France Requests Guarantees For Coal In Germany

MOSCOW, Mar. 20. (AP)—France notified the Council of Foreign Ministers tonight that she could not agree to economic reconstitution of Germany unless other powers agreed to her demands for guarantees of German coal.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France, answering the rejection of his request for coal guarantees by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin last night, said:

"I am directed by my government to state that we cannot be parties to agreement on other problems raised—economic unity, level of industry and reparations—without a previous settlement of the scheme for export of coal in a sense which is in conformity with our request.

"No different attitude could be adopted by any French government."

Russia agreed yesterday to a larger share of German coal for France.

Deputies of the four-power foreign ministers were reported today to have agreed that at some future point, all Allied belligerents and all former enemy states which turned against and fought Germany should have a chance to express their views on the German treaty.

This is one of the few major points agreed upon in the deputies' study of the German question, according to official informants who have followed the debates in London and Moscow.

The agreement was described as coming at the last minute, before the deputies were to submit their recommendations and their various open disputes to the foreign ministers themselves.

Congressmen Told Collapse Of Two Countries Would Create Emergency

WASHINGTON, March 20. (AP)—Undersecretary of State Acheson expressed conviction today that American help in Greece and Turkey to block the spread of communism will not "lead to war."

That question was raised by Rep. Mansfield (D-Mont) as the House Foreign Affairs Committee questioned Acheson on President Truman's broad program to send money, materials and military missions to the two Mediterranean countries.

Acheson hesitated for a moment and then solemnly declared:

"I was going to say—no possibility that it would lead to war." He paused again then added:

"I don't think it could lead to war. By strengthening the forces of democracy and freedom, you do a great deal to eliminate the friction between great powers."

On the other hand, he said, collapse of Greece and Turkey "might set off a chain reaction" among other countries—both to the East and to the West—"struggling under similar pressure."

He was asked bluntly by Rep. Smith (R-Wis.) whether Congress should assume the United States will pursue the same policy in other countries.

"I don't think it is ever correct to assume anything," Acheson replied. "There are other areas in which we may not be able to give help. There are countries in which we may give aid in a different way."

He insisted that help for Greece and Turkey to rest communist aggression cannot wait or United Nations action but assured the law-makers:

"We are giving serious consideration and study to ways in which the United Nations may take

TALMADGE LEAVES CAPITOL — Herman Talmadge, claimant to governorship of Georgia, leaves his office in the capitol in Atlanta after the Supreme Court ruled that Lieut. Gov. M. E. Thompson is the governor. (AP Wirephoto).

Thompson Gives Official Message

ATLANTA, Ga., March 20. (AP)—Gov. Melvin E. Thompson declared today that Herman Talmadge and his political associates no longer had the right to speak for the Democratic Party, and branded the Talmadge-sponsored "White Supremacy" legislation as an invitation to fraud and stolen elections.

In a speech delivered before a joint session of the Georgia legislature, just 24 hours after the State Supreme Court had rejected Talmadge's claim to the governorship, Thompson said:

"Those who sought to seize the state of Georgia for their selfish ends, and who undertook to prostitute the democratic platform to extend their own reign, now have no right to speak for the Democratic Party."

"Their program is not the people's program. It is not the Democratic program. It is not my program. No selfish group can exploit Georgia, and no selfish group will ever control Georgia so long as elections are free."

Gas Tax Bill Brought To Life Again In House

'Void And Dead' Measure Revived By Rule Technicality

AUSTIN, March 20. (AP)—The House today brought back to life Rep. C. S. McLellan's natural gas tax bill after Speaker W. O. Reed had ruled the measure "void and dead."

By two-thirds vote, 100 to 38, the House suspended a House rule under which McLellan's bill had been declared void because of a difference in text in the two copies originally filed with the chief clerk.

Proponents of the measure immediately pushed for passage of the bill to third reading and possible final passage to the Senate.

McLellan's bill as amended in committee is designed to raise approximately $36,000,000 yearly to help raise teachers' pay to a $2,000 minimum and to expand the farm-to-market road building program.

The House wrangled more than an hour over whether the measure could be "brought back to life" in the face of the speaker's ruling.

Doors of the House were locked to keep members present until final disposition of the tax bill—the only piece of tax legislation to reach the House floor this session.

A House bill that would allow extension of leases on submerged state lands failed to reach final consideration in the Senate today when an 18-to-6 vote to suspend constitutional rules requiring bills to be read on three separate days failed the necessary four-fifths majority.

BRITISH ARE LOSING BATTLE WITH FLOOD

LONDON, March 20. (AP)—Thousands of soldiers, civilians, police and German war prisoners fought a losing battle today to hold back overflowing rivers that already had spread destruction and misery through scores of towns and villages. Aid was on the way to stricken communities.

Two army amphibians sped toward the mining village of Bentley near Doncaster in northern England, where a telegraphed SOS said last night 1,000 persons had been trapped without food for more than 24 hours.

"Position desperate," E. Whitley, chairman of the Bentley urban district council, wired Evelyn Walkden, member of parliament for the area. Whitley said small boats could not get through churning waters of the Don river surrounding the town and added: "Power-driven boats are essential for food distribution and evacuation of people." Walkden arranged for army help.

The amphibians were not expected to reach the town until late today. Meanwhile, Doncaster police planned another attempt to take food in by rowboat.

In the Thames valley, two villages were to be evacuated, and police delivered coal in rowboats to marooned invalids at Caversham.

Paraguayan Rebels Said Asking Peace

ASCUNCION, Paraguay, March 20. (AP)—Despite government denials, reports persisted in Ascuncion today that peace negotiations were in progress between government forces and rebellious troops which since March 6 have seized much of northern Paraguay.

President Higinio Morinigo's government said the only military action yesterday in the wild, rough country consisted of patrolling. Well-posted informants said a blockade of the Paraguay river was keeping the Rebels short of riverborne supplies.

The government reported insurgents still were giving themselves up in small groups to loyal forces. But veterans of Chaco border warfare with Bolivia were said to have gone over to the insurgents in force under their commanders, Col. Alfredo Ramos and Col. Arturo Bray.

(A Rebel radio broadcast heard in Buenos Aires reported that personnel of the Bahia Negra naval base had joined the uprising with "all arms and material.")

President Withdraws Arnold Nomination

WASHINGTON, March 20. (AP)—President Truman withdrew today his nomination of Herbert E. Arnold of Dallas to be federal internal revenue collector for Northern Texas.

The nomination had stirred up a patronage ruckus between Texas' two Democratic senators. Senior Senator Connally had recommended Arnold's appointment. Junior Senator O'Daniel opposed it on the ground Arnold was "personally objectionable and obnoxious" to him.

Connally announced Monday that Arnold's request he had asked Mr. Truman to withdraw the nomination.

Officials Of Soft Drink Company To Be Arraigned

Big Spring Man Named In Charge Of Ration Violations

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 20. (AP)—Ten corporations, including the Dr. Pepper Co. of Dallas, Tex., and 36 individuals from eight states were indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of conspiracy to violate sugar rationing regulations.

US Atty. Everett N. Grantham and investigators for the office of temporary controls said the indictments were based on charges involving the diversion of a million and a quarter pounds of sugar into the black market.

Within five minutes after receiving the grand jury's report, Federal Dist. Judge Colin Neblett directed that the defendants be arraigned May 5 at Santa Fe, N.M., and on recommendation of Grantham fixed the appearance bond of each corporation and individual at $1,000.

Grantham told the court that "all these people are business men and none of them are going to run away" in recommending the amount of bond.

A. M. Bartlett, Hobbs, N.M., soft drink manufacturer who was accused of fraudulent sugar withdrawals from a ration bank account in an earlier indictment, was named again in each of four new bills; and Mrs. Trudy S. Edwards, former ration teller at the Lea County State Bank in Hobbs, was charged anew in one indictment after being billed with Bartlett in the original case.

In addition to the parent Dr. Pepper Co., at Dallas, the grand jury also reported true bills naming Dr. Pepper bottling firms at Fort Worth, Texas, Grand Junction, Colo., Greensboro and Winston-Salem, N.C., and Albuquerque; and four wholesale grocery houses—The Tyler-Simpson Co., Fort Worth, Texas; Walker-Smith Co., Hobbs, and Empire Products Corp. and El Paso Wholesale Co., both in El Paso, Texas.

Three officials of the Dr. Pepper Co. were among individuals indicted. They were E. M. Dosser, assistant to the president; George M. Carpenter, traffic manager; and George Orr, manager of the vending equipment division, all of Dallas.

Others for the most part were heads of Dr. Pepper bottling companies scattered from the Rocky mountain region to the Atlantic seaboard, along with executives of the wholesale firms which were billed and assorted small merchants accused of obtaining sugar illegally through operations charged to Bartlett.

The indictments included the names of these Dr. Pepper Bottling Company executives: Elgar C. Goodman, owner, Tulsa; J. W. Barnes, owner, Paris; Henry J. Moreland, owner, Abilene; Harry Stalcup, owner, Big Spring; Luther B. Foust, partner, Dalhart; H. B. Dorris, Jr., executive vice president and manager, Fort Worth.

US Atty. Grantham said the charges covered "probably the biggest sugar fraud in the nation."

C-C Withdraws Plan For Helping Pick Park Site

Chamber of commerce directors Wednesday voted unanimously to withdraw from any selection of a ball park site, leaving this matter up to the school board.

The chamber then would await word from the school board as to whether its assistance is needed in helping to finance construction of a plant on whatever site selected by the board.

Previously, the chamber had voted to enter the picture in an attempt to raise necessary funds on a memorial park basis with the property to pass to the possession of the school board as soon as possible. It would then become a part of the system's athletic plant, to be used free of charge at all times for school activities, particularly interscholastic league baseball. The plant also would be available by rental for other purposes.

There has been confusion over location of the park and the board voted to retire from the picture until this has been settled. Meanwhile, there were indications that differences over location would be composed soon and the way opened for the school board to make a site selection.

