New bank tax aids four local entities

Four Scurry County taxing entities are to receive more than $100,000 from the first collection of the state's new franchise tax on banks.

The new tax was approved by the state legislature during last summer's special session. It was in response to bank stock no longer being considered subject to local property taxes — a court decision handed down following lawsuits filed by a united front of Texas banking institutions.

Following this decision, the legislature brought banks under the franchise tax for the first time and allocated receipts from it to the local taxing entities where the banks are located.

The franchise tax is levied at the rate of $5.25 per $1,000 of the bank's taxable capital. The taxing entities receive their share

Third satellite 'away' today

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Discovery's astronauts launched a third communications payload today and sped on to a Saturday rendezvous with a stranded satellite they hope to fix during one or two weekend spacewalks.

"Syncom's away," astronaut James van Hoften reported as the Syncom 4 satellite flipped out of the shuttle's cargo bay.

"You'll get to wrestle with one just like that in a couple days," Mission Control reminded van Hoften.

Syncom 4 is almost identical to Syncom 3, the lifeless satellite which two spacewalkers will try to revive by "hot-wiring" its electrical system, a task which NASA had said might take two days instead of one because Discovery's robot arm has a bad "elbow." Van Hoften will be one of the spacewalkers.

NASA on Wednesday scheduled Saturday and Sunday spacewalks, but today flight director Jay Greene said additional testing showed that "if we can get lucky, we can do it in one day."

If so, the space walk would last about eight hours, an hour longer than any previous outside excursion by astronauts.

Minutes after Syncom 4 cleared the cargo bay, commander Joe Engle and pilot Dick Covey executed the first of 12 engine-firing maneuvers needed to close in on Syncom 3 on Saturday. The chase started with the satellite orbiting about 3,600 miles ahead of the shuttle.

The new satellite was modified to avoid the failure that prevented Syncom 3 from switching on after it was released by another shuttle crew in April. It was clear almost immediately that Syncom 4 was alive, as its antenna extended on schedule 80 seconds after deployment and the spacecraft began spinning after eight minutes.

Hughes Aircraft builds the Syncom satellites and leases them to the Navy for global military communications between land and sea forces.

On Monday, the astronauts launched communications satellites for the Australian government and American Satellite Co.

School okays tax rate

Snyder school board members made it official Wednesday as they adopted a school tax rate of 51.5 cents per $100 valuation for the 1985-86 school year.

The noon gathering was the final session required under truth in taxation laws, which require a series of public meetings when a taxing entity proposes to increase taxes more than 3 percent above the amount generated last year.

Regarding the rate, hearings were conducted by trustees on Aug. 13 and Aug. 22 also.

The rate used last year was 43.5 cents but, primarily due to a drop in district oil values, the "effective rate" for the district was adjusted upward to 49.6 cents.

The effective rate is a calculation required under the law to determine if the truth in taxation public hearings are required. It reflects the tax figure needed to generate the same amount of taxes used last year.

The actual rate approved Wednesday equals a 3.7 percent increase when compared to the

WTC lab fees are decreased

Due to a mandate by the Texas Legislature, several lab fees at Western Texas College have been decreased.

According to the mandate, $24 is the maximum lab fee that can be assessed students per class per semester.

WTC labs affected include auto mechanics, diesel mechanics, welding, private music lessons and bowling.

Prior to the change, auto mechanics, diesel mechanics, welding and bowling fees had been $45; private music lessons (instruments) had been $30 per half-hour per week and $60 per hour per week.

Friday first 'day' for college classes

Classes begin Thursday night for evening students at Western Texas College, followed by the official "first day" Friday for freshman and sophomores.

Friday's classes will see the beginning of the 15th instructional year at WTC.

Fall term registration began Wednesday for sophomores with the freshman signup slated from 8 a.m. until noon Thursday. The afternoon has been set aside also for any student as yet not signed up.

An orientation program is planned for dormitory students at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Fine Arts Theatre. It will be followed by the traditional faculty-student ice cream supper at 7:30 p.m. and a Howdy Dance in the cafeteria at 8:30 p.m.

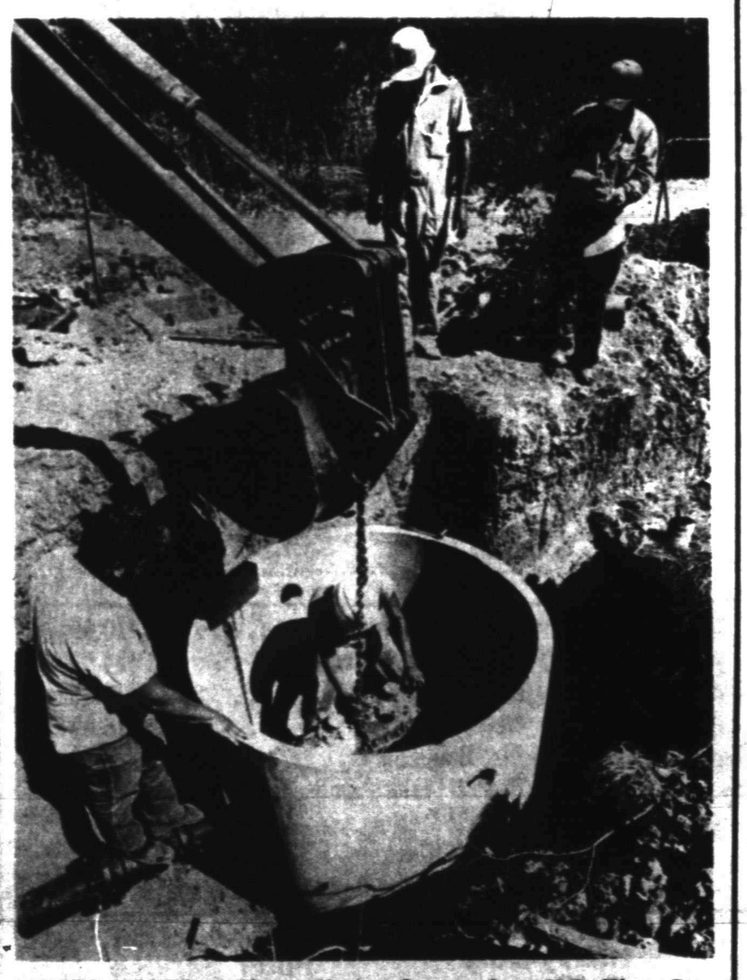
Friday marks in-service end

Friday will mark the final day of in-service for Snyder teachers — a day that will see all elementary and high school staffers in their respective rooms for classroom preparation.

The junior high staff will gather in the junior high auditorium for a day-long session with a consultant from the Abilene ISD, Judy Credicott.

She will be discussing assertive discipline for junior high school-age students.



METER MOVED — City staffers and crews from H.D. Hines Construction moved the water meter which serves the rural Union-Fluvanna water system this week. The move of the meter was prompted by the beginning of construction work on Houston Parkway around southwest Snyder. The old meter location would have been under the center of the new street between 32nd and 30th streets. (SDN Staff Photo)

Board again adjusts county taxable value

Another $200,000 adjustment drop was made regarding Scurry County tax values following a final "cleanup" session of the Scurry County Appraisal District Board of Review.

The changes were a result of errors in ag-exemptions, granting late homestead exemption filings and some adjustments downward of local property valuations, according to Chief Appraiser Ray Peveler.

