Control Of Senate Is Gained By Demo Party

Majorities Held In Senate And House

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate control in the new Congress—barring some upset by recanvasses in tight elections—fell to the Democrats today on a victory by Richard L. Neuberger over Republican Sen. Guy Cordon in Oregon.

Election of Neuberger, 41-year-old author, assured the Democrats of 48 seats in the Senate. This is exactly half the Senate membership but is enough for Democratic control since Sen. Morse, Oregon Independent, has announced he will vote with them on organization of the Senate.

There seemed little doubt of Democratic readiness and willingness to take on the job even though one of their veterans, Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona, questioned whether they should take the reins in a situation where one member's death might wipe out the party margin and force another shift.

Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia, senior senator, said he thought the Democrats should take the responsibility if they have the votes to do so.

And Sen. Pastore (D-RI) told reporters, "There is no doubt about it. We now have a definite obligation to the public who have put Democrats in control of both the Senate and the House."

Similarly, Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), said, "I don't think the Democrats will run from responsibility if the people give it to them."

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic floor leader, took the attitude that there was no reason for a rush about the issue. "I don't speculate on conjecture," he said in Texas.

Johnson added that he would be in Washington Friday night and would talk about it then.

The Senate is to convene in special session Monday to consider a recommendation by a special committee that it adopt a resolution censuring Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) for conduct unbecoming a senator. This will be the "old Senate" — not including any of the newly elected members who do not take office until January.

From election night, it had been apparent that whichever party won control of the Senate, it would have it by a very scant margin.

All day yesterday the issue hung in the balance on the close races in Oregon and New Jersey.

For most of the tabulating, Cordon clung to a lead over Neuberger in Oregon. But on late returns, Neuberger went ahead. The count today on unofficial returns from 2,493 of the state's 2,499 precincts was Cordon 282,689 and Neuberger 284,695.

There was a similar nip-and-tuck count in New Jersey between Republican Clifford Case and Democrat Charles Howell. A revised unofficial complete count today of the 3,998 precincts gave Case 860,230, Howell 857,387.

Even a victory by Case would give the Republicans only 47 votes, one short of the mark where Vice President Nixon could break a tie in their favor—unless some Democrats chose to vote with them or absented themselves or unless party leaders decided to let the GOP have control on a voice vote.

There were several factors which might influence the Democrats against any such decision as Hayden suggested. For one thing, they picked up eight governorships in Tuesday's election, and a Senate seat normally changes political complexion only when a senator of one party dies in a state with a governor of the other. Then, too, the Democrats had won control of the House; GOP organization of the Senate might lead to friction on that score. And some Democratic veterans in line for chairmanships might be reluctant to relinquish them voluntarily.

Hayden, 77-year-old Democrat who ranks second in Senate service to Sen. Walter George (D-Ga), told the Phoenix (Ariz) Press Club that Democrats would be "reluctant" to organize the Senate if they had a majority of only one. He did not specify whether this applied if Morse supplied the 49th vote.

As the key figure in a dramatic development that might give him the deciding vote now, Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) left no doubt where his sympathies lie.

He said in a statement that the election results had demonstrated very plainly that the reactionary record of the Eisenhower administration was repudiated by a majority of the voters of the country.

One of the first to urge Eisenhower to become a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, Morse left the party in the 1952 campaign to oppose Eisenhower's election because of policy differences. He campaigned actively for Democratic candidates in the mid-term election but has not indicated whether he will run for re-election as a Democrat in 1956.

Asserting that he is "convinced that by 1956 the Eisenhower administration will be turned out of office, as it should be in the national interest," Morse urged "forward-looking" members of Congress to "try as hard as they can in checking the sellout of the Eisenhower administration to big business interests" and to carry the fight to the voters two years from now.

Democratic control of the House—and possibly of the Senate—meant that President Eisenhower would have to deal with opposition party leaders to get action on his legislative program.

The President told a news conference yesterday he will ask the Democratic leaders to confer with him.

"If there are any roadblocks thrown in the way of cooperation (with Democratic leaders) I am not going to be responsible," he said.

Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, who will become speaker of the new House, said he and Sen. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, have pledged they will cooperate with the Republican President on matters "in the interest of the American people."

Rayburn said at his Bonham, Tex., home that Democrats in Congress "won't hate Ike . . . as Roosevelt and Truman were hated," a reference to past Republican criticisms of Democratic presidents.

"We are not going to vote against Ike because he is a Republican," Rayburn said. "We will vote for things we think are in the interest of the American people and oppose those that are not."

Rayburn gave a hint of Democratic intentions when he predicted the Democrats will "straighten out the farm program and try to get a better deal for American agriculture."

"We will review the whole tax structure and see where inequalities exist and try to take them out," he said. "We must have a foreign policy that is bipartisan as it was during the last Democratic administration."

On the whole, however, most observers thought a change in party control would make little net difference in the legislative product of Congress. Most important bills win only when they are supported by a loose coalition of Republicans and Democrats in both houses.

Evaluation Of Votes Is Promised

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—U. S. Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson (R-NJ) said today there will be Senate committee action to insure what he called proper evaluation of the close-winning margin of Republican Clifford P. Case in the New Jersey Senate contest.

Hendrickson, in a statement from his Woodbury home, said the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections will be in New Jersey Saturday to check on Tuesday's election, in which Case now holds a 2,317-vote margin.

The statement by the retiring junior senator from New Jersey followed a conference of Democrats last night in which Gov. Robert B. Meyner ordered a statewide recheck of the results by Democratic leaders.

As ballot boxes and voting machines were guarded pending the rechecks, Hendrickson said he has received assurances from the committee chairman, Sen. Frank Barrett (R-Wyo) that the group will come to Trenton "unless otherwise announced."

"In the light of the crystal-clear verdict of Tuesday," Hendrickson said, "it is unfortunate that partisan influences seek to challenge the vote by which our new senator, Clifford Case, has been elected."

Case's lead over Democrat Charles R. Howell brought the first victory statement from the GOP camp—an announcement by his campaign manager Kenneth Perry that "Case has won."

The undecided race could give the Democrats a three-seat majority in the Senate. Absentee ballots were counted and tallies rechecked until late last night, and Case picked up close to 1,500 votes in Mercer and Essex counties.

The Democrats, from Meyner on down, refused to concede the election.

Meyner ordered Democratic leaders to make a statewide recheck of the results, expected to be concluded by noon today. "It will be election night all over again," he said.

The governor has ordered all municipalities to place ballot boxes and voting machines under guard until the outcome of the election is determined.

Referring to the Democrats' action, Hendrickson said:

"Since such partisanship has no place in my scheme of things, I will devote the remaining days of my term. . . to insure equity and justice in the case of a great crusader, Clifford Case."

UNITED FUND SETS UP SHOP

Scurry County's United Fund is moving rapidly toward its first campaign. Here, Mrs. Yvonna Vick, standing, and Mrs. Mildred Byers, office secretaries, are beginning their work in the United Fund Headquarters, which has been established at 2508 Avenue R. They are in the midst of a large amount of clerical and secretarial work which will be required by the various campaign divisions. Meanwhile, several key leaders met this morning at a breakfast session at the Hilander Drive In to continue laying groundwork for the drive. Other meetings will be held from time to time by various groups who are to work in the campaign.

Texas Solons Set To Head Both Houses

By The Associated Press

Two Texans were set today to hold the reins of government in the House and Senate of the 84th Congress.

Rep. Sam Rayburn, veteran Democrat from Bonham, and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Democratic stalwart from Johnson City, are scheduled to head the organized chambers of Congress.

For Rayburn and Johnson, the Democratic victory for congressional control was personal reward for long weeks of campaigning. Both stumped great areas of the nation.

For Rayburn, robust and lively at 72, the 84th Congress will mark his 22nd term as U.S. representative from the 4th Texas District. The Fannin County rancher and farmer will be speaker of the House for the third time. Already he has surpassed the former record of tenure in the seat once held by Joe Cannon. Now every day the Bonham solon serves extends his record.

Minority leader in the 83rd Congress, Johnson can begin his second Senate term as majority leader.

Texans who know the 44-year-old Johnson believed there was little doubt the senator would attempt organization of the Senate under the Democratic banner, despite a statement Wednesday night by Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz). Hayden said the Democrats might be "reluctant" to organize with a majority of only one.

The one-vote majority became evident Wednesday night with the apparent election in Oregon of Richard L. Neuberger over Sen. Guy Cordon, veteran Republican.

Any hope the Republicans may have had for a two-party system in Texas was smashed decisively by the Tuesday voting that saw only a few GOP members get more than 10 or 12 per cent of the vote.

Gov. Allan Shivers, Sen. Johnson, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, and nearly every other Democrat won smashing victories.

But even for the Texas congressional delegation, the Congress' top leaders in its ranks, there was a fly in the ointment.

Republican Bruce Alger, Dallas realtor, won election over former Dallas Mayor Wallace Savage for representative from the 5th District.

Alger, 36, succeeds Rep. J. Frank Wilson of Dallas. His final margin over Savage, former state Democratic Executive Committee chairman, was 3,600 votes.

Texans also approved 11 amendments to the state Constitution. The amendments make it lawful to raise old age pensions, will require women to serve on juries, and will extend some precinct, county and district offices to 4-year instead of 2-year terms.

Deep Wildcats Due In Scurry, Mitchell Area

Taylor Oil & Gas Co. has announced locations for two new, deep wildcats, one in Scurry and one in Mitchell County.

The Scurry County project will be the No. 1-C Winston Brothers, located 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 78, section 37, Kirkland & Fields survey. That is four miles southwest of Snyder. Projected depth is 8,500 feet for a test of the Ellenburger.

Twenty-miles northwest of Colorado City, Taylor is to drill the No. 1 W. W. Hester. The drillsite is 660 feet from west and 1,980 from north lines of section 88-97-H&TC, and on a 240-acre lease. Contract depth is 8,500 feet, with operations to begin at once.

AREA WILDCATS

Six new wildcats, two of them in Nolan County, have been announced by operators.

Union Sulphur & Oil Corp. of Midland will drill the deepest of the Nolan County wildcats as the No. 1 Mary Dan Earwood and others. Location has been set 500 feet from west and 467 feet from south lines of the north half of section 215-64-H&TC, six miles north of Hylton and two and three-quarter miles east of the EA multipay field. The No. 1 Earwood is to drill to 7,500 feet to test the Cambrian.

Roark, Hooker & Hill and Phillips Petroleum are to drill the

Mercury Up Slightly

Snyder was slightly warmer yesterday when a high of 66 degrees was registered, Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, said. An overnight low of 41 degrees was recorded, with 45 degrees at 7:30 a.m. today.

WEATHER

NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Clearing and warmer Thursday afternoon, fair with no important temperature changes Thursday night and Friday. Lowest tonight 36-40.

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair Thursday and Friday, cooler in Panhandle and Upper Pecos Valley eastward Thursday afternoon. Lowest Thursday night 28-38 in Panhandle and South Plains.

EAST TEXAS: Occasional rain Thursday afternoon, generally fair Friday night and Friday. No important temperature changes. Fresh to occasionally strong northerly winds on the coast, diminishing Friday.

SOUTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Generally fair Thursday and Friday, slightly cooler Thursday night. Fresh to locally strong northerly winds on coast, diminishing Friday.

Macks Finally Give In To Kansas City

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics today were sold to Arnold Johnson, Chicago businessman, for transfer to Kansas City.

Earle Mack, who with his father, Connie, and his brother, Roy, own all the stock of the Philadelphia franchise, came out of a conference with Johnson and said "we lost out."

No details of the agreement of sale were immediately available.

Johnson, who would neither confirm nor deny that he had succeeded in his effort to buy the club, said he would have a statement soon.

The disclosure that the team had been sold came as Earle walked through the lobby of his father's apartment, his head bowed, his expression forlorn.

He told members of the Philadelphia syndicate waiting for an opportunity to make another offer for the team, "we've lost out."

Voter Ruffled Because Ike's Name Is Omitted

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa (AP) — Election judges still were chuckling today about the indignant woman voter during Tuesday's general election who stuck her head out of the voting booth and declared:

"This isn't right. I won't stand for it."

Asked what it was all about she declared: "Why, Eisenhower's name isn't on this ballot."

She was calmed when it was explained the President wasn't up for reelection this year.

Light Cold Front Hits

By The Associated Press

A sky-clearing new cold front, bearing no severe temperatures, moved through the Dallas-Fort Worth area an hour before dawn Thursday.

The Weather Bureau said movement of the front southward should result in clearing skies over much of the state.

Meanwhile, skies were cloudy from Mineral Wells south and eastward but generally clear from Abilene westward and throughout the South Plains and Panhandle.

The eastern half of the state reported the heaviest rainfall during the night. Galveston got 2.76 inches, Palacios 1.56, Dallas 1.16, Tyler 1.11, Mineral Wells 1.08, Beaumont .63, Fort Worth .84, Victoria .45, Lufkin .58, College Station .43 and Houston .50.

Prosecution Opens Drive In Sheppard Wife Slaying Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — The prosecution insisted today that a secret love affair with cute Susan Hayes and dalliance with "other women" drove Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard to murdering his wife, Marilyn.

Opening a drive to send the handsome osteopath to the electric chair, Asst. Prosecutor John J. Mahon solemnly proclaimed to a jury of seven men and five women:

"He and Susan Hayes corresponded. They had talked together of divorce and marriage. They corresponded in endearing terms.

