U. S. OFFICIAL SAYS PLANS SETTLED

DETAILS OF OPENING UP SERVICE TO BE WORKED OUT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Plans for an Anglo-American air mail line across the Atlantic today were said by W. Irving Glover, second assistant postmaster general to be settled.

"Pan-American Airways, Inc. and Imperial Airways, Ltd. of England, will operate the line, which has been planned to begin within another year," Glover said.

To Work Out Details "Everything has been settled with the exception of equipment, spreading of weather facilities, and location of landing fields both in the states and other points.

"The postoffice department, which has been aware of negotiations between the two companies for some time is prepared to give mail to the line, whenever it is ready."

He said Charles, S. C., may be the American terminus of the line because of its location below the bad weather belt.

CITY DREADING MORE SLIDES

ONLY FIVE BODIES OF 100 OR MORE DEAD ARE RECOVERED

LYONS, France, Nov. 14.—Fear of further landslides led today to evacuation of a wide area about the section where yesterday upwards of 100 persons were buried as they slept within their houses collapsed.

Foundations of the entire district are believed to have been undermined by slides that have been reported by the hospital and even the famous old cathedral of St. Jean itself are threatened. Reinforcing of the weakened area is said to be impractical since the undermining appears to be too widespread.

TROOPS PATROLING IN STREETS TO GUARD AGAINST REVOLT

HAVANA, Nov. 14.—The mailed list of the Cuban military was posted today above Havana and its environs, prepared to strike hard in defense of the administration of Gerardo Machado, threatened with a growing island-wide unrest.

Troops carrying rifles patrolled the city's streets, with mounted details here and there. Student assemblies were forbidden and householders remained in their homes.

Censorship Imposed A censorship was imposed on all outgoing cable dispatches, and upon the capital's newspapers, two of which, El Pais and Diario de La Marina, submitted to governmental supervision.

Desultory minor rioting by unorganized bands of students lasted into the night, with one student reported dead and a small number wounded in clashes with troops. Two others were killed and a number wounded in clashes yesterday.

ABERNATHY IS STAGING SHOW

TOTAL OF 442 ENTRIES IN COOPS TODAY AS SHOW OPENS

ABERNATHY, Nov. 14.—With prospect of a much greater show with more than three times as many entries as last year, the second annual Abernathy poultry show got underway here today. A total of 442 entries had been received early this morning as compared with 150 last year.

Judging started this morning at 10 o'clock in the Kimbo building and the exposition will continue through Saturday. No entry fees have been charged and ribbons are to be given the winners.

Many varieties shown Included in the tiers of show coops assembled here today are twenty-six varieties of chicken, ducks, geese, turkeys and guinea. Many entries have been refused because of lack of room, according to officials of the show.

The show is under direction of J. H. Blusey, vocational agriculture teacher at Abernathy high school, and is sponsored by the Abernathy chamber of commerce.

Birds from Hale and Lubbock counties are included in the list of entries. Boys of the vocational agriculture classes assisted farmers in selecting fowls to be entered.

Entry lists include three kinds of three of Giants, three of Wyandottes, four of Leghorns, five of Bantams, two of games, two of Cornish and both Rhode Island Reds and Whites.

One of the interesting exhibits is a cross breed, only rooster from a setting of 100 eggs, raised by R. H. Haney, of Abernathy.

CHICAGO WOMAN, MISTAKEN FOR BANK ROBBER, IS SHOT BY TEXAS SHERIFF

LAORANGE, Nov. 14.—Mrs. D. J. Day, whose husband is a traveling salesman for a Chicago concern, was shot by mistake today when she was mistaken for a bank robber. She was expected to recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Day en route from Houston to Austin, lost their way and parked their automobile across from the bank at Carrizosa, deciding to spend the night.

SCIENTISTS TO WATCH SKIES TONIGHT FOR METEOR SHOWER

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A few thousand science sentinels will be out all night tonight in America and Europe—looking for signs of a possible celestial conflagration three years hence. They will be watching for a few Leonid meteors, a drawing of which is shown below, advance guards perhaps of a very great host of meteors now out in space somewhere in the direction of the orbit Jupiter, but high above that planet's plane. Some Leonids, however, may appear any night until November 18. This meteor flight is headed "downhill" toward the earth's orbit and will come very close to it—possible cut it squarely and hit the earth by millions—about 1933. The sentinels are seeking to estimate their exact position. The drawing sketch below shows how the meteors missed their mark in 1930 being deflected from their course by Jupiter.

JAPAN PREMIER IS WOUNDED

LION OF POLITICS OF EMPIRE IS SHOT BY YOUNG ASSASSIN

TOKYO, Nov. 14. (AP)—Yuko Hamaguchi, premier of Japan and lion of politics in the empire, was shot and seriously wounded today by a young man identified as a member of a reactionary patriotic organization.

Hamaguchi fell before the assassin's pistol as he walked across the platform of the Tokyo central station preparatory to taking a train to Okayama to attend the annual meeting of the party.

The assassin, Tomoe Sagoya, 23, stepped out of the crowd lining the platform and fired a single shot from a distance of six feet. With-out a sound, the premier clapped his hand to the wound and fell to the platform.

Police pronounced upon Sagoya and he was immediately subjected to a grilling. Officers remained silent as to the outcome of the questioning. Sagoya was said to be a member of the Aikokusha, or "love of country association."

CHURCH PLANS WET FIGHT

EDUCATIONAL WORK ON PROHIBITION TO BE MADE IN SOUTH

EASTLAND, Nov. 14.—Southern Methodists, from the individual congregations up, are to be organized for an educational campaign for prohibition and against repeal of the 18th amendment, Dr. A. D. Porter, secretary of the central Texas Methodist conference and member of the general board of temperance and social service of the church, said here last night.

"When the 18th amendment was passed we went to sleep, but now we are going to get off the defensive and become the aggressors for prohibition," Dr. Porter said. "And if the Democrats nominate Al Smith or a man like him, which it looks like they might do, we are going to beat him."

Mention of Bishop James Cannon's name was the occasion for mild applause.

Murder Is Believed Cause Of 4 Deaths

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Nov. 14. (AP)—The charred bodies of Bill Hammonds, 45, his wife and their two children, a boy and a girl, were found in the smoldering ruins of the Hammonds farm home near Creekola, late last night.

Sheriff Fred Hamilton said the position of the bodies led him to believe Hammonds killed his family, set fire to the house and committed suicide.

However, Jerry Hammonds, brother of the dead man said an examination revealed the skulls of all of them had been crushed.

THOUSANDS OF SPECTATORS GATHERED TO WITNESS CORNHUSKING CARNIVAL

NORTON, Kas., Nov. 14.—The midwestern's glorified corn field carnival to select a 1930 national husking champion today attracted thousands of spectators and contestants from seven states.

Frost has long since mellowed the tall stalks in a specially nurtured field on the farm of F. W. Palmer. Each snappy day added to the dry brittleness of the fodder and the long ears which are to be so suddenly separated by an expert hand.

Under favorable conditions the contestants, all state champions or runners up, expected to make a strenuous effort to shatter the national record of Elmer Williams of Iowa, who in 1925 husked 2,504 pounds, or 35.8 bushels in the allotted 30 minutes.

Other honor seekers include C. J. Simon and Lawrence House, Kansas; Theodore Balke and Ray Hanson, Minnesota; Clyde Teague, Iowa; Harry Eiter and Chris Pfleider, Indiana; Guy Simons and Merlin Christiansen, Nebraska; Glen Washburn and Ellsworth Kapp, Missouri; and Harold Holmes and Orville Welch, Illinois.

Hyde Says Less Production Only Answer For U.S.

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE SAYS FARMERS MUST BALANCE CROPS TO MEET DEMANDS OF MARKET; OVERPRODUCTION TRAGIC

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Disagreeing with the theory that the farmer can improve his lot by greater production and lower prices, Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde addressing the 6th annual convention of the National Grange, today advocated curtailed production to offset crop surplus as the best remedy for the economic depression of the farmer.

"The only answer to over-production is less production," Secretary Hyde said. "We must balance our crops against market demands, producing only such amount as we can sell at a price which covers cost of production, plus a profit. More production merely means more probable lower prices, and greater disaster."

Still Unorganized "Despite its unhappy experience with surpluses," he continued, "American agriculture to a large extent is still unorganized. No industry on earth can match agriculture in the number and volatility of its advisors. Their diversity is one of our weaknesses. There is lack of unified thought and action."

"To write an effective answer to the problems of the farm we must have, first of all, organization. The first object is unity of action, collective thinking, planning and marketing!"

Mr. Hyde pointed out that an increased program of farm production would tend to build up a surplus which would have to compete in world markets against competition "which no scheme of subsidy could equal."

"The American farmer cannot and ought not to be compelled to meet the fierce competition of cheap lands and low standards in other countries," he said.

EXTRA SESSION NOT LIKELY

PRESIDENT HOOVER IS ASSURED OF DEMO COOPERATION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Despite fresh signs of Democratic restiveness under the non-obstruction pledge of party leaders, it appeared today there would be no organized effort at the December term of congress to force an extra session in the spring.

President Hoover announced receipt of assurance yesterday from leaders in the senate of both parties that no effort to block the annual appropriation bills would be contemplated. Upon these measures operation of the government depends and if their passage were prevented by filibustering, the new congress would have to be called in session.

Breakfast After Session Democratic willingness to cooperate left only the western Republican independents uncommitted. Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, is one of those who has proposed an extra session, but without Democratic support the independent group would have a hard time putting over a successful filibuster.

Disposal of this first hazard to the administration program for the short session left the president free to lay plans to attack another obstacle—the conference deadlock over the Muscle Shoals legislation. A compromise between the Norris proposal for government operation of the Alabama nitrate and power plant which the senate approved, and the house plan for leasing it to private interests, is hoped for by some. Republican independents plan to insist upon action and word has been taken to the president that the question requires serious thought.

Must Inform Public "One thing that has been brought home to us in our discussion and study is that more information must be given the general public so that it will be better acquainted with the subject, hence more receptive toward it," the letter continues.

"If you will recall city planning troubles of such southwestern metropolises as Houston, Dallas and Tulsa, you will agree that the longer a city waits to plan its growth and development in the best manner, the more it costs to correct early errors which might have been avoided by the adoption of a city plan."

Anyone interested in the subject who did not receive a booklet may obtain them at the office of the chamber of commerce in the city hall.

KIMBALL MAN IS SHOT BY KILLERS

FRITZ BLANK CALLED OUT OF HOME AND MURDERED

BOERNE, Nov. 14.—Shades of legendary night-riders, appearing phantom-like though the veil of forgotten years, crystallized in grim reality in the hills of Kendall county last night, called a man from the arms of relatives, shot him down in cold blooded fashion and left the community terrorized as they rode away in the darkness.

Two men, riding in an automobile, appeared at the home of Alfred Helligman in the Van Ruan community five miles south of here, late Thursday. When they departed, Fritz Blank, 25, cousin of Helligman, was lying dead in the front yard and Helligman and his wife had been menaced by the guns of the killers.

Mystery Confounds Officers Deep mystery confronted Sheriff Ed Bierschwald and his officers as they opened an investigation of the murder today. Relatives and friends of Blank were unable to supply any motive for the slaying of the young man.

Officers were without any clue to identity of the slayers. No description of the men or the automobile they drove was obtained.

Helligman told officers that Blank, who lived nearby in the community and was unmarried, came to his home Thursday night to visit. Helligman, his wife and Blank were talking in the front room of the automobile appeared in front of the

A Smashing Serial Of Football And Love "MUD AND GLORY"

Written for the Lubbock Daily Journal and King Features Syndicate by James M. Neville. Copyright by King Features Syndicate. All rights reserved.

SYNOPSIS
Terry Malone and Red Thomas, freshmen, both aspire to Princeton's football crown and the love of Margot Blair, young society girl. Red, a bully, breaks Terry's arm causing him to leave college. A year later he returns. Red, now a sophomore, is Princeton's hope. He is suspended for six months and Terry is substituted on the team. His playing makes him a national hero. Margot loves Terry, but realizes he is no matrimonial catch from a financial standpoint. She decides to give him up.