When you pass 40, you notice a lot of friends talking about retirement. In fact, conversations take on a lot different topics than they used to.

When we were younger, we never remember having to listen to a detailed explanation of a surgery, and social security was one of those things you were only vagely aware of.

Now there is talk of mid-life crises and job burn-out. Joe Griffith, who spoke at the last chamber of commerce banquet, says there are several classic signals to indicate when one is approaching job burnout.

–Your idea of an exotic drink is a glass of Milk of Magnesia with a little paper umbrella stuck it.

–The doctor says you've been gaining too much weight, but all you've been eating is your fingernails.

–Your ulcer is so big it has its own ZIP code.

–Someone points out your tie is stuck in your belt, but you look down and it's really your tongue.

–You're so ashamed of your work that you go to a convention under an assumed name.

–You're asked to be poster boy for National Nervous Breakdown Week.

You turn to Cullen Davis, Clint Murchison and the Hunt brothers for investment advice.

–Your blood pressure sets off the office sprinkler system.

You're so hyper you watch "60 Minutes" in three-quarters of an hour.

–Your attention span is so short, someone has to explain the "Dukes of Hazzard" plot to you.

–Your spouse has to connect jumper cables to the bottoms of your pajamas to get you out of bed in the morning.

Truck 'found'

A routine check of the license number of a vehicle parked at the Plaza Truck Stop in north Snyder led to the recovery of a stolen 1984 Dodge truck Wednesday morning.

Officers on routine patrol ran a check on the license number of the vehicle and found it to have been reported stolen from Odessa Aug. 25. It had been parked at the truck stop for at least a day.

The owner of the vehicle — which was towed from the scene to the city impound lot around 11:30 a.m. — was listed as Mark's Crane and Rigging of Odessa.

Union Carbide makes cost-cutting moves

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — Union Carbide Corp. says its expense-cutting plan, incuding elimination of 4,000 white-collar jobs, is part of a decade-old restructuring move, but analysts say Carbide is reacting to earlier mistakes and that "the world's gone the wrong way for them."

Union Carbide Chairman Warren M. Anderson said the seven-step plan announced Wednesday would improve the company's financial position and better its safety and environmental measures.

He said the steps are designed to save about $300 million and substantially improve Union Carbide's return on equity.

They include reducing the white-collar workforce by about 15 percent — 4,000 jobs — taking a substantial charge against 1985 earnings, selling some assets and buying back about 14 percent of its own outstanding stock.

"These are very defensive moves," said James M. Arenson, an analyst with Dolandson, Lufkin Jenrette Securities. He said the company had finally realized "they had made a mistake in expanding (in the early 1970s). The world's gone the wrong way for them. They should have done this long ago."

Anderson's management has come under broad criticism for both a slow response over the years to unfavorable economic conditions and for a series of chemical leaks at three company plants.

Since December, chemical leaks at Union Carbide factories have killed more than 2,000 people in Bhopal, India, injured 135 in Institute, W.Va., and fouled water supplies in South Charleston, W.Va.

Most of the staff reductions likely would be accomplished through early retirement, said spokesman Tom Failla. But the company was offering a voluntary severance plan and Failla did not rule out the possibility of layoffs.

As to where the reductions would occur, he said, "The units have not been identified yet." Union Carbide employs 48,400 people in domestic operations and another 46,700 in other countries, he said.

Carbide also planned to generate about $500 million by continuing its sale of "non-strategic assets." The company was not specific, but in the past it has de-emphasized its petrochemical, metals and carbons segments in favor of higher-growth and more profitable consumer products, industrial gases and technology services.

Vietnam promises action on MIAs

HANOI, Vietnam (AP) — The government has promised to resolve the issue of about 1,400 Americans missing in action in the Vietnam War and has exchanged plans with the United States on how to account for them, American and Vietnamese officials said today.

Richard Childress, a member of the National Security Council who led the American delegation, said today's talks with Vietnamese officials had been "very substantive."

Bo Dong Giang, Vietnam's acting foreign minister, said his country had handed the American side a three-step plan to resolve the issue, and accepted a work plan from them.

When asked whether Vietnam has requested financial assistance from Washington to carry on the search for the American MIAs, Giang said: "We will welcome it but (we) don't ask for it."

Hanoi has promised to resolve the MIA issue within two years, but Vietnamese officials indicate progress could be even faster if Washington dropped its "hostile attitude" toward Vietnam.

Of the 2,464 American servicemen and civilians still listed as missing, 1,375 disappeared in Vietnam. The rest were lost in Laos and Cambodia.

Earlier this month Hanoi turned over the remains of 26 people it believed to be Americans killed in action.

Vietnam and the United States have no diplomatic ties, and relations worsened after Vietnam's invasion of Cambodia in 1978.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1985 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: For five years my husband and I tried to have a baby, but I couldn't get pregnant, so we went to a fertility specialist. He tested both of us and said the problem was my husband's low sperm count. He suggested that my husband's brother (I'll call him Bob) come in and have his sperm tested, and if it was normal he could donate some sperm to be mixed with my husband's and I could be artificially inseminated with the combination.

Bob agreed to the plan, and he had his sperm tested. It was normal, and we were in seventh heaven. Well, the day before I was to be inseminated, Bob backed out. It seems he told his live-in girlfriend, and she didn't want him to father his brother's child! Abby, this has me so upset I can hardly see straight. We tried to explain that Bob wouldn't necessarily be "fathering" my baby —the one tiny little sperm that would fertilize my egg could be my husband's. The girlfriend wouldn't change her mind, and Bob refused to do it without her blessing.

Now I don't want to have anything to do with Bob or his live-in, but my husband says he can see their point and we should not hold a grudge. Does Bob's girlfriend have a right to tell him what to do with his sperm? And what do you think I should do?

SIGN ME UPSET

DEAR UPSET: Bob's girlfriend doesn't have the right to make decisions for Bob, but she appears to be doing it with his approval. There's no future in holding a grudge, so let bygones be bygones.

You can still be artificially inseminated with the sperm of an anonymous donor, which could be better in the long run.

News staffers arrested

DALLAS (AP) — Nine journalists arrested while covering an attempted mass protest against apartheid in a mixed-race suburb of Cape Town, South Africa included a reporter and a photographer for The Dallas Morning News.

The journalists, including Michael Precker, of The News mideast bureau, and staff photographer David Leeson, were charged with obstructing the police in execution of their duties.

Precker and Leeson were released from custody and were scheduled to appear in a Cape Town court today.

The other seven journalists included a three-member CBS camera crew and photographers for Time magazine, U.S. News and World Report, Agence France Presse and the Cape Times newspaper in Cape Town.

The South African Press Association said. the journalists were held during part of the afternoon at a police station before being released and ordered to appear in court on charges of obstructing the police.

Beaumont City Council to vote

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — Mayor Bill Neild says business will continue as usual for the City Council despite a scheduled vote next week to set a Nov. 5 mayoral recall election.

Petitions submitted by a member of the Service Employees International Union 706 on strike at the A.W. Schlesinger Geriatric Center were approved by City Clerk Myrtle Corgey on Tuesday.

According to the city charter, Neild has five days to resign or submit to a recall election. Neild said he will fight the recall attempt although he hasn't "mapped out a strategy."

