Big Sea Port Falls To Reds

Constanta, Main Nazi Base, Taken As Russians Slash Near Bulgaria Border

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 29—Russian forces in a daring combined land and sea operation today captured Constanta, Romania's great Black Sea port and for three years the main German naval base in those waters.

Seizure of the city of 60,000 represented an 85-mile advance by sea from the port of Sulina, taken Monday, and of 70 miles by land from Tulcea on the Danube, and it put Russian troops only 29 miles from the Bulgarian border.

Constanta, terminus of the oil pipeline from Ploesti, has at least 37 huge petroleum storage tanks and a special tanker basin.

In announcing its fall, Premier Stalin credited fast-moving motorized and tank formations of Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian Army and naval forces under Admiral E. S. Oktyadrsky.

Near Ceded Territory

Twenty-nine miles farther south lies the border established in September, 1940, when Romania ceded the southern Dobruja territory of 2,883 square miles below the Danube to Bulgaria under pressure from Bulgaria, Germany and Italy.

Bulgaria is not at war with Russia and has been seeking to get out of her war against Britain and the United States.

The Germans already had acknowledged during the day that Soviet troops had reached the Ploesti-Constanta pipeline.

They also admitted withdrawing from Buzau, oil and railway town 40 miles northwest of Ploesti.

The Soviet midnight communique, confirming capture of Buzau, said more than 150 other towns were taken in the extending drive in that region less than 60 miles northeast of Bucharest. The communique also listed 50 towns taken in the southward sweep across the Danube to Constanta.

Gains of as much as 25 miles were registered in a single day in the area south of the Danube and north and northwest of Constanta, an early-morning supplement to the communique said, while gains of 19 miles were made in the drive that was declared to have sent the Germans pelting out of Buzau in "disorderly flight."

The Russians were silent on the progress of the thrust into Hungarian territory.

With Russian mountain troops invading Hungarian-held Transylvania at two points to the northwest, the shadow of a potential death trap fell over the Germans still standing to defend the vital Ploesti oil region.

At least one division of elite antiaircraft troops is believed to be in the Ploesti district, plus the Nazi forces driven out of Bucharest by the Romanian Army and those falling back before the Soviet drive down through Focsani and Buzau.

Germans In Headlong Flight From France

Yanks Lunge East Rapidly In World War I Territory

By WILLIAM F. BONI
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Wednesday, Aug. 30.—The Germans in northern France were in headlong flight today before American armored columns that roared into Soissons, only 55 miles from Belgium and clattered past the vineyards of Champagne to Chalons, within 96 miles of the German border.

The U. S. Third Army in a dash of more than 25 miles across hallowed American battlefields of the first World war, had captured Chateau-Thierry and Belleau Wood and was driving on northward along the historic invasion route towards the forest of Ardennes.

DRIVE ON ROCKET COAST

WITH BRITISH TROOPS EAST OF THE SEINE, Aug. 29. (AP)—A British general issued a special order of the day today saying that the drive to wipe out the German flying bomb bases in northern France was about to start and "for the first time in this war we are fighting directly to free our homes, our wives and our children from German attacks."

"Every yard we advance reduces the area from which he can launch his secret weapons," the general said in the message to his troops. "I realize that with this goal in front of us there is no need to urge you men onwards."

Nazi Plans Dislocated

The Americans dislocated many German plans for a stand along the Aisne river and posed a potent threat to the entire German flank as well as to the most feasible route for withdrawal of the Nazi 15th Army that guards the flying-bomb sites of the Pas de Calais coast.

The British Second Army was thrusting to those secret weapon bases with the motto "one more kilometer, one less bomb." The westernmost British elements had driven to Entrapagny, 18 miles beyond their original Seine river bridgehead at Vernon.

Covering miles for each bloody yard their fathers won in 1918, the Americans under Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, jr., encountered only minor resistance, and Associated Press correspondent Edward D. Ball reported from the front that the Germans were "in head-

Pro-Nazi Cabinet In Hungary Falls

By RICHARD R. KASISCHKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 29—The Hungarian government of pro-Nazi Doeme Sztojay fell today amid Allied and Aix reports that Nazi troops were withdrawing from Bulgaria to bolster the Hungarian frontier defenses against the approaching Red Army.

The Hungarian regent, Admiral Nicholas Horthy, accepted the resignation of Sztojay's government and appointed Col. Gen. Vitez Geza Lakatos as new premier, according to the German news agency, Transocean.

At the same time the Germans occupied Slovakia, pouring troops into that puppet country because of recent parachutist and guerrilla activitity there.

Under Martial Law

The occupation of Nazi-created Slovakia was disclosed in a broadcast of Gen. Ferdinand Catlos, commander in chief of Slovakia's armed forces, over the Bratislavia radio. The nation had been under martial law since Aug. 12.

Catlos appealed to the people to receive the Germans as allies and obey "only government orders."

The Hungarian development followed a visit to Budapest by Field Marshal Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, supreme commander of German forces. Keitel flew back to Berlin after conferences with Horthy and War Minister Lajos Csatay, who retained his place in the reshuffled cabinet.

BULGARS SAID READY

ANKARA, Turkey, Aug. 29. (AP)—It was believed in Ankara tonight that Stoicho Moshanov, Bulgarian peace emissary, had informed the Allies of Bulgaria's acceptance of armistice terms.

Although there was no confirmation, informed sources said an armistice with Bulgaria was imminent. Owing to military considerations, it was said, the document might be signed at Cairo.

Moshanov, bearing evidences of hard traveling, rushed to a hotel room where he was joined by the Bulgarian minister to Turkey and the Bulgarian consul general.

Frantic Nazi Moves

Thus Hitler appeared to be frantically shoring up the greater Reich's last defenses against the onrushing Russians, who already have been reported crossing the Carpathian mountains into Hungarian territory.

Occupied Hungary—frightened by the Red Army and its promise to help Romanians recover Transylvania—has been quailing politically under German demands for a "total war" effort.

Qualified observers in London saw the Hungarian reshuffle—executed within 24 hours of the Russian crossing into Transylvania—as producing a Hungarian "Man-

Battle In South Nearing Finish

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROME, Aug. 29—The battle for southern France and destruction of the German 19th Army neared completion tonight as uncounted thousands of Nazis trudged back to Allied prison camps and disorganized enemy remnants fled up the Rhone valley, scattering their equipment behind them.

The greater part of the Army to which Adolf Hitler entrusted the defense of southern France against Allied invasion has been wiped out in a fortnight's whirlwind campaign by Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's American and French 7th Army.

Fleeing Enemy Slashed

Whatever battered remnants managed to slip through the Allied noose and escaped to the north will have to be re-equipped and reorganized completely before they will again be of any real use to Hitler's hard-pressed forces.

American troops slashed relentlessly at the fleeing enemy above Montelimar in the Rhone valley, 100 miles north of Marseille, where a flying Yank column reached the eastern bank of the Rhone river in a surprise thrust last week. Montelimar itself was in American hands.

Allied headquarters said American tanks and infantry were locked in a particularly bitter fight with enemy elements in the area of Sauzet, four miles up the Rhone valley from Montelimar. From Montelimar to the sea west of Marseille the great valley was declared free of Nazis except for a scattered few who were left behind in the enemy's mad scramble to escape the Allied trap.

According To Plan

(A German news broadcast told of "fierce fighting" in the Rhone valley between Montelimar and Valence, 27 miles to the north, but declared that Nazi forces were withdrawing "in accordance with plan."

(The enemy radio also confirmed that American troops commanded by Brig. Gen. Frederic Butler had driven north from Grenoble and reached the Swiss border near Annemasse, five miles east of Geneva. Capt. Ludwig

Strike Leads To Plant's Seizure

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 29. (AP)—The War department took possession of the strikebound International Nickel Co. at 10 p. m. tonight.

A broadcast announcement by Lt. Col. George D. Woods, representing the secretary of war said:

"Operation by the department is effective immediately, pursuant to an executive order by the President. Employes are requested to report for work on their next regular shifts."

The company had no comment.

The President directed the seizure only a few hours after the War Labor board had referred the case to the White House. A White House announcement said that acting Chairman George W. Taylor had reported that the strike of 2,500 employes was in defiance of the WLB and that the government "vitally needed" the steel alloys and rotating bands for large shells which the company produces.

Rapid Action Taken

The WLB yesterday ordered the strikers back to work and then voted today to send the dispute to Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson. Seizure was ordered, the White House said, on the recommendation of Taylor and War Mobilization Director James F. Byrns.

The President's executive order provides that government operation of the company will be terminated within 60 days after the secretary of war determines that the productive efficiency of the plants and facilities have been restored.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—The Army will start sending 90,000,000 Christmas packages overseas next week upon the completion of a huge new postoffice on the site of the former Madison Square garden bowl.

Japs Warned Of Coming Blows

By RAY CRONIN
Associated Press War Editor

The war fury in store for the Japanese homeland was pictured for Tokyo today by American naval chiefs shortly after Nippon military overlords urgently appealed to the empire for increased war production.

As the Japanese militarists urged greater war efforts to ward off the coming storm, the Navy reported new American aerial strikes over a 4,000-mile Pacific front from the Kuriles southward to the Carolines and the Marshalls.

Widespread Areas Blasted

The Yank bombers blasted airfields and other targets in the Volcano islands, 750 miles south of Tokyo, in the Marianas, the western Carolines, the Marshalls and the northern Kuriles.

Furious aerial assaults were continued by Southwest Pacific fliers along the southern flank of the sealane leading toward the Philippines. Bombers and fighters unloaded 188 tons of explosives on Ambon, Amboina island, west of Dutch New Guinea—a tonnage record for a single raid in the Moluccas or Spice islands. They left barracks, harbor works and a 3,000-tone ship in flames.

At Palau, 610 miles west of Davao, Philippines, Liberators hit the harbor and airdromes with 48 tons of bombs.

Landing Said Failed

A Tokyo dispatch, broadcast by Berlin, said American forces landed near Cape Torokina, on Bougainville island, in the Solomons, Aug. 10, but were driven off in Japanese counterattack nine days later. There was no U. S. confirmation of the report.

The relentless American pressure inside Japan's inner defense circle caused the Japanese government to ask its people for increased war production, especially aircraft. Radio Tokyo warned that hostilities "are steadily approaching the homeland," and added more plane production was needed to safeguard the empire's inner defenses.

Simultaneously, Premier Koiso's government prepared to ask a special session of the Diet to approve a program for the increased production of aircraft, munitions and food.

More Bad News For Nips

The Japanese heard bad news from the U. S. Navy's Vice Adm. Aubrey W. Fitch, deputy chief of operations for air. He asserted "Task Force 58, which scourged the Japanese so effectively in the last eight months, was just a sweet summer zephyr compared to the arrangements of ships, planes and other weapons—new and old—which are ready to lash out now."

Bad news for Nippon came also from Marine Maj. Gen. Henry L. Larson, commander of Guam, who disclosed that strategic Marianas island is to become a miniature Pearl Harbor—a base from which to strike the winning blows against Nippon.

Fighting continued unabated on five fronts in embattled China.

Senate Asks Report On Corrigan's Case

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—The Senate War Investigating committee tonight asked the Navy and Justice departments for "full reports" on what had been done with respect to a court martial for John D. Corrigan, Navy commander who was suspended pending investigation of business relations between his former engineering firm and Navy contractors.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) directed Rear Admiral George F. Hussey, jr., chief of the Navy Ordnance bureau, and Hugh O'Donnell, justice department representative, to submit the reports.

Bill Drawn On Teacher Wages

AUSTIN, Aug. 29. (AP)—A rural aid school bill increasing teacher salaries was drawn here today by a joint legislative committee.

Sen. G. C. Morris, of Greenville, chairman of the committee, said Governor Coke Stevenson advised him he would recommend the bill to the legislature as an emergency measure.

It increases salaries in accredited schools from $900 to $1200 per year, and in unaccredited schools from $760 to $1060. Thsi will involve an approximate $4,500,000 appropriation by the legislature to care for the 15,000 rural teachers.

The $180 level for current operating expenses is increased in accredited schools to $240 and in unaccredited schools from $165 to $220.

Transportation. Tuition

The transportation rate is increased from $2.25 to $3.00 per month per high-school child, and $1.75 to $2.50 per elementary child. The present 2 1-2 mile minimum transportation limit still prevails.