"We expect the evidence to disclose that this defendant and Marilyn quarreled over activities of Dr. Samuel Sheppard with other women—that that's the reason she was killed."

Susan Hayes was a laboratory technician who once worked in the same Bay Village hospital with the defendant.

Mahon scoffed at the handsome osteopath's insistence that a "bushy haired" intruder killed Marilyn in her bed July 4.

"No one was in that home to commit a burglary," he said. "But that was arranged to deceive people."

As the accused osteopath listened impassively, Mahon said this is what happened that evening:

"Shortly before 6 a.m., Mayor Spencer Houk of Bay Village received a telephone call from Sheppard urging him to come over to the Sheppard house, that Marilyn had been killed.

"Mayor Houk and his wife went over to the Sheppard home and entered by the rear door, which faces Lake Road. The door was closed. They opened it.

"The first thing that attracted their attention was a doctor's medical kit upended on the floor, with some of the contents spilled out on the floor.

"They saw the defendant seated in a chair in the den.

"Immediately Mrs. Houk went upstairs and looked in the Sheppards' bedroom. There were twin beds in the room," said Mahon.

"Mrs. Houk saw Mrs. Sheppard in the bed nearest the door, her face covered with blood, the upper part of her pajamas pushed up, and the lower part pulled down, with one of her legs out of the garment.

"She was lying on her back. Her body was exposed," the prosecutor declared.

Mahon told the jury that "when you give a reasonable interpretation to the evidence, the finger of guilt points to Sam Sheppard.

"No one was in that house to commit burglary."

Several desk drawers were found open, papers were strewn on the floor of the den, and a cloth bag containing Sheppard's watch, his ring and a watch chain was found on a bank at the rear of the house.

"That was contrived to deceive," Mahon said. "There was no property missing from the house except those articles."

Mahon took the jury step by step through a mind's eye view of Sheppard following a shadowy figure off the porch, down onto the beach, where the defendant claims he was knocked out a second time by the mysterious marauder.

Then, Mahon continued:

"But in the room where Marilyn was found, there was no sign of a struggle, no sign of a struggle at all."

City In Black In First Full Budget Year

Incomes to the city during the past budget year which ended Oct. 1, exceeded the budgeted estimates, and expenditures were less than estimated to put the city's first full year of budget operation under the new city charter in the black.

In a detailed report to the city council, B. J. Shelley, city manager, said that the total estimated income for the year was $484,995 compared to an actual income of $487,249.88. The report showed that the total estimated expenditures were $355,188.73 compared to actual expenditures of $323,397.65, leaving a budget balance for the year of $31,791.08.

Only one department of the city's budget cost more to operate than had been estimated for the year. It was the general fund expenditures where the operating expenses had been estimated at $17,530, and actual expenditures were $17,600.90, putting that department in the red by $70.90.

But all other departments stayed well within their budgeted expenditures.

For operation of the fire department $27,383 was budgeted, while actual operating costs totaled $27,062.03.

Police department expenditures had been estimated at $65,980, and their actual expenditures were $62,048.53.

Water department operating costs were budgeted at $74,663, and actual costs of operation were $70,150.41.

Although more than 22 blocks of new paving was constructed last year, the street department costs were almost $9,000 less than estimated. The estimate in the budget was $69,202.73, and actual costs were $60,584.60.

Sanitation department budget estimates were 48,640 for the year, and actual expenses were $39,793.88.

Expenses of the sanitary sewer department had been budgeted at $20,479, and actual expenditures were $16,956.70.

Expenses of the sewer disposal plant were estimated at $13,263, and actual costs of operating the plant were $12,162.96.

The city utility office expenses had been estimated in the budget at $18,048, and actual costs of operating the offices were $17,037.64.

Eisenhower-Stevenson Match Is Predicted For '56 Race

By ROGER D. GREENE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The outcome of Tuesday's stubbornly contested elections served to whet interest today in a possible "rematch" between Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson in the 1956 Presidential race.

The prospect was emphasized by the fact that the mid-term battle catapulted only a bare handful of new personalities into the spotlight as potential entries in the '56 sweepstakes.

The immediate reaction, at least, was that the elections failed to produce anything that would quite match the spark kindled by Franklin D. Roosevelt's election as governor of New York in 1928 and his re-election in 1930, paving the way to 12 years in the White House.

As returns rolled in, President Eisenhower told his news conference that so far as he could see, the elections would have no effect one way or another on whether he will seek a second term in 1956.

All the President would say was there's plenty of time for the decision. He suggested newsmen wait and see what develops.

At Libertyville, Ill., Stevenson hailed the outcome as "a portent of things to come"—an obvious allusion to 1956—but with a twinkle he added quickly that it had "nothing whatever to do with whether I'll run again for the Presidency."

In some respects, the results appeared to enhance Stevenson's chances of heading the Democratic ticket two years hence. The party's 1952 standard bearer stumped vigorously throughout the country in a drive to put Democrats back in control of Congress, and carried the brunt of the fight on the national level.

In another sense, however, the Democratic upsurge could make it harder for Stevenson. Democratic hopefuls may now figure the party's chances for a Presidential victory in 1956 are bright, and that could touch off a free-for-all scramble for the nomination.

Among "new faces" thrust into the national spotlight were 36-year-old George M. Leader, who won the governorship of Pennsylvania by 250,000 votes to end 16 years of Republican rule, and Michigan's newly elected Democratic Sen. Patrick V. McNamara.

Leader, a lanky, bespectacled turkey farmer, was virtually a political unknown six months ago. As governor of a pivotal political state, he should be a man to watch during the next two years.

McNamara, a Detroiter and one-time AFL official, also shot up from virtual obscurity to unseat Republican Sen. Homer Ferguson, a key adviser to the Eisenhower administration and chairman of the senate GOP Policy Committee.

Meanwhile, Michigan's 43-year-old Gov. G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams, heir to soap millions, gained in prestige by winning a landslide victory for re-election. A Democrat, Williams won a fourth term in the governor's mansion—the first four-time winner in Michigan's history.

Another first-in-history was chalked up in South Carolina by J. Strom Thurmond, 48, who was elected U.S. Senator over the official Democratic party candidate in a write-in campaign. He was the 1948 Presidential candidate of the States' Rights Party.

In New York Averell Harriman, 62, broke a 12-year Republican reign by defeating GOP Sen. Irving Ives in a tight race for governor.

Harriman, scion of a wealthy railroad family and former high Washington official, said on election night he would support Stevenson for the 1956 nomination. He bid for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1952 but threw his strength to Stevenson after two ballots at the national convention.

Other Democratic winners mentioned as possible Presidential entries included Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, 46, of Texas; Sen. Estes Kefauver, 51, of Tennessee; Sen. Richard B. Russell, 57, of Georgia, and Gov. Frank J. Lausche, 58, of Ohio.

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader in the last Congress, was re-elected for a second term, as was Kefauver.

Russell, one of the behind-the-scenes powers in the Senate, was re-elected for a fifth term. He sought the Presidential nomination in 1952, but failed to win any important support outside the South.

Lausche was re-elected for an unprecedented fifth term as governor of traditionally Republican Ohio, the nation's fifth largest state.

Oregon Vote Puts Demos In Control

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Richard L. Neuberger gave the Democrats apparent control of the U.S. Senate by nosing out Republican Sen. Guy Cordon of Oregon as the last election returns trickled in today.

The count was close, but the few ballots still uncounted were not enough to save the GOP.

Neuberger, 41, a nationally-known author, held a 2,006-vote lead with only 8 precincts unreported in the state. Those precincts could go entirely to Cordon without overturning the results. Cordon, 64, has spent 10 years in the Senate.

The only possibility of a reversal is in the official canvass, to be reported about Dec. 1. Meanwhile, Gov. Paul Patterson ordered county sheriffs to guard the ballot boxes.

Neuberger, who polled 284,695 votes to Cordon's 282,689, became the first Democrat in 40 years to be elected to the Senate from Oregon.

He was the 48th Democrat to gain the Senate in this election and Oregon's independent Sen. Wayne Morse has promised to vote with the Democrats as the 49th and deciding vote in organizing the chamber.

Neuberger, who campaigned against what he said were the "giveaway" policies of Sen. Cordon and the Eisenhower administration, drew much of his strength from populous Multnomah County (Portland), where the Democrats held a decisive lead in registration.

Cordon, a supporter of the Eisenhower administration's "partnership" program for hydroelectric development of the Pacific Northwest, was stronger in upstate areas. Republicans held a 2,000-lead in registration in the state.

The late surge of Democratic votes also sent Mrs. Edith Green, a Portland housewife, to Congress from Multnomah County. She defeated Republican Tom Lawson McCall, who had beaten the incumbent Rep. Homer Angell in the primary.

The state's three other Republican congressmen who were seeking re-election were victors. They are Representatives Walter Norblad, Harris Ellsworth and Sam Coon.

Paul Patterson, who became governor two years ago when former Gov. Douglas McKay became secretary of the interior, was returned to office by a large majority.

Former Actress Lives Quietly In Her Rambling Texas Home

CENTER POINT, Tex. (AP)—An important feminine lead in William C. DeMille's play, "The Warrens of Virginia," which opened on Broadway in 1907, went to a fine actress from Texas, a beautiful titian-haired girl with deep blue eyes. Her name was Charlotte Walker.

The play won high praise. Charlotte Walker, whose home was—and still is—in the little town of Center Point, some 45 miles northwest of San Antonio, joined Maxine Elliot, Billie Burke, Maude Adams and Ethel Barrymore in a select theatrical circle that was toasted in champagne and dined on terrapin at Delmonico's.

The lovely Texan's success came the same year she was saddened by the death of her friend Richard Mansfield, a noted actor who had helped her get her start.

The only daughter of Edwin A. Walker and the former Charlisa Ganahl, Miss Walker was born in Galveston, where her father had a cotton brokerage business. Her mother's family, who were slaveholding Hill County pioneers, had extensive ranch acreage between Comfort and Kerrville.

After Miss Walker's father was accidentally killed when she was 11, the future star, her mother and her two brothers spent more and more time at the Ganahl Ranch. When Richard Mansfield brought "Beau Brummel" to San Antonio in 1890, 13-year-old Charlotte and her family made the 3-day trip to the city to see the play.

"We went in a covered wagon drawn by two spans of Spanish mules," she recalled. "We camped out nights and had our own secluded spot on the San Antonio river where we bathed and donned shoes and stockings before entering the city proper. During our week's stay, our residence was the covered wagon—not in a downtown hotel."

Before she was 16, the little ranch girl was completely stage struck. She went to New York to see Mansfield about a theatrical job.

The Texan's coaxing got her a walk-on part in a Mansfield play that was to tour the South.

Two months before she was 18, however, she married a young Galveston doctor, John Haden, and left the theater.

But after six years, Miss Walker marked her marriage off as a failure and returned to New York.

She and the doctor had two daughters. One grew up to be the Hollywood character actress, Sara Haden, who is now making a new career in television.

Six years after her marriage ended she became a star with her performance in "The Warrens of Virginia."

Her career reached its peak in 1912, when she played the leading role in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." The show had a record run. Her leading man was William S. Hart.

During the time she was a star she was, in private life, Mrs. Eugene Walter, wife of a successful Broadway playwright of the period. But that marriage was even shorter than her first.

Now Charlotte Walker lives alone in her rambling old two-story Center Point home.

Panel Says Four Wells Flow Hot Oil

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission today charged four wells have been flowing "hot" oil in the big East Texas Field. It ordered an immediate shutdown of the four wells and set an emergency public hearing.

Involved are Bobby Manziel's Spear-Laird Wells 1, 2, 4 and 14 in Gregg County.

The commission said it has heretofore authorized the shutting in of the wells and the transfer of their allowables to other wells on other leases because of excessive salt water production of the four wells.

The commission said it has found that the allowables have been produced from other wells but that the four Spear-Laird wells have continued to be produced without an allowable.

The hearing was set for Nov. 12 at 9 a.m. in the commission hearing room in Austin.

The commission also ordered immediate cancellation of the previously authorized transfer of allowables from the four wells to other wells.

Insurance Co. Is Halted By Court Order

AUSTIN (AP)—Operation of another Texas insurance firm, Pioneer Western Mutual of San Antonio, has been halted by court order.

Judge Charles O. Betts issued a temporary restraining order yesterday against the 15-month-old firm, restricting it from doing further business, and set hearing on a temporary injunction and appointment of a receiver for Nov. 12.

Suit was brought by Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd at the request of the State Board of Insurance Commissioners. It is the 16th such action by the state since January, 1953.

The suit alleged fraud in the firm's original organization, in representations to the Board of Insurance Commissioners in obtaining its license to do business, and in later examinations of the firm's assets.

The state also alleged the firm is insolvent by $220,000. The firm's total admitted assets were $338,000.

Officers were listed as W. C. Brickey Jr., president; Charles Stefano, vice president; and Mariannes Emerson, secretary-treasurer, all of San Antonio.

Cub Scout Packs Formed

Two Cub Scout packs have recently organized for activities this year, according to Bob Eastus, district scout executive.

Newly-chartered is Pack 112, which is sponsored by the St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church Men's Club and which will meet at the church each last Monday night.