CHAPTER XIX
The football field lay heavy under the gold of October. A hard mid-week practice session was under way. Everywhere was order, system, action and hard work. Modern football is serious business.

"Come on, men. Get going. On the ball!"
The first varsity eleven snapped into action under the crisp voice of the head coach. He paced up and down the field, bristling with energy, praising a lineman, criticizing a back, animating the whole team with the fiery spark of his dynamic personality.

Terry Malone, with other rugged leads in the Princeton backfield, adjusted his leather helmet, lined up in order after springing out of the huddle, dug cleated shoes in the dirt and caught the ball as it snapped back from Sonny Drayton at center.

With Red Thomas as interference, he hit the first charge of the scrum, slammed and twisted through a hole opened up through tackle by Dan Hart and stumbled to an open field. "Get going, Terry! Go on!"

The eyes of the Princeton coach sparkled. He clapped his hands in nervous satisfaction. Perfect teamwork supplied this veteran football mentor with a rare thrill; the kind of thing that jured him back to alma mater year after year from politics and his business. With a seasoned, fast line, a great tackle and two real football hounds, Terry and Red, in the backfield, the coach knew that he had the makings of a mighty eleven. He was in for a good season regardless of threatening rumors drifting down from New Haven about "the best Yale eleven in many years."

Perhaps Yale had a splendid squad of husky men. What of it? A fine spirit of co-operation pervaded the entire Princeton squad, with each man eager and ready to do his utmost towards a winning combination. Between Terry Malone and Red Thomas, playing side by side in the backfield and carrying the burden of offense and defense, rested the ultimate success or failure of the season. These two ball hawks had everything, the feel and love of the game, courage, stamina, speed and power.

"Now try that flat pass," barked the coach, walking behind the varsity backs in a nervous circle. "Yap, that's the stuff, Terry. Now mix up your plays, old man. Fine. Fine." He clapped his hands and continued to pace around the backs in a circle, while Terry ripped off plays.

"Great work, Dan. Pull a hay wagon through that hole. Hit him, Terry. Burne you looked good on that. Only get going sooner, Red. Wherein hell were you on that play? Get in there and take out your man! You didn't pay to get in here and watch the game. Take out your man!"

"But coach, I thought—"
On every eleven there is always someone ready with an alibi when the play goes wrong. Unfortunately some of the best football players have this weakness to a marked degree. Red Thomas never missed a chance to alibi himself out of trouble and managed somehow to place the blame for his mental lapses on Terry's shoulders.

Terry wanted to call for a show down the minute Red started alibiing, for he knew a cure for it—and it was not diplomacy or patience, which only aggravated the disease. He knew his only chance was to call Red right there and then, with the coach listening.

But Terry feared any kind of an open break with Red Thomas. In the inevitable series of irritating incidents that cropped out in the intimate grind and association of football, Terry had struggled under the growing tension of personal animosity with a surprising amount of self control.

There was so much at stake, Terry was ambitious. Both he and Red were juniors and the football captaincy for the next year dangled between them. Aside from the ignominy of playing under the leadership of Thomas there were other forces which spurred him on. Terry wanted the varsity captaincy for his mother's sake. Such honors of leadership pleased her more than the winning of all the Phi Beta Kappa keys manufactured. And there was Margot.

Red was no fool. He realized that Terry had the quarter-back job and that it was necessary to get along with him as tactfully as possible for he also had his heart set on the captaincy. As an added incentive, his father promised him a trip around the world after graduation if he were elected. So the two players tried to carry on, speaking only when necessary and always to the point, fully conscious that any display of feeling would automatically put both of them off the eleven. The Princeton coach tolerated no dynamic nonsense. He demanded team harmony at all costs.

In this instance, the coach, following the play, sailed right into Red, in his quick, nervous way of talking, as if his power of speech were geared lower than the rushing thoughts he wished to express. "Shut up, Red," he stormed. "Cut out the alibi stuff. And don't be so inde-damned-pendent around here. Get in there and take out your man and do it right or I'll make you run around the field until your tongue is suburned."

Terry looked at the coach with open admiration. The man not only knew football but handled his players superbly. He knew when to praise, when to bear down. He was the type of man born to lead and to fight. It was stamped clearly on his dynamic personality and manifested in his animation of mind and alertness of body.

But even the reassuring confidence in the coach failed to lessen the mingled emotions of dismay and fortitude that clouded Terry's thoughts when he anticipated the play to come with Red Thomas. Taking a shower in the steam-filled apartment after practice that afternoon, Terry noticed Red. He had the body of a Greek god; symmetrical, rippling in hard smooth muscles from his broad, tapering shoulders down to his sturdy legs. To see him move was to see the poetry of motion. Then Terry saw him dressed with only his tomato red hair and face visible. All he heard was the palaver that splashed through his teeth.

"Ever hear about the parade of all the virgins in Paris in honor of Joan of Arc," rattled Red. "Well, they invited all the virgins to come to the festival and one girl showed up. Red's trumpeting voice and bellowing laughter could be heard as Terry, hurriedly dressing, came out into the cool twilight.

Fate, the leading lady in any football season, stood by grim, unyielding, determined to win her desired pattern regardless of the hopes, ambitions, disappointments and animosities of such puppets in her show as Red Thomas and Terry Malone.

"You've got the ball here on Yale's ten yard line. First down ten yards to the goal and the score is 0-0; with two minutes of play. What are you going to do?"

The coach addressed the words to Terry Malone, walking at his side down the field. It was the custom every day in the early part of the season to test Terry's generalship. "Answer any plays that will gain," answered Terry, "bearing in mind not to use center-of-the-line plays inside the ten yard line. Also remembering not to forward pass over the goal line on second or third down."

The coach nodded, walked toward the center of the field. "With the ball between the center of the field and your opponents' twenty-five yard line?"

"Use any plays that will gain ground, but be sure to kick on fourth down. This is slick territory to use all sorts of trick plays with a psychological threat. Now if I had the ball between our twenty-five yard line and midfield I might kick on third down, after trying out the opponents' defense."

"I don't believe in hard and fast rules of football strategy," said the coach, "but you know how I feel about punting on fourth down. It isn't easy for you to learn that, Terry, for the temptation to break it comes up all the time. With only a few feet for a first down, or a few inches to go it is mighty hard not to run the ball, and keep possession of it."

"In the Princeton-Colgate game of 1925 the score was 0-0 in the middle of the third period. Princeton held the ball at midfield, fourth down and two yards to go.

"The Princeton quarter-back, disregarding the rule, tried one of those sure plays. Sure plays are sometimes stopped. This one was stopped and Princeton failed to make first down. Colgate got the ball at midfield and were all set for an offense. The failure of the quarter-back to order a kick cost the Princeton team fifty yards and they never were able to overcome the distance, for when Colgate failed to gain on running plays, they punted

"Then, as luck would have it—a Colgate man blocked a kick, the ball rolled behind our goal lines. It was recovered by one of our men for a safety."
"So I make it an absolute rule to punt on fourth down. The only exception to this is when you are playing to score, and in football you should always be doing just that. For instance if you hold the short end of the score in the last few minutes of the game, it pays to take chances to retain the ball. Under these circumstances, you are justified in ordering a running play on fourth down."

PRESBYTERIAN UNION IS CONSIDERED

FIVE DENOMINATIONS OF U. S. MAY BE CONSOLIDATED

(By The Associated Press)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—Representatives of Presbyterian and reformed churches agreed in principle today on a basis of union intended to weld into one their five denominations with their approximately 1,000,000 communicant members throughout the country.

What debatable points remained after a two day conference concluded today were referred to a special joint committee. Adoption of the report of that committee is expected to result in the drafting of a definite plan of union to be submitted to the five national bodies of the denominations involved for ultimate acceptance or rejection.

The five denominations represented by 65 delegates at the conference are the Presbyterian Church in the United States, the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., the United Presbyterian Church of North America, the reformed Church in the United States, and the Reformer Church in America.

Differences of opinion arose on details of the system of united administration contemplated, proposals that the united general assembly be composed of commissioners chosen by the synods, and that a new group of administrative bodies, to be known as general synods, be set up through strong opposition.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR NEXT PERIOD BEING CONSIDERED

(By Cecil R. Dickson)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14, (AP)—The plan of the house appropriations committee to curtail government expenses and at the same time allow funds for public building programs to decrease unemployment was outlined today by Chairman Wood as the group began formulating supply bills for the next fiscal year.

"The total appropriations for the coming fiscal year," Wood said, "should be lower than for the present period provided there are no extraordinary items which an elaborate public building program might bring."

Should be less

The total for this year was $4,122,401,000, including $940,271,333 for the postal service. The aggregate for the new fiscal year should be less, Wood said.

We expect to save money this year," Chairman Wood said. "The appropriations committee will hew pretty closely to the line. We expect to keep the expenditures below the budget estimates as we always have done."

Wood said "this is a good time for the government to push its public building program" and added "there may be some substantial outlay for new projects."

In answer to a question Wood said the treasury might resort to issuance of short-term bonds to enable the government to carry forward a public building program without increasing taxes.

Hearings on the treasury-post office and the interior departments bills got under way before the committee behind closed doors. Under the committee plans, three measures are to be ready for action by the house early in December.

Real Romance

Not long ago Miss Ellis Morgan Brandon, artist's model, posed for pictures for the newspaper serial, "Rash Romance." Now she has found a real romance, and on Oct. 19 she was married to William J. Lohman at Poplar Bluff, Mo., where her parents live. Miss Brandon has been model for such famous artists as Harrison Fisher and McClelland Barclay.

An automobile wrecker was required to rescue a 300-pound calf which fell into a well at Port Scott, Kan.

REVISED SCHOOL PROGRAM PRESENTED AS ONE OF METHODS TO BETTER U. S. CHILD STANDARDS; PLAN IS OUTLINED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A revised school program was recommended in the report prepared by Dr. Thomas D. Wood, Columbia University health education expert, for the coming White House child conference.

In the interest of child health, Dr. Wood's committee would considerably change school days and school weeks, not stopping short of considering a 13-month calendar.

Should Cut Home Study

"Home study should be entirely eliminated in the first six grades, and it has little to recommend it in high school," the report said.

At the same time, it attacked the long summer vacation of undirected idleness. "School is too formal, vacation too empty," the committee decided, urging the board of education to take charge of children on a year-around basis.

A school term 10 to 12 weeks in length with a week of vacation intervening was suggested on the theory that even adult efficiency declines after 12 weeks of work without vacation.

Would Aid Work

The adoption of the new 13-month calendar would help in the adjustment of such a program, the report said.

The committee pronounced "undesirable" county, state and national championship tournaments in competitive games and said endurance tests, such as long distance running, should be omitted from the physical education program.

CITY HAS CURSE

Judge Goes On And Assesses Fine, Regardless

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 14 (AP)—Evanston was under a gypsy curse today, but apparently no one was getting excited about it.

It all happened when five gypsies, charged with speeding a motor car, sprinkled incense about the court room of Magistrate Harry H. Porter, explaining that this was a curse on the city which would take effect, if and when, they were fined or given other treatment they considered unfavorable.

Magistrate Porter thought about it briefly and then decided he would take a chance by fining them a total of $35.

They paid.

Fifty-two of 6 counties in Alabama are now covered by full-time health officers.

Allred Appoints Two Assistants

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 14. (AP)—Appointment of Judge F. O. McKenzie of Weatherford and E. F. Johnson of San Antonio as assistants was announced today by James V. Allred, attorney general-elect. Judge McKenzie has been on the district bench 16 years. Johnson formerly a resident of Red River county, now is assistant district attorney in Bexar county.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S EMERGENCY JOB UNIT GETS $6.10 IN CONTRIBUTIONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Edward Eyre Hunt is an expert in world economics, but he shook his head today over $6.10 lying in the coffers of the president's emergency employment committee.

Nobody asked for the money: First came two silver dimes carefully wrapped in tissue paper. One envelope from a kind-hearted citizen brought a dollar bill to the committee's headquarters, another a check for a couple of dollars and so on.

With each cash contribution came a suggested plan for direct relief to the unemployed.