High school tuition is upped from $7.50 per pupil per month on a 5 months basis, to $7.50 on a 6 months basis.

Farmers Warned To Plan Storage

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

Maize growers of the South Plains again should prepare to provide their own temporary storage for their new crop.

This word of caution came Tuesday afternoon from Fred G. Gurley, president of the Santa Fe railroad system, on the occasion of his first visit to Lubbock as head of the Santa Fe. He was elevated from the executive vice presidency to the presidency last Aug. 1.

Shortages of equipment and manpower, together with inadequate storage facilities at terminal points, almost certainly will mean that maize can't be loaded, transported and stored as fast as it is harvested, Gurley said.

Must Store Own Grain

Therefore, he continued, emergency provisions must be made on the farms. Growers should be prepared to store the grain on the ground, if necessary, he said.

He expressed the belief, however, that the new crop can be moved about as fast as last year—which was about 60 days after the completion of the harvest.

The Santa Fe president spent several hours during the afternoon driving through farming areas of the county and expressed himself as "terrifically impressed" with agricultural development since his last visit to Lubbock about 18 months ago and, more particularly, since visits to this area five years ago.

"Your crops really are something," he commented. He also expressed pleasure and surprise at the development that has occurred in the Santa Fe's industrial area in Southeast Lubbock since his last visit.

The Santa Fe president commented briefly on a number of other subjects during his several hours' stay in Lubbock, most of it aboard his special train adjacent to the depot.

Thomas Said Seen Night Of Slaying

By R. C. HANKINS
Staff Correspondent

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 29.—Jim Thomas, on trial here for the murder last Oct. 26 of Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield, was in Littlefield the nights of Oct. 24 and 25, according to a witness presented by the state today in a night session in 64th district court here.

Eddie Glass of Clovis, fireman for the Santa Fe railway, testified he saw Thomas both nights in the cafe he was operating at Littlefield at the time of the slayings of the physician and Mrs. Hunt.

The night session was adjourned by Judge C. D. Russell, at 10:30 o'clock. The trial will be resumed at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Nine State Witnesses

Nine witnesses were sent to the stand by the state tonight, two of them as recall witnesses.

They were Glass, Mrs. Irene Moore, described as the former wife of "Red" Craig, and Craig, both of Amarillo; Mrs. Moore (recall); Raymond Waters, Texas Ranger; Norvell Redwine, Texas Ranger, (recall); G. H. McLaughlin, chemist, and Geo. W. Gambill, of the Texas Department of Public Safety at Austin, and Levi Duncan, Texas Ranger.

Mrs. Moore said that when she was living with Craig, Thomas had borrowed their car "numerous times."

Tire Tracks Correspond

Duncan testified that he discovered the right front tire of the Craig car corresponded to the measurements and tread of a tire which left tracks about the time of the slayings in the alley back of the Hunt home. He said he had judged that the tracks left in the alley were made by a left front tire.

Craig, when recalled to the stand, stated that he "understood" that the tires on his car had been switched after his wife had a "blowout." Mrs. Moore was then recalled to the stand. She recalled the "blowout" but she couldn't remember whether the tires were switched before or after the slayings.

Waters and Redwine told of finding a piece of string in the Veasey garage, which the state claims is a piece of the same string found on the Hunts' bed.

Pieces Of String Shown

McLaughlin said that the most scientific methods available it had been determined that the two pieces were from the same length of string, that apparently they had been severed.

Gambill, the other safety department expert, testified that the plaster of cast of the human tracks left outside the Hunt home corresponded with "slight variations" to a similar cast taken of the shoes found in the Veasey closet. He said the shoes may or may not have been buffeted.

Evidence this afternoon shifted sharply from Littlefield to Galveston to Amarillo in a parade of eight witnesses, which added to the morning's seven made 15 state witnesses called up to the 6:30 p. m. recess.

Afternoon Witnesses

Afternoon witnesses were Aubrey Fawver, assistant chief of police at Lubbock, still on the stand from the morning session; Sheriff Sam Hutson of Lamb county (recalled); Redwine, Texas ranger of Lubbock; Dr. Ewell Hunt of Lubbock, brother of the slain doctor; Mrs. Marie Hall, operator of a Galveston shipping agency; R. S. Williams, Vernon telephone exchange operator; Mrs. S. L. Veasey, both of Amarillo, and Deputy Sheriff Dick Vaughn of Amarillo.

Clothing by which the state indicated hopes to connect Thomas with the Hunt slayings was introduced in evidence—tennis shoes, a shirt and a pair of cotton trousers.

Numerous other exhibits were admitted, principally photographs, bits of cord and paper, wire plaster of paris cast of footprints found near the Hunt residence.

Various Things Identified

Fawver this afternoon identified two casts, coathangers and other articles found on the Hunt premises; said the gate in the back yard apparently had been kicked down; said venetian blind in the Hunt bedroom had been broken, and that he found tracks under a tree commanding a view of the bedroom through the broken blind and identified a welter of other state exhibits. Under cross-examination, Fawver admitted that he couldn't say when tracks were made, but insisted that they "looked similar." He couldn't say positively when child's chair at the children's bedroom window, where the murderer evidently entered, had been placed there or when dent and marks had been made in the chair.

"You know that hundreds of tennis shoes of same design probably turned out by manufacturer of shoes that made tracks you cast?" Fawver was asked by Defense Attorney Curtis Douglass.

"That's probably true," the officer answered.

"All this wire and cords and string, aren't they staple in many stores?"

"Yes."

Mixture For Casts

Douglass questioned Fawver closely in regard to the way plaster of paris is mixed for taking impressions of tracks, trying apparently to discredit uniform quality of casts obtained under different mixtures.

After Sheriff Hutson was recalled to the stand, Redwine testified to identity of state exhibits. Particular emphasis was attached to a piece of string Fawver said he had sent to the laboratory at Austin when found on the Hunts' bed. On cross-examination, he said he had not inspected it under microscope, and couldn't say definitely whether it was any different from "great balls of such cord in stores" or whether it had independent characteristics."

Dr. Hunt testified to powder burns on his brother's forehead, on upper bridge of the dead physician's nose between the eyes, and said that gunshot was "most certainly cause of death."

Woman Knew Thomas

Mrs. Hall, fortyish, said she'd known Thomas since she was 13 or 14; recalled seeing him in her office May 13, 1943; said she visited him in hospital (when he was paroled from prison for surgery); saw him Oct. 21, 1943, on a Thursday.

"When next did you talk?"

"On a Saturday," she answered. "He told me he was going to fish on the Sabine river and would be in touch with me in three or four days.

It developed, in response to defense objection, that the conversation was in a telephone call, and Douglass asked if she could swear it was Thomas' voice who made announcement. She said no.

Trip Stricken Out

The jury was instructed not to consider the references to the Sabine fishing trip.

"You ever go with Jim Thomas?" the state asked.

The defense objected, alleging "it is an attempt of the state to bring into issue the character of this witness, which is not an issue in this trial."

The jury was then retired, the fourth time during the afternoon session. Special Prosecutor George Dupree said the question was a predicate for asking if she wouldn't recognize the voice of defendant after long years of association—interrupted by what she called a lapse of "12 years."

Voice To Go Fishing

Mrs. Hall said the voice said he would go fishing.

"Did he say who he was?"

"Yes. He said, 'This is Jim.'

"Did you get a phone call Tuesday night?" (Oct. 26)

"Yes."

"Was it Jim Thomas?"

"To my judgment," Mrs. Hall said.

What did you reply?"

"I told him he'd better fish down that way, that the sheriff wanted to see him."

Objection that her answer was that of a third person was overruled by the court.

Mrs. Hall said, "He said he'd be right down. He'd come and see the sheriff."

Cross-examined by Douglass, Mrs. Hall couldn't swear that the call was from Jim Thomas, but said that the man had stated "this is Jim" and that it "sounded like Jim."

On re-direction questioning, the state asked her telephone number.

"My daughter's phone is 2-094, my office number is 2-3323.

Mighty Attacks Loosed In Air

LONDON, Wednesday, Aug. 30 (AP)—A mighty force of RAF heavy bombers roared across the channel toward Germany during the night and a few hours later the Nazi radio reported attacking planes over Berlin, Danzig, east and west parts of the Reich.

The size of the armada winging away from England, and the German reports of the territory under attack indicated one of the biggest Allied night air assaults in weeks was under way.

While the heavy force was hitting Prussian strongholds, the Germans said that nuisance raiders had approached over northwestern Germany.

The night actions developed after the fourth day of sustained attacks on German transport in France and the Lowlands by U. S. Eighth Air force fighters.

It was 1940 all over again above the French battle zones and beyond, except that this time the planes were American instead of German. There was virtually no opposition.

A recapitulation tonight showed that in three days of the attacks the fliers had restroyed 1,507 railroad cars and damaged 1,874, hit 1,223 motor vehicles, two oil trains, 42 oil tanks, 441 locomotives, 46 barges, three ammunition trains and 82 ammunition carriers.

Today they reported destruction of 90 locomotives and 310 railway cars on lines ranging from Brussels to Lyon in southeastern France. The far-ranging Thunderbolts and Lightnings also hit more than 310 motor vehicles, shot up two railroad roundhouses and a number of warehouses and bombed two tunnels.

U. S. To Be Postwar King In Many Fields

But Hitler and his Jap cronies will gain neither aid nor comfort from these figures dug up by research experts of the Foreign Policy association, who found that after the war the United States alone will hold an estimated:

60 per cent of the world's war industries.

65 per cent of the naval units.

70 per cent of the merchant marine.

75 per cent of the transport and commercial planes.

60 per cent of the fighting and bombing planes.

60 per cent of the silver.

80 per cent of the gold.

Fears Grow That Hitler May Escape Into Neutral Nation

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—Military leaders here are becoming increasingly apprehensive over the possibility that Adolf Hitler and some of his henchmen may fly from their battered inner fortress in the next few weeks and seek refuge in a neutral country.

Concern has become such that a new appeal may be issued t the neutrals not to give sanctuary to the men who led the world into war and now appear bent upon a final drama of unparalleled bloodlust in Europe.

Such an appeal would be directed paticularly to Spain and Argentina, because of their past or present links with the Nazi government of Germany and the strong suspicions current in diplomatic and treasury circles here that the German leaders have stored funds in both countries.

American officials consider it a foregone conclusion that many of the Nazi heirarchy who are too well known to have any chance of concealment in Germany by going underground will try to save themselves from Allied trial and punishment by dramatic airplane escapes.

This last hope of escape, it is believed, is one of the reasons why so many of the top men in Nazidom today are willing to stick with Hitler while all over Europe their political and military fortress is caving in.

What Hitler will do remains the all-consuming speculation in Washington and the conviction of officials with whom the subject has been discussed is that if he is not killed at the last minute by some of his own henchmen he may very well kill himself. There always remains the chance, however, that he will quit the country.

New School Is Named For B. O. McWhorter, Pioneer

LUBBOCK'S newest ward school building will bear the name of the city's and county's pioneer citizens, Burton Owen McWhorter, member of the board of trustees of the Lubbock Independent school district unanimously voted in regular monthly business meeting last night.

The new 8-room building, now under construction and located adjacent to the Arnett-Benson addition, will receive its first pupils sometime between December 1 of 1944, and New Year's day. It will be called "McWhorter school."

Following a custom of naming school buildings for early-day builders of the city and section, the board chose the new building's name after recalling the many years of public service rendered by Mr. McWhorter, a cattleman, who died of pneumonia here on Friday, Feb. 2, 1940, at the age of 71. His memory is connected with the location of the new building, too, board members pointed out, in that an addition to the City of Lubbock, lying just east of the building, was of Mr. McWhorter's making and his ranching property, near what is now Shallowater, was located in the same quarter of the county where the building will stand.

One of the first chamber of commerce presidents in Lubbock—the organization then was "The Lubbock Commercial club"—Mr. McWhorter, along with Rollie C. Burns, organized the first electric light and ice business here; was a leader in the campaign which

REUNION IN GOTHAM

EVELYN BOYD writes from New York there was a reunion of the "Avalanche-Journal Alumni association" in the Big City recently and attending were Mrs. Boyd, Grace Halsell and Sutton Christian. Miss Halsell and Evelyn are former members of the woman's department and Mr. Christian is former star reporter for the Avalanche-Journal publications.