This pack, which now has eight members, has as cubmaster J. E. Dupont and assistant J. F. Kilgarlin. Jim Moss is institutional representative, and the pack committee is made up of E. W. Kearns, chairman, R. T. Busbee, and W. J. Winstead. Mrs. E. W. Kearns and Mrs. J. O. Broaddus are den mothers.

Pack 36, sponsored by the East Elementary Parent-Teacher Association, was recently re-organized with 26 members. It meets each fourth Monday at the school cafeteria. R. H. Perine is cubmaster and Bill Wise is assistant. Institutional representative is Ed Bolger. The pack committee is composed of C. B. Morrow, chairman, Bolger, W. L. Smedley, James S. Aldridge, and J. P. Ward. Den mothers are Mrs. T. A. Wilson, Mrs. J. P. Ward, Mrs. C. B. Morrow, and Mrs. E. G. Garrett.

New Inspector Named

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — George Harrison is the new chief inspector of the San Antonio district of the Border Patrol succeeding Fletcher Rawls, who is retiring. Harrison has been chief of the Marfa agency since 1952.

Scientists say a good diet included 11 parts carbohydrates, 2 parts protein and 3 parts fat.

Collins Sent On Mission To Indochina

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins is speeding toward Indochina on a mission for President Eisenhower aimed at finding out how to help divided Viet Nam from falling completely to the Communists.

Collins, former Army chief of staff, will have the personal rank of ambassador as a special representative of the President. A White House announcement last night said his mission is diplomatic—not military.

Collins will, in fact, bridge a gap between the transfer of Donald R. Heath to a new assignment and the arrival of a successor to Heath not yet appointed.

The trouble-shooting task assigned Collins is expected to result in recommendations by him to Eisenhower for extensive American operations designed to stabilize South Viet Nam and bolster the government of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem.

Eisenhower has several hundred millions of dollars available for spending to prop up South Viet Nam against communism if Collins can come up with a program which will persuade the government and Congress of a reasonable chance of success.

The White House statement said the country had been ravished by eight years of war, divided between free and Communist zones as a result of the Indochina peace settlement last summer and confronted "dangerous forces threatening its independence and security."

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) reported last month after a personal tour of Indochina that he found "scant hope" for preventing the Reds from taking over because of bitter political rivalry and what he termed lack of strong government in Viet Nam.

He said expenditures of further American resources would be "unwarranted and inexcusable" unless there was reasonable expectation of achieving American aims."

In Mansfield's opinion and that of the administration, the Ngo Dinh Diem government offers the best prospect of building strength in the divided country with its political and economic troubles, which are complicated by the presence of a million persons displaced by war and 350,000 new refugees from the northern region fully taken over in the last three months by the Reds.

Time Running Out For Navy Band Tickets

Time was running short today for advance reservations for concerts scheduled here Sunday by the U.S. Navy Band.

Reserved seats for the evening performance, which is slated for 8:30 p.m. Sunday, are being sold at the Chamber of Commerce office. These seats, all located in the center section of the high school auditorium, sell for $3.60 each.

Other seats may be purchased for $2.40 each and are on sale at the Lad and Lassie Shop, Hall Drug Store and in the office of Forrest Beavers in the county courthouse, as well as the Chamber of Commerce Office.

Student tickets for matinee performances are being sold at 60 cents each. The matinees are scheduled for 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. A limited number of adult tickets have been offered for matinees for parents who wish to attend with their children. The student tickets are being sold in several surrounding towns as well as in Snyder.

The U. S. Navy Band, long known as "The World's Finest" is being sponsored here by the Snyder Shrine Club.

Market Still Gaining

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market today extended its strong post-election gains in a modest manner in early dealings.

The general movement of the market was higher, although losses were scattered somewhat generously throughout major divisions, and many leading issues held unchanged.

Gains extended out to between 1 and 2 points at the best. Losses went to major fractions.

French Painter Dies

NICE, France (AP)—Henri Matisse, famed French painter, died in his Nice apartment early today.

He was 84. Though an invalid for several years, he continued his artistic pursuits, which extended to textile designs, etchings, sculpture and decorative cutouts as well as his world-famed paintings.

Inner Tube May Be Obsolete In 5 Years

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The inner tube may soon be just something for the kids to use when they learn to swim—if tire manufacturers are as right as they are enthusiastic.

"Within five years the inner tube will be as obsolete as car fenders," says B. F. Goodrich's Joseph A. Hoban, vice president of the tire and equipment division.

"The tubeless tire will become standard for everything from passenger car to airplane to farm tractor," says Goodyear's president, E. J. Thomas.

Most 1955 model cars will come equipped with tubeless tires, the rubber industry says. The next step is to sell the tubeless to owners of older models as replacements. Goodrich expects half of its replacement sales this year will be of tubeless tires. Owners of the oldest jalopies probably will put up sales resistance to a tire that costs more than the old-style casing, but as they disappear from the roads the inner tube may go with them.

Firestone, U. S. Rubber, General Tire & Rubber and others are also in the scramble.

Superhighways are expected to be a strong selling point for the tubeless.

"The new highways mean higher speeds," Hoban points out. "And sustained high speed puts more heat on a tire and increases the chance of a blowout. The tubeless tire runs cooler. And there's no tube to chafe or ware out."

Thomas claims Goodyear's tubeless with a flatter tread provides up to 12 per cent more mileage than their older tires.

After several years of experimenting and testing (and considerable bickering among some of the companies over rights) the tubeless has caught on fast in the last few months. Its first big boost, however, will come with many 1955 cars using it as original equipment.

The tire industry puts out several types. One has a puncture-sealing element under the tread. You can pull a nail out and the tire won't go flat. This is a premium price tire.

The original equipment on many new cars, however, will be a lighter, and less expensive, type with temporary puncture sealing. Pull the nail out and the tire goes flat.

Multi-Million Dollar Deal Is Announced

HOUSTON (AP)—A 108-million-dollar plan for dissolving American Republics Crop. in a deal with Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. has been announced here.

Meanwhile, Houston oil circles reported another multi-million dollar transaction to sell the Kirby Petroleum Co. to Continental Oil Co. is being negotiated.

T. Rieber, president and chairman of the board of American Republics, said yesterday stockholders soon may be asked to adopt a plan for liquidating the corporation. Submission of the plan, he said, will depend on a satisfactory outcome of pending negotiations for sale of the corporation's properties and assets.

Rieber said the price being discussed should give stockholders about $72 a share when American Republics is dissolved.

Rieber said Sinclair would operate American Republic's properties when the transaction was completed.

American Republics has oil production in Southeast and West Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico. Barber Oil Co. of New York owns 25 per cent of the Houston firm's stock.

In the reported Continental-Kirby deal, Continental had no comment, but Kirby sources acknowledged Continental has been negotiating the past three months for purchase of the Kirby firm.

Kirby, headed by George Sawtelle of Houston, owns production in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, Mississippi and Canada. The company owns an interest in more than 500 wells on about 60,000 acres. Non producing properties approximate 200,000 acres.

Officials of American Republics and Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. last year announced steps were being taken for Tennessee to purchase 25 per cent of the oil company's stock.

The plan also called for eventual merger of American Republics and a Tennessee affiliate, Tennessee Production Co.

Rieber and Tennessee officials earlier this year announced that the stock purchase and merger plans had been abandoned. Tennessee production later was merged with its parent firm.

Testimonial Dinner To Honor Thomas

HOUSTON (AP) — Sens. Johnson and Daniel are expected to be among more than 1,000 persons paying tribute to Rep. Albert Thomas at a testimonial dinner here tonight. Daniel is to be the principal speaker at the dinner honoring Thomas, elected Tuesday to his 10th term in the House.

Warren-Bradshaw No. 1-A TXL, Howard tester, is drilling out cement on casing and will likely start testing tomorrow on shows made previously.

Gibson and Tri-Service No. 1 Pylant, Borden stepout, is drilling in lime below 4,255 feet.

Demos At Best In Governors' Races

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats were at their vote-getting best in the gubernatorial races Tuesday: They took seven governorships from Republicans and didn't lose any of their own.

Actually, the switchovers totaled eight, including Maine where Edmund Muskie scored a surprising win in September.

Democrats upset Republicans in two populous eastern states — New York and Pennsylvania — and Minnesota, Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Connecticut.

Governorships were at stake in 34 states, including Maine's early elections. Democrats won 19 of them and Republicans 15. The Republicans took Wyoming, last contest to be decided, where Milward Simpson barely outpointed Democrat William (Scotty) Jack.

Perhaps the most important Democratic victory came in New York where Averell Harriman won a hairline decision from Sen. Irving Ives. Ives was selected as the Republican candidate after Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who is finishing his third straight term, said he would not run.

Harriman's margin over Ives was just a few thousand votes.

Democrats also captured the influential Pennsylvania governorship for the first time in 20 years. George M. Leader, a political newcomer, defeated Republican Lloyd M. Wood by about 274,000 votes.

A 16-year Republican grasp on the Minnesota governorship was ended when Orville Freeman, Democrat-Farmer Labor candidate, whipped incumbent Gov. C. Elmer Anderson.

Democratic governors, including holdovers as well as those just elected, will number 27 to the Republicans' 21.

These are the other statehouse changes:

In Arizona, Ernest W. McFarland defeated incumbent Republican Gov. Howard Pyle.

In Colorado, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson won over Republican Donald G. Brotzman.

In Connecticut, former Rep. Abraham A. Ribicoff upset Republican Gov. John Lodge.

In New Mexico, Democrat John F. Simms Jr. whipped Republican Alvin Stockton for the governorship given up by Republican Gov. Edwin L. Mechem who tried unsuccessfully for the Senate.

Other highlights of the gubernatorial contests included:

Republican Gov. Christian A. Herter's triumph in Massachusetts after a strong challenge by Democrat Robert F. Murphy. Herter won re-election.

Democrat Gov. G. Mennen Williams' successful bid for a fourth term in Michigan, and Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche's election to his fifth term in Ohio, both unprecedented.

Republican Gov. Goodwin Knight's easy victory over Democrat Richard P. Graves in California. Knight became governor when Earl Warren was named chief justice of the United States.

Republican Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin's successful quest of a second term in Maryland, the first time a Republican had ever won re-election.

Transport Crash Lands

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The public relations officer at Randolph Air Force Base, Lt. W. C. Welch, said today a troop transport C119 made a crash landing about 9:40 a.m. near the base.

Welch said first reports indicated "not many were injured." He had no other details.

The plane came down about 2 miles west of the base, Welch said.

Two sheriff's deputies, Charles Garcia and Arlin Weichold, reported back from the scene that no one was injured and the four-motor transport did not catch fire.

They said it tore down some power lines in making the forced landing in a cultivated field.

New Congress Will Have Three Top Issues For First Battle

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tariffs, taxes and the field of public vs. private power promise to be among the top issues that will be battled over in the new Congress elected Tuesday.

But there are many others, ranging from postal rates to statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, on which Republicans and Democrats split in the last Congress and may do so again in the new Congress that will convene Jan. 5.

As pointed up in the election campaign, the approach of both parties to domestic legislation will be geared in large part to the state of the economy as reflected in employment, business activity and farm prices.

Democrats hit hard on the theme that the nation's economy was marred by telltale signs of stagnation, while President Eisenhower led a Republican chorus proclaiming 1954 as the most prosperous peacetime year in history.

In the foreign policy field, the Senate will be called on to ratify treaties intended to weld Southeast Asian nations into an anti-Communist alliance and a series of other agreements which would virtually restore the sovereignty of West Germany and bring her into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. They have strong bipartisan support.

While there is no party split over these pacts, Eisenhower has had stronger support from Democrats than Republicans for his foreign trade policies.

In the last Congress GOP leaders balked at his efforts to win a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade program and authority to cut tariff rates as much as 15 per cent over that period. Congress approved only a one-year extension of the trade agreements act.

Taxes churned up one of the sharpest legislative controversies of the last session. The big tax overhaul bill passed by Congress was hailed by the Eisenhower administration as one of its major achievements, while Democrats argued it was weighted in favor of the wealthy and of corporations.

The tax issue is bound to confront the incoming Congress because, under present law, corporate income tax rates will drop from 52 to 47 per cent April 1 and excise rates on autos, liquor and some other goods will return to the pre-Korean level.

In terms of revenue, this will mean a loss to the government of about three billion dollars a year unless Congress agrees to extend present rates. President Eisenhower has said there may be room for some further tax cuts in the year ahead but has not indicated how much.

The public vs. private power fight manifested itself in various ways in the last Congress, carried into the congressional campaign and will continue into the new Congress.

In part it will be reflected in appropriations for the Rural Electrification Administration, the Tennessee Valley Authority, dams, transmission lines and other projects.

Also involved is the Atomic Energy Act, overhauled by Congress last year in a way that stirred protests of monopoly from Democrats, and the Dixon-Yates contract for a private power plant to feed power into TVA lines to replace TVA power supplied to the Atomic Energy Commission.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas said during the campaign that Democrats would push for revision of the Atomic Energy Act to assure "adequate safeguards to protect the people against monopoly."

He also said Democrats would insist on "a thorough ventilation" of the Dixon-Yates contract.

Revision of the Taft-Hartley Act certainly will be talked about in the new Congress, as it was in the last, but differing views over what changes should be made appear likely to cancel out any chance for major action.

One of Eisenhower's surprise victories in the last Congress was adoption of legislation to substitute flexible farm price supports for the rigid high-level support program that had prevailed since the war. Victories by advocates of the administration plan appear to minimize chances for scrapping it, as some Democrats had urged, but the issue undoubtedly will be revived.