S.O.S. GOT THROUGH

One-Armed 'Sparks' Hero

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20. (AP)—A one-armed radio operator who finally ground out a prayerful distress signal on a makeshift set after four attempts had failed was acclaimed a hero today by 10 survivors of the broken tanker Fort Dearborn.

While the navy continued to search for 12 or 13 more crew members still missing, the 10 survivors who reached San Francisco yesterday gave the full, gripping story of how their ship snapped apart just after midnight March 12 during a storm and cast them adrift on the bow section for 30 hours.

Interviewed aboard the liner General W. H. Gordon, one of the rescue vessels, they credited "Sparks"—Radioman Henry F. Wiehr of Los Angeles—with saving their lives.

Wiehr, despite the handicap of only one arm and smashed glasses, sought vainly to transmit an SOS with broken, water-soaked equipment, and finally, with the help of the chief steward, rigged an emergency set in the charthouse.

The weak SOS was picked up by the S.S. John Foster nine hours after the Fort Dearborn broke, and was relayed to the American President Liner General Gordon which was closer to the wreck scene. The General Gordon steamed 300 miles and reached the drifting bow section in 16 hours. Two of the Gordon's lifeboats were smashed and one, eight-man crew nearly lost in the initial rescue attempts before the survivors were picked up by a motor launch from a second rescue ship, the freighter St. John Victory. They later were transferred to the Gordon.

Wiehr, told of the nightmare experience trying to transmit a distress call.

"At 12:15 a. m., on March 12, there were two terrific concussions as if we had been rammed," he related. "I was thrown from my bunk and my head hit a bulkhead."

"I heard Captain Mahoney (Capt. Richard Mahoney of Corpus Christi, Tex.) yell 'get up, Sparks! The ship's parted! Try to get out an SOS!'"

The radioman found the antennas had been carried away. His regular radio was useless.

Three attempts to transmit with an emergency transmitter failed. What little equipment he had was damaged by concussion or water.

By 4 a. m., Wiehr sent out his first SOS, and kept it up at intermittent periods all day and night, careful to conserve his scanty power supply.

W. L. Reed Guest Speaker At Central Ward Meeting

The Central Ward Parent-Teachers Association met in regular session at the school Wednesday for a program which was directed by Mrs. J. C. Lane and featured a talk by W. L. Reed, high school principal.

Mrs. Lane led the group in a recitation of the objects of the P-TA and gave a short talk on the association.

In his discussion of "Encouraging Wholesome Attitudes," Reed stated that such attitudes must begin in the home. "This can be done by developing a knowledge of the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule. Thrift should be developed through an honest knowledge of the family budget," he explained, and emphasized that emotional security must be assured every child plus an experience in social living.

"Daily practice in critical thinking is valuable," he continued, "and today when a child's life is full of funnies, comics and radio, parents should encourage better selection of reading matter and should promote discussions of current events." He concluded his talk by telling the group that fun is one of the essentials of life and that "we should have family fun to encourage social cooperation."

During a business meeting presided over by Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, it was announced that the association now has 129 members. Monday, March 24 Central Ward will present the P-TA radio program over KBST.

Many Never Suspect Cause of Backaches

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Methods Of Raising More Money To Pay Teachers Differ Sharply

AUSTIN, March 20. (AP)—A mass of evidence supporting two sharply differing methods of paying Texas teachers more money, looking toward raising educational standards generally, was in the hands of a Senate Finance subcommittee today.

It was developed at a public hearing that ran well past midnight, that brought some sharp words and accusations, but which both sides finally agreed shed some light on the 50th Legislature's major problem.

Spokesmen for the teachers did not indicate they were budgeted from their belief that the $55 per capita bill and the $2,000 minimum pay bill offered in the House by Rep. Dallas Blankenship of Dallas and in the Senate by A. M. Aiken Jr., of Paris, was the best route.

Sen. Jim Taylor of Kerens, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and author of the equalization measure which he believes furnishes the best formula, also held firm to it. He said while he did not think it was the last word, it was still the best means in sight for raising teachers pay.

The subcommittee took no action. Chairman G. C. Morris indicated it might report next Wednesday.

Arguments for the per capita bill in essence were this: The method is stable and has been long tried and found workable; it minimizes state control and emphasizes local control of schools; it is so written as to guarantee that the money would be used for teachers pay first; where it did not suffice, an adequate equalization bill would supplement local and per capita funds.

Taylor and Sen. Pat Bullock of Colorado City testified for the equalization bill. Taylor contended that under the per capita bill, a premium was placed on non-attendance; that it would give funds to many schools that did not need it; that his equalization bill could be financed by revenues in hand or in sight and if there is not enough money in the bill to do the job he would see to it enough was put in; that the per capita bill would not give some districts a $2,000 minimum if they stuck by standards which set 30 pupils per teacher as the maximum teaching load.

Members of the American Business club will be treated to a program on "Electronics and Communications. Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" at their regular meeting Friday noon.

George Hutson of the Southwestern Bell Telephone information department will explain some of the electronic wonders developed by the Bell Laboratories during the past few years, including the electrical gun director, radar, coaxial cable for television and the "peanut" tube that is so small it is assembled under a microscope. Many other interesting discoveries calculated to contribute to communications of the future will be shown and discussed. Many of the devices were war secrets.

Hutson was in the army signal corps for three and a half years, participating in five major battles.

Farrow told police that he was winning when the man with whom he was playing was called to the telephone. Senator Implies Russ, British Surpass US In Military Aviation

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Mar. 20. (AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me.) implied today that both Russia and England surpass the United States in military aviation and said this raises a question whether cuts in President Truman's budget should be permitted to fall on the air force.

"We cannot afford to remain the world's third ranking air power," Brewster said in an address prepared for the first American Legion National Aeronautics Conference.

He called attention to an official Russian statement that "we must have the most powerful air force in the world," and to reports that the British air arms will be "appreciably" larger than the projected US Army Air Forces.

Brewster said the Soviets have built 100 weather reporting stations, equipped with four planes each, in the strategic Arctic. Noting that establishment of four American stations in the Arctic last year prompted Russian charges that this was "a hostile and aggressive act aimed at Russia," he commented:

"Sometimes one can infer the intentions of others from their suspicions."

Great Britain, while concentrating on development of air power, is reducing her navy by 60 percent and apparently depending upon the United States for sea power, Brewster said.

He commented that "only 15 percent of the total appropriation for the (American) navy" is for its bureau of aeronautics, and that less than one-third of the national defense budget of $11,200,000,000 is for the army air forces.

Brewster said commercial air lines "are an absolute essential of air power," but that there "is a serious prospect under present policies and conditions" of American international air operations dwindling.

Military plane requirements cannot maintain aircraft manufacture at the safety level, he said, and military flying cannot "possibly supply the familiarization with weather and topography and landing fields that will be a prime essential in any future conflict."

"The state department is reluctant to permit even one flight of B-29's around the world, Brewster said, referring to a shelved air forces project. "Britain is fully alert to this situation and is planning to dominate the commercial air routes of the world."

Senator Stages Long Filibuster In Legislature

AUSTIN, March 20. (AP)—A minor lease bill against which Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton filibustered for nearly six hours yesterday was the first order of business as the Senate convened today.

The bill, by Rep. Donald Markle of Galveston, gives the state school land board authority to evaluate and extend leases on submerged state land.

Phillips offered an amendment placing the renewal of bids on a competitive bidding basis.

Many twenty-five year leases now held on submerged lands expire within the next few years. The Markle bill would allow extension of these leases as long as the lease continued to produce.

Under Phillips proposed amendment, the competitive provision would apply if the leaseholder failed to pay the value set by the state school land board within 90 days.

He ended his speech marathon last night with a motion to adjourn in order that a Senate subcommittee could hold its hearing on teachers pay raise bills.

"If it were not for the fact these teachers have come some of them hundreds of miles, for this hearing, I would fight this iniquitous bill as long as my strength held out."

"In order that these teachers will not be disappointed, I move we adjourn until 10:30 a.m. tomorrow," he said.

His filibuster began yesterday morning, was interrupted by a recess for lunch, began again at 2:30 p.m. and continued until 7:28 p.m.

During an earlier attempt to free the Senate for the teacher pay bills hearing, President Pro Tempore Ben Ramsey of San Augustine ruled that if Phillips left the floor he would not have it back in the morning.

Ill Health Of Most Patients Is Mental

DALLAS, March 20. (AP)—The ill health of possibly a majority of persons who go to a doctor is mental in origin, Dr. John C. Whitehorn, professor of psychiatry at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, said here today.

Whitehorn told the 16th annual spring clinic of the Dallas Southern Clinical Society that "estimates range up to two-thirds of all patients as the proportion of those in whom the most significant cause of ill health is of emotional or neurotic character."

The professor said the general practitioner, properly trained, can treat some mental illnesses but added: "People can sometimes endure to take off their concealments and look at themselves, in the doctor's presence, in a way they can do in few other situations. If the doctor can stand the view, the patient can too."

"Some doctors can't stand it — they are made very uncomfortable by raw human nature. Such a doctor should not try to do psychotherapy. Human nature is not all pretty in the inside. There is a good deal of meanness and low animal nature native to everyone. There is some reason to believe that people in general now have a less sordid view of sex than prevailed a generation ago. Nevertheless, the physician who undertakes to do psychotherapy should be prepared to make the acquaintance of some fairly sordid aspects of human nature, sexual or otherwise."

"Those who have to steel themselves to endure the sordid revelations of human impulses do not do very good psychotherapy. It seems to require a fairly robust faith in the human race — a faith which may grow with a doctor's experience, as his knowledge of his patients' lives broadens and deepens."

Dr. W. Grady Reddick of Dallas told the conference yesterday that the victim of migraine headaches will not be able to understand his headache until he understands himself.

"It is up to the doctor," said Reddick, "to explain to the patient that adjustments in his everyday living will be necessary before any relief from the severe headaches is possible."