The three are at present with OWI. Miss Halsell, who left Lubbock several months ago to make her home in New York with her sister and subsequently became a copy girl on the New York Times and studied at Columbia university, is in the basic news department of OWI; Mrs. Boyd, who is on leave of absence as director of women's activities for the Amarillo Globe-News, is taking a six months training course which she hopes will lead to overseas assignment.

MR. CHRISTIAN left last week for China. For the past year he has been a Red Cross field director in Alaska and prior to that he was on the Santa Cruz Sentinel. About a decade ago he lived in Lubbock and resigned from his newspaper work to accompany Allan Carney, sports editor, on a trip around the world which terminated in China. It was while a member of the Shanghai Press staff Sutton gained the experience which provided background for his work today.

Mr. Boyd, who couldn't attend the reunion because he is not an A-J ex, was busy with his OWI training course which culminates in a job in England as photographer and darkroom technician.

Sounds like a lot of fun, as well as work, doesn't it?

POW COOKING GUIDE

THE Lubbock Red Cross office has received a copy of the Red Cross Prisoner of War cooking guide for use with the standard food package that goes to the Allied boys. You might like to drop by the City hall and glance over it. One booklet goes to each 25 prisoners of war.

In an explanatory note the Red Cross points out the availability of food in the prison camps according to location, season and gardening facilities was considered. All vegetables mentioned may be grown from the seed in the American Red Cross garden packages.

The recipes and ideas are illustrated with clever drawings executed by the Army Information branch to give lightness and if the "cooks" still have their sense of humor they'll get a bang out of them. For instance, prune Betty is illustrated with a large prune with legs suspiciously resembling those of a famous dancing movie star who also is named Betty. Wilted lettuce shows a prostrate figure fanning while a blistering sun beams down; salmon loaf pictures a huge fish leaning against a streetlight; corned beef hash is a little figure wearing huge Western hat, etc.

HIP, HOORAY!

THE hearts of American women should beat a little faster today because of a declaration as military surplus of over 500,000 yards of bemberg material which will soon be available for converting into gowns, dresses, blouses, pajamas, bed jackets and other wearing apparel.

The cloth originally was purchased to be used to parachute flares to light German targets, while our air force bombed their objectives. A spokesman for the treasury procurement division states there will be enough material to make at least 165,000 garments.

By the way, this will be the first yardage of bemberg sheers that has been available for civilian trade for the past 12 months due to the large usage by our military forces.

PIN-WORMS
Now can be Beaten!
The miseries of Pin-Worms have been known for centuries, and many doctors have sought a way to deal with this dreadful pest that lives and grows inside the human body.
Today, thanks to an important scientific discovery, a new and highly effective treatment is being hailed by medical authorities. It is based on a remarkable drug known as gentian violet. This drug is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm tablet developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines.
P-W makes it unnecessary for you or your child to suffer in silence with the embarrassing rectal itch caused by Pin-Worms, or to take chances on the real distress they often create. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to destroy Pin-Worms.
So watch for possible warning signs such as: itching seat and nose, uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, nervous fidgeting. If you suspect Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for a package of P-W and follow the simple directions carefully.
It is easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Patriots Rapidly Purify Paris And Collaboration Leaders Held

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE
United Press War Writer

PARIS, Aug. 29.—French patriots, rapidly "purifying" Paris with the dismissal or arrest of alleged collaborationists including actor Sacha Guitry and scientist Dr. Alexis Carrel, prepared today to proclaim the formation of the Fourth Republic and organize new French divisions to aid Allied forces in Europe and Asia.

Guitry, also well known as an author, was among eight prominent Frenchmen arrested for having been too friendly with German authorities during the occupation.

(A Paris broadcast, recorded by FCC monitors, said that de Gaulle and members of the government would review a parade of American troops along the Champs Elysees through the Place de Concorde today.)

Formerly In U. S.

Carrel, former research biologist at Rockefeller institute in New York who with Charles A. Lindbergh developed a mechanical "heart," was dismissed from his public functions under the "purification" program of Vallery Radot, new minister of health. The 71-year old scientist was a director of the Vichy foundation for the study of human relations and head of the Carrel institute.

The arrest of alleged collaborationists was in line with a proclamation by Marcel Willard, secretary general of justice, calling for "immediate punishment of traitors and profiteers of defeat" and promising that "all guilty persons must be unable to do any further harm and unable to escape the fate they deserve."

To Proclaim Republic

As patriot forces cleansed Paris, George Bidault, president of the council of resistance, announced that the fourth French republic would be proclaimed soon in a solemn session at city hall celebrating the restoration of liberty in France.

Significantly, two words have been added to the slogan of the Third Republic:

"Liberty, equality, fraternity"—on the official newspaper of the forces of the interior. Added words are "or death."

An officer attached to the staff of Lt. Gen. Pierre Koenig, military governor of Paris, disclosed that plans were being made to recruit several divisions to reinforce the new French Army. The units will consist of volunteers, he said, and will be furnished with the most modern equipment.

In connection with this disclosure, the daily newspaper, Frence, said a French expeditionary corps in North Africa was preparing to go to the Far East to aid in the war agains Japan and help recapture French Indo-China.

Koenig's staff officer said a general or partial mobilization in France was not contemplated because sufficient equipment and armament is not available.

The labor commissioner's office revealed that more than 2,500,000 Frenchmen are in Germany—more than 1,000,000 war prisoners, 850,000 drafted laborers and 700,000 political deportees.

Turned Over To French

Paris was turned over to Koenig at a simple, informal ceremony at the historic Invalides, near Napoleon's tomb, yesterday when an American general in command of military forces, handed the French resistance leader a sealed letter. The American officer will remain in Paris as a representative of the supreme Allied commander and would immediately assume full military control of the city if the situation warranted it. The French capital was considered safe from any German counter attack, as enemy elements have been cleared completely from the north and northeast environs and only a few scattered artillery units still were fighting in the northwest. For that reason it was turned over to the French to govern.

Complete arrangements have been made to handle the food situation, which although a formidable problem, was not considered desperate and no serious shortages are expected. Parisians were told, however, to make every effort to live on present stocks until the end of the month.

Guam To Play Major Role In Pacific War

GUAM, Aug. 17. (AP) (Delayed)—Guam is destined to become a miniature Pearl Harbor from which the winning blow against Japan can be struck, Marine Maj. Gen. Henry L. Larson said today at this first press conference since taking command of the island's defenses and development.

Guam will be everything that "an important base" implies, said the 53-year-old commander of the American possession recently rewon from the Japanese. He emphasized the project would be one of the major engineering developments of the Pacific war.

Rosenthal Is Home From Pacific With Battle Souvenirs

Philip Rosenthal, coxswain, USNR, who is home on a 21-day leave, has a collection of souvenirs—31 caliber sniper's rifle, a blood-stained flag, cigarets, soap, coins and magazines—which he salvaged from Japanese troops on Guam.

Rosenthal was a member of a Navy beach party which went ashore with the first troops on Saipan and Guam.

"In spite of all you might have heard," he said, "we found the Japanese soldiers well fed and equipped, but they can't stand up to our Marines."

In all, he has served 13 months in the Pacific with a break of nine days in the United States in March. He reports back to San Pedro, Calif., Sept. 18 for assignment.

The flag Rosenthal brought home was secured from an officer who had been decapitated, and the rifle came from a Jap who was blown several feet into the air by dive bombers on Guam. He said all Jap officers carried flags in their helmets.

Before entering the service two years ago, Rosenthal was employed in the shoe department at Grollmans.

His wife and daughter, Billie, 14, live at 1219-A Ave. N. Mrs. Rosenthal is a dental assistant in the dental clinic of Lubbock Army Air field station hospital. The family plans to leave today for El Paso where they will visit Rosenthal's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Rosenthal.

Transporting Grain Crop Discussed Here

Problems confronting farmers of the South Plains in transporting the grain sorghum crop were discussed by T. R. Haggard, Dallas, regional farm transportation specialist for the Office of Defense Transportation at a meeting of a group of South Plains farmers, vocational agriculture teachers, extension service agents, and business men Tuesday afternoon in the Lubbock county courthouse.

He pointed out that a large amount of wheat is still on the ground in the upper Panhandle due to the fact that elevators are full. "Where are we going to put the 200,000,000 bushels of grain sorghum Texas farmers are going to produce?" he asked.

The ODT will insist that no long hauls be permitted this year, he said, and truckers must have a statement from the county agent in order to get gasoline and trucks for harvesting the grain.

He was introduced by R. L. Hooten, Lubbock district farm transportation specialist for ODT.

A discussion of farmers' problems in general was led by Jason O. Gordon, Lubbock county agent, who presided at the meeting. Among those present were C. W. Jackson of the Texas A. and M. extension service at College Station, and T. A. Barfield, county agent at large, who is acting county agent of Hockley county while Harvey Pool is on sick leave.

Cash Farm Income Shows Big Increase

AUSTIN, Aug. 29. (AP)—A bumper wheat harvest combined with increased marketing of cattle, calves and sheep to give Texas farmers $98,000,000 cash income in July, or 32 per cent more than in July of last year.

The University of Texas bureau of business research reported that wheat prices were about 10 per cent above those of a year ago and although cattle, calves and sheep prices were lower the increased shipments partly offset the price decline.

Hog shipments were down and so were prices.

Cumulative farm cash income for the first seven months of the year was $520,000,000 compared with $464,000,000 in the same period of last year.

Tough Luck Dogs Citizen At Lufkin

LUFKIN, Tex., Aug. 29. (AP)—H. H. Stanford, manager of an ice plant, believes he can qualify as Lufkin's unluckiest citizen.

A year ago he broke a leg in a motorcycle accident. A few months later he slipped at the ice plant and broke it again. Third and fourth breaks followed in falls at home.

Today was the climax. A home he bought six months ago burned with all contents, including clothing.

JOIN GULF'S "Anti-Breakdown" Club TODAY!

BEFORE THIS WAR IS OVER, there may be only two kinds of people in America . . .

1. those who can still get to work in automobiles,
2. those who are forced to walk.

If you want to be in the fortunate group who will still be riding to work in automobiles, join Gulf's "Anti-Breakdown" Club today. How do you do it? Just come in for Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan!

This plan was conceived by experts in car care. Gulf developed it because car maintenance is a most important civilian job. (8 out of 10 war workers use automobiles to get to work.)

Here's Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan

1 Protects your car at 39 danger points...

GULF'S Protective Maintenance Plan includes Gulflex Registered Lubrication which reaches up to 39 vital engine, chassis, and body points with six different Gulflex Lubricants that reduce wear, and add miles to your car's life.

2 Guards your bearings and piston rings...

THE OFFICE of Defense Transportation and the American Petroleum Institute recommend changing oil regularly. And it's equally important to use a good motor oil . . . an oil like Gulfpride, "The World's Finest Motor Oil," or Gulflube, an extra-quality oil that costs a few cents less.

3 Helps add to the life of tires...

ASK YOUR GULF DEALER to have your tires recapped, adding greatly to their length of service. Ask him to inspect for cuts and bruises, and make needed repairs . . . to check air pressures, and inflate tires properly.

4 Helps gas coupons go a little further...

AIR-FILTER CLEANING, spark-plug cleaning, and radiator flushing help give you better gas mileage. A clean air filter makes gas burn more economically; clean plugs increase power; a clean radiator prevents overheating, thus saving gas.

5 Get an appointment at your Gulf station

TO HELP YOUR Gulf Dealer do a thorough job on your car—and save your own time—make an appointment in advance. Phone or speak to him at the station—arrange a convenient time. Then you should encounter no delay when you get Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan . . . 15 services in all!

The Gallup Poll Surveys Public Opinion On FDR's Condition

Political Leanings Color Beliefs Held By Americans Regarding Roosevelt's Health

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 29.—A favorite topic of conversation these days at dinner tables, bridge games and among politicians in the back room, is the state of President Roosevelt's health.

GALLUP

To get some indication of the extent to which information and misinformation emanating from Washington on this subject may have penetrated public thinking, a nation-wide study has just been completed by the Institute.

This survey reveals the curious fact that people's theories on the President's health depend to a very large extent on whether they themselves are Republicans or Democrats.

The majority of Democrats with opinions say the President's health is fine—couldn't be better. They willingly accept the statement of the President's personal physician that his physical condition is sound. On the other hand, the majority of Republicans with opinions say that the health of the Chief Executive is not so good.