Cartoonist's Estate Is Willed To His Wife

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The bulk of cartoonist George McManus' estate goes to his widow Florence under terms of his will filed for probate yesterday.

McManus, who died Oct. 22, established a $50,000 trust fund for his brother Leo and provided various bequests for friends and charities. The value of the estate was not listed.

Congressional Staffs Affected By Election

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Elections directly affect the lives of many on Capitol Hill besides the legislators—their secretarial staffs automatically have their jobs cut out from under them when their bosses quit or lose.

Five of Texas' 22-man House delegation are finishing up service in Congress. Three retired and two lost in primary contests for renomination. The average congressman has a staff of four, so that means about 20 among the Texas secretarial aggregation of more than a hundred suddenly were faced with prospect of unemployment as of Jan. 5 when the 84th Congress convenes.

Fortunately for some, they were able promptly to line up jobs with the men who will succeed their present bosses. This was so in the case of Mrs. Celia Hare Martin of McAllen, top secretary to Rep. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., and Mrs. Bernice Grieder of Corpus Christi, top secretary to Rep. John E. Lyle, who also is retiring.

Two of the prospective freshmen members of the House have been diligently looking for houses. Joe Kilgore came up from McAllen with his wife and spent days looking at houses. J. T. Rutherford of Odessa, who will represent the El Paso-Midland-Odessa area of West Texas, did the house hunting chore alone.

Rep. Clark Fisher of San Angelo, back from a trip that took him more than 5,000 miles throughout Russia, ran into a nest of Texans in the U.S. legation in Moscow. Two constituents, Miss M. Vaughan Winn of Uvalde and Sgt. Albert N. Bradshaw of San Saba, arranged a Texas get-together in a downtown Moscow restaurant. They engaged a private room and hung a large Texas flag on the wall.

"I expect that was the only Texas flag that ever was raised in Moscow, at least in recent years," Fisher recalled.

Fisher said he spent most of the 18 days in the Soviet Union visiting and talking with Russian people who have nothing to do with government.

In school rooms he found bright-faced and polite youngsters happy to hear a translator tell them that he brought them greetings from the school children of America. He said they invariably voiced thanks and through a class spokesman or officer asked him to bring back greetings from them to the school children in the United States.

Fisher said he found the Russians placing great emphasis on providing their youth with not only modern athletic facilities but fine vocational centers where they could gather after school hours to receive instruction in model plane building and other crafts.

Egyptian UN Delegate Dies

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Mahmoud Azmi, Egypt's chief delegate to the United Nations, died last night a short time after he collapsed with a heart attack while speaking in the Security Council.

The 65-year-old diplomat slumped to the horseshoe-shaped council table in the midst of a speech replying to an Israeli complaint against his government. He was carried to the U.N. clinic on a stretcher. Artificial respiration and other measures failed to revive him.

Dr. Stanley Kallman, assistant medical examiner for New York City, examined the body and reported the cause of death as a heart attack. Associates of the diplomat said he also had suffered from diabetes.

When stricken, Azmi was making his second speech of the day in a debate involving Egypt's seizure of the Israeli freighter Bat Galim in the Suez Canal. After statements today by Egypt and Israel, other delegates called for a report on the incident from the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission administering the Palestine armistice.

Two Blind Men Are Now Peace Justices

TRINIDAD, Colo. (AP)—Two blind men — both Democrats — were elected justices of the peace here in Tuesday's election.

Joe Spicola, sightless since childhood, was named to a third term. Tony E. Barrows, World War II veteran blinded while in the service, won his first term.

Joey Cooper Enrolls In School Today

MONROE, La. (AP) — Ten-year-old Joe Cooper, whose love for his dog touched off a nationwide educational fund drive, was scheduled to enroll in a grammar school here today instead of an exclusive boys' school.

The drive, sponsored by former Gov. James Noe, was started when the boy was released from the Louisiana Training Institute last Friday. He was committed to the reformatory Oct. 6, less than five hours after he pointed a loaded shotgun at the principal of a West Monroe school and a truant officer in an effort to get the release of his unvaccinated dog Tippie, which had followed him to school.

Joe's family went to the office of Noe, a television and radio station owner, yesterday for what was expected to be a final meeting before the boy went to the Webb School for Boys at Bell Buckle, Tenn. However, Noe said, the family decided to keep Joe in Monroe.

Noe quoted Mrs. Ray Foy, Joe's half-sister, who was given custody of Joe last Friday, as saying the family wanted him to remain at home so the family could have personal supervision over him.

The former governor also announced discontinuance of the educational fund and said donors would be asked whether they wanted their contributions returned or given to Mrs. Foy for the boy.

Noe said Joe wanted to apologize to the principal of the Ransom school, Mrs. Tina Clark, and the truant officer, Maurice Griggs. Joe, who will continue his education in the sixth grade of Monroe's Central Grammar School, nodded agreement.

South Koreans Turn Down Communist Bid

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea's National Assembly today unanimously adopted a resolution denouncing a Communist North Korean bid for North-South negotiations on unification.

The Assembly resolution at the same time proclaimed opposition to any attempt to neutralize the peninsula.

The latest of three North Korean feeler bids was made Tuesday in a Pyongyang broadcast of a North Korean Peoples Congress resolution calling for North-South negotiations.

SERIOUS VOTER

Mrs. William E. Badgett, Knoxville, Tenn., says she has "politics in my blood"—so much that she stopped to mark an absentee ballot before she left for a hospital to give birth to a 7½-pound daughter, Suzette, their first girl of three children, was born an hour later.

Editor Is Elected Despite Own Advice

FARMINGTON, Mo. (AP)—Voters followed Jess Stewart's editorial advice—with one exception. The exception was Jess Stewart.

Stewart, editor of the weekly Farmington Press, yesterday was re-elected St. Francois County circuit clerk despite his editorial campaign for his own defeat.

Voters, however, heeded his advice to oust all other incumbents in the county—10 Republicans and 1 Democrat went out of office.

Stewart, a Democrat, had urged the people to support his Republican opponent and criticized himself for dividing his time between the county office and his newspaper.

Man Gets Run Over Twice In Two Weeks

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — John Crider, 32, was run over by a city garbage truck two weeks ago while sleeping under a pile of papers in a downtown alley. He suffered only minor hurts.

And yesterday he was hit by a car while walking on a street. Hospital attendants said his condition was not serious.

SAVED FROM EXECUTION

David Almeida, who beat the electric chair 30 times each time the date was set during the past six years, sits all alone after he finally pleaded guilty to slaying an off-duty policeman in a supermarket holdup. He was sentenced at Philadelphia to life imprisonment. After the series of last-minute reprieves, the state did not press for the death penalty.

Many Young Men Fear Matrimony

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some ambitious young men, anxious to get ahead in life, are afraid today to marry.

Why? Because they are afraid the romantic bride of their dreams may become a frowsy-haired nightmare who will later hamper the progress of their careers.

In picking executives many corporations weigh not only the kind of work a man does, but the kind of wife he goes home to. Will she be a credit to the firm, or a social liability? Does she have it in her to become what industrial leaders now look for in the mates of their potential executives — the "ideal corporate wife?"

"My girl suits me all right now," said a young bachelor. "But will she be able to grow up with me as I move ahead in the world? Will she, 25 years from now, be the kind of wife my corporation wants me to have?

"The boss I have now thinks my girl is real cute. But what about when she's middle-aged? Will the boss I have then think she's a handicap to the firm?

One can easily sympathize with this young man. The mere fact he is worried about the future shows he is serious-minded as well as ambitious. His problem is real. As any married man knows, it is hard enough to tell what a wife will be like 10 minutes from now, let alone 25 years.

What can this young go-getter do?

Well, frankly, let's face it: It is impossible to marry a girl of 20 or 25 years and be certain that at 45 or 50 she will have matured into "the ideal corporate wife." Corporations change, too, and how can we tell whether in the fast-paced world a quarter century from now the ideal corporate wife will look and act like Myrna Loy, Shirley Temple, Kate Smith or Marilyn Monroe?

Is there any solution then? Yes. One could wait until he had become an executive and then marry a woman pleasing to the chairman of the board. But most men don't want to postpone the pleasures of home cooking, etc., for 25 years.

An even better way is to switch one's life goals now. Suppose you are the ambitious young man. Instead of worrying about selecting an ideal corporate wife, why not concentrate instead on becoming "the ideal corporate husband" yourself?

Here's what you do. Pick a clean-cut, hard-working career girl with a good job and a big future with a growing corporation. Marry her. Then help her climb, step by step, to the top.

If you follow these simple basic rules you are bound to have a rich full existence. You will be known as "the ideal corporate husband." Your wife will be a wealthy corporation executive — and know in her heart she owes it all to you, the little man without who she'd have been just another cog in a big machine.

Two Conclusions Are Drawn From General Election Count

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—At this time, when politicians begin putting their own interpretations on Tuesday's elections, one conclusion is obvious and a second one seems so.

1. It was a Republican defeat. The voters showed their dissatisfaction with Republican control of Congress by turning the House and perhaps the Senate over to the Democrats. The final senate result may not be known until after some recounting.

2. The extraordinary narrowness of the margin was a pretty good sign the great majority of voters are not deeply disturbed by the state of the nation.

If the people—as a whole—had been fear-ridden or in distress they would have expressed their misgivings or anger by giving the Democrats an overwhelming victory to change the direction. This they did not do.

On the other hand, if they had been extremely enthusiastic about the Republican performance of the past two years, it seems reasonable to believe they would have increased the GOP control of Congress. They did the reverse.

The amazingly even division of voters' thinking was best reflected in the Senate races where, in Oregon, Ohio and New Jersey, only a few thousand votes separated the candidates although roughly five million votes were cast in the three states.

And the Democrats achieved no smashing majority in capturing control of the House over President Eisenhower's last-minute pleas to keep the Republicans in charge.

Of the 435 House seats the Democrats won 232 to the Republicans' 203. They did it by gaining 17 seats.

The Republicans may try to console themselves by recalling that for half a century—with one exception, 1934—the party in control of Congress has lost some seats in the mid-term elections.

And they may argue that their loss of 17 seats this year was far less than the recent average of 40 seats picked up by the party out of power in the mid-term balloting.

But the fact remains the voters have shown they can, when they wish, reverse the mid-term tradition and increase the grip on Congress by the party in power. They did that in 1934 to show their enthusiasm for the New Deal begun by President Roosevelt two years before.

It was the last time in Roosevelt's lifetime that happened. In the mid-term elections of 1938 and 1942 his Democrats lost ground but not control of House or Senate.

By the same token the voters this year, if they had felt overwhelming enthusiasm for the Republicans, could have added to their seats in both houses. They chose not to.

It's possible that Eisenhower's last-minute efforts for the Republicans saved them from a worse setback. Or the voters may have made up their minds before he ever got neck-deep into the campaign.

In some special situations—such as unemployment in Michigan and Pennsylvania—the voters made their feelings known by unseating a Senate Republican (Michigan) and replacing a Republican with a Democrat as governor (Pennsylvania).

But one of the main Democratic arguments — that farmers were burned up at the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support program—was not borne out by the results.

On the contrary: In the normally Republican farm state of Iowa Sen. Gillette, a personally popular Democrat seeking his third term, was defeated. There were no big congressional reversals for Republicans elsewhere in the farm belt.

Fire Takes Lives Of Six In One Family

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Fire, believed to have started when a heating stove exploded, took the lives of six members of one family in a little five-room frame house here yesterday.

Coroner Garret Boone of Butler County listed the dead as:

Ulysses Mullins, 70; his wife May, 69; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ellen Mullins, 20; and her three children, Glenn Lee, 3; Joan 2; and Denise, 4 months.

William Mullins, husband of Ellen and father of the three children was at work.

Bodies of all the victims but the elder Millins were found in a bedroom on the first floor. Mullins' body was in a doorway connecting the bedroom with the living room.

Fire Chief George Schlotterbeck said the fire might have been caused by an exploding heating stove.

SOCIETY SCRIBBLINGS

Installation Ceremonies Are Held At Banquet

By ANITA HALL

An installation banquet held last night ushered in the season for the Snyder Beautician's Unit No. 77. Officers for the year were installed by Garland Boles, hair stylist of Abilene. They are THELMA CLARK, president; VIOLA SMITH, first vice-president; JOAN VARNER, second vice-president; GLADYS WHISNAND, secretary; VERBA LOGAN, treasurer; JEAN GILBERT, reporter and MARY WENETSCHLAGER, historian.

The centerpiece was indicative of the members' profession. It featured a mannequin's head and hand, painted stark black. The hand, covered with a rhinestone-studded black glove, held a large white chrysanthemum. Other white mums were casually arranged on an oval reflector.

Members attending the banquet were JESSIE HAMPTON, WANDA HOLLAND, BESS FISH, DONNIE CHORN, MANTHA LANDFRIED, NONA LEE WILLIAMS, PAULINE JOHNSON and CLYDEL KYLE. Guests from Abilene were Lottie and Glenn Nealeigh and Goe Gilstrap.