"I'm not going to turn this into an ongoing battle between the Schlesinger's workers and the mayor's office," he said.

The election will be Beaumont's first recall election since 1969, when voters removed Councilman Dale C. Hager from office.

Union members said they wanted to recall Neild because he did not intervene in the strike over proposed wage cuts which is not in its eighth week.

60's looks return...

Fall styles go feminine

CHICAGO (AP) — As fashion moves into a season where clothes will be as streamlined and body-conscious as lifestyles, women will be turning to hairstyles that top these looks with softness and frankly feminine accents.

Color, shine and texture are the all-important attributes that will bring hairstyles into the fall 1985 fashion scene with ease, according to the Helene Curtis Hairstylists Advisory Board.

Board member Victor Figueroa of New York City forecasts that "a new fascination with '60s fashion will call for a return to the longer, rounded hairstyles popular in the Beatles' era. But it's a softer look than those of 20 years ago, and takes advantage of the new styling tools designed to make hairstyling easier."

He points out that a perm is a "must have" for creating the look of back-combed hair reminiscent of "the bubble," one of the strongest looks for fall. "Today's perms give maximum volume without frizzy curl — exactly what's needed for the smoother, but still textured, styles," he points out.

Rocco Altobelli of Minneapolis-St. Paul sees longer hair for fall. "The trend is turning away from the short spikiness of the past several seasons," he says. "Smoother, close-to-the-head styles look fresher and have the right proportion to complement the '60s inspired fashions."

"Versatility is the key," says Mario Tricoci of Oak Brook, Ill. "Whether the style is a shaggy version of the Beatles' boyish cut or a long, sleek bob.

The key to finding the right hairstyle this fall, board members agree, is to talk to your hairstylist. Just as you plan your fall wardrobe and buy new clothes that will work with what's already in your closet, you should discuss the hairstyling options available for your hair length and texture.

Decide how much time you want to spend on your hair at home each day, they suggest. Then, together with your stylist, work out a look that will suit your needs and enhance your overall fashion image.

By James Jacoby

In the bidding methods used by today's North-South pair, two clubs was a strong and artificial opening, usually forcing to game. The two-diamond response was temporizing and not a denial of values. After two spades by South, the raise by North expressed some positive strength. If North had a very bad hand, he could have bid three clubs, the second negative, allowing South to sign off in three spades if the strong two-bid was marginal. I don't describe these methods to give you a headache but only to demonstrate that there is a great deal of sophistication in contemporary bridge bidding.

Declarer play is based on traditional values, however, and so we come to the play of today's deal. The slam is good and, on surface inspection, will make if the spade queen comes down or the diamond king is favorably located. In such cases the wise declarer looks for traps, and here it becomes apparent that playing the A-K of spades will be disastrous if one opponent has three to the queen, denying declarer entry to dummy to take the diamond finesse. If declarer plays a spade to the jack at trick two and loses to the queen, the spade 10 will become an entry. However, a spade to the jack does not represent the best percentage play in that suit.

The answer is simple. The diamond finesse should be taken immediately. If it loses, then at least declarer will be able to fall back on the best play in the trump suit, which is to bang down the A-K.

Your Birthday
Aug. 30, 1985

Do not be too hasty in the year ahead tc give up what you now have going for you for something new and different. You'l succeed better by viewing old involvements from a fresh perspective.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Patience, tolerance and understanding will be required in coping with family problems today. If you lose your cool, it'll make matters worse. Trying to patch up a romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to make the relationship work. To get yours, mail $2 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This may not be the day to experiment with new methods, techniques, tools or materials where your work is concerned. You might not be adept at mastering the unfamiliar.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov.22) Desires for instant gratification could trigger a bum deal today. Don't settle for immediate returns in a situation where you'll gain more by waiting.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) This will not be a productive day for you if you scatter your forces too thinly. You'll fare better in the long run by just doing one thing, but doing it right.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Usually you're a person who takes time to think about what you're going to say before you speak. Today, however, your spontaneous remarks may reveal secrets.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Think twice today before requesting favors from friends that could incovenience them financially. Your pals aren't in the mood to be your banker.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 19) You have the abilities to achieve your objectives today, but your impatience could do you in. If things don't come easily for you, you may not exert a second effort.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today, be mindful of your past experiences, especially those that didn't work to your advantage. Don't repeat unsuccessful tactics.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It's not to your benefit at this time to get involved in a new enterprise with an individual who introduced complications into your life previously.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You're known for being a quick thinker with the ability to make on-the-spot decisions. However, if you rush to judgment today, you could be way off base.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Consistency is important today, especially when tackling tedious tasks. If you do things in fits and starts, you won't be proud of the results.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You might meet someone socially today who could cause your heart to palpitate. Unfortunately, when you get to know this person better, the bloom may quickly leave the rose.

Debt repayments to be suspended

LONDON (AP) — South Africa is sending the governor of its reserve bank to Europe to renegotiate the payment of billions of dollars owed to foreign banks, the British Broadcasting Corp. said today.

The rand, South Africa's currency, has fallen to a record low against the dollar amid black violence against the white-minority government.

Ruth Gordon 'one of the greatest'

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — Veteran actress Ruth Gordon, who hit her prime after age 70 playing impish little old ladies and died at 88, was "one of the greatest of them all," say friends and colleagues who remembered her warmth and wit.

The spry, diminutive actress died of a stroke Wednesday at her summer home on Martha's Vineyard. Her husband of 43 years, writer and director Garson Kanin, was by her side.

"Ruth exulted in life," said actress Glenn Close, who appears with Miss Gordon in "Maxie," a movie to be released next month. "Her blazing professionalism and generosity of spirit made it obvious to me that we had in our midst one of the greatest of them all."

Miss Gordon's 70-year stage and screen career included an Academy Award as best supporting actress for her 1968 role as a devil worshiper in "Rosemary's Baby." She also won an Emmy for a 1979 appearance on the TV show "Taxi."

Her screen credits also include "Inside Daisy Clover," "Where's Poppa?" and "Harold and Maude," a film about an eccentric 80-year-old woman who has a love affair with a 19-year-old man. In addition, she played Clint Eastwood's mother in "Every Which Way But Loose" and "Any Which Way You Can."

Kanin said there would be no funeral and Miss Gordon would be cremated, at her request.

"Harold and Maude" was a box-office flop when it opened in 1971. But it achieved cult status, playing for two years in Paris and 114 consecutive weeks at one Minneapolis theater. Twelve years after its release, the film finally made a profit.

"Her warmth and humanity shone like the first patch of sun on a dark and wintry day," said Bud Cort, co-star of "Harold and Maude." "The world will be a colder place without her enthusiastic, elegant and adorable countenance."

In "Maxie," Miss Gordon played a 1920s flapper who invades the body of a San Francisco housewife.

Miss Close recalled her as being "deeply witty. The simple joy she brought to the scenes we did together put a lump in my throat."

Mandy Patinkin, her co-star in "Maxie", commenting on a scene in which Miss Gordon evokes the past, said, "We were just in tears when it was over. I walked up to her and I said, 'How did you get to be so good?' And she said, 'It took a long time, kid,' and I didn't ask how long."

The veteran actress also wrote two books, "Myself Among Others" and "My Side," an autobiography, as well as three plays. With Kanin, she wrote the screenplays for the hit Spencer Tracy-Katharine Hepburn movies "Adam's Rib" and "Pat and Mike."