"We'll have to go through this carefully," said Hunt, "and if there is anything we can use, put it into effect; if not, just return the money."

CROP IS LARGER

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 14. (AP)—The Dominion bureau of statistics today estimated this year's Canadian wheat crop at 353,854,000 bushels, an increase of 11,000,000 bushels over the estimate made by the bureau September 10.

Of the total 374,000,000 was produced in the prairie provinces.

Freedom
When Chief Justice Hughes
reminded in Washington recently that the greatest difficulty in the American system of government today is the reconciliation of the interests of the community with the requirements of individual liberty, he touched on an issue that is going to become more and more pressing
as the years pass.

It is an issue that doesn't get a great deal of public attention, for it is a hard thing to dramatize. It is the sort of thing that an orator can use to arouse an audience. A writer who tackles it is apt to turn out something pretty dry. But it is the back of an enormous amount of the present unrest, and it will generate more in the future.

To be sure, we get it occasionally in connection with prohibition. But prohibition, after all, is only one phase of it. The field is a lot wider than that; the problem would be just as acute if there were no prohibition issue at all.

Generations ago the requirements of individual liberty counted for nothing, except among a favored few at the very top. A man had what rights his sovereign gave him, and if he was wise he took them and tried to be satisfied. The state—meaning, generally, the king, or the dominant but powerful ruling oligarchy—was supreme.

Then, with the American and French revolutions, came the new ideas. Individual liberty, instead of counting for nothing, counted for everything. This was especially true in America. Some of the early colonists were even too jealous of their individual liberties to submit to taxation. The looser a government was and the less it touched the life of the average citizen the better everyone liked it.

But while this new concept of the value of individual liberty was rising, a complicating element was coming in—the industrial revolution,
which began when the steam engine
was made practical and which is still going on. It set up a current that swept directly against the growth of individual freedom.

For the industrial revolution,
concentrating population in big cities,
speeding up every aspect of human life and bringing every man into intimate closer touch with his neighbors, made life ever so much more complicated than it had been before. Individual liberty, growing yearly more desirable, became yearly harder to attain.

Consider the amount of governmental regulation which our lives have to be surrounded. It ranges from vast contrivances like the League of Nations down through government supervision of railroad rates and electric power combines to village laws against driving an automobile
too fast or putting a radio loudspeaker on the sidewalk. It includes thousands of laws and ordinances.
Most of them are irksome,
but they are absolutely necessary,
although they could not have been necessary a century ago.

So there is our problem, as Chief Justice Hughes points out. It is, perhaps, the knottiest problem of the day. It will not be settled, probably, for another century.

The Jury Box
An Ohio judge has set some sort of precedent by refusing to excuse
public school teachers from jury duty. He not only insists that having teachers on juries will be good for the courts; he also suggests that it will be good for the teachers.

With his first premise it is impossible to disagree. Our system of justice stands or falls, in the last analysis, on the jurors. Any move that tends to place educated and conscientious citizens in line for jury service is bound to be a good one.

The second point, likewise, seems well taken. A teacher who is familiar with the workings of American courts from the view point of the juror ought to be a much more valuable instructor for youth than one who is not.

THE PLAINSMAN
Says:

That Girl on Broadway says honest confession may be good for the soul but it's mighty worrisome to confederates.

The Morning Avalanche reported today that two film stars were unable to pay their bills, proving that anything about film stars is news,
even if it is trivial.

THE Plainsman burst back into town just in time to get in on the tall end of the local conversation
about matrimonial insurance, its uses and abuses. I don't know anything about the legal status of it but I don't believe it's anything trivial.

The Plainsman never has been sold on matrimonial
insurance as a business proposition but at the same time never has felt that it composed any serious threat from a standpoint of legal action. I know several of the young fellows who are mixed up in the situation and as far as they are concerned I have always found them to be honest and reliable. This recent trouble may stop their business but I doubt if it will bring any greater trouble.

In the final analysis, there are few short cuts to wealth and to big profits, either for a holding company or its participants. It takes years to amass fortunes and a long pull to bring prosperity to stockholders in the rank and file of concerns. Eight and ten per cent on an investment seems slow but the longest way home is often the shortest cut.

That Man on Avenue Q says about the best substitute for an interesting past is a good imagination.

LIFTING the pink bollworm ban
in Dawson, Martin, Howard, Glasscock and a portion of Midland counties will mean a new era in that section of the state. For three years now the ban has been on and has handicapped cotton growers in those and other counties. It is to be hoped that coming investigations will bring about the lifting of the ban in all of Midland, Ector, Crane and Upton counties.

The Senior Livestock Judging team of Texas Technological college has hung up another fine record in taking third place at the Kansas National Livestock show recently held at Wichita.

The boys have gone ahead to Kansas City, where they will compete in the American Royal show Saturday, doubtless to run away with more laurels.

While The Plainsman's memory
may be faulty at times, he believes he is correct in saying that not a year has elapsed since far that the Tech judges have failed to click in the various stock shows they have attended. In so doing they have raised the banner of the new state school to a high point on the flagpole of institutions instructing in vocational lines. They have proven time and time again the efficiency of the department of animal husbandry
and the school of agriculture
at Tech.

Not all antiques are highly priced. Consider the old virtues.

FOLKS, The Plainsman has decided there is no way to keep from getting old. He has compiled a lot of information on regaining the boyish figure. It has bought a case of hair tonic (for use on the hair). But being fat and baldheaded, although sidestepped, are not the only indications of approaching age for The Plainsman. He discovers now that he will likely have to wear spectacles.

For years and years The Plainsman has been skidding by the spectacle threat, like the halibut that drifts through tackle just enough to make the needed first down. But the time has come when the skidding is falling off. It'll be the horn-rimmed from here on out.

And what makes it so embarrassing, I have been to El Paso.
Whenever anybody comes back
from El Paso with a red eye, that's grounds for suspicion. But as a matter of fact, my eye was out—just like Lottie's—before I ever got to El Paso, thanks to a day of driving in the mist with a windshield wiper working every inch of the way from here to the border.

But anyway, I have given up the struggle. Dieting is out and I'm going to give my hair tonic
to somebody who can use it internally or externally, as they see fit. If I'm going to have to wear cheaters I'm going to do a good job of getting old. I'll just take all the rap at once and try to live 'em down. After all, I can get a lot of solace out of my coming mistakes by reminding myself that there's no fool like an old fool!

Fame—a bronze statue concerning which visitors say "and who was

Organized Labor Showed Strength In Recent Elections
By Helping Elect Candidates Favoring Their Program

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Along with the Democrats and the organized labor and the candidate it endorsed came out on top of the heap in the congressional election.

Senators and representatives whom the labor organisations considered undesirable, in fact,
were drawn out
in large numbers
during the nominating primaries, while labor's friends
were retained
and retained.

The same tendency
continued
in the election.

Among outstanding defeats
of candidates who had formal labor support were those of Senator
McMaster in South Dakota, Senator
Robinson in Kentucky and former Senator Gerry of Rhode Island. All had been supported on the strength of their senatorial records, but the defeat of McMaster and Robinson appears to have been attributable to the Democratic landslide and labor support and to the retirement of primary or election defeat of
as many who could be depended upon to have little sympathy for legislation which labor supports.

Labor supplied the extra push which has terminated the senatorial career of Henry Allen of Kansas, President Hoover's close friend and senatorial adviser, who will be succeeded by a Democrat named George J. McGowan. Allen fathered
the famous Kansas Industrial Court which labor hated and bitterly fought. Another of labor's pet haters, William M. Butler, who lost to Marcus A. Cookidge in Massachusetts.

The American Federation of Labor makes no general list of its endorsed candidates, leaving endorsements to state federations and locals but the executives of the 21
Standard Railway organizations unanimously called for the election of 19 senatorial candidates, nine Republicans and 10 Democrats.

At the top of the list stood Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, who as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee has been helpful and sympathetic to such labor-sponsored measures as the anti-injunction legislation as well as to other progressive and humanitarian measures. Norris defeated his Democratic opponent, former Senator
Hitchcock, by a large majority.

The others who won out were Senator Sheppard in Texas, Senator Borah in Idaho, Edward P. Costigan in Colorado, Senator Cousens
in Michigan, Secretary of Labor
Davis in Pennsylvania, Governor
Huey P. Long in Louisiana, Senator
McNary in Oregon, Senator
Walsh in Montana, Senator Capper
in Kansas, former Senator M. M.
Neely in West Virginia, Congressman
Cordell Hull in Tennessee,
former Congressman James J.
Byrnes in South Carolina—who with labor support defeated
Senator Blea in the primary; Senator Bratton in New Mexico, and Senator Harris of Georgia, whom labor aided in his primary fight.

The more important of the successful labor endorsees happen to be—Norris, Borah, Costigan, Walsh, Hull and Neely. In fact, only three or four of the whole 19 yet,
In no case, however, did the dry records of these candidates have anything to do with their endorsement.

In the next Congress labor will

In New York
With Swab
Gibert Swan

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Add this one to your stories of New York.
Less than half a dozen years ago he was a hotel bus boy. But, even as in the movies, he was a prince posing as a pauper. Today he is one of the most imposing hotel figures in Manhattan. And he didn't have to call upon the family
fortune to do it.

There, in a paragraph, you have a sketch of S. Gregory Taylor's story.

As a sequel: Just the other night
the Lord Mayor of St. Moritz, Switzerland, officiated at the opening of one of the swankier new hostelries—the St. Moritz Cinema stars, Broadway players, legation members and high-priced writers
make their home there.

Pretty good for a bus boy—eh,
what?

The end of the story having been told, we'll have to go back to the beginning. It's the little island of Mancora in the Adriatic sea. He came of a moneyed family, but he traveled steege to America. When he arrived, Taylor found that he couldn't be particular about a job.
The first one that showed up happened to be that of a bus boy at the St. Regis, one of the ritziest hotels.

Looking about him, Taylor was quite content with his selection. For he determined to enter the hotel business and decided that starting at the bottom would do no harm.
By the way—Taylor was 16!

For a year he arranged set-ups
and obeyed the commands of waiters. There wasn't enough money coming in, however. He switched from bus boy to an "ice cream and candy" dispenser. Before his twenty-first birthday he had a half interest and, from a small concern,
the place had grown to an ice cream factory. Three years later he sold out for $25,000. Just seven years in America and with a neat sum in his pocket—Mancora Taylor was learning the ropes!

Now, said the young man, I'm ready to go back to the hotel business. But he was called back home by the illness of his mother, was gone more than a year and when he returned went back to the kitchen in the Hermitage hotel.

Within a year he was the manager.
This was achieved in typical New York fashion. The Hermitage had for years been a theatrical rendezvous. As such it had been slipping.
When the management came open,
Taylor boldly walked in and asked for it.

He was told that there was a certain theatrical crowd whose custom the hotel was trying to get back. If a certain key figure could be induced to return there—well, things would change.

Taylor dashed out, broke through a crowd of secretaries and bluntly asked this theatrical figure to have dinner at the place. The young man openly admitted that a job depended on the acceptance.

"Well, run back, sonny, and tell em the job's yours."

So it began. He attracted the attention of John Manger, the chain
hotel king, and before he was 30
Taylor was manager of the chain.
But he wanted to be on his own.
He bought a half interest in a small uptown place.

Today he has three large ones—the Dixie in mid-broadway, the Burlingham, and now the swankier St. Moritz. And he's in his early thirties, with a neat fortune in his pocket.

"And I think," he says, "that it's largely due to the fact that I worked side by side with the men who are the cogs in the machine. I know how they feel about things
and what makes them go round.
And I advise any young man to put himself in the other fellow's place
before trying to be a boss."

Two wrestlers, former football players, knocked each other unconscious by meeting head-on in a recent match. As though you could keep football players away from skull practice.

THE TINYMITES
A STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"That donkey has a real strong back, as good as any old hayrack."
cried Clowzy, as the donkey passed.
"Where is he heading for?" And then he asked the man. The fellow said, "I don't know, but with that straw, he ought to be right up to some big barn where heaps of straw is kept in store."

"Let's follow him," another cried. "Perhaps the man will let us ride with him. If you should take a fall," the donkey pointed on down the street. Soon Carpy slid down to his feet, and cried, "Just try it, Tinymites!"