Almost every sufferer from migraine is imbued with ideas of ambition and success," Reddick explained. "He attempts to dominate his environment. He is efficient, a perfectionist. He gladly accepts responsibility, gladly performs tasks others would shun. He is greatly endowed with push and drive, the urge to do things. He delegates authority poorly, preferring to do the work himself. He loves to work intensely for long hours, at the sacrifice of sleep and proper meals."

"He loves work so much that on Sundays he is lost without it and commonly suffers what is called a let-down headache. The man with migraine is orderly and meticulous. He leaves nothing to chance. When he decides to take a trip, he plans all the stops and puts them in writing. When on the trip, he keeps a record of all the places he visits. When he drives, he times himself by the clock, figuring to make a certain city by a certain time. When something happens and he doesn't get there, he is so upset it often brings on a headache."

"He is an inflexible man. His personality is rigid to compromise. He is economical and averse to gambling — doesn't believe in throwing his money away. He often suffers anticipation — headaches when some important event is coming up in his life, for he takes things seriously — he believes in making every second count."

"When this man with migraine comes to you for medical aid, you must show him that such headaches are simply the way the overburdened nervous system imposes a rest on the body. You should tell him he must budget his time to allow more rest and relaxation. And very often he will choose to keep his headaches."

Reddick said more than 80 percent of women who suffer from migraine are sexually dissatisfied in some way and that "a great majority of them are frigid."

Denmark, Norway and Sweden were once united as a single nation.

Col. Henry Hutchings, Jr., head of the Southwest division, corps of engineers, said the bids would be accepted at the district office at Galveston and construction should begin about July 1.

The initial phase, to cost $450,000, will include excavation for a spillway and construction of a section of an earth dam. The completed project will cost $10,000,000.

Other UAW demands on GM will include a request for a guaranteed 40-hour work week.

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

Do Men Like Women?

Maybe you read that recent article in a national magazine, claiming that American men don't really like the company of women. They just put them up on a pedestal and leave them there.

But I wouldn't say that that was so in our town. Look at any married couple—like the Cuppers. Jane wouldn't nag if Dee spent his evenings "with the boys"—but actually Dee likes nothing better than to stay home by the fire, sharing a glass of beer with Jane, playing cribbage, or just talking.

And when he does go out, for an afternoon of fishing down at Seward's Creek, or for an evening glass of beer at Andy Botkin's Garden Tavern, Jane is almost always with him (except when she's got a spot of baking in the oven).

From where I sit, respect doesn't rule out everyday companionship . . . and never should. They go together—essential parts of a successful marriage.

Any price is too high if it can be reduced

International Harvester announces $20,000,000 price reductions

We believe there is nothing more important to this country than to lower the prices of the goods that people buy.

The American people have insisted that the government withdraw from its attempts to control prices in peacetime. That places the responsibility where it belongs—in the hands of business and industry. Not all business can reduce prices now. Not all can reduce by the same amount.

Our company has felt a duty to act as promptly as possible. In our case, the business outlook now makes it possible to move toward the goal of lower prices. The only way out of the vicious circle of higher and higher prices is to break through.

We have taken this step not because of present competitive conditions nor because of a drop in demand from customers. We have taken it because of our belief that ANY PRICE IS TOO HIGH IF IT CAN BE REDUCED.

These reductions, which will save the users of our products approximately $20,000,000 a year, will become effective before April 1, and will apply to a selected list of tractor, farm machine, motor truck, and industrial power products. Since we lose money on a few of our products, and barely break even on some others, these reductions will not apply to our entire line. Reductions will be made individually on products. Some will be cut more than others. Exact details will be announced as soon as possible.

Our ability to maintain this lower level of prices will depend in part on what happens to the prices and flow of materials that we buy from others. Because we believe price reduction is vital, we are willing to assume the risks that are involved.

prices had not gone up as much or as fast as many others

Here are Average Price Increases since 1941

All Manufactured Products (U. S. Government Reports)	63.7%
Motors and Motor Products (U. S. Government Reports)	41.2%
Motor Trucks	35%
Industrial Power Products	34%
Farm Machines	25%

These benefits to customers will depend, too, on uninterrupted production at reasonable wage levels. This is not a program that can be carried out if it is hampered by strikes or work stoppages.

Our employees have had substantial increases in pay, and wage questions are currently being discussed with many of the unions with which we deal. Stockholders have recently had an increase in dividend rate. Having considered the interests of these two groups, we are now making these price reductions for the benefit of the third group—our customers.

Business, to our way of thinking, has a social as well as an economic responsibility. This company has long followed the policy of operating in the interests of three groups—its customers, its employees and its stockholders. The duty of the management is to see that equal justice is done as between the three groups.

This price reduction program is another demonstration of our policy in action.

When You Know How—It Is Easy

When You Know How, It Is Easy, To Get Well

Cuts From Cases: In Agreement:

RUPTURED INTERVERTEBRAL DISC—

In 1941, I fell from a 40-foot ladder, landing on my feet and in a sitting position. I suffered from a number of fractured ribs, broken bones in my feet, and severe pains in my lower back and right leg. I received medical treatment. As time went on, it became difficult to sit down. My condition was diagnosed as a ruptured disc in the lower part of my spine. An operation was advised as the only means of a cure but I was told that it might not be successful. Out of desperation and being unwilling to undergo the surgeon's knife, I sought Chiropractic aid. The cause of my trouble was located and adjusted. I experienced almost immediate relief and, within a few days, was free of all my symptoms. I can heartily recommend a scientific Chiropractic health service to those who are sick.

ASTHMA AND SINUS—I had Asthma and Sinus trouble for six years. I spent nine weeks in a hospital without getting well. I spent thousands of dollars without getting better. Drugs gave only temporary relief, but that was all. Going south to a warmer climate did not help. I had about decided that nothing could help me when I noticed an ad in the paper stating what Chiropractic could do for Asthma. I want to shout from the house-tops to all sufferers of these and other disorders to try Chiropractic and see what can be done for them.

"It is quite easy to replace the vertebra with a moderate amount of manipulation, and many patients find relief in the hands of chiropractors." James Brailsford, M.D. (Deformities of the lumbosacral region of the spine—British Journal of Surgery, 16:562, April 1929).

"There was a time when I looked at chiropractic through a pair of bifocal lenses, the upper plus prejudice, the lower plus lack of investigation. But because medicine with all its adjuncts had failed to reach the complicated ailments of my invalid wife, I like a drowning man, grasped for anything in sight. I learned of Chiropractic through a friend of mine. I went at once to a school of chiropractic and remained two weeks investigating the science of chiropractic and, to my surprise, they were actually getting results on cases that were hopelessly incurable from the standpoint of medicine. The sooner the medical profession recognizes the work of the Chiropractor, the better. He is doing a work that medicine cannot do; he belongs exclusively to the class of specialists and should be recognized."—M. E. King, M.D. (Therapeutic Review, 1918).

Younger Legislators Building Their Fences

By PAUL BOLTON

Herald Austin Bureau

AUSTIN, March 20.—Notes of a legislative reporter:

Some of the younger members of the legislature are extremely public-relations minded — much more so than their seniors. An outstanding example is George Nokes, representative from the governor's home town of Corsicana.

Nokes is cultivating the folks back home in all the ways he can think of: by newspaper columns, radio talks and personal visits home every other weekend. Formerly a newspaper reporter, Nokes is writing a regular column for his home town papers, plus a column for the American Legion Weekly.

Every two weeks, Nokes inserts an ad in the local papers: "I will be home next weekend and you place." That place is his home in Corsicana. He also writes a weekly editor's office. On his visit home he always makes a radio talk.

Bill Richards is another member who scheduled regular "forums" at home, but dropped them when too few attended. However he lives in the relatively nearby town of Lockhart so manages to maintain local contacts.

With a rueful grin, Legislator Harley Sadler of Sweetwater says he may have to open up his tent show again next summer; he's about run out of wildcat money. Sadler's 20th well is now drilling and so far he's counted 19 dusters; he's just about the most consistent duster driller in West Texas. Sadler does have some oil production, but he bought it.

In past sessions of the Legislature, members got rid of the patronage demands on them by putting part-time workers to work in the census division of the state department of education. This year, in the house, a slightly different approach has been made: the available jobs are divided into part-time jobs, with some jobs in as many as six parts.

Six was a natural division since committee clerks are paid six dollars a day. Several ex-footballers from the University of Texas are now listed as "part-time committee clerks," and regularly report in and out.

There are so many committee clerks that a clerk of committee clerks was created to keep track of them.

A legislative statistician read Governor Jester's statement that the 25¢ increase in the price of oil would mean—by the end of the next biennium—an additional $17,324,587 in state revenues, divided $12,993,440 to the general revenue fund and $4,331,147 to the available school fund. He got out his pencil and started figuring.

"Let's see," he said, "what else we can do with figures. Using the governor's estimate of a maintained production of 2 million barrels a day, that means $500,000 a day added to the selling price of oil, or $15,000,000 a month, or for the 29

Congress Pondering Proposal On Greece

WASHINGTON, March 20. (AP)

Members of the House Foreign Affairs committee sought the answers today to the grave questions raised by President Truman's proposal to help Greece and Turkey resist Communism.

To aid them they called on top diplomatic and military officials to outline various aspects of the administration program.

First witness as the committee opened public hearings today was Under Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Secretary of War Patterson and Secretary of the Navy Forrestal were to follow.

Questions puzzling and worrying the legislators included:

What would happen if the Greek government collapsed and a Communist regime took over? How would the Greek-Turkey aid program affect Russian-American relations; will the program be the beginning of the end of American aid to stiffen the backbone of other nations? How will it affect the Moscow conference? And, will it lead to peace or ultimately to war?

As the committee opened hearings the Republican Congressional majority appeared split into four groups:

1. Those supporting the president; 2. Those undecided until they hear all the facts; 3. Those preferring that the United Nations handle the problem; and 4. Those favoring a hands-off policy.

Senate debate on anti-portal pay legislation occupied the senate again today—for the fifth day—and the finish wasn't yet in sight.