WOMEN

INTERNATIONAL DESIGNERS PATTERN

IRENE GILBERT OF IRELAND

When Irene Gilbert came over from Ireland, after seven good years in Dublin, to show her fall collection to the ladies of the fashion press, she was an immediate success. Every item in it had great appeal and charm. One of the most popular is this artfully understated coat dress. The breadth of shoulder and softened bodice lines are part of a clever, new and good cut eliminating a side seam. Instead, it comes from under the arm and moves toward the back into a gore. A waist line dart is added for contour. Miss Gilbert made the dress in blue-violet tweed of gossamer weight and tied the neck and center back with tubing of purple velvet and bound the buttonholes with velvet too. It has the lines and look, however, for linen, novelty cottons and any light-weight wool or tweed. For trim, buy bias velvet cord. This pattern is cut to designer measurements, not standard pattern measurements. Please state waist, bust, and hip measurements when ordering this pattern. Size 12 requires 3¾ yards of 54-inch material for dress and ⅝ yard of 35-inch material for interfacing. To order pattern No. S-241, address International Designer Patterns, P.O. Box 593, G.P.O., Dept. SX-13, New York 1, N.Y. State size. Send $1.00. Airmail handling 25c extra. Add 4c, for handling, if paid by check or money order.

Marylan Moore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Moore, and Wayne Gullett, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gullett, were crowned high school queen and king of the Ira Halloween carnival Saturday night. Donna Sue Shearer, the daughter of Mrs. Bernice Shearer, and Donnie Dunn, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dunn, were the grade school princess and prince.

Runners-up in both contests were Dixie Lee Kimmel and John Mengwasser, senior nominess, and Emmett Autrey and Charlene Patterson, eighth grade candidates.

Lawton Taylor was master of ceremonies. Joan Brooks played music for the entrance of the queen's court. Joyce Brown and Carolyn Smith sang a duet. A Mardi Gras theme was carried out in decorations.

The carnival was sponsored by the Ira PTA, which made about $700 to be used in projects during the year.

Mrs. W. C. Davidson, 1012 Twenty-sixth Street, returned Saturday after visiting for a week with her neice, Maurene McColum, who is in Harris Memorial Hospital in Fort Worth.

Motel Owner Makes Bandit Too Nervous

DENVER (AP)—A Denver woman was victorious in a battle of nerves yesterday.

Police said a masked gunman entered the office of a motel operated by Mrs. Lillian Dooher, 45, and demanded money.

Mrs. Dooher informed the bandit the cash drawer was locked and said: "I'm leaving here—you make me nervous with that gun."

He told her: "Well, you make me nervous too." Then he fled.

Hermleigh Homecoming Set Friday

HERMLEIGH — Registration will begin at 2 p.m. here Friday for the second annual homecoming at the Hermleigh school.

A large group of ex-students is expected here for the event, which will be climaxed by the football game between the Hermleigh Carinals and Bronte on Friday night.

A. C. Bishop of Sweetwater will be principal speaker for the homecoming celebration. Bishop is a former superintendent of the Hermleigh schools.

All ex-students of the Hermleigh and Pyron schools, as well as former teachers have been invited to attend the event.

A chicken dinner will be served at the school cafeteria from 5 p. m. to 6:30 p.m. Tickets, priced at $1 each, will be sold at the door.

During the half-time intermission at the football game, Miss Lorene Roemisch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Roemisch, will be crowned Hermleigh football sweetheart. Attendants will be runners-up in the queen's race, Miss Jonelle Light, Miss Sue Ann Mayo and Miss Sandra Sturdivant. Escorts will be Alvis Tarter, Neal Wilcox, Wendell Goodman and Charles Smith.

An informal coffee and social hour will be held in the school cafeteria immediately following the football game.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

Mary Nell Trevey, bride-elect of Joe Cargile, was honored Saturday at a lingerie shower given by Kay Watson and Gwen Watson in the Watson home at 3725 Avenue V.

The honoree's colors of gold and white were used in decorations. Kay Watson accompanied Jenny Cargile as she sang several songs.

Guests were Cleone Brunson, Mary Jimm Stinson, Shirley Ramsey, Wyvon Ramsey, Ann Falls, Marilyn Thomas, Shirley Gilliam, Donna Walker, Sally Glover, Margaret Trevey, Mrs. Denton Lambert, Suzanne Houston, Mrs. S. W. Trevey and Mrs. H. W. Cargile.

Annual Flower Show To Be Held Friday

Each member of the Snyder Garden Club will exhibit two horticultural plants and two flower arrangements at the annual fall flower show to be held Friday afternoon in the exhibit building of Towle Memorial Park.

There will be a special table for the exhibition of flower arrangements entered by non-club members desiring to exhibit in the show. In conjunction with the Garden Club's efforts to help beautify the city, bulbs will be sold by club women at the show.

Judging will begin at 3 p.m. and the floral displays will remain on exhibit until 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Here is a new treatment to give to an old favorite, Swiss Steak, that will appease those hearty appetites your family will have on cold days.

SWISS STEAK

2½ pounds top sirloin cut in one thick slice
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons fat
2 medium onions cut in thin strips
1 bay leaf
2 cans (10½ ounces each) tomato puree
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon chili powder

Cut away fat from outside of meat; melt and use all or part of 2 tablespoons fat called for. Mix flour, salt and pepper together; pound it over surface of meat with a wooden potato masher or edge of heavy saucer. Heat fat in Dutch oven, brown meat well in it on both sides. Place onions and bay leaf on meat. Mix tomato puree, sugar, mustard, Worcestershire and chili powder; add to kettle. Cover and simmer until meat is tender, 1½ to 2 hours. Makes 6 servings of meat plus about a cup of extra tomato sauce to use over hamburgers another day.

Church Women To Pack Parcels

Parcels for Peace will be packed by United Church Women of Snyder Friday morning at the Union Methodist Church.

The meeting is to begin at 10 a.m., with a covered dish luncheon planned at noon. The program for the day, which is to be directed by Mrs. Dale Clemmer, will be in keeping with the nationwide World Community Day theme.

Clothing and household linens to be included in the parcels is now being collected by the Union Methodist, First Methodist, Trinity Methodist, First Presbyterian, St. John's Episcopal and First Christian Churches. Children's clothing is especially needed for the boxes, which will be sent overseas for relief work.

P-TA Elects Delegates

Mrs. V. B. Gillean and T. D. Wiman were elected as delegates to the P-TA state convention at a meeting Monday night of the High School P-TA. The convention will be held November 17 in Corpus Christi.

P-TA members voted to hold a bake sale November 10. Mrs. J. D. Boyd gave a report on the book shelf that the P-TA will place in the high school principal's office.

Officers of the recently-organized Snyder Officials Association, which already has a membership of 17, are W. T. Mullins, center, president; Don Bruner, right, vice-president; and Charles Duran, left, secretary. The association, now working some football games, will be especially active in the basketball season. (Lee Watson photograph)

Officials Organize Association Here

Seventeen men from three towns in this area have recently organized the Snyder Officials Association.

The association, which is now assigning members to some area football games, will become more active later this year when the basketball season gets underway. The organization already has several requests to supply officials for games all over West Texas.

W. T. (Moon) Mullins is president of the association, while Don Bruner is vice - president and Charles Duran secretary. Duran, cashier at the West Texas State Bank, will be contact man and will make assignments of officials for games. No two men in the case of basketball and no one certain group of men will work together at all times, Duran said.

The secretary added that coaches can, if they wish, request specific officials. When the association assigns officials to games, coaches will also have the right to strike any off the list they may not want. The association has in its membership some members of the Southwest Basketball Officials Association, if any schools desire them in games.

Duran said there will be no limit as to the area the association will cover and no limit as to the class of the school, whether it be Class B or Class AAAA. Included on the schedule for basketball officiating already are games as far away as Plainview and Lamesa, both of Class AAA. There are many Class AA games on the schedule, Duran said. The association will have some Snyder non-district games, he added.

The 17 men who organized the association are charter members. Membership in the association now can be gained only if the new official has the recommendation of three coaches or three members. The group will meet weekly. It is now meeting on Tuesday nights.

The membership now includes officials from Snyder, Colorado City, and Loraine. Those other than officers are C. G. Fisher, Clay Feagan, Joe Cargile, Guy L. Sullivan, R. B. Forbes, Allan Ramsey, W. E. Lloyd, all of Synder; Don Robbins, Bob Taylor, and Willie Spurgin, all of Loraine; Roy J. Overturf, Floyd Sampson, Bob Riley, and Henry Pyle, all of Colorado City.

Perfect Marks May Be Ruined Friday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Galveston should continue its unbeaten sweep in Class AAAA but undefeated teams may fall like autumn leaves in the other divisions of Texas schoolboy football this weekend.

Rated No. 1 and eager to defend their high position, Galveston's Tors play probably the most impotent team in the field Friday night as they engage winless Orange at Galveston. Orange has lost seven games and had 384 points scored against it.

But in Class AAA, two of the unbeaten teams get together with the District 1 championship in the balance. Breckenridge and Big Spring, each with only a tie to mar its record, clash at Breckenridge.

The real headliners of the state comes in Classes AA and A, however.

LaVega and West, unbeaten and untied, tangle at West in the scrap that's due to decide the District 20 crown and send forth a worthy contender for the state Class AA championship.

And down in Class A Paducah and Chillicothe, undefeated and untied and among the highest-ranked outfits of the division, battle it out at Chillicothe. Paducah, the state title favorite, has rolled to 375 points in seven games. Chillicothe has made 214 in the same number of tests.

There are 45 undefeated teams in the state, 32 of them unbeaten and untied, and at least a dozen are in danger as the conference races tighten going into the final three weeks.

Two of the teams with records marred only by ties play in District 19 of Class AA and it probably will determine the title. They are Waxahachie and Teague.

Midland, the only other unbeaten, untied team in Class AAAA besides Galveston, rests this week.

In Class AAA, Lufkin, one of three left with perfect records, plays Longview in a feature game. They are the last teams unbeaten in conference competition in District 4.

Records of the undefeated, untied teas left in Texas:

No Giants On Porker Cage Team This Year

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Fifteen candidates for the Arkansas basketball team include five lettermen but there's not a "giant" in the crowd.

As workouts began this week, Coach Glen Rose, who hasn't had a big man for the post in his fast break system since he returned to tutor the Razorbacks in 1953, says his only big boy, sophomore Clarley Brown, "possibly might not be able to play at all this season."

Brown is 6 feet 8 and weighs 200 pounds.

Norm Smith of Bucyrus, O., and Buddy Smith of DeQueen, Ark., are the tallest lettermen at 6-4. Other lettermen are Carroll Scroggins, 6-3, of Center Ridge, Ark.; Jarrell Barnett of Harrison, Ark., and Leo McDonald of Many, La. Joe Telford of Des Moines, Ia., is a returning squadman.

Transfers from Jefferson City, Mo., Junior College are Pete Butler and Joe Kreschmar. Butler is 6-4.

Four From SW Get All-America Boost

DALLAS (AP)—Dicky Moegle, Rice halfback; James Ray Smith, Baylor tackle; Bud Brooks, Arkansas guard, and Hugh Pitts, Texas Christian center, are getting chief backing for All-America selection from the Southwest Conference.

The regional selection board of Louis Cox, Dallas Times Herald; Bud Sherman, WBAP-TV; Dave Mark Batterson, Austin American, and Dick Freeman, Houston Chronicle, are finding plenty of men worthy of All-America consideration but those four are cited in most of the nominations.

Sherman and Batterson also submitted a new name this week—Johnny Tatum, the Texas center who played such a great game against Southern Methodist. Batterson pointed out that Tatum intercepted a pass and ran 41 yards to a touchdown and as a result the tide, which had carried Texas to three successive defeats, suddenly started turning in the other direction," Batterson added. "He was a standout, both offensively and defensively."

The Austin sports expert also thought Tatum's absence from the lineup at the time Texas got its second touchdown may have prevented victory. A bad snapback caused the try for extra point to be blocked. Tatum has yet to be charged with a bad snapback.

Sherman liked the great work of Moegle against Vanderbilt and also lauded Smith for his efforts in Baylor's triumph over Texas Christian last week. And he stood by Pitts as one of the best centers in the country.

Bobo Takes Easy Victory

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — "I felt sluggish, fighting at 166 pounds."

World middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson made this comment after he had scored an eight-round technical knockout over Garth Panter of Salt Lake City in their scheduled 10-round, nationally televised contest at the Richmond Auditorium last night. The title, of course, was not at stake.

Olson didn't look exactly sluggish in the fearful beating he gave Panter. He pounded the game Salt Laker with a two-handed attack from the start.

Referee Joe Louis, the former heavyweight champion, halted the uneven battle 41 seconds after the eighth round started when Panter was cut deeply on the side of his right eye. Five stitches were needed to close it. Panter also was cut on his left cheek bone in the fifth round. It took two stitches to close this cut.

ABOVE THE BLEACHERS

By DALE WALTON

This week our staff of winner pickers feel slightly better, with their averages gradually creeping upward after a hectic part of the football season.

The staff of eight pickers now has a season average of 63.2 per cent, which does not come up to that of some experts but is a pretty fair country average for eight persons combined. The group together has made 799 right guesses out of 1,264. The word, "guesses," is about all you can call it in a season like this one.

John Conley, head high school coach, is guest picker this week. We saved this week for him because the Snyder Tigers have an open date and he won't have to pick on his own team. He succeeds the Rev. Ronald Hubbard, who got two-thirds of his picks right last week. Two-thirds is better than average when picking football winners.