They walked up to the pigs and then brave Scouty pulled a trick again. He jumped upon one pig's back, and rode round a while. Then, from a window nearby, there came a friendly little cry, "Hello!" exclaimed a little girl. This made the Tinymites smile.

(The Tinymites hear some noise in the next story.)

APPLES SOLD FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—In the name of unemployment, 5,000
jobless men have sold some 3,000,000
apples on the street-corners of New York, keeping away about the wolf
and the doctor.

Joseph Stoker, of the International Apple Association, who originated
the scheme, said the men
over a period of three weeks had been earning from $3 to $6 a day, depending on their locations and

Dress Of Satin

BY MME. LISBETH

Velvet, lace and satin are referred to as three favorite materials for formal gowns in many of the fall and winter fashions. While beaded trimming is repeatedly stressed, flower garniture is used frequently to trim dinner and dance frocks.

Satin is used for this pretty dress worn by Sue Carol, screen player. The bodice fits closely, with tiny puffed sleeves, giving it an empire effect. At the waist is a lavish garniture of flowers of self-fabric.

The satin is in the softest shade of green, and the flaring skirt is of silk tulle to match the satin.

The Arab is important on a can of Hills Bros Coffee

Chocolates dipped by bulk methods can't compare with those dipped one at a time. And bulk-roasted coffee can never compare with Hills Bros. Coffee roasted a few pounds at a time.

FRESH from the original vacuum pack. EASILY opened with the key. LOOK for the Arab on the can.

When you open a can of Hills Bros. Coffee it is just as fresh as when it came from the roasters. The vacuum can in which Hills Bros. Coffee is sold has all the air removed at the time of packing. By such complete exclusion of air, there is no chance for the rare flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee to be changed. No ordinary air-tight tin will keep coffee fresh.

If you see the Arab on a can of coffee, it's Hills Bros. Coffee. And that's the coffee to buy. For it is roasted a few pounds at a time—never in bulk—by Hills Bros. patented, continuous process—Controlled Roasting. No other roasting method can produce such delicious, abundant flavor.

Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab on the can. Sold by grocers everywhere.

Greetings Sent To WCTU By Hoover

HOUSTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—A telegram from President Hoover asking Mrs. M. A. Boole, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, in annual convention here, to express his "cordial greetings" to the convention was received today.

The telegram, to be read in the first general session of the organization this afternoon, read: "My Dear Mrs. Boole: I will be obliged to you if you will express my cordial greetings to the 86th annual convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, and my profound sense of the value of their work both in behalf of higher ideals of life and public service and aid of law enforcement."

Continue Conferences Mrs. Boole and other high officials continued executive conferences today to plan the organization's general policy for the coming year.

They decided, it was stated, to participate in a monster rally at Washington on or about the opening date of the new congress in December—a rally designed, according to an official source, to show the dry members that there is a lot of dry strength and to hearten the dry members.

Under tentative plans, about 18 dry organizations were expected to participate in the rally.

Another subject the executive committee discussed was the forthcoming world meeting of the W. C. T. U. at Toronto, Canada, on January 8. Fifteen hundred women from the National W. C. T. U. will attend, it was said.

DEMANDS FOR CATTLE MORE IMPROVEMENT SHOWN IN PRICES; MORE ADVANCE SEEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—A considerable improvement in the demand for stocker and feeder cattle during October was reported today by the department of agriculture.

At the same time, prospects were seen that the improved demand probably would continue through November, especially if the weather during the month is favorable. The improved demand resulted in relatively large shipments from markets into the corn belt feeding states. Prices tended to strengthen somewhat during the month while the usual trend of prices during October is downward.

The estimated shipments of stocker and feeder cattle into the eleven corn belt states in October inspected through markets, the report continued, "were about 38,000 head or six per cent smaller than the heavy October shipments of 1929 but were as large or larger than any other October in the past five years and five per cent above the five-year October average."

The proration of October shipments to the total for the four months, July to October, was the largest in twelve years. The total of these shipments for the four months, July to October, this year was about eleven per cent smaller than for these months in 1929 and smaller than for any other year since 1921 except in 1927 when the October shipments were very small.

Ancient Times Recalled In Raids

JERUSALEM, Nov. 14 (AP)—Ancient historical times were recalled today by an attack of 1,500 Wahabi horsemen on the trans-Jordan Howaitat tribe.

The Wahabis, after robbing the Howaitat of their camels, cut the herdsmen's hair and beards. "Go to your emir and tell him that next time your heads will be cut off," said the leader of the Wahabis.

Amarillo Woman Declares Argotane Gave Her Relief After Surgical Operation

"I noticed benefits before I had finished the first bottle of Argotane and now I am in fine condition generally," Mrs. Rose A. Trunk, well known Amarillo woman residing at 308 Lincoln Ave., said.

"In September, 1928, I underwent a surgical operation and had my gall bladder removed," she continued. "I was instructed by my doctor to take something to stimulate the bile flow owing to my general condition which was naturally a run-down one."

"Accounts in the newspapers of the good work led me to try Argotane. I gained strength almost at once and now I feel much stronger every day. I have a fine appetite and what I eat seems to agree with me. My bile flow has been regulated and my nervousness has entirely disappeared. Yes, I gladly recommend Argotane to all who are troubled as I was."

Genuine Argotane may be purchased in Lubbock at the Bowen's Drug Store. Adv.

Heads Large Association Made Up Of Women Bankers

BY LILIAN CAMPBELL

"Women are taking more responsible positions in business than ever before, but they are working side by side with men, and the more far seeing men realize how valuable women are in the business world," says Miss Grace Stoermer, assistant vice president of the Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association, and newly elected president of the American Association of Bank Women.

When she was asked how far women are likely to go in business and whether men had any justification in feeling that their places might be usurped by the "weaker sex", Miss Stoermer said she thought that was "ridiculous."

A growing tolerance and sympathy with the other fellow's business is part of the modern attitude, Miss Stoermer thinks.

The purposes of the association which Miss Stoermer heads, which has 300 members, all officials in banks, as given me by her, are: "To encourage mutual helpfulness and co-operation among its members with the end in view of making themselves increasingly valuable to the institutions with which they are associated."

Helps Others, Too "To help not only its members, but other women wishing to take up the same type of work, the advancement of opportunities which may come to the attention of the association from time to time."

"At all times to uphold the dignity and integrity of women associated with or employed by banks." The last paragraph quoted might easily have been written by the new president of the organization, so completely does it express her views of the proper attitude of women in business.

When Miss Stoermer was asked to start a woman's department of the Bank of Italy, she knew nothing about banking and was not particularly fond of figures she says. She hesitated, as she did not want to take any position in which she could not put all her enthusiasm. She was formerly secretary to the state legislature in California, the first woman to hold that position, and previous to that deputy recorder of Los Angeles county.

Starting with a tiny office with five assistants, Miss Stoermer's department grew in nine months so that enlargement was necessary.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR PECAN BAYOU DAM CONSTRUCTION

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Standard Paving company of Tulsa and Fort Worth with a bid of $300,000, was awarded the contract today for construction of a large dam north of Brownwood on Pecan Bayou. The dam will be one of the five largest in the state, impounding 120,000 acre feet of water. It will require two years for completion.

The entire project, estimated to cost $1,000,000, is financed by part of a $2,500,000 bond issue.

Edith Wharton Is Awarded Honor

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Edith Wharton, famous for her novels of New York's mauve decade, became today the only living woman member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

The only other of her sex admitted to membership in the academy was the late Julia Ward Howe, poetess.

Miss Grace S. Stoermer

and in four years was employing 35 girls, and with $4,000,000 on deposit. Last spring the bank decided that women had earned the right to take their place with the rest of the depositors, so the separate women's department was abolished, the staff took "regular" positions in the bank, and Miss Stoermer was promoted to her present position.

50-50 Proposition The percentage of men and women who like to consult a woman in business matters are about fifty-fifty in banking, Miss Stoermer says.

There are men who would rather consult a woman, and women who would rather take a man's advice, but there are many women who prefer to confide in another woman. Men sometimes call me and ask me to help their wives to understand budgeting the family income. Men are usually very generous, but wives don't always understand the wisest ways of spending, and the importance of this is seen in these figures collected by the United States bureau of standards. "According to their statistics women buy 95 per cent of the dry goods, 87 per cent of the foodstuffs, 67 per cent of the automobiles, 48 per cent of the hardware, 48 per cent of the drugs, and 36 per cent—rather strangely—of men's clothing. Of the 92 billion dollars earned annually, $2 billion are spent by women."

Good Government League Is Winner

HARLINGEN, Nov. 14 (AP)—Hidalgo county's political revolution, which shunted the Democratic party out of power and boosted the good Government League candidates into office in the Nov. 4 election, was verified today when county commissioners meeting at Edinburg canvassed returns. As unofficially reported, the league won overwhelmingly. Only one small box, at Penitas, was thrown out.

A. R. Mace Named To Texas Rangers

AUSTIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—Appointment of A. R. Mace of Mexia, veteran Texas peace officer, to the Texas rangers was announced today by Governor Dan Moody. Mace will have the rank of captain and will succeed J. H. Rogers of Austin, who died Tuesday.

Mace was a member of the rangers several years ago. He has been sheriff of Lampasas county, chief of police at Mexia, and chief of police at Borger during his career as a peace officer.

The Thanksgiving motif was attractively featured in the turkey dinner served to members of the Lindy Needle club and their husbands Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McMillan, 2119 13th street. This is an annual occasion observed by the club.

Miniature turkeys served as place favors and were also used in other appointments for the party.

Municipal Airport In Good Condition

Although recent rains had slightly damaged the landing field at the Lubbock municipal airport, officials announced this morning that the field is now in excellent condition and that visiting planes are landing at the port almost daily.

Installation is being made today of gasoline and oil equipment for servicing planes at the hangar. All equipment is to be placed underground and of the aero pit type.

Officials stated today that ten visiting planes have landed for servicing during the past eight days and that as the news of Lubbock's fine port spreads more fliers route their flights through this city. Local officials are expecting an inspection visit from an official of the Department of Commerce within the next few days.

RUSSIANS ARE ACCUSED IN CHARGES

EIGHT MEN NAMED IN PLOT TO MAKE WAR ON SOVIET UNION

(By The Associated Press)
 MOSCOW, Nov. 14.—Eight Russians, in a broad indictment published by N. V. Krylenko, assistant people's commissar for justice and public prosecutor of the R. S. F. S. R., are accused of negotiating with Mm. Raymond Poincare and Aristide Briand of France for a military attack on the Soviet Union.

The charge of plotting with the former president and premier and the foreign minister of France is one of a long list of accusations contained in the indictment, which names Mm. Ramin, Kalinnikov, Lazichov, Tcharnovsky, Fedotov, Kuprinov, Oshkin and Stinin.

Plan Intervention
 The eight men, members of a so-called "industrial party," counter-revolutionary organization, are accused of participation in anti-Soviet activities, industrial and political, and of preparing favorable conditions for foreign armed intervention.

The indictment continues: "Simultaneously the accused, through a trade and industrial committee entered into criminal relations with ruling circles in France in the persons of the former head of the French government, Raymond Poincare, and the minister for foreign affairs, Aristide Briand, who were preparing a military attack on the U. S. S. R. later the accused, with officers of their headquarters in France, Mm. Jouanville, Janin and Richard, elaborated a plan for military attack on the U. S. S. R., thus committing a direct act of high treason."

Maintained Contact
 The indictment goes on to say that the accused persons maintained contact with the French headquarters "through persons in the French service, K. and R., especially appointed for this purpose," and received and executed its orders. Later, it alleged, they spied on, and obtained, in accordance with headquarters orders, "necessary information of a secret character relating to the military forces and defense of the U. S. S. R."

W. D. Starcher and Dick Hyatt held a column love fest about football and W. D. expressed himself about district Class B football troubles as follows: Last week the Ralls Banner, the publication that has always fought for fair play, had an article relative to the athletic situation of District No. 2 stating that unless a shake-up in the affairs of the district is made that athletics would go on the rocks. No one realizes more that the shake-up should come than does the Spu schools.