In more than 10 hours work on the judiciary committee bill yesterday and last night the Senate acted on only two amendments. It accepted one permitting employers to offer a "good faith" defense against pending as well as future back-wage claims—meaning the employers could plead in court that they relied on rulings of the Wage-Hour Administrator. It rejected another suggestion.

Secretary of War Patterson went to Capitol Hill to support Army-Navy unification legislation before the Senate Armed Services committee. Members were ready with questions concerning economy both money and men.

Senators Bridges (R-NH) and Byrd (D-VA) quizzed Secretary of Navy Forrestal earlier this week on possible savings under the merger plan. Forrestal, who favored the legislation, conceded that in peacetime the savings might not amount to much but that in wartime "it will be great."

These matters also occupied congressional attention: Taxes—Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee planned a huddle on possible revision of Rep. Knutson's (R-Mich.) bill for a 20 per cent slash on income taxes. The revision would increase the reduction for those with smaller incomes. The entire committee is to vote on the bill tomorrow with the House to take up the matter next week.

Trade—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he supports President Truman's appeal for continued control of exports, particularly "if we are to step in to aid Greece and Turkey." He told a reporter, however, he couldn't go along with the President's previous request to continue wartime controls over many domestic commodities and services.

Patents—Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ), chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, said he will send to Secretary of State Marshall in Moscow "ad-

Top-Seeded Netters Winners At Miami

MIAMI, Fla., March 20. (AP) — Quarter finals matches were on the program today in the fourth annual University of Miami invitational tennis tournament, with top-seeded players still in the running.

National singles champion Jack Kramer of Los Angeles and second seeded Gardner Mulloy of Miami play third round matches while Billy Talbot of Wilmington, Del., and Pancho Segura of Ecuador are booked to quarter finals.

months before the next biennium ends, $435,000,000.

"Or if you figure the 25 cent increase means a half-cent increase per gallon in gasoline prices, we used in Texas last month 148,496,512 gallons. That means each month on the amount paid out by Texas motorists alone $742,482, or for the 29 months, $21,451,978. Which," he added, "makes it look like the additional tax money will come from motorists. Or somebody."

Steer Cagers To Be Honored At Kiwanis Banquet Tonight

Principal speaker of this evening's Kiwanis dinner party honoring the Big Spring high school basketball team will be Pat Murphy, Steer football coach-elect.

Murphy has promised he won't limit his discourse on football alone but will discuss the proposed athletic program in general.

All members of the high school basketball squad, numbering some 20 boys, and all coaches will be honor guests at the annual banquet, which will be staged at the Settles hotel beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Coach Johnny Malaise will be introduced and in turn will introduce his squadmen. Other mentors who are due to be on hand are Johnny Dibrell, departing athletic director, Conn Isaacs and Jim McWhorter.

Mule Stockton, another coach, had to beg off due to the fact that he is taking his track team to a meet in Fort Worth.

Walter Reed, high school principal, is in charge of the program while T. B. Atkins will serve as toastmaster.

Under Malaise, the Bovines won 16 of 23 games the past season, winding up in first place in District 3AA standings during the regular season but losing out in the first round of the tournament to Abilene, champion-to-be.

Two members of the squad, Capt. Horace Rankin and Eddie Houser, were named to the all-tournament team.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Carroll Jones, a Baylor university grad, brings back word from Waco that his alma mater isn't sleeping on the job when it comes to lining up football players for its teams in future years. Far from it.

Hayden Fry, Glenn Taylor and Herman Foster of the great Odessa team aren't the only prep standouts who are matriculating at the Baptist college. For instance, there is Nick Kazanas, a tremendous guard from Waco high last fall, who recently registered for the spring term at the university.

Add to that list the names of Kenneth Scholz, a back from Robstown high school; Edward Starr, a wing from Waco high who formerly was in SMU; Dan Cochran, Galveston center; Johnny Meyers, back from Eden; Hank Dickerson of Waco, listed as an end; Walter Still of Lufkin, a tackle; Waco's Cedric Copeland, an end; Bill Mix of Lamesa, still another back; and Joe Crain, a hefty tackle from somewhere in Tennessee.

If that isn't enough, there's still more. Two Chicago boys, Lew Lewambowski, end, and Smitty Smithandich, also a wing — youngsters recommended by track star Bill Martineson, have enrolled there. Jack Hale, a tackle, and Guy Newman, a talented back, both of Denison, showed up recently to register as did Jack Southern, a Kerrville wing, and a Georgia Tech transfer, Tommy Carpenter, a back.

Bob Woodruff, the new Baylor mentor, has called spring drills for March 24. The Bruins haven't won a Southwest conference championship since 1924, when Frank Bridges was the engineer of a machine that boasted such operatives as Wesley Bradshaw, Sam Coats, Cop Weathers and Abe Kelly.

Woodruff comes west (from Georgia Tech) with a good reputation. Given full co-operation by the alumni, Robin may be the boy to break the drought for the Wacoans.

Individual awards for winners in the recent Big Spring Relays have arrived and are being sent to their owners. There are 48 of the premiums, enough for the first, second, third and fourth place winners in each of the 12 events, exclusive of the relays.

Five local athletes captured at least one prize each. They are

Big Springers Play Tonight

Arah Phillips' Big Spring team and Water Valley start the fireworks a day early in the Big Spring invitational volleyball tournament, clashing at 6:30 o'clock this evening in Sterling City.

Most of the other 14 teams entered in the show will wait until Friday afternoon to plunge into competition.

It was announced this morning that Stanton was withdrawing. H. G. Hamrick, coach of the Buffaloes, notified Miss Phillips, director of the tournament, that most of the girls who made up his basketball team were on the volleyball squad and they did not have time to get into shape.

Roscoe's respected contingent, which swept to a tournament title last weekend, will replace the Buffs. The Roscoe team will play Coahoma in a first round game Friday at 3:45 p. m.

Other first round games finds Foran meeting Ackerly, Lamesa clashing with San Angelo, Paint Rock opposing Sterling City, Courtney squaring off with the Sweetwater reserves, Westbrook tangling with the Sweetwater A string and Eola mixing it up with Midland.

Championship game will get underway at 8:50 o'clock Saturday night.

Ponies To Face Oakland Quint

DENVER, March 20. (AP)—The Gollaths of the American basketball league held five of the eight quarterfinal berths in the National AAU tournament today but they'll have competition from the darkhorses for one more day.

Five ABL members, including Bartlesville's national champions, came through yesterday's third round firing unscathed. The others were second-seeded Oakland, winner of the recent ABL tournament, Denver, Hollywood and Los Angeles.

But three clubs from the tough Western AAU circuit fell by the wayside before unheralded teams from Dallas, Seattle and Golden, Colo.

The Golden team (Coors) won with surprising ease from the San Diego Dons, 61-44; Dallas (Majors and Majors) whipped Pocatello, Idaho, (Simplots), 58-44, and Seattle (Alpine Dairy) eliminated fourth-seeded Oklahoma City (Continental Airlines), 39-26.

For two of the darkhorses—Dallas and Golden—tonight's quarterfinal round probably will be the end of the trail. Dallas must meet high-powered Oakland and Golden is matched with Bartlesville, the national champion for four straight seasons.

Kilgore JayCees Begin Drills

KILGORE, March 20. (AP)—Seventy candidates have reported for spring football at Kilgore College, champion of the Texas Junior College conference and participant in the Little Rose Bowl in California.

There are few losses from last year's squad and Coach Jimmie Parks will be able to field an all-lettermen team. Nearly a dozen backfield veterans and a greater number of experienced linemen will be back.

Among the returning backs are Alan Nevenux, who rated selection to the second Little All-America team; Adrian Burk, a stellar punter; Rex Bullock, fine defensive back of 1946; Hardy Johnson, powerhouse fullback, and Max Clark, high-scorer of last year's eleven.

The Ranger line returns almost intact, including Darrell Shaver, all-conference guard, and end Ed Stags, co-captains for 1947.

Several newcomers will be serious contenders for starting posts. They include Nevell Kane, 195-pound back from Palestine who was at Texas last year; Bobby Collier, 210-pound blocking back from Longview, and Joe Harper, 185-pound back from John Reagan, Houston.

Negotiations Fail

DALLAS, March 20. (AP)—Negotiations between the Dallas Power and Light company and 235 AFL distribution workers were postponed indefinitely last night after union and company officials failed to agree on a new contract. The old contract expired March 1.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

Dyer's Catching Troubles Ease As Regular Returns

By The Associated Press

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20. (AP)—Manager Eddie Dyer had some welcome news from the St. Louis Cardinals' backstopping department today with word that young Joe Garagiola will be able to continue catching providing he wears a protective covering on his mask.

The 21-year-old Garagiola, rookie sensation of the 1946 World Series, suffered a slight fracture of the right cheek bone when he was struck by a thrown ball at the start of the training season. X-rays revealed. The injury is healing nicely, however.

The world champion Redbirds are none too well fortified with catchers, with Del Wilber the only one of the backstop trio in good condition. Del Rice is currently suffering from a shoulder injury.

The Cardinals rested yesterday when their game with the Boston Red Sox was rained out. They meet the Phils at Clearwater today with Southpaw Ken Johnson and Right-hander Ken Burkhardt and Fred Schmidt scheduled to see duty.

SARASOTA, Fla., March 20. (AP)—Weatherbound yesterday, the Boston Red Sox hope to get going today against the Yankees at St. Petersburg. Manager Joe Cronin of the American League champions plans to use Fritz Berish, Tommy Fine and Mel Parnell on the mound, and Catcher Frankie Hayes may see his first action since the heat got him a few days ago.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20. (AP)—Bucky Harris is considering another realignment of the New York Yankee lineup which would send Tommy Henrich to center field—a position he has never played. Henrich is sidelined with strained chest muscles but will be okay in a few days. He has batted .339 against major league teams this spring.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 20. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers go to Tampa today for an exhibition with the Cincinnati Reds. Hal Newhouser, Al Benton and Rufe Gentry were scheduled to pitch. The Tigers' scheduled contest with the New York Yankees here yesterday was rained out.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 20. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates' prize rookie is Wally Westlake, 26-year-old, rock-chinned Californian. In five games as an outfielder, Westlake has collected six hits in 10 trips. He was the first pirate to hit a homer, is fast, fields well and is a threat in center or right field. Hank Greenberg will not see action against the St. Louis Browns today, taking time out for treatment of a sore arm.