However, a very substantial number of Republicans are willing to admit that the President's health would permit him to carry on if he is re-elected.

THE manner in which party preference affects one's judgment of the President's health was revealed when interviewers for the Institute put the following question to a true cross-section of voters:

"Do you think that President Roosevelt's health will or will not permit him to carry on the responsibility of the Presidency for another four years?"

Among those expressing an opinion, the vote by parties follows:

	FDR Voters	Dewey Voters
Think President's Health Will Permit Him To Carry On	84%	47%
Think Not	16	53

Approximately one Democrat in five (19 per cent) and one Republican in four (23 per cent) expressed no opinion.

THE combined tabulation of all replies — from Republicans, Democrats, members of minor parties, and persons undecided as yet how they will vote—found that a majority of 2-to-1 with opinions think the President's health will present no obstacle to his carrying on if he wins in November.

ALL VOTERS
Think President's Health Will Permit Him To Carry On	66%
Think Not	34

For the nation as a whole, 23 per cent expressed no opinion.

Mr. Roosevelt, noted for his keen sense of humor, will get a chuckle out of the following four comments, more or less typical of many gathered from voters in the poll.

"He's a tough old rooster."

"Can't kill him with politics."

"He'll be in there pitching when half of his critics are six feet under."

"That man is too ornery to die."

Amazing Nazi Disintegration In Paris Recounted By Eye Witness

(EDITOR'S NOTE): The story of the incredible disintegration of German authority in Paris from the absolute to the point where the Nazi master sued for an armistice before a single Allied soldier entered the city can be told only by one who was there. Jean De Gandt, a Belgian national and long a distinguished United Press correspondent, lived out the occupation in Paris and tells that story from the reopened United Press Paris bureau at 2 Rue Des Italiens. De Grandt worked for many years in France and when manager of the U. P. Madrid bureau scored a world-wide beat on the abdication of King Alfonso. He refused to work for the Nazis or their Vichy underlings during the occupation.)

By JEAN DE GANDT
United Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Aug. 29—The German debacle began in the week of Aug. 12. Throughout that week the hungry, occupation-weary Parisians watched with happy amazement while the Germans filled the streets night and day with vehicles of all kinds packed with men and loot evacuating eastward.

Part of the administration had gone away by night during July when the Allies were not even close to Paris. Then the factories had closed down, one by one, for lack of fuel and power and the idle workers massed on the sidewalks to watch the flight of the despised Boche.

Going For Vacation

German commanders told their young subordinates they were going home for a vacation and would return, but the older soldiers left in Paris did not lose their pessimism and sold food, clothing—even military motorcycles for 500 francs each—to get rid of encumbering baggage.

The first effective blow of the French patriots was a railroad strike on Aug. 13. Four French railroadmen were shot without trial but the Germans suffered a severe blow where it hurt most.

The following day the Germans, suspecting disaffection, disarmed the French police in the suburban towns of Asnieres and Gennevilliers. Within 12 hours the police struck all over Paris and released 1,000 political prisoners.

The postal workers then went on strike.

Crowd Gathers At Palace

At nightfall of the 15th, several hundred civilians gathered outside the Luxembourg palace where the French Senate met, and the Germans used as luftwaffe headquarters. The jittery Germans opened fire with machine guns without warning, killing and wounding scores.

The Germans then invokeed a 9 p. m. curfew for all civilians.

The seething city reacted with a general strike of the French General Federation of Labor and the Confederation of Christian Workers on the 18th.

A German soldier was shot and killed on the Palace de la Concorde and in retaliation the Germans indiscriminately shot 31 civilians passing the spot. The bodies were dumped in the Bois de Boulogne.

Strikes Spread

Despite this the strikes spread. Parisians stormed German warehouses and some of them were set afire by hand grenade bursts in the fighting and citizens were burned to death inside. The Germans then began burning all the supplies they couldn't move.

Throughout the 18th, isolated groups of Partisans exchanged shots with German soldiers and that evening we heard the first welcome rumbles of Allied artillery.

On Aug. 19 the rumor spread that there were only a few detachments of Germans left in the city and the Allies might enter any day. Two thousand members of the French forces of the interior seized the prefecture of police and other public buildings and haisted the Tri-color over the city hall while crowds outside sang the Marsellaise. Home made American flags were flaunted from windows all over the city.

Nazis Shoot Flags

The Germans tore through the streets in armored cars lashing every beflagged window with machine guns. The real battle started around the police building on the Isle de la Cite, across the square from Notre Dame cathedral, with the Germans attacking with tanks and field pieces.

Partisans set two 22-ton tanks on fire with incendiary bombs made of champagne bottles filled with gasoline. They then sallied out and captured 53 German prisoners including a major, 20 trucks and 30 automobiles.

Then to the amazement even of the most rabid partisans, the Germans sued for a truce. It was arranged for 9 p. m. of Aug. 20. By that time the Germans had had 40 men killed and 27 wounded; the French five killed and 35 wounded.

Even now there is some question as to the exact nature of that truce but a communique issued by the French forces of the interior indicated the agreement was that the German command would not attack public buildings occupied by French troops and would treat all Frenchmen taken prisoners under the laws of war. The French on their part agreed to suspend fire against the forces of occupation "until the promised evacuation of Paris is completed."

The German commander Gen. Dietrich von Choltitz, released three partisan prisoners. The truce began well but it was only to last a few hours before both sides were charging violations and shooting at one another.

The Germans entrenched at strategic points from which they took pot shots at anyone passing.

City Guerrilla Center

The French colonel commanding the FFI ordered the whole city turned into a guerrilla center with organized defenses in every street and on the roofs.

"In order to protect the population against reprisals," his order read, "the civilians must transform Paris into an entrenched camp. All means are good such as incendiary bottles, poles and any arm that can be made in factories that are still available."

On the 21st the walls of the city were plastered with posters asking the people to prepare for the triumphal entry of Allied troops which was "imminent." The flag of France fluttered over many buildings including the Bank of France, the Louvre and the towers of Notre Dame.

That began 48 hours of momentous events. At noon, delegates of the committee of liberation in various departments took over, ousting Vichy men. A general strike was fully effective. German trucks dashed wildly through the streets.

On the morning of the 22nd, shops of collaborationists were plastered with warnings: "This man is a well known collaborationist. He is on the death list."

A German gasoline truck crashed into historic Saint Denis Gate, causing a conflagration. At 1 p. m. long files of ambulances from the Normandy front passed up La-Fayette street headed east. Germans stole all the bicycles in Palace de L'Opera and pedaled away at top speed.

German tanks assaulted the city hall and the square became a no man's land. The streets were barricaded and there was guerilla fighting all over the city.

On the 24th the first Allied tanks rolled into Paris and our deliverance began.

Three Nazis Downed Without Firing Shot

A U. S. FIGHTER BASE, In Britain, Aug. 29. (AP)—Col. Carol W. McColpin, New York City, a Thunderbolt pilot, tangled with four Focke-Wulf 109s four miles east of Paris yesterday and destroyed three of them without firing his gun.

Loaded with bombs and belly tanks, 16 Thunderbolts in a Ninth U. S. air force group commanded by McColpin were en route to a target when they were engaged by 20 German fighters.

The dogfight resulted in the destruction of 11 of the German planes for a loss of four of the Thunderbolts.

McColpin was attacked by four of the Nazi planes, two on each side. He cut his airspeed to almost the stalling point.

"I was flying at treetop level," he said. "I weaved back and forth and finally maneuvered all four to one side. Then I went into a series of tight turns making my turn faster every time. Three of them spun in, one after the other, as they tried to turn with me. They fell off at stalling speed when they were unable to turn so tightly at such a slow speed. The fourth Nazi gave up the chase and flew away. I came back with all my ammunition."

Mrs. Martin Chosen For State Demo Post

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP) — Mrs. Frank O. Martin of Waxahachie has been elected vice-chairman of the State Democratic Executive committee in succession to Mrs. H. H. Weinert of Seguin, newly elected national committeewoman from Texas.

Mrs. Martin's election resulted from a mail ballot sent to committee members, said the office of Executive Secretary Charles E. Simons. Mrs. Martin is a member of the committee.

Balloting also resulted in election of Mrs. Charles H. Dean of Plainview as committeewoman from the 30th district in succession to Mrs. J. W. Elliott of Tahoka, deceased; and Mrs. Orville Tunstill of Fort Worth in succession to Mrs. James Farmer of Fort Worth who resigned as committeewoman from the 28th district.

Dewey To Be Guarded On Campaign Journey

PAWLING, N. Y., Aug. 29. (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will be guarded constantly during his transcontinental campaign tour, it was learned today, by a New York City detective and two state troopers.

The guards, whose expenses will be met by the Republican National committee, are being assigned as a routine precaution and not because any special threats have been received.

Another Atrocity Is Charged Up To Japs

GUAM, Aug. 13 (Delayed) (AP)—Japanese militarists have added another to their list of atrocities—the mass execution of natives on this island.

In one isolated spot, 43 decapitated bodies were found. Evidently they were killed so they could not betray their temporary masters to the Americans.

Navy Closing Down Training At Dallas

DALLAS, Aug. 29 (U.P) — The unexpected low rate of combat casualties among naval and Marine fliers had resulted today in a decision to terminate primary training at the Dallas Naval Air station, effective Nov. 30.

Capt. Henry T. Dietrich, USN, station commander, said fine fighting qualities, superior training and equipment have produced a rate of survival nearly one-third greater than had been expected, and indicated the time may be near when only replacement pilot training will be necessary.

"The Navy is rapidly reaching the point where only replacement pilots need to be trained," Capt. Dietrich said.

"Therefore," he went on, "the number of primary training stations is being reduced to effect a more compact organization and a considerable reduction in personnel."

