays and keep quiet.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I live in a small town and would like to know how one goes about making a donation to the HEART FUND or the CANCER SOCIETY at the time of death when the family requests a donation instead of flowers. How is the family made aware of the donation? I am sure there are others who would like to know, too. Thank you.

UNCERTAIN IN TANKTOWN

DEAR UNCERTAIN: Consult your telephone directory for the local headquarters. If there is none, write to national headquarters: American Cancer Society, Inc., 219 East 42nd Street, New York, New York 10017, and American Heart Association, 44 East 23rd Street, New York, New York 10010. They will let the bereaved family know of the donation and who sent it, but will not reveal the amount.

• • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO SANDRA: When a man tells you that he is poor marriage material—believe him. He knows himself better than you know him.

• • •

Get it off your chest. For a personal unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

• • •

Slight Increase Reported In Car License Sales

Approximately 25,000 motor vehicles in Howard County are now displaying 1964 license plates required by the state as of April 1.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, said Friday that total collections for auto license plates for the period Feb. 1 through April 1 was $425,704.63. This compares with $424,961.74 for the same period last year—this year's business being $742 ahead of the 1963 figures.

She estimated that the average license will probably cost the motorist about $16. If this is correct, then 26,600 sets of license plates have been issued in the past two months.

The bulk of the car tag business, naturally, was in March. February business totalled $78,425. March had $349,279.

The last day's business—April 1—was $26,455.

Of the grand total collected, the county road and bridge fund has been allocated its statutory maximum of $175,000. State law allows that amount to the county in which the plates are sold, but all moneys above that total go to the state.

Additional plates will continue to be sold as new cars are bought and as new citizens move into the state and register their cars in Texas.

A limited number of motorists who failed to buy their plates ahead of the deadline were showing up at the tag office Thursday. Most of these were making affadavits that they had not driven their cars with the out-of-date plates since midnight April 1. In such cases they were supplied with 1964 tags at the regular rate. Where the vehicle had been used after midnight on roads or streets, the fee was increased by 20 per cent.

Escapee Not Loose For Long

AUSTIN (AP) — Police made fast work Thursday of rounding up a patient who escaped from the criminal ward of the state mental hospital.

Officials identified the patient as Richard Argo, 23, originally from Dallas. They found him near the hospital after he had fled while being transferred from one ward to another.