"When you've lived such a rich life, you really become a part of everyone else's life," said actor George Segal, her co-star in "Where's Papa?" "I grew up on the movies and the stage. There was always a sense of Ruth Gordon around me, both in the theater and in the movies. It's like she always lived and will always live."

Miss Gordon was raised in Quincy, a Boston suburb, as Ruth Jones. She left home in 1915, riding a train to New York City with a $50 bill pinned to her corset. "I wasn't pretty, I was 5 feet tall, I didn't know anyone in New York, I didn't have any talent, I didn't have any money," she once wrote.

Kohl fires intelligence chief; 4 people arrested in Europe

BONN, West Germany (AP) — Chancellor Helmut Kohl fired his intelligence chief in the growing scandal over the defection of a top counter-spy, and four suspected East German agents were arrested in London and Switzerland.

Government sources said Kohl fired Heribert Hellenbrioch on Wednesday for protecting Hans-Joachim Tiedge, who was in charge of counter-espionage against East Germany before he defected last Friday.

The government sources, who spoke on condition they not be identified, said several of Tiedge's colleagues had recommended he be dismissed because of heavy drinking and mounting debts that made him a security risk. Hellenbrioch rejected the recommendations, they said.

Hellenbroich, head of the West German Federal Intelligence Service, said Wednesday he had been fired.

He said he had legitimate reasons for the way he handled Tiedge. "Unfortunately I cannot disclose the reasons that determined my actions," he said in an interview Wednesday with West German television. "This for me a very bitter, painful experience."

Hellenbroich, 48, had been in charge of the agency less than a month and formerly ran the counter-espionage service where Tiedge was the East German section chief.

West German television also said Hellenbroich successor would be Hans-Georg Wieck, who is now the West German ambassador to NATO.

Both Britain and Switzerland announced Wednesday that they had arrested suspected East German spies. West German sources said they were convinced the pair arrested in Switzerland was tied to the Bonn spy case.

In London, Scotland Yard said an East German couple was charged with espionage.

Reinhard Schulze, 32, and his wife, Sonja, 35, were charged under the Official Secrets Act with committing "espionage on or before Aug. 23." according to Scotland Yard. They were ordered held without bail.

In addition to the cases of Tiedge and the secretary in the president's office, three people have disappeared and are thought to have crossed the border into East Germany.

Hellenbroich was the first official to lose his job in the scandal, which is the latest of many espionage cases since Germany was divided at the end of World War II.

Chancellor Willy Brandt, a Social Democrat, was forced to resign in 1974 when one of his top aides, Guenther Guillaume, was exposed as an East German spy.

Testimony: fiance's death was accident

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — A 24-year-old Abilene woman testified she didn't mean to fire the bullet that killed her fiance last fall, and that she loved him so much she still wears the engagement ring he gave her.

Mary Margaret White is accused of murder in the Oct. 16 death of Roberto "Bob" Giminez, who was sharing a residence with her.

Both sides rested their case Wednesday, and 104th District Judge Billy John Edwards set final arguments for 9 a.m. today.

Tearing at a Kleenex tissue in apparent nervousness, Ms. White denied Wednesday that she pointed the gun at Giminez and denied she had told police, "I wanted to get Bob out of the bedroom because I didn't want to sleep with him."

"I didn't say that," she said, although she admitted the statement was contained in one of the written statements that she gave police less than five hours after the shooting.

The defendant began sobbing when she testified that she still wears the engagement ring that Giminez gave her and that they had planned to be married only a week after the shooting.

Assistant Criminal District Attorney Mark Heidenheimer called three rebuttal witnesses in an effort to show that the couple's relationship was often stormy.

Ms. White said she had never even held a gun before she picked up Giminez's service revolver off the headboard of the bed the night of the fatal shooting.

Ms. White said Giminez had choked her around the neck after a disagreement on what TV program to watch, but that she was not hurt.

Tragedy was unpredictable

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — On Oct. 8, 1983, our teenage son went out to play on a Saturday morning. Five minutes later, I found him dead on the sidewalk. The death certificate listed cardiac arrhythmia. I was 42 when he was born; could this have had a bearing on his condition? I feel so guilty that we didn't know about the arrhythmia.

DEAR READER — The sudden and unexpected death of one's child is one of the most devastatingly tragic events in human existence. I empathize with your great loss, and I am sure that all those reading this column share your overwhelming bereavement. Although no one can bring back your son, you may be comforted to know that nothing you did or didn't do had any effect whatsoever on his untimely death.

Hundreds of teenagers die each year from undiagnosed causes. Most authorities believe that unrecognized abnormalities of the heart's electrical-conduction system cause many of these deaths. Sometimes meticulous examination of the victim's heart can produce evidence of an anatomical abnormality, but usually, no cause can be found. Because unexpected adolescent death occurs so quickly and without suffering, doctors believe that the heart simply stops beating or develops a runaway rhythm — an arrhythmia — that results in collapse.

The fact that you were 42 when your son was born is not a contributing factor. In addition, there was probably no way you, your husband or your doctor could have predicted his death. Although you will always feel a profound sense of loss, your continuing sense of guilt can be harmful. Let it go. It will serve no useful purpose; it will almost certainly interfere with the many gifts you have to share with family and friends. Guilt will help neither you nor your son's memory.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am an 81-year-old woman. A relative has been harassing me on the phone. Ten months ago she screamed at me so loudly that I felt as if I had had an electric shock, and I became dizzy. My eyes began to fail, and now I can't see. Would vitamins A and B help?

DEAR READER — No, vitamins wouldn't help, but an eye specialist might. If your eyes are normal, you may be experiencing a type of blindness that is associated with severe emotional upset. This could be managed by therapy with a psychiatrist or psychologist. Some scientists have suggested that the miraculous "cures" of blindness that are prevalent in the writings of most religions may represent the unraveling of complex mental pathways. See a doctor to make sure that there is no anatomical reason for your eye failure.

Before doing anything else, get an unlisted telephone number.

If you have questions about MENOPAUSE, you can get answers in Dr. Gott's new Health Report on the subject. Send 75 cents plus a self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2597, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to ask for the Health Report on Menopause.

Day care center to close down

BURKBURNETT, Texas (AP) — A state district judge has ordered a day care center in this North Texas town closed pending an investigation into reports the operators spanked one or more of the children.

District Judge Temple Driver scheduled a Sept. 6 hearing to determine whether the temporary injunction he granted, shutting down the home, will be made permanent.

June Long, who operates the home, denied charges that her husband spanked a 4-year-old girl. A charge of injury to a child was filed last week against Charles Long, who was arrested and released on $1,000 personal recognizance bond.

Burkburnett, is a town of 11,000 people near the Texas-Oklahoma border, 10 miles northwest of Wichita Falls.

Rio Airways might come to Abilene

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — The time is right for Rio Airways to begin service to Abilene from its hub at Dallas-Fort Worth Airport, the carrier's chief executive officer says.

"We want to come to Abilene," Mark Connell, vice chairman and chief executive officer, said Wednesday.

He confirmed a meeting, scheduled for Friday in Abilene, with airport director Glenn Meeks, to discuss the possibilities.