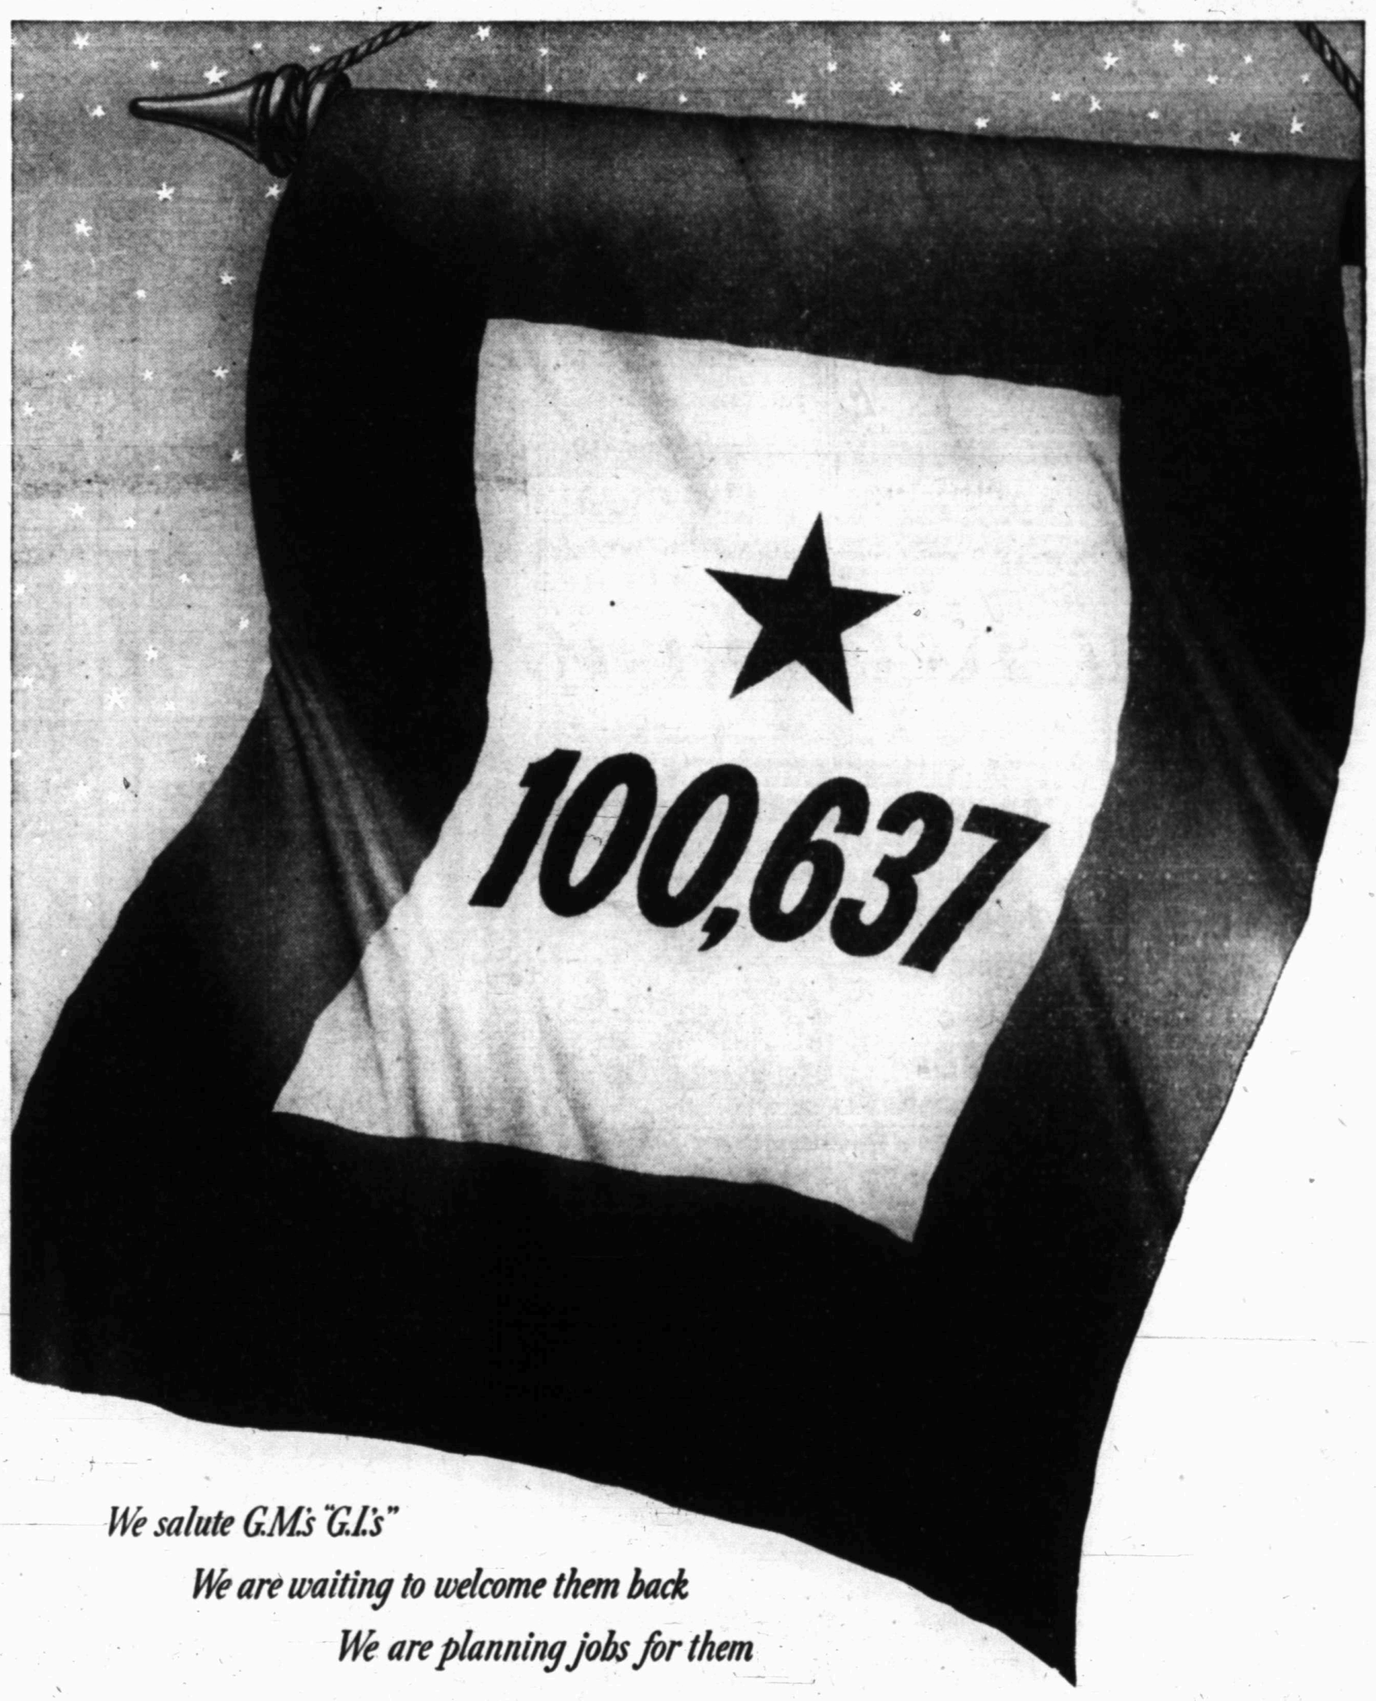

French Navy trainees will be transferred from the Dallas air station to the station at Memphis, Tenn., within a few days, he said.

Bears, All-Stars Battle Tonight

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 29. (AP)—The doughty Chicago Bears, professional football champions, will battle the Collegiate All-Stars in the eleventh game of the charity series tomorrow night determined to protect their record of thrice emerging victorious and once tied in four previous spectacular engagements.

The game, ripping open the 1944 gridiron season, will be played before a capacity crowd of 50,000 in Northwestern university's Dyche Stadium.

The game promises to produce a thrilling forward passing duel between Tulsa University's Glenn Dobbs, rated as one of the greatest collegiate passers in a decade, and Ensign Sid Luckman, Bears' quarterback, whose appearance tomorrow night will be the last with the champions for the duration.

Dobbs revealed his superior skill in the air in last year's All-Star game, in which the Collegians walloped the Washington Redskins, 27 to 7. He completed nine in 13 attempts, tossing one to Marlin "Pat" Harder of Wisconsin for a touchdown.

Luckman, who played for the All-Stars in 1939 before joining the Bears, has been largely instrumental in the success of the champions' T-formation strategy which resulted in three league breaking performances last year when he was voted the outstanding player in professional football.

The All-Star series now stands 6 to 3 in favor of the professionals, with two games tied. The Bears opened the rivalry in 1934 with a scoreless tie and then won 6-0 in 1935; 37-13 in 1941, and 21-0 in 1942. The New York Giants won 9-0 in 1939 and the Green Bay, Wis., Packers took the 1940 game 45-28.

U. S. industries spent more than $100,000,000 for safety equipment in 1943.

Boston, New York Rookies Deliver In Big Show Debuts

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—Rookies Clem Dreisewerd of Boston and Floyd Bevens of New York bowed into the American League with victories today as the two pennant contenders split a doubleheader, the Red Sox copping the opener, 8-1, but dropping the second 11-2.

The even break dropped Boston into third place as Detroit shut out Chicago to move into the runner-up spot by two percentage points.

Dreisewerd shut out the 1943 champs for eight innings but the Yanks bunched three of their six hits in the ninth for their lone tally.

The 28-year-old southpaw was bolstered by a 17-hit attack on loser Atley Donald and two successors. George Metkovich collected four safeties and Bob Johnson and Jimmy Bucher each had three.

Joe McCarthy sent Bevens out after the nightcap and he responded with an eight-hitter.

Metkovich sent Boston away to an early lead with his seventh homer in the first inning but New York came back with two in the second and three more in the third on Oscar Grimes' homer with two on.

Trout Stars In Tiger Victory

DETROIT, Aug. 29 (AP)—Driving in five runs—four more than he needed—with a single, double and his fifth home run of the year, Paul (Dizzy) Trout notched his eighth straight pitching victory for the Detroit Tigers today, blanking the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 0, on nine hits.

The Tigers clubbed Chicago's starter, Bill Dietrich, for seven hits and four runs in the first two innings, Dick Wakefield's double and Trout's mighty homer, each driving in two tallies. Dietrich retired for a pinch-hitter in the third and lefthander Jake Wade went the rest of the way for the Sox, giving six hits.

Jim Outlaw's single and Joe Hoover's double off Wade in the sixth set the stage for Trout's sharp single to left that sent two more runs across. In the ninth the slugging Tiger pitcher doubled to score Bob Swift.

Ban On Shells For Hunting Is Lifted

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—The ban on sale of ammunition to hunters was lifted today by the War Production Board, opening the way for the nimrod's first real season since the war began.

At the same time, WPB also boosted quotas of ammunition for farmers and ranchers to use against predatory animals.

Ammunition production this year is expected to be about 62 per cent of pre-war output, WPB said. Chairman Robertson (D-Va.) of the house conservation committee, estimated that between 450,000,000 and 500,000,000 shotgun shells will be offered for sale and said an "adequate" supply of rifle cartridges will be available.

Until December 31, farmers and ranchers and hunters will have the following quarterly quota: 150 rounds of .22 caliber rim-fire cartridges 45 rounds of center fire rifle ammunition (or 50 rounds if customarily packaged to a box), and 100 shotgun shells of any guage.

The previous quarterly quota for farmers and ranchers was 100 rounds of .22 rim-fire cartridges, 40 rounds of center fire ammunition and 25 shotgun shells.

The entire quota need not be purchased at one time. Before any sale of ammunition is made, the purchaser must sign a certificate stating that he is entitled to the ammunition.

Civilian use of ammunition for shooting galleries, trap, and skeet shooting still is prohibited, and the WPB said there is no early hope for removing this ban.

Dean's Tie For 2nd Half Crown

Jack Vaughn's three-hit pitching against the Hemphill-Wells Cats gave the first half champions, Bill Dean's Service, a 7 to 2 victory, and threw the second half race in the National League into a tie between the two clubs.

The same two clubs meet again Thursday afternoon at Chapman field. If Dean's win again, copping the second half, play will be over. If Hemphill-Wells wins, the finals playoff will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Deanmen scored six times in the first two innings, then coasted in with ease, although held to seven hits by Bill Cope and Bob Galey. Big Seth Murphy set the batting pace for Dean's getting three hits in four times up.

All the scoring was done off Cope, who whiffed six men in the first four innings. Galey took over for the last three rounds, and whiffed seven as he finished in a blaze of glory.

Junior baseball interest today will shift to the American League where Coach Dell Morgan will send his first half winners, the Kiwanis Cards, against the second half winners, Coach Stoney Wall's Rotary club nine.

Randolph Ramblers Lose Four Gridders

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Randolp' Field suffered a severe setback in its football aspirations today when four candidates for the Rambler eleven were released. The four, all flying officers at the Randolph Field Central Instructor school, could not be spared from the flying line for afternoon practice sessions.

The four are Capt. E. L. Keeton, for three years a star at S.M.U. end and star Rambler pass receiver last season; Capt. Orban Hankes, flight commander, former Drake star who hoped to fill the fullback slot; Capt. Arthur J. Van Wykes, former Coe college wingback and now on the CIS advisory board, and 1st Lt. Nick Pappas, 215 pound tackle candidate, who is an instructor.

GOOD NEWS FOR BUSINESS MEN

The post-war world will see a tremendous growth of small business in America. One of the major problems will be credit. The American Bankers Association, of which we are a member, has just established a new Post-War Small Business Credit Commission to mobilize the credit facilities of banks for this purpose. Business men can be sure that American banking will serve them as well in peace as in war.

Toward An End To Chaos

LEGISLATION like that proposed by Rep. Howard W. Smith, of Virginia, which would attempt to bring order out of the chaos of the public's dealings with government agencies, has been needed a long time.

The need for such a law does not reflect, necessarily, upon the agencies which would be affected. The emergency conditions under which most such bureaus were created and have had to operate undoubtedly have been responsible for much of the confusion that has been part and parcel of them. But, regardless of the causes for objectionable conditions, they are in need of correction. Right now is late enough to get started in the corrective direction.

Everyone is familiar—most people through personal experience—with some of the conditions demanding attention. The works and activities of many agencies are duplicating, or overlapping, with resultant confusion and friction. Responsibilities of many agencies are defined too vaguely for anyone really to know just what their powers are and what is expected of them. Rules, regualtions, directives, activities and procedure of different agencies frequently are directly contradictory of each other. The legality of the very existence of many bureaus—particularly those created by "executive order" —is seriously in doubt. These and many other objectionable features have been the inevitable result of war conditions which demanded that agencies be created and start functioning with the least posisbly delay.