W. D. New Prices ON WINTER ICE

EFFECTIVE NOVEMBER 15, 1930 TO APRIL 1, 1931

The Peoples Ice Company, in consideration of the re-adjustment period through which the business world is now going, is meeting the situation with low prices on ice. We want our customers to continue using ice, and are making it possible for everyone to do so. The Peoples Ice Company offers to furnish ice, sufficient for satisfactory refrigeration and for normal domestic use for one family, from our regular ice deliveries, for the period of November 15th 1930 to April 1st 1931 at the prices listed below—depending on the size of your refrigerator, and our estimate of what you will use.

LOWEST PRICE EVER OFFERED

FOR	25 Pound Refrigerator— Total Cost 4 1-2 Months, only	$6.00
FOR	50 Pound Refrigerator— Total Cost 4 1-2 Months only	$7.50
FOR	75 Pound Refrigerator— Total Cost 4 1-2 Months only	$8.75
FOR	100 Pound Refrigerator— Total Cost 4 1-2 Months only	$10.00

FOR FAMILIES HAVING BOARDERS, 10c ADDITIONAL IS CHARGED FOR EACH BOARDER

HERE IS WHY AND HOW WE DO IT!

In years past the family ice box received its annual "lay off" in October. Its services were not required until the following April. This was to save money on ice. People have learned through sickness and cost in waste of food, that this does not pay. The total cost of ice for 137 days, is as scheduled above. The Lubbock weather report shows that only 38 out of the 137 days between November 15, 1929 and April 1, 1930 had less than 50 degree maximum temperature. On 99 days during the same period last winter, which was a cold one, the temperature went above 50 degrees. The mother of the family knows that milk can not long be kept sweet in a temperature over 45 degrees.

She knows the same about meat and other food products. She also realizes that she can save more than the cost of ice, beside eliminating the possibility of sickness from contaminated and spoiled food. We urge every family in Lubbock to take advantage of these lower prices on ice, besides eliminating the possibility of sickness from contaminated and spoiled food.

We urge every family in Lubbock to take advantage of these lower prices on ice. We are giving you the services of our entire plant at a time when you need the service, and when we are most happy to give it.

BRAZIL TURNS TO ECONOMIC WELFARE

VARGAS SAYS NATION TO SEEK STABLE ACTIVITIES

(By Associated Press)
RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 14.—The military government of Brazil, with political issues settled by the recent revolution, is turning its attention now to the economic stabilization of the nation. Getulio Vargas, the provisional president, today told the Associated Press in an interview.