Should Rio begin service to Abilene, it would become the city's third airline. Abilene-based Chaparral Airlines, doing business as American Eagle, is the city's only commercial carrier now. But Fort Worth Airlines will begin service to Abilene next Wednesday from its hub at Meacham Field in Fort Worth.

Another regional airline, Aspen Airways, based in Denver, Colo., also has shown interest in Abilene. Aspen officials met with Gary Vest, industrial manager of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce.

Aspen officials have not yet discussed any plans with the city, but told Vest the company was looking at April as a possible starting time. The airline would extend a flight to Abilene that now serves Amarillo, Vest said.

Rio's plans call for it to fly five roundtrips to D-FW on weekdays, three on Saturdays and four on Sundays.

Fares for the Rio flights would be competitive with American Eagle and Fort Worth Airlines, Connell said.

The standard one-way fare to D-FW is $75 on American Eagle. When Fort Worth Airlines begins its service Sept. 4, however, American Eagle will match Fort Worth Air's $37 fare on five of its flights to D-FW and four of its returning flights, daily. Fort Worth Airlines' $37 fare is on flights to Meacham Field in Fort Worth.

Like Fort Worth and American Eagle, Rio has a joint fare agreement with a major trunk carrier. Rio's is with Delta Airlines, connecting at D-FW. American Eagle has a joint fare agreement with American Airlines, also connecting at D-FW. Fort Worth's is with Continental Airlines, connecting at Houston Intercontinental Airport.

Out of its D-FW Airport hub, Rio serves Texarkana, Lawton, Okla., Bryan-College Station, Waco, Temple, Killeen, Wichita Falls and San Angelo, Connell said.

If Rio comes to Abilene, it will use its 48-passenger DeHavilland Dash Seven turboprop airliners between Abilene and the Metroplex, Connell told the Abilene Reporter-News.

The 18-year-old Killeen-based airline looked at the market first in 1978 when presentations were made to the aviation committee of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce. However, nothing further was done at that time.

Meeks said the airport will be able to accommodate a third airline if Rio decides to come.

Fort Worth Airlines gained approval Aug. 8 from the Abilene City Council to become Abilene's second airline and to begin two flights a day beginning Sept. 4 from Abilene to Meacham Field in Fort Worth.

Approval of Fort Worth Airlines' application to start service ended the monopoly that Chaparral Airlines had enjoyed since Frontier Airlines pulled out last Sept. 1.

Frontier Airlines had offered jet service to its Denver hub via Midland-Odessa from November 1983 to September 1984.

In addition to the four-engine DeHavilland turboprop airliners, Rio flies 19-passenger twin-engine Beechcraft 1900s, Connell said.

Madagascar became a French colony in 1896.

Jury assesses 60 year prison term in thrift robbery

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — A man was sentenced to 60 years in prison for the Feb. 15 armed robbery of an Abilene savings and loan.

No one at the scene of a Feb. 15 robbery at a branch of Commodore Savings could identify Link Powell Jr. as one of the three men who participated in the hold-up.

However, prosecutors linked Powell to the crime through a single thumbprint found on a cash tray that was used to carry off more than $23,000 in cash, and through a single strand of hair found in a nylon stocking that authorities said he wore over his face during the robbery.

Powell was returned to Taylor County Jail to await transportation to prison. He has been in custody since only minutes after the 1:05 p.m. robbery on Feb. 15.

Police said a citizen led them to a house, where two suspects were arrested. Powell was arrested a short distance away after a neighbor said she saw him leaving the house.

The 60-year term set for Powell was stiffer than the punishment set for James Douglas, 30, of Abilene, who was convicted previously of being the gunman who threatened to kill several Commodore Savings employees.

Douglas received a 33-year prison term, but still faces trial on charges he escaped from Taylor County Jail later the same day he and Powell were arrested.

A third man charged in the robbery, Ronald Word, still faces trial.

Bradbury defends nuclear weapons

WATERFORD, Conn. (AP) — Ray Bradbury, known for his futuristic novels, defends nuclear weapons as having "prevented a major war."

Bradbury turned 65 last week in Waterford, where he was turning "Fahrenheit 451" into a musical drama at the O'Neill Theater Center's Opera Music Theater Conference.

"The atom bomb is the most Christian thing we've ever invented," Bradbury said in an interview in Sunday's editions of The Day of New London. "I'm totally convinced it's prevented Russia from taking over the rest of Europe."

American race tightens up...

Royals gain a little; Blue Jays lose a little

by The Associated Press

The Kansas City Royals gained some ground, and the Toronto Blue Jays lost some as the division races in the American League tightened up a bit.

The Royals got four home runs, including Steve Balboni's 27th of the season, to beat the Milwaukee Brewers 8-2 and move within two games of idle California in the AL West. The Royals now are only one game back in the loss column.

"It's a nice feeling to be within one game of them," said Lonnie Smith, who had another of the Royals' homers.

The Blue Jays lost to Minnesota, 6-5 in 10 innings, also losing a half-game in the East to the idle New York Yankees, who now trail by 4½. Tom Brunansky's bases-loaded single stopped the Blue Jays, who had won five of their last six.

In the rest of the league, Cleveland defeated Boston 7-4, and Chicago beat Texas 5-1.

Royals 8, Brewers 2

The other Kansas City homers came from Darryl Motley and Frank White. White's homer, a career-high 18th, was disputed. With two out in the fifth inning, White hit a line drive to right that the Brewers right-fielder Carlos Ponce said actually hit the top of the fence.

Royals right-hander Mark Gubicza, 10-7, allowed six hits while walking one and striking out three in eight innings, getting one inning of relief help from Dan Quisenberry.

Pete Vuckovich, 6-10, worked five innings for Milwaukee, allowing seven hits.

Twins 6, Blue Jays 5

Brunansky's single over the head of second baseman Manny Lee scored Kent Hrbek with the winning run. The RBI was Brunansky's first since Aug. 16 and the hit was only his second in 19 at-bats.

The Twins had loaded the bases against Tom Henke on singles by Hrbek and Randy Bush and a walk to Mark Salas.

"I was throwing the ball good," Henke said, adding ruefully that the pitch to Brunansky might have been "too good - a fastball right down the middle."

Ernie Whitt broke out of a 5-for-31 slump with two hits and three RBIs for Toronto.

Indians 7, Red Sox 4

Julio Franco hit a grand-slam home run off Boston reliever Mark Clear, who hadn't yielded a homer this season, as the Indians won for the seventh time in eight games.

Left-hander Jamie Easterly, 3-0, worked 6 2-3 innings in his first start after 41 straight relief appearances for the Indians. Apparently, now that he's established himself as a successful starter, it's time for a change.

"I'd just as soon go back to the bullpen," he said.

Pat Tabler also homered for the Indians, while Tony Armas and Dwight Evans hit home runs for Boston, which has lost five in a row and 11 of its last 12.

The Indians led 3-2 when Franco hit his grand slam in the seventh inning.

Players for both teams were bothered by a swarm of insects that hovered inside Cleveland Stadium during the game. Most of the Red Sox players left the field to escape the bugs temporarily while Clear warmed up with two outs in the sixth.

White Sox 5, Rangers 1

Bryan Little hit a three-run homer, only his second of the season, to back Gene Nelson and the White Sox over Texas.

Nelson worked 5 2-3 innings, giving up four hits, and two relievers - Juan Agosto and Bob James - gave up a hit apiece.