Here's how the season averages now stand for the group: McNair and Eckstadt 67.7 per cent, guests 66.5, Feather and Walton, 65.8, Pope 61.3, Watson 60.7, and Gregg 54.4.

Tomorrow night will be dad's night for the Hermleigh Cardinals when they take on Bronte in their homecoming game. The dads will help warm the bench. Coach Ray Isaacs reports that his team is in good shape for the game. He is especially pleased with the performance of Neal Wilcox, end who has been a leader all year. Alvis Tarter is the team's leading offensive blocker. Isaacs also mentions the improvement of Clarence Stahl, tall senior end. The Cardinals are leading their district and are almost sure to come up with the championship again this year.

• • •

Many Snyder fans will be going to the Big Spring-Breckenridge football game tomorrow night, but many won't be making the long drive and won't go out of town for any other ball game. Radio station KSNY will carry the game for those who will be at home.

• • •

The freshman football teams were to meet Lamesa at home at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, and the two junior high teams have Lamesa opponents here tonight. These two teams are undefeated and are rounding up their season tonight. Those who haven't seen them have missed something special and would do well to catch them in tonight's game. The seventh grade will play at 6:30 o'clock, the eighth at 8 o'clock.

Vernon Gets Into Ninth Place In AAA

DALLAS (AP)—Vernon and Texarkana were newcomers this week to elite circle of Class AAA schoolboy football teams named in the Dallas Morning News as the state's 10 best.

Vernon took ninth place and Texarkana 10th, displacing Levelland and Kilgore.

Otherwise, the votes of Texas sportswriters polled by the News kept the list the same, with Lufkin easily the top team.

The Panthers, rated the best of three unbeaten and untied AAA powers—the other two are Garland and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo—increased their margin over second-place Breckenridge and third-place Port Neches.

The top 10: (records in parentheses)

1. Lufkin (6-0)
2. Breckenridge (5-0-1)
3. Port Neches (6-1)
4. Big Spring (6-0-1)
5. Garland (6-0)
6. McAllen (6-0-1)
7. Palestine (5-1-1)
8. Pharr-San Juan-Alamo (6-0)
9. Vernon (42-1)
10. Texarkana (4-2)

Next in the rankings are Kilgore 4-2); Nacogdoches (5-1); Austin McCallum (6-1); Sweetwater (2-3-1); Alice (6-1-1); Sherman (42); Levelland (4-1-2); San Antonio Alamo Heights (6-1-1); Snyder (3-3); Dallas Pleasant Gorve (4-3).

A 1-AAA battle between Breckenridge and Big Spring heads the list of games this week likely to change the order of ratings.

Two new records were set on opening day at Delaware Park race track this season. The crowd of 19,517 was the largest opening day affair and the $1,005,198 wagered through the mutuel machines topped all previous first day betting records.

Detroit Tiger pitchers did little to help their cause in the hitting department during the 1954 season. The best batsman among the Tiger hurlers was Billy Hoeft with a .196 mark.

UCLA, Ohio State, Oklahoma Get Nod In This Week's Play

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Oh, hush. Some of the political forecasters were wrong in the election, too, weren't they?

Last Thursday's list of games had 35 winners and 14 that were incorrect for an average of .715. That listed the season's average to .701 with 232 games picked correctly and 99 wrong.

Here are the winners this weekend:

UCLA over Oregon: The Uclans, now rated the country's best, are stomping all their Pacific Coast rivals. Two of the season's best backs, Prima Villanueva of UCLA, and George Shaw of Oregon, occupy the same field.

Ohio State over Pittsburgh: The situation here is ideal for an upset but one doesn't dare pick against the Buckeyes as long as Hopalong Cassady still is around.

Oklahoma over Iowa State? The all-winning Sooners have been threatened enough lately to be alert.

Rice over Arkansas: The game is in Arkansas but Rice is the pick in the belief that the Razorbacks have run out of mirrors.

Notre Dame over Pennsylvania: This is one Penn that isn't mightier than a sword, especially an Irish sword.

Army over Yale: The possibility that Bob Kyasky, Army's fleetest back, will rejoin his Cadet teammates after a few weeks absence with injuries puts an even heavier burden on Yale.

Iowa over Purdue: Purdue has a passer and Iowa has a pass defense for this Hawkeye homecoming.

Southern California over Stanford: Those Trojans are Rose Bowl bound.

Duke over Navy: The game will be played at Norfolk, Va., as the eighth annual Oyster Bowl game. The Middies gave their all against Notre Dame last weekend.

Minnesota over Oregon State: How did the gophers ever lose that game to Michigan by 34-0?

The others without comment:

FRIDAY NIGHT

Virginia Tech over George Washington, Kansas State over Drake, Marquette over Boston College.

SATURDAY

East: Boston University over Villanova, Brown over Springfield, Colgate over Bucknell, Cornell over Syracuse, Dartmouth over Columbia, Penn State over Holy Cross, Princeton over Harvard, Rutgers over LaFayette, Temple over Brandeis, Midwest: Miami (Ohio) over Indiana, Nebraska over Kansas, Michigan State over Washington State, Missouri over Colorado, Michigan over Illinois, Florida over Georgia, Kentucky over Vanderbilt, Louisiana State over Chattanooga, Maryland over North Carolina State, South Carolina over North Carolina, Wake Forest over Richmond, West Virginia over Fordham, William & Mary over Virginia Military, The Citadel over Newberry, Mississippi State over North Texas State, Miami (Fla) over Auburn, Mississippi over Memphis State.

Arkansas And Rice Hold Rugged Drills

By JOE BENHAM
Associated Press Staff

Arkansas' little pigs—the ever-surprising Razorbacks of Coach Bowden Wyatt — went splash, splash, splash all the way home Wednesday from a tough drill in a cold, drizzling rain.

The rain was typical of the conference weather, but the scrimmage wasn't. Rice matched Arkansas with a long scrimmage, but other teams either worked briefly outside, worked indoors or took the day off from physical work entirely.

At Fayetteville, Wyatt risked his condition-conscious players to the elements for a thorough practice in preparation for Saturday's game at Little Rock. Wyatt said he didn't like to get the boys wet and cold, but felt that they might be risking their unbeaten record against Rice in that kind of weather Saturday.

The Porkers will probably stay indoors the rest of the week, Wyatt said.

Rice got ready to meet Arkansas by scrimmaging well over an hour on a wet field of their own. Coach Jess Neely sent Dicky Moegle—cold and all—into the drill which featured defense against the Arkansas single wing and punting practice for the Owls. Neely tried a full gamut of backfield combinations in the drill but said there would probably be little or no change in his starting lineup for the Arkansas game.

Tackle James Ray Smith, pestered by injuries all season, worked out briefly at Baylor as the Bears prepared to meet Texas in the television Game-of-the-Week Saturday at Waco, and Coach George Sauer said the big co-captain would be ready to go against the Longhorns.

The Bears went through a short, rugged drill that wound up the rough work for the week.

Texas went to the movies—movies of Baylor games—as rain drove the Longhorns off the practice field at Austin. Coach Ed Price had a thorough skull practice after the films.

The moisture ruined the Texas A&M practice as far as effective scrimmage was concerned, although the Aggies kept at it for a while. A&M scrubs were assigned an SMU-style offense to run against the varsity, but rain made the ball too wet for the pass-filled play of the Mustangs.

Southern Methodist worked on wind sprints, calesthenics and familiarity with the Aggie offense while working out under the stands at Dallas. Coach Woody Woodard cancelled a lengthy scrimmage with the comment that it wasn't worth risking colds and pulled muscles for.

Lacking any pressure due to an open date, Texas Christian took the day off after a half-hour session made up of conditioning drills and movies of last week's loss to Baylor.

Drawings Begin For Cotton Bowl Tickets

DALLAS (AP)—Joe Louis Jones, of Center, Tex., will see the 1955 Cotton Bowl, and so will some 24,999 other people as a result of drawings which began here yesterday.

Jones' application was the first pulled out of the box which contains applications for nearly 75,000 tickets to the New Year's Day game. A sportswriter pulled out Jones' name as officials of the bowl looked on.

Drawings will continue until the 25,000 tickets which go to the public are exhausted.

The other 50,504 seats in the concrete arena are earmarked for stadium bond holders and the two schools chosen for the annual clash.

12 Football Deaths Reported For 1953

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Head injuries caused 7 of the 12 football deaths occurring so far this year, the chairman of the American Football Coaches Assn.'s Fatality Committee reports.

Spinal injuries, often caused by blows to the head, accounted for three and internal injuries for two, Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, dean of men at Los Angeles State College, said yesterday in his annual mid-season report..

The fatalities included two college players, one athletic club player, two boys playing sandlot or unsupervised football and seven prep school boys. They compare with 11 deaths in 1953.

Leading Statistics Doesn't Mean Taking Wins In Lone Star

By The Associated Press

A good way to lead the Lone Star Conference: Don't be tops in the statistics.

Sam Houston State is the offensive leader by a wide margin with 385.3 yards per game but is virtually out of the championship race with two defeats.

Texas A&I leads in defense, giving up only 227 yards per game. But A&I is definitely out of the race with three losses.

And even among the individuals it's dangerous to be a leader because your team doesn't win.

Norman Cash of Sul Ross leads in total offense with 812 yards and in rushing with 723 on 112 runs. But Sul Ross has lost three conference games and has won only three games all season.

Allen Boren of Sam Houston State leads in passing with 39 completions in 97 throws for 602 yards and Bob Baldwin of Sam Houston is the scoring leader with 55 points—one more than Cash.

Raymond Meyer of Lamar Tech tops in punting with an average of 42.1 on 14 boots.

Baldwin leads in pass-receiving, taking 16 throws for 319 yards.

Johnny Mize hit 539 home runs in the major leagues playing for the Cardinals, Giants and Yankees.

Danny Williams, West Virginia University fullback, is president of the senior class.

CHEVRON MEN HAVE THE TIRE FOR SOUTHWESTERN WINTERS

QUIET on dry roads

New center tread design gives a smooth, noiseless ride on main thoroughfares, and full traction the minute you turn off on muddy or snow-covered side roads or driveways. No rough riding — no annoying whine or hum, such as you get with old-style traction tires on dry surfaces.

SURE-FOOTED when it's icy

Unmatched traction, braking, and skid protection whenever you need it—for passenger cars or trucks. New-type shoulder lugs make Weathergards self-cleaning—prevent clogging with snow, stones or mud.

BEST for all-winter use

No switching to regular tires when the weather clears. Keep Weathergards on all season and be prepared for any change in driving conditions at a moment's notice. No extra tread-wear on dry pavements.

Harsh Words Are Quickly Forgotten

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—A "cold war" between the legislative and executive branches of the Federal Government seemed less probable today as Democrats moved toward control of Congress.

Harsh words of opposing party leaders were quickly forgotten as election results indicated a victory for the Democrats less overwhelming than they had predicted but more decisive than the GOP desired.

President Eisenhower, who had predicted a cold war if the Democrats won Congressional control, said he was sorry if he used terms that were too strong.

And Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex) and Sen. Johnson (D-Tex), due to lead their party's forces in House and Senate, indicated a desire for harmony. Both had been critical of Eisenhower policies and his administration in speeches campaigning for a Democratic Congress.

Rayburn will ascend to the speakership of the House when the chamber is reorganized in January. Johnson, with a slim Democratic margin in the Senate, indicated strongly he would attempt organization in that chamber even if he had to depend on the vote of Sen. Morse, Oregon independent, for a plurality.

The Senate Democratic leader yesterday announced committee chairmanships that will result in the event of Senate Democratic control.

Expressing astonishment at some individual election results, the President said the quest for peace was too important "to let any particular political situation" interfere.

Rayburn and Johnson used almost the same words. The senator said his previous assurance to Eisenhower to cooperate "in the interests of preserving our nation" still stood. "The security of the United States and the future of our people should not be imperiled by partisanship," Johnson added. "The Democrats will not do so."

Both Texans indicated they still were miffed because Eisenhower had not answered a telegram they sent him in October assuring him of their cooperation.

But Rayburn said the new Democratic House wouldn't go back to Washington with its "bristles up." He said the Democrats would not "hate Ike" in the same sense Roosevelt and Truman were hated by the Republicans "because they were Democrats."

"We are not going to vote against Ike because he is a Republican," Rayburn said. Both Rayburn and Johnson said, however, they would oppose Eisenhower "when he is wrong."

Eisenhower said he would call the Democratic Congressional leaders into conferences at the White House on all important matters.

Two Killed In Plane Crash

CARTHAGE, Tex. (AP)—A light plane crashed in a rainstorm about 12 miles south of here last night, killing its two occupants.

Johnny Spradley, chief deputy sheriff of Panola County, identified the men as Millard C. Hill, 44, Kansas City, and Leslie C. Reed, 34, Parsons, Kan.

The plane went down in dense pine forest about a mile from Farm Road 10, Spreadly said.

Occupants of the plane died instantly, he said.

Spradley set the time of the crash at about 6:30 p.m. shortly after it lost contact with the Gregg County Airport. Civil Aeronautics Assn. officials at Longview said the pilot, tentatively identified as Reed, had asked directions to "a field with lights."

The pilot told the field he had enough gas to reach either Shreveport, 80 miles to the northeast, or Longview, 55 miles to the north. The airport lost radio contact with the plane at that point.

The plane was found about 10:30 p.m.

Spradley said there was no fire after the crash, which demolished the plane as it hit a number of large pine trees.