Inevitably, too, existing conditions have led to attempted and accomplished abuses of power—abuses which, for the most part, have been authored by those who sincerely believed they were acting in the best interests of a nation engaged in a life and death war. For example, there have been agencies, like the War Labor board, which have attempted to set themselves above the courts of the land by decreeing that there could be no appeal from their decisions to the courts. It is incredible that any American could believe that any government bureau has legal authority to usurp powers of that kind to itself. Yet it must be recognized that the exercise of such powers might tend to work for effective operation at times when it is vital.

So, if one is fair, he must admit that there has been a great deal more of good than of bad in most of the wartime bureaus. He must acknowledge that most of the mistakes, confusion and abuses have been by Americans who are no less patriotic because they happen to be "bureaucrats." Probably most of us might have made worse mistakes if we had been in their position.

But excuses for past conditions are not valid reasons for further delay of corrective measures. Mr. Smith's proposal seems to offer not less than a good talking point for a start.

Our Warbirds Still Fly!

THE invasions naturally have tended in recent weeks to divert a large measure of public interest and attention from the air war which has been continued unremittingly against interior Germany.

However, the fact that the aerial offensive has been relegated to the position of secondary interest at the moment should not—and probably does not—cause anyone to imagine that the warbirds of the Allies have been taking things a little easier for awhile.

On the contrary, activity on the aerial front has been continued with a fury and upon a scale surpassing that of a few months ago, when the air war provided the big news from the fighting fronts. Typical was the report the other day that 5,000 Allied planes had divided their loads among many Nazi targets. The day before that, dispatches reported raids in which more than 2,300 American planes participated. Day after day before that, the air war news was of similar import.

In short, the air war is bigger, more furious and certainly no less important than it ever was. It simply has been overshadowed for the time being by something even bigger and more spectacular. But the Air Forces still are in there pitching every day and every night, and they get better with every pitch.

"Columbia, Tenn., which claims to be the largest outdoor mule market in the world, recently held a mule parade, headed by the governor." News item. We've known governors like that.

After listening to umpteen dozen street corner and armchair generals, we have concluded that all they know about the war is how it ought to be run.

The One Minute Sermon

Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:

But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.—James 1: 12-15.

The Life Of Eisenhower

APPOINTMENT TO WEST POINT

IV

Dwight Eisenhower's graduation from the Abilene High School was a "great event."

His family sat in the audience and looked upon him with pride as he received his diploma. He was starting out on a career, no one knew where.

Ike himself didn't know. He worked around Abilene for more than a year, helping his father and doing various jobs as a fireman and refrigerative engineer—and all the time he was "planning."

Finally he decided. He was intrigued by the biographies of great military leaders. His decision took his family by complete surprise.

"I'm going to enter the service of my country," he announced.

The Eisenhower family were religiously opposed to war. Dwight, however, insisted he knew what he was about, and no amount of persuasion could change his mind.

Two pals had reached their decision together. Ike and his friend, Everett Hazlett, were going to Annapolis and enter the Navy. Hazlett passed his entrance examinations, but was discovered that Ike, 20 years old, was a few months over age. He bid his friend, Hazlett, goodby and went into a secret session with himself.

Again Ike came out with a decision: he would go to West Point and serve in the army. Immediately he lost himself in all the documents and official information he could obtain about the United States Military Academy. Ascertaining the qualifications required, he began to study day and night. Finally he felt assured he was equipped for his first battle with the examinations.

Appointment to West Point required political confirmation. Ike enlisted two family friends, Editor Harger, of the Abilene Reflector-Chronicle, who knew everybody, and Ed Heath, postmaster of Abilene. Other influential citizens were lined up. Ike now had his first fighting squad ready for action.

United States Senator Joseph H. Bristow was a power in state and national affairs, a leader on the floor of the Senate. And on Oct. 11, 1910, Dwight David Eisenhower recived from the War Department an appointment to West Point.

Young Dwight passed his examinations with flying colors against eight competitors, and on a June day in 1911, surrounded by friends at the railroad station in Abilene, he stepped on the train "to go east."

When Dwight Eisenhower, a rugged, bronzed youth out of the west, stood before the portals of West Point on the 15th day of June in 1911, he gazed in admiration at the stately structures standing like citadels on the rock-bound hills overlooking the grandeur of the Hudson River. The boy from the plains had come to the highlands.

Five feet 11, weighing 170 pounds, 20 years and eight months of age, he was entering the greatest institution of its kind in the world, the United States Military Academy.

West Point, like Ike himself, was in a state of transition. It was preparing for the future. The magnificent cadet chapel was being erected, an outstanding example of modern Gothic architecture. A huge new gymnasium, where Ike was to make a notable record, was under construction. The largest riding hall in the world was being built from granite quarried on the reservation; here Ike, horseman from the west, was to give daredevil exhibitions of a lad at home in the saddle. Surveying before him the Gothic structures of imposing beauty, he walked into the administration building.

"Eisenhower from Kansas," he reported cryptically.

The appraisal of a cadet begins with the moment of his rude plunge into the West Point system. Nature had saved a blast of record-breaking heat to welcome Ike when he arrived at West Point in 1911. Through the three broiling weeks that preceded the transfer of the new cadets from "Beast Barracks" to the summer encampment at Fort Clinton, they underwent a process of indictrination which left its mark. The job was thoroughly done. The end of each strenuous day found the plebes only too glad to tumble into their bunks for a night's sleep.

Taps inspection was hardly over when more or less rugged spirits asserted themselves. Bull sessions were under way. Ike's room became a favorite hangout for these after-taps sessions. Voices were kept low and a sentry was always posted to give warning of the approach of a first-classman of the "Beast Detail." In the darkness the day's woes became less important, the boners of some overzealous first classman developed into a tidbit, and plebe life in general became more endurable. There were plenty of arguments, often ended by one of Ike's pungent comments. Before anyone realized it, Ike had been accepted as a leader.

Like his classmates in "F" Company, Ike fitted easily into the tradition which, throughout the history of the Corps, has fallen to the company marching at the close of the parade column. The tradition is one which scorns "file-boning," "teeth-boning," and any such serious efforts for advancement in corps or academic standing. It seeks to discover such maximum of ease as is possible under the strenuous West Point system. On the other hand, it puts a high premium on athletic prowess. The physical brawn of a group of fit men, averaging six feet or more in height, lent itself to outstanding performance on the athletic field. That feature of the environment likewise suited Ike.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

WHEN a Chicago streetcar conductor and his wife came before Superior Judge Joseph Sabath recently because they wanted a divorce, this modern Solomon tried to effect a reconciliation.

He listened to their various them to make a list of the conditions under which they would continue to live together.

The wife's demands were these:

1. She is to run the home.
2. Her husband is to take her out once a week.
3. Her husband is to give her kisses and affection.
4. She is to have a personal allowance.
5. Her husband is not to hit her or call her names.
6. He is to mow the lawn on his days off.

The husband submitted the following points:

1. His wife is to count to 50 before "starting anything."
2. She is not to tell her husband how neighbors and club women live.
3. She is not to break or destroy property in the home.
4. She is to set table completely so she won't have to be getting up and down all during a meal.

Doesn't it seem foolish that points like these should have caused a split between husband and wife?

Every one of the demands in this list is something that ordinary common sense should take care of without the help of a chart.

And almost every other difference between husband and wife — except infidelity — is something that any two grown-up people should be able to settle amicably and easily—if they would just act like friends rather than spouses.

Unfortunately, marriage seems to be a state in which one insists on being the ruler and the other is either the yielding subject, or fighting, dissention, and often divorce, results.

I HAVE seen several comic strips and panels recently which showed a young fellow showering his lady-love with gifts, attention, courtesy and concern.

Then they were married—and what follows? Sloppiness, disregard of all the niceties of life, complete lack of interest, deadly monotony.

What is it? Maybe the old saw about not running after a street car once you caught it? Maybe the one about familiarity breeding contempt? Maybe the lord and master's consciousness that he is supporting the little woman and thus her boss?

I think both man and wife do an equal job of making life livable. He in the shop, the store, the office; she in the home, the kitchen, the laundry.

Neither is easy, neither has the better part of the bargain.

There's nothing wrong with marriage; it's the married people that make it go wrong.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

CORDELL Hull has finally crawled out from under presidential blankets to become Secretary of State in fact as well as in name. After more than 11 years of White House domination regarding every detail of foreign policy, the simple, stubborn Tennessean has won the prestige and power which Charles Evans ..ughes enjoyed as Warren G. Harding's "first minister."

Mr. Hull's response to Tom Dewey's recent challenge gave the most sensational evidence of ·s new stature. At an off-the-record press conference he made known privately his willingness to discuss postwar reorganization with the Republican presidential nominee or one of his representatives. At that moment, however, he refused to be quoted on the subject.

A newspaperman suggested that it might be helpful if the cabinet member would make that statement for publication. After a little thought, Mr. Hull agreed; that was the genesis of the Dulles-Willkie-Dewey-Hull exchanges.

FDR's political aides were furious at Mr. Hull's behavior. They had planned to make use of the Dewey outbursts as the expression of an "isolationist" he sought to sabotage the Dumbarton Oaks conference for partisan reasons. They resented the Hull-Dewey attempt to remove this all-important issue from the presidential campaign.

Previous to this demonstration of his authority, the Secretary had forced the resignation of Sumner Welles, a disloyal assistant. And he is admittedly the outstanding figure at the current pourparlers for establishment of an international police body.

ALLIANCE: Democratic politicians are not so sure that President Roosevelt made the best choice when he picked Bob Hannegan as national chairman for possibly the most difficult re-election battle the head man has ever faced.

Bob is a delightful person, and has probably performed as well as can be expected under the circumstances. But he has a fault which often proves fatal in politics: He talks too much in a boyish, effervescent sort of way. He cannot resist the temptation to tell outsiderrs the key role he plays in large affairs.

FDR tried to hide that he engineered the dumping of Henry Wallace at Chicago. But it was Hannegan who disclosed that he and Ed Kelly conferred with the President in the railroad yards during the convention, and there were informed that Mr. Roosevelt really wanted Sen. Harry Truman. This revelation also showed that FDR while on a supposed "war inspection trip," took time out to play politics in the "usual, partisan sense."

Again, it was Hannegan who confided that the President instructed him to "clear everything through Sidney," meaning CIO Chieftain Hillman. That presidential remark has antagonized millions of nonunionists, AFL and UMW members and a large section of the American public who resent the alliance of the administration and this radical pro-Communistic organization.

PROTECTION: A strong demand that the U. S. Army and Navy be represented at the final peace table has been made in Washington as delegates of the four great powers inaugurate "conversations" designed to prevent another global war in 25 years.

The proposal does not come alone from officers at the capital who saw their predecessors shut out of the important conferences at Versailles 25 years ago. It has appeared in letters from the youngsters overseas, who point out that they have a big stake in any international settlement.

In this connection it may be significant that the 37 deputies at the Dumbarton Oaks talks include 11 American, British and Russian military, naval and air officers. But whether they will have a real say in subsequent discussions is still undetermined.

Army-Navy spokesmen argue that, unlike Woodrow Wilsons League of Nations, any future program for suppressing aggressor nations must depend on the use of adequate and immediate force. Only they, in their opinion, can decide what sort of a military police should be established, as well as where and how pressure can be best applied.

In short, they want to know how far the diplomats and politicians mean to go in committing our doughboys, gobs and fliers to protecting other nations' interests throughout the world. Therefore, they think that Gen. George Marshall and Admiral Ernest King, or their equivalents, should sit in at the last roundup.

SOLUTION: The extremely provocative subject of world birth control is plaguing backstage discussions of UNRRA, the Lehman agency designed to feed the starving peoples of Allied and German-conquered countries. The Americans would like to hush-hush the issue because of its political dynamite, but it cannot be sidetracked.

Several representatives have asked whether western nations should provide food for peoples who produce children in numbers out of all proportion to the volume of their self-supporting resources. The query is directed primarily at Germany, Italy and Japan, where government leaders advocate a high birth rate in order to make these "master races' numerically superior to the democracies.

But it also touches friendly countries like China and India and the South American and Near Eastern regions. Current solution is that UNRRA will request officials in these areas to advocate that human production be brought more in line with their agricultural and industrial output.