Rose walks in with victory

by The Associated Press

With Joaquin Andujar working on a shutout and six runs on log, the St. Louis Cardinals couldn't have been faulted for thinking they were about to increase their lead in the National League East to 3½ games over the idle New York Mets.

But the Cincinnati Reds, led by the seemingly ageless Pete Rose, simply wouldn't roll over and die. They reached Andujar for six runs in the sixth inning Wednesday night, held the Cardinals in check the rest of the way and won a 12-inning thriller when their 44-year-old player-manager drew a bases-loaded walk to come away with a 7-6 victory.

"I was in the driver's seat when I went 3-1," said Rose, who drew his walk from Ricky Horton after two hits earlier in the game left him nine short of breaking Ty Cobb's all-time record of 4,191.

"I wasn't going to go for anything bad. He knew that," Rose added. "He didn't give in. He tried to throw it down."

Elsewhere in an abbreviated NL schedule, Houston blanked Chicago 3-0 and Atlanta whipped Pittsburgh 6-1.

Astros 3, Cubs 0

There was some good and some bad news for Nolan Ryan - he broke a personal eight-game losing streak, but left the game in the seventh inning with a strained right shoulder.

Ryan, 9-11, who won for the first time since June 17, gave up four hits and struck out eight to raise his all-time leading total to 4,060.

"When I threw the next-to-last pitch I felt a knot in my right shoulder. I don't anticipate anything major but when I felt it, I thought there was no reason to take any chances," the 38-year-old Ryan said. "I'll find out how serious it is when I throw on Friday."

Rookie Jeff Heathcock came on in relief to pitch 2 1-3 hitless innings to record his first save of the season.

Denny Walling's first-inning single was the decisive hit. Glenn Davis added a two-run double for the Astros.

Braves 6, Pirates 1

Len Barker's arm tightened up in the fifth inning, but he was delighted because muscle ailments in his neck and right elbow this season were not a factor.

"I was real gratified," Barker said after recording his first victory since May 13. "It's been a long time since I pitched like that."

Barker threw 95 pitches in the five innings, allowing three hits, three walks - one intentional - and fanning five.

Bob Horner hit his 22nd homer and Bruce Benedict had a two-run double in a four-run fourth inning. The victory was the third in a row for the Braves since Bobby Wine replaced the fired Eddie Haas as manager on Monday.

The loss gave the Pirates a dubious distinction - they became the first major-league team to lose 17 straight road games since the 1970 Milwaukee Brewers. The last NL team to accomplish the feat was the 1963 New York Mets, who dropped 22 in a row.

Jennings waived by Giants; NY Jets will give him a boot

by The Associated Press

Dave Jennings shouldn't have any trouble finding his way to the stadium, but he'll have to be forgiven by the New York Jets should he walk into the wrong dressing room.

Jennings, an 11-year veteran cut Tuesday by the New York Giants, was claimed Wednesday off the National Football League waiver list by the Jets. The drive to work at the Jets' practice site in Hempstead, N.Y., will be somewhat taxing. But on game days the New Jersey resident will still be kicking at Giants Stadium, in East Rutherford, where the Jets play their home games.

"We feel Dave Jennings is an outstanding punter who will improve our punting game," Jet Coach Joe Walton said Wednesday night. "He has experience and has kicked at Giants Stadium."

As a vested veteran, Jennings, who lost his job with the Giants to Sean Landeta, could have opted for free agency, but decided to join the Jets. He told Walton he would report to the Jets' camp today.

"I think he was a great player at his position," Giants Coach Bill Parcells said. "He's one of the best who ever kicked."

But Jennings had an off-season in 1984 and the Giants signed Landeta after he finished his season with the Baltimore Stars of the United States Football League.

Jennings joined the Giants as a free agent in 1974 and made the All-NFL rookie team that year. He made the All-NFL team five times and went to four Pro Bowls.

He led the league in punting in 1980, averaging 44.8 yards per kick.

In other transactions Wednesday:

- The Giants announced the signing of center Bart Oates, who helped lead the Baltimore Stars to the USFL championship. Oates signed a four-year contract valued at $1.1 million. To make room on their roster, the Giants released reserve center Rich Umphrey.

- Cleveland acquired defensive end Sam Clancy from the Seattle Seahawks for an undisclosed future draft choice. The 27-year-old Clancy had 16 sacks for the now-defunct Pittsburgh Maulers of the USFL in 1984.

- Indianapolis sent an undisclosed future draft pick to St. Louis for veteran linebacker Dave Ahrens. Ahrens, in his fifth year in the NFL, started 24 of his 57 games with the Cardinals since 1981.

- Chicago granted guard Rob Fada's request to be waived. Fada, a third-year player from Pittsburgh, who was a reserve last season, felt his position on the Bears was in danger and wanted to find time to catch on with another team, the Bears said.

Also, Buffalo waived veteran tight end Eason Ramson, Indianapolis cut cornerback Wyatt Henderson and San Diego announced that safety Liffort Hobley failed his physical and would not be signed.

Tigers scrimmage C-City 7:30 tonight

Hoping to solidify positions for the season opener next weekend, Coach Dennis Tomlin and staff take their Ragin' Tigers into scrimmage action with Colorado City here this evening.

The evening-long agenda actually begins at 5:30 in Tiger Stadium as Snyder's freshman unit works against the Wolves. The ninth grade scrimmage will be followed by a junior varsity workout, which in turn will be followed by the varsity units taking the field.

Tentative times are 6:30 for the JV scrimmage and 7:30 for the varsity scrimmage.

Coach Dennis Tomlin said coaches hope to solidify positions at the varsity unit. Several changes were made in the preseason lineup after last weekend's scrimmage with Vernon and several more could take place this weekend.

One area the coaches planned to look at was the fullback spot. Toby Ubando, 5-6, 188, ran roughshod over Vernon's third-team defense and coaches want to see the junior in action against Colorado City's first unit tonight.

Snyder opens the season Friday, Sept. 6 at Big Spring.

Lady Tigers slated to enter tournament

SAN ANGELO – Snyder's Lady Tigers, 5-2, are scheduled in the San Angelo Volleyball Tournament here Friday and Saturday.

The Tigers will play Midland Lee at 9 a.m. Friday as the 16-team tourney begins.

Winner of the Snyder-Lee contest will play a victor between Lubbock Dunbar and San Angelo Lake View at 3 p.m. Friday. Losers of the two matches will vie at 1 p.m. Friday.

Snyder placed third in the Monahans Tournament last weekend.

The tournament here will serve as a scouting tool for District 2-4A coaches. All eight schools - Snyder, Monahans, Sweetwater, Pecos, Lamesa, Fort Stockton, Andrews and Lake View - will be entered in the tournament.

Seventh grade physicals scheduled

Physicals for all seventh grade athletes will be given at 5 p.m. Sept. 3 in the junior high school building.

All athletes participating in any sport will be required to take a physical. Any student who cannot take a physical on Sept. 3 will be required to do so later at his own expense.

Bribery charges dismissed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - A state judge threw out all of the sports bribery charges against John "Hot Rod" Williams, saying that prosecutors forfeited their chance at a new trial by using dirty tricks in the first one.

Flying footballs to mark Classic

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) - Anyone who intends to watch tonight's Kickoff Classic between defending national champion Brigham Young and Boston College should expect a long evening.