Sentences In Fraud Cases Due On Nov. 12

HOUSTON (AP)—Judge Allen B. Hannay will set sentences Nov. 12 for two men found guilty of conspiracy to defraud the government in VA home loan manipulations.

The men were convicted yesterday.

They are Adolph Sherman, 56, Fredericksburg, and Otto B. Gaber, 47, Houston.

Sherman formerly was a Houston home builder. Faber is a real estate salesman here.

Several other Houston area builders, agents and repair contractors are under indictment on similar charges.

Judge Says Award Too Much For Libel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A jury's award of $88,780 damages to actor Michael Jeffers has been set aside by Superior Judge Allen W. Ashburn.

Jeffers sued the Screen Extras Guild for libel, alleging its newsletter incorrectly linked him with an organization the guild said was Communist influenced.

Judge Ashburn held yesterday that Jeffers was damaged by the 1950 newsletter but that the jury's award was exorbitant.

Nationalist Bombers Make Raid On Toumen

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist Chinese bombers carried the air war boiling up 200 miles north of Formosa into its fourth straight day with another raid on battered little Toumen Island on the northern fringe of the Tachen group.

Nationalist air force headquarters said an unspecified number of bombers hit Toumen despite four attempted interceptions by Communist fighters.

Karen Mauk, 6-year-old Conemaugh Borough, Pa., girl, was found dead early Friday in a cemetery about two miles from the town. Her body was nude and battered. She disappeared while on a Halloween "trick or treat" tour of her neighborhood.

Rites Set For Mrs. Proffitt

Funeral services for Mrs. Katherine Proffitt, 90, a resident of Snyder for the last eight years, will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow in the First Baptist Church in Clifton, Tex.

Mrs. Proffitt died at 1:15 p.m. yesterday at the home of her sister, Mrs. T. J. Weaver, 1200 Twenty-eighth Street. She had made her home there since moving here from Clifton.

The Rev. Tom McMillan, a great-nephew of Mrs. Proffitt, will officiate at the services. Bell Funeral Home will direct burial in the Valley Mill Cemetery.

Survivors in addition to Mrs. Weaver include several nieces and nephews.

Fine Assessed, One Suspect Makes Bond

One person pleaded guilty to a charge of swindling by worthless check and one was freed after entering a plea of not guilty to a similar charge in county court yesterday.

Drawing a sentence of 30 days in jail from county judge Edgar Taylor was W. E. Cauble, who pleaded guilty to passing a worthless check in the amount of $13.05 to Phillips Bros. Hardware Oct. 26.

C. A. Bretz was freed on $100 bond after pleading not guilty to a charge of swindling by worthless check in the amount of $20 to Bickerstaff Motor Co. on Sept. 11. Katie M. Rhodes was listed as surety on his bond.

Radios Dangerous

BOSTON (AP) — Motorists with two-way radios were warned today the impulses from such sets can set off dynamite charges prematurely at highway construction projects.

Public Works Commissioner John Volpe advised those motorists to turn off their sets in sections where blasting is underway. The warning does not apply to standard broadcast radios.

Inmate, Ex-Con Witnesses In Houston Trial

HOUSTON (AP)—A Leavenworth inmate and a former convict were the chief government witnesses as the narcotics trial of former police Detective Sidney Smith began in federal court.

Smith's trial, which began yesterday, is the second to result from a federal grand jury's probe of a police department dope scandal here.

The Leavenworth convict—Carl E. Lawder, 44—testified Smith used a police car sometimes while helping him and Charles Aaron, the former convict, in procuring dilaudid, an opium derivative.

Smith is charged specifically with helping Lawder and Aaron procure 836 one-sixteenth grain tablets between June 14 and Aug. 4 of last year.

Aaron, the last of yesterday's six witnesses, backed up Lawder's testimony.

Forty-nine other witnesses, including Houston Police Chief Jack Heard, have been subpoenaed for the trial.

Smith is accused of supplying Lawder and Aaron with money, driving them to a doctor's office to get prescriptions, then driving them to drug stores to pick up the narcotics.

A Houston osteopath, Dr. Julius McBride, was found guilty last month in a federal court trial at Corpus Christi out of charges growing from the probe of Houston police. He was convicted of dispensing narcotics to former police Chief L. D. Morrison while pretending the drugs were going to a cancer patient.

Still another trial, that of former vice squad Capt. Foy Melton, is scheduled to begin Nov. 14 in Brownsville. The Melton trial, like that of McBride, was moved from Houston on venue changes.

11 Of One Family In Hospital With TB

SANATORIUM, Tex. (AP)—Eleven members of a 13-person west Texas family have been hospitalized this week for treatment of tuberculosis.

Nine members of the Plainview family entered McKnight State Sanatorium, comprising one of the largest groups ever admitted here. Two others were sent to an Amarillo hospital.

Retired Publisher In McKinney Dies At 89

MCKINNEY, Tex. (AP)—The retired editor and publisher of the McKinney Examiner, William Clinton Thompson, died here yesterday.

Thompson, 89, began his career as a printer's helper, established the McKinney Gazette in 1886 and took over operation of the Examiner a few years later. He continued as editor and publisher until retiring a few years ago.

Funeral services were to be held today. Survivors include his widow, three daughters and a son.

Men, Charge With An Apron And Help Save Your Wife

Calling all Sir Galahads who are married.

This week is being proclaimed Save A Wife Week — even though it isn't an official part of the special weeks spree. It might be a different story if Mrs. Shivers were in the governor's chair, or if Mrs. Eisenhower wielded the official hand. As long as husbands rule, however, there may be no official proclaiming of such a week.

That doesn't keep us from pretending, however, and husbands who wish to prove that chivalry isn't dead completely can surely join us in the celebration. Be her own personal knight, gallant man, and step this way!

Suppose the man of the house did take over the kitchen for a week. It's natural to expect him to cook his favorite foods, and probably the only ones he knows how to prepare. The wife and family can look forward to hefty, hearty meals—the steak, potatoes, and apple pie variety. At the end of the week the Mrs. probably will be relieved to assume her duties in the kitchen once more, salvaging what's left of her waist line, the family budget, and the dishes.

Take breakfast, for example. A man-sized breakfast would go beyond eggs, bacon, and toast. He very likely will raid the pantry shelf for a couple of cans of corned beef hash and make a hash pie with eggs.

CORNED BEEF HASH PIE

2 16-ounce cans corned beef hash
1 6-ounce can tomato paste
6 eggs
Salt, pepper

Combine corned beef hash and tomato paste. Season, if desired. Line a nine-inch pie plate with half of the meat mixture, reserving other half to form six "dividers" or wedges. Drop whole egg in each section of the meat pie. Sprinkle eggs with salt and pepper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 to 35 minutes.

With these ready made wedges of hash-egg pie, he'll serve some toasted English muffins.

A FAVORITE VEGETABLE: POTATOES
. . . comes cooked many ways

While his mind's on corned beef, husband may plan a dinner menu of the old favorite, corned beef and cabbage. According to his logic, it doesn't matter if they both come on the same day. If something is good, why not eat it when you want to?

CORNED BEEF AND CABBAGE

Wash corned beef well in cold water. Place in a pot and cover completely with fresh cold water. Simmer until tender, allowing 45 to 50 minutes per pound. About 20 minutes before meat is done skim off excess fat, add one medium sized cabbage, cut in wedges. Boil uncovered about 20 minutes or until cabbage is just done. Place meat on hot platter; drain cabbage, arrange around meat.

If the cook wants to flavor other vegetables with that savory broth, he can add potatoes beets or carrots, starting first with the one that requires the longest cooking time. Garnished with a bit of parsley, it has now become a New England boiled dinner.

If you have a gourmet for a husband, he might call good old fashioned brown stew beef ragout but that's just a fancy name for the ingredients grandfather used to twirl his mustache over.

BEEF STEW OR BEEF RAGOUT

2 pounds chuck, cut in 1-3 inch cubes
2 tablespoons fat
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup water
1 small onion, diced
1 bunch carrots, cut in slices
½ pound white onions
4 medium potatoes, cut in quarters
1 teaspoon Worchestershire sauce
1 tablespoon catsup
1 can corn

Melt fat in a dutch oven or heavy aluminum pot. Brown meat on all sides. Add salt, pepper, water, and diced onion. Simmer gently 1½ hours. Add carrots, onions and potatoes and continue to cook until vegetables are tender (about one-half hour). Add Worcestershire sauce, catsup, and corn. Cook five minutes longer. To thicken, stir two tablespoons flour in one-fourth cup water until smooth. Add gradually to stew, stirring all the time.

When it comes to vegetables no man will overlook the potato, particularly if it's French fried. Some may want to bake it, scooping out the baked potato and whipping it with butter, a few drops of milk, salt and pepper, and then topping it with cheese. A few more minutes in the oven, and he has a super deluxe baked potato.

Another vegetable favorite, which goes well with that patio supper, sure to be on schedule sometime during the week, is oven baked beans.

OVEN BAKED BEANS

1 pound pea beans (about 2 cups)
1½ teaspoons salt
1 medium sized onion
¼ cup unsulphured molasses
1 teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ teaspoon ginger
¼ cup catsup
¼ pound salt pork

Wash beans; cover generously with cold water and soak overnight. When ready to cook, add salt and onion and if necessary add additional water to cover beans. Bring beans to a boil and simmer until tender. Remove onion. Drain and save liquid. Combine molasses, spices, catsup, and one and one-fourth cups bean liquid. Pour boiling water over salt pork and dry with a clean cloth. Place half of pork in bottom of beat pot. Add beans. Place remaining pork on top of beans. Add liquid mixture. Cover. Bake one and three-fourths hours in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.). Remove cover and bake 15 minutes. Yield eight to 10 servings.

Steaming hot brown bread is the natural accompaniment to baked beans, and if the man of the house fancies himself a baker, this would be a good recipe to prove his talents.

STEAMED BROWN BREAD

1 cup sifted all purpose flour
2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup quick rolled oats
2 cups corn meal
1 cup unsulphured molasses
2 cups sour milk
1 cup raisins

Sift together flour, soda, and salt. Add quick rolled oats and corn meal; reserve one-fourth cup in which to coat raisins. Stir in unsulphured molasses and sour milk. Mix raisins with one-fourth cup dry mixture, add to batter; mix well. Turn into four greased No. 2 cans, filling each two-thirds full. Cover with metal foil or two layers of brown paper tied in place with a strong cord. Place on rack in large kettle with tight fitting cover. Pour in boiling water to approximately one-third of the height of the can. Steam two hours. Yield: four loaves.

No masculine meal would be complete without a tossed salad, mixed in a wooden salad bowl seasoned by rubbing well with warm olive oil and then with a cut clove of garlic.

The combination might be of lettuce, chicory, endive, water cress, tomato wedges and sliced cucumbers and sliced radishes. Or toss together water cress, endive, chicory, sliced radishes, julienne strips of green pepper, sliced cucumber and spring onions. Other ingredients are red peppers, raw cauliflower, thinly sliced, carrots, and white turnips.

All salad dressings start with a blend of olive oil and lemon juice, with Americans, French and Russians branching off from there. Most seen with a tossed salad is French dressing.

BASIC FRENCH DRESSING

Vinegar or lemon juice, 1-3 cup
1 cup salad or olive oil
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon sugar
Cayenne, few grains.

Combine all ingredients; shake or beat until thoroughly combined; chill. Shake again each time before using. Makes about one and one-third cups.

For variety, add four tablespoons crumbled Roquefort cheese or four tablespoons chopped green olives. Good with green salads is this basic recipe with three tablespoons of prepared mustard and three teaspoons of Worcestershire sauce added.

The end to a perfect meal, as far as the man is concerned, is hot apple pie with cheese. He should be able to mix this one up, using boxed pie mix, and, if he's a real amateur, canned apples.

SPICY APPLE PIE

6 red apples
¾ cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Pastry for 9-inch two-crust pie
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Peel, core and slice apples. Blend sugar, flour, salt and spice and mix with apples. Line a nine-inch pie pan with half of the pastry. Roll remaining pastry for top curst. Place fruit in lined pie pan and dot with butter. Moisten edge of lower crust, lift top crust carefully and place over apples. Trim edges one-half inch larger than pan and fold under lower pastry, pressing firmly together. Decorate rim with tip of teaspoon. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 45 to 50 minutes longer, or until pastry is browned and apples are tender.

By this time, if the kitchen is winning the battle over you, the least you can do is take her out to dinner.

Decision Raps Over-Zealous Lending Firms

AUSTIN (AP)—If a loan company harrasses a customer so much it causes physical injury, loss of employment, or loss of reputation as well as mental anguish, the customer has a right to seek damages in court, the State Supreme Court ruled today.

The decision reversed judgments of two lower courts in a case brought by Mr. and Mrs. David E. Duty of Dallas against General Finance Company and six other lending agencies.

They now will be entitled to trial of their suit seeking $19,404 in damages.

The lower courts had held that the couple had stated no cause of action.

Agreeing that damages cannot be recovered for mental anguish alone, the Supreme Court said the present case is different because the Dutys also alleged physical injury, loss of employment, and acts constituting slander.

Chief Justice J. E. Hickman, author of the court's opinion, noted that the Retail Merchants' Association of Texas has expressed the fear that granting a right of trial in this case would hamper stores, banks and ethical professional men in collection of obligations.