Oklahoma Mixes With Oregonians

KANSAS CITY, March 20. (AP)—

The University of Texas Longhorns, who twice have been eliminated by the eventual national champion, are favored to top the four-team field in the Western Regional NCAA basketball tournament tomorrow and Saturday.

Both of their conquerors in previous play-offs, Oregon and Wyoming, went on to win the national crown, just as four of the other eight Western Regional champions have succeeded in doing in the NCAA finals dating back to 1939.

First order of business for Coach Jack Gray's Longhorns, who are heralded as one of the finest cage teams ever assembled in Texas, is that of disposing of the Wyoming Cowboys, the team that beat them in the 1943 Western Regionals.

If they pass the Wyoming test the Texans still must beat the winner of tomorrow night's opening game between Oregon State, the Pacific coast champion, and the Big Six titlist Oklahoma before clashing with the Eastern representative in New York March 25.

The Texas-Wyoming game will have special meaning to five of the starting players, John Hargis and Roy Cox of Texas, and Jimmy Reese, Floyd Volker and Jim Campbell of Wyoming each were members of the teams representing their schools here four years ago. Hargis, who this year averaged 14.5 points in 24 games, scored 29 points as his team lost to Wyoming, 54-48 in 1943. He also set a two-game play-off scoring record of 59 points that year.

Cox, a 5-foot 8-inch ball-hawking huzz-saw and one of three peewees in the Texas lineup, averaged 9.9 during the past campaign during which the Longhorns were beaten only by Oklahoma A&M in 25 games.

Reese, a 5-foot 8-inch, averaged 11.6 points in the Cowboy's season of 22 wins and 4 losses this winter.

In addition to the scoring ability of Reese, Wyoming will have potent factors in the height of Mike Todorovich and Volkers, 6-foot 5-inchers. Texas' one tall boy is Langdon, 6'7" center. Hargis stands 6'2 1/2". The other Longhorns scale downward from 5'10 1/2".

Oregon State, featuring the great Ephraim (Red) Rocha, 6'8" center, is regarded by the basketball "wise" here as the team most dangerous to the Texas plans. The Beavers had a regular season mark of 25 wins and 3 losses.

The first game tomorrow will start at 8 o'clock (PST), with Texas and Wyoming taking the boards at 9:30.

WESLEYANS IN FRONT

FORT WORTH, March 20. (AP)—The Texas Wesleyans golf team won four singles and two doubles matches yesterday to defeat North Texas State 6-3.

Saturday Proclaimed 'Legion Day' Here

By official proclamation, Saturday is "American Legion Day," in Big Spring.

Mayor G. W. Dabney Thursday issued a formal statement calling on the city to pay respects to the ex-servicemen's organization and particularly to its national commander, Paul H. Griffith of Uniontown, Pa., who will be a visitor in Big Spring Saturday.

"Big Spring is signally honored by the visit of the national leader of the great Legion organization," Dabney's proclamation said, "and I call on all our citizens to demonstrate their characteristic spirit of friendliness so that Commander Griffith, members of his staff, and the Texas Department officers of the American Legion who will accompany him, will long remember Big Spring as an outstanding Texas city dedicated to the Legion—to furthering the ideals of true Americanism."

"Officers and members of our local Legion post are to be congratulated for their achievement in having Big Spring listed among the Texas towns honored by Commander Griffith's presence. The entire program of work of the Howard County post and the national Legion organization deserves the fullest cooperation of all the citizenry, and it is a pleasure for me to emphasize this program of work and to urge support of it, by proclaiming Saturday, March 22, as American Legion Day in Big Spring. As mayor, I extend official greetings to Commander Griffith and his party, and extend them in behalf of our citizenship, every courtesy during their stay in our city."

Griffith, along with State Commander Bert Giesecke and various division and district Legion chiefs, will arrive here early Saturday afternoon, after being escorted from Brownfield by local Legionnaires headed by Post Commander Harold P. Steck.

Griffith is to be honored at a barbecue at 8 p. m., at the county barn, to which affair Legionnaires, Auxiliary members and their guests have been invited. Griffith will speak at 8 a. m., and the public is invited to hear him.

And the product that's making exactly that news today is Dromedary Corn Muffin Mix—put out by the makers of famous Dromedary Gingerbread. Housewives are pouncing enthusiastically on this latest of fine Dromedary Foods... for they've discovered that here at last is a quick-and-easy way to the same tempting, crusty, piping-hot cornbread they'd make themselves—if only they "had the time."

Just add milk and an egg to Dromedary Corn Muffin Mix, and zing! It's ready for the oven in an delicious hot-bread form you choose. For Sunday breakfast, serve sunny corn pancakes slathered with melting butter; at Sunday-night supper, or as a light-lunch-eon dish, Dromedary Cornbread Squares are perfect. If you're entertaining your bridge club, or when unexpected guests drop in, whip up some fluffy corn muffins.

Housewives' enthusiastic reception of Dromedary Corn Muffin Mix is no accident. When the Dromedary people first decided to produce a Corn Muffin Mix, they rounded up thousands of blue-ribbon recipes, both from cook-books, and from women contributors. They tested and tasted, in their large kitchen, until they were sure they had the best three of all the prize recipes; then they sent out test packages, asking women from coast to coast, "Which one do you like best? "When all the answers were in, and one Mix was overwhelmingly the favorite ("because it tastes home-made, as no other mix has!") Dromedary knew it could introduce its Corn Muffin Mix proudly, as the finest on the market.

No matter what form you bake your Dromedary Corn Muffin Mix in, one thing is certain: your family is in for a flavor hot-bread treat with all the golden goodness of ripe sweet corn... as heartening as spring itself!

Grated Cheese Good Topping For Vegetables

By MARTHA LOGAN

Cheese with vegetables is a simple trick the experienced cook knows well, and one the novice can well afford to imitate. There's world of opportunity to add extra verve and palate pleasure to even the most frequently-used vegetable, and at the same time raise it to the level of one of the most exciting dishes on the menu.

The variety in the cheese family helps to make this so. Not only are there the familiar full-flavored cheddar cheese and its milder sister, processed American cheese, but a host of other cheese with sharp and smoky flavors. None of these is to be neglected.

The story of cheese cookery is one of low heat cookery. Cheese is a delicate food that responds best to a delicate treatment. Low heat is must in top-of-range cooking as well as in preparing cheese dishes in the oven, where a temperature of 325 degrees F. to 350 degrees F. is best. Many cheese dishes call for cooking over hot water, which is another excellent way to maintain fine cheese texture and flavor.

When vegetables are to be combined with cheese in a casserole, cheese sauces are favorites. Quick cheese sauces make short work of such a casserole for the modern homemaker.

Grated cheese is a favorite topping for many vegetables. To give zest to string beans, sprinkle the hot vegetable with grated sharp cheese, then while the rest of the dinner is in the oven—perhaps a meat loaf and a custard for dessert—slip the beans in the oven. Fifteen minutes will do the trick for this different savory vegetable dish.

Cheese on certain soups is appetizing, too. Grated sharp cheese over vegetable soup or cream of potato, tomato, spinach or celery soup is never a miss. Toast strips or crackers with a topping of grated cheese make fine soup or salad accompaniments.

Vegetable casseroles topped with grated cheese are favorite fare, too. Witness the success of potatoes au gratin, then use the same treatment on other vegetables such as creamed lima beans or scalloped tomatoes.

NEW ZEALAND RECEIVES KBST DURING TESTS

Signals from monthly frequency checks from KBST continue to evoke most response from New Zealand, although North Little Rock, Ark., contributed a response on the latest trial. Manager Jack Wallace had four replies from New Zealand in response to the Jan. 8 frequency check from the 1490 kilocycle station.

A. Mervyn Branks and A. J. Allen wrote from Invercargill, New Zealand, "the Southernmost city in the world," and D. D. Lynn and Murray S. Lamont wrote from Dunedin to report parts of the program heard from KBST. On previous occasions reports of reception have come from Canada, Russia and China, although here of late New Zealand has responded most frequently.

Group To Expand Blue Cross Service Here Is Organized

Preliminary organization, looking toward the establishment of Blue Cross plan of hospital service in Big Spring on a wider and more flexible basis, was taken at a meeting here Tuesday evening.

Robert Currie was named chairman of an executive council to direct a contemplated enrollment campaign in Big Spring. Others on the executive group were W. C. Blankenship, vice-chairman, D. S. Riley, secretary. Named to a sub-committee to assist in plans for the enrollment were Edna Murray, Ray Griffin and Lewis Price.

Blue Cross is a non-profit organization designed to assist working people and their dependents financially when they need hospital care. Currently, only those protected by group arrangements are able to have Blue Cross in Big Spring, and the contemplated enrollment would broaden the service on a community-wide basis so that all working people might become eligible.

The council voted to begin the special effort on April 14 and to continue it for two weeks. All contracts written during this special two-week campaign will become effective as of May 1, 1947.

Conferring with the group Tuesday evening was W. R. Derr, Abilene, regional director of Blue Cross plan and who will help supervise the community campaign here. Attending were Mayor G. W. Dabney, Robert Currie, W. C.

County Health Director Says Flu Epidemic Reaches Peak

Influenza, which has been prevalent all over America during the past few weeks, apparently has reached its peak, but the disease can be brought quickly to a climax if the public will adhere to a few rules, according to Dr. F. E. Sadler, director of the Midland-Ector-Howard county health unit.

Influenza is caused by a filterable virus (a germ too small to be isolated or seen by a microscope) transmitted from person to person by direct contact, in the droplet from either by coughing, sneezing, talking, or by handling fresh discharge material and carrying it to the mouth or nose by the hands, Dr. Sadler said.