About the only sure thing when 10th-ranked BYU puts a 24-game winning streak, longest in the nation, on the line against unranked BC (the teams finished No. 1 and No. 5, respectively, a year ago) is that both will throw the football. That usually means a long game since both incompletions and first downs stop the clock.

"There's no way of knowing how opening games will go," BYU Coach LaVell Edwards said Wednesday. "Last year, we played Pitt in our opener. We were not necessarily great on offense, but we were super on defense and we made a couple of big plays on offense at the end to win the game (20-14).

BC's Jack Bicknell has been pleased with the Eagles' preseason practices, but added, "I just wonder how we're going to do it when it counts. I know we'll be nervous but I don't want us to be tight. If our kids can just relax and play, that's all we ask, and what happens will happen."

"Offensively, we have to get the ball to (tailback Troy) Stradford," he said. "The easiest thing for me to do would be to line up in the I-formation and give it to Stradford. He's our most exciting player. But I wouldn't feel comfortable with it and we wouldn't win. We'd probably have a nice respectable 21-7 loss.

"Troy understands that. So the ball is going to be in the air, but Troy is going to be a guy that we're going to try and get it to."

Edwards says he and Bicknell "are very similar in our views, not only what we do in football but also our approach to football."

"I have a great deal of respect for the job Jack has done at Boston College," he said. "I know what Jack's going through, finding out what it is to go with a new quarterback. We've gone through that in previous years."

Bicknell insists he's comfortable with either junior Shawn Halloran or senior Steve Peach at quarterback, where Doug Flutie performed miracles for four years.

BYU's Robbie Bosco was in Halloran's position a year ago when he succeeded Steve Young. Bosco wound up leading the nation in total offense.

Mustangs looking for a few rich men

DALLAS (AP) - Southern Methodist will be looking for well-heeled walk-ons next year.

The probation-stained Mustangs will have zero scholarships to offer.

SMU Coach Bobby Collins admitted Wednesday on the Southwest Conference press tour that the Mustangs will be recruiting rich kids who want to take a shot at a possible scholarship down the line.

"We can't give scholarships next year but we can still recruit," said Collins. "We feel there will be some prospects out there who can afford to come to SMU and will do it.

Collins said "It costs about $11,000 a year to go to SMU. We could perhaps put the recruits on scholarship the next year when we have 15 to give."

SMU's probation terms include zero scholarships in 1986 and only 15 the following season.

"We have to be realistic," said Collins, "we won't be able to recruit any poor boys as walk-ons."

Collins said the walk-on program "will be important to us next year."

There are currently only seven walk-ons playing on the SMU football team because of the high tuition at the private school. State schools have dozens because of lower tuition.

SMU will only have 65 scholarships available in 1987 - 30 below the NCAA maximum.

There are 15 freshmen on the current SMU team but Collins said there was no plan to redshirt them all.

"If they can help the team this year, we'll play 'em," he said.

All SMU players can leave the Mustang program without burning a year of eligibility because of the NCAA sanctions but none has done so through the first three weeks of fall training.

The third-ranked Mustangs open the season Sept. 7 in Texas Stadium against Texas-El Paso.

Testing proposed

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) - The NCAA will begin mandatory drug testing at all championship events and postseason football games in the fall of 1986 under legislation being prepared by a special drug policy committee, John Toner, the committee's chairman, said.

Toner, formerly president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, said the six-member committee met last week to refine proposals that will be presented at an NCAA Council meeting in October. The full NCAA membership would then vote on the legislation at its January convention.

"These recommendations will call for the initiation of drug testing at all championships and postseason football games. If adopted, they'll be initiated next fall," Toner, athletic director at the University of Connecticut, said Wednesday in a telephone interview.

Dark Horse team wins 3rd

Dark Horse, of A&L Trucking here, placed third in the Men's State Recreational Division Softball Tournament, played in San Angelo.

Dark Horse had three members selected to the all-state team - Larry Huddleston, Neil Evans and Alpha Jones.

Also included on the team were Gary Atwood, David Zajicek, Manny Rios, Don Bradshaw, Martin Villarreal, Tracy Long, Todd Fritz, Devin Donelson, Marty Gutierrez, Jesse Hernandez, Mark Cochran and Elliott Cox.

New bank tax to aid entities based upon their respective tax rates.

A spokesman for the Texas Comptroller's office said the payments to the taxing entities will be made twice yearly, in May and in August. The August payment will be to "cleanup" any franchise tax payments received late.

The distribution of the first payment to local taxing entities includes: Snyder ISD, $48,868; City of Snyder, $28,647; Scurry County, $17,502; and Western Texas College district, $9,324. This totals $104,341.

The state has sent checks totaling $61.6 million from the first collection of the franchise tax. In all, 1,996 taxing jurisdictions in Texas will be benefitted.

On her maiden voyage, the S.S. United States, a luxury passenger liner launched in 1951, set a still-unbroken record of three days, 10 hours and 40 minutes for crossing the Atlantic.

Missing bike reported here

Police are investigating a bicycle theft report filed Wednesday morning.

At 10:58 a.m., Beth Fleming of 113 30th St. reported the theft of a boy's BMX type bicycle from her residence.

The bike — valued at $120 — is thought to have been taken sometime between 5 p.m. on August 21 and noon Sunday.

In other action, city officers jailed six subjects on misdemeanor charges Wednesday.

Four, including one juvenile, were jailed for public intoxication and two for disorderly conduct.

One wreck here

A single minor traffic accident was reported in Snyder Wednesday.

Involved in the 8:57 a.m. mishap were a 1984 Ford driven by Carolyn Alexander of 607 32nd St. and a 1981 Chevrolet driven by Willie B. Grant of Rt. 3, Snyder.

Anderson earns degree at UD

DENVER, Colo.--Nancy K. Anderson of Snyder was one of more than 1,500 students at the University of Denver who were awarded academic degrees during June 8 ceremonies.

Farm system said strong

ROBY--"The Farm Credit Banks of Texas are among the strongest in the Farm Credit System," says E. J. Richardson, president of the Federal Land Bank Association of Roby.

Several directors and their wives from the local association were among 1,500 stockholders who were gathered in Austin recently for the Farm Credit Banks of Texas annual meeting.

Those from the Roby Association attending the meeting were Messrs. and Mmes. Kyle Moore of Roby; Herbert Williams of Roscoe; R. E. Clemmer of Merkel; Donald Smith of Hermleigh; Martin Murphy of Hermleigh and Audry Head of Snyder.

"While bad commodity prices and adverse weather conditions have hurt Texas farmers and ranchers, the Farm Credit Banks and their related associations have managed to keep their financial position strong," Richardson said.

According to James A. Rogers, president of the Farm Credit Banks of Texas, a big reason for the banks' success is the experience of their employees in dealing with highly volatile conditions in Texas.

"We're subject to drought, hurricanes, and all kinds of weather problems," he said. "I think we lend money based on knowing that in the next three or five years, something's going to happen. Perhaps we have learned to handle our portfolio a little better than some other areas that are normally under much less pressure."

Values adjusted by review board

The Tuesday meeting was called prompted by letters received by the district for seven oil-related properties. No changes were granted regarding these, Peveler said.

No individuals appeared before the three-member board while they were in session Tuesday morning.

It marked the fourth session for the three-member board since they first convened to hear protests last July 16.