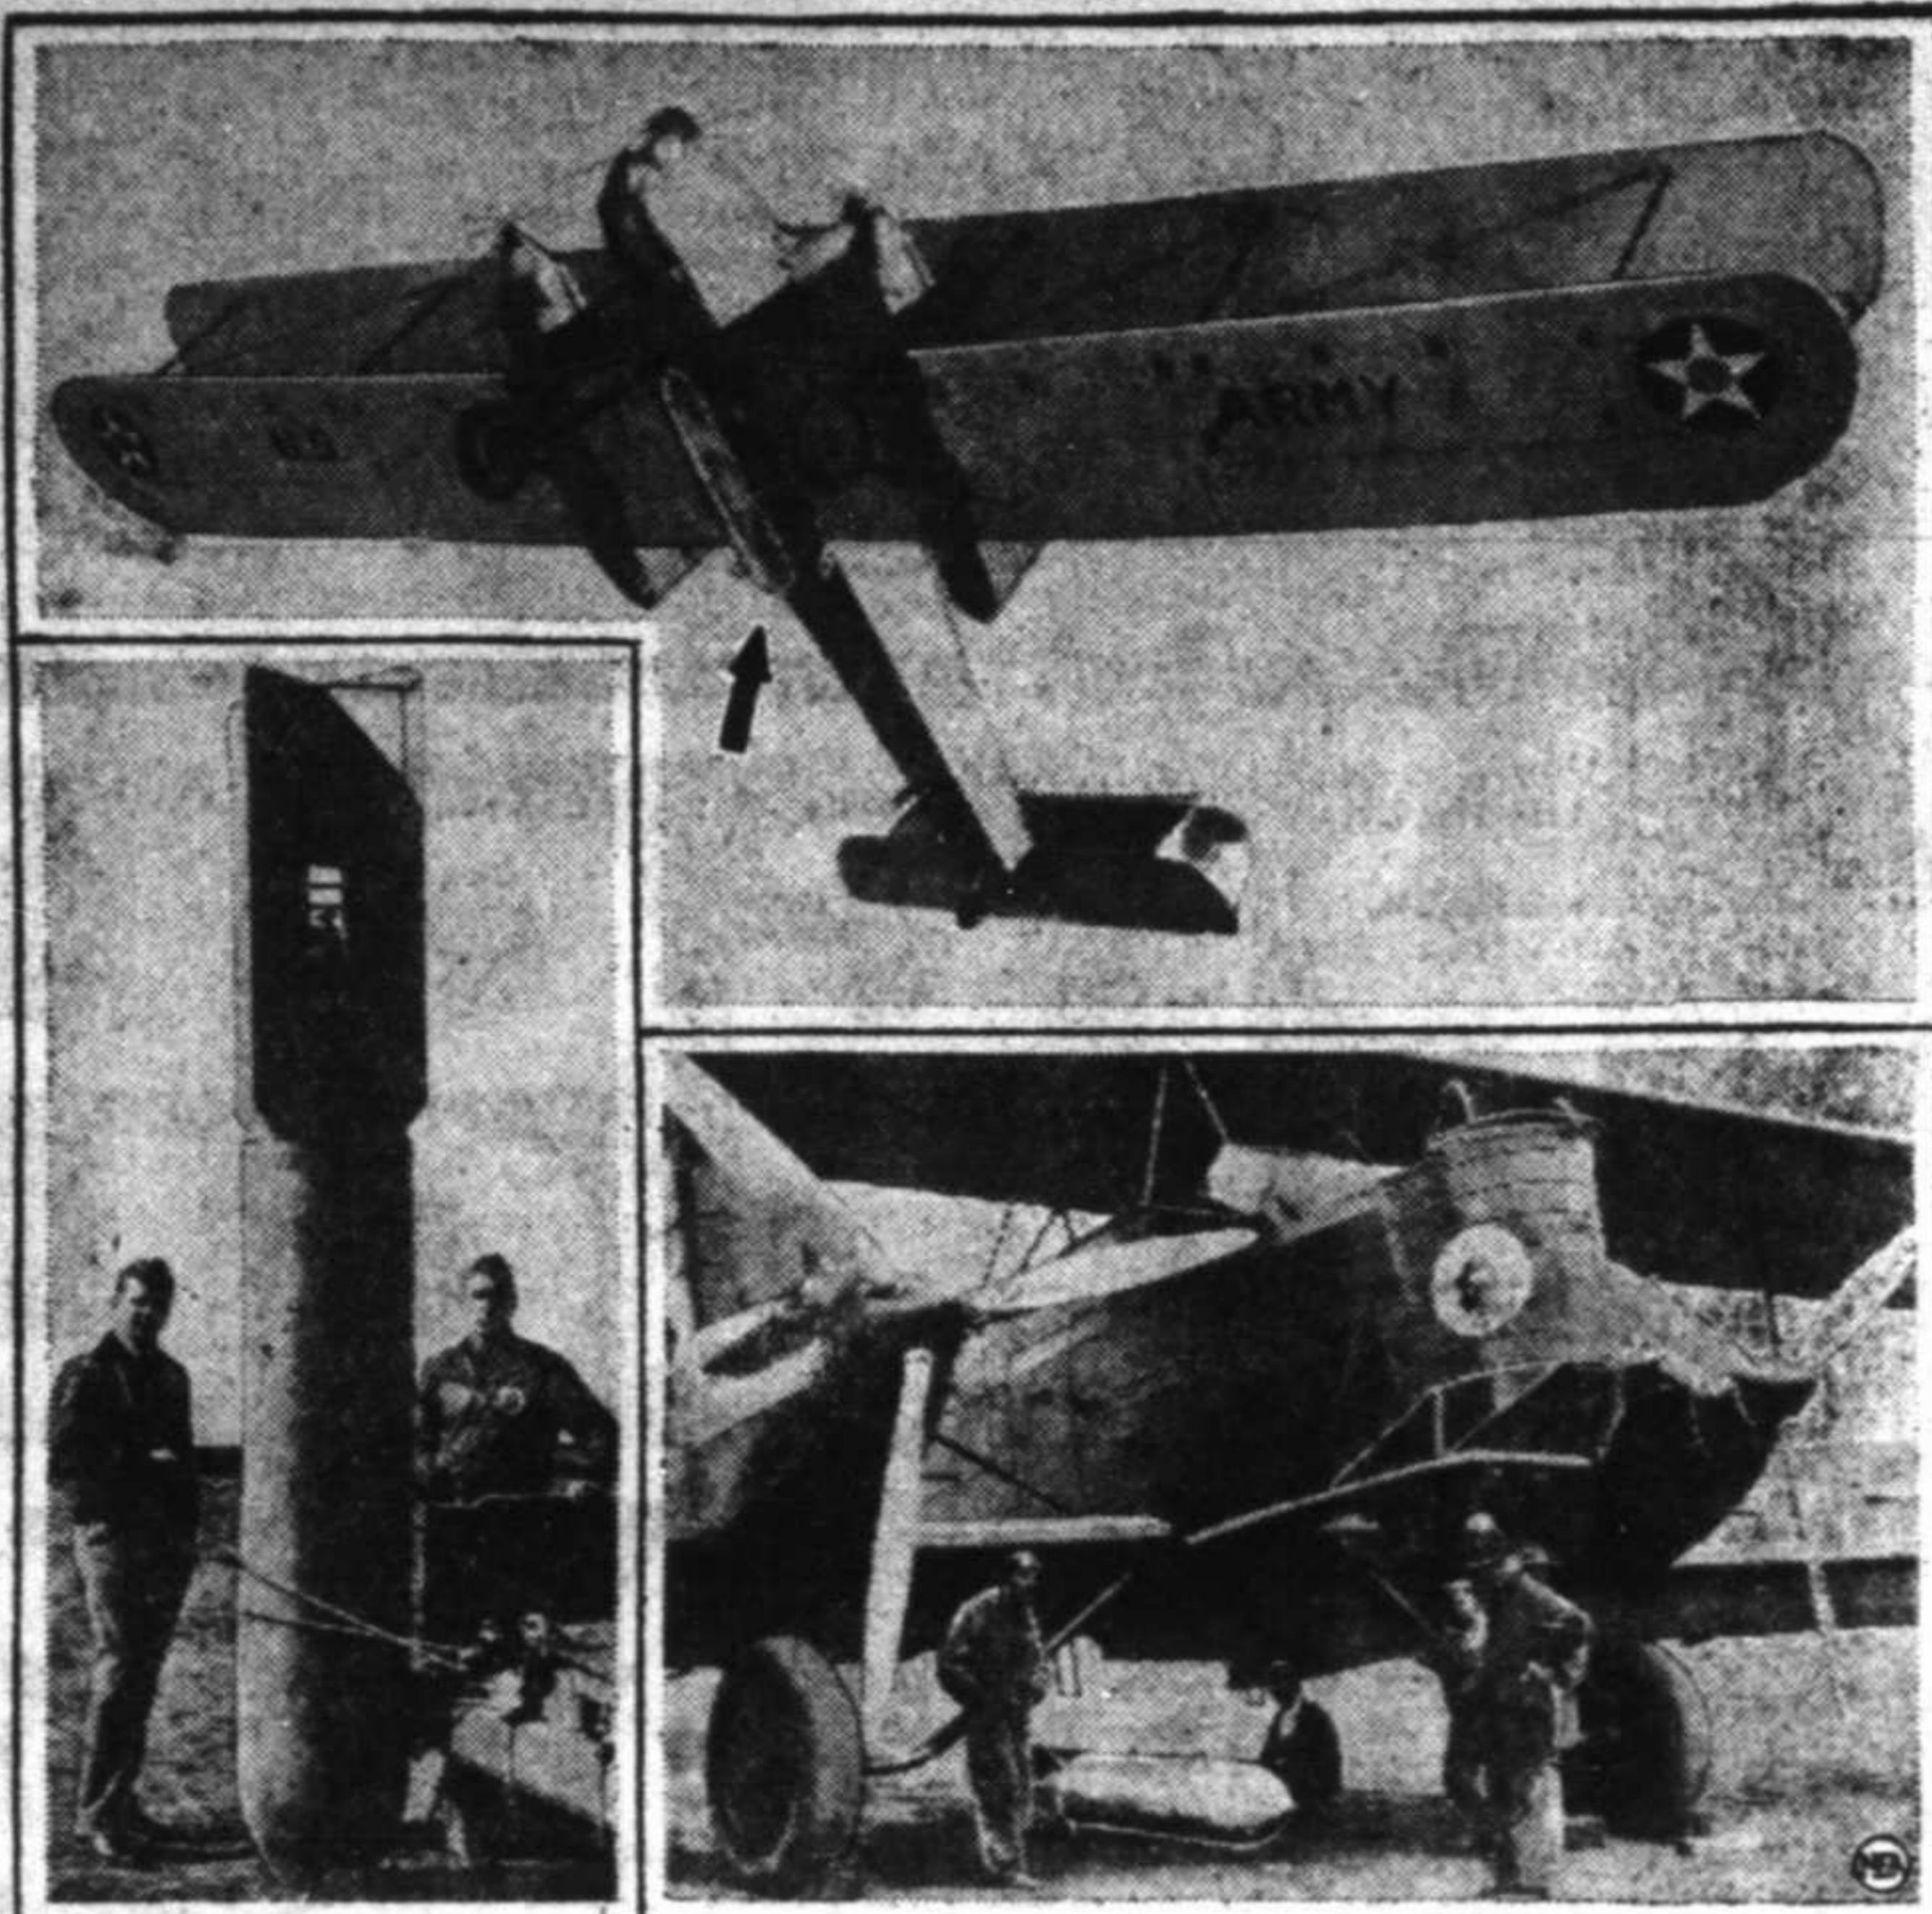

"The immediate motives of the revolution," he said, "were political, but the reconstruction work which we already have set afoot will have sound and far-reaching social and economic consequences."

"The unequivocal support given the revolution by the least favored classes of our people," he said, "is ample proof of the discontent generated by the political organization which has been overthrown."

"That regime had given monopolistic privileges to certain social classes of our people," he said, "is interests of the nation as a whole. It was largely because of this that the revolution received the support of those whose rights had been ignored."

"The government which has been overthrown abused the electoral system; it made the judiciary an instrument for the satisfaction of political passions so that the people were without weapons against violence and sought recourse to armed resistance to invasion of their rights."

Army's Huge Bombing Planes Show Their Stuff

These photographs, taken by the photographic section of the 88th observation squadron, army air corps, during maneuvers at Fort Sill, Okla., give a striking illustration of the power of Uncle Sam's giant new bombers. At the top is a giant army plane, 15,000 feet up, getting ready to drop a 2,000-pound bomb, indicated by the arrow. At the left, is a closeup of one of the enormous bombs, with Major Willis Hale (left) of the staff of the chief of the air corps, and Lieutenant Charles H. Howard, commanding the bombing unit, standing beside it. At the right the soldiers are shown preparing to load a bomb on a plane. These bombs blasted holes in the ground 30 feet wide and 12 feet deep.

UPSET BY BAD SICK HEADACHES

Disagreeable Feeling All Went Away Following Use of Black-Draught.

Paduash, Ky.—"For a long time I suffered with severe sick headaches that would unfit me for my work for two or three days at a time," says Mrs. C. H. Hall, of 222 Tennessee Street, this city.

"I would have these headaches if I let myself get constipated. I would also feel very dull and stupid and have a very bad taste in my mouth."

"After I heard of Thedford's Black-Draught and began taking it, all this bad feeling would disappear and I would not have the headache, so that now I just keep a box of Black-Draught on hand, and when I feel the least bit bad I take a dose and it relieves me at once. I can't find to recommend Black-Draught, in fact I have done so many times to friends and neighbors."

Thedford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable cathartic or laxative medicine composed of selected medicinal herbs and roots. Black-Draught is finely powdered, which enables the juices of the stomach to extract its medicinal properties in a natural way.

SKELETON OF BIG MASTODON FOUND IN CHINA AREA

(By Associated Press)

PEIPING, Nov. 14.—Millions of years ago a mammoth shovel-toothed mastodon about to become a mother bogged with a herd of her kind in a mudhole in the then fertile Gobi desert. Trapped in the Gobi quagmires, she and her companion mastodons died before she could give birth to a baby mastodon.

The Central Asiatic expedition headed by Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews found the bog-hole and the remains of the herd, among the most perfect of the skeletons being that of the mother mastodon still carrying the smaller bones of the infant pachyderm.

Walter C. Granger, chief paleontologist of the expedition, removed the foetus from the rest of the skeleton, and is bringing it back with other finds to the New York Museum of Natural History, which now will have a complete age series of the shovel-toothed mastodons, technically known as platybelodon.

Dr. Andrews regards the collection of fossils made this year as a record result since operations were begun in 1922.

LOCAL METHODIST HEAD TRANSFERRED TO JACKSONVILLE

Announcement was received in this city last night of the transfer of Rev. H. L. Munger, pastor of the First Methodist church, from the Northwest Texas conference into the Texas conference of the church. The announcement was received from Houston where annual conference was held.

It is also understood that the Reverend Munger will be assigned to the Jacksonville church, although official announcement in this regard will not be made until next Sunday at the annual conference of the Northwest Texas division in Sweetwater.

One other pastor of this conference was transferred, Rev. L. H. Stuckey, who was pastor of the Polk Street M. E. church at Amarillo and who traded places with Rev. John Bays, pastor at Beaumont.

Rev. J. A. Bays, Rev. Ira F. Key and Rev. A. W. Gordon were transferred into the Northwest Texas conference.

weigh carefully these facts about home heating

How shall your home be heated this winter? The question rests with you, but before you make your final decision, we desire to present the facts about GAS for home heating. Suppose you draw up a chair, sharpen up a pencil and list these features with the idea of comparing GAS with other fuels.

First of all, Gas Home Heating is completely automatic. No fire to build or look after. (Sleep thirty minutes longer every morning!) (Go up to bed when you're tired, not down to the basement to bank up the fire!) The only effort required is the weekly winding of a thermostat-clock conveniently in your living room. And of course, there's no ashes to lug away; no smoke, soot or dust. No cleaning or re-decorating.

Then, too, you pay for Gas after you burn it. No money tied up. Not even a fuel bin. A tidy basement instead, with a playroom or gym for winter recreation. Best of all, your home is never overheated or underheated—temperatures remain constant even on the coldest days. Let us give you an accurate estimate to prove it. No cost or obligation. PROGRAM NEED FOR FARMING IN U.S.

NATIONAL GRANGE MAN TELLS MEMBERS OF NECESSITY NOW

(By The Associated Press)
 ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Only through adherence to a definite and practical program and recognition of the fact that conditions in American life are changing so rapidly as to compel alert leadership, will the Grange obtain equality for agriculture, National Master Louis J. Taber told delegates to the sixty-fourth annual convention of the National Grange.

"Not by special favors to the farmer, through government aid or otherwise," said Mr. Taber, "but by a program embracing such practical subjects as better marketing methods, restriction of irrigation and reclamation projects and a more justly distributed system of taxation, will the Grange be successful in its effort to obtain equality for agriculture."

New Methods Used
 "Mechanical devices are bringing new methods and new inventions to the assistance of agriculture. The scientists and the chemists daily unlock new possibilities in the manufacture and processing of food products. These same sources are finding new possibilities in food substitution and imitation."

"More important than either mechanical or scientific changes affecting agriculture is the remarkable development in merchandising and distribution. Mass production, mass purchasing and mass distribution are dislocating farm methods and threatening many rural communities with disaster, if not almost destruction," said Mr. Taber.

One of Mr. Taber's outstanding declarations was in favor of the establishment of a bureau of conservation in the department of agriculture to protect the natural resources of the nation. He further urged that the bureau of reclamation and irrigation be immediately transferred to the department of agriculture from the department of the interior. In order, he said, that present conflicting policies, as between a surplus in agricultural products and the opening up of new farm lands, may be checked.

When Cal Coolidge warned that judgment should be used at the polls, he implied, of course, that the voter, before affixing his ballot, should ask:

MAN WHO RANG THEM FOR 42 YEARS IS BELLS OF MEXICAN CATHEDRAL SILENT, JAILED FOR BEING COMMUNIST DISCIPLE

(By The Associated Press)
 MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14.—Bells of the cathedral of Mexico are silent. Their strangely beautiful pealings, which through the centuries have counted off the hours, tolled mournfully at national disasters and flared forth happily at festival time, called nobody to mass at dawn. The tower in which they hang was vacant and the man who rings them was absent—in jail. Anastasio Mayorga Reyes, whose father and grandfather before him had spent their lives in ministering to the bells. He was married in the belfry, not even leaving to fetch his bride. They made it their home and when his father died, Mayorga succeeded him in responsibility for the bells.

42 Years in Belfry
 Forty-two years spent in the belfry led Mayorga to become philosophical about life and politics, whose panorama he watched through many changes and revolutions from the belfry window overlooking the national palace and the Plaza de la Constitución. Embittered at his lot in life, he became a communist.

He learned from friends, and from such things as he read, principally propaganda, of the Third Internationale, of Karl Marx and Nicolai Lenin, and of the world revolution. Friday, the thirtieth anniversary of "October Day," date of the proletariat victory in Russia, Mayorga in his enthusiasm decided to do his bit to bring about the new era in Mexico.

He procured a large strip of red bunting and on it he painted the words, in Spanish, "Down With the Government—Up With Communism!" He hung the banner out of the windows of the belfry where throngs gathered in the plaza below to watch a passing communist demonstration could see it.

The banner created a nuisance. The plus regarded it as a sacrilege, in view of the Vatican attitude toward Soviet Russia. Police saw a more immediate threat, and mystified as to how it could have got there, tore it down within a few minutes of its appearance.

It was not until Sunday that federal district officials solved the mystery. They reasoned that since no one is admitted to the belfry unless accompanied by either the sexton or bellringer, one of those two must know the guilty person. They went after Mayorga, who seeing them coming, climbed to the highest pinnacle in the bell-tower and had to be removed forcibly. Once pulled from his perch he confessed what he had done, and implicating some others, told of his conversion to communism. Police put him in jail. They came back for Esthela de Mayorga but she had fled. The bell-tower, occupied without interruption since the cathedral was built centuries ago by the conquistadores, was without a single occupant, almost for the first time.

A cathedral sexton, Jose de la Luz Vega Sanchez, also has been arrested because of the banner incident, and it now is up to the archbishop to appoint two new functionaries, not communists.

STEERS EXPECTED TO BE AT BEST AGAINST CHAMPION FROGS

SLATON AND BROWNFIELD BATTLING TODAY

CONFERENCE'S CHAMP RESTS IN VICTOR

S. M. U. MUSTANGS IN BALTIMORE TO MEET NAVY MIDDIES

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Nov. 14. (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns, powerful enough to run roughshod over Oklahoma, Baylor and Southern Methodist in the last month, will make their supreme bid for the 1930 Southwest conference grid title when they meet the undefeated Texas Christian Horned Frogs tomorrow at Fort Worth.

Because of a near-disastrous lapse three weeks ago, when they permitted themselves to be nosed out by an inspired Rice eleven, 6 to 0, the Longhorns must crush the Christians to remain in the championship race. A defeat for the Steers, on the other hand, practically would assure the Frogs their second straight crown, a goal no school has achieved in the 15-year history of the southwest circuit. The fact they are playing a full schedule of six conference games, compared to five for the Longhorns, might prove to be the deciding factor in favor of the Frogs.