BY JACK STINNETT
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALTHOUGH you will never get them to say anything about it for publication, Army officers here will give you a grin and a wink at any mention of the speed and dispatch with which Congress lifted the ban on reading matter, films and broadcasts going to the soldiers.

Almost without debate in the Senate and with none at all in the House, Congress unanimously took out of the Soldier Vote bill, Sen. Robert A. Taft's amendment restricting soldiers reading matter to that which would have no bearing on the coming elections.

It was apparent that there was no possibility of controversial debate on the amendment, but Sen. Taft couldn't refrain from expressing the opinion held by many: That the Army by its strict enforcement of the original ban put Congress on the spot as it rarely has been in recent years.

"THE War department," said Sen. Taft, "has not only interpreted the act in a nonsensical manner, but has given the public and the soldiers an entirely erroneous idea of what the act actually does."

Even some of the Democratic members of Congress who ordinarily would feel no pain at all seeing one of the Senate's most important Republican leaders discomfited by legislation he had sponsored, admitted privately and with a grin that the senator probably was more than half right.

The War department started out by issuing what Sen. Taft called "a book of incomprehensible regulations which no commanding officer could interpret." With that as a basis and the threat of $1,000 fine or a year in jail hich the act provided for violations, the Army went to work.

First went the books which had the slightest taint of political argument, including even Charles A. Beard's "The Republic." Then went the magazines and in England even the British newspapers.

JUST whether any movies were actually put on the banned list isn't clear even now, but it does appear that the report that the film "Wilson" was blacklisted under the act was erroneous. Sen. Taft said the War department informed him that the more than two-hour length of the film made it impractical for use on Army posts where it is impossible to schedule entertainment of that length.

Lubbock And Lamb In One District?

First Re-Districting Bill Offered By San Antonian

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

A proposed legislative re-districting bill under which counties comprising the present 119th (Lubbock) district would be re-grouped into areas with a total of five legislators has been drafted by Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio, according to information received here Saturday.

The proposal was said to be the first of its kind to be prepared for submission to the January regular session of the legislature. Expectation is that many will be submitted before, and if, the legislature attends to the redistricting which purposely has been neglected since the 1920 federal census.

Under Bell's bill, Lubbock, now in the 119th district, with eight other counties, and Lamb county, now in the 120th district, with seven other counties, would be assigned two representatives as a new 108th district.

The basis of the measure's proposed re-grouping, it was explained, is one representative for each approximately 40,000 population in 1940. The combined Lubbock-Lamb population, in the 1940 census, was 69,388.

At the present time, as for more than 20 years, the 119th district is made up of Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Gaines, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum counties, with a combined population in 1940 of 130,204. Their total population in 1920 was 30,202.

Re-Grouping Outlived

Their re-grouping, as proposed in the Bell measure, with the number of the proposed new districts and the present districts of various counties indicated in parenthesis, follows:

106th district—Crosby (now in 119th) with Dickens, Garza Kent (all now in 118th), King (114th) and Motley (131st), total 1940 population, 33,044.

107th district — Dawson, Gaines and Lynn (all now in 119th) with Martin and Andrews (now in 88th) and Borden (118th), total 1940 population, 43,613.

109th district — Cochran, Hockley, Terry and Yoakum (all now in 119th) with Bailey (120th), total 1940 population, 39,260.

Proposed for a new 110th district are Hale, Floyd and Swisher counties, with a 1940 population of exactly 36,000. These now are combined with Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Lamb and Parmer counties into the 120th district, with a total population, as of 1940, of 74,501.

PEACE STOCKS HOLD INTEREST
NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—As in recent sessions, stocks with good post-war prospects today attracted further modest demand while many market leaders elsewhere continued to reflect skepticism regarding their peace-time position.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .1 of a point at 5.49, its first revival since last Wednesday. Of 835 issues appearing, 349 were up and 486 down or unchanged. Transfer of 619,760 shares compared with 554,200 Monday which were the smallest for a full session since May 16.

NEW YORK FUTURES
NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Cotton futures fell 80 cents to $1.10 a bale today under liquidation influenced by favorable war news and uncertainty over the final decision on higher cotton loan rate proposed by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.)

Failure of the OPA increase in cotton yarn ceilings to stimulate aggressive mill buying in futures also were disappointing to bullish traders.

Some quarters reasoned that the increase of ½ cent a pound in the CCC selling price for government cotton holdings coupled with prospective open market purchases of raw cotton for UNRAA and lend lease, would raise prices to the full parity objective sought by Senator Bankhead.

Selling of futures was absorbed principally through mill buying.

brought the Santa Fe railroad into Lubbock in 1909, and was active in practically every early-day forward movement here. At one time he was a member of the city commission and had residence in the county for 52 years, always in the northwest quarter which he served for six years as member of the county commissioners court.

Mr. McWhorter has two sons who are citizens of Lubbock, Owen W. McWhorter, an attorney residing at 2813 Twenty-first street; and Maj. Ross A. McWhorter, of 2712 Twentieth street, now serving in either Italy of Southern France as a member of the Army. Mr. McWhorter is also survived by his widow here. She is Mrs. Pearl McWhorter, of 2314 Main street.

Most of the August business meeting of the board was given over to discussion of problems attendant to the opening of the 1944-45 school term next Monday. C. I. Wall asked that stress be given baseball in the schools and the matter was referred to the board's athletic committee, composed of H. L. Allen, R. F. Bayless and Paul Hardwick. C. L. Goad headed a delegation from the northwest section of the city, asking for a change in boundaries to permit their children to remain in K. Carter school ,instead of being transferred to the new McWhorter school when it is put to use.

Supt. R. W. Matthews asked the board's proper committees to begin studying post-war plans and asked that first consideration be given the construction of a second junior high building, "probably somewhere south of Thirtieth street and between Avenue Q and College avenue."

Faculty Changes Made

The board voted acceptance of the resignations of nine teachers. They covered contracts of:

Mmes. Delia Stone and Christeene Bostron; Miss Evelyn Jenning, John R. Freeman and C. C. Cox, all of Senior high; Mrs. Elizabeth Fagg, Miss Louise Campbell and Miss Pansye Harris, all of Junior High; and Mrs. Pauline Greer, K. Carter. Mrs. R. A. Burford, housing counsellor, City of Lubbock, also is leaving her post which has a connection with the schools.

Elected as faculty members, 23 persons. They were:

Mmes. Dahlia Terrell and Euna B. Watkins; Misses Mildred Coffee, Bertha Lee and Velman McCollum; C. E. Batton and A. B. Reese, all of Junior High; Mrs. Emma Hastings, Senior High; Misses Carrie Belle Lee, Louise LeMond, Helen Hale, Ruth Cox, Norma Eakin, Dorothy Jennings and Mrs. Lois Bonner, all to serve in the new McWhorter school when it opens and at other posts until it does; Miss June Wren, K. Carter; Mrs. Mellie G. Cox, Misses Lela Puryear and Winnie B. Hendrix, all of Sanders; Mrs. Pauline Patterson, Dupre; Mrs. Margaret Gentry, Bean; Mrs. Eleanor Bond, Guadalupe; and Josey Bonner, Dunbar.

Mrs. Betty Jean Allen was appointed to a clerical position in the Supervisor's office.

Superintendent Matthews reported that two teachers elected by the board in July have decided not to accept appointment. They are Mrs. Violet Clark, assigned to Junior High, and Miss Bettye Jo Cardwell, Bean.

Present at the meeting, held in the district's business offices at 1007 Texas avenue, were Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, chairman; Board Members Hardwick, Allen, W. G. Alderson, Ellsworth J. Parsons, and Chas. A. Guy; Superintendent Matthews and Business Manager A. C. Jackson.

Santa Fe Party

of the department of justice against more than 40 railroads and individuals, including the Santa Fe and himself, in Lincoln, Neb., charging conspiracies to fix railroads, Gurley's first comment was, "I am utterly amazed."

"We are being sued for having obeyed the law," he declared.

The fight being made in Washington by West Texas Chamber of Commerce and others against freight rates which, allegedly, discriminate against West Texas, the entire state and the South was referred to by the Santa Fe executive as representing a difference of opinion.

No Comment On Issues

"You see one way; we see another," he observed. Likening the matter to a case on trial—in this instance before the interstate commerce commission—he would not comment on the issues involved. Neither would he speculate concerning what the outcome will be, nor the course that might be followed after the decision by any of those involved in the action.

He did reveal that the Santa Fe is making exhaustive plans for the post-war period. New and improved equipment of many kinds will make its appearance just as soon as conditions will permit, he said.

The Santa Fe still is debating, without a decision having been reached as yet, as to whether to attempt to branch into the field of commercial aviation after victory, he continued.

Had Meteoric Rise

Gurley, at 55, is one of the youngest railroad presidents in the nation. Born in Sedalia, Mo., Feb. 20, 1889, he started his railroad career as a clerk in Sheridan, Wyo., when 17 years of age at $82.50 per month. His advancements were meteoric. At 31, he was division superintendent of the Burlington railway at Wymore, Neb., and at 36 was general superintendent of that system. In 1932 he was made assistant to the vice president, in 1935 assistant to the executive vice president and the following year, assistant vice president.

On June 1, 1939, he was named executive vice president of the Santa Fe by E. J. Engel. When Engel retired last Aug. 1 to serve on the executive committee and board, Gurley was named his successor.

Gurley's present journey, his first as president, already has covered most of the Santa Fe lines east of Lubbock. Leaving here last night, his inspections will include the lines in the Southwest and Far West.

Others In Party

Accompanying him on the system-wide tour are George H. Minchin, vice president in charge of operations; Tracy L. Bothwell, general freight traffic manager, and J. J. Mahoney, general superintendent of transportation, all of Chicago. Another member of the party who left the special in Fort Worth was Tom A. Blair, assistant chief engineer, also of Chicago.

Minchin, Bothwell and Blair all formerly were stationed in Amarillo, while Blair formerly was division superintendent at Slaton. Bothwell is the brother of Sam Bothwell, now Fort Worth city manager and formerly city manager of Sweetwater.

Officials who boarded the special train at Sweetwater were E. P. Dudley, assistant general manager of Santa Fe Western lines and the Panhandle & Santa Fe, and H. C. Vincent, traffic manager of P&SF, both of Amarillo, and H. R. McKee, superintendent of the Slaton division. R. H. Deitiker of Amarillo, general freight agent of P&SF, joined the party here, as did I. M. Robinson of Lubbock, traveling freight and passenger agent of P&SF. Most of these accompanied the special as far as Clovis, N. M.

R. F. Bayless, veteran local agent of the Santa Fe, greeted the visiting officials here.

Testimony Opens In Thomas Trial

been a telephone call placed the night of Oct. 26 to phone 2-3323 in Galveston from Vernon.

The call slip was introduced into evidence, but whether the name of the caller was on it, or the hour when it was placed, did not come out.

Mrs. Veasey Testifies

Mrs. Veasey, on direct examination by District Attorney Harold LaFont said her husband was an Amarillo garageman; that he had a garage just west of her home, on the same lot as the residence; that there was a gasoline pump reside the garage; that she had known Thomas probably 10 years; that he was a frequent, welcome visitor in the Veasey home.

She said Thomas came to visit her when she was recovering in a hospital after an operation in 1943. She said she had seen him Oct. 23. (The Saturday before the Hunt slayings.) She said he spent the Saturday and Sunday nights before the slayings at her home, but did not spend Monday night; said her husband left that Monday (Oct. 25) early to go deer hunting with their soldier son and she locked the doors.

Returned Tuesday Morning

Mrs. Veasey testified that Thomas returned Tuesday morning when she and a woman she had called in to nurse her were at breakfast and said: "You locked me out last night."

She said he'd left her home about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon before the Hunts' bodies were found. She said he washed his shirt Tuesday morning at her home, and hung it on the clothesline. She didn't see him hang it on the line, she said, but that she saw the shirt. She said she found a shirt and trousers, admitted in evidence, in a dirty clothes closet in her home.

The Amarillo woman said Thomas had access to her house, and on cross-examination said he "always washes his clothes when he came to our house." She said he left Tuesday afternoon after supper, saying he had a reservation on a train and explaining that he was going home, that he was not supposed to be out of Galveston county.

Believe Shirt Borrowed

She said she never before saw the trousers introduced into evidence, but believed that the shirt belonged to her "daughter's husband." She disclosed on cross-examination that Thomas, when he came in the morning of Oct. 26, was not nervous; that during the night of Monday, Oct. 25, she heard Thomas calling "my name, but found no one outside when she answered.