On that date, the first session related to oil properties was conducted. It was followed July 17 with similar hearings involving real estate and personal property values.

The review board was then back in session Aug. 9 for the first "cleanup" session during which 15 letters received after the July hearings were considered. These questions related mainly to real estate values.

Guard rail said damaged

Snyder-based Department of Public Safety highway patrolmen were called to investigate a one-vehicle minor accident south of the city at 4:05 p.m. Wednesday.

According to reports, Bradley Scott McClure of Rt. 3, Snyder was driving a 1973 Ford northbound on the Colorado City Hwy. (State Hwy. 208) when he apparently lost control of the vehicle just south of the intersection of Farm Road 2763.

Extensive damage was reported to both the McClure vehicle and a guard rail at that location. Neither McClure nor a passenger in the car were injured.

Births

A baby boy weighing four pounds, nine ounces was born to Kim and Sammy Appleton of Rt. 2 on Aug. 24 in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. Named Coby Jay, the baby was welcomed home by grandparents Mr. and Mrs. C.O. Walker of Aspermont and Mr. and Mrs. B.D. Appleton of Snyder.

Col. Robert E. Lee resigned his U.S. Army commission in 1861.

Crash victim goes home

DALLAS (AP) — A woman injured in the Aug. 2 crash of a Delta Air Lines jet was to return by air ambulance today to her Florida home, where she faces years of therapy to regain the use of her arms and legs.

Debbie Katz, 41, was to enter a rehabilitation center where she can be near her four children in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

"I'm very happy," Mrs. Katz said from her bed at Parkland Memorial Hospital, where she has been since the airline disaster that claimed 135 lives. "I haven't seen my three youngest children since before the crash."

Mrs. Katz suffered a fractured neck in the crash. For two days after the accident she was in a coma, totally paralyzed. She was unable to breathe by herself for three weeks.

It was 12 days before she opened her eyes to see a bouquet of balloons floating near the ceiling in her hospital room. The last thing she remembered was sitting next to her husband on the plane on the way home from a vacation in San Francisco.

"I didn't know where I was," she said. "It wasn't until then I realized I had even been in a crash."

Mrs. Katz is now able to breathe unassisted and has regained some movement in her fingers and toes. But her arms and legs are still paralyzed.

Doctors say she faces years of rehabilitation therapy.

"We're optimistic about a good recovery," said her husband, Robert Katz. "It will take time a lot of hard work for Debbie. Nobody can tell us how much better she will get. But we are both happy to be alive in any condition at this point."

Mrs. Katz will be a patient at the Jacksonville Hospital in Miami. Katz suffered only minor injuries when the jet went down in a thunderstorm as it tried to land at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport.

Criticism, praise for imports plan

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — President Reagan's refusal to slap quotas or increased tariffs on low-priced imported shoes was blasted as a "do nothing" decision and death warrant for the U.S. footwear industry, while a retailers' spokesman calls it a consumer victory.

Reagan, nearing the end of a three-week vacation at his mountaintop ranch near here, rejected on Wednesday a recommendation of the U.S. International Trade Commission calling for five years of quotas against imported shoes.

He also rejected the suggestion of some advisers that, as a less restrictive alternative, he boost the 8.8 percent tariff on shoe imports to perhaps three times as much.

State plans appeal of judge's ruling

AUSTIN (AP) — Denying that a skills test given prospective teachers is racially discriminatory, state education officials are preparing to appeal a federal judge's order to stop using it.

Education Commissioner William Kirby said Wednesday the test is "a crucial element" in making sure public school teachers "have the basic skills necessary to provide a quality education to our children."

"People who do not possess adequate fundamental skills in reading, writing and math cannot be allowed to teach in Texas classrooms," Kirby said.

Kevin O'Hanlon, assistant attorney general representing the Texas Education Agency, said the TEA is telling colleges and universities to obey U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice's order for now.

However, O'Hanlon said, the state will ask today or Friday for a stay that would block the preliminary injunction Justice issued Tuesday. Texas will carry that request to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans if necessary, he said.

"It's just too early in the game to say that minorities cannot pass the test. We don't think that's the case," O'Hanlon said.

The temporary injunction Justice issued says college students must be allowed to take education courses even if they haven't passed the standardized Pre-Professional Skills Test. Justice said he would rule later on the validity of the test.

The Texas Education Agency has required prospective teachers to pass the PPST exam before enrolling in one of the state's 65 teacher-training programs. The exam was required under a 1981 state law.

But a coalition of minority groups argues that the test discriminates against blacks and Mexican-Americans. They sought the injunction, saying the test threatens to deplete the ranks of minority teachers in the state.

"This injunction allows these students to go on with their (college) educations," said Audrey Little, an attorney with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Albert Kauffman of San Antonio, an attorney for the Mexican-American Legal Defense Fund, said results of the five tests given so far in Texas show discrimination.

He said that while 73 percent of white students taking the exam have passed, only 34 percent of Hispanics and 22 percent of blacks passed it.

"The court found that there was a severe racial impact of this test," Kauffman said.

"This means that the core of minority teachers in the state simply will no longer be around in a few years. The court found that the children in the public schools will suffer because of a lack of minority role models in the classroom," he said.

But Kirby, the education commissioner, said disagreed.

"The lower passing rates among minorities stems from the fact that the state has fallen short in the past in educating these students — a cycle that must be broken in part by ensuring that future generations are taught only by more capable teachers," Kirby said.

"We stand by the validity and necessity of the test. We believe the adoption of the test and the setting of passing standards did not represent an intent to discriminate against minority students," he added.

O'Hanlon noted that just because a student now may take college edcuation courses without having passed the skills test, they still won't be certified as teachers unless they can pass it.

"None of these teachers will be certified until such time as either this litigation is resolved or they pass the PPST," O'Hanlon said.

Parents say they never suspected illegal adoption ring involvement

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A woman who runs a halfway house for unwed mothers has been charged with her daughter as part of a baby-smuggling ring dealing "in human misery" by selling infants for at least $5,000, authorities said.

Juanita Leyva-Vargas, 52, and Melinda Leyva-Vargas, 25, were arrested Wednesday after they delivered a 5-day-old Mexican infant to a Kalama, Wash., couple at Lindbergh Field airport, said Immigration and Naturalization Service Deputy District Director Clifton Rogers.

Phil and Linda Phillips, of Kalama, Wash., had earlier adopted a girl through the ring and offered to help INS agents after immigration officials told them their daughter was an illegal alien.

"You can't imagine the feeling when you have a baby three or four months old and know that they (INS officials) can take that baby ... and you have no recourse," Phillips said at a news conference after the arrests.

Officials allowed the Phillipses, who said they hadn't known the infants were illegal aliens, to keep their baby.

Warrants are expected soon for two Mexican nationals also believed to be part of the ring, which may have sold 200 infants in the past two years, Rogers said. The Leyva-Vargas, who live in San Ysidro about 20 miles south of San Diego, were charged with conspiracy to smuggle illegal aliens.

Harold Ezell, INS regional commissioner, called the pair "despicable" and their operation "barbaric." He said, "They deal in human misery, preying on the fears and doubts of unmarried women, and then take the baby away and sell it as if it were a slave."

Authorities say the ring provided babies to couples, primarily throughout the midwestern and northwestern United States.