Foibles in Baltimore
Leaving the conference grind far behind, the Southern Methodist aerial experts are scheduled to rump against the Navy at Baltimore in their third inter-sectional fray of the year. The air-minded Mustangs, having dropped a hair-line decision to Notre Dame and overwhelmed Indiana University, have been established favorites over the Middies, who so far have been unable to win.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, who have an outside chance of horning in on titular honors, will play their fourth and last conference engagement with the Baylor Bears at Fayetteville. By turning back the Bruins, the Arkansas eleven could finish with a .750 percentage. However, a Baylor victory is forecast, the Razorbacks having caught painful beatings from Louisiana State and Oklahoma Aggies the last two weeks.

Rice and the Texas Aggies, both hopelessly behind with their work tie up in a consolation scrap at College Station.

HANDICAP ROUNDS TO BE PLAYED AT CLUB ON SUNDAY

With fair weather in prospect, a large number of local golfers are expected to enter the 18-hole handicap tournament held over the Lubbock Country Club course Sunday afternoon. This is the third of a series of Sunday tournaments to be sponsored by the Country Club this fall, and as long as weather permits. Details of the matches have not been announced, though the committee in charge reports that plans are going forward to make it the most interesting affair of the season so far, and that considerable interest is being taken in tournaments.

All local golfers are invited to take part, regardless of club membership here or elsewhere. Three prizes will be awarded the winner and two runners up. J. W. Byrnes, professional at the Country Club, will have charge of the tournament, and will set the handicaps, which will conform to previous scores made on the course.

Thirty-three local golfers have participated in the two previous tournaments and the committee expects an even greater entry list next Sunday. The meet starts promptly at 2 o'clock.

Army Elevens To Meet In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 14. (AP)—The Eighth Corps Area championship football tournament, inaugurated last season and captured by Fort Crockett's powerful eleven in a final with the Twenty-Third Infantry, Fort Sam Houston winner, will be played in San Antonio again this year. The tournament will be held between December 6 and December 21.

Six teams, champions of their respective sections, are assured as entrants in this year's affair. They are: Fort Sam Houston, Fort Still (Oklahoma), Fort Warren (Wyoming), Fort Crockett (Galveston), Kelly Field and Brooks Field.

Billiard Title To Be Up In Contest

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. (AP)—Walter Cochran's meeting with Willie Hoppe at 181 halckline billiards in New York next week will not be recognized as a world championship match by the National Billiard Association of America.

G. A. Storer, director of tournaments, said today the 181 title was declared vacant four years ago, and could not be won in other than an official championship tournament involving leading players of the world.

COACH SCHMIDT

ROVING THE SPORTS WORLD

WITH COLLIER PARRIS
JOURNAL SPORTS EDITOR

There is talk of dividing the Class A football teams of District I into two groups, and there are those of authority who believe such a step will be made in the near future. This district is the largest in territory, in the state, and the fact that teams must travel great distances to play conference games is detrimental to the treasury of the schools.

The division is likely to meet with the approval of the majority of the schools, and especially with the coaches. There are nine teams in the loop, and if a division is made, each section will probably include Amarillo, Pampa, Plainview and Lubbock, with Childress, Quanah, Vernon, Electra and Wichita Falls falling into the second division. The winners in each section will meet each other for the championship of the district in a game likely to be played on Thanksgiving Day on neutral territory.

Such an arrangement is in force in District 3, which includes the schools of Dallas and Fort Worth, yet which is one of the smallest loops of the state. There is a Dallas section and a Fort Worth section, with six teams in the former and five in the latter. Separate standings are kept, and the winner of the Fort Worth section will meet the winner of the Dallas section for the championship of District 3.

Three other districts in the state consist of ten teams each, but the distance between schools is not so great for comparatively easy travel and little expense is involved. Should District I be divided it is possible that another team would be invited to join Class A circles. It is thought that Lamesa might apply for membership in this district, Lamesa is a Class B school, but the enrollment is great enough to make it Class A. A school with an enrollment above 500 is required, by the state organization, to become affiliated with Class A teams. Lamesa's enrollment this year is something like 453. Should Lamesa join Class A, the first section of the proposed divided District I would be evenly matched with the second, with five teams in each division.

Coach Henry Franks of Lubbock High school expressed himself as in favor of the proposed division, and believed that the other coaches would also accept the new plan with favor. "Aside from being materially beneficial to every team concerned, it would increase rivalry, and make for a greater spirit of competition in the entire district, with the championship game bringing out a record attendance. The new plan would also give each team

CHAMPIONSHIP OF SUB DISTRICT 4 WILL BE DECIDED

Slaton takes on a holiday air this afternoon when its high school Tigers meet the Brownfield High school Cubs in a game intended to decide the championship of sub-district 4 in Class B, District 2. The teams clash as a result of a tie for first honors, each team having successfully defeated the other members of the division and having fought to a scoreless tie in a previous game at Brownfield.

According to dope, Brownfield is due to win this afternoon, but a few hours before the game casual fans were content to consider it a toss-up. Both teams are strong, as witness their victories so far this season. Brownfield has won every game it has played, tying only one. Slaton has fared as well, in the sub-district, though not by scores so decisive, though the Tigers have lost to teams of other sections in non-conference tilts. Brownfield defeated Lamesa three weeks ago, 40 to 0, to finish the conference season, and last Tuesday Slaton defeated Lamesa 12 to 6, to regain the tie with the Cubs. The winner of today's game in Slaton will meet Spur for bi-district honors, the contest to be played next week.

Spur High school's Bulldogs clash with the Estelline High team at Spur this afternoon in a non-conference Class B tilt. Estelline is a member of Class B District 1, and has passed a more or less successful season, so do have a powerful team.

ARMY NAVY GAME IS SOUGHT FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (AP)—A committee of citizens which has been negotiating for a football game between Army and Navy for the benefit of the unemployed, expressed belief today that efforts would be successful.

The committee headed by Grover A. Whalen, former police commissioner, wired the newspapers: "It is believed it will be a mere matter of hours until the playing date can be arranged." The contest would be held under auspices of the Salvation Army.

Major General W. R. Smith, superintendent of the military academy, telegraphed the suggestion that the teams play in New York Dec. 6.

Rear Admiral Samuel S. Robinson, Annapolis superintendent, replied that the Middies would welcome the game but that they were scheduled to play the University of Pennsylvania on Dec. 6. He suggested Nov. 29 or Dec. 12.

ABILENE, Nov. 14. (AP)—Joel Darney, 17 captain and quarterback of the Merkel high school football team, died last night of injuries suffered Wednesday during football practice. He suffered internal injuries and although physicians believed he was not seriously hurt, his condition became worse Thursday morning.

Retzlaff To Meet Mata In Tilt Tonight

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. (AP)—Charlie Retzlaff, strapping young heavyweight from Duluth, Minn., and Antonio Mata, a Spanish importation, will meet in the final six-rounder at the Coliseum tonight.

Little is known of Mata's ability, but Retzlaff has won himself considerable popularity in Chicago by his terrific punching. Another six-rounder will bring together Paul Pantalone, former Chicago high school star, and Nando Tassi, Italian heavy, while Andy Shanks of Grand Rapids, Mich., will meet another Chicagoan, Walker Maddy, over the same distance. Edgar Norman of Norway, and Harry Dillon, Winnipeg, Man., light heavyweights, will meet in a fourth six-round test.

Al Singer Meets Canzoneri Tonight

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (AP)—Al Singer's first defense of his lightweight championship brings him up against rugged little Tony Canzoneri in Madison Square garden tonight in a 15-round bout.

Singer, who won the title by knocking out Sammy Mandell in a single round here last summer, is a favorite at odds of 2 to 1 or more.

Singer campaigned in brilliant fashion through the summer but was knocked out in three rounds by Jimmy McLarin in an over-weight match in September.

Tony has had none too successful a time of it in recent months. He was beaten by Mandell in the Rockford Shiek's last successful title defense and then was outpointed by Billy Petrolle.

Singer and Canzoneri have met once before, their first match being a draw.

TECH FROSH IN ROSWELL FOR CADET TILT

SMITH TAKES SQUAD NO. 2 OVER FOR CLASH ON SATURDAY

Coach Dutchey Smith and twenty-eight of his Texas Tech freshman Picadors left Lubbock early this morning for Roswell, N. M., where they meet the New Mexico Military Institute Soldiers tomorrow. A number of Lubbock fans will drive to Roswell tonight and tomorrow to see the game.

Fourth of Season
The game at Roswell tomorrow will be the fourth of the season for the Tech Picadors, and the second for the Number 2 team. Due to the large number of candidates for berths on the freshman club, Coach Smith has divided the squad so that two teams of even strength represent the school. In order to adhere to the Southwest Conference rules and regulations, which are followed by the Tech athletic department, and which state that not more than three games may be played by the freshman team in the course of a season, team Number 1 will play the regular number of 3 games, while team number 2 will play four.

Coach Smith took the following

DAILY MARKET

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Early profit-taking on the three day rally was easily absorbed in the stock market today and prices turned higher after losing one to two points under the realizing. American Telephone, U. S. Steel and American Can were leaders in the renewed advance.

There was temporary group heaviness in the amusement, steel and railway shares, but the declines were quickly erased. Coppers firmed in response to continued favorable developments in the price situation. General Electric was sluggish.

Call money renewed at 2 per cent.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—Cotton opened easier as Liverpool cables were much lower than due. First trades showed losses of 7 to 10 points. Soon there was a rally on good trade buying and some covering by shorts. December advancing to 11.93 and January to 11.15, or 10 to 13 points up from the lows and not unchanged to 6 points above yesterday's close. At the end of the first hour the trend was quiet and steady. The census bureau's report of domestic consumption during October of 444,494 bales exclusive of linters was about in line with private estimates and had no effect on the market.

A rally around the middle of the morning on an improvement in the stock market took December up to 11.98 and January to 11.24, or 9 to 11 points above the previous close. Later lack of support and somewhat bearish week-end figures eased the market off ten points from the high. December dropped to 10.88 and January to 11.14. At noon the market was quiet and rather easy.

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 2 points and showed some nervousness as irregularly during the early trading which seemed attributable to easier Liverpool cables and some further scattering liquidations.

New December contracts sold at 10.90 and May at 11.62 under the early offerings making net declines of about 2 to 3 points on the active months, but the market soon steadied on covering and trade buying, particularly in the May and October positions. By the end of the first half hour, prices had recovered 8 or 10 points of their initial losses with new December selling at 11.00 and May at 11.72.

The market was steadier later in the morning on covering or buying which seemed to be coupled with further trade buying in the later portions, offerings were comparatively light after the early selling had run its course. At midday new December was selling around 11.02 and May 11.74, or 9 to 12 points net higher. Part of the early selling here may possibly have been due to rather confusing rumors regarding possible changes in the federal farm board or its policies which, however, were not confirmed.

MOVIE STARS COME FROM MANY STATES, HOLLYWOOD SURVEY REVEALS; 44 OF THEM, PLUS 30 FOREIGN COUNTRIES, FURNISH SCREEN'S TALENT AND BEAUTY

HOLLYWOOD.—No matter where you were born there is a possibility that you may some day become a screen celebrity.

Proof may be found in a recent survey of the film colony which showed that 44 states and 30 foreign countries have given the American screen its popular players.

Of course, if this survey is to be taken as a criterion, the natives of some states are afforded better opportunities than those of others. If you were born in New York, for example, you have just about 100 times as much chance of crashing the sacred portals of moviedom as if you first saw the light of day in Florida—New York being the birthplace of 104 celebrities while Florida claims only one, Evelyn Brent.

Other leading claimants for film notables are California, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Ohio, being named in the order of their ranking. And England leads by a considerable margin over any other foreign country. Coming to the cities we find that New York City and Chicago rank first and second.

New York, with its 104 players, has nearly twice as many cinema folk to its credit as California, which ranks second with 58. Its population is far greater than that of any other state, and the proximity to Broadway gives many New Yorkers opportunities denied others.

Among the most prominent of those who hail from the eastern state are Jean-Arthur, Clara Bow, Richard Barthelme, Joan Bennett, Fanny Brice, Eddie Cantor, Nancy Carroll, Ruth Chatterton, June Collyer, Marion Davies, Billie Dove, Sally Eilers, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Edward Everett Horton, Helen Kane, Lila Lee, Jack Mulhall, Chester Morris, Anita Page, Norma Talma, Helen Twelvetrees and Louis Wolheim.