The incubation period is short, usually from 24 to 48 hours, the health unit director pointed out, and fever, cough, and pains in the head, back and limbs are almost always present.

The fever usually lasts three days and causes the weakening effect of influenza. Fever lasting longer ordinarily means a complication, usually bronchitis or even pneumonia, Dr. Sadler warned.

He cautioned that termination of the acute symptoms does not indicate complete recovery. Many persons believe this to be true and prematurely return to their daily routine, Dr. Sadler declared. They usually suffer relapse, he pointed out, but others may plod along in a weakened state, continuing to lower their resistance and invite prolonged trouble.

Dr. Sadler encouraged the public to observe four rules for treating and curtailing the spread of influenza.

- (1). Keep away from persons who are coughing and sneezing, also from persons known to have influenza.
- (2). Avoid crowds when the disease is prevalent.
- (3). Keep fit. Get plenty of rest, avoid getting over-tired, get plenty of fresh air, sunshine, proper food and outdoor exercise.
- (4). At the first sign of influenza go to bed and stay there until a physician says it is safe to resume usual activities. Discourage visitors.

Blaze On Army Ship Doused

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 20. (P)—Fire headquarters reported that a blaze which broke out early today aboard the Army Transport "George Washington" anchored at the foot of Chapel Avenue in New York Bay had been extinguished.

The blaze burned out the interior of the officers lounge on the top deck, officials reported. No one was reported injured. There was no immediate report if any passengers were aboard the vessel.

Nine fire companies aided by fireboats from New York and railroad tugs joined in combating the blaze.

Fire Chief Frank Ertel said origin of the blaze was not known immediately, and no estimate of damages was available.

The ship was estimated by fire officials to be about 700 feet long and to weigh about 25,000 tons.

Drive Planned Against Greek Guerilla Forces

SALONIKA, Greece, March 20. (P)—Greek government troops were reported ready to begin full-scale operations today against guerillas in the neighborhood of Mount Grammos near the Albanian border.

Alexis Kyrkou, Greek liaison officer with the United Nations Balkan Investigating Commission here, made a formal announcement of the planned drive last night.

The area selected is that in which Russian and Polish delegates on a commission team remained last Sunday when the rest of the team gave up a two-day effort to get in touch with Rebel "Gen. Markos" and pulled out.

Official commission sources said that at last reports the Russian and Polish representatives were in the plateau village of Kastanofiti near Mount Grammos and northeast of the Grevena plain. The delegates had announced their intention to keep trying for a meeting with "Markos."

Greek Army spokesmen meanwhile charged yesterday that the delegates' presence in guerrilla country was interfering with government troop operations around Asproklissia.

They said soldiers fighting guerillas there held their fire on a group mounted on mules and waving a white flag for fear the group might be the Slavs from the commission.

Arbitration Asked In CIO Oil Strike

HOUSTON, March 20. (P)—CIO Oil Workers have offered to end their six-day strike at the Shell Oil Company's Deer Park refinery and chemical plant if the company will arbitrate the 14 points at issue.

C. H. Cansler, president of the Union's Local 367, announced yesterday after a day of negotiations with company officials and James C. Hubbard, United States Labor conciliator, that his organization was ready to arbitrate.

Earlier this week Shell officials said the union was asking for arbitration of "broad management responsibilities."

Fruit Juice Salad Dressing

- 1 cup grapefruit juice
- 1 cup juice in which dried apricots were cooked (or any canned fruit juice)
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 3 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon mustard
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 egg

Mix sugar and cornstarch well with salt, dissolve in the 2 cups fruit juice and stir over low flame until slightly thickened. Add lightly beaten egg and cook two minutes longer. Remove from flame, add mustard and vinegar, and whip until smooth. If more sugar is desired by those who do not like dressing so tart, this may be added last. Store in covered refrigerator jar. Good on all fruit salads, on just plain lettuce, too; but best of all on avocado Lay half avocado on bed of shredded lettuce and put tablespoonful of this dressing in place where seed came out. It's really luscious!

Old Fashioned Supper Built Around Flavorful, Browned Salt Pork Strips

Now that spring is in the air, it's well to serve some of those old fashioned suppers, built around flavorful, browned strips of salt pork. During the days of scarcity of meats, many women took a leaf from Grandma's cook book and tried a few of the meat recipes that were regular fare. Men folks like suppers of well browned salt pork, cream gravy, potatoes boiled in the jackets, cole slaw, hot corn bread, coffee and baked apples. The tantalizing fragrance of salt pork's fryin' is a pleasant greeting at the end of the day. And that luscious cream gravy on boiled potatoes needs only an assurance of plenty to satisfy the hungry family.

One-fourth to one-third inch slices of salt pork, pan-fried to just the right shade of brownness, make a tasty dish with hot cooked cabbage, spinach or boiled potatoes. To a cup of hot drippings, add 2 tablespoons of vinegar, 1/4 cup of minced onion and a teaspoon of celery seed. Boil to blend, add the crisp strip of pork and pour over the cooked vegetable. Stir lightly with a fork to blend well. Serve plenty.

For toppings to bland, starchy foods, slices of salt pork give accent. The flavorful drippings seep down and season the whole dish. Macaroni, rice, noodles, navy beans, lima beans and sliced, cooked potatoes with onions, all call for a top layer of salt pork for baking perfection.

With eggs, or fried corn meal mush, French toast or hashed browned potatoes, fine browned slices of salt pork make the supper a meal to remember.

2 tablespoons cold water

Wash, scrape and cook the parsnips in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and mash. There should be one and a half cups of pulp. Place pulp in sauce pan and add lemon juice, butter or margarine, the slightly beaten egg, cream, salt and pepper. Stir and cook over flame until hot. Cool and shape into croquettes. Beat the other egg with cold water and then dip croquettes in flour, then in egg and last in bread crumbs. Fry in hot fat until golden brown. Drain on unglazed paper.

Shrub No Good Until It Is Planted

Recently the chamber of commerce beautification committee completed a contest for the naming of an "official" living memorial shrub for Big Spring. In balloting crepe myrtle, a vigorous and beautiful flowering plant won by an overwhelming majority.

To follow up on this, the committee now is urging people to enter a sort of contest for planting the shrub this year. It costs nothing to enter except the investment one might have in the plants. For every good plant established, everyone would win, and for contest purposes the plants which make the best showing the first year would entitle the grower to some additional award beyond the personal satisfaction of having beautified his premises.

Thus, this is an entirely worthy undertaking. It's real value would be in encouraging the planting of this living memorial to our servicemen and women. The interest generated in a contest might stimulate planting of the shrub. After all, an "official" shrub is of no value unless it is planted in general profusion. Obviously, this is not a one year undertaking, but a good start would start the snowball to rolling.

Much benefit would accrue to us as a community. Aside from the beauty that the shrub would lend to our city, it might, if it became popular enough, give our city a mark of distinction. Speak of the "red-bud" city and you think immediately of Denton. There is no good reason why, in time, we might not earn the same association for Big Spring and crepe myrtle. So won't you call the chamber and enter the contest. You can't lose.

Priority For Humanitarian Goal

The Texas legislature is and will continue to be beset constantly by appeals for appropriations to cover needed services. It will be impossible to meet all needs, and so some will be called upon to make a choice in behalf of the most urgent items.

With this in mind, it seems to us that the choice should heavily favor educational and eleemosynary needs. We think that it will be necessary to take some vigorous and bold action to meet the crisis in education, for whatever we do will be of little lasting value unless we rear a generation with the best possible training it can get.

Next to this, we feel that humanitarianism demands prior consideration. This covers our field of eleemosynary service. We have seen the need for better financial support to insure more adequate staffs, and, as the need can be met, for more adequate facilities. We believe that the move to include a special institution for spastics is proper.

The Texas Tuberculosis association is fighting for legislation which would result in two additional state sanatoriums for those afflicted by the white plague. Public and private patient beds for tuberculars number only about 1,500 in Texas, and twice that number die of the infection each year. Sixty-eight per cent die in their homes, largely because they cannot be hospitalized.

Although Texas population has increased sharply in the past 20 years, little has been done toward increasing sanatorium facilities. East and South Texas are entitled to a sanatorium to serve their areas and relieve pressure on West Texas.

Group Needed To Clear Tax Jungle

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Taxes in this country, in many cases, are an overlapping jumble.

For example, The federal government, at least 29 states, and a number of cities have separate taxes on tobacco.

This means duplication of effort, records, time, manpower, and office space.

But who's going to straighten it out?

Senator O'Connor, Maryland Democrat, wants Congress to set up a special commission.

Its job would be to try to find some way of making the tax set-up better, smoother, more coordinated between federal, state and city governments.

In 1944 a special committee, appointed by the secretary of the treasury, made a study of all the big problems would be: How to get the federal government and the states to coordinate their efforts on collecting taxes without making the states feel that the federal government was sticking its nose in their business.

Something might be done here to avoid duplication of effort in collecting taxes by collecting state and federal taxes at the same time.

One of the best examples of overlapping taxes is alcohol: the federal government has a tax on it; so do states, so do cities.

England Is Still World Power

England's colorful ambassador to Washington, Lord Inverchapel, declares he rejects any suggestion that Britain "is finished as a world power," thereby challenging those prophets who view John Bull's future darkly.

Addressing the English-speaking union and the Richmond (Va.) Forum, Inverchapel asserted with characteristic forthrightness that he failed "to follow the arguments of people who say that our guts have withered and shriveled within us and that we have lost our power and will to work." He added that Britons still have the guts which "will carry us out of the present crisis as they have carried us out of far graver crises in the past."

I question whether Lord In-verchapel would find many among well-informed Americans who would bet him that he is wrong in this declaration. The determination of the followers of Winston Churchill through the valley of "blood, toil, tears and sweat," is still too fresh in our minds to permit of doubts about England's stability.