"The fear is not well founded," Justice Hickman wrote.

"No such business concerns or ethical professional men will ever be guilty of such outrageous conduct as that described in the petition in this case."

THEIR FIRST SNOWMAN

Five pretty belles from southern states pose with the first snow man in their lives as the season's initial snowstorm covers the Anchorage, Alaska, area with a 6-inch blanket of white. They are, clockwise: Mrs. Howard Davis, kneeling left, West Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. J. W. Butler, Portales, N.M.; Mrs. Donald Brewer, Montgomery, Ala.; Mrs. Stephen Caspary, Hialeah, Fla., and Mrs. T. A. Coles, Houston, Tex. Mrs. Brewer's hubby is a civilian engineer at Anchorage. The others are wives of servicemen.

Seventeen Women Elected To Congress Set New Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—There will be a record number of women in the new Congress.

One woman senator and 11 representatives ran for re-election and won. In addition, four new women members, all Democrats, were elected.

A 17th woman, Mrs. Joseph Farrington, a Republican, was elected to Hawaii's nonvoting seat in the House.

The previous record of 14 women was set in the present Congress.

Mrs. George P. Abel, Republican, won a two-month term in the present Senate to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Dwight P. Griswold. She was not a candidate for a seat in the new Congress but, if certified in time, will sit in the session convening next Monday to consider censure of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). She succeeds another woman Republican, Mrs. Eve Bowring, who had been appointed but did not seek election.

The lineup of those elected includes Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine), re-elected in September, and 6 Republicans and 9 Democrats in the House in addition to Mrs. Farrington. All the new members are Democrats.

The newcomers:

Mrs. Iris Blitch, of Homerville, Ga., only two-term woman member of Georgia's State Legislature and wife of the owner-manager of a small drugstore. They have two children. She was unopposed in the general election.

Mrs. Martha W. Griffiths, of Detroit, friend and former law partner, along with her husband, of Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams, and a member of the State Legislature from 1949 to 1952. Now judge of Detroit's Recorder's Court, she ousted Republican incumbent Rep. Charles G. Oakman.

Mrs. Doya Knutson, of Oklee, Minn., former high school teacher and state legislator who defeated Republican Rep. Harold Hagen, a veteran of six terms. She is the wife of a hotel owner and mother of a 14-year-old boy.

Mrs. Edith Green, of Portland, Ore., former schoolteacher. Married and the mother of two sons, she defeated Republican Tom Lawson McCall for the seat of Rep. Homer D. Angell, Republican.

The winners' list is topped by Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass), dean of women legislators, who won re-election to her 16th term. She had no opposition. Only nine men in the House have served longer than she.

Also unopposed for re-election was Rep. Katharine St. George (R-NY), who will begin her fifth term.

Others who won re-election include:

Republicans: Representatives Marguerite Church (Ill), Cecil Harden (Ind), Ruth Thompson (Mich) and Frances Bolton (Ohio).

Democrats: Representatives Gracie Pfost (Idaho), Vera Buchanan (Pa), Maude Kee (WVa), Leonore Sullivan (Mo) and Edna Kelly (NY).

Ike's Brother Home

DANVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of the President, is expected to return today to Pennsylvania State University, which he heads, after spending two days at Geisinger Memorial Hospital here for a routine checkup.

New Legislator Has Baby In California

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A woman attorney delayed the stork just long enough here yesterday to learn of her election to the California Legislature.

Mrs. Wanda Sankary, 34, Democrat, defeated Chester Schneider, San Diego councilman, 28,027 to 27,521, and when the complete returns were in went to the hospital to have her baby.

She is the wife of an attorney.

Ballots Being Guarded In Oregon Poll

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Extraordinary precautions have been taken throughout Oregon to protect the ballots in Oregon's dramatic election until the official count is completed Dec. 1.

When it became apparent that the race between Sen. Guy Cordon, Republican, and Richard L. Neuberger, his Democratic opponent, would be extremely close, Gov. Paul Patterson ordered county officers to protect the ballots.

In Multnomah County, the state's most populous, the registrar of elections locked the ballots in rooms in the Courthouse. The registrar's seals, bearing his signature, were pasted over cracks around the edges of doors and windows. Keyholes also were covered with seals signed by the registrar so that any break would destroy the signature. Then a uniformed deputy sheriff and armed registrar's guards were placed on round-the-clock duty until the canvass is completed.

These precautions spread to the precincts. In No. 18, in a community church, the counting board gave up in exhaustion late last night. Until it could get back to work, the ballot box was sealed, then each member of the board signed the seal.

Army Gives Reason For No Action On McCarthy Charges

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has told Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) it officially reprimanded two officers for delay in handling the case of Dr. Irving R. Peress, who was promoted to major and given an honorable discharge.

But, said Secretary Stevens in a letter to McCarthy replying to a new series of questions by the senator about the case of the man he calls a "Fifth Amendment Communist," the Army has taken no action against three other high officers. The reasons given by Stevens:

(A) They were only carrying out provisions of a congressional law and regulations, and (B) in the Army's opinion "no acts performed by them manifested the slightest indication of Communist sympathy nor any other dereliction of duty."

Stevens said the three were Maj. Gen. William E. Bergin, the adjutant general; Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, commanding officer at Camp Kilmer, N.J., when Peress was stationed there; and Maj. John J. McManus, assigned to the personal center at Camp Kilmer.

One other officer who handled administrative papers connected with the Peress case, Stevens wrote, has been discharged for a reason "totally unrelated" to the Peress case.

Neither the two officers given administrative reprimands nor the one said to have been discharged for unrelated reasons were named by the Army.

Stevens, in response to McCarthy's questions, said the man who signed the discharge papers was McManus, and that the formal order for Peress' promotion from captain to major was signed by Bergin, as the adjutant general.

Stevens said Bergin merely was carrying out a new provision of the Armed Forces Reserve Act requiring promotion of officers called to active duty to rank "commensurate" with professional education, experience or ability. McManus signed the discharge papers for Peress "as a purely ministerial act which he was performing several hundred times a day," Stevens told McCarthy.

Peress, a New York City dentist, registered with his local draft board in 1951 and in May 1952 filled out forms in connection with an application for a commission. The Army said that on these forms Peress certified he was not and had not been a member of any subversive group, but that in October 1952 he claimed his constitutional privilege under the Fifth Amendment in declining to answer questions concerning membership in such organizations. He reported for duty Jan. 1, 1953.

In January 1954 Peress was summoned before the McCarthy committee and on Feb. 1 applied for discharge as soon as possible. He was given an honorable discharge the following day. McCarthy has contended Peress should have been given a dishonorable discharge. He demanded to know why the army did otherwise and who was responsible.

McCarthy's questioning of Zwicker about the case last February is the basis for one recommendation that the Wisconsin senator be censured at a session called for next Monday.

In his letter last night, Stevens recalled a letter he sent Sen. Mundt (R-SD) during the Army-McCarthy hearings last June. In that letter Stevens said an investigation "did reveal that in several instances improper administrative handling of papers resulted in unwarranted delays in processing actions concerning Maj. Peress."

An Army press announcement accompanying the release of Stevens' letter last night said:

"The Department of the Army announced today that exhaustive investigations have conclusively established that there was no collusion, conspiracy or preferential treatment with respect to any of its actions in the case of Dr. Irving R. Peress. The evidence shows clearly that it was the system which was at fault.

"Accordingly, the inference which has been made repeatedly during the past several months that these actions provide tangible evidence of 'coddling of Communists' by the Army is completely false."

Panel Says Cancer Victim Should Know

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A panel including three doctors, two clergymen and a lawyer inclines to the view that at least a majority of persons should be told when they have cancer.

The question was discussed at a symposium yesterday at the closing session of a joint meeting of the District of Columbia and Virginia state medical societies.

Here's a summary of the panelists' views:

The Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre, dean of Washington (Episcopal) Cathedral: Except for cases where there might be a psychological complication, all patients should be told because "there may be vast consolation in facing the truth, with God's help."

Dr. Owen Wagensteen, professor of surgery, University of Minnesota Medical School: Doctors can't "continue to tilt at windmills—in this day and age we fail in our responsibility (as doctors) if we fail to tell a patient if he has cancer."

Dr. Arthur M. Sutherland, a psychiatrist of New York's Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases: "I'm of two minds. People with cancer differ. To say that all should be told the truth presupposes a standard patient with a standard cancer, which isn't the case."

He said he believed knowledge should be withheld from people who might possibly commit suicide, have feelings of "guilt," or who might be of the type which "believes that surgery spreads cancer."

Dr. Alec Horwitz, George Washington University surgeon: "There's no categorical answer. Certain people have to be told, like people who are in positions of trust and therefore have to make certain arrangements. There are those I never tell, like a 75-year-old woman with an incurable cancer. I don't see anything to be gained by telling her. Then there's the in-between group who don't want to be told, or at least they say they don't. There are ways to tell these people without actually telling them unless you really have to. It seems to me I can do a little white-lying."

H. Mason Welch, a lawyer, of the Malpractice Defense Trial Counsel, Washington, D. C.: "When a patient consults a doctor, he has the right to expect honesty and that those things which the doctor discovers be told."

The Rev. Edmund J. Lee, Shepherdstown, W. Va.: "Each case should be considered on its merits, but, in general, the truth should be told. The patient, when told, might make an effort of faith that may save his life after the doctors have given him up."

Dixon-Yates Plan To Get Attention

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's Dixon-Yates private power plan became the first postelection object of congressional attention today, with a public review slated by the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

Chairman Cole (R-NY) called three major administration witnesses: Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss, Budget Director Rowland Hughes and Brig. Gen. Herbert D. Vogel, new chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

By law, the contract must remain before the committee for 30 days of continuous congressional session unless the committee acts sooner.

The AEC, which has approved but not yet signed the contract, has asked for a quick committee okay. The project's opponents, mostly Democrats, oppose the waiver and some have predicted a Democratic-controlled congress would put a stop to the project.

If the 30-day rule is followed, the scheduled effective date could be put off until Feb. 3—a month after the newly elected Congress assembles. However, the committee itself has only the power to review, not veto, the contract.

The plan calls for the building of a 107-million-dollar steam generating plant by a private utility group known as Dixon-Yates. The West Memphis, Ark., plant would feed electricity into TVA lines to replace power sent to atomic plants.

The project figured as a campaign issue, with opponents calling it a costly "giveaway" of government funds to private power interests with the aim of crippling TVA, and administration supporters defending it as a practical, fair method of getting needed power without building another government generating plant.

The ancient Romans regarded oysters as a great delicacy.

Europe Says Election Not Hurting Ike

LONDON (AP) — West European editors interpreted the American election reults today as a setback for Republican isolationists and the followers of Sen. McCarthy but they assured their readers that President Eisenhower's personal prestige remained undiminished.

There was general agreement that the Democratic gains in Congress would bring no startling shifts in U.S. foreign policy.

A few papers thought that on domestic issues Eisenhower will find as much cooperation from the Democrats as he has had from members of his own Republican party during the last two years.

London's Liberal News Chronicle said: "There has been no sign of any marked reaction against American internationalism, and the worst excesses of anti-Communist fever seem to be passing."

The independent London Times commented: "Happily for America's allies, foreign policy, which played only a marginal part in the campaign, appears increasingly to be left outside the party battle."

The Financial Times and the Daily Telegraph, both Conservative, took a similar view.

British Labor's Daily Herald saw the election as "a definite swing towards liberalism" and added, "America's friends can hope to see the United States complete the process of purging itself of McCarthyism."

The pro-empire Daily Express said Britain could view the outcome with equanimity because "she is the friend and ally of the whole American nation and not of either of its two great rival parties."

Stockholm newspapers agreed that Eisenhower's prestige saved the Republicans from a more serious defeat. The conservative Svenska Dagbladet regretted that "some of the best men of the Republican party's moderate wing were defeated."

Oslo newspapers said a Congress dominated by Democrats would support more willingly the President's basic program than one controlled by right-wing Republicans.

HARRIMAN CONFIDENT

Averell Harriman, new Democratic governor of New York, gives a victory sign after he and his wife, Marie, cast their ballots at Central Valley, N.Y., yesterday. Harriman was opposed by Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-NY) for the governor's chair being vacated by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

41st Week Produces Gain In West Texas Drilling Activity

A slight gain was noted in West Texas Drilling activity during the 41st week of 1954. A total of 82 applications to drill, including 19 ildcats, were filed in Railroad Commission Districts 7 and 8.

The number compares to 77 applications, including 18 wildcats, the preceding week.

Totals for the year now stand at 2,953 field tests and 808 wildcats for a grand total of 3,761 tests for oil and a weekly average of 91.78.

Six counties in District 7-C shared 19 applications to drill, including 8 wildcats, while 18 counties in District 8 shared 63 applications to drill, including 11 wildcats.

District 7-C wildcats were: Runnels, four; and Crockett, Sutton, Tom Green, and Upton, one each.

District 7-C field tests were: Runnels, five; Reagan, three; Tom Green, two; and Crockett, one.

District 8 wildcats were: Andrews, Borden, and Pecos, two each; Crosby, Ector, Sterling, Ward, and Yoakum, one each.

District 8 field tests were: Andrews, 17; Midland, six; Howard, five; Crane, and Scurry, four, each; Gaines and Garza, three each; Mitchell, Pecos, and Yoakum, two each; Kent, Reeves, Ward, and Terry, one each.