Jumping from the Atlantic seaboard to the Pacific coast we find California, home of the film industry, ranked second with 58 notable claiming it as "home." Outstanding among them are William Bakewell, Lina Basquette, Bernice Claire, Lucille Webster Gleason, Lawrence Gray, Mary Gordon, Jeanette MacDonald, Edna May Oliver, Mary Pickford, Carmel Myers, George O'Brien, Dorothy Revier, Lawrence Tibbett and Robert Woolsey.

Returning to the middle west there is Illinois, whose 43 successful screen players gives it an easy third place among them are Sue Carol, Virginia Cherrill, Billy Dooley, Stuart Holmes, Merna Kennedy, Rod La Rocque, Polly Moran, Zelma O'Neal, Mary Philbin, Milton Sills, Martha Sleeper, Gloria Swanson, Blanche Sweet and Virginia Valli.

Pennsylvania is next in line, having sent 36 persons to Hollywood and fame. A few of them are George Bancroft, Eleanor Barrymore, Dolores Costello, Janet Gaynor, Jeanette MacDonald, Thomas Meighan, Adolph Menjou, Lois Moran, Eddie Quinn, Regis Toomey and Lois Wilson.

Missouri is in fifth place with 27 film notables. Among them are Wallace Beery, June Clyde, Cliff Edwards, Charles Gilchrist, Edw. G. Kohler, Laura La Plante, Patsy Ruth Miller, Jack Oakie, William Powell and Pauline Starke.

And in sixth place we find Ohio with 23 who have achieved fame via the motion picture route. Included among them are Warner Baxter, Hobart Bosworth, Marion "Peanuts", Byron Lillian Oler, Ralph Graves, Otis Harlan, Walter Miller, Elliott Nugent and Gertrude Short.

With drilling of the new well Lubbock's water supply will then be obtained from six sources. Specifications for the new well have been sent out to contractors and bids are to be received at the city hall until 10 a. m. November 21. These bids are also to include option on an additional seventh well. It is understood that contract will be let soon afterwards.

Announcement also made this morning that the city commission has approved an estimate of $438,134 to connect the proposed new federal building with the city water system. This connection will be made from the city mains to the property lines.

U. S. WATERWAYS

approximately $18,000,000 must be allotted each year for maintenance of existing projects, leaving only a little more than $30,000,000 annually for actual construction, the utter inadequacy of the past policy of a $20,000,000 annual appropriation is once again apparent. It is added that an annual appropriation of $100,000,000 constituted the "irreducible minimum."

Under ordinary circumstances a pay-as-you-go program undenied by constitutes sound economic policy. Such a program, however, can only be projected and carried out upon the basis of adequate current revenues. Just now we are in a position nationally where income both to the individual and to the national inland waterway system is at once abundant and in need. Notwithstanding that fact, we have amassed tremendous reserves in national wealth. If our curtailed income will not permit us to do this tremendous job of completing our national inland waterway system, it is perfectly sound that we should utilize some of these reserves in a financing program in order that we may not only stimulate present conditions but also guarantee our country's future progress.

The speaker pointed out that "splendid progress" had been made on the intra-coastal canal, which is authorized for 800 miles from the Mississippi river west and south through the coastal section of Louisiana and Texas to Corpus Christi. "Ten dredges are now at work in Southern Louisiana and a completed waterway from Morgan City to the Sabine district in Texas, is anticipated within two years. In Texas, all rights of way governing the construction of the Sabine district to Galveston bay have been obtained and authority to advertise for bids upon construction work is daily expected from Washington. On the section from Galveston to Corpus Christi, 200 miles, rights of way have been obtained and authority to advertise for bids upon construction work is daily expected from Washington.

At the present moment, a report unfavorable to the improvement, essentially necessary to the project, is pending before the board of engineers at Washington. It is the judgment of all who have studied the project in our association's behalf that the extension is fully justified upon the basis of present conditions, but there can be no question at all, if the valley's present progress continues, that by the time the extension could be completed, which at the earliest would be five years from now, it will not only be justified but absolutely essential to the well-being of the rapidly growing commerce of that remarkable region."

Miller said that an interesting development of the past year had been a quickening interest in the development of waterways in the territory traversed by the intra-coastal canal. He mentioned for example that interest had been revived in the canalization of the Trinity river.

MICHIGAN WOMAN IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

CLARE, Mich., Nov. 14.—Mrs. Pauline Gruno, 65-year-old widow, was shot to death yesterday or last night in her farm home 13 miles from here where she lived alone.

Her body was found by her son, Albert, 21, who went to the farm last night to visit his mother.

The woman was killed by the charge of a shotgun fired at close range. Sheriff Edmond Woods believed robbery was the motive although the house was not ransacked. Mrs. Gruno, he said, was reported to keep large sums of money in the house.

Mrs. Gruno was the third woman living alone on a Michigan farm slain in a period of six months. The other two crimes were confessed by a man now serving a life sentence.

STATE AUDITOR HAS REPORT ON HOME SUIT ON ICE UTILITIES IS BROUGHT UP

MOORE LYNN REVEALS PRACTICES HOME IS UNDERGOING

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Nov. 14.—State Auditor Moore Lynn today filed with Governor Dan Moody, the board of control, and the superintendent of the State Confederate home copies of reports of an audit made by his staff of conditions at the home.

The report was designed for the legislature, made under legislative mandate and copies also were mailed to Harry Miller, lieutenant governor. The report was made at this time, Lynn wrote in a foreword, "because of the gravity of the conditions found."

Issues Statement
Coincident with the filing of the report, the resignations of A. W. Taber, superintendent of the home, and Storekeeper H. S. Lawson, were filed with the board of control and the board would take such action as was found warranted by the facts.

Lynn found a deficiency of $1,646.72 existed in the inmates' fund of the institution June 30, 1930. Subsequently Taber deposited in the bank to the balance of the fund $600.48 and Dr. T. C. Hairston, physician, on July 30 paid an amount of $830, which was deposited in the bank the following day.

Covers 5 Years
The transactions covered the period from 1925 to 1930. When the audit was made amounts due inmates totalled $8,275.35 and the cash in banks being 6,728.63.

Criticism was made of the methods used by Storekeeper Lawson in keeping books on provisions, and recommendations made for changes. Recommendations of the auditor included:

Practice of employes borrowing money from inmates should be discontinued. Method of handling payroll "loose" should be remedied. Number of employes "in excess of requirements" and should be reduced from 104 to 81, at an estimated saving of $14,320. The bookkeeping system was said to be "inadequate." Provisions were not checked out properly from the provision room. Certain merchandise belonging to the state was used by the storekeeper for personal use or for a member of his family. Motor equipment at the home was used for other than official business. Certain officials of the home had obtained passes on railroads on the grounds they were inmates of the home.

Certain Funds Kept
The report set forth that prior to Nov. 20 certain funds were kept by a physician and a nurse for patients in the hospital. The amounts received from patients were placed in envelopes, the amount received being written on the outside of the envelope and amounts repaid to the patients being deducted.

On Nov. 20, the report said, the funds were turned over to the superintendent. At this time there was a deficiency in the cash on hand belonging to the inmates amounting to $843 on the part of the physician and $329 on the part of the nurse. The recorded deficiency of the nurse, according to the report, was repaid prior to the date the auditors report started, July 18.

A strict system of checks in regard to money of inmates was recommended.

NEW INDUSTRY TO BE OPEN IN TEXAS

HOUSTON, Nov. 14.—A new Houston industry to represent an investment of $1,000,000, employ more than 100 men and manufacture chemicals was announced today by officials of the Salm Chemical company, which was granted a charter by the secretary of state Thursday.

The new industry will be built immediately at Pierce Junction on property owned there on top of what is known as the Pierce Junction salt dome. The company will develop the salt resources of the dome and convert them into chemicals.

W. S. Hipp is president. More than 100 men will be given employment on the erection of the plant which is expected to require from eight to ten months. After completion the company will employ about 25 men to the shift, working three shifts per day and 960 days per year. This does not include the official family in the city office.

ACTION IS TAKEN TO RECOVER TAXES ON GULF STATES FIRMI

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Nov. 14.—Suits to determine whether companies manufacturing and selling ice should be classed as public utilities has been filed in district court here by Rice Tilley, first assistant attorney general.

The suit was brought against the Gulf States Utilities company of Orange, Texas, to recover taxes totaling $23,112. Tilley explained that the suit was brought to obtain a construction of the new franchise tax law.

Must Pay on Stock
Most corporations, under this law, are required to pay on the outstanding capital stock, surplus and undivided profits plus the amount of outstanding bonds, notes and debentures maturing over a year from date of issue. Public utility corporations are only required to pay on the outstanding capital stock, surplus and undivided profits on a different schedule of rates.

The Gulf States Utilities corporation claims the ice business is affected with the public interests and is a public utility which claim the attorney general resists. The corporation also contends that the new franchise tax was a complete act within itself and repeated that part of the law imposing a tax on a separate business, which claim also is resisted by the attorney general.

SOME HUNTERS

Decoys Prove To Be Rather Good Shooting But—

CANTON, O., Nov. 14.—Neither Dr. M. H. Reno nor Russell H. Bovim, theatre manager, had ever gone duck hunting before, but that's not what they told each other.

They went out to a lake yesterday to test each other's stories of prowess and almost immediately came upon a fine lot of birds floating lazily. They fired in unison. Not one duck took flight.

"Some shooting," said Bovim. "Boy, that beats 'em," said Reno. And then an irate hunter rose up from the reeds. Bovim and Reno are paying for the decoys.

TRAGEDY STALKS IN FARM HOME

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 14.—Driving home from Erie yesterday, Harmon Hedrick, a farmer, suggested to his wife that they sell the family car for $16. Mrs. Hedrick objected. They quarreled. A half hour later Hedrick shot his wife and himself. He died instantly; she died early today in a hospital.

Neighbors said the couple were quarreling as they reached home. Later, they said, Mrs. Hedrick ran screaming from the house, her husband in pursuit, gun in hand.

In a field, almost a mile from the house, Hedrick fired, his wife fell wounded in the back. Then Hedrick fled. Cornered by police, Hedrick shot himself. Neighbors took the wife, mother of eight children, to a hospital.

SURETY COMPANY BONDS GANGSTERS

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The Herald-Examiner says that the Grand Central Surety company which has supplied bail for most of Chicago's hoodlums, was ordered by its president to surrender at once all gangsters it has bonded.

Leslie J. Tompkins, professor of law at New York university and president of the concern, was quoted by the paper as saying he had not known his company was bonding criminals. He said that henceforth the company would take no part in releasing known gunmen.

Came After Order
Tompkins' action came after Judge John H. Lyle yesterday ordered all criminal bonds issued by the company brought into court for inspection and directed its manager here to report to its president that the company had furnished bond for "public enemies." The company's headquarters are in New York.

The Grand Central Surety, Judge Lyle said, had provided bond for several Capone gangsters including Frank Nitti and Frank Rio. Rio served a year with Capone in a Philadelphia prison.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—In reference to charges that the Grand Central Surety company of New York was bonding Chicago gangsters, Professor Leslie J. Tompkins, an official, said today he would investigate.

Explaining that he was general counsel for the company and had been acting as its president only temporarily, Professor Tompkins declared its Chicago agent was under strict instructions not to furnish bail bonds to known criminals.

They are calling the smartly-dressed J. Hamilton Lewis, senator-elect from Illinois, a "gay old blade," but he's not exactly an ad for a razor manufacturer.

"What's my name?" said a second stranger to Krishna.

B. Krishna could answer neither question. They took him to jail. The strangers were postoffice inspectors and they said Krishna had advertised he could tell any person's name on sight, could foretell which ticket would win a lottery prize, which horse would be first under the wire.

Frank K. Norris, assistant United States district attorney, to be held on November 27, and will assume duties immediately.

With a present membership of 230, the annual membership drive of the post began with last night's meeting although election of officers prevented a detailed outlining of plans for the drive.