Still it would be absurd to believe that the capital of the British Commonwealth of Nations — encompassing Canada, Australia, New Zealand, The Union of South Africa and England herself — had ceased to be a world power. We must recognize, though, that its strength lies in the fact that it is the heart of that Commonwealth.

Had there been any doubt about the significance of this metamorphosis it would be dis-

Ethel Barrymore On Limb, Too

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—With spring training well under way, baseball writers are climbing out on a limb in predicting this year's pennant winners. Imagine their surprise to find Ethel Barrymore out there with them.

After due consideration, the great lady of the stage and now the screen came forth with the following selections:

"The same winners as last year—St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Red Sox, although the Cleveland Indians have a good chance."

Baseball is no newly acquired fad with Miss Barrymore; she's been following the sport since she was three. "My dad was a great fan," she explained. "And my brothers were both good players, especially Lionel."

Her all-time favorites? "Walter Johnson, Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker."

Betty Hutton and Frank Sinatra were chatting in a corner, and guess what about—their kids. Betty was telling how intelligent her four - months - old daughter is, and Frank described his plight when he was driving in from Palm Springs that evening and little Nancy asked, "Where does the sun go, Daddy?"

"The Beginning or the End" (MGM—110 minutes) is a film that approaches the importance of its subject—the atom bomb. It is a humanized history of bomb's development, which means the story is embellished with the usual Hollywood boy-

Europeans Sing American Hits

BERLIN (AP)—Meet a youngster in the Balkans singing "Don't Fence Me In" or a farmer in Italy humming "To Each His Own" and it's a fair bet they heard these American tunes on one of radio Munich's most popular programs entitled "Die Zehn der Woche (The Ten of the Week)."

Its weekly list is selected from listener requests. So popular is the program that it draws an average of four to five thousand letters, postcards and telegrams per month. This jumps to seven thousand per month when American musical films are playing in Munich. Currently "Sun Valley Serenade," with Sonja Henie and the late Glenn Miller, is playing in Munich and requests for songs from this film have topped requests in recent weeks.

'Iron Hindenburg' Makes Fire Wood

BERLIN, (AP)—The huge "Iron Hindenburg," heroic-size wooden statue of the late German field marshal and president, Paul von Hindenburg, has been split up and fed into the furnaces of shivering Berliners during the cold wave.

The "Iron Hindenburg" was built during the first World War to raise funds for the Kaiser's army. Berliners were allowed to pound iron, silver or gold nails into the statue, depending on the size of their contribution. More than 1,500,000 nails were driven into the statue.

Poland Recovers Fraction Of Radium

WARSAW, (AP)—Representatives of the war reparations office handed over to Dr. Tadeusz Michajda, newly appointed minister of health, a consignment of 303 milligrams of radium, recovered from Germany.

The radium, valued at $450,000, was found in Kiel, in the British zone of occupation. It was part of the radium supply taken by the Germans during the war from the Curie-Skłodowska institute in the University of Lublin.

Before the war, Poland possessed a total of four grams of radium.

Indians Play Cowboy

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—The old western game of cowboys-and-Indians is being given a new twist by the "Lost Children of the Everglades"—the Seminoles. These Indians are playing cowboy.

The tribe is going into the cattle business just like the Palefaces. A foundation herd contributed by the Federal Government in 1937 has grown so that the tribe now has 2,400 Herefords on one reservation and 1,000 native cattle crossed with Brahmas bulls on a second reservation in the Big Cypress country.

"Last year the two herds netted $55,000 through the sale of steers and beef cattle," said K. A. Marmon, superintendent of the Seminole agency.

Marmon hopes soon to spread cattle raising throughout the tribe on an individual basis by issuing small quantities of stock from the main tribal herds to heads of families.

The families would then back an equivalent number of cattle to the tribal herd after five years from the normal increase of their own herd.

Seminole now earn a precarious living in seasonal employment on vegetable farms and selling curios to tourists. Marmon hopes that cattle raising will give them their first chance to build a real economy and the agency is training the Indians on herd management. They take to cowboy life like their ancestors did to firewater.

"Most of the boys own their own saddle horses now," Marmon said, "and they wear boots and spurs and neckerchiefs just like the western cowboys. But dungarees take the place of chaps and they wear straw as well as felt hats."

After riding herd all day the boys like best to relax at night

Marines Used As Officers' Servants

WASHINGTON.—The US Marine Corps, with one of the greatest fighting records in the world, has now reduced to the degradation of acting as servants.

The Marines don't like to admit it, but two official orders signed by Col. Donald J. Kendall cannot be disputed. Despite the great record of the Marines at Iwo Jima, Tarawa, and a dozen other places, and despite Marine Regulation 553 which states that "Under no circumstances shall any enlisted man be employed as a servant," they have recently been drafted as servants just the same.

The orders were issued at Marine barracks in the District of Columbia, oldest Marine Corps post in the USA, to serve at two cocktail parties given by the Marine Corps commandant, General Alexander A. Vandegrift.

The first order drafted 12 sergeants and seven corporals to act as bartenders, persistently tried to see Truman prior to his message on Greece to urge him to torpedo the United Nations. Truman was "busy."

END OF MARINES? Interesting light on the future of the Marine Corps was given by Brig. Gen. Frank Armstrong in an off-the-record talk before a group of naval officers at a dinner tendered by Norfolk, Va., businessmen. Gen. Armstrong, who is part Indian and who had a fine record in training B-29 crews, really let his hair down regarding the future role of the Army Air Force and the Marines, as follows:

"You gentlemen had better understand that the Army Air Force is tired of being a subordinate outfit and is no longer going to be a subordinate outfit. It was a predominant force during the war and it is going to be a predominant force during the peace and you might as well make up your minds whether you like it or not, the Army Air Force is going to run the show."

"You (the Navy) are not going to have anything but a couple of carriers which are ineffective anyway, and they will probably be sunk in the first battle."

"Now as for the Marines, you know what the Marines are. They are a small fouled-up army talking Navy lingo. We're going to put those Marines in the regular Army, and make efficient soldiers out of them. The Navy is going to end up by only supplying the requirements of Army Air and Ground Forces too."

"The Army is going to take over Norfolk. We're here now and we're going to stay. We know this is a Navy town and a Navy hangout, but Army Air is

UNDER THE DOME

While there is great love lost between Republican Leaders Vandenberg of Michigan and Taft of Ohio, they keep up the social amenities. The other day when Life Magazine published a full-page picture of Vandenberg, together with his letter disclaiming White House ambitions, Van took the magazine over to Taft's seat on the Senate floor. It looked as if he were trying to prove to Taft that he was not a presidential contender . . . Earl Long, brother of Huey Long, is slated to run as governor of Louisiana again. Opposing him probably will be Sam Jones, the ex-governor who once defeated the Huey Long machine also Congressman Jimmy Morrison, sometimes called the second Kingfish of Louisiana . . . A group of liberal solons—Taylor of Idaho, Murray of Montana, Pepper of Florida, and Helen Gahagan Douglas of California—persistently tried to see Truman prior to his message on Greece to urge him to torpedo the United Nations. Truman was "busy."

ARMY GETS FILM OSCAR

It went unnoticed in all the hoopla about the motion picture Oscars handed out in Hollywood, but Secretary of War Patterson and his subordinates also got a highly important award from the motion picture academy.

They were given the Oscar for producing the best documentary film of the year, "Seeds of Destiny," a truly great film.

The picture deals with the children of Europe and shows how the seeds of the future are being planted right now in these children. They can become future Mussolinis and Tojos, just as Hitler predicted would grow up in post-war turmoil of Europe. Or with care and food they can become future Einsteins and Madame Curies.

It is a dramatic story. However, it is significant that the American Theatre Association has refused to show this picture even though the War Department offers it free. Reason: It is too long. It takes up twenty minutes. And the theatre association doesn't seem inclined to devote twenty minutes to a better work.

Note—Credit for producing "Seeds of Destiny" goes to the Army's "Information and Education Division," headed by Gen. Joe Collins, the hero of Cherbourg, and run by Gen. Buck Lenham.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Chalk up a bad strategic error for the Republicans for gutting the Labor Department's conciliation service. This is one federal agency which has done more than any other to stop strikes. But GOPers, despite their far-fare about strikes, now threaten to stymie conciliation service appropriations . . . While Republican leaders were trying to get a two-thirds majority in the Senate to block a future presidential third term, some of their best Roosevelt-hating colleagues were absent. Seven senators were being entertained by Roosevelt-hating Colonel Bertie McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, who was giving a gala dinner for Republican leaders. This was one reason why Senator Taft abandoned his plan to hold night sessions three times a week. Instead, only one night session will be held weekly . . . The State Department, now preparing to move into new offices in the War Department, has a shuttle bus operating between the two buildings. A sign on the bus reads: "State to War." . . . Could this be significant?

Whisky Won't Cure Snake Bites

An age-old custom among outdoor men is to take a bottle of whisky on hunting trips just in case of snake bites. Most of them will tell you it's a sure-fire snake bite cure.

Don't let the wife see this, but

Lawrence Curtis of Dallas says it isn't so. Not only that, but Mr. Curtis, whose penchant is collecting snakes, says whisky will no more cure snake bites than it will cure a cold.

Now, many may argue with Mr. Curtis about the cold cure and we wish we hadn't brought it up. It clouds the issue. The issue is snake bite.

Whisky, says Mr. Curtis, is really harmful in case of snake trouble because whisky makes the heart beat faster, and causes the venom to rush to the heart that much faster. And, he says, the main idea in treating snake bite is to keep the poison from reaching the heart.

Speaking of Demon Rum, Prof. K. M. Renner, head of the Department of Dairy Manufactures at Texas Tech, Lubbock, says a drunk once gave him a good idea. He's been thankful ever since.

Renner was making a report on a rather dry subject. A drunk wandered over to him and said,

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Richard L. Anderson gave an old suit to a war relief drive for Holland. In the pocket was a New York tailor's name and also Anderson's, with no address. Jan G. van der Tas, a Dutchman from Bruekeleen, Holland, received the suit, wrote the tailor for Anderson's address and now the Richmonder has his thanks.