Thomas conferred with lawyers repeatedly during this period of questioning. Re-direct examination dealt with what door she had gone to answer in the night when she heard the noise.

Re-cross examniation elicited from Mrs. Veasey that there were two pairs of tennis shoes in the closet, and that Thomas brought nothing with him when entering the back door of the Veasey residence the morning of Oct. 26.

Could Indentify Shoes

On cross-examination, Vaughn said he could identify one of the shoes without consulting marks he had put "inside."

Veasey testified that he had a garage 40 feet behind his residence, that Thomas had ready access to the garage and that he came there occasionally, sometimes helping him with garage work. He added that Thomas once did carpentry work for him.

Veasey said on direct examination that he had tire repair equipment including a "buffer," a belt-driven wheel of emery stone. He related that Thomas had ready access to the key to the garage.

Dates Corroborated

Veasey repeated dates on which his wife testified that she had seen Thomas. He said he supposed that the shoes in evidence "were those of my son," but stated that he didn't know if his son took them on the hunting trip the morning of Oct. 26.

He couldn't say whether the shoes were those that had been in his son's closet in the Veasey home. The Amarilloan said Thomas left his house about 5 o'clock the afternoon of Oct. 26.

Morning Witnesses

Morning witnesses, all for the state were: Roy Granbery, Olton insurance man and abstractor; Mrs. F. W. Janes and Dr. F. W. Janes, formerly of Olton but who have lived in Littlefield since the first of this year; L. C. Grissom and Mrs. Grissom, who lived two doors east of the Hunts, and Sam Hutson.

Granbery testified he and the Janes and the Hunts and the Hunt children (Jo Ann, then 5, Jane, then 2) were at the Hunt home when they played cards Monday night, Oct. 25, and up into Tuesday morning. He said he and the Janes left the Hunt home in separate cars at the same time, about 2 to 2:20 a. m.; that as he turned a corner in his car, he saw lights of Dr. Janes' car backing out of the Hunt driveway and turning to leave.

Cross Examination

On cross-examination, the Olton man admitted that he didn't know if the Janes were driving the car. On redirect examination by the state, Granbery said he saw Dr. and Mrs. Janes before he reached his Olton home. "They passed me in their car," he said, setting the time about 3 a. m. He testified that he also saw Janes' car in Janes' driveway at Olton.

Mrs. Janes and her husband gave similar testimony.

When asked to describe the floor plan of the Hunt residence, Mrs. Janes said the Hunts' bedroom was a northeast corner room; the children's room to the south and a short distance down a connecting hall. She described windows to the children's bedroom, especially the two windows on the south side between the children's beds.

Stopped At Hospital

The Janes testified that after leaving the Hunt home they stopped five to 10 minutes at Littlefield hospital, where the doctor had a patient.

The defense cross-examined the three witnesses only briefly, apparently concerned mainly with the time element involved in the Janes' passing the Granbery car.

Granbery and the Janes were the last of the Hunt's friends to see them alive.

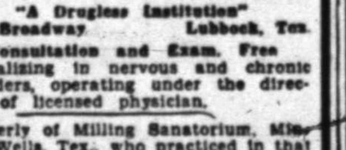

Grissom and Mrs. Grissom testified that the Hunt children appeared in their front yard in night clothes the early morning of Oct. 26. The court sustained Douglass' objection to state attempts to introduce statements of the children, pointing out, "competency of those witnesses not having been established," charged statements "not a part of the res gestae."

Position Of Bodies

The Grissoms testified as to their trip to the Hunt home; of their discovery of the bodies; described position of the bodies, and of calling officers. They went to the house about 8 a. m.

Sheriff Hutson described how the bodies lay. Dr. Hunt, he said, was on his back, face up, a wound in the upper bridge of his nose "directly between the eyes." He was on the outside of the bed, the south side, and his head lay to the east. Mrs. Hunt lay north of him, parallel almost, on her back with her face turned upward.

nerheim" cabinet, studded with generals and strong men.

Both the new premier and foreign minister are military figures. (The German-controlled Hungarian news agency, MTI, reported Sztojay resigned because of "his state of health.")

The Sztajoy cabinet was formed last March after the Germans formerly occupied Hungary, Sztojay had previously been Hungarian minister to Berlin. Immediately after his government was formed to succeed that of Nicholas Kallay, the Germans poured in additional troops.

Officially denying "foreign press statements" that it had accepted Bulgaria's declaration of neutrality, Moscow served notice that Sofia must surrender to, and take terms from the United States and Great Britain—with whom she is at war.

"Thus is Moscow getting into line with us and notifying Bulgaria to make terms with us," said a British foreign office spokesman.

Moscow Announces Stand

It was Moscow which Saturday announced Bulgaria's neutrality stand.

Meanwhile the Bulgarian radio broadcast that Bulgar troops were being withdrawn from seized occupied territories. This withdrawal is widely believed to be one of the demands under the British-American terms.

long flight" toward Belgium and their homeland.

Turning northward from their positions east of Paris and advancing at a rate of better than a mile an hour, the Third Army threatened to flank the Nazis' rocket bomb installations to the northwest.

Northeast of Paris they drove to the approaches of the World war siege city of Reims.

East of the capital they were, by German account, fighting in the streets of Chalons, only 96 miles from the German frontier and a bare 50 miles from the battlefield east of Verdun on which the Germans and the Allies were fighting when the first World war armistice was announced November 11, 1918.

Supreme headquarters had no confirmation at midnight Tuesday of a report that either Chalons or Vitry to the south had been completely occupied, but Gen. Patton's men were disclosed to have made further gains across the Marne just below Chalons.

Latest reports reaching the supreme command said the easternmost of Patton's operations had carried units of his Third Army four miles and six miles southeast of Chalons to Lepine and Marson, respectively.

Well to the south, still another column made a farther eastern advance from Troyes about 15 miles to Piney, on the route to the river Aube.

In taking Soissons the Americans reached the south bank of the Aisne river and promised momentarily to break across the Aisne-Somme line, the last important water barrier guarding German positions in Belgium and the homeland.

Proposed World Peace Agency Is Sketchily Outlined By President

By FLORA LEWIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 — A proposed world peace agency designed to have more formidable teeth than the defunct League of Nations was outlined today by President Roosevelt, who also warned against what he termed carping discussion of its details.

He said at a news conference that to lose sight of the main objective through discussion of details would lead to misunderstanding.

The world security organization under discussion by the United States, Britain and Russia at Dumbarton Oaks will be different from the old league (which the United States refused to enter) because the league's council had no means to enforce peace in the world, he said.

Steps For Dispute

Roosevelt outlined the steps through which disputes which threaten peace would be handled by the future organization just a few hours after chief delegates of the three countries announced their general agreement on its outlines.

First of all, he told a news conference, a dispute would go before the world court. If it cannot be settled there, there must be a meeting place where you can talk it over, he said. He added that you could call this an assembly.

The assembly would be composed of all nations large and small, the President declared, presenting the same general blueprint decided upon at Dumbarton Oaks.

If anyone kicks over the traces and violates a frontier, Mr. Roosevelt went on, you have got to have quick action. The council of the security organization, he indicated, will have force at its disposal to more immediately in such cases.

When someone starts bombing or invading, he said, you can't have a man send out word that there will be a meeting next month.

Differs From League

Asked in what ways the proposed organization would be different from the League of Nations, he said there were 50 points on which differences could be found, and enumerated organizations for food and internal finance. He referred to the United Nations food and agriculture organization, and the United Nations stabilization fund, agreed upon at the Bretton Woods conference.

Russia thus far has taken the stand that the security organization should be kept separate from international bodies dealing with social and economic problems but Britain has advanced views similar to President Roosevelt's, arguing that agreement on such questions would reinforce unity on problems directly affecting peace.

Mr. Roosevelt stressed that the Dumbarton Oaks conference is merely going into preliminaries which must later be discussed by all the nations.

Congress Not Involved

When he was asked whether congressional action would be required to authorize use of American force when the council decided this was necessary to restrain aggression, he said we haven't gotten that far yet.

The general agreement on the outlines of the proposed new organization were announced in a statement by the Dumbarton Oaks conferees.

While details are yet to be filled in, the plan follows closely President Roosevelt's brief draft of June 15 with provision for a council of the main powers and some small nations, an assembly of all "peace-loving nations," a world court, machinery for peaceful settlement of disputes and use of force to maintain security.

Announcement of this long step toward formation of a world peace agency was made jointly at the first Dumbarton Oaks news conference since the discussions began a week ago.

Chinese Memorandum

Undersecretary of State Stettinius, head of the American delegation, also said that the Chinese memorandum for a security organization has been delivered to this government.

It is understood that the Chinese, leaning closer on this point to the Russian rather than the American or British plans, are advocating formation of an international force directly under the control of the council of the proposed organization. The Americans and British favor making national quotas of armed might available to enforce the council's decisions.

However, the Chinese draft leans towards the Anglo-Americans in emphasizing the necessity of giving an adequate voice to the small nations.

Stettinius read to the Dumbarton Oaks news conference a statement replying to criticism of the secrecy imposed by the conferees on specific points of their talks which he called "explanatory and designed to reach a common understanding."

This statement assured that "before any binding commitments are made there will be full opportunity for public discussions" but offered no promise that any detailed information will be released before a plan approved by Russia, Britain, the United States and China have been distributed to the United Nations at large.

Infantile Paralysis Cases Show Increase

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—The number of infantile paralysis cases throughout the nation, already at the highest level since the epidemic of 1916, countinues to mount, and the U. S. Public Health service says 'the peak is not yet in sight."

Latest available health service figures for the nation show a total of 6,258 cases through August 19, compared with 4,058 for that period last year and 17,375 through the end of August, 1916.

Nationwide death figures are not available, but a survey by the Associated Press showed 169 fatalities in nine states, including 63 in Erie county, N. Y.

The outbreak is rated as epidemic in the eastern and east-north-central sections, but the health service says the incidence is "slightly above normal in many other areas."

Thursday Deadline On Dairy Feed Payments

Application for dairy feed payments for May and June will not be accepted from Lubbock county farmers after Thursday, Walter Y. Wells, secretary of Lubbock county Agriculture conservation association, said Tuesday.

Payments will be made at the rate of six cents per pound of butterfat, 45 cents per hundred pounds of whole milk.

Beginning Saturday applications will be accepted for payments for the months of July and August, he said, the payments being the same as for May and June.

Wells also said that approximately 400 farmers in the county have not turned in their performance reports for 1944, showing the soil building practices carried out to entitle them to payment by the Agricultural Adjustment administration. He pointed out that the county AAA committee would like to have as many of these as possible in the AAA office here by Sept. 1.

Italy's Peace Table Role To Be Minor

ROME, Aug. 29. (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill has indicated that Italy cannot expect to sit as a full ally of the United Nations at the peace table at the war's end.

"Naturally we cannot forget the circumstances of Mussolini's attack on France and Great Britain when we were at our weakest," he said in a farewell message to the Italian people, released last night.

He declared that a nation which "has allowed itself to fall into a tyrannical regime," must work its own way out.

Churchill, who left Rome last Wednesday, said Italy's first duty was to purge her soil of "the foul German taint."

New Chief Loses No Time Starting Work

AUSTIN, Aug. 29. (AP)—When Brig. Gen. William D. Old, 42-year old native of Hillsboro, Tex., assumed command of the I Troop Carrier command he lost little time in returning to Texas.

The War department announced him commanding general of the troop carrier command in the United States Sunday. He assumed command at Stout Field, Ind., headquarters Monday morning, and that night he appeared at Bergstrom Army Air field, near here, to make his first official visit.

General Old left Austin early today for his headquarters. His wife and children have lived at Abbott, near Waco, while he served overseas two years. The general is a graduate of Texas A. & M. and of Brooks and Kelly Fields.

Senate Plans Probe Of Used Car Ceilings

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Plans for a congressional inquiry into the Office of Price administration's order fixing ceiling prices on used automobiles have been disclosed by Senators Stewart (D-Tenn) and Wherry (R-Neb) of the Senate's Small Business committee.

In a statement, the senators expressed fear that the order might lead "toward a black market that threatens to absorb much of the business now in the hands of legitimate dealers."