"It's a great feeling to have a thing like this happen, and to know you've helped to make at least one person happy," Anderson said.

Then he added: "The way the clothing situation is now, I've a good mind to write and ask that guy to send the suit back."

Here's a Fruit Nut Loaf Cake That's a Real Friend in Need

A LOAF cake on the pantry shelf is a friend in need, especially if it has the "keeping" qualities that come from lots of nut meats and fruits. Now that cake flour is back, it's easy to make a super loaf cake that is sure of top rating, with a fine, light texture and delicious flavor. This low-sugar cherry nut loaf is made by one of the new mix-easy recipes that call for only one bowl and only three minutes' beating, so it's a quick and easy task to produce a masterpiece.

This is a specially good cake to choose when your sugar supply needs conserving, for it calls for only a half cup of the precious sugar and it needs no frosting. A good way to keep a loaf cake is to wrap it in waxed paper, after it has cooled thoroughly on a wire rack before putting it in the cake box. Be sure to use care when cutting a cake containing nuts and fruits. The knife should be sharp for best results.

Cherry Nut Cake
1-3/4 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup light corn syrup or honey
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup finely chopped candied cherries
1/2 cup finely chopped citron
1 cup chopped nut meats
Sift flour once; measure into sifter with baking powder, salt, and 1/4 cup of the sugar.
Beat egg whites until foamy. Add remaining 1/4 cup sugar gradually, beating only until mixture will stand up in soft peaks; set aside.

Have shortening at room temperature: mix or stir just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients; add corn syrup mixed with milk, and almond extract, and mix until all flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes. Add meringue mixture and beat 1 minute longer. Fold in fruits and nuts.

Turn into a 9x5x3-inch loaf pan which has been lined on the bottom with paper, then greased. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) one hour, or until done. Let stand overnight before slicing.

Note: Mix cake by hand or in electric mixer. With mixer, use high speed for egg white mixture and a low speed for batter. Count only actual beating time. Or count beating strokes. Allow about 150 full strokes per minute. Scrape bowl and spoon often while mixing.

Apple Sauce Cookies
1-1/4 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/4 cup shortening
1 teaspoon lemon rind
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
1 cup apple sauce
2/3 cup coarsely chopped nut meats
1 cup raisins
Sift flour once; measure, add baking powder, spices, salt, and soda, and sift again. Cream shortening and lemon rind, add sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add flour, alternately with apple sauce, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add nuts and raisins. Drop from teaspoon onto greased baking sheet, 2 inches apart. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

Veal, Noodle Casserole Perfect Supper Dish

United Fruit's Middle America Test Kitchen gives you the perfect answer to the question of what to serve for an informal buffet supper—a Veal and Noodle Casserole—one of the many and varied unusual recipes borrowed from Middle America. The flavor combination of sour cream and typical Middle American seasonings sets it apart from the ordinary meat and noodle combinations.

Although today's recipe makes 6 or 8 generous servings, you can very easily double or triple the quantity depending on the number of your guests. It can be prepared ahead of time and simply slipped into the oven so it will be piping hot at serving time, thus avoiding hurried last minute preparation.

Serve this Veal and Noodle Casserole with a big salad bowl of tossed greens, crusty bread sticks and a deep dish apple pie with cheese wedges. Your reputation as a hostess will rate high.

Veal and Noodle Casserole
1-2 pounds lean veal, cut in 1-2 inch cubes

1 cup sliced onions
3 teaspoons salt
1-2 cups water
1 package (8 oz.) broad noodles, cooked
1-2 cups sliced mushrooms, cooked
1-4 teaspoon pepper
1-2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1-2 teaspoon chili powder
1-4 cup chopped pimiento
1 cup thick sour cream
1-2 cup buttered bread crumbs
Add veal, onions and 1 teaspoon salt to water. Cover and simmer about 1-2 hours, or until veal is very tender. Combine veal, veal stock, noodles and mushrooms in a 3-quart casserole or baking pan. Mix together remaining 2 teaspoons salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, chili powder, pimiento and sour cream. Add to veal mixture and blend. Cover top with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.
NOTE:—If veal stock does not measure 1-2 cups add enough water to make that amount.

Plans Advanced For Improvement Of Irrigation Project

A bureau of reclamation report on a plan for the rehabilitation of the Fort Sumner (N.M.) irrigation project on the Pecos river has been approved by Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug.

Copies of the recommendation have been sent to the affected states of New Mexico and Texas and to the secretary of war for review prior to submission to congress for authorization.

The report points out that irrigation was initiated first in the area in 1863 and has been practiced continuously since 1903. The present Fort Sumner irrigation district was organized in 1919 and in recent years about 5,000 of the 8,000 acres covered have been under irrigation. The proposed project would be to protect the current operations from repeated flood damage and to insure ample reserve for serving 6,500 acres. Estimated cost, based on present construction factors, would be nearly $1,800,000, of which water users would repay $1,040,000 over 40 years.

Services Held For Pecos Fire Victims

PECOS, March 20. (P)—Funeral services were held at Saragosa yesterday for Angelina Lopez, 22, and her two children, who died Tuesday from burns received in a fire that destroyed their home. The children were Maria, 9, and Marguerita, one.

The fire is said to have started when the mother tried to start a kitchen fire with kerosene.

188-Year-Old Longfellow Home Rented

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (P)—The 188-year-old Henry Wadsworth Longfellow house in Cambridge's exclusive Brattle St. has been turned into a rooming house because of the housing shortage.

The Cambridge board of appeals has granted Miss Anna L. Thorp, the poet's grandniece, permission to use the historic colonial mansion in this fashion provided a fire escape is installed.

Eleven persons, including three Radcliffe students lodged in the attic, now occupy the house under the technical classification of "guests."

Washington slept here. The structure was his headquarters for some time after he came to Cambridge to take command of the Continental Army.

The house was built about 1759 by Col. John Vassall, a refugee in the Revolution. Its graceful proportions and plastered entrance make it an outstanding example of New England Georgian architecture.

This is not the first time it was used as a rooming house. Longfellow originally came there as a young Harvard professor to lodge with the Widow Craigie. Later he married his landlady's daughter and lived in the house for 50 years.

Wig Shortage Hits Barristers

SYDNEY, (P)—Young barristers being called to the bar in Australia find they cannot practice law—because they cannot obtain wigs.

No wigs have been imported since 1939.

A leading barristers' supplier said: "Barristers' wigs are made by hand of horsehair. A London firm has a virtual monopoly." Local wig-makers have never tried their hand at lawyers' wigs.

A wig in an Australian court is absolutely essential. If a barrister appears without one, the stern judge would declaim: "Mr. —, I cannot see you." Any statements the barrister made would be ignored, and the court would proceed as though he were not there.

Additional Bank Assets Revealed

DALLAS, March 20. (P)—Sam Alexander, trustee in the bankruptcy case of Jim Berry Banks, Greenville automobile dealer, informed Bankruptcy Referee Ralph W. Currie that additional assets of the banks firm have been turned over to him.

Alexander made the report at a show cause hearing yesterday before Currie. The hearing resulted from recent filing of federal charges of concealment of assets against Banks. Defense attorneys labelled the hearing a "fishing expedition."

Alexander said some office furniture and deeds to land in Hopkins and Hunt counties and Greenville real estate were turned over to him Tuesday.

Greek Freighter Damaged By Mine

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Mar. 20. (P)—The 4,355-ton Greek freighter Alexandria was being towed to the Port of Amsterdam by rescue tugs today after striking a mine yesterday off the west Frisian islands.

The stricken ship was reported listing heavily, but her crew still was aboard.

The Alexandria sailed from Baltimore Feb. 19 with a cargo of hides and was en route to Amsterdam when she struck the mine.

EARTHY IDEA IN LEGISLATURE

DES MOINES, Ia., March 20. (P)—State Representative Harold Nelson has his own scheme for speeding up adjournment of the Iowa legislature.

The Sioux City Republican has a cigar box filled with earth on his desk in the House chamber. Sprouts of corn, wheat and oats are visible.

"When the corn gets a couple of inches high," Nelson said, "the farmer members will become restless and will want to go home."

Land Owners May Benefit From Report On Spur Farm Experiment

Land owners of Howard County, who have built terraces in the past and those who intend to seek AAA assistance in terracing their soil in the future, may benefit by a recent report made by R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the Spur experiment farm, on an experiment in terracing covering a period of 20 years.

Three similar ten-acre tracts of tilled land were used in the test. One tract was terraced with a system of level terraces with the outlets closed. Another was contour listed while the third was farmed with straight rows "up and down the hill."

The terraced tract averaged $9.57 per acre return over the straight rows. In addition, the terraced field produced $6.07 per acre more cotton than the contour field. There was six times

City Will Help Finance Airfield

McALLEN, March 20. (P)—A plan to finance McAllen's share of proposed $50,000 improvements at Miller Municipal Airport will be submitted soon to the directors of the chamber of commerce.

The plan, drawn up by the City Airport Commission and local business men, calls for the chamber of commerce to undertake $25,000 in revenue warrants by using reserve funds and to pay them off as the money accumulates.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration has already certified the McAllen airport as eligible for $24,691 under the Federal Airport Aid program.

Improvements proposed would make the field a Class Two airport. They include an east-west 3,000-foot runway, two taxi strips, an apron, a north-south sod runway and drainage.

Railway Journal 'Writes Up' City

A picture of the municipal auditorium is carried in the publication, along with an article about highlights of the city, contrasting its pioneer days with the present growing city of around 20,000 people.

Mayor G. W. Dabney, who was interviewed for the article, was regarded as one who attended to his municipal duties "with fatherly love which might be given a private business" and "jealousy guarding the good name of his wonderful town."

2,000 Get Flu

BEAUMONT, March 20. (P)—About 2,000 pupils of the 13,000 students enrolled in Beaumont's schools were absent from classes yesterday because of the flu. Dr. F. W. Sutton, city health officer, said, however, that schools will not be closed immediately.
